Bennett Proposes B.C., Yukon, N.W.T. Union

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (CP)—Premier W. A. C. Bennett of British Columbia Monday suggested a political union of B.C., the Yukon and Northwest Territories, the bargain to include $300,000,000 in highway development.

The concept, a variation of one or two others Mr. Bennett has outlined in the past, came before the opening session here of the Alaska-B.C.-Yukon conference.

The premier said he was not making a proposal as such, but the offer of highway development stood if the Yukon and Northwest Territories broached the merger to the federal government "of their own accord." But he told reporters the two territories would have to "speak up quickly."

"Either they are in step with B.C. or they are in step with Ottawa, which means 50 years behind the times," he said.

Union with the territories would increase B.C.'s 365,000-square-mile area to almost 1,700,000 square miles and make it Canada's largest province.

RESIDENTS MUST DECIDE

The premier said it would be up to the territories' 36,000 residents to make their wishes on the matter known.

"Remote control" administration from Ottawa had held back northern development.

The premier also called for a crash-program on paving the Alaska Highway. The job should be finished, he suggested, by 1967—the centennial of Canadian Confederation and of the purchase of Alaska by the U.S.

Phil Gaglardi, B.C.'s highways minister, said the Alaska Highway work would eat up about half the $300,000,000. The rest would go into the Cassiar-Stewart highway and links from it to other cities.

Mr. Bennett suggested a summit meeting in the Yukon or Alaska to discuss problems of northern development.

"Our greatest time is now. It is no longer time for planning, surveying and sweeping under the rug. It's time for action. This north country can never be developed by little piecemeal developments."

FARM BILL INCREASES LOANS

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons unanimously approved on Tuesday a government bill doubling the maximum amount farmers can borrow from banks under the farm improvement loans act.

The measure lifts the loan ceiling to $15,000 from $7500 to cover purchases of farm machinery and other capital improvements to farms.

The bill now goes to the Senate, meeting Tuesday night after taking a month-long recess to ride out the protracted flag debate in the Commons.

It was the first legislation passed by the Commons since Aug. 11, when federal-provincial fiscal changes were approved.

Opposition spokesmen all welcomed the higher loan limit, but said the government was not doing enough to solve basic farm problems.

New Democratic leader T. C. Douglas said the basic problem facing farmers is declining farm income. Farmers were paying more and more for land, machinery and seed but getting less and less for their products.

Mr. Douglas said farming was passing through a technological revolution comparable to that in industry a century ago. As a result only one in every nine Canadians now worked on farms compared to one in three before the Second World War.

BANKS CONSULTED

Hugh Horner (PC-Jasper-Edson) said he hoped the government had consulted the chartered banks before going ahead with the bill.

He said farmers in Western Canada were unable to get the present limit of $7500 from the banks. And whenever money became "tight" the banks received instructions from their head offices to cut down on the number of farm improvement loans.

MAKARIOS LIFTS BLOCKADE

By ALEX EFTY

NICOSIA (AP)—The government of President Makarios agreed Tuesday to lift its economic blockade against the Turkish-Cypriots as part of a five-point Greek-Cypriot peace plan.

In addition to allowing an unlimited flow of food to the besieged Turkish-Cypriot villages, Makarios offered a pardon to all Turkish-Cypriot "rebels" in the nine-months-old civil war.

A short time after Makarios' announcement, armed Turkish-Cypriots at Kokkina village refused to accept four truckloads of food from the Greek-Cypriots, delivered by Finnish United Nations troops. Acting under orders, the Finns unloaded the food at the Turkish-Cypriot roadblock and departed.

Makarios disclosed his peace package in a telegram to UN Secretary-General U Thant. The archbishop said he was motivated by an "earnest desire to have peace and normality in the island."

B.C. Hydro Power Underestimated

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — British Columbia's hydro power potential is about 100,000,000 kilowatts — roughly seven times more than most estimates, says Gordon Shrum, co-chairman of the B.C. Hydro and Power Authority.

Dr. Shrum compared his estimate, which he said could be out several thousand kilowatts, to federal and provincial ratings generally used.

The federal government fixes the province's potential at 14,500,000 kilowatts and the provincial water resources says 22,000,000 kilowatts.

Dr. Shrum spoke Tuesday to the final luncheon of the Pacific Northwest Trade Association's conference on energy resources.

He said the total existing electricity consumption of B.C. is 1,300,000 kilowatts, not counting the energy used by Kitimat's smelters.

Peak production of the Peace River project will be 4,000,000 kilowatts, said Dr. Shrum.

He said B.C. has 41 per cent of all Canada's runoff waters, and its large supplies of coal, oil and gas combine to give the Pacific Northwest an industry-attracting edge on the rest of the continent.

NATO Share Asked by Martin

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Martin Tuesday night called for greater sharing in the military direction of the North Atlantic alliance.

But he said the proposed multilateral seaborne nuclear strike force is not the answer and he criticized Britain and France for creating national nuclear forces.

He also indicated that Canada is becoming restless at the long delay in NATO's completion of a complete review of defence policy.

In a speech to the Atlantic Treaty Association, Mr. Martin did not spell out exactly how he thinks greater sharing in military direction should be achieved.

Kitchen Knife, Razor Save Child's Life

VANCOUVER (CP)—A razor blade and kitchen knife his surgical tools and a crib his operating table, Dr. Joseph Hinke Tuesday brought his small son back from death.

Dr. Hinke, watching over his three-year-old son Thomas' crib in their home, saw the boy stop breathing about midnight and called to his wife for the razor blade and knife.

The doctor cut immediately into the child's windpipe to open an air passage then massaged his son back to life.

The boy's heart had stopped and he was technically dead for six minutes.

"My son was sitting by Thomas' crib when he stopped breathing," said the physician's mother, Mrs. Mary Hinke. "He actually saw him die."

"He told me afterwards he saved many children's lives when he was interning in Montreal, but that it was not so easy when it was your own child.

The boy was transferred to hospital where he was reported in fair condition.

BRAIN DAMAGE FEARED

Mrs. Hinke said the family's big worry now is that brain damage may have occurred because of the duration of the heart stoppage.

He said Thomas began to develop a croup late Monday evening and his father, an assistant professor in the Faculty of Medicine at the University of British Columbia, began steam treatment to ease the boy's breathing. She said the child suffered convulsions near midnight.

The Hinkes have two other children, Stephan, 4, and Jeremy, six months.

Taken Off Course By Hurricane Dora

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Machine-gun blasts from two unidentified small boats set a Spanish freighter afire and killed its captain and two officers in a Sunday night attack east of Cuba, survivors said Tuesday.

Nine survivors of the incident were flown here while the bodies of the captain and two officers and eight injured crew members were taken to the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo in southeastern Cuba.

There was no firm word on the identity of the attackers. A Cuban exile source in Panama said Monday that anti-Castro Cubans attacked a ship in the Caribbean Sunday night. Later, an exile leader, Manuel Artime, denied that his people made the attack.

At Mathew Town in the Bahamas, where the survivors were first taken, the commissioner's office reported that the freighter, the 1,600-ton Sierra Aranzazu, "was supposedly machine-gunned by Cubans" before it burned.

A U.S. state department spokesman in Washington said "whatever the nationality of the attackers we cannot but deplore this attack on a merchant vessel on the high seas."

ATTACK IN DARK

"I was on the bridge with the captain when the attacks occurred off Grand Turk Island," said survivor Santiago Ibanez of Bilboa, Spain. "It was too dark to see the boats approach. . . . They fired machine-guns at us and the ship caught fire.

"The attack lasted five to 10 minutes. We abandoned ship immediately for fear of an explosion. The two attacking boats approached us and remained nearby for a while. The captain and two officers wounded by the machine-gun fire died in the launch."

The Dutch ship P. G. Thulin picked up the survivors from their launch 12 miles from the burning freighter and took them to Mathew Town. The U.S. Coast Guard in Miami said the freighter later was towed away by a Cuban tug to an unknown destinationm

In Madrid, the vessel's owner, Compania Maritima del Norte, said the Aranzazu had wandered far off her normal course to Havana to avoid rough seas churned up by hurricane Dora.

Ibanez and the other survivors flown here were met at the airport by Alfonso de Toledo, secretary of the Spanish embassy in Washington. They will go on to Spain on a commercial flight.

U Thant Asks 3 Month Stay

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant appealed Tuesday to contributors to the Cyprus peace force to keep their troops on the island another three months.

There appeared little doubt they would agree.

The orders for the 6300-man force, which includes 1100 Canadians, expire Sept. 26. But the Security Council will meet today to consider Thant's recommendation that its mandate be extended another three months.

In his latest report to the council, Thant said withdrawal of the UN troops would mean "utter disaster" for the island. The peace force originally was set up to serve for three months. Its tour already has been extended once, to six months.

Rails Would Compete Under New Legislation

Freight Rates Possibly Less

By BEN WARD

OTTAWA (CP)—No major changes in railway freight rates are expected under the revolutionary railway legislation proposed to Parliament Monday.

If anything, informants say some rates would decline under the sweeping program designed to free the railways of rigid regulation and let them compete as they see fit with trucks, planes, pipelines and other carriers.

In essence, the legislation is designed to let the railways drop money-losing branch lines and passenger services, streamlining their operations on normal business patterns.

On freight rates, it proposes to scrap the old system of across-the-board increases and make the rail carriers as flexible as possible in rate-setting.

TWO LIMITATIONS

There would be only two limitations. All rates must be "compensatory," meaning they must not fall below actual costs, and "captive" shippers—those who have no alternate transportation — will bargain for rates within a range set by federal authority.

For the most part, present freight rates meet those provisions.

Although they would be free to raise all or any rates in competitive centres, the railways aren't likely to do so because it would probably cost them traffic. Shippers would switch to other types of carriers.

Some rates will drop, however, when the regulation against socalled discrimination is lifted. This one forces the railways to change certain types of rate en masse rather than individually. For example, a railway may want to reduce a certain rate in one area to attract more business but cannot because the automatic adjustment of other rates would cause losses in other areas. The legislation would remove this barrier.

WILL REQUIRE TIME

Such changes won't occur overnight, however. The freight rate structure is a highly complex affair containing hundreds of thousands of individual rates. It will take years before any significant revision occurs.

The legislation retains federal rate control in the important area of grain shipments.

Following the recommendation of the MacPherson Royal Commission on Transportation, which gave the government the blueprint for its new railway legislation, the low grain rates set by Parliament would continue.

To offset these, however, the railways would be given $22,300,000 a year in subsidies.

There is a new provision that the Crowsnest Pass rate on export grain will be reviewed every five years with a view to possible adjustments. This rate was set in 1925, pegging freight charges at 1899 levels.

DOLLAR FIRM

NEW YORK (CP)—Canadian dollar unchanged at 92 63-64 in terms of U.S. funds. Week ago 92. Pound sterling up 1-64 at $2.78 21-64.

MONTREAL (CP) — United States dollar in terms of Canadian funds off 1-32 at $1.07 17 32. Pound sterling was off ⅛ at $2.99 5-16.

Viet Nam Rebel Chief Ejected

SAIGON (Reuters) — The rulers of South Viet Nam agreed Tuesday on a major shake-up of commands in the armed forces, including removal of Maj.-Gen. Duong Van Duc who led troops into the capital for Sunday's abortive attempt to overthrow the Khanh government.

Political informants said Premier Nguyen Khanh also was working on a major cabinet reshuffle. Deputy Premier Nguyen Xuan Oanh was expected to be removed from office.

Khanh was reported to have asked Oanh Monday what authority he had had to call a cabinet meeting at the premier's office Sunday when it was occupied by rebel forces.

Khanh was not in Saigon at the time and the cabinet ministers did not obey Oanh's summons.

Duc, who was replaced as commander of the 4th Corps, covering the vital Mekong Delta area, by Brig. Nguyen Van Thieu, former chief of staff, met Khanh at military headquarters Tuesday.

The contents of the conversation were not immediately known, but reports indicated Duc had apparently been caught up unknowingly in Sunday's coup attempt.

EARTHQUAKE HITS TOWN

GUATEMALA (AP) — An earthquake caused heavy damage in the town of Sacapulas, on the Mexican border, authorities there reported Tuesday. Details were lacking because of poor communications. Most houses in the town were destroyed or damaged, the reports said, but there was no mention of casualties.

Pearson's Columbia Schedule Outlined

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Pearson's office released Tuesday the detailed itinerary of Mr. Pearson's trip with President Johnson to mark ratification of the Columbia River Power Treaty between Canada and the United States.

Mr. Pearson was scheduled to fly from Ottawa Tuesday evening at 6 p.m. EDT in a transport department Jetstar aircraft. Northern Affairs Minister Laing, Postmaster-General Nicholson and Charles Ritchie, Canadian ambassador to the United States, were to be on the same plane.

The flight was scheduled to arrive at Lethbridge at 7:30 p.m. with the party proceeding to the Marquis Hotel for an overnight stay.

Departure from the hotel was scheduled for 9:25 a.m. today with takeoff at 9:45 for the flight to Malstrom Air Force Base at Great Falls, Mont.

Mr. Pearson and his party will meet the president on arrival at the U.S. base at 10:20 a.m. Inspection of a mixed U.S.-Canadian guard of honor at the base, under the North American Air Defence Command, follows, preceding a welcoming speech by the president and a brief speech by the prime minister.

FLY OVER BASIN

After a visit to the base operations room, the prime minister and president leave at 11 a.m. aboard the Jetstar for a flight over the Columbia River Basin before landing at Vancouver at 1 p.m. to meet Premier Bennett of B.C.

After the airport meetings, the party heads by car for the International Peace Arch on the border between Blaine, Wash., and Douglas, B.C.

Proclamation of the Columbia treaty is signed there by the president, prime minister and B.C. premier and the party returns to Vancouver at 3:50 p.m.

The president then boards his personal plane for a return to the United States.

Mr. Pearson remains in Vancouver, making a speech to the Canadian Club there, before leaving at 12:30 p.m. Thursday for his return to Ottawa.

INDIA SUPPORTS SOUTH VIET NAM

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — India has promised South Viet Nam co-operation and assistance in "the economic, social and humanitarian fields" in its fight with the Communists, External Affairs Minister Swaran Singh told Parliament Tuesday. He said South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Khanh sought aid in a letter to Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri.

