Laws To Nip Unnecessary Price Boosts Advised by Committee

Cross-Canada Survey of Consumer Affairs Planned for New Year

By JAMES NELSON

OTTAWA (CP) — Stronger laws to stop unwarranted price increases and steps to make all shoppers more aware of price and quality competition were recommended Tuesday by the Commons-Senate prices committee.

Comittee co-chairman Ron Basford (L-Vancouver Burrard) and Senator David Croll (L-Ontario) said they are hopeful the recommendations will be adopted.

After 42 public meetions, the committee now plans to add to its investigation staff, to hold hearings across the country and to widen the scope of its inquiry in the New Year into all phases of consumer affairs and into great corporate empires.

Its interim report, tabled in both houses of Parliament Tuesday, recommended:

—Creation of a new department of consumer affairs, answerable to Parliament by a minister, to embrace the consumer sections of the health and welfare, agriculture and fisheries departments. It would supervise tighter anti-combine and misleading advertisement laws.

—Continuing study of consumer affairs and the state of the Canadian economy generally by a joint committee of the Senate and Commons.

—Standardization and simplification of grades, nomenclature and packaging for commonly-purchased consumer items.

—Restraint in the use of give-aways, premiums, contests, prices and other non-price competition at the retail level, to let price competition play a larger role in attracting customers.

—Prohibition of the use of cents-off labels — advertising temporary price cuts below regular prices — because they distort normal price relationships.

—Full regular disclosure of profit, price and cost affairs by all private and public companies in retail trade, whether owned by Canadian or foreign interests.

IN MOOD TO ACT

Senator Croll told reporters he thinks there is "a lot of common sense in the committee's recommendations," and added: "In my opinion, the government is in a mood to do something about them."

Mr. Basford said that while the recommendations hadn't been discussed with the government in advance, the government "is sympathetic and will be interested."

Senator Croll, 66, a former public welfare minister in Ontario and a veteran chairman of special Senate enquiries, said the prices committee already has scored notable success in making the consumer price conscious.

Since its work started, the price line on food has been held and "vast empires of corporate holdings" have been disclosed that should have been public knowledge long ago.

He spoke of the Weston empire, controlling more than one-third of Canada's food business, and said: "When a man or a group of men sit there with an empire about them, I feel there is at least a possibility they can influence prices unduly."

Mr. Basford, 34, a lawyer first elected to the Commons in 1963, said he thinks it likely the Garfield Weston interests will be called back before the committee, but he is undecided whether the size of food chains has a direct beneficial or adverse effect on prices.

OTTAWA (CP) — A Senate-Commons committee asked Parliament Tuesday for a mandate to investigate evidence of a "great concentration of market power" in the food industry.

The committee promised to expose any monopolistic tendencies it finds.

It would try to determine whether the market power of any group stifles competition.

The committee's request was one of several growing out of 42 hearings this fall on food prices. In a report tabled in the Commons and Senate, the committee dealt with market power in the light of the recent disclosure of the "so-called Weston Empire."

The committee said evidence points to:

—Control by three giants of 85 to 90 per cent of the detergent and soap industry.

—Control of more than 75 per cent of urban grocery business in five great corporate food chains and the voluntary chains.

—Control by one firm of the entire food processing industry in the Maritimes and Western Canada, and at least 80 per cent of the market in Ontario and Quebec.

The report noted that the committee had required information of corporations never before made public.

Food Prices Highlights

OTTAWA (CP) — Highlights of the report Tuesday by a joint Senate-Commons committee on its investigation of food prices:

A department of consumer affairs should be established with its own minister.

*Cents-off labels—the adver*tising of goods at stated reductions from regular prices — should be prohibited because they confuse consumers and distort price relationships.

Full and complete disclos*ure should be required of ac*tivities of both public companies and private companies of significance to the public.

A joint committee should be established for the life of a *parliamentary session to re*view consumer affairs and the state of the economy.

Immediate steps should be taken to promote standardization and simplification of grades, names and packaging for consumer items.

The consumer affairs minister should review techniques *of investigating and prosecut*ing cases of misleading advertising.

More care should be taken in re-marking the prices of goods in the inventories of retail food stores.

Unemployment Insurance Due For Overhaul?

OTTAWA (CP)—Serious consideration is being given to making some changes in the unemployment insurance system early in 1967, Labor Minister Nicholson told the Commons Tuesday.

Replying to Stanley Knowles (NDP—Winnipeg North Centre), Mr. Nicholson said any such changes would be made by cabinet order. It was "extremely doubtful" that legislation to change the Unemployment Insurance Act would be introduced in this session.

Robert Prittie (NDP — Burnaby-Richmond) asked whether as a result of the layoff of steelworkers in Cape Breton, an increase in the $36 in unemployment insurance paid married men would be forthcoming.

Mr. Nicholson replied that if there was any change, and he wasn't saying there would be, it would be announced "in due course."

Grounded Ship Breaks Up

HALIFAX (CP)—The Panamanian freighter Tegean, which ran aground on rocks off this port three weeks ago, broke into three pieces Tuesday and began her trip to the ocean floor.

A navy helicopter, flying over the rocks known as The Sisters where the 7,800-ton Tegean went aground in light fog Nov. 28, reported the bow of the vessel had sheared off and her afterpart had broken away. Heavy seas have been pounding the vessel for the last several days.

Her 43 Greek crew members were taken off safely shortly after she grounded and it was thought the Tegean could last only a matter of hours. Her captain abandoned her for salvage, but tugs reported the vessel could not be moved off her perch atop the rocks.

The Tegean stubbornly remained on the rocks as looters removed almost everything that could be taken from the ship, including food, brass fittings, beer, clocks, compasses and even the ship's wheel.

Banks Years Behind Times Says Professor

OTTAWA (CP) — Chartered banks are 30 years out of date with inadequate, uninformative and misleading financial statements, an accounting professor testified Tuesday before the Commons finance committee.

A "depression psychosis" lingers with bankers, said Ronald Caterina of Carleton University.

They prefer public ignorance to public knowledge in promot*ing confidence in their opera*tions.

Prof. Caterina proposed a series of amendments extending changes now proposed in the Bank Act to improve disclosure practices.

His presentation drew the un*solicited support of J. E. Smyth,* University of Toronto commerce professor, whose letter to the committee said in part:

" . . . The state of financial disclosure by banks in this country is so bad that it is accepted by financial analysts with complete cynicism and the banks' financial statements are just not taken seriously either by them or by any other informed person."

The committee also heard Tuesday from the Canadian Credit Men's Association, whose 4,000 member companies want the Bank Act to provide for par clearance of out-of-town cheques.

Sukarno Tells Youth Fight For Goals

JAKARTA (AP) — Shirtless and defiant, Indonesia's President Sukarno appealed Tuesday to a roaring crowd of young supporters to fight for his goals. He thus threw a challenge to his opponents that could shatter the fragile peace of this island country.

Sukarno's impassioned address to the youth wing of the Indonesian Nationalist party reflected a struggle for control of the nation of 110,000,000 which has been going on since Oct. 1, 1965, when a Communist-backed coup attempt was thwarted by the Indonesian Army.

Although some of Sukarno's closest and most powerful aides have been eliminated from the scene, the president's speech indicated he is far from abandoning a drive for a return to his "guided democracy" which has been repudiated by the present military-supported government.

VANCOUVER (CP) — William Charles Ward, 45, became Vancouver's 51st traffic fatality of 1966 early Thursday when he was struck by a dry cleaning company truck. The previous traffic fatality record toll was 49 deaths in 1947.

Optical Illusion Blamed in Crash

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Civil Aeronautics Board Tuesday blamed an optical illusion for the collision last December of two airliners with 112 persons aboard about 50 miles north of New York. Four persons died in the accident.

One plane—a four-engine jet from San Francisco — limped into Kennedy International Airport in New York with 25 feet of its left wing missing, while the other—a four-engine propeller craft on the Boston-Newark, N.J., shuttle—crashed into a rural hillside near the New York-Connecticut border.

