Briggs Fired By Commission

Bennett Says Charges "Planned Build-Up of Political Propaganda

VICTORIA (CP)—H. Lee Briggs, who startled British Columbia this week with an outspoken attack on the provincial government, was fired Friday from his post as general manager of the B.C. Power Commission.

The dismissal came a few hours after Mr. Briggs' third public criticism of provincial authorities in as many days.

The Manitoba-born power chief said he was called into the office of T. H. Crosby, chairman of the board of commissioners, and handed a letter of dismissal. "It was all done very nicely," he said.

Mr. Briggs, 53, dropped his first bombshell Wednesday when he accused Premier Bennett and his Social Credit government of trying to juggle the commission's finances to fulfill a political promise to pay off British Columbia's direct debt by 1960.

He followed up Thursday with a statement questioning the high offices held by Einar M. Gunderson, former minister of finance and the source and handling of political funds.

Earlier Friday he launched a tirade against the B.C. Electric Company, the province's chief power supplier, which he said is earning 12½ per cent more than is allowed under public utilities commission regulations.

Premier Bennett, in his first reply to the charges Friday, called them a "planned build-up of political propaganda." He said Mr. Briggs' statements are "completely wrong" and that he will reply in detail Monday.

DENIES CLAIM

A. Bruce Robertson, vice-president of B.C. Electric, described the claim that the company is earning more than it is allowed as "completely untrue." He said the company had earned more than 22 per cent less than the allowed figure last year.

In his initial statement, Mr. Briggs said he would not resign because he felt he was only doing his duty to the commission's 80,-000 customers. He said they would have to pay an extra $215,-000 a year if Premier Bennett went through with a plan to refinance some of the commission's loans.

He vowed at that time that if he were fired he would undertake a non-political tour of the province to tell the people the "rancid things" that go on in electric power matters.

No official announcement of the dismissal was made immediately by board chairman Crosby or the other two commissioners, H. J. MacLeod and H. H. Griffin. The three conferred with Premier Bennett Thursday night.

Premier Bennett said the attack against him centres around bond issues totalling $28,000,000 which have been made over the years by the government on behalf of the commission, which the commission has been repaying.

He said his enemies state he wishes the power commission to refinance this debt so he can claim, with political intent, that the province will soon be free of direct debt.

NO CONNECTION

But, "the $28,000,000 has nothing to do with the net debt," he said. "It has been shown separate (from direct provincial debt) in every budget since John Hart," coalition premier from 1941 to 1947.

"I've always said we'd pay the net debt off," said Mr. Bennett. "This $28,000,000 they kick about has nothing to do with the net debt."

REPRESENTING Nelson this week at a three-day conference at the Canadian Civil Defence College at Arnprior, Ont., has been Mayor T. S. Shorthouse, right. Other B.C. mayors in picture are Mayor John Dobson of Duncan, Mayor J. E. Fitzwater of Kamloops, and Mayor Frank Becker of Vernon, a former Nelson man. Called at the request of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, the conference reviewed latest civil defence developments. About 100 mayors attended.

Gray Also Given Five Years; 2 Firms Get Heavy Fines

By PETER BUCKLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP)—A former British Columbia cabinet minister and the man convicted of passing him bribes were each sentenced Friday to five years in prison for "befouling" politics and morality in the province.

Robert E. Sommers, 47, who sat on the highest councils of the province as minister of lands and forests, will serve his term in nearby Oakalla prison farm. So will H. Wilson Gray, the 46-year-old timber executive and father of six.

There was no immediate word about appeals.

Staring sharply at the accused as they sat grim - faced in the prisoner's dock, Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson told them:

"I do not enjoy hitting men when they are down, as both of you men are . . . The jury, not I, has found you both scoundrels.

ATMOSPHERE FOULED

"The evidence on which that finding must be based reveals that both of you have befouled the political and moral atmosphere of this province for a period of many years, resorting to every sort and shape of device to conceal your iniquities.

"The harm you, Sommers, have done to our traditional respect for government will, I hope be slight, because, thank God, the sort of behavior of which you have been convicted is not just exceptional but unique in our political history."

It was a dramatic climax to the longest criminal case in Canadian history. Charges that Sommers was bribed to use his influence in granting forest management licences on Crown land date back almost three years.

The trial went through 82 days of sittings, with six adjournments. The assizes jury which convicted the two men heard more than 2,000,000 words of testimony.

FIVE ONE-YEAR TERMS

Sommers was given five consecutive one-year terms on five charges of accepting bribes — a $607 rug, $3,500 in cash and $2,000 in bonds. A one-year sentence for conspiracy was made concurrent.

Gray, convicted of giving the rug, $3,000 in bonds and $8,500 in cash, was sentenced to eight one-year terms for bribery, five of them to be consecutive and three concurrent. There was an additional concurrent year for conspiracy.

Mr. Justice Wilson handed out stiff fines to two companies headed by Gray. Pacific Coast Services Limited was fined $15,-250 for giving bribes totalling $13,107 while Evergreen Lumber Sales was fined $4,000 for giving $3,000 in bribes.

The fines may mean ruin for the companies. Defence counsel said earlier that heavy fines could bankrupt the firms.

Imposing "marginal" fines of $125 on Sommers and $200 on Gray, or five and eight weeks respectively in prison, Mr. Justice Wilson said heavy fines "would really involve heavier punishment" for default because he was informed the men had no money.

WENT TO BONNER

The case has deep political implications in B. C. It began when Vancouver lawyer David Sturdy and accountant Charles Eversfield, former bookkeeper with Pacific Coast Services, went to Attorney-General Robert Bonner Dec. 7, 1955, with documents Eversfield took from Pacific Coast files.

No action was taken. Nine days later Mr. Sturdy tried to present his evidence to a royal commission on forestry, but it was disallowed although much of it became public record.

Within three days Sommers was suing Mr. Sturdy for libel and slander. In the B. C. legislature an uproar began during which Sommers resigned as minister Feb. 27, 1956, although holding his seat to represent Rossland-Trail.

In resigning, Sommers charged the case was a political plot, denied using his office for personal gain and said the accusations against him were "phony."

Sommers' slander action against Mr. Sturdy dragged on until finally it was dismissed Oct. 28, 1957, when the former minister failed to press his case.

A royal commission into the charges was set up and quickly disbanded when criminal charges were laid last November against Sommers and others. The former minister was arrested at the breakfast table in his Victoria home.

The case still is not complete. The jury which convicted Sommers, Gray and Gray's two companies left behind a series of disagreements which Mr. Justice Wilson said should be settled at the next assizes.

Timber broker Charles D. Schultz and his firm of the same name, Wilson Gray's brother, John, and B. C. Forest Products Limited were all charged in the case. All were acquitted on some counts but the jury could not reach a verdict on others.

Bears Ruining Telephone Poles

WARREN, N.H. (AP)—Bears are wrecking New England Telephone Company poles here in a misguided search for honey and the phone company doesn't know what to do about the problem.

The company said Thursday the bears hear the humming of the wires and are tricked into believing the noise is caused by bees.

Some 50 poles are under attack by the bruins, said Harold M. Robinson, plant personnel supervisor.

"Almost all of them show evidence of bear visitations but the worst ones have been cuffed out to a depth of two or three inches," he said. "What they do is stand on their hind legs and swat at the poles with their front feet."

East Germans Vote Sunday

BERLIN (Reuters)—About 12,-000,000 East Germans vote Sunday in a general election with the choice of voting only for or against a single list of approved candidates.

A new Volkshammer — lower house of Parliament—will be elected, along with 14 district parliaments and the East Berlin city parliament.

Most important is the 400-member Volkshammer, which makes the laws for the workers' and farmers' state, as East Germany's Communist leaders call their republic of 17,000,000 persons.

Klaus Fuch Evasive

LONDON (Reuters)—Dr. Klaus Fuchs was quoted Friday as saying that he does not hold "exactly the same views" he did when he passed atomic secrets to Russia.

The Daily Express quotes the 46-year-old scientist as saying this in an interview in Wakefield Prison. Fuchs, jailed in 1950, is due to be released next year after getting full remission on his 14-year sentence for good conduct.

Fuchs was asked whether he would do the same thing again in the same circumstances. He replied:

"That is a terribly, terribly difficult question. No, I don't hold exactly the same views now."

Asked whether he still is a convinced Communist, the scientist replied: "I am still a convinced Marxist but I can't now accept everything they do and say."

In answer to other questions he said that when free he will go to East Germany where his father, Prof. Emil Fuchs, 84-year-old theologian, lives.

5000 LICENCES SUSPENDED

VANCOUVER (CP)—More than 5000 vehicle drivers' licences have been suspended in B.C. this year, Attorney-General Robert Bonner said Friday.

Mr. Bonner told the B.C. Safety Council conference 8939 licences were suspended by direct order of the motor vehicle superintendent and 2446 on the recommendation of magistrates.

Teachers' Pay Dispute to Go To Arbitration

PENTICTON (CP) — Barring a last minute settlement today a teachers' salary dispute here will go to arbitration next week.

Conciliation has so far failed on the 1959 salary scale for the 115 teachers of school district 15, although school trustees and teachers have held three meetings with conciliators this week.

Divers Find Bombs at Coast

NANAIMO (CP) — Skin divers have discovered a number of Second World War aerial and mortar bombs in deep water off nearby Breechin Point and they say some apparently have not been disarmed.

Members of the Nanaimo Devilfish Club say they have been investigating the underwater dump for some time and assume the explosives either went overboard accidentally from a barge or were discarded by the services at the end of the war.

Jury Told Bomb's Power

VERNON (CP) — An assize court jury was told Friday that if a time bomb found in a Vernon hotel June 28 were to explode in the centre of the courtroom it would kill or injure 50 per cent of those present.

W. A. McKee of North Vancouver, an explosive authority employed by Canadian Industries Limited, made the statement during testimony at the trial of five men on charges of conspiracy to make an explosive substance.

Charged are John Antifaeff, Sam Konkin, Alex Konkin, John Nazaroff and George Woykin. All were arrested in the Winfield area of the central Okanagan after a rash of bombings and attempted bombings in the B. C. Interior.

The explosives expert testified that a brown sugary substance in the jar, which was found in the water tank of a toilet in the men's lavatory of the Allison Hotel beverage room contained "gelatin-type dynamite."

McKee said he supervised the destruction of the explosive after deciding it was highly dangerous.

He was one of seven Crown witnesses heard during the day and was in the witness box for one hour and 40 minutes, the longest testimony to be given so far in the trial before Mr. Justice Arthur Lord and a jury of 11 men and one woman.

Charles' Birthday

NEWBURY, England (Reuters) — Flags flew from public buildings throughout Britain and salutes were fired Friday in honor of the Prince of Wales on his 10th birthday.

But the stocky, blue-eyed son of the Queen remained at Cheam School for a normal day of classes.

Girl Weds Dead Lover

PARIS (AP)—"In the name of the law, I unite you with a shadow," the deputy mayor said.

Monique Guigueno and Sgt. Felix Guy Lenestour were thus married Friday, more than two years after Lenestour was killed in action in Algeria.

"His letters bore witness to an indestructible attachment for you," deputy mayor Jean Dubuc told the sobbing bride.

"I am sure, madame, that you will carry the name of Guy Lenestour with honor."

Lenestour was killed in July, 1956. In his pocket he had a pass to go to Paris and marry Miss Guigeno.

"I was desperate," she said. "I knew that I was going to have a baby which would never have a father."

The child was a boy, named Guy Claude.

Posthumous marriages to servicemen killed in Algeria are provided for under a law passed last November.

College Brief Goes To Cabinet Nov. 24

The Nelson Chamber of Commerce junior college committee's brief to the B.C. Cabinet urging establishment of a junior college in Nelson, will be presented Nov. 24.

This was announced by C. W. Ramsden, Chamber president, at a meeting of the Committee Friday.

The delegation, which is not complete, will include Ald. C. E. Bradshaw, Gordon Sargent, G. H. Lee, A. L. Cartier, Rev. Father L. J. Smith and Mrs. Walter Jacobson of Kinnaird.

The brief, prepared by G. H. Lee and A. L. Cartier, was unanimously approved with several minor changes by all those at the meeting. Mr. Ramsden said that Hon. W. D. Black, M.L.A. for Nelson-Creston, had made the appointment for the meeting. Mr. Ramsden also noted that the Chamber of Commerce, the Nelson school board and others are contributing money to pay the expenses of the delegation, and that if any organizations or persons wish to contribute to the fund, it is suggested that the donations be made at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Mr. Sargent, chairman of the Nelson school board, said he had been in communication with other school boards, and that they will send telegrams to be attached to the brief when it is taken to Victoria. The boards contacted were Castlegar, Arrow Lakes, Slocan, Kootenay Lake, Creston, Kimberley, Cranbrook, Trail and Fernie. Windermere board could not be contacted.

Also attached to the brief will be J. H. Coventry's report on the suitability of the old hospital as a junior college, and a representative schedule of the Nelson Civic Centre.

Father Smith, principal of Notre Dame College, congratulated the committee on its interest in education, and remarked that the need for well trained teachers will be the college's greatest problem.

New Prisons, Staff Needed in Reform Plan

OTTAWA (CP) — Establishment of a new penal reform section in the justice department was announced Friday.

Formation of the section grows out of the decision that the federal government take over responsibility for all convicts sentenced to terms of more than one year. Ottawa now has responsibility for those serving terms of two years or more.

The decision, taken at a federal-provincial penal reform conference here last month, means the federal government will have to build new prisons and recruit new prison staffs.

The new section, known as the correctional planning section will develop a program for custody, treatment and training aimed at rehabilitation of prisoners.

It will also plan the design and construction of a system of institutions which will permit carrying out a program of reform and rehabilitation as well as providing for secure custody and comfort for the prisoners.

ROME (AP) — David Friedenthal, 44-year-old American artist known for his sketches of Second World War battles and other news events, was found dead Thursday in his Rome apartment. Police said he had taken an overdose of barbiturates.

French Turn Down Free Trade Plan

PARIS (Reuters) — France Friday rejected a British outline for a 17-nation free-trade area in Western Europe but promised to seek other means of reducing European tariffs.

The French decision, taken at a cabinet meeting, came just before the close of a two-day conference of the Organization for European Economic Co - operation.

There were signs at the opening session Thursday that French opposition to the British proposal was weakening. Hope ran high that an agreement might be reached before the target date of Jan. 1 when the six-nation European common market goes into effect.

But French Information Minister Jacques Soustelle told reporters that France felt it is "not possible" to form a free trade area on the lines suggested by Britain.

The British plan aims at linking the six-nation common market group — France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg—with the other 11 members of OEEC.

Soustelle said wide differences in the tariffs of the 17 nations was a main obstacle.

Boy Denied Blood Transfusion Dies

ST. BONIFACE, Man. (CP)—The death Friday of a 14-year-old boy, denied blood transfusions because of the religious beliefs of his parents, appeared likely to bring Manitoba government action aimed at preventing a repetition of the case.

Attorney-General Sterling Lyon said after the death of 14-year-old Donald Holland of Neepawa that "the whole matter is under consideration by the government."

