

Congo Army Mutineers Slaughter 13 UN Airmen

MIRACULOUSLY ESCAPING serious injury or death last night was H. (Fritz) Farenholtz of Nelson when he lost control of his car on Cottonwood Creek bridge due to icy conditions. It careened into the railing, stopping with half the front end of his car over the brink. A scant few inches more and the car would have dropped 80 to 100 feet into the canyon below. It ripped out 35 feet of railing and one section of the rail rested against the windshield on the driver's side. Had the car not stopped at that point the beam would have crashed through the glass and probably hit Mr. Farenholtz, only person in the car. Cottonwood Creek bridge is a hazard to motorists, at this time of the year particularly. Icy conditions and the angle of approaches have caused anxious moments for many drivers over the years.—Daily News photo by Bob Blackmore.

Niagara Got Dizzy?

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP) — The water that swirls through the Niagara River whirlpool 2 1/2 miles below the falls has reversed its direction, two rivermen said Thursday.

The force of the water normally carries it from the lower rapids across the whirlpool bay to the right shoreline, then counterclockwise around the whirlpool before it pours on down the river towards Lake Ontario.

Wesley Hill and Kenneth Sloggett, the rivermen, said low water levels in the river have slowed the force of the current. It now rotated around the whirlpool in a clockwise direction.

The rivermen reported the water level down five to eight feet.

Outrageous Crime Appalls UN Chief

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — Acting United Nations Secretary General U Thant Thursday denounced the slaying of 13 Italian airmen by Congolese soldiers as an outrageous crime. He ordered UN officials to make sure that those responsible get the punishment they deserve.

U Thant's angry words reflected the shock and revulsion that swept through the UN headquarters as details of the killings of the Italians in the UN Congo force became known.

His demands for swift retribution came in advance of another Security Council meeting on the critical situation in the violence-ridden Congo.

"These men, who had served the UN operation in The Congo with devotion and valor, were ambushed and brutally murdered by undisciplined Congolese troops in an act of outright savagery," U Thant said in a message sent to Italian Foreign Minister Antonio Segni here and to Segni's government in Rome. "I wish you to know also that I have directed the UN representatives in The Congo to pursue with vigor all possible measures to ensure that those responsible for this outrageous crime and all who participated in it will receive the punishment they deserve," he added.

Segni issued a statement expressing confidence that the UN would take steps to prevent tragedies similar to those which overtook his country's airmen.

FREED OF PRECAUTIONS

He said that now the UN forces could move against those responsible without paying attention to precautions they had observed while believing the men might still be alive.

The 13 airmen were killed at Kindu in Kivu province last Saturday afternoon.

The Congolese soldiers responsible were described as part of a mutinous body believed loyal to Antoine Gizenga, leftist vice-premier based in Oriental province.

Tackle National Goals—Douglas

By KEN KELLY
PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (CP) — T. C. Douglas, national leader of the New Democratic Party, proposed Thursday that Canada's aim in the years until the 1967 centennial should be to make this country a better place for all to live by tackling specific national goals.

Canadians must mobilize their resources to plan the economic growth and development of the country, not just take a chance that growth and development would occur he told a service club luncheon.

Unemployment must be tackled. So should the problem of distribution of wealth so as to create an effective demand for the good produced.

Export goals were required. Canada had the choice of becoming an economic and political appendage of the United States or of joining in an Atlantic trading bloc encompassing Europe and North America.

Social goals should include wiping out tuberculosis, conquering cancer and heart disease and establishing a complete system of national health insurance in which the costs of ill health were shared by all contributing to an insurance fund.

Four Escapees To Be Quizzed

VANCOUVER (CP) — Four British Columbia detectives have left for the Prairies to question four Alberta prison escapees captured here last month in connection with the gangland-style slaying of a fifth escapee.

The shotgun-blasted body of Roderick Chief, 25, was found late Wednesday in a shallow grave on a North Burnaby waterfront hillside, about three-quarters of a mile east of Vancouver's Second Narrows Bridge.

Police arrested two young women for questioning Thursday. The women were believed to have been drinking with Chief shortly before he was killed, police said.

Two members of the Vancouver force and two RCMP officers have flown to the Prairies, meanwhile, to interview the four men who escaped with Chief from Calgary's Spy Hill Jail, Oct. 7.

B.C. Fires Cost $5 Million

VANCOUVER (CP) — Fifty per cent of the $10,000,000 cost of fighting forest fires in Canada last year was spent in British Columbia, Hugh J. Hodgins, vice-president of timber for Crown Zellerbach Canada Limited said Thursday.

He told the Vancouver Kiwanis Club this province has not learned to deal effectively with the dangers of fire in large segments of B.C.

"The answer . . . in these areas is not to spend millions of dollars fighting fires, but rather to invest money in developing greater preventive programs," he said.

Mr. Hodgins said new skills and machines are needed to keep pace with the rapidly-changing forest industry.

He said a great development had been the growth of the wood chip salvage program, which in many cases represents the difference between profit and loss for sawmill operators.

Gaglardi "Firm Believer in Safety"

VANCOUVER (CP) — Highway Minister Gaglardi, ticketed six times, told the provincial Highway Safety Conference Thursday he's never had a serious accident in 34 years of driving.

"That isn't what you've been reading, I know," said the 48-year-old minister, whose latest traffic case for driving without due care and attention is pending at Kamloops.

"But I'm a firm believer in safety."

The minister showed up at the safety conference a day late with the explanation: "I can't travel as fast as I would like sometimes." He peppered a 10-minute talk with references to the RCMP, the press and drink-driving.

It would be Christmas soon, the minister said, and appealed to those "who want a jug" to stay off the highways. People didn't like to hear about drinking but the fact was that one glass of beer affected a driver for at least three quarters of an hour.

ASIDE TO PRESS

With reference to "me and the police" the minister said the RCMP had received more co-operation from "this minister of highways" than any other in enforcement on the highways.

over a radio system to the RCMP for better policing.

"You've never gleaned that from the newspapers," he said with a chuckle. Turning to the press table he added: "And you boys don't get writer's cramp taking it down."

The RCMP had a "mighty fine force" the minister said. He felt the police could get active co-operation from the motorist by putting him more on his honor and by being courteous.

There was a difference when you "get pinched with a smile" and an "I'm awfully sorry Mr. Gaglardi" he told his laughing audience.

"If I've got to help pay for the policeman's wages, he should make me feel good about it."

Parts of Dismembered Bodies Reported Sold at Market

LEOPOLDVILLE (Reuters)—Congolese army mutineers shot dead 13 Italian United Nations airmen in Kivu province, dismembered some of the bodies and threw them into a river, the UN charged Thursday.

The Italians were massacred Saturday after they flew in with a cargo of scout cars for a garrison of 200 Malayan UN troops besieged by mutinous soldiers of the central Congolese government.

Italian sources said parts of the bodies of the murdered men were reported to have been sold on the market at Kindu.

UN sources said a group of Congolese soldiers visited a World Health Organization doctor and placed parts of a human hand on his desk saying: "This is what happened."

Premier Cyrille Adoula of the central government in a radio speech Thursday night declared "the guilty must be punished with utmost severity" but made no direct reference to UN plans for punishment.

He called for discipline among Congolese soldiers and expressed disgust at the killings.

POSSIBLY LAST TRY

The Congo troops came from Stanleyville, capital of Oriental province and stronghold of Antoine Gizenga, estranged vice-premier of the central government. Western diplomatic sources believed the mutiny at Kindu was a last desperate effort by Gizenga to establish his control in Kivu province.

Between 1,300 and 2,000 Congolese troops are reported to be in Kivu. They were flown in from Stanleyville to help in the central government's abortive invasion of Katanga province.

Gizenga was reported to have followed them and to have incited them to a demonstration against the Leopoldville regime.

UN spokesman George Smith said the Congolese troops accused the Italians of being Belgian paratroops.

If the central government failed to punish those guilty of the slaughter, the UN would resort to its own means, Smith said. He would not elaborate.

Reliable sources said the whole area would probably be sealed off and Congolese troops inside disarmed. There was also speculation the UN planned to disarm all Congolese troops.

Some 200 European civilians were still in the area and Malayan UN reinforcements have not been able to get through to the 200-man Malayan garrison already stationed there.

DOLLAR LOWER

NEW YORK (CP)—Canadian dollar 5-64 lower at 96 9-16 in terms of U.S. funds. Week ago 96 27-32. Pound sterling unchanged at 2.81 35-64.

