WEATHER FORECAST

KOOTENAY: Cloudy with a few snowflurries. Winds light. Low-high at Cranbrook zero and 20, Crescent Valley 10 and 25.

TWO-YEAR-OLD Vickie Davis appears to be making medical history by surviving a freezing that sent her body temperature down to 59 or 60 degrees. The child, recovering at a Marshalltown, Iowa, hospital, was found frozen and unconscious at her grandmother's home. The temperature outside was about 20 below and almost as cold inside the house. Physicians said as far as they know it is the first time a human has survived such a low body temperature. Doctors immersed the child in 70 degree water for several hours and her temperature rose to 80. She was then placed in a warm room and soon her temperature rose to the fever stage.—AP Wirephoto.

Report From Victoria

BY JAMES K. NESBITT

By JAMES K. NESBITT

VICTORIA—Randolph Harding, (CCF Kaslo-Slocan) appealed to the government in the legislature Thursday to put up some money in his riding to help repair flood damage suffered last year.

"We've had a tough time, Mr. Speaker," Mr. Harding said. "We've had our water systems and our roads damaged."

There is immediate need, in the next six weeks, for financial assistance to Silverton, Slocan City, New Denver and other places, Mr. Harding said.

"Make us loans now," he said "because we must have the money. It is urgent. Give us some hope we're going to get some help."

Mr. Harding asked the government to strongly protest the abandonment of the CPR line between New Denver and Kaslo.

"Every organization and every citizen in the district is up in arms about this," Mr. Harding said.

We've been stung once by the CPR when the Minto was taken off," he said, adding the CPR is making good money and shouldn't be allowed to abandon any part of the line.

"We agree with you, we agree with you," said the premier to Mr. Harding, who said he was glad to hear the premier talk that way.

Mr. Harding went after the West Kootenay Light and Power Company.

"We've got no sympathy for them," he said.

"They're not interested in people. Their greedy hands are only clutching and grasping for profits."

The Public Utilities Commission should force the West Kootenay Power and Light Company to build a transmission line up the Slocan Valley, Mr. Harding said.

"Would you make the West Kootenay lose money?" asked the Premier.

They might lose a little money there, Mr. Harding said, but they make profits elsewhere and they should take the bad with the good.

"Sure, we should take these private companies over and we should have the B.C. Electric too," Mr. Harding said. "The West Kootenay Light and Power hasn't a leg to stand on."

Mr. Harding hammered away on the need for more electric power in Kaslo-Slocan.

"In the slocan valley we'll supply 10 customers to the mile for a transmission line," Mr. Harding said to the Premier. "We certainly need some assistance up there."

Mr. Harding, the most polished debater in the house, perhaps the ablest of the private M.L.A.'s came like a breath of fresh air, after the terrible tedium of this year's throne debate — so far.

Mr. Harding said there are rumors flying around that there'll be a general election this year, and Mr. Harding looked right at the Premier as he said this, but the Premier didn't so much as blink an eye, and so Mr. Harding couldn't find out when there'll be an election.

Mr. Harding went after the Premier about finances. Mr. Harding said he likes the Premier, but he can't understand how the Premier finances his government. Mr. Harding seemed to think the Premier's up to some kind of financial hanky-panky.

It was at this point Mr. Uphill of Fernie boomed out: "With all thy faults I love thee still," but whether Mr. Uphill was referring to Mr. Harding or Mr. Premier wasn't clear.

The Premier argued a little with Mr. Harding, who silenced the Premier with this: "Don't try to slide out from underneath, Mr. Premier".

Mr. Harding pleaded for more financial assistance for old-age pensioners. He said it is disgraceful that in a rich province such as this so many old people have such a struggle to keep body and soul together.

Hospital Workers To Get Tough

VICTORIA (CP) — Hospital workers in B.C. are going to 'take off the kid gloves' in dealing with the government, a union spokesman said Thursday.

Business agent W. M. Black of the Hospital Employees Federal Union (TLC) said Thursday the union has been getting "nothing but the run-around and procrastination" from the cabinet.

"We have been trying to see the cabinet since July," Mr. Black said, "and finally we had to send them our brief. We haven't even had a reply."

The brief urged withdrawal of the controversial wage freeze order sent to all B. C. hospitals on May 2, 1955, and for a commission to review BCHIS "with a view to placing it on a more equitable basis, guaranteeing an efficient service to the general public, and protecting the democratic rights of hospital workers."

DENIES STATEMENT

It also denied statements by government officials that B. C. hospitals are overstaffed, the staffs overpaid, and that the average stay per patient is too high.

It quoted figures showing comparable wage structures, and staff to patient statistics to back up its claims.

"Hospital employees are resentful of the insidious attack that has been made on them in the press and over the air; they have been doing a valiant job in the face of all the pressure and propaganda with which they have been confronted," said the brief.

Frost Wants Revamp of Tax Sharing Policies

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Frost called on the federal government Thursday to overhaul its "archaic" tax-sharing policies to free Ontario from a tax straitjacket and allow her to meet the challenges of a costly and expanding future.

The central province, which may see its population boosted by more than 3,000,000 in the next two decades, will need public projects to meet expanding economic growth costing between $7,000,000,000 and $8,000,000,000 during the next 10 years, Mr. Frost said.

It was true, Mr. Frost told the Gordon economic commission, that the future for Ontario was bright. Living standards which had been raised by 50 per cent in the last 16 years may be improved further.

But it takes investments in millions of dollars to provide the economic expansion under which tax yields can be increased. Ontario produced half the country's manufactured goods and yielded half the country's income and corporation taxes.

Rainmaking Gear Installed at Coast

VANCOUVER (CP)—Rain-making machines have been installed in mountains surrounding the upcoast pulp mill centre of Ocean Falls to help alleviate a water shortage caused by a record dry winter.

Crown Zellerbach Canada Limited, operators of the paper plant 300 miles north of Vancouver, said here Thursday the water shortage has forced a cutback in newsprint production.

The paper company hired North American Weather Consultans of Santa Barbara, Calif., to seed cloud formations with silver iodide, designed to "trigger rain or snow precipitation."

DEPOSITS DOWN

OTTAWA (CP) — Government of Canada deposits decreased $13,286,000 to $43,251,000 in the week ended Jan. 25, the Bank of Canada reported Thursday in its weekly financial statement.

Chartered bank deposits decreased $33,755,000 to $562,575,000 while notes in circulation decreased $23,252,000 to $1,658,547,000.

REDS POUND MATSUS

Heaviest Shelling So Far in Vest Pocket War

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Red China's mainland guns blasted Kaoteng Wednesday night and invasion craft are massing just north of that tiny Matsu group island, the official Central news agency said Thursday.

Communist batteries fired 133 shells into the island in the heaviest bombardment of any Matsu island in the vest pocket war, the agency reported.

Earlier in the day, the Reds had fired 22 rounds at Kaoteng across the four miles of water that separate the island from the mainland. Nationalist quarters predicted further Red shellings as the build-up continues near the Matsu group, 100 miles northwest of Formosa.

The interior ministry's Tatao news agency said without confirmation elsewhere that Russia had given approval Jan. 10 in Peiping to a Chinese Communist invasion of Nationalist offshore islands.

The report, true or not, coincides with Nationalist insistence that the Communists are bent on attacking the Matsus and Quemoy across sthe Formosa strait — regardless of the consequences.

Education Said Line of Defence

OTTAWA (CP) — A prominent Canadian educationist Thursday urged federal and provincial governments and business to double the country's facilities for higher education in the next 10 years as a defence measure.

Senator Donald Cameron of Edmonton, newly - appointed Independent Liberal member of the Senate, made the proposal in his maiden speech in the upper house. He is one of 13 Canadians named to the Senate last July.

"The modern university has become the nation's first line of defence and we neglect it at our peril," he told the upper house during the throne speech debate.

Senator Cameron, director of the extension department of the University of Alberta, warned that Russia is not neglecting higher education. Two Russian students now were attending university for every Canadian.

Canada's institutions of higher learning, he said, are in a "serious condition of financial undernourishment and malnutrition." There also was an alarming shortage of teachers, doctors, engineers and persons trained in economics and business management.

Canada must increase expenditures for capital equipment and teachers to meet this problem.

BAN HEROIN IMPORTS

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain Thursday banned all imports of heroin into the British Isles and prohibited all exports except for small amounts necessary for scientific purposes, Home Secretary Gwilym Lloyd-George, announced in the House of Commons.

Socialist Leader To Try to Form Gov't

Observers Doubt If Mollet Will Get Enough Backing for French Premiership

By HAROLD KING

PARIS (Reuters) — Socialist leader Guy Mollet Thursday accepted the task of forming France's 22nd post-war government.

The 50-year-old former teacher announced his acceptance after President Rene Coty made the official invitation. He made his decision in the face of lessening assurance on the part of observers that he can gain—and hold—sufficient support from the newly-elected assembly.

Mollet, the senior partner in the Socialist-Radical "republican front" alliance with ex-premier Pierre Mendes-France, was favored since the Jan. 2 election to get the first chance at forming a government.

He told reporters he would set to work at once to gather support for a republican front cabinet.

He said he expects to go before the assembly at the beginning of next week to seek investiture as premier.

LACKS MAJORITY

The republican front claims to have "won" the election although it failed to get an independent majority in the assembly. It appears able to muster 133 "sure" votes in an assembly of 595 members.

Mollet will need considerable support from other parties to carry on a government.

His principal difficulty in getting this support would seem to rest on the part he can persuade his dynamic partner to play in the new government.

Mendes-France is cordially hated by the Popular Republicans, who were on the left-wing of the outgoing government, for having ousted their own leader, Georges Bidault, from office last year.

The Popular Republicans are concentrating their pressure on keeping Mendes-France out of the foreign ministry of any new government they support. Mollet tried to persuade Mendes-France to take over the direction of the economy, but he refused.

These complications have reduced the socialists' confidence that Mollet will succeed in being invested with the premiership.

His alternatives are to suggest an all-Socialist government, or, once again, an all-Radical government led by Mendes-France and supported in the assembly by the votes of the Socialists.

Mozart Bi-Centennial To Be Celebrated

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—If a music lover alive doesn't know by the end of 1956 that Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart was born 200 years ago, it won't be the fault of practically all major musical organizations in the Western world.

