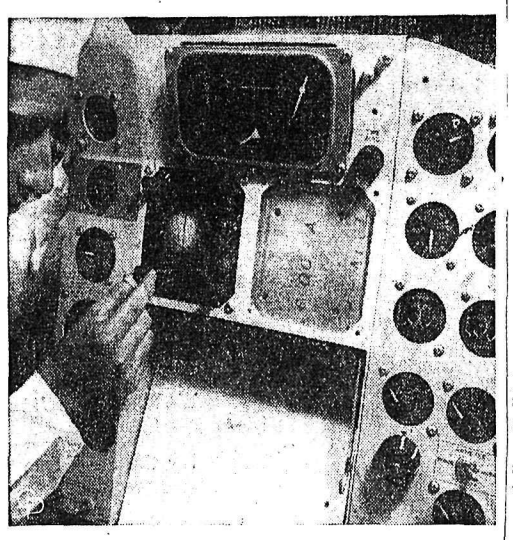
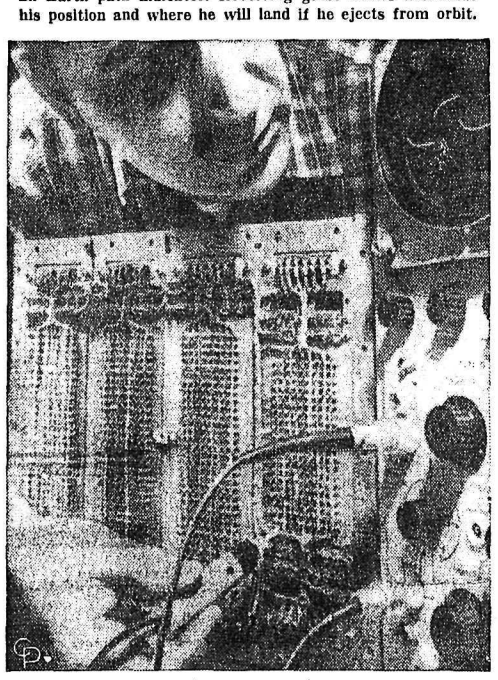
INSTRUMENTS UNLIMITED

THE CONTROL PANEL in the Project Mercury space capsule is enough to put the layman in mental orbit all by itself. Here are instruments Minneapolis-Honeywell cooked up.



The large instrument at top, a gyroscopically-controlled pitch, roll and yaw indicator, tells the astronaut whether his capsule is tumbling or not, and permits him to fly manually. The instrument being adjusted by the technician is an Earth path indicator. Revolving globe shows astronaut his position and where he will land if he ejects from orbit.



This is the electronic brain for the attitude stabilization and control system of the capsule. The logic panel (left) contains more than 3,000 electronic connections which make vital decisions during flight. This computer, working in conjunction with gyroscopes and reaction jets, will stabilize the capsule to prevent tumbling, and will position it properly for re-entry into Earth's atmosphere.

Swank Hotel Combed for Revolt Leaders

Police Have No Luck in Search For Missing Generals

By BASIL CHAPMAN

ALGIERS, Algeria (Reuters) — Armored cars ringed the exclusive St. George's Hotel here Sunday night as police ransacked lounges, bedrooms and attics in a full-scale hunt for the fugitive leaders of the abortive military revolt last week.

The hotel telephone lines were cut as police searched every room, looking into every cupboard and under beds.

They found no one.

The hotel is used mainly by government guests and officials.

Police also searched the nearby Rignot district, headquarters of the combined services general staff for Algeria, and the Bougeaux district headquarters of the army command for all Algeria. Again they drew blanks.

SEEK DOCUMENTS

Police even searched the delegation - general, the main government building, apparently on the lookout for documents implicating officers or officials in the revolt.

Troops, riot police and gendarmes were moved into the centre of Algiers for the hunt. Streets and squares were clogged with military vehicles and many of the security forces put up camp beds, ready for a night's stay.

In Algeria, as the purge of anti - Gaullist elements in the army and administration continued Sunday, eight persons were injured as Foreign Legionnaires and Moslems clashed in Bone, eastern Algeria.

The French Mediterranean fleet, which has been anchored in Algiers bay since Thursday, sailed Sunday night for an unknown destination.

BOYCOTT CHURCHES

Europeans boycotted church services in Algiers in silent defiance of President de Gaulle and in solidarity with the mutineers.

Boycott orders circulated like wildfire when it was learned that Archbishop Leon Duval of Algiers had said in a pastoral letter that only a small majority of "misled people" were behind the revolt.

Meantime, the French Mediterranean fleet which has been off Algiers since Thursday following the collapse of the four-day revolt, sailed Sunday night for an unknown destination—a further sign that the French government has things well under control here again.

Only a third of the bishop's usual congregation heard him read his letter in Algiers Cathedral. In other churches some priests refused to read it, or else omitted passages with which they disagreed.

At St. Elizabeth Church, where mass was televised, the congregation coughed and scraped their chairs to drown the priest's words.

Rebel Proposal Boosts Hopes for Cease-Fire

Nehru Not Making Headway With Russia

By SIDNEY WEILAND

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru was reported Sunday to be in touch with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and President Ho Chi Minh of Communist North Viet Nam in efforts to speed up a cease-fire in Laos.

But diplomatic sources said that Russia's initial response to Indian diplomatic feelers appeared to be "touch." Russia is reported to be saying that the delay in achieving a cease-fire —called for in an Anglo-Soviet appeal last Monday—is largely caused by the build-up of the U.S. military advisory group in Laos.

It was understood from authoritative sources that Nehru wrote directly to Khrushchev and President Ho to urge their intervention to bring about a speedy end to the fighting.

Nehru's move followed a message from President Kennedy asking him to use his good offices in Communist capitals, and after informal approaches from the British government stressing the urgency of a Laotian cease-fire.

SERIOUS CONCERN

There is serious concern here that a further delay in halting the Laos fighting might spark U.S.-sponsored military action in Laos.

The three-nation Laos truce supervisory commission—set up by the 1954 Geneva conference that ended the Indochina war—has agreed on a text of a report to Britain and Russia, commission sources said Sunday.

A draft of the report has been cabled to Ottawa and Warsaw for clearance by the Canadian and Polish governments. The Indian government also is examining the test since India is commission chairman.

The report is understood to suggest that the group should be authorized to leave for Laos as soon as a cease-fire is announced.

It is believed the commission also suggested that it might leave for Laos even before a cease-fire, provided that firm agreement is reached by the two sides in Laos to stop fighting.

Gov't Officer to Go Out Under White Flag Today

By JOHN GRIFFIN

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The rebel regime proposed Sunday a meeting of military leaders on the front north of this capital, raising hopes here for a cease-fire in Laos.

But at the same time, strong enemy forces struck at Ban Keun, a large town only 25 miles north of this administrative capital. Western observers said the question remains whether a cease-fire formula can be worked out between the government and the pro-Communist rebels.

The answer may come today when a government officer is scheduled to go out again under a white flag in an attempt to make contact with the Pathet Lao rebels in the no - man's-land area near Vang Khy and get cease-fire talks started. He got no response when he went out on a similar mission Saturday.

On Sunday, neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, recognized by the Communist bloc as premier of Laos, announced he would agree to a military meeting before Wednesday at Ban Namon, about 15 miles north of Vang Khy and about 35 miles north of here.

SAFE CONDUCT

Capt. Kong Le, rebel military commander, in another broadcast promised safe conduct to Ban Namon. He proposed each side send a delegation of from five to 10 persons "to discuss the fixing of a specific date and hour at which a cease - fire should begin, and to discuss rules governing the cease-fire."

It was the first time either Souvanna or the pro-Communist Pathet Lao had suggested a meeting outside the rebel stronghold of Xieng Khuong of the central plain, or in Vang Vieng, the royal military headquarters 45 miles north of Vientiane seized by the Pathet Lao last week.

The country around Ban Namon is rebel-controlled. Military men, however, consider much of the area between Ban Namon and Van Vieng a no - man's land. Some royal troop contingents have penetrated the region.

In Rangoon, the U.S., British and French ambassadors asked Burmese premier U Nu to use his good offices to get a cease-fire, and in Bangkok, SEATO secretary - general Pote Sarasin said an emergency session of the organization's eight - nation council voiced hope that a cease-fire may be worked out in a day or two.

ACROSS CANADA

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — Prince George branch of the Canadian Legion was ordered closed Saturday by provincial headquarters because of failure to file its annual accounts. Officials said the accounts have now been forwarded and it is hoped the branch will be allowed to reopen Monday.

CHIBOUGAMAU, Que. (CP) —Two miners were killed and 10 others injured—four seriously—when fire swept through living quarters at the Campbell-Chibougamau mine early Saturday.

Dead are Sam McIsaac, 23, and Denis Auclair, 28. Their bodies were found in the debris of the 72-bed dormitory.

TORONTO (CP) — A woman who police said looks and dresses like a man is to be given a lie-detector test in connection with the slaying two years ago of Patricia Lupton.

The girl's body was found on March 9, 1959, in suburban Scarborough after she told her mother she was meeting a man in a parking lot to keep a baby-sitting appointment. She had been strangled with her own scarf.

TORONTO (CP)—A 16-month old boy was killed Saturday when a car ran over him in an apartment building parking lot where he was tied to the bumper of his parents' car to keep him from running on the road.

CHATHAM, Ont. (CP) — Five hundred people were evacuated from a dance hall Saturday after president George Verscheure of the Kent County Belgian - Dutch-Canadian Club received a call a bomb had been planted in the hall.

After a search of the hall, police sergeant W. S. Donaldson said the call apparently was from a crank or a prankstr.

EDMUNDSTON, N. B. (CP) —Three men were killed Sunday when their car veered off the highway and crashed into a house.

Dead are Joseph Jean Castonguay, 22, Joseph Claude Oullette, 22, and Maurice Cote, 24, all of Drummond, N. B.

MONTREAL (CP) — Bell Telephone Company of Canada had net income in the three months ended March 31 of $12,380,073, or 58 cents a share, compared with $12,259,086 and 58 cents in the corresponding period last year. Average number of shares outstanding was 21,383,205 compared with 21,056,793.

Finlayson Resigns PC Leadership

DEANE FINLAYSON

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP)—Deane Finlayson resigned Saturday after nine years as leader of the British Columbia Progressive Conservative party.

The 41-year-old business man, who failed three times in efforts to win election to the provincial legislature and once in a federal election campaign, handed in his resignation at a regular meeting of the party's provincial executive.

During his leadership he fought with his own party's national organization as well as with the Social Credit, CCF and Liberal parties on the provincial scene.

Mr. Finlayson predicted his resignation at a party meeting last December, three months after the Progressive Conservatives suffered complete defeat in the B.C. general election. They fought all 52 seats in the province but never were close to winning one.

The election saw Mr. Finlayson defeated in North Vancouver where Liberal leader Ray Perrault rode to victory.

PREVIOUS DEFEATS

He previously had been defeated in provincial general elections in North Vancouver, in 1956, and in Voctiria, in 1953, in a provincial by-election in Oak Bay in 1953 and in a 1953 federal election campaign in Nanaimo.

The executive took no action Saturday to appoint a successor. It is expected the matter will be discussed at the party's fall meeting in Vancouver.

Mr. Finlayson was censured by the federal party organization early in his leadership for criticism of national party policy and of the then national leader George Drew. He once charged the national party was supporting the Social Credit government in B.C.

In 1958 he was confirmed as leader at a general convention. He said he would resign if he failed to obtain election to the legislature at the next general election.

