U.S. Rejects New Russia Protest

Brush Aside Complaint on High-Altitude Berlin Flights

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States rejected Russia's newest protest against high altitude flights by American planes in the Berlin air corridor.

The state department brushed aside Russia's complaint less than two hours Wednesday night after Radio Moscow broadcast the text of a formal protest.

The Soviets contended American flights higher than 10,000 feet are "completely devoid of legal foundation".

In reply, a state department spokesman reaffirmed that American planes will fly above 10,000 feet any time they believe it necessary for efficient operation.

"The position of the United States government has been clearly and emphatically stated in its note of April 13," said Press Officer Joseph Reap.

WASHINGTON (Reuters)—A congressional study group said Wednesday it might be necessary to warn the Soviet Union that the United States reserved the right to strike the first blow if the Berlin situation called for action.

"This is a terrifying contingency," the group said, "but conceding the first blow with the certain destruction of major cities is even more appalling. Russia served with notice that we will risk war if necessary is the greatest deterrent to war."

Representatives Cornelius Gallagher (Dem. N.J.) and Alvin Bentley (Rep. Mich.) were members of the group who visited Berlin.

They gave their report at a private meeting of the House of Representatives foreign affairs committee. A statement, described as preliminary to their formal report, was issued by the committee.

The statement said it was a reasonable assumption that the Berlin crisis would not develop into war. But the danger of war was present and that any attempt to end the West's access to Berlin must be resisted.

It noted that a plan was in existence to break any barricade that might be erected at checkpoints if the Soviet Union turned over its control responsibilities to East German authorities.

"There is no doubt that if Russia reinforced that barricade we could be stopped," it said. "There is some thinking that at this point we must consider the next phase, which would be atomic attack . . . We are prepared to risk total war when we break the barricade."

Former Avro Workers Plan Aircraft Plant

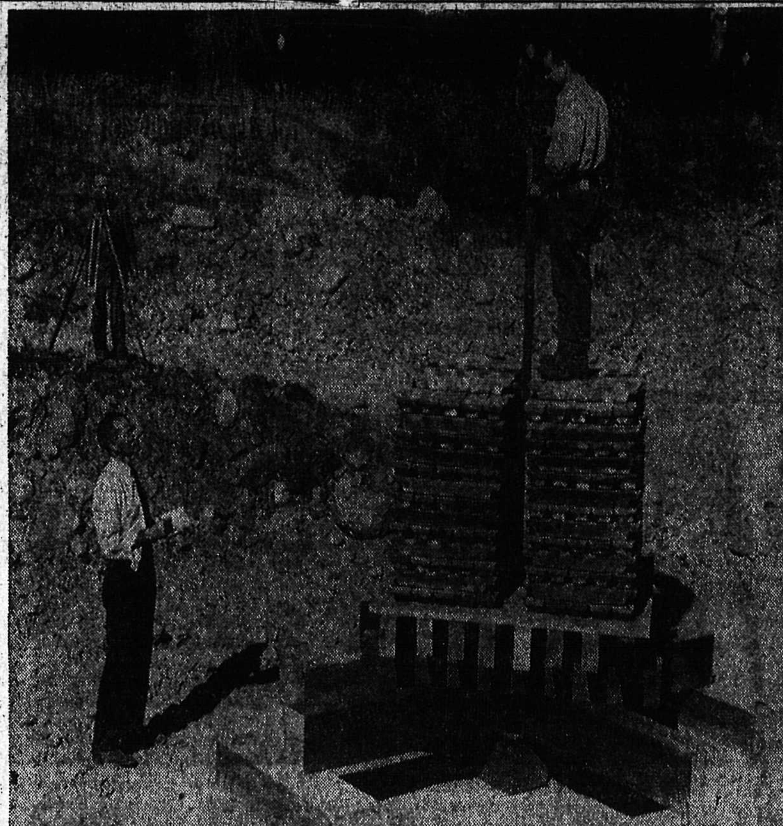
TORONTO (CP)—Two groups of former Avro Aircraft Limited employees Tuesday formally took over rent-free quarters in suburban North York in the first step toward creating a new Canadian aircraft industry.

General Aeronautics and New Products and Developments, consulting engineering companies soon to be registered, are the first new firms to be helped by the township through its special unemployment committee.

The committee was established in March primarily to help the area's 2,000 Avro unemployed. Help has come from North York's largest industrial developers.

Toronto Industrial Leasholds (1957) Limited offered 18,000 square feet in a modern building rent-free to former Avro employees for six months.

John Smith, president of General Aeronautics, said his company will use 6,000 feet of this space to build a one-passenger craft with a helicopter-type rotor blade and pontoons, which will offer maximum flying safety and could be towed behind a motorboat.



ACTIVITY WILL BEGIN soon at site of $20,000,000 iron and steel smelter to be built at Kimberley by the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company. This picture was taken in September, 1957, when tests were carried out for footings at the plant site near the fertilizer department. Shown are F. M. Foreign Ministers On Way to United Front

Paris Discussions in Strict Secrecy, But Progress Reported

By JOHN EARLE

PARIS (Reuters)—Foreign ministers of the four Western powers Wednesday progressed toward a united front for their talks in Geneva with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko starting May 11.

Details of the progress made at the first day's sessions were not disclosed. As the first order of business, U.S. State Secretary Christian Herter, together with the British, French and West German foreign ministers, agreed on complete secrecy about their talks.

This was interpreted at once as a sign there would be major behind-scenes battles before the four powers aligned their differing views on Berlin, Germany and European security.

But Wednesday's sessions went off smoothly, according to all reports. In fact, an American spokesman said the U.S. delegation might leave Paris earlier than planned on the basis of the progress made during morning and afternoon discussions. Herter had planned on the talks running at least until Saturday.

SMOOTH PROGRESS

The American spokesman said the sessions ran "smoothly and no major differences developed."

He also told reporters that Herter, embarked on his first big diplomatic test, was following the same policy that would have been maintained by his predecessor, John Foster Dulles.

The spokesman revealed that the foreign ministers agreed that a working group of Western experts should be instructed to rewrite some of the sections of the "package report" it prepared during 11 days of recent meetings in London.

West Germany's Heinrich von Brentano, emerging this morning from his first meeting with Herter, Britain's Selwyn Lloyd and France's Maurice Couve de Murville, said "it all went very well."

After a break for lunch the four men headed back into session and reappeared about two hours later, smiling but uncommunicative.

WORK DURING DINNER

They were holding a "working dinner" Wednesday night and another full meeting was scheduled for the morning.

The Western statesmen decided on a "strict secrecy" rule at the opening of their talks in line with the diplomatic discretion shown by the eastern bloc at its just-completed Warsaw Pact meeting.

Observers noted the Warsaw communique, although couched in moderate terms, fully backed the Soviet demands for making West Berlin a "free city" and for signing a peace treaty with the two Germanies.

There was no hint of the bargaining tactics Gromyko might use at Geneva, and one Western official explained: "We can't reveal our cards in advance, either."

With less than two weeks to go, the gap between East and West still was wide.

Chinese Reds Beat Back Tibetan Rebels

KALIMPONG, India (Reuters) Tibetan tribesmen south of the Tsangpo (Brahmaputra) River have suffered a major setback at the hands of Chinese Communist ground and air forces, according to reports reaching this Indian border town.

Khamba tribesmen, said to be armed with muskets, bows and arrows and a few rifles, are being mown down by Chinese machine-gunning and bombing from the air wherever they gather in mountain passes and on caravan trails of southeastern Tibet, these reports say.

One by one the 50 fortresses they captured from the Chinese during operations last winter are being retaken in bloody fighting.

The Khambas, spearhead of Tibetan rebellion against Chinese Communist rule, helped the Dalai Lama, the country's spiritual and temporal leader, escape to asylum in India following the abortive revolt in the capital of Lhasa in mid-March.

Rejects Invite To India

TOKYO (AP) — The Panchen Lama, Red China's puppet ruler of Tibet, today rejected an invioation to visit India for peace talks with the self-exiled Dalai Lama.

Indian Prime Minister Nehru, who granted the 23-year-old Dalai Lama asylum after his flight from the Chinese Communists, had suggested the meeting as a move to end the Tibetan rebellion.

The Panchen Lama in Peiping stood by the claim of the Chinese that his holy colleague had been kidnapped and declared:

"If Prime Minister Nehru meant that he hoped I would go to India to enter into talks on the so-called Tibet question, then I must point out that the Tibet question can be solved only in Tibet. It can be solved only in China, definitely not in any foreign country."

Nehru has branded Communist claims that the Dalai Lama is a captive as a lie.

The 21-year-old Panchen Lama spoke to the closing session of the advisory people's consultative conference.

Charges Proper, Appeal Court Told

OTTAWA (CP) — Crown Counsel V. L. Dryer told the Supreme Court of Canada Wednesday that Robert Sommers was properly charged under the old Criminal Code with bribery and conspiracy.

Mr. Dryer was replying in argument to J. R. Nicholson, counsel for the former British Columbia minister of lands and forests, who said his client was improperly charged as a government "official."

Mr. Nicholson said the new and old versions of the Criminal Code exclude cabinet ministers from bribery provisions.

Mr. Dryer said the old Criminal Code, under which Sommers was prosecuted, states clearly that an "official" includes a minister of the crown.

TWO POINTS OF LAW

Mr. Nicholson and A. E. Branca, co-counsel for Sommers, are appealing against Sommers' conviction for bribery and conspiracy on two points of law. Besides arguing that Sommers was improperly charged, they contend that the bribery charges were filed after a two-year limit on such prosecutions had expired.

An appeal based on the same two points of law was rejected earlier this year by the B.C. Court of Appeals in a 2-to-1 judgment.

Sommers, 48, and H. Wilson Gray, Vancouver timber executive, each were convicted and sentenced for having accepted bribes from Gray in 1953-54 and Gray for having bribed Sommers in return for special treatment in getting forest management licences.

IMPEACHMENT CITED

Mr. Nicholson said all available records pointed to ministers being impeached, instead of being tried in the courts. He knew of no case in which a minister had been prosecuted before the courts for accepting a bribe.

Mr. Dryer said impeachment of a minister could not take place in Canada because the Senate is not a court as is the House of Lords in England.

Mr. Nicholson said it is no offence for a minister to accept a bribe, although it is an offence to offer him a bribe. Mr. Dryer disagreed with this interpretation of the Criminal Code, stating that Parliament never intended the law to operate in such a way.

The appeal case is expected to conclude today.

Iron Property Tax Upheld

VICTORIA (CP) — The British Columbia Court of Appeals in a unanimous decision Wednesday upheld the validity of the provincial government's controversial iron ore property tax law, which previously had been declared ultra vires of the legislature.

The tax was imposed in a 1957 statute passed by the legislature. Mining company critics said it was aimed at discouraging export of B.C.'s 20,000,000 proven tons of iron ore to Japan.

Some Vancouver Island iron ore has been going to Japan, but payment of the tax has been held in abeyance until outcome of the court proceedings initiated by interested mining interests.

The law was previously declared beyond the powers of the legislature by Mr. Justice Harry Sullivan in an Assize Court action by the Utah Company. The provincial government appealed the decision.

The law made two provisions:

1. The area concerned had to be declared a producing area.

2. In such areas a tax of $1 a ton of iron content in place was imposed.

DOLLAR LOWER

NEW YORK (CP) — Canadian dollar off 3-32 at $1.03 31-32 in terms of U.S. funds. Week ago $1.03 31-32. Pound sterling off 1-16 at $2.81⅝.

MONTREAL (CP) — The U.S. dollar closed Tuesday at a discount of 3 25-32 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, up 3-32. Pound sterling $2.70⅞, up 3-16. U.S. dollar: Bid 96 3-16; asked 96 7-32.

Open Policy Meetings on Columbia Power

OTTAWA (CP) — The first of a series of policy meetings between federal and British Columbia authorities on power development of the Columbia River was held here Tuesday.

The meetings will deal mainly with the measurement and sharing of downstream benefits. Canada will receive part of the power generated at U.S. dams on the Columbia from water fed down as needed from Canadian dams on the river.

Informants said the first meeting was "very co-operative" and that both sides were happy with the way things were going.

Date of the next meeting depends on progress made by the International Joint Commission in its study of downstream benefits. The commission will meet at Montreal Thursday and Friday.

The federal and British Columbia committees on Columbia development are headed by Resources Minister Alvin Hamilton and Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston, respectively.

Say Byelection Test of Strength

REGINA (CP) — Saskatchewan politicians say the forthcoming byelection in the provincial constituency of Kinistino will be a test of strength.

