Commons Passes CBC Bill

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons Tuesday night passed by a vote of 124 to 31 a government bill establishing a regulatory board over broadcasting and making some changes in the powers and administration of the CBC.

Only the Liberals opposed the CCF-supported government measure, which now goes to the Senate for approval before it receives royal assent and becomes law.

The bill was passed after two days of Liberal party criticisms and unsuccessful attempts to change the measure which Opposition Leader Pearson claims will leave the CBC open to political interference.

ASKED OUTRIGHT BAN

One change proposed by Mr. Pearson called for an outright ban on affiliation of Canadian radio and television stations with American networks.

The opposition leader said the ban he proposed would not prevent a Canadian station from associating itself with an American network for specific programs such as baseball's world series.

He proposed an amendment to the government's new broadcasting legislation, then under clause-by-clause study in the Commons, which would specify that Canadian stations could be members only of a Canadian network.

Revenue Minister Nowlan, while he said he saw no objection to the suggestion, declined to accept it on the ground that it might interfere with the broadcasting in Canada of such public service programs as a speech by the United States president or reports of U.S. election returns.

New Colors Due For Highway Signs

VICTORIA (CP)—Highways Minister P. A. Gaglardi announced Tuesday he will put up more directional signs on B.C. highways and some will embody new designs in different colors.

Those "sorry for the inconvenience" signs where road repairs and construction work are in progress will not be replaced.

"Why should they be?" the minister asked. "They have become widely recognized as a hallmark of courtesy to motorists in this province and people all over North America speak well of them."

Africans Shout Down De Gaulle in Dakar

PARIS (Reuters)—Three policemen were shot and wounded Tuesday night by North African gunmen in southern Paris. Two of them were in serious condition.

The policemen, riding in a jeep stopped to ask two North Africans for their identity papers. The North Africans whirled and opened fire with revolvers.

Police also reported they have arrested a regional chief of the Algerian National Liberation Front, Salah Derbari, in northeastern France.

Another police officer was shot three times by a man thought to be an Algerian on one of the main boulevards in central Paris. The man fled. The officer was severely injured.

FIRES CONTROLLED

Thick smoke hung over the southern seaport of Marseille Tuesday night after firemen succeeded in choking off raging fires which destroyed 2,200,000 gallons of gasoline at oil depots nearby — the result of sabotage by North Africans.

The fires were started Monday by Algerian nationalists in a series of blows at depots and refineries in southern France — the Marseille area, Narbonne and Toulouse.

One fireman was blinded and 20 others were injured in the Marseille area. Most were injured in a huge explosion at the big Mourepiane depot, which runs down to the edge of Marseille Bay on the Mediterranean.

Officials estimated 4,000,000 gallons of gasoline went up in smoke in southern France Monday.

STUDY NEXT MOVE

In Paris, Minister of State Guy Mollet, deputizing for Premier de Gaulle, discussed moves to smash Algerian terrorism in metropolitan France with Interior Minister Emile Pelletier.

Among measures being considered are the internment of suspects — allowed in Algeria but not in France —and the trial of terrorists by military courts.

All Paris police leave has been cancelled as part of new precautions against Algerian nationalist terrorism, official sources said Tuesday night.

DAKAR, Senegal (Reuters) — A group of 500 Africans Tuesday night shouted down Premier de Gaulle as he tried to address nearly 100,000 persons cramming a square in the heart of the city.

De Gaulle received a chilly reception earlier in the day when he arrived at this capital of the federation of French West Africa.

He was showered with leaflets calling for independence and he heard frequent yells decrying his proposed new constitution.

The 67-year-old de Gaulle has been trying to win support for his proposed constitution and to convince African political leaders that their best bet for prosperity lies within the French community.

The African territories join metrolopitan France in voting Sept. 28 on the constitution. It provides for a community of federal states but with France still holding important powers, including defence and foreign relations.

AFRICANS SKEPTICAL

That many Africans are skeptical of French promises was demonstrated clearly in Dakar.

The leaflets, signed by the Union Progressiste Senagalaise, called for immediate independence, the formation of a federal African nation and a multinational confederation with France.

At the bottom of the French-written leaflets was a single word in Senegalese, "diotsarve"—meaning "master in one's own house."

Few tricolor flags hung in Dakar, a city of some 2,000,000 inhabitants, of whom 23,000 are white.

Some banners read: "French go away."

Chinese Blast Red Guns

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Chinese Nationalists today reported destruction of several Red gun positions and some Communist supply dumps in the Quemoy area artillery duelling.

The defence ministry announced four Communist artillery emplacements were blasted apart Tuesday on Wuyu, a small island in Amoy Bay, and others on Ting Tateng Island.

Ammunition and gasoline dumps were reported blown up on Wuyu and at Weitou, on the mainland.

Communist shore batteries, after working over Quemoy's one-strip airfield before midnight, resumed their bombardment of the Nationalist-held offshore islands this morning. It was the fifth straight day of heavy action.

JETS INACTIVE

But Red jets and warships stayed clear of the area, where the Nationalists claimed air and sea victories Monday.

Defence authorities announced the Reds on Ting Tateng started the day's operations at 5:20 a.m. by lobbing 20 shells at Quemoy.

Then came a 45-minute attack on Little Quemoy and the nearby Tan islets.

The defence ministry said 2440 shells were rained on those islands.

The defence ministry in Taipei, where Nationalist and U.S. service officers gathered for talks on the Formosa Strait flareup, said the Red Chinese fired 8053 shells at Quemoy. The count on the final action aimed at the airfield was 1607.

There was no disclosure here how effective it might have been in damaging U.S.-supplied warplanes or pitting the field.

STEADY POUNDING

By defence ministry count, the Reds have now loosed more than 91,500 shells at the Nationalist-held offshore islands since Saturday.

Canada Hails U.S. Bid To Fight Soviet Offensive

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower proposed bolstering the resources of the world bank and the International Monetary Fund to help promote international economic growth, here Tuesday.

Eisenhower directed treasury secretary Robert Anderson to propose the moves at the annual meeting of the bank and fund next month in New Delhi, India.

He also suggested a study of the possibility of creating a new International Development Association.

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada heaped praise on the United States Tuesday for taking steps which Prime Minister Diefenbaker suggested will help fight communism and strengthen "the economic fabric of the free world."

He was referring to moves by President Eisenhower to throw the powerful support of the U.S. behind a proposed huge marshalling of the Western world's gold and currency resources to fight the Soviet economic offensive.

To be discussed at New Delhi Oct. 6, the plan would include raising the resources of the $9,000,000,000 International Monetary Fund by 50 per cent and doubling the lending powers of the World Bank, which also has commitments of about $9,000,000,000.

The two instruments are used to provide loans for those among the 66 member countries who are caught in the web of international trade deficits or need money for large-scale internal expansion.

DISCUSSED IN OTTAWA

The planned expansion, it was learned, was discussed privately between Mr. Eisenhower and Mr. Diefenbaker during the president's visit here last month. The U.S. is the main contributor to the two non-Communist bodies, putting up about 10 times the Canadian commitment.

Canada has contributed about $300,000,000 to the monetary fund and has guaranteed World Bank debentures by about $260,000,000. Indications are that unless the World Bank gets increased aid, its capital available for loans may be used up in about two years. Demands for loans have increased sharply during recent years.

Shipping Rates For Export Apples Trimmed

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—Reduction in shipping rates for export apples of between 20 and 25 cents have been announced by European steamship lines, B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. announced Tuesday.

However, the Okanagan marketing agency will have to "sharpen its pencils" in order to compete for the European market. Europe has had a bumper apple crop and importers generally can import apples from anywhere in the Northern Hemisphere, officials said.

Shipping rates from eastern Canadian ports, including Montreal, St. John and Halifax have been reduced to 65 cents a box from 85 cents, officials said. Rates from Vancouver and New Westminster through the Panama Canal have been cut to $1.40 a box from $1.60 with an additional discount of five cents until Oct. 15.

J. B. Lander, general sales manager of B.C. Tree Fruits, said that while these reductions will be of considerable assistance in putting together the United Kingdom deal this year, ". . . these may be interim adjustments only, and there is a distinct possibility of further downward adjustments as our trading season moves along."

BCFP WINDS UP DEFENCE

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia Forest Products Limited wound up its defence in the Sommers bribery-conspiracy trial on Tuesday, its counsel maintaining the multi-million-dollar timber concern had never paid bribe money for a government timber licence.

Walter Owen, QC, chief counsel for the firm established here by the E. P. Taylor interests of Toronto in 1948, asked the assize court jury to acquit the company and clear the name of its late president, Hector Munro. Mr. Munro died suddenly last December, a month before BCFP was charged in the case. He still is named in some counts of the Crown's 20-charge indictment.

Mr. Owen again criticized the Crown for a two-year delay in laying charges, asked the jury of nine men and three women to discount the evidence of Crown witness Trevor Daniels, former BCFP comptroller, and to bring in an acquittal verdict that would "perhaps undo some of the damage done to this company and its late president."

Forest Fires To Delay B.C. Hunting

VICTORIA (CP) — There will be no hunting in B.C. this year until rain eases the serious forest fire hazard.

"It would be utter folly to open up the woods at this time," lands and forests minister Ray Williston said Tuesday. "It's too dangerous to let the hunters in."

The decision could ruin the holiday plans of some 90,000 hunters in the province, although there is a good chance the hazard will be reduced by the time the main deer season begins Sept. 13.

The season for blue grouse and ptarmigan was to have opened Saturday with pigeons on Sunday.

Officials in the Game Department refused to discuss the situation pending an official announcement, and said a final look would be taken soon — maybe today—to see if something could be done for the hunters.

Hot dry weather over most of B.C. has resulted in the worst forest fire situation in the province's history.

Forest Service officials are reluctant to order a closure on all the forests as this move would prevent campers, loggers and others from going into the woods as well as the hunters.

But they agreed that unless the serious fire hazard diminishes to a safe level it would be impossible to allow an army of hunters to enter the forests.

Arrow Exceeds 1200 Miles an Hour

TORONTO (CP) — The Avro Arrow interceptor made its highest speed yet in tests Tuesday, exceeding 1200 miles per hour in a steep climb from Malton Airport.

The exact speed was not disclosed. Avro Aircraft Limited spokesman said the delta - winged plane, second off the Arrow production line, is playing with Commonwealth speed records already —while being tested for instrumentation and structures.

Longshoremen Ready For Talks

VANCOUVER (CP) — The way was clear Tuesday night for resumption of talks in the strike of 1300 longshoremen which has brought cargo shipping to a standstill at five British Columbia ports.

The B.C. Shipping Federation, representing employers in the dispute, said Tuesday it is willing to meet union officials. Its statement followed a meeting between federation directors and mediator George Currie of the federal labor department.

Alaskan Vote To Be Record

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Alaskans were apparently making good Tuesday on predictions of a record vote as the northern territory decided on wether it would become the 49th state.

