Four-Year Jail Term, $2000 Fine Slapped On Freedomite

MR. JUSTICE SULLIVAN
. . . Obviously elders teaching terrorism.

Repin Given Two Years to Pay Fine, Find Out Who Friends Are

A 37-year-old Freedomite who walked into the RCMP building here last November and confessed to having dynamite in his possession, was sentenced Tuesday to four years in prison and fined $2000, by Mr. Justice H. J. Sullivan.

Nick N. Repin's sentencing was met with stony silence by Sons of Freedom sect members in the gallery and there were no demonstrations, such as have marked proceedings since the special assize began earlier this month.

Repin was given two years to pay the $2000 fine and was told by Mr. Justice Sullivan, "That's going to give you a chance to see who your friends are."

"If the fine is not paid by Jan. 30, 1964, one more year will be added to Repin's jail term," Mr. Justice Sullivan said. This was the first time in recent years at least, that a fine has been imposed in addition to a jail sentence.

Repin was found guilty of illegal possession of explosives Tuesday morning by a 12-man jury which deliberated 14 minutes, the shortest deliberation in the assize to date.

Mr. Justice Sullivan carried on a conversation with Repin when he was brought into court following the afternoon session which hit on topics of education, who was responsible for teaching young Freedomites terrorism, benefits Canadians receive and religion.

Repin told the judge he had two children going to Canadian schools and wished to educate them in his own way.

Mr. Justice Sullivan replied that in today's competitive living an adult is mentally incompetent if he has no education.

He then asked the convicted terrorist who was teaching young Freedomites to become terrorists, referring to three young men who were sentenced to jail terms Saturday.

Repin replied that he didn't know.

SPEAKS OF BOJEY

His Lordship then spoke of a Freedomite youth blinded by a bomb he had been making. He said the explosive must have been given the youth by an older person.

"It's obvious that someone is supplying these young men with dynamite and teaching them terrorism," he said, and compared the terrorist problem to the drug addict problem, saying there would be no addict problem if it weren't for the "wicked" men supplying the drug.

The blind youth he spoke of was Harry Bojey who has married since the bomb he was helping to build exploded, blinding himself and killing his partner in the crime in 1958. Bojey and his young wife are frequent spectators at the Freedomite trials but were not in the courtroom when spoken about.

Mr. Justice Sullivan said this "terrible" country is paying Bojey and his wife $125 a month blind pension, he believed. "Now that's not such a bad country, it is" he asked Repin.

Repin told Mr. Justice Sullivan that it was the Freedomite belief that two masters cannot be served, and quoted the Bible as saying so.

The Bible also says, the judge countered, to "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's."

He told Repin that those were words spoken by Jesus Christ.

MIXED-UP DEFENCE

In his 22-minute charge to the jury Tuesday morning, Mr. Justice H. J. Sullivan said he didn't know what to make of the "mixed up" defence theory as to why Repin had dynamite in his possession.

He told the jury, "I don't know why in the world you should have any trouble in reaching a verdict . . . because these trials are costing the taxpayer a great deal of money, day by day.

Fourteen minutes later the jury returned with a guilty verdict. The judge was then told by crown prosecutor T. G. Bowen-Colthurst, QC, that Repin had been sentenced to three years in prison in 1950 for conspiring to commit arson.

Monday, over the Sons' religious symbols of bread, salt and water, Repin swore he had never been involved in acts of terrorism.

Asked Tuesday by Mr. Justice Sullivan if he understood Repin correctly to say he had never been involved in terrorism Repin replied that he had not understood the question.

The judge said he would take Repin's Monday sworn testimony into consideration when passing sentence.

In his charge to the jury during the morning Mr. Justice Sullivan touched on the free benefits for which many citizens of Canada are eligible, such as free education, free hospital services, and several types of pensions — including pension for the blind who were rendered so while making an explosive device.

Tuesday afternoon the trial of Fred Jmaeff, John G. Babakaeff, and Leon Legebokoff began. The three Sons are charged with dynamiting two power poles at Shoreacres last May 6. Various pictures and the timing device found to set off the charge were entered as exhibits. The trial continues today.

Jmaeff received a ten-year sentence and Legebokoff an eight year sentence last Saturday for terrorism.

Edgewood Man Killed in Logging Mishap

NAKUSP—Albert Pagura, 39, of Edgewood was fatally injured Monday while decking logs near Edgewood.

Witnesses said a guy line on a gin pole snapped and the pole fell, hitting him on the head.

The accident ocurred at about 8:15 a.m. Monday and he was taken by ambulance to Arrow Lakes Hospital in Nakusp where he died about 1:40 a.m. Tuesday.

Paul Tarzwell, Donald Spence and Bert Ewing, who worked for Mr. Pagura, were witnesses to the accident, RCMP said.

An inquest was being held by Coroner William Evans of Nelson.

Mr. Pagura is survived by his wife, Betty; two children, Colin and Jean; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pagura of Castlegar, and a sister in Port Alice.

World News Briefly

PUNTA DEL ESTE (AP) — The United States and 13 other American nations voted early Tuesday to expel Cuba from participation in inter-American affairs.

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — The West killed a Russian demand for an immediate United Nations Security Council debate on The Congo Tuesday, causing Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin to cry "ga."

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — The United Nations General Assembly urged Portugal by an overwhelming majority Tuesday night to set its West African territory of Angola on the road to independence.

LONDON (AP) — Prospects of a sudden end to France's seven-year war in Algeria appeared to brighten Tuesday night. There were strongly supported reports that President de Gaulle has reached agreement with the Algerian rebels on a road toward Algerian independence.

EXPENSIVE ITEM

VERNON (CP) — Expenditure for the civic arena last year was $19,151, about $3500 more than revenue. Mayor Bruce Cousins said $3 per capita was "little enough to pay" for the facilities received.

GLENN'S TRIP POSTPONED

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The United States Tuesday postponed an attempt to hurl astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. around the world until Tuesday, Feb. 13. Glenn was to have gone up Thursday.

Lt.-Col. John A. Powers, spokesman for the National Areonautics and Space Administration, attributed this sixth postponement to "technical difficulties with the launching booster."

Highway Reopened

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — The Department of Highways said late Tuesday that the northern transprovincial highway, blocked by slides since early Sunday, had been reopened.

Officials here said bulldozers had cleared snow sufficiently to allow one-way traffic through the slide area, 40 miles west of Terrace.

Chains are still required on the highway.

Says Large Power Supplies Spur to Industrial Growth

VICTORIA (CP)—The provincial government's two-river power development policy was defended in the legislature Tuesday by Attorney-General Bonner.

Joint development of the Columbia and Peace Rivers, he said, will assure British Columbia of large supplies of long-term low-cost power.

This in turn would provide jobs for the people of the province, provide for population growth and for large-scale industrial development.

Provision of energy, he said, is the touchstone of solution to many of the problems of the future, including increasing revenues.

Mr. Bonner spoke for 40 minutes — one of his shorter legislative addresses — during the Throne Speech debate and he devoted most of the time to defence of the power policy outlined in the speech from the throne.

The speech said the government will continue to pursue a policy of simultaneous development of the Peace and Columbia Rivers and will continue to seek federal approval of its plan to sell in the United States all of B.C.'s downstream benefit power from the Columbia.

This latter demand has caused disagreement between Victoria and Ottawa over financing of the Columbia development as set out in the international treaty signed by Canada and the U.S. a year ago.

WOULD UP COSTS

Consecutive development of the two rivers Mr. Bonner said, would increase costs and reduce the competitive position that B.C. now can obtain in the growing power markets of the United States and Canada.

"No alternative sources of power can conceivably serve the long-term market which we anticipate in the Pacific Northwest for the same cost," he said.

"A two-river policy makes sense because an imaginative marketing of the output of a two-river system will produce revenue and will develop the average cost of power from both projects at a figure substantially less than the average costs of projects built consecutively and only to B.C. requirements."

He described imaginative marketing as sale of downstream benefit power—B.C.'s share of power produced at U.S. Columbia installations as a result of Canadian storage — at profitable prices.

The impact of sale of this power in the U.S. at five mills per kilowatt hour would cover cost of Arrow Lakes, Duncan Lake and Mica Creek storage dams and provide 2,000,000 horsepower production capacity at the Mica Creek dam.

Mr. Bonner said sale of the downstream benefit power in the U.S. would mean early development of at-site generation in Canada while retention of this power, as advocated by Ottawa, would delay this step.

The firm at-site production would accelerate industrial development in B.C. and this acceleration would be felt in industry throughout Canada.

It would also hasten possibility of a B.C. and national power grid.

Five-year sale of this power, as Ottawa has proposed, would not bring profitable rates for the power. Longer term markets —on perhaps a 20-year contract, with 10-year firm and 10-year notice of cancellation required — were essential.

Such sales must be compleated before the international Columbia treaty is ratified, Mr. Bonner said, because once the ratification by Canada is given, Canadian bargaining power is lost.

In other remarks, Mr. Bonner said the speech by opposition leader Strachan Monday brought the conclusion that the New Democratic Party position is one of anti-Americanism.

He said the NDP is pursuing an irresponsible external policy which he described as "muddle-headed and softheaded."

Liberals Would Up Pension By Extra $10

By JAMES NELSON

OTTAWA (CP) — The Liberal party announced Tuesday a major revision in its pledge of an old age pension supplement, following the Conservative government's announcement last week that it will raise the basic pension to $65 a month from $55.

The Liberals now are promising, if elected, to pay a $10 monthly supplement to the new $65 pension immediately legislation can be passed.

They previously promised a $20 monthly supplement to the present $55 pension but it would be payable after a one-year wait during which contribution from employees and employers would be built up in a special fund.

Paul Martin, Liberal MP for Essex East, made the announcement at a luncheon meeting of the national council of the party, saying he spoke for Liberal Leader Pearson and his colleagues.

The former health minister said the Liberals could make this promise because the increase in the basic pension to $65 from $55, paid to all at age 70, would come out of general tax revenues. Therefore, it would be unnecessary to wait a year while contributions for the pensions supplement were built up in the special fund.

Royal Commission Study on Education Financing Advised

VICTORIA (CP) — Removal of municipal politicians from the educational finance picture was suggested Tuesday by a Social Credit backbencher as a means of lessening the arguments over values and taxation requirements.

At the same time, he suggested a royal commission on education finance in British Columbia is desirable.

Dan Campbell, member for Comox, told the legislature that school boards should set the education tax at the municipal level, add its own tax requirements to the municipal tax notice and take responsibility for selling its tax decision to the taxpayer.

For convenience, the funds could be collected by the municipalities.

Mr. Campbell, speaking in the throne speech debate, said he does not blame municipal councillors for their approach to educational finance.

They did not set education tax rate, but they had to raise the money to pay the bill.

"They have no sympathy for it," he said. "They do not wish the responsibility for it. They are not willing to sell to the public that the education bill is for value received and an outstanding bargain at that."

He said that if the "constant political barrage of municipal councils is the measure of the value we place upon education, then we are losing important senses of value."

It was remarkable that local autonomy was expected to develop in a situation where open hostility to education expenditures was being directed toward the province by municipal councils.

"It is even more remarkable to leave in the hands of hostile municipal councils the preservation of the very sound idea that local taxation should continue to pay at least part of the education bill," he said.

There should continue to be taxation at the local level to pay a share of the education cost because the farther from the program of education the complete taxing authority is removed, the more difficult it is to exercise local control.

B.C. HAS BALMY WEATHER, ONTARIO, GALES

By The Canadian Press

Temperatures are dropping throughout Ontario, rounding off a day of winds, snow and slush.

The sun shone while many areas still dug themselves out from between three and seven inches of drifted snow, but the Dominion weather office warned of a plunge to as low as 15 below.

Most British Columbians had a blend of cloud and sunshine Tuesday and little change was forecast for today although rain associated with an offshore disturbance was falling along the north coast. Extensive fog was expected to continue over Georgia Strait.

B.C. temperatures varied Tuesday from a low of 19 at Grand Forks to 53 at Victoria. Few subfreezing temperatures were recorded.