Ordered to Return Stolen Members

OTTAWA (CP) — The tough Seafarers' International Union was ordered Wednesday by the Canadian Labor Congress to return members it has raided from the National Association of Marine Engineers.

The action was taken at a closed meeting of the CLC's executive council, it was learned Wednesday night. There was no indication as to whether the seafarers, convicted by the CLCL of stealing members from another congress affiliate, would comply.

Guard Against Bomb Plantings

VERNON, B.C. (CP) — RCMP combed the court house here Wednesday to ward off any attempt to plant bombs in washrooms and offices during the bomb conspiracy trial of Sam Konkin, 28. Similar precaution will be taken throughout his trial.

Konkin faces five charges arising from a rash of bombings and attempted bombings in the Okanagan Valley last June.

Last fall a jury failed to reach an agreement in his case.

CNR Better Railway If Gordon Out, House Told

OTTAWA (CP)—A CCF member of Parliament suggested Wednesday that better staff relations and greater efficiency would follow if Donald Gordon no longer headed the Canadian National Railways.

Frank Howard, Skeena, said he doesn't mean that the government should get rid of Mr. Gordon "in an out-of-hand way." But insofar as the CNR employees were concerned, relations would be more harmonious and greater efficiency would result if the president was a man who knew more about railroading.

He said in the Commons that the 58-year-old Mr. Gordon, CNR president since Jan. 1, 1950, does not inspire his employees with the sort of faith and coincidence he should. As long as that was the case, the railway was going to be plagued by inharmonious relations between management and employees.

CONSERVATIVE CRITICAL

Also critical of Mr. Gordon during consideration of a government solution to set up the annual railway committee study of the publicly-owned line was R. Hardy Small (PC—Toronto Danforth).

Mr. Small, who has been critical in the past of the CNR president, said Mr. Gordon was "foolish" not to accept a high-paying job in the United States that was reported to have been offered him some months ago.

Staff morale on the CNR, the continent's biggest railway line, occupied the attention of both Mr. Howard and fellow - socialist Douglas Fisher, Port Arthur.

FUTURE IN DOUBT

Mr. Fisher said there is growing uncertainty among CNR employees about their job future and the future of railway communities. He urged that Mr. Gordon and CPR President N. R. Crump spell out the future programs of the railways in terms of the effects on the employees and their communities.

INTERIOR B.C. LINE

Mr. Howard said the CNR should "get off its fanny" with regard to development of a north-south railway in the B.C. interior towards the Yukon and Alaska. He suggested the line start north from Hazelton on the present CNR main line into Prince Rupert, B.C. from Prince George.

Mr. Howard said there are vast reserves of untouched timber, mineral and hydro power that could be developed in that area.

Heavy Rains Deluge Fraser Valley

CHILLIWACK, B.C. (CP) — Railway and highway traffic, blocked by washouts caused by heavy rain in the upper Fraser Valley, was getting back to normal late Wednesday. But there was no let-up in the rain.

Canadian Pacific Railway, whose line was flooded and washed out at Harrison Mills, 70 miles east of Vancouver, reported traffic was restored on the eastward tracks at noon. Traffic was resumed, with eastbound and westbound trains using the same tracks.

Nearly 150 passengers abroad two Vancouver-bound passenger trains held up by the washout completed their trip by bus.

The CPR's dayliner to Penticton was held up 2½ hours by the washout.

Lumber and railway ties spilled from one freight car onto the Trans-Canada highway by the derailment were cleared from the highway about noon.

The debris on the road had blocked the highway to all but light traffic until it was cleared. Private cars were able to skirt around the blockade by using the rain-softened shoulder of the road.

Britain Considers Nuclear Liners

LONDON (AP)—The ships Britain will build to replace the liners Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth may have nuclear propulsion, a government spokesman said today.

The date of replacement of the two transatlantic queens has not yet been fixed by the government and by the Cunard Lines, which owns them.

It is general knowledge in British shipping circles, however, that their replacement is in the works to meet competition from lighter and faster liners.

$9 Million Project For Richmond

RICHMOND, B.C. (CP) — The B.C. Turf and Country Club was to complete the sale Wednesday of its 42-acre Brighouse property here for $550,000 to make way for a projected $9,000,000 development.

Buildings planned in the development include a 30,000-square-foot food store, 35 small shops, a six-storey office building, six-storey apartment blocks totalling 500 suites, and a recreation centre.

Armed Robbery Yields Only $10

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—Three armed men forced their way into a rooming-house here Tuesday night, tied up the four occupants and demanded monday.

They fled with only $10 after ransacking the home of Edward Gladstone.

Two elderly women and an elderly man were among those tied up at gunpoint and forced to lie on the floor of the rooming-house.

The bandits were armed with a rifle and a blackjack. They wore silk-stocking masks over their faces.

Mr. Gladstone was away from home at the time.

BILL OF RIGHTS CRITICS ATTACKED BY DIEFENBAKER

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker launched a biting attack Wednesday on Liberal critics of his Bill of Rights who maintain there should be a constitutional amendment instead on human rights.

He said most persons who have opposed his attempts through the years to have a Bill of Rights are advocates of a constitutional amendment embracing provincial rights as well.

"They know it can't be attained."

If they insist on a constitutional amendment, "then there are not going to be any steps forward," Mr. Diefenbaker said.

The provinces have constitutional jurisdiction over property and civil rights and are "not prepared to go any way in subordinating their rights."

REPLY TO PRESENTATION

Mr. Diefenbaker spoke in reply to a brief presented by the Association for Civil Liberties and 33 other national and regional organizations.

The brief itself endorsed the view of a Senate committee in 1950 that protection of human rights should be written into the constitution, binding on all governments in Canada.

But the brief added that "short of a constitutional Bill of Rights we welcome as an interim measure the adoption by the Dominion Parliament of a Canadian Bill of Rights Act."

The brief was read by Irving Himel of Toronto, executive secretary of the Association for Civil Liberties. Among organizations supporting it were the Canadian Labor Congress, the social relations department of the Canadian Council of Churches, the Canadian Jewish Congress, the National Council of Women and the Canadian Federation of agriculture.

NOT NAMED, BUT

Mr. Diefenbaker said his remarks were not directed at the brief's sponsors. Although he did not directly name the Liberal party he left no doubt he was referring to it.

STRONG DEFENCE

The prime minister's statement was one of the strongest defences he has made of his Bill of Rights which, in the form of a simple statute, is strictly limited to the operation of laws and orders passed by the federal Parliament and government.

The bill, introduced last session, is scheduled to be debated this session.

To Be Filed Under: People Are Funny

NEW YORK (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev is going to get a surprise shortly—a $6 cheque.

He'll probably be surprised about what it's for, too — poor Russian children.

And quite likely he'd be even more surprised as to why he's getting it—because a New York importer boiled over about a $2 fine for littering the sidewalk in front of his business.

The importer, Norman S. Muller, maintained he wasn't littering. He said he had to open a crate there and actually was cleaning up when an officer handed him a litter ticket.

It all made him so sore he sat right down and fired off letters to the governor, the mayor, the police commissioner and others. At the same time he sent the $6 cheque to Khrushchev, with a note saying:

"As charity knows no boundaries, I am herewith sending to you $6—for poor Russian children. You may use this amount in your own discretion for charity."

That was April 24. So far Muller hasn't heard from any of them.

And in This Corner . . .

BALTIMORE (AP)—The internal revenue service office here said it received the following letter from a taxpayer:

"I am extremely sorry but I just realized that I forgot to attach form W-2 to the rest of the papers mailed to you a few days ago. I realize that this will cause extra headaches and am herewith enclosing a couple of aspirins, and believe me, I am not doing this to be facetious either."

Sure enough, there were two aspirins enclosed.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Peterman of Indianapolis became parents for the 19th time Tuesday with the birth of a son, Randall Wayne.

Mrs. Peterman described their home as "built on love and devotion and consuming 25 gallons of milk, 100 pounds of potatoes and 45 loaves of bread every week."

WINNIPEG (CP)—Is your child hard of hearing lately?

Have his ears checked for peas or grasshoppers, says Dr. Harry Medovy, consultant on child care services for Winnipeg.

Both these foreign objects were found in ears of children checked in a recent test of city students. Marbles and mothballs also have been found as the causes of hearing defects, he said.

COMMUNITY CHEST HAS OBJECTIVE OF $20,000

Nelson Community Chest has set its sights on a target of $20,000 in its 1959 campaign.

A budget of $15,000 presented by budget chairman Dr. H. G. Steed was accepted at a director's meeting Tuesday night. Of this, $10,000 is scheduled for provincial and national organizations, $3810 for local groups and $1100 for chest operation expenses.

If the target is reached, decision will be made later on distribution of funds above the $15,000, Dr. Steed said. He suggested an emergency fund might be set up to provide assistance in unexpected calls for aid in disasters such as fires or floods.

A new agency replaced Kokanee chapter, IODE, which had informed the chest that the IODE would not require assistance this year. The Borstal Association, which is interested in the welfare of youths returning to society from a Borstal institution, was granted $100.

Dr. Steed explained to agency representatives attending the meeting that the association funds for operation were derived largely from donations from community chests throughout British Columbia.

Chest member L. S. Gansner, a Nelson lawyer, in supporting the application, had explained that while rehabilitation measures for such boys had not yet been required in Nelson, a number of Nelson businessmen were prepared to act as sponsors of boys who might come here from Borstal.

18 AGENCIES

The 18 agencies, and the amounts they are to receive this year follow:

National and provincial—Canadian National Institute for the Blind, $1800; Easter Seals (Lions Club), $1000; Cerebral Palsy, $300; Cancer Society, $3400; Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society, $3400; St. John Ambulance Association $100; B.C. Borstal Association, $100.

Nelson district — Ladies' Auxiliary to Canadian Legion, $300; Woman's Auxiliary to Hospital, WA to Mount St. Francis $300; Soroptimist Club, $300; Nelson Ministerial Association, $500; Koolaree, Lourdes and Galilee camps, $150 each; Air Cadets, $315; Sea Cadets, $345; Boy Scouts, $900, plus apple day receipts which have been presented to the Community Chest in past year.

Dr. Steed said his budget committee did not feel the Scouts' apple day could be classed as a canvass: "they are selling something, giving something in return for contributions." Meanwhile the scouts were being kept occupied and interested. The scouts had asked for a larger contribution and the committee had decided to meet the request by leaving apple day proceeds in the hands of the scout group.

CNIB, ministerial association, Mount St. Francis and Hospitals WA's, Cancer Society and the scouts were represented at the meeting. This year's executive at its last meeting decided to invite agencies to send delegates to the monthly meetings in an effort to maintain interest of the agencies in the work the chest was doing on their behalf.

INTO FOLD

Suggestion that the time had come for Red Cross, Salvation Army, and Kinsmen polio and child care groups to join the Community Chest to reduce the number of appeals being made to the public was made, and chest president R. A. Munro assured the delegates that new attempts to consolidate all groups were being made.

Roy Pollard, Cancer Society president, said outside groups declined to join the chest because they felt there was danger of losing their identities. He thought the practice of bringing agency representatives to the chest meetings would help them retain their identities if they now joined.

Dr. Steed said some groups had lost their identities when they entered the chest group because they ceased to work for their organizations as they had previously.

G. F. Hartridge, campaign chairman, reported progress had been made in organizing the early June canvass. This year, the chest planned to lay stress on the business canvass and would strive to have as many wage earners as possible on the payroll deduction plan or on pledges through their banks. Lions Club members D. M. Sample and W. J. Ebdon were preparing canvasser material.

A more complete canvass of the Willow Point, Taghum and South Slocan areas was planned this year. Schools had been visited and principals had agreed to appoint teachers to canvass teachers for pledges.

Salmo Residents Press for Action To End Mine Strike

SALMO — Salmo residents, fearing for the economy of the district because of the strike which has tied up operations of Canadian Exploration Ltd., since April 1, are seeking government action to end the shutdown.

Seventy-five townspeople who attended a public meeting Wednesday night endorsed the dispatching of this wire to Hon. Lyle Wicks, minister of labor:

"Situation critical, Salmo, B.C. Threatened closure of Canadian Exploration property jeopardizes economy of whole district. Request immediate action of your department to explore every possibility to terminate the strike. The whole ecenomy of the district previous to the strike was at a low level. Should the activity of Canadian Ex cease, this community would be in grave circumstances. It is imperative that this matter be given immediate attention."

