Boy Steals Zoo's Python

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Officials of the San Diego Zoo say a 15-year-old boy has admitted he swiped Buster, the zoo's 4½-foot-long African ball python.

What's more, the teen-ager accomplished the abduction by wrapping the python around his waist belt-fashion.

Buster disappeared in the early Sunday morning.

Zoo officials were not greatly worried because Buster has a gentle disposition and is non-poisonous.

The teen-ager, who name was not revealed, said Monday that he climbed a zoo fence and broke a window to nab Buster because snakes are his hobby.

Buster is slated to go back on display next weekend, after a few days rest.

BOY SURVIVES SLIDE

HOPE (CP) —David Cairns, 12, was in satisfactory condition in hospital here Tuesday after surviving two rock slides while hiking with his brother, Michael, 12. The first slide buried the Burnaby youngster up to the neck. Michael shielded David's head with his body when the second slide came down.

Guido Cancels Election Results

Federal Officials Take Over Control of Argentine Provinces

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—President Guido Tuesday nullified election results in the last four months and ordered federal appointees to take control of Argentina's provinces.

The president acted by executive decree — after resisting pressure from his military chief for more than three weeks — when generals in three provinces forced his hand by taking control of three provinces from civilian governors.

By annulling March 18 elections he erased the victories of Peronists who elected five governors and supported four more succesful candidates for governor.

The decree also wiped out the results of the elections of Dec. 17, Jan. 14 and Feb. 25 in which other parties scored in povincial and municipal contests.

The president's decree did not mention, however, the national congressional elections March 18 in which Peronists won 47 seats in the chamber of deputies.

FOLLOW TAKEOVERS

The announcement of the president's action was made shortly after three generals in Entre Rios, Santa Fe and Corientes provinces had asked the elected governors in those provinces to step aside to permit military control.

There was no report of any resistance to the military in the three provinces.

The president's decree intervening in the provinces was declared effective as of Monday.

Last month, former president Frondizi, under military pressure to counter the surprising gains of the followers of ex-dictator Juan Peron, named federal civilian interventors in the provinces where they elected governors.

Frondizi failed to appease the military, however, and was deposed.

PRELUDE TO ELECTION

The executive order wiping out the elections obviously was a prelude to Guido's announced intention of calling a general election to elect his successor before the end of July. He has abandoned his idea of having congress extend his term to 1964 when Frondizi's regular term would have expired.

Army, navy and air force chiefs charged that democracy was threatened by resurgent Peronists when Frondizi permitted them, for the first time since Peron's overthrow in 1955, to run for office. Frondizi was deposed when he refused to bow to the military leaders' demand for his resignation.

Force of 40,000 To Keep Peace In Algeria

ALGIERS (Reuters)—The first troops of the Moslem "local force" of the National Liberation Front moved into Algiers Tuesday to help maintain order.

About 300 men in dark blue uniforms took up positions on the fringes of the Arab quarters of the city. They were the first detachment of a planned 40,000-member force which will have the task of keeping order until a self-determination referendum several months from now.

As the Moslem forces arrived French high commission Christian Fouchet said in a broadcast that the terrorist Secret Army Organization has "already lost" its desperate campaign to smash French plans for an independent Algeria.

Fouchet, appointed to the Algerian job after last month's Franco-Moslem cease-fire agreement, said in a speech before flying to Paris to meet President de Gaulle that Secret Army chief Raoul Salan "was already certain of the bankruptcy of his enterprise" when he was arrested last Friday.

PICKET ARCHBISHOP—The placards carry the message that at least some Roman Catholics do not agree with Archbishop Joseph Rummel's integration order as they picket his home in New Orleans, La. He excommunicated three Catholics for segregation activities.

First Blast Could Be Within Few Days

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy Tuesday gave the final okay for a series of nuclear weapons tests in the atmosphere. The shots are expected to begin in the Pacific within a few days, perhaps less.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced the tests will begin "as soon as is operationally feasible."

This means, a commission spokesman said, that the first explosion may be touched off in one to several days depending on the weather and other conditions.

The test series will be carried out by a 12,000-man task force which has been assembled with a fleet of ships and planes.

At some time during the two or three months of the trials there will be proof tests of fully - armed nuclear weapons, including intercontinental ballistic missiles and polaris rockets launched from submarines.

IN 10-MEGATON RANGE

The biggest blast is expected to be in the 10-megaton range, equivalent to 10,000,000 tons of TNT. This would be considerably smaller than the 58-megaton device the Russians were reported to have exploded in their Arctic tests last fall.

The initial explosions probably will be low altitude shots and are likely to be conducted in the Christmas Island area, followed by high altitude tests in the Johnston Island area in May.

Kennedy announced March 2 that the United States would have to resume atmospheric testing toward the end of April unless the Russians agreed to a fully safeguarded ban on nuclear testing.

The Soviets have threatened to start another series of tests of their own if the United States goes ahead with the Pacific trials.

Administration officials stress that Kennedy's offer to join in a foolproof pact against testing will hold good until the last minute.

The Atomic Energy Commission statement said:

"The Atomic Energy Commission announced today that President Kennedy has authorized the commission and the department of defence to proceed with a series of nuclear weapons tests in the atmosphere over the Pacific.

"The tests, to be conducted by Joint Task Force 8 under the command of Maj.-Gen. A. D. Starbird, will begin as soon as is operationally feasible."

Liberals Pledge Sound Gov't

SWIFT CURRENT, Sask. (CP) — The Liberal Party will give Canadians a "sound, businesslike government," Hazen Argue, Liberal candidate for Assiniboia and former CCF national leader, said here Monday night.

Mr. Argue was speaking on behalf of Irvin Studer, Liberal candidate in the Swift Current-Maple Creek federal constituency.

He said the Liberals would establish a national economic council, with labor, management, agriculture and government representatives, to provide leadership in the nation's economy.

"This has been done in Europe, a surplus of jobs was the result," Mr. Argue said.

He also outlined the Liberal's portable pension plan, under which citizens would contribute ½ of one per cent of their annual income into a national pension fund. The government would match this. A retired couple would receive a minimum of $295 a month, Mr. Argue said.

Any pension scheme would take about 10 years to become reality, he said. Under it a person would be able to change jobs without losing pension benefits.

As an interim measure, the Liberals would raise the present pension to $75 a month and would lower the age requirements for women to 60 years.

New Market Looms For B.C., Alta. Coal

By RUSSELL ELMAN

OTTAWA (CP) — A contemplated major expansion of the American steel industry in California was seen Tuesday as a potential market which may double the consumption of Western Canadian bituminous coal by 1970.

Delegates at the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy conference were told that in a recent survey by federal officials indicated that Canada may eventually become the major supplier of metallurgical coke to the western United States.

Major factor is understood to be whether the green light is given for a projected expansion intended to triple iron and steel production at a U.S. Steel Company plant at Pittsburgh near San Francisco. No decision has yet been announced.

The prospects of new markets for western coal were discussed in a paper presented by J. C. Botham, senior mines department scientific officer, in collaboration with three other scientists.

In assessing the expected increased requirements of the western American iron and steel industry, it was suggested that the expanded Pittsburgh plant might consume as much as 1,000,000 tons of Canadian coal a year by 1970.

If the Canadian coal is found suitable, it would mean a doubling of the market for western bituminous coal. At present some 750,000 tons is being shipped to Japan each year with approximately 250,000 tons going into the Canadian market.

The coal would likely come from southeastern British Columbia or Alberta, where the U.S. Steel Company now is engaged in large-scale exploration work.

C. L. O'Brian, chairman of the Dominion Coal Board, commented that the survey had produced a "wider horizon" for western coal.

Russia Orbits Cosmos III

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union orbited an intrument-packed Sputnik Tuesday and fully repored the "failure" of the mute American moon rocket, Ranger-4.

The Sputnik—the third in a series that began March 16 — was another step in a Soviet program of space probes to check and improve elements of spaceship construction.

The Soviet news agency Tass announced the launching of the Sputnik named Cosmos III shortly after it reported the American moon shot.

It said preliminary data indicated the Sputnik was in an orbit close to its calculated path.

The radio telemetric signals from Cosmos III indicated all equipment on board was functioning normally, Tass said.

The announcement said the space vehicle was circling the earth every 93.8 minutes.

There was no information on the weight or shape of the satellite.

Macmillan To Visit Canada, U.S.

LONDON (CP-AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan heads for the United States and Canada today, reported to be resigned to resumed U.S. nuclear testing but hoping to find ways to getting the stalled Geneva disarmament talks back on the rails.

Macmillan will be in the United States until Sunday, when he heads for Ottawa and two days of talks with Canadian government officials.

The British leader's stand on resumed U.S. testing was made clear in a House of Commons statement he made five days ago. He said then that the United States stood ready to call off the tests at any time that Russia agreed to a workable ban on nuclear weapons.

"If not, no negotiations can be fruitful and I cannot ask the president to postpone the tests," Macmillan said.

B.C. Hydro Announces 14 Appointments

VANCOUVER (CP) — The B.C. Hydro Authority Tuesday announced the appointment of 14 major officials of the authority formed by the recent merger of the B.C. Electric and B.C. Power Comission.

Approved at a recent board of directors meeting was the appointment of Thomas Chambers as comptroller and chief financial officer.

Also named to executive posts were Sigurdur Sigmundson, Manager of Transportation Division; J. S. Purves, Acting Manager of Purchasing and Stores Division; I. R. A. Mills, Associate Financial Officer, Financial Division; J. H. Steede, Chief Engineer and Manager of Engineering Division; R. C. McMordie, Associate Manager, of Engineering Division; P. W. Barchard, Acting Manager of Operations Division; J. N. Olsen, Associate Manager of Operations Division; J. J. Carson, Acting Manager of Staff Services Division; Garth Griffiths, Associate Manager of Staff Services Division; W. D. Kennedy, Manager of Economic and Commercial Services; L. E. Wight, Regional Manager, Vancouver Island Division; T. V. Farmer, Regional Manager, Southern Interior Region; S. C. Burnell, Regional Manager, Central Interior Region.

Council for Disabled Appointed

OTTAWA (CP) — Appointment of a 25-member national advisory council on the rehabilitation of disabled persons was announced Tuesday.

It will be headed by Brig. James L. Melville of Ottawa, retired chairman of the Canadian Pension Commission.

The council members, appointed by the federal government on the advice of Labor Minister Starr and Health Minister Monteith, will advise the labor minister on matters involving the rehabilitation of the disabled.

First meeting of the new advisory group has been set for May 14-15 in Ottawa.

Members include representatives from each provincial government.

Enders' Body Discovered

QUESNEL (CP) — RCMP Tuesday found the body of gambling club operator Walter Enders who disappeared two weeks ago.

They said it appears that he had been shot to death.

His nephew, David Myers, 20, has been charged with capital murder in the death.

Myers appeared in Quesnel police court Tuesday and was remanded for eight days for a preliminary hearing.

The body of the 50-year-old proprietor of a private shuffleboard and gambling club was found covered with brush and leaves about a mile off the Cariboo highway 10 miles north of this British Columbia interior centre.

The hunt for Enders started after police found bloodstains in his cabin at Quesnel.

Myers was arrested in Prince Rupert, 350 miles northwest of here, after police found Enders' car there Saturday.

Russ Grain Output Down 4 Million Tons

ROME (AP) — Russia's 1961 grain production was 4,000,000 tons below the 1958 record and Communist China was hit by increasing food shortages, the Food and Agriculture Organization reported Tuesday.

The United Nations agency's 1962 world commodity review bore out the admissions of Soviet and Communist Chinese officials that they have serious agricultural problems on their hands.

It said Communist China still was having serious difficulty with drought and reduced crops.

China's wheat and cotton crops suffered severely in 1961. The rice harvest in some southern provinces seemed to have been "reasonably favorable," FAO said, but total rice production slumped enough to sharply reduce exports and cause shortages at home.

The review said grain production in the Soviet Union last year amounted to 137,000,000 tons—well below the 141,000,000 tons grown three years before.

PRICES DROP

In a broad picture of the world commodity situation, FAO reported prices for agricultural products generally continued downward last year, some dropping to the lowest levels since the Second World War. Sugar prices hit a 25-year low.

An improvement in agricultural prices in the immediate future "is hardly to be expected," the agency added.

The report said there were reduced harvests of the important food and feed crops—wheat, coarse grain and sugar—contrasting with record production of meat, wool and rubber.

Heathman Ordered Deported From U.S.

SEATTLE (CP)—Deportation to Canada was ordered here Tuesday for Charles Heathman who has publicly confessed to the murder of a 10-year-old boy.

Immigration authorities said the 39-year-old native of Winnipeg twice sentenced to hang for the killing, would be escorted to the U.S. border at Blaine, Wash., probably Tuesday night.

They said Heathman did not contest the deportation order issued on the grounds that he failed to declare his admitted criminal record when he entered the United States Saturday.

At Blaine, RCMP are expected to take Heathman into custody under a Mental Hospitals Act warrant alleging that he is "mentally ill and too dangerous to be at large."

The warrant was issued Saturday shortly after the Vancouver Sun published a statement in which Heathman admitted smothering Donald Ottley to death at Vernon, B.C. 18 months ago.

He was twice convicted and twice condemned to the gallows for the killing but the B.C. Court of Appeal ordered a new trial after his first conviction and quashed the conviction at the second trial.

After his arrest in downtown Seattle, Heathman told a Vancouver Province reporter and detectives the confession was true.

At Vernon meanwhile, the mother of newsboy Donald Ottley has launched a campaign to have Heathman stand trial again.

The mother, Mrs. Ada Oliver, and neighbors are circulating a petition in the Okanagan Centre in a bid to have authorities order the new trial despite the law of double jeopardy under which a man cannot be tried for a crime on which he has been acquitted. Donald was her son by her first marriage.

The case has left B.C. Attorney-General Robert Bonner's department puzzling over the legal quandry set by the unprecedented confession.

Mr. Bonner said the legal complexities of the disclosure have created a "horrible mess" and that the department would choose a course of action by the end of the week.

Publisher Defends Actions

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver Sun publisher Donald Cromie in a front-page statement Tuesday defended the actions of his newspaper in obtaining and publishing Charles Heathman's confession of murder, giving the confessor 12 hours notifying authorities.

Mr. Cromie, whose newspaper broke the confession story last Saturday, said the man was in effect "seeking both a public confession in his own words and a public trial and verdict and he has had all and he is now reconciled to stand by them."