INSPECT VESSELS

PROVINCETOWN, Mass. (AP) U.S. Coast Guardsmen and customs officers Tuesday undertook the inspection of 21 Russian fishing vessels in Provincetown harbor. The fleet, which has been fishing about 135 miles east of Cape Cod, sought harbor refuge from the effect of hurricane Dora Monday. A Coast Guard spokesman said the inspection was routine. He called it "close surveillance."

Hundreds Weep, Pray At Fanny's Burial

AGASSIZ, B.C. (CP) — The laments of free and imprisoned Doukhobors followed a funeral cortege past the maximum-security Mountain Prison Tuesday as Florence (Big Fanny) Storgoff was buried.

It was the final homage for the towering Freedomite Doukhobor leader, who died quietly Friday in a Vancouver hospital after a stormy life which began 56 years ago in a Russian village on the Turkish border.

Sect members, imprisoned for acts of terrorism in connection with arson, and bombings in the southern interior of B.C., wept and chanted prayers and sang hymns in Russian. The cortege wound past the prison and the nearby Freedomite shacktown en route to the cemetery.

An estimated 500 persons attended her funeral services in this community 70 miles east of Vancouver.

A final dispute between municipal officials and the Doukhobors was settled Tuesday when her brother Jack paid $40 for Fanny's burial plot. The Doukhobors had said they would never pay for the land.

NOT LEAVING

Big Fanny once said she would never leave Agassiz until the jailed Freedomites were free. Her cemetery plot overlooks the prison.

Big Fanny first hit the newspaper headlines in 1962 when she led 1,000 freedomites from their farming communities in the Interior on a 500-mile trek to the coast to be near their imprisoned bretheran.

The 240-pound woman — her weight was the obvious reason for her nickname — marched with the trekkers, calling encouragement, singing and explaning the sect's actions to reporters.

Big Fanny remained a spokesman for the sect through a 10-month stay in Vancouver and a later encampment at Agassiz, where some 400 freedomites live in hastily erected quarters on municipal land despite threats of prosecution on charges of trespassing made by municipal council.

Big Fanny arrived at Canora, Sask., at the age of three and moved to Richmond, Calif., with her family at 15. The family came to B.C. a year later.

She spent some time on a special doukhobor compound on Piers Island near Victoria and served a three-year term for arson in Kingston Penitentiary.

She said in an interview once that doukhobor leaders had suggested she confess to arson charges against her and thus become a martyr.

"I said—pardon me for saying it—'To hell with you'

"I do not lie."

New York, Ottawa, Blaine Figure Today in Columbia Formalities

By DON HANRIGHT

OTTAWA (CP)—The most important part of the Columbia deal, the financing, will be closed without fanfare in New York on Wednesday while the formalities are in progress at Ottawa and Blaine, Wash.

Agents of the United States Treasury will turn over to A. B. Hockin, Assistant Deputy Finance Minister, a cheque for about $254,000,000 in U.S. funds.

This is the American prepayment for a 30-year entitlement to downstream benefits from dams to be built on the river in Canada by the British Columbia government.

The treaty stipulates that the financing must be completed in New York.

It also names Ottawa as the site for an exchange of treaty ratification documents. This will be done by External Affairs Minister Martin and U.S. Ambassador W. Walton Butterworth.

Meanwhile, at the International Peace Arch near Blaine, President Johnson and Prime Minister Pearson will shake hands across the border to wrap up the agreement.

This is how the financing will work:

Originally the amount owed by the U.S. was $254,400,000 effective Oct. 1. With the payment date advanced, the U.S. is entitled to a discount which lowers the payment to $253,939,534.

Of this, the federal government will take in cash $50,000,000 in U.S. funds.

The balance of about $204,000,000—equal to about $220,300,000 in Canadian funds—will be immediately invested by the federal government in U.S. non-negotiable securities that will mature every year in $25,000,000 instalments.

By doing it this way, Canada avoids a sudden buildup in its reserves of U.S. dollars. And the U.S. balance of payments will not be affected because, under U.S. law, such short-term securities are not covered in the payments situation.

The first $25,000,000 will mature later this year, so the Canadian exchange reserves will grow by that amount. The rest of the securities will be held by the federal government — as authorized by Parliament—although it can redeem them any time if exchange troubles arise.

Meanwhile, Ottawa will turn over to Premier Bennett of B.C. the $50,000,000 in U.S. funds plus a cheque in Canadian funds for about $220,300,000.

The cheque will be deposited to the credit of the B.C. government in a Vancouver branch of the Bank of Montreal.

From this deposit, Mr. Bennett has decided to lend $100,000,000 to Quebec, and $50,000,000 to the Kinross Mortgage Corporation. The rest will remain in the bank, drawing interest.

Where does Ottawa get the Canadian funds to pay to B.C.? They will come from the government's cash balances in the chartered banks. These balances have been running lately around $800,000,000.

MAYBE THE "SCENERY" DID IT—Accidents seem to be mounting in Atlantic City, N. J., and you wonder if maybe Anthony DeCarolis, 32, Philadelphia, driver of the car on top, was distracted by all those Miss America candidates. Driver of the little job on the bottom, William Beverly, Atlantic City, got off with only a few cuts.

And in This Corner . . .

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Cab driver Charles Blasko, 57, picked up two men Monday and at their direction drove to a destination several blocks away.

There one of the men pointed a pistol at him and took $17.

Before fleeing, the men tossed him $1.50 — 90 cents for the meter reading and a 60-cent tip.

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy, who moved to New York City to get the privacy she couldn't find in Washington, went boating in the middle of town Monday and caused hardly a ripple.

The president's widow, son John Jr., and daughter Caroline took out a rowboat on the lake in Manhattan's Central Park.

Mrs. Kennedy handled the oars. John sat in the stern and shouted encouragement. Caroline bounced from bow to midships.

The Kennedys went virtually unnoticed.

But Peter Rosenberg, an amateur photographer, saw the famous family and hastily unlimbered his camera. Earlier in the day he had enrolled in a school to become a professional photographer.

Mayor's Remarks on Fringe Areas Attacked by Alderman

Alderman Edith Van Maarion had some stiff criticism for Mayor E. T. Bodard during city council's session Monday night.

She took issue with remarks made by the mayor over cost-sharing responsibilities of residents living adjacent to municipalities.

"I feel," said Ald. Van Maarion, "that Mayor Bodard did the city an injustice by declaring publicly that residents living on municipal boundaries contribute nothing to the economy even though they utilize the municipalities' facilities."

She was referring to comments Mayor Bodard made at the Saturday meeting of the Association of Kootenay-Boundary Municipalities.

She continued, "Our recreational facilities in Nelson were never intended to be profit-making. If they do provide a profit in years to come, so much the better."

Ald. Van Maarion also stated that if the newspaper reports oconcerning Mayor Bodard's comments were in essence true, then he was obviously attempting to drive people away from Nelson.

Mayor Bodard said he was requested by the chairman of the AKBM meeting to explain the reason for Nelson's request for a report from each community on the actual amount it spends for recreational facilities.

He said people from unorganized areas do not contribute towards recreation costs in the form of direct taxation within municipal boundaries. He did point out that the provincial government provided Nelson with approximately $1500 per annum to cover partial costs of unincorporated citizens.

"It is now possible," Mayor Bodard continued, "for people to enjoy the amenities of a nearby municipality due to improved road conditions, at the same price it is offered to bona fide citizens of any community.

BOARD PROPOSED

The provincial government was fully cognizant that municipalities were faced with a serious problem with respect to recreation, sewage, water and health, and has already proposed that a "Joint Services Board" be formed in the Victoria area. This board will be set up for the mutual and financial benefit of those both in and outside the communities, he said.

In further answering criticism laid by Ald. Van Maarion, Mayor Bodard referred to Celgar Ltd. as a classic example.

"The Celgar Ltd. site is approximately two miles from Castlegar. The company and employees who reside near the operation neither contribute to Castlegar tax structure nor assist in providing amenities for their employees."

He pointed out that it would be disastrous for Castlegar to extend its boundary to include the Celgar operation. "If they did this, they would be faced with providing services for the whole area between the village and Celgar location."

The Mayor made it clear that he was not implying he did not want people outside the city to utilize the amenities provided. He did, however, contend that as the economy of the Kootenays is moving forward at a rapid pace, it was time to consider establishing some form of co-operation between unorganized and established territories.

He cited an example of a form of organized co-operation as regards the present school boards organization. "A joint services board or a country form of government would make it possible for mutual agreement on such things as pollution, sewerage and recreation."

The mayor stated that the AKBM resolution favoring the country form of government had been passed without dissension, which indicated that all Kootenay municipalities have as much concern as the provincial government, that everyone concerned was looking for some proper solution, and his remarks at the AKBM were not to be interpreted as criticism of the people who reside in areas adjacent to Nelson.

"This problem must be solved in the near future," he concluded.

Council Jottings

A request by the Nelson Advisory Planning Board for action on the Rosemont district re-plotting received rapid approval from city council Monday night.

Ald. Edith Van Maarion reminded council that the original request from the planning board had been received last spring.

"I feel that now is the time," she stated, "for council to act in conjunction with the city planner while other planning issues are being discussed."

A motion was adopted to arrange further discussions with the Nelson Advisory Planning Board.

Study of the zoning and lighting bylaws due for discussion at Monday's city council meeting was deferred until the next session. The reason — lateness of the hour.

• • •

A request by the Nelson Savings Credit Union to have city council bear the cost of constructing a retaining wall on the front of its newly acquired property located in the city hall area was turned down. Council felt there was no requirement for a retaining wall.

• • •

Architect David P. Fairbank submitted his resignation to council as a member of the Nelson Advisory Planning Commission. Mr. Fairbank has served on the commission for six years. City council decided to accept names of suitably qualified citizens to fill the unexpired portion of Mr. Fairbank's term on the board.

• • •

Approval was given by council to effect immediate repairs to the city-owned greenhouse in Lakeside Park. This action was approved after a report was submitted by parks chairman Ald. Frank Beresford, who remarked, "The present building is rapidly becoming unsafe. It requires extensive immediate repairs."

Council also approved funds being allocated from the parks department budget.

JAMES BALL LAID AT REST

Very Rev. R. W. S. Brown, dean of Kootenay, officiated at funeral services for James Ball at Thompson Funeral Home Tuesday afternoon. A Nelson oldtimer, Mr. Ball died in Kootenay Lake General Hospital Friday, aged 77 years.

Hymns sung were, "Psalm XXIII," and "Nearer, My God, To Thee." Mrs. W. A. Manson was organist.

Interment was in the Ancient Order of Foresters' plot in Nelson Memorial Park, pallbearers being Dr. C. E. Bradshaw, Tony Arcure, Ira Hall, Eric Penwill, Joe Bialkowski and Elmore Calbick.

BLUE TICK HOUND — SCOURGE OF THE BIG CATS

Stub—90 Pounds of Fury When It Comes to Cougars

By DOUG SEIP

Through the clear winter air comes the howl of the cougar hounds as they thrill to the scent of the big cat's trail.

Strength and courage keep them on the trail until the cougars are treed, and in the Blue Tick hound owned by Malcolm Elmes of Nelson these traits are strong.

Equipped with a 24-inch neck and the deep heavy chest of a full-winded tracker, Malcolm's dog "Stub" hurls his 90 pounds into the chase with the ferver of a true hunter.

Standing 2½ feet high with a 3½-foot body, and a bluish tint shading his fur where the large black spots don't cover, the dog carries his heavy angular head with the air of a pedigree.

An American dog, the result of cross breeding between the Blood Hound and Walker Hound, Stub's bloodlines date back 14 years and broods sired by him are spread throughout the cougar hunting realm.

His hunting days began six years ago in the hills near Edgewater where Jim Thompson, a guide in the area, first trained him to follow the trail.

Stub spent his early days running with the pack where he learned the do's and don'ts of the hunt and picked up his first battle scars by tackling a cornered cougar.

Not one to let the big cats worry him, Stub singly launched into battle during his first years of hunting and came out second best.

Second best is a distinguished mark for any cougar hound, for most cats, depending on the time they've spent fighting their canine pursuers, demolish two or three dogs without any great effort, but timid by nature the big cats take to the tree or high ground thinking this insures safety.

Their hopes are short lived as the hunters, who follow the dogs by their bark and bugle howls, quickly bring the cat down with cold rifle steel.

To prevent the track dogs from running too far ahead, the hunters usually keep them on a leash until close to the quarry.

BARK, THEN YODEL

On a cold track or when just following the trail, the dogs send up sharp barks; but when on a hot trail or close to the cougar they let loose with long Yodels.

The baying of the dogs is what sends the big cat up a tree or heading for high ground, from which he finds it difficult to retreat.

Since Stub began his hunting career in the Edgeworth mountains he has been in on over 14 cougar kills, and eight to 10 bobcat kills.

Malcolm rates voice as the main asset of a good cougar hound, with stamina and good nose as important secondary traits.

Stub, who can be heard for about two or three miles, and is often at the tree first, is rated as one of the top dogs in the area by Jim Thompson.

In this area the Bluetick hound is scarce since 90 per cent of the cougar dogs are black and tan.

Malcolm, who guided with Thompson for a number of years, has seen hunters come from as far away as Germany and from all over North America, to follow the Canadian cougar trail.

This winter Stub will get his full share of the chase as Malcolm intends to hunt him "on leash."

Hunting on leash, Stub can be worked as a lone tracker until the trail grows hot, then a fast unsnapping of the leash will allow him to howl down the trail after his quarry.

SUMMER PASTTIMES

Despite his strength and ferociousness, Stub won't attack humans unless abused, and even has a humorous side.

This summer his favorite trick was to lie behind the Taghum General Store waiting for kiddies to purchase bread.

Stub then quietly walked up behind them, sent up a blood-curdling howl that sent the miniature adults scurrying across the countryside, then he nonchalantly picked up his captured repast and found a shady corner in which to eat.

His second pasttime, executed at the Elme's summer residence in Harrop, was greeting the visitors who had just crossed on the ferry by landing his paws on the door to look in the window and howl a big hello, much to the surprise of the motorists.