Copies will go to Hon. W. D. Black, MLA for Nelson-Creston; Donald Brothers, MLA for Rossland-Trail; Randolph Harding, MLA for Kaslo-Slocan; labor leader Harvey Murphy, H. W. Herridge, MP for Kootenay West; J. D. Simpson, president of Placer Development of which Canadian Exploration is a subsidiary, and C. H. Mitchell, secretary of the Mine Operators' Association.

The meeting was optimistic that a solution to the problem could be attained if all had a sincere interest in the community.

A citizens' committee was formed consisting of John Holden, chairman; E. C. Crowe, secretary, and Dr. J. C. Carpenter, O. P. Larsen and W. A. Taylor.

Other meetings will be called if necessary, and Chambers of Commerce and mayors of neighboring cities will be asked to support the committee's efforts

STATEMENT ISSUED

Earlier in the day the local strike policy committee of local 901, Nelson and District Mine Workers' Union, issued a statement in response to word that the company may suspend operations Friday.

The statement read:

"By letter dated April 27, addressed to all hourly rated employees, Canadian Exploration advised that after May 1, 1959, the company will be forced to shut down. In a separate letter addressed to all hourly rated tenants, they advised that house rents for the month of May must be paid in advance and that unless settlement is negotiated by the union before the end of April, there will be no guarantee of houses to rent after May 31. There has, however, been no communication received by the union of any company decision to close. In writing to the employees, the company suggests that responsibility for the shutdown rests with failure of the union to come forward with a settlement formula that would involve no increased cost to the economy. The company apparently ignores the fact that all such formulas put forward have been rejected by their employees. The membership have repeatedly emphasized that in view of the majority award of the conciliation board who after hearing both parties recommended a wage increase of five cents per hour over two years and a pension plan with the bare minimum terms, the company should expect to settle the strike. A membership meeting held April 28 following receipt of the letters by the members indicated no change from this position. It should be noted that Canadian Exploration workers are the only mine company employees in the Salmo area who do not have either a pension or a severance pay plan to provide for their future security."

More than 100 union members have been off their jobs since the strike began.

Saskatchewan Leads West, Speaker Says

Saskatchewan has led the way in debt reduction, social services, and construction of public works, the province's minister of natural resources, Hon. Alex Kuziak, told a public meeting in the Legion hall Wednesday night. At the same time, he claimed, "There is greater democracy and greater freedom under our socialist government than in any other province of Canada."

He supported the last claim by noting that 18-year olds had municipal and provincial votes in the prairie province and that the CCF government there had long recognized the right of civil servants to organize and bargain collectively.

Mr. Kuziak said Saskatchewan's leadership had not only set the pace for western Canada but had influenced trends in the other provinces. Low rates established by the government-owned insurance company had, by example, held rates down in neighboring Alberta, Manitoba and B.C., he said.

Introduction of hospital insurance in other parts of Canada had followed on Saskatchewan's original step in this direction.

"I hear," the minister said, "that your government intends to burn the mortgage on B.C.'s debt next year. Well, we have done more than reduce our provincial debt — we have reduced the burden on our municipal governments as well." He charged British Columbia's provincial debt reduction was being made through saddling cities, and villages, with the load.

He strongly defended Saskatchewan's Crown corporations, which, he declared, had netted $9,000,000 in net profits, almost exactly their capital cost, since their inception.

Biggest problem facing farmers everywhere, Mr. Kuziak saw, was prices for primary products dropping while every other item was going up. The trend is toward larger farm units, more highly mechanized, to combat the price squeeze.

The result of this changing picture in the agricultural scene was a decreasing rural population, while urban centers were growing. Net result was a population growth in Saskatchewan, but at the expense of the outlying areas.

Randolph Harding, MLA for Kaslo-Slocan, thanked Mr. Kuziak for his address. The speaker was introduced by J. R. Andrews, past president of the Nelson CCF Club. J. H. Coventry was chairman.

The streamlined operation of a daily newspaper was shown to 17 grade 12 students of L. V. Rogers high school Wednesday when a class taught by Peter Klassen toured The Nelson Daily News building.

The business English students were conducted through every department from the business office to the press room.

SECTIONMAN MIKE SCHESNUK DIES, AGED 62

Mike Schesnuk, 62, of Ymir Road, died in Kootenay Lake General Hospital Wednesday. He had been employed as a sectionman with the Great Northern Railway since 1923.

Born in Galicia, Poland, in 1896, Mr. Schesnuk married the former Paraskewia (Pearl) Dmitro and emigrated to Midway about 1923. He worked as a section hand until the line was closed there. In 1935 he moved to Hall Siding as section foreman and about 10 years ago took over the Nelson section.

Mrs. Schesnuk predeceased him in July of 1949.

He is survived by four sons, Harry, Alex, John and Michael, all of Nelson; seven daughters, Mrs. George (Mary) Fecyk, Kathleen, Rose, Margaret and Frances, all of Nelson, Mrs. Claude (Anne) Vanier of Vancouver, and Pauline in Vancouver; and one granddaughter, Janice Lorraine Fecyk.

We're Not THAT Old

The Daily News was caught with its proofreaders napping in its story Wednesday in which a Kinsmen Club spokesman explained no reflection against the Trail Kinsmen Health Centre had been intended in comments made to Nelson City Council this week.

In the midst of informing certain readers of our stand for accuracy in presenting news of Council doings to the public, the typographical gremlins moved in and left us wearing a 100-year-old beard. We can't claim more than just over half a century of publication.

Students' Gym Skills Amaze Trail Crowd

TRAIL — One of the most exciting and entertaining evenings in a long time was in store for 600 people who filled the stands in the gymnasium of the J. Lloyd Crowe High School Wednesday night.

The athletic classes of the school combined with the school band to present a two-hour program of first-class entertainment, which included tumbling, mass calisthenics and dancing, interspersed with band selections from classics to the hit parade. A total of 250 students participated in the show.

Master of ceremonies Gerry Della Mattia opened the program, and brought on the marching band with its majorettes. The band then retired to the stage to make room for a class of 80 girls under instructor Helen Nora, who performed precision exercises to music. Then followed different classes with demonstrations of horse-vaulting and tumbling.

Three exhibition dances were performed, the can-can, the schottische and the rhumba. More intricate and expert tumbling was given, and a short exhibition on the high bar by Bruce Martin and Gary Morris. The parallel bars were brought on for some skilful demonstrations by two senior boys. Perhaps the highlight of the evening was the final display, in which the tumblers used apparatus known as the "wompus", comprising two vaulting horses and plenty of mats. Some of the daring leaps made brought the capacity audience almost to its feet.

The program concluded with a short address by principal Walter Hartrick, who commended the physical education instructors, Lloyd Wilkinson, Jeff Elliott and Helen Nora, and bandmaster Morey Block. The audience echoed his sentiments with prolonged applause.

Proceeds go to the school band, which plans to play at Spokane's lilac festival parade May 16. Towards the same cause will go the proceeds from a public performance on Friday of the F. L. Jackson High School band from Salmon Arm.

New Tactics for Combatting Forest Fires To Be Studied

Two Forest Service employees from Nelson will take part in a course and trial of two new chemical fire deterrents in the United States next week.

J. B. Bruce, assistant district forester, and H. L. Couling, forest protection officer, will take part in the exercise at Missoula, Mont., U.S. Forest Region 1 headquarters. Missoula is also the centre of the famous "smoke jumpers", parachutists dropped to fight forest fires.

The course, which will last three days, will consist of tests and practice with borate, a by-product of boron, and a by-product of aluminum. The two chemicals are dropped from aircraft to form a guard around a fire.

Percy Young, distrcit forester for the Nelson Forest District, said that last summer a fire in the Nass River area of Northern B.C. was kept under control by the chemicals for five days until firefighters could be brought in by helicopter.

Both helicopters and fixed-wing aircraft will be used in the tests.

Forest officers from Montana, Idaho and Eastern Washington will also attend the course.

COURSES HERE

Mr. Young also said that a two or three-day course will be set up in two weeks for assistant forest rangers. There will be four courses throughout the district on the techniques and the use of power equipment in fighting fires.

Lists of necessary equipment for logging operators and other units working in the woods have been distributed. Checks will be made on the equipment monthly by the Forest Service.

The fire season for the Kootenay district has not begun yet, but equipment will begin arriving about May 15. Extra crews will be determined later, Mr. Young added.

Industries, Construction Perk Up in East Kootenay

CRANBROOK — Employment conditions in the East Kootenay are continuing to show improvement though most logging operations are idle awaiting drying up of woods and logging roads. With improved demand and price increases, many of the operators in the area had successfully established log stockpile depots accessible during the woods closure.

B.C. Forest Service reforestation project of planting during the short interval before spring growth put about 26 additional men to work, and a two-months department of conservation and recreation project of expanding Wasa public campsite facilities also required a substantial crew. A Kimberley lumber firm, Fab-Co Sawmill resumed mill operations after a winter closure, requiring 15 men.

Plans of various lumber companies for the summer season indicate a probable further improvement in the employment situation in this major industry.

Brighter prospects for Crow's Nest Pass coal mines with placing of orders for approximately 100,000 tons of coal for Japanese steel mills is noted, with stockpiling planned until shipping starts in July. This in turn is expected to step up railway employment. Already showing in transportation employment is the effect of resumption of frequent trainload rail shipment for the season of phosphate rock from northern Montana to Kimberley area for fertilizer plant production. Activity will also be spurred by the start on construction of the $20,000,000 steel and iron smelter at Kimberley.

Low tender, approximately $320,000, for district road paving in East Kootenay, has been submitted by Marwell Paving and Western Paving, to be undertaken this year. At the west end of the district Continental Contractors Ltd. has been awarded the contract for construction of seven miles of the eastern section of the Salmo-Creston highway. Pesker Paving Ltd. has undertaken the Creston village street program which will pave 12,000 square yards within village limits in the 1959 season.

Start of brewing at the new Interior Breweries Ltd. plant at Creston is reported, but it is not expected to be operating fully until mid-May. Building finishing work is continuing and will be completed before remaining staff members are transferred from Fernie and Nelson to this single Kootenay plant.

Other commercial buildings under way in East Kootenay are a bakery at Invermere and a plumbing and heating business building at Creston. Work on Kimberley's new Centennial Arena is also expected to be resumed quite soon.

A satellite broadcasting station at Creston to receive and amplify for that area the Cranbrook station of East Kootenay Broadcasting Company Ltd. is under construction.

BUSINESS GOOD

Wholesale and retail trade is reported improved during the first four months of 1959, compared with the same period last year and is expected to show the effect of the stepped up tempo in woods work, mining and transportation. Insurance and real estate sales are reported on the upswing.

Campbell Heads Snow Fiesta

KIMBERLEY — At the annual meeting of the Kimberley Snow Fiesta Committee, William Campbell, co-ordinator, was elected president succeeding Mayor Clifford Swan who has been president for the past four years. He will continue as a director.

Chuck Kinrade, publicity, was elected vice-president, and Mrs. Jenny Payette was re-elected treasurer.

The secretary's position is vacant with retirement of Mrs. Wightman and will be filled by the executive.

Directors were increased from four to six. Hugh Patterson, Ina Hansen and Dale Wilson are serving their second year terms and Raine Korbin, publicity, Charles Wormington and F. M. Waldie were elected for two-year terms.

It was decided that $4578 given to the Kimberley Centennial Committee would be turned over to the Projects Society to help with completion of the new arena.

Considerable discussion on means of improving and financing the Snow Fiesta ensued, and a letter embodying several suggestions submitted by the Lions Club was read.

Moving of the new Snow Fiesta headquarters to a permanent site will be first consideration of the committee.

Cranbrook To Again Put Debentures on Local Market

CRANBROOK — For the third consecutive year, the city will offer to residents in denominations of $100 and $1000, debentures for the most recent improvements to sidewalks.

The bylaw for the 1959 issue totalling $27,885.98 has been approved by the department of municipalities and was given final reading at City Council meeting this week.

The issue of serial debentures of one to ten years will be printed and ready for sale within a month or two, and will carry coupon interest of five per cent.

The 1957 issue totalling $17,000 and the 1958 issue of $19,000 for local improvements which were similarly offered to local buyers before any block sale, were purchased entirely locally and never reached the block-sale stage.

CASTLEGAR FERRY TRAFFIC SLOWER

CASTLEGAR — A decrease in traffic over the Columbia River via the Castlegar ferry during March is shown in a report from the highways department.