The Sun confirmed that it had paid Heathman $500 to get him psychiatric treatment, and in his statement Mr. Cromie said:

"His confession, I believe is a public document that was certain to be validated if, after accepting $500, he let the 12-hour free period pass and allowed that dreadful story to go to the public unchallenged.

"Had we forced the authorities to detain or question him and he had therefore rebelled and repudiated his confession, I believe the most crushing weight available to the courts of our land would have been applied against the release of his confession."

Heathman went to Seattle early Saturday several hours before the paper with his confession of smothering 10-year-old Donald Ottley in Vernon two years ago, appeared for sale. He was twice sentenced to be hanged for the Ottley murder but finally acquitted by the B.C. Court of Appeal last December.

Heathman has since been apprehended in Seattle and ordered deported to Canada.

Mr. Cromie said: "I have full confidence that The Sun's editors and reporters acted as responsible, moral and intelligent citizens in their discovery, development and execution of the story and the drama of Heathman's return to justice."

Attorney-General Bonner called Mr. Cromie's statement "highly contrived nonsense which has only one redeeming feature, which is that he has accepted responsibility for the shocking bad taste and carelessness which accompanied publication of this so-called statement."

"The plain fact is that the Vancouver Sun failed to think through the problem presented by the Heathman statement and what was worse, failed to show any consideration for the position of public officials who must now clean up the mess which Cromie allowed to be created."

Gromyko Sees Glimpse of Hope

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Foreign Minister Gromyko was cautiously optimistic Tuesday about the possibility of an early settlement of the Berlin and German problems.

Gromyko told the Supreme Soviet that "glimpses of hope" had come out of current talks on the problems in Washington between American State Secretary Rusk and Anatoly Dobrynin, Russia's ambassador to the United States.

On disarmament Gromyko rejected an American suggestion that the question of zonal international inspection be considered by the 17-nation disarmament conference at Geneva. On-site inspection would mean "espionage."

Mercury Hits Record Highs

EDMONTON (CP) — Record high temperatures for April 24 were set Tuesday at three Western Prairie cities. All temperatures were in the 80s.

Moose Jaw recorded 85, three degrees higher than the previous high maximum for April 24 in 1910.

Medicine Hat had 83 compared with the previous high set in 1927 and equalled in 1952.

At Swift Current the mercury soared to 81, six degrees higher than the previous high of 75 in 1927.

CHICAGO (AP)—The state of Illinois has ruled that $242.23 in inheritance taxes is due from five cats. Four of the cats, Big Boy, Blue Eyes, Brother Cat and Mommy Kitty, must pay $15.10 each. The fifth and youngest cat, Flat Nose, must pay $181.83.

It was all worked out strictly according to actuarial tables and the tax laws, Attorney-General William Clark said Monday.

The five cats were left $13,804.59 in trust by Mrs. Margaret Montgomery, who died in 1960.

The acts will benefit while they are alive. Then the residue of the estate is to be divided by William Fields, 72, the estate trustee, and the Roman Catholic Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament at Cornwells Heights, Pa.

Clark said the five cats probably will live to be about 14 years old, their high income level giving them about four more years of living than the average cat.

That means Flat Nose, age 9, pays about five years' taxes, while the other cats — all about 12 years old — pay about two years' taxes.

Clark said the actual amount of tax due from each cat was carefully calculated according to the tax laws after all agreed that they were Class III heirs — that is, not related by blood to their benefactor.

Freedomite Convicted On Obstruction Charge

Sons of Freedom Fred W. Chernenkoff, 71, a member of the sect's fraternal council, was found guilty Tuesday of wilfully attempting to obstruct the course of justice.

Chernenkoff was charged specifically with ordering two members of the sect awaiting trial to change statements they gave police officers.

The two Freedomites, Walter P. Ostrikoff and John Nevokshonoff, both testified against Chernenkoff. In essence, the men said Chernenkoff told them to lie during their trial with regard to statements they gave to RCMP.

They were to deny that the statements were true. The men admitted Tuesday the statements they gave RCMP confessing to crimes were true.

The two were the only crown witnesses called and the jury returned their verdict after 34 minutes deliberation.

Mr. Justice H. Alan Maclean remanded Chernenkoff in custody for sentence.

GIVEN IN JAIL

Ostrikoff and Nevokshonoff told court that Chernenkoff went into the provincial jail here during visiting hours to give them the orders.

Five more members of the sect's ruling body are to face similar charges of obstruction this week.

It was expected that two trials would be completed Tuesday but trial proceedings were delayed by a legal battle between special prosecutor George Murray, QC, of Vancouver and Nelson lawyer R. Blake Allan, defence counsel.

Mr. Allan objected to what was termed "irregularities" at Chernenkoff's preliminary hearing.

He also objected to the wording of the indictment which at first read that Chernenkoff was charged simply with obstruction. Mr. Allan argued that it did not state what type of obstruction.

Mr. Murray promptly stated that the indictment had not been read in court and that a new indictment would be preferred. The new indictment, embodying the names of Ostrikoff and Nevokshonoff, was later read in court.

Mr. Allan's objections were overruled by the bench and the case proceeded.

Chernenkoff took the witness stand in his own defence and swore he knew who Ostrikoff and Nevokshonoff were but had never talked to them.

He admitted having been convicted in 1923 on a charge regarding the Royal Mail. The charge and Chernenkoff's sentence were not given the court.

In cross-examination by Mr. Murray, Chernenkoff said, "We do not believe in migration through jails. If we do not like the laws here we will leave. We are law-abiding citizens." He did not specify if he meant the Fraternal Council or the Freedomite sect as a whole when he said "we."

He said he himself did not believe in the Doukhobor prophecy that the sect would leave Canada through jails.

Nelson Sportsmen Against Compulsory Licence Insurance

Nelson Rod and Gun Club will not support compulsory insurance on hunting licenses proposed by the B.C. Federation of Rod and Gun clubs.

The resolution, to be brought up at the federation's annual convention would charge a nominal fee, to add liability insurance on all licenses sold in the province.

At the regular meeting Tuesday, the club heard Leo S. Gansner, R. A. Phillips and G. F. Hartridge explain disadvantages of insurance on hunting licenses.

It was generally felt and pointed out by Mr. Phillips that most hunters will already have insurance through the home insurance plans and paying further for hunting insurance would be a needless expense.

Mr. Gansner said that it would be extremely difficult in a court to point out negligence in a hunting accident. He said that there would be many obstacles in identifying people responsible in a hunting accident.

BETTER RELATIONS

It was brought out at one point that the federation wanted overall coverage if only to improve farmer-hunter relationship in hunting accidents. Farmers would not feel so badly about losing livestock if they could make a claim against an insured hunter.

If 150,000 hunters were charged 50c additional for insurance, the $75,000 made by the insurance companies would unlikely be sufficient to pay hunting accident claims in B.C. in one year, said Mr. Phillips.

With four fatal accidents in B.C. last year it would be difficult to keep up with claims, he said. Death would probably be one of the cheapest claims to pay. It would likely be more expensive if someone was shot and crippled for life. If such was the case, insurance rates would increase the following year, and keep increasing until companies made a profit.

He said further that people may tend to get more careless if they had compulsory insurance.

J. J. (Mickey) McEwen suggested the club offer a counter resolution to the compulsory plan. He thought that federation should study the feasibility of a fund already operating in Alberta that protects hunters.

The convention will be in Kamloops, May 3, 4 and 5.

Last Rites Held For Mrs. Kellie

Funeral services were held Tuesday for Mrs. Margaret Kellie who died in Nelson Thursday at the age of 83 years.

Officiating clergyman for the services, conducted at Thompson Funeral Home, was Rev. E. A. Hircock of the First Presbyterian Church.

Hymns sung were "Psalm XXIII" and "Abide With Me."

Pallbearers were J. L. Dunlop, J. N. Kelsey, H. Layte, W. D. MacDonald, J. H. Ridge and R. O. Sadler.

Interment took place in the Masonic Plot, Nelson Memorial Park.

Second Attack on Gas Line Probed

Police Squads Move Into Shoreacres Area

Possibility that the Inland Natural Gas Company pipeline has been attacked by terrorists for the second time in six days was being investigated by RCMP late Tuesday night.

A Canadian Pacific Railway trackwalker notified police that a loud "hissing" of gas could be heard across the Kootenay River on the mountain above the lighted section of the gas line where it crosses the river, at Shoreacres.

RCMP from the special "D" squad at Nelson, Crescent Valley and Castlegar converged on the scene immediately and a tracking dog was put into service.

Gas company officials reported the pressure in the main line had dropped to 120 from 540 pounds per square inch.

The trackwalker checks the section between Tarrys school and South Slocan. He reported the incident at 10:40 p.m.

On April 18, terrorists dug down four feet to place a bomb under the 10-inch gas pipe near Gilpin and blew out a four-foot section to disrupt service to Grand Forks, Trail and Nelson.

The line from Savona in the Okanagan was completed in 1957 and had been attacked on four previous occasions, the last one west of Nelson in the spring of 1958, when service to the city was cut off. A standby tank was installed by the company following this attack, at a cost of $100,000.

The propane air standby unit assures consumers of immediate continuous service in the event of supply failure anywhere along the company's line west.

The propane is stored in a 30,000-gallon tank as a liquid, and the plant is capable of converting this into a vapor giving the same heat value as natural gas.

Former Nelson Girl Dies At Victoria

VICTORIA (CP)—Funeral service will be held here today for Mrs. Janet Laidlaw, the former Janet Grimes of Nelson.

Mrs. Laidlaw, 42, died Saturday.

A registered nurse, she moved here seven years ago and was on the nursing staff of the Royal Jubilee Hospital at the time of her death.

Surviving are her daughter, Janice, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Grimes of Nelson, and three sisters, Mrs. F. W. Benton of Victoria, Mrs. Miles Riddle of Montreal, and Mrs. Donald McDonald in the United States.

Nelson Teachers Lead Forum at Music Meet

TRAIL — Nelson music teachers presented a forum on music examinations and festivals during opening sessions of the B.C. Registered Music Ttachers' Association in the Mine-Milll hall here.

Mrs. L. A. McPhail, Mrs. R. B. Green and Mrs. G. H. Lee agreed that exams and festivals had a definite place in the life of the pupil and teachers but they felt that the wrong emphasis had been placed on both mediums in many cases.

A teacher should be an educator, not a displayer of talent, they said.

In an address of welcome, Mayor Joe Palyga commented on the importance of the arts in the life of the community and extended the city's wishes for the success of the convention.

Mrs. Agnes Inkster, president of the Trail group, extended a welcome to the visiting delegates.

Following a brief coffee break, hosted by the Nelson group, an interesting and informative forum, "What are the aims of the school music teacher?" was presented by G. A. Mallette, Trail, B. L. Turvey, Rossland, and N. Fishwick, Castlegar.

Each teacher commented briefly on his own aims. Mr. Mallette stressed the value of music appreciation to the student who thus could be guided in his reactions to music on physical, emotional and intellectual planes. Mr. Turvey felt that an instrumental program gave the student a more catholic taste in music and group participation was an invaluable aid to a broader understanding. Mr. Fishwick said that a musical education should be available to all who desired it and it should be tailored to meet the demands of our changing music pattern.

The luncheon speaker was Margaret Saunders Ott of Spokane, Wash. Mrs. Ott, a private teacher of piano as well as a lecturer at Whitworth College and Holy Names College in Spokane, spoke on Music Relativity. She said that music was the only way we had of recapturing the past. A person playing a Bach prelude was actually recreating the mental climate that Bach existed in when he wrote the piece.

LIFE MEMBERSHIP

During the luncheon, Mrs. E. A. Tweeddale presented a life membership pin to Rex Potter for his outstanding contribution to music in this community.

The early part of the afternoon was given over to reports from the various branches on their year's work. Reports were heard from Chilliwack, Kamloops, Nelson, Penticton, Trail, Vernon, Victoria and Vancouver. Some discussion was heard on the problem of establishing an achievement standard for entry in the music faculty at UBC with members feeling that the faculty must take the initiative in this matter.

Reginald Bedford, president of the Canadian Federated Music Teachers' Association, was guest speaker following dinner.

Mr. Bedford whose theme was "A Plea for Teachers," gave a brief report of the highlights of the past year's work, including the organizing of a group teacher tour of European music centres. It is hoped to make this an annual affair as it is believed a definite benefit will be felt in the teaching approach of those fortunate enough to take the tour. He complimented the B.C. Association on its splendid organization and said it was one of the top ones in Canada. Mr. Bedford concluded his remarks by imploring the professional teachers to come out of the ivory towers and come to grips with the problems of music in the community of the arts.

Boris Roubakine gave a lecture-recital on Brahms. By illustrating his talk with short excerpts of Brahms' work, Mr. Roubakine was able to trace the development of Brahms' style in a graphic manner.

Mr. Roubakine concluded the evening by playing Variations on a Theme by Handel and Four Piano Pieces, Opus 119.

Mill Worker Injured In Plant Accident

Reported in fairly good condition in Kootenay Lake General Hospital Tuesday night was Fred Strukoff of Taghum, who suffered head injuries in an accident at Kootenay Forest Products Ltd. plant in Nelson.

A cleanup man, Mr. Strukoff was clearing bark from the resaw area at the time — just before noon. The machinery was shut down, but in some way yet to be determined, officials said, it started up again. Mr. Strukoff was leaning forward and his head, protected by a helmet, was caught in the pneumatic rollers which feed the lumber into the resaw.

He was quickly rescued but suffered severe head injuries.

A call was put in for a doctor and an ambulance, but the calls went astray and instead the waiting first aid attendants found themselves surrounded by three fire department vehicles and the city police car, which in turn were followed by many cars and Fairview children.

So that there would be no further delay in getting medical attention to Mr. Strukoff, he was taken to hospital in the fire chief's car. First aid attendant Paul Deakin administered oxygen during the trip.

Herridge To Attend Convention

H. W. Herridge, parliamentary leader of the CCF-New Democratic Party, will attend his party's nominating convention for West Kootenay in Nelson Saturday.

Mr. Herridge is returning home from Ottawa and is expected to arrive in Nakusp today.

Court Busy After Holiday

A youth appearing before Judge William Evans in Juvenile Court Tuesday was fined $25 and costs for possession of liquor and had his driver's license suspended until he was 21.

The juvenile, nearly 18, was at a dance hall when picked up. Judge Evans told him that it was time an example was made of him because he refused to behave. He has appeared before the court on other occasions, including charges of breaking and entering, possession of liquor, and littering the street with bottles. He was on probation at the time of the offense.

