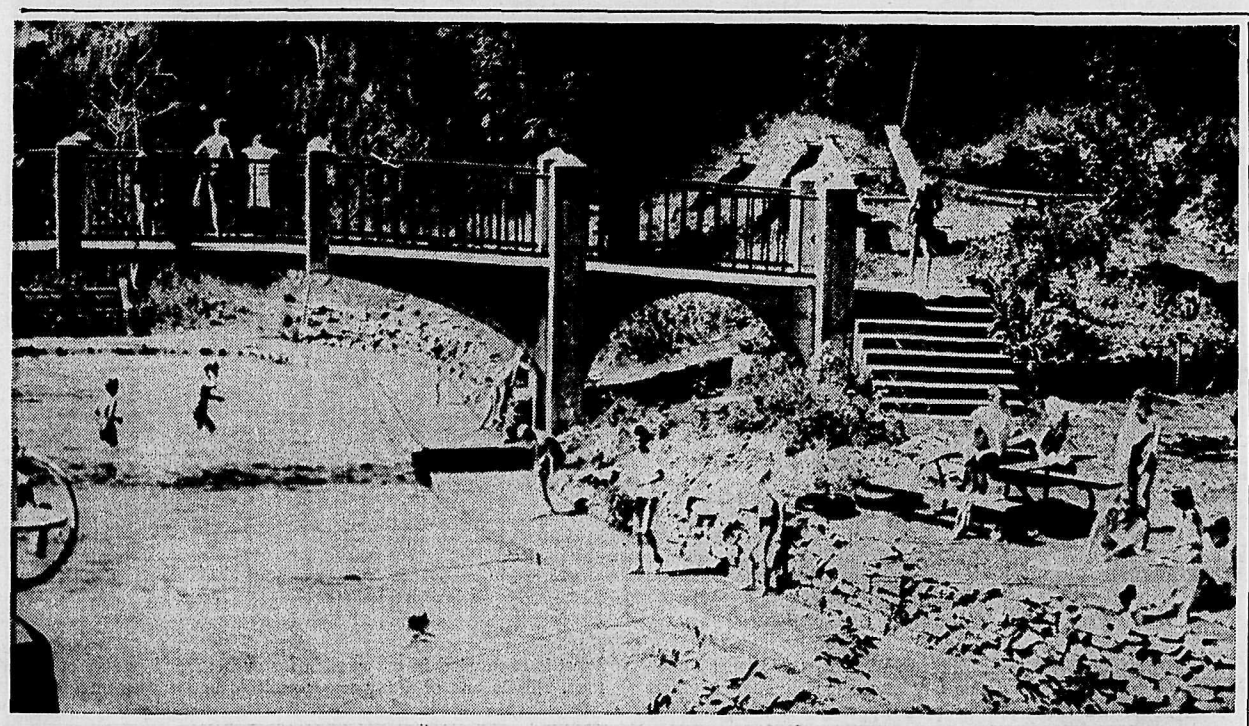
GREECE, MAKARIOS AT ODDS



WITH AUGUST WELL ON THE WAY, the realization that there is less than a month of holidays left, sends children scampering to the fun spots to make the most of the precious time. Climbing temperatures of the past few days have made such spots as Gyro Park a mecca for adults and children alike. There is nothing quite like a refreshing dip for the water-minded and shady areas of the park provide pleasant places for parents to pass the time of day while keeping an eye on the small fry.

Parliament Tuesday

By The Canadian Press

The Commons gave final approval to the new tax-sharing arrangements by which the provinces will get an extra four per cent of personal income taxes over the next two years.

Two Liberals — Forestry Minister Sauve and Toronto backbencher Ralph Cowan — got into a private argument over Quebec during debate on tax-share arrangements.

Lloyd Francis (L — Carleton) said the present arrangements with the provinces go as far as it is possible for the federal government to go.

Opposition Leader Diefenbaker suggested Mr. Francis was stating government policy; it would sentence the provinces to financial strangulation.

New Democratic Leader Douglas said the government has abandoned the principle of equalization by taking account of resource revenues in its new equalization formula.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The agriculture department Tuesday forecast this year's U.S. production of wheat at 1,285,261,000 bushels.

Athens Not Consulted On Attack on Villages

NICOSIA (AP)—A serious split between Greece and President Makarios was reported from Athens Tuesday night as the Greek-Cypriot leader declared he would fight on "alone or with others" to victory in Cyprus. But in view of Turkish air raids on Cyprus, Greece pledged full support for the Greek-Cypriots.

Athens government-controlled radio said the Greek-Cypriot attack on Turkish-Cypriots in northwest Cyprus last week was launched without consultation with the Greek government, as previously agreed upon.

The attack brought air raids by Turkish jets on the Greek-Cypriots, precipitating a situation that threatened war between Greece and Turkey, members of the Atlantic Alliance.

Athens radio said the Greek-Cypriot attack on the Turkish-Cypriots so alarmed Premier George Papandreou of Greece that he sent a cable to Makarios saying: "I express my deepest sorrow because we have agreed differently and you have acted differently."

The split may have been behind the hasty trip to Athens Tuesday by Spyros Kyprianou, Greek-Cypriot foreign minister. He met with Papandreou and afterward a communique said Greece pledged full support to Cyprus in case of an attack by Turkey.

ATHENS IN SUPPORT

Athens radio said "in view of the barbaric (Turkish) bombing of the non-combatant population, the Athens government decided in an extraordinary session to throw its full weight in support of Cyprus."

With Makarios again talking of fighting, UN experts in Nicosia said the UN cease-fire could vanish in one explosive puff.

The same sort of word came from a western diplomat in Ankara, who said "the situation is hanging by a thread."

Makarios himself declared in a radio broadcast the Greek-Cypriot people are determined to fight on—"alone or with others".

In Athens, Kyprianou said there will be no withdrawal, adding:

"Greek-Cypriots are ready to die to the last man or win."

Similarly the Cypriot envoy to London, Ambassador Antis Soteriades, told British reporters the Greek-Cypriots will not yield to the Turks "even if it means a third world war." He conferred with Soviet Ambassador Alexander A. Soldatov and said the Russian was "very sympathetic indeed."

ONLY THE BEGINNING

On the other hand, Turkey's air force chief said the weekend raids on Cyprus by Turkish jets were only a beginning.

The chief, Gen. Irfan Tansel, declared in Ankara that heavier blows will be pounded on the Greek - Cypriots unless they "follow the straight road" toward a settlement of the crisis that has developed from their feud with the island's Turkish-blooded minority.

Turkish jets maintained reconnaissance flights over Cyprus to keep watch on the disposition of Greek-Cypriot forces. Turkey wants them to pull out of three Turkish - Cypriot villages and to drop encirclement of Kokkina, all in a coastal area ranging from 30 to 65 miles west of Nicosia, the capital.

(Meanwhile, Reuters news agency reported from Ankara that Turkish Premier Inonu had sent Greek Premier George Papandreou a message Monday urging Greece to join Turkey in seeking an agreement "within a month" to solve the Cyprus problem.)

Informed sources in Ankara said Turkey was going ahead with military preparations as a precaution.

MP Says Quebec's "Fervent Fecundity" Upsetting Federal Tax-Sharing Plans

Anybody Want An Alligator?

MONTCLAIR, N.J. (AP)—Michael Baricevac started out to catch a fish Monday, stopping off at a pond on the way home from work.

Instead he caught a bullfrog, and then he caught an alligator which later ate the bullfrog.

Baricevac pulled them in with his fishing line about an hour apart in Crystal Lake.

He's wondering what to do with the alligator, which he guesses was once a tiny pet that someone tossed into the lake. It's 21 inches long now.

"It's vicious," the fisherman said. "I put it in a garbarge can with the frog and it ate the frog. The alligator snaps at me whenever I get near it."

His wife, left in charge of the reptile Tuesday, said she dumped it from the garbage can into a small fish tank.

She said she understood an alligator's growth is limited by environment.

"Put him in something small, and he won't grow bigger than the enclosure. That's why I put him in a small tank. And he's trying to get out of that now."

Mrs. Baricevac said they kept the alligator temporarily because "there's no sense in letting him die."

But she doesn't want to find out if her theory about the reptile's growth is true. She is looking for a pet shop that wants an alligator.

Economist Says Ottawa Can Go No Further On Provincial Demands

By KEN KELLY

OTTAWA (CP)—Two Liberal backbenchers stirred up a hornet's nest in the Commons Tuesday by arguing that the federal government has gone as far as it should to meet provincial demands for revenue sources.

Lloyd Francis, an economist and former senior civil servant who represents the Ottawa-area riding of Carleton, touched off the first round as the House debated a bill to give effect to new tax-sharing arrangements with the provinces.

He said the present arrangements go "as far as it is possible for the federal government to go in terms of making concessions to recognize provincial requirements for more revenues."

Ralph Cowan, maverick MP for the Toronto-area riding of York-Humber, aimed most of his remarks at Quebec, saying "there is a limit at which forebearance ceases to be a virtue."

"Our forebearance has gone far enough."

Finance Minister Gordon said he's inclined to agree with Mr. Cowan. Past and present tax-sharing formulas weren't perfect but a 265-member House of Commons was too large to find a perfection solution.

ATTACKS ASSERTIONS

However, Forestry Minister Sauve attacked assertions by Mr. Cowan that Quebec is not really a "have-not" province to which equalization payments should be made.

Mr. Cowan had argued that Quebec's "fervent fecundity" distorted the per capita basis on which equalization payments to the provinces are calculated. Mr. Sauve countered with birthrate statistics indicating that since 1941 Quebec's birthrate had declined while Ontario's had risen until they were almost equal in 1961.

Mr. Cowan marshalled a *string of statistics and quota*tions from Quebec government publications in support of his contention that Quebec is really not a "have-not" province.

Mr. Sauve accused his Liberal colleague of selecting only statistics which fitted his argument and quoted others from federal government sources.

Earlier, Mr. Francis argued it is a myth that a centralizing government at Ottawa has strangled the provinces. Tax-rental agreements eliminated a tax jungle and, in turn, made possible national development.

NOT BEING CENTRALIST

It was not being centralist to insist that Ottawa protect its money and banking powers, control immigration, represent Canada in foreign affairs, trade and international development policies.

There was no thought of the federal government taking over provincial responsibilities in education, property and civil rights.

"It would be equally disturbing to our national growth and prosperity for the provincial authorities to undermine federal powers."

But in between the clear federal and provincial powers was a "grey area" of shared powers, such as health and welfare grants. It was fashionable to talk about opting out of shared-cost programs.

The problem was that provinces wishing Ottawa to quit these fields wanted compensation in additional revenue source or abatement of taxes levied by the federal government.

Providing such compensation might destroy basic federal functions by impairing the federal government's flexibility in taxation.

The provinces should be told Canada cannot exist as a nation if basic federal responsibilities, such as money and banking, currency and national development, are undermined. Extension of provincial powers would lead to impoverishment of all.

New Democratic Leader Douglas said the government has abandoned the principle of equalization by taking resource revenues into account in its new equalization formula.

"Everybody's equal, but some (provinces) are more equal than others," he said.

Mr. Diefenbaker described the equalization formula as a "monstrosity." Its effect was to place British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan in secondary position in relation to other provinces.

Restaurateur Resists With Axe Handles

ATLANTA (AP)—A white restaurant owner, who has resisted racial integration by brandishing a gun and furnishing customers with axe handles, refused again Tuesday to comply with federal court orders to admit Negro customers in his establishment.

Lester Maddox, operator of the Pickrick Restaurant, brought out more axe handles and said if he is forced to close he would turn the restaurant into headquarters for "The Americans for Goldwater for President."

U.S. Income Tax Cut Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson held out hope Tuesday for another income tax cut eventually while declaring that the military strength of the United States is going to be kept at a peak.

The president said this before the same audience which heard Senator Barry Goldwater say Monday that the Democrats have so depleted the "arsenal for the defence of freedom" that the United States faces the prospect of going into the 1970s without a single new manned bomber and a possible 90-per-cent reduction in deliverable nuclear capacity.

Johnson spoke to 3000 members of the National Association of County Officials and wives and children on the south lawn of the White House.

"Our resources are committed, our sacrifices are made, our vigil is maintained," Johnson said, "so that there shall be no win for aggression in our times."

Whereas Goldwater told the association members in one of their sessions Monday that "we are fearful that the peace is being permitted to slip away," Johnson said:

"Since 1961 we have worked very hard to strengthen the hopes for peace. That is — and that must always be — the first work of our land.

"We have also worked to strengthen our preparedness, for only the strong can be brave in the pursuit of peace."

Cease-Fire Violation Charged by Cyprus

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Cyprus brought a charge Tuesday night of violation of the United Nations cease-fire before an urgent session of the UN Security Council.

Turkey counter-charged that Cyprus was trying to destroy efforts to restore peace on the embattled Eastern Mediterranean island.

The sharp exchange occurred at a council session requested by Zenon Rossides, the Greek-Cypriot ambassador.

He asked the council to approve a resolution "deploring this conduct" by Turkey which he said threatened the cease-fire established in response to a council appeal.

Turkish Ambassador Erhan Eralp declared there are hopeful signs now that peace can be restored on Cyprus.

He said that Turkish Premier Ismet Inonu had just dispatched "a warm and conciliatory message" to Greek Premier George Papandreou declaring it is possible to reach a settlement within a month.

He read out the text of the message to the council.

Eralp described as a fabrication the charges made by Rossides, and added that the aim of the government of Archbishop President Makarios "is to throw a monkey wrench into the machinery" and prevent peaceful solution.

Rossides was the opening speaker.

Dimitri Bitsios, the Greek ambassador, said he had received reports confirming that Turkish planes had violated Cyprus air space Tuesday. He said the question before the council is whether this constituted violation of the cease-fire.

CALL FOR REPORT

He called on Secretary-General U Thant to report to the council on the charges made by Rossides.

Thant replied that reports from Gen. K. S. Thimayya, the UN force commander, said two Turkish jets made three runs over Polis on Monday and that an initial estimate put the casualties "not in excess of 10."

He added that he had reports from Thimayya that a number of Turkish planes flew over Cyprus Tuesday but fired no shots.

Thant said also that UN investigation disclosed that supplies were landed from two Turkish motor boats spotted in Kokkina harbor Monday.

Rossides said the air attack on Polis was made to terrorize the population.

He charged also that the Turkish vessels violated territorial waters of Cyprus by landing supplies early Monday.

Platon D. Morozov, the Soviet delegate, recalled that Premier Khrushchev said in a message to Thant that Greek - Cypriots and Turkish-Cypriots must solve their problems themselves without foreign interference.

He said that all foreign troops must be withdrawan from Cyprus, in order "to remove a hotbed of tension."

In a statement addressed to members of the council Monday night, Thant said he saw no useful purpose in submitting at this time a report on the recent fighting prepared by Thimayya.

Thant said he was appealing to the governments of Cyprus, Turkey and Greece and to the Turkish community on Cyprus to extend full co-operation to Thimayya in efforts to maintain peace. He welcomed the acceptance by Turkey and Cyprus of *the council's appeal for a cease*fire.

The Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia supported Cyprus' request for the council meeting.

Thant released a letter to Premier Khrushchev in which the secretary - general pledged he would continue to do his best to promote a peaceful settlement of the Cyprus problem. It was in reply to a message from Khrushchev asking that the UN do everything possible to halt bloodshed on the island and avert dangers to world peace.

