Six Top Communist Leaders Fired

B.C. Woodworkers To Strike Friday

Summer Could See More Than 75,000 Workers Idle; Strike Announcement Follows Five Days of Negotiation

VANCOUVER (CP) — Thirty-four thousand woodworkers in the coastal forests of British Columbia go on strike Friday morning.

The lumber industry, a $508,000,000-a-year business, provides more than half the province's annual income.

Other strikes and threatened strikes may leave another 41,000 more workers idle in B.C. this summer in what observers say could be the worst year in the province's labor history.

British Columbia's second biggest industry—salmon fishing — has been crippled by a strike for more than a week.

Also threatening is a strike of 17,000 civil servants which, if it develops, will be the first strike of civil servants in Canada at a major level of government.

Joe Morris, district president of the International Woodworkers of America, issued the strike announcement Wednesday night after five days of last-ditch negotiations to head off a stoppage in the forests.

NO AGREEMENT

The strike, set for 10 a.m. PDT Friday, was called, Mr. Morris said, because it was "not possible to reach an agreement suitable to the union" in negotiations with Forest Industrial Relations Limited, bargaining agent for 157 lumber operators in the coastal area of B.C.

In a separate statement, Forest Industrial Relations said "as a final means of settling the dispute" it offered a general wage increase of five per cent, effective June 15.

This was rejected by the IWA which has been seeking a 20-per-cent boost from the present basic rate of $1.59 an hour. The woodworkers voted 90 per cent in favor of strike action last month.

The operators and the IWA broke off wage talks last month and the latest series of closed-door discussions followed an appeal by Premier Bennett for the two sides to try to reach an agreement.

REPORT TO PREMIER

Both FIR and the IWA agreed to report back to Premier Bennett, the employers' statement said.

Neither the premier nor Labor Minister Lyle Wicks were available for comment Wednesday night.

Logging, shingle, plywood and sawmill operations on the mainland coast and Vancouver Island will be closed by the strike.

In mid-June, a special conciliation board headed by Gordon Wismer, former attorney-general, suggested a delay in settlement of the dispute because of uncertain market conditions. Union officials have held that decision to be in violation of the Labor Relations Act and said acceptance of the report would deprive them of their right to strike.

The stoppage will be the fourth since the Second World War. In 1946, a 36-day walkout caused a production loss of more than 225,000,000 board feet of lumber; in 1952 a 10-week stoppage cost the industry an estimated $170,000,000 in lost business; and in 1945, 5000 southern B.C. workers were idle for three months.

The dispute does not involve workers in the pulp and paper industry directly but there will be interruptions of pulpwood supplies.

The increases demanded by the IWA are to a basic hourly rate of $2.22 for sawmill workers and $1.90 for others. It is estimated it would cost the industry $20,000,000 a year.

The idled lumber workers would join 5500 members of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union (Ind.) and the Native Brotherhood of B.C. and 60 members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers employed by the city of Vancouver.

Threatening strikes are 11,000 provincial civil servants, 3000 operating engineers employed mainly in construction, and 4000 carpenters. If these men strike, it would affect construction work, shut liquor stores and disrupt government business. Another 19,000 persons in canneries are indirectly affected by the salmon - fishing stoppage.

Wage demands range from a few cents more a pound for salmon to a 20-per-cent increase by the woodworkers, city electrical workers, and operating engineers.

Union men say the rising cost of living makes their wage demands necessary. Employers say previous wage concessions are what is making the cost of living rise.

LIQUOR WORKERS

Probably the strike which would affect B.C. residents most directly is the threatened walkout of civil servants. That would close liquor stores and cut off the supply to beer parlors. It would stop the issuing of marriage licences, birth certificates or death certificates. Old age pension and government relief cheques could not be issued.

MOST ANNOYING

The smallest strike numerically but one that annoys Vancouver motorists, is that of the 60 city-employed electricians. Aside from doing emergency jobs, they have not worked since June 6. It's every motorist for himself at intersections where the traffic lights have one by one blinked out and gone unrepaired.

Back Firemen

By RICHARD ANCO
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CALGARY (CP) — Engineers from Saskatchewan and Alberta lined up Wednesday behind locomotive firemen of the Canadian Pacific Railway who are faced with the possibility of being removed from yard and freight diesel service.

Continuing a decision made in Winnipeg last week to publicly support firemen, four engineers told the Kellock royal commission studying the situation firemen-helpers are needed for the safety and efficiency of railway operations.

William Duke of Regina, an engineer since 1947, said that from his experience he felt no diesel operation was safe without firemen.

He said engineers serve two masters — the CPR and their own conscience. They must "live with a tragedy" if anyone is maimed or killed as a result of a locomotive accident.

Witnesses from Calgary, Lethbridge and Saskatoon also argued that removal of firemen would "practically leave the left side of a locomotive blind."

They said the position of fireman provided necessary experience before a man is made an engineer, added to the efficiency of switching and other operations and made for greater safety to the public and railway employees.

SHIP FIRE KILLS FOUR

Fear 1000 Killed In Iran 'Quake

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Rescue teams roving the still-trembling earth of north Iran expressed fear Wednesday that Tuesday's quake killed more than 1000 persons.

The known death toll soared to 750.

More than 3000 persons were missing from ruined villages that marked the quake's horseshoe-shaped path around the south end of the Caspian sea. However, many of these were presumed to have sought safety in the open fields and woods.

Official statistics pictured havoc and misery as mild after-shock tremors persisted. More than 100 villages wrecked; 1500 persons seriously injured; property damage estimated at more than $12,500,000.

Wire lines were down and avalanches blocked roads, leaving runners and horsemen as the only means of communication throughout much of the affected 50,000 square miles.

Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi, on vacation in Switzerland with Queen Soraya, cabled orders for immediate large-scale relief measures. His sister, Princess Shams, plans to start Friday on a tour of the stricken area. She will distribute medicine, food, clothing and money among the survivors.

The grimest note of the day's rescue efforts came from two villages unmentioned in early accounts of the quake. These were Tighband and Sangchal. Both were destroyed. In the ruins, rescue workers found 400 bodies.

The quake appeared the most deadly since a trembler killed 1409 persons in north Algeria in September 1954.

The path of death and damage seemed to extend into the Soviet Union on both sides of the Caspian. But there was no word from the Russians on what happened north of the border.

MEN BURNED AS OIL RIG EXPLODES

FORT ST. JOHN, B.C. (CP)— Three men suffered third-degree burns and a $1,000,000 oil-drilling rig was destroyed Wednesday in a wellhead gas explosion near Mile 95 on the Alaska Highway.

Oil engineer W. E. Walton, 31, of Ardmore, Okla., was described by hospital authorities here as "horribly burned." He and co-workers Earl Miller, 32, and Sandy Reise, 30, both of Fort St. John, were reported in serious condition.

The blast occurred early Wednesday when wet gas from the 6200-foot level seeped up to the wellhead and ignited. The fire still was burning uncontrolled late Wednesday night.

ASK RANSOM

QUEBEC (CP) — The mother of an 11-year-old boy, missing from his home for seven days, said Wednesday the family has been asked for $8000 ransom for the safe return of the child.

Mrs. Paul Boutin, whose son, Guy, disappeared from a Boy Scout camp at nearby Chateau Richer last Wednesday, said a woman asked for the money Tuesday night at a pre-arranged meeting with her husband. The woman identified herself as Frances Michele.

A provincial police spokesman said he is convinced the woman was trying to make money by taking advantage of the boy's disappearance. He said there is no indication the boy was kidnapped and he doubted the woman had any knowledge of his whereabouts.

Foresee Easing Of Inflation

OTTAWA (CP) — Living costs may continue to creep up during the next few months but some federal officials feel the heavy wind has been taken out of Canada's inflationary sails.

A trade department expert said Wednesday there now are more signs of an easing up in inflationary pressures than there have been in the last two years.

While the over-all economy was strong and continuing to grow, some industries were reported to be working at less than full capacity. House construction has declined. So has world demand for Canadian wheat and lumber.

Wholesale prices seem to be going nowhere, the official added, meaning there were no sharp upward or downward trends in evidence, but rather a steady, stabilizing pattern.

Disrupting that pattern may be the recent $5 and $6-a-ton increase in the price of steel. This rise could influence the price of products in which steel is used.

However, all this may be of little consolation to the man on the street faced with slightly higher living costs. These costs crept up in March and April and there are indications they increased again in May.

Cool Reception for Smelter Proposal

TORONTO (CP) — Proposals to build a smelter in British Columbia to produce pig iron for export to Japan received a cool reception Wednesday from members of a Japanese iron and steel mission visiting Canada.

Shige Kawata, president of Nippon Steel Tube Co. Ltd., heading the mission, said Japan offers only a temporary market for pig iron.

He told a press conference that a major expansion program will bring domestic capacity within three years up to the level of demand.

But, he said, Japan will continue to provide a market for iron ore.

Malenkov, Molotov Dropped in Party Purge

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—In a far reaching purge, the Soviet Communist party has fired Georgi M. Malenkov, Vyacheslav M. Molotov and four other leaders from high party posts on charges of working against the best interests of the party.

The others demoted are Lazar M. Kaganovich, Dimitri Shepilov, Maxim Z. Saburov and M. G. Pervukhin.

Marshall Georgi Zhukov, defence minister, was at the same time promoted in party ranks.

The shifts mark a victory for Nikita S. Khrushchev, the Communist chief, in his efforts to dominate the Soviet party and the government. He emerges more strongly than ever as a successor to Joseph Stalin.

The newly elected praesidium (politburo) announced Wednesday night in a Moscow broadcast numbers 15. It includes only six of the 11-man praesidium elected in February 1956.

MALENKOV OUT

Those dropped from praesidium membership are Malenkov and Molotov; Kaganovich, long a party stalwart; and economic planner Saburov. Pervukhin, another economic executive, was demoted to alternate membership. Shepilov was fired as one of the party secretaries.

Mrs. Ekaterina Furtseva was promoted from alternate membership to full member. She is the first woman in the praesidium.

The six holdovers in the praesidium are Premier Nikolai Bulganin, Ukrainian party boss A. I. Kirichenko, Khrushchev, trade expert Anastase Mikoyan, the propagandist and biologist expert M. A. Suslov, and Klimenti Voroshilov.

Moscow's statement, monitored here, said the group worked against the decisions of the 20th Communist party congress of February, 1956, and tried "to impose wrong ideas."

It accussed Molotov specifically of having hindered the Soviet government's policy of "peace among peoples."

STALIN STALWARTS

Malenkov, Molotov and Kaganovich were oldtime right - hand men of Joseph Stalin. Malenkov was premier and party first secretary after the dictator's death. Khrushchev eased Malenkov out of the leading party position soon after Stalin's death and later was instrumental in causing Malenkov to step down as premier with a confession of inability to do the job.

The announcement was shadowed in angrily worded Pravda editorials. The official newspaper of the Communist party indicated the targets of the attack might even be ousted from Communist party membership. If so, they could hold no important government positions.

The development appeared to be a culmination of a struggle against Stalinist elements. It is believed Malenkov and the others rejected Khrushchev's thesis, delivered at the 20th congress, that Stalin's rule was a despotic one which harmed the Soviet Union.

The praesidium of the party central committee from which Malenkov, Molotov and Kaganovich were fired, is the most powerful body in the Soviet Union. Under Stalin it was the politburo, and he ruled it with an iron hand.

After Stalin, it represented the party's new "collective leadership."

SHEPILOV LOSES

Shepilov, who has been an alternate—or candidate - member of the praesidium since February, 1956, lost his job as one of the secretaries of the Communist party. The secretariat is subordinate in authority only to the praesidium.

Shepilov, a former editor of Pravda and a propaganda expert, was foreign minister briefly but was replaced by career diplomat Andrei Gromyko last February.

The development confirmed a suspicion long held in the West—that a desperate struggle for power continued in the Kremlin even after the collective leadership appeared to have settled its major differences with the execution of police boss Lavrenty Beria in December, 1953. It is apparent the struggle over world and internal policy has gone on unremittingly.

NO TRACE OF MISSING PLANE

VANCOUVER (CP) — RCAF search and rescue officials said Wednesday a light plane missing since Monday between Langley and Penticton must have completely lost its way. No trace has been found of the aircraft carrying John E. Matser, 21, of Nelson and Steve Antifaev, 24 of Grand Forks.

Find Employment For Christian Hanna

VICTORIA (CP) — Christian George Hanna, who sailed for months on a Norwegian ship as a "man without a country", has found employment at Island Home Hospital near Cobble Hill.

He was in Victoria last week, but turned down a job in Sooke that offered room, board and $10 per month. Since winning the right to reside in Canada, Hanna has lived in Vancouver.

LOOT WAS TOO HOT

ROME (AP)—A light - fingered souvenir hunter walked off with a tube of deadly radioactive uranium from a nuclear energy exhibition here — but returned it anonymously after four hours of police warnings. The tube was an industrial testing device.

SEE SUN EXPLOSION

ROME (AP)—A giant explosion on the face of the sun was observed Wednesday. Scientists described it as "one of the biggest ever seen from Europe."

Reserves Uranium For Peaceful Use

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower made available 131,560 pounds of uranium 235 Wednesday for peaceful atomic uses at home and abroad.

The allocation brought the total amount of such atomic material earmarked for that program to 100,000 kilograms, or about 220,000 pounds.

In a statement, Eisenhower said, "Distribution of special nuclear material will be subject to prudent safeguards against diversion of the materials to non - peaceful purposes."

The president also expressed gratification "that the advance toward power and knowledge from the atom is proceeding at a pace which requires provision of additional supplies of the basic atomic fuel."

He estimated that at current prices fixed by the Atomic Energy Commission last November, the value of the approximately 220,000 pounds of uranium 235 to be sold or leased under the program is about $1,700,000,000.

Summer Melts Polar Ice

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — The 24-hour sunshine and clear skies near the North Pole have so melted the landing strip on a floating ice island that air force C-47s bringing the weekly mail and fresh food could not land this week.

