"UN Future at Stake in Mid East"

6 West European Premiers Agree

Trade Bloc, Atomic Pool Seen as Step Toward European Unification

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (AP) — The premiers of six West European nations Wedensday agreed to twin plans binding their 160,000,000 people in a customs-free trade bloc and a European atomic pool.

The premiers now return to their countries to seek parliamentary ratification for the projects which gradually may go a long way toward the old dream of European unification.

Chances for ratification in all six countries — France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg and The Netherlands — are good but no "European-minded" statesman can forget the defeat of the European army treaty in the French Assembly three years ago after an equally favorable early reception.

The premiers, aided by their foreign ministers, put the final touches on a plan to tie overseas territories to the common market scheme.

French insistence on bringing in the overseas territories was based on a recent debate in the National Assembly which indicated that this would be the price the other nations would have to pay for French ratification.

SIGN IN MARCH

Negotiation on the common market and Euratom treaties has been in progress for 17 months among the six powers who are tied together in the European Coal and Steel Pool. After the experts fix the final wording of the treaty text the Euratom and common market treaties will be signed in Rome, probably the latter part of March.

The plan for associating the overseas territories was one of the most difficult. It calls for Germany, which has no overseas dependencies, to contribute heavily for the economic development of areas controlled by other nations. In effect, Germany will be helping to pay for building up French colonies.

Even so, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer expressed satisfaction with the agreement worked out here.

"We have taken a great step forward on the road to Europe," he said. By "Europe" he meant a united Europe.

500,000 See Queen at Fiesta

By R. B. MACLURKIN

VILLA FRANCA, Portugal (Reuters) — A crowd of cheering thousands Wednesday night crashed police lines and streamed across a field of fighting bulls to get a closer look at Queen Elizabeth.

The Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh were watching a bull fiesta on the last day of their three-day state visit to Portugal.

In no time is the Queen in any danger either from the enthusiastic crowd or from the bulls, kept well under control by mounted Portuguese campinos (cowboys).

The jostling throng nearly flattened a heavy fence standing between the bulls and the pavillion from which the Queen and the official party watched the fiesta.

The Queen stood gazing calmy at the crowd, which churned the wet ground into ankle - deep mud below the platform she stood on.

When the news spread that a fiesta was being organized for the Queen, tens of thousands of people came from Lisbon and other places.

Altogether, about 500,000 persons finally surrounded the improvised arena.

Requests Own Jail Term Be Increased

VANCOUVER (CP) — A 37-year-old man who admitted possessing drugs had his jail term increased Wednesday to two years from 15 months at his own request. Archibald McDougall said he wanted a "chance to learn something" and Magistrate Oscar Orr agreed the penitentiary, instead of a jail, was "the better place for you."

Bank Directors Have "Enormous" Economic Power

TORONTO (CP) — Professor C. A. Ashley, a University of Toronto political - economist, says "enormous" economic power rests in the hands of fewer than 200 Canadians, the vast majority of whom are bank directors.

Professor Ashley, who is professor of commerce, comments in the current issue of the Canadian Journal of Economics and Political Science on a similar article written last year by Professor John Porter of Ottawa's Carleton College.

Professor Porter estimated that 922 men, the directors of 170 dominant corporations, made up Canada's "economic elite." Professor Ashley approaches the subject from the identities of the men rather than from the corporations which they serve and concludes the number in the "elite" is about one-fifth of Mr. Porter's estimate.

G. A. Elliott, managing editor of the journal, said the United States probably has a counterpart to the Canadian "economic elite."

Mr. Elliott said in an interview the United States, with a population 10 times that of Canada's 16,000,000 probably had an "economic elite" of something in the vicinity of 2000.

B.C. Chamber of Mines . . .

Oppose Mineral Reserve In Wenner-Gren Project

VANCOUVER (CP) — The British Columbia and Yukon Chamber of Mines announced Wednesday it is opposed to a reservation of mineral rights in Northern B.C. for Wenner-Gren B.C. Development Co. Ltd.

The chamber said in a prepared statement that the provincial government has indicated it will give special mineral concessions to the company and has placed a 40,000-square mile area in the Rocky Mountain trench under crown reservation for minerals.

The Chamber of Mines said:

"Improvement of transportation facilities throughout the province and development of hydro-electric power are both essential to the full-scale development of our mineral resources. The chamber . . . supports any move to construct proper roads or railroads . . . However, this organization strongly objects to any suggestion or inference that our government would grant special inducements in the manner of mineral, land and timber rights to any group that is planning such projects."

The chamber said it is appealing to the government to "completely remove" the mineral reservation so that prospectors and companies may continue their search of the area for mineral deposits and stake claims."

This would remove any suspicion that Wenner-Gren is being given first chance to search the area for mineral deposits, the statement said.

At the labor council meeting, delegates said they were unwilling to be "taken for a ride" — even by monorail.

Israel Reported Favoring Canada-Advanced Plan

By LLOYD McDONALD

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — United Nations delegations went ahead with their plans for trying to settle the Middle East crisis Wednesday night after President Eisenhower's radio-television speech indicated that the United States had reached the end of its efforts at mediation outside the world body.

The U.S. won another postponement of the UN assembly debate in advance of Eisenhower's report to the people, asking that additional time be allowed for its efforts to work single-handedly at breaking the deadlock caused by Israel's continued failure to withdraw from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba area.

Eisenhower's report was regarded here as an admission that the Washington efforts had failed to achieve an Israeli withdrawal. Delegates who listened to and watched the speech on television seemed agreed that the U.S. was ready to throw the problem back to the general assembly.

NO COMMENT

External Affairs Minister Pearson of Canada was not available for comment on the Eisenhower report, although it was learned that he had been advised of its content. The Canadian minister, who arrived back Wednesday evening from Ottawa, is expected to assume a key role now that Washington apparently has given up.

The assembly was to have met today to resume the debate, with an Arab resolution for sanctions against Israel for its non-compliance expected to have been tabled at the outset.

Now tre debate has been postponed until Friday, and during the interval a Canadian proposal on extending the UN Emergency Force to include sea units in the Gulf of Aqaba will undoubtedly be given consideration by both sides.

Israeli delegation sources said earlier Wednesday they would be favorable to the Pearson plan which could involve the use of Canadian naval vessels to guarantee free passage in the gulf, Israel's only southern sea outlet.

SWEDEN ACCUSES SOVIET GOV'T

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Sweden accused Premier Nikolai Bulganin's Soviet government Wednesday of lying and withholding facts about Raoul Wallenberg, a Swedish diplomat disclosed only two weeks ago to have died at a Moscow prison.

A sharp Swedish note sought to saddle Bulganin's government with responsibility for what the note called highhanded acts of the Soviet secret police in an international mystery that spanned 12 years.

This traditionally neutral nation, refusing to accept any handwashing by the present Soviet leadership, served notice it is unwilling to drop the matter until Moscow comes through with further details.

Veto Kashmir Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The Soviet Union Wednesday vetoed a plan to have the president of the United Nations security council conduct peace talks with India and Pakistan on the Kashmir dispute.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) —India's V. K. Krishna Menon won a victory in the United Nations security council late Wednesday when Russia vetoed a resolution in the Kashmir dispute which would have called for a UN force to be stationed in the Himalayan territory.

DOLLAR HIGHER

NEW YORK (CP) — The Canadian dollar was 1-32 higher at a premium of 4⅜ per cent in terms of U.S. funds Wednesday. Pound sterling 1-16 higher at $2.78⅞.

Big Immigration Year Expected

OTTAWA (CP) — Authorities expect this will be Canada's biggest immigration year since 1913.

The federal government now is making arrangements with shipping companies and private airlines in the expectation that the number of immigrants in 1957 will total some 200,000.

This would be the largest number of arrivals in any one year since 1913 when a record 500,000 settled in this country. Arrivals last year totalled 164,857 and the post-war record was 194,391 in 1951.

75 Countries To Learn of Canada's Minerals

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's vast mineral resources will be on display in September and October for some 500 mining delegates from 75 countries during the biggest cross-country tour ever arranged in this country.

The occasion will be the sixth Commonwealth Mining and Metallurgical Congress opening at Vancouver Sept. 8 and ending 32 days later at Halifax Oct. 9. The conference is being sponsored by the Commonwealth Council of Mining and Metallurgical Institutions at the invitation of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

Soviet Industrial Expert Dies

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Vyacheslav Aleksandrovich Malyshev, 54, the Soviet Union's No. 1 expert on new industrial techniques and generally identified as being in charge of Russia's atomic production program, died here Wednesday night after a month's illness, the official Soviet news agency Tass announced.

GABRIEL AGUILERA, Jr., 14, who has been in a coma for three months, looks at some comics with his mother at their Stockton, Calif., home after her softly spoken plea suddenly returned the boy to normality. Gabriel suffered a brain hemorrhage and lost the power of speech during an accident on a baseball field. After a year's hospitalization, he was taken home barely able to move arms or legs. There, his mother urged him "to speak," and now he does.

Personal Gain Not Sought —Wenner-Gren

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Province in a dispatch from Mexico City quotes swedish Financier Axel Wenner-Gren as reiterating Wednesday that he regards a vast development scheme for Northern British Columbia as an opportunity to tap hidden resources for the benefit of mankind, not just as a personal money-making venture.

Norman Hacking, Province staff writer, interviewed Dr. Wenner-Gren in his office in Mexico City, the headquarters for his world-wide interests.

"All my assets will go to philanthropical and altrustic foundations," Dr. Wenner-Gren said.

He said the idea for a $1,000,000,000 hydro and mineral development in the Rocky Mountain trench from Northern B.C. to the Yukon border was conceived during visits to Canada in the 1920s and 1940.

Dr. Wenner-Gren again denied he showed Nazi sympathies during the Second World War.

"My personal guess is that it was purely personal animosity by one of the top officials in Washington.

"I have always been outspoken in my anti-Communist sentiments and at that time the Communists had infiltrated into and had great influence in the state department."

"No Choice But to Exert Pressure On Israel," Eisenhower Broadcasts

By WARREN ROGERS, Jr.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday night "the United Nations has no choice but to exert pressure upon Israel" to get her troops out of disputed Middle East areas.

Eisenhower thus hinted that the United States is ready, if a showdown comes, to support some kind of United Nations sanctions against Israel for her failure thus far to heed UN demands to withdraw.

But the president coupled the hint with a statement that "we still hope" Israel will accept United States assurances and go along with the UN demands.

Eisenhower spoke in a half-hour radio-television report on his administration's efforts to settle the latest Middle East crisis without sanctions against Israel.

He opened his talk, broadcast world-wide by the Voice of America, with the solemn statement:

"The future of the United Nations and peace in the Middle East may be at stake."

Eisenhower's talk went step by step over the situation as he saw it. In a warning to Israel he said:

"The United Nations must not fail.

"I believe that—in the interests of peace—the United Nations has no choice but to exert pressure upon Israel to comply with the withdrawal resolutions."

A WAY OUT

And then he offered the Israeli's a way out:

"Of course, we still hope that the government of Israel will see that its best immediate and long-term interests lie in compliance with the United Nations and in placing its trust in the resolutions of the United Nations and in the declaration of the United States with reference to the failure."

Eisenhower spoke shortly after the UN announced a postponement, the third this week, of General Assembly debate on the question of sanctions against Israel. The announcement said that at the request of the U. S., debate was being put off from today until Friday on an Asian - African bloc move to impose UN economic structures against Israel in an effort to force withdrawal of Israeli forces from the Gaza Strip and the mouth of the Gulf of Aqaba.

HOLDS CONFERENCE

The president held a conference with congressional leaders Wednesday morning on the grave Middle East situation. After that meeting reports spread that he was considering some kind of "moral sanctions" against Israel, though their nature was not defined.