The boy was wounded in the leg Nov. 4 when a .22-calibre rifle accidentally discharged at his farm home. A severed artery was tied in an operation but his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Holland, who are members of Jehovah's Witnesses, would not allow transfusions to combat the serious loss of blood.

Unconscious, the boy lay packed in ice in St. Boniface Hospital while the government tried unsuccessfully to intervene.

The government went to court Thursday in an attempt to have the boy placed in custody of child welfare officials. However, the hearing was adjourned until 2:30 p. m. Friday at the request of counsel for the boy's parents.

The boy died at 4:20 a. m. Friday.

Mr. Lyon, asked what would happen to the government's case, said: "Now that the child has died, the action dies with it. . . ."

Premier Duff Roblin said: "We're considering very carefully what to do next. I'm afraid I can't make any announcement as to what action will be taken."

A coroner's jury was to view the body late Friday and Dr. J. M. Huot, coroner, said he saw no reason why the planned inquest could not continue next week.

The boy's father issued a statement saying:

"We loved our boy. We were willing and ready to accept any operation, any treatment that was advised by our doctors, short of disobeying God's law with respect to the sanctity of the blood."

Mr. Holland quoted from his Bible to explain the position he and his wife had taken. One quotation was from Acts 15:29: "That ye abstain from meats offered to idols, and from blood . . ."

U.S. Convoy Held Up Outside Berlin

mier Khrushchev Friday night announced intentions to make definite proposals for altering the status of divided Berlin.

During the day a three-truck American Army convoy was held 8½ hours outside Berlin by Russian soldiers. This was the first such harassment since Khrushchev demanded Monday that Western troops pull out of West Berlin.

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union does not intend to fight the West, and he would make his new Berlin proposal to the Western wartime allies of the Soviet Union.

A Moscow Radio broadcast quoted Khrushchev as saying the Soviet Union is preparing a document on the Berlin subject.

"We intend to make definite proposals to the countries that took part in the war against Hitlerite Germany and Fascist Italy," he said in a speech to Soviet Military Academy graduates at the Kremlin.

WON'T FIGHT WEST

"When we speak of Berlin we do not declare that we shall fight against the West. We have never said this.

"But we have said aggressors will be given a crushing rebuff if they attack the Soviet Union or socialist countries."

The Soviet premier said State Secretary Dulles recently reaffirmed what Khrushchev called readiness of Western powers to use armed forces to retain West Berlin.

That launched him on an another attack on U. S. military bases.

"American imperialists are ringing the Soviet Union with their military bases," he said. "In the language of chess players they often declare they want to check us—that is, place us in a tight spot.

"But it should be remembered that if one side wants to check, the other side in turn can not only check but checkmate. Nowadays one cannot resort to blackmail and threats with impunity as the imperialists like to do."

No Impropriety in Issuing Licences -- Bonner

VICTORIA (CP) — Attorney-General Robert Bonner broke his long silence on the Sommers bribery-conspiracy case Friday afternoon.

In a prepared statement, re*leased by his office during* his absence, Mr. Bonner answered the questions most often asked regarding his — and the government's — action in the case.

Mr. Bonner's statement was released several hours after Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson in Vancouver sentenced former lands and forests minister Robert Sommers to five years in Oakalla jail.

His first statement was in answer to questions of why he hadn't ordered a general investigation following an interview with lawyer David Sturdy — the man who started the wheels moving in the case — on Dec. 7, 1955.

In part of his answer, Mr. Bonner said: "Not a scrap of evidence in support of the declaration was presented at that time."

He also said that Mr. Justice A. E. Lord, following a royal commission on the subject, said that *"on the evidence and on state*ments of counsel . . . I find there has been no impropriety on the part of any person in connection with the issuance of any forest management licence".

AWAITED EVIDENCE

Question: What was the government's attitude following the December interview?

Answer: "The government took the position in the legislature . . . that it could not consider either a royal commission or criminal investigation until the evidence . . . was placed in official channels and properly examined.

"As a result of a statement in the House . . . evidence was offered during February, 1956, and arrangements immediately made for police investigation, which was conducted in B.C. and also in Canada and in California where (key Crown witness Charles) Eversfield was residing. It will be remembered that Eversfield returned to California immediately following the December interview."

What were the police investigating?

"Basically, the accusation was that five timber companies seeking forest management licences had obtained favors by financial dealings with the minister through third parties. Nearly 14 months of police investigation and the scrutiny of evidence by a host of chartered accountants and lawyers for the Crown has not revealed evidence of such a general scheme.

NO EVIDENCE

"There is in fact to this day no evidence that any timber company has improperly obtained a forest management licence."

Why was prosecution not ordered on receipt of the RCMP report in the fall of 1956?

"The report did not disclose the basis upon which a recommendation to prosecute those accused could be made, and no recommendation to prosecute came to me as a result."

What happened when Mr. Sommers' slander action against Mr. Sturdy was dismissed in October, 1957?

"The government decided to press the matter by royal commission, notwithstanding the objection which might be raised to this procedure when it involved a question of possible criminal liability."

Charges were laid on Nov. 20, a short time after the royal commission under then Chief Justice Gordon Sloan began sitting. Evidence was never presented at the commission hearings, taken up completely with legal arguments during its short life.

Mr. Bonner said he ordered im*mediate action when legal advisers* to the commission concluded "that sufficient evidence has been secured" to warrant "prosecution for conspiracy".

NEW YORK (CP) — The Canadian dollar was up 3-32 at a premium of $1.03 3-16 in terms of U.S. funds; a week ago $1.03 5-32 per cent premium. The pound sterling was up 1-16 at $2.80 11-16.

MONTREAL (CP) — The U. S. dollar closed at a discount of 3 3-32 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, down 3-32. Pound sterling $2.77, down 3-16. U. S. dollar bid 96⅞; asked 96 15-16.

HARBOR SPRINGS, Mich. (AP)—Forty-five Harbor Springs high school students are awaiting the results of an examination in a special eight-day course.

The students took the exam in the school's fourth-annual deer hunting class.

A passing grade entitles them to two days off from classes for a deer hunting trip. Michigan's deer season opens Saturday.

DETROIT (AP)—Used car salesman H. A. McFarland saw a man examining a late-model trade-in. Anxious to make a deal, McFarland gave the man the car keys and told him to take the vehicle for a trial spin.

Hours later, McFarland found the car parked several blocks away, steam pouring out of its engine.

Police are looking for the sales prospect and the car's radiator and hoses.

LEWISTON, Me. (AP)—A transaction involving transfer of a plot of land 6¼ by 12⅝ inches went through the county register of deeds' office Thursday.

The T. J. Murphy Fur Company leased that land for a year for $1 from the Manufacturers National Bank.

The fur firm is refacing its building with brick and a column of brick protruded onto the bank's property. The bank said it was willing to permit the transgression but went through the legal motions to protect future interests.

YMIR MAN DIES IN INFIRMARY

Alexander McMillan of Ymir died in Mount St. Francis infirmary Friday, aged 88.

Mr. McMillan was born in Ontario and came to British Columbia in 1911. He had been in Mount St. Francis for the last eight years.

He was a carpenter by trade.

Plebiscite Bold Step, Health Director Says

City Council has taken a "bold step" in calling a plebiscite on fluoridation of the city's water supply, Dr. C. J. G. MacKenzie, director of the Selkirk Health Unit, said Friday.

In asking the people to endorse this excellent health measure, the Nelson Council is again taking leadership among cities of the Kootenays, was Dr. MacKenzie's comment.

In order that voters can be informed of the advantages of fluoridation, the Health Unit is prepared to provide any citizen with accurate and up-to-date information.

"At the present time, about a million Canadians are enjoying the benefits of fluoridation. Thirty-three Canadian and six British Columbia municipalities ranging from large cities like Winnipeg to towns have availed themselves of this beneficial procedure," the director stated.

"In the Kootenays no municipality has yet supplemented its water supply, but it is hoped that Nelson will lead the way in this area. The Kootenays are one of the few places in British Columbia where few of the citizens benefit from fluoridated water. Nakusp has some fluoride in its water. Unfortunately not all Nakusp's water contains fluoride and this fact is reflected in a difference in the dental health of some people in Nakusp as opposed to others. Recently it has been found that the water supply in the Blaylock subdivision on the outskirts of Nelson has exactly the right amount of fluoride in its water. Undoubtedly in the years to come the people of this area will benefit greatly from this."

SURVEY TAKEN

Dr. MacKenzie told of a recent survey of a Grade 1 class in the city of Nelson. This was compared with an actual Grade 1 class in the city of Brantford, Ont., where fluoride has been added to the water since 1945. In this comparison the city of Nelson did not fare very well. Only one-third as many children in Nelson had perfect teeth compared with the children of Brantford. There were three times as many decayed teeth among the Nelson children and four times as many teeth needed to be extracted or had been extracted.

"This survey was very impressive, but regrettably it was impressive in favor of the class of children in Brantford," he remarked.

William Lister Dies at 72

William Lister of South Slocan died in Kootenay Lake General Hospital Friday at the age of 72.

He was born in Rassneau, England, in 1886 and came to Canada in 1907 to Elgin, Man., where he worked for the Canadian Pacific Railway. He went to Winlaw in 1922, also with the CPR.

In 1930 he joined the West Kootenay Power and Light Company, working at Bonnington, Corra Linn and Brilliant, and in 1944 started with the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company at Trail. He retired in 1951.

He is survived by his wife, three sons, Wallace in Trail, Bernie in Slocan City and Bobby at home; three daughters, Mrs. Bernice Aitchison in Edmonton, Mrs. Iris MacIntosh in Cranbrook and June at home; one sister, Mrs. Ethel Bradshaw of North Shore, Nelson, 10 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Teachers to Hear Guest Speakers

The Nelson District Teachers' convention committee has completed plans for the teachers' convention to be held in Nelson next Friday and Saturday.

Secretary S. T. Rogers has sent invitations to several of the smaller districts in the West Kootenay and boundary area. Conventions have already been held in several districts, and Nelson's is the only one slated to coincide with Young Canada Book Week.

D. J. Mason, Salmo elementary school, has been in charge of registration. All forms have been received from the Slocan Valley Teachers' Association and from a representative group of Kaslo teachers.

Workshop planning and data folders have been handled by E. G. Taylor.

Two guest speakers, chosen for their respective interest in reading and versatility in the field of communications, will address the teachers in separate sessions and will also address a public meeting to be held Friday night in L. V. Rogers High School. The guest speakers will be Miss Dorothy Lampard, University of Alberta, and Alan Thomas, University of B.C. extension department.

Convention entertainment is under the direction of G. E. MacNeill. The closing activity will be a buffet supper and social evening in western motif.

The Nelson Parent-Teacher Association will assist at the coming Book Fair and also at coffee during the convention.

Weather Delays Art Lecture

The weather has caused postponement of a lecture on art entitled "A Hundred Years of Public Taste", which was to have been given Friday night. The plane by which the speaker, Abraham Rogotnick of Vancouver, was to have arrived, was unable to land at Castlegar owing to poor weather conditions.

The Leon and Thea Koerner lecture was arranged under the joint auspices of University of B.C. and the Nelson School of Fine Arts.

"Well, I guess winter's here", is the comment you heard Friday as snow sat like white night caps on marigolds and chrysanthemums that had survived the frost so far. The children were wild with delight and lost no time in making slides on any sidewalk that had the slightest tilt to it. Scoop marks showed where a snowball had been gathered up and for a little while the whole world looked as though it were festooned with cotton wool.

There was many a housewife who thought of buying fruit for Christmas cakes, jolted to the realization that Christmas is only a month away. Thoughts of Christmas shopping were obviously running through the heads of shoppers—you could see them whirling round and round like neon lights — the thoughts, I mean.

I am grateful to the few trees that have refused to give up all their leaves as have some of the more fashionable ones. Some of them fall for the first wind that passes—my pear tree has been bereft of leaves for weeks. The big willow down at the corner still has a few tags of yellow ribbon—her seventh veil which she refuses to drop until she is sure winter isn't fooling. Then there is a little elm that stands almost in the shadow of the big willow—it makes a pleasant contrast with its burnt red coloring.

And speaking of my pear tree, I must confess I shook off its few remaining leaves while I pruned it. Usually I do this in February, but I came upon a friend pruning his trees a couple of weeks ago. He said he prefers to prune his on a sunny day at this time of year because sometimes he doesn't get around to it early enough in the Spring before the sap starts coming up and to prune then is detrimental to the tree. I took his word for it, for he has gardened for a good many years. Besides, the pear tree sits outside the kitchen window and usually looks so unkempt all winter long with its crop of waterspouts and straggly ends looking as though it badly needs a haircut, that it bothers me.

With roses banked with leaves, outdoor water turned off and the rockery cut back, I feel more or less ready and resigned to winter and in a little over a month the days will start getting longer again, say I, trying to sound cheerful. Well, it's a great day for the skiers anyway—tally ho and all that!

Trail Alderman to Carry Hopes Of CCF for By-Election Victory

TRAIL — CCF standard bearer in the forthcoming provincial by-election in Rossland-Trail is Ald. F. E. (Buddy) DeVito, 38, named Friday night at the party's nominating convention.

He is the first candidate in the field for the vacancy left by former lands and forests minister Robert E. Sommers. Liberals and Conservatives will choose their candidates today, and the Social Credit party on Monday.

A large crowd packed the Mine-Mill hall Friday night in what was termed one of the most enthusiastic conventions ever held by the CCF in this riding.

WINS CONTEST

Ald. DeVito polled 101 of 131 votes cast in a race with Kenneth Gaylor of Fruitvale for the candidacy. Percy Berry of Rossland was named from the floor but withdrew his nomination.

The new candidate who said he hoped to conduct "a most vigorous campaign", named Mrs. Betty Donaldson as his campaign manager and Harry Lefevre as treasurer.

Three CCF MLAs and one MP were on the speakers' platform, and while there was criticism of the Social Credit government, there was virtually no mention of Mr. Sommers, sentenced in Vancouver earlier in the day to five years' imprisonment for bribery and conspiracy.

Randolph Harding, MLA for Kaslo-Slocan, chairman of the meeting, expressed confidence that the CCF was going to become the next government of B.C.

"Despite what the government is saying, I believe that a provincial election is much closer than they think," he said.

Leo Nimsick, MLA for Cranbrook, criticized Social Credit government policies in regard to power. He said a CCF government would supply public power to unelectrified areas at a nominal cost.

"INTEGRITY INVOLVED"

In the coming by-election, principle and integrity are involved, Mr. Nimsick said.

"You must demonstrate that you are not satisfied with the way the present government has carried on for the last few years. Things have been going on and are being swept under the carpet by the government from the premier down."

"We have in the CCF the ultimate goal. Today we have reached the age of abundance, and should not have to worry about food, clothing and shelter as we do."

Robert Strachan, CCF provincial leader, said he would not spend time "running down" the government and individuals.

"I think by this time you must be well aware of the shortcomings of the government in B.C. What this government has tried to do is just what the Liberal government tried to do — destroy the ethics of Parliament."

On power development, he said that the Premier was bypassing this area in favor of development of power in the north.

"A vote for the CCF would show the premier that his power policy is wrong."

H. W. Herridge, MP for Kootenay West, said B.C. was coming to a turning point which would result in a CCF government.

Ald. DeVito, who has been extremely active in Legion affairs, is on the hospital board as the city's representative. He is married and has three children.

