Israel Turns Down U.S. Plan

Continues To Demand Pledge Of Non-Aggression From Egypt

By WARREN RODGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israel Friday rejected, in effect, an American plan for withdrawal of Israeli troops from disputed Middle East territory. It offered a counter proposal which the state department promptly labelled "not responsive."

The negotiations on a two-part proposal put forward by State Secretary Dulles continued. But they were understood to be foundering on Israel's insistence on a non - belligerency pledge from Egypt or stronger assurances of American support before pulling out of the Gaza Strip and Gulf of Aqaba area.

After authorizing a statement of "regret," Dulles left a meeting with Israel's Ambassador Abba Eban and took off with Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, for a conference with President Eisenhower at Thomasville, Ga.

Eban told reporters after a 75-minute session with Dulles that whether Israel withdraws its troops will depend "on the outcome" of further talks. He presented to Dulles a written statement of his government's position but declined to say what it was. He described it as "constructive" in its spirit and content" and referred to it as "what we propose."

State department press officer Lincoln White shortly afterward made the following statement:

"We regret that the ambassador's reply does not seem responsive to the United States position communicated to Mr. Eban last Monday.

"The matter is being further studied on both sides and we are waiting further clarification of the Israeli position as set forth by Ambassador Eban today. We expect to be in close touch with the embassy before Monday."

White said Dulles will confer with the president on the Israeli issue "and other foreign policy matters" and is expected to return to Washington Saturday afternoon.

Gromyko Replaces Shepilov As Soviet Foreign Minister

West Sees Move as Reversion to Stalin Policy; Two Others Shifted

By VINCENT BUIST

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Russia Friday announced that Andrei I. Gromyko, unsmiling master of the chessboard school of Soviet diplomacy, has replaced Dmitri Shepilov as foreign minister.

The move seemed to be a decisive step back to the Stalinist policies of Vyacheslav Molotov, tutor of the new 47-year-old foreign minister.

Shepilov, 52, the tall former editor of Pravda who sold tanks and jet planes to Egypt, succeeded Molotov as foreign minister only last June.

His 8½-month term of office, associated with the Suez crisis and the Hungarian uprisings, was cut short by a three-line announcement from the Praesidium of the Supreme Soviet. It gave no indication for the change.

Two other shifts were announced. Nikolai S. Patolichev was named first deputy foreign minister in Gromyko's place. He has been a deputy foreign minister since July and a member of the Communist Central committee since 1943. The central committee named Frol R. Kozlov, close collaborator of former premier Georgi Malenkov, an alternate member of the party's ruling Praesidium, formerly the politburo.

DEPARTURE ABRUPT

The surprisingly abrupt departure of Shepilov, only three days after he delivered a major foreign policy statement to the Supreme Soviet, was interpreted here at first sight as strengthening the Communist wing which backs Molotov.

The new foreign minister may take a firmer stand on questions affecting the Communist people's democracies, and probably represents a "no concessions" line of policy.

Gromyko — nicknamed "No-no Gromyko" for his stonewalling in the United Nations—was ambassador in London four years ago. His recall to Moscow in 1953 was said to have been at the personal request of Molotov.

One of Shepilov's last acts as foreign minister was his policy speech to both houses of the Soviet parliament on Tuesday.

There was no definition of Shepilov's new duties as a secretary of the party central committee.

TV Battle To Be Nightly Affair!

LONDON (Reuters) — The nightly parental battles of coaxing children away from the television sets at bedtime reaches the crisis point Saturday when Britain's first non-stop programs begin.

Friday night was the last time British television blacked out for an hour between 6 and 7 p.m.

Those precious 60 minutes usually gave parents a fighting chance to pack their small sons and daughters into bed with the minimum of trouble. The older children were able to concentrate on their homework

But Saturday "the gap" is to be wiped out—with government approval. Last December the government agreed parents could cope alone with the bedtime battles and the older children could apply self-discipline.

With non-stop television, the BBC and commercial television are launching a big campaign to capture more viewers with programs aimed at interesting the entire family.

Monroe Offers Impostor Job

AUGUSTA, Mo. (AP)—Ace imposter Ferdinand W. Demara Jr., who has pretended to be everything from a Canadian naval surgeon to a philosophy professor, won judicial leniency Friday for his latest impersonation.

Demara was given a six months' suspended sentence and put on probation for two years on charges of cheating to obtain a state teachers' licence by false pretences. He pleaded guilty. Conviction carried a seven-year maximu sentence.

The 35 - year - old Lawrence, Mass., native said after his trial he received a telegram from Ray Monroe, managing editor of the Chatham, Ont., Daily News, offering him a job.

"If its legitimate I certainly at least will try it," the man of many names and jobs said.

Monroe is the Canadian newspaper man whose stories led to the royal commission investigation in 1955 of Vancouver's police force.

Demara's most notable impersonation was as Dr. Joseph Cyr.

Culture Plan Goes to Senate

OTTAWA (CP) — Legislation, setting up the Canada Council, a 21-member body with a $100,000,000 purse to foster the arts and give aid to universities, passed through the Commons Friday. It now goes to the Senate.

There was desk-thumping from all but Social Credit members on final reading of the bill. The Social Crediters, who have bucked the legislation from the start, failed in an attempt to sever any connection between the council and UNESCO which they labelled an atheistic and subversive organization.

There were two Progressive Conservative attempts to provide definite rather than indefinite terms for members of the council's investment advisory committee. The Conservatives also tried to put a curb on the unlimited council investment power. Both were beaten down by votes while the bill was under clause-by-clause study.

But Prime Minister St. Laurent, who sponsored the legislation, did accept one Conservative amendment. It will make provision for an annual parliamentary review of council activities.

House Won't Hear Van Horne

OTTAWA (CP) — J. C. Van Horne Friday may have asked his last Commons question.

Speaker Rene Beaudoin twice called to order the Progressive Conservative member for Restigouche - Madawaska, N. B., for overstepping the rules as he attempted during the question period to renew his attack on Labor Minister Gregg.

The second time, Mr. Beaudion decided to stop hearing the member altogether. This might mean Mr. Van Horne will be unable to ask Commons questions during the rest of this Parliament, or even speak. Mr. Beaudion did not specify how long his decision will apply.

Mr. Van Horne last Thursday called Mr. Gregg "a saboteur of the rights of working men." Both Mr. Beaudion and Finance Minister Harris, government house leader, asked that Mr. Van Horne retract his "saboteur" charge. Mr. Harris said the remark was unparliamentary.

Parliament Friday

By The Canadian Press

The Commons gave third and final reading to legislation establishing the Canada Council.

Finance Minister Harris proposed legislation for payment of up to $20,000,000 in municipal grants.

The government moved to increase maximum loaning capacity of the farm loan board by $20,000,000 to $80,000,000.

Opposition members questioned whether the increased amount will be sufficient to meet loan requirements.

Maggie Battled Three Storms

By HUGH DUNLOP
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HALIFAX (CP) — The storm-wracked aircraft carrier Magnificent came up Halifax Harbor Friday on what may be her last trip here. With her came an unlimited number of turbans and camel saddles as souvenirs of her trip to Egypt with Canadian troops and RCAF personnel.

For the Maggie it was the end of a trip that had sent her reeling three times under the force of weather punches that caused, in the words of her skipper, Capt. A. B. Fraser - Harris, "fairly heavy damage, particularly to her forward peak."

Said the skipper, "the Magnificent went through two of the worst storms I have ever seen. Our ship rolled 33 degrees and I have never before been in a ship of this size with a roll like that."

On the flight deck 49 jets took a constant pounding. All had been "cocooned" prior to the voyage but two at the bow had this protective covering smashed by the seas. The flight deck is 60 feet above the water line.

CPA FLIGHTS TO LISBON OKAYED

VANCOUVER — The Canadian government's decision to allow Canadian Pacific Airlines to operate a route from Toronto and Montreal to Lisbon, Portugal, and later to Madrid, Spain, was greeted with enthusiasm at company headquarters here today.

G. W. Grant McConachie, president of CPA, said "we plan to begin service on the route June 1st." The 330 mile Montreal-Lisbon link will be flown non-stop in 12 hours. Distance from Toronto to Lisbon is 3600 miles and would take 14 hours including the stop at Montreal.

Queen, Duke Meet Today

By R. B. MacLURKIN

LISBON, Portugal (Reuters) — Queen Elizabeth is due to meet the Duke of Edinburgh at a military airport near here today after a separation of four months.

The duke, who has been on a 35,000-mile tour around the world since last October, will be waiting for her at Montijo airport where the plane bringing his wife from London lands.

Apart from about 100 reporters from Britain and other countries, few persons have been invited to see the Queen's arrival.

The Portuguese public have been asked to postpone their real welcome until Monday when the Queen and her husband some to Lisbon for the start of their four-day state visit.

Court etiquette rules out a spontaneous public embrace, but as soon as the plane lands at Montijo, the Queen's party will leave the lounge at the rear of the plane so the royal couple may have their reunion entirely in private.

SKEENA FIRST OF NEW DESTROYERS

OTTAWA (CP) — The new de*stroyer escort Skeena will be* commissioned at Burrard Dry Dock Co. Ltd., North Vancouver, March 30, Defence Minister Campney announced Friday.

The Skeena will be the first of the new St. Laurent class destroyers to go into service on the Atlantic coast. The navy has ordered a total of 14.

