4000 Protest Government's Stand in Medicare

Dog, Master Reunited

COURTENAY, B.C. (CP) — It took four years, but Sandy and his master are back together again.

H. C. Patterson of Tucson, Ariz., was involved in a head-on collision during a visit to this Vancouver Island centre in 1958.

His dog, Sandy, jumped clear of the wreck and disappeared. In spite of Mr. Patterson's offer of a $200 reward, Sandy was not found.

Almost four years later Richard Smith tamed a dog he found living in a tree stump on the edge of his property.

Mr. Smith found the owner's name on the dog's collar. He notified Mr. Patterson who came back to pick up Sandy.

BEAR CLAWS TINY GIRL

Reaches Into Car After Food Gone

WALLACE, Idaho (AP) — A two-year-old girl was severely clawed on the head by a bear, which reached a paw into the small family car after being fed cookies near Lookout Pass on the Idaho-Montana border.

Gemma Derksen required five stitches at a Wallace hospital to close her wounds.

Shoshone County sheriff's officers said the girl was riding in a car with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Derksen of Holland. The Derksens stopped by a spring to feed cookies to what appeared to be a friendly bear, officers said.

When they ran out of the food, the bear reached into the foreign made car and clawed the girl on the side of the face.

Officials said there have been a number of complaints about bears this season. Many tourists apparently are confusing the wild Idaho variety with the more "people conscious" types in Yellowstone and other national parks said conservationist Russ McKeever.

POLICE STILL SEEK GOLF PRO'S BODY

EDMONTON (CP) — Police are still following up new leads in the Bremner district to locate the body of missing golf professional Frank Willey, inspector Ernest Roberts of the city police said today.

Inspector Roberts said the case against the two men charged with capital murder in the golfer's disapperance is still being actively investigated in an attempt to uncover additional evidence.

Willey, professional at the Riverside Golf Course, disappeared April 19 while delivering a set of golf clubs which had been ordered by telephone.

The supreme court trial of the two men charged with his murder is to begin Sept. 17 in Edmonton.

India, Red China Exchange Notes

Warn Each Other of Possibility Of War Over Border Issue

NEW DELHI (AP)—India and Red China accused each other Wednesday of waging a campaign of encirclement of each other's outposts in a snowy valley in their Himalayan borderland.

In an exchange of urgent notes, each charged the other with aggression in the narrow Galwan Valley and each warned the other of the responsibility if shooting war breaks out over the disputed border.

From the New Delhi account an Indian detachment was caught by surprise Tuesday morning when 25 Chinese soldiers who had infiltrated the valley without detection suddenly appeared only 200 yards from the Indian defence position.

Military sources said 400 Chinese eventually moved up to positions only 50 to 70 yards from the Indians on the east, west and south.

There was no change in the situation Wednesday.

CLAIM TERRITORY

The scene, the Indian note charged was in the Ladakh area near the junction of the borders of Kashmir, China's Sinkiang province and Chinese-held Tibet.

"The lower reaches of the Galwan Valley are not only well inside Indian territory but also about 28 miles from even the claim line shown in the Chinese 1956 map," said the protest dictated Tuesday night by Prime Minister Nehru from his Kashmir vacation retreat.

A Chinese protest from Peking claimed the Galwan Valley is part of Sinkiang province and accused India of establishing four new military outposts in Sinkiang and one in Tibet.

The Galwan strong points, combined with the one in Tibet, "form a pincer threat on the Chinese post in the Spangur ake area," Peking said.

The Chinese, instead of invading India, were being harrassed inside their own territory, Peking declared.

Provocative shots were fired at the Chinese on May 5, 9 and 22, and Indian aircraft continually supported Indian troops in trenches and blockhouses in the area, Peking asserted.

Sentence Father In Fire Deaths

KAMLOOPS (CP) — A man whose five children died in a fire Jan. 8 was sentenced Wednesday to seven weeks' imprisonment for exposing them to danger.

Judge Gordon Lindsay, imposed the term on Stanley Raymond Bowie of Barriere in county court.

The Bowie children, aged five months to five years, died when fire destroyed their home while their parents were visiting friends.

Judge Lindsay said he was imposing only a short sentence so that Bowie would be free when his wife, who is serving a three-month term on a similar charge, is released from prison Aug. 31. She is expecting another child.

The judge said there was no punishment the court could inflict that could approach the suffering the Bowies had undergone.

Grandmother Stands Bail So Man Can See Wife

LONDON (AP)—A London grandmother has gone bail for a man she never saw so he can visit his desperately ill wife.

"I don't think I'm taking a risk," said Mrs. Betty Freeman, 66, who put up £100 ($300) so Walter Gaywood could get out of jail.

Three years ago Gaywood was arrested on charges of obtaining a tape recorder by false pretenses and stealing a TV set.

He was released, pending trial, but when his case was called, he failed to show up. For three years he's been on the run, but hearing that his wife Edith was ill with cancer in hospital, he gave up to police.

His bail was set at £100.

"I'm sorry, but I don't have it," said Gaywood.

Mrs. Freeman read about the case, and went to the police station.

"I'm staking the money on the man's love for his wife," she told the desk sergeant.

When reporters told Gaywood about Mrs. Freeman going his bail, he said:

"Don't worry. I won't let her down. I'll be there when my case comes up."

Rain Threatens Stampede

CALGARY (CP) — Most stores and offices closed Wednesday afternoon to give their employees an opportunity to take in the citizens' day program at the Calgary Stampede.

Officials of the Stampede expected a record attendance to be set as the skies remained sunny and the infield dried out, giving the cowboys a good opportunity to put on their best performances.

Rain Tuesday almost took the glitter off the golden anniversary Stampede but attendance for the day was 70,343, 6000 more than the same day last year.

The closing minutes of the show Tuesday was marred by an accident on the midway. Hazel Donlin, a 17-year-old girl from Clear Lake, Calif., was tossed from a ride and was in "fair" condition in hospital.

Meanwhile, western dancing continued on downtown streets and traffic jams were reported in many parts of the city. All police leaves have been cancelled for a week to cope with Stampede festivities.

Rain Needed On Prairies

OTTAWA (CP)—Rain is urgently needed over the plains areas of Saskatchewan and Alberta but crop conditions have been well maintained throughout Manitoba and most of the parkland belt in the other two provinces, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported Wednesday.

There has been marked deterioration of crops in the Alberta and Saskatchewan plains district because of insufficient rain and lack of moisture reserves, it said.

The bureau report was the ninth in a series of 13 issued on prairie crop conditions and is based on telegraphed information dispatched up to Tuesday night by field correspondents.

Kennedy Tackles Industry Slump

By HAROLD MORRISON

WASHINGTON (CP) — President Kennedy Wednesday provided a new incentive for lagging U.S. industry by announcing the most sweeping depreciation reform in two decades. Faster write-offs on machinery and equipment will allow industries to reduce their federal tax payments by $1,500,000,000 or more a year.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce immediately called the more attractive depreciation allowances an "excellent move." But a spokesman said the impact on the economy will be slow and deep income tax cuts for both industry and individuals is essential to prevent a recession which could spread to Canada and Europe.

It was expected both by the chamber and the treasury department, however, that most U.S. industrial firms — about 12,000,000 of them—will take advantage of the more liberal allowances.

Canadian subsidiaries of U.S. parent companies are not affected. Generally, these subsidiaries comply with the tax rates in the countries in which they operate.

The larger annual depreciation allowances are expected to increase the flow of orders for new machinery and equipment, "thus creating jobs and taxable income for business and individuals," Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon said.

To some extent, therefore, Kennedy expects to recoup, through an expanding economy, the cost to the treasury of the more generous depreciation allowances.

The speed with which the economy can respond is a matter of debate. The immediate conclusion is that Kennedy's original plans for a balanced budget for the fiscal year which opened July 1 have been shattered. Unless he trims government spending, the government likely will find itself once more deep in the red. Kennedy ended the last fiscal year with a deficit of more than $7,000,000,000.

Still to come is legislation to cut income tax, which Kennedy pledged to introduce in Congress next January. Senator Harry Byrd, the aging chairman of the Senate finance committee, has expressed sharp opposition to such reductions and the Virginia Democrat likely will put up a lot of legislative roadblocks.

The depreciation reform does not require Congressional approval.

SASK. DOCTORS TAKE U.S. EXAMS

GRAND FORKS, N.D. (AP) — Four or five Saskatchewan doctors are among approximately 15 persons here Wednesday who began taking written examinations for licences to practice medicine in North Dakota.

Lyle Limond of Bismarck, secretary and executive officer of the state board of medical examiners, refused to identify any of the persons taking the state boards, on traditional grounds. He said that usually the board releases names only of those who have passed the examinations and are granted licences to practice in the state.

Wind Shifts Fire From Village

OLIVER (CP) — The wind shifted here Wednesday eliminating a brush fire threat to the Indian village of Inkanoop.

Forest service crews cut a fire guard through the scrub timber around the village when the 2000-acre blaze threatened to reach the village.

Three water bombers were ordered to stand by at Kamloops in case the fire surged over the guard.

continuing hot weather in the B.C. interior has created a high fire hazard.

Picnic-Like Atmosphere As Crowds Converge On Legislative Lawns

REGINA (CP)—A crowd of about 4000 persons rallied in a picnic atmosphere Wednesday to protest against the Saskatchewan government's controversial medical care insurance plan.

Entire families, many from far-flung points in the province, spread themselves in the warm sun of the spacious lawns in front of the legislative buildings as a 12-man delegation met Premier Lloyd to seek suspension of the act.

There were wide variations in crowd estimates. Reporters who counted the number in certain areas and checked with other observers generally agreed on about 4000. The city police chief said 15,000; Keep-Our-Doctors Committee organizers put it at 30,000; and Premier Lloyd at between 2500 and 3000.

Only one minor incident was reported as the good-humored crowd listened for two hours to a long list of speakers and then dispersed quietly after the sponsoring Keep-Our-Doctors provincial executive had met the premier and his cabinet.

Mr. Lloyd said the gathering had not changed the government's stand on the medical care plan.

CHAMBER LOCKED

As 25 uniformed and plain-clothes police patrolled the legislative grounds, Liberal opposition members of the legislature marched with chairs down the corridors of the buildings in an attempt to sit in the legislative chamber. They found the chamber locked.

Shortly after the crowd had gone home, the chamber's doors were swung open again for tourists.

Only reported incident was when police stepped in to break up a threatened scrap between two youths, carrying pro-government placards, and KOD demonstrators. Five KOD supporters grabbed the signs and tore them to bits.

The executive of the Keep-Our-Doctors Committee met briefly with the premier. Members presented a petition asking for suspension of the Medical Care Insurance Act to pave the way for a return to normal service by doctors. It sought negotiations between the government and the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons to draft a medical care act acceptable to everybody.

Doctors withdrew their normal services July 1 when the act became effective. About 200 of 700 practising doctors have been providing free emergency service at 35 of the province's 154 hospitals.

DRAW CHEERS

The speeches began at 2 p.m., while cavalcades of cars were still streaming into the city on congested highways. The speeches were frequently punctuated by applause and cheers by the crowd waving pennants and placards which said: "We object," "democracy threatened," "suspend medicare now."

Hans Taal, of Saskatoon, a vice-president of the provincial KOD Committee, said there is "nothing but complete chaos, hatred and misunderstanding," in Saskatchewan.

Lawyer Clyne Harradance of Prince Albert said the premier should order a general election on the issue of medical care.

The KOD delegation said it met with the Saskatchewan cabinet for 10 minutes after being kept waiting in an anteroom for 20 minutes.

INDICATES REPLY

Premier Lloyd said the cabinet will reply to the KOD petition as soon as possible.

When Liberal leader Ross Thatcher marched down the corridors, he found all doors to the legislative chamber shut. It was believed that 18 of the legislature's 19 Liberals were in the building.

Mr. Thatcher urged Premier Woodrow Lloyd to call a special session of the legislature ended last April.

"This is one of the most autocratic steps ever taken in Saskatchewan," Mr. Thatcher said.

He told reporters that he understood the order to close the chamber had come from the premier who, Mr. Thatcher said, had described the Liberal attempt to sit in the legislature as a "theatrical gesture."

The opposition leader said he wondered whether the provincial CCF government wasn't starting to take steps that even Soviet Premier Khrushchev wouldn't take.

Mary Batten, Liberal member for Humboldt, said she thinks "there will be bloodshed in the province."