F. E. Wheeler, Well-Known As Organist, Dies

Francis Edgar Wheeler, retired employee of the city of Nelson and organist of St. Saviour's Pro-Cathedral, died in Trail - Tadnac Hospital Friday after a brief illness. He was 71.

Mr. Wheeler was born in Buckinghamshire, England, and educated in West Kirby Grammar School, Cheshire.

In 1908 he came to Canada, going first to Vancouver, and in 1918 he moved o Nelson.

He played he piano at the Gem and Starland theatres in the silent movie days, and conducted the Glee Club and Choral Society. He had been organist at St. Saviour's since 1945.

He worked for the city of Nelson for 25 years.

Photography was his favorite hobby.

Surviving are his wife, May; a son, Edgar Wheeler in Vancouver; two daughters, Mrs. M. A. Martin in Trail and Mrs. Jack Kilpatrick in Nelson, and seven grandchildren.

SCOTTISH RITES LADIES NIGHT HERE TONIGHT

A banquet and ball will mark Ladies Night of the Nelson Masonic Lodge Scottish Rites tonight, with Kootenay District guests expected from Trail, Nakusp and Cranbrook, weather permitting.

The annual affair will be held in the Silver Room of the Hume Hotel.

Greater Interest in Civil Defence Noted

Greater interest is being shown in civil defence than ever before in West Kootenay, a fairly well attended meeting of the local organization learned in the old post office Friday night.

Plans were discussed for setting up a complete control centre in Nelson if suitable quarters can be found. Ald. C. E. Bradshaw, Mrs. W. W. Ferguson and J. A. Wilson will be attending a course in planning and control in case of emergency in Victoria starting Nov. 24.

Plans are now being made to conduct a class in radiation and monitoring in Nelson starting Jan. 5. Dr. W. K. Massey and Don McKinnon will be the instructors.

Mrs. E. H. Edgar gave an interesting report on her recent trip to Arnprior, Ont., where she attended the Civil Defence College and took a course in mass feeding.

J. A. Wilson, area co-ordinator, reported that a home nursing course is being held at Greenwood with 36 women from Greenwood and district under St. John Ambulance instructor Mrs. K. Markle, and that a general course in civil defence under provincial instructors is being held in Greenwood and Grand Forks, two nights a week at each place. A home nursing course is starting in Salmo Monday with Mrs. Ethel White as instructor.

Miss Flora McLean of Nelson is also conducting a home nursing course for junior girls under Red Cross and plans a senior class after the first of the year of senior women under St. John Ambulance.

Physiotherapist Due Monday

Nelson Branch, Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society will have a new physiotherapist arriving Monday.

She is Miss Ann Featherstone, who trained in England and has been working for CARS in Manitoba for the past several months.

With a shortage of physiotherapists in Canada, Nelson and district patients have been without aid, except for one day each week from the Trail physiotherapist, since May when Mrs. Eddie Hearn of Salmo, the former Miss Dorothy Smith, left to be married.

"CARS, as an agency of the Community Chest, is most anxious to bring relief to arthritis and rheumatic sufferers, and it is through the combined efforts of our local Community Chest fund, our doctors and physiotherapist, together with a most co-operative women's auxiliary, that the board is able to carry out worthwhile work," Mrs. C. E. Bradshaw, president, said Friday.

Wins Scholarship

A former Nelson navy cadet has received a $250 Navy League scholarship, it was learned Friday.

Lawrence J. (Larry) Fournier, now attending University of B.C., was a member of the Hampton Grey VC Sea Cadet Corps for four years. Capt. A. W. Baker advised the corps Friday that he had been awarded the scholarship.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Fournier, former well known Nelson residents now living in Vancouver.

RCMP Administrative Building To Have Rows of Glass, Color

An ultra modern building will rise on the old Strathcona Hotel site as the administrative building for the RCMP subdivision.

The federal government has called tenders for a Dec. 10 deadline, hence the contract will possibly be awarded by Christmas.

The building will measure 50 by 111 feet, and will have a full basement and three floors above. The main entrance will be located on Stanley Street, and there will be a side entrance on Victoria Street.

SHOOTING RANGE

In the basement will be cell blocks, offices, boiler room and storage room. The main (first) floor will be devoted principally to offices and a shooting range.

Feature of the second floor will be a large garage, with nine entrances from the parking lot parallel with the lane between Victoria and Silica Streets. The asphalt - paved parking lot, 40 by 110 feet, will have an entrance from Stanley Street, and will be surrounded by retaining walls. The second floor will also have offices facing onto Victoria Street.

The third floor will consist mainly of living quarters. Roof over the garage section will be at the third floor level.

ROYAL BLUE

The east elevation facing Stanley Street will be of architectural concrete. There will be two vertical rows of windows the full height of the building, having spandrels of porcelain enamel in royal blue. The RCMP coat of arms will be set on a porcelain enamel background over the entrance canopy, and a metal cornerstone plaque will be laid.

The west elevation will be of architectural concrete except for some glazed brick in spandrels between windows.

The north elevation on Victoria Street will be 40 feet high and have continuous windows on each floor, the spandrels being treated with glazed brick.

Nine roll-up doors to the garage will appear on the south elevation, and a continuous line of windows above on the third floor with glazed brick spandrels below and above.

Stairways will have terrazzo floors and bases similar to those of the Gray Building, vinyl plastic dados and metal rails.

Pearson Sees Future Hope

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson has completed a five-week cross-country tour "vastly encouraged" with the prospects of the Liberal Party.

"I have found a great revival in the party, a new spirit of energy and enthusiasm," said the former diplomat whose followers went down to a stunning defeat in the March 31 general election.

"There still is a lot of hard organizational work ahead but I've had some wonderful and stimulating meetings across the country," he said in an interview. "We have a future."

The Liberal Federation's 260-member advisory council opens a three-day meeting here Monday to pick some new leaders and prepare more groundwork for the next election, expected in three years.

Indications are that instead of selecting just a new president to succeed Ottawa lawyer Duncan K. MacTavish, now retiring, the federation may select two men, one as a sort of chairman of the board and another as party director or president.

Mr. Pearson, who visited about 15 cities in his trip, said he discussed problems not only with political colleagues, but as many non-political persons as he could.

"There is a great deal of anxiety in the country," he said.

"The biggest anxiety is over winter unemployment. There also is concern over inflation. Inflation amid recession and unemployment is one of the most dangerous problems the economy faces."

Hi-Life

By JIM ROGERS

Hi, once again from Hi-Life.

Last weekend as you probably know, the Bombers and Bomberettes travelled to the East Kootenay. Though the teams were not successful, the games were very close and hard fought. The Bomberettes, however, tied Creston 25-25. The trip was enjoyed by all who went. Our teams had some unsuspected rooters from home at Kimberley — Bud Fieldhouse, John Oakley, Mike Baravalle, Fred McLelland and Bob McCandlish.

Saturday night in Kimberley an incident took place which concerned one of the Bomberettes. Actually it was early Sunday morning and Mike Borch and I were heading towards our host's house. We had only walked a couple of blocks when we heard Lynn Waldie calling us. She was lost, and couldn't find the house where she was staying. Luckily Bert McKay, a Kimberley student, came by and took her to the right house.

To those of you in Creston and Kimberley who read this column, and who made our stay so enjoyable, I would like to thank you on behalf of the Nelson teams. I would also like to thank our bus driver, Mr. Wylie.

Three-Year Test of Fertilizers On Alfalfa Completed at Lister

CRESTON — A. J. Allan of Nelson, District Agriculturist, extension branch, B. C. Department of Agriculture, and C. H. Nelson, field crops branch, with the co-operation of J. Huscroft at Lister, have completed a three-year test of fertilizers on alfalfa. The alfalfa field used for this fertilizer test was newly cleared. It was seeded in 1955 to alfalfa without a nurse crop. In 1956 half the field received an application of 10 per cent borated gypsum at 300 pounds per acre.

Three rates of superphosphate were used alone and in combination with nitrogen and nitrogen and potash. Gypsum was applied at one rate and flowers of sulphur at two different rates. As gypsum had already been applied on one half of the field the test was repeated on this area using nitrogen, phosphorus and potash combinations.

Square yard clips were taken twice a year. Samples of the green forage were dried to hay weight and all yields reported as tons of hay.

Part of the field was fertilized annually for the three years. One part was fertilized in 1956 but not in 1957 to measure residual effect.

This area was fertilized again in the spring of 1958. Total yields for three years were compared and also total yields for two years.

Comparing the three rates of superphosphate on the no-gypsum area, yields tended to increase somewhat at the 400 pound rate. Nitrogen tended to increase the yields slightly but potash had a tendency to decrease the yields slightly below the nitrogen-phosphorus plots. In all cases, however, yields were increased over the check plot.

On the borated gypsum plots the highest total for the three years annual application was from the 200 pounds of superphosphate. With annual applications of gypsum the yield was below that on the plot receiving only gypsum in 1956. It would appear that the recommended fertilizer treatment under conditions of fair fertility would be to apply 300 pounds of gypsum which should be sufficient for four years. In addition an application of superphosphate at 200 pounds per acre should be applied every second year, Mr. Allan states.

In the three years this application yielded five tons more hay than the average of those plots receiving no treatment. With superphosphate at $58.60 per ton and gypsum at $19 per ton the total cost of the fertilizer treatment would be $14.57. With hay selling even at $20 per ton the economic returns are "quite obvious." At these prices an expenditure of $14.57 has returned $100 over a three year period.

Following the establishment of this fertilizer test an additional test was initiated on an old alfalfa field of very low fertility on the farm of E. Betker. In the Betker trials 11-48-0, a much more economical source of phosphate, was compared to superphosphate. The 11-48-0 treatment plus gypsum was the highest yielding plot.

Generally speaking 80 pounds 11-48-0 per acre may replace 200 pounds of superphosphate per acre provided applications of gypsum are made every two or three years. This corresponds to the fertilizer recommendations in the 1958 publication "Fertilizer Recommendations for Southeastern B. C." where 100 to 150 pounds 11-48-0 is recommended annually and 10-20 pounds boron plus 200 pounds gypsum every second year.

Two hundred pounds of superphosphate costs $5.86 whereas 80 pounds of 11-48-0, providing same amount of phosphate, costs only $3.72. If the soil is starved for sulphur which is supplied in the most economical form by gypsum then 11-48-0 will not produce satisfactory results unless applied in conjunction with the gypsum.

The gypsum application required periodically provides a convenient means of applying boron which is vital to successful alfalfa production. For this purpose a 10 per cent borated gypsum could be applied, Mr. Allan further states.

Centennial Group Hands Over Reins

PROCTER — The Centennial committee which has been instrumental in pushing Procter's Centennial project has relinquished its reins of office to the regular hall committee. Mrs. C. A. Brady as secretary-treasurer will continue in that capacity to see the completion of the hall improvements. President is Colin Major, vice-president Charles Ferguson, auditors Mrs. Cy Fitchett and Mrs. Alec J. Garner, and auxiliary members Hallam MacKinnon and P. T. Carroll. The entertainment committee of William Henke, Mrs. M. D. MacKinnon and Mrs. Peter Iwanik have planned a dance for Nov. 22.

The retiring committee led by Mrs. Fitchett achieved outstanding success in both the actual building project and the century celebrations. Climaxing the term's actiivties were queen crowning ceremonies, a fashion show of 100 years of changing styles, a highly successful Centennial costume ball and a colorful parade opening the annual flower show and fair.

A projection room has yet to be finished but this grew out of the original plans, and plumbing has yet to be installed in the new rest rooms. Additional cloak rooms have been added to the front of the community hall and cement steps built. Help and hauling were voluntary.

A booklet on Procter's beginning and progress has been compiled by Mrs. Nick Dosenberger.

Train Derailed, Blair, Montana

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — The Great Northern Railway said its Western Star passenger and mail train was derailed Friday near Blair, Mont., with six cars turning on to their sides.

The railroad's general safety supervisor, J. T. Andrew, was on the train and reported to GN headquarters here that some passengers were injured.

However, Andrew said he believed none of the injuries was serious enough to require medical attention.

The GN estimated that about 100 passengers were on the 16-car train, eastbound from Seattle, Wash., to Chicago.

The cars which tipped onto their sides were a coffee shop-dormitory, one diner, two sleeping cars and two mail cars. The railroad said it had no information on what caused the derailment.

GOV'T DEFINITELY CALLING TENDERS

Confirmation of a report that tenders will be called for further work on the Salmo-Creston cutoff was received by The Daily News Friday from Hon. W. D. Black, Nelson-Creston MLA and provincial secretary.

This followed an earlier announcement quoting Premier Bennett and highways minister Hon. P. A. Gaglardi as saying that engineering reports have just been received and that the government is in the process of calling tenders.

District organizations have been urging that more work be done on the cutoff.

O. L. Reinecke Dies in Calgary

LONGBEACH — Word has been received here of the death in Calgary of Otto Lupton Reinecke, 87, former president of the Alberta Pharmaceutical Association, and a former resident of Longbeach.

A well known Claresholm, Alta., druggist before he moved to Calgary, Mr. Reinecke was a son of Karl Reinecke, one of a band of Hanoverians who broke away from Germany and swore allegiance to Queen Victoria. They fought in the Crimean War, and for their valor in the field were offered land in the colonies. Most chose Canada, Karl Reinecke, New Brunswick. In St. John's General Hospital hangs a picture given to him by his friend, Florence Nightingale.

Otto Lupton Reinecke was born in St. John and came west as a young man to Calgary and Fernie. In 1908 he established the Claresholm Pharmacy which he operated until his retirement in 1948.

He was past president and an honorary member of the Alberta Pharmaceutical Association, and a life member of the Canadian Pharmaceutical Association.

He owned property at Longbeach from 1946 to 1956, spending summer months here, and he and his wife, who died in 1956, were strong supporters of the Anglican Church.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. J. Rowland Hill of Calgary, and two grandsons, Michael and Bryce.

Funeral services were held in Calgary, Ven. Archdeacon E. H. Maddocks officiating.

Apartment Building Planned For Cranbrook

CRANBROOK — Fabro Building and Supply Company Ltd. of Kimberley, is in the process of applying for a building permit in Cranbrook for an apartment house to be located on its residential area property at the corner of Twelfth Avenue and First Street south, across the lane from the provincial government building. This will be the city's first residential apartment building.

Plans, prepared by architect Paul Smith of Trail, are for a two-story frame and stucco building 82 by 76 feet on concrete basement, with yard allowance for off-street parking.

The building will have four units of one-bedroom apartments and 10 of the two-bedroom apartments, each also including living room, kitchen and bathroom. The basement will house boiler room and caretaking quarters.

Outside will be finished in combination stucco and cedar siding.

If weather is favorable, the company plans to undertake concrete work immediately and as such actual building necessary and possible so that work can continue on the structure over the winter months.

Fewer Babies Born In '58

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's October baby crop dropped by 1053 from the corresponding month in 1957, pushing the total for the first 10 months of this year 431 births below last year's January-October figure.

The bureau of statistics reported Friday that birth registrations in the month totalled 42,639, down from 43,692, while the 10-month total dropped to 401,077 from 401,508.

