Water Plant Promoter To Negotiate Set Prices

By KEN KELLY

OTTAWA (CP)—Social Credit Leader Thompson said Wednesday the promoter of a government-assisted heavy water plant boasts his policy is to negotiate a higher sales price from the federal government than the price quoted in his company's winning bid to build the plant.

Mr. Thompson's statement in an interview followed a lengthy exchange in the Commons between him and industry minister Drury about prices and subsidies for the heavy water plant, to be built in Cape Breton.

Mr. Drury informed Mr. Thompson that the bid of Deuterium of Canada Limited of $20.50 a pound for heavy water was the lowest "unconditional" proposal among those considered for the $30,000,000 project.

He said the federal government also will be paying about 91 cents a ton subsidy for coal to be used in producing steam necessary for the production of heavy water.

OFFERED LOWER PRICE

Mr. Thompson said in an interview one of four bidders for the plant offered a lower price —$19 a pound decreasing to $18 in five years—and the coal subsidy will mean a price to Deuterium of $21.50 a pound.

He said the head of Deuterium of Canada, Jerome Spevack, "has boasted that his policy is to contract a cheap price and then negotiate a higher price later with the government."

"The reason for his (Mr. Spevack's) severance with United States Atomic Energy Commission at the Savannah River heavy water plant might be interesting."

Mr. Thompson said three "legitimate Canadian companies" have been left out in the cold.

TAXPAYER LOSES

"Any one of these offered to build in Nova Scotia if it could be proved more economical. Again the taxpayer has been sold down the river."

The unsuccessful bidders were Dynamic Power Corporation Limited, Calgary; Imperial Oil Limited, Toronto; and Western Deuterium Company Limited, Victoria.

The Cape Breton plant is to produce a minimum of 200 tons of heavy water annually for the first five years. At present, Canada gets its heavy water, essential to development of nuclear power, from the United States at $26 a pound.

Mr. Drury said that at present Deuterium of Canada is owned by Americans but a future share distribution will put more than 50 per cent of its share ownership in the hands of Canadian residents.

Mr. Thompson has given notice that he will move a motion in the Commons requiring the government to make public the recommendation of Atomic Energy of Canada Limited on the heavy water plant proposals.

Pope's Visit Brings Joy To Holy Land

JERUSALEM (AP)—Expressions of joy and surprise marked reaction here Wednesday to word that Pope Paul VI intends to visit the Holy Land in January.

Jordan's radio broadcast the news.

"We are overjoyed; the people are overjoyed," said Msgr. James Beltriti, chancellor of the Roman Catholic Church's Jerusalem patriarchate. "But about details, we know nothing as yet."

In Beirut, Lebanon, a spokesman for the Moslem grand mufti of Jerusalem said:

"We heartily welcome the visit of Pope Paul to Jerusalem. We hope the visit will help him see for himself the facts there and the persecution to which Christians and Moslems have been subject at the hands of the Israelis. We hope by his international influence on all Catholics he may help find a just solution to the problem."

Archimandrite Goffrail Salibi of the Greek Orthodox bishopric of Beirut, asked for his see's reaction to the forthcoming visit, replied: "This concerns the Catholic hierarchy and we have no opinion."

POPE DECREES REFORM

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has decreed Roman Catholicism's greatest reform in worship in 1,700 years and told his bishops they must assume a greater share in church government.

Addressing the Vatican ecumenical council Wednesday, he also revealed plans for an unprecedented personal pilgrimage sometime next month to the Holy Land — the first by a reigning pontiff.

The steps were strides on the path to Christian unity and Roman Catholic renewal, a path charted by Pope John XXIII.

In a three-hour meeting of the council, its last until next September ,the Pope and his assembled bishops made sweeping changes in centuries-old traditions and practices.

Their liturgy reform, in the first Roman Catholic conciliar decree since the proclamation of papal infallibility by the previous council 93 years ago, opened the way for the use of modern languages in the mass and sacraments. Latin had been used since the third century A.D.

Johnson To Increase Jobs With 5 Million His Goal

CASTROITE HIJACKERS—Two of the six Castroite terrorists who hijacked a Venezuelan airliner over Bolivar City and forced the pilot to fly to Trinidad are shown after being taken in custody in Port of Spain, Trinidad. They are Enrique Delphin, who calls himself Major Pino, and Olivia Gomez, who calls herself Major Olga. All six now are back in Venezuela, awaiting trial in a secret place.

Business, Labor Men Pledge Full Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 5,000,000 increase in jobs was set by President Johnson Wednesday as a goal for his administration. He also asked organized labor and business to support tax cuts and civil rights legislation.

His appeals were made during a busy day which included a ceremony to honor a secret service man who "volunteered his life to save mine."

The president met in turn with the AFL-CIO executive council and members of the business council in the White House cabinet room.

In the strongest of terms, the president told both groups he wants and needs their help. And from leaders of both he received promises of support or expressions of confidence.

From the cabinet room meeting, Johnson went with the AFL-CIO group to the White House flower garden where he made a fighting speech appealing for help on his legislative program.

And he made a little speech to the businessmen after they had moved from the cabinet room to the fish room of the White House.

BANISH FEARS

He advised the businessmen that they ought to banish fears and doubts about his administration.

"This administration," he said, "wants to help you. We are not pro-labor, or pro-business, or pro-any-special-sector. We are pro - what is best forAmerica. I happen to believe that a strong vibrant economy is as essential to our leadership in the free world as our military hardware."

Both to the labor and business representatives, Johnson called for an attack on unemployment and held out the tax bill as the major weapon to use.

To each group he put in a strong appeal for support for civil rights legislation. Both measures are making slow headway on Capitol Hill.

To members of the business advisory council, Johnson said that the tax cut bill "languishing before Congress" could boost the gross national product an extra $12,000,000,000 in 1964 and when fully effective by an extra $30,000,000,000 a year.

It was in his talk to the labor men that Johnson set a goal of 5,000,000 more jobs, to a total of $75,000,000.

He did not set a time limit for this objective.

CONFERS HONOR

Johnson started his official day with a ceremony honoring secret service man Rufus W. Youngblood, 39, who was riding in Johnson's limousine in the same procession with the president, John F. Kennedy, in Dallas when Kennedy was assassinated Nov. 22.

Youngblood, in the words of a citation for the U.S. treasury department's highest award, "instantly vaulted across the front seat of the car, pushed the vice - president to the floor and shielded the vice - president's body with his own. His prompt response in the face of great danger and his readiness to sacrifice his life to save the vice - president were in the highest traditions of the secret service."

The citation and gold medal were presented by Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon, with Youngblood and his family, Johnson and a throng of friends and associates of the agent looking on.

Columbia Negotiators Meet Monday

WASHINGTON (CP) — Canadian and U.S. negotiators on the Columbia River power treaty will hold another policy conference at Ottawa next Monday, External Affairs Minister Paul Martin said Wednesday.

He said "we may be near the final meeting."

The date and place were set after Martin met at noon with Interior Secretary Stewart Udall.

Martin told reporters that two reports by working groups set up by the negotiators at a previous session now have been completed and officials of the two countries have had an opportunity to assess them.

He said he plans to discuss the reports with British Columbia officials Friday. It is understood the two reports deal with financing the project and the price that may be obtained for surplus Canadian power sold in the U.S.

A major issue holding completion of negotiations is British Columbia's demand for five mills a kilowatt hour on the export of surplus Canadian power resulting from implementation of the long-standing Columbia River treaty. U.S. consumers previously offered the equivalent of four mills in Canadian funds.

Asked whether this price gap had been overcome, Martin told reporters he would discuss the price issue "when the final meeting takes place."

PREMIER SHAW, WIFE, SISTER IN ACCIDENT

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP) — Premier Walter R. Shaw, Mrs Shaw and the premier's sister, Mrs. Jean Horton, were injured Wednesday afternoon when involved in a traffic accident near Cornwall, six miles from Charlottetown.

A car driven by the premier collided almost head-on witha half-ton truck.

Premier Shaw suffered a severe shaking up and numerous bruises.

Mrs. Shaw had a severe cut on the forehead and possible concussion. Her left wrist was broken.

Mrs. Horton had a broken left wrist also.

HOSPITAL MAKES MONEY OUT OF X-RAY SILVER

VICTORIA (CP) — They're "mining" silver in a Victoria hospital.

The metal that formerly was literally washed down the drain at St. Joseph's Hospital now is being salvaged and earning the hospital $1,000 year.

The silver comes from x-ray plates and at one time wasn't worth saving. But when the world price of silver jumped the salvaging began.

Terrorists Attack Ambassador's Home

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Terrorists machine-gunned the residence of British Ambassador Sir Douglas Busk Wednesday, apparently signalling the broadening of pro - Communist attacks in Venezuela.

Bullets crashed through a window and damaged the coat of arms at the entrance to the residence, but Lady Busk and servants were unhurt. The Ambassador was away at the time. The residence is in the fashionable country club section of eastern Caracas.

The Armed Forces of National Liberation, the terrorist underground, telephoned newspapers Tuesday warning that henceforth British as well as U.S. and Venezuelan government installations would be attacked. No reason was given.

The attack on the British residence came after a night and day of terrorist attacks elsewhere in Caracas, in the interior and on the west coast. At least three persons were killed.

Despite their failure to disrupt Sunday's national elections, the pro - Communist terrorists pressed on in an attempt to topple President Romulo Betancourt before he leaves office in March after a five-year term.

The count by the Supreme Electoral Council proceeded slowly. Council officials said they expect to proclaim formally by Sunday what every one knows—that Paul Leoni of Betancourt's Democratic Action party has won the presidency.

With 2,100,000 of about 3,000,000 votes tabulated, the official count was: Leoni 639,387 and his nearest opponent, Rafael Caldera, 413,644.

Eric Kiernan Sworn In

VICTORIA (CP) — Mines Minister Eric Kiernan was sworn in Wednesday as provincial recreation minister, succeeding Earle Westwood, personally defeated in the Sept. 30 provincial election .

Mr. Kiernan was also given Mr. Westwood's conservation and commercial transport portfolios in the minor cabinet shuffle, first since the election.

Mr. Westwood was defeated in Nanaimo and The Islands riding by New Democrat Dave Stupich.

NOW A SMILE—What seems to be Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy's first smile since assassination of her husband lights her face as she thanks the Arlington National Cemetery superintendent for courtesies during funeral arrangements.

Prince George To Build $2 Million Centre

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — Construction is expected to start early in January on a proposed multi - million dollar shopping centre here.

J. A. Reid, President of Caledonian Leaseholds Ltd., said Wednesday his firm hopes the 20-store complex will be substantially completed by April 30.

Estimated cost is $2,000,000.

The shopping centre will occupy slightly more than seven of the nine acres of land which Caledonian Leaseholds bought from the city last summer for $73,600.

Hunting Death Ruled Accidental

KAMLOOPS (CP) — A father who shot his son to death was an experienced hunter who broke just about every rule in the book, Kamloops coroner Dr. Ivan Smillie told an inquest jury.

He was addressing the jury Wednesday before sending it out to consider a verdict in the death of Gordon Prigmore, 16, of Celista, on Shuswap Lake.

Th eyouth was shot to death Nov. 23 while hunting with his father, Glen Harold Prigmore, 40, about 40 miles northeast of here.

The jury returned a verdict of accidental death and did not make any recommendations.

During the inquest, the father testified he was stalking a deer uphill when he saw movement in a bush and fired. A yellow hard hat flew into the air and Prigmore said he knew he'd hit his son.

Dr. Smillie said Prigmore fired without seeing his target, only moving bushes.

"The visibility was relatively poor," the coroner said, noting Prigmore testified he could see about 75 yards and the shot that killed the boy was fired from about 100 yards away.

"Most of the clothing worn by Prigmore and his son was just so much camouflage," the coroner concluded.

Injured Father Faces Bleak Christmas

EDMONTON (CP) — More than anything else Jim Moore would like to spend Christmas at home with his wife and two children.

But he won't—because of a heroic and vain effort to save a three-year-old child from under the wheels of the city garbage truck which Moore had loaded for a living.

He hasn't walked since the accident nearly eight weeks ago—and he doesn't know when he will.

"There's no use bugging the doctors," says the 53-year-old city employee. "They know what they're doing. When the time comes they'll tell me."

He suffered internal injuries and a cracked spine-disc when his legs got tangled up in Dwayne Harder's tricycle and the big truck's back axle.

He says he regrets only that little Dwayne died.

He is receiving full workmen's compensation while in hospital. Moore spends most of his time exercising "to try to keep in some kind of shape. I read a little, but I'm not much of a reader."

He is receiving full workmen's compensation while in hospital and the city has a job waiting for him. But it won't be lifting. The doctors say he won't be strong enough.

"Whatever it is I'd like to get started. It'll be a lot better than lying around."

Stolen Coins Recovered

VANCOUVER (CP) — Geoffrey Wing, 23, was committed in magistrate's court Wednesday for trial on a charge of being in possession of $4,800 in gold sovereigns which the crown says were stolen from the home of Mr. Justice Angelo Branca.

The robbery occurred last July 21 before Mr. Branca had been appointed to the Supreme Court of B.C. Robbers who entered his home tied Mr. Branca and his wife up and escaped with $6,000 in gold sovereigns and about $3,000 in cash.

Police said most of the English coins have since been recovered.

PENTICTON (CP) — A wage dispute between teachers and school trustees here will go to arbitration Dec. 16, it was announced at a school board meeting. G. O. Fahrni of Abbotsford was named board arbitrator.

Pearson, Johnson Meet January 2

By ARCH MacKENZIE

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Pearson will go to Washington Jan. 22 to confer with President Johnson, it was announced late Wednesday in the Canadian and United States capitals.

General arrangements were completed after consultations between External Affairs Minister Martin and Secretary of State Dean Rusk earlier in the day at Washington, where Mr. Martin is visiting on other business.