Boy Sent for Mental Exam

HALIFAX (CP) — Two young victims of a bicycle-riding gunman were buried Tuesday, a few hours after their accused slayer was arraigned in police court here on charges of capital murder. A third boy, shot through the face, is recovering in hospital.

Edward Thomas Boutilier, 18, of Halifax was sent to the Nova Scotia Hospital for 30 days mental examination after he appeared in court. The three separate, and seemingly motiveless shootings, occurred in the fashionable south end of the city Saturday night.

The dead boys were buried in separate funerals Tuesday afternoon — Gordon Hartling, 11, in Halifax and James Squires, 12, at Chester, 40 miles southwest of here. Michael Smith, 12, survived.

LOSE TELEPHONES

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver Park Board decided Monday to follow the lead of city council and stop paying the telephone bills of its top employees. The board voted unanimously to let 20 supervisors pay their own bills. The move will save the board about $1200 a year.

Woman Saved in 17-Storey Plunge

NEW YORK (AP)—Hundreds of New Yorkers watched a grim and awkward parody of aerial acrobatics 17 storeys above 37th Street and 7th Avenue Tuesday, as a woman's life literally hung in the balance.

The spectacular drama began when Mrs. Beatrice Miller, 60, plunged from the roof of an 18-storey building at 501 7th Avenue. In a one-in-a-million coincidence, her feet crashed through a small window that slanted outward from the 17th floor like the cross stroke of the letter N.

The impact slammed the window shut and Mrs. Miller's fall was abruptly broken. Her legs were wedged in the window while the rest of her body, arms spread wide, dangled high above the street.

Workers inside the building seized her legs to secure her until police arrived.

Then began a delicate rescue operation as Mrs. Miller screamed, "I don't want to die, I don't want to die."

CRAWLED ALONG LEDGE

Emergency squad Patrolman James Hannan, 36, crawled from a nearby window and made his way along a four-inch ledge, secured only by a life line attached to a fire escape. He reached Mrs. Miller but, because of her weight—150 pounds —and the need to cling to the building with one hand, Hannah was unable to do more than reassure the woman.

Eventually, emergency squad Patrolman Richard Powers, 39, made his way along the same narrow ledge from the other side of Mrs. Miller.

Using one hand each and clinging to the building with the other, the patrolmen gingerly raised Mrs. Miller's body to the ledge. Then they reopened the broken window and freed her legs. Finally, they eased her head first into the building.

"The rescue took something more than 20 minutes, but it seemed like 20 years," Hannan said.

Mrs. Miller, who lives in Jersey City, suffered only lacerations of the legs.

She was admitted to St. Clare's Hospital in satisfactory condition.

Police said Mrs. Miller apparently fell from the roof, but they offered no explanation as to what she was doing there.

RCAF Reserves Proposed As Air Support To Army

OTTAWA (CP)—A new role for the RCAF Auxiliary in peace and war has been proposed to the government by a commis*sion appointed by Associate* Defence Minister Cardin.

The commission, headed by retired Group Capt. J. W. P. Draper of Toronto, suggested the most effective role for the Auxiliary is that of army air support.

"This would provide mobility and tactical and logistic support to the Canadian army units or militia brigades in a training function in Canada during peacetime, or in full military service anywhere in the world as required by the (defence) minister," it said.

The report of the RCAF Auxiliary commission was made pub*lic Tuesday by Mr. Cardin along* with one by a Royal Canadian Naval Reserve commission which opposed any further reduction in naval reserve strength. The commissions were appointed after Defence Minister Hellyer announced plans last year to reduce the strength of reserve forces.

The RCAF Auxiliary commis*sion proposed five roles for the* Auxiliary as an army air support unit:

1. Movement of small fighting or specialist parties into, within and out of localized operational areas using light aircraft such as the Otter.

2. Close support of ground forces with training - type aircraft capable of making air-to-ground attacks.

3. Photo reconnaissance in support of ground forces using present equipment and with infra-red and electronic equipment a possibility in future.

4. Air-to-air and air-to-ground communications.

5. Moving of men, material and equipment to support ground operations within a forward area.

And in This Corner . . .

DANVILLE, Va. (AP)—Owners of small foreign cars are a harassed lot. They are bumped and crowded and constantly ridiculed.

Julian Thompson was dealt the supreme insult — his was swept up with the trash.

The car was parked in the Nordan Shopping Centre here when the centre's janitorial service sweeper came around the corner of a building and gave it a brush.

The car was knocked up onto its side, receiving an estimated $600 damage.

Said the sweeper operator: "I just didn't see it."

LONDON (AP)—Pub owner Alfred Marvin said he would defy a 129-year-old British law and publicly fight a bull next Sunday.

"I'll defy the Royal Society for Cruelty to Animals and the bull," said the publican.

The bull is a full grown Jersey from Hampshire County. Marvin, 46, plans to fight it on the lawn of his pub to raise money for his pet charity, cancer research. He's hired a matador's outfit complete with sword.

"I've been told the bull's a friendly animal," said Marvin. "However, nobody can predict how a bull will behave in front of a noisy, excited crowd."

He said he expected a paying audience of several hundred.

Asked if he planned to kill the bull, he replied:

"I will only be nasty with him if he's nasty with me."

Bull fighting has been illegal in Britain since 1835.

Said a spokesman for the RSPCA:

"If Mr. Marvin insists on disregarding our warnings against fighting the bull, we'll take the strongest possible action."

The publican replied:

"I'm dead against all forms of cruelty and I can't see how any's involved in this case. I stand a good chance of being gored."

Marvin — who's never fought a bull before — has been warming up by making mock passes at his pet ram, named Bimbo.

IWA Recommends Acceptance Of Conciliation Officer Proposals

The International Woodworkers of America Regional Policy Committee has recommended to southern Interior lumber workers the acceptance of proposals made by conciliation officer R. S. Raguin for settlement of the dispute with their employers.

Regional first vice-president Jack McKenzie, spokesman for the IWA negotiating committee, stated that the terms for renewal of the present master agreement which expires August 31, will be immediately submitted to a membership referendum for approval.

Mr Raguin recommended an across-the-board wage increase of 37 cents an hour in a three year contract. This will raise the present base rate of $1.89 an hour to $2.26 an hour. An additional 20 cents an hour wage increase is proposed for tradesmen in 21 categories before application of the general wage increase.

Women and boys employed in box and box veneer factories are offered an increase of 33 cents an hour over the contract period.

FOUR STEPS

The increase in wages will be made in four steps. Starting Sept. 1, 1964, the wage will be raised 10 cents an hour subsequently followed by nine cents on June 1, 1965, nine cents on March 1, 1966 and another nine cents on Dec. 1, 1966.

Tradesmen will have an increase of 10 cents on Sept. 1, 1964 and Sept. 1, 1965.

A total of between five and six thousand lumber workers are affected by the proposal. It is expected that the IWA membership ballotting will be completed by Aug. 24.

A spokesman for the IWA said that the proposed settlement deals only with the negotiations between the IWA and the Interior Forest Labor Relations Association. The employers who bargain independently are expected to follow the pattern set by the central negotiations.

OTHER PROPOSALS

The settlement proposals also include: one additional paid statutory holiday (Boxing Day); three weeks vacation with pay for five or more years service; four weeks annual vacation for 20 or more years service; overtime rates for all Sunday work; pay days every second week; improved seniority and job posting rules; improved travel time provisions for loggers; job evaluation with accelerated curve in plywood plants; liberalized probation period; apprenticeship training program; amended arbitration procedure; provision for swing shifts; a joint manage committee to deal with category rate provision contraction out of travel time; equalization of rates; and amendment to the Health and Welfare plans.

Regional President Jack Moore said: "The recommendation for acceptance was made in recognition of the fact that the gap between southern Interior and coast rates and conditions would be substantially narrowed. The policy committee was convinced that the maximum contract improvements possible through negotiation had been proposed owing to the conditions of employment in the Interior lumber industry and early settlement of the dispute would be in the best interests of the lumber workers."

KELOWNA (CP) — The executive board of Kelowna Local 1-423 of the International Woodworkers of America (CLC), Tuesday rejected the contract settlement proposal of provincial conciliation officer R. S. Raguin.

Earlier in the day, Jack Moore, regional president of the IWA, urged workers to accept the proposal which provided for a 37-cent-an-hour increase in a three-year contract.

Bill Schumaker, president of the Kelowna local, said the proposal was rejected because it fell far too short of the union's original demands.

The Interior Forest Labor Relations Association, which bargains for most of the major employers in the area, still has not announced its position in the proposed settlement.

Mr. Schumaker said that union was also against the proposal because they didn't want to be restricted to a three-year contract.

He described the proposal as unsatisfactory and disappointing.

Nelson Scouts Complete Six-Day Adventure Hike

The Third Nelson Scout troop recently completed a gruelling 6-day Adventure Tour to Kokanee Glacier Park which started from Nelson.

The first leg of the trip started from a portion of the Enterprise Creek road. After a lunch-stop, a further hike was made to Tanal Lake where an overnight stop was made.

The following morning, after breakfast, the troop moved on to Kaslo Lake. During a brief stopover some of the troop visited the Canadian Olympic skiers at Slocan Chief Cabin.

Kokanee Lake was the next step in their program where the scouts managed to have an eventful time skiing on their boots, down a 1000-foot slope.

On the glacier a cloudburst sent the troop scurrying for what cover there was. Consequently some of the slower members received a drenching.

The next day the troop split into two groups, one heading for Sapphire Lakes and the other Slocan Chief Cabin to explore the surrounding area.

A feature of the day was a supply drop, on target, by Don Thomson flying a PWA Beaver. The troop members watching this supply drop enjoyed this novel way of getting their food and supplies.

During the tour, some of the scouts were stricken with 'flu and it was only due to their scouting training that the workload and heavy duties were divided among the non-stricken members.

The last day of the tour proved to be sunny. Scoutmaster Gordon Fleming at the start of the hike fell victim to a sprained ankle but made the best of it. The long hike down Nilsik Creek proved to be tiring but all members arrived in good shape at the final staging point at Lemon Creek, where M. Goddard of the parks branch loaded the members on transport back to Nelson.

S. Langille Passes at 85

Solomon Langille, 85, Rossland oldtimer, died in Kootenay Lake General Hospital Tuesday.

Born in River John, Nova Scotia, in 1879, he came to Rossland in 1907 to work for the Canadian Pacific Railway, then as a fireman for the city of Rossland. He retired in 1935 and moved to Crescent Valley, and in 1949 moved to Nelson.

He is survived by two sons, James and George of Spokane; one brother, George; and one sister, Mrs. Tabetha McIntyre, both of Yearton, Pennsylvania; and two grandchildren.

Only 10 Forest Fires Burning

The forest fire situation in the Nelson Forest District continues to remain favorable.

No new fires were reported in the district Tuesday, leaving 10 fires burning ,all of which are under control. Eleven men are being employed to combat the fires. Hazard in the district is rated low to moderate.

Figures released by the B.C. Forest Service show the number of fires and operating cost are down from last year. On August 7 there had been 199 fires in the Nelson district compared to 239 in 1963. Estimated cost for this year is $16,400, compared to last year's $21,400.

To date in the province there has been 878 fires, costing $82,700. This is far below last year's 1,439 fires and $261,200.

DDT Spray May Have Been Poorly Mixed

KAMLOOPS (CP) — Government analysts say that a batch of DDT based mosquito spray, which was believed to have caused a patch of dead and wilted plants and trees near here, was mixed properly.

"We're just up a blank wall, government entomologist Colin Curtis said Tuesday. "We have submitted soil samples to see if something in the soil caused the vegetation to wilt, but it may be months before anything is known."

The vegetation began to wilt shortly after a helicopter sprayed DDT on an area half a mile by three-quarters of a mile and it was thought the DDT had been improperly mixed, causing the damage.

Employment Picture "Bright"

VANCOUVER — The employment picture in British Columbia at the present time is the brightest it has been for several years, reports Lesle T. Fraser, regional director, Unemployment Insurance Commission.

"During the month of July," he stated, "our National Employment offices in the Pacific Region placed 25,470 persons into jobs, nearly 4000 more than the corresponding month a year ago." The Nelson office placed 153 persons compared to 131 in July, 1963.

"Further evidence of the present bright employment situation is that already B.C. is experiencing some shortages of certain types of qualified labor. In fact, as far as the demand for some highly skilled tradesmen and professional personnel are concerned, we are finding it necessary to try to recruit them from other regions across the country," the regional director said.

Trail's Olympians Welcomed

U.S. Envoy To Inspect Columbia

VICTORIA (CP) — The U.S. ambassador to Canada and Premier Bennett of B.C. Tuesday congratulated each other on the statesmanlike achievement of the Columbia River Treaty.

"We congratulated the other on what a statesmanlike achievement it was," said W. Walton Butterworth during his first official trip to Canada's west coast since his appointment by the late President Kennedy two years ago.

Mr. Butterworth, who spent an hour in the premier's office with Mr. Bennett and Avery Peterson, U.S. consul in Vancouver, said the main theme of the discussion was the Columbia River Treaty. He said discussion had been purely informal.

He said other topics had included B.C.'s resource potential and the "close ties among B.C. Washington and Oregon."

The ambassador and Mr. Peterson will meet Lieutenant-Governor George Pearkes today. On Thursday, they will fly into the B.C. Interior for an aerial inspection of the Columbia River Basin.

Accompanying them will be Hugh Keenleyside, co-chairman of the publicly-owned B.C. Hydro and Power Authority, Charles Kinney of the Bonneville Power Administration, and John W. Milligan, executive assistant to the chief engineer of B.C. Hydro.

MOBY DOLL OFF HUNGER STRIKE

VANCOUVER (CP) — Moby Doll appears to have started eating — at least, live fish dropped into her pen last Saturday have disappeared.

Nobody has yet seen the 2½-ton killer whale actually eating anything, but a whole school of live ling cod dropped has disappeared, as have five large salmon and a live octopus.

Whale-sitter Sam Burich said Tuesday some of these may still be at the bottom of the pen, but added that it is unlikely he wouldn't see them while sitting on his raft in her pen.

Moby Doll has not been seen to eat since she was captured last month.

ANTI-RED BANKER DIES

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Robert N. Donner, 72, former Philadelphia investment banker who devoted his time after retirement from business to fighting communism, died Sunday in his home after a long illness. He founded the Donner Foundation and was an official of the American Security Council, privately-financed anti-Communist groups.

Civic Dignitaries Gather at Airport

Trail residents turned out in force Tuesday to welcome Dianne Gerace, Jill Guillame and Jerry Moro on their return from the Olympic trials held in St. Lambert, Que.

The returning athletes were welcomed at Castlegar airport by Mayor Joseph Palyga and civic dignitaries, including members of the Chamber of Commerce.

In presenting tributes to the athletes, Mayor Palyga said that Trail was proud to number among its citizens such fine athletes. On behalf of the community he wished them every success in the Olympic Games to be held in Tokyo.

The mayor pointed out that in order to secure a membership on the Canadian delegation Jerry Moro had to beat out a fellow Trailite, Bob Yard.

Action on Sons Awaits Bonner

AGASSIZ (CP)—Reeve James Fraser said Tuesday he is awaiting word from the attorney-general's department before urging Kent municipal council to act on the problem of Sons of Freedom Doukhobors camped on municipal land.

