Turkish Cypriots Fire Greek Store

Wound Laborers, Stone Clinic in Defiance of Day-and-Night Curfew

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Defying a newly imposed curfew, 50 Turkish Cypriots broke out of the Turkish walled sector of Famagusta Sunday and attacked Greek-owned property.

They wounded five laborers at a citrus packing store, set fire to the store and stoned a private clinic. Then they retreated as church bells summoned Greeks to defend their homes.

The outburst came a few hours after a threat of fresh riots prompted British security forces to order all young Greek Cypriot and Turkish Cypriot men under virtual house arrest. A day-and-night curfew was instituted for males from 12 to 27, to last until Feb. 12 The curfew was announced by police sound trucks which toured towns and villages of the island shortly before dawn.

The crackdown grew out of anti-Greek demonstrations Saturday night in Nicosia and Famagusta that threatened a repetition of the Turkish-Greek clashes which injured 15 persons and caused damage of about $178,000 to Greek property here two weeks ago.

Young Turks then wielded clubs, stones and torches with the aim of avenging the bomb death of a Turkish policeman which they attributed to Greek Cypriots seeking union of Cyprus with Greece.

BOMB THROWING

The trouble Saturday came after a day of bomb throwing in which another Turkish policeman was killed and 10 persons—four Turkish policemen, three British soldiers and three British civilians—were wounded.

Unrest developed quickly among the Turks, a minority which opposes the union-with-Greece idea. A large crowd massed in Famagusta and wrecked a Greek bar.

In Nicosia, about 30 Turks smashed a Greek-owned night club and broke the windows of several Greek shops.

Governor Sir John Harding broadcast an appeal to all Cypriots to remain calm. Similar appeals were made by Nicosia's mayor, Themistcoles Dervis, and to the Turks by a leader of the Turkish community, Dr. Fazil Kutchuk. They urged their people to refrain from reprisals.

Ship Sinks After Collision

IZMIR, Turkey (AP) — The 6,000-ton Turkish passenger ship Izmir sank in Izmir harbor Sunday, its starboard side crushed by a collision with a United States freighter, the Howell Lykes.

First reports said five persons were killed, but the Turkish transport ministry said there were only two known dead.

Prompt rescue work and alert action of the freighter in pushing the stricken vessel about 800 yards into shallow water prevented a major disaster.

More than 20 passengers from Istanbul were aboard the Izmar when it and the Howell Lykes collided in the narrow passage at the harbor mouth. They were taken off by a flotilla of lifeboats from both ships by ferries plying the harbor and fishing boats.

About one-fifth of the Izmir's superstructure remained above water after it rolled over and went to the bottom within 100 yards of the pebbled beach.

The Howell Lykes' bow drove deeply into the side of the Izmir when they crashed. The victims were believed killed at the impact. Four other persons were injured, the ministry said.

Grenades, Bombs Kill Seven Jews

ALGIERS (AP) — Algerian nationalists struck with bombs and grenades Sunday the eve of United Nations debate on their two-year rebellion against French rule.

Seven French Jews were killed when a bomb wrecked a European apartment building in Nedroman, an Arab town near Algeria's western frontier.

Two men, two women, two little girls and a small boy died. One child is missing. Another bomb wrecked part of the police station at Nedromah. There were no casualities.

Three persons were severely wounded when a grenade was thrown into a grocery at Tlemcen, in western Algeria.

French forces claimed they wiped out another 63 rebels in military operations.

FLIES UNDER BRIDGE

Bristol, England (AP) — A test pilot ducked his Vampire jet fighter under a suspension bridge across the River Avon Sunday and slammed into the river bank. The pilot, FO John Crossley, 28, was killed.

Deadlocks Slow Oil Lift

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The transatlantic "oil lift" has slumped at a crucial period in Western Europe's oil shortages.

Several deadlocks appear to have developed.

The conflicts involve: the large "international" oil firms versus the small independents; the interior department versus the State of Texas and, to a degree, American sellers versus European buyers.

A federal appeal to the oil industry for faster shipments, issued eight days ago, has been ignored, said Hugh A. Stewart, who, as interior's oil and gas director, is the man in the middle.

A government "crackdown" has been talked about but is not yet in sight. The administration is reluctant to use its emergency powers. It doubts whether such powers even exist, in the absence of any domestic oil shortage or a clear defence emergency.

The government's hand is weakened, moreover by its admitted uncertainty about how much oil Europe really needs to offset most of its loss resulting from closure of the Suez Canal and rupture of two Middle East pipelines three months ago.

No Arms Deal With Russ

WASHINGTON (AP) — King Saud was reported Sunday to have assured President Eisenhower that Saudi Arabia wants no part of any Soviet arms deal and still looks to the United States for military aid.

This was understood to be one of the basic agreements in principle arrived at by Eisenhower and Saud during three days of talks last week.

ALONG THE NORTH SHORE of Lake Superior, work on the Trans-Canada highway continues in sub-zero temperatures and many communities now isolated will be linked into the highway system by next autumn. Steam shovels, huge graders, snowblowers, trucks and dynamite are the tools of the trade of the road makers. Opening of the road will be a boon to tourists, fishermen, hunters and bushworkers who now have to depend on rail or air travel.

Pearson Asks UN to Back Hammarskjold

Canadian Minister Gives his Interpretations of Resolutions

By LLOYD MCDONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — Canada — considering it "the only way out" — called on the United Nations assembly Saturday night to back Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold in a new attempt to settle the Middle East deadlock between Egypt and Israel.

External Affairs Minister Pearson, speaking before the assembly voted at midnight in favor of two new resolutions calling for an Israeli withdrawal behind the armistice line and for the secretary-general to try again for a settlement, gave an eight - point interpretation of what the new measures mean.

He said he would have preferred a more precise wording in the second resolution, but gave it his support. He told reporters later that he considered it "the only way out at this time."

The external affairs minister hoped to fly back to Ottawa Sunday following his stay of three weeks at the UN during which he took a leading part in private negotiations which eventually led to the assembly vote. But he dropped out as a co-sponsor of the resolutions with the United States to leave himself free to call for clarification on the floor of the assembly.

GIVES GO-AHEAD

Talking to reporters after his assembly speech, Pearson said the secretary-general had told him "not to worry about the interpretations." This indicated that the secretary-general is planning to go ahead with the Egypt-Israeli negotiations with the feeling that the language of the second resolution does not bind him to any set policy.

Pearson made it clear in this interview that while he did not agree with the vague wording of the final draft of the resolution, he voted for it as well as for the first one calling for withdrawal because it was the only way to get assembly approval which would keep up negotiations in the crisis.

The alternative, he feared, would have been that with the assembly blocked by the resolution's defeat, "extremist elements" in Egypt might have called for "outside help." His reference to that help recalled previous fears of the intervention of Russian "volunteers' which might set off a larger explosion.

Pearson told the reporters he had once heard a remark about Egypt's President Nasser that if forced into a corner "he would take help from the devil himself."

Summing up in his assembly speech the views of delegates who wanted the language of the second resolution spelled out more clearly, he said he considered that it authorizes the carrying out of the following measures:

RESPECT AGREEMENT

"1. Full respect for, full implementation of and a reaffirmation of the armistice agreement of 1949 which remains in force, and the first article of which assimilates the agreement to a non-aggression pact, providing for mutual and full abstention from belligerent acts;

"2. Restoration of the legal position of control in the Gaza strip, and recognition that any change in this position — a position which has practical and humanitarian as well as legal aspects — can only be brought about through settlement between the parties. The secretary-general in his Jan. 24 report recognizes that the deployment of the UNEF in Gaza on any wider basis than its deployment along the armistice line in the Sinai Peninsula would require the consetn of Egypt under the armistice agreement; he also points out, however, that 'the development of the situation in Gaza may require special attention and may impose added responsibilities on the United Nations' — in particular, I suggest, to refugees;

"3. Deployment of UNEF on both sides of the demarcation line, to prevent incursions and raids across the line;

"4. El Auja to be demilitarized in accordance with the armistice agreement, and Israeli and Egyptian forces not to take up Positions in contravention of that agreement;

"5. The assumption by UNEF of the supervisory duties of the truce supervision organization;

FORMAL ASSURANCES

"6. Formal assurances from the parties concerned to desist from raids and to take active measures to prevent incursions;

"7. Pending determination of the legal position of these waters, innocent passage through the Straits of Tiran and the Gulf of Aquaba in accordance with the recognized rules of international law, which passage is not to be interfered with by the exercise of any claim to belligerent rights;

"8. Israeli troops on their withdrawal from the Sharm el Sheikh area to be followed by UNEF in the same way as in other parts of Sinai. The force is not to be deployed there, as the secretary-general points out, in such a way as to protect any special position on controversial questions; although at least transitionally it may function — or special UN observers may function — in support of mutual restraint and in maintaining quiet."

Fire Destroys Business Block

YORKTON, Sask. (CP) — One of the worst fires in the history of this eastern Saskatchewan city early Sunday destroyed a large business block and damaged three other buildings in the downtown area.

One man lost his home and four other families were forced from their apartments in the blaze, which broke out shortly after midnight and was not under control until 10 a.m. Thousands of dollars worth of stock was evacuated from nearby stores threatened by the fire and lay unguarded on the streets.

Fire Chief Burton Harper estimated total damage might reach $500,000.

The fire destroyed the 47-year-old Smith building which contained the technical office of radio station CJGX. The blaze caused fire ,smoke and water damage to the CJGX main studio.

The radio station was of fthe air 35 minutes ahead of its normal signoff but opened on schedule later Sunday morning, broadcasting from a studio at the back of the building.

No one was injured in the fire, believed to have started in the basement of the Avalon Studio. The cause is not known.

Stocks of Cars Curtailed as Tax News Awaited

VICTORIA (CP) — A number of Victoria automobile dealers are curtailing stocks of new cars from manufacturers in anticipation of removal of certain federal taxes by spring.

Some dealers, prepared to risk possibility of a loss, continue to order as many new cars as they can get from the factories.

Harry Gladwell, vice president of B.C. Motor Dealers' Association, said, to dealers, the possibility of tax cuts is "like a big axe over everybody's head for the first four months of every year."

If adopted by dealers' organizations across Canada, a resolution to embargo new car shipments could create a tie-up of the Canadian motor industry.

Finally Wed After 46 Years

NEWCASTLE - ON - TYNE, Eng. (Reuters) — Harry Southern, 79 - year - old former cowboy from New Westminster, B.C., Saturday married the girl he left behind 46 years ago.

He emigrated to Canada after he had courted Miss Edith Wilson for 10 years.

She expected him to "pop the question" but he did not get around to it until two years ago, shortly after his Canadian wife died.

Recalling his proposal, Miss Wilson said: "I decided I had waited long enough, and now he could wait."

And so it was not until Southern visited Britain again last month, that Miss Wilson, now 73, said "yes".

The couple will settle in the nearby town of Sunerland.