Many of the outside demonstrators arrived in the capital by motor cavalcade from all sections of the province.

Ben Bella Motorcade Cheered By Thousands

TLEMCEN, Algeria (Reuters) Dissident vice-premier Mohammed Ben Bella was greeted by cheers, hugs and kisses Wednesday from thousands of enthusiastic followers as he drove triumphantly into this western Algerian city.

His motorcade, which had grown to more than 300 cars at the city's outskirts, was cheered all along the mountain route from Marnia, his native village, where he arrived Wednesday afternoon after an absence from Algeria of six years, most of them in French prisons.

Ben Bella's return to Algeria took place amid reports that he and his followers had agreed on a procedure for settling their quarrel with the provisional government.

The settlement reports originated in the Moroccan capital of Rabat, but Algerian sources there were quick to point out that agreement on procedure was not tantamount to settling the split. No agreement, they said, has yet been reached on basic problems.

CLAIM VICTORY

Ben Bella supporters in Rabat went so far as to claim that the settlement on procedure was a first-round victory for them and that the next round would also be won.

Ben Bella opponents in Algiers declined to discuss details of the procedural settlement, but authoritative sources in Rabat said it entailed submitting the basic questions at issue to a meeting of the leaders of the National Liberation Army.

Ben Bella crossed the border on foot from Morocco. With him was Mohammed Khider, who resigned as state minister in the provisional government after disagreements with Premier ben Youssef ben Khedda.

Adoula Cuts Cabinet to 21

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP) — Premier Cyrille Adoula solidified his moderate rule in a cabinet shuffle Wednesday. He removed extremist politicians of the right and left.

Adoula cut in half the unwieldy 43-member cabinet, in office for nearly a year.

Two key ministers retain their portfolios: Justin Bomboko, foreign affairs, and Cleophas Kamitatu, interior.

HYDRO WORKERS VOTE ON UNION

VICTORIA (CP) — Fifteen hundred British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority office employees voted Wednesday on whether or not to join a trade union.

The vote was conducted by the Provincial Labor Relations Board in Victoria and Vancouver offices of B.C. Hydro.

It follows an application for certification to the board from the Office Employees International Union.

The union formerly represented B.C. Electric employees.

Before the B.C. Electric and the B.C. Power Commission were merged under the B.C. Hydro this year there was no official union representation for the commission's office workers.

They had a private association in Victoria which dealt on an unofficial basis with the management.

Members of the association complained earlier this year that the Office Employees International was trying to force them to join.

The union then made a formal application to the Labor Relations Board.

Result of the vote will be known shortly.

Telstar Brings Clear Picture to TV Screens

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. Telstar satellite, spinning through space, Wednesday night brought French and British television direct to American home screens.

The first east-west links of the old world with the new via outer space came through with as much clarity as if they came from a few miles away.

Telstar brought an eight-minute French program onto all three major U.S. networks during its 15th orbit around the earth at a speed of 16,000 m.p.h.

On its next orbit it relayed a program from England's Goonhilly Downs transmitter for some 12 minutes.

The French program, which made singer Yves Montand the first European entertainer ever to telecast direct across the Atlantic, was recorded on video tape earlier and then beamed to Telstar from a station in Brittany.

ALSO SEE BRITISH

Several hours later American viewers on one network (CBS) saw an actual live telecast from Goonhilly Downs, showing British officials explaining the transmitter controls there and praising the U.S. achievement in space communications.

In the middle of all the excitement a row blew up between the British and French broadcasting organizations.

The BBC, in a TV newscast, said the French jumped the gun in bidding to be the first European country to beam TV across the Atlantic.

The commentator said the French had broken an agreement with the European Broadcasting Union which provided for a joint European TV program to be transmitted via Telstar to the United States July 23.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Oh, that California heat!

It's too much for Vancouver pigeons.

Thirty-three of the 78 birds entered in the B.C. provincial Racing Pigeon Club race from Weed, Calif., had not returned to their Vancouver-area lofts by Tuesday, four days after they were released.

Race secretary Dick Ausma blamed high temperatures in California for the pigeons' delay in returning home.

"The temperature was 90 to 95 degrees without any wind," his wife added. "The birds won't fly in that weather. But they'll all come home eventually. We have no doubts about that."

The Ausmas won third and sixth places in the race with two of the nine birds they entered. Only five have returned so far.

First place was won by a pigeon owned by Wilf Clelland.

EDMONTON (CP)—They'll swap pews for cues at a building in Edmonton's east end.

City council Monday night authorized the owners of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church to turn it into a pool hall.

The building originally was a pool hall but has been used as a church.

TORONTO (CP)—Traffic engineer Sam Cass says streets paved in red, green, blue and yellow may be built in Metropolitan Toronto within two years.

Safety is the reason for it. The Ontario highways department and Mr. Cass' department are studying colored paving techniques now used in the United States.

Mr. Cass said white and other light-colored streets increase visibility for motorists. Pedestrians walking at night are more visible if the street beneath them is colored.

He said colored lanes on expressways could be used to direct motorists to turning-off points and colored pavement could also

New Asphalt Coats For 31 City Streets

The biggest paving program in the city in years is currently underway.

City paving crews will blacktop 31 city street blocks this summer, biggest section being five blocks on Ward Street. The other blocks will be distributed over Hoover, Hall, Observatory, Innes, Fourth, Elwyn streets and Gordon Road.

Currently city waterworks crews are installing storm sewer main down Elwyn Street which will eventually extend to Davies Street. The work is being done to suit future extension work under boundary extension bylaws.

Sewer work has already been completed on Gordon Rod and Fourth Street. These streets are ready for paving, which will be accomplished when the paving crews finish their task in South Nelson.

The city crew installing the sanitary sewer main to the vocational school sites has reached the corner of Carbonate and Kootenay Streets.

The problem encountered along Cottonwood Creek where the pipe meets the proposed highway approach, has been solved, city works superintendent Dragutin "Charlie" Likar said.

Th. sewer line will continue on the original plan with only a few minor relocations where it comes in conflict with the highway route.

The current public works program is larger than last year, but due to better organization and supervision, there has not been any great need to hire additional help other than regular seasonal civic employees.

E. M. STILES HONORED BY SKI CLUB

A testimonial pot luck dinner was held in the homey atmosphere of the Silver King Ski Club lodge Wednesday night for E. M. Stiles, an active participant in skiing activities and well-known member of the community.

A resident of the North Shore since 1953, Mr. Stiles has often been considered the "power behind the throne" in many club matters.

Mr. and Mrs. Stiles are leaving Nelson to take up residence in Penticton.

About 75 members of the club attended the dinner in his honor. He was presented a coffee table, made from driftwood by Danny McKay, as a parting gift from the club.

Engineers To Be Invited Here in 1963

City works superintendent Dragutin "Charlie" Likar was authorized to invite the Public Works Association to hold its annual convention here in 1963.

The superintendent will be the city delegate to this year's convention in Kamloops Sept. 26-28.

The new association was formed from the nucleus of the now defunct Municipal Engineers' Association.

In endorsing the convention here in 1963, Ald. B. C. Affleck cautioned, "Remember these are important people, our engineers."

"That's open to discussion," Ald. J. S. M. Harts quipped.

"Or conjecture," joined in Ald. E. T. Bodard.

President of the new association is former city engineer G. Quentin Lake, who acted in that capacity here for 4½ years. He joined the city staff in 1952 and left in July, 1956, to accept a similar post in Burnaby.

Former Nelson Oldtimer Passes

Mrs. Lilian Catherine MacLeod, a resident of the city in its early years, died in Victoria July 5, aged 74 years.

Born in Kincardine, Ontario, in 1888, she resided in Nelson until 1918 when she moved to Victoria. At the time of her death she was retired, after having worked as a stenographer at the Liquor Control Board office in Victoria for many years.

Council Gottings

Two giant fir trees on 400 block Second Street may feel the sharp bite of a power saw soon. Mrs. C. MacLeod told city council the trees, since Second Street has been made a through street, present a traffic hazard. They obscure the driver's vision to neighborhood children playing about them. The matter was referred to the public works committee for report.

An offer of services of West Coast Parking Lines Ltd. was rejected as the city has its own street line painting equipment.

Temporary cost of an electrical connection, $25, will remain in effect, city council ruled in reply to a request by Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Ryall to have the connection to their trailer home on View Street regarded as a permanent connection.

The couple has been given two years by the city to build a permanent home on their present site. They felt that their intention to boild on the site indicated they should be classified as permanent users, not temporary.

Soon each member of council will be carrying his own civic identification card. The cards are made gratis to subscribers by the publishers of the Municipal Year Book.

Ald. B. C. Affleck objected to the gaudy yellow color of the example card, preferring a more subtle shade like pink.

Ald. E. T. Bodard was more in keeping wtih the civic situation. "Put them in red that is where most cities are," he cracked.

Referred to the finance committee with power to act was the disposal of $62,000 worth of $1000 bonds under vocational school site bylaw 1328. It was suggested that the bonds may be disposed of locally by the city, instead of being put out to bid.

* * *

The application of Garth Lipsack for the position of city bus driver was accepted.

Bylaw 1333, amending street and traffic laws on Baker Street, was laid on the table until a meeting with the Advisory Planning Commission, which prepared the amendments.

Two readings were given to bylaw 1335 which amended health bylaw 391 of 1923. Under the amendment it is no longer an offense to keep livestock in enclosed pasture within the city limits. Previously livestock could only be kept in a stable within the city limits. The amendment also defined the type of construction needed for a stable.

Anyone found allowing their animals to roam at large is liable to a $50 fine.

* * *

Three readings were given to bylaw 1336 amending the constitution of the Nelson Advsory Planning Commission whereby a person missing three consecutive meetings may be dismissed from the commission at the discretion of the chairman. A replacement will be appointed by the municipal council.

The parking meters will be removed from in front of new gas pumps installed by Reuben Buerge Motors in its used car lot across the street from the garage.

Gaglardi to Study Ferry Situation

The Associated Chambers of Commerce has received a reply from Highways Minister P. A. Gaglardi to a letter the chamber sent him requesting measures to alleviate heavy truck traffic on the Kootenay Lake-Balfour ferry and the Castlegar ferry.

Acting chambers secretary Des Crowder of Trail says that the chambers feel the truck traffic during the day "ties up" normal passenger traffic on the ferries.

The letter from the associated group suggested special night rates for truckers to encourage trucking firms to make night trips.

In his reply Mr. Gaglardi pointed out that special rates had been established in 1960 for trucks in the late evening hours but "we had a number of protests from some of the trucking companies who said that they had no other alternative but to travel in daylight hours."

Mr. Gaglardi promised the chambers that "we will have another look at the situation."

New Ambassador To Mexico Has District Ties

SLOCAN CITY — Arthur Irwin, now Canadian ambassador to Mexico, is a cousin of B. E. Miller of Slocan City.

The name "Arthur" was a favorite of the Irwin family, four cousins, all near the same age, being named Arthur.

Mrs. Miller's family arrived in Nelson in August, 1901, and her brother Arthur died in World War I.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen was also a cousin.

Bingo Test Case Actions Predicted

VICTORIA (CP) — Likelihood of a number of "test case" court actions over the operations of bingo games in B.C. was stressed here by Attorney-General Bonner.

And "regular" bingo games operated by organizations may be a thing of the past.

Mr. Bonner was explaining the possible courses that might be followed in the wake of a survey by his department and the RCMP of the gaming house and lottery sections of the Criminal Code of Canada.

"Local law enforcement agencies and prosecutors are being asked to warn organizations of questionable conduct where appropriate," declared the attorney-general. "It is anticipated that one or two test cases may result, by arrangement, where contention exists as to what the law provides."

Mr. Bonner offered three "guidelines" to interested organizations.

He said religious or charitable groups not incorporated as bona fide social clubs may operate bingo games only "occasionally" — a word which has caused difficulty in interpretation.

"'Occasionally' is, however, opposed to 'customary,'" said Mr. Bonner.

An organization operating one night a week every other week over a period of time could not be considered as "occasionally," he said.

The attorney-general said newspaper and radio bingo games, offering cash or other valuable security, "may violate" sections of the Criminal Code.

The disposition of property by any mode of chance is suspect and where goods or merchandise are disposed of by a game of chance, or mixed chance and skill, organizations should obtain legal advice on possible violations of section 171 (F) of the Canadian Criminal Code," he said.

The survey into bingo operations was promised by Mr. Bonner during the last session of the legislature.