Some 500 members of the sect erected a shack town in the municipality near the Agassiz Mountain Prison last fall to be close to brethren serving sentences for acts of violence near the sect's home in the Kootenay area.

The reeve made his comment after Coun. John Brouthall asked Mr. Fraser to make public plans to alleviate the problem.

Council had earlier set a July 15 deadline for the Doukhobors to get off municipal land, but no action was taken.

Reeve Fraser said he had talked with Attorney-General Bonner concerning the problem on a trip to Victoria July 15, and was awaiting word from him before taking any action. He said a special council meeting will be called when word is received.

"Basis of Settlement" Reached

WINNIPEG (CP) — A union spokesman said Tuesday night a "basis of settlement" has been reached in a contract dispute involving about 2000 nickel workers at Thompson, Man.

Brian Koshul, publicity chairman for Local 6166 of the United Steelworkers of America (CLC), said proposals for settlement with the International Nickel Company of Canada Limited will be released today.

Union negotiators have agreed to recommend the terms of settlement to the membership, Mr. Koshul said. A membership meeting on the proposals would be held as soon as possible.

Madras Graduate Joins Faculty Of Notre Dame

Appointment of S. P. Viswanathan to the faculty of Notre Dame University of Nelson has been announced by Rev. Aquinas Thomas, SA, president.

Mr. Viswanathan, who will join the department of physics, is an honors graduate of Madras University where he received a B.Sc. He holds an M.Sc. degree from the University of North Carolina, and has completed additional graduate work toward a doctorate at UNC.

He was formerly a demonstrator in physics at Government College, Mercana, India; physics lecturer, Madura College, Madura, India; teaching assistant at the University of North Carolina; and visiting teacher at North Carolina College.

In the Courts

Charles Laplante, a minor, of Nelson pleaded guilty before Magistrate William Evans in city court Wednesday for possession of liquor and was fined $35 and costs.

Segni Condition Improving

ROME (AP) — President Antonio Segni, fighting partial paralysis and a speech impairment, was reported showing considerable improvement Tuesday in his general condition.

Doctors said the 73-year-old Segni was able to take nourishment orally. They reported that his breathing and pulse were regular, that his temperature was 99.5 and that he had spent a tranquil day. Segni was stricken by a cerebral stroke Aug. 7.

The medical bulletins did not say whether there had been any change in the paralysis and impeded speech that attending physicians reported Monday. Following that report, the government named Senate President Cesare Merzagora as temporary chief of state.

MELANIE WELLANDER . . . Fernie Regatta Queen.

Nelson Miss Named Fernie Regatta Queen

FERNIE — Miss Melanie Wellander, of Nelson, won the title of Regatta Queen from six other contestants Saturday afternoon at the 3300 Club Regatta at Rosen Lake, 30 miles west of Fernie.

The regatta was held in conjunction with Fernie's 60th anniversary celebrations. Big event of the anniversary years takes place Aug. 15, when Chief Big Crane of the Kootenai Indian Band from the Grasmere Reservation near Fernie, will lift a legendary curse from the city. The big Indian celebration begins at 11 a.m. with a parade, while the ceremony to lift the curse will begin at 1:30 p.m.

The curse is blamed for the history of fire, famine, flood and mine disasters which have plagued Fernie since the turn of the century.

Presbyterian Draft Supports Pacifists

FRANKFURT (Reuters) — Delegates of the 19th general council of the World Presbyterian Alliance have approved a final draft calling the church to support Christians driven by their convictions to conscientious objection to military service, it was learned here Tuesday.

"The church must ensure spiritual and, if necessary, material support to those Christians driven by their convictions to conscientious objection to military service," it was said in the report, to be submitted to a plenary session for approval Thursday.

Koolaree Echoes

Mrs. Audrey Stevenson announced that the Senior Girls Camp has once more come to a sensible conclusion. It ends with all thirty one girls going home, tired, dirty, wet, dishevelled, or sometimes weepy. The last ten days were a successiion of social successes.

On July 29 Koolaree was honoured with a brief visit from the first Women's Division of the RCMP. This contingent was sparklingly uniformed in sweat shirts and blue jeans ,and thrilled the assembled with a musical ride (on brooms), a gym display (finger exercises) and an original detective skit ably acted by Sarge. Medi-Care, Constables Pickle-Puss, Mush-Mouth, Dick Lacy and Greasy Kid.

The final supper was one of social splendor. Candles were present and the guests arrived all dressed fit to kill — and a few of them were. We enjoyed the company of Liz and Dick, Adam and Eve, the Beatles, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, Minstrels, Tarzan and Jane, The Good Samaritan and the Beaten Slave, Red Riding Hood and Grandma, our Hawaiian natives and a musical bleach bottle brigade and two Dennis the Menaces.

You have undoubtedly heard of the Calgary Stampede's famous breakfasts. Our own Chapel Beach chomp was equal in every respect. They, the camp cooks, tried cooking the meal over the barbecue chimney but the smoke came out the chimney just the same. The lucky campers that shared this meal took the morning to wash the soot off their hair, clothes, face and hands.

On a clammy day, we baked our clay. The mud gathered on a special safari to the uttermost ends of the railroad tracks — Tearful and her Purple Onyuns took this great trek and returned to camp with much mud. Our campers played pattie cake and the results were pots, ash trays, vases and still more clay.

Sports note: This is of such magnitude that we felt it should make our social column. Our own Meekee, who is all heart, upheld the honor of senior girls camp with a record that we feel should stand for years in the future. She patrolled the water sports from the water on a 27-foot log which she walked a total of 119 times. So all log birlers beware—we have a champ — ready and willing to compete to uphold the honor of Koolaree.

We felt you would all be interested in our bats. Our bats are clever, they live in our 'battery' and in our belfry too. They have certainly livened up life for Cabin 6 this year.

The leaders are a hardy bunch —hot water bottles and extra blankets are the order of the day. They often walk through camp with no lights at night: many barked shins but it served their purpose.

We had a touch of arson the other night. We are truly helpless females when it comes to lighting the gas lanterns and our own dear Sarge Medi-Care lit the hospital with a fine glow. She, being the soul of resourcefullness, remedied the situation with wet towels, etc. Hazel Mushmouth was in on this conflagration.

Lebanese Sailor Beserk At Sea

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The U.S. Coast Guard awaited word Tuesday from a Lebanese ship which radioed that one man had been stabbed to death and another crew member injured.

The coast guard said it received a message Monday night from the freighter St. Nicholas of Lebanese registry saying that her boatswain had fatally stabbed one crew member while he slept, hurt another and was terrorizing the rest of the crew with a knife.

The spokesman said no further word was received from the ship after the initial message.

The St. Nicholas' master gave the ship's position as 2,000 miles north west of Honolulu, headed for Japan.

The coast guard also radioed the names and positions of six other ships which might have a doctor aboard in the area.

Kennedy Creates Office To Study Federal Law

NEW YORK (AP)—Attorney-General Robert F. Kennedy has announced that an office of criminal justice will be established within the U.S. department of justice to make a critical review of the fairness and effectiveness of federal law enforcement.

He says the new office will help "ensure that the department over which I preside is more than a department of prosecution and is in fact the department of justice."

Kennedy disclosed his plan Monday in a speech to the criminal law section of the American Bar Association on the opening day of the association's annual meeting.

The attorney - general named Professor James Vorenberg, 36, of Harvard law school as the first head of the new office.

Kennedy did not give details on the duties of Vorenberg and his staff. Included in their general assignment will be improving the handling of such matters as federal arrests, providing counsel for the poor and psychiatric examination of prisoners.

Children Suffocate In Unused Fridge

CHICAGO (AP)—Last winter, Leamond L. Fuwell, 29, bought a new refrigerator and put the old refrigerator on the back porch of his apartment. He tied the door shut with plastic-coated clotheslines.

Last Friday, three small children of George Hartman, 30, who lives in the basement apartment beneath the Fuwells, climbed into the old box. The door closed, and the children died.

An inquest jury decided Monday, Cynthia Hartman, 4, and her brothers, Joseph, 5, and Marty, 6, died accidentally.

The inquiry established no evidence as to what happened to the rope which Fuwell tied around the old refrigerator.

The deaths point up a safety problem which affects children everywhere. It has not been solved despite federal legislation which has required push - out doors on refrigerators made since 1958, and state laws requiring that doors be removed from discarded refrigerators.

Fuwell's refrigerator had not been discarded. It was just idle, and stored on his property.

Each year, a dozen or more children die of suffocation in idle refrigerators. In 1962, the toll reached a high of 35.

Russians Biased At Disarmament Conference

GENEVA (Reuters) — Britain has accused the Soviet Union of a "one - sided approach" to the question of setting up a special group to study the elimination of nuclear missiles.

John Tahourdin, British delegate to the 17 - nation disarmament conference, told Tuesday's session the group must be open to discuss all proposals and not just the Soviet plan as the Russians insist.

Tahourdin said it is hard to understand how the Russians justify their proposal to eliminate almost all nuclear missiles at the outside of disarmament as a compromise.

It is, he said, a step backwards—as they had first said they were prepared to discuss other proposals but now insist that their plan be the only one before the special group.

Prairie Briefs

CROPS DAMAGED

OLDS, Alta. (CP)—Heavy hail damage to crops was reported in a narrow strip 15 miles long and two miles wide about 10 miles southwest of here, some 50 miles north of Calgary, following a weekend storm.

BONES FOUND

EDMONTON (CP)—A human skull and several other bones were uncovered Monday at the Edmonton water treatment plant where workmen are digging an excavation. Police said the bones could be 100 years old and said there was no possibility of the skeleton being that of any person recently reported missing.

Fisherville Mayor Leads College Group On Geology Field Trip

CRANBROOK — The mayor of Fisherville, 100-year-old ghost town on Wild Horse Creek which is so ghostly that even its exact location is uncertain, had the opportunity Sunday to tell Mayor George Haddad of Cranbrook where to look for gold in the creek. He was F. J. Schadegg, chairman of the geology-geography department of Western Washington State College at Cheney, heading a graduate student party of 35 on a two-weeks field trip.

The field party in the wilds of the last mile of the Dewdney Trail of which Fisherville was a terminal, were examining rock formations, trees and taking notes on Wild Horse Creek history, when the Mayor of Cranbrook and Mrs. Haddad paused in their car to ask the way to the sluicing grounds. Cranbrook background commentator for the student party, A. W. Hunter, promptly appointed Mr. Schadegg, Fisherville mayor, to present the keys to the city and a diagram of how to reach the gold-bearing gravel.

The student party also toured Kimberley industrial operations Monday under Cominco guidance before continuing north to Kicking Horse area.

Controversial Mayor Present For Vernon Council Meeting

VERNON (CP) — Vernon City Council moved quickly and quietly through business Monday night in 60 minutes. Mayor E. C. Rice was in the chair.

Council passed a motion for the acquisition of property for the building of the civic centre complex. Ald. Harold Thorlakson was told none of the property involving the Okanagan pioneer commemorative society building or the new fire hall location was involved. The motion was carried by a 4-1 vote, Ald. Eric Palmer voting against it.

For the fifth consecutive week council deferred a motion to modify the civic building site by excluding the area for the society's proposed commercial - recreation structure and including a parcel of land to the east of the north corner for the fire hall. Council is awaiting further information from the group on their building.

Council heard four resolutions put forward by Kelowna and Penticton for presentation at the Okanagan Valley Municipality Association meeting in Armstrong Aug. 20.

Three resolutions were drawn up by Kelowna involving the Public Utilities Commission, controlled access highways and lack of action by the legislature on resolutions of the 1960 planning committee of the Union of B. C. Municipalities.

Penticton's resolution was connected with the Family and Children's Court Act and what it calls its general lack of coherency. The resolutions were tabled for study in committee.

Kaslo Boat Officers Returned

KASLO — All last year's officers were returned at the annual meeting of the Kaslo Boat Club. Chief items of business under discussion were lighting of the walks and a club flag.

It is hoped to have four lights installed on the walkway; two paid for by the club, one by the department of transport and one by the B.C. Forest Service.

Officers for 1964-65 are Commodore Jack Morris, captain B. F. Palmer, mate Ernie Augustine; directors are C. White, A. Jardine, S. Nofield, C. Clarke, George Baker and W. Higgins.

DRAGNET OUT FOR SABOTEURS

BANGKOK (AP)—Police said Tuesday they have begun to round up Cambodian nationals suspected of espionage and agitation in Thailand. Twenty-four arrests were reported.

The arrests were announced as the United Nations chief of cabinet, C. V. Narasimhan, arrived from Phnom Penh to talk with Thai officials about relations between Thailand and Cambodia.

Gen. Prasert Ruchirowong, director-general of police, told reporters the roundup was directed against suspects who "have been conducting espionage, carrying out agitation among Thai villagers, and attempting to destroy the Thai nation."

Recent border incident apparently prompted the dragnet.

WORK CONTINUES

PENTICTON (CP)—Work on the road from here to Carmi has resumed with the volunteer road builders expecting to finish later this week. More than $2,000 was donated to hire machinery to clear a 20 mile road through the bush to the small community.

FINED TWICE

NANAIMO (CP) — Helmut Schaede of Chemainus accepted a transistor radio in part payment for a firearm. He has already been fined $50 for selling the firearm without a permit, and in his latest court appearance another $50 for being in possession of goods imported into Canada illegally—the radio.

FEVER BLAMED

MISSION (CP)—Police Monday blamed hay fever for a costly weekend traffic mishap here. They said a car driven by Neil Vonada of Seattle struck a utility pole when Mr. Vonada sneezed. Damage to the auto and a trailer he was pulling has been estimated at $3,400.

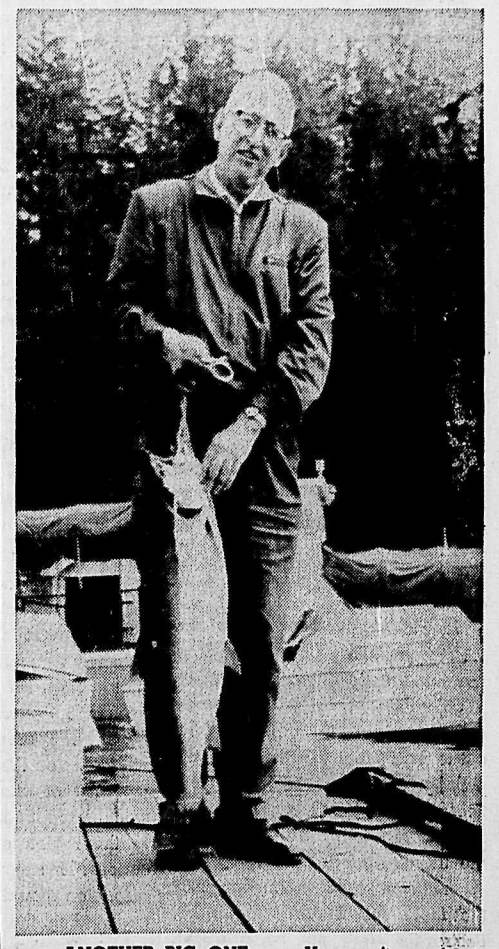
Junior's Jail Term Taught a Lesson

LONDON (AP) — Frank Instone called police last weekend and told them to arrest his son, Nicholas, 17, for taking the family car without permission. He refused to post bail for his son and the boy remained in jail until a court hearing Tuesday.

