Commonwealth Leaders Draft 4-Point Peace Plan

Would Negotiate Removal of All Foreign Troops From Viet Nam

LONDON (CP) — The Commonwealth proposed Friday a four-point peace plan for Viet Nam which would end American bombing of North Viet Nam and movement of troops and supplies from North Viet Nam to the south.

In sequence, the third point would provide a cease fire and the fourth a peace conference. One aim of that conference would be to negotiate removal of all foreign —including American—troops from Viet Nam.

Other aims would be restoration of the unity of Viet Nam and its establishment as a neutral state.

In a communique ending nine days of talks, the prime minister and presidents of the Commonwealth also urged ways should be found to associate China with future discussions on disarmament.

Other highlights of the 6,000-word communique included:

Carribbean — The conference expressed the hope that peace would be restored in the Dominican Republic within the united nations charter on the basis of self-determination.

Malaysia — The Commonwealth leaders recognized and supported Malaysia's right to defend its sovereign independence and territorial integrity.

REAFFIRM SUPPORT

Cyprus—The prime ministers reaffirmed their full support for the United Nations Security Council resolutions on Cyprus.

Portuguese Africa — "The meeting expressed uspport for the application of the principle of self-determination to the inhabitants of Angola, Mozambique and Portuguese Guinea.

South Africa — "The prime ministers reaffirmed their condemnation of the policy of apartheid practised by the government of the republic of South Africa and unanimously called upon South Africa to bring the practice to an end."

On Viet Nam, the conference communique said the commonwealth mission should be guided by these ultimate objectives during its consultations with the main parties:

1. "A suspension of all United United States air attacks on North Viet Nam.
2. "A North Vietnamese undertaking to prevent the movement of any military forces or assistance or material to South Viet Nam.
3. "A total ceasefire on all sides to enable a conference to be convened to seek a peaceful solution."

Kanester Sentencing Tuesday

VANCOUVER (CP) — Lawrence Kenneth Kanester was found guilty Friday by an Assize Court jury of the rape of an 18-year-old University of Victoria student Jan. 20, 1964.

Kanester, 25, will be sentenced Tuesday by Mr. Justice J. G. Ruttan. He had previously been convicted of the same offence and sentenced to 10 years, but won his appeal for a new trial two months ago.

The jury deliberated 35 minutes before returning the guilty verdict late Friday afternoon.

84 Die in Jet Crash

EL TORO, Calif. (AP)—A jet transport carrying Okinawa-bound U.S. marines slammed into a mountain ridge and disintegrated Friday, killing all 84 aboard. A Montreal native was listed as a member of the plane crew.

The four-engine C-135 hit less than 100 feet from the ridge top moments after it took off at 1:44 a.m. in fog for Honolulu.

80-Acre Recreation Area Planned at Syringa Creek

Camp, Boat Sites Among Facilities

A complex, multi-million-dollar project by B.C. Hydro is destined to make the Syringa Creek area an 80-acre recreation mecca for some 40,000 residents of Castlegar, Nelson and Trail.

In a special report entitled, "The New Outlook for the Arrow Lakes," the utilities company describes comprehensive plans for beach areas, campsites, picnic grounds, boat ramps and extensive parking facilities which will be served by five miles of highway linking Arrow Dam with Syringa Creek. The new highway network, together with increased tourist interest, will have an "enormous" impact on the economy of the Arrow Lakes region, the report stresses.

To compensate the loss of such communities as Edgewood, Burton, Needles, East Arrow, Arrow Park, Beaton and Arrowhead which will be inundated by the reservoir of the Arrow Dam, possibilities for development are offered near Fauquier, Edgewood, Burton and Galena Bay.

Because of its moderate rainfall, the area is considered ideal for future community building. It is expected that upwards of 150 families from the Nakusp and Edgewood regions will settle in one or more of the suggested sites. Meetings with residents of Arrow Lakes areas have already been held with James W. Wilson, the Hydro's regional development co-ordinator, and more are planned for the future.

But no matter where the homestead, within an 80 mile radius of the north bank of the Columbia river at Syringa Creek, all will be able to share in B.C. Hydro's recreation production which will be classified in three separate zones. Preliminary plans prepared by the department of recreation and conservation have allowed for a beach and picnic area for day use featuring a Nature Interpretation House displaying local flora and fauna.

Well treed and with a southern exposure, the new park site at Syringa Creek is almost a mile long.

Other recreation plans include boat launching facilities at Arrow Dam for trailer craft, with access through the lock to be built near the centre of the dam. Marine parks, accessible only by water, are being considered for Renata and Deer Park locations.

The effect of the proposals, the report states, will be greatly improved recreation facilities for the points mentioned, and will serve to open up the Arrow reservoir for general public use.

$100 MILLION PAYROLL

It is estimated by Hydro economists that as much as $100 million will be spent in the Columbia Basin in the next 20 years via payrolls, much of which will be distributed throughout the Arrow Lakes region.

Employment will be created apart from the dams themselves through surveys, clearing, road projects and the construction of new communities. This will, in turn, provide the need for accommodation, food, supplies and various other services which can be handled locally to add more prosperity to the region.

Added revenue will be channeled in via the new highway network to the dam sites which will be staffed by reception families to welcome tourists. The proposed traffic arteries will also bridge the gap between the two trans-continental highways feeding thousands of visitors into the great web of roads around Spokane.

Business opportunities will abound for stores, cafes, service stations, motels and entertainment facilities, not to mention resorts and ranches.

29 Killed as Terrorist Bomb Explodes Near Floating Cafe

SAIGON (AP)—Two powerful terrorist bombs exploded in quick succession beside a crowded floating restaurant on the Saigon River Friday night, killing at least 29 persons and wounding about 100. Five or six Americans and a Frenchman were among the dead.

Witnesses had believed the death toll might reach 50.

The terrorist strike, staged about 500 yards from the U.S. Embassy, was the bloodiest of its kind ever seen in this South Vietnamese capital at any time during the Vietnamese war.

The blasts boomed from the shore about 8:15 p.m., slashing across the luxuriously-appointed decks of the restaurant, the My Canh, felling strollers on the riverside boulevard and smashing windows as far as two blocks away.

It was a violent sequel to a Communist announcement, broadcast six hours earlier by Radio Hanoi, that the Viet Cong guerrillas had killed a captive American, U.S. Army Sgt. Harold George Bennett of Perryville, Ark., in reprisal for the South Vietnamese government's execution of several Viet Cong terrorists.

Among other developments of the day:

In the air war, a U.S. spokesman announced U.S. Air Force jet bombers struck at an ammunition depot and the Na San airfield northwest of Hanoi and destroyed buildings at both points in North Viet Nam.

JETS APPEARED

A dispatch from Hanoi by the Soviet news agency Tass declared American jets appeared over that capital and drew anti-aircraft fire. It said that, in this and other action, five planes were downed. There was no independent confirmation.

In Washington, the pentagon denied any American planes were lost over Hanoi. A spokesman declined to comment when asked whether American aircraft had flown over that city.

On South Viet Nam's battle fronts, U.S. spokesmen reported thre Americans killed by the Viet Cong, over a 24-hour period. The deaths raised to 427 the toll of U.S. combat dead in South Viet Nam.

The terrorist bomb strike left the My Canh's decks and the boulevard pavement slick with blood.

Dining on choice Chinese food and French wine aboard the gently-bobbing My Canh, were nearly 100 south Vietnamese and Americans.

Social Worker, Mrs. Moran Reinstated

PRINCE GEORGE (CP)—Suspended social worker Mrs. Bridget Moran said Friday she has been reinstated after 18 months.

But she has also been told there is no opening for her in the Prince George office of the Provincial Welfare Department.

Mrs. Moran, suspended after sending an open letter to Premier Bennett criticizing the welfare department, said she was notified by letter that her suspension had been lifted.

She also said she will go on making public statements about the Welfare Department "if I feel it is necessary."

One Whale Got Away

NAMU, B.C. (CP) — The smaller of two killer whales has escaped its mates' pen and returned to the sea.

The 10-foot mammal apparently took advantage of a shifting tide and a gap in its gillnet trap to slip away as its captors weighed offers from the world's aquariums.

Its 18-foot companion was reported Friday still in captivity and looking well.

Fishermen William Lechkobit and Robert McGarvey, who trapped the killer whales Wednesday, had already turned down an offer of $5000 for them.

They were holding out for the best offer over $50,000.

Parliament Friday

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

FRIDAY, June 25, 1965

The government's controversial tax changes affecting newspapers and magazines came close to receiving third reading before debate was abruptly adjourned.

Debate was adjourned until next week after the NDP moved an amendment urging reconsideration of a clause exempting Time and Reader's Digest from tax penalties against foreign owned periodicals.

Opposition Leader Diefenbaker charged that Prime Minister Pearson deceived and misled the Canadian Daily Newspaper Publishers Association.

Resources Minister Laing, replying to criticis mby Premier Lesage, said underwater resources in the Gulf of St. Lawrence are a federal jurisdiction.

Mr. Diefenbaker and Arnold Peters (NDP — Timiskaming) called for the resignation of Mr. Justice Leo Landreville of the Ontario Supreme Court in connection with the gas stocks affair.

R. China Rejects "Peace Talks Plot"

PEKING (Reuters) — China officially locked the door on the proposed Commonwealth peace mission on Viet Nam Friday with a stern note refusing to receive it in Peking.

The note accused Britain of heading a "peace talks plot."

The message was handed to the British charge d'affaires here within 48 hours of Russia's official rejection of the mission.

It apparently dashed any chance of the team—composed of the government heads of Britain, Ghana, Nigeria and Trinidad and Tobago—going to Peking, Moscow or Hanoi to seek an opening for peace in Viet Nam. Hanoi, capital of North Viet Nam, has unoffi cially refused to welcome the mission.

However, observers here said the Chinese note, by concentrating its fire on Britain, did not completely rule out an alternative mission.

The note said that by using the name of the Commonwealth, Britain is "rendering yet another service to the U.S. aggressors."

It repeated the Chinese demand for American withdrawal from South Viet Nam as the only way for a Vietnamese settlement.

Townsite To Be "Instant Municipality"

VICTORIA (CP) — The provincial government has sold a 623-acre townsite on Vancouver Island to Tahsis Co. for $100 an acre.

A cabinet order Friday approved the sale of the crown land at Gold River for $62,300 plus a $10 registration fee.

The townsite will be developed by the timber firm in conjunction with the Municipal Affairs Department. The new community will be a few miles from a large pulp mill planned by Tahsis Co.

Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell has said the town, with a projected population of 5,000, will become one of B.C.'s first "instant municipalities."

Gov't May Face Showdown Vote Over Newspaper, Magazine Bill

OTTAWA (CP) — Debate on the government's controversial tax changes affecting newspapers and magazines was ad journed abruptly in the Commons Friday as a showdown vote appeared imminent.

A close vote is expected Monday on a New Democratic amendment urging reconsideration of a clause exempting Time and Reader's Digest from tax penalties against foreign-owned periodicals and dailies.

The income tax amendments were nearing final approval in the sparsely-attended chamber when government House Leader McIlraith rose and moved that the debate be adjourned, an unusual procedure.

The press debate began taking unexpected turns mid-way through the sitting when Stanley Knowles (NDP—Winnipeg North Centre) introduced his amendment on third reading.

He moved that the bill be referred back to the clause-by-clause stage, which had just been concluded, for the purpose of reconsidering clause.

This clause has attracted strong criticism from all four opposition parties, for various reasons, and from most of the newspapers.

Starting next Jan. 1, clause 4 would disallow as deductible expenses the costs of advertising in Canadian dailies and magazines with a foreign ownership of more than 25 per cent.