Red Guard Demands Officials' Ouster

PEKING (Reuters) — Peking walls were plastered Tuesday with huge Red Guard posters demanding the dismissal of the Chinese head of state, Liu Shao-chi, and Communist Party Secretary Teng Hsiao-ping.

While not the first time that the dismissals have been demanded, the posters were widely distributed and in large, easy-to-read characters.

They read:

"Expel Liu Shao-chi from the Communist party central committee."

"Liu Shao-chi and Teng Hsiao-ping must be deprived of all their jobs and stripped of all their power."

"Liu Shao-chi is the number one rightist. He is like a fish who always escapes the net."

Red Guard propaganda trucks toured the city with loudspeakers blaring that Lieu, long regarded as Mao Tse-tung's closest associate, now was the leader of the bourgeois revisionist line denounced by China's cultural revolution.

In Peking's 100,000-seat Workers Stadium, huge crowds gathered for a rally.

Men Released For Christmas

OTTAWA (CP)—Three union men jailed in Vancouver on contempt of court charges will be home for Christmas but two of them will have to return in the New Year to complete sentences, the Commons was told Tuesday.

Solicitor-General Pennell, replying to David Lewis (NDP—York South), said further consideration to shortening the sentence of the two men could be given later.

Final Reading For Pension Bill

OTTAWA (CP) — The bill guaranteeing old age pensioners $105 a month received third and final reading in the Commons late Tuesday night after an angry opposition threatened for a time to delay its passage.

Liberal MPs, with support from four opposition members, defeated 87 to 48 a last-minute amendment that would have sent the government bill back into committee study.

Speaker Lucien Lamoureux ruled out a further amendment and the Commons went on to give the bill third reading 137 to 1.

Maurice Allard (Ind - Sherbrooke) cast the sole opposing vote.

The legislation, effective Jan. 1, provides up to $30 a month supplementary payments to needy pensioners in addition to their basic $75 pension.

The supplement will be reduced by $1 for every $2 of outside income the pensioner earns.

House Adjourns Today to Jan. 9

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons cleared the way Tuesday night for a Christmas adjournment of Parliament today until Monday, Jan. 9.

The parties agreed to extend the sitting hours Tuesday to complete study of the supplementary old age pension bill and two other measures, aiming at their passage through the Senate today.

Mild Weather Could Last Over Christmas

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The chances of a white Christmas look good in Ontario and Quebec and fair in the Atlantic provinces, but parts of Western Canada are enjoying a mild spell that is expected to last through the weekend.

Whatever the weather, a Cross-Canada Survey by The Canadian Press indicates it's going to be a busy Christmas. Stores report heavy sales, in many cases ahead of last year, while railways and airlines will be moving more people than ever before. Travel is particularly heavy to the West Coast and south to Florida and Mexico.

The fact that Christmas Eve falls on Saturday night and Christmas Day on Sunday seems certain to keep many people at home to celebrate, since in many centres liquor outlets will close early.

Ray Hunt, general manager of the British Columbia Retail Merchants' Association, estimates that retail sales in the province will be eight or nine per cent above last year's $205,000,000. The forecast for Vancouver is rainy and mild, at least through Saturday.

A decorated ship will carry children singing Christmas carols through Vancouver harbor each night of Christmas week.

MAY STAY MILD

Weather bureaus say a mild spell over parts of the Prairies should continue at least through the beginning of the Christmas weekend. Light snow or freezing rain was predicted for Saskatchewan throughout the night Tuesday.

Southern Saskatchewan and Alberta expected temperatures in the high 40s, while colder air moves into the northern part of both provinces.

The mild weather has brought a rush of last-minute shopping in Regina, but downtown stores expect total sales to be roughly equal to 1965.

In Edmonton, stores have extended their hours, many opening at 8 a.m. and taking phone orders from 7 a.m. The 40-foot civic Christmas tree which had been erected in a downtown park for the last 15 years disappeared this year because it didn't fit in with new park plans.

COLD FOR SANTA

The Red River Valley and Greater Winnipeg got almost two inches of snow Monday and temperatures in the high 20s indicated at least a frosty Christmas.

Ontario's chances for a white Christmas perked up Tuesday as snow began faling across most of the western part of the province.

Air Canada reported a heavy rush for bookings to the West Coast and south to Florida and the Caribbean, while Canadian Pacific flights to Mexico were also full.

Christmas Eve should be quiet in Ontario, with all liquor sales cut off at 6:30 p.m.

Montreal's downtown stores report increased business this year, with the newly-opened subway bringing more people downtown. Liquor sales in Quebec will end at 10 p.m. Christmas Eve, but will resume from noon to midnight Christmas Day.

Air Canada has laid on 100 extra flights to handle the holiday rush and both major railways plan extra transcontinental service and extra coaches on major intercity runs.

The Atlantic provinces have had a mild December, with only a bit of snow in the last few days.

Halifax got its Christmas decorations up at the end of November and extended them to some side streets which hadn't been decorated before. Saint John put up its decorations just after Halloween in the face of charges that the season was being forced.

Rocks, Trees Hold Car From Falling Over Cliff

Boulders and trees caused $1,000 damage to a vehicle but saved its Slocan City driver from almost certain death early Tuesday near Coffee Creek bluffs.

A 1960 model vehicle driven by James Henk left the road on the Kaslo - Balfour highway plunging into boulders and trees, just short of a 300-foot cliff. The road surface was wet at the time. Accident is still under investigation.

The accident occurred within 150 feet of a previous mishap of March this year in which two people were killed.

A rock slide late Monday night brought two vehicles to an abrupt stop near Paulson Bridge, causing $150 damage to one and $50 to the other.

Harold Alfred Jolliffe of Vancouver was rounding a bend in road nine miles east of Christina Lake when the rock strewn portion of highway loomed up before him. He was unable to stop and tried to shoot over the fall. A large rock lodged beneath the vehicle, bringing it to an abrupt halt.

An oncoming vehicle, driven by Paul Edwin Kendrick, happened on the scene soon afterwards. It veered from the road, narrowly missing the Jolliffe car.

Music, Gifts, Socials Brighten Life in Nelson Area Hospitals

Kootenay Lake General Hospital, Mount St. Francis and Willowhaven patients all have enjoyed Christmas cheer and another week of festivities lies ahead thanks to many Nelsonites.

"We are grateful to the many people of Nelson for the joy they have brought to our patients. Everyone seems to be in a Christmas spirit," said Sister Mary Luca, Mount St. Francis administrator.

Patients were treated to films by B.C. Hydro in early December and a visit from St. Paul's-Trinity United Church group recently for a carol sing and tea.

Mrs. T. J. S. Ferguson's Boys' choir gave a 45-minute presentation for patients Saturday, featuring two female vocalists.

The Mount St. Francis Auxiliary Annual Party was held Sunday.

Order of the Eastern Star members visited patients Monday, distributing home made jams and jellies.

Tuesday saw Beta Sigma Phi members at "The Mount" talking with patients and distributing decorations. Sometime this week Legion members are expected to visit the hospital.

Sisters of St. Elizabeth, a group of university students, will sing for patients of the Mount on Christmas Eve.

Christmas mass will be held as usual Christmas Eve, with a second mass Christmas morning.

At Kootenay Lake General Hospital, staff and patients gathered in two sittings to enjoy "the singing nurses and orderlies," featuring vocalist Don Fraser.

Mrs. T. J. S. Ferguson and her Boys' Choir will perform at the hospital Saturday.

The auxiliary, IODE and Legion will be among those distributing gifts to patients on Christmas.

Willowhaven patients enjoyed a Christmas gathering Sunday with friends, sponsored by St. Andrews - by-the-Lake Anglican Church, Blessed Sacrament Catholic Parish, and the Ladies' Auxiliaries for both Willow Point Guides and Scouts, and North Shore Hall.

Each patient was presented with a gift of fresh fruits.

Mrs. Ferguson again was on hand with her Choristers with an excellent rendition of favorite songs.

Vocalists included Miss Joy Olson, Miss Kathleen Atwell, Miss Sharon Currie and Mike Boucher.

Soloist and guitar accompanist Eric Johnson also favored the patients and staff with selections.