All provinces except Nova Scotia, Quebec, Manitoba and Saskatchewan recorded fewer births in October.

Registrations of marriages and deaths also declined in October — marriages to 15,699 from 15,965 and deaths to 11,641 from 12,605. In the 10-month period, marriages slipped to 114,359 from 114,474 and deaths to 111,743 from 113,774.

East Kootenay Christmas Trees Going To Coast For First Time

CRANBROOK — The season's first railway carloads of Christmas trees were shipped by the Canadian Pacific Railway Thursday consigned for points in Kansas and Iowa. The shipping start is at the usual time and shipments are expected to go out at an increasing rate through the rest of the month.

Total rail consignments for the 1957 season came to 150 cars from Cranbrook and Canal Flat area, but this total did not include shipments from Elko and Fernie districts. Cranbrook shipments cover about half-a-million trees.

The Christmas tree industry in East Kootenay is pursuing an uncertain course this year because of differences between cutters and the purchasing companies. American buyers after last season organized to establish a minimum standard for acceptable trees based on the number of whorls, luxuriance of needles and symmetry of the individual tree. Under these regulations, inspections for this purpose are in the buyers' yard, and growers have protested in some cases heavy yard culling which they claim reduces returns and in some cases resulted in loss to the grower.

This, coupled with some appearance of needle blight in the usual Christmas tree stands, has made deliveries slower than in previous seasons and yards have not reached the usual mid-November volume.

Price to cutters per bale this year is $1.40 less stumpage of four eight-foot trees, $1.00 for 10-foots which have two in a bale and 50 sents for singles of 12 feet. In addition general allowance is three cents a tree for delivery to the yard of acceptable trees.

One development from the cutter-buyer conflicts has been establishment of a yard near Cranbrook by a Vancouver firm of buyers, marking the first year East Kootenay Christmas trees will be on sale on the coast market. Weather conditions of temperature extremes and drought make interior trees resistant to needle dropping for long periods.

Deliveries have been slow in all yards so far this season and trees will have to come in a large volume the rest of the month to approach last year's total. Operators report that yard workers for trimming, tagging and baling have been in good supply this season, and obtaining trucks for transporting trees to the yards has presented no problem.

B. C. Forest Service annual report for 1957 lists Christmas tree expert from Nelson Forest District at $1, 725,898 trees to an approximately value of $862,949 compared with a ten-year average for the province of $878,922.

What effect the December 1 non-operating railway employees' strike will have on the industry over the next couple of weeks is being watched with interest.

Seek Toronto Fire-Bug

TORONTO (CP) — Arson squad members of the Toronto police are searching for a firebug believed responsible for 19 fires in the city's east end of recent weeks.

The fires have caused more than $50,000 damage and threatened the lives of 140 persons.

The arson squad said a suspect was nearly caught by firemen last week as he attempted to uncouple one of their hoses at a blaze that forced 140 persons to vacate their homes.

Agriculture In Inonoaklin To Be Topic

EDGEWOOD — The Inonoaklin Valley Farmers' Institute in co-operation with the extension branch of the B. C. Department of Agriculture is sponsoring agriculture lectures and discussions relative to the agricultural problems of the Inonoaklin Valley and surrounding area.

The meetings will be held at Edgewood Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Main topics to be discussed will be livestock production, dairying and vegetable crops, with the emphasis being placed on beef or sheep production.

Agricultural specialists from Nelson, Kamloops and Kelowna will be participating along with the district agriculturist for the area.

Belgrade Bans Djilas' Book

BELGRADE (Reuters) — The Yugoslav government has banned importation of an autobiography written by Milovan Djilas, jailed former Yugoslav Communist leader.

The book, Land Without Justice, an autobiography of his youth, was published in New York this year.

Djilas, a former vice-president who was once second only to President Tito, was sentenced to nine years in jail a year ago for "hostile propaganda against the state" after the publication of another book, The New Class.

New Kinnaird Bridge Would Speed Service From Castlegar Airport

It is understandable that some people in Trail should feel that planes should land at Columbia Gardens airport, which is nearer than that at Castlegar, but nearness, though highly desirable, is not always the decisive factor. The most important factor in any business operation is economy, and to have two airports serving the same set of customers would be very uneconomic.

The Castlegar airport lies midway between Nelson and Trail. All those who wish to go by air to the East or West from the area from Kaslo to Rossland make use of it. To move even one flight to Columbia Gardens would impose a certain amount of extra travelling time on people outside Trail and Rossland. It might even cause some people to look for another means of transportation, and plane travel is not so dense in this area that the CPA could afford to lose customers.

Quite apart from that, but very vital to the success of any airline, is a well-found airport. The days of passenger planes landing on rough ground are over. With increased weight and speed planes need tarmac. Before a pilot takes his plane in the air he must have weather reports, and this means that there must be control offices with highly expensive equipment and trained personnel.

In any case it is quite unlikely that the Department of Transport would grant permission to improve Columbia Gardens to the point where it would be serviceable to CPA planes, since the Castlegar airport has not always been able to get all it needs.

But if travelling time is important —and we cannot see that a half hour or so should make much difference— then the logical thing is to find some way to speed up the present service— not with the planes but with the road transport. This can probably be effected when a new bridge across the Columbia at Kinnaird is built. The total mileage may not much decrease, but the travelling time because of the better river crossing should be considerably less, and place the Castlegar airport in driving time to downtown Trail approximately the same as the Waneta port.

Obviously, therefore, Trail should continue to press strongly for prompt work on the Kinnaird bridge. That it is very necessary for the completed No. 3 Highway traffic has long been known—that it will also shorten the time to the airport might also be used as an argument to rush the Columbia bridge crossing at Kinnaird.

Why No Visitors

The persons or things referred to in the heading are other forms of intelligent life which may be assumed to exist in the Milky Way galaxy of stars. This assumption is becoming more and more common among scientists as a result of changes in theories respecting the origin of planetary systems, and the origin of life. If these theories are reasonably close to the mark, there must be a great number of planets, possibly millions, within our galaxy of approximately 100,000,000,000 stars, which are inhabited by some form of intelligent life. Why, then, haven't they visited us?

The question has been taken up in an interesting manner by Isaac Asimov, a U.S. chemist and a leading writer of science-fiction stories. In a factual article in Astounding magazine, he notes that on the average the stars in the central regions of the galaxy are older than those in the region of our sun. We are located in one of the galaxy's spiral arms about two-thirds of the distance from the centre to the edge. Due to the greater age of the central stars, he suggests, it is probable that life has been much longer established there than out here. Man's civilization is only 8000 years old, yet already he is reaching for the moon and the other planets. This suggests that older civilizations of older forms of intelligent life in the central regions of the galaxy may already have learned to travel between the stars.

Well, then, assuming star travel by other intelligent beings, why haven't they visited us? One reason may be sheer distance. We are thousands of light years from the central regions. Another might be chance: Among millions of inhabited planets we not yet have been discovered. On the other hand, Asimov suggests, we may have been discovered and left alone or we may be under observation without knowing it. Who on earth can say?

Mr. Asimov is being speculative on the basis of observed fact and current theory. He could be wrong. Yet it is a sobering thought that probably we are not alone.

EDUCATION IN DEPTH

It comes as a surprise to note that in the eyes of no less a person than Mr. Khrushchev the Soviet school system is far from satisfactory. In essence, Mr. Khrushchev's complaint is that Russian public schools prepare pupils only for going on to high school and not for really important jobs like digging ditches.

Interpreting the News

By LLOYD McDONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Western diplomats at the United Nations are wondering whether the Russians are interested more in words than deeds at the separate big three disarmament conferences in Geneva.

The Geneva talks now have been under way for almost two weeks in the field of nuclear test suspension, and since Nov. 10 a separate discussion has dealt with technical means of preventing surprise attacks on any world power.

One factor that has caused not only doubt but possibly confusion over the Geneva discussions has been the separation of these issues, which fall generally into an over-all disarmament picture.

The Western position clung to solidly by Britain and the United States with the backing of most other Allied powers—with the notable exception of France—has been that any agreement on disarmament issues under scrutiny at Geneva should be treated as an approach to an over-all solution of the long-standing problem of reducing the world's warmaking capacity.

Russia, on the other hand, wants certain phases of agreement dealt with as separate issues—and from this position has resulted the often-puzzling meeting lineup at Geneva.

Why, ask the Western-minded groups, hsould two sets of meetings be necessary when the principle of defence against surprise attack is obviously only one facet of the whole nuclear testing issue? Nuclear tests themselves, in this view, could be construed by either side as a preliminary to a surprise invasion by the other.

But for purposes of their own the Moscow leaders have insisted on the separate sets of conferences in the Swiss city—and in both cases have been using the big three forum as a means of aiming propaganda at the uncommitted countries who feel there is a danger in the nuclear test situation itself, if it is allowed to continue.

For a time, British and American circles were cheered by the fact that Russia's First Deputy Foreign Minister, Vasily Kuznetsov, was taking over as his country's Geneva delegation head. This seemed to reflect the importance Russia was placing in the talks, which began after the UN tacitly dropped debate on disarmament to give these discussions a chance for fulfilment without the distraction of heated statements in the General Assembly.

Kuznetsov, however, has taken a propaganda approach at Geneva. Even though the meetings themselves have been closed — to allow private agreements to be worked out —the Soviet delegate in outside interviews has pursued the Moscow separatist line and perhaps has contributed as much as any other factor to the current deadlock there.

Russia is making capital also of the virtual French boycott of the Geneva session, since France is one of the three big Western powers and as such would be welcomed as a participant. But France apparently is annoyed at the Anglo-American contention that no powers beyond themselves and Russia should go into production of atomic weapons, and Premier de Gaulle's government is believed on the point of announcing successful production of its own nuclear bomb.

One explanation offered for Russia's attitude at Geneva came this week from a Western diplomat at the UN familiar with both British and U.S. thinking. This source expressed the belief that Russia sincerely believes the two major Western powers are trying to slip over a control and inspection program, under which foreign agents would be able to infiltrate the Soviet Union, without the slightest intention of offering in return a guarantee of the ending of nuclear testing for all time.

So far the U.S. and Britain are standing on their limited one-year suspension offer—at least until the Geneva talks end, as is the fear now, in disagreement. The current Russian attitude as seen from the UN makes that, unfortunately, almost a foregone conclusion.

Green Chides U.S. Food Barter Changes

OTTAWA (CP) — Acting Prime Minister Green Friday expressed Canada's regret at changes in the United States food barter program, saying they may bring an increase in the disposal of American farm surpluses at the expense of Canadian export trade.

The Canadian government, he said, will be following closely the development of U.S. barter transactions, keeping in mind American assurances that the program would be operated to avoid, where possible, adverse effects on Canadian trade.

The government would make representations to Washington if such action were found necessary.

Mr. Green's statement:

"The Canadian government regrets the changes in the United States barter program which have been announced.

"While there has not yet been time to judge the full implications for Canadian trade of these changes they may foreshadow an increase in the rate of U. S. surplus disposals at the expense of ordinary commercial sales which would be a matter of concern to the Canadian government.

REFERS TO DROP

"Assurances were given to Canadian ministers in October, 1957 concerning U.S. surplus disposal activities, and in the last 12 months there has been a substantial reduction in U. S. barter transactions.

"It is our hope and expectation that under the revised program there will be no retreat from the principle that these barter transactions should not interfere with normal marketings and we trust that when they are under consideration Canadian interests will be constantly borne in mind.

"The minister of agriculture, Hon. Douglas S. Harkness, discussed the proposed changes in the barter program with the Hon. Ezra Benson, U. S. secretary of agriculture, and received an assurance that the program will be operated to avoid, so far as possible, adverse effects on Canadian trade. The government will be following closely the actual development of U. S. barter transactions from this point of view.

"In the meantime, it is intended to make such further representations to the U. S. government as may seem appropriate when we have considered more fully the implications for Canada of today's announcement."

Howe Sound Hopes To Reopen Mine

VANCOUVER (CP) — Howe Sound Company still hopes to reopen its huge copper mine at Britannia Beach, 16 miles north of here.

F. A. McGonigale of New York, vice-president of the company, said here Thursday the opening of the mine, closed since March 1, depended on economic conditions.

He said the increase in copper prices in the last few weeks had improved the situation, but he pointed out the company now would have to pay a U.S. copper duty of 1.7 cents a pound on any copper shipped from Britannia to the U.S.

The duty automatically went into effect on July 1, when the price of copper fell below 25 cents a pound. Copper now is bringing about 30 cents a pound.

"We hope someday Britannia will be back in production," he said. "It's a wonderful property."

Split Groups In S.A. Trials

PRETORIA, South Africa (CP)— The 91 persons who formerly faced trial for treason are to be split in two groups and tried on other unspecified charges, the government announced Friday.

The government dropped the treason charges, based on an alleged conspiracy to set up a Communist state, after the 91 had been held nearly two years.

An announcement in the government Gazette said the defendants will be tried in groups of 30 and 61. The trial of the first group will start Jan. 19 and that of the second April 20.

The Gazette did not say what the charges would be or why there would be two trials.

The announcement said the trials would be conducted without jury by a special criminal court composed of three Supreme Court judges.

They are Mr. Justice Rumpff and Mr. Justice Bekker, both of the Transvaal division of the court, and Mr. Justice Kennedy of the Natal division.

They were the judges in the earlier trial which ended last month when the Crown withdrew the indictment after defence attacks on the prosecution for failing to define the alleged offences.

When the trial originally began earlier this year there were 156 defendants of all races, but later the charges were withdrawn against 15.

Canada's Wheat Exports Drop, U.S. Crop Up

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's wheat exports declined slightly in the first two months of the current crop year while those of the United States rose.

Canadian exports dropped to 44,500,000 bushels in the August-September period from 51,600,000 in those two months last year and 57,100,000 in 1956, the bureau of statistics reported Friday.

U.S. shipments increased to 70,300,000 bushels from 68,100,000 last year, though they were down from the 76,700,000 in 1956.

These shifts took place amid indications of an over-all decline in the world wheat market. Exports by the four major shippers—Canada, U.S., Argentina and Australia — dropped to 137,700,000 bushels in the two months from 152,700,000 in 1957 and 180,100,000 two years ago.

OTHER DECLINES

Along with those of Canada, shipments declined also for Argentina, to 11,000,000 bushels from 14,800,000 last year; and for Australia, to 11,900,000 from 18,200,000 in 1957.

While markets sagged, surpluses rose. Though Canadian stocks were down, total supplies among the four major shippers available for carryover increased by 14 per cent to 2,502,100,000 bushels on Oct. 1 from 2,195,500,000 a year previous. The increase was entirely in the U.S.

Supplies as of Oct. 1 with last year's figures in brackets: Canada 777,800,000 bushels (878,800,000); U.S. 1,623,100,000 (1,172,800,000); Argentina 76,20,000 (88,600,000).

Anglican Leaders Affirm Desire For Union With United Church

By EDNA USHER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — The Anglican Church of Cana wound up its executive conference, reaffirming a "firm intention and desire" for unity with the United Church of Canada.

The Anglican churchmen agreed to hold a two-day conference on union, probably in February, and voted to approach the United Church on the question of renewed unity talks.

