50 per cent Loss of Bighorns Seen

STORK IS A WHIRLYBIRD—With the stork hovering overhead, Mrs. Marie Hardesty is carried to the WWDC-Radio helicopter in Clinton, Md., for a hurried flight to Prince George's County Hospital in nearby Cheverly. The expectant mother, who had been snowbound at her home, gave birth to a boy 25 minutes after she reached the hospital.

De Gaulle Set To Press Peace

PARIS (AP) — President de Gaulle told North Viet Nam Tuesday he is ready to throw his weight behind a Viet Nam peace effort but he made it clear he does not think the time is ripe for negotiations.

Responding to a letter from President Ho Chi Minh of North Viet Nam, he said France does not approve of prolonging the fighting or extending it in an effort to win a military solution.

He told Ho France is prepared to "participate actively" in a settlement of the conflict as soon as this appears possible.

De Gaulle has told the United States of his opposition to the war in Viet Nam and has said he deplores the resumption of air raids against the north after a 37-day pause.

De Gaulle assured Ho France has carefully observed its responsibilities in connection with the Geneva agreements and restated his conviction that a new Geneva conference should be called.

FEWER THAN 1500 EXPECTED TO SURVIVE

The current outbreak of lung worm infestation that is decimating Rocky Mountain Bighorn sheep bands in the East Kootenay is expected to result in the loss of 50 per cent of the total B.C. bighorn population before the winter is over.

A spokesman for the Fish and Game Branch said Monday that some of the East Kootenay bands have already been reduced by 97 per cent.

The spokesman sad that before the lungworm outbreak hit the bands early last Spring there had been an estimated 3000 sheep spread among several bands in the B.C. interior. He said there is little doubt that the sheep deaths that occurred last year, combined with the expected die-off over this winter, will reduce the total bighorn population to below 1500 animals.

The spokesman said that investigation into the outbreak is continuing by department game biologists, who have forecast that there will be more die-offs this winter. He said that some of the highly parasitized animals will be unable to survive.

Department officials believe, however, that there will possibly be a levelling off of the situation after the Winter.

The lung worm infestation was first discovered by game men early last year when stricken animals were found in some East Kootenay bands.

The department spokesman said that the current outbreak will have far-reaching effects, for, he said, the bands have been so decimated that it is not eppected that any sizable comeback of population can be made.

"These sheep are not expected to reproduce in any greater numbers than in past years," he said.

Game men blame the outbreak on the lack of winter ranges that has been caused by the encroachment of civilization, over-grazing and other abuses.

The spokesman said the entire situation points out the fact that recognition will have to be given to wildlife as legitimate users of Crown lands.

Vecchio Asks Demotion, Commission Meets Today

A special session of the Nelson Police Commission has been called for today to consider the resignation of Joseph Vecchio as Sergeant of the Nelson Police Department, and his request to revert to the rank of constable.

The special commission meeting has been called to obtain an explanation from Sgt. Vecchio for his action. Sgt. Vecchio announced his resignation of rank to Police Chief H. M. Thomlison, but gave no reason for his action.

On the police commission are Len Cutler, Dr. T. H. Bourque, with Mayor Louis Maglio as chair man. Police Chief Thomlison will attend the meeting.

Redistribution Bill Draws Fire

VICTORIA (CP) — A redistribution bill proposing whole-sale changes was presented in the B.C. Legislature Tuesday by the Social Credit government.

The bill proposes:

Adding two more seats for a House total of 54.

Elimination of six ridings, most of them in the southeast.

Addition of eight more seats in the populous Lower Mainland region.

No change in northern constituencies.

The bill, introduced by Provincial Secretary Wesley Black, followed most of the recommendations of a recent provincial redistribution report prepared by Henry Angus.

However, the government bill does not reduce representation of the North, as proposed in the Angus report. It also continues the use of multi-member ridings in the Vancouver and Victoria areas. The Angus report suggested single-member ridings.

Violent Opposition reaction greeted the government bill. NDP Opposition Leader Robert Strachan charged it was written by two persons—"Gerry and Mander."

"Political bossism of the worst kind," retorted Liberal leader Ray Perrault.

The government followed the Angus recommendations in proposing elimination of Kaslo-Slocan (NDP) Grand Forks-Greenwood (NDP), Lillooet (Social Credit), Revelstoke (Social Credit) and one of the three Victoria seats (all Social Credit.)

Fernie (Liberal) and Cranbrook (NDP- would be amalgamated into a single riding.

The bill proposes that redistribution would come into force the day the 27th legislature "is dissolved." That was taken to mean the new ridings would not exist until a general election is called.

Victoria Announces 19,000 to Get Pay Increase

VICTORIA (CP)—Pay raises averaging 5 ½ per cent will go into effect April 1 for British Columbia's 19,000 provincial employees.

The raises outlined Tuesday by Dr. Hugh Morrison, chairman of the Civil Service Commission, total $3,900,000.

Individual raises will range from four per cent to 10 per cent for various categories but no employee will receive less than $15 a month more.

Highest increases will be $85 a month for senior administrative officers, doctors and other professional specialists.

An experienced clerk - stenographer earning $426 a month will receive $450 under the new schedule. Lowest paid category, junior clerks, will go to $215 from $200.

Tradesmen and daily - rated employees will receive raises worth up to $50 a month.

B.C. Gov't to Increase School District Grants

VICTORIA (CP) — Education Minister Leslie Peterson announced Tuesday the B.C. government will boost operating grants to school districts this year.

Mr. Peterson said he will bring in legislation this session to revise the grant formula for public schools in time for 1966 school district budgets.

The education minister said the government will give the districts $86,000,000 this year, an increase of $8,300,000 over last year's grants.

The increases, he said, will add to the government's share of costs by classifying previously non-shareable expenditures as shareable.

The existing school grant formula provides that the government will pay approved operating costs above what can be raised by a local tax levy of 15.95 mills.

$3000 REWARD Offered in Boy's Slaying

TORONTO (CP) — A total of $3000 was offered Tuesday for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person who stabbed Michael Kent, 6, to death Friday night at Elmvale, Ont.

The attorney-general's department has offered $2000 and the Elmvale police $1000.

The boy's body was found outside an arena where he had gone to watch his brother play hockey. The boy lived at Port McNicoll, near Elmvale, about 30 miles northwest of Orillia.

U.S. Loans $50 Million To Pakistan

KARACHI (AP) — U.S. Vice-President Hubert Humphrey announced Tuesday night a $50,000,000 U.S. loan to Pakistan to finance imports.

The announcement, following talks with President Mohammad Ayub Khan, fell short of expectations the United States would resume general economic and military aid to Pakistan.

That aid, at the rate of about $350,000,000 a year, was halted last September when Pakistan and India went to war over Kashmir. India, which also lost U.S. aid then, is the next stop on Humhprey's Asian tour. He flies to New Delhi today.

The vice-president also announced the U.S. and Pakistani governments have agreed to early negotiations on an interim agreement for food shipments to Pakistan, which is facing a food shortage because of drought.

Byrne, Herridge Tangle in House

OTTAWA (CP) — In an over-the-back-fence exchange Tuesday, the MPs from the Kootenays, one a Liberal, the other a New Democrat, entertained the Commons over an issue termed "an extraordinary piece of gossip."

H. W. Herridge (NDP — Kootenay West) asked James Byrne (L—Kootenay East) to comment in the Commons on a report that Mr. Byrne, recently appointed parliamentary secretary to Transport Minister Pickersgill, threatened to bolt the party if he didn't get the job.

Mr. Byrne said the questions were "smear tactics" similar to those used by Mr. Herridge during the last general election. He said he had considered three departments before accepting the transport ministry appointment.

The Speaker finally ended the exchange after several MPs shouted that the matter was out of order. Mr. Byrne managed to read part of a newspaper editorial praising his abilities before he was cut off.

Gov't To Cushion Automation Impact

By BEN WARD

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Pearson told a delegation from 15 railway unions Tuesday that the federal government intends to do something to cushion the impact of automation on workers' jobs.

He said the advance of new technology, with its dislocating effects on the work force, cannot and should not be halted. It would bring benefits to the whole economy.

"But in the process we must see that labor doesn't bear an unfair share of the burden," he told the Canadian Railway Labor Executives Association, making its annual presentation to the cabinet.

"We accept that view and we are going to do something about it."

Labor Minister Nicholson ran into protests from the union officers when he replied to their proposal that federal labor law be amended in line with a recommendation of the Freedman report that employers be forced to negotiate terms of any technological changes introduced during the closed period of labor contracts.

Mr. Nicholson said wherever possible the issue should be handled through voluntary agreement between labor and management.

HYDRO DEVELOPMENT TO GO AHEAD ON NELSON RIVER

WINNIPEG (CP) — Federal-provincial financing to develop the hydro potential of the Nelson River in northern Manitoba has been assured after four years of study and negotiation, Premier Duff Roblin announced in the legislature Tuesday.

The cost - sharing agreement will cover the first phase of the development — expected to be completed in 1971—estimated at more than $300,000,000. Total cost of harnessing the 410-mile river is estimated at more than $1,000,000,000.

The agreement provides for the federal government to build, finance and own a $120,000,000 transmission line running 580 miles from the Kettle Rapids site to Winnipeg.

Provincial share includes development of the site in the lower reaches of the river, a diversion to direct some of the Churchill River flow into the Nelson and level control at the northern end of Lake Winnipeg.

Manitoba's cost would be about $208,000,000.

The projected Kettle Rapids generating station would produce about 1,000,000 kilowatts of electricity—equal to the present annual demand in Manitoba. When fully developed, the river will have a potential of more than 5,000,000 kilowatts.

REACHES TO ROCKIES

The Nelson, with its watershed reaching to the eastern slopes of the Rockies, has a greater flow than either the Columbia or Missouri rivers. It flows out of Lake Winnipeg through the northern Manitoba wilderness, dropping 712 feet through a series of falls and rapids, into Hudson Bay.

The Churchill will be tapped near Thompson, Man., to drain its strength gathered over a 90,000-square-mile watershed.

Prime Minister Pearson also announced the agreement in the Commons at Ottawa.

Premier Roblin said the initial development will provide a pool of readily-expendable power for export.

"One of the undertakings in the proposed agreement is that any power surplus to Manitoba's needs will be available to a national power grid, or for export, or for both."

Export of 1,000,000 kilowatts of electricity annually to the U.S. would bring $30,000,000 into Manitoba, he said.