In provincial court, Magistrate Evans fined William J. Chernoff of Crescent Valley $30 and costs, or 14 days, for being intoxicated in a public place.

William Semenoff of Brilliant was found guilty of driving while his ability was impaired. He was fined $150 and costs and had his licence suspended for one month.

Donald Trozzo of Nelson was fined a total of $65 on two counts.

On the first charge, he was fined $15 and costs for speeding on the North Shore and on the second for consuming liquor in a public place, he was fined $50 and costs. Court was told Trozzo had a bottle of beer in his hand when stopped by RCMP for speeding.

For speeding on the North Shore, B. R. Stafford of R.R. 1 was fined $15 and costs.

Norman Best of R.R. 1 was also charged with speeding on the North Shore and was fined $15 and costs.

A Nelson man, G. W. Tames, was fined $10 and costs for having an inadequate muffler.

Another speeder, Tony Sarak of R.R. 1, was fined $15 and costs by Magistrate Evans.

C. R. Palmer of Nelson was also fined $15 and costs for speeding on the North Shore.

Magistrate Evans was kept busy while filling in for city police magistrate R. S. Nelson, who is presently out of town due to illness of his son.

On Saturday in police court, Magistrate Evans fined Gary J. Kilpatrick of Nelson $15 and costs for speeding on Front Street.

Allan J. Leslie of Nelson was fined $10 and costs for failing to stop at a stop sign at Cedar and Front Streets.

Stephen Amsden was fined $15 and costs for speeding on Front Street.

Harry Cook Laid at Rest

Funeral service was held Tuesday for Harry Cook, who died Monday at the age of 79 years.

Officiating clergyman was Rev. Peter W. Faris of St. Paul's-Trinity United Church and hymns sung were "Rock of Ages" and "Crown Him With Many Crowns."

The body was transferred to Craik, Sask., for interment.

Junior Soccer League Meeting

Formation of a city junior soccer league will be the topic of discussion at a meeting tonight at the Civic Centre apartment.

Notre Dame has already chosen a side. Enough players to suit up for three other teams to make the league a four-club operation are being sought.

Columbia Gas Initiates Staking, Clearing Routes

CRANBROOK — Columbia Natural Gas Limited, which has undertaken to supply six municipalities in southern East Kootenay with natural gas distribution by mid - September, is circulating specifications for installations among contractors late this week in anticipation of an early contract.

Staking of routes for the pipe from Alberta Natural Gas trunkline is now under way by Columbia's own crew on a niine-mile area south of Cranbrook. Kennelly Lumber Company Limited has contracted right-of-way clearance for the 20 miles between Cranbrook and Teepee Creek, where the trunkline will be tapped for the lateral to supply Kimberley, Chapman Camp, Marysville and Cranbrook. This bush work will probably begin Monday southward from Cranbrook.

OVERHEAD CROSSING

Major problem of the St. Mary's River crossing between Cranbrook and Kimberley has been solved through engineering an overhead arrangement instead of under the riverbed, which removed necessity for an early spring start before runoff waters complicated the job.

Approximate distances of the three laterals from the trunkline are 40 miles for the four-municipality six-inch line, 14 miles for the Fernie line and 25 miles for the Creston line. CNG will supply pipe and fittings for the construction company getting the contract. Right-of-way will be 33 feet, and depth 30 inches.

At Fruitvale . . .

Contract Given for Garbage Collection Outside Village

FRUITVALE — Fruitvale, reverting to its own garbage collection again, has drawn up a contract with M. Campbell for a three-month period. Mr. Campbell will use the municipal dump for disposal of garbage collected in areas outside village boundaries, in return for a fee based on the number of loads of garbage. He will be responsible for maintenance of the dump.

The three-month period is to give the Fruitvale Improvement District time to decide whether or not to start a regular garbage collection system in their area, and to draw up a bylaw to that effect.

Commissioner Jamieson also informed council that clean-up week has been set for the week of April 30 to May 4 inclusive, to coincide with the village taking over its own garbage collection again. Garbage collection days and hours are to be the same as those in practice before the work was let out on contract, Mondays and Tuesdays in the morning and Friday in the afternoon.

The Parks Committee is drawing up a schedule for use of the baseball diamonds, since several requests have already been received from various clubs in the area. The committee is considering moving the ball diamond up to the top end of the grounds and is determining the location of a building to be erected for proper washroom facilities.

The works department is to request the co-operation of the fire department in washing down Main Street section of Highway 3A; this has been done in past years and has proved to be a great help in removing the sand that has been deposited during sanding operations in the winter, as well as making it possible for the business people to keep their premises free of dust.

TRADES LICENCE INFRACTION

The clerk was instructed to write to one resident who is carrying on auto repairs and advise him that he must take out a trades license or discontinue this work. He was also to write to four firms which are carrying on business in the village without trades licenses; they will be advised to take out the necessary permits within a certain time or council will take further action under the village trades license bylaw.

The clerk advised council that tenders for the work proposed on the municipal garage would be received until 5:30 p.m. today.

The commission received a letter of resignation from building inspector W. H. Williams, which was accepted with regret. The clerk was instructed to advertise for a part-time building inspector to replace Mr. Williams.

The works committee reported to the village commission that the loader has finally been repaired and is back in operation, but that the grader is still waiting for the new motor.

CREEK CLEAR — RESIDENTS WARNED

The crew has recently cleaned out parts of Fruitvale Creek of garbage and other rubbish thrown into the creekbed by residents, which was causing blockages at culverts and along the stream itself. Residents were reported throwing tree clippings and other such large material in the creek. They will be advised that the regular spring clean-up campaign is the place to get rid of this type of rubbish.

Work has commenced on replacing two eighteen-inch culverts with one 36-inch pipe at one trouble spot in the creek, but completion of the job will have to wait until the high water period is over; the ditch for the new culvert will have to carry the water and the roadway will be closed off for vehicular traffic during the spring runoff.

Work has started on the cemetery fence.

Commissioner Alec Graham reported to the commission that the recreation commission has begun plans for summer playground supervision, and that he has been made secretary of the commission. He and Commissioner Orville Jamieson, who is also on the recreation commission executive, requested a grant of $100 towards expenses; they were advised that if it could be fitted into the budget such a grant would be allowed.

Council is to study the new amendment ot the Municipal Act dealing with shop closing hours for service stations and garages, and a new bylaw will be commenced shortly, to cover the regulations set out in the act.

A brief report on the AKM meeting held in Fernie over the past weekend was given by chairman Arthur Borrow and Commissioner O. Jamieson. One of the points brought up was the amendment to the Municipal Act concerning the new method of truck licensing, and council is to give the matter a thorough study to determine how it will affect the village of Fruitvale.

Jaycees Ready For Booth Construction

CRANBROOK — Cranbrook Junior Chamber of Commerce tourist booth construction committee, headed by Donald MacDonald, reported to the Jaycee meeting that it is ready for immediate construction of the booth as soon as city council notifies the chairman of its location.

Chairmen for materials supply, manpower and finance reported they are ready at any time, and construction of the architect-planned portable building will get under way.

The city has applied to the Department of Lands for a long-term lease on property along the highway immediately south of the B.C. Forest Service ranger station which has been proposed as booth location, and the Cranbrook Chamber of Commerce will staff it during the tourist season.

BUSINESS OPERATION TOPIC

Special speaker at the meeting was V. C. Brown as third speaker in the Jaycee spring course on operation of a business. Earlier subjects covered were setting up of a business, and methods and responsibilities of financing a business. Mr. Brown's subject was management of a business, and he illustrated organization by describing the management function of Crestbrook Timber Limited, of which he is general manager.

He described the method of corporation ownership, with a board of directors responsible to shareholders in establishing policies and management responsibility to carry these decisions out through work of five departments — production, sales, accounting, purchasing, and in the case of this industry, forestry.

Cranbrook Jaycees had four delegates at the recent annual Kootenay Regional Jaycee meeting at Trail which named John Icandia of Trail new chairman, succeeding Nick Voikan of Trail, and Allan Jones of Kimberley, vice-chairmen. Presidents of all Kootenay Jaycees serve on the board of directors.

Wetmore Speaks For Liberals At Castlegar

CASTLEGAR — Doug Wetmore of Trail spoke on behalf of the Liberal party at a special meeting held recently at Castlegar.

Mr. Wetmore's speech was followed by a round-table discussion.

Preparation for the forthcoming election and an attempt to reactivate the local committee will be purpose of a meeting scheduled for May 2 in the Marlane Hotel.

Axel Holm Buried Legion Cemetery

CRANBROOK — Funeral service was held Saturday for Axel Holm, retired miner and construction worker, who died Wednesday at St. Eugene Hospital at the age of 74 years.

He was born at Tromso, Norway, and came to British Columbia via Seattle in 1910. He worked at Prince Rupert, then Blairmore, until 1914, when he enlisted in the 192 Battalion at Blairmore. He was awarded the Military Medal in overseas service and on demobilization in 1919 settled in Cranbrook.

In 1925, he began mining work at Kimberley and in 1930 moved to the coast where he engaged in construction work until retirement in 1954.

He and his wife moved to Kaslo that year, and following her death at Kaslo last December, he came to Cranbrook to join his son, L. A. Holm, who had recently established his home here on Ninth Street. Also surviving are a second son, RCMP Inspector Elmer Holm, at Ottawa; six grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Helga Lind, in Nelson. Mr. Holm was a member of the Royal Canadian Legion here.

Funeral rites were conducted by Rev. Bryan Colwell at McPherson Funeral Chapel, with burial in the Legion cemetery.

Jehovah Witness Funeral Rites for Cranbrook Man

CRANBROOK — Jehovah Witnesses conducted the funeral service for a recent resident of the Sali Rest Home on Eleventh Avenue, Howard Hay, who died at St. Eugene Hospital at the age of 85 years.

He was born at Stanley, York County, N.B. and came west to Saskatchewan in 1898, homesteading in the Willmar and Carrot River districts. He retired from this in 1942 and moved to Abbotsford, where he remained until 1956, when he came to Cranbrook.

Surviving him are two sons, Clifford and Charles, both in Saskatchewan, two daughters, Mrs. Irene Pratt of Denver and Mrs. Ruby Swanson of Atikokan, Ont.; three grandchildren; a brother, Fred, at Wilmer, and three sisters, Mrs. E. Willock of Regina, Mrs. W. Falls of Willmar and Mrs. Emily Willock, Cranbrook.

I. H. Toevs conducted the funeral rites at McPherson Funeral Chaple and burial in the new General Cemetery followed.

Wycliffe Woman's Funeral, Burial Held at Glade

CRANBROOK — Funeral service and burial at Glade followed the death of Wycliffe resident the past 14 years, Tina Kurbotoff, who died at the age of 75 years. She was the wife of Nikifor Kurbotoff.

She was born in Russia and came to Canada and Saskatchewan in 1907. She continued to British Columbia in 1927 and with her husband came to Wycliffe in 1947.

He survives her there, also two sons, William at Flin Flon and Samuel at Glade; three daughters, Mrs. Jane Zarobin at Crescent Valley, Mrs. Fred Pattinson at Wycliffe and Mrs. Mary Verigan at Taghum; 13 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Radium Fire Brigade Passes Record Class

INVERMERE—The Red Cross Water Safety program sponsored by the Radium Fire Brigade has closed a successful season with 85 per cent having passed the beginners' tests, this being the highest percentage of passes in any class.

Awards on behalf of the Radium Fire Brigade were presented by Mr. Wheatley, president, to Adolf Hromadnik, head instructor; Toby Styles and Terry Bailey, life guards, and to the successful pupils.

The honor of being the best all-round pupil went to Gordon Cleland of Invermere. Ricky Cohurst of Edgewater won the highest average in theory.

Successful pupils were Ervin Alston, Frants Attorp, Phillip Attorp, Robert Brown, Robin Brown, Judy Buchanan, Gordon Cleland, Stewart Cleland, Teena Ferguson, Brent Goodwin, Jim Jones, Audrey Kemble, Lloyd Kemble, Ricky Kohurst, Bill Mitchell, Jean Moore, Peggy Moore, Terry Pressacco, Wesley Ramage, Darcy Seel, Terry Smith, Roy Thompson.

ACRA Adds Strong Voice to Appeal For Windermere Highway Repairs

Another B.C. organization will ask the government to repair the Windermere Highway, to correct a condition described as "disgraceful and dangerous." This appeal will be made by the Auto Courts and Resorts Association of B.C., the Association reports in a recent news release.

Action followed a report by Henning Madsen of Radium Hot Springs, vice - president for ACRA's Auto Courts section, that 60 miles of bad highway between Wasa Lake and Radium would do tourist traffic if visiting travellers irreparable damage to B.C.'s used it in its present condition.

He said his own car suffered considerable damage as he left for Vancouver, and on one occasion he ended up in a ditch when he couldn't avoid a pothole.

Chambers of Commerce, ACRA groups and others have all been urging action, fearful that travellers, en route to and from the Seattle World's Fair, would be victimized by the bad road.

Vic Bocking, president of the Motor Courts and Resorts Association of Alberta, in a report to his members on a trip to California and return, said: "after covering nine states and British Columbia, we came home feeling pretty proud of our Alberta roads. I am most concerned about a stretch of B.C. highway 93/95 from Cranbrook to Radium. This was in very bad condition, and it took us 3½ hours to cover that 100 odd miles.

"Unless this is considerably improved soon, the tourists that come over 93/95 will really be crying and spreading the news far and wide, and this kind of publicity we can do without. I wish we could do something about it."

J. J. DiMarzo, ACRA president and B.C. president for the Pacific Northwest Travel Association, reported from the PNTA travel show in Los Angeles that tremendous interest in B.C. was evident. Visitors to the B.C. booth by the hundreds soon exhausted all literature on hand, and B.C. House in San Francisco was almost emptied of brochures and maps in a rush to supply the booth till new literature could be obtained from "home" sources.

B.C. Directors of ACRA have endorsed efforts of the Canadian Tourist Association to extend the peak of the tourist season by persuading more Canadians to take holidays prior to July 15 or after August 15, the time when accommodation is crowded to capacity.

PROPOSED WATER PIPELINE TOPIC AT ATHALMER

INVERMERE — Athalmer Improvement District re-elected Ronald Bradshaw as chairman and Mrs. John Ronacher as secretary at the annual meeting. Trustees are Alec Purkis, Henry Delesalle, Michael Burnham and Rev. Father Clement.