The Canadian editions of Time and Reader's Digest would be exempted from the new tax penalties, which are designed to discourage foreign takeovers of the domestic press.

Another unexpected turn came when Social Credit Leader Thompson, whose nine-man group sides with the government in most votes, expressed support for the Knowles amendment.

Thus the possibility arose the numerically stronger opposition could unite in Monday's vote to defeat the minority government. It was not immediately clear whether the government would regard the vote as a test of confidence.

BILL STUDIED

Earlier Friday, Clause 4 was carried along with 29 others as the income tax bill received detailed study in the committee of the whole House.

Roll-call votes are not permitted in the committee stage, so Conservative and NDP members shouted "on division" to register their opposition to Clause 4.

Opposition Leader Diefenbaker, back from a Western speaking and fishing trip, again denounced the press measures as "one of the most serious potential invasions of freedom ever seen in this country."

He appealed to the government to withdraw the measure or at least to adjourn the debate until Monday, when Prime Minister Pearson is due to return from the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference in London. Mr. Pearson is expected in Ottawa about 7 p.m. Monday.

Japan Agreeable to Voluntary Quotas

OTTAWA (CP) — Japan has agreed to voluntary quotas for 1965 providing a three- to five-per-cent increase in those exports to Canada covered by self-imposed restraints, Finance Minister Gordon announced Friday.

He told the Commons the rate of increase above 1964 levels was an orderly one in line with the general expected rate of market growth.

Mr. Gordon also disclosed that, under the 1965 agreement, five more items exported to Canada by Japan have been removed from the voluntary quotas list. They are spun rayon blouses, spun rayon shirts, canvas footwear, waterproof footwear and dish towels.

He said he is certain the Japanese government will interpret this move as "concrete evidence of the willingness of the Canadian government to work toward the orderly expansion of two way trade."

As a result of representations from Canadian textile producers, discussions are under way in regard to Japanese exports of cotton fabric and man made fibre fabrics which appear to be threatening domestic producers. No decisions have yet ben made on these two items.

The voluntary quota system, in effect for several years with Japan, sets ceilings on annual exports of certain Japanese goods in areas where unrestricted shipments from the Asian nation could damage Canadian industry.

VILLAGES FOR HOMELESS BIG NEED

CAMROSE, Alta. (CP)—"Villages" providing a simulated home environment for homeless children instead of orphanages and asylums was described here Friday as "one of the greatest needs in welfare work today."

Queen Mother Presents Colors

TORONTO (CP) — The Queen Mother, commander-in-chief of the Toronto Scottish Regiment, Friday night presented new colors to her regiment in a ceremony tinged with sentiment but glittering with military splendor and precision.

To the strains of Auld Lang Syne the old colors, presented by her when she was Queen in 1939, were marched off for the last time.

The new colors, bearing battle honors with such names as the Somme, Vimy, Ypres and Dieppe, Antwerp and the Rhineland, were consecrated and presented by Her Majesty in a ceremony at Varsity Stadium.

In a brief speech, she told the men:

"As I passed along your ranks just now, my thoughts turned to some of those events which will ever be enshrined in the proud history of our regiment . . .

"Your devotion to duty when the world's peace was threatened is emblazoned for all to read on the colors I have given you tonight."

LONDON (CP) — Prunier's, the famous fish restaurant, has sent Mrs. Lester B. Pearson a fish cook book because the Canadian prime minister's wife admitted to British reporters she didn't know how properly to cook the bass her husband caught on weekend fishing trips.

Mrs. Pearson laughingly told a reporter Friday that not only had Prunier's volunteered expert advice, but several London housewives also had written.

VANCOUVER (CP) — The august judges of the B.C. Court of Appeal, who usually deal in murder appeals and million-dollar suits, wrestled legally for an hour Thursday with the case of the little white rabbit.

The legal question put in an appeal before Chief Justice H. I. Bird, Mr. Justice H. J. Sullivan and Mr. Justice H. A. Maclean, was whether Leonard Filipchuk of interior Chase, B.C., was in fact guilty of stealing one small white rabbit.

They heard appeal evidence that the rabbit had been given to Mrs. Marie Hudson of Chase by Filipchuk's mother. Later the accused had asked for its return, been refused, and took it away.

RCMP were called and Filipchuk was charged with theft and convicted.

The judges on the evidence, quashed the conviction and six-months suspended sentence which had been imposed on Filipchuk by a magistrate

Rosslander Heads College

OTTAWA (CP) — Brig. A. G. Chubb, 51, of Rossland, B.C. has been appointed director of the National Defence College at Kingston, effective Aug. 11, it was announced Friday.

Brig. Chubb, who has been commander of the Canadian Liaison Establishment in London for the past three years, succeeds Brig. R. M. Bishop, who is retiring.

Eight Girls Seek Miss Nelson Title

Eight Nelson girls will vie for the title of Miss Nelson this year in a queen contest sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

The city's representative in the Miss PNE contest in Vancouver will be selected from contestants Lillian Gregoire, Gloria Birch, Judy Baker, Linda Wakeham, Andrea Sawczuk, Evelyn MacDonald, Janet Wade and Barbara Hill.

Contest chairman is Albert Maida and in charge of preparing and chaperoning the girls is Mrs. Gordon Dolman. The girls have had several meetings to be trained by Mrs. Dolman in poise, deportment and public appearances.

The July 17 contest will be in conjunction with the Water Pageant, the crowning to take place at the park in the evening.

A dance for the young people will be held also.

On July 2, the girls will go to Spokane to appear on a television show.

Police Told High Grass Led to Crash

Approximately $400 damage was sustained by two vehicles involved in a collision in the 600 block Munro Street Thursday evening.

Cars driven by Mrs. Eleanor Walkden of 615 Munro Street and Mickit Nazarov of 620 Munro Street, collided.

Neither driver was able to see the other because of high grass, police said.

Police said it was a dangerous piece of road. Fred Emmott, a resident, told police he feels there may be a fatality there as many small children play in the area.

Fined $200

Investigation Into Plane Crash Opens

Preparation of Report May Take 3 Weeks

Department of Transport accident investigators from Vancouver arrived in Nelson Friday afternoon to begin a probe into the crash of a light plane into Lemon Creek Wednesday evening that took the lives of Alderman F. A. Beresford and Alec Maclean, both of Nelson.

Before coming to Nelson D. J. Douglas and J. A. Love visited the scene of the crash where they removed the engine from the plane. They will take it to Vancouver for inspection.

During their investigation in Nelson they will contact anyone who can give information on the proposed and actual flight of the plane.

They will also examine the aircraft log book and the log books of both men in the plane when it crashed. Their report, to be completed in about three weeks, will be sent to Ottawa.

When told that both men were pilots they pointed out that this would raise complications as it would be impossible to know for sure who was flying the plane.

The plane was equipped with dual controls.

Asked for further information on flight plan procedure, when followed, they said that before or immediately after taking off, the pilot notifies the closest D.O.T. radio station (closest one to Nelson is at Crescent Valley) of their route, altitude, destination, alternate route and destination, the fuel on board and the pilot's name and licence number.

If the pilot does not disclose his flight plan within 30 minutes of his estimated time of arrival, a communications check is conducted. This means that all known radio stations and airstrips are contacted, requesting information.

If this proves negative then the Royal Canadian Air Force Search and Rescue Squadron are called.

The closest search and rescue base to Nelson is Comox. However, in this case, local pilots could have been in the area much sooner.

The filing of flight plans is not compulsory as it would impose a hardship because of the lack of facilities.

If flight plans were compulsory many pilots would be grounded, the investigators said.

Frank Morrow of the Nelson Pilots Association told the Daily News that Nelson pilots are in the habit of filing flight plans for longer trips, such as to Vancouver or Calgary.

For shorter trips such as to Kamloops, slightly over one hour away, they are not in the habit of filing flight plans but they do keep track of each other by watching cars parked at the air strip.

Morrow said that a member usually knows where a pilot has gone.

When Ald. Beresford and Mr. Maclean had not returned Wednesday evening another member of the Nelson Pilots' Association, Henry Stevenson, phoned Kamloops and was advised that one of the men had phoned to Kamloops at 4 p.m. to say they would not be arriving.

Mr. Morrow believed the call was from Vernon as it is directly on the route from Kamloops to Nelson.

Upon hearing they had phoned Kamloops, Mr. Stevenson decided they were staying overnight and did not begin to worry until Ald. Beresford's car was noticed still at the airport Thursday morning.

Dr. N. E. Morrison told the Daily News Friday evening that if Ald. Beresford could have been brought in earlier his chances of recovery would have been better.

City Hall Observance For Ald. Beresford

City Hall, The Civic Centre and all recreational facilities will be closed Monday for the funeral of Alderman F. A. Beresford who with Alex Maclean died when the light plane in which they were flying crashed into Lemon Creek Wednesday evening.

The City Hall will be closed from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Funeral services for Ald. Beresford will be held at the First Baptist Church at 2 p.m. Monday.

Rev. Lyle Kennedy will officiate and interment will take place in Nelson Memorial Park.

Funeral services for Mr. Maclean will be held at the Thompson Funeral Home Monday at 11 a.m. Rev. E. A. Hircock will officiate. Interment will take place in Nelson Memorial Park.

Profits from the Shrine Club Rudy Bros. Circus are placed in a fund which pays expenses of mothers and children to and from Shrine hospitals for crippled children in Spokane and Portland. In picture above, Miss Doris Stevenson, administrator of the Spokane unit of Shrine hospitals, receives a cheque from Ben Sutherland of Nelson, for $3000. Mr. Sutherland is a member of the Board of Governors of Shrine hospitals, Spokane unit, and was acting on behalf of Gizeh Temple, Vancouver. The Nelson club has received a plaque signifying that it had given $1200, receipts from circus and other Shrine activities, to Gizeh Temple.

Three RCMP To Transfer

Three members of the Nelson detachment RCMP are being transferred in July.

Staff Sergeant F. E. Nelson, sub-division NCO for the past five years, is being transferred to Victoria, where he will be the chief Criminal Investigation Branch reader for the province of B.C.

Constable L. G. Grinnell, who has been in Nelson for the past four years, is to be married and then will be posted to Revelstoke for general duties.

Constable T. O. Lewis, after two years in Nelson, is being transferred to B.C. headquarters in Victoria.

Dr. Reibin Passes at 43

Dr. Peter Reiben, 43, native of the district and a practising dentist in Nelson since 1948, died suddenly at his home at 669 Baker Street, Friday.

Born in Brilliant, May 4, 1922, he lived there until his family moved to Blewett in 1932.

He received his schooling in Nelson and after completing high school he attended University of British Columbia for one year before transferring to the University of Oregon Dental School at Portland. He received his Doctor of Dental Surgery degree in June 1948.

After graduation, he returned to Nelson to practice.

Survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter K. Reiben of Nelson, and two sisters, Mrs. Alex (Polly) Sapriken of Blewett and Mrs. Bert (Mary) Johnson of Trail.

21 Boys Presented Pins at Musicale

An informal musicale provided the occasion for presentation of attendance pins to 21 members of the Nelson Boys' Choir Wednesday night at St. Paul's-Trinity United Church.

Under direction of Mrs. T. J. S. Ferguson, the 40-voice choir opened the program with three of their favorite songs, "Westering Home", "Weigis Song" and "Poor Pa." Eight members of the choir sang the lyrical Bach selection "Now the Sheep Secure Are Grazing."

