Drill Penetrates Miners' Chamber

Rescue Scheduled Sunday

HAZELTON, Pa. (AP)—A 12-inch escape hole was driven Friday into the chamber where two miners have been trapped 331 feet underground for 10 days.

The men, Henry Throne, 28, and David Fellin, 58, called for a halt in further rescue operations until they could get some sleep.

Rescue experts conferred for several hours and then decided to abandon plans for enlarging the hole to 17 inches — at the start at least.

They said the hole would be cut 26 inches in diameter for the first 35-40 feet and this would make Sunday night the earliest time at which men could be brought to the surface.

After the first 35 or 40 feet, said H. B. Charmbury, state secretary of mines, a conference will be held on the next step.

"The situation is just as dangerous now as it has ever been," he told reporters.

Charmbury also said: "We haven't given up on Bova."

Bova is Louis Bova, 42, who was trapped some distance from the others in the cave-in at 9 a.m. Aug. 13.

An effort to get a lifeline hole to Bova was resumed Friday evening. A drilling rig started up the diamond bit which had been halted at 43 feet earlier in the day when optimistic progress was being made on the larger hole to Fellin and Throne.

WILL USE PIPE

After the 26 - inch hole is drilled — this mainly through clay rather than hard rock—the hole will be encased in steel pipe. A conference then will be held on whether to go the rest of the way at the 17-inch width or possibly 24 inches.

Charmbury also said the escape hole came down beside the 14 - foot - by - nine - foot chamber holding Throne and Fellin —not through the roof, as first understood. He said Fellin and Throne used small tools to hack away part of the vein of coal to the drill bit.

"The first we were certain of success was when we heard the sound of metal hitting on the metal of the drill," said Chambury.

Below, Fellin and Throne confirmed the breakthrough.

"I can see the drill," Fellin said.

"Hold it," he shouted.

"That's enough, it's through."

About 200 spectators cheered and slapped one another on the back in wild exuberance.

Above ground, Fellin's wife, Anna, cried and between sobs rejoiced. "It's wonderful. We prayed all the way, every minute."

JOY IS TEMPERED

Officials tempered the joy over the breakthrough to Fellin and Throne with the news that effors temporarily have been abandoned to drill a four-inch hole toward the area where Bova is believed to be. Bova has been without food—except any he might have had with him. The others have received food and supplies since Sunday through a six-inch hole that also is used to communicate with them.

When the hole finally is widened, an attempt will be made to bring the men out in specially constructed steel capsules.

Timbers were to be sent down to Fellin and Throne, along with other building materials to close up the 12-inch hole. This is to keep debris and dust from falling in while the hole is enlarged.

MIXED REACTION MEETS ELECTION

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia, the province with the busiest ballot boxes in the land, is dusting them off again.

On Sept. 30, voters will turn out for the fifth provincial general election in 10 years — all of them won by Social Credit. In the last 15 months alone, they have endured three provincial byelections, two federal general elections and a federal byelection.

Premier Bennett says he needs a new mandate at a time when confederation is in danger and he wants a vote of confidence in his government's policy of public power. He wants approval of the joint development of the Peace and Columbia rivers.

His opponents say the real issue is a need to restore trust and confidence in provincial affairs. They say Mr. Bennett is desperate, going to the people before the real depths of his troubles are realized.

In any case, Mr. Bennett's election announcement was a great surprise to many as were the reasons he gave for calling it.

Fred Hurley, the province's chief electoral officer, hurried back from vacation and sighed:

"It's all in a day's work as far as I'm concerned."

Ray Perrault, leader of the Liberal party, cut short his Hawaiian honeymoon, stating by telephone:

"I'm itching to get into the fight."

Even important party colleagues of Mr. Bennett were caught unprepared.

Said Mr. Speaker Hugh Shantz:

"From a public standpoint, I don't feel the decision was warranted right now, unless there's something we don't know about."

As for the reasons given by Mr. Bennett, one newspaper notes that the premier — at the conclusion of the recent Canadian premiers' conference in Halifax — was quoted as saying:

"There will be no election this year. There is no need for one.

"Confederation has never been stronger. Canada has never been more united. No problems, no problems at all."

And, in the light of recent accord between the Canadian, United States and B.C. governments, action on the harnessing of the giant Columbia River has never seemed closer.

The reaction of Hon. E. Davie Fulton, justice minister at the time of the original Columbia negotiations and now provincial leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, was:

"This is the opportunity British Columbians have been waiting for to get rid of Mr. Bennett and his Social Credit government.

"Let's have it out now. Let's remove Bennett from his position of pride and arrogance. Let's give back to B.C. its destiny and purpose."

He said the issue is "Bennett's mismanagement, bungling and dictatorial methods" in the power field and in "every other field."

Mr. Perrault said the election was not expected so soon, but was no real surprise because:

"The premier has often used this technique in the past to divert public attention from serious internal difficulties."

Chief Electoral Officer Unaware of Election

VICTORIA (CP) — The key man in the provincial election didn't know a thing about it when he sped through the Okanagan on a holiday Thursday.

Fred Hurley, as chief electoral officer, the man who organizes the voting, was given no advance warning, nor was he officially notifed when Premier Bennett announced the Sept. 30 date.

He started a month's holiday three days aog and heard the news on his car radio at Peachland late Thursday.

He left the car with his wife and sat up all night on a bus to Vancouver.

Mr. Hurley, travel-stained and weary, arrived in his office at 9:30 Saturday.

He immediately sat down to tackle all the mechanical arrangments that have to be made to prepare for the election — appointing returning officers, arranging polls, printing ballots, drawing up voters' lists.

"It's all in a day's work as far as I'm concerned," he sighed.

Norwegian Government Falls

OSLO (Reuters) — Norway's Labor government, headed by Einar Gerhardsen, fell Friday ending the party's continuous rule of 28 years.

The government was defeated on a motion of non-confidence tabled by the four non-socialist parties which was supported by the two members of the left-wing Socialist People's Party.

The vote was 76 for and 74 against.

HURLING ACCUSATIONS of injustices against their menfolk, currently serving prison terms in Mountain Prison at Agassiz, were these Sons of Freedom women. Some on their knees appealed yesterday for aid from H. W. Herridge, MP for Kootenay West, who is visiting Nelson. The women met with Mr. Herridge in the afternoon, following the death of a prisoner, Paul Podmorow, 23, who died of malnutrition. The women terminated their five-hour seige after Mr. Herridge was unable to contact Justice Minister Lionel Chevrier in Ottawa to inform him of the situation. (See story on page 2.)

Military To Dictate Ministries' Movements

Three Killed, Touch Power Line

ST. HELENS, Ore. (AP)—A 13-year-old boy was killed by electric shock Friday when he attempted to recover a football from a tree. So were two men who tried to help him.

The tragic series of events began when Keith Karjala, 13, and cousin Larry Tollehaug, 13, were playing in the street with a football. One of the boys kicked the ball into a tree.

Both climbed up aafter it and came into contact with a 12,500-volt power line which runs through the tree. Young Karjala cried out. The Tollehaug boy was knocked to the ground.

Then a neighbor, Sidney Weybright, 40, climbed up to the body, cried out and slumped over. Another neighbor, Robert Taylor, 39, climbed up and also was killed by shock.

Urge Malaysian Federation As Scheduled

KUALA LUMPUR (Reuters)—Political leaders of North Borneo and Sarawak met Malayan Prime Minister Tanku Abdul Rahman Friday to urge formation of the proposed Malaysian federation by Aug. 31 as scheduled.

Sarawak's chief minister, Stephen Ningkan, whose government announced Friday it will undertake internal self-government Aug. 31 regardless of the outcome of the talks, said Rahman promised to consider their arguments.

The ministers said further meetings will be postponed until they are joined by the British colonial secretary, Duncan Sandys, who left London Friday and is expected here today.

U.S. Officials Feel Buddhist Issue Becoming Military Junta

SAIGON (AP)—Beset by the grave Buddhist crisis, President Ngo Dinh Diem's government has announced all ministries will take orders from the military during the period of martial law in South Viet Nam.

Officers of the armed forces — trained, supplied and advised by the United States for a war on Communist guerrillas — appeared Friday to be taking direct control of the ministries under Diem's over-all leadership.

Some American officials here held to the theory that the president and his younger brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, who heads the security police, were in effect leading a military junta. Their impression was that the two inhas aroused citicism at home and abroad.

Others figured pressure on the government from army generals prompted the proclamation of martial law and the military raids on Buddhist pagodas, in which hundreds of Buddhist monks and nuns were arrested.

Developments of the political-religious crisis, perhaps marking a time when the U.S. will take a new stance in southeast Asia, found Henry Cabot Lodge exuding confidence as the new U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam.

The 61-year-old diplomat, representing a government which has denounced "repressive actions of this nature" against the Buddhists, included in his orientation work a visit to two Buddhist monks who have lived in asylum at the American aid mission since escaping there from arrest. U.S. sources said he paid a courtesy call on the monks barely 12 hours after he arrived Thursday night.

The visit with the yellow-robed refugees, staged even before Lodge presented his credentials to Diem's government, seemed significant.

In the changing political pattern, a South Vietnamese air force officer seemed to be taking increasing charge at the foreign ministry. The ministry was left without a chief by the resignation of Vu Van Mau as foreign minister on Thursday. He is a Buddhist who was the government's senior minister with 8½ years on the job.

A U.S. official reviewing incidents of this tumultous week said he believed South Vietnamese generals instituted the crackdown on the Buddhists, who had campaigned against the government for more than three months with calls for religious equality and social justice.

"I don't believe the generals actually are in control," he said. "The country definitely is still ruled by President Diem.

"But there is a growing weight of evidence that it was on the generals' insistence the present crackdown and martial law were initiated."

OTTAWA (CP) — The number of paralytic polio cases reported in Canada this year more than doubled last week with 16 new cases reported — 15 in Quebec.

The health department reported Friday that the total up to Aug. 17 was 30 cases.

House Slashes Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House of Representatives gave President Kennedy a stunning setback Friday by slashing $585,000,000 from the foreign aid bill.

A coalition of Republicans and southern Democrats put over the deep cut.

At first the cut was interpreted as being $1,025,000. But a large part of the amount, while authorized by the House last year, had not been requested in this year's bill. Thus, part of the reduction did not count as far as this year's measure is concerned.

The authorization stood at $3,500,000,000.

The president had asked $4,500,000,000. The House foreign affairs committee cut that to $4,100,000,000 and the surprise move Friday cut it another $585,000,000.

Seat Belts Mandatory

VICTORIA (CP) — Legislation passed at the last session of the British Columbia legislature makes it mandatory for any person selling a car "assembled or manufactured after Dec. 31, 1963," to provide "not less than two safety belts for use in the front seats."

The legislation does not make it mandatory for automobile dealers selling used cars to install seat belts after Dec. 31.

THE WEATHER

Kootenay: Sunny today with a few showers or thunderstorms late in the day. Little change in temperature. Light winds except gusty in showers. Low and high at Cranbrook 40 and 80, Crescent Valley 45 and 80.

Outlook for Sunday — Little change.

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (CP) — Rescue teams continued their round-the-clock efforts Friday to find a hard rock miner buried for three days 900 feet below the surface.

Little hope was held that 23-year-old Desmond Loughran, 23, of Edmonton would be found alive.

Murderers, Butchers Shout Freedomites

AGASSIZ (CP) — Sons of Freedom Doukhobors, camped outside Mountain Prison here, Friday shouted "murderers" and "butchers" when they learned that a jailed member of their sect had died during a hunger strike.

The Freedomites first learned by radio of the death of Paul E. Podmorow, 23, who had been serving a seven-year term for arson.

Two other Sons of Freedom, their names withheld, were reported in the same hospital at nearby Chilliwack where Podmorow died.

After learning of Podmorow's death, the Freedomites began making plans for a martyr's funeral.

His death touched off demonstrations here and in Nelson and started word circulating that an attempt would be made to bury him outside the prison gates. (Please see story page 2.)

Assistant Warden G. S. Merritt of the B.C. Penitentiary, which administers the special Doukhobor prison here, said Podmorow died of malnutrition and that an autopsy would be held.

Witnesses said the shouting, gesticulating Sons of Freedom were quieted by Mrs. Florence (Big Fanny) Storgoff, one of their spokesmen.

The three Sons were taken to hospital early Friday and Podmorow died there about five hours later. Prison doctors had ordered him sent when he became weak and appeared in need of intravenous feeding.

However, several hundred of the more than 500 Freedomites outside the gates continued their sympathy hunger strike.

The 113 inmates left in the prison received the news quietly when told that one of their brethren had died.

Podmorow, serving a seven year term for arson, was one of three prisoners taken from the special Freedomite prison here to Chilliwack General Hospital at 1 a.m. Podmorow died at 6 a.m.