Neville Cox, sanitary inspector for East Kootenay, from Cranbrook and Paul Riley, Nelson Water Rights Branch, both addressed the meeting concerning the projected piped water supply for the village.

The meeting voted to install five mercury vapour lamps on Laurier Avenue.

Six Easter Services in Kokanee Parish

Easter Day in the Parish of Kokanee saw a record number of parishioners attending services in the six churches where services were held.

The number of communicants was the largest in history of the parish.

All the churches were decorated with spring flowers for the services.

Assisting the vicar, Rev. William Edington, were four servers, Pat Deakin, Michael Deakin, John Laidlaw and John Edington.

At the early morning service at St. Andrew's-by-the-Lake at Willow Point, the vicar dedicated two collection plates in memory of Hugh Stewart. The plates, made of myrtlewood, were a gift from Mr. Stewart's sisters in Scotland.

No Matter for Great Pride

Here is an eye-opener for Canadians who feel complacent about this country's dependence on the outside world for what it reads. Canada imports far more printed matter, not just per capita but in absolute figures, than any other country.

This remarkable information — astonishing because Canada has only 0.6 per cent of the world's population — comes from UNESCO, cultural branch of the United Nations.

The UNESCO report shows that in a recent year Canada imported newspapers, magazines and books worth $57.8 million. Second largest importer was the U.S., $18.8 million. Then came Britain, $12.5 million, followed by France and Belgium.

So the U.S., Britain, France and Belgium, four highly civilized and literate nations with 300 million inhabitants together take less from abroad than do 18 million Canadians.

Of course the great bulk of this Canadian buying is from the U.S. Books and magazines are a high fraction of the total. In the year reported we imported $26 million worth of books, including $22 million in American books. Second biggest book export business in the world is Britain's $7 million worth to Australia.

Canada has no reason for pride in the fact that per capita we import 30 times as much reading matter as the Americans do. This is mental satellitism rather than mental health.

The true explanation of our unique position is that the publishing industry in this country is close to being suffocated because, as Hugh MacLennan said recently, we are handing over our principal channels of communication to outsiders.

Ottawa's present plans for implementing key recommendations of the O'Leary Royal Commission will help Canada's periodical press avoid suffocation. But, plainly, if Canada is to survive as a nation with an identity, the fraction of our reading matter supplied by Canadian publishers will have to be greatly increased.

Libel in Religion

Many people outside the Christian church are critical of religion and of religious people because too often they seem intent on squelching any sign of joy or happiness in the church or in their manner of living.

The criticism was given added weight recently by the announcement that the Lutheran Evangelical Church Council of Bavaria, in Germany, has ruled that Mendelssohn's joyous Wedding March and Schubert's beautiful Ave Maria may not be played in churches under its jurisdiction.

The council reasons that baptisms, weddings and funerals are "religious occasions" and as such are "not to be treated as happy family gatherings."

This is an attitude with which we trust other denominations and even the Lutheran Church in other parts of the world will hasten to disassociate themselves. For it is the very antithesis of basic Christian belief and practice.

Let the German ecclesiastics search the Scriptures anew and find that the basic Christian doctrine is one of happiness and joy. As the Divine Head of the church put it: "I came that ye might have life and that ye might have it more abundantly."

For many years there has been a great tendency to play down this aspect of Christian living and of making much of the idea that because the Head of the church was labelled at one point: "a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief" there is no place in the Christian life for other and happier sentiment. This, of course, is part of the doctrine brought to this continent in large doses by the Pilgrim Fathers and others and which still makes its mark.

Granted, there is a serious side to Christian living, as there is to most other kinds of living that are worth while. This is pointed up particularly in the Lenten season which prepares the way for the observance of that sad and solemn occasion, Good Friday.

But Christians and non-Christians alike should remember that Good Friday and the tragedy of the Cross would mean nothing had it not been followed by the resurrection of Easter Day and its message of joy which is even more meaningful than the one surrounding Christmas.

We are sorry for those in the church who, like the Bavarian Lutherans, have not caught the message of happy living which they are intended to know even better than those outside the church. As Bishop Luxton of the Anglican diocese of Huron said not long ago, this accent on perpetual gloom is "one of the base libels on modern religion.

Shrewd Machines

The CWA News, publication of the Communications Workers of America, has a low opinion editorially of computers and other electronic devices of automation.

On page five of the March issue is a report: "Think machine may wipe out jobs, undermine democracy."

On page six it tells proudly of the new "think machine" installed in CWA's Washington, D.C., headquarters to prepare financial reports, analyze collective bargaining data, write cheques — and process subscriptions for The CWA News.

Insidious rascals, these think machines.—Portland Oregonian.

In and Out

The Soviet government, as part of its de-Stalinization program, is offering to exchange Stalin Peace Prize medals for new ones reading Lenin. Perhaps Soviet officials would show foresight and save their country needless expense if they contrived medals with a slot in which a metal slide bearing the relevant name could simply be slipped in and out any time the dictates of history require it.

To show how fast the latest fighter aircraft can fly, the general manager of a company making them says: "If one of these planes were fired at by a 16-inch naval gun, and if the pilot should happen to see the shell, he could avoid it, swing his plane alongside to inspect it, and then fly away from it, going in the same direction as the shell."—Montreal Star.

Unemployment Declined From Mid-February to Mid-March

OTTAWA (CP) — Unemployment in Canada declined from February's mid-winter high to lower than the jobless total for March of last year, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported Tuesday.

The drop of 23,000 from the mid-February figure of 583,000 was described as "a large decline for this period."

The mid-March unemployment figure represented 8.7 per cent of the labor force, compared with 9.1 per cent in February and 11.1 per cent in March, 1960.

The bureau said a 54,000 increase between February and March in the number of Canadians employed was "an unusually large increase for this time of year." Mid-March employment was 4.4 per cent higher than a year earlier.

The picture in brief, with estimates in thousands:

	Mar. 1962	Feb. 1962	Mar. 1961
Labor force	6,454	6,423	6,353
Employed	5,894	5,840	5,648
Unemployed	560	583	705

The report is based on a survey of 35,000 households across Canada during the week ended March 24. The statistics prepared by the bureau are analyzed by the federal labor department.

The monthly report said there was a larger-than-normal increase in employment from February in the manufacturing, construction and service industries. Activity was sustained or higher in the textile, rubber and clothing industries and in many areas of durable goods manufacturing.

However, the spring breakup brought a seasonal decline in the number of forestry workers.

The unemployment picture in western regions:

PRAIRIES

The Prairie region saw a small decline in unemployment to 71,000 from February and 5,000 fewer than a year earlier. The jobless rate was 6.3 per cent, compared with seven per cent a year earlier.

Employment in service industries rose during the month and manufacturing employment rose slightly, but unfavorable weather slowed the normal seasonal upturn in farming and construction.

PACIFIC

Unemployment in the Pacific region fell by 7,000 in the month to 46,000—a jobless rate of 7.9 per cent compared with 12.3 per cent a year earlier when unemployment totalled 71,000.

A rise in employment during the month was concentrated mainly in manufacturing industries. Employment in sawmills and shipyards remained steady but logging in many areas was brought to a virtual standstill by poor roads. Construction work, delayed by poor weather early in the period, was under way again at the month's end.

F. B. Pearce ...Writes

It is pleasant when the snow has gone and the weather is warmer to get into the car and go: anywhere, of course, and particularly to Vancouver.

One person, who evidently does not think much of her city asked me what I thought of it. I told her that I had loved it for years though I do not want to live here. It is a delightful place to visit and to spend a holiday in.

It is pleasant to know, also, that one can now get to Vancouver in ten hours. We left Nelson at 7:00 in the morning and reached the cutoff at Kinnaird at 7:55, and by taking it we were in Christina Lake at 9:00 and at Grand Forks at 9:15.

That new road is a splendid piece of work and gives one the feeling, after the detours through the States, that one is really moving fast. The detour's a bit sticky but not at all difficult. We arrived at Hope at two fifteen and could easily have reached Vancouver in a couple more hours. Instead we stayed overnight at the Crest Hotel, which our friend Chris Trkla is remodelling. He is evidently following the same pattern as with the Nelson Hotel, making good dining rooms and banqueting rooms.

We went up and saw the arch of the new bridge at Spuzzum. It is marvellous and as soon as it is finished it will be worth a visit. I hope to be able to travel from Banff to Vancouver as soon as the road is open. It will be one of the world's most scenic roads.

I like to go into Vancouver by the Lougheed Highway. If one takes that it is possible to get into Vancouver and right to the university are by Broadway. I usually miss the turn and get into the city by Hastings Street. This is shorter but not quite so convenient. I would be helped much if the highway carried the sign, Lougheed Highway. All our highways should have names as well as signs — there is something dignified about the Southern Trans-Provincial Highway. Let's call our new cutoff Gaglardi Highway and give our friend Phil the right to do 70 miles an hour on it and freedom from arrest.

He really deserves great credit for all he has done and is doing. Vancouver people seem to complain that the city does not get much of the gasoline tax money spent there but the Lower Mainland is certainly getting its share, what with the Deas Island tunnel, the four-lane highway to the border and the Port Mann bridge.

If this column is a mess blame it on my grand child, aged two, who is busy trying to amuse me, or himself. Not that I complain.

Interpreting the News

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The capture of former Gen. Raoul Salan surely means that the frightful ordeal of Algeria's 9,000,000 Arabs is nearly over at last.

There have been many false dawns in the bitter history of Algeria, many peace hopes extinguished since the time five years ago when former governor Robert Lacoste was proclaiming repeatedly, and with wild inaccuracy, that the war was in its "dernier quart d'heure."

Now perhaps Lacoste's "final quarter of an hour" has arrived. Salan's abject surrender to French security forces, in contrast with the heavy-breathing bravado of his Secret Army pamphlets, will be a heavy psychological blow to settler morale.

LEADERS FALL AWAY

For years, world opinion has condemned the cause of "algerie Francaise" and considered Algerian independence as inevitable. With their leaders falling away one by one, the 1,000,000 Europeans may finally realize the sheer irrationality of their attempt to hold back history.

As Salan joins Edmond Jouhaud in jail, the Europeans may well wonder about the calibre of the Secret Army chiefs. Considering their frequent vows to fight to the death, the ex-generals captulated in remarkably tame fashion.

Salan is quoted as saying the Secret Army was "collapsing" all around him. Whether he really said that or whether an inspired propagandist put the words in his mouth, it seems safe to forecast a bitter struggle for power among the remnants of the Secret Army, an organization that must surely long discredit the French army officer corps.

"BRAINS" STILL LOOSE

The man of whom more may be heard is ex-Col. Yves Godard, whom some regarded as the real "brains" of the Secret Army even when Salan was still titular chief. Among civilians, probably the most virulent proponent of French Algeria is student leader Jean-Jacques Susini, an out-and-out Fascist.

While a disillusioned European population begins to see the handwriting on the wall, Godard and Susini may still get hard-core support from French army deserters, desperate men who have so many killings on their crime-sheets a few more won't worry them.

So the slaughter of innocents in Algeria may continue for a while, in the same cold-blooded and pointless way. But it is unlikely to last much longer. Soon the Moslem millions may be able to turn from the military phase of their struggle for independence to what may prove an equally formidable task—economic reconstruction of a devastated land.

CABBIES WANT INCREASE

VERNON (CP) —Vernon taxi operators have applied to the Public Utilities Commission for permission to increase their fares by about 25 per cent. The bid follows a pay hike of 45 cents an hour for cab drivers.

Glenn to Address International Space Symposium

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov and U.S. astronaut John Glenn Jr. probably will address an international space science symposium May 3, instead of April 30 as previously planned.

The National Academy of Sciences Monday set May 3 for the speeches before the third international symposium of the committee on space research of the International Council of Scientific Unions.

Collegiate Explorers Have Narrow Escape

TRENTON, Ga. (AP) — A three-day ordeal without food and water ended happily for three collegiate explorers who carved a narrow perch between themselves and death inside a muddy cave.

The three—two eagle explorer scouts and a novice—were rescued safe, sound and soggy from a mud bank in the Lookout Mountain cave late Monday —the end of a search begun 36 hours earlier. Fraternity brothers found them in a spot experts had overlooked. More than 150 rescue workers had toiled in the search.

The three are James Mason, 21; Bill Bartee, 20, both of Atlanta, and Martin Huddleston, 19, of Ormond Beach, Fla. They told their friends they planned to explore the cave during the Easter weekend, and were reported missing when they did not return home as planned Saturday midnight.

Mason and Bartee are experienced cave explorers, but it was Huddleston's first trip underground. "I guess it will be my last," he said with a grin.

FAMILIAR WITH CAVE

"We went into the cave about 9 p.m. Friday," said Mason. He said they secured a rope at the top of the mud bank to explore two deep holes about a mile inside the cave—which he and Bartee had inspected many times before.

"We know there was water down there, but we didn't know how much," he said. "I went down first and hit water about chest deep. The others came on down" and found the water soon was over their heads.

"We swam about 40 feet and it was getting cold and we started cramping pretty good and we swam on back. We decided it was about time to leave and we started to climb up this sheer cliff by holding onto the rope. But by that time it was pretty slimy. The more we tried to crawl up the rope, the harder it got.

"Using a knife, we crawled about 40 feet up the slope and carved out a four-foot trench. We took turns with two of us sitting in it and the third one lying across our laps to keep warm."

They had nothing to eat in more than 60 hours on the ledge, Mason said.

"We felt pretty confident that somebody would find us because we had parked our car and left our coats outside the cave," he said.

Russ Launches Another Scientific Satellite

CP from AP-Reuters

MOSCOW — Another scientific satellite was launched by the Soviet Union Tuesday to investigate radiation in space and apparently help pave the way for a manned moon shot.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the satellite, Cosmos III, carries no living creatures.

The United States launched a Ranger-4 spacecraft toward the moon Monday. It was the first time the two powers had launched space vehicles so close to one another in time.

Tass said the new Russian satellite, third in a series begun March 16, takes 93.8 minutes to orbit the earth, ranging as far away as 447 miles and as near as 143 miles.

The orbit is close to the schedule path, Tass announced, adding: "The radio telemetric information received from the satellite shows that the instruments are functioning normally."

WEIGHT UNANNOUNCED

As in the two previous launchings, nothing was said about the weight of the satellite. Its path is closer to earth than the orbits of the previous two.

The launching of Cosmos I March 16 ended a long period of Soviet inactivity in space. Cosmos II was launched April 6.