The new Skeena will be the second of her name to serve in the Canadian navy.

U.S. Top Level Meet Called Over Mideast

By LLOYD MCDONALD

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (CP) —A United States "top-level" meet was called suddenly late Friday, resulting in cancellation of a scheduled weekend session of the United Nations assembly on the Middle East crisis.

Henry Cabot Lodge, chief American delegate, left by air to confer with President Eisenhower and State Secretary Dulles at the president's Georgia vacation retreat over Israel's continued refusal to withdrawal her troops from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba area. As a result, it was learned authoritatively, the Americans pressed the impatient Arab delegations to hold off the debate until Monday.

When the Arabs agreed to this, Prince Wan of Thailand, assembly president, broke into the late-afternoon debate on Russia's condemnation of American aggression to announce postponement of the Middle East discussion.

DELEGATES SURPRISED

The American move caught the other delegations by surprise. External Affairs Minister Pearson of Canada had cancelled a trip home when the Saturday session was called. On hearing of the postponement he decided to remain here during the weekend to continue his attempts to get into the assembly some new proposal acceptable to both sides.

Says Lebanon Would Accept Christian Hanna

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Sun says Lebanese officials have promised to readmit Christian George Hanna to their country if he is denied entry to Canada.

The newspaper says Lebanon would ask only that an affidavit be signed by the captain of the Norwegian freighter Gudveig stating that Hanna stowed away while the ship was in Beirut 17 months ago.

The Sun does nat name the source of its story.

No Decision Yet On Coast Airport

*OTTAWA (CP)—A federal gov*ernment decision to build a new terminal building at Vancouver's Sea Island airport likely will hinge on whether the city is willing to turn over title to the land, Transport Minister Marler indicated Friday.

He told reporters, however, that talks he had earlier Friday with a delegation from Vancouver city council were "more exploratory than positive."

He said no agreement was reached "in principle" as to whether the transport department will take over operation of the airport, now operated by the city of Vancouver, because of "subsidiary considerations" still to be settled.

WOULD ORDER DAM REMOVAL

WEST VANCOUVER (CP) — Fisheries Minister Sinclair says the federal government would or*der removal of the proposed Mo*ran dam if it were found to be obstructing the movement of fish.

He said in an interview Thursday that while the government has no direct authority to prohibit construction of the dam it could order its removal if it interfered with salmon en route to or from their spawning grounds.

He added that if a satisfactory method of getting fish past the projected $50,000,000 Fraser River development were found, it would be considered by the fisheries department. So far such a method had not been found.

Bennett Clears Up PGE Discussion

VICTORIA (CP) — Premier Bennett says CNR president Donald Gordon asked him for first crack at the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, owned by the British Columbia government, if it ever is for sale.

The premier in the legislature Thursday quoted Mr. Gordon as telling him last week when the CNR head was here for the opening of the legislature:

"If the day comes when you want to sell it, I only ask that you let me know as head of the CNR that it is for sale. Just give us a chance, will you?"

$4 Million Goal

KINGSTON, Ont. —March 11 was announced here tonight as the opening date of a $4,000,000 national fund raising campaign for Queen's University by N. R. Crump, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway and General chairman of the fund.

Mr. Crump made the announcement as guest speaker before the annual meeting of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce during an address dealing with the expansion, teaching and research problems confronted by universities across Canada.

Dock Strike Losses $3 Million a Day

NEW YORK (AP) — Dock union leaders split in anger Friday over terms for ending a four-day east coast waterfront strike Their falling out stalled any progress toward settlement.

Forty-five thousand longshoremen are idle from Maine to Virginia and strike losses are mounting at the rate of $3,000,000 a day.

Moreover, the economic paralysis on the docks was spreading inland. Railroads began laying off men because their shipments to the docks have been choked off.

The leaders of the International Longshoremen's Association (Ind.) have been trying for two days to decide whether to take a final peace offer from the shippers.

Twice a faction opposed to the peace terms stormed angrily out of the ILA caucus Friday. It finally was adjourned until Saturday without a final decision.

"A cooling off will be good for them," said ILA counsel Louis Waldman of the overnight adjournment.

Meanwhile, negotiators for the 170-member New York Shippers Association cooled their heels for a second day, awaiting the ILA's decision.

The shippers made what they termed their final contract offer to the ILA in mid-afternoon Thursday. Since then the union's 125-man wage scale committee has been deadlocked over the proposal.

Winter Hits Europe With a Vengeance

LONDON (AP) — Western Europe's winter, one of the mildest for decades, began reverting to true form Friday.

Howling Atlantic gales pounded shipping and damaged sea walls. Ashore, heavy snows and falling temperatures hampered transport.

Avalanches in central Sweden killed six tourists. Heavy snows in the Alps created the winter's first serious avalanche danger there.

In other places weeks of rain brought flood threats that only a hard freeze could avert.

Giant liners found the North Atlantic in an angry mood. The 53,-320-ton United States berthed in Southampton Thursday night seven hours later after a rough crossing from New York.

PASSENGERS HURT

A few passengers and crew members of the 19,206-ton Arundel Castle suffered minor injuries when the liner bucked through a storm in the Bay of Biscay.

The weather picture by countries:

Britain: Ice and fog slowed road and rail traffic from Somerset in southwest England to central Scotland. Rain-swollen rivers of south*ern England, including the* Thames, threatened to spill over their banks.

Sweden: The first biting cold of the winter swept across the country after weeks of springlike weather.

Denmark: The unusual warm weather still held with unsold coal piling up in yards. In Copenhagen restaurant owners were planning to open sidewalk cafes March 1, a month earlier than usual.

FRANCE HIT

West Germany: Rains fell in northern and central regions with the temperature around 42 degrees fahrenheit. Southern Germany had snow and near freezing temperatures.

France: Violent storms hit southwestern district with winds up to 100 miles an hour ripping off roofs and toppling chimneys and telephone poles. Huge waves boiled over sea walls and flooded promenades at the fashionable Atlantic coast resorts of Royan, Hendaye and Saint Jean de Luz.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Young Bruce McBurney was rescued from the waters of English Bay by police Thursday but he wasn't happy about it.

The police, he said, interrupted his fishing.

Bruce told his mother he was in the water with hip waders and a nearby resident who heard him shout to a companion thought it was a call for help and telephoned police.

"And just when I was getting a nibble, too," said Bruce.

VANCOUVER (CP) — The phone rang at Vancouver's new emergency dentistry service at 5:30 a.m. one morning and a man said he wanted to have a tooth extracted right away.

The operator told him that dental offices would be open in less than three hours and asked if he was sure it was an emergency.

"Heck, yes," was the reply. "If I wait around till then, I'll have to take time off from work and I'm a busy man."

He waited.

BALTIMORE (AP)—When a meter reader went to a home to read the meter, he was balked by a woman who claimed she had a vicious dog.

While Parks read the meter, the officers petted the month-old, eight-inch tall "vicious" dog.

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP)—A nine-year-old boy was brought to police headquarters Wednesday when he was found smoking a long cigar.

A policeman assigned to take the boy home asked why he didn't spend his money on candy or ice cream rather than cigars.

Replied the youngster:

"What, and get cavities in my teeth?"

KITIMAT (CP)—CNR president Donald Gordon listened Thursday to two girls describe what it's like to be living in a place where there is an abundance of men. In a word, it was wonderful.

The railway chief chatted with telegraph operators Gloria Patterson and June Baker during a visit he paid to the new CNR station here.

In B.C.'s newest community, they told him, there are 100 men to every single girl. They added, perhaps unnecessarily, that they enjoy it.

Mr. Gordon toured the aluminum plant and visited stores.

ANOTHER WINTER EMPLOYMENT MEETING PLANNED

Another meeting of citizens interested in promoting winter employment will be held in the near future, according to Clifford Sherlock, who was elected chairman of the committee at a meeting last month in the Nelson Unemployment Insurance Commission offices.

Mr. Sherlock said Friday a survey of the Nelson area showed a long-term policy embodying an educational program, Rather than clean up-paint up efforts, would be the only way to produce beneficial results. General feeling after the survey was that Nelson is in a different situation than other areas.

TRAIL (CP) — RCMP here and district and sheriff's officers in Stevens County, Wash., are searching for a 20-year-old woman missing from her home since midnight Thursday.

Police said Grace Frolak may have tried to take her own life. In notes left in her room, Miss Frolak indicated her body would be found in the Columbia River.

When last seen, she was reported wearing black slacks and a red blouse with a navy-blue blazer and brown shoes.

Ask Support For "Y" Junction

Delegates to the annual meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce of Southeastern B. C., will be asked to support the Nelson Chamber of Commerce in its efforts to have Yahk junction changed when they meet Tuesday at Castlegar.

Present "T" junction is said to be a traffic hazard and drives tourists to the U. S., since many of them continue on Highway No. 3 to Kingsgate before realizing they have missed the Canadian turnoff. To correct the situation, businessmen ask that the junction be changed to a "Y", with information booth in the centre.

The government has said it will construct the information booth on the main highway which, businessmen feel, would not be suitable.

Presbytery Officers Elected . . .