The "small tots" made their contributions with an enactment of the Nativity scene. Three-yare-olds Theresa Klassen and David Moreau entertained the audience with a duet.

Trail Woman Registrar At Selkirk

Born in Fort Saskatchewan, Alberta, the new registrar took her university training at the University of Alberta, graduating with a B.A. Degree in languages. In 1942, she moved to the West Kootenay, where her husband, the late Gwynfryn Richards, was employed at Cominco in Trail.

CASTLEGAR DEBATE

Disband Steering Committee—Loeblich

Christmas concerts and plays are being performed in Nelson and district schools as the Yuletide holiday nears. Last night, Central School pupils performed in a well staged program. Can't Afford To Wait 10-15 Years—Maddocks

By PETER RICKWOOD
Daily News Staff Writer

CASTLEGAR — Over 300 people heard a call for the proposed district municipality's fact - finding steering committee to disband, at a unique forum here Monday night.

The call came from Carl Loeblich, Kinnaird Village Chairman and principal opponent to setting up a district municipality.

Summing up at the end of the meeting that had discussed the proposals fully, Mr. Loeblich said, "The finding and conclusions of the steering committee are questionable because two of its members are biased. You can see the direction that this supposedly unbiased committee is going to steer you in."

Earlier Chairman Loeblich said that the municipality was 10 to 15 years premature.

The forum was organized by Selkirk College and Castlegar Chamber of Commerce and attracted one of the biggest audiences to any sort of political meeting that has been held in Castlegar for years.

Mr. Loeblich pointed out that he was not opposed to district municipal government, "nor am I opposed to one in this area."

But he claimed that half a million dollars would be needed to get it on its feet.

"You are starting from nothing. The properties of Kinnaird and Castlegar have to be paid for."

He declared, "Your council has examined the subject most carefully." And he said that his advice was that he would recommend Kinnaird taxpayers to oppose the inclusion of Kinnaird within it.

Castlegar Mayor Bob Maddocks told the 350-strong audience that filled the Stanley Humphries High School auditorium, "I don't think we can afford to wait 10 or 15 years."

"I would like to see us collectively seize the opportunities that are opening up for this area."

He was summing up at the end of the two and a half hour forum.

Earlier, after he and chairman Loeblich had given introductory addresses, the audience members were allowed half an hour to prepare questions to put to the panel, made up of Mayor Maddocks, Mr. Loeblich, Allen Selbie, Kinnaird village clerk and Murray Little, steering committee member.

Mayor Maddocks said, "From this meeting and the work of the steering committee will come a decision that could have a stirring effect on the economy of this area."

He said that district citizens had to realize what the future held for them and the area they lived in. If they thought no further growth would take place and they had reached the ultimate point then of course there was no case for a district municipality.

But, he stressed, "this district is rapidly coming to assume a roll of major importance in the Kootenays."

Without a municipality, he foresaw a future with the small communities becoming villages, Kinnaird a town and ultimately Castlegar and Kinnaird cities.

"We can readily see that instead of one administration there would be several with no community purpose."

Despite their differences, Mayor Maddocks and Chairman Loeblich remembered the Christmas spirit and shook hands warmly as they left the platform.

Student Placement Officer Named by Selkirk College

Claude S. Hazle, B. Comm., has been appointed student placement officer at Selkirk College. The announcement was made jointly Tuesday by College Principal Gordon Campbell, and officials of the Canada Manpower Department.

Mr. Hazle will work in close liaison with the College's Student Personnel Services, concentrating on career and vocational guidance. He will also work with employers on a local and national level, seeking out employment opportunities for graduates of Selkirk College.

The College's technical training programs offer unique opportunities for the development of a cooperative work-study program in the training of technicians and technologists. Mr. Hazle will work in close contact with the Trail and Nelson Manpower offices in order to secure part-time and summer employment opportunities for the college students.

Educated in Vancouver, Mr. Hazle spent four years in industry before entering the University of British Columbia. He graduated in 1966 with a Bachelor of Commerce Degree in Industrial Relations. In June, he joined the Manpower Department of the Federal Government as Student Placement Officer at Notre Dame University in Nelson. At that time there was no qualified officer to appoint to Selkirk College, and as Mr. Hazle's work developed it became clear that it would be a sound arrangement to have the one Manpower Officer serve both institutions of higher learning, spending several days a week on each campus.

Mr.Hazl e is married and lives in Nelson. He begins his new duties at Selkirk College immediately.

Retiring School Chairman R. A. Phillips Honored

Nelson's School Board Chairman R. A. Phillips celebrated his own end of the term Monday night, when he took formal leave from the School Board after serving four years as a trustee.

At a board meeting held in conjunction with a dinner, School Board member Gordon Sargent paid tribute to the retiring chairman.

"We are grateful for the tremendous contribution you have made by your unstinting efforts," he told Mr. Phillips.

Mr. Phillips was presented with a parting gift by School Board members and another by the administrative staff of the School District.

He told the Board members and other guests at the dinner: "I think I should pay the board for the liberal education and enjoyment I have got out of it."

He thanked the Board's staff for their "assistance and help."

Mr. Phillips said he had decided not to stand for the Board because, "I feel that every once in a while on a Board or on City Council, you should get off."

As well as Mr. Phillips retiring, Mrs. C. E. Bradshaw, also stepped down from the board.

Earlier Mr. Sargent said that her "hard work and interest" had been appreciated .

When she announced her resignation from School Board Mrs. Bradshaw stated: "I feel that in some instances, because I've stood up for what I think is right, I have been put in the background."

Mr. Sargent commented: "Everyone has a right to speak their mind. You can admire a person who is never afraid to speak up."

Framed certificates will be presented to Mr. Phillips and Mrs. Bradshaw, recording their period on School Board.

Bigger Bus To Carry Bay Students

Queen's Bay students may soon be riding to school in new luxury

Monday night, Nelson School Board approved the purchase of a new 73-passenger bus for the route, to replace the 55-seat vehicle used at present.

The new bus is estimated to cost over $16,000, but the bus on the route now is full to capacity and additional students are expected next year.

School Board was told by the RCMP's mechanical inspector that the existing bus should be replaced.

A recommendation by the Board's building and transportation committee states:

"By increasing the size of the bus from 55 passengers to 73 a respite of several years will be gained without any increase in operating costs."

The new bus would be rear-engined. "The forward control type is not suitable to this country," said Bill McNown, maintenance supervisor.

Low Interest Funds for Sewage Treatment Plant Urged by City

As her final act as a Nelson City alderman, Mrs. Edith Van Maarion, Monday night launched a drive to obtain "cheap money" financing for municipalities desiring to construct sewage treatment plants.

Ald. Van Maarion received unanimous support of city council for a letter she proposed be sent to Bank of Canada Governor Louis Rasminsky suggesting that low interest money be made available by the national government.

The text of the letter sent to the Bank of Canada head, with copies to all government heads and pollution boards, is as follows:

"The Nelson City Council has been cognizant and concerned for some time over the very serious water pollution problem in our area. This condition is partly due to the discharge of raw sewage from our City into the Kootenay River.

"The Council is proceeding with a planned program of storm and sanitary sewer separation which, as you know, is a prime requisite to any sewage disposal system. In the near future, the City of Nelson would like to be in a position to finance and construct a sewage treatment plant, but, due to the very high interest rates on borrowed money, this most urgent matter has become a financial impossibility.

"This City is not asking for a grant, a subsidy or any preferential treatment.

"Mr. Rasminsky, we would like the national government to be able to make low interest monies available, not only to us, but to any municipality willing to act now to correct, and prevent, further contamination of our rivers and lakes. The Council feels it is the responsibility of all levels of government to co-operate and solve this costly pollution problem before our waters become dead.

"Would you please try to prevail upon the Board of Directors of the Bank of Canada to bring about such a financial policy so that the national government can have low interest monies available to municipalities for municipal purposes.

"We feel that the prevention of water pollution should be given top priority in government spending.

"Any consideration you could give this grave problem would be greatly appreciated."

Mrs. Pierce, Longtime Resident, Dies

Mrs. Mary Ellen Pierce, resident of the [illegible]nnable Block died Tuesday [illegible]ootenay Lake General Hospital.