The invitation by the new president was originally extended in a brief personal encounter when Mr. Pearson attended the Washington funeral of President Kennedy Nov. 25.

Inevitably, the January meeting will recall another and gayer consultation just last May when Mr. Pearson as a new prime minister paid his first official visit to Mr. Kennedy, who played host at the Cape Cod community of Hyannis Port where the Kennedy family has deep roots.

The so-called "spirit of Hyannis Port" that ensued was fashioned in an atmosphere noted for its ease and cordiality—even though subsequent events put considerable pressure on Canadian-U.S. relations.

REVIEW PROBLEMS

Many of the same problems Mr. Pearson discussed with Mr. Kennedy will be reviewed with Mr. Johnson. Some new ones are likely to be added.

Washington itself as the site of the talks will curb some of the informality that might otherwise have occurred.

So will the death of President Kennedy by an assassin's bullets in Dallas, and the burdens placed on Mr. Johnson when the event catapulted him into the chief office of the most powerful country in the world.

The communique issued after Hyannis Port indicates the general nature of discussions at Washington.

Internationally, these can be expected to touch on the North Atlantic alliance, mutual expressions of support for the United Nations and continued efforts to secure peace.

DOLLAR OFF

NEW YORK (CP)—Canadian dollar down 1-64 at 92 47-64 in terms of U.S. funds. Week ago 92 25-32. Pound sterling up 3-32 at $2.79 23-32.

MONTREAL (CP) — The United States dollar in terms of Canadian funds was unchanged at $1.07 13-16.

Senator Killed During Session

RIO DE JANEIRO (Reuters) A Brazilian senator wounded in an exchange of shots between two other senators died in a hospital Wednesday night.

Senator Jose Cairali was wounded in the head and stomach when the gun fight broke out in the Senate chamber, the Brazilian government news agency said. The Senate is in the new federal capital of Brasilia.

The agency said senators Arnon de Mello and Sylvestre Pericles de Bois Monteiro, both from Alagoas state but bitter political enemies, exchanged revolver shots as Monteiro spoke from the rostrum.

Cairali, from the new state of Acre, was hit and another bullet smashed harmlessly into the parliamentary press box.

Cairali was taken to a hospital and received the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church. The Senate session was adjourned.

De Mello and Monteiro were reported later to be under arrest and a special session of the Senate was called to decide what action was to be taken. Neither was injured in the shooting.

The agency said the shooting started when de Mello refused to speak with his back to his old political enemy Monteiro, because he claimed the latter had threatened to kill him.

Jetliner Crash Probe To Take 2 Weeks

STE. THERESE, Que. (CP)—Investigators at the site of Friday's DC-8F jetliner crash estimate it will take at least two weeks to get out the wreckage and identify the victims of the disaster in which 118 persons died.

Dr. Jean-Louis Taillon, district coroner, said 50 victims had been identified by late Wednesday. He did not expect to reopen the inquest into the disaster "for at least two weeks."

Relatives have identified 15 of the victims and the remains were released by the coroner for private funerals.

TCA had announced that memorial services for the crash victims were to be held in Montreal and Toronto Wednesday.

In Montreal the services would be at 2 p.m. in Christ Church Cathedral and at 5 p.m. in Mary Queen of the World Basilica.

In Toronto, the service was scheduled for 2 p.m. in the University of Toronto's Convocation Hall.

PROBING MOUND

At the crash site 20 miles north of Montreal, an estimated 300 searchers working day and night are probing a giant mound 350 feet in diameter.

This is the area believed to contain the fuselage of the jetliner and the remains of many victims.

Meanwhile, Quebec Provincial Police reported success in their request that persons return parts of the wreckage grabbed as souvenirs.

Dozens of pieces of wreckage were returned and police said several were important for the task of determining the cause of the crash.

The souvenir hunters returned 24 pieces of the airplane to the RCMP, several dozen more to provincial police at the crash site, and left one chunk—twelve by six inches—outside a Montreal police station.

And in This Corner . . .

VANCOUVER (CP)—A man who never lived in Vancouver and who died three years ago has been added to the Vancouver voters' list for the civic elections.

The disclosure was made Wednesday by the son of Helmer Boman, Henry, 44, who said his father came to Canada from Sweden in 1947 and settled in Ontario until he went to live at Youbou on Vancouver Island. He died in 1960 at the age of 65.

A card telling him where to vote was dropped through the mail slot at the East 13th Avenue home of his widow, Mrs. Elin Boman.

Civic officials promised an investigation.

Yesterday it was disclosed a 14-year-old boy had also somehow got on the voters' list. And last year a Pomeranian dog was registered by a practical joker.

New Snow Causes Two City Accidents

Wednesday's fresh fall of snow resulted in only two accidents in Nelson, city police reported last night. The accidents were the first for Safe Driving Week.

Wednesday afternoon, a car driven by Clarence Boettger was in a minor collision with a parked vehicle in the 700-block Josephine Street. Boettger was proceeding north down Josephine when he noticed children playing on the roadway. He struck the parked car when he swerved to miss the children. Owner of the parked car was not identified.

A two-car collision on Latimer Street bridge resulted in about $250 damage.

Erle Halliwell was travelling west on the bridge when a car driven by Arthur Knorr skidded into the half-ton vehicle driven by Halliwell.

Knorr's car received about $200 damage, the truck $50.

A third vehicle narrowly missed colliding with the vehicles.

Reports received stated that traffic was tied up for some time on the "CPR hill," on Granite Road, and also Taghum Hill, until sand trucks came on the scene.

RCMP stated no accidents were reported from any district points.

Find Missing Hunter

Albert Law, missing since Tuesday night on a hunting trip was found by searchers Wednesday with a twisted knee.

RCMP, a tracking dog and 12 members of a volunteer search and rescue team found the Deer Park resident when they heard a shot fired in reply to one by the searchers.

The search began when Law's car was found about eight miles from his home at Deer Park on Lower Arrow Lake.

Scoutmaster Wins Award

Ten years of outstanding service to the Boy Scout movement has warranted Nelson Hindle a 10-year service medal.

Assistant Scout Master Hindle was presented the medal by District Commissioner E. K. Evans on behalf of the Boy Scouts of Canada.

Corporal Hindle has served with distinction scout clubs in Vancouver, Hope, Hazelton and Nelson.

Nelson Scout Master Bjarne Thorshaug and Cpl. Nelson were presented Gilwell Badges.

Beer Parlor Partitions To Stay Up

Nelson hotel owners, as a whole, are contemplating no major changes in policy as a result of the British Columbia Liquor Control Board's decision to permit an end to segregation of the sexes in beverage rooms.

All owners contacted Wednesday said they would not take down partitions between the men's and women's beer parlors on their premises, nor would they be making any great change in their service to customers.

The general feeling was that the new freedom granted by the LCB would make no great difference to the hotels or customers in Nelson, and it was felt that any major change, either in construction or policy, would not warrant the cost of the change.

It was realized, however, that patrons could now use either side of a licensed premises and the only stipulation made by the LCB is that beer parlors be strictly controlled or policed.

If a written complaint is received by the LCB, a hotel permitting mixed drinking could be made to return to the old policy of separated parlors for men and, women and escorts.

The feeling is, that the only change that will be made in Nelson is that beer parlors will no longer be segregated.

Gaglardi Inspects Kaslo District Roads

KASLO (Staff) — British Columbia's high-flying minister of highways, Hon. P. A. Gaglardi, ground to a slow crawl while on an inspection tour of the Kaslo Lardeau district roads.

Mr. Gaglardi came to Kaslo Wednesday at the instigation of the Kaslo Chamber of Commerce. Although Castlegar airport has been socked in to commercial flights, Mr. Gaglardi's small private plane was able to get in.

He was met at Castlegar by Jack Morris, president of the Kaslo chamber and driven to Kaslo, Lardeau and Marblehead. At Coffee Creek, the party stopped for a few minutes to inspect the bluffs. It was about 3 p.m. when the party finally reached Kaslo and had luncheon.

From there, members of the Kaslo and Lardeau chambers drove with Mr. Gaglardi to inspect the road to Lardeau and the Duncan dam site.

The poor condition of the road to Lardeau was hidden by a fresh coat of snow but the potholes were nevertheless obvious. At Marblehead the minister transferred to a jeep to inspect the Duncan dam site but by the time he got there, it was snowing heavily and was dark. As it was late no time could be wasted because of a dinner held in his honor in Kaslo.

At the banquet Mr. Gaglardi would not make any promises to begin work on the Kaslo-Lardeau road but did say that some work would be done soon on the Coffee Creek bluffs.

A report of Mr. Gaglardi's speech will be carried in Friday's paper.

MARSEILLE, France (AP) — Internazionale of Milan defeated the Monoca Sports Association soccer team 3-1 Wednesday and advanced to the quarter-finals of the European Cup competition on a 4-1 goal aggregate.

No Conflict, Speakers Say Of College

The proposed regional college would not conflict with the purposes of the vocational school or Notre Dame University, Kinsmen Club members were told Tuesday night.

Speakers were Richard Palmer, chairman of the Nelson district School Board, and Charles Cuthbert, district superintendent of schools.

They explained that the university does not cater to students without full matriculation standing. The college catered to students who desired more education but not a university degree and also was an answer to increased demands for higher education by more students.

Universities, they said, must therefore raise their admission requirements, limit enrolment and exclude many deserving young people.

At the club's business session, arrangements were made to supply Christmas hampers to needy families. Annual Snow Ball and Frolic was set at Dec. 21 and the children's annual Christmas party at Dec. 22.

Mrs. Buckley Heads Handicapped Society

Mrs. P. W. Buckley was elected president of the Kootenay Society for Handicapped Children (Nelson branch) for 1964 term, Monday night.

Other officers elected were E. S. Owens, first vice-president; J. McCulloch, second vice-president; Miss E. Hamson, secretary and A. Olson, treasurer.

Five delegates were also appointed to the Board of Governors. They were B. C. Affleck, Dr. G. Callbeck, U. Elms, and Mrs. Buckley. Alternate delegates appointed were Miss Hamson and N. E. Stibbs.

The group decided to present an honorary life membership to George Talbot, who is leaving Nelson to reside in England. He was thanked for his many years of participation in the Society.

Arrangements were made to have a Christmas party at the Cedar Hill School, Dec. 16. Tea will be served and the children will be given gifts by Santa Claus.

The Society will take part in the National Flowers of Hope campaign next year and seeds will be distributed for Mother's Day.

Donations and memorials totalling 46 were acknowledged.

Typhoid Case Suspected

CASTLEGAR (CP) — Health authorities investigated Wednesday the case of a 17-year-old immigrant from the Azores who has been here a month and who, they said, is suspected to be suffering from typhoid fever.

He was first treated in hospital and now is undergoing further treatment at home. He was released from hospital Wednesday.

Provincial health authorities have been notified and control measures have been instituted locally. It is said he had "very limited contacts" with other residents.

Dr. James McAnulty, medical health officer at Trail, stressed that sanitary conditions such as exist in Castlegar at present are bound to result in such diseases as have been suffered there recently such as hepatiits, a suspected polio case and now typhoid.

In the Courts

A Shoreacres man who survived a perilous plunge in a car down the steep bank of Highway No. 3 near Corra Linn was judged not guily of an impaired driving charge in provincial court Tuesday.

Mike Malakoff told magistrate William Evans that his car had a blowout on Oct. 13 and that it went up the right bank then swung over to the other side, plunging over the bank.

RCMP testified that Malakoff appeared in a dazed condition and his breath smelled of liquor. The court gave the accused the benefit of the doubt, hearing that he was in a state of shock at the time when he was arrested.

Speeding in a construction zone at Brilliant cost R. K. Burr of R.R. 1 and Peter Milton of Nelson $10 fines each.

L. E. Sommerfield of Vancouver was fined $10 for speeding near Terrace while C. D. Lancaster of Salmo was fined $20 and had his licence endorsed for speeding at Terrace. He was clocked at speeds up to 68 mph on the 50 mph speed limit stretch of highway, court was told.

Joy F. McDougall of South Slocan was found not guilty on a technicality on a charge of passing another vehicle when there was not sufficient vision ahead. The RCMP failed to prove to the court's satisfaction if she had crossed over the centre stripe during the offence.

S. A. Mosher of Vancouver was fined $15 for speeding at Beasley Bluffs while J. W. Inglis of Vernon was found guilty of speeding in the Slocan Valley and fined $10.

In family and children's court, Judge William Evans fined two city juveniles $25 each on a charge of illegal possession of liquor.

A 10-year-old boy was placed on probation after being found guilty of stealing a cheap pen flashlight from a downtown store.

John Miller, 18, of Nelson was fined $25 and costs for being in possession of liquor. He pleaded guilty before city police court Magistrate R. S. Nelson.

Two Nelson juveniles, 16 and 17 years, were fined $10 and costs for unlawfully being in possession of liquor. They appeared before Judge Wililam Evans in family and children's court.

Says Summer Recreation Should Be Thrown Open

Free summer programs were suggested at the Civic Centre Commission meeting Wednesday night.

Commission Chairman R. A. Munro incensed by the small returns of the summer playground program and swimming pool operation urged that consideration be given to operating these programs free of charge to the participants next summer.

The playground program cost the commission $3000 in leadership and showed a return of $148, based on $1 a head per participant. Admission prices at the pool showed a gross of over $1100 but ticket sellers and takers cost the commission about $500.

Secretary-manager F. M. Boates admitted that about three times the number of paid participants are involved in the summer program, but the commission is unable to collect money from two thirds of the total registration.

SEES REGIMENTATION

Chairman Munro scored overregimentation of children's summer fun, suggesting that the playground program be visibly altered with the bulk of the $3000 to be spent on needed playground equipment and leadership staff to be reduced drastically. Last year the commission spent $228 on equipment.

Of the playground program, he said "half of these things are substitutes for baby sitting."