Comparative figures for March, 1959, and March, 1958, follow:

	1958	1958
No. round trips	3,706	3,729
No. automobiles and drivers	31,329	30,539
No. passengers, not drivers	72,474	66,115
Trucks, all types	11,543	11,117
Trailers, semi-trailers	306	264

Fernie to Choose New Alderman

FERNIE — A by-election will be held in Fernie May 21, to fill the council vacancy created by the death of Alderman Isaac Haile on April 13. Nomination day will be on May 12. City clerk Frank Butala will be returning officer, with Horace Duke and Mrs. Betty Shianni as deputies.

City Council has proclaimed the month of May as "clean - up month". Action was taken to co-operate with the Chamber of Commerce which will be making a concerted month-long effort to encourage property owners to clean up unsightly lots. The Chamber will help by providing trucks and work parties to remove debris. For its part the city will clean municipal owned lots and other city property and will accept as as garbage material removed from lot cleaning. Ald. John Sweeny was named city representative on the committee consisting of chairman Ken Stewart, Eric Mansbridge and Mike Wasnock, the Chamber of Commerce, co-ordinating committee.

The Council will prepare a brief for presentation to the Board of Transport Commissioners with its request for a grant of $25,000 to carry out recommended improvements to the city airport. Plans inclure lengthening of runway, an additional east-west runway, fill-work and a hill levelling job. Material from the hill would be used for fill work and runway extensions.

Fernie school district requisition for $36,484 as Fernie city share of the district's local taxation was accepted. This compares with the 1958 requisition of $34,853, an increase of $1631. The city share of district local taxation is 16.91 per cent is raised from rural areas.

The Horseshoe, or Canadian falls, at Niagara Falls is 2500 feet across compared to 1000 feet for the American falls.

CM&S Employees Get $990 for Suggestions

TRAIL — A steady flow of ideas from men on the job is reported by the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company's suggestion plan committee. A total of $990 was recently shared by Trail and Kimberley employees for a wide variety of practical suggestions. The 114 awards ranged from $5 to $60.

J. C. Browne of the zinc department at Trail received a $60 award for suggesting an improved method of supporting tank room bus bars.

A Kimberley man, G. Eccleston, employed in the Sullivan concentrator, received two awards. A flashing light device used as a safety feature on derailed cars brought him an award of $50. Mr. Eccleston also received $25 for suggesting an improvement to the method of lubrication of wheels on ore cars.

One $30 and three $25 awards were received by employees at Trail operations. The $30 award was shared by H. I. Huitema and J. Gach, welding shop, for assisting in the development of an improved type of paint for structural steel. K. A. Klinzing, boiler shop, received $25. In the smelting department, $25 awards were received by C. F. Archibald and R. R. Henderson.

Awards ranging from $5 to $20 were paid to the following employees at Trail: R. W. Ross, S. L. Thompson, E. K. Rusten, P. A. Magesgey, H. L. Palmer, E. Tadevie, S. G. Henke, I. LaFace, W. Thomson, J. The Right Not to Print

The man who was annoyed because he was given a ticket for overparking, and went into the office of the local newspaper and inserted a $16 dollar advertisement saying, "Prince George. You are strictly bush league," had the right idea of the use of the Press. He might have addressed a letter to the editor on the subject, but he asked no favors—he paid for what he wished to say.

There seems to be much misunderstanding about letters to the editor. In the ordinary course of affairs the recipient of any letter is entitled to do what he likes with it. Subject to the laws of libel and contempt of court, the editor publishes those letters which will interest the reading public and the more interesting they are the more gladly he will publish them. The editor spends all his life trying to find stories which will interest his reader, but there is no compulsion on him to bore his readers to death.

A newspaper is a private undertaking and though it circulates among the public it is not a public affair, so that irate readers cannot "demand" that the paper publish their letters. They can, like the motorist at Prince George, take advertising space and publish what they wish to say, though the newspaper still has the right to refuse anything which is unfair, libellous or offends good taste.

From this it is quite clear that the freedom of the press includes the right not to print. This is logical, for a newspaper would not be free if it had to publish all that was sent to it. Freedom of the press also includes freedom of choice, for it would be impossible to print all the news in the ordinary newspaper. This necessity for choice sometimes means that news is left out of the newspaper and this leads to the belief by many people that newspapers exercise some kind of censorship over news.

Though a great many people will not believe it, nothing could be further from the truth. There are only two things which count with editors—will an item interest his readers, and will there be room for it—and this often means that he acquires a headache.

When a reader's letter is apposite, interesting and without malice, then editors will gladly publish it. It is up to the writer to make it that way.

Interpreting the News

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

India's Prime Minister Nehru, while pleading for the "language of restraint," has come close to calling the rulers of Communist China liars on the question of Tibet.

Nothing could be more bitingly polite than the words of Nehru when he referred to "responsible people" in Red China in saying:

"They have used the language of the cold war regardless of truth and propriety. This is peculiarly distressing in a great nation with thousands of years of culture behind it, noted for its restrained and polite behavior."

In categorically denying Red Chinese charges against India regarding Tibet and its fugitive Dalai Lama, the Indian neutralist leader reflected continuing Asian outrage at the Tibetan affair.

Not since taking power in China have the Communists come under such critical scrutiny in the eyes of Asia's millions. The key appears to be that the Chinese managed to mutilate two things at once: The modern Asian dream of self-determination; and an age-old Asian religion.

The Communists lost face in still another, more surprising quarter. Tibet showed it is able, for event a tiny country—admittedly helped by extremely forbidding terrain—to raise serious resistance against mighty Red China. And the fighting spread in border areas of China itself, exposing discontent there.

The Dalai Lama, by making clear that he left Tibet voluntarily and not under duress as Peiping claimed, further discredited Red China before millions who believe he is a living god incapable of deceit.

Denunciation of the Red Chinese action has been heard in such countries as India, Malaya, Ceylon, Indonesia, Japan, Burma, Viet Nam and Thailand.

As was to be expected, popular expressions—parades and demonstrations—ran well ahead of official government comment in so-called uncommitted countries. No one is talking about attacking Red China, a country of 600,000,000 population, but typical is the comment of Nehru:

"We have every desire to maintain friendship between India and China. At the same time we have every sympathy for the people of Tibet and we are greatly distressed at their hapless plight."

As has happened so often in the West, the Tibetan uprising was compared to the Hungarian revolt of 1956 by Dr. Ismail Bin Dato Abdul Rahman, minister of external affairs for Malaya, who added:

"As upholders of the United Nations charter, we must deplore the failure to allow the Tibetan people to exercise self-determination."

From Burma came a religious comment by U Dhammi Tha Ya, president of the National Buddhist Association, who condemned the "brutalities and ruthless killings" to which Tibet's Buddhist population had been condemned.

$100 Each

What is the cold war costing Canada? Plenty.

For defence, defence production and civil defence, Ottawa is planning to spend this year a total of $1,705.8 million. That's $100 apiece for every man, woman and child in Canada. It's more than a quarter of all federal government expenditures, and $300 million more than we will spend on family allowances, old age pensions and federal hospital insurance all put together.

A breakdown of defence expenditures by the Canadian Industrial Preparedness Association shows the major divisions as follows:

Navy—$287.5 million or 17 per cent;
Army—$448.9 million or 28 per cent;
Air Force—$811.3 million or 48 per cent.

Even with generous allowance for 20 years of inflation there is quite a contrast with the last full year of peace in 1938 when total defence cost less than $33 million and the major items were:

Navy—$4.3 million or 13 per cent;
Army—$17.2 million or 54 per cent;
Air Force—$10 million or 32 per cent.

—The Financial Post.

F. B. Pearce... ...Writes

Certainly the developments in the Kootenays just now are most exciting—a new pulp mill and a steel industry. But that is only the beginning, let us look into the future and see what happens in the Kootenays in 20 years time.

Victoria—Speaking in the legislature, the Premier, Mr. Bennett, said that he was pleased to be able to make an announcement of great importance.

The white-haired premier, still with his youthful smile and pearly teeth, held the House spellbound while he related all industrial marvels of the Kootenays. Looking back over the years he described the start of the Kootenay industrialism as from two relatively small plants, one producing pulp and the other steel, until the 700 plants of all descriptions which make the Kootenays the industrial centre of Canada.

In view of the immense development of the area, and the tremendous population of the Kootenays, the cabinet now had under consideration the feasibility of removing the capital from Victoria.

The announcement was received with enthusiasm by most members, though Mr. Angus McInterest, CCF leader in the House, assailed the proposal as unfair to the North Country. "Why," he asked, "should all the good things sit on the 49th parallel?"

Nelson—The mayor, Mr. G. Stoplonger, said that the announcement was not unexpected. It had been known for some time that with its present population of seven million the Kootenays had the deciding voice in provincial affairs. The Council, he said, will go into session immediately. There was no question but that the Queen City of the Kootenays should also be the Queen City of B.C. and he felt that the legislature could be comfortably housed in the old jail or the old city hall.

The Daily News in its world-wide edition gave banner headlines to the announcement and in an editorial commended the Social Credit government for its recognition of the claims of the Kootenays. Much credit, they felt, should also go to the member for the Nelson-Creston riding, Mr. S. Pink, for his indefatigible efforts on behalf of the Kootenays. The paper also pointed with pride to the fact that its circulation had now reached the 500,000 mark.

This they were sure was due to the installation of the new, modern newstellies. For the low price of $10 per month television owners could dial 100 facsimilie pages of the News as well as fifty pages of comics on Saturdays.

Kaslo—A report from that city says that fishermen are now convinced that the government policy of irradiating the spawn of fish is effective. Fish have been observed at least seven feet in length but statements that fish are now attacking boats has been branded as the work of irresponsible persons.

Nelson—For some time there have been complaints of the poor passenger service between Nelson and coastal points. The CPR today made known that its newest syndronical cable will be put into use at the end of the month. New and improved flotocars will be used which can follow the cable at a height up to 800 feet with safety. A standby cable will always be in use in case of accidents or bombings.

B.C. Associated Press—A statistician in the United States says that Russia has used the word "No" 7500 times in the past ten years against the U.S. record of 6909. It is expected that there will be questions in Congress as to why the U.S. allows Russia to outdo her.

Pictures First Spaceman Free From Impulse

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The first U.S. man into space probably will be a cautious driver on the ground.

He likely spanks his children when they misbehave. He gets mad from time to time and may show it, but he can control his anger if he has to.

That's part of the picture of the seven U.S. space candidates as reported Wednesday by the chief psychiatrist who examined them, Capt. George Ruff of the U. S. Air Force Wright Air Development Centre.

The first space pilot is free from impulse. He isn't likely to pop off to superiors or go absent without leave.

Dr. Ruff said the first space man is generally a warm father—but he isn't family bound. He forms close relationships such as those in the family easily—but he can also detach himself from his family if he has to.

Generally he's careful about his personal and family finances but he may go into debt to buy a big item. He lives fairly comfortably on the equivalent of a $10,000 a year civilian salary.

But he isn't satisfied with the routine or the established way. He wants to fly the newest aircraft, for instance, and to establish a new frontier. You could call him a creative conformist, Dr. Ruff said. He spoke before the American Psychiatric Association annual meeting and also answered reporters' questions.

Ike Covers Montgomery to Berlin at Press Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said anew Wednesday that the United States never will desert the 2,000,000 free people of West Berlin and leave them to Communist domination.

Asked at his press conference to comment on the German situation and Western hopes and plans for dealing with it, he said the United States is going to maintain its rights in Berlin and is going to discharge its responsibilities there.

He added that the United States stood flat-footedly on that principle. After that, there were a great many approaches as to what might be done to ease the situation, to make certain it would not grow any worse. He did not go into any detail.

This was Eisenhower's first Washington press conference since March 25. He dealt with these other topics.

Nuclear Tests — He reiterated that Soviet insistence on veto power over control of any nuclear weapons tests suspension program is the major obstacle in the way of East-West agreement.

He said a British plan, described by a reporter as a compromise proposal, never contemplated permitting a veto power.

He made that statement when asked why the U.S. is unwilling to accept that proposal, one Russia has indicated it would be willing to approve.

The reason is, Eisenhower said, that the Russians would want to couple it with veto power.

Summit site — It's still far too early to be thinking about a site for any summit conference with the Russians, Eisenhower made that comment when asked whether he would like such a meeting to be held in San Francisco.

Montgomery — As for remarks by his old comrade in arms, Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, that the American leadership under Eisenhower has become suspect, the president suggested to reporters that they read Wednesday's British newspapers on that matter. Many of the papers were critical of Montgomery for saying what he did.

All of the answers, Eisenhower said, can be found in these stories.