Born at Lambert, Minnesota on October 29, 1885, she came to Canada in 1906. The family farmed at Battleford, Sask., for a number of years. Mrs. Pierce's husband predeceased her in 1934 and she came west to make her home at Appledale in 1941.

City Advisory Planning Meeting Press Coverage To Be Topic

Press coverage of Advisory Planning Commissions should be considered at a conference of city officials and the press, it was recommended by a meeting of the Works, Utilities and Services Committee, city council learned Monday night. The recommendation was accepted.

It asked that the subject be discussed by the manager of the Daily News, Mayor Louis Maglio, city administrator C. W. R. Harper and the planning commission chairman, A. R. Ramsden.

Santa Rides Turtle Plasso in Invermere

INVERMERE — Santa Claus rode into Invermere Saturday afternoon atop Invermere's giant turtle — Plasso — which had new and shining red eyes for the occasion.

Santa rode up Bruce Avenue followed by two pretty escorts, Miss Windermere Valey, Miss Alice Ryter and the Lake Windermere mermaiden, Miss Deborah Preece.

A total of 420 children greeted Santa, some shyly, confiding hopes of special gifts, some awestruck and a few uncertain about the strange white-bearded gentleman in the red suit.

The event had been arranged by the Windermere District Women's Institute with the president, Mrs. E. J. McNaught, convening the Santa Claus committee.

Mrs. Phillis Hawkins arranged for Santa's arrival and Murray Fisher saw that Plasso was fully ready for his distinguished visitor. George Deck supplied the magic touch that lighted Plasso's eyes. Each child received a bag of candies.

Later, Santa visited the hospital where two young patients were given bags of candy.

Rites Held For Oldtimer

CRANBROOK — United Church funeral rites took place Monday for Denzel Russell (Red) Maxwell, 63, who died suddenly at St. Eugene Hospital Friday. He had lived in East Kootenay since 1922.

He was born at Azilda, Ont., and as a baby came to Creston. He began railway service in Cranbrook in 1922 and continued in this work, retiring as conductor last June. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and of the Elks Lodge.

Surviving him are his wife, Patricia at their home at 210 Sixth Avenue; three daughters, Mrs. C. B. (Dorothy) Kruesel, Kamloops, Mrs. Howard (Marlene) Gilbert, Cranbrook and Joan, Calgary; a son James, Kamloops, and nine grandchildren.

East Kootenay Regional Board Directors Named for 7 Areas

CRANBROOK — Three directors on the Regional Board of East Kootenay have been appointed in electoral areas where there were no nominations.

They are: H. H. Moore, Wilmer - Spillimacheen; Ronald Bradshaw, Canal Flat-Athalmer; and George Fedorek Crowsnest-Morrissey. Nominated and unopposed for extra municipal Cranbrook was Vincent Downey, extra-municipal Kimberley Gerry DeCosse; for Moyie-Wardner Andrew Rosicky; and Galloway-South Country Henry Nelson.

This was reported to the December RDEK meeting at Cranbrook. Representatives of the seven municipalities in RDEK will be named by their own councils in January.

Acting board chairman the final two months of 1966 during hospitalization of chairman Henry Nelson was Cranbrook city director on the board, Alderman Don Sherling, who was tendered unanimous board thanks for this during a period of heavy agenda.

The board appointed its secretary-treasurer since August, Frank Bertoia, as RDEK administrator to whom all RDEK department heads are directly responsible. Finance warrant of $2,217 covering bills December 1 to 14 was approved for payment. Also approved was a temporary loan bylaw up to $40,000 to tide the budget over to August, 1967, when amounts due on behalf of member electoral areas from the provincial government, and from the seven member municipalities are payable on an annual basis.

Complying with Municipal Act requirements a provisional budget for 1967 RDEK operations tallying $86,945 was adopted by the board.

Gift of a wooded lot 105 by 180 feet located in the centre of residential Pinecrest and offered for public park purposes was acknowledged with thanks to the donors, M. G. Klinkhamer and Hugh Mitchell. Its development as children's playground will be considered at a later date.

RDEK requested to the department of municipalities for consideration of appointment of a second electrical inspector for East Kootenay was finally acknowledged. The request was filed prior to transfer of Jack Smith to the Fraser Valley, who has since been succeeded by Ed Constantineau. The Department reported new electrical inspection procedures are now under consideration, but there will be no additional inspector at the present time.

Salmo Village Dump Regulations Planned

SALMO — A mild furore has arisen regarding the privileges of the newly opened village dump, mostly due to lack of understanding.

It is understood that the new garbage dump will be available without restriction as to time or user. However, the village commission is taking powers to regulate the use of the dump and to make a charge, and regulations will be imposed if a satisfactory standard of dumping by the public is not maintained.

At the recent elections, Commissioner Jenson and W. A. Taylor were elected by acclamation. In the referendum, there were only 81 ballots cast with 37 in favor of fluoridation and 44 against.

Council is in the process of drafting a new bylaw to amend the waterworks regulations in order to bring the system up to date.

The problem of whether it is advisable to pour blacktop over cracked cement sidewalks is still under consideration. Enquiries into facts, figures and experience in similar conditions is being made and council awaits reply from Vancouver and Calgary firms on the matter.

Village Council will lease the lot on which the swimming pool is being constructed and sublease it to the Swimming Pool Society. The property in question is owned by School District No. 7.

George Haras Heads CRA

CRANBROOK — With both its president, George Haras, and its vice-president, Alec Demchuk, elected in the recent city council ballot upset, Cranbrook Ratepayers' Association has named a new slate of officers and drawn up a 1967 program of keeping close check on municipal affairs.

New president is Ron Jenkins and vice-president Graham Phillips, with Murray McFarlane as secretary. Directors are Robert Finley, Martin Kennelly, Patricia MacDonald, Henry Mayberry, Victor Swanson, Edward Gummer, Sr., and William Belding.

Organization in mid-1966 followed city tax mills under the revised method of applying the rate on full land assessment and 30 per cent of improvements assessment, which altered some properties drastically, toward discouraging land speculation. Since then vigorous association stand has been taken on other municipal issues.

MACAO HANDS OVER MEN

MACAO (AP)—Macao's Portuguese government handed over to Communist China seven Chinese accused by Peking of being agents for Nationalist China, leftist Chinese sources reported Tuesday. The seven escaped from Communist China in 1963. Their return was one of a series of demands made by Communist leaders after two days of Communist-instigated rioting early this month left eight dead, more than 100 injured and Macao's city hall in ruins.

Centennial Gray Creek School Pageant Theme

GRAY CREEK — For their Christmas entertainment the pupils at the Elementary School chose a Centennial Pageant based on a recent radio broadcast for "Douglas Day" called 'Sing Centennial.' They had listened to this broadcast in school which W. G. James had made possible by putting up extra wiring and aerials.

The historical atmosphere was given by stained glass window effect and background of the B.C. flag surrounded by dogwood flowers, also an ingenious cannon made from stove-pipe.

Boys, dressed as Red Indians, fur capped trappers, voyageurs and hunters and girls demure in floor-length pilgrim gowns filed into the room. Mrs. Thompson gave a short explanation and the song 'Wonderful Country' started.

British Columbia's colorful story was gradually unfolded. First, the Indians then the white men, fur traders, settlers, miners followed. Problems between British and American, between the Hudson's Bay Company and the 'Nor' Westerners,' between the mainland and Vancouver Island, climaxing in the union of the two Crown Colonies on Nov. 19, 1866.

Individuals spoke 'The Story,' dances and songs came to an end with the difficult Grand Chain and a curtsy and altogether 'O Canada.' The program was carried out with such spirit and sympathy with Mrs. James' accompaniment to match.

A small Christmas Tree appeared on the piano and carols were sung, then all went to the other room for the big tree and presents for the children from Mrs. Thompson, a book each also while refreshments were handed round for parents and friends.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wright from Creston, Mr. and Mrs. Fraser from Kootenay Bay and Mr. Meredith from Riondel.