Deputy Premier Reported Shot

NEW YORK (AP) — The Daily News says in a dispatch from Washington that Dr. Hans Joachim Schulten of Cologne is in Moscow to treat Lazar M. Kaganovich, Soviet deputy premier, who has been shot and is near death.

The News, quoting unspecified intelligence sources, says Kaganovich, the only Jew in the Soviet hierarchy, represents "the old hard-core Stallinists who wanted to kick Communist party boss Nokita Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai Bulganin from power."

It says Khrushchev and Bulganin ordered Kaganovich shot, but "something went wrong."

"Kaganovich was only gravely wounded when shot down by a bullet Thursday night and now he apparently is receiving every care," the News says.

Nehru Pressing Russ Ease Off on Hungary?

By STANLEY JOHNSON

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—An authoritative diplomatic source here said Sunday Prime Minister Nehru of India is quietly putting pressure on the Soviet Union to change its attitude toward Hungary.

The Indian leader, this informant said, has told the Kremlin no permanent, peaceful settlement in that rebellious satellite can be obtained until the Soviet leadership recognizes the national, patriotic character of the Hungarian revolution.

Talk of the Indian attitude, which is believed to have considerable influence on certain Kremlin leaders, circulated among diplomats from six West European countries assembled in the Belgian capital for a meeting at which they will try to remove snags from proposed customs union and atomic pool agreements among France, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

SUPPORTS POLES

The diplomatic source said that while Nehru is making clear to the collective leadership in Moscow his views on Hungary he is also voicing his support for the "national Communist" program of Polish Communist leader Wladyslaw Gomulka.

Chief spokesman for impressing Nehru's views on the Russians was reported to be Indian ambassador to Moscow K. P. S. Menon, a veteran diplomat who is believed to have played a vital role in formulation of the Nehru position on these questions.

The ambassador is reported to have instructions from Nehru to emphasize the Indian point of view at every opportunity during formal and informal meetings with Kremlin leaders in the Soviet capital.

Try To Identify Plane Dead

By JOE MacSWEEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK (CP) — A Miami-bound airliner crashed in flaming fury just after takeoff Friday night and experts struggled through the weekend with the grisly tack of identifying victims.

Of the 101 persons aboard the Northeast Airlines DC-6, 20 died, including three Canadians, two women and one man, all from Quebec province.

Scenes of terror and agony were described by the 81 survivors, 64 of whom were taken to hospital.

The plane came down in a snowstorm on Rikers Island 12 seconds after takeoff. Prisoners from a nearby penitentiary were rushed to the scene to help. The convicts were hailed as heroes by survivors.

Officials reported Sunday that the Canadian victims have been identified, at least tentatively.

They were: Mrs. Olive Joy Anderson, 34, Mont Royal; Joseph Lessard, 48, St. Georges-deBauce; and Lessard's sister, Mrs. Marie Blanche Giroux, 35, St. Georges-de-Beauce.

The Canadian survivors were Mrs. Anderson's husband, Hartley, 36, and Sam Dubrovsky, 56, Montreal.

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — A third boy died Saturday of injuries suffered when a DC-7 transport crashed and disintegrated on a junior high school athletic field near here.

Death of Evan Elsner, 12, has brought to eight the toll of Thursday's collision.

Will Duke Shave?

LONDON (AP) — Men—and, perhaps even more women—are waiting anxiously to see whether the Duke of Edinburgh shaves before his reunion with the Queen. The Duke has grown a beard on the tour that took him to Antarctica, and 60 seamen on the royal yacht Britannia have emulated him.

Unity Basic Need in Canada -- St. Laurent

QUEBEC (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said Saturday unity is the basic condition of the existence and progress of Canada as a nation. He gently admonished French Quebec to stop wondering with too much anxiety about its future.

Some 1400 Liberals from all provinces attending a banquet celebrating Mr. St. Laurent's 76th birthday cheered when Trade Minister Howe and Veterans Affairs Minister Lapointe introduced the fromer Quebec lawyer as Canada's greatest leader.

Mr. St. Laurent delivered a 5800-word speech under the glare of television lights. He made no direct allusion to an election he has hinted might be held in June, but his plea for Canadian unity was the theme of his 1953 campaign.

He referred to "some" who will always interpret federal government actions as acts of treason and threats to French culture and the Roman Catholic religion.

STOP WONDERING

It was perhaps time that Quebec stop wondering about its future.

The future will be what Quebec makes it by work, perseverance and confidence that there is "a place for us in the Canadian nation . . . which is growing larger and becoming more and more assured." The prime minister added:

"We are proud of our forbears. Let us have the backbone to stand erect as they did . . ."

Mr. St. Laurent paid a simple tribute to his English - speaking mother, Mary Ann Broderick, and his French-Canadian father, Jean-Baptiste Moise St. Laurent, a Compton, Que., merchant, who brought up their family "in an industrious home".

His politcal ideas had grown when Sir Wilfrid Laurier, former Quebec-born prime minister of Canada, was at "the height of his glory."

Laurier's political philosophy, based on the principle of Canadian unity, impressed him.

Mr. St. Laurent said he accepted Laurier's principles and has believed in Canadian unity throughout his 50 years of professional and political life.

Britain, U.S. Agree On Defence Goals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Britain and the U. S., whose relations were chilled by the Suez crisis, pledged anew Saturday their 'solidarity" in defence aims. That was among the points listed in a joint communique on the series of talks held by Defence Secretary Charles E. Wilson and Defence Minister Duncan Sandys.

The meetings, the official announcement and the subsequent informal remarks of Sandys seemed to show that some warmth is returning to the British-American relations, damaged by the British-French attack on Egypt.

The communique, issued as Sandys departed for home, also said that "the possible adoption by Britain of certain American weapons was explored, and this matter is being referred to the two governments for further consideration."

MISSILES ON AGENDA

Officials of the two governments declined to elaborate on this. However, there were reports that one of the main topics in the talks concerned Britain's desire to acquire some American guided missiles, including anti-aircraft weapons and short range bombardment missiles which could use nuclear warheads.

inHow-d

The communique said the two defence chiefs agreed that priority must be given to maintaining military capacity in a high state of readiness and that "this must include conventional forces as well as nuclear power." It said further that Wilson and Sandys "recognized that financial and economic stability is an essential foundation of military strength and that due account must be taken of this in considering what a country can contribute to the common defence effort

DETROIT (AP) — A Susie with a yen for beer and attention kept police in a dither Friday night.

Susies are spider monkeys.

A Susie attired in a T-shirt and bright red overalls entered a bar with a steelworker friend and stuck her paw into a customer's beer. The customer called police.

Three policemen arriver, found Susie dancing from table to table, shaking hands with lady patrons.

Police took Susie to the station house, where they found the owner had reported her stolen from his car earlier in the evening.

The steelworker who had escorted Susie told police the monkey had picked him up in another bar.

PRESTMICK, Scotland (AP) — Strange voices kept hounding Allan Orr, who is partly deaf, insisted he did. He said some of the voices had American accents and the bable included such phrases as "Roger and out."

Orr met a U.S. Air Force man at the hotel bar Friday night and told him the story. The American had an idea. He asked Orr for his hearing and, plugged it in his own ear and waited. Sure enough he heard words, including "Roger and out."

The hearing aid was picking up messages from the control tower at nearby Preswick airport. Orr said he will trade in the hearing device.

Hospital Employees Plan District Council

A man who conducts business for 100,000 B.C. trade unionists, W. M. Black of Vancouver, president of the B.C. Federation of Labor, left Nelson Monday after talks with hospital workers in this area aimed at establishing a district council of hospital employees' union local 180. Mr. Black is also business for the union.

In company with Alec Paterson, also of Vancouver, secretary-treasurer of local 180, Mr. Black visited hospitals in Nelson, Kimberley, Cranbrook and Fernie. They established a council, with R. Cole of Nelson as president, Stella Wakaluk of Cranbrook as vice-president and Joyce Muir of Kimberley as secretary.

Mr. Black reported a "good meeting" here, and said one of the functions of a district council will be to take part in bargaining with employers. Contract talks were also conducted between union officials and management of Kootenay Lake General Hospital, and Mr. Black reported signing of a contract will take place soon.

Mr. Black and Mr. Paterson leave for Penticton Monday. They will confer with representatives of employees at various Okanagan hospitals Tuesday with a view to forming a similar council.

The B.C. Federation of Labor was formed recently when several provincial labor bodies joined forces. Headquarters are in the Vancouver Labor Temple.

Mr. Black visited Victoria last month to present a brief on behalf of the Federation to the provincial cabinet. An addendum to the brief made further presentations on hospital wage negotiations.

105 Was Peak For Hospital

Bed occupancy at Kootenay Lake General Hospital reached a peak of 105 on Jan. 29, but was back to normal this weekend, with about 80 bed occupied.

During the month there were 14 days when occupancy was listed as in the 80's, eight days when it was in the 90's. On Jan. 28 it reached 101, reaching its peak the following day when 105 beds were occupied.

During the emergency last week, hospital authorities had to bring in three more bassinets and cancel some surgery.

The hospital reached its lowest peak on Jan. 6 when 70 beds were occupied. There were six other days when occupancy in the 70's was recorded.

Officially rated as a 96-bed hospital, with 16 bassinets for babies, hospital authorities reported they were back to normal this weekend with 84 beds occupied Saturday and Sunday.

Fatality-Free Records Set by Nelson, Trail?

Two West Kootenay cities, Nelson and Trail, may have set Canadian records for fatality-free day for cities of their size.

Nelson, with a population of 10,000, has 1615 deathless days, and Trail with 15,000 persons which includes Tadanac and Warfield, has gone 776 days without a fatal traffic accident.

Medicine Hat, Alta., with 20,000 persons, currently has 813 days without a fatality.

Unemployment Rises Sharply in District

Sharp increase of unemployment is noted in a report for January issued by F. J. Thompson, placement officer, and D. M. Disney, manager of the National Employment Service in Nelson.

In addition to the seasonal increase of registered applicants, 600 rail workers and others directly affected by the Canadian Pacific Railway firemen's strike were registered.

Severe winter weather coupled with a depressed lumber market resulted in cut-backs in lumber production.

Larger mines continued to operate at full capacity. Smaller operations closed down until after the spring breakup.

Building and highway construction came to a virtual standstill, only skeleton crews being employed on existing projects.

A committee composed of representatives of industry civic organizations, service clubs, etc. was organized in an attempt to devise ways and means of alleviating seasonal unemployment.

Number of regular unplaced applicants registered rose to 1418, in addition to those affected by the CPR strike. This was an increase of 269 over that shown for the same period last year.

Twenty-five bush workers were employed at the Tye operation of the Kootenay Forest Products Ltd. and 10 were employed at Crawford Bay.

Celgar Development reported 60 workers at their Arrow Lakes operation. This was 75 per cent of their normal working force during peak activity.

Elsewhere in the area logging activity remained seasonally dormant, the situation will probably not change apperciably until after the spring breakup.

Nelson forest district sawlog scale for 1956 was reported to be 44,000,000 FBM greater than 1955. Total for 1956 was 490,315,678 FBM.

