VIENNA (Reuters) — A stormy meeting of students from Budapest universities and technical colleges demanded the return to power of former premier Imre Nagy, and expressed "brotherly sympathy with our Polish comrades in their fight for sovereignty and liberalization" Budapest radio reported.

Nagy was dismissed as premier in April, 1955, after being charged with anti-Marxist leanings and right-wing deviationism. He was rehabilitated last August and readmitted to the Hungarian Workers party this month.

The radio said the students agreed to send a 22-point resolution to the Hungarian government and the Workers Communist party.

It added that the meeting, attended by thousands of students, was still going on.

The meeting came a few hours after Szabad Nep, the Hungarian Communist party newspaper, had stated that Hungary must map her own "road to socialism".

The newspaper made the comment Monday amid mounting demands inside Hungary for Western-style freedoms — freedom of the press and information, freedom of the courts and freedom to travel.

Szabad Nep, as quoted by the official Hungarian news agency Mti, said: "The Soviet, Polish, Yugoslav or Chinese roads to socialism do not absolve as from mapping out a Hungarian road.

"To make Lenin's ideas triumph in Hungary means to precede every party and government decision by a minute analysis of Hungarian conditions."

Budapest Radio reported the Central Committee of the Hungarian Communist Party Youth Organization has been called to meet Tuesday to discuss "the present situation and its future tasks."

Students at the Universities of Budapest, Szeged and Pecs called during the weekend for liberalization of the regime and threatened to demonstrate unless their demands were met in 14 days.

But the Hungarian official youth newspaper Szabad Ifjusag warned them not to demonstrate in the streets as this was a weapon that could "easily backfire."

Khrushchev's Ouster Anticipated

Widespread Unemployment Seen By B.C. Lumbering Officials

VANCOUVER (CP) — Labor and management officials in the British Columbia timber industry have forecast widespread unemployment in the industry this winter.

Both groups agreed it would be "the worst winter since the war" and some said unemployment might spread to other industries.

International Woodworkers of America expect to have 1200 men out of work by November. Already nearly 800 have been laid off.

"I cannot remember losing 1200 men in such a short time," an IWA official said Monday.

"In nine years experience I have never seen so many men looking for work as there are now."

A spokesman for employers said: "We have warned of the possibility of a recession in lumbering in the past and it looked as though we were crying 'wolf'. Now it appears to be here."

Officials agreed that sawmill workers will be hit first.

Two reasons given for the expected slump are:

Attempts by the government to control inflation by clamping down on new home mortgages, thus reducing the demand for new houses.

High shipping costs which have caused the United Kingdom to reduce orders from Canada and start buying more common grade timber from Russia and the Baltic countries.

A spokesman said the industry will have to consider asking Ottawa to lift the mortgage restrictions. He added that the expected recession had coincided with a seasonal decline in business.

Student Fooled Completely on Date

TORONTO (CP)—Hundreds of University of Toronto students paid 25 cents last week for a chance to date French movie starlet Michelle Boudet.

Winner of the raffle, organized to aid the University's United Appeal funds drive, was a first-year engineering student, Terry Dawson.

Saturday he took "Michelle" to dinner, then dancing.

COMPLETELY SOLD

Sunday he discovered his movie star date was, in reality, Isobel Lafontaine, a University of Montreal student.

Said Terry: "She had me sold completely. I'll never forget her."

Only three persons on the Toronto campus knew her real identity until Sunday night.

It didn't occur to me to wonder why she didn't talk about her career," Terry said. tural. Maybe I should have "I thought she was being naknown better. But her charm, her accent . . . "She may not have been French but she sure was an actress!"

WLADYSLAW GOMULKA

3 Ms' Said Plotting To Eject First Secretary

By COLIN FROST

WARSAW (AP) — Polish Communist sources reported Monday Warsaw's political upheaval threatens to topple Nikita S. Khrushchev from his Communist leadership in the Soviet Union. More shakeups, hitting at Moscow domination, are in prospect here to bring the government in line with the party's new "independent" course.

Poland's Sejm parliament opens today and will remain in session until Nov. 20, the government shakeups—possibly including the removal of Konstantin Rokossovsky as defence minister — may be announced through the parliament in a few days. Rokossovsky, Polish-born Soviet marshal, was installed by Stalin in the Warsaw post.

Like the resounding shakeup in the Polish party which gave the reins to tough, anti-Stalinist Wladyslaw Gomulka, the government reshuffle will have echoes in Moscow. The Kremlin reaction may already be taking shape.

Informants within the United Workers Communist Party here offered this analysis of the effects in Moscow of the Warsaw revolt:

A triumvirate of the "three M's"—Deputy Premiers V. M. Molotov, A. I. Mikoyan and Georgi Malenkov—have joined in a move to eject Khrushchev as first secretary of the Soviet Party.

The three are said to regard him as bungling, over-impetuous and loose-tongued, and to fear such tendencies could bring disaster on the Soviet world position and the Communist cause.

The violence of Khrushchev's denunciation of Stalin at the 20th Soviet party congress in February is believed to have speeded up the movement toward independence from Moscow which erupted in Poland in the last week and which threatens now to break out in Hungary.

Whatever the reaction in the Kremlin, the idea of independence from Moscow seemed extremely popular here. Demonstrations of support for Gomulka, once jailed as a Titoist and traitor to Moscow, hailed the 51-year-old leader's policy of "socialism with freedom."

PARADE BANNERS

Students paraded through Warsaw with banners reading:

"Polish-Soviet relations must be based on equality!"

"The true friend of Poland helps her go her own way!"

"Our soldiers will march with the nation!"

The latter indicated the feeling prevalent here that, so far as Moscow was concerned, the rank and file of the army was unreliable, though it is commanded by a Soviet marshal.

Rokossovsky — sent into Poland in 1949 by Stalin to be defence minister just as Gomulka and his group were being pushed aside—was ejected from the ruling Polish party politburo Sunday night. In the shakeup, Gomulka was surrounded by a nine-member politburo of men favoring his demand for independence from Soviet political controls, though all were pledged to continue Communist government.

Former Mayor Baker of Kaslo Passes at Coast; Funeral Today

PORT ALBERNI, B.C. (CP)—The funeral service for George Stace Baker, 71, will be held here Tuesday.

Mr. Baker retired at Qualicum Beach in 1954 after operating a drygoods store in Kaslo for 16 years.

Survivors include his widow, Violetta, Qualicum; two daughters Mrs. Grace Murgatroyd, Canal Flats, and Mrs. Sylvia Langille, Port Alberni; a son, George, Kaslo, and eight grandchildren.

G. S. BAKER

Former mayor of Kaslo, Mr. Baker was widely known in West Kootenay. He was a past president of the Association of Kootenay Municipalities, was seven times mayor of Kaslo and served the city as alderman for two terms.

Mr. Baker was also a past president of Kaslo Board of Trade, served on the board of directors of Kaslo Victorian Hospital, and was an active member of the board of trustees of St. Andrew's United Church.

In 1937, he bought the Dry Goods Store from the A. T. Garland estate and operated it until 1953, when he sold the business to Jack Morris of Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker left Kaslo in 1954 for Qualicum Beach, on Vancouver Island to take up residence on a 10-acre estate purchased by Mr. Baker. He had retired from city council in 1951.

Five Rebel Chiefs Captured

ALGIERS (AP) — Five Algerian rebel chiefs were duped by a French pilot on a Mediterranean flight from Morocco to Tunisia and delivered by plane to French authorities at the airport here Monday night.

The pilot led the leaders of the nationalist anti - French rebellion to believe they were landing on friendly territory. Instead they fell easily into French custody.

They boarded the plane in Rabat, Morocco, intending to skirt Algeria and land in Tunis for meetings with the leaders of Morocco and Tunisia on independence for all North Africa.

Their capture may have a profound effect on the future of the Algerian nationalist rebellion and repercussions reaching to the Atlantic and to the already deeply troubled Middle East.

Poland Action Shakes Russ Power in Germany

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

BERLIN (AP) — Western officials said Monday Poland's fight to win political independence from Russia is shaping up as a serious threat to Soviet control over East Germany.

There are around 450,000 Soviet troops in East Germany and the main line of communication and supply stretches across Poland. Widespread reports Monday had "large numbers" of those troops moving across the border into Poland right now.

The U.S. and other Western liaison missions in Potsdam, East Germany were told to stay away from the Polish border. Such orders by the Russians—issued under a four-power agreement — usually come when they are moving troops. The United States issues similar orders when it wants the Russians to stay away from troop movements of its own.

It was considered probable that the Soviet troops were being sent to Poland in an attempt to pressure the new Polish politburo for some concessions or at the least to protect the lifeline of the Soviet forces in East Germany.

Ibey Trial Held Over Till Spring

PORT ARTHUR (CP) — The murder trial of William Andrew Ibey, 21, charged with the July 1 rape-murder of Mrs. Vivian Mytruk, Port Arthur nurse's aide, was traversed Monday to the spring assizes of February, 1957.

Mr. Justice R. I. Ferguson of Toronto granted a request from Ibey's defence counsel that the accused be given the opportunity to consult expert counsel.

RECORD RAINFALL AT VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two records for October rainfall in Vancouver were set by last week's downpour.

During the 24 hours ending at 4:30 a.m. Saturday, 2.35 inches fell at the airport, breaking the previous 24-hour record for October of 1.77 inches, set Oct. 9, 1940.

In downtown Vancouver 3.96 inches was recorded, breaking the previous record of 3.13 inches set Oct. 17, 1940.

Friday rainfall in Vancouver was .27 of an inch less than the all-time high of 4.23 recorded Dec. 14-15, 1923.

Fishing Treaty Being Drafted

OTTAWA (CP)—Early indications Monday were that Canada and the United States likely will agree to regulate and control the Pacific coast's pink salmon fishery, a $15,000,000-a-year industry.

Delegates from both countries opened negotiations to draft a treaty which would put curbs on the fishery that now is unrestricted.

Fisheries Minister Sinclair said at the opening meeting that unless controls, such as fishing dates, were placed jointly by Canada and the U.S., the pink salmon resources might be in danger of being wiped out.

It was understood that the joint international controls may be similar to those Canada and the U.S. exercise now over sockeye salmon and that the proposed treaty may be placed under the international Pacific sockeye salmon fisheries commission for administrative purposes.

Whoopers Find Poor Nesting Spot

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Two large whooping cranes have chosen a risky place to nest — a public shooting grounds.

F. H. Davis of the U.S. fish and wildlife service said Monday he has a report that two whoopers have landed near the Republican River in Nebraska. The area is a public shooting grounds.

Two Nebraska game wardens have been detailed to the area to help wildlife service men guard the rare birds. Duck and goose hunters are shooting in the area.

The reports are the first Davis has received this fall of whooping crane southward migration. Hundreds of bird watchers, game wardens and other observers are watching for the huge white cranes, which stand about five feet and have a seven-foot wingspread.

Their wintering grounds are at Arkansas wildlife refuge on the Texas coast. According to the last wildlife service count only 27 are known to be in existence. They nest in Canada's Northwest Territories.