Ambulances carried them past the sleeping Freedomite trekkers camped along the road outside the prison, among whom were Podmorow's parents and two brothers. A third brother jailed here is also fasting.

Attorney-general Bonner declined to comment on the death.

"It is a policy of the government not to publicize the question of the Doukhobors," he said.

There would be no changes in Doukhobor policies.

Prison officials said the three taken to hospital were among 89 men and 16 women prisoners on a hunger strike 31 days old. Doctors said others would be sent to hospital if it became necessary.

Prisoners who have refused to eat are being fed three ounces of egg nogg three times a day by a tube through the nose to their stomach.

SLOW ENFORCEMENT

Meanwhile, the Municipality of Kent in which the prison lies, has agreed with RCMP to proceed slowly in enforcing a camping bylaw against the trekkers.

The bylaw restricts camping to five tents per acre and provides for a maximum $500 fine or six months in prison.

Summonses against the more than 500 Freedomites camped together outside the gates were issued Wednesday but still have not been delivered.

Municipal council Thursday agreed to delay prosecution to give the RCMP Doukhobor squad time to try and settle the problem.

The sect members arrived at this Fraser Valley community Tuesday. They originally set out from their interior Kootenay homes last September to be near relatives in the prison who are serving times for terrorist activities.

DOLLAR UNCHANGED

NEW YORK (CP) — Canadian dollar unchanged at 92 5-16 in terms of U.S. funds. Pound sterling up 1-16 at $2.79 29-32.

Call Off Search In Headless Valley

FORT SMITH, N.W.T. (CP)—RCMP here have called off their search for two European adventurers missing in the Headless Valley of the Nahanni River since June 29.

Inspector J. B. Giroux said Friday that helicopter flights over the valley and canoe patrols down the river have been stopped.

Earlier, a body found near the base of Victoria Falls on the Nahanni River Aug. 6, was identified as Martin Wutruch, a 21-year-old Swiss farmer, who was with the two still missing. A wrecked canoe was found nearby.

The other men were: Fritz Weismann, 26, a Swiss blacksmith, and Wolfgang Mahmcke, 25, an East German mechanic.

The men were last seen June 29 by a geological survey team operating in the valley.

The trio went into the valley, 650 miles northeast of Edmonton, to take pictures and write an article for a Swiss newspaper.

Police have asked prospectors and trappers in the area to watch for signs that may give the fate of the two men.

And in This Corner . . .

MONTREAL (CP)—An 18-year-old youth pursued by a detective crashed a stolen car into a pole early Thursday.

He emerged unhurt.

But the law was hot on his heels. He ran into a lane, picked out a door and knocked, hoping to get refuge inside and elude the detective.

It was an unfortunate selection.

The householder: Constable R. Picard.

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (CP)—Park board employee Owen Medland watched curiously as he saw a man digging in muddy ground near the centre of Jackson Park.

But when the man crawled into the hole and began covering himself up, Medland called police.

Constable Ted Collins arrived to find the man completely covered by six inches of dirt. Hurriedly he dug into the mound with his bare hands.

When the upper part of the body was uncovered, the man sat up and removed a potato sack that was covering his face.

"What are you doing?" demanded the constable.

"I am trying a breathing experiment," was the reply.

Constable Collins took the man's name and address and let him go.

ROME (AP)—Romans protesting against some of the odd-tasting milk they have received during the last two weeks got a new shock Friday.

The protests started when the city central milk agency, investigating complaints, found that some of the city's supply had been carried in a tank-truck which had been used to transport kerosene.

While that investigation was under way, police announced they had seized another tank truck that carried milk into Rome, but on outbound trips transported wine.

GALLUP, N.M. (AP)—There was only one thing wrong with new badges delivered to the Gallup police department Thursday. They bore the state seal of Arizona, not New Mexico.

Scholarship Seen as Athletic Stimulus

An Athletic Scholarship just awarded to Notre Dame University is to be used to provide candidates who are capable of meeting requirements an opportunity to attend university and receive financial assistance, as well as participate in varsity hockey.

The $500 scholarship was donated by the Hume Hotel. It will be awarded on or before August 1 each year, except this year, when it will be awarded before September 1.

It will be applied to the normal fees as set by the university and the amount can be divided into two scholarships of $250 each.

The selection committee for the athletic award will include as permanent members the manager of the Hume Hotel Ltd., the athletic director of Notre Dame University and the Registrar of Notre Dame.

The candidate must submit a transcript of high school records from the Department of Education to the Registrar of Notre Dame University and consideration will also be given to his past scholastic achievements during his term at high school.

All candidates must complete an application in a form approved by the committee.

The committee will have the authority to suspend the balance of payment of any scholarship funds if any successful candidate fails to comply with the normal university standards on academic and disciplinary levels.

The unused portion can then be transferred to another candidate in attendance at the university.

Notre Dame athletic director Ernie Gare said the university junior hockey club was fortunate to have the support of Nelson business firms. He said the athletic award was a tangible way of assisting a young athlete in gaining his education and giving him an opportunity to play hockey.

Margaret Rushby Wins Scholarship

Miss Margaret Rushby was awarded a $300 scholarship by the Grand Chapter of the Royal Arch Masons of British Columbia, it was announced Thursday.

The scholarship is the only one awarded in B.C.

Miss Rushby, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Rushby, 713 Carbonate Street, took her senior matriculation at L. V. Rogers High School and will attend the University of B.C. in September.

101-Year-Old Slocan Oldtimer Dies

A longtime resident in the Slocan Valley died in Kootenay Lake General Hospital Friday night, aged 101.

Timothy Samarodin, born in Tiflis, Russia, in 1862, came to Buchanan, Saskatchewan, in 1908 with his wife, the former Annie Saliken, whom he married in Russia.

In 1925 he moved to the Ootischenia area, farming until 1925, when he moved to Slocan Park.

He resided there until 1956, then moved to Passmore to live with his daughter, Mrs. Mike (Martha) Pankoff. He resided there until his death.

His wife predeceased him in 1956 and also a son.

Besides his daughter, he is survived by a son Steve of Castlegar; five grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren.

Campers Report Thefts at Kokanee

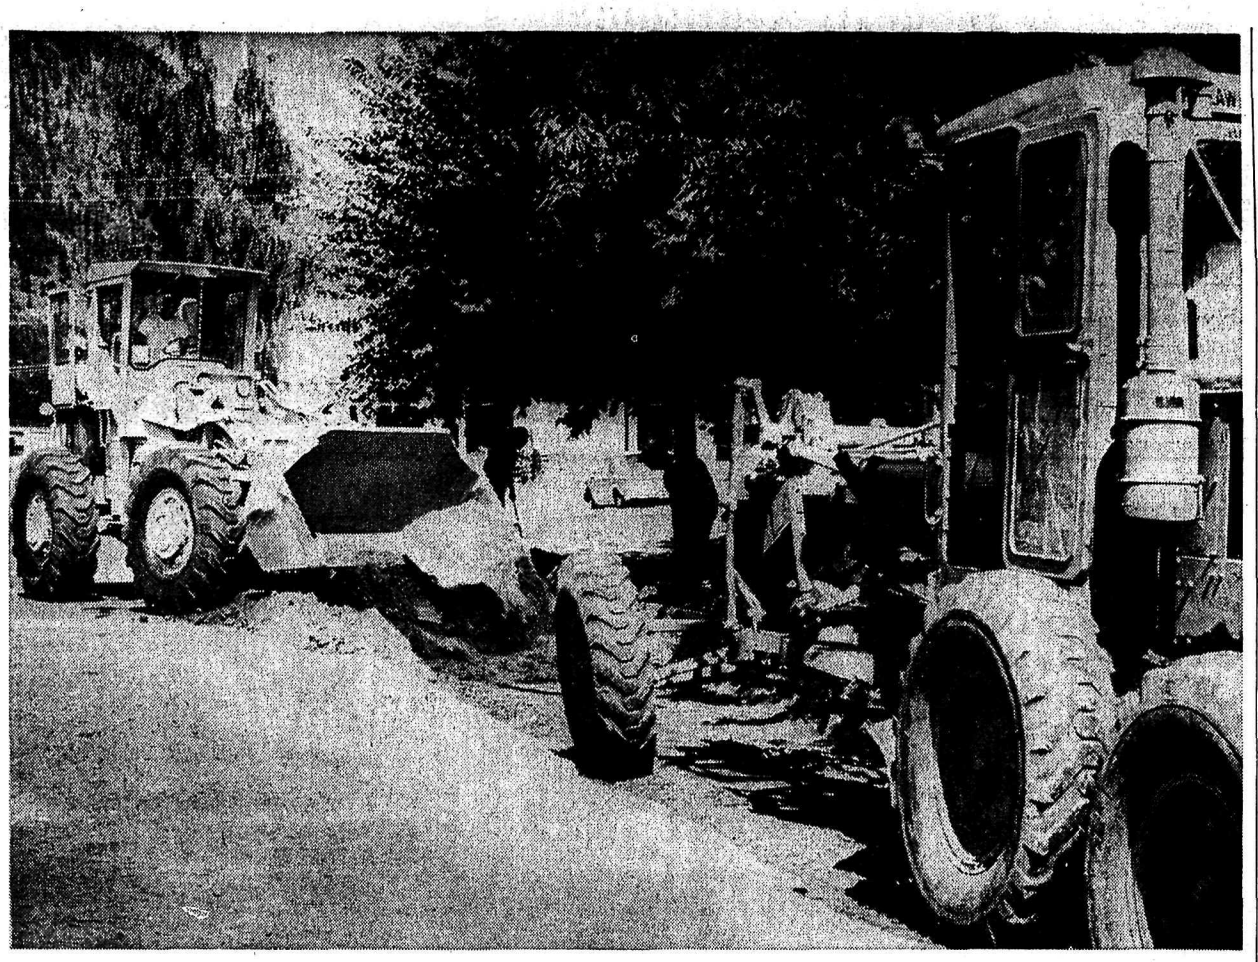
Two campers at Kokanee Camp site on the North Shore were raided about midnight Tuesday, by unknown thieves.

Keith Douglas of Burnaby and Donald Giester of Pemberton, Oregon, reported the thefts to Nelson RCMP Wednesday.

Douglas lost about $15 worth of cooking utensils and Giester lost a small quantity of food, as they slept in their tents.



START OF PAVING of arterial highway in Nelson is being preceded by curb work by city and other preparations by contractors, Dawson and Wade. Giant machines are shown at work here on Nelson Avenue, where traffic to Nelson Bridge is being detoured via Third Street and Kokanee Avenue as roadside is readied for project. City crews are engaged in curb laying along Front Street.—Daily News photo by Richard Cote.

Herridge Hears Freedomite Women's Pleas in Hotel

A hysterical demonstration was staged in a Nelson hotel lobby by 12 Sons of Freedom Doukhobor women protesting alleged injustices against their menfolk currently serving sentences at Mountain Prison at Agassiz.

The women, some sobbing, pleaded their case to H. W. Herridge, MP for Kootenay West, who is visiting Nelson.

The demonstration was an outcome of the death of Agassiz prisoner Paul Podmorow, 23, who died of malnutrition, following a 33-day hunger strike, Friday.

The women first stormed into Provincial Magistrate William Evans' office demanding release of the prisoners, wailing that the men were innocent and that "a great injustice" was being done by the government.

The magistrate told them it was not a provincial matter and referred them to Mr. Herridge at the Hume Hotel.

POLICE STAND BY

While the women crossed the street, to plead their case, Nelson RCMP officers watched from parked cars. City police accompanied the women into the hotel.

Mr. Herridge was summoned and met the women, then escorted them to the rear of the lobby.

At first the women were undecided which government was responsible for the Sons' imprisonment but Mr. Herridge quickly cleared up their problem.

Leaving them waiting in the lobby chairs he crossed over to Magistrate Evans' office to telephone Justice Minister Lionel Chevrier at Ottawa and inform him of the situation.

When approached by a Daily News reporter, spokesman for the group Mrs. Markin said she was not talking, adding "we're through fooling around."

Unable to contact the minister, Mr. Herridge returned to the hotel, informing the group of his failure. The women began to sob and informed Mr. Herridge they would not leave the hotel until the minister was contacted.

Mr. Herridge had been informed that Mr. Chevrier could not be reached until 7:30 p.m., but the women insisted they would not leave the lobby under any circumstances.

"We have no place to go and we're going to wait right here," an elderly woman stated. As they talked, their emotions rose to a hysterical state.

WAIT FIVE HOURS

Following a dinner engagement Mr. Herridge informed the waiting group that Mr. Chevrier was still out and they left reluctantly afte a five-hour seige at the hotel.

