Volunteer Goes Down, Finds No Sign of Bova

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP) — A search Friday night of the coal-mine chamber in which Henry Throne and David Fellin spent 14 days before their rescue Tuesday turned up no signs of Louis Bova, third man trapped in the Aug. 13 cave-in.

Andy Drebitko, 36, of Pottsville descended 300 feet in the 18-inch shaft through which Throne and Fellin had been hauled to safety. He went down swinging at the end of a rope and wearing an open safety harness which looks like a parachute rig.

As soon as Drebitko returned to the surface after a 15-minute search and made his report, the three drilling rigs at the mine at nearby Sheppton resumed attempts to sink shafts in the direction where Bova was believed trapped.

ALL WAS QUIET

The rigs had been quiet—along with everything else except a generator supplying power for electric light—while Drebitko went down.

"What appeared to be the image of a man was the remains of the plug that had been used to close up the 12-inch hole before they widened it to 18 inches and brought Fellin and Throne to the surface," Drebitko said.

"My inspection of the area where Fellin and Throne had been, indicated that it would have been impossible to tunnel from there to where Bova might be entombed on the opposite side of the slope," Drebitko continued.

Drebitko volunteered to go down and inspect the chamber after an object, resembling a body, was seen by a television camera lowered into the chamber.

Drebitko, a small man of about five-feet-seven, started down at 8:32 p.m., went down in about 20 minutes, lowered carefully by hand. He came up 15 minutes later.

DRIVE TO BOTTOM

H. B. Charmbury, state mines secretary, said that a 22-inch hole already started east of the Fellin-Throne escape hatch had gone past the 150-foot mark and would be driven down to the bottom in the continuing search for Bova.

Demand Fast Action On Snoopy Trawler

WASHINGTON (AP) — Investigators of the House of Representatives demanded Friday that the United States Coast Guard take swift action whenever Soviet fishing trawlers that might be snooping for intelligence are spotted in U.S. waters.

The investigators contended the U.S. government is putting undue emphasis on the presumption that Russian vessels cruising off Florida are in innocent passage from North Atlantic fishing grounds to Cuban ports.

The recommendation was made by the House armed services investigations subcommittee in a report on its investigation of Russian trawler traffic in U.S. territorial waters.

The subcommittee's key proposal:

"The agencies concerned should adopt a uniform national policy which would permit the coast guard to take such immediate and unilateral action as may be required in the national interest whenever vessels having electronic or other capabilities which constitute a threat to the security of our country are found transiting our territorial waters."

PATROLS THIN

It said peacetime patrols by the coast guard are "so thin that the commandant concedes that the trawlers could put ashore or take aboard agents, weapons and other contraband with slight chance of detection.

"This may be due in part to the concentration of coast guard personnel and equipment elsewhere to curb Cuban exile activity," the report said.

The report coincided with a statement by Senator Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy (Dem. Mass.) that the activities of Russian fishing vessels off Cape Cod form an "ominous pattern."

Kennedy said the coast guard has counted 169 vessels in the fleet and he added "there are undoubtedly many more . . . concealed by fog cover."

The president's brother said "intrusions can be anticipated" from a fleet of that size. He was pressing for legislation that would permit stronger measures, including seizure of ships fishing illegally in American waters.

Up to Kennedy To Name Others

WASHINGTON (AP) — It will be up to President Kennedy to name the three neutral members of the railroad-labor arbitration board.

Representatives of United States railways and rail unions decided quickly Friday that they could not agree on the choice of neutrals.

Their agreement to disagree was announced by Assistant Labor Secretary James J. Reynolds, who said he received the word from J. E. Wolfe, chief negotiator for the railways.

Reynolds said Wolfe told him he had discussed the matter by telephone with H. E. Gilbert, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen (AFL-CIO), and that the two could not agree on three choice to round out a seven-member board.

The carriers have designated Wolfe and Guy W. Knight, vice-president in charge of labor relations for the Pennsylvania Railroad, as their panel members.

The unions announced their selections Friday: Gilbert and R. H. McDonald, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen (AFL-CIO).

More Police Called To Protect Negroes

FOLCROFT, Pa. (AP)—State police called for reinforcements Friday night to handle a growing, angry, jeering crowd throwing rocks, eggs and bottles at a house into which a Negro family had moved a few hours earlier guarded by a heavy cordon of troopers.

There were brief flurries of pushing and shoving and a photographer was hit in the mouth. Other reporters were pelted with eggs and rocks. Firecrackers exploded.

The crowd, estimated by state police at 800 to 1,000, began swelling shortly after dark. Men, women, teen-agers and children stood across from the home of Horace and Sara Baker, and at intervals, bombarded it with rocks, bottles and stones.

There were no injuries, but at one point, when state police began hustling off a boy accused of throwing a rock, the crowd converged on them and officers pushed the people back with riot sticks.

ARREST FOUR

Four arrests were made. They included James Van Dyk, an assistant professor at the University of Pennsylvania, who was charged with inciting a riot after a group of angry demonstrators gathered around him.

Van Dyk, an assistant professor in the school of fine arts, said he was there as an individual "to protest this kind of hate."

Three teen-agers also were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct.

Last Columbia Riverboat Captain Dies

INVERMERE — Capt. John S. Blakley, well known pioneer citizen of Radium Hot Springs, died Friday in a Calgary hospital. Captain Blakley was the last of the Columbia River boat captains and the first airplane pilot in the Upper Columbia Valley.

Born in Ontario in 1889, he came west as a boy of 10. His father, Alexander Blakley, was one of the first of the Upper Columbia riverboat captains and his son John worked with him on the paddle steamers until he knew the river like his own back yard.

By 1911, at 22, he was a captain in his own right in command of the steamer Selkirk. In 1914 Captain Blakley operated the last of the commercial steamboats when the Kootenay Central Railway took over the valley freighting.

During World War I, Captain Blakley served with the Royal Engineers in England and later on the Tigres River in the Far East. Then he served with the Royal Flying Corps and later brought the first airplane to the Columbia valley.

During World War II he was a river pilot for U.S. Army boats on the Mackenzie River. After the war, he and his wife operated the Radium Hot Springs Hotel. He was postmaster at Radium for many years. Surviving are his wife, Jessie, at Radium Hot Springs; three sons, Jock, in the Queen Charlotte Islands, Herbert and Blair at Radium, and 10 grandchildren.

Turncoat Quits China

HONG KONG (AP) — Albert Belhomme, a U.S. army turncoat in the Korean War, came out of China Friday, disillusioned with communism.

The former sergeant from Ashland, Pa., entered Hong Kong accompanied by his Chinese wife, Hsio Ying, 28, and their three sons, ranging from one to six years. All looked fit and happy.

Belhomme, 34-year-old native of Belgium, said he planned to take his family to Belgium in a few days.

East Kootenay Girls Missing Since Saturday

CRANBROOK — Apprehesion is increasing over two East Kootenay teen-age girls, Ruth Pattinson of Wycliffe and Frances Fletcher of Golden, missing since last Saturday.

Ruth had been visiting Frances at Golden, and last Saturday phoned her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pattinson, at Wycliffe that she was returning home that day. Instead the pair vanished.

Both weigh 120 pounds. Ruth is 17 years old and five foot two inches, with brown eyes and possibly is wearing glasses. Frances is 15 years old, five foot three inches, blonde with brown eyes.

RCMP have sent out a general alert for travellers to be on the watch. It was thought at first their disappearance may have been a run-away escapade but in view of the long silence the search is being intensified along both Trans-Canada and north-south highways.

Victoria Youth Found Killed

VICTORIA (CP) — The body of a 17-year-old youth with the back of his head smashed was found early Friday in the parking lot of a downtown store.

Two policemen found the body of George Down, son of Lieut. Cmdr. and Mrs. J. T. Down of suburban Esquimalt.

Police said the youth had been dead several hours. Rigor Mortis had already set in.

The body was lying in a large pool of blood. There was no sign of a weapon.

Down had left his work at a stationers office shortly before 5:30 p.m. Thursday evening. He went home and then came downtown about an hour later.

Police Chief John Blackstock said: "We have no clues whatever at the present time."

An autopsy was to be held later to determine the cause of death. "We haven't ruled out any possibility," said Mr. Blackstock.

FIRE CHIEFS AGAINST SALE OF FIREWORKS

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Canadian Association of Fire Chiefs is opposed to the sale and use of fireworks in Canada.

A resolution placing this view on record was approved Thursday at the group's annual convention here.

Exact wording of the resolution was not made public.

A companion resolution urged that provincial marshals and other officials make a study of the sale and use of fireworks.

The first resolution appeared to back the stand of J. C. Beggs, a Winnipeg fire prevention officer, who said in an interview fireworks should be banned in Canada.

He said they are both a fire hazard and pose the danger of burns to children using them.

Canada To Get Big Wheat Sales in Pact

By ALAN DONELLY

OTTAWA (CP)—An export quota plan with Communist China has opened up larger Canadian markets for Chinese goods, though the total will be only a fraction of Canadian wheat sales to Red China.

The quota arrangement, part of the three-year wheat agreement signed recently with Red China, was outlined in a statement Friday by Trade Minister Sharp.

China's state trading corporations agreed to limit exports to Canada in 30 categories of "sensitive" products — mostly textile goods—to a maximum $7,000,000 a year.

Mr. Sharp said Canada will be getting wheat sales totalling between $215,000,000 and $360,000,000 under the three - year pact.

The export quota deal with China, however, is expected to bring requests by Japan for improvements in the voluntary quotas applied by Japan on a large part of its export sales to Canada.

MEET IN FALL

Japan likely will present its case at the meeting here this fall of the Canada-Japan ministerial committee on economic affairs. But the Japanese bid for a better deal is expected to get a cool reception from Canadian authorities.

In a mid-summer agreement, China agreed to buy between 112,000,000 and 186,700,000 bushels of Canadian wheat during the next three years.

Mr. Sharp's statement said it is "natural and reasonable" that China should want to sell its products in Canada.

"However, in the negotiations the Chinese representatives had recognized it was in the mutual interest that there should be special arrangements to avoid disruption of markets and damage to Canadian producers."

The $7,000,000 annual ceiling of the 30 categories under the quota plan compares with China's total exports to Canada last year of $4,520,000. This included some $1,300,000 of products covered by the new quotas.

Canadian exports to China, on the other hand, totalled $147,430,000 last year—almost all of it grain.

In most cases, the Chinese quotas are only a fraction of the quotas adopted by Japan following lengthy negotiations ast spring.

For example, the Red China quota on sheets of 150,000 compares with the Japanese quota of 686,000. A quota of 50,000 dozen cotton shirts and blouses compares with the Japanese quota of 289,000 dozen.

Caouette Should Quit, Declares Socred Leader

By JAMES NELSON

OTTAWA (CP) — Robert Thompson, national leader of the Social Credit party, said Friday his Quebec deputy, Real Caouette, should quit the federal party.