But all summer pasttimes must come to an end, and come the chill and snow of winter Stub will be back in his favorite role—on the trail hunting the big cats.

Adolescents Theme of Conference

Staffs of the department of social welfare in the Okanagan and Kootenay are in conference in Nelson. Theme of the three-day conference is, "Adolescents."

In Tuesday's opening session, J. A. Sadler, director of social welfare, Victoria, talked on government policies.

Dr. Charles Gregory, psychiatrist, mental health service, Victoria, began the institute on adolescents in the afternoon. A speaker today will be Miss Mary K. King, superintendent of child welfare, Victoria. Thursday, a panel will discuss needs of the adolescent.

About 70 staff members are attending the meetings. A meeting with the board of governors of the Kootenay Society for Handicapped Children is also planned.

Salmo Tourist Booth Reports 3381 Enquiries

The Salmo tourist booth folded up shop for the season Tuesday night.

Members of the "Plus 60" Club had manned the booth from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. seven days a week since the booth opened for business June 15. During that period 3381 cars stopped to enquire about various aspects of the district, although some 50 cars a day went by without stopping.

Tourists from as far away as Hawaii, England, Germany, Mexico and Alaska, to mention only a few, paused to ask directions, conditions of roads in the district, situation of motels, restaurants and to request maps. A large number was interested in camping facilities, fishing possibilities and scenic routes, W. C. Dorey, vice-president of Salmo Chamber of Commerce, reported.

The booth is operated with the assistance of the Trail and Nelson Chambers of Commerce with the idea of promoting the entire region. Mr. Dorey said traffic in the two directions was about equal over the season and those in the booth tried to split the traffic as evenly as possible, to avoid hard feelings between the two centres.

He noted that tourists were pleased with their reception at Salmo and particularly grateful for the village's free park facilities, including camping area, water, toilet and garbage facilities, maintained by a man on steady payroll.

Mr. Dorey had particular praise for the members of the Plus-60 Club — retired men and women who served in the booth. "They did a marvellous job."

Christmas Lighting To Be Extended

The 100- and 200-blocks on Baker Street will receive Christmas lighting. This was the decision of city council Monday night. A suggestion to include lighting in the 700-block on Baker Street was vetoed as it would overspend the available budget.

Ald. Van Maarion pointed out that the Christmas lighting on Baker Street had proven to be an attraction to tourists and that it was a good idea to include the lights in the 100- and 200-blocks.

"These are," she stated, "prime areas which catch the eye of tourists coming into our city."

Street End Closure Program Proposed

Immediate action was recommended by City Council after discussing the 1964 street closure proposals submitted by city planner G. A. Butling Monday night.

Council adopted a motion to effect closure of unwanted street ends through enabling legislation to the lieutenant-governor. The intentions of closing street ends would be to release land for possible future development.

During heated discussion on the program, Mayor E. T. Bodard quizzed council on the feasibility of extending Nelson's municipal boundaries.

Ald. Edith Van Maarion stated that was too premature a suggestion.

"We have sufficient problems to cope with inside our boundary without extension. The earliest time council can discuss boundary extension would be in 1970 when most of the present projects are under way or completed."

Mr. Butling, in proposing his street closure draft to council, said, "We have a large number of street ends that could well be closed without any inconvenience either to traffic or citizens."

Mayor Bodard supported the street closing program in principle but stated the city should consider closing some 30 street ends as an initial project.

"We must also," he pointed out, "leave street ends adjacent to the CPR right of way alone. We have to consider the probability of the overpasses."

The city planner and C. D. Likar, superintendent of public works, were appointed to provide an initial closure plan for 30 street ends for submission to council at its next regular meeting.

Air Cadet To Receive Wings

A member of 561 Squadron, Mike McLachlan has passed his flying training scholarship and will receive his air cadet wings, the squadron has been advised by Ottawa.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McLachlan, North Shore, he will reveive his wings later in the season.

First parade of the squadron will be held tonight as the training year begins. Officer commanding is Flt.-Lt. N. G. MacLeod, DFC, CD. The cadets will participate in a Battle of Britain church parade in Castlegar Sunday.

Former Nelson Man's Wife Dies at Coast

Word has been received here of the death of the wife of a former Nelson man, Cecil Maloney, son of Mrs. D. Maloney, Anderson Street.

Rev. Cronin officiated at funeral services at Vancouver on Sept. 12 for Marion Mary Maloney who died suddenly Sept. 9. She is survived by her husband, Cecil, two children, Kathleen and David, her mother, a brother and sister, all in Vancouver.

Many Would Withdraw Signatures

City council Monday night discussed the petition submitted by the school board relevant to erection of a proposed new administration building and in the future, garage facilities, in Fairview.

Ald. Frank Beresford said it was his understanding that the school board intends to withdraw the present petition and re-submit alternative proposals deleting the garage and proposed maintenance areas. (This action was taken by the school board Monday night.)

Ald. Van Maarion remarked, "Too often these petitions are signed without the people concerned understanding the wording."

This remark stemmed from a number of Fairview property owners who petitioned council to withdraw their names on the school board petition. They stated they did not understand that the school board intended to erect a garage for city buses as well as a maintenance area.

In addition to the previous petition to withdraw signatures of property owners, Council received a further request from six signators to withdraw their names.

Msgr. Honored By Many on Retiring

CRANBROOK — Some 700 friends from all parts of East Kootenay and elsewhere gathered at Mount Baker School to honor Rt. Rev. A. L. McIntyre, who retired as St. Mary's parish priest in June after 25 years service in this office.

His district association goes back much further, however, as he came to Moyie from his native Prince Edward Island around 1900 as a fledgling school teacher.

His classmate from St. Augustine Seminary in Toronto, Rev. Athol Murray of Notre Dame School in Saskatchewan, attended the gathering, their first reunion in 46 years.

Father Murray launched many of the National Hockey League players at his school in the interim from the Notre Dame Hounds.

Representing Bishop Doyle of Nelson was Rt. Rev. A. K. McIntyre of Nelson.

REFURNISH HOME

"Father Mac" had spent the summer back in PEI, and in the interim parish groups had redecorated his rectory quarters here toward a happy, comfortable retirement, and the dozens of gifts from parishes, Knights of Columbus councils, and parish men's and women's organizations centred on new furnishings.

His successor as parish priest, Rev. A. V. Maglio, was master of ceremonies for the happy function, in which Mayor Haddad and members of the Cranbrook Ministerial Association took part. The Cranbrook Catholic Women's League members were hostesses at the reception which followed.

Youths Arrested In Stolen Car With Store Goods

CRANBROOK — A motor vehicle reported stolen at Pincher Creek Friday night or early Saturday morning, was recovered by RCMP here Saturday evening, and two juveniles in it were arrested.

The vehicle contained a quantity of sporting goods allegedly stolen from a Pincher Creek store the same night as the car was reported missing.

Natal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Ivanisko, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Romeo Berdusco, all of Natal, recently spent a week's visit with the former's son-in-law and daughter and family of Cutknife, Sask.

SALARIES INCREASE

LONDON (AP)—The Ministry of Labor reports that the average weekly wage of male manual workers in Britain reached $49.34 in April, representing a rise of $2.45 in six months.

Commend Girls On Leadership At Play School

KASLO— At a recent meeting of the Kaslo Recreation Commission, Miss Susan Perkins reported on the play school conducted by herself and Miss Marguerite Butler.

The commission had sponsored 19 girls and 32 boys, ages 2 to 10 at the play school.

Attendance had been excellent and a variety of activities such as bike hikes, Indian Day and a sleep out had been enjoyed by the older group. The younger ones had singing, games and swimming.

Both groups enjoyed many sessions of crafts.

The members of the commission felt the play school had been most successful and the girls were commended on their good work. They were given a grant of $100, as the fees totalled only $136 for the season.

Other business conducted by the Commission was a review of the life guard's activities for the summer and a grant to the Senior Citizens.

Six members were present.

SNO-SHO SLATE NAMED AT MEET

ROSSLAND — The annual Sno-Sho committee was named at a recent meeting and tentative dates set for the winter event.

Rick Grieve was elected president of the committee, with Al Weisbrod as vice-president; Mrs E. Hubner, secretary, and William Draper, treasurer.

Representatives of a few organizations were on hand and a number of other groups have promised their support. Tentative dates set for the show were January 22, 23 and 24.

At Kaslo

Board To Borrow $23,231 For Jewett School Work

KASLO — Financing of addition and alterations to the Jewett School at Meadow Creek and miscellaneous costs will amount to $23,231 for the School Board of District No. 6, Kootenay Lake.

B.C. Hydro and Power Authority share amounts to $13,469.

At the September meeting of the board, trustees were told that authority has been received from the executive council of the province to borrow the required amount.

V. L. Mosher, B.C. Hydro engineer, will watch progress on this project for the authority and E. Severeid has been appointed to this duty for the school board.

It has been found necessary to re-open the Howser School temporarily until completion of repair work on the bridge over the Lardeau, at which time the Howser pupils will return to the Jewett and/or Argenta Schools. Mrs. F. M. Greenlaw was appointed temporarily as teacher at the Howser School, for the duration of its use.

Hugh Herbison will be supervising principal of the Jewett School and all schools temporarily opened in the Northern Attendance Zone.

The Board decided to spend up to $400 on construction of a multi-purpose room in the basement of the J. A. Cochran School. This room will be used for music instruction and other school activities as well as for community purposes. Volunteer labour has been offered by local residents for this project.

Enrolment at school opening was as follows: Howser, 14 pupils; Argenta, 28; Lardeau, 14; Old Jewett School, 23; J. A. Cochran, 167; Kaslo, 247. B.C. Hydro will be requested to provide a trailer classroom to be established at Meadow Creek, as an extra teacher may soon be required in the north end; the agreement between the Board and B.C. Hydro includes a clause to this effect.

Newly appointed for a probationary period of 3 months were: J. S. Whittaker as janitor-maintenance man at the J. A. Cochran School; T. Shuto as janitor at the Kaslo School.

Mr. R. Russell received a temporary appointment for the 1964/65 school year as secondary teacher at the J. A. Cochran School. He will replace G. M. Conville, who had previously accepted this position but had not fulfilled his engagement.

The next community preventive Dental Clinics at Kaslo and Riondel, to be held early in 1965 under sponsorship of the school board and the department of health, will be open to pre-school children aged 3, 4 and 5 years, and to pupils of grades 1, 2 and 3.

Trustee Mrs. M. M. Abbey of Mirror Lake announced her resignation from the School Board in connection with a trip to South Africa, where she will stay for about half a year. Chairman Mrs. Saalfeld expressed the Board's gratitude for Mrs. Abbey's faithful work as a trustee and was joined by all members in extending best wishes for her forthcoming voyage.

MANY THEATRES

There are some 40 theatres in Romania which perform throughout the summer months, and are capable of seating 30,000 persons.

Woodsman Competition Highlights Fair Events

EDGEWOOD — Although dampened by rain, contestants and spectators did not allow the weather to dampen their spirits as a record crowd attended the Inonoaklin Farmers' Institute Agricultural Fair.

Highlight of the day was the woodsman competition, similar to Nelson's Chahka Mika. Three teams entered the competition, which consisted of chain sawing, log chopping, tree falling, pole bucking, cross cutting and axe throwing. Cox Contractors were the winners and the team consisted of Paul Tarzwell, Joe Holtzlietner, Henry Edgell and Gunner Hendrickson with George Hopp as captain. Second place was taken by Barnes Creek Contractors of Fauquier, and Dykes of Lumby were third. Judges were Ray Beaton of Nelson and Rod Pickard of Nakusp.

W. L. Hopp won the grand aggregate award for most points in the dairy produce, field produce and garden sections. Mrs. J. Schmidt of Needles once again captured the flower section aggregate. Mrs. John Klein walked off with two awards, taking both the baking and needlework specials. Mrs. R. O. Forslund won the fruit prize while Mrs. J. Brown was tops in the handicraft section and Louise Bateman in the junior section. The school trophy was won again by the Edgewood Elementary School. R. N. Donselaar presented the awards at the dance.

Judges were Mr. and Mrs. J. Ryder of Vernon, Mrs. E. Walter of Vernon, Mrs. J. S. Scott of Robson and H. Simpson of Needles.

The day started out with a children's parade and prize winners were: horses, Gordon Bilinski and Doreen Evenson; bikes, Clark Underwood and Louise Bateman; fancy dress, Robert and Jean Flick; comic, Yvonne Hopp.

Both the number of entries and the number of exhibitors were higher than they have been for several years and all judges remarked on the outstanding quality of all exhibits. A special prize for the best plate of apples went to Mrs. R. O. Forslund, while Elaine Bateman won the special prize for the best gladiolus in the show.

$100 to Kimberley Man for Suggestion

TRAIL — A suggestion for improvement in combustion fan maintenance at the roaster plant brought Orlando Battistella of the Kimberley fertilizer department of the C.M. & S. $100.

This was part of the $1480 awarded Cominco employees for their suggestions during the past two months.

The cash awards were made for 64 ideas submitted through the company's suggestion plan, 39 of these emanating from Trail and 25 from Kimberley.

Two other ideas from Kimberley employees earned $25 awards — one by R. Fontaine who suggested sandblasting of motors prior to inspection or repair, while R. Whalen and R. H. Mitchell shared $25 for suggesting another location for the sulphuric acid line in the phosphate plant.

Tony Cristini, in the lead refinery at Trail, received a $30 award for an idea to strengthen cathode racks.

Suggestions by staff employees G. Coulter, J. Wardrope and G. Vance also were approved.

Other awards were received from the following:

Slocan-Castlegar Families United

O'Neail-Rivers Wedding Principals Take Up Residence at Edmonton

CASTLEGAR—Mid-afternoon was the time chosen by the principals for their end-of-summer wedding in Castlegar United Church. Before the altar graced by baskets of gladioli in pastel tones, Rev. Peter Collins of Rossland heard the marriage vows of Celia Mary Rivers, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Rivers of Castlegar, and Mr. Terrence Michael O'Neail, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. O'Neail of Slocan.