At 10:30 p.m., Mr. Herridge received a call from the minister, who was at Fraser Point, near Cornwall, Ont.

The men discussed the situation and the reaction of the Freedomite sect to the 33 day hunger strike at Agassiz.

Mr. Chevrier said he was fully informed of the situation at Agassiz by prison officials, but because of the group's demonstration he promised to discuss the situation fully with Allen MacLeod, federal commissioner of penitentiaries.

Magistrate Evans commented that the prison farm had become a shrine for the Freedomites, and all the inmates were considered martyrs.

Mr. Herridge suggested the men be put in veterans' hospitals to end the hunger strike.

He will meet with some of the women this morning to tell them of his conservation with Mr. Chevrier before leaving for Castlegar to attend a meeting of the Association of Kootenay Municipalities.

Linda Swindell Fall Fair Queen

INVERMERE — The new "Miss Windermere Valley" at the 52nd annual Fall Fair, will be Linda Swindell of Windermere.

Miss Swindell was chosen Friday night in the Invermere Junior Hospital Aid-sponsored contest. She will be crowned queen today by retiring queen Betti Anderson of Windermere.

Other contestants were Judy Uchida of Athalmer, Darlene Wolfenden of Brisco, Lynda Sawchuck of Edgewater, Wynanne Ede of Invermere and Jacqueline Ferguson of Radium Hot Springs.

Mass Celebrated

Requiem mass for Mrs. Mary Mikulasik of Shutty Bench, who died at her home Tuesday, was celebrated at Sacred Heart Church, Thursday morning. Rev. J. Boyle, C.Ss. R. was the celebrant. Rev. D. Langi, C.Ss.R. was present and conducted the committal service at the graveside, in the Kaslo Roman Catholic Cemetery. Rev. G. Ehman, C.Ss.R. of Edmonton, was in attendance in the choir. Rosary was recited earlier at the church.

Pallbearers were Joe Surina, Joe Bendis, Clarence White, L. Bradshaw, J. Melatini and John Batista.

Registration Centres Set Up for New Voters

It will be up to the public to make sure it can vote in the Sept. 30 election, but those who were registered in the 1960 election are safe.

There will be no door-to-door enumeration this time. Registration centres are being opened throughout the various electoral districts to enable the public to get on the lists before the Aug. 31 deadline, however.

K. D. McRae, government agent, said in Nelson Friday that all who were registered in 1960 will remain on the list.

Even those who have since moved to another district will remain registered. However, if they register in their new district, their former home district will be notified so that their names can be removed there.

Those who were sent where-to-vote cards in the last election will be removed from the list if their cards are undeliverwhere the people had moved and able and returned by the post office. This would apply in cases didn't vote, or had died.

To be eligible, an applicant must be 19 years old, a Canadian citizen or British subject, resident of Canada for 12 months, resident of B.C. for six months.

PLANS TOUR OF SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Ground work for the proposed tour of the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra is being laid by manager Victor White, who is working under the auspices of the Canada Council.

Mr. White told the Rotary Club of the orchestra's proposed Boundary and Kootenay tour, and asked for the club's sponsorship, for the Nelson engagement.

The orchestra will perform next spring, giving an afternoon concert for school children and an evening performance for adults.

The orchestra receives a $4,500 grant from the Council for each community in which it performs.

Red Fish Protected, Public Warned

A reminder to fishermen in the Nelson area concerning red fish was made by Ted Rutherglen Friday.

Mr. Rutherglen said that all red fish in any stream, open or closed to other fishing, are protected by law and it is illegal to molest these fish in any way.

Most of the main red fish creeks are posted, he said.

In creeks open for other types of fishing, fishermen must not take or molest red fish, he stated.

Concerning dolly varden, reported to be seen following the red fish upstream, Mr. Rutherglen said that in most streams, especially in the main lake and west arm areas, the dolly are also spawning and should not be touched.

Mr. Rutherglen emphasized that all spawning fish are protected by law.

Mayor Haddad Feels Sure He'll Win Bet

CASTLEGAR (CP) — Note for Highways Minister Gaglardi: get out your fishing tackle and find some Eskimo friends.

Mayor George Haddad of Cranbrook feels sure that the minister will need both to pay off a bet that the 40-mile Salmo-Creston cutoff will be completed by the Fall.

Mayor Haddad said Friday he bet an Elk's head against some Kamloops trout and a pair of snow shoes that the cutoff would not be completed.

Now he had been advised that snow fell on the Salmo-Creston summitt this week, making it unlikely that traffic will move on the new section of the Southern Trans - Provincial Highway until Spring.

The new section will reduce East-West travel time through the southeastern interior by several hours. It eliminates the Balfour-Kootenay Bay ferry crossing on the main Kootenay Lake. Summitt of the highway, where construction now is under way, is about 6,100 feet above sea level.

Latest reports indicate about two miles of base construction still must be completed, with contractors working around the clock. Paving is under way on both sides of the summitt.

Mayor Haddad is in Castlegar for the Fall convention of the Association of Kootenay Municipalities Saturday.

"I have the Elk head tied up," the mayor said, "but I don't want to shoot it until the road is finished, because I want him to have a nice fresh head."

In Trail recently Mr. Gaglardi said the Salmo-Creston road would be opened for traffic this Fall, with an official opening timed to coincide with the Creston Blossom Festival next Spring.

But he said keeping the highway open in winter months would prove a much greater problem than dealing with snow in the Rogers Pass.

He said he had instructed the Department of Highways to produce adequate machinery immediately.

42 To Attend Human Relations Seminar

A seminar revolving around a better understanding of human relations for young adults, has attracted delegates from Alberta, British Columbia and Saskatchewan.

The one-week seminar, starting Sunday, is sponsored by the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews, and will be held at Notre Dame University.

The total attendance of 42 includes faculty and delegates, all young adults, community and potential leaders.

A diversity of ethnic representation will examine various aspects of prejudice and discrimination in Canada today.

Delegates will travel from prairie Indian reserves, the Japanese community of Vancouver, and the far east Indian community at Whitecourt, Alberta. Nine delegates from the Union of Spiritual Community of Christ at Grand Forks and Castlegar also are attending.

University President, Rev. Aquinas Thomas, SA, will welcome the delegates at the official opening Sunday night.

Mayor T. S. Shorthouse will welcome the group on behalf of the city at the opening class at 9 a.m. Monday.

The faculty will be headed by main resources leaders, Dr. James M. Rollins, Department of Sociology, University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon, and Bert Marcuse, executive director, at the Family Service Bureau in Calgary. Mr. Marcuse has a masters degree in social work.

Joseph MacLeod will be recreation director for the seminar. He is assistant manager at the Saskatoon arena. Coordinator is W. G. Edmonds, executive director of the Western Division, of the Council. Assistant coordinator is Koozma J. Tarasoff, MA, anthropology and sociology, University of British Columbia.

Others on the faculty are Miss Helen M. Dixon, program coordinator at the Edmonton, Young Women's Christian Association, and Maurice Yacowar of the University of Alberta, Calgary. Mr. Yacowar is chairman of the National Federation of Canadian university students and former regional president of the B'ani B'rith Youth organization.

Mrs. Cooper, Silverton Oldtimer, Dies

TRAIL — A Kootenay resident for over 50 years died in Trail-Tadanac Hospital Friday morning, aged 81 years.

Mrs. J. J. Cooper of Trail was born in Felford, Lancashire, in 1882, and came to Canada 57 years ago, living in Medicine Hat, Alberta, before moving to Silverton over 50 years ago.

Mrs. Cooper has resided with her daughter, Mrs. W. Stickly of Trail, for the past few yeas. Her husband, predeceased her in December, 1947, at Silverton.

She is survived by two sons, Donald of Dawson Creek and Arthur of Hope; four daughters, Mrs. D. E. Ryans of Calgary, Mrs. W. Bolling of Silverton, Mrs. W. French of Nelson and Mrs. W. Stickley of Trail; 22 grandchildren and 32 great grandchildren.

Private funeral services will be held in Trail Monday afternoon. Rev. S. W. Dowling will officiate and cremation will follow.

Opening Ceremony Monday for $78,000 Building

Minister of Health To Open Boundary Hospital

Hon. Eric Martin, minister of health services and hospital insurance, has been invited by the board of trustees of Boundary Hospital in Grand Forks, to officially open their new 30-bed hospital during special ceremonies to be held Monday afternoon.

The new Boundary Hospital cost an estimated $778,000, of which the provincial government provided grants of $389,000, representing one-half the approved costs of construction.

The hospital is a single storey reinforced concrete building, with partial basement, providing such acute-care facilities as major and emergency operating rooms, and areas for laboratory and radiological services. It replaces the present hospital which was built in 1914.

General contractors were Sorenson Construction Company Ltd., of Vancouver, and architect was David P. Fairbank of Nelson.

$17,423 PRIVATE DONATIONS TO KINNAIRD POOL

KINNAIRD — Private donations to the Kinnaird swimming pool have totalled $17,423 since 1958, a recent report tabled at Kinnaird's commission meeting discloses.

In addition, the village itself has donated $2,500, while senior governments, through winter works, donated $2,765. The Kinnaird Athletic Association has given $400 for operating expenses.

Total grants and donations thus total $23,088.

Suggests Curriculum Institute for B.C.

VERNON (CP) — British Columbia can learn a lot from Ontario in planning the school curriculum, Vancouver teacher John Church said here Thursday.

"An organization in B.C. similar to Ontario's unique curriculum institue would help to overcome the "piecemeal system of revising curriculum in this province.

"Changes in curriculum are being carried out too hurriedly in B.C. at present," he said in an interview.

"Too many changes are being made without time for testing and evaluation."

JOINS DEPARTMENT

Mr. Church, head of the social studies department at Gladstone Secondary School in Vancouver, will join the department of education on a one-year leave of absence to work on curriculum revision.

He is here attending the annual summer teachers conference.

Mr. Church said the Ontario board to change curriculums stemmed from a study made by University of Toronto and Toronto Board of Education officials in 1960.

The institute is an independent organization of representatives of Ontario teachers federations, the department of education, universities and school trustees.

NEW BODY

Mr. Church said the institute, established this year, will conduct its first studies in the fields of foreign languages and science.

"It will design suggested school courses, evaluate them and disseminate information to school boards and the Ontario department of education based on is findings," he said.

"It will not supplant curriculum development work being carried out by the education department."

At present, in British Columbia, the department of education is responsible for developing the school curriculum, and teachers serve on committees that advise the government on programs to follow.

Church said an independent body, such as the Ontario institute, could take time to devise and evaluate programs — time which the B.C. department does not have in its haste to keep up with the changing curriculum.

Industrial Meet Planned For Monday

CRANBROOK — Dieter Naumann, city town planning consultant will be invited to attend the joint industrial meeting to be held Monday night in the city hall starting at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting, called by city council, will have representatives on hand from the Cranbrook Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber of Commerce and area doctors.

Purpose of the meeting will be the formation of a properly organized joint industrial committee. Discussion will also be carried out on possible industrial development for this area.

Tuesday night Mr. Naumann will meet with council to present an overall land use plan.

To Meet Ever-Present Shortage

Urges Department Take More Realistic View on Teachers

VERNON (CP)—There is an "ever present" shortage of qualified teachers for B.C. schools, Harry Evans, department of education registrar, told 125 teachers at their annual summer conference here.

"To meet this demand for teachers the department must take a realistic viewpoint regarding the qualifications of a teacher," he said.

"We agree with the B.C. Teachers' Federation that every teacher must eventually have a degree no matter what grade he or she teaches.

"But, we cannot insist that the many superior teachers in the province without completed degrees are unqualified."

He said B.C. had the highest number of degreed teachers in Canada with 37 per cent compared to the national average of 27 per cent.

"But we are continually striving to have teachers return to university to upgrade their qualifications."

He told the teachers that one of the biggest teacher shortage problems is that of women, who have an average service time of only three to five years before they get married.

"The department and teachers federation must be realistic with the problem, and we must never make certification of teachers so difficult hat it will seriously shorten the supply, or do a disservice to the very fine teachers who took their training before newer regulations have been proposed.

Mr. Evans said both the teachers and the department of education were working very closely towards the same goal—that of keeping all classrooms in the province occupied with the finest professional teachers available.

7550 Swimmers Use Gyro Pool in July

CRANBROOK — Gyro Swimming Pool drew an estimated 7550 swimmers in July, Recreation Director R. L. DeArmond reported to city council. Temperature of water ranged from 53 to 62 degrees. One water rescue was required during the month, the ambulance was called to three accidents, and there were 27 first aid size accidents.