Rebuilding Presbyterian Church Hall Here Approved

A meeting of Presbytery of Kootenay of the Presbyterian Church in Canada was held in Nelson this week from Tuesday through Wednesday. The moderator retired from office and in his place elected Rev. Robert Pollock of Creston. Rev. James Young of Trail had been moderator for two years. Rev. George Johnstone of Cranbrook retired as clerk of Presbytery and Rev. J. N. Allan of Nelson was elected in his place.

Other committee heads are home missions, Mr. Young; pensions, Angus Murray of Trail, Christian education, Mr. Pollock; colleges, David Frame of Cranbrook; evangelism and social action, Rev. E. Mackinlay of Kimberley; historical records, Mr. Allan; stewardship and budget, J. M. Macbeth of Kinnaird, and property Mr. Pollock.

The Presbytery discussed at some length programs for organizing Presbyterian men's groups into a church orientated scheme of activities, and an all out program of Christian education. Also much disucssed was a program of evangelization visitation of all Presbyterian families within the bounds of the Presbytery, to be carried out by each congregation. It is hoped that this will take place during the coming year.

HIGHER STATUS

The congregation of Creston asked Presbytery to approve its application of augmented status which will raise them from the title and style of a mission field, and this was approved. This application led the congregational reports in all the Presbytery showing a substantial gain for the year in finance and activity.

First Church, Nelson has already had its application to rebuild the Church Hall approved, and further implementation has been approved.

Rev. G. A. Johnstone of Cranbrook has been appointed to lead the congregation in its campaign for funds this spring. Approval was given to the churches in the Slocan Valley to improve their buildings as needed, and further assistance from the Home Missions Board of the Church has been asked to forward the work in that area.

Presbytery received the information that the congregation at Trail raised a gift of $1000 to the minister to enable him to purchase a new car. A letter of high regard to the Session at Trail was ordered written by the clerk.

The report on Camp Wasa showed an improvement in its position for the Summer work, and the congregations within the bounds are to be asked for strong support of the camp.

Note was made that the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada will meet in Vancouver in June. This is the first time the General Assembly has met in British Columbia since 1903. Mr. Pollock and D. A. Mackellar of New Denver was elected Commissioners to the Assembly.

The next meeting of the Presbytery is set for May 14 at Kinnaird at which time the church there will be dedicated.

Hi-Life

By TOM D'AQUINO

The expulsions at the Calgary high schools have put a touch of worry in the students at our high school. They are hoping that nothing quite that drastic will happen here.

Friday was a big day. Parliament met to give final approval to the amended constitution. Fifty dollars was granted to the Athletic Department for the coming High School Volleyball Tournament.

Yesterday after school, the House C and D mixer was held. At these mixers the students dance, frolic and of course "mix." It was a great success and the star of the show was Dale Disney who did a marvelous interpretation of Elvis Presley.

A pep talk was held yesterday. The cheerleaders yelled and sang and the band played in preparation for the game against Castlegar last night.

Press Club has had its first work party in preparation for the big edition of "Hi-Ways". Square dancing has got well under way. Drama Club members are feverishly learning their lines as the time draws near for presentation of "Electra".

Cabinet has been discussing the possibility of attending a District Students' Council Conference.

To Enforce Rule on Displaying Auto Registrations

City Police Chief Robert Harshaw warned Friday he intends to enforce rules concerning displaying of motor vehicle registrations in a conspicuous place.

The warning was given because, according to the Chief, about 95 per cent of Nelson motorists fail to heed section 8 of the Motor Vehicle Act, which states motor vehicle registration must be carried in a reasonably conspicuous place while the vehicle is on any highway.

Reason for this is so that police officers can locate the owner of a vehicle quickly if necessary. Most popular place to carry registrations in the car is on the steering column.

Report From Victoria

By JAMES K. NESBITT

VICTORIA — Thomas Uphill, Labor, Fernie, made another legislative speech Friday. How many he doesn't know, but he has been making legislative speeches since 1920, an all-time Canadian record.

Mr. Uphill started by saying quietly: "Once again we are here."

He congratulated the premier on being re-elected "to that noble position". He said to the premier: "We've always found you fair though sometimes you're unkind to me, but I know you do it for my own good."

Mr. Uphill welcomed the lady members, Mrs. Haggen and Mrs. Brown and said if they want to know anything they can ask him because he knows the legislative buildings from basement to tower.

He said, however, he "always is afraid a lady will run against him and he'd rather run against 10 men".

The premier enjoyed the joshing Mr. Uphill gave him. "Coming over to this side of the House is a sure stepping stone to being premier," Mr. Uphill said.

As to the $28 rebate on home taxes, Mr. Uphill said the premier sure is the greatest magician he has ever known. Mr. Uphill had a bouquet for the government — he said Fernie riding has some of the finest roads in the province.

The senior member of the House by many years had an exciting week — sitting at the Lieut.-Governor's side at the Government House dinner, and being asked by His Honor to make a speech, something that is ordinarily never done at state dinners, and Mr. Uphill was further delighted because His Honor sent some of the flowers from the dining table to Mrs. Uphill at Fernie.

Mr. Uphill came out for Sunday sport. He said Vancouver voted for it and it should come. A minority of the people is ruling the majority in this regard, Mr. Uphill said.

"Take the miners," he said. "Sunday is the only day they can enjoy themselves. I'm strong on Sunday sports."

He said he'd like to deal with what he called the "crazy, idiotic laws dealing with sweepstakes."

"We all like to take a chance, Mr. Uphill said. "If told we can't do something, we like to do it all the more."

Mr. Uphill read a letter from Robert Lilley, secretary of the Miners' Union in Fernie, asking that widows' compensation be increased from $75 to $100 a month. "These poor women can not live on $75 a month these days" Mr. Uphill said. "That may have been all right a few years back, but times are changing rapidly and a dollar today isn't what 50 cents was worth a few years ago.

"I plead with this government to alter this situation and bring up the widows' compensation pensions to $100 a month as the Fernie miners want."

Mr. Uphill urged the government to press Ottawa to wipe out the old age pension rule that says pensioners must live in Canada.

He said "I know scores of old age pensioners who would be happier with sons and daughters in the States, yet they can't live there without losing their pensions. The younger people want to care for their old parents, but old folks don't like being paupers, even in the homes of their well-to-do children.

"As it is now, we force hundreds of our old pensioners to live by themselves in small cold rooms, when they might be living happily in the sunshine with those they love.

"Its a disgraceful state of affairs and it's not befitting the richness and the dignity of this great country of ours."

Mr. Uphill expressed some displeasure over the fuss being made over Hungarians and said he thought the idea might be to get cheap labor and beat unions.

The Fernie MLA then dealt with last September's election and said it was the "crookedest in history." His friends on the coast, he said, found they couldn't vote absentee.

Mr. Uphill grew very furious and pounded his desk as he talked of the election. "All that I ask is fair play" said Mr. Uphill. "But I still have faith in the premier."

After half an hour Mr. Uphill sat down, promising more would be heard from him later in the session.

Chamber Considers Armory Closure Notice

Army, navy and air force units who presently use the Nelson Armoury, will have no home if notice to close the building permanently at the end of this month is carried out by the Dominion Government, members of the industrial and nation affairs committees of the Nelson Chamber of Commerce, as well as the Chamber executive, learned Friday night in a special meeting in the Chamber rooms.

Army authorities using the quarters received an "abrupt" letter recently advising of the shutdown, R. A. Jack, who represents the Air Cadets, told the businessmen. Chamber sent a wire to H. W. Herridge, MP for Kootenay West, asking an immediate probe into the problem.

Several groups, including the Canadian Legion, have protested the action. Rev. J. N. Allan, president of the Nelson Ministerial Association, said he will present the question to fellow ministers who value youth work now being done in the building.

Considerable work has to be done to the Armoury, Mr. Jack said, J. F. Waters, local contractor, said he was preparing to tender when the government suddenly cancelled the order without giving any reason.

Air cadet work now done in the Armoury involves 40 boys and 20 girls, Mr. Jack said.

Odds . . . and Ends

When people start talking about dogs they are barking right up my alley and of course I can't let the opportunity slip by without adding a word or two. All this business of dogs on schoolgrounds takes me back a way to those old faithfuls that used to haunt our schoolgrounds. One I remember particularly, was a beautiful collie named Tweet.

• • •

He was always seen with tongue lolling out, wagging along behind one or the other of the two sisters Jean or Aggie, but was never averse to a friendly pat or hug from any of the rest of us. He was every bit as beautiful and wonderful as Lassie.

• • •

But what we liked most about Tweet was the way he had of finding his way into Jean's room at school. We would hear the click of claws on the floor and there would be Tweet. Books would be forgotten and the teacher would find herself talking to the back of our heads as we craned our necks to see him — you'd think we had never seen a dog before. Jean of course would jump up and escort him out, much to our sorrow and lessons would be resumed with regret. We were so grateful to Tweet, though for even that little break, but I suppose it was hard on the teacher.

• • •

I often wonder if teachers remember back to when it was fun to have a dog walk into a schoolroom

• • •

Was up at Mount St. Francis and one old body remarking on the lovely day it was Thursday said, "Won't it be wonderful when the grass is green again." There was a world of hope and longing in her words, for it meant escape from four walls that hold people fast when it is cold and wet and slippery underfoot. It is such a relief when Spring brings its promise of another Summer to them.

• • •

All the streets running downhill are miniature rivers and everywhere is the scrape of shovel on cement as layers of ice and sand are chipped and shovelled away. Friday there were some dry bare spots on Baker Street.