Alberta looked forward to higher temperatures, sunny periods and intermittent snow.

But while there was expected to be a low of 40 degrees at Lethbridge, Prince Albert in neighboring Saskatchewan awaited a low of 10 below and a high of zero.

In the Legislature

By The Canadian Press

Attorney-General Bonner defended the government's two-river power development policies.

James Rhodes (NDP-CCF — Delta) said the new provincial land tax assessment formula may force lower mainland farmers to turn their property into sub-divisions and sent municipalities into bankruptcy.

Dan Campbell (SC — Comox) said removal of municipal politicians from the educational finance picture would lessen arguments over values and taxation requirements.

Cyril Shelford (SC — Omineca) called for stiffer penalties for hunting carelessness and for study by a house committee on the question of gasoline retail rate equalization.

A motion setting up a special committee to study use of trading stamps was approved.

The house rose at 5:50 p.m., adjourned until 2 p.m. on Wednesday.

DOLLAR DOWN IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK (CP) — Canadian dollar 1-16 lower at 95 9-16 in terms of U.S. funds. Week ago 95 23-32. Pound sterling 1-32 higher at $2.81 17-64.

MONTREAL (CP) — The U.S. dollar closed at a premium of 4 21-32 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, up 3-32 from Monday's close. Pound sterling closed at $2.94⅜, up ⅜. U.S. dollar bid $1.04⅜, asked $1.04 21-32.

Royal York Employees Vote Continue Strike

TORONTO (CP) — Nearly 400 striking employees of the Royal York Hotel voted Tuesday to continue their walkout and reject settlement proposals made by Labor Minister Warrender.

The labor minister accused union leaders later of violating an agreement not to speak out against his proposals and predicted the strike, already nine months old, "could go on for years."

The proposals were laid down by Mr. Warrender in a last-ditch series of meetings last weekend with management of the CPR-owned hotel nad representatives of the Hotel and Club Employees Union (CLC).

Basically they called for 30 per cent of the strikes to be hired by March 31, another 30 per cent by June 30 and a final 30 per cent by Dec. 31.

Pension rights would be guaranteed and chief Ontario conciliation officer Louis Fine would arbitrat other grievances if they could not be settled in negotiation.

The back-to-work proposal was the key stumbling block to a settlement.

Canadian Shells Lobbed on U.S.

VICTORIA (CP) — Canadian gun fire roared across the famous unarmed border with the United States, sending school children ducking for shelter and showering an astonished community with shrapnel.

The Royal Canadian Navy virtually acknowledged Tuesday that one of its destroyer escorts was responsible for the shelling of the tiny community of Clallam Bay on Washington State's Olympic Peninsula the day before.

There were no injuries but residents said there easily could have been.

It was possibly the first time in almost 100 years that shells from Canada have exploded over United States land.

The RCN said an inquiry will be held over the incident in which it "appeared" that fragments from shells fired by HMCS Skeena during target practice with three other RCN vessels in the Strait of Juan de Fuca showered—Defence Minister Harkness said "peppered" in the House of Commons—the logging community of 150 that is 40 miles southwest of Victoria.

One piece of shrapnel fell in the yard of a school, and the principal said he had just called students inside because of the firing. Fragments also fell on streets, a house and around a lighthouse. One witness said there were three duds.

One resident said the community was used to gunnery practice in the strait "but this was more violent than usual. A school official said he was going to protest to the navy.

Holy Men Pray To Avert Disaster

By GORDON MARTIN

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — Indian holy men stepped up their prayers and incantations to ward off calamity which astrologers predict will strike this weekend. One astrologer mentioned Canada among countries where disaster may strike.

Astrologers struck fear into the hearts of devout Hindus when they announced last August that eight planets would appear together in the sign of Capricorn, indicating catastrophe.

Since August, holy men have recited millions of prayers in an effort to ward off the impending disaster.

Some 250 holy men will make an all-out "Doomsday Eve" effort here Friday. Workmen Tuesday began setting up shelters to house them during their Yagnu (rites) and clearing sites for sacred fires.

Flames will consume rice and melted butter as priests lead the mass chants of millions in prayers.

In Lucknow, astronomical society general secretary Krishna Murari Misra appealed to the Hindus to offer mass prayers during the weekend.

OFFERS SOME HOPE

He reassured them, however, that "the configuration of eight planets . . . will not prove as disastrous to humanity as is being made out by certain astrologers."

He said India would be least affected by the as-yet-unknown catastrophe "which may prove disastrous to other countries in Southeast Asia, Southwest Asia, parts of Africa, South America, the United Kingdom, Canada, and parts of the Soviet Union and China."

But housewives in New Delhi and other cities were reported hoarding food in the event of earthquakes and floods cut off supplies.

Even next month's national elections have been eclipsed by celestial fears and businessmen have approached their dealing with increased caution.

Newspapers and politicians continued to view the elaborate religious preparations with derision.

Prime Minister Nehru, who publicly scorned astrologers' advice, will spend the weekend on a whistle-stop election tour.

West Kootenay Power Plans $3 Million Line

TRAIL (CP)—The West Kootenay Power and Light Company announced plans Tuesday for construction of a $3,500,000 power line from here to Penticton.

W. K. Gwyer, the company's assistant general manager, said the line had become necessary because of a steady load growth in the South Okanagan.

Such a development could not go ahead without Public Utilities Commission authority.

Mr. Gwyer said the proposed line would follow approximately the route taken now by the company's two lines to the Okanagan.

Lines presently carry 60,000 volts each. The new link would take 154,000 volts.

Mr. Gwyer said the new line would be constructed in stages over a four-year period.

It has not been decided whether Kootenay would let the project to public tender, or do the job itself.

School Board Proposes $97,000 Budget Boost

A $97,000 increase in the school budget was estimated for 1962 city council learned at a special meeting Monday night.

The $1,428,984 budget of School District No. 7 (Nelson) was received for study by council.

Several reasons were cited for the huge increase, main one being the heavy enrolment of students last September and an equally large enrolment predicted for this September.

"The large increase in school population in September, 1961 forced employment of 10 teachers where only five were budgeted for," said the accompanying report of J. S. Livingstone, secretary-treasurer for School District No. 7.

It meant an increase of $26,000.

"The Board felt it necessary to budget again for an increase of ten teachers in the 1962 estimates," he said, adding that the four months (September to December, 1962) would mean an estimated cost of $21,500.

"Another increase is in debt service section where, on the advice of Victoria, the sum of $21,000 was placed for the payment of interest on referendum No. 1, which was passed in December, 1961."

The remaining sum of the increase is for higher operation costs.

Mr. Livingston pointed out that the recent amalgamation has caused a shift in the city-provincial sharing of school financing. Previously the city paid 39.34 per cent. As some $2 million of asset values have been added to the city tax rolls, now the share is 46.15 per cent while the provincial government will pay approximately 57 per cent of the education cost.

Breakdown of the school district's share is as follows: Nelson 46.15 per cent, Salmo 2.41 per cent and rural area 51.44 per cent.

Another change in financing this year is monthly payment of the school board requisition by the city, estimated at approximately $22,000 per month. In the past, the requisitions were paid in quarterly installments.

CD Course Invaluable Says Wait

A limited number of candidates is being accepted for the rescue course being conducted by Civil Defence, beginning Wednesday night.

W. W. Wait, CD zone coordinator said the instruction will be valuable for anyone contemplating work in fire departments or general rescue work.

"It is," he said, "a prerequisite for advanced instruction at Vancouver or the Canadian Civil Defence college at Arnprior, Ont."

The course will be conducted at the old hospital building by instructor Y. George Heroux.

Man Sent to Woodland School

A 26-year-old Nelson man charged with indecent assault on a young girl was committed to Woodland School for mental defectives Friday.

Stipendiary magistrate K. D. McRae committed John Ross after hearing a psychiatric report of the accused.

Ross was charged with indecent assault on a six-year-old girl who was accosted while returning from school by a man in Rosemont last fall.

Last Rites Held For H. S. Clark

Funeral services for Harry Sinclair Clark were conducted at Thompson Funeral Chapel Tuesday by Rev. E. A. Hircock of the First Presbyterian Church. Mr. Clark died Saturday aged 79 years.

Hymns were "The Lord's My Shepherd" and "Lead Kindly Light" accompanied by Mrs. W. A. Manson at the organ. Cremation followed.

Municipal Car Port Gets Council Go-Ahead

Bodard Objections Overruled In Urgent Need for Parking

The Vernon Street parking area began to pick up momentum despite the objections of Ald. E. T. Bodard at a special meeting of city council Monday night.

Not only was the proceed signal flashed to city works superintendent Dragutin Likar but the project was unofficially named and its design and development will be outlined to a dinner meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Thursday noon.

Ald. Bodard's protests were drowned in waves of urgency by other councillors for an immediate solution of the downtown parikng problem.

The aldermen emphasized that a great amount of study and planning had gone into the project and felt that it was the quickest, cheapest solution to the problem.

They stated that consultants and the Advisory Town Planning Commission urged immediate solution to the problem that threatens to stagnate the circulatory system of the business section. Several steps were suggested but each required the takeover of an area already being utilized by either private or public interests.

SELF-LIQUIDATING

Finance chairman Ald. J. W. McClelland explained how the project will be self-liquidating over its 15-year lease with Kelly Douglas Co., Ltd.

He said the principle and accumulated interest over the next 15 years on the money bylaw, which city clerk C. W. R. Harper has been authorized to prepare, would amount to approximately $154,000.

In the same period, the city would collect about $81,000 rent from the wholesale firm for 60 parking spaces. From the remaining 30 parking spaces, if meters were installed, funds totalling $90,000 could be realized in the next 15 years.

"We are going to use 75 per cent of that project for our own purpose, mainly parking and garage," said the finance chairman. He urged all aldermen to support fully the proposed bylaw.

"If we don't finance by bylaw we will have to take a serious look at our tax structure," he warned as murmurs circled the the chamber of an increase of at least ten mills would be necessary to meet the cost out of current revenue.

TO BE ADDED TO

The $100,000 construction will only consist of one level of parking, but the main beams will be in place to add to the structure in future years. In other words, the project will begin from the top down. Estimated cost for the second level is $44,000 which will be used for public parking.

The ground level will eventually be turned into a city garage releasing for sale the city's present holdings on Josephine Street.

This work is to be carried out in stages. One alderman felt that the two parking levels, when required, would meet the city's demands for the next 25 years.

Mr. Likar was given the start signal when council approved five recommendations of the committee of the whole meeting of January 26.

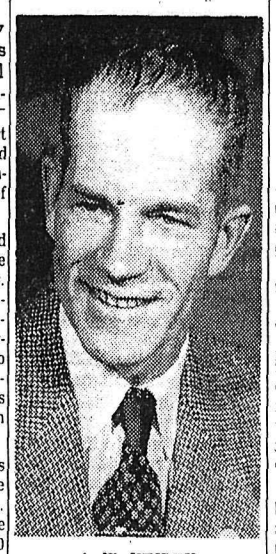
The recommendations placed the design and construction in the hands of city engineering forces. Mr. Likar will supervise the project but the designs will be prepared by architect David P. Fairbank of Nelson. The city will also take steps to have the project included under the winter works program as it is hoped to begin construction in March.

Mr. Likar, comparing estimates with the architect said his were several thousand dollars lower. Mr. Likar's total was $95,000 while Mr. Fairbank's total was $102,000 their main difference being in the cost of the beams. Mr. Likar said the Fairbank estimate included one or two items which were not necessary in the estimate.

The city turned down an offer of services in connection with the project, of C. C. Parker, Whittaker Co., Ltd. of Calgary.

The project was unofficially named "Municipal Car Port" by alderman B. C. Affleck following the meeting. Its development and design will be outlined to the Chamber of Commerce meeting by the whole council as they accepted a Chamber invitation to attend the dinner meeting.

Arne W. Heibey Passes at 55



A. W. HEIBEY

A Nelson resident since 1945, Arne William Heibey, 55, died in Kootenay Lake General Hospital Tuesday.