"But," cautioned Rt. Rev. Kenneth Evans, bishop of Ontario, "we don't want the kind of union the United Church had in 1925." He and other speakers indicated the Anglican view was that the move towards union must be slow and cautious.

Commenting on reports that the United Church felt Anglicans were too slow in deciding about amalgamation, Bishop Evans told the closing session of the general synod's executive council:

"After the 1925 union of the United Church there were continuing churches, such as Presbyterians. We want a union which is complete and perfect."

"BUSIEST" CHURCH

Rt. Rev. G. N. Luxton, bishop of Huron, said the Anglican Church is the busiest church in Christendom in moves toward unity, with unions being studied all over the world.

"The United Church perhaps does not realize we belong to a great family of churches and must move slowly," he said.

Rt. Rev. H. H. Clark, bishop of Edmonton, suggested other churches should join discussions on reunion.

"The Anglican Church is called to a destiny which may lead it to lose itself in a world-wide communion of all that is catholic and all that is reformed."

Sift Rubble For Bodies

MONTREAL (CP) — Civil defence authorities Friday reported a search of the charred rubble of the Oldfield Apartments has ended leaving the death toll at 15, seven still unidentified.

But a spokesman said seven bodies recovered from the debris —four women and three men— correspond in sex to the victims on the missing list and positive identification is expected to be made shortly.

Firemen stopped the search for bodies Thursday night after it was felt there was virtually no possibility of finding anything more in the ruins. Work crews moved in and started clean-up operations.

It had been feared at first that there were more victims since several persons had been known to be visiting at the apartment when the fire started.

Award Contract For Peace River Bridge

OTTAWA (CP) — A $2,685,000 contract for construction of a superstructure for the Peace River bridge at Taylor Flats, B.C., was among $19,885,619 in contracts awarded by the defence production department and Defence Construction (1951) Limited in the last two weeks of October.

The bridge, on the Alaska Highway, collapsed last year. Since then, highway traffic has been routed across the nearby bridge of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

The bridge contract went to Dominion Bridge Co. Ltd., Vancouver.

Poole Construction Co. Ltd., Calgary, will build a command medical equipment depot and inflammable stores building, unit drill hall and outside services at Sarcee, Alta., for $787,824.

Aim For 'Zuka Girls At Coast

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's flouncy flashy Takarazuka girls opera may perform next year at the International Festival in Vancouver, a Canadian impresario says.

"No contract has been signed yet, but we are starting negotiations," Festival Director Nicholas Goldschmidt said.

Goldschmidt said a New York agency is discussing plans to bring a 50-girl sector of the colorful all-feminine show to the United States.

"We thought that since they were going to the United States we could get them to come to Canada," said the former maestro of the Royal Conservatory of Music.

"Our art festival is, in the variety of its offerings, the only one of its kind in North America.

TOO HIGHBROW

"But we have too many — how do you say — highbrow things. We need something lighter to counterbalance it. That would be the Takarazuka."

Goldschmidt said he had not yet seen the famed "Zuka" girls perform but had heard enough about the fast-moving show to make his decision. He will leave next week for Osaka to see the troupe at their home theatre.

Goldschmidt left Canada three months ago for Europe, the Middle East, Asia and the Far East "to see what's going on in the arts in the Orient." The information he picks up might be used to plan later festivals.

He leaves for Canada Nov. 19.

Karachi Reporters Subject PM To Battery of Questions

By ALAN DONNELLY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

KARACHI (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Friday Canadian recognition of Red China "might be considered approbation of communism" by Asian countries now standing together against communism.

"We do not say recognition will never be given," the world-touring Canadian leader told a press conference on the first full day of a three-week tour of Asian Commonwealth members.

"But we do say we must take into consideration reactions that recognition would have on those who have stood against the march of communism in countries adjacent to Red China."

Both Pakistan and India recognize the Peiping regime.

LOADED QUESTIONS

Reporters also fired a barrage of questions — many of them loaded—about the Kashmir problem, where India and Pakistan have been at loggerheads for 11 years.

Diefenbaker declined to go beyond expressing hope "that in the community of discussion a mutually agreeable settlement can be reached."

He said Canada is concerned at the continuation of a dispute between two fellow members of the Commonwealth but that no problem is beyond solution.

CANADIAN REFEREE?

Asked whether he would volunteer Canada's good offices, he replied Canada always has shown willingness to conciliate but "sometimes volunteering is considered presumption."

In view of the fact that Diefenbaker will hold talks with Indian leaders next week following Saturday's conference with the new Pakistan prime minister, Gen. Ayub Khan, he declined to be drawn into statements that might appear to favor either side.

Tonight the prime minister will be the guest of Gen. Ayub at a formal dinner.

After the talks Saturday he leaves for Lahore, the country's major centre of Moslem culture and education.

A typical press conference question asked why the Free World was silent at "injustice" in its midst while outraged at injustice in the Communist world.

WELL FIELDED

"I presume you could give your own answer to your own question," the prime minister replied.

The Canadian leader and his wife are staying at the president's palace but their host is not due to arrive from the north until tonight. In the meantime the prime minister was guest at a luncheon held by Foreign Affairs Minister Manzoor Qadir.

A morning sightseeing tour of this capital, which only 80 years ago was an Arabian Gulf fishing village, showed Diefenbaker the two worlds of the Pakistani refugees who probably are the country's major domestic problem.

After donning canvas slippers to place wreaths at the tombs of Liaquat Ali Khan, Pakistan's first prime minister, and Mohammed Ali Jinnah, the nation's first governor-general, he stepped to a nearby parapet overlooking a valley filled with the ramshackle huts of thousands of refugees still unplaced since partition 11 years ago.

Then he went to tour another refugee camp, one of 32 in the country in which the government has helped Moslems displaced from India to build modest but clean homes of cement blocks and plaster.

He and his wife visited a brassworks shop, one of many so-called cottage industries whose income helps support the camps. They were showered with gifts and flowered garlands and serenaded by children chanting "Wazir Azam Zindabad"—Long Live the Prime Minister.

Pakistan has 7,000,000 refugees in its 80,000,000 population and about 60 per cent still are not placed in the new camps.

The government has announced plans to build 40,000 new homes for them. The plan includes importing a Canadian factory to mass produce roofing materials.

CCL Presents Price Spread Briefs To Royal Commission

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian Labor Congress pressed Friday for "detailed knowledge" of the financial status of Canada's big food corporations.

In a brief to the royal commission on price spreads of food products, the 1,000,000-member union organization said wages in the food industry have always been low, while food chains with their rapid turnover often have a "very substantial return."

Figures for about 50 companies, including food chains, dairies and food processors, showed profit before taxes as a percentage of shareholders' equity averaged more than 20 per cent in 1957.

"After tax, profits averaged between 11 and 12 per cent," the brief said. "This is no mean profit, no matter what standard of measurement is adopted."

DIFFICULT TO ASSESS

Lack of uniformity by companies in reporting financial assets often made it difficult to find out what the true position was.

The CLC submission, laden with statistics intended to prove its contention that salaries and wages in the food processing industry have not been responsible for an increase in price spreads, also called for "precise data" showing how much of the consumer dollar is spent on processing.

"Processing of foods has increased at a phenomenal rate since before the war. We would therefore recommend that the Dominion Bureau of Statistics make a careful attempt to classify foods according to the degree to which they are processed or unprocessed."

OTHER BRIEFS

Three other briefs were presented to the seven-member commission, headed by Dr. Andrew Stewart of Edmonton.

I. M. Pollock, president of Nabisco Foods, Limited, of Niagara Falls, Ont., stressed the importance of promotion and advertising to producers of breakfast foods.

The Kellogg Company of Canada, Limited, with manufacturing plant in London, Ont., drummed on the same theme, saying advertising is the key to volume manufacture.

Burns and Company Limited of Calgary, a meat-packing firm, said packing profit in relation to sales volume is probably the smallest of any industry, only volume and rapid turnover enabling the packer to "live under such an extremely small margin."

Present high level of cattle prices, it said, is due to competition among packer, commercial feeder and export buyer. Competition was "most severe" in sale of fresh meats.

On price spread, it said distribution of the sale dollar has been fairly consistent. Part of the increased gap in prices was attributable to the labor factor.

Another major cause was the trend toward pre-packaging of meats at the packer level for self-service stores.

TODAY'S BIBLE THOUGHT

The Lord is good unto them that wait for him, to the soul that seeketh him.—Lamentations 3:25.

Yet many regard God as a stern Judge and forget that He is a loving Father too and a wonderful Friend, often when all others turn from us.

Our Father's Business

The former Archbishop of Canterbury, William Temple, described the essence of sin as self-centredness. The accuracy of the description goes without question. Then how would you describe its expression in terms of everyday life? Would you see it in infidelity in marriage vows? Or an active hostility to anything pertaining to God? Or fleshly, self-indulgence? Or sloth? Or pride? Or hate? Or covetousness? Or prejudice? Or stupidity?

Or would one word compass the whole expression of it in a single haunting nightmare like this?

INDIFFERENCE
(Studdert Kennedy)

When Jesus came to Golgotha they hanged Him on a tree,
They drove great nails through hands and feet, and made a Calvary;
They crowned Him with a crown of thorns, red were His wounds
and deep,
For those were crude and cruel
days, and human flesh was cheap.
When Jesus came to Birmingham,
(Vancouver? Montreal? Nelson?) they simply passed Him
by,
They never hurt a hair of Him,
they only let Him die;
For men have grown more tender,
and they would not give Him
pain,
They only just passed down the street, and left Him in the rain.

"Reputation is what men say about you, Character is what the angels say about you."

TWO NEW registered laboratory technicians at Kootenay Lake General Hospital, shown as they take over their duties in the lab in Nelson, are Miss Diane Smith and Miss Kenna Wynne. Miss Smith, left, who is from Trail, and Miss Wynne, from Oyama, in the Okanagan, both received their training at the Vancouver General Hospital. The young women are replacing Miss Alice Clements, KLGH lab technician for over two years, who left three weeks ago. Mrs. R. Wylie has been acting technician until arrival of the two new lab personnel. Hospital authorities are hoping to interest students in this type of hospital work, for which there is a short supply of trained personnel at present.—Daily News photo by Ian Brown.

First Baptist Circle Honors Long-Time Member

In recognition of her 33 years of service as treasurer of the Senior Circle of the First Baptist Church, Mrs. George Boyes was honored with presentation of a life membership pin of the Women's Missionary Society.

The occasion was held at the home of Mrs. Norman Gibson when members of the two Mission circles of the church gathered to pay tribute to Mrs. Boyes. Mrs. A. E. Blackwell made the presentation and Mrs. W. M. Vance spoke a few words of appreciation to Mrs. Boyes on behalf of the group.

Proceeds of membership purchases are used for educational scholarships, gifts for out-going missionaries, the Missionary Furlough Home, narcotics education scholarships and the special project at Fort St. John.

Willow Point WI Officers Reelected

WILLOW POINT—Officers of the Willow Point Women's Institute were returned at the Institute's annual meeting, with members reelected being Mrs. B. Townshend, president; Mrs. R. A. Grimes, Mrs. C. B. White, Mrs. A. P. Jenkins and Mrs. C. Shannon.

Mrs. Townshend gave the annual report, indicating a yearly membership of 24, and Mrs. White presented the financial statement.

During regular business discussion, the initial payment of Willow Point members' share in furnishing of a Women's Institute ward in the new hospital was sent to Mrs. J. Doerksen. A farewell letter from Mrs. S. Gummow was read and a gift donation to her was sent to the provincial secretary.

Three members reported on their visit to the Willow Haven Private Hospital—Mrs. B. Heddle, Mrs. B. Townshend and Miss H. Parker—who told of serving tea to the patients and staff. Three other members will visit the hospital later this month.

The Institute members held a card party earlier to aid their hospital furnishing fund. Hostesses at the party were Mrs. Jenkins, Mrs. R. C. Malcolmson and Mrs. Shannon.

Tea hostesses at the regular meeting were Mrs. W. S. Ashby and Mrs. N. Denny.

Miss Universe, 1953, Now Lives in Manila

MANILA (AP)—The first Miss Universe—Armi Kuusela of Finland, crowned at Long Beach, life here with her Filipino husband, Virgilio Hilario, and three children.

"My children (Arne, 3; Annalisa, 1½, and Eva Maria, one month) seem to be my chief hobby now. They keep me busy all day," she said recently.

Home for them is a modern, air - conditioned bungalow in fashionable Forbes Park — Manila's millionaires' row.

"I would describe my life here as a very quiet one. We love to stay home with the family as often as possible," she said.

Except for a slight matronly bearing, 24-year-old Armi's Nordic beauty seems untouched by the tropics, motherhood and the task of keeping house for her 30-year-old realtor-builder husband.

Armi has been so busy raising her family she hasn't followed the Miss Universe contests closely.

MET ON TOUR

She met Hilario, scion of a wealthy landowning family, in 1953 in Manila when the then Miss Universe came to visit the Philippines.

A whirlwind courtship wound up at a wedding ceremony in Tokyo on May 4 of that year. They visited Finland in 1955.

Language has never been a problem because she speaks fluent English, spoken by the vast majority of people here. She hasn't had much of a chance to teach her children her native tongue "because I'm the only one who speaks the language here and I don't want them to get confused."

Armi is learning Tagalong, the Philippines national language, with the aid of her household help, as fast as Virgilio is learning Finnish from her and a newly-arrived couple from Finland.

15 Women Strike In Coast Market

VANCOUVER (CP) — Fifteen women who package dried fruit for B.C. Safeway stores went on strike Thursday night for higher pay.

They were planning Friday to picket the plant of Kingston Suppliers Division of Macdonalds Consolidated Limited.

A spokesman for Local 580, Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union, said the women rejected a conciliation board award of 10 cents an hour increase spread over 14 months, with five cents retroactive to Jan. 14.

He said they earn $1.22 an hour and are seeking $1.56½ as paid to women in Safeway's coffee and produce plants.

A Safeway spokesman said the company accepted the conciliation award.

It refused to give equal pay with the coffee and produce plants "because there is no similarity in the work."

He said the women were asking for wages higher than those paid in similar competitive pre-packaging plants.

Home Workshop

Here's a new idea in Christmas decoration. It's a Paint-It-Yourself mural measuring 4 ft. high by 6 ft. wide. Ideal for a picture window or as an outdoor scene. By tracing the full-size pattern, professional results are assured. The pattern can be traced directly on panelboard or on paper and used in many different ways. One of the most popular, is to paint the scene on waterproof panelboard. The board specified on the pattern sells for approximately 10c a sq. ft. So, for less than $2.50, plus the costs of paints and your time, you can paint a Christmas Mural of rare beauty.

For those who want to paint the scene on paper, it can be made both translucent and waterproof by spraying the painted scene with 3-in-1 oil. When painted on paper and oiled, it can be placed in a window. Light from a floor lamp or spotlight, directed against the back of the scene, gives the effect of a stained-glass window.

Another novel way to decorate at Christmas is by placing this scene on the lawn, or the blank side of a house. When painted on panelboard and framed as specified it makes a handsome display.