Detailed outline of the department's views have been sent out to all law enforcement agencies.

FIVE SHARE $1000 PRIZE

Five members of the provincial water branch at the Nelson courthouse are $200 richer today.

The Silver King Ski Club $1000 draw was made Wednesday at a testimonial dinner at the lodge for E. M. Stiles. Mr. Stiles drew the winning ticket.

The five courthouse workers who will receive $200 for their $2 investment are Don Smuin, Gordon Wood, Pat Clark, Paul Ryley and Bill Hurst.

Last Rites Held For F. C. Rowley

Funeral service for Frank Clarke Rowley, who died Sunday, was conducted Wednesday at St. Saviour's Pro-Cathedral.

Rev. W. Edington officiated and interment followed in Nelson Memorial Park.

Hymns sung were "Abide With Me" and "The Day Thou Gavest Lord, Is Ended."

Pallbearers were Arthur Choquette, Cecil Grizzelle, Jack Watson, Roland Darough, Harold Witchell and Bert Harrison.

Beasley Work Stops Temporarly

A Department of Highways spokesman said Wednesday work has halted on the Beasley Bluffs section of highway No. 3 only temporarily.

It is expected that work will resume either at the end of this week or beginning of next week.

Men and equipment, he said, have been diverted to another job temporarily.

Flashing Beacon to End Fairview Corner Hazard

A flashing beacon is the solution to the hazardous traffic problem at the corner of Anderson Street and Nelson Avenue, city council decided Monday night.

Correspondence from the Department of Highways termed the present traffic sign arrangement there as "hazardous."

At present Anderson Street is a through street for southbound cars while eastbound traffic on Nelson Avenue has to contend with a stop sign and west bound traffic on Nelson Avenue faces a yield sign. Traffic heading north on Anderson faces a stop sign.

J. H. Harding, senior traffic engineer of Victoria, suggested in a letter that the city would solve its problem with the installation of a flashing beacon. The city and provincial government would share the cost equally.

It was the sharing of cost that sparked Ald. B. C. Affleck and E. T. Bodard to oppose the motion. They claimed that as the corner is part of the arterial highway, it is solely the responsibility of the provincial government.

Ald. Affleck also added that the problem had been created solely through the insistence of the government. When mapping out the arterial highway during the late 1940's, he said, the government disregarded city advice for a better controlled route and insisted on the turn at the corner of Anderson Street and Nelson Avenue.

The suggested beacon would flash amber facing Anderson Street and red on Nelson Avenue. Also included would be a green arrow for traffic heading west on Nelson Avenue permitting them to make a right turn without stopping.

Sunday Group Picnics Turned Down by Council

No club or group will be allowed to hold Sunday picnics in Lakeside Park as an official body, city council ruled Monday night.

At the same, amidst rumblings of disagreement, council approved a request allowing the Kootenay Kilties to perform in the park one Sunday afternoon each summer month.

The picnic ruling evolved from a request for such a privilege by the Order of Eastern Star.

It was felt that Sunday picnics by clubs and groups as a body would preclude other individuals and families from using the tables on the busiest days of the season.

Council has no objection to club or group members using the tables as individuals on Sunday.

It also has no objection to groups arranging to reserve the tables for picnics anytime during the rest of the week, such as the Oldtimers Picnic, to be held Monday, July 23.

Henceforth, all picnic requests will be left in the hands of the parks chairman Ald. E. T. Bodard for a decision.

There was hesitancy by a few aldermen to grant the Kiltie request. They frowned on the Kilties suggestion of a silver collection during their performance. They also expressed the fear that they may be setting a precedent which may boomerang.

But an ancient mystery may be endangered. As Ald Bodard said, "You'll be able to prove or disprove that theory about the kilt by lying on the grass when the Kilties are going by."

Toe Nail Clipping Surgery?

TRAIL — A government pathologist says listing of toe nail clipping operations may help the Trail-Tadanac hospital to qualify for higher provincial grants.

Dr. J. E. Gnass told a meeting of the medical staff statistical reports from the Kootenay Lake General Hospital at Nelson indicate that more surgery is being performed there than at Trail.

In point of fact, T-TH was conducting three or probably four times as much surgery as was performed in Nelson's KLGH.

"Are they in Nelson listing toenail clipping as surgery?" he wondered.

Dr. A. F. Alvarez, medical staff chairman, said T-TH listed surgery in four categories — minor, intermediate, major and very major.

Other hospitals reported only two categories — minor and major.

Superintedent of nurses Miss R. M. Ball said emergency and cast work was not included by the hospital in its surgery figures. Perhaps Nelson did include such work in its reports, which might partly account for the statistical superiority of the KLGH work load.

Well, then, said Dr. Gnass. T-TH should start counting toenail clipping as surgery, thereby building up statistics more likely to impress BCHIS.

Doctors were discussing hospital board chairman W. E. McNaughton's report that the BCHS will probably reduce the Trail hospital's 1962 grant.

$250,000 CUT

He said capital grants have been cut by $250,000 in the last five years leaving no funds for the purchase of $100,000 worth of new equipment needed by the hospital.

His report said the BCHS has not taken full cognizance of the major surgery performed at the Trail hospital.

LEGION, LODGE RITES HELD FOR NAKUSP AIRMAN

NAKUSP — A service was conducted by the Royal Canadian Legion in the Legion Hall here Sunday for LAC Stanley Chatfield Howitt of Clinton RCAF station, who died of injuries after a car accident July 4.

Graveside service was held by the Star of the West Lodge No. 61, AF&AM, Nakusp. Leading Aircraftsman Howitt was a member of Moose Jaw Lodge No. 3 AF&AM.

The 22-year-old man died in hospital in London, Ont., after a car crash four miles south of Zurich. He suffered severe chest and internal injuries, and a fractured hip.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howitt, he was raised and educated in Nakusp. He joined the Royal Canadian Air Force in 1957 and was a member of the RCAF Guard of Honor. He attained the highest standard in 1959 at Camp Borden in the instrument technician class.

Three Girls Seek Mermaiden Title at Windermere Regatta

INVERMERE — The coveted title of Mermaiden of Lake Windermere will be awarded one of three pretty girls at the fifth annual regatta on Lake Windermere July 20-22.

Sharon Romane of Windermere, Sandra Hackler of Invermere and Lynn Howland of Calgary are in competition. They will be introduced at the band concert at the Kinsmen Centennial Park which will be the opening of the Regatta festivities on the Friday evening.

One of them will be crowned at the dance in the Lake Windermere Memorial Community Centre Saturday by the retiring Mermaiden, Karen Askey of Invermere.

Commodore for this year's regatta is A. E. Portman of Invermere, superintendent for Western Gypsum.

Sharon Romane is sponsored by the Valley oil companies and resorts; Sandra Hackley by the Invermere merchants and Lynn Howland by Calgary summer residents.

Rossland Resolution Protests Gov't Plan

ROSSLAND — Mayor Harold Elmes told council at Monday night's meeting that he had received a wire from the Deputy Minister of Public Works explaining the delay in finishing the renovations of the post office.

The wire stated that approval of the revised plans had been required from the Board of Finance and that approval had been granted. Work will resume immediately.

Mayor Elmes criticized the provincial government's delay in completing the Rossland-Sheep Lake road, linking Rossland with the Blueberry-Paulson Highway. Mayor Elmes said the delay was costing Rossland money because tourist traffic was missing the city and bus service to and from the coast has been curtailed.

Alderman W. Wadeson said he had drafted a resolution for the Union of B.C. Municipalities protesting the provincial government's $100 Home Owner Grant. Council is also writing a letter of protest to the premier and to the Department of Municipalities.

Ald. Wadeson estimated that if the Home Owner Grant went into effect Rossland would lose an estimated $15,000. He said that the only way the money could be recovered would be to raise the mill rate.

On a moderately priced home of $15,000 this would mean an increase of at least $108 over the 1962 taxes. It was stated that if reports were correct there isn't a municipality in favor of the proposal.

Mayor Elmes said that the government doesn't realize the financial problems a municipality faces and that request for grants are often belittled. "It is a different story when they ask the federal government for a grant," he said.

Sgt. J. Betts Transferred

CASTLEGAR — Sgt. John Betts of the RCMP in Castlegar is being transferred to Maillardville, B.C., after 14 mnths of service in this area. He has been an active member in the Castlegar Rotary Club and is well known in the community.

Sgt. Betts will be leaving with his wife and daughter August 1 for the coast. He was stationed at Nanaimo prior to coming to Castlegar, and will be doing the same type of work at Maillardville. He will be replaced at Castlegar by Sgt. Borodula, who was stationed here once before.

Herridge to Attend Federal Party Caucus

NAKUSP — Although the election is over, H. W. Herridge, re-elected MP for Kootenay West, has had little time for relaxation.

Upon his return to his home at Shorehelme, Mr. Herridge has been kept busy answering and attending to community problems which were brought to his attention.

On July 7, Mr. Herridge travelled to Vancouver to attend a caucus of federal MPs and provincial MLAs, also attending a number of federal government departments in connection with district affairs and personal problems of constituents.

Leaving Vancouver July 9, Mr. Herridge travelled to Winnipeg for a federal party caucus July 12, followed by the annual provincial convention in Saskatoon of the CCF-New Democratic Party July 18, 19 and 20.

On completion of the Saskatoon convention, Mr. Herridge will go to Ottawa for a few days to attend to several matters which he has been asked to take up with ministers, officials, board of broadcasters, CBC, and the board of transport commissioners.

Mr. Herridge then returns home for a few days before setting off for Trail, Rossland, Nelson, and other points in the constituency.

Curtailment of Trail Hospital Service Seen

TRAIL (CP) — The director of the Trail-Tadanac Hospital Board said Tuesday night the hospital will be forced to curtail some of its operations if it doesn't receive recognition of its services.

W. E. McNaughton told a meeting of the staff he had informed the British Columbia Hospital Insurance Service of the situation at a meeting in Victoria last month.

He said the BCHIS, however, felt the hospital was receiving sufficient financial recognition for one of its size.

Chairman Dr. A. F. Alvarez of the hospital's medical staff said it is sad the government agency recognized a hospital by the number of beds it has and not by the services it provides.

Barn Burns At Cranbrook

CRANBROOK — The barn on the Frank Vanlerberg property south and west of city limits was completely burned Sunday, together with contents, but the fire loss was confined to the single building. The family was away at the time and the fire was well advanced before a neighbor reported it.

Mr. Vanlerberg is agent for deliveries for a bread company and loss appeared to include a volume of empty bread cartons in addition to hay stored in the barn. The city fire department responded quickly to the call but the only water available was that in the pumper truck, and its main efforts were directed at moving yard equipment out of range of the burning barn.

Cranbrook Gyro District Governor

CRANBROOK — M. G. Klinkhamer of Cranbrook was named governor of Gyro International District 8 at its annual convention here when nearly 200 guests registered.

Clubs included in District 8 are at Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge, Grand Forks, Trail, Nelson, Dawson Creek, Kellogg and Wallace, Idaho, with Cranbrook host club. R. D. Knight was chairman for the Cranbrook committee making arrangements for this major event.

Howard Gane of Trail becomes past governor, and Gordon Hanna of Calgary and Garth Haddock of Kellogg first and second lieutenant-governors, and Mike Provenzano of Cranbrook, secretary. Convention in 1963 will be at Jasper, Alta., with the two Edmonton clubs hosts, and it will be advanced to June to precede the annual Gyro International meeting at Edmonton June 13, 14 and 15.

Special events at the convention here started with skit night when the entry of the Spokane club took top place among the productions of the 12 clubs at the Bluebird Inn. A day-long bus tour took the convention via Kimberley to Wasa and ended with a fish fry at Peckham's Lake. Weather interceded at this point and the guests were brought back to the Bluebird Inn for dancing, which was scheduled for the outdoor pavillion there.

Other special events were an excursion to Munroe Lake for the ladies, golf tournament for the men and the governor's dinner at the Stop and Go Inn followed by the wind-up dance.

Blocks of motels were reserved for the visitors for the three-day session.

Burt Campbell Receives Bow-Tie

CASTLEGAR — A bow-tie in the Thompson hunting tartan was presented by national Social Credit leader Robert Thompson to Rossland-Trail Socia Credit Association president Burt Campbell of Castlegar at Calgary at the weekend.

Mr. Campbell is co-ordinator of "Bob's Bright Boys," a group of under-30s in the party who are of special assistance to Mr. Thompson.