Russian scientists appear to be trying to find out more about radiation in outer space than may prove hazardous to the Soviet Union's project to get a man to the moon.

The announced aims of the new Soviet program of space research include investigation of radiation belts and of meterites around the earth and the dangers they may hold for space travellers.

The series of satellites also could help pave the way toward precise weather forecasting.

Canadian Bank Stresses Importance of Ambition

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

"Ambition" is the theme of the current Royal Bank of Canada letter, known for its scholarly monthly treatises on many subjects.

"There's magic in having a goal," says the letter, "but if your ultimate objective has not risen into your consciousness, do not because of that neglect preparation.

"You need not fix upon one subject to study in the hope that some day it may turn out to be the right one. Spread yourself.

"One youth who was undecided about his proper field held a half-dozen jobs while studying by correspondence. He reached the top in a field never contemplated at the beginning and found that every one of his four home-study courses had contributed to his success."

About 110 trade fairs will be held in Canada in 1962, says the 1962 edition of Canadian Trade Fairs, issued by the department of trade and commerce.

The 52-page booklet gives both 1962 dates and those that have been set for 1962, of products displayed, esti- and addresses of local fair officials, whether foreign exhibitors are invited and whether the fair is open to buyers, delegates and the general public.

The New York Stock Exchange has published a 24-page illustrated brochure entitled "telling your corporate story." It contains more than 200 examples of corporate communications in 22 major categories.

The exchange has also put its "Fact Book 1962," a 52-publication with a wide range of information about itself.

Greenshields Inc. has made a nine-page study of the Canadian balance of including a four-page statistical table.

It says there is every indication that, in spite of certain strains, the balance of payments will continue to show distinct improvement, but that the trend may be obscured temporarily by the traditional widening of the current account deficit in a period of business expansion.

Apart From U.S. President Elderly Leading World

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The elderly and the aged—with the exception of President Kennedy—are leading the world.

Kennedy, at 44, is the only major world leader under 68. The rest range up to West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer, 86.

When they pass from the scene the world will be in for some rearranging that may make these days, disturbed as they are, look tranquil by comparison.

Here are some of the other leaders and their ages and the problems their passing can bring:

Premier Khrushchev, 68; Prime Minister Macmillan, 68; President de Gaulle, 71; India's Prime Minister Nehru, 72; Communist China's boss, Mao Tse-tung, 68; Nationalist China's President Chiang Kai-shek, 74; Yugoslavia's President Tito, almost 70; and Spain's Generalissimo Franco, 69.

PROGRESS GIGANTIC

Under Khrushchev the Soviet Union has made gigantic industrial, scientific and military progress.

Khrushchev scrapped the crudities of Joseph Stalin, and his barbarisms; he rattles missiles but he also preaches "peaceful coexistence." And he has always stopped a good bit short of precipitating war.

His death could mean a shuddering experience inside and outside Russia, particularly if his successor wants a return to Stalin's tactics.

De Gaulle has been a one-man show in France for four years. The French people confronted with political chaos and possible civil war when he took over, gave him a blank cheque to save them all.

He has so far. Resentment against him is building up. There is no reason to think, judging from previous French history, that chaos and civil war won't explode when he disappears. No successor is in sight.

Of all these leaders, the passing of Macmillan in Britain and Mao in China may cause the least emotion.

Britain, with its long democratic tradition, may not have much trouble replacing Macmillan with someone similar.

The iron wills and rigid discipline of Mao Tse-tung and the men around him, developed to brilliant degree in 20 years of preparation, are what made the Communist take-over of China possible.

His right-hand men will still be there when he goes. There has never been any talk of rivalry among his possible heirs. Perhaps the transition already has been arranged for.

Adenauer has consistently steered West Germany into partnership with the West and away from the Communist world. His successor, whoever he is, may be less enchanted with the West. Here lies the chance that Adenauer's going may shake the Western alliance to its roots.

As for Chiang Kai-shek, he has kept alive the myth that he is still the legitimate boss of mainland China.

One guess is as good as another about Yugoslavia when Tito goes. His Communist regime is not aligned with the Soviet bloc. Tito, while accepting Western help, poses as a neutral.

Franco has been a dictator for a quarter of a century. Spain had a fierce revolution in the 1930s. It could have a worse one.

Nehru has led India down a road of democratic socialism. But that's no assurance that his successors, in a wretchedly poor country, will do the same.

Farm Aims to Preserve Famous Oats

PEEL, Isle of Man (CP)—An experimental cat farm has been established to preserve the purity of the tail-less Manx cats that have made this Irish Sea island famous throughout the world.

A spokesman for the Isle of Man government said the Manx cats, called "rumpies" by the islanders, are outnumbered by cats with tails intact and there is a distinct danger the breed will disappear.

"We have established the cattery to preserve the breed and to maintain a nucleus of cats for the tourists who have seen pictures of them on posters.

"The Manx cats are perhaps more popular abroad than in the island and make regular appearances at cat shows in America."

The farm has 13 cats and three kittens and experiments are proceeding to breed out mismarkings. Inquiries about buying cats from the farm have already been received from Canada, Ireland, France and Ethiopia.

The origin of the breed is unknown and the earliest reference is in a Manx dictionary of 1835. Biologists say the lack of tail is a mutation that has been transmitted for at least 200 years. In some cases it causes partial paralysis of the cat's back legs.

Donors Agree to Underwrite Negroes' Costs

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — An official of the pro-segregation Citizens Council of Greater New Orleans says unnamed donors have agreed to underwrite the cost of a special train to move Negroes north.

The claim by George Singelmann was made after an official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People asked Negroes to ignore the segregationist offer of free one-way tickets out of the South.

Singelmann, a director of the Citizens Council, said in an interview Monday night that donors have underwritten a special train to cost $20,000. The train would handle about 1,000 passengers.

Singelmann declined to name the donors.

Clarence Laws regional secretary of the NAACP, said it would be "a tragic mistake for Negroes to assume that they can go to New York or any other northern city on a one-way ticket furnished by segregationists and obtain the same success which apparently has come to the Louis Boyd family of New Orleans."

The Boyd family—parents and eight children—were given bus transportation and incidental expenses to New York last week. They were put up in a hotel suite and showered with attention, groceries and cash.

Boyd, a dock worker who had been unemployed in New Orleans for six months, took a $100-a-week job Monday as a handyman and freight handler at Jersey City, N.J.

Chronic Care, Insurance Extensions . . .

FWIC Brief Presented by Mrs. White To Royal Commission Offers Wide Plans

A member of the Women's Institutes provincial board as well as the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada economics and health chairman, Mrs. Clyde B. White of Willow Point, recently presented a brief on rural a nation-wide health plan to the Royal Commission on Health Services in Ottawa.

Mrs. White, who has just attended the meeting of the provincial board at the coast, was accompanied by Mrs. Annie Haggerty, president, when she presented the brief before the Royal Commission.

Contents of the brief included chronic patients' rehabilitation program; outpatient clinics; homemaker services; extension of nursing service under public health; physicians' and surgeons' insurance.

Purpose was to show an interest in some problems of health care and to offer the FWIC services in rural areas and small communities in introducing and sponsoring educational programs and projects and to support other organizations, departments and agencies who participate in any plan to raise the standard of health among Canadian people.

"Ill health should have more recognition than is now given to it," said the brief.

CHRONIC PATIENTS

Under chronic patients rehabilitation program, the brief pointed the need for more chronic hospitals and homes and for patients' rehabilitation centres, where counselling service would be needed, also for more homes for the aged, many of whom are pensioners and those from small income groups. Demand for low income housing projects exceeds the supply, the brief pointed out.

They suggested a need for more out-patient clinics all across the nation, perhaps in connection with hospital services, where many tests and simple treatments could be taken care of and counselling and guidance could be given under a trained staff.

Homemaker services on occasion of physical and family breakdown were recommended, pointing out the necessity for highly competent women in this area, with good health and stable character, personality and flexibility, a prerequisite to take over and maintain routine in the home in times of stress.

The brief recommended extended nursing services similar to the Victorian Order of Nurses, financed by a small per capita tax.

MORE COMPREHENSIVE INSURANCE

It pointed out the necessity for a comprehensive medical and surgical insurance for groups not now covered, at a price they can afford. They mentioned especially retired people, individuals not covered by group insurances, farmers and small businessmen. They pointed out that to date most private plans are inadequate and expensive. It recommended a blanket service that would include preventative treatment and rehabilitation and would embrace all branches of medical service, including drugs, medicine and ambulance service. They suggested that the subscriber who pays the premiums but puts in no claims should be able to build up a reserve or backlog for care when they are no longer able to pay, instead of being classed as indigents. They suggested a possible national insurance plan with sufficient coverage.

7000-Year-Old History Of Ceramics Told Soroptimists

The 26th birthday of the Nelson Soroptimist Club was held in the Silver Room of the Hume Hotel. Guest speaker was S. Mignosa of the Kootenay School of Art.

President Miss Amy Kershaw welcomed three members of the Rossland-Trail Club, Mrs. Laura Morrish, Mrs. Muriel Butorac, and Mrs. Edith Hargreaves.

There were 10 members attending from the Castlegar-Kinnaird-Robson Club: Mrs. Alice Fowler, Mrs. Mabel Creighton, Mrs. Edna Marshall, Mrs. Irene Sharples, Mrs. Alice Anderson, Mrs. Marie Hirtle, Mrs. Myrtle Thomas, Mrs. Betty Turik, Mrs. Jean Wyley and Miss Carol Proudfoot.

There were 22 members of the Nelson Club in attendance. Mrs. Linda Miller sang two solos, accompanied by Mrs. C. W. Tyler.

In the president's remarks, she drew attention to the fact that there are 29 Soroptimist Clubs in Western Canada Region, 24,000 members in the American Federation and in the three federations, which embrace many countries throughout the world, there are 40,000 members.

Mrs. Stan Linton introduced the speaker of the evening. Mr. Mignosa was born in Italy and graduated in art from Florence in 1954. He has had several showings in Canada and the United States of his ceramics and sculpture.

Mr. Mignosa spoke on the history of pottery from the beginning of history.

ACCIDENTAL DISCOVERY

It was in 5000 B.C. that the first glazed pottery was made in Egypt, he said. In the 17th century, when a chemist was trying to make gold coins for the Emperor of Prussia, he accidentally discovered clay for porcelain. Today, the factory in Bavaria is world famous.

Much of the contemporary or modern pottery is mass produced — a cold interpretation, such is the demand, he regretted.

Clay, or ceramics, are used more than is thought, particularly in such vital uses as satellites, and in electrical installations. Objects made by hand with artistic personality should be functional or decorative, he pointed out. The speaker expressed the wish that more interest be shown by all in ceramics.

Miss Mary McDonald thanked Mr. Mignosa. Great interest was shown by the club in his address, which was thought to be of unusual interest.

Grandchildren Attend Newlyweds

With their grandchildren as attendants, two grandparents Saturday morning exchanged marriage vows in Fairview United Church.

Rev. H. R. Whitmore read the marriage service for the former Mrs. Mary E. Shrieves of Nelson and Mr. Alfred Peter Pilkey of Kinnaird and Nelson.

Given in marriage by her eldest son, Mr. A. H. Shrieves, the bride was attended by her granddaughter, Miss Bettie Louise Maynard, as bridesmaid and the bridegroom was supported by his grandson, Mr. Barclay Creighton, as best man. Ushers were Mr. Peter Shieves of Glenmerry and Mr. Tom Shrieves.

During the service, Mrs. Whitmore sang "O Perfect Love," accompanied by organist Angus Fraser.

Later, in the board room of the church, the Ida Elizabeth Group catered for the wedding reception attended by an estimated 60 guests, members of the family and close friends.

A three-tiered wedding cake made by the bride's daughter, Mrs. W. Maynard of Balfour, was cut.

The newlyweds have left for Vancouver Island, where they will visit relatives.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Creighton, Mr. Barclay Creighton and Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Sumner of Castlegar; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mitchell of Kinnaird; Mr. and Mrs. A. Peterson and daughters Cindy and Linda of the HB Mine near Salmo; Mrs. Gerald Graham and Miss Sherry Graham of Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Boyd of Trail; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Shrieves and daughters Carol and Karen of Glenmerry, Trail; Mrs. Franc Spear of Vancouver and Mrs. W. Dalling of Duncan; Miss Maureen Creighton and Dinah Rayon of Vancouver and Mrs. L. Freno of Cranbrook; Mr. and Mrs. A. Maynard, and Mrs. J. H. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. W. Maynard and daughter Beverley of Balfour, and Mr. Lyle Paulhus of Harrop.

Thanks were extended to the executive and conveners by Mrs. W. H. Wilson and Monsignor F. J. Monaghan before the meeting was turned over to the nominating committtee with Mrs. G. Barefoot as chairman, assisted by Mrs. H. May and Mrs. S. Bragagnolo.

Results were: president, Mrs. W. H. Wilson; first vice-president, Miss E. McKinnon; second vice-president, Mrs. N. Kardos; third vice-president, Mrs. S. Bragagnolo; secretary, Miss N. MacDougall; treasurer, Mrs. M. J. Boyes.

After the elections, each newly elected member received a candle from Mrs. Barefoot, then lit their candle from the president's. The Act of Consecration was recited by all present.

The gavel was presented to Mrs. W. H. Wilson by Monsignor Monaghan after which new business was taken care of.

Refreshments were served by the St. Rose Circle.

Distinguished Speakers at UCW Conference

TORONTO (CP)—Fifty representatives of about 350,000 members of the newly-formed United Church Women open a three-day meeting here Tuesday.

United Church Women was formed in January to replace two other national church groups, the Womens' Missionary Society and the Womens' Association.

The Board of Women, the new organization's governing body, has 12 members-at-large, the president and one representative from each conference of the church and a representative from each of the other church boards.

Seven of the members are men.

Speakers will include Rev. Peter G. White of Toronto, editor-in-chief of Sunday school publications; Dr. Ernest E. Long, secretary of the general council and Dr. Victor T. Mooney, treasurer of the United Church.

Taking part in a panel discussion on the laity in the Church will be Mrs. L. H. Cragg of Edmonton; Dr. George Johnston, principal of United Theological College, Montreal; Mrs. Coote Smith, Toronto; Mrs. O. P. Hossie, Kitchener; Mrs. W. B. Doerkson, Winnipeg and Donald S. Cameron, Toronto, acting secretary of the Board of Men.