After glancing at the pool's balance statement, Mr. Munro said, "we should throw the pool wide open, like Kamloops."

If the Rotary Lakeside Pool was made free, it would mean only a loss of approximately $600 a year to be recovered, as the city is responsible for hiring lifeguards, at $4500 a season, whether there is a charge or not.

It was felt that the small admission charge acted as a control on entrance to the pool. If lifted, it was believed the pool would be overrowded. This was countered by suggesting allocating time limits for each batch of bathers, possibly allowing so many in at the rate of an hour at a time.

"It doesn't hurt them (children) to sit out for an hour in the park or at the beach," said Mr .Munro.

Senior and junior hockey is hitting the Commission's pocketbook, it was disclosed.

SENIORS PAY WAY

The senior Nelson Maple Leafs with their larger crowds are just paying their way, meeting expenses of the building, while the junior games with their small crowds, are resulting in a loss for the commission.

Commission's 15 per cent of the gate is averaging about $100 per senior game while the take from the junior contests are not meeting expenses.

"The junior hockey is bringing us absolutely nothing They're not attracting the crowds," said Mr. Boates.

The ice time demands of two hockey teams has also cut into the public skating time available, causing a loss in revenue in that department for the commission.

Mr. Boates said it is hoped to make more ice time available by making rinks on open lots and in the parks if a cold snap should seize the city. The city fire department is prepared to be in charge of flooding such properties for public rinks.

Plans for Gyro pool reconstruction calls for two pools, Mr. Boates disclosed. One pool will be from 1½ feet to 2 feet deep while the other will be a shallow wading pool for small children. An age limit of 12 years has been suggested for admittance to the deeper pool. It is being planned that both pools will be filtered by the same unit.

Plans and estimates are being worked upon now in the city engineering office and will be made available to city council before the end of the year.

Texas Couple To "Call" at Bonspiel Dance

Engagement of a Texas couple as callers for next summer's mid-summer bonspiel square dance was confirmed at a meeting of the Nelson Square Dance Association.

Meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Whitfield, the association placed a long-distance phone call to Manning and Nita Smith, of College Station, Texas, to establish their attendance at next summer's event. Mr. Smith, who is well-known to square dancers in the area, will be master of ceremonies at the dance July 11.

Known professionally for their round dancing, as well as being leaders in ballroom and folk dancing, Mr. and Mrs. Smith last year spent five weeks in Europe instructing recreation leaders at American bases in England, Germany, France and Turkey. They average 50,000 miles of travel each year.

Square dancers who have attended the Banff Square Dance Institute in the summer, are well acquainted with Mr. Smith who operates the institute.

Only 12 Vote At Advance Poll

The second day's vote at the advance poll was again light Wednesday. Full municipal election poll will be held in St. Saviour's Memorial Hall today.

A total of seven votes was cast at the advance poll Wednesday and five were cast Tuesday.

Voting today will be from 8 a.m. - 8 p.m.

Film Festival Continues

The Festival of Films sponsored by the Nelson night school continues tonight with the second of the series of 16 programs.

Documentary films are shown, many of them being award-winning pictures.

Second on Series on Haiti

Half of Budget Goes to Policing

In Port au Prince, there are pictures of "Papa Doc" Duvalier, everywhere, but his name is seldom mentioned. In the following story, Canadian Press reporter Carman Cumming tells of the legend of the Haitian dictator.

By CARMAN CUMMING

PORT au PRINCE, Haiti (CP)—At the casino, one of the few nightspots in this Haitian capital that still opens occasionally, the band swings into a catchy meringue beat.

A singer steps up to the microphone, backgrounded by a blue band shell, palm trees and a soft tropic sky in the open air club.

He sings in Creole patois, but the theme is obvious from the recurring words "Papa Doc," and "Fran-cois Du-val-ier."

At the end of the song, there is a dramatic hush as the singer, a catch of emotion in his voice, leans forward to breathe one of President Duvalier's favorite slogans into the mike:

"Je suis le drapeau Haitien, un et indivisible (I am the Haitian flag, one and indivisible)."

Then—when the impact has been absorbed—the band starts to play the piece over again.

The song is one of more than a dozen of its kind heard in Port au Prince, pouring adulation on dictator Duvalier and pleading with him to "hold on tight" and never give up the leadership of this Negro republic.

LITTLE ENTHUSIASM

They raise no noticeable enthusiasm among the small crowd at the casino, although the club is known as a favorite spot for police and government officials.

The songs are one part of the legend of Papa Doc, the 54-year-old dictator elected in 1957 on promises to bring liberty to all Haitians and to free the peasants from "superstition and dirt."

Experienced foreign observers here say Duvalier may once have had a "mystique" or sense of mission about saving the Haitian people but that, if so, it has long since disappeared.

They say his only interest now is in keeping himself in office.

The one-time country doctor —reputed to have done excellent work in cutting down yaws and malaria—turned to strong-arm tactics to win the 1957 election.

Scheduled to end his term last May, he gave himself another four years in office by declaring that he had been "re-elected" in legislative elections in 1961 when his name and title had appeared on top of the ballot.

In the interim, he had succeeded in bringing under his control all main aspects of national life—the courts, army, legislature, business.

The agency for accomplishing this was the notorious "Tonton Macoute" secret police, the organization named for the legendary bogeymen of the hills said to carry off naughty children in the night.

ONE BOSS

Actually, Haitians now often use the designation TTM to refer to the entire government police apparatus — army, militia and gendarmerie as well as the Tontons. They say it is almost academic to draw distinctions between them since all are under the control of the TTM and bers of the TTM.

Last summer, the International Commission of Jurists estimated that more than half the national budget was being used to maintain various police elements.

The commission said militiamen and secret police "have a free hand to jail, question, torture and put to death any citizen without even a written decision being required."

Haitians claim Duvalier maintains his own personal network of several hundred spies, paid directly by him and responsible only to him.

The dictator also is reliably reported to make all government appointments pesonally, down to the most minor civil servants.

Pictures of the president are displayed in all public buildings, his owlish eyes glowering out beneath grey crew-cut hair.

GRIM REMINDER

At the police station in Port au Prince, the picture is flanked by snapshots of two of his former colleagues, the brothers Clement and Harry Barbot, and one other man.

They are shown lying on pavement, almost naked and covered with blood and bullet wounds—a reminder of what happens to those who oppose Duvalier.

Elsewhere in the capital, large signs proclaim such presidential slogans as "Je n'ai d'ennemi que cieux de la patrie (I have no enemies except those of the nation)."

The signs are neon-lit, although this capital is so short of power that electricity is cut off for two one-hour periods early each evening.

Despite ever-present reminders of the dictator, his name is almost never mentioned in conversation. He is referred to instead as "this man" or "our man here."

In recent months he has seldom been seen in public. Residents say that when he does emerge, heavily armed guards surround him and machineguns sprout from his limousine. In one church appearance, the snouts of machineguns even surveyed the congregation from between railings of the choir loft.

LEGENDS GROW

In the city, legends about the dictator grow apace, with no clear dividing line between truth and fantasy.

Some Haitians will tell you that Duvalier has a torture chamber next to his palace bedroom—or in the palace basement.

"Papa Doc doesn't smoke, doesn't drink, doesn't care for women," one told me. "His only desire is to be president and his only pleasure is hearing the tortures."

There also are numerous stories about the president's involvement with voodoo black magic, although the president—excommunicated in 1961 for persecuting Roman Catholic clergy—has claimed in the past to have only an academic interest in the primitive religion.

There are reliable reports that a "houngan" or voodoo priest with a reputation for clairvoyance frequently spends nights in the palace advising the president.

The houngan, named Antoine, is sometimes seen in the capital riding in a jeep and, incongruously, wearing a military uniform.

MONTREAL, December 5th — Here are three infallible ways to earn an enthusiastic, life-sized hug for Christmas! Give a BANK OF MONTREAL holly-decorated Christmas Cheque . . . or a B of M money order in a brightly coloured envelope or folder . . . or, for the small fry, a B of M passbook — with a nice balance inside — enclosed in a gay Christmas passbook cover. These ideal gifts are no further away than your nearest B of M branch! Don't leave it until the last moment. Drop in to your nearest B of M today and make plans to delight the lads and lassies in your family through the Christmas services at "My Bank" — complete with holly and bells!

YOU'LL FEEL AND LOOK YOUR VERY BEST if, before each holiday party, you take time out for a CALGON BOUQUET bath. Such relaxing luxury—and inexpensive, too! Bath water scented and conditioned with Calgon Bouquet feels silky-soft, soap lathers luxuriously and rinses away easily so there's no 'sticky' feeling . . . and, finally, there's no bathtub 'ring' to scrub away.

A happy thought indeed . . . and another one is this: For party-pretty hair, add Calgon Bouquet to both your shampoo-water and the first rinse—a teaspoonful in each. Result? Your hair will shine like a Christmas Star!

BE PREPARED TO SERVE SECONDS! . . . Here's a taste treat that will have them coming back for more . . . LIBBY'S SAUERKRAUT. High in appetite appeal and low in cost, Libby's is a favourite with everyone . . . You see, its mellow, uniform flavour is always just right, hot or cold. For a real treat, I suggest you serve it like this some evening soon:

SPARERIBS AND SAUERKRAUT

1 large piece ham or bacon rind or 8 strips bacon
3 lbs. pork spareribs
1 28-oz. can (3½ cups) Libby's Sauerkraut, undrained
1 medium onion, sliced

Place rind, fat side down, in the bottom of a large saucepan or spread bacon in the pan. Spread half of the undrained sauerkraut in pan; top with spareribs, onion and remaining sauerkraut. Cover closely and simmer about 2½ hours. Wonderful one dish meal. Yield: 6 servings.

Interest Centres Around College Plebiscite, Castlegar Sewage Bylaw

Some charge lack of interest. Others say it is an indication of satisfaction with the status quo, but whatever the reason, most agree that too many civic offices have been filled by acclamation this year.

There is no lack of plebiscites, referendums and by-laws in the east and west Kootenay district in this year's civic elections.

There is a vacancy for chairman in Castlegar, with two newcomers, V. R. W. Cook and W. H. Reed, contesting this office. Less action is seen in filling commissioner's vacancies, with Lorn Zinio and Leo Bosse in by acclamation. John Dalziel and Romeo Goulet will be contesting seats on the district school board.

A referendum of note in Castlegar will be the proposed $525,000 sewerage by-law, which has received a good deal of publicity.

Also to be placed before the electors is a $451,500 school referendum for construction of a secondary school, and a two-room elementary school at Shoreacres.

At Kinnaird, incumbent chairman Carl Loeblich will contest this office with Patrick Romaine, and four men, Eric C. Ackerman, John R. Cormier, Ronald Giles, incumbent, and Richard A. Paul, will stand for two commissioners' seat to be filled for two years. Mrs. E. A. Baillie and Mrs. W. Jacobson are contesting the school trustee vacancies. A plebiscite will be asked for sale of beer, ale and stout to the public in Kinnaird.

The only contest in Fruitvale will be for a vacancy as school trustee, with incumbent Eric Ray opposing Martin Walsh. Incumbent chairman G. A. Borrow was returned by acclamation and two commissioners' offices ewre filled by acclamation by L. P. Goetz and D. J. Morissette.

Grand Forks mayor A. W. Downey was returned by acclamation. Standing for two seats on the city council will be Jack Goddard and C. F. Wolfram, incumbent aldermen; William Areshenkoff and R. J. Merchant.

Greenwood will have no election, with all offices filled by acclamation. Mayor Edward Cooke was returned as were three aldermen, E. M. Holm, A. R. Morrison and H. H. Summersgill. The school trustee office was also filled by R. E. Miller.

There will be no contest in Silverton, where R. N. Hambly and G. C. Nelson fill the two commissioners' seats by acclamation and J. L. Wilson fills the trustee's office.

At Slocan City, one commissioner will have to be appointed, since only one, B. C. O'Neail, was named to fill the two vacancies.

NO CONTEST

Tadanac will see no contest, since alloffices there have been filled, with Percy Halliwell as reeve and W. E. McNaughton and Howard Hargrave as councillors.

Trail will see some action in choice of aldermen. Joseph Palyga was returned as mayor by acclamation and four men contest three seats on the council: incumbent L. Perry Landucci, Williau Black, and incurbents Ugo Debiasio and David Mawdsley.

Trail School District 11 seats were filled by acclamtion by incumbents James Gray, B. E. Smth and J. E. Fletcher. A $360,000 street paving by-law will be asked.

At Warfield Chairman Arnold Lauriente and commissioners George Cady and Richard Guillaume were returned by acclamation.

In Rossland, incumbent H. S. Elmes will contest the mayoralty with T. A. McRae. Incumbents C. Skinner and J. Miller will contest the three alderman ic vacancies with G. Kent and P. Berry.

At New Denver chairman Clifford Uphill was returned by acclamation and incumbents E. R. Bobb and John Huntley will contest two seats on the commission with T. M. Leask and A. D. McDonald.

At Montrose, three men will contest the chairmanship of the village commission, Carl Henne, Lorne Haas and Alfred Webb. Commissioners' offices were filled by acclamation by G. Pontius and Joseph Walz.

GOOD CONTEST

Three men will seek chairmanship of the village commission at Kaslo, incumbent William V. Drayton, Samuel Nomland and Charles A. Short. Two commissioners' seats will be contested by Wilfred R. Higgins, M. Wayne McKilligan, Norman S. Miller, Simon Nofield and Carl Saalfield. Dorothy Greenlaw is school trustee by acclamation.

Salmo Commission chairman A. W. Hearn was returned by acclamation. Contesting two commission seats are W. Dorey, D. W. Powers, Frank Wasnea. Extension of the village boundary will be subject of a plebiscite.

In the East Kootenay, Cranbrook will ask a $502,000 referendum for school construction work, Invermere $89,000 for a new water system. Creston will ask opinion of its ratepayers on boundary extension.

