WESTMINSTER TO BE INDUSTRIAL HARBOR

Capt. A. O. Powell Explains Aims of City to Progress Club.

Harbor to Be Paying Investment—Mayor Gray Speaks Also at Luncheon.

Comparison of New Westminster with Oakland, Cal., and Vancouver with San Francisco, was made by Capt. A. O. Powell, harbor engineer, when speaking before the members of the Vancouver Progress club at a luncheon in that city yesterday.

This was practically the first time that citizens of Vancouver have had the aims of the Royal City personally explained to them, and the appreciation for the able address was made apparent by the hearty applause which greeted the New Westminster engineer when he had finished.

The explanation that the captain gave regarding the reasons why the harbor scheme of New Westminster should succeed, after the harbor commission is appointed, is because the fundamental idea at the bottom of the harbor improvement is not to spend any money on the improvements unless those improvements ar self-sustaining, or, in other words, will immediately upon their erection commence making money. The captain explained that that was the reason why the waterway would not be completed for some time. The other part of the scheme was to branch out their wharfaeg along the river from Eighth street to the public market, some two hundred feet into the stream and rent this wharfage to smaller concerns. The wharfage front is all owned by the city of New Westminster and will pay the city revenue, whereas the waterway will be partly owned by the citizens and partly by private firms.

Industrial Harbor.

Capt. Powell fully explained the aims of the city of New Westminster in its harbor scheme. He compared Vancouver and New Westminster and their harbor schemes to those of San Francisco Bay. He said that San Francisco, like Vancouver, was chosen because it was near deep water, where no dredging would have to be done to get the ship in close to land. He said San Francisco was purely a commercial port, as was Vancouver, whereas Oakland was now undertaking extensive improvements to make its side of the bay an industrial harbor, and that was the object of New Westminster in their harbor improvements. Westminster was to be an industrial harbor, and not a commercial harbor as Vancouver is.

Capt. Powell explained the difference between a commercial and an industrial harbor. In his opinion a commercial harbor was one where the ship came up, unloaded and reloaded and the goods were immediately shipped away, there being no factory at hand to use them, whereas, in an industrial harbor the factory was close by, and after being unloaded the goods were taken to the factory a short distance away and used for manufacture. The captain also stated, perhaps as a hint to Vancouver, that New Westminster was the only city in British Columbia that had a complete harbor scheme.

Mayor Gray of New Westminster, also spoke on the same subject, closing his remarks with the assertion that New Westminster was ready to go hand in hand with Vancouver in any scheme that would tend towards the welfare of the whole peninsula.

THREE HUNDRED CONSERVATIVES MEET

Port Coquitlam, Sept. 10.—Three hundred Conservatives of this city and district gathered in the agricultural hall this evening where an excellent speechmaking program was gone through with, the most important of which was by Colonel J. D. Taylor, who told how British Columbia had been really placed on the map since the first meeting of the Ottawa house last fall.

Mayor Mars was in the chair and first introduced Colonel Taylor.

Game of Freeze-Out.

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—J. A. Ruddy, cold storage and dairy commissioner, left tonight for New York, Washington and Chicago to represent Canada as official delegate at the third international congress of refrigeration.

GRANTED SPECIAL LIQUOR LICENSES

Mayor Gray Pardons Applicants Who Did Not Advertise.

Of Seven Requests Only One Refused—Little Discussion at Last Night's Meeting.

The license commissioners sat last night, Mayor Gray presiding. The other members of the court were Alderman Kellington and D. Gilchrist.

There was little discussion, the licensed victuallers were there in full force and Rev. J. S. Henderson was present.

A license was granted to Sproule brothers for the Dunsmuir hotel, Eighth street, fully equipped with 66 bedrooms.

Joseph Travers was refused a wholesale liquor license.

The following licenses were granted subject to certain formalities to be complied with:

The Merchants hotel license from P. Root and J. A. Malm to J. A. Malm alone.

The Occidental hotel license, from M. Gowan to Justus Swanson and Adolph Hanson.

Special Permits.

The mayor in reality exercized his jurisdiction to grant special permits, it was a matter of advertisement.

Transfer Refused.

An application by a firm of lawyers for a license to transfer the license of the Depot hotel was met with something that looked like a contemptuous refusal.

The chairman asked Mr. J. Wise whether he was a consenting party to this proceeding, and Mr. Wise just as promptly replied that he was not.

There seemed to be some difficulty about the termination of the lease. At at any rate Mr. Wise will not be disturbed in his occupation of the hotel during his tenure.

Chief's Report.

The report from Chief of Police Bradshaw delivered in his absence by his deputy, Sergeant Bruce, acting in the capacity of license inspector, stated that there was one bartender fined $50 for supplying an Indian with intoxicating drink. The explanations of the man were such that the bench did not consider him guilty of knowing that he wilfully transgressed the law of half-breed or full blood. Therefore forgiven.

COUNCILLORS FIND ROAD UNDERMINED

Taking Legal Action to Protect North Road—New Justice of the Peace Named.

The Coquitlam council met yesterday afternoon and several important matters were dealt with. The constitution of the licensing board by the appointment of Councillor R. J. C. Atkins as a J. P. by Attorney General Bowser, was received with approval and the new justice of the peace received congratulations verging on hilarity.

But the most serious subject that the council had to deliberate upon was undoubtedly the threatened precipitation of the portion of the North road owned by the G.N.R. into the Burnaby abyss on the side contiguous to that municipality. A visit was made by the members of the council to the scene of excavating operations.

It was pointed out that the steam shovel was actually undermining the road and one of the workmen admitted that he had restrained his boss from blowing up a venerable stump that would have certainly taken down a portion of the roadway.

Broken fences, everything pointing to danger to life manifestly alarmed the reeve and councillors and the matter was referred to the municipal solicitor to take immediate steps to

OPINIONS DIFFER ON EFFECT OF NEW TARIFF

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—Opinions differ in Ottawa as to the probable effect on the Canadian producer and consumer of the new United States tariff.

At the Mathews-Laing head office, the assistant manager in the absence of Mr. Gray, stated that the removal of duty on Canadian goods means an increase of from one to two cents per pound in the price of beef to the Canadian consumer.

The view was also expressed that if the wholesale houses are forced to raise beef prices a cent or two per pound there is really no telling what the retailer may in turn charge the consumer. It may mean even three or four cents per pound more for beef to the householder.

A. C. Soper, manager of the Ogilvie flour mills, stated that the reduction of the United States duty from 25 cents to 10 cents per bushel on wheat coming from Canada would have practically no effect here.

"As a matter of fact," said Mr. Soper, "the United States has been free wheat for years. The 25 cents duty was given as protection to the miller. Now the American miller uses Canadian wheat only to improve the quality of his export flour. None is used for domestic purposes. And in the export flour business the American miller is given a rebate of almost 24 cents on his original duty of 25 cents. The rebate practically means free wheat, so that the new regulation should mean no change in prices.

MURDERS BY ESKIMOS MAY NOW BE THREE

Third Man Missing for Years and Search by R. N. W. M. P. Proves Fruitless.

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—The Evening Journal, in connection with the murder of the explorers, Radford and Street, by Eskimos, says that a strange coincidence is the belief that another man named Street who belongs to Aylmer, Que., has also perished or has been murdered in the Arctic. He has not been heard of for a considerable time and the mounted police are now hunting for him.

It was at first thought that this was the Street connected with Radford, but it has been ascertained that he is about 55 years of age and has been in the Arctic prospecting for a number of years.

DOCTORS BLAMED FOR DRUG FIENDS

Paper Read Before American Health Association Blames Doctors.

St. Louis Physician Announces Discovery of Cure for Hydrophobia—Quinine the Best Way.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 10.—That hydrophobia is curable by the use of quinine was the startling statement advanced by Dr. L. D. Harris, of St. Louis, before the American Health association today.

Dr. Harris submitted the results of a treatment of the rabies with quinine in accordance with the theory of Dr. Virgil H. Moon, recently announced, and gave his opinion from exhaustive research that medical science within a short time will have been entirely revolutionized with respect to treating this malady. He told of administering extravenous injections of quinine to a patient a short time ago and said that within a week the patient was discharged from his care.

Doctors to Blame.

Dr. C. E. Terry, health officer of Jacksonville, Fla., in a paper on drug habitues and their bearing on the public health and welfare, laid the blame for drug fiends upon physicians. He stated that 50 per cent. of drug fiends become so, through using drugs prescribed during illness, and declared that physicians are more dangerous than druggists in this respect. He favored state legislation against physicians and druggists, minimizing the practice of prescribing strong drugs to those addicted to their use.

Eugene C. Howe, of Wellesley college, read a paper on "hyziene and physical education," which was a thesis on the teaching of hygiene and the facilities of sanitary inspection in schools. He urged that more attention be paid to these questions in the public schools and colleges of the country.

SHOULD NOT COME TO CANADA IN WINTER

Chief Immigration Officer in London Advises People Without Homes to Wait Until Spring.

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—J. O. Smith, chief immigration officer for Canada in London, is in Ottawa for a day or two, after a trip through the Canadian west. He sails from Montreal for England on Friday.

Mr. Smith says that for the first time in seven years it will be the policy of the department this autumn and winter to confine the immigration movement to Canada to people who propose to settle at once on the land. Artisans will be advised not to take passage unless they are certain of work on this side of the water and those who are inclined to seek positions of any kind will be advised to wait until spring. Mr. Smith announced that it is the intention of the department to open a Canadian immigration office in Copenhagen, Denmark.

SEED COMPETITIONS SUCCESSFUL EVERYWHERE

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—The seed branch of the department of agriculture announces that the annual crop competitions conducted in all the provinces of the Dominion have been more than ordinarily successful. Last season there were 315 competitions but the number will be considerably larger this year.

A Former M. P. P. Killed.

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 10.—John A. K. Drummond, of the offices of Jas. Richardson & Son, was killed this morning when a C. P. R. freight train struck him as he was giving orders to have some cars loaded with coal. He was at one time a member of the Manitoba legislature.