The presentation, made at the annual convention of the Canadian Young Socreds, was witnessed by Dr. Guy Marcoux, MP, secretary-treasurer of the Quebec medical association who is Social Credit party whip in the new parliament.

Forest Service on Alert As Storms Start Spot Fires

CRANBROOK—A week of sporadic thunderstorms with spotty broad Kootenay River valley has heavy precipitation in some places and none elsewhere in this probably ignited forest fires that will not show up until a prolonged hot, dry spell occurs.

B.C. Forest Service lookouts and leased patrol aircraft are keeping close watch. About four spot fires were reported from the Monday night series of storms.

Okanagan Helicopter Limited service at Cranbrook airport has been kept busy as the danger season advances. Its pilot, Art Druet, is ferrying tools and men into an outbreak in the isolated Flathead Valley south of Fernie, but reports on extent of the fire were not available at Cranbrook.

B.C. Forest Service suppression crews, camps of 18 and 19-year-old boys at key locations are fully operating in the district. Cranbrook crew, located in the permanent quarters two miles north of Cranbrook for quick spot fire reports in both Cranbrook ranger districts, has answered several alarms during the stormy week. Their foreman is Doug Marsh, and their function is quick response to small bush fires to prevent their spread.

Ian Barclay Leaves Celgar

CASTLEGAR — Ian A. Barcley, vice-president and secretary of Celagr and Columbia Cellulose, has left the companies effective July 1, it has been learned.

It is understood that Mr. Barclay has joined B.C. Forest Products. It is reported that Mr. Barclay will still be in charge of Celgar's negotiations with the provincial government regarding the movement of logs through the proposed High Arrow dam.

The Invisible Costs

Everyone who receives a salary today takes it for granted that income will, as the income tax department so smugly says, be taxed at the source by a greedy government which cannot wait to get its pound of flesh but needs must take its share immediately it is earned. This deduction of income tax from the payroll seems so eminently sensible that few people realize that the government gets a great deal of unpaid service from employers and that this is an invisible cost to industry.

It must indeed be a very considerable sum but it is not the only invisible cost to industry. The Mercer Actuarial Bulletin devotes an issue to "The Invisible Costs of Labor." It quotes from "Fringe Benefit Costs in Canada" 1959 published by Industrial Relations Counselors Services Inc. and from the U.S.A. National Industrial Conference Board Economic Almanac for 1962. Quite likely the figures for Canada for 1962, if anything, would be higher than those given.

Summarized: Workmen's Compensation, Unemployment Insurance and Old Age Security amount to 2.7 per cent of the payroll in Canada and 4.2 in the U.S.

Welfare benefits such as pensions, group sickness benefits, life insurance, etc., amount to 7.4 of Canada's payroll and 7.2 of the U.S.A.'s.

Time paid but not worked, vacations, holidays and rest periods amount to 22.2 per cent in Canada and 21.9 in the U.S.

This does not include overtime, shift differentials and other premiums or direct profit-sharing payments, all of which amount to 5 per cent of the payroll.

It becomes apparent, therefore, that the fringe benefits are a drain on industry's resources. Most of them are, of course, not only reasonable but desirable. Nevertheless before any government goes further in proposing welfare measures, it should give due consideration to its effects on the over-all total of legally required payments to the government, with particular reference to its effects on industry. There can be no gainsaying the fact that the less taxation a nation has the more it is likely to flourish.

Interdependence

It will be some time yet before the world will be able to judge whether President Kennedy's "declaration of interdependence" was a serious proposal or simply an exercise in the type of rhetoric which has come to be expected of patriotic politicians on national holidays.

Whatever the eventual finding on this may be, the president more than deserves the wholehearted plaudits of the free nations for expressing the sentiments he did — for they were, if nothing else, a firm reassurance that the United States has for all time abandoned its old head-in-the-sand isolationist policies.

What President Kennedy called for in his July 4 speech in Philadelphia was the formation of an economic union between all free countries. The first step toward this was the achievement of European unity under the Treaty of Rome. Once this was an accomplished fact, the president said, the United States would initiate ways and means of extending the union by forming a concrete Atlantic partnership.

"All this," he said, "will not be completed in a year — but let the world know that this is now our goal."

This goal, however, which will no doubt be hailed as a new concept of world development and a solid step toward the brotherhood of man, is hardly new. The ancient Egyptian and Greek philosophers had the same idea — and in modern times so did the architects of the United Nations and the signatory nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

In essence, the objectives are contained in two paragraphs within the preamble to the United Nations Charter. They are: "To promote social progress and better standards of life in larger freedom," and "to employ international machinery for the promotion of the economic and social advancement of all peoples."

Even more to the point is the North Atlantic Treaty under which members undertake to "contribute towards the further development of peaceful and friendly international relations by strengthening their free institutions, by bringing about a better understanding of the principles upon which these institutions are founded, and by promoting conditions of stability and well-being; to seek to eliminate conflict in their international economic policies and to encourage economic collaboration. . . "

It would therefore seem that if the United States is truly determined to put into effect the policy of "interdependence" as advocated by its president, the framework already exists — and has existed in the case of the United Nations Charter, since 1945, and in the case of the North Atlantic Treaty since 1948.

It is not to the credit of any signatory to the latter treaty that this framework has remained untried and untested. If the NATO nations had placed in these clauses the same amount of verve and dedication they reserved for the military partnership it created, the present world economic crisis would perhaps never have developed.

President Kennedy's words may cause a re-reading of the treaty and a new understanding of its merits.

—Victoria Colonist.

Hover Licences

The British have come up with a pragmatic answer to one of the brand new conundrums posed by this age of galloping technology: is a hovercraft, which travels on a cushion of air, a land vehicle, an aircraft, or (in some cases) a ship? It is, the British government has now ruled, a car, and subject to the ordinary road traffic rules.

Furthermore, the hovercraft is a car "whether or not it is adapted for use on roads."

Since there is already one really large hovercraft in experimental ferry service between two points on the British coast, this decision is going to make a seagoing nation wince. On British roads you keep left; at sea you keep right. What happens when the hovercraft meets a ship?

The trouble seems to be, however, that there are a lot of small hover vehicles in the incubation stage. A ministry of transport spokesman has said: "There are hover barrows used on building sites; the army is developing hover stretchers for the removal of casualties; and even those ingenious do-it-yourself enthusiasts are now, I am told, able to buy one kind of scooter in kit form."

With all that air blowing around, Britain is going to be a dusty country on a dry day.—Montreal Star.

Defence Research Board Hopes For Space Communication Plan

By DAVE McINTOSH

OTTAWA (CP)—In two years, the Defence Research Board should have the necessary technical knowledge for building a space communications system based on light waves.

Dr. Gerry Williams of Rosetown, Sask., head of the solid state physics section of the defence research telecommunications establishment, said Tuesday that by that time current experiments in this field will determine how such a system can be built.

Whether it will be is, of course, out of Dr. Williams' hands. He is concerned only with fundamental research into the problem.

The experiments are based on synthetic ruby crystals known as lasers, the letters standing for light amplification by stimulated emission of radiation.

Ordinary light waves coming from a single source, such as a flashlight, become quickly dispersed. But light waves from a laser are concentrated in a single frequency and can be focussed as sharply as a needle on a single spot.

CARRY INFORMATION

These ruby-red light waves from a laser can be modulated to carry information in the same way as radio or television microwaves. Measurement of this modulation now is the main problem being tackled by Dr. Williams and his colleagues at the telecommunications establishment at nearby Shirley Bay.

Light waves as a communication channel have application only to space, where some day they may be used to pass information among satellites and from satellites to planets.

Dr. Williams said that light waves cannot readily be used on earth as a means of communication because of interference from cloud, rain, snow, fog and the like.

If such a system were used on earth, it probably would have to be based on underground "light pipes" carrying the light waves on line of sight.

WAVES TOO NARROW

Dr. Williams said it is doubtful that lasers could be used on their own in a satellite or missile detection system. This was because the light waves were so narrow it would take millions of them to cover the heavens.

However, lasers might be used in conjunction with radars for more accurate pin-pointing of an object in space once radar had found the general target area. There was no difference between radar and laser light waves except that the former is diffuse, the latter narrow-beamed.

Dr. Williams said there now are some 20 materials which can be used in the same way as synthetic rubies.

Incidentally, natural rubies aren't used because they contain flaws. But the natural ones still cost more than the synthetic.

Investment Dealers Blame Ottawa For Apprehension

By DON HANRIGHT

OTTAWA (CP)—The big and influential Investment Dealers' Association of Canada Wednesday blamed a string of federal government deficits for a financial atmosphere of "apprehension and concern."

The IDAC in a brief to the royal commission on banking and finance called for an immediate return to "fiscal orthodoxy" — deficits only in recession periods, with budget balances in other years to help retire federal debts.

The association said that neither text books nor tradition shed much light on why the government ran up seven deficits in eight years—with another one forecast this year — regardless of highs and lows in the economy, and despite "stifling" levels of taxation.

URGES TAX REVISIONS

It urged a study leading to a sweeping revision of the Canadian tax structure and listed these two consequences—among others — of the government's taxing and spending policy:

1. The deficits, along with the money - supply increase to pay for them, have led to "widespread and growing distrust" in government long-term bonds as their price stability — normally the main attraction for investors — had been sharply reduced.

2. The Bank of Canada, as the government's debt manager, had been put into a "troublesome conflict of interest position" in which objectives of sound monetary policy —including the fight against inflation — had been sacrificed or delayed from time to time. Monetary policy had become "quite ineffective."

Presumably, the association said, the government was trying to alleviate unemployment when it set out a few years ago on an enlarged spending program and broader welfare payments.

"Evidence of success from this policy is inconclusive," the brief said.

SETS ALTERNATIVE

In recommending overhaul of the tax structure, the IDAC raised the possibility of using indirect taxes—such as sales and excise taxes — as an alternative or partial alternative to income taxes.

Taxes now are too high and too complicated in Canada, the association said. They were destroying incentive. Simplification was badly needed.

No reference was made by the IDAC to Prime Minister Diefenbaker's May 5 pledge during the election campaign of a royal commission to examine tax structure.

Rather, the association suggested that the job be handled by a select committee made up of representatives from business and finance along with "practical economists," officials of the Canadian Tax Foundation, and lawyers and accountants.

Among the other IDAC recommendations:

Debt management for the federal government should be taken away from the Bank of Canada and given to the finance department.

Repeal of the statutory six-per-cent ceiling on lending rates for the chartered banks and Quebec savings banks.

A federal budget address every April, followed by a government state - of - the - nation speech every October.

Legislation to clarify the Bank of Canada's relationship to the government.

An improved procedure of resignation of the central bank governor, to avoid "the unhappy events of 1961" — James E. Coyne's departure.

Interpreting the News

By ROD CURRIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The enthusiasm of the welcome extended to President Tubman of Liberia on his state visit to London reflects the importance the British government places on his country as an example to leaders of younger independent African states.

Since Liberia became the first all-Negro republic in Africa 115 years ago Anglo-Liberian relations have remained good, although there have been some serious temporary disagreements. Generally the Liberian tendency to negotiate calmly and with diplomatic cordiality—unlike some of their neighbors—has been highly profitable.

In the Liberian view, trade with Britain could be even better and no doubt Tubman will touch on this during his London talks. But in fact, with the whole of Africa in the throes of an economic upsurge, trade between the two countries is expanding and the prospects for the future look bright.

For Tubman, then, the visit is more of a sentimental journey than a business trip.

SCION OF SLAVES

The 66-year-old president is one of the descendants of the handful of freed American slaves who went to West Africa to establish their country. Queen Victoria helped the nation into being and recognized it.

A year later, in 1848, the first president visited London to thank the Queen. That visit was not repaid until the royal couple called at the capital, Monrovia, last November and invited Tubman to London.

The British, American and native influences have brought forth a strange country where descendants of the American Negroes, although outnumbered 20-to-1 by the indigenous Africans, pretty well have the upper hand.

Tubman, a devout Christian and an anti - Communist, has been in office 19 years with no opposition worth mentioning in sight. His main aims have been to unite his complex country and bring in new capital to decrease Liberia's dependence on the two basic industries—steel and rubber.

In these he has been notably successful, particularly in recent years. But Liberia still is poor and in need of financial help.

"Don't they make a revolving fan that goes clear around, instead of just the length of your mother?"