Cool, wet weather in early July held swimming class registration to 371, but attendance of these was also low. Passing official Red Cross examinations the end of the month were 18 beginners, ten advanced beginners, 21 juniors, eight intermediates, three seniors, and one person won a bronze medallion, one a bar to the bronze medallion and two won bronze crosses.

Attendance of children for supervised play at Rotary and Gyro Parks reached an estimated 5,900 for low organization games, puppetry, and painting. Wednesday evening Film Council showings at Rotary Park continued through the month.

Senior and junior sports activities in softball, baseball, soccer and tennis in the public facilities available operated on schedule at the various parks, and the Stock Car Club had two racing days at Moir Park.

Creston Paper Wins Awards in Weeklies Class

CRESTON — A Creston paper has won a top national journalistic award, announced in Toronto recently. The Creston Review won honors in editorial page material, makeup and reader interest.

Competing in its circulation class of just under 2000 papers weekly, the Review won this single honor against 60 candidates, in the same circulation bracket, of weekly newspapers from Newfoundland to Vancouver Island.

The Review from 1938 to 1948 was one of the few Canadian weekly newspapers to win consecutive awards for "best allround newspapers," "best editorial page" and "best front page." Since 1948 the Review disqualified itself from competition by these consecutive wins and this year competed again to take second in the "best editorial page" competition as well as other top honors.

In other phases of the competition the paper ranged fourth place winner in the best newspaper and fifth for the best front page.

The Review is a Creston operated concern with H. K. Legg publisher, owner and editor and H. E. Brown, plant superintendent.

The Review circulates throughout Creston and Valley, Salmo and along Kootenay Lake. It has registered licences and agents operating throughout the East and West Kootenays.

Curling Rink Progress Good

KIMBERLEY — Plans for Kimberley's new $80,000 curling rink are moving ahead satisfactorily, with loans for $40,000 approved at each of the two city banks.

Repayment is scheduled over a period of six year. Construction should start as soo nas a contractor is named, and if no unforeseen problems arise, the rink should be in operation this season. Site of the new rink will be adjacent to the Kimberley Civic Centre on Rotary Drive.

WOULD BACK ROCKY

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Senator Barry Goldwater (Rep. Ariz.) says he would support Nelson Rockefeller if the New York governor won the Republican nomination for president in 1964. "The country can't stand another four years of Kennedy," he said Thursday after replying "yes" to a direct question on possible support of Rockefeller.

Creston Students Win Scholarships

CRESTON — Miss Betsy Mosher won the school board scholarship with an 82.4 per cent average, Fred Martello's recent report to the school board revealed. Of the five who wrote for scholarships, Miss Mosher, Dan Robinson 74.25 per cent, and Pauline Reiber 72.19 per cent, will receive government scholarships. The other two, Jean Koch 68.1 per cent and Gail Paterson 67.5 per cent, were listed for commendation.

First year arts had an 88.8 per cent average (1962—88 per cent) with students receiving over 70 per cent receiving scholarships. Of the seven listed, five will receive such scholarships. These are Denis Douville 82.7 per cent, Don Henker 72.4 per cent, Ted McClennan 70.7 per cent, Melford Larson 70.5 per cent, and Elsie Anonby 72.67 per cent. The remaining two are Shirley Edgar 69.7 per cent and Christine White 67.5 per cent.

Denis Douville has also won the $300 Norman MacKenzie Alumni Scholarship. Miss Shirley Bell and Miss Marilyn Nickel won provincial firsts in job study competition and each will receive $100.

The board will send letters of commendation to the above students as well as the teachers involved.

Election Announcement A Shocker

The announcement by Premier Bennett that a provincial general election will be held on September 30 came as a surprise just as that political strategist intended, no doubt.

It caught the opposition parties unprepared. They most likely suspected that Mr. Bennett was preparing for one by tidying up the loose ends, taking off the tolls on the Deas Tunnel and Oak Street Bridge and negotiating a settlement with the BCE.

With these out of the way he now proposes to ask the electors for a mandate to continue in office and gives as his slogan "Forward to a Greater British Columbia." His platform will be based on the government's hydro power program which he says will lead to cheaper power rates for everyone.

The leader of the opposition, Mr. Strachan, says the election will be fought on the integrity of the government and says that "It must be obvious that only the New Democratic Party can truthfully and honestly fulfil the desire of the people for public power" and asks Liberals and Conservatives to support the NDP in this election. Sympathy for Mr. Strachan can hardly be expected to this extent even though he has been robbed of the opportunity to form a government on more than one occasion. With all the opportunities to vote for his party it becomes more clear that the voters prefer the old CCF group and the present NDP in opposition.

In the absence of the Liberal leader, Ray Perrault, the Member of Oak Bay asks if this election is necessary and says that British Columbians should not be put to the inconvenience of an election after four federal and one provincial election in seven years. It is difficult indeed to see the need for an election this year other than that it would seem to be a better time for Social Credit than for the other parties.

Despite the often called power policy mess there has been no public outcry for the government to test its mandate from the people.

It may be, of course, that there are "goodies for the voters of B.C.," not yet announced, but imminent, and if such is the case it should be expected that astute politician Premier Bennett would deem it a good time to have an election and secure another four years, and possibly five, in which time he should have his power policy paying the dividends he claims will be forthcoming. He could also feel that the Liberals and Conservatives are gaining strength and a vote next year might be a battle indeed.

Whatever his reasons, they will be such that Social Credit will have an advantage the others haven't at the time.

Absenteeism in Parliament

It is unfortunate that there is not enough support to secure adoption of the suggestion of Mr. Robert Thompson, national leader of the Social Credit party, calling for institution of a daily roll call in Parliament to record members who are absent.

Members of Parliament, now in the process of voting themselves hefty salary increases, have boosted the daily fines of members who are absent for more than twenty-one days during a session to $120 from $65. This is more than generous, permitting a princely number of long weekends — as many as ten in any session of Parliament — extending from Thursday night to Tuesday morning.

Mr. Thompson's daily roll call would be a more realistic way of ensuring that members of Parliament, who will now be handsomely paid, are keeping their attention where it belongs.

Absenteeism from parliamentary debates became painfully noticeable during the recent crises stemming from Mr. Gordon's budget. During such a time of trial for a nation tenuously controlled by a minority government, there could be few excuses valid enough to keep a member from the House.

From now on, taxpayers are apt to take a less lenient view of members who absent themselves from the business of the country, even for long weekends.—Calgary Herald.

Women's Way

Anyone who has been quietly harboring a thought that if the affairs of the world were taken from the control of the males and placed in the hands of women, the world would be better off, would be well advised to study the proceedings of the World Congress of Women held in Moscow recently.

When a delegate from Cuba had naughty words to say about the Western nations, fifty women from Italy walked out of the hall. Then it was the turn of the Chinese ladies. When an Italian lady did some very plain talking about the Communist Chinese, the Chinese delegates advanced to the front of the hall to say a few things in rebuttal. The chairlady would not recognize the Chinese. The Chinese kept on spouting. So the chairlady adjourned the meeting.

Surely it is only fair to state that men folk couldn't have put on a better show.

—Fort William Times-Journal.

It's Been Said

War will disappear, like the dinosaur, when changes in world conditions have destroyed its survival value.

—Robert Andrews Millikan.

Mopping Up

At first, new vistas seemed to be opening for New York City's cleaning women. For didn't Henry F. (Buster) Bell, an official of the International Longshoremen's Association, say that the way soon may be open for the women to become full-fledged members of the ILA?

This opportunity appeared in the offing when the Holland-America Line opened new offices on its New York pier. The company planned to have the offices cleaned by regular cleaning women, who earn $1.75 an hour. Then the ILA won jurisdiction over the cleaning women's jobs.

How soon will the cleaning women be moving into the ILA? Well, it won't happen right away. In fact, the women won't have any jobs on the pier at all for a while. The bucket-and-mop brigade will instead be manned by sturdy longshoremen who have "seniority." They'll earn an ILA rate of, not $1.75, but $3.17 an hour, plus a 10 per cent bonus if they wield their new tools after 5 p.m. In short, they'll be about the best-paid cleaning women around.

"We have no prejudice against women," declares Mr. Bell. "We'll probably take them in if a labor shortage develops." Meanwhile, along with management, they can easily figure out who got cleaned.

Anglicans Announce Anti-Racial Policy

By ALAN WALKER

TORONTO (CP)—The racial question flared again at the Anglican Congress Friday as delegates tried to draft a final message of summation.

Chief Adejemi Olusola Lawson, chancellor of Lagos diocese, West Africa, sprang to a microphone and pleaded with delegates to include something about racial discrimination in the message.

"Has the congress got the courage or not?" he shouted.

Chief Lawson said his people in Africa would ask him why there was no mention of race in the congress' final message.

"What will I tell them?" he said, his voice trembling with anger. "I might well say that it was sheer cowardice."

Chairman Most Rev. H. H. Clark, Primate of all Canada, assured Chief Lawson there was mention of race in the recommendations from the congress, a separate document.

'WHY TUCK IT AWAY?'

Chief Lawson, however, strode back to the microphone and asked: "Why must we tuck it away in the corner of a paper with some recommendations?"

Archbishop Clark asked delegates if they wanted the editorial committee to include something about racial discrimination in the message.

There was long and loud applause. The archbishop asked for a vote by show of hands. Only about five of the estimated 1,000 delegates opposed the suggestion.

The recommendation on discrimination says the congress' discussion groups over the last 10 days "voiced their deep concern and compassion for all who suffer on account of their race, color or creed; they strongly supported all those who in various parts of the world who are witnessing to Christ by their courageous stand against discrimination."

It was expected the final version of the message would contain something along these lines.

LAST MEETINGS

Friday's sessions were the last formal meetings of the congress.

Thursday, Ven. C. H. W. de Soya, archdeacon of Colombo, Ceylon, said that while reunion of Protestant and Roman Catholic faiths may be far away, "a real breakthrough in relations between the Roman Catholic Church and the rest of us have occurred."

Archdeacon de Soysa was one of two speakers to stress the prospects of closer relations between the churches Thursday, as the 11-day Anglican Congress neared its close.

Still further evidence of the new feeling between the churches is Friday's "courtesy call" by James Cardinal McGuigan, Archbishop of Toronto, on Most Rev. Michael Ramsey, Archbishop of Canterbury. After a public encounter in the lobby of the hotel where the Anglicans have met, the two church leaders retire to a private suite to discuss "matters of mutual concern."

Archdeacon de Soysa, one of the Anglican observers at last year's Vatican council, said Catholic theologians are "thinking very hard" about the equality of all Christians through the common factor of baptism.

And delegates applauded when he said: "I have hope the Roman Catholic Church may apply for membership in the World Council of Churches. When that happens, a very great thing will have been done."

". . . Fear, anxiety and suspicion, no matter how well founded in the past, must be put aside and we must go ahead in faith," he concluded.

NOW IS HOPEFUL

Bishop James A. Pike of San Francisco, a former Roman Catholic, told delegates he had once felt that logic might be a barrier between the churches.

"But I am hopeful now. I don't think we should be discouraged because our own minds have not worked out the logic of union."

TO VISIT ROME

BONN (Reuters) — Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany will go to Rome Sept. 16 for talks with Italian government leaders, informed sources said Friday. He also will have his first audience with Pope Paul. The chancellor is vacationing at Cadenabbia near Lake Como, northern Italy.

Today In History

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Aug. 24, 1961 . . .

In retaliation for the burning of public buildings at York, now Toronto, British troops burned the White House in Washington, D.C., 149 years ago today - in 1814 — during the War of 1812. Earlier that month a British fleet entered Chesapeake Bay and landed an army under command of Gen. Robert Ross. Their only opposition before gathered to defend the city. The militiamen were routed and Washington was captured. After an unsuccessful attempt to capture Baltimore, Ross's troops reembarked for attacks on other points along the coast.

1943—The Quebec conference between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill ended.

1759—Statesman William Wilberforce, British leader against slavery, died.

Interpreting the News

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A holiday visitor comes away from France glumly convinced that the stalemate in Europe is set as solidly as ever.

As President de Gaulle starts the sixth year of what can only be called his reign, there is no sign of a break in Gaullist determination to keep Britain outside the Common Market.

Political prophets say that when de Gaulle comes to the end of his seven-year mandate, he'll promptly ask for another, and probably get it.

A tourist's impression is that the situation contains the seeds of tragedy. The vision of a truly united Europe, once such a shining beacon, is gradually going dim, and nobody seems to care.

WORRY ABOUT FRANCE

Maybe its the holiday atmosphere. Whatever it is, conversations with Frenchmen convey little concern about the fate of Europe. De Gaulle has plenty of opponents, but they are more worried about France than Europe.

De Gaulle's national spirit appeals to most ordinary folk.

"You know, deep down, most of us are convinced we are just a little bit superior to anybody else in the world", said a Parisian in a cafe on the Britanny coast.