The formal agreement—to be approved by both the Commons and the Manitoba legislature—will provide that Manitoba pay a service charge for using the federal government's transmission line, based on consumption.

Total federal cost would be reimbursed in 50 years, but provision will be made for Manitoba to buy the line at any time at Canada's amortized cost.

"The federal government is, in a way, acting as a banking agent in this project," said the premier and he described the development as a high point in Manitoba history.

Mr. Roblin said there are at least three other potential sites for major generating stations on the Nelson along with "a half dozen" smaller ones. Development depended on domestic and export power demands.

Manitoba's domestic demands, doubling every decade, will be 8,000,000 kilowatts by the year 2,000.

The premier said the development will give the province an economic stimulus by providing on-site employment for 3,000 men and for another 3,000 in allied projects, requiring increased activity on the Hudson Bay Railway, and attracting industry.

Integrate Transport Systems – Pickersgill

OTTAWA (CP) — Wasteful and unnecesary transportation services must be scrapped to make Canadian exporters more competitive abroad, Transport Minister Pickersgill said in the Commons Tuesday night.

He said Canada cannot go on with its present transportation system. It was time to integrate all methods of transport, modernize equipment and cut redundant, unused services.

Something akin to the integration of the armed forces, which was most admirable, was needed in transportation to reduce costs to users and taxpayers. Some transportation services remained essential, but others were no longer patronized sufficiently and should be scrapped.

Mr. Pickersgill hit back at opposition critics, who blasted cutbacks in CPR passenger and freight services and government inaction during five days of debate on transport department spending estimates for the fiscal year ending March 31.

Most opposition speeches were parochial, he said. If the Commons continued at the same pace all session, "We might pass a bill or two by Christmas."

He rejected a suggestion by Robert Pritte (NDP — Burnaby-Richmond) for a separate department of civil aviation.

It was important to integrate all transportation methods and for a single department to deal with all services. More research and planning were needed.

U.S. 'Eagles Claw' Nets 88 Cong Dead

SAIGON (AP) — Elements of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division pounced on Viet Cong guerrillas again Tuesday in an operation called Eagles Claw and killed 88. They captured seven, including one who identified himself as a battalion commander.

Over-all ground and air action across South Viet Nam over a 36-hour period up to dusk was reported to have accounted for 505 enemy dead. Most of these were piled up in the Bong Son sector, 300 miles northeast of Saigon.

Bong Son is the base of big manoeuvres by American, South Vietnamese and South Korean troops now reported to have accounted for 1690 enemy dead since Jan. 25.

Strictly on the defensive for three weeks along the central coast, the Viet Cong launched two attacks on South Vietnamese government units in the Tam Ky area farther north. Tam Ky is roughly midway between Bong Son and a Nang, a strategic air base which is the headquarters of U.S. marines in South Viet Nam.

Parliament Tuesday

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The Commons turned again to transport department estimates after announcement of a new power project in Manitoba.

Prime Minister Pearson said Ottawa would provide some $120,000,000 toward a $300,000,000 Nelson River development.

The Canadian Labor Congress and International Railway Unions made presentations to the cabinet on various labor matters.

Labor Minister Nicholson made no commitment to accept the Freedman report's proposal on negotiating automation measures.

Provincial officials petitioned for an extension of the government's municipal loan program past March 31.

An application to move Channel 3 to Toronto from Barrie, Ont., was the main subject in the transport debate.

Opposition Leader Diefenbaker said the government was awarding a plum to its political friends.

Salesman Threatens Prince George Woman

PRINCE GEORGE (CP)—Another Prince George woman has been threatened by a magazine salesman.

Mrs. Sharon Norton said Tuesday she was subjected to "goon squad tactics and intimidation during a 45-minute visit from the salesman.

When she moved to call the police he warned her "you are just getting too big for your britches. I wouldn't advise you to do that."

The salesman first said he was taking a public relations course and was required to make door-to-door calls as part of his training.

Mrs. Norton said she was not interested and wanted to get on with her housework.

But the magazine agent pushed his way in and refused to leave until he had received a $10.50 cheque from the frightened housewife.

She later stopped payment on the cheque.

City council last week agreed to rescind the licence of a group of door-to-door magazine salesmen following a complaint from Alderman Ron Tweedie that one had used obscene language after failing to sell subscriptions to Mrs. Tweedie.

Search Goes on for Missing Nuclear Weapon

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The longest hunt for a missing nuclear weapon—four weeks—still is going on and a U.S. defence department source indicated Tuesday it will continue indefinitely.

The search began Jan. 17 when a collision between a U.S. Strategic Air Command B-52 jet bomber and a refuelling plane over the coastal area of southern Spain resulted in four unarmed thermo-nuclear weapons falling with the wreckage. Three were found.

But the search of land and sea bottom so far has failed to turn up the fourth.

The time, the number of searchers and the amount of equipment used surpasses by far any of the hunts made in 14 other officially - reported incidents involving loss or damage to nuclear weapons. The first incident occurred in 1958.

In terms of man-hours the search is costly. The defence department says it is difficult or impossible to estimate the dollar cost, since most of the manpower and much of the equipment being used in the search represent routine expenditure.

COSTS LIVES

It has cost lives, but none was attributed to nuclear cause. The eight-man crew of a U.S. Air Force C-124 transport, engaged in the search, died in the crash of the plane onto a snow-clad mountain Saturday. In the initial collision, seven men in the crews of the B-52 and C-135 tanker plane died.

Directly or indirectly, about 5,000 U.S. navy and air force personnel now are involved. This is in addition to assistance by Spanish police and other authorities.

As of Monday, 18 navy ships and other craft, including two deep-diving research submersibles, were on station in the search area.

The previously-reported nuclear incidents ranged from accidents similar to the Spanish one down to mere minor damage to the casing of a weapon.

Several of them were in plane crashes over land where there was little or no difficulty in finding the weapon or weapons. In at least one case, the plane was carrying only non - explosive components of a nuclear system. In a few instances, the public report makes no reference to finding of lost weapons.

NO DETONATION

In none of the incidents has there been nuclear detonation or serious radioactive danger.

The loss of the weapon last month has a significant aspect:

It is the first reported occasion a nuclear weapon has been lost or involved in any other incident outside the United States or its territorial waters.

This apparently accounts, in considerable measure, for the intensive, prolonged search. There are several reasons:

1. To reassure Spanish residents by locating and removing the weapon and end apprehension over possible radioactive contamination.
2. To ease the pressure on the Spanish government from some of the population for getting rid of U.S. military bases. The Spanish incident might create similar arguments in other friendly countries where the U.S. now has base privileges.
3. To find the missing weapon before overt or covert searchers of an unfriendly government obtain possession. From the weapon and from classified portions of B-52 wreckage, foreign weaponeers could compile valuable data.

SCHOOL BUDGET UNDER COUNCIL FIRE

Chamber Pushing Industrial Promotion

Nelson Chamber of Commerce will devote more effort toward industrial promotion this year.

At the first meeting of the 1966 executive Tuesday, the president and three vice-presidents were asked to prepare a budget for presentation to City Council in which industrial as well as tourist promotion would receive equal attention.

Arthur Foster, president, and R. E. Nelson, R. J. Mark and J. D. Stanger, first, second and third vice-presidents, form the new executive.

The presentation is in connection with the annual request for a city grant towards Chamber activities.

The meeting also decided to renew its supply of tourist pamphlets. Almost 40,000 were distributed last year, and another 40,000 will be ordered for distribution this year.

Last year, pamphlets were shipped to tourist information bureaus in various parts of Canada and the United States, to B.C. Government ferries, and others, on request, to South America, England, Denmark and Nigeria. Many were distributed also by residents while travelling, and others at various conventions.

The meeting learned that John A. Wallace, president of the British Columbia Chamber of Commerce, would be a speaker at the April 21 meeting. It will be an evening meeting.

A telegram from the Cranbrook Chamber of Commerce asking support of a protest sent to Prime Minister Pearson against the "tight money policy now drastically affecting Canadian businesses," was received and filed.

Public affairs committee chairman George Willisecroft was asked to act for the Chamber in connection with nomination of candidates for the 1966 Citizen of Year.

Knights of Columbus, sponsoring organization, said in a letter that deadline for nominations is March 10. Similar letters have been sent to many other Nelson organizations. Chairman is Ven. Archdeacon F. D. Wyatt. Last year's "Citizen" was Mrs. Stanley Morris.

A member of the education committee will be named to represent the Chamber on a committee which will make plans for a visit of 24 students to this area during the summer under the Canadian Centennial Youth Travel Program.

Nineteen carloads of students from another province will come here for seven days, and a large group of students from the Nelson school district will visit an eastern province.

It was announced that R. A. Phillips, school board chairman, would act as liaison man between the Chamber and the schools in education matters.

A copy of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce submission to the ministers of finance and national revenue regarding Canada's fiscal and monetary policy, the Income Tax Act, the Excise Tax Act, the Estate Tax Act and the Customs Act was received. It will be kept in the Chamber office for public perusal.

Two bills which had been given first reading in the House of Commons were received from H. W. Herridge, MP for Kootenay West, for the Chamber's information.

One was an act to amend the Criminal Code, purpose of the bill being to make it an offence for owners of industrial plants or other persons to discharge noxious matter into interprovincial water. The other provides for establishment of the Canada Disaster Fund, which is intended to meet the problem of deciding at what point disaster losses are beyond the capacity of a province to deal with effectively, and the disaster essentially becomes "national."

Secretary-Treasurer's Pay Hike Criticized

A jump of over 33 per cent in the allotment for the secretary-treasurer's salary included in the Nelson School District budget for 1966, drew fire from council members at the regular meeting of the Nelson City Council, Monday night.

Termed "flagrant" by Mrs. W. J. Van Maarian, the budget was questioned by Alderman D. Porteous in the light of, "noticeably overcharged items." He stated that council wasn't equipped to examine with care all the segments of the board's statement but if some amounts were too great perhaps others may also be.

The position of the council was stated by Mayor Louis Maglio when he said that council would have to "accept it or reject it." If rejected the budget would go to arbitration and Alderman E. W. White asked how much this process would cost.

Ald. Porteous suggested $800 to $1000. Referring to this amount Ald. White stated that "amounts of $3000 had been spent on gaining additional information before."

When asked by Ald. K. Facchina whether or not he considered the School Board negligent in their preparation of this budget, Mr. Porteous answered, no. He went on to say, however, that, "things have become very complicated and were a qualified man placed on the arbitration board, considerable savings may be found."

