Figures are in millions of dollars. Chart on expenditure (top) shows 33 per cent of spending was on defence, down from 37 per cent during the previous fiscal year. Revenue chart shows personal income tax still the largest single source, accounting for 30 per cent compared to 27 per cent in the previous fiscal year.—CP Newsmap.

Russia Announces Big Change in Farm System

MOSCOW (Reuters) — The Soviet Union Thursday night announced revolutionary changes in Soviet agriculture by abolishing the systems of compulsory deliveries of grain to the state and substituting a new pricing system.

This announcement came after a two-day meeting of the central committee of the Communist party.

The principal idea behind this plan of Premier Khrushchev is to give Russia's 130,000,000 farm workers higher incentive to produce more and cheaper foodstuffs and raise food standards beyond those of the U. S. and other western countries.

A communique on the committee meeting explained that under the new system the state will purchase farm produce from collective farms at prices that will "raise the incentives to the collective farms and collective farmers to increase the output in crop farming and livestock breeding."

The old system of compulsory deliveries to the state will be abolished.

The central committee met on Tuesday and Wednesday and its decisions on agricultural policy were disclosed Thursday night.

At the same time it was announced that the powerful central committee had decided to elevate two men as alternate non-voting members of the party praesidium.

15 FULL MEMBERS

This means that the praesidium, ruling group in the Soviet Union, now comprises 15 full members and 10 alternate members.

The two new appointees are:

N. V. Podgorny, the Ukrainian Communist party chief—a post which was held by Khrushchev for many years until 1949.

D. S. Polansky, premier of the RSFSR Russian Federation, was appointed to this post earlier this year in succession to Frol. R. Kozlov, whom Khrushchev nominated as a first deputy premier of the Soviet Union.

The agricultural report was submitted to the committee by Khrushchev.

Troops Poised For Trouble in Cyprus, Lebanon

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters) — This Mediterranean island Thursday night was packed with troops ready for trouble—here or in nearby Lebanon.

Officially, the more than 30,000 troops—largest Cyprus concentration since the Anglo-French Suez intervention of 1956—were here to keep order in the event of fresh violence over the London government's new plan announced Thursday for the island's future.

But military experts spoke of a possible "double purpose" in the troop buildup.

While the British government denied in London that the bolstering of its garrison here was in anticipation of possible intervention in revolt-torn Lebanon, military experts pointed out the soldiers will be available to fly to Lebanon if the government there seeks Anglo-American military aid to end its civil war.

Jury Warned Not To Discuss Case

By H. J. JONES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP) — Obviously concerned lest a hitch develop in the touchy Sommers bribery-conspicacy trial — now 26 days old — Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson Thursday issued a warning to the jury not to discuss the case with anyone within or without the precincts of the Courthouse.

The Justice, who has been handling the trial with meticulous care, recalled that when it began May 1 he decided not to lock up the jury of nine men and three women but warned them not to discuss the issues with anyone outside and to rebuff any efforts by outsiders to sway them.

Thursday he said he "should have gone further than that." He observed that it was possible the jurors would bump into people connected with the trial and said:

"I do not want you to consort with any people connected with the trial. To do so might lead to trouble and we do not want to have to start this trial over again." The trial is expected to go well into July. Should he feel it necessary, Mr. Justice Wilson could order the jury locked up at any time.

DUMP 'HOT' WATER

CANBERRA (Reuters) — An Australian air force bomber flew 400 miles out to sea Thursday and dropped weighted steel cannisters of radioactive water into the ocean. The water was used two years ago to wash down an aircraft that flew through radioactive dust.

Commons Okays NORAD Agreement

OTTAWA (CP) — Debate on ratification of the Canada-United States air defence agreement ended Thursday in the Commons in an odd mixture of good humour and wrangling.

The Commons approved the agreement, which sets out the principles governing operation of the North American Air Defence Command (NORAD) by a vote of 200 to 8.

The Liberals voted with the Progressive Conservative government, leaving only the CCF in opposition. The CCF contended that NORAD should be placed under direct command of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker, winding up debate for the government, was the only speaker. But Opposition Leader Pearson and Paul Martin, former Liberal health minister, managed several interjections.

USED EDITORIAL

The good humor came when Mr. Diefenbaker said Mr. Martin's earlier speech in the debate was memorized in large part from an editorial in the Winnipeg Free Press.

Mr. Martin readily admitted this and flourished a copy of the editorial. The Commons dissolved in laughter.

The prime minister said Mr. Martin must be congratulated for his ability to memorize. He had made only a few minor changes in the editorial "to improve the language."

But the wrangling set in a moment later when Mr. Diefenbaker maintained the previous Liberal government had conceived the NORAD agreement.

He read from a document which he said showed that the matter had come before the Liberal cabinet June 14, 1957 — four days after the general election won by the Progressive Conservatives.

Mr. Martin said he had been a member of both the cabinet and the cabinet defence committee and the matter had not been discussed by either.

Engineer to Study Narrows Bridge Design

MONTREAL (CP) — Dr. Philip L. Pratley, 73, consulting engineer asked by a royal commission to help investigate the collapse of Second Narrows Bridge in Vancouver, will do much of his work from Montreal.

Dr. Pratley's firm said A. B. Sanderson of Victoria and Vancouver had been retained to make preliminary studies of the bridge's design, the work done on it, and accounts of the collapse. The reports will be sent here to be analyzed.

Until necessary, Dr. Pratley will not go to Vancouver personally. He is currently in hospital for checkups.

BUS STRIKE SOON OVER?

LONDON (Reuters) — Bus strike leaders Thursday stirred hopes that the big red vehicles will be back on London streets Saturday after a seven-week layoff.

Union chiefs heading the 50,000 strikers voted 113 to 15 in favor of ending the walkout. The strikers will vote on the recommendation today.

The leaders huddled for four hours before deciding to recommend acceptance of a "peace" plan advanced by the management of the publicly-owned buses.

The plan would guarantee 36,000 of the strikers a weekly pay rate of eight shillings and sixpence $1.19 already gfanted by arbitrators.

The remaining workers, whose exclusion from the original award caused the strike, would be promised a wage review by July 1.

Greece, Turkey Turn Down British Offer

3-Way Partnership "Fundamentally Unacceptable" in Cyprus, Says Greece

By R. B. MACLURKIN

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain Thursday publicly invited Greece and Turkey to help run her Cyprus colony for seven years and eventually share sovereignty over the island.

Prime Minister Macmillan announced the proposed "adventure of partnership" to a crowded House of Commons and appealed for its acceptance.

But only a few hours later, a Greek government spokesman said in Athens the plan is "fundamentally unacceptable."

Turkish Foreign Minister Fatin Zorlu said in Ankara Thursday night that Turkey cannot accept any proposal on Cyprus which does not contain the final solution of partition of the island.

Macmillan's long-heralded announcement was held up 48 hours while NATO's permanent Council in Paris, acting as conciliator, sought to soften initial hostility to the proposals from Greece and Turkey.

Governor Sir Hugh Foot appealed in a Nicosia broadcast for support of the plan from Cyprus' 400,000 Greek and 100,000 Turkish residents.

HAS SEVEN-YEAR BASE

The plan proposes a seven-year experimental period during which the two communities would elect separate legislatures. These assemblies would have full powers over their respective communal affairs.

Turkey and Greece each would appoint a representative to sit with Foot and help him run the administration. But the governor would have final authority on all matters dealing with internal security, foreign affairs and defence.

Cyprus' Greek community has frowned hitherto on all proposals which stood in the way of Enosis—the island's union with Greece. The terrorist organization EOKA has employed violence to gain the union.

The plan in detail proposes:

1. Rule of the island would rest with the Governor and the Greek and Turkish representatives at his side. But the governor would hold veto powers over external affairs, defence and internal security.

2. The Greek and Turkish communities would have their own elected assemblies with full authority in communal affairs.

3. A council, equivalent to a cabinet, would conduct internal security. Headed by the governor, the council would include the Greek and Turkish representatives and six elected ministers from the two communal assemblies—four Greek Cypriots and two Turkish Cypriots.

4. Greek and Turkish Cypriots would be allowed to choose Greek or Turkish nationality in addition to their status as British nationals.

5. If the plan is approved and violence ceases on the island, Britain would progressively relax emergency regulations to allow the return of those Cypriots now excluded from the island.

This would mean the return to Cyprus of Archbishop Makarios, leader of the Greek community who was deported in March, 1956, and held in detention for 13 months.

Macmillan said if Greece and Turkey accept the "imaginative plan" Britain would be prepared "at the appropriate time" to share sovereignty of Cyprus with them. This would be subject to Britain's retaining military bases required for her international commitments.

Campbell Decision Today?

WINNIPEG (CP) — Premier D. L. Campbell may announce after a Liberal-Progressive caucus Thursday what course he will take as a result of the party's defeat in Monday's general election.

After three consecutive days of post-election cabinet meetings, Mr. Campbell announced Thursday that the caucus will be held.

Only 19 Liberals were elected to the 57-seat legislature as the Progressive Conservatives won 26 seats for the largest block in the House.

Conservative Leader Duff Roblin said he is waiting for constitutional developments before taking any action while CCF Leader Lloyd Stinson announced the CCF will hold a caucus tonight.

With Mr. Stinson and Mr. Roblin avowedly opposed to coalition government as far as their parties are concerned, Mr. Campbell appears to have these choices:

1. He can resign, allowing Lieutenant-Governor J. S. McDiarmid to call on Mr. Roblin to form a government.

2. He can continue in office until his party meets defeat in the legislature, which must be called no later than April 9, 1959.

Inquest Today in Bridge Disaster

VANCOUVER (CP) — An inquest opens today into the deaths of 18 workmen in the disastrous collapse of a partially completed bridge here Tuesday.

Only fourteen bodies have so far been recovered. Divers continued Thursday to search for the other four.

Two more of the 20 injured when the two spans of the bridge collapsed were released after treatment Thursday, leaving 12 still in hospital. A total of 79 men were on two spans of the Second Narrows Bridge, being constructed across the Burrard Inlet four miles east of downtown Vancouver to augment a small road-and-rail span, when the spans crumbled and plunged into the water.

The man who designed the smaller span and the huge Lion's Gate suspension bridge, only other structure across the inlet, will be brought from Montreal to assist in a public inquiry into Tuesday's tragedy.

DOLLAR UNCHANGED

NEW YORK (CP) — The Canadian dollar was unchanged at a premium of 3⅞ in terms of U.S. funds; a week ago 3 27-32 per cent premium. The pound sterling was 3-16 higher at $2.81 3-32.

MONTREAL (CP) — The U.S. dollar closed at a discount of 3¾ per cent in terms of Canadian funds, unchanged. Pound sterling $2.70 9-16, down 3-16.

Emu's "Egg" Too Explosive

MELBOURNE (Reuters) — Jessie, a young emu living at a suburban bird sanctuary has not been allowed to hatch her unusual egg — a fully-primed hand grenade.

Jessie Monday unearthed and began sitting on what her keepers thought was a rusted metal ball. The keeper Thursday looked more closely and discovered that Jessie's happy event was a grenade with the pin still intact.

The "egg" was removed by police in spite of Jessie's protests.

Lebanon Quiet As UN Chief Arrives on Scene

By WILTON WYNN

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Dag Hammarskjold arrived here Thursday on a mission that may determine whether the Western powers intervene directly in Lebanon's rebellion.

The United Nations secretary-general was greeted by the quietest time this troubled country has had in more than a month. Rebel leaders had agreed to hold their fire while he is visiting here. But rebels continued to man trenches and roadblocks in Beirut.

Officially, Hammarskjold was here to confer with the three leaders of a UN observation team ordered by the Security Council to see that arms and men from the neighboring United Arab Republic do not reach the rebels.

But in the past he often has stepped in to settle bitter quarrels.

His central problem was that Lebanon has accused President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic of aiding the rebels.

The government feels that the 50 unarmed UN observers sent here to watch the 150 miles of mountainous border are not equal to the job. Early this week it decided to ask Hammarskjold for a sizeable body of troops similar to the UN force now on guard along the Israeli-Egyptian border.

Some military experts said this might mean a force of up to 5,000 men. Creation of such a force would involve additional action by the Security Council—where the Soviet Union has a veto—or by the UN General Assembly.

WESTERN INTEREST

U.S. State Secretary Dulles has said American troops might be sent to Lebanon in certain conditions. The British government was reported to be ready to join in such a move. Britain has 35,000 troops at nearby Cyprus. Several thousand marines are with the U.S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Both the British and American governments have declared their interest in preserving Lebanon's independence.

Hammarskjold talked briefly with Lebanese officials at the airport when he arrived. Afterward he began his conferences with the UN observation team—Norwegian Maj.-Gen. Odd Bull, former president Galo Plaza Lasso of Ecuador and Rejeswar Dayal, former Indan ambassador to the UN.

There was speculation that after his talks here he may go on to Cairo to see Nasser.

From the rebel side the Druse tribal leader, Kamal Jumblatt, declared he will call for volunteers from all nations "including Communist countries" if there is foreign intervention on the government side. He said his mountaineers will fight any foreign army, "even if it is a United Nations army," that enters Lebanon.

HOPES FOR SUCCESS

Former premier Saeb Salam, chief rebel leader in Beirut, was not so fiery.

"What we know of Hammarskjold's wisdom makes us hope his trip will be fruitful in the interests of peace in Lebanon and the Middle East," he said.