F. B. Pearce ...Writes

Perhaps our apparent lack of interest in politics, which is by no means shown by the large turnout of voters in the last election, is due to the pressure of events and the rapidity with which they are recorded in the press and on radio and television. There are so many events and so many happenings that as fast as one makes an impression another comes along and helps to erase it from the mind.

There is for example, the story in Monday's newspaper of a plane in which 94 persons were killed. This took place near Bombay, India. There have been others during the past few weeks but where these took place and how many persons were killed we do not recall. But we believe that there were more people killed in another crashes than in this one.

News dies quickly and the story which held the world's attention today is dead tomorrow. The story of the Freedomite house burnings flamed across the pages when first they took place but the last, a group of four houses burned at Gilpin, made only a paragraph.

In the beginning the doctors' strike in Saskatchewan made headlines across the continent, but a week later the news is a perfunctory statement that the disputants are standing firm and that perhaps there may be some crack in the deadlock, so again the excitement dies. For that matter the longer the strike continues the more likely the basic causes are likely to be lost sight of. All that most people want is that they return to work. In most cases they are not greatly interested in the justice or injustice of medicare.

This is regrettable and yet it may be as well that it does happen for it helps to remove the impression that the newspapers have the ability to influence unduly and control the minds of their readers for from the sheer volume of news and of opinion in newspapers the sharpness of detail so necessary to propaganda is lost and if it is long continued merely bores the reader.

Television is accused of presenting shows which depict the worst side of human life. While this may not be a desirable thing, by their very repetition these shows may make little impact on the minds of the viewers. There are many cowboy shows and these by all accounts are merely the doings of a moron with a gun and a horse. It may be that these shows give the mind a rest, there is no psychological background to worry the viewer, he likes movement, horses and action and beyond that he does not go.

Alas, newspapers, television and even art and literature are merely too often to pass the idle hour. The chief concern of every man is his own affairs — his struggle for existence, his loves and everything which makes up his life. At this moment, with the blue sky above and the bright sun shining his thoughts are probably not on world affairs but on how best he can take advantage of his holidays.

THWART DONATION

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Auities say Mrs. Helen Herbert, 52, who tried to donate $11,000 to the Black Muslim movement, agreed to commit herself to a private hospital. She was released Tuesday from General Hospital. Police said she was carrying $41,000 in cash and stocks last Thursday when she offered Muslims money "to help kill the white people." She is Caucasian.

London Thieves Take Off With Valuable Paintings

LONDON (Reuters)—Thieves stole 35 paintings valued at nearly £400,000 ($1,200,000) from an art gallery in London's swank Mayfair district during Tuesday night.

It was believed to be Britain's biggest art theft.

The paintings included 10 by Renoir and works by Picasso, Monet, Toulouse - Lautrec and Bonnard.

Police said thieves scaled roofs and forced a fire escape door leading to the O'Hana Art Gallery.

Jacques O'Hana, owner of the gallery that specializes in modern and impressionist works, estimated the value of the stolen paintings at nearly £400,000.

GOYA STILL MISSING

It was the biggest art theft in England since the theft of a Goya portrait of the Duke of Wellington from the National Gallery last August.

The Goya, valued at £140,000, still is missing.

London has had a wave of art thefts in recent months. A Renoir and two Picassos were among 12 paintings stolen last May. Eleven of the paintings were recovered a week afterward.

The O'Hana Gallery was the scene of a theft four years ago when a Renoir miniature, La Promenade, was removed from its frame and replaced with a colored print of the Madonna and Child.

In the last 12 months the total value of stolen paintings in Europe and the United States has been at least £2,800,000.

The paintings stolen were part of the gallery's annual summer exhibition.

It would be impossible to dispose of such works through legitimate channels. This raised the possibility that the canvases might be held for ransom.

An anonymous letter writer claiming to be in possession of of the Goya has twice offered to return it for a ransom equal to its value—which is what the National Gallery paid for it.

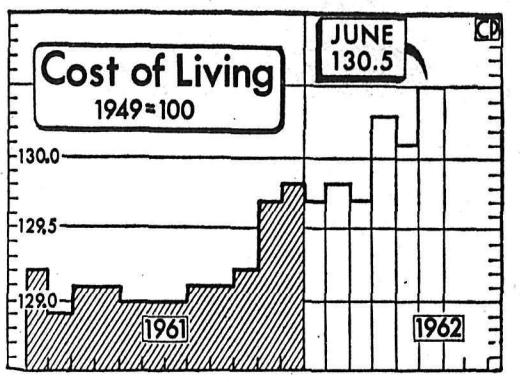
PLUMBERS TO VOTE

VANCOUVER (CP) — About 1,200 plumbers employed by 41 B.C. firms are to vote at the weekend on a 28-cents-an-hour wage increase. The Plumbers' and Pipefitters' Union is seeking 40 cents an hour over two years. Company officials say their offer, over a three-year contract, is the highest they can economically accept. The plumbers' present base rate is $3.14 an hour.

MAN BURNED

VANCOUVER (CP) — One man suffered minor burns Tuesday when fire broke out in an old, two-storey, wooden foundry building in east Vancouver. Firemen quickly gained control and put out the blaze. The cause is not known.



LIVING COSTS AT RECORD HIGH — Canada's cost-of-living index reached a record high of 130.5, June 1, up two-fifths of a point from 130.1 a month earlier. Increase was due to a rise in the cost of food, clothing and housing. Graph traces index, based on 1949 prices equalling 100, from January, 1961. (CP Newsmap)

Why Not Barge From Queen's Bay To Cut Ferry Delays?

Editor, The Daily News,

Sir: I am glad to see by the Daily News of Wednesday that the Nelson Chamber of Commerce is now aware that something has to be done about the hazardous traffic bottle-neck on both sides of Kootenay Lake.

Hundreds of tourists and local residents have to waste six hours or more lined up on hot pavement waiting for transportation across the lake. This is particularly trying on the elderly and children, not to mention local residents trying to drive past on the wrong side of the narrow road to get to their homes in Kaslo and district. It involves a great loss of valuable time for anyone on urgent appointments.

Everyone proclaims the beatuy of the scenery and climate, but many say "Never again would I travel this way!"

It is seven miles, more or less, from Balfour to Kootenay Bay and two and a half miles, more or less, from Queen's Bay to Pilot Bay.

Could a ferry from Okanagan lake be re-constructed for our use or better still a barge be put into service with a capacity of 120 cars at least for use in summer months The barge idea was suggested many years ago by Mr. Biker, then Water Engineer at Nelson. This practical idea would leave the present ferries free to carry surplus traffic.

The Minister of Highways said that Queen's Bay is too rough to land a ferry. This is not true. The south-west part of Queen's Bay is never rough. It was used by the C.P.R. barges for protection in storms years ago.

The adverse publicity that tourists must give to this part of the country would counteract all the advertising done by the Tourist Bureau, as well as being a detriment to business in Nelson and vicinity.

The personnel on the ferries do everything possible to be helpful and courteous and a great deal of credit is due them in dealing with the weary travellers.

The present situation is ridiculous.

Churchill Keeps Up With the Movies

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill watched movies from his hospital Tuesday night and called Wednesday morning for the London papers to check the racing news.

The 87 - year - old wartime prime minister, whose recovery from a thigh bone fracture has been complicated by a blood clot in the leg, spent a comfortable night, Middlesex Hospital officials said.

What show Churchill saw was not disclosed. A batch of reels was sent by a film company.

Hospital officials said Churchill was especially interested in the morning newspapers because his horse Novitiate was to run at Salisbury later in the day.

The blood clot condition, or Thrombosis, was disclosed for the first time in Tuesday's medical bulletin and indicated that if had been present with the phlebitis he has been suffering since Saturday. Phlebitis is a more general term covering inflammation of a vein.

Outlook Hopeful For Good News From Algerian Camp

RABAT, Morocco (Reuters)—Agreement has been reached between the opposing camps in the Algerian nationalist leadership, the Moroccan news agency reported here Wednesday.

It said the agreement, reached after two days of negotiations that ended here Tuesday night, will be submitted for approval to a meeting of Algeria's military leaders.

The agency said at the end of the negotiations both sides agreed not to make any statement.

The agency said it learned of the agreement from sources close to dissident leader Mohammed Ben Bella and the emissaries of provisional government premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda.

The agency also said eight Algerian nationalist army leaders who arrived here Tuesday from Algiers have reached agreement with Ben Bella for a meeting of all Algerian military regional leaders.

LEAVES RABAT

Ben Bella left Rabat for the Algerian frontier on his way to Tlemcen, in western Algeria, camp site of the heavily armed troops faithful to him.

Western Algeria prepared a hero's welcome for his return to Algeria for the first time since the North African territory became independent of France eight days ago.

Ben Bella supporters control virtually all of western and eastern Algeria, principally through the 45,000 - man national liberation army returning from exile in Tunisia and Morocco.

Ben Khedda's control is limited largely to the Algiers area. Of the six guerrilla zones in Algeria, only one is supporting Ben Khedda.

Ben Bella split with Ben Khedda on the eve of Algerian independence. The immediate dispute was Ben Khedda's action in firing Col. Houari Boumedienne, chief of staff of the Algerian liberation army, for allegedly planning a military dictatorship.

MAKES DEMAND

Ben Bella, who counts Boumedienne among his supporters for sweeping social revolution in Algeria, insisted on the colonel's reinstatement.

Meanwhile, the Moslem military commander in the Oran region announced plans to hand out summary justice and hold public executions in that western Algerian seaport this week as "an example to killers and thieves."

Capt. Si Bakhti, a Ben Bella supporter, told reporters 300 Moslem prisoners will be paraded through the city and that following summary courts martial the executions will take place in Oran's Moslem quarter.

"We want to show both Europeans and Moslems that we can defend them against anyone," said Bakhti.

He also announced anyone found looting or carrying a weapon will be liable to summary execution on the spot. Several dozen Moslems already had been executed in the interior for looting, pillaging and carrying arms, he said.

KILLED IN COLLAPSE

HONG KONG (AP) — A woman and a girl died and five others were injured today when two houses on Hong Kong Island collapsed. The houses were being torn down to make room for new apartment houses. At least four other persons were believed buried under the debris.

Two Golden Retrievers To Shine at Stratford

STRATFORD, Ont. (CP)—The Stratford Shakespearean Festival is literally putting on the dog this year.

For its 10th season presentation of The Taming of the Shrew, director Michael Langham is employing two large golden retrievers.

The dogs, warm from the heat of the lights and excited by the presence of the crowd, bound onto the stage during the hunting scene. They stand slack-leashed under the admiring glances of their master, the Lord (Leo Ciceri), and his entourage, before being led off by the groom (Len Cariou), past the drunken tinker Sly (Hugh Webster) who lies asleep by the roadside.

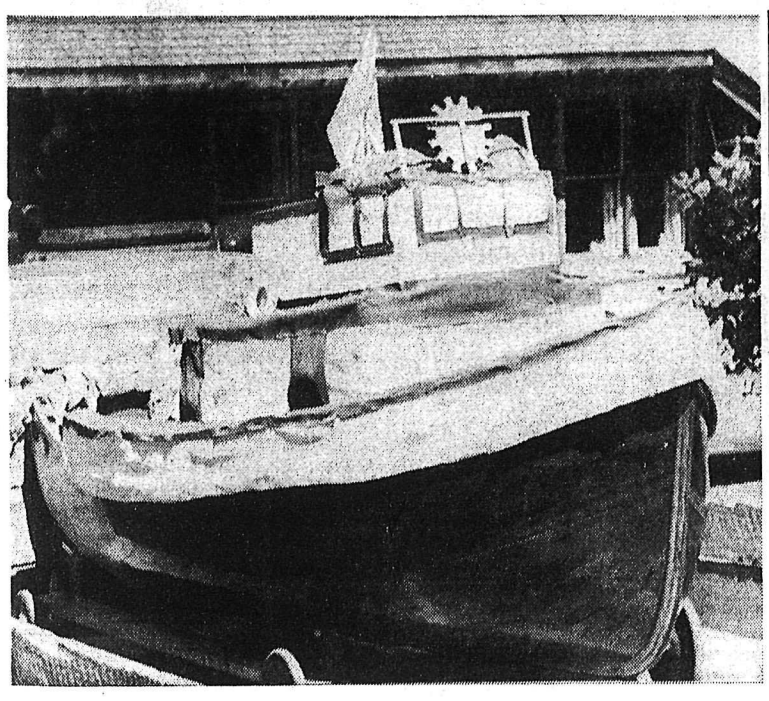
The retrievers, Tubber (Champion Buidhe Dara) and Stubblewest Hopeful, are the first live animals to perform on the Stratford stage. A third retriever Chum (Karl of Felsberg) will occasionally substitute for one of the dogs. The three are owned by M. J. Seguin of Stratford.