Mozart was born Jan. 27, 1757, in Salzburg. Celebration of the bi-centennial is music's major event of 1956, dominating concert and radio programs, opera bills and the outpuring of phonograph companies. Before the year's end all of the hundreds of masterpieces the Austrian composed will have been played and recorded, the more popular ones again and again.

Munro Charged With Blackmail

By BRUCE LEVETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP) — Gordon Towne, president of the plush downtown Quadra Club, testified late Thursday that reporter Ray Munro attempted to blackmail him into paying $3,000 for keeping his name out of a lottery story.

The tall, greying executive of the liquor club gave his testimony Tupper royal commission into po-Tupper royal commissio ninto police affairs.

He said Mr. Munro, while employed as a reporter for The Province, arranged to meet him in the club one day in 1954.

"I had heard Ray Munro was known under another name in Flash. I made arrangements for my head bartender to overhear our conversation."

Mr. Towne said the reporter told him he was working on a lottery expose and the club president's name had been mentioned in connection with it.

"Gordon, I know you know all about this. I either get $3,000 from you or I write the story," Mr. Towne quoted the reporter.

"I said 'I wouldn't give you $3.'

"I made notes of our conversation and I have them with me."

Ottawa Earmarks $490,000 For Kootenays

OTTAWA (CP) — Among the public works appropriations for B.C. for 1956-57 were the following for the Kootenays:

Castlegar—Public building $60,000; Nelson — public building — to complete $75,000; Trail — public building — to complete $335,000.

Heavy Construction Program May Over-Inflate Economy —MacMillan

VANCOUVER (CP) — A warning by a leading British Columbia industrialist this week that an $80,000,000 construction program proposed for 1958 by the government will lead to an over-inflated economy has drawn conflicting reaction in business circles here.

H. R. MacMillan, retiring board chairman of the MacMillan and Bloedel forest empire, told the company's annual meeting the government's proposed program would compete for scarce materials and manpower with the greatest private construction . . .B.C. has ever seen."

He said the result would be twofold: Inflated costs and delay in completion of projects.

Several business and industry leaders saw merit in Mr. MacMillan's opinion but were reluctant to recommend reduction of public works projects.

LACK TRAINED MEN

"There are not enough trained men to get at all of the plans on the drawing boards," said Howard Walters, retiring president of the Vancouver Board of Trade. "On the other hand, the government cannot slow down on building roads—especially access roads to areas due for development of private industry."

Professor E. D. Macphee, head of the University of B. C.'s school of commerce, said the province appears to be "running into a period again of over-employment and materials shortage."

He said he interpreted Mr. MacMillan's remarks "as a warning to government against starting too many major expenditures at once.".

A city banker said industry in B. C. "is faced by a very tight labor market" and suggested a "middle of the way" to meet the needs of both industry and government.

Dan Radford, regional director of the Canadian Congress of Labor, contradicted reports of labor shortages.

"There is no shortage of labor that I know about," said Mr. Radford. "We've been faced with that sort of ballyhoo time and time again, but all you've got to do is look at the unemployment figures."

The government, meanwhile, has maintained silence except for a terse "no comment" from Premier Bennett.

Newsprint Legislation Over First Hurdle

QUEBEC (CP)—The legislative assembly Thursday gave third and final reading to legislation controlling the production, distribution and sale of newsprint in Quebec province. The vote was 56 to 22.

Shortly before the measure was adopted, Premier Duplessis announced the cabinet would appoint a judge as president of the proposed newsprint board which will regulate supply of newsprint to Quebec newspapers.

The legislation now goes to the legislative council — provincial upper house—where it must pass three readings before it receives royal assent and comes into force.

Ottawa Subsidizing PGE Extension

OTTAWA (CP) — Parliament will subsidize extension of British Columbia's Pacific Great Eastern Railway by $500,000 in the 1956-57 fiscal year.

The figure was contained in the main estimates tabled in the Commons Thursday. The Federal treasury provided $250,000 for the current year.

The treasury is subsidizing the extension of the provincially-owned railway at the rate of $25,000 a mile, the total not to exceed $1,250,000. The railway is being pushed north from Prince George.

Ministers Take Health Offer Back to Gov'ts

None Signify Acceptance or Rejection Of 50-50 Proposal by Federal Gov't

By JOHN LeBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government Thursday offered to pay half the cost of a national health insurance scheme starting with hospital care and diagnostic services.

The offer was disclosed simultaneously to the Commons and to the federal-provincial conference on health insurance meeting here. The conference later adjourned to let provincial health and finance ministers take the offer back to their governments.

None immediately signified acceptance or rejection.

"They all promised that the matter will get the fullest consideration," Health Minister Martin told reporters at the end of the closed four-day conference.

PLAN IN OUTLINE

As outlined by Mr. Martin to the conference and by Prime Minister St. Laurent to the Commons the federal plan calls for the treasury picking up 50 per cent of the cost of a scheme on this basis:

1. Twenty-five per cent based on the per capita cost of the insured services in the individual province.

2. The other 25 per cent based on the national per capita cost.

Under this plan, Mr. Martin said, the federal treasury would contribute about $180,000,000 a year at existing cost levels if all provinces entered.

The 25-25 split would have the effect of creating a sliding scale of percentage payments, with Newfoundland getting the high of 71 per cent of its costs from the central government and British Columbia the low of 45 per cent.

COVER HALF COST

On an across-the-country basis, Mr. St. Laurent told the Commons, it would mean the federal government would take up about half the cost of the insured services. These now run close to $360,000,000 a year.

Chief conference spokesman for Ontario and Quebec, at least one of which must enter the scheme to meet the federal condition of six provinces with a majority of the population, were non-committal on acceptance in talking with reporters.

In Toronto Thursday, before the federal offer was made public, Premier Frost indicated disfavor with a sliding scale that would give Ontario less than 50 per cent.

Health Minister Paquette of Quebec said he expects his government will study the federal offer "with the best possible spirit of co-operation."

Meanwhile, Health Minister Martin said he would not guess how many provinces might sign. Those most anxious for the start of a scheme have been Ontario, B. C., Alberta and Saskatchewan. Newfoundland also is regarded as likely.

Mr. Martin also told reporters that no deadline has been set for receiving provincial replies to the federal offer.

HOW PROVINCES FARE

By provinces, according to federal informants, the federal share of annual payments on the basis of current costs, with their percentages to each province in brackets, would be:

Newfoundland, $3,700,000 (71 per cent); Prince Edward Island, $1,000,000 (65); Nova Scotia, $7,100,000 (57); New Brunswick, $5,600,000 (59); Quebec, $50,700,000 (53); Ontario, $62,700,000 (49); Manitoba, $9,600,000 (51); Saskatchewan, $11,100,000 (47); Alberta, $13,700,000 (46); British Columbia, $17,300,000 (45).

Reason for basing part of the federal contribution on the national average, Mr. Martin indicated, is to give provinces an incentive to keep costs down. The closer they are to the average, the nearer they come to 50 per cent.

Record Peacetime Expenditures Indicated in 1956-57 Estimates

OTTAWA (CP) — Record peacetime spending by the federal government is in prospect for the 1956-57 fiscal year.

The government told Parliament Thursday its initial and basic spending program calls for just under the post-war high of 1954-55, and this will inevitably be boosted.

Finance Minister Harris' main estimates for the year starting April 1, tabled in the Commons, call for budget appropriations of $4,528,100,000, compared with the peacetime peak for a year's spending of $4,564,600,000.

But supplementary estimates in the post-war years customarily have run far above the $100,000,000 mark.

The all-time high for spending was $5,322,000,000 in the war year of 1943-44.

FUND RUNS DEFICIT

One factor regarded as certain to increase the main estimates for the coming year is a deficit in the old age pension fund, which is raised by special taxation. The government does not count as budget spending the amount collected by these taxes, but it does charge in the deficit, which in the 1955-56 year led to an increase of $63,300,000 in the initial estimates.

If the estimated figure of $379,515,000 for old age pensions from the special taxes were counted in, this first estimate of budget spending would be boosted to $4,907,615,000.

Also not tallied up in the budget expenditure is $135,237,000 in various types of government loans and advances, which have to be voted by Parliament but which are regarded as assets in the government balance sheet.

Even without these non - budget figures, the 1956-57 main estimates are higher than those for the peak peace year of 1954-55, when the government initially asked for $4,491,800,000 in its main estimates.

And in This Corner . . .

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—A distinguished-looking gentleman approached Canadian customs Thursday and placed a large paper bag on the counter.

One customs man peeped in the bag and recoiled. A second peeked. Then a third. They went into a huddle.

"What," one asked the traveller, "is your business?"

"Fine," said the senior customs man pointing to the bag. "It enters as used business equipment, duty free."

Inside the bag?

One used skeleton. The doctor acquired it during a vacation in Chicago.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Traffic court judge Oliver B. Hall, who says he can't stand to see a woman cry, saw tears come into the eyes of a young man charged with drunk driving.

"Well, now," said the judge, "did you happen to read the story in the paper about how I cut a lady's fine in half when she cried?"

"Yes, sir," replied the defendant.

"I only do that for ladies," said Hall. "One hundred dollars and costs."

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP)—The house shook with laughter when Curtis Schoon, Sioux Falls featherweight, took off his robe for his golden gloves boxing match Wednesday night.

Schoon had forgotten to wear his boxing trunks into the ring. The match was held up while Schoon returned to the dressing room.

He lost the bout but won the sportsmanship trophy.

Kiwanis Launch Education Drive

Nelson Kiwanians were taken back to kindergarten Thursday night when Dr. Joseph Vingo launched the Kiwanis education and fellowship drive with a lecture on the history of the club and its international.

Dr. Vingo, chairman of the education committee, traced the club's history back to 1915 when the first Kiwanis body was formed in Detroit. In 1917 the first Canadian clubs were formed in Toronto and Hamilton.

Outlining the picture today, he said that there were 4,111 clubs in the United States, Canada, and Hawaii combining over 242,000 members.

E. W. White reported that a Kiwanis bonspiel to be held in Nelson late in February is in the initial stages of preparation. Rinks from clubs in Nelson, Trail, Castlegar, and Creston are expected to participate.

A stringent budgeting of club expenditures in 1956 was predicted in a statement presented by club treasurer, Ralph Black.