Iraq—The United States is very concerned about Iraq and the possibility of complete Communist domination of that country. Eisenhower said he doesn't know whether he agrees with Allen W. Dulles, chief of the Central Intelligence Agency, that the situation in Iraq is the most dangerous in the world. But he added it certainly is not an easy situation.

Nixon-summit — He and Vice-President Richard Nixon never would attend any summit conference with the Russian simultaneously, Eisenhower said. That wouldn't be feasible because of the nature of American government and the necessity for the president to avoid being out of the country for any length of time.

A bit later, in reply to another question, Eisenhower said he had not meant to imply any probability that Nixon might take over for him during part of any summit meeting.

Herter - Dulles — Eisenhower said that from the onset of John Foster Dulles' illness last February, both he and Dulles were in agreement that Christian A. Herter should be named secretary of state if it became necessary for Dulles to resign.

When Dulles was forced to resign earlier this month because of cancer, Herter, who had been serving as acting secretary, was his immediate choice for the job, the president said, provided his health was up to the burden.

Eisenhower reported his views on this matter when told there had been some speculation that (1) Herter was his reluctant choice and (2) that Herter's prestige had been damaged because the president waited four days to appoint him after Dulles stepped down.

More Tourists Taking Holidays In Russia

By PETER SYPNOWICH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—It used to be "fellow travellers" and "pinkos" who went on trips to Russia—now the capitalists are going.

Two Toronto travel firms are offering 30-day tours this summer to the Soviet Union for $1,960 to $2,350, including plane fares.

"My experience is when you travel with top business people you can't cut corner," says O.K. Johnson, whose firm offered its first tour last year and attracted 11 businessmen and wives.

This year Picard and Stafford also is offering a Russian tour, with CBC news broadcaster Larry Henderson as director, and vice-president Irving Picard says it's a deluxe one.

"You've got to be an enthusiastic traveller or else you've got to have a lot of money."

TOUR BY BUS

A more economical tour is planned by 25 members of Toronto's Picadilly Club, using the club's 10 - year - ol' bus, called Genevieve, for a 60 - day swing through Europe which includes a visit to Moscow. It'll cost them $1,750 apiece.

Travel will be in style — by limousine and plane, mostly—for participants in the two commercial tours. The Johnson firm puts a limit of 15 persons to a group. Picard and Stafford 25. Each expects one group.

"Bookings were slow at first because the was so much sabre-rattling over Berlin," says Mr. Picard. "But after all, the sabre-rattling has been going on for years."

What attracts the tour-goers?

"It's strictly curiosity," says Mr. Johnson. "You can't say Russia is a tourist country in the strict sense of the word."

"People want to see for themselves how much of the news is fact and how much is propaganda," says Mr. Picard.

OFFICIAL GUIDES

Mr. Johnson, who accompanied last year's tour and made a trip to Russia beforehand to set it up, says visitors in the Soviet Union must be accompanied by official Intourist guides, with itineraries pre-arranged.

But tourists are free to roam by themselves in the vicinity of their hotels. And during last year's tour one of the businessmen had no trouble visiting relatives.

"If a person has some special interest — and it isn't a secret project—then it can be seen."

Mr. Johnson foresees more and more travel to Russia. He's just back from Copenhagen, where he met a group of American travel agents who told him Intourist expects 7,000 visitors from Canada and the United States this year. They also reported Intourist is establishing resorts along Russia's riviera, the Black Sea.

Mr. Picard is even more enthusiastic. He says the Russians are bound to join the trend toward fewer restrictions, making tours to the Soviet Union more attractive and less expensive.

"All governments are realizing travel is the best method of mutual understanding and a guarantee world peace."

Iowa's Cupboard Like Old Mother Hubbard's

NEW YORK (AP) — "I feel sorry for the next governor," said a veteran Iowa legislator as he considered his state's finances recently. "He'll be like Mother Hubbard when he takes a look in the cupboard, because it's really going to be bare."

As is the case with many other states, notably Michigan, Iowa has fiscal troubles. Its treasury is solvent. But a $100,000,000 "rainy day fund" that was built up during the Second World War is down to $20,000,000. Living, like many another state, beyond its income, it has had to dip into this reserve.

An Associated Press survey of state financial problems indicates 10 of them deeply in debt or in imminent danger going into the red. And 16 have some measure of financial difficulties that could become awkward.

SPENT SURPLUSES

Many got into trouble by spending more money than they received, making up the difference by dipping into surplus monies and by borrowing. Others are recession victims: Last year's business decline cut their income below their outlays.

Michigan, among the most troubled states, was brought to its current crisis by multiple factors. Generally, over-spending and the recession, complicated by political bickering, has been held responsible.

For three years Michigan spent more than it took in. When a modest $25,000,000 surplus evaporated, deficit financing followed. The deficit could reach $110,000,000 by June 30, and the state also has nearly $213,000,000 in general obligation bonds outstanding.

The economic decline, which brought a high rate of unemployment to such major industrial centres as Detroit, cut into state revenue at a time when it was already insufficient.

The Republican-dominated legislature blames Democratic Governor G. Mennen Williams for the fiscal impasse. "The governor always comes in with a budget increasing services everywhere," complains state Senator Charles Prescott. "If he's signed a tax bill, I don't recall it."

Williams and the legislature were deadlocked on a tax program. He wants a personal income tax and an income tax on business. The Republicans insist on an increase in the sales tax.

Meanwhile, the governor used money appropriated for colleges and universities to meet the state payroll, directing these institutions to borrow money. Then the banks cut off credit to the universities.

The governor next appealed to business and industry, which paid May and June taxes ahead of time but the situation still is critical.

Over - spending income while balancing the budget from reserve funds has created financial difficulties in California, New York, Washington, Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

Grain Ship Plugs Seaway Channel

VALLEYFIELD, Que. (CP)—Three tugs Wednesday cleared an 8000-ton grain ship stuck in the Beauharnois Canal, opening the new St. Lawrence Seaway after a 15-hour standstill.

The three tugs pulled the Prescott, carrying grain from Fort William, Ont., to Montreal, from its position in the seaway channel near a road and rail bridge.

The 515-foot-long laker plugged the canal Tuesday near this community 40 miles west of Montreal and blocked the seaway route between Montreal and the Great Lakes.

Two tugs went to the Prescott's aid Tuesday night. A third tug was ordered to the scene.

Invaders Will Surrender If Sent Back To Cuba

By LUIS NOLI

PANAMA CITY (AP)—A band of Cuban invaders of Panama Wednesday said they would surrender only if assured they would be returned at once to Cuba and would not be punished.

President Ernesto de la Guardia's government showed no inclination to promise more than its earlier assurance that the members of the revolutionary band would not be killed.

Minister of Government Jose D. Bazan said authorities viewed the surrender mission as a failure so far.

The government was counting on help and advice from five Latin American ambassadors who arrived from Washington as an inspection team for the Organization of American States. They went into conference after Foreign Minister Miguel Moreno Jr. met them at the airport.

The invaders' surrender terms were relayed t the government by one of two bearded Cuban officers sent to Panama by Fidel Castro's regime to seek the surrender if the invasion force, which embarked from Cuba last week.

Carrying a Cuban flag, they contacted the hired invaders in the little town of Nombre de Dios, 50 miles north of the capital on the Caribbean coast. They had halted there Monday after advancing 35 miles along the coast from the beach on which they landed early Saturday.

HURRIES TO CAPITAL

One of Castro's mediators, Capt. Armand Torres, hurried back to the capital Tuesday night, bringing with him a member of the foreign invading force. They went directly to the Cuban Embassy.

There was no immediate indication of what Torres' next step would be.

President de la Guardia said Tuesday night two more invasion ships carrying up to 300 men were reported on their way to Panama from Cuba.

Panama's minister of government Jose Bazan said the country's 3,000 national guardsmen—the nation's only defence force—have occupied "strategic points and are awaiting orders which will be issued whenever necessary."

HOLD FIRE

Government troops held fire until Castro's mediators had a chance to try to persuade the invaders to lay down their arms on the promise their lives would be spared.

Bazan told the National Assembly the majority of the revolutionists were "civilians with police records in Cuba and the United States."

He identified their chief as Cesar Vega, a former night club owner.

Cuba's revolutionary prime minister, Fidel Castro, furiously condemned his countrymen's interference in Panamanian affairs. In a press conference broadcast to Cuba from a plane flying him to South America, he said the invasion by Cubans "is embarrassing and inopportune . . . it is onerous for us, a negation of our policies . . . it puts us in a disagreeable situation. It has no justification."

"IT WAS A GREAT BLESSING," writes a lady from St. Boniface, Manitoba, "when a friend recommended TEMPLETON'S TRC's for my rheumatic and arthritic pain. I had been in great misery for some time — but have now found quick and satisfactory relief." This is the theme running through scores of heartfelt tributes to TRC's. Some of the most touching letters come from older men and women who had reconciled themselves to recurring rheumatic and arthritic pain — but who now know renewed joy in living. TRC's have been proven helpful for rheumatic, arthritic and sciatic pains. So remember them!

Sorority Members Widen Cultural, Social Horizons

Nearly 20,000 women throughout the world are enjoying cultural and social development through their association with a sorority organized 28 years ago specifically for this purpose.

Walter W. Ross was founder of the sorority with a charter membership of a few women who gathered in a private home for their first meeting.

The sorority now has a membership of nearly 20,000 women in 6000 chapters in all parts of the world.

During a banquet attended by Nelson chapters of the sorority Wednesday night in the Memorial Hall, a message was read from the founder. Mrs. M. Slater read the message Tuesday night and the founder's day pledge was presented by Mrs. Ray Wallace.

Talks were heard on "the value of an original idea" by Mrs. W. L. Openshaw, who spoke on the continued growth of the founder's idea, and "the priceless privilege of being ourselves" by Mrs. E. R. Mason, both topics emphasizing the original purpose of the organization.

Former pledges became members of sorority chapters — Iota, Alpha Xi and Xi Theta — at a candlelit ritual ceremony read by Mrs. E. W. Mercier, during which they received jewelled badges. Candle holders were Mrs. Openshaw and Mrs. V. O. Miller.

Presentations were made to "girls of the year" for the Iota Chapter to Mrs. Openshaw, who received her award from Mrs. H. Herbison and for Alpha Xi chapter to Mrs. Miller, who received her award from Mrs. B. A. Clarkson.

Mrs. D. V. Askew sang a prize-winning song composed by a German girl, who is a member of the sorority in Germany. "Grace" was presented by vocalists Mrs. R. Bain Oliver, Miss Lillian Auld and Mrs. Askew.

An honorary membership on the sorority city council will be bestowed on Mrs. M. G. Oliver, who presented a crocheted tablecloth she had made for the sorority to Mrs. Wallace, president of the city council.

Mrs. Clarkson, Mrs. C. Holland and Mrs. Oliver, representing the three sororities, spoke on the 28th anniversary occasion.

New Choir Gowns Part of St. Saviour's WA Activity

Choir cassocks completed through efforts of the Woman's Auxiliary to St. Saviour's Pro-Cathedral were worn for the first time at last Sunday's service, it was noted at a meeting of the WA in the Mary Robertson room of the Memorial Hall this week.

Mrs. A. A. Ness, president, conducted the meeting during which Mrs. C. M. Beltner read the scriptural passage and Mrs. G. Knight and Mrs. G. W. Lang continued social study book readings with a chapter on "The Sick".

Reports were given of visits to the hospital and to sick people in their homes. Plans were discussed concerning assistance with meals during the teacher training school to be held this Saturday.

Slides will be shown May 10 in the church. These are in connection with the year's service study.

Soroptimists Discuss Concert, Elect Delegates

Plans were made for their spring concert at a meeting of the Nelson Soroptimist Club at the home of Mrs. H. Butterfield, 302 Vernon Street, Tuesday night.

The concert program will be presented by the boys' choir of Mrs. T. J. S. Ferguson, BA, ATCM, with assisting artist Elfreda Sewell, FTCL, LRAM, violinist. Proceeds of the concert will be used for the children's ward of Kootenay Lake General Hospital, a project of Nelson Soroptimists.

Some discussion was held on assistance to be given by members at the Red Cross blood donor clinic June 4.

Mrs. D. M. Sample and Mrs. J. Nicol will be delegates to the regional Soroptimist conference to be held in Saskatoon May 28 to 30.

Co-hostess at the meeting was Mrs. J. Nichol.

Chronic Illness, Infant Mortality Are Big Problems

MONTREAL (CP) — A longer-lived population creates problems for the Victorian Order of Nurses, Christine Livingstone, the order's director in chief, said Tuesday.