Citing statistics, he continued by pointing out the discrepancy between the increase in student enrollment and the budget increase. This year enrollment jumped four per cent while the budget was up 13 per cent. He mentioned the City of Kamloops where the budget increased 19 per cent with student numbers up 20 per cent.

Ald. White suggested that if arbitration were forced, experts would be chosen to review the budget. However, Kennedy Facchina countered that these experts would most likely be educators, as they are the only ones qualified to judge the needs of the education system.

Mr. Facchina added that if arbitration were brought about only because of the increased administration costs, "Council would be implying that another elected body had not carried through its duties in a wholly responsible way."

It was mentioned by E. W. White that the increase of the secretary-treasurer's salary was very substantial and Ald. Porteous reiterated that this same "overcharge" may be found in other items by the experts during arbitration.

It was asked during the meeting if there were no other alternatives open to council. The general feeling expressed among the alderman was that if the budget were returned to the School Board it would not be changed.

Mr. Porteous stated that, "we are not the only ones concerned with the spiralling costs of schools." In this connection Alderman White expressed the fear that, "we may be caught up in the publicity from the States and the other provinces which says the education costs are going up and we can't do anything about it." He added that the council is the keeper of the taxpayer's money and should face this responsibility and check all questionable expenditures.

Kennedy Facchina suggested that the substantial increases over last year were caused by the teacher's salary increases and new union agreements which the School Board could not change.

Alderman D. Porteous stated that bringing the budget to arbitration, "would bring it to the attention of the provincial government that the costs are being examined and disapproved of."

Answering, Kennedy Facchina declared that, "the School Board is responsible for giving the children of the district a good education." However, Mrs. Van Maarion mentioned that the council "is the representative of the city and responsible for all its aspects with the proper balance maintained."

Mayor L. Maglio stated that, "council was in the dark as long as the government grant was not known." The mill rate for school taxes can not be calculated until this figure is announced.

The motion was made that the budget be returned to the School Board for further consideration. A special meeting was arranged for this Friday to discuss the board's reaction and make a definite decision before the final date of February 20.

Parks-Recreation Bylaw to Solicitor

Element of Progress Declares Ald. Facchina

An "element of progress", described the proposed recreation by-law in Alderman Kennedy Facchina's words Monday night when it came before the city council for its approval. The law was forwarded to the city solicitor for the checking of legal sources.

Mr. Facchina moved the council approve and proceed with the formation of a parks and recreation commission for the city of Nelson. Discussion followed the motion.

Alderman D. Porteous asked whether or not the duties of the positions to be filled would be outlined to the council.

In reply, Mrs. R. N. Bradshaw said the commission did not know if they were going to hire anyone. "If we knew for sure we could hire someone, his duties would have to be outlined in order to receive the provincial grant."

Mrs. E. VanMaarion expressed the opinion that the Parks Committee of council was a segment of council's autonomy and she didn't feel this should be surrendered. Continuing, she stated that, "I cannot remember when the Recreation Commission had ever been refused the use of the parks or upkeep of them."

Expenses were examined in the resulting discussion which was centred about the question of salaries. Several councillors questioned the number of salaries to be paid under the new by-law in comparison to those now paid.

Mrs. Bradshaw replied that in the last eight years there had been no change in the administration of the parks and recreational facilities. She added that, "the best use of money spent on equipment has not been made", because of the lack of continuity of the programs. "Parks are to be used by people and the business of a recreation organization is to see that these are used to the fullest extent."

L. N. McEachern, representative to council from the commission, stated that recreation directors are hard to keep because they have no authority or scope under the present administrational organization.

The council was asked by Mrs. Bradshaw to settle the question once and for all because, 'now they are just disjointed and unorganized." The suggestion was made that money, if the change is passed, will be spent more efficiently and with more effect.

In answer to Mrs. VanMaarian's statement concerning the council's autonomy, Kennedy Facchina said that "the commission would take over the administration of only one of the facets of the services offered to the public by the council."

Reeve Harper, city administrator, suggested that the by-law be sent to the city solicitor.

The mayor, L. Maglio, was asked his opinion on the future course of the law and he stated that the amount of work at the time was great.

In answer, Kennedy Facchina mentioned the fact that council just previously ha dapportioned time to look into the qestion of moving the bowling greens in the Lakeside Park. Mr. Facchina expressed the opinion that this represented only one particular facility for recreation, whereas the by-law affected the entire program and all the facilities.

The motion was voted on and passed, however Reeve Harper made it clear to visitors from the commission that the by-law would have to be voted on again when it returned from the solicitor and could at that time be turned down.

CASTLEGAR FEARS NEW ROUTE

Asks Bridge Be Built At Present Ferry Site

CASTLEGAR — The construction of a bridge over the Columbia River between Castlegar and Robson was urged by Mayor Robert Maddocks of Castlegar Tuesday night in an effort to ward off economic ruin in the newly formed town.

Mr. Maddocks, in a report to council read by Ald. Lorne Zinio, expressed "serious alarm" at the possible future effect on the town of the new highway route from Brilliant Bluffs through Castlegar Airport to join Highway 3, effectively bypassing the Castlegar business section.

He urged that the Provincial government be pressured to divert funds from a proposed road across the High Arrow Dam for construction of a bridge over the Columbia at the present Castlegar - Robson ferry site.

Mr. Maddocks urged firm action by town council to prevent any breakdown in the community which, he said, was sure to result if the present highway routing plans are carried out, bypassing the town's commercial section.

He asked that council consider calling a special public meeting when the problem could be discussed. Mr. Maddocks felt the matter was extremely important, and should be of concern to every citizen of the town, and not confined to any specific group.

He asked, and received, council approval of a motion passed by the West Kootenay Regional District Board calling on the provincial government to permit taxation of B.C. Hydro lands and improvements on the same basis as taxation in member municipalities, or for grants in lieu of taxes.

Council also approved a second motion from the Regional District Board asking for endorsement of the taxation motion by member municipalities.

Faces Long Hospital Stay

A long stay in hospital is in store for Grant Mowatt, who received a broken hip when struck by a car Friday, on icy streets.

He is expected to be in traction for a month and then will be put into a body cast.

Castlegar . . . Local Resident Dies Aged 67

CASTLEGAR—Johann Sakeson a resident of Castlegar, passed away at Castlegar Hospital February 14 at the age of 67. Born in Poland, he arrived from his native land in Canada in 1926 and went directly to Nakusp and shortly thereafter managed the old landmark of Nakusp, the Leland Hotel. For many years he managed the hotel owned by Mr. and Mrs. Barrow and then moved to Castlegar in 1940 and managed the Castlegar Hotel, first for Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Shea and subsequently for Mr. Paul Stainer and in later years managed it as a co-owner. For a period of a couple of years he left Castlegar and went into business in Penticton but returned again to the Castlegar Hotel.

John, as he was well known to all, had a wide circle of friends in the Castlegar and Kinnaird area, Nakusp and Penticton. He will be long remembered for his kindness to all he knew.

He was a charter member of the Castlegar branch of the Knights of Pythias Lodge and was a life-time member of the Kootenay Hotels Association.

Mr. Sakeson was single and left no known relatives in Canada.

Kootenay Lake Fishing Poor

Fishing pressure and success dropped off during the month of January in Kootenay Lake according to a report compiled by the Fish and Game Branch at Nelson.

The report indicated that many days were recorded when no catches of fish were reported at all. A spokesman for the branch stated, "There was a noticeable drop from conditions reported in 1965."

Large catches of white fish and some Kokanee were reported in the West Arm during the month.

Canadian publishers sold about 18 per cent more books last year than in 1964.

AREA REPRESENTATIVES OKAY SCHOOL BUDGET

Provincial government education grants came under fire from a special meeting of Nelson School District 7 board trustees and attendance area representatives and Salmo Village commissioners, called to discuss the board's 1966 schools budget of $2,091,000.

The meeting expressed grave concern over failure of the provincial government to keep up with increasing operational costs when providing educational grants in the province.

Speaking on behalf of Salmo village commission, commission chairman W. Hearn declared, "The school board has done a good job but I am not too happy with the government position of not increasing grants."

Mr. Hearn said "The school board has done its usual good job, and where costs have gone up the items were beyond the control of either the trustees or the municipal councils."

The budget was officially approved by all of the attendance area representatives. Salmo Village Commission had insufficient attendance at the meeting to formally adopt the budget, and will vote on it at a village commission meeting before Sunday, deadline for acceptance of the budget.

Christmas Seal Sales Top $500

CRANBROOK — Returns from the Christmas Seals program by the Cranbrook Soroptimists on behalf of the Tuberculosis Society were up for 1965 by over $500, chairman Mrs. Ward Spencer reported to the February dinner meeting. The drive closed at $1,887. Updating the mailing list, and visit in the fall of Operation Doorstep for mass x-ray and tests is credited with the increase.

Annual service activity in social programs at the various senior citizens homes during the Christmas - Easter interval is now underway, with members assigned to groups each of which will arrange the program for one of the homes.

Also under preparation are the draw cards which will be posted in about 20 city stores toward pre-Easter ham prizes, which was a big success for fund raising when it was inaugurated last year. Spring rummage sale is pending.

Mrs. R. S. Inglis of the travel agency here was initiated as a new member.

The first prize went to Terry Lim with an 18¼-inch ling; second, Mrs. Clarence Romane, Windermere, with an 18¼-inch fish; Bill Pye of Golden was third with one 17 inches long. Jack Jones of Invermere won special prize for the longest coarse fish which was a 19½-inch sucker. Council Concerned By Election Costs

SALMO — Following the reading of the Regional District Kootenay Centre budget presented by W. A. Hearn, village representative, members were aghast at the annual election costs which will arise unless there is some amendment in the letters patent. Council members accepted the overall budget but raised objection to the evident election costs. As an example to elect a rural representative here six polls would have to be set up at a cost of $75 each. The annual budget is $29,000 and at the present system $7500 of this amount would have to be set aside for election expenses. Council considered this amount a fantastic and crippling figure.

Other business included a motion to grant $450 to the library for expenses incurred during the year.

It was agreed to enter a rink in the forthcoming Municipal Bonspiel to be held in Nelson Feb. 26. Commissioners Bud Taylor, Ole Jensen will be on hand for the event. Other players have not yet been named.