Triumph Mine at Ainsworth closed in January. Operations will resume next spring when three miners will be re-employed.

MINES ACTIVE

Agreements with lessees to mine ore on a royalty and custom milling basis is being planned by Slocan Van Roi Ltd. This company was active throughout 1955 carrying out a development program to provide access to and develop ore bodies in the Hewitt and Van Roi mines.

Slocan Monitor mine, near Silverton, continued active during December. A 1000-foot adit is being driven to explore geological formations.

At the end of the reporting period a total of 28 miners were registered for employment at the Nelson Local Office.

Sawmill activity in the Nelson Local Office area was hampered by a combination of severe winter weather, tieup in shipping due to the CPR strike and adverse market conditions. Approximately 350 sawmill workers returned to work at various sawmills in the district after a layoff of nearly two weeks caused by the CPR strike.

Match block factory of W. W. Powell Lumber Company in Nelson, shut down January 21, owing to a shortage of orders. Forty employees were laid off.

Nelson sawmill operation of Kootenay Forest Products was hampered throughout the month by severe cold weather and resultant icing conditions which caused a 25 per cent drop in production, normally averaging 100,000 FBM per day.

Company officials advise that, should the cold weather continue, a shut-down of mill operations may result in layoff of 160 employees.

Number of carpenters registered with NES was about 160—approximate increase of 30 during January. Construction was at its lowest ebb of the winter months.

City public works crew had no layoffs. Winter conditions opened up jobs such as snow removal and sanding.

Poole - Raymond is employing 26 men. At the latter part of the month they were busy pulling up the last-used coffer dam.

Canadian Legion announced a renovation program of up to $10,000. Work will commence early in the new year.

Fifteen men are now employed by Tearoe Construction Company on the new Safeway store, expected to be finished in another month.

Ten men are still employed on the Nelson Daily News renovation. Work is expected to terminate within the next three to four weeks.

Inland Natural construction crews will commence work in the Nelson area by approximately March 15.

Bezansen Fixtures has completed work on the old part of the Nelson Hotel, resulting in layoff of about 13 men. An addition with more rooms, cocktail lounge and cafe, will be started as soon as the weather warms so concrete work may be done.

CPR strike caused a layoff of approximately 500 railroad workers here. All have been recalled. About 13 men left section and extra gangs during January and about 17 men were hired.

M.V. Balfour, which normally operates in summer, was recalled effective January because of the CPR strike. The Balfour made four trips a day. Eight workers were employed for five days. Arrow Lakes service has been reduced from six days a week to three days a week due to icing conditions. Should this condition become worse it is likely that the service would be discontinued entirely.

On Apr. 1, 1957, a substantial reduction in electricity and power rates for Slocan Valley communities served by the B.C. Power Commission, will come into effect, it was announced by the Commission's district manager during the month.

Retail merchants noted an appreciable slump during the CPR strike. However, they believe the weather had some effect on business during that particular week as well. Business was down from December, the usual trend in January. However, figures do show an increase of 13-19 per cent over January, 1956.

Wholesalers also report an increase in business over the same reporting period in 1956, it is generally believed that the increased population of the immediate area is largely responsible for better business conditions. The CPR strike had no ill effects on Nelson wholesalers.

Two placements from three vacancies for female bank clerks were made in January. Nelson bank exchanges totalled $51,490,115.64.

Sale of 1957 automobiles has not been as good as hoped for. Financing has dropped considerably. A marked decrease in business is noted compared to a year ago.

Finance companies point out that, although national financing firms are endeavoring to assist the Government in enforcing the ruling that a customer make a 20 percent down payment, some firms are not complying. Some stores backed by American capital can display "No Down Payment" notices, such credit being carried by American finance companies. Thus a certain amount of business is diverted across the border.

Ninety-four males and one female are registered in the special placement branch. Employment was found for four male applicants in this category.

Employment opportunities were limited during January due to seasonal slump in employment.

A marked increase in the number of veterans registered was noted. The CPR strike created an influx of 51 veterans, all of whom have now returned to their regular work.

Nine female workers at the W. W. Powell Lumber Co., registered with NES after a shutdown owing to shortage of orders.

Majority of female applicants seek work in sales, clerical and fruit packing.

District Observing Minor Hockey Week

(Contributed)

This week, February 4 to the 11, is being observed across the Dominion as National Minor Hockey Week.

Objects are to acquaint the public with statistical information about youth's participation in hockey, Canada's national sport; to point out the ability of hockey to teach youth true sportsmanship, to develop competitive spirit, to teach how to take and give and how to co-operate as useful members of a team, to respect authority.

To tell the public what groups, branches and the CAHA are doing in sponsoring and helping minor hockey; to pay tribute to the hundreds of boys who have used hockey to develop physically and in character and used its lessons to succeed as a good and respected citizen; to pay tribute to the thousands of men across Canada who are in direct contact with young players at the bottom of the hockey pyramid in the important roles of coaches, managers, referees and league officials.

To testify to the debt of gratitude that Canadian youth and all Canada owes to these men and the service clubs and other organizations who sponsor hockey for Canadian boys.

Most of the week will be observed with the playing of minor hockey games, radio and TV interviews and other forms of publicity.

In West Kootenay, special nights with games of inter-city rivalry are being arranged. In Rossland Thursday there will be games between Rossland and Trail teams. On Friday Nelson will send two teams to Trail, while Saturday afternoon it is hoped to have two Rossland teams play in Nelson.

The following week Nelson will sent a couple of teams to Rossland, and Trail will send over two teams to Nelson so that minor hockey will get a good chance to display itself to the general public and the youngsters will get a chance to show Mom and Dad just how good they are.

While B.C. is not blessed with weather conditions for the building of outdoor rinks and must rely largely upon artificial plants, it nevertheless has shown a tremendous gain in the past 10 years in the number of boys playing minor League hockey, those registered with the various affiliate bodies.

In Nelson there are some 100 boys from bantam pool to juvenile age. Trail, which is fortunate to have two ice sheets, has approximately 700 boys and is the largest association in the province and one of the biggest in the West.

In Rossland, which has had artificial ice only recently, there is a marked increase in the number of boys participating — about 150 members. Much work is being done to take care of and organize the boys by people vitally interested in district youth.

Church Installs Dual Microphones

A new radio microphone set-up was tried Sunday at St. Paul's-Trinity United Church.

The Church broadcasts morning services over CKLN. Previously one large microphone had been used for pulpit, congregation, and choir. That microphone has been moved into the choir stall for more efficient pickup of choir and congregational singing. A smaller microphone has been installed in the pulpit.

Radio committee chairman D. M. Sample said the dual microphone system was designed "to improve our radio broadcast."

Ski Pupils Advancing Rapidly Say Teachers

"Very good" snow conditions attracted a large crowd of skiers to the Silver King Ski Club hill on Ymir Road, instructor Helmuth Mayrhofer said Sunday night. He reported they enjoyed a "lovely day," and another beginner's class was started in the series sponsored by The Nelson Daily News.

"The bulk of our skiers have reached the stage where they are going to be left alone in a week or two," the instructor explained. Among spectators on the hill Sunday was Nelson's Mayor Joseph Kary.

Neil Robertson, 13, suffered a fractured leg when he fell during downhill skiing. He received first aid treatment on the scene, was taken to the cabin by the Ski Patrol, and transported to Kootenay Lake General Hospital by truck.

About 30 or 40 skiers enjoyed the first session of night skiing on the hill Saturday night, skiing under lamps after a pot-luck supper in the Ski Cabin. It is hoped this will continue Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

During the weekend, one skier was seen carrying a youngster piggy back on his shoulders. The youngster seemed to be enjoying the ride tremendously.

The Weather

A low pressure area developing over the southern B.C. coast has increased snowshower activity over the southern part of the province tonight. Coming to its assistance is a futher surge of colder air from the north that has already brought snow to the Cariboo.

Later today the colder air will have penetrated to the southern interior and should begin to move out to the southern coast.

Regional forecasts valid until midnight Monday.

B.C. Youth Council To Fight Delinquency

B. C. Youth Council, formed recently to combat juvenile delinquency will seek incorporation at once. Temporary headquarters are in the John Howard Society office in Vancouver.

Rev. Canon W. J. Silverwood of Nelson and Rt. Rev. Bishop A. Sovereign of Vernon represents the B. C. Interior on the board of directors.

Of interest to the West Kootenay is the Youth Council's intention to study formation of youth hostels, homes where rehabilitation guidance can be given wayward boys and girls. In this endeavor the Council is following steps taken during the past two years by the Nelson juvenile court committees and other bodies in Trail and Kimberley.

Council aims to "rouse public interest in youth behaviour problems, correlate activities of all interested groups, and secure much more effective treatment, rehabilitation, and education for young offenders."

Hairdressers Would Oppose Repeal of Act

All shops in Nelson, including hairdressing salons, will be impelled to open day or night, six days a week, if the Provincial Legislature repeals the Shops Regulation and Weekly Holiday Act at this session, as recommended by the Union of B.C. Municipalities, and fails to pass some alternative legislation, it was stated in Nelson over the weekend.

Nelson hairdressers met with George R. Matthews, general managers of the Hairdressers' Association of B.C. to decide what action, if any, the Association should take.

Mr. Matthews explained that should the act be repealed in addition to there being no uniform hour of closing, there would be no fixed day on which the shop would be required to close to give employees a weekly holiday The day each employee would observe would be determined by the employer staggering the hours.

Discussion revealed that hairdressers would be one of the classifications most adversely affected, as the majority of salons throughout the province are individually owned and operated. To meet competition, proprietors would have to be prepared to work 12 hours a day.

The decision of the Nelson hairdressers was to request the provincial executive of the Association to strenuously oppose repeal of the Act and do everything in its power to restrain Legislation that would give municipal Councils the authority to pass bylaws governing the closing hours of shops.

Coleman Grants Win Tourney at Fernie

FERNIE — Coleman Grands won the 3300 Club's second annual hockey tournament Saturday night when they edged out Fernie Rangers 6-5 in the final game played before a packed arena. The Grands came from behind to tie the score with just one second to play. Ben Sereafini got the winner after three minutes of sudden death overtime.

Fernie took a 3-2 first period lead on goals by Cliff McNamara, Willie Bossio and Sam Caravetta. Coleman scorers were Jerry Scodellard and Ted Kryczka. The clubs split two second period goals, Gordon Turlyk scoring for Fernie and Jim McVeigh for Coleman.

In the third Kryczka tied it up for Coleman only to have Turlyk put Fernie ahead with four minutes to play thus setting the scene for Jerry Scodellard's last second tying goal.

Fernie Rangers had eliminated Cranbrook Selkirks 3-2 in a noon hour game after five minutes of overtime when Cliff McNamara rapped home his second goal of the game.

