Egypt To Clamp Controls on Suez

UN Security Council to Meet Friday Morning on Canal Issue; Promise Uninterrupted Navigation

By WILTON WYNN

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt has made public plans to clamp complete Egyptian control on Suez canal operations and toll money.

In New York the United Nations Security Council scheduled a meeting on the Suez issue Friday morning at the request of the United States.

The announced Egyptian plan provides some latitude in arbitrating dispute that may arise in operating the 103-mile waterway the Egyptians nationalized last July 26.

The Egyptian memorandum Wednesday promised uninterrupted navigation for all nations—with some reservations—and proposed setting up a fund of one-fourth of all tolls to develop the canal.

TOLLS TO EGYPT

Egypt will collect all tolls, the memorandum said, and the Egypt government wil ltake five per cent in royalities. It said toll increases would be limited to one per cent a year unless negotiations with users provided for more.

The Egyptian anouncement and responsible Egyptian officials insisted that the document will have the force of an international treaty registered with the United Nations.

The Egyptian statement said use of the canal would be "within the limits and in accordance with the provisions" of the 1888 Constantinople convention. This provides unhindered access to the canal for ships of all nations in war and peace; but Egypt bars Israeli ships under a convention security clause with the contention that the 1948 state of war with Israel still exists under he 1949 armisice. The convention guarantees are administered as sovereign rights apart from the physical operation of the canal itself.

ISRAEL OUT

At the UN in New York an Egyptian delegation spokesman said Israel "definitely" will be barred.

In the main, the document appears to correspond closely to the plan President Nasser presented to UN Secretary - General Dag Hammarskjold several weeks ago.

The biggest concessions by Nasser appear to be in the realm of arbitrating disputes, particularly clauses which state the arbitration must be binding on both disputing parties.

But Nasser has given little ground, if any, on operation and management.

The memorandum promises cooperation with canal users but gives them no voice in the waterway operation. It does not even define whether users are governments, shippers, or a combination of both.

On tolls, Nasser did not give an inch. The West proposed a 50-50 sharing of tolls pending a final settlement of how the canal is to be operated. The declaration puts all revenues under firm Egyptian control.

Both in Paris and in London government sources said they hoped the coming meetings of the Security Council will allow leeway for "improving usefully" the Egyptian memorandum.

Court Martial Of Bomber Pilot Starts

WINNIPEG (CP) — A man in charge of traffic control at Winnipeg's Stevenson Field told a five-member court martial here Wednesday that a Mitchell bomber sent out a distress signal shortly before it crashed in a residential district adjacent to the airfield.

FO John S. Sargent, 26, of Westwood, Ont., piloted an RCAF Mitchell bomber which crashed Feb. 17 just short of Stevenson Field and damaged three houses. None of the six aboard the bomber were seriously injured and no one on the ground was injured.

He pleaded not guilty to charges of negligently failing to make a refuelling stop en route when he knew or should have known that his plane had insufficient fuel to complete the flight; negligently failing to take appropriate emergency landing action on approach to an airfield; and negligently making a false entry in a document signed by him which was required for official purposes.

LEFT ROUTE

He pleaded guilty to a fourth charge of conduct to the prejudice of good order and discipline in that he landed his plane at Patricia Bay, B.C., and so deviated from flight authorization orders.

Additional evidence heard at the court martial included an expert on crashed planes who said that not more than five gallons of fuel remained in the bomber when he examined it after it hit the ground.

A third witness testified that if he had been piloting the bomber and found himself in the position of the pilot, he would have made an emergency landing at Rivers, Man., before going on to Winnipeg.

Members of the court wore full uniform with medals. There is little ceremony attached to an air force court martial.

Queen and Prince Watch Secret Radar

—The Queen and Prince Philip today looked at Britain's top-secret radar equipment at the Malvern national research establishment.

Strict security was enforced as the royal couple saw guided weapons and airborne radar equipment demonstrated. Members of the royal household were not allowed to accompany them during the secret part of the tour.

GET LIFE TERMS

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters) — Eight Greek Cypriots were sentenced Wednesday to life imprisonment for possessing arms and ammunition. The sentences were the biggest single batch of convictions under the emergency regulations so far.

Expect Cool Reply To Bulganin Letter

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister Macmillan may discuss with Sir Winston Churchill today the feasibility of visiting Moscow, it was learned Wednesday night.

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister Macmillan probably will send a cool reply to an 8000-word personal letter from Soviet Premier Bulganin, reliable sources said Wednesday night.

The letters, received Saturday, reviewed the whole field of Anglo-Soviet relations, including disarmament, the Middle East and cultural and trade exchanges, but did not make any substantially new proposals.

Macmillan has not yet drafted a reply. He is spending the one-week Easter parliamentary recess at his country home in Sussex. Today he will be Sir Winston Churchill's guest for dinner at the former prime minister's country home in Kent.

Officials said Macmillan hardly can be expected to send a warm reply in view of Moscow's publication of the letter Wednesday before he had time to answer. The publication has made British officials question whether the letter is intended primarily for propaganda.

A foreign office spokesman said "On the whole, we are against the publication of diplomatic communications without both sides being given due time to consider the matter, and without consultations."

Britain is not expected to reply until she has consulted her western allies. It must also be ascertained whether Bulganin will follow the letter with others to heads of western governments.

On to the Hunt!

VICTORIA (CP)—Anything the mainland can do Vancouver Island can do, so they're going to have a Sasquatch hunt all their own here next week.

And what's more, they're going to do it with the proper weapons.

Arnold Webb, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce and member in charge of safaris, said Wednesday the chamber has accepted an offer by a Port Angeles woman to loan Victoria a shwienburkel for hunting the Sasquatch.

In accepting the offer, Mr. Webb said representatives of the chamber and of the Explorers' Club will be on hand to meet Mrs. E. B. Tinkham when she arrives here Sunday afternoon with her unique gun.

The Shwienburkel, it was explained rather sketchily, is capable of shooting around corners and is equipped with a "waffle valve" and an altimeter.

Mrs. Tinkham said in her letter there was better chance of finding a Sasquatch in Victoria than on the mainland.

She said in her letter the hairy giants originated in the Saanich area and migrated to the mainland to an area around Harrison Hot Springs, where an official Sasquatch hunt is being organized.

MAY NEVER SOLVE CANNON MURDER

OTTAWA (CP)—The killer of Lucien Cannon, Canadian foreign service officer, may never be found, officials here say.

Mr. Cannon, 39-year-old native of Quebec City, was stabbed to death April 12 in Saigon, South Viet Nam, while serving in the Viet Nam truce supervisory commission. He was killed in his bed in a compound that was supposed to be guarded.

Officials said Wednesday they are continuing to press the Vietnamese police for a solution.

They added, however, that the Vietnamese police have been cooperative and helpful in the investigation in which the Canadian government has been represented by a senior official of the external affairs department.

No motive for the killing has been advanced officially. Authorities say they are inclined to rule out the possibility it could have been a political assassination.

Canada asked that protective arrangements for members of the truce commission, which comprises Indian and Polish as well as Canadian representatives, be tightened up and this has been done.

EDEN IMPROVES

BOSTON (AP)—Continued improvement was reported Wednesday in the condition of Sir Anthony Eden. The 59 - year - old former prime minister was operated in for bile duct obstruction April 13. The daily bulletin on Eden "is becoming more active about his room. A more liberal diet is being taken."

Nasser To Meet Pandit Nehru

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—India's Prime Minister Nehru will meet President Nasser of Egypt in Cairo on his way to London for a meeting of British Commonwealth prime ministers in June, reliable sources said here today.

Nehru and Nasser are expected to discuss Suez and the Middle East situation. The meeting will take place during a brief overnight stop by Nehru in Cairo in mid-June.

Howe Says . . .

Must Fight for Wheat Market

EDMONTON (CP) — Canada faces a tough fight ahead to hold on to her traditional wheat customers in the wake of the United States action to dump surplus wheat on world markets, Trade Minister Howe said Wednesday night.

There was no reason to be pessimistic about the wheat outlook, but neither was there ground for complacency, he said in a speech before the Edmonton Junior Chamber of Commerce.

"I do not suggest for a moment that present conditions in the wheat market are satisfactory. The dumping of U.S. surpluses is causing great problems for the rest of the world's exporters. But Canada is doing a great deal better, both in terms of price and volume, than if the government were to step aside and force the Canadian farmer to compete individually against the U.S. treasury.

". . . A tough fight lies ahead to retain our traditional wheat markets and to achieve a reasonable degree of price stability until the burdensome surpluses now existing in North America disappear, as they surely will.

"In the long run, there can be little to fear, because Canada still produces the best bread wheat in the world and western Canadian wheat producers are as efficient as any in the world."

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada has informed the United States a reported American deal to provide Poland with wheat under "very generous terms" including long-term credit may upset the world wheat market, Canadian officials said Wednesday.

They said the Canadian view was presented to the Americans orally. There was no written protest. But it was made clear to the Americans that Canada does not favor the reported U.S. deal.

Charged as Spy

VIENNA (AP) — Prague radio reported Wednesday that Czechoslovak police have arrested a Prague physician as "a spy for NATO". Dr. Josef Mayer was alleged to have delivered military information to an unnamed Western diplomat, who since has left Prague.

Tug Capsizes; Four Drown

MONTREAL (CP)—Three men and one woman were drowned today when the tug John Pratt capsized in Montreal harbor while helping a Swedith freighter to dock. Four men were rescued.

Originally it was feared five persons had drowned, but harbor police said they were able to establish that the tug carried a crew of eight and that four were rescued.

The victims were identified as Jeanne Lamy, cook; Capt. Zotiqué Bibeault; Jean Morin, deckhand; and Laurent Leforest, fireman.

All were believed to have lived in the Sorel area about 50 miles east of here.

The rescued either jumped overboard or were thrown from the tug as it helped to berth the freighter Nyland, out of Goteborg, Sweden.

DIFFERENT VERSIONS

Some eyewitnesses said the tug was abeam of the wind and was pulled over by the freighter. Others said they thought the stern of the Nyland verred and struck the tug, owned by the Sincennes-McNaughton Line.

The tug sonk quickly and crew members working below had little chance of escaping.

Pius Warns of 'Race to Death'

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—The unlimited power of nuclear explosions is becoming a catastrophic threat because "everybody seeks to surpass the other," the Pope has warned.

"In the case of natural disasters one cannot but bow before what happens at the command of the Almighty," he said. "But if disasters were to be caused by one man's perverse lust for domination—with all the reprisals implied in it—how could such action not be condemned by every righteous soul?"

The Pontiff's views were expressed in a note handed to Japanese envoy Masatoshi Matsuchita, Japan's special anti - nuclear test envoy, at a Vatican reception April 14 and published Wednesday in the Vatican City L'Osservatore Romano. Matsuchita is seeking world support in the Japanese campaign for an end to test explosions of nuclear weapons.