Heavy early voting was reported at precints in cities throught the territory.

Polls remained open until 8 p.m. in the four time zones.

Just as officials were getting set to collect returns, radio operators at Fairbanks reported a big magnetic storm had knocked out radio communication throughout much of Alaska. This threatened further delay in the collection of results from the widely separated precincts.

More than 35,000 ballots were expected to be cast on a referendum on which admission into union depends. Most observers forecast that Alaskans would approve admission by margins of better than two to one.

TV Quiz Show Investigated

NEW YORK (AP)—Investigation of the television quiz show Dotto continued Tuesday in the office of New York County District Attorney Frank S. Hogan, but a spokesman denied the probe is being expanded to embrace similar TV programs.

Hogan's office declined to give any details of how the Dotto investigation is being carried on. The program was withdrawn from the NBC and CBS networks by the sponsor on Aug. 16 after charges of irregularities in the contestant procedure.

Officials directly concerned with the program have declined comment.

Color of Smoke, Flames Arson Clue

KELOWNA (CP) — W. C. Millar, a British Columbia fire marshal's office inspector, said here Tuesday the color of the smoke and flames, and the pattern and rate of burning inside a structure can yield valuable clues to the crime of arson.

Mr. Millar told the Fire Chief's Convention yellow or brownish-yellow smoke, generally caused by nitro - cellulose products, in premises that might not usually have such materials present "would be indicative of some substance having been used to start or aid the spread of the fire."

White smoke is caused by burning hay, vegetable compounds, phosphorous and dynamite, while black smoke is generally emitted by burning petroleum products, he said.

Pipeline Bill Okayed

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons Tuesday gave final approval to a bill authorizing extension across Canada of an Imperial Oil pipeline franchise.

The franchise, held by Imperial's wholly - owned subsidiary Stanmount Pipe Line Company, now covers Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario.

Family of First Settlers South Of Trail Unite

PENTICTON (CP) — More than 80 descendants of a pioneer south-central British Columbia family are due here this week for a three-day reunion.

They are children, grandchildren, great grandchildren and great-great grandchildren of the late John and Jane Reith, who moved from Ontario to the Pend d'Oreille area south of Trail in 1892 and became the first settlers east of the Columbia River, south of Nelson.

First members of the family arrived Tuesday from California, Oregon and Washington states and others are due today and Thursday from points as far afield as Eastern Canada and Alaska.

The big reunion is organized by Mrs. Eleanor Flaiz of Tracey, Calif., youngest daughter of the pioneer couple.

Faubus Would Close Schools, Beat Ruling

By ARTHUR EVERETT

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Governor Orval Faubus Tuesday said racial integration never can be enforced constitutionally upon a school. He asked a special legislative session for authority to close Arkansas schools rather than bow to any federal race-mixing mandate.

The immediate objective is to prevent further integration at Central High School, scene of last year's integration riots. But Faubus said the aim of integrationists is to mix classes racially in all the city's schools by force, if need be.

Faubus in a calm voice said he has not opposed peaceful integration in his state.

"My disagreement is with the methods now being employed, and the unseemly haste that is being demanded. There is a law of life that can never be violated, or hurried, without great harm to all concerned, and that is the law of evolution in relation to social and political change."

GALLERIES PACKED

The galleries were packed to overflowing — with an all-white audience, although Negroes are not barred — as Faubus told the assembled lawmakers:

"There is no clear cut federal statute regarding the integration of the schools. If there were, it would be unconstitutional, for the authority to control public education has never been delegated by the states to the federal government . . .

"This battle for states' rights and constitutional government is not of our choosing . . . the issue has been forced upon us and we must either choose to defend our rights against those who would usurp them or else surrender."

Faubus was interrupted several times by applause. There were a few rebel yells from the floor. But the tenor of the legislators was sober.

The Democratic governor's address came 48 hours before the U.S. Supreme Court is to hear debate on whether to grant Central High a breathing spell in its year-old integration.

Faubus forecast renewed violence if Central High School is forced to integrate again this year.

Hammarskjold Greeted by Gunfight

BEIRUT (AP) — Dag Hammarskjold landed Tuesday night on his Middle East peace mission soon after a gunfight broke out across the airport road.

Hospital sources said two Lebanese were killed and six injured. The clash was reported to have developed between Lebanese security units and Arab refugee agitators within rebel lines as the UN secretary - general was en route by plane from Rome.

A bullet earlier Tuesday killed Abdullah Nurallah, secretary of the Lebanese industrialist organization. A year ago Nurallah resigned as secretary of the Najjada party, a group now aligned with the rebels against Chaumon's regime.

World Movement Urged To Save Life of Negro

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (CP) — Governor James E. Folsom, who may have to decide soon whether or not Negro Jimmy Wilson dies for stealing $1.95, said Tuesday he can make no decision on the case until the courts have finished with it.

But he added that he hates to refuse to commute a death sentence, and "If I can find some excuse to turn somebody loose, I always do it."

Wilson, 55, is to die Sept. 5 for robbing an 82-year-old white woman of $1.95 unless the State Supreme Court grants him a new hearing on his appeal.

If the court refuses Wilson's appeal, Folsom still would have the authority to commute the death sentence to life imprisonment.

CAPITAL CRIME

The robbed woman, Estelle Barker, testified that Wilson choked her and tried to rape her before taking the money. He was charged with robbery with violence — a capital crime in this state.

Meanwhile in Accra, Ghana, Prime Minister Nkrumah's office said Ghana's ambassador to the U.S. has been ordered to ascertain the facts of the case.

Mrs. Kay Lines of Toronto telephoned the prime minister Friday, asking him to lead a world-wide protest against the death sentence.

In Manchester, England, 500 persons signed a petition calling for the reprieve of Wilson.

A youth congress in Copenhagen sent a protest letter to President Eisenhower and Folsom.

Lumbermen Accept Formula

VANCOUVER (CP) — Representatives of coast lumber operators Tuesday followed the lead of the International Woodworkers of America in deciding to accept the Sloan formula for settling their contract dispute.

John Billings, president of Forest Industrial Relations, which represents the employers, said the 148 coast operators "will be accepting" B.C. Forest Commissioner Gordon Sloan's proposal.

The executive of the IWA announced late Monday the membership approved the Sloan formula by a substantial margin.

The formula calls for fringe benefits but no increase in wages. The union originally demanded a 10-per-cent boost in the present base rate of $1.71 an hour.

Russ Acceptance of Test Ban Talks Seen

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Russia may accept an Anglo-American proposal for talks on a world-wide nuclear test ban, some diplomatic quarters said Tuesday.

In separate notes last Friday, the United States and Britain offered to suspend their tests for one year from Oct. 31 if Russia agreed to start talks on an effectively-policed test ban.

There has been no indication so far of the official Soviet view. Russian news papers, however, have described the proposal as another Western tactic designed to delay East-West disarmament agreement.

The Soviet view generally is that the United States and Britain should suspend the tests unconditionally. The Soviet Union announced last March that it was suspending its own tests.

KHRUSHCHEV LETTER

Premier Khrushchev said in a letter published in the Moscow press Tuesday that the Soviet government never has contemplated limiting disarmament measures to a discontinuation of tests.

He said it envisages the complete prohibition and removal of nuclear weapons from national armaments and the destruction of atomic stockpiles.

Some diplomatic sources claim good authority for saying the Soviet Union will accept the idea of a conference but might campaign for it to meet earlier than Oct. 31.

The success of the Geneva conference has been hailed in the Moscow press as a vindication of the Soviet claim that any violation of a suspension agreement could be detected with modern devices.

And in This Corner . . .

NEW YORK (AP)—Raymond Hovy had nothing but troubles for his panes Tuesday.

Hovy cut his way through a glass door into an apartment. It turned out to be the residence of a private detective, who was at home and captured him.

Waiting in police headquarters to be photographed, Hovy jumped through a frosted glass door in an effort to escape. He crashed into a detective's private office.

The 37-year-old prisoner was treated at a hospital for head lacerations.

BRADLEY BEACH, N.J. (AP) — Police Sgt. Vincent Napoli jumped and landed on the hood of a car he thought was going to hit him Sunday.

He bounced to the roof and stayed there until the car stopped a short distance away. As soon as the injured policeman was taken down, the woman driver sped off, police said.

Two hours later police arrested Virginia Wolley, 36, and charged her with reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident. They asked her why she drove away.

"Nobody asked me to stay," police quoted her as saying.

NEW YORK (AP)—It was raining hard in New York yesterday morning. But this still was no excuse for a big fish to take to the city streets.

Nevertheless, there it was:

A 300-pound blue-finned shark, measuring nine-feet-four, on the pavement at 150th Street and Park Avenue. It had been slit down the belly, and its teeth and jaws removed.

Sanitation men hauled the creature away wiht the rest of the garbage.

STARKVILLE, Miss. (CP)—A positive demonstration of the value of ancient science came when a kite was used to dislodge a pair of blue panties from a campus flagpole.

Aerodynamicist J. J. Cornish III Tuesday told in a paper called A Modern Application for an Ancient Aerodynamic Tool how a fish hook attached to the kite snagged the panties that were hoisted to the top of the flag staff.

Forest Fire Costs Soar To $76,000 Every Day

British Columbia forest fires last week cost $76,000 a day—a jump of $17,000 daily from the previous week.

The increasing cost pushed the provincial forest fire loss so far this year to $3,382,141 — $533,907 higher than the week before.

These startling figures compared with a low $133,851 spent on 1252 forest fires reported during the corresponding period last year.

There have been 3599 fires in B.C. this year.

The Nelson and Vancouver Forest Districts showed the biggest increase in fighting costs, a shift from the heavy fire costs encountered earlier this year in northern B.C.

Estimated firefighting costs in the Nelson district to August 22 totalled $449,672, compared with only $51,400 during the same period in 1957.

There are no signs the high hazard in this region will break.

A brief lightning storm Monday night was blamed for 22 new outbreaks overnight in an area stretching from the Okanagan Valley to Kootenay Lake and from Edgewood south.

But Forest Service officials said here Tuesday none of the fires appear serious and all have been checked.

The latest fires brought the number burning in this area to 101 with a total 1103 firefighters.

Still the largest fire in the district, the huge Krestova blaze has burned through 6800 acres.

About 140 men are battling the fire that was deliberately set more than two weeks ago.

Meanwhile, 15 bulldozers and 120 men are guarding the Cold fire near Creston that raged out-of-control Monday in front of 50-mile-an-hour winds.

It has swept through an estimated 2500 acres.

At Campbell Creek near Kaslo, where 3000 acres burst into flames last Thursday, 94 men assisted by six bulldozers are fighting desperately to hold the blaze on its south side.

Another fire burning at the head of Silverton Creek near Silverton has covered 1600 acres high on a mountainside. But 74 men and two bulldozers have guarded the blaze and are attempting to hold it against rock slides.

The jump fire on Burrel Creek north of Grand Forks has been partially controlled. So far it has burned through only brush and scrub in the isolated region.

