

TAKE ROBBER SUSPECT; BANDITS STEAL GRUB

Italian Minus Coat Held at Abbotsford for Bank Robbery.

Refuses to give Name or Reply to Questions of Police.

Large Quantity of Meat and Supplies Stolen from Camp.

Minus his coat and maintaining a sphinx like silence, an Italian is in charge of the provincial police at Abbotsford and it is believed he is one of the robbers that held up the Abbotsford branch of the Royal Bank of Canada last Tuesday. It is further believed that he is the one whose coat was found in the pockets of which was a revolver and $150 of the stolen money. The question is, will the coat fit the man arrested for taking part in the hold-up?

Pew details could be obtained last night about the arrest, but it is stated that he has been identified as one of the bandits. This could not be confirmed, but the police will today further investigate the man's record and bring him before the officials of the bank who were present at the time of the robbery. The man refuses to give his name or to answer any of the questions asked him by the authorities.

Secure Supplies.

It is now learned that on Friday the logging camp of the Abbotsford Timber and Trading company, situated about three miles from Abbotsford, was robbed of about 50 pounds of meat and a quantity of other supplies, while a villainous looking knife was found in the kitchen of the camp, evidently dropped as the men left in a hurry. Whether this theft was committed by the same men that held up the bank, of course is not known, as no trace of these robbers has been found, but the general impression is that the bank bandits are still in the neighborhood and that now they have a good quantity of supplies they will be enabled to remain in hiding for some considerable time.

Noted Russian Imprisoned.

St. Petersburg, March 14.—Professor Ivan Alexandrovich Beaudoin de Courtenay, member of the faculty of St. Petersburg university, and who often has represented Russia in foreign congresses, was sentenced today to two years imprisonment in a fortress for having published a pamphlet advocating federalism.

Deadlock Over Home Rule Is No Nearer Settlement

Government's Concessions to Ulster- ites Fail to Bring About the Desired Result.

London, March 15.—A settlement of the Irish home rule difficulty apparently has been little advanced by the British government's great concessions to the Ulsterites and taking the assertions of both political parties at their face value, the deadlock today remains as immovable as before Premier Asquith's conciliatory offer was made in the house of commons on March 9.

The signers of the Ulster covenant declare strongly that nothing less than the permanent exclusion of the Protestant counties of Ulster from the Irish government at Dublin instead of the proposed six year option will be considered by them.

The more radical covenanters demand not only the exclusion of the four counties—Antrim, Armagh, Londonderry and Down—in which the Protestants are in the majority, but they want the entire province of Ulster excluded.

Ulsterites Prepare!

Sir Edward Carson, leader of the Ulster Unionists, today sent a message to Belfast saying:

"So far as our preparations are concerned, the pronouncement of the government, if anything necessitates a still more forward movement this year. We are going to make good in action all we have been saying and preparing for during the past two years."

Limit of Concessions.

On the other side the government newspapers assert that Premier Asquith's scheme is the absolute limit of concessions and is not a basis for further negotiations.

Right Hon. Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, speaking at Bradford today, said: "I seem to me that in principle—I don't

ON PEWS PAINT PROCLAMATIONS

Suffragettes Decorate the Interior of Cathedral in Birmingham with "Votes for Women."

Birmingham, Eng., March 15.—Workmen in the cathedral today found the walls and floors of the edifice covered with suffragette proclamations painted in white letters a foot high, reading: "Votes for women. The clergy must rise in our behalf and stop the torturing of women in prison."

Every foot of space except the altar had a sign painted on it, including the pews.

The work is believed to have been that of women who concealed themselves in the cathedral last night. It is thought it was done for the benefit of the judges of the assizes, who attended the services today. The assizes open here tomorrow.

Others Chanted Prayers.
London, March 15.—Suffragettes today chanted prayers in Westminster Abbey, Yorkminster and the Brighton parish church for their imprisoned colleagues.

Sylvia Pankhurst has written to the Dean of Westminster acquainting him with the intention of the East London suffragettes to march to the abbey next Sunday and participate in the evening service and pray for the success of their cause. She said she would be present personally and that she desired the dean to adapt the service to a special occasion for the suffragettes.

VILLA TO ATTACK TORREON SOME TIME THIS WEEK

Juarez, Mexico, March 15.—Official Juarez tonight was waiting in a state of suppressed excitement for important news from the south, for it is now regarded as certain that General Villa's attack on Torreon is but a few days off.

General Felipe Angeles, who will have charge of the artillery in this battle, left this afternoon for Chihuahua. Conflicting press despatches were received last night with regard to the Torreon situation, but a report that the federals, advancing north from their stronghold, had precipitated a battle, received no confirmation at rebel offices here. An Associated Press despatch from Chihuahua received early this morning said that the report of a battle was based on the story of a fugitive American who had it by hearsay. The despatch added that General Villa did not believe it.

There have been a number of out point skirmishes.

BLOCK IN FRASER ORDERED REMOVED

Obstruction Above Yale Interferes with Ascent of Salmon.

Recent Slide as Result of C. N. R. Construction Work More Serious Than First.

Ottawa, March 15.—During an inspection of the Fraser river spawning beds last September it was ascertained that in consequence of construction work on the C.N.R., along the side of Hell's Gate Canyon, some distance above Yale, slides of rock and gravel had gone into the river at two different places forming obstructions which seriously interfered with the ascent of salmon to the spawning beds in the upper reaches of the river.

At that time large numbers of salmon were below the obstructions seeking to make their way beyond them. Immediately work was undertaken by the department of marine and fisheries in the way of making a channel through the obstructions to enable the salmon to ascend. By means of such channels a large number of salmon that would otherwise have perished were enabled to get beyond the blockade and to their spawning grounds.

Another Blockade.
Quite recently another slide has taken place which started about 300 feet up the mountain side above the rails and in its descent, carried away ten feet of the tunnel portal and 100 feet of the railway bed. The large quantity of rocks and dirt has apparently gone right across the river forming a fall of about 15 feet. It will be quite impossible for sockeye to negotiate such a fall so that if the obstructions are not removed no sockeye will reach the spawning grounds, which will result in the wiping out of the run for 1918 and each succeeding four years thereafter.

To Move Obstruction.
In view of the great value of the salmon fisheries of the Fraser river extraordinary measures to remove the obstructions are justified although the work can only be done during the next few weeks owing to the annual freshets.

Hon. J. D. Hazen, minister of marine and fisheries, has taken a hand in the matter and has included a sum thought to be sufficient for the project, in the supplementary estimates. Chief Inspector F. H. Cunningham has been instructed to engage the services of a competent construction company and to have work started forthwith.

MAKE ISSUE OF POST OFFICE SITE

Selection of Site in Port Coquitlam Raises Storm of Protest in Some Quarters.

Port Coquitlam, March 15.—The acceptance of a site on School road by the postal authorities for the new Port Coquitlam post office has aroused a storm of protest in certain quarters in the city on the grounds that the site selected is not centrally located. Petitions are now being circulated among the residents and when fully signed will be forwarded to Colonel J. D. Taylor, M. P., urging that he direct his efforts to the construction of the building on the corner of Shaughnessy and Elgin streets, a location considered much more central than School road.

The petitioners point out that Shaughnessy street is the main artery for both the north and southern portions of the city and the corner of Elgin and Shaughnessy streets the logical centre for the post office.

Feeling over the matter gives indications of a revival of the strife between the two factions in the city which has lain dormant since the license commission appointments episode.

Bury Gun Fight Victim.

Montreal, March 15.—The body of Constable Honore Bourdon, shot by gunmen last Wednesday, was buried yesterday in the policemen's plot at Cortes des Neiges cemetery. It is estimated that 100,000 people lined the route of the procession. At tomorrow's meeting of the city council it will be proposed to pass a special by-law granting an annuity to Bourdon's widow and family.

ANOTHER VOLCANO STARTLES JAPAN

Tokyo, March 15.—A serious earthquake occurred today in the prefecture of Akita, island of Honshu. A number of persons in the city of Akita were killed and many houses destroyed. In the village of Kowakubis, which was ruined, there are many casualties. The volcano Asama-Yama, 90 miles northwest of Tokyo, is in eruption.