A plain-spoken doctor from the lovely Provencal city of Arles referred to Gaullist policies with contempt but cautioned:

"You must remember that criticism comes mostly from people who care about politics, and in France people who care about politics are a tiny minority."

A LITTLE PERVERSE

Lingering symptoms of the Anglo-French malaise were reflected in comments on Britain's big train robbery.

A television news announcer, shaking his head, remarked that les Anglais are always original characters, somehow suggesting that they take a perverse pleasure in being a little different from everybody else.

The Paris newspaper Le Monde said the affair of the mail train is "marvellously British," recalling the Alec Guinness film Lavender Hill Mob.

At least one paper had a good word for Britain. The weekly L'Express said Europe is slowly being asphyxiated — "Europe without England is almost nothing."

The RCMP throughout British Columbia are training police auxiliaries to assist the force should emergencies arise and Civil Defence plans be implemented.

Give Small Prospectors Break Commission Urged

REGINA (CP)—It's time the small prospector got a break under the Income Tax Act, says the Saskatchewan Chamber of Mines.

And in order to get mineral development rolling in Canada, it asked the royal commission on taxation Friday to recommend that all individuals and non-incorporated associations be allowed to deduct from taxable income all expenses incurred in exploring and developing mines. Incorporated mining companies already have such allowances.

Saskatchewan has 90,000 square miles of territory available for prospecting, said the chamber, and only 65 square miles are staked each year under about 1,000 individual claims. "It can be readily seen that the level of activity would have to be appreciably increased to make an inroad in the total job waiting to be done."

The chamber, whose objective is to encourage mining development, draws its 90 members from individuals, associations and companies.

Its brief said that any increase in prospecting is likely to come from individuals and small groups of people. But there is not likely to be any increase unless these individuals get encouragement from the revenue department.

---

REGINA (CP)—In three successive briefs, the royal commission on taxation Friday was asked to recommend the repeal of a section of the Income Tax Act that grants full exemption to members of religious orders who have taken a vow of perpetual poverty.

"Nuns and lay brothers should be required to pay their share of federal income tax for the upkeep of our country as are all other servants of the country," said the Grand Orange Lodge of Saskatchewan.

"These income tax preferences constitute a disturbing departure from the principle of separation of church and state," said the Protestant League of Saskatchewan.

The briefs followed similar criticism by a group of Baptist ministers in Vancouver last week who said that by allowing members of orders to turn over tax-free salaries to those orders, the government was actually helping to support the Roman Catholic Church.

The brief from the Grand Orange Lodge said: "It means that a member of a religious order who has taken a vow of perpetual poverty simply turns his cheque over to a religious order and they in turn pay all expenses. This transaction makes it possible to evade the payment of income tax. Protestant clergymen and Protestant religious workers, as a general rule, cannot come under the provisions of this act and they are forced to pay income tax the same as any other citizen."

RECEIVE PAY

The brief said that many members of religious orders are teaching in public and private schools, they are in the nursing profession and in social work and are paid out of the public purse. There were 272 Catholic sisters teaching in Saskatchewan public schools.

"It has been estimated that if the members of religious orders paid income tax the same as other citizens the total tax from this source would amount to over $15,000,000 a year."

The Regina County Loyal Orange Lodge said there were 2,904 nuns and lay brothers employed in tax-supported schools in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Ontario.

---

REGINA (CP) — A sweeping set of recommendations that would chop millions of dollars from revenue department tax collections was proposed today by the Retail Merchants' Association (Saskatchewan) Incorporated.

This is what it asked the royal commission on taxation to recommend:

1. Cut personal income taxes by 7½ per cent the first year, 15 per cent the second year and 22½ per cent the third year.
2. Cut corporation taxes by five per cent a year for three years.
3. All couples should be completely exempt from income tax during the year in which they marry.
4. Business should be allowed to set up tax-free investment reserves.
5. Workers should be allowed, under the Income Tax Act, to put more money in retirement savings plans.
6. The excise tax on cigarettes, cigars and tobacco should be reduced by 10 per cent immediately.

Fire-Eater Uses Gasoline—Causes Explosion

LONDON (AP) — Professional fire-eater Geoffrey Winship, 29, is in hospital suffering from painful burns on the face, chest and throat.

Geoffrey, a performer with Winship's Wild West Circus, was doing his usual fire-eating act Thursday night when things went wrong.

"It was all the result of a terrible mistake," said the fire - eater's brother, Barry Winship. "A tin of petrol (gasoline) was used instead of a tin of paraffin (kerosene)."

Hundreds looked on as the fire-eater began his act.

He held a burning torch before his face and went into his act, blowing a mouthful of fuel on the torch.

This caused an explosion. Brother Barry rushed to his aid.

"I beat out the flames with my hands," said Barry.

"Geoffrey closed his mouth," said the brother, "otherwise he might have blown himself up. That has happened to fire-eaters in the past."

He said fire-eaters use kerosene instead of gasoline because kerosene—when blown correctly—produces a harmless ball of flame without exploding.

Archbishops Meet Briefly

TORONTO (CP)—The spiritual head of the Anglican Church and the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Toronto sipped sherry Friday as they conferred briefly in a "courtesy meeting."

The meeting between Dr. Michael Ramsey, Archbishop of Canterbury, and James Cardinal McGuigan took place in Dr. Ramsey's 16th-floor suite at the Royal York Hotel and lasted seven minutes.

Dr. Ramsey greeted the cardinal outside his room, bowing as they met.

The archbishops were accompanied in their chat by Mrs. Ramsey, Msgr. John O'Mara, secretary to the cardinal, and Canon John Satterthwaite, Dr. Ramsey's secretary.

Your Individual Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Sunday, August 25, 1963

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — A less stimulating day than you may wish, but there's ample room for your talents to expand and enliven, which they should. Make some time for relaxation.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Your emotions could get out of hand. So could any number of things become bothersome, IF you permit. Someone is jealous? Not understanding? YOU can be both tolerant and understanding!

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — Summarize past gains and future potentialities and it will help you take the right steps for advancement NOW. Don't strive for the unreasonable, however.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — Avoid excess motion, useless wordage; be discriminating in all that you do and say. Make no drastic changes in things now running smoothly.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — Emphasize your innate integrity, reliability and resourcefulness. These can carry you far now, along with Leo's buoyant nature. Review past weeks, determine to weed out unessentials in the future.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Stress your inborn prudence and discernment now. Constructive interests favored. Avoid doubts and fears. You should have a bright and happy day.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Explore further means to solve problems that came up in the past, are still in the docket. Fulfill a cherished wish by going after it. Don't just daydream. Reduce fretting to a minimum.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Stop to consider whatever is expected of you and how best to handle it. Handle first things first and don't be side-tracked by non-essentials. A good day for good deeds.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Capitalize on your talents and handle your obligations in a productive day. This day has many advantages. Jupiter's position spells ACTION.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Mixed influences. You may face some odd situations while travelling or through communications. Obstacles, taken philosophically, could prove interesting as challenges.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY ations without taking a dim view of problem areas. There are always solutions — many! The eager, watchful eye sees them more quickly.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — If you let this day go by without accomplishing at least two good turns, you will not be happy about it. There is more opportunity to assist — and thereby gain — than you may realize. Ignore critics.

YOU BORN TODAY are young in ideas, take to modern devices, changes in fashion, etc., though at heart still admire the "good" of the "old days." Music, painting, sculpturing, teaching, the ministry, nursing, secretarial and confidential work are especially suited to your ability. Do not be so dominating that less outspoken folk become submerged, subdued. The Virgoan reigns nobly, but must give way to other rising powers when those times come. His inquisitiveness can unlock doors of great wisdom; his fault-finding soundly trimmed down can become constructive criticism, which it is meant to be. Birthdate: Brett Harte, author; James Lick (Lick Observatory); Ivan IV, Czar of Russia; Gottfreid von Herder, German philosopher and writer.

Heal Races Archbishop Tells Church

TORONTO (CP)—Most Rev. Joost de Blank, Archbishop of Cape Town, South Africa, told delegates to the Anglican Congress Friday the church's continuing task is "the healing of nations."

"This healing work has to be worked out first among races," said the archbishop, who has often spoken against South Africa's discriminatory apartheid policies, "but also between nations, between workers and management, within the home, and perhaps especially in the world of adolescence and the often almost non-existent relations between age and youth. . . ."

Archbishop de Blank preached the final sermon to the delegates at St. James Cathedral as the congress came to its close.

He said the church must be at the heart of the modern world, offering itself to all men and "suffering with them."

Immigrants On Upswing

OTTAWA (CP)—An upswing in immigration, with 41,444 arrivals in the first six months of 1963, was reported Friday by the immigration department. Last year 34,061 immigrants arrived in the first six months.

Arrivals from Britain rose sharply to 11,396 from 6,963.

If this year's immigration pace continues it will end up well ahead of the 74,586 total reported for 1962, but still far under the 282,164 immigrants who came to Canada in 1957 to set a 44-year record.

Immigration from Italy in the first six months of this year was up slightly from last year at 6,826 compared with 6,618.

In recent years Britain and Italy have been supplying the bulk of Canadian immigrants.

Third largest source of immigrants in the first half was the United States with 4,365 arrivals down from 4,633 in the year earlier comparison.

Arrivals from other leading countries, with last year's first-half figure bracketed:

Germany 3,499 (2,979), Greece 2,190 (1,729), Portugal 1,728 (1,620), France 1,505 (1,200), the Netherlands 1,104 (965), West Indies 726 (539), Australia 608 (525), Poland 567 (750), Egypt 538 (106).

Education Program for CWL Discussed

Revitalization To Begin at Home

CALGARY (CP) — Women have done little to answer the late Pope John's call for Roman Catholic participation in social action, a member of the Catholic Women's League of Canada said Wednesday.

"I think that this is a problem that is very large, but it can be put into a few words," Mrs. P. C. Lomer of Hafford, Sask., told the 500 delegates and visitors.

"We are not the kind of Christians Christ wants us to be and if we are going to try to revitalize the world about us and revitalize the social order, we'll have to begin in our own league must work toward this goal, said Mrs. Lomber, past provincial CWL president for Saskatchewan.

"There is only one thing they should be working for—the sal-y of others. If the CWL is not going to do this, then I'm not interested in the Catholic Women's League.

PART OF PANEL

Mrs. Lomer was a member of a forum discussing the priority social action programs and projects should have at the CWL parish level.

Rev. J. S. Robinson of Saskatoon, CWL diocesan director and chairman of the forum, said the league must get going now on plans for an educating program.

"We have national conveners and I believe one of their duties is to keep feeding us ideas."

Rev. Philip Neri, executive director of the social acion department, Canadian Catholic Conference, said his department "will be happy to work with any committee you want to set up, preferably engaged at the local level, and working with this committee we are prepared to prepare several programs for the coming year."

Boswell Notes

BOSWELL — Jim Steir of Portland has been a guest of Jack Pratt.

J. Nilson, Boswell's oldest settler, is a patient in Creston Valley Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Pryke have as their guest Mrs. Dorothy Lord of Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Birkley of Calgary and Mrs. Maud Towers of Canmore, Alta., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. Lindsay.

Mrs. Belle Stevens and Mr. and Mrs. W. Grieg, accompanied by their granddaughter, Theresa Park of Victoria, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Bambridge.

Duncan MacFarlane has returned to Boswell after an extended visit to Eastern Canada.

New Denver

NEW DENVER — Mr. and Mrs. Eric Bergren have had as their guests the former's sister, Mrs. R. Lowry and son of Grande Prairie, Alta., who were also visiting Mrs. Lowry's mother, Mrs. L. Bergren.

Mr. and Mrs. Enar Bergren and son, Kevin and Mrs. Bergren's mother, Mrs. J. Staire of Calgary were recent guests of Mr. Bergren's mother, Mrs. L. Bergren.

Mission Hospitals Lose Women to Higher Paid Jobs

TORONTO (CP)—Rising employment opportunities in Tanganyika are encouraging women to leave mission hospital work in favor of higher paid jobs, a delegate at the Anglican congress said Tuesday.

Mary Mlele, a Tanganyikan and one of four nurses at a 76-bed Anglican hospital near Lake Nyasa, said two of her friends had left mission hospital work because they wanted higher salaries.

"Salaries for men and women have been equal since Tanganyika's independence last December, but salaries for nurses and aides in government hospitals are higher than those in mission hospitals," she said in an interview.

Miss Mlele said the new hospitals have telephones and running water, while women must carry water to supply mission hospitals and run for a doctor if an emergency comes up.

Government hospitals and dispensaries are good, she said, but the country needs more of them.

"There are still many young girls who have not had an opportunity to receive an education," she explained, "and hey look after the children for mothers who are working."