The remainder of the program was comprised of vocal solos, duets and piano selections. Vocalists were Eddie Latta, singing "Who is Sylvia?", Bobby Stewart "There is joy in the song we sing"; Greg Coog, "Walking Song", Kit Murison, "Se tu M'ami" by Pergolesi; Don Oddie, "Where e'er you walk" by Handel; Melvin Maglio, "Arm, Arm, Ye Brave by Handel; Kathleen Atwell, "London River" and Joan Stewart, "Dew Upon the Lily".

David McElroy, former accomplished boy soprano, appeared for the first time as a bass soloist singing "Osis and Osiris" from Mozart's Magic Flute. H ealso sang in a duet with Kit Murison, a beautiful song by Purcell, "What shall I do to show her how much I love her?" This was a delightful blending of two young voices.

Piano selections were by Bernice Kary, playing "Momente Musicale" by Schubert: Phyllis Morton, "Important Event", Sharon Herron, Scherzo by Schubert; Sandra Reese, Prelude in B Minor by Chopin, and Andrea Sawczuk, Minuet by Bach.

John Campbell, usually heard as a boy soprano, played "Minuet" by Schale, since his voice is changing. The young performers received warm applause from the large crowd.

There followed presentation of the choir motto pins to boys with four years' perfect attendance in the choir, Greg Corbett, Ian Galbraith, Bob Huestis, Cameron Kary, Eddie Lata, Robin Morton, Steve McElroy and Gary Westfall.

Boys with five, six and seven years' attendance receiving pins were Paul Killeen, Clare Cassan, Bobby Stewart, Keith Ferguson, Teddy Jones, John Campbell and Ricky Campbell.

Senior boys receiving treble clef pins for 10 to 14 years in the choir and the Choristers group were Jim Turner, Don Stewart, David Herbison, Larry McEachern, David McElroy and Greg Cook.

Mrs. Ferguson spoke of the faithfulness of the boys to the choir and read a portion of an essay written in tribute to Sir Winston Churchill and his faithfulness to his duty and his country.

Barefoot Cards Low Net 30

George Barefoot registered a low net 30 to take top honors in the 1-10 handicap division at the Nelson Golf and Country Club's Men's Night Thursday.

Ray West and Mickey Maglio recorded 31s during the 18-hole competition that saw a field of 80 entries.

Fred Whiteley and Jack Kilpatrick checked in with 31s as Bill Day shot a low net 29 to take the 11-20 division.

In the 20-and-over handicap class, Bill Morton and Jim James were tied at 31.

The second round championships must be completed by June 28, with the Wood Vallance Tournament scheduled for July 1.

Teenagers To Take Part In Program

"There is a tremendous amount of acting talent in this town," according to Mrs. Betty Keller, drama teacher at Trafalgar Junior Secondary School, who will spend the summer developing some of it.

She will be directing a program of summer stock theatre for teenagers sponsored by the Civic Recreation Commission.

At the end of July Mrs. Keller plans on a public production of a good standard play such as The Man Who Came to Dinner, Harvey or Auntie Mame.

Co far 16 teenagers have registered for the program. The program starts July 5.

Mrs. Keller said she has high hopes that this will become an annual summer event.

Creston Hospital Plans Studied

CRESTON — Sketch plans in detail of the proposed Creston Valley Hospital expansion, to incorporate 52 acute care beds with provision for a continuing care unit for the future, will be presented to the planning committee within a few weeks.

Progress on the expansion program was outlined at a meeting of the board of directors held recently.

Co-operation received from Hon. W. D. Black, minister of social welfare and health, was commended.

At the moment it is proposed that the 52 acute beds mentioned would be allocated to the following services: pediatrics, 10 beds; obstetrics and gynecology, 10 beds; medical and surgical, 32 beds, plus an unfinished area for approximately 30 continuing care beds.

Accreditation of the Creston Valley Hospital received full discussion at a regular meeting of the board held at the hospital. Members were disappointed that full accreditation had not been granted, although this decision was not unexpected.

PROVISIONAL ACCREDITATION

Advice has been received from the Canadian Council on Hospital Accreditation that only provisional accreditation has been awarded the hospital. Further, that provisional accreditation may only continue for one year more.

The council made 22 recommendations to assist in efforts for continuous improvement of the quality of patient care. It was noted that of these, three were of a complementary nature, eight covered the physical plant, nine dealt with the medical staff and recording of medical charts, and the balance were miscellaneous.

The board is implementing ways and means to fulfil the recommendations within the next 12 months.

The provincial bargaining committee of the B.C. Hospital Association was authorized to renegotiate with the registered nurses on an agreement which expires Dec. 31, 1965. The B.C. Hospitals' Association and the RNABC have bargained on a province-wide basis for several years.

NEW EQUIPMENT

During May it was necessary to purchase a new laundry extractor and the Creston Valley Hospital Improvement district provided the funds in the amount of $1417.50, which represents two-thirds of the cost of the machine. BCHIS will make a grant-in-aid of equipment for the balance.

It was felt necessary by the board to investigate the purchase of additional property for the hospital in view of the expansion program.

H. K. Legg and R. McL. Cooper were named as a special committee for this purpose.

Roland Robinson was asked to represent the hospital at the Community Chest meeting held June 22.

The United States is the only country in the world where there are more radio sets than people.

PREDATOR SPECIALIST—John Carson is shown with hide of black bear reported to have killed a milk cow at Pass Creek.

Black Bears Shot After Cow Killed

CASTLEGAR — Reported to be a "grizzly," a black bear that killed a milk cow was brought to earth by John Carson, conservation officer of the South Okanagan and Kootenay areas, and a predatory animal specialist.

Mr. Carson was called to Castlegar by Peter Ewart, Castlegar games officer, after the latter had received a report from Bill Stookichoff of Pass Creek that a grizzly bear had killed one of his milk cows. He said the cow was missed five days ago. A search revealed the animal's carcass, which had been dragged into the bush, with a broken neck.

Carson went into the spot where the cow's remains were lying and in the early morning spotted a small black bear at the cow's body. A noise frightened off the little bear, which roused a larger black bear. This one treed the smaller animal and Mr. Carson shot both. They had apparently been feeding from the cow's remains for some days.

Award Winner

KEITH WILSON

SALMO—Keith Wilson received second class honors on the completion of his second year medical at UBC.

He carried off the C. V. Mosby Co. award, which is presented annually to the scholar showing the most promise and excellence in his field of studies.

Last year, he won the Ella J. Harrison award for his record of outstanding achievement. The 22-year-old student is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wilson of Salmo. He received his elementary and high school education here, then studied one year at Notre Dame University in Nelson before entering UBC.

He plans to specialize in surgery and is presently working at the provincial mental hospital at Essondale.

Farm Under Quarantine For Nemitode

VICTORIA (CP) — Discovery of a small dreaded worm on a farm in the nearby Saanich Peninsula has led to a virtual quarantine on agricultural products from Vancouver Island.

Federal and provincial officials moved Friday to enforce an order from Ottawa banning all exports from the island of rooted plants.

An agriculture department spokesman here said consideration is also being given to a ban on shipments of cut flowers.

The two moves dealt a crippling blow to Vancouver Island's $5,000,000 agricultural industry.

Discovery of the dreaded golden nematode on Vancouver Island was described Friday by scientists of the federal agriculture research station as a "real blow to Canadian agriculture."

The nematode is a worm that attacks potatoes, tomatoes, and egg plant, the agriculture department said.

It is the first golden nematode infestation in Canada other than in Newfoundland.

EXPRESS NEEDS WELDS

The 125 m.p.h. Tokdaido railway express, in Japan, needs rails which are welded together, instead of bolted.

$1500 To Aid Summer Sports at Castlegar

CASTLEGAR — Castlegar and District Athletic Association will receive $1500, it was announced when local Community Chest directors alloted grants totalling $2850 at their June meeting.

Castlegar and District Athletic Association encompasses Kinnaird, Robson and Castlegar sports groups. The grant is to cover summer sports activities in the three areas.

The Castlegar District Fall Fair board requested a grant of $700 and this was also approved.

The children's hospital in Vancouver and the Canadian Diabetic Association, Vancouver branch, will receive a grant of $150

This is the first time the local Community Chest has made a grant to the Canadian Diabetic Association and it is given in recognition of the fact that district residents benefit from the association's services.

A request was received from the Salvation Army for the annual grant to Camp Arrow Trail. This camp is no longer in existence, having been in the area affected by the Arrow dam development but the grant is to be used for youth activities and to help send under-privileged children to other camps.

The Community Chest directors approved $200 for the Salvation Army as this amount has been set for such camps in 1965.

To bring other camp grants into line with the new figures of $200, the Chest made additional $50 grants to three camps which had previously received $150 each. These were Camp Lourdes, Camp Rory and the Kootenay Pentecostal Camp.

Dominion Day Plans, Little League Ball Occupy Legion

SALMO — Participation in the Dominion Day activities and problems concerned with little league baseball were discussed at the final meeting for the summer of Branch 217, Royal Canadian Legion, when two members were admitted to the branch.

A. J. F. Albert, formerly a member of the Haney branch, transferred his membership to Salmo. Claude A. Townsend of Fruitvale was welcomed into the branch as a new member by the attending body.

Further business included a favorable response to an appeal from the Salmo Girl Guide Association. Three new Canadian flags are to be presented to the guide company, the ranger company and a new guide company to be formed, respectively. The presentation will be arranged when the flags are received from the supplier. The association will also receive a donation equal to the hall rental accrued by their annual tea.

Delegates to the recent zone convention gave their reports to the meeting, which includeed the coverage of the Legion's sports program.

George Hartland informed the members the zone track meet would be held at the Haley Oval, June 26 and 27. Boys and girls in the peewee and bantam divisions will compete Saturday afternoon while midget, juvenile and junior divisions compete Sunday. Opening ceremonies will commence at 10:00 a.m. with the usual parade of athletes around the oval, under the colors of their host branches.

The branch decided to run a horseshoe tournament in the long list of events to be held in Salmo July 1. The tournament in conjunction with the sponsoring of a Dominion Day queen contest, will be the Legion's contribution towards establishing a variation of events.

Highlight of the meeting came when the motion to forward Branch 217's commitment, to Pacific Command for furtherance to the Legion's Centennial Fund. By sending the cheque, it is anticipated by the executive, Salmo will be the first branch in the west to complete its consignment of four dollars per member to the $1,000,000 fund. The fund has been established on a national level for investment purposes, the interest from which will finance various undertakings to perpetuate the aims and efforts of the Canadian Legion.

The annual barbecue, usually held in late August, will be decided upon by the executive.

The problem of transporting little league baseball players to various centres for the league games was reported to the membership. The general feeling developed that surely if the Legion provided coaching personnel in addition to uniforms and equipment, as well as giving cash donations to the Association they could hardly be expected to provide the only cars. A suggested remedy for the oncoming season was the proposal to receive the assurance of the parents' co-operation in providing transportation before that boy could be registered as a player.

Would Use Hardwood At E. Kootenay Mill

Kicking Horse Forest Products Ltd. of Golden has announced that it still plans to make use of hardwood species in its proposed East Kootenay pulp mill.

The company is one of three seeking a timber supply from the government to supply a mill in the region. The others are Canal Development Ltd. of Cranbrook and Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co. of Fernie.

Recently, Lands and Forests Minister Williston announced following a trip to Japana that specifications for timber use for these three applicants had been rewritten to include mandatory use of hardwoods.

A release by W. R. Batten, resident manager of Kicking Horse Forest Products, said the company is now awaiting detailed requirements concerning the timber auction.

He said the company had not changed its policy or plans as presented at the public hearing. "This proposal included the maximum economic utilization of the total timber resource, including the hardwood species. Hardwoods are of minor significance in this region."