The Pope said no one could predict with certainty the ultimate biological effects of nuclear explosions "on the living species."

He said: "The wise men of all nations and all faiths must feel the grave moral obligation to pursue the noble aim of mastering these energies in the service of man . . . instead of this terrifying and costly race towards death."

DOLLAR UNCHANGED

NEW YORK (CP) — The Canadian dollars was unchanged at a premium of 4 7-32 per cent in terms of U.S. funds; a week ago 4 5-32 per cent premium. Pound sterling 5-16 higher at $2.79 5-16.

Cabinet Resigns in Crisis-Ridden Jordan

Hussein Blames Communism, has New Scheme to End Political Crisis; General Strike Ties Up Business

By TOM MASTERSON

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Premier Hussein Khalidi's government has resigned, two cabinet ministers reported early Wednesday.

The western-inclined regime had been under steady attack since it was installed at young King Hussein's behest eight days ago.

Foreign Minister Suleiman Nabulsi and Development Minister Amin Madjaj emerged from a long cabinet session saying the resignation had been presented and accepted by King Hussein.

Street rioting, a familiar device in Jordan politics, had driven the cabinet into urgent session.

The next step in the government crisis that has rocked Jordan for 15 days was not clear, although the king said Wednesday in an interview: "You will get the idea of this in the next 24 hours."

In the interview the young king challenged communism and said it will be overcome in his realm.

COALITION SOUGHT

The cabinet met throughout the night at the Philadelphia Hotel. Waiting in the lobby were members of the committee representing all the country's political parties that had demanded Khalidi's cabinet resign to make way for an all - party coalition government.

The ministers met for the second time Wednesday after Khalidi visited the royal palace and talked with the king for an hour. Khalidi was reported carrying the cabinet's resignation with him.

Observers surmised that he and the young monarch had agreed on some new scheme to end the political crisis, but there was no hint of what it might be.

REDS BLAMED

Hussein Wednesday night blamed international communism and its followers for the riots and shifts of government that threatened his kingdom.

He told American reporters in an interview:

"I realize that it is not myself that is the only target of attack, but it is a general move to destroy all elements that can stand in the way of the new imperialism that wants to come into the Arab world . . .

"This campaign was forced upon us and we are going to fight for what we believe is for our honor and our responsibilities.

"I don't think the crisis will come to an end until all elements and powers behind them (the Communists) realize it is not possible to infiltrate into this part of the world and change the way of thinking and beliefs of the people here."

STRIKE CALLED

He said he feels stronger now than ever and does not need any help from outside to win.

The king spoke after a day of violence in Amman by street mobs.

A general strike, called by leftist and Arab nationalist political leaders friendly to Syria and Egypt, tied up 90 per cent of the capital's business.

Private reports reaching the Israeli part of Jerusalem said Iraqi troops have been sent close to the Syrian border to support Hussein. Other Iraqi units are on the Jordan border. The Israeli radio said Iraq has warned Egypt and Syria against any attempt to overthrow Hussein and dismantle Jordan.

Jordan abruptly sealed its border with Syria, the Damascus radio announced. The Syrian foreign minister was said to have explained that the action was a temporary measure because of "nation-wide demonstrations" in Jordan.

Championship Chess Game Today

MOSCOW (CP)—It became almost certain Wednesday, that, for the first time in a decade, the world chess championship will change hands.

Vasily Smyslov, 36 - year - old challenger, has moved into an almost impregnable position in the 24-game title match in Tschaikovsky Concert Hall with Mihail Botvinnik, the 46 - year - old defender who has held world honors since 1948.

Wednesday Botvinnik resigned before play resumed in the 20th game of the match. This left Smyslov with 11½ point point to Botvinnik's 8½. The challenger now needs only one more victory to take the title.

Drivers Can Learn From Handicapped

QUEBEC (CP)—Highways Minister James Allan of Ontario says Canadian motorists could take a lesson in highway safety from the physically handicapped.

He told the Canadian Highway Safety Conference Wednesday that the record of physically-handicapped drivers "is at least as good, and probably much better than that of Ontario motor vehicle operators as a whole."

The handicapped driver "must allow that extra margin for safety that results in consistently safe driving," he said.

The survey is based on reports from some 900 municipalities and includes residential and non-residential construction.

Shotgun Blast Kills Negro

CHICAGO (AP)—A 17-year-old Negro was killed by a shotgun blast Tuesday night as he walked along a street.

The shooting of Curtis Bevins climaxed a fresh outbreak of teenage violence in Chicago. The gun was fired from a moving car containing two youths and a 17-year-old girl.

Police said David Vandersteeg, 19, a laborer, admitted he fired the shotgun.

William Touhy, chief of uniform police, said Vandersteeg told him he only intended to frighten Bevins because Negro youths had stoned his car.

SUMMER SIGNS

VICTORIA (CP) — Can anyone doubt now that summer is on the way? The flowers are in bloom, the sun is shining, the tourists arriving and Strait swimmers are making noises.

Newest and one of the first of the season to announce his plans of swimming across the Juan de Fuca Strait is Sgt. Bruce Holmes, 27-year-old Pay Corps NCO attached to the Queen's Own Rifles at Gordon Head.

Sgt. Holmes, who has been swimming in the Strait during the winter, plans a frontal attack on the 18.3-mile stretch of water in about three weeks.

He'll be following perennial Strait swimmer Ben Laughrin, planning to leap smartly into the water in Port Angeles on May 15 at 10 a.m.

His prediction: "I don't think I'll make it the first time but I intend to keep at it."

Canadian Economy To Expand At Fast Pace, Predicts Howe

EDMONTON (CP)—Trade Minister Howe prodicted Wednesday night the Canadian economy will expand this year at the fastest pace in history.

"We are in the full swing of a great period of development," he told the Edmonton Junior Chamber of Commerce. "I fully expect, just as everyone who has a knowledge of what is going on expects, that Canada will expand during 1957 at a faster rate than ever before in history."

His prediction appeared at variance with that made by Finance Minister Harris in his March 14 budget. Mr. Harris forecast national production would rise to a new high but that the rate of climb would be les sthan half the 1956 peak.

If Mr. Howe's prediction is fulfilled, it could mean a gross national product—value of all goods and services produced—of more than $33,000,000,000 compared with the $31,250,000,000 forecast by Mr. Harris.

BUSINESS AID

It also could mean a much larger federal surplus than the $152,000,000 forecast by Mr. Harris for the current fiscal year. Last year he showed a surplus of $282,500,000, more than double the $133,000,000 he predicted.

Mr. Howe touched on the expansion outlook in defending the government's policy on restraining credit growth. He agreed the policy was not universally popular but argued that the government would have been derelict in its duty and business would have suffered if the administration had taken no action.

Canadians, he was sure, wanted to see steady expansion—"not a speculative boom and collopse."

"If the government pursues steady policies and if there continues to be that degree of understanding between government and business that I have been speaking about the prospects for steady expansion are excellent."

He made these other points:

1. Canada had a great future and his advice to young Canadians was to "think big enough." There were examples in Edmonton of men who were prospering greatly because they had "thought big."

2. Imports of foreign capital were v itotClannaadaid mbm were vital to Canadian development. Restricting the flow would be equivalent "to cutting off our nose to spite our face."

And in This Corner . . .

LONDON (Reuters)—Policeman George Washington arrested two men alleged to have broken into the United States Embassy, it was stated in court Tuesday.

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—The case of the purple-splashed houses has been cracked by the U.S. forest products laboratory.

Home owners in southern Wisconsin had phoned the laboratory here to ask what caused purple spots which are freckling their houses.

Scientists blamed the blotches on three culprits—high winds, heavy rain and blossoming elms. They concluded that recent strong winds dashed the elm blossoms against rain-soaked siding on the homes.

Month Sentence

Wilbur A. Sherman of Nelson was sentenced to one month in Nelson Provincial Jail in city court Wednesday as the result of an alleged assault on his wife December 25.

Sherman appeared in court last January, and was put on six months' suspended sentence for common assault, with a $200 bond. He was charged Wednesday with failure to live up to his agreement to keep the peace and with failing to maintain good behaviour by getting intoxicated Tuesday night.

Magistrate R. S. Nelson imposed the jail term when Sherman did not pay total fines of $85 and costs, including $10 and costs for the intoxication charge, $25 for breach of his suspended sentence agreement, and $50 for assaulting his wife.

Comet Seen Here, At Coast

A Nelson woman reported seeing a comet over Elephant Mountain Tuesday night.

Mrs. C. Becker of Vancouver Street said she was walking down Josephine Street about 8:30 Tuesday night when she saw the long-tailed comet, its rays pointing towards Nelson. A boy in the same area at the time also saw it.

Mrs. Becker said it resembled other comets she remembered seeing during her residence in Saskatchewan about 45 years ago. These were visible all Winter, she reported.

VANCOUVER (CP) — A bright comet with a tail millions of miles long was spotted in skies over Vancouver Tuesday night.

"It was really bright, like a big searchlight," said Mrs. Al Beaton of Grouse Mountain resort.

R. J. Clark of the Royal Astonomical Society said the comet is about 50,000,000 miles away and will be visible for several weeks.

He said the comet, one of the brightest seen here in many years, is officially known as 1956H.

Its other name is the Arond-Roland comet after two Belgian astronomers who discovered it in a photograph taken through a telescope last fall.

Miss Cottingham, Formerly Here, BCTF President

VANCOUVER (CP) — Miss Mollie E. Cottingham of John Oliver High School, Vancouver, Wednesday was elected president of the B.C. Teachers Federation. She succeeds Ian D. Boyd of Vancouver.

Other officers: first vice-president, Harold Parrott, vice principal of Belmont High School, Sooke; second vice-president, R. B. Cox, vice-principal of junior-senior high school, Penticton; secretary-treasurer, Manson Toynbee, principal of a West Vancouver elementary school.

The public will be shocked into "full awakening" this fall to the extremely serious shortage of teachers in B.C., says the new president.

Miss Cottingham, second woman to be named to the top post in the 41-year history of the federation, issued this warning minutes after she was elected by acclamation at the annual convention here.

She said the shortage this fall "will be the worst ever."

"It is appalling that our teacher-training institutions in B.C. will graduate only one-third of the 2000 new teachers needed this September," she said.

Miss Cottingham said a recent survey showed that more than 20 per cent of the teachers in half the school districts outside Vancouver were under-qualified.

The new president told teachers that she hopes to see the federation have an increasing influence on schools' curricula.

Miss Cottingham is well known in Nelson, where she was a teacher at Nelson High School from 1939 to 1941, and was also school librarian. While teaching here, she collected many historical stories of Nelson and District and wrote a book on the District's history.

Family Service For H .E. Jones

Funeral service for Henry Edward Jones who died Monday at the age of 86 was held in Thompson Funeral Home Wednesday. Rev. Canon W. J. Silverwood of the Church of the Redeemer officiated at the private family service.