The lovely bride radiated beauty and grace as she walked to the altar on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. Her gown of heavy white taffeta, in Empire style, was enhanced by a train which flowed from a large flat bow at the back waistline. Appliques below the scalloped Sabrina neckline were outlined with lustrous seed pearls, the only trimming on the elegantly simple gown. Her bouffant veil, of illusion net, was caught in myriad folds and fell to just below the shoulders. Yellow rosebuds and white stephanotis were entwined with trailing miniature ivy to form the bridal bouquet, and in its centre was posed a tiny crystal bluebird in flight.

Bridesmaid, Miss Marilyn Dawson of Trail, and junior bridesmaid, Miss Stella Rivers, younger sister of the bride, were gowned identically in sleeveless, two-piece dresses of white lace medallions over pink taffeta. They wore satin pumps in the same shade of pink, long white gloves, and bouffant headdresses of pink tulle and tiny flowers. Rhinestone necklaces, gifts of the bride, were their only jewelry, and pink chrysanthemums and white carnations formed their posy bouquets.

Taking the place of the groom's only brother, Mr. Danny O'Neail, who was unable to attend, Mr. Victor Osis of Slocan served as best man. Usher was Mr. Jerry Osis, also of Slocan. Presiding at the organ, Mrs. Cathie Muirhead played the processional and recessional marches, as well as appropriate selections during the signing of the register.

GIFTS VIEWED

While the bridal couple had photographs taken, the guests adjourned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rivers, where the many beautiful gifts were viewed. Later they proceeded to the reception held at Kinnaird Hall, which was decorated for the occasion with white streamers and bells, and late summer flowers. Master Philip Rivers, young brother of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

Assisting the bridal party in the receiving line were the parents of the bride and groom. Mrs. Rivers was gowned in an ice-blue sheath of tone-on-tone taffeta with matching jacket, blue hat and shoes, and beige accessories. Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds identical with those in the bride's bouquet. The mother of the groom wore a jacketed dress of ecru lace over taffeta with ecru hat and honey-toned shoes and accessories, and a corsage of deep pink rosebuds.

For the dinner, served buffet style to 75 guests, the long tables were decorated with low bowls of early autumn flowers. The head table, seating the bridal party, was centred by an arrangement of blue hydrangea, pink asters, roses, and ivy.

Master of ceremonies was Mr. T. M. Little of Castlegar, who called upon an old friend of the Rivers family, Mr. Charles Doyle of Vancouver, for the toast to the bride. Following his words of response, the groom asked the assembled guests to drink a joint toast to his parents and those of his bride, after which the best man proposed the traditional toast to the bridesmaids.

BLUEBIRDS TOP CAKE

The wedding cake, posed on a maize damask cloth and flanked by yellow tapers in crystal sconces, was triple-tiered and topped with a miniature urn of yellow rosebuds and two tiny bluebirds. After the bride and groom had cut and passed servings of cake, they left to change for travelling.

The bride wore a sheath of white lace over taffeta, with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

She presented her bridal bouquet to the groom's grandmother, Mrs. D. B. O'Neail of Trail, after which the couple left by car for Edmonton, where the groom is employed as a chemical engineer with the Texaco Company.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Neail will be in residence at Town Manor in the prairie city.

Get It Home Quickly

The rescinding of the British North America Act will ultimately provide radical changes in Canadian business law and practices. Once on the books, the new Canadian constitution will become wholly amendable in Canada and it is likely swift amendments will be the order of the day.

Should these amendments become operative, provinces will have to amend their policies affecting business practices. Most of the business changes will occur in the field of business legislation.

Section 92 of the British North America Act is likely to be radically revised concerning property and civil rights. It could conceivably mean the provinces will use amendment of this section as a bargaining agent for extended provincial autonomy.

In particular, securities regulations have come in for a large dose of well-earned criticism. It would be better to have one federal policy; indeed the provinces are in general accord with this idea. In practice, federal securities legislation would relieve provincial responsibilities in this area and this would make it harder for boiler room operators to flit from province to province in defiance of provincial laws.

Another field where improvements can be made is in agricultural marketing. Here again room definitely exists for standardization. Most of the agricultural marketing is done under a provincial arrangement with each province having its own set of rules.

Everything Secret Degenerates

A royal commission in Quebec City has disclosed that Edmund T. Asselin, Liberal MP for Montreal-Notre Dame de Grace, "acted illegally" and (with another man) obtained "an unlawful and unconscionable" profit of $87,000 in a real estate transaction with the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal.

The inquiry reported that both men, without investing any money or assuming the slightest risk, took out an option on land at 45 cents a square foot and sold the property to the board at 60 cents a square foot.

Without going into details, this situation underlines once more the necessity of conducting all negotiations for public purchase of land in the full light of public scrutiny.

This applies particularly to all governments and government committees, particularly city and municipal councils and school and park boards. Any member of such a public body who fails to insist on public discussion of property acquisitions leaves himself and his colleagues open to all sorts of gossip, suspicions and innuendoes.

It should be superfluous to emphasize once more that the only place to conduct public business is in public. There are far too many secret meetings of public bodies and every once in a while Canadians are given an example of what can happen when the public is excluded from the meetings of elected bodies.

As Lord Acton said: "Everything secret degenerates, even the administration of justice; nothing is safe that does not show it can bear discussion and publicity."

Human Unbelief Mocks the Siren

If massive nuclear attack were to be launched tomorrow against North America, it is unlikely that many people would be saved by our elaborate early warning system. The probing finger of radar might detect a missile coming this way; the warning might sound in a thousand cities and towns. But the system would then break down.

This is the disquieting inference that must be drawn from the recent sounding of civil defence sirens in Ottawa. For a number of citizens there was a spasm of anxiety resulting in a surge of telephone calls to police, radio and television stations and newspapers. But for the great majority, the reaction was one of mild and transitory curiosity.

The idea of real nuclear attack, clearly, was rejected as unthinkable and those who heard the sirens apparently dismissed the wailing — accurately, as it happens — as being accidental. They had no guarantee for some time that this was indeed the case but there was no indication of any willingness on their part even to play it safe by seeking shelter.

There is no reason to suppose that the people of New York, Toronto, Washington or Montreal would have acted differently. They too would be inclined to push aside the unwelcome thought that a nuclear holocaust was upon them. Whether this can be attributed to their faith in the ultimate sanity of mankind or to the utter repugnance of the idea of attack, it makes a mockery of all our precautions.

Women 7 to 70

Now that children are away at school and women are left alone in their homes, extra precautions should be taken against assault by intruders. Chains on doors are essential, but care should be taken to check the credentials of any stranger who comes as repairman or checking meters.

True, the odds are against any such disaster and certainly no one wishes to be an alarmist, nor, so far as is known, have any of these occurred in Lethbridge. There have, however, been a hideous number of these tragic, bestial assaults. There can be no doubt but that they are increasing.

Some of them have been on young girls, a number resulting in murder. Just recently a fine chemist, Miss Elinor Ostrander, aged 60, was found in the basement of her Washington home by a friend, beaten to death. Robbery was evidently the motive in that case. In Winnipeg a pretty girl, Pamela Morrison, was stabbed twice in the thigh. The brutal shock, however, is far worse than the physical wound.

Children to whom this kind of thing happens need the most careful treatment and observation to ensure emotional recovery. One likes children to be friendly, but they should be warned not to get in cars with strangers and not to get chummy with strangers. It seems hard to say this, because nothing is more appealing than the innocent and friendly gaiety of children.

Unhappily nothing is more appalling than an assaulted child. There are far more assaults on teen-agers than is generally supposed. Many are not reported, but they are common enough. One finds it hard to have sympathy, however, for girls who drink in a strange man's apartment, or accept an invitation to drive with a stranger.—Lethbridge Herald.

Ecumenical Council Starts To Define Sharing of Powers

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Given strong impetus by Pope Paul VI, the 2,500 Roman Catholic bishops of the Vatican ecumenical council starts work Tuesday on a scheme to define sharing of some papal powers with the bishops.

The pontiff at the ceremonial opening of the council's third session Monday virtually commanded the prelates to clarify "the doctrine of the papacy which will place in its splendid light the role and mandate of the episcopate."

The schema, or topic, before the council at its working session Tuesday was titled De Ecclesia — on the nature of the church.

It has been considerably changed from the version that the council debated, through its first four chapters, at its second session last fall.

The council now must discuss the fifth and sixth chapters. It also will decide whether to accept or reject amendments offered for the first four chapters. Chapter 5 is on eschatology — the theology of death, judgment, heaven and hell—and Chapter 6 on the place of the Virgin Mary in the church.

The first four chapters are concerned chiefly with those who make up the church—hierarchy and laymen.

Sources familiar with the schema say it puts collegiality —the sharing by all bishops with the Pope in governing the entire church — into precise terminology.

AROUSED DEBATE

The issue brought a heated argument last November between Joseph Cardinal Frings of Germany, a leading progressive and Alfredo Cardinal Ottaviani, the leader of the conservatives and the head of the Holy Office in the Vatican Curia.

Cardinal Frings assailed the Holy Office which is charged with defending the doctrines of the church. Cardinal Ottaviani said the German's demands for Curia reform were based on ignorance of its working procedures.

But the Pope said Monday, in a speech setting the tone of this third council session, that centralization of power in the papacy should be "always tempered and balanced by an alert and timely delegation both of authority and of facilities for local pastors (bishops". He said the work of the 1870 Vatican council "must be completed" and that this was the "weightiest and most delicate" issues before the council.

Interpreting the News

By ARCH MacKENZIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Senator Barry Goldwater, the Republican party candidate for the U.S. presidency, has renewed an allegation the Democratic administration of the United States is "not beyond manipulating a foreign policy crisis in order to influence the election."

If that is true — and it was promptly and vigorously denied by State Secretary Dean Rusk and other senior government spokesmen — then President Johnson has a broad assortment of alternatives to play with in the Nov. 3 U.S. election campaign.

The Goldwater assertion, repeated in a weekend statement, came just before the latest tremor shook the fragile political house in South Viet Nam. That country's internal stability and its effect on the American-supported fight against communism in Southeast Asia had just been the subject of a four-day examination in Washington.

The full impact of the abortive rebellion, the third military intervention in South Viet Nam since last Nov. 1 not counting four major government adjustments, is still being appraised, say state department officials.

OTHER TROUBLE SPOTS

There are any number of other spots where—if the Arizona senator is correct—Johnson could manipulate. There is Cyprus, The Congo, Indonesia or even such comparatively non-volatile areas as the continuing frigidity between the U.S. and France.

The best that can be said for most of these problems at this time is that they could be worse.

The charges by Goldwater and the tone and speed of the denials reflect the importance attached to foreign policy in the election campaign.

Johnson on the basis of public opinion polls and other signs still is given a substantial lead over his challenger and credit for a good chunk of this lead is considered to be a belief among the U.S. electorate the president is a better man to have in control.

The Johnson stock in foreign affairs went up last month, the polls say, after the swift air strike against North Viet Nam. But it has fallen off somewhat since then, the polls add.

SOFT UNDERBELLY

South Viet Nam, emotionally, politically and strategically, is regarded as the soft underbelly of American foreign policy.

The unsuccessful attempt Sunday to dump Buddhist Premier Nguyen Khanh, taking the U.S. administration so much by surprise evidently Ambassador Maxwell Taylor still hadn't got back to Saigon from Washington, dampened hopes the basic domestic rift between the Buddhists and the Roman Catholics was being patched over.

Only by achieving a solid domestic government base can eventual military victory over communism in South Viet Nam or a negotiated peace be contemplated, Taylor reported last week.

Obstacles to that achievement frustrate the military phase of the South Viet Nam struggle and also can leave President Johnson open to charges of manipulating for political purposes.

Hall Name

To the Editor:

Sir—This year there appeared a few articles and announcements in your paper referring to Taghum Hall as the Doukhobor community hall in Taghum. I'd like to make a correction on this matter. The Taghum hall is not a Doukhobor hall, but a Taghum Community Hall, belonging to the Taghum Hall Society and there are many non-Doukhobor members in it. It belongs to all that help in building, improving and upkeeping it, so please refer to it as Taghum Community Hall in your future articles, so as not to bring about a misunderstanding among its members.

Peking-Moscow Altercation Inflames Followers in India

By RUKMINI DEVI
Canadian Press Correspondent

BOMBAY (CP) — While Peking and Moscow intensify their wordy warfare, their followers in India are literally fighting it out in the streets.

Home Minister Gulzarilal Nanda has urged provincial administrations to beware of serious trouble between the Peking and Moscow factions in the Communist party of India.

News reports say provincial governments have sent fresh police reinforcements to towns where factional in-fighting in the party now has taken the form of violent street brawls.

The most serious of the incidents have taken place in the big south Indian town of Vijayawada, unofficial headquarters of the party's left (pro-Peking) faction.

Some 3,000 houses belonging to members of the pro-Moscow faction have been burned down. About 15,000 persons are homeless. Chief Minister Brahmananda Reddy of the Andhra state government has said that it is a case of arson and charged the left faction with setting fire to the houses of their ideological enemies.

The fires were preceded by threats in Jana Shakti, the pro-Peking Communist newspaper, that "Khrushchev's stooges should take care of their belongings."

Visalandra, mouthpiece of the pro-Moscow faction in Vijayawada, also spoke of "retribution against Mao's hirelings."

Police said it appeared that followers of both the factions are involved in the arson.

Chief Minister Reddy said the bulk of the sufferers are innocent citizens who do not know anything about the Peking-Moscow struggle and care nothing about the controversy between the two Communist countries.

Nine Vijayawada Communists have been charged with arson and rioting. They include Tammina Potharaju, a member of the Andhra state legislature.

Some 1,500 miles north of Vijayawada, Communists in Lucknow fought in the streets trying to take possession of the local party bookshop.

Indonesia To Fight If Britain Attacks

KUALA LUMPUR (Reuters) malaysian security forces Tuesday killed six Indonesian paratroopers and captured several more in the jungles of south central Malaya.

A military spokesman said the security forces inflicted the casualties on an Indonesian force that outnumbered them 3 to 1. It was the most successful day the Malaysian forces have had since an estimated 45 Indonesians were parachuted into the jungles in the Labis region Sept. 2.