Green Named Man of Year

VANCOUVER (CP) — External Affairs Minister Green was named man of the year at the annual "suds and skits" banquet of the B.C. Newsmen's Club Saturday. Mr. Green is the Progressive Conservative Member of Parliament for Vancouver-Quadra. Saturday's award was accepted on Mr. Green's behalf by his son David.

JAZZ MAN DIES

NEW YORK (AP) — Irving (Miff) Mole, 63, a noted jazz musician who played with Benny Goodman, Paul Whiteman and other leading bands, died at his home Saturday.

U.S. Not Optimistic

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Laotian rebels' offer to discuss a cease - fire stirred private hopes but not public optimism Sunday among often - disappointed United States administration officials.

Meanwhile, plans went forward for President Kennedy's meeting today with the National Security Council — the fourth session for that top strategy group within 10 days and perhaps the critical one in the Laos crisis.

In a sudden change of plans, Kennedy cut short his weekend at his farm retreat near Middleburg, Va., to return to the capital Sunday night instead of this morning. There was no indication whether the Laos situation was responsible.

While diplomats held to a cautious, wait-and-see position—at least until today—U.S. armed forces appeared to be preparing in secrecy for any role they may be called on to play in southast Asia or elsewhere.

The state department studied news dispatches from Laos which told of a rebel cease-fire offer but said the department had no official word.

State Secretary Dean Rusk spent much of Sunday at his office conferring with his Far Eastern advisers.

It was made known that the United States is consulting with its allies, presumably to emphasize its fear that complete collapse of the royal government can not be long delayed if rebel pressure continues and there is no outside help.

There was one clear sign of military preparations on this side of the Pacific. This came in the sudden, 11th-hour cancellation of a 6,000-man training mission to Europe.

Troops standing ready to board a fleet of about 300 transport planes were returned to their barracks at Fort Campbell, Ky., at mid-afternoon Sunday.

QUEMOY BOMBED

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Communists dropped 146 shells on Quemoy in a bombardment lasting two hours and 10 minutes Saturday, the heaviest shelling the off-shore island has had since last October.

A spokesman for the Nationalist defence ministry said the Communists still are sticking to their self-imposed pattern of shooting only on odd-numbered days.

UN Force Badly Hit By Congolese Troops

LEOPOLDVILLE (Reuters) — A United Nations spokesman said Sunday that two British officers and two Swedes seized by Congolese troops in an attack on a UN garrison were missing and presumed dead.

The spokesman said three Ghanians were dead and about half the 60 Ghanian troops at Port Francqui, 350 miles east of here in Kasai province, were unaccounted for.

The entire UN force was overrun by superior Congolese forces Saturday. The clash was set off by the arrival at Port Francqui Friday of a new provincial minister from the Kasai province capital of Luluabourg, who triggered suspicion among the Congolese soldiers.

The minister, who name was not known arrived to investigate 10 days of increasing tension between members of the Lulua and Baluba tribe.

The Congolese apparently believed the UN was either behind the inspection or would protect the minister during his probe.

Fort Francqui is the main port of the Central Congo River in Kasai province and a major rail junction on the line running north from Elisabethville, capital of Katanga province.

Tshombe To Be Held at Leopoldville

COQUILHATVILLE, Congo (Reuters) — Secessionist Katanga President Moise Tshombe who quit a Congolese leaders' conference here Wednesday, will be secretly transferred to detention in Leopoldville, central government authorities said here Sunday.

In a move seen as an attempt to crush Tshombe and bring mineral rich Katanga back into The Congo fold, Tshombe was accused of coming to the Equator province conference—called to solve Congolese internal problems — with the intention of wrecking it.

Justin Bomboko, foreign minister in President Joseph Kasavubu's central government, had charged Tshombe with a variety of offences, including "issuing his own currency, which is punishable by death under the penal code." Bomboko earlier had announced that Tshombe would be held here indefinitely.

But Kasavubu security chief Viktor Ndeka later said Tshombe would be transferred 370 miles to Leopoldville and held in a villa.

Train Crash Kills 13

ISTANBUL, Turkey (Reuters) — Eleven persons were killed outright Sunday night, two died later in hospitals and at least 50 were hurt when a train laden with weekenders from a seaside resort piled into the rear of an express train at nearby Kartal.

About 20 of the injured suffered severe injuries and it was feared the death toll would rise.

Memorial Service Honors Fishermen

LOCKEPORT, N.S. (CP) — Boats and buildings in this south shore fishing community flew flags at half mast Sunday as a gathering of 1,000 relatives and friends observed a memorial service for 17 fishermen lost in an Atlantic storm six weeks ago.

Wreaths from across Canada will be carried out to sea when the weather clears.

First U.S. Astronaut Identity Unknown

CAPE CANAVERAL, Florida (AP) — Astronaut-X—his identity masked from the outside world—tapered off in seclusion Sunday, less than 48 hours before making history as the first American to try to penetrate space.

Expectancy and excitement gripped the nearby resort town of Cocoa Beach where some 450 reporters concentrated for the man-in-space launching, expected shortly after dawn Tuesday.

Just about everybody had his own hunch as to which of the three "finalists" among the U. S. astronauts would step out of hangar "S" Tuesday, revealed for the first time as the pioneer to ride a rocket-boosted capsule into near space and back.

Many seemed to be betting on Lt.-Col. John H. Glenn jr., a green-eyed, red-haired marine. At 39, he is the oldest of the group.

But there were plenty of backers for 37-year-old navy Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard, jr., and 35-year-old air force Capt. Virgil L. Grissom.

Tal Wins 17th

MOSCOW (AP) — Michael Tal, the defending champion, won the 17th game in the world chess tournament Saturday after 84 moves.

Forty of the moves were made Friday before the game was adjourned, with challenger Mikhail Botvinnik holding a definite positional advantage.

Botvinnik, who played white, still leads Tal by 10½ points to 6½ and needs only two more points to regain the title he lost a year ago.

Eichmann Counsel Would Question Nazi SS Guards

JERUSALEM (Reuters)—Adolf Eichmann's defence lawyers will ask that testimony be heard from about 10 former S.S. (Nazi elite guard) officers or German government officials, assistant defence counsel Dieter Wechtenbruch said Sunday.

He added that continued efforts will be made to persuade the West German government to pay for Eichmann's defence, but if this is refused it might be necessary to rely on the sale of memoirs written by the former S.S. colonel on trial here for responsibility in the wartime murder of millions of jews.

Wechtenbruch had just returned here after scouring West Germany and Austria for a week in search of witnesses. He told reporters the defence would submit a list of them to Gideon Hausner, Israel's attorney-general, who is leading the prosecution of Eichmann.

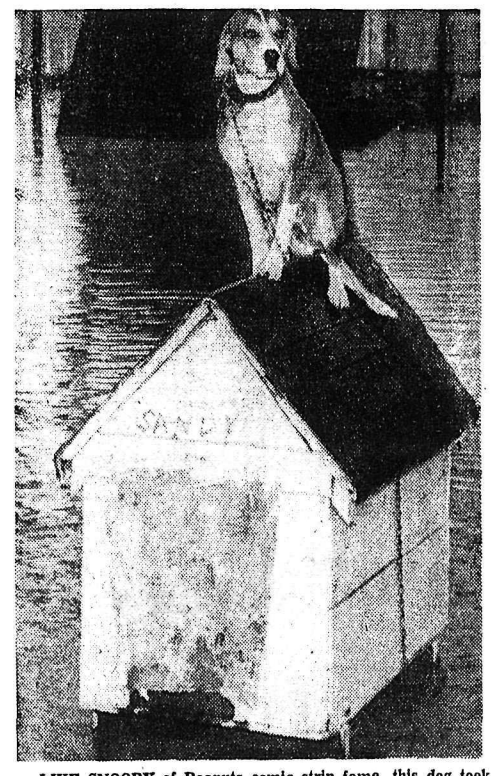
Wechtenbruch said on his trip to West Germany that he had not spoken to Hans Globke, state secretary to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who was mentioned in press reports here earlier as a possible defence witness.

Globke was an official of the Nazi interior ministry concerned, among other things, with Jewish affairs.

Asked if a decision to call Globke now is excluded, he replied that it is not.

Wechtenbruch said in answer to reporters' questions in his courtroom office that not all the proposed witnesses are willing to come to Israel.

Submission of the list would enable the attorney - general to state which of them could be given immunity if they offered to come. The lawyer declined to give any names.



LIKE SNOOPY of Peanuts comic strip fame, this dog took to the roof of his dog house. Sandy, pet of the Robinsons of Puce, near Windsor, Ont., climbed upstairs when a flood hit the area. He was able to come down a few hours later when the flood receded.—TNS photo.

And in This Corner . . .

DECIMOMANNU, Italy (Reuters) — Prince Philip aimed a seasonal wisecrack at a group of Canadian airmen on his arrival here with Queen Elizabeth.

As the official car drove slowly past a detachment of the rain-drenched Canadians at the Atlantic alliance's base in Sardinia, the Prince called out through an open window, "you are lucky it is not snowing."

Wing Cmdr. Warren Middleton of Chatham, Ont., who commands the Canadian air detachment here, said later, "that human remark immediately cheered up my men."

LONDON (AP) — "Winkle Pickers," those long pointed pumps worn by England's young city slickers, and big time insurance just don't go together, rules Lloyds.

You can take out a policy with that august pillar of commercial insurance against the loss of a multi-million dollar ocean liner.

You can insure against having twins, against rain on the night of a big fight or even against a libel suit — but never darken the portals of Lloyds wearing Italian style jackets, tight fitting pants or "Winkle Pickers."

To do so would be to incur the grave displeasure of the bowlered figures of sartorial elegance who govern that ancient institution.

In fact, you'd be "bounced."

Upper Fairview Hits Quota

61.1 Per Cent Sign Petition; More to Come

Petition to amalgamate with the City has met with success in all three of Nelson's extra-municipal areas.

Sunday night J. M. Morley announced that the Upper Fairview petition had been signed by 61.1 per cent of the resident property-owners.

The area representative said there were more signatures yet to come, and that his large suburban district would be voicing its approval with a greater majority.

Delegates from chambers at Grand Forks and Castlegar opposed Trail Chamber President Harry Shannon's proposal that the association purchase $800 in advertising in the upcoming Seattle Times' 30-page supplementary edition on B.C. Mr. Shannon informed delegates the provincial government has guaranteed to pay one-third the cost of additional pages for each area in the province.

FERRY SERVICE

Delegates called for completion of the Christina Lake — Kinnaird and Salmo — Creston sections as early as construction time permits. They requested bridges crossing the Columbia and Kootenay Rivers in the Kinnaird area to be started this year with connecting roads to Highway No. 3 and to Salmo started soon.

Delegates called for establishment of a 24-hour ferry service on Kootenay Lake.

Highway improvement between Kootenay Bay and Kuskanook to eliminate sharp curves and narrow road will be asked of the Provincial Department of Highways.

The re-building to highway standards of the sections from Cranbrook Junction to Fort Steele Junction and from Michel to Crow's Nest Pass will be asked of the department.

Delegates called for the Rossland-Sheep Lake section to be under contract by 1962.

Grand Forks - Boundary Falls section and Ritcher's Pass section of highway must be proceeded with and completed as soon as possible, delegates resolved.

Delegates called for the paving and completion of Highway No. 6 between South Slocan and Lumby during the next four years. It was resolved that the Kaslo - Lardeau - Revelstoke route is "essential as an alternative all-year route to No. 1 Trans-Canada Highway and should be completed at an early date to further stabilize the economy of Southeastern B.C."