THAW'S FREEDOM SEEMS LOST HOPE

Held in New Hampshire Jail With Jerome Hot on Trail.

His Praises of "Canadian Justice" Reversed When He Feels Jack Canuck's Boot.

THAW'S STATEMENT.

Thaw himself issued this statement tonight:

"What occurred under the English flag this morning is something I can't discuss, but we believe good Canadians will do what is right. Now I have come to New Hampshire, but only on my difficult way home to Pennsylvania.

"There is no honest legal charge against me and we trust New Hampshire won't accept any subterfuge from a few officials of a large state.

"We hope citizens of New Hampshire who won't be bluffed will write the governor.

(Signed) "Harry K. Thaw."

Colebrook, N.H., Sept. 10.—Harry Kendall Thaw, fugitive from Matteawan, slept on American soil tonight, barricaded in an hotel room here, after one of the most exciting days during his career.

Thrust unexpectedly over the Canadain border early today despite the writ of habeas corpus demanding his production before the court of king's bench in Montreal next Monday, he was a free man for three hours and during that time drove madly in an automobile for 50 miles through the hills of Vermont and New Hampshire. Near noon he ran into the arms of a New Hampshire sheriff and was taken to Colebrook, where he retained counsel to resist extradition.

Jerome on Trail.

William Travers Jerome, rushing hither on a special train, will assume charge of the case for New York state tomorrow, seeking to have Thaw, as a ward of the state, returned to Matteawan.

Meantime Thaw is detained, charged with no crime, held on no warrant. Fearing kidnapping at the hands of officers from New York he asked for a special guard and Chief of Police Kelley swore in 12 special constables, all armed. They are patrolling the streets about Thaw's hotel tonight.

In Court Today.

At 9:30 tomorrow morning Judge R. N. Chamberlain, of the superior court, will hear the application of Thaw's lawyers for a writ of habeas corpus. Application for the writ was made first this afternoon, but the judge being occupied with another case, said he could not then consider it. 8h fugitive has telegraphed lawyers far and near and purposes to fight the return to Matteawan to the bitter end.

No Wonder.

He is afraid of Jerome, however, and when he heard that his former prosecutor was coming asked for the special guards. L. U. Verhaus, of New York city, who it is said will conduct the battle against extradition, arrived tonight from Fabians, N.H. T. R. E. McInnes, of Ottawa, one of the framers of the Canadian immigration laws under which Thaw was so unceremoniously deported, also is here. He had arrived at Coaticook, Que., to consult with Thaw as associate counsel only to learn his client was gone. He denounced the deportation as contempt of court and said that proceedings had been instituted to punish those who had participated in Thaw's removal.

How It Was Done.

Thaw's removal from the immigration quarters at Coaticook was sudden and dramatic. Three mysterious men who said they represented C. J. Doherty, Dominion minister of justice, and acting minister of the interior, appeared before 8 o'clock, while Thaw was asleep. They woke him, commanded him to dress and after a struggle in which he tried to brain one of them with a glass tumbler, took him to the border.

Thaw screamed as they brought him down the stairs: "Don't let them kidnap me," he cried, "save me for God saks."

FATAL EXPLOSION ON U.S. TORPEDO BOAT

One Killed and Five Hurt by Accident Off Georgia Coast—Vessel Disabled.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 10.—One man was killed and five injured by an explosion today on the United States torpedo boat Craven, at sea. The Craven reached Scriven, Tybee island, late today in tow of the tug Cynthia.

The dead and wounded were removed to the Fort Scriven hospital. The revenue cutter Yamacraw went to Tybee island to tow the disabled vessel to Savannah. The Craven left Charleston, S. C., for this port early today.

Details of the accident have not yet been secured.

CITY FIRE SWEPT JUST 15 YEARS AGO

On September 10, 1898, Most of Westminster Went Up in Smoke—Prosperity Now.

Fifteen years ago last evening, on September 10, 1898, New Westminster was swept by the greatest fire in the history of the city when the entire business and a portion of the residential section was devastated by fire.

Anyone taking a glance at the present business section would have hardly believed last evening that practically every business house in the city was reduced to ashes fifteen years ago. Since then building operations have been carried on to the extent of fifteen to twenty million dollars with the end by no means in sight.

PERSONALITY LIVES AFTER DEATH

Sir Walter Lodge Makes Startling Statements Before Scientists.

Memory and Affection Not Limited to Their Earthly Manifestations—Discarnate Intelligence.

Birmingham, England, Sept. 10.—Speaking on the subject of continuity tonight before the British association for the Advancement of Science, Sir Oliver Lodge, president of the association, touched upon the question of life after death. Published forecasts of the address intimated startling statements.

Sir Oliver summarized hi his address and in his own words his argument was a marked feature of the present scientific era of the discovery and interest of various kinds of anatomism, so that the continuity appears in danger of being lost sight of.

Another tendency is toward comparative negative generalization from a limited point of view. Another is to take refuge in the vague forms of statement.

Another is to deny the existence of anything which makes no appeal to organs of sense and no ready response to laboratory experiments. Against these tendencies the author contends. He urges a belief in ultimate continuity as essential to science, he regards scientific concentration as an inadequate basis for philosophic generalization; he believes that obscure phenomena may be expressed if properly faced, and he points out that the non-appearance of anything perfectly uniform and omnipresent is only what should be expected and is no argument against its real substantial existence.

Life After Death.

In conclusion, Sir Oliver touched upon the questions of life after death. He declared his conviction that "occurrences now regarded as occult can be examined and reduced to order by the methods of science carefully and persistently applied," and that "already the facts so examined have convinced me that memory and affection are not limited to that association with matter by which alone they can manifest themselves here and now, and that personality persists beyond bodily death."

Sir Oliver further declared the "evidence to my mind goes to prove that discarnate intelligence, under certain conditions may in tract with us on the material side," and that "we may hope to attain some understanding of the nature of a larger, perhaps ethereal existence, and of the conditions regulating intercourse across the chasm."

MILITANTS IN ULSTER WANT VOTE

Feline Suffragettes Say Armed Resistance is Leaf Out of Their Book.

London, Sept. 10.—The Women's Social and Political union is planning to make things uncomfortable for Sir Edward Carson and his colleagues if they fail to make provision for votes for women in the national constitution they are now drafting for Ulster.

In a letter to the Ulster leader, the women put themselves on record as follows:

"You and your colleagues and supporters are forming an Ulster government and preparing armed rebellion as a protest against being brought under a system of government to which you do not give consent. It is precisely on the same principle that the militant suffragist organisation refuses to submit to a government without the consent of women, either in Ulster or in any other part of the kingdom."

Liberal Wins.

The Pas, Man., Sept. 10.—Dick Hall, candidate for election in Cumberland (Liberal), has a majority at Cumberland House. Five more polls to hear from are expected to increase his majority. He and Senator Davis are returning to Prince Albert today.

HALF HOLIDAY FIGHT ONLY JUST STARTED

Trades and Labor Council to Ask Co-operation of Vancouver Union.

Letter from B. C. Federation of Labor Not Favored by Most of the Members.

The half holiday bylaw, universal working card, oriental immigration, reports of the Labor day committee, and the breaking up of a deeply hatched plot formed one of the most interesting sessions of the Trades and Labor council held in a long time at a meeting in the Labor Temple last evening.

The egenda was bristling with features which in due time were brought up for discussion and acted upon.

Fight Just Started.

That the fight on the proposed half holiday for clerks has only just started, was made evident from the outset, and together with keeping up interest in the city, a special committee will journey to Vancouver in the near future where it will explain the aims of the New Westminster clerks and seek aid from the Terminal City council in order that the matter may be brought up at the next session of the legislature.

The representatives of the clerks, who are affiliated with the council, will in the meantime seek an interview with a committe composed of merchants and seek some solution in a way to allow the store employees half a day each week as a rest day.

Didn't Approve.

The B. C. Federation of Labor ran up against a snag when they asked the council, by means of a letter, to vote on the subject of a universal working card which would allow any member of a craft to interchange his card for one of another union.

A few supported the motion to adopt same, but their addresses were more than drowned by the number and able speeches against such a proposition.

Academic Questions.

A motion to have the communication filed started the trouble. Delegate Maiden in speaking against entertaining such a proposition, declared that the B. C. Federation of Labor appeared to be digging up academic questions as to what socialism really meant in one dictionary and what it means in another. They were continually inundating the different unions and trades councils with requests for a vote as to whether A is spelled with an A or an E, probably emulating the immortal Pickwick Papers where the judge asked Sam Weller whether he used a V or W in spelling name.

Costly Voting.

Delegate Dodd thought the object of the federation was for delegates to engage in chasing rainbows, mentioning the fact that it cost the street rail-

KAMLOOPS DISTRICT TO SHOW AT FAIR

Want Much Space to Exhibit Products—Langley and Salmon Arm After Dewar Trophy.

Definite assurance that Kamloops will enter a district exhibit at the provincial fair, which opens on September 30, was received yesterday by Manager MacKenzie in the form of an application for space.

Kamloops has successfully exhibited at the provincial fair for the past number of years, and although failing to capture the coveted Dewar trophy, which is awarded for the best district agricultural exhibit, the display from the metropolis of central British Columbia has always been the centre of much interest in the agricultural building.

Another exhibit was also assured yesterday when the Cariboo Agricultural and Horticultural association applied for space in which to display about 1000 pounds of vegetables and grains from Quesnel.

Competition for the Dewar trophy this year will be keen. Langley, winner of the first prize for two years, and Salmon Arm, of second prize for the past two years, will again be in the field and in addition an exhibit will be entered from Chilliwack.

BRINGS TALES OF SHUSHANNA

Charlie Fisher, a Postmaster from Yukon, Sightseeing Here.

Has Made Fortune in the Klondike—Owns Considerable Land in the Fraser Valley.