Speaking on the eve of an important convention of the Thompson said he can no longer tolerate what he called "irresponsible" statements by Mr. Caouette about separatism, or personal criticism of himself and other Social Crediters.

Mr. Thompson made the statements as Quebec Social Crediters gathered at Granby Que., for an important policy meeting—a session which Mr. Thompson has declined to attend.

CLIMAX OF CRITICISMS

His invitation to Mr. Caouette to resign from the federal party was the climax of a series of recent criticisms and counter-criticisms between the two top men in the social credit movement.

It would be a good thing for the party if the self-styled Quebec co-leader would disassociate himself from the Social Credit Association of Canada, Mr. Thompson said in an interview.

The national leader, who leaves this weekend for a Western Canada tour and then a visit to New Zealand and Australia, fired his rocket at the deputy leader while working in his shirtsleeves in his Commons office packing paper for the tour.

Mr. Thompson said he will not attend the weekend meeting of Social Credit's Quebec wing in Granby.

Loyalty to Mr. Thompson or to Mr. Caouette is likely to be the key issues in the meeting of le Ralliement des Creditistes.

Mr. Thompson said his uebec deputy made personal charges against himself and other Social Crediters, indicating that he has "in fact already separated himself from the Social Credit Association."

OBVIOUS MEANING

Mr. Caouette's belief that the ralliement will become an autonomous body "obviously means that he no longer considers himself under my leadership," Mr. Thompson said.

Mr. Thompson added that he had worked for unity within the party and against tendencies of separatism "from whatever direction" and had always sought "a fair deal for Quebec and for each of the provinces."

"In the light of all this is has become obvious that it would be better for our national movement and for all concerned if Mr. Caouette—if he really believes what he has said—would dissociate himself from the national association.

"Unless he does so, his works and his actions show that he will be in an utterly false position.

"As leader of the national movement, I can no longer tolerate or accept the irresponsible statements he has made or his expressed sympathy and political liaison with the separatist movement."

Earlier, Mr. Caouette in a Montreal interview had described Mr. Thompson as being "likewarm" to Social Credit principles and turning a deaf ear to Quebec's demands for equality.

The Granby convention has before it a dozen resolutions calling for the replacement of Mr. Thompson by a bilingual man.

Five Children Die in Fire

TAWATINAW, Alta. (CP) — Five children burned to death in their farm home Friday as their mother stood outside, helpless and horrified.

Mrs. Delbert Dunkley had been milking when she noticed smoke billowing from the two-storey frame house and heard the screams of her children.

Killed were: Dale, 7; Donna, 6; Rita, 4; Roger, 3; and Cathy, eight months.

She attempted to gain entrance to the house but was driven back by the fierce flames and dense smoke.

Police said Mrs. Dunkley lit a fire in the kitchen stove and went out to do the barnyard chores. Three-year-old Roger was playing downstairs and two others were playing with the baby in an upstairs bedroom.

Police said it was believed the fire — its origin undetermined — started on the first floor, cutting off the only exit for the older children upstairs.

A year ago, the family lost all of their belongings when fire swept through their farm home less than a mile from Friday's tragedy.

Sleeping Sickness Suspected in Prairie Illnesses

REGINA (CP) — One man is dead and about 50 other persons were in hospitals across Saskatchewan Friday night and provincial health department officials said they suspected that in at least some cases the cause was sleeping sickness.

Cabinet Dispute Causes Resignation

HELSINKI (Reuters) — Finland's Premier Ahti Karjalainen handed in the resignation of his coalition government Friday after a cabinet dispute over a proposed increase in prices.

Karjalainen submitted the government's resignation to President Urho Kekkonen a few hours after three labor union members of the cabinet resigned over the prices dispute.

Kekkonen accepted the resignation but asked Karjalainen to keep his government in office until a new administration is formed. Karjalainen agreed.

CLC Chief Says Labor Ready To Play Role in Unity Effort

OTTAWA (CP) — President Claude Jodoin of the Canadian Labor Congress says organized labor wants to co-operate with government and management but, in doing so, won't abandon its fight for higher wages, better working conditions and advanced social benefits.

In his annual Labor Day message, the head of the 1,050,000-member central labor federation, declared the CLC is prepared to play its full role in the development of better relationships.

"We do this while retaining to the full our right to press for that which we believe to be just and right for the people," he said.

"There will not be the slightest easing of our efforts to obtain proper wage rates, to establish good working conditions, and to advance social benefits."

The CLC leader said "some limited progress" has been made in improving labor-management relations, with increasing recognition of the possibilities of both sides getting together on matters of mutual concern.

STILL FIGHT UNIONS

He said there still are instances in which management fights free trade unions. This anti-union attitude was declining but remained quite extensive.

Mr. Jodoin expressed hope the Liberal government's new Economic Council of Canada will provide an avenue for a more co-operative approach to the country's problems such as unemployment.

"Labor Day marks the turn of the season and brings with it the approach of a period when unemployment rates traditionally rise. There has been a growing awareness of the seriousness of this situation, but in the view of our organization, there has not yet been a realistic approach to finding a solution."

Mr. Jodoin said the government's steps to strengthen the winter works incentive program are from adequate.

"There is need now, before the snow flies, for a far more extensive and imaginative program to curb the wate of winter idleness."

False Alarm Diverts Firemen Headed to Fire

Carelessly discarded cigarettes and false alarms brought the Nelson Fire Department out on four calls Thursday and Friday.

The two Friday calls, which came almost simultaneously, caused consternation to firemen when one turned out to be a false alarm.

At 4:05 p.m. firemen were notified that a sawdust pile at Powell Lumber Company was burning. As they proceeded to extinguish the blaze, a call at Baker and Josephine Streets was reported.

They quickly answered the downtown call and, discovering nothing, proceeded to the sawdust pile, quickly extinguishing it.

Deputy Fire Chief F. Yasek said the fire was caused by three teenagers and a nine-year-old boy, smoking on the pile. The youths were not apprehended.

At 12:40 a.m. Friday firemen answered a call to the Shamrock Grill. The fire was caused by a carelessly discarded cigar in the planter outside the Grill.

Thursday afternoon they answered a false alarm at 1912 Stanley Street.

About 55 guests assembled in the Taghum Hall to partake of borsch, pastries smothered in melted butter, and home-made bread.

Between courses the Doukhobors sang praises of the happy occasion.

Following the dinner, Bert Marcuse, a seminar leader, told the Russians, "we have learned to respect you. You don't need missionaries — you have missionaries, the best missionaries anyone could have."

Cookbooks containing the dinner's menu will be sent to delegates.

The seminar ended with a wind-up party at St. Martin's Hall and delegates leave today.

FULL PATROL FORCE ON THE HIGHWAYS

RCMP have reminded motorists that over the Labor Day weekend they will be patrolling the highways in full force. (Also see "10 Seconds to Live" on editorial page.)

In a statement to the Daily News Friday, they said: "Do not become a statistic over the holiday weekend. When driving on highways we ask that you use extra care and make this holiday an accident free time.

"The RCMP remind the travelling public that during the Labor Day weekend all available cars and personnel will be on duty with radar, marked and unmarked patrols in an effort to reduce traffic offences and accidents.

"So during your travels, always keep in mind traffic safety, obey all traffic laws and have an enjoyable holiday."

Hurt in Accident

Three Blewett residents are in Kootenay Lake General Hospital with chest injuries and abrasions following an accident Friday night on the Blewett road.

In satisfactory condition are Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Kelly and Harry Lange.

The accident occurred about one mile up the road off Highway No. 3, six miles east of Nelson, when their light delivery truck went over the bank.

Wood, Vallance Employees Buy Controlling Interest

Thirty-six employees have shown their faith in the future of the Kootenays by purchasing controlling interest in Wood, Vallance Hardware Co. Ltd.

Takeover date of the long established firm will be Sept. 3. The B.C.-incorporated company will operate under the name Wood, Vallance Hardware (1963) Ltd.

Besides the employees, other interested parties in the province and district raised the $725,000 necessary to swing the purchase, said general manager Alex H. Allan. Only four from outside B.C. bought shares in the company.

The firm was incorporated with 300,000 shares, and is authorized to issue 500,000 shares.

Wood, Vallance has been owned by the same families that founded the company and employees were given first chance to purchase it. Mr. Allan said good cooperation was given on all sides and local people, especially employees of the company, took advantage of the offer.

The largest jobbing firm between Alberta and Vancouver, Wood, Vallance was established in Nelson in April, 1904, making it one of the oldest companies here. The firm was founded by Senator A. T. Wood and William and George Vallance in Hamilton in 1849.

Branches sprouted at principal Canadian cities and at one time it was the largest wholesale house in Canada. During the 1920s, Marshall-Wells stores bought out all branches except in Nelson.

Several efforts to purchase the Nelson branch have been resisted and early this year the company was offered to the employees.

NO PERSONNEL CHANGE

Mr. Allan said no change is contemplated in management, personnel or policies. The firm will operate like any incorporated business with shareholders electing a board of directors. The initial meeting will be held sometime in the fall.

Voicing optimism, Mr. Allan said: "The future looks bright. This country is going ahead and we'll go with it."

The two-storey building, built in 1896, is the oldest brick building in the Kootenays, said Mr. Allan. Since that time, however, it has been reinforced with steel and concrete. Besides the Baker Street building of two floors and a basement, the company owns a large warehouse on Front Street.

Longevity seems to be a trait with Wood, Vallance employees, with eight totalling 273 years' service.

The figure includes the oldest employee in terms of service, Norman Brown, who retired this week after 43 years.

Arthur Foster, secretary-treasurer, is the present longest service employee. He joined the firm in 1920. Others with dates of service are: G. N. Mackenzie, 1923; E. T. Stromstead, 1924; L. N. McEachern, 1928; R. G. Walton, 1934; A. H. Allan, 1939, and Percy Scott, 1943.

Chlorine Emergency, Trail Aid To Airport Topics at Kinnaird

KINNAIRD — Extensive discussion took place at the Kinnaird village commission meeting this week concerning responsibility of Cominco in connection with possible accident during transportation of chlorine by rail.

Also discussed at some length was Trail support of the airport at Castlegar.

It was learned unofficially that the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Trail realizes its responsibility in supplying chlorine gas to this area and has been prepared for some time to do something about it. Commissioner G. S. Rust told the Kinnaird commissioners that he had been informed the company prefers to deal with civil defence organizations with regard to a system of control should an emergency arise.

He said of the recent concern over possible danger here that it is only a matter of everyone getting together on this. The deputy coordinator of the civil defence group here, H. J. Warner will be contacted by commissioners to ascertain if plans have been coordinated.

AIRPORT

Sam Muirhead for the airport committee informed Kinnaird Commissioners at the Tuesday meeting that Trail was ready to talk about support for the Castlegar airport, and he suggested that if Trail were assessed on the same basis as Nelson, there would be less opposition encountered in getting federal grants.