It was not immediately known whether there were an Malaysian casualties in the new fighting, which took place as security forces continued mopping-up operations against the Indonesians.

As troops dealt with the guerrillas, there were reports of new anti-American demonstrations in Indonesia, which threatened to "crush' the year-old Malaysian Federation.

It was also reported here that three armed Indonesians landed on the Malayan Peninsula but were immediately captured.

Malaysian defence ministry sources said the three landed last week near Morib, southwest of Kuala Lumpur.

COMPLAINS TO UN

It was understood this was the landing which Dato Ismail Bin Dato Abdul Rahman, Malysian home affairs and justice minister, referred to in the UN Security Council debate Monday in Malaysia's complaints of Indonesian attacks.

Britain, which has pledged to defend the federation, came under attack in the Security Council debate Monday.

Indonesia's Deputy Foreign Minister Sudjarwo Tjondronegoro warned that "if Britain chooses to launch an open attack on any part of Indonesia, Indonesia will retaliate with a counter-blow forthwith."

German Murder Plan Revealed

PRAGUE (Reuters—A German plan to murder British and American army commanders in March, 1944, is outlined in documents recently raised from a secret Nazi cache in the waters of a south Bohemian lake, it was disclosed at a press conference here Tuesday.

Czech Interior Minister Lubomir Strougal was giving the first of what was expected to be a series of briefings on the contents of a number of boxes sunk in the black lake at the orders of German leaders when they realized the war was lost.

The boxes were discovered during the shooting of a television film.

One of the documents describes preparation of Operation Anzio, the object of which was to kill the commanders of the 5th and 8th Anglo-American armies on the night of March 8-9, Strougal told reporters.

Today In History

By The Canadian Press

Sept. 16, 1964 . . .

Andrew Bonar Law, the only British prime minister born outside the United Kingdom, was born at Rexton, N.B., 106 years ago today—in 1858. Son of a Presbyterian clergyman, he was educated in New Brunswick and at Glasgow before entering business in Glasgow. In 1900 he entered Parliament as a Glasgow MP. He later held other political posts and gained the Conservative Party leadership in 1911. In 1915 he joined the war coalition as colonial secretary, and when the coalition fell in 1922 he became Prime Minister.

1893—The city of Calgary, Alberta, was incorporated.

1916 — Prohibition went into effect in Ontario.

First World War

Fifty years ago today, in 1914, Germans gave way slowly in fighting extending from Noyon to Verdun. Sixty-thousand Germans were sent into Belgium for an attack on Antwerp. Russians attacked Przemysl in Southern Poland.

Second World War

Twenty-five years ago today, in 1939, the French reported that hundreds of thousands of troops were engaged in battle along a 40-mile front from the Moselle River southeast to Saarbrucken, and that the Germans were withdrawing "inch by inch". The Canadian government set up a Foreign Exchange Control Board.

Liberals Hope To Ease In While Giants Battle

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN

LONDON (CP—Britain's Liberal party published its campaign platform Tuesday, expressing hope that it will hold a decisive position" in the next Parliament.

In other words, Liberal Leader Jo Grimond sees the possibility that Prime Minister Douglas-Home's Tories and Harold Wilson's Labor party will fight one another to a virtual standstill, giving the Liberals the balance of power.

At present they have only seven seats in the 630-seat Commons.

The Liberals claim an influence far beyond their number due to dramatic byelection gains which caused concern to former prime minister Harold Macmillan in 1962.

But the Liberals have shown less strength in more recent by-election tests.

In international affairs, the manifesto calls for formation of a Commonwealth Service, "recruited from all the member countries, to cover the whole range of technical help needed by developing countries."

At home, "Class consciousness in the factory, on the housing estate, or in politics, must give way to a new spirit of partnership."

The partnership idea was also taken to the international plane, and here the Liberals departed from the Tories by envisaging the end of Britain's separate nuclear deterrent.

"The giant risks of the nuclear age and the explosive problems of world poverty cannot be mastered until the nations act together," the manifesto says.

Pupils Harder To Handle Say Teachers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many teachers believe youngsters are more unruly in class than they used to be.

And the longer a teacher has taught, the more certain he is that this is true.

That was indicated in the response to a poll of teachers conducted by the research division of the National Education Association.

Teachers were asked:

"Basing your answer on your personal experience, do you believe that maintaining pupil discipline has become more difficult than when you first started teaching?"

Forty-five per cent said it was more difficult, 31 per cent said about the same, 20 per cent said less difficult, and one per cent was undecided.

However, a different pattern emerged when the replies were broken down into years of experience.

Those who said it had grown increasingly difficult to maintain discipline included 62 per cent of those with 20 or more years experience, 44 per cent of those with 10-to-19 years, and only 25 per cent of those with five to nine years in the classroom.

Conversely, only 12 per cent of the 20-year veterans thought it was less difficult, compared with 21 per cent in the 10-to-19-year bracket and 31 per cent in the five-to-nine-year group.

Canadians Asked To Contribute

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadians are being asked to contribute $500,000 to help establish a centre at Mysore, India, for the training of Asians in the processing, packaging and storage of essential foods.

Funds for the centre will be raised jointly by the government of India and the Canadian Freedom from Hunger Committee, partly through the sale of ball-point pens to Write Off Hunger in Asia.

Joseph H. Hulse, national chairman of the committee, announced Tuesday following a meeting with Prime Minister Pearson that the week starting Sept. 19 has been officially declared Canada-Mysore week.

Railway Branch Lines To Be Scrapped Gradually

OTTAWA (CP)—Most or all of the money-losing railway branch lines in Canada, the majority located on the Prairies, would be ripped up gradually during the next 15 years under a bill introduced in the Commons Monday night.

A three-man "rationalization authority" responsible to the agriculture minister would be set up to plan an orderly abandonment of the uneconomic lines.

A fund of $13,000,000 would be created to subsidize the red-ink lines before they are abandoned. The fund would be replenished each year by Parliament to keep it at the $13,000,000 level.

The authority would hold public hearings and hear sworn testimony from community leaders and railway representatives before setting a date for the abandonment of a particular branch line.

Lines that are duplicated by good highways or another railway would be eliminated first. Lines that are still needed in the public interest would be retained for an adjustment period ranging up to 15 years.

MUST COMPENSATE MEN

The bill also provides that the railways must compensate any employee for financial loss resulting from displacement after a line is abandoned.

The board of transport commissioners would still be charged with determining whether a branch line is self-supporting or not.

The board would report its findings to the rationalization authority, which would hold hearings and announce a decision.

The authority's orders to the railways could be appealed to the federal cabinet within 30 days. The cabinet would be empowered to compel railways to continue operating money-losing branch lines after the 15-year period if the public interest warranted it.

In that event, the government would continue to subsidize the line after 1979.

Soviet Charges Denied by U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Tuesday denied Soviet charges that American aircraft harassed and endangered Soviet ships.

A U.S. note, in reply to a Soviet complaint of Aug. 3, termed the charges "without foundation." It said that, on the contrary, Soviet ships have harassed U.S. vessels on a number of occasions in recent months.

The Soviet note listed a number of instances during which, it alleged, American aircraft have "harassed, endangered, or provoked" Soviet ships.

FREIGHTER CREW ACCUSES CUBANS

NASSAU (AP) — The commissioner's office at Mathew Town in The Bahamas reported Tuesday the Spanish freighter Sierra Aranzazu "was supposedly machine-gunned by Cubans" before she burned Monday off the Cuban coast.

The 20 crew members of the freighter, two dead and another dying, were picked off a raft near the burning ship by the Dutch vessel P. G. Thulin and taken to Mathew Town on Inaugua Island. Inaugua is 50 miles off Cuba.

The report did not say whether the attackers were from the Cuban navy or were anti-Castro exiles on a raiding mission.

Dying Storm Lashes East

HALIFAX (CP — Tropical storm Dora, declared to be in a dying condition still packed a fair-size wallop Tuesday as she headed for central Newfoundland after lashing the Maritimes with high winds and rain. Gales of 38 miles per hour hit Halifax Monday night.

The storm lashed at the southeastern portion of the Maritimes early Tuesday after dropping from two to three inches of rain along the southern coast of Nova Scotia.

The Gander, Nfld., weather office said Dora was heading rapidly toward the province from just south of Cape Breton and gales from the storm were expected to spread into all Newfoundland marine areas, bringgain rain with it. Gale warnings were issued.

Meanwhile in the Grand Banks marine area the storm warning was discontinued but a gale warning is still in effect as hurricane Ethel was moving northeast away from it.

Warnings of Ethel had chased more than 120 ships to shelter in St. John's, Nfld., with 76 vessels in the harbor and 34 hove to just outside.

The hurricane was expected to blow itself out without touching land.

WOMEN FIGHT DRINKING

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP — The Woman's Christian Temperance Union says television, radio and the press should "delete drinking scenes, criminal acts and generally degrading episodes from their productions." And in another resolution passed Monday at its 90th annual convention, the WCTU asked President Johnson to recognize that his war on poverty could not succeed "without the elimination of the advertising and the sale of alcoholic beverages."

Writer Tells of Treatment Centres For Emotionally Disturbed Children

Editor's note: This is the second in a series written by Jean Sharp on the way in which the enormous incidence of mental illness in children is being met.

By JEAN SHARP
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The first thing needed to help solve the problem of emotionally disturbed children is public awareness and understanding, psychiatrists say.

Many specialists in the field devote their time to making speeches.

Parents in Toronto and Montreal have formed associations to help one another and to exchange information on where professional help exists. They have begun to bring pressure on people who hold the purse strings. They have started branches in a few other cities.

This year the Ontario Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children is concentrating on education. It wants more teacher training and classes in public schools organized.

D. E. B. Hurley of Toronto, the president, says the association wants institutional treatment done away with eventually, except when it is strictly necessary.

It believes, and doctors agree, that given enough community clinic and educational resources, children could be treated at home. Mr. Hurley says this would cost the community less than setting up institutions.

A reflection of this thinking is the decision, just announced, to build a $750,000 psychiatric treatment centre in downtown Toronto. While it will have 12 to 15 beds available for in-patients, most of its facilities will be for others. A day care centre will serve 30 youngsters and an out-patient clinic will handle 80.

Most doctors are pleased to see the societies growing because they represent public opinion. They can do as the Ontario association did recently, present a brief to the provincial department of education, asking for changes.

Many experts go back to the very beginning in their comments on what else is needed.

FOOD COMES FIRST

"First we must feed and house people and then talk about mental health," says John Brown, executive director of Warrendale School in Newmarket, Ont. "We should have automatic therapy for every child who is separated from his parents."

He would like to see changes brought about through legislation arising from public and professional attitudes. "If you bring to bear the proper resources at the right time, the child will respond."

Teachers, magistrates, doctors and social workers are all involved now. But for the most part they work separately. "We need some joint over-all juvenile department," says Dr. J. D. Atcheson, director of Thistletown Hospital in Toronto.

Dr. L. W. Bow, director of the out-patient clinic at a Toronto hospital, sees a need for co-ordinated child guidance teams, for mental health clinics which can serve partly as sorting centres, and for more live-in units so there is a place to care for a child when he must be taken, even temporarily, from his home.

Dr. Bow cites money and public attitudes as the main reasons so little is being done. He says too many existing hospitals and clinics are forced to do jobs they should not be doing and are regarded by the public as sops to the problem, as a rug under which problems can be swept.

"The clinic should meld resources of help, not be the sole expert," says Dr. T. E. Schofield of the East York-Leaside clinic in Toronto. "I would hope to have people handling problems before they get to be big problems."

A study by the department of national health and welfare comprises reports from various centres for treatment of emotionally upset children. Boys Village in Toronto says in its report the basic problem in the field from its point of view is "the need for a public awareness of the fact of the emotionally disturbed child as a handicapped child requiring assistance."

"The financial responsibility for provision for the treatment of emotionally disturbed children seems to us to be a public one requiring greater participation by government in direct programs and the subsidization of privately sponsored programs. . . . Treatment should provide the array of necessary services in the local community."

For the most part, only large centres have an array of services. Provincial health departments have provided travelling clinics, which are not considered altogether satisfactory. Officials say that as awareness of the problem has spread, smaller communities have begun to clamor for clinics.

The array takes money and staff and neither is available currently.

Both are needed for more research as well as treatment.

There are very many unanswered questions, and we have a basic scepticism about the present store of knowledge," says the Thistletown Hospital report.

"Early recovery is impeded by insufficient knowledge of actual causes of mental illness in children," reports the Smiths Falls Ontario Hospital school.

From the Sunnyside Children's Centre in Kingston, Ont., comes the comment: "We believe that the unknown in this field is so great that it is necessary to draw upon the knowledge and skills of all the social sciences in our endeavors to rehabilitate these children. . . ."

Mr. Brown suggests teachers in Grades 1 to 3 should be trained to spot disturbed children. He says the classroom is a natural setting in which this could be done without high cost.

Now, many doctors say, disturbances develop until a child becomes severely ill and sometimes a menace. Finally, at that point, they see the child. Then someone says: "Here, you do something wih him."

MEMORIAL HALL SCENE OF SHOWER EVENT

FRUITVALE — The Memorial Hall basement was scene of a surprise miscellaneous shower honoring September bride-elect Miss Helen Walgren.

The bride's table, covered with a lace cloth, held a special cake in the shape of a book. Flowers, bells and streamers ornamented the table and hall. Gifts were arranged on the table.

Bride's bingo was played and prizes were awarded.

Corsages were presented to the aunt of the bride-elect, Mrs. A. Nelson; the mother of the bride-elect's fiance, Mrs. C. Angerilli; his sister, Miss Shirley Angerilli, and bridesmatron Mrs. E. Jmayoff. Mrs. H. Harper of Montrose made the presentation.

Refreshments were served by hostesses Mrs. G. Wilcox, Mrs. H. Harper, Mrs. M. Ransom, Mrs. L. Grieve, Mrs. I. Grieve, Mrs. E. Jmayoff, Mrs. G. Nelson, Misses L. Mason, M. Mason and I. Beauchamp of Trail. Many friends came from Trail and the surrounding district for the event.