Visiting this part of the country for the first time in fifteen years, and at the same time breaking a vow that he remain at his post until 1935, New Westminster was visited yesterday by Charles Fisher, postmaster of Glen Boyle, Yukon district, and one of the best known men in the Klondike territory.

With him were Mrs. Fisher and their three daughters, age 8, 10 and 12 years, this, for the latter, being their first glimpse of the outside world, having been born and raised in the Klondike.

Mr. Fisher, Charlie Fisher, as he is better known to the northern men, brought tales of the new strike in the Shushanna district, informing The News that there is absolutely no doubt as it being one of the richest strikes that the country has ever seen and will be even better so when the deeper placer gold is located.

Not Hysterical Boom.

He does not want to boom the country and states that at the present time about 3000 miners are on the scene so that until the camp is well located and supplies have been taken there in any quantity, prospectors and gold miners had better stay away for a time unless they want to endure hardships which might be too much for them.

How it Was Found.

An interesting account of the discovery of the gold is given out by Mr. Fisher, as follows:

Two years ago three prospectors, Nelson, James and Best, found gold in the district, but at that time not in large quantities. Sluicing was done in boxes whipsawed by Y. Winkle, an old timer.

On March 9 of this year, while still prospecting they struck rim rock on

MEXICAN ENVOY AT WASHINGTON

Maintains He Is on Private Business But Officials Think Different.

Understood Mexico Is Favorable to Negotiations—May Ask for More Money.

Washington, Sept. 10—Senor Manuel de Zamacona, former Mexican ambassador to the United States, who is supposed to be charged with the task of re-opening the negotiations between the United States and the Huerta administration for a peaceful solution of the troubles in Mexico, remained in seclusion tonight with Senor Algara, charge d'affaires of the Mexican embassy.

Zamacona did not reveal the character of his mission. He maintained that he had come to the United States "on private business." From private sources it is known that the Mexican government made it known recently that if it would be agreeable to the U. S. government to have Senor Zamacona settle some of the points in dispute, it would be willing to do so.

Wants Loan.

It is understood Senor de Zamacona was in communication tonight with the Mexican authorities and prepared to be in New York to talk to American bankers about the prospect of a loan to the Huerta government.

No Word at White House.

About the White House it was stated that no word had been heard directly or indirectly from Senor Zamacona. President Wilson, in fact, is planning to leave here tomorrow afternoon for Cornish, N.H., the summer capitol, for a week's vacation. In that time it is believed Zamacont's status will be made clear.

ALL THIS GOES TO SHOW WHAT A QUEER THING THE LAW IS

Washington, Sept. 10.—The case of an American born goat which is visiting to Panama with a party of St. Paul Shriners and is now wanting to re-enter his native country at New Orleans, clogged the wheels of the federal government today. Public health officials refused admission to the goat.

"Why, this is not a foreign goat or a goat without a country, it is an American goat. Admit him," ordered Secretary MacAdoo.

The secretary was informed, however, that the secretary of agriculture must be consulted to determine whether the goat had contracted any disease. The goat now is up to Secretary Houston.

Law Won't Let Them Marry.

Sparta, Wis., Sept. 10.—Marriage is impossible in this thriving country of 50,000 people. Many of them are ready as soon as they can do so legally, but the law forbids it.

Two weeks ago the county clerk died. Since then there has been a deadlock in the election of his successor and until a new county clerk has been chosen there can be no marriage licenses issued and no weddings in Monroe county.

PROFESSOR TAFT ON JUDGES.

Comes one William Howard Taft, once a judge himself, later a president of the United States and now a professor and head of the American Bar association, with the assertion that, after all, the Canadian system is the best and judges should be appointed for life and not elected for terms.

Of course, since Professor Taft has been a judge himself and knows how it feels to sit up above the crowd and hand out justice, he is not to be contradicted lightly, but in the matter of appointing judges for life or electing them for short terms there is probably something to be said on both sides.

While it may make a judge feel more secure and more free to say what he thinks when he knows that his position is solid no matter what decision he hands down, still that very sense of security, if he is not a strong man, may possibly make him less careful than he otherwise might be.

Once a judge is appointed in Canada it's a hard proposition to "un-appoint" him as it were. He is put in as a solid fixture and his solidity is a fact, so that an occupant of the bench would have an opportunity, should he so desire, to do a whole lot of harm before he could be consigned to the discard.

Canada has had mighty little trouble with her judges, but this may be placed to the credit of the wisdom brought to bear in appointing them and not to the system upon which they are chosen for office. However, since Canada has had so little trouble and the United States seems to have had so much under the electing plan, it might be just as well to let our method run until somebody suggests a real improvement on it.

It's just a question whether the man who has too many friends is not worse off than the fellow who hasn't any.

If flying machines ever put the autos out of business the horse certainly will have a laugh coming at the expense of the chug-chugs that spoiled their career.

Judging from Lord Haldane's remarks concerning war and peace, it is evident that the lord chancellor doesn't believe the millenium will come before the Fraser river harbor work's completed.

A Chicago judge wants to know if the black band being worn by the fashionable ladies under their fashionable chins to keep on their fashionable hats is the dividing line between powder and complexion.

Now that Thaw has been put out of the country it might be a good thing to sprinkle some chloride of lime around Sherbrooke and Coaticook just to get rid of the smell of the last traces of the human limburger.

If a change is as good as a rest, then give your nerves a little respite from the Thaw-Mexican-China-Balkan news hash by scanning the latest from Ulster in the anti-home rule camp. Under the principle of British preference it's entitled to a little more attention anyway.

Every now and again you hear a story about a sea serpent having been seen ambling over the deep, but you don't often see an authentic portrait of one. It remained for the mate of a ship docking at Montreal to draw the first picture of one of these marine reptiles and, what's more curious, the papers printed it.

Fifteen years ago this morning New Westminster looked like a junk heap, the result of the most disastrous fire in the history of western Canada. Looking back over the trail shows the old town to have done so all-fired fast travelling since that September morn, when there wasn't much left outside of ashes, busted wires and smoke.

ANTI-HIGH PRICE LEAGUE TALKED

Hamilton Man Has Novel Suggestion For Cutting Down the Cost of Living

Hamilton, Sept. 10.—Some talk is heard of a new association being formed in East Hamilton. Just who originated the idea, or when and where it was conceived, is a mystery, but it was a matter of common talk on the streets yesterday, and the object is to force price of market products to a reasonable point. It was said in some quarters that the new association was another limb to the Progressive tree, but a number of the officers of that association who were interviewed by a reporter last night denied having any knowledge of it. All agreed, however, that it would be a good thing, and that they would be heartily in favor of such an organization and would lend their aid in any way possible to make it a success, whether it was a branch of the Progressive association or a separate organization.

Heartily in Sympathy

"Supply and demand regulate prices of almost everything," said one prominent east end citizen yesterday. "I have heard the talk about the new association and am heartily in sympathy with it because I honestly think the consumer of today is being held up every time he visits the market. When you attend a picnic, a circus or public demonstration where refreshment booths are located you always notice the price drops to two for a nickel when the demand lessens because of the crowd leaving. If diamonds were as plentiful as peanuts they would be just as cheap, and if the demand on the local market was not so nearly equal to the supply, the prices would be much lower. Under present conditions the consumer goes to the farmer, who is king on the market, and the king quite naturally gets every last cent he can, never lowering his price until the crowd dwindles and the demand lessens. If this condition of affairs was reversed and the producer was forced to seek the consumer, then the latter could be king and prices would be accordingly lowered. How would I bring this condition about? Well, it would be a very easy matter, and the plan proposed by the new association is that every member will pledge himself or herself from, on a date to be agreed upon, not to visit the market for a period of two or three weeks or perhaps a month. The moment this plan is put into effect the supply will exceed the demand, and the farmer will be forced to seek an outlet for his products by house-to-house peddling. This would prevent the working of 'price rings' now so much in evidence among the farmers on the market and bring present prices down to a reasonable basis. The same plan could be adopted in connection with the butchers, when meat prices go skyward. The members of the association could simply set a date, and from that time up to a certain period pledge themselves to refrain from eating meat. It might prove more or less a hardship to the lover of meat, but it would bring about the desired result, and not be nearly so much of a hardship as to see the last penny going out for household necessities at unreasonably high prices. One of the features of the proposed association is that women may become members, as well as men. If the association is formed, as I believe it will be, every last man and woman in Hamilton should join it and then elect a president and officers, whose duties dent and other oficers, whose duties would be to send out notices as occasions demanded, advising the members of the opening and closing date of any boycott they wished to conduct. Business men have their committees for mutual and personal protection. The public have been held up for high prices long enough, and it is high time they did something in protest themselves. The best way I know of to do this is to form the anti-high price league, and if the Progressive or improvement associations will take the matter up and push it along, I think there would be such a wave of enthusiasm sweep over Hamilton people as would swell the membership of the new organization to startling numbers."

REGINA REALTY FIRM VICTIMIZED

Smooth Confidence Man Gets to Real Estate Dealers for Sum of $12,500

Regina, Sept. 10.—There is one born every minute— and something else added.

The reason of the quotation is the news which has leaked out of a suprious transaction in real estate whereby a well known Regina firm was mulcted by two smooth artists to the tune of $13,000, or to be exact, $12,500.

Last week a man claiming to be a resident of the city went into one of the big offices of the city and listed a piece of property worth $13,000.

Shortly after the listing another smooth faced young man came in and asked for the property stating that he wanted it for a block. To show his good faith he handed in a cheque for five hundred dollars on a local bank which after examination proved O.K. A1, and all other marks. The cheque, in fact, was cashed.

This buyer, however, demurred at the price of $13,000 and asked the real estate firm to try and secure the property for a little less than the listed price. The firm communicated with the man who had listed the property only to find that he had received an offer of $13,000 from Chicago and was waiting for the money to arrive, having given the buyers in the American city twenty-four hours to decide and wire the money.

The buyer who wanted the property for a little less than $13,000 then stated that the delay would suit him as he wanted a few hours to decide, but he wanted it understood that every effort was to be made to land this property as he wanted it.