The crisis in this nation of 1,500,000, almost equally divided between Moslems and Christians, started over the efforts of friends of President Camille Chamoun to have the constitution amended so he could succeed himself.

Chamoun has since declared he does not intend to seek re-election, but has spurned rebel demands that he resign before his term ends in September. His opposition comes chiefly from Moslems, among them many nationalists who support Nasser.

NAGY EXECUTION STIRS CAUTION

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan said Thursday the execution of Hungarian ex-premier Imre Nagy and three of his associates "makes us even more cautious" about summit talks with the Soviet Union.

But, Macmillan told the House of Commons, efforts to maintain peace must continue.

"We have to try to keep a balance and do our duty," he said.

In New York, the special United Nations committee on Hungary scheduled a meeting for Saturday to discuss the executions, which have stirred indignation throughout the world.

Ottawa Anti-Dumping Campaign To Begin

OTTAWA (CP) — The revenue department, bolstered by a small new corps of human watchdogs, soon will be declaring open season on dumpers.

No product and no foreign manufacturer will be allowed to escape the government's proposed new anti-dumping laws, authorities said Thursday. The department's scope will be unlimited.

This is to be spelled out in legislation, in the form of an amendment to the Customs Act, to be introduced in the Commons later this session.

The planned change, disclosed in Finance Minister Fleming's budget last Tuesday, is to prevent the flooding of the Canadian market with foreign products sold at such low prices—even below production costs—that no Canadian manufacturer can compete.

Textiles, mainly from the U. S. likely will be the first items scrutinized.

CAN IMPOSE DUTIES

The department will be empowered to slap on dumping duties if it finds that the imported item — on which there is competitive production in Canada—is being sold at a price less than cost and a "reasonable" profit.

This is expected to halt the practice whereby a foreign producer can dump surplus production in Canada rather than flood his home market.

Complaints on low-price imports not only centred on textiles but also on refrigerators, brooms and brushes from the U. S. and other countries. The new legislation will allow the department to scrutinize all products covered in imports running at some $5,600,000,000 a year.

Martin Would Like To See More Hospitals for Chronically Ill

PENTICTON (CP) — Health Minister Martin said Thursday he is "gravely disappointed" that municipalities in B.C. have not shown more interest in providing hospital facilities for the chronically sick.

Addressing the B.C. Old Age Pensioners Organization convention here, he said he called a meeting of community leaders, hospital authorities and others concerned with a chronic hospital program Jan. 16, 1957, in Vancouver.

Since the meeting, "there has been little or nothing done by the communities to provide hospital facilities for chronic treatment.

"We are therefore faced with the fact that if the chronic care plan is commenced there will be insufficient beds to meet the needs of the people requiring treatment and entitled to coverage.

"This is despite the fact that the provincial government has the most generous grant program to be found in all of Canada."

The minister urged the 100 delegates attending the three-day convention to "press forward the urgent need for such facilities" in their communities."

Drought Threatens Crops; Feeding Problem Looms

By BOB TRIMBEE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG (CP) — Drought threatens serious crop losses in Canada's western breadbasket. Hay crops in some areas already are reported almost beyond help.

More than one-half of the west's 70,000,000 cultivated acres are affected. Worst threat is in an area south of a line through Medicine Hat, Alta., Saskatoon and Gimli, Man. However, one bright spot in the picture is that farmlands in most of Alberta and parts of northwestern Saskatchewan hold promise of a good harvest.

Manitoba faces the worst pasture and feed problem since the 1930s. Saskatchewan officials foresee a serious feed problem next winter.

Only a general penetrating rain—almost immediately—can avert a farming tragedy.

DROUGHT IN 1930s

The affected area includes the eastern half of what is called Palliser's Triangle, 28,000,000 acres of semi-arid country stretching from Manitoba to the Rocky Mountain foothills. During the early 1930s this area suffered drought conditions for five consecutive years and scores of farm families left the district.

The triangle is bounded by lines through the old Bow Fort, 50 miles west of Calgary, northeastward to Saskatoon and southeast to the Turtle Mountain country on the Manitoba - Saskatchewan border. The base of the triangle is the international boundary.

Cool weather during the last three weeks and a good supply of subsoil moisture, especially on heavy and summerfallow land, have helped carry crops through the spring drought.

Because most grass and pasturelands in the southern sections have suffered heavily from lack of rain, farmers who have added livestock to avert heavy losses in bad grain years also will be hard hit.

EMERGENCY PLAN

This prompted Saskatchewan officials to put into effect an emergency fodder plan and to ask Prime Minister Diefenbaker what federal aid will be forthcoming.

Manitoba officials were studying the situation in an attempt to find a solution to what they called the worst pasture and feed problem since the 1930s.

A department of agriculture spokesman said hopes are pinned on a general rain which would permit farmers to plant late catch crops such as millet and corn to replace hay.

Without immediate relief there is the prospect of a run on the beef cattle market and a drop in milk production.

WHEN IT COMES to conservation, freckle-faced Karen Stortenbeecher, nine, of King township, Ont., proves that no one is too young to appreciate nature. She prepared a scrapbook on forest fire prevention, proper land use, soil erosion, flood control and preservation of plant and wild life, and won a $75 prize from the Metropolitan Toronto and Region Conservation Authority. B. Harper Bull, authority vice-chairman, presented her with the cheque.

And in This Corner . . .

STURGEON BAY, Wis. (AP)—Farmer Clarence Destree, member of a jury locked up while hearing a murder trial here, got a message from the outside despite the presiding judge's warning against such communications. And he got it from the judge himself.

"In the presence of this entire court," Judge Arnold Murphy said at the end of Wednesday's deliberations, "I want to give a message to Mr. Destree: The cow that was ill is better."

VANCOUVER (CP)—William Campbell, 35, no fixed address, who said he was "burning for the masses" when he set fire to two waterfront lumber piles, was jailed for 18 months Thursday.

Campbell pleaded guilty June 11 to three charges of arson which grew out of a series of fires in waterfront lumber piles belonging to Canada Stevedoring Co. Ltd. May 30 and June 10.

Crown counsel Les Bewley told the court June 11 that Campbell wrote CPR president N. R. Crump saying he was "burning for the masses." He thought the destruction would create work for the unemployed.

A stay of proceedings was entered in a third charge Thursday that he set fire to four CNR boxcars June 10.

Water Safety Week

This is National Water Safety Week.

It is an attempt to educate citizens of Canada in proper safety measures on water—to curb the number of drownings and water accidents which occur every year.

"It seems obvious that only through education and the exercise of common sense can Canada's drowning toll be curbed. Let everyone of us, therefore, resolve now to become familiar with the rules of water safety and do what we can to ensure that these rules are enforced by those who seek health and pleasure in our great outdoors," J. Waldo Monteith, Minister of National Health and Welfare states.

National Water Safety Week is sponsored by the Canadian Red Cross.

Robert Stack New Navy League President

Robert Stack has been elected president of the Nelson branch, Navy League of Canada. He succeeds D. A. Laird, who is leaving the city.

Mr. Stack was elected to office at the league's installation of officers Tuesday, when Mrs. Edna Brown was elected secretary, Mrs. A. E. Murphy, treasurer, and Paul Deakin, chairman of the Sea Cadet Committee.

Lieut. T. Naka, reporting for the commanding officer of the corp, said 31 cadets attended the league through the year, with six officers instructing.

Average attendance was 47 per cent.

Eleven sea cadets will take part in summer training at HMCS Quadra on Vancouver Island in August, Lieut. Naka said.

Lieut. Naka and commanding officer Lieut. Jack Lees will also attend the summer training program.

Cadet plans for next year include gym periods, rifle shooting and movies. Regular training includes seamanship, signals, gunnery and boat work.

The sea cadet annual picnic will be held Monday night, concluding this season's activities.

SPEEDING FINE BASED ONLY ON COURT EVIDENCE

Magistrate William Evans said Wednesday a Nelson man fined $15 for speeding near Kimberley was not penalized on the basis of a police report, but on the word of the accused.

It was reported in the Daily News Wednesday that Arnold L. Bennett was fined $15 and costs for travelling at "speeds up to 70 miles an hour."

However, Magistrate Evans said later there was no evidence to that effect presented in court, just a written communication sent from RCMP Kimberley to the RCMP office here.

Magistrate Evans said the accused pleaded guilty to a speeding charge and then admitted travelling "between 55 and 60 miles an hour."

The penalty was imposed on that basis, Magistrate Evans said.

"I gave the accused the benefit of the doubt," he said.

"If there had been evidence the accused was travelling as fast as 70 miles an hour a heavier penalty would have been imposed," Magistrate Evans said.

RCMP said the communication from their Kimberley office was presented in court after the accused pleaded guilty, and that the communication contained information the arresting contable would have given as evidence under oath, had the accused pleaded not guilty to the charge.

LABOR OBJECTS TO ONTARIO A-G'S RULING

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Labor federation said Wednesday a ruling of the Ontario attorney-general's department in a case dealing with racial discrimination in a Chatham beverage room has undermined the Fair Accommodations Practices Act.

The OFL's fair practices committee said it was shocked to learn the labor department dismissed complaints by three Negro women that a waiter had refused them service in the Montreal Public House.

The committee said the charge was withdrawn after the attorney-general's department ruled it was ineffective because the women had not spoken directly to the hotel owner.

The OFL urged the labor department to reopen the case and either establish a commission to conduct a public hearing or have the attorney - general's department institute court action.

Renovated Scout Hall Inspected by Parents

Knotty spruce and knotty cedar panelling line the newly-renovated Scout Hall kitchen and refreshment centre for which open house was held Thursday evening.

With tearing out started in February of this year, serious work on remodelling of the dingy downstairs kitchen and hallway started in mid-April. Fathers of Cubs and Scouts and Mothers Auxiliaries of Brownies, Guides, Cubs and Scouts all contributed to the transformation.

Many Nelson firms gave the materials used, skilled labor was donated and the gas stove, replacing the old stove, was also a gift. The only articles not donated were the floor, sink and ventilating fan above the stove.

The flooring and beams underneath the old kitchen area were rotten and were replaced by new six-by-sixes.

Fathers did all the labor and the resulting room is a plessant work centre with shellac and clear varnish brightening the natural panelling on ceiling and walls. There are three lighting outlets in the ceiling. The floor is of brown pattern inlaid linoleum and the sink-tops are finished in light blue arborite with anodized molding trim.

A feature of the remodelling not noticed by most people using the hall is the use of the old chimney as a ventilation outlet for supports under the floor, to prevent rotting.

Another job has loomed up with the gradual disintegration of the edge of the floor in another part of the hall. Fathers Thursday night were casting dubious glances in this direction, knowing it will have to be fixed.

KIWANIANS NAME TEAMS

Kiwanis club members concentrated on arrangements for their annual peanut drive at their weekly dinner at the Hume Thursday night.

Andrew Russell is chairman and team captains are C. F. Banner, W. B. Christie, Frank Eberle and L. D. Nicholson. Proceeds will go towards an oxygen tent which the club recently presented to Kootenay Lake General Hospital.

B. D. Balderston reported he had presented the Kiwanis award to Miss Anne Radulovich at the recent graduation exercises of L. V. Rogers high school. Miss Radulovich won the prize for attaining highest year's average in the Grade XI general program.

SHORT INTEREST CLIMBS HIGH

NEW YORK (AP)—The short sellers, folks who hope the stock market will go down, made history on Wall Street Wednesday.

The New York Stock Exchange reported that their short interest climbed to the highest level since the exchange began keeping records 27 years ago.

Stocks sold short have been borrowed and then sold in anticipation they can be bought back later at a lower price. In this way the investor can return the stock to the lender at a profit.

Short interest has climbed steadily in recent months, and so far it generally has been money on the wrong horse as the market has advanced to record highs for 1958 in the last few sessions.

The exchange reported short interest totalled 5,795,105 shares June 13 compared with 5,472,027 shares May 15. As recently as January, the total was but 2,800,000 shares.

Juveniles Fined For Loitering

Two juveniles were fined $20 each for "unlawfully loitering and prowling at night near a dwelling house" in juvenile court Thursday. Stipendiary Magistrate William Evans presided.

Court was told that a 17-year-old Vancouver boy and a 16-year-old Salmo boy, both employed here, annoyed two young girls until they became hysterical. The girls, who were baby sitting, called the city police after the boys shook a screen door until the catch came off, then entered the house. They also removed a screen from a window and switched the porch ligh on and off. The boys said they were trying to get the girls to go out on a date with them.

Red Cross Fund Reaches $6400

If Canadians had to pay for their blood transfusions, as in other countries, the 517 pints of blood donated in Nelson recently would have a value of $23,265.

This fact was pointed out at the conclusion of Nelson's Red Cross campaign, which netted $1100 less than the quota hoped for. The amount of $6400 was collected during the drive and $7500 was the target. Albert Maida, chairman of the Nelson campaign, said Thursday that anyone not yet having their donation to the drive collected, could leave their contribution at his office or mail it to him.

It is hoped to reach the quota with the addition of late contributions.

DRIVE CAREFULLY ON HOLIDAY, WARNS CHIEF

Police Chief Robert Harshaw said Thursday his idea of good news is an accident-free weekend, and urged motorists to drive with caution over the Dominion Day holiday.

Unrestricted speed that scoffs at regulations and disregards weather and road conditions can bring disaster, he warned.

Chief Harshaw offered these rules for safe motoring:

—On long trips stop every two hours, walk around the car, or have a cup of coffee, to keep alert.