On the island is a camp in which are nine American scientists and a number of U.S. airmen engaged in research in connection with the International Geophysical Year.

Officials at Ladd Base said the party on the ice island is in no danger and has an abundance of rations.

NWT To Elect Council Aug. 19

OTTAWA (CP) — They're getting ready for another election in the Northwest Territories.

On June 10 territorial voters went to the polls to elect their lone representatives in the federal Parliament. This time—on Aug. 19—they vote to choose men for the four elective seats on the nine-man Northwest Territories Council which administers NWT affairs on the territorial level.

The territorial vote will be confined to the more heavily-populated Mackenzie district — the Western half of the Terrotories — where the four elective seats are situated. The sparsely - settled Eastern Arctic has no elected council representation but the five government - appointed council members speak for it at the council's twice-a-year meetings.

Election plans already are well under way.

Political party names or slogans are seldom if ever heard in a territorial election. By tradition the candidates campaign on, non-partisan grounds, appealing to the electorate on their knowledge of local conditions.

Would Share Knowledge on Clean Bombs

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday that if the United States ever tests another big nuclear bomb he will invite "any country in the world" to be on hand and see for itself that radioactive fallout has been reduced toward the vanishing point.

Eisenhower also told a press conference his scientific advisers favor telling the Russians or anyone else exactly how to make a "clean" bomb once the U. S. proves it knows how.

The president spoke out firmly and with a touch of indignation in grown a bit halfhearted in seeking disarmament agreement with the Russians since U.S. scientists have said a hydrogen bomb completely "clean" of fallout can be developed.

Eisenhower declared his administration will "always" stand by its offer to try for a suspension of nuclear tests—even tough, he said, there would be scientific advantage in continuing to test such weapons.

SUSPENSION SOUGHT

"We are talking, and very hopefully, about some kind of suspension of tests."

"But," he went on, "if ever under any circumstances there is another test made, I am going to invite any country in the world that wants to come and fire its rockets (measuring instruments) in the air and see just exactly how much radio active fallout there is from these bombs, because we are not testing to make bigger bombs, as I have told you before.

"We are trying to make small bombs, clean bombs, and to develop usefullness in a peaceful world, as well as just weapons of war."

DOLLAR UNCHANGED

NEW YORK (CP) — The Canadian dollar was unchanged at a premium of 4 15/16 in terms of U.S. funds; a week ago 5 1/64 per cent premium. The pound sterling was off ⅛ at $2.79⅛.

MONTREAL (CP) — The U.S. dollar closed at a discount of 4 11/16 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, up 1/32. Pound sterling $2.66, unchanged.

HUNGRY COUGAR ATTACKS MAN

SQUAMISH, B.C. (CP) — A hungry cougar attacked a bulldozer operator eight miles north of here Wednesday, tearing his trousers and clawing his leg.

The operator, Chris Wyssen, 26, of Squamish, 40 miles north of Vancouver, was bulldozing a road on the A. C. Finter logging operation.

He said he made a minor repair to his machine and looked up to see five cougars sitting on a log pile behind him.

One of them was only three feet from Wyssen when he jumped up and screamed. The cougar leaped at him, clawing his leg before he could get the bulldozer moving.

Wyssen notified authorities by telephone. A hunting party set out immediately and shot two of the cougars. The other three are being tracked.

Clashes Erupt As Egypt Votes

CAIRO (Reuters)—A number of voters were wounded by gunfire as clashes erupted in several towns during balotting in Egypt's general election, it was announced Wednesday night.

The interior ministry said 80 persons were arrested after a clash at Disna. Shots were fired during fights in Mansoura, Benha and Damanhur in Lower Egypt.

Details of injuries and damage were not given immediately.

The election was the first since parliament was dissolved in 1952.

All the 1241 candidates for 270 seats in the national assembly were chosen by a ministerial committee headed by President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

COMPULSORY VOTE

The dull campaign consisted exclusively of support for Nasser and opposition to the Eisenhower Middle East doctrine.

The election was a festive occasion in the villages with dancing and hand-clapping in the streets. Candidates on camels harangued dancers in a last - minute bid to win their votes.

The interior ministry said the sealed ballot boxes will be opened this morning. Police will keep an all-night watch on the polling stations.

Remove Devil From $1 Bill

OTTAWA (CP) — The "devil" has been taken out of the Queen's hair on the Canadian $1 bill.

The bill, bearing a photograph of Queen Elizabeth approved by her, was put into circulation by the Bank of Canada in 1954.

Some time later, some eagle-eyed persons noticed that some of the royal curls gave the appearance of a sharp-nosed face in the Queen's hair. The face became known as the "devil" in the Queen's hair and there was criticism of the photograph used for the bill.

The same printing quirk has appeared on bills of higher denomination.

New $1 bills now being issued carry the same photograph. But the Queen's hair has been retouched to remove the "devil".

Bank of Canada officials said today the plate for printing the bills had to be altered only slightly. The bills are printed by two Ottawa companies, the Canadian Bank Note Company and the American Bank Note Company.

MELTON MOWBRAY, England (AP)—A man who hates fox-hunting is training two tame fox cubs to outfox the hounds.

When the hunting season opens in the fall, David Campbell says he and his wife will follow the pack in their car. When a fox is sighted they'll release the tame foxes—Simon and Sally—to create a diversion.

Campbell says his cubs will return to the car at a whistle signal. He's not worried about them being caught. At 16 weeks, they already have the speed of greyhounds, he says.

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—A 1500-gallon water tank truck — of all things—was destroyed in a fire.

The truck was sent to the city dump to fight a stubborn blaze and was quickly engulfed in the rapidly spreading flames.

It took five fire companies several hours to bring the fire under control.

BATHURST, N.B. (CP)—Thieves operating in Bathurst over the Dominion Day holiday weekend proved themselves good losers.

The post office was entered Saturday night and a safe stolen. After an unsuccessful attempt to open it the thieves brought it back Sunday night and dumped it on the front doorstep of postmaster Raymond Aubie. Its contents were intact.

The thieves entered the post office by breaking a rear window, but police doubt if they will come back to fix it.

RCMP Traffic Patrols To Be Strengthened

Traffic patrols will be increased "almost immediately" throughout the Nelson subdivision, which includes such centres as Trail, Rossland, Cranbrook, Castlegar, Fernie, Brilliant, Thrums, and points in the Slocan and Crescent Valleys, RCMP Inspector H. E. Bloxham, officer commanding the subdivision, said Wednesday. Exact nature of the increases has not been worked out yet.

This is another effort by police to educate citizens in the way most motor vehicle accidents, which cause expense, injuries and deaths, can be prevented by using common sense and courtesy, and obeying road signs. Another step in this campaign is supplying weekly motor vehicle accident statistics to press and radio. The first report issued Tuesday gave the toll last week for Nelson subdivision as 44 accidents, one death, 12 prosecutions.

Inspector Bloxham and family leave Saturday for Prince Rupert where he will take charge of the RCMP office there. His successor, Inspector E. S. W. Batty, arrived this week from Vancouver.

Boy Injured In Collision Of Car, Truck

A seven-year-old boy, William A. McAfee, was taken to Kootenay Lake General Hospital by Nelson police for observation and treatment of minor cuts Wednesday afternoon after a car in which he was riding, driven by his father, John McAfee of R.R. 1, Nelson, was in collision with a large Expressway Truck Lines of Vancouver truck, driven by Wilson D. Greig of Creston.

No charges had been laid Wednesday night, but police investigations are continuing.

The collision occurred at the junction of Anderson and Front Streets, scene of a number of collisions and near-accidents.

McAfee's car was reported to have been travelling east on Front Street, and Greig's truck west on Anderson Street, when they crashed. The passenger car wound up on the sidewalk pressed against a concrete wall fronting a garden. Damage to the car was extensive.

NINE MONTHS JAIL FOR ASSAULT

Louis Del Puppo jr. was sentenced to nine months in Oakalla by provincial court Stipendiary Magistrate William Evans on Wednesday for assault, causing bodily harm, last month to Pete Postnikoff. Both men live in Nelson. A not guilty plea had been entered when the trial was held Friday, but a guilty verdict was returned and the accused remanded to Wednesday for sentence.

The two are said to have known each other well. On the day of the alleged attack, they apparently picked up a girl and a case of beer and drove near the golf links to consume the beer. Shortly afterward, Del Puppo was alleged to have struck Postnikoff on the head with a beer bottle, causing slight injuries, while Postnikoff was out of the car.

Vernon's Girl Pipers Coming

Mayor Joseph Kary announced Wednesday night that Mayor Frank Becker of Vernon and his 25-girl MacIntosh Tartan Pipe Band will take part in Nelson's 60th anniversary celebrations. The pipers, who draw their name from the famous MacIntosh apple, will arrive Sunday night, returning Tuesday, in special cars. Mr. Becker is a former well-known Nelsonite, son of Mrs. C. Becker, 1418 Vancouver Street.

The girls will put on an entertainment Monday afternoon for patients of Mount St. Francis Infirmary, take part in the jubilee parade later in the day, and also be available for other entertainment in the city.

Band members won awards on a recent trip.

114 Forest Fires To End of June

The Nelson Forest District had 114 fires by June this year compared to 66 a year ago during the same period. Cost of control this year was placed at $21,125, compared with a cost of $8013.

There were 781 in the five forest districts in the province, with cost of control placed at $97,697. A year ago in the same period there had been 1277 fires with cost of control estimated at $253,578.

The number of fires burning at the end of the month, decreased from 35 to 32. There were 28 new fires with 32 extinguished during the week.

FORMER IBEW HEAD STILL WITH COMPANY

SOUTH SLOCAN — J. H. McDougal of Bonnington Falls succeeded R. H. Ridge of South Slocan as the new president of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 999.

Mr. Ridge, past president, succeeded W. Nixon as president of IBEW in 1952 when Mr. Nixon resigned. Mr. Ridge is still employed by the West Kootenay Power and Light Company. Wednesday's paper implied that Mr. Ridge had resigned from the company.

June Permits Show $2 Million In New Construction for Nelson

Vernon Street Decision Awaits Return of Judge

Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson of Vancouver will return to Nelson at the end of this month to clear up civil cases he was unable to finish during the regular Spring Assize sittings last month. Exact date he will be coming was not available Wednesday.

One of the duties of this former Nelson resident will be to give a decision in the action between the Corporation of the City of Nelson and B. C. Affleck and R. R. McCandlish concerning the city's proposal to move the John Houston Memorial and cenotaph from the boulevard of the 400 block Vernon Street in connection with provincial government highway work.

Diefenbaker To Be Invited

Mayor Joseph Kary will invite Canada's new Prime Minister, the Hon. John Diefenbaker, to attend Nelson's diamond jubilee festivities next week.

The suggestion was made at a meeting Wednesday morning of the Nelson Diamond Jubilee and Centennial Celebrations committee by Mrs. John Erb.

A "blitz" campaign to sell tickets for the Friday and Saturday night shows, to feature the Four Knights, Coronet Dancers, Royal Canadian Engineers' Band from Chilliwack, and other entertainers in the Civic Centre will take place Friday and Saturday. On suggestion of Mrs. Erb, it was decided to have dancing after each show. The RCE band will be asked to play.

Need of "sprucing up" the city in preparation for next week's festivities was stressed by Mrs. L. G. Catley, who pointed out some boulevards are in need of care.

Harrison Installs Lewiston Rotarians

H. D. Harrison of Nelson installed officers of the Lewiston, Idaho, Rotary Club Monday night. Since Monday was Canada's birthday, he spoke on Canada, and finished up with an address the hosts had requested on Rotary fellowship. About 80 Lewiston Rotarians and their wives attended.

Other members of the Nelson Rotary Club who made the trip were C. W. R. Harper and V. C. Owen, Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Harper and Mrs. Owen went with their husbands.

She is on her annual provincial tour, coming to this area from the East Kootenay.

Wine Crucible Taken From Church

A wine crucible used for communion services at St. Saviour's Pro-Cathedral was reported missing Wednesday night by the rector, Rev. Canon G. W. Lang.

The crucible is made of glass, has a silver handle, with a cross on top of it, and contained some wine. Police searched the area Wednesday night, but found no trace of it. Canon Lang said he had placed the vessel in the Church earlier, then noticed it missing.

About a year ago, the crucible was reported taken from the Church, and later found in the garbage can behind the Greyhound bus depot. Police said Church doors are always open.

SAILORS TO RESCUE

CHICAGO (AP)— 72-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Rudy Sptaz, stepped too close to the edge of a dockside Tuesday to peer at a Canadian warship. Within minutes sailors off the escort vessel Sault Ste. Marie were in the water at her rescue. The rescuers were not identified.

Hospital Project Boosts Building

Construction authorized by 26 building permits filed at City Hall during June were just $50,000 short of reaching the two million dollar mark. Estimated value was $1,951,075, with $1,872,000 representing the cost of building the new Kootenay Lake General Hospital.

Permit to build the hospital by the Kootenay Hospital Society was filed at City Hall June 25. G. A. Butling, building inspector, signed the permit authorizing the contractors to proceed with construction of the hospital. A. E. Stagg of New Westminster and member of the firm contracting to build the hospital, also signed the permit.

B.C. Telephone Company filed a permit for $3400 to build an addition to the repeater station building at 545 Stanley Street.

Imperial Oil filed a permit for $32,000 to build a service station at 701 Nelson Avenue.

Other permits were to:

G. R. French, 504 Fifth Street, to add a bedroom and den to his home, $3000; Nelson Motors Products, 281 Baker Street, to build a temporary sales office on their used car lot, $2000; the Johnstone estate, to reroof a section of the Johnstone Block, at corner of Josephine Street, $1700; Nelson Junior High School, to reroof the north and south classroom wings of the Nelson Junior High School, $1000.

Dr. W. C. Murphy to place siding on his house at 801 Carbonate Street, $800; The Bank of Montreal, to reshingle the roof of the verandah on the bank manager's residence at 810 Hendryx Street, $600; Inland Natural Gas Co. to partition the mezzanine floor at their offices at 607 Baker Street, $500; Royal Hotel, to erect a neon sign, $500.