"The problems associated with illness in an aging population are still with us, and this trend is bound to continue," she said in her report to the annual meeting.

"More peolpe are living into the middle and later years of life," Miss Livingstone said.

"Heart ailment, strokes, fractures, cancer, arthritis and rheumatism have increased strikingly." These were ailments primarily striking the elderly.

"The miracles of modern science have given longer life and better health to countless Canadians. At the same time they have created new problems."

"To the Victorian Order this means . . . that the major portion of our service is given to patients who have chronic illness."

Canada's maternal mortality rate is still too high, she said.

"In 1956 an average of 21 mothers died every month during child birth. Too many babies, too, have been dying at birth or in their first year of life. Many of these deaths might have been prevented with prenatal and postnatal education."

Text of her remarks was issued to the press before delivery.

Applications To Be Received For Bursaries

Nelson Parent-Teacher Association bursary committee are awarding their annual bursary to deserving students in grades 9 to 13.

At a meeting of the committee held recently, it was noted that it is again time for students of those grades to apply in writing for the bursary to president Mrs. M. Rapley, 717 Mill Street. Final date applications will be received is June 1, it was emphasized.

Changes in constitution of the committee have brought about small differences in method of applying for the bursary from time to time. The amount received by students applying for the bursary may amount up to $100 and cannot be less than $50 according to the constitution. The money is to be used to assist any conscientious student, not necessarily of A and B grades, to purchase books, clothing, etc., for the school year. A bursary cheque is presented to the student at beginning of the school term in September.

The Memorial PTA bursary was started by the Kinsmen Club who added to the original amount until it reached $1000, which was invested in bonds for the bursary fund.

CLARE LUCE ROUSES STORM IN SENATE

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce's usefulness as ambassador to Brazil has not been damaged in any major way by her row with Democratic Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon.

He told his conference that he had a telephone survey made Tuesday—after Mrs. Luce hit out verbally at Morse — and concluded that she would be welcome in Brazil.

The Senate Tuesday gave Mrs. Luce a vote of confirmation, 79 to 11, despite bitter opposition by Morse.

Mrs. Luce then said her troubles began when Morse was "kicked in the head by a horse."

Eisenhower was asked whether he thought Mrs. Luce should take up her post in Rio de Janeiro or follow the advice of her husband and ofter to resign.

OBEY HUSBAND?

Eisenhower hestiated a moment and then joined in a round of laughter touched off by the way the question was put—whether he thought Mrs. Luce should obey her husband.

Eisenhower then said that though Mrs. Luce's criticism of Morse may have been ill advised, it was human.

She made the remark, he said, in the heat of anger. But, he went on, so far as he is concerned the criticism of the Oregon senator was not meant as any disparagement of the Senate.

Then Eisenhower said he feels there has been no major impairment of Mrs. Luce's usefulness.

He also said that she had not so far offered to resign.

The president added, however, that she did suggest last month that her nomination be withdrawn. That was at the time that Time magazine was being sharply criticized for printing an article on Bolivia in its Latin American edition.

Shortly after the Senate gave her a 79-to-11 vote of confirmation, Mrs. Luce issued this statement in New York:

"I am grateful for the overwhelming vote of confirmation in the Senate. We must now wait until the dirt settles. My difficulties, of course, go some years back and began when Senator Wayne Morse was kicked in the head by a horse."

That put the fat in the fire.

MENTAL INSTABILITY

Morse, still on the Senate floor, retorted, "this is part of an old pattern of mental instability on her part." Morse suffered a fractured jaw when kicked by a horse in 1951.

Several of his Democratic colleagues, who had voted for Mrs. Luce's confirmation, jumped up to repel the attack against one of their own. They said if they had to do it over again, they'd vote against her.

A Republican member of the foreign relations committee, Senator George D. Aiken of Vermont, said her statement was indiscreet and should not have been made.

ADVISED RESIGNATION

Mrs. Luce's husband, Henry R. Luce of the Time-Life-Fortune publishing empire, said in New York he had asked his wife to resign the ambassadorship.

Luce took the position that the Senate confirmation had vindicated Mrs. Luce. "But," he said, "there remains the question of Brazilian opinion and whether she can now hope to accomplish the delicate mission assigned to her by the president in a climate of uneasiness which the smears and suspicion aired on the Senate floor have naturally created in Brazil."

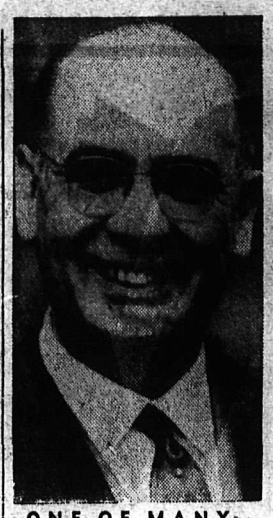
The Senate confirmation seemed to be final, short of an unlikely vote to ask President Eisenhower to return the nomination.

Ontario Jockey Club Changes Name

TORONTO (CP)—The Toronto stock exchange reports the name of the Ontario Jockey Club Ltd., has been changed to the Jockey Club Ltd., effective Wednesday.

CALLS ON DAG

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) Charles S. A. Ritchie, Canadian ambassador to the United Nations, Tuesday called on UN Secretary - General Dag Hammarskjold to discuss UN general problems.



ONE OF MANY— Franz Etzel, West German finance minister, is a possible successor to republic's chancellorship being vacated by Konrad Adenauer, who is 84.

Bird Society Protests Bear Hunt

TORONTO (CP)—The Audubon Society of Canada Wednesday protested plans for an organized bearhunt in the Timmins, Ont., area next month to supply bearskins for British guards regiments.

Mayor Leo Del Villano, who organized the hunt after reading that Buckingham Palace guards needed replacements for worn bearskin hats, has said it will begin May 16 and last for a month.

The Ontario Federation of Naturalists issued a statement Tuesday protesting the proposal. It said "wholesale and indiscriminate killing" would result.

John A. Livingstone, executive director of the Audubon Society, said the guards would probably decline the mayor's offer of pelts if they were aware of the "full implications."

He said in a statement the killing of female bears at this time of year would leave the cubs to die of starvation.

The Audubon Society is concerned mainly with the conservation and study of birdlife but also works in the general field of wildlife conservation.

Predict More Demand For Canadian Nickel

TORONTO (CP) — World demand for nickel in 1959 is expected to be higher than in 1958, Dr. John F. Thompson, chairman of the board of the International Nickel Company of Canada, Ltd., told the company's annual meeting Wednesday.

Although nickel consumption in 1958 was considerably lower than production capacity "consumers of nickel must be assured of plentiful supplies in the years ahead if the full market potential of the metal is to be realized," he said.

Dr. Thompson said net earnings of International Nickel for the first quarter of 1959 are expected to show an improvement over the same period in 1958.

"Contributing factors to the expected improved earnings for the first quarter were a sharp surge in demand for nickel in the United States, higher prices for copper and increased sales of platinum metals."

The company earlier reported 1958 earnings of $39,600,000, or $2.71 a share, compared with $86,100,000 or $5.90.

EXPLORING ACTIVELY

Dr. Thompson said the company is actively continuing exploration in Canada and throughout the world for further sources of nickel.

He said the major project was at Thompson, Man., where the company hopes to produce 75,000,000 pounds of nickel annually.

"In the 29 months since active development work has been under way, the company has expanded in excess of $60,000,000 on this project, and, in addition, it has advanced $20,000,000 to the Manitoba Hydro-Electric Board to assist in financing the development of power facilities in the area.

"Expenditures by the company for the Manitoba project for the balance of the year are estimated at over $30,000,000.

"It has now been decided to construct an electrolytic nickel refinery at Thompson."

Commenting on trade barriers, Dr. Thompson said "The interests of all concerned are best served by a free flow of materials across national borders unencumbered by tariffs or quotas."

"Two examples of unnecessary restrictive tariffs, both of which work to the detriment of Canada, are the United States tariffs of 1¼ cents a pound on refined nickel and 1.7 cents on refined copper.

Ready Best Planes For Royal Pair

By DON ATTFIELD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada is decking out its fanciest airplanes for use of royalty this summer.

Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip will cover more than half their 12,000-mile tour by air and three four - engine planes have been appointed for the job.

Among them is the pampered pet of the RCAF, the C-5 piston-driven luxury liner that has transported the Queen twice before, and Prince Philip three times. It carried Prime Minister Diefenbaker around the world last year.

The C-5 will be used in the Atlantic area and Quebec after the royal arrival at St. John's, Nfld., June 18.

A specially fitted Comet jet, bigger and faster than the C-5, will swish the royal party across central and Western Canada.

A Viscount, the turbo-prop jet that is the pride of the department of transport will take over when royalty tours the northern territories.

In all, the queen will spend some 30 hours in the air over Canada during her six - week, coast-to-coast-and-back visit.

The C-5 is a one-of-a-kind plane, actually a North Star with special quiet radial engines. Its large aft compartment, with deep carpeting and curtains of air force tartan, is reserved for the Queen and prince and they can sleep there. A forward area will seat 20.

An RCAF spokesman said a dietitian already is working on menus for the Queen and prince. All three planes are equipped with elaborate galleys.

Ask Congress To Deepen Lake Channels

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Great Lakes area spokesman asked congress Tuesday to approve a $29,000,000 appropriation to continue deepening the Great Lakes connecting channels.

The administration has budgeted $27,000,000 for the project for the fiscal year starting July 1. Total estimated cost of the work, due to be completed in 1963, is $146,500,000.

N. R. Danielian, president of the Great Lakes - St. Lawrence Association, asked a House appropriations subcommittee to approve the $29,000,000 expenditure.

Danielian said the lakes region west of Lake Erie would be deprived of the advantages and benefits of the just-completed St. Lawrence Seaway until the channel-deepening is completed.

Praise Red Cross For Accounting

OTTAWA (CP)—Praise of the Canadian Red Cross Society for a "meticulous" accounting of expenditures was expressed Wednesday by the Commons public accounts committee.

Richard A. Bell (PC—Carleton) said a brief presented by the society was one of the most thorough and painstaking he has ever seen. J. W. Pickersgill (L—Bonavista - Twillingate) said that "for once" he agrees with Mr. Bell, with whom he has often crossed swords.

The plaudits for the red cross came in discussion of the society's $50,000 gift in June, 1957, to the American Red Cross for hurricane relief in Louisiana and Texas.

W. S. Stanbury, national commissioner of the Canadian Red Cross, presented a brief saying the society was "greatly perturbed" at implications there may have been something improper about the gift, taken from the $506,215 remaining from a fund for victims of 1953 floods in Britain and The Netherlands.

Earlier Watson Sellar, auditor-general, asked whether proper authority existed for paying $50,000 to the American Red Cross. He noted relevant legislation merely authorizes the "expenditure for international relief purposes, or other relief purposes, of the unexpended portion of the grant made by the Government of Canada" to the 1953 relief fund.

Marcel Lambert (PC—Edmonton West) said Mr. Sellar seemed to be setting up an "Aunt Sall" for the committee to knock down.

Your Individual HOROSCOPE

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Friday, May 1, 1959

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — You may have to take time to study, to keep closer watch on conditions and make a minute survey of all important matters. Guard your money, property and valuables against schemers.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — You may encounter a few disappointments but, from noon on, expect better returns from intelligent effort. Measure precisely. You know what you can handle well, so do just that.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — Though there may be some adverse tendencies where untried matters are concerned, you can make your work and ideas successful. Be thorough — and cautious — in all dealings.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — If you are aware, awake and willing, you will come through with flying colors on this stimulating day. Ascertain facts, have patience, and you will achieve success. Don't rush, however.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — Good rays encourage endeavors of true merit, well-presented plans for the general good. Stay with a specific idea, theme; don't hopscotch around. Respect others' grit.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — A sort of reconstruction period for remolding the old into the newer, more desirable. Make plans before acting and remember, you can overreach your capacity. Don't do it!

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — An unusual request may cause concern, upset plans. Don't become worried. Ease of manners wwill win out. Unexpected fortune possible. Keep spirit high, have confidence. Curb emotions!

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Some restrictions that may limit gains likely in the early part of the day. Employ shrewd business sense; don't go it alone if in doubt. Extra effort can bring extra good results.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Some restrictive influences, but pursue your goals with honest endeavor, nevertheless. Don't overlook the little things that may lead to benefits, new progress.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — A better day than you may think at first. Be duly concerned with property, finances, but watch what you sign. Keep your disposition even, and help will come from unexpected sources.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — A few unfriendly aspects during the A.M. Implement business, work, all activities with astuteness. Don't fear results. News should be sifted carefully. Be openminded.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — This need not be a dull day if you have the right spirit. Art, music and personal affairs are among the activities highly favored now.

