Funeral Incites Riot, 1 Killed

Greek Factory, Home Set Ablaze; 18 Injured as Greek, Turk Tangle Again

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters) — Greek and Turkish Cypriots smashed at each other with pickaxes, bottles, stones and bricks in a fierce 30-minute battle Tuesday outside a Nicosia cemetery.

Authorities said one Greek Cypriot was killed and 18 others were injured in the renewal of communal fighting. One Turkish Cypriot was injured.

The fighting began after the funeral for a Turkish Cypriot policeman who died Tuesday morning from injuries received in a terrorist bombing attack eight days ago.

An official statement said a crowd of Turks returning from the funeral went on a rampage, setting fire to a Greek house, a Greek-owned factory and a delivery van driven by a Greek.

BRITISH CALLED IN

The riot raged on until British troops and police broke it up. About 400 Turkish Cypriots then charged police in an unsuccessful effort to free a number of arrested rioters.

Since the Turkish policeman was injured in the bombing incident, the Turkish and Greek communities have spilled blood repeatedly, forcing British troops to erect barricades along the borders of the two sections of Nicosia. On Monday, Sir John Harding, governor of this British colony, appealed for peace between the two communities.

Turkish Cypriots, who are numbered four to one by the rival community, are violently opposed to the Greek Cypriots' terrorist campaign for the union of this island colony with Greece.

As police and troops rushed to the scene of the riots, sirens called fire engines to the blaze at the Greek-owned factory near the cemetery. The fire destroyed an acre of wheat fields. Firemen saved the factory from major damage.

SEAL TURKISH SECTOR

British troops once again sealed off the northern entrance to the walled city of Nicosia which leads to the Turkish sector. Soldiers patrolled the border area between the two communities while Greek youths waved sticks and iron bars at Turks on the other side.

Earlier in the day, a Greek Cypriot driving a truckload of cement was killed and his companion was wounded at Afania village near Nicosia. The wounded man claimed four Turks halted the truck and opened fire.

A Couple of Cranes Are Whooping It Up

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Crip and Josephine, the whooping cranes, became proud parents Tuesday.

The tiny, brownish chick, or cranelet, or whatever baby cranes are called, made its appearance at 2:36 p.m.

George Douglas, superintendent of Audubon Park Zoo, where Crip and Josephine have taken up residence, announced the hatching with all the breathlessness and enthusiasm of a new father.

The young crane came out occasionally from under its mother's wing to view its new world, a section of the park roped off to outsiders since Josephine first laid the egg, 30 days ago.

A second egg, laid four days later, still remains to be hatched.

Price of Coal To Go Up In Britain

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain's coal mining industry, operating under a big deficit, announced on Monday that the price of coal will be increased by an average of about six shillings, eight pence a ton from June 1. The increase is expected to yield additional revenue of about £35,000,000 for the rest of this year to the national coal board, which runs the industry. Next year, the extra revenue will total £61,000,000. The industry showed a loss of £19,600,000 last year.

Four K[illed] n Officials Reported Executed

MOSCOW (Reuters) — D. M. Bagirov, a Soviet security chief who became one of the top 14 men in Russia after Stalin's death, has been executed with three other officials for treason and terrorist acts, a newspaper revealed Tuesday.

The executions by a firing squad were carried out last month at Baku, in the Soviet republic of Azenbaijan bordering on Iran, the local newspaper received in Moscow said. Two other men were sent to prison for 25 years each.

Next to Lavrenti Beria, the late security chief, Bagirov, 60, is the most important Communist official to be executed for treason since Stalin's death. He became a candidate member of the ruling Communist party praesidium, formerly called the politburo, two days after Stalin's death in March, 1953.

Three months later, Beria, with whom Bagirov worked closely, was arrested. Bagirov was fired as Azerbaijan premier and a candidate member of the praesidium in August, 1953, for "grave violation of his duties."

A PARTNER IN CRIME

Tuesday, he was described as a partner in crime with Beria who had helped "murder" people who could have exposed Bagirov. Announcement of the executions was made by the Soviet supreme court an dpublished in the newspaper Baku Worker. It said Bagirov and the other five defendants falsely accused innocent persons of state crimes, gained confessions by force and later "assassinated" them.

The other executed men, all security officials, were identified as T. M. Borshchev, H. I. Markaryan and H. I. Griforyan. Imprisoned for 25 years were Maj.-Gen. Stephan Emelyanov and A. S. Atakishiev.

Housing May Suffer From Credit Curbs

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Federally-directed bank credit curbs are beginning to take a grip on the economy and housing may bear the brunt of the restrictions.

Federal authorities said Tuesday that though the over-all economy is expanding, total housing loans for 1956 may drop between 15 and 20 per cent from last year's peak.

And despite an unusually large carryover of uncompleted projects from 1955, total volume of production for 1956 may decline from last year's high, they said

The man who is finding it particularly tough to get loans is the builder of large - scale housing projects, though other contractors also are finding the money situation tight.

Last year Canada made starts on a record 138,000 houses and completed a peak 127,500, carrying over 79,700 uncompleted houses into 1956. The carryover is 11,000 higher than the previous year.

MORE BUILDING PLANNED

And when the trade department made its annual survey of investment intentions early this year, it found that builders planned for even greater construction, proposing to increase outlays to $1,574,000,000 for 1956 from $1,496,000,000 in 1955.

But the government believed the over-all forecast of capital investment for 1956—$7,529,000,000, rising from the previous high of $6,230,000,000 in 1955—would not be achieved because of shortages in materials and the threat of inflation.

STOCKS SOAR IN BIGGEST ADVANCE

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market made its greatest advance since the opening days of the Second World War Tuesday, rallying from three weeks of reaction.

Leading stocks went ahead from around $1 to $5 a share.

The rise represented an estimated gain of nearly $4,000,000,000 in the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York stock exchange and a recovery of that much of an estimated $18,000,000,000 loss of the last three weeks, based on The Associated Press 60-stock average.

The average advanced $3.30 to $178.50, its biggest single-day advance since Sept. 5, 1939 when it climbed $3.50.

Chicks on the House at Dump

CHILLIWACK (CP) — It was hot enough here Tuesday to hatch an egg.

Baby chicks scampered over the city dump from a shipment of eggs dumped by a hatchery as "infertile" and children rushed to the dump to pick up free chicks.

Hatchery official I. M. Lewis said hatcheries maintain constant temperature of 99 degrees when hatching eggs, "so it must have been plenty hot down there."

The unofficial temperature here was 85 degrees. In Hope, 30 miles away, the maximum temperature of 90 degrees was the highest reported in Canada.

DOLLAR UNCHANGED

NEW YORK (CP) — Canadian dollar was unchanged at a premium of 1 3-32 per cent in terms of U.S. funds. Pound sterling 7-32 of a cent lower at $2.80 13-32.

MONTREAL (CP)—U.S. dollar closed at a discount of 1 3-32 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, unchanged. It took 98 29-32 cents Canadian to buy $1 American. Pound sterling $2.77 5-16, off 3-16.

DEATH COST ALSO HIGH

NEWQUAY, England (Reuters) —A British undertaker complained at a conference here Tuesday that the general public fails to realize "how much the cost of dying is influenced by the cost of living." Col. W. Durham Kenyon, president, complained to the national association of funeral directors about the delay in paying funeral bills.

Western Europe Countries Give Nod to Euratom Plan

First Step Toward Political Union; Plan Pool Atom Power Developments

By FRED ZUSY

VENICE, Italy (AP)—The six countries of Western Europe's coal-steel pool gave general approval Tuesday to the "Euratom" plan for joint development of nuclear energy and common market with an eventual customs union.

The action is aimed at eventual unification of Western Europe in the economic field—a step toward the dream of political unity in the future.

Under the Euratom plan, countries would pool their atomic power developments.

A treaty - drafting conference headed by Paul-Henri Spaak, foreign minister of Belgium and one of the continent's foremost advocates of a united Europe, will go to work June 26 in Brussels.

The ministers, representing West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg and Holland, side-stepped an issue for military use of the atom for the time being. They agreed to meet again to discuss this question.

Some observers believe that West Germany, although banned from producing mass destruction weapons such as atomic arms, would prefer to go ahead on its own in nuclear development.

Only broad general terms have been laid down thus far for both Euratom and the common market.

The common market idea foresees the eventual free exchange of capital and peoples. The plan envisages possible outside help from such sources as the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

70 REBELS KILLED

Fears of French Heightened by Attack on Couple

ALGIERS (AP) — The French army Tuesday reported 70 rebels were killed in a two-day operation through the Kabylie mountain range of eastern Algeria

Military dispatches said the Alberian nationalists fled farther into the mountain redoubt abandoning a large number of weapons. French casualties were not revealed.

Far to the west, in the Oran region, a rebel unit apaprently hunting recruits "kidnapped" 19 Moroccan soldiers serving with the French army.

An attack made by an aged Arab servant on Roger Ancel, subprefect of Djidjelli, and Madame Ancel heightened the feeling of insecurity felt by Algeria's 1,200,000 French settlers.

Italy Election Going Pro-West

ROME (AP) — Pro - Western centre parties appeared Tuesday night to be holding firm as Italy's major political force. With vote counting in provincial and municipal elections passing the halfway mark, these results by Premier Antonio Segni's Christian Democrats in Sicily and many parts of the Italian mainland.

New support in the industrial north for Stalin prize-winner Pietro Nenni's Communist-allied Socialists.

Communist losses in proportion to Socialist gains.

A system of proportional representation scrambled the picture in communities of more than 10,000 population. In some cities—notably Rome, Florence and Venice—the balance of power shifted to the Fascist-monarchist right.

Worried Over Wife Prisoner Escapes

VANCOUVER (CP) — George Perovich, 25, worried about his pregnant wife, dared the rifles of prison guards when he fled from a work party in suburban Burnaby Tuesday.

Oakalla prison farm officials said Perovich, serving two years less a day for burglary plus one year concurrently for possessing narcotics, ran from a land-clearing party into nearby woods.

Guards did not fire, the spokesman said, "because Perovich is not dangerous."

"We did not follow him into the bush until the RCMP dog arrived, because so many men there would only confuse the animal," he said.

ADLAI HOLDS NARROW LEAD

MIAMI, Fla. (CP)—Adlai Stevenson clung to a narrow lead over Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee Tuesday night in a tight battle for presidential preference votes in the Florida primary.

After dropping behind Kefauver several times in the see-saw count, the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate built a margin of slightly under 2,000 votes of 380,000 tallied with more than 80 per cent of the state's precincts reporting.

Unreported precincts were largely in small-town and rural areas, generally considered favorable to Stevenson.

Twelve of Florida's 28 convention votes automatically go to the winner of the popularity poll. In the contest for the remaining 16 votes, allotted by districts, Stevenson and Kefauver each led in the race for eight votes, giving Stevenson a potential total of 20 to Kefauver's eight.

Parliament Tuesday

By The Canadian Press

For the first time in days the Commons pipeline debate wasn't marked by uproar or procedural wrangling; not a single vote was called.

John Diefenbaker (PC—Prince Albert) accused Prime Minister St. Laurent of "supercilious and cynical disregard" for Parliament on the issue.

R. R. Knight (CCF—Saskatoon) also attacked the prime minister, saying he was treading dangerous ground in approving restriction of free speech.

Immigration Minister Pickersgill announced new regulations governing admission to Canada of U.S. citizens or legal residents of the U.S.

External affairs minister Pearson said there is no foundation to a report that Russia's leaders are coming to Canada.

Solicitor - General Macdonald served notice he will move for suspension of Senate rules to permit passage of legislation through all stages in a single day.

TENT SPOTTED ON ICE PACK

In Vicinity Where Missing Pilot Lost

WINNIPEG (CP) — The RCAF reported Tuesday night that one of its search aircraft had spotted a tent on an ice pack drifting in the Arctic in the general area where a Toronto bush pilot disappeared 11 days ago aboard a Norseman aircraft. The initial message made no mention of sighting anyone on the ice.