"It's heartbreaking for a father to see his son in court, but I had to do it in an effort to give him shock treatment," the father said. "He's been mixing with undesirables."

The court agreed with the father's point of view, put Nicholas on probation for two years, banned him from driving for six months and fined him £5 ($15).

"I'm sure of one thing," said Nicholas. "I'm never going to do anything again that'll land me in those cells. I didn't like them. When they shut me in I got claustrophobia."



ANOTHER BIG ONE . . . You can't convince Dr. F. L. Wilson of Trail that the big Rainbow trout don't bit during the summer months. He took this 14½-pounder at Kaslo last Friday evening on his Barco spoon. Two weeks ago Dr. Wilson landed an 18-pound Rainbow.

Cork Province Mine Employees to Resume Work Soon

KASLO — De-watering of the Cork Province Mine is nearly completed.

Officials expect work will resume in the mine by Sept. 1 and that 35 to 40 men will be on the company's payroll.

Indications are of good showing of ore at the present levels.

Molybdenum Assays "Exceptional" Near Rossland

VANCOUVER (CP) —Torwest Resources Ltd., reported four additional drill holes on its property near Rossland showed "exceptional assays" of molybdenum.

R. W. Falkins, secretary of Torwest, said four holes drilled previously averaged .792 per cent molybdenum, a space-age metal used in specialized steel manufacture.

The latest four drillings showed one hole with 1.431 per cent molybdenum, he said.

"We are drilling towards an extensive area of mineralized breccia. This could be the source of widespread molybdenum mineralization which covers a length of 1200 feet and a width of 200 feet on the surface."

Bennett a Millionaire —In Supporters Only

VICTORIA (CP) —Declaring that he is a millionaire in terms of supporters only, Premier Bennett Monday rejected a proposal by Liberal members of the legislature that they split a $10,000,000 investment to start a new bank.

Liberal Gordon Gibson of North Vancouver proposed last week that he and Premier Bennett each put up $5,000,000 to start the Bank of British Columbia. The pair would sell their shares in a year and the shareholders would name a board of directors.

He said the proposal would overcome objections to participation by the Social Credit government in the proposed bank which has not yet received approval from the Senate.

Mr. Bennett commented that Mr. Gibson is a millionaire from money.

"I'm a millionaire as far as people, supporters, are concerned.

"I take it as a great compliment but I will have no coalition with the Liberals."

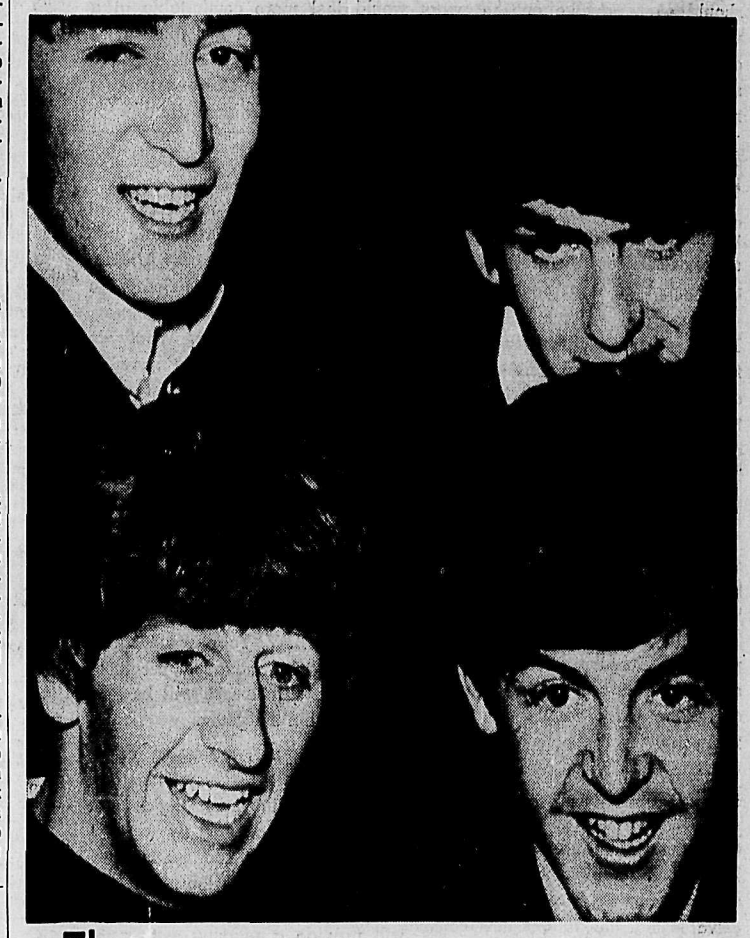
Mr. Gibson said later that he will help the government in any way to get the bank started. He would make the government a new offer.

"We need the bank. There's no politics involved in my offer. I just want to see it get started. The only thing standing in the way of our getting a federal charter is Bennett himself and the Quebec Creditistes.

"Bennett insists on having political control over the bank. The Quebec group clings to weird Social Credit money ideas. Neither is acceptable to the federal government."

The 13 Creditiste members of Parliament have said they will block acceptance of applications for federal charters from the proposed banks of Western Canada and Laurentide unless the British Columbia application is approved.

The B.C. Legislature has passed legislation that permits the government to hold up to 25 per cent interest in the Bank of B.C.



The BEATLES

In the autumn of 1963, the world watched with fascination the phenomenal rise to fame of the zany British singing group, The Beatles. The four young men who make up the group sport bizarre haircuts, cuban heels and speak with strong Liverpool accents. Weary of U.S. domination of the Hit Parade, the British were eager to accept the home-grown Beatles. The combination of electronic guitars, strident voices and unshorn locks proved irresistible to the young on both sides of the Atlantic. A Weekend Magazine color photofeature from London anticipates the arrival, in Canada, of The Beatles, one of the greatest gold strikes in the annals of pop music.

Cause of Peace Strengthened

The North Vietnamese asked for it and they got it. They committed aggression against United States naval patrol ships on the high seas and the U.S. navy replied by putting their torpedo boat fleet out of action.

If the North Vietnamese and their Communist Chinese backers have any sense at all they will let it go at that. They probed deeply to find out how the U.S. would react to belligerent interdiction of the Gulf of Tonkin. They found out speedily and definitely. The U.S. is in no mood to be trifled with. So the trifling had better stop.

President Johnson made clear that the unprovoked attacks on U.S. destroyers were not being seized upon as an excuse for a general and all-out U.S. assault on North Vietnam. The U.S. bombing missions were limited in nature and carried out solely to put an end to further surprise attacks on U.S. naval units. The choice now remains with the initiators of the coastal engagement as to whether this is to be the beginning or the end of direct warfare between the U.S. and North Vietnam.

President Johnson also made clear to the Communists that the long-drawn-out effort by North Vietnamese-sponsored land forces to conquer South Vietnam will be resisted to the uttermost. Furthermore, the bombing of North Vietnamese PT-boat bases by U.S. carrier planes has made clear to the Hanoi plotters how vulnerable they are to destruction by U.S. aerial might if they should ever provoke outright war with the world's most powerfully armed nation. Indeed, the whole series of regrettable incidents may serve a useful purpose, in the end, by bringing home to the North Vietnamese and Chinese leaders the futility of continued attempts to subvert and take over the Southeast Asia peninsula.

There was every justification for the swift retaliatory action ordered by the president. Had one of the attacked American destroyers been sunk, with a los sof American lives, even more stern measures might have been ordered. Any sign of weakness on the part of the U.S. in the face of attacks of this nature would have made what peace exists in the region only the more precarious. This show of U.S. power and resolution should serve to strengthen, not weaken, the cause of peace, not only in Southeast Asia but in other crisis-prone places around the world.

Unasked for, but unquestionably useful politically in an election year, the occasion has provided President Johnson with a remarkable opportunity to enhance his national leadership image. He has presented himself to the country as a man capable of making clear and bold decisions, as one with a firm and steady hand on the helm in time of international danger, yet a man capable of exercising restraint and not likely to rush headlong into dark corners where disaster may lurk.

What manner of reaction would have been provoked on a man like Senator Goldwater if he were leading the nation under similar circumstances can only be guessed. The likelihood is that most Americans would feel more comfortable at a time like this with Mr. Johnson in the White House than with the ebullient senator from Arizona making the decisions.—Calgary Herald.

A Farce or Force

The 1964 conference of Commonwealth prime ministers lived up to advance notices by producing no spectacular news or development.

As a Tory writer in the London Times called the Commonwealth "a farce", its future usefulness is clearly controversial. Probably it has a future but this is still undefined. All one can be sure of is that it will not be the kind of future some people once predicted or hoped for.

To get a perspective, it is worth recalling that these PMs' meetings are not an innovation but have been going on regularly since the 1880s.

In earlier times the assembled potentates debated such grand and even majestic projects as common citizenship and currency, unified defence and foreign policy, complete internal free trade, and even an Imperial Parliament.

If there was ever a time when these dreams of the unifiers could have been realized, that time has gone irrevocably. It is not even conceivable that the nations now comprising the Commonwealth will ever again be as cohesive a military group as they were in two World Wars.

Considering the drastic changes in the world power map and in Britain's relative strength since the 1940s, it no longer makes sense to think of the Commonwealth as a potential "third force" or indeed as a bloc of any kind. Each member is now pursuing its own foreign, commercial and military policies and has its own allies. Canada, conspicuously, is allied with the U.S.

If this is conceded once and for all, it will be possible to take a clear-eyed, unsentimental look at Commonwealth's future.

Prime Minister Pearson's initiative in proposing that the Commonwealth should proclaim racial equality was admirable. Considering that the 18 governments represented at London included four Asian, two West Indian and seven African, bridging the color gap is clearly an assignment the Commonwealth may, and should, undertake. What we need now is a blueprint showing how genuine practical equality may be brought about.—Financial Post.

Stretching Room

From two sources there have been suggestions recently that houses will soon be vastly different in design and construction from what they are today. Dr. R. V. Yohe, president of B. F. Goodrich Canada Ltd., predicted in Toronto that houses will be half plastic within ten years.

Russell Lynes, managing editor of Harper's Magazine, predicted in New York that the increasing amount of leisure time enjoyed by workers will lead to drastic changes in housing styles. Houses in the future will be built around leisure areas that will provide a relaxing setting for idling time away. Rooms such as kitchens and dining rooms will serve several purposes.

Until the revolution comes for North American housing, we should like to see a return to the old days when the living room was bigger than a garage. Some of the new houses offered for sale have living rooms suitable for several purposes — clothes closet, photographic darkroom, mushroom patch or telephone booth.

A house with a large recreation room does not need a large living room, admittedly, but the householder without a recreation room spends a large portion of his life in his living room. He should be able to stretch and get some of his leisure on the couch.

CCF Leader States

Saskatchewan Liberals Have False Set of Values

TORONTO (CP) — Former Premier Woodrow Lloyd of Saskatchewan charged Tuesday that the new political era in the Prairie province has 19th century ideals that place the dollar ahead of the people it serves.

"Those who really believe this is the 20th century—lost," the CCF leader said, referring to the CCF's loss in the April 22 provincial election that elected a Liberal government under Ross Thatcher after 20 years of CCF rule.

Mr. Lloyd told the annual convention of the Ontario New Democratic Party that the new Saskatchewan government has shown itself to be one "operated on the naive faith that the affairs of men are somehow managed best by 'the invisible hand' of a mythical free and competitive market.

"I mean government which enshrines the dollar as the only means of measuring value and which accepts the financial balance sheet as the only method of drawing a conclusion," he said.

Mr. Lloyd said the emphasis of the Liberal government has been to spend less money, reduce staff and curtail programs.

SEES INFERIOR CARE

"If, as a consequence, the sick, the old, the helpless receive inferior care as they are doing; if people lose the chance to work as they must do; if valuable trained and experienced staff leaves as they have done, these don't reflect in a balance sheet where values are counted only in dollars."

Mr. Lloyd said the Thatcher government already has ordered the CCF - instituted, publicly-owned Saskatchewan Power Corporation to increase its profit 10-fold, something the CCF government could not have done and given essential power to one - third of Canada's agricultural area, and has threatened to increase medical insurance premiums.

He said the medical premiums have been $1 a week for families with the balance paid out of sales and income tax. Now the Liberal government has threatened to impose "deterrent fees" for either hospital care or medical care or both.

"Such extra charges are taxation," he said. "They are taxes falling most heavily on the poor, the sick, the old. They would make possible the decreasing of taxes based on ability to pay."

Mr. Lloyd quoted an Ottawa Citizen editorial which said the CCF's electoral defeat came, not through the desertion of its supporters, but through a reground-ing of its enemies.

SAME PERCENTAGE

"Our candidates received approximately the same number of votes and approximately the same percentage of the popular vote as did the Liberals who elected eight more members," he said.

"A switch of less than 200 votes in five constituencies would have given us a majority in the legislature."

Mr. Lloyd told delegates that 500,000 Canadian families earn less than $3,000 a year and said the problem of poverty must be met by more public action, not less.

"More massive public investment in special ways rather than less public investment will be essential. More intensive and extensive public planning . . . is an absolute requirement," he said.

"The industrial system, as we know it, the methods of allocation work, the means of providing access to the production of labor and resources, have been inadequate in the last 10 years and will be more inadequate in the next 10."

Text of the address was issued to the press before delivery.

WINNIPEG (CP) — Jack Froese, lone Social Credit member of the Manitoba legislature, said in an interview he would vote against any proposed sales tax for the province.

P.E.I. Seafood Plant Will Ship Abroad

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP) — A proposed fish and frozen food plant at Georgetown on Prince Edward Island's east coast is to be larger than originally planned and all its products will be handled by one of Europe's biggest distributors of frozen foods.

In a press conference here Gulf Garden Foods Ltd., developers of the project, announced Findus International, Ltd., a Swiss distribution firm, have been given the rights to distribute the entire output of the plant.

Findus International is the distribution branch of Nestle Foods, Ltd.

Gulf Garden president Jens Moe said the affiliation with the European company was not included in early plans for the Georgetown enterprise. He indicated the new agreement means the plant will be larger than originally planned.

Negotiations with Fundus were the reason the project has not progressed as fast as planned, he said.

COST ABOUT $300,000

The fish and frozen foods packing plant is expected to cost about $300,000 and be completed by July, 1965. The first sod was turned by Premier Walter Shaw April 19.

Lars Anderfelt, managing director of Fundus, was here for the signing of the distribution agreement. He was to attend, along with Gulf Garden officials, meetings with the Prince Edward Island cabinet to discuss government participation in the project.

Bathurst Marine Ltd., of which Mr. Moe is president, is expected to transfer its headquarters and fishing fleet from Bathurst, N.B., to Georgetown in September.

The company will supply the fish for processing at the plant.

A new office building and work shed have already been constructed at Georgetown near the site of the plant.

Bathurst Marine is currently completing work on two draggers in Bathurst for use in the Prince Edward Island operation. It is believed more draggers will be constructed in Georgetown.

A spokesman for private investors said the amount of government participation has not been decided, but the Prince Edward Island Industrial Establishment Corporation, a Crown company, has already agreed to share the cost of the Georgetown project.