He said it was "the general feeling" at his meeting with the congressional leaders that the whole problem should be laid before the American people.

Eisenhower said in his talk Wednesday night that the UN "has made considerable progress" in trying to solve Middle East problems. But he said Israel's refusal to obey UN resolutions calling for withdrawal poses "a fateful moment."

"We are approaching a fateful moment when either we must recognize that the United Nations is unable to restore peace in this area, or the United Nations must renew with increased vigor its efforts to bring about Israeli withdrawal," Eisenhower said.

"The United States, for its part, will vigorously seek solutions of the problems of the area in accordance with justice and international law."

If the UN fails to get Israeli withdrawal, Eisenhower said, "it would make infinitely more difficult the realization of the goals" of his proposal to Congress.

Eisenhower did not spell out what sort of pressure he thought the United Nations might use to win Israeli compliance.

"The United States and other free nations are making clear by every means at their command the evil of Soviet conduct in Hungary.

"It would indeed be a sad day if the United States ever felt that it had to subject Israel to the same type of moral pressure as is being applied to the Soviet Union.

NO COMPARISON

"There can, of course, be no equating of a nation like Israel with that of the Soviet Union. The peoples of Israel, like those of the United States, are imbued with a religious faith and a sense of moral values.

"We are entitled to expect, and do expect, from such peoples of the free world a contribution to world order which unhappily we cannot expect from a nation controlled by atheistic despots."

WOULD BE FAILURE

Eisenhower said the United Nations "will have admitted failure" if it accepts the repeated ignoring of resolution calling for "the withdrawal of invading forces."

He emphasized that he applied this to other nations as well as Israel, and said:

"That failure would be a blow to the authority and influence of the United Nations in the world and ot the hopes which humanity placed in the United Nations as the means of achieving peace with justice."

Eisenhower said it must be assumed that Egypt would not bar Israeli shipping from either the Suez Canal or the Gulf of Aqaba if Israeli forces are withdrawn from the Gaza Strip and the mouth of the Gulf of Aqaba.

He added that "the society of nations" should deal firmly with any situation resulting "if unhappily Egypt does hereafter violate the Israeli - Arab armistice agreement or other international obligations."

GRAVE MOMENT

Eisenhower said both Egypt and Israel have violated the Palestine truce through reprisal raids and, on Egypt's part, by blockading Israeli shipping in the Suez and the Aqaba Gulf.

"The present moment is a grave one, but we are hopeful that reason and right will prevail."

ILA Return to Work Hits Snag

NEW YORK (AP) — The International Longshoremen's Association Wednesday ordered its striking dockworkers back to work at 8 a.m. today, but a last-minute hitch in Baltimore threatened a delay once again.

Late in the day word was received that Baltimore shippers had agreed to accept the coast-wide pattern of the settlement reached in New York Sunday.

This appeared to remove the last obstacle to resumption of work by 45,000 longshoremen from Portland, Me., to Hampton Roads, Va.

Later, however, ILA leaders here got word from local ILA officials in Baltimore that they still were stymied over local issues in that port.

ILA president William V. Bradley said later he still was ordering his men to report to the docks at 8 a.m. on a stand-by basis to await instructions from local union officials.

He said he hoped that negotiations in Baltimore during the evening would bring a full settlement.

If not, he said, "there will be some confusion in the morning, with some men working and others not working."

The Baltimore ILA chief, August Idzik, said his 7400 men were not going back to work in the morning.

MLA Attacks Canada Council

VICTORIA (CP) — Modern art is like "throwing paint out of a pail upon a canvas," says a Social Credit member of the legislature.

Mr. Massey said the country needs more vocational education before it needs art.

It was his maiden speech before the assembly.

DAWSON CREEK, B.C. (CP)— Damage was estimated at $250,000 Wednesday by Ralph J. Thompson after fire destroyed his Highway Motors garage in this Peace River district community.

The fire, believed to have started when the gas tank of a car became ignited, spread quickly and engulfed the building in flames 100 feet high within half an hour.

Atomic Rockets for U.S. Planes

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atomic rockets for blasting enemy bombers out of the sky now are being issued to interceptor planes of the air defence command within the United States.

Defence Secretary Charles E. Wilson Wednesday revealed this dramatic step in U.S. defence in a statement which also said that the same nuclear punch will be incorporated into surface - to - air defence.

This will include the army's Nike-Hercules anti - aircraft missile and the Talos, a missile developed by the navy which the air force has proposed to adopt.

The fact that nuclear missiles already are out of the experimental stage and going into the hands of airmen represents the greatest advance in aerial defence since the war.

The airborne rockets are being stored "in areas immediately adjacent to the operational units," the statement said, adding that for reasons of military security it would not say precisely where.

Obviously, however, this eventually will mean at most of the major bases where air defence command planes are located.

MOST EFFECTIVE

"Nuclear air defence weapons now have been developed which provide by far the most effective form of defence against air attack," Wilson said.

"The first of these nuclear weapons to be introduced into our air defence system is an air - to - air rocket launched from interceptor-type aircraft.

"Such weapons can destroy aircraft within a considerable distance from the point of burst."

Wilson's statement did not identify the rocket being used as a carrier for the nuclear explosive.

It is understood to be of new design and to have actual guided missile features instead of being

POWERFUL WARHEAD

It seems entirely possible that nuclear power as high as 15 or 20 kilotons could be packed in the warhead of a missile. A kiloton is the equivalent of 1000 tons of energy released by a conventional TNT explosion.

The defence department took pains to condition people at home and abroad to new facts of the atomic weapons age. It made these points:

1. Incorporation of nuclear weapons into air defence "has been long planned."

2. The air defence system is "designed to intercept and destroy enemy aircraft as far from urban population centres as possible."

"The nuclear weapons "generally would be employed at altitudes where the effect of blast, heat and radiation on the ground would be negligible." But if an enemy bomber penetrated the outer defences "it would be of paramount importance that the bomber be destroyed before the bomb release."

3. Tests conducted by the AEC "have confirmed that the possibility of any nuclear explosion occurring as a result of an accident involving either impact or fire is virtually non-existent." In storage, the weapons "emit no harmful radiation."

The defence department said the air defence system will include both conventional and nuclear weapons "to ensure maximum effectiveness under all conditions."

QUESTION NEED

OTTAWA (CP) — Defence department officials said Wednesday the CF-100 all-weather jet interceptor carries rockets as part of its armament but the rockets have no atomic warheads.

They were commenting on the Washington announcement that atomic rockets now are being delivered to interceptor squadrons of the United States Air Defence Command within the U.S.

RCAF and industrial engineers now are working on adaptation of the American-developed air-to-air missile Sparrow to use in Canada's Air Defence Command. Officials estimate this job will take 18 months to two years.

Senior officials in Ottawa question the need of atomic weapons for air-to-air combat providing the missile is accurate. They say an accurately-aimed and guided missile is just as deadly as an atomic rocket in shooting down an enemy bomber.

Excitement Grows in Anticipation Of Snow Fiesta Opening Tonight

KIMBERLEY— Kimberley's Snow Fiesta, which in a year has snowballed into a major winter carnival in Southeastern B.C., is here.

Four thrilling days of sport and show spectacle start tonight with a torchlight parade and queen crowning at the glimmering giant ice castle.

Mayor Clifford Swan who promoted Kimberley's first Snow Fiesta last year and kept up his work, will welcome the athletes and winter holidayers who are crowding in for the festivities.

Skiing, curling, figure skating, hockey—the Fiesta combines all these sports in a Mardi Gras atmosphere of fun and keen competition.

NORWEGIAN COMING

One or Norway's top 10 jumpers, Odd Normnn, arrives in Kimberley today to take part in a special class jumping competition being staged along with Western Canadian ski championships.

The 26-year-old ski expert who has been taking honors in competitions against the cream of European skiers, chose coming to Kimberley instead of jumping against Russian, Finnish, and Norwegian competitors in Finland.

"I can jump in European competitions any time, but would seldom have the opportunity of coming to Canada to compete," Normnn is quoted as saying.

Secondary feature attraction is arrival of highly-rated ski jumpers from American colleges. Among these are Per Widgu, Rider Ullevalseter, Viggo Fryling, Eric Bergrun and Frank Comack. Some have demonstrated their jumping prowess here before, and an excellent competition is anticipated in special class jumping events.

In the class "A" division will be Jim Proudfoot, Walter Thorchuk, Richard Damm, Morris Nest, Alf Beinhall, all of Edmonton; Doug Kleinsorge, Kelowna, and Sigi Klein, Banff. Also in the running may be a contingent of top-flight class "A" jumpers from Vancouver.

Class "B" and junior events will feature jumpers from Red Mountain Ski Club, Rossland, Blairmore, Alta., and Burns Lake, as well as local competitors.

The bonspiel starts Friday.

Hospital Buys New Equipment, $380,000 Budget for '57 Okayed

Expenditures for new equipment totalling more than $3000 were approved by Kootenay Lake General Hospital board of directors Tuesday night.

Purchases include washbasins, mattresses, a Gomco suction pump and stand for surgery, stethoscopes, microscope lamp and laboratory stool worth $1576, all bought by capital expenditure.

Conversions are being made for a radiologist's office, administrator R. H. Procter said, and equipment worth $1585 was bought for this service, including office furniture. All items will be transferred later to the new hospital.

The board approved the 1957 budget, which estimates expenses at $380,251. January operating revenue was $35,804 and expenses $33,025.

Finance committee chairman A. K. McAdams said he was "extremely proud" of the hospital's financial status in 1956, statement of which will be published shortly. His remarks were endorsed by H. D. Harrison, committee vice-chairman.

Chairman J. W. Graham said he had sent a letter to C. W. Ramsden, Nelson Daily News general manager, thanking him for publicity during the past year.

Compliments were extended to hospital officials, including the administrator and department heads for their work last year.

Mrs. Eileen Welsh, superintendent of nurses, said changes are being made in admitting procedure.

GIFT FROM DOCTORS

Third donation by medical staff to the equipment fund, $200, was received. The doctors have now given more than $500 to this fund.

Dietary equipment, telephones, and excavation were among problems discussed during the month by the building committee, according to chairman E. M. Stiles. He also noted that drawings for the new hospital had been sent to the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service.

Fire Chief E. S. Owens inspected the present building last month, and made about 25 recommendations, according to maintenance committee head H. J. Witchell. All but about two of these recommendations have been complied with. The administrator said Mr. Owens is preparing recommendations for a safety program.

Credit Union To Pay Dividend

J. R. Andrews and A. Russell were re-elected to the board of directors of Nelson Savings Credit Union at their annual meeting held in the Legion on Wednesday. J. H. Cone was returned by acclamation to fill the office on the supervisory committee vacated by E. K. Evans, who declined to run again. Elected to serve on the credit committee were W. R. Huffman, replacing N. S. Johnson, and A. McKay, who was re-elected.

President R. H. Bradley suggested there would be a bigger demand for loan money because the banks had tightened credit. He said the Credit Union would be "going slow" on big loans this year, in favor of more of the smaller-type loans.

Treasurer Miss S. Tagami reported the union had a surplus of $3692.96 at the end of 1956, plus undivided earnings from the previous year giving a surplus of $4022.24. The directors recommended that this surplus be distributed by declaring a four per cent dividend on personal shares and refund of some interest on personal loans, which the meeting approved.

Alex Nicol of Vancouver, field representative of the B.C. Credit Union League, was the principle speaker. He urged the supervisory committee to take into consideration three points in approving all credit applications: a man's character, his capacity to repay and his general behaviour in the community.