• • •

I read rather a comical bit in a little booklet that comes to the News: "It's a shame when success turns someone's head it doesn't wring his neck a little."

Many Curtain Calls for Winnipeg Ballet at Trail

TRAIL — A spirited performance by Royal Winnipeg Ballet was applanded by a capacity audience Friday night in Trail Junior High School Auditorium.

The company displayed excellent miming and imaginative interpretation in a program ranging from comedy to tragedy and provocative fantasy. Their skill was equalled in both traditional ballet and the contemporary dance idiom. Costumes, lighting and two piano accompaniment provided more than adequate background.

There were many curtain calls after the final curtain for the entire corps and choreographer Ruthanna Boris, who was soloist in "The Dying Swan."

Frank Hobi was choreographer for the only other solo number, entitled "Dance of the Sabra" in which he appeared. Paddy McIntyre and Alfa Liepa turned in excellent performances in "The Comedians."

INVITE SCHOOL CHILDREN WRITE JUBILEE SLOGAN

School children in Nelson School District No. 7 will be invited to participate in the work of the Diamond Jubilee and B. C. Centennial Committee by writing the slogan to be used in publicity work, E.T. Leveque made the motion setting up a $10 prize for the winning slogan at the regular Friday meeting of the Jubilee Committee.

Final details have not been completed, but it is planned that principals of all schools in the district will be asked to help. It is expected that the contest will run for about a month, with judging to commence about the middle of March.

The committee has set the early date for judging slogans because they wish to include the winning slogan on the stationery to be used by the committee and other publicity material. Further details on the contest will be released shortly.

Celebrations Committee Calling Public Meeting

Nelson Diamond Jubilee and B.C. Centennial Committee decided to call a public meeting on Wednesday Feb. 27, inviting all organizations in Nelson and district to send at least two delegates to the meeting. The motion setting up the meeting was made by T. S. Shorthouse at the regular Friday meeting of the Committee held at the Chamber of Commerce Building.

In calling the public meeting, the committee is asking that all interested citizens in Nelson and district with ideas and suggestions to make to the Jubilee Committee regarding celebration of the city's diamond jubilee this year and B.C.'s centennial in 1958 present them at the meeting. All church organizations, service clubs, men's and women's groups in the city and district may attend the open meeting, along with all private citizens wishing to help with the work of the committee.

Representatives of the service clubs will be asked to present ideas suggested by their organizations to the meeting along with offers of projects they would like to sponsor. It is also planned to set up finance and publicity committees at the meeting and consider ideas for designing an "official crest" to use on out-going mail and publicity literature.

Mr. Shorthouse was invited to investigate the possibility of providing seals to be sold to citizens for them to use on mail posted from Nelson and report back to the next meeting. The committee also decided to advertise in the Pictorial Edition of The Daily News.

The committee took no action on a previous proposal to name two or more women delegates to their committee, deciding it should be left until the public meeting to decide on this matter. They also deferred action on naming a vice-chairman to act when chairman V. C. Owen finds it impossible to attend meetings, or alternative date or time for holding the regular meetings.

Chapman Camp Hunter's Goat Trophy Captures Championship

CRANBROOK — A mountain goat trophy, entered by George Kalmakov of Chapman Camp in the 1956 East Kootenay Game Trophy competition won for him the grand championship and Cranbrook Hotelmen's trophy and top award in goat class. On Boone and Crockett points measurement basis the head scored 49½ points. Official championship listings in the Boone and Crockett book of records range from 47 to 56¾ points.

Awards in the six championship classes were presented at the annual Game Trophy dinner under Cranbrook Rod and Gun Club auspices at the Mount Baker school auditorium Wednesday night when 320 guests dined on elk hamburger and stew.

Petite Shirley Travis of Natal won top place and trophy for elk with a score of 345 for the antlers she entered. Official records for elk score between 331 and 441¾. Second place elk was entered by Weldon Person of Galloway and third by Leon Houle of Kimberley.

Ray McMahon won the mountain sheep championship with a trophy scoring 162½ against the official championship records range of 175 to 207¼. Robert Lemaster of Skookumchuck was second and H. Stefano of Natal third.

Top moose was entered by Frank Botteril of Cranbrook, scoring 166⅛ against records range of 180¾ to 239⅝. Second place was Percy Corsorini of Fernie and third, Terry Roberts of Cranbrook, now in the Canadian Army.

Mule deer champion was entered by Ernie Baker of Fernie and scored 172⅛, with official records scores ranging from 165½ to 200⅝. Second was Andy Bjorn of Cranbrook at 167¾ and third E. H. Hardy of Cranbrook at 157¼.

Andy Rosicky of Wardner entered the championship whitetail deer which scored 153⅛ against official records range of 172 to 245⅞. Second place was Vernon Doll of Cranbrook and third Arthur Harrad of Fernie.

Mr. Kalmakov's goat won its championship with David Sherrett of Cranbrook taking second place and W. Terry Bloomer of Kimberley third. T. V. Hogarth, Hotelmen's president, presented the grand championship held last year by Steve Romanick, and Earl Johnston presented the other trophies and prizes.

The Bull Shooters' Trophy was presented to Rusty Wright for his account of the beaver engineering that flooded out his cabin repeatedly on the Upper Moyie River, solved when the beavers swiped the stove-pipe from his cabin for controlling the level of the dam.

Heads which qualify under the Boone and Crockett measurement system within the official records range will be forwarded for continental competition at the next Boone and Crockett awards. Under the measuring system, with Glen Smith authorized for this check in East Kootenay, scores are reached by adding length and circumference measurements of antler or horn beam, points on the beam, inside and outside antler span, and penalizing this final tally with deduction for lack of symmetry and other abnormalities. In the various classes officially recorded, heads entered from East Kootenay standing in the most recent record book of the Boone and Crockett Club total twenty-eight.

Cranbrook Club president R. E. Fennessy was chairman for the affair, with Game Biologist Glen Smith main speaker. He emphasized the economic and recreational value of game to the East Kootenay area, which he termed second only to East Africa as the world's top big game area.

Attending the dinner as official guests were Game Commission Inspector C. E. Estlin of Nelson, biologists Smith and Frank Maher, Game Wardens Ross Farquharson of Cranbrook, Bud Butler of Golden, Jack Mackill of Invermere, Johnny Bayley of Canal Flat, and Ted Williams of Fernie, and Hatchery Officer Hugh Sparrow.

Canadian Daughters League prepared and served the dinner, and the evening concluded with Cranbrook Film Council documentaries on hunting and fishing.

Creston CARS Reviews Year, Joyce Elected

CRESTON — The annual meeting of Creston branch of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society Thursday night featured election of officers by the small attendance.

Mrs. G. L. Anderson conducted the meeting and Mrs. Russell Joyce took the chair for the election. President is Mr. Joyce, vice-president Mrs. G. McKelvey, treasurer Mrs. Anderson, secretary Mrs. M. Kingsley. All were elected by acclamation. Delegate to the Coast for the annual provincial meeting early next week will be Mrs. Kingsley.

It is planned to ask permission for holding another tag day this year, and further plans for this will be made at the next meeting March 28.

The 1956 campaign fund drive amounted to $916.88, and the quota was $1000.

LARGE AREA

The work of the physiotherapist was stressed. Monthly average of patients treated in Creston was 12 arthritics and three non-arthritics. In a month there were an average of 29 treatments for arthritics and seven for non-arthritics. In the territory the branch served 37 arthritic patients and 16 non-arthritics. Some of the treatments are given in homes, others in hospitals and clinics. The physiotherapist is Miss Elaine Rapson of New Zealand, who covers a district from Fernie, Cranbrook, Kimberley, Invermere and over to Creston and Canyon to Gray Creek. In the last six months since she has been here she averages 1700 miles per month travel.

The branch thanked the Creston Valley Hospital board and the hospital staff and engineers for their cooperation for the clinic provided at the hospital, and thanked the local Press for its support. Thanks were also expressed to J. Liposky of the Kootenay Hotel for providing a sample room for meetings free of charge.

Upper Kootenay, Elk Valleys In Soil Survey

Report No. 5 of the British Columbia Soil Survey entitled "Soil Survey of the Upper Kootenay and Elk River Valleys in the East Kootenay District of British Columbia" has recently been released by the provincial department of agriculture. The surveyed area extends from the Montana border north to Canal Flat and the National Park on the Kootenay River, and from Elko north to a point about due east of Canal Flat on the Elk River.

This is a pioneer survey with 28 soils mapped, named, sampled, and analyzed for the first time. Mapping was carried out on a detailed reconnaissance basis with the use of air photos. Final maps, showing soils in color, have a scale of one mile to one inch, and cover a total mapped area of 875,605 acres, of which 34,891 acres are arable without irrigation; 300,821 acres potentially irrigable; and 539,893 acres non-arable.

OTHER DATA

Besides a detailed description of each soil and its present and potential use, the report includes sections on History and Development, Towns, Population, and Industries, Transportation, Agriculture, Climate, Native Vegetation, Phsiography, Drainage and Geology.

Chemical analyses of the soils on the average indicate a general low level of organic matter, a phosphorus content lower than mapped soils of the Okanagan, a normal potash content, and an exceptionally high content of calcium carbonate (lime).