Mr. Heibey was born in Stanley, North Dakota, and came to Canada with his parents in 1911, settling in Edmonton. In 1932 he joined the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and served in Moose Jaw, Winnipeg and Ottawa. After leaving the RCMP, he came to Nelson, where he was employed by the Crown Life and Mutual Benefit Companies.

Besides his wife, Constance Mary, he is survived by one son, Mark, at home; one daughter, Elaine, at Vancouver; one brother, Conrad, Edmonton; two sisters, Mrs. Haigh, Seattle, and Mrs. Scott, Grimsby, Ont.; and two nieces, Mrs. Walter Petruk and Mrs. Lillian Boas of Vancouver.

FIREMEN USE FOAM ON POOL OF GASOLINE

Nelson fire department firemen douse a 100-gallon pool of gasoline with air foam Tuesday when it spilled and spread over the Standard Oil Company bulk station yard at 95 Government Road.

An hour elapsed before firemen decided the gas had evaporated safely. Foam was used to cut off oxygen and allow evaporation of the gas.

Fireman were called at 11:53 a.m. The spillage occurred when an open line resulted in a reverse flow of gas from the tank storage to tank car and overflowed. A pump had been switched on but had apparently stopped, unnoticed by the operator.

Council Jottings

City firemen are seeking a 15 per cent wage increase in their 1962 contract with the city.

Council as a whole recently met with the representatives of local 1343 of the Firefighters Union. At that time it was suggested by Mayor T. S. Shorthouse that a three per cent wage increase would be more in line.

The meeting concluded with council agreeing to study firemen's wage agreements in other Kootenay centres.

Received and filed was acknowledgement of Local 1003 of International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, of acceptance of the 1961 agreement.

* * *

Received and filed was correspondence from C. C. Parker, Whittaker Co. Ltd. of Calgary and Poole Construction Co. Ltd. of Calgary regarding the estimates for the Vernon Street parking area.

* * *

A brief on power plant and electrical system insurance was referred to the electrical committee for study.

* * *

Third reading was given to fire amendment bylaw No. 1326. The amendment to fire bylaw No. 1280 makes it illegal to sell, place or put any inflammable liquid in quantity of less than five gallons in a container other than a metal one.

* * *

Ald. E. T. Bodard who objected previously to the wording of the bylaw, said it now had been clarified and he wondered if the heavy plastic container he had at the meeting was suitable to carry inflammable liquids.

He said one of the containers, which is sold commercially, has been sent to Vancouver to be checked out by the Fire Marshal.

Ald. Bodard also asked if council as a body would be attending the funeral service of J. P. Morgan, former mayor, Thursday afternoon. Though no motion was passed, Mayor T. S. Shorthouse implied that council would attend as a body.

* * *

Ald. F. A. Beresford reported that the transportation committee has decided to repair the city assessor's old model vehicle, instead of purchasing a newer one. The vehicle was involved in a car accident earlier this month.

* * *

Ald. Beresford also reported that congratulations to council on the lighting in the cemetery area were telephoned in by Mrs. Gladys White of Fall Street.

* * *

The Women's Institute Room and the ladies' rest room are now ready for service, Ald. B. C. Affleck, chairman of the city hall renovation committee declared. His committee sought council's wishes with regards to hiring a caretaker for the two rooms, particularly the rest rooms.

Council felt a $50 a month salary for the cleaning woman who would visit the rest rooms twice a day, an hour each time, six days a week would be suitable.

The matter was left in the hands of Ald. Affleck's committee.

* * *

Ald. Affleck also moved that the city assist Women's Institute in removing their equipment from their present quarters in the Civic Centre Building to their new quarters in the city hall building.

Deputy city clerk Eric Willmott substiuted for city clerk C. W. R. Harper.

Committee Meet Hears of High Scout Awards

ROBSON — Fine progress of his Scout troop was reported by Scoutmaster Karl Koreen at the meeting of the First Robson Group Committee at the home of Mrs. P. M. Jolly.

Mrs. Fred Giraud conducted the meeting in the absence of R. T. Waldie, and eight members attended.

Mr. Koreen reported on the badges achieved by his Scouts during the year including Bushman's Thong and Queen Scout bades. John Carter earned his Bushman's Thong and the high award Queen Scout badges were awarded to Jeffrey Banigan and John Carter. Other badges earned have been two Pathfinder's, one Dairyman's, one Farmer's, four Firemen's, one Musician's and one Journalist's.

Cubmaster W. Lahue reported a membership of 22 Cubs.

Scoutmaster Walter Banigan, who has accepted the position of assistant district commissioner, is still active with the Rover crew in Robson, it was noted. Three new Rovers had been invested. During the investiture, three charter members, who were home for holidays, were able to attend.

Members' attention was drawn to Boy Scout Week being observed February 18 to 25. Cubs and Scouts will attend Baden Powell Day at Stanley Humphries High School February 25.

Refreshments were served at conclusion of the meeting.

Nelson Man Not Guilty On Intimidation Charge

"From now on, if you are drinking, stay home," Magistrate R. S. Nelson warned William Kichard in police court Tuesday.

Kichard was found not guilty by Magistrate Nelson on a charge of intimidation of a police officer.

In summing up, Magstrate Nelson told Kichard that he felt he "made an awful mistake, through drinking, but you were not threatening violence. From now on, if you are drinking, stay home."

He told Kichard further that his revolver should be turned over to the attorney-general for disposal.

"There is no need for anyone requiring firearms in this town," he told him.

The original charge of pointing a revolver at a policeman had been dropped in lieu of another charge, intimidation. The magistrate dismissed the second charge Dec. 22 without hearing the evidence against him.

The prosecutor obtained an order directing issuance of a writ of mandamus against Magistrate Nelson. The writ, on behalf of the attorney-general, required the magistrate to hear the charge against Kichard.

W. E. MacDonald of the City Police force, testified Kichard called the police office while Constable MacDonald was on duty, Nov. 9, 1961. Kichard was complaining because someone had left the ignition on, on his motorcycle, and the battery had run down. The police had removed the battery and taken it to the police office.

MacDonald said Kichard called the police office several times demanding his battery be returned.

"If you don't bring my battery to my house, I will come down to your house with my Ivor Johnson revolver," Kichard said, as MacDonald recalled.

After going to Kichard's house, Constable MacDonald testified he had his revolver in his hand. He gave it to the police officer, who took Kichard to the police office to pick up his battery then took him home.

When asked by defence counrel M. E. Moran if he thought the reference to the revolver was a threat to his safety, Const. MacDonald said he didn't think it was.

"Then why did you lay the charge?" asked Mr. Moran.

"The final decision is not up to me," MacDonald replied. "It is up to the Chief Constable to decide."

Magistrate Nelson questioned MacDonald about what went on when the officer went to Kichard's house. He testified that he talked to Kichard and his wife.

When asked about his attitude, MacDonald replied that at first he was "quite obnoxious" but then calmed down.

The constable was asked if he took threats on the phone seriously. MacDonald said, "I didn't take the phone calls seriously then and I don't now."

When asked if there was any indication of drinking on Kichard's parts, the constable answered in the affirmative.

At one point when Magistrate Nelson was questioning MacDonald about police procedure, Prosecutor B. K. Arlidge objected to the magistrate's line of questioning.

"I have every right to question the witness on how the charge was laid," said the magistrate.

"The chief constable did not investigate this case thoroughly before laying charges," he said.

Mr. Arlidge in addressing the magistrate said the "intent of the accused" should be considered and his state of mind. He pointed out that once a charge is made legal machinery is set in motion and because he had been drinking his intention should be considered.

"Where does the city of Nelson get the money for trivial trials?" said Mr. Moran. "If the constable didn't think there was a threat involved, why should the crown bother with the other charge? Someone must have an axe to grind."

In handing down his decision, Magistrate Nelson said he did not think Kichard's remarks on the phone constituted a threat.

"If he had said, 'I will come down to your office with my Ivor Johnson revolver and blow your head off' that would be a threat."

Kichard said, "I want to be friends with them" (the police), at the conclusion of the trial.

Mr. Arlidge said he was satisfied with the magistrate's decision.

Davidson Death Reported Suicide

Burton Clarence 'Tim" Davidson was dead before the flames reached his body in the fire that destroyed his wooden frame two-storey dwelling in Kaslo Dec. 30, a coroner's jury was told Friday.

Dr. A. M. Barrera at the Kaslo hearing said the 45-year-old welder had no smoke in his lungs and that he had died from a bullet wound to the left side of the head.

The jury, under foreman Reginald Mossman, after hearing three hours of testimony from nine witnesses and deliberating half an hour, brought in a verdict that Davidson died from a self-inflicted wound.

Earlier a theory that the father of six had been murdered, was prevalent but police evidence made the theory almost an impossibility.

The charred body was found in the living room of the smouldering ruins. It was removed to the morgue and later, when Constable Ray Pletz returned to the scene, he discovered the blackened ruin of a .30-.30 calibre rifle in the room. He found one spent cartridge, and two exploded cartridges in the rifle chamber.

TRACED FLIGHT

He traced the flight of the spent bullet, as entering from under the left jawbone of the victim, through the cheekbone and exiting by the left eye. It then passed through the ceiling and out through the roof.

The victim's face had been covered by a rug, not an unusual thing for suicides, an RCMP officer had observed. Saturated in blood, it had prevented that facial area from being destroyed by the flames.

Fire Chief Roy Green said he was unable to determine cause of the fire which was reported around 8 p.m.

Mrs. Pearl Davidson said her husband had come home around 6:30 p.m., after he had spent some time in a beer parlor. A family quarrel ensued over some clothing upstairs. She had left Mr. Davidson around 7 p.m. to visit a neighbor. She was the last one to see the man alive and she said he did not appear despondent.

PREVIOUS ATTEMPT

She said that her husband had once before attempted to commit suicide, in 1955, and that the second bullet the police dug out of the living room wall was the first suicide attempt.

Constable Pletz substantiated Mrs. Davidson's report of a previous suicide attempt with police records.

Son of the deceased, Roy Davidson, said the rifle belonged to him and had been kept in his quarters in a shack behind the house. On examining his quarters he had found the clothing there which had prompted the argument, but his rifle and three cartridges from his cartridge belt missing.

Next-door neighbor John Nugter reported hearing a thud or muffled explosion around 8 p.m., and looking out the window saw the Davidson place ablaze. He said he could not say if the 'thud' was a gunshot.

Dr. Barrera testified that he found no powder burns or metal fragments in the head.

Constable L. E. Brewster of Nelson subdivision, entered photographs of the scene and the deceased, and a plan as exhibits.

On the jury were George Lingle, Andrew Jardine, Norman Garret, Louis Pitman and L. S. Leybourne.

McInnes Returns To Chair Improvement Association

TRAIL — The annual meeting of the Shaver's Bench Improvement Association was held Monday evening and saw Alex McInnes returned as president to serve another year.

Joe Fariloe was elected second vice-president and Mrs. J. Paugh, secretary treasurer. Committee chairman are: Ken Pople for T.A.A., parks and sports; William Kassian, City Council representative; and Walter Bailey, hall manager.

During the business session, widening of the road on Fifth Avenue and McBride and installation of a retaining wall was discussed. A letter from City Council advised that the matter had been referred to works and services committee for consideration. Another letter from Council advised that it would be considered in the over-all activity of the city and its development. William Kassian, Council representative, recommended that this topic should be pursued further. He recalled a story in the Nelson News concerning transportation of children to school by bus because of lack of sidewalks.

MOST DANGEROUS

Ed Wirsch, a past president, said that Fifth and McBride was one of the most dangerous bits of road in all of Trail during the winter time. Mr. Kassian was asked to attend the next council meeting to bring it and other matters up.

Lack of snow ploughing, lack of sidewalks and students walking on roads are matters to be brought up. Walter Bailey suggested that if the city did not have enough snow removal equipment to properly cope with the situation, that more be purchased.

ASK WATER SAMPLE

Bad-tasting water throughout the city was another problem placed before the executive. It was suggested that the health inspector be asked to test the water in several parts of the city and publish results in the paper, as previously. Ten different parts of the city were checked, a member stated.