Teacher, Mrs. C. Price, Honored on Retirement

BALFOUR — Honored on closing day at Balfour School, Mrs. C. Price, junior room teacher, was presented with a gift on her retirement on behalf of the Nelson District Teachers' Association by their president, Merlin Bunt of Nelson, and past secretary, Mrs. T. Wayling.

Mr. Bunt stated that there are 15,000 teachers in B.C., and that Mrs. Price is a valued member of the federation.

She began her teaching career in 1924 in the Drumheller district in Alberta, taught at Longbeach in B.C., and in Vancouver. She married in 1931.

She returned to active teaching in 1940, holding schools in Crawford Bay, Okanagan, Harrop, Willow Point, Procter and Balfour.

Gordon Sargent, on behalf of the Board of School District No. 7, thanked Mrs. Price for her long years of cheerful service, stating that primary school teachers instil the value of education in the child, and so often set the course they will follow. He complimented Mrs. Price on her serenity and presence of mind, and cooperation in filling in wherever she was needed.

Mrs. L. Anderson, president of the Balfour school PTA, presented Mrs. J. Keiran, senior room teacher, and Mrs. Price, with gifts from the PTA and students, thanking both teachers for their splendid work with the children through the year."

The "graduating class," grade seven, which will be going into grade eight at Trafalgar School in Nelson next term, include Gloria Morgenson, Nancy Noakes, Diane Peterson, Bryce Olson, Allan Heuston, Kevin Bowles.

It was the third year that parents and children have joined in a pot luck luncheon out of doors with the usual great success.

In charge of arrangements were members of the PTA, helped by Leah Stainton and Marilyn Erickson.

In charge of sports, Mrs. R. Stevenson, Mrs. W. Merz and Mrs. P. Misan reported results of races as follows:

Gas Profits Too Big to Disclose

B.C. Hydro's lower mainland natural gas customers, now numbering more than 150,000 must be interested in the application of Inland Natural Gas Co. Ltd., to the Public Utilities Commission for permission to reduce its rates to customers in the Interior of the province. Inland proposes to save its patrons $1 million over the next three years.

Inland President John A. McMahon says the proposed rate cut is the result of "acquiring customers at a very rapid rate." Since his company started distribution of gas in 1957, it has added 2500 customers a year and now has a total of 25,000.

B.C. Hydro increased its patronage by nearly 8000 last year and has six times more customers than Inland. Gas heating is installed in 95 per cent of new homes on the lower mainland.

Yet B.C. Hydro shows no sign of rate cuts of the order proposed by Inland. Hydro sold a record amount of gas last year and produced a net profit of more than $13 million, most of it obviously from gas sales.

Stranger still is the fact that Inland, a privately-owned corporation paying federal corporation taxes, provincial taxes and producing dividends for its investors, can afford rate cuts, while Hydro, the publicly-owned agency not obligated to pay taxes or dividends, and dedicated to provide service at cost, cannot reduce its tariffs on such a scale.

The discrepancy is so flagrant it demands an explanation. All the public has had so far is a refusal to present a Hydro balance sheet that shows how much money is being made from gas sales.

At the moment the assumption must be the government is fearful of the public outcry that would follow disclosure of the size of Hydro's natural gas profits. — Vancouver Province.

Markets Basically Solid

Is the financial structure of the 1965 world headed for some sort of 1929-type slump? Well, world stock markets have been going through a trying period, including the Toronto Stock Exchange, but there doesn't appear to be any hard evidence of a basic systematic weakness.

In Geneva, Swiss bankers, businessmen and monetary authorities said the most widespread trend is represented by deliberate "disinflationary" policies in various European countries, which might bring on recessions if carried too far. In the Swiss view, the current nervousness on Wall Street, is based almost entirely on psychological factors, especially uncertainty over Viet Nam.

In Tokyo, Japanese government officials and economists regard the present setbacks on Wall Street and Tokyo exchanges as temporary phenomena, arising mainly out of psychological factors.

The renewed weakness of sterling may have deeper causes, they said, but the problem is of a type that can be solved within the limits of the present world monetary system.

Economists predict that money supply will continue to be tight in many countries of the world and Britain may have to increase its bank rate to seven per cent again.

In Paris, French financial circles see no direct link between the world monetary situation and recent sharp variations on Wall Street or the continued dip of shares on the Tokyo Stock Exchange.

The consensus is that, while a reform of the international monetary system should be made soon, there is no real connection with the ups and downs of world stock markets or the weakness of the pound.

In London, government speakers are reassuring a perplexed public that although Britain's finances look ill, they are really quite healthy—but need some drastic treatment.

West German monetary authorities are convinced the present system, although far from perfect, is stable enough to protect most countries from the short-term ups and downs that in some previous years caused havoc.

Otmar Emminger, a director of the Deutsche Bundesbank, West Germany's central bank, said the present international monetary system seems to have been able to withstand the combined shocks and tensions of simultaneous balance-of-payments difficulties of the dollar and sterling economies. "It has, in its system of fixed exchange rates, a disciplinary force that may have brought us nearer to the elimination of world-wide creeping inflation than we have been for a long time," he said.

Modern money markets are not likely to find themselves in the 1929 position that plunged the world into the Great Depression. Luckily for us, they no longer operate in an atmosphere of vagueness and ill-founded emotionalism. — Penticton Herald.

Serious Funnymen

Evidently there was some amazement in certain circles when the brilliant Al (L'il Abner) Capp turned out to be as much a serious commentator on human affairs as a humorist in a speech he delivered in Hamilton.

The truth is that the majority of the great humorists are at heart deadly serious men. Mark Twain, for example, was a sarcastic satirist, a bitter man at heart.

Stephen Leacock was a magnificently funny man, but usually at the expense of the world's foibles. He was basically a critic who double edged his sword in humor.

Evelyn Waugh, another outstanding humorist, is in reality one of the most serious and biting satirists the world has seen since Swift. His earlier books, "Vile Bodies" and all the rest, are searching masterpieces.

What makes Al Capp a household name all over the free world is not so much his humor, which is great, but the validity of his satire, which is sheer savagery underneath its sheen of vulgarity.

The world needs more Al Capps, thousands of them. Humor is the great leveller—it can level walls and prejudices simply by making people see how utterly funny or stupid or sad just about everything is. Most of us take ourselves and our works too seriously—the Al Capps bring us down to earth again. Or should.—Hamilton Spectator.

PHILATELY WITH FRASER

The National Flag

By R. T. FRASER

Next Wednesday, June 30th will see something new in the stamp which will be issued by the Canadian Post Office. This stamp will mark the first time Canada has put out a postage stamp with the flag as the central theme. Other countries have done so quite frequently and many are familiar with the several stamps the United States have issued with the Stars and Stripes prominently displayed. This has been particularly evident during recent times when new stars were added to the flag when Hawaii and Alaska achieved statehood.

As the result of the decision finally to select a new flag for Canada very strong emotions were stirred in Canadians from one end of the country to the other. Many things were said, many violent charges were hurled by our political leaders and others, and great bitterness resulted. The final selection of the flag was made by the unfortunate process of closure and it seemed as if nothing more could possibly be done to ensure that the new flag would have a very brief and stormy existence.

Yet today, some few short months later, the new flag is very largely being accepted by Canadians as a people. In particular the young people have taken to it quickly and seem happy that they have a flag which appears to them to be distinctly Canadian.

I am one of many who would have been very pleased to have seen the Red Ensign continued to be flown as the flag of Canada and have felt a keen sense of loss and disappointment that it seems doomed to disappear from the Canadian scene as a national symbol.

However, the new flag is here, it was accepted by parliament, it was given royal assent, it was dedicated as Canada's flag and it is recognized officially around the world as Canada's national symbol. It is therefore right an proper that we should put aside any feelings of grief or loss over the flag under which so many of us served and that we should now show our respect and loyalty to the new flag. As in the case of personal loss and grief over a departed member of one's own family it would be foolish to hug grief and pain to one's self and refuse to face up to reality, so it is with our feelings for the Red Ensign. We are all Canadians and this new flag is Canada's flag.

It is to be hoped that when the new stamp is issued on Wednesday the 30th of June that Canadians everywhere will flock to the post offices and use the stamp. It should not only be used in mail to all parts of Canada but especially it should be sent to other countries of the world. It should be used with pride and affection as representing our own country.

It is also to be hoped that Canada will continue to issue postage stamps showing our national flag and that at least once a year the flag should appear in some form on one of our commemorative stamps.

There is much talk of disunity in the country — much more talk than any actual feeling of disunity — perhaps the flag will help to still some of the talk and how better than an attractive stamp to carry the flag throughout the land.

Just A Line . . .

by Jean Baker

Motorcycles roar down Baker Street. Helmeted young fellows, their sleeves flapping in the wind, are one with their machines, thudding over cracks in the pavement, sweeping sweetly along the blacktop. This is the way to travel, and this is fun — 1965 style.

Fun 1899 style, I learned last week, was far more colorful, often ending in an "incident" and involving unexpected adventures.

E. C. Wragge, Nelson solicitor since 1899, for many years had a summer home two miles from the ferry approach on the North Shore and travelled back and forth by launch a good deal of the time.

When, in February, 1899, he arrived in Nelson, he found it "a young man's town, mostly bachelors, and full of hotels, each, of course, with its bar, and there were a number of saloons in addition.

The population was about equally divided between Canadian-born and English, with work in the district mines done largely by Cornish miners.

Mining engineers from all over the world were found here. Many of the young men roomed at one house and had their meals at a "mess" in some other part of the city, usually with a Chinese cook.

By the time fall and hunting time rolled around, the new Nelson lawyer was fairly well acquainted with his bar associates and other men of his generation who were making the history we prize so much now.

He, E. W. (Charles) Matthews and George Beer planned a duck hunting expedition in the Kootenay Flats, for which George offered the use of his ancient boat, "The Mischief".

Internal combustion motors had not come into their own, and quantities of cordwood were required to fire up the steam motive power which propelled the few vessels of this type around the Kootenay waterways.

Wood was easily available in Nelson. Sailors would load up their launch to its capacity with wood, and when this large supply dwindled away, the launch would put into shore and the captain and crew would replenish their supply with driftwood.

"I have already said that the launch was an antique," notes Mr. Wragge. "Where she came from or how old she was, nobody, including her proud owner, had any idea.

Nevertheless, steam was raised in The Mischief's ancient boiler and the three got under way, the boat loaded with supplies and cordwood until it sat well below the normal waterline.

Unfortunately, there was not enough steam generated to run the bilge pump and keep going as well. The boat began to sink as the water poured in from all the open seams above the old water line and below the present one. It was questionable whether the sinking vessel would reach shore before it went under completely ,and its crew with it.

Landing, they packed most of the wood into the rowboat they were towing and returned to the starting point off the city wharf. Here, the three would-be hunters reloaded most of their supplies and hunting equipment onto a tug which was leaving for Kootenay Landing at that time. They managed arrangements with the captain with the judicious application of a "jolt of overproof rum."

After all rearrangements were made, the trio started off again in their ancient craft and sailed up the West Arm. A couple of stops were necessary to replenish the wood supply. They steamed through the outlet onto Kootenay Lake and spent the night on a beach well down the main lake.

Arriving at the Kootenay flats, they found the main part of the area in its natural state, that which was not dyked. The "wilderness of lake, marsh and sloughs" was a "paradise for ducks and geese on their fall migrations."

They spent a rather unsuccessful week so far as their game bag was concerned and during the week they tramped the marshes hunting the sloughs by boat and marching along the shores looking for grouse. They decided to cross into Idaho, where they got horses at Porthill and went deer hunting on the high ground east of the river. Customs and game licenses were not established at that time.