FERNIE MAN ON TOP RIFLE TEAM

FERNIE — Pte. H. S. C. Clark of Fernie is among men of No. 28 Central Ordnance Depot team from Camp Shilo, Man., who have won the Cambridge Challenge Bowl representing the Regular Army unit rifle championship. They have won the Cambridge Bowl for the third time.

The bowl itself was presented to the Canadian Army by officers of the British Army just before the last British troops left Canatism Society Thursday night feaawarded each year to the unit making the highest score on annual classification practices, providing more than 80 per cent of the unit's strength fires.

Thomas Wilcox Dies In Burnaby

FRUITVALE — Word has been received here of the death of a former oldtimer of the district who had been living in Burnaby, Thomas Wilcox, in his 76th year. He is survived by his widow, two sons, Thomas and Robert both of Fruitvale, a daughter, Mrs. J. Heidsma of Vancouver and several grandchildren.

330 Music Festival Entries to Deadline

TRAIL — Entries for the 24th Kootenay Music Festival to be held here March 29 to April 5 inclusive have been slow coming in to Friday's deadline. The total of individual entries is 330, which means a competitive field of many times that number in children and adult competitors.

However, last minute entry forms in the mails will likely swell the total to record numbers, it was anticipated by the sponsoring Kiwanis Club's festival committee.

"Although entries have officially closed, we don't want to keep anyone out who wishes to enter," Mrs. P. C. Stewart, secretary, said Friday.

It was indicated that next week would be the latest entries could be received, as programs must be printed early in March in time for the festival which is earlier than usual this year.

FRUITVALE PARK BUDGET $1500

FRUITVALE — The Fruitvale Parks Board, at its first meeting after appointment, set $1500 as the sum required to carry on this year.

Among the projects receiving consideration were fencing of the Recreation Park, roofing of the cement slab at the park and the further clearing of Hillcrest Park, placing playground equipment and construction of a small tennis court.

BORDER HAZARD

BUDAPEST (AP) — Hungarian newspapers daily report arrests of "man smugglers" — persons who live near the Austrian border and help Hungarian refugees cross that frontier. One 19-year-old girl jailed was claimed to have received in payment all the furniture and clothing of one Budapest family she aided.

A Bold and Imaginative Plan

It is of course gratifying to find that industrialists are looking to British Columbia as a fertile field for investment. It means that the province will develop rapidly and become more important economically and socially. The announcement in the legislature that Swedish interests have concluded an agreement to develop a large and hitherto untouched area of the province will be a stimulus to our already lively economy.

The plans while nebulous at present involve a large expenditure, something between $250,000,000 and $1,000,000,000. It is proposed to develop all resources in the area, minerals as well as forests. The Wenner-Gren interests are conducting surveys at a cost of $5,000,000 to determine the possibilities of the area after which they will present their proposals to the government.

Since transportation plays the vitally important role in such undertakings the Swedish company proposes to build a 400 mile monorail railway which will connect with the PGE at Fort McLeod. The construction of this should not be too difficult as it will follow along the great valley of the Rocky Mountain Trench and operation will be less difficult than with the ordinary railway since the cars are carried along above the ground.

British Columbia is essentially a province of large undertakings requiring large capital expenditures. A large part of this capital can only come from abroad. Most of it has come in previous years from the United States, but this is Swedish capital backed by Swedish experience in the same kind of conditions as are to be found in this province. It is this experience which makes the project so valuable to the province.

With the huge capital required in such undertakings, there is always the danger of finding the province and its natural resources parcelled out among a few great interests. A general reserve has been placed on the land until such time as the Wenner-Gren Company has decided on the route of its railway, but the agreement with the government provides that other interests will be allowed to move into the area.

This is highly satisfactory, for the good of the province demands that smaller concerns should be allowed to operate. It probably is agreeable to the Wenner-Gren Company, since it will provide greater tonnage for its railway.

It is a bold and imaginative plan, with excellent chances of success, and not the least of its advantages is that it will mean more revenue for the Pacific Great Eastern.

Making Use of the Gyro Park Sign

A big "E" shines from Gyro Park to remind residents of Nelson and this district that this week, February 10 to 15, was National Electrical Week. It is also Heart Month, and next week will be Brotherhood Week, and then it will be Red Cross Month, and some time towards the end of the year it will be National Cat Week.

It is to be doubted if any who see the big "E" will be thrilled to learn that it is National Electrical Week, for the truth is that if there is anything which bores the average individual it is these weeks. There are vastly more "Weeks" than there are weeks in the year, and the only ones really interested are the people who invent them.

But the framework on the Gyro Park should be used. It was originally erected to provide for a star to mark the Christmas season, and that is undoubtedly popular, for everyone knows when Christmas is coming, but there is no reason why other emblems should not be placed upon it. In fact it would be a good idea—providing that they were carefully chosen.

Probably it is too much to ask the City Council, who have much more important matters to consider, to draw up a program of signs, but there is no reason why our service organizations should not submit recommendations.

In the meantime, leave the big "E". It will serve to mark Education Week at the beginning of March.

Scenic and Safe

Fears that the nation's new system of interstate highways will be lined with billboards have prompted Congress to study the advisability of federal legislation, chiefly in the interest of preserving scenic beauty.

A more impressive argument might be put forward in the interest of highway safety. The purpose of the billboard is to attract the attention of the motorist. Anything which diverts his attention creates a hazard.

The federal road system is designed for high speeds, much as are expressways. The higher the speed, of course, the greater the danger from anything which takes the driver's eyes off the road, even momentarily.

Roadside scenery is important, too. But the man who wants to enjoy nature's beauty is unlikely to be the user of the multi-lane, limited access type of highway if he has a choice. Experience has taught him that turnpikes and the like are for those who want to get somewhere in a hurry. If he has aesthetic yearnings, he turns to the byroads. He knows it is there, and not on the carefully graded and banked interstate roads, that a green valley will unfold from the top of the next hill or vista of lovelliness will be his reward for conquering the next hairpin curve.

We would advise those interested in beauty to join forces with those who place the larger emphasis on safety. Their argument will be the more persuasive, and if they succeed they still will be accomplishing their original purpose. For if billboards are controlled as a safety measure, beauty remains undefiled, too — as much of it, that is, as turnpike travel allows.—Detroit News.

?Questions? ANSWERS

Open to any reader. Names of persons asking questions will not be published. There is no charge for this service. QUESTIONS WILL NOT BE ANSWERED BY MAIL except where there is obvious necessity for privacy

Inquirer, Nelson—Please give me names and addresses of monument companies west of Winnipeg. Would also like addresses of firms in West that buy books that may be collectors' items.

B.C. Monumental Works, Ltd., Vancouver; Albert J. Hart Memorials, Calgary, Alberta; Regina Monumental Co., Regina, Sask.; Stewart Monumental Works Ltd., Victoria, B.C., to mention a few. There are, of course, the Nelson Granite and Monumental Co., Front Street, Nelson. Watch this column for reply to second question.

C. H., Silverton—What kind of polish should one use on blonde furniture? Is it advisable to use wax on rubber tile floor covering?

Special polishes are sold for use on blonde furniture, also any reliable neutral polish would be quite safe. Regarding the rubber tiles, we advise you to consult a builder or building supply store.

J. S., Trail—Would you please tell me how to serve and what to serve for a wedding breakfast at home?

Here is a wedding-breakfast often recommended: Fruit juice; fill hot patty cases with creamed chicken and serve with French fried potatoes, and fresh or frozen peas; bride's salad—a simple salad; tomato and cucumber slices, served separately; rolls and butter, ice cream, wedding cake and cookies, coffee, tea. The wedding cake occupies the middle of the table. If you do not wish to have a sit-down breakfast, serve buffet-tyle. This is much easier to manage and very fashionable. At some weddings, instead of the hot chicken patties, a variety of sandwiches are served, also sausage rolls, or plate-salads that can be eaten standing. It is really all a question of size of room, number of guests, whether the wedding is to be very formal or whether it is more of a family gathering with a few close friends in attendance.

Creeping Paternalism

The proposal of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce regarding deferred income tax cuts symbolizes a regrettable trend of the times. The concept of a paternalistic Government—all-wise, all-powerful —has become so embedded in our political philosophy that the Chamber's suggestion stirs barely a ripple of protest.

The idea is deceptively simple. By collecting more money than it needs, the Government would drain off purchasing power and ostensibly help combat inflation. The difference — a form of compulsory savings—would be refunded ni the form of tax reductions when the inflationary danger had passed.

It is not surprising that Finance Minister Harris reportedly was in favor of the suggestion. It is the sort of paternalistic mumbo-jumbo his Government and party have perfected through constant usage; and neither he nor his predecessors have had any qualms about taking money unnecessarily from taxpayers to whom it rightfully belonged. But it is a dangerous philosophy which can lead only to a state in which the people are the servants of the Government, rather than the Government being the servant of the people.

In essence, the Chamber's suggestion is that since the people cannot be trusted with their own money, the Government — which knows what is best for its subjects — should look after it for them.

On economic grounds, too, the proposal is questionable. Inflation will continue so long as governments continue to spend money as though the supply were unlimited. This being so, the dollars to be paid back to submissive taxpayers when Ottawa deemed the crisis had passed would be depreciated, worth less than the dollars which the Government forcibly took from them.