Within twenty-four hours the man who had listed in the first instance gave the information to the real estate firm that the Chicago deal was off.

Then the firm made arrangements with him and handed over $13,000 of good Canadian coin, thus becoming the owner of the property. They then looked up the buyer, but in a very short space of time both buyer and the man who had listed had decamped. Later investigation showed that the listing man did not own the property and the firm is out of several commissions, plus $12,500 which they paid out.

This smooth confidence trick is a repetition of the affair worked in Winnipeg about a month and a half ago.

WOMEN WALK TEN MILES TO WIN MAN'S BET

Brantford, Ont., Sept. 10.—Robert Davis, 20 Fair avenue, made a wager with his wife that she and her friend, Mrs. Alexander Anderson, who resides at 8 Webling street, could not walk the entire distance from Brantford to Hamilton in ten hours. Ten dollars was the amount of the stakes, to be divided equally.

The ladies left the local B. and H. terminal at 7:30 yesterday. Stopping only one hour for lunch by the way, the ladies arrived in the ambitious city at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, half an hour ahead of the scheduled time.

Asked how they felt like going on to Burlington, ten miles further, the ladies said they had just been trying to decide whether or not they should return foot or by the radial.

THE MANAGER'S CORNER.

Sir Joseph Beecham, known the world over as the head of the firm making Beecham's Pills, says: "We are the largest newspaper advertisers in the world. Last year we spent over $500,000, 98 per cent. of which was invested in newspaper and magazine advertising, almost all of this 98 per cent. going into newspapers. In the last ten years our firm has spent $5,000,000, practically all in newspaper advertising, and the fact that we are selling approximately a million pills a day for every day of the year counting Sundays, is the best proof that we find newspaper advertising pays us."

To the merchants of New Westminster this statement should be full of interest. Here is a man who has made an immense fortune through newspaper advertising, voluntarily giving credit to this form of advertising for the tremendous success which has accompanied his use of the daily press. He has found that the daily newspaper is by far the most effective advertising medium that he can employ.

THERE MAY BE NO CIGARS IN BARS

Government Tax May Have Effect of Increasing Sale of Liquor in Ontario.

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—Cigars may be banished from the bars in many hotels in Ottawa in the next few weeks, following a similar movement which was started a few days ago among the Toronto hotel men.

By the "temperance" legislation of the Ontario government it was decided to tax all bar receipts over $60 a day five per cent. The Ontario Licensed Victuallers' association protested in vain against the taxing of cigars, cigarettes and soft drinks. Hon. W. J. Hanna made the decree that all money over the stipulated amount should have five per cent. deducted for the provincial treasury.

"The matter of stopping the sale of cigars in the Ottawa bars will likely come before the next meeting of the Ottawa Licensed Victuallers' association for consideration," said Mr. J. K. Paisley, proprietor of the Grand Union hotel and president of the Hotel Men's association for the whole of Ontario today. "It is obviously unfair to levy a tax on the sale of smoking material, buttermilk and soft drinks in bars when any corner grocer may sell them without a percentage tax being charged. Besides it certainly does not encourage the cause of temperance. I do not sell cigarettes in the bar of my hotel at all because I have an antipathy to cigarettes."

Other hotel men point out that if they are forced by the special tax to discontinue the sale of such things as cigars, the use of liquor is likely to be increased, for many persons who now are able to take a cigar when some friends insists upon "treating" will have no such alternative then.

TURKEY TANGLE STAGGERS LONDON

Europe Still Worrying Over the Ottoman—Interesting Balance Sheet From Marconi

London, Sept. 10.—The Turkey tangle has come to stagger the city again and the situation is still cloudy, and that too, just at a time when we thought that Turkey was not going too far. Now it appears inevitable that Russia will move against Turkey, and then no one knows what will happen. Good city opinion inclines to the belief that Turkey will press on with all sails set until the last moment, when she will give way, but meanwhile everyone is holding his hand. Germany is undoubtedly sympathetic to Turkey and so is France. Indeed the latter country has already lent the Turks a million sterling, and proposes further loans, though city people who have been asked to take certain treasury bonds have declined to do so because they do not like the security, and have suggested that it should be modified so that it should be secured upon harbor dues, etc. from the ports of Asia Minor.

Anxious Days

The next few days must be anxious ones for many, but though the papers consistently report stock depression, there is a very strong undertone in the market which suggests that the big people are optimistic. Particularly is this the case in respect to Mexican and American business, while all things considered, Canadian issues are doing quite well. The present depression, though serious, is certainly not what would be expected if things were really as bad as they are being painted.

We ought to be grateful for interesting things during these dull days, so it is to be presumed that we ought to be grateful to the Marconi company for their kindness in providing us with the very interesting balance sheet which they have just issued. For three days we have been studying it, and even now we do not know how they make the profit. We should want the ledgers and papers of the company to learn what is really trading profit and what is really—the term is not meant offensively—Manipulation profit. And even then we might not be any the wiser. A certain amount of profit can be traced as dividends from subsidiary companies, but for the rest, well, an accountant would be lost. Meanwhile the immediate effect of the publication of the balance sheet has been a jump in anything bearing the name Marconi. Someone is making pots of money again out of these curious shares, and it is earnestly to be hoped that no investors are buying for keeps. Patents all investors should fight shy of; you may, it is true, let a good thing slip by through so doing, but you stand a far better chance of merely missing a stunner, and this is particularly true of Marconi or wireless patents.

Peculiar Season

Underwriters have had a peculiar season. They have had to take up an unprecedented amount of stock, instead of, as is usual, getting money for nothing, but many of them are now quietly placing their holdings at a slight premium so that it is probable they will finish the year well up. Just at present, however, they are not anxious to take on further obligations unless they are absolutely of the highest standing. If someone would assassinate Enver Bey to whose vanity the last Balkan embroglio is due, we might start the world of finance again as pleasantly as we had hoped a week ago, for there are all the necessary ingredients ready for a prosperous autumn.

PLANTIUM LIES IN LARDO RIVER

Such is Belief of Owner of Gold Dredge Now At Work in Upper Country

Kaslo, Sept. 10.—That platinum as well as gold exists in the bottom of the Lardo river valley, is the belief of C. H. Buschner, of Philadelphia, Pa., owner of a gold dredge which has been working successfully all the summer at Goldhill, a point on the Lardo river, some forty-five north of Kaslo.

In proof of his assertion, Mr. Buschner, who was in Kaslo a few days ago, en route east to purchase more machinery, was exhibiting a small glass phial containing a colored dust, with bright specks liberally sprinkled through it, and said to contain platinum by some who have some knowledge of the appearance of that metal. Mr. Buschner has had no assays made yet, but claims that he has satisfied himself by a chemical test that the strange looking material in the little bottle contained platinum values.

Mr. Buschner also exhibited a number of small bottles containing gold dust and small gold nuggets, samples of the precious metal that his dredge is now saving from the boulder strewn bed of the turbulent Lardo river.

A New Problem

"We are now taking sand and dirt from ten feet below the surface," he said, "and as we have gone deeper the values have been perceptibly increasing and now we are working into the black sand, which is very rich. But this brings with it a new problem, for it requires a slightly different method of treatment from which we have been following and special machinery will have to be installed on the dredge to accomplish this. I am now on my way east to purchase this additional machinery which will be used in treating the black sands and our by-products. I expect to return early in October and as soon as the plant is in shape we will keep it running day and night until the middle of December, when we expect to close up for the winter. Next spring we hope to make an early start and will thereafter, if at all possible, operate steadily right through the succeeding winters as well as other seasons."

Up to the present, Mr. Buschner sated, the dredge has done a little better than pay its operating expenses and other incidental expenditures and has been working under a handicap on account of short shifts, changes surface dirt only and other things of a similar nature can only be expected at the outset of a new enterprise of this nature.

One handicap that is forcing a temporary shut-down, is the cost of fuel, wood having been used heretofore, since the dredge was put into operation in the spring. It is proving an expensive item, however, on account of the cost of labor and as soon as the present quantity on hand is used up the dredge will close down until the proposed improvements are made, after which coal will be used for fuel, as it is quite clear that this method of securing power will be much more economical.

Big Dredging Lease

Mr. Buschner holds a dredging lease of three and a half miles along the Lardo river, and this ground carries gold wherever tests have been made. Most of it is very fine, too much so for handling by ordinary placer mining methods. That there are miles and miles of such ground that can be profitably dredged there can be no doubt, and if the existence of platinum in commercial quantities is demonstrated, the whole river valley should see the commencement of an era of tremendous activity within a very short time that will probably eclipse the famous Poplar rush of several years ago.

VICTORIA PIONEER DIES ON WAY HOME FROM EUROPE

Victoria, Sept. 10.—J. P. Burgess, a leader of the ever-thinning band of the Victoria pioneers of '62, passed away Monday at the Windsor hotel, Montreal, from prostration, following acute nausea and general debility, which developed on the voyage across the Atlantic on a return trip from Europe.

The news, which was received yesterday by his relatives, came as a considerable shock to the hundreds of friends who knew Mr. Burgess as a man whose splendid health negatived any expectation of an early death.

After coming to the city Mr. Burges spent several years prospecting in the Cariboo and Omenica districts, eventually settling down in Victoria in 1872 as a general contractor, a profession which he actively followed until about a year ago.

Mr. Burgess was an active worker for the Conservative party, and although time and time again he refused to be a candidate for office, or even to accept any nomination on the several important committees of his party, yet his services and his resources were always at the disposal of the party, which he actively supported until the end.

COME CARNIVAL

It Was Joyous Affair But Leaves Victoria $10 000 in Debt.

Victoria, Sept. 10.—What may be described as the carnival aftermath is now engaging the attention of the Victoria Citizens' committee in the form of the audited statement of their accounts by Messrs. Ismay and Grimison. The statement reveals a deficiency of $10,000.