MONTREAL (CP)—The U.S. dollar closed at a premium of 3 15-32 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, unchanged from Wednesday's closing.

Genetics is the study of inheritance of one's characteristics.

Dr. Banks was expanding on a speech he gave to the joint annual meeting here of the National Heart Foundation and the Canadian Heart Association.

In the speech, he spoke against national health plans as now envisioned by most of their advocates, and against the philosophy of leaving patients to carry the load of all medical expenses.

He also mentioned genetics and the "intelligent acceptance of death as the end of life."

He said that correct philosophies say that "thou shalt not kill or take life." But he said there comes a time, particularly in some cases involving arteries, when "a man has no brain."

"He is just a human preparation in pain — most of him is dead."

He said the arteries of the brain have burst, wrecking the brain, and it is obvious the man is going to die.

What, he asked, is the use of going to extreme measures to prolong life?

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Substitute teacher Ernest Bury, 30, thought the most scientific way to demonstrate the evils of tobacco to eighth graders would be to let them puff a cigarette.

Bury, who doesn't smoke, borrowed a cigarette from a student at Jonas Salk School and suggested each child take a puff.

About half the class of 30 tried it. One girl got queasy and complained to the principal, who called superintendent F. J. Kiesel. He fired Bury.

"Allowing youngsters to smoke is certainly contrary to the teaching of morals to children and is deeply regretted," said Kiesel.

"I was simply thinking as a scientist," Bury said.

LONDON (Reuters)—A member of the House of Lords suggested Thursday the government should consult Sir Winston Churchill on whether Britain should stop importing cigars from Cuba.

"Why not consult a heavy user of this luxury, as it has been described — Sir Winston Churchill?" asked Viscount Alexander in the House of Lords. Churchill's cigar is one of his best-known characteristics.

Lord Colyton suggested Britain should stop importing cigars from Cuba because the Cuban government has refused to pay compensation for British property seized.

HAMILTON (CP)—Plans are being studied to include women in Canada's national survival militia forces, the chief of the general staff said Thursday.

Lt.-Gen. Geoffrey Walsh said no program would be announced before next year.

The first need would be to train sufficient women instructors since "women must be trained by women."

Demonstrations Support Algerians On Hunger Strike

Embassy Windows Broken; 1000 Soviet Troops Disperse Rioters

By HAROLD KING
PARIS (Reuters) — Demonstrations were staged Thursday in Russia, France and Arab nations in support of Algerian insurgents in French jails who are in the 16th day of a hunger strike to back up demands for treatment as political prisoners.

But French political commentators said the strike is being tolerated rather than encouraged by the Tunis-based Algerian provisional government.

Meantime, Moroccan Interior Minister Ahmed Red Guedira arranged another meeting here with Foreign Minister Couve de Murville over the strikes.

Demonstrations were staged in Moscow, Paris, Iraq, Jordan, Lebanon, Morocco and the United Arab Republic.

BREAK WINDOWS
Some 500 African student demonstrators broke windows in the French Embassy in Moscow to protest against France's treatment of provisional government Deputy Premier Mohammed Ben Bella and other Algerian insurgents.

Police and 1,000 Soviet troops dispersed the students, who attended Moscow's Patrice Lumumba Friendship University.

Official sources here said Thursday night that French Ambassador Maurice Dejean handed a note to the Russians in Moscow protesting alleged non-intervention of the Soviet police during the demonstrations, thus allowing demonstrators to cause severe damage to the embassy.

In Beirut, several thousand persons, mainly students, demonstrated in front of parliament and in Jordan the lower house

Hallowe'en Candy Poisoned

PETERBOROUGH (CP) — Police will try to retrace the shell-out route taken by 11-year-old Paul Walsh who was given Hallowe'en candy loaded with rat poison.

Mrs. Veronica Walsh said her son tasted it and found it bitter. Investigation showed it had been sliced open and the inside spread with a pale powder.

The candy was sent to the attorney-general's department in Toronto and a report issued Thursday showed the candy had been spread with alphanaphthylthiourea, a type of rat poison.

The dose was not lethal and the report said the average adult would have to eat about half a pound of the paste to die from it.

"I don't know who could do such a thing," said Mrs. Walsh, the mother of eight children.

Russians To Visit Edmonton

EDMONTON (CP) — Russian co-operative officials touring Canada have decided to stop at Edmonton, Russell Love, Alberta Co-op Wholesale president said Thursday.

Officials of the Alberta Wheat Pool and the Farmers' Union of Alberta will drive four visiting Russians from Calgary to Edmonton Sunday, with probably a few stops at farms along the way. It could be the first opportunity the Russians will have to see the Canadian countryside at close range.

The Russians will fly back to Calgary Monday.

Edmonton was not on the original itinerary, but four officials seized on an afternoon and overnight stopover in Calgary to offer the motor trip to Edmonton.

The Russian visitors have been travelling by air.

Shareholders Of BCPC To Meet

VICTORIA (CP) — About 300 shareholders of the B.C. Power Corporation have been invited to a meeting here Nov. 29 to discuss possible action in connection with the B.C. Electric Company expropriation.

Herbert Matthews, a lawyer, said Thursday the group will try to obtain a change in the legislation by which the government took over BCE. It will be a meeting only of shareholders in this area.

He said the shareholders' action would be apart from the action already launched in the courts by B.C. Power. However, corporation officials will be at the meeting to answer any questions.

Other meetings of the group — known as the Shareholders' Committee for Fair Negotiation — are planned in other parts of the province. Arrangements are being made to call together shareholders living in the Okanagan and upper Vancouver Island areas.

NEWSPRINT OUTPUT UP

MONTREAL (CP) — Canadian newsprint production in October was 596,464 tons, compared with 591,363 tons in October, 1960, the Newsprint Association of Canada said Thursday.

Canadian shipments in October were 589,866 tons, compared with 588,210 tons in the corresponding month last year. Canadian shipments to U.S. consumers were 445,350 tons, or 75.5 per cent of the total, compared with 460,824 tons last year.

U.S. production of newsprint in October was 187,233 tons, up from 184,381 tons.

11 Safe After Forced Landing

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — A plane overdue at Barrow, Alaska, with 11 persons aboard, has made a forced landing and all persons are apparently safe, the air force reported Thursday.

The party, which was flying from the Arlis II scientific ice station near the North Pole, was sighted on a raft floating on the water, the air force said.

A search plane was in radio contact with the raft.

An air force spokesman said that apparently diesel fuel was pumped into the gasoline tanks of the navy R4D patrol plane, when it refuelled at Arlis, and the mistake was discovered shortly after the takeoff. Search planes were dispatched even before the plane was overdue.

Mr. Tourism Will Continue Area's Promotion in Seattle

TRAIL — So well known in the area for his activities in promoting the local tourist industry that he was dubbed "Mr. Tourism," Harry Shannon is being transferred by his company from Trail to Seattle.

As chairman of the tourist and publicity section of the Associated Chambers of Commerce for southeastern British Columbia, Mr. Shannon worked tirelessly to secure the publication of 50,000 pamphlets dealing with the tourist attractions of this corner of the province.

He spearheaded a drive to secure the $10,000 necessary to have the tourist brochures published and they are now expected to be ready for distribution before the 1962 tourist season gets underway.

Mr. Shannon declared that on his transfer to Seattle he will

TWIN PIANO ARTISTS WELL RECEIVED

INVERMERE — A Windermere Valley audience in Toby Theatre at Invermere Sunday responded enthusiastically to the first concert of the Valley Overture Concert Association.

An almost capacity audience applauded the duo piano team of Jeffrey and Ronald Marlowe until they obtained two encores in addition to the well-balanced program offered.

A large number of children attending with their parents on the family plan were fully attentive and appeared to enjoy the program as much as their elders.

Opening number was Sicilienne by Johann Sebastian Bach followed by Brahms' Variations on a theme by Haydn and by Sonata by Francis Poulenc. Danse Macabre by Camille Saint-Saens was a dramatic presentation followed by Rondo Opus 3 by Chopin and Die Fiedermaus by Johann Strauss.

The conclusion of the scheduled program drew such appreciative applause that after three curtain calls the two pianists announced as an encore Yankee Doodle played as George Gershwin might have played it.

The presentation won appreciative chuckles from the audience and further rounds of applause with three more curtain calls. This brought a second encore of an arrangement of the pianists

Kinnaird Commission Meeting . . . Kinnaird Highway Improvement Water Filter System Discussed

KINNAIRD — Bert Staitte, department of highways superintendent, advised Kinnaird Village Commission at its meeting Tuesday of an overall improvement program for the highway from Trail to the Castlegar Ferry. "The need for improvement is greatest between Kinnaird and Castlegar," he said.