One of the employment opportunities in her country, she said, is a joint church - government venture which trains girls to teach basic skills in villages.

Cranbrook Legion Property Sale Completed

CRANBROOK — Cranbrook Legion Branch No. 24 this week completed arrangements on the sale of its Baker Street property for $95,000.

The property was purchased by Holbrook Holding Co., a local group.

Legion President Arol Weir says that plans are now well underway for the branch's new building to be located on five lots at the corner of First Street North and Kootenay Avenue.

Budget for the new building and fixtures has been set at $100,000. Architects are Smith & McCulloch of Trail and Vancouver.

The new building will be about twice the size of the present premises. Downstairs area will be 90 feet by 60 feet. The upstairs hall will provide banquet facilities for 450 people.

Actual hall floor space upstairs will be 72 by 40 feet with the remainder of the area taken up by kitchens, cloakrooms and other necessities.

Parking area will also be provided on the new property.

Mr. Weir said that he hoped bids on the new building might be called in about three weeks time, with construction to start by October 1.

"We hope to be in the downstairs portion of the building by New Year's," said Mr. Weir, "but this will depend entirely upon the weather."

Regional College Proposal Under Consideration

KINNAIRD — Upon an enquiry made by Commissioner R. C. Maddocks as to the proposed regional college for this area, the School Board of District No. 9 has informed him that the matter is under consideration by the West Kootenay branch of the B.C. School Trustees Association.

The letter from C. H. King, Secertary of the local school board goes on to say that the association has set up a steering committee which has prepared a resolution that has been duly passed by districts 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, and 12.

"I enclose a copy of the resolution along with the boards' combined application to establish a regional college in the area of the West Kootenay. This application has been completed by Districts 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12 at this date and these will be submitted by mail to the Council of Public Instruction on Aug. 2, 1963.

"This is the second requirement and is now completed.

Rules for operation are being formulated by the Council of Public Instruction and it is expected these will be available at an early date. These will outline the procedure for setting up the Regional Council which will be the governing body of the college, re sites, buildings, administration and operation."

Spearing Carp Underwater Sport at Nakusp

NAKUSP — A new form of fishing for sportsmen in this district is becoming popular.

Spear fishing for carp is providing much enjoyment for local and visiting underwater fishermen. The fish (coarse, not game) weigh up to 20 lbs. or more. They lie low on the bottom of the lake and the "fishermen" dive down with their spears to take their prize. A 10 to 14 pound fish can give quite a thrill to the diver and the fight that follows makes the sport well worth while.

Carp are found in many parts of the lake. Youngsters used to pull out good-sized ones at the CPR wharf at Nakusp and it is reported that St. Leon is a good location to find carp.

A suggestion to the Chamber of Commerce Tourist Committee would be for them to learn the likely location of these fish and to inform the tourists where they could indulge in this sport with a reasonable chance of success.

These are coarse fish and for the protection of the fame fish in the same areas their removal would be welcome.

Bishop Urges Personal Touch With "Sons"

TORONTO (CP) — Rt. Rev. W. Robert Coleman, Anglican Bishop of Kootenay, said in an interview Wednesday that personal contact rather than sociological studies and commissions must be the bridge to the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors in British Columbia.

The church does not expect to bring them into the Anglican faith, he said, but it is keenly interested in establishing contact with the sect.

His diocese is looking for a Russian-speaking priest with a suitable personality to attempt this, but it is difficult to find the proper combination.

He added that a number of Freedomites have married Anglicans and a few have been converted to the Anglican faith, but they are still remote and hostile to outsiders.

Bishop Coleman said social workers or missionaries who would like and work with the sect are needed to solve the Freedomite problem.

30 Teachers Complete Preparatory Course

Conditions Tough in Northland, But Teachers Still Going Back

By EDNA BLAKELY

OTTAWA (CP) — Teachers going into Canada's northland with the northern affairs department are warned that:

—Temperatures have gone as low as 65 degrees below zero.

—Small children cannot be allowed to wander through some settlements because of the possible dangers of mauling by sled dogs.

—Medical, dental and nursing facilities are not available in every settlement.

Despite these and otherwarnings, there is no problem in recruiting and keeping teachers in the Northwest Territories and Arctic Quebec, says Florence Gaynor, acing chief of the curriculum section of the northern affairs department.

In an interview she said the 40 new teachers who will go North this year represent "normal turnover" for any Canadian community. The new teachers will form part of a 300-member teaching staff which serves about 6,000 Eskimo, Indian and white children in the North.

LACK ENGLISH

Many of the Eskimo and Indian children start to school without any knowledge of English. About 30 teachers are completing a five-week course at Carleton University on a course called English as a second language.

Among them is Helen Wiltshire who leaves here next Monday for her ninth year in the North.

She first went to Moose Factory, Ont. — "and I thought it was North"—but had later postings at Frobisher Bay, Baffin Island, For Chimo, Que., and is now embarking on her fourth year at Pangnirtung on Baffin Island where 72 children attend the two-room school.

She went North because she was interested in Eskimos as a people. Earlier travels took her back and forth to England, Argentina, India and Ceylon. She was born at Haywards Heath, Sussex, England, but came to Canada as a child and was educated in the maritimes at Halifax, Pictou, N.S., and Grand Pre, Que.

REFRAINS FROM ESKIMO

She speaks a little Eskimo but tries to refrain because it encourages the Eskimos to answer in their native tongue.

Her pupils, like students in other parts of Canada, play ball at recess and mark Hallowe'en and Valentine's Day along with other festivals.

Ed Duggan, who also attended the course, this year will take his wife and four children to Inuvik on the delta of he Mackenzie River. Earlier he spent five years at Fort Smith, N.W.T. and two of his children were born there.

The children adapt well to the North he says "and even play outside more because the climate is dry."

Although there are certain disadvantages, the Perth, Ont.-born teacher says they are compensated by new experiences such as herding buffalo in a light plane and goose hunting.

George Demuele of Schumacher near Timmins, Ont., is a young bachelor who keeps busy with hobbies and extra evening classes at Chesterfield Inlet, N.W.T. He is returning for his third year at the four-room school for 123 students.

One of the bonuses for him is the extra-long skiing season he enjoys in the North.

Home of Your Own

THE IDEAL HOUSE

Different families have different needs. A house should allow all members of the family to do what they want to do without getting under one another's feet. But economics and time do not always permit the average family to build this way. More often they buy a ready-built house or build from a stock plan. Know what your family needs are and always look to the future.

Otherwise, you may end up with a house that will be too small in a few years' time. For most people financing is the real problem and usually a family has to compromise between what they would like to have today and what they think they will need tomorrow. Remember, it pays to be selective.

FITTING HOUSE TO BUDGET

Fitting your house to a building budget can be quite a problem. Naturally, we cannot all afford to build a mansion, but one of the marks of a good builder is to be able to build a nice house at a reasonable price and you may be sure your builder will do his utmost to keep within your building budget. Builders agree that it is false economy to use shodly materials and accept poor workmanship to reduce costs.

Budget-wise, the best house to build is the 1¼-storey house. It has a pleasing appearance and is the most practical and economical house to build. In the first place a square plan is much cheaper to construct than a sprawling bungalow.

A 1½-storey house without dormers has a simple roof that will also save you money. Two additional bedrooms can be put on the second floor of the 1½-storey house when funds become available.

A BIG HOUSE OR A SMALL ONE

Did you know that it is harder to design a small house than a big one? The less space you have the harder it is to fit everything in satisfactorily. One of the most important things — according to architects — is to get a proper relationship between the living, sleeping and working areas of the house.

Many people like to have as large a living room as possible but it should not be at the expense of good circulation. You should be able to get from one area of a house to another without passing through a third.

You should bear in mind too that it is best to keep future needs in mind. Making additions afterwards is more expensive and often less satisfactory.

Cartop Carrier Combines Good Style With Safety

Overflow luggage and equipment can be carried in clean dry conditions by building the box shown here. It can be adapted to the normal cartop suction cup apparatus or can have special pedastals made for it.

Notice that no dimensions are given. This is because each car will require slightly different sizes depending on the car size itself an dthe shape of the crown and the length and width o fthe roof.

The first step is to lay out, full size on stiff cardboard, the shape shown at the bottom of the sketches above. This can only be done out at the car after measuring and using your own good judgment. The length will be determined by the length of the roof of your car. The height will be governed by the fact that you should be able to drive into a garage without removing the unit and by the fact that too much weight, too high up will cause excessive roll when driving. After length and height are determined draw a clean not-too-sharp curve as shown (too sharp a curve will creat difficulties later when bending the plywood. Indicate where the two cuts must be made to separate the lift top sides from the fixed side. When these patterns are transferred to plywood and cut out they form the basis of your carrier box. They should be carefully stiffened with framing members glued and screwed around their perimeter.

The width of the unit is determined by measuring your car top width and using your own judgment. Cut a piece of plywood to the width decided upon and as long as the bottom edge of the side pieces — then glue and screw to the side pieces. Next fasten a stiffener to its top edge, "fairing-off" to match the curve of the top. At this stage you have a strong stable box and you are well on to having the tough work done. The back flap-door is fastened with 3 butt hinges and secured with draw bolts as shown. Complete the framing of the left top section by joining the two lift-top side sections by cross framing.

When applying the top curved plywood panel it is wise to place the lift-top frame in position on the fixed sides and bend a single piece of plywood over the whole unit, gluing and screwing with the aid of clamps. The cut where the piano hinge is can be made later with a sabre saw or with a bench saw and guide batten.

The unit should be carefully finished with primer paint and finally with enamel in a color to match or complement that of your car.

Scores Bennett For School System

VANCOUVER (CP) — The British Columbia government has never taken into account the problems of biculturalism because nobody has brought them to its attention, J. Romeo Paquette, a leading member of the French-speaking Canadian community here said Thursday.

Mr. Paquette, president of La Federation Canadienne - Francaise de la Colombie-Britannique, was speaking to delegates at the 16th annual meeting of L'Association Canadienne des Educateurs de Langue Francaise.

Speaking of the position of French-speaking Canadians in B.C., he said Premier W. A. C. Bennett was right when he said that there is no bicultural problems in the province.

But at the same time Mr. Bennett said he was in favor of a single educational system. This tended to perpetuate the present monolithic culture.

Mr. Paquette said British Columbia recognizes no bilingual or confessional public schools. If French-Canadians want their own schools, they have to pay for them in addition to paying for the maintenance of public schools.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The average estimated life expectancy of a child born in the United States during 1962 was an even 70 years, down from 70.2 years in 1961, the public health service reported. Widespread outbreaks of influenza and pneumonia during 1962 were blamed for a major part in the reduction.

The Modern Home

Looking for a new and fresh approach to the popular cathedral entry design? Here is one that features copious use of wood on the exterior, with vertical and horizontal siding contrasting. Low pitched roof completes the attractive exterior.

Properly speaking for the best effect, the lot should slope to the side, so that the sun deck and carport can be included. The floor plan itself a compact arrangement around a central hall. The living room features an outside wall fireplace, and the dining ell has sliding glass doors to the sun deck. Work saving kitchen has lots of cupboard space, and the three good-sized bedrooms have large closets for storage space. Full sized bathroom vanity adds to convenience in the bathroom.

The large clear area in the basement provided by the cathedral entry could be used as a future suite if desired, or extra bedrooms. Windows above ground provide lots of light for the basement rooms.

This is a very attractive, yet economically built house, designed to the standards of the National Building Code of Canada. Blueprints are available from the Building Centre (B.C.) Ltd., 96 Kingsway at Broadway, Vancouver, B.C. New Plan Book, Select Homes Design, is now available, including price list for blueprints and other building information. Send 50c to cover cost.

COMMUNIST CHARGED IN LOTTERY SALES

MONTREAL (CP) — Sam Walsh, Communist party organizer for Quebec province, is to stand trial Sept. 11 on charges of selling illegal lottery tickets.

He pleaded not guilty to the charges Thursday and was held on $500 bail.

Police Lieut. Steve Olynyk of the Montreal social security squad told the court he arrested Walsh in the Communist party's Montreal headquarters on Park Avenue where he said he found 1,000 lottery tickets.

Lieut. Olynyk said the case has nothing to do with the arrests being made by Montreal police in a crackdown on sweepstakes ticket sellers.

Britain Charges Russian Failure For Laotian Peace

LONDON (AP)—Britain Friday complained that Russia is failing to help shore up the shaky peace in Laos and warned that the cease-fire agreement has come close to "complete breakdown."

Describing the situation as "clearly most perturbing," the foreign office released the text of recent correspondence between Laotian Premier Souvanna Phouma, British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

A letter from Home to Gromyko, dated July 4, called for immediate steps "to restore peace and unity inside Laos."