Just what steps are to be taken by the committee to meet their various obligations have not been decided upon, but it is believed that a vaudeville entertainment will be arranged for about the end of the month to take place at, probably, the Arena. This entertainment will be of an essentially public nature, everyone being invited to take part and the admission fee will be in all likelihood be fixed at not more than the statutory dollar. It is claimed that with the publication of the audited accounts of the committee in connection with the carnival, the public will be induced to respond along the line suggested.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lease will be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY, Deputy Minister of the Interior.

BAKERS TO WEAR WHITE GLOVES

New Health Regulations in Toronto—Street Noises Also Are Dealt With

Toronto, Sept. 10.—Ordinances for the prevention of noise at night, and for the sanitary handling of bread and similar food stuffs have been issued by the health department. Unnecessary noise is prohibited between the hours of 10 p.m. and 7 a.m. Bakers and bread wagon drivers will have to wear white gloves when they handle bread. The ordinances say:

The Ordinance

"Whereas it has been repeatedly demonstrated that the human hand is a common source of the spreading of the germs of communicable disease, it is hereby ordained that no person, firm or corporation engaged in the delivering of bread, buns or any other bakery product from any wagon or other conveyance, push cart or basket without first protecting the hands from coming into contact with the same by the wearing of a pair of white cotton or linen laundered gloves, which must be used for no other purpose than that of the handling of bread, buns and other bakery products, and must be kept at all time in the bread basket, excepting when in use, and laundered at least twice a week; provided, however, that a pair of small plated tongs, or other instrument to be approved of by the medical officer of health may be used with which to handle the bread or other bakery products; provided, however, that this ordinance does not apply to bread, buns or other bakery products that are properly wrapped in waxed paper. The handling of bread or other bakery product, or any other food that is not going to be cooked for human consumption, and the testing of butter, and cheese, excepting with individual testers, is hereby prohibited.

Street Noises

"Inasmuch as there are many unnecessary noises in our city between the hours of 10 p.m. and 7 a.m., and that aforesaid noises are prejudicial to public health, in consequence of their interfering to a greater or less degree with the necessary rest of many of our citizens, it is hereby ordained that the producing or causing of any unnecessary noise or noises between the hours of 10 p.m. and 7 a.m. in the city of Toronto is hereby prohibited."

HON. DR. YOUNG SEES REMARKABLE PROGRESS

Victoria, Sept. 10.—After completing a somewhat extensive tour of the lower mainland with a view to studying the educational and other conditions of the people of the various communities, Hon. Dr. Young, provincial secretory and minister of education, has returned to town and expresses himself as more than astonished at the wonderful growth in population, as manifested in the ever-increasing demand for school accommodation, and also in the greatly enlarged area of land brought under cultivation.

As a portion of the minister's tour was made in a motor car, he was able to take in a view of the surrounding country that would not have been possible for him by the regular train travel, and, in addition to what observation taught him, he made a point of meeting all the official people of the places he visited and learned from them the more intimate details of development.

One thing that struck the minister was the remarkable growth of the fruit industry, and the increasing tendency towards co-operative methods in the matter of shipment to market. Without suggesting that things were ideal in this regard, the minister observed that there were indications of tremendous promise, and that the next few years would in all probability bring to fruition some system of co-operation in packing and shipping whereby one of the greatest obstacles to the industry as at present practised would be permanently removed.

CIRCUS LEOPARD BELIEVED TO HAVE KILLED CHILD

Crookston, Minn., Sept. 10.—Weary and worn, with torn clothing and faces bleeding from scratches, the 300 searchers for the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Ganthern early today renewed their search through the woods about the town. No trace of the child has been found.

The belief has grown steadily that a leopard which escaped from a circus a few weeks ago, and has since wrought death among the cattle and dogs in the vicinity, has seized the child. When the search was taken up today fifty-six hours had elapsed since the child disappeared.

All day yesterday the searchers crashed through wood and brush, meadows and swamps, and over hills. The heat was terrific, and many were exhausted. Bloodhounds from Mankato are on the scene, and there are hopes that they will discover the trail.

An entire cheese and two boxes of crackers formed all the dinner the searchers had yesterday, and after going deep into the woods they were without water for hours. Rev. C. Hodgson is leading the hunt, and many women are keeping in line.

EVIDENTLY A MAYOR CAN CAN AN EMPLOYEE

Victoria, Sept. 10—After nearly a two hours' debate during which personalities were freely indulged in, motives attacked, and the general air of the discussion given a bear-garden tint, the while aldermen and mayor vied with each other to express their sole and unadulterated desire to do their "duty" as their oath required they shall do, as "representative of the people," Miss. Cameron, stenographer in the city clerk's department was dismissed by the city council on Monday evening. All the comic opera effects, which have been featured on previous occassions in city council proceedings, were present and there was not lackin ga large audience, whose repeated infractions of the rules of council procedure passed unchecked by his worship, his mild rebukes seemingly being ignored.

STAR SHIPYARD BUILDS LARGE TANK

B. C. Transport to Distribute Fuel to Oil Burners in This Port—Tank Finished This Week.

At the Star shipyards a large oil tank is being built for the B. C. Transport company and will likely be completed before the end of the present week.

The tank is to have a capacity of 180 barrels and is being built to supplay oil to the many oil burners now in this port. It will be mounted on a special scow and elevated some eight or ten feet above the deck, thus obviating the necessity of pumping when discharging oil.

This, it is expected will be used to furnish fuel for the city dredge John A. Lee and likely to other craft owned by the city and goverament. There now seems to be a decided tendency toward installing oil burners in vessels and the city dredge, tug Hero, as well as others are being thus fitted.

At the Star shipyards the tug Stranger is also being overhauled. She is now on the ways and her hull is being inspected.

AMERICAN CUTTER WAS ICEBOUND

Gets Safely Out of Bad Predicament in Summer Pack in Far North

Seattle, Sept. 10.—For eight days the United States revenue cutter Bear was imprisoned in the Arctic ice pack and driven north at the rate of a mile an hour between grinding bergs that threatened her destruction. She sprung a leak and when the fury of the northern winds increased to a gale, all hands thought that the last hour of the famous old cutter had come.

The Senator, whice arrived yesterday from Nome brought this news and the further information that Point Barrow was ice bound in the summer for the first time in five years. Twenty five miles south of Point Barrow the Bear was in her worst predicament. It was here the ice descended upon her and the ice pierced her hull forward below the waterline.

"All hands were on deck ready to take to the ice," said J. V. Gary, who with Mrs. Gary, had for the last three years conducted the government school at Ice Cape. To come outside they were compelled to board the Bear on her northern cruise. "The natives aboard were certain the ship would sink. After three hours of strain we came through and dropped anchor in the open sea five miles north of Barrow.

Profitable Year for Natives

"From this location the visits to Barrow were made by whale boat. The natives were in good condition and no more than the usual amount of sickness had been exeperienced during the summer. It was a profitable year for them, as the polar bear were numerous. We were obliged to wait a week for a northeast wind to open the ice so wecould proceed south. We put into St. Lawrence Bay, Siberia, for shelter, while we repaired the leak in the bow. It was small, but enough to make one nervous.

"Lying in behind Seahorse Islands, the schooner Transit, commanded by Capt. John Backland, the well known Arctic trader, was also held by the ice and had not reached Barrow when we left. A favorable wind, however, sprang up immediately after, and I think she must have made the point about August 26.

"The steamer Karluk, of the Stefansson expedition got through before the freeze and passed Point Barrow August 8. The whaler Belvidere, commanded by Capt. Cottle, which was chartered by the expedition to carry freight into the Arctic, got through August 17. The little steamer Alaska, with Stefansson aboard, was locked in the ice near the Seahorse Islands.

"The Bear on her Arctic cruise called at Kotzebue, Kivalina, Point Hope, Ice Cape, Wainwright and Barrow."

B. C. P. LEAVES HALIBUT RUN

This Fall She Will Bring Salmon from Up Coast to This Port for Cold Storage.

Until next year the steamer B. C. P., Capt. Brown, of the B. C. Packers' will be withdrawn from halibut fishing, in which she has been engaged for some time, and from now until late in October she will bring salmon to the cold storage plant here from northern waters.

Yesterday the B. C. P. arrived in port with 1100 cohoes and dog salmon, and these are to be put in storage. The fish were brought from Comox harbor and Tobie Inlet, some 140 miles up the coast.

It will be next year before the B.C.P. resumes her trips to the halibut grounds, according to a company official.

CHARTER FOR LUMBER NOT GIVEN YET

Holt Hill Will Not Take Large Cargo from the Fraser Mills to Australia.

At present no vessel has been chartered by the Fraser Mills to take the large cargo of lumber sold in Australia to that country, and officials of the company say that they are unable to give any definite announcement.

It was thought a short time ago that the bark Holt Hill would come here for this cargo, but this is denied. The Holt Hill lost her charter outward from Hastings mills, Vancouver, and although by some the captain is said to have intimated in Victoria that he would take lumber out from Fraser Mills, and that lumber ports were being built in the vessel, he must have been off his reckoning, as far as this port was concerned.

Some men along the waterfront are also counting on one of the Blue Funnel liners coming to take the cargo, but the statements of the company's sales manager sets their opinions at naught.

OBJECTS OF A.F.OF L. TOLD BY PRESIDENT

At House Lobby Investigation Gompers Admits Efforts to Influence Congress.

Washington, Sept. 10—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Lamor, appeared late today as a witness before the house lobby investigating committee beginning an inquiry into organized labor's efforts to influence legislation by congress.

Mr. Gompers, questioned by his attorney, Jackson H. Ralston, gave the committee a detailed statement of the aims and purposes of the American Federation of Labor, frankly told of its efforts through an executive committee to influence congress toward the enactment of legislation favorable to the workers, and declared that in this effort opposition of the National Association of manufacturers always had been encountered.

"The only evidence that I and my colleagues ever have had as to the existence of the National Association of manufacturers," he added, "was vindicative antagonism to everything we advocated, no matter how humane."

At the outset of testimony Mr. Gompers was asked to state the aims of the American Federation of Labor.