They were unsuccessful, also, in this field, so they returned to their boat and headed back down the lake after a couple of days.

They negotiated the Kootenay River, but on arriving at Kootenay Landing, the sight of a pile of coal used for the CPR steamers was too much for the weary three and they succumbed to the temptation to save themselves a lot of woodcutting, as their fuel supply was low.

Stocking up with the coal, they headed down the lake until, after about ten miles, the grates burned through.

Their adventure was becoming too much so, particularly as it was pitch dark on the lake and they had to paddle towards the shore, but their luck turned when they hit a beach, one of the few on the west side, and found some rocks. These they made into another grate and got the fires stoked once more. Taking turns to steer and stoke, they finally made their way back to Nelson.

The party had been too rough for the poor old boat, and a few days later she sank at her moorings.

This does not mean that 1965 is lacking in adventurous opportunities. Little motorbikes can take anyone into the remote mountain passes — along trails once travelled by pack horses and even camels. Motors with the power of 35, 50 or 75 horses sweep up to the main lake in an hour or less. And it is probably fun walking a mile or so to a gas station if the fuel runs out — but I would like to have seen the boaters of those early days as they regarded their dwindling woodpile with a baleful eye and headed for shore with its pile of driftwood and the prospect of a couple of hours' sawing ahead of them. This was one incident they could count on happening when they set out "Full steam ahead."

Finally Taking Interest in Youth Problems

TORONTO (CP) — Provincial governments are finally taking an interest in Canada's youth problems, two members of the Saskatchewan Youth Agency in Regina said here Thursday.

Howard Nixon, executive director of the agency, said that after discussing the problems of youth with representatives of seven provincial governments, he believes all the provinces realize the need to delve fully into such problems to ensure the future potential of Canada.

C. P. Macdonald, secretary to Saskatchewan Health Minister David Steuart said for the first time governments are realizing there has been no co-ordinated effort to study and meet the needs of young people.

The two men met in Toronto with the research team of the Ontario Select Committee on Youth. They were returning to Regina after attending a convention of the Canadian Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, Fredericton, N.B.

Mr. Macdonald said there are many services and agencies at various levels of municipal and provincial government dealing in part with youth problems.

Civil Defence

Municipalities are expected to pay only 10% of most of the Civil Defence cost. The outlay municipally for ensuring public safety, therefore, is very small.

Today in History

By THE CANADIAN IRESS

June 26, 1965 . . .

R. B. Bennett, Conservative prime minister of Canada 1930-35, died at his estate in England 18 years ago today — in 1947. Born in Hopewell Hill, N.B., Bennett practised law in Calgary and served briefly in Arthur Meighen's government. He took office as prime minister after winning the general election on a platform of Imperial trade and unemployment relief. He put the former first, but most economic proposals were wrecked by the world-wide depression. He announced broad social legislation early in 1935, but the Conservative government was defeated at that year's general election.

First World War

Fifty years ago today—in 1915—French forces counter-attacked into trench lines taken by the Germans at Calonne; Russian and Turkish armies clashed near Zevan in Armenia.

Second World War

Twenty-five years ago today — in 1940 — Italian air raids on Malta intensified, killing 23, and heavier raids on Britain were forecast; Hong Kong prepared defences against Japanese attack from Indochina; in the Canadian Parliament, Henry Ford was criticized for refusing to produce aircraft engines for Britain.

Looking at Labor

by ..... J. J. Munro

"INDIFFERENCE"

Attendance at the recent government sponsored labor-management conference was an uncomfortable experience for trade unionists.

Startling problems, resulting from technological change in industry, were more clearly outlined. Little emerged from the welter of words to promise any satisfactory solutions. As a matter of fact, it was revealed that general employer and government indifference to the plight of displaced workers has been the chief stumbling block in the way of manpower adjustment to industrial change.

The contributions made by labor's representatives emphasized a number of disquieting features of existing situation. Fewer and fewer people are required to produce a given amount of goods and services. While general productivity increases, the work force decreases.

No satisfactory provision is being made for workers, displaced by technological change.

The post war population explosion is now making an army of untrained young workers available in the labor market.

Lack of training for workers now employed, seriously impairs their job security in the face of changing production processes. The demand for "blue collar" workers is rapidly diminishing, while the demand for "white collar" or "white coat" workers is increasing.

Output in the production of goods has increased 76 per cent, while employment has risen only 21 per cent.

Plans recently announced by the Federal Government to facilitate labor mobility are inadequate and are not co-ordinated properly with any comprehensive plan of manpower adjustment.

As admitted by labor at the conference, it is not possible to rely exclusively on collective bargaining. This course was described as "dangerous and unrealistic."

No adequate survey has been made to provide the exact facts about manpower displacement resulting from change.

The word "automation" has lost all meaning in the context. The key word is "change." The use of the word "automation" has been so distorted as to conceal the facts about immediate developments.

Industrialists are prepared to give greater attention to the training of younger workers with academic qualifications than to assist in the trainin gof workers now employed.

The conference did, however, confront labor with its immediate responsibilities. They are:

To negotiate adequate training programs for workers now employed as a protective measure for their job security.

To demand a proper and official survey of existing problems resulting from change.

To demand a public program of manpower adjustment, combining the efforts of labor, management and government to maintain full employment.

Unless these simple propositions are accepted by industry, thousands of middle-aged workers, handicapped by lack of training will soon become a "lost generation."

GONZAGA GRADUATES WED, MAKE HOME IN SPOKANE

White gladioli and spider 'mums provided the floral decor for an early summer wedding of wide interest in Nelson and Spokane when Rev. J. A. Clarmont officiated at the marriage ceremony uniting Terry Anne Beauchamp of Nelson and Spokane, and Mr. Carl Vincent Mason of Spokane in holy matrimony at Blessed Sacrament Church in Fairview.

The bride, only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Beauchamp of Nelson, is a graduate of Gonzaga University and holds a teaching position in Spokane. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mason of North Powder, Oregon, and also a Gonzaga 1965 graduate, is a probation officer with the Spokane Juvenile Court.

Father Clarmont was assisted with the nuptial mass by Rev. Father O'Connell of Gonzaga and Rev. Fr. Fisher of Pendleton, Oregon. Altar boys were Chris Beauchamp, brother of the bride, and Ernie Gare.

Miss Kit Murison was vocal soloist, accompanied by organist Mrs. A. Hamson. During signing of the register, she sang Panis Angelicus.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a slim, modified sheath gown of white, embroidered organza. The bodice was simply styled with high scoop neckline and kabuki sleeves. Her detachable chapel train of plain organza extended from a bow at the back waistline.

A floral headpiece held her frothy shoulder-length imported English illusion veil and she carried a garland of marguerite daisies posed on a prayer book. A pair of tiny pearl earrings represented "something old."

Bridesmaids Miss Jane Cameron, cousin of the bride, of Edmonton and Miss Kay Farrell of Spokane were smart in two-piece floor-length sheath dresses of yellow batiste with matching floral headpieces. Their bouquets were of white gladioli.

Junior bridesmaid Miss Debbie Mason, sister of the bridegroom, wore a short A-line dress of yellow batiste trimmed with daisies.

The bride's cousin, Miss Andree Beauchamp of Edmonton, was dressed similarly to the junior bridesmaid.

Mr. Joe Mason, brother of the bridegroom, was his best man and ushers were Mr. Rick Beauchamp and Mr. Eric Beauchamp, brothers of the bride, Mr. Larry Higgins of Idaho and Mr. Tom Hufty of Nelson.

A garden reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 909 Ninth Street, where white majestic daisies and white tapers on ivory lace ornamented the tea table. Mrs. L. E. Beauchamp and Mrs. D. F. Cameron, aunts of the bride, both of Edmonton, presided at the urns.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Beauchamp chose an ice blue linen knit with blue accessories and white gardenia corsage. The mother of the bridegroom was in beige knit with pink accessories and pink sweetheart roses.

Dr. L. E. Beauchamp of Edmonton, uncle of the bride, proposed a toast to his niece.

For a wedding trip to Portland and points south, the bride changed into a beige and white linen suit with beige accessories, yellow straw Breton sailor hat and white gardenia corsage.

Out of town guests at the wedding included the bride's grandmothers, Mrs. L. E. Beauchamp of Edmonton and Mrs. D. E. Cameron of Victoria; her aunt, Mrs. D. F. Cameron, and uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Beauchamp and families of Edmonton; Mrs. Peter Rule and son John, Miss Barbara Simpson and Mrs. R. Dunsmore of Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Long of Kelowna; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mason of Powder River, Oregon; Miss Leila Bros, Mr. Jerry Downey and Mr. Larry Farrell of Spokane, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Trozzo of Lardeau.

The newlyweds are making their home at S. 301 Chestnut in Spokane.

Now that school is out for the next couple of months and many families prepared for vacationing at points near and far there are those who send the youngsters off to various camps for the summer. It is to the adults and teenagers, as leaders, who in many instances give freely of their time, that we'd like to give a tip of the hat.

It is their continued and unfailing interest in young people that provide the fun and the learning of various skills and in many instances just simple independence. All of which in turn promotes a healthier and happier future for our youngsters.

In our small community Mrs. C. Hearne, camp commandant, assisted by Brown Owl Mrs. W. Uphill, Tawny Owl Mrs. W. Colley and Grey Owl Mrs. Shelrud, will cater to the needs of numerous brownies at Rosebud Lake Galilee Camp in August. This weekend South Fork will buzz with Cubs under the watchful eye of Cubmaster Stan Fullbrook with Eddie Petersen, Lee Hearne and D. Smith as assistants. Camp Commandant Mrs. C. Hearne will take an active part and Mrs. C. O. Petersen will be cook general. Girl Guides will hie away to camp at Christina Lake in July and the ladies aforementioned will be a substantial support for the young campers. Sounds like a busy summer and partyline salutes all leaders of youth everywhere in the district.

At the recent Girl Guide LA meeting held at the home of Mrs. Bill Taylor, all leaders were presented with a souvenir teaspoon and corsage as a token of appreciation for their constant support over the year. Hosted by the executive, president Mrs. P. Miller, vice-president Mrs. J. Picton, Mrs. K. Stahl, secretary and Mrs. D. Hartland, treasurer, games were enjoyed after a brief business meeting when it was decided to change the nomination date from September to January. Twenty-seven members attended.

The spouse and I had close at hand show of Mother Nature as over the past few weeks we've watched with interest a nest of robins in a spruce tree directly in front of our home. Finally one tumbled to the ground and then the fun was on. Mr. and Mrs. Robin coaxed and cajoled junior, who, minus tailfeathers and not fully winged, couldn't get airborne. Dangling a worm, like the proverbial carrot, before the little fellow, he was led across the lawn and practically forced into the underbrush where he was concealed from prowling maurauders, (we hope). By the chittering and chattering that went on we knew he was being scolded for venturing forth so soon.

Procter Notes

PROCTER — Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Spigariol of Procter have returned to their home here after a holiday trip to Victoria where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Allen Mitchell.

Mrs. Paul Munch, her daughter, Jean Munch, and her brother Walter Morsh, have left their home in Procter to travel to Washington, D.C., where they will attend Olympic trials June 27 to July 3. Mrs. Munch's son Paul, Jr., will lead his swimming team in the trials. They plan to be away for at least two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Grant of Procter have recently had as visitors their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Whybark and daughter Nancy and her friend Pat McDaniel, all of Corvalis, Oregon. Also visiting was their other daughter, Mrs. R. Taylor and her three children, Gaye, Bobby and Timmy, of Edgewood.