A foreign office spokesman commented:

"We have come to the reluctant conclusion that the Russians are not prepared to join us in acting on suggestions made by Lord Home."

Kitchen Still Hosts Social Gatherings

Our modern way of living is typified by constant change and doing things differently than past generations. However, there is one thing that hasn't changed — that is, entertaining friends in the kitchen.

More often than not, when you are hosting your friends the party just naturally shifts to the kitchen, making it a social center of your home.

Even though the custom of entertaining is taken from the past, your kitchen design and decoration should not look old-fashioned and out-dated, says the Canadian Institute of Plumbing and Heating.

As the kitchen is the center of many family and social activities, it should be as comfortable and as attractive as modern improvements can make it. And as it is also the room where the housewife lives and works a great portion of her life, it should also be as convenient as good planning and arrangement can achieve.

For the glamour aspects of your kitchen, your decorative scheme can be highlighted by a handsome stainless steel sink, single or double compartment. Or, if preferred, your sink may be chosen from one of the porcelain enamelled offerings in a variety of beautiful pastel shades.

To add the crowning touch to your sink you may choose a single lever faucet which permits you to control the water temperature and the rate of flow at the touch of a finger. And you will also want to include a retractable spray attachment for cleaning vegeables, rinsing dishes and so on.

For the housewife's personal benefit, since it is indeed the center of her world, the design and planning of the kitchen should he such that every square foot of space counts in order to save millions of steps and unnecessary work.

Design experts, advises the Institute, recommend two general arrangements as being the most practical and efficient. They are commonly known as the "L" type and the "U" type. Either permits the arrangement of the kitchen's component parts so that the "work flow" involves the least amount of waste motion on the part of the housewife. In a general way, the sink is itself the hub of things. Stove, refrigerator, work counter, cupboards etc., should he so placed that they may be reached from a position at the sink, with a minimum of effort. In other words, an example of what not to do would be to have your sink at one end and your stove at the other.

Most older kitchens can be made surprisingly up-to-date, even glamorous, at a very moderate cost. Since the kitchen revolves around the sink, and therefore, the plumbing, the Institute suggests your first step in planning to modernize is to consul a reliable plumbing contractor. He can advise you and his professional know-how will be invaluable in choosing the best equipment for your particular needs.

Blue Bombers Outclass Eskimos by 30-7 Score

EDMONTON (CP) — The defending Grey Cup champions, Winnipeg Blue Bombers, outclassed Edmonton Eskimos 36-7 Friday night in a Western Football Conference game which saw the Eskimos bottled up in their own end most of the way.

The victory before an estimated 14,000 fans moved Winnipeg into a third-place tie with Saskatchewan Roughriders who lost a 17-16 squeaker to first-place Calgary Stampeders. The Eskimos are last with one win in four games.

Three Winnipeg players scored 12 points apiece. Fullback Joe Williams and safety Dick Thornton scored two touchdowns each—the latter on two interceptions of Edmonton passes. Halfback George Fleming scored a touchdown, kicked three converts and a 25-yard field goal.

Edmonton's touchdown was scored on a 76-yard pass-and-run play from quarterback Don Getty to halfback Tommy-Joe Coffey in the fourth quarter. Bill Mitchell converted.

The Blue Bombers, with a 2-2 record, took a 13-0 lead in the first quarter and increased it to 23-0 at the half with a display of power which held the Eskimos to a total offence of 45 yards in two quarters.

The margin was increased to 30-0 in the third quarter before the Eskimos, minus a few outstanding players due to injuries, got on the score board.

Day, Coleman Pass, Run Stamps to Close Victory

By RON MacDONALD

REGINA (CP) — The passing of Eagle Day and the running of Lovell Coleman proved better than the passing of Ron Lancaster and the running of Clair Branch Friday night as Calgary Stampeders edged Saskatchewan Roughriders 17-16 in a Western Football Conference game.

The win before 12,744 fans was Calgary's fourth straight this season and left the Stampeders on top of the conference with eight points. Saskatchewan, with a 3-2 won-lost record, had dropped to fourth place.

Calgary fullback Earl Lunsford, playing his first game this season, scored two touchdowns, and halfback and placekicking specialist Larry Robinson kicked a field goal, a single and a convert.

Saskatchewan end Jack Gotta picked up two touchdowns, one on an interception in the first quarter. Fullback Roy Cameron kicked a field goal and guard Don Walsh got a single.

The score was tied 6-6 after the first quarter, Calgary went ahead 7-6 in the second and held a 10-9 lead in the third quarter.

RUSHES FOR 89 YARDS

Calgary's offence was spearheaded by Day's passing and Coleman's running from his halfback slot. Coleman, who led the WFC in rushing prior to the game with 353 yards, added another 89 yards in 14 carries. Prior to Friday night he was running as a fullback.

Day completed 10 of 20 passes for 139 yards. Two Calgary passes by other backfielders were incomplete. Day went into the game with a 72-per-cent completion average.

Halfback Jim Dillard carried 13 times for Calgary and got 72 yards. Lunsford picked up 63 yards in 13 carries.

Saskatchewan quarterback Lancaster was good on eight of 21 pass attempts for 150 yards. Calgary defenders were getting through the line to him regularly in the first half but he got better protection in the second, throwing several long passes from a "sling-shot" formation.

Fullback Branch led the Saskatchewan ground attack with 75 yards in a tremendous 24 carries. Branch previously had been a linebacker but regular Saskatchewan fullback rookie George Reed was out with an injury.

Roughriders missed the placekicking toe of injured tackle Reg Whitehouse as Cameron missed two converts and a field goal, which went for a single, and Walsh's field goal attempt was only good for one point.

Calgary had 16 first downs on 221 yards rushing and 139 yards passing. Each club had two passes intercepted and Calgary lost one of two fumbles.

Saskatchewan averaged 41.2 yards on nine punts and Calgary had the same average on 10 punts.

Calgary lost 84 yards on six penalties and Saskatchewan lost 15 on one penalty.

Leonard Shoots Ahead of Field At Tourney

EDMONTON (CP) — Stan Leonard, balding veteran from Vancouver, ripped off a three-under-par 67 Friday to shoot ahead of a 120-man field after 36 holes of the 54-hole Canadian Professional Golfing Association championship here.

Aiming for a record ninth CPGA title, Leonard's second sub-par round gave him a 135 total and a two stroke cushion over a trio of professionals tied with 137—Bill Wright, Jr. of St. Albert, Alta., Bill Kozak of Niagara Falls, Ont., and Al Balding of Toronto.

Kozak, the first round leader Thursday with a 65, carded a 72 Friday while Balding had a 68 to go with an opening 69 and Wright had a 69 with Thursday's 68.

Pott Takes Lead In American Classic

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Johnny Pott, a lanky 27 - year - old, shot his second sub - par round Friday to take the 36-hole lead in the $50,000 American Golf Classic.

Pott tacked a 32-36-68 to his opening - round 67 for a two-round total of 135. This put him five under par in the 72-hole tournament and gave hi m a three - stroke lead over Bobby Nichols.

Nichols opened with a 71 Thursday and fired a 33-34-67 to move into the runnerup spot despite a two - over - par six on the 410-yard 14th hole.

Pott's second round included 28 putts with 11 on the first nine holes. This helped him break out of an opening - day lead which was shared with U.S. open champion Julius Boros and Miller Barber.

Barber shot one of the tournament's most erratic rounds Friday. He had three birdies and three one over pars on the first six holes before finishing with a 36-36-72 for a 139 total for the two rounds.

Boros, playing sluggish golf in collecting six one-overs, had to birdie the last two holes to come in with a 37-36-73 for a 140.

Australian Bruce Crampton and Dave Hill were the only other players to reach the halfway point under par. Crampton had a 38-32-70 for 139 and Hill added a 36-34-70 to his first round 69 for 139.

Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer again failed to break through. For the second successive day Nicklaus, the Masters and PGA champion, saw a two-over-par hold him down to even par. He had 34-36-70 for 140.

Palmer had 71 and a 141 total, six strokes behind the leader.

Nelson Texans Gain Junior Ball Finals

Nelson Texans advanced to the Kootenay Junior Baseball League finals against Rossland Capilanos by edging a determined Fruitvale club 5-4 in extra innings in the third game of their best-of-three semi-final series here Friday.

Nelson took the series opener 3-2, Fruitvale the second game by a 10-4 score.

Texans, who lost to the defending champion Capilanos in the finals last year, saw an early 2-0 lead turned into a 4-2 deficit when Fruitvale scored four runs in the fourth inning, but the Nelson club managed to tie the game 4-4 with two runs in the sixth frame.

Despite a good chance to score the winning run in the bottom of the seventh, Texan batters went down in order after catcher Bill Burdenie had reached third base, forcing the scheduled seven inning contest into extra innings.

Nelson finally managed the winning run in the bottom of the ninth when pitcher Doug Florio stretched a single into a double and scored from second when Burdenie rapped a single to centre field.

Florio gave up only three hits in going the distance for Texans while walking five and gaining six strikeouts.

Ilott on the mound for Fruitvale was tagged for nine hits, walked two and fanned four.

Burdenie with a double and two singles led Nelson at the plate. First baseman Mike Laughton added a double and single for the winners.

Ilott with a two bagger in the fourth, connected for Fruivale's lone extra base hit.

ESKIMOS LOSE QUARTERBACK

EDMONTON (CP) — Rookie quarterback James Earl Wright of the Edmonton Eskimos is finished for the season.

Hastings (Red) McMahon, president of the Western Football Conference club, said Friday Wright suffered torn ligaments in his right knee in a game here against Toronto yast week.

Wright will leave today for his home in Memphis, Tenn., where he will undergo surgery.

McMahon said the club is optimistic about Wright returning healthy for the 1964 season.

The Memphis State graduate is reported to have a no-cut, three - year contract with the Eskimos.

Baltimore, Detroit and Los Angeles Angels rolled up football scores with baseball bats Friday night, collecting a total of 76 hits in five American League games.

The Orioles swept a twi-night doubleheader from Minnesota, 14-4 on 19 hits and 6-2 on 11, the Tigers whipped Kansas City twice, 17-2 on 15 hits and 6-2 on 12, while the Angels defeated Washington 17-0 with 19 hits.

The first-place New York Yankees stretched their lead to 11 games over second-place Chicago by beating the White Sox 7-2 on Joe Pepitone's hitting and the pitching of Jim Bouon, who posted his 17th victory.

Boston edged Cleveland 3-2 on Lu Clinton's 13th inning homer off Pedro Ramos, who went the distance for the Indians and allowed only five hits.

Warren Spahn posted his 16th victory, getting home run support from Eddie Mathews and Hank Aaron in Milwaukee's 6-1 triumph over Los Angeles that cut the Dodger's National League lead to 5½ games over the second-place Cardinals.

GIANTS TOP REDS

Third-place San Francisco also closed the gap, moving to within 6½ of the front-runners, by walloping Cincinnati and 18-game winner Jim Maloney 11-3. Tom Haller and Chuck Hiller homered for the Giants while Willie Mays contributed a double and triple.

Elsewhere, St. Louis defeated Houston 4-1 behind Bob Gibson's five-hit pitching, Philadelphia used Wes Covington's two-run homer to trigger a 4-2 decision over Pittsburgh and Billy Williams hit two homers and drove in five runs as Chicago Cubs downed New York Mets 6-5.

Bob Johnson and Brooks Robinson hit homers for the Orioles in the opener while Luis Aparicio and Jack Brandt collected four hits each. Russ Snyder collected two homers and a single for four runs batted in and Jim Gentile stroked a homer and single for two RBI in the nightcap.

Norm Cash drove in four runs with a pair of homers for the Tigers in the opener and Don Wert knocked in three with a homer and single as Frank Lary pitched a six-hitter. Cash also singled home a run in the second game while Dick McAuliffe hit a homer.

Felix Torres paced the Angels with four hits and Leon Wagner collected his 24th homer in support of Ken McBride. McBride, who had a no-hitter for six innings, checked the Senators on three hits.

The last-place Mets were staggered by a pair of two - run homers by Williams in the third and fifth inning and a circus catch by Duke Carmel in the seventh limited his bid for a third to sacrifice fly. But the Mets kept pecking away before dropping a 6-5 decision that ended a three-game Chicago losing streak.

McDaniel took over from Glen Hobbie in the ninth inning with Mets on first and third and nobody out. He conceded one run on Joe Christopher's sacrifice fly, got Jim Hickman on a ground-out, walked Tim Harkness and finally retired Ron Hunt on a routine grounder.

Hunt gave the Mets an early lead with his first-inning homer but Ron Santo doubled home Ellis Burton to tie the score in the third inning before riding in on Williams' first homer. His second put the Cubs ahead to stay after Carmel's home run had tied it 3-3 in the top of the fifth.