A lightning strike east of Grand Forks which was reported Monday night has been controlled by 20 men.

Few details are available from the Boulder Creek fire near Edgewood where 100 men and six bulldozers are working. At last reports the firefighters were makeing good progress.

The fire hazard is so explosive that further recreation closures have been imposed.

The latest closure, which also prohibits prospecting, was placed on the Lardeau Valley north of the north end of Kootenay Lake.

Police Watch As Man Drinks

Lorne E. McKay of Nelson picked the wrong place to drink beer.

He sat on a curb in the 200 block Latimer Street and downed five bottles outside a city policeman's house.

The policeman, off duty at the time, was raking his garden when he noticed the one-man party. He phoned his colleagues who promptly took McKay away.

Charged with consuming liquor in a public place, the accused was fined $50 and costs or in default of payment to 30 days in jail.

He paid the fine.

Trail People "All Shook-Up"

Trail residents have become so concerned over West Kootenay saboteurs that all loud blasts heard in the city are blamed on the radicals.

Only Tuesday the Trailites rushed into the streets when they heard two loud reports.

But the matter was settled by RCMP who explained the blasts were probably caused by jet aircraft breaking the sonic barrier overhead.

The explosions shook downtown buildings.

Believed to be the biggest forest cover map in the world, H. M. (Mickey) Pogue, chief of forest surveys and inventory in the B.C. Forest Service, examines the huge 40-foot by 38-foot colored map on display at the Pacific National Exhibition, Vancouver. The structure weighs approximately 5 tons. The map is the result of seven years of extensive forest inventory survey in this province. By use of a series of different colors, mature timber, immature forests, non-commercial forests, not satisfactorily re-stocking forest areas, and non-forest lands, are shown in precise detail in one complete map of the province for the first time. Based 100 per cent on air photographs and extensive ground examination, the map is made up of 149 separate 2-mile to 1-inch lithographed index sheets. In conjunction with individual map-sheets, statistics of forest areas and volumes are available in booklet form for the whole province. The map is one of the results of the first phase of the continuous forest inventory of B.C. made possible under provisions of the Canada Forestry Act and financially assisted by the federal government. A 16 mm. colored, sound motion picture entitled "Silva Survey", dealing with the huge forest survey program in British Columbia is available on loan, free of charge, from the B.C. Forest Service in Victoria.

Sprinkles Lawn, Pays $25 Fine

A city man who watered his lawn contrary to sprinkling restrictions was fined $25 and costs or in default one month in jail when he appeared in city police court Tuesday.

Christopher Muller, 209 Morgan Street, pleaded guilty to the charge before Magistrate R. S. Nelson.

The conviction was the first in the city since sprinkling regulations were imposed a month ago.

Muller was charged with the offence after a city police officer checked him at 12:45 a.m. August 21.

In court Tuesday, the accused explained it was necessary for him to water his lawn at that time because his sons were occupied with television during regular sprinkling hours.

PAYS $100 FINE

A Nelson man who had his driver's licence suspended last January was fined $100 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while under legal suspension Tuesday.

In default of payment, John Richard Murrell, 518 Nelson Avenue, was given the option of spending 30 days in Okalla prison.

Murrell was checked by RCMP near Balfour August 14.

He appeared in provincial magistrates court before Magistrate William Evans.

RCMP Withhold Arrest Details

A news report says that Nelson RCMP have located a Medicine Hat man missing from his home since August 10.

Patrick Percival Magee, 47, was found camping near here Saturday morning. He was later returned to the Alberta city under police escort to face a charge of theft of $300.

Details of the incident were not released to the Daily News by RCMP despite a series of police checks made by the newspaper since Saturday.

Magee apparently had been employed by a cycle shop at Medicine Hat and each night took home the day's receipts. He claimed his mind went blank August 10 and did not remember anything until several days later.

He pleaded guilty to the theft charge but was remanded for sentence.

FUNERAL SERVICE HELD FOR SZKICA

Funeral service for the late Nicholas Szkica were held Tuesday from the chapel of the Nelson Funeral Home.

A large group of friends filled the chapel for the service, conducted by Father R. Zuback.

Floral tributes arrayed the chapel.

Mass and interment took place at Nelson Memorial Park.

Pallbearers were W. Bowey, J. Maber, R. Mills, A. Lobay, John Harlick and Frank Bachynski.

Call Special Meet On Blacktopping

ROSSLAND — City Council decided Monday to call a meeting to discuss ways of re-allocating finances. The meeting has been made necessary because money allocations for blacktopping are running short.

According to Ald. L. C. Austin, the budget set aside for blacktopping city streets has now been exhausted. He also said there were some poor drainage areas in the city which required early attention.

Mayor Harold Elmes confirmed that blacktop money was running "very short." "We want to do as much as we can," he said, "and yet we can stretch our dollars only so far. There is not enough elasticity in them."

After some discussion on the subject, Mayor Elmes suggested the council should meet Wednesday evening to discuss the matter at more length. He asked Ald. D. L. Shaw to have the finance figures available for perusal.

Workshop Discusses The Role of Publicity

The role of publicity in the field of education was discussed at a Tuesday night session of the ninth annual Workshop of the B.C. Teachers' Federation.

Dr. Eric Taylor, labor relations consultant of Toronto, told a meeting of 90 teachers from throughout B.C. "Too much noise has been made about the salaries and not enough about the aims and operations of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation.

"If the only thing the public hears about teachers has to do with salaries, it so readily leads to the conclusion that all teachers want is more pay for less work."

Teachers in B.C.—there are 10,000 within the province-wide federation—should not contribute to this "fallacy," Dr. Taylor stressed. "Wages and working conditions are important, but they are not the end.

"If we are going to have publicity, let's have it about B.C. Teachers' Federation and what it can do for the community."

Dr. Taylor, third on a roster of high-calibre speakers scheduled to address Federation representatives during the week-long workshop, has done a great deal of work as a federal government conciliator. He was recently involved in efforts to bring about a settlement in a CPR and Seafarers' Institute dispute that tied up ferry services on the Pacific coast.

During the meeting he said he had only one thing to say to the press, "No comment." His reasons for this were contained in a statement he made later, when he said he did not think negotiations about salaries should be given publicity in the press. He did not think the press was interested in teachers' salaries, but was only interested in the resulting turmoil occasioned by wage negotiations.

THIEVES GET $4 FROM PRINTERS

Thives who smashed their way into a city printing shop at the weekend got only $4 for their efforts.

City police said the intruders took the cash from a drawer in Leno and Ramsay Printers, 460 Ward Street.

Entry to the premises was gained by smashing a reinforced window in a back door leading to Vogue Studios adjoining the printing shop. A rock was used to break the glass and chicken wire mesh covering the opening. A bolt which secured the door was released from the inside.

TRAIL TO HONOUR PIONEERS' FAMILY

TRAIL—Part of this city's centennial celebrations will honor fourth and fifth generation descendants of pioneers who helped settle the district.

Fourth generation descendants must be living in Trail, Warfield or Tadanac, while fifth generation members can be residents outside the Trail area but must have a forebear residing in the city.

A Centennial souvenir will be presented to all those who qualify.

A committee directed by Mrs. G. Redgrave has been assigned to the project and the public has been asked to assist in finding persons who can qualify. To date, 24 fourth generation and 10 fifth generation persons have been registered.

SLOCAN CITY MAN PASSES AT MOUNT

The death occured Monday in Mount St. Francis of David Theodore Hawka, 50, of Slocan City.

Mr. Hawka was born in Roumania and came to Canada in 1928 settling in Canora, Saskatchewan, where he lived until coming to B.C. in 1947.

At that time he secured employment with the Nelson Auto Wreckers where he worked for two years, then he moved to Slocan City where he operated his own garage business.

He married the former Anne Gullason in 1931.

He is survived by his wife: one son Jack David: two daughters Alexandra and Elizabeth, of Slocan City and one granchild.

Cabinet Candidate?

TORONTO (CP) — George C. Wardrope of Port Arthur has been mentioned in government circles as a candidate for the Ontario cabinet.

Nelson Parents Hear Of Daughter's Tour

Miss Sharon Drysdale, daughter of RCMP Sergeant and Mrs. P. Q. Drysdale of Nelson and formerly of Chilliwack, has won a 19-day all-expenses paid trip around the world.

"It's a dream come true," she told her father over the telephone from Seattle after she learned she had won the global trip on the merits of her questions during KVOS-TV's "Around the World Press Conference."

Miss Dryysdale, who did not accompany her parents to Nelson, appeared as one of six finalists on the show who were described as "pretty stiff competition."

She is living temporarily with Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Kelly at Chilliwack.

Sharon, whose travels have taken her only as far east as Winnipeg, south to Seattle and north to Kimberley, will be leaving early in September and will visit Honolulu, Tokyo, Hong Kong, Karachi, Beirut, Rome, Zurich, Paris and London. Her return flight will be made over the polar route from London to Seattle.

All six finalists on the television press conference were primed with questions for Dr. Otto Soltmann, consul in Seatle for the Federal German Republic. Questions ranged from the economic recovery of Western Germany to problems involving rearmament, fascism and education.

Sharon's questions concerned Germany as the "laughing third," playing the east off against the west.

The three judges deliberated more than an hour basing their decisions on the quality and presentation of questions as to voice, gesture and facial expression.

Judging also included the opinions of the judges as to which panelist would make a good representative for Canada and the United States abroad.

When she returns, Sharon plans to enter UBC, majoring either in social work or education.

CALGARY MAN UNINJURED

ROSSLAND—A Calgary man escaped unhurt when his car rolled from the Southern Trans-Provincial Highway 18 miles west of here Monday.

RCMP said Alfred Schultze was driving his car down a long hill when his brakes apparently failed. They said Schultze tried to slow down the vehicle by turning into the highway banks when it went out of control and overturned.

He was travelling alone.

Damage to the car was estimated at about $350.

300 Enter for Fall Exhibition at Nelson

More than 300 entries covering all exhibit classes have been received by West Kootenay Agricultural and Industrial Exhibition officials here.

Further information about success of the Centennial show was given Tuesday with the announcement that negotiations are underway with the USAF recruiting unit at Spokane to bring the American air force guided missile display to the exhibition September 11, 12 and 13.

However, some concern is felt over flower exhibits damaged by lack of moisture during the growing season. Out-of-town flower displays are expected to be somewhat better than local displays because they have not been affected by the water shortage.

Exhibition entertainment is being arranged by chairman A. B. Gilker with K.D.B. Enterprises of Calgary.

One major change in the exhibition this year is the transfer of industrial exhibits to the Civic Centre Arena with flower and vegetable displays in the curling rink.

The rink will be refrigerated for the show if it does not interfere with the city water shortage.

Industrial exhibits have been received from Victoria to Winnipeg displaying everything from Cuckoo clocks to the latest household appliances and fixtures.