"It aims," he said, "to relieve the working people from burdensome long hours of toil; to protect them in their work, protect their lives and health; to improve their material, moral, social and political standing; to bring about a better condition for the toilers of our country as a reward they render to society."

MUST EXPLAIN WHY HE DEPORTED I. W. W.'S

Salem, Ore., Sept. 10.—Robert O. Graves, prominent attorney of Marshfield, has been ordered to appear before the supreme court on Oct. 17 and show cause why he should not be disbarred for alleged activity in connection with the forcible deportation of J. W. Edgeworth and two other Industrial Workers of the World from Marshfield on June 25. The complaint against Graves was made by C. H. McLaughlin, and alleges that Graves was spokesman for and leader of the deportation squad.

Would Arbitrate.

St. Louis, Sept. 10.—After an investigation of the local strike of 1900 men and women garment workers, C. B. Dyzart, chairman of the state board of mediation and arbitration, admitted that all efforts on the part of the board to end the strike had ceased because neither strikers nor employers were willing to arbitrate.

C. P. R. Reduces Working Hours.

Winnipeg, Sept. 10.—Because all the extra work in preparation for putting rolling stock in first class condition to handle the crop movement is now accomplished, the Canadian Pacific railway from today are reducing hours in its western shops from 8 a.m. to 7 a.m. and working days are from six to five days a week.

World's Markets

WINNIPEG WHEAT MARKET SLIGHTLY EASIER

Winnipeg, Sept. 10.—Wheat markets were slightly easier on lower Liverpool cables and expected heavy movements in the near future, firming at the close. There was a good cash demand for all grades of wheat, but few offerings on the market, although receipts are increasing. Cash oats were also in demand, while barley was quiet and prices declined. Flax was slow and fluctuations narrow.

Winnipeg wheat opened unchanged to 1-4 lower and closed unchanged.

American markets were easy in sympathy with coarst grains.

Minneapolis opened unchanged to 1-4 lower and closed 1-8 to 1-2 lower.

RISE IN NEW YORK STRENGTHENS LOCALS

Stocks on Montreal Exchange on Upgrade—Forward Movement Embraces Several Isues.

Montreal, Sept. 10.—Assisted by the strong tone in New York local stocks were generally on the upgrade today and the forward movement embrased several issues which have been of little prominence in the recent trading. Among these were Toronto rails, which rose nearly three points to 142 7-8 and closed 142 bid or two points higher than the previous day. Dominion Bridge which scored a four point advanced to 122 and closed at the high; Soo which rose two points to 136 were features. Bank of Commerce shares were also strong features rising three points to 208 and closing at 208 1-2.

UNION PACIFIC CAUSES RISE

New York Stocks Moved up—Union Pacific Goes up Four Points.

New York, Sept. 10.—Stocks moved upward today with Union Pacific in the foreground. It was largely around this leader that the market revolved. Although several influences contributed to the strength of the list, the advance in Union Pacific which for a time was the chief agent of focusing activity on the long side. The rise in that stock of four points, although equalled by some of the minor issues, was much in excess of the gains by the other active securities.

It was the direct outcome of the report that a cash bonus would be distributed to Union Pacific shareholders.

Since the sale by Union Pacific of its holdings of Southern Pacific various reports have been circulated in the street as to the probable disposition of the receipts. The rumor that a cash distribution would be ordered was reported today and although it lacked official confirmation was the principal cause for the advance of the stock.

P. S. Lovett, executive head of the road, declined either to confirm or deny the report. Shorts found the floating supply of the stock scant and therefore ran up the price rapidly.

Bonds were irregular with narrow changes. Total sales, par value, $1,750,000.

United States twos and fours and Panama twos declined 1-4 on call.

DISCOUNT RATES FIRM IN LONDON

London, Sept. 10.—Money was plentiful and discount rates were firm today. The stock market developed a more cheerful tendency under fresh buying and bear covering. The rally which started in American shares and copper stocks extended to the other sections, even home rails participating and closing higher. Better labor news helped gold mines, but Japanese bonds eased off. American securities opened steady with prices around parity.

Union Pacific was the feature of the trading. The stock advanced a point during the forenoon and later jumped two more points on New York buying. The rest of the list hardened in sympathy and closed firm.

BARCELONA TRACTION SPRINGS TO LIFE

Toronto, Sept. 10.—The bulls showed signs of coming to life in the local stock market today and it developed more activity as a result of their efforts. Toronto rails were conspicuous with a fair amount of buying. Barcelona traction sprang to sudden life, with sales around 34. It is a Pearson stock, listed here for years, but not hitherto dealt in. Spanish River was quite active, but did not change in price much and there was quite a lively general market.

In the banks a sharp rise to 210 by Commerce shares was the feature.

HON. CLIFFORD SIFTON NOT TO RESIGN

When He Does Paid Chairman Will Be Appointed.

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—The report that Hon. Clifford Sifton will retire from the chairmanship of the commission of conservation is not generally credited here. Members of the government and officials of the department say that if Mr. Sifton intends to drop out he has not yet said anything about it. It is generally believed that he will continue in the post for some time to come. When Mr. Sifton does drop out, be it soon or late, it is likely that a permanent paid chairman will be appointed by the government.

Millionaire on Trial.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 10.—George H. Bixby, Long Beach millionaire, will be placed on trial tomorrow in the superior court here on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of Cleo Helen Barker and Marie Brown Levy.

B. C. FRUIT FOR B. C. CONSUMERS

Want British Columbians to Patronize Home Growers—Woman Suicides with Acid.

Vancouver, Sept. 10.—Within the next few days every member of the board of trade will receive a letter asking that each one do all in his power to help out the British Columbia fruit growers by using,insofar as possible, only fruit grown in the province. The letter points out that any money sent down to the fruit growing districts in the United States does not help to develop this province, whereas money spent here helps British Columbia and British Columbians.

By Carbolic Route.

Mrs. Clara Faas, 20 years of age, committed suicide yesterday by drinking carbolic acid. She lived with her husband, a private detective, at 1156 Davie street, and apparently was in good spirits when he left her yesterday morning. Later in the day Mrs. Slater, the landlady, on going to the Faas apartments, found the young woman writhing in agony on the bed, while an empty poison bottle was on the floor near by. Medical aid was secured, but help arrived too late. Coroner Jeffs decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Accident Victim Buried.

The funeral of the late Isaac Dowding, who was injured when he was pinned beneath a load of lumber a few weeks ago, and who succumbed to his injuries on September 6, was held yesterday from the family residence, 1912 Keefer street. He left a wife and six children. The deceased was born in Grey county, Ontario, and came to British Columbia 23 years ago. He was employed on the C. P. R. for 18 years, and for the past five years was employed as a teamster by the Canadian Pacific Lumber company. A large delegation of Orangemen and members of the Burrard court of Independent Order of Foresters attended the funeral.

Ayrshires Meet.

The first annual meeting of the Vancouver Ayrshire society was held on Monday evening in the Labor temple. About 100 persons from the land of Bobbie Burns were present. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, R. McKendrick; vice-presidents, J. G. Osborne and W. Alexander; secretary, H. D. Simpson; treasurer, T. L. Taylor; executive committee, R. Paul, Dr J. M. Robertson, J. V. Douglas, Miss P. Brisbane, J. White, F. Woods and H. J. McEwen. After the election of officers a most enjoyable concert was held, a fine program being well rendered by Mrs. Paul, Miss M. McLellan, Miss Paul and Messrs. W. Tyre, W. Alexander, J. Proctor, A. Godfrey and C. Godfrey. The duties of accompanist for the evening were in the hands of Miss E. Wainman.

Liberals Score Government.

At a meeting of the city and district Liberal executive, held yesterday in Dominion hall, Ralph Smith, ex-M.P., scored the Dominion and provincial governments for their lack of success in settling the miners' strike on Vancouver island.

Looks After Forest.

George D. McKay, superintendent of forest fires protection service, left the city yesterday on a visit of inspection to Campbell river. He is expected back in the city again on Saturday.

SHOULD SET CANADA THINKING

Will of English Peer Contains Food for Thought for Moulders of Dominion's Destiny.

London, Sept. 10.—Truth, in its current number, alludes to the will of the late Duke of Cumberland which, in its opinion, contains one passage that should set commissions thinking.

"This astute nobleman," says Truth, "like a number of other prominent persons, selected with extreme care certain properties in the Dominion, doubtless with a view to their increment. I have often been astonished by the cheery optimism with which Canadian statesmen are alienating for all time freeholds of their vacant territory, thereby reproducing for future generations the very land problems which are the bugbear of Europe today."

FOUND DEAD UNDER AUTO WITH HIS NECK BROKEN

Liberty, Sask., Sept. 10.—About 5 o'clock on Tuesday morning when J. W. Tripps, who lives four miles east of Penzance, looked out from his place he caw a car overturned on the road, and on investigation he found the body of a man under it. This proved to be the body of E. C. Grant, a farmer who resides about six miles west of Penzance. Mr. Tripps got assistance, and Constable Wunsch, R. N. W. M. P., and Coroner Waugh, of Imperial, were summoned. The deceased was on his way to take the four o'clock train for Regina, and it is known he started without lights.

Coroner Waugh attended and held an investigation in Deacon's Hall, Penzance, at four o'clock in the afternoon. The evidence given shows that, judging from the appearance of things when the body was found that Emery Grant had been traveling at a high rate of speed and had evidently struck a stone, which broke the steering gear and caused the machine to swerve around in the ploughed land and turn over to the opposite way in which it had been going. Grant was found with the seat of the machine across his body. He had his neck broken, his arm broken in two places and his shoulder broken.

Coroner Waugh decided not to hold an inquest, and gave a certificate of death by accident.

Where the affair occurred was about four miles from Penzance.