REPATRIATES RETURN

VALENCIA, Spain (AP) — The Russian steamship Crimea arrived Monday from Odessa with 457 Spaniards repatriated from Russia. It was the second group of Spaniards repatriated from Russia recently. The first contingent of 532 arrived here Sept. 28.

Kimberley Man Injured on Job, Succumbs

KIMBERLEY— Pasquale Piovesan, 39, of Kimberley, died Monday morning of injuries sustained last Thursday.

A heavy equipment operator for the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company, Mr. Poivesan had been driving a mechanical loader along a power line 23 miles from the city when the machine evidently upset on a slippery part of the road. He was pinned in the cab. The crew in a truck following behind summoned a company ambulance from Kimberley which rushed Mr. Plovesan to the hospital there. He had been in critical condition since the injury.

He is survived by his wife Olga Marie, two daughters and a son.

He had entered Cominco service in 1946.

ORDER EXECUTION OF GRAHAM

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Colorado's supreme court Monday upheld the first-degree murder conviction of John Gilbert Graham, 24, for dynamiting an airliner which caused the death of 44 persons. The high court ordered Graham executed during the week ending Jan. 12.

DOLLAR HIGHER

NEW YORK (CP) — Canadian dollar was 1/32 higher at a premium of 2 21/32 per cent in terms of U.S. funds. Pound sterling 1/32 higher at $2.78 17/32.

MONTREAL (CP)—U.S. dollar closed at a discout of 2 19/32 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, down 1/32. Pound sterling $2.71 5-16 up 1-16.

Laval Students To Demonstrate

QUEBEC (CP)—Laval University students decided Monday night to stage a mass demonstration today in front of the provincial parliament buildings for the purpose of asking Premier Duplessis for increased financial assistance.

L'Association Generale des Etudiants de Laval—the university student governing body—will ask all 3000 students to drop classes and join the demonstration.

Representatives of the other five Quebec universities—McGill, Montreal and Sir George Williams College from Montreal, Bishop's College at Lennoxville and Sherbrooke University — will be on hand, but spokesmen indicated they will not join the demonstration.

The six universities will attempt to work out at a later conference some form of brief to the premier.

Floods Kill 31

RANGOON, Burma (Reuters)—At least 31 persons were reported killed Monday as mountain streams swollen by monsoon downpours swamped the small town of Wuntho, 160 miles north of Mandalay. Floods swept away more than 65 homes and damaged another 120 buildings.

Troops and artillery rolled in Taipei, Formosa as Nationalist China marked the 45th "Double 10" anniversary of the founding of the Chinese republic. NEW SLIDES DELAY TRAINS

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two mud slides near Vancouver and a derailed freight train 40 miles from Penticton Monday night delayed Canadian Pacific Railway services.

Thirteen cars and the diesel locomotive of a westbound freight crashed off the Southern Kettle Valley line east of Penticton, ripping up 500 yards of track. Six cars overturned. No one was injured in the wreck.

At Shellburn, seven miles east of the CPR station in Vancouver, two mud slides covered the twin tracks leading into and out of the city. One slide of mud and trees, brought down by day-long rains after a brief respite from last week's heavy downpours, was 100 feet long and nine feet deep. The other was 50 feet long and five feet deep.

A railway official said there was no estimate how long the tracks would be blocked. Departure of three eastbound trains — the trans-continental Dominion and Canadian and the Kettle Valley Express to Nelson, B.C., and Lethbridge, Alta., — was delayed by the slides.

Four Burn To Death With Plane

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — Four Fairbanks residents died in the flaming wreckage of their light plane Sunday on the slopes of 3800-foot Eagle Summit, 106 miles northeast of here.

Killed were Jack Hill, the pilot, Mr. and Mrs. John Sandquist and the Sandquists' son, Ralph, 12.

It is believed the pilot had turned back toward Fairbanks on account of a blinding wind and snow storm and was attempting to reach here by following the Steese highway.

Two U.S. Army sergeants said they saw the burning plane as they were returning on the Steese highway with oil for their truck which had broken down near the crash scene. They saw the fire through swirling snow and climbed 75 feet off the highway to the wreckage.

Patterson Search Cost $13,000

VANCOUVER CP)—The six-day search for 24-year-old Alick Patterson lost on Mount Seymour last week, cost an estimated $13,000.

Searchmaster Bill Angus said Monday the estimate does not include volunteer labor and is "conservative."

He said it includes rental on radio equipment, insurance and wages for water board employees, and rental of helicopters.

"The cost in hard cash I have estimated at $6,800," said Mr. Angus.

The rest was cost to taxpayers generally through the participation by armed forces personnel.

Comedian Marries Evelyn Patrick

NEW YORK (AP) — Comedian Phil Silvers, the fast-talking "Sgt. Bilko" of television, was married Sunday to the girl who gives the commercials on "the $64,000 Question" TV show.

Silvers, 44, and his blond bride, Evelyn Patrick, 24, were married in New Haven, Conn.

Employment At Record Level

OTTAWA (CP) — Employment in Canada remained at a record level in September with a general shortage of many kinds of workers continuing unrelieved, the government said Monday.

A joint monthly statement by the bureau of statistics and the labor department said manpower supplies tightened moderately in the month as the seasonal withdrawal of students and other short-term workers slightly exceeded the post-summer decline in labor requirements.

The number of persons with jobs was estimated at 5,676,000, a decline of 147,000 from the previous month's record of 5,823,000. The declines totalled 105,000 in agriculture and 42,000 in non-farm industreis.

The statement said the number of persons without jobs and seeking work and the number registered for employment at national employment service offices eased moderately during the month.

The bureau of statistics estimated that the number of persons without jobs and seeking work at Sept. 22 totalled 97,000, compared with 103,000 at Aug. 18 and 138,000 at Sept. 17, 1955.

Mace Goes on Tour

OTTAWA (CP) — The mace of the Northwest Territories' council, presented by Governor - General Massey last January, is to go on a tour during which it will be exhibited in all provinces. The tour opens Monday in Halifax where the mace is to be on display for four days.

Anyone interested in guessing games would try a long time before guessing what's going on here. The man on top of the balloon is a painter daubing the ceiling of a church in Yvtot, France. The balloon was pressed into service when the painting fell behind schedule, and being free, it can be used as a moveable platform by the painter. —Central Press Canadian.

"I did NOT say you had a big mouth. All I said was you could eat a banana sideways."

And in This Corner...

WINNIPEG (CP) — Only time was flying as time-keeper Jimmy Dunn raised his pistol to sound the end of the third quarter of a Western Interprovincial Football Union game here Saturday night.

Bang! Down came a duck.

A wag took a dead one to the game and tossed it over the head of the startled Dunn as he pulled the trigger.

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (Reuters) — William Bisset, an African who thought his age was "merely" 109 has turned out to be about 160 years old.

Bisset's age was discovered when he walked briskly into the district surgeon's office here for a medical examination for tax redemption purposes.

Doctors found his health good, intellect and memory unaffected, and on questioning him, discovered that he clearly remembered details of Port Elizabeth in 1800 and gave a full description of the arrival of British settlers here in 1820.

Bisset gave this reason for his long life: A daily diet of porridge, moderate drinking — and heavy smoking.

OSOYOOS, B.C. (CP) — Alex Wowchuk came off second-best when his car collided with a hereford steer near here during the weekend.

An [illegible] age was done to Mr. Wowchuk's car. The steer was undamaged.

Voters' List Closes Oct. 31

Nelson householders and landowners have only a few more days to make sure their names are on the municipal voters list.

Under the Municipal Act, election lists close October 31 in all B.C. cities and districts except Vancouver, which has its own charter. Forms are available from city and municipal clerks.

The spouse of a landowner, or owner of land with improvements may have his or her name placed on the voters' list by making the declaration required by Section 7 of the Municipal Elections Act. Although householders do not have to pay any road or poll tax, they must pay $2 to the municipal collector.

Property owners and holders of agreements to purchase registered at the Land Registry Office before Oct. 31, are automatically placed on the voters' list.

MINOR CONVICTED ON TWO CHARGES

L. R. J. Tremblay of Port Alberni paid $10 and costs Monday for failure to stop at a "Stop" sign. Fine was imposed by Stipendiary Magistrate William Evans in Nelson provincial court.

He also paid $25 and costs for possession of liquor as a minor. Tremblay pleaded guilty to both offences, which occurred near South Slocan on the weekend.

Three Nelson Air Cadets Receive Pilots' Wings From Magistrate

Indication of the value of their training is shown every day, Magistrate R. S. Nelson told Nelson Air Cadets 561 Squadron at the Armoury Monday night.

He was addressing them during presentation of Air Cadet Wings to Warrant Officer (2) Gordon Anderson, Flt. Sgt. Gordon Lowe and Sgt. Keith Holmes.

The 40 cadets and cadettes formed a hollow square for the ceremony which was watched by parents and civilian committee members and representatives of the Sea Cadets, Canadian Legion and the Fire Department.

Receiving of their wings indicated the three cadets had worked and studied hard, and their training would "stay with them." The cadets were inspected first by the magistrate, a former RCMP inspector.

The new pilots flew about 30 hours apiece to earn their wings 12 or more hours of dual flying and the balance solo, at Chilliwack. They attended flying school on scholarships financed by the Air Cadet League of Canada, the Nelson squadron, private individuals and business concerns.

About 275 boys won their wings in various camps across Canada this summer. Examinations are set by the Department of Transport and successful candidates receive civilian pilots' licences as well as their wings.

The air cadets, aged 14 to 18, parade every Monday night, the girls wearing the Air Force tartan skirts, and new recruits were sought during Monday's ceremony. The girls are taking pipe band training. Commanding officer is Flt. Lieut. G. E. MacNeill.

Organizations Should Link Up Summer Entertainments—Kary

Members of the Nelson city council gave serious consideration to civic publicity at their meeting Monday night, especially with reference to Nelson's diamond jubilee next year, and the centennial celebrations in B.C. during 1958.

Occasion was a visit from Walter Wait, chairman of the Mid-Summer Bonspiel Association, and other delegates, requesting help for next year's 'spiel.

Mr. Wait said that the Association, during the three years it has been in existence, had helped the bonspiel tremendously. Last year's event was the largest yet, he said, with 92 rinks entering. Yet, the association lost money.

The association wants to start advertising early next year, or possibly before the end of 1956, and asked council to make an early grant. However, council's 1956 donations fund is already overspent, and, under the Municipal Act, they cannot commit next year's council.

The association would probably need about $1000 to $2000, according to Mr. Wait. "There is no personal gain for any of us in this effort," he stressed. Alderman Arthur Foster said he appreciated the committee's hard work, but "council had no authority to spend next year's money" on this type of thing. However, he assured the delegation that "next year's council would undoubtedly help them."

City clerk C. W. R. Harper said it might be possible to negotiate a long-term lease as the one given to Famous Players.