SOMETIMES OVER-ACT

Descendants of David of Westley, international dual champion of England and Ireland, the dogs are, by nature, friendly, intelligent animals and needed no special training for the stage. They have at times over-acted, though. Hugh Webster reports that more than once his make-up was licked off with affectionate enthusiasm while he "slept" on stage.

In 1955 another captivating quadruped appeared on the Festival stage, but in an unscheduled performance. During The Merchant of Venice, a squirrel invaded what was then the tent theatre and scampered about on stage, disrupting the performance and delighting the audience.

The Taming of the Shrew, the first Shakespearean play to be repeated at Stratford, opened June 19 with Kate Reid, John Colicos, Toby Robins and Eric Christmas in the lead roles.



Ship Carries Shower Gifts

PROCTER — A miscellaneous shower was held in the Procter Hall for Clarence Walton and his bride-elect Miss Beverley Heisie. The hall was beautifully decorated with pastel streamers, imitation window boxes of flowers, ferns and vases of peonies.

Games and contests were played and members of the arranging committee dressed in costumes added to the merriment. Refreshments were served, the guests of honor at tables tastefully set with white linen cloths and flower arrangements.

Later a replica of the Melinda Jane, the boat on which Mr. Walton is an employee was pushed in, complete with a crew of small boys dressed appropriately, and heaped with presents for the popular couple.

M. D. McKinnon made the presentation, conveying the good wishes of everyone present. The evening concluded with dancing. Mrs. C. Fitchett supervised the decorating assisted by other members of the committee.

The first Anglican church services in America were held in Jamestown, Va., in 1607.

SENATOR GIVEN HONORARY POST

ST. ANDREW'S, N.B. (CP) — Senator Muriel Fergusson, who declined a nomination for president of the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Club because of ill health, was made an honorary president of the federation at its 18th biennial convention Monday.

The Fredericton Senator chartered a plane and stayed at the meeting just long enough to collect her award, make a short speech and renew acquaintances.

Mrs. Fergusson told the 450 delegates that declining the nomination was "one of the saddest and disappointing decisions," she had ever made.

In the keynote address, federation president Una MacLean Evans of Calgary suggested the federation undertake a study of the effects of automation on women's employment. Mrs. Evans said the information would be valuable in setting courses for the many vocational training schools which are being built.

"It would be foolish for the country to spend large sums on vocational training to find when the training was completed, the job was obsolete," she told the 450 delegates.

TORONTO, July 12th, 1962 — Here's how to have double insurance to keep your finances in shape. First open a Personal Chequing Account at the BANK OF MONTREAL and use it strictly for spending! Then open a Savings Account—strictly for saving. Here's what I do:—I deposit enough money each payday in my Personal Chequing Account to cover my regular expenses. What's left over goes into my B of M Savings Account. Believe me, this system works wonders . . . I pay my bills on time and still save for things my heart is set on. You can, too — see the B of M today.

LET'S FACE IT, wash-days are always a bother, particularly in hot and humid weather. But I've found I'm much more willing to face them since I discovered CALGON, the wonder water conditioner. Calgon conditions water so you need less soap . . . it gets clothes softer, more absorbent and really clean. That's because it prevents 'Hangover Dirt' . . . the film of soil, minerals and soap or detergent that sticks to your clothes. With Calgon—the Water Doctor—your wash is never stiff or scratchy . . . it's naturally softer, more absorbent and really clean. P.S.—For washbowl laundry, add a teaspoonful of Calgon to the water, with mild soap, to get dainty things cleaner.

Mother, Babies Thrive In New Hospital Wing

KENORA, Ont. (CP) — Worms constituted the first meal for the first new mother in the new wing of Kenora General Hospital.

Far from the relatively private affair of the usual birth, this one was watched over by 15 plumbers and 20 laborers, electricians and heat ventilation experts who were working on the hospital wing at the time.

Work came to a halt so the mother and her three babies could get the rest they needed.

A hospital admitting card was filled out, reading in part:
Name: Mrs. Robin Redbreast.
Responsible for maintenance: Nature and plumbers.
Husband's name: Mr. Robin Redbreast.
Occupation: Flyer.
Employer's name: Self-employed.
Admitting diagnosis: Maternity.
Ward: Stack, standard.
Rate: $6 a day an egg.

One part of the form couldn't be completed because no one could tell whether the babies were male or female.

Clara Bow Returns To Secluded Life

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A wave, a faint smile from the cupid's-bow lips, and Clara Bow lapsed back into the secluded life that has enveloped her for a dozen years.

She emerged Monday to attend the funeral of Rex Bell, whom she married in 1931 when both were screen stars. After the services, she returned to the small home in west Los Angeles where she has lived quietly for the last seven years.

Before that, she was in a sanitarium in Culver City, trying to conquer a nervous condition that plagued her as a result of longtime insomnia.

"Clara always had trouble sleeping," recalls her onetime leading man and still a friend, Richard Arlen. "I made five or six pictures with her back in those Paramount days and I remember doing a lot of work at night."

NATIONS 'IT GIRL'

Clara, who had been the symbol of flaming youth in the 1920's, retired shortly after her marriage. She made a couple of pictures in the 1930s but wasn't happy. She retired once and for all to Nevada to be Mrs. Rex Bell and mother of their two sons.

Her oldtime pals from the studio days get handwritten Christmas cards from her every year. But their requests to visit her are politely turned down.

One thing is certain from having viewed her this week: The old Bow magic is still there. At 56, she is still a looker.

Franco Names Grandes Successor

MADRID (AP) — Gen. Francisco Franco has designated Spain's highest ranking soldier as his official successor and shuffled his cabinet in a predicted prelude to political and economic reform.

Many experts here described the move as directed toward an early restoration of the monarchy in Spain.

By naming Capt. Gen. Augustin Munoz Grandes, 66, as vice-president the 69-year-old chief of state cleared up the long-pending question of who will succeed him if he dies.

Munoz Grandes has been chairman of the high military staff since 1957. Before that he was army minister for six years. He was secretary-general of the Falange party in 1939, and was an outstanding officer during the Spanish Civil War and Second World War.

Franco's decree appointing Munoz Grandes to his official post as vice-president of the national council of ministers — in effect deputy premier — said Munoz Grandes will continue to act as general commander of the high staff.

NAMES MINISTERS

Seven new ministers were named in the first cabinet changes Franco had made since Feb. 25, 1957.

The changes were regarded as based on Franco's desire to strengthen the council of ministers and not resulting from any crisis.

Army, navy and air ministries were changed, as were industry, labor, education and information-tourism.

One government observer said: "It looks like the monarchists, the church and the army all came out substantially ahead at the expense of the right-wing Falangists. All in all, it looks like Franco is clearing the decks for progress—political as well as economic."

The old-line Falangists lost three civilian posts. There appeared to be a clear gain in prestige for the Catholic Action Group and the Roman Catholic Church.

Manuel Lora Tamayo, the new minister of education, and Manuel Fraga Iribarren, new minister for information-tourism, are considered strong Catholic Action supporters.

Lora Tamayo is a noted chemist, vice rector of the University of Madrid, and head of various research associations.

HEADS WELFARE GROUPS

Fraga Iribarren, 40, a sociologist, heads a number of cultural and social welfare groups, including the Institute for Political Studies. He is considered pro-monarchist.

Fraga Iribarren succeeds Gabriel Arias Salgado, a veteran Conservative cabinet member blamed by Spanish publishers for strict internal censorship and barriers to a free press.

The new labor minister, Jesus Romeo Gorria, 45, is a lawyer who was undersecretary of labor in 1957-58.

Romeo Gorria succeeds Fermin Sanz Orrio who had been criticized for lack of ministerial co-ordination during the recent wave of strikes in Spain.

The new industry minister, Gregorio Lopez Bravo, 38, is a naval engineer who formerly was director general of foreign trade and who has been director of the foreign exchange institute.

Veteran military men fill the military ministries:

Army—Lt.-Gen. Pablo Martin Alonso, 66, was an aide of the late King Alphonse XIII and chief of Franco's military household.

Navy—Admiral Pedro Nieto Antunez, 64, was undersecretary of the Spanish merchant marine and second chief of the Franco military establishment.

Air — Lt.-Gen. Jose Lacalla Larraga, 65, was chief of the Pyrenees air region and formerly under secretary for air.

Telstar Has Impressed Japanese

TOKYO (CP)—Japan's Olympic officials and communications experts are highly impressed by the success of the United States Telstar satellite.

Olympic television officials termed the feat "a very bright development" which may permit live televising of the 1964 Tokyo Olympics.

Clergy Fail To Bring Settlement

REGINA (CP) — Amid last-minute plans for a mass rally here to protest the government's Medical Care Insurance Act, more doctors arrived by air from England Tuesday night to bolster Saskatchewan's medical service.

The nine were the first of more than 30 United Kingdom doctors expected by Saturday.

They are being brought by the Saskatchewan Medical Care Insurance Commission, administering body for the act which went into effect July 1 and brought with it cessation of normal services by most of the province's 700 practising doctors.

Early Wednesday cars started converging on Regina for an afternoon protest meeting in front of the legislative building. Spokesmen for various groups cautioned against any action which could touch off violence.

A group of clergymen representing United, Anglican and Roman Catholic churches, which has met with both government and doctors, said Tuesday they failed to bring the two sides together for a settlement.

HOLD THEIR GROUND

A statement issued by the group said each party to the dispute had held to its earlier ground. The doctors continued their refusal to practise under the CCF government's compulsory, prepaid Medical Insurance Act and the government refused to suspend the act.

In London, a doctor - peer asked by the provincial government to lend assistance said whether he can be of help in the dispute depends on Saskatchewan's doctors.

Lord Taylor, prominent in drafting the U.K. national health plan, was to arrive here this week. He said he was making the trip as an advocate, rather than a mediator.

In Regina Tuesday night, 260 nurses at a special meeting backed the stand of the doctors in a resolution and petitioned the government to suspend the act. Only one nurse at the meeting voiced disapproval of the doctors' stand.

In Biggar, Sask., in the constituency which elected Premier Woodrow Lloyd, a citizens group said it gained wide support in a move aimed at restoring normal medical services under the act.

RAISE $40,000

Earl Danychuk, head of the newly formed Biggar and District Citizens Medical Health Association, said $40,000 had been raised for the job and more is coming in.

The association hopes to set up a clinic with doctors willing to work under the province's act. Feelers have been sent out to doctors in other provinces.

In Regina, a number of druggists and pharmacists said during a spot-check that prescription sales of drugs have dropped 50 to 75 per cent since July 1.

Prior to the arrival of nine British doctors by air Tuesday night, a government spokesman said there were 40 doctors now practising under the government plan. Seventeen came from outside the province. This included 11 from Britain, two from the United States and four Canadians.

Resolutions Passed On Sask. Medicare Plan

PETERBOROUGH (CP) — Two resolutions on the Saskatchewan medical - care plan crisis—one condemning the doctors' withdrawal of services, the other backing the CCF government's stand — were passed at separate meetings here.

Peterborough Labor Council called on the Canadian Labor Congress to condemn the Saskatchewan doctors publicly for their "flagrant disregard of a provincial law" and asked the congress to press the federal government again to set up a national health plan.

A capacity attendance at a Peterborough New Democratic Party riding association meeting voted unanimously to send a telegram to Saskatchewan Premier Woodrow Lloyd endorsing his stand in the dispute.

Individual Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars:

For Friday, July 13, 1962

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — Draw from your reservoir of many assets those singularly suited to today's needs, which are strict but rewarding for earnest, honest endeavor. Where you can, give a fellowman an assist.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Your smile will surely help you through the day, but you will need other "assists" too: good judgment as to when to draw the line, where to stop a certain activity or interest, and unbiased opinions.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — Avoid aggravation, but do not be hesitant about demanding just returns or to ask both respect and gains for effort conscientiously given. A new method or offer is worth looking into.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — If you are busy and someone asks your help in an urgent matter, try to give what you can without, of course, depleting energies or neglecting your first concerns. Enthusiasm must be tempered with caution.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — It is not possible to eclipse past performances day after day. So take a "breather," using the time to improve knowledge, reading, etc. On the work side. TRY.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Avoid any tendency to domineer, or to be overbearing, no matter what the situation. Emphasize your finer instincts and solid abilities which are sorely needed. Just that right gait!