Russia Seen As Potential Threat To World's Aviation Industry

By DAVE OANCIA
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP) — A United Nations report hints the free world's aviation industry may be in for some rough competition from the Soviet Union.

Aviation sources here concede privately that chaos could result if Russia successfully enters the big league in a field where competition already is extremely keen.

Passing reference was made to the Soviet air industry and air transport in a report on the economic implications of long-range jets prepared by the International Civil Aviation Organization in Montreal.

The UN organization said it was excluding Russian planes and air transport from consideration because not enough reliable information on Soviet planes was available and because they have never been used in competition on the world's markets.

LIKELY EFFECT PROFOUND

"Nevertheless, it should be borne in mind that if they were ever offered for sale in quantity and at attractive prices, and particularly if their operating costs are as low as they have been claimed to be, they could have a profound effect on world air transport," the UN report said.

The Soviet Union provides little technical data on its air industry. It is neither a member of ICAO or the International Air Transport Association, which represents most airlines.

Russia's aeroflot is the world's biggest, most complex and least-known aerial organization. Studies by Western experts show it is more than an airline.

It's the total weight of Russian civil aviation. Everything that moves in the air and is not military is Aeroflot. It does jobs ranging from tree seeding to ambulance service and long-range transport.

The Air Transport Association of America, representing the U.S. airlines, discussed it this way:

"After laboring quietly in their own backyard for years, the Russian airline burst out of its self-imposed anonymity with a suddenness that caught the West unprepared.

"In a few short years, the Soviets have built new turbine-powered aircraft that rival the best in the West and have begun to extend their air routes to all parts of the world."

The West did not pay much attention to Russian transport planes until March 1956, when the TU-104 pure jet was unveiled at London Airport. This was a twin-jet, medium range aircraft based on the design of the Red air force's badger bomber.

Six months later this plane into service and the Russians were able to boast that Aeroflot was the only airline offering regular service in pure jet aircraft. Western airlines now are reaching the point where they too can claim jet service.

But the Soviets are not staking their claim to air transport superiority on the TU-104. The ICAO report shows at least five or six modern turbine transports in various stages of development. If Russian claims are true, they will make the TU-104 seem almost obsolete by comparison.

Press Praises Decision On Birth Control

LONDON (CP) — Lambeth conference recommendations on birth control have received a warm reception from British newspapers.

"It is a bold, brave document," says The Daily Express. "It looks at the facts of life and offers real guidance."

The Times refers to the report as "a bolder and more promising approach." It says the conference's recommendations "are all within the solid framework of the principle that Christian marriage is permanent."

This section of the report gets most of the editorial comment from the country's newspapers. The Manchester Guardian says this part of the report is "for many people, the most interesting and possibly the most impressive."

The Guardian refers to it as "confident, integrated, and deeply reverent; it is asserting an ideal, not conceding an exception."

The News-Chronicle says the conference has examined the problems of family planning "in a realistic and honest way."

The Star says the recommendations "strike a progressive new note."

The Evening News says the report is "encouraging and fortifying without giving grounds for complacency."

New Device May Harness H-Bomb

VANCOUVER (AP) — A new kind of device which holds possibilities for controlling the blast of the hydrogen bomb and making its energy available for peaceful uses was described here Tuesday.

The idea of the device was put forth by a Greek scientist who scooped the world's nuclear scientists a few years ago on a means of greatly increasing the power of atom-smashing machines.

In a paper before the American Physical Society, Dr. Nicholas C. Christofilos said the device is being built at the University of California's H-bomb research laboratory at Livermore, Calif.

The device is called the Astron. Its builders have hopes that it will demonstrate how they can duplicate and use in their laboratories the 100,000,000-degree heat of the stars. This extreme heat is necessary to start the fusion reaction.

Odds... and Ends

.. by M. D. B.

In my journeyings around to the various schools to see what is doing over the holidays I find nostalgia dogging my steps like an old pair of slippers. As I walked down the hallways of the Junior High School, gleaming with fresh varnish on floors and wainscoating, I made mental note of the doors I passed.

* * *

Here was Miss Lang's room where, at the tender age of 10 and 11, we learned the rudiments of French. Here we listened to recordings of various French vowels being pronounced as they ought to be, and found it difficult to keep laughter in check.

* * *

This was the science room where Mr. Richards held sway among Bunsen burners and test tubes and for some reason I remembered the class in which we were learning the intricacies of reproduction in flowers. Mr. Richards had the misfortune to observe that it was quite similar to human reproduction, whereupon Bob Andrews put up his hand and asked how that was. You could have heard a pin drop as about 40 pairs of eyes fastened on Mr. Richards' glowing features. Here was the question to end all questions — would we at last have a complete answer to this awesome riddle. But no, it wasn't to be, he gave a brief explanation with little detail and went on to talk about the flowers, so we didn't learn too much about the birds and the bees.

* * *

Here was Miss Etter's room, the doorway of which was right opposite my locker. I had the tidiest locker that year, for during intermissions when we were scrambling to our lockers for necessary equipment for the next class, teachers stood in the halls to see that all went well. I would not have dared to have an untidy locker where it would catch Miss Etter's reproving eye. She who was utterly meticulous in everything from analysing a sentence to writing the letter P with tail and top in proper proportion. I liked her classes. I knew exactly what was expected — my very best . . . and I always felt her praise worth trying to attain.

* * *

Here was Mr. MacArthur's room, Latin and Mathematics struggled to seep into our heads within these walls. This room was Miss Martin's room — I saw her years later in Vancouver and being a trifle homesick for familiar faces, I all but talked her ear off. Then there was Miss Douglas' room . . . I never did too well in art and always envied people like Arla Saare, who could sketch like a million.

* * *

And Mr. Chamberlain's (Chamby's) room across the hall — math and science, grade eight, and at the foot of the stairs, Miss McGauley's (My Golly's) room—French and social, grade eight.

* * *

Well, I started out to tell you what all has been done in the Junior High School, but that will have to wait for another day.

Papers Praise Eliot Play

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP)— A glittering Edinburgh Festival audience roared its applause for T. S. Eliot's latest and simplest play Monday night.

Eliot had been cutting and polishing the play until the last moment. He added speeches even after the play's sneak preview at Newcastle last week.

The play tells of a nobleman who is a former politician and businessman now retired to a nursing home. He is blackmailed by someone who knows of a hit-and-run incident in his past and by a faded actress whom he once paid off to avoid a scandal. The nobleman confesses his sins to his daughter and dies relieved of his burdens.

The London Times described Eliot's play as "by long chalks his most human."

Said the News Chronicle: "It is a beautifully constructed play, enthralling to watch and to hear and with very little that is high-falutin' about it."

Daily Mail: "For all its simplicity and the happy ending, it remains a typical if sub-standard Eliot play."

Canadian Exports Show Decline

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian exports declined six per cent in July from the corresponding month last year, the bureau of statistics reported Tuesday.

However, increases in four of the six previous months boosted sales by about one per cent in the January-July period.

Increases were recorded for both July and the seven months in the value of exports to Britain and the rest of the Commonwealth. Decreases were registered for the United States and other foreign countries.

Over-all exports in July were valued at $421,700,000, down from $449,200,000 in 1957. Value for the seven months rose to $2,803,000,000 from $2,779,700,000 a year ago.

Shipments to the U.S. in July declined to $249,500,000 from $255,300,000 in 1957. This decreased the seven-month total to $1,618,400,000 from $1,646,600,000.

Exports to Britain in July rose to $74,100,000 from $69,300,0 and in the seven months to $443,800,000 from $410,300,000.

Canada May Increase Colombo Contributions

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada is considering a sharp boost in her Colombo Plan and other Commonwealth contributions with some informants today indicating this form of Canadian aid may be increased by as much as 50 per cent.

Some details of this boost, which might mean a step up in budgetary outlays to about $50,000,000 from the $36,600,000 this year, likely will be disclosed to members of the Commonwealth trade and economic conference to open at Montreal Sept. 15.

The Canadian hope is that this move may stimulate other Commonwealth countries also to increase their aid to India, Pakistan and other underdeveloped areas, eventually creating a bigger pool of demand in these needy areas for capital goods which could be supplied from the more advanced producers.

Canada this year is contributing $35,000,000 othe Colombo Plan countries of South and Southeast Asia and $1,600,000 for Ghana and the West Indies federation. Much of this money goes for the purchase of goods from Canadian factories shipped into these areas for expansion of their transportation, irrigation and other essential developments.

So far Canada has contributed about $200,000,000 since the Colombo Plan was set up about eight years ago. She is the largest single donor country. Britain has contributed about $248,000,000 but part of this includes loans and credit which Canada also provides but does not include in her total figure. Australia has provided $47,700,000 and New Zealand about $19,000,000.

Will Halt Forced Sale of Licences

KELOWNA (CP)—Conservation minister Earle Westwood announced Monday that the British Columbia government is working on amendments to the Fish and Game Act which will prevent Canadian customs officers from forcing tourists to buy fishing licences at the border.

Westwood's announcement about the present fishing licence regulations had been raised.

It is an offence to carry unlicenced, unsealed fishing tackle anywhere in B.C. except in a public conveyance.

Tourists complained about having to buy licences from customs officers, who pocket a 10 per cent commission.

18 MISSING FROM POLISH SHIP

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Police reported Tuesday that 18 passengers of the 110 aboard the Polish ship Mazowsze were missing when it sailed Monday night.

Five of the passengers have already reported to the police as the first step in seeking political asylum.

Broad jumper Zlata Rozkosna of the Czechoslovakian team at the European track and field championships also decided not to return home. She asked for asylum Tuesday.

New Ways Must Be Found To Meet New Needs, Teachers Told

Outlining his philosophy of education, Dr. J. F. K. English, deputy minister of education since the beginning of August, spoke to delegates of the B.C. Teachers' Federation Workshop Monday morning.

Explaining his hopes for education in the province, Dr. English said that, "education is no exception to the rule that new times and new conditions of society give rise to new needs, and new ways and methods of meeting these needs." He stressed, however, that certain basic principles of education are enduring.

One of the prime requisites of education was to prepare pupils to become more effective citizens, "equipping them, through formal instruction and experience to take their places in the world of today and the future which we envision. It should be the object of current society to have each generation become more effective citizens than those of previous times," said Dr. English.

Another basic principle of education is to provide sound instruction in English language skills and arithmetic as well as in the fundamental disciplines of sciences, geography and history, he said.

Methods of solving the problems posed by pupils' individual differences were outlined by Dr. English. He said "from the apt and able student nothing but the best performance must be expected."

He said the feeling of the department is that any student whose attitude, grades and effort are not up to standard should be required to withdraw from the school.

He dealt with the diverse means of treating individual differences in elementary grades and said the present system of grading is preferable because of the ease of administration.

He said university entrance standards are sufficiently high, and that schools in B.C. have the largest selection of options of any schools in Canada. He said he is of the opinion that the wide range of options strengthens the educational program.

ADAPTATION

Dr. English said he prefers to see a basic course offered to secondary students rather than an alternative one. "It boils down to a question of adaptation," he said.