—Be courteous towards other motorists and pedestrians, watch for children, elderly people, and animals on the loose.

—When you feel overtired let someone else drive, or, if you are alone, park off the highway and have a nap.

—Start early in the morning and call it a night before dusk.

"Have a very pleasant trip and come back alive," Chief Harshaw concluded.

Senior Citizens Have Outing

Nelson Recreation Commission recently sponsored a day's outing for the Senior Citizens Club, with 35 members enjoying a scenic bus trip to Slocan City.

Other highlights of the day were dinner at the Lord Nelson Dining Room on returning from their tour and an evening's entertainment in the Civic Centre club room.

This event was the windup of the year's activities for the group, which has been meeting regularly and using the club room at the Civic for relaxation and a bit of social life.

Meetings will be resumed in September and members of the club voiced the hope that any senior citizens will feel welcome to take part in the club's activities at that time.

Mrs. P. Wirstiuk Passes at 62

A Nelson resident in 1912 and since 1920, Mrs. Peter (Mary) Wirstiuk of the Silver King Road, died in Kootenay Lake General Hospital Thursday at the age of 62.

Fire Prevention New Theme of Department

Fire loss in Nelson during May totalled $2063. Of this, $2000 was damage following an explosion at the bus depot.

In a report to City Council Wednesday night, fire chief E. S. Owens said his department responded to 10 fire calls in the city in May, and two calls outside city limits.

The value of property exposed to fire within the city amounted to $1,627,275, Chief Owens said.

"The emphasis on fire extinguishment in this department has changed to fire prevention," Chief Owens stated in his report. "It is no longer a distinction to boast of the number of fire runs, or the biggest fire. Each man in the department will get a great deal of satisfaction out of knowing that our fire checks are producing concrete results, for his friends and our citizens, not only by the reduction in the money losses, but also that our efforts are instrumental in holding fire insurance rates to a minimum."

During May four business establishment-employees and the Sisters of St. Joseph Academy were instructed in the use of first aid fire extinguishers.

Eight school classes of children were guest visitors at the fire station.

School fire drills were conducted three and four times at all city schools.

The children evacuated the buildings in the following times:

Central School — 570 pupils — one minute and 18 seconds.

Junior High School — 592 pupils — one minute and 15 seconds.

Hume School — 410 pupils — one minute and 20 seconds.

Separate School — 260 pupils — 39 seconds.

L. V. Rogers High School — 470 pupils — one minute and 48 seconds.

Gordon Webb of Nelson, a man with many hobbies, presented a 24-foot totem pole to the city as "a token of my appreciation to the city I came to 10 years ago." Mr. Webb, who has carved the pole himself, offered it for placement in Lakeside Park.

Council accepted the presentation and offered Mr. Webb assistance in erecting the totem pole.

Absent Wife Can Claim Small Estate

TORONTO (CP) — A woman who left her husband 26 years ago stands to collect his $2,260 estate—if she can be found.

Alexander Samuel Stokes, a Hamilton welder, married in Winnipeg in 1932. He left his wife Alicia three days later to homestead in Fairview, Alta.

His wife joined him when he was settled but left four days later. She hasn't been heard of since.

Mr. Stokes died in Hamilton in May, 1955, after a car accident, without leaving a will.

William Screiber, counsel for the National Trust Company of Hamilton, administrator of the estate of $2,260, told Mr. Justice R. I. Ferguson in weekly court that Mrs. Stokes will receive everything if she is found.

If she can't, the money will be divided among 13 surviving next-of-kin, all in Western Canada.

Board Told Rail Service to Coast Uneconomical

The CPR legal department has advised the Kootenay Lake General Hospital board that rail diesel car service in this area was inaugurated because the Vancouver to Medicine Hat service was uneconomical.

A copy of a letter sent from the legal department to the Board of Transport Commissioners was received here by the hospital board which had protested inadequate rail service for patients.

It had been suggested patients be transported by ambulance because sick patients are not allowed to ride by rail with other passengers.

Hospital board members explained the cost of transportation by ambulance is exorbitant.

Pay Increases Granted Hospital Heads

The Kootenay Lake General Hospital board Tuesday night authorized pay increases for department heads, to keep salaries in line with 1958 increases granted nurses and lay earlier this year.

The increases granted so far, not yet included in 1958 estimates, have accounted for nearly half the $7549 deficit reported for the year to date, it was stated.

Most of the remainder of the deficit is the result of the adjustment made for occupancy in excess of estimates, treasurer A. K. McAdams said.

Receipts so far this year have amounted to $10,897.

Hospital administrator R. H. Procter, now in eastern Canada attending an administrative course, briefly outlined the proposed federal hospital insurance scheme, in a letter report to the board meeting.

A statistical report sumitted for the month of May stated opening of the new Castlegar hospital has had an effect on occupancy at Kootenay Lake General Hospital.

There were 150 fewer patient days during May this year as compared with the corresponding period last year. Nowborn days dropped by 85 for the comparable months.

A total of 242 patients were admitted to hospital during the past month, compared with 293 during May last year, while 272 patients were discharged last month, as compared with 303 during May, 1957.

Cattle Port For East Kootenay Livestock Producers Considered

CRANBROOK—Possibility of establishment by United States interests of a cattle port at Kingsgate was reported to the June meeting of the Cranbrook Farmers' Institute. At present, livestock producers of East Kootenay ship their animals to the Calgary market, where American interests have been buying them and shipping them to the United States, which involves costly extra transportation.

Land purchase applications approved by the meeting were H. C. Gatine of Fort Steele for 240 acres, A. G. MacFarlane for extension of his present holdings four miles south of Cranbrook, and Peter Kusz for 80 acres five miles northeast of Lumberton for a homestead and Christmas tree farm.

District 1 Central Institute board member Ken Miles, reported to the meeting highlights of the proceedings of the annual spring convention of the Central, and said the Game Commission had agreed to continue its gopher poisoning program this season, earnestly requested by the Central. Farm operators may make direct application to the Game Commission office for this service which was started last year Mr. Miles has been appointed secretary of the Cranbrook Institute board of directors.

L. G. Pippen of Mayook and O. W. Higgins of Fort Steele reported the university extension short courses for farmers in East Kootenay recently had been successful and were particularly pleased with the course dealing with poultry raising.

Plans of a private veterinarian to establish an East Kootenay practice with Creston headquarters were reported at the meeting, though the veterinarian was not named. His plans call for scheduled professional visits in other East Kootenay points. The Cranbrook Institute is continuing its solicitations for a resident East Kootenay provincial government veterinarian.

Annual Institute picnic Sunday at Peckham's Lake for members, their families and guests will conclude the spring season. Participating parties will bring their own lunches, and ice cream and pop will be availabe, while races and competitions have been arranged for the children attending.

The Institute will not resume its regular meetings until Sept. 13.

Dog Tax Can Be Levied Fruitvale Finds

FRUITVALE — Commissioner Alfred Nuttall reported to the Fruitvale Village Commissioners that the oiling of village roads had been completed and that in spite of the heavy rain in the evening after only minor damage had been done.

Commissioner Arthur Borrow, Parks Board Committee, reported that his committee was working with the local Centennial Committee in the construction of their project, a wading pool at the Hillcrest-Nelson Avenue Park. Balance of their Centennial funds, he said, was being used to level more of the Recreation Park.

Two plans of subdivisions were presented and one, that of Carter-Uhrich subdivision, received final approval. The other one, presented by A. Quatrin, needs a letter from the property owners on the remaining portion of Block 92, giving their consent to the continuation of the alley which he has mapped on his area, if and when the alley is completed.

A delegation from the Montrose Council attended last meeting to discuss with the Fruitvale Council the proposed B.C. Telephone increases. The commisisoners felt that this area should be included in the Trail Exchange, eliminating tolls, on same principle as Rossland. A poll of public opinion is being sought on this before the councils present their petition to the B.C. Telephone Co. for the change.

The clerk reported receipt of a letter from the Department of Municipal Affairs in reply to theirs asking what powers the Village Council had in levying of dog taxes and the need of a pound. The letter informed the commissioners they were within their rights to levy a dog tax, with power to prosecute if not complied with. There is nothing in the new Municipal Act stating that a dog-pound was needed before collecting of the dog tax.

Four building permits were approved. A new Full Gospel Church, valued at $10,000, was approved and another for a new home, valued at $8000. The other two were for renovation and completion of the changes being made at the Firehall to house their new fire engine expected shortly.

Suffocation Caused Deaths Of Boys, Inquiry Decides

CRANBROOK — Suffocation by sand resulted in the deaths last Friday of two 15-year-old Cranbrook boys, according to a coroner's inquiry, now nearing completion.

They were Robert Wesley Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Scott, and Allan Cervo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Cervo, who live a mile from Cranbrook above Moir Park. Eleven-year-old Jerome Scott survived when he was submerged to the neck in the same slide from a privately owned sand and gravel pit in which the three were tunnelling.

The boys had left their homes about 5 p.m. The Scott parents were at Creston and the Cervo parents after some search that evening concluded the boys had gone to an overnight cabin, fishing. At about 8 Saturday morning, Carl Fajtl and Don Pretty pulled a truck into the sand pit slightly off the main road for loading and were horrified to see Jerome's head above the sand. He was only semi-conscious by then and in a state of shock and hysteria, unable to move any limb, buried in the tons of sand. They dug him out, commandeered assistance and a foot below the smooth surface o fthe sand located in minutes the bodies of the two older boys.

They had apparently been kneeling and tunnelling with machetes into the sand bank when it quietly subsided onto them, flattening one boy face down, machete still in hand, and the other boy backward.

Jerome's condition has prevented obtaining a statement from him up to today, though he is reported improving. Robert Wesley Scott was born in Lethbridge and the family settled here in 1944. Five brothers and two sisters survive him beside his parents. Allan Cervo was born at Blairmore and has lived here since 1952. His parents and three brothers and four sisters survive him.

A View on the Tourist Problem From the Atlantic Coast

Some interesting points were made recently in a letter to the editor of the Canadian Tourist Association magazine "Tourism", because it reflects some aspects of tourism at least compatible to this area, we are publishing the letter verbatim:

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:
Canadian Tourist Association,
King Edward Sheraton Hotel,
Toronto, Ontario.

Dear Sirs:

Having travelled fourteen countries in as many years, I returned to the Atlantic provinces to find, amazingly, that while the people of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland talk, talk and talk about the benefits of the tourist industry, they fail to take sufficient action in providing attractive facilities for the motoring vacationist so he will stay, spend his money and return the following year.

It would seem the people are content to rest on God's laurels. They point to the scenery, the ocean, the lakes and rivers and sit back in the comfort of their homes while, in the main, travelling families from other parts of Canada, the U.S. or Europe search in vain for a tidy, clean restaurant to enjoy a succulent lobster, fish chowder or slice of fresh salmon.

Tourists are simple folks and so are their wants. They like good beds; exciting food and a drink occasionally. Other than in name hotels, and a few other spots, the Atlantic provinces do not provide these essentials. Their major interests in the tourist is his wallet. There is no accentuated lack of friendliness or courtesy, but it is all disjointed and unorganized and particularly thoughtless regarding the comforts and pleasures of the visitor.

In this day and age, the tourist who wants beer, wine or "hard likker" with his food, before a meal or after the meal, is not considered an alcoholic.

Yet in fascinating Prince Edward Island a tourist must buy drink from a government vendor. There is no place to buy one drink for refreshment.

In Nova Scotia there are taverns of a type but of no interest to the person who wants comfort—and nothing beyond beer is served. Although beer and wine may be purchased with a meal in some hotels, women are not allowed to accompany their husbands. Government stores of course, supply liquor.

In New Brunswick the government store is the only source of liquor. Newfoundland has the most intelligent system with government stores, bars and nightclubs, although the ration is three quarts per person a week.

This general system is medieval. The narrow-gutted few eliminate, in a large degree, a comfort and facility that could help the tourist industry so much. Drinking behind drawn curtains is mainly the system which allows the bootlegger to prosper. As long as the bulk of Atlantic provinces' people sit by and allow such antiquated systems to continue they deal a deadly blow to their tourist industry. Their alleged virtue becomes sickening.

The lure of the provinces on the Atlantic is tremendous but visitors want to fish, swim, enjoy yachting, see the ocean, eat lobster, fresh haddock, clams and oysters fresh out of the water and nicely served. They like dancing and the joy of a drink. But although governments down that way know these things, and spend money to draw visitors, when tourists arrive they find little more than scenery. Isn't it time someone had the courage to attack this barnacled problem with twentieth century heart and wisdom?

JOHN HAVELOCK.

Canada Faces A Bigger Work Load

There are intimations that President Eisenhower will propose promotion of Canada to full-scale partnership with the United States in matters of defence when he visits Ottawa next month.

It is suggested that this country now has sufficient population which, matched with its resources, its industrial and technological capabilities and its geographical importance, entitles it to a greater position of authority among leading nations of the free world.

In some respects this should give the people of Canada cause for gratification. It is always flattering to be recognized as being of some importance.

At the same time Canadians should not let this proposal, if and when it is made, go to their heads. For one thing it implies new and considerable responsibilities.