But the club's prospects for the coming year were brightened by B. D. Balderston's estimate that $300 will be raised by the sale of glass tumblers to Kiwanis clubs in Western Canada.

The tumblers, bearing the Kiwanis insignia, will be offered to 60 clubs in Western Canada.

Mulligan Phones For Report

VANCOUVER (CP) — Walter Mulligan, former police chief here, has asked for a copy of the interim report of R. H. Tupper on Vancouver police affairs.

In the report Mr. Mulligan is criticized for "lacking the essential element of leadership," and it found the law was not properly enforced here.

Mr. Mulligan now is a resident of Los Angeles, where he moved recently. He was fired as police chief, at his own request, last October.

"Please send me a copy of the report," he asked a Vancouver Province reporter in a telephone interview Thursday.

He made no comment on the findings in the report.

Woodworkers to Map Demands

VANCOUVER (CP) — Contract demands for 1956 will probably be mapped here at the annual convention next week of the International Woodworkers of America (CIO-CCL).

About 175 delegates are expected to attend and discuss interior negotiations for northern and southern sections of the industry. Negotiations are slated to begin in June.

Joe Morris, president of the 34,000-member union, said coastal contract issues will not be debated this year as the union is in the midst of its first two-year agreement.

Horses Stampede As Barn Burns

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Flames roared through a barn at Tropical Park race track Thursday, sending scores of fire-crazed thoroughbreds stampeding into nearby residential areas.

The fire and resulting stampede brought death to eight horses and injury to numerous others.

Nolan Pigg of the Miami Humane Society said he made a careful check and found six horses burned to death in the barn, one other was injured by an automobile and had to be destroyed and an eighth was burned so extensively it had to be destroyed.

By The Canadian Press

Prime Minister St. Laurent announced the government is ready to bear half the cost of a national health insurance program.

Finance Minister Harris tabled the 1956-57 estimates calling for increased spending at $4,528,100,000; defence almost unchanged.

Trade Minister Howe said a Russian trade delegation will arrive in Ottawa Tuesday to open negotiations for an agreement with Canada.

Commoners "talked out" a proposal by A. H. Hollingworth (L-York Centre) for federal assistance to needy university students.

Senator Donald Cameron Ind-(Lib—Alberta) urged federal and provincial governments and business to double Canada's higher education facilities.

Bruins Wallop Canadiens 5-1

By The Canadian Press

Boston's well-drilled Bruins, hitting effectively to break up Montreal's vaunted attack lines, broke loose with a 5-1 victory over the NHL leaders Thursday night. The tail-enders' triumph snapped a four-game winning streak by the Habitants.

Detroit Red Wings took over sole possession of second place by edging New York Rangers 3-2 in the night's other game.

Real Chevrefills scored two goals and Gerry Toppazzini one in the Bruins' victory at Boston before 11,069 fans. Both were returned to Boston in a trade with Detroit. Johnny Peirson, sure-shooting wingman, got a goal and an assist, Vic Stasiuk notched the other goal and defenceman Bob Armstrong and centre Don McKenney added two assists each.

Boston tallied once in the first period, once in the second and made it a runaway with three goals in the finale.

Montreal's Bernie Geoffrion prevented a shutout with a well-screened 50-footer at 2:56 of the last session.

Trail Sportsmen Plan Fish Clinic; Elect Officers

TRAIL — Rehabilitation of Champion Lake and a permanent dam at Erie Lake are objectives of the Trail Rod and Gun Club for the coming year. At the annual meeting and election of officers held in city council chambers Thursday a great deal of enthusiasm was also shown for more junior activity and it is planned to hold a fish clinic similar to that held two years ago to teach the young people how to fly fish and the fine points of spinning.

Retiring president Tommy Saddler reported an active past year highlighted by the annual game convention held in Nelson in which the club acted as host to delegates and wives in West Kootenay Day. A very successful annual banquet in the Colombo hall in Trail was reported.

Maps on regulation books and also what reserves required special permission be indicated; what restriction on firearms as far as immigrants are concerned, before they apply for citizenship were questions to be forwarded to the game warden's convention at Okanagan Falls, on Saturday.

Another question with local significance was "do we get a chance to get into Violin Lake to get some fish this year." It appeared that the answer to this would depend on Trail city council.

In election of officers, Bruno Reimer was elected president; Pat Archibald, vice-president; Al Parslow, second vice-president; Ed Tremblay, secretary; Mario Scodellaro, membership secretary-treasurer.

FIRE TRUCK TO BE HERE IN FEBRUARY

Delivery of the $24,000 fire truck to the Nelson Fire Department has been delayed until February because of the steel shortage in eastern Canada.

Fire Chief Elwin S. Owens said Thursday that the manufacturer has notified him that delivery will be made early in February. "We have encountered many production difficulties due to the critical steel shortage," the notification said.

The unit, combining ladded and hose equipment with a pumping apparatus capable of discharging 840 gallons per minute, was ordered by the Department last September.

Two Fined For Traffic Offences

Two Nelson motorists pleaded guilty to separate charges before Magistrate R. S. Nelson in city court Thursday.

Stanley F. Lea, 616 Nelson Avenue, was fined $20 and costs for driving without due care and attention.

Fred Fransen, North Shore, paid $25 and costs for speeding on Nelson Avenue January 21.

Police stated that the charge laid against Mr. Lea arose from his failure to obey the stop sign at Fifth and Davies Streets. Damage totalling $180 resulted from a collision there Wednesday between cars driven by James R. Allen and Mr. Lea.

Fined $500 Over Traffic Mishap

VANCOUVER, (CP) — Daniel Jonason, 30, Thursday was fined $500 or three months in jail as a result of a traffic accident Nov. 28, 1955.

Jonason admitted in court he was the driver of a car which struck two men while they were changing a tire on their car.

Magistrate Gordon Scott said in passing sentence only Jonason's action in surrendering voluntarily saved him from a stronger sentence.

Jonason gave himself up to police the day after the accident.

Asks Check on N. Denver School

VICTORIA (CP) — Investigation into the administration of the New Denver sanitorium housing Sons of Freedom Doukhobor children was demanded in the Legislature Friday.

Randolph Harding (CCF-Kaslo-Slocan) said there is a lack of discipline in the institution and the administration should be "tightened up."

The children were placed in the sanitorium by the government after their parents refused to send them to public schools on the grounds it would violate their religious teachings.

Mr. Harding said the children are well taken care of. "They are not abused in any way shape or form," he said.

But the CCF member criticized the government for having no "follow-up program" for the children after they left the school at the age of 15.

"The project needs far more planning if it is to be successful," he said. "You're losing ground."

People in the area were dissatisfied with the way the institution was being run and a thorough check of conditions was needed. Mr. Harding suggested food should be bought wholesale instead of in small lots.

Rejects Idea of 4 On Commission

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two members of the three-man police commission said Thursday they have no objections to adding a fourth member as recommended Wednesday in an interim report on police affairs by commissioner R. H. Tupper.

Judge R. A. Sargent said Wednesday night he will resign from the commission if it is increased to four members.

Thursday, Mayor Fred Hume, chairman of the commission, said in a telephone interview from Honolulu that he has "no objection" to a larger commission.

"If that's what they want, they can have it, as far as I'm concerned," said the mayor.

Brig. William Murphy, recently appointed commissioner, described Mr. Tupper's report as hitting the problem of the police department "right on the head."

"I consider he's done an outstanding job and presented a most valuable report," said Brig. Murphy, adding that he has no objection to enlarging the commission.

"Murder in A Nunnery" Enjoyed by 250

A student of St. Joseph's High School committed "Murder In A Nunnery" last night, but local police officers are losing little sleep over their inability to catch the offender.

Instead, they are content to leave the case in the capable hands of Frank Matovich, who stomps around the stage of the Capitol Theatre accusing convent students Josephine Catanacci, Margie Gallicano, Maxine Walsh and Margaret Tschauer, among others of stabbing the convent's benefactress.

Naturally, all proclaim their innocence, although Matovich, as a Scotland Yard inspector, finds plenty. He even includes among his suspects Reverend Mother, capably played by Aileen Trainor. Whodunit? That's a trade secret.

The enthusiastic audience of approximately 250 was lured by promises of laugh-encouraging antics. They had little reason for disappointment, finding humor even in some supposedly serious situations. John Cristofanetti drew his share of laughter for a performance as the gardener, who admitted he had little for which to mourn the death of the baroness.

Performances were of a generally high calibre with every member of the 13-actor cast carrying his part well. Georgette Major as a distracted Mother Trevor was also deserving of mention.

Attractive stage scenery added to the pleasant illusion of hilarity that prevailed throughout.

The play, a three-act affair, was put on entirely by students of St. Joseph's. The only exception was in the direction which was handled by Sister Baptist.

The baroness will be done away with again this evening at the second of two performances, also at the Capitol Theatre.

Double Highway Spending Planned

OTTAWA (CP) — The government plans to double its spending in the coming fiscal year on construction of the Trans - Canada Highway through national parks, it was shown Thursday in estimates for 1956-57 tabled in the Commons.

Outlays would rise to $11,000,000 from the $5,500,000 earmarked in the current fiscal year ending March 31.

A works department official said the new work will be centred on the highway's route through Banff and Yoho parks in the Rocky Mountains.

Necessity of Interpreter Slows Van Cauter Trial to Crawl

A case involving a 32-year-old Belgian immigrant who is charged with using the mails to defraud would-be Dutch and Belgian immigrants, dragged through its first day in county court Thursday, with only four of 16 witnesses heard.

Necessity of an interpreter slowed proceedings to a crawl and many times brought them to a standstill when questions and answers had to be repeated or read back by the court reporter in order to assure their meaning was clear to the accused and often to the court.

Paulus Roland Van Cauter pleaded not guilty to the three counts on the indictment which arose out of a self-styled employment agency he allegedly operated from Nakusp between June and October last year on an international level.

He is charged with 1) unlawfully using the mails to deliver circulars concerning a scheme devised to obtain money under false pretenses by falsely saying he was in a position to obtain employment for other persons in Canada; 2) falsely and with intent to defraud obtaining post office money orders exceeding $50 value from Belgians; 3) unlawfully made use of the mails to transmit or deliver letters or circulars concerning a scheme intended to defraud the public.