It is not yet known how many men will be employed in the plant, but company officials said earlier most of the labor force will be taken from the local population.

CIVIL DEFENCE

A new concept in Civil Defence Home Nursing and First Aid training became effective August 1. Only those volunteers willing to enrol in the Emergency Health Service and its ancillary services, and volunteers enrolled in Civil Defence with a special role in a service such as Police, Welfare, Warden, Rescue, Fire, etc. will be trained.

Interpreting the News

By DOUG MARSHALL

At least two factors, neither encouraging, have been demonstrated by the current Cyprus flare-up.

One is the almost total ineffectiveness of the United Nations peace force on the island under its present terms of reference.

The other, revealed by the Cypriot high commissioner's startling statement in London at the height of the crisis, is the Cypriot government's passionate determination to defend its "territorial" integrity even at the risk of starting a third world war.

Even if both parties abide by the cease-fire demanded by the UN Security Council, and some sort of diplomatic machinery is cranked into action, these factors are bound to complicate efforts to find a solution.

TALK OF WITHDRAWAL

Before the weekend attacks most of the countries contributing men to the UN force were talking seriously of withdrawing their troops next month.

The Canadians, Danes, Irish, Swedes and British making up the 8,000-man force have been constantly harassed, embarrassed and frustrated in their efforts to prevent sporadic outbursts of fighting between Greek and Turkish-Cypriots.

Obliged to obey the legally-constituted government of Cyprus, the UN observers have been forced to stand by helplessly while the Greek-Cypriot community built up its arms and prepared to crush the embattled Turkish minority.

President Makarios' persistent flouting of UN authority, his recent appeal to Egypt and Russia for aid and his refusal to allow UN forces into the fighting area, indicate an obsession with victory at any cost.

The general view in London is that Makarios took a reckless and irresponsible gamble by thinking he could eradicate the Turkish minority by force and present the UN, Turkey and the world with a fait accompli.

GAMBLE FAILED

The gamble appears to have failed but the elements of recklessness, the threat to establish an all-Greek Cyprus or set the whole Middle East ablaze, remains to be reckoned with in any future dealings with the Cyprus government.

Whatever happens, it is clear that the basis of the United Nations' presence in Cyprus will have to be re-examined and the forces there put on an altogether different footing if they are ever to succeed in their allotted task of maintaining order.

Viet Cong Assassin Sentenced To Die

SAIGON (Reuters) — A military court has sentenced a Viet Cong terrorist to death for attempting to assassinate U.S. Defence Secretary Robert McNamara last May.

Nguyen Van Troi, 24, was found guilty of attempting to blow up a bridge which McNamara was crossing on his way from the airport to downtown Saigon during his last Viet Nam visit.

An accomplice, Nguyen Muu Loi, 18, was sentenced to 20 years at hard labor.

Driver Has Three Accidents in One Day

REGINA (CP) — Donald Shenton of Regina pulled away from a stop sign at a city intersection at 8 a.m. Monday and his car was hit in the side by another vehicle.

At 12:50 p.m. he stopped for a red light at another intersection and his car was hit again, this time from the rear. A passenger got out of Shenton's car after the second accident, leaving a back door open.

Shenton backed up and the open back door hit a steel power pole.

Said Shenton: "I never should have gotten up."

REDUCTION OF MILITARY OPPOSED IN COMMONS

OTTAWA (CP)—Government plans to close out two reserve naval squadrons and seven other reserve units and four RCAF auxiliary squadrons were opposed Tuesday in two reports released by Associate Defence Minister Cardin.

The reports were presented to Mr. Cardin by commissions of the Royal Canadian Naval Reserve and the RCAF auxiliary. They followed one presented to the minister last month on the militia.

The two reports were written several months ago before certain aspects of th egovernment's plan to integrate the Canadian Army, navy and air force into a unified defence force had been put into effect.

Defence Minister Hellyer announced last Dec. 5 that reserve squadrons at Toronto and Victoria would be disbanded as well as seven other reserve units at Prince Rupert, B.C., Victoria, Edmonton, Regina, London Ont., Charlottetown and Halifax.

The two squadrons now have been closed. The Prince Rupert unit also has been closed but Mr. Hellyer is reviewing plans to shut down the other units.

The naval reserve commission report said the closing of the seven divisions and air squadrons should be reconsidered "so as to avoid the loss of trained personnel."

Last December Mr. Hellyer said four RCAF auxiliary squadrons at Vancouver, Calgary, Saskatoon and Hamilton would be closed. This now has taken place.

The RCAF auxiliary commission report said the present flying units slated for disbandment should be deactivated but not disbanded until a closer study is made of the role of auxiliary squadrons.

REDUCED TO 2,700

Mr. Hellyer said in December that the naval reserve would be reduced to 2,700 from 4,000.

The naval reserve report said every effort should be made to avoid any further reduction in the reserve. Any economies that could be effected in its operations should be translated into restoring its strength to at least 4,000.

"The increased commitments which the Royal Canadian Navy is faced with dictate the need for a strong and efficient reserve to back it up in all its elements," the report said.

Present plans for reducing the reserve should be held in abeyance until a militia commission makes a report on methods of reducing the cost of operating the reserve.

The naval reserve report proposed a series of ways to reduce costs and improve efficiency without reducing the strength of the reserve.

"The morale of the RCNR has been shaken by the method by which the planned reductions were effected," the report said.

Divers Find Cuban Ship Undamaged

MONTREAL (CP) — Preliminary inspection carried out by skin divers Monday to the hull of the Cuban cargo ship Maria Theresa, victim of a bomb attack Sunday, revealed no damage to the ship or the pier where she is berthed.

National Harbors Board divers entered the basin beside where the 1,091-ton vessel is taking on a cargo of baby food and powdered milk, but found no damage to the steel plate of the Maria Theresa or to the concrete of pier.

The RCMP is continuing its investigation of the blast.

A Cuban nationalist association based in New York has said it was responsible for the bombing.

Meanwhile, an organization calling itself the Friends of the Latin American Peoples distributed to the press copies of a protest telegram it said was sent to External Affairs Minister Martin.

The telegram called the bombing "a disgraceful act against a country engaged in the peaceful and human mission of bringing powder milk and baby food to Cuban children."

The Friends of Latin American Peoples was established in Quebec two years ago to promote good relations between French Canada and the Latin American countries by encouraging trade and cultural exchange. Membership of about 150 is primarily from Montreal.

Laos Denies Communist Accusations

VIENTIANE (AP) — Laotian officials Tuesday denied Communist charges that they had authorized American planes to fly over Laotian territory and attack North Viet Nam.

The denial, sent to North Viet Nam's foreign minister, Xuan Thuy, charged in turn that the North Vietnamese are using Laotian territory as a route to South Viet Nam.

The letter was signed by the Laotian right-wing deputy premier, Gen. Phoumi Nosavan. Laotian government sources said Premier Souvanna Phouma had approved the letter.

Menwhile Laotian Prince Souphanouvong, chief of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao, charged that his troops are being subjected to massive attack by Gen. Kong Le, neutralist commander who has joined forces with the right wing.

The Pathet Lao radio said the prince has asked the co-chairmen of the Geneva conference on Laos, Britain and the Soviet Union, to stop the attacks.

Souphanouvong claimed that Kong Le's troops have launched an offensive in the north central Plaine des Jarres to occupy vital sections of strategic highways.

FBI Arrests Bombers

DETROIT (AP) — The FBI announced Tuesday the arrest of two men on charges of violating the federal train wreck statute in connection with the 1963 bombing of railway tracks at Marquette, Mich., at the height of a running dispute involving Canadian and American seamen's unions.

The FBI identified those arrested as Alvin Cupp from Toledo and Jack Alter Pearl, 34, also of Toledo and a representative of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association.

Tracks of both the Soo Line and the Lake Superior and Ishpeming Railroad were damaged by explosions in Marquette the night of July 25, 1963. No one was injured.

At the time the Seafarers' International Union was under court injunction not to picket the Canadian freighter Red Wing, then taking on a cargo of iron ore at Marquette.

The SIU and other American unions picketed ships of the Upper Lakes Shipping Company of Toronto at several Great Lakes ports in protest of the company's hiring men from the Canadian Maritime Union.

Kennedy Makes Statement On N.Y. Senatorship

NEW YORK (AP)—Attorney-General Robert F. Kennedy says he would not consider running for U.S. senator from New York without Mayor Robert F. Wagner's "express approval."

A few minutes after Kennedy made that statement Monday, reporters asked Wagner how he stood on Kennedy, and the mayor said:

"If he is available, he is the type of person who would make an exceptionally fine candidate. I am sure that he would win.

"I have a high regard for him as a friend and as a public servant."

Asked whether his remarks constituted an endorsement, Wagner said "I think I've made a pretty strong statement already."

Kennedy, here to speak at the convention of the American Bar Association, was asked about the Senate race.

'APPROVAL NECESSARY'

One of his replies was: "Under no circumstances would I ever have considered, or would I now consider, coming into the state of New York against the wishes of the mayor."

Wagner is generally considered top Democrat in New York State.

Representative Samuel Stratton of Amsterdam has wide backing upstate for the Democratic nomination for senator at the state party convention Sept. 1. He claims party support in 40 of the state's 62 counties — mostly in relatively small upstate counties.

The jockeying is for the nomination for the seat held by Senator Kenneth B. Keating, Republican from Rochester.

He says he has not made up his mind whether to seek a second six-year term in the November general elections, but he is generally considered to be a candidate.

Keating says that if he does run, he will run independent of the national ticket unless presidential nominee Barry Goldwater changes some of his views. The state Republican organization is supporting both Goldwater and Keating.

Kidney Transplant Appears Successful

CLEVELAND (AP) — An 11-year-old Michigan boy who received a dead women's kidney to replace his diseased kidneys is in "excellent shape," doctors at Cleveland Clinic report.

Allan Pert Jr., from Garden City, Mich., received the transplant.

Dr. William J. Kolff, head of the department of artificial internal organs at the hospital, said Allen is "completely supported by his kidney."

"We have every hope the kidney will function for a long time," he added.

LAWYERS APPLY FOR HOFFA'S ACQUITTAL

CHICAGO (AP)—Motions for acquittal or a new trial were filed Monday by lawyers for Teamster President James R. Hoffa and six others convicted on mail fraud and conspiracy charges.

The motions were filed before Judge Richard B. Austin of U.S. District Court, who presided over the three-month trial which ended last month.

Listed in the appeal were 56 alleged reasons for acquittal.

A ruling on the motions is expected by Monday when the men are scheduled to be sentenced.

CASTRO'S PEACE CLAIM REPEATED

HAVANA (AP) — Blas Roca, Cuban Communist leader, declared Tuesday "agreement between Cuba and the United States is still possible."

His statement was made in the official party magazine, Cuba Socialista.

Blas Roca reiterated Prime Minister Fidel Castro's suggestion of last month that American-Cuban relations should be improved.

The article concluded by saying:

"It can not be expected that American authorities will immediately accept Fidel's openings, and it cannot be expected that there will be any immediate change in existing tensions, but these openings will in the future have their effect and will exert great influence."

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Here's a tip for mothers . . .

When making my husband's lunch I always make extra sandwiches for my seven children.

I cut their sandwiches in small sizes because the children seem to relish them more. They help me put the sandwiches in the little bags. I then fill a plastic bag full of ice and put this in the bottom of the ice chest.

After putting in all of the cold drinks, etc., place the little sandwiches on top, then put the ice chest on the back porch . . .

With summer here each can eat when he pleases and without them running in and out the back door all the time, the house stays cool.

My children think this is the greatest thing that has come along since the ice cream man!

Dear Heloise :

If other mothers are like me and would like to take their baby's playpen outside so that the baby can breathe lots of fresh air, but often the sun gets too hot — I have found that if I put a sheet across all of my clotheslines (clip it on with clothespins) this forms a perfect awning so that our baby will have shade to play under. I then place the playpen directly under this awning.

Knowing that he is safe, shaded and happy is worth the little time it takes to place that sheet on my clotheslines.

Not only does baby get his fresh air and shade but Mother gets to bleach the sheet!

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

Please tell your readers who plant birdseed to be sure their small children realize that plants will grow — not birds!

When our children were small, we put cotton in a fish bowl, sprinkled it with birdseed and kept the cotton dampened.

I was so pleased with the way the children were interested in watching the seeds sprout and grow, until one day our little four-year-old studied the plants and asked: "But where are the birds?"

I do hope people remember not to leave their dogs in the car while they shop on these terribly hot days. If you will just close the windows almost all the way and sit there a minute yourself, you will know how your dog feels!

When we finish barbecuing and have charcoal bricquets left, we pick them up with tongs and put them in a metal can with a tight metal lid.

After clamping the cover on tight the oxygen is used up and the coals die out.

The next time we use the grill we start the fire with the coals from the can. Since these coals have been burned, they seem to start faster.

150 Teachers Take New Crash Course

By BRENDA LARGE

OTTAWA (CP)—More than 150 Ontario home economics teachers are taking a two-week crash course in family development designed to prepare them to teach the province's new home economics course this fall.

The updated home economics course, which goes into effect in the new school year starting September, leans heavily on the psychology of family life. Students in Grade 11 will devote about half their economics course to the study of the history of home life in Ontario, functions of the family, family customs in other countries, and food customs of families around the world.

The teachers are to hear Dr. Glenn R. Hawkes, noted American expert on family development, in a series of 10 lectures at Carleton University. The training course started Monday and continues until Aug. 21.

Dr. Hawkes, head of the child development department at Iowa State University, Ames, Iowa, will speak on such topics as the nature of the family, the cycle of family development, families and adolescents, and the aging family.

The U.S. psychologist is a member of the American council on family relations and has conducted major research projects on family influences on personality development. He is the co-author, with Dr. Damaris Pease, of Behaviour and Development From 5 to 12, published in 1960.

As part of a seminar on foreign cookery, they'll sit down to Italian, Chinese, Ukrainian, French and Jewish meals, courtesy of various Ottawa ethnic groups.

Home Economist Margrit Ironstone of Ottawa will speak to the teachers on foreign cookery and they will also hear a talk on "how geography influences customs and foods" from Ottawa high school teacher Charles McCaffray.

Other highlights of the training course include a report on the governor - general's conference on the family, lectures on the use of films as teaching aids, and a report on the experimental teaching program of the new home economics course.

Today the teachers are to make a field trip to Upper Canada Village near Morrisburg, Ont., where they'll study the life and food customs of Ontario's early pioneer families.

Green Thumb Graduates Turn Tables On Parents

MONTREAL (CP) — Heaven help certain parents in Montreal who don't eat their vegetables.

Their children—green-thumb graduates of the Montreal Botanical Garden—will most likely set up a merry rumpus.

More than 300 youngsters maintain plots at the garden in a parks department program for children stuck in the city for the summer.

The first children's gardens were established in 1938 by Brother Marie-Victorin, founder of the botanical gardens. The idea caught on with the speed of a weed.

A teacher from the Catholic School Commission organizes the course in gardening, gives lectures and directs the children. A gardener from the botanical garden staff supervises the practical work, along with several monitors.

"We have 308 gardens this year, covering about an acre and a quarter," said Rejean Vallee, chief monitor.

The individual plots measure about six by 14 feet and the competition for them is keen. Registrations open in February and there is always a waiting list after the 308 have been allotted.