An appraisal by Mr. Staitte of the work involved along the Seventh Avenue stretch of Kinnaird featured curbs and gutters in conjunction with the village's proposed sidewalk areas.

Commissioner E. C. Ackerman told Mr. Staitte the water system was fairly permanent and the village was not considering any major sewerage development.

The final decision on sidewalk location would be close to property lines, and this work is scheduled under winter works program for first of the year.

Establishment of an additional area for parking purposes was suggested by the highways official, depending on width required by the village for sidewalks; but the general opinion favored only a 50 foot traffic allowance and spacing for eventual boulevards and snow removal.

Control points for the sidewalks will be indicated by the village works for the highways project.

Commissioners received assurance from Mr. Staitte that the speed limit for traffic of 30 miles per hour would be maintained through Kinnaird to protect pedestrians, mostly school children who make considerable use of the highway due to lack of sidewalks, and revision of the location of school bus stops was assured.

Under advisement from the Department of Municipal Affairs, Kinnaird Council was requested to write J. D. Baird, inspector for the department, should any difficulty arise from the present policy of hiring other than regular employees on winter works, urging the local council to comply with the regulations.

The winter works schedule may include the water filtering system proposed early this year, obviating the high cost of a well drilling program.

Council discussed an efficient unit for this undertaking proffered by Haddin, Davis & Brown (B.C.) Ltd. The unit is alleged to be powerful enough to eliminate not only foreign elements such as wood fibre but also algae, considered to be the prime polluting factor in Kinnaird's drinking water.

SEEK CELGAR ASSISTANCE
Chairman Carl Loeblich directed an approach to Celgar, Ltd., in a final bid for financial help for the project, which the commissioners felt could not be left for another year. Immediate action would mean taking advantage of low water level prevalent during January to March. Estimates will be sought on cost of the filter system installation from Associated Engineers.

A new scheme by which garbage collection may be let for contract to a private individual was introduced by Commissioner G. Rust at the Tuesday village meeting. The contract to be set East Kootenay Librarian Says . . .

Read to Small Children To Develop Reading Habit

CRANBROOK — Miss Patricia Smith, B.C. Library Commission East Kootenay Branch librarian, told the Cranbrook Parent-Teachers Association November meeting how to develop reading taste in children. She said parents reading aloud bedtime stories to the small pre-schoolers was a good introduction to interest in books. The recognized children's classics for little children offered good material, but if the parent decided on more recent or current material care in selection should be exercised.

Once the child's curiosity in reading was aroused and a start on his own reading made, his taste should be developed through assuring access of better class reading matter in his own home, and then through library use

At Kimberley . . .

Winter Activities Get Started With Arrival of Austrian Ski Instructor

KIMBERLEY — A reception was arranged for Heli Schaller, one of Austria's top skiers, who has been engaged by Kimberley Ski Club for the 1961-1962 season as instructor of junior ski races on North Star Ski Hill.

Mr. Schaller has been studying English in Montreal and flew to Calgary to be met by Sam Worthington, ski hill manager.

Mr. Schaller has been engaged at $325 a month plus return fare to Austria.

The recent Kimberley Ski Club annual membership meeting reviewed with satisfaction present development of its extraordinary comprehensive North Star facilities, which attracted 24,000 skiers last season, of whom 5000 were visitors from a range of several hundred miles. Facilities are such that the Canadian Alpine national championships have been assigned to this location next March 10 and 11.

A beginners' run, equipped with tow has been added to the three main runs above it, which are served by a 110 T-bar lift of more than a mile in length. Two new general runs are also being added and directors reported to the meeting plans for a second T-bar lift parallel to the main lift at a cost of $100,000 to accommodate continued increased participation in this growing winter sport.

Forrester, Bob Hammond, A. G. Stirling and Gordon Hall of Cranbrook to continue another year.

Arvid Osing, Bob Hammond and H. Anderson were re-elected by acclamation to the respective positions of president, vice president and secretary-treasurer to the Kimberley Ski club by the new electorate.

Russ Sproule heads the planning committee: Fred Wald mechanical; Bob Forrester, school; Mr. Hammond, publicist; Jack Soden, lodge and canteen; Harold Enquist and Gordon Hall competitive with assistance in the junior program to come from Lee Ringheim and Mrs. Roy Musser.

She also had a display of preschooler children's books, and sets of book marks concerning various nations providing titles and authors of books about Latin American countries.

Scheduled outline by Superintendent P. B. Pullinger to decode the ratings in the current pupil reports cards was postponed again to a later meeting possibly in January.

December's meeting program is under preparation by the Cranbrook Teachers' Association and will be a musical program by the various school choral and orchestral groups as a pre-Christmas concert at Amy Woodland School December 7.

Board Asks Survey of East Side Columbia Lake

INVERMERE — The Windermere District Board of Trade passed a resolution at the November meeting to ask the government for a survey of the east side of Columbia Lake to ascertain the type of road bed which might be constructed in the area.

It was reported that the tourist information bureau lost $293.93 in its first season of operation. Some pledges of support have not been paid and of these come in the deficit will be reduced substantially. Plans were made to continue the information bureau next year. A committee of six people was appointed to look into the ways and means of improving the services in 1962.

What Goes on in Nelson?

At a committee meeting of the City Council Tuesday final steps were taken to effect a discontinuance of the city waterworks service outside the city boundaries.

This is an outcome of the amalgamation of the suburbs with the corporate city to form the new larger city of Nelson. What it means is that the city is confining its water services to the corporate limits only and thus is out of the public utility and into the municipal utility classification.

In making such a change it is, of course, necessary to advise the residents and taxpayers of the area. It is important that as many of these persons as possible be advised since it is the right of any of these persons to file objections with the secretary of the Public Utilities Commission at Victoria by a specified date.

It is important enough that the regulations require the notice to be published three times, over three weeks. The instructions to publish this notice thus "in the Nelson newspaper," were received by the committee members from Mr. H. W. Melish, secretary of the Public Utilities Commission at Victoria.

At this same meeting the committee decided to advertise the notice in a weekly magazine. The following day Mayor T. S. Shorthouse requested the city clerk to poll the aldermen to make sure the intention was to print the notice only in the weekly. The only members of council who felt it should also be published in the daily paper were Mayor Shorthouse and Alderman Harts.

Mayor Shorthouse was concerned that the notice would not reach the largest number of residents and taxpayers and so has ordered the notice to be printed in the Daily News.

As a result of this a Daily News representative contacted Mr. Melish at Victoria to determine the legal status of the notice and was told that it was the intention of the order that it be brought to the attention of the largest number of people possible and he "assumed it would be published in the publication usually employed for legal notices for the city of Nelson."

The amount of revenue involved is not worth the space of this writing. The important thing is that councillors should be anxious to bring information of this importance to the greatest number of citizens possible. This is the important thing in all such matters.

Second in importance must be the use of public moneys in such a way as to do the best job as economically as possible. These are the principles involved.

This editorial has been written to explain the publication of this legal notice because of these principles.

The High Cost of Living

The high cost of living as we want to live is being demonstrated once again.

It is reported that the federal government is going to ask Parliament for authority to increase the total active manpower of the armed services to 170,000 men.

This means an increase of 50,000 men, and it could mean, once all these men are obtained, an additional defence expenditure of $300,000,000 a year.

To Canada, $300,000,000 annually is a huge sum. Yet to the world in general 50,000 men is not very many men.

This is particularly so when we as a nation must in honesty admit that our troops are not equipped with the weapons of the times. The technology of the Second World War, for the most part, serves as the basis of Canada's military establishment at this time. The simple truth is, of course, that the arms of gunpowder have now been replaced by the arms of atoms.

But, the nuclear arms decision notwithstanding, Canada is a member of the community of free peoples. These peoples today are threatened by a sinister ideology which leaves democratic nations no choice other than to secure peace through collective strength.

Taken from the standpoint of an individual nation, an increase of 50, 000 armed men on Canada's part is small.

Taken as part of the collective security of the free world, and considering the capabilities of the nation as a whole, it is bigger. It will help to keep us out of war, and in peace.

It is an expensive, and unfortunate, sign of the times; times in which free men must arm to maintain their freedom.—Calgary Herald.