William Kassian asked to be relieved from his position as S.B.I.A. representative to the Trail and District Projects Society.

Riondel Employees Honor Superintendent

RIONDEL — Employees of the Bluebell Mine held a farewell party for property superintendent D. S. Campbell, who is leaving Riondel to assume charge of the HB Mine at Salmo.

During the evening T. F. Walton, mill superintendent, spoke on Mr. Campbell's long and colorful service with the CM and S Co. on various properties throughout B.C. Mr. Campbell has been superintendent of the Bluebell Mine in Riondel for the past twelve years.

The popular superintendent was presented with a TV set and other mementos, including a collection of various minerals found in the Bluebell Mine. This collection was made up by the geology department.

Mr. Campbell has been an enthusiastic supporter of many community activities, including the Recreation Club, the Golf Club and the Curling Club.

Best wishes of the community were extended to Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, who have now left for their new home.

Bluebell Mine Foreman Dies

RIONDEL — An employee of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company since 1927, Byron DeVere Bishop died suddenly at work at Riondel Monday morning.

Born in Lanark County, Ontario, August 15, 1900, Mr. Bishop has lived in Riondel since 1948, where he was in charge of the diesel generating plant and later was surface foreman at the Bluebell Mine.

He moved from Ontario with his parents as child and lived in Viking, Alta., later in Edmonton. One of his first occupations was with Alberta Government Telephone Company on line construction.

He returned to Ontario and worked in several small mines before joining the CM&S Company in Red Lake in 1927. Qualifying as an air engineer while working for the company, he flew with their fleet of planes to service prospectors in the north country.

He was one of the pioneers with the Con Mine at Yellowknife and the Box Mine at Goldfields.

He married the former Margaret Shaler at Winnipeg in 1932.

He was a member of Creston Lodge No. 54, A.F. & A.M. He is survived by his wife; one son, Gerald, at Riondel; one daughter, Mrs. Arthur Kirschner (Carole), RCAF base at Portage la Prairie; two brothers, Fleetwood, of High Prairie, Alta., and Hubert of Westlock, Alta.; three sisters, Mrs. Margaret Main of Edmonton, Mrs. Marion Tainsh of Clyde, Alta., and Mrs. Mildred Barrow of Detroit, and two grandchildren.

Six Warehouses Razed by Fire

QUEBEC (CP) — More than 200 firemen brought a three-alarm blaze under control Tuesday after it swept six warehouses in the Stadacona district on the northern limits of the city. It was a two-hour job.

One fireman was severely injured. Early efforts by firemen were hampered by high winds and blowing snow.

UNLOADED SOONER than expected were these big eight by eight foot timbers, bound for the Bluebell mine at Riondel. The truck hit the snowbank and overturned just over the ferry road summit as it headed for the Riondel junction Monday, when driver Wayne Vickery "blacked out." The timber had been loaded at the Wirsig sawmill at Gray Creek. The truck was not damaged and the timbers were back on the truck in about two hours.—Daily News photo.

Natal Seeks Incorporation With Sparwood Centre

NATAL — At a special meeting, Natal Village Commission gave approval to a motion that council proceed with plans for incorporation with the community of Sparwood. Negotiations will be opened with the residents of Sparwood to ascertain public opinion regarding such a move.

Acting on recommendations of the fire committee, the commission decided to appoint a deputy fire chief to take charge of all equipment being used by the fire department, including the fire truck; be responsible for the morale and conduct of volunteer firemen and to further training of the men. George Fedorek, member of the fire department, accepted the appointment as assistant chief. In its recommendations, the fire committee stated that since membership of the fire department was entirely voluntary, Fire Chief Mike Slemko was being required to shoulder too great a responsibility along with the great deal of work entailed by his position. Duties of the fire chief as outlined by council are to enforce the Fire Marshall's Act; arrange financing of the fire department and see that proper fire inspections are carried out.

A listing certificate regarding the fire truck was received from the Canadian Underwriters' Association.

Village Clerk Loretta Montemurro was instructed to obtain information as to whether or not civil defence regulations will prevent the village from installing a fire siren in Natal in preference to an air horn warning system.

WATERWORKS RESPONSIBILITY

The village clerk was instructed to write the Public Utilities Commission asking for an outline of the responsibilities of Natal Waterworks, which is privately owned, and for a photostatic copy of the present tariff schedule. The action was deemed necessary since the owner of the water system allegedly refuses to allow Natal firemen access to the pump house at any time. A letter was received from the Department of Highways outlining responsibility of the village in laying sidewalks adjacent to the highway.

EXPECT $2042 SURPLUS

The provisional budget for the year 1962 was adopted following re-consideration by the Commission. The provisional budget shows an estimated revenue of $54,376 and an anticipated expenditure of $52,334, leaving an anticipated surplus of $2042. Largest single source of revenue is general taxation, which is expected to enrich the village coffers by $20,324, followed by government grants of $12,992. On the debit side, protection to persons and property, which includes fire equipment, fire truck and the proposed alarm system as well as other items, constitutes the largest item of expenditure, with $17,760 earmarked for these purposes.

The village's share of education costs is estimated at $14,205, while costs of general government for the village is given as $6054. Sanitation and public works departments will each have budgets in excess of $4000 and expenditure on municipal property has been estimated at $3930.

Aluminum Houses Planned

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Aluminum Company of Canada said Tuesday hundreds of aluminum houses will be built in the greater Vancouver area.

The multi-million dollar project, to be duplicated in Montreal, Toronto and Calgary in an effort to promote aluminum as a major house-building material, will be financed by local contractors.

First announcement of the projects was made in Montreal Monday by C. P. Beaubien, Alcan vice-president.

Gerald Ardill, Vancouver sales manager for Alcan said if the pilot projects are successful, Alcan will promote home construction on a massive scale across Canada.

The company would supply aluminum for wall siding, piping, heating systems, windows, doors and ther house components.

The foundations would be concrete and wood. Cost would vary with design and location but the average would be $15,000.

He said if the projects are successful house-building techniques in Canada would be revolutionized and aluminum would replace wood as a major exterior component.

Athalmer Trustees Seek Flood Control

ATHALMER — Athalmer Improvement District trustees are not waiting until a 1962 flood in high water season inundates their community and disrupts village economy as happened in 1961.

The trustees, headed by Ronald Bradshaw, Alec Purkis and Henry Delesalle, have already embarked on an effort to avert a similar disaster.

Last year their effort following the flood produced a survey of the Columbia River by government engineers to ascertain the reason the water level of Lake Windermere has risen appreciably in recent years and the means by which the Columbia River could be kept in a prescribed channel.

Cost of dredging the river, as was done years ago when riverboats plied the Columbia regularly from Golden to Windermere, has been found prohibitive. Figures given to R. O. Newton, MLA, estimate the cost of dredging from Edgewater to Athalmer at $450,000, with an annual maintenance expense of $50,000.

This, however, involves more than the trustees for the Improvement District are asking. Their present concern is that the river be explored for log jams or gravel bars which are impeding the flow and raising the lake level.

This, it is assumed, can be accomplished at a much lower cost.

LAST DREDGING 1914

The last dredging of the river was done in 1914 when the river boats ceased their regular trips because the Kootenay Central Railway was then completed. During the nearly 50 years since, annual silting has raised the river bottom and this, coupled with the formation of gravel bars and log jams, has resulted in the level of Lake Windermere being some four feet higher than in the years of dredging.

Damage to business premises and residences in Athalmer during the 1961 flood was extensive and economy of the community suffered.

Mr. Newton, presently attending the Legislature, has been asked to have a further investigation made before the flood season to avert floods this summer.

Director Gives Figures On 1961 Park Activitis

CRANBROOK— Registration of 420 boys for regular hockey play in Cranbrook Minor Hockey Association schedules, 457 boys in Cranbrook Minor Baseball Association and 402 registrants for swimming classes were reported to the city for 1961 by its arena manager and recreation director R. I. Dearmond.

He reported that 50-hour weekly schedule operations from mid-October to March 30 of the Memorial Arena, including Saturday evening exhibition hockey games and public skating put rink operations at absolute capacity except for Sundays. Schedule covered minor hockey, commercial hockey league and classes for the Cranbrook Figure Skating Club. Additional outdoor skating was offered by the city in adjoining outdoor sheets at the new Gyro Park on Seventh Avenue, which was well patronized by the preschoolers and eager beaver kid hockey players for informal practice. He recommended extensive repairs to the arena roof.

POOL WELL USED

The Gyro pool, he reported operated from June 1 to September 4, with 193 of the registrants for swimming classes reaching test stage for the Red Cross or Royal Life Saving Society examination and 141 of these certified.

Lifeguard services, maintained continuously during the operating season, covered eleven rescues and first aid treatment for 206 minor injuries carried out at the pool. Water was changed frequently and regularly treated, and tests taken at regular intervals by the sanitarian of East Kootenay Health Unit showed relatively good condition of the water.

Rotary Park in downtown area did its usual roaring business as a children's playground over the summer months, when a part-time playground leader and later two full-time leaders supervised the schedule of low organization games and peaceful use of the play equipment the park offers. Weekly evening use by the Cranbrook Film Council for free outdoor evening programs proved an attraction to adults during July and August. Mr. DeArmond recommended raising the sidewalk which runs diagonally through the park to eliminate its flooding.

STOCK CARS

Moir Park was confined to the Cranbrook Stock Car Club racing with five of its seven scheduled racing programs completed, and two rained out. In the event Gyro Park is developed to the use stage this year with planting of grass and installation of playground equipment, he recommended a summer leader be appointed as is done at Rotary Park downtown. He also recommended ball facilities there be developed as soon as possible to help accommodate the minor ball schedule. At Baker Park field above the Gyro Pool he recommended repair of fence and bleachers and replacement of the backstop wire. Thi sis the field backstop wire. This is the field city softball league play.

Four Directors Elected Trail Community Chest

TRAIL — The annual meeting of the Trail District Community Chest was held Monday night in the board room of the Cominco Arena and four new directors were elected for three year terms.

Those elected were Ralph F. Bailey, Arnold S. Calder, Colin S. Guillaume, and Raymond Lerose. Seven nominees were submitted.

C. S. Guillaume, president, said he had hoped for more representation from what he termed the "rank and file of major contributors."

He felt more members of the respective Chest agencies should attend the meetings to voice their opinions.

He urged next year's board and its directors to take upon themselves to do some missionary work regarding recruiting more "rank and file members."

The Chest also reappointed Campbell and Yolland as chartered accountants for the coming year.

$300,000 CHILDREN'S HOME

Members heard Jack Varcoe, representing the Kootenay Handicapped Children's Society, inform the Chest of the Society's plans to erect a $300,000 children's home in this area for approximately 30 children.

This was decided in Creston last Saturday at a district meeting of representatives of Kootenay cities which are involved in helping handicapped children.

C. S. Guillaume remarked generally that the president's report was a summary of major activities for the past year, and that directors spent a considerable amount of time in committee meetings with member agencies discussing budgets and functions.

One problem that still exists and will probably always stay with the Chest, is the contest between the Community Chest and other worthy groups for the citizen's voluntary welfare dollar, it was noted.

A particular vote of thanks was bestowed upon Dr. John Stefanelli and Isadore McLaughlin, who were retiring as directors and would not let their names stand for reelection.

Social Club Has Farewell Party For T. Campbell

RIONDEL — The Maintenance Social Club held a farewell party recently for Thomas Campbell prior to his departure for Benson Lake, B.C., where he will be maintenance superintendent for the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company.

R. Niven, Bluebell master mechanic, on behalf of friends and co-workers from the maintenance crew, presented Mr. Campbell with a fishing rod and reel, and wished him good luck in his new home and surroundings.

Refreshments were served and entertainment was supplied by Otto Walker, Frank Downing, Hugh Loughery and W. G. Walters.

Daughter Thrums Resident Dies In Vancouver

THRUMS — Funeral service was held in Vancouver for the daughter of Steve Lebedoff of Thrums, Mrs. Helen Renso, who died in Vancouver General Hospital at the age of 51 years.