TAKE VEGETABLES HOME

The children grow radishes, lettuce, cabbage, onions, carrots, tomatoes, beans and, in the space vacated early in the season by the radishes, flowers.

"The gardens are open to the children three days a week and each child must work on his or her garden at least once a week," Mr. Vallee said.

"As the vegetables grow and ripen, the children take them home to be eaten. Lettuce is in full bloom right now and their tomatoes are coming along nicely."

Many of the graduates of these gardens have gone into gardening as a profession and some are on the botanical garden staff as well as in nurseries in other centres.

In addition to tending their gardens, some youngsters enlist in the Young Naturalists Club and put in extra time collecting and mounting specimens of plant and insect life during the gardening season.

In the fall, a prize-giving evening is held, sponsored jointly by the botanical garden and the St. Lawrence Kiwanis Club.

Special trophies are given to the top gardeners and there are prizes for the stand-out young naturalists.

New Queen May Face Political Wars

COPENHAGEN (Reuters) — Greece will get a new queen of the Hellenes next Sept. 18—a strong-willed girl who some see as headed into a "political typhoon."

On that date, Princess Anne-Marie of Denmark, youngest of the three Danish princesses and by then 18 years old, will marry King Constantine in Athens.

Many Danes believe the dark-haired princess will face a big mother-in-law problem.

The Danish press hinted at this soon after King Constantine ascended the throne following the death last March of his father, King Paul, husband of the strong-willed and energetic Queen Frederika.

One newspaper commented that the princess would be cast "straight from a girls' school into a political typhoon." It added that it would be difficult for "this very young girl suddenly to be forced to make important decisions."

Princess Anne-Marie was still a schoolgirl attending a school for young ladies last year when her engagement to Crown Prince Constantine was announced.

FIRST IN CENTURIES

Princess Anne-Marie will be the first Danish princess to marry a reigning king for nearly 300 years. The last one was Princess Ulrikke Leonore, who married King Charles XI of Sweden in 1680.

Raised in the democratic tradition of the Danish royal family, the tall, graceful but rather shy princess was almost unknown to her countrymen when the engagement was announced.

She attended two Swiss finishing schools, Chatelard and Le Mesnil, before finally packing her schoolbooks away earlier this year.

She took a job this spring as helper at a day nursery in a working class district of Copenhagen where she learned to take care of young children.

At her Swiss schools, the princess learned to cook, make dresses and do other household tasks. Sources close to the Danish court say that Princess Anne - Marie is a proficient dressmaker, and many of the dresses which she wears at official functions she has made herself.

She is also fond of cooking but she detests washing dishes.

Your Individual Horoscope

By Frances Drake

look in the section in which your birthday comes, and find what your outlook is according to the stars,

For Thursday, August 13, 1964

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — Some tendencies toward carelessness, needless controversy: avoid! But, where a good debate will aid a cause put in your points, with discretion. A good period for seeking gains outside of your field.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Some changes of plan may be suggested. Discuss fully and agree only if they seem truly feasible. Don't let differences of opinion cause unnecessary controversy, however.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — You may be opposed by arrogant persons, but your keenness and sense of humor will help you to win more points than would force or obstinacy. Protest your energies through efficiency, tact, serenity.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — You may have to make some conpronises now. Restrain no one from expressing his opinion, but be careful whom you eventually follow. Words can deceive. Be alert!

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — A friendly day. You should pick up new interests here and there, make use of your creative abilities. Wrap up essentials first, then concentrate on outside activities.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Do not become disenchanted with those who do not approve of your ideas or who are unwilling to make improvements you think fit. Recognize that not everyone is able to move when you wish — and most often, for valid reasons.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra — Curb an impulse to undertake enterprises you would not ordinarily consider. Stellar influences now suggest that you stick to routine, avoid recklessness of any sort.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (corpio) — Care needed in speculation, recreational activities and handling children. In all matters, emphasize constructive thinking. Avoid rash acts which could cause you to stumble, with later difficulty in reestablishing your footing.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Mis - leading words could lead you astray now, so be alert. Don't be a side-liner when, with your fine abilities, you could lend a helping hand.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Fine gains for like efforts. However, be on the lookoout for "gimmicks" that could trip you, persons who would undermine your self-confidence by flinging down unreasonable challenges.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — If not careful you could get lost in complications of your own making. Your program should be clear-cut, but look out for "fog" in the form of misstatements, inaccurate information, misdirected energies.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Avoid haste and rashness in the mistaken notion that you will get ahead more quickly. Easy does it now. Some distant opportunities can be brought closer.

YOU BORN TODAY are a canny, knowledgeable person, filled with a great sense of justice and always willing to defend the underdog. You aspire to great things, but sometimes become downhearted and lose interest if others belittle your ideas. Learn to consider opposition as the spice of life and a challenge to do better things. Even though in the midst of controversy, as you frequently are, remain diplomatic. Avoid extremes. You can excel as a military leader, captain of industry, high-powered salesman. Birthdate of: Alfred Hitchcock, motion picture producer; Sir George Grove, writer on music.

COMMUNICATIONS CUT

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — A failure of electronic equipment at the Canadian National Telegraphs' repeater station here cut all communications circuits in central B.C. for four hours Monday. Equipment at Smithers, McBride and 100-Mile House which is fed through the repeater station here, was out of service.

Working Mothers Here To Stay, Says Expert

OTTAWA (CP)—It is time society realized working mothers are here to stay, says a noted American psychologist in Ottawa to conduct a two-week course in family development for a group of Ontario school teachers.

Dr. Glenn R. Hawkes, head of the department of child development at Iowa State University, said Monday in an interview:

"There are still too many people who think that if we could only get all these mothers who are holding down jobs outside their homes back with their children—all the current problems of juvenile delinquency and male-female role conflicts would be solved.

"These people don't seem to realize that we can't give women the opportunity for college educations, encourage them to pursue interesting careers before marriage, and then take all this away from them and put them back behind the frying pan."

Dr. Hawkes, whose chief research projects have been on the influence of the family on personality development, is here to give a series of 10 lectures at Carleton University to 150 home economics teachers from Ontario secondary schools.

The teachers, who registered for the training course Monday, are preparing to teach the province's new home economics curriculum this fall, a curriculum which will include a heavy emphasis on family psychology.

Make the most of

Tomatoes

To-mah-to or to-may-to? Fruit or vegetable? Who really cares about pronunciation or classification? Most of us, especially now when local tomatoes are plentiful, eat the scarlet beauties at nearly every meal. Creole Fish Fillets and Stuffed Tomatoes And Peppers make attractive and delicious dishes for dinner. If you are in a canning mood, says Weekend Magazine Food Editor Margo Oliver, there is a recipe in this week's issue for savory Tomato-Apple Chutney.

National League Race at Standstill

By The Canadian Press

Baltimore Orioles came from behind Tuesday night to squeak out an 8-7 triumph over Boston Red Sox and hold on to top spot in the American League pennant race.

Boog Powell's two-run homer broke a 6-6 deadlock in the seventh and was the margin of victory for the Orioles. Chicago White Sox were just a game back of the league leaders after sweeping a day-night doubleheader from New York Yankees 6-4 and 8-2, shoving the third-place Yanks 3½ games off the pace.

Minnesota Twins posted a 5-3 victory over Detroit Tigers and Washington Senators defeated Kansas City Athletics 5-2 in other early AL games.

CLOBBER CUBS

In the National League, John Callison hit a grand slam homer and Frank Thomas clouted three doubles as the league-leading Philadelphia Phillies romped to a 13-5 victory over Chicago Cubs. Orlando Cepeda and Willie Mays each got two-run homers to help the second-place San Francisco Giants down St. Louis Cardinals 6-3.

Hank Aaron was the big man with five runs for Milwaukee as the Braves defeated Houston Colts 9-6, New York Mets squeaked to a 3-2 decision over Pittsburgh Pirates and Cincinnati Reds edged Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2.

Powell tagged ace reliever Dick Radatz for his game-winner. The Orioles had to climb back from a 6-3 deficit. Brooks Robinson also contributed a homer to the Oriole cause.

Pitcher Juan Pizarro was a double threat in the second game for Chicago, belting a three-run homer as he posted his 15th victory against six losses. Pete Ward's homer for the Sox was the key blow in the Chicago day triumph, winning it for Don Mossi in relief.

Ralph Terry was the losing pitcher in the day game and Jim Bouton took the drubbing in the night game.

OLIVA HOMERS

Tony Oliva's 26th homer helped the Twins to victory over Detroit. The Twins bounced back from the short end of a 3-0 score to hand the Tigers their first loss in eight games. Oliva also banged a double.

Jim King and Don Lock got home runs to back up the pitching of Claude Osteen for Washington. It was the sixth straight loss for Kansas City. Jim Hannan replaced Osteen in the seventh and finished up, although giving up a ninth-inning homer to Nelson Mathews.

Callison's homer capped a five-run Philadelphia rally that was touched off by Gus Triandos' homer in the sixth. That overcame a 5-4 Chicago lead and the Phillies romped home from there.

The San Francisco victory kept them three games behind the Phillies in the league race. Harvey Kuenn led off all three San Francisco scoring innings with doubles and crossed the plate each time. Bob Hendley got the win, his 10th against seven defeats, and Curt Simmons was the loser.

SPAHN OUT

The Colts knocked out Warren Spahn for the 14th time in his last 15 starts. He went out after Walt Bond's two-run homer made it 5-3 for the Colts in the fifth. But Aaron's two-run homer in the third and a three-run shot off Hal Woodeshick in the sixth that capped a six-run uprising helped Milwaukee to victory.

Larry Elliot drove in two runs with a homer and a single in the Mets' winning cause. They defeated Bob Friend for the first time in their three-year history. The game was called by rain in the eighth inning.

Frank Robinson boomed a homer, triple and double and Deron Johnson chimed in with a homer for Cincinnati. Joey Jay ran his record to 8-8 with the victory as he checked the Dodgers on seven hits.

Rookie Luis Tiant pitched a four-hitter as Cleveland Indians blanked Los Angeles Angels 3-0 in a late game on the coast.

Max Alvis broke up a scoreless game in the ninth inning for Cleveland with a three-run home run blow.

Pros Shine In Kelowna All-Star Game

KELOWNA (CP)—The white team paced by a four point effort of Len Lunde of the Seattle Totems whipped the red team 7-3 in Kelowna's hockey spectacular, kicking off the Kelowna International Regatta Saturday before 2,000 fans.

Jacques Plante of the New York Rangers on the whites had 38 saves and Johnny Bower of Toronto Maple Leafs, in goal for the reds stopped 39.

Lunde also picked up two assists. Tommy McVie of Portland scored twice and singles for the whites came from Wayne North of Toledo and Richard Bullock and Terry Kasubuchi of the Kelowna Buckaroos.

The reds, who had a goal in each period, got markers from Grant Warwick Jr. of Denver, Murray Owen of the Kamloops Rockets and Billy McNeil of Vancouver.

Only two penalties were called one to Larry Cahan of the whites for playing with a broken stick. Reds scored their first marker while Cahan was in the box, signing autographs.

Each team had six professional players with the remainder made up of juniors from the Okanagan junior hockey legue.

Hal Laycoe of the Portland Buckaroos coached the reds. His eight-man attack in the dying minutes backfired as Tom McVie picked up a stray pass and scored on a 65-foot drive.

Vancouver Canuck coach Max McNab handled the winners.

Saves:

Fifth Place Teams To Get World Series Share

CHICAGO (AP) — The major baseball leagues approved Tuesday cutting in the fifth-place teams for a share in the World Series pool.

The fifth-place clubs will share equally two per cent off the top of the pool, effective this year. According to the receipts of the 1963 World Series, this would amount to approximately $300 to each player of fifth-place teams and would cut $15 from each of the players of the top four teams.

Commissioner Ford Frick said there was no discussion on the possibility of shifting any franchises at the joint meeting of the American and National League because "franchise transfers are strictly a matter to be taken up by the individual leagues."

LUNAR INVOLVEMENT

More than 5,000 industrial firms in the U.S. are involved in the American attempt to place man on the moon.

RECORD CATCH—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Teti of Wynnewood, Pa., are congratulated by Robert Rosell, skipper of their boat, the Jomar III, on landing this 650-pound marlin, which won for them the annual Atlantic City Marlin Tournament. Marlin was the largest ever caught on a 50-pound test line.

Jones Feels No. 1 Spot Should Rate Title Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — Doug Jones said Monday it was flattering to be ranked the No. 1 heavyweight contender but it didn't mean much if he couldn't get a shot at the title.

"If the WBA (World Boxing Association) wants to make it worthwhile they ought to make Cassius Clay defend the title against me instead of fighting a return with Sonny Liston," said the 27-year-old New Yorker. "Otherwise what good is it to be the No. 1 contender?"

Jones, meanwhile, continued training for his 10-round television fight with Tony Alongi at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

He brought up his title fight suggestion to the New York Athletic Commission after Garden matchmaker Teddy Brenner proposed that the commission vacate Clay's heavyweight title and declare the winner of a tournament the champion.

Brenner, speaking at a boxing luncheon attended by Jones, Alongi and commission officials, among others, said if the commission would agree to recognize the winner as champion, the Garden would run a tournament among the top four contenders—Jones, Floyd Patterson, Ernie Terrell and Cleveland Williams.

"The Garden has authorized me to offer Floyd Patterson $35,000 to fight the winner of the Jones-Alongi fight at the Garden Oct. 2 for the first of our non-television fights," said Brenner. "That could start it off.

"We'll seriously consider the situation," said Gen. Melvin Krulewitch, chairman of the New York commission. But he said "we can't say we'll vacate the title because we must have good grounds for vacating the title."

The commission already has gone on record in opposition to the signed Clay-Liston return bout. Krulewitch said that as far as he knew all boxing groups including the WBA, the British Boxing Board of Control, the Latin-American and Orient organizations, are against the return fight.

Leafs to Open Camp Sept. 4

TORONTO (CP)—The Stanley Cup champion Toronto Maple Leafs will open their hockey training camp at Peterborough, Ont., Sept. 4, the club announced Tuesday.

A total of 68 players, including seven goaltenders, have been invited to report. Included are all members of the defending champions, plus members of Leafs' farm teams at Rochester, Victoria and Tulsa.

Among newcomers invited are Terry Sawchuk, veteran goaltender formerly with Detroit Red Wings, and Dickie Moore, former Montreal Canadiens left wing star, both picked up by Leafs in the NHL draft this summer.

TEE TIME

Gwen Miller and Marg Hamilton took low gross honors from 28 women golfers Tuesday night at ladies' night competition at the Nelson Golf and Country Club.

Consolation prizes were won by Lillian Dill and Barbara Kilburn.

Tombstone competition commences Aug. 18 at 4:30 p.m. Those competing in the Esmeralda competition are asked to contact Dolly Koehle.

Dancer to Miss Travers Stakes

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (CP)—Northern Dancer definitely will not start in the Travers Stakes here Aug. 22, the trainer of the leading Canadian race horse said Tuesday.

Trainer Horatio Luro said the injured Dancer is "completely out" of the Travers and probably won't race again until the Woodward Stakes at New York's Aqueduct track Oct. 3.

Northern Dancer, owned by Toronto industrialist E. P. Taylor, nicked his right front leg during a workout at New York's Belmont track two weeks ago.