But th eprinciple of an omniscient Government regulating the financial affairs of its taxpayers is by far the most serious and questionable aspect of the Chamer's proposal. Such arbitrary power can be excused only in time of war, when certain liberties must be suspended temporarily to help preserve them permanently. It cannot be condoned at any other time, for any other purpose.

Refuse New Trial For James Carey

OTTAWA (CP) — The Supreme Court of Canada Friday refused a new trial for James Carey, 26, of Vancouver and fixed March 19 as the date for his execution for the murder of a Vancouver policeman.

The court allowed an appeal by the attorney-general of British Columbia against granting Carey a new trial. It also set aside a judgment of the Court of Appeals for B.C. granting Carey a new trial on grounds that the trial judge's charge to the jury was incorrect in law.

Carey was convicted last April 27 of murder in the shooting of Constable Gordon Sinclair Dec. 7, 1955.

The hanging of Joseph Gordon, also convicted of murder in the slaying, was postponed last month in Vancouver to March 19 from Feb. 12. Gordon's appeal against the sentence already has been rejected.

CAN GO TO CABINET

The two men can apply to the cabinet to have their death sentences commuted to life imprisonment. The cabinet can also take such action on its own accord.

The court's judgment said:

"The appeal is allowed, the order of the Court of Appeal set aside and the conviction restored. March 19, 1957, is fixed as the date of execution."

The case was heard by seven members of the court. Chief Justice Patrick Kerwin and Justices Robert Taschereau, I. C. Rand, J. H. G. Fauteux and Douglas Abbott concurred in the judgment. Justices C. H. Locke and John Cartwright dissented.

Prosperity Predicted By Humphrey

WASHINGTON (AP)—Treasury Secretary George Humphrey foresees continued prosperity for the next 18 months.

"There are no signs of a recession," Humphrey said in a secret testimony before a House of Representatives appropriations subcommittee Jan. 25. The group made the testimony public Friday.

Humphrey, who cautioned that a continued high level of government spending could lead to a depression that would "curl your hair," again urged that "everyone go to work" on trimming expenditures. He said business, labor and local governments must join federal agencies in avoiding inflationary steps.

Biologists's Comments Amaze BCPC

VICTORIA (CP) — B.C. Power Commission officials said today they were "amazed" at a statement recently attributed to David Hurn, biologist with the provincial fish and game department.

Mr. Hurn, speaking to the Alberni district Fish and Game Association, is reported as saying:

"We must not have a repitition of the Elsie Lake situation, when fishing interests were not considered in the granting of a water licence."

BCPC officials said the statement "is completely contrary" to the "pattern of co-operation which has been established" with the game department.

"Close co-operation has been maintained with senior officials of both the federal and provincial fisheries departments.

"Expenditures . . . in excess of $60,000 are being made by the B.C. Power Commission in studies of the problem, quite exclusive of the additional capital expenditures that will have to be made to safeguard the fish resources," a statement issued by the BCPC said.

Mr. Hurn was believed speaking in reference to power developments using water from the Ash River.

Big Future for B.C. Chemical Plants Seen

VANCOUVER (CP) — A glowing future in the chemical industry was predicted for British Columbia here by a New York industrialist.

Robert L. Murray, chairman of Hooker Electro Chemical Co. Ltd., told the annual meeting of the Industrial Development Commission that expanding primary and secondary industry in B.C. is opening up a huge market for chemical products.

The Hooker Company is constructing a $12,000,000 chemical plant in North Vancouver.

Mr. Murray said specific developments which will benefit the chemical industry are those in mining, forestry, agriculture, fishing and manufacturing.

He said the growing pulp and paper industry is a major market for chemical supplies.

LOAN DEFERMENT UNDER STUDY

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said recently negotiations are proceeding towards deferment of an interest payment on a $5,000,000,000 Canadian-United States loan to Britain in 1946.

Replying to a Commons question by Howard Green (PC-Vancouver Quadra) as to whether the $22,000,000 interest payment owing to Canada will be deferred as requested by Britain, the prime minister said the matter is "still under active consideration."

He said deferment by Canada is tied to a loan agreement between Britain and the United States. That agreement did not cover the present situation and the government was considering the possibility of an amendment to that agreement.

He told Mr. Green that Canada could act alone in the matter. But since she had supplied only 25 per cent of the $5,000,000,000 Canadian-U.S. loan, action by Canada alone would not be overly beneficial to Britain.

TORONTO (CP) — Canadian General Investments, Ltd. had a net profit of $1,399,912, or $1.46 a share in the year ended Dec. 31, 1956 compared with $1,154,958, or $1.60 a share in the previous year. The company increased its number of shares to 960,941 from 720,706.

B.C.'s Chamber of Mines Considers Reserve Order

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan says the B. C. government has "no intention" of closing the greater part of the 40,000-square-mile Wenner-Gren development area to exploration firms and prospectors.

He has given assurances to B. C. mining interests that the reserve placed in the Rocky Mountain trench covers only a small portion of the Wenner-Gren survey area.

Mr. Kiernan's statements were reported by Tom Elliott, manager of the B. C. and Yukon chamber of mines. The minister is supplying mining interests with a copy of the order passed in December detailing boundaries of the reserve, Mr. Elliott said Thursday.

TO STUDY ORDER

Many mines officials have interpreted the agreement between Axel Wenner-Gren interests and the government as giving the development corporation preferential rights on all mineral deposits in the trench region.

Mr. Kiernan said his department has every intention of encouraging further exploration by other firms in order fully to develop producing mines.

Mr. Elliott said members of the chamber of mines will give the reserve order "a very careful study" and if the industry sees that its interests are not affected "we would naturally support the plan."

Oil Revenues Increase Alta. Surplus

EDMONTON (CP) — $10,000,000 increase in oil revenues offset rising government expenditures to give Alberta a net surplus of $8,834,670 for the nine months ended Dec. 31.

The government has budgeted for a $5,000,000 over-all deficit in the 1956-57 fiscal year. With the period of heaviest government expenditures past, a large surplus appears likely.

An interim financial statement released today by provincial auditor C. K. Huckvale shows a $73,862,080 balance after income-account expenditures of $115,986,354 and the net surplus was calculated after capital payments of $69,220,684.

In the corresponding 1955 period the government had a net deficit of nearly $2,000,000 and was forced to dip into accumulated reserves. Thus the cash position of the province was improved by $10,741,616 at Dec. 31.

The accumulated reserves stood at $138,829,784 at Dec. 31, not including an estimated $175,000,000 out in government loans and advances.

Tax Rebate Scheme Not For Alberta

EDMONTON (CP) — Premier Manning said Friday his government is not considering introduction of a property tax rebate scheme for homeowners similar to one being introduced in British Columbia.

The premier made the statement when asked to expand on a paragraph in the speech from the throne, read during the opening of the legislature.

The paragraph said: "My government believes it is of the utmost importance in the reorganization of provincial - municipal responsibilities and the allocation of revenues accruing from the development of natural resources that all practical steps be taken to improve the financial position of the individual citizen and thus lessen his dependence on the state for social and economic security."

Other than to say the government plans no move similar to that in B.C., Premier Manning declined to elaborate on the paragraph. He said he may deal with it later in the session.

$10,000 Bail Granted Suspect

VICTORIA (CP) — Bank robber suspect Barry Irwin Keele, 26, of Victoria, was granted $10,000 bail and remanded without plea Friday to appear Monday in city police court.

He is charged with the armed hold-up last Monday of Canadian Bank of Commerce James Bay branch, from which $3000 was taken.

Two men were reported to have carried out the robbery, one having remained outside in a stolen car while the other entered the bank.

A second suspect, detained after Keele was arrested in his company early Thursday in Saanich, was released after questioning by city detectives.

None of the stolen money has been recovered.

Claims B.C. Parliament Uses Two Sets of Rules

VICTORIA (CP) — CCF leader Robert Strachan criticized the "double standard in principles" of the Social Credit Government, in a recent speech to the Oak Bay CCF Association.

The provincial opposition leader said the government has been using "two sets of rules—one set for each side of the floor" in the legislature.

He said he couldn't help recalling, as the attorney-general urged the firing of two legislative officials on opening day, that "the same man last year held an affidavit with more damning charges than those laid against Mr. Monteith."

The charges, made against former Lands and Forest Minister Robert Sommers, were never made public, Mr. Strachan said. "There are two sets of rules."

INFLATION FEARS

He also said there was fear in high places over unchecked inflation.

"This fear, he said, was evident from the annual reports of the presidents of every bank in the country. "When the Premier taunts me with 'you're in favor of tight money,' the only inference I can draw is that the Premier is in favor of inflation," he said.

"I think tight money is the lesser of two evils."

As a stop-gap measure against inflation he urged the provincial government to go into the corporate tax field.

"The revenue collected from industry would offset the tax burden on the individual," he said.

Fruitvale WI's History Recalled

FRUITVALE — "Since its formation in 1921 the Women's Institute has played an important part in the development of this community," Mrs. F. M. Peitzsche told those who attended the WI meeting held at her home.

"It was in summer of 1920 that definite steps were taken to form an Institute here and the charter was secured in February of 1921. Only two of the original members are still active, Mrs. D. C. Mason and Mrs. R. C. Webster. In its long history, the WI sponsored a hot lunch program for school children, garden clubs, meetings which saw the births of the Fruitvale Recreation Association and the Fruitvale PTA. For many years it sponsored and helped Guides, Scouts, Brownies and Cubs. Many a needy family has known a helping hand. A library of books was maintained for many years at a local store."