1500 LOSE LIVES IN TIDAL WAVE

Towns in Russia Inundated by Wave from Sea of Azov.

Meagre Details of Terrible Disaster— Hurricane Sweeps Over Country Wreaking Havoc.

St. Petersburg, March 15.—The hurricane which swept the province of Kuban, southern Russia Saturday, was so violent that all telegraph lines are seriously damaged, making communication almost impossible. Meagre dispatches received today reported that 1500 lives had been lost as the result of the tidal wave from the sea of Azov, but no reliable details of the disaster were available.

Towns Inundated.
Ekaterinodar, Russia, March 15.—Over 1000 persons perished yesterday in the inundation of the towns of Stanitz and Achtyrekaja, by a tidal wave from the Sea of Azov. The wave struck the towns during a violent hurricane which swept the province of Kuban.

Over 150 persons also were drowned in floods in Yassenkaja. A dam collapsed in the town of Temryuk, situated on the Taman peninsula, 98 miles northwest of this city, flooding the greater part of the city and drowning many persons. The sea washed away 380 buildings at Achtyrekaja.

Temryuk is an historic town with a population of 16,000. It once was the site of the Turkish fortress Adass.

The towns of Stanitz, Achtyrekaja and Yassenkaja do not appear on any available maps and probably are small localities bordering on the Sea of Azov.

The province of Kuban, in which the stricken towns are located, is in southern Russia and has coast lines on both the Black Sea and the Sea of Azov. The population of the province aggregates about 2,000,000 persons of whom two-fifths are Cossacks. The country is extremely fertile and extensively used in the culture of grain. Cattle breeding is also conducted on a large scale.

REFUSE TO PAY U. S. FOR KEEPING TROOPS

Mexico City, March 15.—The Mexican government through Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American charge d'affaires, today informed the United States government that it will refuse to meet the cost of maintenances of the Mexican prisoners now interned at Fort Bliss, Texas. The note handed the charge quotes extensively international authorities in support of the Mexican government's contention that the expenses of keeping the prisoners should be borne by the United States.

TOLLS EXEMPTION WOULD BE COSTLY

Professor Johnson Advances Strong Argument in Favor of Repeal of Clause.

New York, March 14.—Exemption of coastwise shipping, using the small canal, from the payment of tolls, would mean a loss for the first ten years of $20,000,000, declared Professor Emory Johnson, of the University of Pennsylvania, tonight at the 26th annual dinner of the University of Pennsylvania men of New York. This loss, he said, would have to be borne by the taxpayers of the United States.

Professor Johnson was appointed special United States commissioner of Panama traffic tolls by President Taft, and served as such in 1911-13.

Another speaker was Lindley M. Garrison, secretary of war.

Require Large Revenue.
"To enable the canal to carry itself commercially without being a continuous burden upon the taxpayers of the country," Professor Johnson said, "it will be necessary to secure revenue of $19,250,000 per annum. This total is made up of $3,500,000 for annual maintenance and operation; $500,000 for canal sanitation and government; $250,000 payable as an annuity to the Republic of Panama; $11,250,000 to cover the interest at 3 per cent. on the $375,000,000 invested in the canal, and $3,750,000 to provide a sinking fund of 1 per cent. to return to the treasury the cost of the canal during the next 50 years."

"This revenue must be secured mainly from the tolls collected from the vessels that use the canal. If all vessels paid tolls the revenue of the canal at the end of ten years would cover the annual outlay for operation expenses and charges upon capital. If the owners of American ships engaged in the coastwise trade are excused from the payment of tolls, the revenue will not suffice to make the canal self-supporting. To exempt coastwise ships from the payment of tolls means a decrease of at least $20,000,000 in revenue during the first ten years and means the addition of that amount to the burdens to be carried by the taxpayers of the country."

MEXICANS ENTER U.S., ROB AND BURN POSTOFFICE; OFFICIAL KILLED

Feeling Along Border Line of Two Countries Intensified by Frequent Outrages—Postmaster at Tecate Shot Through the Heart.

San Diego, Cal., March 15.—The United States customs office and postoffice at Tecate, 45 miles from this city, on the American side of the international boundary, were today destroyed by fire last night, following a raid by three men declared by eyewitnesses to be Mexicans.

Frank V. Johnston, of San Diego, postmaster at Tecate, was shot to death when he resisted the bandits and his friend, Warren Wiedenback, was perhaps fatally wounded. The charred remains of an American flag was found at daybreak today when a posse started on the trail of the desperadoes.

The customs office and postoffice occupied part of the general store operated by Mountain Bros. The bandits, it was proved today, were bent on robbing both of the government offices. Johnston was shot when he refused to give the combination of the safe.

Shot and Burned.
Johnston's torso was found in the smouldering ruins this morning. An autopsy developed the fact that he had been shot through the heart. His pistol was found not far from the body.

Elliot D. Johnston, the dead man's brother, sent telegrams today to Secretary of State Bryan, Governor Johnston and Representatives William Ketterer at Washington, demanding a thorough investigation. In his telegram to Bryan, Johnston placed the entire responsibility for the affair on Mexicans.

Bitter Feeling Intensified.
Bitter feeling prevails along the border as a result of the outrage last night and this feeling was intensified today when a crowd of jeering Mexicans watching the search of the ruins objected to Fred Vollmer, a newspaper reporter, taking their pictures. When the photographer, standing on the American side of the boundary, continued to work his camera, one of the Mexicans deliberately fired at him.

Fired on Mexicans.
In an instant the posse that had made a futile all night search for the bandits, levelled their guns at the Mexicans and for several minutes an open battle appeared inevitable. The photographer was uninjured.

Patrol Border.
Major Davis, commander at Fort Rosecrans, at San Diego, with several officers and a platoon of men, left for Tecate at 3 o'clock this morning in automobiles. Major Davis said he would conduct a rigid examination in behalf of the war department and the matter would be reported immediately to the department commander at San Francisco.

The border for miles on each side of Tecate is being patrolled tonight by United States troops. Johnston's body was brought to San Diego today.

HERD HEADS POLL FOR SCHOOL TRUSTEES

Burnaby Ratepayers Elect Board of Five from Eleven Candidates— Voting Light.

Electing three of their ticket for two year terms, the reform element in the Burnaby school election fight, won out on Saturday and will thus have a working majority when the organization meeting is held on Tuesday evening. Heading the poll was James Herd of Vancouver Heights with 281 votes, although he was given a close race by former chairman, Herbert Burnes who was supported to the number of 278. John Churchland was the other trustee elected for two years, he receiving 258 votes. Ex-Trustee W. Coulter came fourth with 254 votes, with Mark Lumley as fifth man with a total of 238. The two latter will serve for one year.

Of the five elected, four were members of the board which was recently declared ultra vires by the education authorities at Victoria. C. E. Campbell, also a member of the board, was eighth on the list and only had a majority of three over the highest Socialist.

The results were as follows: James Herd 281, H. Burnes 278, J. Churchland 258, W. Coulter 254, M. Lumley 238, C. A. McLane 228, O. Deckert 199, C. E. Campbell 161, E. E. Winch 158, W. Dingle 116, E. Follis 73.

Messrs. Herd, Burnes and Lumley hail from North Burnaby, while Messrs. Coulter and Churchland have residences in the Central Park district. The swearing in of the newly elected school board and the selection of a chairman will take place at West Burnaby on Tuesday evening. Although Mr. Herd headed the polls it is probable that Mr. Burnes will be re-elected to the chairmanship.

WILLING TO SELL ACREAGE TO CITY

Government Would Consider Application for 13½ Acres on Eighth Street for Armory Site.

According to a letter received by Mayor Gray from the minister of lands at Victoria, the provincial government is prepared to entertain favorably the application of the city for 13 1/2 acres of land fronting Eighth street, comprising the old cemetery reserve and the isolation hospital. The city some time ago made a tentative offer for the entire block, comprising 32 acres but this the government is unwilling to allow, preferring to reserve 19 acres for disposal by public auction at some future date.

The application of the city for the land in question is in line with the proposed removal of the present armories of the 104th regiment to another site, the Dominion government having promised to erect a new drill shed if the city will provide the site. Formal application for 13 1/2 acres is expected will be made within the next few days, the communication probably being handled at tonight's council meeting.