Luro said that the three-year-old colt, who won the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness Stakes and the Queen's Plate, is still under treatment at Belmont but it is too early to say when he'll be back in racing trim.

The Travers, oldest stakes event in the U.S., was expected to develop into a tight race for three-year-old honors among the Dancer, Belmont Stakes winner Quadrangle, Hill Rise and Malicious.

The Woodward Stakes, a $100,000 event, is over 1¼ miles, the same distance as the Travers.

Commissioner Frick To Complete Term

CHICAGO (AP) — Baseball commissioner Ford Frick's term officially was extended Tuesday through the 1965 World Series and plans for a football style player draft of free agents were shelved.

The American and National Leagues, meeting in a 30-minute joint session, quickly accepted the recommendation of the executive council that Frick be asked to finish his term.

Frick, 69, readily agreed to stay at his $65,000 a year job and serve with president Warren Giles of the National League and Joe Cronin of the American League in preparing a report on the functions of his office.

"We are going to study the office and suggest possible changes in its functions in the light of changing conditions," said Frick.

SHARE SERIES MONEY

The owners voted to include the players of the fifth-place clubs in the World Series money pool, following another recommendation by the executive council. Each fifth-place player would get about $200 on the basis of last year's receipts.

The owners split down the middle on the proposed free agent player draft. No formal vote was taken, but Frick estimated about half the clubs favored some sort of football-type draft of high school and college boys.

Under the present rule, first-year players must be retained on big league rosters unless the club wants to risk losing the man for the $8,000 waiver fee. Only one so-called first year player can be farmed to the minors without waivers and he still counts on the player limit.

Frick indicated the rule might be liberalized to make it more favorable to the original owner of the player.

OTTAWA (CP) — Ottawa Rough Riders of the Eastern Football Conference Monday announced the signing of import halfback Charles Killette, 23, cut last Thursday by New York Giants of the National Football League.

Killette played his college ball at Memphis State University.

Winlaw Grabs Semi-Finals Lead

NAKUSP — Winlaw edged Nakusp 7-6 Sunday to take a one-game lead in their best-of-three Slocan Valley-Arrow Lakes Baseball League semi-final series.

Winlaw got to Nakusp pitcher F. Waterer for eight hits. He struck out eight batters.

Winning pitcher P. Kabatoff allowed 13 hits and hit three batters. He posted 10 strikeouts.

Winlaw took advantage of six Nakusp errors while playing a flawless game in the field.

Next game is scheduled for Sunday at Winlaw.

BIRTHDAY IN THE BADLANDS

Out in the badlands of Alberta, they never stop at half-way measures. So, when the tiny town of Empress wanted to celebrate its 50th anniversary, the citizens decided the event should be noticed. A canoe race from Medicine Hat, 150 miles down the South Saskatchewan river, to Empress, was proposed to highlight the celebration. A Weekend Magazine photostory pictures the spectacular river country which provided the scenic setting of the gruelling canoe race that started under a bridge at Medicine Hat and ended more than 12 hours later in the basement of the community centre back at Empress.

Blue Bombers, Eskimos Battle for WFC Cellar

WINNIPEG (CP)—Neill Armstrong returns tonight to continue a new career in a stadium where he once starred as a player.

He comes back as a coach, leading Edmonton Eskimos into a Western Football Conference match against Winnipeg Blue Bombers. Kickoff time for the game is 8 p.m., CDT.

Armstrong's current job has so far been much less rewarding than his player career.

As an end for Bombers, a position he gave up 11 years ago, he caught 122 of 161 passes—a performance good for fifth place among the ranks of all-time Bomber pass receivers.

In his league debut as Edmonton coach, Armstrong watched his rookie-laden squad crumple 52-15 before Calgary Stampeders. The defeat followed two losses in three pre-season exhibition games.

Despite the trouncing administered by Calgary, Armstrong still retains a degree of optimism as Eskimos search for their first victory.

"We have 33 good athletes. They're green, (the club dressed 14 rookies in their first game) but they're going to Winnipeg with the idea they'll win, and they'll go through the season with that idea. What's more, they'll win a few too."

ONLY ONE CHANGE

Tentative plans call for only once change in the Eskimo lineup, insertion of import end-tackle Duane Cook, obtained two days ago from Calgary.

Meanwhile, Winnipeg coach Bud Grant plans large-scale shifts in an attempt to chalk up win number one this season for Bombers. Winnipeg has a 10-10 draw with B.C. Lions and 37-29 loss to Saskatchewan Roughriders to its credit and will be trying to avoid last place, a fate awaiting the game's loser.

Hoping to take advantage of Eskimos' rookie crop to better guage the depth of his bench, Grant plans to bring defensive end Roger Locke and fullback Roger Hagberg, who sat out Bombers' first two games, into action.

Jack Delveaux, who held the fullback slot in the opening games and was by far Winnipeg's best ground man, will shift to an interior linebacker post.

Sitting out the match will be Jerry Jones and Garland Warren.

Grant, possibly for ex-roommate Armstrong's consumption, expressed disappointment with the number of Bomber mistakes in the Saskatchewan encounter, pointing to bad positional play, blocking and tackling.

Ignoring Bombers' 29 - point production, Grant said: "We can play better than that . . . and we'd better."

Oldtimers Dump Savoys

Nelson Oldtimers, playing a slow passing game, kept their unbeaten record intact, Sunday as they waltzed to an 8-4 win over the WISL Savoys. They downed the younger squad 4-3 in an exhibition game played in June.

Savoys dominated most of the play during the contest, but Oldtimers goaltender Joe Karasz thwarted them time and again with saves from seemingly impossible angles.

Ken Adcock scored twice for the Oldtimers, who were reinforced by Savoy players. He opened the scoring in the early minutes of the first half with a fine corner shot that beat Savoy goalie, Danny Gregorich, Ray Jonger, Richard Eggers and Willie Schell divided the remainder of the Oldtimer scoring.

Andy Vingo, Joe Jacoe, Heinz Schmidt and Joe Karasz Jr., counted for Savoys.

Savoys are scheduled to open their best of three final series against Grand Forks Sunday. Grand Forks entered the playoffs via the back door when Kimberley Canadians dropped from competition.

Winner of the series will advance into the finals with last year's champion Spokane Spokes who downed Trail Italicos in two straight games recently.

Pastrano, Olson Bout Postponed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Matchmaker Art Benjamin Tuesday announced postponement of the 10-round non-title fight between light heavyweight champion Willie Pastrano and Bobo Olson scheduled for Aug. 28.

Benjamin said Pastrano is undergoing surgery at Miami Beach.

He said he will seek to sign Wayne Thornton of Fresno, Calif., or John Persol of New York to meet Olson of San Francisco here Aug. 28.

Liston's Manager Quit, Not Liston, Says Louis

BALTIMORE (AP) — Joe Louis, former world heavyweight boxing champion, says it was Sonny Liston's manager who threw in the towel in last February's title fight with Cassius Clay.

"Everyone keeps saying that Liston quit in his corner after the sixth round but it isn't true," Louis said Tuesday.

"I was the first person in the ring and Liston was yelling to his cornermen: 'Let me fight, I can still beat him.'

"But Jack Nilon, his manager made him quit. He knew that they had a return bout clause and he didn't want to take a chance on Sonny hurting his shoulder so bad that he would never be able to fight again."

Louis, who was at the ringside in Miami Beach as a television commentator for the heavyweight title bout, said:

"Clay was the one that really wanted to quit. After the fifth round, he was yelling at his seconds: 'Don't let him hit me no more.' "

To Coach Swedish Hockey Team

RED DEER (CP) — Gary Hughes, 31, of Red Deer, said Tuesday he has signed a two-year contract to coach Gisloved, a Swedish hockey team.

Hughes, whose brother Don is a defenceman with the Estevan Bruins, will leave from Montreal Aug. 29. He coached the Polish national team in 1961 and 1962.

ON LOCAL DIAMONDS

City Auto tagged ace Queens Hotel hurler for five first inning runs Tuesday night and went on to post a 12-3 victory to even their semi-final series at one game apiece.

M. Renwick was the winning pitcher, J. McNabb crossed the plate three times for the winners.

Monday night's action saw RCMP score runs in the last three innings to score a 3-2 come from behind win over South Slocan.

Nadyuk singled with two out in the seventh to drive home Huggard with the winning run.

Ed Malinowski was winning pitcher.

The win gives the Mounties a 2-game sweep of their semi-final series. They now meet the winners of the Queens - City Auto series for the Nelson play-for-fun championship.

League Leaders

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Willie Fleming of British Columbia Lions scored two touchdowns Monday night to grab a spot among the top scorers in the Western Football Conference.

His performance in the 22-4 licking the Lions gave Calgary Stampeders placed him fifth in the scoring race with 12 points.

The lead was unchanged, but Larry Robinson of Calgary scored a field goal and a single to earn himself a share of it. With 18 points he shares the lead with teammate Lovell Coleman and Saskatchewan Roughrider Hugh Campbell.

George Fleming of Winnipeg Blue Bombers, top scorer in the conference last year, is three points behind the top three.

And Out Popped Stuke!

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia Lions turned 10 years old Monday night. They cut a birthday cake in the middle of Empire Stadium and out popped Annis Stukus.

The reunion of Lions and their first coach, now a television and newspaper personality in Toronto, was deep in sentiment. The ceremony came during a regular Calgary-B.C. Western Football Conference game.

Stukus was saved for the half-time finale, after a happy birthday song from about 30,000 fans and trumpeted entrances by Lions' players-of-the-year since 1954.

Then a bevy of cheerleaders formed a cake of ribbons and 10 big candles and a box in the middle was cut open. Stuke jumped out with a sheepish grin.

World Briefs

TOKYO (AP)—Twenty miners were rescued unharmed Tuesday after they were trapped for 90 minutes by a fire which swept through a coal mine 100 miles northeast of Tokyo. The Dai Nippon Colliery Company said the fire in a pit at Isohara probably resulted from seeping gas.

YUGOSLAVIAN PROVERB

A well - known Yugoslavian proverb says: "First look at the mother, then ask for the daughter's hand."

China Supplying Jets To North Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon said Tuesday a "number" of Chinese Communist jet fighters have been sent into North Vietnamese bases.

Arthur Sylvester, defence department press chief, recalled that last week Defence Secretary Robert S. McNamara had said he expected the Chinese to introduce planes into North Viet Nam.

"We now have indications that a number of Chinese Communist MiG-15s and MiG-17s have been introduced into North Viet Nam," Sylvester said.

Asked whether Chinese were flying the planes, Sylvester replied that the pilots could be North Vietnamese trained in China or "they could very well be Chinese."

Sylvester said that he did not know whether the Chinese planes are intended for air defence or other action.

In reply to another question, Sylvester said there was no evidence that the planes have been flown over South Vietnamese territory.

Asked whether any additional U.S. planes have been deployed in view of the arrival of Chinese planes in North Viet Nam, he said no, that this was unnecessary because this contingency had been considered in plans made some time ago.

Business Briefs

OTTAWA (CP) — Average hourly earnings in manufacturing rose in May to $2.02 from $2.01 in April, average weekly wages to $83.55 from $82.75 and the work week to 41.4 hours from 41.1, the bureau of statistics reported Tuesday.

Hourly earnings in May, 1963, averaged $1.95, weekly wages $80.25 and the work week 41.2 hours.

OTTAWA (CP)—Sales of natural gas in May this year rose 6.9 per cent to 36,641,931,000 cubic feet from the same month last year. Revenue from the sales increased 8.3 per cent to $22,791,400 and the number of customers rose 4.5 per cent to 1,455,983.

OTTAWA (CP)—Cars of railway revenue freight loaded on Canadian lines numbered 126,640 in the last 10 days of July, up 14.3 per cent from a year earlier. The total for the month was 358,106, up 10.7 per cent and the total for the January-July period was 2,245,418, up 10.1 per cent.

OTTAWA (CP) — Production of steel ingots in the week ended Aug. 8 amounted to 174,519 tons, an increase of 5.2 per cent from the preceding week. Output in the corresponding week last year was 149,638 tons. The index of production, based on the average weekly output of 96,108 tons during 1957-59 equalling 100, was 182 in the current week, 173 a week earlier and 156 a year ago.

B.C. Policy May Affect Works Program

OTTAWA (CP) — New Democratic Leader T. C. Douglas said in the Commons Tuesday the government winter works incentive program may be endangered by a British Columbia decision that only recipients of welfare payments for three months may be employed on projects in the province.

He asked Labor Minister MacEachen for government comment on a letter sent to all municipalities by the provincial municipal affairs department. James Byrne, parliamentary secretary to Mr. McEachern, said he would draw the matter to the minister's attention on his return.

Mr. Douglas said that many of the people receiving provincial welfare assistance are unemployable.

EDMONTON (CP) — Alberta Labor Minister Raymond Reierson will attend the 1964 convention of the International Association of Governmental Labor Officials in Vancouver Aug. 10 to 14.

Parliament Decides

U.N. CYPRIOT FORCES MUST BE STRENGTHENED

By RUSSELL ELMAN

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government expressed hope Monday that agreement can be found which will strengthen the UN force in Cyprus.

For six hours the Commons took up the Cyprus problem in an emergency debate amid opposition demands that the UN force be given wider powers and more men.

The debate, asked for by Opposition Leader Diefenbaker and agreed to by all parties, coincided with announcement of a formal cease-fire on the strife-torn Mediterranean island.

Prime Minister Pearson said events in Cyprus if gone unchecked might have spelled the end of NATO and precipitated a global nuclear war. The situation had eased but the problem was not solved.

He said that as a result of the weekend crisis changes may be made in connection with the UN activities in Cyprus.

"Sometimes you can do things under the impetus of fear that you cannot do under the stimulus of reason. So perhaps out of the crisis of the weekend . . . we may be able to strengthen the position of the United Nations force in Cyprus."

'NEED WIDER POWERS'

Mr. Diefenbaker and the other opposition spokesmen were critical of the effectiveness of the 7,000-man UN force, in which Canada has an 1,100-member contingent. UN peacekeepers, they contended, were hamstrung because the Cypriot government had not permitted them adequate powers.

Defence Minister Hellyer said the force's powers may be too limited but it was the best that could be agreed on at the time. The Canadian troops had been "little short of magnificent" and had acted many times to save lives and avert bloodshed.

Mr. Hellyer also suggested changes may have to be made in the role of the UN force. But there was no intention of withdrawing the Canadian contingent from the island unless an emergency arises.

The prime minister called Monday night's statement by UN Secretary-General U Thant on the Cyprus cease-fire "encouraging as far as it goes."

He said if the cease-fire operation did not succeed, or if the weekend's events had deteriorated into conflict, it would have been the end of NATO alliance, and probably also of UN peacekeeping activities.

Events in a small island such as Cyprus could develop into a global nuclear war, he said.

The emergency debate delayed until Tuesday discussion of federal-provincial tax-sharing measure.

CALLS TERMS VAGUE

Mr. Diefenbaker said the weekend crisis placed "in a critical situation our Canadian contingent with the UN peacekeeping force in Cyprus because of the vagueness of the terms of reference for that force and the lack of the authority necessary for it to act effectively."

External Affairs Minister Martin noted that Prime Minister Pearson had told Cyprus President Archbishop Makarios Sunday that UN forces should be used to supervise a ceasefire.