The plebiscite with widest interest in West Kootenay will be the regional college issue, on which School Districts 7 (Nelson), 8 (Slocan), 9 Castlegar), 10 (Arrow Lakes), 11 (Trail) and 12 (Grand Forks) will vote.

Natal First To Apply for Loan

NATAL — Natal Village Commission has decided to apply for a federal loan to help install a new $49,600 water reservoir, and renovated water supply system.

If the loan from the federal Municipal Development Loan Fund is approved, it will be put before a plebiscite of property owners for approval. The decision to go ahead with the water system improvement was a unanimous one at a special meeting of the commission. The plan is to hold a plebiscite early next year.

Amount of the loan will be about $30,000. It will be repaid through debentures. On hand for the work is $10,000 of a previous debenture used to purchase the now obsolete waterworks. The commission hopes to save money also by qualifying for a 25 per cent rebate on its federal loan if the project is completed on schedule. This is allowed for under terms of the loan.

FIRST FOR LOAN

Natal, incorporated only two years, is the first area municipality, as far as is known, to apply for a loan from the fund only recently set up by the federal government. If the loan is approved in time and the plebiscite comes out in favor of the project, plan is to do the work early in the new year. As a Winter Works program, the municipality will pay only 15 per cent of labor costs involved. The federal and provincial authorities share the rest.

District Tourney . . .

Women Plan Spring Bowling Tournament

SOUTH SLOCAN — Fourteen representatives of the Ladies' Bowling Clubs of Trail, Rossland, Castlegar, South Slocan, and Nelson met in No. 3 Plant Hall recently to discuss the 1964 Inter-city Ladies' Bowling Tournament.

Representatives attending were: B. Leaman, and V. Cox of Trail; A. Erickson, H. Martin, and A. Grieve of Rossland; W. Kalyniuk and F. Hallgren of Nelson; K. Adshead, F. Marshall and A. Bertarioni of Castlegar, and B. Ridge and A. Flamank of the South Slocan group.

Mrs. R. Dunsmore, president of the South Slocan Club, chaired the meeting, which she opened with the announcement that the South Slocan Club, with a membership of 32, felt it impossible to host the 1964 tournament. In accepting its turn as host club, the South Slocan group would have to use the Nelson alleys, and this smaller facility than the Trail site of 1963, would entail too much travelling time and work for the small club to handle. The tournament in May, 1963, rolled off some 300 bowlers in two days of bowling.

Rossland, as the next club in line to act as host to the tourney, has consented to host the annual event next May. It can handle up to 40 teams, composed of five bowlers each, and will notify the member clubs by the end of January how many teams each club may enter. It will be up to the individual clubs as to how they limit their entry.

No "C" class will be offered in the Rossland tournament, and both "A" and "B" class will be limited to a three-game roll-off. In the past the "A" bowlers were given a five-game roll-off in the schedule.

"A" class team averages were set at 900 and up, with "B" class averages 899 and down.

May 5 was selected as the date for the tournament, with cost of the entrance fee set, to include the banquet ticket. The representatives also agreed that only those bowling in the tourney would be allowed to attend the banquet, as Rossland lacked facilities which could cater to more than two hundred.

Entrants in the tournament would have their averages taken from 18 completed games before March 31; and all particulars of team name, class and entry fee are to be in the hands of the Rossland Club by mid April.

FIRST TOURNEY
26 YEARS AGO

An inter-city tournament was first organized about 26 years ago, by Gene Nadeau of Nelson, and bowlers of Nelson, Trail and South Slocan participated. The first tournament banquet was held in the now departed "Golden Gate" cafe on Baker Street owned by a Greek who was a sponsor of the tourney. Miss Lillian Hickey, of Nelson and Vi McDougal of South Slocan, with others, will recall many good times had at the event which grew like "topsy" with the years and the expansion of bowling as a sport.

School, Community Club Discuss Amendments to Mt. Sentinel Scholarship

SOUTH SLOCAN — A small turnout of the School and Community Club membership spent the evening in a heavy program of business.

Main business of the agenda was the work of acting on several recommendations for amendments to the rules and regulations of Mount Sentinel scholarship, which is sponsored by the South Slocan group, but supported financially by residents throughout the attendance area of Mount Sentinel.

Also accepted and approved by the meeting was a new procedure of conducting the scholarship business to lend continuity to the operation from year to year. Lack of continuity from one year's committee to the next was partially blamed for an error made this year.

Mrs. D. Kucher, Mrs. T. Wilson, and Mrs. M. Axworthy will act as a committee with power to call on other parents, to assist the South Slocan Elementary School teachers, R. Toogood, and Miss B. Day, with the annual Christmas concert.

Mrs. V. Faase volunteered to act on the Scholarship Fund Committee with Mrs. N. Baker, taking the place vacated by the resignation of Mrs. P. Conkin.

A short intermission entertainment gave a brief but enjoyable respite to the business, when five members of the newly organized Glee Club entertained.

Mrs. N. Baker also gave a brief talk on the forthcoming plebiscite in Slocan School District No. 8, asking the electorate "if they" favor their District's participation in establshment of a Regional College in the West Kootenay."

St. Matthew's Pays Respects To New Vicar

SOUTH SLOCAN — St. Matthew's Anglican Church hall was the scene for a gathering of parishioners to pay an official welcome to Archdeacon and Mrs. F. D. Wyatt, and their four children.

Host for the evening, representing the Church Committee, was Major M. Harrison, and members of the Women's Auxiliary served refreshments.

Mr. Wyatt showed a series of slides depicting the Anglican Congress held in August this year, at Toronto. Archdeacon Wyatt was clerical delegate to the Congress from this diocese, and he was accompanied by his wife.

J. Hawkins, accompanied by Mrs. V. Brewster, entertained the gathering following the showing of slides, and commentary by both the minister and his wife.

EMPLOYMENT PICTURE

TRAIL (CP) — The employment picture in the Trail area is favorable, Clifford Bristow, manager of the National Employment Office, said Tuesday. He said a low unemployment figure is due to winter works and other construction projects which have absorbed a large number of seasonal workers.

Erickson Takes Chair Again At Invermere

INVERMERE — A. E. Erickson, chairman of the Village Council of Invermere for the past six years, was re-elected by acclamation.

Born in Cranbrook, Mr. Erickson was educated there, and was employed in a Cranbrook Meat Market for some years. He came to Invermere in 1954, where he purchased the Invermere Meat Market. For seven years Mr. Erickson has served as a council member.

Mr. Erickson is married and has two daughters, Karen, of Vancouver and Marian of Invermere.

Pope To Be First To Visit Holy Land

CP from Reuters-AP

VATICAN CITY—Pope Paul VI Wednesday emphatically broke with the "Prisoner of the Vatican" tradition in his surprise announcement of a pilgrimage to the Holy Land next month—first such journey by a reigning Pope in history.

The Pope said at the closing meeting of the Vatican council that after much reflection and prayer he decided to "go as a pilgrim to the land of Jesus our Lord."

The news came as a complete surprise to the Romans who earlier this century used to call the Pope The Prisoner of the Vatican because the pontiffs chose to remain there after their temporal power was taken away.

NO CONTACT YET

A Jordanian diplomatic source said there was so far no contact here with the Holy See about the Pope visiting the old city of Jerusalem or Christ's birthplace in Bethlehem.

It was understood the Pope's visit would be short. No date was announced but some sources said it would be after Epiphany Jan. 6.

Pope Paul was carrying on the impetus of Pope John XXIII who last September made the first train trip by a Pope outside Rome for a century when he went to the shrines of Assisi and Loreto in Italy.

Pope Paul will be the first Pontiff to leave Italy voluntarily in 159 years, since Pope Pius VII went to Paris in December, 1804, to crown Napoleon. Later Napoleon brought Pius VII back to France as a prisoner to sign the cession of the papal states in 1813, and remained there for a year.

Pope Paul's trip to the Holy Land will be the longest trip ever made by a Pope since St. Peter.

The Pope told the prelates of the ecumenical council that "after careful deliberation and much prayer we have decided to become a pilgrim ourselves in the land of Jesus our Lord."

JANUARY TRIP?

"In fact, if God assists us, we wish to go to Palestine in January to honor personally, in the Holy places where Christ was born, lived, died, ..."

"We shall see that blessed land whence Peter set forth and where not one of his successors has returned. Most humbly and rapidly we shall return there as an expression of prayer, penance, and renovation to offer to christ his church, to summon to this one Holy church our separated brethren, to implore divine mercy on behalf of peace among men, that peace which shows in these days how weak and tottering it is, to beseech Christ our Lord for the salvation of the entire human race. May the Holy Mother of God guide our steps, may the apostles Peter and Paul and all the saints assist us kindly from heaven.

"And as we shall have all of you present in our heart during this pious journey, so also you, venerated brethren, accompany us with your prayers in order that this council may reach its goal for the glory of Christ and the welfare of his church."

New Denver Magistrate Resigns

VICTORIA (CP)—The provincial cabinet has accepted the resignation of James Draper as juvenile and family court judge in New Denver.

The announcement was made in an order-in-council passed Wednesday. No successor was named to Judge Draper, who has held the post since 1959.

Golden Park To Be New School Site

VICTORIA (CP) — The provincial government has agreed to the use of part of Golden Community Park as the site of a new school.

An order-in-council signed Wednesday said the land was "no longer required for park purposes." The school is to be built by the board of School District 18.

THEY DON'T MAKE MANY WHISKIES LIKE THEY MAKE BROWN JUG!

BROWN JUG WHISKY

HARD MAPLE CHARCOAL

The difference is that every drop of Brown Jug is filtered slowly through hard maple charcoal. A slow, costly process but one that 'polishes' the whisky and gives it a smoothness that can't be matched. It's this extra-smoothness through extra charcoal filtering that makes so many people prefer Brown Jug to all other Canadian whiskies.

We Need Safe Driving Every Week

The B.C. Safety Council urges all motorists in British Columbia to observe Safe Driving Week, December 1-7.

The motorist has branded himself as one of the major causes of accidents and fatalities in our modern way of living. Therefore, he is the only one who can control this hazard.

Legislation, good vehicles and good roads have been made available to the motorist to protect him, yet he still manages to be a menace behind the wheel. Fortunately, the accident-causing motorists are less than 10 per cent of all drivers, according to the Safety Council.

This year the weather is far better than could be expected. There is none of the ice and snow of former Decembers but usually with icy roads to contend with, poor visibility and other seasonal hazards the motorist cannot help but drive carefully to the best of his ability.

"To the best of his ability" is the qualifying phrase for it is not often realized that there is little use in being careful if the driver's ability to judge road conditions and to meet those conditions is not of a high order. In most cases it is the driver who is to blame for the lack of judgment.

Safety officials often quote some one thing as the prime cause of accidents. Speed is perhaps most often quoted. It is true that often accidents do occur because of the improper use of speed but according to statistics, the proportion of accidents due to exceeding the speed limit is low, 58 in 3977 cases.

It is seldom realized how few bad drivers there actually are, as the Safety Council notes. Unfortunately, they obtrude themselves on our notice.

Little can be done about the really bad drivers except to leave them to the police, who do their best to make motorists drive with care. Responsible drivers will make every week Safety Week, particularly during the winter. It is better to drive with care and stay alive rather than be an accident statistic.

Beyond the Flat Earth

Cigaret smoking, especially heavy smoking, constitutes a major hazard to health. The evidence has been piling up year after year for at least a decade. It is now so incriminatory that it can no longer be ignored.

Addressing a recent seminar in Toronto, Dr. Frederick G. Bock, associate cancer research scientist at Buffalo's Roswell Park Memorial Institute, said that cigaret smoking accounts for more fatalities in Canada and the United States than automobile accidents or any of the bacteria or viruses known. He said lung cancer, the most prevalent disease linked with smoking, has increased ninefold among men between 1931 and 1960, and has taken on epidemic proportions.

Air pollution has often been blamed for part of this increase, but according to Dr. Bock its effects are relatively unimportant compared to cigarets. "If all other forms of pollution are eliminated but cigaret smoking continues unabated, lung cancer will still claim more deaths than any other form of cancer or any of the known bacterial or viral diseases."

The most highly regarded studies on the relation of smoking to heart disease show that heart attacks occur two and a half times more frequently in cigaret smokers than in non-smokers, former cigaret smokers, or pipe and cigar smokers.

Obviously something should be done to reduce the toll. In Great Britain, cigaret companies have voluntarily restricted television advertising to times when children are in bed, and the government has instituted a campaign to persuade youngsters not to form the habit.

The U.S. surgeon-general has issued a warning about cigaret smoking, as have numerous state medical societies, but the U.S. government has not yet spoken unequivocally. An advisory committee on smoking and health, appointed by the surgeon-general and the U.S. public health service, is debating exactly what stand to take. Its decision will be made public before the year ends.

The U.S. committee has been dubbed the Flat Earth Committee because it insists on reviewing evidence others take as indisputable. It is hoped that its Canadian counterpart, which will meet in Ottawa, can avoid being labelled with a similar appellation. The Canadian committee, which will include health experts and tobacco industry spokesmen called together by Health Minister Judy LaMarsh, will be wasting its time if it does nothing but prolong the argument over whether the research data on smoking really mean what they appear to mean. The committee has the opportunity to do something constructive.

Prohibition of cigaret smoking is, of course, out of the question. The decision to smoke or not to smoke is a personal one and cannot be legislated — at least for the adult. The government might be well advised to follow the lead of others in instituting educational campaigns designed to persuade young persons not to take up the habit — but it is obvious that the traditional poster-and-pamphlet campaign is not going to be enough. A Winnipeg study has shown that most students could not care less about what they will die of when they are 40 or 50 years of age.

A study should be made of what causes youngsters to adopt the habit, and then a vigorous campaign could be aimed at the source. One advertising firm seems to be doing this with a poster series of sports heroes who tell why they do not smoke.