CLOSE TO FOLDING

Mr. Wait also warned that, if the association was unable to put on a mixer during the bonspiel, the activity would lose one of its highlights. He said the 'spiel was a good way to get traffic into Nelson, and the association, working solely for the City, is "dangerously close to folding up. This thing can be made into something, but not with the members and help we have at present." There are now about 12 association members.

Mayor Joseph Kary said the council must "see where they're getting off at. Every organization wants help for various events, and they're all good for Nelson." He mentioned other B.C. cities where the council gives only moral support to summer events. The money comes from private individuals and business people. He felt that one unfortunate thing in Nelson was that the people "expect a few to share the load of work."

Wait reminded council that they give the people free use of park facilities, including the tennis courts, pool and bowling greens. Ald. J. W. McClelland thought a donation towards the bonspiel would be "giving away the taxpayer's money."

Ald. Mrs. Wallach suggested that the association could possibly work with the Chamber of Commerce, since both were trying to publicize Nelson. Mr. Wait thought this rather impractical.

SEES UBCM TIE IN

The mayor emphasized that, while council is not trying to belittle the organization's work, "they must consider the whole picture." The local bonspiel, he said, was "one of the biggest efforts on the continent," something to make Nelson "justly proud." He had expected to announce a committee to handle jubilee celebrations at the meeting, but was hoping to have plans ready for the next council meeting.

He thought the bonspiel could be tied in with the UBCM convention, turning on of natural gas, opening of the North Shore bridge, and other events for next summer's jubilee celebrations.

Ald. Foster agreed that "the load would be spread out among more people if the various organizations would get together," and Mr. Wait said the association, which has always had to struggle along, "would not object to any help."

The mayor also reminded delegates of the city's plan to improve its tourist park. "What's good for Nelson is good for everyone in the city," he said.

Delegates asked about the possibility of setting up a yearly fund so they would know how much money council would grant them each year. However, Mayor Kary said he didn't know how this could be done under the Municipal Act. Reeve Harper said the city could spend extra money if the yearly receipts exceeded estimated income, but that council wouldn't know this until about the end of the year.

Last year the Association did considerable advertising over American radio and TV stations.

Mayor Kary agreed to "sound out" the Civic Centre Commission about possible help, and said that the government will be making grants to help out with the centennial celebrations in 1958.

Referring to continuance of the bonspiel after 1958, Mr. Wait said "a lease might be the answer," but Ald. Wallach said it would "pose problems for the commission."

E. McLaughlan and L. G. Peerless also spoke for the Association

TREE PLANTING PROJECT TOSSED TO TRAIL COUNCIL

TRAIL — Fifth Avenue hill tree planting replacement project was handed back to City Council by Shavers Bench Improvement Association meeting Monday night.

It was felt that council should carry some of the responsibility of projects undertaken by previous administration. The provincial government had donated toward the project on the understanding that it would be brought up to standard, it was pointed out.

The association, which had originally planted the area, had been told that a complete tree replacement job would finish the work on Fifth Avenue road. A delegation was appointed to attend the next council meeting. Also to place before council in the problem created by raising the alley between Seventh and Eighth streets three feet above its normal level following water pipe installation.

"How long will it be before a sewer system is made available to all residents of Shavers Bench," was a question asked by a member. It was explained that at least five homes on the bench still have septic tanks.

The meeting voted in favor of passing the ownership of the community hall to the city of Trail in exchange for a lease to run in perpetuity. The city will be asked to draw up a lease but the association will retain its own solicitor to complete the agreement.

GEORGE GAMBLE CAME TO KOOTENAY IN '08

James Stanley Garfield (George) Gamble of 720 Josephine Street, who died Sunday in Kootenay Lake General Hospital, first came to the Kootenays in 1908, coming to Fernie from Cobalt, Ontario.

Mr. Gamble was born July 9, 1889, in Napanee, Ontario, and started in the painting trade at Cobalt. Arriving in Fernie in 1908, he was engaged in painting, later became a clerk, and worked for the CPR. During the first world war he was a sergeant-instructor at Curry Barracks, Calgary.

After the war, Mr. Gamble took up farming in Southern Alberta, at McGrath and Spring Coulee, until he returned to painting in 1935. He came to the Nelson district in 1937, worked for the West Kootenay Power and Light Co., from 1938 to 1945, then moved into Nelson. Mr. Gamble was in charge of painting crews on the first wartime houses erected here during 1946 and 1947, then did contract painting again until forced to retire in 1950 because of ill health.

Only survivor is his wife, the former Isabell MacKay, whom he married in Nelson in 1948.

NELSON ASSIZES DELAYED

Start of the Nelson Fall Assizes has been postponed until at least Monday, court registrar K. D. McRae announced Monday. Sessions were to have commenced Thursday before Hon. Mr. Justice Brown of Vancouver.

The delay was made to allow more time for the Curtis rape case, as well as other cases at Cranbrook.

Two criminal cases are on the agenda of the Nelson sittings. First is a rape charge against six Trail youths.

A Salmo youth faces a charge of indecent assault.

Mr. Justice Brown may also hear one civil case and five divorces, at Nelson.

Rotarians Hear Of Student's Trip to New York

A Nelson girl who travelled to New York two years ago to see the United Nations in action, told Rotary Club Monday of her trip.

Miss Judy Allen, introduced by her Rotarian father Nelson Allen, was one of a group of British Columbian and Pacific Northwest students chosen for the trip, sponsored by the Independent Order of Oddfellows.

Purpose of the IOOF service project is to give young people "a clear idea of what the United Nations is, and what it is trying to do," she explained. They return to their schools to form UN clubs, and address other groups on UN aims and objectives.

In 1954, 500 young people across Canada and the United States earned themselves the trip by their essays, speeches or both.

In her week in New York, Judy learned "that the UN acts on the principle that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" — that by combatting hunger, disease and discontent, war can be prevented.

Operating on an anual $288 million dollar budget, the UN feeds hungry children, distributes vaccine and medicine, and "helps people to help themselves," by means of a team of technical assistance experts. Canada contributes an amount equivalent to 10 cents per capita per year.

Miss Allen illustrated her talk with slides belonging to Mervyn Kirker of Trail, showing the student party's trip.

During the business portion of the club's luncheon meeting in the Hume, it was announced that details are being worked out for Rotary sponsorship of the Canadian Players' production here March 25.

Vaccine for 10 Grades To Arrive Here Today

Enough Salk polio vaccine to immunize all Grade I to Grade X pupils in Selkirk Health Unit is to arrive in Nelson today.

The vaccine will be administered to all 10 grades in schools outside of Nelson during the next two weeks. In Nelson, Grade I youngsters will be vaccinated next week but the other nine grades will not be immunized for another two weeks. It is hoped to have the immunization completed by Nov. 16.

In the next year or two it is hoped sufficient vaccine will be available to cover the entire age group from pre-school to Grade XIII, senior public health nurse Miss Joan Suttcliffe noted. The ultimate aim is to have vaccine available for all up to 40 years of age.

Vaccination schedule follows:

ARROW LAKES
Tues., Oct. 30—Burton and Arrow Park.
Wed., Oct. 31 — Needles and Edgewood.
Thurs., Nov. 1—Nakusp.

Belgian's Long Walk Brings Him Into B.C.

INVERMERE — There's a long, long trail between Montreal and South America via Vancouver, and the robust young Belgium dentist who is tramping it stopped briefly at Radium Hot Springs and Invermere en route.

Dr. Werner Mahau, 32-year-old Brussels dentist expects to reach Vancouver in about three weeks. He left Montreal July 3 on the start of a 30,000 mile trek which will take him from Vancouver to San Francisco, Mexico, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, Brazil and back to Montreal via Florida and New York.

The 172-pound marathon walker has lost 12 pounds since he left Montreal. He carries about 20 pounds of baggage including a sleeping bag and food for several days, but he has used his sleeping bag only six nights en route. He speaks highly of the hospitality of the friendly Canadian people who offer him a bed and meals along the way.

Dr. Mahau was born in Courtai, Belgium. He is fulfilling an urge to see the world and to know its people. He plans to write a book about the trip and keeps a diary of his journey.

He has a letter from King Leopold of Belgium wishing him godspeed and another from Prime Minister St. Laurent, also many others from the mayors of Canadian cities he has passed through. The many mementos of his trip that have been presented to him, such as Calgary's 10-gallon hat, he ships back to Belgium.

He carries two books, one of press stories of his trip, the other containing the signatures of car driver's who have offered him rides and been courteously refused with his explanation.

TWO PAIRS

Dr. Mahau is wearing his second pair of shoes since leaving Montreal. At Invermere he spent the night as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Young. He had walked from Calgary to Radium and planned to walk to Golden and thence over Roger's Pass via the railway to Revelstoke and then to Vancouver via Kamloops.

Dr. Mahau knew no English when he left Belgium but he speaks Flemish, German, Dutch and French. His English, he says, is improving every day.

Two-Thirds of Pipeline Route From Savona to Nelson Surveyed

Inland Natural Gas Company, Ltd., in co-operation with their engineers, Ford, Bacon and Davis Limited, Monday announced that 210 miles, representing 69 per cent of its mainline pipe route from Savona to Nelson has been surveyed. This report indicates that an additional 17 per cent of route survey has been accomplished since Inland's last progress report about one month ago.

The Kamloops area from Savona to Falkland has been surveyed from pipeline mile "0" at Savona to mile 67, a few miles past Falkland.

The mainline route of Inland Gas Company's pipeline has been surveyed within a very short distance of the City. The most recent survey work has been accomplished in the general district and brings the Kootenay section of the proposed 304 mile route to within some 30 miles of being completely surveyed. The following progress report by Inland provides a picture of action to date.

A previously surveyed portion of the route south of Kelowna through Penticton and Oliver on to the Kettle River area from mile 132 to 189 has been increased by the now completed survey from mile 190 to 217. This area is West of the Grand Forks sector already surveyed for some 36 miles in the Rossland district.

The most recent surveys completed includes approximately five miles near Rossland and Trail, and some 12 miles in the Slocan-Kootenay River section. The pipe line route from the Kootenay River to a point just East of Nelson had been previously surveyed.

Inland is also constructing some 73 miles of laterals to supply Natural Gas to Cariboo communities, Merritt, Salmon Arm, Oliver, Osoyoos, Dawson Creek and Summerland, with further laterals under plan. Survey work has been completed in all these areas excepting the Oliver to Osoyoos, Summerland and further planned routes.

With open weather work is progressing favorably and the surveying and mapping of both the mainline and lateral routes is progressing satisfactorily, while plans are under way to commence the clearing and grading of right of way this Fall.

A spokesman of Inland pointed out that although the survey work for these lines is presently well in hand only the Dawson Creek lateral has been definitely mapped, as construction of a second nine-mile gas transmission line into that city will start immediately.

It is possible that minor route changes in the other lines may be made to facilitate construction in the Spring.

Edgewood, Needles Give $150 to CARS

EDGEWOOD — William Shipmaker sr., chairman of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society committee for Edgewood-Needles, has pointed out that the sum of $150.50 collected recently for the Society was given by residents of both Edgewood and Needles. Fully one-third of the total was given in Needles. A story in The Daily News October 16 gave the impression that the money came from Edgewood alone.