Send $1.55 in currency or money order (no stamps please) for Pattern No. 942A, Paint-It-Yourself Christmas Mural Picture Window and additional 55c for 64 page catalog illustrating over 300 other Build-It-Yourself projects to Pattern Dept., NDN, Quinn Lumber and Builders Supply Co. Ltd., 280 Maitland Street, London, Ont.

New Material Eases Repair Of Chimneys

A product incorporating latex mixed with cement simplifies the job of repairing brick chimneys, steps and walls.

This material is ideal for replacing bricks knocked from chimneys, steps or walls. Just scrape out old mortar and apply cement-latex with a trowel. Replace the brick and tap gently to seat it.

Low spots in walks and driveways that hold puddle water after a rain can be filled and feathered down smooth into original surfaces.

In dry weather it is best to dampen slightly the area to be repaired.

Easy To Repair Plaster Crack

Cracks and holes in plastered ceilings and walls are inevitable.

They may be caused by shrinkage in the woodwork, by settling of the house itself, by removal of a picture or a shelf — or simply by accidental damage during daily living.

Small cracks, fine holes and other minor imperfections are usually filled in with some type of surfacing compound such as spackle or a prepared crack filler.

These are generally sold in dry powdered form (similar to plaster) and must be mixed with water immediately before use. Unlike plaster, most spackling compounds are slow setting and will remain in a soft, workable condition for several hours.

This minimizes shrinkage and gives the home handyman plenty of time to work carefully. The material should be mixed to a smooth, lump-free consistency which is stiff enough to hold its shape without sagging, yet plastic enough to permit easy spreading. With most small nail holes and fine cracks only one application will be required.

Market Trends

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rebounded Friday from the previous session's relapse to reach record high ground.

Steels, chemicals, airlines, electronics and rubbers scored the best gains among industrials. Motors lagged all day and ended mostly lower. Rails followed a similar pattern.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed at $206.60, up $1.20. The previous record was set Wednesday at $206.10.

Some individual issues scord wide gains. Lorillard ran up 3 on short covering prior to announcement, expected Wednesday, of the price new stock will be offered stockholders. Goodyear added 3½ on rumors on a stock split.

McIntyre Porcupine led Canadian shares with an advance of 3¼. Also fractionally higher were Canadian Pacific, Distillers - Seagrams, Dome Mines, Hudson Bay Mining and Walker - Gooderham. International Nickel backed away ¾ and Aluminium Ltd. and Granby Mining also lost.

On the American stock exchange Canadian issues were generally off fractions.

TORONTO (CP) — Speculative fever gripped the stock market Friday as trading ripped along at its fastest pace in four months. A trend in prices, however, was hard to detect as gains and losses across the board were fairly well balanced.

Southern Union Oils sparked the interest and it led the most-active list of stocks, trading 1,060,550 shares while gaining 4 cents to 73 cents. A report that Southern Union had found mineralization on its Mattagami, Que., property created activity among stocks with properties in the same area.

The 10 most - active issues on the board accounted for 4,460,408 shares, more than half of the total 8,247,000 shares traded on the whole board.

Industrial changes were generally fractional but an exception was Labatt, up two points to 30 in heavy volume.

Senior mines and oils were easier in a fractional range and fell into the background as the juniors and speculatives took over. The oil index lost a point.

Index changes: Industrials up .02 to 507.79; golds up 1.06 to 75.80; base metals off .07 to 178.22; western oils off 1.00 to 135.58.

MONTREAL (CP)—Prices were irregularly higher in active trading Friday on the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges.

Two 1958 highs were established in the papers, Fraser up ½ at 32, and Price Bros. up 1¼ at 47½. Great Lakes was up ½ at 39½.

Utilities were mixed. Banks were higher and base metals irregular. Hudson Bay was up ½ at 59½. Nickel lost ⅝ at 87⅛.

The pipelines were lower. Interprovincial lost ½ at 44½, Trans-Canada was off ¼ at 27¼, and Trans Mountain declined ⅜ at 10¼.

The mines and oils were irregularly higher.

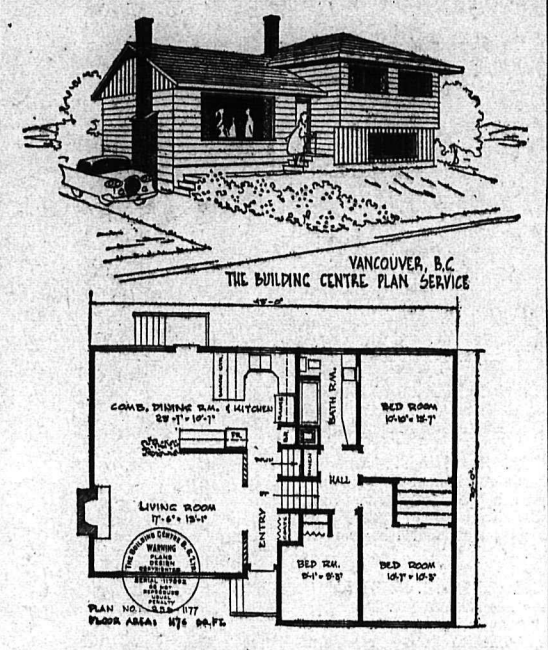
The Modern Home



SO YOU THINK YOU'D LIKE A SPLIT LEVEL!

Here is a split level that should meet the requirements of even the most discriminating house builder. It has three bedrooms, each bedroom containing a good sized closet, a nice bathroom with full length arbourite-topped vanity on the upper level. The living room opens into the dining room, with a pretty planter to separate the rooms without sacrificing the air of spaciousness. The dining area opens into the kitchen—separated by a snack bar for quick and easy dining. Downstairs there is a future activities room and extra plumbing for convenience when you are entertaining in the recreation room. The living room has an outside wall fireplace with a 6-inch raised slate hearth. By making use of some of the lovely raw materials available, you can make this split level into a little "gem". It is designed for N.H.A. approval. Working drawings available from the Building Centre (B. C.) Ltd., 116 E. Broadway, Vancouver 10. Our free Plan Book, "SELECT HOME DESIGNS", now available. Royal Commission Forecast Springhill Mine Closure

By DAVE McINTOSH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — A problem foreseen last year by the Gordon royal commission — though not for the same reason — has arrived on the doorstep of the federal government.

The Gordon commission on Canada's economic prospects forecast that if Nova Scotia coal production did not increase about 4000 of the 11,000 miners would have to leave the country in the next few years.

Now this problem has been made acute by the upheaval in the bowels of No. 2 colliery at Springhill, N.S., and the consequent closure of the pit employing some 900 miners. Springhill, a town of 7000, has depended for its existence on the mine.

It is known that the federal cabinet will discuss soon what can be done and it will work closely with the Nova Scotia government.

This is what the Gordon commission said:

"We suggest that on economic grounds alone, having regard to the amount of the present subsidy, there would be justification for paying the full amount of the transportation costs of all the members of any families who may be willing to move to other parts of Nova Scotia or elsewhere in Canada; for assistance in the provision of housing; and for training for other occupations, possibly in co-operation with industry."

U.S. Discusses Canadian Gas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tentative plans to pipe Canadian natural gas into the Pacific northwest states and California were sketched this week at a federal power commission hearing into a proposed merger of El Paso Natural Gas Co. and Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corp.

Paul Kayser, president of both companies, said a line is proposed by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. to move gas from Alberta. The present available supply, he said, is slightly less than 350,000,000 cubic feet daily.

The line would connect at Kingsgate on the Idaho-British Columbia border with a second line to be built by a Canadian firm, still to be formed, from Kingsgate to Crowsnest Pass in the Rockies.

Kayser gave no further details on the project which he said was recommended by Canadian authorities as a means of eliminating duplicating facilities.

Before the project could materialize it would require approval of Canadian authorities for the export of gas to the United States and by the federal power commission for importation of the gas and construction of the line.

Canadian Oil Co. Receives Almost $12 Million

TORONTO (CP) — Canadian Oil Companies Ltd., has received $11,700,000 this year for common shares issued through shareholders rights and stock purchase warrants.

The warrants, issued with the company's 1955 debenture issue, expired Oct. 15 and more than 85 per cent of them were exercised.

The company receivd $5,900,000 from thi source thi year and also $5,800,000 from rights issued to shareholders in June.

Including the 514,183 common shares issued this year, common shares outstanding now total 2,543,499.

Commenting on the new money W. Harold Rea, president, says in a letter to shareholders that "the company's financial position has been significantly strengthened." He said earnings in the nine-month period ending Sept. 30 are 27 per cent below the same period last yar. Lower market prices, higher costs of doing business and restricted crude oil output were contributing factors to the reduced profit.

Khrushchev Brands Bulganin Red Enemy

By HAROLD K. MILKS

MOSCOW (AP) — Nikolai Bulganin Friday was publicly branded an enemy of the Communist party after serving in its high command almost since the 1917 revolution.

The former Soviet premier, already reduced to a minor provincial job, was expected by observers here to be stripped soon of membership in the party's central committee — his last claim to importance.

The denunciation of Bulganin was contained almost casually in a report on the Soviet seven-year economic plan of Premier Nikita Khrushchev, once Bulganin's comrade in government.

Moscow Radio said the report mentioned "the exposure and routing of the anti-party group of Malenkov, Kaganovich, Molotov, Bulganin and Shepilov who joined them, who slid down the road of faction-splitting activity."

AMONG THE ERRING

This was the first time that the name of the ailing, 63-year-old Bulganin had been included as a member of the anti-party group." The other four were ousted from party leadership in late June of 1957 on charges of collusion and intrigue.

The four were accused of trying to overthrow Khrushchev. Reports accepted abroad said Bulganin originally sided with the four but changed sides when Khrushchev brought up additional central committee support.

The four alleged plotters were banished to minor jobs on July 4, 1957.

Bulganin resigned as premier last March 27 and became chairman of the State Bank. On Aug. 15 he was demoted to chairman of the Council of the National Economy in Stavropol in the northern Caucasus.

On Sept. 6 Moscow Radio said Bulganin had been removed from the Praesidium, the key group of the party central committee. He has been reported in failing health.

Leading Minerals Showed Increase

OTTAWA (CP) — Production of nine of Canada's 15 leading minerals showed increases in August over the corresponding month last year and seven registered decreases, the bureau of statistics said Thursday.

Main decreases were posted by petroleum, iron ore and coal. Production of petroleum fell to 13,801,851 barrels from 15,790,987, iron ore to 2,477,418 tons from 4,018,381 and coal to 409,341 tons from 767,328.

Other minerals registering decreases, with figures for August, 1957, in brackets: Asbestos 85,785 tons (95,949); cement 721,140 (746,973); gypsum 367,003 (586,469); lead 12,260 (14,729); nickel 13,097 (16,706); salt 135,401 (144,197).

Minerals posting increases: Clay products $4,183,209 ($3,798,514); copper 30,867 tons (30,477); gold 366,978 fine ounces (363,801); lime 131,607 tons (114,273); natural gas 21,770,677,000 cubic feet (13,192,605,000); silver 2,884,154 fine ounces (2,667,468) and zinc 35,350 (35,169).

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — A waitress, Mrs. Mildred Swisher, 46, was taken to hospital Thursday night for treatment of cuts on the back and legs. Police said a customer, Riley Eugene James, 31, became angry because Mrs. Swisher refused to serve him a beer and picked her up and hurled her through the front window of the tavern.

Winter Sweeps Across Prairie

EDMONTON (CP) — The end of a long and balmy fall has come to the Canadian Prairies, and Friday winter had its first firm grasp of the season as temperatures dropped back to normal after nearly a month of above-normal warmth.

Across Saskatchewan and Alberta high readings Friday were to be about 25 degrees while Manitoba points were expected to get perhaps five degrees warmer.

These temperatures are in line with the season, but well below the 50- and 60-degree readings that have been prevalent through most of October and early November — a period when the Prairies expects winter's blast in force.

Overnight, Swift Current in southwestern Saskatchewan had the Prairies' lowest reading—nine degrees. Some points recorded up to four inches of snow, but the heavy falls were isolated.

Dauphin, Man., got four inches and Regina recorded 3.9 while Yorkton, Sask. got 2.2 inches and Penhold in central Alberta 1.2. Saskatoon, Prince Albert, Calgary, Edmonton and Winnipeg had little more than a trace.

Overnight low readings ranged from the nine at Swift Current to 23 at Regina, with Edmonton recording 21, Calgary 19, Saskatoon 22 and Prince Albert 17.

Friday, skies across the Prairies were cloudy and the forecaster said a few snowflurries might occur at any given point, but no heavy snowfall was expected.

STAMP CORNER

By JAMES MONTAGNES

Letter writing is being promoted in a number of countries with special stamps being issued to publicize letter-writing week by Syria (top left) and South Korea (top centre). East Germany has issued a stamp for sulky racing (top right). Netherlands is to issue its annual child welfare stamps on Nov. 17 (lower left). Czechoslovakia has issued a stamp for a world youth congress (lower centre), and France this week issued stamps for the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (lower right).

Beginners as well as advanced collectors are constantly on the lookout for stamps to add to their collections. There are many ways to increase the size of a collection, to fill in the spaces missing in some countries or some theme collection.

Collectors who want to keep up-to-date on stamps of any one or a group of countries or the stamps dealing with any subject matter, can do so through subscribing to a new issues service at most stamp dealers. New stamps are being issued every week somewhere in the world, and many dealers will obtain such stamps for individual collectors from wholesale dealers in New York and London. This is also the cheapest way to purchase stamps which because of an error or a short print number may become valuable.

New issue stamps obtained from reliable dealers will usually cost from 15 to 30 per cent over face value, this being the handling charge, dependent on how many dealers are involved before the collector obtains the stamps.

Those collectors who want to buy specific stamps, complete sets or even complete country collections can do so in a variety of ways. Dealers frequently carry collections for sale, left with them by collectors on a commission basis. Most dealers have fair size stocks of the stamps of a group or of many countries. Many dealers only carry stocks of British Commonwealth countries, others of only Europe, and some of all countries. Collectors can go with want lists to such dealers and pick out what they want, or do the transaction by mail.

Becoming increasingly more popular are mail order auctions. Stamp dealers as well as clubs obtain a large number of individual stamps and collections from collectors and publish a descriptive catalogue listing what is for sale and the estimated value of the stamps. On the basis of this list collectors will send in bids to the dealers by a specific date for the stamps they wants. The highest bidder receives the stamps, and payment is usually required within three days or even prior to delivery.

There are also auctions by licensed stamp auctioneers in major cities where collectors gather to bid on stamps in the same way that people attend furniture or other auctions.

Still another method of increasing a collection is by joining an exchange club or a stamp club which has stamp exchange or stamp sale circuits. Members of these clubs put their stamps in standard exchange books, listing what they want in cash for each stamp. The small books are numbered by the club's sales director and looked over at club meetings or mailed to members, who then pick what they want. A record is kept of the books and the purchase and sale by each member and a settlement made once or twice a year.

And there is the straight exchanging of stamps by club members at club meetings. There are many ways of increasing the size of a collection or of disposing of a collection.