The government might also consider labels for cigaret packages which would carry warnings of the dangers of excessive use. And it might encourage, or itself begin, research aimed at the development of a safe cigaret. Buffalo researchers already have begun such a quest with a cigaret made of scented cabbage leaves.

The important thing is to do something. It is too late now just to sit there and argue.

Interpreting The News

By BARRIE MARTLAND
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The shortcomings in the plans of succession to the U.S. presidency are causing concern—particularly now since next in line is a 71-year-old representative followed by an 85-year-old senator.

How the president will be succeeded when, as now, there is no vicepresident has always caused varying degrees of discontent.

It reaches its peak when a president dies in office, as eight — almost one quarter—have, but then it slowly drifts into the academic domain of political science professors to await the next emergency.

Concern is particularly acute at this time because the presidential heir is John W. McCormack, the white-haired Speaker of the House of Representatives, who will be 72 this month.

If President Johnson should die before he or someone else is elected president next November, McCormack would take office—to become the oldest president to be inaugurated into probably the most onerous and crucial job in the world.

William Henry Harrison, who became president in 1841 when he was 68, is the oldest president to be inaugurated. He died 31 days later. President Eisenhower attained the oldest age in office, 70, but he was inaugurated at 62.

SUCCESSION CHANGED

Next in line behind McCormack is Carl Hayden, the 85-year-old president pro tempore of the Senate who was a lad in knee pants while Queen Victoria regined over the British Empire.

The present presidential Succession Act was set up in 1947. Before that, succession began with the secretary of state and went down through the cabinet —all non-elected officials.

Because of the belief the presidency should go to someone who was at least elected by some of the people, the offices of House Speaker and president pro tempore were inserted ahead of the secretary of state's.

Even President Johnson's announcement Tuesday that he has instructed that McCormack be kept informed on matters of U.S. security "to ensure continuity of government in the event of any contingency" does little to lessen the concern.

The question is: How can McCormack do his job in the House and still be prepared for "any contingency?"

He holds a busy, powerful political office. Unlike the speaker of the Canadian House of Commons he is expected to be involved in partisan politics and it is his job to see his party's measures successfully through the House.

MUCH SPECULATION

There has been much speculation about what McCormack might do if Johnson died but so far he has made no public comment.

One intriguing suggestion is that he might then step down as Speaker and allow the House immediately to elect a younger replacement who would then fill the office of president.

And there have been dozens of alternatives proposed by senators, representatives and others to offset the deficiencies of the 1947 Succession Act.

Two of the more recent are:

—That two vice - presidents, instead of one, be elected. One would succeed to the presidency and the second would become next in line.

—In the event of a president's death, the new president would offer a list of candidates to Congress from which it would elect a new vice-president.

The lack of a better system is not because of partisan politics. It is just that no two people seem to agree on what should be done.

And, if history is any guide to the future, it is not likely that an acceptable solution—if one is possible—will be soon forthcoming.

ENDANGERS LIFE

WINNIPEG (CP) — Gordon Erwin Kerluke, 24, Tuesday was charged with endangering life following the gunshot wounding Monday of a 25-year-old woman with whom he was living. Mary Louise Boyd was found lying on the floor of the couple's west-end Winnipeg apartment with a bullet wound in her chest. Hospital officials described her condition as fair.

CIVIL DEFENCE

As civil defence is now a part of government it should be regarded as any other municipal service and be equally well organized.

Price We Can't Avoid Paying

To the Editor:

Sir — Residents of Vancouver and of the Kootenays are being asked by plebiscite to approve the establishment of two-year regional colleges. Voters may be interested in the views of the U.B.C. Faculty Association, which represents the teaching staff of the University of B.C.

Regional Colleges certainly come at a price: for the taxpayer there are increased taxes; for the established universities there is increased competition for Professors and for Provincial and Federal moneys. But in our opinion it is a price which we can not avoid paying, in one way or another.

Due to the increased birthrate after the war, the number of university students will double in about six years. We have already paid for an expansion of elementary and high schools. Unless we also expand our university facilities, our young people will face increasing unemployment and our province and country will increasingly lag behind others in technology and prosperity.

Regional colleges are essential to plans for coping with the increased number of students. They provide training in fields which do not require a four-year university degree, and also courses leading directly into the 3rd year of University. They can do this at a total cost to the Province appreciably less than that of universities.

A small fraction of the cost of such colleges is to be born directly by the local districts. Regional colleges, however, also provide direct benefits — to the parents of students by reducing their living costs — to the community by adding to its business and its technical and cultural facilities.

The Faculty Association hopes that voters will have the vision to approve these colleges. If they are not built, we will either deprive a large segment of the students of higher education, or will force existing universities to give a grossly inadequate education to all the students in their charge.

F. K. BOWERS,
President,
Faculty Association.

RATIFY CHANGES

SASKATOON (CP)—A reduction in districts and directors were among changes ratified by Saskatchewan Farmers' Union locals, the group's annual meeting was told Tuesday. Jack McCloy, reporting for the board of directors, told delegates a consolidated constitution has been completed which will result in a revision of district boundaries, reduction to 12 from 17 in the number of districts and reduction to 29 from 39 in the board of directors.

Salmo-Creston Best Name, Writer Feels

To the Editor:

Sir — Re: The suggestion to change the name of the Salmo-Creston Highway. May I take this opportunity to voice my opinion?

I believe that if there was any idea of changing the name, it should have been done long ago, before this particular addition to our system of highways received so much notoriety and publicity, during the years of effort made by many organizations to expediate its completion. It has been well publicized as the Salmo-Creston highway.

This project was not completed as a memorial or monument to any person or thing, it was completed for the convenience of travel, and as such I believe the more simple we have our road maps, the less confusion our tourists will find.

How simple to say "the Hope-Princeton" or "The Bluberry-Paulson" and the stranger to B.C. then knows his exact route and no confusion.

My opinion is that there is no more history involved in this piece of highway than many others in B.C.

I say let us not spoil all the publicity on this excellent piece of highway by changing the name.

SUSAN M. TAYLOR.

Today In History

Dec. 5, 1963 . . .

A British ship encountered the Marie Celeste, originally built in Nova Scotia, midway between the Azores and Cape Roca on the Portuguese coast 91 years ago today—in 1872. She was still seaworthy, but totally abandoned. Her chronometer, her papers and her boat were missing, but there was no sign of a struggle. The fate of her crew remains a mystery.

1933—Prohibition was repealed in the United States.

1941 — Britain declared war on Finland, Rumania and Hungary.

HAS SURPLUS

SASKATOON (CP)—The Saskatchewan Farmers' Union had an operating surplus in 1962, the first in 10 years, secretary-treasurer Stuart A. Thiesson reported Tuesday. He told the group's annual meeting that 1962 income was $144,122 while expenditures were $136,259—leaving a $7,853 surplus.

Sugar Profit Shows Decline

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada and Dominion Sugar Co. Wednesday reported profit of $2,669,000 for the year ended Sept. 30 compared with $3,306,000 for the previous fiscal year ended Sept. 30, 1962.

Hon. G. B. Foster, company president, said profits were adversely affected by the spectacular rise in world sugar prices from $3.50 a 100-pound bag, London, in October, 1962, to $13.60 in May, 1963.

"As to the cost of sugar increases, so also does the value of the raw sugar which is either lost in the process of refining or is contained in the by-product of refining, molasses," he said.

"Some of this increase in cost, which is directly related to that of raw sugar, was absorbed by Canada and Dominion during the period of rapidly increasing prices and the refining margin was thus substantially lower than in the previous year."

Mr. Foster said this year's reduction in profits is only a temporary setback and refining margin is satisfactory with costs steadied.

The company's domestic sales were slightly lower than last year but increases in export sales more than covered the difference, said Mr. Foster.

Sales for the year were $72,575,672 against $47,370,684 in 1962. However, cost of sales rose to $62,711,317 from $35,641,213, dropping operating profit to $4,647,188 from $7,155,314.

Steamroller, Driver Finally Retire

APPLEBY, England (AP) Jim Dowson, 65, rolled into retirement Tuesday, taking his steamroller with him.

For 43 years they've rolled the roads of England's Lake district together. And when retirement came, Jim couldn't bear to part.

"The old girl never let me down once," he said.

Canada exports wheat... Canada imports Lemon Hart Rums

Canadian wheat is accepted as a standard all over the world because no one can match the combination of soil, climate, and experience that produces it. Rum, on the other hand, is not native to Canada. The best rums, like Lemon Hart, are distilled in the benign climate of the Caribbean . . . then transported to England where they mature quietly in underground caverns where neither the temperature nor the humidity varies more than a degree or two summer or winter, year in year out.

Obviously a good rum must be imported. And when Lemon Hart Rums reach Canada they are mature, well travelled rums, as distinguished in their way as Canadian wheat – and as well respected throughout the world.

Jacqueline Cherishes "One Brief, Shining Moment That Was Camelot"

NEW YORK (AP) — Theodore H. White, a close friend of President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy and author of The Making of the President, wrote For President Kennedy an Epilogue in the current issue of Life magazine.

The full article, copyrighted by Life magazine and made available to The Associated Press follows:

HYANNIS PORT — She remembers how hot the sun was in Dallas, and the crowds—greater and wider than the crowds in Mexico or in Vienna. The sun was blinding, streaming down, yet she could not put in sun glasses for she had to wave to the crowd.

And up ahead she remembers seeing a tunnel around a turn and thinking that there would be a moment of coolness under the tunnel. There was the sound of the motorcycles, as always in a parade, and the occasional backfire of a motorcycle. The sound of the shot came at that moment. Like the sound of a backfire and she remembers Connally saying, "No, No, No, No, No. . . ."

REMEMBERS ROSES

She remembers the roses. Three times that day in Texas they had been greeted with the bouquets of yellow roses of Texas. Only, at Dallas they had given her red roses. She remembers thinking, how funny—red roses for me, and then the car was full of blood and red roses.

Much later, accompanying the body from the Dallas hospital to the airport, she was alone with Clint Hill—the first secret service man to come to their rescue—and with Dr. Burkley, the White House physician. Burkley gave her two roses that had slipped under the president's shirt when he fell, his head in her lap.

All through the night they tried to separate him from her, to sedate her, and take care of her—and she would not let them. She wanted to be with him. She remembered that Jack had said of his father, when his father suffered the stroke, that he could not live like that. Don't let that happen to me, he had said, when I have to go.

CLUTCHED MEDAL

Now, in her hand she was holding a gold St. Christopher's medal.

She had given him a St. Christopher's medal when they were married; but when Patrick died this summer, they had wanted to put something in the coffin with Patrick that was from them both, and so he had put in the St. Christopher's medal.

Then he had asked her to give him a new one to mark their 10th wedding anniversary, a month after Patrick's death.

He was carrying it when he died and she had found it. But it belonged to him—so she could not put that in the coffin with him. She wanted to give him something that was hers, something that she loved. So she had slipped off her wedding ring and put it on his finger. When she came out of the room in Dallas, she asked: "Do you think it was right? Now I have nothing left." And Kenny O'Donnell said, "You leave it where it is."

That was at 1:30 p.m. in Texas.

BRINGS RING BACK

But then, at Bethesda hospital in Maryland at 1 a.m. the next morning, Kenny slipped into the chamber where the body lay and brought her back the ring, which, as she talked now, she twisted.

On her little finger was the other ring; a slim, gold circlet with green emerald chips—the one he had given her in memory of Patrick. There was a thought, too, that was always with her.

"When Jack quoted something, it was usually classical," she said, "but I'm so ashamed of myself—all I keep thinking of is this line from a musical comedy.

"At night, before we'd go to sleep, Jack liked to play some records; and the song he loved most came at the very end of this record. The lines he loved to hear were: Don't let it be forgot, that once there was a spot, for one brief shining moment that was known as Camelot."

NEVER ANOTHER CAMELOT

She wanted to make sure that the point came clear and went on: "There'll be great presidents again—and the Johnsons are wonderful, they've there'll never be another Camelot again.

"Once, the more I read of history the more bitter I got. For a while I thought history was something that bitter old men wrote. But then I realized history made Jack what he was. You must think of him as this little boy, sick so much of the time, reading in bed, reading history, reading the Knights of the Round Table, reading Marlborough. For Jack, history was full of heroes. And if it made him see the heroes—maybe other little boys will see. Men are such a combination of good and bad. Jack had this hero idea of history, the idealistic view."

But she came back to the idea that transfixed her: "Don't let it be forgot, that once there was a spot, for one brief shining moment that was known as Camelot—and it will never be that way again."

DENIES TRAVEL RUMORS

As for herself? She was horrified by stories that she might live abroad. "I'm never going to live in Europe. I'm not going to 'travel extensively abroad.'

"That's a desecration. I'm going to live in the places I lived with Jack. In Georgetown, and with the Kennedys at the Cape. They're my family. I'm going to bring up my children. I want John to grow up to be a good boy."

As for the president's memorial, at first she remembered that in every speech in their last days in Texas, he had spoken of how in December this nation would lift the largest rocket booster yet into the sky, making us first in space. So she had wanted something of his there when it went up—perhaps only his initials painted on a tiny corner of the great Saturn, where no one need even notice it. But now Americans will seek the moon from Cape Kennedy. The new name, born of her frail hope, came as a surprise.

The only thing she knew she must have for him was the eternal flame over his grave at Arlington.

"Whenever you drive from the bridge from Washington into Virginia," she said, "you see the Lee Mansion on the side of the hill in the distance. When Caroline was very little, the mansion was one of the first things she learned to recognize. Now, at night you can see his flame beneath the mansion for miles away."

She said it is time people paid attention to the new president and the new first lady. But she does not want them to forget John F. Kennedy or read of him only in dusty or bitter histories:

For one brief shining moment there was Camelot.