SOUTH SLOCAN POOL BECOMES ENCHANTED PLACE IN AUTUMN

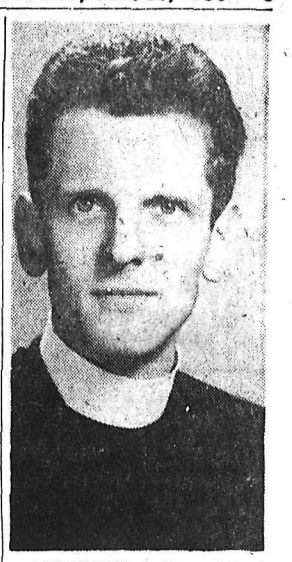
SOUTH SLOCAN — Fall has painted the Kootenays with gold, russets and reds, bringing a new beauty to the South Slocan Pool and power company property.

The river no longer dashes violently down the chasm, ripping the pool into ribbons of current. The waters trundle over the rocks and the quiet of Winter preparations seem to have awed the river into leaving the calmness of the Pool unruffled. Boats drawn up on the beach make an artist's picture against the far shore dapple of green and gold and bronze.

A walk through the woods down river from the fishermen's parking lot finds rustling leaves golden underfoot, the needle-thick floor spongy like a carpet. Big toadstools push up through the decaying leaves and needles of ages and the river glints through the twilight of forest. Not far along the path is a small log cabin, deserted, unroofed with the log rafters forming a pattern to the sky. A quiet place, the cabin, though in decay, seems a natural part of the forest, holding the memory of Ollie Scadabo who lived for many years in the little cabin.

Along the beach at the plant gardens the staff house creeper is a palette for nature's colors. The East wall is particularly colorful, ranging from brilliant scarlet to darker red, to orange, and back to various greens. Foliage of plants turned russet and rose vie with the bright flower beds.

J. Street, head gardener, is giving the greenhouse an overhaul and rearranging for Winter weather. Christmas plants are well started but Fall planting and clearing of flower beds awaits a frost of some vigor. An array of 20 orchid plants in 12 varieties show signs of blooming about Christmas, on their high perch, many for the first time since they were acquired.



APPOINTED to the parish of Windermere, Rev. Richard C. Littlehales, above, graduated from the Anglican Theological College at University of B. C. last Spring. He has taken up residence in Invermere.

Revolt May Lead to Better World Relations

Poland seems to be once more following its historical tradition in seeking national independence, for there are reports from Warsaw that her Communist central committee is preparing a demand that the country's relations with the Soviet Union be placed on a basis of full independence.

Poland was "captured" for Communism after the last war largely by the infiltration of Russians and by arms smuggled in to Polish Communists. Apart from Communism, Poles have nothing in common with the Russians, and their racial memory still strongly recalls the oppression of former days. Linked up with their patriotism is their loyalty to the church, and though it is the aim of Communism everywhere to destroy religion, Poland has shown, as so many other countries have, that when a nation is oppressed it will turn to its religion as a source of strength. In Poland at least religion has not been entirely eliminated.

The disturbances in Poznan cannot be said to be the outcome of any organized movement against Communism, but the trials show that patriotism or national feeling is still strong in Polish hearts. Possibly under the stern rule of Stalin such a demonstration against authority could not have occurred, but with the lessening pressure from the Kremlin, Poles once more began to dream of freedom from their historic enemies, and now the demand comes for complete autonomy.

This does not mean that Poland will become a non-Communist state. That system is still too strongly entrenched to be overthrown or changed by the people, but it does indicate that there is a revolt against domination by Russia. Little as this is, it still gives hope that other states such as Latvia may once again find some measure of national freedom, and with the extension of that freedom comes the hope that the possibility of large-scale war will recede.

The Polish committee seems to be seeking a national status similar to that of Yugoslavia whereby the country is Communist and associated with Russia but free to have what relations she chooses with the rest of the world. There are widespread reports that the Soviet and Chinese are urging the Poles not to go too far in seeking "new ways to Socialism", and while this may refer to internal changes in policy it underlines their fear that Poland may become a menace to Communist unity.

Communist unity through the dictatorship of a few has always aroused the fear of the free world, but unity through co-operation bears a different complexion. It is possible that the loosening of the tight bonds of the Soviet Union may result in better world relations.

Peace in the Quiet Hills

Of old for mankind there has been peace in the hills. It is there that dawn comes with sure and even touches; first the grey, then rose and at last the golden sunlight slanting downward into deep and tranquil valleys. A sloping meadow springs to life with its gaily colored flowers. The sun and the wind together rout the mist out of late pockets and drive it from the face of the land. Echoes linger in an old, remembered pattern. In the hills there is no rush about the making even of a new day. Nature takes its time and works with all the arts to produce another masterpiece.

It is to the hills that men of all eras have gone when they have been troubled. Some to preserve the laws of their ancestors, their freedom and at times their lives. Rugged and sturdy have been the hillmen of all times; not prone to shy at images or give ground to fear or in the face of threat. Stubborn no doubt as all free men, they have found their warrant in the changeless hills. Peaks do not yield to thunderstorms. The valleys shrug off a deluge and warm themselves afresh in the sunshine. The rolling of a million years may bring down a little sediment, change the verdure in the valleys, see civilizations wax and wane, but the peaks remain the same. Even the youngest of the mountain ranges of the world now is old, but how old are their craggy ancestors no man may say with certainty.

It is on the hills, far removed from the shams and littleness of life, that men from time immemorial have sought wisdom in reflection. There is time to think while night spreads slowly into day. The few sounds that may break the silence are restful, not alarming. In the clean, clear air on a hilltop many a man has found his Maker, without Whom there could have been no dawn for mankind.—Victoria Colonist.

Outside Capital

The Financial Post's new estimates show that this country is currently relying on foreign funds for about one-third of our new investment capital, and that for the last four years we have depended on foreign capital as heavily as we have ever done since World War I. The only comparable period was 1926-29.

In the light of these facts it is indefensible for government spokesmen to go on repeating the published D.B.S. averages for earlier years as though they applied to the present situation. It gives an utterly false picture to say that "in recent years" foreign capital has contributed only 6 per cent of Canadian investment.

The 6 per cent covers two distinct periods: 1946-49 when the government's foreign loans were on such a scale that we exported 11 per cent more capital than we imported; and 1950-54, when we have been drawing even more heavily on private capital from abroad. To average the two is meaningless and misleading. The important present fact is that ever since 1950 our reliance on foreign capital has been rising sharply until now Canadian savings are covering only about two-thirds of our new investment.

Since the human mind always tends to believe what it wants to believe, the government's consistent underplaying of our dependence on foreign capital suggests that it finds the facts embarrassing. But the only chance of developing a reasoned attitude toward the influx of foreign capital is to start with facts, not with illusions.

—Financial Post.

It's Been Said

No evil is without its compensation. The less money, the less trouble. The less favor, the less envy. Even in those cases which put us out of wits, it is not the loss itself, but the estimate of the loss that troubles us.—Seneca.

L. A. W., Queen's Bay—Can you give me any information as to the title and author of some verses about "Green beads on a silver string, Give them me, give them me . . . "?

We are indebted to B. D., Nelson, for providing us with author's name and first line of the poem: "Nymph, nymph, what are your beads . . . ", by Harold Monro.

Curious, Nelson—At the Don Cossack Choir concert in the L. V. Rogers High School, I was fascinated by the leader who, between items, walked back and forth behind the singers. Had he any reason for doing this so systematically, or was it just a nervous habit?

Nicholas Kostrukoff, leader of the Don Cossack Chorus, was carrying a series of tuning pipes with which, when walking behind the singers, he gave the pitch for opening notes.

A. D., Nelson—Is their anyone in the neighborhood who does insulation by blowing?

Can other readers help, please?

T. J., Nelson—Would you kindly repeat recipe for elderberry wine?

To seven pounds of elderberries allow three gallons boiling water; to each gallon of juice ensuing allow three pounds preserving sugar, one pound raisins, half ounce ground ginger, six cloves, quarter ounce compressed yeast, and one gill of brandy. Gather berries when ripe and pick from stalks. Put into large crock or tub and bruise down, then cover with the boiling water. Cover closely and leave for 24 hours, then strain through fine sieve or jelly-bag, measure the liquid, and put into a preserving pan. Add sugar, raisins, ground ginger and cloves in above proportions, bring slowly to boil and boil for one hour, skimming when necessary. Now let liquid stand until lukewarm, then turn into clean dry barrel and put in yeast spread on piece of toast. Cover bunghole with folded cloth and leave for two weeks. Add brandy; in about six months wine can be bottled.

A Cure for Anxiety

Future historians may look upon this age and find its dominant characteristic as the search for security. This search is behind the restlessness of backward peoples hungering for a place in the sun. It is in the welfare schemes of developed countries eager to dispel the uncertainty of existence. It causes healthy and prosperous men to become anxious about their future. Dr. Ray F. Farquharson, professor of medicine at the University of Toronto, told a meeting of Ontario and Quebec industrial physicians that weakness and fatigue are often caused by anxiety about the future rather than physical illness. He was pointing to the characteristic of our age.

The mistake of most people is that they make security and peace of mind a goal of existence. Heaven to many is a place of serenity where human energies will no longer be taxed and human beings will not be subject to challenge. George Bernard Shaw once said that if this be heaven he would prefer hell. Complete peace of mind is usually a state of mental vacuity. Absolute security deadens the faculties. Some insecurity is inevitable in life, and a man ignores this fact at his peril.

Rather than peace of mind, men would do well to seek a balanced life, where work, recreation (in the best sense), social activities and physical effort are proportionately distributed. We run toward leisure seeking forgetfulness. We should rather use leisure for constructive activity. This would take away much of our preoccupation with security and reduce our anxiety. It would make us healthier, providing strength for meeting challenge and resources for dispelling fatigue.

Learning to Spello

. . . F. B. PEARCE

I am certainly both shocked and surprised that in Fairview, the heartland of the intelligentsia, neither parents nor pupils competing in a spelling bee could spell that simple word, "recommend". What is the matter with them in these days when pupils do not pass exams but are recommended? They surely must have seen the word before. It begins to look as if no one can spell, though it has long been suspected that the parent who insists that pupils cannot spell cannot spell either.

Something should be done about the matter. We cannot have parents suffering under the stigma of advanced illiteracy. Why, they are almost as bad as science and engineering graduates who, so we are told, cannot write simple English and can only express themselves in signs, symbols and formulae. From which we gather that such people live in a vocabulary world of their own.

The Department of Education might put on a night course, "Spelling for Parents", — which would be very nice if we could induce them to take it. We might find out then how well parents would do their homework. It would probably not be very popular. There is not the same enthusiasm to learn among parents as they expect of their children. But even at that it would be better than continuing in the same old way—being righteously and vociferously indignant with the poor spelling of the other fellow but condoning our own.