The report, from a Vancouver-based Lancaster, said the tent was on a chunk of ice 20 feet in diameter and resting 50 yards from shore at the north end of Southampton island near Cape Welsford, 1200 miles northeast of Winnipeg.

The tent was 50 feet from open water and the crew reported the area was large enough to permit the landing of a Canso flying boat.

The pilot, 60-year-old C. C. Crossley who has been flying for 40 years, disappeared while flying from a secret DEW-line site in the Arctic to Churchill, Man. His single-engine aircraft was equipped with pontoons which permitted landing on water or ice.

PETERSFIELD Man,. (CP) — An RCAF instructor and a NATO student were killed Tuesday when two T-33 jets collided in the air and crashd into muddy marshland four miles east of here. An air force spokesman said a search was being made for a second NATO student, missing as a result of the crash.

Deplores Victoria Day's Lack of Meaning Today

QUEBEC (CP) — Delegates to the annual conference of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire Tuesday deplored the modern emphasis on Victoria Day as "just another statutory holiday."

"I wonder how many new Canadians are disappointed that here in Canada we don't celebrate holidays on the actual date," asked Mrs. T. Bishop of Calgary.

"They must think Canada has no great men or women or great events to celebrate."

Mrs. Paul Khurling of Montreal asked members to stress the real meaning of Victoria Day, celebrated May 21 this year, instead of looking on it as just a long weekend.

"Chapters should go into schools on the Friday before the holiday and explain why there is a holiday," she said.

The convention also touched on immigration matters again Tuesday.

Mrs. W. A. Trott of Winnipeg described a chapter comprising Ukrainian-extraction members. It served a "useful" link between other ethnic groups of the IODE lodge.

Mrs. Bishop said one of the members entirely of Hungarian descent is a "great success" in Calgary.

Accuse Americans Of Espionage

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East German Premier Otto Grotewohl announced Tuesday that Communist police has rounded up 137 undercover agents he charged were operating in East Germany for American intelligence. The premier said the mass arrests are continuing. He said they resulted from the recent surrender to East German authorities of an employee of the U.S. "secret service." Grotewohl said the employee brought with him a safe with the files of an American "espionage centre."

Gas Pipeline to Interior To Cost $28,000,000

VANCOUVER (CP) — Inland Natural Gas Co., Ltd., will spend about $22,000,000 in the construction of its transmission and distribution facilities in Interior British Columbia between now and the Fall of next year, President John A. McMahon said here Tuesday.

In Victoria Monday, the public utilities commission authorized the company to transmit and distribute natural gas in the Cariboo, Okanagan Valley and West Kootenay areas.

Mr. McMahon said the total expenditure by 1960 will be about $28,000,000.

Aerial surveys to locate the pipeline facilities are almost complete and orders have already been placed for a portion of the pipe and material required, he said.

Mr. McMahon said construction offices will be opened in the interior within the next few weeks and about 600 will be employed.

A considerable amount of work will be done this year in an attempt to complete the entire system by the summer of 1957.

Mr. McMahon said he was pleased that the commission has given an early decision in connection with the application since the company is now in a position to take immediate steps to implement its plans.

The decision recognized the importance of the role played by Inland in bringing natural gas to B. C. In detail the decision authorized Inland to build the lateral transmission lines from the Westcoast transmission line to serve Prince George, Quesnel, Williams Lake and Merritt, and to build a major transmission line from the Westcoast transmission line at Savona to Kamloops and thence through the Okanagan Valley to Osoyoos, Grand Forks and the Rossland-Trail-Nelson area, with a branch line to serve Armstrong, Enderby and Salmon Arm.

WATER WAS USED to force Sons of Freedom to disperse from Emmett Gulley's front yard Monday, one of the few times water has been used since the Battle of Baker Street in 1928 when they marched into Nelson and were forced out of town with high pressured fire hoses. The Sons had come to Nelson Monday to plead yith Mr. Gulley to release their children from the school dormitory at New Denver. The fire truck with hose attached followed the Sons out of town. When the water was turned on them one woman lay on the grass, face up screaming, another slumped to the ground and remaining Sons crowded around her as the water continued to pour over them. Some screamed at police and firemen that they should be ashamed of themselves turning water on them when they had come only to ask that their children be returned to them—Daily News photos.

And in This Corner...

VANCOUVER (CP) — Heavy, heavy is the humor that hangs over a school board meeting.

A Department of Education brief referring to the "bussing" of school children Monday brought this comment from Vancouver board member Mrs. H. F. Angus: "I am told that it does not refer to promiscuous osculation, as I might have supposed."

CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. Hattie Payne, 33, told a court Monday that her husband blackened her eyes 192 times. Her story of a black eye a month from their marriage Nov. 1, 1938, to their separation Oct. 8, 1954, won her a divorce.

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Park Board has made honest women out of all those lovely young things who decorate the greensward soaking up sunshine in brief bathing suits.

And it's all due to the disapproval of an unnamed resident of the seaside Kitsilano district who complained that girls were sunbathing in the park near her home and that the board should enforce the by-law against this.

"Is that still on the books?" asked Phil Stroyan, park superintendent.

It was.

"That section has been there since the beginning of time," he said. The section prohibited sunbathing in any park not directly adjoining a beach.

"I think originally they didn't want sunbathing in the rose gardens — but it's about time it was done away with."

The Gay 90s section — which also at one time ruled on the length required in bathing suit legs — was scrapped.

1900 Acres More Flooded at Bonners

Water a Foot From Top of Creston Dikes

It was touch and go Tuesday with the Creston Valley dikes — but up to late at night none had gone.

The dikes, which hold back the Kootenay River from thousands of acres of fertile farmland, were bearing pressure of a still-rising river, but water was reported to be dangerously close to the top in several places.

Only those on important business were being allowed to drive their vehicles onto the flats. Police were issuing permits for only essential traffic.

"There's only a foot to go in a lot of spots," one man who toured the dikes stated. Observers have also been watching the situation by plane.

The river Tuesday was up slightly. It measured 23.99, compared with 23.88 on Monday morning.

Crews with trucks were at work heightening the dikes in some low places with gravel and earth. This precautionary work has been going on for days.

From Kaslo it was learned Tuesday that the new Duncan River bridge had been badly battered by debris from the swollen Duncan river. Residents were forced to "cut a chunk" out of the bridge to make way for logs being piled against the structure.

BONNERS FERRY, Idaho (AP) —The flooding Kootenai River claimed another 1,500 acres of farmland Tuesday with half the heavy mountain snowpack still to melt and join the torrent.

Army infantrymen, engineers and civilian volunteers abandoned efforts to save dirt dikes around 950 acres in the Nystrom district near the Canadian border Tuesday morning. Tuesday afternoon, they gave up on the 950 acres in diking district No. 9.

The river stood at 35.4 feet late Tuesday and the forecast called for a level of 36 by Friday.

Troops working in near 90-degree heat surrendered to the Kootenai downstream at Nystrom when water started to lap over the top of dikes.

The hot weather was melting more snow and adding to the menace to the town of 2,000 persons. The only water in town, however, has been from seepage through 37-foot dikes.

The river, above the 31-foot flood stage for 10 straight days, was rising upstream Tuesday. At Libby, Mont., it was 16.2 feet and the forecast was for a level of 17.2 there by Friday.

The Kootenai has claimed more than 18,000 acres of farmland. About 16,000 more are dry but threatened by extended pressure against the dikes.

Fernie Wage Contract Okayed

FERNIE — Fernie City Council has approved the wage contract agreement for submission to the Civic Workers Union for signature. The union recently wrote the city accepting the terms of the agreement which calls for five cents an hour raise in all classifications and an additional holiday with pay. The two-year agreement is retroactive to January 1.

Immediate implementation of the sanitation bylaw, which was passed recently, was authorized. Date of implementation of the garbage bylaw passed last October brought up a good deal of discussion regarding enforcement and collection difficulties. Action was deferred to a later meeting.

Correspondence concerning the annual convention of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities at Penticton October 3 was tabled for consideration at a later date Similar action was taken regarding the 1958 British Columbia centennial celebration date.

To Finish Planting This Week

The annual sprucing up program of Nelson parks, boulevards and playgrounds is expected to be completed this weekend, parks superintendent Frank Holt reported Tuesday.,

The crew of four men, including Mr. Holt, have been working for the past week on Lakeside Park, Nelson Memorial Park, Gyro Park, Vernon Street boulevard, fire hall, Kootenay Lake General Hospital rockery, Nelson Hostel for the Aged and Fall street playground and are now half completed.

Magazine Salesmen Fined

Two magazine salesmen from Winnipeg were each given one-day jail sentences and $100 fines and costs in police court at Castlegar for defraud and forgery.

Theodore Adolph Lund pleaded guilty to fraud and Lawrence LaChance to forgery before Magistrate W. H. Taylor and both were ordered to make restitution.

Evidence was that Lund had told Mrs. Augustine Zimmerman of Renata of a contest and she had given him 10 cents for points. He then asked her to sign her name on a slip of paper. She realized later it was a cheque and asked for it back. Lund then tore up a check but when Mrs. Zimmerman got home she pieced it together and found it didn't bear her signature. Lund was ordered to pay her $10 restitution.

LaChance allegedly raised the figure on the magazine subscription given him by Joseph Sehlinger of Renata from $6 to $16 and cashed it.

Slocan Board Presses for Rail Abandonment Inquiry Decision

SILVERTON — Slocan District Board of Trade is anxious to know when a decision will be forthcoming on the inquiry into Canadian Pacific Railway's application for abandonment of its branch line to Kaslo.

At its May meeting Tuesday night, the board decided to write to the Board of Transport to ask when the result of the inquiry can be expected.

The board also heard reports from various members on the canvass of prospective customers being conducted by West Kootenay Power and Light Company. Letters from the company were read. Those signing from Crescent Valley North to Slocan City are putting up deposits and signing contracts to take the service, it was reported.

If the canvass proves satisfactory, the company is prepared to build the necessary facilities for supplying power, the meeting was told.

At the next meeting in Slocan City, June 26, J. D. McMynn of Trail, of West Kootenay Power and Light Company, will speak on the power canvass.

L. R. Campbell, chairman of community affairs, reported that the March of Dimes campaign had reached a total of $207.77. He also reported that his committee is continuing to try to obtain a dentist to serve the New Denver-Silverton area.

Tourist and publicity chairman Walter Thring said a tourist pamphlet should be ready soon for distribution. It will contain color pictures of local scenery and much district information.

Rossland Dial Telephones in Operation Today

ROSSLAND — The new automatic telephone system is to be cut into operation here today, the change over at 8 a.m. taking only a few seconds.

Much planning and industry on the part of telephone engineers and technicians have gone into making the switch possible. Nearly $250,000 has been spent by B.C. Telephone Company on the conversion program.

New telephone numbers of five digits will be allocated to all telephones in Rossland in order to conform with a uniform numbering system across the continent. All numbers will begin with the prefix "8" followed by four digits. Up-to-date numbers for the new system are included in new West Kootenay Telephone directory.

Work of CNIB Told to Lions

The function and activities of the field representatives of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind were explained to 35 members of the Nelson Lions Club at a dinner meeting in the Hume Hotel Silver Room Tuesday night.

J. C. Hembling, field representative for Okanagan and Kootenay area, spoke on the organization of the CNIB and the work it is doing. He gave numerous illustrations of his work throughout his area and told of the work being done by home teachers.

Mr. Hembling explained that even persons with partial vision are considered blind. "Guiding vision is sometimes worse than total blindness," he said, "because the blind with partial vision are subjected to considerable strain."