Newlyweds Making Home at Edgewood

EDGEWOOD — St. Agnes Anglican Church was the setting for a lovely fall wedding when Rev. Bruce Pellegrin united Geraldine Mae Ferguson and Mr. Frank Henry Edgell in marriage at a double ring wedding ceremony. The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald R. Ferguson of Edgewood and the bridegroom is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith S. Edgell of Harrop.

Given in marriage by her father, the young bride was radiant in a floor-length gown of traditional white nylon net over satin. The plain bodice featured long sleeves and rounded neckline, the latter enhanced with appliqued flowers of nylon embroidery. The same flower trim was repeated on the skirt.

Her shoulder-length veil of nylon tulle was held with a coronet of mohair braid and simulated pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

Mrs. John Brown, as her sister's matron of honor, wore a street-length dress of pale green chiffon over taffeta.

Miss Terryl Milne and Miss Christine Hug were bridesmaids. Miss Milne wore a yellow dress similar to the matron of honor, while Miss Hug chose blue nylon over taffeta. Their hats were of a single white mink rose covered in veiling.

The bride's sister and her cousin, Donna Ferguson and Pearl Chadwick, as junior bridesmaids, wore identical frocks of pink nylon sheer over rayon taffeta. Their headbands were trimmed with white leaves and net. All attendants carried nosegays of tinted carnations to match their dresses.

The bridegroom was supported by his brother, Mr. Peter Edgell, while ushers were Mr. M. LaRue, Mr. John Brown and the bride's brother, Mr. Danny Ferguson.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ferguson chose a three-piece turquoise wool suit with a dusty rose hat. Mrs. Edgell wore a dress of rayon and nylon lace in rosewood shade, and her hat was of black fur. Both wore corsages of pink and white carnations.

A wedding breakfast was served to 80 guests in the Royal Canadian Legion Hall. The head table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with doves, under an arch. Tall white tapers in brass holders flanked the cake, which was embedded in pink satin and white tulle.

Mr. E. Johnson was master of ceremonies, and proposed a toast to the bride, to which the bridegroom responded. A toast to the bridesmaids was proposed by the best man.

A public dance followed.

For a motor tour through the northwestern United States, the bride changed into a blue wool suit, with which she wore a white rayon satin bow hat, white gloves and shoes and a pink and white carnation corsage.

The newlyweds are making their home in Edgewood.

Out of town relatives attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Edgell and Mr. P. Edgell of Nelson; Mr. and Mrs. Chadwick, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. D. Chadwick and family, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Gardner of Nakusp.

New Evidence May Shed Light On Ruby Trial

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—People throughout the continent saw Jack Ruby kill the accused slayer of President Kennedy and they're likely to hear nearly all the evidence before Ruby's murder trial ever starts.

Steps to set two formal inquiries in motion raised this pros- Wednesday on the heels of an eight-week postponement of the Ruby case, originally set for Dec. 9. The new date is Feb. 3, fixed Tuesday by District Judge Joe B. Brown because both the prosecution and defence said they needed more time.

Fresh information came to light meanwhile about both Lee H. Oswald, 24, the self-styled Marxist charged with the Kennedy assassination, and Ruby, 52, a Dallas night spot owner who gunned down Oswald before thousands of television viewers just two days later.

In Washington a former marine corps lieutenant in whose unit Oswald served for a time, John E. Donovan, said Oswald's military discharge and departure for Russia in 1959 caused a stir.

"That compromised all our secret radio frequencies, call signs and authentication codes," said Donovan, now a physics teacher in a private school. "He knew the location of every unit on the West Coast and the radar capability of every installation. We had to spend thousands of man - hours changing everything. . . ."

It was learned in Dallas that the Internal Revenue Service is trying to collect $20,880 from Ruby through four liens filed with the county clerk. The government claims he failed to pay all the taxes he owed and the liens cloud title to any property he holds until they are paid.

Chief Justice Earl Warren of the U.S. Supreme Court called for the first meeting Thursday in Washington of a seven-member special commission named by President Johnson to gather as much information as possible about the assassinaion of President Kennedy.

Texas Attorney-General Waggoner Carr told reporters he will call for a court of inquiry with similar aims before Christmas in Dallas or Austin. The date will depend on when the FBI finishes compiling the evidence gathered so far and it is relayed to state officials.

District Attorney Henry Wade disclosed that more than 100 lawyers have volunteered to be special prosecutors at Ruby's trial. He said these offers will be rejected.

In neighboring Fort Worth, Sheriff Lon Evans said the burial of Oswald in that city's Rose Hill Cemetery poses some long range problems. He said guards cannot be kept at the grave forever and suggested there might even be an effort 50 years hence to remove the remains.

Fort Worth Police Chief Cato Hightower said his men will keep watch at the cemetery until it is considered safe to leave the grave unattended. Some suggested cremation or reburial in an unmarked spot, known only to the Oswald family and top police officials. More than 10,000 people have driven past the grave.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren of the U.S. Supreme Court will set up the machinery Thursday for the high-level investigation ordered by President Johnson into the assassination of President Kennedy.

But government sources said they doubt that the basic material of the investigation — a long and apparently still growing report by the FBI—will be ready for the seven-member Warren commission by then.

The chief justice sent messages to the other six members Tuesday calling them to a Thursday morning meeting to organize the commission's work.

Warren said no further details would be disclosed now. And there was no indication whether the White House, upon receiving the FBI report from the justice department, will make it public before forwarding it to the Warren group.

Official sources report that the FBI account will indicate that Lee Harvey Oswald, 24, a former marine who once sought Soviet citizenship, planned and executed alone the shooting of President Kennedy in Dallas Nov. 22.

The report also is said to indicate no link between Oswald and Jack Rubinstein, the Dallas striptease joint owner who shot Oswald dead two days later.

Here comes that man again...

SJHL Move Generally Favored

TORONTO (CP)—A startling move by the Saskatchewan Junior Hockey League to limit the use of the slap shot by its players was generally favored Tuesday by various coaches, managers and players across Canada.

They agreed that in principle the new ruling, adopted last weekend by the SJHL, has merits, especially for minor league hockey. It was proposed by Frank Boucher, commissioner of the Saskatchewan League.

However, two Ontario junior hockey veterans—Eddie Bush of Hamilton and Wren Blair of Oshawa — said they would strongly oppose any such limits in their league.

George (Punch) Imlach, manager - coach of the National Hockey League Toronto Maple Leafs, was also doubtful the rule would ever be incorporated by the NHL but agreed a hockey player must be able to do more than slap the puck.

He felt the rule was one way of cutting excess use of the shot.

Gordie Drillon, the last Leaf player to hold the NHL scoring championship, said the slap shot is a poor shot and few players know how to use it.

'FEW GOALS RESULT'

Drillon, now living in Saint John, N.B., said: "Very few goals are scored in the NHL with the slap shot—but the shot looks good and sounds good, that's all."

He said limited use of the shot would improve the calibre of hockey.

Boucher had claimed the rule would encourage more passing and puck carrying over the opposition's blue line.

The Saskatchewan ruling has not completely banned the shot. It limits the shot to inside the opponent's blue line. Using the slap shot outside the blue line would result in a minor penalty.

If the offending team was playing shorthanded, the penalty would be ignored but the play would be called for a face-off in the offending team's zone.

Most avid objector to the SJHL rule was Bush, coach of Hamilton Red Wings of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series.

"Frankie thinks everybody should be a Lady Byng winner like him," said Bush.

Boucher won the NHL's Lady Byng Trophy for gentlemanly play for seven consecutive seasons—1927-28 to 1934-35.

Blair, general manager of Oshawa Generals of the OH Junior A series, said: "It would slow down plays — just that many more whistles."

Max McNab, coach of the Western Hockey League Vancouver Canucks, favored the ruling at the junior level and felt that many youngsters are misled into thinking they have an adequate shot by using it.

He said a slap shot is difficult for a goaltender to handle but a player who could use nothing else did not belong in major league hockey.

HAS MIXED FEELINGS

The ruling brought mixed feelings from Bill Robinson, commissioner of the Manitoba Junior Hockey League. He said enforcement of the rule could lead to difficulties but added that it did have some merit.

He agreed that boys in minor leagues can't shoot and rely on the use of the slap shot to cover the fact they have no wrist shot.

George Pennell, coach of Winnipeg Rangers of the MJHL, said only three or four players on his team are permitted to use the shot and then only under certain circumstances.

"Our club feels there are situations in a game where a slap shot is more effective than the conventional wrist shot. For example, we might use the shot from the point on power plays."

Bill Addison, general manager of Winnipeg Braves, another MJHL team, said his team discourages the slap shot, but he feels enforcement of such a rule, if inaugurated, could be a problem.

Notre Dame Pups Drop Hoop Decision to Bob's

TRAIL (Staff) — Notre Dame Pups were defeated 61-51 by Bob's Pay and Take It in Trail District Senior B Basketball League action here Wednesday.

Fred Horcoff, Bob's captain, led his club to the victory and was the game's high scorer with 24 points. Both Tim Horcoff and Walter Kerieff notched 14 points for the winners who led 30-28 at half time.

For Notre Dame it was Pete Farm with 15 points and Les Jensen with 14 leading the way. Pups have won only one game in league action this season, although Wednesday's loss was only the second time they had lost by more than four points.

In their last outing, Pups lost to another Trail club 60-52 in Nelson Friday. On the same day, Notre Dame Puppettes lost to Trail Silverettes 23-20 in an exhibition game.

BOUSQUET ELECTED WIHL DIRECTOR

F. J. Bousquet of Nelson has been elected league director for the Nelson area of the Western International Hockey League, a league official announced in Trail Wednesday.

League secretary-treasurer Glen Mason said Mr. Bousquet was elected by other league directors.

DORTMUND, Germany (AP) — Borussia of Dortmund defeated Benfica of Lisbon 5-0 Wednesday night and advanced to the quarter-finals of the European Soccer Cup of Champions tournament. Borussia won the two-game series decided on total goals by 6-2.

Benfica captured the first match 2-1 in Lisbon last month. The goal was Hull's 16th of the year.

Bruins Draw With Hawks; Simmons, Leafs Blank Habs

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Andy Hebenton of Boston Bruins set a record by playing in his 581st consecutive National Hockey League game Wednesday night as the tail-end Bruins battled the front-running Chicago Black Hawks to a 2-2 tie.

Meanwhile at Toronto, alternate goalie Don Simmons racked up his first shutout of the season for the Maple Leafs as the Leafs moved into second place with a 3-0 victory over Montreal Canadiens.

Chicago now leads the league with 36 points, 10 more than Toronto, Montreal has 25. Detroit and New York, idle Wednesday night, are tied for fourth place with 15 each. Boston has 13.

Bobby Hull's goal at 19:29 of the final period saved the Hawks from defeat. Chicago goalie Glenn Hall was off the ice in favor of a sixth skater when Hull took a pass from Red Hay and drove a 20-footer past Boston goalie Ed Johnston.

The goal was Hull's 16th of the year.

Hebenton, a 34-year-old native of Winnipeg, broke the record held by Johnny Wilson, a forward with Chicago, Detroit, Toronto and New York. Wilson played in 580 consecutive games. He retired last year.

Hebenton played his first NHL game Oct. 7, 1955, at Chicago while a member of the New York Rangers. He became a Bruin this season through a player trade.

At 12:51 of the third period Boston had taken a 2-1 lead on Dean Prentice's fifth tally of the year, setting things up for Hull's heroics.

Hay opened the scoring late in the first period while Prentice was in the penalty box but Boston's Murray Oliver evened the score less than a minute later while Chicago's Elmer Vasko was in the box.

Toronto scored on two power plays in the second period to put the game out of Montreal's reach after defenceman Bob Baun had started the scoring with a slap-shot drive in the first period.

Dick Duff on a freak goal that followed a good solo effort and defenceman Allan Stanley on a shot from the point were the other Leaf scorers.

Simmons, playing for Johnnie Bower out with influenza, had 26 stops as both teams played good defensive hockey throughout the game. Montreal goalie Charlie Hodge made 18 stops.

FAKES CANADIENS

Centre Bob Pulford set up Baun's first-period goal by a good rush along the left boards followed by a fake toward the net that had the Canadiens fooled. After moving toward Hodge, Pulford passed to Baun at the far point who had a clear shot.

Terry Harper of the Canadiens was off for holding early in the second period when Duff scored on an unusual play. After breaking in alone through the defence. Duff was fooled by Hodge on a close-in drive. But the rebound came back to Duff who flipped it backwards as he crossed the end red line. The puck hit the back of Hodge's stick as the goal tender was falling and Hodge himself knocked it in.

Claude Provost was off for holding when Stanley scored late in the period. Frank Mahovlich tied up Bryan Watson along the boards in the Leaf end, allowing the puck to slide back to Stanley who fired it through a maze of players into the far corner of the net.

Leafs Send Litzenberger To Rochester Farm Club

TORONTO (CP) — Eddie Litzenberger, the rangy right winger Toronto Maple Leafs were counting on early in the National Hockey League season to fit in with Red Kelly and Frank Mahovlich as Leafs' production unit, Wednesday was sent to Rochester Americans of the American Hockey League.

Purchased by Toronto from Detroit Red Wings during the 1961-62 season, the 31-year-old Litzenberger had a poor season last year when he scored only five goals and assisted on 13 in 58 games.

After a sparkling pre-season training camp, during which he led all Leaf scorers in 17 exhibition games, the Neudorf, Sask. native was Imlach's choice to work on the Kelly - Mahovlich line.

However, he distinguished himself in only one game when he scored two goals against Montreal Canadiens. Although used sparingly, this was Litzenberger's total point production so far this season.

Litzenberger has played for four NHL clubs in 12 years as a pro. He was sold to Chicago Black Hawks early in the 1954-55 season after a much publicized career in the Montreal Canadiens' organization.

TRADED TO DETROIT

He went to Detroit in June, 1961, in a trade for Gerald Melnyk and Brian Smith. Six months later Toronto claimed him from the Wings for the $20,000 NHL waiver price.