In an afternoon game, Coleman Grands roared from behind in the third period for three goals to overcome a 4-2 deficit and defeat Lethbridge Allisters, leaders of the Alberta Big Six hockey league, 5-4. In this game Jerry Scodellard starred for the Grands, getting three goals and one assist. Proceeds of the tournament are used by the 3300 Club to sponsor peewee hockey and for the upkeep of the club's public park.

Plea for Altered Lord's Day Act Draws Support

VANCOUVER (CP) — A county court judge, a city alderman, a tourist official and a businessman support Judge J. B. Clearihue's plea in Victoria this week for a modification of the Lord's Day Act.

The secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance in B. C. and another businessman don't think any change in the law is needed.

A brief survey of opinion in Vancouver produced these comments today:

Jim Hughes, executive vice-president of the greater Vancouver Tourist Association: "I don't think it would be a good idea to have things wide open, but in my opinion there is a moderate, middle course. I feel that we should have Sunday sports and I see no particular harm in having movie houses open."

Ald. Earle Adams: "I think that there is need for all governments to take a further look at Sunday activities. We should keep up to date, go along with times to some extent—if proposals are reasonable and essential."

Rev. H. T. Allen, Lord's Day Alliance secretary: "When we go to the U. S., we don't expect them to accommodate their laws to suit us. The tourist coming here feels the same."

He said some services—transport, power, fuel—are classed as necessities under the act. But sale of cigarets, newspapers, camera film, candy and ice cream should not be allowed," he said.

Chris Boulton, secretary of the B C. division of the Retail Merchants of Canada: "I think most retailers are happy with their one day off on Sunday."

Benton S. Brown, board of trade president: "I think Judge Clearihue's statements were very sound."

To Protest Film Ban

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver Film Society will protest the banning in this province of the motion picture Baby Doll.

John Averill, president of the society, said Saturday a meeting of the group felt that the motion picture appeal board's reason for banning the movie—that it is getting too much publicity — is not a proper one.

Censor R. W. McDonald said the movie was banned because "it's bound to offend some people." Baby Doll, based on two plays of Tennessee Williams, is an earthy love story of three southerners — two cotton gin operators and the infantile wife of one of them.

Mr. McDonald originally approved the film but changed his mind because of the publicity it received. Alberta and New Brunswick have banned Baby Doll in Canada.

His decision was backed up by the appeal board in a 2-1 decision. The dissenting member said people should be able to "waste their money" seeing it if they wished.

Warner Brothers officials here, who said the film had been planned to open at four theatres in Vancouver Feb. 13, haven't decided whether to fight the appeal board decision.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner said in Victoria: "I don't think the statute permits overriding a decision of the appeal board."

OLD ORIGIN

Fathom, as a marine measure of six feet, stems from an Anglo-Saxon word meaning an armful of rope.

The customary 21-gun salute fired at the opening of the Ontario legislature almost failed to happen when the first two charges failed to explode. A gun crew from HMCS York provided the salute and a naval guard of honor greeted the arrival of the lieutenant-goveror.

Trinder New President Kimberley Sportsmen

KIMBERLEY —Unanimous support was given at the annual meeting of the Kimberley Rod and Gun Club to hunting liability insurance coverage for all its members through a club policy, individual premiums for which are covered by the annual $2 membership dues.

Club recommendations for the 1957 hunting season were also drawn up for consideration at the annual East Kootenay zone meeting in early March in Cranbrook, together with recommendations from the Cranbrook, Creston, Michel, Fernie and Columbia Valley game clubs. Zone recommendations continue to the provincial session and those endorsed are forwarded to the Game Commission preparatory to drawing up the season's regulations.

Shell Builder's Plant Burns

KELOWNA (CP) — Fire today destroyed Kelowna's exhibition building and the damage may total $50,000.

Gordon Jennens, racing shell builder who was leasing the city-owned building, estimated his loss at about $30,000.

He lost three racing shells — two four-oared craft and a single —200 oars and $10,000 worth of equipment stored in the building for a contractor working on the Lake Okanagan bridge.

Jennens said he was fully insured.

Greg Lang, 18-year-old employee of Jennens, said he was working in the building with Joe Limberger, 16, when he noticed flames around the oil burner. They called the fire department at 8:15 a.m. but the structure was razed within an hour.

Firemen worked in six-above-zero weather. The building is made of cement but wood inside was tinder-dry.

There was no wind at the time and nearby gasoline storage tanks, an auto repair shop and a lumber yard were not damaged.

The exhibition building was opened about 1910 and was the site of fall fairs for several years before being converted into a skating rink. The city leased the building to Jennens after his plant was destroyed in another fire three years ago.

Saturday's fire was the third in the last five years at Jennens' plants. The 34-year-old boat builder has made shells for Canada's Olympic teams.

The present federal pension cheque is $40 to which is added $20 by the provincial government.

Tweetie, the pet budgie of Diane Papsin of Toronto, has laid 60 eggs during the past year and as many as four a week. But it's a frustating experience for Tweetie who tries to incubate the eggs but becomes impatient in three or four days and pecks the eggs to pieces. The eggs, unfertilized, would not produce new budgies anyway, but Tweetie keeps on trying. — Central Press Canadian

Fruit Grower Has Uphill Struggle

The situation which confronts the Okanagan fruit growers is common to all those engaged in agriculture. In the words of Mr. Corbishley, speaking before a royal commission which is studying conditions in the fruit industry, the fruit grower is gradually going broke in the midst of a booming economy.

The fruit industry is a highly important part of the economy of British Columbia, and although it is apt to be overshadowed by the Okanagan, the Creston area is also a large producer of fruit, and the same conditions affect the growers there.

There are many things which contribute to the unhealthy situation in the fruit industry; capital expense is heavy, spraying, pruning and general care take time and money, picking, packing and the cost of distribution are disproportionate to the cost of production.

According to the provincial horticulturist, the two chief problems facing the grower are frost damage and markets. Frost damage will continue until such time as the present trees are replaced by hardy varieties. The problem of markets is not so easily overcome. Year by year production has increased—in 1920 the apple crop was 2,821,600 boxes; in 1946 it was 9,000,000. This suggests that production is ahead of demand, which does not contribute to good prices, and under the pooling system the return to the individual grower was small.

This increased production led to further expense in the building of additional packing houses and cold storage plants. This added to the cost of marketing.

Basically the fruit grower's feeling is that the expense of marketing is too high and that everybody gets paid except him. There is criticism of the present marketing system, antiquated packing methods and the pooling system, and one speaker speaks of "the prolification of committees, the general overwhelming complexity of operation, grades, packages and responsibility" which burden the grower.

Fruit growers are so much at the mercy of the marketing organization that it is only reasonable that it should be operated with the greatest efficiency and economy. The royal commission should shed light on its operations and determine in what ways they can be improved. Marketing costs must be kept at the lowest possible level if the grower is to get a fair return for his product.

Boundary Country Gains New Life

Time was when the "Boundary Country" was a hive of activity with its mining operations, when Grand Forks and Greenwood were smelter towns and the Phoenix mine was the most celebrated copper producer in the province; but as time went on the rich ore was exhausted, the smelters closed, the cities lost their bustling activity and Phoenix became a ghost town.

Today mining is once more becoming active in the district. The Woodgreen Company has opened up its property and is shipping concentrates to the smelter at Tacoma. This has come about by using low grade ore which can be mined cheaply by stripping it from a hillside. It is an example of modern methods which can cheapen production.

The roaring life of Phoenix died when the mine was abandoned, but there were oldtimers who declared that there was still ore to be taken out, and that once again the mine would be worked. They were right, for the Granby Copper Company have decided that if, as seems likely, they have to close the mine at Copper Mountain, they will transfer their working force to Phoenix.

Greenwood has gone through many years on almost a subsistence level, and with the reopening of these mines it is not too much to hope that the city will regain in some measure the prosperity of former years.

Humor at Expense of Others Protested by Nelson Reader

To the Editor:

Sir — I feel, in the interest of the readers of the Nelson Daily News, and of course on my own behalf, obligated to comment on the quote, "bit of humor" in M.D.B.'s column Saturday concerning my classified ad for a pair of rubbers.

I suppose I should feel flattered that it provided you with your laughs for the day, but I find that laughter at someone else's expense is most often a form of ignorance.

In this case the sentimental value of the rubbers was caused by my father's recent death, and I think that even you could not put a circumstance such as this on the same basis as a "cat having kittens" — again I quote you.

Also I think that when a subscriber pays to have a classified ad put in the paper, they should hardly be forced to run the risk of being publicly ridiculed. This seems to be a habit of M.D.B.'s and having your interests in mind as well as those of the people who pay for the paper, I would strongly advise that in the future you investigate the circumstances more thoroughly.

I am sure you won't blame me for showing my bitterness in this letter as you have hurt others in my family as well as myself, and I am sure that none of us likes to be reminded, by your humor, of the loss of a loved one.

In order to spare others this kind of embarrassment, won't you please try to be a little kinder in the future?

G. F. Olson.

(Editor's note: The Nelson Daily News apologizes to Mr. Olson for this unfortunate occurrence, and regrets any inconvenience it may have caused Mr. Olson and his family).

T. F. Q., Castlegar—When was the Department of National Health and Welfare established, and what exactly does it cover?

The Department of National Health and Welfare was established October, 1944, under the Department of National Health and Welfare Act. It is organized into health, welfare and administration branches. The most important function is the administration of the national health program, under which grants of up to thirty-six million dollars annually are made available to the provinces for the development, extension and improvement of health facilities and the training of health workers. In addition to an active interest in the work of national health and welfare organizations, the department assists, on an international plane, such bodies as the World Health Organization and other specialized agencies of the United Nations. It is also responsible for the enforcement of any public health regulations made by the International Joint Commission concerning boundary waters between the United States and Canada.

'Thank God'

With his now-famous ability for springing surprises, Communist party chief Khrushchev expressed the following hope: "God grant that every Communist should be able to fight like Stalin." His reference to God may have been a figure of speech or a slip of the tongue. He may have proved that, in spite of Marxist doctrine, turning to God is instinctive. His remark recalls the story of the Moscow girl who took a civil service examination in which the question was asked, "What is the inscription on the Sarmian Wall?" Not sure of her answer, she walked several miles to the Sarmian Wall to see for herself. There she read the words, "Religion is the opiate of the people." Overcome with relief that she had given the right answer, she sank to her knees and cried, "Thank God!"—Toronto Telegram.

Copper Toes

Who can remember away back when shoes for the younger ones were made with strips of copper set in the toes to protect the leather against the wear and tear of dragging feet?

Now that the snow is here again and the kiddies are out on the hills sliding with all sorts of contraptions, some mothers and fathers may regard it as a practice worthy of revival.

It would appear more practicable and worthwhile now that shoes for children cost $8 to $10 per pair than in those copper toe times when they could be had for a dollar or two dollars.

Deer Saved From Wolves

This deer, stranded on the ice of Lake Penage, near Sudbury, Ont., was understandably reluctant to make friends with the men who came to help him off the ice. Chased by wolves, he ran out on to the ice and couldn't stand up as his sharp hooves just skidded on the smooth surface. When the men approached, he made frantic efforts to become mobile but got nowhere.