MISSING MISS STILL MISSING

Woman Claiming to Be Dorothy Arnold of New York is Laboring Under Hallucination.

Los Angeles, March 15.—The hallucinations of a young woman, Emily Splawn O'Dell, who was but recently freed of a bad check charge on account of alleged irresponsibility was responsible for the latest "find" of the missing Dorothy Arnold, of New York. Her husband, Charles O'Dell, identified her today and declared the story she told yesterday of being the missing daughter of the wealthy New York merchant, was the product of a mental disorder induced by a physical condition which may result in the prosecution of a surgeon for illegal practices.

Under the name of Mabel de More she obtained from the New York authorities the facts relating to the Arnold case, and armed with these, she was prepared to admit the identity which her disordered fancy had conferred upon her.

Today she appeared calm, but either the victim of amnesia or skillfully shaming its symptoms. She still declared she was Dorothy Arnold and denounced her "father," Mr. Arnold, for not answering many letters she had written to him.

Pure Nonsense.
New York, March 15.—The claim of Mrs. Emily Splawn O'Dell, of Los Angeles, Cal., that she is Dorothy Arnold, who disappeared from her home in this city in 1910, was today described as "pure nonsense" by the father of the missing girl, Francis R. Arnold, John S. Keith, attorney for Mr. Arnold, who has been taking an active part in the world-wide search for the girl, expressed himself similarly.

Militia Orders.
Ottawa, March 15.—Militia orders announce that the honorary rank of lieutenant colonel has been granted to George Fowler, member of parliament for Kings county, N.B. The transfer of the headquarters of No. 13 section, Canadian signal corps, from Calgary to Edmonton has been announced. The organization of a civilian rifle association at Stony Plain, Alberta, is authorized.

Await Second Act of Balkan Affair.
Budapest, March 14.—Count Serge Witte, former premier of Russia, in an interview published here today, is quoted as saying:

"Only the first act of the Balkan affair has been played. It is now the intermission, which may last for years, or perhaps only for months.

"The relations between Austria and Roumania constitute one of the points of danger, while the relations between the triple alliance—Germany, Italy and Austria—and the triple entente—Great Britain, France and Russia—are in no wise clear."

WATCHING AND WAITING.

A watching and waiting policy may be hard on life and property, but in the case of Mexico it seems to be getting results. Wilson has pursued that plan with a steadfast earnestness that has communicated itself to Huerta and the dictator is beginning to loom up again as a possible president after all.

There's an old saying about all things coming to him who waits, provided he waits long enough and in the right place. After months of inaction on the part of the United States and worse than inaction on the part of the so-called Mexican government, it looks as though the rebel power was going to sag in the middle and break from sheer weight. Villa, the leader who started as a common brigand and who has developed into a most uncommon brigand, is reported to be no longer satisfied with his post as military head of the constitutionalist forces. Now he wants to be president. Carranza, who has been looked upon as his superior, is not likely to give place without a struggle and, to add to the beauty of the situation, the Madero faction is showing symptoms of reviving.

In the case of a Mexican revolution or a Mexican government, there's nothing that succeeds like success. Villa has been a victor and has attracted thousands to his standard because he looked like a winner, but, if internal trouble rends the constitutionalist party, Villa will not last any longer than it takes some disgruntled follower to slip a knife under his third rib or hide a bullet in his murderous body. By hook or crook, but principally by means of which nobody seems to know but himself, Huerta has managed to pay his army regularly and that's what keeps an army together in Mexico so if the rebels take to fighting among themselves it is not at all unlikely that the man who countenanced the assassination of Madero will yet be in at the deaths of Carranza and Villa.

Should this happen before any other popular leader makes his weight felt the Wilson policy will be vindicated, but if another Villa arises it will all have to be done over again, goodness knows how many times.

Mr. Asquith, the imperial premier, is about to retire—again. Lloyd George is going to lead a party of his own—also again. Everybody is sick of home rule—yet.

While President Wilson has been busy at Washington, Mrs. Wilson hasn't been loafing. Here's a second daughter engaged and only a little more than a year gone by.

That Tacoma woman who shot a deputy sheriff should be easily able to qualify as a militant suffragette. Shooting up minions of the law has window-smashing and picture-slashing shoved into the milk and water class.

A C. P. R. official says that foreigners must colonize western Canada. There'll be no objection to foreigners provided they're the right kind, but kindly eliminate the Doukhobors, Hindus and others of that ilk.

Central Park has the biggest collection of poultry fanciers in the province. We're only three or four miles from Central Park and look at the prices we've been paying for eggs.

The regulations have ceased calling for sidelights on autos. Now, if they'd only cut the license fee and reduce the price of the machines, some of us might be able to buy a velocipede.

Winnipeg must be some town. Not satisfied with locking up Krafchenko and his lawyer, they've now put the jury behind closed doors as well. The next thing we hear in connection with that trial is that they've got the judge "incommunicado."

A representative of labor wants election day declared a holiday and all voters compelled to go to the polls. If we do that we'll have to be rather careful in choosing our candidates, for elections will then become a serious business instead of a political game.

consumption of alcohol now brings in is formidable in itself and the difficulties will be intensified by the utter lack of scope for constructive energy, should such energy be discovered among the new men. The strata of the old financial system are clogged by the results of use and want and by the vested interests and as yet nobody knows how to begin the work of transformation.

"The financial policy which lasted so long and gave such lucrative results is now felt to be a 'Prince Rupert's drop,' a ball of unannealed glass which, if this one part be severed, will break up in its entirety and must be remade. Many competent judges hold, therefore, that the changes in the personnel of the government are and will for some time remain the embodiment in action of an inchoate, praiseworthy tendency, a primum desiderium, but the entire nation is grateful to the czar for his splendid initiative."

Has No Fear of Revenue.
The Novoe Vremya considers that M. Bark will have no great difficulty in getting the necessary revenue if the productivity of national labor and the productive power of the country generally are raised as required by the czar.

"At present," it says, "the average annual income per head of the Russian people is not more than about sixty rubles ($30), and with this they manage to contribute to the state exchequer more than 3,000,000,000 rubles ($1,500,000,000). They spend nearly 1,000,000,000 rubles ($500,000,000) on drink for the benefit of the government treasury, while the entire sum expended on education by the government and local bodies combined is less than a third of that amount."

"Illicit traffic in spirits and drinking on the streets, which distinguish the Russian towns, including the capital, from all foreign cities, has frightfully increased."

A recent report by the governor of St. Petersburg province described the alarming spread of drunkenness and hooliganism in the surrounding villages. Even school girls in some places are reported to have taken to drinking. The president of the state council in opening the discussion on the bill dealing with this evil declared that they were all agreed that drunkenness was undermining the strength of the Russian people, physically and morally.

Some striking observations are made in this connection by Gen. Kuropatkin, commander in chief in Manchuria in 1904, whose views on the present condition of the Russian army have just appeared in the Exchange Gazette. Under the heading "The Drunken Budget and War," General Kuropatkin refers to a remarkable statement by Count Witte in the council of state to the effect that at the very beginning of the Russo-Japanese campaign the ministry of finance took to squeezing more money out of the spirit monopoly to meet the extra military expenses.

"Such an indecent and disgusting picture," says the general, "as that presented by the transport of drunken reservists to the front was never before seen anywhere else in all history. When the military authorities asked to have the dram shops closed along the route followed by the troops they received a categorical refusal. It was a 'drunken mobilization.' War is a sacred business, not to be lightly undertaken with drunken songs and accordions."

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY PAVILION.
PANAMA-PACIFIC EXPOSITION, SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., 1915.

The Grand Trunk pavilion which will occupy a prominent position in the railway plaza at the northeast corner of the grounds of the Panama-Pacific exposition, will be directly opposite the mammoth machinery palace adjacent to the passenger ferry slips and overlooking San Francisco bay. As will be observed, the design is simple in outline and Spanish Renaissance in character, making a handsome and ornate structure. The walls will be of stucco, rough finish and tinted a soft cream shade, relieved with an ornamental enriched band carried around the building under the eaves. Shields and fountains have been effectively placed to enhance the decorative effect of the building. The room will be covered with a rich red Spanish tile. The design for this building was the one accepted by the exposition authorities as the standard for all the other buildings which will be erected on the railway plaza. This pavilion will house the exhibits of both the Grand Trunk railway and the Grand Trunk Pacific railway. Messrs. Ross and Macdonald, of Montreal, are the architects.