Chairman A. W. Hearn accompanied by commissioners Merle Hanson, Ole Jensen and Bud Taylor will meet with the Nelson School Board next Tuesday to discuss the annual budget for this area.

Mr. John Alberts was appointed as municipal solicitor.

Rotary Club Learns Of NES Operations

NAKUSP (Staff) — Employment was the subject of a talk heard by the Nakusp Rotary Club at their recent dinner meeting. J. McCulloch of the National Employment Service, Nelson, was introduced by T. Dodge, program chairman.

In his address, Mr. McCulloch stated that dam developments had brought changes in the Nelson office, also the changing Labour Acts. If a man with special qualifications was needed, he reported, there were 200 offices in Canada to supply him.

Employers were encouraged to use the office when men were needed. The service was available through taxation and should be used. Mr. McCulloch also acts as an employer's relations officer and an agency for statistical information for Ottawa.

Number of people employed, production figures on industry and other figures on employment were compiled by his office. He stated that in industries employing ten or more people, the service claimed 30 per cent penetration.

Reporting that the government was doing quite a bit to improve employment he mentioned the new "Manpower Mobility" plan. Business is encouraged to move into depressed areas under this program. In some cases, people were assisted in moving to where the work was.

He predicted that in this area, by April there would be a very great shortage of men and accommodation for the next two years.

During the meeting it was announced that a team from Rotary will curl shortly, and the committee on Senior Citizens Homes has started to compile a list of Nakusp people who were interested in low-cost housing.

S. Taylor of the Langley Rotary Club reported on his organization's history and development. He stated that it was started in 1959 and had 25 members.

Visitors at the meeting included, Mr. Taylor, K. Hooper of Langley, Claude Bissell, School Superintendent from Castlegar and Mr. McCulloch.

Credit Charge Nets $150 Fine

SALMO — Michael Parkyn of Creston appeared before Magistrate O. P. Larson and was fined $150 or two months for obtaining credit by false pretences. The incident occurred at a local garage.

Fruitvale Magistrate David Lunn, adjourned until March 10 the case of Michael Popow of Nelson, on a charge of being in possession of stolen property.

In a collision Friday at 6:30 p.m., no injuries were sustained when Wayne L. Harder and Joseph Chubra, both of Trail, met head-on near the Ymir bridge. Fresh snow and icy conditions contributed to the accident. An estimated $500 damage to both vehicles resulted. The poor approach to the Ymir bridge is the scene of up to 30 accidents each winter, said RCMP.

The same evening about 11:30 a car driven by John F. Tonkin of Remac collided with the tailgate of a department of highways truck as it turned into a gravel pit. Tonkin had attempted to pass while unsafe. Damage was not estimated.

He told the lower house medical aid is based on a humanitarian point of view. The foreign ministry said North Vietnam so far had made no such request.

Grand Forks . . .

Pick Arena Beautification As Centennial Project

GRAND FORKS (Staff) — A majority vote of the city council aldermen recently selected the Grand Forks Centennial project after failing to have agreed on one at two earlier meetings.

The council voted in favor of the beautification of the Arena area, rejecting two other suggestions; the reconstruction of a Doukhobor Village and the fountain project to be erected in Gyro Park.

The adopted project will entail complete landscaping of the land surrounding the arena. It will include concrete walks, from the entrances and exits, special underground wiring for lighting the grounds, the planting of lawns, shrubs, and ornamental trees. There are also plans for an illuminated sign carrying the name of the arena and a pedestal with a plaque signifying the entire development as the centennial project.

The city council first received the three projects at a meeting at which speakers for the project submitted plans and costs and spoke in favor of the particular project they were sponsoring. The council adjourned the meeting and the next evening asked the sponsors for more complete details as to the plans and costs of the ideas.

The information was gathered for the Thursday meeting and the council discussed the project at great length and finally decided on the final project.

Council also went on record by passing a resolution to extend to the USCC the Council's co-operation in their desire to restore the Doukhobor village as a museum and a memorial to the pioneers of the faith who came to the valley early in the century. The council also included the development of the Gyro Park project in their resolution.

POLICE CRACKDOWN ON SKYWAY VIOLATORS

SALMO — A spokesman for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police detachment here issued warnings that more severe penalties will be imposed on motorists who continue to disobey road signs indicating the Salmo-Creston cutoff is closed.

Alexander Reid of Trail was fined a minimum of $10 for disobeying road signs and passing beyond the marker indicating the pass was closed to the public.

Cpl. Rae Boisvert stated that despite warnings, motorists persist in this practice and that it not only hinders the highway department crews from clearing the highway of obstructions, but perchance another snow or rock slide were to move down, the car and occupant could be caught in or between slides and no one could come to their aid or hunt in rubble as the men patrolling these areas would not be aware a vehicle was in the vicinity.

Regardless of day or night, several persons have moved sections of road-wide barriers to take a chance at going around a trouble spot. Some have made it and others have been asked to turn back. In the future, such persons involved will receive a maximum penalty, said Boisvert.

HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

I believe that using fabric softener when washing diapers is often to blame for diaper rash.

My own opinion is that the diapers don't absorb the ammonia as well after using the softeners.

Bobbie

Dear Bobbie:

I checked with the National Diaper Service Information Bureau on your belief that plain fabric softeners, properly used, are often to blame for diaper rashes.

They advise there is nothing in the medical literature, nor in the experience of their medical and bacteriological consultants to support such a belief. Only when diaper absorbency is reduced by "water-proofing" from excessive use of softeners might they cause trouble.

They also advise that to prevent ammonia, you should follow the box directions of the products you mention, using them after the washing stages.

Used properly, these antiseptics remain in the diaper to help control the bacteria which produce ammonia.

A fond hug to you for being so careful to avoid those painful diaper rashes.

Dear Heloise:

When making a birthday cake for a small fry, try this for a change:

Take a lollipop and put the stick through large, colored gum drops, making a totem pole to insert in the cake.

Use white frosting to make faces, or any marks you like on the gum drops.

You can also number the candy on the totem pole for the age of the birthday child.

I also use gum drops for candle holders, cutting a hole in the center to hold the candle, then dipping the gum drop in any color frosting.

I put several rubber bands around each bottle of my ammonia, bleach and other cleanser containers to prevent dropping them when my hands are wet.

Dear Heloise:

At the time my son was to be in a Sunday School program, the cast on his broken arm was rather dirty.

So I cut the foot off a girl's knee-length white stocking, and used the leg part to cover the entire cast.

Since I had a pair of these, they could be washed, and his cast always looked clean.

His playmates thought this was real cool!

Park's Use

There is a clear distinction between despoliation of natural beauties in Canada's mountain parks and making them available for public enjoyment.

Hon. Arthur Laing, federal minister of national resources and northern affairs, has displayed a notable inability to grasp this difference.

In a speech to the Alberta Fish and Game Association in Banff, Mr. Laing spoke of the government's desire to protect the country's natural resources from wasteful exploitation. No reasonable person can possibly disagree with such an aim. Conservation is an admirable concept. Natural resources are not inexhaustible.

But then Mr. Laing went on to say that some people would like to establish lumbering and mining industries in the mountain parks, whereas the government's aim is to preserve the points of interest.

We know of no agitation to throw the mountain parks open to lumbering, mining and other commercial developments of the kind. But there has been, and will continue to be, public protest against restrictive policies which can have the effect of keeping people out of the parks.

It is our view that the more people who can see and enjoy the natural beauties of the mountain parks, the better. What good are these scenic splendors otherwise? In order to make them available, a wide range of facilities has to be provided. This extends to and includes a variety of outdoor recreational pursuits. In the winter, it must include provisions for winter sports. Skiing is a prime mountain sports activity, for example.

These facilities, far from detracting from the parks' value in human as well as financial terms, can only augment it. The mountain wonderland is owned by all the people, not just a privileged few. Thus, it must be open to their use, and it's time Mr. Laing came to understand this simple proposition.

Second Look At Mr. Spencer

There is now no question that Victor Spencer deserves to have a judicial inquiry into his case. Justice Minister Cardin's treatment of the whole issue has been so shaky and ambiguous that the country welcomes Mr. Pearson's assurance that an inquiry will be considered. Both Mr. Spencer's rights and the confidence of Canadians requires that such a study be made.

It has been puzzling that the government should allow the case of the alleged post office spy to blossom into such an issue for the Opposition. There may indeed be good reasons why the justice department would not be wise to prosecute Mr. Spencer under the Official Secrets Act. The RCMP is understandably reluctant to reveal its counter-espionage techniques. In this case, it is anxious to protect the sources which provided the information about Russian embassy activities.

But the government, which is now so secretive, was quite free with allegations when the two Russian diplomats were expelled from this country last year. One of the spy suspects, we were told then, received "thousands of dollars" from the Russians.

Mr. Cardin, in a most curious performance, not only later identified Mr. Spencer as the man in question but announced on television that he would be kept under surveillance the rest of his life in Canada. Even though, as Mr. Cardin put it, he poses no threat to Canadian security.

The obvious question that bothers many Canadians is why this man — dismissed without appeal from his job and the subject of police scrutiny for as long as he lives — cannot be given a chance to defend himself in court. Mr. Spencer has his rights too.

With such gamey material for controversy left before him, Mr. Diefenbaker is squeezing the case for all it is worth politically. (He has, of course, a most convenient memory. Two other espionage cases, in 1959 and 1960, were never made public; the decisions not to do so were made by the government which Mr. Diefenbaker then headed.)

The issue here is not that our security system may be undermined by a second look at the Spencer case. It is that Canadians need to have confirmed their confidence in the government's treatment of espionage cases.

A judicial inquiry offers the proper method of determining if security would be harmed by giving Mr. Spencer his day in court.

Shopping Centres of Yore

Archaeology is a wonderful science. It uncovers the past to the eyes of the present. It pieces together bits and pieces buried to tell a story that lives to show moderns what life was like away back when. At times it is fascinating to listen to archaeologists as they point out to us that there is nothing new under the sun. We moderns are taken up with getting away from the old corner store into new shopping centres.

It is interesting therefore to learn that an archaeological expedition working on the site of the ancient city of Sardis, capital of the once-powerful empire of Lydia, has discovered the remains of a shopping centre from the seventh century B.C.

The discovery, made by a team from Harvard and Cornell Universities, is considered to be important to the history of city planning.

The discovery shows that a half-acre of shops and industries within Sardis was enclosed by a huge wall, six feet high. Apparently it was to this centre that the populace came to buy and sell in some form of bazaar.