Mr. Muirhead said that while the airport is almost self-supporting, Nelson had put the major part of assistance into it.

He referred to a recent meeting with U. DeBiasio of Trail when the subject was discussed between himself, R. A. D. West of Castlegar and Mrs. W. J. Van Maarion of Nelson.

The contract has been signed for the new building, he said.

A letter will go to Trail from the Kinnaird Commission urging Trail participation in the upkeep of the airport.

On behalf of the Merchants Association of Kinnaird, Mr. Muirhead also asked that the provincial government be approached for a wider access to the Plaza Shopping Centre.

The proprietors of two Plaza stores, Mr. Muirhead and Carl Knutson, discussed with commissioners the possibility of an entrance located on the south side of the service station which borders the Plaza, where traffic on No. 3 Highway is directed into three lanes.

Another suggestion by Mr. Knutson was establishment of a safety zone at the north end approaching the Plaza, where he considered left turns to the present 60 foot entrance presently a hazard.

He also wished to draw the commission's attention to the need for a sign to indicate a commercial area.

The delegation was told that a geographical sign will be erected by the department and that access to the Plaza would be looked into by the village.

ASK 35 M.P.H. AT HIGHWAY

The petition also asked for a maximum protection to residents in the area and more particularly to school children in urging a reduction of the speed limit on the Kinnaird-Christina highway to 35 miles per hour.

Residents wished the crosswalk to be painted near Ron's Motel and appropriate signs erected, indicating this to be a school children's crossing. "The speed and the amount of traffic on this highway today makes it a potential death hazard to our children," the petition read.

In discussion, it was established that a reduction in speed had now been accomplished by a sign indicating a 45-mile-per-hour zone, however the uphill traffic could still resume the 60-mile speed in that area, Mr. Cheveldave said. It will be investigated further.

A committee headed by Pat Romaine was appointed at the meeting to look into preliminaries for opening the north end of Ninth Avenue, where 50 feet by approximately 120 feet of road allowance will be needed to open road access in the area.

E. Halewyn approached commissioners Tuesday in an effort to obtain a permit to build a home within approximately three lots from Milestone Road. He was told that plans would be carried out by the committee to negotiate for the road and an extension of water mains would also be under consideration.

The matter of a school crosswalk at the new highway to the Tenth Avenue school came before the village meeting when Alex Cheveldave presented a petition for 14 residents of the Crestview Subdivision. The Kinnaird commission had already requested the cross-walk in a letter to the department of highways.

The Kinnaird swimming pool will be in operation only during the afternoon hours of Saturday and Sunday starting from Sept. 2.

This Tuesday's village commission meeting approved this decision made by Commissioner G. S. Rust.

Out of three water tests taken recently at the pool, the total absence of coliform bacteria was indicated, with the tests being 0/5 on all three counts. Chairman Carl Loeblich informed the meeting that S. D. Husch, sanitary inspector for the West Kootenay Health Unit, had complimented Kinnaird on this.

The commission meeting approved a donation of $25 to the Chamber of Commerce in support of the tourist booth and proposed brochure.

BODY IN TRUNK

BOSTON (AP) — The badly-beaten body of a woman was found late Thursday night jammed into a trunk stored in the basement of a south end rooming house. The body was uncovered by police who received an anonymous telephone tip that a dead women could be found in a Tremont Street basement. Police went through 25 buildings before finding the body.

The 4,800 farmers in Ontario's Kent County harvested 97,143 tons of tomatoes worth an estimated $3,500,000 in 1962.

Announcement

On Tuesday, Sept. 3rd, Wood Vallance Hardware Company Limited will open for business with new owners.

The entire capital stock (shares) has been sold to a newly-incorporated British Columbia company, Wood Vallance Hardware (1963) Ltd.

The change in ownership is the result of plans by the employees, with the help of friends, in making the purchase.

A majority of the employees now own shares in the new company. A number of persons (residents of British Columbia), have expressed confidence by making an investment.

We believe that the new ownership will be a good thing for this part of British Columbia.

There will be no change in the management or staff. The same people will be operating the business.

We hope that we may be favored with a continuance of the support that has been accorded Wood Vallance in past years by the people of Southeastern British Columbia.

We shall do our best to earn it.

In the meantime business as usual, carry on.

The only variance is a slight change in name.

On behalf of the old company, our thanks for all the pleasant associations in the past.

For the new, a wish that we may have your confidence.

WOOD, VALLANCE HARDWARE (1963) LTD.

Hats Off to Forest Service

The cool, rather rainy summer this year may not be the best of holiday weather in British Columbia but it has been all that the Forest Service desires. There has been a minimum of fires large and small and these have been quickly brought under control.

In past days bringing a fire under control was a major operation with scores of men engaged with the primitive tools — axe and shovel — in the almost hopeless task of preventing conflagrations from spreading. Today, skill in planning, modern equipment and speedy, resolute attack on a fire result in it being quickly brought under control.

Once summer is over the fires of summer are studied and the methods used evaluated. The department keeps in touch with forestry departments in the states to the south and information is freely exchanged between them. There is a constant effort to improve to which all contribute with excellent results.

Modern equipment is made use of largely today. The airplane is used to patrol large areas, helicopters are used to drop men and equipment and water bombers are used to douse the incipient blaze. So useful are these today that instead of building miles of costly access roads, heliports, cleared spaces in strategic positions, are made from which attack on fires can be made.

Speed is the essence of fire fighting and today's fires are controlled in a much shorter time than in past years. This is particularly so with the many lightning strikes which if left untouched develop from one burning tree into a conflagration. There were more than 80 such lightning strikes recently in the Nelson district, all of which were successfully dealt with.

But the best of modern equipment is no better than those who use it. The successful operation of the B.C. Forest Service is due to the high performance of their duty by all belonging to it from the Chief Forester for the districts to the newest joined ranger. They are men dedicated to their job.

Labor Day Perils on the Roads

Over the last six years, road traffic in Canada over the Labor Day weekend has taken an average of 54 human lives. The Canadian Highway Safety Council has expressed the fear that the 1963 Labor Day weekend toll will not be less.

The same holiday in 1962 saw 71 people killed in Canadian traffic during the 78 hours between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday. CHSC expected Ontario and Quebec each would account for at least 20 of the Labor Day weekend road fatalities.

"The real tragedy of this slaughter," said W. Arch Bryce, executive director of the Council, "is that it is needless." Deaths and injuries, he said, could be drastically reduced if each motorist:

1. Refused to face the issue and stayed out of his vehicle.
2. Drove as he would have others drive.
3. Avoided becoming over-tired.
4. Made sure his vehicle was in the best possible condition.
5. Fully realized he was not immune to road accidents.

10 Seconds To Live

He pushed his sleeve back, held his wrist close to the lighted speedometer, squinted to read the time. A little after nine. Five, ten minutes after. Ought to be home in half an hour.

If he'd known he had only ten seconds to live, he might have checked the time more closely. He might have done several things differently.

Ten seconds to live. He massaged his eyes with thumb and middle finger, trying to rub out some of the sand.

Nine seconds to live. He's driven almost eight hours since lunch, and was beginning to feel it.

Eight seconds to live. Lousy driving in the rain. Light from your headlights just seems to soak in along with the water.

Seven seconds to live. Probably need a new windshield wiper blade. Old one just spreads the water around instead of wiping clean. Get one tomorrow, or next time it rains.

Six seconds to live. Somebody threw a cigarette out of an oncoming car. The red glow dissolved almost before it hit the pavement.

Five seconds to live. He planted his heels on the floorboard, squirmed back in the seat, trying for comfort.

Four seconds to live. At 60 miles an hour, a car covers 88 feet of pavement every second. Four seconds, 352 feet.

Three seconds to live. Something looked wrong through the blurry windshield. A tentative dab at the brake stiffened into desperate pressure as he made out an old, unlighted, slow-moving truck ahead.

Two seconds to live. Panic moved in. Turn to the left. No — a car coming. Headlights too close. Can't make it. Turn to the right.

One second to live. Horror numbed everything into slow motion. He was floating right into the near corner of the truck bed. He opened his mouth to scream.

NO SECONDS TO LIVE.

It's happened to lots of people; maybe not just that way, but similarly. Drive too long, eyes get tired, reactions slow down. Rain, darkness, a windshield that's hard to see through. Driving too fast. A car, or truck ahead that you can't see. It's happened to lots of folks.

IT COULD HAPPEN TO YOU!

The story of all reckless drivers. The plot often varies but the ending is always sad.

Freeloaders

Two children at Grace-Berleur told police they were lost and belonged in Montegnee. The police drove them to Montegnee, where the children reported it was the wrong town. The youngsters suggested Glain, which turned out to be wrong, then St. Nicolas, which was wrong, too. When they had had enough, they admitted that they were really from Grace-Berleur but had felt like having a day's outing in a police car.—Brussels Derniere Heure.

Colors

Colors and insignia for the new intelligence and security branch — for active army and army reserve officers and enlisted men — have been approved for the army.

The design has a heraldic sun in gold, charged with a blue rose superimposed on a dagger. Protruding from the sun are four waving rays. The straight rays symbolize the four points of the compass and indicate the global mission of the branch.

The sun is the symbol of Helios, who, as sun god, could see and hear everything. Placing the sun symbol beneath the rose, an ancient symbol for secrecy — sub rosa — refers to the operations of the branch which are supposed to be conducted without disclosure.

The partially concealed unsheathed dagger alludes to the aggressive and protective requirements and elements of physical danger that are part of the branch's mission.

Oriental blue has been chosen as the primary color and silver gray as the secondary color. The gold signifies successful accomplishment and the dark blue is for vigilance and loyalty. — From the Golden Sphinx, publication of the National Counter Intelligence Corps Association.

Joint Gov't Investigation Of Mine Explosion Seen

MOAB, Utah (AP) — A joint federal-state investigation will start Monday of the mine explosion that killed 18 of 25 miners, including some Canadians.

The investigation was announced Thursday night by Casper A. Nelson, safety inspector for the Utah Industrial Commission. He was asked by reporters about a bureau of mines statement that three of four previous fatalities at the mine were preventable.

"I don't believe I'll comment on that, but I don't buy it," he said.

He said some of the 18 victims of the mine apparently were killed instantly by the blast and that others died later of carbon monoxide poisoning. The bodies of three men were found with their heads in a ventilation pipe, apparently in a pathetic effort to get air.

RAPS LAXNESS

Interior Secretary Stewart Udall issued a statement in Washington Wednesday criticizing laxness of safety practices in some parts of the mining industry, with specific reference to the Moab disaster. He said he had been informed "that the contractors were warned of the severe dangers only three weeks ago when methane gas was ignited while workers were drilling rock bolt holes" in the drift where the explosion occurred.