"All too frequently people think of blind persons as 'just the blind.' They forget that they are persons like anyone else, except they have lost one of their senses."

Mr. Hembling commented on the new national headquarters building in Toronto which accommodates 140. He also explained the One-Point Program for improved legislation, being promoted now by the CNIB. The program calls for an allowance over and above the present allowance to help with costs peculiar to blindness.

Reports on the 35th annual district Lions convention held in Spokane recently were given by five Nelson delegates, H. E. Stevenson, H. C. Armstrong, D. DeLorme, F. A. Beresford and W. J. Ebdon. Business sessions, social events and talks of guest speakers wer eoutlined by the delegates.

Date for the annual installation of officers was set for June 9.

BOYS ON RAFTS CALL FOR HELP

Two youngsters piloting rafts on water near the Powell Lumber Company yards were sent home after a stiff lecture from city police Tuesday evening. Police were called when someone reported a boy was calling for help in the area.

Police found that one of the boys had called for aid when his raft snagged. The raft was freed before police arrived. The boys were ordered to come ashore, then scolded and sent home.

Reconstruction of 93 Promised by Bennett

FERNIE — Tenders for reconstruction of highway No. 93 will be called for in immediate future, was the good word Premier W. A. C. Bennett gave Fernie city council and various industrial and business representatives Tuesday.

The premier announced he was wiring Hon. P. A. Gaglardi, minister of highways, to consider reconstruction of the complete 23-mile highway instead of the 15 miles scheduled for this year. Highway 93 connects Elko on No. 3 highway with Roosville on the international boundary.

When informed of difficulty Fernie had getting national housing loans because Fernie was considered a one-industry town, the premier requested city council to prepare a brief and submit copies of all correspondence to the provincial government. Mr. Bennett said the government would take the brief under consideration, would make submissions to the dominion government and would endeavor to assist the city with its problems. He stated Fernie, in addition to coal mining, had forest and tourist industries.

Mr. Bennett outlined proposed British Columbia centennial celebration plans, explaining financial assistance available to municipalities for the purpose. This was 40 cents per capita plus matching dollar for dollar raised by local centennial committees to a limit of 60 cents per capita.

Provincial government was assisting municipalities in such ways as school finance formula, social assistance and per capita grants. Removal of the dollar per day per patient levy on municipalities was promised as soon as a national health scheme was reached.

The home taxation scheme under which the provincial government would pay $25 to $35 on owner occupied homes was an effort to assist the new home owner, the pensioner or retired person. It was equal on all homes. This method was planned rather than giving a lump grant to the cities whereby industrial and revenue producing properties would benefit.

Smokies to Play Outlaws

Trail Smoke Eaters will definitely come to Nelson Thursday evening to play the Outlaws baseball club, Ron Nash said Wednesday. He completed arrangements while in Trail for the game between Spokane Indians and Trail A's. The A's copped the night game at Butler Park, 7-6.

The Outlaws had been arranging to have the Indians play here Wednesday night, but were unable to raise the guarantee required in the short time available. Indians play in the Northwest League. The Indians, incidentally, invited the entire Outlaw team to be their guests at one of their league games and Outlaws plan to travel to Ferris Field some Saturday night, then play one of their league games in Washington the following day.

Willow Point School Again Wins West Arm Sports Meet

PROCTER — A sunny day and a freshly rain-washed field made the fourth annual West Arm Schools sport meet the most successful yet.

Professional-looking signs made by F. Mamchur, Harrop teacher, marked the refreshment booth and the recordings booth, with one forming an arch at the entrance to the field reading "West Arm Sport Meet". Mrs. Alec J. Garner and Mrs. M. D. MacKinnon convened the PTA refreshment booth and Mr. Mamchur was in charge of recording for the elementary schools while Mrs. N. Dosenberger recorded the senior events. Teachers and parents helped at the booths and on the field. Official starters were Wm. A. Henke and J. R. McMath, C. A. Mitchell officiated for the seniors, where competition was particularly keen since this is the last year there will be a House Cup posted, for grades 7 and up will attend school in Nelson next term.

Sixty events were run off as the elementary schools Willow Point, Harrop and Procter (designated in the race results by initial) competed for the West Arm interschool Cup and individual cups for the highest boy and girl winner. The Procter Flashlight cup was won by Lyle Paulhus, Procter student, who was also high boy for the meet. Douglas Moore of Willow Point was runner-up with 26 points, and Keith Moore and Nick Seminoff both of Willow Point, and Dennis Hutcheson of Procter, last year's winner, tied for third place with 21. Billie Belle Beaton of Willow Point was runnerup in the girls' events with 22 points and Erla Shannon also of Willow Point placed third with 19 while Judy Anderson of Harrop was top winner with 26.

Willow Point was again proclaimed winner of the inter-school cup for the fourth consecutive year with Procter second and Harrop trailing, but Harrop only goes to grade 4 and fits into one room. Their total is doubled but still they are at a disadvantage. Nevertheless, the top girl is a Harrop student. At noon intermission these Harrop tots played four selections on their flutophones and sang the choruses drawing a round of applause from the crowd.

COLORFUL PARADE

This followed the colorful parade staged by Houses A and B led by a horse-drawn covered wagon and made up of decorated cars. Christine MacLeod was the pioneer woman in an old fashioned dress and poke bonnet.

The meet is PTA-sponsored and organized by the teachers, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Henke and Mrs. C. S. Price of Procter, J. R. McMath and Mrs. H. N. MacLean of Willow Point and F. Mamchur of Harrop. The Procter senior boys were largely responsible for preparing the sports grounds.

Points were awarded five for first, three for second and two for third; with school points but not individual points of eight, four and two for relays and ball games. Students are not prohibited from participating in older age group events to attain school points but forfeit individual points, to maintain fairness. Final scores were Wollow Point 370; Procter 324 and Harrop 160.

Mrs. Henke was in charge of first aid and B. J. Fitchett again acted as announcer of events and entrants in the elementary events over his public address system.

Logging Camps Reopen In East Kootenay

CRANBROOK — East Kootenay logging camp reopening is under way this week with crews being rallied after the two months closure at high levels for snow runoff and drying of roads.

Cranbrook Lumber Ltd., St. Mary's Lake logging camp is first to open early this week. The portable mill it supplies further eastward on the lakeshore has continued to operate on the backlog during the camp closure.

Its Mineral Lake log supply camp on Lamb Creek high above Moyie Lake is set to reopen the latter part of this week. The stationary mill on Mineral Lake has continued to produce on the logs stored in the pond during the woods closure, and will go on double shift when the log supply from the upper camp warrants it.

Cedar Creek logging operation on the Upper Kootenay above Canal Flat will reopen shortly. At present a crew is in at this location rebuilding the semi-portable mill the company installed there in late winter following demolition by fire of the existing logging equipment. This is the major log and lumber supplier of the Columbia Contracting plant operated by Crestbrook at Canal Flat.

Settlements Said to Exceed $75,000 In 1952 Accident Near La France

VANCOUVER (CP) — Settlement for $27,523 was concluded Tuesday in the last of 11 claims arising out of a truck-bus collision on December 2, 1952, on the Southern transprovincial highway on Kootenay Lake's East Shore.

Mrs. Adeline F. Risk, 62, who has been in Marpole Infirmary for the last year, was one of 11 passengers in a Western Canada Greyhound Line bus when it went into the lake near La France Creek after it collided with a Creston Builders Supply Ltd. truck.

Two of the passengers were killed, one of them a Nelson woman.

All claims arising out of the accident have now been settled for a total said to exceed $75,000.

Harold Dean acted for Mrs. Risk, formerly of Penticton, who was permanently crippled by the injuries she suffered in the accident.

Her medical expenses exceeded $9,000 which are included in the settlement, as well as $750 legal costs.

The settlements were made on the basis of a Supreme Court jury's findings that the bus company was 30 per cent to blame and Creston Builders 70 per cent.

Ernest Wilson Mann of Creston, one of the proprietors of Creston Builders who was driving the company truck, was a defendant in the action with the two companies.

South Slocan School Elects Council

SOUTH SLOCAN — Student Council elections took place at Mount Sentinel High School this week. Candidates for office were elected after a campaign conducted by their own campaign managers. The school was "absolutely plastered with posters," in one student's words. Other methods of publicity were practised—speeches, buttons, etc., all the gimmicks used in adult political campaigns.

Robert Catton was elected president, vice-president is Murray Bell, secretary Alice Niminiken and treasurer, Ann Brewster who continues after a year in the office. The officers will assume their new term in September, when class representatives will also be elected.

CRUISE OF WOODEN SHOE

NEW YORK (AP) — Five men—four of them residents of Hamilton, Ont.—sailed out to sea Monday in the Wooden Shoe II on a projected three-year world cruise. Their 44-foot, flat-bottom craft is an ex-Dutch fishing vessel, one-masted with auxiliary engine. The Canadian-registry boat will cruise to Trinidad, through the Panama Canal and on to South American ports, Smith said, then swing off to westward horizons.

Bright Side Of Bad Weather

VANCOUVER (CP) —You'll be happier in the end if you are not satisfied about the weather, scientists at two U. S. universities say

Dr. Ellsworth Huntington of Yale and Dr. Raymond B. Wheeler of Kansas University, respectively a physicist and psychologist, say recent spells of bad weather could mean there will not be another depression for perhaps 25 years.

Governments may become more democratic and dictators may disappear. There shouldn't be any world war, either.

RUNS IN CYCLES

The two professors who visited here say that the weather runs in 100-year cycles, paralleled by human behaviour. The two mesh like gears of a car, say the professors.

When the weather hits a cold, wet spell, humans become saner, more energetic, quieter and more religious.

It is this era we are now in, says Dr. Huntingdon.

While we were in the hot, dry period, the world tolerated dictatorships. In the wet period, that doesn't go because people with wet feet and running noses aren't going to take any guff from a few dictators.

Twenty-five years ago the world was in a hot, dry cycle, they say. The period saw Hitler, Mussolini, and Stalin rise to power. Bubble dancers and flagpole sitters were common, books were sexier and art was zanier.

PLEASING PREDICTIONS

That has all changed now. And here is what is predicted for the next 15 years, at least:

Music will become softer— a foul blow to the rock and roll set, and poems will become more poetic. Art will swing from the modern abstract back to still life and landscapes.

Civil wars will taper off, world wars won't happen.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by the men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the femine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

The youth was found guilty of assault occasioning bodily harm and was sentenced to eight months definite and six months indefinite terms.

The establishment of further mobile units is under consideration. The Alberta government was assisting by providing the St. Mary's unit.

Mr. Kerr also stated that a Montana goodwill tour to Alberta was arranged for August. The present itinerary called for an overnight stop at Lethbridge Sunday, August 12, at Calgary August 13, and Edmonton on August 14. Some 500 people are expected to take part in the tour. At Edmonton the tour will disband with those travelling in the group returning to Montana by routes of their own choice. Many of those would probably return by way of the Crow's Nest Pass.

A Welcome Announcement

The announcement that the governments of Canada and the United States will have top level talks on the matter of the joint use and development of international waters is not unexpected and was inevitable. Both countries are hungry for power, Canada on the eve of great developments, and the United States is already facing a shortage.

Though Mr. Sommers' attempt to sell water power to the Kaiser Aluminum Company was promptly and effectively quashed by the Federal government, he nevertheless rendered a service to the country by bringing the subject of our hydro-electric possibilities before the general public.

The whole matter is greatly complicated. There are local interests, provincial and state rights, and these in turn are governed by international agreements entered into by the governments of the two countries.

The International Joint Commission carries out the policy agreed upon by both countries and embodied in treaties. So far it has been concerned mainly with minor matters of local importance. Now a situation has arisen which calls for new policy to be agreed upon by both countries.