With a rope around his neck, the deer is hauled across the ice, still struggling and unable to stand upright.

When he reached shore and was on firm footing, it didn't take the deer long to vamoose. He was seen by the men from the window of a hunting lodge and a snowmobile sped to the rescue ahead of the wolves. — Central Press Canadian.

Only the U. S. Army Can Remove Famous Sideburns, Vows Presley

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Elvis Presley isn't shaving off his sideburns for Bing Crosby or anyone get for criticism ever since Pres— except maybe the army.

The sideburns have been a tarley burst into prominence. Even Crosby, delivering some friendly advice in print recently, remarked, "he has to take those sideburns off."

Elvis declined. "I like 'em and I'm going to keep 'em," he said.

He explained that he's had them ever since he was a youngster — "there was just white fuzz there at first." The reason for them: his great admiration for truck drivers, many of whom sported sideburns near his Tupelo, Miss., home.

"My father was a truck driver, and truck drivers were my idols," he added. "That was the thing I wanted to be most in the world."

Elvis admitted he would probably part with his long hair style if he goes into the army.

"There never has been anyone who could avoid having his hair cut short in the army," he said. "Even if they did give me special permission, I wouldn't want it."

Elvis could be drafted at any time.

Right now he's doing his singing for the movies and plenty of it. He's playing in Loving You for Hal Wallis, who has him under contract for a picture a year for seven years. The producer has already announced Sing You Sinners to follow immediately.

Meanwhile, 20th Century Fox, which also has a two-picture commitment with him, says the lad will do one right away. It's obvious that the movies want to cash in on Presley before the army picks up his option.

Doctor Attends Mystery Patient In Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — A hurriedly summoned German blood specialist held a two-hour consultation with Soviet doctors Sunday about a mystery patient in a Moscow hospital. The German said afterward he was unable to identify the patient—presumed to be an important official—but said it was "a life or death case."

Dr. Hans Joachim Schulten of Cologne told a reporter "I asked them at the hospital who he was but they said they could not tell me. They said it was a secret."

He said the only clues he had were:

1. The patient is in his mid-50s and in critical condition. The doctor said he did not recognize the patient during a morning visit, and thought he would have if the sick man had been one of the ruling Soviet hierarchy.

2. He is sufficiently important to rate a three-room suite in a well-appointed hospital and a medical consultation of nine of 10 doctors.

3. The disease is a blood disease not associated with atomic radiation. He declined to identify the disease on the ground of medical ethics but said Soviet doctors had diagnosed it correctly. He emphasized that it had nothing to do with atomic or nuclear research.

Dr. Schulten said the course of treatment he recommended was substantially the same as the Russian colleagues had prescribed "with minor variations."

She told detectives the men fled with only $15 in bills after she elbowed one away from the till screamed for her husband who was in the living quarters in the hear.

Says Infant Mortality Rate Appallingly High

TORONTO (CP) — The Health League of Canada today took note of the opening of National Health Week by issuing a challenge to Canadians to look after themselves better.

Dr. Gordon Bates, founder of the league, termed Canada's high infant mortality rate "appalling" and attributed it to the lack of knowledge and care by mothers.

"About 10,000 Canadian babies are born each year without a doctor around to look after baby and mother. No wonder we have more than 31 infant deaths per thousand when a health-conscious country like Sweden has only 18 per thousand each year," he said.

The average Canadian worker lost 10 days a year from work through sickness. Medical and dental bills of Canadian workers totalled about $900,000,000 a year.

12-POINT REPORT

The Health League issued a 12-point report on Canada's health picture.

It deals with mental illness and hospitals, tuberculosis, handicapped hearng, and sight, cancer, dental health, the aged, immunization, and the loss of young dietitians through marriage.

The report revealed that large, isolated mental hospitals caused public fear and ignorance of mental illness. The Canadian Mental Health Association recommends construction of small 400-500 bed mental hospitals in populated areas just as general hospitals are situated in communities.

Police Test New Trap for Car Speeders

VICTORIA (CP) — After a series of tests police have started a new scheme to trap highway speeders in British Columbia.

It is called the "special traffic control zone plan" and will be used for the first time next spring.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police will set out zones on highways with well-marked entrances where licence numbers of cars entering will be recorded by an officer.

There will be no sign to mark the end of the zone, but licence numbers and entry times will be radioed to men at the exit point, a mile to 20 miles away from the entrance.

If a car goes through the zone in a time which means it exceeded the speed limit, the driver will be stopped and prosecuted.

The system will provide evidence that will stand up in court, officials of the attorney general's department said.

Coast Firm Has Job for Hanna

VANCOUVER (CP) — A Vancouver construction firm has hired Christian George Hanna, 23-year-old wanderer fighting for the right to remain in Canada, and he may be swinging a pick or shovel by Monday.

Ben Frith, of Frith and Brice Builders, said last week he has hired Hanna and that if Hanna is allowed to stay in Canada he can apprentice as a plumber, carpenter, electrician or other craft. Hanna will start at odd jobs, though, Mr. Frith said.

Earlier, Mr. Justice Harry Sullivan said Hanna is entitled to work pending the outcome of his appeal against a deportation order by the Department of Immigration. The case was set over until Feb. 25 at the request of J. Arthur MacLennan, counsel for the Immigration Department.

Hanna will move to the Frith home this weekend. He has been staying with Hugh Pickett, president of Famous Artists.

"Hanna could start work Monday if the weather permits," said Mr. Frith.

"We are pouring concrete, and with the cold spell, we are waiting for city inspection to allow us to proceed.

"To start with, we'll put Hanna to work packing lumber, nailing and that sort of thing. We'll find plenty of work for him, perhaps with pick and shovel.

"He won't be idle."

BONNER "CAN'T INTERFERE" WITH BABY DOLL BAN

VICTORIA (CP) — Attorney-General Robert Bonner said today he can't interfere with the ban on the movie Baby Doll.

The film version of two Tennessee Williams' plays was banned by the three-member motion picture appeal board.

"I don't think the statute permits overriding of the appeal board," Mr. Bonner said when asked for comment.

Censor R. W. McDonald originally approved the film but changed his mind because, he said, there was too much publicity given to it. His reversed decision was approved 2-1 by the appeal board.

Toasted Almonds Give Flavor to Fish Fillets

By MARGARET CARR

Today's national distribution of frozen foods is a big boost to Canadian homemakers.

We can buy frozen fish fillets, in several varieties.

Remember this rule if you wish to enjoy economical fish fillets at top flavor and goodness. Don't overcook fish—cook just until it flakes easily with a fork, so that it remains moist and delicate of texture.

A favorite trick of French chefs is the use of slivered toasted almonds to give a distinctive note to delicately flavored fish. The Canadian homemaker can serve with pride a budget-easy variation of renowned French fillets Amandine in which wholesome white sauce replaces the sauce Meuniere or brown butter of the European version.

Or perhaps she will agree with me that fish tastes better with lemon. In fact, if you marinate fillets in a sauce before cooking and then brush them with the spicy mixture while frying, you'll have a better-than-ever fish dish.

ALMOND FISH FILLETS

Two pounds frozen fish fillets (cod, haddock, ocean perch or sole), 4 tablespoons butter, salt and pepper, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 2-3 cup milk, ½ cup slivered, blanched toasted almonds.

Let fillets thaw on refrigerator shelf just enough to separate. Do not allow them to thaw completely. Melt butter in frying pan or skillet. Sprinkle fish fillets with salt and pepper, place in pan with butter. Add water. Cover; let simmer gently about 10 minutes, or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Carefully remove fish to heat-proof serving platter and keep in warm place. Cook liquid left in pan until it is reduced about one-third. Cream together butter and flour. Blend into liquid in pan, add butter, blending well. Let simmer, stirring, until thickened. Sprinkle almonds around fish. Pour sauce over fish, and re-heat for a minute or two in hot oven, or, if desired, brown quickly under the broiler. Serve immediately. Makes six servings.

LEMON FRIED FILLET OF SOLE

One tablespoon salad oil, three tablespoons minced green onion tops, 3 tablespoons chopped parsley, 1-3 cup water, ¼ teaspoon paprika, 1 tablespoon soy sauce, ¼ teaspoon grated lemon peel, 1-3 cup lemon juice, 1-3 cup shortening, 6 fillets, fresh or frozen (2 pounds), salt and pepper.

To Make Lemon Sauce

Heat salad oil, add onion tops and parsley and heat until lightly browned. Add water, paprika, soy sauce, grated lemon peel and lemon juice. Simmer until blended. Marinate fillets in sauce for 30 to 40 minutes.

Heat shortening in a frying pan and brown fillets on one side. Brush fillets with a generous amount of lemon sauce and pour remaining lemon sauce over fish. Fry until tender. Serve hot, garnished with lemon slices.

Diabetics Can Lead Fairly Normal Lives

DR. H. N. BUNDESEN

Thirsty all the time, even in this cold weather? I mean are you really thirsty? Do you gulp lots of water, milk and soft drinks between meals?

If you do, let me urge you to see your doctor. While there may be nothing seriously wrong, you may be a victim of diabetes without even being aware of it.

A diabetic does not necessarily have to lead the life of an invalid. With proper treatment, he can probably live a normal or near normal life.

OTHER SYMPTONS

Unquenchable thirst is not always a symptom of diabetes, nor is it the only symptom. Be especially alert if your thirst is accompanied by a loss of weight despite an increased appetite, weakness, pains in the legs, a dry skin and a general feeling of nervousness and irritability.

Frequent urination sometimes is a symptom, particularly if the urine causes great discomfort.

If you have frequent boils or ulcers on your feet, be sure to have your doctor check you for diabetes whether or not any of the other symptoms are present.

Sometimes the only complaint a patient will have as the condition progresses is loss of pep and uncontrolled drowsiness.

CHILDREN AND ADULTS

Who gets diabetes? Both children and adults can be victims.

But most diabetics are persons of middle age who have been hearty eaters for years and, generally, they are overweight. Since diabetes tends to run in families, any of you whose parents suffered from the disease may be more vulnerable.

A word of caution—let me urge you not to overeat. Be especially careful to avoid eating too much startchy and sweet foods. Get a lot of fruit and green and yellow vegetables. Also, have a physical checkup at least once a year.

Slow Reader Must Learn to Enjoy Books

By DR. G. C. MYERS

We can safely assume that any child who does average or better in spelling or reading should be able to master other subjects.

But, of course, we would not tell him that he should. Instead, we would find ways to help him discover that he can. Also, we should not expect him to suddenly bring up his arrears in any subject, but expect only gradual progress.

A mother writes: "My husband and I have adopted a little twelve-year-old girl. She has been sadly neglected and has had a hard time making adjustments in one foster home after another.

"My problem is that she just can't read. I have helped her improve in spelling and arithmetic but she doesn't seem to take any interest in reading.

"We have had her eyes tested.

"Her teacher sent a note home on her report card, noting the improvement the little girl had made but calling attention to her low mark in reading.