Other discussions will centre on home missions, world missions, stewardship, finance, Christian education, the interests of the Church in eastern Asia, the Church and society and the Church in education.

Announce Winners Telephone Bridge

INVERMERE—Winners of the Telephone Bridge sponsored by the Christ Church Guild were Dr. F. E. Coy and Mrs. F. R. Coy for first prizes and second prizes went to Jack Davies and Mrs. F. E. Coy.

Consolation prizes went to Mrs. W. H. Lloyd and K. M. Marples.

At cribbage, prizes were won by Robert Swindell and Mrs. Alfred Tegart, with the low prize to Mrs. Sepp Wenger.

Hostesses were Mrs. Edward Hallbauer, Mrs. H. S. Northcott, Mrs. Ralph Stick, Mrs. Louis Newhouser, Mrs. A. J. Dobbie, Mrs. E. C. Peatfield and Mrs. Percy Dean.

Post Office Pensioner Has 101st Birthday

HAMILTON (CP) — Gertrude Smith, Canada's oldest post office pensioner, turned 101 Tuesday.

Congratulatory messages included telegrams from the Queen, Prime Minister Diefenbaker, Premier Robarts of Ontario and Postmaster-General William Hamilton.

Miss Smith once walked several miles to meet Sir John A. Macdonald and is looking forward to voting in the federal election June 18.

She worked in the money order department in one of Hamilton's post offices for 27 years and received a disability pension in 1908 following an accident which gave her a permanent rib injury.

On her birthday she said modern young people compare favorably with the youth of her time "although they do face more temptations."

Her advice to those wishing to live a long and happy life: "Keep busy with your hands and head."

WI CONSIDERS BUYING SCHOOL PROJECTOR

EDGEWOOD — Mrs. W. Cullen was welcomed as a new member when the Edgewood-Inonoaklin Women's Institute held its meeting at the home of Mrs. R. N. Donselaar.

Mrs. R. E. Bateman was appointed delegate to the district rally to be held in Arrow Park in May. District dues were voted to be paid.

The WI will investigate the possibility of purchasing a projector for the Edgewood elementary school.

The members enjoyed English chocolate sent by a former member, Mrs. M. Daly, who is staying with her sister in England. A gift which she also sent was won by Mrs. J. B. McLeod.

Canvassers for the Red Cross drive turned in a total of $163. This is not the complete canvass.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Donselaar and Mrs. D. E. deGans.

Fashion is a bit ruffled this season! Ruffles are nice when they're not overdone and when they form an integral part of a design, as they do here. To create a pretty, pert pinafore look, Jane Derby gives this dress of black organza finely pleated ruffles edged with Val lace. The line is sashed into a bow of black velvet and the result is a perfect late afternoon dress, very much of the moment but not overdone.

Expects to See Hundreds of "Her Boys" on Tour Across Canada

By DAVID SCOTT

TORONTO (CP)—It's like a homecoming—only Else (Ma) Corry is thousands of miles from home.

She's looking up her "boys whom she met and mothered during the Second World War when she was hostess at a London, England, leave club.

Her "boys"—who number in the hundreds—haven't forgotten the Australian-born singer who temporarily abandoned her career to make their hours away from the front line happy memories.

Since Miss Corry arrived in Canada April 3, she has been surrounded by veterans who have in some cases driven hundreds of miles to see her again.

She's making the trip on her own, and plans to travel across Canada to the West Coast.

"I had planned to leave Canada Aug. 16," she said, "but that was only a tentative date and I shall probably stay longer."

When Miss Corry announced her travel plans to Greg McDermott of Toronto, general secretary of the YMCA in Canada, he asked her to draw up a list of some of her "boys" she would most like to see again.

"I sent him a list of about 60," Miss Corry said, "but I thought at the time that was a great many people and I'd never be able to get to see that many."

On a short swing through part of Nova Scotia last week, she saw more than 30.

"At that rate I shall probably meet about 400 of my boys," Miss Corry said enthusiastically.. " I have dates at Calgary May 15, Vancouver June 1, and I shall be visiting Victoria as well as Winnipeg, Montreal, and many other places in between."

Miss Corry who was born in Sydney, New South Wales, was beginning her career as an opera singer in London in 1939 when war broke out.

"I was just doing my part to help the war effort," she said, explaining that she started by working at London's Beaver Club—a sort of information bureau to keep soldiers in touch with their friends and relatives.

By 1940, there were so many Canadians overseas that the Canadian YMCA opened up leave clubs. The Y took over hotels, added extra beds, and set up facilities for the soldiers on leave.

For five years, Miss Corry was "mother overseas" to hundreds of Canadians.

She got dates, wrote letters to wives and sweethearts, prepared sandwiches and milk for bedtime snacks, set up dances, organized softball games, refereed dart games, and filled in at bridge tables.

Big Expansion Program at Algar's

An enlarged building, new retreading equipment and an additional line of tires feature a $25,000 expansion program at Algar Tire Service.

Only six years ago, L. G. (Bus) Algar started the business in the present location, 520 Lake Street, with only one employee. Today, he employs five full time men.

The new building, more than 80 feet long, including a 20-foot carport, is 18 feet high and will be able to accommodate the largest of vehicles in its two wide lanes, for tire mounting and wheel balancing. The addition more than doubles the space with more room devoted to storage of new and retread tires.

Now, with the new tire retreading equipment, Algar's can retread tires from the smallest foreign vehicle to large road graders.

It is, in fact the only firm with the equipment and ability in the interior of B.C. to retread grader tires. The nearest points are Vancouver and Calgary.

"In a pinch," said Mr. Algar, "we can process up to 50 passenger tires a day." They can operate five passenger bands at a time.

"This means," he said, "that a person can bring his car in in the morning and we can retread his tires and he can pick up his car in the afternoon."

MANY DESIGNS

Algar's have bands for each design for passenger tire and most average truck designs. With 16 bands for different tires, eight summer and eight winter bands, the firm would not have the bother and work of having to change equipment.

BUS ALGAR

In addition to the 16 passenger tires, Algar's stock nine truck bands for all types of lug and rip tread and two grader bands.

For the utmost in protection, they have also installed an electronic wheel balancer.

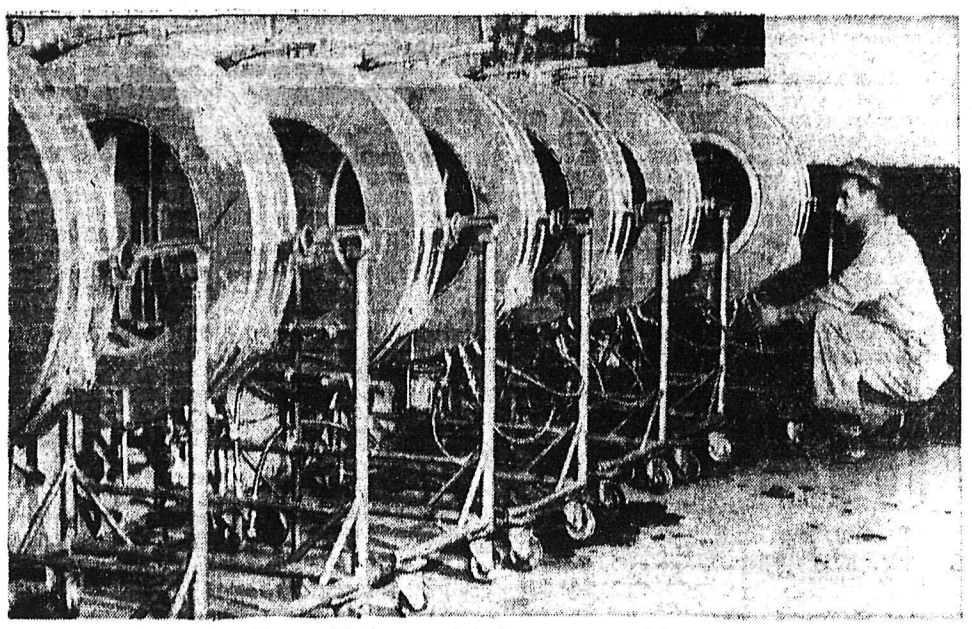
The firm has a truck for the district serving points from Nakusp to Grand Forks, including Trail, Salmo and Fernie areas.

Mr. Algar first came to Nelson in 1939 from the prairies to play hockey. He stayed until 1942, when he went into the army, and finally returned to enter business in 1956. His wife Hilda is a native of Nelson.

Shop foreman of the plant is Ev Kuhn, who has worked for Algars for five years. Bill Waite is vulcanizer and specialist in repairs; Cece Postnikoff, road man and district salesman; Doug Stern, front end and retread; Dougie Speirs, front end sales and tires and service.

General contractor for the building addition was T. H. Waters and Co. Ltd.; Nelson Ready-Mix poured the concrete for the building and the drive way; T&H Sawmills supplied building materials, timber sheet and dimensions.

Coleman Electric installed the additional wiring and Korpak Cement supplied the stack bond style pumice blocks. Gordon Sutherland was the painting and decorating contractor and Russ Chamberlin Sales Ltd. is the representative and installer of the Super mold tire retread equipment.



The moulds in expanded shop are pictured here.

Olympics Eastern Cinderella Team

By BRIAN KIELY

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Olympics flew to British Columbia Tuesday to meet Trail Smoke Eaters in the best-of-seven Allan Cup hockey finals.

Series in Trail opens Thursday night.

Trail edged Saskatoon Quakers 4-3 in games to represent the West in the senior amateur hockey finals. Montreal stopped Kapuskasing GMs 4-0 to become the Eastern finalists.

The Olympics, organized this year, have been tagged as a cinderella team because they finished third in the four-team Eastern Townships senior league, then dumped Granby Vics, last year's league champions, in the semi-final series and edged Drummondville Rockets 4-2 in the league final.

The Olympics then defeated Amherst Ramblers, the Maritime champions, 3-1 in a best-of-five Eastern Canada quarter-final series, after dropping the first game.

ON 10-GAME STREAK

The Montreal club never looked back after that, downing Buckingham Aces, Ottawa district champions, 3-0, and then Northern Ontario champions, to fashion a 10-game winning streak.

A well-balanced club, the Olympics have displayed both a strong offence and a hard-to-crack defence in the playoffs. Coach Maurice Filion had difficulty turning out a full contingent early in the season but since has recruited a number of potential stars.

Andre Binette, who wears a mask to tend goal, has turned in several spectacular games, including eight shutouts. He joined the team in January. Binette played one game with Montreal Canadiens, a 7-4 win over Boston.

Claude Richard, younger brother of Maurice (Rocket) and Henri (Pocket Rocket) Richard of NHL fame, a left-winger, was the Olympics' leading scorer this season with 21 goals and 16 assists in 29 games. In 24 playoff games he counted eight goals and 17 assists.

PLAYED IN ITALY

Connie Mandala, a hard-driving centre who played on the Italian national team last season, has been an offensive star during the season and playoffs.

Phil Latreille, who had a four-game trial with New York Rangers last season and was the greatest scoring forward in the history of United States college hockey when he scored a phenomenal 250 goals in 80 games with Middlebury College also has been a prolific goal-getter for the Olympics in their playoff surge.

Montreal acquired two veteran defencemen in Rolland Rousseau from Granby and Bert Bourassa from Sherbrooke to bolster their team.

The 32-year-old Rousseau played hockey with Chicoutimi Sagueneens and Montreal Royals in the Quebec Hockey League for years. Bourassa played with Buffalo and Providence in the American Hockey League for seven years.

Koufax Fastball Blinds 18 Batters in LA Victory

By The Canadian Press

Southpaw Sandy Koufax, Los Angeles Dodgers fast ball artist, struck out 18 batters while the Dodgers were waltzing to a 10-2 win over Chicago Cubs Tuesday, and equalled the modern major league strikeout record, held jointly by himself and hall of famer Bob Feller.

Koufax, with 15 set down on strikes as he entered the last inning, calmly struck out the side to tie the record. His previous record-tying effort came Aug. 31, 1959 but he lost the game to San Francisco Giants.

Feller set the strikeout record Oct. 2 1938 pitching for Cleveland Indians against Detroit Tigers.

Koufax gave up only six hits to Chicago Tuesday while the Dodgers defeated losing pitcher Don Cardwell with power hitting.

Tommie Davis slammed a three-run homer in the fifth, Duke Snider hit a two-run blast in the ninth and Andy Carey pitched in with a solo homer in the fifth.

YANKS LOSE AGAIN

In American League day-game action, New York Yankees dropped their third straight game as Floyd Robinson hit a two-run homer in the eighth to give Chicago White Sox a 3-1 victory.

Losing pitcher Ralph Terry appeared on his way to an easy win with a 1-0 lead provided by Johnny Blanchard's third homer of the campaign. But after one run had scored in the eighth for Chicago, Robinson spoiled the day, also boosting his league-leading average to .469.

Roger Maris, again, went hitless and his average dropped to .122.

Boston Red Sox knocked off Washington Senators 4-1 as Boston's Pete Runnels hit two homers, almost equalling his 1961 total of three.

Runnels, the 1960 American League batting champion, homered in the third to give Boston a 1-0 lead and then again in the eighth to break a 1-1 tie.

Galen Cisco gave up four hits and took the win. Joe McClain suffered the loss.

In National League night games, Pittsburgh won its 11th in 12 games, beating San Francisco 7-3, Milwaukee edged Philadelphia 2-1, Houston nipped St. Louis 4-3 and Cincinnati topped New York Mets 7-3.

In AL night action Detroit blanked Kansas City 1-0 behind Don Mossi's four-hitter and Baltimore edged Minnesota 5-4.

BUCKS BATTER GIANTS

Don Leppert's two-run homer shot the Pirates ahead in the second before they chased Giants' starter Juan Marichal (2-2) with five in the fourth on four singles, a walk and an error. Al McBean (2-0) won it with ninth inning relief help from Elroy Face.

Warren Spahn (2-2) won the 311th game of his career for the Braves, surviving a ninth inning uprising when singles by Mel Roach, Don Demeter and Sammy White accounted for the Phils' run. Eddie Mathews' fifth homer, off Art Mahaffey (2-2) in the seventh, was the margin of victory.

Hal Woodeshick (2-0) survived five errors by his Colt mates to subdue the Cards when Don Taussig hit a homer off loser Larry Jackson (2-1) in the sixth to clinch it.

The Reds scored four runs in the first, with Wally Post's double the key blow, to beat the Mets. Post and Vada Pinson homered. Rookie Sam Ellis (1-1) needed Moe Drabowsky's relief aid to get the win. Craig Anderson (0-1) was the loser.