"Nearer, My God, To Thee" and "Lead Kindly Light" were the hymns sung.

Burial followed in the Anglican Plot in Nelson Memorial Park.

A Nelson juvenile was fined $15 by Juvenile Court Judge William Evans on Tuesday for speeding in Nelson. Police said he was travelling 40 miles an hour, and Mr. Evans warned the youth his licence would be suspended if he was charged with speeding again.

Case of another juvenile charged with theft of liquor and groceries was remanded to May 10 for probation officer's report.

Ski Development Could Make Nelson Unique, Meeting Told

Nelson could become a unique ski centre if plans envisaged by the Silver King Ski Club Society become realities.

Meaning of this development to the City was told by Helmuth Mayrhofer and Dr. W. C. Murphy, development co-ordinator, to representatives of service clubs and business establishments after a dinner Wednesday night at the Hume.

The story began with showing by Mr. Mayrhofer and Dr. Murphy of a sound film showing Club members in their activities on the hill, and views from Silver King mountain.

Mr. Mayrhofer spoke of a need to improve tourist attractions here, and said skiing is "snowballing all over the world." Silver King members have he said, "been going through great pains" to lay the groundwork for their project.

NEED ATTRACTIONS

"The greatness of this winter sport" is important to this area, Mr. Mayrhofer said, expressing his "firm belief" Nelson could grow faster than other cities if the idea were developed. He reminded the meeting features that attract summer tourists are "given to us by nature," but thought there was really nothing here to make people want to spend two or three weeks in Nelson. Neither skating nor hockey were tourist attractions, he thought.

Mr. Mayrhofer expressed a "fear" local citizens would not realize the developments that could be made here.

First essential for the project, according to Mr. Mayrhofer, are mountains, of which there are several, and snow. He said the Silver King area is within a snow belt, but Nelson city is outside, and thought avalanche danger "not imminent here in this country." The city is, he stated, "wonderfully located", and easily accessible. More hotels, motels, accommodation in private homes, and other essentials would be needed, as well as the "citizens themselves" becoming "tourist-minded."

Mr. Mayrhofer started skiing at the age of three or four years in Austria. Later, he became a ski instructor, and taught army troops during the last war. He now instructs at Silver King.

LOOK TO FUTURE

Mr. Mayrhofer commented on the "wonderful job" so far by ski enthusiasts here, and told his audience, "all you need to do is to trust the same group." He cautioned that planning should be done "with a very good look at the future," and said there is "always room for further development." Commercial operation of the facilities would be needed, he thought.

Slides of different lifts on which the Club has received estimates, were shown, and Mr. Mayrhofer believed the best arrangement would be a combination chair and T-bar lift, which would be able to handle about 700 skiers per hour during Winter months, and about 350 tourists per hour on chairs during the Summer.

With such an arrangement, he estimated skiing might be extended to about May 15 on Silver King.

Speaking of the "outstanding possibilities" for Nelson's future development, he said this project "might be the difference" between it growing into a unique North American city, or "just another city."

Dr. Murphy outlined the principal requirements now as enthusiasm, desire and finances. He thought a ski hill "is a definite industry," and that a Winter carnival could be held here as a "counterpart" of the annual Midsummer Bonspiel. First necessity was clearing of 25 acres, which Club members did last year.

PAY FOR ITSELF

Dr. Murphy said the project would eventually pay for itself, illustrating this with a statement the Club's present T-bar lift has earned $80 a week during the short time it has operated. After some discussion, the finance committee decided to sell "skilifters," which can be made out for any desired amount, and which the Club intends to repay out of profits.

Better recreational facilities for an employee would make him "a better worker on the boss' time," Dr. Murphy thought, and he also felt the idea could help combat juvenile delinquency.

Slides were shown of two water skiing exhibitions put on by Club members last year, and of other projects, and "skilifters" were passed out for individuals, clubs, or businesses.

E. T. Bodard thanked the Club for the presentation, and Ald. W. S. Ramsay thought City Council would be "very much in favor of anything that will be of benefit to Nelson," and would be "100 per cent" behind Club members.

Thanks were also offered to women who helped with the dinner, under general convener Mrs. W. C. Murphy.

D. F. MacKay was chairman.

Funeral Held For W. Calbick

Funeral service for Wesley Calbick, 86, who died Sunday at Mount St. Francis Infirmary, was held Wednesday at Thompson Funeral Home. Rev. Canon W. J. Silverwood of the Church of the Redeemer officiated.

He was born in Ulby, Michigan, in 1870 and came to Canada in 1890 to work as a carpenter at New Westminster. He moved to Rossland in 1897 and to Nelson the following year where he worked on the building of the Hume Hotel.

Mr. Calbick married Elizabeth Eleanor Johnson in 1899. He started the Dominion Dairy in 1903 which he continued to operate until 1926. He went to live in San Diego and Vancouver for a year, where his wife predeceased him.

He returned to Nelson in 1928 and married Mrs. Julia Elwood. They moved to Trail in 1944 and back to Nelson in 1956. His second wife predeceased him last year.

Assault Charge Withdrawn

An assault charge against Corporal Alexander Borodula of Nelson RCMP was withdrawn in provincial court Wednesday.

Application was made by J. L. Steeves of Vancouver, counsel for Martha and Tim Rebalkin of Perry's Siding, who laid the charge. Crown prosecutor L. S. Gansner asked that the matter be referred to the B.C. Attorney-General's department, but Stipendiary Magistrate William Evans ruled in favor of the withdrawal since the charge was laid by a private party, not by the Crown.

The charge stems from removal of Tim Rebalkin's daughter, Katie, from her home to the New Denver Dormitory School last February. Martha Rebalkin, her grandmother, was earlier found guilty of attempting to obstruct the officer in performance of his duties, and was ordered to sign a $200 bond to keep the peace and be of good behaviour for 12 months. An obstruction charge against the father was dismissed by the Court.

Voters Being Enumerated

Enumeration of voters in the Kootenay West Federal constituency is now taking place following the issue of the writ ordering a general election to be held June 10.

The election machinery was set in motion with the dissolution of the fifth session of the twenty-second parliament April 12.

Chief electoral officer is Nelson Castonguay of Ottawa. Aaron Walde of Cranbrook is returning officer for Kootenay East and F. J. Plester of Trail returning officer for Kootenay West.

Under present federal franchise laws contained in the Canada Elections Act, the franchise is conferred upon all Canadian citizens or British subjects, men and women alike, who have attained the age of 21 years and who have been ordinarily resident in Canada for 12 months prior to polling day and ordinarily resident in the electoral district on the date of the issue of the writ ordering the election.

Persons denied the right to vote are: (1) Judges appointed by the Governor-General; (2) The returning officer for each electoral district; (3) Persons undergoing punishment as inmates of any penal institution for the commission of any offense; (4) Indians ordinarily resident on an Indian Reserve who were not members of His Majesty's Forces in World Wars I and II or who did not execute a waiver of exemption under the Indian Act from taxation on and in respect of personal property; (5) Persons restrained of their liberty or deprived of the management of their property by reason of mental disease; and (6) Persons disqualified under any law relating to the disqualification of electors for corrupt and illegal practices.

At the last general election held in 1953, 730,882 names were on the B.C. voters' list, with 457,456 persons exercising their franchise.

Club To Repair Park Fish Tanks

A work party of members of the Nelson Rod and Gun Club will begin rehabilitation of the Club's fish tanks at Lakeside Park on Sunday, it was decided at a meeting Tuesday night.

The party, under projects chairman P. H. Dutton, will begin sanding and painting the tanks. New glass will be put in, and it was suggested a sportsmen's map now owned by the Club be placed near the tanks. The tanks are to be covered to keep out rocks and other objects thrown in by children.

Books of tickets for the Club's annual barrel derby in July were distributed by Peter Melwood.

The meeting closed with films.

Silvertip Grizzly Shot

CRANBROOK — Intermittent four-year hunt for a silver-tip grizzly ended Easter Monday when Gus Krigsman, scaler for Crestbrook Timber Ltd. at the George McInnes sawmill at St. Mary's Lake shot him with a .303 B.S.A. rifle from ten feet with one hand while holding a flashlight on his roaring, murderous target with the other hand.

The carcass, brought the 40-odd miles to Cranbrook, weighed about 725 pounds, and the skull will be measured for entry in the Boone and Crockett international records. Grizzly shot by H. A. C. Gilbert of Connecticut in East Kootenay in 1937 at present holds seventh place in these records.

The huge male bear has ranged the Purcell Mountains over 80 miles distance between St. Mary's Lake and Crawford Bay for four years. He has been reported damaging parked cars and frightening solitary cabin-dwellers over this area. Two consecutive springs, Ed Swanson has organized late spring hunts for him and has come close twice on the evidence of tracks.

Easter night the bear, whose visits at the St. Mary's Lake camp had been renewed in late March, returned and was busy on a noisy forced entry of a shed where Krigsman had beaver pelts stored, and Krigsman got within ten feet of him for the shot that ended his career.

Winch Doubts Premier's Statement

VANCOUVER (CP) — Harold Winch, CCF Member of Parliament for Vancouver East, says Premier Bennett of British Columbia stuck his neck out in Ontario and "got it chopped off."

"All his bluffing now can't hide the fact the Toronto meeting was a dismal flop," Mr. Winch said at a CCF meeting here.

"The premier's gross miscalculation has convinced me Social Credit will not elect one member east of Alberta."

Mr. Winch also criticized a statement in which the premier is reported have said that Canada has no foreign friends.

"Canada has greater influence and respect today than ever before," Mr. Winch said.

Mr. Winch is expected to be renominated May 1 to defend Vancouver East.

Two Sentenced on Disturbance Charges

GRAND FORKS — Two men appeared before Stipendiary Magistrate William Roberts on Tuesday in connection with charges of causing separate disturbances here Saturday. Both pleaded guilty.

William Wishloff was sentenced to $500 and costs or six months in jail, and chose the latter. John Brezowski paid $50 and costs. His default would have been one month in jail. Both are from Grand Forks.

BUSMAN'S HOLIDAY

LONDON (CP) — A youth accused of stealing brandy and whiskey was asked his occupation. "Apprentice wine-taster," he replied.

Trail Radio Rovers Pedal Past Cranbrook

CRANBROOK — Two foot-loose Trail radio announcers, Ralph Milton and Fraser McAlpine wheeled their way through Cranbrook in the initial stages of a two to three years jaunt of indefinite destination. Their most immediate objective is St. John's, Newfoundland, by about August and from there to Europe.