GREAT FAITH

Twelve letters from Belgian and Dutch people asking to be considered for the 1200 jobs he allegedly advertised on a trans-Canada oil pipeline, were placed before the court by the crown. All expressed keen interest in the opportunities offered and great faith in the placer of the ads. None made any mention of money enclosed.

Interpreter Paul De Koekkoek of Vernon was on the stand an hour translating the letters which came from machinists, laborers, iron workers, contractors and others interested in emigrating to Canada. One letter was from a 21-year-old, another from a 59-year-old man. All gave personal, intimate details and voiced hopes of success in Canada.

One letter from Antwerp read: "In connection with an advertisement in the local paper, I offer myself as a candidate for employment in your company." The writer was an army officer to be discharged in March, married and with two sons, one two and the other five-years-old.

A bill to the accused from a newspaper in Antwerp for ads placed by his International Employment Service, was also translated by the interpreter.

Immigration Officer R. W. J. Grinsted of Nelson, was on the stand nearly three hours repeating discussions he had had with the accused at Nakusp concerning the "International Employment Service" after he had been instructed by Ottawa to investigate it.

Mr. Grinsted testified that when questioned in Nakusp, the accused admitted he knew nothing about the 1200 jobs on the oil pipeline which the ads had said would pay $350 to $600 per month in wages but that he had sent replies to the ads to an American job listing firm and had received $123 for them.

WARNED

"I warned the accused the operation was illegal and if he persisted there would likely be action," Mr. Grinsted said. He produced no correspondence to show he was working for this firm, he added.

Elizabeth Weinzierl, an Austrian woman who acted as interpreter at Mr. Grinsted's first meeting with the accused, said Van Cauter had admitted placing an advertisement which he was shown, in a European newspaper. She also verified other conversation between Mr. Grinsted and the accused.

She recalled when questioned by the accused, that he had told Mr. Grinsted that he was working for the American job listing firm and that they had instructed him to place ads in European newspapers concerning jobs available in Canada.

Nakusp postmaster S. A. Cowan identified two postal notes he had cashed for Van Cauter and testified that the accused had received large volumes of mail.

Van Cauter is conducting his own defence and R. B. Allan is crown counsel. The case continues today.

LIONS SIGN COOK

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia Lions of the Western Interprovincial Football Union announced Wednesday the signing of wingback Jack Cook to a 1956 contract.

Cook, former end for Queen's University in 1954, played his first professional football with the Lions last year.

Meanwhile, coach Vic Lindskog has gone to California to complete negotiations with three or four prospective players.

H. H. STEELY displays an English Bobby's helmet that took him 13 years to get. Steely, a San Diego newspaperman and colonel in the National Guard Air Reserve, wanted the helmet as a souvenir of pleasant leaves in London during World War II. London's Scotland Yard police headquarters and other agencies to which he applied turned down the request for the helmet. Finally, he tried the British Information Service, which sent along the hat.—AP Wirephoto.

Bulganin Letter Reported to Have Suggested U. S.-Russia Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin is reported to have proposed to President Eisenhower that the United States and Russia sign a treaty of friendship in the interests of promoting world peace.

Information to this effect circulated in official and diplomatic quarters here Thursday night in the absence of any formal disclosure from either the White House or Moscow about the "friendly letter" which Bulganin sent to Eisenhower Wednesday

The letter is expected to be made public eventually, perhaps when the president and his advisors have had time to prepare a reply.

It is believed to have been discussed at Thursday's meeting of the National Security Council and some word of it has presumably been given to congressional leaders.

It appeared unlikely that Eisenhower and State Secretary Dulles would be seriously interested in tion, however courteously the carrying through such a proposi-president may respond to it. Both Eisenhower and Dulles are known to be opposed to any measures which in their view would create a false sense of security in the world.

AFFLECK TELLS MEETING . . .

Health Menace Best Argument for Salmo Municipal Water System

Advantages of Pumping System Stated; Chamber Reviews 1955 Accomplishments

SALMO—The advantage of a pumping system to meet Salmo's water requirements was outlined for the Salmo District Chamber of Commerce at its annual meeting Thursday night by Boyd C. Affleck of Nelson who has been engaged by the municipality to survey the needs.

"Salmo is unique in that anywhere a person can drive a pipe into the ground and get water," he said. The present individual pumps, while perfectly satisfactory to the various households, presented the problem of lack of an overall fire protection supply and the more serious sewerage problem. "This menace to health is the best argument in favor of a municipal system," Mr. Affleck stated.

Salmo's poor gravel subsoil is full of water, being in effect the Salmo river and its branches extending from one side of the valley to the other, only the excess close to the surface in the form of the Salmon River.

The answer, the speaker said, is to come from a point west near the North Fork and install a reservoir on the North side of the railway tracks, on a rocky hillside, high enough to give 70 to 80 pounds of pressure. This reservoir a definite necessity in the pumping system would cost roughly $100,000. In summer, 100,000 gallons a day would be supplied and the reservoir would hold water for an emergency such as a large fire.

Cement and asbestos fibre pipe is being proposed as having several advantages including less corrosive qualities.

FRONTAGE TAX

Most residents are going to say "We've got a satisfactory system of our own. Why hook on to a municipal system" The only way to overcome the obstacle of persons who put their own interests first is to levy a frontage water tax on all properties, Mr. Affleck suggested, thus a portion of the cost of installation and upkeep can be borne by everyone.

If the village could afford it a gravity system would be better but would cost at least $160,000. Sufficient water must be guaranteed for a gravity system however.

Although it would be futile to consider sewerage disposal before a water system, Mr. Affleck also had some ideas to put forth in this connection. While the village had no river into which it could dump sewerage, it could eventually acquire a four to five acre fenced pond into which the sewerage would be discharged in the middle and exposed to sunlight, as is done elsewhere in Canada.

Numerous questions pertaining to aspects of the problem were put to Mr. Affleck and Frank Rotter, retiring president, who spoke in favor of a gravity system, said the matter needs a lot more investigating before a bylaw goes to the ratepayers.

Mr. Affleck spoke briefly on the Blueberry-Paulson and Salmo-Creston re-routes for the Southern Trans-Provincial Highway, revealing that on a recent trip to the Coast, he had been informed that the Kinnaird-Champion Lake-Parks link would definitely be built, so that through traffic bypassing the large centres of population will be possible.

In his annual report, Mr. Rotter said that the Salmo-Creston cut-off trail was blazed with the sponsoring of the first trek by the Salmo Chamber and the executive would have to "build the road." Contracts will be let on the East end in the Spring and the board should press for action on the West end.

The board was also getting more work done on the Nelson-Nelway highway. The Black Bluffs portion, yet to be finished, is the only unpaved piece between Nelson and Mexico. Displeasure had been registered by the Chamber that two bridges were being built, one over the Salmo River and the other over Sheep Creek, in sizes contrary to its wishes. They will be 18 feet wide on 34-foot grades. The Chamber is also working on power line extension to Meadow Creek.

The financial statement showed a January, 1956, bank balance of $54 after revenue of $211 and a January, 1955, balance of $129 and expenditure of $286.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Two accomplishments had been the reduction in the petroleum price, increased hours of telephone service and installation of a blinker light at the highway intersection in Salmo.

Dinner guests from out of town were Mayor Joseph Kary, making his first public appearance in Salmo, and V. C. Owen, Nelson Chamber president, both of whom extended an invitation to Salmo members to attend the Nelson Chamber's annual dinner meeting tonight; C. W. R. Harper, Nelson city clerk, and Douglas McMynn and Dr. Donald Sinclair, who brought greetings from Trail.

The Salmo Catholic Women's League catered to the banquet.

ELECTED president of the Salmo District Chamber of Commerce at the annual meeting Thursday night in the Masonic Temple was G. A. Gordon, above, general manager of Canadian Exploration. F. R. Rotter, the retiring president, was named vice-president and D. W. Powers is the secretary, taking the place of K. W. Henderson. Nominating committees report was brought in by L. G. Moir.

Massey Replaces Copper Kettle

OTTAWA (CP) — An Eskimo woman whose cherished copper kettle went into a mace for the north country's Parliament has had a modern replacement dispatched to her by plane and parachute from Governor-General Massey.

The new copper kettle was for Udluriak whose generosity made possible the completion of the Eskimo-carved mace for the Northwest Territories Council so it could be presented to the north's legislators at their session here last week.

DROPPED BY 'CHUTE

An RCAF aircraft on a regular supply-dropping flight in the Arctic dropped the kettle by parachute two weeks ago in the Cape Dorset area of Baffin island, a government house statement said today. It was in a bundle containing mail, medical and other supplies.

Udluriak is bound to be delighted with her new kettle because it has a lid. The lid of the one she gave for the mace was lost years ago.

W. J. Claridge, trustee and chairman for the past 14 years has decided to take a slightly less active part in school affairs, but will continue to serve as trustee for Central area. # Russ Move Out Of Porkkala

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Soviet Russia moved off Helsinki's doorstep, giving up the Porkkala naval base.

Under the 1944 Russian-Finnish armistice and the 1947 Treaty of Paris, the base area was leased to the Russians for 50 years.

The Russians turned over to the Finns all buildings; public utilities, and other structures put up at Porkkala in the last 11 years.

The area was restored to Finland at Soviet embassy ceremonies today.

From Feb. 4 the 7600 former inhabitants of Porkkala evacuated in 1944 will be able to enter the area by special permit and inspect hours. They will not be allowed to spend the night in the area or to move back into their homes until March.

Spending Wisely and Well Good Economy

The speech from the throne by the Lieutenant-Governor is, by tradition, a forecast of measures to be introduced by the provincial government during the coming session. The details are made public when the various cabinet members take the floor to explain when and how the measures they are introducing will be carried out.

The speech struck a note of confidence and buoyancy in keeping with the feeling of the government that it had done a good job last year and that conditions in the province were such as to encourage the hope that there would be even more substantial progress in the coming year.

The government, which seems to react quickly to public opinion, intends to take action on many points over which the public has shown concern.

Work will be speeded up on the main road systems of the province: the Trans-Canada, the Northern and Southern Trans-Provincial Highways, the Department of Agriculture will be expanded and the milk industry, which the Clyne Report shows to be in a most unsanitary condition, will receive greater government control. Legislation will also be introduced to permit extension of the B.C. Power Commission's activities, though in what way is not clear.

The amusement tax, which has always been unpopular, will be reduced. This should benefit the smaller centres but, having regard to its irritation to the public it might well be abolished. The tax, which was 17½ per cent, was reduced to 15 per cent two years ago.