Litzenberger had his most productive years with Chicago when he scored 32 goals in each of the 1956-57 and 1957-58 seasons and 33 goals in 1958-59.

His career was nearly cut short in a car accident which killed his wife. Although he came back to score 18 goals for Detroit and Toronto during the 1961-62 season, he was unable to regain the form that made him the scourge of opposing NHL goalers.

In his 618 NHL games, Litzenberger has scored 178 goals and assisted on 238 for 416 points.

Minor League Vote Gives Majors Break

SAN DIEGO (AP)—The minor leagues voted Wednesday to give the four major league expansion clubs a break by permitting them to farm out more first year players without fear of losing them.

At the closing session of the minor league winter convention, the executives adopted amendment 110 which stipulates that each of the four expansion clubs —Houston, Washington, New York Mets and Los Angeles Angels—be permitted to assign four first year players to the minors without having to first ask waivers on them.

Under existing restrictive rules, a club may option only one first year man as a "designated" player and he counts against the major leagues' 25-player limit. All other first year players headed for the minors must first pass through a waiver route and clubs risk losing each player for the nominal sum of $8,000.

MAY OPTION FOUR

Next year the four new clubs will be permitted to option four first year kids to the minors without such fears and without having them count on their big league roster. In addition, the four new clubs may still send out a designated player but he must count against the big league roster.

The adoption of the amendment was greeted with enthusiasm.

Before the amendment can become a baseball law, it must be ratified by the majors. This, however, was regarded as a formality.

In other action, the minor leagues:

Elected Phil Piton president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues.

Appointed a minor league executive committee consisting of league presidents Dewey Soriano of the Pacific Coast, Eddie Mulligan of the California State and Sam Smith Jr., of the South Atlantic.

Piton, for many years assistant to the late minor league czar George Trautman, was elected to a five-year term.

The 60-year-old Piton, a native of Chicago, got his first baseball job in 1929 when he became stenographer for Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis. He joined Trautman in 1947 when the latter was named head of the minor leagues.

Kapp Heads All-Canada All-Stars as Quarterback

By WILF GRUSON

TORONTO (CP) — Joe Kapp, British Columbia Lions' youthful passing ace, Wednesday partially shook off the disappointment of another losing performance in the second big game of his football career.
with the consolation that he has been selected the 1963 all-Canada all-star team quarterback.

Kapp, a Rose Bowl performer five years ago with the University of California in its 38-12 loss to Iowa, was on the losing side again last Saturday in the Grey Cup, Canada's professional football championship game.

Nevertheless the 25-year-old quarterback led a seven-man group of B.C. players picked for the Football Reporters of Canada all-Canada all-star team. The FRC awarded 14 of the 24 positions in the offensive and defensive lineups to Western players.

The FRC team replaced The Canadian Press all - Canada team chosen for the first time last year.

Kapp's selection, ironically, also gave him a measure of satisfaction in another way. He was passed over for another quarterback in a different poll for the Canadian Football League's outstanding player award. It went to Russ Jackson of Ottawa Rough Riders, who scored an unprecedented double triumph by being named also as the outstanding Canadian player.

26 VOTES FOR KAPP

The all-star selectors—sports writers and sportscasters in the nine CFL cities—left no doubt they preferred Kapp for the mythical dream team. The 40 FRC members who cast ballots —22 in the East and 18 in the West—gave Kapp 26 votes to Jackson's nine.

Quarterback Bernie Faloney, who overshadowed Kapp in Hamilton Tiger-Cats 21-10 victory over the Lions in the Grey Cup game, received four votes and Eagle Day of Calgary Stampeders, the all - Canada quarter in 1962, got one.

In the all-star balloting Calgary placed five men on the team and the Tiger-Cats were right behind with a representation of four players. Three standouts from Montreal Alouettes made it along with two from Ottawa and one each from Saskatchewan Roughriders, Winnipeg Blue Bombers and Toronto Argonauts. Edmonton Eskimos, which finished last in the Western Conference, missed out entirely.

The 14 players from the West, which split the 20 interlocking games with the East, were evenly divided between the offensive and defensive squads and the 10-man Eastern contingent shared five spots in each lineup. Last year when the West won 12, lost seven and tied one of the interlocking games it had a eight-to-four margin on offence and a seven-to-five edge on defence.

FOUR ON OFFENCE

Four of the seven B.C. players picked for this year's team were chosen for the offensive unit and three for the defensive squad. Calgary was awarded three offensive berths and two defensive spots. Hamilton landed only one man on offence but it got the nod for three defensive spots.

George Dixon, Montreal's dazzling running halfback who was the only unanimous choice, was one of two Alouettes named to the offensive team and in addition the club also placed a man on the defensive unit. Ottawa's two selections were divided between both lineups and the lone Toronto choice was for the attacking team. The single selections from both Saskatchewan and Winnipeg were for defence.

Dixon, player of the year in 1962 and this season the leading ground-gainer in the East for the second straight time, heads an offensive backfield with explosive and crunching ground power. The others are the Lions' brilliant Willie Fleming, chosen by all but three selectors, Calgary fullback Lovell Coleman and Toronto's tricky Dick Shatto, the East's leading scorer and pass receiver. Coleman and Fleming were the two top rushers respectively in the West.

Calgary contributed two of the four native-born Canadians who made the team—offensive guard Tony Pajaczkowski and defensive halfback Harvey Wylie, both former winners of the outstanding Canadian award. The others were corner linebackers Norm Fieldgate of the Lions and Jim Conroy of Ottawa.

Dixon, Pajaczkowski, Wylie and Conroy were among the nine players who earned all-Canada ranking for the second year in a row. The others were offensive end Hal Patterson of Hamilton, middle guard John Barrow of the Tiger-Cats, who made it last year as a defensive tackle, inside linebacker Tom Brown of B.C., this season's outstanding lineman award winner, defensive tackle Don Luzzi of Calgary and defensive end Garner Ekstran of Saskatchewan.

Boucher Hopes To Eliminate Slap Shot

TORONTO (CP)—A move by Frank Boucher, commissioner of the Saskatchewan Junior Hockey League, to eliminate slap shot from hockey brought violent reaction Tuesday from Hamilton coach Eddie Bush.

"Frankie thinks everybody should be a Lady Byng winner like him," scoffed Bush, the vociferous coach of Hamilton Red Wings in the Ontario Hockey Association junior A league.

He said that if Boucher had his way, players would be penalized for having unkempt hair, would wear bow ties and shy away in embarrassment from body contact.

The Saskatchewan Junior League has curbed use of the slap shot by limiting its scope to inside the opponent's blue line. Use of the shot outside would result in a minor penalty to guilty player.

However, the penalty would be ignored if the offending team was already playing shorthanded. Play would be stopped and a faceoff called back in the offending team's zone.

SUPPORTS BUSH

Bush was supported in his objection to such a rule in the OHA by Wren Blair, general manager of Oshawa Generals.

"The referee would go nuts trying to control it," said Blair. "And it would slow the game down — just that many more whistles."

Boucher, winner of the National Hockey League's Lady Byng Trophy for gentlemanly play for seven consecutive seasons—1927-28 to 1934-35—hopes the new rule will speed up the game.

He said it would encourage more passing and puck carrying over the opposition's blue line.

EMPHASIZED TOO MUCH

"We are of the opinion too much emphasis is placed on this type of shot," said Boucher. "In developing it, young hockey players have overlooked other basic fundamentals of the game."

Coach George (Punch) Imlach of Toronto Maple Leafs said it was doubtful the rule would ever be incorporated by the NHL.

"It's not a problem with us," said Imlach. "If there's somebody doing nothing but slapping the puck, he has no business being up here."

The Toronto coach, however, would not condemn Boucher's rule.

"Maybe they have a problem in Saskatchewan," he said. "If they are using it too much, this is one way of stopping it."

Bill Robinson, commissioner of the Manitoba Junior Hockey League, said enforcement of the slap shot rule could lead to difficulties, but it has some merit.

The rule could aid in the development of better stickhandlers, shooters and passers but elimination of the red centre line would accomplish more, he said.

"A lot of kids in minor hockey can't shoot," he said. "They think they can but they can't.

"The measuring stick for their shots is the sound of the puck hitting the boards. It's a false evaluation.

"They resort to the slapshot to cover up the fact they have no wrist shot."

ONLY FEW ALLOWED

Coach George Pennell of Winnipeg Rangers, another MJHL club, said only about three or four players on his team are permitted to use the slap shot and then only under certain conditions.

"Our club feels there are situations in a game where a slap shot is more effective than the conventional wrist shot. For example, we might use the slap shot from the point on power plays."

General manager Bill Addison of Winnipeg Braves of the MJHL said his club discourages the slap shot.

TOUGH TO CALL

Enforcement, he said, could be a problem.

"It's another discretion call," he said. "The game officials are drowning in these calls now. Does bringing the stick back eight inches from the puck constitute a slap shot? Or will it be 16, 20 or 24 inches?"

Addison said half the sticks broken in practice are from slap shots, although the game percentage is lower.

Braves could cut their $1,500 stick budget by a third, he said, if some of the players would stop "imitating the big leaguers" with slap shots.

MARKET TRENDS

NEW YORK (AP) — Good news about the prospects of an early income tax cut sent the stock market on a rally Wednesday.

The advance came after Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said he had told President Johnson that "I thought I could assure him that there will be a tax bill next year and that it will be retroactive to Jan. 1."

The market had been dawdling with prices mixed until word of Dirksen's statement was received.

A buying wave developed and as prices went up the New York Stock Exchange ticker tape twice fell behind floor transactions.

Blue chips wiped out early losses and posted good gains.

Chrysler, a popular favorite in recent weeks, erased an early small loss and closed with a gain of 3⅝ to 87⅛.

AIRLINES HIGHER

Advancing more than a point, Trans World Airlines and American Airlines reached new 1963 highs.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 1.4 to 282.0.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 3.69 to 755.51.

Of 1,309 issues traded, 630 advanced and 416 declined.

Volume expanded to 4,800,000 shares from 4,540,000 Tuesday.

Westinghouse Electric, off 1¼ at 34 on 157,000 shares was most active.

Among Canadian issues gained ⅞. Dome Mines and traded Distillers Seagrams Hudson Bay Mining each ¾. International Nickel ½ and Walker Gooderham ⅛. McIntyre Porcupine lost ¼.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mixed. Fargo Oil gained ⅛. Brazilian Traction, Canadian Marconi, and Scurry Rainbow Oil eased ⅛. Canadian Javelin lost ¼, Preston 1-16.

TORONTO (CP)—A late rally raised indexes slightly on the stock market Wednesday after a dull day of drifting prices.

The 77-stock industrial index, off .07 at 2 p.m., finished up .09 at 133.52. The 108-stock exchange index picked up near the end of trading to close at 124.88, up .04.

Biggest gainer on the industrial list was Simpsons, up 1¼ at 37¼. Canada Steamship Lines rose ½, Dominion Foundries and Steel ⅜.

Losers included Dominion Glass, off one point at 171½, Royal Bank and Walker-Gooderham ⅝ each, Imperial Bank of Commerce ¾ and Eddy Match ½.

Base metals closed slightly lower. Among senior issues Geco Mines was off ⅜ but International Nickel rose ½ and Hudson Bay Mining ⅜.

Canadian - Australian Explorations traded 527,000 shares, closing off ½ at 11½, to lead speculative issues.

Western oils declined, with Canada Southern Petroleum off 25 cents to $4.60, Great Plains off ¼ and Hudson Bay Oil and Gas down ⅜.

On index, industrials rose .09 to 133.52; base metals fell .01 to 57.93; golds declined .19 to 122.38, western oils were off .81 to 80.03. The Exchange index rose .04 to 124.88. Volume was 3,367,000, compared with 3,224,000 shares traded Tuesday.

MONTREAL (CP)—The stock market forged ahead at the open, steadied at mid-day and gained toward the close Wednesday on the Montreal and Canadian exchanges.

Trading was fairly active. Industrial volume hit 151,600 shares and mines and oils 343,600 shares.

The composite index added a substantial 0.3 to 125.7.

Industrials were the strongest sector, adding 0.5 to 127.2. Simpson's gained a point, Du Pont ⅞, Consumers' Glass, Moore Corp. and Dominion Textile ¼ each.

Papers were ahead 0.4 at 114.2. Price Bros. rose ¾, Fraser ⅜ and Abitibi and B.C. Forest ⅛ each. Consolidated slipped ⅝ and International and Donohue ⅛ each.

International Nickel led senior base metals higher, adding ¼.

Utilities were ahead 0.2 at 121.3. Maritime Telephone rose ½ and Bell Telephone ¼.

Banks were the only losing sector, falling 0.3 to 123.6. Imperial lost ⅝, Royal ⅜. Montreal and Toronto - Dominion were both ahead ¼.

Tight Bras, Girdles Make Poor Drivers

YORK, England (AP)—A British driving expert says some women wear their girdles and bras so tight they're a menace behind the wheel.

"Too often," Patrick Murphy told a safety conference Tuesday, "some of the undergarments they wear affect their breathing and they are not able to relax."

Murphy, secretary of the British Association of Motor Schools, said cuffs and bracelets are additional hazards. They "can easily get entangled with the gear lever."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Your Individual Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars,

For Friday, December 6, 1963

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — Do not permit last-minute rushes, necessary or self-inflicted, to spoil what could be a creditable day. Some adversities are out-and-out blessings; others can be made so.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Count your responsibilities, and handle them with the verve and ambition day inspires. Venus encourages artistry, romance.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — Do not waste precious moments regretting "what might have been," getting into hassles that solve nothing. It's so easy to do these things when the guard is down.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) —Look to revitalized ambition, straight-shooting tactics, to put over most issues and carry you through safely. A good day under Moon's generous influences.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — The Sun, highly auspicious for the next two days, boosts your especial brand of fervor and enthusiasm, helps you to keep the ball rolling, the doors to cooperation open, the spirit strong.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Better-than-average prospects, but you will have to grasp the good things firmly, and quickly put aside the undesirable. If careful in your approach, you will make fine strides.