Ralph Milton is formerly of CKRC Winnipeg, CJOC Lethbridge, and CJAT Trail where he had the popular "Ralph's Party Line" program, and Fraser McAlpine has been reporter-announcer at Trail for the past few years. Each weighs about 172 pounds and carries about 35 pounds of gear and each has one bicycle. The expedition is shirt labeled "The Big Wheels, Coast to Coast." They carry a canvass tent, a single plate gas burner, and their personal gear, and had been averaging a little over 20 miles a day since leaving Trail a week ago. They intend to step this up to 45 to 50 miles a day after they get through the Crow's Nest Pass and continue eastward on the Southern Trans-Canada Highway.

They are budgeting each for a dollar a day and don't intend using commercial eating or lodging facilities on the route except in dire weather emergencies, nor do they intend to use a razor until they reach the Atlantic coast.

They may take a few days out here and there en route for temporary employment or to visit friends, but the St. John's objective by late summer will be the main concern and they do not plan to linger.

Kaslo Power Plant Vote Friday

KASLO — Kaslo citizens will vote this Friday on a money by-law authorizing the city to borrow $14,000 to buy and install a diesel auxiliary generating plant.

The bylaw would give the city power to borrow the money necessary to purchase the equipment needed to provide an emergency standby generating unit for the hydro electric system, the loans to be paid back from electric light receipts over a ten-year period. Security offered is the electric light and power rates which will amount to an estimated $23,000 in 1957.

The money would be borrowed by the selling of debentures and will bear interest at six per cent over a ten-year period.

CRANBROOK WOMAN DIES AT AGE OF 94

CRANBROOK — Active until early in April, Mrs. Theresa Cerevolo died at St. Eugene Hospital Sunday at the age of 94 years.

She was born at Vovalina, Reggio, Italy, in 1862. She lived there until the death of her husband about 1928. Two years later she came to Canada and Cranbrook with her two grown sons, and she had continued her home here since since then. She lived alone in a small cabin just outside city limits. Surviving are two sons, Vencenzo who operates cabins and a service station here, and Baptiste in the United States, a daughter, Mrs. Marietone Marzano in Italy, eight grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Requiem took place in St. Mary's Church Wednesday morning, with rosary service Tuesday evening, Rt. Rev. Msgr. A. L. McIntyre officiating, and burial was in Westlawn Cemetery.

Rossland Man To Supervise Kelowna WKP

KELOWNA (CP) — J. C. Meek of Rossland has been appointed district supervisor of the Kelowna area for West Kootenay Power and Light Co., Superintendent G. L. Laycock of the Okanagan and Similkameen division announced Wednesday.

Specially-Designed Lumber Plant Goes Into Operation at Parson

PARSON — A new three-unit lumber production plant of Crestbrook Timber Ltd. at Parson has gone into production this week on single-shift basis with plans for 70,000 feet daily production. This is the unique plant designed and built for the company by Ferguson and Kane of Vancouver last year to replace the stationary mill burned at Parson a year ago.

The three units are separate sawmill, edger and trimmer all built on 16-foot high platforms, and linked by belts on roller and conveyor system. Planned but not yet constructed are two more units to be similarly mounted on platforms and linked by further belts, two-saw scrag mill and horizontal resaw.

Special design makes it practically fire-proof, and also meets heavy winter snow conditions. A similar production plant is under consideration by Selkirk Spruce Ltd. which operates the area north of Golden at Donald. Its costly new sawmill was destroyed by fire last December.

Closure of Crestbrook operations at Parson in early December last year, coupled with the fire disaster at Donald resulted in lightest lumber production of postwar years in the Upper Columbia Valley.

South Slocan Group Discusses Victoria Day

SOUTH SLOCAN — A meeting of the South Slocan Sports Association was called for election of officers and annual reports. Invitations went out to all organizations that will be sharing work and profits of the Victoria Day celebration, so that they could elect members to the Association and have a voice in the organization.

Only seven persons attended, giving a quorum only for director's meeting. Discussions of this group centred on the Victoria Day planning. They were authorized to contract work that will put rock around the pump on the Slocan River which supplies water to the field and Mount Sentinel high school. Cost will be divided between Alex Powell and the Sports Association.

A report was given on the program being lined up by Mrs. W. Conkin for the day. The theme will be "This is Canada" in which it is hoped that as many persons of various racial extractions will participate.

The Teacher Shortage

Again this year the province will be faced with a shortage of teachers. According to the Minister of Education, Mr. L. R. Peterson, 500 teachers will be needed annually for the next eight years to cope with the influx of new students. This is a serious situation since, as the minister says, only one-third of the demand for teachers has been satisfied.

It means, in effect, that B.C. is falling farther and farther behind in providing teachers for its schools with the result that we can look forward to the time when many children will not be getting the education to which they are entitled.

This shortage is making itself felt in the high and junior high schools, the shortage is not so extreme in the elementary schools, although even there it is giving concern.

The department recently called upon married teachers to return to service but most of these are now back at their old jobs and there is little relief to be expected from that quarter. It is also doing all it can to encourage young people to enter the profession by liberal grants and loans, again without much success.

From all this it is evident that the educationists must approach the question from another angle. If the system is to be permanently handicapped by a shortage of teachers some way must be found to spread the teachers' efforts over a greater number of pupils.

Such a theory is contrary to the accepted practice of trying to reduce classes but necessity knows no law. Television could in all probability be used with effect to teach large numbers of students mathematics, English and science. Its use has gone beyond the experimental stage in the United States to a proven success. This might be the key to utilizing teachers of a lower grade as supervisors during such broadcasts. Radio is used as a supplementary to the teacher's efforts; television may take over from the teacher.

It is quite possible, from sheer necessity that the curriculum will have to discard some subjects—there is already a shortage of specialist teachers in physical education and home economics, and there are others which are not entirely vital to education.

Many people still dislike the junior high system and advocate the return of the old eight grades in elementary schools. To do so would not necessitate so great a number of graduate teachers.

But whether these things can be accomplished or not, the unpleasant fact remains that if teachers cannot be found, the department of education will be obliged to investigate other solutions to the desperate teaching problem.

National Power Policy

Whether the federal government intended it to be such or not, a definite national energy policy—or, at least, a national energy development policy—seems to be in the making at Ottawa.

The start can be fixed at or about early 1956 when Ottawa entered into an agreement with the province of Ontario for the construction of the northern Ontario leg of the trans-Canada natural gas pipeline.

The second phase in the development of this policy was the proposal for the establishing of a power grid system and the construction of thermal power plants in the Maritime provinces as announced in the federal budget a few weeks ago.

Groundwork for the third phase started to be laid with the announcement that the governments of Canada and the United States had started negotiations concerning the development of power on the Columbia River and that, after international agreement had been reached, Ottawa would be prepared to assist the province of British Columbia in a public power project on the B.C. section.

Into this pattern there also could be fitted Ottawa's experimental project for the development of atomic energy for peaceful purposes, and its participation in the St. Lawrence Seaway project which made possible the economic development of further hydro power for Ontario and Quebec.

Within a few short years, federal policy concerning the development of power has changed completely. The change in attitude is a change for better, a change that should accelerate Canadian progress.

—Halifax Chronicle-Heralds.

Tragic and Needless

Of the 150,000 people being treated for sickness in Canadian hospitals, almost half show no visible signs of ill-health. But these are sick just the same, seriously sick. They are mental patients.

There are more than 70,000 patients in Canadian mental hospitals and an average of 20,000 new cases are admitted each year. But recently, thanks to new treatment and a new public understanding of their problem, there is good reason to believe that the peak has been reached and from now on this terrible wastage of human resources will be drastically reduced.

In the United States for the first time, there was a significant drop in the number of mental patients being treated last year. That trend is expected to be reflected soon in Canada.

Thirty years ago most mental illness was considered practically hopeless. Its victims were written off permanently as useful members of society. Today, most people suffering from mental disorders can expect recovery.

At the end of this month the Canadian Mental Health Association is launching a new drive, appealing to Canadian citizens to give more financial support for research. It is a campaign that deserves a wide and sympathetic response.—Financial Post.

Press Comment

DEMOCRACY IN THE UN

One of the greatest long range values of the United Nations, from the American and Western standpoint, is the fact that procedures of the organization are democratic. Many of the nations comprising the UN are autocratic, even when they have the superficial trappings of democracy. But when the UN was established, its organizations and its procedures were modeled on the parliamentary democracies of the west.

FACING THE STRESSESS

Before facing the stresses of the day, it is a good thing to remember what General Montgomery said once during the war: "I am not a bit anxious about my battles. If I am anxious I don't fight them. I wait until I am ready." — Kingston Whig-Standard.

Doesn't Help Efficiency

Commenting on a recent government appointment to the top position on a important board, a daily newspaper makes this significant observation:

"It is to be regretted that Mr. . . . has not longer to go before reaching retirement age."

This seems to be happening rather frequently in certain branches of the government service. Senior positions are filled by officials who have only a year or two of service left before reaching retirement, They have little opportunity to get familiar with the new work and certainly none at all to make any important changes or improvements, before it is time to clear out their desks. Sometimes the promotion to a top post is given mainly as a sort of retiring honor and also to boost the size of the pension.

Such a policy is hardly conducive to efficiency. It is wasteful of two of the most valuable human commodities, experience and ability. — Financial Post.

Take the Initiative

Hungarian refugees in Yugoslavia, neglected by the West and an embarrassing nuisance to their hosts, are beginning to return to the country from which they fled, a completely disillusioned people. They thought Yugoslavia was only to be the first stop on their flight to the West. Now they have reached the sad conclusion that it is really the end of the line. Not one Western country has shown the slightest interest in them.

The refugees consider their plight as great as that of their countrymen in Austria who are receiving first consideration by the West. However, the West's stand is that the refugees in Austria are not only an economic but also a political problem. Politics is coming into play in Yugoslavia as well. The local population is beginning to resent the presence of the 18,000 refugees, many of whom are housed in resort hotels along the Yugoslav Riviera, others in thirty-three isolated camps.

Although Canada has already committed herself this year to accept refugees now sheltered in Britain, France, Denmark and Italy, she would do well to take the initiative in Yugoslavia. By ordering her authorities in Belgrade to start processing visas, she would do much to keep the refugees' hopes alive and at the same time receive the thanks of Yugoslavia for helping it out of its dilemma.—Toronto Globe and Mail.

Objectors Don't Aid Progress

F. B. PEARCE

I attended the meeting of the revived Associated Property Owners last night, more to satisfy my curiosity than for anything else. I wanted to see who were there and what they had to talk about.

Frankly I have little faith in such organizations. True, every citizen should be well informed about city affairs but I have always found that any questions I may ask have been answered.

Basically I feel that the city council is elected to govern the city and I do not subscribe to the opinion that it should, to quote one of the speakers, have an organization behind it to "give confidence and guidance". That in the end would result in government by the ratepayers association.