Born April 12, 1911, in Kamsack, Sask., she had moved to Brilliant with her family at the age of five years. In 1942, she moved to Vancouver and lived there until her death.

Predeceased by her husband, she is survived by one son, Terry, of Vancouver; her father; two brothers, John Lebedoff, also of Thrums, and Pete, of Nelson, and a sister, Mrs. Nellie Maloff of Vancouver.

Interment took place in Mountain View Cemetery at Vancouver.

PTAs Choose Group On Amalgamation

RIONDEL—A meeting between the executive of the Bluebell Parent-Teacher Association and a committee from the Crawford Bay PTA was held to work towards amalgamation of the Riondel and Crawford Bay high schools. A joint committee was formed by the two groups, to be known as the "Amalgamation Committee."

Election for the executive was held, with Mrs. V. Gendron elected as chairman; Ted Davidson, deputy chairman, and Mrs. J. Innes, secretary.

It was agreed that the next concrete step would be to send letters to School District No. 5 (Creston), and School District No. 6 (Kootenay Lake); the minister of education, and Hon. W. D. Black, MLA for Nelson-Creston district; to officially request a meeting of the school boards of districts 5 and 6 to discuss the matter. It was also decided to ask for two representatives from the committee to attend the meeting, if possible.

It was agreed that the amalgamation committee should work towards spearheading the proposal so that the matter could be facilitated in a minimum of time as the unanimous feeling is that the high school education now being received is inadequate.

Memorial Home Society Reelects Two Directors

CRANBROOK — Annual membership meeting of the Dr. F. W. Green Memorial Home Society, registered under the Societies' Act as a non-profit organization, re-elected two directors, Vincent Downey and Mrs. Vincent Liddicoatt. The latter has served as director since the Society was chartered eight years ago.

The board of directors includes Edward Gummer as a eprmanent director; A. J. Weir as current president of the Cranbrook Branch, Royal Canadian Legion sponsoring organization in 1954 in formation of the Society; Mayor George Haddad, Dr. W. D. Green, Mrs. Sam DeLuca and V. C. Brown, together with the two directors reelected.

The preliminary financial statement was presented by secretary-treasurer Ron Bailey and will be audited by Mr. Brown and Mr. Downey prior to the first meeting of the board of directors.

The $110,000 Home now well into its third year of operation as a residence for elderly people of the East Kootenay area accommodate 28 persons when fully occupied. It has operated just short of capacity for two years.

Financial statement showed operating costs were met during the year. Most pressing need in property improvements is for landscaping to provide outdoor recreation space for residents, many of whom are limited in their outings from the building.

The meeting passed a heartfelt vote of thanks to Miss Ida Gamache, manager of the Home, for her services in guiding its operations.

Public Good Will Be Served

Free enterprise is the right of individuals to invest their money as they choose, to engage in commerce or industry and to make profits or go bankrupt as the case may be, and to survive or perish by their own efforts without assistance from governments.

Canada, though she boasts of her free enterprise system, has not adhered scrupulously to that system as the MacPherson royal commission on transportation makes clear. This report is unique in that it gets down to the roots of things in the country's transportation. It advocates liberating the railways from all the restrictions placed upon them.

Whether it specifically states it or not, the report indicates that railways and trucking industries are servants of the public and that it is the good of the public which should be considered, not preserving the status quo for the benefit either of the railways or the trucking industry.

Unfortunately, over the years, government interference with the railways has grown to the point where they were severely handicapped in their operations as a free enterprise. It was partly due to these that trucking firms were able to establish firmly as an important transportation service. Unquestionably they were pioneers in road transport but the railways, handicapped and restricted, sought an outlet and found it in trucking.

Already, the commission noted, Canada's two big railways — the privately-owned CPR and the CNR — are the largest owners of truck fleets in the country and the MacPherson report says that they should not be limited in their efforts to enter any other mode of transport.

The truckers, however, fear railway competition in the highway business. They argue that railways, with their overwhelming assets, could throttle smaller independent truck operators.

This is a legitimate fear and the commission suggests that independent truckers get the same deal from the railways as rail-owned trucking lines in the use of piggy-back facilities; and that the Board of Transport Commissioners make sure that the railways do not provide hidden subsidies from rail assets or income for their truck operations, or vice-versa.

This means that the railway trucking industry will be expected to be entirely independent, receiving no aid from railway operation or vice versa and will have to stand on its own feet.

This should lead to clean competition — the greatest attribute of free enterprise — and reasonable rates for the general public, something which is most desirable.

World Trade Challenge

Drastically changing world trade alignments are a matter of extreme concern to Canada just now.

They are a matter of concern to the United States also. President Kennedy made this apparent in his annual statement to Congress.

After ranging over the spectrum of domestic and international problems confronting the U.S. administration, and indicating certain steps he intended taking toward their solution, he ended with a proposal to which he apparently attached the most weight.

He said he would put before Congress a bill permitting him to reduce tariffs on whole categories of goods by as much as 50 per cent in order to make reciprocal agreements abroad, in particular with the greatly-prospering European Common Market.

Such a move would be a radical departure from present U.S. protectionist policy. But President Kennedy made it clear that he feels it is one of urgent necessity, and he advanced strong arguments in its support.

Canada's government and its trade officials will watch the outcome of the appeal with great interest. If the president should obtain powers to enter into large-scale negotiation with the ECM, Canadian trading interests will be greatly affected. There is some danger that Canada will lose valuable United Kingdom markets when Britain joins the ECM. Prospects are, in any case, that Canada will have to negotiate reciprocal tariff arrangements with Europe in the near future. Either is will be able to do so in partnership with the U.S. with which it already has special trade agreements, or it will have to do so on its own, depending on how successful President Kennedy is in getting his bill through.

He is not likely to be successful, in the view of some prominent Canadian economists, who recommend that Canada lose no time in approaching ECM headquarters directly to assess future trading possibilities.

These economists say it will take perhaps ten to fifteen years before the U.S. Congress reverses its present protectionist attitude toward tariffs. The sectional interests and powerful lobbies operating in Washington will prove too strong for President Kennedy to get what he wants from Congress this year, or next year, or the year after, they say.

It has to be recognized, in this matter, that exports are not as important to the vast United States economy as they are to that of Canada. Mr. Kennedy recognizes that they will become more important in the future and that is why he wants to get action started now, so that the U.S. economy will be spared some damaging blows a few years hence.

In the meantime, while what happens across the border is of undoubted interest, our own trade experts should not sit around waiting to see what that is going to be but begin at once to see what reciprocal trade arrangements can be worked out by Canada with the impressive European market now coming into being.

Lack of Reason

Ability to think and to reason is a principal distinction between men and beasts. The cynic will suggest that man hasn't made the most of this advantage.

History, indeed, is a record of the unreasonableness of mankind. The wars, rumors of wars and other disturbances have been due primarily to men not using the brains with which they have been endowed. They have permitted their angers and their hatreds, their selfishness and their jealousies, to control their brains and logic.

The current question is how long this lack of reasoning can prevail, if mankind is to endure. Some of our best brains now are busy devising ever more efficient ways of annihilating the human race. Meanwhile suspicions and hatreds are making this a possibility.—Windsor Star.

British Officer Named The Hero of the Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP) — A quiet British Army officer is the new hero of The Congo after defying spears and rifle butts to rescue European missionaries from the no man's land of north Katanga.

Maj. Dick Lawson, 35-year-old career officer serving with the UN forces here, told a press conference Monday he marched alone past 800 Congolese soldiers to rescue a Roman Catholic priest and that later he faced a frenzied mob of villagers who screamed for his death as a Gizengist spy and invader.

But Lawson rescued five Roman Catholic church workers and said he arranged for the safe passage of several dozen others from the north Katanga wilds separating mutinous units of the Congolese army and the Katanga gendarmerie.

He said there are no more Europeans in north Katanga.

Lawson volunteered to make two missions—one of them alone—into north Katanga where 22 white men were slain by drugged, drunk Congolese soldiers in a New Year's Day massacre.

FACED 800 TROOPS

On his first journey, Jan. 23-24, Lawson was dropped off at a landing strip in Kongolo by a UN plane that took off immediately.

"About 800 soldiers were crowding the Kongolo airfield," he said. I jumped off the moving plane as it turned around, then walked the length of the airfield toward the troops . . . No shots were fired — I would have jumped out of my skin if they had."

He worked his way past the troops to the pillaged town, scene of the massacre, and found one white priest. Lawson brought him back to Leopoldville the following day. He declined to say how he got back lest he endanger the lives of Congolese who helped him.

Lawson flew back to Kongolo Jan. 27, this time with a Nigerian Army major and a 17-year-old guide. Commandeering a car, they drove to a village on the border of territory controlled by Katanga President Moise Tshombe's forces to arrange for evacuation of three nuns and eight priests.

VILLAGERS HOSTILE

"Then the trouble started," he said. "While we were talking, the entire population of the village arrived, and it was quite obvious they didn't like us." He explained that the villagers thought they were from the force loyal to Antoine Gizenga which invaded north Katanga from Stanleyville and Kivu province.

The frenzied villagers thrust spears at his throat and battered him and the others with rifle butts.

"About 300 villagers were surrounding us, screaming people, absolutely uncontrollable in their hatred," Lawson continued.

"Eventually, I was pulled to the house of the army commander and the others managed after a lot of monkey business to get away from the frantic mob.

"Here things started to be a bit more pleasant. But people were still screaming for our blood and we were taken up to the balcony by some friendly officers. They pushed us around a bit just to make the crowd happy, but they were taking care of us.

"For two or three hours we waited up there, trying to be desperately gay and talking our way out of the mess."

SAVED BY BROADCAST

Lawson said the turning point came when the officers heard a news broadcast confirm that he and his two companions were on a mission to seek out missionaries.

"This seemed to convince them that I was not a spy, and gradually the crowd got tired and went home."

Lawson reported that "there's no such thing as law and order" in North Katanga, which he said was overrun with undisciplined Katangan and Congolese soldiers and terrorist bands of tribesmen "wearing feathers and waving their spears and bows and arrows at everyone in sight."

He said the 22 white men in Kongolo were killed by a Congolese officer and four soldiers who were drunk and had been smoking drugged cigarettes. He reported the bodies were dismembered by pagan tribal bands and that about 100 Negroes were killed in tribal fighting that ensued.

Interpreting The News

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Britain's black Monday for travellers marks another strangled protest from railwaymen who are fed up with being the Cinderellas of industry.

Subway and train employees who took part in the one-day unofficial strike are mainly frustrated men who feel their wages are the lowest in the country.

The majority earn between £11 and £13 for a 44-hour week. Many have difficult and responsible jobs. Once, railwaymen had pride in their work and prestige in the community; now for various reasons, they have lost status and self-respect.

"I don't know what the answer is," mused a Piccadilly-line ticket collector who started on the subway 47 years ago.

"You're not getting the class of men you used to get, that's clear enough. A man can get better money sweeping a floor in a factory. But the railways are losing money—so how are you going to get higher wages?"

PAY PAUSE A FACTOR

The hard, immediate cause of the present dispute is the decision, apparently at government level, to refer to railwaymen's pay claim to arbitration. This delaying tactic came just when the man who runs the railways, Dr. Richard Beeching, was believed ready to recommend a five- or six-per-cent wage increase.

A powerful factor in official parsimony is the controversial "pay pause," slated to end in April. The pay-restraint policy, considered necessary to provide a breathing space pending a national wages policy, has already been breached by the electricity workers. Another break could hardly be tolerated.

From the workers' standpoint, the flaw is that any interference with wage movements, whether designated as a pause, freeze or standstill and however necessary in the national interest, always bears most harshly on those at the bottom of the industrial ladder.

Ministers may say that in hard times increased wages must be paid out of increased productivity. But strictures on productivity just don't register on a motorman engrossed in an signals; a conductor coping with angry passengers on a rush-hour bus; or an attendant trying to make change for a blizzard of pound notes at a ticket booth.

CONVICTS ESCAPE

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—Three life-termers who escaped from the state prison here Monday under a truckful of garbage wer being sought today in the Richmond area across San Francisco Bay. Prison officials said all three are considered dangerous. They are Melvin L. Brigham, 29, a convicted robber; Leonard L. Patton, 27, burglar and rapist, and Gray A. Cornell, 41-year-old robber who three times had jumped parole.