These high level talks will not be concerned with details, but will survey the matter as a whole. One result will be that it will be dealt with calmly and without the rancor of interested parties. In such an atmosphere it should be possible to work out a policy which will be to the benefit of both countries. Agreement can only come through a recognition of the interests of both, and, what is more important, that each depends upon the other. This is essentially co-operation, and the two countries have a long record of successful co-operation.

Joy in Planting Trees

A housing conference of 103 housewives in the United States said that they wish builders would try to preserve trees on a building site.

Most people will agree with this. It seems that when builders open up a new subdivision their first thought is to clear the site entirely of all trees and undergrowth. No doubt it facilitates their work, but it often leaves the whole area devoid of natural shade and beauty.

This, however, may not be without its advantages. Those ladies in the United States may live in an area where such trees as the maple and oak are common. These wide-spreading deciduous trees are a delight to the eye. They give shade in summer and their bare limbs do not exclude the light in winter.

Most native B. C. trees are not of this nature. They do not give much shade in summer, and if they are near houses in winter they serve only to darken them. As small trees they are attractive, but when they grow large they dominate the lot. One has only to visit older sections of the city to see instances of trees that have grown too large for their environment. There is a prejudice against cutting down trees, but often trees seem to tyrannize humans.

But if builders cut down trees there is nothing to stop the homeowners from planting those they wish. True, they will have to wait for some time before they attain any size, but there is pleasure in watching them grow from year to year. They may be purely ornamental or shade trees, or even the home fruit tree. Indeed there is nothing quite so beautiful as a single plum or cherry in full bloom, standing on a green lawn with flower bed nearby.

Canada's Segregation Problem

Most Canadians have definite opinions about the school integration issue in the Southern United States, but are too discreet to comment harshly on our neighbor's domestic problems. No such discretion need be exercised regarding a domestic segregation issue of our own, about which too little is heard.

There is no more justice in segregating Indian children in Canada than there is in segregating Negro children in the United States. Thus the news that integration will be studied for Ontario's Indian pupils is most welcome. The Provincial Department of Education will shortly begin negotiations with the Federal Indian Affairs Branch with the aim of eliminating segregation of pupils as much as possible.

A good start has already been made. Of 6000 school-age Indian children in Ontario, 2000 attend off-reservation schools with white pupils under an arrangement between the Indian Affairs Branch and local school boards. Little time should be lost in extending the privilege to the rest.

Education of Indian children is the responsibility of the Dominion Government. They are taught the same curriculum as white children under provincial jurisdiction, but reservation schools cannot provide all the amenities of modern community schools. There can be no valid reason for perpetuating a system which emphasizes the pupils' differences, rather than minimizing them, and denies our Indian population the full rights and benefits of citizenship to which they are entitled.—Toronto Globe and Mail.

Exercise in Futility

(Winnipeg Free Press)

We are reaching the point, if it has not already been reached, where weapons are deterrents only. They no longer carry a promise of victory in a war between the great powers. One side or other may hold the edge, but its hold is precarious and transient. The arms race is a race to nowhere.

For the first time in the world's history, the pre-condition of disarmament has been achieved with the enforced recognition by both sides that the deadly and costly duel of the armament makers is an exercise in futility.

A.C., Nelson—Is there a school in B.C. that will take an eleven-year-old girl as a boarder? I've been told there is no such school in British Columbia and that I would have to send her to Alberta to get her education.

There are several private boarding schools in Vancouver that would take a girl of that age. Fees would include tuition, board and bed in a dormitory. Here are names and addresses of a few: York House School for Girls, 1500 Block West King Edward, Vancouver; Queen's Hall Day and Boarding School for Girls, 4305 Granville Street, Vancouver; Westmount Hall for Girls, 2511 Palmeston, West Vancouver; Seton Academy (Roman Catholic) Boarding School for Girls, 410 North Esmond, Burnaby.

Amateur, Nelson—I notice you sometimes print recipes in answers to questioners. Would you please tell me how to make an eggless "candy cake"? I believe it is a Scandinavian recipe.

Candy cake, eggless: Half-cup butter, one-and-half cups brown sugar, boil on stove a few moments, then remove. Add one cup raisins, one cup walnuts, one teaspoon vanilla, two cups oatmeal with small teaspoon baking soda. This will be like crumbs. Press flat in long tin and bake ten minutes in very quick oven. Cut in squares while hot but leave in pan. When cool it breaks into squares.

Social Credit In New Zealand

Funny money policies were given a studied—but none the less emphatic—rejection in the report of the Royal Commission on Monetary Affairs, tabled in the New Zealand legislature recently.

New Zealand is one of the Social Credit's more fertile fields. In the 1954 general election, the party won 11 per cent of the popular vote—but not one seat in the House of Representatives. When the Royal Commission, under the chairmanship of Justice Tyndall, held its public hearings last year, the New Zealand Social Credit Association's criticisms of the country's monetary affairs were about the most sweeping heard by the commissioners.

After weighing the Association's testimony the commissioners reported that it had presented a distorted picture of New Zealand's economy. The Social Crediters "failed completely to substantiate their original submission that there is a chronic gap between purchasing power but an excess. "The large issues of debt-free money contemplated by Social Credit would produce serious chronic inflation and seriously disrupt New Zealand's economy," warned the commissioners.

Those who keep the island dominion's economy under glass were also criticized by the commission. To maintain prosperity and full employment, the commissioners pointed out, it isn't necessary to keep direct controls permanently over imports and exchange restrictions.

And, they added, it is neither necessary nor possible to protect the country completely from every fluctuation in its major overseas markets.—Financial Post.

Press Comment

Without any hysteria the Federal Government must consider ways and means of getting Canadians to invest more money in their own country, says the Victoria Colonist. "Before the next national election (and in the light of the Gordon Commission's report) it is obvious that the Federal Government will have to re-think this whole problem, for it is deeply, and rightly, disturbing the Canadian people."

From an Oldtimer's Notebook

BY R. G. JOY

Historian, Nelson and District Oldtimers' Association

It is more than half a century since Joseph Patenaude and myself made acquaintance. I was the proprietor of the Star Bakery and like many pioneers our recreation mostly was the enjoyment of his summer home on the North Shore. He and Fred Irvine, then a dry goods merchant on Baker Street in the Burns Block, used the canoe as a means of water travel in those days. By the way, Patenaude purchased the land on the North Shore from L. Hoover who came here in 1887.

The writer, a few years later, pulled a good oar and I often met J. Patenaude and Fred Irvine paddling expertly in their canoe in very stormy weather. The fellowship of the pioneers was like unto fraternal fellowship. Rowboats, canoes and later small steam launches, some of them built by amateurs, were often met with and in the dusk of the evening we would watch for the sparks from a cedar wood dancing on the top of the funnels. Then Joe, as he was affectionately known, bought a gasoline launch, one of the first. At that time the engines, owing to the inexperience of the usual one-man crew, caused considerable bad language, but eventually difficulties were overcome. To make his launch appear as a white swan each side had a figure of a swan and gave the impression of being a graceful giant white swan and attracted much attention as it glided on the water through Kootenay Lake.

I went into his store at that time and I was thinking of taking unto myself a wife, and told Patenaude what I wanted. "I have just the thing, Joy," said he as he handed me a pair of needle work scissors with sterling handles, also a small silver work box and a thimble. Next was an engagement ring. Joe Patenaude had some relatives in Quebec, one was a baker. Joe evidently thought I was doing so well he would like to see some of his folk do likewise Later the gold wedding ring was purchased and today one of my daughters is wearing and taking care of the same by wearing it. Bob wears the gold band in memory of his mother.

MINING INTEREST

The block in which Patenaude did a nice jewellery and optical business, the same block in which G. F. Olson, jeweller and watchmaker, and Dr. D. T. Littlewood, the optometrist, are now located was at one time occupied by the late J. A. McKillop. When Patenaude took over he bought the scales, etc, and when Mr. French of the Complex Ore Reduction Company, came to Nelson and had his model plant going on the banks of Cottonwood Creek, he invited Patenaude to visit him, at the plant which exemplified the reduction of complex ores, showing Patenaude his process with zinc. Patenaude had lent him McKillop's scales, etc. Soon enthusiastic Joe bought stock from French and induced others to do the same.

Mr. Patenaude had a nice business, Mr. Claude Wales was his manufacturing jeweller. Many watch charms, brooches and other articles were made from the gold of the Poor Men Mine. Hush! Hush! Some say Joe purchased gold from miners at the mines and made the gold into wonderful ornaments. They were very popular with the public. When the old Royal Hotel was taken down on Stanley Street, there was a chimney cupboard under the brick flue and in the cupboard was found a sack of gold nuggets. It was presumed that some miner had higraded the gold and the course of events had forgotten where he placed his treasure. Mr. Doucette was the contractor for demolishing the building and he sold the gold it is said for $300. However Mr. Patenaude did a wonderful business when the mines of Salmo Valley, Slocan, Lardeau, Rossland and the boundary were going strong. I heard Joe say in one year he equaled Birk's retail sales in the Vancouver store.

TALK OF THE DAY

Patenaude was an enterprising Frenchman with a wonderful energetic and enthusiastic personality. In later years I was invited to his residence, at the time the Oldtimers Association appointed me as historican. At that time the process of the experiments for the reduction of complex ores was the talk of the day.

Mr. Patenaude greeted me saying it was nice to have me in his home to talk about happy days of the past. He also asked John Fraser of Ymir Mine fame to join us. I have been told that John Fraser in later years was auditor for several business firms in the Kootenays and was responsible for the interest that Roderick Robertson, a most successful promotor of the early days, ran. Mr. Robertson had an obsession that some day he would be killed by an explosion of dynamite. Sometime later on a visit to New York he was killed by a blast outside of his hotel. The Petty Apartments were originally built for the Roderick Robertson family.

John Fraser of course was smoking and Joe Patenaude produced a small pipe and after he filled it we all joined in the conversation. We were soon talking of the good old days? And telling tales as men will. Then Joe told us about his dad, saying that he was at one time a sailor and voyaged around Cape Horn twice. We spoke of the French Complex Ore Reduction Company and the system for extracting the zinc by an electrical process. We also spoke of the Snyder process in which Bob Irvine, an official of the Great Northern Railway Company, had interested local and outside residents. I was told the percentage of zinc metal was too low.

Knowledge At Work

F. B. PEARCE

It isn't often that I visit the Medical Clinic, but when I do I am always impressed with the skill and knowledge of the doctors. This time I have been having a series of minor operations on my ear. To do this the doctor pokes an illuminated funnel in my ear and then pokes delicately made instruments through it. One which greatly intrigued me was a tiny pair of scissors at the end of a slender rod.

It seems to me that it must need a great deal of precise skill to operate under such conditions, but the doctor did not seem to think it was difficult. Of course when we pay doctors, we pay them not for the time they spend on us, but on the time they spend in learning to do things well.

Medicine is a real profession, one where there is no ending to learning, where, always ahead there is something new which must be known. Doctors have to keep abreast of all the new knowledge which is available and this means that they have to read a great deal.

There are times too when reading is not enough and they feel impelled to have first hand knowledge of new techniques by attending conventions, and sometimes they go so far as to attend post-graduate courses at medical schools, purely from an insatiable need for knowledge. Such courses make them better qualified physicians, for it is hard to see that they will increase their monetary reward.

SACRIFICE

To attend such two-year post-graduate courses must mean considerable sacrifice by a loss of income and a two year's sum of money for maintaining a family which cannot be small and yet they cheerfully and eagerly undertake it. That Nelson has two of its doctors doing post-graduate work is a tribute to the high standards of the profession.

Two years is a long time. Doctors already spend longer in training than other professions and to the non-professional it seems that such subjects as anaesthesia and radiology should not by themselves need so much study. A great many branches of study are padded out with much that is not essential and surely with a doctor's services so valuable as they are today every endeavor should be made to make courses intensive rather than extensive.