Cash Is Still Popular

The all-purpose credit card, with which it has been possible to obtain nearly anything from a sandwich to an African safari on tick, has not proved to be the thumping success that was expected.

Three of the cards are still in the field. Only Diners' Club, the originating company, is showing a profit. The American Express Company's credit card operation is in the red. The Hilton Corp.'s Carte Blanche lost $4.2 million in its last year.

One reason for disappointing results is simply lack of sufficient customers to justify the huge outlay on business machines needed to process masses of small bills. Another difficulty is that competition among the clubs has forced their charges down to unreasonably low levels.

It has also been found, as any shrewd economist could have predicted, that many shops and restaurants, accepting the cards as evidence of credit worthiness, evade the club commissions by billing customers directly.

But the most valid general conclusion is that cash, the poor man's credit card, is still a status symbol of sorts. To make a profit from this discovery an enterprising group has started up the Cash Card International Club. Shops which belong give card-carriers discounts of 5% to 40% — if they pay on the nail.

F. B. Pearce ...Writes

This is the time of the year when mothers of six-year-olds will be worrying lest their children should not learn to read. Most of them will, of course, but the best learners and the best readers will come from homes where the parents read, where father, after supper, settled down with a book and mother in the intervals of all the household chores refreshed herself by reading a novel.

There used to be a good deal of prejudice against a housewife reading and nothing could be more damning than the whispered, "she reads." It was assumed that a woman was lost as a housekeeper if she spent any time reading. She could not possibly do her housework and her duty to her children if she did.

That idea, fortunately, has been swept away. It was never true. There are women who work, look after their homes and still have time to read. One of them, indeed, was telling me how much her children enjoyed her reading Louise Alcott's Little Women to them. She was surprised, for Little Women is all of sixty years old and not in the modern manner at all.

Her children, incidentally, are in junior and senior high school but I suppose mother having started reading to them when they were very young has to carry on. This is not unusual. Another parent told me that her family enjoyed reading Shakespeare aloud. When the children have Hamlet or another such play it would help the students very much if the family all read it together. The spoken word carries meaning better.

A great many mothers read to their children before they go to school and this prepares them for reading and makes them anxious to learn. Fathers should do this too. They might find they enjoy it. If parents set out to enjoy it and do not gabble to get rid of the children they can have lots of fun. Mothers sing to their children and there is no reason why fathers shouldn't too. It isn't the mothers only that have pleasant singing voices.

Children help each other and many older children take pleasure in teaching the younger ones. I remember how proud one sister was who brought her brother to school and said, "He can count to a hundred and knows all his letters." There is no reason why every child cannot do this if the parents like to play with the child. A box of buttons will teach him how to count by one and twos and threes. And he will enjoy it.

Don't wait for him to go to school to start learning. There are a great many things a child should know. How many claws a cat has on its feet — if you ask your child I am sure he won't even know what claws are and what a cat's coat is called and what a dog has instead. The aim of course, is not so much to make the child learn as to stimulate his curiosity.

Your Individual Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Saturday, Nov. 18, 1961
MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — It is not wise for us to tell all we know nor interesting for anyone to listen to much personal data. Let this be a tactful, discriminating period, also a cheerful, propitious one.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — We act as we think more than we realize. When you do well, you have an orderly mind. If you lose control of temper or action, then proper self-restraint is missing, and some gains.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — Here is opportunity, to be outstanding assistance to those about you. Maintain a serene calmness and smiling attitude, though sufficiently thoughtful. Be objective in all.

JUNE 22 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — If there is a wasted hour, then you are negligent. But an hour of truly earned rest is your target. In P.M., mix with worthy associates, have educational hobbies. Look to sound principles.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Everything to be done at the right time, and then no worrying, no postponing, and no wasting time regretting. Your mind is too keen and bright to be beset by pointless items.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — If there is a chance for a few minutes relaxing from routine and pressing obligations by all means use it. All work and no play bring on tension, likely irritability, often ill health.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Begin day with deliberating thoughts. Some difficult spots indicated but your abilities should cope with them handily. Be cheerful under trying situations. Think calmly, work smoothly.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — You must be choicely, accurate and generally "on the ball" to get a top score today. The challenge should be relished by you, an enthusiastic competitor, in sports or business.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Feel hopeful, ambitious? Your ruling planet certainly is encouraging you on. May be some trails, errors, but life is not a bed of roses, is it? Face up staunchly and obstacles will diminish.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Weekend activities grow strongly, indulge in them selectively. Be a careful judge of actions and trends. Enjoy leisure hours in healthy fun, intelligent reading, hobbies.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — May tend to repeat persist more than should. It will help others as well as you to be brief but not cure, direct but still kind. Necessary work favored, also necessary rest.

Possible tendency when sure of your ground to be what others might regard as dictatorial, which is not what you mean, so put on a curb. Nurture your versatile qualifications to a fruitful goal. Control changeableness and desire for pleasures when at times work is the prime factor. In herently good-natured, friendly, popular. House Denies Married Women Workers Drain Insurance Fund

OTTAWA (CP) — Married women have been unjustly accused of being an unfair drain on the unemployment insurance fund, an Ottawa woman told the Gill committee on unemployment insurance today.

Mrs. Svanhuit Josie went before the committee of inquiry with a comprehensive 53-page brief proposing an integrated unemployment compensation system linking a National Employment Service with unemployment insurance and unemployment assistance allowances.

Mrs. Josie said she started out to make a study of the insurance plan as it affects women to answer charges that married women were abusing the fund.

But the deeper she got in her investigation, she said, the more aware she became of other important aspects of unemployment insurance—all summed up in her brief.

A housewife, Mrs. Josie is a graduate lawyer and a graduate in social sciences who has specialized in economic research. Some 12 individuals submitted briefs to the Gill committee, but she is the only one to seek a public hearing in support of her arguments.

TEST NOT NEEDED

On the problem of married women, she said:

"The basis of the scheme is that workers who comply with the act and regulations are to receive benefits as of right, with no means test.

"Yet there are oblique suggestions now that women who do not 'need' the money—meaning married women whose husbands are employed—should not be permitted to collect, even when they meet all the regular requirements.

"Unless we are going to return to the policy of the depression years of requiring women to give up their jobs on marriage, it hardly seems consistent to make any distinction between married and single women for the purposes of collecting unemployment insurance.

"Married or single, if a woman is in the labor force and has been contributing to the fund long enough to qualify for benefits, she should be entitled to collect in the event that she loses her job. If she is ready, willing and able to work, but unable to find suitable employment."

Canada Considers Procedure To Break U.S.-Russian Deadlock

By JOSEPH MacSWEENE

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—Canada is pondering a disarmament procedure aimed at breaking the deadlock between the United States and the Soviet Union, External Affairs Minister Green said Wednesday.

Green spoke to correspondents after the great powers again locked horns on the sort of disarmament negotiating body they want. They both said, however, they want to embark quickly on resumption of disarmament negotiations.

Opening debate on disarmament in the United Nations political committee, the two big countries vied with avowals of disarmament and colluded bitterly on approach to the problem.

These oft-repeated positions tend to leave many UN members and observers with a hohum attitude—they have heard it all before. Green's proposal was apparently aimed at outlining a possible new path of compromise progress.

Green told his press conference that Canada is "toying" with the idea of proposing a 17-member disarmament committee to succeed the 10-member East-West body that came to grief in Geneva in June, 1960.

OBJECTS TO TROIKA

The Canadian foreign chief went along with Western objections to the Russian-demanded troika in disarmament negotiations but proposed the addition of African, Asian and Latin American countries to the committee, making a total of 17.

This was a radical departure from last year when Canada advocated only the addition of a neutral chairman, vice-chairman and rapporteur to the committee — none with the status of negotiators.

Green, who returned to Ottawa Wednesday night after a three-day UN stay, made this outline of his proposed group:

The chairman would be the chairman of the 103-member gun disarmament commission—Louis Padilla Nervo of Mexico—and it would operate as a subcommittee of the commission. It would include two members from Latin America, two from Africa and two from Asia.

Although Green didn't say so, this would be the first time that the Soviet bloc — only 10 out of a total UN membership of 103 — would have near parity on a UN disarmament board. The old 10-nation committee was organized outside the UN by the U.S., the Soviet Union, Britain and France. Besides those countries it included on the Western side, Italy and Canada, and on the Communist side, Hungary and Bulgaria.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin said in the committee that a negotiating body divided equally among Communist, Western and neutralist countries on a 5-5-5 basis would be the ideal situation. He gave U.S. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson a draft resolution which he said both countries could accept. This fixed next June as the time for the UN General Assembly to meet to approve a treaty that by then under his proposal would have been worked out by the negotiators.