Delegates called for the survey and commencement of construction on a route to join Highways No. 3 and No. 6 to serve the Lower Arrow Lakes Area.

Completion of reconstruction and paving between Cranbrook and Golden on Highway N. 95 will be asked of the highways department.

SCHOOLS

Delegates asked that centralized schools be kept up in the Southeastern part of the province, particularly in the Grand Forks area.

The association will request the provincial and federal governments to establish a vocational school on a suitable site in Southeastern B.C.

Modern airport equipment, including high intensity runway lighting will be asked of the Federal Department of Transport for the Castlegar and Cranbrook Airports. Also requested in the matter of airport facilities are the up-dating of presently overcrowded and inadequate terminal buildings and lengthening of the present runways in order to accommodate safely larger aircarft.

RETARDED CHILDREN

Delegates resolved that the porvincial government be commended for the help afforded retarded children and for its intention of relieving overcrowded conditions at Woodlands by reopening of further sections at Tranquille.

Delegates called for establishment of cottage-type care centres for retarded children and that steps be taken to obtain more trained personnel for care of retarded children.

The government will be urged to etstablish outpatient mental health clinics with adequate staff at locations throughout the province.

In South Nelson the canvass was all but complete, with signatures of almost 80 per cent of the eligible voters on the petition.

The Rosemont area topped its three-fifths majority requirement, and the canvassers were still adding signatures Sunday night.

Thus, the first move toward a new, greater City of Nelson has apparently succeeded.

With the return of the petitions for verification by City Clerk C. W. R. Harper and their approval by the Department of Municipal Affairs, the next step will be up to the City voters.

Their ballot, which also requires a 60 per cent majority, has been tentatively set for June 2. Third is the application for Letters Patent to extend the city's boundaries.

Accomplishment of all three phases of the program will bring an estimated 2500 new citizens into the municipality, increasing its population to about 10,000. Total of 650 acres will be added to the present acreage of 750.

The boundary extension will be the first since 1923, when Fairview amalgamated, and only the second in the City's 64-year history.

ASSOCIATED CHAMBERS RESTATE STAND ON HIGH ARROW PROJECT

NAKUSP — A majority of delegates to the 60th annual meeting Saturday of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Southeastern British Columbia recommended "that High Arrow be not constructed unless the government of British Columbia show, to the satisfaction of the people of Southeastern B.C. that High Arrow will be beneficial to Southeastern B.C."

Associated Chambers' resolution committee, chaired by William Waldie, Castlegar delegate, recommended against a proposal of the Lower Arrow Lakes board that the chambers request federal and provincial governments not to construct High Arrow.

Mr. Wadlie said: "We feel that the resolution passed at Nelson explains the position of this body much better than the Lower Arrow Lakes motion."

In Nelson in February 1960, the chambers backed a resolution recommending that the High Arrow dam not be constructed unless the provincial government can prove to the people that the project will be beneficial to southeastern B.C.

RENEW OPPOSITION

Saturday at Nakusp the Lower Arrow Lakes delegates bowed to obvious majority feeling and withdrew their resolution.

Outside the convention hall a private meeting of the Arrow Lakes Water Resources Committee planned "continued effective opposition" to High Arrow.

Arrow Lakes Water Resources Committee chairman D. C. Waterfield, of Nakusp, speaking to a reporter Friday, said F. J. Bartholomew, the committee's consulting engineer, has prepared briefs opposing High Arrow. The briefs will be sent to the B.C. Energy Board. The committee is working on a tourist and agriculture brief to be sent to provincial government bodies.

"It would be considered bad taste to disclose the information in these briefs before they are sent to government officials," Mr. Waterfield said. He said the information would "lose its political power" if disclosed now.

The committee met at 9 a.m. Saturday in the Nakusp Fire Hall, one block from the convention hall. Present were Mr. Waterfield, Mr. Waldie, Mr. Bartholomew, Mayor Walter Hardman, Robert C. Hume, D. Crawford, George Hobbs, MLA, all of Revelstoke, and Boyd C. Affleck of Nelson and R. F. Cook, of Nakusp.

Roads and Bridges Projects Sketched

NAKUSP — A telegram of April 24 from Deputy Highways Minister H. T. Miard, outlining Kootenay road projects slated for construction this year, was read Friday by Vice-President Douglas McMynn, of Trail, to delegates to the 60th annual convention of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Southeastern B.C.

Projects will be undertaken on the Kootenay to Columbia, Vernon to Slocan and Southern Trans-Provincial highways.

The deputy minister said Highway No. 3 work will be carried west of Grand Forks.

Contract work is to continue on the Christina-Sheep Lake section of the Blueberry - Paulson highway, the Salmo-Creston highway and the Rossland-Sheep Lake section.

The approaches to Trail's new Columbia River bridge are scheduled to be constructed this year and other contract work will be done on the Elk River bridge, the Goat River bridge and the South Slocan railway overpass.

Paving projects this year will include all of the Blueberry-Paulson with the exception of a section still under construction. Seal coating is planned on the Elko-Rossville highway.

McMynn Named President of C.E. Chambers

J. D. McMYNN

NAKUSP — J. Douglas McMynn of Trail, an engineer employed by West Kootenay Power and Light Company, Saturday was elected president for the 1961 term of office of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Southeastern British Columbia at the two-day 60th annual convention.

Mr. McMynn, recently elected a director of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, succeeds K. S. Stewart of Fernie, president for two consecutive terms.

C. W. Ramsden, second vice-president in 1960, was named to the first vice-president's office. Sam Salvador of Creston, was returned to the executive after a year's absence. He will serve as second vice-president.

Before vacating the presidency, Mr. Stewart suggested the incoming officers set up a committee to study the "policies and purposes" of the associated chambers and to examine the constitution.

"It is time for a review and reassessment," Mr. Stewart said.

Surprise turn of the annual election was the failure of the delegates to reappoint J. M. Macbeth of Castlegar, as secretary-treasurer. A statement from Mr. Macbeth is expected possibly sometime this week. The 1960 secretary-treasurer said Sunday he expected the matter might require some clarification.

Empty Bottles Bring Over $200 To Scout Coffers

Between $200 and $250 in bottles were collected by Nelson Boy Scouts during a Saturday bottle drive.

D. L. Meakins, co-chairman of the drive expressed satisfaction with the results although it wasn't as successful as in some former years. He stated most of the city had been covered with a few places missed on account of the weather.

Former Nelson Puckster Frank O'Genski Dies

Frank O'Genski, one of the best known of oldtime Nelson senior hockey players, died in Kootenay Lake General Hospital Friday, age 66.

Born in Montreal, he came to Nelson as a young boy in 1901. He served with the 54th Battalion of the Canadian Expeditionary Forces during World War I from 1915 to 1919.

He was one of the oldest of Nelson hockey players having been active in the game for 27 years. His name first appeared in the lineups of Nelson hockey in 1909, when as a boy of 14, he scored his first goal in a game at Kaslo. He played in senior hockey teams in Nelson, Trail and Portland, Ore.

His most outstanding game was when he played for Trail against Rossland. Trail won 8-0—all goals were scored by O'Genski.

His last senior game was in the 1939-40 season in the new Civic Centre arena. He played for Oldtimers' for a few years after, and remained an ardent hockey fan until his death.

Mr. O'Genski is survived by his wife, Doris; two daughters, Mrs. Herbert Currie of Kirkland Lake, Ont., and Mrs. E. Thorbeck of Lulu Island, B. C.; one son, George, of New Westminster; two brothers, John of Nelson and Joe of Nanaimo; one sister, Mrs. Rose Henderson of Hot Springs, Mont.; and 13 grandchildren.

MRS. LAYBOURNE DIES, AGE 64

Mrs. Ethel Euretta Laybourne, a Nelson resident for several years, died Saturday aged 64.

Born in Ontario, she came west to Saskatchewan with her parents as a young girl. She married Benjamin Franklin Laybourne at Swift Current where they farmed until coming to Kaslo in 1949. They moved to Nelson in 1954 where her husband predeceased her in 1955. She has lived with her son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McAdam since.

Mrs. Laybourne is survived by five sons, Martin, Arthur and Kenneth all of Kaslo, Lyle of Montreal and Wallace of Calgary; two daughters Mrs. J. C. (Eileen) McAdam, and Mrs. Roy (Freda) Driver of Williams Lake; her father and stepmother Mr. and Mrs. Neil McMartin of North Orillia, Ontario; sixteen grandchildren.

Detroit Calls For Nelson Square Dancer

A Nelson man will be calling the tune while North Americans dance this summer.

J. G. James has accepted an invitation to call square and contra dances at the Tenth Annual National Square Dance Convention in Detroit June 29-July 1. He will also act as master of ceremonies during part of the program. To date over 9,000 dancers have registered for the event.

The invitation was announced at a square dance party Saturday. Eighteen squares from Nelson, Bonnington, Riondel, and Trail as well as visitors from Spokane took part.

Diplomas were presented to 1960 - 61 "Freshmen". Dancing grandparents and guests from Spokane were presented with figurines as mementoes of the occasion.

ONE INJURED IN SOUTH SLOCAN CAR ACCIDENT

One man was injured and another escaped unhurt after a car hit the shoulder of the road and flipped over into the ditch three miles east of South Slocan shortly after mid-night Saturday.

Fred Perepolkin of Shoreacres was released after treatment for facial lacerations from Kootenay Lake General Hospital. William Sheribin, driver, did not require medical attention. Perepolkin was cut when thrown partly through the windshield.

Damage to the 1953 car is estimated at between $500 and $1000.

Spring Assize to Open on Schedule

Unlike one spring ago the West Kootenay Spring Assize of the Supreme Court of British Columbia this year will get underway on schedule Tuesday.

A year ago the prolonged East Kootenay Spring Assize in Cranbrook forced postponement of the starting time of the West Kootenay Assize several times.

Tuesday Mr. Justice H. A. MacLean of Vancouver will preside. He will be prepared to hear the cross-examinations of a murder trial, an arson trial and three appeals resulting out of lower court convictions.

Charged with murder of Elsie Strebchuck of Creston in her home on the morning of October 15, 1960 is her neighbr George Belik.

Charged with arson which threatened the surrounding property is Mrs. Laura Bayoff of Creston. The incident occurred over the Christmas holiday season.

Acting as counsel for the crown will be R. Blake Allan of Nelson and he will be assisted by B. K. Arlidge of Nelson.

In Vernon this morning another arson trial will be heard. Peter and Mary Astorforoff of Grand Forks will be tried for the burning of their Grand Forks home over the Christmas holiday along with Nastia Hadikin of Crescent Valley.

RICHARD CATTON

MELVIN MAGLIO

KEITH WILSON

Nelson District Students On College Honors List

Three students from the Nelson area received top honors at Notre Dame University College as a result of the College's mid-semester exams. They are Richard Catton, a first-year student of Crescent Valley with a 90 per cent grade point average; Melvin Maglio, a second-year student of Nelson with an 80 per cent average; and Keith Wilson, a freshman from Salmo with an 81 per cent.

Mr. Catton, who plans on continuing his studies in engineering at University of B.C., tied Miss Mary Skubiac of Kelowna, in achieving semester's highest grade average. He receives A's in Chemistry, English Literature, French, Math, Physics and Theology. His lowest mark B was received in English Composition.

Other students on the honor roll at Notre Dame are: Miss Patricia Heal of Oliver, with an 80; Miss Nola Landucci of Trail, with an 84; Mr. Raymond Marusyk of Kimberley with an 80; Miss Lorraine Schwartzenhauer of Castlegar with an 87; Mr. Donald Shumka of Lumby with an 87; and Miss Grayce Yamamoto of Slocan City with an 80.