The Procter United Church Sunday School recently held its annual closing picnic and awards day at Kokanee Park picnic grounds. A tug-of-war and various races and contests were enjoyed followed by a picnic lunch and the presentation of awards. Awards for perfect attendance went to Gary Landry, Donald Mucha and Herbert Sokoloski. For regular attendance less one day were Stewart Sokoloski, Catherine Sokoloski and Sheila MacKinnon. For regular attendance less two days were Laurel MacKinnon, Beverly Sokoloski, and Judy Sokoloski. For regular attendance less three days were Joel, Shawn and Mark Pollard and Jerry MacKinnon. Teachers and assistants were Mrs. Albert Ogden (superintendent), Barry Brassington, Beth Ogden, Janet Sokoloski, Carol and Grey Wilbur, Jerry MacKinnon. Others helping supervise the picnic were Mrs. M. D. MacKinnon and Albert Ogden.

The teachers and supervisors plan a trip to Ainsworth Hot Springs at a later date.

W. Garner has returned home after a short stay in Kootenay Lake General Hospital.

Hints From Heloise

By Heloise Cruse

Dear Heloise:

I have a set of twins. (Since you say you are a twin yourself, will you please tell people that twins are sets . . . not a pair. (A pair is "quadruplets.")

Since mine are boys, we buy most of their clothes.

All these clothes — pants, undershirts, shorts, T-shirts, coats, jackets, gloves, etc., have labels in them.

I rip out the labels in one set of clothing, therefore identifying, at a glance, which son it belongs to.

This might help many mothers who have two sons near the same age, or a son who wears the same size underwear as his dad.

Don't you think you should pass this along? Sure saves time.

Mother.

Dear Mother:

You just passed it along, and I think it's a jewel!

And, I really am a twin. Not only that, but here's something else that will amaze you:

When my grandfather was married the first time, they had a set of twins and another child. That child had twins.

My grandfather's first wife died and he remarried. By My grandmother he had twins and two other children. One of those twins was my mother. My twin sister and I were born on her birthday.

Now . . . can you top that?

Thank goodness mine were singles.

Twin Heloise.

Dear Heloise:

For a kitchen shower gift, I dress a full bottle of detergent to look like a doll . . . using two nylon dishclothes, one for the skirt and one for the shawl. I use two round clothespins for the doll's arms and fasten them on with tape.

A small doily folded in half is the front of the dress.

I use a curly pot scratcher for the head, with black felt for eyelashes and red felt for the mouth, which I also tape on.

Jessie Thompson.

Dear Heloise:

Here is a hint for people who put candles on their birthday cakes and do not have enough candle holders.

I cut aluminum foil into little circles about the size of a quarter. Then I punch a hole in the middle of the foil about the size of the candle. I put these foil circles on the cake and then insert the candles.

The little pieces of foil will "cup" up and prevent the wax from dripping on the cake.

Nancy D.

Dear Heloise:

I almost always use dry skim milk for all of my creaming, etc. So the other day when I was mashing potatoes, instead of adding milk I just left a small amount of water in the potatoes (instead of pouring it all off), and then added some dry skim milk, the butter, then salt and pepper, and beat them. They were delicious.

By using this method, there is no necessity for warming the milk, which most people say they have to do in order to have good mashed potatoes!

Mrs. E. S. Muller.

Almost every recipe book says never add cold milk, but hot milk to potatoes. You have hit upon a terrific idea. This one—brings my own good wishes straight from my heart. Heloise.

Dear Heloise:

When washing walls or floors, I rinse the dirty sponge mop or sponge in clear water before putting it back into the cleaning solution mixture.

This keeps the solution from being diluted and becoming dirty, and the last part of the cleaned surface will look as good as the first part cleaned.

I also use plenty of clean cloths to dry the surface, and this helps prevent streaking.

A Reader.

LETTER OF THOUGHT

Dear Heloise:

No one should ever make the remark: "I don't have any friends." They should stop and think, "Am I friendly myself?"

Oldster.

WI Contributes To Salaries of Beach Attendants

SLOCAN CITY — It was noted at the regular monthly meeting of the Slocan WI, held recently, that Judy Graham and Gloria Life were hired as beach supervisors for July and August.

A donation of $15 was made towards their salary, and other local organizations will be asked for donations toward this project.

WI members canvassed the community for the "Conquer Cancer Campaign."

Some needed clothing was purchased for a recently burned out oldtimer.

A farewell tea was planned for two members who will be leaving soon.

A discussion was held for a quilt contest to be held this fall.

Hostess for the last meeting of the season was Mrs. Grace Palmason.

Clear, Bright Colors Complement Beauty of Teak Wood Furnishings

To think of teak furniture immediately brings to mind the beauty of the wood, its clean simple styling and most of all the wonderful bright colors which complement it to the full.

Such bright, fresh colors as blues, reds, yellows and orange, or combinations of deep blues and greens; reds and oranges or turquoise and lime. Decorating around teak calls for good color sense and a nappreciation of the use of color and texture, but it is not too difficult to achieve if one remembers a few easy rules.

The simple, clean lines of teak serve not only for seating, dining or whatever, but also as decorative elements. The clutter that gives traditional styling its interest is eliminated when furnishing around teak, to make way for the crisp, open look. Spaciousness is the key word. Texture is used instead, to add pattern and room interest. Natural materials such as brick, wood paneling or stone should be employed as wall surfacing. The introduction of clear, bright colors should be in the form of broad expanses to give the effect of solid blocks in sofa, flooring, a wall or window area. Color should stand out on its own, yet at the same time be in perfect harmony with the rest of the room.

A splash of color might be centred around the upholstery. Nearly all teak furniture is upholstered in the homespun look of wool in plain or nubby textures. Take, for instance, a clear terra cotta sofa and blue chair and visualise the effect of an off-white Rya (shaggy) rug over a parquet or wood plank floor. White walls could be given a splash of color with a bright modern painting. Or reverse the picture and put the color emphasis in a boldly patterned Rya rug in a bright scarlet with black and yellow pattern against a muted upholstery fabric. These shaggy rugs come in a wonderful selection of both plain and patterned designs and look especially well too, as a bold contrast against dining room furniture which often utilizes black vinyl or leather upholstery which blends so wonderfully with teak. Draperies, too, can provide a splash of color. Contemporary designs, of course, echo the clear bright colors in abstract or primitive designs as well as correlating prints and plains, bold stripes or checks, often running through a gamut of deep rich colors — mauves and purples through blue; deep reds through orange, or dark browns through to yellow ochre. Also too are the many woven fabrics which add texture rather than color. Another spot of color can be provided by colorful hanging lamps hung singly or in cluster. Popular just now are a series of modern sculptured shapes in overlay colored glass, once again in clear blues, reds, yellows and oranges, as well as white.

Because of certain similarities in the clear vivid colors and interesting textures — it is becoming popular to mix a certain amount of Spanish furniture and accessories together with teak. For example, a Spanish inspired blue-green jacquered bedspread makes a striking contrast in a teak bedroom. Or a wrought iron candelabra enhances a teak dining room.

There is also a tendency today for teak furniture styles to veer away slightly from the basic, straight line so well associated with this design. The curved look of today's modern is seen to reflect in the lines of Danish teak, together with a little more elegance in trim. But overall, the basic principles of decoration with teak remain the same.

MARKET TRENDS

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market Friday sank to lows for 1965 and also broke through a theoretical support level signifying to some Wall Streeters that a Bear Market is now in progress. Trading was active.

The Dow Jones industrial average passed the low of 857.45 reached last Dec. 15.

Volume was 5,800,000 shares compared with 5,850,000 Thursday—slightly more than average volume for the year.

The hope President Johnson might make some remarks which would be bullish for the market apparently buoyed the spirits of some traders—until news of the president's speech began to reach Wall Street from San Francisco. The financial community saw nothing, either encouraging or discouraging, in the speech.

Both the Dow and the Associated Press average of 60 stocks—and every one of the AP components, as well—made lows for the year.

The AP average sank 1.5 to 312.8.

It was the third straight market drop. The same factors were mentioned as in the previous declines. Although business was good the market seemed depressed by the Viet Nam news and word big institutional investors were holding off for lower prices.

Chrysler was the most-active stock, losing ½ at 44¾. Ford sank to third place, off ⅜.

Du Pont advanced 3⅛ at the close. IBM lost 8¾, Bell and Howell 1⅞, National Airlines 3¾, Kennecott 1⅝, Douglas Aircraft 1⅛ and U.S. Smelting 1¼.

Among Canadian issues, Dome Mines gained 1⅞ and Granby Mining ½.

Hudson Bay Mining slipped 1, Canadian Pacific and International Nickel each ¾, Aluminium Ltd. ⅝ and Walker Gooderham ⅛.

Prices declined on the American Stock Exchange. Preston and Scurry Rainbow Oil each fell ¼ and Molybdenite 1-16. Jupiter Corp. gained ¼.

TORONTO (CP) — Industrials touched a low and golds were strong in moderate stock exchange trading Friday.

The industrial index fell 1.36 to 163.30. The exchange index fell 1.26 to a low of 153.23. Golds jumped 4.99 to 158.40.

Algoma Steel fell 1⅛ to 67 Losses of a point went to CPR and Power Corp. at 60 and 12¾. Aluminium dropped ⅞ to 28⅞, Dominion Glass ¾ to 14¾ and BA Oil ⅝ to 32. Consumers' Gas ⅜ to 13 on 30,480 shares.

Banks showed strength. Royal gained 1¼ to 74¼ and Canadian Imperial ⅝ to 63⅝.

Golds surged ahead. Dome gained 1½-points at 40, Giant Yellowknife ⅝ to 13¾, and Cochenour Willans, Dickenson and Kerr Addison 10 cents at $3.30, $4.85 and $8.

Senior base metals were weak. Hudson Bay lost 1 to 69 and Inco ⅝ to 89¾. Cominco dropped ¾ to 40¼.

In speculatives, Asamera gained 5 cents to $1.68 and Dynamic 13 cents to $1.17 among penny oils. Tribag rose 10 cents to $2.10 and Texmont 2 cents to $1.25 in penny mines.

On index, base metals fell .78 to 76.03, Western oils 2.10 to 96.65. Volume was 3,309,000 shares compared with 2,809,000.

MONTREAL (CP) — Stocks dropped sharply Friday on the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges. Trading was moderately active.

Industrial volume was 61,700 shares and mines and oils 1,265,400.

The composite index was off 3.2 at 153.1.

Industrials were off 3.7 at 158.6. The high was 174.0 (May 17). Moore Corp. dropped 1¾ points to 70½ and Dominion Textile 1⅜ points to 35. Du Pont was off ⅞ at 495⅛.

Utilities off 2. 7at 147.0, CPR 2¼ points to 59¾ and trans-Canada pipe line 1¼ points to 33¾.

Banks off 1.1 at 123.1, Nova Scotia 1¾ points to 72 and Canadienne Nationale one point to 72. Montreal off ⅝ at 62⅜.

Papers off 2.6 at 129.3, MacMillan Bloedel 1⅜ points to 31⅛ and B.C. forest 1¼ points to 26½.

Senior oils off with Imperial down 1⅛ points to 52½ and B.A. ⅝ to 32.

Metals issues were lower. In the base section, International Nickel dropped 2¼ points to 89¾ and Consolidated Mining and Smelting 1⅜ points to 40⅛. In the primaries, Steel of Canada lost 1⅛ points to 28⅝ and Aluminium ⅞ to 29.

The Modern Home

To design a good "cathedral-entry" type of house for a narrow lot poses somewhat of a problem but has been overcome by designers of this home.