The first two survivors out of the mine also spoke of lax safety precautions but their statements were rejected by Frank Tippie, general manager of the Texas Gulf Sulphur Company mine.

Tippie said that bodies of the 18 victims were so disfigured that identification will be difficult.

"We have asked the sheriff's office not to permit families to view the bodies until identification is certain," he said. "The FBI is being asked to help."

HAD WATER, AIR

Wylie Brooks, the general mine foreman, said the five rescued Thursday night had water from a drill line and a good air supply since restoration of a line Wednesday night.

"Those were the two essentials to their survival," he said.

"We have been criticized for not rushing down to those five. But we found the carbon monoxide concentration so strong in the tunnels we couldn't risk it. We had the safety of the rescuers to consider."

Texas Gulf said supervisors inspected the mine daily for gas, ventilation and roof conditions. State Mine Inspector Steve Hatsis said a state inspector had been assigned to the mine and that he had heard of nothing improper.

State records show 10 inspections had been made since May 24, 1961. Three were investigations of fatal accidents. There also was a fourth accident.

The U.S. bureau of mines said it also investigated the four fatal accidents, and said three were preventable. The bureau said the fourth, involved an outbreak of rock, which "is not entirely controlable."

Interpreting the News

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Congress is dragging its feet on several key issues and while President Kennedy tends to blame Republicans for his troubles, the more evident problem is the increasing cohesion and strength of a third force in U.S. politics.

When the House of Representatives slashed $1,000,000,000 from the U.S. foreign aid program—down to $3,500,000,000—the president's immediate reaction was to castigate Republicans for a "short-sighted, irresponsible" action.

But while a majority of Republicans joined in support of the cut, 66 Democrats—mostly southern conservatives — threw their votes to the opposition.

Many times in the past southern Democrats have joined with northern Republicans to block an administration program. But this was mainly in the fight for civil rights and other domestic legislation. There was greater Democratic solidarity in the foreign field.

NO LONGER CAUTIOUS

At the outset of his White House career, Kennedy approached the civil rights issue with caution. But under pressure of mounting Negro protest, he thrust his full support behind the Negro cause.

In turn, southern Democrats stiffened their opposition to the Kennedy team, pouring their anger into a more extensive congressional barrier to Kennedy proposals. The split in the Democratic ranks has increased and no sign of a retreat on either side has appeared.

This provides comfort for Republicans since fragmentation of the Democrats could reduce the president's prospects for a workable second term in office. The problem becomes more serious for Canada and other countries when stultification of Congress as a workable legislative machine is considered.

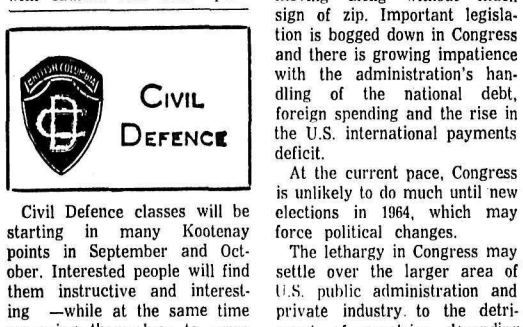
SEEKING NEW LEADER

Southern Democrats appear to be searching for a new leader. Rejecting the Kennedy image, they also seem dissatisfied with what the present vague Republican leadership may offer. The upshot may be that the south wil lsettle on someone within its own ranks.

Other countries cannot look on the problem with indifference. The American economy is moving along without much sign of zip. Important legislation is bogged down in Congress and there is growing impatience with the administration's handling of the national debt, foreign spending and the rise in the U.S. international payments deficit.

At the current pace, Congress is unlikely to do much until new elections in 1964, which may force political changes.

The lethargy in Congress may settle over the larger area of U.S. public administration and private industry to the detriment of countries depending on a dynamic U.S. economy for their own well-being.



Civil Defence classes will be starting in many Kootenay points in September and October. Interested people will find them instructive and interesting —while at the same time preparing themselves to serve their community in times of emergency.

Monkey Business

CALCUTTA, India (Reuters) A mother spent an agonizing two hours this week after a female monkey snatched her month-old baby and scampered up a tree with the infant cradled in its arms.

Indian newspapers reported Friday that 22-year-old Arati Mondal, wife of a jute worker, and neighbors tried desperately to coax the monkey down again with bananas, but without exciting it for fear it might drop the baby.

After about two hours, the monkey's mate arrived and apparently cast a disapproving eye on the human acquisition.

After a few minutes of excited chattering, the female monkey climbed dolefully down again and deposited the baby on the ground before the mother, then returned to its mate.

Grant Eslick, 47, Moab, Utah, one of five miners rescued Thursday night after 49 hours trapped deep underground, sat in a hospital bed and told this story of his ordeal.

By GRANT ESLICK

Moam, Utah (AP)—Am I going back down in the mine? Of course, I am.

I knew we would get out.

We had been waiting there so long. Suddenly I heard my partner say something, and I looked up and there was someone with a light. The rescuers were hollering, but the first thing I did was whistle.

After the explosion—it was like a coal mine down there—my worst moment came when our group rushed up the tunnel and ran into smoke.

But then we calmed down and built those barricades. We worked an hour and a half putting up those smoke curtains made of plastic.

We even kept one light on for one of our men. He had claustrophobia. But when the light went out, he was on his own.

NEAR HYSTERIA

There was one point when we were all bordering on hysteria, just lying there. It was the waiting.

But I always had confidence because we didn't have smoke, because of what we put up around us.

When those other two (Donald Hanna and Paul McKinney, the two rescued first) hooked up that compressed air to the barricade, it was a helluva morale booster to hear that air coming through.

I thought it (the explosion) was a dynamite blast. Part of my responsibility as a section boss for Texas Gulf Sulphur (owner of the mine) was to test for methane.

And I had tested for it. There wasn't any.

ACCIDENT FATAL

VANCOUVER (CP) — Logger Carman Payie, 38, has died in hospital from injuries suffered in a logging accident at Squamish Monday. Payie was crushed between two logs at a MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River company logging operation.

Board Turns Down Hanna's Appeal

OTTAWA (CP) — Christian George Hanna, who pulled off one of the biggest hoaxes in Canadian immigration history by living in Canada for 18 months as a man without a country, has lost his second bid to stay in Canada.

The immigration department's appeal board has turned down an application by the swarthy 30-year-old laborer to appeal against a deportation order handed down Aug. 13 by the immigration board in Montreal after a special inquiry.

A department official said Friday that Hanna will be deported on or about Wednesday, Sept. 4.

Hanna, originally deported in 1958, was arrested in Montreal harbor Aug. 11 aboard the Egyptian freighter Star of Suez, where he was listed as a crew member under the name Hassan Nagar. The previous day he had turned up at the offices of the Montreal Star and said he wanted to stay in Canada.

He says he is a stateless person but the immigration department considers him a citizen of Egypt, whose real name is Ahmed Aouad, and says he now is travelling "under an Egyptian document."

OBTAINED WRIT

Hanna first arrived in Canada at Port Alberni, B.C., in December, 1956, as a stowaway aboard a Norwegian freighter. He was taken from the ship by a writ of habeas corpus obtained by a Vancouver lawyer and allowed to remain in Canada, although inadmissible under immigration regulations.

In October, 1958 he was deported to Lebanon because he had failed to demonstrate that he wanted to become a good citizen after several brushes with the law.

Three Faiths Express Same Feeling

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The custom of referring to three Christian "faiths" in the U.S.—Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox—was described Friday as on the way out.

The usage implies that the three groups hold "different faiths, said a report on the current state of the Christian unity movement in the United States it added:

"People are now beginning to drop this usage and are beginning to understand and to feel that Roman Catholics, Orthodox and Protestants represent three major expressions of one faith."

Drawn up by Dr. Roswell P. Barnes, executive secretary of the World Council of Churches, it traces a picture of changing attitudes and practices among U.S. Christians saying:

"Protestants generally now feel themselves to be standing with many Roman Catholics and Orthodox as brothers and sisters in the Christian community acknowledging one Lord and Savior."

SERVES ALL CHURCHES

Thursday, a crackling but complicated debate about the nature of the World Council of Churches was capped with the Archbishop of Canterbury defining it simply as "a servant of all the churches."

"The world council isn't a church or part of a church," Most Rev. Michael Ramsey said. "It is a servant of all the churches, and nothing more."

The council, whose policy-making central committee is half way through an eight-day meeting, includes most major Protestant, Anglican and Orthodox churches around the earth.

MAYOR RATHIE WILL SEEK LIBERAL SEAT

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver mayor William Rathie will seek election as a Liberal in the Sept. 30 British Columbia election.

The announcement was made Friday by Ray Perrault, the provincial Liberal leader, who told a press conference:

"I have just received official confirmation from the mayor's office at city hall that his worship, Mayor William Rathie, will put forth his name as a Liberal candidate in the constituency of Vancouver-Point Grey.

"I am delighted to learn of his decision. It indicates the calibre of candidates coming forward in all areas of British Columbia for the Liberal party."

Mr. Perrault said there was no indication Mr. Rathie would resign as mayor if successful provincially. He said there was precedent for a Vancouver mayor also sitting in the provincial legislature.

Cabinet Argument On Defense Seen

OTTAWA (CP) — Informed sources say an intramural cabinet argument is shaping up over the extent to which defence projects should be geared to the capabilities—and needs—of Canadian industry.

The chief disputants are Industry Minister Charles M. Drury and Defence Minister Paul Hellyer.

Mr. Drury has said that Canada's military functions should be more closely geared to the country's industrial economy and research activities. Such a course, he sas said, would provide a counter-attraction to the United States for the Canadian scientific community and help alleviate the balance-of-payments problem.

Mr. Hellyer has said he is mindful of the needs of Canadian industry. But he has indicated that he is opposed to adoption of any defence project where the main government considerations were those of industry and not those of the armed forces.

The federal government naturally is interested in seeing that as large a proportion as possible of available funds for defence equipment goes to Canadian industry, which receives a 10-per-cent price advantage over foreign suppliers.

Difficulties arise, informants said, when military reasons for and against a given defence project are about in balance. The temptation to proceed on the grounds that industry could use the business becomes greater.

This is understood to be the backdrop to the current review of the $374,000,000 frigate program initiated by the previous Conservative government. Mr. Hellyer has hinted he would like to scrap the frigate plan to give himself financial room to manoeuvre. The cost of the frigates would limit his range of choice on other programs for five years.

However, the economic—and political — importance of the shipbuilding industry is wellrecognized here.

Police Patrol After Racial Disturbance

FOLCROFT, Pa. (AP)—Fifty state troopers and additional local police patrolled this Philadelphia suburb Friday after a racial disturbance that included throwing a fire bomb and the shooting of one man.

The demonstrations resulted from attempts by a Negro couple to move into an all-white neighborhood.