He said Mr. Hellyer had taken all necessary steps to ensure that Canadian troops would be prepared for any contingency, but any decision in that regard rested with the UN.

Mr. Martin said that without the action of the UN Security Council events might not have taken a more favorable turn. And, if Canada had not agreed to contribute initially to the UN peace force, there might have been war.

He also said the solidarity of NATO as a defence alliance is being strained, and that expansion of war in the eastern Mediterranean would have the gravest consequences for world peace.

Mr. Diefenbaker suggested that some other UN nations make troops available to strengthen the UN force.

SEEKS ASSURANCE

He also asked for government assurance that the Canadian troops shall have the necessary power to do the job they were sent to do.

After Mr. Hellyer informed the House that duties of Canadian troops had included helping in bringing in the harvest in Cyprus, Marcel Lambert (PC—Edmonton West) said he wondered whether the right unit had been sent to the island.

Canada's principal unit is the 1st Battalion, Royal 22nd Regiment.

Stanley Knowles (NDP—Winnipeg North Centre) said every effort should be made by the UN to obtain the best terms of reference for the force.

Social Credit Leader Robert Thompson said the only hope for a peaceful settlement is through the UN. Canadian political parties should show a co-operative, non - partisan front over the Cyprus issue.

Gilles Gregoire (Creditiste—Lapointe) said means should be taken to solve the Cyprus question or the Canadian troops should be withdrawn.

Gyp Artists Unwelcome At Fair

MONTREAL (CP) — Nathan Steinberg, administrator of concessions and licensing for the 1967 Montreal world's fair, said Tuesday there will be no room at the exhibition for "clip joint operators and cheap fly-by-night concessionaires."

Speaking to the Montreal Rotary Club, Mr. Steinberg said the fair's principle in concessions is that it will get a percentage from every revenue-producing field represented at the exhibition.

This policy, he explained, is designed to accommodate "all possible needs and tastes," to control practices and pricing and to permit the private entrepreneur to make a reasonable profit on his investment with the understanding that the fair is being given primary consideration.

Second Mayor Remanded As Gas Trials Continue

ORILLIA (CP) — Former Mayor Wilbur M. Cramp was remanded to Aug. 18 Tuesday on $5,000 property bail on three charges in connection with the granting of an Orillia gas franchise to Northern Ontario Natural Gas Company Limited in 1956.

Mr. Cramp, one of four former mayors charged with accepting shares as a consideration for granting franchises to NONG, made no plea. He will elect whether to be tried by a magistrate or judge and jury when he next appears in court.

Similar charges against former mayors Wanda Miller of Gravenhurst and Glen S. Coates of Bracebridge will be heard in magistrate's court in Gravenhurst, 25 miles north of here.

Mr. Justice Leo Landreville who left the Sudbury mayoralty for the Supreme Court of Ontario bench in 1956, has already been remanded to Sept. 21 in Sudbury.

The charges allege the mayors accepted NONG shares as a consideration for the granting of franchises in all four municipalities in 1956; that they accepted the shares as a consideration for blocking a franchise agreement with Consumers' Gas and that they conspired with NONG President Ralph K. Farris of Vancouver in connection with the two former charges. Mr. Farris has also been charged with conspiracy.

Mr. Farris was sentenced to nine months definite and three months indefinite earlier this year on a charge of perjury in connection with provincial government investigations into distribution of NONG shares. He is appealing the conviction and sentence and is free on bail.

RELEASE PRISONERS

SEOUL (AP) — The South Korean government announced Tuesday that 1,199 prisoners will be released Aug. 15 in an amnesty to commemorate Korea's 19th Liberation Day. Political prisoners are not included.

Baby Carriage High-Priced Item

ALREWAS, England (AP) — Sixteen years ago, a Mrs. Smith wheeled a baby carriage into the Alrewas Station's parcels room. She paid a month's storage charge of £1 (then worth $4) and went away. Since then every month she has sent along another pound with a note saying:

"Dear Sir. This is for you to keep my pram. Mrs. Smith."

Total charges work out at more than $190.

Now Alrewas Station is to be closed in a British Railways economy drive, and Mrs. Smith's carriage must go.

Said stationmaster Christopher Simkin: "I have written polite notes to her several times suggesting she should come and collect it but she has just ignored them."

Khrushchev Slurred In Chinese Text

PEKING (Reuters) — Russian Premier Khrushchev Tuesday was called "a big conspirator, careerist and double-faced hypocrite" in the publisher's introduction to a collection in Chinese entitled Khrushchev's Statements.

The first volume of the collection went on sale here Tuesday.

The collection, compiled and published by the Shijie Zhishi (World Knowledge) Publishing House, contained 98 speeches, reports, articles and letters by the Russian leader.

All appeared in the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda between 1932 and September, 1953.

The first volume contained material up to 1941.

The publisher said in the introduction a "systematic understanding of Khrushchev is of great significance for the struggle against modern revisionism."

He said that yesterday the Soviet prime minister "fervently extolled Stalin," while today he "maliciously vilifies" him "as a 'murderer' and 'idiot'."

Khrushchev "usurped the leadership of the Soviet party and the state," the introduction states.

It concluded: "Khrushchev's early statements . . . reveal the seeds of revisionist betrayal of Marxism-Leninism."

EXHIBITION STARTS

PRINCE GEORGE (CP)—The crowning of Judy Strom as Aurora VII, Queen of the Evergreens, tonight will officially start the four-day Simon Fraser Days and Exhibition here. The 139-mile northwest Brigade Canoe Race from Fort St. James to here Saturday will climax the festivities.

Only American Led Units Under Fire

SAIGON (AP) — Communist Viet Cong guerrillas have been ordered to fire only on South Vietnamese units accompanied by Americans, said Red leaflets handed out in hamlets just northwest of Saigon Tuesday.

Government officials scoffed at the handbills and said they appeared designed to create dissension between South Vietnamese soldiers and their U.S. advisers.

Saigon returned to a measure of normal Tuesday after the recent increase in tension because of incidents in the Gulf of Tonkin.

The capital seemed generally unperturbed despite continuation of a night curfew imposed last week and the government's announcement that air raid shelters would soon be built.

The new civil defence measures are partly intended to get the generally indifferent Saigonese more interested in the government's war efforts.

The price of gold—an indicator of public confidence in the government — dropped Tuesday after skyrocketing the past week. Hoarders kept gold off the market in anticipation of a further crisis. Rumors also circulated about the possibility of another government coup.

MARKET TRENDS

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market dragged its heels through another slow session Tuesday as Wall Street failed to get any message from the cloudy crystal ball of international affairs.

Volume remained at a subnormal 3,460,000 shares, not 3,050,000.

The Dow Jones industrial average took a minor loss of 1.27 at 828.08. The lion's share of the decline, however, was accounted for by Du Pont's loss of 2½.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined .4 to 313.9.

Standard and Poor's broad 500-stock index confirmed the other indicators, slipping .02 to 81.76.

Caterpillar Tractor was the volume leader, rising ¼ to 32⅞ on 85,300 shares, but this was by the mere happenstance that a single block of 80,000 shares changed hands in an exchange distribution. This, together with a block of 76,000 shares Monday, cleaned up a holding of 156,000 shares which had been overhanding the market.

As copper commodity future prices hit the highest levels since 1956, copper stocks continued their advance.

The second most active stock Texas Gulf Sulphur, which has rich copper holdings in Ontario, rose ½ to 54 on 78,400 shares.

Pan American World Airways was third most active, off ⅞ at 30¾ on 47,500 shares.

On the Canadian list, Walker Gooderham was down ½ and Granby Mining ⅜ while International Nickel and Dome Mines took losses of ¼ each. Aluminimum Ltd., was ahead ¼.

Prices were irregularly higher in quiet trading on the American Exchange. Scurry Rainbow Oil was down ⅝, Canadian Javelin ⅜ and Jupiter Corp. ¼. Molybdenite and Fargo Oil added 1-16 each.

TORONTO (CP)—Prices were higher in all sections of the stock market Tuesday, but volume on the upswing was light.

Base metals were in demand with gains going to a long list of issues, including producers and those companies which are close to the production stage.

Falconbridge was ahead 1¼ to 73¾ while Hudson Bay and Labrador tacked on one point each to 66¾ and 33 respectively. Noranda and Cominco advanced ½ each to 48 and 37¼. Lake Dufault climbed ⅝ to 11⅝.

Canada's four primary steel makers were all higher in pacing industrials to the upside. Algoma gained 1¼ to 73¾, Dosco one point to 17, Stelco ¼ to 26¼ and Dofasco ⅛ to 24¼.

Speculative mining issues wandered through a dreary day. Raglan was down 20 cents to $2.35 and its largest shareholder Canadian Dyno 14 cents to $1.76. Windfall added two cents at 75 cents.

Golds made modest index gain, due chiefly to a win of 20 cents by Dickenson to $4.90.

Western oils were quiet and mainly unchanged from Monday's close. Canadian Delhi improved five cents to $8.45.

On index, industrials were ahead .32 at 158.66, golds .11 to 133.07, base metals .89 to 66.28, western oils .05 to 96.52 and the Exchange index .36 to 148.11. Volume for the session was 3,272,000 shares compared with 2,713,000 shares Monday.

MONTREAL (CP) — Led by a strong papers group, stock prices moved narrowly higher in a quiet day on the Montreal and Canadian Stock Exchanges Tuesday.

The composite index rose 0.2 to 149.2 but declines shaded advances 77 to 74. Industrial volume was 117,200 shares and mines and oils 634,900 shares.

Papers climbed 0.9 on index to 140.9. B.C. Forest picked up 1¼ to 32⅜, Domtar ⅜ to 23⅞ and MacMillan ¼ to 27.

Industrials added 0.2 to 154.0. Southam was up ¾ to 32 and Du Pont ¼ to 54½. CIL eased ¼ to 19¾.

Utilities advanced 0.1 to 138.0. Quebec Telephone improved ½ to 24¼ and Interprovincial Pipe Line ¼ to 89½.

Banks were off 0.3 to 133.1. Royal and Montreal dropped ¼ each to 79 and 68¾. Banque Provinciale moved ahead ¾ to 56.

Senior oils were mixed. Husky advanced ¼ to 10⅛ and B.A. ⅛ to 33⅞. Imperial eased ½ to 50.

In speculative mines, Bruneau was up two cents to 15 cents and Equity Exploration and Consolidated Mogador one cent each to 24 cents and 48 cents.

White Star and Copperstream lost two cents each to 58 cents and 35 cents and Alsof and Mistango River one cent each to 18 cents and 48 cents.

U.S. Anti-Poverty Bill Passed, Reaches Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Senate sent to President Johnson Tuesday a $947,500,000 anti - poverty bill designed to give work to idle youth and to help low - income families get off relief.

Completing congressional action, the Senate accepted House of Representatives amendments. The House passed the bill Saturday.

Enactment of the bill was a major victory for Johnson who had given the legislation highest priority in the closing days of the congressional session. It was opposed by Arizona Senator Barry Goldwater, the Republican party nominee for president in the Nov. 3 U.S. election.

The money figures in the bill re authorizations. Congress must vote appropriations in a supplemental bill if the program is to get started this fall.

Sargent Shriver, who is expected to be named to administer the program, has estimated it should reach 600,000 persons directly in the first year and up to 7,000,000 families through community action projects.

Among the major authorizations in the bill, officially named the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964:

Unemployed youth programs —$412,500,000. These include a job cost to provide work experience, education and vocational training at conservation camps and residential centres; a work - training program to enable youths to resume or continue their high school education or to increase their ability to get a job, and a work-study program to provide part-time jobs so that needy students may continue with university education.

Community action programs —$340,000,000. Under these, Washington would pay 90 per cent of the cost of projects in such fields as health, welfare, job training, vocational rehabilitation, housing and home management, and would make grants to the states to provide literacy training and basic education for adults.

Poverty in rural areas—$35,000,000. This covers authority to make loans up to $2,500 to low-income rural families to improve their farm operations and loans to co - operative associations furnishing essential marketing and processing services to low-income families, and to establish housing, sanitation, education and child day - care programs for migrant farm families.

Swiss Reject Makarios' Request

BERN (AP)—The Swiss government Tuesday rejected an appeal by Cypriot President Makarios for diplomatic assistance in bringing about a peaceful solution of the Cyprus crisis.

A brief announcement following Tuesday's cabinet session said by granding financial assistance to the United Nations Switzerland already expressed its desire for a peaceful settlement of the problem and does not consider itself competent to deal with President Makarios' appeal.

ESCAPE FIRE

MONTE CARLO (AP)—Prince Rainier of Monaco and his wife, Princess Grace, had a close brush with a raging forest fire early Monday at their summer home high above Monaco. The blaze swept through the dry underbrush and trees almost to the walls of their villa. Firemen, aided by volunteer firefighters and French soldiers, finally mastered the flames.

Helicopter Ride Makes Papal History

ORVIETO, Italy (AP)—Pope Paul VI made history's first papal helicopter trip Tuesday as he flew to medieval Orvieto to celebrate the 700th anniversary on the Roman Catholic feast day of Corpus Christi.

The Italian Air Force helicopter landed on the plains just below this hilltop town after a 54-minute flight from his summer residence at Castel Gandolfo, just south of Rome.

The 75-mile flight north came to an end at a specially-prepared landing strip on a highway about 3½ miles from Orvieto. Then the Pope was driven to the fortress-like town that had often been a papal refuge in the past.

He was the 38th pope to come to Orvieto and the first since Pope Piux IX, who visited the town in 1875 when it was still part of the papal states before the unification of Italy.

Ambitious Lady Bootblack Well Rewarded

NEW YORK (AP)—At the age of 12, Lillian Reyes has a thriving business in Times Square, but already she's looking for a better territory.

"When I get $1,000 pretty soon," says Lillian, a shoeshine girl, "I want to open a regular shoeshine parlor and have only girls working for me. So I'll charge everybody 50 cents a shine. I don't know where it will be yet, but it will be in a rich neighborhood."

Right now, she charges only 25 cents. Lillian's corner is Broadway and 40th Street, near a subway stop, and she knows what the traffic will bear. She says she clears up to $103 a week.

Brother Mike works the same corner. But he doesn't get the business Lillian does. His tips are smaller, too.

Lillian wants it understood that the bootblack business is strictly a stop-gap enterprise. When she grows up she wants to be a doctor or a lawyer "or something like that." Mike wants to become a psychiatrist "to see what's wrong with the world and make people happy."

Mike and Lillian live on Manhattan's lower east side. Their father works in a yarn company and their mother sometimes works as a nurse.

Goldwater Riches Believed In Millions

NEW YORK (AP) — Time magazine estimates the wealth of Senator Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential candidate and his wife at about $1,700,000.

Their income, the magazine says, amounted to $65,000 last year—$37,600 from stocks and bonds, $22,500 from Goldwater's Senate salary and $5,000 from his honorary post as chairman of the Goldwater division of Associated Dry Goods Corporation.

The magazine says the source of the family wealth was the Goldwater family retail stores, which were sold in 1962 to Associated Dry Goods,and Mrs. Goldwater's late father, who was a vice-president and director of the Borg-Warner Corporation in Chicago.

Time also says that the senator's mother, now 89, is "worth at least $2,000,000" and that Mrs. Barry Goldwater's mother left a $2,500,000 trust fund for seven grandchildren, including the senator's four children.