This has been done by planning the bedrooms in a line along one wing of the house separated by a hall from the rest of the house. The result is a well designed home, with no cross-traffic areas, and complete privacy for all rooms.

The cathedral entry is flanked by an open wall, which could be made very attractive by louvres, tuji screens or planters without losing any of the spaciousness that is inherent in this type of designing. The L shaped living-dining area has plenty of wall space for furniture arrangement, and the outside wall fireplace suggests the use of one of the many new decorative wall finishes to add to its beauty.

There is a dining ell off the living room which could be completed and transformed into a formal dining room if desired. The kitchen is planned efficiently with U shaped arrangement of cabinets and a large breakfast nook adjacent.

Other conveniences that add up to comfortable living are the large double basins in the bathroom vanity, plumbing "en suite in the master bedroom, and a large walk in clothes closet, large clothes closets in the other bedrooms, coat and linen closets at the front door.

Since the lot slopes to the side, it is possible to locate a garage under the living room to house the family car, while plenty of space is left in the basement area for other accommodation, such as recreation room, furnace room, etc.

This is a good family house, commodious and convenient, designed to the standards of the National Building Code of Canada for NHA or conventional mortgage. Blueprints may be obtained from the Building Centre (B.C.) Ltd. 96 Kingsway, Vancouver, B.C. Write for our Select Home Designs catalogue of plans, enclosing 53c to cover postage, etc.

Sunday at Civic Centre Grounds

Nelson Braves Climb Victory Trail; Host Smokies for Doubleheader

Nelson Braves are back on the winning track.

This turn of events started in Trail Wednesday when the Nelson club previously 2-5 whipped the Trail Smoke Eaters 9-2 behind the five-hit pitching of import Dave Benedict.

A fireballer with good control, Benedict will likely start for Sunday's opener in a twin bill against the Smokies getting under way at 1:00 p.m.

Trail will probably go with Steve Gustafson, a 20-year-old right-hander from Seattle.

Gustafson held the Rossland Capilanos to one run in his first pitching role in three weeks as the Smokies won 4-1 and possesses a good fastball and curve in addition to a deceiving change-up.

Approached by the New York Yankees and Pittsburgh Pirates, Gustafson could seek a career in proffesional baseball through collegiate ranks.

Bentley McEwan will start for the Smokies in the second game, while Coach John Brkich will probably go with either Lonnie Sherrick from Spokane or Miles Desharnais.

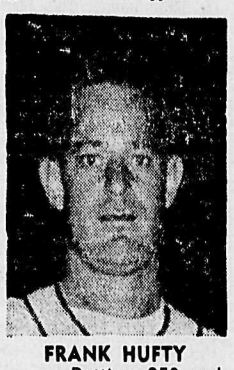
Les Hufty will handle the relief duties if necessary.

Lack of hitting power, a mystery which plagued the Braves in the first four games of the season seems to have been solved with seven batters in the top 20 in league statistics released to date.

Second-baseman Lenny Bousquet leads the field with a resounding .473 on nine hits in 19 trips.

First baseman Mike Laughton catcher Mel Dorey, shortstop Bernie Monteleone and outfielders Frank Hufty, Mickey Fitzpatrick and Al Roemer are the other Brave batters to hit the charts.

McEwan, an import from Delisle, Saskatchewan, holds a creditable 1.61 earned-run-average to date in five appearances.



FRANK HUFTY
. . . Batting .250 and climbing.

McEwan has also registered 33 strickouts.

The Smokies have dominated the statistics with eight players listed in 19 of the top 20 positions.

Gary Morris, number three man on the poll, is deadlocked with teammate Tommy Bird in the triples department with two.

Morris has 13 safeties in 33 turns for an average of .406 with nine RBI's.

Butch Simpson, Don McLeod, Larry Kissock, Morey Johnston, and Paul Lind round out Smokie batters to be reckoned with Sunday afternoon.

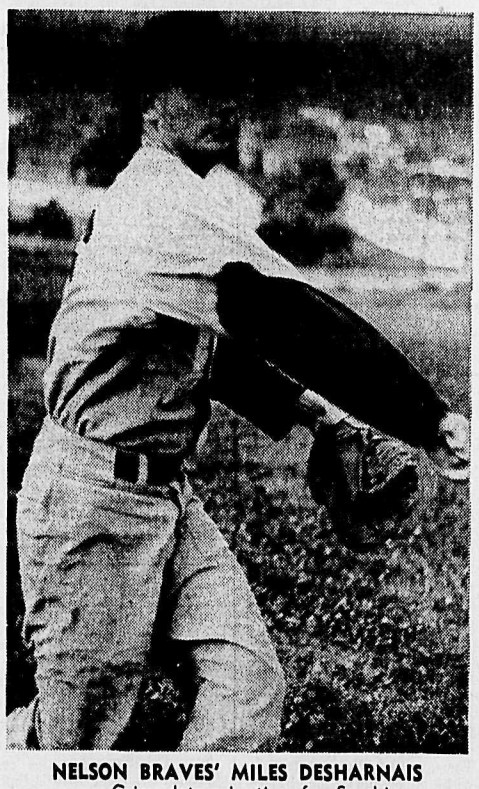
Brkich seems to have come up with the right combination after a shaky start — solid pitching and hitting.

"We had a poor start," Brkich said, "but after Wednesday's win, we're on our way."

"We're playing the type of ball that we were last year and plan on finishing first."

In other league action this weekend, Cranbrook Canucks host the Rossland Capilanos for a twin bill.

Wednesday's victory over the Smokies was the first for the Braves this season and may have been the win needed to start the Nelson club on its climb to the top.



NELSON BRAVES' MILES DESHARNAIS
. . . Grim determination for Smokies.

All rained-out games will be made up because of the tight race especially for the all-important third playoff spot.

League president Mike Laughton hopes that the semi-final series will be able to start by next Saturday.

No-Hitter

Rotary blanked Kinsmen 4-0 in Little League action Friday behind the no-hit pitching of Terry Severyn.

Severyn recorded seven strikeouts, allowed three walks and went two for two at the plate — a single and a double.

Terrys brother, Mark, Dale Munro and Russ Yeske also connected for doubles.

Solid Hitting, Four Doubleplays Give Pale Hose 6-0 Oriole's Win

Joe Horlen, scattered eight hits and, aided by four doubleplays, pitched Chicago White Sox to a 6-0 victory over Baltimore Orioles Friday night.

White Sox ripped into starter Wally Bunker for four runs in the first inning, added another in the second when Don Buford stole home and wrapped up the scoring in the eighth on Bill Skowron's homer.

In Cleveland, Sam McDowell posted his ninth victory and Rocky Colavito and Fred Whitfield hammered homers as the surging Cleveland Indians shut out Kansas City 2-0 for their 12th victory in the last 13 games.

McDowell checked the A's on four hits and struck out 13 but needed Gary Bell's one-out relief help in the ninth. McDowell, now 9-3, is tied for the most victories in the American League.

The 22-year-old left - hander also struck out 10 or more in a game for the seventh time this season and brought his league-leading strikeout total to 137.

Bob Lee's two - out, bases-loaded walk to Horace Clarke in the eighth inning forced in Tom Tresh with the tie-breaking run and spoiled Los Angeles Manager Bill Rigney's strategy as New York Yankees went on for a 5-1 victory.

With Yankees at first and third and two out in the eighth, Rigney ordered an intentional walk to Clete Boyer with pitcher Al Downing scheduled to bat next. Clarke, however, batted for Downing and walked, forcing in Tresh and breaking a 1-1 deadlock.

In Boston, Red Sox exploded for seven runs in the fifth inning—their largest one - inning output of the season—and staggered on to an 8-5 victory over Washington Senators.

Boston sent 12 men to the plate in the fifth with catcher Bob Tillman scoring twice after drawing a pair of walks.

The key hits in the rally were a two-run single by Felix Mantilla, boosting his American League-leading runs batted in total to 54, and a two-run double by shortstop Rico Petrocelli, his second hit of the inning.

Canada's Nordic Ski Team Considers "Education Plus Competition" Plan

The Canadian National Ski Association's Nordic team, which includes competitors in jumping and cross country events may be considering location in conjunction with educational facilities similar to the Notre Dame - based Canadian National Ski Team.

The success of the "Education plus Competition" experiment with the National Team in one year has prompted the CASA to take a hard look at implementing the program at the Nordic level.

Coach Russell Smart of Ottawa, head of the world championship jumping squad, will take the four-man team to the world championships at Oslo, Norway, next February.

The world championship team includes James McInnes of Revelstoke, Jacques Charland of Trois Rivieres, Quebec, Gerry Gravelle of Ottawa, a fourth member to be named at a later date.

In addition, 12 seniors and 10 juniors were named at the CASA annual meeting to compete under association sponsorship at national meets.

The seniors include Alain Brassard, Montreal; George Brown, Quebec City; Ivan Frederickson, Vancouver; Frank Gartrell, Hamilton; Kaare Lien, Revelstoke; Gordon Lund, Camrose; Max Felt, Montreal; Ron Richards, Oshawa; Seppo Ruhanen, Sault Ste. Marie; Gibson Scott, Edmonton; Rheal Seguin, Ottawa and Raymond Smith, Revelstoke.

The junior team is comprised of John Armstrong, Ottawa; Malcolm Clark, Port Arthur; Gerg Frame, Edmonton; David Fripp, Ottawa; Ulf Kuendbo, Montreal; Tom Luoma, Levick, Ontario; Zdenik Mezle, Quebec City; Claude Ruelland, Lac Beauport, Que.; Pat Morris, Ottawa and Paul Peyto of Banff.

No training schedule has yet been set up for the 39-man cross-country team, but a CASA spokesman said several members of the team will compete in the Oslo championships.

The 21 senior men on the team are: Tenhe Tikka, Sault Ste. Marie; Pakka Litmala, Toronto; Lauri Valiaho, Toronto; Arne Jensen, Hamilton; Martti Rautoho, Port Arthur; Jaeke Fietlia, Port Arthur; Anter Rauhanan, Sudbury; Eric Salkald, North Bay; Hikki Kinnunan, Sault Ste. Marie; Frans Portman, Calgary; Irvin Serveld, Innisfail, Alta.; Nils Skulland, Vancouver; T. Vakeva, Vancouver; Ralph Coldevin, Walden, Saskatchewan; Kauhko Ruihaldo, Sudbury; Oliver Hannula, Timmins; Don MacLeod, Ottawa; Dave Rees, North Bay and Guntar Veeser, Montreal.

There are five members on the intermediate team: Eriki Jamsa, Port Arthur; Jack Milhell, Sault Ste. Marie; Lorne Luhta, North Bay; Don Gardiner, Calgary and Ralph Peterson, Prince Rupert.

Five Ontario residents and two from British Columbia make up the junior men's team: John Krats, Sudbury; Ronald Griffith, Sault Ste. Marie; Fred Beatty, North Bay; Keri Jansa, Port Arthur; Edward Day, Kimberley; Chris Georges, Owen Sound, Ont.; and S. Unila, Vancouver.

The six junior women are Patricia Otta and Linda Cullis, both of Levack, Ontario; Alison Fountain and Helen Gillespie, Sault Ste. Marie; Tacie McCullough, Sudbury and Jacqueline Crawford, Onaping, Ontario.

Trail Italicos Host Nelson Savoys Sunday

Nelson Savoys travel to Trail Sunday to meet the Trail Italicos, currently in third place in the Western International Soccer League.

Italicos rely on a fast forward line, backed by a stable defence which makes them a tough team to beat.

In their previous two encounters, the two teams split with the Savoys, losing in Trail and the Italicos dropping two points in Nelson.