About 1,000 persons demonstrated Thursday night until state troopers dispersed them.

The troopers, under the command of Capt. Allen Henry, remained on the scene and were to escort Mr. and Mrs. Horace Baker into the home later Friday.

A home-made firebomb was thrown through a second-floor window of the vacant house early Friday. The fire was extinguished in a few minutes.

The home was also damaged by thrown rocks and paint and the daubing of derisive signs.

NEGRO WOUNDED

In neighboring Darby Township, which has a heavy Negro population, Negro William Powell, 40, was shot in the side early Friday. He said the shot was fired from a car occupied by several white teen-agers.

In another incident a white man, Harold Weber, 38, of Secane, Pa., said he was beaten by Negroes who drove through Folcroft Thursday.

In Williamston, N.C., meanwhile, a few hundred Negroes staged an unorganized anti-segregation demonstration that caused two accidental injuries and considerable property damage.

OPERATION FAILS

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A 49-year-old Miami butcher was to have his arm amputated Friday six days after it was sewed back following an accident with a meat-slicer. His doctor said the circulation never flowed properly below the elbow, where the blade nearly severed the arm last Saturday. Otherwise, the butcher, Alfred Bennett, was reported in good condition.

British Losing Faith in Scotland Yard, Bobbies?

LONDON (AP)—The British have always thought of their bobbies as the world's best behaved policemen. The words "Scotland Yard" usually strike fear in criminal hearts.

Now the police are coming in for serious criticism, intensified by Britain's great train robbery.

Scotland Yard has thrown everything it has into solving the £2,600,000 ($7,800,000) mail train holdup, not only to recover the loot, but to recover prestige and boost its own morale.

Since 1938, the rate of crime detection has fallen to 44 from 50 per cent—even lower in the big cities. Some of the biggest crimes are still unsolved. Not a penny has been found nor a conviction obtained in these big hauls: The 1952 mail truck robbery in London, which netted the equivalent of $700,000 and started a wave of holdups; the 1962 payroll robbert at London Airport which netted $172,600; the $700,000 London gold bullion robbery earlier this year. In a series of bank raids, still unsolved, Barclay's Bank has lost more than $700,000 in three years.

The police realize they are up against crime organized on a national scale, yet they have no national organization to match the underworld.

MUST BE INVITED

Scotland Yard is the administrative and detective headquarters for the London area only. Its specialists can help elsewhere only when invited by local authorities.

Britain's 168 separate police forces are controlled by local authorities, with minimum standards set by the home office. A survey in Manchester showed that a crook could flee in less than an hour across more than a dozen police districts—each with its own radio emergency.

In the Aug. 8 train robbery, local police called in Scotland Yard within hours. But because of the numerous forces involved —Scotland Yard sleuths, British railway police and the police of neighboring counties—it took a day of conferences to get organized.

Sir Ronald Howe, retired head of Scotland Yard's Criminal Investigation Department — everyone calls it the CID — thinks the chances of finding the crooks are "pretty slim." He cities the robbery as a prime argument for a national CID.

The bobbies themselves also are under scrutiny. Says Howe: "The quality of detectives has dropped. There's no doubt about it."

Police pay and police opportunities have not kept pace with the times and manpower is also below strength.

New Ukrainian Church Priest Appeals to Growing Following

The Ukrainian Catholics of Sacred Heart Parish in Nelson welcomed their new pastor for Nelson and surrounding parishes, Rev. Roman Martyniuk, OSBM, at a reception held after 10:00 a.m. Mass Sunday morning.

Father Martyniuk is a Ukrainian-Canadian priest who comes from the province of Saskatchewan. After having taught for several years in various colleges and universities as a siminaria he was ordained in Yorkton, Sask in 1957.

He has served in Australia among the some 40,000 Ukrainians that have migrated to that country since 1948.

Following his Australian mission, he was placed on the Mission Band, with headquarters at Yorkton. Several months ago, he was incorporated into the Ukrainian Catholic Diocese of Edmonton. This is the first time he has been assigned to pastoral work outside Saskatchewan.

Father Martyniuk arrived from Edmonton by train August 16 and held his first mass in the Sacred Heart Parish Church the following Sunday.

The congregation has grown from a few to 30 to 55 since the priest's arrival, some parishioners coming from Salmo, Castlegar and Trail. He preaches in both Ukrainian and English.

The reception on his behalf was held in the church basement hall with welcome being extended on behalf of the parish by Paul Pryschlak.

Father Martyniuk addressed his parishioners in both languages when thanking them for the reception.

Paddison-Strebchuk Vows Heard at N. Denver Rites

NEW DENVER—St. Stephen's Anglican Church was decorated with gladiolii, stock and chrysanthemums for a pretty summer wedding which took place Saturday, August 24, at 3:00 p.m. when Marcedes Beverly, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Strebchuk of New Denver became the bride of L. A. C. Stanley Paddison, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Paddison of North Vancouver.

Rev. Stephen Lee performed the double ring ceremony and Mrs. A. L. Harris was organist.

The bride was charming in her floor-length gown of white chiffon over net. The body featured lily point sleeves and appliques on the bodice added interest to the beautiful gown. Her five-tier veil was held in place by a pearl-studded tiara. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink rosebuds and white carnations. Her only jewellery was a pearl drop necklace encrusted with a diamond, gift of the groom.

Miss Lynne Farquharson of North Kamloops as maid of honor, Miss Barbara Smallenberg of Calgary and Miss Sharon - dale Strebchuk, the bride's sister, as bridesmaids, chose identical street-length dresses of pink chiffon over taffeta. Their identical headpieces were pink net with a large pink rose in the centre and they had matching accessories. They carried bouquets of white rosebuds and split white "mums." Miss Mary Anne Irwin as flower girl wore a dress of white embroidered chiffon over yellow taffeta and carried a basket of white carnations made by the bride's mother. Ring bearer was Gordon Paddison, youngest brother of the groom.

L.A.C. Walter J. F. Ford of RCAF Station Moose Jaw, supported the groom as best man. Both wore RCAF uniforms.

Ushers were Mr. Thomas E. Paddison, brother of the groom, and Mr. James Vanin, cousin of the bride.

The mother of the bride was gowned in a gold two-piece suit dress, with white accessories and a carnation corsage. The mother of the groom chose a two-piece eggshell ensemble with matching accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The bride and groom received their guests under a floral arch at the Memorial Hall in Silverton, where a reception was held, catered to by the Pythian Sisters of Lucerne Temple No. 17, for 100 guests. A five-tiered wedding cake made in Kamloops centred the bride's table and was flanked by pink and white tapers and a white tulle.

Dr. Ernest Baja, accompanied by Mrs. A. L. Harris at the piano sang during the reception.

Mr. A. R. MacGorman acted as toastmaster. Special mention was made of the fact that the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Brown of North Vancouver, were able to be present

A telegram of congratulation was read from friends in Kamloops, and a letter of congratulation from Sergeant and Mrs. J. Deorksen of Training Command Headquarters in Winnipeg, was also received.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Paddison, Wayne, Leonard and Gordon Paddison, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Paddison, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Brown, Mr. Roy Empey, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Karsgard all of North Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Berkley Shaw of Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. G. Wipp, Miss Ann Brennan, Miss Lynne Farquharson of North Kamloops; L.A.C.s E. Doucette and J. Sullivan of RCAF station Kamloops; Mr. and Mrs. W. Khadikan, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Potapoff of Nelson; Mr. and Mrs. J. McLean of Creston, Miss Coleen Bennett of Cardston, Alberta; L.A.C. Walter Ford of RCAF Station Moose Jaw, Sask.; Miss Kathy Markin of Vancouver and Miss Elvira Jenson of Calgary.

Serviteurs were: Misses Sandra Anderson, Mary and Virginia Forsythe, Alice Ann Hope and Beverly Steenhoff.

An open reception was held at the bride's parents in the evening, followed by a dance in the Memorial Hall, Silverton. Music was supplied by the Nakusp band.

For her wedding trip to Battle Creek, Michigan, where the groom is stationed with the RCAF, the bride wore white nobby wool suit with brown accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

The bride's bouquet will be sent to the groom's grandmother, Mrs. E. Paddison, of North Vancouver, who was unable to attend the wedding.

E. Kootenay Parties Line Up Candidates

CRANBROOK — East Kootenay parties are lining up their candidates for the forthcoming provincial election, the first convention being held Thursday night by the Cranbrook District Progressive Conservative Association.

Dr. W. O. Green permitted his name to stand in nomination at the Conservative convention at Kimberley. Dr. Green is a Cranbrook native son, a member of the F. W. Green Clinic in Cranbrook, and is the son of Dr. F. W. Green, who was Conservative member of the legislature for Cranbrook two terms in the 1940s.

Robert O. Jones, railway employee, has announced his willingness to accept nomination when Cranbrook District Social Credit Association has its convention in the Girl Guide Hall at Cranbrook Sept. 7.

Cranbrook District Liberal Association has had a preliminary meeting and has named a committee to interview prospective candidates, of whom there are about six proposals from Cranbrook and Kimberley. Stan Hodgson heads the district association, and is chairman of the committee, whose members are Al Brissette and Bud Buckle of Kimberley and Arnold Quinn and Don Osborne of Cranbrook. They will report to their association prior to the Liberal nominating convention, which will be Sept. 5 at Cranbrook.

New Democratic Party, whose L. T. Nimsick of Kimberley has held the seat for many years, is expected to nominate him again to continue in this office after the Sept. 30 provincial election. Convention is at Cranbrook on Sept. 7.

Voter registration for listing continues through today at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall in Cranbrook and the Union Hall in Kimberley, or directly at the government office or through party organization channels. Unlisted voters cannot vote in a provincial election.

MRS. LYONS R.O.

Mrs. Harold Lyons, who was assistant to Aaron Walde as returning officer in the 1960 provincial election, has been appointed returning officer for the Cranbrook constituency, and is opening the returning office on the main floor of the Armory in Cranbrook. Mr. Walde, who has held this office for many years, resigned a few months ago because of ill health.

Cariboo Special Nostalgic Sight

CRANBROOK — Unusual and nostalgic sight to oldtimers was the ten-car tourist special train that sat in the Canadian Pacific Railway station for 40 minutes Tuesday evening.

It was one of the Cariboo Specials operated by the C.P.R. and had originated in Vancouver Sunday, taking a relatively leisurely circuit up the Fraser Canyon, through the Rogers Pass, Connaught Tunnel, spiral tunnel and the scenic main line route to Calgary, then is returning to Vancouver by Thursday evening via Crowsnest Pass, Kettle Valley and Coquahalla Pass.

There were 90 people, largely Americans, in this excursion which provided sleeping compartment accommodation, diner service and two observation cars. It was pulled by two diesel units, and as an after-thought included the daily Budd car as part of the train.