TAX ON ALCOHOL BASIS OF REVENUE

Russia Gets $500,000,000 Annually From Sale of Liquor—Czar Forced to Ac.

London, March 15.—Dr. E. J. Dillon, the famous correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph, in the course of a long letter from St. Petersburg ascribes the direct intervention of the czar in the changes in personnel now taking place in the present government crisis to the effect upon the sovereign of the spectacle of the material squalor and moral degradation caused by the drunkenness which he beheld during his journey through the Russian provinces.
"The emperor's impressions on the spot," says Dr. Dillon, "were deepened by statistics laid before the council of the empire by Count Witte, who, although himself the creator of the government monopoly of alcohol inveighed against the spread of intemperance, which, he alleged, is to be ascribed to the abuses which have been allowed to creep into the system."

Count Witte's statement is that when he quit the finance ministry the Russian government received from the consumption of vodka $250,000,000 a year, whereas today it receives $500,000,000, and his contention is that no Christian state should be dependent for its existence upon the spread of drunkenness among its subjects. This view is adopted by the czar in his rescript to the new finance minister.

Aid to Monarchism.
"The czar's publicly announced resolve not to tolerate this condition of things any longer," says Mr. Dillon, "has produced a most favorable impression throughout the country and has considerably increased the prestige of monarchism in Russia. He has enjoined the new minister of finance to reorganize the entire system and enable the government not only to refuse to depend upon national intemperance as a recognized source of revenue, but to adopt efficacious means of extirpating this vice and to afford the peasantry the opportunity of displaying the high qualities of mind and body that characterize them."
Dr. Dillon points out how arduous is the task set to the new finance minister, M. Bark, by the czar, saying: "The task of substituting other taxes for a considerable portion of the hundred millions sterling which the

Great Britain Defeats Germany's Railway Plan

London, March 15.—The Bagdad railway is not to extend to the Persian gulf.

This famous German project, which the kaiser himself advocated and encouraged and in which the whole German people were deeply interested, is to stop at Basrah, defeated of its desired eastern terminus by sixty miles. This, in substance, is the chief point in the understanding that has been reached by the British foreign office and the Turkish government, represented by Haki Pasha, who has been for several months in London completing the terms of the Anglo-Turkish agreement.

This eastern terminus has been wavering in the Euphrates and Tigris valleys ever since the original survey was made. It was set down once in the mud at the mouth of the Tigris. Then it was moved to likely places to the south and finally fixed, according to plans of the projectors, at Koweit. But Great Britain objected to all of these. She did not wish Germany to have control of a port so near India. Again, English capital was invested in the steamship line which operates on the Tigris, and railroad competition might seriously affect it. So the line below Bagdad was held up for years.

By the terms of the present agreement the railroad is to stop at Basrah in the valley of the Tigris, and navigation of that river is not to be impaired. The road from Bagdad to the terminus is to be built jointly by Turkey, Great Britain, Germany, Russia and France. Great Britain is to have two seats on the directorate as a guarantee against any differential rates, and she is to have the right to build a railroad through south Persia.

In Historic Scenes. No railroad enterprise has ever possessed such fascination as the Bagdad line or to completely held the attention of the world. It was to open up to modern civilization the great Euphrates valley, the scene of Biblical history and ancient civilization; it was to pass by the sites of old Ninevah and Babylon and through the land of the earliest conquests of Mohammedanism. It was to restore this now desolate and neglected region to the wonderful fertility it once enjoyed and to furnish Europe a new and almost inexhaustible granary.

Its political significance was still greater. It was to furnish Germany entrance to the middle east and a means of checkmating the increasing power of Russia and Great Britain in that part of the world. There were to be two controlling ports in Asiatic Turkey, one at Haidar Pasha, opposite Constantinople, the other at Alexandria on the Mediterranean coast of Asia Minor.

Austria-Hungary was to build the Novi Bazar railway, gain control of Salonica and then by a short sea voyage across from Salonica to Alexandria, Vienna and Budapest would have a direct route to the Persian gulf. From Berlin there would be another equally direct route to the same point by way of Constantinople—even a bridge across the Golden Horn was one of the projectors' dreams—and then across the Bosphorus through Anatolia and down the Euphrates valley. One of the dreams of the military enthusiasts was to rush troops from the capitals of the two great nations of the Triple Alliance in German cars over this road to the east, thus avoiding the passage of the Suez canal.

The entire distance of the line from the Bosphorus to the Persian gulf is 1,750 miles. But of this, part is the already constructed Anatolian section, and is to be built in a southeasterly direction, passing through Aleppo, the metropolis of Syria; Mosul, on the site of ancient Ninevah, and Bagdad, the city of caliphs, a distance of 1,250 miles.

Political Outlook Changed. Recent events in Europe have lessened apparently the political significance of the project. Germany is not so closely allied with the Ottoman empire as in Abdul Hamid's time. Austria is not so ambitious to build the Novi Bazar railway now that the Greeks are at Salonica. To neither of these great nations does the passage of the Balkans look as easy as before the dismemberment of Turkey in Europe. It is the commercial possibilities of the road that now offer the strongest appeal.

The building of the road is reported to be progressing favorably and there appears to be good foundation for the hope that a line will be in operation by 1917. The 900 miles of road from Konia to Bagdad are being constructed by a German company, the general manager of which is Meissner Pasha, who has a record of twenty years of railroad building in the Ottoman empire. Work has been held up at the Taurus mountains owing to the heavy bridge building and tunnelling necessary. Along the rest of the line there are no great engineering problems, but the cost of transporting building material and ballast into lower Mesopotamia makes construction expensive. A recent traveler, who has went by caravan over nearly the entire route, says that he saw active construction of final surveys in progress at every point.

The road is expected to develop latent resources of the country and stimulate business to such an extent that capital will flow in and industries thrive. The gigantic irrigation plans that Sir William Willcocks has been at work upon for years it is expected will make the valley of the Euphrates one of the great wheat producing lands in the world.

To Open Up Rich Country. The line will cut through districts where cotton has flourished but where cultivation has been neglected owing to lack of a market. Petroleum and bituminous coal are said to be plentiful in many sections through which the line passes or which can be easily reached from it by short side lines. Near Masul and near the Persian frontier there are known to exist immense fields of petroleum, which have been carefully guarded against the inroads of foreign speculators. There are rich mineral deposits to the north, which are also well protected against speculators and will be tapped by feeders from the main line. The import trade of the interior has been of small importance on account of the difficulty of access to it, and the high price that must be asked for even the simplest article on account of the cost of carriage from either Mediterranean or Black Sea ports.

With a cheaper freight it is thought that there will soon be established a good trade for many simple articles of commerce. Tourists, it is believed, will also flock to his so long hidden land when the way of getting into it has been made less difficult and arduous.

Great Britain has already completed the survey of the railroad in south Persia and will begin building in a short time. The line will run from Mohammerah on the Persian gulf to Khorremabad, 100 miles north, near the border of Asiatic Turkey. It will tap a great caravan route over which the trade of West Persia has passed to Bagdad.

Another section of the Anglo-Turkish government that was most acceptable to the British was that relating to Koweit. It not only denies the right of the Bagdad Railway company to have a terminus there, but at the same time it recognizes Great Britain's right to insist that this small bit of Turkish territory remain an autonomous government, a provision that is of the utmost importance to the security of her Indian empire.

Another victory in diplomacy for Great Britain in this part of the world is the treaty just made with France whereby a ban is to be put upon gun-running in the Persian gulf. Under a former treaty which Muscat had with the French it was an easy matter to introduce firearms and ammunition into Muscat and thence across the gulf and into the land along the Indian frontier.