TANGO BANNED FROM YACHT CLUB DANCES

Hamilton, Sept. 10.—These are exciting times for the Royal Hamilton Yacht club members. You know the jolly Jack Tar dearly loves a little excitement, and this always applies to the verandah sailors, who are so prominent among the members of the R. H. Y. C., especially if said excitement gives them a chance for some talk, for the verandah type of A. B. is strong on talk even if he is short on seamanship. Friday night and Saturday these jolly chaps got their chance when a mild tempest was stirred up by the announcement made by the house committee to the effect that the tango dance would not be allowed at any more of the club dances. Notices were posted around the club house to this effect, and naturally caused a mild stir in some quarters, a laugh in others, a bitter denunciation in others. When asked this morning as to the reason for the suppression of the tango, most intoxicating of dances, they say, Commodore Nennox stated: "We decided to place the ban on the tango simply because some people had so far forgotten themselves as to turn the dance into a vulgar exhibition. The tango, when danced correctly, is a beautiful dance with no room for objection, but you will usually find one or two in every crowd who have to go a little further than the others and it was on account of the proverbial one or two that we had to forbid this particular dance. Our decision has caused some talk, of course, but we think we took the proper course. In any event, we have only a couple more dances this season, and the tango won't be missed."

protect the interests of the citizens. Why Burnaby's engineer has not realized the situation is a cause of amazement to the Coquitlam council.

Another matter was the very vexed question of the city hall and offices.

Maillardville has been dropped so far as the Lamoureaux property is concerned.

A committee consisting of Reeve Barth, Councillors Foster, Mounce, Martin, and in the possible absence of the latter, R. J. C. Atkins, was appointed to go into the whole subject. Maillardville and its advantages, accessibility and otherwise were dwelt on with unction by all the committee with the exception of Councillor Martin, who was eloquent upon the desirability of the Burquitlam agricultural hall. The Burquitlam society should be approached with a view of converting one or two of the side rooms into the municipal clerk's offices.

Of Different Opinion.

Here Councillor Foster ran athwart Councillor Martin's bows; was there any guarantee that the society would give sufficient privacy to Mr. Halliburton in his official duties?

Undaunted Councillor Martin said he was talking about what he knew. He was a director of the society.

However, it was very evident that the offer of offices in Maillardville at the rent of $15 a month will be the selection of the committee which will meet on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

There the much debated question of where the civic centre of Coquitlam shall be well threshed out and settled for the committee have been granted power to act.

It was announced that the telegram from Attorney General Bowser, intimating that Councillor Atkins had been made a J. P. to act with Mayor Mars of Port Coquitlam, the other necessary J.P., on the licence commission, along with Councillors Foster and Martin, the date of the sitting of the board would be definitely advertised to deal with the Maillardville application for a license.

Councillor Atkins, J.P., has to be sworn in with legal formality and his commission has not yet arrived but is expected in a few days.

RITCHIE JEOPARDIZES FUTURE OF FIGHTING

His Flight from Province and Welsh Causes Fans to Lose Faith in the Game.

After making the boast that his share of the proceeds would be in the neighborhood of $35,000, Willie Ritchie, American lightweight champion, has flunked his fight with Freddie Welsh, British champion, and is now on his way towards San Francisco with his manager and sparring partners. The announcement of the sudden termination of what would have undoubtedly been the greatest battle of the year created a sensation in this city and Vancouver yesterday morning and unless Ritchie reverses his decision and agrees to meet Welsh, his title as champion of the world will be questioned by all fair-minded fight fans.

For some little time a fear has existed among the fans that the battle between the American and Britisher would never take place at Brighouse, although during the past few days the promoters went so far as to post forfeits and also held possession on guarantees from both aspirants to the world's title and Monday it looked as if there would be a scrap.

Chet Rings True.

Ritchie, in giving his reason for quitting British Columbia, makes the claim that he was promised 50 per cent of all concessions, which he claimed was not forthcoming to the amount of $1000, but after such a despicable trick the word of Chet McIntyre, the Vancouver promoter, will weigh twice as much when the latter comes through with the statement that the company more than came half way to Ritchie, so anxious were they to show the fight fans of the northwest that such a battle could be managed successfully in any other place than San Francisco.

Was Surprised.

McIntyre arrived in Seattle on Tuesday evening with tickets and advertising matter for the battle, and was the most surprised person in the world when he was shown an Associated Press dispatch from Vancouver, stating that Ritchie had left on the evening boat for Seattle because the promoters had refused to give him 50 per cent of all concessions.

Frigid Tootsies.

To the fans the general impression remains that Ritchie was taken with a sudden infliction of "cold feet" and that the prospect of securing a few thousand dollars around the vaudville circuit during the next few months was in danger should he ever meet Freddie Welsh, who in a previous encounter, had gained the decision.

Just Deserts.

Boxing will never be placed on the same standing as other organized sports, due to the fact that in many states and provinces long distance events are under the ban, but were it so, Ritchie would be deserving of expulsion for life for such a contemptible trick as he pulled off in Vancouver on Tuesday when he left the promoters in the lurch.

Another Blow.

What with the admission of Arthur Pelkey made in Portland on Tuesday evening that his match with Tommy Burns in Calgary last March was nothing more than a fake, and the questionable attitude of Ritchie, the fight game in this country is getting in a precarious position.

The death of Luther McCarthy on Victoria day, and the recent death of Bull Young in California, were just skids in the toboggan which will eventually kill the game for all time to come.

When that time does come, one may expect a message floating over the wires that so-an-so, champion of such-an-such a class has been forced to go back to real work.

WAS RITCHIE PAID TO QUIT COUNTRY?

Unauthentic Sport Gossip Has It That His Flight Was Made Worth While.

Another side of the case was discussed by local fight fans last night to the effect that Ritchie was offered a sum of money to beat it out of the province and that if Welsh is to get a match with the American, he must follow him to California where either 'Frisco or Los Angeles promoters can take a chance of putting up the guarantees for such a battle.

This was just gossip on the street and credence to the story cannot be obtained and perhaps never will be unless either Ritchie or his manager Foley emulate the stunt of Pelkey and "stricken with a guilty conscience" give it out to the press that it was a frame-up.

Thirty-five thousand dollars to any fighter is a mighty big sum for a company to guarantee and during the confab on Columbia street last evening, it was made out that the Brighouse people were a little shaky of the financial result after settling with both Ritchie and Welsh.

FIRST SOCCER

Local Season Opens This Saturday—Rovers and Burquitlam at Moody Park.

The city soccer season will open officially on Saturday afternoon at Moody park when the Rovers and Burquitlam will clash. This is the first meeting of the two teams, in fact it is the first time in several years that the Rovers have been mixed up in the local league, while it is the first time in the history of local soccer that the rising village of Burquitlam has laid claim to a soccer eleven. The season of 1913-14 was not due to open until Saturday, September 20, but several of the Rovers were planning to get a glimpse of the championship fight at Brighouse on that date, so the suburbanites readily agreed to advance the date one week.

Saturday's game will give the fans a chance to estimate the strength of the two teams and also figure out the dope whether Scotty Grant is to make good in his boasts of winning the championship which will carry with it the right to challenge for the McBride trophy.

RIFLE SCORES

M. J. Knight Makes Grand Showing at All Ranges—Civilian Association Scores.

Belated reports of the regular weekly shoot of the Civilian Rifle association held on the Brownsville ranges last Saturday bring to light some remarkable shooting performed by local sharpshooters, topped by a century mark by M. J. Knight. This is the first 100 scored by Knight, who felt well pleased at the result, this being his last season with the association, as next year he will figure with the 104th regiment as a lieutenant.

This is the second time in a week that Mr. Knight has been top of the list, his score of 97 on Labor Day being the best out of six.

The following are the scores of both September 6 and 1:

September 6—	200	500	600	Ttl.
M. J. Knight	30	35	35	100

Roblin Now Colonel.

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—Militia orders issued this afternoon announce that Sir Redmond Roblin, premier of Manitoba, has been named as honorary lieutenant-colonel of the 106th regiment, Winnipeg light infantry. Col. D. T. Smith of the 105th regiment Fusiliers has been transferred to the reserve list.

New Buildings Opened.

Moose Jaw, Sept. The Saskatchewan Presbyterian college under the principalship of Rev. Angus Graham, opens tomorrow. The several new buildings present a handsome group and are now completed.

Murdered Wife at Fernie.

Fernie, B.C., Sept. 10.—In a quarrel over the division of the property following a separation Nichols Rahol, a Syrian, brutally assaulted his wife yesterday. She died in the hospital this morning. Rahol has been arrested charged with murder. An inquest has been ordered by Coronor Wilkes.

ONLY FOUR TEAMS

City Hockey League to Vote on Decreasing Number of Teams This Winter.

There's going to be a wild scramble for places on the Westminster city amateur ice hockey league this winter according to all indications. The annual meeting will probably be held next Wednesday evening in the city hall when officers will be elected and action taken on reducing the teams in the league from six to four. The Arena company has come to the conclusion that four teams in the league this winter will provide the fans with better hockey and will allow one evening each week during the winter when double-headers can be run off.

With four teams in the organization, this would mean that whereas the best players will sign up with either one of the quartette it will allow commercial games to be staged following the regular skating sessions.

Dark Horse Team.

Burnaby and the Y. M. C. A. are said to have agreed not to field teams in the organization this season and the result will simmer down to a vote between Fraser Mills, Beavers, Moose, Sapperton and a dark horse agregation, the name of which is likely to be given out by the promoters before the week has ended.

Enough Material.

Fraser Mills was a little dubious a few days ago as to whether enough material was in sight to field a septette, but later developments indicate that the Circle F will again be in line. Dunbar, who was head and shoulders over any goal tender in the league last winter is still available, together with five at least of the French Canadians who gave a scare to the other clubs.

Sapperton is also in line with a strong presentation and their supporters are working overtime seeking material from the whole city so that the name of the east end, well known in football and lacrosse, will be made more so in ice hockey.

BOMBARDIER WELLS WINS A FIGHT

London, Sept. 10.—Bombardier Wells, heavyweight champion of England, tonight retrieved his previous defeat at the hands of Gunner Jim Moir, the ex-champion, by knocking him out in the fifth round. The fight took place in Canterbury music hall.