Other permits, mostly for alterations, were issued to:

G. McInnes, 407 Kokanee; R. L. Long, 317 Fourth Street; D. Killeen, 806 Hoover Street; Gus Dahlstrom, 201 Nelson Avenue; Columbia Trading Co., Front Street; Selkirk Building, 303 Baker Street; J. P. Walgren, 301 Carbonate Street; A. W. Stephenson, 700 Vernon Street; Sinnerud Truck and Tractor Ltd., 191 Baker Street; H. Zystrom, 153 Baker Street; Mary E. Watson, 620 Victoria Street; J. E. Young, 1316 Josephine Street; Barbara Henrickson, 712 Nelson; H. L. Newell, 315 Victoria Street; K. Yale, 575 Baker Street.

New Funeral Home Started

Construction of the new Nelson Funeral Home and Ambulance Service at Ward and Silica Streets has started. Contractor Laurence Simpson is following plans made by architects William and Fairbank. Owners of the new business are Frank Richardson and Kenneth Rigby of Castlegar.

No estimate of building costs is available as yet, but it is hoped the building will be ready in October. It will be a split-level design with composition blocks. Entire premises, including garage for storing cars, will be under cover.

Plans, which have been approved by city officials, also include building a retaining wall to separate the property from neighboring lots.

The partners intend to provide a 24-hour, seven-day-week ambulance service for the entire Nelson district.

Civil Service Strike To Tie Up Many Provincial Services

Strike preparations in all government services have been launched with announcement that B.C. government employees have voted to strike to back up their demands for a wage increase and a new deal in bargaining procedure.

A strike would cripple government services and offices, Liquor stores would close, provincial courts would have to close, and no marriage, birth or death certificates would be issued. Forest service work would halt.

Provincial ferries, including the Anscomb and Balfour on Kootenay Lake, would stop. Labor conciliation would be crippled and pension and relief cheques would not be issued. Nursing staffs in provincial institutions would be on strike, but would maintain essential services.

BARGAINING ISSUE

Crux of the issue, said an employee spokesman at Nelson, is not one of wages but of establishing of the right to bargain and to set a pattern for bargaining.

The vote by members of the B.C. Employees' Association rejected the government offer of an average wage increase of six per cent and re-establishment of a cabinet-association committee instead of arbitration procedure on wages.

The Nelson spokesman pointed out that all employers are bound by the Labor Act to bargain. Civil servants were asking for less than industrial or other employees. They want a regulated bargaining procedure with an impartial board of arbitration, a larger wage increase with a five-day 40-hour week throughout the service. At present 1500 of the 11,000 employees do not come under the work-week provision.

Under the cabinet-association committee set up by the Coalition government, the chairman of the Civil Service Commission and three cabinet ministers met with the president and vice-president of the employees association and two paid employees. Briefs were presented and argued, then taken by the government representative to a full cabinet meeting. Results were often negative, the spokesman said, and unknown to the association for months.

The Social Credit government dissolved this procedure but is now offering it again, he explained. Employees feel that under this plan, there is a need for a time limit and an appeal board. They want a plan whereby they will not be forced to take a strike vote again, he said.

TEACHERS AND THEIR WIVES from Coast points have been guests of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company on a tour of company operations. One Vancouver teacher described his visit to West Kootenay as "the highlight of my 30-year teaching career." Winding up the week, the party went to Riondel to see the Bluebell Mine. For this picture, they paused at tall East tower shouldering two-mile span across Kootenay Lake of the South Slocan to Kimberley power transmission line, while Cominco publicity supervisor James Cameron related historical data.

Still No Sight Of Missing Plane

VANCOUVER (CP) — Five RCAF planes searched Southern British Columbia in vain Wednesday morning for a light aircraft missing since Monday with two men aboard.

An air force spokesman said the weather is "improving slightly" and more planes might be sent up after two of the search aircraft returned to Sea Island air base for refuelling.

Object of the search is a Taylorcraft plane in which John E. Matser, 21, of Nelson, and Steve Antifaev of Grand Forks were flying from Langley airport to Penticton.

The search is centred in the area between Hope and Ross Lake, near the international boundary.

Raspberry Crop Beginning to Move

CRESTON— The raspberry crop is beginning to be harvested in the Creston Valley, with the promise of a good crop.

Strawberry harvesting is still in full swing with a carload leaving every night and two on Sunday. Gooseberries have been in good demand and black and red currants will soon be available.

Trail to Attack Unsightly Areas

TRAIL—Council will introduce a bylaw to relieve unsightly areas. Advice was received from the city solicitor concerning unsightly areas with the city Monday night and council may enact a bylaw for the removal of accumulated filth, discarded material or rubbish of any kind.

Following a petition from the local merchants a bylaw will be proposed to designate Monday afternoon as a half holiday to replace Wednesday afternoon. As preparation of the bylaw and three readings are necessary, this legislation may require a few weeks to enact.

Athalmer Fair Grounds Sold

INVERMERE — The Fall Fair grounds at Athalmer were purchased recently by Simon Ronacher and Sons Limited, lumber operators at Athalmer.

District fall fairs have been held there for 30 years. This year the annual East Kootenay Agricultural and Industrial Exhibition will be held at the new David Thompson Memorial Park.

The Athalmer site was donated for community purposes by the late R. Randolph Bruce in trust of the Windermere District Farmers' Institute. Proceeds of the sale are divided between the Farmers' Institute and the East Kootenay Agricultural and Industrial Exhibition Association.

Gov't Employees Appoint Delegate

NEW DENVER — New Denver branch of the B.C. Government Employees' Association, at its second quarterly meeting here, named William Craft, president, as delegate to the zone meeting to be held at Cranbrook July 13.

The supper meeting was attended by members from as far as Kaslo and Needles. Four new members, L. Muto and Edward Readshaw of New Denver, Victor Skalk of Nakusp and Alfred Roberts of Arrow Park were welcomed.

Cranbrook's 1958 Project Still Undecided

CRANBROOK — The Cranbrook committee arranging the city's part July 1 to 4 of 1958 to mark the province's centenary has failed to reach any conclusion concerning the subsidized project it will undertake as a permanent mark of the event. Chairman W. A. Burton is securing further information as to project terms before the matter is put to a vote and no date has been set for this meeting.

The project named will be eligible for $3652.80 in a grant from the B.C. committee when it is approved, on the basis of 60 cents per capita of population. Basic terms require that the project be realized in 1958, that at least the amount of the grant must be raised locally, the project must be appropriate to the occasion, and of significance to the community.

THREE SUGGESTIONS

The three projects discussed at a recent meeting were a cultural centre for creative arts and crafts, a band shell for one of the city's parks, and a section of the Dr. F. W. Green Memorial Home. Cost estimates and methods of raising the local amount for the first two proposals were indefinite. Voting by the committee was postponed until details of all three projects are prepared.

When the recommendation is made by the Cranbrook centennial committee it requires only approval of the City Council before submission for approval to the provincial committee. City Council's ruling on the matter is limited to approval or veto of the local committee recommendation.

Farmers' Mart Opens at Creston

CRESTON — A new feature for Saturday shoppers is opening of the first Farmer's Market in the Civic Centre here.

Only three farmers have availed themselves of the opportunity for tables at the market, but they were sold out in 35 minutes from opening of the doors. Those taking part were well pleased with the buyer response to such a market.

With so many varieties of farm produce, it is hoped that berries, cherries, dairy products of all kinds, fowl, etc., will be offered on the next market day.

Trail Preparing Brochure on City

TRAIL — City Council received advice from the Trail Chamber of Commerce Monday night that progress was being made on a proposed brochure. It will contain information in respect to sites, availability of water, power services, etc. It will be given out, when completed, to those interested.

Mayor L. A. Read said he would like to see all council members at the opening of Nelson jubilee celebrations. A float is to be entered by the City of Trail.

Council will attend a class of the artificial respiration program being sponsored through the summer by the St. John Ambulance Association.

A FAST-MOVING TEAM from Coleman, Alta., colliery captured the Cominco Shield in annual hose reel competition held in Kimberley with timing of 12 seconds. Eleven teams representing Kinnaird, Whitefish, Mont., Blairmore, Alta., Coleman, Fernie, Cranbrook and Kimberley entered the competition. The B.C. Fire Marshal trophy was won by Kimberley fire department in 23.1 seconds. Not all competing teams were able to make a perfect coupling. The event was poorly attended by the public although it was a fine day.

Mrs. Thomas arrived home recently from Kootenay Lake General Hospital with their second set of twins, Fern and Harlan, born June 18.

The Tomases also have twin sons, Richard and Raymond, who will be six in September, and three other children, Linda, 8, Cathy, 4, and Brian, 3.

Miss Westbury Becomes M.B.E.

GRAY CREEK — Miss Patience Westbury, who was born in Nelson and grew up in this area, has been made a Member of the British Empire.

The honor, conferred upon Miss Westbury recently by Queen Elizabeth in Buckingham Palace, is in recognition of her work in the Royal Air Force for many years as a flight officer.

Miss Westbury is the daughter of B. S. Westbury, one of the early settlers at Crawford Bay and Gray Creek. She has spent most of her life in England, but visited here for the summer months five years ago.

Simple Worries are Best

We have been so much exposed to mass hysteria of late that it is a relief to find one atomic scientist who can stand up and say, what many skeptical people have felt, that the hydrogen bomb tests will not seriously affect the well being of human beings.

Most people cannot understand much about "fallout" or its effects on the human body, but they can understand the simple illustration given by Canada's top atomic scientist, Dr. A. H. Zimmerman, when he says that all the estimated fallout from bombs exploded every year at the present rate would only be equivalent to the difference in radiation received by moving from a wooden house to a brick one.

A great deal of the mass hysteria was built upon the fear that the human race would produce monsters. Looking back through history, it seems that we have produced quite a few like Gengis Khan and Hitler whose bodily defects were few but whose moral attributes were worse than monstrous. It is doubtful if atomic fallout could

But if changes can take place it is

But if chances can take place it is possible that they may be for the good and that the earth will become peopled with a vastly better species of human who will not delight in war and will pursue the ways of peace in harmony with others.

It is quite possible that we like to be scared and that the flimsiest excuse will serve. A new flu virus appeared in Asia. It does not seem to be a deadly variety, but we have been told in accents laden with alarm that it will inevitably spread to one Western Hemisphere. There is no antidote and we are invited to invest ourselves with a mantle of fear.

To use a long outdated but still apposite catch word, "We should worry." Karachi, we are told has 20,000 victims of it, but that city has a population of 300,000 and even to the non arithmetical mind that does not seem too great a proportion.

Fortunately summer is here and we shall be able to decend from the heights to lesser worries. Will it be fine when we get our holidays? Shall we have enough money? Can we get the accommodation we require? Will the car hold all the impedimentia of a family? The list, if not infinite is sufficient, and if we must consider plagues, will the ants eat our sugar this year and will the mosquitoes be as bad as last year?

Man can become habituated to fear, but never to worries, and if he must worry his own peculiar simple ones are best.

Invites Investigation Of Canada's Pension Plan

To the Editor:

Sir—Thanks for your editorial and letter to you by Mr. W. S. Crawford re problems of senior citizens and why so many of them failed to turn out and vote on June 10 last, when such a large portion of electors across Canada failed to vote. Why, is the question to be answered and as an explanation for the political mess at Ottawa today at an international climax for Canada. A country whose representatives have had to match wits against wits and devise ways and means towards maintaining efforts towards world-wide peace among humans while striving for profits from war and economic competition as a means of profit, while our scientists of many types are making wonderful progress along lines of research and warning all of us what we are inviting the laws of nature to do to and for humanity unless we abandon nuclear tests. These certainly mean destruction of life upon this earth and an eventual splitting up the remainder of this little ball of matter from which the moon departed a few million years ago and another planet ahead of it. "Bunk" to it!

What is Webster's definition of the word "pension?" Look it up.

What did Canada's Civil Service do by way of rules and regulations and deferred payments under the original Old Age Pensions Act and cause committees of Senate and House of Commons to investigate in 1950 and cause Old Age Securities Act of today to become effective?

Why will not Bureau of Statistics at Ottawa provide data upon the number of deferred payments and aggregates for each province re same? Investigation is invited and challenged by one victim who, as one of a group of 15, including a medical doctor, spent over two years efforts to get an illiterate of 84 years of age and resident in East Kootenay since 1910, now 91 years of age and a naturalized Canadian, highly respected, his pension?

Civil Service rules and regulations were the cause. They are not legislators. Conditions are much better today but a pension payment is not a loan or a debt recoverable by government from estates of pensioners to detriment of their heirs as is being practiced again since 1953 in B.C. though abandoned in 1950. Why?

Investigation and suitable action is invited by all who want to see senior citizens and/or physically handicapped people protected against steadily-rising costs of living.

Co-ordinated co-operation for social progress is invited and will be supported substantially.

J. F. HUCHCROFT

Box 67, Crawford Bay.

PICKING CABINET

There is much to be said for the theory that cabinet-makers should select the best material available, regardless of geographic considerations.

"The time has come, I think, when we must choose men for their qualifications rather than for their locality," wrote Sir John A. Macdonald in 1888.

But Macdonald discovered that, in hard practice, Canada was not ready for any such innovation. And the day when these old traditions may be ignored with impunity has not arrived even yet.—Montreal Gazette.

When Men Were Men

In these warmish days the news columns are naturally heavy with statistics of this record and that either broken or compared with a hundred years ago. But heat is a relative thing, to be measured not so much by thermometers as by human tolerance. And we are beset by disturbing doubts about the prowess of our own times. In 1957, we speak of ninety degrees as a condition to be escaped — via travel, refrigeration, air conditioning, or light, loose, airy clothes.

In 1857 those amenities were not on hand (might indeed have been scorned in any case on the grounds of morality and spiritual rectitude). Grandma was not impressed with ninety degrees when her kitchen with its range closer to 130; and when bound for social events she was a walking fortress of whalebone and canvas stays, buttoned to the chin. Grandpa, for the ardors of summer, similarly did penance in long woollen underwear, heavy starched shirt, cut-throat collar, ankle shoes, suit of stout serge or tweed which included vest buttoned up to just below the Adam's apple. Yet we scan in vain the journals of those times for public wailing over the heat.