SEPTEMBER 24 ot OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Wade through the difficult periods, relax with the pressureless ones. Whichever, you will need these traits: imagination, ability to see the humor-our side, steadiness.

October 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — There is strength in numbers so be careful how you become involved — or don't. Yes, be a person of action, but with inner strength, sound purpose, judicious foresight.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Saggittarius) — Jupiter again highly auspicious. Plan, negotiate, ask and/or grant favors, call meetings. All should go well.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — First notably auspicious planetary day this month. Work carefully planned, projects initiated, painstaking efforts should all yield fine rewards.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Planets indicate some complications, not easily unravelled. Yet, by diligent process, you will be able to rack up more than results.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Some barren spots in this day. You will need a bit of "oomph" to handle them. Stress your inborn farsightedness and imagination.

YOU BORN TODAY: Many Sagittarians are renowned in law, jurisprudence, diplomatic circles and the sports world. You believe in people in their inherent right to justice and happiness. You should practice moderation in all things. Do one thing at a time, since "too many irons in the fire" may confuse you. You are naturally independent and rebellious of restraint. Try to be a little more adaptable. Birthdate of: Warren Hastings, 1st Governor General Brit. India; Jos. L. Gay-Lussac, French chemist, physicist.

Mass Communication Urged for Gospel

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)— The decree on modern means of social communication promulgated Wednesday by Pope Paul urges the Roman Catholic Church to use press, radio, television and films to spread the gospel.

It also lays down standards for the best moral use of modern communication media.

The decree says: "The principle moral responsibility for the proper use of the media of social communication falls on newspaper men, writers, actors, designers, producers, displayers, distributors, operators and sellers, as well as critics and all others who play any part in the production and transmission of mass presentations.

"It is quite evident what gravely important responsibilities they have in the present day when they are in a position to lead the human race to good or evil by informing or arousing mankind.

"Thus they must adjust their economic, political or artistic and technical aspects so as never to oppose the common good. For the purpose of better achieving this goal, they are to be commended when they join professional associations which —even under a code, if necessary, of sound moral practice— oblige their members to show respect for morality in the duties and tasks of their craft."

The decree says public authorities have a duty to protect and safeguard "true and just freedom of information, a freedom that is totally necessary for the welfare of contemporary society, especially when it is a question of freedom of the press."

Public authorities also are urged "to exercise a fitting and careful watch lest grave damage befall public morals and the welfare of society" through "base use" of modern communications media.

Such vigilance "in no wise restricts the freedom of individuals or groups, especially when there is a lack of adequate precaution on the part of those who are professionally engaged in using these media."

The decree says that in society men have a right to information and "the news itself that is communicated should always be true and complete, within the bounds of justice and charity."

It adds: "The manner in which the news is communicated should be proper and decent. This means that in both the search for news and in reporting it, there must be full respect for the laws of morality and for the legitimate rights and dignity of the individual."

The decree calls for the encouragement of good films, radio and television "by every effective means."

It recommends efforts "to see that the noble and ancient art of the drama . . . serves the cultural and moral betterment of audiences."

MOST DISCRIMINATE

"Parents should remember that they have a most serious duty to guard carefully lest things of this sort, which may be morally harmful, enter their homes or affect their children shows, publications and other under other circumstances," it says.

The decree orders that national Roman Catholic centres should be set up in every country to foster better use of press, movies, radio and television. It also calls for measures to encourage the Roman Catholic press.

The decree on mass communications proposes creation of Catholic press and communication centres in Rome and around the world to spread the church's message. It also calls on civil authorities to protect the free flow of information.

The Pope said he hoped the council's next session, convening in September, would bring a conclusion to the questions of divine relation, episcopal-papal power, and the place of the Virgin Mary in the church. All there are key issues still awaiting council action.

He said he would see to it that council commissions re - examined these questions and other matters before the council during the nine-month recess. He said he wanted the commissions to present the next session of the council with "schemata (topics) which are short and so worded that it will not be difficult to obtain a judgment of the council on certain fundamental propositions."

NEW FERRIES

VICTORIA (CP) — Premier Bennett said Tuesday tenders on two new government ferries will be called for in less than a year.

Speaking at the launching of a $3,500,000 government ferry, Queen of Nanaimo, Mr. Bennett said the tenders will be called as soon as plans are ready for a ferry to run between Kelsey Bay and Prince Rupert.

He also announced the government plans another ferry, similar to the Queen of Nanaimo, to serve the Gulf Islands.

Tenders for that ferry will be called later in the year, he said.

The Queen of Nanaimo was christened by Mrs. Dan Campbell, wife of the Social Credit member of the legislature for Comox, and slipped into the water from the yard of Victoria Machinery Depot.

Business Spotlight . . .

Saw More Future in Canada Than U.S.

WINNIPEG (CP) — Myles Sheldon Robinson has put a formal business education to work for him in a busy house-building career.

The 37-year-old Winnipeg native graduated in commerce from the University of Manitoba, got a master's degree in business administration from the University of New York and became an executive trainee with a retail organization in New York.

"I had made up my mind to get out of Winnipeg," he said, "but suddenly realized my own country offered far greater prospects."

He returned to Winnipeg to join his father in a sporting goods business. That association lasted nearly four years, until 1954. Then Myles decided to try his own wings.

"I felt the house-building industry was the least specialized and the most backward in the construction world. I felt I could grow with it."

He founded Metropolitan Homes Ltd. and in its first year the firm turned out 30 houses. By the end of this year ,about 2,300 Greater Winnipeg families will be living in homes built by Metropolitan.

Myles says he is "not a carpenter nor a technical man." But he gathered certain building principles and ideas near the start:

1. There was no profit in subcontracting. Each job that he could do himself could lead to a saving that could be passed on to cost-conscious consumers.

2. Bulk buying could lead to savings.

3. There was a market, and opportunity, for the mass builder in the Metropolitan Winnipeg area, which has a population of 500,000.

PRE-FABS MUCH WORK

Every operation that can be done away from the building site is done by craftsmen in the firm's plant at neighboring Transcona.

Mr. Robinson does not hesitate to seek advice and use professional aid.

His original estimate of the Winnipeg area market indicated there was a "shelter market," that many people wanted a place to live.

Since then this market has become "saturated" — second-house buyers have come into the market. So now Mr. Robinson is pursuing this market.

A year ago Mr. Robinson appeared before Governor-General Vanier to receive a Canadian Housing Design Council award, based on a belief by the firm that customers wanted a two-storey house at a time when one-storey homes were the usual product.

Credit for that award fell in several directions—to employee teamwork in deciding upon, and developing, the design; and to citizens who attended Metropolitan's forums to tell what they liked in homes.

Youth Fined $300 For Grey Cup Riots

VANCOUVER (CP) — Donald Schick, 20, was fined $300 Tuesday on a charge of unlawful assembly in a Grey Cup disturbance in downtown Vancouver.

The youth told the court he and a friend were crossing the street when he was thrown into a police patrol wagon without warning.

Magistrate Cyril White rejected the story and said: "Give me a good reason why I shouldn't send you to jail."

Schick pleaded that a jail term would ruin his career as an insurance underwriter.

Constable T. P. O'Brien told the court that about 500 persons broke from a crowd lining sidewalks as the patrol wagon moved in to pick up a prisoner.

Schick was in the lead, shouting at people behind him to "fight the police," the officer said.

"Schick appeared to be the leader," Const. O'Brien said.

"I was afraid there was going to be a riot."

When prosecutor Larry Candido said another court imposed fines of only $100 for unlawful assembly during Grey Cup demonstrations, Magistrate White said:

"They were fortunate I wasn't sitting there."

Burma Closes University

RANGOON (AP) — Burma's military government has ordered a third university closed because of the spread of student rioting.

Mandalay University was shut down Tuesday, Moulmein University Monday night and Rangoon University Saturday. More than 10,000 students have been affected and 114 have been arrested.

Reports from Mandalay, 300 miles north of Rangoon, said at least 34 student leaders were arrested after police used tear gas against attacking students.

The student disorders are generally regarded as a Communist effort to discredit Gen. Ne Win's neutralist government because he broke off peace talks with Communist rebels who have been fighting the government for 15 years.

Odds... and Ends

by M.D.B.

On a drive over to Trail Saturday a pleasant sight at Thrums flats was a bunch of youngsters with skates and hockey sticks making the most of a frozen pond, and a cow chewing its cud in the background. It looked a bit like one of those old-fashioned Ives prints, with red-cheeked children enjoying themselves in simple sport. There was ice on the bay at Taghum, but I don't believe it was thick enough for skating.

* * *

The countryside had a decidedly wintry look about it with quite a bit of snow up at Apex and many a nook and hollow sheltering a patch of it along the way, with fields looking crisp with frost. Rocks along the highway were glazed where the water had trickled over them and frozen. The roads were good, though, and bare all the way. Only the bridges were slippery with frost.

* * *

I had occasion to join another "family" at a banquet they were having in honor of a retiring member a while back. The postal workers and their wives were having a get-together and the jokes were of course concerning the postal service. One I remember was about a new letter carrier who was starting on the Point Grey route in Vancouver. He was taken round the route once and shown the ropes and then next morning was left to his own devices. They waited for him to show up at noon, but no sign of him; mid-afternoon and still no sign of him so they phoned his wife — no, she hadn't seen him, he hadn't been home to lunch. In the late afternoon he staggered in and explained that he had tried to deliver a letter at a home in Point Grey and the lady said those people had moved over to North Vancouver and the ferry trip took him so long. The mail must go through!

* * *

The gathering was told the postal department often got some puzzling requests. For instance, there was the time that the undertaker phoned up and asked them what they were going to do about "this dog." What was a dog doing at the undertakers ,they wondered, and what did it have to do with the post office? Well, it was cleared up when the undertaker explained that the dog had been with the mail carrier and had stayed behind, would they come and get it? So the mail carrier had to go and pick up the dog.

Race Horse Owner Robbed of $8000

VANCOUVER (CP)—Theft of $8,000 from his apartment was reported to city police Tuesday night by Dave Diamond, vice-president of Pacific Meats Limited and well-known race horse owner.

Diamond said the money was his own and the 80 $100 bills were to have been deposited in the bank Wednesday.

He said he believed two men committed the break-in with one man shoving the other up to an unlocked livingroom window about six feet above the ground.

"It looks as if they knew the money was there," he said.

SEARCH FOR BODY

RICHMOND (CP) — RCMP will continue a search today for the body of Don Stunkievich, 14, who is believed to have drowned while duck hunting in a punt on the Fraser River. The boy's boat was found floating upside down at a log boom.

Foreign Exchange Shows Increase

OTTAWA (CP)—An increase of $49,600,000 during November in Canada's foreign exchange reserves, to a total of $2,631,000,000 on Nov. 30, was reported Wednesday by Finance Minister Gordon.

It was the third successive monthly increase in the reserves of gold and U.S. dollars since a mid-summer decline caused by announcement of the proposed United States "interest equalization" tax on American purchases of foreign securities.

The proposed tax—still to be approved by the U.S. Congress—has cut sharply into the flow of U.S. capital into Canada for investment in stocks and bonds.

Mr. Gordon told a Senate committee Tuesday Canada might be facing "very serious difficulties" in its exchange position if it hadn't been for the large foreign earnings resulting from big wheat sales to Russia and Communist China.

During July and August, Canada's foreign exchange reserves declined by a total $221,100,000 to $2,470,500,000 at the end of August. In the following three months they rose by $160,500,000.

Canada won a promise by the U.S. administration that its proposed interest equalization tax would not apply to new Canadian bond and stock issues sold to U.S. investors. In return, Canada undertook not to take advantage of that exemption to build up foreign exchange reserves.

However, despite this exemption, officials have indicated there has been very little American investment in new Canadian bond issues pending congressional approval of the tax.

The greatest known volcanic lava flow in history erupted in southern Iceland in 1783, with a volume of about 2.9 cubic miles.

China Blames U.S.S.R. For Economic Woes

PEKING (Reuters) — Communist China Wednesday published the fullest details yet of Soviet withdrawal of aid and experts and openly blamed Soviet leaders for the dislocation of China's original economic plan.

A new slashing attack on Soviet leaders' "perfidious actions" came in a long editorial in the Peking People's Daily, China's main Communist newspaper.

The editorial was commenting on the results of this year's session of the National People's Congress—China's parliament.

The congress ended Tuesday after more than two weeks of secret debate with the publication of a press communique and resolutions stressing the need for "self-reliance" and building an independent economic system in China.

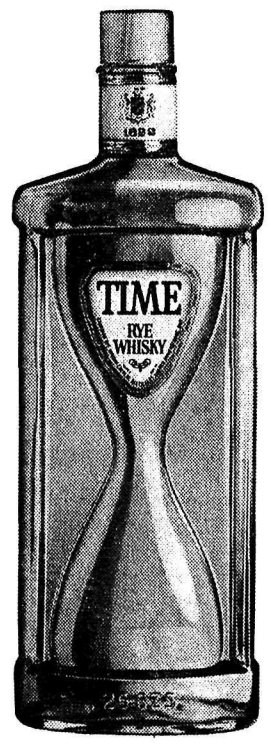
A NICE SURPRISE

MACLEOD'S LIMITED

Make up your mind slowly. Take a full 60 seconds.



A full minute may be longer than you ordinarily take over one sip of whisky.

Take that long with Time. The whisky in the hourglass bottle gives you a lot to think about.

The taste is light, warm, smooth.

Think about the taste of this gentle whisky. Think about the taste of the whisky you usually buy. Think about how they compare.

It takes a long time to change a man's mind about whiskies.

All we ask is one minute.