This form of illicit traffic was fascinating to the people of the Beluchistan and Persian coast, and almost every week the British warship which patrolled these waters was forced to chase dhows laden with weapons. The smugglers were strong enough a few months ago to cut to pieces a party of bluejackets that had followed them ashore. They have always put up a strong fight when cornered.

The arms seem to have been sent into Muscat from all parts of the world. Col. Younghusband says that on his expedition to Tibet he saw a great many rifles of American make. This traffic in arms has always been a thorn in the side of the Indian authorities, and if they can have it stopped they will be in much better position to keep order and peace along the great northern frontier.

NO NEW GOLD STRIKES MANY PROSPECTORS LEAVE

Dawson City, March 15.—Latest arrivals from Chisana report that there are no definite new strikes. Those who have gone down the river found no rich pay outside the localities located last summer. All those prospecting the White Horse have been driven out by the water and a large number are returning.

Otis Jenkins, just arrived from Chisana, reports that Charlie Anderson and Kenneth Whitehorn, former Yukoners, were buried in a snowslide near Chisana while hunting sheep. The bodies were recovered.

VICTORIA LOSES TO TORONTO IN FIRST GAME OF SERIES

Coast Hockey Champions Downed by Easterners in Six Man Game—Score 5-2.

Toronto, March 15.—Displaying just as brilliant hockey as the Torontos in the first two periods, the Victoria, B.C. team, Pacific coast champions, was unable to break up the attack of the Blue Shirts in the last session and lost the first game of the world's hockey series on Saturday night by a score of 5-2.

It was a battle of giants from the first tap of the gong, the largest arena in the east being filled to capacity by an enthusiastic crowd.

Playing under the eastern six-man rule, the Capitals were placed under a distinct disadvantage but their gameness against such odds has made an impression among the fans to the extent that the westerners will be the favorites on Tuesday night when the seven-man offside rule style will be in vogue.

Only one goal was scored in the first period, George McNamara, the ex-Ontario player, going through after 11 minutes of play.

Dunderdale tied up the score in the opening of the second period when he took the pass from Lester Patrick close in, giving Holmes no chance whatever. Following this the Victorias opened a bombardment upon the Toronto nets which was a revelation to the fans and only brilliant defence work on the part of Holmes and Marshall stemmed the tide. The latter sent his team ahead on an end to end rush.

In the last stanza the Torontos settled down to championship form, Walker sending in No. 3 from away out. McNamara got his second when he batted in a rebound shot by McGiffin, while Davidson scored the fifth. Poulin, who played a brilliant game ended the scoring by going through alone.

Russell Bowie and Johnny Brennan the Montreal officials, handled the game closely throughout, allowing very little rough work to creep in. McGiffin, the champion penalty man of the N. H. A., worked in his usual rough stuff, being banished in the last period for his attack upon Walter Small.

Goal Summary. First period—McNamara (Toronto) 11:00. Second period—Dunderdale (Vic) 6:00; Marshall (Tor.) 2:00. Third period—Walker (Tor.) 6:00; Davidson (Tor.) 4:00; McNamara (Tor.) 1:20; Poulin (Vic.) 4:12.

WOULD CLEAN FILTHY LUCRE BY MEANS OF MACHINE

Ottawa, March 15.—There is an average of 20,000 living bacteria on each bank note handled every day. This will not affect much some people but others of the wealthier class are always in danger from infection. Through the agency of the government a method of cleaning all paper currency has been discovered.

The discovery has been made as a result of experiments and tests carried on by J. E. Rourke, comptroller of currency, assisted by Dr. C. H. Higgins, pathologist to the department of agriculture.

Last year when the bank act was under consideration Dr. Steele mentioned the question of sterilization of paper currency with a view to avoiding the transmission of disease by soiled bank notes. The minister of finance promised to take the matter up.

Experiments have been conducted for months past and at last the department has reached what they believed to be a solution of the problem. A report of the tests has been made to the treasury board and it is understood that they will act upon this report at an early date.

In the report mention is made that a special automatic electric sterilization apparatus with thermos attachment and sufficiently large to hold 6000 notes can be operated for about one cent an hour.

LADIES SPEND THE NIGHT UP IN LOFTY TREES

Fort William, Ont., March 15.—Spending six hours at night in the deep, dark pine forest at Kaministiquia, a station on the C. N. R. about 20 miles from this city, two ladies well known in the Twin Cities, are suffering severely from the shock. They left their home about 5:30 in the afternoon to visit a neighbor's house about one mile distant. The hours went by and as they did not return a search party was formed with the result that they were found shortly before 11 o'clock perched high in the unfolding branches of a big pine tree.

Their story was that in some manner they had lost their way and had become frightened by the owls hooting and the howls of the wolves and the small, mysterious voices of the woods. They climbed into the branches of a big tree and when found were almost unconscious from the cold and fear.

WOULD PLACE BAN ON UNTESTED CATTLE

Cattle Breeders in Session at Regina take Steps to Eliminate Bovine Tuberculosis.

Regina, March 15.—Bovine tuberculosis, a subject which is becoming more and more interesting to farmers of the western provinces as they find out more about the disease, was the main topic at the public meeting held at the Regina winter fair on Wednesday. The assemblage was ably addressed by Dr. M. P. Ravenel, of the state laboratory of hygiene at Madison, Wisconsin, who after his address answered many questions asked him by the farmers.

Partially as a result of this address and the growing feeling on the part of cattle breeders in the province, a resolution will be submitted to the provincial government asking that a ban be placed upon cattle coming into this province unless they have been subjected to the tuberculin test.

The most largely attended of any of the public meetings held so far in connection with the winter fair was that under the auspices of the Cattle Breeders' association, when Dr. M. P. Ravenel, director of the state laboratory of hygiene of Wisconsin, addressed the gathering. Not only were a large number of cattle breeders present, but many others interested in bacteriology were present.

Dr. Ravenel's subject was "Bovine Tuberculosis and Its Relation to Public Health."

His talk was brilliant with humor, and his audience thoroughly enjoyed every word he spoke.

Koch's Theory.
 The doctor said he spoke of the tubercular bacterium found in cattle. He told of the declaration of Robert Koch in 1882 that the tubercular germs in cattle and in humans are of different types, not different bacteria, but different types of the same germ closely allied. Koch said human tuberculosis could not be transmitted to cattle.

Tuberculosis, he said, is not inherited. The only inheritance is a predisposition to have the disease.

Dr. Ravenel said that many experiments have proved that the tuberculosis of the human can be transmitted to cattle by the injection under the skin of a calf or cow of sputum from a tubercular person.

Bovine tuberculosis is contracted by humans only through the digestive tract, he went on to say. Children, therefore, are very liable to contract the disease by drinking milk containing the germs. The doctor explained thoroughly how the food digested in the intestine and containing germs is carried finally to the lungs, where the majority of the cases of tuberculosis in humans are found.

No one denies, said the speaker, that the tubercle germ can be taken into the body by way of the digestive tract. It takes about four hours for a germ to get from the intestine to the lungs of a human.

Humans are liable to tuberculosis from eating tubercular meat or drinking tubercular milk.

English Commissions.
 Commissions in England and Germany have found a percentage ranging from 25 to 50 cases of human tuberculosis to be caused by bovine germs. Children brought up on mothers' milk are not as liable to bovine tuberculosis as those fed on milk from cows. Eight-five per cent. of children tested in New York hospitals where cows' milk was used, and who died, had bovine tuberculosis.

The common cases of bumpback and hip joint disease have given rise to some interesting experiments in Edinburgh, where many children so afflicted have been examined. A high percentage are cripples because of the bovine germ, and only a small percentage had the human germ.

Children under five years are more susceptible to the bovine germ than persons over that age, and when the age of 16 has been reached there is little chance of getting the cattle germ. This would tend to show that milk is responsible for bovine tuberculosis in humans.

In most of the large cities the quantity of milk containing the bovine germ is very large, sometimes being as high as 50 per cent.

"What are we going to do about it?" asked the doctor. "The best way is to get rid of the tuberculosis cows, and the other is pasteurization of milk from those cows, which is not so good a way."

Only Satisfactory Test.