Hitherto Canada has been able to criticize the international policies of the U.S. and remain independent of those with which she disagreed. Under the new arrrangement she would be expected to share the making of continental and free world policies and be tied to them. She would likely also share in financial and trade commitments which are of growing importance in the face of Russian economic penetration of world markets. We should not make the mistake of thinking that the United States would make a proposal of this nature out of sentimental generosity towards a likeable little neighbor. If this nation is invited to enter partnership with the U.S., Britain and France as a fully qualified member of a new "Big Four" Western power alliance, it will be because we rate the position through merit, and not by way of philanthropy. Still, with greater status comes greater responsibility.

This is not said to depreciate in any way the message which President Eisenhower may bring in July. Nor is it for a moment suggested that we should immediately try to set the pace of cold war negotiations or assume a posture of importance beyond our actual condition.

In effect such a partnership as is envisaged is but an extension of the role we have been playing already in an economic and political sense. Closer collaboration with us is required by the U.S. in terms of continental defence. They need us and we need them. We should get along fine providing we have our share of the say in the shaping of major matters.—Calgary Herald.

Interpreting the News

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Finance Minister Fleming's full budget may bear greatest significance in its snowballing impact on the economy.

Its tone is protectionistic. Its attitude is one of making the safety of home industry the government's first consideration. It appears to throttle some of the spirit of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade and chant a requiem for Britain's proposed free trade with Canada.

This mood may be heartening to Canadian manufacturers, particularly those who face ever-increasing competition from a host of foreign producers in the Canadian market. In a world of economic recession, competition tends to become more intense and vicious.

CONSUMER MAY PAY

The policy outlined by Mr. Fleming of hardening Canada's anti-dumping laws may eventually lead to an expansion of home industry and the creation of more jobs for a swelling labor force.

But it also may lead to higher consumer prices and perhaps a new spiral of inflation as workers strive to seek more pay to meet higher living costs.

Mr. Fleming warned in his budget that Canada was becoming a high-cost economy, tending to price herself out of world markets. But his budget does nothing to reduce those costs.

The chief problem facing any government bent on increasing protection for home industry is the bitterness among foreign competitors that may result.

WOOL, STEEL PROTECTED

Mr. Fleming has boosted the tariff on wool cloth coming from Britain and says he plans to raise it on imports from Italy and other countries. He has increased protection for Canadian steel producers as well as parts of the zinc and pipe and tube industries.

He intends to renegotiate tariffs on fresh fruits and vegetables with the United States and has asked the tariff board to recommend whether the rates should be changed on rubber footwear coming mainly from Hong Kong, Japan and other Asian outlets.

The board is to be kept busy, just as the tariff commission is kept busy in the U.S. Before the Canadian board are studies into textiles. After that will come possible revisions in rates on chemicals, radio and television sets and other products.

OLD POLICY REVIVED

But by far the most significant move is the Progressive Conservative plan to demand that all products coming into Canada bear a price that covers not only production costs but also profit.

It will not matter if a manufacturer decides to get rid of his production at a loss in his home market and at the same price in Canada too. He will have to up the price in Canada or face federal dumping duties.

This policy was imposed by the previous Conservative government in 1930-35. The victorious Liberals shelved it in 1936. It was eliminated altogether in 1948 when GATT, the instrument to free world trade, was developed.

It now seems the Progressive Conservatives don't hold too much faith in prospects for freer world trade, though they have stated they will stand by Canada's agreements.

Wasted Words

One of the remarkable differences between Britons and North Americans is the capacity of literate Britons to express themselves well, clearly and often graciously.

In Canada and the U.S. most people are very stumbling and bumbling at putting words into coherent sentences and paragraphs.

The millions upon millions of secretarial hours, and the truckloads of paper, wasted because so many executives are unable to dictate a passable letter or memo is appalling.

Here is an example. A prominent American was asked if he yet sees a start toward economic revival. He replied:

"Well, I say this. There is certain of the little, of the indices that look that way, but just as one swallow doesn't make a summer, I am certainly not going to take, show that a slacking off of the new applications for unemployment insurance and all that sort of thing, that those do not yet, to my mind, warrant a flat prediction that now we are on the upper leg. I want to see a few more things happen. I say that we are weathering it well, and I believe, of course, that the prior boom had a great deal, had a lot to do with the recession. Now I think it has largely spent its force. I certainly pray so."

The speaker: President Eisenhower. The source: The tape recorded report of a recent press conference.—Financial Post.

Washington Plans New-Lead-Zinc Subsidy Payments

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government came up Thursday with a new plan for subsidy payments to domestic producers of lead and zinc. It would give smaller producers higher payments than the administration originally recommended to Congress April 28.

Interior Secretary Fred Seaton said the new proposal is primarily intended to maintain a healthy level of activity among the smaller mines.

Seaton said the change represented adoption of a formula suggested by Senator Gordon L. Allott (Rep. Colo.). The secretary said a major consideration was "the fact that the small mine is a necessary and vital part of the development of our minerals industry."

He also urged the Senate interior committee to approve the recently-announced copper stockpile purchase program in lieu of the original proposal for a subsidy to producers. This calls for purchase of 150,000 short tons of refined copper at a market price not exceeding 27½ cents a pound.

Teacher Not To Blame For Pupils' Views

HANOVER, N.J. (AP) — The Hanover Park regional school board, ruling that a teacher cannot be punished for what her students think, has asked LeMoyne Goodman to return to her teaching job next fall.

The board's decision Wednesday night climaxed a controversy that erupted when the 26-year-old teacher published three student essays in the local high school monthly publication.

The essays, selected from a group of about 60 written by Miss Goodman's English class, were highly critical of the atom bombing of Hiroshima.

They were written after the students had read Hiroshima, John Hersey's Pulitzer Prize-winning book.

Veterans groups, infuriated by the essays, demanded that Miss Goodman be ousted from the school system. They said she had influenced her students to write as they did.

She offered to resigned but the board refused to accept the offer pending an investigation.

The board stated:

"It is our duty as educators to teach our students how to think by presenting all the facets of a problem and challenging their minds into making free decisions —not to teach them what to think."

Pupils' Views On Everyday Things Worth Preserving

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — "Arms are to hold your hands on."

"Eyebrows are something women shave off."

"Little stones are big rocks chopped up."

These words are the freshest words of all for they came from the mouths of babes.

Helen G. Meyers, supervisor of elementary education here, was captivated by the talk and writings of first graders — uninhibited, cliche-free and straight to the point.

EARS ARE TO WIGGLE

Over a two-year period she collected the youngsters' descriptions of everyday things.

Among them:

"Cats are for dogs to chase."

"Dogs are made to like people."

"A dream is something you think when you're asleep."

"Ears are something that big people put hearing things on."

"Ears are to wiggle."

"A face is a thing that holds your head and hair in place."

"Ground is to grow sassy."

HAT IS FOR RABBITS

"A hat is for magicians to take rabbits out of."

"Mountains are a place that's hard to go up but easy to come down."

"A mustache is something old men get."

"A mustache is something else to wash."

"A package is something to say, 'Yoo hoo! Look what I got.'"

"The world is where you jump up in the air and always come down again."

"The world is something to come down to after you've been up in space."

PROCTER — A wedding of interest to Nelson and district took place in East Trail United Church, Trail when Iris Joyce Gawley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gawley of Trail, was united in marriage with John Renzie, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Renzie of Procter.

Rev. Stone officiated at the pretty double ring ceremony Saturday afternoon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in her floor length gown of white taffeta with full crinoline skirt and fitted bodice buttoned down the back, scoop neckline and lily-point sleeves. Her shoulder length circular veil was held in place by a tiny coronet, and she carried a bouquet of carnations and blue iris, iris being her namesake.

The bridesmaid was the bride's sister, Carol Gawley and the matron of honor was Mrs. J. Donaldson of Nelson, sister of the groom, both in identical gowns of pale blue taffeta, with full skirted crinolines in ballerina length.

Two little flower girls, cousins of the bride were Judy Fryer and Diane Fryer. They were alike in pale blue taffeta dresses and carried flowers in crocheted baskets made by the bride's grandmother.

The bride's mother wore a blue suit with white accessories and the groom's mother chose a blue dress also with white accessories. Their corsages were pink rosebuds.

Groomsmen were J. E. Donaldson, brother-in-law of the groom, and William Crispin. Ushers were the bride and groom's brothers, Dean Renzie and Wayne Gawley.

200 AT RECEPTION

A reception for 200 guests was held at the East Trail Guide Hall. Guests from Salmon Arm and Nelson attended. Ones from this district included Mr. and Mrs. William Andrusiak of Riondel, Kenneth Carlson of Balfour, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Donaldson, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Donaldson and Mrs. J. Horvath of Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. John Renzie Sr., Mr. and Mrs. William Henke, Mr. and Mrs. J. Mucha, Mrs. M. McMullin, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Fitchett, Ronald Garner, John Dvorak, T. Taylor, Herbert Fitchett, Bert Donaldson and M. Sokolosky all of Procter, Ben Creasey, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Fitchett, Mr. and Mrs. A. Yaworski of Harrop, and Mrs. C. E. McGeorge of St. Catharines, Ont.

Featured at the reception was a three-tiered wedding cake, baked by the bride's mother. Grace was said by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Gawley. The bride's uncle, Lester Fryer proposed the toast to the bride, the groom responding.

Guests at the reception danced to the piano playing of Bert Fitchett, long-time friend of the groom.

For her honeymoon trip to Barkerville, and points in Alberta, Mrs. Renzie chose a white suit with blue accessories. Upon their return the young couple will reside in Trail where both the bride and groom are employed.

Liz To Be Film Producer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In her first public appearance since the death of her husband, Mike Todd, Elizabeth Taylor faced the press to announce her debut as a film producer.

Flanked by her co-producer Mike Todd Jr., Liz said her next film will be Busman's Holiday.

Young Todd, who took over the reins of his father's company after the latter's death in a spring plane crash, presided at a cross-country press conference, linked by a special telephone circuit to other cities. Like his father, he smoked a long cigar as he spoke.

Todd said the new film will be shot in a new process named after his father.

Liz will portray a beauty queen contestant "for which she is perfectly well qualified," in Busman's Holiday.

He added that his step-mother will sing one song, "Make Mine Love".

Liz remarked: "I'll have to record it in the bath tub." She said she has sung before, "when I was young."

The actress was wearing a huge diamond ring that Todd had given her. Asked for the number of carats, she replied: "Twenty-nine and seven-eighths. Mike always said 30 would have been vulgar."

Fleming Asks Brokers To Boost Bond Issues

MURRAY BAY, Que. (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming Thursday called for full co-operation from Canada's investment dealers in government plans to raise a record $3,400,000,000 in bond issues this year.

"I appeal to your patriotism as well as your good business sense in seeking your co-operation," he said in an address before the Investment Dealers Association.

"The raising of a total of approximately $3,400,000,000 by the sale of bonds or other securities is indeed a formidable undertaking. We hope to do it without causing an undue strain upon the financial resources of the Canadian investment market and with due consideration of the needs of provinces, municipalities and business in the same market.

"Moreover, the policy of the government has naturally been to seek to do its financing at the most favorable interest rates."

PLAN PERIODIC ISSUES

Mr. Fleming said the government will be going to the market with large -scale bond issues roughly almost every three months, seeking to float as many long-term bonds as possible.

"I recognize that the large-scale placement of long - term bonds has been more difficult than money market operations in recent years for a wide variety of reasons but we must not shy away from a desirable course simply because it is a difficult course to follow."

He expected also to achieve a new high floating of new Canada Savings Bond issues next fall, exceeding the previous high of $1,217,000,000 sold last year.

URGES FULL EFFORT

In all of the complex financing needed to cover an estimated peacetime record budget deficit of $648,000,000, new federal loans and maturing issues, "I urge you to bring the full weight of your ingenuity and experience to bear on the challenge confronting us."

". . .I invite you to become full partners in the formulation and execution of a debt management program which will enable us to build Canada's glowing future on a solid foundation. . . ."

His statements were included in the text of his speech issued to the press before delivery.

Russia Protests To Denmark

LONDON (Reuters) — Russia has protested to Denmark over a demonstration in front of the Soviet Embassy in Copenhagen following the execution of former Hungarian premier Imre Nagy.

The Soviet news agency Tass said Thursday Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko had summoned Danish Ambassador A. Moerch to make the formal protest.

The Tass statement said police who came to the embassy did not take action against the demonstrators.

The Danish government has already expressed its regrets for the incident on Tuesday when Danish and Hungarian refugee students broke several windows in the Soviet Embassy.

Market Trends

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market Thursday took its worst setback since May 14 as a late wave of selling did most of the damage to prices.

The quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange fell an estimated $1,929,000,000 based on the fall in the Associated Press average.

The worst losses were taken in the final half hour. The ticker tape fell behind the pace of transactions by a minute for the final four minutes of trading.

Key stocks fell from fractions to 2 points or more.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped $1.50 to $173.20.

Canadian issues were also beaten down. Canadian Pacific railway fell 1¼ to close at 27, International Nickel lost 1 ... and closed at 79 and Aluminium Ltd., ahead ⅛ in early trading, was off ⅛ at the close. Hudson Bay Mining dropped ¾, Distillers-Seagrams a point and Granby Mining ¼. McIntyre Porcupine gain ½ and Dome Mines was ahead ⅛.

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market suffered its sharpest drop this year Thursday in moderate trading.

It was the first session this year that all four groups have been down over one index point at the same time.

Final volume of 3,706,000 shares was slightly heavier than Wednesday's 3,306,000.

Heaviest losers were Loblaw Inc, down 4, at 111, Ford A, 2¾ at 83¾ and Imperial Oil, off 1 at 44.