"Value of the counselling program on the secondary level can hardly be overemphasized," said the deputy minister. "It is necessary to have experienced and accredited counsellors to help students choose the proper course."

He said, "B.C. has gone a long way towards making provision for the superior, average and below average student within the organization of the composite high school."

The "key factor is the teacher," he stressed, when speaking of shortage of qualified personnel and larger classes than are desirable, particularly at elementary school level. "Good teachers, born teachers, have always recognized that each child is an individual personality and must be treated accordingly."

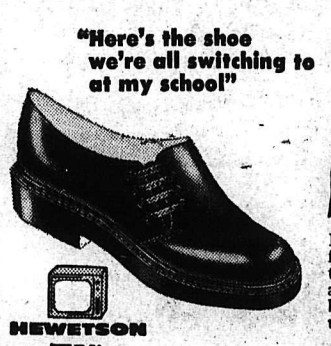
"Let us hope that in the years ahead not only will the curriculum provide appropriate content, but also more competent teachers, who will make suitable adaptations and adjustments to suit individual differences."

Following the talk, a questioner asked how far a teacher's responsibility extended in helping the anti-social or pre-delinquent child. The opinion was that the difficulty lay in lack of agencies to deal with the problem.

It was pointed out that the Child Guidance Clinic, at one time visiting twice a year, now has a schedule that provides for one visit a year to various centres, sometimes not even that. One East Kootenay centre has a visit once every 18 months, since curtailment of services of this clinic.

Speaking of the financial aid offered to teachers, Dr. English said the quality of teachers applying for aid has not been sufficiently high to warrant extending the necessary funds. He said, "No student in B.C. of average or better ability need go without assistance."

"Here's the shoe we're all switching to at my school"



It's real new and different... mighty practical, too. Side lacing adds comfort, gives better support. Shines up easier.

We Must Protect Our Forest Wealth

A Nelson man was recently fined for not assisting forestry officials when called upon to fight fires. This may seem unreasonable action on the part of the government; perhaps some may claim it is infringing on personal liberties, but yet we find that the fine was just and proper. It is law that all those called upon in an emergency must assist forestry officials, and at a time like the present, when our surrounding countryside is like a pile of kindling-wood, it is the duty of all who are able to assist in fighting the menace of fire.

In the Nelson forest district, a succession of fires is rapidly burning many thousands of dollars. Large sums are also being spent in fighting these burns and protecting private property. Thus, when individuals in this district are conscripted for fire-fighting duty, they are not only assisting the provincial government, they are also ensuring a continuation of their own economy.

B. C. depends to a large extent on its timber wealth. We are a country rich in this resource, but we are a country that must see to its defences if our timberlands are to withstand this yearly attack by fire.

More and better precautions must be found. More funds should be available to local forestry officials so they can act promptly and effectively. Machinery is badly needed, and special, water-carrying aircraft, too.

And precaution from woods users is an added must if the fire loss is to be cut down. This cannot be overly stressed. There are still far too many fires started because a camper has not exercised the first principles of safety when in the bush.

The situation calls for all-round co-operation from citizens, government officials and the government. Only thus will this yearly drain of B. C.'s reserves be prevented.

Interpreting the News

By STEWART MacLEOD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The European apprehension that has greeted America's nuclear submarines suggests the world is far from accepting their advent without strong reservations.

Denmark has been the only country to place an outright ban on a visit by an atomic submarine, but Norway's nuclear experts trod gingerly with Geiger counters before allowing the Skate into Bergen. And the repeated assurances that came from British scientists when the Nautilus arrived in Portland indicated a doubtful public.

So far scientists have found no trace of radioactivity on either of the polar-plying submarines, and commanders of both ships have gone out of their way to assure their hosts there is no danger even in collision. British scientists who examined the Nautilus agreed.

But the Danish government said the Skate was being banned on the advice of its nuclear experts. And British scientists preferred to have the Nautilus in relatively isolated Portland rather than London. This, along with scientific comment from other European countries, would indicate that even professional opinion is uncertain.

One British scientist explains it this way: "Whenever there is something complex and new, you are bound to get varied opinions until the thing is fully known. And atomic energy is complex, relatively new, and certainly not fully understood by everyone."

This was the case with steam in 1819 when Copenhagen harbor officials refused to allow a steamship into port until the fire was put out and there was no danger of an explosion.

Atomic energy perhaps got off to a smooth start in England because it was introduced through plants, and it was energy portrayed as a simple source of electricity. However, when radioactivity spread from a burning pile at the Windscale plant last year, a wave of fear swept the country. Cows on neighboring farms were ordered destroyed and all homes were checked for danger.

Scientists later concluded the danger was negligible. There were several other accidents in nuclear plants, the latest last June in the big Calder Hall establishment. However, these concerned equipment apart from radioactive material, and there was no danger, scientists said.

In the case of the submarines, a scientist said it is "understandable" for some people to be apprehensive until convinced of the safety factor. "We all know that radioactivity is frightfully dangerous, but we don't know its complete effects over a period of time, and until we know this, along with treatments, there is no point in taking chances."

However, he added: "The American submarines are, I believe, quite safe and reliable."

PRESS COMMENT

"THE MINISTER IS AWAY"

Cabinet ministers are away from their offices for six and seven weeks at a time and urgent business is left to subordinates who do not have the power to act.

Urgent appeals for response to letters receive a secretarial reply to the effect that "the minister is away" and letters otherwise are left unanswered, or a reply is received too late for action.

An empire is in the process of being given away and a few more millionaires will be made, but the little man will not be any better off.—Campbell River Courier.

Letters to The Editor

Writer Declares Sons Led by Communists

The following letter obviously requires guarding of the identity of the writer. Letters of a controversial nature such as this will be published under pen names, but must be signed when presented to the editor. Anonymous letters will not be published.

To the Editor:

Sir—The Sons of Freedom are being led by Communists to stir up strife. Communism is part of the great red dragon spoken of in Revelations. Communism is one of the wolves in sheep's clothing of whom Jesus said to beware.

What a contrast in religion to the little band of Pilgrims who forsook all and sailed in the little ship called the Mayflower to the new world. This was no day's flight into Russia. This was a long journey of two months and five days in an overcrowded vessel over a great ocean. Strong was their faith and their prayers in the Lord's protection. Theirs were not ready made farms and machinery. In the new world were virgin forests to clear, seed to be sown, the elements to contend. Great was their thanksgiving to God that He had provided them with enough. These were a people not following a political ideology, but theirs was the great light of Jesus' teachings and the works of the Apostles. Theirs was not a following of somebody else who read the Bible, but theirs was a daily study of the Bible for themselves and a great trust in the Lord.

Beware of Communism! It uses hatred to further its own ends. It cares not for the people, only for Communism. Communists care not that the Doukhobors, or the Negroes, or the Arabians die, but that they be used to stir up strife all over the world. Communists are anti-Christ. Can a man hating his brother man love God? Can he be following Christ? No. Therefore hatred is a tool of these ungodly leaders.

Let us hope and pray that good people everywhere may become alert to this enemy. May they wake up in time to save themselves.

DISTRICT RESIDENT.

Tempting, But Impossible

It would be pleasant to think that it might be possible for the government to fall in with the Sons of Freedom scheme for assisted passage to Russia. It would pay, at almost any price, to be rid of the more obnoxious elements of this group. But it really can't be done this way. The government can, and should, refrain from placing obstacles in the path of emigration, but positive assistance is quite another matter.

The nature of the Doukhobors' demands seems to raise the suspicion that they do not really want to go at all. They have asked for (1) payment of the full fare to Russia; (2) compensation for property left behind; (3) payment to the Russian government to defray the costs of absorption.

This is a pretty high price, in cash, and it is also pretty high in terms of gall.

If all the Scots who have emigrated to Canada were assisted to return to the United Kingdom with the value of all the assets they have accumulated since their arrival here, they would turn North Britain into a bower of delights and leave Canada almost destitute.—Financial Post.

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — Planetary aspects now strongly favor sound investments, confidential affairs, scientific pursuits. Use good judgment, however.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—Be on guard against time-wasting, fussiness and arguing. Do Your part to keep things moving. Finish incompleted tasks quickly.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)—Mercury's position now stresses calmness. Be reasonable and understanding if you would get the best and the most out of associates and undertakings. There's no need to fume if things don't please.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)—Another "Tricky" day. Keep on your toes and facilitate matters by being direct, definite, conscientious with assignments. Emphasize your dignity and skills.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo)—You may find the competition stiffer than usual but if you maintain a reasonable, serene attitude, you can hurdle all obstacles. Let your byword be: Onward!

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Good aspects should encourage your best instincts, finer leanings and attitude. Promote your friendliness and willingness to do that "added bit" for the good of the whole.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — To succeed today, capitalize on your natural cheer, hopefulness, good will and ability to be practical against odds. Show Libra's true mettle.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Mixed planetary influences. Take time to calmly consider your best course of action, and handle important matters first. Don't broadcast your troubles.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Your Jupiter is in splendid position now. If you have money matters to take care of, or added responsibilities, this is your day for accomplishment. Be alert; use good judgment, too.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Your Saturn advises forethought in handling delicate matters. You have artistry and finesse but do not use them enough at times.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — This day's aspects encourage your interests and activities generally, but you will have to remain on the beam, as they say, and eager for new leads; also mindful of pitfalls.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Your Neptune is on the helpful side. You can attain in your special work, in outside activities, children's affairs, and especially in charitable causes. Don't exhaust energies but do achieve.

YOU BORN TODAY have fine reasoning faculties, are discriminating, mentally keen, imaginative, resourceful. You give patient attention to details, are orderly, clean-minded, generous — all this, of course, if you are developing your fine assets and Using them. You can recover quickly from reverses and will go back to work at once. A natural tendency to help others may cause you to be misunderstood, make some think you meddlesome. Two Canadians Well Received at Brussels

By KEN METHERAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

BRUSSELS (CP) — Performances by two talented young Canadians ended Canada's national day at the Brussels World Fair on a triumphal note Monday night.

The Canadians—pianist Glenn Gould of Toronto and soprano Marguerite Lavergne of Montreal — captivated the audience with a program from the works of Bach and Britain's Benjamin Britten.

And adding the final touch to Canada's cultural evening, Toronto's Hart House String Orchestra performed the works of composers Godfrey Ridout and Dr. Oskar Morawestz, both of the faculty of the Royal Conservatory of Music in Toronto.

MASTERLY PERFORMANCE

Gould gave a masterly interpretation of Bach's Concerto No. 1 in D minor. He was particularly effective in bringing out all the joyous vigor of the first and last movements.

His unorthodox mannerisms—playing much of the time with his legs crossed and in pauses dropping his hands limply to his sides—startled his Belgian audience, but their unreserved applause showed admiration for his keyboard artistry.