So what has happened? They knew, as we know, that the body with its wondrous complex of thermostats keeps its own temperature fairly stable, come scorcher or zero. Have we less rectitude than of yore? Do we repudiate physical discomfort as a proof of moral strength? Or are we, by any chance, not quite up to the snuff of our ancestors?

—Globe and Mail.

Men's Fashion

If what we hear from Paris is true, what designers do to women's fashions is mild compared with what French tailors want to do with men's suits. They have decided there ought to be a colorful "new look" for men; red suits, blazer-striped pants and toast satin dinner jackets. Five tailors combined to offer their ideas for the well-dressed male. For summer, one tailor suggested red gabardine slacks with a red and brown checked homespun jacket. A red pork pie hat goes with it.

But you haven't heard anything yet. Another suggestion is matching pants for the bright striped blazer. A royal-blue and black striped blazer has been shown with matching pants. Trousers on most of the suits shown were cut stovepipe fashion, very skinny and without cuffs. Vests were shown with halternecks like those on dress suit vests and daytime vests were limited to natural-colored linen, while evening vests were in brilliant silk. Seemingly, a man will look like a matador.

Recommended for the fashionable male as a dinner suit is beige or pale toast brown, preferably satin or satin and wool. These suits are one-button models and are shown with ribbon ties, tied poet-bow fashion. If these fashions should come over here, what's your pleasure, gentlemen?

ON UNION ETHICS

Appointment of Windsor magistrate J. Arthur Hanrahan as the seventh member of the United Automobile Workers' newly created public review board, sets in motion an important experiment in trade union history. If the board maintains a genuine scrutiny of union ethics and practices instead of acting as a rubber stamp for the administration, it will demonstrate to other large unions one method of keeping out of the morass in which Dave Beck's Teamsters find themselves in the United States.

Review board members—judging from their calibre—would balk at being used as window dressing by U.A.W. leaders. Magistrate Hanrahan has been an outspoken foe of corruption in his own city and has years of service as a fair-minded conciliator of labor disputes. The six U.S. members have outstanding records in lay and religious fields.—Toronto Star.

TOUCH OF THE STICK

A touch of the nightstick might prove a fast and permanent way to break up hoodlum packs causing violence and public nuisance.

Hard-boiled preventive police action now might prove kinder in the long run. Eventually there is going to be serious injury and perhaps death unless young toughs are shown right now that the law is stronger than they are. And many of them are headed for jails and criminal records unless they're tamed now.

A few trained uniformed men carrying 18-inch batons could quickly rid Granville Street of the vicious young idlers who intimidate, insult and sometimes attack citizens.—Vancouver Sun.

TODAY'S BIBLE THOUGHT

These words which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart. Deut. 6:6.

God was not satisfied to give His Word only in a learned book. He placed it in our hearts also. But we must listen and heed. The Bible vastly helps us to understand God's Word.

Moscow Switches Indicate Change In Russ Politics

By DON DALLAS

LONDON (Reuters)—The Moscow report that four members of the policy-making Presidium of the Soviet Communist party are to lose their posts represents the biggest top-level switch in Russian politics since Stalin died.

Of the four leaders named in the Moscow report, three were closely associated with Stalin.

Vyacheslav Molotov and Lazar Kaganovich were right-hand men of Stalin from the early years of the revolution.

Both are "old Bolsheviks"—which means they had considerable experience in the underground movement in Russia before the 1917 revolution.

GROOMED FOR TOP

George Malenkov was a right-hand man of Stalin from the 1930's within the strategic Communist party secretariat. Stalin groomed him for a top-level post.

Dmitri Shepilov, a former editor of Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, and a leading propagandist, was foreign minister for eight months from June, 1956, to early this year.

He was replaced as foreign minister by Andrei Gromyko and returned to his previous duties as a member of the party secretariat.

Shepilov was generally regarded as being a protege of party leader Nikita Khrushchev. He recently has had a supervising post in the realm of "culture" and has laid down the party law for artists and writers.

HARD CORE UNCHANGED

The "hard core" of the party Presidium—the present name for the old politburo of Stalin's days—has remained almost unchanged since Stalin died.

The one major change occurred with the execution of former secret police chief Lavrenty P. Beria in December, 1953. He had been arrested and charged with treason the previous summer.

Molotov and Kaganovich were even older politburo members than Beria.

Soviet affairs observers in the West said the Moscow report came as a big surprise.

It was only with the publication of a major editorial in Pravda Wed., warning even topmost members of the party they must abide fully by party decisions, that there was any hint any major changes might be afoot.

Kaganovich's position has been obscure, but as a first deputy premier, like Molotov, he held an important back - stage directing position.

POLICY CHANGE LIKELY

Changes of key personnel at the top have in the past normally been accompanied by policy changes.

There will be immediate speculation as to whether the changes are in any way due to the publication, on June 20, of the text of the speech by Mao Tse-tung, supreme leader of Communist Chinese.

This was the speech in which Mao put forth the slogan, 'Let 100 flowers blossom, let 100 schools of thought contend."

EIGHT OTHER MEMBERS

The remaining members of the Presidium are:

Marshal Klementi Voroshilov, president of the U.S.S.R.

Marshal Nikolai Bulganin, premier.

Nikita Khrushchev, first party secretary.

Anastas Mikoyan, first deputy premier.

Maxim S. Saburov, first deputy premier and chairman of the current planning committee.

Mikhail G. Pervukhin, first deputy premier.

Aleksei Kirichenko, secretary of the Ukrainian Communist party.

Mikhail Suslov, a secretary of the central committee of the party.

Your Individual HOROSCOPE

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes, and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Thursday, July 4, 1957

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries)—There is always a way if you seek it hard enough and maintain faith. Consistent, intelligent effort counts. Study, analyze first. Keep smiling.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—If your day starts uninterestingly, buoy it up with your natural enthusiasm. And when you have the opportunity, take needed rest and recreation for the sake of your health.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)—Smart management and association with the right persons can help you to achieve the unusual now. Don't fret if returns are not immediate, however; your good and steady efforts will eventually show fine gains.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)—There is only one way to do a thing, and that is the RIGHT way. However, in some fields of activity there can be more than one right way, so seek it. Some methods fit certain people better than others. Be discerning.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo)—Consistent effort and cooperation needed now. Give credit where it is due and, without haste, attend to essentials promptly and systematically.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Throw the weight of your knowledge and talents behind duties, all worthwhile activities. You can direct, influence others, so be careful in thought, plan and action. Maintain optimism, too.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Step lively; be alert to advantages. Concern yourself with happenings around you. Happiness spreads quickly; foster it.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — The outlook is encouraging and you should find it easy to handle your duties without strain. Be as consistent as possible and don't force your opinions on others.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Stellar influences are somewhat mixed now, so be cautious. Sidestep irritability; it will increase tension. Have faith; use your innate common sense.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Don't waste any time during this good period. Time wasted will have unpleasant repercussions later. Don't "step on anyone's toes" as you drive forward, either. Be serene.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Hurry and strain are likely tempters today; be ready to quash them effectively, relentlessly. Quiet confidence and ease of manner important.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Use proper restraint in all things, and be systematic — without discarding originality or inventiveness. Consider how best to approach new people, new matters; but don't fret or fear. Confidence!

YOU BORN TODAY are inclined to be restless and changeable in disposition, but you are loyal, honest in intent and very capable. Correct any tendency to needless argument. You love home and family ties; are retrospetcive, can recount incidents delightfully; are usually conservative. Guard against being stubborn or oversensitive. Try to be philosophical. Emphasize your sympathetic nature. Birthdate of: Nathaniel Hawthorne, American author; Calvin Coolidge, 30th U.S. President.

Young Stamp Collector Heads Post Office Dept.

By BERNARD DUFRESNE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — William McLean Hamilton, who collected stamps in his boyhood, now runs the country's biggest stamp business—the post office department.

But the new postmaster-general, at 38 the youngest member of the Progressive Conservative cabinet, hasn't much time during these days of post-election change to do any stamp collecting.

Bill Hamilton is too busy getting to know his department, an organization of 50,000 employees and 2,000 post offices across Canada.

Next to the defence department it is the government's biggest department, but not one that involves major government policy-making except in its own service.

CONTRACTS SAID SAFE

Those close to Mr. Hamilton say existing postal contracts will be honored until they expire or until it can be shown by independent investigating bodies that contractors are not giving good service. At renewal time the contracts would go to whoever submits the lowest tender.

Mr. Hamilton's role as opposition critic of the department in the last Parliament has given him considerable background knowledge of the operation he now heads. He has made many proposals on postal operations, including resumption of twice daily mail delivery in cities.

His early insistence on that point was tempered in the last year or so, when he suggested it might be implemented on the basis of five-days-a-week deliveries with little extra expense.

TO VISIT OFFICES

He plans a series of visits to post offices in big and small centres to talk with postal workers and the public.

"Before there are any changes I want to know what the staff and public think," the former Montreal advertising executive said in an interview.

He said he has "no desire to operate the department at a deficit but I also have no great desire to use it as a great profit-making operation for the government."

For a number of years under Liberal administration the department has operated with a slight profit.

FAVORS NEWER DESIGNS

Concerning stamp designs—and he has had some bitter things to say about some recent ones—Mr. Hamilton said he wants designs in which Canadian users will take pride, but he also wants designs able to hold their own with new trends.

Bill Hamilton had a varied career before entering federal politics as Conservative MP for Montreal Notre-Dame-de-Grace in 1953. It must be measured against a long struggle and medical treatment to overcome a severe physical hardicap so that he might walk.

He has been a professional photographer; a printing and advertising salesman; manager of a Nassau, Bahamas, hotel for RAF ferry pilots during the Second World War; an official of the wartime prices and trade board in Montreal; a paper wholesaler; and an advertising executive.

Red China Thinks Dulles Daydreams

HONG KONG (AP)—Red China said today State Secretary Dulles of the United States is daydreaming if he believes a handful of "rightists" can overthrow Communist rule.

"Now that a tiny group of bourgeois rightists in China have flung mud at the Communist party and socialism, Dulles could not restrain his joy and drew the conclusion that Socialist China is a 'passing and not a perpetual phase,'" the official Peiping Peoples Daily said.

The editorial, carried by Peiping Radio, attacked Dulles' China policy speech of Friday.

Business, Labor Must Fight Inflation — Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Wed. business and labor will have to help hold the line against inflation because the government alone cannot keep a stable economy.

Asked at a press conference about the effect of a recent steel price increase of $6 a ton, Eisenhower said he doesn't know the exact details of why this price increase was ordered and doesn't want to pass final judgment on the action.

But he said he stands firmly on the idea that the government alone cannot keep a stable economy.

The alternative, he said, to business and labor co-operation is government controls in time of peace. He said that if these controls come that means the beginning of the end.

Warn Russians To Toe Line

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Pravda Wednesday warns every member of the Communist party to toe the party line "no matter what post he occupies."

The unsigned editorial in the party's official newspaper says that "both the leaders and the rank and file" must comply with all party decisions to ensure Communist unity.

It condemns all party members who opposed decisions of the 20th party congress in February, 1956. This was the congress in which party chief Nikita Khrushchev made his famed condemnation of Stalinist methods.

(Pravda's editorial on party unity followed publication last week of Chinese Communist leader Mao Tze-tung's declaration: "Let 100 flowers blossom and 100 schools of thought contend.")

St. Bruno Que.; Robert A. Gil- ing unity of the party ranks constitutes undeniable proof that the political and organizational leadership of the central committee party is on the right level, that the party is correctly solving problems of party and state construction and skilfully leading the country along Lenin's path.

"This does not, however, mean that one can slacken the effort for the further strengthening of party unity."

Police Curb Lover's Wooing

BIRMINGHAM, England (Reuters)—Richard Compton, 25, said today he will give up his attempts to woo a pretty bank cashier since police regard his wooing technique as a disturbance of the peace.

The technique, police said, involved:

1. Playing an accordian in a black-face act on the sidewalk outside the bank.

2. Putting on dark glasses as a blind musician and singing Neapolitan love songs on the same sidewalk.

3. Rushing into the bank in tennis shorts and turning somersaults in front of the astonished staff.

The object of his affection—"I rather fancied her," he told a policeman—was cashier Ruth Waterhouse, 22. Police said she "did not want to know Mr. Compton."

Police arrested Compton under a 14th-century law as a "blemisher of the peace." The judge decided today the peace had been blemished and ordered Compton to pay a £25 bond against his good behavior for the next 12 months.

"It is all finished," he said. "Perhaps it was just a bit of poison that had to come out."

Jaycees Elect New President

OTTAWA (CP) — Douglas A. Fisher, 31, of Aurora, Ont., today was elected president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. He succeeds retiring president G. L. (Flip) Filippelli of Ottawa.

The new president, a native of Estevan, Sask. is communications and training director for Consumer's Gas Company at Toronto.

Vice-presidents elected at the annual Jaycee convention here were Charles Blais, 35, Quebec City; Jean Louis Cousineau, 34, St. Bruno, Que.; Robert A gilmour, 31, Ottawa; M. Donald Harlow, 35, Woodstock, N.B.; Elton Dewey Harwood, 30, Burnaby, B.C.; Wilbur Alexander Lichty, 31, Elmira, Ont.; Jack A. O'Rourke, 36, Chatham, Ont.; and Douglas A. Wight, 27, Calgary.

MR. AND MRS. HERBERT WILLIAM CHALUCK

Wedding In Germany Of Nelson Interest

A wedding of interest to Nelson and district took place in the Roman Catholic chapel in Zweibrucken, Germany, uniting in marriage Ilse Margarete Gunther, eldest daughter of Mrs. Gunther and the late Mr. Gunther of Zweibrucken, and Herbert William Chaluck, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Chaluck of Nelson.