Senior mines, headed by International Nickel, a 1½ loser at 75½, were down throughout the session. Coppers dipped as Gaspe eased 2 at 27, Opemiska was off 35 at $8.50 and Campbell Chibougamau, 30 cents at $5.50. Uraniums also were off with Consolidated Denison losing ½ at 15¼ and Gunnar ⅜ at 19.

Golds were down in a solid line. McIntyre was about the only winner adding ¼ at 80. Losses were fractional among western oils but most of the index issues were off.

MONTREAL (CP) — The market made a strong start Thursday then closed weaker after fairly active trading on the Montreal and Canadian Stock Exchanges.

Even the banks ran out of steam, generally closing near Wednesday's levels. Bank of Montreal was at 46½, a loss of ¼ after hitting 47¾ this morning.

Changes in the utilities were mixed in small fractions but most other industrial groups were down.

Big losers were BA Oil, down 1¾ at 41⅛ and International Nickel at 75, down 2. Seagrams took a ⅞ drop at 28⅜.

Producing mines and western oils also eased. Central Del Rio dipped 25 cents to 8.20 and Opemiska Copper at 8.55 was down 40 cents.

In mixed speculative issues, Standard Gold climbed 9 cents to 20 and Radiore slid 15 cents to 57. Changes generally ranged to 4 cents.

Closing averages: banks up .07 at a new high of 51.18, utilities up .7 at a new high of 143.1, industrials off 1.9 at 262.5, combined off 1 at 222.7, papers off .4 at 375.3 and golds off .42 at 74.56.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Sandra Giles apparently has an over-enthusiastic fan. She told police Wednesday that someone broke into her apartment and stole 75 photographs of her.

NES Counselling Course Will Aid Handicapped

The women help to find jobs for physically and mentally handicapped persons, and give guidance in careers to young people.

Taking the course are: Georgia Porter, Winnipeg; Twyyla Lewis, Ottawa; Ruth Martinsen, New Westminster, B.C.; Kay Lafrance and Mary Mack, Toronto, and Lillian Johnson, Vancouver.

Toronto — Mrs. Elizabeth Melbourne Brewing, wife of the Very Rev. Willard Brewing, former moderator of the United Church of Canada.

Guildford, England—Sir Arnold Stott, 72, extra physician to the Queen's household.

Two Serious Accidents, Hope-Princeton Area

HOPE (CP) — Two separate traffic accidents in the Hope area in 24 hours resulted in the death of one woman, injury to more than a dozen others, and a charge of driving without due care and attention being laid against a bus driver.

The fatal accident occurred six miles east of Hope Wednesday afternoon, while the bus accident happened shortly after midnight Thursday three miles west of Hope. No one was seriously hurt when the bus crashed into the rear of a loaded semi-trailer truck.

Killed Wednesday when the car in which she was riding crashed off the Hope-Princeton highway was Mrs. Helen Smook of Vancouver.

Her husband, John Edward Smook, is in serious condition in Chilliwack hospital with head injuries, while her mother, Mrs. Theresa Osterman of Richmond, was less seriously hurt.

The car plunged over a 30 or 40-foot bank and Mrs. Osterman is reported to have crawled back to the highway to flag down another car to get assistance for her daughter and son-in-law. Cause of the accident was not immediately known.

The bus driver, Burpee Bardfield Wickham, of Penticton, was charged with driving without due care and attention after his eastbound bus crashed into the rear of the trailer-truck as it was proceeding slowly up a grade.

Truck driver John Krausher of Kamloops was knocked unconscious by the impact and his 18-ton load of flour and molasses spilled out over the highway.

Fifteen of the 20 passengers aboard the bus, as well as Wickham and Krausher, were injured but only two women—Mrs. Edna Rudland, 34, of Kelowna, and Mrs. Mabel Crowther, 67, of Vancouver—remained in hospital. They were not seriously hurt.

Damage resulting from the crash is expected to total more than $20,000.

Highway crews first sanded the road where the flour and molasses had spilled from the damaged truck. Water was used later to flush the sticky mess from the road.

Britain Cuts Bank Rate

LONDON (CP) — Britain's bank rate, which sets the price at which the Bank of England makes money available for loans to other banks, was reduced to five per cent from 5½ today.

The move was another notch on the tight control valve holding back Britain's spending.

It was the third cautious cut since the bank rate was thrown up to a prohibitive seven per cent last September to help fight the crisis caused by the plunging value of British currency.

The rate was cut to six per cent March 20, then to 5½ per cent May 22.

Thousands Cross Old Bridge To View Wreckage

VANCOUVER (CP)—The old Second Narrows Bridge had the busiest day in its history Wednesday as thousands of persons drove across to see the wreckage of the new Second Narrows Bridge which collapsed the day before.

The toll gate on the bridge reported a record 21,000 cars paid 20 cents each to cross the old span, which was to have been replaced by the new $16,000,000 bridge.

The total was at least 4,000 more than the busiest average week-day. The day the bridge collapsed, 15,000 cars crossed its older neighbor despite a two-hour shutdown at the peak of the evening rush hour to allow ambulances to pick up the 18 dead and 20 injured.

The toll keepers said the curious would likely swell the number of cars crossing to about 19,000 Thursday.

Downing Street Residence Declared Unsafe

LONDON (Reuters) — The 10 Downing Street residence of Britain's prime ministers is structurally unsound and a fire hazard, a government committee reported Thursday.

The committee declared: "We have therefore reached the conclusion that the Downing Street houses need a thorough structural overhaul."

The report said Prime Minister Macmillan and Chancellor of the Exchequer Derek Heathcoat Amory—who lives at Number 11—should no longer use the buildings, which are "structurally unsound and where the risk of fire is substantial."

The committee, headed by the Earl of Crawford and Balcarres, recommended that preliminary surveys on reconstruction should begin at once and that building work should start "as soon as alternative arrangements can be made for housing the present occupants."

Ten, 11 and 12 Downing Street are the only remaining houses in a square of private houses built in the late 17th century by the son of a London barrister, Sir George Downing.

Years later the property passed into the hands of the Crown and George II offered 10 Downing Street as a personal gift to Prime Minister Sir Robert Walpole. Walpole declined it as such but agreed that the hocse should be made available to prime ministers in office.

Where To Go For Summer Fun What To Do

With Rod and Gun

BY RON LAWRENCE

When this column heard of Nelson the first thing we did was to look at a map. We were delighted to see that Kokanee Glacier park was clearly marked and seemed but a short drive from the city. Reminiscing with Mrs. Column we planned "castle in the sky" trips into the park, when we visualized ourselves wandering through a wonderland of field and stream.

This was half a year ago and this column has not yet been to the park. We did try early this spring to go there but after three attempts, when we still couldn't find the road we gave up and started making inquiries. To our dismay, we learned there was no road. This was conflicting evidence. The B. C. government clearly marked the map with a provincial glacier park not far from Nelson yet we were told there was no road into it. Without doubt, this was a trick. Local sportsmen, jealous of their park wished to keep us out. Was it possible that a government could set aside a park area, mark it plainly on the map so tourists would be bound to take note of its location and then forget to build a road? We did not believe it!

Alas, we were naive. After further search, we discovered that such indeed was the case. The park was there, but no road. If we wished we could hike into the park, but if we wanted to share our pleasures with Mrs. Column and our two little columns we would require the services of a helicopter or a series of well trained mountain goats.

We are frustrated. Mrs. Column is frustrated and the little columns wonder why papa and mama C invite them on a trip and then promptly cancel it.

A short time ago our heart thumped with wild anticipation. A certain gentleman came into this area and conducted a survey of the park track, reporting to Mayor Shorthouse the road could be completed for six miles at a cost of $15,000. The certain gentleman felt the remainder of the road could be completed in stages.

This matter was brought to the notice of the Hon. W. D. Black and this column, perhaps always ready to believe the best, felt some elation at the prospects of a start on the road.

The days go by, Mrs. Column, still not resigned to taking a back seat, presses for the promised trip, the little columns still look at papa and mama with expectancy in their gazes as we discuss the prospects of such a trip; this column waits daily for news that a road is about to be started into the Glacier park, but the wait promises to be a long one.

The life of a column is sometimes quite puzzling. We are now in such a state. It appears that during the first annual convention of the B. C. Federation of Fish and Game Clubs, Game Departmnt director Frank Butler told delegates that his branch had to reduce expenditure for the present fiscal year "because of decreased revenues of the B. C. government."

He said that in 1957 273,365 licences were issued under the game act and department revenue was $1,380,0005. This is fine. It is quite understandable to this column.

But this column does not understand the annual report issued by the department of Recreation and Conservation which states that 187,791 fishing licences were issued in 1957 which netted a total of 10,000,000 fish and produced $28,000,000 for the province.

This column has always felt that business profits could be wisely used to secure further profits. Or is that unreasonable?

Townsend Told Princess of Okanagan

VICTORIA (CP) — A glowing account of the scenery of the Okanagan, given by Group Captain Peter Townsend resulted in a special request by Princess Margaret to spend four days there during her two-week tour of B.C. next month, an authoritative source said Wednesday.

Townsend, the divorced commoner who once courted the princess, visited the Okanagan for several days during a round-the-world tour he made after the princess announced she could not marry him.

Princess Margaret "specifically requested a weekend rest in the Okanagan" during her tour, Premier Bennett said in announcing her itinerary last week.

The source said she made the request after Townsend told her of the wonderful scenery in the area. He has been seeing the princess in London.

Two Missionaries Released By Chinese

PEIPING (Reuters) — Two American Roman Catholic missionaries held in a Communist Chinese jail for five years on spying charges left Shanghai Thursday by ship for Hong Kong.

The missionaries, Rev. Joseph McCormack, 65, and Rev. Cyril Wagner, 51, were released from jail Saturday after serving sentences on espionage charges.

They sailed for Hong Kong aboard the steamer Changsa.

The priests were sentenced June 15, 1953 — Father Wagner "for sabotaging China's financial ordinance" and Father McCormack on charges of collecting political and economic information "under the cover of being a priest."

Britain's Lower Bank Rate Considered Good

By KEN METHERAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Britain's action Thursday in reducing the bank rate to five per cent, the same level as that prevailing before the sterling crisis of last September, may signal a general easing of credit restrictions.

The reduction of one-half per cent came just 48 hours after the chancellor of the exchequer, Derick Heathcoat Amory, announced increased tax concessions for companies buying new plants and putting up new buildings.

The Financial Times says "obviously the movement back toward the policy of economic expansion now is beginning to gather some momentum."

The bank rate cut is the third since a heavy run on sterling forced the government to take the drastic action of increasing the rate to seven per cent from five last Sept. 19. On March 20, it was reduced to six per cent, and May 22 it was brought down to 5½ per cent.

HIKED DOLLAR HOLDINGS

The higher bank rate not only increased the vital gold and dollar reserves, but assisted in the government's general anti-inflation policy. The rate establishes the general borrowing interest throughout the economy, setting the pace for mortgages, credit buying and loans generally.

The latest reduction should give encouragement to productive investment and a general stimulus to the economy. Many business leaders consider the stimulus is overdue. Steels and coal production, two vital indicators of business trends, are both down. And credit restrictions have caused a drop in purchases of household goods.

At the beginning of June, the gold and dollar reserves stood at $3,039,000,000, almost double the low mark of $1,850,000,000 reached last September.

The present reserve figure is, on paper, the highest level attained since September, 1951, when the reserves totalled $3,269,000,000.

Sputniks Waste Money Says Nobel Winner

INNSBRUCK, Austraia (AP)—An Austrian - born Nobel Prize winner in physics said that the Sputniks and other earth satellites represent wasted money as far as real cosmic research is concerned.

Dr. Victor Francis Hess also expressed serious doubts about experiments for peaceful tomic energy because of radiation dangers. He told a reporter for the Tiroler Tageszeitung here:

"From the point of view of research the Sputniks, which cost so much money, are not worth it. I say this despite the fact I recognize the great technical achievements that went into their construction and their rocket-firing."

The 75-year-old Hess has been working in the United States. He said rocket firing there so far has established pertinent facts about cosmic rays.

PEACE ATOM RISKY TOO

"I oppose the production of nuclear weapons of mass destruction," the paper quoted him as saying, "but I also believe that the development of nuclear energy for peaceful purposes entails great dangers.

"It is very well true that there are untold masses of energy in fusion and fission for humanity, but at the same time there is a great mass of waste products which we do not know how to dispose of and which could cause us great harm. I believe it is the inescapable duty of science to warn humanity about these dangers."

Need Truck To Move Suspicious Goods

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Police needed a five-ton truck Wednesday to haul to headquarters about $8000 worth of goods a woman is accused of shoplifting.

The merchandise included eight fur coats — three of them mink—153 dresses, 80 skirts, 50 handbags, 76 sweaters, 43 pairs of curtains, 88 silk blouses, stacks of men's clothing, sheets, towels, radios and clocks.

Detective Chief Charles Young said the goods were found in the home of Mrs. Saddy Mae Draper. She was charged with grand larceny.

Latter-Day Saints Name President

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — The Reorganized Church of Jesus Chist of Latter-Day Saints announced today that W. Wallace Smith has been designated to become president.

He will succeed his half-brother Israel A. Smith, 82, who was killed last Saturday in a highway accident. The Smiths are from Independence, headquarters of the church. Wallace Smith, 57, and his predecessor are grandsons of Joseph Smith, Jr., founder of the Mormon faith.