Assistant divisional superintendent for the railway, J. E. Johnson of Cranbrook, joined the excursion at Crowsnest and travelled with them to Nelson.

In the city's first three decades, daily arrival of the two passenger trains was the daily highlight downton, which most people attended when possible.

New Denver

NEW DENVER — Mrs. C. W. Nelson and son, Wallace E. Jenks and family are holidaying in Vancouver for two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. G. Ronald Nelson and family.

Mrs. Gwendoline Mott and two sons, Steven and Russell of North Burnaby, who have been here for a week to visit her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wilson and family, have returned home. She was accompanied by Mrs. M. H. Bradshaw, who came by plane from Calgary to motor with her daughter to Vancouver for her holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Stewart entertained at their home at a surprise dinner party to honor Mrs. J. B. Scaia of Silverton on her birthday.

William Porter of San Diego, California, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kennett and son, W. P. Kennett.

Mrs. E. Doney, Sr., left to spent three weeks in Cranbrook with her son, E. Doney, Jr., and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Clever have as guests their two sons, Ernest George and family and J. H. George and wife, all of Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Mott and family, who were holidaying with the former's parents and visiting their many friends, left for their home in Estevan, Sask.

FEWER EGGS

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian egg production dropped 6.9 per cent in July to 32,442,000 dozen from a year previous, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported Friday.

The average number of layers declined 6.4 per cent and the rate of lay per 100 layers eased off 0.5 per cent.

Output of eggs for the first seven months of this year at 246,902,000 dozen was down 4.3 per cent from the corresponding 1962 period.

NEW DENVER FAMILY ATTENDS COAST WEDDING

NEW DENVER — Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Allan and daughter Karen returned from a holiday in Victoria, Port Alberni and Vancouver.

While in Victoria, they attended the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Allan's son, Richard Thomas, to Miss Donna Joy Clarke. The wedding was held at Gordon United Church, followed by a reception and dance at Holywood House. The groom's brother, Donald, acted as best man and bridesmaids were Misses Ann Clarke and Karen Allan.

Don Nickason and Greg Biggs, friends of the groom, acted as ushers.

Following a honeymoon to the United States, the couple will reside in Chilliwack, where both are teachers.

Better Your Living in 1963

Let Wallpaper Govern Your Decorating Scheme

Whether you are decorating one room or the whole house, almost the first thing to consider is the color scheme. With today's wide range of new colors and unusual combinations, the choice is often difficult. How to choose colors that combine well and are neither too strident nor too non-descript?

Choosing a color scheme can be looked at from two angles: first, if you are starting completely from scratch with all new furnishings, and second, if you do have existing furnishings to consider, such as draperies, carpet or upholstery.

If you are starting from scratch, you will find that wallpaper can be a good starting point.

Today's wallpapers have a range of color and design to please all tastes: when you have selected your pattern, choose a major color in the pattern for your main color. Use this on the floor, which is the next largest area to your walls.

Then choose a second color from the pattern for your secondary color areas, such as large upholstery pieces in the living room, the bedspread in the bedroom, and the draperies.

Finally choose a third color from your pattern for accent, to be used in small effects such as lamps, cushions and accessories. Remember these patterns are created by trained artists who know how to use colors: you are using their knowledge to create your own color scheme.

Living Room Decor

For example, you might choose for your living room a traditional medallion pattern that uses burnt orange, black and beige against a warm tan background. By using warm tan for the carpet, black and beige for the large upholstered pieces and draperies, and accent touches of burnt orange, a harmonious color scheme is achieved. If a more vibrant look is desired, then the burnt orange could be used for the carpet, with the other colors used for major furnishings and accents.

If you already have furnishings that must be used, wallpaper can help you set your scheme around the existing colors.

Supposing you have a leaf green rug in your bedroom. Choose a wallpaper design that includes this color, and you may be sure that the other colors in the design will form a good color scheme that will tie in with your rug. Your choice here might be a pretty floral design in sky blue, lavender and leaf green against a white background.

Color Coordination

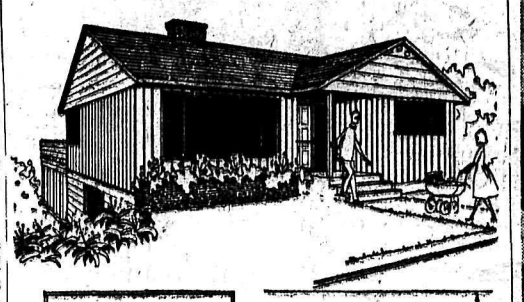
By using the blue for the bedspreads and curtains, with accents of lavender in lamps, small chairs and accessories, your bedroom will have a new and attractive color scheme, even though your green rug is still with you.

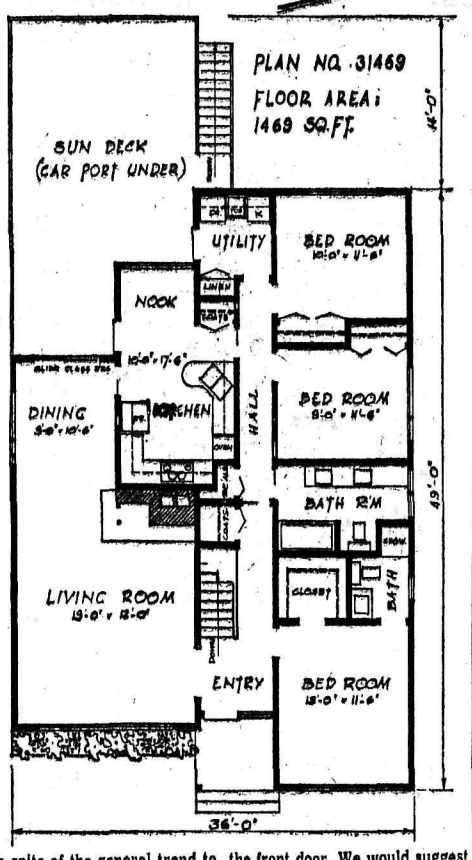
If you have more than one color to consider in your present furnishings, you can tie these together by choosing a wallpaper that incorporates both these colors. If they are unusually strong and vivid colors, however, you may prefer a neutral background.

RECORD 'QUAKE

astronomical observatory here registered an earthquake early Thursday about 1,300 miles northeast of uito. Strong tremors of short duration were reported in the village of Chimbo. There wer no reports of damage or injuries.

Modern Home





In spite of the general trend to the country and suburbs, there are still Canadians who prefer city living, and are fortunate enough to obtain a suitable building site within the city limits. Often, however, this building site as a narrow lot and poses a problem in selecting a suitable plan.

This design is the answer to the problem. Ideally, the lot should slope to the rear so as to take advantage of the large sundeck with carport under, at the back of the house.

The home itself features a through hall, providing complete privacy to all rooms and eliminating the necessity of crossing through one room to reach another. Especialy interesting features of the house are the large living room with corner fireplace, family sized dining room, U shaped kitchen with built-in range, corner sink and breakfast nook area. There are three bedrooms with master bedroom featuring large walk in closet, and plumbing en-suite, but plumbing is back to back with main bathroom for economical installation. Note the large utility room at the end of the hall which houses the washer/dryer etc.

The full basement is accessable from the main hall at the entry. The sun deck at the rear provides for outdoor dining.

This is an exception house. It's outside appearance can be made very attractive by the use of horizontal and vertical siding. Front window is particularly attractive with the uses of leaded lights, which are repeated in the front bedroom window and at the front door. We would suggest shakes or shingles for the roof, to carry out the all-wood appearance of this lovely home.

NOTE: We mentioned that this is particularly suited for a city lot . . . this does not, of course, limit its location — it would look equally as well in a country or subudban setting.

The house is designed for N.H.A. approval, and blueprints are available from the Building Centre (B.C.) Ltd. New edition of Select Homes Design Plan book now available, including information about designing, and price list of blueprints. Send 50c to Building Centre (B.C.) Ltd., 96 Kingsway, Vancouver, to cover mailing and handling.

NOTES ON WOOD

For the builder and home owner one of the most important attributes of western red cedar is its durability. In the Fraser Valley, near Haney, trees killed by wildfire in 1868 are still standing. Many of them are still perfectly sound and contain high quality wood that is being profitably salvaged.

Foresters divide trees into five classes: (1) Seedlings, up to 3 feet; (2) Saplings, from 3 feet in height to 4 inches in diameter at breast-height; (3) Poles, from 4 to 12 inches in diameter; (4) Standards, from 1 to 2 feet in diameter; (5) Veterans, more than 2 feet in diameter.

Estimates place the annual value of firewood production in Canada at $45,000,000. Some 46 per cent of all Canadian householders still depend on firewood for heating and cooking.

Most B.C. lumber sold to the Atlantic seaboard market is shipped by rail from interior mills. Volume of rail shipments is about four times that of waterborne cargos to the same market from B.C. coast sawmills.

DRAINING of the South Nelson playing field by Gretchin Contracting Ltd. of Castlegar is progressing. The construction job, which started early in August, entails drainage and levelling so that proper tiling can be inserted to reach proper drainage level. The ground was unusable because of a natural flow of water draining the grounds. Shown through the porch supports is a bulldozer perched on the hillside. The project should be completed soon.

Firm Will Liquety Gas to Serve North

VANCOUVER (CP)—A local company with fluid plans beginning to take solid form is proposing to supply communities in northern British Columbia and the Yukon with a liquified natural gas system.

The $4,000,000 project worked out by Cryogenic Enterprises Ltd. of Vancouver is expected to start some time next year reaching communities like Cassiar in northern B.C., Watson Lake and Whitehorse, both in the Yukon.

The system differs from both regular pipeline gas supply and bottled propane.

It calls for a liquefaction plant to reduce methane gas to a liquid by lowering its temperature. The liquid methane then is transported by tank truck or tank railway car to the distribution area where it is stored, regassified using heat, and then fed into the local pipeline utility system.

HAS LETTER OF INTENT

Cryogenic holds a letter of intent from Whitehorse for a distribution system and has worked out franchise forms for that city and Watson Lake.

It also holds letters of intent for its gas supply and transportation from well-head to the liquefaction plant. A four-inch pipeline running from field wells will be used to serve the plant.

The name Cryogenic means refrigeration or reduction to freezing temperatures—the best of the company's plans.

Its Fort Nelson proposals are based largely on a study made two years ago by W. A. McBean and Associates of Calgary. A spokesman here said the studies have continued and construction is expected next year.

Cryogenic also has studied plans for such a system on Vancouver Island.

The report said that for 100-per-cent heating requirements in relatively remote areas now served by rail or highway, the cost would compete favorably with other fuels.

The Fort Nelson scrubbing and liquefaction plant will handle 3,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

Vollmer Scores One-Up Victory for Junior Title

By TOM WATT

VICTORIA (CP) — Vancouver's Wayne Vollmer scored a one - up victory over Noel Pumfrey of Victoria to win the Canadian junior golf championship Friday.