The Savoys, who have lost several outstanding players this season, will travel to Trail without their regular centre Hans Schick.

Schick, who played for the Savoys for the past three seasons, was a key playmaker when the Nelson team won the Grand Forks Trophy and the League championship.

This is the last game before the summer layoff with the schedule resuming August 8.

Savoys will leave from the Civic Centre at 11:30 a.m.

Los Angeles, St. Louis Approved

National Hockey League Announces Ground Rules for 12-Team Expansion

By AL COLLETTI

NEW YORK (CP)—The National Hockey League Friday announced the ground rules for expansion from six to 12 teams and approved Los Angeles and St. Louis as the first two acceptable sites. The next step is league approval of suitable applicants for a franchise.

The expanded league would operate in two divisions of six clubs each no earlier than the 1967-68 season and no later than the 1968-69 season.

Clarence Campbell, president of the NHL, issued a statement approved by the NHL board of governors detailing the proposed expansion program. The governors concluded their meeting here shortly before noon.

The governors for the first time listed the cities being "principally considered" for the new six team division. Vancouver, which has made an informal application for a franchise, was among those listed.

Formal applications for new franchises will be accepted immediately, the governors agreed, "and it is intended that conditional franchises will be awarded as soon as applicants are approved by the league."

TO DRAFT 20

The governors said each new franchise will be required to put up $2,000,000 for franchise fee and 20 professional players to be drafted from the six existing NHL organizations.

The present NHL clubs are Montreal Canadiens, Toronto Maple Leafs, Boston Bruins, Chicago Black Hawks, Detroit Red Wings and New York Rangers.

Los Angeles and St. Louis were approved as "acceptable cities" which have arenas that meet the established NHL standards of at least 12,500 permanent seating capacity and a playing surface 200 feet long and 85 feet wide.

"Los Angeles and St. Louis could go tomorrow," Campbell said.

"Both cities meet the requirements for standard arenas and we are satisfied also with the solidity, integrity and financial stability of the applicants."

The governors said:

"For the remaining places in the new division, it was indicated that the choice would be among Baltimore, Houston, Minneapolis - St. Paul, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, San Francisco-Oakland, Vancouver and Washington, D.C. All of these cities have previously made informal applications for franchises."

74 GAME SCHEDULE

Each team in the expanded league will play a partial interlocking schedule of 74 regular-season games. The present NHL schedule is 70 regular-season games.

Each of the present NHL clubs will play two home and two away games with each team in the new division. Teams in each division will be included in the playoffs, which will be inter-divisional.

Each NHL club now has 17 players in addition to two goalies. All the teams have affiliations with minor league clubs.

The governors said when the new conditional franchises are granted, they will be "conditioned principally on the granting of other franchises to fill out the projected six team new division."

"However, in cities where arena construction is necessary, conditional franchises will also be granted subject to the completion of construction." Vancouver is one of the cities that must construct a suitable arena.

The $2,000,000 payment would be exclusive of various other basic costs of the franchise, including minor league operations, junior playing development, territorial rights and working capital.

The governors said each new franchise owner must either own the arena or have a long-term lease that would be satisfactory to the league. Any such lease would have to be for a term of 10 years with an option for renewal for five years.

The draft of a total of 120 professional players from the six existing NHL organizations would take place during the June preceding the first season of play by the new division. The new franchise owners also will take part in the annual draft of junior players as soon as their franchises become final.

Campbell said the process of the formal draft would involve a number of reasonable draft choices but added the plan had not yet been fully worked out.

"We hope to provide the new clubs with a sufficient number of established players to enable them to become competitive quickly," he said.

The NHL president said he felt certain the protected list will be affected by the formal draft since each club's entire organization will be involved.

TV NOT DISCUSSED

Television was not discussed by the governors, Campbell said. But he hoped the continental flavor of an expanded league would offer an attractive product to the U.S. television market.

Montreal and Toronto have lucrative TV contracts with the CBC. But the four U.S. teams have been able to pick up virtually no TV revenue.

The expansion of color TV certainly would be a factor in boosting NHL hockey, Campbell said, noting Canada plans to have color TV in 1967.

Attending the governors' meeting were; Stafford Smythe and Harold Ballard, Toronto; Senator Hartland Molson and David Molsen, Montreal, Weston Adams and Charles Mulcahy, Boston; Bill Jennings and Ed Oast, New York; Bruce Norris, Detroit, and Jim Norris and Mike Wirtz, Chicago.

Junior, Senior Playoff Series Raised $67,296

MELVILLE, Sask. (CP) — Teams which competed in the Canadian Junior and Senior hockey playoffs received a total of $67,296 from the series surpluses, Gordon Juckes, secretary-manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said Thursday.

Largest single share went to Edmonton Oil Kings, who lost out in the Junior Memorial Cup final to Niagara Falls Flyers. Edmonton received $19,933 as its share of series against Regina Pats, Winnipeg Braves and Flyers.

Flyers received $11,905, Regina $8027, Winnipeg $5554, Lachine Maroons $3026, Port Arthur North Stars $1185 and New Westminster Royals $1342.

Senior teams which competed in the Allan Cup playoffs divided $16,321 in surpluses from a gross gate of $91,700.

Nelson Maple Leafs and Sherbrooke Beavers, the series finalists, got $5062 and $4119 respectively. Expense allowances paid to Allan Cup contenders totalled $30,300 and the CAHA received $7750.

THE GIN THAT WON THE WEST

When Englishmen first came to their Western Canadian ranches their taste for LONDON DRY GIN came with them.

What more natural thing to do here — where fine grain and glacial water produce splendid spirits — than to import botanicals, such as juniper, coriander and other exotic flora, and begin distilling gin in the LONDON DRY tradition?

From this heritage comes RANCHMAN'S — the western gin with the English accent.

Next time, ask for RANCHMAN'S GIN . . . in any accent you like.

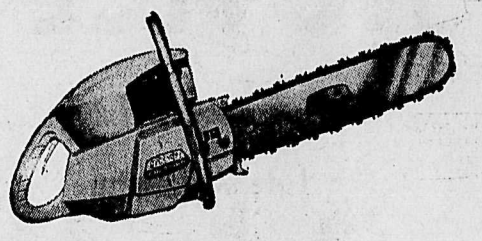
win $500 cash

or a unique new

CANADIEN 177



ACT NOW! Here's all you do:

Ask your local CANADIEN dealer for a demonstration of the unique new CANADIEN 177. Fill out the entry form your dealer will give you and return it to him.

That's all we ask. Simply try the new CANADIEN 177 and fill out an entry form. You then become eligible to win a prize. No entry fee — no obligation.

HERE'S WHAT YOU CAN WIN:

If your name is drawn, a fabulous new CANADIEN 177 chain saw, complete with bar and chain.

Or, $500 cash if you purchase any CANADIEN chain saw model between May 1 and July 31 inclusive.

10 LUCKY WINNERS!

This contest is open to all residents of Canada, except employees and members of the families of Power Machinery, their distributors and dealers, Bristol Aero-Industries Limited, their advertising agency and the judging organization. Contestants whose names are drawn will be required to answer a question of skill and knowledge.

If you're not sure of the address of your local CANADIEN dealer, write to Power Machinery, Vancouver Airport, B.C. or 255 Blvd. des Capucins, Quebec 3, P. Quebec.

We think this powerful new chain saw is rather special. That's why we invite you to judge it for yourself.

CHECK THESE FEATURES OF THE UNIQUE NEW CANADIEN 177

- Full 5.8 cubic inch engine — without bulky weight.
- Speed of cut.
- Perfect balance.
- Ease of handling.
- Rugged construction.
- Service parts directly accessible.

The remarkable new CANADIEN 177 is a thoroughly professional saw — but priced to compete with casual "shorter-life" models.

Should Not Restrict Industry to One Area

VERNON, B.C. (CP) — The government should not attempt to locate industries in specific areas "in defiance of economic facts," Senator M. Wallace McCutcheon said Thursday night.

He told the Vernon Chamber of Commerce such a policy is neither useful for the country at large nor productive for the communities directly involved.

"It produces more distortions than advantages and it is self-defeating in a very short time for the government to try to act as a permanent crutch for an industry which is uneconomic in the first place."

The Conservative Senator said he doubts, for example, whether the current federal program to encourage new industries in designated slow-growth areas is of much value. He said he has yet to see where the program has produced specific results.

It has, however, produced "a curious system of anomalies."

SEES DIFFICULTIES

"For example, there are areas in Ontario that are designated, which by Nova Scotia standards are prosperous centres. The present system simply makes it more difficult for Nova Scotia to compete for industry."

Red Boycott of Peace Mission Seen as Flaw

An AP News Analysis
By HENRY S. BRADSHER

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet refusal to talk with a Commonwealth peace mission has shown again the Kremlin's inability to do anything about Viet Nam.

Despite its military and economic power, the Soviet Union finds itself in a passive position on the sidelines of the most critical struggle now occurring in the world.

It fails to do anything except make stiff statements because it is caught between two opposing forces—Red China and the United States. Breaking out of this trap requires difficult decisions that the Soviet leaders have shown no sign of facing.

On one side, China is challenging the Kremlin for leadership of the world Communist movement.

Peking offers a toughly revolutionary leadership advocating "wars of liberation" in places like Viet Nam and the overthrow of many African, Asian and Latin American governments. It accuses Moscow of selling out the prospects of expanding communism in order to maintain friendly relations with the West and develop prosperity in the Soviet Union.

TALKS OF PROTECTION

To counter this pressure, the Soviet Union talks loudly about protecting the Communist camp and aiding Communist North Viet Nam.

But, ask the Chinese, what kind of protection is it that does nothing effective to halt U.S. air raids on North Viet Nam?

This is where the Soviet Union feels the opposing pressure.

It sees the determinedly militant stand of the United States in Southeast Asia and is wary of getting drawn into a direct conflict that could spread into nuclear war.

A commentator in the Communist party newspaper Pravda warned Thursday that "sliding down into a world war may look completely different from the way it did in the past. No one can predict what may precede it and what may become its direct pretext."

Aside from this danger of escalation into world war, there is a logistical problem for the Soviet Union in Viet Nam.

The U.S. can easily bring its power to bear because of its naval and air strength. But for the Soviet Union, Viet Nam lies on the other side of a China that has proved sticky about letting Russian military equipment cross to North Viet Nam.

HAS INTERNAL PROBLEM

A deeper military involvement in Viet Nam, and the possibly resulting increase in military tensions elsewhere, would mean difficult domestic decisions for the Soviet Union. The promises of more consumer goods for the Russian people would be harder to carry out.

The Soviet Union "has not been authorized by anybody to conduct talks on a settlement in Viet Nam," it told an advance party for a Commonwealth peace mission. Go talk to Hanoi, the Viet Cong and Washington, it told the Commonwealth group.

For the Russians then to have received it would have added fuel to the fire on which the Chinese are trying to roast them with the accusation of selling out the revolutionary cause to the West.

Mother, Son Share in Sweepstakes

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Vancouver mother and son have defied almost astronomical odds to each draw horses on the Irish Sweepstakes.

Mrs. Lilian O. Child, 60, has a ticket on Niksar, a favorite, and her son Fredrick, 38, drew an outsider, Flaming Red.

They bought their tickets from different sources about two weeks apart, said Mr. Child.

"My mother and I are both very pleased and surprised, but we are not too excited—everyone at work cannot believe how calm I am," he said.

Joe Bob, a resident of the Sugar Cane Indian Reserve near interior Williams Lake and Collin Smith of Vancouver hold tickets on the 11-10 favorite, Meadow Court. He would use his winnings to put his daughter through University and take his family on ahunting trip through the northern B.C. interior.