The U.S. had proposed the addition of 10 countries to the negotiating body — steering carefully away from the troika principle. The time had passed for rhetoric — "let's get down to business." Britain was equally skeptical of Zorin.

Stevenson sent a letter to Zorin Wednesday night containing the draft of a U.S. resolution proposing that the negotiating body be made up of the original 10-nation group plus 10 others—thereby making the gap more formal.

Capital Inflow One Source of Eased Dollar

OTTAWA (CP) — Capital inflows to Canada from international securities transactions—one source of upward pressure on the Canadian dollar's exchange rate—eased sharply during the third quarter.

Trade in new and outstanding stock and bond issues produced a capital inflow of $68,000,000 during July - September, compared with $127,000,000 in the preceding quarter, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported Thursday.

The report did not cover the month of October, when in the face of strong capital inflows the government put into effect its policy of purchasing U.S. dollars to keep the Canadian dollar at a discount of around three per cent below the U.S. dollar.

The bureau noted that the third-quarter capital inflow of $68,000,000 from portfolio securities was much larger than the $18,000,000 inflow from that source a year earlier.

The decline from the second quarter resulted mainly from a reversal in the direction of trade in outstanding Canadian bonds and stocks. In the third quarter, repurchases of these by Canadians resulted in a net capital outflow of $12,000,000 compared with an inflow of $66,000,000 in the second quarter.

Amount of new Canadian issues sold to foreign investors declined to $105,000,000 from $168,000,000.

The report does not cover sales of Canadian treasury bills, or commercial or finance paper.

A public hearing was held last July 6. The application anticipated exports late this year, but the board's recommendation asked for notification that the project will be working before next June 1.

The purchase, Ashland, told the board that the U.S. department of the interior, which has been expressing concern about the spurt in crude exports to the U.S. under the Canadian national oil policy, had questioned the use of the line's ultimate capacity of some 60,000 barrels daily.

Ashland said, however, that the Canadian carrier would need a fresh approach to the national energy board to go beyond 20,000 barrels daily.

Turnstiles Must Go, Major Victory For Women

LONDON (AP) — The government struck a blow Monday for the emancipation of British women from the terrors of turnstiles that bar entry to Britain's comfort stations.

Dr. Charles Hill, minister of housing and local government, said the government will no longer approve applications by municipal councils for permission to raise loans to install turnstiles. He also is urging local authorities to remove existing turnstiles as soon as possible.

It was a major victory for the womanhood of Britain who, led by female legislators, had campaigned for freedom from the need to put a penny in a slot.

Nigerian Women Do Well in Business World

By JOY MILLER

NEW YORK (AP)—If you've been worrying about the women of Africa being downtrodden, you can probably forget it as far as Western Nigeria is concerned.

"The well-to-do people of Nigeria are the women," said Mrs. Emily Akintola in an interview while here on an unofficial visit with her husband, the prime minister of Western Nigeria.

"Nigerian women have all the money," she added. "Men give us the freedom to do what we want. They never mind it if we're in business."

The tall, dignified wife of Chief Samuel Ladoke Akintola, who leads the western region of Africa's largest Negro nation, is one of her country's successful businesswomen. She imports cement and other materials from Germany, keeps a knowing eye on the New York and London stock exchanges.

She's been a trader since she was 13. Her father, chief of the forest rangers, gave her the first money to set up a little shop to sell hats and materials in front of her home in Lagos. "I didn't have time to hawk about with a round tray on my head, like other women do, because I was going to school."

TRADITIONAL ROLE

Buying and selling of goods has been the traditional role of women throughout West Africa, and Mrs. Akintola inherited a sharp trader's sense from her mother. But she shakes her head over her two daughters, aged 20 and 25, the oldest of her five children. The elder girl is married, the younger is studying medicine in Dublin, and neither has the slightest interest in trading.

She thinks women are better at business than men, and that they should help out with the family income if their work doesn't disrupt home life.

The Akintolas, who have been married 26 years, live in a government-built, two-storey, four-bedroom house in the suburbs of the capital, Ibadan. She does a lot of her own housework and practically all cooking, in spite of having domestic help.

Although she's a graduate of the Paris Dress Design Academy in London, which she attended while her husband was studying law, Mrs. Akintola wears only Nigerian dress, loose blouse, wrap-around skirt and turban. Ornaments include bracelets, earrings and a U.S. $10 gold piece on a chain around her neck.

British Tourists Held In Berlin

BERLIN (Reuters)—Two British tourists were detained in East Berlin Wednesday night and asked to give details of the deployment of Allied troops and tanks in West Berlin, the British military command here announced Thursday.

Two British officials attached to the army who crossed into East Berlin to investigate the matter also were "detained illegally by so-called East German customs for some nine hours," the announcement said.

It said the British command is making "a strong protest to the Soviet authorities in East Berlin against this misconduct. They are being warned that serious repercussions may well result."

The detained tourists, released after 4 1/2 hours, were carrying tickets to Paris which were confiscated by East German customs. The East Germans said the tickets would be returned if they provided details of Allied troops and tank deployments.

The East Germans particularly wanted details of deployments at the Friedrichstrasse border crossing in the American sector.

SEIZED BY OFFICIALS

The announcement said two British officers who went to investigate "were seized upon by the officials of the so-called East German customs who took them to their headquarters and subjected them to severe cross-examination."

"They were then forced to sign a statement to the effect that they knew they had broken the law of the so called German democratic republic."

After the officials were forced to sign the statement, the announcement said, "the British military government immediately got in touch with a representative of the Soviet commandant who undertook to investigate the matter."

A British spokesman refused to disclose the names of either the tourists or the officials. He also declined to say in what manner the protest would be made.

Unexpected Battle Broke Over Britain's Immigration Control

LONDON (Reuters) — Parliament headed into an expected major battle today over the government's Commonwealth immigration control bill.

Opposition Laborites prepared an all-out attack on the measure coming up in the Commons for a second reading—agreement in principle.

The bill would enable the government to control immigration here from British Commonwealth countries for the first time. Laborites have prepared an amendment declaring the measure "will be widely regarded as introducing a color bar into our legislation."

The proposed amendment also said the House should reject the bill as one which "removes from Commonwealth citizens the longstanding right of free entry into Britain."

If passed, the bill was expected to have its main effect in the cases of immigrants from the British West Indies and Indians and Pakistanis.

Two newspapers suggest today that the government drop the bill.

SAYS BILL PREMATURE

The Independent Edinburgh Scotsman says in an editorial that while the bill was not harsh, the current immigration rate did not justify it.

The government has "incurred unnecessary odium by introducing restrictions which mean a departure from a liberal tradition before the case for them is firmly established."

The Daily Sketch strikes out at the bill in connection with speculation that it was unlikely the proposed immigration restrictions would apply to immigrants from the Irish Republic because of administrative problems.

The Daily Sketch says that if the government didn't drop the bill because of this "loophole," the country "will conclude that the bill is not, as claimed, evenly directed at all immigrants irrespective of color."

The bill also would empower courts to deport Commonwealth immigrants convicted of serious crimes. As it stands, the measure would not bar anyone who had a job to go to here, was self-supporting or was a bona fide student. Others could be regulated by the labor ministry according to Britain's need for workers at any given time.

Bennett Eyeing Blackball Ferry Service?

VICTORIA (CP)—The Colonist says that Premier Bennett has given strong indications that the provincial government will take over the Canadian assets of Black Ball Ferries Limited for $7,200,000 and launch an hourly service between Nanaimo and Greater Vancouver.

Mr. Bennett told Colonist legislative reporter Peter Brunt in Seattle Wednesday night: "We can't build a great Vancouver Island on one wing."

The premier was obviously referring to the Government's B.C. Ferries which will operate an hourly service between Swartz Bay-Tsawwassen next year. The service currently operates every two hours.

The Colonist says Premier Bennett declined to comment on the price set by stockholders of the Puget Sound Navigation Company, parent firm of Black Ball Ferries Limited, but did not appear to think it out of line.

URGES TEST RESUMPTION

NEW YORK (AP)—A scientist whose experiments helped lead to the development of the atomic bomb said Wednesday the United States would soon have to resume atmospheric nuclear testing for its own protection. Dr. John F. Dunning, dean of Columbia University's school of engineering and applied science, urged such a move in a speech.