This of course applies equally well to other professions. The learning period in life is important but it is growing appreciably longer and taking more of the time when the individual should be working. With the increase of scientific research and knowledge it will become more necessary to exercise some discrimination as to what is essential and important. We have already reached the stage when invention and discovery has far out-stripped our ability to use the knowledge gained. It may be that the medical profession will find themselves confronted with so much that is new that they will not be able to assimilate and use it.

EACH NEW PROBLEM

It was Pope who said that the greatest study of mankind is man and despite our advances in science and invention, man is still the most wonderful invention of all. Of all the billions no two are completely alike. They differ physically and mentally, they think differently and they react differently to medicine and medical treatment. Each presents his own problem to a doctor. No wonder one seldom finds a doctor who is dogmatic. Their training and experience is such that they never jump to conclusions, but theorize and then proceed to check every possibility with the ever present belief that there may be some significant item which escapes them.

To many people the visit to the doctor is a tonic in itself. Over the years doctors are so intent upon healing that they acquire patience and understanding and sympathy which so often is the first step to a patient's recovery.

BING'S TWINS—Dennis, left, and Philip Crosby, twin sons of movie star Bing Crosby, are reunited at U. S. Army post in Schweinfurt, Germany, on Phil's arrival from the States.

A letter of appreciation from Ladies' Auxiliary to Salmo branch of the Canadian Legion for visits Nelson Auxiliary members have made to Salmo people in hospital here, cheered the local group at its meeting Monday. A donation was also sent.

The gesture "certainly made the local Auxiliary members feel that their work is worthwhile," it was stated after the meeting.

As usual, several notes of appreciation for cards and flowers and for hospital visits were read. Mrs. Norman Brown, president, asked members to let the hospital visiting committee know of any district residents who enter the hospital.

Mrs. Irene Day gave an interesting and comprehensive report on the recent provincial convention in Cranbrook and was accorded hearty applause. She noted that the Branch and its Auxiliary worked together in Cranbrook and all members received inspiration from padre Rev. F. D. Wyatt, whose well-chosen words of guidance were brought back to the Nelson Auxiliary for future reference. In an address, theme of which was the Scriptural exhortation "Love thy God with all thy soul, with all thy heart and with all thy mind, and thy neighbor as thyself," he urged deep consideration of Legion aims.

"The Legion is something of which you can be proud. Wear your uniforms with a sense of pride. You are serving your country, the people and those who gave their lives."

She went on to tel lof various ceremonies, addresses, resolutions, correspondence and excellent reports af activities, in a nine-page report which covered every detail of the convention.

Resolutions from the convention will be dealt with later.

A request for volunteers for the "blitz" canvass of households for the Community Chest's current campaign for $20,000, was issued by the president. Under the leadership of Mrs. H. H. Currie, several members will work with help from branch members.

In monthly reports, Mrs. Day of the ways and means committee mentioned the daffodil tea and whist drives, thanking those who had helped; Mrs. E. Forbes reported that Mrs. E. Fillieul and Mrs. Mary DeFerro had made 220 visits to the hospital, distributing 190 small gifts, and Mrs. McCreight said that get-well cards had been mailed. Mrs. Allen for the house committee had made several purchases, including pillow slips and other items to be used in the Auxiliary's display in the West Kootenay Exhibition. Mrs. Serres and Mrs. S. C. Colman had wrapped gifts for Hycroft hospital including useful articles from magnifying glasses to playing cards. Mrs. Serres also read a letter of thanks for these from the matron.

Mrs. Smythe reported on five successful catering jobs. Mrs. Allen said that good progress was being made on the Fair display, and Mrs. Brown said that as a result of a liaison meeting, a fan has been installed in the Legion kitchen. Mrs. Currie reported on a meeting of the Kootenay Society for Handicapped Children.

Mrs. Smythe was named as a new executive member in place of Mrs. R. Keffer who recently transferred her membership elsewhere.

Several members will travel to Rossland for the West Kootenay zone council meeting there this weekend. Mrs. Gray will again act as standard bearer in place of the regular one. The Doctor . . . Carbuncle May Mean Diabetes

By Dr. Herman N. Bundesen

Carbuncles frequently indicate diabetes.

For this reason, it's probably a good idea to have a check of the sugar content of your urine and blood if you are addicated to these troublesome inflammations.

There are two types, the common superficial carbuncle which leaves a relatively shallow excavation, and the deep type with its deep crater formation.

Generally, only one carbuncle will appear at a time. They're most frequently found on the lower part of the neck or the upper section of the back.

FIRST SYMPTOMS

The first symptoms are a deep red coloring of the skin and a painful swelling.

The inflammation, which is composed of abscesses walled in by fibrous tissue, may run its course in anywhere from a few weeks to a couple of months.

You should eliminate from your diet excessive amounts of fatty foods, sweets, chocolates and alcoholic drinks.

Your doctor probably will give you penicillin and other antibiotics. These will rapidly relieve your pain and help clear up the inflammation.

SUPERFICIAL CARBUNCLES

Roentgen radiation usually is quite beneficial in cases of superficial carbuncles.

Your doctor finds that as a rule hot saline compresses are helpful. You can take these by soaking cloths in a solution of one quart of boiled water and three heaping teaspoonsful of salt, then wringing the cloths almost dry and applying them to the carbuncle.

If the carbuncle is of the deep, spreading type, your doctor might have to perform a little surgery under general anesthesia. This is especially advisable if your resistance happens to be low.

But remember — do not neglect or self-treat a carbuncle. Your doctor knows best what to do.

IODE Chapters Urged to Enrol Young Women

QUEBEC (CP) — Mrs. L. B. Smart of Toronto, president of the Imperial Order Daughters of The Empire, told the annual meeting Monday that many of the 971 chapters are facing the possibility of disbanding because they still have the founding members of 30 years ago.

Mrs. Smart appealed to the 300 delegates, representing 32,000 members in the 10 provinces, to ask chapters to recruit young members so the work may be carried on as older members retire.

"It is the job of all the older members to act as organizing secretaries," she said.

The IODE, however, is "holding its own" since three provinces had reported an increase in members. They were Nova Scotia, Ontario and Alberta.

The meeting approved a $25,460 budget, including an estimated deficit of $1000 for 1956. National treasurer Mrs. Peter L. Robinson of Toronto said it is hoped to keep the deficit lower than estimated.

Envoy's Wife Makes Embassy Just Like Home

By GEORGE KITCHEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (CP) — Canada's first lady and official hostess in this world capital is an attractive brunette who believes an embassy should be run as a home as well as an official residence.

Mrs. Arnold Heeney, former Montrealer and wife of the Canadian ambassador to the United States, puts that theory into practice by maintaining a home-like atmosphere in the Canadian embassy, the big official residence she and Heeney occupy on a hillside in Washington's fashionable Rock Creek Park area.

Scattered about the 17-room mansion, maintained and furnished by the Canadian government as an official home for Canada's envoys in Washington, are personal pictures, knick-knacks and pieces of furniture from their home in Ottawa, where Heeney for many years was clerk of the Privy Council and secretary to the cabinet.

LIFE INTERESTING

The Heeneys came to Washington three years ago and Mrs. Heeney says she finds life here "interesting and stimulating." As an embassy hostess, she meets leading personalities from throughout the free world — and, occasionally, some from behind the Iron Curtain as well.

She sums up her philosophy about the tasks of an ambassador's wife in these words:

"I feel that my first duty is to help my husband in representing Canada in the United States and to run the official residence as a home as well as an embassy."

That job of representation can be pretty strenuous in a capital with 76 diplomatic missions.

Apart from the run-of-the-mill diet of official parties, virtually all of the embassies have national days, such as Canada's Dominion Day holiday, and the niceties of diplomatic protocol require Canadian representation at most, if not all, of them. Thus, the Heeneys not infrequently find themselves splitting up for the evening, each attending a different embassy reception.

By tradition, functions at the Canadian embassy are not normally large by Washington standards often taking the form of dinner parties and luncheons for leading U.S. congresmen, government officials, guests from other embassies or official visitors from Canada. In each instance, Mrs. Heeney selects the menu.

A native of Montreal who attended McGill University and Miss Edgar's School for Girls, she concedes that she never had thought, when she was at McGill as Margaret Yuile, that she one day would have to entertain as many as 1000 guests in a single evening.

That's precisely what she did recently when she and the ambassador gave the embassy's one big party of the year, a two-hour garden party in honor of the Queen's official Canadian birthday.

KASLO — Mrs. P. H. Bovair, delegate to the Women's Institute District Conference at Fruitvale, read an excellent report, when Kaslo Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. W. Arthur at Mirror Lake.

At the close of the business meeting, contests were held and won by Mrs. F. W. Speirs and Mrs. T. R. Allen.

MR. AND MRS. DAL MICHAEL MAKAY

Ruth Chambers Bride Of Dal Michael Makay

The former Marguerite Josephine Ruth Chambers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Chambers, and Dal Michael Makay, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Makay, were principals in a double-ring nuptial ceremony held recently in the Cathedral of Mary Immaculate. Rev. Father R. D. Anderson officiated.

A maid of honor, two bridesmaids and a pretty young flower girl, all in dresses of contrasting hues, and a young page were members of the bridal party.

The bride herself wore traditional white tulle over satin, the gown featuring a fitted bodice with a four-tiered bouffant skirt, each tier embroidered with lover's knots. The gown was styled with a portrait neckline and lily point sleeves. A pearl embroidered cap fastened her shoulder-length illusion net veil, and she carried pink roses, stephanotis and lily of the valley.

The bride's sister, Miss Muriel Chambers, as maid of honor selected a dress of aqua lace over taffeta with a leaf-style tulle and taffeta headdress. Bridesmaid Miss Norma Fleming of Vancouver, a cousin of the bride, wore a dress of pale pink silk sheer over orchid taffeta which toned charmingly with the gown of yellow lace over taffeta chosen by Miss Albina Makay, sister of the groom, of Trail, who was also a bridesmaid. Headdresses were similar to that of the maid of honor, and all three carried marguerites in colors matching their dresses.

The flower girl, Nancy Campana, god-daughter of the groom from Trail, was in a gay flowered yellow organdie frock in a Kate Greenaway style. She carried a Colonial bouquet of pale mauve sweetpeas and asters. Jackie Chambers, the bride's nephew, was the page.

The best man was Mr. Victor Kravski of Rossland, and Mr. Anthony Campana of Rossland and Mr. J. R. Chambers, brother of the bride, performed ushering duties. Mrs. Peggy Baroni was soloist.

Flowers decked the Legion hall where the reception took place. A four-tiered wedding cake was cut by the newlyweds. At the bride's table, with its pink and white floral centre, Mrs. J. M. Armstrong and Mrs. J. R. Chambers poured. Mr. C. D. Pearson proposed the toast to the bride, Mr. J. A. Wilson proposed a toast to the bridesmaids, to which the best man replied. Cpl. J. R. Rogers was toastmaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Makay will reside in Trail when they return from a wedding trip through the Northwestern states. The bride left in a cream metallic brocade duster over a heavenly blue dress and accessories.

Procter Notes

PROCTER — Mr. and Mrs. N. Shkwarok of Procter have returned from a five weeks' stay in Exeter, Ont., where they were guests of their daughter, Mrs. D. L. Sicotte and her husband LAC Denis Sicotte of Centralia RCAF station. They travelled East because their grandson Bobby Sicotte was seriously ill with pneumonia.

Miss Dolly Shkwarok of Nelson spent a few days with her parents in Procter before leaving for Exeter to be with her sister, Mrs. D. L. Sicotte who is shortly to undergo an operation in St. Joseph's Hospital, London. Miss Shkwarok has been employed in a Nelson office but will now make her home in London.

Miss Joan Ferguson has returned to Procter and is a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ferguson. She has completed her teacher's training course at the Calgary Normal School and has been accepted by the Calgary School Board. She plans to teach in Alberta.