The tuberculin test is the only way to tell when a cow has tuberculosis, and when the cows react, the problem is "how to get rid of her." There are number of different ways of doing this. One is by the state giving the farmer a percentage of the assessed value of the cow, and another is to have the farmer give the animal to the state, which kills the cow, uses all the good parts, and recompenses the farmer with the proceeds, minus the expense.

The third method, the Bang system, depends on the lack of inheritance of the disease for its success. Calves are raised from the consumptive mothers, and are always found to be perfectly free from tuberculosis, and are kept from their mothers from birth, so that the farmer does not lose his calves. This is a practicable working plan, and is advised by Dr. Ravenel.

Prospects for Bumper Crop.

Lethbridge, March 15.—A very unusual occurrence at this time of the year was a heavy downpour of rain this evening. Rain in March is regarded by old timers as meaning a wet year and a bumper crop. The last experience goes back to 1908, an unusually prolific year.

FRASER MILLS SEND
ALLAN CUP CHALLENGE

Trying to Arrange Games With the Regina Victorias—Expect Word
Today.

Not satisfied with capturing the McRae, Savage and Coy trophies in one season, the Fraser Mills hockey club is now bent on taking a chance with the Regina Victorias in an Allan cup series, a wire being forwarded to the new champions on Saturday night, while this was followed up yesterday by a wire to Claude Robinson, the Winnipeg member of the Allan cup board of trustees. The wire to the Regina club, signed by J. L. Tennent, manager of the Fraser Mills club, was as follows:

"As holders of the Coast amateur hockey championship we herewith challenge for the Allan cup and would request that you wire us immediately regarding suitable dates."

Should this challenge be accepted by the trustees, it will be the first time in history that a coast team has been assigned dates for the trophy emblematic of the world's amateur hockey championship. If the challenge is accepted the Circle F. boys will have to pack their kit immediately as the question of solid ice on the prairies at this time of the year is problematical.

The games would be played under the eastern rules, that of two 30 minute halves with no offside rule such as has been in force in the local league this winter.

The officials of last Friday's game at Vancouver came in for much criticism, especially Ernie Johnson, for continually pulling up the play on accounts of off-sides. To the non-partizan fan, however, the work of both Johnson and St. Griffiths was of the highest order and absolutely no favoritism was shown to either team.

Both the Savage and Coy cups will be brought over this week and these together with the handsome McKae trophy will be placed on exhibition in George Speck's show window for a few days to give local hockey fans a chance to peek at the silverware. After that they will be shipped to Fraser Mills, a suitable location having been found for them.

Sapperton 5, Burquitlam 1.

Only one soccer game was played on local grounds Saturday afternoon, Sapperton defeating Burquitlam at Sapperton 5-1. The contest was never in doubt, Birchfield having an easy time between the sticks, while the Sapperton forwards were a continual source of work to the Burquitlam defence. A game was scheduled for Moody Park between the City and the B. C. E. R. but the latter could not raise an eleven. It is probable that the City will be awarded the points.

JUST SHOWED 'EM

B. C. E. R. Easy for Coquitlam on Vancouver Grounds—Scored a
Shut-out 3-0.

Displaying a superior brand of football, Coquitlam made amends for the raw deal handed out by the Mainland Football association in ordering the replay game to be staged in Vancouver, by defeating the B. C. E. R. three goals to nil on the Cambie street grounds on Saturday. Before an immense crowd and under excellent playing conditions, the orange and black contingent put up a splendid battle, taking the lead in the first half when Black scored which was increased by two more from the foot of Harrop late in the second session. Harrop's second goal was one of the finest ever scored on the Cambie street lot. He tricked two of the Electric defence men and beat Delcourt with a fast grounder.

The Coquitlam defence as usual brought forth much comment Marshall and Miller clearing time and again, what looked like dangerous rushes, while Worrall excelled himself as the last line of defence.

Paddy Hewitt, the Vancouver island player, was of little use to the Electric and was dropped in the second half on pretence of injuries. Coquitlam will now meet Kitsilano in the final for the Mainland cup, which should prove easy picking. A little trouble is looming up, however in the question of a referee, the Mainland association assigning Webster, a class B official to the job. The Port City team aided by New Westminster, will put up a fight to get a more competent official appointed, the argument coming up on Tuesday night.

Quebec Defeats Wanderers 16-8 at New York—Vancouver vs. Wanderers on Tuesday.

New York, March 15.—A carnival of rough, bruising skating and a shower of goals, marked the opening game last night of the series at the St. Nicholas rink between the Canadian professional teams, the Quebec team running over the Wanderers of Montreal rough-shod and winning by the overwhelming score of 16-8.

The players completely forgot hockey in the final period and started a campaign of wholesale tripping and slashing. Players were sprawled out on the ice half the time. The officials lost all control of the men and they played the game as they pleased.

Even in the midst of the turmoil, however, Hall of Quebec gave an exhibition of fast skating and wonderful goal shooting.

The officials were: Referee V. Russell, Montreal; judge of play, H. Lehman, New Westminster, B.C.

Church League Basketball.

The Church basketball league got under way at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday night when six teams battled for honors in three separate classes. The 95 pounders of St. Andrew's defeated a team from the Queen's Avenue Methodist church 12-3. In the 110 pound class Holy Trinity accounted for the Queen's Avenue Methodists 13-12, while St. Andrew's defeated the Olivet Baptist quintette 7-6 in the 125 class.

Church League Meeting.

A meeting of the delegates of the senior church athletic league will be held in the Y. M. C. A. tonight at 8 o'clock for the purpose of drawing up a constitution. The junior league delegates will hold a similar meeting in the association building on Tuesday night.

Easy Pickings for McGoorty.

Sydney, N.S.W., March 15.—Eddie McGoorty of Oshkosh, Wis., was given the decision over Jeff Smith, another American fighter, at the end of a hard fought 20 round bout today. The referee's decision was unpopular. The fight took place in the stadium and was witnessed by 10,000 persons.

SPORT CHATTER
(By the Potter.)

New Westminster jumped into second place in the Pacific Coast basketball league on Friday night when Victoria met defeat at the local "Y" to the tune of 51-19. The game was never in doubt although the Capitals put up a better argument in the second half. The Vancouver boy scouts slipped a victory over the local stave men in the preliminary, 15-11.

Some class to the Westminster and Fraser Mills crowd that attended the last Savage cup game in Vancouver on Friday. The Circle F badge was ever in sight while the celebration after the battle was one to be remembered. Herb Ryall, Fred Lynch, Gowen Macgowan, H. J. Mackin, A. E. Kellington, W. Wilson and Doc Wilson raised their proportionate amount of noise both during the game and after.

Jimmy Dunbar would be fine picking as a custodian for the professional league if the Patricks knew something.

Armstrong, B. C. is already planning for a big Dominion day celebration. The committee has asked the Mann cupholders to play a game of lacrosse there on that date.

Port Coquitlam gained a great number of soccer supporters at Saturday's game by the drastic action of the Mainland Football association. "While we would have liked to played the game for the benefit of our own supporters," said Matt Marshall, "at least we showed them that the matter of grounds makes little difference with us."

The Pacific coast amateur lacrosse league will hold their annual meeting in Victoria on Saturday, April 18. Before that date Dad Turnbull expects to have organized a local club and have the players out for practice.

Con Jones and Harry Cowan arrived back in Vancouver on Saturday after a trip across the Dominion to the British Isles. While in England they arranged for a visit to Canada of an English amateur twelve while plans were laid for a visit of two old country professional soccer teams in 1915.

British Golfer Defeated.
Pinehurst, N.C., March 15.—Miss Gladys Ravenscroft of England, the holder of the American woman's golf championship, met defeat today at the hands of Mrs. R. N. Barlow, former eastern champion. In the play-off of a recent tie in an invitation elimination contest under the auspices of the Silver Folds club. Aided by a handicap of five strokes, Mrs. Barlow won the 17th green.

Feds Get Another.
Raleigh, N.C., March 15.—Fred Anderson, Boston Red Sox pitcher last year, signed a contract yesterday to play for one season with the Buffalo club of the Federal league.

Regina vs. Grand Mere.
Regina, Sask., March 14.—The Allan cup games with Grand Mere will be played Monday and Wednesday. It is unfortunate that the big winter fair building is no longer available for the games as the accommodation in the auditorium is limited. The champions returned today in good condition and ready for a hard struggle in defence of their title—the cup isn't here yet.