Staunch advocates of the free enterprise system and individualists will uphold the right and freedom of the citizen to spell as he chooses, but if this were the accepted practice businessmen would go frantic with frustration and private correspondence would be more a matter of intuition than of reading, particularly with some of the queer pronunciations we get these days, for of course people would spell phonetically, and how!

Advocates of reformed spelling will no doubt say that with a reformed spelling there would be no poor spellers, but that is difficult to believe. It is amazing how some people will go to seemingly great pains to spell the simplest word wrong. Even to, too, two is too much for them. Besides, we should all have to start over again and learn the reformed spelling. It might be easier, but it would still be work.

INTRODUCE SPELLO

But learn to spell we must if we are to keep our self-respect and our high national educational standard. In these days (or are these days passing?) learning through play is the recognized method. Bingo, the great indoor amusement, is now under a cloud. It was the consuming pastime of many hundreds of thousands, but now it cannot be decided whether it is either moral or legal, but the impression is that the Mounties are ready to pounce, and most people know enough about the Mounies not to be the man they get. So let's replace it with Spello. Bingo was sheer luck, but Spello needs skill and knowledge. The same cards as in bingo, but with twenty words, some of which are spelt right and some wrong, and a caller, preferably some of our former radio announcers, just to make it more difficult. When the words are called the contestant besides identifying the words would have to mark them right or wrong. With a full house he could shout as usual.

And there, ladies and gentlemen, is the ideal general purpose game. It not only provides fun, but it educates. It is perfectly legal because it combines luck with skill. It is suitable for all ages from kindergarten to senior citizens, and should receive the endorsement of the mayor, the City Council and the Department of Education. It provides the ideal means of fundraising for service clubs, and I have much pleasure in "gifting" it to anyone who can use the idea.

Your Individual HOROSCOPE

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes, and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Wed., Oct. 24, 1956

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) —Considering tomorrow's propitious aspect of your especial planet Mars, this day would be a good one in which to make careful, accurate plans so that you can achieve as much as possible in the next few days.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) —Speak and act in the same manner to all and you will have no cause for regret later. Day may tempt you to be careless, but your innate practicality can counteract this.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) —Don't take things that need rechecking or reviewing for granted. Don't live on past laurels. Heed Gemini's innate sound sense, instincts and knowledge.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) —You have better aspects than some today, but you may find both competition and co-workers reaching just as hard for the same goals. So, when your paths cross, be sure to avoid irritability.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) —Aspects indicate that there are several avenues by which you can gain in business and personal affairs. Select the one best suited to your ability and conditions and you will achieve.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo)—YOU will have to make this day count. It could well be a dull one if you don't do something definite about matters. But don't overtax yourself. Keep cheerful.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra)—This day's aspects are not as benefic as tomorrow's will be, but, nevertheless, it is an excellent period for reviewing, negotiations, conferences, study, teaching, pepping up home affairs.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio)—Move with alacrity to take advantage of current opportunities. Review plans; when sure you are right, advance. Give some thought to family matters, new enterprises as time permits.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Share your joys with loved ones and deserving friends. They in turn will help you when occasion demands. Be flexible since the day may require you to deviate from some procedures.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Don't force issues. Give due consideration to the rights of others. Day calls for judicious use of bargaining powers, diplomatic ability. Avoid overindulgence.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Don't become irked over details or the monotony of tasks. Application to essentials is important. Wishful thinking may be pleasant but it does not spell progress. Be alert.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Same indications as Aquarius. Do not be too anxious for quick results. A good day for mental work. Attend to duties scheduled before attempting anything new.

YOU BORN TODAY are vibrant, generous and innately considerate; have the welfare of your fellowman and loved ones always in your mind. You are inclined, at times, to procrastinate, but once you decide to proceed and follow through, great gains can be realized. Develop your many talents which can aid you in your chosen field. Seek intelligent, congenial associates. You are a good mixer; use this gift to advantage—never unwisely. Avoid stubbornness. Birthdate of: A. Van Leeuwenhoek, Dutch microscopist.

Traffic Normal Again on PGE

VANCOUVER (CP) — Traffic was "back to normal" Monday on the Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

Several slides which cut the line over the rain-sodden Friday were cleaned up, an official said, and no further difficulties were experienced during the weekend.

More than 200 PGE passengers had to be ferried from Squamish to Horseshoe Bay because of the slides and an undermined bridge, all of which have been cleaned up, a company official said.

Liberace Sues Columnist

LONDON (AP) — Liberace, annoyed at criticism from some British writers, has filed a libel suit against the Daily Mirror and one of its columnists, William Connor.

The British high court issued a writ Monday on behalf of the Amerian pianist against the tabloid newspaper and Connor, who writes under the name Cassandra.

Under British procedure, such suits do not specify the amount of damages sought. The amount is fixed by the court if it finds an article libellous.

Liberace complained to reporters on a visit to Paris in late September that some British columnists had implied he was an "unmanly man." He said attacks in connection with his British concert tour had put his mother, Mrs. Frances Liberace, to bed under a doctor's care.

Liberace's lawyer said Liberace told him a Mirror article published Sept. 26 was "just too much for any man to stomach" and added:

"If I didn't have the contracted concert dates in the immediate future, and my appearances depend upon my hands, I would knock Cassandra's teeth down his throat—and I ain't kidding."

TODAY'S BIBLE THOUGHT

As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.—John 9:5.

The world tried very hard to put out the light. Men are still trying to put it out.

We who live in the free world should welcome the light and use it.

THAT'S WHAT THE AD SAID

"Yes, I know—Joe and I were reading it. He called my attention to the big headline "Nothing like it in All Canada—the NEW—NEW—NEW—STAR WEEKLY."

"I like the idea of the whole paper being in one compact tabloid size—don't you?"

"Yes—and the part where they say the Star Weekly is going to be new in many other ways."

"I remember that—they say a new and modern make-up and new type and extra beautiful coloring and arrangement in the Picture section."

"I forget now but when is it coming out?"

"Oh—definitely on October 29th."

HOSPITAL AT ROSSLAND ACCREDITED

ROSSLAND (CP) — Sister Superior M. Helena has received word that the 65 bed Mater Misericordiae Hospital here has been accredited by the joint commission on accreditation of hospitals.

To receive accreditation hospitals must meet a set of standards set out by the joint commission.

The hospital, operated and administered by the Sisters of St. Joseph of Newark, was established in 1896 and will be celebrating the 60th anniversary of its opening on November 4.

Mater Misericordiae is the second hospital in the West Kootenay area to be accredited. Only other acredited hospital in the area is the Trail-Tadanac Hospital at Trail.

East Kootenay Couple United In Marriage

CRANBROOK — A wedding of interest to many was solemnized recently for Irene Sacco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Sacco of Cranbrook, formerly of Crow's Nest, and Charles Misurelli, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Misurelli of Crow's Nest, formerly of Field. Rev. Father Leon Kotsho of Vancouver, friend of the groom and delegate for Msgr. MacIntyre performed the double ring ceremony at St. Mary's Catholic Church. The church was ornamented with asters, snapdragons and carnations. Mrs. L. Selwyn played the wedding music and accompanied Mrs. E. Delamont, cousin of the bride, who was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a beautiful full length gown of petit point lace embroidered on layered tulle over satin. The fitted torso-length bodice featured lily-point sleeves and wing lace collar. The tulle skirt over hoops had the scalloped redingote effect front and back, and fell gracefully into a tiny train. She wore shoes of white brocaded satin. Her fingertip veil of illusion net was held in place by a halo shaped headdress of lace and pearls.

Her jewelry consisted of tiny pearl earrings and a necklace of tiny pearls and emerald birthstone that had been worn by her mother on her wedding. Mrs. M. John pinned the tradition blue ribbon on the bride who also had a lucky penny in her shoe. She carried a cascade bouquet of red talisman roses and white carnations.

The bridesmaid, Miss Marilynne Pascuzzo, the bride's cousin, looked charming in a ballerina length gown of green nylon net over satin, featuring a bustle bow in the back. Her headdress was green braided nylon net worn in cap effect. She carried a bouquet of red and white carnations tied with green ribbon. The flower girl, Marie Poile of Calgary, niece of the groom wore a floor length gown of coral pink tiered nylon lace over satin. She carried a basket of white daisies and pink carnations.

Mr. Joe Misurelli of Calgary was his brother's best man. Mr. Philip Sacco, the bride's brother, ushered the guests to their pews.

The bride's mother wore a flowered afternoon dress of white and pale blue embossed rayon bengaline, with white accessories and a corsage of red and white carnations.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Misurelli, wore a quilted rayon satin light blue afternoon dress with blue and white accessories and a corsage of red and white carnations.

A reception for over 100 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents in the afternoon and evening, following the wed*ding dinner. The living room was* decorated with pink and white streamers and bells. The four tiered cake made and decorated by the bride's mother and sister was topped by a miniature bride and groom. It was flanked by tall white tapers tied with pink and white bows and lily of the valley. The toastmaster was Mr. Misurelli with Msgr. MacIntyre pronouncing grace and a toast to the bride. Telegrams were read and many beautiful gifts were received. The serviteurs were Mrs. Rex Jones, Mrs. Jack Hargraves, Mrs. Pete Macri. Also helping were Mrs. Sandy Pascuzzo and Mrs. Lou Larsen.

TO NIAGARA

For the honeymoon to Niagara Falls and New York City the bride travelled in a light grey suit and topcoat with pink accessories and a corsage of red roses and white carnations.

The bride attended school in Michel-Natal and after graduating three years ago was employed by the B.C. Telephone Company in Cranbrook. Mr. and Mrs. Misurelli will reside in Crow's Nest where the groom is employed by the C.P.R.

Out of town guests included the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Misurelli, Crow's Nest, John and Ernie Misurelli, Crow's Nest, Mr. and Mrs. Ros Sacco, Kris, Garry, Chyril Sacco of North Bend, B.C., Mrs. Rex Jones of Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Macri, Steve and Tony Macri, Mr. and Mrs. D. Wallach, Randy and Ricky Wallach, Mr. and Mrs. R. Edwards, Danny and Debbie Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hargraves, Mary Anne and Jackollen Hargraves, all of Marysville, Mrs. Frank Talerico, great aunt of the bride, of Grand Forks, Mr. J. Pascuzzo, Kimberley, Mr. and Mrs. Dom Pascuzzo, Sirdar, B.C., Mrs. Ann Larsen, Creston, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sutcliffe, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Poile, Marie and Wyne Poile of Calgary, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Tenant, Leslie and Ray Tenant of Michel.

Here's one for instance that is as useful as it is smart. It is fashioned of embossed nylon, a downy soft material that is said to be cleanable with the aid of a damp cloth. Reversed it is perfect for city street wear since it has a reversible lining of orlon and wool mixture jersey.

Smoked Ham Most "Tailored" Of All Meats

By MARGARET CARR

According to the National Live Stock and Meat Board, savory smoked ham brightens any meal, but it's especially pleasing for early morning breakfast when joined with fried eggs.