The chapel was prettily decorated for the double-ring ceremony at which Rev. Fredrickson, RCAF chaplain, officiated.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Jack Pickford, the bride chose for her wedding a white satin ballerina frock and chapel veil. As her only ornaments she wore a rhinestone necklace and matching earrings, a gift from the groom. She carried a shower bouquet of pink and white carnations tied with white ribbons.

The bridal attendant, Mrs. Pickford, wore a white ballerina dress decorated with pink flowers. She also wore a white feathered hat.

Best man was the groom's brother, Mr. Ronald Allan Chaluck of Nelson, who flew from Helsingfors, Finland, where he is visiting relatives.

A reception was held in the bride's home. Toast to the bridal couple was given by Mrs. James Maso of Cranbrook. Telegrams were sent from Canada and Finland and were read by the groom's brother.

The couple left to spend a few days touring in Heidelberg.

AMONG WEDDING ceremonies of the current season was that held in Bethel Tabernacle for the former Ivah Dolores Stenberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Stenberg and Walter Stahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stahl of Sardis, B.C. They will live in Vancouver.—Renwick photo.

Affliction Puts Victims Asleep

By Dr. H. N. Bundesen

While most of us have been bothered by our inability to sleep from time to time, some unfortunate persons have exactly the opposite problem. Instead of insomnia, they have narcolepsy.

Narcolepsy — you've probably never heard the word before — is a condition of involuntary sleep. Victims have sudden attacks of extreme and irresistible sleepiness. Often without warning, they abruptly fall asleep for periods ranging from less than a minute to two hours.

Just about everyone, I suppose, has fallen asleep while sitting in a chair, riding in a bus or train, or at other inappropriate times and places. Generally, you fall asleep suddenly because you are tired.

In narcolepsy, however, weariness has nothing to do with the patient's inability to remain awake. The sleep itself appears to be a normal physiological sleep; it's the paroxysmal and inappropriate occurrence that is abnormal.

STARTS EARLY

Most cases originate about the time of puberty or just after it, with about half of them beginning

Mr. and Mrs. N. R. German and Most victims — 70 to 80 per cent— are males.

It's fairly easy for a doctor to diagnose a case of narcolepsy, although discovery of the cause sometimes is impossible. Sometimes it occurs following encephalitis, head injury, or with a tumor, multiple sclerosis, cerebral arteriosclerosis, diabetes, hyperinsulinism or syphilis of the central nervous system. With some patients, there is a family history of epilepsy.

Some persons with personality disorders also suffer from this uncontrolled sleep. It may be that it is a neurotic defense against anxiety. Perhaps it is a means of unconscious or even conscious escape from problems.

At any rate, most victims of narcolepsy need both physiologic and psychologic help.

We have several drugs available to alleviate these attacks, but probably the two used most are benzedrine sulfate and ephedrine sulfate. Initial doses of any drug must be planned carefully because in most cases treatment is carried out over a long period of time. Psychologic treatment generally is helpful also in preventing any anxiety states from developing.

Salmon Arm Writer Gains Mention

CALGARY (CP) — The Canadian Women's Press Club announced Tuesday the names of the winners in the 1956-57 memorial award competition, which distributes $1000 in prize money.

The award for the best news story of the year ended March 15, 1957, went to Phyllis Griffith of Toronto for a story in the Toronto Telegram. Alixe Carter of Salmon Arm, won honorable mention with a story in the Kamloops Sentinel.

Lady Brooke To Write About Headhunting

MONTREAL (CP) — Borneo headhunters, says Lady Sylvia Brooke of Sarawak, are perfectly darling. They have such a sense of humor.

Lady Brooke, 73, wife of the last white rajah of Sarawak, made the remarks as she left by plane Tuesday for Barbados, where she intends to settle and write short stories about headhunting and free love in Sarawak.

Her husband, Sir Charles Vyner Brooke, ceded Sarawak to Great Britain in 1945, ending a 105-year rule by the Brooke family that began when the Sultan of Brunei gave the territory to Sir James Brooke for quelling a headhunter attack.

The 50,000-square mile territory has a population of 500,000. Sir Charles Brooke succeeded to a great extent in curbing head hunting, but "when the Japanese came during the Second World War we had to encourage the natives to begin again," Lady Brooke said.

"They're peaceful, really, and with a huge sense of humor," she said.

"Headhunting with them is religion. The more heads they hunt the higher the place they believe they will get in heaven. And they have to have so many heads before they can get married."

Redheads were the hunters' favorites, because the orangutang, the Borneo native's most bitter natural enemy, has reddish hair on his chest.

They were no enemy to Lady Brooke, who raised two of them, called Gin and Bitters.

Lady Sylvia said she will call her collection of short stories Shameless Island. It will spotlight the "free love" which is characteristic of Sarawak, she said.

Her husband, now 83, is in London.

NOT FIGHTING FOR U.S. — CRUMP

VANCOUVER (CP) — President Norris R. Crump of the Canadian Pacific Railway says his railroad is no "bell cow" for United States railroads.

Interviewed here Tuesday, Mr. Crump was asked about the line's dispute with the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen over use of firemen on diesel locomotives. Major railroads in Canada and the U.S. proposed last year to banish firemen from diesels, but all except the CPR backed down.

Asked if the CPR had been deliberately chosen for a test fight, Mr. Crump said: "I wasn't fighting any fight for the U.S. railroads. Let them look after themselves.

"They'll stick behind the CPR right down to the CPR's last dollar."

Mr. Crump said he thinks it proper for the royal commission studying rail operations to go to Europe this summer.

"Here we're fighting to reduce our locomotive crews from three men to two," he said. "There, they are moving toward cutting them down from two to one."

Just returned from Canadian Pacific Airlines' inaugural Mexico-Portugal run, Mr. Crump was on his way to Calgary to open the stampede.

Harrop Group Making Rugs

HARROP — Rug making is progressing, the arts and crafts group reported at the July meeting of the Harrop and District Women's Institute.

Members repied to a roll call of "sing, say or do." All responded and no fines were collected.

Plans for the September bazaar were discussed.

Members were reminded of the July 17 basket picnic at Nelson's Lakeside Park, where members from across the border will be met and entertained.

The sum of $8 was voted to be sent for the delegate's expenses to the national WI Conference at Ottawa.

Judges for the children's school books were chosen, and the prizes were bought. It was announced that since Easter all pupils had new books, and great care was being taken to keep them neat and clean for the contest. Calico toys stuffed with nylons were completed, material for aprons was distributed.

WI meetings will be discontinued during July and August.

Innocent Divorcees Invites Approved

LONDON (Reuters) — Guilty parties in divorce cases are not welcome for official functions in the Queen's royal homes, the lord chamberlain's office said today.

The statement sought to clear up any misunderstandings about whether divorced people could attend royal functions.

A spokesman for the lord chamberlain said that the royal yacht Britannia falls within the category of a royal home. The other royal homes are Buckingham Palace, Windsor Castle, Sandringham and Balmoral.

Innocent parties in divorces can be invited to these homes, the spokesman said. Outside the homes the rules "may not necessarily apply."

He added: "It is entirely at the discretion of the hosts or organizers of outside functions which the Queen is attending whether guilty parties in divorces are invited."

Two newspapers in the Channel Island of Guernsey reported earlier that no divorcees would be invited aboard the Britannia during the three-day visit there of the Queen and Prince Philip late this month.

Hold Inquiry Into Police Conduct At Peterborough

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (CP)—The royal commission inquiry into the efficiency of the Peterborough police department and the conduct of Deputy Chief William A. (Bud) Clarke has heard charges of unrestrained bootlegging in the city.

Alderman Mrs. Bernice Grahame testified Tuesday that some bootleggers had operated in the city for years without police interference. She told Mr. Justice F. G. McKay of the Ontario Supreme Court she could not name any.

Alderman Grahame, Alderman Stanley McBride and Mayor John A. Dewart testified many citizens had complained about the force to members of city council.

Mr. McBride said the department had no espirt de corps and had been referred to as "that bunch of clowns."

The investigation was ordered last month by Attorney - General Roberts of Ontario at the request of the police commission and of city council which said in a brief that a number of experienced policemen had resigned and that there were at least 30 unsolved cases during the last three years.

Mayor Dewart testified he had opposed the appointment of Clarke as well as that of the present chief, John Naples, last year because leadership from outside the city was needed.

M-RA Members Visit Niagara

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—A touring delegation of Moral Re-Armament adherents was welcomed here Tuesday by Travel Minister Cathcart of Ontario.

Numbering 160 and representing eight nations, the group was returning to the Moral Re - Armament assembly of nations at Mackinac Island, Mich., after visiting Detroit, Washington and New York.

Tsuyoshi Suzuki, one of two Japanese senators among the tourists, said his group would return to Japan from Mackinac Island "very, very sorry for the wrongs Japan has committed in the past" and "determined to prevent recurrences."

Savitri Nigam a member of India's Parliament said MRA is the only thing that holds a vision of the future for India.

The group included delegates from India, the Philippines Australia, Switzerland, The Netherlands, the United Kingdom and the United States.

India Rejects Russ Proposal

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru of India said Wed. India rejects a Russian proposal that his country should be given a voice in current East-West negotiations for a disarmament pact.

Nehru said in a recorded interview with Columbia Broadcasting System that too many nations are already involved in the talks. The network did not give any excerpts from Nehru's statement.

Russia repeated an old demand Tuesday that an Indian representative be allowed to join the deliberations of the five - power subcommittee of the United Nations disarmament commission which has been seeking to slow down the East-West arms race.

Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin, quoted by Moscow Radio, told the group:

"As the Prime Minister Nehru is now in London, to hear the views of the Indian representative would be most fitting and feasible at the present moment."

The U.S., Britain, France and Canada have resisted the idea that any nation should be allowed to participate in the private exchanges of the group.

Atomic Chief Dies In U.K.

OXFORD, England (AP)—Lord Cherwell, Britain's first atomic chief, died here Tuesday night. He was 71.

During the Second World War he was personal assistant to Sir Winston Churchill and gave advice on many scientific matters.

Cherwell was taken ill in his room at Christchurch College and died soon afterwards.

Cherwell was connected most of his life with this university city, where he was formerly professor of experimental philosophy. Formerly Frederick Alexander Lindemann, he was created a viscount last year.

WARTIME DEVELOPMENTS

During the First World War his aerodynamic experiments perfected a way of bringing a plane out of a spin, until then the cause of many deaths among war pilots.

He developed the balloon barrage during the Second World War and within days of the introduction of the Nazi magnetic mine, he was ready with countermeasures.

Cherwell was often described as the "mystery man" among Churchill's associates. But this air of mystery was created largely by Cherwell himself. His silent, rather forbidding, exterior discouraged any personal chatter about himself.

At Oxford he was described as "old man river," because he did not say much.

SPORTS

The SHORT CIRCUIT

By JOHN SHORT
Sports Editor

If you wake up sometime during the next few days —and there is a better than even chance that you will— don't be surprised. The sunlight peeping through your windows is real stuff, mined somewhere above the clouds.

Similarly, the blue skies should not occasion surprise. They, too, become the rule rather than the exception at this time of year. This, you are no doubt aware, is the time of year when men, women, children, dogs and cats (not to mention curlers) take leave temporarily of their senses and participate in what is fondly called the "roaring" game.

There is slight object at this time in making reference to what sounds are made by certain wives while their husbands are partaking of the opportunity to throw rocks. It has been said, however, that wives once in a while do a little "roaring" of their own.

Curling is a wonderful game. No other game has yet been invented — unless it be golf—that so commands the respect and devotion of its participants. Curlers are a breed apart, albeit a wonderful breed.

Starting at almost any time, the onslaught of curlers for the annual Nelson Midsummer Bonspiel will begin. By the time the roaring has stopped and the last rock has bounced off the hacks, "the bonspiel" will have proven for the upteenth time that it is Nelson's sole sporting salvation in the warm days of early July.

This is the time of year when everyone connected with the bonspiel carries with him a perpetual supply of worry .Will this be all right?; Would it be more effective if we did this that way?; Will they come back again?

Those questions and others like them have been popping up with increasing frequency ever since preparations started in earnest for the 1957 bonspiel. They will pop up again in the next few days, and answers will be devised where before there were none.

Nelson's Midsummer Bonspiel did more than any other single athletic event—with the possible exception of Penticton V's winning the World Hockey championship — to indoctrinate the "outside" world into the glories of the interior of British Columbia. Each year, the men who govern the fortunes of the affairs have been faced with a problem. They have always had to exceed their previous best.

And always before, they have succeeded. They have surmounted public apathy, they have cajoled, borrowed, begged (and maybe even stolen, but I doubt it) support from merchants in the form of prizes. They have maintained the high standard set by the original group that formed the Nelson Midsummer Bonspiel back in a time now hidden by bends in the road of memory.

This year, the task of the bonspiel's officials is infihitely more difficult. They have not only to exceed the fine efforte put forth last year, but they must come up with a bonspiel of quality high enough to take its place at the forefront of festivities designed to celebrate Nelson's 60th Anniversary.

If they get your help, and there is no doubt they deserve it, the 1957 Nelson Midsummer Bonspiel should be the biggest and best ever.

Here's hoping!

Brooklyn Manager Borrows Big Braves To Bolster NL All-Star Aggregation

CINCINNATI (AP) — Manager Walt Alston of the Brooklyn Dodgers dipped deep into the ranks of the Milwaukee Braves Wednesday as he completed selection of a National League squad that will meet American Leaguers in the annual major league all - stars game at St. Louis July 9.

Alston, as manager of the 1956 league - champion Dodgers, will pilot the all-stars. He picked five Braves, including all-star veteran pitcher Warren Spahn, to help make up a 25 - man National League squad.

Hank Aaron of the Braves already had been named by baseball commissioner Ford Frick as right fielder in place of Wally Post of the Cincinnati Redlegs who led a fans' vote which Frick said was "unbalanced" by an avalanche of votes from Cincinnati.

Alston's selections, plus the fans' vote for Don Hoak of Cincinnati as the starting third baseman, gave the National League eight "freshmen" as far as all-star competition is concerned.