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Stick to your goals if they are worthwhile, but remember that "It is a bad plan that admits of no modification." Close up shop to the unscrupulous schemer, and the prying. Protect assets.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Are your plans in keping with your ultimate goals and within the realm of your talents? Before you begin the day, use the sounding board, and listen to your sixth sense.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Big projects ahead? Don't forget that the advance planning and first moves are vitally important. Do not let tradition keep you from trying a valued modern treatment or method. Get sufficient sleep.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Carpicorn) — Rank does not count with you but dignity and dedication do — and rightly so. Concentrate on these fine traits now and don't fall prey to crass materialism.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Here is a day for advancing in small matters—and quickly, too. But don't neglect the big ones either. A rewarding day if you play your cards right.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Shut no doors abruptly or you will regret it. It is not like you, but as all will find, this will prove a challenging day. Poise, patience!

YOU BORN TODAY: The well-developed person of this birthdate will be strong on adaptability, a vital member of the family and community, especially interested in what benefits people. You love and can handle animals, too. In fact, once you correct your few faults, you are a shining example of how to live and be happy. But those few faults Are there, so sit down, literally, and figure them out, reason with yourself, and firmly determine that you will conquer and succeed. In whatever field you particularly like, you can attain, for you are rarely at a loss for talent and real know-how. Settle with You and life will settle easily around you. Birthdate of: John Dee, mathematician.

Silence Was Golden . . .

REGINA (CP) — Premier Woodrow Lloyd and Dr. H.D. Dalgleish, president of the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons, shook hands Tuesday night but did not say a word to each other.

The incident took place after they had appeared on a BBC Newsmagazine telecast on the Saskatchewan medical care dispute filmed at the studios of CKCK-TV in Regina.

It was the first time the two men had confronted each other since the Medical Care Act came into force July 1 following breakdown of talks between the government and the doctors.

Dave's Diggin's

By Dave Grant
Sports Editor

When Nelson Maple Leafs and Trail Smoke Eaters exchange blows again in a match of hockey wits, the game should be billed as "the original choppers' ball."

If Trail's Russ "Killer" Kowalchuk and Nelson's Jim Pilla have their way it could be just that.

For 10 months the duo have carried a feud, and even the four-month layoff from the hockey wars was unable to quell the fire of hatred.

To see how the feud and eventual blood bath began, one must look into the record books of the Western International Hockey League.

It began last October when the 1961-62 season commenced. Trail was a steamrolling hockey power and few could match its speed and rhythm, with one exception . . . Pilla.

To Smokies Pilla was "a pain in the neck." He broke open Trail plays with his speed and checked ferociously. One man, who at times skated with his head down watching the puck, always seemed to lose the puck to the flashing blades of Pilla. You guessed it, it was Kowalchuk.

One night in Nelson Kowalchuk looked extremely bad as Pilla consistently stole the puck. The stage was set. The next time Pilla stole the puck near the boards with a deft stick and shoulder butt. Kowalchuk whirled crashing his blade over Pilla's head. Result . . . stitches and the beginning of a blood feud.

A few months later Kowalchuk struck again. This time he first flattened the Nelson speedster with a short stick butt to the jaw. Minutes later they fought, with Pilla dropping his stick and Kowalchuk his . . . over Pilla's head. More stitches and a development of hatred.

Saturday night at the Civic Centre in the annual midsummer game Pilla, as Nelsonites term it, "got revenge."

The incident happened when Kowalchuk broke his stick over Pilla's hip, but instead of pursuing the issue Kowalchuk turned away. Fate seemed to jump into Pilla's hands. He crashed his stick over "Killer's" head, leaving blood and a collapsed Kowalchuk in the wake.

Now Trail is protesting the blood incident. How far Smokies will advance is questonable, but it is known the game was an exhibition match and league jurisdiction does not enter into exhibition contests.

* * *

Charlie McLean of Trail, British Columbia Amateur Hockey Association executive, has added another idea to balancing junior hockey teams across Canada.

His latest thought delves into the realms of localities, where a junior representative must have 10 "homebrews" on the club to vie for Memorial Cup playoffs. Object is an attempt to steer away from sponsored teams, such as Edmonton Oil Kings and Brandon Wheat Kings winning the prized trophy.

It also implies the sponsored teams would fight for a different trophy, thereby giving "pure" local teams an opportunity of playoff championships.

Ray Robinson Fractures Hand

Trainer Harry Wiley said the 42-year-old former welter and middleweight champion cracked the metacarpal bone during the second round.

"It is not a serious injury and Ray is recuperating very well under diathermy treatment here," Wiley said.

Robinson lost to Moyer by a decision in the 10-round bout.

OCEAN FALLS YOUTH BREAKS TWO CANADA SWIM RECORDS

VANCOUVER (CP) — Ralph Hutton, a 14-year-old from Ocean Falls, B.C., cracked two Canadian records Wednesday but had to settle for third place in the 1650-yard freestyle event at the Canadian swimming and diving championships.

Ken Webb, a 16-year-old from Portland, won the event and Candy Gilchrist of Ocean Falls finished second.

Hutton set out in the race to pace Gilchrist to record-breaking times for the 800-metre and the 880-yard distances en route to the 1650-yard mark.

The young high school student set such a fast pace that he stayed in front to claim the records for himself.

SNAPS RECORD

Hutton's time for the 880-yards was nine minutes, 43 seconds, beating the record of 10:22.6 set last August by Aldy Meinhardt of Vancouver. The same time will be applied to the record in the 800 metres—slightly shorter than the 880-yards — and it beats the 9:54.3 set in 1956 by Vancouver's Bill Slater.

Ted Loevich of Portland was fifth with 19:05.6 and Chuck Richards of Tacoma was sixth in 19:09.2.

The championships continue today with the first of the men's and women's diving events and nine sprint events in the swimming.

Webb swam the fuil distance in 18:13.9, beating Gilchrist by about 10 yards to take the title. Gilchrist was timed in 18:24.2 and Hutton in 18:25.8.

All three were under the Canadian resord of 18:51.4 set by Slater in 1958.

Gordon Eby of Prince Rupert, B.C., pulled in a surprising fourth in the competition, which drew 25 contestants to the only event in th eopening day of the four-day Canadian championships.

Unknown Rockets To British Open Lead

TROON, Scotland (CP) — British professional Keith MacDonald came from nowhere Wednesday to grab the first-round lead in the British open golf tournament with an astonishing 69 over the windswept Old Troon course.

The little-known professional's record-equalling round was fired as a steady easterly wind, drizzle and the tough, 7,045-yard Troon layout took their toll among the other 118 who qualified.

But four-time winner Peter Thomson of Australia blazed around in 70 and Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., the defending champion, was one under par at 71.

Bracketed with Palmer was Kel Nagle of Australia, the 1960 British open champion.

NELSON SPORT SCHEDULE

6:30 p.m. — Play-for-fun softball — Queens vs Savoys at Queen Elizabeth park; Independents vs Royal Hotel, Uphill park; Kootenay Forest vs Homelite, Civic A; BA vs Grey-Palms, Civic B.

Hockey Youths Find Clinic Tough Grind

To look at the many youths dressed in hockey garb and flashing their blades across the Civic Centre ice surface one would think they were passing the time of day with a leisurely skate.

But beneath that deceptive appearance lies a youth attempting to start a climb up the ladder of hockey success, with the professional training of the International Hockey Clinic.

For the 85 attending the clinic, hockey is not a pastime, it is work, hard work.

A typical day in the life of a hockey youth could possibly begin at 6 a.m., with the clang of the wakeup bell.

Minutes later he is on the ice participating in an early morning workout. Two hours after wakening he sits down for breakfast, knowing the remainder of the morning is his, but also knowing it will be indirectly used for hockey.

At noon there is lunch and at 1 p.m. he is on the ice again for another practical session. After a one hour session and a long stay under the shower, he can retire from hockey until after dinner.

In the evening he heads for a theory session, possibly consisting of a movie, demonstrations or chalk talk. At 10 p.m. he readies himself for bed in the combined room and board Civic Center Badminton Hall. At 10:30 it's lights out.

Others are lrckier having ice sessions at either 8:30 or 10:30 a.m. or afternoon sessions of 2:30 and 4 p.m. with each group alternating shifts daily.

PUCKS APPEAR

After three days of loosening up the rubber discs appeared on the ice Wednesday and a start of major teaching began.

For much of the next two weeks the youths learn to shoot, pass and stickhandle the puck properly. At the same time alertness, skating ability and general hockey ability will improve under the constant watch of hockey stars Andy Bathgate, Glenn Hall and Metro Prystai.

Scrimmaging will begin Friday with the clinic coming to a climatic end July 14 with three intersquad contests. At the end of the clinic each youth will receive a report of his hockey ability and chances of reaching the top of the hockey ladder.

Koochin Leads Winlaw to Win

WINLAW — J. Koochin clouted five hits, accounting for seven runs, as Winlaw walloped New Denver-Silverton 19-2 Sunday.

The host squad collected 24 hits from three New Denver-Silverton pitchers, Elsmore, Avison and Pengelley. Combined the trio struck out five.

P. Popoff, N. Saytsoff and P. Kabatoff shared Winlaw's pitching duties, fanning nine. Popoff was the winner and Elsmore received the loss.

The victory was the third straight for Winlaw and moved within one game of first place Slocan.

Howe Inks Wing Contract

GORDIE HOWE
. . . 17th contract.

DETROIT (AP)—Gordie Howe, highest pointmaker in National Hockey League history, signed a contract Wednesday for his 17th season with Detroit Red Wings.

"Only three more contracts to go," said the 34-year-old Howe, who has refused to think about retirement until he has played 20 NHL seasons.

The veteran right winger enjoyed his finest campaign last season since 1958-59. Howe scored 33 goals and 44 assists for 77 points, third best in the league.

Howe is holder of the NHL's records for games played (1050), assists (624) and points (1126). He trails Maurice Richard's NHL record for goals by only 42. The Montreal Canadien great retired two years ago after amassing 544 goals in 18 seasons.

Nakusp Scores 10th Straight Ball Victory

SLOCAN — Nakusp Pony Leaguers stretched their winning skein to 10 games Monday, edging Slocan Braves 5-3.

Righthander Stan Doi hurled a tight two-hit performance, but poor backing by his teammates accounted for the runs, as they made four miscues. Doi fanned 10 and walked five.

L. Waterers went the distance for the visitors giving up four hits and six walks, while fanning 16. M. Lowenberg and Doi hit doubles for Braves, while Gary Doi clouted a double.

Last Friday Braves strung together five hits and 16 walks to whitewash Kinnaird 16-4.

Play-For-Fun Softball

Nelson Hotel scored five runs in the fifth inning to dump B-T-N's 12-7 in an A division match Tuesday.

B-T-N	300 002 2— 7 10
Nelson	331 050 x—12 11

Benedetti and Malinousky hit home runs for the winners. Ken Dewar clouted a three-bagger for B-T-N.

Kootenay Forest	103 300 5—12 16
North Shore	336 764 x—29 21

Jim Young hit two home runs and Roger Kerby hit a solo hmer for North Shore.

LAST INNING RALLY GIVES MONTROSE WIN

A six run outburst in the seventh inning led Montrose to a 20-13 victory over Nelson Hardrocks in West Kootenay Women's softball competition recently.

Montrose grabbed the lead early in the game building up a strong 14-5 command game, before Nelson came roaring back cutting the gap to a one-run 14-13 lead.

Phillies Dump Houston Colts

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia Phillies continued their amazing success against Houston Colts Wednesday night by beating the Texans for the eighth straight time this season. Righthander Art Mahaffey posted his 11th victory, 6-1, with a five-hit effort.

Phillies made good use of their six hits of Hal Woodeshick and Dick Drott.

Tony Taylor, back in the Phillies lineup for the first time since he put a gash in the big toe of his left foot by kicking a clubhouse stool in San Francisco June 29, had a pair of doubles.

Mahaffey, who has won five of his last six starts and completed all of them, had a no-hitter going until the fourth when Joe Amalfitano blooped a double to right field.

Stone Captures Golf Sweepstakes Tourney

ROSSLAND — Trail's Ruby Stone, ace Kootenay woman golfer, topped 69 other women golfers Monday at the Rossland sweepstakes tournament.