Judging Proposed to Decide 'Spiel Queen

A queen contest in which the entrants would be judged on personal merits, not on the number of tickets their sponsors sold, has been suggested by the group planning Nelson's Mid-Summer Bonspiel July 7 to 13.

The idea was put forward by chairman E. T. Bodard at a meeting attended by 33 people Wednesday night in the Nelson Fire Hall recreation room.

Mr. Bodard recommended that service clubs and business houses enter candidates. Eliminations would be held in June, and would be open to public along with other features.

Several organizations balked at earlier proposals which would have required queen candidate sponsors to post about $250. It was suggested the queen could later enter the Miss PNE contest.

Preliminary budget prepared by finance chairman Arthur Foster calls for receipts totalling $8600, with $6235 expenses.

TENTATIVE PROGRAM

Most of the brief meeting was devoted to program discussions. The following tentative schedule has been planned: Sunday, July 7 flower show, films at Lakeside Park; Monday, July 8: 6 a.m., first draw, 2 p.m., official opening ceremonies and crowning of queen, 6:30 p.m., parade, 7:30 p.m., band concert, 9 p.m., mixer; Tuesday, July 9, boat trips, band concerts, gym displays; Wednesday, July 10, afternoon teas, 8 p.m., beach party: Thursday, July 11, Klondike parade and Hoedown at night; Friday, July 12, square dance display on Baker Street and KGA "Canadian Hour"; Saturday, July 13, curling finals, presentation ceremonies, dance or hockey game.

Other events arranged by organizations for inclusion in the week's activities will be welcomed as making a bigger and better show.

Ald. George Mermet suggested that square dancing be held several nights, and this will be investigated. It was also suggested an outside band might be imported for the parade. City band members would participate in concerts. Bert Lashmar was named to investigate possibilities of obtaining an outside musical group.

Mrs. J. C. Eckmier and Mrs. L. W. Bicknell said teas formerly held in a downtown hotel had not been well attended, and it was suggested that these could be arranged for somewhere up the Lake, which would give visiting women a boat trip.

J. E. Keegan suggested a golf tournament on Saturday, July 13, and said he had been told the hockey club would be interested in a game Saturday night.

It was also suggested copies of the West Kootenay Sportsman's Guide be sent to persons on the Bonspiel mailing list.

Green Light Expected for Submarine 'Phone Cable

An official of the B.C. Telephone Company at Nelson said Tuesday he expected permission would be received soon for laying of 2000 feet of submarine telephone cable between Balfour and Procter.

Application for permission to do the work was filed with Ottawa authorities on Feb. 9. The new installation is planned to increase circuits to the Procter-Harrop area. Cable is now at Procter awaiting word from the federal government.

Some 2,000,000 people visit the Lincoln Memorial at Washington, D.C., every year.

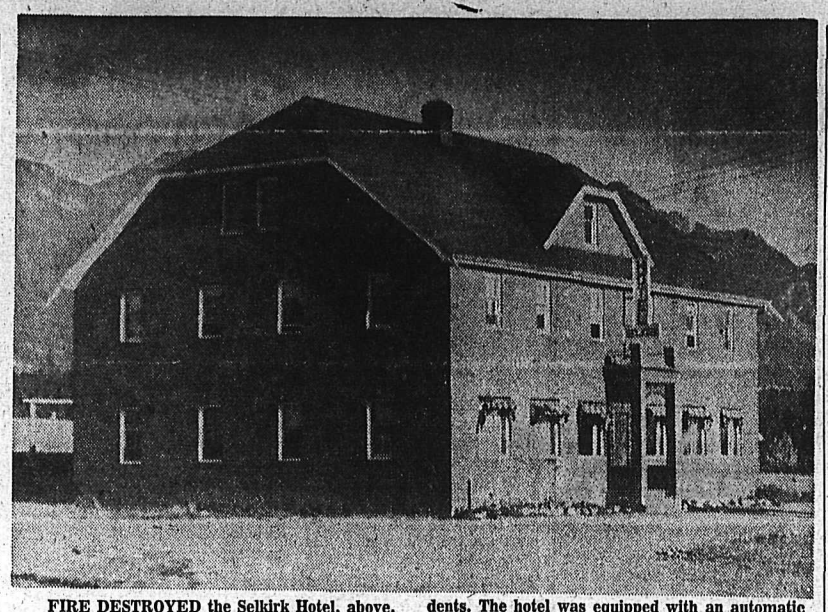
GOLDEN — Golden District Library Associaiton has decided to join the East Kootenay Regional Library, condition of which is extension of free membership and use of library facilities to everyone in the community.

Howard Overend, East Kootenay regional librarian with Cranbrook headquarters, outlined to the meeting the method of operation under the new system. Financing will be on the basis of a $250 provincial grant to be matched by a similar amount contributed locally to be spent on permanent book stock. Other books will be made available in lots of 200 volumes for adults and children from the depot at Cranbrook every two months. Golden library operations will continue on the basis of two afternoons each week.

Slocan Hospital's Annual Meet Mar. 6

NEW DENVER — Annual meeting of the Slocan Community Hospital Association will be held March 6, it was announced at the board's monthly meeting when arrangements were made. Membership fees of $1 are due and may be paid before or at the annual meeting if persons wish to vote and help appoint new directors. Terms of three board members from New Denver and three from Silverton expire.



FIRE DESTROYED the Selkirk Hotel, above, two-storey hostelry half a mile from Windermere on Highway 95, early Sunday morning. A passing motorist spotted the fire and aroused nearby residents. The hotel was equipped with an automatic fire alarm system which went unheard as building was unoccupied.

Kaslo Board of Trade Seeks Dentist, Barber

KASLO — No dentist is available for this area at present, Board of Trade members learned at their monthly meeting.

Officials had approached the Nelson office of the Unemployment Insurance Commission to ask if it would be possible for a Hungarian refugee who was a dentist to come to Kaslo, but learned that he would have to live here at least five years before being allowed to practice.

Businessmen are also trying to attract a barber to the district, and contacted a Nelson barber who is considering operating a mobile barber shop. If this does not work, they will write the Barbers' Union asking that a local man who took a barbering course but is not a qualified barber be allowed to set up shop under certain conditions.

ROAD WORK

George Kent, highways engineer at New Denver, told of road progress in the area. It is hoped work past Woodbury Creek and the heavy rock section will be done in the next fiscal year. Work is also planned around Schroeder Creek, north of Kaslo. Crews have started work on Duncan River Bridge.

Efforts of Charles Kennett, local roads foreman, were praised, and Mr. Kent asked Board members to continue putting forward suggestions.

Six new members were introduced, and President Jack Morris and vice-president Norman Brooks were sworn in by W. F. Tyers.

Resume of work done at Kokanee Park last year was given by John Cochran. The provincial government has said more money will be available to help with the project this year. Board of Trade members are planning a work party and picnic at the Park this spring.

N. F. Brooks said an effort will be made to have an official of the West Kootenay Power and Light Company address a Ladies' Night meeting May 1 on the power question. Mr. Morris will head a committee planning this meeting, to which all Kaslo residents will be invited.

Two resolutions were passed for submission to the annual meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce in April at Castlegar.

Ald. Ralph Patterson announced members of the centennial celebrations committee as Mayor R. E. Green, Rev. Dr. H. K. Johnston, William Hendren, J. W. Hand and himself. Board members discussed centennial projects. Ald. Patterson asked them to present ideas to the committee.

TV RECEPTION

Another check will be made into possibilities of getting television reception.

Fred Jones reported on a meeting of the West Kootenay Rod and Gun Clubs Zone Association last month at Salmo, when considerable discussion was devoted to Kootenay Lake fishing problems. Thanks will be extended to Commissioner F. R. Butler of the B.C. Game Commission in Vancouver for his offer to have the Kootenay Lake and Lardeau River area surveyed for one or two summers.

Acknowledgement was made of efforts by those who established a children's skating rink in Kaslo.

For benefit of tourists and local residents, 5000 folders will be printed showing maps and pictures of Southeastern B.C. as well as the Balfour - Kootenay Bay ferry schedule.

'Forks Driver Fined Licence Suspended

GRAND FORKS — John Hlookoff of Grand Forks was fined $75 and costs and had his driver's licence suspended for three months when he was found guilty in court here by Magistrate W. Roberts of driving without due care and attention.

CRANBROOK — Cranbrook branch of the Canadian Legion is beginning arrangements of details for the four-day biennial meeting of the Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion which is expected to bring about 400 delegates from branches of the province here May 19 to 22 inclusive. Named chairman for arrangements is R. D. Knight.

Resignation of N. C. Blaine, third vice-president of the Cranbrook branch, was accepted by the February meeting of the branch, and Harold Kniess was named to complete the year's term. Delegates from Cranbrook to the semi-annual East Kootenay Zone meeting of the Canadian Legion at Creston next month will be A. H. Hartland, A. J. Weir, R. L. Stanton and Edward Gummer.

Plans call for sponsorship of another bingo evening at the clubhouse on behalf of the Dr. F. W. Memorial Home fund, following the successful one held in January.

The meeting approved three applications for active membership in the branch.

Ask Co-operation In Hunter Sample

The 1956 season Hunter Sample questionnaire is now in the mail, and the Game Commission asks co-operation from Kootenay hunters in completing, and returning this form.

The annual hunter sample, which is statistically compiled by the game commission, provides an accurate measure of the game harvest taken by hunters in the various regions of the province, and provides a basis for determining the effect of changed game management practices, bag limits and seasons.

As was the case last year, the Kootenay hunters have been sampled more heavily than hunters resident to other areas of the province, to obtain a more accurate measure of the big game take in this part of the province.

Hunters can do much to contribute to the accuracy of this information by completing the form it is stated.

ADMINISTRATOR

INVERMERE — New administrator for the Windermere District Hospital has arrived. He is Alan Franklin Sykes, who worked in the medical records department of the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto since coming to Canada from Sheffield, England, in July.

"Give-Away", Harding Says of Northern Deal

VICTORIA (CP) — The Social Credit Government was subjected to one of the strongest attacks of the session Wednesday when Randolph Harding (CCF—Kaslo-Slocan) took issue with the proposed industrial expansion north of Prince George by a Swedish-financed company.

Mr. Harding, speaking to the throne speech debate, hurled questions and charges across the floor of the house with a speed that dazzled many of the government members.

"This project is going to be the ruination of the Social Credit in British Columbia," he said.

He compared the Wenner-Gren B.C. Development Co. Ltd. plans to the celebrated Kaiser dam proposal which was stopped by the federal government on the basis it was a "give-away" program.

"This Winner-Gren thing is just as bad as the Kaiser plan was.

"Kaiser took everything off you but your shirts. This man . . . is going to take your shirts."

Mr. Harding directed a series of rapid-fire questions and Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston, under whose department the project comes, and when the minister didn't answer said triumphantly:

"You see—silence."

He then told the legislature of a proposed $5,600,000 Wenner-Gren deal in Southern Rhodesia that now is a "dead-issue."

"They were going to build a mono-rail there, too," he said.

He told legislators they were being "very naive" if they believed they could complete the deal with Wenner-Gren and still abide by the "no concession" rule promised by Premier Bennett.

"You're nuts," snapped Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan.

Rumbles of protest followed the remark as Mr. Harding took Mr. Kiernan to task and said it was "a cheap remark . . . one I didn't expect from you."

He said the government was guilty of "selling without knowing what you've got up there."

"The plan . . . is a bill of goods.

"This outfit has you bound hand and foot.

"The day will come when the government will be sorry they ever heard the word Wenner-Gren."

Opening Up British Columbia's North

The opposition in the Legislature may be small, but it is doing good work in its criticism of the Wenner-Gren agreement. A proposal of this magnitude needs careful consideration of all possibilities arising from every item in the agreement.