MUSIAL BACK

But the National League also had the "all star" of all-stars in Stan Musial of St. Louis Cardinals. Musial, named for the 14th time, leads all major leaguers for that honor. He will be the starting first baseman.

The Milwaukee players named by Alston, as announced from National League headquarters, were pitchers Lew Burdette and Spahn and infielders Eddie Mathews, Johnny Logan and Red Schoendienst.

Spahn, a lefthander, has been on eight previous all-star squads.

Curt Simmons of the Philadelphia Phils and Johnny Antonelli of the New York Giants will be the other southpaws while the righthanders will be Burdette, Larry Jackson of St. Louis, Clem Labine of the Dodgers and rookie Jack Sanford of the Phils.

The starting outfield will be Aaron, Willie Mays of the New York Giants and Frank Robinson of Cincinnati. To back them up, Alston picked Gus Bell of the Redlegs, Gino Cimoli of the Dodgers and Wally Moon of the Cards.

INFIELD BACKING

Supporting the starting infield of Hoak, Roy McMillan and Johnny Temple of Cincinnati and Musial will be Alston's selections of Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs, Gil Hodges of the Dodgers' and Logan, Schoendienst and Mathews of the Braves.

Alston picked Hank Foiles of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Hal Smith of the Cardinals to back up starting catcher Ed Bailey of the Redlegs.

Alston's selections left out Post of Cincinnati, who topped all right fielders in the vote of the fans. Commissioner Frick ruled, however, that Post and Bell, also tops in the fans' vote should be replaced by Aaron and Mays because of the "unbalance" created by the Cincinnati voting. General manager Gabe Paul of the Redlegs had urged that Bell and Post be picked to the squad since they were dropped from the starting lineup.

Some old, familiar names were dropped from the all-star squad. They included pitchers Robin Roberts of the Phils and Don Newcombe of the Dodgers, catcher Roy Campanella of the Dodgers and first baseman Ted Kluszewski of the Reds.

Also among the missing was pitcher Bob Friend of the Pirates, who was the starting and winning hurler in last year's game.

Hot Weather Comes; Sal's Ailments Go

NEW YORK (AP)—Ancient Sal (the Barber) Maglie announced Wednesday he is ready to take his regular pitching turn for the Brooklyn Dodgers—but out of respect for his 40 summers would manager Walt Alston be kind enough to give him four days rest between starts?

Plagued by all sorts of miseries from back aches to sore thumbs, Maglie had gone the route only once this season before he tossed a masterful four-hitter against his old New York Giant mates Tuesday night.

Brooklyn won 6-0, but it was more than a routine victory for the Dodgers. Alston and his brain trust were beginning to worry that perhaps they would have to count on going at it without Maglie.

Last week he warmed up for a while, but told Alston he couldn't pitch because his back was bothering him.

"But I didn't feel a twinge in my back against the Giants," said Maglie happily. "Nor, for that matter, did any of the things that have been bothering me act up."

The victory was Maglie's third against one defeat, and the first time he had stepped on the pitching mound since May 30. Last year he had a 13-5 mark and was instrumental in helping the Brooks to the pennant.

Most of his best work in '56 was done during the hot months.

All-Australia Final; Lew Hoad Meets Ashley Cooper

By TOM OCHILTREE

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Tennis slugger Lew Hoad defeated Sweden's gallant Sven Davidson, and Ashley Cooper outlasted Neale Fraser Wednesday, setting up an all-Australian men's singles final at Wimbledon for the second straight year.

Defending champion Hoad—"little stone face" of the lawn tennis world — served, volleyed and drove Davidson to defeat in one semi-final 6-4, 6-4, 7-5.

Cooper — tall, dark and handsome heart throb of the schoolgirl spectators — knocked off fellow Aussie Fraser, 1-6, 14-12, 6-3, 8-6.

Hoad and Cooper meet Friday for the title. The United States' Don Budge was the last player to win two consecutive Wimbledon men's titles, in 1937-38.

THREE U.S. WOMEN

While U.S. men were sitting out a Wimbledon semi-final for the first time in 30 years, three of the four women semi-finalists are Americans.

Top - seeded Althea Gibson of New York plays the six-foot, 16-year-old British amazon, Christine Truman, sensation of the tournament so far. Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode of Forest Hills, N.Y., seeded fourth, meets Darlene Hard, the Montebello, Calif., waitress, seeded fifth.

Davidson came up with cunning cut and rop shots and scored repeatedly with placements. But this was not enough to match Hoad's all-around power.

For a time lefthander Fraesr looked as if he might upset Cooper, a boyhood friend from Melbourne. Ultimately he was beaten but not outclassed.

Hoad made no comment on his chances to retain the title.

"We'll wait and see," was all Cooper would say about his chances.

Bauer Sues Jones

NEW YORK (AP)—Hank Bauer Wednesday sued Edwin Jones for $150,000 for false arrest and malicious prosecution in the New York Yankee night club mixup.

The suit, filed in New York Supreme Court, asked $100,000 damages for false arrest and $50,000 for malicious prosecution.

The Yankee outfielder based his suit on the fact the New York Grand Jury refused to indict him after a civil arrest brought by Jones, a delicatessen owner, June 24.

Bauer and a group of Yankee players were celebrating Billy Martin's birthday at the club May 16, when a disturbance erupted and Jones claimed Bauer hit him.

"After the grand jury threw out the case I waited for a telephone call or a letter of apology from Jones but I never heard from him," Bauer told newsmen after the suit was filed.

Jones still has a civil assault suit pending.

Bauer reiterated that he never hit anyone, and said the Jones suit caused him a lot of damage.

Water-Skiers Pose Threat To Crossing

VICTORIA (CP) — Ho hum.

The Juan de Fuca Strait has attracted more challengers.

Four Vitcoria water skiers announced Wednesday they will attempt to ski both ways across the Strait this Saturday.

The Strait has previously attracted marathon swimmers, canoeists, motorboat racers, yachtsmen and surf-boarders.

The skiers, members of the Victoria Outboard Club, believe they are the first to try a two-way crossing of the 18.3-mile stretch of water.

They are Don Lowe, and brothers Knute and Cliff Johnson.

"As far as we can find out, it hasn't been tried before," said Mr. Lowe. "We aren't looking for glory ourselves, but if we do it we think it might help our club."

They hope to start from the Causeway at 7 a.m. Saturday, when the water is expected to be flat. If windy, however, the attempt will be postponed.

Their own boats will be used, two 14-foot runabouts driven by 35 horsepower engines—with two skiers behind each.

LITTLE LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Kinsmen hung up another victory in the Little League as they defeated Lions 11-10. The defeat left Lions with only a mathematical chance of reaching the playdowns, as they have only one game left to play while Rotary and Kiwanis have two games left.

Lions held a 10-5 lead going into the last half of the sixth but Kinsmen pushed across six runs to win.

Donny Wah, hurling his best game of the season, held the Kin until the sixth when he was replaced by Dave Beatty who absorbed the loss. Wah struck out six batters, gave up five hits and walked one. Beatty gave up four hits, and walked two.

Gordon Dewar went the full route for the Kinsmen, giving up six hits, striking out 10 and giving up five passes. There were several extra base blows in the game. Ken Dewar Chuck Owens and Ian Niven hit homers, while Paul Buckley, Owens Gary Carter and Donny Wah hit triples. Buckley also picked up a double.

Kinsmen ended their Little League schedule Saturday with a convincing 13-1 win over Rotary. Rotary got their lone run on a homer by first-sacker Bunt their only hit of the game off Ken Dewar. It came in the fifth.

Kinsmen scored one run in the first inning, five in the second, three in the fourth, and four in the sixth. Harry Berecoff went the route for Rotary, giving up 12 hits, striking out eight and walking five. Dewar struck out 14 and walked none. There was good long ball hitting which produced six homers and a triple. Ken Dewar drove out two homers, Chuck Owens, Doug Seaby, Paul Buckley and Merv Bunt one each. Gordon Dewar hit a three-bagger.

K.C.'s pounded three Firemen hurlers for 16 hits as they defeated Firemen 27-9 at Queen Elizabeth Park. The game was one of the sloppiest played so far this season by the league-leading Cubs.

Cubs racked up nine runs in the second inning, two in the third, four in the fourth, one in the fifth, three in the sixth and one more in the seventh. Firemen replied with three runs in the first, one in the second, two in the third, two more in the fourth and one in the sixth.

Firemen sent three chuckers to the mound but they offered only token resistance. Bruce Blakeman, Ken Anderson and Art Miner shared the hill work. Together, they walked 14 and struck out 10. Hugh Hooker went the distance for Cubs, striking out eight, walking eight and giving up three hits.

Mc & Mcs came through with their fifth win in Babe Ruth League play as they walloped the league leading K.C.'s 20-5. The win pushed the Mcs two games ahead of the idle Tom Boys while it was Cubs' first loss in 10 games.

Mcs took an eight-run lead in the opening frame as they chased starting hurler Hank Hancock after he had yielded two walks and a homer to Gary Kilpatrick. Fast baller Keith Frederickson fared little better and got even less support from his fielders. Frederickson walked 11 while giving up three hits. Cyril Saviscoff went the full route for the winning Mcs and only in a couple of frames did he get into trouble.

Kilpatrick hit a double besides his homer while Mike Ingledew also slammed out a double. Bill Lipsack and Frederickson banged out a double each for the losing Cubs.

CRICKET TOUR BY CANADIANS STEP FORWARD

LONDON (CP) — Sixteen young Canadians, who would rather play cricket than own their own cars, open a 16-match series Thursday against England's top schoolboy sides.

"We hope to make a good showing and to win quite a number of games," said 20 - year - old Eddie Bracht of Toronto, captain of the Canadian team that was selected from junior players across the country. "But, primarily, we are in Britain to learn some of the finer points of the game."

Each member of the team is paying his own way, although a number have been assisted by grants from their clubs or schools in Canada. Estimated cost per player for the month-long tour is $1000.

At a luncheon reception today, the Earl of Home, secretary of state for Commonwealth relations, said he looks forward to the day when Canadian teams would visit Britain "to play full test matches" and added "I don't think that day is so far away."

Kissinger Prefers To Play for Lords

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — London Lords of the Senior Ontario Rugby Football Union have signed signal-caller Ellsworth Kissinger, co-captain of the University of Southern California Trojans last year. Although rated one of the brainiest quarterbacks in the annals of USC football, Kissinger originally had not intended to play pro football and turned down offers from both the Vancouver Lions and the Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

Cuba's Greatest Pitcher Dies

HAVANA (AP) — Adolf Luque, Cuba's greatest pitcher in the major leagues, died of a heart attack here Tuesday night. He was 66.

A member of the Cincinnati world champions in 1919 when the Reds beat the Chicago White Sox in the "Black Sox" series, Luque reached his greatest heights in 1923. That year he won 27 games for Cincinnati and lost only eight white pitching 322 innings for an earned run average of only 1.93.

A righthander, Luque broke into the majors for a brief stay with the pennant - winning Boston Braves in 1914. He played in the minors with Jersey City, Toronto and Louisville before joining Cincinnati in 1918.

He also played with Brooklyn and the New York Giants. Altogether he appeared in 558 major league games, winning 194 and losing 179.

PLC Officials Prepare For Franchise Shifts

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Pacific Coast League wants to be ready to duck if and when the National League throws a high, hard one and takes over Los Angeles and San Francisco.

With that in mind, PCL directors met Tuesday and appointed a committee to talk with baseball bigwigs about realignment of the league in the event the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants move west.

A resolution adopted by the directors suggested the matter be discussed with baseball commissioner Ford Frick, minor league boss George Trautman, National League president Warren Giles, and owners Walter O'Malley of the Dodgers and Horace Stoneham of the Giants.

Purpose of the meeting would be to discuss the possible "realignment of cities of suitable size, baseball interest and geographical location in the Pacific Coast League," the resolution stated.

Appointed to the committee were Leslie O'Connor, president of the PCL, Joe Ziegler of the Portland club, and representatives yet to be named from the San Diego and Sacramento clubs.

No date was set for the meeting, but it might take place at the major league conference in St. Louis next week, O'Connor said. He admitted that no definite action could be taken until after Oct. 1, baseball's deadline for drafting minor league territory.

"It will just be a general discussion of what could happen," said O'Connor. "We don't want to get caught by surprise."

75,000 See Canadians Ousted

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico swept its World Cup soccer elimination series with Canada Wednesday night by-defeating the visitors 2-0 before 75,000 fans in chill Olympic Stadium.

Mexico, which won the opening game Sunday 3-0, was leading at half-time Wednesday by 2-0.

Mexico now meets the winner of the Central America zone elimination matches for the right to go to the world finals in Sweden next year.

The local team now has defeated Canada and the United States in straight games, and is favored to win over the Central America champion, Costa Rica currently is ahead in that zone.

The Mexican 11 completely dominated the first half Wednesday night with better teamwork and superior speed.

FANS PROTEST

The stands roared with protest when the Canadians resorted to rough tactics after Mexico's inside right, Mellone Gutierrez, scored in 10 minutes with a hard corner shot.

Gutierrez also figured in the second score at 28 minutes. He took the ball away from Canadian Mike Bereza, who was dribbling down the field. Gutierrez kicked to left back Jose Villegas who butted the ball to left and Enrique Sesma.

Sesma's sizzling kick scored past Canadian goalie Ken Pears.

The night was chilly following an afternoon rain which the Canadians had wanted, to dampen the field for them and slow the speedier Mexicans.

The 1 ½-mile altitude seemed to bother the Canadians, unused to playing at such oxygen-scarce heights.

The Canadians stiffened in the second half and held the Mexicans scoreless. The visitors kicked two goals, but both times the ball was not in play and they did not count.

PEARS STANDOUT

It was an unusual development as the local team in the past has scored more frequently in the second period after visitors have become tired due to altitude.

Outstanding for the Canadians in the second period was goalie Pears, who stubbornly and at times brilliantly killed eight Mexican scoring attempts.

The crowd cheered Pears lustily.