The designation will be presented for approval to quorums and councils of the church and to the general conference of delegates and ministers when they convene Oct. 5.

Bostonian Lee Remick Wonders How and Why She Became Typed

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — For a girl who is a fairly proper Bostonian, Lee Remick has gotten herself into a lot of sexy roles.

First came A Face in the Crowd, in which she played a hip - swinging baton twirler with an eye for Andy Griffith and various other males. Then in Long, Hot Summer, she was a sultry southern belle whose prime interest was sex.

Her third picture is These Thousand Hills, a western. And does she get to play a valiant pioneer gal? Nope. She's a lady of the evening.

"I can't understand how I got typed," she complained mildly. "It's gotta stop."

The strange part of it is that Lee is a refreshing, wholesome girl who seeks no undue notice of her obvious physical merits.

NO CHEESECAKE

Matter of fact, the girl won't even pose for cheesecake.

"They asked me to at Warners once," she recalled. "I told them absolutely no. What I want out of acting has nothing whatsoever to do with cheesecake."

She started acting at an early age, appearing in summer theatres and road companies. She dipped into television in those golden days when the New York dramatic shows were producing exciting new talent.

Elia Kazan first saw her as a sexy doll. He provided her film debut in A Face in the Crowd. He predicted top stardom and signed her for a number of pictures.

Lee is married to television director William Colleran.

FINISTERRE WINS OCEAN RACE

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — Finisterre, owned by Carleton Mitchell, won the 650-mile Newport-to-Bermuda ocean yacht race Thursday for the second straight time, a modern record.

The silver-gray hulled, 38½-foot yawl out of Annapolis, Md., snatched the Bermuda Trophy from Jack Hedden's California - owned Good News, the first craft to finish.

Finisterre, which won on a handicap basis, is the first yacht to win the trophy twice in a row in the modern series. The only other time it happened was in 1907 and 1908 when the schooner Dervish did the trick.

Many of the 110 yachts which left Newport, R.I., last Saturday still were at sea, including two Canadian yachts, the 58-foot yawl Pickle from the Royal Canadian Naval Association in Halifax and the 43-foot yawl Fairwyn, owned by Charles E. MacCulloch of Halifax.

NATAL — At a meeting held in the Michel Motel on Saturday the Crow's Nest Pass Junior Baseball League schedule was revised with Fernie Juniors replacing Brocket Juniors in the five-team league.

Other teams entered include Natal-Michel Juniors, Coleman Juniors, Pincher Creek Juniors and Cowley-Lundbreck Juniors.

The league began June 16 with Michel at Coleman and Cowley-Lundbreck at Pincher Creek. The schedule will continue with games including July 20.

A meeting will be held at Coleman on July 18 to determine as to whether the second half of the schedule will be played or whether the league will begin their playoffs.

The new schedule drawn up is as follows: June 15, Natal at Coleman; Cowley at Pincher Creek; June 22: Coleman at Fernie, Pincher Creek at Natal; June 29: Coleman at Natal, Fernie at Cowley; July 6: Pincher Creek at Fernie, Natal at Cowley; July 13: Fernie at Coleman, Pincher Creek at Cowley; July 20: Pincher Creek at Coleman, Cowley at Michel.

Strong a Linesman

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (CP) — Roger Strong, former Ontario Hockey Association referee, has been named a linesman in the National Hockey League, it was learned Wednesday. Strong, who also worked American Hockey League games as a linesman in Buffalo last year, was signed by Carl Voss, NHL referee-in-chief.

The Pacific sturgeon, found in the Fraser River in British Columbia, may sometimes weigh more than 1,000 pounds.

UBC Crew Favored To Cop B.E. Trials

By CRAIG SWAYZE
Canadian Press Correspondent

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (CP)—Seven scullers and 36 oarsmen will compete here Saturday for the right to represent Canada at next month's British Empire Games in Cardiff, Wales.

Representing four Canadian rowing clubs, they will try for the overseas trip in eights, fours, doubles and singles. All races Saturday are over the mile and 350 yards Henley distance.

The University of British Columbia, which won the eights at the 1954 games in Vancouver and copped the fours at the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne, Australia, will compete in both events. They face competition from Hamilton Leander, Toronto Argonauts and St. Catharines crews.

NEW UBC COACH

UBC are here for the first time under John Warren, a new coach. In 1954 and 1956 they swept the trials under Frank Read, who retired as the university rowing coach last year.

UBC will row against Hamilton and St. Catharines in the eights. They will face Hamilton and Argos in the fours.

Tom Gray, a Vancouver sculler will race Con Andreychuck of Leanders and Tony Biernacki of Ottawa in the singles event. Biernacki won the junior singles at last year's Henley here.

MUST BE SELECTED

Although UBC, after its success here in the past, is favored to win the eights, veteran observers aren't discounting either Hamilton or St. Catharines.

Coach Paddy Cline has put together a boat of Leander veterans while coach Jack McAleese has a crew of lightweights rowing in St. Catharines colors. Either could provide an upset.

Winning Saturday won't guarantee anyone a trip to Wales. They must first face a three-man selection board.

Headed by rowing contingent manager F. F. (Ted) Nelson of St. Catharines, the board also comprises Jack Guest Sr., of Toronto and Nels Steacy of Vancouver.

Lark Lineman Hangs Up Gear

MONTREAL (CP)—Juan Sheridan, stocky defensive specialist with Montreal Alouettes of the Big Four for the last nine seasons, has retired, General Manager Gorman Kennedy announced Wednesday.

Sheridan, a middle guard, is leaving football for a permanent job in Kingston, Ont., as a branch manager for an electrical manufacturing firm, Kennedy said.

Sheridan was a member of Montreal's 1949 Grey Cup champions and Big Four defensive all-star teams.

He played a season with Winnipeg of the Western Interprovincial Football Union and in the Ontario Rugby Football Union for a few years before coming to the Alouettes.

Colin Cowdrey Paces England

LONDON (Reuters) — England scored 237 runs for the loss of seven wickets Thursday on the opening day of the second test match against New Zealand.

A brilliant 65 by Colin Cowdrey and his fifth wicket stand of 60 with Trevor Bailey were the only highlights of a dull English batting display.

The New Zealanders restricted England to less than 40 runs an hour on an easy-paced "batsman's pitch," and but for the burly Cowdrey the average would have been much less.

New Zealand bowlers John Hayes, Bob Blabir and Tony MacGibbon worked steadily against dreary England batting. Hayes claimed three wickets for 21 runs off 12 overs and MacGibbon took two for 69 off 32 overs.

The crowd of 21,500 was given little to cheer about. Opening batsman Mike Smith batted laboriously for 230 minutes for 47.

Tom Graveney and Peter May tried to lift the scoring rate between lunch and tea, but both were dismissed cheaply, Graveney for 37 and May for 19. Eric Petrie, the New Zealand wicket-keeper, caught four men.

Petrie held six catches in the first test, which England won by 205 runs.

TRACK OFFICIAL DENIES CHARGE OF TRAIL GROUP

VANCOUVER (CP) — B. C. Track and Field Association officials said Thursday they are "dismayed" by reports that the Trail track club is toying with the idea of severing provincial connections to join with Alberta.

Trail club co - ordinator Ray Gould said Tuesday the club only received word of the B.C. British Empire Games trials Tuesday, three days after the meet was held in Victoria.

Meet official Bruce Humber of Victoria denied this.

"Entry forms were sent to the department of adult recreation at Trail two weeks before the trials," he said. "I haven't the foggiest idea what's on their minds."

B.C. association secretary Ann Kirk said minutes of the association's Feb. 24 meeting, including dates and locations of all forthcoming meets, were forwarded to Trail early in March.

Mr. Gould said the Trail club "may as well" join the Alberta track association since the B.C. Interior was being ignored by officials on the coast.

Fred Rowell, past president of the B.C. section of the Amateur Athletic Union, said he didn't think the switch was possible.

"Trail athletes would still have B.C. AAU cards," he contended.

Catcher to Coach

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Veteran catcher Rube Walker will be made a coach of Los Angeles Dodgers as soon as waivers are obtained on him, Dodgers' vice-president Buzzy Bavasi announced Wednesday night.

Waivers were asked on Walker Tuesday. There is a three-day period for other teams to claim him.

Holt Remains as Manager Of Hapless Spokane Club

SPOKANE (AP)—Goldie Holt will stay on as manager of Spokane Indians in the Pacific Coast League, general manager Spencer Harris said Wednesday night.

Holt, a veteran of 35 years in baseball, has been blamed by some for the Indians' second-division slump and there were rumors he would be replaced by the parent Los Angeles Dodgers.

But Harris said there is no thought of firing Holt and that the Dodgers will try to get Spokane out of the slump with player help.

Natal-Michel Legionnaires Batter Young Fernie Foes

NATAL — The East Kootenay Canadian Legion Littie League, Southern Section, was officially opened at Natal-Michel on Sunday, June 15, when Natal-Michel Legionaires scored a decisive 10-3 win over Fernie Legion.

The season was officially opened by Legion past president James Groeutt of Michel with Legion president William Chalmers of Michel throwing the first ball to Steve Guzza of Michel, representing the Little League Association.

Behind the one-hit pitching of George Talotti, who collected eight strikeouts, and Edward Chala, who pitched scoreless ball the last inning when he came on to retire the side in order with two strikeouts and an infield out, the locals displayed midseason form and backed up their fine pitching with consistent power in the hitting department.

Although held to six safeties by the combined hurling of two Fernie pitchers, Willick and Ihas, the winners took a 7-1 lead in the first two innings, scoring three runs in the first and adding four runs in the second while the visitors were held to a single run in the second inning. Fernie was held to single runs in the fourth and fifth innings while Natal-Michel added to their lead with a single run in the third and two in the fifth.

Leading the hitting parade was Edward Chala with two hits, a double and a home run, while Derryl Guzza and Dennis Leith connected for triples. Other hits went to Andy Schmaltz and Elsio Berdusco.

The lone hit for Fernie went to J. Ihas.

A long hit by Kagale, good for a home run, was nullified when the player failed to touch third base. Errors proved costly to the visitors as they committed six to two for the winners.

Harold Platt New Convenor Of Grid Loop

MONTREAL (CP) — Ted Workman, president of the Big Four Football League, announced Thursday Harold Platt of Montreal has been named convenor of the Big Four amateur farm club league.

The new league was announced several weeks ago, with each team in the Big Four pro circuit agreeing to sponsor a team.

Platt has been associated with football in Canada as a player and official since 1923. He takes over his new duties immediately.

Platt is a native of London, Ont., and was educated at Kelvin Technical High School in Winnipeg and St. Leo's Academy in Montreal.

He was halfback with the local CNR team that won the Canadian intermediate title in 1928.

For the last two decades Platt has been associated with football largely in a refereeing role.

Top North American Marksmen Seek Laurels at Vancouver

VANCOUVER CP)—Up to 200 crack shooters from Canada and the Western United States will vie here next week for honors at the Canadian trapshooting championships.

The shoot will start June 26 at the Vancouver Gun Club on suburban Lulu Island and wind up July 1 with shoot-offs to decide the five-man trap team that will represent Canada in the world championships Aug. 13-27 at Moscow.

Eleven Canadian shooters will leave Montreal by air Aug. 12 for Russia to compete in trap, smallbore rifle, pistol and running deer events.

Ontario and British Columbia are expected to provide the hottest competition for a place on the Moscow team, since both have previously used the Olympic-style traps that will be in use in the world competition. The Olympic clay birds are projected faster and farther.

TIED FOR '56 TITLE

Leading contenders include Earl Caldwell and Frank Opsal of Vancouver, who tied for the singles trap title in 1956 at Calgary, won by Opsal in a shootoff, and were on the Olympic trap team the same year. Another Vancouverite, Doug Reynolds, won the handicap title at the national trap shoots in Harrow, Ont. last year.

Floyd Nattrass of Calgary will defend his Canadian singles title, after winning several American shoots this year. Keith Blanchett, 19, of Edmonton was runner - up for the high over - all title last year and will again be competing.

It was not known whether George Genereux, the Saskatoon marksman now studying medicine at McGill University, will be able to attend. Genereux was second in the 1952 world championships at Oslo and won Canada's only gold medal at the Helsinki Olympics.

ENLIST PRESIDENT

Manitoba's delegation will include Harry Simpson of Winnipeg while Ontario representation will number Tom Oliver of Toronto president of the Canadian Trap Shooting Association, and Gil Henderson of Toronto Long Branch, defending doubles champ.

In the women's division, Mrs. Vera Holdsworth of Calgary and Beryl Trewhitt of Vancouver will be favored for the title won last year by Mrs. Douglas Wigle of Hamilton.

Four Qualifers in Semis Of World Soccer Tourney

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Defending champion West Germany, Brazil, France and Sweden Thursday night won thrill-a-minute matches to qualify for the semi-finals of the world soccer cup championship.

Quarter - finals were played in four Swedish cities. Results:

France 4 Northern Ireland 0;
Brazil 1 Wales 0;
Sweden 2 Russia 0;
West Germany 1 Yugoslavia 0.

The four survivors go forward to the semi-finals June 24 when Sweden will play West Germany and France will play Brizil. The final will be at Stockholm June 29.

The Brazil - Wales match turned out to be a classic battle between brilliant, fast - moving Brazilian forwards and the strong hard-tackling Welsh defence.

The man of the match was Welsh goalkeeper, Jack Kelsey, who plays for Arsenal in the English Football League. He made dozens of incredible saves.