In general, most people are in favor of the agreement. The scope of the proposals fires the imagination, which is good reason why we should not be led to overlook the details. However, most of the objections to date are upon general principles.

The project will cost up to a possible $1,000,000,000, which in itself is sufficient to alarm some people. There are many who feel that a company with vast resources can crush individual efforts on a small scale. But these are the days of large undertakings, and in the development of such an extensive and remote area ample capital and large scale plans are necessary. However rich the area in resources, they cannot be used until transportation is available. The agreement provides that a railway shall be built by the Wenner-Genn Company.

There are objections that the company is owned by foreign capital. It is true that a large proportion of our resources is being developed by foreign capital, but since we cannot raise sufficient of our own the only alternative is to allow these resources to lie idle. The objective of this particular agreement is not, as is the case with gas and oil, simply to sell our resources, but to provide the basis for an expanding economy in the area which will have its outlet through the proposed railway.

There will of necessity have to be some assurance to the company that there will be freight to be carried by their railway, and this may mean the granting of forest management licences and mineral rights. However, once the railway is in operation, other enterprises can be expected to move in. It will be a matter of some delicacy to decide how much should be granted to the Wenner-Gren Company and to other investors.

There are indications that the government is discarding the old idea of crown grants in favor of leases. If it pursues this policy all the hydro-electric dams, mines and pulpwood areas will be leased, and any fears of a private empire in the district can be discounted.

Properly handled and with the good of all in mind, the proposals of the Wenner-Gren Company should lead to an opening up of a region rich in resources and provide for the employment of many thousands of people. For the attainment of that end it is, however, necessary that the opposition continue to scrutinize all details of the scheme.

Red Elite Lead Hungarian Revolt

The aspect of the Hungarian revolution which must cause consternation in Russia, reports James Michener, in Reader's Digest, is the fact that it was the young men whom Communism had favored most who most savagely turned against it. It was the Communist elite who led the revolution against Communism.

"Many experts," he reports, "believe that 100 per cent of the soldiers in Bulgaria, Rumania, Poland would, if given a chance, turn their guns on Communism."

The famous author of "The Tales of the South Pacific" arrived in Rome on his way home from Asia as the Hungarian revolt began. He went to Vienna and then to Andau. There he personally helped to freedom some of the 20,000 refugees who crossed the border at this point. With the aid of interpreters, he talked with hundreds of men, women and children who had fought in Budapest.

As one young leader told Michener: "I looked at the life of fear we led and I concluded: 'Life under Communism has no hope, no meaning. Yesterday, today and tomorrow are all lost!' "

"The miracle," writes Michener, "was not the triumph of Hungarian patriots over Russian tanks. . . . It lay in this simple fact: Of the 400 Communist soldiers in the barracks on the night of October 23—and they were men both trained and pampered by the Russians—not a single one remained faithful to Communism."

The revolt was unplanned. Those who were first touched by it—and who infected the rest of the people—hardly knew where it came from.

There was something all Hungarians could unite on—the extinction of the hated secret police, the AVO. Those who led the rebellion against the Communist AVO and against Communist Russian tanks were of the Hungarian Communist elite. They wanted a Hungarian kind of Communism, with less Russian influence and no AVO.

That's how it all started, with mass meetings to discuss these problems. And that's were it might have ended, if a trigger-happy AVO man had not given an order to a tank crew.

"The tank's machine gun ripped out a volley," writes Michener, "and several young workers fell in the street."

From then on the emotion was pure Hungarian patriotism pitted against secret police and foreign solders. Small arms, gasoline bombs, bare hands and brave hearts knocked out 320 Russian tanks.

For five days it looked as if the miraculous had happened. The Russians withdrew. The hated hammer and sickle was torn from the Hungarian flag, and the Kossuth crest reappeared. Free newspapers were published, free political parties sprang up. Hungarians thought: "We are part of the world once more."

But two thousand of the biggest tanks returned, and 140,000 of the most ruthless soldiers from Central Asia. They destroyed 8000 buildings and probably 80,000 people of Budapest.

The Hungarians had not yet given up; perhaps they never will, says this report. There followed the general strike and the mass exodus of 150,000 people across the Austrian border.

Churchill Quip

One of the photographers who took pictures of Sir Winston Churchill at his Hyde Park Gate home said: "I hope to take your picture on your hundredth birthday."

The old man turned to his well-wisher with a glare leavened with a smile and rumbled: "I see no reason why you shouldn't, young man. You look hale and hearty enough."—The Reader's Digest.

Curious, New Denver—Can you tell me how to obtain New Zealand newspapers and magazines?

Reader, Trail—Is the use of X-ray shoe fitting harmful to children? I have heard varied reports on this and was told the machines are banned in Alberta.

There have been varied reports on these machines which have suggested the need of care in their use. It might be best to consult your doctor.

Mechanic, Grand Forks—Can you give me the address of the Loewy Engineering Company?

The Loewy Engineering Company of Canada, Ltd., 678 Sun Life Building, Montreal, P.Q.

Interested, Trail—Some years ago I read a piece about a printing press. I cut it out but have lost the clipping. Is there any possibility you could quote it in your column?

We think you must be referring to "I am the Printing Press" by Robert H. Davis. It opens thus: "I am the printing press, born of the Mother Earth. My heart is of steel, my limbs are of iron, and my fingers are of brass . . . I am the voice of today, the herald of tomorrow. I weave into the warp of the past the woof of the future. I tell the stories of peace and of war alike . . . I am the tireless clarion of the news. I cry your joys and sorrows every hour. I fill the dullard's mind with thought uplifting. I am light, knowledge and power . . . I am the laughter and tears of the world, and I shall never die until all things return to the immutable dust. I am the printing press." Owing to copyright laws we have not quoted it entirely but the above gives you the highlights.

Real Liberals

The continued existence of a real Liberal party is a far more important thing for Canada than the continued existence of a Liberal government which has ceased to be Liberal. And if real Liberals who are "troubled" should decide at the forthcoming election that what their party needs is a period in opposition to re-learn the old faiths it has forgotten, that might be a good thing for both it and Canada.

Certainly a party of real and historic Liberalism is something none of us, and least of all Liberals, should want to see perish. Yet that, despite a so-called Liberal government, is what we have been seeing.

Homey History

Historians of Essex County in common with historians the world over, so often pass up the homey little touches that would render their stuff much less stuffy. Oldtimers at Kingsville, for instance, recall one afternoon Henry Ford visited the late Jack Miner to see the swans in front of Pete Malott's, down by Lake Erie. Mr. Ford's imposing Lincoln was too heavy for the spring roads, so Jack Miner summoned Eli Bertrand (himself a Kingsville character), to do the honors with his Model T taxi. Unaware of the identity of his distinguished passenger, Eli gave Henry a rhapsodic sales talk concerning the manifold qualities of the Model T. And the motor magnate, jamming his Christie stiff on tighter as they went over the bumps, grinned happily.

Giving Our Soldiers Credit

. . . F. B. PEARCE

Looking back now I think the reader may be right when he says that when I said that it was left to the Canadians to stage a full sized riot in Aldershot, that it might give the impression that the Canadian soldiers were a rowdy lot. But if it is any comfort I believe that the South Africans and Australians were even tougher but they were all good soldiers. When soldiers go into battle they don't want sissies beside them.

Personally I don't think they ever received the credit due to them Canadian soldiers in the last war from the Canadian public or Parliament.

For its size, the Canadian army was one of the finest in the world. It was entirely a volunteer force made up of men who wanted to fight. They were proud of themselves and of Canada and showed it. It was said of them that if a soldier came down the street with his tunic and pants pressed he was a Canadian. None others were so well turned out.

But the army was too small. In order to support an independent command in the field too many formations were made and there were insufficient reserves. Had the war continued the reserves would have been exhausted for the nation would not countenance conscription.

This lack of reserves imposed a great strain on the troops in the field but in no way affected their morale which was always high. It might not have been so high if their ranks had been diluted with conscripts and their efficiency might have been less. They fought magnificently in France and Italy and few of the Canadian people realize how arduous their campaigns were or how much they contributed to the success of the war.

INDIFFERENCE

There were many acts of individual heroism on the part of Canadians and the one thing which surprised me was the indifference of many people at home to them. Only those who have been under fire can realize what it means to carry on, let alone to perform some outstanding piece of heroism. Though there were many such acts which may have gone unnoticed, every front-line soldier realizes that a decoration has to be earned and well earned.

The Roman generals used to receive a "triumph" when they returned from a successful campaign and the English generals receive a vote of thanks from Parliament, as well as honors and a grant of money, for their services but all that Canadian generals receive is the cold shoulder. General Currie returned to Canada after the First World War to face a campaign of calumny because he had continued fighting right up to the time of the armistice hour, which was his duty.

No fuss either was made of the generals of the Second World War when they returned to Canada. They did not receive anything like a triumph. For all the glory they receive it was not worth being in command of an army in the field.

But to the credit of Parliament it must be said that the rank and file were cared for very well by the Veterans Act. But that, good as it is, is not quite the same as a warm welcome and feeling of admiration.

In times of peace the foot soldier is apt to be forgotten and in these days of the guided missile there are many who think that there will be no longer a use for infantry but when the air forces have fought the battles of the skies and guided missiles have devastated countries it will be the P. B. I. who will fight the decisive battle.

Trading Stamps Criticized

OTTAWA (CP) — Consumers have a right to reliable advertising information instead of "ballyhoo, hucksterism and gimmicks," Isabel Atkinson of Ottawa, president of the Canadian Association of Consumers said Tuesday.

She said in an address to the Parliamentary Wives Association that consumers are entitled to receive value for advertising and sales promotion expenditure.

By value, she said, the CAC meant reliable information which would make it easier for shoppers to know and choose required goods. Honest sales promotion would reduce unit costs by increasing the volume of use and production.

"The consumer has the right to demand intelligence and integrity instead of ballyhoo, hucksterism, gimmicks or any of the other forms of consumer exploitation which have become an accepted part of too many types of advertising."

She said a goodly proportion of modern advertising does provide reliable and valuable information.

The cost of trading stamp promotion plans is usually in addition to, not in place of normal advertising, she said, and the cost two or three times as much as a normal advertising budget.

"CAC believes that the use of trading stamps adds a new and a non-service, non-productive link to the distributing chain," she added.

NEW DENVER WI HOLDS SALE

NEW DENVER — Amid hearts and valentines which were used as decorations in the Legion Hall, New Denver Women's Institute sold delicious bread, buns, pies, cakes and cookies - aprons, childrens ware, knitting and embroidery.

A touch and take table was the joy of the young fry who couldn't resist the prettily wrapped parcels.

A social afternoon was enjoyed by the many who came to help the work of the Institute, and the whole venture was successful. The president, Mrs. John Taylor, opened the sale, saying it was the 21st. Each member had something to do and the co-operation was splendid.

Bobbie Crellin, Lynn Cutler, Ginny Forsythe, Mrs. A. E. Carter, Mrs. T. Buckham, Miss G. H. Wright and Mrs. J. A. Greer carried home prizes.

Mrs. H. E. Doelle, representative on the KLGH Board of Directors, said Monday night several organizations have agreed to provide the needed mattresses. A total of $108 was received from card parties last month, and more money is still to come.

On motion of board chairman J. W. Graham, a vote of thanks was applauded to the women.

CHIMNEY TOPPLES AT SOUTH SLOCAN WHIST PARTY

SOUTH SLOCAN — More than 50 people from South Slocan and district points attended a court whist party held in the W.I. hall by the Women's Institute. The evening was enjoyed by all, though members of the institute were dismayed by destruction of the chimney, which fell when ice and snow suddenly loosened. Mr. Ayworthy helped replace the chimney blocks up past the roof edge to ensure safety till the chimney can be rebuilt further.