In the seventh, Carmel raced to deep centre and reached into the vines to pull in Williams' drive, Lou Brock scoring from third after the catch.

The victory went to Paul Toth, who wobbled through six innings before giving way to Hobbie. Rookie Larry Bearnarth, who took over from starter Tracy Stallard in time to be tagged with Williams' tie-breaking blast, was the loser.

Queens Advance to Softball Finals; Savoy, South Slocan Tied

Queens Hotel, riding the bat of Bernie Monteleone, advanced to the finals in Nelson Fastball League action Thursday by posting a 9-8 victory over defending champion Nelson Hotel.

The win gave the Queens their best-of-three semi-final series in straight games. Queens took the opener by the same score and won the second game in almost identical fashion.

In both games, extra base hits by Monteleone, one a three-run homer and one a two-run double, gave the Queens come-from-behind victories.

The Queens squad now plays the winner of the Savoy Hotel - South Slocan semi-final series. These clubs are currently tied at one game each.

Savoy squared its series Thursday, also gaining a 9-8 victory over the home club at South Slocan. Deciding game in the South Slocan - Savoy series will be played Tuesday at the Civic Centre with the first game of the finals scheduled for the Civic Thursday.

Als Score Two Quick TD's; Hang on For Win Over Argos

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Alouettes struck for two touchdowns in a deluge of rain early in the first quarter Friday night and held on to defeat Toronto Argos 15-8 in an Eastern Football Conference game.

It was Alouettes' first win in three starts and created a four-way tie on points for all teams in the Big Four—each with two points.

Ottawa Rough Riders hold top spot because of fewer losses.

Quarterback Francis (Bubba) Marriott, newcomer from the New York Giants, ran the Als with good judgment, and after his team had bounced into an early lead did little gambling on passing under adverse weather conditions.

Jackie Parker was forced to open up play and the Argos' sole touchdown came with only 20 seconds remaining.

The heavy downpour of rain that drenched the crowd of 19,354 halted before the first quarter ended, but the field was soggy and the defensive work of both teams was surprisingly steady.

CONVERTS TWO

Jim Reynolds and Don Clark scored Montreal's touchdowns. Both were converted by Bobby Jack Oliver who added a single in the third quarter when his attempted field goal went wide.

Ron Morrison kicked two singles for Argos in the second quarter, and with time running out late in the fourth Parker fired a pass from the nine-yard line to Dick Shatto for Argos' touchdown. The convert failed.

Marriott, making hi s first full-game appearance with Alouettes, tried only six passes and completed three. Parker opened up with 30 tries, completing 15.

The Als struck early and had their two-touchdown lead in little more than three minutes of play.

The first break came with Ed Nickla blocked a kick by Argos' Ron Morris, and Reynolds picked up the ball on the 15-yard line and raced over for a touchdown.

Don Derrick fumbled a shaky handoff by Parker two minutes later and Dick Dalatri recovered for the Als on the Toronto 29.

Dave Hoppmann and George Dixon moved the ball to the 13, from where Clark went over around right end on the first play.

Early in the second quarter Argos began a drive on Parker's 20-yard pass to Morris plus a piling-on penalty, but it ended when Billy Ray Locklin recovered a fumble by Parker on the Montreal 17.

A 56-yard pass-and-run play, Parker to Morris, gave the Argos another chance early in the third quarter.

With the ball on the Montreal 16, Shatto got to the 11 on two plunges. Don Fuell then came in to try a field goal but a bad snap gave him no chance and he tried a forward pass that was batted down.

Later in the same quarter he Als came up with another defensive stand when Hoppmann's fumble was recovered on the Montreal 11. The Als held, and when Parker faked and rolled out he was nailed by Jim Andreotti on the Montreal five.

With the changeover, Hoppman got loose on a 55-yard run to the Toronto 45. The Montreal drive slowed down but the Als added their final point when Oliver's attempted field goal from 20 yards out went wide into the end zone.

In keeping the Als largely on the ground after their early lead, Marriott moved his team for 167 yards without benefit of passing.

Argos gained only 72 yards rushing but it was a different story in the air. Toronto picked up 199 yards on passes and Montreal only 23.

FLQ ACTIVE AGAIN IN QUEBEC

MONTREAL (CP) — A side door of the big Craig Street armories in downtown Montreal was set on fire early Friday and police were told it was the work of Le Front de Liberation Quebecois. Damage was estimated at $300.

Police received a telephone call from a person who said: "I am a member of the FLQ. Watch the armories."

Seven minutes later, the side door of the armories was discovered to be on fire. Police found oil on the sidewalk.

The blaze was quickly extinguished and only the door was damaged.

In another incident, three FLQ signs were painted during the night at he Royal Canadian Army Service Corps armories.

Ward Estate Worth $13,000

LONDON (AP) — Stephen Ward left a net estate of £4420 ($13,260).

Joseph Jackson, a lawyer for Ward's brother, said Thursday Ward's estate had been assessed provisionally at £14,620 but settlement of outstanding debts reduced it to the lower figure.

It was believed that much of the estate consisted of proceeds from the sale of portraits by Ward that were on exhibit and sale during his trial on vice charges.

A judge, meanwhile issued a court order restraining Pelham Pound, literary agent for Ward, from publishing a 25,000-word document by Ward. Pound had contracted to sell it to newspapers.

The order, granted to Raymond Lawrence Ward, the doctor's lawyer brother and administrator of his estate, also prevents Pound for making any use of paintings, drawings or sketches made by Ward.

Ward was a central figure in the recent scandal which led to the resignation of former war minister John Profumo.

Ward killed himself at the close of the trial, which found him guilty of living on the earnings of prostitutes.

Police Charge Another Robber

LONDON (Reuters) — A seventh suspect was charged in court Friday with "being concerned" in Britain's big train robbery as police tightened a net on remaining gang members involved in the world - record train theft.

At the same time, police in Leicester, central England, were reported holding a man in connection with the robbery of a Glasgow-London mail train Aug. 6. A police spokesman refused to confirm or deny the arrest.

Scotland Yard said it wanted to interview a 28-year-old silversmith known as The Weasel in connection with the robbery.

It named the man as Roy John James and said he was fond of gambling and liked to attend dog tracks.

Charles Frederick Wilson, 31, a "turf accountant" at one of Britain's legalized betting shops, was ordered held in custody until Saturday after being charged at Linslade court near the scene of the ambush.

Three men and three women already have been charged with complicity or receiving stolen money since police began a massive manhunt.

Wilson "strenuously denied" through his lawyer any connection with the robbery.

More than £2,600,000 ($7,800,000) in British currency—mostly worn banknotes — was taken from the Glasgow-London mail train. About one-tenth of the money has been recovered.

PUBLISH PICTURES

Wilson was picked up after Scotland Yard gave pictures of him and two other men to the press. The other men, Bruce Reynolds, 41, a car and antique dealer, and James White, 43, a cafe owner, had their photographs and descriptions splashed across the front page of almost all London papers Friday.

Normally, police are reluctant to issue pictures of wanted men because defence counsel sometimes claim it is prejudicial to a fair trial.

No sooner were the pictures issued, than scores of callers flooded Scotland Yard's switchboard, hoping for a cut of the record £260,000 ($780,000) reward.

Legal authorities say so many persons will be entitled to a share, including police who have worked on the case, that no one is likely to get a fortune from it.

MARKET TRENDS

NEW YORK (AP) — Motors resumed stock market leadership Friday as the list staged a broad advance in fairly heavy trading.

The rise in volume to 4,890,000 shares from 4,520,000 Thursday was accompanied by enthusiastic action in a broad range of stocks.

Chrysler the big gainer of the 1962-63 advance, was the most active stock for the second straight session, rising 2 to 67⅝ on 185,700 shares amid street forecasts of a substanial gain in earnitngs.

Ford had the benefit of an agreement to end a strike at a Chicago plant and advanced 1⅜ to 53⅝ on 67,300 shares.

General Motors rose 1⅜ to close at a new high of 74⅜. The rise was accompanied by news that Chevrolet has introduced a new car, the Chevelle, designed to compete with Ford's Fairlane.

The rails moved ahead on average. Wall Street seemed confident that the threatened U.S. Aug. 29 railway strike would pass without a tie-up.

The Dow Jones industrial average made a substantial advance of 4.67 to 723.14, bring it close to its May 31 recovery high.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.2 to 277.9, the latest in a series of historic highs this average has made in 1963. Industrials rose 2.3 to a new high for the year, rails gained .5 and uilities gained .3 making a new 1963 peak.

Canadian issues were generally mixed. Aluminium Ltd. gained ⅝, Hudson Bay Mining ½ and International Nickel ⅜. Canadian Pacific and Distillers Seagrams fell ⅛, Dome Mines ¼, Granby Mining ⅜ and McIntyre Porcupine ⅜.

Prices moved generally higher on the American Exchange but Canadian issues were again mixed. Scurry Rainbow Oil and Canadian Marconi gained ⅛ and Molybdenite and Fargo Oil fell 1-16.

---

TORONTO (CP)—The stock market ended the week with a spurt as the industrial index rose 3.77 at the close Friday although trading remained extremely light.

The new Foreign Market registered little activity in its second day of operation. The new mart opened Thursday to provide better facilities for American buyers and sellers. The proposed 15-per-cent U.S. equalization tax will not be levied on already-issued foreign securities if both buyer and seller are American.

Bank issues moved ahead strongly after a week of lethargy. Royal Bank rose two points to 74½, Toronto - Dominion 1½ to 62, Montreal and Nova Scotia 1¼ each to 63¾ and 71¼ respectively and Imperial Bank of Commerce ¼.

Other strong industrials were Abitibi up one point to 44½, B.C. Power and Moore Corporation ¾ each and Pacific Petroleum ½. B.C. Power had a volume of 22,123 shares for the day.

Industrial losers included Dominion Bridge down ⅜, Du Pont ¼ and Alberta Gas and Dominion Foundries and Steel ⅛ each.

Falconbridge was up ½ after slipping 2½ Thursday. Denison and International Nickel were both ahead ¼ among other senior base metals.

In speculative mines Lake Dufault advanced 25 cents to $8.35, Tribag seven cents to $1.44 and Cusco ½ cent to 16 cents.

Medallion gained 10 cents to $3.85 and Quonto 2½ cents to 18 cents among western oils.

On index, industrials were up 3.77 to 617.96, golds .08 to 95.56, base metals 1.48 to 205.42 and western oils 1.09 to 113.63. Volume for Friday was 1,862,000 compared with 1,802,000 Thursday.

Japanese Mission Brings Good News

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two Japanese missions are in Canada seeking answers to problems created by modern living, employment and sales resistance.

While one mission had some good news for British Columbia exporters, the other is concentrating its efforts to develop greater markets, particularly in Eastern Canada.

The good news was brought by a 16-man paper market survey delegation to Canada and the United States.

Shigeyoshi Kajiwara, leader of the delegation, said the growth of the supermarket in Japan has created a demand for imported pulp to make kraft paper.

Markets are sought by a "feeler" mission sponsored by the Tokyo metropolitan government.

A spokesman said its business will be to find out how much progress Japanese goods have made in the Canadian market, to study Canadian quality standards, designed specifications and prices and to survey economic conditions and activities of urban centres they will visit on the way east.

DEMAND IS GREAT

Mr. Kajiwara said supermarket packaging has created a demand for more kraft paper than is being produced in Japan.

"We will be looking at this kraft market and others as well, but we are primarily here to study Canadian distribution methods," he said in an interview.

He said there are great markets for paper but a shortage of pulps in Japan—thus a demand for imported pulps.

Only a small percentage of the imported pulps had been from Canada in the past because of prices and import restrictions. But the government had removed restrictions this spring and "we are looking for an increase."

There was a possibility of Japanese finance entering the British Columbia forest industry as it had already done in the mineral industry.

Fujio Fukuyama, a member of the Japanese consulate here who is acting as spokesman for the Tokyo group, said an earlier mission showed that Western Canadians favor Japanese goods while Eaterners relied heavily on U.S. sources.

A MAJOR PROBLEM

"This is a major problem for Japanese businessmen and one that this group is going to try to help solve."

At the same time it would attempt to find why some goods —for example, toys—have been having market trouble.

Mr. Fukuyama said his country of 93,000,000 is having employment trouble with larger manufacturers taking workers away from smaller manufacturers producing sundry goods, the largest part of production in Tokyo.

The mission hoped to discover how such products as other non - bulk goods could be made more attractive to purchasers abroad to try to remedy the domestic problem.

"The whole life of the Japanese depends on exporting and it is a continual struggle to try to maintain and increase markets," Mr. Fukuyama said.