Other excavations in other parts of the city show evidences of urban planning, with multiple-room houses, including the split-level plan.

A huge synagogue built about 400 A.D., shows that it was built on to an earlier building, and expanded.

All the data being pieced together gives a picture of an affluent society, living about the same as we are. —Niagara Falls Review.

Turkey's Tough New Pose

By PETER BUCKLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The tough, new pose adopted by Turkey in its relations with Greece and Cyprus looks like another familiar swing of the pendulum in a situation that has fluctuated between crisis and calm for more than two years.

Turkish Foreign Minister Ihsan Sabri Caglayangil told the Turkish Senate Monday night a joint communique issued by Greeks and Greek-Cypriots in Athens last week had aggravated the situation and had the "appearance of leading Turkey to a war at a moment she does not wish."

The Athens communique, issued during a visit there by Cyprus President Makarios, renewed their view Enosis—union of Cyprus with Greece—could not be excluded from any potential solution of the Cyprus problem.

The Athens communique and the Ankara response differed little from past statements in both capitals.

SILENCE ENDED

But they reflected a renewed toughness on both sides after a brief period of discreet silence, the result of an agreement reached at a NATO meeting in Paris late last year that neither side would aggravate the situation.

It may not be merely chance that brings a renewal of the verbal war now.

Jose Rolz-Bennett, United Nations undersecretary for special political affairs, arrives in Nicosia this week to begin a series of meetings that will carry him also to Ankara, Athens and London.

The new statements from the antagonists have the effect of making clear, even before the 47-year-old Guatemalan diplomat starts his talks ,that neither side is ready to give way.

Turkey wants negotiations with Greece and Britain aimed at safeguarding the minority Turkish community in Cyprus. Greece has joined Makarios in insisting it is for the people of Cyprus—where the Greek-Cypriots outnumber Turks four to one—to decide their own future.

TWO TASKS

Rolz-Bennett has a two-fold mission: To examine the position of the United Nations' 5,000-man force in Cyprus, and to sound out the positions of the various parties to the dispute.

The UN Security Council will have to decide in six weeks whether to continue to keep the UN force on the island, at a time when UN finances are under continuing pressure.

The Turkish - Cypriots, who say they need the protection of UN troops, have already argued a withdrawal or reduction of UN forces would leave them at the mercy of the powerful Greek-Cypriot army.

Rolz-Bennett has been left with almost no room for manoeuvre. Any action he might recommend now that would change the situation in Cyprus in any way is bound to meet with protests—if not armed resistance—from at least one of the interested parties.

To that extent, the Cyprus issue has changed little since bloody warfare broke out between Greeks and Turks on the island in December, 1963.

A year and a half of relative peace has not lessened the inherent dangers that the Cyprus discord presents, not only for the Cypriots but also for NATO and Western unity.

Alberta's Education Forecast

By JANE BECKER

EDMONTON (CP) — Imagine your youngster coming home from school and boasting of his score in mathematical literacy.

Imagine, too, his teacher—more likely called an educationist — who comes and goes as a university professor does now, teaches with the help of teaching and technical assistants, and scores tests by machine.

Neither of them has much homework, although the school day is long. Johnny will write exams only when they are considered an accurate measure of how well he has absorbed the aims of his course.

And the growth of knowledge will be so explosive that his teacher will attempt to teach him only the basic concepts in any subject, rather than drilling in detailed facts.

A far - out view of the distant future?

Not at all, says the Alberta Teachers' Association, but part of a realistic forecast of how education in Alberta will look in 10 years.

The ATA asked for these, and other predictions about education as part of a long-range study of educational planning, believed the first of its type ever made in Canada.

BEHIND THE TIMES

The association, which all Alberta's 16,000 public and separate school teachers must join, decided on the course partly because its executive thinks it is high time teachers broadened their educational outlook.

Dr. S. C. T. Clarke, ATA executive secretary, says Alberta teachers now have won most of their battles for higher salaries, job security and fringe benefits. A degree - holding Alberta teacher now averages $5,100 in his first teaching year.

"It's itme to think about other things," says Dr. Clarke.

Another reason for the decision was that ATA executives admit the association's philosophy on policy and education have been lagging far behind educational realities.

"Much of our policy was developed in the 1920s and '30s," says Dr. Clarke. "Since then, education has changed faster than we have."

For example, the ATA has no set policy on educational TV, team teaching, teaching machines or even the optimum size of school administrative units. All these subjects are already much discussed in other educational circles.

PLAY BIGGE RROLE

By writing out detailed predictions of educational curriculum, school financing, teacher qualifications, school organization and administration and educational research and development, the ATA hopes to chart a definite course for the future in which teachers may play, an ever -expanding role.

To make the forecasts as informed and non - partisan as possible, the ATA chose five educationists from across Canada to do the job. In addition to Dr. Clarke, they were Dr. E. J. Hanson, associate dean of graduate studies at the University of Alberta, who forecast education financing; Dr. James Paton, of the Ontario College of Education, who prepared the curriculum forecast, C. D. Owens, secretary of the B.C. Teachers' Federation, teacher education and certification, and Irvin Micklos of the University of Alberta education faculty, who looked ahead in school organization and administration.

Dr. Clarke himself wrote the research and development forecast urging the need for an institute whose prime purpose is to study current trends in society and forecast corresponding needs in education, and advise the provincial minister of education on proposed decisions in the field.

NEED TO APPL YRESEARHC

"One of the unfortunate characteristics of the development of our educational system has been the lack of application between educational research and practice," said a recent issue of the ATA magazine.

To try to bring the two closer, the ATA's long - range survey will include detailed discussion of the predictions by the 71 ATA locals through the province.

One forecast is that by 1975 Alberta school divisions will be three or four times their present size, consisting of about 12,000 pupils and 1,000 teachers. Should teachers back legislation to provide for such units, as well as new ways of financing them?

In line with the view that future teachers will be more highly qualified than now—and clamoring to enter an overcrowded profession — the ATA predicts a mandatory four-month internship for all prospective teachers.

PARE DOWN SUBJECTS

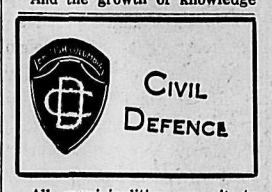
Do teachers approve of such a plan? And what do they think about the curriculum?

Experts say it will be reduced to a few core subjects, probably with such titles as communication, vocational competence, scientific and mathematical literacy, instead of the three Rs. It will be leavened with generour portions of courses like drama, games and anthropology, to help students cope with a more leisurely age.

One forecast says teachers in future may be released for several months of the school year to help write the curriculum.

When the locals have thrashed out all these, and other ideas, Dr. Clarke says the ATA will probably convene "a sort of parliament of education" among the entire membership to discuss the future.

He says he'd like to see the day when teachers not only attend trustee meetings but speak out freely on school finance and other educational matters, far beyond their own salaries and working conditions.



All municipalities owe it to themselves to be prepared for disaster. Possibly even in the process of preparing, disasters can be averted.

CHARGE VETERAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Walter W. Vail, a fire department captain with 30 years of service, has been charged with bribery and attempted extortion. He was arrested Monday after allegedly accepting $350 from a police detective he thought was a relative of a hotel owner. Arnold G. Fraiman, city investigations commissioner, said the payoff was arranged for Monday at a restaurant and the detective posing as the relative was sent to meet Vail.

HUBERT

Cyprus Solution

By RICHARD ANCO

NICOSIA (CP) — Archbishop Makarios, in gentle tones and measured words, sets out a case for a Cyprus solution—independence and self-determination.

Chances of a peaceful settlement are not impossible, he said from behind his desk in the impressive presidential palace. But first, Greece and Turkey would have to take a determined stand not to meddle in the internal affairs of the island.

To the bearded president of the five-year-old republic, two developments seem necessary: A public declaration by Turkey that she will not invade the island, and a clearer pronouncement by Greece and Greek-Cypriots that "enosis"—union of Cyprus with Greece—is not their sole, unalterable goal.

There are indications Makarios is pushing enosis into the background. If pressed on the point he admits to no such policy, insisting instead that if self-determination is to mean anything then it must permit Cypriots to decide their own relations with a foreign state.

This is a subtle change of emphasis, although he still rejects any settlement which bars enosis outright. A joint Cypriot-Greek communique issued in Athens this month states that "the two governments oppose any solution which excludes enosis. . . ."

'PEOPLE MUST DECIDE'

"Enosis is a question to be decided by the Cypriot people and Greece," the president explains.

Then, raising the brows of his calm, alert eyes to emphasize the point, he adds: "Greece must consider Turkey's opposition to it (enosis) for the peace of the Mediterranean. . . . Greece could reject enosis."

"And who knows," another high-ranking government official said, "the majority of the people of Cyprus may not want enosis."

"We have a relatively good standard of living and full employment; in some ways a better economy than Greece. Enosis may not be to our benefit. It could create an influx of Greek immigrants; it could affect our trade position as a Commonwealth country with Britain."

Such statements come amid reports from neutral observers that the influence of Gen. George Grivas, militant supreme commander of Cyprus military forces and former anti-British underground EOKA leader, may be waning. Grivas has long been associated with the pro-enosis faction.

The more fanatic elements of both Greek- and Turkish-Cypriot leadership appear to be withering under a growing weariness of the frustration, implacability and heretofore rigid attitudes of both sides.

BLAME' TURKEY

As he invariably does in interviews, Makarios is quick to blame Turkey for continuation of the inter-communal strife which exploded over the island more than two years ago in shooting and family massacres.

"If the interferences of the Turkish government and their frequent statements that a solution of the Cyprus question will be imposed by force cease, then I am sure that the Turkish-Cypriots will be ready to sit around the table with the Greek-Cypriots to discuss the situation and find a solution to the problem.

"But they are unwilling to do so because the directions from Ankara are to the contrary. The Turkish government insists on bilateral talks, in this way presenting the Cyprus question as a difference between Greece and Turkey."

The president bluntly turns down any suggestion that Greece or Turkey have any rights in determining the internal political structure or policies of Cyprus.

"We recognize nobody has such a right. This right belongs exclusively to the Cypriot people."

The fact that both Greece and Turkey are members of NATO has kept Cyprus an international hotspot involving other NATO members. At least 32 Soviet tanks and other arms have been brought to the island by Makarios to meet any invasion by Turkey.