Starting off with the assumption that there must be some reason for a revival of the organization, I tried to discover it, without much success. There were several minor grievances. The progress of the street renovations was mentioned. If anyone has a grievance against the council on this score, I have. Some of the things I wish to do are at a standstill simply because the road in front of the house is not yet finished, but I see no good reason why I should receive preferential treatment. As far as I can judge, the program as a whole is proceeding according to plan.

ANSWERS GIVEN

The use of the old post office as a city hall was mentioned, but this has since been answered by the Council in presenting its estimate for the coming year, as was the matter of the completion of the swimming pool.

But the thing which interested me most was the reference to some proposed building on Vernon Street and the fact that the Council was supposed to be making an agreement to pay $26,000 annually to rent space in it.

Like a great many people in Nelson, I have heard of a very hush-hush project involving millions of money which is supposed to be under consideration by the City Council. If there is such a project actually being considered by outside interests, it is certainly a compliment to the city and shows that they have much more faith in its progress than many of its own citizens. For my part I would welcome anything which would increase the importance of the city.

But supposing all this is true, how did it leak out? It cannot be that some alderman has so far forgotten his duty as to tell others what is going on in committee.

Not long ago the Calgary Herald carried an editorial asking if Calgary was not becoming a city of objectors. It enumerated a long list of projects which had been objected to by various groups including such things as shopping centres, a million-and-a-half dollar hotel and the fact that objections made persuaded Chrysler to build a new plant in Red Deer.

SPACE PLENTIFUL

It would be disastrous to the welfare of the city if its people resist any industrial development. There is much uninformed talk of the city being unable to find space to grow when the truth is that the outer areas have not been thoroughly exploited. There is sufficient land available in the Silver King Road area to provide for a sub-division of the size of Fairview. This and the Knox Road area in the hands of a capable real estate syndicate could provide home sites of high quality.

What Nelson needs at the present moment is capital in large quantities and men with the courage to use it. We seem to have none of our own so that we should encourage others to invest in our city. This is the end to which we should direct our energies, not waste them on objections.

FINDS VIOLIN DUD

WINNIPEG (CP) — A second-hand dealer has had his dreams shattered. A Winnipeg expert told him what he thought was his "priceless Stradivarius" violin was hardly worth its weight as kindling.

Your Individual HOROSCOPE

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Friday, April 26, 1957

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) —You may find the day somewhat restrictive and your activities limited in scope. But extra effort and consistency will bring forth good results. Unexpected good news indicated.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) —Mild influences, but going into very benefic ones for tomorrow. Plan wisely now for action later Difficult problems can be solved, personal matters show gain. Have faith.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)— This can be a very interesting period, with some surprises and unexpected events taking place. Be on the lookout for opportunities to further your interests.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)— No exciting influences until after sundown. Try to finish incompleted matters and tidy desk, bench or home for big doings later when most aspects will become increasingly favorable.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) —An excellent period in which to take stock of the past week's accomplishments. Where could you have done better and added to benefits? Usual routine can run smoothly now. Be ready for a happy, productive tomorrow.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Friendly rays linger from yesterday, so go along without fuss or strain and you can accomplish a great deal. Also prepare for a pleasant, restful weekend.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Tone down enthusiasm and you will be a better judge of what to do first and when to stop for needed rest, replenishment of energy. Tomorrow will be stimulating.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Considerable patience and forethought will be needed now, especially where responsibilities and finances are concerned. Day will yield returns in proportion to the efforts expended

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Rays are not entirely auspicious for monetary matters, but this is a good period for advancing in familiar projects, occupational gain, etc.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — You will probably make faster headway with familiar activities and in tasks suited to your training than in new, untried ventures. But don't fear to tackle the new if it seems promising.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Surer and better attainment indicated if you quicken your pace and work consistently. Clean up unfinished matters in preparation for a happy weekend.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Advice to Aquarius should be helpful to you, too. Enthusiasm, faith and quick attention to urgent matters can prove valuable. This does not mean to overtax yourself.

YOU BORN TODAY: Intellectually, honor and a leaning toward scientific study characterize your zodiacal sector. You may tend to be cross in disposition, are sometimes indecisive about attacking the projects you should. Your progress can be surer, greater if you maintain a steady pace and control emotions sensibly. You learn quickly and can apply your knowledge to good advantage. Birthdate: Eugene Delacroix, Fr. painter.

Plan Memorial To Norman

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP) — New Zealand plans a memorial to Canadian diplomat Herbert Norman who before his appointment as ambassador to Egypt was Canada's high commissioner here for three years.

The move to raise funds for a memorial is led by Victoria University in Wellington, where professors of history, classics and international law have issued a circular supporting the appeal to commemorate Norman.

The circular says "all New Zealanders who knew Herbert Norman will be deeply grieved by his death." It adds:

"Academic and professional men, however, have a special sense of loss. He was a scholar of world standing and during his residence here he made his unique knowledge of Japan freely available to us . . ."

Tick Paralysis Kills Nicola Area Cattle

VERNON (CP) — The Department of Agriculture has warned cattle and sheep ranchers to be on the lookout for tick paralysis.

C. L. Neilson, Vernon entymologist, says tick paralysis has struck between 300 and 400 cattle in the Nicola area and has killed about 25 animals.

Officials have appealed to cattle and sheep ranchers to check their animals regularly and report any outbreak to the nearest Department of Agriculture representative.

They say if the disease is found within 24 hours, there is a good chance the stricken animals can be saved. Affected animals are treated with a type of spray.

Russia Buys British Hats

LONDON (Reuters) .... A large Russian purchase of British-made summer clothing includes an order for hats from a London store.

What the Russians do not know is that the store is C and A Modes, where Russian athlete Nina Ponomareva set off a diplomatic storm last year by taking five hats, leading to her conviction for shoplifting.

The purchase is being negotiated with a Liverpool mail order firm and is made from a catalogue.

Ye are our epistles, written in our hearts, known and read of all men. II Cor. 3:2.

We knew a Sunday School teacher who devoted forty years to teaching boys in a college town. Her boys preached round the world and wrote books and messages that reached countless millions.

Aunt Het

A cut on Junior's foot now requires a doctor. In the "good old days," it got only turpentine or a slice of fat meat or a quid of tobacco.

Africa's Mineral Potential Said Greater Than Any Other Country

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

The Canadian Good Roads Association and the bureau of statistics are waging joint warfare on "loose use of words."

Their interest, however, is more administrative than cultural, and is confined to words concerning streets, roads and highways.

First part of the campaign was preparation in English and French of a 34-page study on "Road and Street Classification" by CGRA's committee on economics, finance and administration, headed by J. Harvey Perry, director of the Canadian Tax Foundation.

The next and current step is circulation to the governments concerned of a set of definitions drawn up by the committee, which tells what streets, roads and highways are. This is being circulated by the bureau of statistics, which urges prompt adoption.

DISTINCTION IS VITAL

"It may not matter much in popular terms whether or not a street is a road or a road a street," says CGRA. "But to highway departments the distinction is vital and reclassification into the new categories is considered essential to the financing, planning and administration of the nation's road and street systems."

Mr. Perry commented:

"It seemed to the committee that an essential requirement for the intelligent examination of any problem is the meaning of the fundamental concepts, and this is not less true of roads and highways than of any other subject.

NO DEFINITIONS

"At present there is no accepted set of definitions of uniform application in Canada. Without such definitions neither past accomplishments, present needs nor future requirements can be assessed in intelligent terms."

Under the definitions, rural roads include primary highways, secondary highways, local roads and development roads; and urban streets include primary highway connections, secondary highway connections, major urban thoroughfares and local streets.

Thus, says CGRA, when a mayor or reeve, using the new definitions, says that "the cost of constructing and maintaining the municipality's secondary highway connection is excessive," he will mean "we're being soaked for the road through town;" or he might mean "the street through town."

AFRICA'S MINERALS

Africa, far more than Canada and even more than Latin-America, is a region whose full mineral potential can only be guessed at, says the current monthly letter of the Bank of Nova Scotia.

Based on 1955 statistics Africa produces the following percentages of world production in various minerals:

Gold 45 per cent; diamonds almost 100; copper 20; lead 12; zinc seven; cobalt 75; platinum 40; asbestos, tin, manganese, chrome and phosphate rock, 15 to 30. In recent years, also, Africa has become a major source of uranium and produces such rare metals as columbium, germanium and vanadium.

Looking to the future, the letter says West Africa's large undeveloped hydro-electric and bauxite resources and the probability of finding substantial oil reserves in the Sahara promise new lines of development.

Any development of Sahara resources would necessarily have to be on a grand scale, and capital investment would be high, the letter comments. The same would be true of development of bauxite and hydro resources in West Africa.

GRAUER SURE GOV'T WILL MATCH GRANTS

VANCOUVER (CP) —Dr. A. E. (Dal) Grauer, chancellor-elect of UBC, says he has "no doubt at all" that the provincial government will match the entire $751,000 recently given in grants to the University.

There had been speculation that Premier Bennett's offer to match private grants up to $5,000,000 would be limited to $500,000 each year.

Last week it was announced that retired industrialist Leon Koerner and his wife were making a $500,000 grant to UBC, that B. C. Electric was contributing $250,000 and the graduating class $1000.

Dr. Grauer, president of BCE, said last Thursday that Mr. Bennett had led him to believe there was a $500,000 yearly limit on the government's matching grant.

However, he had been reassured by a statement from Education Minister Peterson that the grants would exceed $500,000 a year if UBC's building program progressed past that figure.

"I have no doubt at all that the government will match the new grants," Dr. Grauer said.

(In Montreal, Premier Bennett said the government has placed no yearly limit on the payments.)

("It will be at least $500,000," he said. "The money will be available as it is needed. But we don't want to raise money and let it lie around and pay interest for nothing.")

Mine Fire Out After 30 Years

COAL BURNS, England (Reuters)—A coal mine fire which has been burning for 31 years — the longest fire in British coal mining history — went out during the weekend.

The fire started on the outskirts of this village in northeast England during Britain's general strike in 1926 when a group of striking miners kicked over a brazier as they worked over an outcrop of coal for pocket money.

SUDDENLY DIES

Down through the years, coal mine companies and Britain's nationalized coal board tried without success to put out the fire, which was kept going by air from the surface seeping into the sealed-off workings.

The fire, which cracked and scorched fields above the pit, suddenly died a natural death.

This village, which has had a pall of smoke over it for 30 years, is named after a stream running through it and not after the fire.

Lawyers Honor Patient Judge

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — The judge recessed court Tuesday and rival attorneys brought in coffee, cake and ice cream to mark the end of the first year of trial of a multi-million dollar contract suit.

Superior Judge Raymond F. Kelly blew out the lone candle on the anniversary cake and the party was on in the courtroom for some 25 lawyers, court reporters and clerks.

Then legal arguments resumed.

Pacific-General-Shea Construction Co. is asking some $2,500,000 from the Pend Oreille County Public Utility District for alleged breach of contract in construction of the nearby Box Canyon dam on the Pend Oreille River.