MAKES FINE DEBUT

Dan Pfister, making his first major league start, had the Tigers blanked on one hit until the eighth when Jake Wood doubled and Rocky Colavito singled. That made Mossi (2-1) the winner. Pfister allowed only three hits.

Rookie Boog Powell stroked a single with the bases loaded in the ninth to drive in two runs and cap a four-run rally for the Orioles that beat the Twins. Milt Pappas (2-0) went the distance for the victory with Joe Bonikowski (1-1) the loser.

Rookie outfielder Ty Cline tripled in the winning run in the seventh inning to give Cleveland a 3-2 victory over Los Angeles and keep the Indians on top of the league.

Cline's blow scored rookie right-hander Ron Taylor and preserved the win for him after a superb pitching job.

Taylor yielded to reliever Frank Funk in the seventh inning after giving up only three hits and two runs, one blow a two-run homer by Leon Wagner that tied the score in the sixth.

Taylor lost his major league debut game April 11 when Carroll Hardy hit a grand slam homer for Boston in the 12th inning.

The 24-year-old Canadian from Toronto held the Angels to one hit for 5 2-3 innings after Albie Pearson led off the game with a single to right field. Lee Thomas singled in the sixth and Wagner followed with his homer.

LITTLE LEAGUERS are a common sight on the Elizabeth Park ball grounds the last few weeks as they prepare for another season. A group of hopefuls, above, with gloves almost as big as themselves, warm up with the traditional game of catch.

Stengel Fined $500 For Beer Promotion

NEW YORK (AP) — Kathy Kersh is batting for Casey Stengel in beer ads. And Stengal is $500 poorer, and a reprimand richer.

It was learned Tuesday that Casey drew the fine and reprimand for posing in a baseball uniform for advertisements for the beer company that sponsors radio and television broadcasts of his New York Mets.

The offending ads showed Stengel in a Mets uniform and a pair of droopy blue baseball socks last worn by Gary Cooper in a movie. The Mets manager is in position to bunt, although Miss Kersh, who represents the beer company, is standing behind him, in a tight knit dress and high heels, already holding the baseball.

VIOLATE RULES

Commissioner Ford Frick said Tuesday that the ads "were a violation of baseball rules, which prohibit men in uniform from posing for alcoholic beverage ads.

"The advertising people were very cooperative, and it was all handled properly.

In future ads the bat will be in the girl's hand, and Casey will be out of the picture."

Frick would not confirm that Stengel had been fined, but it was learned that he was.

The commissioner did confirm that he found Casey's bunting style worthy of reprimand, too.

"If Casey is going to teach bunting he should be a little more careful to keep his eye on the ball. It's behind him in the picture," Frick said, with a twinkle.

Cubs, Not Record Was Main Worry

CHICAGO (AP)—"I was just trying to get those Cubs out of there at the end—I didn't know I was breaking any record."

This was Sandy Koufax of Los Angeles Dodgers talking after his 18 strikeouts in a 10-2 Dodger triumph over Chicago Cubs set a National League daytime mark.

"It wasn't like when I first matched Bob Feller's record by striking out 18 against San Francisco (Aug. 31, 1959)," grinned Koufax, talking to writers after game.

"Then there were some 83,000 fans in the Los Angeles Coliseum and I knew right along I was shooting at the record."

Koufax said he lost faith in his control a bit in the fifth inning when Billy Williams doubled and three walks scored the first Cub run. "I started aiming and the pitches were bad," he said.

CURVE WAS WORKING

Koufax conceded he had a "real good curve ball under complete contol" in the first four innings when he wiffed 10 of the first 13 Cubs to face him.

Reminded he used 144 pitches harvesting his 18 strikeout victory, Koufax said: "That isn't too many. It's a normal game for me. After all, you have to figure at least three pitches for a strikeout and when you get 18, well . . ."

Trailhorses Fall Before Clay, Machen

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A couple of chunks of meat were thrown at young Cassius Clay and Eddie Machen Monday night. They devoured them with ease.

So today old Joe Louis, in his new role as a boxing matchmaker, wants to toss them at each other.

pounds, disposed of George Lopounds, disposed of Georg eLogan, 205, in one munite, 34 seconds of the fourth round for his 13th straight victory. Machen, 194½, consumed Bert Whitehurst, 201, easily in two minutes, 19 seconds of the sixth. Both were scheduled 10-rounders and ended in technical knockouts.

In two 10-round side dishes, Ralph Dupas, 148½, of New Orleans outpointed Frankie Ramirez, 146½, of San Jose, Calif., and Tony Perez, 135, of Sonora, Mex., won a split decision over Eddie Garcia, 134½ of Denver Colo.

A spokesman for the infant promotion, United World Enterprises Incorporation, first announced "approximate figures" of 7,500 in attendance and a gross gate of $57,000. Later he said the figures would be revised, doubtless downward.

"We were satisfied as things went and we definitely will be back with another card next month," said Louis.

Paper Pays Tribute to Met Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Every headline in the sports section of the New York Mirror Tuesday heralded Monday night's first victory of the young New York Mets, after nine straight defeats.

Some samples:

"Nichols wins golf, but Mets win a game!"

"Record 15G trot fee, but Mets? Whee!"

"Merry Ruller hits toboggan, but Mets hit jackpot!"

"Moss brushes death in race, but Mets come alive."

The headline over the story of the game in which the Mets beat Pittsburgh 9-1 was: "Mets off the hook: Win one straight."

Hamilton Gains Memorial Final

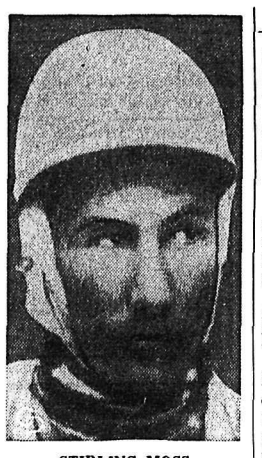
HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton Red Wings Tuesday night earned a berth in the Memorial Cup finals for the first time in history by swamping Quebec Citadels 9-3 before 3193 spectators.

Wings won the best-of-seven Eastern Canada final in four straight games. They will open the national finals this weekend against either Edmonton Oil Kings or Brandon Wheat Kings, presently tied at three games each with the deciding game slated for tonight.

Coach Eddie Bush's Hamilton club had to come from behind twice to gain the victory. The Quebec champs actually held a 2-1 lead as late as the 13-minute mark of the second period.

Left winger Joe Budjoso and team captain Howie Menard paced the win with a pair of goals each. Paul Henderson, Earl Heiskala, Lowell MacDonald, Wayne Rivers and Jimmy Peters scored singles.

Jean-Noel Turmel scored twice for the losers with Gilbert Laforest accounting for the other.



STIRLING MOSS

Moss Still Unconscious

LONDON (AP)—Stirling Moss, still unconscious 24 hours after crashing in an auto race, Tuesday night gave doctors the first signs he may recover.

A hospital announcement said: "He is still unconscious, though less deeply so than he was. Although it is too early to say with certainty, there seems good hope on his recovery."

The 32-year-old idol of the British auto-racing tracks, whose Lotus car careened off the Goodwood track at more than 100 miles per hour Monday, is in a hospital that specializes in brain surgery.

He has injuries to his head, shoulder and left knee. But he was too badly hurt to be X-rayed further.

"There are no signs suggestive of dangerous bleeding within the skull," said Lawrence Brown, secretary of Atkinson Morley's Hospital at suburban Wimbledon.

The crash occurred at St. Mary's Corner, a notorious point of the Goodwood track, during a 100-mile race for grand prix cars. Instead of taking a bend, Moss went straight on. His car spun around on the grass and smacked tail first into a bank.

Vamps Take Title

The Vamps captured the women's volleyball championship by edging the Babes two games to one in the best-of-three final played in the Civic Centre.

Scores were 15-12, 10-15, 16-14.

Houston Selections Clicking; Mets Not

NEW YORK (AP)—There's a good reason that Houston Colts are off to a better start than the other new National League baseball team, New York Mets.

The Colts' selections in last fall's expansion draft are flying high. The Mets' picks are not.

Of the 45 players plucked from the other eight senior circuit clubs at a cost of $3,650,000, Roman Mejias, Houston out fielder, has put together the best record. The former Pittsburgh Pirate is in ninth place in the batting race with a .357 average. Among 15 hits in 42 tries, Mejias has collected one double, one triple and two homers. He has batted in seven runs.

Norm Larker, the Colts' first baseman drafted from Los Angeles, has eight safeties in 23 times at bat for a .348 mark. He has one triple, one homer and four RBIs.

Pitchers Bobby Shantz, acquired from Pittsburgh, and Jim Golden, from the Dodgers, are 1-0 while Dick Farrell and Ken Johnson have pitched creditably despite 0-2 records. Farrell, obtained from Philadelphia, has yielded only 3 runs in 10 1-3 innings and Johnson has given up five runs in 14 innings.

ZIMMER'S BAT SILENT

For the Mets, Don Zimmer, a "premium" pick, is hitting only .083. The veteran third baseman has managed only three hits, all singles, in 36 trips. He was with Chicago Cubs last season.

Outfielder Gus Bell, a veteran obtained from Cincinnati, has a .154 mark on four safeties in 26 at bats. Bobby Gene Smith (Philadelphia) .118, Elio Chacon (Cincinnati) .125 and John Demerit (Milwaukee) .167 also have broken slowly from the barrier.

Jay Hook, formerly of Cincinnati, and Craig Anderson, from St. Louis, are the only Mets' pitchers who have looked good. Hook turned in a fine eight-inning performance against the Colts last Tuesday although New York lost in 11 innings. Anderson, a reliever so far, has not yielded one run in 4 2-3 innings.

The Mets have lost all nine games they've played. Houston is 5-5.

Maris' Anaemic Average Not Bothering Houk

NEW YORK (AP)—If manager Ralph Houk of New York Yankees is worried about Roger Maris' anaemic .132 batting average in the American League, he's putting up a brave front.

"Rog has been hitting the ball all right," Houk said Monday. "The only trouble is that everything he hits goes directly at the fielders.

"I'm not worrying about him. He'll hurt someone before long. Maybe seeing the White Sox is just what he needs. He did a lot of hitting against them last year."

Maris has collected just five hits in 38 times at bat, with one home run and three runs batted in.

Maris is a notoriously slow starter. At the same stage last year (after nine games), he was hitting .148 and he didn't get his first homer until the 11th game. Looking at it that way, he's two up on his 1961 pace.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Gunmen Assassinate Two Publishers

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Unknown gunmen assassinated the two publishers of a Turkish-language weekly newspaper Monday night. They had announced they were about to publish names of two Turkish extremists who planted bombs in two Nicosia mosques last month.

Ayhan Hikmet, 33, was slain by gunmen who invaded his bedroom and killed him in front of his wife. The body of Ahmet Mouzafer Gurkan, 38, was found in his car outside his home.

Their newspaper, Jumhuriyet, is the only Turkish-language paper that opposes the leading Turkish Cypriot party.

Leaders of the Turkish community blamed the bombings of the mosques on Greek extremists who still want the independent island united with Greece. But the Greek Cypriot interior minister said police investigation indicated the bombs were planted by Turkish fanatics trying to incite clashes between Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Your Individual Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Thursday, April 26

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — Mars building up; strong indications. If your pace can be accelerated, fine! In any event, systematize method and eliminate red tape for a sharper program.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Outstanding benefic Venus rays. Will power and courage lend a hand — be sure their potency is carefully applied. No small influences at work. Assist youth's vigor into wholesome channels.

May 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)— Energy with a little daring plus pluck with know-how make wonderful combination for today's, whole week's, success. You have them to wield — will you? Steer away from discord.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — Top note: many Zodiacal Signs are under favorable aspects today so your recipe is clearly to use your wits, personality and have data correct. Add a dash of calculated caution.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — These are due for closer scrutiny: economics, family affairs, interchanging parallel thoughts. Try a strategic withdrawal for a more localized attack on problems. Shun troublemakers.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Shifting winds — don't you take on fluctuating of attitude or decisions. As you would buck weather winds to go forward, stand up against pessimism to make a creditable program grow.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Long-range matters beckon your acute mind and generol capacity for big and small jobs combined. If feeling fit, you should make this day a boon to month's close.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Especially aim at early start for work, extra assignments, anything worthy you could accomplish. But avoid prevalent tendency to overemphasis. A soothing voice softens wherever it enters.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — A trumpet call to precision, amiability and serviceability! And through daily practical methods and steady effort will come vision for greater vistas.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Does system and carefulness always count? Indeed! Look at the big successes that came from minor, often unnoticed beginnings. Today asks that you strictly obey just rules and constraint.

JANUARY 21 t oFEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — The usable and available are often overlooked for what is beyond the horizon. Bring your sights to the moment, attend those "nuisance" details, soo the far horizon will spread before you.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — A mingling of opinions (associates, family, all thinking heads) will produce more stirring effect. But don't discuss too long and lose time. Simplicity diet is stylishly healthy.

YOU BORN TODAY: Taurus, Fixed Sign of the Earth Triplicity. In one way conservative, but ca nstrike extremes. Normally energetic, persistent, faithful. Can keep your counsel and respect authority, which puts you in direct line for higher assignments. Some likely faults: obstinacy, fault-finding, self-will. Become outstanding doctors, financiers (but must first learn control over speculation), advisers, writers. Terse, concise in exxpression. By nature agreeable, generous, also exacting. Look out for flattery and runaway emotions. Develop your distinguished executive quotient. Birthdate of: Ferdinand Delacroix, French painter; many classicists, novelists, mathematicians.

Nehru Regrets Renewal of Nuclear Tests

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — Prime Minister Nehru said Tuesday a resumption of nuclear testing by the United States and the Soviet Union may lead to the possibility of "actual war."

Speaking in the Lower House of Parliament, Nehru expressed "great concern" at the U.S. decision to resume atmospheric tests.

The U.S. resumption of tests would be followed by similar action by the Soviet Union, he said.

"These tests may lead to a progressive deterioration in the atmosphere and the possibility of actual conflict—actual war."

He said it is obvious that these tests lessen the chances of agreement and increase the chances of failure of the 17-power Geneva disarmament conference. The tests should not be held while the Geneva conference is meeting.