Miss Lavergne, now studying in Vienna under a Quebec provincial scholarship, was given four curtain calls for a fine rendition of Britten's Illuminations, Opus 18. The work consists of 10 songs in French based on the poems of Arthur Rimbaud.

HIGH STANDARD

One of the surprises of the evening was the depth of the Canadian program. Unlike most countries, which have leavened national day concert programs with a mixture of light and serious music, the Canadians maintained a high classical standard throughout. And the audience, which has enjoyed the privilege in recent weeks of listening to some of the world's greatest artists, showed their appreciation with rounds of applause lasting several minutes.

Hart House, conducted by Boyd Neel, played Ridout's two Etudes for String Orchestra and Morawetz Divertimento for Strings.

Guests at the performance included Senator Mark Drouin, Speaker of the Canadian Senate; Charles Hebert, Canadian ambassador to Belgium, and representatives of the Brussels diplomatic corps.

Cost of CBC Regulatory Body Scored In House

OTTAWA (CP) — Liberals expressed concern in the Commons Tuesday that the new regulatory body for Canadian broadcasting may be a considerable expense to the public treasury.

Opposition Leader Pearson noted that the bill setting up the board of broadcast governors specifies the salaries of the three full-time members be fixed by cabinet, that the remuneration of the 12 part-time members will be $100 a day and that no limit is put on the expenses paid members while on board business.

The $100-a-day fee to part-time members for attendance at meetings of the board or committees of it was double that paid now to members of the CBC board of governors, which will be succeeded by the new board as broadcasting's regulatory body.

J. W. Pickersgill (L — Bonavista-Twillingate) suggested the salaries of the three full-time members should be written into the act, and not be left to the discretion of cabinet.

REMOVE SUSPICION

Making these salaries a statutory provision would allow maximum independence for the board and remove any suspicion that the government was using remuneration to exert its influence.

Revenue Minister Nowlan, piloting the bill through House committee study, replied that the Progressive Conservative government would exert no such pressure.

As for doubling the daily fee to $100 for part-time members, this was done in the light of the experience of the present CBC board of governors. It was difficult to get members to attend meetings for less.

The government had not yet considered the salary scale for the three full-time members, but it was anticipated "substantial" amounts would have to be paid to attract the most competent persons.

Noted British Composer Vaughan Williams Dies

LONDON (Reuters) — Dr Ralph Vaughan Williams, dean of British composers, died early Tuesday. He was 85.

Vaughan Williams, one of the 20th century's leading composers, was busy writing music at his London home up to Monday. He was taken ill suddenly and died early this morning.

Cause of death was not announced immediately.

His wife, Ursula, who was formerly his secretary and married him five years ago, was with him when he died.

Vaughan Williams had been recognized as Britain's leading symphonic composer since the death of Sir Edward Elgar in 1934. He did more than any other musician to develop the idiom of English folk songs in the art of the symphony.

At an age when many men enjoy retirement Vaughan Williams had continued to work enthusiastically, always excited about the concerts and parties arranged in his honor and determined never to miss any of them.

He wrote his first composition at the age of six and composed steadily throughout his adult life.

Among his best - known symphonies are Job, Sinfonia, Antarctica and the famous Eighth Symphony.

Notable among his operas are Pilgrim's Progress and Riders to the Sea. He also produced numerous arrangements of English folk songs and carols. He wrote his first film score at the age of 70.

Vaughan Williams' first wife died in 1951 and at the age of 81 he married Ursula Forrester Wood.

His Ninth Symphony was presented for the first time in London last April, when Sir Malcolm Sargent conducted the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra.

Epstein Statue Not For Export

VANCOUVER (CP) — The world's most controversial sculptor has decided not to sell to the world's most celebrated safe-cracker the world's largest statue of Christ.

In fact, the sculptor, Sir Jacob Epstein, has decided that his statue is not for export at all.

And so ends Vancouver's hottest cultural debate.

It started early this summer when Desmond Muirhead, Vancouver landscape architect, brought back from England Sir Jacob's suggestion that Vancouver might do well to buy his 16-ton granite figure at the going rate of $15,000—plus transportation costs.

It nearly ended when the idea of a public purchase was scotched by the heated protest of city council, park board, town planning commission and hundreds of lovers of traditional art.

But several weeks ago Herbert Emerson Wilson, the man who has written a book claiming to have stolen $16,000,000 in his career as a yegg, offered to buy the statue from Sir Jacob for $15,000 cash, f.o.b. his home at nearby Horseshoe Bay, B.C.

Mr. Wilson, who has taken up art since he "went straight," wanted to place the work in his garden and dedicate it to the people of Vancouver.

Sir Jacob tentatively agreed to the sale.

But Monday Mr. Wilson received a letter from Lady Epstein saying that "my husband prefers to keep the statue in England."

His reason, Lady Epstein wrote, was that transport problems for the massive figure were too difficult.

"That's the end of the matter as far as I'm concerned," Mr. Wilson said in an interview Monday night. "I've done what I could."

Gov't Takes Hand In Beer Dispute

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario government stepped in Tuesday in a bid to end the province's beer strike.

Labor Minister Daley arranged a meeting with J. C. Adams, chief spokesmen for the breweries and Brewers' Warehousing Company Limited.

It is designed to pave the way for a resumption of negotiations with the United Brewery Workers of America (CLC) which broke off Friday after the union rejected the offer of a new contract.

The talks will not begin until the end of this week. The strike of distribution workers in the industry started 20 days ago.

Ontario's five breweries and the Brewers Warehousing Limited are losing an estimated $500,000 a day in revenues since the strike started almost three weeks ago. Loss in wages has been estimated at $40,000 a day.

The union is seeking wage increases of $9 to $14 a week but a main point of contention is a union demand that only union truckers handle beer delivery.

Today's Insurance Problems

Answered by Your Insurance Advisors

QUESTION: Does Broad Extended Coverage insurance insure against damage from frozen water pipes?

ANSWER: The risk is covered if the house is occupied and heated, or if the water supply has been shut off and the systems drained. If either unoccupied or unheated 72 hours prior to loss, there is no coverage.

Have you an insurance problem of your own? Come in or write us. We'll be glad to help you without charge or obligation of any kind!

WARNING

KOOTENAY LAKE AND RIVER LEVELS

Regulation of Kootenay Lake to store water for winter power production will again be underway commencing September 1. By an order of the International Joint Commission, the Main Lake may be raised to 6 feet above zero, which is approximately 2 feet above the present level. All persons using the foreshore of Kootenay Lake and River during the Fall and Winter should be on the lookout for changing water levels.

Effect on the Main Lake, West Arm

After September 1, the lake will rise slowly (not more than a few inches per day) until the maximum level is reached. It will remain at that level until it is necessary to release the water for power generation.

Effect on the Kootenay and Columbia Rivers Below Corra Linn

River levels can be expected to fluctuate throughout the Fall and Winter according to the power demand and weather conditions.

Two Future Brides Honored at Natal

NATAL — A miscellaneous shower was held recently in the St. Michael's Hall at Natal in honor of Miss Delores Mussic. Guests attending enjoyed the evening's entertainment that included games of bingo and whist. The hostesses served lunch while the many gifts were being passed around the hall.

A second shower was also enjoyed by a large gathering in St. Michael's Hall, honoring Miss Joanne Halko, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Halko of Natal. Games of bingo and whist were played with the following results: Bingo winners were Mrs. M. DeAnna, first; Mrs. M. Krell, second; Mrs. Menduk, third. Whist winners were Mrs. J. Myles, first; Mrs. J. K. Mitchell, second, and Mrs. H. Holub third.

Bank Reports $4 Billion From Conversion Loan

OTTAWA (CP) — The Bank of Canada reported Tuesday that $4,489,000,000 in returns have been recorded in the Canada conversion loan ending Sept. 15.

A statement said officials expect transactions with individual holders of victory bonds to reach a peak beginning Sept. 2 with their return from holidays. The total value of bonds sought in the conversion loan drive is $6,400,000,000.

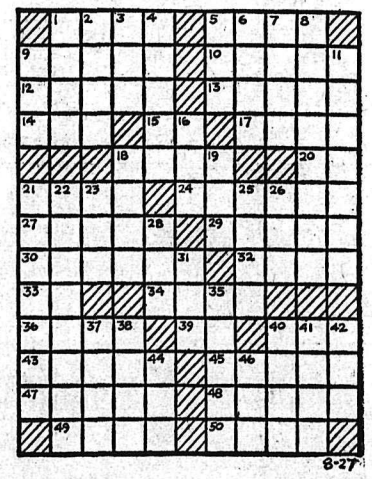
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

PUBLIC NOTICES

PUBLIC NOTICE

Offers are invited for the purchase of a parcel of land and buildings at Six Mile (Duhamel) Creek, located approximately six miles East of Nelson. The property consists of one main dwelling house, wood shed and summer cottage and the legal description is as follows:

"Block 23 of District Lot 787, Kootenay District, Plan 2031 Save and except that part thereof lying north east of a line drawn from a point in the north westerly boundary 85.90 feet from the most northerly corner of said lot to a point in the south easterly boundary 55.80 feet from the north easterly corner thereof, containing 0.747 acres more or less."

Provisions of sale shall be that the dwelling house and wood shed be moved a minimum distance of 25 feet from the boundary of the right-of-way for proposed diversion of Duhamel Creek within a period of three months from date of purchase and that the Department of Highways shall not be liable for any damage which may result in the future as a result of diversion and cutting of a new channel for Six Mile (Duhamel) Creek. Plans of the right-of-way for said creek diversion may be examined at the office of the District Engineer, Department of Highways, Nelson, B.C. The property will be open for inspection on the following days:

Monday and Wednesday, September 1st and 3rd respectively from 2 to 4 p.m.

Offers accompanied by a certified cheque in the amount of 10% of the full purchase price to be submitted in a sealed envelope marked "Offer for land at Six Mile (Duhamel) Creek, Nelson, B.C." to reach the office of the undersigned, Douglas Building, Victoria, B.C., before 12 o'clock noon, September 19th, 1958.

Printing Bureau Storm Continues

OTTAWA (CP)—Another round of political acrimony developed Tuesday in the Commons public accounts committee as it continued its investigation into the construction of the $16,000,000 government printing bureau.

Progressive Conservative and Liberal opponents exchanged warm language while the committee examined Montreal architect Ernest Cormier, who supervised the construction.

Most of the questioning was about the cost of excavating the building's site, in nearby Hull, Que., on soft ground which necessitated digging to bedrock. The excavation alone cost $238,000.

Miron Freres originally bid $55,000 for removing 110,000 yards of soil. Mr. Cormier said the reason for the higher eventual cost was increasing difficulty in getting rid of the soil as the excavators got into mud.

DID Walker (PC — Toronto Rosedale), chief Progressive Conservative questioner, got into frequent spats with the Liberals as Mr. Cormier continued testimony he began Monday.

He claimed that under Miron Freres' contract with the public works department they had to excavate 110,000 yards for $55,000 "come hell or high water."

Yet the final price had been considerably higher.