In turn, the PUD has sued Pacific-General-Shea for $4,500,000, claiming construction delays. The PUD gave the contract to another company to finish the job.

COST $13

Attorneys for both sides arranged the party and petitioned the judge for the recess. They said it was partly to honor Judge Kelly "for his patience."

The lawyers agreed in advance on finances: The party bill came to about $13 and they split it in half.

They hope to wind up the complicated case by July.

Some High School Students Pay Big Income Tax

VANCOUVER (CP) — Some high school students today have so much pocket money that their teachers are sometimes asked to help them make out income tax returns.

A survey conducted at a greater Vancouver school, results of which were disclosed at the British Columbia Teachers' Federation convention, showed that last year's total income for 1000 students was $550,000.

One student filed a return for $3300 this year.

The students spent $464,000 in one year on everything from hair dressing to automobile maintenance. Some teachers felt that the students are "too rich for their own good." Others thought the money they make helps develop independence and a sense of responsibility.

Some Veterans Tardy In Collecting Credits

By DAVE McINTOSH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—About $22,000,000 worth of re-establishment credits still have not been claimed by Second World War veterans from the federal government.

This amount is distributed among some 132,000 accounts. This means that some 132,000 veterans have an average of $167 coming to them.

Approximately $803,000,000 in re-establishment credits has been paid out by the veterans affairs department since the veterans charter came into force Jan. 1, 1945. This amount includes about $3,000,000 paid to veterans of the Korean War.

The War Service Grants Act, one of 20 pieces of legislation making up the veterans charter, provides for payment of war service gratuities directly to veterans and for re-establishment credits which can be paid by the department on behalf of veterans for certain authorized purposes.

AVAILABLE TILL 1960

Deadline for payment of war service gratuities was Dec. 31, 1954, except for veterans with overseas service who could not apply before that date.

But re-establishment credits are available to veterans until Jan. 1, 1960, or for 15 years after discharge, whichever is the later date. They are alternatives to benefits under sections of the Veterans Land Act and to rehabilitation training.

The re-establishment credit is an amount equal to the veteran's basic gratuity, which was $7.50 for each 30-day period of service plus 25 cents for each of those days served overseas. There was also a supplementary gratuity of a month's pay and allowances, according to rank, for each six months of overseas service.

CAN'T BE BOTHERED?

Main purpose for which re-establishment may be authorized are: Acquisition or repair of a home; reduction of any indebtedness on a home; purchase of furniture and house hold equipment; purchase of a business or of equipment for a business or profession; payment of premiums under any Canadian government insurance scheme.

Nearly 60 per cent of the $303,000,000 paid out in re-establishment credits went for furniture. About 12 per cent was used for purchases of homes.

Officials say nearly $22,000,000 is still unclaimed apparently because many separate amounts are small, because some veterans have died, some forgot what was coming to them or just can't be bothered.

$15,000 Given Health Fund For Children

VANCOUVER (CP) — The B.C. Polio Fund has made a grant of $15,000 to the health centre for children at the Vancouver General Hospital. A mobile clinic for children who are hard of hearing will be financed by $10,000 of the grant and the remaining $5000 will be used to provide a poison registry for B.C. doctors.

The SHORT CIRCUIT

By JOHN SHORT
Sports Editor

Short's Briefs: Dick Stuart, the home-run hitting "phenom" who has promised to lead the Pacific Coast League in everything but number of times beaned on the head by high fly balls — although he may lead in that category and no other — isn't setting any worlds on fire in Hollywood... The hefty slugger has hit five homers so far, but has struck out 16 times in his most recent 29 trips to the plate. And this, according to reputation, is one step below the major leagues... hah!

* * *

Wonder when the Nelson Maple Leaf Hockey Club, registered under the Societies Act, is going to hold its annual meeting? Seems to me one is about due. After all, if the executive finished in the black, shouldn't someone be allowed to look at the printer's ink stains in the book?

* * *

In a story carried on this page yesterday, John Walkly was listed as one of Hume School's representatives in the first annual Elementary School Badminton Tournament. Sumbuddy goofed! John Walkly was supposed to replace Harry Berekoff, who was apparently injured, but young Harry replaced John who was supposed to replace Harry. Now, do you know what I'm talking about? If so, notify me immediately, so I'll know too.

• • •

Finally, it appears that the annual Booster Club Banquet for Nelson Maple Leafs has been suspended for the year. Interest in the affair is at a minimum, although Albert Maida's spaghetti feeds have a reputation for tastiness. Seems too bad, from where I sit, that one wasn't held, although to do so now would be almost a waste of time.

George Chuvalo, Canada's number one heavyweight, although he has had only eight fights in a brief career, may soon be in line for a big-money shot. One Toronto phrase-hustler has suggested that Chuvalo be matched — already — against Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, on the grounds that if Jackson doesn't demolish the stiff-punching Torontonian, young George will be rated among the top 10 in the world simply because the remainder are one step (or less) removed from the class of stumble-bumbs, incorporated. Before Chuvalo's brain-trust tosses him to the Hurricane, methinks they should hearken into the halls of recent memory and remember a young man named Rex Layne. Rex was also a highly-rated prospect. Then he fought a guy named Marciano. Now Layne is working in a mine.

• • •

Accoringd to gossip along Baker St., an element is still agitating against the efforts of this year's Midsummer Bonspiel Group. I say let the agitators agitate; the bonspiel is much too important to allow the statements of a few sway the judgment of the masses.

Remember the Sportsman's Dinner Friday night. It would probably be to your benefit to do more than remember it. I think you should attend it. The meal itself will be worthwhile and there is always the chance you might win a prize. If, however, you don't trust your luck to that extent, you will be allowed to eat your fill, listen to Bob Masterson's address, and generally enjoy yourself. For tickets, contact Joe Keegan, Al Anderson, or members of the 1954-55 and 1955-56 executives.

Ryan Rock's New Protege

BOSTON (CP)—Sam Silverman who promoted many of Rocky Marciano's early fights, said Wednesday the retired heavyweight champion has purchased a half interest in Billy Ryan, hard-punching Lowell light heavyweight.

Ryan, 21-year-old ex-Marine, has won his six professional fights, registering five knockouts. He was unbeaten in 35 amateur fights as a Marine and knocked out 27.

Yvon Durelle Rated No. 10

NEW YORK (AP) — Tony Anthony's spectacular third - round knockout of Chuck Spieser earned the New York slugger the "fighter of the month" award and the top position among the light heavyweight contenders in the monthly Ring magazine ratings announced today.

Anthony's quick kayo also won him a title shot with light heavyweight champion Archie Moore for June 7. Spieser, the leading challenger before his deflation by Anthony, was dropped to the fifth slot behind Yolande Pompey, Trinidad, and Germany's two 175-pound contenders, Gerhard Hecht and Hans Stretz. Canadian champion Yvon Durelle of Baie Ste Anne, N.B., upset winner over Angelo Defendis in New York Monday, is ranked 10th.

TWO TITLE BOUTS ON BOXING CARD

Herb Stanton, Commisisoner of the East Kootenay Boxing Commission, has released the names of the participants in the main bouts of a boxing card scheduled for Cranbrook May 4.

Mike Moore of Creston and Irvin Mitchell, who recently moved from Fernie and became a member of Cranbrook Boxing Club, will tangle in the main bout for the Kootenay light middleweight title. Mitchell, former welterweight title-holder, has encountered difficulty making weight, so has moved up for this event.

Dick Martin of Cranbrook and Mel Hockley of Kimberley will battle for the lightweight title on the same card. Besides the Creston, Cranbrook and Kimberley boxers, chances are that Nelson's Maple Leaf Boxing Club will be represented.

AL PRESIDENT REPEATS RULING

CHICAGO (AP)—President Will Harridge of the American League stood pat on his ruling that a Washington-Baltimore night game called Sunday because of a power failure be completed May 27.

Washington, which led 2 - 1 before the lights went out in the fifth inning, protested Harridge's decision. The game was the second half of a twin bill. The Senators lost the opener 11-9 in 10 innings.

Harridge ruled the game must be completed May 27 prior to a regularly scheduled night encounter between the two clubs in Washington.

PITCHERS HAVE IT ROUGH...

Athletics Flex Muscles In Five-Homer Outburst

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Staff Writer

Wednesday was not a pitchers' day in major league baseball.

A total of 21 home runs were slugged in the seven games played, five by the Kansas City Athletics in a rousing 17-6 romp over the Cleveland Indians.

A National League record was set when the Cincinnati Redlegs gathered nine bases on balls while scoring seven runs on one hit in the fifth inning for a 9-5 success over the Chicago Cubs.

Milwaukee's Braves hit four home runs while out-slugging the St. Louis Cardinals 8-7 for a continued share of the National League lead with the Brooklyn Dodgers, who slipped past the New York Giants 4-3 in a night game.

The other NL game went to the Philadelphia Phillies, who also had themselves a seven-run inning in an 8-5 decision over Pittsburgh.

SOX ON TOP

The Chicago White Sox, rained out in their game with Detroit, retained a percentage point lead in the American despite a 3-2 victory over Baltimore for the second - place New York Yankees. The Boston Red Sox had to go 10 innings to defeat Washington 4-3.

Hector Lopez slugged a pair of the A's homers while driving in six runs. Harry Simpson, Lou Skizas and Hal Smith got the others in a 14-hit job on starter Bob Lemon and four reliefers. Despite a 17-1 lead and a three-hitter through eight innings, right-hander Ned Garver failed to finish for the A's, giving way to Virgil Trucks in the ninth when the Tribe scored five runs. Jim Busby and rookie Roger Maris homered for Cleveland.

A two-run homer by Yogi Berra in the first inning and an eighth-inning shot by Mickey Mantle won it for the Yankees and reliefer Bob Grim. Art Ditmar, the ex-Athletic righthander, gave up 11 hits in seven innings in his first start as a Yankee. Connie Johnson, the only pitcher to hang up a complete game for the day, was the loser.

JENSEN HITS

A double by Billy Klaus and Jackie Jensen's single won for the Red Sox and reliefer Ike Delock. Ted Williams blasted his third home run of the season to tie it three-all in the eighth.

Young Moe Drabowski granted four walks in a row to start the big Cincinnati fifth. Reliefer Jackie Collum added three (one intentional) and Jim Brosnan two in breaking the old record set in 1910 when Redlegs pitchers gave up eight walks to St. Louis in one inning.

This one had homers, too—with Jim Bolger, Cal Neeman and Ernie Banks connecting for the Cubs and Bob Thurman smacking one for the Redlegs, who now have won three in a row after losing their first four.

Del Crandall's ninth - inning home run broke a seven-all tie for the Braves, who got all their runs on homers. Hank Aaron, who has hit safely in all seven games this season, and Eddie Mathews each hit three-run shots and Joe Adcock hit a solo job as the Braves twice came from behind. Del Ennis hit a two-run homer for the Cards.