Of all the meats, a ham slice might be called the most tailored. That's because it can be cut to fit, or suited to any occasion, whether it be breakfast lunch or dinner.

The delightful aroma of cooking ham seems to have a way of whetting early morning appetites. It furnishes sufficient protein for the morning meal and gives the family a "stick-to-the-ribs" breakfast — one to start the day off right.

The centre cut ham slice is probably the most well known, but the slices on either side of the centre cut are equally delicious. After the centre cut slices have been removed, the butt and shank portion remain. Another economy portion is the butterfly ham slice. This comes from the boned butt portion of ham. The meat is first sliced almost, but not quite, through, then the second cut is made completely through. The double slice is opened flat into an attractive slice and like all ham cuts is high in thiamine—the pep and appetite vitamin.

TO COOK HAM SLICES

Ham slices should be broiled, panbroiled or pan-fried at a moderately low temperature. Before broiling, the fat around the edge of the ham slice may be cut to prevent curling. Place a ham slice ¾ to one inch thick on a broiler rack in the broiler so the top surface of the meat is two or three inches from the heat. Allow about eight to 10 minutes for each side of a one-inch ham slice.

In panbroiling a thinner ham slice, cut the edge of fat, then place the meat in a cool frying pan over low heat. Do not add water, and turn the slice occasionally. Pour off the excess drippings as they accumulate. Brown the meat on both sides and serve immediately. To panfry, the ham slice is cooked the same as for panbroiling except that the fat is not poured off.

TASTY SAUSAGES

Whether it's a quick lunch, an oven dinner or breakfast to prepare, there's a spicy sausage to fit your need—bulk pork sausage, pork sausage links or country-style sausage.

Among your repertoire of sausage dishes you'll want to include pork sausage links and squaw corn. It's a wonderful flavor combination. In preparing the squaw corn, cut eight slices of bacon into small pieces and cook slowly until brown and crisp. To the bacon add ½ cup of grated green peppers and cook for five minutes. Add a can of whole kernel corn and season with salt and pepper and heat thoroughly. Serve with piping hot pork sausage links.

To prepare these pork sausage links, for either a breakfast or luncheon treat, simply place one pound of pork sausage links in a cold frying pan and add two to three tablespoons of water. Cover and cook slowly for eight to 10 minutes or until the water evaporates. Then remove the cover and allow the sausage to become golden brown. The sausage is now ready to serve.

Sizzling pork sausage links present other main dish possibilities when they are browned and top scalloped casseroles either corn or potatoes.

Pork sausage links and fried apples are another favorite. After the sausage has been thoroughly cooked, the links are removed from the frying pan. Then sliced apples, which have been sugared, are added to the sausage drippings and cooked until tender.

Another dish is sausage surprise casserole loaf, made with bulk pork sausage. In using bulk pork sausage in a casserole, you will want to brown the meat slightly first to bring out the rich flavor. Pour off the drippings and place half of the browned meat in the bottom of a greased casserole. For the next layer, combine seasoned mashed potatoes with chopped pimiento and green peppers. Top with more sausage and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 45 minutes.

Nepalese Visitor Retains Sari

WINNIPEG (CP)—Fashion designers would have a tough time plying their trade in India where the perennial sari is never out of fashion.

Take it from a Nepalese woman who refuses to switch to western dress, although she has been in Canada a year.

Agnes Francis, children's nurse for Douglas Stewart-Smith, United Kingdom trade commissioner here says the sari is head and shoulders above anything western designers have dreamed up for comfort, efficiency and simplicity.

The Stewart - Smiths engaged Agnes six years ago while the commissioner was stationed at Calcutta, India.

Since that time Agnes has never changed to western clothes although her work with the commissioner has taken her to south India, east and south Africa, England and finally Canada.

The sari has brought raised eyebrows here from other shoppers and church and movie goers. It is set off by gold earrings, a gold bracelet and a gold ring with a ruby inset worn in the nostril.

The garment is nothing more than a bolt of cloth containing up to 40 yards of material. However, the art is in folding the garment around the body — a technique only a native can achieve quickly to bring the desired simplicity and grace.

In winter Agnes dons boots and covers the sari with a fur coat making the garment practical the year around.

She sees no reason to change to western styles which the Stewart-Smiths say she can do whenever she desires.

Agnes' pet peeves include what she calls the "lump dress of Canadian teen-agers".

Aged Woman Accidental Prisoner Eight Nights in Own Apartment

NEW YORK (AP) — In eight days without a bite to eat, you begin to think about the end. Especially when you're 82.

For eight harrowing days and nights, Mrs. Henrietta A. Emhardt, who is 82, had been an accidental prisoner in her own apartment, in the heart of the city.

"I thought I was going to have to die there," she said, "that I'd starve gradually to death."

There wasn't even space to lie down. The only thing she had to drink was water.

A week ago Friday, on the afternoon of Oct. 12, Mrs. Emhardt became locked in the bathroom of her apartment on East 92nd Street where she lives alone.

TRAPPED

She had fallen against the door, jamming it tightly, and then in trying to open it, had pulled the handle off the doorknob. The rod slipped out on the other side. She was trapped.

She shouted, until her voice gave out, and pounded until her fists went raw, and beat with a brush on the water pipes until she was so weak she couldn't lift her arms.

"Over the water pipes, I could hear the sounds of people all over the house, and I couldn't understand how they could be so heartless as not to come."

HOPED FOR MIRACLE

On Sunday, the third day, she hoped for a miracle and none came. And then after another day or two, it seemed there was no hope left, but she hung on.

"There was no place to stretch out for a tall person like me," she said. "When I'd try to lie down, my whole body would go into cramps."

In a kind of a listless, gnawing eternity, the time ran on. Vaguely at times, she'd hear her telephone ring, but it was beyond her prison door.

Unknown to her, in Darien, Conn., a cousin had been phoning repeatedly. Worried, he finally asked police to check on her.

That was last Saturday night, Oct. 20. Police knocked down the bathroom door. A plucky Mrs. Emhardt, her spirits unbroken and her physical constitution weak but well, said of their coming:

"You can never tell how thankful I was."

EUREKA, Calif. (AP) — The Georgia - Pacific Corp. completed purchase Thursday of the Hammond Lumber Co. for approximately $75,000,000 in one of the biggest lumber deals on the Pacific coast.

The acquiring of the Hammond operations increase Georgia-Pacific's outright timber ownership to more than 12,000,000,000 board feet, mostly old growth in California and Oregon.

Orlov Interested in Canadian Assistance

VANCOUVER (CP) — Rain closed in again Monday as the visiting Russian timber delegation, led by Forest Industries Minister G. M. Orlov, set out to tour the New Westminster Division of Alaska Pine and Cellulose Ltd.

After lunching at the plant, they were to continue to the Vancouver Plywood Division of MacMillan and Bloedel Ltd.

A sunny day Saturday had warmed up the Russians and they relaxed from the "business only" attitude of the earlier part of their British Columbia tour.

Mr. Orlov and his party visited the MacMillan and Bloedel pulp mill on Vancouver Island near Nanaimo Saturday, arm in arm with general manager G. W. E. Lock, asking questions and scribbling copious notes.

The delegation returned here aboard the ferry Princess of Vancouver.

COAL PRODUCTION HIGH

Mr. Orlov chatted with Capt. Leonard Macdonald of the Princess and told him that Russia's coal production will soon surpass "that of America."

"But," he added, "we produce more and we need more. Our population is growing at a terrific rate."

The Soviet minister said technical assistance from Canada is on his list of "possibilities to be explored." He said he has a high opinion of what he saw while visiting the MacMillan and Bloedel Harmac pulp plant.

His tour also convinced him that Canadians were sincere in their "no secrets" promise, he said.

Mr. Orlov described mechanization in Russian pulp plants as "high."

The delegation spent Sunday aboard the yacht of Gordon Gibson, Vancouver timber magnate.

Why Printers Get Grey-Haired Young

SPOKANE (AP) — The Chronicle said Monday it turned out some pretty sweet editions with sour results that almost gummed up the works last week.

The newspaper said pressmen noticed ink didn't flow properly and pumps were sticky. It developed that the ink was sweet. Investigation showed a tanker truck that delivered the bulk ink carried liquid sugar on a previous trip and it contaminated the load.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

Science Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain. Thousands have been relieved—without resort to surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — discovery of a famous scientific institute.

Now you can get this new healing substance in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for it at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

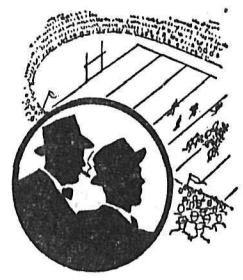
PAKISTAN SUGAR

New factories boosted Pakistan sugar production to 130,000 tons in 1956, a gain of 40,000 tons over 1955.



IT'S JAM PACKED!

"Oh, I don't know Jim—I see lots of empty seats."

"That's a laugh! I wasn't thinking of the Stadium. I meant the NEW Star Weekly."

"Yeah—I'm looking forward to getting a copy—just what did you mean by Jam packed?"

"Well you know it's going to be completely new in a compact tabloid form—pages ten and a half by fourteen inches and that means the magazine section too."

"I understand it is really going to be a marvellous assembly of pictures and articles and stories.

"I just can't wait till October 29th for it. It'll be some exciting game—I mean paper. Now here come the players."

The NEW! NEW! NEW! Star Week!

ONE MARK BROKEN, ONE TIED AS HOMER PRODUCTION SOARS

NEW YORK (AP)—Home run not only reached an all-time high production in the Major Leagues of 2,294 in 1956, but also resulted in the National League "gopher" ball record being broken, and the American loop mark being tied.

Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phils served up 46 home run pitches in 297 innings to top the National League in that department for the third successive season and also surpass his own record. In 1955 the hardworking right-hander gave up 41 "gophers" in 305 innings.

Figures compiled by The Associated Press show that Washington's Camilio Pascual allowed the most home runs in the junior circuit, 32 in 189 innings. That tied him with Freddie Hutchinson who yielded 32 in 221 frames with Detroit in 1948.

Bell Wight of Baltimore proved to be the toughest American League pitcher to get to for a home run. The Orioles' southpaw was solved for only seven in 175 innings.

In the senior circuit, Cincinnati's Hal Jeffcoat, a converted outfielder, was stingiest when it came to giving up "gophers." Jeffcoat, who made the transition to the mound in 1954, allowed just 12 homers in 171 frames.

Runner-up to Roberts was Brooklyn's Don Newcombe, who threw 33 home run tosses in 268 innings. Bob Rush of Chicago Cubs was third with 31 "gopher" serves, followed by teammate Warren Hacker, 28.

Kansas City's Art Ditmar ranked second in the home-runs-off listings in the American League with 30 in 252 innings.

Chuck Stobbs of Washington was third with 29, following by Steve Gromek and Paul Foytack of Detroit, tied for fourth with 5 each.

Brundage Says 1960 Olympics Site Settled

RENO (AP) — President Avery Brundage of the International Olympic committee says there no longer is any doubt that the 1960 Winter Olympic games will be held at Squaw Valley, Calif.