FINE BALL CONTROL

Brazil edged its way into the last four on a goal in the 70th minute.

West Germany delighted the crowd with fine ball control and superior passing moves. They had about 70 per cent of the play.

But they lacked a marksman. The tough, hard - playing German defence gave them little chance to settle down and take a crack at goal.

The French took complete charge against Northern Ireland and dominated matters in the last 20 minutes.

The Swedes produced moves that bewitched the fans and left the Russian defence in shreds, opening the way to constant attacks on the Russian goal.

Northern Ireland, Russia, Wales and Yugoslavia were eliminated from the tournament by the results.

Teams eliminated earlier were England, Scotland, Hungary, Mexico, Paraguay, Argentina, Austria and Czechoslovakia.

Fontana Edges Montreal Star

TORONTO (CP) — Don Fontana of Toronto, second-seeded in Canada, needed all his experience to defeat Val Harit of Montreal 7-5, 9-7, 6-4 Thursday and move into the semi - finals of the Toronto Cricket Club's closed tennis tournament.

In a battle of southpaws, sixth-ranked Henri Rochon of Montreal disposed of Francois Godbout of Waterloo, Que., 6-1, 8-6, 6-3. Godbout had ousted third-seeded Paul Willey of Vancouver in a first-round upset. Rochon plays Fontana in one semi-final today.

First - seeded Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., easily defeated John Swann of Vancouver 6-3, 6-1, 6-0 and plays Davis Cup team captain Lorne Main of Montreal, ranked fourth, in another semi-final.

The tournament, to be considered by the Davis Cup selection committee, has had little surprise outside of Godbout beating Willey. Committee chairman Jack Spencer said Bedard, Fontana and Willey were almost certain choices with the only question being whether Main will play.

Baker Getting Last Big Shot At Ring Money

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Mike DeJohn, a hard-hitting contender from Syracuse, and Bob Baker, genial giant from Pittsburgh, clash tonight in a 10-round television fight at the War Memorial Auditorium.

DeJohn, ninth ranked among the challengers to heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, is 7-5 choice over the one - time top-ranking veteran.

Baker, 31, no longer listed among the elite 10, has had numerous chances to fight his way nito a title bout and has blown all of his opportunities.

DeJohn, 26, shot into the rankings by knocking out Argentina's Alex Miteff, then unbeaten, in the first round here last October 9.

A pro seven years, Mike's record is 34-4-1, including 25 knockouts. Baker, winner of his last three fights in 1957, is making his 1958 debut. Fighting since 1949, Baker's record is 50-11-1, including 19 kayos.

Weary Willie In Hospital

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Mays feeling weak and tired, underwent a physical examination Thursday and was sent to a hospital for a complete checkup. He is expected to remain there at least overnight.

The star centre fielder of the San Francisco Giants, benched Wednesday night for the first time this season, was examined by his personal physician, Dr. Stewart Cosgriff.

Manager Bill Rigney said Mays appeared rundown with a possible touch of flu.

"Unless something unforeseen occurs," the manager said, "Willie will be in the starting lineup against Philadelphia tomorrow night."

Mays has had only five hits in his last 36 times at bat and his average dropped to .382 from a high of .433.

Midsummer 'Spiel Committee Putting On Final Touches

Preparations for the annual Nelson Midsummer Bonspiel are all but completed. All that remains in the 17 days remaining before the beginning of festivities July 7 is a final coat of polish on many of the scheduled events.

Most of the projects undertaken by Nelson service clubs are running smoothly—as smoothly as they can with so much time remaining—and most of the self-supporting bonspiel committee attractions have reached the stage of diminishing confusion.

What promises to be the biggest attraction of the entire week is the scheduled all-star summer hockey game. Jim Boates of Nelson Senior Hockey Booster Club reported to the bonspiel committee in Room A of Nelson Civic Centre Thursday night that tickets go on sale today.

A baseball game, with Nelson Outlaws opposing a team of hockey all-stars, was scheduled for Sunday.

Already, Boates said, 25 tickets have been ordered for a Kaslo group, and another district resident Thursday asked to have 16 tickets set aside. According to Boates, tickets will be distributed on a first-come, first-served basis.

The tickets will be handled in the manner reserved for regular season games, with Kootenay Sports Shop handling the pre-game sales and tickets—if any remain—also going on sale at game time from the Civic Arena box office.

Albert Maida, president of the Booster Club, has left most of the hockey arrangements to Boates so Maida could allot more time to the pending Queen Contest. The 1958-59 queen will be crowned between periods of the hockey game July 12 when reigning queen Jane Miller steps down.

Queen candidates are Joyce Stewart, Betty Brown and Fran Johnson. Maida said the queen contestants carried the Nelson banner well last weekend during their appearance at Wallace, Idaho.

Reigning queen Jane, it is hoped, will be carried in a chariot similar to the one she decorated during last year's bonspiel parade, Maida said. He pointed out that horses would be needed to draw the chariot, and finally promised to look into the equine situation personally.

Considerable discussion was set aside for the proposed Monday morning breakfast, with Fred Wah and D. M. Sample of Nelson Lions Club on hand. It was suggested that a fee be asked from non-curling visitors, while curlers would be admitted free to the open-air breakfast.

Mr. Sample, however, said he believed the charge—no matter how nominal—would reduce the turnout of locals. He said he believed the prime reason for holding such a banquet would be to give localites and visitors a chance to meet socially.

George Benwell, chairman of the Parade Committee, was forced to leave early, but his report, like all other reports, was optimistic. On the suggestion of committee chairman T. S. Shorthouse, Benwell promised to contact Reeve Harper for indications of what prizes had been awarded for floats in past parades.

Red-Hot Bolt Tops at Flint

By DAVE DILES

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Tommy Bolt defied the letdown that often plagues a National Open champion and fired a three-under-par 69 that stood up Thursday for the first round lead in the $52,000 Flint open golf tournament.

The loquacious Bolt captured a one - stroke lead over Bill Casper Jr. of Apple Valley, Calif. Casper missed a three - foot putt on the 18th green and lost his chance for a tie.

Fresh from his U. S. Open triumph in Tulsa last week, Bolt entertained a mammoth gallery with conversation and splendid play. He needed only 30 putts and had seven one-putt greens.

The monstrous Warwick Hills course at nearby Grand Blanc took a heavy toll as a field of 140 golfers teed off in quest of the $9000 top money. Only 15 were able to match or better par of 36-36-72 over the sprawling layout that measures 7280 yards.

Warwick Hills is the longest course on the 1958 circuit and many of the best known professionals were overwhelmed by its demand. Sam Snead, one of the pre - tournament favorites, had a 78 after a five-over-par 41 on the front nine.

Two Canadians, Al Balding of Toronto and Stan Leonard of Vancouver are entered.

At 71, one stroke behind Casper were Western Open winner Doug Sanders of Miami Beach; George Bayer of San Gabriel, Calif.; Ed Kroll of Sarasota, Fla.; Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif., and Tom Nieporte of St. Andrews, Ill.

Marlene, Mary To Do Battle In Golf Final

TORONTO (CP)—Marlene Stewart Streit of Fonthill, Ont., and Mary Gay of Calgary, both former winners, advanced Thursday to the finals of the 43rd Ontario women's open golf championships at Thornhill Golf and Country Club.

Mrs. Streit, seeking her third straight championship, defeated 1955 winner Rae Milligan of Calgary 1 up. Miss Gay, who won in 1952 and lost to Mrs. Streit in 1956, whipped Mrs. J. H. McCarter of Lambton, Ont., 6 and 4.

Earlier in the day Mrs. Streit ousted Kay Helleur of Woodbridge, Ont., 4 and 3; Miss Milligan edged nine-time winner Ada Mackenzie of Toronto on the 18th; Miss Gay beat Noreen Laing, Toronto, 3 and 1; and Mrs. McCarter defeated Mrs. Michael Haight, Toronto, 8 and 7.

Miss Milligan birdied three holes but went over par five times while Mrs. Streit was under twice and over three times. Mrs. Streit's medal score was 76, Miss Milligan's 77. Par is 75.

Miss Gay was one under par when she finished her match with Mrs. McCarter on the 14th. The former Kitchener golfer was one over on the third and seventh, the only two holes Mrs. McCarter won.

Fairchild Air Base Visits for 3 Games

Fairchild Air Base, a highly - renowned American baseball team which split a doubleheader against Nelson Outlaws at Civic Centre grounds last season, is back again.

They'll be on hand Saturday and Sunday for three games which marks, among other things, the debut of Ernie Gare as a play-by-play baseball broadcaster.

Ron Nash and Les Hufty, the Outlaw coach-managers, are anxious, naturally, for all fans to put in an appearance at the ball park. But they hope that radio saturation of Nelson homes will entice fans to the park in increasing numbers later on.

As Outlaws take the field Saturday evening, anxious to redeem themselves for what turned out to be a sorry showing last weekend in Kimberley, they will be operating under a dual handicap.

With utility infielder - outfielder Joe Postnikoff and starry middle-gardener Frank Hufty due to be away on holidays, the local squad will be forced to juggle manpower considerably. One change will be Charlie Burdette filling in for Hufty in centre.

Charlie earned his start with a key safety during Nelson's loss to Kimberley Hobos as he batted home Les Hufty from second with the run that temporarily tied the game. Al McDonald will take over for Postnikoff in left field, which means the infield will remain unchanged.

With Les, Lefty Gould, Blair Olso and Burdette—who will definitely see hurling action — on the mound, Outlaws may find before the end of the three-game series that hurlers are scarcer than skunks at coming-out parties.

It is likely that Clem Stone and Lorne Shockey will share first base, with Leo Petty at second, Lorne Bay at short and Bernie Monteleone at third. Ed Isaakson is expected to start Saturday behind the plate.

The Nelson Kiltie Band will put in an appearance Sunday to entertain spectators. Spectators who have not seen a playable field in Nelson for almost two years, will be pleasantly surprised with the efforts of the Civic Centre commission in restoring the field to its previous shape.

Athletes Feeling Pressure As Track Trials Come Near

SASKATOON (CP) — Butterflies had a ball with athletic tummies here Thursday as the Canadian British Empire Games track and field trials approached.

As more and more athletes from across the country arrived for the competition today and Saturday, speculation increased on those likely to make the 22-member team that goes to Wales for the games in July.

Many names were mentioned by the athletes here as almost sure winners in the trials which open this afternoon and continue into Saturday afternoon. Then a committee will sit down with the results to name the team, expected to include seven girls and 15 men.

The butterflies were churning in George Shepherd's tummy as the 20-year-old Port Colborne, Ont. hurdler awaited the start of the meet.

SET RECORD

Shepherd is a University of Western Ontario student who in his first race in the 440-yard hurdles established the Canadian record of five minutes, 53.8 seconds, 1.6 seconds off the Empire record. He arrived Wednesday with coach Murray McNie.

"Murray's not worried," said Shepherd Thursday as he waited impatiently. "But he can have my stomach for a couple of days."

Shepherd's name was among those mentioned as having an inside chance for a team berth.

Terry Tobacco of Vancouver, although suffering somewhat from an infection following removal of a wisdom tooth, is favored in the 440 while Joe Mullins of Glace Bay, N. S., and Doug Clements of Vancouver are leading contenders for the half mile.

In the sprints, Mike Agostini, of Vancouver, former Trinidad games competitor and Stan Levenson of Toronto are top rated, both for the 100- and 220 yards.

THREE FAVORITES

The mile has three pre-meet favorites: Wes McLeod of Toronto Don Loadman of Regina and Ed Morton of Winnipeg, all of whom have been competing in the U. S. with college teams, are the top contenders. All three have run the distance in under 4:10.

Doug Kyle of Calgary and Saskatoon, Crawford Kennedy of Toronto and marathoner Gordon Dickson of Hamilton are the choice in the distance races.

SALMO, RIONDEL TO VISIT NELSON

Exalting in their one victory of the year and angry with themselves because they have only one game so far in the West Kootenay Men's Softball Association, Nelson Humes have a chance this weekend to win three games.

Salmo visits tonight at Queen Elizabeth Park for a single game, while Riondel hits town Sunday afternoon for a doubleheader at the same place.

Nelson went 11 innings last Friday to top Salmo, then turned around less than 48 hours later to drop a pair at Riondel.

Humes, if they hope to make the playoffs, need victories. This weekend, they want two for sure and three if possible.

Trail, Nelson In Home-and-Home Soccer Battles

Trail's Scotty McKinnon, less than happy over all the district publicity being afforded Joe Johnson of Nelson in his efforts to have his squad recognized by the British Columbia Soccer Association, has issued a challenge.

Saturday afternoon in Trail, Johnson's squad will oppose the old-time soccer-playing partners of Scotty in the first of a home-and-home doubleheader.

NOT DOG'S FAULT

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Theopolis Moore, 37, learned today it was unwise to choke his girl friend's dog just because she had jilted him. Moore said he had given the dog to the girl and got mad at both when spurned by her. He was fined $50 for cruelty to animals. The dog recovered.