ENJOYS STUDY

"I don't have to make this child study. She enjoys it and she is doing well in spelling. But there must be something I could use to help her read.

"This is a small place, with a population of about 239, so there is no tutor available.

"The child is in the fifth grade."

This was my reply:

Evidently you and your husband are wonderful parents, providing that child with a home of kindness and love. Also, since she has made so much gain in spelling and likes to study with you, you must be teaching her well.

Naturally she is not interested in reading since she has never learned to read. Her difficulty in this subject must seem hopeless to her.

Read aloud to her the subjects she has at school, such as history and geography and elementary science; also her problems in arithmetic. In this way she may keep up with the facts to be covered at school. Don't try to have her read from her regular school books, as they are far too hard.

Take her to the public library or a bookstore and let her help you find books that interest her. Choose those that are very easy reading, with lots of pictures and with little print to the page.

I'm sending you, with my compliments, a record issue of a children's magazine which contains many pictured features.

From this magazine, or others with similar features, your little girl will pick out what she can read with success and pleasure.

Once she gets the hang of reading, you will be amazed at her progress. Gradually, she will choose more difficult reading material.

With snow a problem these days, smart motorists are carrying a sheet of polythene film in the glove compartments of their cars. Spread over the windshield and tucked under the wipers, it prevents snow from freezing on the glass. When read to drive away, whisk off the polythene, taking the snow with it. Then the plastic sheet can be folded away to be used again.

Kimberley School Curlers Win Crown

VANCOUVER (CP) — A Kimberley rink skipped by 19-year-old Bob Nesbitt won the B. C. High School curling championship by downing Port Alberni 9-8 here Saturday.

The win gives Kimberley the right to go to Winnipeg for the Dominion finals Feb. 18.

It took an extra end against the Port Alberni rink, skipped by Harry Myers, to give Kimberley the victory.

Other members of the Kimberley rink are Dan Martell, Edgar Blundell and Lynn Hansen.

Earlier Saturday, the Kimberley quartet beat Prince George in the opening round and Prince George took a 17-8 win over Port Alberni.

The Kimberley rink was to be presented with the Taylor, Pearson and Carter Trophy at a banquet here Saturday night.

Last year, the trophy was won by a Trail rink.

Joe McCarthy Joins Baseball Hall of Fame

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe McCarthy, the manager who led New York Yankees to new heights without ever playing a game of big league ball, and Samuel (Wahoo Sam) Crawford, one of the great power hitters in the "dead ball" era, were named Sunday to baseball's Hall of Fame.

McCarthy and Crawford were selected by a special 11-man veterans' committee. They will be inducted formally at Cooperstown, N.Y., July 22.

To be selected by the committee, a player must have been inactive for 30 years and a man out of the game for five years. Crawford finished his 19-year major league career in 1917 and McCarthy retired as Boston manager because of physical exhaustion in 1950.

Baseball fans came to know McCarthy by his "Marse Joe" nickname that dates back to the days when he played and later manager or umpire must have been aged at Louisville in the American Association. In the majors, McCarthy won nine pennants and seven world championships.

His streak of four straight world series victories with the Yankees from 1936 through 1939 wasn't topped until Casey Stengel made it five in a row with the same club, 1949-53.

McCarthy, 69, lives on a farm near Buffalo, N.Y. He retired when poor health made him step out at Boston. He moved to Boston in 1948 after bossing the Yankees from 1931 to 1946.

MANAGED CUBS

McCarthy managed Chicago Cubs from 1926 to 1930, winning the pennant in 1929 but losing the world series to Philadelphia.

In 32 years as a manager in the majors and minors, McCarthy's teams finished out of the first division only once, when he was sixth at Louisville in 1922.

Crawford, 76, was born at Wahoo, Neb., and drew his nickname from his home town. He broke in with Cincinnati in 1899 after playing minor league ball the same year. After playing with Cincinnati through 1902, he moved to Detroit where he played until 1917, teaming with the great Ty Cobb in the Tigers' outfield.

Wahoo Sam was the only man ever to lead both majors in home runs although his career total of 96 homers hardly compares with the "lively ball" pace of today. He topped the National League with Cincinnati in 1901 with 16 and led the American League with seven in 1908.

Crawford's lifetime average was .309 for 19 years with a total of 2,964 hits. His lifetime total of 312 triples still is the major league record.

NFL Won't Give Recognition To Player Body

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National Football League Saturday night refused to recognize the Players' Association and voted down a motion to expand the league to 14 teams in 1958.

The vote against expansion came shortly after commissioner Bert Bell announced the AFL "will not recognize anybody as a bargaining agent."

The expansion motion was defeated 8 to 3 with one abstention. Voting in favor were Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Baltimore. Chicago Cardinals abstained.

Seven cities had applied for NFL franchises.

In announcing that the owners had rejected the Players' Association, Bell added that 'any player or players have the right to meet with the commissioner at any time for the purpose of discussing any problems."

B.C. Bonspiel Starts Here Today

Bruins Awake, Nab 2 Weekend Wins

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

There's plenty of life in Boston Bruins.

The Beantowners pearked up in their bid to close in on the National Hockey League leaders with two weekend victories. They edged the tough, Montreal Canadiens 2-1 Saturday and overpowered the fifth-place New York Rangers 4-1 Sunday.

The two wins, however, left Bruins in third place with 58 points, four behind Canadiens and seven off the pace set by Detroit Red Wings.

Wings and Canadiens clashed in Detroit Sunday. Wings spotted the Habs two goals in the first period and then drove back to force the Montrealers into a 3-3 tie. In the other Sunday engagement, the last-place Hawks defeated the fourth-place Toronto Maple Leafs 6-3 at Chicago.

In Saturday games, Leafs, clinging desperately to fourth place, stormed back with two third-period goals to tie Hawks 3-3 and the Wings beat Rangers 5-4.

Veteran Fleming Mackell and rookie Larry Regan spearheaded Bruins' win at Boston before 13,909 fans. Mackell scored a goal and an assist, while Regan was credited with a pair of assists.

The other Bruin marksmen Doug Mohn's, who scored the tiebreaker against Montreal Saturday, Vic Stasiuk and Real Chevrefils. Andy Bathgate tallied for New York.

FOURTH WIN

The triumph marked the fourth game in five Bruins have won with rookie goaltender Don Simmons. Although the 25-year-old goalie did not match his 39 saves at Montreal Saturday, he was not lacking in quality. He had 17 saves. New York's Lorne Worsley made 43 stops.

Red Kelly, Alec Delvecchio and Dutch Reibel scored at Detroit to give Wings the tie. Claude Provost, Maurice Richard and Floyd Curry accounted for the Hab goals.

Left winger Ted Lindsay of Detroit moved past Montreal's Jean Beliveau in the league scoring race as he got one assist. He has 63 points, one more than Beliveau. Gordie Howe of the Wings is one behind Beliveau with 61 points.

Hawks were trailing 3-1 at one time but rallied to beat Leafs. Although Toronto left winger Dick Duff scored Leafs three goals, his performance was overshadowed by that of Ed Litzenberger of Hawks.

FIVE POINTS

Litzenberger scored twice and registered three assists, figuring in all but one of the Hawk goals. Eric Nesterenko, Pierre Pilote, Johnny Wilson and Glen Skov tillied the others.

8he turnout of 12,633 fans was the bigggest hockey crowd at Chicago this season.

They're Coaching Fun Outa Hockey

Remember the fun you had on the old mill pond —everybody played where he wanted, as long as he wanted!

Today the kids frequently have to rise at 4 a.m. for their turn on the ice and they're rigidly coached to play positions. They learn to get rid of the puck, not keep it.

In this week's issue of the Star Weekly Gordon Campbell, in his controversial article "Give Hockey Back to The Kids" shows why the Russians can beat us at our own national game. Buy your copy of the Star Weekly today.

Frick Announces Pension Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—A new pension plan granting increases in benefits to major league players, coaches and trainers was announced Friday by Commissioner Ford Frick.

Costing an estimated $3,000,000 annually, it provides a minimum monthly pension ranging from $88 to as much as $550, compared with the former minimum - maximum range of $50 to $100 monthly.

The commissioner said the plan could not be guaranteed beyond five years because its financial structure is based on money from the new five - year World Series and all-star game radio and television contract signed last year and effective beginning with the 1957 season.

Cost to players, coaches and trainers participating in the new program will be $2 a day during the playing season, or a maximum of $344 annually. Previously, they paid an average of $1.50 a day.

Mayor to Officially Open Week's Event

Forty curlers will take to the ice at Nelson Curling Club at 7:30 this morning, starting off the 62nd annual British Columbia bonspiel.

The 'spiel will be officialy opened at 2:15 this afternoon when Mayor Joseph Kary will heave a rock down the ice with B. C. Curling Association president H. (Fritz) Farenholtz holding the broom.

The 140 curlers (35 rinks) who will participate in the event come from points as far apart as Nanaimo, Prince George and Kimberley. Majority of the out-of-town curlers arrived in Nelson Friday, and were greeted by a welcoming committee. Entry includes 15 Nelson rinks, eight rinks representing the eight B. C. curling zones who will also compete for the right to represent the province in Dominion finals, and 13 other out-of-town rinks.

Following are today's first four draws:

7:30 a.m.—R. Chandler, Nelson vs E. Jackson, Penticton; K. Moysey, Victoria vs G. Larson, Chilliwack; W. Kajala, Nanaimo vs A. Stephenson, Nelson; A. Reid, Nelson vs A. Folk, Duncan; E. C. Hunt Nelson vs L. McKenzie, Creston.

J. M. McKay, Penticton Elected BCCA President

J. M. McKay of Penticton was elected president of the British Columbia Curling Association at its annual meeting here Sunday night, succeeding H. (Fritz) Farenholtz of Nelson.

R. (Dick) Topping of Osoyoos was elected vice-president and A. B. Gilker of Nelson was returned as secretary. The Association's executive also includes one director from each of the eight curling zones into which the province is divided.

Invitation of the Penticton Curling Club, extended at last year's annual meeting in Victoria, to have the 1958 B. C. bonspiel held in the Okanagan city, was reaffirmed by Mr. McKay. No decision was made regarding location of 1959's bonspiel.

Application of three clubs for membership in the B.C. Curling Association was approved. New members are Kitimat Curling Club, Granite Curling Club of Vancouver and Terrace Curling Club. Membership in the Association is now in the 60s.

Regarding a letter, read by secretary Gilker, from A. M. Chesser of Trail, honorary secretary of the B.C. high school curling organization, the meeting approved unanimously a motion that the Association would assist student curling where required. Delegates voiced opinion that main assistance high school curling required was in regard to providing ice, supervision and time by individual clubs rather than the assistance of provincial groups.

Sunday night's annual meeting, held in the Hume, following a banquet, was the first held under the Association's new constitution. During 1956, the Association became incorporated under the B.C. Societies Act.

Retiring president Farenholtz traced the development of curling in the province, from its beginning in the Kootenay, and expansion to the Coast and Okanagan.