Putting proved to be Pumfrey's downfall as he three-putted the 36th hole and threw away an easy chance to tie the match.

Pumfrey also three - putted the 32nd green and it deprived him of a win on the par-five hole.

Vollmer got into trouble late in the game but fought his way out to stay ahead of his lesser-experienced opponent.

After being one up at the end of the first 1 holes, Vollmer lost the 19th hole and the match was square. However, the Vancouver golfer scored birdies on the 25th and 26th holes and got a pair on the 27th to take a commanding three-hole lead.

CHOPS LEAD

Pumfrey managed to chop the lead to one at the 35th with a par-four. On the 36th Vollmer hit a bad tee shot deep into the woods but made a good recovery to get out in one. His third shot was on the green but he just missed on a long putt.

Pumfrey was just off the tee with his second shot and chipped up to within two feet. He required the putt to win the hole but he was short and the match went to Vollmer.

Elk Valley Reserve Opening Explained

VICTORIA (CP) — The Elk Valley Game Reserve in south-central B.C. no longer is a reserve, a Recreation Department spokesman said Friday.

The reserve was rescinded by an order-in-council earlier this week because "It was no longer fulfilling the functions for which it was originally intended."

The change means there are no restrictions as far as resident hunters are concerned, said the spokesman.

Original purpose was to create a wilderness area in which game could thrive and spend the winter. The wilderness area was cut into by roads and logging operations and "large numbers" of game moved out in the winter because of little winter reserve.

Leafs' Brewer May Miss Half Season

TORONTO (CP) — Defenceman Carl Brewer may not be able to play for Toronto Maple Leafs in the first half of the 1963-64 National Hockey League season.

Brewer, 25, suffered a fracture of one of two bones in his forearm during the final game of the Stanley Cup playoffs last spring and the injury did not heal properly.

After two months in a cast, x-rays disclosed the break was not mending and surgeons decided on a bone graft, which was performed June 27.

The second cast was removed from the player's arm Thursday and, after 4½ months of immobility, Brewer realized he couldn't move the arm at all.

CAN'T BEND IT

"I can't do anything with it," he said. "I can't bend it at all and the doctors won't tell me anything. However, I am in competent hands and I know that the arm will improve as soon as they start giving me physiotherapeutical treatments."

Brewer said he will not be able to take part in Leafs' training camp, which opens next Friday at Peterborough, Ont., and he is uncertain when he will be able to resume training.

Doctors say that if a joint is placed in a cast for more than four months, it may take up to three months to regain movement. That means that Brewer would be out of action until December and it may be 1964 before he wins back a place in Leafs' regular lineup.

Brewer was a member of the first all - star team last season and spent 168 minutes in the penalty box, a Leaf record.

Cardinal, Dodger Victories Drop Giants Into Third Place in NL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

St. Louis Cardinals, battling to remain a threat in the National League race, struck for five runs in the seventh inning Friday night and went on to an 11-6 victory over pennant-conscious Philadelphia.

Two-run singles by Curt Flood and Dick Groat featured the seventh - inning outburst that snapped a 3-3 tie. The Cardinals wound up the night with 15 hits, including two singles and a homer by Ken Boyer that accounted for four runs batted in.

Don Drysdale pitched and batted Los Angeles to a 3-1 victory over San Francisco that stretched the Dodgers' National League lead to seven games. Drysdale kept nine hits well scattered and snapped a 1-1 tie with a fifth-inning single.

Drysdale, now 17-15, also kept Giant's starter Juan Marichal from posting his 20th victory. Marichal took his eighth loss as the defending champion Giants dropped into third place, 7½ games off the pace.

Elsewhere, Milwaukee downed New York Mets 3-1 for its 14th victory in 17 games, Cincinnati took advantage of a wild pitch to score twice in the first inning of a 2-1 triumph over Pittsburgh and Houston whipped Chicago Cubs 5-1 as Ken Johnson pitched a six-hitter.

In the American League, Minnesota continued its assault on team home run records as Harmon Killebrew and Bob Allison hit consecutive homers in the seventh for a 5-3 victory over Chicago that pulled the Twins back into second place ahead of the White Sox.

TIE RECORD

The Twins tied a major league mark with 19 homers in five games and also broke two AL marks with 24 homers in their last 10 games and 20 in their last six.

Washington, tagged for 12 homers by the Twins in a doubleheader Thursday, rebounded against Boston, beating the Red Sox 7-0 as Don Zimmer smashed a grand-slam homer and Claude Osteen pitched a five - hitter.

The first - place New York Yankees, 11½ games in front, beat Baltimore 4-1 behind Al Downing's six - hitter, Cleveland snapped Detroit's winning streak at eight games when Larry Brown hit a ninth-inning homer for a 5-4 decision and Los Angeles Angels rode Ken Hunt's three-run homer to a 6-2 victory over Kansas City.

At Chicago Johnson, the big righthander, won his first game in more than a month as the ninth - place Colts, for once, treated him to a three-run lead in the top of the first inning.

Johnson, who used to win his share for Chicago White Sox, finished the Colts' inaugural season with a 7-16 record despite a respectable 3.84 earned-run average. Then, as now, only the presence of New York Mets kept Houston out of the National League cellar.

Thursday's victory, Johnson's first since July 28, was his seventh against 17 defeats. He scattered six hits, struck out nine and didn't walk a man.

Another rare event, Pete Runnels' second home run of the season with a man aboard, started the Colts off to victory. Bob Aspromonte singled home Carl Warwick with the third run before the Cubs got starter Cal Koonce out of there.

Another run-scoring single by Aspromonte and Al Spangler's bases - empty homer padded Houston's lead before Ron Santo robbed Johnson of his shutout with a home run in the ninth inning.

KIMBERLEY CLUB WINS CENTRAL CUP

KIMBERLEY — Kimberley Canadians, 1963 East Kootenay Soccer League Champions, defeated Fernie 3-2 in overtime to win the Central Cup in Fernie last weekend.

The Central Cup, 43-year-old symbol of soccer supremacy in the East Kootenay was presented to Kimberley captain, W. Ederer by Mr. Hughes of Fernie, donater of the cup.

The James White, Most Valuable Player Trophy was presented to Kimberley goalie, Terry Johnston.

September 7, the Canadians will battle Trail of the Western International Soccer League in the annual Blaylock Rose Bowl game at Kimberley.

Marriott To Lead Als Against Rough Riders

MONTREAL (CP) — Frank Bubba Marriott, the 24-year-old Alabama school teacher who has to justify the suspension of high-salaried quarterback Sandy Stephens, says he's starting to feel at home with Montreal Alouettes.

Marriott, a bench - warmer for two years with New York Giants of the National Football League, has his first test of the Als' No. 1 quarterback Monday when Als meet Ottawa Rough Riders here.

"I feel as if I belong," said Marriott after a workout with the Als. "I know the fellows' moves better.

"Let's just hope we can roll from here."

Marriott guided the Als to a 15-8 win over Toronto Argonauts a week ago. But at that point he was replacing regular pivot Sandy Stephens, benched by coach Jim Trimble for apathetic performances in the club's first two games, one-sided losses to Hamilton and the Rough Riders.

INHERITS JOB

With Tuesday's surprise suspension of Stephens, a near-unanimous - all American two years ago with the University of Minnesota, Marriott inherited the first - string quarterback job.

"I'm thankful for the chance," said Mariott. Beyond that the soft - spoken, drawling 190-pounder didn't want to discuss Stephens' dismissal.

Monday's game is important to both teams. Both Als and Rough Riders have won once and lost twice this season. First-place Hamilton, with a 2-2 record, and last - place Toronto Agonauts, who are 1-3, play Monday in Hamilton.

Coach Jim Trimble said the passing of quarterback Russ Jackson was the decisive factor in the Rough Riders' 31-14 trouncing of the Als Aug. 15. But he hoped Marriott can outthrow Jackson.

RECEIVERS GOOD

He said the Als have fine receivers, particularly all - star end Marv Luster.

"Marv really has a lot of moves. He's going to break out one of these days."

Marriott said he didn't need to adjust much to handing the ball off to the Als' three main ball-carriers — George Dixon, Don Clark and rookie Dave Hoppmann, who romped for 90 yards against Toronto. He said they all take the ball much the same way.

The Als will still be without centre Joe Stracina and defensive tackle Ted Elsby. Milt Crain will replace Stracina, who injured his hand in a freak lawn - mower accident, while Dick Dalatri will take the place of Elsby, who has a dislocated elbow.

The Als expect to use 21-year-old Montrealer Gino Beretta as punter, opposing Ottawa rookie Rick Black, who has averaged 41 yards a kick this season.

Beretta won the league's rookie award — open to Canadians only—two seasons ago but couldn't make the squad last year. Last week against Toronto he averaged 39.9 yards.

Outlaws, Nakusp Battle Sunday

Nelson Outlaws battle Nakusp in the first game of the Kaslo, Slocan, Arrow Lakes Baseball League finals at the Civic Centre Sunday. Game time is 1:00 p.m.

Outlaw coach, Ron Nash, reported the Nelson club hopes to have Mickey Fitzpatrick back in the lineup for the important first game of the series, but heavy hitting shortstop, Bernie Monteleone is expected to miss the game due to business commitments.

One of two Nelson chuckers right hander Les Hufty, or left hander Blair Olson will start on the mound for the Outlaws, while Grant ,Jordon or Gary Wilson will probably start for Nakusp.

Hufty has a 6-0 won, lost record in league competition this season, Olson is 6-1.

Jordan, top gun on the Nakusp pitching staff who has tried out with Vancouver Mounties, formerly of the PCL, lost a close decision to Nelson in extra innings the last time he faced the club.

Because of Monteleone's absence, Outlaws will probably move Charlie Burdette to shortstop and use Wayne Farenholt at second. This will leave Hugh Hooker at third base while either Hufty or Olson will fill in at first, depending on which is called on to take on the pitching duties.

With Fitzpatrick back in uniform, probably playing in the left field slot, Frank Hufty to center and Stan Grill in right will round out the Outlaw lineup for the game.

Nelson finished the regular season atop the standings, suffering only one loss during the 12-game schedule.

Outlaws advanced to the final by walloping third place Nelson Denver-Silverton Combines 22 in their sudden death semi-final contest while Nakusp, who finished fourth in the standings upset second place Winlaw 6 to gain the finals.

Second game of the finals is scheduled for Nakusp September 8.

Hill Leads Denver Open

DENVER (AP) — Steady-shooting Dave Hill, the 1961 winner, carded a three-under-par 67 for a 135 total and a one-stroke lead at the halfway point Friday in the $40,000 Denver open golf tournament.

Tied for second with 136 were Jay Hebert, who shot a record-tying 64 Friday; Ken Venturi, the co-leader in the first round, and Al Geiberger, who had a 66.