Mrs. Stone topped the field as she carded an 83. Grace Comba, Trail, was runner-up.

Low net honors were captured by Noreen Johnson of Trail as she shot a 70. Runner-up was Margaret Ink, also of Trail.

In other competitions, Lil Lyon, Trail, had the best nine out in the 23 and under handicap while Wim Mitchell, Trail, topped the 24 and over handicap group. In the best nine in, Evelyn Johnson, Penticton, topped the 23 and under list with Marg Hamilton of Nelson leading the 24 and over group.

Par point win went to Vi Hurdle, Trail, in the 23 and under handicappers and Helen Roberts, Trail, took the 24 and over handicap laurels.

Hidden hole prizes were won by Jean Fitzpatrick, Castlegar; Jo Taylor, Castlegar; Grace Donaldson, Trail, and Shirley Frame, Nelson. Most honest golfer was Mickey Johnson, Castlegar.

In the putting competition, Irene Fredrickson took top place in the 23 and under group and Isa Montpellier, Trail, the 24 and over division.

MARKET TRENDS

NEW YORK (AP) — Once again the stock market had some good news to nourish it Wednesday and prices advanced for the third straight session. Trading was fairly active.

This time Wall Street was heartened by news that the Senate finance committee had voted to eliminate dividend and interest tax withholding from the tax revision bill — a provision generally disliked in the financial community.

The news came a day after the market had rallied vigorously on word that the federal reserve board had eased margins for stock purchases to 50 per cent from 70 per cent.

Stocks of the savings - and-loan holding companies, which would be particularly affected by the proposed withholding provision, showed exceptional strength.

Even before the news came, however, the list was encouraged by the leadership of American Telephone, the most widely-held stock of all, which was bought heavily following the successful launching of its Telstar communications satellite. A. T. and T. ended the day as the most active stock, up 3½ at 113¼ on 105,800 shares.

The Dow Jones industrial average which at 1 p.m. was off 2.64, did a turn-around and closed at 589.06 for a net gain of 3.05.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.30 to 219.50.

An estimated $1,800,000,000 was added to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the rise in the AP average.

Korvette was the second most active issue, rising 2⅜ to 43¼ on 104,300 shares. Third was the volume leader among the savings-and-loans, San Diego Imperial, which gained ⅞ at 13¼ on 101,400 shares.

McIntyre Porcupine advanced a full point to lead the Canadian list higher. Granby Mining as up ⅞, Dome Mines ⅜, Hudson Bay Mining ¼ and Aluminium Ltd., and Distillers Seagrams ⅛ each.

Prices also rose on the American Exchange. Shawinigan added ½, Canadian Marconi ⅜ and Scurry Rainbow Oil ⅛. Brazilian Traction eased ⅛ and Preston 1-16.

MONTREAL (CP) — Stocks regained earlier losses to present a mixed to slightly lower picture on the Montreal and Canadian exchanges Wednesday. Declines outnumbered advances by seven to six. Trading was moderate.

Banks were up 0.05 on index with Royal Bank adding ¾ to 67¼, Bank of Montreal ½ to 57 while Bank of Nova Scotia fell ½ to 61½.

Steels were mixed with Atlas Steel off ⅜ to 32¼ and Algoma ¼ to 40, Dominion Foundries added ¼ to 51¾ and Steel of Canada ⅛ to 17. Hudson's Bay Company was untraded.

Base metals were strong with Noranda at 29⅛ and Hudson Bay Mining at 53½, each adding ¼. Asbestos rose ⅜ to 25⅝, and International Nickel ⅝ to 60¾. Consolidated Mining and Smelting was the only exception, off ¼ to 20.

Interprovincial Pipe Line added ⅝ to 74⅛, among refining oils, while Imperial Oil was up ¼ to 30¾ and Trans-Canada Pipe Lines at 19¾ and Trans Mountain Pipe Line at 13⅝ both added ⅛. Canadian Oil lost ¼ to 30¾.

Other losers included Bell Telephone at 51¼, Calgary Power at 20¾, Distillers - Seagrams at 41, Consolidated Paper at 40¼, all off ¼. Abitibi lost ⅛ to 45⅛ and Walker ⅝ to 49⅞.

Price others added 1¼ to 45, 45, its second big jump in two days, while Pacific Pete added ⅜ to 14¼ and Dominion Tar and Chemical at 17½, CPR at 23⅝ and Industrial Acceptance at 20⅞, all added ⅛.

Mount Pleasant was heavily traded in mines jumping 20 cents to $2.08 while Anglo-American Molybdenite rose 10 cents to $2.60. Chemalloy fell seven cents to $1.10 and Glen Lake Silver five cents to $2.35.

On index, banks were up 0.05 to 57.47, utilities 0.1 to 131.4, industrials up 0.8 at 298.8, combined up 0.5 to 243.0, papers up 3.9 to 483.6 and golds were unchanged at 80.11.

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market wandered through a totally lacklustre session Wednesday, as trading dwindled to near its year's low.

Industrials, following two days of climbing prices, dipped from the opening, then climbed back to close practically unchanged on index. Golds and western oils showed fractional index advances.

In the main list, Abitibi dipped ¼, Atlas Steel ½, Distillers Seagrams ⅜, Canadian Breweries ¼ and Interprovincial Pipe Line ⅜. Consolidated Paper, Bell Telephone, Dominion Foundries nd Steel and Bank of Nova Scotia all declined in a ⅛ to ⅜ range.

Gainers included Price Brothers, ahead a point, Imperial Oil, up ¾, Royal Bank, ahead ½ and Consumers' Gas, up ⅛.

Among base metals, International Nickel fell ⅝, Labrador ½, Falconbridge ¼ and Consolidated Mining and Smelting ⅛. Hudson Bay Mining advanced ½ and Noranda ⅜.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X B
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

World News Briefs

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — Robert Welch, founder of the right-wing John Birch Society, told about 1,000 East Texans Tuesday night that President de Gaulle of France "is a Communist." He charged de Gaulle sold out Algeria and France to the Communists by backing Algerian rebels in their fight for independence from France.

MEMBERSHIP DOUBLES

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's Communist party has 90,000 members, double the number of three years ago, the government public security agency said in a special report Tuesday.

CLIMBER KILLED

JACKSON, Wyo. (AP) — One mountain climber was killed and another was injured Tuesday when they fell on 12,798-foot Middle Teton Mountain in Grand Teton National Park. U.S. park service officials withheld names of the men pending notification of relatives.

London Times Recalls Earlier TV Message From U.S. to U.K.

LONDON (AP) — While applauding the launching of the U.S. communicationu satellite Telstar, the London Times said Wednesday it was not the first direct reception in Britain of television from the United States.

The Times says the first reception was by Douglas Walters (call-sign G5CV) in London Sept. 17, 1930.

Walters received a TV picture at his London home. He said he telegraphed first details of what he had seen to New York and received a cable from the General Electric Company of Schenectady confirming his reception.

He said he learned that the pictures he received was the last of three so-called secret transmissions from New York to a receiving station operated by the German government.

Walters said no picture was seen in Germany — despite the use of elaborate aerials.

His reception was at the time widely reported by the British press.

Professor Takes Gloomy View of Future Setback

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada likely is heading for a year-long recession starting late this year, John Sawyer, economics professor of the University of Toronto, said Wednesday.

He told a federal conciliation board studying new contract demands presented by the railways' 100,000 non - operating employees that the recession probably will have turned again into a period of economic expansion through 1964 and 1965.

He was called before the board as a witness by the railways to give a forecast of what Canada's economy will be doing during the years a new non-ops contract could be expected to run.

He said that Canad still is in a period of economic expansion that began mid - way through last year, although signs of weakness have started to appear.

'WILL END SOON'

These weaknesses indicate that the present expansion will not develop into a boom such as Canada experienced starting in 1955, but will come to an end soon, he said.

Professor Sawyer was the last witness scheduled to be called by the railways in building their case abainst the non-ops new demands.

The three-man board was expected to adjourn Wednesday for a week and then reconvene for rebuttal arguments. Its chairman is Mr. Justice Craig Monroe of the Supreme Court of British Columbia. The railway nominee is Halifax lawyer Gordon Cooper and David Lewis of Toronto is the union representative.

The 15 CLC - affiliated unions that negotiate jointly with the seven railways involved in the dispute presented their basic case earlier.

Their demands include a 22-cent-an-hour wage increase, a job security proposal that amounts to a virtual job freeze and higher welfare benefits.

Chinese Reported Digging In Around Indian Outpost

By V. M. NAIR

NEW DELHI, India (Reuters) Four hundred Communist Chinese troops Wednesday were reported digging in around an Indian Army outpost as India hurried reinforcements to the beleaguered garrison.

Informed sources said the Chinese apparently were trying to isolate and capture the outpost in the Galwan Valley in the disputed Ladakh area of Kashmir.

The sources said the garrison still was in radio contact with army headquarters, but since the Chinese encirclement was complete, it would be difficult to supply the outpost by land.

There are no roads in the area of the outpost. Sources said the Chinese appeared to be using pack animals for transport.

The sources declined to disclose how many Indian troops were surrounded, but termed the Chinese action "a most serious provocation."

The alleged Chinese encirclement was disclosed Tuesday night in a protest note released by the Indian external affairs ministry that branded the Chinese action "unwarranted aggressive activity."

The note said the Galwan Valley of the desolate Aksaichin plateau was 28 miles from the Indian-Chinese border, according to Chinese maps.

This was a "serious violation of Indian territory," the note said.

The Communist Chinese control about 14,000 square miles of Ladakh, which they claim as Chinese territory.

The Indian version of the encirclement made the Chinese move appear deliberate.

The note gave the Chinese the opportunity to pull out gracefully by saying:

"If any Chinese patrol has erroneously infiltrated into the lower reaches of the Galwan River, it must return to its base.

"At the same time the government of China must stop incessant intrusions deeper into Indian territory and ceaseless provocative activities against Indian border guards.

U.S. Newspaper Guild Denounce Sask. Doctors

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The American Newspaper Guild's convention Wednesday adopted resolutions denouncing the withdrawal of services by doctors in Saskatchewan.

The more than 200 delegates to the convention voted unanimously for a resolution which described as "shameful and inhuman" the Saskatchewan doctors' refusal to comply with the province's new medical care insurance plan.

"If anyone dies, and that death can be traced to the desertion of a doctor from his post, then I charge that the doctor is . . . guilty of murder just as if he had committed that act with his own hand," said Murray Tate of Toronto in support of the resolution. His remarks were greeted by vigorous applause.

The convention also urged the administration-backed King-Anderson Bill for medical care to the aged under social security.

The resolution said the proposed U.S. program was "necessary, humane legislation which sensibly can be financed through social security with wage earners ensuring their future medical care during their productive years."

Continues Voyage

PANAMA CITY (AP) — The Greek freighter Demetrius, halted by U.S. authorities because its overload cargo of Cuban sugar for Red China caused a nine-inch overdraft, cleared the Panama Canal Tuesday night after a two-day delay. A shipping surveyor pronounced the ship safe for transit and the U.S. officials allowed the ship to proceed.

Russians Said Far Off On Anti-Missile System

WASHINGTON (AP) — Informed U.S. officials believe the Russians still are a long way from achieving a combat steady anti - missile missile system.

They are not disputing that the Russians may have developed an anti - missile rocket, as Soviet Premier Khrushchev claimed Tuesday. But they stress that development of such a rocket is only part — and not the most difficult part — of the problem of fashioning a complete anti - missile system, with its associated radar and other highly sensitive and complex gear.

One of the biggest problems—as the United States has found in its work with the Nike Zeus anti - missile system — is to perfect radar that can discriminate between oncoming warheads and decoys sent out by an denemy to confuse and foil the defences.

One official familiar with intelligence reports said the Russians have been emplacing large numbers of fairly powerful radar units, but that this radar is believed able to reach no higher than perhaps 100,000 feet and apparently is part of defences against manned bombers.

NO INFORMATION

He said there is no information here to indicate the Russians have developed an operational anti - missile warhead, as distinguished from a research and test model.

It is known that the Russians last September exploded high above earth a nuclear test device that had some of the characteristics of an anti - missile weapon.

President Kennedy, in a broadcast four months ago, said the Russians appeared to be seeking information on the effects of nuclear blasts on radar and communications.

U.S. scientists were looking for similar information in detonating a hydrogen device more than 200 miles above the Pacific last Sunday night.