Brundage made his announcement Sunday after conferring with representatives of five international winter sports federations. All endorsed Squaw Valley, he reported.

"While the IOC will review the plans at Melbourne in November," Brundage said, "the question of where the 1960 winter games will be held is now a closed issue. There is no longer any question that they will be staged at Squaw Valley."

Cleveland Browns Sign Replacement For Ratterman

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland Browns of the National Football League Monday signed quarterback Tom O'Connell, former Big Ten passing star with the University of Illinois, as a numerical replacement for George Ratterman, now on the injury reserve list.

O'Connell, 26, who was signed as a free agent, was with the Chicago Bears in 1953 and for the first two games of this season. He was in the U.S. Air Force during the 1954 and 1955 seasons.

SEATTLE (CP) — Ray Kinasewich picked up three points for Seattle Americans last week to tie linemate Guyle Fielder for individual scoring honors. Both have 13 points, in the Western Hockey League.

The youthful winger also shares the goal scoring limelight with Vancouver Canucks' Jackie McLeod who fired two hat tricks last week for a total of eight goals, and place third in the points race.

SERIES "GOAT" SAYS ELBOW BOTHERED HIM

TOKYO (AP) — Righthander Don Newcombe, Brooklyn Dodgers' 27-game winner, said Monday he hurt his pitching elbow in the final game of the National League season but that "I'm sure it will be all right with a little rest."

"I've hurt it before," said Newk, "and it always clears up if I give it a good rest — I sure hope it does this time."

The 30-year-old Dodger ace, who was belted out twice as New York Yankees defeated Brooklyn in the world series, said he didn't mention the injury before because "well, I didn't see any point in telling everybody and I hoped it would get better."

CIVIC HALL SCHEDULE CHANGES

Changes have been noted in this week's Civic Centre amusement hall schedule for Wednesday and Thursday. Corrected schedule follows:

WEDNESDAY

3:00-5:00—Nelson Gyro Fashion Show.

7:30-8:30—Ladies Keep Fit.

8:30-10:00—Men's Keep Fit and Gym Class.

THURSDAY

3:45-5:00—Junior Girls' Gym and Games (10-13).

6:00-8:00—Intermediate Boys' Badminton, Tumbling and Trampoline, (11-15).

8:00-11:00—Badminton Club.

The corrected schedule eliminates senior boys' basketball Wednesday night and "Notre Dame Invites" and men's gym class Thursday night, erroneously announced in Monday's paper.

FOOTBALL LIONS BREAK OWN MARK

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia Lions of the Western Inter-provincial Football Union broke their own Canadian attendance record as they finished the home schedule at Empire Stadium on Saturday night.

In eight league games, Lions had 208,795 customers, some 11,000 more than the 197,589 they drew to set a Canadian record last year.

Largest crowd this season was 30,374 who watched Edmonton Eskimos beat Lions 18-0. Average attendance was 26,100.

Saturday night's crowd of 18,329 for the game that Saskatchewan Roughriders won 25-22 was the smallest of the season.

Stamps Complete Home Season With Upset of Roughriders

CALGARY (CP) — Calgary Stampeders wound up their home season Monday night by upsetting Saskatchewan Roughriders 29-19 in a Western Interprovincial Football Union game.

It was the Cowboys' second consecutive win, the first time during the season they have been able to put wins back to back.

Stampeders, already eliminated from playoff contention, came through with a brilliant two-way performance against the Saskatchewan squad.

Calgary led 15-0 at the end of the first quarter and held a 16-6 bulge at the half. They were ahead 22-19 at the end of the third quarter.

Earl Lunsford led Stamps with two touchdowns and Ronnie Knox and Lynn Bottoms got the others. Knox converted three of the touchdowns. Stamps got a single when Harry Langford rouged Harry Lunn and another when Knox's kick into the end zone was conceded for a point.

Ken Carpenter, Frank Tripucka and Ron Adam scored the Saskatchewan touchdowns.

Vancouver Sunday Sport Bylaw Ruled Illegal in Supreme Court

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver's Sunday sport bylaw Monday was ruled illegal by Mr. Justice A. E. Lord in B.C. Supreme Court.

At the same time city council, sitting as legislative committee when the ruling was handed down decided to ask the government to enact legislation legalizing Sunday sport in the city.

"If the legislature intended that a municipality was to have the power to enact legislations which would relax or be repugnant to existing law, then the legislature would have to express such intention in most explicit terms," Mr. Justice Lord said.

It is "beyond doubt that even if the legislature could delegate to the city the authority to enact such a bylaw, it has not succeeded in doing so."

"In any event," his lordship said, "the bylaw seeks to make lawful that which the Lord's Day Act by section 6 says shall be unlawful."

Mr. Justice Lord said the city relied for support of the bylaw on a section of the Vancouver Charter reading: "The council may provide for the good rules and government of the city."

"To my mind it is impossible that authority to provide for good rule and government of a city can extend to a bylaw authorizing public games on Sunday at which an admission fee is charged.

Under the Lord's Day Act of 1907, the ban on commercialized Sunday sport is Canada-wide but enforcement is left to the Attorneys-General.

In a plebiscite last December, Vancouver voted by a narrow margin in favor of Sunday sport. No action was taken in the legislature last session, however, to make the vote effective.

The provincial government said Vancouver never officially asked for the necssary legislation.

Late this summer, however, city council, after considerable criticism for its inaction, passed the bylaw permitting commercial Sunday sport here.

Only people to take advantage of it were Vancouver Mounties of the Pacific Coast Baseball League. They played two Sunday doubleheaders.

Eskimos Flatten Lions As B.C. Ends Season

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton Eskimos crushed British Columbia Lions 54-13 Monday night to assure themselves of a first-place finish for the third straight year in the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

The lopsided victory and Calgary's win over Saskatchewan gave Eskimos a four-point lead and each had just one game left.

Eskimos, with a potent ground attack led by Normie Kwong, Johnny Bright and Jackie Parker, ran up the highest point total by one team in the league this season.

Bright led the scoring with three touchdowns. Parker picked up two and passed to halfback Rollie Miles for another. Earl Lindley took a lateral from Miles after a pass interception and went for another and Kwong plunged for one. Joe Mobra converted six.

Lions picked up one touchdown on a six-yard run by quarterback Gerry Gustafson and another on a 40-yard forward pass to Ed Vereb in the end zone.

HARD GROUND ATTACK

Fullback Al Pollard and centre Steve Palmer missed the contest. The loss left B.C. in fourth place.

Eskimos rolled up 418 yards on the ground, with Kwong, Bright, Lindley, Miles and Parker churning out most of it. Kwong added 100 yards to his record, set during the last Eskimo game.

THREE TICATS FINED AS RESULT OF 82-14 DEFEAT

HAMILTON (CP) — Three Hamilton Tiger-Cat players were fined Monday by coach Jim Trimble because he said they violated the basic rules of professional football in Saturday's Big Four debacle against Montreal Alouettes. Als smashed Ticats 82-14.

Canadian linebacker Ralph Toohy and import end Jack Bighead were each fined $100. Import guard Gene Donaldson was nicked for $50.

Trimble said the fine against Donaldson, formerly of Cleveland Browns of the United States National Footbal Lleague, was for repeated offsides on kickoffs.

Toohy, 29-year-old lineman in his fifth season with Hamilton, was criticized for unnecessary roughness which resulted in his ejection from the game and a 25-yard penalty against Ticats.

Bighead, 25-year-old end from the NFL Los Angeles Rams, was fined for generally poor play and dropping five passes which, Trimble said, he had in his hands.

"We're paying them to do a job," Trimble said. "If they aren't doing it, we have to do something."

Miss Thriftway to Be Declared Victor?

SEATTLE (AP) — The American Power Boat Association will announce this week that Miss Thriftway of Seattle won the Gold Cup hydroplane race in Detroit last September, a story by sports editor Royal Brougham published in today's Seattle Post-Intelligencer says.

Brougham writes that the announcement was scheduled for Monday but was postponed by a court injunction granted in a Detroit circuit court to keep the Gold Cup from being awarded to either Miss Thriftway or Detroit's Miss Pepsi.

Cougars Hold Stamps 1-0

VICTORIA (CP) — Victoria Cougars, playing their seventh game in 11 days, fought off weariness Monday night to make a first period goal stand up for a 1-0 win over Calgary Stampeders.

It was the first of the Eastern Division clubs to appear in the Western Division of the Western Hockey League this season.

The game was the first shutout of the season for Marcel Pelletier, who last season set a league record with eight, and it was also the first win for the Cougars since the opening of the season. Up until Monday night they had lost five games and tied one.

John Landy Plans Fitness Test Soon

MELBOURNE (AP) — John Landy plans to have the first big test of his fitness for the Olympic Games next Wednesday.

The world mile record holder said Monday he would resume full training and give himself a searching tryout.

"That test should give me a real pointer whether my ankle will stand up to the training I need to have any chance at the Olympics," he said.

Champ Upset

MONTREAL (CP)—Pat Supple, Canadian bantamweight boxing champion, opened a deep cut over Gaby Paliotti's left eye Monday night and went on to earn a split decision over the Canadian featherweight champion in a 10-round non-title bout.

REGAINS RECORD

LONDON (Reuters) — Micail Krovonosov regained the world hammer-throw record Monday with a toss of 67.32 metres (224 feet, 1¾ inches), Moscow radio reported.

RENO BOXER BEATS CANUCK

TORONTO (CP)—Howie King, of Reno, Nev., used his speed and experience Monday night to punch out an eight-round split decision over George Chuvalo, Toronto's young heavyweight hope.

The American Negro, a veteran of more than 50 professional fights, stayed close to his hard-punching 19-year-old opponent and never gave him a chance to use the power which won him his two bouts since turning professional.

In the other main bout, Pedro Antonio Jiminez, Spain's middleweight champion, scored a unanimous eight-round decision over Bobby Jackson of Cleveland.

Maple Leaf Boxing Club Starts Again

After a layoff through the summer months, Maple Leaf Boxing Club resumes operations at Civic Centre tonight.

Steve Cameron, who organized the club last spring, has high hopes that this season will be much more successful than the inaugural one.

A former amateur boxer of note, Steve has lined up a full roster of coaches and named his executive for the year. He hopes to run amateur boxing cards at intervals throughout the winter.

SOUNDS EXCITING!

"You mean some NEW show coming?"

"No, silly—I mean the NEW Star Weekly."

"Oh yes, I've heard the fellows at the Plant talking about it."

"Well I've heard the whole paper is soon to be in a compact tabloid form—the magazine section too—and printed in Rotogravure."

"Yes—and I'm told the NEW Star Weekly is to be new in many other ways as well as new size. The Picture section is going to be fascinating in the flowing sequences of its pictures and colorings."

"Well it does sound exciting—when do we get it?"

"October 29th is the date."