MAGLIE MISSES

The Dodgers had just five hits, but clumped three of them in the fourth inning along with an error, sacrifice fly, walk and passed ball to score all their runs and chase rookie Curt Barclay. Rene Valdes won it in relief of Sandy Koufax, a surprise starter for the Brooks when Sal Maglie showed up with a stiff neck.

The Phils had a three-run triple from Ed Bouchee and a two-run homer by Bob Bowman in their big sixth inning, after getting only two hits off Bob Friend in the first five. Stan Lopata also homered for the Phils. Curt Simmons won it with relief help.

Layoff Hurt Flyers— Question is How Much?

TORONTO (CP)—The big question today is how big a part a 14 - day layoff played in Spokane Flyers' 5-2 loss to Whitby Dunlops in the first game of the best-of-seven Allan Cup final Tuesday night.

It had been 14 days since Flyers defeated Fort William Beavers in the semi - final and 31 days since they left home on their march East.

Bus Gagnon, veteran Whitby playing-coach, was the first to concede that Tuesday night's win might not be an indication of series play.

"It reminded me of the first North Bay game," he said. Whitby won 4-2, but North Bay came back to win the next two handily.

"I think Spokane is a faster skating team than the Trappers, not individually, but as a team. The Flyers will get better," he said.

If the Flyers get better the way North Bay did, Whitby will have a tough seven-game series for the Senior A crown.

Flyers' coach Roy McBride agreed. "It was just what I expected," he said. "But I was hoping for a little better. Our legs were bad. We weren't skating or shooting the puck."

Even suffering road - weariness and layoff blues the Americans managed to hold the Dunlops on occasions when they were playing on equal terms.

However, of the 17 penalties handed out, Whitby collected 10, and Spokane did little to cash in when they had the margin.

Another reason for Dunlops' easy win was George Samolenko, a 34-goal man during the season, who hadn't scored in eight games until Tuesday night.

He scored the two opening goals of the game to give Whitby a lead it never relinquished.

The series continues Friday.

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Stiff-punching Harold Gomez of Providence knocked out Bobby Rogers of Chicago with a straight right Wednesday night at 1:54 of the ninth round of a scheduled 10-rounder. Gomez weighed 129¼, Rogers 129½.

WELLS IN THOUSANDS

The American oil business comprises 42,000 companies employing 1,600,000 people and working 500,000 wells within the U. S. alone.

Ottawa Coach Frank Clair Advocates Neutral Referees

OTTAWA (CP) — Coach Frank Clair of Ottawa Rough Riders Wednesday suggested a way of overcoming the shortage of good football referees: import them.

"I'm not taking anything away from the officials we now have," Clair said in an interview. "It's just that there are too few of them and the players and fans are seeing the same faces officiating almost every week."

Last year, in the Big Four football league there were about 15 officials. It takes five per game.

Clair suggested one way to get around the difficulty would be to bring in Americans—say, from northern New York, close to Big Four cities—to work in exhibitions.

CITES CRITICISM

Four Canadians and two Americans, the latter mainly as observers, would work the exhibition games.

"It might take the Americans a year to become familiar with the Canadian rules, but football is pretty much the same everywhere," he said. "It might work."

Last year, there was some criticism of officials, especially from Montreal and Hamilton quarters. One incident, in particular, saw Coach Peahead Walker of Montreal Alouettes walk across the field after a game to sound off in front of some officials.

Another time, president Jake Gaudaur and coach Joe Trimble of Hamilton Tiger - Cats stormed into the referees' dressing room to protest various calls during a game.

GAMES IN WEST

Clair was here to speak at the annual banquet of the Ottawa Fire Fighters' Association.

The ice is hardly out of the Ottawa River and the tulips are just showing on Parliament Hill, but it was as good a time as any for the professor to talk football.

After all, it's less than three months before the start of the training season and 10 days before the Rough Riders open their season tickets sale, May 6, with hopes of bettering last year's 6000 sales mark.

Riders have lined up four exhibitions early in August and it has Clair worrying, lest too many of his players suffer injuries in non-schedule games. Riders meet Calgary Stampeders and Saskatchewan Roughriders here Aug. 2 and 8 respectively; and play in Winnipeg Aug. 10 and Calgary Aug. 12.

Clair said there are no big names among the 28-odd imports he has lined up for the training camp opening about July 8 or 10.

LACROSSE CLUB SEEKS DELAY WHILE AFTER YOUNG PLAYERS

Nelson Kokanees are undecided at this reading whether or not circumstances will allow them to compete in the soon-to-be-formed West Kootenay Lacrosse Association.

After a meeting that stretched far beyond the time limit originally planned, the group decided to approach teen-agers in the hope of developing enough players to enable them to continue in league competition.

Many of last year's ill-fated organization appeared in Room A of Nelson Civic Centre, at a meeting which Harry Mason was chairman. They all agreed the situation is far from healthy, but not so unhealthy as first believed.

Plans, still in the tentative stage, call for a practice next Tuesday night, on condition that enough new faces show up to make such a practice worthwhile.

In the meantime, the West Kootenay Lacrosse Association has scheduled a meeting to be held in Trail Sunday. At that time, the Nelson delegation plans to ask a one-week extension to form a better picture of their situation.

As presently constituted, the league will have Trail Golden Bears, Trail Juniors and Rossland Redmen. Nelson's entry is still a definite possibility, and chances are that Castlegar will enter a team.

Record Crowd Sees Flanagan Beat Gavilan

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Del Flanagan, climbing back into the upper ranks of welterweights, befuddled former champion Kid Gavilan for an easy decision Wednesday night in a 10-rounder that drew a record Minnesota fight gate of $43,796. Flanagan weighed 149 pounds and Gavilan 147.

All three officials gave the St. Paul Irishman a perfect 100 points. Referee Billy McCabe scored it 100-91, judge John Stanton 100-92 and judge Dick Delaney 100-93.

The gate surpassed by nearly $2000 the previous all-time Minnesota high of $41,800 set in 1919 at a Mike O'Dowd-Mike Gibbons bout.

Nats, Orioles To Continue Interrupted Game

CHICAGO (AP)—Sunday's uncompleted baseball game between Baltimore and Washington will be finished May 27 before a night game scheduled for the two teams at Washington.

President Will Harridge of the American League Tuesday approved the completion date of the contest, second game of a doubleheader, which was stopped by the umpires because of a power failure after five innings.

Washington led 2-1 when the lights went out.

Arroyo Fourth Pirate Fined This Season

NEW YORK (AP) — Manager Bobby Bragan of the Pittsburgh Pirates nicked pitcher Luis Arroyo with a $10 fine Tuesday for failing to pick up a signal.

Bragan said Arroyo didn't throw a pitchout Monday and, as a consequence, the Pirates couldn't make an attempt to pick off a Giant base runner at first base.

Arroyo was the fourth Pirate to be fined by Bragan since opening day. Bob Skinner was docked $20 for failing to slide into second base as a Pirate hit a ball to the second baseman and Skinner was out going into second base standing up.

Dan Kravitz was fined $10 after he failed to note a "take" signal and singled, and Nelson King was fined $5 for reporting late to Ebbets Field for a game with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Memorial Cup Opener Postponed, CAHA Angry

FLIN FLON, Man. (CP) — The scheduled opener of the Memorial Cup final—for the first time in its long history—has been postponed, and now will get under way here Friday night.

Postponement of the first game of the east - west junior hockey classic resulted from the cancellation of the plane flight Wednesday of the eastern champion Ottawa Canadiens from Winnipeg to Flin Flon where they were to meet the Bombers Wednesday night.

Due to the inclement weather, Canadiens were forced to travel to the northwestern Manitoba mining town, about 570 miles northwest of Winnipeg, by train.

Canadiens were not scheduled to reach Flin Flon until 10 a.m. today.

Gordon Juckes of Melville, Sask., second vice-president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and in charge of the junior playoffs, said second game will be played at Flin Flon Sunday — he wasn't sure whether it would be afternoon or night. If the first two games are split, third game will be played here Monday night, with the fourth contest in Regina, Wednesday. If there is no split, third game will be in Regina Wednesday.

Juckes said further dates have not yet been set.

The Melville official also said he will recommend to the CAHA that the management of the Ottawa club be severely disciplined for the delay.

Cancellation of their plane trip was one of many headaches for they arrived in Winnipeg Monday. the Ottawa management since Manager-coach Sam Pollock was not happy with going to Flin Flon in the first place. He thought it was "absurd" to play a Canadian final in a rink that only holds 2000 fans while Winnipeg had an arena capable of handling 10,000 lying idle.

Before leaving Winnipeg, Pollock said he would like to see the series moved out of Flin Flon "as soon as possible." He was trying to get the third game played elsewhere even if the first two were split.

Pollock also blasted the CAHA for naming two western referees to handle the final—Bill Van Deelen and Curly Breault, both of Edmonton.

The Ottawa coach said that "in the past a referee from both the east and west handle Memorial Cup finals," but he would not register an official protest because "it's like talking to a statue in a park."

Magazine Articles Put Finis To Long Drawn-Out Martin and Lewis Feuding

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This could be the last word in the Martin and Lewis feud. But it's doubtful.

We thought the feud was finished several months ago when the comedy pair broke up amid forced smiles and mild mutterings. Then both took to the prints Jerry Lewis penned a magazine article in which he bemoaned his life with Dean. Martin countered with a mag article blasting back at his one-time pal

So where's it going to end? I put the question to Jerry.

"As far as I'm concerned, it's all over," he said with serious face. "I wrote one article and that is all. The only thing I can say now is that I wish Dean nothing but the best."

Will they ever appear together again?

"Will the earthquake be coming again soon? Will it snow in northern Idaho next week?" he replied evasively.

I would accept none of this fancy footwork and pinned him down to the question again.

"I doubt very much if we will ever appear together again," he said finally.

What about his film contract with Hal Wallis, which calls for their appearances together? He commented only that his dealings with Wallis have worked out smoothly. Since Jerry is doing a single in Sad Sack for Wallis, the producer appears to have given up his hope to re-team the boys.

Jerry added that it wouldn't make sense.

"Any two comics could have done what we did," he reasoned "All they had to do was tell the jokes. What made the act great was the relationship between the two men. When that relationship is gone, the act is gone.

CAN PLAY GOLF NOW

"Besides, Dean doesn't want it. Why should he invite all that trouble again? This way, he can play golf every morning."

He added that his good wishes for the crooner were sincere. "I want him to be the greatest," he said. "It can only reflect credit on me if he is."

It was evident Jerry was choosing his words carefully so as not to touch off any new recriminations. Despite his zanyisms, he is an extremely sensitive fellow Criticisms sting him deeply and he overlooks none of them.

He subscribes to four clipping services and his bill is monumental. The clips from his TV show alone cost him $4700. He reads every item and broods over the knocks.