The growth and buoyancy of B.C.'s expanding economy is shown by the net revenue surplus of $15,552,424 for the fiscal year ending last March, but while this shows that government revenues are in a very healthy condition, the speech from the throne takes care to assure that estimates for the coming year will be framed with due regard to economy. Economy is essential in all business operations and not less in provincial affairs, but when the province is expanding, as it is now, there should be no niggardliness. The government will not be wrong if it seeks economy but it should not fail to seek the right moment to spend wisely and well.

American Position on Columbia Hydro Illogical, Says Neuberger

(James M. Minifie, Toronto Telegram)

The first Congressional move to promote settlement of the Canada-U.S. dispute over disposition of the surplus waters of the Columbia and its tributary, the Kootenay, recommends public hearings early next session on the problem.

The recommenedation was made by Sen. Richard L. Neuberger, Democrat, of Oregon, in a report to the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee.

Sen. Neuberger, who specializes in Western Canadian affairs, stresses that there is little time to lose in view of Canadian discussions about diverting the Kootenay and Columbia surplus runoff into the Fraser River system and thereby developing some 4,000,000 h.p. of hydro-electric power in Canada instead of the United States.

He urges that negotiations be removed from the advisory International Joint Commission to a responsible executive department. Mishandling now, Sen. Neuberger warns, "may lose forever for the United States all presently utilized flows of the Kootenay and Columbia Rivers, and cause a bitter controversy with our Canadian allies."

The United States, through the International Joint Commission, which has jurisdiction over boundary waters, has categorically refused to admit the principle of compensating Canada for the benefits conferred on hydro installations downstream by evening out the flow the year round through upstream storage reservoirs in Canada.

It was disagreement over this basic principle, which is admitted between upstream and downstream states in the United States, that brought the negotiations over the Libby dam to an impasse.

The Libby dam proposal would have dammed the Kootenay in Montana, the waters of the reservoir thus formed backing up many miles into Canada. All the United States would consider was a cash compensation for land to be flooded in the Canadian Kootenay Valley; it refused to pay Canada for power created from water to be stored on Canadian territory.

As to surplus waters of the Columbia, which sweeps down in flood time in far greater volume than can be used, the United States declined to share or reimburse Canada for power increases which upstream control would have insured for its downstream installations.

The American argument was: The water has to come down to us anyway, so why pay for it?

It was this refusal which led A. G. L. MacNaughton, head of the Canadian section, IJC, to send his engineers off with transit and chain to find a way to pipe surplus Columbia waters through the Monashee Mountains into the Fraser River system, where its drop of 2000 feet to the Pacific would take place solely in Canadian territory. Canadian power stations at suitable points could then produce power for the entire Fraser Valley.

Len Jordan, head of the American section of the IJC, has already denounced this project as seriously detrimental to the interests of the United States, and has questioned the authority of Canada to make such a diversion under the treaty of 1909.

This treaty, however, gives the upstream country complete control, to do with as it will, over waters not already "dedicated" by downstream interests. Compensation for injuries to downstream interests may be sought in the courts of the upstream country.

Sen. Murray, who is chairman of the Interior Committee, is sympathetic to the idea of getting construction under way on the Libby dam. But this cannot by treaty be done over Canadian opposition.

There is general confidence that Canada would fall in with reasonable proposals and would not proceed with diversion of water to the Fraser in face of determined American opposition.

Senator Neuberger's report called the American position, as developed by Len Jordan, illogical, in that it first declared that Canadian diversion of surplus waters would work serious detriment to United States interests downstream, and then found Canadian storage would only be of temporary benefit and with development of American storage "will not longer afford a large advantage to the United States."

He demands Mr. Jordan's dismissal on the grounds that he is an avowed enemy of federal development of the Columbia Basin, a political appointee anyway, and likely to "lose forever to the United States all presently utilized flows of the Kootenay and Columbia Rivers."—Vancouver Sun.

E. W., Nakusp—Where can I get parts for an upright Premier vacuum cleaner? Also, where can I obtain a letter "C" steel crochet hook to crochet rugs?

We cannot trace anybody who handles Premier vacuum cleaners, nor is the name in our wholesale trade directory. We suggest you contact the State Vacuum Stores of Canada, Ltd., 1048 Granville Street, Vancouver; and the Filter Queen Sales Service, 633 East 15th, Vancouver. The steel crochet hook should be obtainable at any store that sells the rug wool: Hudson's Bay Company, Nelson and Trail; Eberle's Children's Shop, 652 Baker Street; Eaton's, Simpson-Sears, Woolworth's.

J. D., Trail—Will you please inform me what is the price for children's haircut, under 14, in Victoria, Nanaimo, Vancouver, New Westminster? I was told it was 75 cents and the day before a holiday it was $1, also $1 on Saturday's for children under 14 years of age in the above cities.

For children under 14 years of age, union rates are 65 cents to noon Saturday. If, however, they have a brush and haircut, the price would be 75 cents.

Reader, Nelson—Kindly advise me who Catherine Parr was, wife of Henry VIII.

Catherine Parr, born 1512, died 1548, sixth queen of Henry VIII, was a daughter of Sir Thomas Parr, an official of the Royal household. When only a girl she was married to Edward Borough, and after his death, in or before 1529, to John Neville, Lord Latimer, who died in 1542 or 1543. Latimer had only been dead a few months when on the 12th Catherine was married to Henry VIII at Hampton Court. The new queen, who was Regent of England during the king's absence in 1544, acted in a very kindly fashion towards her stepchildren, but her patience with the king did not prevent a charge of heresy being brought against her. Henry, however, would not permit her arrest, and she became a widow for the third time on his death in 1547. In the same year she married a former lover, Lord Seymour Sudley, but soon after died at Sudley Castle. Catherine was said to be a pious and charitable woman. She wrote "The Lamentation or Complaint of a Sinner", which was published after her death.

Bunks For Stopovers

The Russian practice of providing bunks for tired passengers awaiting connections at airport terminals appeals to us. Waiting rooms are already provided, newsstands, lunch counters, and the like. Why couldn't fully-reclining chairs, or couches, also be provided for sleepy passengers on brief stopovers between planes, or for those routed out of their beds in the middle of the night to catch a plane several hours later?

Overlapping

From London comes a story of a treasury official in search of economy finding a civil servant in a room looking at a ceiling. Asked what work he was doing, he replied, "Nothing." The treasury official took a note and went to another room, where the occupant rested and also had nothing to do. The treasury officer made another notation for his report: "Two men doing nothing. A plain case of overlapping."—Ottawa Journal.

Got an Ear For Shades?

F. B. PEARCE

The other day I received an anonymous letter in the mail. The address was printed in block letters and in an obviously disguised hand. When I opened it I found a clipping on which was written, "Watch your language." The printed article was a learned disquisition on the use of "ain't." The writer claimed that "ain't" is really from a dipthhong and that we should really say "eye-n't" for "I am not."

Whether he is right or wrong I do not know, but when some bright things in the stores ask me how I spell my name and I spell p-e-a they look blankly at me and then proceed to write p-i-e as if they thought I did not know how to spell my own name. Actually they cannot hear the shades of sounds which the English born use.

Years ago I remember teaching the class the way to spell caw, caught and cot. To do this I explained the difference in sound. In "caw" the word finishes with the lips pursed, in "caught" the sound is made at the top of the palate and in "cot" in the front of the mouth. Most Canadians say "cot" for "caught." When I had finished, the inspector, who had been listening in, said, "Say those again," and after listening said. "You know, I can't hear them."

And that is true of most North Americans. Unless the sounds are learned in youth the ear does not distinguish them and the individual cannot copy them. That may possibly be why English children spell better, but it certainly means that all foreign languages should be learned very early in life.

SECOND LANGUAGE

A friend sent me a Ukrainian paper with an article on delinquency which he wished me to read. It also had a very excellent article which advocated teaching at home of the parents' language as a second language. Certainly when they are young they should be able to make the sounds peculiar to their parents' language and learn to read simple words. But our young new Canadians flatly refuse to speak their parents' tongue or learn to read it, which is unfortunate when you consider that these languages have literature equally as good as English.

In Victoria the children in one elementary school are to be taught conversational French. In Moscow they have one elementary school of picked pupils who are doing all their school work in French. Nothing is said of when they learn their own language. In Quebec schools English-speaking children have French lessons each week, but elsewhere French is seldom taken except in high school, and not always there.

* * *

Turning to a less serious subject a reader suggests that I write on clotheslines. He thinks that much can be deduced from garments hanging on a line. That is perfectly true but it takes women to do that well. From one glance they can tell the number in the family, their age and sex and their opinion of the washer.

Not only men and women but boys and girls see differently. In a criminal case in England the boys in a village could give the number and the army markings of a truck with accuracy, but could not identify the driver, while the girls gave an accurate description of the driver but could say nothing about the truck. Between the two sexes they had no difficulty in tracing the culprit, and bringing him to book.

Despite the article on T.T. (toilet tissue) which was only given as an example of the skilful use of English, I am really a modest man. I do not look at women's intimate garments flapping in the wind and if there is anything most distressing to the aesthetic mind, it is surely men's long underwear dangling from a clothesline.

Winnipeg's Winter Wonderland Ups Sale of Sleighs and Skis

By WALTER GRAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG (CP) — Winnipeg is a winter wonderland this year.

Motorists wonder each day whether they'll make it home without a bashed fender.

Householders wonder whether they'll ever be able to lift another shovel.

And the city engineer wonders how he can get rid of the piles and piles and miles and miles of snow.

Even the old-timers are stumped. There isn't one who can remember seeing so much snow in the city at this time of year. The weatherman, whose records go back some 75 years, can't find a year to match it.

By Wednesday nearly 62 inches had fallen on this city of 400,000 beating by half-an-inch the previous record up to Jan. 25 set in the winter of 1919-20.

Snow-clearing in residential areas has been restricted to streets and sidewalks. Rear lanes, which normally would be cleared, have been untouched and motorists wanting to use their garages have to shovel their way out.

But the kids are having fun. Sales of toboggans, sleighs and skis have soared. Ski clubs are training dozens of novices and on the weekends hundreds of enthusiasts head for Manitoba's ski resort at La Riviere in the Pembina river valley, 75 miles south of Winnipeg.