Your Individual HOROSCOPE

By Frances Drake

For Sunday, November 16, 1958

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — Today's indications carry many pleasant implications and few restrictions. Enjoy wholesome Sunday activities, your family, recreation.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)— This can be a happy, wholesome day with your cheerful help. Don't expect wonders to happen but do know that you will be happy and accomplish if you live up to your finer traits.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)— There's nothing more satisfying than a contented mind and this you can have if you will make it a point to take small irritations in stride. Essential work need not be a hardship; just be careful of details.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)— Make the most of your fine talents, enjoy your family, good friends and wholesome activities. This can be a satisfactory day.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo)— Restful pastimes, good reading, music and other artistic entertainment, and spiritual devotions, are "firsts" on today's sponsored program. Don't fall for idle flattery.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — There are times when we all should give our mental equipment complete rest, a vacation from worry and anxiety. Today advocates just that.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Another reassuring day for the good at heart. Taboo needless worry and doubt. Enjoy healthy, pleasant diversion from regular daily affairs. Be your genial helpful self.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Study and investigate before making decisions. And think twice before taking on added obligations. Spend some time in the company of congenial friends.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Discord of any nature hurts you, so do your share to keep it out of your family and other relationships.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — You can be a happy somebody and help others to enjoy the day more. Play with children, visit the lonely and ill. You'll relish the joy that comes from doing good.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Curb restlessness, join your family or good friends in some healthy, restful activity. You have better aspects than most now.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — This day stresses a need for self-restraint to insure smoother going — at home, with friends, or at work. Avoid those who have proven troublesome in the past.

YOU BORN TODAY have a vibrant, persuasive personality; would make an able executive, head of industry; could be adept in exploration, investigation, new trends. Some of our best known surgeons, chemists and soldiers were born in this sector. You have remarkable powers of recuperation, probably unusually robust health (IF you take care of it.) Don't draw too heavily upon your resources at any one time. Your temperament and talents fit you for writing, detective work, archeology.

For Monday, November 17, 1958

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — A good planetary day except for your Mars which stresses self-control. Home, personal matters, finances generally, sound buys, trades and all useful, needed work favored.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Rays not unfriendly, but not excitingly stimulating either. Use your own fine judgment as to how you handle and "push" this day. Heavy work, difficult tasks equally honored with the lighter, more delicate ones.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — Book work, study, research, teaching, analysis, mental work generally under fine Mercury rays. A good day for business and industrial work, too.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — A good period for making necessary changes, adopting new methods, etc.; also for travel and handling medicines, oils, beverages. Domestic interests also sponsored. Your demeanor can help you greatly.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo)— Some caution should be exercised now. Don't go to extremes in anything. A middle-of-the-road procedure will give you more than just good returns. Make time count wisely, appreciably.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Heed advice to Gemini; your day similar. It can be a productive, progressive period. An excellent time for making improvements. Cooperate with the right forces and take care of your interests.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — While influences are on the mild side, the day can return rewards for the right kind of effort. Don't permit petty matters to irritate. Be considerate and you will receive consideration in return.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — No easy day for all interests, but an honest desire to get ahead plus steady work will bring you gains, new benefits. No day for procrastination or carelessness.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — You may have to put more into this day than others, but you will make better gains. Don't hesitate to say "no" where you should. Press for true progress.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — You can overcome obstacles and win extra credits now. But you must put more verve into certain spots, have patience, and not mind irritations.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Stop to plan thoughtfully, then follow those plans without becoming sidetracked by others. You can gain appreciable ground.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — You have innately good material with which to overcome obstacles and with which to achieve beyond the ordinary if you choose. Put aside fear; go forward with faith.

YOU BORN TODAY have a magnetic personality and a strong will. You would enjoy a trade or profession that gives you much action and a large field for your diversified talents and capability. You must be careful not to weaken your fine physical and mental vitality by overforcefulness or endless discussions and pointless ventures. Conserve your fine health and energies for good and productive work only, and learn to relax calmly, restfully. Refuse to permit irritability or impatience to spoil your disposition and achievement. Birthdate: George Grote, Eng. historian of Greece.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

It's a Smaller World Now For Pests, Diseases, Too

By JOHN F. SEMBOWER
Central Press Association Correspondent

NEW YORK — An added peril of a rapidly-shrinking world on account of speedy global air travel and greater interchanges of all sorts between the continents is that the planet's pests are being spread around as well as its blessings.

The result is that elaborate precautions are being taken in many parts of the world to screen out unwanted "immigrants" from other areas.

Canada does not want any more "new" insects in this part of the hemisphere like the fire ants from Argentina, now running rampant in several states of the U.S. Australia wants no more "new animals like the rabbits that are multiplying so rapidly there that they are almost a scourge; England is guarding against any added newcomers like the myocaster coypus — world's "biggest rats" — from South America, and the list goes on and on in all leading ports of entry almost everywhere.

The trouble is that when living organisms, including even germs and viruses, stray from their native habitats they leave their natural enemies behind, and with nothing to control them may run rampant in their new surroundings if they take hold there.

World health organization authorities warn diseases are even more dangerous in this spreading-around process than exotic animals, and recall the way the Eskimos succumbed in large numbers to respiratory ills after explorers first penetrated their region and brought coughs and colds which mysteriously had been unknown before.

Now health officers of the Foreign Quarantine service of the U.S. Public Health service screen every one of the hundreds of thousands of foreign travellers annually reaching these shores.

Around the borders of the United States are posted 400 plant-quarantine inspectors who stop everyone bringing in plants, and particularly those with soil attached to their roots. They want to fend off any more invasions like that of the Dutch elm disease which is laying waste many of the prize shade trees in many sections of both Canada and the U.S.

Almost every deliberate transplantation of living things turned out badly. The sparrows and starlings brought to the New World from Europe to control insects have become nuisances which defy almost every effort at controlling their numbers.

The lamprey eel imported into the Great Lakes region as a much-relished delicacy on European tables not only failed to go over with our appetites, but instead became a deadly parasite preying on the delectable lake trout to their virtual extinction.

Bothered by snakes, the West Indies imported the great snake-killer of India, the mongoose, only to discover that the blood-thirsty newcomers live by day and their snakes by night, so that the mongoose turned to killing local ground-nesting birds and small mammals. Now they are looking for a natural enemy to keep the mongoose in line.

Where is it all leading? Scientists are not sure, and they are not sanguine that the elaborate efforts at quarantine will stem the tide any more than legendary King Canute was able to sweep back the sea.

Many of the "invaders" secrete themselves in shipments of other things, such as giant flying cockroaches from South America that hide in shipments of bananas.

Bacteria and fungi from other regions often are flown in by jet stream air masses, and do not seem to be as virulent as are those transplantations made by man himself, maybe because nature has been operating some sort of quarantine of its own for eons.

Some scientists hope that maybe Mother Nature will help out again with devising means for maintaining the earth's delicate biological balance now that the old planet is "shrinking" so rapidly. Or will space travel further complicate things?

A Bunyanesque flying cockroach, archimandreta marmorata, that gives fits to South American householders, draws an apprehensive glance from Dr. John Downey, Southern Illinois University entomologist who is among the scientists trying to keep such pests where they belong. Captured originally as a stowaway in a northbound shipment of bananas, this specimen actually is quite dead, and part of the scientist's extensive collection of creatures that could become worldwide unless kept in their places.

Gomulka Termed Openly Hostile

BELGRADE (Reuters) — The Yugoslav Communist party Friday accused Wladyslaw Gomulka, Polish Communist party leader, of moving toward an openly hostile policy to Yugoslavia.

In a 7000-word article in the official Communist newspaper Borba, the Yugoslavs said they could not remain silent in the face of "mud-slinging at their revolutionary past and the tendentious distortion of their socialist present."

Borba was commenting on the speeches by Gomulka and Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev, during a visit by the Polish leader to Moscow this week, in which the Yugoslav Communists were criticized for their "revisionism."

Marooned Pilot Survives Ordeal

KENORA, Ont. (CP) — A 25-year-old Winnipeg pilot who spent three of the five days he was missing perched on a pontoon of his overturned airplane, was in hospital here Friday with only wondburned skin and a rough beard to show for his ordeal.

Victor Shrogan, wet, cold and "very hungry" after going without food for five days, was picked up by an RCAF Otter from 111 Communications and Rescue Centre, Winnipeg, and flown to Kenora Hospital for examination and treatment.

Shrogan was reported missing in northwestern Ontario ofter he had taken off Sunday from Round Lake on a 175 - mile flight south to Sioux Lookout in his Piper Cub. He carried a load of fish, no radio or survival equipment.

A Dakota spotted the missing man waving Thursday. The float-equipped Otter arrived 45 minutes later.

"Sure am glad to see you guys come down here," were the first words from the downed pilot, sole occupant of the Piper Cub.

He told the RCAF he had put down during a snow squall on an unidentified small lake, about 75 miles from Cat Lake, where he had been scheduled to refule on his flight to Sioux Lookout. He taxied his float - equipped aircraft to the shore where he camped without food or fire for twi nights.

UNDER MAIL BAG

At night, Shrogan used a mail bag to cover the lower half of his body.

After being on the shore from Sunday to early Tuesday he started to move his plane out on the lake. One pontoon sprung a leak, filled with water and the light craft flipped over on its back.

Shrogan scrambled onto one of the eight - foot pontoons and sat there until Thursday morning.

Perched on the foot-and-a-half wide pontion, he was 100 yards from shore in about 12 feet of water. The water was too cold to swim in and Shrogan decided even if he did make it to shore he couldn't survive with wet clothes because he wouldn't be able to make a fire. Temperatures ranged around 32 degrees.

When the Otter landed, he was pulled aboard by Cpl. Ray Roscoe, who described the downed pilot as being "very cold, tired and hungry."

On the flight back to Kenora, the bearded Shrogan drank three cans of hot soup and then leaned back and went to sleep wearing the first dry, warm clothes in four days.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A star came to New York between pictures with a wad of $5000 burning a hole in his pocket. Problem: Should he buy a small piece of a pal's new musical revue or get the little woman the mink coat for which she had been yearning? He compromised by buying into the show but promised his wife two coats if it proved to be a hit.

After the tryout, the star sent his wife this wire: "I've got bad news for you. Your coats closed in New Haven last night."

"What's your young brother wailing so dismally about?" demanded a father. The older son explained, "He's just crying because I'm eating my pie and won't give him any."

"It his pie finished?" inquired Pa. "It is, said the boy "and he wailed while I was eating that, too."

"I hear," reported Mrs. A., "that that reckless Mr. M. gave his mother-in-law a Jaguar for her birthday."

"He must want something from his wife," decided Mrs. B.—"or else he's suffering from a guilty conscience."

"You don't understand," amplified Mrs. A. "This was a real jaguar!"

The great Charles Lamb had one ambition that never was gratified: he longed to write a successful play. One of his dramas actually was produced one night. A friend of Lamb was astonished to find him in the back of the house, joining vigorously in the hissing when the final curtain descended. "I want to make sure they don't take me fore the author," explained Lamb desperately. "They'd kill me!"

the Snapshot Guild

If you haven't a negative of a picture like this, it wouldn't take long to "stage" such a scene for this year's Christmas cards. Note: Be sure to take a good shot this year for use next Christmas.

Photographic Christmas Cards

It's only about a month from now that the most welcome of visitors will be loading his sleigh in readiness for a fast trip from the North Pole. And about the same time, thousands of postmen will be packing their bags with enough Christmas greeting mail to decorate the living rooms of approximately 4,135,000 Canadian households.

But of all the Christmas cards that will flood the mails these coming weeks, the ones that will be cherished the most and kept the longest — perhaps for years — are the kind of greeting that only the sender can send . . . the most unique and personalized obtainable . . . photographic greetings.

If you are under the impression that photographic greeting cards are expensive, we suggest that you look through the samples you'll find at local film counters. You'll probably be surprised by the variety of styles and designs your dealer has on hand and by the price ranges that are available. Remember that your greeting card need not be elaborate or expensive so long as it contains the personalized message that only a photograph can bring. Actually, if you simply wrote "Merry Christmas" in the margin of a snapshot, you'd have a personalized greeting that would be remembered long after the ordinary kind had been forgotten. For only a few cents more you can obtain a photographic greeting card complete with mailing envelope.

Should you decide to make your own Christmas cards, ask your local camera store to show you its selection of negatives that are especially prepared for this purpose. These negatives have an open space into which you insert your own negative. For this type of greeting you would use postcard stock. Another idea is to have the picture take up all the space on one side, with your Christmas message appearing on the other side. Such a card can be any size that is within postal regulations and can be sent as a postcard or in an envelope.

Here's a hint for new pictures you may be taking. Keep the basic idea simple and uncomplicated. Some of the most effective ones are the simplest . . . a close-up of a child, a flash shot of the fireplace, a snapshot of the front doorway or a little pyjama-clad tot peering over the stair banister. Perhaps the most appreciated of all is the family snapshot. If you don't already have one, ask a camera-friend to come around and take one.

Don't overlook the picture possibilities in outdoor scenes at night. Using your flash and shooting at about six feet, you shouldn't have any difficulty in catching a fine, after-dark, exterior shot. We will leave it to your imagination to figure out something entirely original.

PLAIN TALK FROM PEEBLES

WHEN THE LIGHT COMES ON AGAIN

Each day in the progress of our new building, the electricians turn on a few new circuits of lights. Today most of the heating plant controls are complete, and by this time next week, we hope to have everything but the tag ends cleaned up.

All departments are now working on the main floor (Baker St. level). We're all set up to service your car better than before. Lubrication, wheel alignment, motor tune-up are just a few of the things going on every day.

Thanks to our many friends over the past few months, who have been most considerate of our difficulties, gas sales volume is excellent. It's convenient here in our new location — lots of headroom for the biggest of trucks, and every vehicle is in out of the weather under our canopy roof. You'll like the service that's being given at the pumps.

Car sales are good — we're down to only three 1958 models, a good selection in six cylinder or V8 Plymouths. You'll have to hurry if you want to take advantage of our bargains on these three models.

Looks like we'll be having our grand official re-opening ceremonies on Saturday, Nov. 29th. It will be a combination with a gala showing of the new 1959 Plymouth and Chrysler models. There will be door prizes, gifts for the kids and adults alike, and we'd appreciate it if you would reserve that day to be our guests. It will be interesting for you to see what we've done to get back into business with one thought in mind — the welfare of the customer who drives a car.

Read in one of the Vancouver papers the other day that a survey of the Better Business Bureau in Vancouver indicates that they received 324 complaints from people who claimed they were deceived, robbed or defrauded by used car dealers at the coast. The bureau also estimates that only about 10% of those actually gyped ever make a complaint officially.

Maybe that's the answer to the fellow who says he can get a "better deal" in the big city. Frankly, it can't be done. As a dealer of forty years continuous experience we will match any value offered elsewhere. Sure, we have dozens of cars which we sell at much lower than market value — every dealer does that.

It will pay you to look over our wonderful assortment of good used cars and trucks. Just to mention a few of the outstanding ones, we have a 1956 Chrysler Windsor Sedan, V8 motor with push-button automatic transmission, power steering, radio, seat covers, and excellent tires. It's a one-owner car, and runs smooth as silk. 1954 Plymouth Belvedere Sedan in jet black is a beauty to drive and to own. In trucks, we just took in a dandy low-priced International half-ton truck — just the kind you hunters have been looking for, and then there are several "work-horse" types of dump trucks and flat decks which will earn you money. Lots more in all price classes.