During the business period, Mrs. Homer Godin and Mrs. Karl Grupp were selected to represent the membership at a special community meeting Feb. 26.

BEAVERTAIL SOUP "NO JOKE"

THE PAS, Man. (CP)—Beavertail soup is no joke, a cook of the north said Thursday.

Mrs. Bernice Redpath MacIver, a trapper's wife who knows how to make it, is vehement in her defence of the brew.

"Now, here at the trappers festival, I find the committee, who produce the excellent booklet sold to visitors as a souvenir, regard beavertail soup as a joke," she said.

"They talk of soaking in vinegar the most delicate, the most healing meat produced anywhere in the world.

"Beaver meat is healing. If you have an invalid to build up, try to get the meat of our national rodent — broth or meat will be a Godsend.

"How are you to get the tail?

"Persuade the game department of your province to see that these are sold properly canned and processed or frozen.

"From there, heat the liquid, flavor very lightly with lemon juice and a slight touch of cinnamon.

"If working with a fresh tail, skin by holding in a flame or directly over the ring of your stove.

"The tail will look like a football within a couple of minutes. Pull off skin.

"Cover tail with cold water, heat to simmering point and keep there about one hour.

"Taste and flavor as you wish. Thicken if you prefer soup that way but use a blend thickener that will not spoil the delicate flavor."

Mrs. MacIver, who earlier declared herself "so mad I could sue" over the callous treatment given her favorite delicacy in the souvenir booklet, issued the recipe to put the facts straight.

Our Father's Business

What is our Father's business? Meaning, as we do, our Heavenly Father's business, the answer is obvious. Since God is our Heavenly Father, and God is but another name we use in speaking of our Creator, all of Creation, and all that takes place in Creation, is our Father's busines' He is actively involved and lovingly concerned throughout this mysterious Universe.

One might now embark upon an endless consideration of God's relationship to His Creation. Time and space, however, dictate otherwise. Let us therefore concentrate upon one phase of our Father's business; the serious sicknesses which plague the life of men today.

I have recently returned from a provincial conference in Vancouver where many minds were focussed upon some of these sicknesses. Because those taking part were members of the Christian Church, God's business and concern was their also. It is not surprising, then, that the social illnesses such as broken homes, careless parenthood, the tyranny of alcohol and the lure of easy riches should come up for consideration. These are matters that affect the welfare of God's children. God would not be our "Heavenly Father" were He not concerned. Nor would the Christian Church be His servant if it failed to be concerned.

However, here it is tragically easy to make a grave error. Spurred by concern, by genuine love for all humanity. Christian people can fall foul of emotional eagerness. Such zeal, beyond reproach in its vigorous earnestness to express and implement God's concern for every human being, can, unfortunately, hastily mistake the symptoms of humanity's sickness for the cause of those symptoms. Drunkenness, broken homes, diseased moral "backbone" are, indeed, symptoms of society's illness. We make a damaging mistake, nevertheless, when we confuse the symptoms with the cause. Distressing as all these things are, they are not basic. Basically there is a deep-seated cause responsible for all of these outward evidences of trouble. You cannot cure this cause by any amount of concern over the symptoms. And today we are constantly in danger of committing this very foolishness.

Jeremiah long ago diagnosed the fundamental disease which afflicts humanity, the cause for all our familiar symptoms of social and individual sickness. You will find the prophetic physician's analysis poetically presented in Jeremiah 2:12-13. It can be summed up in the words, "Rejection and Substitution." When we reject God as the fountainhead of our living we must find some substitute for Him. Every substitute in turn eventually betrays us. Life becomes progressively meaningless. And meaningless living soon reveals its symptoms. We can discern them throughout our society today.

Too often we of the Church display our misunderstanding of our Father's business when we fail to see past the symptoms to the cause. God sought to redeem humanity by restoring the meaning of life to every heart and understanding. So Christ could transform prostitutes and corrupted personalities, leaving their memories hallowed in the precious pages of Scripture.

Our Father's business is not to condemn the victims of a life bereft of meaning, purpose, compass or keel; but to "seek and to save at measureless cost." We of the Christian community forget this at our own peril. We tend to confuse "sins" with Sin; symptoms with Cause; respectability with Religion; and allow the evidence of zeal to cover bogs of shallow and destructive thinking.

Nurses Launch Study Of Training Schools

By CAROLYN WILLETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian Nurses Association Thursday voted $10,000 toward a pilot project to examine and evaluate a cross-section of Canadian nursing schools.

The 46,000-member association will seek national accreditation of nursing schools if the project indicates accrediting schools is the best way to improve standards of nursing education and service.

Funds to start the program were voted by 35 nursing leaders from across Canada who began a three-day executive committee meeting.

Pearl Stiver of Ottawa, CNA general secretary, said the first step will be to appoint a nurse to direct the project, expected to be completed in about two years at a total cost of $40,000.

PROVINCIALLY APPROVED

About 20 nursing schools across Canada, including both French- and English-speaking institutions, are expected to take part in the project.

At present, nursing schools are approved by the provinces, each of which has its own standards which diploma-granting schools must meet.

CNA officials said this system of provincial approval must continue, while the addition of national accreditation would provide a stimulus for improvements in the fields of nursing education.

Basic aim of evaluation is to help schools realize weaknesses and work toward higher standards, CNA officials said.

Rehabilitation of Polio Victims Topic of Address to Creston PTA

CRESTON — Creston Parent-Teacher Association meeting in Prince Charles High School Wednesday night called for suggestions for stimulating attendance at meetings.

Adam Robertson suggested the group hold supper meetings. The program for March 13 meeting will be on resolutions, a constitution will be available for study, and a panel will be given on graduation exercises.

Miss Nancy Lee, senior health nurse from Cranbrook, gave an interesting talk on the rehabilitation of handicapped children, particularly polio victims

She emphasized the wonderful work done by the registration of all handicapped children through the provincial health units.

"Rehabilitation is both medical and vocational," she said.

In regard to the medical aspect, there is a health centre for children at the Vancouver General Hospital and the Children's Hospital in Vancouver, and the travelling clinic. In the vocational part of rehabilitation, there is the polio pavilion provided by the provincial government in Vancouver. This is very difficult work, tedious and tiresome, and more instructors of all kinds are needed she said.

To show more of the work being done, a film entitled "The Road Home" was shown by T. Gautier.

In conclusion, Miss Lee urged that the community cooperate more in helping handicapped people of all kinds. After they return from a rehabilitation centre, where things are arranged specially for them, they sometimes return to homes where nothing is provided and instead of progressing, they slip back.

Women members from the Canyon district served the lunch.

Willow Pt. WI Marks Birthday

WILLOW POINT — Founder's Day and 43rd anniversary of Willow Point Women's Institute were celebrated at a jolly Valentine party Thursday afternoon in the church hall.

Mrs. B. Townshend welcomed the guests. The hall was decorated with red festoons, large red hearts and fern and evergreen. The institute colors were displayed on the icing of a large birthday cake. The dates 1914-57 were also in the decorations.

Valentines were exchanged with gifts attached. The members were responsible for a few of the guests' valentines.

A contest about trees was won by Mrs. L. S. LeRoy and Mrs. E. Shannon. A humorous poem was read, "A Saint in Search of a Girl." A pot-luck tea was served.

At a short business session, Red Cross canvassers were appointed, also hostesses for the monthly red Cross card party Feb. 27. Proceeds of the card party will go in aid of hospital mattresses.

KOOTENAY REGION REPRESENTED AT JUNIOR SKI CHAMPIONSHIPS

CAMP FORTUNE, Que. (CP)—Young skiers from British Columbia to Quebec worked over the well-tailored hills here Friday in last-minute practising for today's opening of the Canadian junior ski championships.

More than 70 competitors are entered in the two-day event—at this skiing centre of the Ottawa Ski Club, 10 miles north of the capital.

Among the first competitors to arrive was 17 - year - old Bridgett Schluermann of Winnipeg, defending junior women's alpine champion for her victories last year at Port Arthur in both the downhill and slalom events.

"I expect this year's competition to be a lot tougher," she said on her arrival. Shortly thereafter she headed for the Gatineau hills around this camp to try them out.

CHAMPIONS BACK

In the men's division, Ottawa's Hugh Harris is defending downhill champion. Cross-country winner last year was Bob Gray of Sudbury, Ont. Yves Doucet of Trois-Rivieres, Que., was the best Canadian in the jumping, although the title was won by an American.

Harris and Doucet have appeared for this year's competitions, but Gray is not expected to compete.

The men's competitions comprise downhill, slalom and cross-country racing and jumping. The women will compete only in downhill and slalom events. Champions from each separate event will be decided as well as overall winners in both men's and women's divisions.

The young skiers come from as far west as Rossland, B.C. They are bedded down with other skiers and their families in Ottawa and environs.

The British Columbia team will be made up of Mickey Johnson, Don Bertola and Butch Boutry of Red Mountain Ski Club, Rossland, and Gary Battistella of Kimberley Ski Club.

Johnson and Bertola both competed — and effectively — at last year's championships at Fort William, Ont., and placed exceptionally well. Each of the four lads will participate in downhill, slalom, cross-country and jumping competitions, with combined points of the top three making up the team-total.