Elderly Woman Dies In Regina Fire

REGINA (CP) — An elderly woman died and six other persons were injured in a fire that destroyed the three-storey Nash Building in downtown Regina Wednesday night.

Mrs. Isabella Carmichael, 78, a wheel chair patient for nearly seven years, died and her son, Charles Leslie Carmichael was injured. Both resided in a suite in the building. The son is in hospital suffering from burns and the effects of smoke.

Mrs. Carmichael was taken from the building about three hours after the fire was first seen. She was dead on arrival at hospital.

Mrs. Laurie Moerike, 81, another resident of the block, was overcome by smoke and taken to hospital.

Released from hospital were firemen John Bird, Donald White and Albert Dionne and Deputy Fire Chief Harold Davis. They were treated for burns and lacerations received when part of the building exploded.

PARTLY INSURED

The building, owned by Dr. A. S. Sinclair, housed a taxi office, a hearing aid centre, a print shop, two doctors' offices and 12 suites. Dr. Sinclair said the block was worth $100,000 to $120,000 and was partially covered by insurance.

The adjoining Queen's Hotel was threatened at times and the 30 guests in the hotel were evacuated. Damage to the hotel was confined to smoke and water damage.

Flames shot 50 feet into the air from the roof of the building, blackening the nearby eight-storey medical-dental building.

The fire first was noticed by taxi driver Don Cochrane at 7 p.m. Taxi drivers and firemen evacuated residents from the top two floors of the building. Cause of the fire was not known.

B.C. Forest Industries Council Endorses Self-Supporting Fund

OTTAWA (CP)—The council of the forest industries of British Columbia Thursday endorsed proposals for a self-supporting unemployment insurance fund based on sound insurance principles. In a brief to the Gill committee of inquiry on unemployment insurance, the council blamed present and past federal governments for deviating from the original purpose of the fund, and causing the fund to shrink to close to $110,000,000 in May from its 1956 peak of $928,700,000.

"The government should underwrite any deficit in the fund, since its present insolvent condition is largely due to governmental action in departing from the sound business principles upon which the original scheme was based."

In urging restoration of a straight insurance scheme, the council said all categories of extended benefits resulting from non-insurable employment should be excluded from the fund.

ADVOCATES ASSISTANCE

To help seasonal workers and others who cannot get full-time jobs, the council advocated an unemployment assistance scheme, which "might well be contingent upon the recipient taking training to fit him for work he could not otherwise do and for which there is a demand."

The cost of this assistance scheme should be met from federal government funds.

"In our view, the segments of Canadian industry who are regularly employed and therefore are sound insurance risks, should not and cannot carry the burden of an unbalanced social assistance program for an increasing percentage of the labor force," said the council.

"To load this charge on the cost of production of our export industries in particular would be a major mistake since it would further depress the already low rate of Canadian economic growth."

The council made the submission on behalf of all aspects of British Columbia's forest industry which, it said, provides jobs for about 80,000 workers.

Escapee's Body Found In Hastily Dug Grave

VANCOUVER (CP)—A shotgun blast has ended the life of a Calgary jail escapee.

The body of Roderick Chief, 25, was exhumed from a shallow, hastily-dug grave Wednesday night by RCMP and city police in out-of-the-way suburban brushland.

The victim had been dead several weeks and police said they thought the man had been slain in Vancouver and transported to the grave site by car.

Officers Thursday were still raking the area fronting the east section of the port of Vancouver.

An anonymous tip mailed from "some where on the Prairies" led police to the grisly find. A series of anonymous tips also led them to the rest of Chief's quintet last month.

Donald Everett, 21, William Archer, 41, Ronald Neergaard, 25, and Douglas Bevans, 23 who escaped with Chief Oct. 7 had all been serving time at Calgary's Spy Hill jail for crimes of violence.

The escapees saved their way through the jail recreation room bars. Chief had been described as the ringleader of the escape group.

WOULD HELP OTHERS

Police said there was an earlier suggestion, Chief, an Indian, was to lead the others to a life of temporary obscurity on a West Coast reserve.

The victim was waiting the outcome of appeal against a six-year sentence for wounding.

Someone phoned RCMP that he was at the downtown Vancouver CNR office at a precise time on Oct. 16. They were arrested without violence.

Someone told RCMP Everett would be in a Burnaby home the same day. He was arrested and the fourth man was apprehended some days later.

The group was transported to Calgary and now is serving additional time in Prince Albert, Sask., penitentiary.

Warden Fred Cummings of the northern Saskatchewan penitentiary said in a telephone interview he had not been informed of Chief's death.

He added, however, the news led him to expect trouble. He said he would order extra precautions and safeguards concerning the four men.

WON'T SEE CUP

REGINA (CP)—Don McPherson, past president of the Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Western Football Conference and past president of the Canadian Rugby Union, will not be seeing the Grey Cup this year.

Mr. McPherson suffered a fractured hip in a fall at the YMCA Tuesday. His doctor said Wednesday Mr. McPherson would be in hospital for at least two or three weeks. "I guess I won't be able to go to the Grey Cup this year," Mr. McPherson said.

Fleming Has Date With De Gaulle

By ALAN HARVEY
PARIS (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming of Canada will meet President de Gaulle of France and Prime Minister Macmillan of Britain for important talks on the European Economic Community, it was learned Thursday.

The Canadian minister, here for a ministerial conference of the 20-nation Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development will see de Gaulle Saturday morning. Monday in London he will call on Macmillan in the morning and later lunch with Duncan Sandys, Commonwealth relations secretary.

Both meetings have interesting aspects. De Gaulle is understood to be intrigued, if not puzzled, by Canada's strong show of resistance to Britain joining the European Common Market. He himself used to be an opponent of the Common Market but now apparently is convinced of its merits.

France has gained more from the Common Market so far than any of the other five members. "DREW CONTROVERSY"

Fleming's meetings with Macmillan and Sandys are likely to result in a quest for clarification of Canada's stand on the Common Market in the light of what some British newspapers have called "the Drew controversy."

George Drew, Canada's high commissioner in London, stayed away from a special British briefing given in London last Friday by Sandys and Edward Heath, lord privy seal.

Drew, in a statement last Sunday, denied any snub was intended and the Commonwealth relations office said the incident was "closed." Sandys is known to have been angered by the episode.

It is believed the Ottawa view on the cause of the Common Market issue as a whole is changing with resistance to British membership becoming perhaps less pronounced.

Gray, McKenney Lead Bruins to Win Over Habs

BOSTON (CP)—Boston rookie Terry Gray scored twice in 34 seconds but the Bruins needed a great whirl-around shot from the steady hand of Don McKenney for a 3-2 National Hockey League victory over Montreal Canadiens Thursday night.

For first place Canadiens it was their second loss in as many nights.

Montreal right winger Claude Provost took over the NHL scoring lead from New York's Andy Bathgate, scoring a goal and assisting in another.

Provost has 25 points to Bathgate's 24. He tied the score 2-2 with seconds remaining in the second period as he raised his pace - setting goal total to 14. Provost had assisted Henri Richard in the first period.

ENDS DEADLOCK
McKenney pulled the last place Bruins out of the deadlock early in the finale. He spun quickly in a half circle with a defender draped around his wrist and fired a wide-angle eight-footer into the far corner of the goal.

Gray, assisted by Murray Oliver both times, tallied at 20:2 and 2:36 of the middle period. Each 25-foot shot sailed under goalie Jacques Plante's legs.

Canadiens, who have scored only four goals in losing their last three games — all on the road — still hold a one-point lead over Toronto Maple Leafs atop the NHL standings. The Habs have 20 points in 16 starts and Leafs have 19 in 15 games.

The victory pulled the last-place Bruins to within two points of Detroit Red Wings and Chicago Black Hawks, deadlocked for fourth at 13 points.

SMOKIES TO PROTEST LEBODA'S ACTIONS

An incident which happened after Wednesday night's hockey game between Trail and Nelson will be protested to league officials, Trail Smoke Eaters executive said Thursday.

A skirmish between Nelson's Ted Leboda and Trail's Ed Pollesel resulted after the game as the teams were moving to the dressing rooms.

Opinions on the incident differ. One spectator said that Leboda saw Pollesel going to the dressing room and jumped on him, pushing him down the stairs. Another said that Leboda threw a punch at Pollesel and then went into the dressing room.

The Trail executive termed the incident "vicious and unprovoked." "We want something done about this man. The game was over when he took after Pollesel for no reason. If the league won't do anything about it the team will contemplate police action. It is not fair to the players and the league to have someone of this nature let loose on the ice."