Some flood-conscious Winnipegers, still remembering the 1950 disaster, were reassured by Premier Douglas Campbell who said present indications — based on the assumption that normal temperatures nad precipitation conditions will exist during the next three months —are that there will be no flooding in the Red river valley. Some flooding is expected in the Assiniboine valley bottom lands west of Brandon.

MacMillan Against Forest Licences

VANCOUVER (CP) — H. R. MacMillan, B.C. forest industry tycoon, appeared before the Sloan forestry commission in the role of champion of the small logger.

Under cross-examination on testimony he gave the commission last fall, he said the life of small loggers depends on public working circles.

Mr. MacMillan, who retired Tuesday as chairman of the MacMillan and Bloedel logging empire, said the present shortage of logs on the open market is almost entirely due to the issuance of forest management licences.

He repeated his previous stand that no more licences should be issued.

Second Hot-Rod Victim Dies

The Archbishop Explains

LONDON (AP)—The Archbishop of Canterbury said at a luncheon of the Foreign Press Association:

"The Church of England never did sanction the divorces of Henry VIII. He had several marriages annulled, which is quite a different thing from divorce. Annulment says that there was no marriage at all and therefore you are free to marry. The Pope was quite as good at giving that kind of divorce as the Church of England was."

The archbishop's comments were made in answering a reporter who had asked:

"How does the Church of England reconcile its present attitude towards divorce with the fact that it sanctioned the divorces of King Henry VIII?"

Dr. Fisher, in commenting on Henry's separations, said: "In the Middle Ages annulments were called divorce, but they were not divorce at all."

'55 Work Was Feather in Legion Auxiliary's Hat

All members worked hard and well during 1955, especially those who did hospital visiting, a very important part of Legion work, Mrs. Norman Brown, president, said at the annual meeting of Ladies' Auxiliary to Nelson branch as the group entered its 11th year.

She said she felt better relations had been established with the branch through liaison committees of both meeting. The women are now invited to attend all branch meetings. She noted the branch in its annual report had stressed the good work of the Auxiliary, and she thanked its secretary manager Jack Brinley for his cooperation.

Reporting on 1955 activity of the ways and means committee, Mrs. Irene Day said the group had sponsored six card parties and two successful teas. Mrs. Day will carry on in 1956.

1103 VISITS

Mrs. J. Dawson's hospital visiting group had handled all arrangements for the two or three different members each month who made 1103 visits and distributed 870 free treats and who had visited Mount St. Francis several times. On Remembrance Day and at Christmas all institutions and hostelries were visited and special bags of treats distributed.

Mrs. Dawson has worked tirelessly on this project, but felt she could not continue this year. Miss Evelyn Forbes will take charge.

The committee of Mrs. Gibbon, Mrs. DeFerro and Mrs. McCreight sent out cards and several plants to sick members.

The house committee under Mrs. Fred Castle made several purchases for the kitchen. such as a mixer and refrigerator. An inventory had been taken of kitchen equipment.

The finance committee had found the Auxiliary in a satisfactory financial state.

Speaking for the Hospital Auxiliary, Mrs. G. E. Thompson said she had attended all meetings when in town, and felt there was co-operation between the two groups for the hospital's welfare.

In co-operation with the branch, Mrs. W. H. Burns had done a lot of work in gaining new members and lists have been prepared for future use.

Mrs. M. Colman told of the Hycroft hospital box and was asked by the president to remind members at each meeting to add to this treasure house of gifts for the elderly veterans.

LAYETTES

Mrs. R. Keffer told of layettes made by herself for local needs and a hospital in London, England. She had just received thanks for the last layettes sent to London.

Perhaps the hardest-worked convener of all, Mrs. J. C. Eckmier reported on her successful and business-like efforts with Mrs. Cameron's help on catering, with her four groups alternately serving under her. These groups comprised all members. She handled 14 banquets, three weddings and three lunches. The Auxiliary was sorry to hear that for health reasons she must give up these duties.

The president asked members to sanction several jobs the house committee wished to attend to—mirrors in cupboard doors in the kitchen, counter topping and purchase of a fan.

She announced that tonight the Auxiliary is invited with the branch to attend Salmo's installation. Card parties will be resumed February 13th. Liaison meetings will be every second Thursday.

The booster prize was won by Mrs. Burns, and Mrs. Keffer, Mrs. Dawson, Mrs. Castle and Mrs. Gibbon served tea.

Blewett Home Setting For Wedding Rites

In a setting of soft lights and flowers, Rev. G. W. Payne of Nelson officiated at a very pretty marriage ceremony at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Katelnickoff, at Blewett.

The bride, who was given away by her father, is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Richard O'Neil of Sirdar. For her wedding she wore a floor length gown of white nylon lace and net over satin. The bodice was lace with a Peter Pan collar, long sleeves with lily points and with tiny covered buttons from neck to waistline. The skirt was in bouffant style of lace points and net over gleaming satin. The long veil of net and lace was held by a crown-shaped headdress of pearls. Nylon gloves and white slippers completed the costume. Her jewellery, pearl necklace and earrings, were the gift of the groom. She carried a nosegay of red roses and white satin ribbons.

The groom, John Louis Katelnickoff, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Katelnickoff, was attended by the bride's brother-in-law, Mr. Robert Jerome.

Miss Patsy O'Neil acted as bridesmaid for her sister and wore a powder blue gown of net and lace over taffeta, with gloves to match. Her headdress was of net and blue flowers and she carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

Mrs. Robert Jerome, the bride's sister, presided at the tea table which was centred by a low silver encrusted glass bowl of narcissi and maidenhair fern on a lace cloth.

The wedding cake was embedded in white tulle with red roses matching the bride's bouquet on the buffet before a mirror which reflected the lights of tall white tapers in silver sconces which flanked it. The bride cut the cake with a silver knife tied with a bow of white tulle.

For the occasion, Mrs. O'Neil wore a navy dress with white trimming and Mrs. Katelnickoff was in teal blue with self-colored embroidery. Both wore corsages of pink carnations.

The bride's going-away costume was a charcoal grey suit with red accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

After a short honeymoon trip to Spokane, Mr. and Mrs. Katelnickoff will make their home in Nelson.

This is in addition to a comfortable rocking chair supplied last Fall from the same funds.

Unthinkable . . .

CALGARY (CP) — Cries of "There's garlic in the haggis!" brought confusion in the kitchen and started a controversy in the corridors of Calgary's Palliser Hotel when the Burns Club celebrated the 197th birthday anniversary of the Scottish bard.

Shouts of, "It's no' the same as mither used to make!" arose from several sections, while from other tables stout supporters of the hostel's chef said the haggis "is grand".

Adolph Haenni, the Romanian-born chef, said a little pinch of specially ground slices added to the age-old recipe for the haggis produced a flavor never before experienced in the hotel. He declared there was no garlic in the haggis.

He was given two years concurrent on each charge.

Will YOU have an independent income?

Now is the time to arrange through a CANADIAN GOVERNMENT ANNUITY for the little it will take to brighten the days when you must stop working. You can purchase an Annuity NOW to come due at age 50, 55, 60 or 65, or other ages.

HERE IS AN EXAMPLE — Suppose you are a man of 28 and want an Annuity of $100 a month, beginning at 65. Your monthly premium would be $16.44.

AT AGE 65 the Government will begin paying you $100 a month as long as you live! If you die within 10 years after age 65, the monthly payments will continue to your heirs for the balance of that 10 years. Thus, you will have paid $7,299.36 for a minimum return of $12,000.00 — which will be even greater if you live past 75!

IF YOU DIE BEFORE 65 the Government will pay your heirs the total sum paid up to the date of your death plus 4% compound interest.

There are several plans to choose from. For detailed information, consult your DISTRICT ANNUITIES REPRESENTATIVE, or mail the coupon below, postage free.

Students Riot In Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters)—Student riots broke out as Sir John Harding, British governor of this strife-ridden Mediterranean island colony, returned from consultations in London.

Greek Cypriot students at one school refused to attend classes in protest against the reported ill-treatment of detainees held under emergency regulations at a camp near here.

The students took up positions on the roof of the school library building. Security forces who arrived were stoned by students shouting anti-British slogans.

The troops replied with tear gas and sent them home. The school is opposite the residence of Greek Orthodox Archbishop Makarios, leader of the "Union With Greece" movement here.

Trapper Walked Wolf to Death

PORT ARTHUR, Ont. (CP) — A Kakabeka Falls, Ont., trapper trudged into Port Arthur this week to claim the bounty on a wolf he says he walked to death.

H. F. Boone said he tracked the animal for five miles before he finally exhausted it, and killed it with a stick, his only weapon.

The trapper said he started after the wolf on snowshoes after he spotted it in the bush. The animal, realizing it was being followed, used bare brush trails and rabbit tracks in an unsuccessful attempt to elude its pursuer.

He said walking a wolf to death was the standard method in the "good old" days.

After skinning the animal, Mr. Boone walked another 18 miles to Port Arthur to claim the bounty.

Vs, Leafs Rivalry Resumes Tonight

As Penticton Vs skate onto the ice surface at Civic Arena tonight to face Nelson Maple Leafs in the third game of their four-game tour of Westermn International Hockey League centres, some memories are almost certain to ponder the riotous, eight game playoff series of 1954.

Penticton advanced from that series victory to the Allan Cup Championship and the World Hockey Championship a year later Pouring over newspaper stories of the series leaves the impression that Nelson could have pulled off a nearly identical feat if they had succeeded in ousting the Vs.

Many fans no doubt recall the brawls and near-brawls that took place and tend to gloss over the sparkling hockey. Don Appleton, Fritz and Red Koehle, Lee Hyssop and Ernie Gare all played in that series, and each of them played brilliantly.

Nelson lost the series after holding a 3-1 lead in games,and tie in the second game had moved them to within one point of a well-earned victory. Leafs never got that point but they did collect innumerable bruises while Penticton advanced to a position where they could later soak up world-wide praise for their 5-0 world championship victory over Russia.

GOING DOWN

If recent performances can be used as a chart, Penticton has gone downhill since 1954, as witness their present four-game losing streak. Their defense, a strong point in past years, surrendered 37 goals while the forwards could regain only 14 during that period.