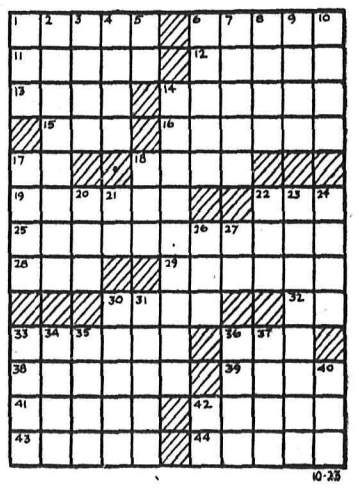
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

Z E U V N O R S C Z N O U B X V X O K E G E U K C I V Q S G G N V V N J X O S V X Q Z S G Q X — B X L N V N.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: I HOLD THAT MAN IS IN THE RIGHT WHO IS MOST CLOSELY IN LEAGUE WITH THE FUTURE—IBSEN.

Market Trends

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market put on its slowest performance in more than a week, with prices mixed. Coppers took some sharp losses.

TORONTO (CP) — Heavy-volume selling pounded copper and Western oil issues lower as the stock market recorded a decisive decline in moderate trading.

CBC to Open Two TV Stations on U.S. Leased Bases

OTTAWA (CP) — The CBC announced Monday it will open television stations at the United States-leased bases at Stephenville, on the west coast of Newfoundland, and at Goose Bay, in Labrador.

The stations will be operated under a Canada-U.S. agreement for a five-year test basis. The CBC statement said the U.S. armed forces radio and television service will make available equipment and personnel for the stations, along with a proportion of programs from major U.S. networks.

PROTECTIVE FOIL "Wraps" 60,000-TON CARRIER

Any housewife would have thought of it! But credit goes to the builders of the U.S. Navy's mighty new carrier, U.S.S. Ranger, for using aluminum foil to keep their product "fresh".

During construction, a ship rests on wooden blocks, which absorb a lot of moisture. To protect their costly steel hull from rust and corrosion during the 18-month construction period, the Navy simply covered the blocks with ordinary household foil. This brainwave was a natural for a marine builder, since nowadays he uses shiny, non-corroding aluminum so widely for superstructures, lifeboats and other important shipbuilding components.

SOUNDS WONDERFUL

"What sounds wonderful?"

"Well—I hear the complete Star Weekly is coming out in Tabloid form."

"You mean the Rotogravure Picture section?"

"No—that's already in Tabloid form. I mean the whole paper is to be in compact tabloid form—all pages ten and a half by fourteen inches."

"Oh I see—the magazine section too."

"Yes and that's not all, they tell me the Star Weekly is going to be new in many ways. New and modern make-up—New type that's easier to read—exciting and colorful."

"My—that does sound wonderful. When will we get it?"

"Out October 29th I believe."

Says Rapidly Expanding Industry Can Be Harmful to Daily Living

TORONTO (CP)—A British industrial planner Monday warned Canadians that blind faith in their rapidly-expanding industrialization could be disastrous.

Sir Geoffrey Vickers said that industrialization can poison the air, pollute water, disrupt families and communities and undermine our physical and mental health.

"A rapidly developing industrialization does not provide the sort of homes and physical living conditions which its age requires and can afford," he said, "unless social policy sees that it does."

Sir Geoffrey was speaking to 120 prominent Canadians gathered here for a five-day, first-hand study of six Ontario industrial areas. The University of Toronto organized the study to determine the impact on human well-being of a rapidly evolving industrialization.

FRUSTRATES PLEASURE

Sir Geoffrey, lawyer, sociologist and economist who has served on Britain's national coal board and mental research council, said that while industrialization "offers hand, with the other it often frustrates their enjoyment. I have seen above smoke-grimed tops a forest of television aerials in an atmosphere lethal with industrial abundance and leisure with one wastes."

Odds... and Ends
... by M. D. B.

We have received notification that November 4 to 10 is cat week. Now we know every dog has his day and a puppy has a weekend, but to devote a whole week to cats seems to me to be overdoing things a bit. Much as I like cats, I think that claiming one of the year's 52 weeks for them is going a bit too far, why even Mother only has one day.

* * *

There is no telling where this sort of thing might lead, before long we'll be having hamster week, white mice week, canary week, budgie week and personally, I would resent giving up so many weeks.

* * *

There is a nasty rumor around that people are only reading the headlines. I have suggested we change our front page to suit this coming trend and only print the headlines. Better still instead of going into a lot of detail in bold letters we could remark "Same old guff in U.S. election campaign," "Nothing new in Suez," "Cyprus still stewing."' This would surely make matters considerably easier, on the reader. Another thing, in one corner instead of having them scattered over the page we could have a tally — "4 murders, 2 suicides, 3 natural deaths, umpteen highway accidents, 2 drownings," we could just fill in the figures each day.

* * *

My boss only asked me if I had another job in mind.

* * *

What with our efficient looking forestry building and Stewart Brothers' new building, Lake Street is looking like it never expected to look, I imagine.

I am still in the Hs in the process of cleaning out the files and I came across Rochelle Hudson. I remember her in a picture with Shirley Temple called "Animal Crackers," I believe it was. And then I found Marsha Hunt, and Leila Hyams, who was apparently prominent around 1933, I don't recall her, though. I wonder what has become of these stars that flame brightly on the movie horizon and then fall from sight.

I have been touching wood, carrying around a rabbit's foot, four leaf clover and even wearing rubbers in the hope that I would escape that early Fall cold I seem to always come by. It was no use —Sunday morning I woke up not only to see snow on Mount Nelson but with those inevitable cold germs playing ping pong between my ears. Oh, be, dothing bud blow ad sdeeze.

Trips to Moon Not Encouraged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States defence department has taken a firm stand against accepting or encouraging passengers for the first rocket trip to the moon, whenever that may be.

The department had to make up its mind because of a letter from a Philadelphia husband who wrote to "volunteer" his wife "for the first rocket which will be manned by humans."

The letter, signed by a man whose name remains tucked away in a security file, read as follows:

"For years now I have been threatening to send my wife Betty to the moon (kidding of course).

"It now develops that she likes the idea and is interested in space travel. She reads all she can about it and sees all pictures regarding space and such.

"Therefore, I would like to volunteer her for the first rocket which will be manned with humans."

CAUTIOUS REPLY

After several days of consultations, the government drafted this reply signed by C. Herschel Schooley, public information director:

"Aside from the moral considerations raised by the idea of sending a volunteer on a one-way missile flight, there is no missile in development now which is capable of accepting a passenger with respect to physical space or the nature of environmental conditions."

Alick Patterson's Recovery "Good"

VANCOUVER (CP) — Alick Patterson's condition is "good" and no serious complications are likely to retard his recovery.

That was the latest word Monday from Vancouver General Hospital where the man who survived six days on Seymour Mountain is recovering from his ordeal.

"His morale is high and he's cheerful, and that's' the main thing," a hospital spokesman said.

The Scottish immigrant is suffering from general exposure and an affliction known as "trench foot" — a result of wet and cold.

"His feet are quite sore, but it appears to me that they will be all right in time," the hospital official said.

Patterson was expected to be in hospital for "from two to three weeks."

Ask Public To Help Police Find Fire Bug

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — Arson investigators, still without a suspect, appealed for help from students and townspeople Monday to find the fire bug who touched off a University of Idaho blaze that killed three youths.

Earle E. Koehler, state commissioner of law enforcement who has been assigned to the case by Gov. Robert E. Smylie, appealed in a statement for "factual information."

He said "many persons" have already been interviewed and that lie detector tests have been used in some instances.

An early-morning fire Friday killed the three students at Gault Hall, a men's dormitory on the campus. It was the fourth fire in a week at the school. Officials have called it arson and murder.

"Student guards will ride with state police officers in radio-equipped cars through the campus each night until circumstances warrant relinquishing such emergency measures," Koehler said.

Meanwhile, many residents in this town of some 12,000 persons were leaving house lights burning all night with the arsonist at large and the Daily Idahoian called editorially for vigilance.

"Unless he is apprehended and removed," the paper said, "he will strike again when the opportunity presents itself, when the guards are down, when complacency sets in."

Aluminium Ltd. Sees Higher Earnings In Third Quarter

BOSTON (AP) — Third-quarter earnings of Aluminium Ltd. and subsidiaries are estimated at $18,000,000 — 35 per cent over the 1955 third-quarter figure of $13,600,000 — Nathanael V. Davis, the company's president, said Monday.

The forecast was included to improving production factors in the second half of 1956, combined with strong demand and higher world prices for aluminum this year than last. Aluminium Ltd.'s headquarters are in Montreal.

REDUCE GAP

Davis said "the gap between supply and demand which existed until a few months ago has been substantially reduced, if not eliminated, as a result of the efforts of all major producers in expanding supplies. However, the trend in demand in the years ahead appears to us as continuing strongly upward."

With new smelter facilities coming into operation at Kitimat, B.C., Aluminium's primary aluminum production in Canada for the 1956 third quarter was "at an annual rate 100,000 tons greater than in the third quarter of 1955," Davis said.

Margaret Suffering From Overstrain

MACHAKOS, Kenya (AP) — Doctors attending Princess Margaret on her East African tour said Monday she is suffering from "overstrain."

A bulletin on her health issued Sunday night said that the princess was well enough to continue her full program. She suffered a sudden bilious attack on Saturday.

Monday the princess motored 43 miles to attend a baraza here — a tribal festival highlighting the famous kamba dance. One dance represented a battle between the Wakamba tribe and their traditional enemies, the Masai.

Watching the mock battle were the representatives of a mixed Kamba-Masai border control committee which only recently concluded an agreement to halt cattle raiding between the two tribes.

When the dance showed Kamba warriors defeating the Masai, the Masai spectators muttered ominously. But the strained peace held.

Weekend Crime Shocks Police

VANCOUVER (CP) — A weekend of what one police officer described as "senseless and terrifying" crime resulted in severe injury to three Vancouver citizens.

Moss Orloff, 71-year-old storeowner, was beaten and kicked unconscious Saturday night, even though he pleaded with attackers to take his money but let him alone. They took between $400 and $600 then kicked him as he lay on the floor.

In North Vancouver Robert B. Johnsen was disfigured with a broken beer bottle because he didn't want to move his car. He had driven to the front of an apartment block and was waiting for a friend when three men attacked him after asking him to move his car. His face was then slashed with a beer bottle. A policeman said Johnsen's nose was "ripped from his face."

In the third violent attack, 20-year-old Robert Whyte was beaten by two motorcyclists wielding a chain. Whyte said the leather-coated men attempted to put the chain around his neck and drag him behind their machines.

Six minor assaults were also reported to police during the weekend.

British Planes Track A-Cloud

ADELAIDE, Australia (CP) — Air force planes Monday tracked the radioactive cloud from the fourth and final explosion of the British atomic weapons test in Australia.

The weekend explosion was off a tower, and was the first nighttime detonation in the series.

Scientists continued to examine instruments set up for recording the effects of the explosion. Sir William Penney, British scientist in charge of the tests, will study the data for several months in preparing a complete analysis of the results.