The hall was decorated in Valentine motif, with admission favors of red hearts for the men, and cupids for the women.

J. D. Yeatman welcomed the people to the first social evening since the hall had been reopened following the December fire.

WA DISCUSSES MANSE REPAIRS

Thrift Shop Continues As IODE Major Project

Success of the Thrift Shop was again noted when Kokanee chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, held its annual and monthly meetings Tuesday afternoon.

"Thanks to the success of the Thrift Shop, we have not been called upon to undertake any further money-raising projects," the secretary's report stated, "but we must keep in mind that this success will only continue as long as members support the Shop with work and donations."

Nearly all active members of the 48-member chapter share in the work, and assistance and donations are also received from many non-members. Last year $1675 was turned over to chapter funds.

This was the highlight of reports given at the annual meet, during which another important part of business was election of officers.

$100 BURSARY

Detail of reports showed that in the educational field, a $100 bursary for a senior high school student has been presented to Elaine Ogden, and history prizes were again given to junior and senior matriculation scholars. Books and Christmas gifts were sent to the chapter's adopted Jewett school in the Lardeau country, visits had been made to local schools, Christmas gifts and a $10 donation had gone for local handicapped children, and $25 to the provincial educational fund.

In services at home and abroad, $480 had been spent on milk for needy families, plus four Christmas hampers valued at $33.67 and a welfare hamper worth $7.99 had been given. Used clothing had been given for the Hungarian refugee depot and new and used clothing had gone to other needy persons.

New equipment and plaques valued at $152 had been contributed to Kootenay Lake General Hospital, magazines and flowers had been donated and Christmas gifts were presented to veterans. The Hostel for Aged Men came in for a good share, 57 birthday and Christmas parcels having been received from the chapter.

Thirty nursery bags were filled and sent to the provincial IODE chapter, $25 was sent to DVA hospitals, and 22 food parcels were shipped to Britain, as well as books for Canadian troops overseas.

Total expenditures of the chapter for these many causes amounted to $1208.

Four naturalization ceremonies were attended by chapter representatives, at which 41 cards of welcome were distributed to the new Canadians. To the Canadian Scene, a bureau publishing Press releases for foreign language newspapers in Canada with the purpose of combatting political Communist propaganda, the chapter sent $50, half of which will apply as the 1957 donation.

Under Empire study, papers were read at meetings when time permitted.

The civil defence convener attended every meeting held last year by the city co-ordinator.

A vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Morey for auditing the books. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. N. C. Stibbs.

Under new business brought before the monthly meeting, Mrs. Russell reported that a chair is being re-upholstered in the IODE ward at the hospital. A letter of appreciation had been received for gifts sent at Christmas to hospital patients.

In January, two more families were helped by the chapter with clothing and milk.

Nelson Nurses Going to Inland Hospital Reunion

Royal Inland School of Nursing will celebrate its golden jubilee at a reunion in May.

The hospital itself celebrated its diamond jubilee of incorporation last year.

Among those planning to motor to Kamloops for the celebrations are three Royal Inland graduates now residing in Nelson, Mrs. George Fyall, Miss Kathleen Brown and Mrs. Gordon Olson.

The school has graduated 460 nurses in 50 years. About half that number are expected to converge on Kamloops for the reunion from every province in Canada, from the British Isles, United States, Guatemala and Natal. Members of the Vancouver chapter are planning to charter a bus for the trip, it is reported here.

Mrs. John Waugh, president of the Alumnae Association, is receiving an average of a letter a day in response to her invitatons. There are 80 graduates of the school in Kamloops alone.

The Royal Inland School of Nursing is the only one in the Interior and one of six in B.C.

By way of a diamond jubilee gift last year, the Royal Inland was given full accrediation by the joint commission of accreditation of hospitals, a regulatory body which sets hospital standards throughout Canada and the United States.

U.S. "Giveaway" May Be Factor In Canada-Poland Wheat Deal

OTTAWA (CP)—Poland will be seeking "long-term" credit from the Canadian government in negotiations for the purchase of substantial new quantities of wheat, Polish authorities said Wednesday.

Last year Poland purchased about 13,000,000 bushels of low-grade Canadian wheat under a one-year government loan covering 85 per cent of the purchase price. Canadian officials said the Communist administration is paying loan instalments on schedule.

However, this year Polish authorities said their country is extremely short of dollars. They want to purchase a lot of Canadian wheat but want a loan extending over a period of, for example, five years instead of one year.

What may aid the Poles in negotiating for more extensive credit terms is the fact that the United States appears to be prepared to sell some Communist countries wheat under the American so-called "giveaway" program. Some countries have been able to obtain credit for as long as 40 years under this scheme.

A Polish delegation now is reported in Washington to negotiate with the Americans. Meanwhile, a two-man Polish team has arrived here and has held preliminary talks with Canadian trade officials.

Hazen Argue (CCF—Assiniboia) asked Trade Minister Howe in the Commons whether U.S. wheat sales to Poland might affect Canadian negotiations. Mr. Howe replied that he could not say whether the U.S. action would affect Canada's trade position. However, he was hopeful that talks with the Poles will result in the sale of a "considerable quantity" of wheat.

Woman's Bail Set at $15,000

VANCOUVER (CP)—A charge of trafficking in narcotics was laid Wednesday by police against 28-year-old Margaret McNeil. She was arrested overnight and police said she had more than 300 "caps" of narcotics on her person when searched at police headquarters.

Magistrate Oscar Orr set bail for the woman at $15,000 and remanded her to Feb. 26.

The magistrate, in setting the large bail, said "these people in the past have been absconding with bail much larger. When they have large quantities of drugs they seem to have large quantities of money."

B.C. Atlas With Best Sellers

VICTORIA (CP) — A total of 7619 copies of the B.C. Atlas of Resources have been sold since it was published last September, J. D. Chapman, atlas committee chairman, and president told the 10th B.C. Natural Resources Conference Wednesday.

The 100-page atlas, first of its kind in North America, was published by the conference after two and a half years of research. The first printing ran to 10,585 copies and plans are under way for a second printing.

In reviewing the work which went into publishing the colorful volume, Mr. Chapman said its production was made financially possible due to 20,000 hours of voluntary work by 100 leading professional experts in map-making.

Mr. Chapman, assistant professor of geography at the University of B.C., convened the opening session of the conference — discussion on the use and value of maps.

DEPLORES LACK

R. I. Riggles, UBC instructor in geography, deplores the lack of good maps to illustrate text books in B.C. schools.

'I 'am sorry to state that except for the B.C. geography manual for social studies 32 . . . I have not yet seen a social studies text in which a comparable amount of thought and effort was put into designing and drawing the maps . . ." said Prof. Ruggles.

He called for a "bibiophile," or catalogue, of all types of maps being produced in B.C. for ready reference by business, industry and the public.

He said cartography, or map-making is playing a vital part today in industrial research, notably in mining, agriculture and forestry.

Manitoba Hasn't Accepted Health Plan Proposals Yet

OTTAWA (CP) — Health Minister Martin indicated Wednesday that Manitoba has not yet accepted federal proposals for a hospital insurance plan.

He replied "no" when Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre) asked in the Commons whether discussions with Manitoba's Liberal Progressive government have reached the point where an announcement can be made.

Mr. Knowles suggested that Mr. Martin travel to Winnipeg for talks but the minister said that is not necessary.

Implementation of the hospital insurance plan requires approval by at least six provinces with a majority of Canada's population. Thus either Ontario or Quebec would have to accept, since they have more than half the country's population.

So far the three westernmost provinces and Newfoundland have accepted he federal offer to pay half the costs of the plan.

Diefenbaker To Be At Coast March 7

VANCOUVER (CP)—John Diefenbaker, national Progressive Conservative leader, will arrive in Vancouver March 7 on his first visit here since his appointment as leader of the party.

Announcement of the visit was made Wednesday by Leon Ladner and A. C. DesBrisay, joint chairmen of the Conservative party, B.C. section.

Mr. Diefenbaker will fly to Victoria the day of his arrival to speak to a meeting there, and March 8 will address meetings at the University of B.C. and Georgia auditorium here.

SECOND THOUGHTS

LONDON (CP) — The Communist party executive admitted that its annual drive to re-register members ended with at least 6500 of last year's members—one-fifth of the total—refusing to rejoin.

Eden Sends Message To Premier Holland

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (Reuters) — Sir Anthony Eden said in a radio message received here Wednesday that he is recovering from a fever which attacked him during his voyage from Britain.

The former British prime minister, who is making the voyage to New Zealand for health reasons, suffered two attacks of fever on board the liner Rangitata, due in Auckland Thursday.

Eden, in a message to Prime Minister Holland, said he is recovering so well that he is willing to hold a short press conference after he arrives.

Stormy Senate Debate on Wheat

OTTAWA (CP) — A sharp debate on wheat marketing split the Senate's opposition Wednesday, one Progressive Conservative walking out of the upper chamber in the middle of a speech by his leader, Senator John T. Haig.

Senator Walter Aseltine, a Rosetown, Sask., barrister and wheat farmer who sits beside his leader in the five-man Conservative opposition, was obviously annoyed at Senator Haig's reference to him as a "wealthy man" who didn't need to worry about surpluses.

Senator Haig, a 73-year-old Winnipeg lawyer, spoke out sharply against compulsory features of the Canadian Wheat Board and said Canada had piled up an 800,000,000 - bushel wheat surplus she couldn't get rid of.

The present wheat board delivery quota was four bushels to the acre and the ordinary farmer couldn't operate on that basis.

"It's already for my honorable friend," he said, indicating Senator Aseltine sitting next to him. "He happens to be a wealthy man who can afford to have his wheat bin full."

At this point Senator Aseltine waved his hand and whispered something that sounded like: "Oh stop that sort of talk." When Senator Haig continued in the same vein, Senator Aseltine picked up his papers from his desk and stalked from the Chamber.

Senator Haig, a veteran political campaigner, went right on speaking.

Canadian Red Cross Ranks Third In Austrian Camps for Refugees

WINNIPEG (CP) — Dr. W. S. Stanbury, of Toronto, national commissioner of the Canadian Red Cross, said here that the society is operating three refugee camps for Hungarians in Austria and has been asked to take a fourth — one of the largest in the country.

Dr. Stanbury told a luncheon meeting of the Manitoba division of the society that the number of camps run by the Canadian society was exceeded only by the Austrians, with four, and the United States with five.

He said the society is also providing nursing services and other amenities for 16 camps in the Netherlands, temporarily housing refugees destined for re-settlement in Canada between now and June.

The $500,000 given by Canadians to the Hungarian Relief Fund has been totally expended on supplies for Hungarians and refugees in Austria and Yugoslavia, he said.

"Not one cent from the fund was spent for refugees in Canada nor for administrative expenses."

To Boost Strength Of Queen's Own

VICTORIA (CP) — Strength of the 2nd Battalion of the Queen's Own Rifles, stationed at Camp Gordon Head, is expected to be boosted to about 670 officers and men by this Summer, an army official said Tuesday.

This is nearly twice the number of men stationed at the camp when the QOR contingent for the United Nations police force in the Middle East returned from Halifax early in January.

Strength is to be built up by addition of platoons of recruits as they finish their depot training. Final stage of their recruit training is being given here during the Winter.

Dogs Not the Most Popular Movie Stars

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Columbia Pictures wants the dogs called off — especially the Bagel beagles.

Director George Sidney told this reporter the other day of his problem in finding a dog with a kosher appetite. He needs one for the upcoming movie "Pal Joey." The script requires that Frank Sinatra's pet dog eat the same kosher diet he does, including lox, bagels, cheese blintzes and all the other delicatessen delicacies.