Curling, "the only amateur sport left," was "really catching on," Mr. Farenholtz noted. Recalling this year's visit to Canada of a group of Scottish curlers, the president voiced approval of the little emphasis Scots put on curling prizes, and the increased emphasis on trophies. "Let's not forget the sport of curling," he stated.

In addition to the executive, others eligible to take part in the meeting were three representatives from each of the eight zones — Vancouver Island, Vancouver, East Kootenay, West Kootenay, South Central, North Central, Northern and Fraser Valley. Northern and Fraser Valley representatives were not in attendance, not having arrived in Nelson at that time.

Leafs Wallop Warriors 8-4; Smokies, Flyers Tied for Lead

Nelson Maple Leafs handed the Rossland Warriors an 8-4 defeat in the last appearance of the Warriors in Western International Hockey League action on Nelson ice at the Civic Centre Saturday evening. The Rossland club made another of their last period drives to try and overcome a four-goal deficit, but it fell short as the Leafs scored goal for goal with Mike Buckna's boys.

The game was typical of most of the Leafs and Warriors encounters, featuring plenty of goals, sensational saves by the goalies and fast, clean hockey. Although goalies Gus Adams and Reno Zanier let in 12 pucks between them, they made numerous spectacular saves which more than pleased the small crowd, one of the smallest for a Saturday night game this season.

Coach Pat Egan put his boys on the right track at the start of the first period with a hard shot from 10 feet out. Midway through the first Rossland's Steve Chorney evened the count at one-all for the Warriors, but at the 18-minute mark, Don Appleton put Nelson ahead and they never looked back. In the middle frame Fritz Koehle, Marsh Severyn and Wendy Keller punched home three more goals. For winger Keller it was his first of three goals to top a good all-around performance and he received some good support from centres Lee Hyssop and smoothie Don Appleton.

The third period opened with Appleton scoring his second goal of the night on a neat bit of goal mouth passing from Pilla and Gaber. The Warriors came to life and banged in two fast goals as Alec Birukow and Norm Lenardon tallied.

Lenardon's goal was somewhat of a surprise variety as, off balance, he golfed a high shot into the right hand corner of the net past Gus Adams. Wendy Keller punched home his second goal of the game right at Zanier's doorstep. Leardon drove in his second goal for Rossland with a blueline drive as Leaf Garth Lipsack was sitting out a minor penalty. Keller scored Nelson's eighth and the last goal of the game with seconds remaining for his hat trick. The Leafs were forced to shift their men around again as Mickey Maglio, who was injured in the exhibition game with Kimberley last Tuesday, saw little action.

Flyers Win 5–3

SPOKANE (CP) — The Trail Smoke Eaters moved into a tie for first place in the Western International Hockey League Saturday night, edging Spokane Flyers 5-3 before 6500 fans in Spokane's Coliseum.

The win was Trail's fourth of the season on Spokane ice and their seventh in 15 starts against the former league champions.

The Smoke Eaters took a 2-1 lead in the first period, and after banging through a scoreless middle session, broke a 3-3 third period deadlock on a goal by Jack McIntyre.

McIntyre scored the winner on a breakaway from five feet out at 16:26.

Jack Lancien was a standout for the Flyers, firing two third period goals and putting in the equalizer in the final session.

Both of Lancien's goals came from 30 feet out, beating Seth Martin.

Adolph Tambellini and Gerry Penner scored for Trail in the first period. Bill Warwick added Trail's other single, while Tic Beattie was the other marksman for Flyers.

Only seven penalties were handed out, four to Trail.

The two clubs meet in Trail Feb. 14 for the last time this season in a game which may decide the league championship. The season winds up Feb. 16.

Summary:

Seek Reasons for Sluggish Market

By RON ANDREWS
Canadians Press Staff Writer

Canadian stock market prices rambled aimlessly last week.

Trading was sluggish. Advances made by oils during previous weeks melted under profit-taking. Most sections ended the week with index losses.

Observers coudln't pin-point the reason for uncertainty.

Some said that traders were taking profits at every opportunity because of the tight - money policies.

Others said market performance "must be linked to the international situation and the effects of continuing money conditions."

There were only a few special developments. A net profit gain of 53 per cent over the previous year was announced by Interprovincial Pipe Line.

Trans Mountain Pipe Line, whose shareholders are anticipating a five-for-one split in the company's common stock, was the best industrial on the Toronto board, climbing $8.75 to $113.75.

International Nickel announced Thursday it was cutting its domestic copper price by 2¼ cents a pound. That news created widespread selling among copper stocks Friday.

There were occasional spurts of uraniums but on the whole they showed little change.

NO FORECASTS

Where do the markets go from here: Most experts shied away from the question, saying it was too early to forecast.

There was, however, one opinion offered. Andras, Hatch and McCarthy predicted the industrials, which usually set market trends, would follow the same pattern as 1956.

"We anticipate that the lows of 1956 will be tested and possibly broken, but not by any significant margin. In our opinion, the condition which will bring about the testing of last year's lows will result from a tapering off of buying rather than from excessive selling."

INDEX CHANGES, TORONTO

Industrials off .275 to 461.94. Golds off .29 to 76.40; base metals off 2.06 to 217.01; western oils up 1.94 to 158.86. Of 776 issues traded, 368 declined, 239 advanced and 169 were unchanged.

Index changes at Montreal: Banks up 0.03 to 55.38; utilities up 1.3 to new high of 141.0; industrials off 6.2 to new low of 286.1; combined off 3.6 to new low of 237.8; papers off 34.26 to new low of 1320.18; golds up 0.15 to 75.16.

The Associated Press average of stocks lost 10 cents at $176.10.

Cil-Producing States Urged To Supply U.K.

By WALTER BREEDE JR.

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices of several key commodities tumbled last week but experts said business would still be inflation-dominated.

U.S. copper producers slashed prices two cents a pound. The new price — 34 cents a pound—is the lowest in two years.

Gasoline prices were cut back to December levels in many parts of the U.S., allegedly for "competitive" reasons.

Prices of steel scrap fell sharply but Lake Superior iron ore was marked up five per cent, or 60 cents a ton. Farm prices inched ahead.

In Washington economists told Congress that prices and wages will move higher in the coming months. Wage increases are due in metalworking, food processing, construction, mining and transportation.

Predicting a new inflationary surge, Harvard economist John K. Galbraith warned: "Brace yourself. Most likely the worst is yet to come."

The two biggest U.S. steelmakers reported to stockholders this week record earnings for the last three months of 1956.

U.S. Steel Corporation earned $104,500,000 or $1.83 a share; Bethlehem Steel Corporation $61,750,000 or $5.95 a share.

Texas and other oil - producing states were chided by the U.S. government for not producing enough oil to meet European emergency needs.

Hugh A. Stewart, director of the U.S. Interior department's office of oil and gas, said there was no response from oil states to appeals for greater co-operation.

He said Europe isn't getting enough oil and U.S. crude stocks are below danger level.

Inventories of 1957 cars were climbing. Stocks of unsold new cars totalled 650,000, highest since July. Factory production in January was about 4½ per cent higher than in 1956.

One Touch of Nature

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan stopped for one with the boys and got his picture in the newspapers.

"Politics from a new angle," beams the Daily Express alongside its picture showing the prime minister drinking a pint with friends at an ordinary pub after the annual dinner of the Bromley (Kent) Conservative Association. Macmillan has represented suburban Bromley in Parliament since 1945.

He chatted with others at the bar in The Bull's Head, downed two ales, shook hands all around and went home.

1400 Liberals Cheer As PM Snuffs Candles

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

QUEBEC (CP) — Seven huffs, seven puffs and Prime Minister St. Laurent blew out the 75 little red candles on his 20-pound birthday cake. The 1400 Liberals cheered.

It was a big party, a sumptuous party in the Chateau Frontenac Hotel Saturday night with almost every Liberal bigwig from across the country in attendance.

Chef Christian Hitz estimated they consumed about 900 pounds of roast beef, 18 bags of small brown potatoes, 40 gallons of green beans. Each of them also got about two glasses of imported red wine in the $10-a-plate dinner.

But it appeared to be more than just a party to help the prime minister celebrate his 75th birthday. The speeches savored of electioneering. Mr. St. Laurent previously had hinted at a possible June vote. Political observers were wondering whether this was the kick-off on the general election campaign.

About 3000 persons turned out in bright, chilly weather to greet the prime minister and his wife at the local railway station. Many thousands more lined the streets of his Quebec East riding as a motorcade of some two dozen cars escorted him to his home.

The prime minister was visibly moved. At the station mayor Wilfird Hamel welcomed him with "joy and pride." Mr. St. Laurent said it was one of the biggest demonstrations he had ever seen.

Liberte Damaged in Storm Off Britain

LE HAVRE, France (AP) — Pounding seas in the English Channel Friday night damaged the stern section of the French liner Liberte, injuring several passengers. Most of the victims suffered only minor injuries.

The 51,839-ton luxury liner was caught in the violent storm between Plymouth, England and Le Havre. High waves damaged the stern area of the promenade deck and smashed 14 windows just after the vessel had called at Plymouth on a voyage from New York.

A score of passengers were tossed around when the waves hit the vessel. The liner finally reached Le Havre hours late. The passengers boarded a special train for Paris. Among them was Jules Moch, a French Socialist leader and a French representative at the United Nations.

The Liberte was damaged in a mid-Atlantic storm last month and had to turn back to Le Havre while bound for New York.

YOUNG ENGINEERS

LONDON (CP) — Athlone fellowships will be awarded this year to 38 young Canadian engineers for two-year courses in post-graduate training in industrial establishments or universities in the United Kingdom. The fellowships are financed by the British government.

"Tight Money" Hits Contractors

VICTORIA (CP) — President Robert Ford of the Victoria Contractors Association said Saturday night a number of Victoria house-building contractors have been forced out of business by government regulations and tight monetary policies.

He said that by the spring, many more will most likely fold because business is lacking.

Ford said house-building in Victoria is down considerably from last year and doesn't appear to be picking up.

Contractor George Wheaton said the situation is the same across the country.

"By cutting out competition between house-builders and industry for building materials," he said, "the government hopes to curb inflation."

Vancouver house builders plan to meet in March to protest government "red tape" regulations and tight money policy which they claim is driving them out of business. It has not yet been decided whether the Victoria Contractors' Association will join Vancouver in the protest.

Better Sales For Copper Seen Probable

NEW YORK (AP) — The overabundance of copper finally has brought a reduction in the big producers' price last week.

Phelps Dodge Corp. led the way in the third cut effected by major producers since their record price of 46 cents was established a year ago. P-D on Thursday announced a two-cent slash, effective Friday, which brought the price to 34 cents a pound.

Next day Kennecott Copper Corp., the largest producer, went to 34, effective immediately.

The Anaconda Co., third largest, took no immediate action, but was expected to follow the others, judging by previous experience.