Aircraft Carriers To Stand By for Astronaut Glenn

CAPE CANAVERAL (AP)—Three aircraft carriers were ordered out to sea again Tuesday to stand by for astronaut John H. Glenn Jr.'s attempt to ride a spaceship around the earth Thursday.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration promised a long-range weather forecast to either affirm or delay the Thursday date.

Glenn, spacecraft and rocket were reported in good order and plans were progressing for the flight with the only worry the weather.

Orders called for the carrier Enterprise to leave Norfolk, Va., for her recovery area, 500 miles south of Bermuda; the carrier Wasp to leave Bermuda for a point some 500 miles east of there; and a third carrier, the Randolph, from Puerto Rico to an area near the Bahama island of Grand Turk, nearly 800 miles southeast of Cape Canaveral.

The Wasp is assigned the area where Glenn and his capsule would parachute after one orbit, the Enterprise to the second-orbit area and the Randolph to the third.

In addition, many destroyers began converging on the critical Atlantic belt between the United States and Africa to guard the sea under the path of Glenn's flight.

Confusion Rules In London Streets

LONDON (CP)—London commuters faced only slight delays on some suburban rail lines Tuesday following the traffic chaos caused Monday by a combined subway-rail strike.

The strike produced incredible confusion in the traffic-jammed streets.

Conditions were worse than police officials and experts of the transport ministry had bargained for. Some people who drove in to work took so long getting there that they had to turn right around and struggle home again.

All the signs indicated that London can expect more doses of the same medicine on succeeding Mondays until Prime Minister Macmillan's government drops its six-month-old wage freeze.

The government has promised a partial easing of the freeze on March 31, but Labor Minister John Hare told the House of Commons Monday night that there would be room for only limited wage boosts.

London's railroad and subway workers, like the rest of Britain's 500,000 railmen, are demanding an 11-per-cent pay increase.

WORKERS 'SOURED'

In the House of Commons, Ray Gunter, the opposition Labor party's spokesman on trade union affairs, said the workers were "humiliated, soured and frustrated" — that the government had handled the whole problem of linking wages with the growth in productivity in a heavy handed and deceitful manner.

Gunter, a former railroad worker himself, condemned Monday's unofficial strike on the publicly owned railroads and subway lines. He saved his heaviest barrage for Macmillan himself, describing the prime minister this way:

"He lolls and drools in his fireside chats. He says we have not done badly, we have done jolly good, but we ought to do a little better.

"This is not the language the leader of the nation ought to be putting to the people at the present time. . . .

"It is almost the classical phraseology for addressing the girls' junior hockey side."

Joint Naval Officials Investigate Shelling

SEATTLE (AP) — Canadian and United States navy officials Tuesday investigated the shelling of a small village on Washington state's Olympic Peninsula while Royal Canadian Navy vessels were conducting firing practice nearby.

Shells exploded over the logging town of Clallum Bay, with a population of about 150, Monday while the RCN destroyer escorts Saguenay and Skeena and the frigates Antigonish and Ste. Therese were practicing in the Strait of Juan de Fuca. The town is 110 miles southwest of Victoria.

A Canadian navy spokesman at Esquimalt, neighboring Victoria, said the source of the firing has not definitely been established and an investigation is continuing.

A spokesman for the 13th Naval District headquarters in Seattle said the shelling stopped Monday when the RCN flag officer, Pacific Command, issued a cease-fire order after being informed of the situation.

There were no reports of injuries.

FIRING AT TARGET

Austin V. Glidden, deputy sheriff at Clallum Bay, said he understood the shells came from a "gunboat" as it engaged in practice on a target towed by a plane.

He said shrapnel showered the town for 15 to 20 minutes. Most of the shells exploded in the air but at least three "duds" fell.

The first report of the shelling came to the navy here from Petty Officer Willis Miller of the U.S. Coast Guard who was in charge of the lighthouse at Slip Point near Clallum Bay.

PO Miller said a shell fragment ripped some shingles on the roof of one house and one piece landed behind a school.

RESIDENTS 'MAD'

"People are pretty mad. The shells landed right in Clallum Bay."

Glidden said the fragment that landed near the school weighed more than a pound. It landed just before school was dismissed for the day.

The house of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gossom was hit by a five-pound piece of shrapnel, he said.

Residents of the village were warned to leave "duds" alone. A U.S. navy demolition team arrived to disarm them.

The RCN vessels remained in the area overnight.

Miller said he found some large pieces of shrapnel on the ground.

"I picked up three of them around here. Nobody was scared, but we didn't like it."

Not a Dull Moment in Life Behind the Scenes

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — One side of a famous quadrangle was in town this week expressing wonder at what all the fuss was about.

Joan Collins' curves belie the possibility that she could be part of a square. But here is the sequence of events:

Joan was engaged to Warren Beatty, who then started a heavy romance with Natalie Wood, who had just broken off from Robert Wagner, who then started dating Joan.

The Beatty-Wood romantics took place in Hollywood, while the Wagner-Collins axis was in London, where both were making movies.

Joan says she couldn't care less.

"Warren and I had broken off our engagement," she said. "We talked by telephone between here and London and we both agreed that it wouldn't work out.

HAD LONG ENGAGEMENT

"Yes, I know we had a long engagement. But that's so true of long engagements—if they're that long, it means the two people aren't meant to be married.

"As for my dates with Bob Wagner, there was no romance involved. I've known Bob for seven years. He's one of my dearest friends. Good friends with the opposite sex—friendship only—are rare and wonderful to have. I'm happy for the ones I have, like Bob.

"Right now he's going with one of my best friends, Marion Donen (former wife of director Stanley Donen) and I'm delighted for both of them."

The Collins career has been stimulated by her last role, slipping into Dotty Lamour's shoes, though not her sarong, between Bob Hope and Bing Crosby in The Road to Hong Kong.

How did she get along with the boys?

"Bob was simply great," she replied. "He's such fun on the set, always kidding around. He's a ball.

"It wasn't quite the same with Bing. He's very pleasant all the time, but he doesn't mingle with the rest of the people on the set. I had the feeling that I never got behind those blue eyes."

Montreal Schools Settle Problem Of Dual Language

MONTREAL (CP) — A long-standing dispute which threatened to split the Montreal protestant school board into separate linguistic camps was settled Monday night with the announcement of a proposed "co-operative enterprise" which would result in the increased incidence of French and English-language classes at the same schools.

John Rowat, chairman of the board, said a preliminary experiement of separate classes for tennial School that the board would establish "at least one other" similar project with with such success at Peace Cenboth language groups had met more scheduled for the future.

Hertel la Roque, president of the French-language branch of the board charged last summer that the board was ignoring the needs of French-speaking Protestant students in the city and forcing them to make a choice between their language and their religion."

Banker Advises Canadians To Meet Challenge of New World

TORONTO (CP) — Canadians should meet the challenge of changing world trade patterns in a "spirit of adventure," G. Arnold Hart, president of the Bank of Montreal, said Monday night in an address to the Toronto Board of Trade Club.

By and large, he said, Canada has natural advantages in many of the products of farms, forests and mines that should enable her to maintain her position in them in world markets.

Along with this, every effort should be made to develop new products based on Canadian raw materials, in an attempt to achieve further fabrication to dovetail into later stages of production abroad.

In further fields, aggressive salesmanship had demonstrated it is possible to sell abroad some products not usually exported from Canada.

To achieve these ends, research and development expenditure would be needed on a much larger scale than at present.

MAKES SUGGESTION

"I am suggesting," Mr. Hart said, "that in the long run it would be in our interest not merely to attempt to maintain our existing markets or to open up new avenues for the export of food-stuffs and relatively unprocessed materials but, in addition, to try to ensure that we have the widest possible access to the industrial markets of Europe and the United States for a wider range of products than heretofore."

Other countries, Mr. Hart said, have faced Canada's problem of a small domestic market and nevertheless broken into the international market.

"Is there any inherent reason," he asked, "why Canada should not be able to do the same if our economic problems are approached with foresight and imagination and with an appropriate degree of co-operation among management, labor and government?

"If some significant movement in either or both of these directions cannot be achieved it is difficult to see what steps are available to us to reduce the present level of unemployment to manageable proportions while at the same time maintaining the high standard of living to which we have become accustomed."

Most Canadians, he thought, would reject high tariffs as an attempted solution. Rather adaptability and unstinting efforts to improve productive efficiency were required.

Mystery Jug Fished Off Victoria

VICTORIA (CP) — A Victoria fisherman has discovered another of the "mystery jugs" which have baffled historians up and down the Pacific Coast since early last spring.

Ray Lund found a sealed earthenware jug with a small neck on the beach at Cape Cook, Estevan, on the west coast of Vancouver Island and took it to Dr. Clifford Carl, director of the B.C. provincial museum.

The jug is similar to a succession of pottery vessels of unknown origin which have been washed ashore along the coast of Washington, Oregon and B.C. over the last nine months.

Some experts believe they are Korean burial urns; others that they once contained food and drink for the souls of the departed.

"This jug has evidently been made of clay and fired in a kiln," says Dr. Carl. "There is a suggestion of Oriental origin but I would not care to guess its age."

Mr. Lund said the jug was sealed when he found it, but contains some liquid which could be sea water. It stands about 15 inches high.

Seven jugs have been picked up south of the border but only one of them has been opened. It was one - third full of "a syrupy substance of sweetish-sour odor and may have been wine or food pickling concoction — or even the juice of a poppy."

Not all the jugs are alike in shape or design, but they do fall into two distinctly different types. Most of them are in graceful, vase - like shapes, but two or three are simple, unornamented, glazed brown or black vessels with one or two, handles.

All are stoppered with the same grey mudlike cement.

ALL THESE BUSY KNITTERS NEED IS WOOL SUPPLY

CALGARY — Elderly women and shut-ins in the Calgary area who enjoy knitting are provided with many hours of this pleasure for the Unitarian Service Committee of Canada.

Left-over scraps of wool or unravelled, old hand-knitted sweaters are sent to the USC Calgary branch wool convener, Mrs. A. Holmes, to keep the busy knitters supplied with materials. Through their efforts, the USC has been able to complete many shipments and keep promises to people in under-privileged countries because of the work and time so generously given by these energetic older women and stay-at-homes.

The Calgary branch has notified the public that it is always short of wool and that any ply and the smallest scraps are acceptable. Some of the most attractive garments are multi-colored, they point out.

Fruitvale Players Plan Productions

FRUITVALE — Fruitvale Community Players held a special executive meeting at the home of Ken Gaylor to discuss two plays for spring production.

"The Glorious Brat" by Charles Emory was chosen for drama festival production, with John Barne as director. Several plays are up for reading for the second selection, for which director will be Wilf Martin.

BANDITS KILL SWISS

Nurse Shortage Felt in Summer

REGINA (CP) — A doctor entertained the royal commission on health services Friday with a discourse on problems caused by the "migration pattern" of single young nurses.

"There is a shortage of nurses every summer at all Canadian hospitals," said Dr. A. L. Swanson, executive director of university Hospital in Saskatoon.

For the year as a whole, though there was only a "relative shortage"—at least in Saskatchewan. Beyond that, the young, good-looking doctor wouldn't go, in commenting on earlier submissions by nursing organizations that qualified nurses are in short supply.

Dr. Swanson appeared before the commission as past president of the Saskatchewan Hospital Association, which presented the brief.

Dr. Swanson said there is often a surfeit of nurses during the winter but resignations come in a flood during April and May.

"In time for June," offered Saskatchewan's Chief Justice Emmett Hall, chairman of the commission. Dr. Swanson replied that matrimony is not the only factor involved.

A single nurse, he said, "feels quite free to travel. She can easily save $1000 in a year and then go to Hawaii."

"Many of them do," continued Dr. Swanson. "They take four months off and return afterward to a different hospital."

Redeemer Parish Reports Another Successful Year

Reports submitted at the annual meeting of the Church of the Redeemer Monday night in Parish Hall told of a successful year for the parish.