Successive defeats, 10-5 by Vernon, 9-1 by Kelowna, 8-6 by Spokane and 10-2 at the hands of Kimberley have increased goalie Ivan McLelland's goal-against average to the stage where Dave Gatherum is challenging closely for league superiority.

It appears, however, that old Nelson enemies Grant, Dick and Bill Warwick, along with Jack MacDonald and Jack McIntyre, are all maintaining their steady scoring paces. Grant leads the club with 90 points, followed by brother Dick, who has 66. MacDonald has 64 points, Bill Warwick, 60, and McIntyre, 60. He earned assists on both Penticton tallies last night.

Lee Hyssop, Grant Warwick's WIHL counterpart in that both lead their respective leagues in scoring, is having his once-sizeable edge chewed off in large chunks by Cal Hockley of Kimberley. Hockley scored once and set up two other goals last night to slice the margin to three points.

Proceeds of all program sales in the arena tonight will be used to further minor hockey in Nelson. The Nelson Hockey Booster Club, in keeping with its policy of doing all possible to help the youngsters, is responsible for the arrangement. Programs will be sold by members of the Nelson Minor Hockey Association and parents of some of the players.

Penticton may be road-weary, having played two tough games in as many nights—and losing both—but it's a safe wager that their weariness will disappear after the opening whistle. The club from the apple centre showed in 1954 that they didn't know how to quit.

Queens Dump Slocan 9-5

Paced by Charlie Burdette's three-goal effort and a two-goal display by Sam Seminoff, Queens' Hotel of the Nelson Commercial League dumped Slocan City Seniors 9-5 Wednesday night in an exhibition contest at Slocan City.

Other Queens marksmen were Coach Dunc Jamieson, Fred Boates, Irwin Black and Bob Pickering. B. Hicks, D. Hicks, J. MacGillvray, M. Bertram and R. Sutherland replied for Slocan City.

Boates and Win Storgaard were assessed major penalties by referee Ted Hicks, who also called six minor penalties.

Queen's Hotel moves back into action Saturday night when they oppose Salmo Tigers in another exhibition, this one at Civic Arena. Second game of the doubleheader will pit Civic Hotel against Trail Brahma Bulls.

Tunney to "Straighten Out" Hepburn

TORONTO (CP) — Wrestling promoter Frank Tunney isn't so sure strong-man Doug Hepburn of Vancouver is through with wrestling.

Hepburn announced in Vancouver Wednesday he is through with wrestling because it's too tough.

"He's a slightly mixed up young man," said Tunney, who started the world-champion weight lifter in the wrestling game.

"I haven't talked with him yet, but I will and I feel sure that I can straighten him out."

Tunney said he thinks Hepburn can make $50,000 a year wrestling.

"Why, he's barely started."

Norm Larsen Paces Dynamiters to 10-2 Win Over V's In Torrid Game

KIMBERLEY — Close to 1600 roaring fans witnessed this season's anticipated and resulting hockey classic in which the world amateur hockey champions Penticton Vs produced all that was expected of them while Kimberley Dynamiters, fully operating on all cylinders, blasted them with a decisive 10-2 score, here Thursday night in a game that was a thriller from start to finish.

While playing coach Norm Larson was pacing his squad with four brilliant goals, spectator interest was continually at a torrid pitch, as the action packed contest was nothing short of terrific.

Besides Norm Larson's four goals, Buzz Mellor with two goals and two assists and Claude Bell with one goal and three assists also picked up four points each. Referees George Cullen and Tommy Dunn had their hands full keeping the lid on, and during the course of play meted out 16 minor penalties, nine to the Okanagan squad. Besides Dynamiters seven minor penalties, they received a match misconduct, Norm Knippleburg being the recipient at the 16-minute mark of the first period.

Berra Signs For Top Catcher's Pay

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Yankee catcher Larry (Yogi) Berra celebrated his seventh wedding anniversary Thursday by signing his 1956 contract, which calls for the highest salary ever paid a catcher in major league baseball.

Berra, the American League's most valuable player in 1951, 1954 and 1955, received an undisclosed raise from his 1955 salary, estimated at $45,000. When writers guessed he will receive $50,000 this year, Berra said that was "close enough."

Swiss Miss Is Slalom Favorite

CORTINA d'AMPEZZO, Italy (CP) — A skinny cowmaid from Switzerland is favored to win the first alpine event of the Winter Olympic Games — today's giant slalom for women.

But on the strength of pre-Olympic competition, Medeleine Berthod is likely to get a stiff battle from at least five other girls, including Luceille Wheeler, 21-year-old Canadian combined champion from St. Jovite, Que.

Bout Postponed

CHICAGO (AP) — The scheduled Feb. 15 welterweight title bout between champion Carmen Basilio and challenger Johnny Saxton at the Chicago Stadium has been postponed until March 14 because of Basilio's reported illness. An International Boxing Club spokesman Thursday announced Basilio has a "mild case of influenza."

Theberge Hat Trick Gives Canada 4-0 Win

By KEN METHERAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CORTINA d'AMPEZZO, Italy (CP)—A sparkling three-goal performance by left-winger Gerry Theberge inaugurated Canada's defence of her Olympic hockey title Thursday as Kitchener-Water-loo Dutchmen blanked a hard-fighting West German squad 4-0.

Theberge, an Ontario Hockey Association Senior A all-star in two of his three seasons with the Dutchmen, scored the only two goals of the first period and added another in the second. But apart from another second-period tally by Jim Logan, scored while the Dutchmen were a man short, the Canadians had no further success against the stubborn German defence.

The Dutchmen showed the effects of a week-long layoff and appeared listless. The crowd of 6,000 fans rarely had an opportunity to cheer and several times booed the Canadians for what they considered rough play.

All four of the game's penalties were called against Canada.

Outshot 31 to 17, the Germans never stopped trying to penetrate the stout Canadian defence. And their tenacious checking bothered the Dutchmen.

ITALY TIES AUSTRIA

The game was one of two played Thursday night in a preliminary round-robin series designed to reduce the 10 entries to six for the final round opening next week. The Canadians and Germans are grouped with Italy and Austria, who played to a 2-2 tie Thursday night.

Two other three-team groups see their first action today.

Despite their relatively poor showing, the Dutchmen remain solid favorites to retain the Olympic title won by the Edmonton Mercurys at Oslo four years ago and the world crown taken by Penticton Vs last year in West Germany.

Snowball Fight Prelude to Games

By KEN METHERAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Germans, then marched into Cortina a friendly snowball fight with friendly snowball fight with the Germans ,then marched into Cortina's new 12,000 seat ice stadium to the cheers of "Canada, Canada Canada" in ceremonies opening the seventh winter Olympics on Thursday.

The crowd filling the stadium was generally impartial—dividing its applause almost equally between east and west—as it watched the 1100 brightly-garbed skiers, skaters, hockey players and bobsledders from 32 countries march past.

In the day's only competitive action, Canada's Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen subdued West Germany 4-0 after Italy and Austria had tied 2-2 in the opening games of the hockey tournament. The President Giovanni Gronchi of Italy officially proclaimed the opening of the games and Giulani Chenal Minuzzo, Italian ski champion, became the first woman ever to take the Olympic oath of fair play on behalf of her fellow competitors.

The brilliant opening day pageantry was marred by two minor incidents. Guido Caroli, Italian champion speed skater, tripped on some stray wires and fell headlong on the track while carrying the Olympic torch into the stadium.

With a valiant try he managed to keep from dropping the torch, righted himself and skated on to light the flame which will burn until the end of the games Feb. 4.

Just before the opening ceremonies an unidentified German, dressed in white nightgown, veil, dunce cap and ski shoes, created a commotion outside the stadium with a demand for a world sports organization to oppose atomic bombs. He was shooed away.

While the athletes were waiting to march into the stadium, the Germans, with shouts of joy, began pelting the Canadians with snowballs. The 50-member Canadian contingent began firing them back and the air was filled with the missiles until the Canadians entered the arena.

Ski Slants

(Contributed)

It looks like we'll have powder snow for the weekend, so grease up your "boards" and head for the tow-hill.

Last Sunday about 75 skiers enjoyed the slopes above the golf links. In the morning, Helmuth Mayrhofer instructed 10 skiers in the art of snowplow, stemm turn and stemm christies. Later in the afternoon Helmuth had another big class of skiers to instruct. We are pleased to have someone of his experience and ability to teach and urge everyone to take advantage of the lessons.

The club has received an invitation to send junior skiers to Kimberley late in February for a four-way tournament. This will include jumping, downhill, slalom and cross-country. We hope some of our juniors will be ready at that time to make the trip. It has been a long time since Nelson has been represented in outside ski tournaments.

We're having some trouble in making our tow work efficiently but hope this weekend will find it in shape to take you uphill the easy way.

Tonight is "dry-ski" night and we hope to have a good gang out for the dry-ski course at the Civic Centre. The object is to get your legs in shape for the ski slopes and actually learn the basic movements of the turns.

Now a word of caution: our ski run is not as wide as we would like and it is dangerous if any skiers disregard the rules of safety. Let's look at them:

1. Always ski in control. Ski at a speed you can control; learn to turn. Nobody admires the "daredevil" who skies over his head. Skiers are impressed by a skier who can control his skis, which is, after all, the art of skiing.

2. On our course, "schussing" or skiing straight downhill is taboo. Even for the best of skiers, schussing is dangerous on our narrow course, so don't do it.

3. When tramping up the hill, keep well off to the side and give your fellow-members lots of room to come down.

4. If you take a spill, always fill in the hole. The next guy might hurt himself if you don't.

5. Don't go off on a ski trip alone. Even if you just have a minor fall and a slight sprain, the consequence could be bad if you are off by yourself.

6. Never ski when you are tired. The more you ski, the more you'll enjoy skiing and will probably find it hard to quit for the day. But remember, when you are tired you are more likely to have a serious fall.

ODDS ON CHAMP

TORONTO (CP)—Winter book odds for the Queen's Plate on Canadian Champ are down to 8-to-5 to win, 4-to-5 to place and 2-to-5 to show, it was reported Thursday.

Last year's Coronation and Cup and Saucer winner, owned by Bill Beasley of Toronto, opened more than two weeks ago at odds of 2½-to-1, even, and 1-to-2.

They journey over to Trail to engage the court representatives of J. Lloyd Crowe High School. Pups registered three wins in four attempts on their tour, including victories in Kamloops and Kelowna and a loss to South Okanagan in Osoyoos.