Noted Catholic Priest Dies.
Chicago, Ill., March 15.—The Rev. Maurice J. Dorney, a noted Catholic priest, died here today. Death was due to paralysis, following heart trouble which attacked him a few weeks ago.

At Half Way Station.
Ottawa, March 15.—Parliament has now been in session for two months and the general feeling is that the half way point to the goal of prorogation has been reached. A four months' session is what has been talked about from the beginning and the general expectation is likely to be fulfilled. There is yet considerably more than half of the work of the session to be dealt with, including the more important legislation, the budget and the N. T. R. debate, the C. N. R. assistance in whatever form they may come; the bill for agricultural credits. The order paper probably will be cleared by May 15 or 20 at the latest.

Job for Newspaperman.
Ottawa, March 15.—At a meeting of the cabinet held yesterday a new king's printer was named to succeed the late Charles aPramlee, who before his appointment was Liberal member of parliament for Shefford, Que. For the first time in many years the post will be filled by a French Canadian, the choice having fallen on J. B. Dele Tache, newspaper publisher of St. Hyacinthe. He is a nephew of the late Archbishop Tache of St. Boniface.

MACKENZIE KING PLEADS FOR PEACE

Former Canadian Member of Parliament Speaks in New York on Peace Centenary.

New York, March 15.—Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, former Canadian minister of labor, addressed the Republican club of New York last week.

He said in part: "Happily in the affairs of men, there are movements which transcend the differences of party, and the detaching influences of nationality. Such a movement is the proposal to celebrate between the English-speaking peoples of the world a century of unbroken peace. To those who appreciate its spirit aright, the camp of a political enemy becomes for such purpose the sanctuary of his adversary, and foreign territory, common ground. It is an appreciation of this subject in the invitation which, as members of the Republican club of New York, you have so kindly extended to one who is in no way identified with your politics or country; a catholicity—of purpose and opportunity so wide that it permits the humblest to share with the most distinguished in furthering the highest end of our human existence—the promotion of peace on earth and good will towards men.

The Example of Pasteur.
 "Among the greatest men of modern times, as he was the most illustrious, perhaps, among the members of his profession in his day, was the French scientist, Pasteur."

"Here are Pasteur's words: "Two contrary laws seem to be wrestling with each other nowadays; the one, a law of blood and of death, ever imagining new means of destruction and forcing nations to be constantly ready for the battlefield; the other, a law of peace, work, and health, ever evolving new means of delivering man from the scourges which beset him.

Deserves Noble Efforts.
 "The movement to celebrate 100 years of peace may seem to many a matter of small concern. By some it will be derided, for there are 'two contrary laws wrestling with each other nowadays,' and those who are seeking to further 'new means of destruction' will not be eager to promote means, however slight, of 'delivering man from the scourges which beset him.' Yet it is precisely because this movement has in it the possibility of disclosing such a means, because it is in accord with that law which wrestles against blood and death, and which works for peace and health and deliverance, that it is deserving of the highest efforts of the noblest minds, and should know no limitation of party, race, creed or nationality.

"We on this continent have worked out an achievement, unparalleled hitherto in the history of the world. We hold in common an international frontier approaching 4000 miles in length, along the whole of which, on land or lake or river, scarcely an instrument of war is stationed or a sentry placed on guard.

"During the years 1812 to 1814 this frontier was a reflection upon civilization itself—the scene of enmity and hate between men who, though of the same origin and blood, yet participated in one of the great mortal conflicts of the world. Today, the same frontier is the crowning glory of this continent, for, with its absence of the paraphernalia of war, and the interlude of a century of peace, it marks the triumph of Reason over Force in the adjustment of differences in international affairs.

"This celebration of 100 years of peace affords an opportunity for a continent to place itself on record before the world, and if the peoples, whose privilege it is to share, in this mighty project will but rise to the high level of this sublime occasion, the celebration will be, not a series of perfunctory addresses on the horrors of war and the glories of peace, but a proclamation of achievement in human progress and international good will which will fire the imagination of the entire globe."

UNIQUE RACE

TO YOKOHAMA

Tamba Maru Beats Minnesota to Port by Forty Minutes—Weathered Storm Better.

Victoria, March 15.—One of the most singular races ever engaged in between steamship running in the trans-Pacific trade, started about three months ago when the Nippon Yusen Kasha liner Tamba Maru, Captain Teranaka, and the Minnesota, Captain Garlick, of the Great Northern line, cleared from the Sound, and the struggle resulted in a victory for the former by the small margin of 40 minutes. It was a most peculiar test of speed, and a terrific storm was the deciding factor, through the fact that the Tamba was able to make better weather of it than the great 600-foot ship.

Captain Teranaka, master of the Nippon steamship, upon arriving here from the Orient, told of the race which has no equal in the annals of the Pacific's history. The Tamba Maru left Seattle two hours ahead of the Minnesota, but she was forced to call in at Victoria and owing to the heavy sea on in the strait she had to go to Esquimalt and wait until the gale quieted down. The Japanese vessel lost five hours. The Minnesota proceeded direct to sea.

Heavy Storms Interfere.
 The first morning at sea the Tamba Maru was 20 miles astern of the big four-master, and each day she continued to drop farther in the wake of the Minnesota. Before reaching the 180th meridian she was 200 miles behind, and finally wireless communication was made impossible. A hurricane then broke and a terrific sea was stirred up. The wind and sea were both head on and retarded the Tamba to a certain extent, but she was kept plugging along at full speed. Several days later the Minnesota was picked up by wireless, and was but 40 miles ahead. The terrific weather had interfered with her progress materially, and the Tamba, making much better weather of it, picked up on her. The day before reaching Yokohama Captain Teranaka was pacing the bridge and he noticed the smoke of the Minnesota astern. The Japanese were anxious to beat the big ship into port, and full head of steam was crowded. The Tamba made quarantine just 40 minutes prior to the arrival of the Minnesota.

On the inward trip this time the two ships left Yokohama together, and the Minnesota succeeded in beating the Tamba to the Sound by nearly a day.

GAVE HIS LIFE TO SAVE HORSE FROM DROWNING

Ottawa, March 15.—An attack of pneumonia, contracted during his efforts to save his horse when it broke through the ice on the lake, caused the death of Joseph Bertrand, of Fort Coulonge, yesterday.

When Mr. Bertrand was driving across the lake with a heavy load last week the ice suddenly broke. Mr. Bertrand succeeded in jumping to firm ice, but on seeing his horse floundering helplessly in the cold water returned to the rescue.

After working almost an hour, and falling in the icy water several times himself, he succeeded in rescuing the horse. The man was then forced to walk half a mile in his wet clothes before reaching a house, with the result that he contracted pneumonia, and died in the hospital this morning. Mrs. Bertrand was in the hospital herself when her husband was brought in, awaiting an operation. She was able to see him for a short time before his death.

SUES SURGEON.

Vassar Professor Sues He Left Tube in Daughter's Throat.

Atlantic City, March 15.—Suit for $15,000 is being brought against Dr. Emory Marvel, a leading surgeon, by I. Woodbridge Riley, professor of English at Vassar college, who alleges that Dr. Marvel, after performing an operation on the throat of his four year old daughter, Katherine, failed to remove a rubber drainage tube from the incision. For nearly a year, it is alleged the little girl has been suffering. An operation by Dr. Penrose of Johns Hopkins hospital, was necessary to remove the rubber tube.

Prof. Riley charges gross negligence and carelessness on the part of Dr. Marvel. The girl was brought to Atlantic City and placed in Dr. Marvel's sanitarium and an operation performed two years ago.

Dr. Marvel was sued for $10,000 by the wife of Rev. R. Folsom, who alleged the surgeon had failed to remove a pair of forceps from her abdomen after an operation. The jury, after a sensational trial, returned a verdict of no cause for action.

Noblesse Oblige

Rank imposes obligations—
 or—as the French put it—"Noblesse Oblige."

It is a very natural and right principle that those who by their position in life command the respect of others should deserve it and be worthy of maintaining their position. "Much is expected of those in high station."