It is not known whether referees Sarg Sammartino and Bill Waddell saw the incident. Leboda refused to comment.

Stamps Taking Rest Before WFC Final

CALGARY (CP)—Total practice time for Calgary Stampedeers this week: 1½ hours.

Hardly enough to limber up, you might say, but coach Bobby Dobbs believes it's the only way to prepare his tired underdogs for Saturday's first game of the Western Football Conference finals against Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

"This late in the season the important thing is to keep rested," Dobbs said Thursday. "We've put on our sweaters three times since Winnipeg last played."

"My problem is to get the boys rested and to get the bruises healed."

Stampedeers had only a chalk talk Tuesday after finishing their total-point semi-final 27-26 victors over Edmonton Eskimos. They spent 30 minutes running through plays Wednesday and were to practice exactly one hour Thursday. Today will be another day off.

Any new twists in Calgary's defence or its recently-acquired spread formation will have to be absorbed at blackboard sessions, with only a brief test in the light workouts.

The spread was launched against Eskimos to open things up for the Stampeder offence, but Dobbs admitted Thursday "we've lost the element of surprise against Winnipeg."

GRANT READY
Bomber coach Bud Grant suggested Wednesday that Eskimos might have had better success stopping quarterback Eagle Day by shooting more men in to hurry his passes. Grant was careful not to disclose the Bomber plan.

Dobbs says the three season's beatings administered by Bombers have eliminated any problem of over-confidence among his players, but he has taken steps to keep them humble anyway.

A maze of newspaper clippings attesting to Bomber brilliance are pasted on a huge dressing room board.

Calgary fans are grabbing up tickets faster than anyone can remember for the 2 p.m. game here. The series goes back to Winnipeg Wednesday night, Nov. 22, and if a third game is necessary, it will be played the following Saturday afternoon, also in Winnipeg.

Bombers are in full health, and Stampedeers are confident that a muscle injury to line-backer Ernie Danjean will not keep him out of the series.

Danjean hurt his leg in the first quarter of Monday night's game in Edmonton, and then played three quarters with the injury. Dobbs said Wednesday that unless Danjean took a turn for the worse, he would be in the lineup.

Five-Pin Group Exceeds Target

The newly-formed Five-Pin Bowling Association, which was expected to have a slow season in its initial year, has exceeded all expectations, Wilf Fahlman, association vice-president, stated Tuesday.

When the association was formed, directors optimistically looked for 150 members. The association now boasts 236 members with more coming each week. From this large membership a 10-team league has been formed of women's, men's, mixed and high school teams.

Purpose of the association is to bring more enjoyment to bowlers and to further bowling status in this area. The East Kootenay has a three-city association with Kimberley, Creston and Cranbrook holding inter-city competitions.

Hopes are to form the same type of association in the West Kootenay with Nelson, Trail and Castlegar. From the association a team can be chosen to represent the area at the British Columbia Bowling Championships to be held in the spring.

Coach Has High Praise for St. James' Junior Win

CALGARY (CP) — St. James Rods tucked away another Canadian junior football crown Wednesday night and with it the highest of compliments from their veteran coach George Depres.

The 16-13 victory over the Bombers of Montreal brought home to Winnipeg Rods' third Dominion title since 1955, all under the leadership of Depres. "This is the best Rods team ever," said Depres. "And that was a heckuva game, wasn't it?"

The Shrine-sponsored final, played before about 6,000 fans in temperatures that dipped at least 10 degrees below freezing, was in doubt to the last seconds.

Clutch passing by rookie quarterback Gorde Irwin, and pay-off yardage from four hard-running backfielders, proved the difference.

FUMBLES DECIDE GAME
Bombers pulled off three dazzling interceptions, one that led to a touchdown, but lost their advantage when they fumbled the ball away three times.

Gary Robson, a 210-pound end in his third and last year of junior football, showed why he led the Manitoba-Saskatchewan Junior League in pass receiving. He slipped behind two defenders and grabbed a 55-yard pass that led to Rods' first touchdown, and caught a 10-yard pass for another that proved to be the winner.

He converted his own touchdown and the second, scored by fullback John Davidson, and Brian Lunney kicked a pair of singles.

Leon Jacobs scored both Rosemount touchdowns, one on a twisting 25-yard run, and punting fullback Gerry Yacatlo kicked two singles.

Wanted-Sparring Partners

TORONTO (CP) — The hours are short and the pay is good, but the working conditions might leave something to be desired.

A call went out Thursday for big, tough males and the going price was a basic $25 a day with bonuses up to $150.

The job? Sparring partner for Floyd Patterson, training here for his Dec. 4 heavyweight title bout with Boston's Tom McNeely.

The bonuses, which could bring the daily rate to $175 a day, are paid for inflicting various degrees of mayhem on Patterson.

Power-Packed L.V. Rogers Looks for Volleyball Win

Volleyball, to most schools, is an unemphasized intra-mural sport, but to L. V. Rogers High School it is a means of athletic prowess, raising them to championship heights in the West Kootenay.

For the past six years, L. V. Rogers has been one of the top two volleyball powers in the Okanagan, having won the title four times and currently boys' defending champions. This four times excludes the girls' eight, which has captured the championship twice.

Both teams, boys and girls, play power volleyball, but the boys' team more so. Power volleyball, the art of "setting" and "spiking", resembles the conventional game in the number of players, six, and in the rules, three hits to return the ball over the net, which if not accomplished, results in the loss of the serve or loss of a point.

The only deviation in the power game is its execution. The idea of a "soft, looping ball" to the opposition is forgotten, so the back court men rarely return the ball directly over the net. Instead the ball is advanced to a man in the front court or row, the "setter", whose job is to "set" the ball high in the air so that a "spiker" can smash it down his opponents' throat.

The only defence for these "spikes", travelling at top speeds of 62 feet per second, is a two or three-man blocking unit. These blockers try to either block the ball, thus returning it to the other side or cut down the speed so that a team member can retrieve the ball and set it up for his team.

Depending upon the calibre of teams playing a rally may last for several minutes, both teams taking turns at spiking and blocking.

Because Nelson plays this brand of volleyball, it is considered the best club in the area, as it has precision setters and hard-driving spikers.

How good the school team is will be decided Saturday when 12 teams from Trail, Castlegar, Salm and Nelson will converge on L. V. Rogers gymnasium for the annual West Kootenay Volleyball championship. Missing from the tournament this year are Rossland and Grand Forks.

Greatest competition for the Nelson teams is expected to come from Salm as Nelson and Salm have been arch rivals in previous years. Last year at the tournament in Rossland, Nelson boys defeated Salm by the minimum two points in the third game of a best of three series. In the girls' competition, the outcome was reversed as Salm girls dumped the Nelson eight.

In the boys' competition, they will be six teams, one of each from Trail and Castlegar, and two each from Salm and Nelson, who will be vying for honors in the double knockout tournament, with two teams from Trail competing.

Tournament will start at 10 a.m., and run late into the afternoon.

MARKET TRENDS

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market Thursday registered a slight decline—its first clear-cut loss since October 27. Trading slowed.

Volume fell to 3,980,000 shares from 4,660,000 Wednesday. It was the lowest turnover since Nov. 2 when 3,890,000 shares changed hands.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped .20 to 268.60. The rise in the Associated Press Industrials was helped by National Biscuit, up 2 1/4, Corn Products, up 1 1/4, and Southern California Edison, up 1 1/4 in advance of news of a 3-for-1 stock split proposal.

Distillers Seagrams and International Nickel each rose 1/2 among Canadian issues. Aluminum Ltd. advanced 1/4.

Prices moved higher on the American Exchange. Fargo Oil gained 1-16 while Brazillia nTrac-tion advanced 1/4. Canadian Marconi, Shawinigan and Sapphire Petroleum each lost 1/8.

TORONTO (CP)—Industrials fell heavily, and volume, sparked by a handful of extremely active speculatives, was highest in 2 1/2 years Thursday.

Volume was 8,458,900 shares compared with 5,199,900 Wednesday and 1,581,900 a year ago. The high volume was helped by Wiltsey - Cooblan, which reached a new high of 44 and turned over 1,297,700 shares. Industrials, after earlier strength, dropped heavily in the afternoon. The decline was led by refining oils, steels, utilities and banks and financial institutions and widespread fractional losses pitted all four groups.