Reminders of Canada's Oneness

The year 1966 has brought many reminders that Canada is one country. The solution of many of its most practical problems will need much more working together. The most recent example is the failure of Prudential Financial Corp. Ltd. This failure emphasizes, quite strikingly, the need for a country-wide agreement on the regulation of securities.

In the case of Prudential Financial Corp. Ltd., the sale of its notes, at conspicuously high rates of interest, was barred in Ontario by legislation the provin e passed last year. The same reasons that led Ontario to bar the sale of Prudential Financial Corp.'s notes were just as true in any other part of the country. But as Canada is an incoherent patchwork of provincial regulations for securities, the notes, barred from Ontario, were still sold to other provinces. They were being sold in Quebec until last spring.

If the provinces claim the right to regulate securities, as they do, they ought also to assume the obligation for working out uniform standards, which they have not done. As long ago as the 1930s the provinces met in a series of conferences to work out a uniform provincial companies act for Canada. They reached no final action. And although the provincial pre miers meet every year in a conference of their own, and discuss (among other matters) the need for common control of securities, still no action has come.

The result, as the case of Prudential Financial Corp. Ltd. shows, is that a security that can't be sold in one province is simply sold in others.

The need for common action is also seen in taxation. No province can tax exactly as it sees fit, even within provincial jurisdiction.

This point was well emphasized in the report early this year by a commission appointed by the Quebec Government — the Belanger Commission. The report warned that the rate of taxes make a great deal of difference in the position of one province among others. This is true in small ways, and in big.

If, for example, Quebec raises taxes too high on cigarettes, the smuggling of cigarettes from other provinces is bound to result. In the larger sense, if income taxes go too high in any one province, that province, so far from being the gainer by higher tax revenues, would likely be the loser, by finding that taxes comparatively high had reduced the attractiveness of the province as a place in which to earn money and do business.

How real this question is has been illustrated by the decision of the Government of Alberta in regard to estate (succession) taxes to negotiate with Ottawa to rebate Alberta's share of the death duties collected by the federal Government. The Alberta Government says it is doing this because it regards estate taxes as discriminatory and a form of double taxation. The practical result of this measure will be a movement of assets to Alberta. Other provinces will have to consider whether they will not have to adopt similar measures.

The oneness of the country is also seen in monetary policy. The argument is sometimes raised that monetary policy should be made more selective. One province may need to expand its economy at the very time when other provinces may be expanding too fast.

But Mr. Louis Rasminsky, Governor of the Bank of Canada, in his testimony before a parliamentary committee last month, showed that in monetary policy Canada has to be considered as one country. He explained that if the Bank of Canada were to practise easy money in some parts of the country, while imposing a tight money policy on others, this would bring the greatest hardship to the easy money area.

As interest rates rose under a tight money policy, investors would naturally channel their money away from the easy money areas and into the tight money areas, to realize the higher return. The province that needed to expand its economy the most would be left with the least money for expansion. Monetary policy cannot be fragmented.

But evidence of the underlying oneness of Canada is being felt in innumerable other ways. Co-operation among the provinces, and co-operation between the provinces and the federal Government — whether this is called "co-operative federalism," or by any other name — is not a matter of choice or preference, but a simple necessity. Where the failure to co-operate has been evident, the penalties for not co-operating are evident also. Where co-operation has taken place, the benefits have followed.

However much the rights of autonomy in different parts of the country may be cherished, and rightly so, the obligations to recognize the underlying oneness of the country and to act accordingly will remain a matter of the most practical self-interest. — Montreal Gazette.

A CENTURY OF IMMIGRATION — Canada's immigration since 1867 has been an on-again-off-again affair affected by wars, depressions and government campaigns for settlers. The figures range from nearly half a million immigrants in 1913 to less than 10,000 a year during the Second World War. Since 1945, more than half of the immigrants have settled in Ontario and nearly a third of them have been British citizens. More than 20 per cent planned to go into the manufacturing and mechanical trades, more than 12 per cent into professional, managerial and technical trades. At the start of this century, one Canadian in five was foreign born. By 1961, the last census year in which the figures were collected, the ratio was about one in six, but the total population had grown from 5,000,000 to 18,000,000. This year there are more than 20,000,000 Canadians.

Fancy Wheeling and Dealing

By DAVE MILLER

BRAMPTON, Ont. (CP) — The vast racing stable of the three Armstrongs from Brampton all began with some fancy horse-trading by one of Canada's top wheeler-dealers.

Elgin Armstrong, who bought his first standardbred in 1948, decided in 1952 it was time to buy another. He looked around Canada and then travelled to Ben White Raceway in Florida where the now-famous driver Del Miller was training.

"I spotted a little trotting filly and followed her to the stable," Elgin recalls. "I asked Miller 'Is this mare for sale?' and he said 'Yes' and I said 'How much?' and he said '$12,000.'

"I thought that over for a while and I asked him to work her because I wanted to see her trot. Finally I said 'I'll give you $7,500 for the mare and pay you to train her plus I'll give you whatever she makes between $7,500 and $12,000.'

"You know, he took it and I looked at the mare and said: 'I've just bought the Hambletonian winner.'"

The mare's name was Helicopter and in 1953 she won the Hambletonian, trotting's Kentucky Derby, in three heats.

USED FOR BREEDING

Helicopter was the beginning of a 300-horse stable now owned jointly by Ted, Elgin and Charles Armstrong. She was the first great brood mare the Armstrongs owned.

After Helicopter was retired, she was crossed with various studs to try to find a winning combination. "She didn't throw much," said Charlie. "The first three foals were used as brood mares."

But the fourth foal, sired by Star's Pride, was named Armbro Flight in 1962.

The Flight has been described as the greatest trotter of all. Few would argue with Charlie's more modest claim that she is the greatest of her sex.

In three short seasons she has won $493,602, the most money ever won by a Canadian trotter and the second most won by a Canadian horse. Northern Dancer, the thoroughbred owned by Toronto industrialist E. P. Taylor, is the leader with more than $580,000.

On Sept. 20, 1965, Flight trotted the mile in 1:59 1-5 at Delaware, Ohio, to set a world record for a half-mile track.

As a two-year-old in 1964, Armbro Flight made 25 starts, winning 20 and never finishing worse than third. She earned $107,452 and won the Canadian standardbred futurity trot at Toronto's Greenwood track in one of her rare Canadian appearances.

She started 26 times in 1965, winning 22 with two seconds and a third. She was second by a head in the Ham second by a head in the Hambletonian to Egyptian Candor in a race that marked the first time in 34 years a four-heat Hambletonian was held.

Her efforts this year have been just as successful. At Roosevelt July 9, Flight trotted in 2:31 3-5 to beat French champion Roquepine and win the $100,000 International Trot over 1¼ miles. Her time was just one-fifth of a second off the world record for the distance.

Driver and trainer Joe O'Brien of Alberton, P.E.I., retired her after 13 starts because she was lame in her left foreleg.

"Joe thought it happened before the International," Elgin said. "So we turned her out to the grass at Shafter, Joe's farm in Northern California.

"She's looking real good now, her leg's not swelling and Joe thinks she'll be back next year."

The Armstrongs and O'Brien, 48, first got together in 1962 when Del Miller, then trainer for the Armstrongs, decided he had too many horses to handle.

"I said to Del 'What about Joe?' and he told me it would be a good move to hire him so I did," Elgin said. "He's a damn good driver, one of the best."

PICKED BY O'BRIEN

Both Miller and O'Brien came to the Armstrong farm near Brampton to look over the yearlings in 1962. "Joe picked out some to take to his farm for training and one of these was Armbro Flight," Elgin said.

The Armstrongs' ABC farm is actually eight separate ranches for mares, studs, yearlings and aged pacers and trotters. At present they have 40 yearlings in training and maintain a "his - and - hers" farm near Caledon, Ont., where fillies and colts are kept in separate areas.

Elgin was one of the first men in North America to recognize the importance of mares sired by Adios for brood stock. He has 35 Adios mares on the farm now and is on the watch for more.

The Armstrongs went to the sales this year at Harrisburg, Pa., and bought four horses for $154,000. One is Beautiful Hanover, a full sister to pacing champion Bret Hanover, and another is a full brother to Scot Frost.