WARNS TURKS

But a surprise disclosure in January may have taken a lot of wind out of the invasion threats. The United States released the text of a letter from President Johnson to the Turkish government in 1964 hinting that, in any Greek-Turkish war over Cyprus, Turkey's NATO allies might not rally to her side if there was possible "direct involvement by the Soviet Union."

In his reply, Ismet Inonu, then Turkey's premier, accused the president of being ill-informed about the issues but conceded that "we have, upon your request, postponed our decision" on an invasion of Cyprus.

Still, Turkish - Cypriots view Makarios's demand for "unfettered" independence and self-determination as a two-phase move toward enosis.

Independence, without a guarantee against union with Greece, they say, would provide the climate for a general referendum on enosis under the guise of self - determination. The Greek-Cypriot majority, 80 per cent of the island's population of 600,000, would easily dominate the 18-per-cent Turkish minority.

MUST HAVE AGREEMENT

"Enosis cannot be brought about against the will of the Turkish-Cypriot community and of Turkey," says Cyprus Vice-President Fazil Kuchuk, Turkish-Cypriot leader who holds his post by terms of the constitution which freed Cyprus from British rule in 1960 and which Makarios now says is unworkable.

"The Turks are convinced that the Greeks will not abandon enosis unless Greek leaders both in Nicosia and Athens have the courage to come out with a definite stand against it to discredit enosis extremists."

What Kuchuk and Turkey have demanded is "a disengagement of the two national communities," a separation of the island into Greek and Turkish sectors under a federal system of government.

Makarios steadfastly rejects this. For centuries, he says, the two communities have intermingled and lived side by side. Separation would simple create "a new frontier between Greece and Turkey."

Time seems to be on the side of Makarios. The more months that pass without a Turkish invasion "to impose a solution" the more likely will Turkish-Cypriots be willing to negotiate a settlement.

And if he wants to rule over a peaceful and united island Makarios will have to make clear that independence and self-determination for Cyprus mean that the question of enosis will be postponed for several years, perhaps forever.

Over $700 Raised at Thrift Sale

CRANBROOK — What started with the Ladies' Aid to St. Eugene Hospital as a small rummage sale mushroomed into a thrift sale through donations of new merchandise by Cranbrook stores, and will make possible early addition of a fibrilator to hospital equipment. The equipment is used in treatment and diagnosis of heart disabilities and in resuscitation, and costs $3624.

Donated items ranged through quality photography equipment furniture and clothing to the standard rummage sale items and made an overpowering display in St. Mary's Hall for the afternoon sale which returned over $700 for items sold and left a stock for which the auxiliary has some future fund-raising plans.

The fibrilator qualifies for one-third payment by government grant and the LA will raise money this year to cover the rest in special events.

Committee in charge were Mrs. Tony Frost, Mrs. L. A. Holm, Mrs. James Gillespie and Mrs. J. M. Mugan.

Cranbrook . . . Sleigh Rides On Birthday

CRANBROOK — Ed Shannon, three years resident of the Dr. Green Memorial Home in Cranbrook, marked his 95th birthday Feb. 10 with a visit to his son Charles in Marysville, where he went for a little ride on his grandson's snow vehicle. This about rounded out his Kootenay 72 years' transportation experiences.

Born in Illinois and raised in Kansas, he came to Grand Forks in 1894. In 1904 and 1905 he drove cattle over the Dewdney Trail then got down to business of mining at Phoenix, Grand Forks and Kimberley in 1926. He retired in 1942 to Creston and moved back to Kimberley 20 years later. Mrs. Shannon died in 1958. They had six sons and one daughter.

The birthday cake, made by Mrs. Charles Shannon, with 95 candles, almost brought on a chinook for launching the Kimberley Snow Fiesta.

Protect Complexion, Women Told

HALIFAX (CP) — Thelma Holland, a beauty adviser with a British cosmetic firm, says North American women spend too much time covering up their faces and not enough time protecting their complexion.

Mrs. Holland said in an interview a proper skin care program should use a skin cream for nourishment, moisturizing lotion, a tinted foundation lotion and makeup colorings.

"In America, there seems to be so much emphasis on makeup, with women covering up instead of correcting and protecting," she says.

Although she says she's a great believer in soap and water, she says women sometimes "seem to have a sense of mock modesty — and treat their skin like the kitchen floor."

During her 30 - year career, Mrs. Holland has advised thousands of women on five continents.

"And it doesn't matter what color the skin is, the problems are no different."

Valentine Theme at Senior Citizens' Meet

Four birthdays were honored with E. A. Calbeck cutting the birthday cake and Mrs. N. Saunby, playing "Happy Birthday To You."

Supper arrangements were handled by Mrs. M. Wilson and Mrs. L. Kirby assisted by some of the members.

Fire Chief Addresses WI on Fire Control

After the general business of the meeting was terminated members of the Granite Road Women's Institute heard an interesting and informative talk given by guest speaker of the evening Fire Chief E. S. Owens.

Mr. Owens' talk covered chief causes of fire in the home, safety measures for preventing fire in the home, emergency action to take in the event of fire breaking out in the home, what to do if a bush fire might endanger a home, and how to revive victims overcome by smoke, particularly the mouth-to-mouth method of restoring respiration.

Mr. Owens began and concluded his talk by stressing the two salient points regarding fire safety: First, know your fire emergency number (2123 for Nelson); Second, have a fire extinguisher in working order and readiness, preferably on the right-hand-side of exit doorway. Two other fire hazards are faulty electric wiring, and having too many electrical appliances in use at any one time thus risking an overload by going over the maximum wattage, Chief Owens concluded.

Hostesses were Mrs. F. Olson, Mrs. B. A. Pickering, and Miss A. Johnson. Door prize was won by Mrs. B. A. Pickering.

During the business meeting correspondence was read including a letter of acknowledgement and thanks for the W.I.'s donation to the Queen Alexandra Solarium. Used postage stamps were also handed in for dispatch to the solarium and there was a collection of pennies for friendship.

Your Individual Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars,

Thursday, February 17, 1966

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — It may take longer to get things rolling than anticipated, but keep at it; soon the ball will be carrying itself. Be prepared to transact some profitable business.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Follow up inspired plans with creative accomplishment. A day in which you could take up a new undertaking if the odds seem to be on your side.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — Unless you have other commitments which will take up too much of your time, this would be a good day (as with Taurus) to start a brand new project — even venturing into another field. Don't overtax yourself, however.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — Be careful not to accept propositions which are intriguing at first glance but which, upon further consideration, prove to have very shaky foundations. A day in which careful evaluation of all situations will pay off.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — Be careful not to misinterpret others' meanings or express yourself so that you could be misunderstood. Above all, do not lose control of your temper or permit undue haste to cause needless errors.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Better-than-average planetary influences, but, in general, you will fare better at routine activities than in starting new enterprises. Be careful in financial affairs.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Review finances, domestic situations. Aim for special achievements rather than accomplishment by volume. Keep an especially sharp eye on investments.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — You can accomplish more by teamwork now than by "going it alone." Some fine opportunities indicated even though results may not be immediate.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — A period for reviewing your activities of the past few days. You may have to change some procedures, systems, tie up some loose ends. If all is going well, however, you are on the right track, so keep going.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — An indifferent or lackadaisical attitude could spoil what otherwise should be a good day, so be on guard. Good opportunities in the offing, but you must search for them! don't wait for them to come to you.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Planetary influences fairly favorable, but you may need further information on activities in which you and the people around you are engaged. This will lead to helpful cooperation, aid you in hurling obstacles.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Some excellent opportunities indicated but with them, a few more responsibilities. Accept them with good grace and you will reap fine dividends later.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with great determination, courage and the ability to advance your position in life either with or without the cooperation of others. You have a real appreciation of the artistic and are imbued with friendliness to one and all. Poised and well-balanced, you make excellent statesmen, diplomats, and outstanding members of many profressions — especially in literary and other creative fields.

COLOR IT DOOMED

TORONTO (CP) — Production of the Canadian TV series Seaway will end in May because of failure to sell it to a United States network, producer Maxine Samuels said Monday. The series, in production since last September, has been shown on the CBC network. Miss Samuels said the blow that doomed the $3,000,000 venture was a demand by U.S. and British networks that it be shot in 35-millimetre color film, facilities Toronto doesn't have.

VILLAGE CHIEF SLAIN

DA NANG (AP)—The village chief of Le My, one of the first South Vietnamese settlements to be pacified by U.S. Marines last summer, was assassinated Tuesday. Informed sources said two Viet Cong guerrillas armed with sub-machine-guns fired on the chief, named Thong, while he was attending a Buddhist festival. Three bystanders also were killed and another wounded.

Warriors Set Back Leafs 6-2; Dynamiters Trounce Royals 16-1

ROSSLAND — Nelson Maple Leafs last weekend hit a slump when they met Rossland Warriors in three consecutive games and failed to win one. Leafs then won three in a row, beating Spokane Jets, Trail Smoke Eaters and the Kimberley Dynamiters.

But Tuesday night they again faced the Warriors and were promptly handed another loss, this time by a 6-2 score.

The Leafs, attempting to tie up the Warriors' top unit, succeeded in keeping Billy Martin from scoring; but Ed Legare more than made up for Martin as he fired four goals, giving him a season total of 38, just two behind teammate Martin who currently leads the league in that department.

Hal Jones and Gerry Godfrey added singles for Rossland.

Murray Owens, with his 36th of the season, and Danny Calles, replied for Nelson.

Seth Martin, playing his usual brilliant game, turned aside 35 Nelson drives to give his team their third win in four games with the Leafs; having tied the other contest.

The win moved Warriors to within a point of Trail and fourth and final playoff berth in the WIHL — a spot the Warriors occupied early in the season but lost to the Smokies after an extended slump. Now they're fighting to regain the position. Having now gone six straight games without a loss, the Warriors may just get their wish.

Nelson netminder Jim Letcher was injured at the 10:10 mark of the final period when he stopped a shot off the stick of Godfrey, on the ankle. The Leaf goalie was taken to hospital for x-rays but exact extent of the injury is not known.

Team manager and sub-goaltender Gus Adams kicked out five shots in the remaining time while limiting the Warriors to one goal.

Twenty-four penalties were called in the rough game, 13 against Nelson, including a major to playing-coach Frank Arnett for fighting. Billy Martin went off with a major also with Arnett.

MURRAY OWENS

The Leafs, who have in previous outings, not paid special attention to the line of Martin, Godfrey and Legare, tried to tie them up in an effort to defeat the Warriors.