But this principle is not confined to persons of noble birth—it has a hundred applications. It applies, for example, to those manufacturers of reputation and prestige who make goods of high quality and who advertise them constantly in the newspapers of the land.

By their advertising they have attained an eminence where the very best in quality and good service is expected of them. They have set a standard and their very business life depends on the constant maintenance of it.

So that when you buy advertised articles you rest assured that you are getting the best value that money can buy.

Well may you place your faith in advertised goods. Well may you give them preference over articles which you can only hope may prove satisfactory.

For the principle of "Noblesse Oblige" is your guarantee of excellence in Advertised Goods.

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper. If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.

OPENING PRICES

GENERALLY HIGHER

New York Stock Exchange Sustained Strength Throughout Session and Closed Easy.

New York, March 14.—Opening prices in the stock market today were generally higher except in the case of New Haven, which lost a point. United States Express rose three points owing to the belief that as a result of dissolution and distribution of assets the shareholders would receive more than the market value of the stock. Smelting rose $\frac{3}{4}$ and Louisville $\frac{1}{4}$.

Some extensions of the initial gains were made with a broader enquiry for certain investment specialties. American Telephone gained 1% and North American 2%.

The market closed easy. Sustained strength was shown in today's half session. The general market withstood the pressure on New Haven at the outset, and the independent strength of many influential stocks impressed the shorts, whose buying forced the list higher.

New Haven made up its loss and other weak futures rallied. The decision of the federal courts ordering the dissolution of the bituminous coal combine weakened all the coalers toward the close. New Haven also sold off again, falling two points. Bonds were steady.

SLIGHT ADVANCES

AT MONTREAL

Sentiment More Cheerful, Although Trading at All Times Quiet—Half Point Gain.

Montreal, March 14.—Sentiment was more cheerful on the street today and as a result the market showed improvement generally. Prices showed advances of about $\frac{1}{2}$ point throughout the list. Trading was at no time brisk, in fact business was quite light, but at the close stocks were at the best figures of the day.

Montreal Power sold at 206 $\frac{1}{2}$, a gain of $\frac{3}{4}$ point; Brazilian Traction 82 $\frac{1}{2}$ was $\frac{1}{4}$ point higher; Laurentide at 187, a gain of 1 point. Crown Reserve was 1 point higher at 190; Montreal Tramway at 46 was unchanged. Canadian Pacific closed at 206, $\frac{1}{4}$ point above yesterday's final figure.

The market seemed to be rather bare of stocks and any demand was only satisfied at improved prices. The undertone was at all times good.

MANY MILLIONS, YET FEW CLAIMANTS WIN

London, March 15.—One million two hundred and fifty thousand pounds sterling is the total sum held by the court of chancery at the present moment.

The common idea, however, that a fortune may be obtained by a successful suit in chancery is mythical, for the million and a quarter is made up of no less than 3838 separate sums, of which the largest individual sum is £7000, and of these many have been lodged in court since the 18th century.

The official paymaster's office last week pointed out that the court of chancery annually received about 500 inquiries, a great majority from the United States, but very few claimants succeeded.

MUTT AND JEFF

ON TRAVEL BENT

Up-to-date Musical Comedy Will Be Staged at Opera House Thursday Night.

The new "Mutt and Jeff" is called "In Panama." In it, Bud Fisher's two comic characters lend their valuable aid in the formal opening of the big canal. This play represents a new era of musical comedy production, inasmuch as it embodies all of the elements of good entertainment, including farce comedy, extravaganza and drama, all shaped into a musical comedy of the approved sort. Gus Hill has given the new book a magnificent production from every point of view. The musical score is entirely new, from the fertile brain of Leo Edwards, who has a number of big successes already to his credit. Owen Davis and Bud Fisher wrote the story and, of course, the side-splitting antics of his brain people are of his own brand.

The scenic production exceeds anything ever offered in a play of this character, spectacular mechanical effects are shown which produce genuine thrills. The music is fully up to the standard of grand opera, costuming and dance numbers savor of the best Broadway ever knew, a chorus of girls who are really pretty and who know how to sing, dance and look bewitching give zest to the entertainment.

"Mutt and Jeff" has proven to be the most remarkable success of a decade and, contrary to predictions, its second season was even more prosperous than its first and the present year bids fair to excel either of the other two. Even though there is a well defined and interesting plot, it is at times hardly evident, so great is the laughter that follows every scene, however, it was designed for laughing purposes, first, last and all the time and when that end is accomplished "Mutt and Jeff" have fulfilled their duty. The new "Mutt and Jeff" comes to the opera house on Thursday night.

EDISON THEATRE SECURES SPLENDID NEW FILM

A thrilling story of romance and intrigue in connection with the invention of a new machine gun by a young man employed at an armament works, is told in a film entitled "Iron and Steel" to be presented at the Edison theatre today.

The story from which the play was dramatized runs as follows:

Herr Ludwig Kronitz is a king in his own works and rules with a controlling hand. He is known as the "Man of Iron." He has made a fortune out of the manufacture of guns, and is hard and unscrupulous. His character is shown by various little incidents around the factory. His daughter, Hilda, returning from a trip to America, meets John Smardon, a well-to-do young American, partner in some steel works. They fall in love, but Hilda does not hold out much hope, as she knows her father has other ideas. Carl Heiner, a workman at Kronitz's place, who has an invalid wife, has invented a new machine gun. Heiner tells his plans to Bopp, a tool of Kronitz. Kronitz sends for Carl and offers to buy the invention at a small price. Carl refuses and Kronitz then gives him the choice of selling or being discharged. He refuses. He cannot get work and he and his wife are in great distress. Half crazy with desperation, he goes to the works at night, meets Bopp, and, in a frenzy of rage, attempts to hurl him into one of the furnaces, but is frustrated by other workmen. He is sentenced to prison.

When Carl is released, he finds his wife dying. He casts the dust of the place from him and wanders forth, swearing vengeance. Kronitz having received an offer for his daughter's hand from a duke, rejects John's suit, but Hilda, while she will not marry John without her father's consent, says she will be true to him. John picks up Carl, fainting by the roadside, hears his story, and takes him with him to America, to his works. There, he patents Carl's invention. Kronitz, meanwhile, with the help of Bopp, and some experts, has reconstructed the gun, and comes to New York to interest American capital in it and make a fortune, but the tables are turned when he finds the gun already patented, and is brought face to face with Carl, and vanishes. He gives up the fight, admits Carl's rights to the gun, and to save himself, gives his consent to Hilda's marriage with John Smardon. Carl, for the sake of Smardon's friendship, forgives Kronitz and tries to forget his injustice.

"ARIZONA" FEATURE FILM AT ROYAL THEATRE TODAY

Augustus Thomas' greatest play "Arizona" will be the big attraction at the Royal theatre today and tomorrow. This well known play was produced in moving picture form by the famous Players' Film company and is the same as the "Arizona" which was shown at the Royal last Wednesday and Thursday. "Arizona" is in six parts including two hundred and ten scenes and an acting cast of one hundred and fifty people. To see this massive production in moving pictures will be even better than viewing the play itself. Well known plays are very popular to patrons of the "movies" on account of the wonderful detail work, part of which must be overlooked by the producer when putting a play of this kind on the stage. The performances will be continuous from 2 to 11 o'clock. Ernest Stevenson will sing at every performance.

NEW VAUDEVILLE BILL AT OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

Variety is to be the keynote of the new bill which the management of the opera house is offering to its patrons for the week commencing tonight.

There is plenty of mirth and music along with other good turns such as Edward Wheeler, the man in front of the camera, Kalem popular comedian, Van, Huffman and Van, the fashion plate trio, comedy singing and talking act; Miss Joe Loefer, singing and talking, and Butler and Lyons, cowboy fiddlers and dancers. This act is one of the best musical acts on the road and is a treat to those who enjoy good music.

Safe from Suffragettes.

London, March 15.—Valuable pictures in St. Paul's cathedral have been removed until the danger of attacks on them by suffragettes has passed. It was announced in governmental circles that no new steps would be taken to suppress suffragettes since the "cat and mouse" act was working so well that the militants were able to command the services of only seven women who were willing to commit outrages.