"I figure Beautiful Hanover was the best bargain," Elgin said. "She's by Adios out of the Hanover line. It's a great family. I expect her to earn $25,000 in her racing career and bring $50,000 as a brood mare."

OPTIMISTIC FOR 1967

Elgin predicts his 1967 racing stable will be the finest ever. Among the prime prospects he picks Armbro Jet, out of Helicopter by Jamie. He also expects Governor Armbro, who won nearly $85,000 this year, to bring in $200,000 in 1967.

The Armbro name, a combination of Armstrong and brothers, started in 1957 with Armbro Adanac. Each year the second name advances a letter and the 1967 crop will be Js—hence Armbro Jet.

But regardless of his large stable in the United States, Elgin's main interest lies in Canada.

"I want to improve Canadian breeding," he says. "We enter and pay up in many stakes up here, but we seldom race. I just want to give Canadian racing a chance.

"I sell lots of horses each year in Canada and there's lots of bargains. Why just last year I sold a scrub-looking colt for $1,700 and he won more than $100,000.

"No, I don't know his name, he was just a scrub."

CRITICIZES JEWS

TORONTO (CP)—Author Elie Eiesel Sunday criticized the world's Jews for doing nothing to help the 3,000,000 Jews in the Soviet Union. He told an audience at Beth Tzedec Synagogue that pity is no good to Russian Jewry. Jewish history was written in Spain in 1492, in Israel in 1948 and is being written in Russia in 1966, "yet we are doing nothing," said Mr. Wiesel, who has visited the Soviet Union twice.

Promises to Thant

U Thant's acceptance of a new term as secretary-general of the United Nations solves a worrisome problem for the big powers which faced a long struggle to find an acceptable successor. But so far unanswered is the question of what promises were made to him to convince him to change his mind about retiring.

One of Secretary - General Thant's professed reasons for wishing to retire was that the office had been reduced to that of a glorified clerk. But he had other more important complaints, among them the inaction in attempts to settle the Viet Nam war and the refusal of some nations, including the U.S.S.R. and France, to help pay for peacekeeping operations.

His agreement not to retire raises the question whether the Soviet Union and the United States assured him of some effort to end the war. The Soviets and France reportedly have indicated to Thant that they will make voluntary contributions to the peacekeeping fund in lieu of the assessments they declined to pay.

Whatever caused the Burmese diplomat to change his mind about quitting his post, the unstable world should thank him for not giving it another difficult problem.

Today in History

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Dec. 21, 1966 . . .

The last stand of the first English parliamentarians ended 700 years ago today—in 1266—when the rebels surrendered Kenilworth Castle to the king after a six - month siege. Their leader, Simon de Montfort, who called England's first Parliament, had already been killed in battle. Kenilworth Castle, which still stands today, may be more than 1,000 years old. Its walls enclose seven acres and contain "Caesar's Tower," with walls 16 feet thick.

1883—The first Canadian infantry and cavalry schools were established.

1929 — The steamer Lee Cheong sank near Hong Kong, drowning 300 people.

First World War

Fifty years ago today—in 1916 — British units from Egypt occupied El Arish in the Sinai Peninsula after across the desert; the British government decided to release prisoners of the Easter Rising in Ireland.

Second World War

Twenty-five years ago today—in 1941 — an Atlantic convoy reached Britain after destroying three submarines and two aircraft for the loss of two warships; British columns in Libya destroyed 37 Axis aircraft on the ground and occupied Cirene; the British retreated 45 miles in eastern Malaya.

Letters to the Editor

Letters to the Editor on any topic of genuine interest are welcome if they are brief, accurate and fair. They may be published over a nom de plume, but the name of the writer must be given to the Editor as evidence of good faith. Anonymous letters go into the wastepaper basket. We reserve the right to edit any letter sent in for publication for reasons of brevity, good taste or legality. Typewritten letters must be double-spaced.

War Toys

To the Editor:

Sir—A thought for Chritmas from a parent:

I aspire to the slogan "Toil and Peaceful Life" and I am a believer of the law of nature which states: What one shall sow one shall reap.

I am a young parent and I make this appeal to all parents with thoughts of gifts for this Christmas.

We will be buying toys again for our children. What type of toys are we going to buy them? Are they going to teach our children violence or are they going to teach them peace?

This is a festive season when all Christians celebrate the birth of the Prince of Peace.

Do you buy war toys? Do you not think that these toys entirely contradict the significance of Christmas or the aim of humanity? A child responds to the toys he plays with. Naturally a youngster playing war games in the living room or in his back yard will grow up to have thoughts of war.

My personal opinion is not to make a demonstration at the White House or on Parliament Hill against war toys, but to make a start in our own home with our children.

I am writing this article because I feel that this is a more appropriate time for this topic. There are a lot of peace demonstrations all over the world today, but I sincerely feel that this will be the best peace demonstration, one that will originate in our homes—in our hearts. Surely there is a vast difference between a bazooka gun and a toy truck, or a carrier ship and a ship used for transporting wheat.

I would like to ask more parents to express themselves regarding war toys, not only during Christmas celebrations, but throughout the whole year.

Basil Jmaiff,
Union of Youth of Union of Spiritual Communities of Christ,
Grand Forks, B.C.

Unfair Criticism

To the Editor:

Sir—In the sports editorial of Dec. 13, I feel that your sports editor was unfair in his criticism of the refereeing in the WIHL this year. The referees which I have seen are capable and efficient, doing their jobs intelligently and smartly in a rink filled with prejudice and ignorance.

In the first incident mentioned in which Brian Russill was called offside, he was offside, as he lifted his foot off the blueline (Rule 74). As far as Bill Waddell berating Brian, in the roar that followed that play, he had to yell to be heard by anyone, even as close as they were. There was no need to mention family relationships.

Concerning the incident of Nov. 10, my opinion and that of others is that Bernie Loff handled that crucial game very well. Considering that he had two unproven linesmen his job was all the more outstanding. Is this poor officiating?

It appears that from these two incidents the conclusion has been drawn that the refereeing in the WIHL is of a low calibre. This does not seem to be a fair appraisal.

Perhaps if rule books were made available to all fans and sports editors for the purpose of studying them, we would find what a good quality of refereeing we get but are incapable of recognizing.

—Gordon Malcolm.

Mercantile Bank

WASHINGTON (CP) — The Mercantile Bank case was debated briefly at a Canada-U.S. economics seminar, with American Ambassador W. Walton Butterworth raising the issue and Eric Kierans, former Quebec cabinet minister, defending the Canadian position.

But no new detail was mentioned and the exchange — swinging the discussion off the agenda—came near the end of the seminar Friday sponsored regularly by the advanced school of studies of Johns Hopkins University.

About 130 representatives of Canadian and American business, finance and governments spent most of their time on the impact of bilateral developments in trade, balance of payments, tariff-reduction negotiations nearing a climax at Geneva and the broader picture of the Atlantic alliance business community.

Sources who attended the seminar said Butterworth raised the Mercantile affair as a sample of irritants that creep into Canada-U.S. relations. The U.S. in two notes has strongly recommended against proposed legislation which would curb the activities of the Mercantile Bank of Montreal, purchased three years ago by the powerful First City Bank of New York from Dutch interests.

DISPUTE WARNING

The American position as expressed by Butterworth is that the legislation would retroactively impose curbs on the American-owned bank. Kierans, it is understood, stated the Canadian position that the First City Bank was warned specifically before it bought Mercantile that restrictive legislation mght be forthcomng.

Butterworth apparently restated the U.S. view that this is not true.

In any event, Canadian officials profess more concern about matters including the complex and delicate fisheries talks in progress ever since Canada authorized a 12-mile fishing limit in 1964.

The U.S. flatly refuses to accept Canadian definitions which would make the Bay of Fundy, Gulf of St. Lawrence or, on the West Coast, Hecate Strait, all-Canadian fishing zones.

However, specific trouble spots such as the fishing question or continued American restrictions on Canadian cheddar cheese, were ignored or mentioned only in passing Friday, it is understood.