Ski Slants

Skiers as a rule are happy to see the white stuff that has been falling around town for the past few days, but I assure you the working members of the Ski Club did not ask for it yet.

There is still much work to be done on our ski hill. However, we do hope to make a major step toward the completion of the centennial ski lift this Sunday.

Sheaves for towers nine, eight, seven, six and five are ready to be hung. These assemblies all have to be carried to their locations at each tower and then hoisted into place. It is hoped to hang the cable on them at the same time.

It's going to require quite a lot of man-power to lug these heavy assemblies around so this is an appeal to you skiers who have not yet been out, to come and lend a hand on Sunday.

There are other jobs on tap for Sunday, too. After the sheaves have been distributed, it will not take many people to hang them there, so it is hoped the small T-bar will be put into operational order, the rest of the new growth at the bottom of the hill cut down and possibly move a shed for the ticket taker, and also work on the first aid shack.

Latest word on our shipment of sheave assembly and T-bar for tower is that the boat from Austria will dock in Vancouver on Nov. 29. This is rather later than we had hoped for but it will give us more time to figure out how we are going to pay for them.

If we get a good turnout every Sunday from now until the T-bars arrive we should have everything ready to attach them to the cable and test-run the lift.

So skiers, it's all up to you, so turn out and HELP.

As usual, if you want a ride to the hill, be at Baker and Stanley at 9 a.m. Sunday.

Iowa Seen for Rose Bowl Play

CHICAGO (AP) — Conference champion Iowa's expected selection as Big Ten representative in the Rose Bowl football game next New Year's Day was announced Friday by K. L. (Tug) Wilson, conference commissioner.

Iowa last Saturday clinched the Big Ten title by defeating Minnesota 28-6.

Iowa's likely Rose Bowl opponent will be California.

Bombers Host Gonzaga Team

Fast and interesting basketball is promised tonight when a team of basketball players representing one of the United States' top colleges is hosted by the L. V. Rogers High School Bombers.

Although this Gonzaga team is not their varsity team it does boast of stars such as Nelson's own Leo Petty—twice elected on B. C.'s all-star high school basketball team in the provincial tournament and once as the tournament's most valuable player.

The Bombers, smarting from two high-scoring, but close losses in a recent tour of the East Kootenays, are determined to get back in the win column.

The style of play exhibited by this year's Bombers is fast breaking with a great deal of shooting which results in high scoring games. Bernie Monteleone at centre and Earl Farenholtz in a second centre position have the Bombers working around them in plays called "double post plays." Although this is not an innovation of the game, it allows for many variations in plays.

Knock-Out Play On Next Week

Knock-out competition of the Nelson Ladies' Curling Club starts Monday.

Personnel of rinks in order of skip, third, second and lead, follows: Mrs. R. Little, Mrs. L. Bicknell, Mrs. T. Clem and Mrs. R. M. McKee; Mrs. Mary DeGirolamo, Mrs. E. Openshaw, Mrs. J. C. Eckmier and Mrs. G. Smith; Mrs. R. Hale, Mrs. J. Nuyens, Mrs. B. M. Hans and Mrs. G. Gimpel; Mrs. R. Chandler, Mrs. B. Gray, Mrs. R. McKenzie and Mrs. R. Jarrett; Mrs. O. G. Macintyre, Mrs. R. Bush, Mrs. M. Buerge and Mrs. K. Mullins.

Draws will be as follows: Monday, Little vs DeGirolamo; Tuesday, Chandler vs Hale; Thursday, winner of Little-DeGirolamo vs Macintyre; Friday, playoffs.

On Friday the executive will serve tea to all curlers.

SPORTS

On the Point

We asked Ollie Dorohoy, coach of the home-returning Maple Leafs, for a statement concerning tonight's game on the local ice. "You can tell the fans they're going to see a hustling club out there this evening. We've got to win. I've decided to cut the squad to 12 or 13 men to make room for future development. Right now I don't know who is in and who is out. The players know this. They're all going out there with an equal fighting chance of remaining with the club. I've told them so. You can bet your life Trail is going to run into a bunch of battling hockey players when they tangle with us tonight. We're going to have a winning combination before I'm satisfied, and that means individuals playing winning hockey as a team. We want this one badly. I'm oging to be looking for the boys who play like they want it badly. The rest will just have to go to make room for others."

We gathered that Dorohoy meant what he said, especially after his pep talk to the practise session Friday evening. When asked about his chances of donning skates tonight, he replied, "Everything's cleared up, telegrams to all pro clubs have been sent, and the necessary applications wired in. I should have a reply before tomorrow's game giving me the green light. In any case, it's just a formality. If it doesn't arrive in time we're going to ask Trail to recognize the situation and allow me to play. They want to keep us on the bottom, but we didn't interfere with Adams playing for Rossland while awaiting release. I don't see how Trail can refuse us our request if we have to make it. I sure want to get out there with the boys."

Hamilton, the new defenceman from Flin Flon, is a hefty lad and should stiffen the Leaf blue-line corps. He will be in action tonight. Madigan has recovered from his injury and, barring unnecessary penalties, should be a welcome addition to Leaf strength for the do-or-die contest this evening. All the boys are "up" for this one, so the game should be a real thriller, especially with Trail riding high as it enters a resumption of intercity rivalry.

We understand the City Band will be on hand, always a welcome heightening to the game's color. With the fans hockey-hungry plus the player and team issues involved in tonight's face-off, this should be the kind of hockey fare that keeps the stands roaring. Over a thousand watched the last Trail-Nelson tangle in the Civic Centre, with this game's drawing power indicating another big crowd. The Leafs are at the bottom of the league, but they have four games in hand. They can commence to cash in on those victory points by lowering the boom on the high-flying Smokies tonight. Trail needs this one to gain sole possession of first place. That means two teams out there gunning for an all-important win.

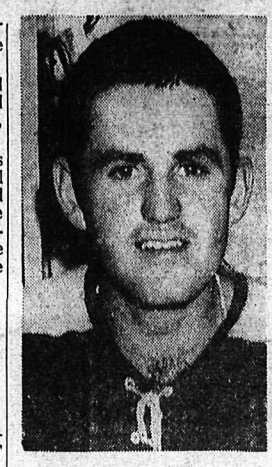
No one can reliably predict the outcome, but everyone can look forward to a mighty exciting two hours following game time at 8 p.m. If we had to choose a winner, we'd select Nelson. That puts us out on a nice long limb that the Smokies will do their best to saw off. Best wishes, Leafs . . . and do protect our precarious perch.

Today's player is George Gibson, speedy defenceman for the Nelson Maple Leafs.

In previous hockey he has played with the Brandon Wheat Kings and last year was in the Toledo, Ohio, lineup.

George weighs in at 152 pounds and is 21 years of age. The fireball is five feet seven inches tall and you'll see him in tonight's game against the Smoke Eaters alongside Nelson's newest arrival, Zeke Hamilton, who is one of the league's biggest defencemen.



GREY CUP EUROPE GAME TODAY

OTTAWA (CP) — The fourth "Grey Cup Europe" game between East and West teams selected from personnel of RCAF Air Division headquarters will be played today at Metz, France.

Flt. Lt. Don West of Vancouver is playing coach of the Easterners. In the previous three years, the East and West each won once and contest was tied.

Tops in Tennis

LONDON (AP) — Christine Truman, who defeated Althea Gibson in Wightman Cup tennis matches, was named Britain's top woman player Friday by the Lawn Tennis Association.

Michael Davies of Wales was ranked No. 1 among British men players.

Elliott Replaces Coach Oosterbaan

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)— Young Chalmers (Bump) Elliott was appointed head football coach at the University of Michigan Friday, succeeding Bennie Oosterbaan, his boss for two years.

Oosterbaan, 52, stepped down just before the end of what seems destined to be Michigan's worst season since 1936. The mild-mannered giant, an All-America end at Michigan in 1925 and 1927, had held the post 11 seasons.

Durelle Shaping Up for Title Bout

MONCTON, N.B. (CP) — New Brunswick's Yvon Durelle is beginning to look like a fighter who could lift the world light heavyweight championship crown from Archie Moore.

Manager Chris Shaban and trainer Paddy Colavito are enthusiastic with the work being put into the training grind by the Baie Ste. Anne fisherman who reluctantly leaves his lobster traps to enter the fight ring.

His big night is Wednesday, Dec. 10, in Montreal. Durelle will be after the world title to add to his Canadian and British Empire light-heavy crown.

GET-ACQUAINTED DRAW TO OPEN SALMO RINK

SALMO — The Salmo Valley Curling and Rink Association has announced the opening of the new artificial ice facilities at the curling rink of the Salmo Arena will take place Monday.

A pre-season or "get-acquainted" draw has been arranged for the first week of play, with regular draws for vice-presidents competition expected to begin on Nov. 24.

Official opening of the newly constructed two sheets of artificial ice has been planned for the near future. The Salmo Ladies Curling Club will also be using the new facilities.

It is anticipated that after 20 years of play on artificial ice, Salmo curlers will show a renewed and much greater interest in the "roaring game". A very good season of curling from November to March is anticipated and still more rinks can be accommodated.

Ti-Cat Coach Expects Trouble With Riders

By BERNARD DUFRESNE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Coach Jim Trimble thinks his Hamilton Tiger-Cats are coming up against a hot football team when they meet Ottawa Rough Riders here today in the first game of the Big Four final.

"All season long Rough Riders have been a sound ball club," he said Friday before sending his team through a light workout.

"Not spectacular, but basically very sound."

As an after - thought, Trimble added: "Then, in the playoffs they became spectacular."

He was referring to Riders' upset 26-12 victory Wednesday over Montreal Alouettes in the sudden-death semi-final.

Sparked by the brilliant running of Canadian rookie quarterback Russ Jackson, Ottawa's in-and-out offence suddenly came to life.

EXPECT TROUBLE

It's that same Ottawa offence, based on the option play, that has Trimble expecting trouble.

"My boys realize how well Ottawa looked against Montreal and they know what to expect."

Kickoff time tomorrow is 10 a.m. local time. Second game of the two-game, total-points final will be in Hamilton next Saturday at the same time.

18,000 Expected as Eskimos, Bombers Open WIFU Finals

EDMONTON (CP) — Normal wintry fare appears in store for Winnipeg Blue Bombers and Edmonton Eskimos today when they open the Western football final in Clarke Stadium, but spirits are running higher than the temperature.

Coach Bud Grant and the pennant - winning Blue Bombers arrived by air in mid - afternoon Friday, then headed for a brief workout to smooth out last-minute muscle kinks.

Eskimos also went through a light Friday workout as a last-minute preparation for today's action, starting at 2 p. m. MST.

The weather forecaster rubbed his crystal ball, then predicted game time will be something like this:

Cool, with a temperature of about 20 degrees; cloudy, with possibility of the odd snowflake and the odd break - through by the sun; light north or northeast winds.

FIELD UNHARMED

Light snowflurries most of Friday brought nearly an inch of snow to the city and the forecaster said up to an inch more might fall before game time. It would not be enough to harm the playing field, however.

Park attendants kept close watch over the turf Friday, sweeping off the first batch of snow and made preparations to start at 4 a. m. today to clear any further snow from the grass and from the 22,000 seats.

Club officials predicted a crowd of more than 18,000 for the game—second afternoon Western Interprovincial Football Union game in Edmonton in less than a week after 10 years of nothing but night games.

Bombers and Eskimos have become accustomed to playing finals in chilly, snowy weather, having done so often in their six final meetings of the last nine years. A year ago heavy snow forced scraping off the surface of the turf here for the deciding game.

SERIES EVEN

The best-of-three series opening today is a rubber-match affair, each club having come out on top three times in their previous playoff final meetings, Bombers in 1950-53-57 and Eskimos in 1954-55-56. Last year's series was won by Bombers with an overtime victory in the third game.

During the regular season this year, in which Bombers won the league pennant after Eskimos had taken it for five consecutive years, Bombers defeated Esks in each of their four meetings, outscoring the Edmonton club 108-57.

Neither coach has predicted the outcome of the current series.

Parker, Etcheverry Face To Face in All-Star Play

HAMILTON (CP)—Two import veterans who have met before in Grey Cup battles will quarterback the Western and Eastern teams in the fourth annual All-Star Shrine football game here Dec. 6.

Jackie Parker of Edmonton Eskimos and Sam Etcheverry of Montreal Alouettes, both of whom have been piling up all-star honors since they arrived in Canada, were named as quarterbacks in the teams announced Friday.

The makeup of the teams produced a couple of surprises with the ommission of former all-stars Normie Kwong of Edmonton and Kaye Vaughan of Ottawa Rough Riders.

PICKED BY COACHES

The selections were made by the coaches of the eastern Big Four and Western Interprovincial Football Union. Each coach named players from other teams in his league and each had to name 12 Canadians among the 26 they chose.

Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Winnipeg Blue Bombers, first-place finishers in their leagues, got the biggest slice of the player pie.

Hamilton placed six men on the East offensive squad and five on the defensive team while the Blue Bombers placed three on the West offence and five on defence.

The teams:

Western offence — Quarterbacks: Jackie Parker, Edmonton, Frank Tripucka, Saskatchewan; halfbacks: Leo Lewis, Winnipeg, Jack Hill, Saskatchewan, Johnny Bright, Edmonton; fullback: Cookie Gilchrist, Saskatchewan; punter: Vic Chapman, B. C.; centre: George Druxman, Winnipeg; guards: Harry Langford, Calgary, Cornell Piper, Winnipeg; tackles: Don Luzzi, Calgary, Roger Nelson, Edmonton; ends: Ken Carpenter, Saskatchewan, Ernie Warlick, Calgary.

Western defence — Ends: Herb Gray, Winnipeg, Art Scullion, Calgary; tackles: Buddy Tinsley, Winnipeg, Chuck Quilter, B. C.; middle guard: Steve Patrick, Winnipeg; linebackers: Ted Tully Edmonton, Dave Burkholder, Winnipeg, Gord Rowland, Winnipeg, Rollie Miles, Edmonton; halves: Harry Lunn, Saskatchewan, Larry Isbell, Saskatchewan, safety; Oscar Kruger, Edmonton.

Eastern offence — Quarterbacks: Sam Etcheverry, Montreal, Bernie Faloney, Hamilton; halfbacks: Joel Wells, Montreal, Ron Howell, Hamilton, Dick Shatto, Toronto; fullback: Gerry McDougall, Hamilton; punter, Cam Fraser, Hamilton, centre: Norm Stoneburgh, Toronto; guards: Jacki Simpson, Montreal Hardiman Cureton, Ottawa; tackles: John Barrow, Hamilton, Dick Fouts, Toronto; ends: Paul Dekker, Hamilton, Red O'Quinn, Montreal.

Eastern defence — Ends: Pete Neumann, Hamilton, Doug McNichol, Montreal; tackles: Giles Archambault, Ottawa, Milt Graham, Ottawa; middle guard: Vince Scott, Hamilton; linebackers: Tom Hugo, Montreal, Tony Curcillo, Hamilton, Harry Lampman Hamilton; Bill Sowalski, Ottawa; halves: Eddie Macon, Hamilton, Bill Bewley, Montreal; safety: Bob Simpson, Ottawa.