Kimberley Ski Club next weekend will be the scene of the Western Canada ski championships in cross-country and jumping at the annual Kimberley Snow Fiesta. A special junior four-way competition will be held, also.

The SHORT CIRCUIT

By JOHN SHORT
Sports Editor

"Judo is a way of gentleness."

That statement surprised me, as I have for some time been one of many who considered judo an advanced form of destructive self-protection.

But there can be no doubt of the statement's authenticity. It was made by Gerhard Renk, a soft-spoken emigrant from Germany who holds the black belt, indicative of a high decree of mastery in the field.

Gerhard, a 27-year-old, 160-pounder, was trying to drum up some students for his classes at Civic Centre. The classes began in November with approximately 20 students, but winter activities have caused a reduction to "about 10 or 12."

Judo is not a pastime to the top-notchers, Gerhard said. He told of a Japanese champion who practiced one throw for four hours a day over a period of 11 years. The champ weighed only 110 pounds but, according to my informant, he had little difficulty with 250-pound behemoths.

Gerhard is confident that a judo expert could defend himself against a champion in any field of self-defence. A boxer, for example, would last only a short while, he said. Gerhard pointed out that in 1940, a Mexican champion—whose name he couldn't recall — challenged Joe Louis to a match.

You remember Joe Louis? The greatest heavyweight champion since Jack Dempsey who defeated every rival but his own government didn't accommodate his challenger. That was the only fight Joe Louis ever refused to acknowledge.

Gerhard Renk shook his head sadly as he told me of the judo champion's belligerence. "That," he said, "is not the way of judo. Judo is the way of gentleness."

If that statement is true, judo instructors, some of whom are more than 70 years old, can point to several shapely female movie stars as exhibits.

Sylvana Pampanini was one long-stemmed lady to whom Gerhard referred. She must be exhibit A.

• • •

Gerhard said judo and jiu-jitsu are intertwined. "In judo, you don't fight to win, you can kill or injure your opponent, it's up to you. But you don't look for fights, because you have no need to."

"Sometimes," Gerhard said, "knowing judo is enough to avoid a fight. Tell your opponent you know judo and he becomes your friend," Gerhard said.

I began to wonder why Gerhard was telling me all this. I was interested, of course, but not so interested that I planned to ask for a demonstration.

Finally, he lifted the curtain of fog that enveloped what passes for my brain. He told me he was planning to start judo classes for women.

That was where I put down my foot. It was necessary because I planned to stand up. In fact, I put down both feet.

Bad enough that a man can learn judo—but when a woman learns it, too, what chance is there for all the scrawny, undernourished men in the world?

Perhaps they should all equip themselves with baseball bats before venturing to speak to the little lady.

Fullback Yamauchi Sought by B. C.

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia Lions are seeking the services of Joe Yamauchi, Japanese-Canadian fullback who played the last two seasons with Calgary Stampeders.

Acting general manager Phil Webb of the Western Conference football club said Lions will try to work a trade involving quarterback Ted Duncan of the Lions and Yamauchi. Duncan is going into law practice in Calgary.

Individual Scoring Race Now Three Player Struggle

MONTREAL (CP)—It's a sure bet the National Hockey League's official scorers are in for a rough passage until the schedule ends in five weeks.

The individual scoring race is so close a single assist may decide the championship and the $1000 that goes with it.

In a three-man struggle for the NHL title, Jean Beliveau of Montreal Canadiens has 67 points on 27 goals and 40 assists. Gordie Howe of Detroit Red Wings has 66 points on 33 goals and as many assists, and Ted Lindsay, also of Detroit, has 65 points on his 23 goals and 42 assists. Closest is Andy Bathgate of New York Rangers with 50 points.

If there is a tie, the winner is the player with the most goals. If the tie is still unbroken, then the player who has been in the fewest games wins. If they're still all square, its the player who scored the season's first goal.

Howe may appear to be in a preferred position.

But pointing up sharply the importance of the assist, the records show that players with the most goals missed winning the title seven times in the last 12 seasons.

HOWE FOUR-TIME MAN

Maurice (Rocket) Richard of Montreal, goal leader four times, finished second three times and fourth once. He tied on goals in the 1954-55 season, when he was under suspension for the last three games, and missed a tie on points by one assist.

That same season provided a rousing finish among three Montrealers. Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion had 75 points, Richard 74 and Beliveau 73.

Sid Abel of Detroit had most goals in 1948-49 but finished third. Ted Lindsay's 33 goals in 1947-48, when the schedule was 60 games, led the goal-getters. He was ninth in the point standing. Gaye Stewart, with Toronto in 1945-46, was tops with 37 goals but second in the standing.

Howe has won the scoring title four times, three when he was top goal man. He is in his 11th season. Lindsay, in his 11th season, has won only once and then despite only 23 goals to Richard's leading 43. Beliveau was leading goal man last season, his third, and won the title.

The goal-tenders also are waging a merry battle for the Vezina Trophy and the $1000 prize money. The title goes to the goalie who has played the most games for the team least scored on.

Glen Hall of Detroit, who hasn't missed a game, has been beaten 114 times. Jacques Plante of Montreal takes the goals-against mark of 118, although he has missed nine games.

Terry Sawchuk, under suspension by Boston Bruins would rank next. Boston has been scored on 128 times.

Don Simmons, current Boston goalie, has played 10 games, the same as his rookie predecessor, Norm Defelice.

Simmons seems destined to remain in the Boston net, for the time being at least. Dependent upon Sawchuk's status, Simmons would become the eligible man for the award.

Soaring Smokies Seek Win To Clinch First

Trail Smoke Eaters fume into Civic Arena this evening in search of a victory over Nelson Maple Leafs.

The victory—if it comes—coupled with a loss by Spokane Flyers, who are scheduled to oppose Rossland Warriors, would give the soaring Smoke Eaters undisputed possession of first place in the Western International Hockey League. At present Smokies and Flyers are tied 20 points ahead of Nelson.

First place in the regular league standings brings with it the opportunity of meeting Rossland Warriors in one best-of-seven semi-final bracket. The second-place finisher meets Nelson in the other semi-final.

Smokies Thursday bounced Flyers, who Wednesday had thumped Leafs. Last time Trail visited Nelson they went home on the short end of a 7-0 shutout as Leafs played their best game of the season. Since that time, however, Nelson's fortunes have been anything but good.

Nelson wants to meet Spokane in their semi-final round, so Leafs will be guning for victory tonight. Each of the last two Trail-Nelson encounters have been marred by brawls, neither of them nearly as serious as the display put on by Trail and Spokane in Trail Thursday night.

Harry Smith and Wendy Keller each drew majors for fighting here last Jan. 26, as Smith continued his record of having drawn at least one penalty for every game he has played on Nelson ice this term. Keller that night was more interested in scoring than fighting as he beat Seth Martin three times.

On Feb. 7 in Cominco Arena, Jim Pilla and Bitsy Bobby Kromm carried on a running feud after Pilla accidentally slashed Kromm on the head, forcing the agitation-bent Smokie captain to retire for repairs to a cut over his eye.

Shortly before the end of the game, Kromm skated toward the Leaf bench en route to the Trail players' box for a line change. He took a wild swing at the Leaf rookie, barely missing. The scrappy Pilla was forcibly restrained from leaping over the boards to continue the brawl.

But that night in Trail saw some scintillating hockey. Leafs were beaten only when Jack McIntyre spoiled Gus Adams' nearly-flawless performance with less than five minutes to play. Leafs bowed 3-2.

FORT WAYNE HOOP FRANCHISE GOES TO DETROIT

DETROIT (AP) — In professional basketball's first realignment in more than two seasons. Fort Wayne Pistons Thursday switched their franchise to Detroit, a sports-minded city that rejected the game a decade ago.

Millionaire industrialist Fred Zollner announced at a press conference that the Pistons, champions of the National Basketball Association's western division two years running, will begin a six year contract at Olympic Stadium next October.

The team, currently leading the division, will be known as the Detroit Pistons. The Pistons will play most of their home games at the Olympia which can accommodate 13,000 or more for basketball. Zollner said he hopes to play from five to seven games at his old Fort Wayne base.

The arena at Fort Wayne where the team has been competing in the NHA since 1949, seats 10,000—but home attendance over the past two seasons has averaged only about 3600.

Ski Students Face Tests Sunday; Lift To Operate

Six weeks of preparation reach a climax today and tomorrow at Silver King Ski Club as the earliest group of students receives the opportunity to display their aptitude in a series of tests designed to prove their efficiency in the facets of skiing already learned from the free ski lessons sponsored by the Nelson Daily News.

Tests will begin Sunday at 11 a.m. and continue through the afternoon. It is expected that several students will flock to the hill today to brush up techniques before their examinations.

Preliminary tests have indicated that a high percentage of students will pass with only a few expected to be forced through repetitive tests before again trying for their merit badges.

Reports have it that the spring-like atmosphere along Baker Street has not in any way affected snow conditions on the hill, so skiers should enjoy themselves immensely, as they no longer have to walk up the hill.

The long-awaited opening of the T-bar lift will take place this weekend, making it easier for everyone—and faster, too.

The road to the ski cabin was plowed some time ago, making it easier for observers and skiers to reach the base of operations. Ski club officials recommend, however, that cars be left in the regular spot.