Sidney's plight has made an Associate Press item.

When Sidney reported for work, all his phone lines were tied up, telegrams were stacked in bundles of 100 and his waiting room was filled with barking dogs.

He left town Wednesday.

SUDDEN EXITS

Sinatra's office, already up to its hind legs with Rex Harrison slappings and Marilyn Monroe raids, got the same response.

Sinatra left for Palm Springs.

Sidney said that many of his phone calls from all part of Canada and the United States came collect.

One Columbia executive reported that the item practically disrupted the whole studio operation for 24 hours.

"Important business calls and messages just couldn't get through," he said.

All the telegrams and letters boast of dogs with kosher appetites but many have other talents.

CAN EVEN YODEL

P. Stephen Heilbroner, New York City, said his French poodle will yodel in Yiddish.

Mrs. Morris Jacobs Baltimore, has a dog that can open pistachio nuts.

Ann and Frank Polito, Gary, Ind., "have black cocker spaniel will eat anything except Sinatra. Likes beer too."

Columbia said it plans an audition for Eastern dogs at Lindy's restaurant in New York City at a date to be announced later.

Canada Expects To Adopt Guided Missiles

By DAVE McINTOSH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Recent developments at home and abroad have enhance possibilities that the Canadian Army will acquire guided missiles before long.

The missiles, without atomic warheads, likely will go first to the Canadian Infantry Brigade Group in West Germany. The warheads probably would be supplied to the Canadians in event of emergency—a Russian ground attack on western Europe.

AIM AT FIRE-POWER

All western armies now are planning to substitute more fire-power for a good part of their manpower. The British are reported to be preparing to cut their 80,000-man army in Germany to 50,000 men while maintaining four divisions.

The British Army of the Rhine is understood to be preparing to adopt U.S. guided missiles. The Canadian brigade functions as part of this army though it can operate independently.

As far as can be learned here, there is no immediate intention of bringing any army guided missiles into Canada.

Villagers Rush Royal Visitors

LISBON (AP)—A cheering Portugese crowd got out of hand today and forced Queen Elizabeth to abandoned plans to watch a dance at the fishing village of Nazare. The royal limousine was the centre of a near riot.

The visiting British monarch and the Duke of Edinburgh drew up in the crowded village square as gaily costumed dancers were swirling through their steps.

When the Queen started to get out, watchers broke from barriers the dancers stopped dancing and all rushed in and engulfed the car.

Only with the aid of police was it able to move off.

Plan Industrial Caravan for Centennial Year

An industrial caravan fully representative of British Columbia's industries is to tour the province during the 1958 Centenary.

L. J. Wallace, chairman of the British Columbia Centennial Committee, in making the announcement said:

"This caravan will tell the story of 100 years of industrial growth to the people of British Columbia."

"The mobile caravan," he said, "will give a complete picture of B.C. industry."

Not only primary industries, but secondary industries will be included in the mobile display.

The first part of the caravan will consist of mobile units prepared with the help of industries and businesses of the province. The second part will be the B.C. Products Bureau unit, organized in the form of a display and stage show which will take place in large tents or community halls or arenas throughout the province.

The industrial caravan is expected to be one of the highlights of the Centennial year.

Says Britain Lost Friend In Sam Cromie

MANCHESTER (CP) — The Manchester Guardian, paying tribute to the late Samuel Cromie, assistant publisher of the Vancouver Sun, says Britain has lost a good friend.

"Sam Cromie was only 39, but in his short life he had made a distinctive contribution to Canadian publishing and to Anglo-Canadian relations," The Guardian says.

It notes that he was a great believer in the need to strengthen commercial links between Britain and Canada and that he was a champion of the polar route between Britain and Canada's west coast.

Mr. Cromie died Saturday in a boating mishap which also calimed the life of his companion, William Derek Dix, who is still missing.

New Red Carpet For Senate Chamber

OTTAWA (CP) — The ornate Senate chamber is to get a new red carpet, an air-conditioning system and new, lighter-stain window panes that will let in some sunshine, Solicitor-General Macdonald, government leader, reports.

Labor Council Fears Even Monorail . . .

Wenner-Gren Project Seen As Threat To B.C. Rights

VANCOUVER (CP) — Axel Wenner-Gren's contemplated billion-dollar project for Northern British Columbia was criticized by Vancouver Labor Council delegates unwilling to be "taken for a ride." Not even a monorail ride.

The delegates termed the huge industrial project a threat to the rights of the people and industry of B.C.

They demanded that B.C. industrial groups be given equal access to resources before any outside deal; publication by Premier Bennett of all details before completing a contract; measures to protect the rights of the people; public ownership of power development and railroads.

ASKS FOR HALT

Council officials should talk with provincial and federal governments and Canadian Labor Congress, asking for the deal to be halted until public rights are safeguarded.

The demands, unanimously endorsed by the Council, came from Vancouver Converters' Local 433 of Pulp and Sulphite Workers.

Orville Braaten, Local 433 agent, declared Premier Bennett "would like to close the deal so quickly the people wouldn't know what's going on."

"Wenner-Gren has a dream of an empire," Braaten said. "But I'm afraid somebody is going to be taken for a ride. It might be in style, but the people are not prepared to be taken for a monorail ride."

(One of the Swedish financier's proposals — in return for certain staking rights — is the building of a 400-mile monorail railway.)

PROPOSAL UNDER STUDY

The Vancouver Board of Trade and the B.C. Yukon Chamber of Mines also have taken the Wenner-Gren proposal under study.

The Chamber of Mines executive and advisory board—a group of the top prospectors, mining engineers and operators in B.C.—said a statement will be issued later. It is expected to warn the government against granting Wenner-Gren special privileges or concessions.

The Vancouver Board of Trade council will meet Thursday to study the proposal. It is expected to form a fact-finding committee.

Quemont Net Profit Down at End of 1956

TORONTO (CP) — Quemont Mining Corp. Ltd., Noranda district copper - gold-silver-zinc-pyrite producer, had a net profit of $3,674,000 or $1.75 a share for the year ended Dec. 31, 1956. This compared with $4,868,699—$2.32 a share—in the preceding year.

SLOW TO DECIDE LOCAL PROJECTS FOR CENTENNIAL

VICTORIA — Slowness of local centennial committees to decide on their projects for the B.C. 1958 Centenary is causing concern at Centennial Headquarters, it has been learned here.

To help cover the cost of local celebrations and pay half towards a suitable commemorative community project, the provincial government is offering an estimated total of $1,500,000 in the form of per capita grants to local centennial committees.

In an address to the B.C. Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters' meeting here, L. J. Wallace, B.C. Centennial Committee chairman, said "some serious and concentrated study on local community projects must be embarked upon now in order that definite decisions may be made and work commenced."

Edmonton Nominates CCF "Godfather"

EDMONTON (CP) — Walter Mentz, 62, a stonemason described as the "Godfather of the CCF," has been chosen as the party's candidate in Edmonton West in the forthcoming federal general election.

Mr. Mentz is known as the CCF's "godfather" because he proposed the motion adopting the party's name at the 1932 Regina convention.

Ice Covered Firefighters' Faces At Edmonton's $250,000 Blaze

EDMONTON (CP) — More than $250,000 damage was caused to a bakery here Tuesday when fire swept through the one-storey 10,000-square-foot Dainty Cake bakery building.

The fire, of undetermined origin, spread quickly through the bakery on 109 Ave., leaving the brick building a blackened shell. No one was injured.

A bakery official said about $100,000 worth of equipment was lost in the blaze while the owner said the building was worth more than $150,000. Two of 11 bakery trucks were saved. The firm has 60 employees.

Police said no one was in the building at the time of the fire, the staff having left an hour before it broke out shortly before midnight.

Firefighters prevented fire from spreading to a nearby garment factory.

HAD HOSE TROUBLE

Fire Chief A. J. Lauder said his men had trouble with hoses in the 16-below-zero weather. Acetylene torches had to be used to thaw out nozzles.

A fireman said barrels of lard "went up like greased lightning," and were difficult to extinguish when burning.

Firemen worked in shifts throughout the night with chartered buses bringing in fresh crews. The men had their faces covered with ice from spraying water.

Victoria Has Golden Staph Under Control

VICTORIA (CP) — The "golden staph," a stubborn infection which became a major problem in many Canadian hospitals in 1955 now is well under control in Victoria's two major hospitals.

Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical administrator of Royal Jubilee Hospital, says it is "no problem now. It's better than it's ever been."

Dr. E. N. Boettcher, superintendent of St. Joseph's Hospital, said golden staph was "under satisfactory control," with only 18 cases in the hospital.

The infection, which causes boils, fever and even death gained prominence in the Spring and Summer of 1955 when it spread rapidly in hospitals across Canada.

Medical authorities said the best defence appeared to be a concentration on completely sterilized cleanliness in all phases of hospital operation.

Says Welfare State Likely To Remain

VANCOUVER (CP) — Don't delude yourself thinking that one day Canada or any other country will reach a period of prosperity that the welfare state can be dismantled, Says Dr. George F. Davidson, deputy federal minister of national welfare.

"Because of the complexity of modern life," he says, "proportionally as many people today require social services as 20 years ago.

"Social services are no longer symbols of poverty but are dynamic expressions of society's conscience."

Dr. Davidson, speaking to the annual meeting of the Community Chest and Council of Greater Vancouver, said as with every other commodity, the cost of voluntary and government welfare services has risen. But the community should not be ashamed of maintaining these high costs, he said.

BIG BUSINESS

TOKYO (AP) — U.S. military expenditures in Japan poured about $470,000,000 into the Japanese economy in 1956. More than half was spent on contracts with Japanese firms for coal, transportation, wood products, office machine repairs and office supplies.

Co-Operation Two-Way Street Says Sinclair

VICTORIA (CP) — Premier Bennett has a "standard text about the lack of co-operation" between the federal and provincial governments, Federal Fisheries Minister James Sinclair says.

Mr. Sinclair was speaking here at a special nomination convention which picked his former assistant, Alistair Fraser, as federal Liberal candidate for Esquimalt-Saanich in the coming federal election.

"Our premier here in B.C. has a standard text about the lack of co-operation from the federal government," Mr. Sinclair said.

"Well, co-operation is a two-way street."

Mr. Sinclair said the federal government had given straight cash grants of $57,500,000 to British Columbia this year.

He also said that although education was the responsibility of provincial governments Ottawa planned a bill to give $40,000,000 to Canadian universities and proposed to make $16,000,000 per year avaialble to universities to raise salaries within their faculties.

GET NO THANKS

"The federal government offered to pay half the cost of constructing the Trans-Canada Highway. When work slowed down... the (federal) government increased its payments to 90 per cent.

"We don't get thanks; all we get are signs saying 'sorry for the inconvenience, P. A. Gaglardi (B.C. highways minister)'," he said.

Mr. Sinclair said the federal government had also paid a subsidy for the construction of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway but had not been given any credit for it.

Earlier he took Premier Bennett to task for objecting that he was "electioneering" in B.C. and reminded the premier he was a British Columbian of more years than was Mr. Bennett.

Acquire Site For Yakima A-Power Plant

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP)—An area of nearly 14 square miles between the Hanford Atomic Reservation and the army's Yakima firing range has been acquired for a future atomic power plant, officials of three Northwest private power groups announced Tuesday.

Paul B. McKee, president of the Pacific Power & Light Co., Portland, said his firm and the others of the group have been studying the atomic power situation for more than three years and have held discussions with the Atomic Energy Commission.

The others are Washington Water Power Co., Portland General Electric, and Montana Power Co.