Legion LA Undertakes Biggest Catering Job

CRANBROOK — The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Legion of Cranbrook is undertaking its largest catering project at the three-day provincial public works association convention being held in Cranbrook.

The auxiliary will be serving lunches and dinners today, and Thursday and Friday at the Legion hall, with Mrs. Don Pratt as convener, along with Mrs. Reg Watson, auxiliary president.

At its first meeting after the summer recess, the auxiliary set the date for its annual bazaar, to be held in the new clubhouse, Nov. 28.

Mrs. Pete Linton and Mrs. Harold Nielson were chosen auxiliary representatives to the Cranbrook Centennial Committee, of which A. W. Hunter is chairman.

The auxiliary's part of the Poppy Day plans a nd advance sale of wreaths by the Branch under Edward Gummer sr., will be headed by Mrs. Gordon Legrandeur, with Mrs. William Wasilieu as secretary.

Donation of $20 to the branch sports fund for assisting kid teams was approved.

Miss Elaine Matsushita has returned from a month's holiday in Toronto.

Mrs. E. R. Hope has returned after visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. S. Hardy, in Vancouver. She was met in Nelson by her daughter, Alice Anne.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Budden had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. J. Kelsall and daughter, Joanne, of Grand Forks, also Mr. Kelsall's mother, Mrs. A. D. Kelsall and sister, Miss F. A. Moss of North Vancouver.

British Palate Tempted By Canadian Products

LONDON (CP) — Most visitors to Britain's food fair this year are carting home their free samples in bright yellow shopping bags bearing bold red maple leaves.

The bags, together with an expensive advertising campaign on London's bus and subway system, are part of a massive assault on the British palate by 31 Canadian food firms exhibiting at the fair.

The "Eat Canadian" theme is attractive but fattening. The exhibitors have made a calculated appeal to the notorious British sweet tooth with lavish displays of fruit cake, honey, jams, frozen pies, maple syrup and big chocolate bars.

Focal point of the Canadian display is an eight-foot model of the famous 22,000-pound "mammoth cheese" of Perth, Ont., exhibited in Britain in 1892 and later cut up and sold.

Also drawing the crowds are delectable samples of a fruit cake made from an original recipe favored by Henry VIII.

To tempt British visitors further, Canada's trade and commerce department, which is sponsoring the exhibition, has prepared 23 recipes for exotic dishes involving Canadian products.

Perhaps soon the best London restaurants will be featuring maple glazed carrots, chicken a la Montreal, Toronto cheese biscuits supreme, Winnipeg stuffed frankfurters and honey fudge.

Harrop and District WI Marks 50th Anniversary

Quietly encircling the globe with programs aimed at the well being of men, women and children, the homely, home-centred Women's Institute has none of the glamor but all of the effectiveness of its more sophisticated, worldly sister organizations.

Speaking at the golden anniversary tea of the Harrop and District Women's Institute held in the Balfour Hall Monday afternoon, Mrs. R. C. Palmer, provincial president, emphasized that the proposed program of child welfare to be set up in South America in 1965, will see the Institute established around the globe.

"We shall have completed the link, we will have encircled the globe," she said. This movement was started 67 years ago in Stoney Creek, Ontario, by Adelaide Hoodless.

"The world doesn't appreciate what this grass roots organization of women is doing for home improvement and community betterment.

"Don't let anyone tell you that the Women's Institute is outdated. It isn't, it's on the upswing," she noted with satisfaction.

Records of the activities of the 50-year-old Harrop and District Women's Institute indicate the spirit behind this upswing.

Two charter members, Mrs. Burrard A. Smith and Mrs. Dorothy Crozier-Smith, attended the anniversary event, as well as long-time member Miss Lila Grant. Mrs. Burrard Smith told of the knitting and sewing accomplished by the group of district women for the Red Cross during both world wars; they also sent parcels to the prisoners of war; donated widely to the Solarium, to the Othia Scott fund, held flower and vegetable shows, children's garden competitions, gave Christmas and school prizes, held country dancing classes (well attended), held annual bazaars, sponsored school sports, made quilts and bandages for ARP, Harrop and Longbeach division; collected woollens for blankets, gave $100 towards the WI hospital ward at Kootenay Lake General Hospital, and raised money for new mattresses; one-act plays were presented, quilts and clothing collected and distributed where needed; a WI library was started; Girl Guides and Brownies were assisted; layettes given to the USC; a donation of $500 was presented to the local community hall for enlargements.

TRANSPORTATION PROBLEMS

Transportation difficulties were related by Mrs. Smith, who recalled travelling to meetings across the West Arm in the launch of Rev. J. P. Hughes or in rowboats. On the Harrop side, members arrived at meetings in pony and trap, or walked, some of them for three miles.

One lad, delegated by his mother to row the women across was heard to say he "had to row over a boatload of old hens", and suffered the ultimate punishment of having to apologize to "the old hens."

Members were frequently harassed by an osprey as they went to the lake for water to make tea. The bird, who nested nearby, would wait for the women to stoop, filling their kettles, then would swoop down on their hats and hair, driving the intruders away. Meetings were held in a one-roomed building erected on a piece of land donated by E. Harrop. When they ran out of firewood, members would take horse and cart to the beach and collect driftwood.

Such colorful incidents as turn up in old WI records may not be experienced by members these days. The Harrop and District WI put on a skit to buy mattresses for the hospital.

ALARMING INTERLUDE

Just as the affair was getting under way, the smell of smoke alerted everyone and billows of smoke were seen rising from a nearby chickenhouse. The entire organization took to its heels, grabbed feed buckets, hoses and pans while others shooed chickens and calves away from the smoke and flame. In quick time, this commotion caused the traffic on the nearby road to come to a standstill while every man driver was giving a hand. When the worst was over, the men found that the women had left it to them and had departed.

"The members, puffing and gasping, and in disarray, proceeded to continue with the afternoon's entertainment."

The Harrop and District WI has a large arts and crafts group making articles from needlebooks to quilts and hooked rugs. They have demonstrations on glove making, copper tooling and hairpin work, tatting, crocheting, making of nylon and foam rubber flowers.

A small raffia basket with Indian design was sent to be put in the Institute showcase at the PNE.

APPLE BOOTH

One of the unique activities among the many outstanding works of this group was its agriculture fall fair entry of 1937, when members had an apple booth and displayed food of every description made of apples — cakes, desserts, bread, chutneys, candies, and others. A cooked chicken with apple stuffing "mysteriously disappeared during the first evening."

First president of the Harrop and Disrtict WI was Mrs. C. D. Ogilvie; Mrs. Burrard Smith, vice-president; Mrs. J. J. Wilson, secretary-treasurer, and directors Mrs. Risden, Miss Edna Britton, Mrs. W. McConnell, Mrs. C. Brown and Mrs. Crozier Smith.

Present president is Mrs. B. A. Ringuis.

Mrs. Dorothy Crozier-Smith recited a poem she has known for many years ending with the line "Improve thy talents God has given" as a theme applicable to the Women's Institute. She referred to the institute as a "power in the land" which, in combination with women's right to vote, has given them great authority.

Mrs. Palmer announced the winning of the provincial scholarship by Miss Florence Elaine Bateman of Edgewood.

She told of plans made at the recent "hands across the border" picnic held in Washington to establish a peace garden in the Osoyoos-Oroville area.

Sitting at the head table were Mrs. Palmer of Kelowna, and her sister, Mrs. Corinne V. Matheson, also of Kelowna, Mrs. Clyde B. White of Willow Point, past convener of economics in the Federation, Mrs. Burrard Smith and Mrs. Crozier-Smith, who is now third vice-president of the Nelson WI, and Mrs. Ringuis, also greeted guests at the door.

Cashiers were Mrs. J. Hobson and Mrs. C. D. Olson. Serviteurs were Mrs. Eric Smith, Mrs. G Ward, Miss L. Grant and Mrs. J Serres. In the kitchen were Mrs. J. Paulhus, Mrs. O. Vogel and Mrs. E. Edgell.

The prize-winning sampler made by Mrs. A. Lymbery of Gray Creek, which won second prize at the Federated Institutes conference at Charlottetown this year was displayed at the tea, as well as the oil painting done by Mrs. Ringuis, which won third prize in provincial competition.

Guests were from Crawford Bay, Kaslo, Slocan City, Fruitvale, Salmo, Queen's Bay, Nelson, Balfour and Longbeach. Willow Point, Harrop and the Granite Road Women's Institute, also from Markdale, Ont., and Nova Scotia.

Outstanding entertainment was provided during the afternoon by the Anderson family, Pat, Michael, Wendy, Deirdre and Lee, with string instruments and recorders.

Natal Notes

NATAL — Recent visitors to Spokan from Natal to attend the wedding of Mr. Wilbert Heisler, formerly of Natal and the former Miss Ida Ungaro, included Mrs. Silvio Reghenas and sons Peter, Raymond, and Dennis, Mrs. Andy Gianfrancesco, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anselmo, Mr. and Mrs. Alec Letasy, Mrs. Maria Montemurro, Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Ungaro and family and Mr. Robert Ungaro.

Dr. and Mrs. Ron Holub and family have returned to Edmonton after spending two weeks with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holub Sr.

On their return to Edmonton they were accompanied by their parents.

Mrs. Margaret Perchinsky, after spending a one week visit with her family in Natal, has returned to Pincher Creek to take up her duties at Pincher Creek Hospital.

Miss Sheryl Tabor has returned to Sparwood after spending the summer holidays in Vancouver where she visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tabor.

Misses Brisbane and Kathleen Hunter have returned to Vancouver after spending a holiday visit with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Corrigan of Michel.

Mrs. George Winters recently returned to her home in Phoenix, Arizona, after spending a month with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McVeigh of Sparwood.

Larry Robinson's Big Boot Gives Stamps Victory Over Ti-Cats

HAMILTON (CP) — Larry Robinson's second field goal of the game late in the fourth quarter gave Calgary Stampeders a 20-18 victory over Hamilton Tiger-Cats here Tuesday night in a rugged Canadian Football League interlocking game before 25,121 fans.

Robinson's 24-yard deciding boot came at 10:30 of the final quarter after the stampeders had marched from the Hamilton 50-yard line after taking the ball over on a Tiger-Cat punt.

The victory moved the Stamps into first place in the Western Conference, two points ahead of British Columbia Lions and Saskatchewan Roughriders. The Tiger-Cats remained tied for second place in the Eastern Conference with Montreal Alouettes, each with six points — three fewer than Ottawa Rough Riders.

Robinson also converted both Calgary touchdowns, scored by tireless Lovell Coleman and by quarterback Eagle Day.

Bob Gaiters and quarterback Bernie Faloney scored Hamilton touchdowns, while Don Sutherin kicked two converts and four singles. His first single came on the opening kickoff and the other three on missed field goal attempts that might have given Tiger-Cats a victory.

COLEMAN OUTSTANDING

Coleman, the strongboy of the Stampeder backfield, was an inspiration to his mates all evening as he bulled and galloned through the Tiger-Cats for 238 yards in 23 carries—accounting for all but 48 of the Stamps' total rushing.

For the Stampeders, it was a complete reversal from their performance against Ottawa in the capital Saturday when the Eastern Conference leaders trampled them 52-12.

Tiger-Cats, defending Grey Cup champions, jumped into a lead 13 seconds after the opening whistle when Sutherin's kick-off bounced past Calgary halfback Lu Bain, who chased it back into the end zone where he was rouged by Ed Hoerster.

Sutherin added singles at 4:06 and 7:22 on field goal tries missed from 27 and 24 yards out before Coleman exploded over left tackle for 85 yards and a touchdown. Robinson's convert made it 7-3 for Calgary at 13:12.

Harvey Wylie intercepted quarterback Bernie Faloney's pass on the first play of the second quarter and he ran it from the 18 to Calgary's 51-yard line. Coleman cut loose again through a hole in the [illegible] line and romped 47 yards to the Hamilton four. Day went over on a keeper from three yards out on the second crack at the Hamilton line. Robinson's convert made it 14-3 for Calgary.

Robinson booted his first field goal from the 42-yard line at 7:22 of the second quarter after Herman Harrison intercepted a Faloney pass to give Stamps possession on the Ticat 43.

GAITERS SCORES

Hamilton finally got rolling on the next sequence of plays, marching from their own 35 to score a touchdown. A 43-yard pass from Faloney to Tommy Grant, ruled complete at the Calgary 10-yard line after Wylie and Bill Miller were called for pass interference, set up the touchdown.

Faloney tossed a short pass to Gaiters who raced nine yards over the goal line.

Faloney rolled out to his right to score Hamilton's second touchdown from the Calgary six and Sutherin's convert made it 17-17 less than two minutes before the end of the half.

Leafs Rap Bruins 5-2

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs scored three second-period goals and went on to defeat Boston Bruins 5-2 in their second NHL exhibition clash of the season here Tuesday night.

Leafs won the first Saturday at Peterborough 3-0.

Farmhand Gerry Ehman scored twice for Leafs while Billy Harris, rookie Terry Clancy and Jim Pappin added the others.

Both Boston goals came with the Leafs short handed. Rookie Wayne Rivers gave Bruins a short-lived lead at 2:44 of the first period and Tommy Williams scored the other before a minute elapsed in the third period.

Kelownan To Join Nelson Leafs

KELOWNA (CP) — Leftwinger Harvey Stolz of Kelowna, a member of last years Kelowna Bucharoos of the Okanagan Junior Hockey League, will soon report to Nelson Maple Leafs of the Western International Hockey League.

Two other Okanagan players will report to Portland Bucharoos of the Western Hockey League, Bob Giordano, the Kelowna team's general manager, said Tuesday.

Defenceman George Boychuk of Kelown and centre Murray Owens of Kamloops will be given tryouts at Portland.

Boychuk played his early minor hockey here and as a junior with Estevan Bruins. He later served a stint with Calgary of the Western Hockey League in the 1962-63 season.

Owens was a central last year with Kamloops Rockets, B.C. junior champions.

BREAKS RECORD

The U.S. weather satellite, Tiros VII, now has broken the 13-month record of continuous operation; four months is the normal expectation of operability for weather satellites.

Big Kick Gives Top Spot To Robinson

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Defensive halfback Larry Robinson kicked Calgary Stampeders into first place and himself into the same spot in the Western Football Conference scoring race Tuesday night.