REPLIES TO CRITICS

Sometimes he replies to his critics, not in rebuttal, but in explanation. For instance, a New York critic blasted Jerry's opening-night performance at the Palace in a merciless way Jerry wrote the man, explaining that he was off that night and invited him back for another look. The writer came and wrote Jerry back that he had changed his mind.

When you say to him, "Jerry, don't be so sensitive," he replies, "how do you 'don't'?"

Psychiatry?

"But then I wouldn't be funny," he pointed out.

So I guess it's better for him to continue being sensitive — and very, very funny.

Accuse Ex-Pupils of Instigating Disturbances in Public Schools

VICTORIA (CP) — Greater Victoria school teachers believe they have found the weapon to use against hoodlums who loiter around schools insulting teachers and disturbing the school.

A spoeksman for the Teachers' Association said here a trouble-maker recently was convicted and fined in juvenile court on a charge of wilfully disquieting a public school.

The spokesman indicated a wider use of the statute might be effective in fighting the hoodlum element causing trouble at schools in several B.C. centres.

The boy involved in the recent Victoria case was one of a type "who are the biggest problem to Victoria school teachers," the spokesman said.

The teacher asked that his name be withheld.

"It is the boys who are expelled from school or who leave because they are fed up with school that cause the trouble . . ." the city teacher said.

He said teachers cannot complain about pupils in school.

"Pupils inside the school are the teachers personal problem but in Victoria it is the ex-pupils who disturb the schools," he said.

The Vancouver convention will ask for wider disciplinary powers to cope with "unruly 'seat warmer' students."

"I believe that in almost all schools between 5 and 7 per cent of the students are seat warmers and this is true of Victoria," the teacher said.

Market Trends

NEW YORK (AP)—Profit-taking made a hash of plus and minus signs of vigorous stock market advance in the heaviest trading of the year.

Rising Canadian stocks included Dome Mines, up ¼ on sales of 2600 shares. Down were Hudson Bay Mining, off 1¼ on 5500 shares, International Nickel 2, Aluminium Ltd. 1⅛, McIntyre ¾ and Granby Mining ⅛.

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market closed mixed to slightly lower after a session of slower trading, marked by profit-taking in all sections but coppers.

The base metal index had the sharpest loss, down almost three-quarters of a point. Industrials were a few decimal points higher while western oils were virtually unchanged from the previous close. Golds gained a few decimal points.

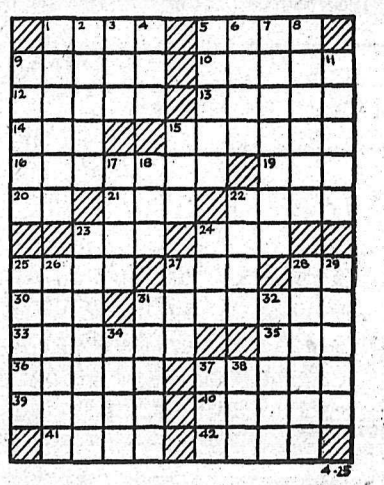
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Jack Benny, Violinist, Ousts Concert Master

By BOB THOMAS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles philharmonic orchestra may never be the same.

Jack Benny, the violinist from Waukegan, Ill., made a guest appearance with the orchestra this week at Philharmonic Auditorium. He played selections from Sarasate, Mendelssohn and Rimsky-Korsakoff.

Such music lovers as Frank Sinatra, James Stewart, Claudette Colbert, Dana Wynter, Clifton Webb, Gregory Peck, Ann Miller and Sam Goldwyn paid $100 a seat to hear Benny's west coast debut as a concert artist. The event was for the benefit of Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

Charity netted a reported $100,000. What happened to music is another matter.

REMOVED FROM STAGE

Immaculate in white tie and tails, the violinist played vigorously while carrying on a running feud with the concert master. The latter interrupted with violin solos and was removed from the stage at the request of Benny.

The comedian's stares were more eloquent than his cadenzas. But here and there was evidence that he might have gone farther with the fiddle if he had applied himself more back in Waukegan.

Between numbers he confessed to the audience that he had the feeling of not being needed by the orchestra—"like being stranded on a desert isle with Jayne Mansfield—and her boy friend."

CRITIC'S COMMENT

Albert Goldberg, the Los Angeles Times music critic, has this to say about Benny's playing:

". . . As a violinist Mr. Benny has a small but offensive tone, and he apparently uses goose grease instead of resin on his bow."

Odds . . . and Ends

by M. D. B.

Couldn't help chuckling when the radio announcer started talking about Eden's dile buct.

* * *

I have been looking over my favorite trees these days, watching them come to life again. The big poplar between Anderson and Chatham Street I watch particularly and am always relieved to see it starting to dress for its Spring debut, after its mate having to be cut down.

* * *

Then of course there's that big weeping willow on Edgewood Avenue that has been a decided friend since I was small and first started to go to town on errands. I used to wish for a chance to climb it, but I guess that is to be one of my unrealized ambitions.

* * *

There is also a lovely willow in Greenwood's yard on Behnsen Street. But I guess the willow — it's not a weeping willow—that I liked the very best is the huge one on the corner of Nelson Avenue and Anderson Street. This one is the joy of my existence for I can watch it day by day with the changing seasons. At present it is a yellow-green mist interlaced with brown shadowy branches. At night when you look up into its mysterious depths it looks as though it might be the entrance to childhood' fairyland.

* * *

I see we are to have an eclipse of the sun soon, with the moon taking away a little of its glory for a few moments. (No, Johnny it hasn't blown a fuse.)

* * *

With everything else going up these days it's remarkable to see anything coming down, but in Fairview this is happening. The house at the corner of Front and Anderson Streets is being torn down and Mr. Fleming is tearing down a tall building on Behnsen Street that I imagine at one time housed his horse and rig, with hay above. It seems to me I can remember such a day, but I may be mistaken. In later years it housed the delivery truck used by Mr. Fleming when he operated his grocery business. If it wasn't full of groceries it was full of light-hearted Fleming children. At any rate the green and white building has been a familiar one on the Fairview scene for a good many years.

Fire Destroys Fuel Trucks

VANCOUVER (CP) — Fourteen oil, coal and ice trucks were destroyed early Wednesday by a fire at the Garvin Ice & Fuel Co. on East Fifth Avenue here.

Don Birnie, manager, estimated the loss to the Garvin firm at $50,000 to $75,000.

Besides destroying the ice and fuel company's trucks, the fire scorched paintwork and cracked windshields on six Weston's Bakery delivery trucks parked in the same high-fenced lot.

Firemen braved the threat of seven burning oil tanker trucks to fight the blaze, which drivers speculated may have been caused by a short circuit in one of the tankers.

However, one driver said: "I wouldn't be surprised if it was kids who started it with cigarets last night."

Harry Foster, a mechanic for Garvin, said: "It didn't look so bad when I saw it first. So I ran in to try to drive out some of the trucks.

"I got an oil tanker started and backed away from the fire, but the heat forced me to abandon it. Within seconds, flames were shooting up everywhere."

The blaze started at about 6:30 a.m. and it was not until 8:15 a.m. that firefighters were able to relax. Fuel leaking from the trucks made it impossible to blanket the flames with chemical foam.

Gaglardi Enters Election Field In Critical Mood

VICTORIA (CP) — Highways Minister P. A. Gaglardi stepped into the field of federal politics Tuesday and said Canada was as ripe for Social Credit "as an Okanagan apple in September."

"There's a growing dissatisfaction across Canada at the lack of dynamic leadership of the present federal government," he said. "Canada as a nation is suffering tragically."

Just back from the Social Credit rally in Toronto last week the minister minced no words when it came to criticizing the federal government.

External Affairs Minister Lester Pearson had "bungled" the Norman case and had left "millions of thinking people with a numb feeling," he said.

"It has been categorically proven that the minister misled the public as to the true facts," Mr. Gaglardi said. "Now everyone seems to be waiting with some sort of fear as a result of statements that there are others."

Mr. Gaglardi was referring to the case where Canada's ambassador to Egypt, E. Herbert Norman, committed suicide after he had been labelled a Communist by a United States senate committee.

The minister also criticized the establishment of the $100,000,000 Canada Council by the federal government.

"They over-tax the people by millions of dollars and then have the colossal gall of only giving a $6 increase to old age pensioners," he said. "Then they hand $100,000,000 to this culture fund.

"Culture is good and we need it . . . but what good does culture do for a man who spent his life working for and in Canada with an empty stomach in his old age," he asked. "We ought to be ashamed . . ."

On the subject of foreign trade, Mr. Gaglardi said:

"It's terrible the markets we have lost. We have millions of bushels of wheat rotting and yet there are people in the world starving."

He also said there was "a definite lack of leadership" in the present immigration policies.

"Why are we putting in such money curbs and stifle the future of Canada?

"We should be bringing in immigrants — trained personnel necessary to help develop Canada. We should have a properly-planned immigration policy."

Intnl. Nickel Operations Open New Areas

TORONTO (CP)—Operations by International Nickel Company of Canada in northern Manitoba will have a broad impact on the economy of the province, Dr. John F. Thompson, chairman, said Wednesday in his address to the company's annual meeting.

The $175,000,000 project would not only add substantially to Manitoba's mineral output but would open up an entire new area of hydro-electric power development.

Complexion of the Hudson Bay port of Churchill would undoubtedly change.

Churchill had been built as a grain-shipping port, with a predominantly one-way freight movement during a very limited shipping season. With the advent of power development and settlements in northern Manitoba, it might very well become a busy port with a thriving two-way exchange of freight between Western Canada and Europe.

International Nickel's nickel deliveries in 1956 totalled 286,000,000 pounds and the Manitoba project and Sudbury expansions would life capacity by about 100,000,000 pounds to 385,000,000 pounds by 1961. Total free-world capacity by that time would be about 650,000,000 to 675,000,000 pounds.

Assuming that defence demand remained at its present level and that nickel in 1961 was not taken for government stockpiling, the 1956 rate of consumption would have to be increased by more than 75 per cent in order to absorb output.

It was evident that a huge new demand must be stimulated. The company for many years had been developing new markets and applications, and was intensifying its efforts.

To Search for Lost Plane

VANCOUVER (CP) — Search for a Trans-Canada Air Lines North Star which vanished over the mountains of southwest British Columbia last December with 62 persons aboard will be resumed in May, a TCA spokesman said today.

Detailed plans have not been worked out, the spokesman said, but the search will be a "pretty extensive effort" involving TCA, air force and civilian planes and the RCMP.

It will be concentrated in the mountainous area around Hope, B.C., where the airliner disappeared in a snowstorm Dec. 9.

A full-scale air and ground hunt last December failed to yield any trace of the plane. It was called off until spring after heavy snow eliminated the possibility of spotting the wreckage.

The TCA spokesman said the snow will not have cleared sufficiently to make a search feasible until May.