On index, industrials fell 2.58 to 608.63, golds .75 to 88.26, base metals 1.23 to 208.70, and western oils 2.15 to 106.04.

Final volume was a large 8,458,000 shares compared with 5,199,000 Wednesday, the biggest volume since March 11, 1959.

The senior base metals list was weak with Steep Rock, Falconbridge and Labrador all off to 45 cents.

Gold trading was light. Western oil trade was weak with Dome, Pacific Petroleum, Great Plains and Home A all off as much as 3/4.

MONTREAL (CP)—Explosive activity in mines featured trading on the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges Thursday. Lake Dufault soared $1.10 to $10 after gaining $1.35 Wednesday when favorable assay results for its fourth drill hole were reported.

Mining volume was heavy at 1,310,600 shares, while 128,500 industrial shares were traded. Industrials led a general decline in prices. Most prominent loser was Distillers Seagrams, down 2 1/4 to 45 1/2 in heavy trading.

In banks, Commerce gained a point to 69 1/4, Nova Scotia lost 1/4 to 78 1/2 and Royal dropped 1/4 to 81 1/4.

Gatineau Power featured trading in utilities with a gain of 1 1/2 to 40 1/2 after touching 41 1/4, a new high. Calgary Power dipped 1/4 to 24 1/4.

International Nickel featured trading in base metals with a drop of 1 1/4 to 82 1/4. The company was selling ex-dividend Thursday. Hudson Bay Mining gained 1/4 to 53 1/4 and Aluminum added 1/4 to 29 1/4.

In papers, Fraser fell 1/2 to 26 1/2 and Price eased 1/4 to 54 1/2. In western oils, Alberta Gas Trunk A fell 1/4 to 35 1/2, Pacific Petroleum dropped 1/2 to 12 1/2 and Home A eased 1/4 to 11 1/4.

On index, banks were off .02 at 70.78, utilities up 1.4 to 147.2, a new 1961 high, industrials off 2.0 at 333.0, combined off .08 at 271.1, papers off 1.5 at 497.2 and golds off .05 at 84.46.

Smelter Workers Claim Inco Breaks Labor Act

SUDBURY (CP)—Local 598 of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind.) has accused the International Nickel Company of Canada of violating the Labor Relations Act by refusing to open negotiations for a new contract.

After the first company-union meeting Wednesday, T. D. Delamere, Inco spokesman, said discussions could serve no useful purpose until clarification of the status of the bargaining agent had been achieved.

The Mine-Mill local is seeking a new working agreement to replace the present three-year contract expiring Dec. 31. However, the United Steelworkers of America (USWA) conducted a recruiting campaign among the local's 16,000 members after a hassle between the local and its national office.

The steel union claims it has signed up enough workers to apply for certification.

Don Gillis, Local 598 president, branded the company's position "a stalling tactic and denial of the workers' rights."

He said Inco had violated the teams of the existing collective agreement and legal steps were being taken to force a resumption of contract talks.

Drums Give Welcome To Royalty

TEMA, Ghana (Reuters)—The Queen and Prince Philip Thursday drove to Ghana's new port of Tema and were greeted by beating drums and plectrums reading "heart welcome Lisie."

The port, 17 miles from Accra, is being built to handle Ghana's cocoa exports and eventually aluminum ingots from the giant Volta River project, which the royal party also visited.

Children lined the road here from Accra to watch the visitors, who were accompanied by President Kwame Nkrumah.

They toured the port area in an open Rolls-Royce past waving Norwegian, Russian, British and Israeli seamen on berthed merchant vessels.

The royal party then drove on to Akosombo, 60 miles northeast of Accra, where preliminary work has started on the site of the Volta River project.

Politicians From Canada Look At Berlin

By ALAN HARVEY
PARIS (CP)—A group of 15 Canadian Parliamentarians is giving up a scheduled weekend in Paris to take a close look at the crisis city of Berlin.

The group, here for the seventh annual conference of NATO parliamentarians, accepted an invitation from the West German Federal Republic to see what some commentators call the "post-wall" Berlin. This is a reference to the wall the Communists built through the divided city last Aug. 13.

The critical question is whether the Canadians, as civilians, will be allowed by the East - German authorities to travel into East Berlin.

The Canadian delegation, comprising senators and members of the Commons, is headed by Louis Fortin, Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Montmagny-L'Islet.

It is understood that many of the Canadian legislators have been considerably impressed by the problem of Berlin, which, seen from Paris, seems a more imminent danger than they thought on leaving Canada.

J. E. Koliberda of Nelson is shown with the cowboy on his horse, six gun and all that he molded out of cement. For story please see Odds and Ends column.—Daily News photo by Bob Blackmore.

Odds... and Ends

by M.D.B.

I stumbled upon a house with a cement lion crouching by the porch and a cement eagle atop the gable. On enquiring, I found that Mr. J. E. Koliberda had made them himself. They are not cast in a mold, he explained, but they had been molded by hand. In the basement he had the cowboy and horse pictured above. The two pieces were made separately and he seemed more pleased with this than with the lion. The horse's mane has been left hollow where a light is to be installed for night lighting.

He said he makes an iron form first and then goes on from there. The cowboy and horse took close to a month to make and the lion about three weeks. I liked the lion best, for the proportion was excellent. It had the long, lean grace of the big cat with a hint of ribs showing and every muscle in the powerful hindquarters molded to perfection. Its massive mane, glittering green eyes and stiff wire whiskers added to its ferocious mien and right down to the claws on the well-formed paws it was true in just about every detail.

Mr. Koliberda is Ukrainian. He left his homeland in 1943 when he had "to go to work for the Germans." He was in Germany four years and then moved to England where he lived in Manchester five years, coming to Canada in 1953. He did carpenter work or any other jobs available.

His wife smiles and says, "All winter long—cement, cement, cement," for this is when Mr. Koliberda indulges in his hobby. He has the ends of two fingers off from a power mower accident, but this does not keep him from shaping the cement to his liking.

These things are really for a park, not for a house, his wife observes good-naturedly, but she smiles and shrugs her shoulders to express what her limited English will not do for her.

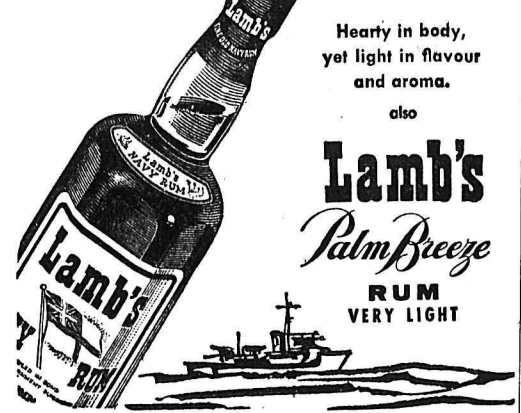

She probably feels the same as I—that if a man's home is his castle, as the old adage says, then who is to say him nay if he wishes a symbolic lion guarding his door and an eagle keeping watch from his roof?

In the Sistan region of Iran the "Wind of 120 Days" scours the land from June through September with gale-force gusts.

Mr. Koliberda is Ukrainian. He

Douglas Scores Government Tocsin B Civil Defence

TORONTO (CP)—Tocsin B, Canada's civil defence exercise, was a bizarre performance designed to divert attention from the government's lack of civil defence or nuclear weapons policy, T. C. Douglas, New Democratic Party leader, said Wednesday night.

Mr. Douglas said if the government believes there is danger of a nuclear war it should assist in building public shelters.

He said Prime Minister Diefenbaker had taken the stand that an attack on Berlin would be an attack on Canada.

"If the prime minister attempts to take this country into war over whether East Germany or Russia is to stamp passports, then the New Democratic Party will rally the Canadian people behind it in opposition."

Mr. Douglas said neither pacifism nor isolationism is the road to peace. The United Nations should be reconstituted with power to impose sanctions against aggressors.

FAVORS ECONOMIC AID
The North Atlantic Treaty Organization could be used as a UN police force, he said. But economic aid and friendship would go further in establishing peace than all the weapons.

Repeating his party's stand against Canada's acceptance of nuclear weapons, he said Canada should be the leader of the middle powers but cannot be if it approaches them with nuclear weapons in its hand.

The former premier of Saskatchewan said the NDP supports a welfare state for Canada.

"Let's not be afraid of the word."

Mr. Douglas addressed a crowd of 1,000 at a nomination meeting of NDP members of the federal riding of York Centre.

Nominated was Val Scott, business manager of the Ontario Hydro Professional Engineers.