Chairman E. E. Hopwood, taking the place of Rev. W. J. Silverwood who was unable to attend because of illness, told of innumerable hours devoted to church work by volunteers, and expressed appreciation.

Evidence of the volunteer hours was given in organization reports. These were Service Club, Mrs. R. E. W. Turner and Mrs. H. Whitely; Women's Auxiliary, Mrs. E. E. Sjostrom; Junior Auxiliary, Miss Grace McLachlan, Junior Choir, Miss Kathleen Hollington; Sunday School, Mrs. R. Roberts; Altar Guild, Mrs. D. R. Grahame, church bulletin Mrs. E. E. Hopwood.

In an atmosphere of congeniality, all church officers were re-elected by acclamation. Mr. Hopwood was again named rector's warden, with H. F. Lake and H. Whitely reelected people's wardens.

Treasurer for 1962 will be S. E. Morris, with J. P. Horswill in the position of secretary.

Church committee members elected were C. I. Ward, J. C. Holt, T. K. Lewis, D. R. Grahame, A. Matassa, G. L. Webb, W. DeFoe, F. W. Joinson, E. P. Baker, S. T. Lea, R. E. W. Turner, T. C. Lambert, W. G. Lambert, S. Ross and W. Melneczuk.

Delegates to the synod of the Anglican Church of Canada will be Mr. Hopwood and Mr. Lake. Alternates named were Mr. Lewis and Mr. Horswill.

A minute of silence was observed in memory of the late Frank Pennoyer, honorary people's warden. Mr. Lake spoke on behalf of the people's wardens, and the chairman read a letter from Canon Silverwood, wishing the parish well during the new year.

The meeting was preceded by a pot-luck supper, arranged by members of the Women's Auxiliary, at which approximately 100 members of the congregation were present. Mr. Whitely thanked the WA for its efforts. C. H. Burgess played several piano selections before the business meeting.

Invermere WI Plans Film Show For Rest Home

INVERMERE — An entertainment for Pynelogs Rest Home guests was planned by the Windermere District Women's Institute, with arrangements made for Mr. and Mrs. Ian Weir to show films of their trip to Europe. Refreshments to follow the showing will be served by Women's Institute members.

The January meeting of the Institute voted a donation of $10 to CARE for an overseas parcel.

It was reported that parcels had been sent to the Mental Health organization before Christmas for distribution to patients. The Chirstmas party for district children was reported to a successful event. The convener was Mrs. Lester Taft.

Womens Institute members will assist Mrs. Gordon Shaw in arranging an open house for Pynelogs Rest Home at a date convenient to Mrs. Shaw, manager of the home.

Members were told that the annual East Kootenay conference will be held in Creston in May and plans were made to take part in a handicraft exhibit at that time.

Salmo Pythian Slate Installed

SALMO — Mrs. Ruth Robertson, district deputy grand chief, made her official visit to Twin Temple 33 Pythian Sisiters at Salmo.

Visitors from the Trail Temple included Mrs. Mary Duffus, grand chief, and Mrs. M. Simpson. The guest of honor was presented with a corsage and gift by chief Mrs. F. Papau.

Mrs. V. Ponti installed 1962 officers, assisted by Mrs. O.P. Larsen and Mrs. V. Gibbon. Installed were Mrs. Papau as past chief; Mrs. M. Dixon as senior; Mrs. C. Fletcher, chief; Mrs. P. Wrang, junior; Mrs. H. Gruggie, manager; Mrs. F. Henderson, secretary; Mrs. T. Stovra, treasurer; Mrs. Berukoff, protector; Mrs. M. Wooden, guard, and Mrs. Sue Taylor, pianist.

Service pins were presented to Mrs. Ponti and Mrs. Henderson and her past chief's pin to Mrs. Papau.

Refreshments were served.

NEW DENVER CHURCH HAS ANNUAL MEET

NEW DENVER — The annual congregational meeting of the Turner Memorial United Church was held, with a very good attendance.

Reports from all sections of the church were read and the members felt that the past year had been a successful and enjoyable year.

Following the business meeting, the congregation proceeded to the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Baja, where the women served refreshments. Mrs. J. Forsythe was made honor guest of the evening, it being the occasion of her 80th birthday.

Natal Notes

Mis Dorothy Slemko has returned to her home in Natal after spending a week with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. Rawson of Calgary. While in Calgary she appeared on television on an amateur hour and was asked to return in April to take part in their anniversary show.

The 6,000-mile route will be covered in 23 hours and 40 minutes by a four-engine turboprop plane carrying 94 passengers. The aircraft will land in Shannon, Ireland, and Gander, Nfld.

Invermere Friends Fete Bride-Elect

INVERMERE — A miscellaneous shower honoring bride-elect Miss Eleanor Hollybow, was held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Koski, with Mrs. T. C. Lewis and Mrs. Jack Jones as co-hostesses. A group of 20 neighbors gathered to wish the guest of honor much happiness in her new life.

Miss Hollybow spent the weekend visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hollyboy, and she was accompanied by her "maid of honor-to-be," Miss Edith Lewis, who visited her mother during the weekend. They returned to Calgary Sunday.

Over 200 Young People Enjoy N. Shore Dance

A large crowd of young people enjoyed dancing, refreshments and a bean-guessing contest at the North Shore Recreation Committee teenagers dance held in the North Shore Hall during the weekend.

Master of ceremonies was Grant Smith, assisted by Bill Podovinokoff. Sharon Kelly, Sharon Leverington and Grant and Alec Lang were members of the dance committee.

Records were played for dancing enjoyed by the more than 200 young people, for whom Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Frederiksen, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Disney, Mrs. H. A. McElroy, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Coombes and Mr. and Mrs. James Lang were sponsors.

Winner of the bean-guessing contest was Bill Lipsack.

Is this the right word for your doormat?

IF your house is looking its age — or older — you may find it hard to be enthusiastic about welcoming guests into your home.

Best way to fix it — so you will really want to take your turn entertaining the bridge club or poker gang — is to have your house put shipshape by means of a low-cost Home Improvement Loan from the B of M.

Home Improvement Loans at the B of M cover just about all kinds of home repairs and improvements — and that goes for flats and multiple dwellings, too, whether you live in them or not!

NOW'S THE TIME to become happily house-proud once more. It's the slack season for many trades, so, with a loan from the B of M, you'll get the job done when you want it, how you want it and at a price you can afford to pay.

World Hockey Title Play Hits New Snag

GOOD READING—After posting a sizzling 65 in the first round of the $50,000 Lucky International event in San Francisco, Gene Littler, the 1961 Open champ, checks his score. Littler included a freak left-handed shot with a putter during the round.

BERLIN (CP)—The world ice hockey championships scheduled to be held at Colorado Springs March 7-8 struck further trouble Tuesday as Sweden, The Netherlands, Russia and Czechoslovakia suggested they would boycott the tournament if East Germany's team cannot compete.

A Swedish Ice Hockey Federation spokesman said that "we probably won't take part in the world meet if it is just a show-off or pleasure tournament."

Galt Terriers are to represent Canada at the tournament.

At the same time, doubt was expressed that the world ski championship scheduled for Oslo this weekend, said the meet would go on with or without East German participation. Four East Germans had been entered provisionally but the Jan. 29 entry deadline already has passed.

NO CHANCE FOR VISAS

Authoritative Allied sources said here there is no chance whatever of East German sports teams getting the necessary travel permits and visas to compete at Colorado Springs and Chamonix. The obstacle is a general NATO ban, proclaimed last September, on travel by East Germans as a reprisal for the Communist wall erected across Berlin.

The ice hockey championships will go on at Colorado Springs even if a number of teams decide to stay at home was the word from Robert LeBel of Montreal, president of the International Ice Hockey Federation. LeBel said he will meet with the United States' organization committee for the tournament at Colorado Springs next Monday and Tuesday. Eighteen countries have entered the championships, divided into class A, B and C. divisions.

An East Berlin report saying the Russian and Czech teams would not play if East Germany is barred from travelling was attributed to Col. Joachim Gruenwald, general secretary of the East German Ice Hockey Federation.

REITERATES STAND

"It's his privilege to speak if he wants to," said LeBel of the Gruenwald statement. "But I still stand by my earlier statements that the games will be played in the United States.

In London, John F. (Bunny) Ahearne, who heads the European section of the hockey federation, pointed out there is nothing in the federation rules regarding how many teams should constitute a world championship tournament. He said in 1953 only four teams started—Switzerland, West Germany, Sweden and Czechoslovakia. The Czechs withdrew after one of their officials died, leaving only three teams.

"But we still had a world championship," Ahearne said.

The ski championships, however, may be cancelled. Marc Hodler, Swiss president of the International Ski Federation, (FIS), has called a meeting of his executive council for Bern, Feb. 4.

"If the East Germans are barred from Chamonix," Hodler said, "there is a great possibility the council will decide to cancel the world championships."

The ban had not attracted much international attention before because mostly minor events had been affected. Away matches for East German teams in the European Soccer Cup had to be shifted to neutral Austria last fall because the East Germans could not get visas for the NATO host countries.

These events were being organized long before the Communists put up the Berlin wall—the reason for the present ban.

Toronto Golfer Gains 6th Spot

DUNEDIN, Fla. (CP) — George Knudson, of Toronto Oakdale and formerly of Winnipeg, has climbed to sixth place among the top money winners on the professional golf trail in the United States.

Heading the list is Gene Littler, a California professional golfer with a swing that's "poetry in motion," who picked up a fat first money purse at the San Francisco Open over the weekend.

The 31-year-old Littler, who has his ups and downs on the tournament trail, leads the pack with total winnings this season of $11,250.

The list of winners was released Tuesday by the U.S. Professional Golfers' Association headquarters here.

Canadian Skater In New Upset

SANDEFJORD, Norway (AP) Paul Inok, 27-year-old Canadian speed skater, scored another upset victory here Tuesday night over well known international long-distance skaters.

Inok, who started skating five years ago, won the 5,000-metre event in eight minutes, 58.8 seconds under unfavorable conditions ahead of Terence Monaghan of England who was second in 9:03.6.

Last Sunday, the Toronto skater established two Canadian records on the 3,000- and 5,000-metre distances in 4:57.3 and 8:30.0, respectively.

Ed Rudolph Jr. of North Brook, Ill., Tuesday night won the 500-metre sprinter class in 44.6 seconds ahead of Norway's Olympic entry Hroar Elvenes who was second in 45.6.

Inok will represent Canada at the world speedskating championships in Moscow Feb. 17-18.

Warriors Wilt 9-4 Under Nelson Attack

MONEY, MUSCLE AND NO-TRADE—One of college football's glamor stars of the 1961 campaign, Sandy Stephens, Minnesota quarterback, shows off his muscle to Perry Moss, coach and general manager of the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian league after coming to terms with that club for a reported $20,000-a-year, no-trade, no-cut document. Stephens was drafted by the Cleveland Browns but that club wouldn't agree to a no trade deal.

ROSSLAND — Rossland Warriors blew a 4-0 lead to go down 9-4 at the hands of the onrushing Nelson Maple Leafs Tuesday night.

At the end of the first period it was 4-1 for Rossland. It was tied four-all in the middle frame, Nelson banging in five unanswered goals in the final 20 minutes.

Don McKenzie, Mickey Maglio and Doug Kilburn led the attack for Nelson, with two goals each. Other goal-getters were Jim Pilla, Fritz Koehle and Reo Touzin with one each.

Leading the attack for Rossland was burly defenceman Joe Conn with two, while single markers came from Pete Bourchier and Danny McDougald.

There were nine penalties in the game, Rossland collecting five of them. Gerry Koehle was called on to make 25 saves while for Warriors it was Jerry Zanussi coming up with 27.

Canada Ski Team Rests in Austria

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada's five-member women's alpine ski team will pass up the grand prix races at Gervais, France, Feb. 1-3, it was learned Tuesday.

The move was announced by coach Pepi Salvenmoser in a cable to Grant Boyd of Montreal, chairman of the international competitions committee of the Canadian Amateur Ski Association.