The site is 35 miles East of Yakima. Cost was not announced.

"The time is coming when the region will have to turn to thermal energy to keep up with its rapidly growing power requirements," McKee said.

"At present atomic power is much more expensive than available hydro, but we look for great progress to be made in reducing atomic costs in the foreseeable future, and we want to be ready to take action at the proper time."

Declare Shaw's Will Invalid

LONDON (Reuters) — Dramatist George Bernard Shaw's request in his will that most of his estate be used to set up a new 40-letter English alphabet was held to be invalid Wednesday by the London High Court.

The playwright, who died in 1950 at 94, left an estate now worth $716,000.

He provided that the income from the residue of his estate should be used to finance inquiries into the use of the present 26-letter alphabet and the time, labor and money that could be saved by substituting the longer alphabet.

The public trustee - executor and trustee of the will—had asked the court for guidance concerning the bequest.

Shaw willed that in case the alphabet plan broke down the money should go in equal shares to the British Museum, the National Gallery of Ireland and the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art.

Alastair Fraser To Contest Election

VICTORIA (CP) — Alastair Fraser, former personal assistant to Federal Fisheries Minister, James Sinclair was unanimously elected to represent the Liberal party in the Esquimalt-Saanich riding in the next federal election.

Accepting the nomination, Mr. Fraser told the meeting:

"I have much hope that we can return this riding to the place where it legitimately belongs—on the side of and in support of the federal government in Ottawa."

Mr. Sinclair said earlier "there is no doubt that the Liberal government is going back, so each riding has the choice of having as its representative a friend of the government or a carping critic."

Mr. Fraser recently resigned his post with Mr. Sinclair to come to Victoria to set up a law practice here.

Lady Dorothy Macmillan Finds No. 10 Exciting

LONDON (Reuters)—Lady Dorothy Macmillan, wife of the new prime minister, admits that being the prime minister's wife "is fun and exciting and interesting."

Holding her first press conference since her husband took office Jan. 10, she said that "at the moment I feel a little lost.

"I don't know what invitations to accept or reject. And some people ask me to do the maddest things. I know I see my husband more than I used to but I don't know what to do with my time between engagements."

"Now, at home in Sussex," she went on, "I could be tidying up or gardening or something."

But at 10 Downing Street, the prime minister's official London residence, she said: "They won't allow you to do much there."

SLEEP IN THE ATTICS

Dressed in black silk and sporting a scarlet velvet hat and a heart-shaped bracelet of diamonds she laughed and told the reporters that the residence "is nicely furnished. Our bedrooms are in the attic, of course."

As for hanging her own pictures, she said: "They are not good enough. The Tate Gallery supplies the pictures and they are very beautiful."

As for Chequers, the prime minister's official country residence 38 miles from London, she said it's like "living in a hotel, it isn't home."

School Committee Awards Two Honorary Memberships

WINNIPEG (CP) — The Canadian school committee of the Dominion Curling Association Wednesday awarded honorary life memberships to Victor Sifton of Winnipeg and Bob Sutherland of Guelph, Ont.—first such awards made by the committee.

Mr. Sifton, publisher of the Winnipeg Free Press, is the donor of the Sifton Trophy, emblematic of dominion high school curling supremacy.

Mr. Sutherland is retiring as vice-chairman of the Canadian school committee.

The committee said that due to the growing work in its organizations two vice-chairmen, one for the East and one for the West, will replace Mr. Sutherland. L. B. Stevenson of Sydney, N.S. and E. J. Brookes of Calgary were named to the posts.

The meeting rejected a Saskatchewan motion that any player participating in a dominion high school championship not be permitted to play in any further competition leading to a provincial playoff in future years. The motion meant that any curler competing in the present dominion championship here could not participate ever again.

Tolmites Win Beetle Battle

The beetles battled Tuesday at Civic Arena as Spruce Bugs and Tolmites emerged from within the department of Lands and Forests (some are still in the bush) to try to decide which was the fittest hockey team.

Tolmites triumphed 11-9.

The game started at a speedy pace, but a marked change was noted after some 15 minutes of play. By that time play had slowed to cruising speed.

That a few had not skated for several years became increasingly more evident. The limp-kneed individuals became familiarly known as the "ice-cleaners."

George Benwell, Bill Wicken, Eric Robinson and Bill Bishop tallied with varying degrees of frequency for Tolmites while Red Wassick, Bruce Horning, Al Larsen, Bill Lerhle and Harry Potts gave their all for the vanquished Spruce Bugs.

Lineups: Spruce Bugs — Al Larsen, Red Wassick, Bruce Horning, Harry Potts, Harry Forse, Alf Bawtree, Tom Hubbard, Bill Lehrle, Lou Chase, Phil Haycroft, Hamish Gavin. Tolmites — Bill Wicken, Doug Tjader, George Benwell, Eric Robinson, Bill Bishop, Shorty Clarke, Bill Hough, Jim Muir, Herb Couling, Howie Phillips, Will Bruels.

Goalies, borrowed from the Nelson Commercial Hockey League, were Royal Fetterly for Spruce Bugs and Bill Freno for Tolmites.

But Read said they will represent Canada at the British Empire Games in Wales in the summer of 1958.

The coach and crew are here for the sixth anual sports celebrities' dinner Thursday night, sponsored by the Ontario Sports Writers and Sportcasters Association.

Stampeders Sign Jim Finks

CALGARY (CP) — Calgary Stampeders of the Western Interprovincial Football Union Tuesday announced the signing of Jimmy Finks, top passer with the National Football League in 1955, as player and assistant coach.

Finks, six feet and 180 pounds, was rated the greatest player to come out of Tulsa University since Glenn Dobbs. He played with the NFL Pittsburgh Steelers for six years before quitting to be coach at Notre Dame.

The 29-year-old passer turned in his best season with Steelers in 1955 when he completed 165 of 344 passes for 2270 yards.

Total yardage was 85 more than Y. A. Tittle of San Francisco, 310 better than Norm van Brocklin of Los Angeles and 550 more than Otto Graham of Cleveland.

Finks played three years as defensive back with Pittsburgh before he moved into the quarterback slot. In 1952 he was second to Graham with a passing yardage of 2307. He tied Graham for number of touchdown passes, each collecting 20.

In 1955, he set two records — most number of completions in one game and most yards gained passing in a single game. He threw 27 completed passes against Green Bay Packers and passed 337 yards against Chicago Cardinals.

Finks is a native of Salem, Ill., and also played baseball after graduating from Tulsa.

Rangers Belt Boston, Lead Leafs by 5 Points

NEW YORK (AP) — Fourth-place New York Rangers bolstered their National Hockey League playoff prospects by defeating Boston Bruins 5-2 at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night. The victory gave Rangers a five-point margin over fifth-place Toronto Maple Leafs.

Rangers used four first - period goals to decide matters early. Bruins, thrown off balance by seven penalties in the first period, rallied to score twice early in the second period but never were able to catch up.

Rangers' first period goals were by Dave Creighton, Andy Hebenton, Dean Prentice and Camille Henry. Fleming Mackell and Real Chevrefils counted for Boston in the second period and Danny Lewicki added the final Ranger goal at 17:18 of the same period.

Henry, the Rangers' hottest scorer, brought his current streak to six goals in six games and his total assists to eight over that stretch.

The five-point lead over Toronto is the Rangers' biggest lead of the season in their battle for the fourth spot in the playoffs.

Smoke Eaters Soar in Third To Overcome Maple Leafs 5-4

Forced once again — this time through the absence of speedy Jim Pilla — to face their powerful opponents while staring at a manpower shortage, Nelson Maple Leafs gave their all and perhaps a little more against Trail Smoke Eaters.

But the game Leaf squad bowed anyway, as Smokies' superior all-round ability and more cohesive attack allowed them to outscore Nelson 3-2 in the final stanza.

The victory gave Trail a 2-0 edge in the best-of-seven Western International Hockey League semi-final series, with the third and fourth games to be played Friday in Trail and Saturday at Civic Arena.

Pilla's absence forced Pat Egan to juggle his lines, for the umpteenth time this season, moving Mickey Maglio back to his accustomed spot beside Don Appleton for as many shifts as possible. Maglio thrived on the double-duty by scoring twice and checking like a demon.

Wendy Keller and Appleton tallied singles for Leafs, Appleton's coming directly after a faceoff with 26 seconds remaining. Although Leafs pulled stellar goalie Gus Adams for the final 26 seconds and shovelled the puck into the Trail zone, they refused to get a shot at Seth Martin.

The game ended with Gerry Penner cruising aimlessly at centre ice, going nowhere in particular and being in no particular hurry to get there. Finally he flipped the puck into the corner and Egan cleared it out again.

Leafs' gallant effort had met with failure. The failure — disheartening but not disappointing to the estimated 900 fans who sat through the thrilling contest — was a direct result of the efforts of Grant Warwick, Penner and Dick Warwick.

Grant Warwick scored twice, with Penner, Dick Warwick and Bobby Kromm picking up singles. The Smokie playing-coach's second goal tied the score 3-3 in the third period and Dickie iced it 81 seconds later.

Leafs, for what little consolation their fans can draw from it, played well, even better than they had in Trail on Monday. Shorty Malacko, who made his season's debut in the series opener, was again a tower of strength along the blue-line.

If anything, he was more effective Wednesday. He took an occasional sortie up the ice and was robbed of what appeared to be a sure goal when Martin made a great stop on his screened drive in the third period.

Nelson led three times in the contest. But they couldn't keep abreast of the powerful Trail machine, as Trail won its 13th game in 14 starts. The streak started shortly after Leafs halted them here New Year's Day.

Keller gave Leafs the lead when he broke down the right side, shook off Harry Smith and rifled a shot that caught the inside of the cross-bar at the right side of Martin. The wicked drive gave the slim Smoke Eater no chance at all.

Grant Warwick, whose two-goal effort combined with three assists to give him nine points (incidentally, Smokies have scored nine goals) in the series, set up the tying tally when he and Yogi Kraiger combined to move the puck to Kromm who stood with his back to the Leaf net.

A little matter like that never bothered Kromm as he slipped the puck past Adams, who was a little late rising from the first stop.

Maglio then took over, tipping home a rebound from the backboards after a shot from Dave Stewart. Appleton moved the puck to the eager young defenceman.

Grant Warwick tied it up again, proving that the old master paymaster can still feel playoff—and payoff—pressure. Penner, who helped ignite Smokies into flames last season when they eliminated Leafs in five games, helped Dick Warwick feed the puck to the tiny Grant.

Maglio and Appleton combined to put Leafs in front for the third and last time when, 19 seconds after Malacko departed for frustrating a Trail thrust by falling on the puck, Appleton moved the puck from a faceoff and Maglio slapped it home.

Maglio, playing his best game since before Christmas, made the affair possible by trapping the puck against the boards for a faceoff. Leaf fans took that tally to be an omen of better things to come.

But they reckoned without Grant Warwick. Leafs tried, and tried hard, but they didn't have quite enough.

Friday may be another day.

Ontarians Continue to Lead High School Curling 'Spiel

By AL VICKERY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG (CP)—Ontario and Northern Ontario continued as the pace setters in the Dominion High School Curling Championship Wednesday night, each turning in a victory on the seventh draw.

With two rounds still to play, the two Ontario rinks go into the final day's play today with identical records of six wins and one loss.

Ontario, which suffered its first loss to Manitoba in the afternoon, handed Prince Edward Island its sixth setback, by a 9 - 3 score. Northern Ontario kept pace by blasting New Brunswick 17-7. New Brunswick is at the bottom with the Islanders.