To make the honor roll at Notre Dame a student must receive an 80 per cent or better grade average and pass all subjects. This is no easy task as the passing mark at Notre Dame is 60 per cent, rather than the Canadian standard of 50 per cent.

Robson Pioneer O. B. Ballard Dies

CASTLEGAR — Oswald Bertram Ballard, 82, a longtime Robson resident died Saturday in Castlegar and District Hospital.

He was born in England in 1879 and came to Canada in 1909 when he settled in Syringa Creek. He served overseas during World War I and was invalided home aftewards. In 1916 he married Eunice Ada in England. They took up his former residence in Robson on his return from the war.

Mr. Ballard was a past president of the Central Pharmacists Institute for 16 years. He served as a stipendiary magistrate and was a charter member of Canadian Legion No. 170. He served as warden of the Robson Memorial Church and was on the Robson School Board.

He is survived by his wife in Robson; one son Rex in Edmonton, Alberta; one daughter, Mrs. Jean Wylie of Robson, and four grandchildren.

Kujundzic Exhibition Wins Best Reception

The most successful exhibition ever to be held in the New Design Gallery in Vancouver is a showing now taking place of paintings by Zeljko Kujundzic. A. L. Balkin, director of the gallery stated, "It is the best reception any exhibit has ever had here."

Opening day, April 20, found the gallery packed. Artists and critics voiced boundless enthusiasm for the refreshing originality of the artist.

Many of the paintings had already been sold the first day.

Commentators stated so much of modern painting consists of either landscapes or pure abstractions.

What amazed a great many of the spectators who may not have been to familiar with Mr. Jujundzic's work was that it is modern and abstract yet has its roots in tradition, in that it is interested in the human aspects rather than pure technique so prevalent in modern art.

The consensus was that the artist is the first interpreter of British Columbia life since Emily Carr. This, they stated, can particularly be seen in his Indian and Doukhobor subjects.

Another "first" was scored by Mr. Kujundzic in that the Vancouver Art Gallery has asked permission to show his work immediately following the present exhibition which ends May 6.

The enthusiasm shown by the public made the chairman of the Art Gallery exhibition committee feel justified in having a second one there immediately. He felt it should be available for the tourist season starting soon.

Crystal Hall Fate Pondered

WILLOW POINT — The fate of the veteran Willow Point Crystal Hall will be decided at a meeting of the Crystal Club Tuesday.

The hall was built in 1910 as a community centre. It was enlarged several times and a stage was added. In its early years it was the chief centre of entertainment at Willow Point. Many oldtimers will remember dances, social evenings and stage plays that ran for a week under the direction of the doughty Colonel Arthur Taylor.

The hall has been losing money steadily over a period of time and it is now up to the club to decide its future.

Mayoress of Alberni Enjoys Battle of Sexes

ALBERNI, B.C. (CP) — By any rules of combat, a newspaper story said, Mayor Mabel Anderson should sue for peace.

A petition signed by more voters than put her into office has called for her resignation on grounds of incompetence.

Aldermanic candidates she supported in the last civic election were beaten to the last man.

She's had only squatter's rights to the gavel since council decided to bypass her by voting her out of the chair.

And aldermen put her out of business for three weeks when they voted to suspend council business pending clarification of her threat to call a public inquiry into city affairs.

It all began in December, 1959, when this Vancouver Island city of 10,000 put Mrs. Mabel Anderson into the mayor's chair.

The running battle of the sexes has continued weekly since then, yet Mabel—nobody seems to call her Mrs. Anderson—appears as fresh as a python after a winter sleep.

ALDERMEN SHOW STRAIN

The same cannot be said for the six aldermen — a former member of Parliament, a contract logger, a car salesman, a millworker, a barber and a boom man.

They may sense that the Monday night skirmishes in Alberni's funereal city hall—it's painted white, edged in black—go deeper than the parochial issues at hand, mail delivery, a relocated bridge, sewers, a dog pound.

Mabel's weapons are her interpretations of the Municipal Act and an arsenal of reference books on parliamentary procedure. Her fighting style has been compared to that of an exterminator moving through an infested house.

She has whistled in police, reprimanded aldermen, smashed council's glass table-top with her gavel and kicked out the gallery.

Among her sparring partners are the city clerks and the city solicitor, whom she will challenge without qualm on points of law.

Her mouth is severe and compressed but not above a smile if an alderman slips on a procedural banana skin. She speaks with the flat, commanding voice of a veteran Prairie school teacher.

WATCHES FROM GALLERY

Townspeople say Mabel, a former schoolteacher and storekeeper, must be about 55 now. Her husband, Bill, a quiet, passive man, attends every meeting of council.

The Andersons live in a pleasant, rambling frame house behind their store. Mabel is a curler—skip, of course.

As Joan of Arc riding to save Alberni, Mabel Anderson chose the unlikely mount of civic sewage. She was against sewers, in favor of septic tanks. So was a fractional majority of the voters.

Out went Mayor Jack Luckhurst, a motel operator and harbor commissioner. In went Mabel.

"I still can't understand it," says Mr. Luckhurst. "After the polls it was my party everyone came to."

The fireworks started early. Mabel was soon clearing anti-Anderson spectators out of the chamber, refusing to sign minutes of previous meetings, declaring meetings out of order and stalking from the hall, demanding yes-or-no answers from city hall staff and shattering glass.

Aldermen and city staff took to going to Jack Luckhurst's place after council meetings for a medicinal shot and a cry on the former mayor's shoulder.

"We'll get the business done by challenging the chair on each issue," said Ald. Tom Hamilton. "But it will take longer."

"There are two ways of meeting an obstacle," said Ald. Charles Blaid. "Either you remove it or you go around it. We can't remove Mayor Anderson. But we can go around her."

"Procedural obstructions from the chair, based on rulings which never have been heard before, have been used to prevent the majority from transactions necessary to council business," said Ald. Tom Barnett, former CCF MP for Comox-Alberni.

COUNCIL LOWERS BOOM

It was on March 20 that council moved to suspend business until the mayor clarified her threat of a public inquiry into the way aldermen handled city business.

J. E. Brown, deputy minister of municipal affairs, in a letter to the mayor and city clerk James Sawyer, described the action as "tantamount to a sit-down strike of the bosses." But he tactfully left the mayor and aldermen to sort things out among themselves.

The dispute ended when the mayor issued a statement assuring councillors that none of her statements were meant to reflect on their personal integrity.

The voters get a chance to express their views next December, when the mayor's $1200-a-year two-year term ends.

If Mabel goes, aldermen can stop taking the Municipal Act to bed with them. There was only one copy of it in town before she took office.

Bartholomew Busy on Articles

NAKUSP — D. C. Waterfield of the Water Resources Committee, Nakusp Chamber of Commerce, said Friday night in an interview with a Nelson Daily News reporter, F. J. Bartholomew, consulting engineer, has made progress in rewriting articles on the Columbia treaty and High and Low Arrow dams.

Mr. Waterfield said the briefs to be sent to the Energy Board and forestry departments showing damage to industry here which would be caused by a High Arrow dam will not be given out for publication.

The committee is working on a tourist brief and an agriculture brief.

Fernie Little Theatre Cops Top Drama Festival Awards

INVERMERE — Fernie Little theatre won the best play award at the East Kootenay Drama Festival staged Friday and Saturday at Invermere and hosted by the Lake Windermere players.

Fernie's entry, "The Mask," directed by Mrs. Celia Morgan, also produced the best actress and actor in the festival, Lloyd Hamilton winning one honor and Miss Joan Simth the other. They plan to take the play on to Victoria for the B.C. finals next month.

Winner of the best director award was Aubrey L. Young of Invermere with "Sunday Costs Five Pesos." This play also produced the best supporting actress in Miss Dorothy Worsley. It was awarded the prize for the best diction, with Mrs. Joan Henderson of Windermere taking the honor.

Best supporting actor award went to Collin Shepherd of Cranbrook in the "Mousetrap."

The best visual production award went to the Brisco players in "Low Life," a comedy by Mazo de la Roche.

Cranbrook's entry the "Mousetrap" took the award for the best lighting effect and Lake Windermere's play "Birds of a Feather" directed by Tony Rogers won the award for the best choice of play.

Runners up for best supporting actress were Beatrice Beasley in "The Mousetrap" and Kay Howard in Brisco's "Suspicion," also directed by Mrs. Howard.

Franklin Johnson of White Rock, president of the B.C. Drama Association and adjudicator for the festival, said he was impressed by the quality of the performances staged by the small communities, although it was necessarily far below that of Vancouver, Victoria and Island drama groups.

A Field for Leadership

Mental Health Week has come again and we sincerely hope it will not be put into the same category in which we have come to place the overflow of other "Weeks" that are declared almost daily.

For Mental Health Week has serious — yes, an urgent and compelling — motivation behind it. It does tend to pull our heads out of the sand and take a look at the tide of mental illness that rises around us.

There is no question that we have to face facts. Here in Canada 70,000 human beings are sick in hospital because of mental illness and this is too great a wastage of our only important national resource — our people. Along with this is an economic wastage at least as costly as all the income tax paid by all the people earning up to $5000 a year.

These facts, along with all the misery entailed, demand that we quit ignoring mental illness as a distress no more worrisome than a bad cold. They demand research and social action on a large scale. They demand vigorous leadership.

This leadership is offered by the Canadian Mental Health Association. As a private voluntary body it sponsors research, services to the mentally ill, social action for adequate treatment and public enlightenment.

The Canadian Mental Health Association is not one of the "big" health organizations. But it should be. We hope our readers will help it grow.

It Belongs to Everyone

What a day and age, when learned men are now discussing, apparently seriously, the rights of nations to claim ownership of the moon!

It is natural that men's thoughts should turn in that direction while the world is marvelling at the first "spaceman" being rocketed into orbit and brought back alive and uninjured. Yuri Gagarin himself has been thinking of the moon: "The moon," he said, "is not so remote a neighbor. I think that we shall not have to wait too long before flying to the moon."

And that is possibly the ultimate distance that man will fly in space. It is interesting to note that a Soviet news bullein received on the same day as Gagarin shot around the earth above the atmosphere included a report of an interview with a Russian scientist, in which he expressed doubt about the feasibility of launching a space vehicle big enough to carry the food, water and chemicals to absorb carbon dioxide and give out oxygen for human passengers on a voyage into "deep space."

"It is my opinion that a fundamentally new approach is necessary to this problem," the scientist said, appending one of the most intriguingly indefinite sentences a scientist could utter: "One of them seems to simulate in the ship a complete life cycle like the one we have on earth."

But even if the moon is as far as man goes, it seems likely now that he will go there within a few years, and even that moon-bases may be established and put to some scientific, possibly martial, use.

Equally, though, it seems inconceivable that men will ever fight for possession of parts of the moon, or that it will matter if anyone claims to own it.

"The moon belongs to everyone," a popular song proclaims, and as long as it shines down on nations without distinction, that probably is what the world will continue to believe.—Victoria Colonist.

A Pleasant Thought

Among the motions put through in the closing rush of the legislature was one that would fall pleasantly on householders' ears. It was that a tax concession might be given to homeowners who improve their properties. And the motion won unanimous assent.

This doesn't mean that such relief is actually in the making; it still remains in the wait-and-see category. But nothing could be more welcome or make more amend.