Hebert's six - under - par matched the best round ever over the 6,774 yard par 35-35—70 Denver Country Club course.

Hill, 25-year-old swinger from Jackson, Mich., collected three birdies and never strayed over par in forging to the front.

In fourth place at 137 was Bill Eggers, followed at 138 by Rex Baxter Jr., Jacky Cupit and Frank Beard.

Bill Johnston of Phoenix, Ariz., co-leader with Venturi after the first round, came in with 75 Friday for a 141 total.

Two WFC Games on Tap For Holiday Weekend

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Saskatchewan Roughriders and coach Bob Shaw should find out Monday just how good they are.

Roughriders, the "surprise" of the Western Football Conference this season and always tough at home in Regina, meet Winnipeg Blue Bombers in Taylor Field Monday afternoon.

Bombers, the 1962 Canadian champions but said to be slipping past their peak, replied to their critics by defeating the previously - unbeaten British Columbia Lions 16-15 in Winnipeg Thursday night.

The WFC has another Labor Day afternoon game — Edmonton Eskimos at Calgary Stampeders.

Lions are idle until Sept. 7 when they are at home to Calgary.

Coach Shaw, who has led Saskatchewan to a surprising two wins in five games and a squaker loss to Calgary, is giving Winnipeg the "you're great" treatment prior to the "four-point" game.

NOT THAT BAD

"I said all along that Winnipeg hasn't slipped back as much as some people would like you to believe," Shaw said. "In Kenny Ploen, I believe they have the smartest quarterback in the Western Conference and any time you beat those guys you can consider it an upset."

The Saskatchewan - Winnipeg game is a four pointer because a Roughrider win would put them in a tie with Bombers but a loss would shunt them four points back of the Grey Cup champions, now holding third place.

Shaw is still undecided about his starting backfield. It is not yet known whether rookie import George Reed's neck injury will allow him to play. But quarterback Ron Lancaster should be fully recovered from a rib injury and likely will start.

If Reed doesn't start, the backfield likely will be Clair Branch at fullback and Bill Gray and Ray Purdin at the half slots. If Reed does start, either Branch or Purdin won't. Purdin hasn't been as sparkling as he was last year.

JONES TO STAY

For Winnipeg, fullback Jerry Jones from Minnesota likely will remain in Jack Delvaux' position as he has don in the last three games.

Delveaux, an import linebacker, says his ankle injury may keep him out of action for the season. Delveaux, a former New York Giant, says the bone chips have not responded to treatment and may require surgery.

Bombers came through the B.C. game unscathed but still have two players — Dave Raimey and Ian Monteith — on the 30-day injured list.

Bombers will be without Canadian halfback Ron Latourelle who is still out with mononucleosis, and Canadian fullback Brian Hamerton who has a shoulder separation.

Calgary, now tied in first place with Lions on the basis of their records of four wins in five starts, plan to regain sole possession of first place by beating the last-place Eskimos.

"I think we'll win," said manager Jim Finks. "We've got to win. We have a lot of respect for Edmonton and know that on any given day they can beat almost anyone—but I think we can take them Monday."

ESCAPE INJURY

Stampeders escaped injury in their loss to British Columbia in Calgary Monday night.

Quarterback Eagle Day had an ice pack on a sore ankle after the game but he expects to be fit and ready for Eskimos.

Canadian defensive back Bill Miller, who broke a bone in his left foot two games ago, definitely won't be playing Monday.

Tackle Don Luzzi and guard Tony Pajaczowski may dress Monday but coach Bobby Dobbs won't use them unless they're ready. Both missed the B.C. game.

Coach Eagle Keys of Edmonton will give Jim Thomas another fling at halfback in the Calgary game. Thomas, a graduate of Mississippi State Industrial College, was cut by Eskimos earlier this season but was recalled for the Winnipeg game because of numerous injuries to backfielders and played an outstanding game.

Your Individual Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars,

For Sunday, September 1, 1963

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — Is there a let-up for you in usual duties, obligations? Why not make some time, regardless, for a completely different interest, hobby, exercise. It will refresh the mind, your whole being.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Get things in order for a swifter-paced week ahead. But do so without anxiety or doubt. Use caution in travel, making changes of plan, handling plants, foods, accessories, and/or children.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — Summon this Sign's ability to contrive just the right answer for the weak spot or lagging activity. Your sense of timing and knowledge of how to display things in their best light stimulated.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — Some confusing situations likely. Decipher astutely, taking sufficient time, as with anything worth the doing. Some inferences do not show things in proper perspective. Be careful in making decisions.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — You could mastermind a very worth-while activity that would benefit many if you dig for the opportunity and grasp it when you find it. Keep trying — at some point unwanted opposition will yield.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — This day requires a great deal of your Sign's understanding, thoughtfulness and energy. Gain is possible through personal enterprise. In free time, really relax.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — If you give important matters first and full attention, other activities will be less demanding. Have no doubts as to ultimate achievement in worthwhile causes.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — You usually consider matters seriously, even if you do so in haste, but take time to review more thoroughly now. Don't lose interest in creditable ambitions; enlist useful aid.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Mixed influences. What you decide to do and how you go about it now will help or hinder your strength and personableness during the coming week.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Increase your wholesome companions. Take interest in sound activities. Today's tasks and pleasures in stride, in your normally practical, forward-going fashion.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — This can be a refreshing, profitable period for those of you who give only your best. Waste no energy on non-essentials! Display your fine talents and you will score highly.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Doing whatever is in order At The Right Time will carry weight. Your intuition and imagination can bring about much needed cooperation, happy results for all.

YOU BORN TODAY: This Zodiacal sector stresses refinement, education, artistry and doing all things neatly, thoroughly, devotedly. You can become over-conscientious about details, waste time mulling over what was done wrong in the past. Today, tomorrow are for growing, not looking backward. Many profound philosophers were born in Virgo; also doctors, nurses, instructors, hygienists, musicians, lecturers.

Paper Needs Help Of Union Members

BRIGHTON (Reuters) — The fate of Britain's only national pro-Labor newspaper, The Daily Herald, now dying of economic malnutrition, hinges on decisions of the representatives of 8,000,000 union workers meeting here next week.

The general council of the Trade Union Congress met Thursday to prepare an agenda for the TUC annual conference next week, and the future of the 1,000,000-circulation Daily Herald was expected to be high on its list.

The TUC owns 49 per cent of the ailing paper, started as a trade union venture during a 1911 strike.

Newspaper magnate Cecil King, whose International Publishing Corporation owns the other 51 per cent, said the paper could not be kept going much longer.

NDP MEDICARE EXTRAVAGANZA SAYS MARTIN

VANCOUVER (CP) — Health Minister Eric Martin said Thursday night the New Democratic Party plan for medicare would be an extravaganza that would deliver a solid blow to British Columbia taxpayers' pocketbooks.

Mr. Martin made the statement following a nomination meeting in which he and Bert Price were named Social Credit candidates for Vancouver Burrard riding in the Sept. 30 provincial election.

"No matter how prosperous the province may be, $50,000,000 out of the provincial treasury is going to mean added taxes for you (the citizens)," he said.

Bennett Unreliable —Perrault

VANCOUVER (CP) — Liberal leader Ray Perrault said Thursday night Premier Bennett is "utterly incapable of keeping his word."

He said during a nomination meeting in suburban Burnaby the premier said many times that there would be no election in 1963.

The premier had denounced those who predicted there would be one but then had called one for Sept. 30.

"He has demonstrated his utter lack of reliability," Mr. Perrault said. "He is utterly incapable of keeping his word."

Excerpts of his speech were released to the press.

Mr. Perrault spoke after Marshall Bauder and Ron Fairclough were nominated to contest Burnaby constituency represented in the last legislature by Gordon Dowding and Cedric Cox.

He said that Mr. Bennett said he needs a mandate for his two-river power policy. But Lands and Forests Minister Williston had said at the last session that the Peace River project was beyond the point of return.

If this was so any government elected next month would have a public duty to complete the Peace project on a sound and economical basis.

The Liberal party had been the foremost proponents of the early development of the Columbia.

He described as a phony issue Mr. Benett's statement that he wants a new mandate before Dominion-provincial talks open later this year.

Confederation did not depend on Social Credit or any other party or personality.

Telephone Company by whom Mrs. Barrett has been employed for 31 years and nine months. A tea was given in honor of Mrs. Barrett's retirement Wednesday in the staff room of the Nelson office.

MARKET TRENDS

NEW YORK (AP)—Casting a vote of confidence in the future of the market and the economy after the important Labor Day milestone, the stock market staged a late rally Friday which put the Dow Jones industrial average to its peak for 1963.

Topping its previous closing high this year of 726.96 reached in May, the Dow industrials advanced 2.92 to 729.32.

To Wall Street specialists this was a highly important development. Some of them now believe that the way is cleared for a vigorous attack on the historic closing high of 734.91 reached by the Dow Dec. 13, 1961. If this is surpassed it will bring a lot of "the public," back into the market, many analysts believe.

Motors led a late rally in Friday's previous irregular market. Airlines were strong most of the day. So were some electronic and data - processing issues. Even the rails woke up in late dealings to post a string of fractional gains.

The ticker tape ran five minutes late in the final minutes.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced .7 to 279.6, the latest in its series of historic highs.

Volume was 4,570,000,000 shares compared with 5,110,000 Thursday.

Among Canadian issues traded, Aluminium Ltd. gained ⅛, Canadian Pacific ½, International Nickel ⅜ and Walker Gooderham ¾. Distillers Seagrams and Granby Mining fell ¼, Dome Mines ⅛ and McIntyre Porcupine ⅜.

Prices on the American exchange were generally higher. Brazilian Traction lost ⅛, Preston gained ¼, Fargo Oil 7-16 and Jupiter Corp. ⅛.

TORONTO (CP) — Prices moved up Friday as trading showed a fair increase over the last few days on the stock market.

Consolidated Paper advanced ½ and Calgary Power and Interprovincial Pipe Line ¼ each.

Among industrial losers, Foundation fell 1 to 7, Aluminium ⅜, Algoma ¼ and B.C. Power ⅛.

Falconbridge declined ½ among senior base metals. Lake Dufault was up 10 cents to $8.25.

Golds attracted the most at-t-e-n-t-i-o-n among speculative mines. Leitch rose 20 cents to $2.10, Akaitcho Yellowknife nine cents to 82 cents, Kirkland Townsite 6½ cents to 34 cents on heavy volume and Dome $1 to $33.

Fargo advanced 31 cents to $2.51, Central Del Rio 10 cents to $7.45, and Medallion slipped five cents to $4.20 among western oils.

On index, industrials were up 1.71 to 619.29, golds .95 to 94.89, western oils .29 to 115.32 and base metals dipped .29 to 206.41. Volume was 3,103,000 shares compared with 2,368,000 Thursday.