First of the out-of-play goals came at 10 minutes of the second half when referee Walter Van Rosenberg called time out to silence the crowd. One of the Canadians rushed up to the ball and kicked it through Mexico's astonished goalie Antonio Carbajal.

Minutes before the game ended, Norman McLeod broke loose, scampered through the entire Mexican team, and scored. The officials ruled the ball was not in play at the time.

Son Emulates Dad With Hole-In-One

GALT, Ont. (CP) — A 14-year-old boy shot a hole-in-one Tuesday on the 145-yard ninth hole of the Galt golf course, six years after his dad performed the same feat on the fourth hole.

The lad, Mervin Fouse, was playing with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Fouse of Preston when he sank the drive with a No. 5 iron.

It was the 31st hole-in-one in the 29-year history of the Galt course.

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—Eric Brown, one - time Scottish railway fireman who called St. Andrews hallowed Old Course a "dirt-track," scored 10 threes in a brilliant 67 Wednesday to tie Laurie Ayton for the lead in the British open golf championship.

The day was graced for Scotland. Brown is professional at Buchanan Castle on the high road of the banks of Loch Lomond. Ayton is a Scot who teaches golf at Ipswich, England.

"The only reason I entered," the 238-pound Ayton said, "was because the championship was in my old home town." Ayton was born here. He is one of the most successful and busiest teaching pros in the British Isles.

Ranked behind the two leaders was Bruce Crampton, handsome 22-year-old Australian open champion. He had a 68 - five strokes better than his countryman, defending champion Peter Thompson.

HOLE-IN-ONE FOR ROCHESTER PRO HIGHLIGHTS PRACTICES

By W. R. WHEATLEY

MONTREAL (CP) — Bob Hill, stocky young pro from Rochester, N.Y., fired a hole-in-one Wednesday to steam up the final practice round for the $29,000 open.

Hill, who has been on the tournament trail only a few months, shot his ace with a number eight iron at the 145-yard 10th hole of the Islesmere Club course.

Members of the American contingent with low practice round scores included Bo Wininger, Ken Venturi, Dow Finsterwald, Jay Hebert and Bob Toski, with 69s. Mike Souchak of Grossinger's, N.Y., came in with a 68. Bill Kerr of Montreal Beaconsfield fired a practice 71.

Bill Mawhinney went only the first nine Wednesday and with his 32, four under par, said "I'd sure like to do that again tomorrow." Henry Martell of Edmonton, playing along with Mawhinney, had a 34.

Doug Ford of Mahopac, N.Y., winner of the inaugural of this tournament in 1953, played only nine holes and shot a 32. Bill Casper of Bonita, Calif., winner last year, also had a 32 score.

Rain may slow down the 6645-yard par 72 course, which was playing fairly long Wednesday. Guesses as to the winning score have ranged from 272 to 276.

It was learned late Wednesday that Pat Fletcher of Royal Montreal, winner of the Canadian Open at Vancouver in 1954, has scratched. Tournament officials said Fletcher is extremely busy now and will have to pass up this tournament but plans to play in the Canadian Open at Kitchener, Ont., next week.

Final Meeting Of Committee Shows 95 Quartets Entered

When members of the Nelson Midsummer Bonspiel Committee split into conversational groups Wednesday night prior to leaving the Civic Centre lounge, the final collective effort of the group had been completed with the end of the last Bonspiel Committee meeting before July 17.

Committee Chairman Gene Bodard had thanked his committee, Alderman George Mermet expressed congratulations to Bodard, Secretary Elwyn Owens, all those connected with the committee, CKLN and The Nelson Daily News for their efforts in making the preparations for the annual midsummer curling championships of the world.

Draw-secretaries Art Ronmark and Ernie Ramsbottom accepted the final entry list from Chief Owens. It showed 95 rinks, including 17 made up of women. Considerable discussion was generated about the possibility of post entries, but the draw-secretaries pointed out that it was too late to make any adjustments once work on the draw had started.

Oddly, the total was midway between the objective—100 rinks—and the figure on which the committee formed a budget—90 rinks. Bodard and Chief Owens expressed satisfaction with the entry total, but said they were sorry they had received four late cancellations.

The late cancellations made it easier for Joe Keegan, also a member of the Jubilee Committee, connected with arrangements for the mammoth parade, to convince those in attendance that the parade would not suffer if curlers were told they were under no obligation to enter.

Veteran curlers Ronmark and Art Waters said they thought curlers had assisted with the parade in past years only because they believed themselves to be necessary, and would enjoy themselves more fully if they were allowed to stand on the curbs and take pictures and generally do what they wished.

Due to the extreme length of the parade, it is imperative that the leaders move off sharply at six p.m., Keegan said, and he pointed out that it would be impossible for the 80 curlers who would not finish before six to participate without slowing up the proceedings. To satisfy the small group that thought the parade would suffer if curlers were banned altogether, a motion was passed to allow curlers to participate if they chose.

Although Chief Owens admitted the trip to Spokane tomorrow would not in all probability increase the turnout for the 'spiel itself, he said he hoped everyone connected with the committee felt as he did—that anything boosting Nelson is a worthwhile project.

Chairman Bodard, the Chief, along with sundry members of the committee and local businessmen, will make the journey, which includes an hour-long telecast Friday evening. A pair of talented local people will be going along to help occupy the time, and Jane Miller, Miss Nelson of 1957, will supply proof that Nelson is unmatched for scenic beauty.

Post, Crowe To Get Medals

CINCINNATI (AP)—Wally Post Cincinnati outfielder, and George Crowe, first baseman, who were ruled off the National League all-star team by commissioner Ford Frick, will be given mementos, it was announced Wednesday.

Warren C. Giles, president of the National League, advised the two Redleg players that they would be recognized.

"Because of the tremendous number of votes received in the all-star vote, which is a great testimonial to their popularity, and in recognition of this, Post and Crowe will receive an all - star game memento from the National League office," Giles said.

Red Wing Hockey Stars Also Shine Brightly on Golf Links

MONTREAL (CP)—Detroit Red Wings' pair of Gordie Howe, who shot a steady three-over-par 75, and Marcel Pronovost Wednesday won the National Hockey League golf tournament — the prelude to the $29,000 Open over the Ilesmere course.

The 18-hole combined score for Howe and Pronovost, who soared to a 93, was 168, nine strokes better than Ted Kennedy and Jim Morrison of Toronto Maple Leafs who placed second. Kennedy shot an 86 and Morrison 91.

Howe's 75 was five strokes better than that of any other player individually and earned him the individual low-score prize. Jean-Guy Grendron of New York Rangers shot 80 but his partner, goalie Lorne (Gump) Worsley, ballooned to 113 to give the Rangers pair a total of 193 and put them in fourth place.

Third place went to Montreal Canadiens' Jean Beliveau with 91 and Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion with 97 for a total of 188.

Johnny Wilson with 97 and Glen Skov with 98 shot a combined 195 as the Chicago Black Hawks' entry.

Johnny Peirson of Boston Bruins, who was without a partner because neither Fleming Mackell nor Larry Regan could come to Montreal to play, played singly and shot an 85.

Eight Runs-Batted-In for Berra as Slump Shattered

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Cincinnati Redlegs broke through Lew Burdette's two-year whammy to open a full game lead in the National League Wednesday and the New York Yankees, with Yogi Berra driving in eight runs, stretched their advantage to three games in the American League.

Milwaukee's Burdette, winner of nine straight over the Redlegs since 1955, was routed during a four-run sixth inning which gave Cincinnati a 7-5 decision Wednesday night. The result boosted the Redlegs' NL advantage to one game over St. Louis, who edged the Chicago Cubs 5-4 in the afternoon. Milwaukee, now third, trails by a game and a half.

Brooklyn and Philadelphia, idle along with New York and Pittsburgh, trail by three and four and one-half games, respectively.

SOX CRUSHED

Berra's explosion, produced by two singles, a home run and a ground out, helped Bob Turley and the Yanks coast to a 10-0 romp over the Boston Red Sox. They picked up another length over second-place Chicago when the White Sox were blanked 5-0 by Kansas City behind the combined five-hit pitching by Virgil Trucks and Tom Morgan.

Cleveland's Don Mossi also turned in a shutout—his first in the majors—6-0 over Detroit, and in the AL's lone nighter, Baltimore whipped Washington 8-3 in a game made distinctive by nine errors.

Hal Jeffcoat, winning his eighth for the Redlegs with help from work-horse Brooks Lawrence in the ninth, struck the key blow of the big sixth—a two-run triple off Burdette with one run in and two out. Roy McMillan and Johnny Temple singled in the other runs of the rally, which cost Burdette his sixth loss against five victories.

LAWRENCE BUSY

Hank Aaron's 25th homer and Del Crandall's eighth kept the Braves in the game in the early going and Wes Covington's fourth home run leading off the ninth brought on Lawrence, who quickly retired the next three batters while working for the fourth time in Cincinnati's last five games. George Crowe hit his 16th for Cincinnati.

Del Ennis, on an RBI tear with 10 in his last five games, hit a two-run single in the seventh to break a 3-3 tie and win for the Cardinals at Chicago. Larry Jackson, named Wednesday to the NL's all-star pitching staff, won his 10th against four losses with help from Hoyt Wilhelm in the ninth.

Al Dark had a 4-for-5 day for the Cards, who've won their last four. Tom Poholsky, former Card, was the loser.

Berra, hitting only .225 with a mere 28 RBI before the Boston game, drove in seven of his eight runs in the first three innings, twice after Mickey Mantle — batting ahead of him—was walked intentionally. His homer, hit with two on, was the 250th of his career. Turley allowed three singles, and nary a hit after the third inning, for his second 1957 shutout. Tom Brewer, 1-9 lifetime with New York, lost it.

The Yanks now are 18-3 in their current push and their latest win streak stands at seven.

Trucks went 5 1-3 innings and Morgan 3 2-3 against the White Sox, with Morgan preserving the shutout by coming in to get Jim Rivera to hit into a bases-loaded doubleplay in the sixth. Billy Hunter and Lou Skizas hit home runs to cost Dick Donovan his third loss in 11 decisions.

The A's Billy Martin was hit on the left wrist by a Donovan pitch in the first inning. X-rays showed no fracture and Martin is expected to be able to play in a few days.

Mossi, conevrted to a starter to bolster Cleveland's crippled pitching staff, scattered six Detroit hits for a 6-2 record. Duke Maas, losing his seventh, permitted nine hits, including Chico Carrasquel's sixth homer and a two-run single by Russ Nixon. The victory boosted Cleveland into third place a half game ahead of Boston.

The Orioles, now trailing fifth-place Detroit by only half a game, made it easy for righthander Ray Moore to win his fifth and his third in a row, routing Washington rookie Jim Heise with five runs in the second inning. The Senators committed six errors and Baltimore three in the loosely-played game. Jim Lemon, an outfielder playing first base for Washington, made three, two on the same play during the Orioles' big inning. Lefty Billy O'Dell pitched the last two innings for Baltimore after Moore pulled a muscle in the elbow of his pitching arm.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Extensive Mining Development Foreseen For Saskatchewan

LA RONGE, Sask. (CP)—Mining and government officials predict that mineral exploration and development will reach record proportions this year in northern Saskatchewan's Lac la Ronge region, 170 miles north of Prince Albert.

"Indications point to a very active season, especially with aerial magnetic survey maps being made available," said Victor Bjarnason, field foreman for Midwest Diamond Drilling Company.

Malcolm Norris, supervisor of the prospector's assistance plan for the provincial mineral resources department, said he expected the most active season ever experienced in the area. He based his view on the large number of companies planning to work in the region this year.

La Ronge has become the hub of mining activity extending east as far as the Hanson and Deschambault Lakes area. Encouraging copper widths have been indicated at Brabant Lake, while high zinc, lead and silver values have been disclosed in the Hanson-Deschambault area.

Mining officials agree the aerial magnetic and electric-magnetic mapping being done here for Saskatchewan's mineral resources department will furnish information that will spark still greater activity.

One of the two areas being mapped lies south and east of Lake la Ronge, the other extends northeastward in a belt taking in the Forbes, Laroque, McLennan Lake region. Maps of the region should be available early in July.

Also aiding the search for base metals, the propspector's assistance plan will have 10 parties in the field this year.

The provincially-sponsored prospector's school holds classes each spring to train would-be prospectors.

Trail Ratepayer Finds Council 'on Bit'

TRAIL—After bringing up three subjects to the attention of city council, William Kassian, president of the Property Owners Association, admitted that the council was one jump ahead of him, Monday night.

Mayor L. A. Read assured Mr. Kassian that action was being taken to prevent the old hospital site becoming an eyesore. The matter of having caution signs instead of stop signs was also being considered by council. Regarding a through lane to Shavers Bench, his worship replied "again we are ahead of you, we took this matter up at the last traffic meeting."

"I guess I have missed too many council meetings lately," remarked Mr. Kassian.

Market Trends

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market had its own pre-July 4 celebration Wednesday making the most vigorous rise since June 11.

That was the day after President Eisenhower's "upset stomach" when the market advanced on good news about the President's recovery.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose $1.50 to $185.30.

Canadian issues were mostly bullish on the New York exchange reflecting the general trend. McIntyre Porcupine had a gain of 2½. Aluminium Ltd. was up 1⅝ and Hudson Bay Mining rose 1½.

MONTREAL (CP) — The Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges closed in a narrowly stronger tone with industrial price increases ranging to more than a point.

Among steels, Algoma gained 1½ and Dominion Steel was up a point while Atlas firmed ½. Among newsprints, Powell River gained ⅛. In the refining groups, Canadian Oil moved up ⅜ and McColl advanced ½.

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market marked time during mid-afternoon trading. There were few price changes from the previous hour as most issues held earlier gains or losses.

Higher-priced mines had gains ranging to a point, led by Ventures at 42½. Hudson Bay and International Nickel were each ahead major fractions. Lower priced mines were narrowly higher while uraniums eased.

Fine Bailiff In Repossession Case

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (CP)—Magistrate Harley Hallett had harsh words for finance companies Tuesday as he fined a Niagara Falls bailiff $51.50 for using force while trying to repossess a tractor.