Robinson booted two field goals and two converts to boost his point total in nine games to 56, two more than flanker Hugh Campbell of Saskatchewan Roughriders, as Calgary won 20-18 over Hamilton Tiger-Cats in Canadian Football League interlocking play.

Fullback Lovell Coleman scored a Calgary touchdown to move into sixth place with 36 points.

U.S. Defender Wins First Yacht Race

NEWPORT, R.I. AP — Constellation, the U.S. defender in the America's Cup yacht competition, defeated Sovereign, the British challenger, by an overwhelming margin Tuesday in the first race of the current competition.

The unofficial victory margin was 6 minutes, 40 seconds.

The British 12-metre yacht, making a race of it in the early stages of the Olympic-course test, apparently was troubled some by the wash of the spectator fleet during the fifth leg and fell hopelessly back.

As the two craft, under almost ideal weather conditions, started the sixth and final leg the British boat trailed by 4:51.

Both yachts hoisted an affirmative pennant as they drew near the judges' boat, indicating that they were willing to race again Tuesday.

Under the rules, either crew can ask for a layover of a day after each race.

WBA Disciplinary Action Wins Unanimous Backing

VENICE, Italy (AP) — The World Boxing Council Tuesday night imposed a virtual worldwide ban on champion Cassius Clay and former champion Sonny Liston for stepping into the same ring to contest the world heavyweight championship.

A communique issued following a WBC session here unanimously adopted disciplinary sanctions taken Monday against the two fighters and the Massachusetts Boxing Commission by the World Boxing Association. The WBA suspended Clay, Liston and the Massachusetts commission for reaching agreement to stage the world title return match in Boston Nov. 16.

By adopting these suspensions, the WBA closed off a huge slice of the world's boxing rings to Clay and Liston.

The WBC virtually blankets the United States, Europe, Latin America, the Orient and Britain.

The communique said: "The World Boxing Association deplores the action by the Massachusetts commission which approved the return match between Clay and Liston.

ADOPT SANCTIONS

"The council believes that the Massachusetts commission has rendered poor service to sport. It decided unanimously to adopt the disciplinary sanctions announced by the WBA."

VENICE, Italy (AP)—Delegates to the World Boxing Council meeting voiced mystification Tuesday over the decision of the Massachusetts Boxing Commission to stage the world title return bout between heavyweight champion Cassius Clay and Sonny Liston.

From a Filipino delegate, Justiniano Montano of the Oriental Boxing Commission, came outright condemnation. "It is a shame. I cannot understand how Massachusetts could have okayed that meeting," he said.

Ed Lassman, World Boxing Association representative from Miami Beach, Fla., told the congress: "I am very surprised that the Massachusetts body approved that fight."

Lassman added he had cabled Merv McKenzie of Toronto, newly elected WBA president, for further details and would say no more until he received a reply. McKenzie suspended both Clay and Liston Monday as well as the Massachusetts Boxing Commission.

The World Boxing Council is made up of the WBA, the European Boxing Union, the British Boxing Board of Control, the Latin American Boxing Union and the Oriental Boxing Federation.

CAN'T UNDERSTAND IT'

Gen. Melvin Krulewitch, chairman of the New York Athletic Commission, is attending the meeting as an observer. He told a newsman: "I can't understand it, either. Massachusetts voted against the fight at the WBA meeting in Norfolk, Va.—now this."

Meanwhile in New York, the scheduled fight between Doug Jones of New York and George Chuvalo of Toronto Oct. 2 now is being billed as a heavyweight elimination bout and has been changed from 10 to 12 rounds, Madison Square Garden managing director Harry Markson announced Tuesday.

The new billing was approved by Tony Petrocella, chairman of the rating committee of the WBA.

In vacating Clay's title, McKenzie named four candidates for an elimination tournament to determine the next heavyweight champion.

The WBA's top four candidates were 1. Ernie Terrell of Chicago; 2. Cleveland Williams of Houston; 3. Floyd Patterson of Scarsdale, N.Y.; and Jones.

"We've been assured by the WBA that if Chuvalo beats Jones, he'll be moved into his No. 4 rating," said Markson.

Chuvalo, 27, has a nine-year record of 27 triumphs, eigh losses and two draws. Jones, 27, has a 24-5-1 record.

Twins Slap Orioles to Cut Lead; Angels Blank Yanks

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Minnesota Twins dealt American League-leading Baltimore Orioles a stinging 2-1 defeat Tuesday night and, as luck would have it, second-place Chicago White Sox outlasted Detroit Tigers 3-2 in 10 innings.

The results left Baltimore with a bare one-game edge in the blistering league pennant race with New York Yankees dropping 1½ games off the pace under the humiliation of a 7-0 lacing at the hands of Los Angeles Angels.

In the only other league game played, with Washington rained out at Cleveland, Boston Red Sox clobbered Kansas City Athletics 8-0.

In the senior National League meanwhile, Chicago Cubs hammered Cincinnati Reds 6-1, Houston Colts lost 1-0 to Philadelphia Phillies and St. Louis Cardinals took a doubleheader from MilwaukeeB raves 11-6 and 3-1.

Rich Rollins, whose double tied the score in the seventh, tripled home the tie-breaking run in the ninth for Minnesota.

The game-winning hits came off Harvey Haddix, the third of four Baltimore pitchers. Minnesota used six pitchers, with Bill Pleis the winner.

WINS FIRST START

Marv Staehle, making his first appearance at bat in the majors, drove in the tie-breaking run with a 10th inning single that gave Chicago their victory.

Staehle, recently recalled from the minors, pinch hit for Jim Landis with one out and J. C. Martin on third. He stroked Dave Wickersham's 0-1 pitch into left field and Martin crossed with the winning run. Martin had singled, reached second on winning pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm's sacrifice bunt and third on a passed ball.

Dean Chance fired a brilliant two-hitter for his 19th victory and 10th shutout of the season as Los Angeles broke up a pitcher's duel with six ninth-inning runs to crush the Yankees.

Chance, who now has blanked New York three times this year and has allowed the Yankees only one run in 50 innings, had a 1-0 edge over southpaw Al Downing when the Angels struck in the ninth.

Rookie left-hander Ed Connolly blanked Kansas City on two hits and the Boston Red Sox pounded out 14 hits in their victory.

MANTILLA HOMERS

Felix Mantilla's 26th home run capped a four-run fourth inning, giving Connolly all the help he needed. He struck out 12 and walked five.

Dennis Bennett and Jack Baldschun collaborated on a four-hitter and Johnny Callison drove in the game's only run with a sixth inning single as the league-leading Phillies edged Houston.

Larry Jackson became the first 20-game winner in the major leagues this season, hurling the Cubs' victory.

The Reds, their slim pennant chances gradually fading, had the 33-year-old right-hander on the ropes in the first two innings, but Jackson escaped yielding one run and three hits in the first inning and a leadoff double in the second without a score.

St. Louis right-hander Bob Gibson pitched a four-hitter and Julian Javier hit a two-run homer as the Cardinals edged Milwaukee 3-1 in the second game of a doubleheader after belting the Braves 11-6 in the opener.

The sweep enabled the surging Cards to close within six games of the National League-leading Phillies.

DRIVES IN WINNER

Juan Marichal hurled a strong four-hitter and Tom Haller drove in the deciding run with his 10th homer as San Francisco Giants downed New York Mets 3-1.

The victory kept the third-place Giants within 7½ games of the Phillies.

Green Gaels Expect to Take Minto Cup Home

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Oshawa Green Gaels' coach feels the Minto Cup will be returning with his lacrosse team to Eastern Canada, but he doesn't say how much effort will be required.

Jim Bishop commented Tuesday after his team took the first game of the best-of-seven series with New Westminster Salmonbellies by a 15-13 margin.

"I can't really say how many games will be needed to take the cup back home, but I think we can do it all right. I certainly can't imagine our boys taking the series in straight games because the Salmonbellies are much too good for that. But I do think we can outrun them and that should do the trick."

Senior Curling Tourney Planned

MONTREAL (CP)—Canadian curling championship for senior players 55 and older was announced Tuesday by the Dominion Curling Association.

Two rinks from Ontario and one from each of the other provinces will compete in the final, the announcement said. The first tournament is to be held March, 22, 1965, at Port Arthur.

The DCA is to handle arrangements for the national competition. Member associations in the provinces would handle provincial playdowns.

Sam Rothschild of Sudbury will be the competition's co-ordinator and national liaison officer.

Hurler Recalled

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco Giants Tuesday recalled left handed pitcher Ken MacKenzie from Tacoma of the Pacific Coast League.

MacKenzie, a native of Gore Bay, Ont., saw action in 10 games earlier this season with the National League squad before being optioned to the PCL farm club.

In Tacoma, MacKenzie won four games and lost six, with an earned-run average of 3.57.

Minor Hockey Executive To Be Named

Nelson Minor Hockey Association expects to set up a new executive next week as the hockey season approaches. The association held its first meeting Tuesday night and prepared a tentative slate of officers to be presented to another meeting next Tuesday.

H. A. Turik, recreation superintendent, outlined the Civic Centre's plans for cooperation during the season, and Gordon Malcolm gave a report on the coaching school in Vancouver.

A good turnout was reported, but it is hoped more persons will show up next week.

Sutherin Gains Scoring Lead

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Don Sutherin, Hamilton Tiger-Cats' place kicking halfback, vaulted into the lead in the Eastern Football Conference scoring race Tuesday night, booting four singles and two converts to bring his total to 41 points.

Sutherin has 11 converts, eight field goals and six singles in six games. He took over the leadership as the Ticats lost 20-18 to Calgary Stampeders of the Western Football Conference in a Canadian Football League interlocking game.

End Ted Watkins of Ottawa Rough Riders is second with six touchdowns in seven games for a total of 36 points. Ottawa's Moe Racine and Ron Stewart are tied for third with 30 points, and Dave Thelen of the Rough Riders follows with 24.

Toe Blake Happy As 90 Hit Camp

By JOE DUPUIS

MONTREAL (CP) — A huge crop of more than 90 hockey players turned out Tuesday for the opening of the Montreal Canadiens' training camp at the Forum.

Coach Toe Blake, who usually wears a frown even when he's winning, smiled broadly throughout the camp's first workout — a brisk morning skate. The real tough grind begins today with twice-daily workouts.

Canadiens play their first league game Oct. 13 against the Rangers at New York. They play an exhibition schedule of four intra-squad games and 10 exhibitions starting with an intra-squad contest at the Forum Saturday. The first exhibition game is scheduled for Valleyfield, Que., against Omaha of the Central Professional League Sept. 24.

Like last fall, the Canadiens are the last of the six NHL teams to begin training, almost two weeks behind the Toronto Maple Leafs, first to open camp.

TRAIN TOGETHER

The usually large turnout is accounted for by the fact that Omaha and Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League are combining their training camps with the Canadiens. However, all the players will be given a chance to make the parent club.

All last season's players are back with the exception of Bernie Geoffrion, who has retired to coach the Quebec Aces of the AHL.

Geoffrion's right wing spot is about the only wide-open position on the team. But Canadiens have promising candidates in Yvan Cournoyer, the Junior Canadiens star last year who scored four goals in five-game trials with the Habs; Claude Larose, Jim Roberts, Terry Gray and Leon Rochefort.

Jean Beliveau, the big veteran centre who sparked the Canadiens to the NHL championship last season, skated like a rookie.

THUMB LIKE NEW

Sophomore winger John Ferguson had a summer operation on his left thumb, gashed by a skate in Boston last winter, and said the thumb was like new again.

Four goalies donned pads for the first skate — regular netminder Charlie Hodge, Venezina Trophy winner last season, Gump Worsley, Jean-Guy Morrisette and Ernie Wakely.

Blake said this year's team represents the youngest he's ever coached. "The only thing I can look forward to is improvement," he said.

WINS $172,726—Mrs. Froner happily kisses her husband of four months, Robert, age 22, after it's announced his twin double ticket at Roosevelt Raceway, Westbury, N. Y., wins $172,726—the largest twin double payoff ever made.

Vatican Given Part Authority In Hungary After 15 Years

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican and Communist Hungary signed an accord Tuesday giving the Vatican at least partial administrative authority over the church in that country for the first time in 15 years. It paved the way also for the eventual transfer of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty to Rome.

Within minutes after the announcement, the Vatican press office said Pope Paul VI had named five new bishops and confirmed one bishop selected by Pope John XXIII but never approved by Hungary.

Vatican officials said the timing indicated the appointment of the new bishops was part of the accord, and that Budapest had approved their nomination.

The vatican has had no administrative direction over the church in Hungary since the convention of Cardinal Mindszenty on charges of treason 15 years ago.

STILL A REFUGEE

But the status of the Cardinal was left unsettled in the new accord, and Vatican sources stressed that he remained in refuge in the U.S. legation in Budapest. He took refuge there during the abortive Hungarian revolt in 1956.

The partial accord was regarded as a major step forward in relations between the church and Hungary, and could affect relations between the church and other communist countries, as well as between Washington and Budapest.

The fate of the 72-year-old cardinal has figured in negotiations between the church and the communist regime, and also in talks between Washington and Budapest.

The trial of the Cardinal in 1949 was a sensational one. He made a confession, but during his few days of freedom in 1956 he told an interviewer he had been tortured before the trial.

A fiercely proud man, the cardinal has shown no intention of obtaining freedom at the expense of either his dignity, or that of the Roman Catholic Church.

Roman Catholic officials have long been anxious to resume appointments of bishops in vacant Hungarian sees and win more direct control over Catholic affairs there.

NEW BISHOPS NAMED

With Tuesday's accord, Pope Paul VI named these new bishops:

1. Most Rev. Endre Hmavas, until now Bishop of Csanad, named Archbishop of Kalocsa. He is also president of the Hungarian episcopate.

2. Rt. Rev. Msgr. Jozsef Bank, named auxiliary bishop of Materiana and auxiliary to the bishop of Gyor.

3. Rt. Rev. Pal Brezanoczy, named titular bishop of Rotaria, and continues as apostolic administrator of the Archdiocese of Eger.