Words of Life

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. Luke 2:10, 11

CRISIS IS COSTLY

An unforeseen snowstorm in Washington, D.C., in January, 1966, cost the city nearly $1,000,000.

CIVIL DEFENCE

In placing Advanced Treatment Centres and Casualty Collecting Units at various points in the province, Civil Defence expects these centres to develop a capability to operate them.

National Ski Team . . . . . Having Problems

Andree Breaks Leg

By JOHN KOROBANIK
Daily News Sports Editor

Injuries are threatening to complicate things for coaches of the Canadian National Ski Team that will visit three European countries early next year.

Matters were complicated even more Tuesday at the team's Christmas Camp being held at Banff, Alberta.

Andree -Crepeau, 19-year-old from Sherbrooke, Quebec became the second member of the ladies' team to be lost to coach

ANDREE CREPEAU
. . . Breaks leg.

Verne Anderson when she suffered a broken leg Tuesday.

The injury, a possible oblique fracture broke both bones in her left leg, midway between the ankle and knee.

Miss Crepeau joins 20-year-old Barbie Walker of Montreal as ski team members sidelined for the European circuit with broken legs.

Miss Walker broke her leg while returning to the team's home base in Nelson from a training session at Banff early in November. Her injury occurred in approximately the same area as was broken last February during a practice run for the Roch Cup competition in Aspen, Colorado.

WILL HURT TEAM

Ladies' coach Anderson said from Banff, "She (Andree) had a good summer at Portillo, finishing 12th in the downhill, only three seconds behind the winner. Therefore she was a possible top 10 placer this winter.

"Andree had a good fall training camp and this accident will definitely hurt the ladies' team.

"Creps (as she is known to other members of the National Team) was pushing such top skiers as teammates Nancy Greene and Karen Dokka."

Miss Greene is curently rated first in the world in slalom, tied with Marielle Goitschel of France. She is seventh in the giant slalom and is tied for second in the downhill with Wendy Allen of the United States behind Miss Goitschel.

Miss Crepeau's accident occurred during a downhill run on Mount Whitehorn's Springboard Trail. Descriptions from the scene said Andree flew into the air, landed on her inside ski and summersaulted some 150 feet down the slope.

Miss Crepeau's injury leaves only Miss Greene, Miss Dokka and Garrie Matheson from last year's team. Stephanie Townsend, who went with the team to the FIS World Championships, Anne Rowley, and newcomers Jill Fisk, Emily Ringheim and Judi Leinweber are competing for the two vacant spots.

MEN'S TEAM BETTER

The men's squad is in better shape, but coach John Platt is also having troubles. Bob Swan is still recovering from a cracked ankle suffered during the fall dryland training in October. The Ottawa skier was prominent among the skiers during the first two days of the camp.

Three other members of the team — Scott Henderson of Banff, Keith Shepherd of Lake Louise and Rod Hebron of Vernon — are also ailing.

last winter, worked out along with Shepherd and Hebron, all with sore backs.

Platt said the team leaves Jan. 2 for the European tour. Six men will be chosen, two less than represented Canada at Portillo.

Representatives last winter were brothers Scott and Wayne Henderson, Hebron, Swan, Shepherd, Dan Irwin, Peter Duncan and Gerry Rinaldi.

SPORTS SPOTLIGHT

BY JOHN KOROBANIK
DAILY NEWS SPORTS EDITOR

"What kind of stupid, XZ‡&* idiots are you sportswriters anyway?" the voice at the other end of the phone blasted out yesterday.

"Wh, wha, what are you complaining about now?" I humbly replied.

"What am I complaining about? Look fellow, are you or are you not a member of that so-called sportswriter fraternity?"

Not to get too involved I

ELAINE TANNER

whispered back, "Don't tell anyone, but I haven't been officially accepted yet."

"Well pray that you never are!" that same high-pitched voice shot back.

Just about now my ears were running back and forth around my head, each trying to escape the next bellowing statement that was expected.

Instead the voice suddenly became meek and asked, no less politely than some other callers "Have you been reading the paper lately?"

Insult of insult. Have I been reading the paper lately? Here I was tempted to say no, but instead the word came out, "Yes, as a matter of fact I have glanced through it for the past several years."

"Then you probably have seen last Friday's and Monday's papers?"

"Yes, I do recall seeing them."

At this point the voice at the other end again became the husky dominating tone that had greeted me at the beginning.

"Then you belong to that group of blankity, blankity idiots who claimed to know so much about the sports-world."

"I've never made any such claim."

Finally the truth of the matter came out. "How could a bunch of so-called experts pick Bobby Hull as Canada's top male athlete and then in the same motion, rank Gordie Howe with some water-skier named George Atkans and a rookie football player?"

"I couldn't tell you. I only voted on the final ballot with the top six names on it." And Mr. Howe was not included.

"Then if Hull is the best male athlete in the country, how could a 15-year-old female . . . A FEMALE . . . be named the BEST athlete in Canada?"

Well you see sir, it's like this. Like most average men, sports writers, and sportscasters who voted on the ballots, are mostly married.

And being a married man yourself, you must realize what it is like to go against the boss of the house.

Yes, I know you wear the pants in your house. But, it's like the sign which reads, "The opinions expressed by the husband of this house, are not necessarily those of the management."

Oh, but you do rule your household do you? Then how come Saturday night instead of watching the hockey game, you were sitting listening to Christmas carols?

Anyway, sir, the answer to your question comes out something like this, I think.

Hull's selection as top male athlete of the country was obvious, although debatable.

What Hull accomplished he did mostly in Canada and the farthest away was the U.S.

Miss Tanner on the other hand, showed her overpowering feats to the eyes of the world at Jamaica, against the best competition in the Commonwealth, bringing more fame to our country than Hull.

"But how come Howe was so low?" that meek voice interrupted.

"Here it was a case of . . ." I started, but never got finished.

Before I could say another word, a very feminine voice erupted at the other end, "And just what do you thing you're doing now?"

Half-an-hour later when the eruption finally settled down the man of the house agreed that Elaine Tanner is the best athlete in Canada.

More than 200,000 Canadians visited Britain in 1966.

Elaine Tanner Named Top Female Athlete

By BRUCE LEVETT
Canadian Press Sports Editor

Elaine Tanner, the Mighty Mouse of Canadian swimming who dominated the pool events at the British Empire Games, has been named Canada's top female athlete of 1966.

"It's great, really great," the 15-year-old schoolgirl said.

Miss Tanner scored a victory in the 32nd annual Canadian Press year-end poll as decisive as any she has registered in the water.

Nancy Greene of Rossland, B.C., who went from triumph to heartbreak in international skiing during 1966, was second in the balloting for the second successive year. She received 198 points on 14 firsts, 65 seconds and 26 thirds.

Marlene Stewart Streit, unofficial world women's amateur golf champion, was third on four firsts, 34 seconds and 39 thirds for 119 points.

AN EASY WIN

It was Mighty Mouse all the way. Of the 121 sports writers and broadcasters who voted, 98 picked her first, 11 naming her second and six third.

Based on a 3-2-1 count, her 322 points nearly equalled the combined point count of all other nine females considered.

"I never thought before about the honr," she said.

"I don't get much time to think about anything. I've never met Nancy Greene and Marlene Stewart Streit, but I'm interested in all sports. You name it and I do it."

Right now it's all swimming,

NANCY GREENE

however. She is in training for a February tour of South Africa and a spot in the South African national swim meet. She works out one hour each day before going to school and puts in 90 minutes three nights a week and on Sunday.

MORE TRAINING IN SIGHT

"I'll probably train more during the Christmas holidays because there is no school to worry about," she says.

Miss Tanner, a Grade 10 student who will be 16 Feb. 22, is working toward the 1968 Olympic Games in Mexico City and even further toward the 1972 Olympics.

It was the second triumph within a few days for the little girl who wears the lucky hat with a frog motif. Saturday she won the Lou Marsh Memorial Trophy as Canada's outstanding sports competitor.

Sharon Whittaker of Toronto, Victoria-born badminton star, was the only other woman to pull in more than a handful of points in the CP poll—42 based on four firsts, four seconds and 22 thirds.