Miss Claire Ogden has finished her training at the Vancouver Normal School but is at present remaining in Vancouver where her father is in hospital. Mrs. Albert Ogden and daughter Beth are also in Vancouver to be near during Mr. Ogden's forthcoming operation.

John Renzie has completed two years' training in radio and television at the Calgary Technical School. He is currently visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Renzie at Procter before going to Trail where he has accepted a post in his special line of work.

The big Stewart house which has stood in Procter for years has been torn down and the Stewarts of Trail are planning to build a smaller modern Summer home on the same site. N. C. MacLeod has started building a new home a half mile from Procter and E. Harrison has aroused much complimentary comment on the striking colors of his new home. The base is rose, the top half white and the trim black.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack MacLeod and daughter Shirley of Trail were guests of Capt. and Mrs. Norman MacLeod.

Couple Who Remember Boundary Since 1890s Mark Golden Wedding

WYNNDEL—A Kootenay-Boundary oldtimer who at 85 still goes bird hunting and who has many fine stories to tell of early life on the American Prairies, E. R. Shannon and his wife celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with a grand family reunion Saturday in the community hall.

"Ed" Shannon was born near Quincy, Ill., February 10, 1871, and the following year his parents and the baby moved to Kansas in a covered wagon. He moved further West to his uncle's farm in Palouse County, South of Spokane, in 1891.

Accompanied by his brother Jess, he went to the Boundary in 1894, spending the winter 1893-94 in Kettle Falls, Wash., and arriving in Grand Forks May 1, 1894. He and his brother prospected and trapped in the Boundary country until his marriage. He took out his Canadian citizenship papers July 12, 1903, and voted in the first ballot election held in Grand Forks. After his marriage, he worked in the Granby smelter until 1918.

In 1921 he moved the family to a farm 15 miles north of Grand Forks where they resided until going to Kimberley in 1926. Mr. Shannon retired from the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company in 1932. They lived in Kimberley until June, 1942, when they moved to Creston. They came to Wynndel in April, 1945.

His wife, Ella, was born in Petrolia, Ont., March 29, 1886 and went to Grand Forks with her parents during the spring of 1890. Her father was Robert Clark, a brick layer. They lived eight miles North of Grand Forks until her marriage to Mr. Shannon.

LONG-LIVED FAMILY

The Shannons are both quite active and keep a nice garden. Mr. Shannon has always been an ardent hunter, and still does some hunting for ducks, geese and pheasants. His two surviving brothers have celebrated their golden wedding anniversaries, Tom of Kinsley, Kansas, four years ago, and Harry in Colorado Springs, Colorado, last year.

Letters and telegrams from the Governor-General Hon. Vincent Massey, Prime Minister St. Laurent, James Byrne, MP for Kootenay East, Premier Bennett and Hon. W. D. Black, Nelson-Creston MLA, will be treasured by the couple among the numerous congratulatory messages they received. A tape recording of messages of friends from Kimberley was heard.

The family gathering was at the Wynndel hall, a dinner in the afternoon catered to by the Community Club Auxiliary. The hall was decorated with flowers and streamers and a handsome decorated cake, made by Vince Phillips of Creston, centred the table.

Of the Shannnos nine children, seven are surviving. Those present were their daugnter Mrs. Don Colling of Vancouver, five sons, Charles and Bob of Kimberley, Frank and Melvin of Riondel and Harry of Trail and their families consisting of seven grandsons and four granddaughters. Another son, Jim, of San Francisco was unable to attend, also one granddaughter, one great grandson and one great grand-daughter.

Other relatives attending were Archie and Elsie McKinley, Wallace and Betty Gulman and family, Ken and Helen Gaylard and family, John and Rella Yergler, all of Kellogg, Idaho; Leslie Clark of East Stanwood, Wash., Jim and Pauline Hacking and Gordon Pounder of Spokane, Jack Hacking of Riondel, Beth Shannon of Calgary, Frank Shannon Jr., of Rivers, Man., and Larry Shannon of Marysville.

SPORTS

Here's John Speaking on SHORT SPORT

A quick glance at the sports page of the world shows one of the greatest contradictions in athletic history.

Periodically, major league officials in baseball, fastball, tennis, golf and wrestling expand their chests and proclaim loudly that attendance at the various events is higher than ever before.

John and Joan Average Reader nod benignly, finish their final cups of morning coffee, excuse themselves and go on about their daily duties.

It seems, though, that whenever major league officials are not gloating, minor league officials — particularly on the level of amateur athletics — are using the same space as a sort of mass-circulation wailing wall.

Hence the question: How is it possible for major leagues to thrive, while minor leagues (the incubators, so to speak) are folding their tents like the Arabs and silently fading away?

* * *

Since baseball moguls do most of the bleating over the sickly situation, let us deal with their problems.

Within three years, three franchises have been switched to combat falling attendance. Boston Braves moved to Milwaukee in the National League; St. Louis Browns became Kansas City Athletics in the American League.

Milwaukee is setting all sorts of attendance records. If the Braves ever win a pennant, it may take 400 adding machines five years to figure the total atendance, even with adding machine operators working three eight-hour shifts every day except Sundays and holidays.

Kansas City and Baltimore franchises are financially solvent, but unless they both sprout winning teams within the near future, they will not remain so. Fans simply refuse to feed a dead horse when each feed costs a-buck-and-a-half

* * *

Somehow, hockey's minor professional leagues have escaped the rigors of financial difficulties. But the semi-professional leagues are, in many cases, suffering agonies. It is getting to the situation where everytime a manager loosens the strings of his purse, moths fly out. And since moths hate light, they turn right around and go back to remain safe for another indefinite period.

Hockey is in the same position as baseball. They must have semi-professional leagues to develop players for the minor pro leagues, who, in turn, ship players to the National Hockey League.

* * *

The major leagues control the destinies of their games. What they do and how they do it is their problem. But they must do something. And they must do it quickly.

A 22-POUND rainbow trout, an example of tenays, was presented to Mayor "Duke" Taft of the attractions offered tourists visiting the Koo-Spokane recently by a Nelson Mid-Summer Bonspiel goodwill delegation to the Inland Empire city. Prior to presenting the fish to the mayor, it was displayed in a Spokane store and about 400 came to see it. Left to right in the picture are Albert Maida, bonspiel vice-president who led the delegation; Mayor Taft, Acting Mayor W. S. Smith of Nelson and Art Waters of Nelson Curling Club.

Nixon Just Misses Perfect Game As Boston Beats New York 7-3

By The Associated Press

Willard Nixon, the Yankee killer Boston planned to put on the disabled list until commissioner Ford Frick intervened, was within seven outs of the second perfect game in major league baseball's modern era Tuesday, then had to settle for a three-hit, 7-3 decision over the American League leading New Yorkers.

The Red Sox righthander, winning his first of the season, lost his perfect game bid with two out in the seventh. He lost his chance for a no-hitter with two out in the eighth. And he lost his shutout try with two out in the ninth.

Mickey Mantle walked to become the first Yankee base runner in the seventh. Billy Martin walloped a 450-foot triple for the first Yankee hit in the eighth. And, after rookie Frank Malzone's error, Mantle sent his No. 18 homer into the bleachers in the ninth. Yogi Berra then tripled and scored on an error by second baseman Billy Consolo.

FOUR-GAME LEAD

Despite the defeat, in which the Sox shelled starter Don Larsen and reliefer Rip Coleman for 13 hits, the Yanks lost only a half game from their lead, winding up with a four-game spread over idle Cleveland.

Chicago White Sox staged a three-run rally in the 12th inning to defeat Kansas City 7-4. The loss plunked the As back into the cellar as Washington outlasted Baltimore 6-5.

In the National League, Don Newcombe hit and pitched Brooklyn Dodgers to a 10-1 victory over Pittsburgh. The Pirates' Dale Long, who set a major league record of eight home runs in eight straight games, went hitless in a try for nine.

It left the third place Pirates 1½ games short of idle Milwaukee and St. Louis. Brooklyn is 2½ back in fifth.

Cincinnati walloped Chicago Cubs 10-4 in the only other National League game, with Gus Bell unloading thre homers and driving in seven runs during a perfect 5-for-5 at-bat.

RETIRED FIRST 20 MEN

Nixon, troubled by a sore arm but kept off the disabled list by Frick to prevent it from becoming "a catch-all", retired the first 20 men in order. The only perfect game since 1920 was by the White Sox' Charlie Robertson, 2-0 over Detroit in 1922.

Billy Goodman and Sammy White, each with three hits, homered for Boston who hadn't won at Yankee Stadium since Aug. 9. That also was the last victory hung up by Nixon, only pitcher to beat the Yanks four times last season.

Ted Williams started for the Red Sox for the first time in more than five weeks. He went hitless in four trips.

Newcombe, winning his seventh against three defeats, struck out six and didn't walk a man. He also delivered a three-run double and a single. Duke Snider stretched his hitting streak, tops in the National League this season to 18 games.

With Bell's bat booming, Brooks Lawrence won his sixth without defeat for the Redlegs, now two games out of first. Bell's first two homers came with one on. His third was a three-run job.

Harmon Killebrew, without a hit this season, stepped in to replace injured second baseman Pete Runnels and smacked a pair of home runs in Washington's victory. Gus Triandos homered and drove in four runs for Baltimore.

Favor Thomson On Speedway

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Johnny Thomson, a nerveless New England Scotsman with a "hot car," was made a slight favorite Tuesday for today's 40th 500-mile speedway race, which should produce a record speed unless hampered by excessive heat or showers.

The weather bureau, harrassed by three days of rain which placed this city on a flood alert, predicted temperatures of 86 degrees, high humidity and possibility of showers.

Speedway officials said the race definitely would go on as scheduled although postponement was touch-and-go Monday after flash floods sent rivulets across the track.

A crowd of more than 100,000 is expected to view the death-defying grind, the premier event of American automobile racing.

Thirty-three high-powered cars will be gunned at the 130.84 m.p.h. record set in 1954 by the late Bill Vukovich, killed while leading last year's race.

STAMPS SIGN BERDETT HESS

CALGARY (CP) — The Calgary Stampeders football club announced the signing for his second season of Berdett Hess, 23, six-feet one-inch lineman from Caldwell, Idaho, Tuesday.

General manager Bob Masterson said Hess played 45 minutes in the East-West game in 1954 and was an outstanding line backer and offensive tackle for the Stamps in 1955.

He tips the scales at 235 pounds.

Cards Seek Injunction Against Sam Etcheverry

MONTREAL (CP) — Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League are seeking an injunction to prevent quarterback Sam Etcheverry from rejoining Montreal Alouettes, it was disclosed Tuesday night.

Alquette president Leo Dandurand said Etcheverry had a summons served on him Monday at his Albuquerque, N.M., home. It will be heard June 15 in federal court at Sante Fe, N.M.

"We told Sam to stay and see it through," said Dandurand.

"We have an iron-clad, two-year agreement with him."

The injunction application dates to 1954-55 when Etcheverry signed two contracts.

He signed in December, 1954, with Cardinals and with the Big Four club the following January, when Montreal exercised its option.

"Sam wants to abide by his contract with us," said Dandurand. "After the Grey Cup game last year, we tore up his two-year agreement which had a year to run and he signed another two-year one for the 1956-57 seasons.

"The Cardinals have been pesterng him all winter."

LONG'S HOMER STRING CUT

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Dale Long's bat that cracked out eight homers in eight consecutive games stopped booming Tuesday, but the Pittsburgh Pirates first sacker said he'll be back swinging again today.

"I'm just dog tired," Long said after the Pirates' 10-1 loss to the Brooklyn Dodgers behind the seven-hit pitching of big Don Newcombe.

Long said he didn't feel a bit tense, "but maybe I was in my subconscious mind. I didn't let it bother me."