Cool Air Coming From Yukon

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia's heat wave is broken, but the drought continues.

Monday, the weather forecaster agrees, was a bit too much. The thermometer hit 98 at Penticton, 101 at Crescent Valley as the smoke of burning forests drifted from one end of B.C. to the other.

"There's cooler air sucking down from the Yukon," the weatherman said Tuesday. "It should return to normal August temperatures now."

But despite a spattering of rain earlier, he saw no general rain in sight. The high pressure ridge off the B.C. coast remains firm against Pacific storms.

Almost 400 firest fires are burning.

The $150,000 Pine Pass mill of the Fort St. John Lumber Company was destroyed by fire recently. Fire jumped to nearby forest and burned 1,000 acres.

Showers and a few heavy downpours were general throughout the interior Tuesday. In Vancouver the rain amounted to only a trace.

TWO DIE IN HOTEL BLAZE

SEATTLE (AP) — A pre-dawn fire killed two persons and injured three others in a small hotel here Tuesday and Fire Chief William Fitzgerald blamed an arsonist who has started at least 36 other blazes in two weeks.

Police said there were 22 persons in the Hollywood Hotel when the blaze broke out at 2:15 a.m.

The two dead were identified as Jean Ballou, 52, and Jack Breda.

Chief Fitzgerald said the fire was started outside the building and whipped into the structure by an offshore breeze.

"There is no question about it," he said. "This is the same arsonist who set the fire in the last two weeks. It is exactly the same type of blaze."

The series of fires, mostly in Seattle's southend skid-road district, has kept firemen and police on constant alert but each time the arsonist was undetected.

None of the other fires caused fatalities.

International Lead Zinc, Study ... Considered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is considering suggesting the formation of an international study group on lead and zinc, Assistant State Secretary Thomas C. Mann has told Congress.

In a July 31 appearance before the Latin American affairs subcommittee of the House of Representatives foreign affairs committee, he remarked that the United States is considering the step.

His testimony was released Tuesday by the committee, which has been studying U.S. relations with Latin America.

Mann noted that the United States now is participating in an international study group on coffee, and then remarked:

"We are considering a similar study group in the case of lead and zinc, which is of great importance to Mexico and Peru as well as to our own industries here, and, of course, Canada, Australia and others.

REBELS WANT HAND IN GOV'T

BEIRUT (Reuters) — Rebel leaders, demanding a place in the cabinet of President-elect Gen. Fuad Chehab, have refused to call off their three-month rebellion until President Camille Chamoun resigns, reliable sources said Tuesday.

Five leaders, who called on Chehab Monday night, told him that until President Camille Chamoun finishes his term Sept. 24, they could not guarantee peace.

The leaders had issued earlier a communique demanding that they be included in Chehab's government and that American troops should quit Lebanon without waiting for international arrangements.

The leaders also urged Chehab to dispense with the United Nations observation group.

Ferry Arrives 3 Years Late

PORT aux BASQUES, Nfld. (CP) — The CNR ferry William Carson entered harbor here Tuesday, more than three years after she was scheduled to start service between this port and Nova Scotia.

Hundreds of people stood on the rocky shores and waved and cheered as the Carson came in. Whistles on ships in port and in plants ashore joined in the long-delayed greeting.

The 351-foot ferry, which cost $11,500,000, was to start service in 1955 but at the last moment officials raised doubts about the safety of the ship in Port aux Basques harbor.

Instead she spent the last three years carrying freight between North Sydney and Argentia, Nfld. Her passenger accommodations and automobile decks went unused.

Today's trip was the first of a series of test voyages to see whether the port is safe for the big ship in rough weather. The federal government has spent millions on harbor improvements and the work is still not finished.

This port is the western terminal of the CNR's Newfoundland line to St. John's and of the Trans - Canada Highway across the province.

Market Trends

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market advanced on all sections Friday amid the fastest trading in seven sessions.

Industrials were the leaders, up more than two points on index. They backed down slightly from their peak at noon when they set a 1958 high of 471.54.

Final volume was 3,375,000 shares, compared with Monday's 2,966,000.

Three speculatives accounted for one-quarter of the volume. New Hosco was the most active issue, trading 454,500 shares. It lost nine cents at $1.66. Barnat traded 244,000 shares while advancing 20 cents at $2.27. Gold Eagle was up one cent at 19½ on 105,000 shares.

In industrials all five of the most active issues advanced. Trans Canada Pipe Line was up 1½ at 32¼.

Base metals gained as Hudson Bay rose ⅞ at 50⅛ and International Nickel added ½ at 80½. Coppers were easier with Geco and Gaspe losing ½.

Pacific Pete was up ⅛ at 19⅛ to lead western oils. Peruvian, Central Del Rio and Triad advanced in a 15-cent range.

Town Saved From Lightning-Set Fire

ENTIAT, Wash. (AP) — Firefighters saved this Columbia River town Tuesday after an all-night battle against spectacular lightning-set fires that virtually surrounded it.

Two farm homes burned but the families escaped unhurt.

By morning separate fires north and south of Entiat were burning out of control but the town of 286 persons apparently was out of danger.

"Townspeople and orchards saved the town," said F. M. Morrison, assistant in charge of fire control for the Wenatchee National Forest.

The fires slowed as they reached irrigated apple orchards ringing the town. Morrison said damage to orchards was not seere.

Say Russ Moon Rockets Exploded

BERLIN (AP) — The West German news agency DPA said Tuesday that three Soviet "moon rockets" exploded shortly after taking off this month from launching pads in Siberia.

The report, quoting diplomatic sources in East Berlin, added that the Russians plan to launch a fourth moon rocket in mid-September. DPA said a prominent Soiet scientist told a Polish colleague: "This time we shall most probably succeed." It did not name either scientist.

Two Women Killed

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters) — Two Greek Cypriot women, one of them a 13-year-old girl, were killed and 20 other Cypriots injured Tuesday in a clash between right- and left-wing factions at Milea, 15 miles from Famagusta.

First reports said trouble began late Monday night when a bomb was thrown at left-wing club premises.

Shortly before dawn Tuesday a major clash developed. Shots were fired and fighting erupted.

Milea village was placed under house curfew.

No Loans, Just Advice For Small Firms

OTTAWA (CP)—A new branch to assist small businesses will be set up in the trade department, but it will offer only advice to small businesses and not direct loans, informants said Tuesday.

The new office will be provided with about $30,000 initially, mostly to cover salaries of officials and this allocation likely will be shown in supplementary estimates to be tabled in the Commons in the next few days.

Hazen Argue (CCF — Assiniboia) asked Prime Minister Diefenbaker in the House whether the new bureau, forecast in the throne speech, would have money available for making loans, but Mr. Diefenbaker declined to reply directly, saying government policy would be shown in the supplementary estimates.

The Retail Merchants' Association of Canada had appealed for direct federal loans to help small merchants expand their businesses and increase their ability to compete against big outlets, such as the chains and supermarkets.

However, informants said the decision reached is to offer, at the outset, only advice, to help the small merchants set up better accounting procedures and merchandising methods, to increase their efficiency. Federal work in this field would be educational at the outset.

F. G. Donner To Head Auto Firm

DETROIT (AP) — A finance expert and an authority on production and engineering have been named to direct the world's biggest industrial corporation.

Directors of General Motors Monday elected Frederic G. Donner, 56, board chairman and chief executive officer and John F. Gordon, 58, as president and chief operating officer.

Their election, effective Sept. 1, followed the retirement of Albert Bradley as chairman of the board and Harlow H. Curtice, both of whom have passed General Motors retirement age of 65. In effect Curtice's job as president and chief executive officer is being divided between Donner and Gordon.

Donner has been with General Motors since 1926; Gordon joined the corporation in 1923. Donner's work has been almost entirely in finance; Gordon's in engineering and production.

It was under Curtice that General Motors in 1955 became the first and only industrial enterprise to pile up more than $1,000,000,000 in net profits for a single year.

General Motors did not duplicate the profit in 1956 or 1957, but held its leadership in the industry with nearly 51 per cent of over-all sales in 1956 and 48.86 in 1957. In the first half of the current year it increased its sales to almost 49 per cent.

FEAR FOR QUIZ SHOWS AFTER REVELATIONS

NEW YORK (CP)—The World-Telegram and Sun says television network executives are worried that quiz shows may be in jeopardy as a result of an investigation of one of them by District Attorney Frank S. Hogan.

Hogan announced Tuesday he will probe reasons behind the sudden demise of Dotto on two networks.

"Kev question in their minds, according to informed sources," the newspaper says, "is whether quiz ratings will continue high now that the public has been made aware that the programs are not as open and above board as the producers would have them believe."

Nehru Agrees To Border Cease-Fire

KARACHI, Pakistan (Reuters) Prime Minister Nehru of India has agreed to a proposal by Pakistan Prime Minister Malik Firoz Khan Noon to order a cease-fire foreign office spokesman said toon the east Pakistan border, a foreign office spokesman said Tuesday.

There have been repeated clashes recently between border forces, especially on the east Pakistan-Assam frontir.

The Indian and Pakistan prime ministers are due to meet in New Delhi Sept. 9 to confer on border issues and also possibly on the Indus waters dispute and the Kashmir problem.

Troop Withdrawal Date Not Set

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain Tuesday declined to name a date for the withdrawal of her troops from Jordan.

Asked about a London newspaper report that Britain and the United States will pull their troops out of Jordan and Lebanon at the end of September, a foreign office spokesman said such speculation is "very premature."

The spokesman said there has been no change in the situation since UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold was empowered last week to negotiate arrangements for withdrawal of the Anglo-American forces.

Hammarskjold stopped off briefly in Paris on his way to the Middle East.

Bombers Pick 12 U.S. Imports

WINNIPEG (CP) — Winnipeg Blue Bombers Tuesday named the 12 American import players they plan to use for the 1958 Western Interprovincial Football Union season.

The list, announced by manager Jim Ausley, includes three tackles, two guards, two ends, a centre and four backfielders. Eight of the players are holdovers from the 1957 season.

Tackles listed are: Rookie Roland Warren, from North Texas State; Bob Hobert, a second year man from the University of Minnesota, and rookie Frank Rigney from Iowa.

Guards are rookie Dave Burkholder from Minnesota and Herb Gray, in his third year with the defending western champions from the University of Texas.

Ends are Ernie Pitts, from the University of Denver and Frank Gilliam from Iowa State. Both are second-year men.

Centre Hall Whitley, a holdover from the Texas College of Art and Industry, completes the list of linemen.

ENGLAND, NEW ZEALAND DRAW

LONDON (Reuters) — England and New Zealand drew the fifth and final cricket test match here Tuesday.

The scores were: New Zealand 161 and 91 for three; England 219 for 9 declared.

England won the four previous tests.

England made a bold bid to record its fifth consecutive victory but the loss of virtually three days through rain, coupled with the excellent state of the pitch Tuesday enabled the touring team to escape with a draw.