Children in Fridge Said Maybe Slain

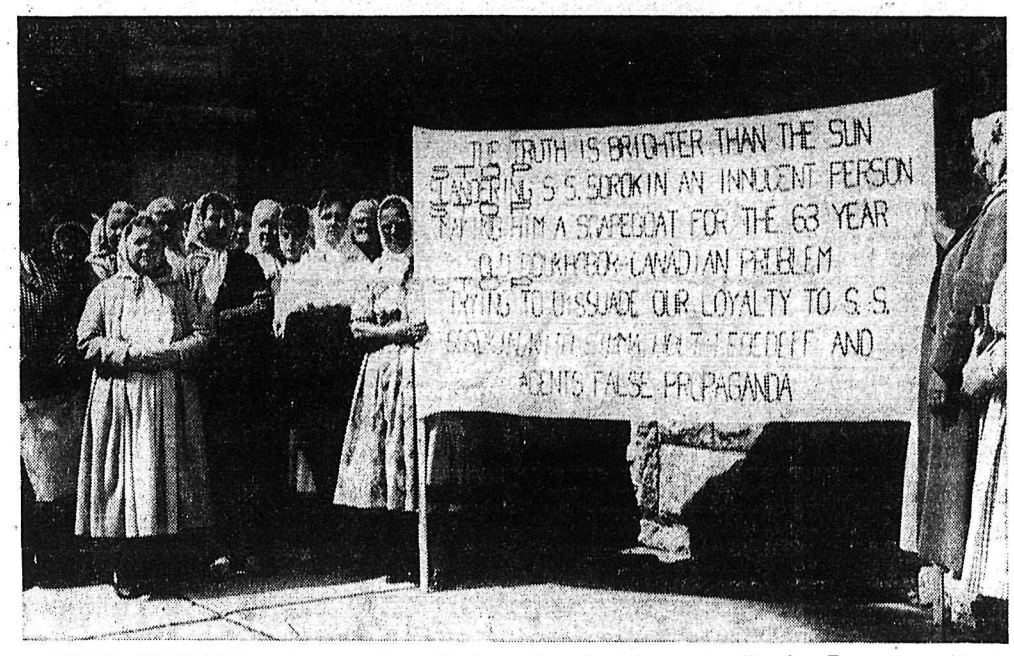
SAN FERNANDO, Calif. (AP) The bodies of two six-year-old girls were found Monday night in an unused refrigerator and authorities said they were investigating the possibility of a double sex-slaying.

The case at first appeared to be one of accidental suffocation. But police chief Winford Slaughter said medical examinations showed one of the youngsters had been raped and the other had been struck in the jaw.

The victims were Stephanie Hanna and Paula Cram, the latter a foster child who had been living in the Hanna home for about a month.

Richard Hanna, Stephanie's father, told police he prepared dinner for the girls Monday night because his wife was attending a meeting. Afterward, the youngsters were given permission to go outside to play.

When it started getting dark, Hanna went to look for them. Neighbors finally joined the search and after nearly five hours, the bodies were found in the refrigerator — stored in a garage three doors from the Hanna residence.



WIVES, DAUGHTERS and many close friends of Fraternal Council members on trial in the courthouse displayed this banner on courthouse steps throughout the morning Tuesday. Even rain could not persuade the Freedomite women to quit singing their songs and go inside to watch court proceedings.

Oral Polio Vaccine To Be Used In Immunization Program

The Hon. Eric Martin, Minister of Health Services and Hospital Insurance, has announced in Victoria that on May 14 a special polio immunization program is scheduled to commence in the interior and northern areas of the province, using the newly released Sabin oral vaccine. Some unusual features of this service, said Mr. Martin, will make it one of the biggest projects in preventive medicine that this province has seen.

There are to be two key objectives; first, complete coverage of all persons in the community, including the over-40 age group, and second, because of the extensive organization required, completion of the project within a limited time period. This involves a radical change from the "come-as-you-please" situation applying in other forms of vaccination. It is in line with recommendations of the man who developed the vaccine, Dr. Albert Sabin, and of Canadian scientists, who urge complete community coverage for maximum success.

The vaccine is produced by the world-renowned Connaught Laboratories at the University of Toronto, from whom such countries as Japan and New Zealand have recently bought large shipments. In Canada, it was used successfully last year on a demonstration basis in a number of selected communities. The supplies for British Columbia will cost about $36,000, shared by the federal and provincial health departments, with the province meeting the additional expense involved in administration.

Mr. Martin emphasized that the oral vaccine is intended for all persons, including those who have not had any of the Salk vaccine. "These individuals," he said, "will quickly achieve a high degree of immunity. In those who have had Salk vaccine previously, the Sabin product serves as a simple, effective 'booster' dose to raise their level of protection."

The minister, in explaining that only the mainland area of the province north from Lytton and east from Princeton could be covered this Spring, expressed regret that it was not possible to include Vancouver Island, Greater Vancouver and the Fraser Valley communities in the benefits of the program at this particular time. When additional supplies are received later in the year, he said, plans for immunization in these areas will be put into effect without delay.

Directors of the health units concerned are now organizing for the many immunization centres that will be required in addition to those which will be held in existing health unit facilities. Each director will announce details of his individual program through the press, radio and television.

"It is obvious," said Mr. Martin, "that in a large undertaking such as this the local health unit staffs cannot do all the work alone. They have been assured of support from the B.C. Child Care, Poliomyelitis and Rehabilitation Fund, but further help will be needed from community organizations and individuals in a joint effort that could play an important part in ending the age-old spectre of polio."

Scientist Believes Hudson Bay Holds Many Valuable Minerals

By RUSSELL ELMAN

OTTAWA (CP) — A prominent Canadian marine scientist suggested Tuesday that the cold, bleak waters of Hudson Bay may conceal vast untapped mineral wealth.

Dr. W. M. Cameron, head of the federal mines department's marine sciences branch, told the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy that Canada's coastal waters are an intriguing region for exploitation "if we have the wits and means to do it."

Oil and sulphur already were being mined off North American shores and it was not impractical to think that other elements might eventually come from submarine environments.

"When one considers the large extent of Hudson Bay which is only a thin film of water over a large expanse of the Canadian Shield, one cannot helpt but be intrigued at the thought that eventually valuable products will be mined from beneath its waters."

CERTAIN TO COME

Dr. Cameron said he was not sure whether mining beneath Canadian waters was a near project but was certain it would come.

His paper was among more than 50 technical reports to be presented today to various study groups of the 2,000 delegates attending the mining and metallurgy conference.

Other papers deal with subjects as varied as the future of industrial minerals in agriculture, the Polar Continental Shelf Project and possible new uses of coal in Western Canada.

Dr. W. E. Van Steenburgh, mines department director-general of scientific services, described a project being carried out this summer to map from the air the magnetic field over 1,250,000 square miles of the Canadian Arctic through to the North Pole. The results would assist geomagnetic prospecting.

Another aerial project to observe and record sea-ice conditions in the Arctic should lead, after a period of years, to the ability to forecast ice conditions perhaps, well in advance, on main North Atlantic shipping routes. This was because it took more than a year for ice to drift from the northern Arctic to the Atlantic.

A paper by R. V. Tomkins, project manager, Tombill Mines Limited, Regina, speculates that Canada by 1970 may supply most of the free world's potash needs outside Europe and the United States. This would require establishment of several large plants in addition to two now approaching production in Saskatchewan.

Canadian production is expected to be low-cost because of high-grade ore and large-scale operations. In the years ahead potash should rank as a leading mineral export and as a major non-metallic mineral in value of production.

Eichmann Sees Protestant Clergyman

TEL AVIV (Reuters)—Adolf Eichmann, awaiting the outcome of his appeal against the death sentence for the wartime murder of 6,000,000 Jews, saw a Canadian - born Protestant clergyman this week, it was disclosed Tuesday.

Commissioner of prisons Yitshak Nir said a minister identified only as Rev. Hull, a resident of Jerusalem, visited Eichmann in the death cell this week. He said further meetings between the two are likely.

Nir said the initiative for the meeting came from Eichmann, his defence counsel, West German lawyer Robert Servatius, and Hull.

During his long trial in Jerusalem, Eichmann told the court he did not belong to any church, but affirmed his belief in a God.

The former Nazi SS lieutenant-colonel, convicted of running the death camps where European Jews were slaughtered during the Second World War, has appealed his death sentence to the five-man Israeli Supreme Court. Its decision is expected next month.

If the court confirms the sentence as expected, Eichmann's only hope will be an appeal for clemency to Israeli President Yitzhak Ben-Zvi.

He is awaiting the court's ruling in an isolated cell of the Ramleh prison on the Jerusalem-Tel Aviv highway.

B.C. Petroleum Industry Keeps Up Development

VICTORIA (CP)—The petroleum industry continued its rapid development of northeastern British Columbia fields in March, completing 30 oil wells and 12 natural gas wells.

As April began, 15 wells were drilling, with the fastest completions centering on the rich Boundary Lake field, the department of mines and petroleum resources said in its monthly report.

With completion of the new Western Pacific Products and Crude Oil pipeline, crude oil production hit a rate of about 20,000 barrels daily during February.

At the end of February, there were 210 wells producing oil out of a potential 244. At the same time last year 47 of a possible 105 were producing.

Crude oil production for February totalled 559,221 barrels, compared with 87,443 in 1961, and natural gas production was 10,700,000,000 cubic feet, compared with 8,400,000,000 a year earlier.

Cuba Sugar Shortage May Be Due to Fires

By JOHN BLAND

HAVANA (Reuters) — Cuba's sugar production is lagging badly. Sabotage by fire may be one of the big reasons.

Production of the island's main export crop is running at 74 per cent of the target fixed before the harvest began in January, according to day-by-day production tables published in the Communist daily newspaper Hoy.

At this rate, when the harvest ends in May total production will be nearer 4,000,000 tons than the 5,400,000 forecast in January by Industries Minister Ernesto Guevara.

Hoy blames the lag on a lack of cutters. Volunteers have been pressed to "help the revolution" in the canefields.

FIRES REDUCE OUTPUT

But a recent three-day trip by this reporter through the four central provinces of Cuba suggested that fires may be playing a significant role in reducing output.

On the first day, 11 large canefield fires were seen burning in Matanzas and Las Villas provincs, three of them on fronts at least half a mile wide.

Policemen worked desperately at one fire to prvent it eating further into uncut cane. But it was clear nothing could be done. The flames sped through the plantation.

Three fires were noted in Las Villas and Camaguey provinces northeast of the guerrilla sanctuary of the Escambray Hills. That evening, the angry glow of a fourth fire lighted the horizon.

The third day, about 80 miles from Santa Clara, blackened cane smoldered on either side of a road, evidence of another big blaze.

OTHER STORIES

Apart from the actual fires, there were signs everywhere of recent burning.

A sugar mill mechanic in Las Villas said "gusanos (literally worms but meaning counter-revolutionaries) have infiltrated the canefields."

In that area alone, he said, more than 1,000,000 arrobas had been burned. One arroba equals 25 pounds and 1,000,000 arrobas normally yields about 1,625 tons of sugar.

The mechanic also said there had been some sabotage of machinery inside the sugar mills.

The penalty for setting fire to a canefield is summary trial by a revolutionary tribunal and certain execution by firing squad within 48 hours.

Sukarno Cancels Visit to Britain

LONDON (Reuters) — President Sukarno of Indonesia has cancelled a state visit to Britain next month because of tension over Netherlands New Guinea, the foreign office announced Tuesday.

The tension over West New Guinea arises from Indonesia's claim to the Dutch colony and Sukarno's promise to "liberate" it.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two youths, one brandishing a gun, robbed a visitor from Germany of $50 here early Tuesday. Mrs. Ellie Bethge, 53, told police the pair accosted her from a car while she was walking to her daughters' apartment. Mrs. Bethge, who speaks only German, clung to her purse but one of the thugs snatched it away and the pair drove off.

Hints to Husbands On How to Annoy Wives

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Husband remarks guaranteed to raise any housewife's blood pressure.

"I don't see what you possibly do with all your spare time."

"What do you want to buy a new hat for? I've just gotten so I can stand your old one."

"Hortense, you can't wear a dress like that. It's not your style. Frankly, it makes you look way too young."

"Don't tell me what the kids did wrong today. I had a hard day myself at the office."

"I realize I haven't taken you any place this month, but after all I took you out twice last month."

"Here's an item in the papers about a wife asking for a divorce merely because her husband used her for a dart board. What's the matter with women today—are they all turning into sissies?"

FIX POWER MOWER

"I hear Joe Bloafer's wife got a job making $97.50 a week to start. Why don't you take a look at the help-wanted ads, baby? Maybe you'll be lucky, too."

"Hey, Hortense, the power mower is busted again. Can you get the pliers and fix it—like a good little girl?"

"Sure, it's okay if your mother spends a couple of weeks with us next month. You and her can have the whole place to yourselves. I'll take my vacation then—and go fishing with a couple of boys from the office."

"You can't get any new shoes this payday. I have to buy me a bowling ball."

"Of course, I love you. Didn't I tell you that before I married you?"

"Guess what that new girl in the stenographic pool told me. She said I kinda remind her of Cary Grant."

FORGETS BIRTHDAY

"No, I didn't forget it was your birthday. I just thought that at your age you wouldn't want me to remember it."

"Tired? How can housewives get tired? All they do is push buttons—and the machines do all their work."

"Hey, Hortense, the TV set is broke. C'mere and see if you can make it work."

"I ain't interested in how many other husbands help their wives do the dishes. If you ain't strong enough to do them by yourself, we can eat off paper plates."

"No wonder wives get that middle-aged spread. All they do is lie around the house all day taking naps."

"Hey, Hortense, the bathroom faucet is leaking! Better get a wrench quick. I'd stay and help you, but I'm already late for the office."

27,000 Air Cadets To Hold Special Church Parades

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's 27,000 air cadets will hold special church parades next Sunday to mark the opening of National Air Cadet Week.

The week is marked to inform parents and friends about the activities of the Air Cadet League of Canada, which has been operating since 1941.

Street parades will follow the church services in some of the larger centres.

Famous Liner Makes Fastest Crossing

SOUTHAMPTON, England (Reuters)—The 26-year-old liner Queen Mary arrived from New York Tuesday after making here fastest Atlantic crossing since she won the blue ribbon in 1938.

The 81,000-ton ship steamed the 3,194 miles in four days, nine hours and 51 minutes, an average speed of 30.18 knots.

The blue ribbon now is held by the American liner United States, which made the crossing at an average speed of 35.59 knots on her maiden voyage from New York in 1952.