He got only one ball out of the infield — a steaming liner to deep centre in the third inning after fouling off seven out of 10 pitches. He struck out in the first on five tosses and popped to short and second in the sixth and eighth innings respectively.

Five Off to WHL Meet

VANCOUVER (CP) — Five hockey men left here Tuesday for the annual meeting of the Western Hockey League that will open today in Calgary.

They included Kenny MacKenzie, former part owner of New Westminster Royals of the WHL who said he is "available" as a manager for one of the Prairie clubs in the nine-team circuit.

MacKenzie indicated he is already dickering with one club by saying "they have asked me to meet them in Calgary."

Others heading for Calgary were Vancouver Mayor Fred Hume, now sole owner of the Royals, who is still looking for a general manager to replace MacKenzie, owner Coley Hall of Vancouver Canucks, general manager and coach Art Chapman of the Canucks and general manager Muzz Patrick of the New York Rangers of the National Hockey League.

Vessels to Join Colts as Rookie

CLEVELAND, Okla. (AP)—Billy Vessels, who was named "best" in college, Canadian pro and service football, will be a rookie in the National League this year — and he's afraid he won't make the team.

The former all-American halfback will join the Baltimore Colts in July after a two-year hitch in the army. He was discharged last week at Fort Sill, Okla., and then visited his hometown here.

Vessels said he and other Colt rookies will begin practice July 19, with the veterans checking into camp a few days later.

"It sounds kind of funny to be classified a rookie again, but I welcome the opportunity to get in those early practice licks," he said in an interview. "I'm going to have to work harder than I've ever worked in my life to get into condition.

"I'm further out of condition than I've ever been in my life, but I'm going to start working out on my own early next month. It's going to be tough to make the Colt backfield because they have some great boys."

WIFU LEADER

Although Vessels is worried about his condition, he still weighs a solid 185 pounds, the same weight he carried at Oklahoma.

In 1952, his final year under Oklahoma coach Bud Wilkinson, he won the Heisman Trophy as the outstanding player in collegiate football. That was the year he scored the Sooner's only three touchdowns in a 21-27 loss to Notre Dame.

WILLIAMS BACK ON LEFTFIELD

NEW YORK (AP) — Ted Williams returned to leftfield for Boston Red Sox in their game with New York Yankees at the stadium Monday.

It was only the third time that Williams, slugging outfielder injured in a freak accident on April 18, had started for the Red Sox this season. On that day Williams slid off the wooden clog or slipper which athletes wear when they take showers and ruptured a blood vessel in his instep.

WANTS LOUIS' DEBT WIPED OUT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representative Alfred D. Sieminsk (Dem. N.J.) introduced a bill in the House of Representatives Tuesday to relieve former heavyweight boxing champion Joe Louis of all outstanding income taxes owing the government since 1939.

Louis' much publicized income tax troubles stem from unpaid taxes, penalties and interest reported to total nearly $1,500,000.

Sieminski called on congress to wipe out Joe's income tax debt to Uncle Sam as an acknowledgment that "Joe has done a lot for the United States."

Scots Leave Only Two Americans in Running

TROON, Scotland (AP) — The Scots Tuesday repelled the American invasion in the 61st British amateur golf championship.

As play moved through the third round on the hot, dry Troon links, the men from Ayrshire, Lanarkshire and neighboring golfing strongholds took over.

Of the 26 Americans entered only two were left who were given any kind of a chance. English, Welsh and Irish golfers had it almost as rough as the Americans on the scorching 6,583-yard course southwest of Glasgow on the Firth of Clyde. Such players as Ireland's Joe Carr and Sam McCready, both former British amateur champions, and the English champion, Guy Wolstenholme, fell by the wayside.

CHAMPION UNBEATEN

The two Americans with a chance at the title which has been won by United States golfers six of the last nine years were defending champion Joe Conrad of Texas, and big Gene Andrews of Pacific Palisades, Calif., 1954 U.S. public links champion.

Conrad whipped Scotland's Tom Armstrong in the third round 3 and 2.

Knocked out in second round Tuesday morning were New York's 40-year-old Frank Stafaci, who has tried seven times for the title without ever getting past the round of 16; long-hitting Hobart Manley of Savannah, Ga., and Ernest (Pete) Arend of Deal, N.J., a quarter-finalist at Hoylake in 1953.

Dr. F. W. G. Deighton, a Glasgow physician, knocked off Stafaci 3 and 2. Herbert Thompson, 41-year-old west of Scotland titleholder, eliminated Arend 4 and 3. Manley lost to a 23-year-old Welsh student, Hugh Squirrell, 1 up.

FORMER MILKMAN WINS

The most notable loss apart from the Americans was Carr's defeat at the hands of little Matt Alexander, an aircraft worker from nearby Prestwick and a former milkman, 3 and 2. Carr won the title in 1953 and his record in the British amateur is one of the finest ever compiled. McCready, the 1949 champion, was beaten by Scotsman Sidney Ball on the 20th hole.

Wolstenholme, the English champion, was eliminated by Ian Harris of Scotland 2 and 1 in the third round.

Among those advancing to the fourth round was John Beharrel, England's most promising youngster who is only 17 years old. He defeated D. C. Cameron of Scotland 3 and 2 and C. D. Lawrie, another Scotsman, 6 and 5.

Saskatoon to Close Arena

SASKATOON (CP) — The Star-Phoenix says rink directors and the Saskatoon Hockey Club Ltd., operator of Saskatoon Quakers of the Western Hockey League, have agreed to close the Saskatoon Arena July 19.

The newspaper says the decision, reported to have been unanimous, may mean that Saskatoon will be without an indoor hockey and skating rink for the 1956-57 season.

Both the rink and the professional hockey franchise have been up for sale for some time.

The Star-Phoenix adds lack of fan support for professional hockey was the main reason for the action by the Arena directors and the hockey club.

JACOBS SIGNS AS ORFU PLAYING COACH

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Indian Jack Jacobs made it official Tuesday when he signed a one-year contract as playing coach of the new London entry in the senior Ontario Rugby Football Union. Terms were not disclosed.

The colorful quarterback, who starred with Winnipeg Blue Bombers, arrived here Monday from his home in Muskogee, Okla.

$60,000 Suit to Halt Team Sales Launched

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A suit was filed Tuesday to prevent sale of the Vancouver Coast League baseball club to Coley Hall, Vancouver businessman, for $60,000.

The suit was filed in superior court in behalf of Ethel C. and A. Robert Miller, who said they owned 38 per cent of the stock in the Oakland Association, former operator of the Oakland club which was transferred to Vancouver.

It named as defendants C. L. (Brick) Laws, president of the Oakland Association, and directors Edward Downer Jr. and Joe Blumenfeld.

The plaintiffs charged that, over their objections, the board of directors May 24 voted to grant an option to Hall to purchase the entire assets of the Oakland Association for $60,000.

This, the suit charged, was "not a fair and reasonable price and not a fair market value of the corporation's assets."

The suit also declared the corporation's property was being misapplied by officers and directors and "the two factions of stockholders are so deadlocked that this business can no longer be properly operated."

The Millers said no dividends have been voted for 10 years "although assets were available."

The petition also asked that the corporation which operated the Oakland ball club before it was moved to Vancouver be dissolved.

Miller and Victor DeVincenzi purchased the Oakland Association from the late Cal Ewing in 1929, Miller becoming president. He and Devincenzi operated the Oaks for several years, and then Miller turned the club over to Devincenzi.

Devincenzi sold a majority interest in 1944 to Laws and Blumenfeld for $75,000.

The club reportedly made a gross profit of $200,000 before taxes in 1946. In recent years failing attendance kept the organization in the red.

Laws was contacted last year by Hall and persuaded to move the team to Vancouver, which Laws did with Miller's approval.

Market Trends

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market in a tremendous advance scored its widest gain in 17 years.

Canadian issues were higher on the New York Exchange. Aluminium Ltd. added 4½, International Nickel gained 1, Distillers Seagram was up ⅞, Canadian Pacific Hudson Bay Mining and Walker-Gooderham all added ½.

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market turned around sharply after a prolonged losing spell and marked up one of its best daily advances of the year.

Continued caution, however, was evident in the slow pace of business. The volume of 4,287,000 shares was the lowest since Jan. 24. The number of issues traded was also one of the year's lowest at 689.

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal and Canadian stock exchange broke out of their three-week slump and closed with some substantially higher gains.

Aluminium led the base metals' bounding up 6½ points over the day. International Nickel climbed 1¼ while Hudson Bay, Noranda and Smelters were fractions ahead.

Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

BJL THH PZW IFSZJKW ITHV ZW MKI ETZU MJTWI, JL WKMIHF WPZBIW AJUEZAIZJU IJ FETSF—CZHIJU.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: FOR THE SELF-SAME HEAVEN THAT FROWNS ON ME, LOOKS SADLY UPON HIM—SHAKESPEARE.

KENOGAMI, Que. (CP) — A strike in three mills of Price Brothers and Company Ltd., in the Saguenay district, has been settled, it was announced in a joint union and company statement. Approximately 2000 workers had been affected by the strike, which started last Wednesday.

In the Jonquiere mill workers will receive a five per cent increase retroactive to May 1, 1955, a 15-cent-an-hour increase from May 1, 1956, and an increase of five cents an hour from Nov. 1, 1956 when the normal work week will be reduced to 40 from 48 hours.

A five per cent increase will go into effect May 1, 1957, and will bring the basic hourly rate in the mill to $1.63 The average hourly wage at April 30 last was $1.29.

Suggests Power Project as Sign of Peace

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Senator Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, Tuesday suggested a billion-dollar five-year atomic power program among "the uncommitted peoples of the earth."

Addressing the 168th general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., Anderson said "to these friendly lands and to the uncommitteed peoples of the earth I would send the evidences of our purpose to use the atom for peace.

"I think it would pay far greater dividends both in security and satisfaction."

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower asked Congress Tuesday for 112½ million dollars additional for the atomic energy commission, to be used chiefly to speed development and production of atomic weapons and civilian power plants.

Of the total, $88,400,000 would go for operating expenses and $24,100,000 for plant acquisition and construction.

Coyne Bombarded With Questions

OTTAWA (CP) — John Blackmore (SC-Lethbridge) was accused by the Liberals Tuesday of directing "loaded" and "misleading" questions at John Coyne, governor of the Bank of Canada.

The accusations came during a session of the Commons banking committee where the Alberta school teacher confronted Mr. Coyne with nine pages of typewritten questions, ranging from money supply to economic and monetary theory.

BASED ON PRESUMPTIONS

Committee chairman John Hunter (L-Toronto-Parkdale) said the questions were "loaded". They were based on presumptions that may not be true at all.

"Then it would be the privilege of the governor to straighten me out," Mr. Blackmore retorted.

Mr. Blackmore maintained the Bank of Canada was "on trial". The bank had raised its lending rates to such a high point that many of his constituents had protested. He had to get answers to all his questions in order to judge whether his constituents or the bank was right. There was something "radically wrong" in Canada, especially when pensioners were starving on $40 a month.

Mr. Hunter said Mr. Blackmore could speak for himself but could not speak for the whole committee.

Top Caucasian Officials Executed For Treason Against Communists

MOSCOW (AP) — The former prime minister of Azerbajain and three other top officials of that Caucasian Republic have been executed for treason and counter-revolutionary activity.

They were accused of being accomplices of ofrmer Soviet police boss Lavrenti Beria.

The newspaper Baku Worker, which reached Moscow today, said they had been charged with "terroristic acts." b

The chief defendant in the trial, which the newspaper said was held publicly in Baku between April 12 and April 26, was identified as M. D. Bagairov, former secretary of the Communist party in that area and the chairman of the council of ministers of the Azerbaijan Republic.

The indictment said he and his accomplices were guilty of treason, of using improper methods of police investigation, of setting the state security organs against the government and the Communist Party and of counter-revolutionary activity.