YOU BORN TODAY are steady, efficient, wanting to trust and be trusted. You are sometimes hurt at others' attitudes. It would be wiser to discuss matters quietly and logically, than to brood over them. You can reach the heights if you will NOT listen to timewasters, and WILL apply your fine brain to good purposes and IF you heed the counsel of those who have your interests at heart. Dunlops Take Allan Cup

Fast-Moving Easterners Wallop Canadians 9-3

Second Win in Three Years

By RON ANDREWS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—Whitby Dunlops, led by the line of George Samolenko, Bob Attersley and Sid Smith, Wednesday night won the Allan Cup for the second time in three years by walloping Vernon Canadians 9-3.

Canadians, who had forced Wednesday night's game by winning last Saturday's fourth contest 3-0, were no match for their opponents after the first half of the game. At the end of the first period the score was tied 1-1. Dunlops pulled into a 4-1 lead in the second and outscored Vernon 5-2 in the final 20 minutes.

The big line, which had been criticized by general manager Wren Blair after Saturday's loss, accounted for all but two of the Dunlops' goals. Smith led with three while Samolenko and Attersley each scored two. Tom O'Connor and Sandy Air were the other Whitby scorers. Russ Kowalchuk, Jim Moro and Art Hart scored for the British Columbia club.

THIRD OHA WIN

It was the third straight year that a team from the eastern division of the Ontario Hockey Association senior A series had won the Canadian championship. Belleville McFarlands won last year and Dunlops in 1957, the first year the group entered senior A competition, graduating from senior B ranks.

For the first 30 minutes, Canadians kept up with the fast-moving Dunlops, giving Whitby netminder John Henderson some tough moments. After that, however, Dunlops completely monopolized the play and but for the steady work of Vernon goaltender Hal Gordon, could have rolled up an even bigger score.

Gordon was sensational in the first period, holding Dunlops out time and again. He made 10 stops in the first 20 minutes and 35 for the whole game. Henderson had 19 saves.

TIED IN FIRST

Attersley, the OHA senior A scoring champion, put Dunlops in front 1-0 at 14:13 of the first period with his first goal of the series. The lead, however, lasted only 22 seconds before Hart tied the score.

Smith, Tom O'Connor and Attersley scored the second period goals with Samolenko, Smith and Samolenko again scoring within the first seven minutes of the third period before Kowalchuk and Moro got Vernon's last two goals. Smith and Air closed the scoring.

Although fast and with some rugged checks, the game was cleanly played. Referee Al Paradice of Winnipeg called 13 minor penalties, seven against Vernon.

The second smallest crowd of the series—1955—watched the game. Total attendance for the five contests was 12,703, about an average gate ofr one National Hockey League game here.

B.C. Fish and Game Clubs Meet Thursday in Penticton

PENTICTON (CP) — Demands for more money, better access to fish and game, and tests for hunters are featured in more than 70 resolutions which will be presented to the second annual convention here of the Federation of B.C. Fish and Game clubs.

The convention starts Thursday and winds up Saturday.

Several leaders in fish and game activities will be featured speakers at the convention.

Highlight talk will be that of Dr. Ian McTaggart Cowan, head of the University of B.C.'s department of zoology, whose topic will be Conservation Tomorrow.

There will also be a policy speech by Recreation Minister control chief Allan West.

Several resolutions early on the agenda will seek support for demands for bigger game budgets, return of all game revenue to the game branch operation of the old game conservation fund, wiped out two years ago.

From the Curling Ranks Emerges . . . A New Order

You can tell the dyed-in-the-wool curlers around town easily these days. They form an Order of the Black Thumb.

Members of the Nelson Curling Club are spending their evenings helping out in making the changes necessary to alter the present rink into the enlarged structure that will result from the extension program started by the city. Needless to say, some of the amateur carpenters have not always been too true in their aim with their hammers.

Hence the new order, of which charter members and named to the executive are Howard Moore, George Barefoot and Dick Chandler.

No one can say Nelson curlers aren't keeping their thumbs up.

Kootenays May Get Ski Trials

VANCOUVER (CP) — Kimberley and Rossland, B.C., and Banff, Alta., are the favored sites for the Canadian ski trials and training camp for the 1960 Winter Olympics.

Announcing that the trials definitely will be held in Western Canada, R. E. Bartley, president of the western division of the Canadian Amateur Ski Association, said Wednesday there is a possibility that the three centres may share the billing.

"We will have to decide whether to hold both events at one site or spread them over the three," he said.

The decision will be made this weekend at the annual meeting of the western division at Kamloops. The division's selection of skiers to compete in the trials also will be made at the meeting.

Strikes 'n' Spares

B and L came out on top of the Men's Commercial League in five pin bowling Wednesday night with a win over Troubleshooters.

Scores — B and L 1045, 1025, 996, 963, 983. The spot for the team was 990, giving a total of 6002.

Troubleshooters — 812, 814, 795, 761, 847. Spot for the team was 1565, giving a total of 5594.

Tonight, North Shore Fives, Tee Pees and Pin Pushers will roll off for the Friday night title.

PITTSBURGH PIRATES outfielder Bill Virdon gets foot close to plate and loses cap as he collides violently with plate umpire Vic Delmore, left, in first inning of second game of Philadelphia-Pittsburgh doubleheader at Philadelphia. Catcher Valmy Thomas is shown taking toss from pitcher Chris Short after catcher Hank Foiles hit a bouncer in front of the plate. At right, umpire Shag Crawford raises his arm and points the way as he throws Pittsburgh Pirates manager Danny Murtagh and infielder Don Hoak (12) out of the game in rhubarb that followed umpire's decision that Virdon was out because he missed the plate. No. 42 is coach Jimmy Dykes, who restrained Hoak during the altercation.

His Jaw's a Good Target, But London's Unperturbed

By JACK HAND

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Brian London's jaw slides out like the bottom drawer of a bureau. It offers a superb target for heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson with his quick, accurate hands.

The count down starts Friday at 8 p.m. MDT. Patterson's title, of course, will be at stake. So will his scheduled June 23 defence at Yankee Stadium against Sweden's Ingemar Johansson.

If there is any sense of impending disaster buried deep within the sturdy Englishman, it does not show on the surface. London talks and acts like a man with only one worry—which way to the bank? The jaw collects $60,000 for this effort, plus expenses for various assorted members of his family, calculated to run up a $15,000 tab.

LOPSIDED ODDS

In addition, this 24 - year - old mauler from Blackpool who lost his British title in his last fight, gets a shot at the big one. Remember Max Schemling against Joe Louis? And Joe Walcott against Ezzard Charles in Pittsburgh? Anything can happen, despite the lopsided odds that run from 10 to 1 to 7 to 1.

Watching this sturdy six-footer in the gym, you get the impression he will be rough and tough as long as he can keep it up. In Tuesday's final hard workout, he stood up straight with no bob and weave. British reporters say that is his normal style. He keeps marching in, pawing and punching as he comes. His right hand seems to be his best punch.

The chin? Well, London claims he never has been knocked down. He does admit he sunk to the deck against Henry Cooper and Willie Pastrano, claiming low blows. However, when the referee didn't agree, he soon was back on his feet.

His record shows one knockout. That was in 1956 by Cooper, the man who beat him for the British title Jan. 12.

Al Weill, who used to manage Rocky Marciano, the retired undefeated champ, claims to see something of the Rock in London.

"The way he walks, his wonderful pair of legs remind me of Rocky," said Weill.

"I have no delusions," London said after the heavy work was over. "It is going to be hard to nail him. If I do nail him, I should imagine I have enough to keep him down. I see red when I get a man going."

Patterson says he never has seen the challenger fight, not even in the movies.

"I'm prepared for everything," he said. "I understand he is the bulldog type, has a good right hand and stays on top of you. Maybe I'll stay on top of him, too. Maybe I'll retreat for a while. We'll see when we get in there."

The champ wore a contented smile, like a man dreaming about a jaw that juts way out to here.

Kubek Collapses; Teammates Ill

CHICAGO (AP) — Tony Kubek of the New York Yankees collapsed at the breakfast table at the team's hotel Wednesday. He fainted and was helped to his room.

It was believed the 'flu, which has hit 13 Chicago White Sox players, also had got him but a doctor who examined Kubek said it wasn't 'flu. The 22-year-old infielder was taken to the doctor's office for further examination.

Manager Al Lopez and six of his players were unable to appear in uniform Wednesday, due to the 'flu or virus. Lopez, infielders Earl Torgeson and Billy Goodman, outfielders John Callison and Don Mueller and pitcher Dick Donovan were confined to their rooms. Earl Battey, reserve catcher, was in a Chicago hospital. He went there for an examination because he felt faint and was put to bed when found to have a high temperature.

Coach Tony Cuccinello ran the White Sox in the absence of Lopez.

Braves Win 5-3

WINNIPEG (CP) — Winnipeg Braves scored three unanswered goals in the third period Wednesday night to take a come-from-behind 5-3 win over Peterborough Petes and a commanding 3-1 lead in games in their best-of-seven Memorial Cup final. Fifth, and what could be the deciding contest, will be played at Brandon Friday night.

Down 2-0 in the first period and 3-2 in the second, Braves tied the count at 7:40 of the third period, then got the winner and insurance markers as they twice took the puck away from Peterborough players close to the net.

Al Baty got the winner at 15:32 and captain Wayne Larkin the clincher about three minutes later for his second goal of the night. Centre Bobby Leiter also connected for two markers.

Jim Roberts, Bob Rivard and George Montague took care of the Petes' scoring. Although held off the goal scoring, wingman Wayne Connelly came through with a standout performance as time and again he led Peterborough rushes, especially in the first two periods.

No Favorites for Saturday's $125,000 Kentucky Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Owners of 17 possible starters in the 85th running of the Kentucky Derby must kick in today with an entry box fee of $250, and there must be some signs of relief. The fabulous Calumet Farm is remaining in the barn. Someone else gets a clear crack at the big money.

No derby in 50 years has perplexed the blue grass such as this $125,000 - added glamour gallop which will be spread out Saturday before a Churchill Downs crowd of some 90,000 and a TV audience.

Calumet's red and blue silks were carried into the winners' circle in 1937 by Iron Liege, and last May by Tim Tam. Trainer Jimmy Jones reluctantly withdrew his colt On-and-On from this year's classic for three-year-olds.

"On-and-On hasn't developed into what I'd call a real derby contender," said Jones. "He had a workout this morning and I didn't like it at all."

NO CLEAR FAVORITE

There is no clearly defined favorite. Texans and Californians talked about Tomy Lee, Silver Spoon, Finnegan and Royal Orbit. The east and Florida waypoints wondered whether First Landing, Sword Dancer, Our Dad, or Easy Spur might grab the roses.

Other observers were about ready to throw all the names in a hat and draw one.

First Landing, owned by Christopher T. Chenery, was the undisputed two-year-old champion in 1958 but hasn't been acting like the three-year-old king. Tomy Lee, a British-bred colt owned by Fred Turner of Midland, Tex., and raced mostly in California, won the Blue Grass Stakes last week at nearby Keeneland. In two meets last fall, First Landing barely edged Tomy Lee.

But First Landing was no great shakes in Florida, lost the Wood Memorial at Jamaica recently, and then won his division of the Derby Trial Stakes Tuesday.

Since Eddie Arcaro will pilot First Landing as he seeks his sixth derby victory, his mount may be a lukewarm favorite at 2-to-1 by post time. Willie Shoemaker rides Tomy Lee, about a 5-to-2 proposition.

Silver Spoon, C. V. Whitney's filly, winner of the Santa Anita Derby, will get support from sentimentalists.

Patrice Jacobs' Our Dad, a fast closing third in the Wood Memorial, is getting attention, as is Niel S. McCarthy's Finnegan, winner of the California Derby. Mrs. Jacques Braunstein's Royal Orbit, second in the Santa Anita Derby, is also well liked.

First Men's Night At Golf Club

First men's night of the new season will be held at Nelson Golf and Country Club tonight.

The mixer-type program will be designed to enable new members to meet other members and for the new pro, Frank Tesluk, to meet players he has not already met.

A dinner will wind up the event.

Full Elevators Delay Ships

MONTREAL (CP)—Congestion in Montreal harbor grain elevators is forcing grain - laden ships from the Great Lakes to anchor below Montreal until space is available.

Wheat movements have been only moderate so far this spring out of the world's largest inland harbor, port officials said.