RIDER GETS EIGHT VOTES

Gail Ross, equestrian from Edmonton, picked up eight votes on two second-place votes and four thirds.

Helene Gagnon of Arvida, Que., Canadian women's open golf champion, won three points on a second and a third; Brenda Mah, Toronto runner, got three on one first-place vote.

Single votes went to golfers Pam Miller of Oshawa, Ont., and Marilyn Palmer of Kamloops, B.C. and to runner Abby Hoffman of Toronto.

In the British Empire Games Elaine set a world record in the 220-yard butterfly and shared another with her team-mates on the championship 440-yard freestyle relay team.

Nancy Greene, 21, ranked among the top women skiers in the world, fell twice during the world championships in Portillo, Chile, both times with victory in sight. Still she is ranked first in the world in slalom, tied with Marille Goitschel of France.

Salmo Tops Trail 77-37

TRAIL — Led by a 25-point performance of Les Jensen the Salmo men's basketball team romped home to an easy 77-37 victory over Conacher News of Trail Wednesday night. The Salmo team is presently on a winning streak, with the victory over Conachers giving them five straight wins without a loss. Their standing in the Trail Senior B League is improved by Wednesday's win. Salmo now has six wins and four losses.

Activity was the watchword in the first half. Each team hustled yet Salmo led by 20 at the midpoint. The score stood at 41-21. During the second half Salmo's five concentrated on their defence while at the same time organizing a systematic scoring attack. The final tally stood 77-37.

Jensen's 25 point game was ably supported by all Salmo players, notably A. Field 11 and L. DeRosa 10. For Conacher B. De Rosa's effort of 17 points was outstanding. E. Seidal scored eight for Trail.

Salmo's organized offence uses a scheme devloped by Indian Army soldiers in the state of Poona, India. This masterly eastern strategy comes to Salmo via the basketball coach-manager Jim Davidson who served as a Major in the Indian army during the Second World War.

Tiger Voted Fighter of The Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Tiger, the freshly crowned light heavyweight boxing champion from Nigeria and one of the oldest fighters ever to win a world crown, was named Fighter of the Year Tuesday by the Boxing Writers Association.

The 37-year-old African, who had lost his middleweight title April 25 to Emile Griffith, came from behind last Friday night to take the 175-pound division crown from Jose Torres on a unanimous 15-round decision at Madison Square Garden.

It was the second time in four years that the stocky, valiant ring warrior has been named to receive the Edward J. Neil Trophy from the BWA.

He first won it in 1962 when he captured the middleweight—160 pound—title the first time by beating Gene Fullmer of the United States.

The Neil award is named in memory of the former Associated Press sports writer who was killed while reporting the Spanish Civil War.

Warriors Refuse To Play Dead; Looking To Upset Maple Leafs

Rossland Warriors refuse to roll over and play dead in the Western International Hockey League.

The Warriors, who were in trouble of having to fold earlier this month, moved out of last place in the WIHL, by upsetting the surging Kimberley Dynamiters 6-5 Saturday night in the East Kootenay city.

The win moved Seth Martin's club one point ahead of Cranbrook Royals and gave new life to the Warriors. Tonight the Rossland club will be in Nelson attempting to knock off the league-leading Nelson Maple Leafs.

If they're successful it'll be the first time this season the Warriors have come away from Nelson with two points. It'll be the first time they leave the city with any points, having lost their previous meetings here.

Tonight it'll change. Or so the Warriors hope. They'll play their Friday night home game in Spokane instead of Grand Forks, thanks to the co-operation of Jets' general - manager - coach Colin Kilburn who arranged the contest.

A win tonight for Rossland would help their gate Friday. Besides that it'll give them a two-game winning streak and the confidence needed when going to the Coliseum.

All they have to do is beat the Maple Leafs.

That's easier said than done, however. Nelson has lost only one game to the Warriors this year, that a 4-2 decision early in November. The only two points the Rossland club has claimed from the Leafs. They battled to a 4-4 exhibition tie in pre-season play.

And the Leafs are healthy. Healthier than they've been all season. Every player on the club is ready to go, and the final decision on who will dress and who won't will be up to coach Frank Arnett, the first game in a long time he has had to decide on players other than the goalie.

The league's top netminder, and a former Warrior, Don Holmes will be in the nets for the Leafs tonight, looking to make up for the six goals that got by him in Kimberley on the 10th. Holmes wants to see his 2.26 goals-against average at least back down to the 2.00 mark he had before Kimberley.

The Leafs' defensive corps, as it has been all season, is healthy and waiting for the game.

Up front the forwards are finally all back in action.

Centres Brian Randall and Gary McQuaid, both sidelined earlier with various injuries are back, having played Saturday against Trail, and Arnett will have to fit them in.

Rod Colins and Wally Cherenko have been filling in during their absence and leave the coach with another decision.

Brian Russill and Buck Crawford sat out Saturday's game with suspensions, but will be back to join centre Gail Holden on one line. The unit of Leroy Mowery, Carl Chwachka and Don Borgeson are all moving, leaving wingers Murray Owen and Corky Agar looking for a centreman — either Randall or McQuaid. However, Arnett may see to make other changes in the line-up.

Game time is 8:30 for the league Leaf game this year. The club is idle until January 2, 1967, in league play, several of the players going to the Walter Brown tournament in Colorado Springs, December 26-31.

Subsidized Athletic Awards at UBC

VANCOUVER (CP) — The University of British Columbia will give subsidized athletic awards in 1967, but not athletic scholarships, physical director Robert Osborne said Monday night.

The awards will be offered to students with athletic merit who must have, and maintain, academic standing required for other university bursaries and scholarships, Professor Osborne said.

"They are not recruiting devices," he said. "And they are not related to athletic scholarships in the sense that persons will have to make teams to maintain the awards."

Funds for the awards were to be established through donations from patrons, individuals and companies and likely would be about $500, which would cover first year entrance fees.

Notre Dame University at Nelson was the first Canadian university to give athletic scholarships. Members of the Nelson Maple Leafs and the Western International Hockey League and members of the Canadian men's and women's ski teams have received scholarships during the past few years.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars,

Thursday, December 22, 1966

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — Be alert to schemers, and don't fall for "bargains" which, attractively presented, hide their real inferiority. This does not mean that you should be cynical — just perceptive!

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — As with the Arien, your day calls for astuteness — plus! Don't grab at new ideas because they sound "great." Think carefully and make sure that all is on the "up-and-up."

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — Put the full force of your intuitive powers, knowledge and experience behind your endeavors. This will not only help you to prevent errors, but bring well-deserved recognition.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — Organize your talents for a more concentrated effort to catch the biggest prizes. Emphasize efficiency, accuracy and steadfastness.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — Do not sell this day short. Despite some snags, it has many hidden advantages. Put your many talents to work in the right spots and at the right times.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Under present influences, check all factors before acting, discuss matters with those concerned with your interests, and do avoid the hasty word which could undermine another's morale.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — You will get ahead faster by waiting out the "trying" moments patiently, even "laughing off" stubborn obstacles. You can always melt the opposition when you are your innately gracious self.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — As with many others now, you will have to avoid impulsiveness and jumping to hasty conclusions if you would prevent serious errors. Good opportunities in the offing.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — An uncertain or late start could set you back a notch. With little planetary help, you must provide day's momentum, but you can produce — and in many ways.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — You have a wide field in which to succeed now, but it will be smart to study situations, possible gains before you start new undertakings. You might get a kick out of revitalizing an old project.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — An above-average day in certain areas, possibly trying in others. Drop any idea of winning high scores through luck or favor. Day calls for sturdy, conscientious effort.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Don't cross others without ample reason. Things may turn out better if you wait a bit before making decisions, give time for added factors to appear. But do not delay work that must proceed.

YOU BORN TODAY have a variety of talents and the innate know-how for making lasting gains. If you keep incentive up to par, you will climb lofty heights, and take many along with you. To the high-minded Capricornian, every day is a rosy one. You are born inventors and can visualize "impossibilities" which become realities. You may not like detail, but must knuckle down to the humdrum at times when you would like to be "in flight." Birthdate of: Deems Taylor, composer, music critic.