There has been no word of the trial or execution in the Moscow press or over the radio.

The brief report in the newspaper from the oil city of Baku was in the form of an announcement from the military collegium of the supreme court of the USSR.

It added that two other defendants have been sentenced to terms of 25 years' imprisonment.

The other three men who were executed were M. D. Barshchev, H. I. Grigoryan and R. A. Markaryan.

The two who were imprisoned were S. S. Ihrogimovich, a former vice commissar of state security, and S. Emelyanov, a former people's commissar for state security in Azerbaijan.

Urges State of Emergency for Fraser Valley

CHILLIWACK, B.C. (CP)—Robert Strachan, provincial CCF leader, said here a "state of emergency should be declared in the Fraser Valley immediately."

The valley was hit by severe frost last November and by high water this spring.

At a public meeting attended by 200 farmers, Mr. Strachan recommended the government move immediately to locate fodder supplies and organize for its transportation to Fraser Valley points —paying all transportation costs if necessary.

The CCF leader, who took over from retiring Arnold Webster earlier this year, promised to support valley farmers in their efforts to obtain a hay subsidy "not in the spirit of a handout but as their right."

"A $2,250,000 subsidy exists on all logging roads. There is also a $1,250,000 subsidy on roads to mines. Therefore the farmer should also get help."

DENY RUSSIANS TO VISIT CANADA

OTTAWA (CP) — The external affairs department said Monday the government is not considering inviting Russia's Nikita Khrushchev and Premier Bulganin to visit Canada at this time.

An official also said the government has received no suggestion that the Russians are planning a trip to Canada.

He was commenting on a report, appearing in the London Daily Mail under a New York dateline, that the Soviet leaders are 'known to be anxious' to visit the United States but that Canada is believed to be reluctant to extend an invitation at this time. The report implies that a visit to Canada would be a suitable opening gambit.

Convicted Man Gets Third Reprieve

CALGARY (CP)—Peter Morrison, convicted of the murder of Norman G. Yesny of Niagara Falls, N. Y., has been granted his third reprieve from the gallows.

His defence counsel, Frank Quigley, said the third reprieve sets the execution date ahead from June 5 to July 17. The Supreme Court of Canada last week denied Morrison the right to appeal.

The case will now be considered by the Cabinet to determine whether the death sentence should be commuted.

Odds... and Ends
... by M. D. B.

Horse chestnut trees are at their best right now, so enjoy them while you may and perhaps their springtime beauty will make up for some of their mess in the Fall. A former neighbor of mine used to cuss theirs every year because she had to sweep chestnuts, chestnut wrappings and the profusion of leaves off the sidewalk nearly every day for a month. It usually rained a great deal during this period and they are the slipperiest things to walk on and stain the sidewalk a streaky brown. It's also a simple matter to twist your ankle on them if you're not careful. But they are lovely in the spring and in summer give kindly shade.

See where the Civic Centre is getting its lower section painted a sort of rusty orange color which goes rather well with the upper color which could also do with a bit of freshening up.

Was up to see how the South Nelson elementary school is coming along, for the memory of it in its completely torn apart state has haunted me. I found practically all the ceilings, if not all, done in white tile, with acoustic tile in the library. The hallways look so vastly different with their low ceilings, I found it hard to believe that I had been in the building before.

• • •

Wainscoating below the blackboards has been covered with plywood and painters have begun to wipe green and yellow color on it in the various rooms and halls. Electricians have finished the "roughing in" and fixtures have their wire tongues hanging out waiting for switch plates, etc. Everywhere there is the smell of new wood, paint and plaster, even in the chemistry room.

• • •

Classroom floors are to be sanded and refinished. The hallways are an unknown quantity with linoleum under consideration.

• • •

Outside a remarkable job of brick fill has been done where windows have been torn out or made smaller and the patch job is scarcely noticeable. The eaves are being boarded in to the consternation and frustration of the pigeons, who figured they had squatters' rights. Basement ceilings are also being put in and altogether you wouldn't know the old place.

Pipe for Pipeline Ordered From U. K.

LONDON (CP) — A $32,000,000 contract for steel piping for Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd., has been awarded to a British firm, it was announced Monday.

The contract was signed in New York last Thursday with South Durham Steel and Iron Company Ltd., a British firm which has another pipeline order from the Westcoast Transmission Company. Delivery of the first piping will be in May, 1957, and the contract is expected to be completed by July, 1959.

Asked about the controversy raging in Canada over the pipeline companys financing, a company official said:

"The contract is with the pipe line company, not the government.'

Vaccine Delay May Reduce Shots To One Instead of Two This Year

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Many Canadian children will have to weather the 1956 polio season with only one shot of the Salk polio vaccine instead of two.

And of the 880,000 who received two shots last year and were due for the third this year, most will probably have to wait until the fall, when the polio season has ended, before receiving the final dose.

The fear expressed earlier this year that production delays in Canada's only source, the Toronto Connaught Laboratories, would prevent fulfilment of the original inoculation target, became a reality Tuesday.

Dr. J. K. W. Ferguson, laboratories director, announced at Toronto that only 2,000,000 doses can be delivered by June 15, just before school children end their school term and scatter for the summer holidays.

The origina ltarget was some 1,800,000 doses—enough to provide the first two doses for 2,000,000 children and the final third "booster' dose for the 880,000 inoculated last year. In fact the provinces had ordered a total of 6,000,000 doses for delivery by June 30. But Dr. Ferguson said there was a production slowdown caused by changes in manufacturing and testing of the vaccine.

Connaught expects to deliver the full 6,000,000 doses by the end of 1956 — 1,000,000 more than would be required to fill the current target. But by the time the additional supplies are delivered, the height of the seasonal polio threat will have passed; the heat of the summer will be over.

40 to Conduct District Census Starting Friday

About 40 census-takers will cover the West Kootenay urban and rural areas beginning Friday in the first five-year dominion census.

Prospective enumerators have been receiving special training and writing intelligence, accuracy and speed tests for a week under West Kootenay census commissioner W. J. Sturgeon of Nelson.

Three field supervisors will be in charge of district points, while Mr. Sturgeon himself will oversee the Nelson census. About 10 census-takers were given instruction by Mr. Sturgeon in Nelson Armory Saturday.

Officials hope to have the urban census completed in three weeks and the rural areas in four weeks.

Overseas Aid Must Be Kept Up, IODE Told

By GILLIAN PRITCHARD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

QUEBEC (CP) — Material aid to needy overseas countries given by the Imperial Order of Daughters of the Empire will supplement the fight against communism, Mrs. R. C. Latimer of Toronto said at the IODE annual meeting here Monday.

"Our material aid will give proof that we, as a democratic, free people wish to do our share in rehabilitation of the less fortunate countries," the national services convenor declared. "Every member of the IODE knows that assistance to those outside our own country must continue," she added.

Last year the IODE spent $347,478 on welfare work, 84 per cent of it in Canada and the rest abroad.

STEADY DECREASE

"It is regretted that for several years our relief supplies to Europe and Asia have been steadily decreasing," she said. Two years ago, 60 per cent of their work was done in Canada, 40 per cent abroad, she said.

Twenty-one tons of clothing was sent for distribution in Europe and Asia in 1955. It included five tons sent to hospitals and organizations in the United Kingdom. Clothing was provided at home for burned-out families and new Canadians. Nine cases of tropical clothing was sent from New Brunswick and Nova Scotia to British West Indian hurricane victims.

Members last year put in 77,308 hours of voluntary service to hospitals and welfare agencies, she said.

Food costing $39,207, including 662 parcels for British old-age pensioners, was distributed last year at home and abroad. IODE chapters gave contributions to community centres, playgrounds, swimming pools and skating rinks, provided sports equipment, uniforms, band instruments and other aids to recreation.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

Mrs. Latimer reported on other phases of IODE work, including entertainment for veterans and the donation of furnishings and equipment to hospitals, convalescent homes and institutions.

A total of $18,094 was spent on recreation purposes. More than $10,100 was voted to other welfare organizations from IODE funds and IODE members helped raise another $73,109 for other welfare agencies.

IODE contributed $10,386 to the British European relief fund and $4730 to the Korean projects fund, which buys supplies of x-ray film and developer.

National hospitality convenor Mrs. Hugh L. Allward of York Mills, Ont., said members played an important part in welcoming immigrants and overseas students.

She said that reports from the 970 chapters in Canada indicated further growth in hospitality duties.

HOSPITALITY DUTIES

Parties were given for immigrants attending English classes and for students here under the Colombo plan, and refreshments were provided at citizenship courts.

"Across the country, convenors have played an important part in hospitality to new Canadians," declared Mrs. Allward.

IODE hospitality duties also included sending welcome letters to exchange teachers and entertaining official visitors from overseas, she said.

Mrs. Allward said that Commonwealth visitors here for a long visit were able to enjoy community life through introductions arranged by the IODE affiliated Victoria league.

Mrs. G. Douglas Little of Toronto, secretary of the IODE magazine Echoes, appealed to Echoes chapter secretaries to submit magazine material in regulation form.

LITERARY COMPETITION

She said the short story competition would be open this year to the public as well as IODE members. A financial contribution from one chapter would be used to provide an additional feature in each issue.

Civil defence convenor Mrs. Graham Sinclair of Toronto appealed for more members to join civil defence.

"It is of great importance that more and more members become civil defence-minded," she said.

"So let us work towards a 50 per cent chapter response next year, with 100 per cent the ultimate goal."

A lively and growing interest in empire and world affairs was reported by national convenor Mrs. John MacRae of Toronto. National standard bearer Mrs. Donald Greig of Chaudiere Basin, Que., said 21 new standards, including one provincial, were dedicated last year.

Soldier-Sportsman Dies At Coast

VICTORIA (CP) — Capt. Herbert (Lottie) Collings, MBE, well known soldier and sportsman died suddenly here during the weekend. He was 73.

A rifle-shooting enthusiast of marksman calibre before and after the First World War, he represented the B. C. team in Ottawa 20 times and was twice a member of the Canadian team in Commonwealth competitions in Bisley, England, tying for first place in the Grand Aggregate in 1929.

Four years ago he was honored with the position of adjutant on the Canadian Bisley team.

Capt. Collings retired from the permanent force in 1937. However, at the start of the Second World War he recruited his own ordnance company for the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps.

IODE Continues To Grow; Nearly 1000 Chapters

By GILLIAN PRITCHARD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

QUEBEC (CP) — Ten new chapters were formed last year, bringing the total to 970, members of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire were told at the opening session of their 56th annual meeting Monday.

Mrs. G. D. Leggett of Toronto, national organizing secretary, reported an increase of 31 in membership, which now totals 32,129.

Success of the IODE, she said, depends on a steadily increasing membership.

"As our population increases and we strive to meet the difficult and dangerous problems of our day, it becomes more and more important that we add new members who are ready to work unselfishly for the aims and ideals of our IODE," she said.

She said 450 introduction cards had been sent from province to province, keeping in touch members who were moving from place to place.

National treasurer Mrs. Peter L. Robinson of Toronto said although the finance committee had budgeted for a deficit of $1800 for last year, it had kept the deficit to less than $7.

The work of the 10 primary chapters, coming directly under the national committee, in Newfoundland, Prince Edward Island and the Yukon was praised by national secretary Mrs. D. W. McGibbon, also of Toronto.

She said all 10 were assisting local communities with scholarships in schools, helping the needy, welcoming newcomers and substantial contributions to the IODE.

She added that the IODE affiliated Victoria League Students' Club in London offered accommodation to young Canadians visiting Britain.

National publicity convener Mrs. W. R. Walton Jr. of Oakville, Ont. said proof of the influence and importance of the IODE was indicated by increased publicity given to chapter activities during the year.

The annual meeting continues until Wednesday.