Monday, three of the lakers entering the harbor from the new seaway were sent to Lanoraie, 35 miles downriver from here. Another two, the Everetton and the 550-foot Ralph S. Misener joined them Tuesday.

Also waiting at Laprairie are 13 ocean freighters destined to travel up the seaway.

The harbor continues to accommodate dozens of freighters. Seaway locks are taking them at the rate of one every 90 minutes. Until these have gone and others have carried off some of the wheat available here, the lakeships will remain at Lanoraie.

Two U.S. Railroads Agree On Merger

NEW YORK (AP) — Directors of Erie Railroad and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad have agreed on terms of a merger, the presidents of the two road said Wednesday.

At special meetings, the boards of both companies approved a recommendation to offer Erie common shareowners 1¼ shares of common of the new company for each common share held. Lackawanna shareholders would receive a share for each share held.

A merger would produce a rail system covering 3,119 miles of track extending from Jersey City and Hoboken, N.J., westward to Scranton, Pa., Binghamton and Buffalo, N.Y., Youngstown, Cleveland and Akron, Ohio, and Chicago. Total assets would be Buffalo, N.Y., Youngstown, Cleveland and Akron, Ohio, and Chicago. Total assets would be $737,000,000.

MARKET TRENDS

TORONTO (CP)—Western oils, Tuesday's stars, were Wednesday's big losers as the stock market lost in moderate trading.

Profit-taking moved in on western oils rights at the open, following their index gains of almost 2 2-3 points. Industrials were down almost two points, two points, base metals were off nearly three-quarters and golds a few decimal points.

Final volume was 3,617,000 shares, compared with Tuesday's 3,595,000.

Royalite had the big loss in western oils, down 65 cents at $9.10. Calgary and Edmonton, Canadian Husky and Hudson's Bay each lost ½ while Pacific Pete and Pembina lost ⅜.

Texaco-Canada gave up 1¼ at 70¼ and B-A Oil was down 1 at 39 among refining oils. Trans Mountain Pipeline was the most active industrial, off ¼ at 14⅜.

Among other industrials ½ point losses went to Algoma Steel, Dominion Stores, Ford A, Imperial Oil and Loblaw Inc. Steel Company of Canada lost 1¾.

In base metals Consolidated Mining and Labrador each lost ½. The section cut its losses by the close.

Campbell Red Lake dipped ½ at 10 for the major change in golds.

Index losses: Industrials 1.93 to 528.67; golds .09 to 89.85; base metals .72 to 177.07; western ils 2.64 to 136.50.

MONTREAL (CP)—The industrial section of the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges lost all of Monday's gain in active trading Wednesday.

At least part of the loss was blamed on profit-taking. Changes in most stock classifications was fractional.

Monday's big gainers, the oils and pipelines, were lower. BA Oil declined ½ at 39, Trans Mountain Pipeline lost ¼ at 14¼ and Pacific Pete was down ½ at 16½. However Home Oil A gained 1 at 19.

Papers, which have been weak recently, moved ahead. Anglo Newfoundland was active and up ⅛ at 6¾.

Speculative mines and oils were about mixed in moderate trading. The trading was spread throughout the list and no one issue was particularly active. Changes were mainly narrow.

Industrial volume was 175,200 shares, mines and oils 481,700.

The closing averages show banks off .06 at 65.12, utilities off .5 at 147.1, industrials off 2.1 at 313.7, combined off 1.6 at 261.5, papers up .6 at 453.5 and golds up .21 at 88.07.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market dipped Wednesday in its second straight session of profit taking. A late rally by electronics and radio-television issues relieved a dull picture.

The flood of good first-quarter earnings reports seemed to have little effect. For example, U.S. Steel, which reported earnings 70 per cent higher than in the same quarter last year, fell 1⅜.

Lackawanna rose ¾ and Erie 1⅛ in a spurt of activity following news that directors of the two railroads have agreed on terms for a merger.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped 50 cents to $227.30.

Volume was 3,470,000 shares. Sperry Rand was the biggest trader, with 172,000 changing hands. It closed 1½ higher at 25½.

Canadian shares were generally higher. Hudson Bay Mining added ¾ and Walker-Gooderham, Distillers-Seagrams and International Nickel were up ½ each.

The American Stock Exchange closed irregular on turnover of 1,620,000 shares. Some Canadian oils reacted sharply from Tuesday's advance on rumors of relaxed U.S. oil import quotas. Pacific Petroleums and Scurry-Rainbow dropped ¾, Fargo 5-16. Among industrials, Shawinigan was off ¾.

THIS SKETCH gives an idea of what the $86,000 community health centre proposed by the Kinsmen Club will look like on its site near Kootenay Lake General Hospital. David P. Fairbank is the architect. The building will provide permanent headquarters for Selkirk Health Unit and Travelling Tuberculosis Clinic, and offices for organizations. City ratepayers may be asked to vote on a $30,000 money bylaw to help finance construction.

Early Teamster Robert Kennedy Is 80 Today

A man who has watched Nelson grow from a struggling hub of the Kootenay-Boundary mining country to the Queen City of the southeastern interior, today celebrates his 80th birthday at his home at 202 Robson Street. Robert Kennedy today looks back on 43 years of enjoyment of life in the city.

An Irishman from County Down, Mr. Kennedy arrived in Nelson in 1905. He worked at various jobs before joining the City of Nelson public works department, first as a teamster in the days when horses were still a part of the scene, later as an expert in rock work.

He retired 15 years ago, with recollections of many years of progress with the city. Mr. Kennedy can recall working on many of the structures that are now old landmarks in Nelson and some long gone.

MAPLE LEAFS FAN

An ardent sportsman all his life, Mr. Kennedy has backed the hockey teams bearing the green and white of Nelson since the Patricks built the frist rink here. Last winter he rarely missed a game as the Maple Leafs went on to the provincial finals against Vernon. He travelled many a hockey special train to Trail to give his support, win, lose or draw, to the home team.

The rainbow trout of the West Arm and Kootenay Lake enticed Mr. Kennedy every year until his retirement, and he spent many hours happily luring the beauties onto his line. Another of his hobbies was hunting game birds in season, at which he was known as an excellent shot.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy have lived at their present address for 43 years, and after all that time have no regrets at having settled in Nelson.

Mr. Kennedy was reluctant to have mention made of his reaching the ranks of octogenarians, saying "there are so many older people who haven't been given this attention." Friends and relatives, however, were of a different opinion.

College of Heralds Approves City's Handsome Coat-of-Arms

The City of Nelson has joined a select few Canadian cities with the official right to display and use a coat-of-arms. In safekeeping at the city hall is an elaborately embellished hand-lettered scroll bearing authority from the Royal College of Heralds of Great Britain for the adoption by Nelson of a design intended to represent the city's historical and geographical background.

The scroll bears the signatures and seals of the Honorable Sir George Rothe Bellew, Knight Commander of the Order of the Garter, representing Scotland; Sir John Dunamace Heaton - Armstrong, Knight of the Royal Victorian Order, Clarenceaux King of Arms, representing England, and Aubrey John Toppin, Esquie Member of the Royal Victorian Order, Norroy and Ulster King of Arms, representing Ireland.

Authority for use of the coat-of-arms was only granted after nearly 18 months of designing and study to produce one which is relevant to the area and which does not conflict with other designs already in use.

The warrant which permitted the issuance of Nelson's authority was signed June 10, 1958, by the Duke of Norfolk, Hereditary Earl Marshal of England, but was received here only this week.

The central portion of the design, in the shape of a shield, shows three peaks with a crown superimposed, to indicate the Queen City in the mountains. A wavy band of silver below stands for the Kootenay River and a red fish for the Kokanee salmon, native to the district.

The crest above the shield shows another crown for civic authority, with a demi-mountain lion holding a maple leaf to indicate Nelson's place in Canada.

The decorative mantel surrounding the main features is of green and white, the city's colors, and also bears reference to Hugh Nelson, lieutenant-governor of the province from 1887 to 1892, after whom the city was named.

MOTTO "FORGE AHEAD"

The motto "Forge Ahead" is inscribed at the bottom of the design, a tribute to the mining industry which brought Nelson into being, and an exhortation for the future.

The finished design is the result of patient study and planning by Arthur Foster, F. W. M. Drew and G. A. Butling, drawing on heraldic traditions for their inspiration. Allan Beddoes, Ottawa, expert in this field, gave them much assistance.

Mayor T. S. Shorthouse has no idea when the new coat-of-arms can be officially presented to the city. Properly, this can only be done by the Queen, or Her Majesty's representatives, the Governor General or the lieutenant-governor.

In British Columbia, Kelowna and Esquimalt are said to be the only other cities to have authentic coats-of-arms. It is believed that only two other cities elsewhere in Canada possess them.

A coat-of-arms can be used as an official seal for city documents, and its colors, symbols and emblems can be used through a city's life in part or whole. It is also a requirement for a mayoral chain of office.

Hotel Changes Hands Friday

Change in ownership of the Savoy Hotel, 198 Baker Street, becomes effective Friday.

R. E. Young and W. F. Young, brothers who have been in the hotel business elsewhere in British Columbia, are taking over the hotel, which has been under the operation of Mrs. Constance E. McIndoe.

Extensive remodelling of the beer parlor and hotel exterior, and interior redecoration, are planned.

The Youngs and their families have already moved to Nelson. R. E. Young recently sold the Oliver Hotel in Oliver, and W. F. Young has latterly operated the Belvedere Hotel in McBride.

Speeding in School Zones Brings Fines

Speeding in the Willow Point school zone brought a total of $30 in fines for three drivers who appeared before Stipendiary Magistrate William Evans in provincial court Monday.

Bent March of Nelson, D. J. Crawford, North Shore, and Roy McLeod from Ontario were each fined $10 and costs. All pleaded guilty.

John Nazaroff of Castlegar pleaded not guilty to a charge of driving while impaired. A decision will be handed down today.

J. G. Lipsack pleaded guilty to a charge of driving a logging truck without a class C licence and was fined $10 and $3.50 costs.

A suspended sentence was given Louis Dauda of Nelson who pleaded guilty to a charge of retaining property. He was also placed on bond of $100 for good behaviour for one year.

Salk Vaccine Supply Received for Adults

Adults in Nelson and district from the ages of 18 to 40 may now receive Salk polio vaccine shots from their doctors.

Selkirk Health Unit has been supplied with a stock of the vaccine by the provincial health department and it is available to doctors free of charge.

A series of three injections is the usual course. Second injection is given one month after the first, and the third about seven months later. Sufficient data has not yet been compiled to determine how long the immunity to the dread disease is retained from this series but it is felt to be good for several years. A "booster" shot at some date thereafter will probably be recommended when studies now being carried out are complete.

Selkirk Health Unit will hold no public clinics for adults wishing to gain the protection of the Salk vaccine, as Dr. J. M. O'Keefe, director, feels older people may prefer to have their own doctors provide the service at times more suitable than a clinic could arrange.

So far as the pre-school and school age population is concerned, the health unit has given injections to all whose parents were agreeable.

While the vaccine is provided free by the provincial health service, doctors are expected to make a small charge for their services. Adults intending to obtain injections should also make arrangements beforehand with their doctors so that the vaccine will be on hand at the required time.

Reeves Shareholder Loses Lone Battle

VANCOUVER (CP) — A lone fight by a Canadian shareholder to get more Canadians on the board of directors of Reeves Macdonald Mines Ltd. failed here at the company's annual meeting.

John H. McFayden protested at the meeting Tuesday that the board was "Americanized" and sparked a bitter argument with Jens Jensen of Spokane.

Despite the protest, the make-up of the board remained the same — seven Americans and two Canadians.

"This Americanized control of the board which runs a Canadian outfit is unfair," Mr. McFayden said. "I certainly don't want a Canadian mine dominated by Americans."

The company operates a lead-silver-zinc property on the Pend d'Oreille River.

The argument started when Mr. Jensen asked the meeting to vote the board of directors back into office.

"I object," said Mr. McFayden. "There are too many Americans on the board. Let's have more Canadians. This is Canada."

Mr. Jensen said Americans naturally dominated the board because they controlled the shares. He said there were more than 2,000,000 United States shares compared with 256,951 Canadian shares.

"And remember that I own more than half the Canadian shares," he added. "So you have nothing to complain about."

"We have a very good board. They have nothing to be ashamed about."

Mr. McFayden, who said it was unfair that American directors were making the "little extras" and profiting from a Canadian mine, said after the meeting: "It's no use. We Canadians have no chance. We might as well keep quiet."