4. Rt. Rev. Msgr. Jozsef Cserhatic, named titular bishop of Melzi and apostolic administrator of the diocese of Pecs.

5. Rt. Rev. Msgr. Jozsef Ijjas, named titular bishop of Tararata and apostolic administrator of archdiocese of Csanad.

In addition the Pope confirmed the nomination by Pope John of Most Rev. Jozsef Winkler as titular bishop of Dadima and auxiliary to the Bishop of Szombathely.

Queen Has Confidence In Security Measures

LONDON (CP — Another warning that the Queen's life may be in danger during her forthcoming Canadian visit was published in London Tuesday but Buckingham Palace shrugged it off, saying the Queen had complete confidence in Canadian security measures.

The Daily Mirror, a mass circulating tabloid gave double-page prominence to a Montreal report by Anthony Miles who described the Quebec situation as "ugly" and "explosive."

"The spectre of a 'second Dallas' hangs threateningly over this restless, defiant French-Canadian province of Quebec," he wrote. "Many responsible Canadians speak openly of their fear that the Queen might be in danger when she comes here."

The Queen, accompanied by Prince Philip, flies to Canada Oct. 5. A palace spokesman said there is no indication of any deluge of British public concern over the visit.

The Queen, he added, is moving ahead with plans for the visit which will take her to Charlottetown, Quebec and Ottawa. The Queen is acting on the advice of her Canadian ministers and is giving no consideration to any suggestion of cancelling the trip, the spokesman said.

Appeal Entered For Test-Ban

GENEVA (Reuters — The eight neutral members of the 17-nation disarmament conference Tuesday appealed to the major nuclear powers to extend the present partial nuclear test ban to underground explosions.

A joint memorandum submitted to the conference said the neutrals appreciated there were differences among the nuclear powers on identification and verification of underground tests, but they did not consider these insurmountable.

They urged the nuclear powers "to take all immediate steps toward an agreement to ban all nuclear weapon tests and to discontinue all such tests."

The memorandum was submitted by Brazil, Burma, Ethiopia, India, Mexico, Nigeria, Sweden and Egypt.

Banks Appeal Thrown Out

MONTREAL (CP) — Hal C. Banks did not appear in court Tuesday and his appeal of a conviction and five-year prison sentence for conspiracy to beat up a rival union official was dismissed.

Joseph Nuss, Banks' lawyer, made no submission when Chief Justice Lucien Tremblay of the Quebec Appeal Court called for the case to be heard.

The Crown asked that it be dismissed.

"I suppose we should take the proper procedure and call the accused," Mr. Justice Tremblay said. "But I suppose there's not much chance he'll appear," he added with a grin.

The clerk called Banks' name on the building loudspeaker. There was no response. Then Mr. Justice Tremblay announced the case was dismissed.

NEGROES ENROLL WITHOUT FUSS

UNIVERSITY, Miss. (AP)—The University of Mississippi announced two Negroes enrolled Monday for the fall semester in quiet contrast to rioting which accompanied racial desegregation here in 1962.

The university said Cleveland Donald, who began his freshman work during the summer term, was joined by Irvin Walker, another freshman.

The university news service said the two would room together.

"Nobody paid any attention to them," said Pat Smith, director of the news service.

Desegregation reached the university two years ago, when James Meredith, a 29-year-old Negro won a federal court order directing the university to admit him.

Since then, Cleve McDowell won admission and roomed for a time with Meredith before Meredith graduated a year ago. McDowell was expelled for carrying a pistol, which dropped from a pocket on the campus. He has been turned down in efforts to gain re-admission.

Meanwhile 33 Negro first-graders quietly began classes in all-white schools in Jackson, under federal court orders. There were no incidents.

At Philadelphia, a photographer was struck with a blackjack Monday when he attempted to take pictures during Negro voter registration in that racially tense community.

SALT IN ROADS

REGINA (CP)—The Saskatchewan Highways Department has started an experiment in the use of salt as a stabilizer in road construction. The process, in which salt is mixed with road-building materials to prevent the road base from shifting as a result of traffic and weather changes, has been used with some success in the U.S.

MARKET TRENDS

NEW YORK (AP) — Motors and steels led an early stock market assault on new highs Tuesday but the advance faltered and the stock list backed away into an irregular decline.

Volume swelled to 5,700,000 shares from 5,360,000 Monday and was the largest since Aug. 5 when 6,210,000 shares changed hands.

Chrysler once again was the most active stock. Early in the session it registered a gain of 2¾, but by the session's end it had sunk to 64⅞, a net loss of ¼, on impressive volume of 341,800 shares.

Traders took profits ruthlessly, however. Some of the profit-taking was attributed to the start at sundown of Yom Kippur, the high Jewish holiday, which some observers believe will lead to a less vigorous market today.

Another factor which disconcerted some investors was the report of wildcat strikes at Ford that began shortly after bargaining talks were resumed between that company and the United Auto Workers.

STEELS HIT HIGHS

All four of the top steelmakers touched new highs for the year in early trading. By the close these market wheelhorses presented a mixed pattern. Bethlehem, third most active stock, held a gain of ¾ at 41. U.S. Steel was off ¼ at 61⅜. Republic Steel was up ¼ and Jones and Laughlin down ¼.

In early dealings, the Dow Jones industrial average was up as much as 2.34, which would have put it at a new high had that level been held. The indicator relapsed to a loss of 3.70, closing at 862.54.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 1.1 to 322.3.

Of 1,371 issues traded, 660 declined and 472 advanced. New highs for the year totalled 59 and new lows 27.

Beneath the surface of the declining blue chips, a definite increase in speculative activity appeared to be developing among the low - priced and medium - priced issues. Despite the general market setback, nine of the 15 most active stocks were gainers, five declined and one was unchanged.

Among Canadian issues, Dome Mines advanced ⅜, McIntyre Porcupine ⅝. Aluminium Ltd., and Canadian Pacific were off ¼, Distillers Seagrams ⅛, Granby Mining ⅜, International Nickel ¼.

MONTREAL (CP) — Stocks were off fractionally on the Montreal and Canadian Stock Exchanges Tuesday.

Trading was moderately active with industrial turnover at 228,200 shares and mines and oils at 762,800 shares.

Composite fell 0.3 on index to 152.1 as declines outnumbered advances 96 to 88.

Industrials were off 0.2 on index. Moore Corp. lost 1½ to 54½ and Chemcell ¼ to 16⅛. Canada Cement and Dominion Textile added ½ each to 47½ and 29 and Asbestos and Imperial Tobacco ⅛ each to 24¾ and 14⅛.

Banks were off 0.2 at 131.7 and papers off 0.1 at 143.0. Although Fraser and Great Lakes advanced ¼ to 31¾ and 26½.

Utilities were up 0.2 at 145.2. Trans-Canada Pipe Line added ¼ to 42¼ but B.C. Telephone and CPR lost ⅝ each to 66¼. Dosco advanced ¼ to 18¾ and Primary metals were mixed. Dosco advanced ¼ to 18 and Dominion Bridge ⅛ to 20½. Canada Iron Foundary lost ¼ to 39¾ and Aluminium, Dofasco and Stelco ⅛ each to 31⅛, 24⅜ and 25½.

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market declined in only moderate trading Tuesday with speculative action heightening toward the close. Losses were mainly fractional, but a handful of issues scored impressive gains in heavy volume.

The drop was caused by profit-taking after last week's record-breaking rise. No one group led the fall, but drops seemed scattered across a wide front.

Typical among slipping issues were Great Lakes Paper and Walker-Gooderham, both off ½ to 26¼ and 36¼ respectively. Consumers' Gas and Calgary Power both slipped ⅛ to 12½ and 24⅛.

In oils, Shell and Husky fell ¼ each to 18¾ and 10.

Not all issues suffered. Rothmans and Imperial Tobacco gained ⅞ and ⅛ respectively to 20⅛ and 14½. Both issues reached new highs Tuesday, still on the impetus of Monday's news that prices of 1,000 cigarettes for both firms would be increased by 40 cents. Volume in both stocks was heavy.

Among other issues that reached or equalled 1964 highs was Greater Winnipeg Gas.

Senior base metals were strong throughout the session and established a new index high of 69.01 for the 15-stock metals index at the 2:00 p.m. EDT compilation of the barometer. Hudson Bay gained ¾ to a new 1964 peak of 71¾ but Inco slipped ⅜ to 87⅝.

Senior western oils were also active and strong. Hudson's Bay rose ¼ to 16¼ and Home A ⅛ to 17⅞, but Home B fell ⅛ to 18.

The industrial index dropped .52 to 161.45 and the TSE index .42 to 150.73. Golds gained 1.61 to 138.30, base metals. .22 to 68.80 and western oils .08 to 95.24. Volume was 3,438,000 shares compared with 3,840,000 shares traded Monday.

Resolution by U.B.C. Adopted By Canadian Students Union

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Union of Students Tuesday voted 25 to 1 to reject a Laval University resolution that the union dissolve itself and reform into parallel French and English operations.

This action is expected to induce the withdrawal of Laval, last of the French - language Quebec universities in the union before the union's 28th congress ended Tuesday night.

The university's student council voted Friday night to withdraw if its resolution was defeated.

The resolution also proposed that the CUS recognize the founding committee of the Union Generale des Etudiants du Quebec (Quebec General Union of Students) as representatives of students in that province and establish in the parallel unions "an office of Canadian affairs to assure the practical collaboration necessary among all the students of Canada."

The council adopted a resolution by the University of British Columbia that in matters of education, representations to provincial governments should be made by universities in the provinces concerned.

The resolution also said that when dealing with the federal government, the union should give equal standing to the minority viewpoint as it gives to its own official outlook.

"If we go as one union of all Canadian university students, we are in a better position to push for the divergent views of several provinces," said the representative of the University of British Columbia students' council.

The congress unanimously adopted a resolution deploring South Africa's apartheid policy and urged economic boycott of the country.

The University of British Columbia, which had walked out when the matter was raised in the international affairs commission rather than vote on this resolution, cast its vote in favor saying its viewpoint had been discussed sufficiently.

The university had contended there was no reason to single out South Africa and that the resolution could have serious consequences not immediately evident to the delegates.

Paving of Alcan Highway To Be Proposed at Parley

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Paving of the Alcan Highway will be proposed Wednesday to President Johnson and Prime Minister Pearson by Governor Tim Babcock.

The Canadian and U.S. leaders will rendezvous in Great Falls for a flight to Vancouver for ceremonies in connection with the Columbia River Treaty.

Babcock and governors of Idaho, Washington, Oregon, California, Colorado, Arizona and Nevada have been invited to witness the ceremony.

The Republican governor said he telephoned Senator Mike Mansfield (Dem. Mont.) in Washington, D.C., to propose that the two leaders discuss the highway. He said Mansfield promised to approach Johnson on the subject.

WOULD DRAW TOURISTS

Babcock said a paved road would be a tourist attraction favorable to both the U.S. and Canada and would open further opportunities for commerce. The road links the U.S. with Alaska across Canadian soil.

A U.S. commerce department survey was started in October, 1963, to determine requirements for keeping the highway open and well-maintained. Results of this survey are expected this fall.

The 2,600-mile gravel road, heading north out of Shelby, Mont., goes to Edmonton, Dawson Creek and eventually to Fairbanks.

It originally was opened as an inland supply route during the Second World War.

Pay Incentive Quickens Pace

WASHINGTON (AP — The U.S. labor department says that longshoremen at the port of Galveston, Tex., work too hard, but that they like it and don't want to change.

One of a series of department reports said Monday:

"It cannot be in the best interests of the health of the men to carry on hard physical labor at such a pace all day, much less day after day."

But the report also disclosed that the men in Galveston resist any efforts to add more men or slow the pace of work. In addition, there is no seniority system, and the union wants to keep it that way.

The reason for the situation in Galveston, the department report said, is a unique pay incentive system in loading cotton.

"Men who are able to stand the pace . . . can earn as much as $6 to $10 per hour," it said, adding:

"The gang's speed is, presumably, dictated by its desire to make as much money as possible in the least amount of time."

New Young Adult's Programme Created by Church Council

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—The United Church general council scuttled its young people's organization and created a new young adults program Monday in one of its busiest days since the 21st biennial meeting began last week.

To be known as Kairos, the Greek word for "meaning-filled time," the new organization will have a new philosophy as well as a new name. A report to the council by the board of Christian education had recommended the change.

Kairos had been in existence only a few hours Monday when it announced to the council that it had come to agreement with the Anglican Young Peoples Association of Canada to hold their biennial conferences as a joint meeting in 1966.

The theme of the new organization is to be "new era, new order and new life."

Another measure presented Monday, which was expected to result in a sweeping change of the United Church's geographical system, was deferred for at least two years when the council meets again.

MUST PASS MEDICAL

In a hotly debated session Monday, the council approved a recommendation that ministerial candidates pass a stiff medical examination before being admitted for ordination.

Also approved was a recommendation that students asking to enter the United Church ministry from schools outside Canada be required to take additional training if their standards are not considered by the board of colleges to be on a par with Canadian accredited theological colleges.

A report on ecumenical council affairs that cautiously recognized the efforts of the United Church and other Christian churches toward world union was heard by the council. "Our ecumenical experience with other churches with whom we seem to have more in common than with the church of Rome, serves to sober our judgment about the possibilities of growth toward church union," the report said.

"However, we believe that we must interpret the readiness of large numbers in the Roman church to seek after unity through repentance and renewal as a sign of movement of God's spirit in the church."

The council was told by the committee on chaplaincy that all United Church chaplaincy vacancies have been filled in the last two years. There now are 57 ministers serving 100,000 United Church people in the armed forces, the report said.

The council session ends Thursday.

Formal Writ Against Birds Necessary

CRANFORD, N.J. (AP)—If you sign a formal complaint against a pigeon in this township the police will go out and shoot him, but not before.

The police had planned an all - out shooting war against the birds, but pigeon-holed this approach because letters and telephone calls flowed in from protesting bird lovers.

Now, says public safety commissioner, Edward Gill, the police will ask residents to sign a formal complaint against the pigeons, who have been held responsible by homeowners for extensive property damage.

Along with the complaint, Gill says, the citizens must sign a release absolving the municipality from any damages incurred during the shooting.