ALBERTA CLOSE

Alberta remained one game off the leaders by easily turning aside Nova Scotia 14-7. Defending champion Saskatchewan scored its fourth straight win by defeating Manitoba 9-7. Both have records of four wins and three losses, and only a mathematical change to tie the leaders.

A surprising Quebec rink edged British Columbia 8-7, sending the west coast team into sixth place tie with Nova Scotia at three wins and four defeats. Quebec now is alone in eight spot with two wins in seven starts.

Ontario's Ian Johnston counted on seven of the 10 ends in his victory over Arthur Burke of Charlottetown, host city for next year's championship.

Burke kept the issue in doubt for five ends when he was down only 5-3, but Johnston pecked away to pick up four points on the last three ends.

Carl Konefal of Porth Arthur relied on big counts to gain his win over Harold Mabey of Moncton. Konefal hit the board for a five, a four and two three counts. He scored successive threes on the sixth and seventh to take a commanding 11-5 lead.

Alf Scheiman of Calgary broke up his game with Nova Scotia's Allan Kenney with a five on the seventh while he was holding a slim 7-6 lead.

One of the hottest rinks in the event at present, Saskatoon's Ron Paulson took advantage of Manitoba's weak front - end to take over the lead on the fifth end and never looked back. His deadly knockout game on the final end took out enough Manitoba rocks to preserve his victory before weakening and allowing Virden's Henry Riendeau to count two.

The colorful and crowd-pleasing young Quebec foursome tied their match against B.C. with a three on the ninth and then filled the house with rocks on the 10th. The best skip Bob Nesbitt of Kimberley could do was to draw to second shot.

In setting back Ontario for the first time, in the afternoon, Manitoba came through with a brilliant three on the last end to win 14-13. Northern Ontario moved into a first-place tie with Ontario by whipping Ed Uhlen of Quebec 10-8.

Alberta kept in the running by defeating B.C. 13-3. Saskatchewan beat New Brunswick 13-5 and Nova Scotia downed Prince Edward Island 12-3.

ANNOUNCE RAISE IN PRIZE MONEY

MONTREAL (CP) — Sponsors of the annual $26,800 open golf tournament Wednesday announced an increase in the amount of prize money available to Canadian pros and the payment of a grant to the Professional Golfers Association sponsors fund.

The tourney's main prize will remain at $25,000. The Canadian golfer finishing highest in the competition will hereafter qualify for a prize of $2000 instead of $1800.

The grant to the PGA's sponsors fund will amount to $2000 annually. The fund is shared among leading players on the pro golf circuit.

Rossland Pee Wees Here Saturday

Nelson Pee Wee Reps will hold a light workout at the Civic Arena Friday at five as they prepare to meet the Rossland Pee Wees on Saturday afternoon in their second game of the two-game total goal West Kootenay semi-final series.

Nelson holds a big edge in that department by virtue of their 11-1 win at Rossland a week ago.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Woman Speed Skating Champ Trains on Pond

DAWSON CREEK, B.C. (CP)—Pat Underhill turned to speed skating as a youngster because she couldn't afford figure-skating lessons.

Today, the 24-year-old housewife is preparing for the invitation speed-skating championships at Davos, Switzerland, Feb. 9-10 She will be Canada's only representative.

The invitation to compete at Davos, a tribute to the prowess Edmonton - born Mrs. Underhill has built up since she first entered national competition in 1949, coaxed her from a decision to retire from competition.

It also sparked her enthusiasm to the point where she has done much of her training this year on a frozen pond near this northeastern British Columbia town. She had no other place after the arena burned down in December.

Mrs. Underhill is a five-foot, three-inch brown-haired woman of 115 pound and extraordinary speedskating ability. Her skating laurels in 1956 included the North America, Canadian, Alberta, Montana and Illinois women's championships

Her experience is broad. She competed in international meets in Switzerland and Sweden in 1954 and she has contested every major competition in North America. She had her first double success in 1955 when she won the Canadian outdoor and North American indoor crowns.

After moving here two years ago when her oilman husband was transferred from Edmonton, she organized training classes for youngsters. The interest she showed in the community and its youth was appreciated.

When the invitation from Davos came, the Dawson Creek Athletic Association, with the help of town residents, undertook to pay the $1000 necessary for air fare and other expenses.

Explaining the competition, Mrs. Underhill said it is equivalent to Olympic standards, fought out "on a strictly time basis" on a 400-metre outdoor course.

Three preliminary races over 500 metres, 700 metres and 1500 metres will cut the field of competitors from lost leading countries to 12 women. They will take part in the 3000 metres for the world's championship.

"That's a long race," Mrs. Underhill said, "but I hope I can put up a good show. It's longer, of course, than Canada's longest — one mile—for woman skaters."

Pat said she expects the strongest opposition will come from Russian skaters.

"I learned that in 1954 when they carried off eight firsts," she said.

Britain Seen Through Eyes Of Canadian

By ED SIMON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—First impressions of a Canadian visitor to Britain:

A sombre layer of black cloud over the English coast after brilliant sunshine and springlike weather in Cherbourg, across the Channel. A drizzle at Southampton, continuing intermittently and turning into drenching rain as the visitor undertakes his first exploration of London on foot.

The sun breaks through for the first time on the third day but half an hour later it is raining again.

A shopgirl explains one of the basic principles of London weather: "It always rynes when you want to go 'ome."

TOUCH OF THE BROGUE

An intense, black-haired Irish panhandler encountered at Charing Cross, who summarizes his national and personal misfortunes with a lilting eloquence worthy of Sean O'Casey. After a 10-minute monologue, the visitor gives him a shilling and a couple of cigarets, feeling he's had more than his money's worth.

The discovery that an all-night German disc jockey plays the works of Duke Ellington, Glenn Miller and Elvis Presley. The earnest efforts of the announcer to translate into German the text of an effusion called "Gal With the Yaller Shoes."

First exposure to British Television—privately - owned division—featered an Ed Sullivan - type variety show, a serial on the adventures of Robin Hood and lots and lots of singing commercials.

The luxury of lighting a legal cigaret in the underground and smoking unmolested throughout the performance of a play. Marvelling at the dexterity of the patrons as they juggle coffee cups, overcoats and programs in their seats during the intermission.

The unfailing courtesy of Londoners, even in rush hour. Their willingness to form a queue at the slightest provocation and their apparent ignorance of the elbow as an offensive weapon.

Facing imminent destruction as cars, lit only by parking lights, loom out of the mist to descend on the unwary pedestrian from the "wrong" side of the street. Shuddering at the maze of one-way passages through major downtown intersections and wondering if any alien motorist ever learns to navigate them.

Wistfully eyeing the abundance of parking spaces in petrol-short London, a paradise to the driver while his ration lasts.

Odds . . . and Ends

. . . by M. D. B.

I could be making all kinds of remarks about the weather but I'm doing my best to ignore it. However, if something must be said, my opinion is this: it is exactly what we might have expected of that rascally old weatherman.

* * *

Watched two small boys watching the firehall aerial ladder in operation as a banner was being put up on Baker Street. "Bet you'd like to climb it," I said. "Sure would," they agreed and I nearly added, "I would too."

* * *

Passing the new natural gas office was attracted inside by a huge map of Nelson, displayed on the floor. Blocks to be serviced by gas are colored in and colored wires are fastened on to show location of mains. For instance a black wire shows the eight-inch main entering the city with other colors for the six-inch and four-inch and the two-inch lines are in yellow. I was told it will be even more colorful when the colored pins indicating individual customers are put on it.

* * *

Another monster has been added to the News. It sits in a corner of the new editorial room under its transparent cover. It is a Scana-graver and with its cord fastened into a wall outlet and its exhaust pipe connected with the outdoors it looks as though it has really set up housekeeping and plans to stay.

* * *

Several of us are learning to run the thing and when we get it going we hope to be able to put today's pictures in tomorrow's paper. If that is confusing it just means we will be able to get more news pictures in the paper a little earlier than what we do now. It is certainly an interesting gadget and once we get the hang of it, it shouldn't be TOO difficult to operate, I hope.

* * *

The man who is teaching us is very patient and trusts we have a moderate amount of grey matter. In my case, I wonder if he is not too trusting. However, I am doing my best and if I come out of it a little frayed at the edges, I remind myself it is for a good cause and probably worth it.

Victoria Approves Pact With Australia

PAUSING at entrance to Civic Centre building where Library is located, A. E. (Bert) Blackwell looks at titles of new books. Attractive book jackets, posted in glass case, inform passersby of reading awaiting them. Membership is free to residents of the municipality. Persons living outside city limits pay nominal yearly charge. —Daily News photos.

WELL-STOCKED SHELVES, to which Library is constantly adding newly published books in fiction and non-fiction and reference classifications, offer reading for all tastes, all ages. Here Mrs. W. McKim thumbs through books in one section while Mrs. Harold Stuart, Sr., has selected a journal from Library's many current newspapers and magazines.

Statistics Tell Story of Increased Use of Library

Nelson Municipal Library, rated as one of the best public libraries in the B.C. Interior, is attracting more and more people each year.

The Library, located in the Civic Centre building and open to the public six and a half hours a day six days a week, is supported by the City of Nelson. Financial assistance is received in the form of a provincial government grant.

Last year, the annual report shows, the number of persons who loaned books from the Library increased considerably. There were 1829 persons borrowing books, compared with 1728 in the previous year.

A total of 682 persons registered for the first time or renewed their membership in the Library last year. In 1955 their numbers were 672. The increase was mostly in children.

Membership is free to city residents. Persons living outside the municipal limits pay a nominal yearly charge. Grade III status is a child's entry into full Library privileges to which older persons are entitled. However, parents may borrow books for younger children on their own cards.

Gaining public interest in the Library and its services shows itself in other statistics.

More books were loaned last year. In adult fiction — the overwhelming favorite — members borrowed 15,288 volumes compared with 14,548 in 1955.

On the other hand, fewer books in the adult non-fiction category caught patrons' fancy. The Library loaned 6424 adult non-fiction volumes, whereas in 1955 it loaned 7049.

The total in these two groups of adult books taken out, therefore, reached 21,712 in 1956 and 21,597 in 1955.

A healthy increase was also shown in children's support of the Library, actually a greater increase than by their seniors. The youngsters tucked 11,869 books under their arm for home reading, against 11,155 in the previous year. These totals were comprised of 2541 juvenile non-fiction choices and 8328 juvenile fiction books last year, and 2490 juvenile non-fiction and 8665 juvenile-fiction the year before.

So, added up, young and old borrowed 33,581 books last year, against 32,742 in 1955.

The Library's complement of books reached a record number. Last year there were 12,361 books in the Library (10,057 adult and 2304 juvenile volumes), an increase of more than 300 over the previous year.

These figures include books put on shelves for the first time in each year, almost all of them newly published. The Library added 788 books last year, a few more than the total of 1955. Fifty-two newspapers and magazines are subscribed to for the public's further benefit.

Not Interested in Shorter Work Week

VANCOUVER (CP) — Council has asked city hall employees to consider a shorter work week instead of a pay increase but a spokesman for the 800 employees says the union isn't particularly interested.

"Our first objective," a union spokesman said, "is a cash increase that will put us in line with employees in private industry doing similar work. A shorter work day is a secondary consideration."

The city administration board offered a three-per-cent wage increase following a union demand for 13½ per cent. This was rejected by the union.

Canada's Gold and U.S. Dollars Down in January

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's official holdings of gold and United States dollars dipped by $5,600,000 during the month of January to $1,930,600,000, the Bank of Canada reported Wednesday.

Royal Trust Co.'s Net Profits Higher

MONTREAL (CP) — The Royal Trust Company has reported a net profit of $1,095,000, or $2.38 a share, for 1956 compared with $1,024,883, or 02.23 a share in the previous year.