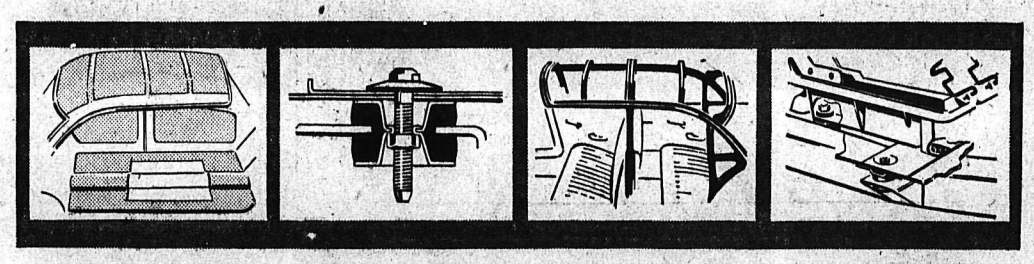
Canada's No. 1 construction job

LIKE all construction experts, Ford engineers put quality first. Ford's heavy girder frame has five cross members for extra rigidity. Its bowed-out design lets you sit lower in the car for a more stable ride. You're safer, too, within the protection of the massive frame rails.

The heavy-gauge steel used for the body of your Ford is the same as that used in many of Canada's highest priced cars. All parts of the body are interlocked for maximum strength and resistance to flexing. Then body and frame are bonded together into a single, solid, silent unit.

To the safety of sheer strength, Ford adds the safety of Lifeguard Design. Features like the deep-center steering wheel, double-grip door locks and optional padding for the instrument panel offer an extra measure of passenger protection.

Ford's high quality standards pay off for you with a car that's worth more when you buy it . . when you own it and when you come to sell it. Ask your local Ford Dealer for a demonstration. The proof is in the driving.



Ford's roof and body insulation is the most complete in its field. It seals out heat and cold, soaks up sounds for a quieter ride.

Eighteen live-rubber mounts cushion body from frame in sedans and hardtops. Vibration is damped out for greater comfort.

Five steel cross members span the roof in sedans and hardtops—compared to two or three in competitive models—for added safety.

Ford's front seat tracks are anchored to the frame and not to the floor pan. This reduces chances of seats flying forward on impact.

Fraser Brigade Reaches Lytton

LYTTON, B.C. (CP)—The Fraser Brigade was camped near this small but party-minded Cariboo village Thursday after a trip that definitely shook any cobwebs caused by a prolonged stay at Lillooet.

The three canoes ran several choppy but minor rapids without incident, then portaged another pounding, swirling stretch between Lillooet and Lytton, 47 apart.

The brigade suddenly came upon a vicious stretch in which all three canoes were plunged down into watery crevices, then thrown high and clear of the river by spumes of water boiling up from the bottom.

Brigade leader Dick Corless at the time was piloting the 36-foot 35-horsepower riverboat used as a supply and portage boat. "I was afraid I was going to have to pick up three empty canoes at the bottom," he said later.

This village of 700 expects several times that many to turn out Friday for the official arrival of the brigade.

The brigade is re-enacting Simon Fraser's epic voyage down the Fraser in 1808.

Odds... and Ends ..by M.D.B.

"Just trying to burn the building down," said the workman as he waved his blowtorch over the peeling painted surface of the Palm Dairies building. It was making a dirty black mess over the whole front of the building and I was curious to know what came next. So, as he burned and scraped, he explained when this operation was finished the surface would be sand blasted and then painted. I hope they don't mess up the gardens too much in the process for the lawn was just beginning to look lush and green.

* * *

Was chatting with the man who tends the gardens and the lawn and garden next door below the sidewalk level. He said the hail had done a fair amount of damage but even while he cultivated the tamped down earth the plants seemed to take heart.

* * *

Something I have not menfioned, and now it is probably too late, is the clematis vine at 910 Davies Street. Two people told me about it, saying it was really a beautiful sight with monstrous mauve stars all but covering the green foliage. I understand it is pretty well past its beauty now and I'm sorry I didn't get around to see it.

* * *

Mock orange shrubs are sending up heady incense these days, rivalling the fragrances of garden pinks and roses. Sweetpeas are just coming into bloom and corn flowers should burst forth any day now. Two mushrooms grew where I planted them, but there have been decidedly mushroomish looking things poking up in the lawn.

* * *

I see by one of the fillers in our paper (a filler is that two or three lines of type that fills out a column) that one way you can tell toads from frogs is that toads have no teeth. I wonder how one goes about getting a toad or a frog's mouth open to see if he has dentures and perhaps risk being bitten? Both Little Toad and Frog have disappeared for the moment anyway, but I'm pretty well convinced they are both toads.

* * *

Was down to the park Wednesday, it being my day off and the park calling louder than the weeding in my garden. Shrieks, shouts and great splashing emanated from the pool, which looks most inviting. When I have done with this cold I shall try it out for myself. Bronzed high school students glowed on the sand, dousing each other with suntan lotion as they listened to the rock 'n' roll hour over the radio one of them had brought down to add to the spirit of things. Toddlers dug their pools on the shore and gamboled and splashed in high glee and mothers, shading their eyes from the sun's glare, kept an eye on youngsters all ages.

B.C. Totem Pole Arrives London

LONDON (Reuters) — A 100-foot-high Indian totem pole, a present to the Queen from the people of British Columbia to mark the centenary of the province, arrived Thursday aboard the British freighter Pacific Unity.

The totem pole carved by Pacific Coast Indians, has been carefully shrouded in canvas and buttressed by baulks of timber on the ship's deck.

It will be unloaded into lighters and taken to Windsor Great Park where it will be erected. It will be formally presented to the Queen by W. A. McAdam, agent-general for British Columbia in London, at a ceremony July 19.

PLEASE DON'T DISTURB

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Yober Guaraldi, 32, of Brockton, Mass., was stopped by a policeman Wednesday for driving a stolen car. He agreed it was stolen April 2. It had been stolen from him, but returned a day later. Brockton police said somebody had forgotten to cancel the wanted listing.

No Price Deal With Shipyards On Costs of Building Destroyers

OTTAWA (CP) — Estimated cost of destroyers of the same type built in different Canadian shipyards varies by as much as $4,000,000 or more, Defence Minister Pearkes disclosed Tuesday in the Commons estimates committee.

He gave estimated cost figures for the Restigouche class destroyer, six of which are being built in five different shipyards. The seventh, the Restigouche herself, was commissioned earlier this month.

Estimated cost of the Gatineau, being built at Lauzon, Que., was $17,158,000 while the estimate for the Terra Nova, exactly the same type of ship, was $21,839,000. The Terra Nova is being built by Victoria Machinery Depot.

Estimates for the other five were: Restigouche, Canadian Vickers, Montreal, $18,398,000; Chaudiere, Halifax Shipyards, $19,403,000; St. Croix, Marine Industries, Sorel, Que., $19,575,000; Kootenay, Burrard, North Vancouver, $20,540,000; and Columbia, Burrard, North Vancouver, $20,657,000.

NO CONTRACT PRICE

In reply to A. D. Hales (PC—Wellington South), Mr. Pearkes said there is no fixed price arranged between the shipyards and the defence production department before construction begins.

"That seems strange," said Mr. Hales.

Mr. Pearkes said destroyer contracts are not let by tender. They were allocated to the various shipyards. This was considered desirable to maintain a nucleus of trained shipbuilders if expansion was required as it had been in 1950.

"That is not a satisfactory way to spend the taxpayers' dollars," Mr. Hales said.

He asked how the estimated cost compared with the actual cost in the case of the Restigouche.

Mr. Pearkes said he did not have the figures.

Some members of the committee, now studying defence estimates, suggested officials of the defence production department be summoned to testify.

Opposition Leader Pearson asked whether Mr. Pearkes considered Canada's anti-submarine forces effective in light of the atomic submarine which could fire missiles while submerged.

Mr. Pearkes said he is convinced the Restigouche class is an efficient submarine hunter and destroyer working in conjunction with land - based and carrier-borne aircraft.

Mr. Pearkes added the Second World War frigates are not as efficient as the new destroyers.

Mr. Pearson asked why the frigates were kept in operation.

The minister said there was a definite role for the frigates in supplementing other warships and for inshore or possible convoy work.

HAD SECONDARY ROLE

Mr. Pearson said Mr. Pearkes had stated previously that convoy work now was only secondary in the RCN.

Mr. Pearson also asked about the role of the aircraft carrier Bonaventure.

Mr. Pearkes said the Bonaventure was designed originally to assist in Atlantic convoy escort. Convoy work, however, now was considered as secondary as it would take place only in the second phase of a nuclear war.

Consequently, Mr. Pearkes said the Bonaventure and its aircraft would assist in submarine search. Fighters were required to shoot down any enemy reconnaissance planes, including those which might be launched from subs.

At another point, the minister said Russia has few, if any, nuclear-powered submarines. However, th threat was constantly changing and that was one reason it made it difficult to fix the ever, the threat was constantly changing and that was one reason it made it difficult to fix the price of a ship before a start on construction. Improvements in destroyer equipment were constantly being made.

NEVER ENOUGH SHIPS

No admiral, he said, ever feels that he has anough ships.

But it was impossible to buy more ships than the Canadian economy could stand.

"We are giving reasonable protection to the country against the submarine threat and we have a reasonable number of surface vessels," Mr. Pearkes said.

Sommers Case Prosecutor Calls Toronto Witnesses

By H. L. JONES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Sommers bribery-conspiracy trial has taken a new turn that could delay it.

Special prosecutor Victor Dryer Wednesday told Assize Court Justice J. O. Wilson and the jury of nine men and three women he has summoned three new witnesses from Toronto.

The Crown's case had been expected to finish Thursday. Two of the new witnesses are men that ordinarily would be summoned by the defence.

The jury was sent out while counsel argued about calling the new witnesses.

The prosecutor made his disclosure as he referred to criticism by defence counsel Walter Owen that the prosecution—particularly the RCMP which gathered evidence for the Crown—seemed interested only in witnesses that would create prejudice against the accused.

ONE HOTEL CERK

Dryer said he had asked a clerk of Toronto's Royal York Hotel, and two Toronto business men to appeal. He identified the latter only as a Mr. Wright and a Mr. Mogg. It was learned that they are connected with the Toronto holding firm of Taylor and McDougald which has holdings in B.C. Forest Products, one of the accused companies.

Crown sources said that the hotel clerk is on his way. But Mogg and Wright have been subpoenaed. If they do not appear by Friday the trial will be adjourned until they arrive.

Former lands and forests minister Robert Sommers is the central figure in the case. Also charged are H. W. Gray, John Gray, Charles D. Schultz, the C. D. Schultz Company Limited, Pacific Coast Services Limited, Evergreen Lumber Sales and B.C. Forest Products.

All have pleaded not guilty to 38 charges of bribery and conspiracy in connection with issuance of certain government forest management licences while Sommers was minister. He resigned his portfolio in 1956 but still is Social Credit member of the legislature for Rossland-Trail.

Le Devoir Adds Deputy Minister To Shareholders

MONTREAL (CP)—Le Devoir lists a Quebec deputy minister and a finance department official among government officials who have been shareholders of the Quebec Natural Gas Corporation which purchased the gas distributing system of the publicly-owned Quebec Hydro.

"We can assert today that Adjutor Dussault, deputy minister of hydraulic resources, and Edouard Laurent, chief of services in the finance department, were also among shareholders," says Le Devoir.

Earlier the newspaper named five Quebec cabinet ministers, four legislative councillors and Premier Duplessis' executive secretary as shareholders or former shareholders in the corporation. It was formed last year to take over from Quebec Hydro the supplying of gas to the Montreal area.

The front-page article naming Mr. Dussault and Mr. Laurent was the sixth in a series on what Le Devoir has called a $20,000,000 stock market coup over the transactions between Hydro and the gas company.

The newspaper says 60 shares were registered in Mr. Dussault's name July 15, 1957. His holdings were increased by an additional 50 shares Nov. 29. The government office addresses of the two men appeared opposite their names in the corporation's list of shareholders.

Son Keeps Father Penned Behind Electric Fence

STAYTON, Ore. (AP) — Police arrested a man Wednesday night they said kept his 88-year-old father penned up within an electric fence.

Daniel George Cole, 60, was charged with assault and battery and held in lieu of $2,500 bond.

Sheriff's deputy Charles Thornton said Cole's thin, stooped father, Eugene W. Cole, was taken to a hospital here, where his condition was described as fair.

HEARD SCREAMING

Thornton said the elder Cole was kept captive in a triangular enclosure at the rear of his son's home.

Around the enclosure ran a two-strand electric fence that carried a strong current. Thornton said the old man lived in an old, filthy, 16-foot trailer house within the fence.

Police investigated after reports that a man had been heard screaming near the Cole house for several days.

Thornton and other deputies hid in bushes near the enclosure and saw the elder Cole lying on the ground.

KICKED FATHER

The son was kicking the old man, Thornton said, and pouring water on him.

Thornton quoted the younger Cole, a movie projectionist and part-time preacher, as saying the treatment was necessary discipline to make his father take care of himself.

The old man's only apparent source of food was a refrigerator within the enclosure, which contained dry bread and sour milk, Thornton said.

The trailer where the old man lived contained a make-shift bed with rags for bedding, a spoon that was chained to the table and an old dog dish.

Pravda Asserts Threat Hangs Over Mid-East

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda charged Thursday that the dispatch of United Nations military observers to Lebanon is really a cloak for "imperialist intervention" in the Middle East.

"Through Lebanon," the Communist party newspaper said, "Anglo-American ruling circles are seeking to deal a blow to Damascus and Cairo (President Nasser's United Arab Republic) and to the entire liberation movement of the Arab and African peoples."

"A military threat is hanging not only over Lebanon but over all countries of the Middle East," Pravda said.