At present it almost seems to be a sin to improve one's home or property, for the general impression is that this results in having one's taxes raised. This is really as anomalous a factor in municipal administration as could be imagined, especially since municipalities urge householders to enhance their properties and so add to the prestige and desirability of the area.

Because of innate pride and respectability most homeowners do try to add to their amenities, but hitherto this has been done with mixed feelings. The reward of virtue is a strange one if it brings a penalty in its wake.

One hopes this motion does not die in a pigeonhole, and that the consideration sought does eventuate in permitting local authorities to allow some tax relief of this nature. It certainly would be well deserved.

—Victoria Colonist.

Uglification

Women, awake! There's a menace menacing you!

We'd be more specific if we knew how, but we are out of our depth amid gores and gussets, fichus and furbelows. How it's done, we don't know. But somewhere there's a deep-laid plot for the uglification of women.

Even to the male eye it is apparent that for the last year or two there has been an attempt to clothe the human female in garments that are not merely incomprehensible, but horrific.

It started off with very long, pointed shoes with very low, tiny heels. Suitably proportioned, perhaps, for buck kangaroos, they made all women look flat-footed, and most walk as if afflicted with the stringhalt.

Then there were dresses and coats like the old-fashioned corn-husk tamale, tied at each end and bulging in the middle.

Tights came next. Ghastly was the only word for them.

The beehive coiffure was merely untidy, but it has given away to an arrangement in which the hair looks like a felt doormat draped over a deformed skull.

In fashion ads, the bosomy seductress has been displaced by a gangling, slab-sided, knob-kneed, emaciated type previously confined to the before-taking version of a liver-extract blurb. This may not be a bad thing in itself, but it does emphasize that a lot of these recent modes can be worn only by a female fugitive from a Charles Addams haunted house.

That might be the explanation. Perhaps the whole thing is a plot by fugitives from a haunted house who want to do away with normal competition. A large haystack of magenta roses which has just gone by on the head of a young lady with sandy hair tends to confirm this view.

—Vancouver Sun.

Interpreting The News

Amid all the blistering diplomatic exchanges accompanying the shooting in Laos, it appears increasingly clear that the United States will not risk a major war over the little Asian kingdom.

Despite American warnings and dark hints of committing American troops against the advancing pro-Communist Pathet Lao, there is a suggestion among American informants that in the end, in one way or another, Laos may fall to the Communists.

Political colleagues have urged President Kennedy not to over-extend the United States or get her too involved in military adventures that may bleed the United States financially without profitable result.

AWARE OF WEAKNESS

Kennedy is well aware of the weaknesses of the royal government forces in Laos. In fact he may have had these Laotians in mind when he recently maintained that soft societies are to be swept away with the debris of history and only the strong and industrious will survive.

Kennedy also is well aware of the attitude of Western allies, including Britain and France, who don't want a war in Laos, particularly when the pro-Western Laotians have shown a lack of will to resist the rebel forces.

With some alacrity the United States accepted a proposed cease-fire in Laos as a prelude settle the conflict and attempt to turn Laos into a true neutral state. The royal Laotian forces also quickly accepted—a contrast to the rather indifferent attitude of the Pathet Lao.

The Western side now suggests that the rebels are constructing a cease-fire by asking at field headquarters instead of Vientiane, as proposed by the royal troops.

THREATEN BOYCOTT

The Americans say they won't go to the scheduled May 12 conference at Geneva if the cease-fire is not verified soon. Meanwhile the Pathet Lao continued to advance and the royal troops keep retreating. American authorities concede that the Western situation there is deteriorating dangerously.

The big question now may be whether the West can hold on to South Viet Nam. Kennedy is extremely concerned over infiltration from Communist North Viet Nam and slayings of South Vietnamese in guerrilla warfare. The United States feels South Viet Nam can be held on the Western side—and at the moment is prepared to put up a stronger show of force in that little country than in neighboring Laos.

Procter Ranchers' Team Recalled

To the Editor—
Sir:—

As an erstwhile 'Soccer' player, I read with nostalgic interest and some chagrin the account, in your issue of April 25, of the unexpected retrieval from a South Slocan basement, of the Nelson League Trophy. I say 'with some chagrin' because I find no mention whatsoever of the "Procter Ranchers" team.

This team was, if I remember rightly, organized and joined the Nelson League about 1926. With few experienced players and little opportunity for practice, it gave a very fair account of itself and one year came close to winning the League.

Our first somewhat undersize 'field' was a piece of sloping land loaned by that grand and well known oldtimer 'Ted' Francis of Sunshine Bay. Later on, a larger and more level piece of land was kindly loaned by Mr. Dosenberger, also of Sunshine Bay.

While my memories of those days have become a little hazy, names of some of the players who come to mind include Bert and Geoff Barwis, Bob Stevenson, Maurice and Colin Major, Nick Dosenberger, Ken Chandler, Kootenay Salmons, Morley Levick and three Settle brothers — Findlay, Frank and Llewelyn.

These Nelson League games were, incidentally, for Bert Barwis and myself an happy resumption of an earlier Indian Army association on the football field, when in 1921 and 1922 we had played together with the Burma Rifles Regimental team in Egypt (where we won the E.E.F. championship in Cairo), Burma and Malay.

After a lapse of so many years, it is gratifying to note that Soccer seems once again to be gaining favour in this District.

Space in your column for this letter will be much appreciated.

C. B. PRICE,
Balfour.

F. B. Pearce . . . Writes

A young lady asked me recently if I could help her with some questions which had to do with art, music and literature. I was sorry but I could not. I told her that I should need time to recall the facts she needed for though there are a great many things in my subconscious they do not come so readily to the surface as they did when I was younger.

Older people are inclined to think that their memories are going but in my opinion it is simply the mechanism which has to do with recall which is at fault. A name may elude one for some time but eventually it comes to mind. It is often the association with something else which brings it back.

My wife took down a picture the other day and found that on the back it had the names of all those in the class I taught in 1944. Strangely enough I could recall all the faces of the children and even where most of them sat in my class room but if I saw them today I might not recall their names. They may have changed and my memory of them is as children.

But when I was asked about prose and poetry it occurred to me that in my learning days things were much simpler. There were only a very few great prose writers and poets, while today there is a vast output of both prose and poetry. Whether it is of such good quality as it used to be I cannot tell. It seems to me that today there are few great stylists in prose and that much of the poetry has not the pleasing quality it used to have.

One can easily be wrong with this for there is such a mass of books today that one cannot possibly read them all, and looking at the question I was asked to help with I could not but feel sorry for the present generation of students. I always felt that examiners were hard-hearted people trying to see how much I did not know and I would hate to rack my brains for the answers to the questions they set today. There seems so much more that students have to learn and so much more is demanded of them.

Everywhere across the continent, both in the United States and Canada, there have been commissions to find out what is wrong with education. It does not seem to have occurred to anyone that at the bottom of our concern is the undoubted fact that there is vastly more to learn than there was 50 years ago.

We have been rather proud of ourself for demanding that students should stay in school longer but most likely we have been the subconscious victims of the march of learning. Our children stay longer in them because we demand so much more knowledge from our young people when they start work.

With the rapid expansion of civilization and learning it may be that soon the whole structure of society may fall through its sheer top heaviness.

Montreal Newspaper Paints Grim Picture of Toronto

The Montreal Star series by reporter William Wardwell sums up by saying: "The once-shining nameplate 'Toronto the Good' is bent and tarnished."

"Crime in Metropolitan Toronto is at a record high, there is a bewildering rate of alcoholism and dope addiction, vice flourishes and divorce is breaking up homes at a faster rate than ever before. . . .

"If you're Toronto-bound for the first time and wondering where to get action, set aside 50 cents to pump a bellboy or doorman with. Otherwise it could take you half an hour instead of five minutes to get into the swing of things. . . .

"Metropolitan Toronto's crime rate was up nearly 15 per cent last year over 1959. There were 65,085 criminal offences in 1960. . . . All crime of violence in Metropolitan Toronto was up last year over 1959. . . .

"In the fashionable suburbs and just outside the metropolitan boundaries, gambling combines willingly risk big money to set up combinations of two and three joints to reap bigger money. . . ."

COMPARES TWO CITIES

In a separate story, The Star made this comparison of crime in Toronto and Montreal:

In 1959, Montreal had 24 murders, 10 attempted murders and 542 armed robberies or attempted armed robberies; Toronto had 16 murders, seven attempted murders and 623 armed robberies.

In 1960, Metropolitan Toronto had 23 murders compared with Montreal's 17, and 10 attempted murders to Montreal's nine. Montreal's holdups increased by 93 to 635; Toronto's increased by 139 to 762.

One story looked into the problems of alcoholism and drug addiction.

"Dismayed by the nightmare of drinking in Toronto and throughout Ontario, the provincial government pressed a survey on chronic alcoholism and worked and hoped for a cure.

"The province, population 6,160,000 with 1,600,000 of it in Metropolitan Toronto, had an estimated 85,000 alcoholics. H. David Archibald, executive director of the Alcoholic Research Foundation, predicted that if present trends continue the tragic army of lushes will increase to between 154,000 and 308,000 (2½ to five per cent of the population) by 1972.

"The government also is investigating drug addiction. Toronto is officially estimated to have more than 400 addicts. This makes it the only real challenger for Vancouver, the nation's No. 1 narcotics centre."

POLICE SWAMPED

Of the Toronto police department, Wardwell writes:

"Swamped by crime and vice, Metropolitan Toronto's police force has put all possible zeal into the fight to maintain law and order.

"But thanks to repeated instances of trigger-happiness, brutality and illegal detention by an over-zealous few over the years, the whole department of 2,270 men remains under constant suspicion. One Toronto civil rights group is a self-appointed watchdog — trying to make sure that police proceed within lawful limits."

In a later article, Wardwell went back to 1936 and listed several cases of policemen being accused of manslaughter, brutality or corruption.

The final article counts 10 crime stories carried by the Monday editions of Toronto newspapers and adds:

"There was also an assortment of Toronto burglaries which netted thieves everything from a can opener to costly furs. There was a column devoted to drunkards and how to handle them. . . ."

Wardwell quotes Rev. Arthur Packman of the United Church of Canada as saying of Toronto:

"People are bored. They find life tedious. People turn to drink because they have no interests, no objectives. We are just a city of spectators. . . . Life in Toronto. I'm afraid, is rather dull."

Comments Wardwell:

"A visiting Montrealer might deign to argue the point — at least as far as crime is concerned."

Your Individual Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars,

For Tuesday May 2, 1961

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — Mixed vibrations. Most are beneficial and you can attain a measure of success if you are gracious, not arbitrary, and willing to cooperate where you should. Be cheerful.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) —Benefic Venus and other planetary aspects. Your day should be happy, productive. Attend to essential matters and useful activities. New, unusual tasks find favor now.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — This should be a strong, beneficial month no whole and today is kindly in elements. Affairs asking keen brain work, reasearch, analyses, deep study highly favored. Advance!

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — Most encouraging possibilities now. Start day in a pleasant mood and stay in that mood. Familiar matters, new important tasks, even most difficult propositions should advance.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — Not all auspicious but it is a mildly favorable period and personal attainment is possible, especially when you show good management, right direction. Tabu any domineering tendencies.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Excellent vibrations for many interesting, useful activities and important matters. Sound investments, gov't bonds, valuable real estate among issues honored. Be ambitious.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Aspects active, beneficially inclined. Both familiar and new interests have fresh impetus. Follow that urge to acquire improved status, important connections and leads.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — You will have to unearth some of your advantages and fortunate leads now. Close-at-hand opportunities are not much in evidence. Accomplishment possible if you rightly use your fine talents.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Some splendid influences here. Be sensibly careful not to go to extremes but continue with tasks started and don't fear added new ones. Business, work, finances can advance.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Should be able to do a good job now but don't expect extra results or immediate action. Some issues may take time for completion so be patient and always hopeful of achievement.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Day may not be all auspicious but no good work need be lost. Lay solid foundation in important projects and in small but worthwhile matters. Often details are essential to a big subject.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Helpful, good influences abound today. Be eager for action, cooperate with right forces, confer when you know it will be useful. Keep mind tuned to future developments. Don't fear new tasks.