No reason was given, But Boyd said he believed that the girls were probably tired after three consecutive weekends of racing and a heavy training schedule.

Salvenmoser said the team will rest this weekend in his hometown of Kitzbuhel, Austria, and do light workout in preparation for the Federation Internationale de Ski world championships in Chamonix, France, Feb. 10-18.

It was planned to set up camp in Chamonix at least one week ahead.

Team members are Ottawa's Vicki Rutledge and Ann Parsons, Nancy Holland of Montreal, Nancy Greene of Rossland, B.C., and Linda Crutchfield of Shawinigan, Que.

Wings Unable to Use MacDonald

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Red Wings, crippled by numerous injuries, won't be able to use Parker MacDonald as a reinforcement tonight against Chicago Black Hawks.

The National Hockey League Wings recalled MacDonald Monday from their American Hockey League farm club at Hershey. But according to an AHL rule, MacDonald won't be able to join the Wings until Saturday.

He played one game with Detroit Jan. 18 and was returned to Hershey. The AHL rule stipulates the player cannot go back to his parent club within two weeks of his return to the minor league.

The Wings, with Vic Stasiuk and Howie Glover shelved by knee injuries, do not plan to bring another player as a temporary replacement for MacDonald.

VOLLEYBALL RESULTS

In volleyball action tonight the Missiles will tangle with Safeway in the first game while Atlas and Hercules match strength in the second game.

Playing for the Atlas will be Strong, Hufty, Renwick, Grill, Touey, Mowatt and Kelley. Referee for the first match will be Harry Ronmark.

Dressing for the Missiles will be be Craig, McLeod, Ronmark, Parker, Johnson, Kirsten and Rouchelau while referee for the second game will be Renwick.

Flyers Blank Canucks 7-0

EDMONTON (CP) — Edmonton Flyers blanked Vancouver Canucks 7-0 Tuesday night in a Western Hockey League game before 2,856 fans.

The victory, which increased the Flyers' first- place lead in the WHL's Northern Division to four points, was the ninth in as many meetings with Canucks this season.

Rookie Larry Jeffrey scored two Edmonton goals. Three other rookies, John Mizsuk, Keith Walsh and Tom Burgess scored singles, as did veterans Don Poile and Ed Joyal.

Edmonton goaltender Giles Boisvert stopped 17 shots for his first shoutout of the season.

Vancouver goalie Art Lariviere stopped 34 drives.

Flyers played the game without Chuck Holmes, the club's leading scorer who earlier this week was called up by Detroit Red Wings of the National League.

Howie Young, sent to Edmonton as a replacement for Holmes, looked bewildered at times as he was switched from his regular defence position to a forward unit.

Billy McNeill, Edmonton native who came out of retirement last week, picked up three assists in the game and now has six points in the three games he has played. McNeill and the Flyers management agreed to a five-game try out before talking contract terms.

CHARNLEY STOPS CUBAN

LIVERPOOL, England (AP)—Dave Charnley, British and European lightweight boxing champion, gained a hard-fought decision over Jose Stable of Cuba in a 10-round bout Tuesday night.

Charnley recently recovered from influenza and the fight was postponed for a week on his account. Ringside observers wondered whether he had come back to action too soon.

The fight was a warm-up for Charnley, who expects to defend his European crown against Giordano Campari of Italy early in March.

Charnley weighed 137½ pounds and Stable 137¾ pounds.

Howe Slashes Bathgate Lead

MONTREAL (CP) — The indefatigable Gordie Howe of Detroit Red Wings has slashed the once commanding lead of New York's Andy Bathgate in the National Hockey League individual scoring race to four points.

The 33-year-old Detroit star drew that close last week with three goals and one assist while Bathgate, in a deep slump along with his Ranger teammates, went pointless.

Official league statistics released Tuesday show Howe, seeking an unprecedented sixth scoring title, has 55 points, 24 of them goals.

Bathgate's total, including a league - leading 41 assists, remains at 59.

Frank Mahovlich of Toronto Maple Leafs scored his 24th and 25th goals and also picked up an assist for 49 points and sole possession of third place. He had been tied with Claude Provost of Montreal Canadiens, who got only two points—both goals—and now has 48. Provost still leads the league in goals with 27.

Stan Mikita of Chicago Black Hawks collected three points and held on to fifth place with 47 points. Bobby Hull of the Hawks took over sixth place in three outing for 45 points.

Boston's Johnny Bucyk drew only one assist and dropped to seventh with 44 points. Don McKenney of the Bruins and Norm Ullman of the Red Wings share eighth place with 43.

Goalie Jacques Plante of Montreal widened his lead over Toronto's Johnny Bower in the race for the Vezina Trophy—awarded to the goalie who plays the most games for the team that allows the fewest goals.

Plante allowed only two goals in two games and lowered his goals-against average to 2.32. Bower was touched for six tallies in three games and his average stands at 2.53.

Glenn Hall of Chicago leads in shutouts with six.

Chicago continues as the most penalized team with 577 minutes in the penalty box. Montreal defenceman Lou Fontinato is the most penalized player inutes.

Outlaw 'Spiel On Again

Nelson Outlaw Baseball Club has given up trying to carry out cancellation of the Outlaw Bonspiel.

The Outlaws "have never heard the end of it" after announcing they would cancel the Bonspiel, Ron Nash said Tuesday.

Bowing to public demand, it was decided to put on the eighth bonspiel on Feb. 17 and 18. Twenty entries have already come in, Nash reported, and entries will be limited to 50 rinks.

Strictly a fun fest, the bonspiel has done much to spread the name of Nelson and the Outlaw club. Last winter rinks came from eight district points and most of these have already signified their intention of entering again.

The Kootenay Handicapped Children's Society fund will also benefit as the hogline rule will again be in effect.

Due to a large increase in whitefish, total catch of fish in Lake Huron increased 55 per cent in the first nine months of 1961.

Exceptional Opportunity

Franchise for exclusive product will be offered in Trail and Nelson area to a responsible party. Product is an amazing invention designed for home owners, and sells on sight.

Interested persons must be prepared to post an investment bond which is refundable. Company representative will be in area to interview applicants and explain marketing program.

Persons who are interested in a business of their own which will show very lucrative returns should write to BOX 752, NELSON DAILY NEWS, giving brief resume of business and personal background.

Khrushchev's Daughter and Husband Lunch With Kennedys

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev's daughter and son-in-law had lunch Tuesday with President and Mrs. Kennedy at the White House.

The son-in-law is Alexei I. Adzhubei, editor of Izvestia, official Soviet Communist newspaper. He interviewed Kennedy last fall at the president's Cape Cod home.

Adzhubei told reporters at an embassy reception Monday night the case of former Soviet foreign minister Vyacheslav Molotov "has no significance in our country."

In answer to questions, he said the mystery surrounding Molotov's fate does not mean any resurgence of the so-called "anti-party group" in the Soivet Union, a group which has opposed Khrushchev policies.

He said Molotov is an old man and perhaps has been sick. The Molotov case made headlines in the West when it was announced he was returning to a diplomatic post in Vienna, and then announced he was not returning.

The White House luncheon was announced last Wednesday, two days after the president's brother, Attorney-General Robert F. Kennedy, declined an informal invitation to stop off in Russia on his world trip.

The White House ascribed no particular political significance to the invitation to Adzhubei and his wife, Rada.

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said Adzhubei had asked to meet Kennedy again and the president volunteered to be host at a luncheon.

Salinger described last fall's interview, which was published in full in Izvestia, as "the single most important step" in the field of international communications in 1961.

Other talks between the United States and Russia are scheduled to get under way in Washington Wednesday—the beginning of weeks of negotiations on a new cultural exchange program. Officials indicated the prospect for new and broader arrangements seem good.

Common Market and U.K. To Discuss Canada's Exports

BRUSSELS (Reuters) — Senior British and Common Market officials met here Tuesday to discuss Canadian exports and other key issues linked with Britain's application to join the six-country trade group.

Their agenda also featured talks about which British Commonwealth countries — probably only the underdeveloped ones—would be eligible for association with Western Europe's "Six" if the London government finally teams up with it.

Canada entered the picture in a scheduled discussion of exports of manufactured goods from that country, Australia and New Zealand, which are not candidates for association with the market.

Another agenda point was a review of the products on which Britain has asked that the market's common external tariff be abolished or cut to a low level. A possibility for the session was work on preparing a provisional timetable for discussion of agricultural problems involved in Britain's market entry.

The officials from Britain and "the Six" — West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg—were due to report to their governments Feb. 22 about any progress made toward solving the problems posed by the British membership application.

Any final decision on Commonwealth market links has to depend on the new association convention now being worked out by the six and their own African partner - nations. The draft of this pact is not expected to be ready for some months and is due to take effect next Jan. 1.

Market Trends

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market mounted its sharpest advance of 1962 Tuesday despite weakness in savings - and-loan shares. Trading was moderately active.

Once again, the market showed its ability to rebound from the vicinity of the 690 level in the Dow Jones industrial average.

The Dow industrials rose 4.17 to 694.09. The "support level" of roughly 690 has held since last September.

The rally started with the motors and spread to other industrials quickly.

The savings-and-loan stocks were upset by news that the House of Representatives ways and means committee had approved proposed legislation which would substantially increase taxes paid by those companies and mutual savings banks. At one time financial federation was off more than a dozen points but it closed with a net loss of 9½ at 111½ as these stocks cut their losses.

MOST ACTIVE ISSUE

One of the most popular issues in the savings-and-loan field, San Diego Imperial, was the day's most active stock, closing unchanged at 12⅞ on 78,700 shares. Before the bad news came it had a gain of 1⅛ and at its lowest point it was off ⅞.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.80 to 253.90, making its largest gain since Dec. 27.

An estimated $2,700,000,000 was added to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the rise in the AP average.

Volume rose to 3,520,000 shares from Monday's 3,050,000.

International Nickel climbed 1½ to lead Canadian gainers while Aluminium Ltd. added ⅜.

On a mixed American Exchange, Scurry Rainbow Oil added ⅜ and Fargo Oil 1-16.

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market showed its best gain in almost two months Tuesday before easing back slightly near the close.

At the 2 p.m. compilation, the industrial index was ahead 3.07 at 603.90—its biggest jump since Dec. 1. However, after a mild sell - off, the index closed at 602.83, up 2.00.

Western oils touched a new high earlier today before slipping near the close. The index touched 121.00, up .69—its highest since July, 1959—but closed at 120.47, ahead .16.

Blue-chip issues spearheaded industrials' upswing. Bell Telephone, Steel Company of Canada, Interprovincial Pipe Line and Aluminium all climbed in a ⅛ to 1⅜ range.

Royalite Oil moved ahead ⅝ in heavy turnover, while Alberta Gas Trunk A gained ¼.

Base metals gained .56 at 208.12 and golds .07 at 89.62. Closing volume was 3,152,000 shares compared with Mondays 3,789,000.

International Nickel led base metals higher with a gain of 1⅛ Noranda rose ½ and Falconbridge ⅛, while Ventures dropped ½.

Western oils saw Hudson's Bay and Calgary and Edmonton both gain ½. Home A advanced ⅛ to 15. Earlier it had climbed to 15¼—a new high.

MONTREAL (CP) — Stocks were generally mixed in moderate trading on the Montreal and Canadian Exchanges Tuesday.

Base metals were higher. International Nickel gained 1½ to 82⅝ and Aluminium rose ⅜ to 28⅜.

Premier Steel gained ½ to 16¼ among steels.

Trans-Canada pipelines added ¼ to 26¼ and BA Oil fell ¼ to 34¼.

Foundation at 11⅝ rose ⅜ and Hudson's Bay Company was unchanged at 11½.

Bell Telephone rose ⅜ to 56⅜ among utilities.

Western oils were higher. Royalite gained ⅝ to 14⅜ after gaining a point Monday, home "B" at 13¾ and Calgary and Edmonton at 23 both gained ½ and Home "A" at 15⅛ and Pacific Pete at 15¾ each rose ⅛.

Bank of Nova Scotia rose ⅞ to 78⅜.