Sources in the industry speculated whether the latest reduction in price would stimulate demand to any appreciable extent. Some felt consumers had been buying from hand to mouth recently, expecting a price cut and knowing copper was easily available for quick delivery. Other sources suggested the only sure cure for the basic over-supply situation would be a substantial reduction in mine production.

CANADIAN MINE CLOSES

Canada's Granby Consolidated Copper announced it would close its venerable Copper Mountain, B. C., mine because it needed a 45-cent-a-pound price to handle the mine's low grade ores on a profitable basis. The company has two other mines, however, and is developing a larger mine in Manitoba.

January lead sales were reported greater than December's. This partially made up for the fact the government took less lead for the stockpile than producers offered, repeating the December situation.

Stockpile purchases of zinc by the government also were less than the tonnages offered, it was reported, with the government apparently trying to stretch out the stockpile buying program through the first half of the year.

MAJOR METALS PRICES

Copper—34-36 cents a pound, delivered. Foreign 31.25-31.50 cents, nominal, New York.

Lead—16 cents a pound, New York; 15.8 cents, St. Louis.

Zinc—13.5 cents a pound, East St. Louis; 14 cents, New York.

Aluminum—27.1 cents a pound, ingots, shipping point. Pigs 25 cents.

Nickel—74 cents a pound, electrolytic cathodes, Port Colborne, Ont., U. S. duty included.

Silver—91.375 cents an ounce, New York; 80 pence, London.

Tin—$1.03⅛ a pound, New York; 45-mpu,4,—

THESE DANCERS, who appear not to have a care in the world, are shown aboard the ship S.S. Mediterranean on their way to Israel. They are among the 10,000 Jews forced to leave Egypt, where many of them were born. They were brought to Athens by the Egyptian lines "Misr" and transhipped to the Mediterranean for the voyage to Israel. The Egyptian government insists that these Jews are leaving the country of their own accord. The refugees say they are forced out and compelled to sign a statement that they are departing "voluntarily."

Woman Attacked Second Time

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mrs. Barbara Walko suffered a fractured wrist, bruises and abrasions when she was beaten by three men who abducted her early today.

This is the second time Mrs. Walko has been attacked in city streets in the last three weeks.

She told police she was seized by three men early today as she got off a bus. The men pushed her into a car and tried to take her purse. When she resisted, she said, they beat her with their fists. She was thrown out of the car some distance away. Residents of the area, awakened by her screams, called police

Three weeks ago, Mrs. Walko repotred she was attacked by a man with a gun.

Newspaper's Prediction Fulfilled

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP) — "It could happen here!" proclaimed an editorial in the Mountain View Register Leader Friday in pleading for precautions against an airplane disaster.

Soon after the paper appeared, an air force F84 jet fighter exploded and crashed into a home in this San Francisco peninsula city.

The pilot, Capt. Robert S. Mulvehill, 32, from Luke Field, Ariz., was killed. Mrs. Opal Wright, 56, jumped out a window as the plane struck and fired her home. She suffered leg and hip injuries.

Editor George Hall was referring to the Van Nuys, Calif. tragedy in which an airplane crashed into a school yard Thursday after a collision with a jet fighter.

Odds... and Ends ... by M. D. B.

Slight news bulletin on our sportswriter who is no longer "all there" having had his appendix removed. John is doing well and expects to be on his way home to recuperate Tuesday, and hopes to be back at his desk for "light chores" next Sunday. I think what is really hurrying him along, too, is the fact that I have threatened to write a sports column if he doesn't get back here soon. This is more than he can bear to think of. I was just thinking, John, in later years as you look through your book of life, don't be surprised if some of the pages are blank—no appendix.

• • •

And now for a moment let's consider the ground hog. There is no question but that he saw his shadow Saturday, if he was out, so I guess it's six weeks more winter. I don't see how we could get away with any less anyway, for six weeks will take us to the middle of March and who has seen winter disappear before then? It is encouraging to note that three short weeks from today will see us pretty close to the end of February and then it is merely a matter of time till daffodils and tulips will be pushing their shiny green nubs up to sunshine and breezes a good deal warmer than those we have been feeling of late.

• • •

A friend of mine who likes winter gets most annoyed with me for the way I am inclined to run it down. Personally, I can't quite figure out where she gets the idea that I don't like winter. Maybe once or twice a week I have mentioned that the wind has been a bit bitter, or that the temperature is hovering lower than I like to see it hover. Perhaps occasionally I have complained of cold feet or a cold, with the odd remark to the effect that I can scarcely wait for spring, but other than that you haven't heard me complaining, have you?

• • •

I made a terrible mistake in the column the other day, and certainly far from intentional. I was speaking of an ad that was asking for the return of a pair of rubbers valued for sentimental reasons. So often in ads such things are said more as an eye-catcher that people might pause and take a little better note of it. However, in this instance such was not the case. It happened that the rubbers had belonged to the advertiser's father, for whom the family is in mourning. Realizing how precious a departed loved one's possessions are to those left—an old slipper, a favorite tie, a pipe, watch and yes—rubbers, I have felt this mistake quite keenly and would like to offer my apologies to those I have hurt so unintentionally. I am sorry, I meant no ridicule.

Vancouver Little Theater Wins Five Awards in Drama Festival

By PETER BUCKLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP)— The Vancouver Little Theatre, with a festival-ending presentation of "Anastasia," was awarded five of the eight trophies at the close of the British Columbia Regional Drama Festival last week.

The group, which entered the finals of the Dominion Drama Festival last year, successfully defended its B.C. title by winning the Calvert Trophy and a $100 prize for the best play in the four-day festival.

In addition, best actress and actor awards were won by two of its members — Rae Brown for her portrayal of the thoroughly regal dowager Empress of Russia and Jack Humphrey for his part as Prince Bounine, the quick-witted Czarist nobleman whose plot to present a wretched waif as the only surviving daughter of Czar Nicholas II provides the threat with which the play is woven.

It is likely the group will perform in the Dominion finals at Edmonton May 20-25. The best plays from all the regional festivals across Canada, as judged by Cecil Bellamy of London, are invited to the Dominion finals, although not all districts are of necessity included in the finals.

BEST DIRECTOR

Mr. Bellamy also found Joan Chapman's direction of Anastasia was the best in the B.C. festival and awarded Dick Turnbull's sets and lighting for the same play the trophy for best visual production.

The Vancouver Little Theatre, which has been in continuous existence since 1933, was also awarded a special trophy for its contribution to the B.C. theatre movement in 1956.

Mr. Bellamy scattered the other three awards equally among the other three festival plays. The award for best supporting player was given to Verlie Cooter of New Westminster's Vagabond Players for her part as Linda, the compassionate wife in Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman." Verlie Cooter adjudicated at High School Drama Festival held in Nelson Junior High.

The best runner-up drama was, said Mr. Bellamy, "The House of Bernarda Alba" by Spanish playwright Frederico Garcia Lorca, performed by the White Rock Players.

Chilliwack Little Theatre's presentation of "Blithe Spirit," by Noel Coward was adjudged the best comedy. Although it was the only comedy of the festival, Mr. Bellamy said its performance was worthy of merit.

In a brief adjudication of "Anastasia" — written for the French stage by Marcelle Maurette and adapted in English by Guy Bolton— the London adjudicator said: "I have been sincerely moved."

He singled out Edith Dean's performance in the title role, remarking on the "change of Anna (Anastasia) from a poor harried creature into a splendid woman."

She was given an honorable mention as best actress along with Lorraine Amos of White Rock Players for her performance as the mad grandmother in "The House of Bernarda Alba" and Doreen Nuzum of Chilliwack, the ghostly first wife in "Blithe Spirit."

Al Lewis, who played the leading role of Willy Loman in "Death of a Salesman," was runner-up for best actor honors. Mr. Bellamy remarked that it was the first regional festival he had judged where the female players were better than the males.

Franklin Johnson of White Rock was runner-up producer and "The House of Bernarda Alba" was adjudged the best visual production. The adjudicator had two choices for honorable mention as best supporting player — Rene Lund, the little Cockney maidservant in "Blithe Spirit," and Lillian Clare, the charwoman Annouchka in "Anastasia."

Lillian Clare was formerly a member of the Nelson Little Theatre. In the 1950 Festival held here she was awarded certificate as Best Actress.

Making the presentation was Provincial Health Minister Eric Martin, who represented Premier W. A. C. Bennett.

U.K. and U.S. Agree On Defence Projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American and British defence chiefs announced Saturday that in their just-concluded conferences they "reaffirmed the solidarity of their defence objectives."

They said they agreed also on the importance of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in safeguarding the stability of the world.

In a communique issued jointly by Secretary of Defence Charles Wilson of the U.S. and Defence Minister Duncan Sandys of Britain, the two men said that during their series of meetings here this week, they also agreed that:

"Priority must be given to maintaining effective military capacity in a high state of readiness" and "this must include conventional forces as well as nuclear power."

WEAPONS DISCUSSED

The "possible adoption by Britain of certain American weapons was further explored and this matter is being referred to the two governments for further consideration."

The joint statement said "the ministers also reviewed the progress of collaboration between the United States and Britain in research and development" and that "they noted with satisfaction the mutually beneficial results already achieved by co-operation and decided to continue and expand their joint work in this field."

Wilson and Sandys said it was recognized "that financial and economic stability is an essential foundation of military strength and that due account must be taken of this in considering what a country can contribute to the common defence efforts."

The mention of financial and economic stability was an obvious refernce to Britain's plans to cut her defence budget.

Macmillan Declines Invitation

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan told the Russians today he would not be able to visit Moscow in May — an invitation originally accepted by his predecessor, Sir Anthony Eden.

Macmillan sent a personal message to Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin saying he was too busy.

Bulganin and Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev had originally invited Eden after their visit to Britain last year. Eden accepted.

Plan Scout Cub Pack At Palace

LONDON (Reuters) — The Daily Mail says royal plans to have Prince Charles mingle with boys his own age include the formation of a special cub scout pack at Buckingham Palace.

The Mail says "at least 11 of his friends will enrol with him. If the pack is established, the boys are expected to go into camp together."

The newspaper says there is no cub scout pack at the school where Charles became a day pupil this week or he would have joined it.

The eight-year-old heir to the throne has broken with tradition by attending a school for boys between five and 11 as an ordinary day student. Before, heirs to the throne were educated by private tutors.

The Mail says that Charles, in joining a scout pack, will be following "family tradition." The Queen joined the girl guides when she was 11 and Princess Margaret enrolled the same time as a brownie.

Bulldozer Used In Sod-Turning

HANEY, B.C. (CP) — Labor Minister Lyle Wicks, driving a bulldozer instead of using a shovel, officiated at sod-turning ceremonies here Saturday for a new $1,130,000 Maple Ridge hospital.

Also operating the controls of the bulldozer was Reeve Peter Jenwein, representing the Maple Ridge Council.

Construction of the 63-bed hospital is expected to begin today.

The provincial government agreed to pay 50 per cent of costs, while the federal government made a grant of about $60,000 to the hospital. It will be the first general hospital in the Maple Ridge area.