YOU BORN TODAY are under the powerful Sign Taurus, of the earth triplicity. You Taureans have strong characteristics, are capable and of commanding ability. You are practical-minded but at same time are artistic and delicate in matters where delicacy is needed. Are generous, kindly, sympathetic; usually have a delightful casual way of dressing. When living true to your finer qualities, are faithful to a trust, dependable and a devoted life-mate and parent. Watch out that you do not overindulge the comforts of life and become careless. Avoid worry, needless anxiety. Pray when troubled. Birthdate of: Many noted singers, orators and Bing Crosby and Brian Ahearn, actors.

Toronto Exchange Closed Week in Higher Prices

By JOHN BELANGER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The Toronto Stock Exchange started the week with a six-point drop on the industrial index but finished strongly in heavier trading and higher prices.

Monday's drop was the result of the Algerian insurrection, an event that sent European and American markets down sharply. The Toronto exchange had almost recovered by Tuesday, and by Wednesday had pushed well over a record mark.

Other market news included the issuance of a number of favorable annual reports and a number of unfavorable quarterly reports.

Also in the news was an offer for about half the shares of National Hoisery by a syndicate headed by W. A. Glick, president of Kirkland Minerals Corporation Ltd. The group offered $3.40 a share for bsth the A and B issues and National Hoisery turned over a total of 184,000 shares for the week.

Rothmans, Dominion Tar and newcomer Lake Ontario Portland Cement featured well in the week's action, all showing at least ten special-sized transactions per day.

The market's food issues rose sharply and Utilities were good. Pipe lines were generally lower, papers were irregular and little action was in evidence in the manufacturing issues.

Liquors were silent for the early part of the week, but on Thursday began to trade actively.

In good mining trading, new highs were hit by Ventures and International Nickel, along with Irish Copper and Copper Rand.

Golds were quiet.

In western oil issues, new highs were hit by both Sapphire and National Petroleum, while a number of the gas issues traded actively.

Index changes at Toronto: Industrials up .822 at 576.00; golds down .04 at 83.11; base metals up 1.24 at 189.25 and western oils down .48 at 99.73.

Index changes at Montreal: Banks up .45 at 65.48; utilities up 2.9 at 148.2; industrials down .1 at 311.0; papers down 7.7 at 456.7 and golds were up.

Focus On Health

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Topics this week: Tips on sunburn, canker sores and hair.

SUN BATHING

You can get a worse sunburn in May than in August.

In North America, the sun's rays reach maximum intensity June 21. So the intensity is stronger in mid-May than late August. As for sunbathing in general experts warn that chronic over-exposure to the sun is a major factor in producing skin cancer.

CANKER SORES

Canker sores can frequently be prevented, or relieved, by eliminating certain foods from the diet, a medical team finds.

They learned that some victims of canker sores were sensitive to foods containing citric acid, including citrus juices and chocolate, and other persons to acetic acid contained in vinegar, pickled foods and salads. An allergy may be responsible. Sensitivity tests can spot the offending food.

LINCOLN'S DEATH

Moments after he was shot, President Lincoln appeared dead. The young doctor could detect no pulse.

Right in the theatre box, 23 - year - old Dr. Charles A. Leale went to work, pressing rhythmically on Lincoln's chest, and using mouth - to-mouth breathing — two techniques recently come into vogue again.

The methods worked. After a few moments, Dr. Leale wrote, "I saw that the president could continue independent breathing and that instant death would not occur."

TIPS ON HAIR

Many women complain their hair is falling out at an excessive rate. One reason can be too much stretching and pulling on the hair for "high" or other fashionable coiffeurs, says a Medical Journal report.

And an expert on cosmetics warns against using household detergents for shampoos. Caustic chemicals in detergents can irritate sensitive areas of the scalp or cause damage to the eyes.

DIZZY SPELLS

Ultrasonic waves — pitched too high for human hearing —can often overcome the dizzy spells which mark meniere's disease, reports Dr. Frank Altmann of New York City.

Meniere's disease is usually caused by a malfunction of the inner ear, and the remedy for the dizzy sensations is to destroy a certain part of the inner ear.

Disney Stays With Family Amusement

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The movie comeback story of the year is being written by Walt Disney, in the red last year and now enjoying four hits in a row.

Disney's golden string started with Swiss Family Robinson, which cost $4,500,000 to produce and is expected to gross $7,000,000 to $8,000,000 domestically. Then came 101 Dalmations, which cost $3,500,000, with $7,000,000 domestic gross in sight.

He expects The Absent-Minded Professor to be his biggest money - maker so far; it could go to $12,00,000 with a $2,100,000 cost. Previewers have already classified his next, Parent Trap, a surefire hit.

"It's all very nice, but I really don't concern myself too much with how the pictures do," Disney said. "Most of my thinking is two years ahead."

LOOKS AHEAD

These are the projects in his future book: Babes in Toyland, his first live - action musical; Moon Pilot, a comedy about space travel; Bon Voyage, a comedy about a family touring Europe; Big Red, about a boy, a man and a dog in Canada; The Castaways, a Jules Verne adventure. Also in the works is a cartoon feature, The Sword and the Stone.

Disney still clings to the old-fashioned notion that movies are family entertainment.

"I don't go for that sloppy kissing in films," he said. "It's like watching one of those French peep shows. We have kissin' in our pictures — but only if there's a reason for it."

Alberghetti Thinks Stage More to Her Liking

NEW YORK (AP) — Little Anna Maria counts on big hunches.

"Just about 99 per cent of everything I do is by instinct," explains Broadway's new toast.

As star of the musical Carnival, the golden - voiced young lady, last name Alberghetti, is completing a show-world slam which began with her debut as a prodigy of 13 in Carnegie Hall.

Television, movies and night clubs have since lifted Miss Alberghetti (24 now) to the six-figure income bracket. For a while she yearned for opera. Now she feels the stage of popular entertainment is more her dish.

"In the last three years I turned down about six musicals for Broadway," reports Anna Maria, whose only theatre training has been in summer stock. "My instincts told me 'no.' I was sitting by a swimming pool in Las Vegas when I got this script.

"When I finished the last page I was weeping. I guess everyone thought I was crazy."

The tears flow afresh for Miss A at each performance in the final scene. This is not because Carnival is remotely mournful, but because the luminous-eyed star gets herself pitched to a peak of emotional involvement.

"There is no way to think it, you have to feel it," is her description of the moment when Lili, her naive stage being, leaves the world of childish wonderment forever to accept adult reality.

Everyone, including her mother, says Anna Maria, has learned to stay out of the dressing room for five minutes while she composes herself after the final curtain.

"I suppose I'll eventually have to learn somehow to do it mechanically," she says.

A performer who has never had an acting lesson in her life, Miss Alberghetti gives large credit to "instincts" for the way in which she develops Lili into three-dimensiinal being.

"Two things about her were not easy," she says. "It would be very easy to let her become saccharine and artificial —she must have a genuine simplicity.

"The other problem was having to sing in a speaking register—below the lyric register I used in previous work. But the worries left as soon as rehearsals began.

"The director, Gower Champion, let me go a lot on my instincts—but of course didn't approve every little bit I tried."

Carnival which holds the New York Drama Critics Circle citation as the best musical of the season, takes place in a small European travelling show. It is based upon the same plot material as Lili, a notoable film of eight years ago.

"All I remembered about the movie," says Anna Maria, "was that Leslie Caron was wonderful and that the story was a simple one."

100 Enjoy Spaghetti Dinner

FRUITVALE—Some 100 people sat down to Ladies' Night spaghetti dinner at the Legion Hall when Branch 196 hosted the fairer sex.

Guest speaker was Zone Commander James Hall of Trail. President of Nelson Branch, Mr. B. McCreight presented the travelling gavel to Fruitvale president H. Redding. An invitation was extended to the ladies' Drill Team by K. Carpenter, president of Nakusp Branch for the West Kootenay Zone Convention being held June 10th and 11th at Nakusp. Bingo was followed by dancing and entertainment highlighted by the Nelson branch quintet. Guests included a good representation from Nelson, Trail and Nakusp.

Ann Borkes of Trail won the lawn mower.

Leads Giants to 14-4 Win

Willie Mays Slams Four Straight Homers; Ninth Man to Ever Do It

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Willie (Say Hey) Mays was the talk of the baseball world Sunday as he hit four straight home runs in one game to lead San Francisco Giants to a 14-4 win over Milwaukee Braves.

Mays became the ninth man in baseball history to accomplish the feat. "It has to be my greatest day," he said happily after the game.

The Giants hit eight homers in the game tying a major league record and their total of 13 for consecutive games ties another record.

Hank Aaron of the Braves hit a pair of homers to give the two clubs a total of 10 for the game and this ties a National League record.

Billy Loes breezed to the win on Mays bat, yielding the Braves just eight hits. Aaron hit a three-run homer in the first and a solo in the sixth, otherwise the veteran right hander was in no real trouble.

PURKEY TOSSES WIN

In other National League action Sunday, Bob Purkey threw a masterful six - hitter and helped out at the plate to give Cincinnati Reds their first win in nine games, a 4-2 win over Pittsburgh Pirates in the second game of a doubleheader.

The Pirates won the opener 6-2 with a barrage of extra - base blows including Roberto Clement's two-run homer in the fourth.

At St. Louis, the Philadelphia Phillies spotted the Cardinals a 6-0 lead, then rallied for seven runs in the eighth inning and four in the 10th for an 11-7 win.

After the Cards' Ken Boyer had tied it 7-7 with a homer in the ninth, the Phils scored th winning run on Bobby Del Greco's double, a fumbled grounder and John Callison's single. The Phils got their last three on a pair of singles.

DAVIS' HOMER WINS IT

A two-run homer in the ninth inning by Tommy Davis gave Los Angeles Dodgers a 2-1 victory over Chicago Cubs in the first game of a doubleheader at Chicago, but the Cubs came back to win the second game 10-5.

Chicago's seven runs on seven hits in the second inning proved enough to offset five Dodger extra base hits, including homers by Charley Neal, Willie Davie and another by Tommy Davis.

His game - winning blow in the opener followed a single by Neal and gave Larry Sherry first win of the season.

In the American League, Washington Senators, playing at home, put together a single and a double on two occasions to get all the runs they needed for a 2-1 win over New York Yankees in the second game of their twin-bill.

FORD WINS THIRD

The Yanks won the first game 4-3, with veteran southpaw Whitey Ford going the first six innings and picking up his third victory in four decisions.

Rookie Roland Sheldon, making his first major league start, went seven innings for New York in the nightcap before being lifted for a pinch - hitter. He gave up both runs on five hits.

At Minneapolis, Roy Sievers' two-run homer far over the left field fence in the 11th inning provided Chicago White Sox with a 5-3 victory over Minnesota Twins.

The clout followed a double by Jim Landis which scored Luis Aparicio with the go-ahead run. Harmon Killibrew smashed a 450-foot homer in the Twins half of the 11th, but pitcher Bob Shaw returned the next two men for the win.