At one stage of the second all three were off with penalties, but the Leafs also had two men in the box and failed to take advantage of the odd man advantage.

Martin picked up three assists, giving him 48 for the season and 88 points in the league scoring. Walt Peacosh, the league's leading scorer, picked up four goals in the Dynamiters' rout of Cranbrook to remain ten points ahead of the Rossland winger.

Legare also picked up one assist to run his scoring total to 76 points and fourth place in the scoring race behind Peacosh, Martin and Ken McTeer of Kimberley.

Mike Laughton returned to the Leaf lineup after having missed two games due to a charley horse.

Arnett's 11 minutes in penalties pushed his total to 134 minutes and moved him into the lead in that department, ahead of Trail's Sid Gallamore and Spokane's Don McGowan.

CRANBROOK — Kimberley Dynamiters kept alive their first-place hopes Tuesday night by shellacking last place Cranbrook Royals 16-1.

The Royals have now lost their last three games by a total score of 37-3, having been beaten 10-1 and 11-1 by Spokane Jets over the weekend.

Chuck Passmore and Reo Touzin scored hat-tricks for the Dynamiters while Dick Vincent and John Manchester both added a pair. Singles were counted by Walt Peacosh, Marcel Mongrain, Ken McTeer, Frank Carlson, Ron Nash and Wayne King.

The lone Cranbrook marker was by Morris Pacula.

There was never any doubt as to the winner of the game as Kimberley scored with the game just 21 seconds old.

By the end of the stanza Kimberley had fired three more past Royal netminder Barry McKay. The Dynamiters increased the lead to 8-0 before Pacula ruined Bob Wardle shut out bid at 9:05 of the second period with a shot from the point with Kimberley's Nash sitting out a minor penalty.

McKay kicked out 52 shots in the Cranbrook net but was unsure of some of the shots.

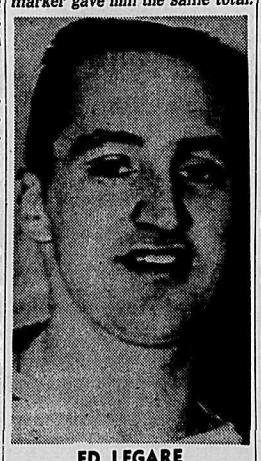
Carlson took a shot from centre ice zone and the Royals' netminder moved out of the net to deflect the puck behind the net and out of danger. But the puck hit his stick and bounced into the net.

Lynn Beaton, the target of yells from the fans, was handed a game-misconduct penalty in the second period when he jumped over the boards, into the corridor and swung his stick at one of the fans.

The fan was ejected from the arena and Beaton will now await a league ruling on a possible suspension.

Peacosh, the league's leading scorer picked three assists also running his total points to 97.

Vincent's pair of gols gave him 31 for the season, while McTeer's marker gave him the same total.



ED LEGARE

The win left the Royals mired in the cellar with 13 points while the Dynamiters moved to within two points of idle Spokane and to within five points of Nelson Maple Leafs, beaten 6-2 by the Rossland Warriors.

In the Royals' lineup were three newcomers, "Butch" Webb, and Les Mawson, both of whom have now signed with the Cranbrook team and junior Dennis Downy.

Booster Club president Dave Sober presented a cheque for $600 to the Royals Hockey Club and one for $60 to the Minor Hockey Association.

Juniors Belt Rossland, But Lose to Trail 7-4

TRAIL — Nelson Junior Maple Leafs suffered their first loss in four games Tuesday night when Trail Junior Smoke Eaters dumped them 7-4. The Leafs had previously beaten Rossland Juvenile Warriors three straight games.

Larry Brant led Trail with three goals while Al DeCecco contributed a pair. The other Smokie markers were counted by Willie Wilson and Ron Tebo.

Don Mathews fired a pair for Nelson while singles were tallied by Pat Laughton and Kent Preston.

Nelson was playing without the services of forward Reg Cherenko, defenceman Danny Hennig and netminder Dave Allen. The car carrying Cherenko, Hennig and the goaltender's equipment failed to make the trip.

The Leafs used Trail's spare netminder Brian Purdy in the nets and he was outstanding in kicking out 52 shots for the Nelson team.

Trail took a 1-0 lead but the Leafs tied it up 65 seconds later on Mathews first goal. The Leafs held a brief 2-1 second period lead but Trail bounced back with three straight goals before Nelson tallied again.

Tied 4-4 going into the final stanza, the Smoke Eaters fired three unanswered markers for the victory, the first two coming less than a minute and a half apart.

The loss of Cherenko seriously hampered the Leafs as he is the top forward on the team and Hennig was missed on the blueline.

SUMMARY:

Penalties — Limacher (7:24); Cooke (13:44).

P

ROSSLAND — Saturday night the Leafs took their third straight victory over Rossland Warriors by a 7-4 count.

Reg Cherenko led the attack with three goals while Greg Cook, Don Mathews, Jim Boyce and Pat Laughton added singles.

Jim Rossi fired a pair for the Warriors and Garry Heier and Eddie Rvelle added singles.

In contrast to the previous meeting between the two when 38 penalties were handed out, 15 minors were called Saturday night, eight to Nelson. Referees Don Fletcher and Ed Legare kept a close watch on the game to prevent a recurrence of happenings in previous meetings between the two.

For Cherenko it was a total of seven goals and eight assists in the two games.

Nelson took a 4-1 first-period lead when the Warriors' defence had trouble clearing the puck from in front of their net and the Leafs scored three goals by picking up loose pucks.

Harvey L'Ecluse in the Warrior net and Dave Allen in the Nelson net came up with some fine saves in the game.

Rossland closed the gap in the final period with two quick goals, but the Leafs tightened up and displayed excellent organized and positional hockey to take command of the contest.

Summary:

BOMBERS, BOMBERETTES WIN NORTHERN DIVISION

L. V. Rogers' Bombers basketball team completed their season sweep of the Northern Division of the Senior Boys High School Basketball League Friday night by narrowly edging Castlegar Rockets 49-45.

Leading 23-21 in the first half, the Bombers fell behind in the third quarter but roared back to overcome the five point deficit enroute to the win. Led by the 12 point performance of Alex Sidar, the entire L. V. Rogers team contributed to the win to overcome their taller Castlegar opponents.

Bob Jeffs and Paul Joyce added 10 points each. Don Johnston eight and Roland Porter six.

Castlegar marksmen were Dergousoff with 15 points, Koch with 12 and Vincent with 10.

Encouraged by the Bomber victory, the Bomberettes scored a decisive 47-19 win over Castlegar Rockettes to clinch the championship of the Northern Division of the West Kootenay League.

Never trailing in the game, the Nelson girls put up a fine defensive wall and limited the opposition to six points in the final half.

The victors were sparked by the 14 point performances of Diane Ingledew and Cherie Harrison, with a 10-point assistance by Norma Ronmark.

The Bomberettes now advance to the West Kootenay Championship to be held in Trail on February 26 with the winner advancing to the B.C. Championship in Vancouver.

Black Hawks, Bobby Hull Hold Statistical Lead

MONTREAL (CP) — Chicago Black Hawks and Bobby Hull, even though he's been out for five games, are holding on to the lead they've built up in the National Hockey League.

Chicago has 61 points in the official NHL standings released Tuesday. Montreal Canadiens and Detroit Red Wings are tied at 59. The difference is that Montreal has played 48 games while Chicago and Detroit have played 50.

Hull, out with a sprained knee, has 74 points on the basis of 45 games this season, putting him well ahead of his nearest rival in the scoring race, Norm Ullman of Detroit, who has 59 points in 50 games.

Hull also leads the league in goals with 45. He has 20 games remaining to score six goals to break the record of 50 goals in a season, a mark he now shares with former Montreal stars Maurice Richard and Bernie Geoffrion.

Stan Mikita of Chicago and Gordie Howe of Detroit are tied for third place with 58 points.

Toronto Maple Leafs stand apart in the tables, eight points from Montreal and Detroit, while Boston Bruins and New York Rangers are tied with 32.

HAVE TOP GOALIES

Montreal is at the top of the heap in the standings among the goalies. Gump Worsley, with 81, and Charlie Hodge, with 42, have given up 123 goals for a team goals-against average of 2.56.

GUMP WORSLEY

Roger Crozier, with 123, and Hank Bassen, with six, have 129 goals against them, giving Detroit an average of 2.58.

Worsley has played in 32 games for a personal average of 2.50. Crozier has been in 47 2-3, seven of them shutouts, for 2.56.

Johnny Bower of Toronto, who's better off on personal average, with 2.33, has played in only 24 games.

Amongst the scorers, Howe piled up eight points last week in four Detroit games, giving him a career total in regular season play of 1,419. In addition, he's leading in the number of assists, with 35 this season—one more than Mikita. One of the assists last week was Howe's 800th.

Boston defenceman Ted Green, out of action with an injury, still leads in penalties with 113 minutes. New York as a team has 653 minutes.

Leafs, Wings, Falcons Win Minor Hockey League Play

The Nelson Minor Hockey Association completed a successful season, competition wise in all divisions except the Midget-Rep, Juvenile league. The Peewee Leafs took first place by a narrow margin of three points over the Wings, while the Midget Falcons took their division by the same spread over Columbia College. In the Bantam league, the race was even closer with Peewee Reps coming out on top of Columbia College by the ever-narrow difference of one point.

B. Watson of the Hawks won the Peewee scoring title with 35 points on 29 goals and six assists. Columbia College forward J. McGhie collected 24 goals and nine assists for 33 points and the Bantam scoring lead. Midget high scorer was Ted Plowe of Columbia College with 24 goals and 11 assists for 35 points. B. Fitchner of Midget Reps edged out teammate D. Cherenko to take the scoring title in that division with 12 goals and 13 assists.

CPR Spiel To Segur

Don Segur and his rink of C. Symmonds, S. Lienweber and R. Crowe piled up 35 of a possible 40 points to edge the Vic Webber foursome in the CPR Employees' Bonspiel held on Sunday.

Webber's rink of A. Bouchard, R. Phillips and A. Richinchi carried home second prize awards as they collected 34 points.

With the first prize awards goes custody of the William Manson Trophy the Segur's rink for the coming year.

The K. LePage rink of W. D'Arcy, M. Perich and R. Esawaloff earned the consolation prize for their four-point total with all awards being presented by G. S. Weatherley at the conclusion of play.