Both were assigned 170 pounds in the gruelling four-mile, 856-yard test over 30 fences, hedges and water barriers at Aintree March 24.

45-Foot Telegram Goes to Dutchmen

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP) — The second largest telegram ever sent out of Canada — a good luck message from Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen hockey fans — left there Thursday.

The 45-foot telegram contained 1380 signatures and a total of 2824 words. The charge for sending it to Cortina d'Ampezzo, Italy, where the Dutchmen are competing in the Olympic hockey tournament, was $311.

Father Throws Baby From Burning Home

TORONTO (CP) — A father saved his 14-month-old son from being trapped Thursday in a fire by throwing him out a second-storey window.

Vincenzo Cianfrini said the baby was caught by an unidentified man who heard his calls for help when the Cianfrinis' West End home caught fire.

The man caught the baby and then gave it to its mother, who had escaped earlier with another child.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)— Know who are your real friends (those who will not flatter for your favor, nor say pleasant things for the profit it may have). Don't waste time on affairs not suited to you.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 22 (Leo)— Only do the things you think are pertinent to today's needs, or that are necessary for rightful plans. Matters that would overcrowd your day should be avoided.

AUGUST 23 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Don't lean over backwards for the things you especially like to do, or those you wish most to please. Note Taurus', your aspects similar now.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Observe all rules properly laid down to benefit all, and that makes affairs run smoothly generally. You may have a better reason for changes but you may also have to bow to others' wishes.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Don't try to do too many things at one time, for no matter how well you accomplish, you are straining your health, and eventually it may have bad effects. Use today for some reviewing.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 22 (Sagittarius) — If at all possible enjoy time with children, old folks; both refresh mind and body. Give some time to worthy interests.

DECEMBER 23 to JANUARY 21 (Capricorn) — Sometimes we hurry when we cannot avoid it, but many time we CAN avoid it by getting matters attended to earlier and have less to do when the deadline hour comes. Aim for better system.

JANUARY 22 to FEBRUARY 20 (Aquarius) — Look for the little things that can please and do good to soul, mind and heart. Enjoy whatever you must do and it will seem easier. Be cheerful and unrushed.

FEBRUARY 21 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Isn't it a wonderful feeling to do your best and know that it helps both you and those about you? Today begs all your kindness (plus sagacity) and tolerance (while protecting principle)

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Market Trends

NEW YORK (AP) — General weakness in steels was an outstanding factor in the decline in Thursday's stock market.

Canadian issues were mostly higher. McIntyre added 1 point, International Nickel gained ⅛, Canadian Pacific, Hudson Bay Mining and Walker-Gooderham all added ⅛. Aluminum Ltd. fell 1⅛, Distillers Seagram lost ⅛, and Dome Mines was unchanged.

TORONTO (CP) — Low-priced mines had a bumper session on the Toronto Stock Exchange Thursday, while industrials did little more than mill around in the wake of weakness at New York. Western oils displayed firmer tendencies. Volume totalled 6,675,000 shares.

McIntyre moved up $1.50 in the golds as the company appointed a new general manager and policy changes were rumored.

MONTREAL (CP) — Industrial listings were mixed to slightly firmer at the close of the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges Thursday. Low-priced mines were generally higher.

International Nickel and Dominion Foundries added ⅝ each. Refining oils finished higher as McColl climbed two points.

LONDON (Reuters) — The clouded British economic situation influenced the London exchange Thursday, although the market was helped to some extent by the overnight advance of Wall Street. Buyers failed to come forward on any scale.

The government securities were fractionally lower, and dominion and colonial stocks were also easier.

Labor Chiefs Welcome Gregg's Speech

OTTAWA (CP) — Labor chiefs Thursday welcomed federal government loosening of unemployment insurance restrictions that have temporarily cut off thousands from jobless benefit payments.

President Claude Jodoin of the Trades and Labor Congress and president A. R. Mosher of the Canadian Congress of Labor expressed pleasure after Labor Minister Gregg told the Commons Wednesday that the insurance regulations are to be interpreted more broadly.

Officials said the effect of Mr. Gregg's announcement on a complex point is that between 30,000 and 33,000 workers will get more than $3,000,000 in retroactive insurance benefits from which they were temporarily disqualified in the last three months of 1955.

Sask. Lignite Fields Booming

REGINA (CP) — The bogey that has crippled the coal industry elsewhere hasn't yet appeared in the strip-mined lignite fields of southeast Saskatchewan. And it probably won't for several years.

Chief reason for this optimism, expressed by a government economist, is lignite's low cost. Indications are that it is cheaper as an industrial fuel than natural gas which will invade its present export market area — namely Manitoba and northwestern Ontario.

"I think it is safe to say that production here will hold up until 1965 at least," said economist Bernard Sufrin of the province's economic advisory board.

Output has been close to the 2,000,000-ton mark for each of the last 10 years, during a period when the total western coal yield declined by more than 30 per cent.

Final reports for 1955 are expected to reveal near-record lignite production of 2,239,000 tons worth $4,250,000 in Saskatchewan. This would be about one-fifth the total Canadian coal tonnage.

Royal Portraits to Hang in Gov't House

OTTAWA (CP) — Copies of the original state portraits of the late King George VI and Queen Mother Elizabeth will be hung in Government House here, the public works department said Thursday.

Robert Swan, well known London, Eng., artist copied the portraits in oils from original paintings done by Sir Gerald Kelly and hanging in Windsor Castle. Cost of the copies was about $3000.

With Queen Elizabeth's permission, the copies were begun in 1954 and finished last year. They now are en route here.

Child Recovering From Rifle Shot

VICTORIA (CP) — Patricia Stancil, 9, was in "satisfactory" condition Thursday after a playmate accidentally fired a rifle bullet through her left shoulder.

The girl was playing with David Goddard, 12, when he accidentally discharged the weapon.

His father, Lt.-Cmdr. R. S. Goddard said the boy went upstairs to put a blackboard on a wall.

"The gun was on a rack and he took the bolt out and closed it, and without thinking, pulled the trigger."

The little girl was sitting on a bed in a stooping position taking off muddy shoes about six feet from the boy, he said. The bullet entered the top of the girl's shoulder and came out on her lower left side.

Release Woman From Vault

CHICAGO (AP)—Joyce Thomas, 22-year-old secretary, spent a hectic 90 minutes in a locked records vault in the offices of the Major Foundry Company in suburban Franklin Park.

After the door of the large vault — seven feet high, three feet wide, 10 feet deep — clanged shut behind her, Miss Thomas pounded for help.

Michael Goyack, 35, advised her to read the directions on the door. They read: "You are not locked in. Escape device — press button, turn handle, and push open."

Miss Thomas followed directions. The door did not open.

Police arrived but were unable to help. More police came, bringing an oxygen tank. They fed oxygen under the door, fearing that Miss Thomas might suffocate.

Another call was made to the Chicago Safe and Vault Co. and R. M. Schwarze hurried to the foundry office. He drilled two holes into the door with an electric drill. He peered through and saw a bar in the lock had jammed.

Following Schwarze's directions, Miss Thomas was able to lift the bar and open the door.

Star Trustees Deny Sale

TORONTO (CP) — Trustees of the J. E. Atkinson estate said Thursday six offers to buy the Toronto Star have been turned down. They announced they are not contemplating at present sale of The Star to "outside interests".

They denied Wednesday's report in Variety, New York weekly of the entertainment world, which said it was "likely" that The Star would be sold to Toronto industrialist E. P. Taylor for $23,000,000.

Star directors acknowledged an offer from Mr. Taylor. Harry C. Hindmarsh, president of The Star, said five other offers also had been turned down. He did not say who made them.

A front-page notice published in Thursday's Star says:

"The trustees of the J. E. Atkinson estate announced in an official statement today that there was no truth in recently published rumors concerning an impending sale of the Toronto Star; and that a sale to outside interests was not being contemplated by the trustees."

The directors are Mr. Hindmarsh; his wife, the former Ruth Atkinson, daughter of J. E. Atkinson; Joseph S. Atkinson, son of The Star's founder; Alexander Stark and Frederick L. Tate.

Recommends Free Grain Market

MONTREAL (CP) — A "free" grain market is the answer to Canada's wheat surplus, says Gordon McAuley, president of the 93-year-old Montreal Corn Exchange Association.

Mr. McAuley told the association's annual meeting a completely free grain market "where the law of supply and demand governs and competent grain men will move crops into world markets" is the only solution to the surplus problem.

Wheat sales now come under the Canadian wheat board.

New Loblaw Co. To Exchange Former Shares

TORONTO (CP) — A new company, Loblaw Companies Ltd., will shortly offer its shares in exchange for all outstanding shares of Loblaw Groceterias Ltd.

The move, announced by Gairdner and Company, Toronto investment house, affects wide operations in Canada and the United States and is regarded as having potentially larger possibilities.

Control of Loblaw Groceterias—and of the new company when the share transfer is made — is held by George Weston Ltd., of Toronto, headed by W. Garfield Weston.

Mr. Weston, under various interests, heads a food empire in Canada, the United Kingdom and the United States with estimated annual total sales of $1,300,000,000. Last November he acquired a substantial interest in the National Tea Company of Chicago, fifth largest food chain in the United States.

Sees Automation "Round Corner"

VANCOUVER (CP)—A world of automation in whuch supermachines give instructions to other machines and change them when worn out was pictured as "just around the corner" by one of the world's foremost scientists in an address here.

Sir Robert Watson-Watt, speaking to the Men's Canadian Club, said automation is not here yet. He preferred to call the present state one of "super-machanism".

When the day of real automation comes, said the British scientist, who is known as the "Father of Radar", there will be "displaced persons" and scientists will have to ensure that the transition period is undertaken without casualties.

"We are living in a time of danger," he said. "Life will be much more living for many people, and this revolution will be as great as the industrial revolution."

Bows to Majority

VANCOUVER (CP) — Rev. Keith Wollard, one of Vancouver's strongest opponents of commercial Sunday sport, has urged the provincial government to "quit hedging" and bring down enabling legislation.

Rev. Woollard, of St. John's church, said in an interview there was "no point in delaying the matter."

"The majority has spoken . . ." he said.

Rev. Woollard headed the committee opposing Sunday sport, passed by a small margin during the December civic voting.