TRIBE SPLITS

Vic Wertz blasted a two-run homer in the ninth inning to give Boston Red Sox a 4-2 victory over Cleveland Indians in the opener of their doubleheader at Cleveland, but the Tribe went on a 14-hit rampage to take the second game 10-1.

The Sox played without Jackie Jensen who left town Saturday night without explanation. He left manager Mike Higgins a message saying: "I will call you Sunday night when you reach Kansas City and tell you of my plans."

Tito Francona with three hits including a three - run homer led the attack.

At Detroit's Briggs Stadium, Jim Gentile, Gus Triandos and Ron Hansen of Baltimore Orioles hit successive homers in the seventh inning to tie a major league record and propel the Orioles to a 4-2 triumph over Detroit after the Tigers won the opener 8-2.

In Los Angeles the Kansas City Athletics survived a ninth-inning Los Angeles rally and defeated Angeles 3-2 in the second game of a doubleheader after losing the opener 6-4.

Rookie lefthander Jim Archer went into the bottom of the ninth with a three-hit shutout but got into trouble when third baseman Andy Carey booted Ken Aspromonte's grounder.

Ken Hunt followed with a bunt single and Aspromonte scored when Bob Cerv also singled.

Leon Wagner drove in the deciding runs in the opener with a two-run pinch homer in the seventh. The ball landed on the far side of a parking lot beyond the right field wall, some 450 feet from home plate.

Three grand slam homers were features of Saturday's major league baseball action as a number of batters got opposing pitchers numbers.

Homers Feature In Major League Action Saturday

NEW YORK (CP) — Three grand-slam homers were features of Saturday's major league baseball action as a number of batters got opposing pitchers' numbers.

Frank Howard blasted a four-run homer and chipped in with another four-bagger with a mate aboard to power the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 9-4 triumph over the Chicago Cubs, and Willie McCovey poled a pair of homers and drove in four runs as the San Francisco Giants sewed up a 7-3 victory over Milwaukee Braves.

In the American League, catcher Dick Brown hit the first grand slammer of his major league career and rookie Jake Wood cracked a three-run homer that carried the Detroit Lions to a 9-5 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Marv Throneberry cracked a bases-full homer for Kansas City as the Athletics outlasted the Chicago White Sox 13-9, and Yogi Berra's home run came with only one man on base but it was enough to give the New York Yankees a 4-2 decision over the Cleveland Indians.

Jones KO's Veteran

Jones weighed 182 pounds and Rademacher 199.

Dynamiters In Next Season

KIMBERLEY — The once celebrated Kimberley Dynamiters of the Western International Hockey League will be back in harness next winter.

This news was assured following a large and enthusiastic annual meeting held here recently which instructed delegates to the WIHL to confirm Kimberley's franchise.

Steps have been taken to register the Dynamiters hockey club under the Societies Act.

Amendements to the constitution provided that a directorate of nine members, four to serve for two years and five for one year, be elected.

President, vice-president, secretary and treasurer will be chosen from the directorate for a one-year-term.

Elected were: (two years) R. McNiven, J. Livingstone, B. Jones and B. Buckle; (one year) R. Westgate, B. Tapp, R. Vause, B. Chandler and Harry Brown.

New Shape Seen In Local Ball

Something a little different in the shape of baseball players will be seen at Civic grounds at 6 p.m. today, weather permitting, when the new girls' team holds its first workout.

Assignment of positions will be attempted by coaches Louise Sjoberg and Betty Chernoff and a regular schedule of practices will be worked out, preparatory to the team's entry in the Nelson Boys' Midsummer tournament.

The tournament starts when all other organized boy's baseball ends the last week in June.

Summoned to today's workouts are: Pat Townsend, Kathie Sommerville, Thelma Nelson, Shirley Sommerville, Lucille Johnson, Lorraine Webster, Mary McMaster, Veronica Irving, Verna Chernoff, Susan McKenzie, Pam Clark, Linda Barefoot, Florence Maglio and Jonnie Cook. Others who want to try for places will be welcome, the coaches say.

Italicos Beat Nelson 3 - 1

Trail Italicos continued their winning ways Sunday by beating Nelson Soccer club 3-1 in a Western International Soccer League game in Trail.

The Italicos opened up the scoring with a goal after 15 minutes of the first half. Nelson's Esmet Mansouri, inside right, scored the only Nelson goal to tie up the scoring at the half-way mark.

Trail had little trouble dominating the play in the second half and scored both their goals in the latter part of the game.

Nelson plays its last game of the second half of the season next Sunday against fourth-place Grand Forks. Nelson is presently in third place. Spokane is in second spot and Trail Hornets in the cellar.

Hoop Scandal Engulfs 10 More

NEW YORK (AP) — The cloud of a widespread bribery scandal that had hung ominously over United States college basketball for six weeks has descended engulfing 10 more players from six more schools.

There were strong indications that more disclosures and possible indictments resulting from point shaving and game fixing were due from the district attorney's office.

"The term of the grand jury investigating college basketball has been extended until June 30," District Attorney Frank Hogan said after announcing a 37-count indictment for corruption against previously convicted football fixer Aaron Wagman.

The indictment, confirming earlier reports that the scandal might mushroom to equal or top the size of the one that jolted the game in 1951, named 10 players from six colleges in the east and south and cited 26 games played in 13 cities. One player was named as one of four co-conspirators.

Together with previous disclosures, it brought the count of the current scandal to 12 players from seven schools. The 1951 scandal involved 33 players from seven schools. Hogan also conducted the investigation then.

Palmer Holes Eagle to Win Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Arnold Palmer made a typical clutch finish, holing an eagle on the 15th green to wind up with a three-under par 68 and first-place money in the $30,000 Texas open Sunday.

Palmer finished with a total of 270 for 72 holes. Al Balding of Toronto was in second place with 271 and Paul Harney was third with 272.

Harney missed a long putt from off the green on the 18th that would have tied him with Palmer. Harney had led Palmer, Balding and Bill Collins by a stroke entering the last nine.

Palmer made his whirlwind finish after a matching 34 on the front nine. He came into the 18th four under par but missed a four-fot putt and had to settle with a one-over-par on the hole.

Balding, however, had taken a 69 and Collins soared to 74. Harney wound up with a 71.

Palmer, the year's leading money-winner, picked up $4.300 for the victory. Balding received $3,000 and Harney $2,000.

LOCAL FIRE DEPARTMENT ORGANIZING LABOR DAY SOAP BOX DERBY RACES

Nelson can expect the traditional Labor Day races this year.

Elwin Owens, fire chief, said Sunday that the fire department is organizing a "pint-sized" race on or about Labor Day under the bannner of a Soap Box Derby.

Chief Owens told the News that he has been collecting information and rules regarding soap box races for the past few months and that he expects "a good response" to the proposed idea.

Soap box racing was going strong in Nelson in the 1930's. The aim of the soap boxers is promote craftsmanship and sportsmanship with a careful eye turned to safety.

These cars will represent the boy's individual skill as a designer and a builder. Rules and regulations have been carefully mapped out under the National Soap Box Derby rule book, situated in Akron, Ohio.

As an example, cars must not exceed $6 including the purchase of materials.

Boys interested in building

and racing a car are requested to contact the fire department for further particulars.

The race will be held open to anyone from 11-15 years age in the West Kootenays. They will be put into three classes.

A trophy and prizes are expected to be offered for the derby day.

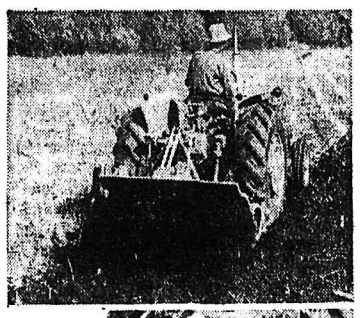
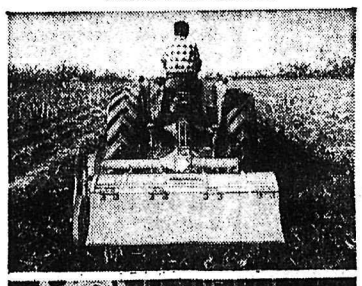
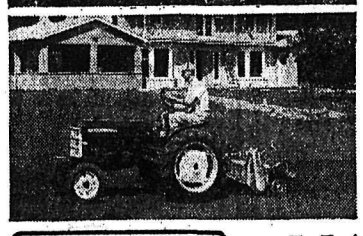
NEWS FOR 1959 — ALL-NEW ROTAVATORS







"E" MODEL SELECTATILTH ROTAVATOR® For the first time this year, the widely-known "E" model, the most popular tractor mounted Rotavator, comes with the new Selectatilth® gear box, enabling the operator to change rotor speed in a few seconds in the field. Now you can suit your tillage exactly to your tractor's capacity and to the type of tilth you want to turn out. Ideal for turning-in cornstalks and crop trash, for one-pass seedbeds, for increasing the fertility of your land. At left, the Selectatilth® gear box. Just exchange position of the gears and the rotor speed is changed. Also spare set of gears, housed in the gearbox, gives rotor speeds of 142, 162, 182 and 208 rpm. Fits all tractors up to 47 hp. No special mounting kit needed except for I.H. Fast Hitch. Tillage width, 50 and 60 in. Various offsets.

"H" MODEL MOUNTED ROTAVATOR, for Heavy Duty work. Mounts on seven most popular heavy tractor models, up to 65 hp. Tillage widths 70 and 80 in. New this year, the "H" Mounted is the ideal Rotavator for heavy duty farm work. Like all Rotavators, there is a three month's guarantee on all parts.

L28 ROTAVATOR, the only rotary tiller approved for I.H. Farmall Cub and Cub Lo-Boy tractors. Just fine for estate and nursery work, parks, cemeteries, landscapers, custom operators. 28 in. tillage width, mounts and demounts in a few seconds.

Heavy Ice, Labor Unrest, Disturb Seaway Shippers

By ALEXANDER FARRELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The people who make their living in the shipping business in Montreal—Canada's largest port—had their fingers crossed as the 1961 summer navigation season got under way.

Delays caused by heavy ice in the St. Lawrence River and labor unrest combined to complicate efforts to predict how much business the port is likely to do this year.

In other major ocean ports, a Cross-Canada Survey by The Canadian Press showed, there is restrained optimism. Vancouver is off to a slow start but expects a pickup in activity during the summer. Halifax and Saint John, N.B., both of which do most of their business in the winter months when the St. Lawrence and Great Lakes are frozen, hope to match or better last summer's trade. And Quebec City foresees a repetition of 1960's good summer shipping season.

It was not until late in April that traffic on the Montreal waterfront reached respectable proportions. The first ocean-going vessel docked in Montreal from overseas March 27 but ice conditions — the worst in 40 years in the Gulf of St. Lawrence — imposed two to three weeks' delay before the harbor began to bustle with its usual early-spring activity.

STRIKE THREATENED

Then there were persistent reports of labor unrest that could affect this year's business prospects in Montreal and ports farther inland.

Montreal's 2,700 stevedores, members of the International Longshoremen's Association (OLC), were asking for higher wages and revised working conditions under threat of going on strike. Federal mediator Remi Duquette has recommended that the dispute be referred to a conciliation board.

There was discontent, both in labor and management ranks, caused by the participation of British ships in Canadian domestic commerce.

By treaty, Canadian ships may handle domestic trade in British waters but, Canadian ship-owners say, this is a meaningless privilege because British ships have lower operating costs.

Finally, the St. Lawrence Seaway continues to be a question mark in the minds of Montreal shipping people. Does it menace the future of the port of Montreal?