Harold Smith, acting as bailiff for Trans Canada Credit Corporation Limited, was charged by Anthony Yachuk, who testified Smith hit him on the temple with the blackjack when he prevented the bailiff from climbing into the seat of the tractor.

Smith testified he had never been afraid to use force to repossess goods. He said he was justified in using it unless a breach of the peace was about to occur. In that event he should call police.

Must Reconsider Passport Refusal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Court of Appeals told the state department Wed. it must reconsider its denial of a passport to Donald Ogden Stewart, author and playwright.

The writer denied he had had any Communist connections in the last 15 years but his passport application was turned down because he refused to say whether he had ever been a Communist.

Chief Judge Henry W. Edgerton took the position that the regulations for denial of passports to Communists and supporters of Red causes are invalid, and that the department should be directed to issue a passport to Stewart without further ado.

Churchill Rocket To Soar 200 Miles

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK (AP) — A huge Fourth of July skyrocket to be set off in Canada today seeks new freedoms and powers for mankind.

What it learns could help bring the new freedom of space travel. Or tap a new source of chemical energy high in the air. Or help control weather and disastrous storms.

This skyrocket is not the kind usually set off to awe and please kids on the July 4 U.S. Independence Day.

It's a 24-foot-long monster, an Aerobee Hi, powered to rise 100 to 200 miles and radio back knowledge of the skies. Scheduled for launching at Fort Churchill, Man., it will be the first of the biggest "shoots" in rocketry during the International Geophysical Year.

AIR MYSTERIES

Altogether IGY will see some 400 rockets big and little whooshed up by the United States, Russia, Britain, Japan, France and Australia to check on the earth's air and its remaining mysteries.

Air is a vital domain, especially the first six or seven feet in which we breathe. Our air rises hundreds of miles, with 99 per cent of it compressed within the first 20 miles.

The one per cent above that is a fantastically complex chemical and electrical cauldron created mainly by the sun's energy, explains Dr. Peter H. Wyckoff of the U.S. Air Force Cambridge Research Centre, Boston.

This high thin air is the home of the ionosphere, the electrified air that makes radio broadcasts possible; the home of the dazzling northern lights; and a storage battery of vast chemical energy if it can be understood and put to use.

AFFECTS WEATHER

What happens up there vitally affects our weather too.

Balloons can rise about 30 miles, and tell much. Rockets supply probing fingers to learn a lot more. All knowledge will be shared among all 61 nations cooperating in the IGY.

Rockets will rise from all latitudes of the earth—from fixed ground stations and from ships at sea between the Arctic and Antarctic. Russia is firing up 125 rockets; the United States about 200; two dozen or so more apiece by each of the other four nations.

Some, such as today's U.S. Navy-sponsored shot with Canada co-operating in supplying the site, will roar up to 200 miles. Others, including the first IGY rocket fired Monday from San Nicolas Island, Calif., reach 75 miles. That shot was timed to see what happens when the sun flares out with explosions of gas and radiation and atomic particles.

Each rocket is geared for specific duties. The Churchill rocket will measure the electric charge density of the high ionosphere. Others will sample air pressures, temperatures and winds at different altitudes, or measure cosmic rays, magnetic fields, or the aurora.

Some will be launched from balloons at heights of 15 miles. Some will explode grenades at intervals as they soar up, with the sound waves telling about high air temperatures and winds.

Coast Penguins Doing Well

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two Humboldt penguins, the first born in captivity in Canada, are thriving at Stanley Park zoo.

And a third, given a little human aid to break out of its shell, has a 50-50 chance of living.

"We won't push the mother bird aside just to peek, however," said zoo curator Alan Best. "We should know soon."

When zoo attendant Larry Lesage saw the beak showing through the latest egg Saturday, he broke away the area around the beak, foot and wing to help the bird. He said the shell seemed very thick.

"Sometimes," Mr. Best said, "when the chick has such a struggle to get out of its egg, it's not strong enough to survive. But there's a good chance of survival as long as the mother stays there. If it died, she would walk out."

The Humboldts are small penguins, weighing about 10 pounds and colored brownish-black and white.

Their companions at the zoo are the King penguins, weighing 40 pounds and colored bluish-grey with orange markings on the head and neck.

Three King penguin eggs are due to hatch at the zoo this summer, the first about July 20.

Campers Cut Off by Storm

NORTH BAY, Ont. (CP)—About 55 tourists and cottage owners and 33 Sea Scouts are isolated about 35 miles south of here following week-end rain which washed out a logging road in nine places.

The cottagers are at Round Lake, the cadets—on a three-week camping holiday in the area—at North Tea Lake. Both are in the northeast section of Algonquin Park.

Owners of the road, Ray Industries Limited of South River, are working to restore communications, but the company's manager, C. S. Jamieson said Wednesday he does not expect the road to be open until Saturday.

Some of the cottage owners have walked out to South River but many women and children of families up for the weekend are unable to get out.

A policeman reported the people have enough food to see them through the week although milk and bread seemed to be in short supply.

Meanwhile near Timmins, many residents in the Northern Ontario community of Mountjoy Township are still marooned—their homes under water five feet deep—following flooding of the Mattagami River.

The river, swollen by two days of heavy rain, overflowed its banks Sunday night. Householders are staying in their homes. The telephone, a boat or raft are their only means of communication.

Odds... and Ends

by M. D. B.

Some youngster's misfortune was a little dog's gain at a downtown corner the other day. A little Pekingese dog made short work of a scoop of ice cream dropped on the sidewalk. And speaking of dogs reminds me there is to be a pet parade during Jubilee week. A friend of mine who has the animals' interests at heart recalled that at the last one when the parade was over, the pets were tied up any old place with no water while their young owners went off to enjoy free ice cream and the sights. Not only that, they were thoroughly frightened by the band music which is more than their sensitive ears are accustomed to.

* * *

I thought this worth passing along to the Kinsmen organizers. Perhaps some place could be provided for them until the children are ready to take them back home, for it is almost too much to expect that the youngsters will leave the fun to take them back right after the parade. I love a pet parade — I think they are a lot of fun for both participants and spectators, but only so long as the pets do not have to suffer for our enjoyment.

* * *

See where they are laying asphalt on the Safeway parking lot. I was wondering if the rumor that there was to be square dancing there during the jubilee was anything more than a rumor. I remember wondering at the time I heard it, how they could ever square dance on the gravel surface.

* * *

It's wonderful to see the Baker Street pioneers going all out with their pioneer days store fronts and getting into the spirit of things.

* * *

Have been wondering why the window box in front of the Natural Gas office hasn't sprouted some dirt and flowers. With the tap there and all it would be quite a simple matter to keep it looking fresh. I was hoping they would set an example.

* * *

I see where the bandshell is not even a shell of its former self. Black top has been laid in the 700 and 800 blocks on Vernon and in front of the theatre forms are being laid to fill in with concrete like the rest of that side of the street. The centre boulevards in the 500 and 600 blocks are dusty and weed-infested, I hope something will be done about them soon —though I hate to think of them being filled in with cement, but I guess that's what it will be.

Mike Todd Shows London How To Have Lots of Fun

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — One of Europe's better mass hangovers gripped hundreds of Londoners today in the bleary wake of American showman Mike Todd's champagne-for-everybody party.

"Wow," shouted Todd at 4 a.m.

"I knew I forgot something. I forgot aspirin and headache powders. Every guest should have been furnished with some."

As dawn broke over London, at least 500 guests were still enjoying themselves at Todd's large expense.

Aly Khan and his girl friend, French model Bettina, were riding pink and purple horses on the merry-go-round.

Sir Hartley Shawcross, the stern-faced attorney-general in the last Labor government, danced the rhumba to one of the 16 bands.

Singer Eddie Fisher was mistaken for a waiter as he rushed a trayload of champagne to his table.

U.S Ambassador John Hay Whitney stepped in a deep mud puddle.

And so it went.

ROYALTY LEAVES EARLY

Todd threw the party to celebrate the London premiere of his movie, Around the World in 80 Days. The Duchess of Kent and her daughter, Princess Alexandra, represented the Royal Family at the film but didn't stay for the party.

For the all-night binge Todd bought out the Battersea amusement park and hauled his guests across the Thames in a fleet of ferries.

"You never know," smirked the host, "something about the party and the picture might sneak into the papers."

Sneak was hardly the word.

"Wild and wonderful and brash and noisy," says The Daily Herald. "London has never seen anything like it."

"Mad, marvelous, gaudy, supercolossal, stupendous," The Daily Sketch gushes.

The host blew his top almost as many times as the corks blew out of the giant champagne bottles he had flown in from France.

The first explosion occurred when Mrs. Todd—film star Elizabeth Taylor—had to wait for some blue-blooded guests who were late.

"She's having a baby this fall," shouted hubby. "What would you do if your wife was having a baby? Gangway!" and he rushed Liz to a seat.

Biting a white-gloved hand, the mother-to-be commented:

"He worries too much about this baby. I hope it's a girl. I am sure the world is not ready for another Mike Todd yet."

Yards of crimson chiffon trailed from her sun - bronzed shoulders to the floor. Her ruby and diamond earrings and necklace glittered.

"We've got to get back to America Thursday," Liz said. "I've got to see my doctor and find out when the baby's due. I feel it might happen tonight."

But it didn't.

Play, Opera, Glen Gould To Mark B.C. Centenary

VANCOUVER (CP)—A six-performance presentation of the Mozart opera Don Giovanni, with basso George London of Vancouver and an almost entirely Canadian cast, will be the major musical feature of the 1958 Vancouver International Festival of the Arts.

Artistic director Nicholas Goldschmidt said the festival, part of British Columbia's centenary celebrations, also will feature a film festival for which 30 foreign-language films already have been entered.

The event will run from July 19 to Aug. 10. President W. C. Mainwaring said more than $100,000 already has been donated or pledged towards a $350,000 fund to cover expenses. He said an appeal for the balance will be launched in admission charges which will go towards establishing the festi- this month.

Officials hope to raise $125,000 for centennial year presentation val as an annual event.

Among other attractions secured Glenn Gould, three chamber music concerts by a distinguished re a recital and symphony performance by Toronto pianist festival quintet and an original play by Toronto playwright Lister Sinclair.

Mr. Sinclair's play, dramatizing the growth of B.C., likely will be staged first for two weeks at the University of British Columbia, then taken on a tour of 16 cities and towns in the province.

Canada Sends Salk Serum To Czechs

PRAGUE (AP)—The newspaper Lidova Demokracie says Salk serum flown from Canada has been used to inoculate 2,289,539 Czech children threatened by a polio epidemic.

The operation was termed the greatest health campaign in Czech history. The inoculated children form 18 per cent of the entire population.

Hungary, swept by a polio epidemic, also is using Canadian vaccine in a campaign to inoculate all its children.

Austria plans to start inoculations in September with 35,000 children up to eight years old.

Pea-Soup Fog Blankets Nfld.

GRAND BANK, Nfld. (CP)— Pea-soup fog, which has shrouded Newfoundland's south coast for a week, has delayed airplanes and caused two small ships to run aground.

Eastern Provincial Airways, which was to have introduced twice-weekly flights between St. John's and the French island of St. Pierre June 28, has been unable to get a plane in the air because of the fog.

The motor vessel Harold Guy, carrying coal here from North Sydney, ran aground during the weekend near Savoyard, Nfld., and sank within an hour. The ship's six crew members and three passengers escaped and rowed two dories to St. Pierre.

At Fox Cove Burin, the Lunenburg fishing boat Shermwn Zwieker ran aground in the fog and damaged a section of her keel. No one was injured.

U.S.-Canada To Share Coast Salmon Catch

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada and the United States today signed an agreement to regulate and share the valuable Pacific Coast pink salmon catch.

The pink industry, worth some $15,000,000 a year to this country, will be brought under authority of the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission which for some 20 years has regulated the huge sockeye salmon industry.

Justice Minister Fulton signed on behalf of Canada and U.S. Ambassador Livingston Merchant for the U.S. in a brief ceremony in Parliament's East Block. Fisheries Minister Maclean also was present.

It was the first international agreement signed on behalf of Canada by the new Conservative government since it took office June 21.

Under the agreement the pink catch will be divided equally "so far as practicable" between the fishermen of the two countries. The commission, now made up of three appointees of each country, will be increased by two members and a seven-year investigation will be undertaken by research agencies of both governments and the commission of pink stocks entering the Fraser River system.

The agreement, reached in Canadian-U.S. negotiations last October and ratified by Canada's last Parliament, also provides for action by both governments against the threat posed to salmon by off-shore net fishing in the Pacific.

Kennedy Annoys French Minister

PARIS (Reuters)—Defence Minister Andre Morice said Wed. American Senator John Kennedy had given new encouragement to Algeria's anti-French insurgents by his Senate speech urging independence for Algeria.

Morice said "I do not know if Mr. Kennedy sleeps well at night or has nightmares. But what I know well is that he thus brings to the Algerian National Liberation front the aid of encouragement with which too many people periodically furnish it, wittingly or not.

"What I know well, is that the result of this will be a great many more innocent victims and the prolongation of a tragedy which would have been ended long since if so many of our thoughtless friends heeded their words or their actions in an affair where the blood of others pays for their errors."

(The Massachusetts Democrat told the U.S. Senate Tuesday that the United States must abandon what he called its "head in the sands" policy and the "myth of the French empire."

("The problem is to save the French nation as well as free Algeria," Kennedy said.)

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—A U.S. air national guard C-47, carrying Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther and representative William Tuck (Dem. Va.) made a safe emergency landing at Byrd airport Tuesday night after circling the field with one landing gear locked in an up position.

Despite the many rumours to the contrary, there has been no change in the ownership of the Star Grocery. Due to business interests elsewhere, Mr. Greenwood will be spending much less time in Nelson. During his absence he has appointed me as manager. Henry Bentham will continue to manage the meat department. We both wish to assure you that there will be no change in policy. We shall continue to handle only the finest in quality and do our utmost to give you the service to which you have been accustomed.
YOURS RESPECTFULLY