Brennan Cops Senior Title

Mickey Brennan skipped his Trail rink to victory in the East-West Kootenay Senior Men's Curling Playdowns in Salmo on Sunday. With third Chess Edwards, second Al Woods and lead George Dyson, Brennan took the championship by beating out Louis Massoki of Fernie in the three-game final.

Brennan took the first game but Massoki evened the count in the second contest. It took a last rock shot by the Trail skip to decide the winner.

Brennan's foursome now travels to Nanaimo for B.C.C.A. Senior Title playdowns with three other region winners. The winner advances to the final against the Pacific Association winner for the B.C. Title and the right to represent the province in the Dominion playdowns to be held in March in Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Mason Foursome Takes B.C. Curling Championship

RICHMOND, B.C. (CP)—Lynn Mason of Burnaby won the British Columbia Curling Championship Monday night when he defeated Bob Cleland of Prince George in two games with identical scores of 8-5.

In winning the best-of-three championship in straight games the Mason rink wins the right to go to the Canadian finals at Halifax later this month.

Mason is the Pacific Coast Curling Association champion.

Cleland won the B.C. Curling Association championship, involving rinks from the Interior, at Kelowna during the weekend.

In the first game Mason was down 5-1 after five ends. But he scored singles in the sixth and seventh ends, two in the eighth, two more in the 10th and one in the 11th to win.

Mason's rink is made up of Les McCabe, Omer Eberg and Al Thun.

It was announced that the next year's provincial finals will be held in Prince George.

No Shortage Skilled Workers

VANCOUVER (CP)—A report prepared for a management-union council says some popular notions involving at least one segment of the British Columbia labor force are inaccurate. The report, dealing with the mechanical construction trades —which includes plumbers, pipefitters and steamfitters — says:

. There is no shortage of skilled workers

. There is substantial unemployment in the industry.

. The average skilled workman does not earn $10,000 or more a year in massive doses of overtime but rather earns about $5,000

. The average worker, including those certified as skilled, is unemployed one month out of every three.

The report, produced by a firm of consulting economists for the Mechanical Industrial Relations Council, was released by the concil Friday. The council represents most B.C. conconstruction companies and the plumbers and pipefitters union.

INFILTRATORS AT WORK

MANILA (Reuters)—The justice department Tuesday launched an investigation into charges that the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency has infiltrated Philippine government departments. Government officials prompted the investigation when they claimed a number of federal employees were secretly working for intelligence agencies of friendly governments.

British Columbia Hit By Big League Mining

By STEPHEN SCOTT

VANCOUVER (CP) — Behind the facade of a humming market in mining stocks, money is being poured into British Columbia's earth and dredged up again faster than ever before.

"Staggering!" says Mines Minister Donald Brothers.

"This is the big league," says Tom Elliott, manager of the B.C.-Yukon Chamber of Mines.

B.C. HAS MINING BOOM—Millions of dollars have poured into British Columbia in the last five years in one of the country's biggest, steadiest mining booms. In the last five years mining developments have spotted the map of the province. Developers are bringing in mines for gold, silver, lead, zinc, copper, iron, molybdenum, mercury, antimony and others. —CP Newsmap

"British Columbia mining has come of age," the B.C. Hydro and Power Authority said in a recent report.

Mining has been booming in the province for about five years. Millions have poured in from around the world — the United States, Japan, Eastern Canada, even as far off as Chile and Australia. Public investment in the industry is at a record level.

The mining industry now, Mr. Brothers said in an interview, is second only to forestry and related industries in B.C. Some 300 companies, 74 of them major ones, conducted exploration in the province last year.

PRODUCTION SOARS

Mining production for the year is estimated at $174,000,000 and, when all related mineral production such as oil and gas is included, the figure jumps to $270,000,000, up about $10,000,000 from 1964.

Only four years earlier—in 1961—the total combined output had been only $180,000,000. It reached an earlier high of $188,000,000 in 1956 but a price slump sent it down.

The hydro authority report says new mines have come into existence at an unprecedented rate and its economist, John C. Dawson, sets out these points:

—More than $30,000,000 has been spent on exploration in B.C. and the Yukon in the last two years, compared with $10,000,000 between 1951 and 1961.

—Ore concentrating capacity has doubled in the last five years and is expected to double again by 1970.

—Capital expenditure on new mines approaching $200,000,000 is committed for the next few years.

—B.C., which had no molybdenum production three years ago, is expected to produce 13 per cent of the world's supply by 1968.

—Five new copper mines have come into production since 1960 and eight more are expected in the next five years.

HAS STABILITY

"We have stability that did not exist in the past," the report says. "B.C. and the Yukon are no longer frontier areas far from centres of demand."

Exploration is becoming more diversified. It incudes gold, silver, lead, zinc, copper, iron, molybdenum, mercury, antimony and other industrial minerals.

Millions are being poured into mines to bring them into production. It will cost $85,000,000 to bring in Granduc, a copper mine north of Prince Rupert.

There are these companies in various stages of development:

Westfrob (Falconbridge subsidiary), an iron mine in the Queen Charlotte Islands, $25,000,000; Granisle (more than half Japanese interests), copper, northwest of Prince George, $12,000,000; Western Mines, copper, on Vancouver Island, $15,000,000; B.C. Molybdenum, north of Prince Rupert, and Endako Molybdenum, west of Prince George, $20,000,000 apiece.

This is only a sampling.

"Mining has a staggering effect on or economy," says Mines Minister Brothers. "It could very well exceed forestry as our No. 1 industry in time."

Court Agrees To Hear Credit Union Appeal

OTTAWA (CP)—The Supreme Court of Canada agreed Monday to hear an appeal by the Holy Rosary Credit Union of Thorold, Ont., against a decision by the Ontario Court of Appeal which the union said affects many other types of commercial lending institutions.

The question involved in the appeal is whether an order discharging a person from bankruptcy also discharges him from a debt under an assignment of wages made prior to his going into bankruptcy.

Danny Bye of St. Catharines, Ont., received a loan from the credit union May 30, 1961, and agreed to have 30 per cent of his salary deduced in order to pay off the debt.

Five months later he made an assignment in bankruptcy and included the credit union among his creditors.

The credit union filed an assignment of wages with Bye's employer in April, 1965, and on May 7 of the same year a court signed an order declaring Bye free from all debts incurred by him on or before Oct. 31, 1961.

RULING UPHELD

A weekly court judge ruled that the assignment of wages was not enforcible and the Ontario appeal court upheld his ruling.

Before the Supreme Court of Canada, the credit union said credit unions throughout Canada rely solely on assignments of wages as security for loans.

"It is of the utmost importance to determine whether such assignments are valid and enforceable after a debtor has been discharged pursuant to the order of discharge," the union said.

MARKET TRENDS

NEW YOR K(AP)—The stock market took its sharpest loss in two weeks Tuesday as early strength by rails and aerospace issues failed to inspire the overall list. Trading was active.

Volume was 8,760,000 shares compared with 8,360,000 Monday.

The Dow Jones industrial average declined 6.12 to 981.57.

Some wall streeters said the stock market community is getting worried over a possible increase in margin requirements from the present 70 per cent. This would be a further government step against inflation, a raising of the "down payment" required to purchase stocks.

Another factor was the drop in new car sales for the big three auto companies in mid-February from a year ago despite record deliveries by Ford and Chrysler. This was because General Motors sales compared the latest period with one of heavy post-strike demand a year ago.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 1.3 to 366.8.

Of 1,416 issues traded, 741 fell and 451 rose. Highs for 1965-66 totalled 106, lows 47.

Standard and Poor's 500-stock index lost .48 at 93.17.

Control data was the most active stock, down 1 at 31½ on 169,500 shares.

Boeing, down 2⅛ at 161½, was buffeted by reports from Washington concerning the possible grounding of the Boeing 727 plane which has had four fatal accidents in the last seven months. Boeing was sixth most active, sinking from a high of 167⅝ to a low of 160.

Another aerospace stock, Grumman, rose 2¼ to 59¾ as third most active stock on a report from Washington it had been awarded a $1,100,000,000 contract to complete its work on the Apollo lunar - landing program.

Among Canadian issues, Granby Mining gained 1, Canadian Pacific ½, Hudson Bay Mining ⅜, International Nickel ¼, Distillers Seagrams ⅛. Aluminium Ltd. and McIntyre Porcupine lost ½, Dome mines ¼.

Prices declined on the American exchange. Volume was 4,060,000 shares compared with 4,080,000 Monday.

Among Canadian issues, Fargo Oil gained ⅛. Scurry Rainbow Oil closed down ½, Brazilian Traction ¼, Canadian Javelin ⅛, Molybdenite 1-16.

Will Require Fewer Farmhands

MONTREAL (CP) — Market requirements by 1980 could be met by less than half the number of farm workers now in Eastern Canada, Forestry Minister Sauve said Monday.

He told the annual dinner of the Agricultural Institute of Canada that market and productivity assessments indicate that 14 years from now the job could be done by fewer than 140,000 farm workers if the food was economically produced. There now are 300,000 farm workers in Eastern Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes.

Mr. Sauve, also federal minister responsible for rural development, said the eastern farming region is at a competitive disadvantage to other parts of the country.

The reasons included manpowers surpluses, high land prices, low level of schooling.

It was necessary to develop agricultural policies on a regional basis to raise the standard of living among farm workers.

COLLECTOR CHARGED

VANCOUVER (CP) — Parking meter coin collector Verne Shiminousky, 41, has been charged with theft of money from the meters.

Vancouver Grain Handling Better

OTTAWA (CP) — There has been "considerable improvement" in the grain-handling situation at Vancouver, Finance Minister Sharp said Monday.

Mr. Sharp, who reports to Parliament for the Canadian wheat board, told the Commons daily grain movement to the port now is "right on target."

Answering H. A. Olson (SC—Medicine Hat), he said he had received no report from the chairman of the special co-ordinating committee established to assist movement of grain to Vancouver.

Mr. Olson asked both about a report and what was the "bottleneck" that reduced grain shipments to Vancouver.

After Mr. Sharp's reply, Mr. Olson said if there was an improvement in the situation, something must have been corrected. What was holding up the movement?

The Speaker rled Mr. Olson out of order.

Alvin Hamilton (PC—Qu'appelle) asked whether Mr. Sharp could now say precisely when the wheat board will close out its accounts on the 1964-65 crop year that ended last Aug. 1. Farmers are paid for grain sold when the accounts are closed.

Mr. Sharp said his latest information was the same as he had made known earlier. The board accounts would be closed "in the latter part of this month."