Pirie Brilliant In 5000-Metre

OSLO (AP) — Britain's Gordon Pirie Tuesday won the 5000-metre run at the Oslo games in a brilliant performance just 30 minutes after he had competed in the 1500-metre race.

Pirie's victory in 14:03 over the Russian gold and silver medal winners at the European championships in Stockholm overshadowed the performance by Australia's four-minute-miler Merv Lincoln.

Not even the announcer of the race knew that Pirie was running in the 5000 after he had finished sixth behind Lincoln in the 1500.

Lincoln ran a quick but unspectacular 1500-metre race in 3:45.4, way off the world mark of 3:38.1 held by Czech Stanislav Jungwirth who placed third in 3:46.0. East Germany's Zeigfried Valentin was second. Pirie's time was 3:47.2.

Russia suffered a big upset in the high jump. It was won by Stig Petterson of Sweden with a leap of 6-6¾, the same as Russia's Yuri Stepanov, who has bettered seven feet. Petterson was declared the winner on the basis of less faults.

Martell Edges Tucker for Canadian PGA Crown

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CALGARY (CP) — Henry Martell of Edmonton shot a four-under-par last-round 66 to win the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association championship Tuesday night with a 54-hole total of 209, just one stroke up on second-round leader Murray Tucker of Toronto.

Al Balding of Toronto, pre-tournament favorite skyrocketed to three-over-par 73 in each of the second and third rounds for a 213 total and a third-place tie with Jack Kay of Montreal.

Martell, winner of the CPGA title in 1953, came out of nowhere to cop the $1000 first prize. He entered the final 18 holes eight strokes behind 36-year-old Tucker and five in arrears of Balding.

The sandy-haired Edmontonian opened the tournament with a 74, followed with a 69 second round and caught fire with 34-32 nines in the last 18.

TUCKER FINISHES POORLY

It was a heartbreaker for Tucker, who ballooned to a five-over-par 75 following 67 - 68 rounds. He was the only one of 33 starters to crack the Calgary Golf and Country Club course below par-70 figures over the first 36 holes.

Tucker won $700 and Balding and Kay picked up $550 each.

Fifth place was taken by Bud Loftus, assistant pro at the 6277-yard Calgary course, with 215, one stroke up on Jim Doyle of Sandy Hook, Man. Loftus won $400 and Doyle $300.

John Hendrick of Hull, Que., was seventh with 217, good for $200.

The over-50-year-old pros, who cut up a special $525 pot for the first 36 holes, kept up with the leaders but dropped back in the last 18.

Bob Burns of Ridgeway, Ont., took first-place seniors money of $250 with a 141 total but blew to 81 on the last round to finish with 222, one stroke behind Lou Cumming of Toronto. Cumming won $175 as second low senior after 36 holes and Jules Huot of Laval-sur-le-Lac, Que., was third. He won $100.

Wakeham Again Wins In PNGA

WALLA WALLA (AP)—Medalist Pete Geertsen of Eugene continued his winning ways Tuesday with a 3 and 2 victory over Stan Buratto, Clarkston, in the PNGA junior golf tournament at the Walla Walla Country Club.

Geertsen and 15 others won first round matches. Although official cards were not kept, several youths had unofficial scores of 75 for the par-72 course.

The only competition Tuesday was in the championship and second flight brackets. Losers and fourth flight competitors see action Wednesday.

Also advancing in the championship flight were two British Columbia golfers.

William Wakeham of Victoria defeated Peter Taylor of Portland 4 and 3 and Allen Kennedy of Victoria defeated Jay Easterwood of Seattle 3 and 2.

ADMIRAL WINS SENIORS GOLF

OTTAWA (CP)—Admiral H. G. DeWolf, chief of the naval staff, won the Canadian seniors golf championship Tuesday, defeating more than 200 entries in 36 holes of medal play.

Admiral DeWolf, tied after Monday's first round 75 with Hugh Jaques of Montreal, carded a 79 Tuesday to win the title and the Shaughnessy Trophy.

Mr. Jaques blew to an 85 for a gross of 160.

Play continues today with two-ball foursome to be followed by international matches between Canadian and American foursomes Thursday and the international singles Friday.

Topflight Golfers To Play Here Labor Day

Outside entries received up to mail time indicate competition will be hot in Nelson Golf and Country Club's annual Labor Day Tournament, officials said Tuesday.

Among them will be Bill Wakeham of Victoria, currently advancing in the PNGA golf tournament under way at Walla Walla, Wash. He will arrive here Saturday.

Another Victoria, low-handicapper Fred McKay will also be here Saturday. He has toured courses in Calgary, Kimberley, Nelson and Victoria.

Last year's champion Doug Campbell of Vancouver, a former Nelsonite, will motor here with Nelson club president Bruce Latremouille and Fred Thompson, who have been attending Centennial golf play in Vancouver.

First Trail entry was Scotty Ross and a Kaslo entry is Jack Hand.

Prominent local golfer, Angus (Scotty) Cameron will vie for the title for the first time as a top contender. He was at one time a Willingdon cup team member. Other local players include local pro Walter Apostoliuk, and Arnold Sherwood, who ranked fourth in the recent Gold Trail four-city event in the Okanagan. This event was played in Kamloops, Vernon, Penticton and Kelowna.

Kimberley, Cranbrook and Fernie are expected to send entries, although they have not yet been heard from, and Spokane is also expected to be represented.

T. W. Clarke of New Denver has entered the senior's event.

A good entry is anticipated in women's play.

Over 50 local entries have been confirmed. This year's starter will be D. M. Sample and tournament chairman is Bill Wicken. Draw committee is formed of match captain Dunc Jamieson, Terry Panton and Vern Miller.

The draw for Sunday's opening play will be 8 a.m. unless entries exceed expectations to force an

Coach Clem Crowe Fired by B.C. Lions

VANCOUVER (CP) — Coach Clem Crowe, whose B.C. Lions have dropped all their games in the Western Interprovincial Football Union this season, was fired Tuesday night.

Crowe, head coach for the last three years, was dismissed at a meeting of Lions' directors.

General Manager Herb Capozzi said the directors decided to release Crowe immediately and leave the handling of the team for the present up to assistant coaches Vic Lindskog and Walter Schlinkman and a committee of three players selected by the players. No new head coach was mentioned.

Crowe, who came here from Ottawa Rough Riders, will be paid for the rest of the season. His contract was only for this season.

The cry of "Crowe must go" has been popular with sportswriters and football fans here in the last few days, especially after the Lions' 34-13 loss to Calgary Stampeders at Empire Stadium Monday night.

It was the team's third straight loss. Earlier they had been beaten 42-0 by Calgary and 49-33 by Saskatchewan Roughriders.

Crowe, 52, a native of Lafayette, Ind., played for Knute Rockne's great Notre Dame teams of 1923-25 and was captain in the 1925 season. He coached at several U.S. colleges and was line coach at Notre Dame, then appointed head coach at the University of Iowa and Buffalo Bills of the old American Conference, and later with Baltimore of the National Football League.

In 1951 he became coach of the Ottawa Rough Riders and led them to a Grey Cup championship. He came to B.C. Lions four years ago as assistant coach.

Crowe makes his home in Eden, N.Y., and is the father of 10 children. In December he went to Rome to witness his son's ordination as a Roman Catholic priest.

Annis Stukus, who coached Lions in 1954 and 1955 before being fired and turning to sportswriting, wrote in Monday's Vancouver Sun:

"After three humiliating losses in which the team looked as if it didn't care too much except in self defence, the only conclusion I can arrive at is that the coaching staff is not doing a job with the material."

Lions were scheduled to fly to Winnipeg this morning for a Thursday game against Blue Bombers.

Also by midnight Tuesday night they were required to name their starting 12 import players for the balance of the season. With 17 Americans still on the payroll, the team foundering and the coaching setup in a turmoil, no one wanted to assume the responsibility.

BOBBY BOYD 8-5 CHOICE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Bobby Boyd, 10th ranked middleweight from Chicago, was a solid 8-5 choice Tuesday to whip Miami's Jimmy Beacham when they clash in a 10-round fight here tonight.

Beecham will be anxious to make up for losing a split decision to Spider Webb here last May. The margin was thin but it made Beecham's record 27 wins, seven defeats and two ties.

Boyd, the older and more solid puncher of the two, has a 49-49-3 record.

The action will be carried coast to coast by ABC.

Point Grey Course No Cinch For Centennial Golf Say Pros

VANCOUVER (CP)—Gold trail golfers toured Point Grey course in practice rounds Tuesday and said last week's par - shattering spree at Edmonton's Mayfair course isn't likely to be repeated in the $47,800 Centennial Open which starts here Thursday.

Only homegrown pro Stan Leonard, who knows Point Grey like the back of his hand, predicted that an extra-low score will be needed to take the top prize of $6,400.

Leonard said it will take a 16-under-par 272 to win the Centennial, richest golf tournament in Canada's history. Others gave estimates ranging up to 277.

"With the weather the way it has been, this course is like a racetrack," said Leonard.

TOUGHER THAN MAYFAIR

But others agreed the course hard by the Fraser River is much tougher than Mayfair, where Texas Wes Ellis took the Canadian Open with a 267, 13 under par.

Jay Hebert of Sanford, Tex., who finished one stroke off the pace at Edmonton, said Point Grey calls for "more premium" on drives.

"The bunkers are really decieving," he said. "And it always looks shorter than it is on the fairways."

Joe Conrad, former British amateur champion, ventured: "There's going to be a lot of trouble on these fairways. You have to manoeuvre around the traps. You have to hit the ball straight to avoid the trees.

"It's going to take a 275 to win. This is a good course."

Dow Finsterwald of Tecuesta, Fla., refused to predict a winning score.

Arnold Palmer, top pro money-winner this year, said: "Oh, a 277 should do it — better make that 275."

GOOD ROUNDS

Several of the topliners were well satisfied with early practice rounds.

Jay Hebert's brother Lionel mentioned a four-under-par 68 as he dropped a 12-foot putt for an eagle three on the 18th.

Don January of Eastland, Tex., who shared the first-round lead at Edmonton, also had a 68. Ken Venturi of San Francisco, third leading money winner this season, shot a pleasing 67.

Fifty of the 120-odd pros entered in the Centennial team up with celebrities and local amateurs today for an 18-hole curtain-raiser.

It will be mainly another practice round for the pros, with the low scorer picking up $250.

There will be minor prize money for the top pro - amateur teams.

Celebrities in the amateur field include film stars Johnny Weissmuller, Gordon McRae and Buddy Rogers; baseball notables Bob Lemon, Ralph Kiner and Del Webb, co - owner of New York Yankees; hockey players Andy Bathgate and Gordie Howe and former world welterweight champion Jim McLarnin.

The serious business gets under way at 8 a.m. PDT Thursday, when the first pros tee off in the 72-hole Centennial.

With only six of the top 33 money-winners missing from the tourney, nobody's mentioning a favorite yet.