Manager Guy Beaudet said at least 12 more shipping lines have been attracted to the St. Lawrence route since the seaway opened in 1959 and are making Montreal a regular port of call.

LIKE SHOE STORE

"It is just like a shoe store expanding its lines. The more lines that can be offered to a customer, the more prosperous the shoe store can expect to be."

The seaway, he said, is precisely the reason why Montreal port business has remained steady despite a world-wide recession in the shipping industry since 1958.

"It has kept us on an even keel and this year, because of anticipated heavy grain exports, should be one of our best in 10 years."

Montreal's cargo traffic has been of the order of 17,000,000 tons annually for the last five years.

Meanwhile, the usual summer lull has set in on the east coast. Halifax port manager J. R. Mitchell said business should be as good this summer as last, but this still means a volume substantially below the winter-time level.

Halifax and Saint John have an average annual cargo tonnage of 7,500,000 and 2,750,000 respectively, but summer trade rarely accounts for as much as one-fifth of it.

Saint John port manager D. M. Vye said he is "reasonably optimistic" that the pattern of the last three summers will continue. Cargo traffic climbed to 418,000 tons during the 1960 summer season, April 1 to Oct. 31, compared to 252,000 in 1958.

VANCOUVER HOPEFUL

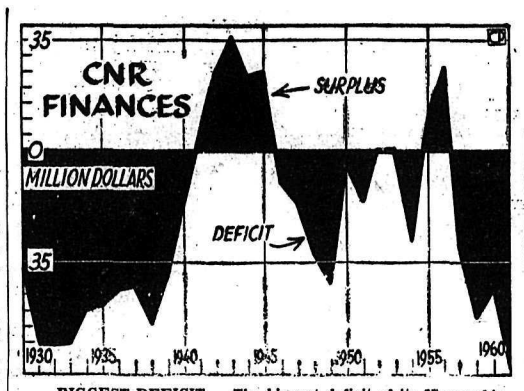
On the west coast, Capt. B. D. L. Johnson, Vancouver port manager, reported that business so far in 1961 has been below the 1960 level.

He predicted, however, that the situation will improve considerably during the summer. He said he expects sharp increases in the export of grain to China and the Soviet Union and of lumber and coal to Japan.

Vancouver's annual cargo tonnage for the last five years has averaged 12,100,000, foreign trade accounting for about 7,000,000 tons a year.

Last year Vancouver was the only one of the six largest federally operated ports to make money. With an operating income of $4,120,000, exceeded only by Montreal, it showed a net surplus of $846,000.

Quebec City port officials expect 1961 to be a carbon copy of 1960, when business was "good." Annual cargo tonnage has averaged 4,200,000 in recent year, its 4,283,121 tons of cargo slightly surpassing the 1956 total of 4,281,246 tons.



BIGGEST DEFICIT — The biggest deficit of its 37-year history hit the publicly-owned Canadian National Railways in 1960. Graph shows CNR deficits and surpluses 1930-60. A $67,496,777 loss last year was $23,908,487 higher than in 1959 and some $6,000,000 higher than record deficits in the depression years of 1931-32.—CP Newsmap.

Queen and Pope to Meet in Rome May 5

By ALVIN STEINKOPF

LONDON (AP) — The Queen will meet Pope John in Rome and the Roman Catholic Church, May 5 in an atmosphere of increasing tolerance among Christian churches.

Particularly between the Anglican Church, which she heads, relationships are more cordial than at any time since King Henry VIII severed all ties with the Vatican more than 400 years ago.

The meeting between the Queen and the pontiff is sure to "be of more than ordinary courtesy," said the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher. The archbishop, who subsequently announced he would retire, visited the Pope last December.

As the Queen and the Pope confront each other, probably in the Vatican library, they will be in strikingly similar positions.

Each is head of a world-encompassing religious community.

Each is head of a temporal state.

DIFFERENCIES SEEN

There is a difference in emphasis. The Queen is defender of the faith and her religious responsibilities are hemmed in by constitutional limitations. For instance, she appoints Anglican bishops but they are chosen by the prime minister.

The Pope is less circumscribed in spiritual affairs. But his temporal domain is limited to the 109 acres of the Vatican state.

The forthcoming meeting is, on the whole, welcomed in Britain, but there are dissenting voices.

The central committee of the Free Church of Scotland has already assailed "the Queen's advisers." A telegram of protest has been sent to Prime Minister Macmillan. There is grumbling in the background by such groups as the Protestant Truth Society, the Women's Protestant Union, the Sovereign Grace Union and the British Bible Union.

But the general attitude was sympathetic, particularly after responsible Church of England leaders emphasized complete union with the Roman Catholic Church, implying dictation and government from abroad, is not an aim of Anglican policy. But they stressed that with godlessness on the march in the world there is urgent need for co-operation among Christian churches.

It will not be the Queen's first meeting with a pope. In April, 1951, when she was Princess Elizabeth, she visited Pope Pius XII in the Vatican.

WON'T SUBMERGE

Recently, the easing of tensions between the churches doubtless has been speeded by the conviction of the Archbishop of Canterbury that Christian churches must find common ground on which to co-operate. But he said the Anglican Church is too well established in faith and in practical religious leadership to submerge its identity now.

The archbishop conceives a "commonwealth of churches" set up something like the Commonwealth of Nations—a group of free states, responsible to no one in the management of their internal affairs, but associated by an agreement on political concepts. In time of stress they face the world together.

Anglican churchmen are pleased that a desire for interchurch co-operation does not come only from them. The Catholic Church has made a gesture, asking the Anglican Church to send an observer to watch the preparation for the forthcoming Vatican Council.

DRIVE SUCCESS

VERNON (CP) — Chairman Don MacMillan of Vernon Red Cross said Friday the organization collected 1,458 pints of blood during its three-day spring drive to beat all previous campaigns here. Kamloops collected 1,395 pints and Penticton 1,129 pints. The Kelowna drive will be held May 4 to 6.

Transportation Loss Depresses North B.C.

VICTORIA (CP) — Unfavorable mild weather and the loss of a vital transportation link has caused widespread gloom among oil and natural gas exploration ventures in northern British Columbia.

As if the industry wasn't having enough trouble with mild weather which reduced the number of discoveries, a bridge over the Sikanni River, 700 miles north of Vancouver, was knocked out by ice last week, almost isolating two valuable natural gas fields.

Recent reports on winter drilling operations in the area indicate there has been a decrease of 25 per cent in the number of completions, far from the 50 per cent increase which was predicted last fall.

Industry spokesmen here say the weather has been so mild that operators have had trouble getting rigs into muskeg areas which usually freeze solid during the winter. They also have been unable to get rigs out and it was reported that seven were trapped by the early thaw.

The $280,000 bridge at Mile 300 on the Alaska Highway was expected to play an important role in the proposed program for pipeline construction and summer drilling at the Clarke and Kotcho fields.

A $11,000,000 natural gas gathering system was scheduled to be completed in the area this year, but now the bridge is out it may not be in operation until late 1962.

It will be impossible to transport material to the northern fields until the highway route is restored.

The Kotcho Lake field, where Gulf States Oil of Canada has extensive holdings, is reported to be one of the "hottest" fields in North America. One well in the area is capable of producing 3,000,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas a day.

The new gathering system would transport gas from that district to refineries near Fort St. John, B.C.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Ernest Doney who passed away so suddenly May 1st, 1960.
The Empty Chair
Where he sat and talked to me,
There's just an empty chair.
And the silence now at evening
Seems more than I can bear.
I could never picture home
Without him there.
I never fully realized.
How deeply one can care
Until I stood alone
Beside an empty chair.
—Ever lovingly remembered by his wife Lottie and son Ernest.

CARD OF THANKS

No appreciative words can express the thanks to all of our relatives, friends, and neighbors for their thoughtfulness, kindness, their help and floral offerings in our recent bereavement at the loss of our loving father, also special thanks to Mr. A. Smith, Mr. Cartwright, Rev. Carl Hennig and the Pallbearers.
—The Hessler Family.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to extend my sincere thanks to the many friends and neighbors for their acts of kindness, messages of sympathy and beautiful floral tributes during the bereavement of my husband, Mr. Jack Clark. Special thanks to Dr. Carpenter and Fred Kennedy of Salmo, and Rev. Neil Robinson of Fruitvale.
—Mrs. Clark.

Steel Industry Leads Way From Recession

NEW YORK (AP) — Steel, the biggest industry in the United States, appears to be leading the way out of the recession.

Its ouput is going up steadily and industry leaders are optimistic about the future.

Production chalked up its sixth consecutive weekly increase, rising 2.1 per cent last week to 1,784,000 tons. It was the greatest total since the week ended May 28, 1960.

Output for April is estimated at 7,500,000 tons, biggest since last May.

The increasing demand for steel caused plants to fire up additional furnaces and call back idle workers. In the Buffalo area, unemployment among steelworkers was being cut by 100 men a day.

Roger Blough, chairman of U.S. Steel Corp., said:

"We seem to have reached bottom in February. We're hoping for some improvement in May. Confidence with respect to the economic situation is improving."

The automobile industry showed signs of joining steel in the climb although production slipped this week from last week.

Output totalled 115,000 passenger cars, down from 124,607. But production for April is estimated at 448,000 cars, compared with 408,539 in March.

This was report card week for many big businesses. A lot of grades weren't up to par but most firms expected to do better next semester.

Declines from earnings levels of the 1960 first quarter were particularly sharp in the steel and automobile industries, which were operating full blast at that time last year to catch up after the steel strike.

However, there were bright spots among the earnings reports. Among companies with substantial gains were Colgate-Palmolive Co., Cities Service Co., Socony Mobil Co., Gulf Oil Corp. and American Tobacco Co.

The government reported living costs in March remained unchanged from the record high of February. The consumer price index stayed at 127.5 per cent of the 1947-49 average, 1.4 per cent higher than a year ago.

Among encouraging signs were a sharp increase in machine tool orders in March to the highest level since July 1959 and a rise in construction contracts in March.

Weekly Metals Review

NEW YORK (AP)—All signs point to an increase in the price of copper.

With demand continuing to push ahead and supply threatened, sensitive industry barometers such as the London metal exchange price and New York futures contracts last week climbed above the 29 cents per pound price maintained by major producers and custom smelters since January.

Major producers, for the first time in many months, will start May with their order books sold out for that month.

Copper refined from scrap purchased at the most recent level of 25¼ cents a pound will be available in three months at 30¾ cents a pound.

The London price soared to a 1961 high at 29 cents a pound, equivalent to 31⅞ cents a pound for copper shipped to New York. This represented a ¼-cent gain over a week earlier.

New York futures contracts climbed above 30 cents a pound Thursday.

Lead sales were steady and its prire was regarded as firm at 11 cents a pound. Zinc was steady at 11½ cents a pound, East St. Louis basis.

Major metals prices:

Lead—11 cents a pound, New York; 10.8 cents, St. Louis.

Zinc — 11½ cents a pound, East St. Louis; 12 cents, New York.

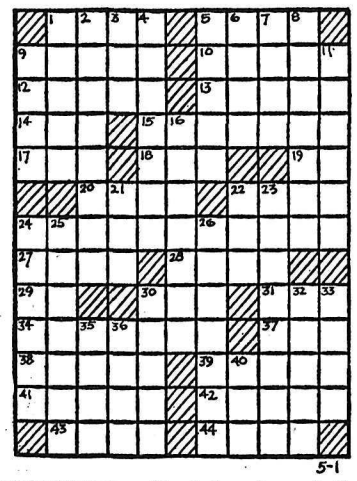
Saturday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