Lady Golf Champions.

London, Sept. 10.—Three of England's lady golf champions, Miss Rail-enscroft, Miss Dodd and Miss Harrison, who have accepted an invitation to participate in the Canadian championship competitions, sailed tonight. They will also represent Great Britain in the golf championships at Philadelphia.

Tacoma, Sept. 10.—Girot weakened in the seventh and Kurfuss faltered at the same time. Before Belford could be warmed up three runs were scored and the bases were filled with one out, and Victoria won the game in that inning. Charley Swain took one more step towards attaining the world's home run record when he batted the ball to deep centre field for four bags, making his thirty-third home run since joining the Victoria club this season.

PRINGLE SPEAKS UP

Defends Con Jones and Says Players Were Paid by the Week—Sufficient Notice.

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—Bobby Pringle, the ex-Capital player, who returned from the coast a short time ago, throws some interesting light upon the recent efforts of the lacrosse players to collect their salaries from Con Jones through the courts. "I didn't sue for my money and I don't intend to," says the Capital man. "None of us had contracts. We were paid by the week, and Con Jones gave us sufficient notice of his withdrawal from the game." Pringle doubts very much whether the players can force Con to pay up.

The former great little Ottawa defence man will spend the next three weeks in the hospital, the ligaments of his leg being badly torn in a game at the coast.

JAIL CAN'T HOLD HIM.

Young Crimnal Gives Officers Lively Time.

Montreal, Sept. 10—George Thibault anepared in court this morning on a charge of jail breaking and the case was continued till tomorrow to allow the principal witnesses to appear. Assistant Governor Landriault, of the Bordeau jail, was on hand to prosecute the charge, as it happened during his term at the jail as an official.

Thibault is the daring young fellow who was first arrested in Westmount for stealing plumbers' supplies, and who assaulted a constable who attempted to arrest him. For this offense he was sentenced to nine months in jail. While the last of the prisoners were being removed from the old jail to the new one at Bordeau, he hid in an out of the way place and for five hours eluded the guards.

The day following his transfer to Bordeau he escaped from his cell and for two days made good his getaway, finally falling into the hands of Detective Crowthers and Lepage. The night of his incarceration at the central police station Thibault and a fellow prisoner, Albert Bebard, made a desperate attempt to free the twenty-five inmates of the cells, and came within an ace of killing oJseph Detilly the turnkey.

Both Thibault and Bedard will come up for trial for attempting to murder the turnkey, they having been committed to the September term of the court of king's bench.

BADLY BURNED WHEN MOTHER LEAVES KITCHEN

Montreal, Sept. 10.—Fatal results attended a ten-minute fire this morning when Juliete Boucher, eight months old, of 10 Bromby street, perished in flames that destroyed the back part of her parent's home, Mr. and Mrs. Francois Boucher.

The child's death occurred in the kitchen. Mrs. Boucher, who had gone outside for a moment, heard her baby's cries, but was beaten back by a pillar of smoke and flame after several attempts to rescue the dying infant. When finally restrained from her desperate attempts the stricken woman was overcome by her grief and fainted in the arms of neighbors.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but as the kitchen stove was burning brightly at the time it is thought that a spark must have flown out, igniting the woodwork. Mrs. Boucher, who had been working in the kitchen while little Juliette sat nearby, had gone out to the woodshed to replenish her supply of fuel.

At 9:30 o'clock Mrs. Bucher returning from the shed, saw smoke coming in a dense cloud through the back door. Dropping her bundle of sticks she rushed forward only to be beaten back.

Neighbors who had also noticed the fire, rushed to the scene and retrained the frantic woman from sacrificing her life to save that of the baby. An alarm was pulled and District Chief Briere and his force were soon on the scene.

Apart from the death of the child the fire did little damage, and the flames were extinguished after eating through the walls at the back of the house.

BRINGS TALES OF SHUSHANNA

Bonanza, a tributary of Johnston creek. Leaving Nelson and James to guard their claim, Best travelled to Andy Taylor, head packer of the Canadian-American boundary survey, Taylor having charge of about 150 head of horses at the head of White river.

Over the Bar.

Best, after waiting awhile, proceeded to Dawson on March 22, where he informed Tommy Doyle, proprietor of the Bonanza saloon, of the discovery. Doyle and Best immediately made for the new strike, taking with them hydrosciuicing hose and tools. Travelling on the steamer Viddeta, they arrived at the mouth of Dunsick creek about 60 miles from the strike, and proceeded thence by means of horses secured from Andy Taylor by the third man, James.

At the point where they had located the rim rock, they came across the camp where on the door of the cabin they discovered a note reading, "Come up four miles further. I struck it rich. (Signed) Nelson."

Second Bonanza.

Arriving there they found the lone prospector had sluiced a space 18x18 feet and had taken out 205 ounces of gold in four days.

Mr. Fisher vouches for this, for in the presence of his wife, Tommy Doyle and Andy Taylor, the gold was weighed and turned over to Mr. Morris, manager of the Bank of Commerce at Dawson. This was on July 19. From that time until August 10 small bands of miners made their way to the strike by steamer and trail, followed by the big rush.

Times Good.

Speaking of Dawson City, Mr. Fisher stated that under the ruling of Judge Black, the city had advanced three years, and that nowhere on the American continent could there be found a cleaner and better governed city. Times were good.

While in Vancouver during the past few days Mr. Fisher paid a visit to Judg McInnis, the latter, he states, was universally liked in the Yukon and was responsible for many noted improvements in the district.

Sunshine Does It.

The Klondiker stated that the vegetables he had seen in this district and even in the Fraser valley could not compare with some raised in the Yukon with the possible exception of potatoes. He accounts for this owing to the continual sunshine during the summer.

Mr. Fisher, wife and family left yesterday afternoon for Aldergrove, where he owns several hundred acres of land purchased years ago and which he has never yet seen. He also owns property at Port Mann which he will look over for the first time during the next few days.

Can't Stay Away.

It is possible, so he informed the representative of The News, that he will dispose of his large holdings in the north and take up farming as a pastime. He had made a vow when up north that he would not take a trip outside until 1935 but after changing his mind and getting a glimpse of British Columbia, he admits he is wavering between the frozen north and the much milder climate of this section. His children, he states, are moving picture crazy and spend several hours each day at the various theatres.

Charlie Fisher was formerly a valet and cook to Sir Henry Barnard, accompanying him from Mandalay, India, during his exploration trip of 1895-6 to the Mackenzie river. The party joined the Edmonton trailers to Fort McPherson, along the Rat river and down the Porcupine river to Fort Yukon. Sir Henry hastened home when the Boer war broke out and Mr. Fisher gave up his contract with the party, afterwards locating at Dawson City. Since then he has become one of the district's richest men, for besides owning a large hotel at Glen Goyle and a homestead, Mr. Fisher has interests in several big mining companies operating in the Treadgold district.

ALBERTA AND B.C. LEAD IN FAVOR

Calgary Man Back from Europe Takes Optimistic View of the Situation

Calgary, Sept. 10.—That the responsible investors of the old country look upon Canada with increasingly great favor and upon Alberta and British Columbia as the two provinces of the Dominion which offer opportunities for the most profitable investments was the opinion expressed to a reporter last night by Malcolm E. Davies, managing director of the Alliance Investment company, 711 First street west, who has returned to Calgary after a business trip through Britain, France, Germany and Belgium in the interests of his firm. As the result of his visit large investments will be made by British and continental capitalists in Alberta properties and bonds.

"My trip was encouragingly successful," said Mr. Davies, "and although the financial market in London is greatly depressed, I found that the leading financial men of the metropolis were open to good investments in this province. The irresponsible statements of irresponsible persons who were opposed to Britishers immigrating to Canada in such large numbers and who viciously and unjustly criticized Canadian investment, have had absolutely no effect on the minds of the big capitalists, who look upon Canada as the richest of Great Britain's colonies, say that this country will keep on developing rapidly for many years to come.

Need of Agent General

"One thing I find lacking in London is an agent general for Alberta. British Columbia and Quebec have an agent general and the wisdom of the appointments by both these provinces has long since been proven. If an Alberta official of this kind were stationed in London intending settlers and investors would be able to obtain reliable information about conditions in this province which they now find very hard to get.

"I found that the Belgians were very much interested in Canada and were favorably inclined to Canadian investments. The Belgians are very enterprising but at the same time are very careful and the fact that they think so highly of the better class of Canadian securities speaks well for the ability of investments in Canadian holdings."

Speaking of the effect that a certain amount of wildcatting through which some British investors were fleeced, Mr. Davis said that it undoubtedly had not the efect of making the Britisher wary of real estate investments. Even though who had been fortunate to buy good property on the advice of reliable firms would be inclind to go very slow in future in making real estate purchases.

Mostly English Wildcatters

"It can be said with considerable credit to the businessmen of Canada that a very small proportion of this wildcatting has been done by Canadians," Mr. Davis stated. "A great deal of it has been done by Britishers who came to Canada to investigate conditions, and after returning to the old country victimized their fellow countrymen. Several American agents also sold property to Britishers which was anything but what it was represented to be."

Mr. Davies said that two weeks prior to his departure from London the tone of the money market had improved considerably and easier money for legitimate purposes is assurred this fall provided no fresh hostilities break out in the Balkans. While money will be freer it will not be plentiful, however. British underwriters are loaded down with securities to such an extent that it will take them six months to dispose of them after the money market has become normal.

CONGRESS TAKES NOTABLE STEP

World's Medical Men Move to Stamp Out Disease—Dr. Adami Speaks of Gathering.

Montreal, Sept. 10.—Dr. J. G. Adami, professor of pathology at McGill university, has returned from Europe and when he reached his office found it piled high with correspondence of all kinds, which has been accumulating during his two months' visit to England.

Dr. Adami has been attending the International Medical congress in London, and he says the gathering was a record one of 7,500 members, representative of every country in the world.

A Remarkable Assembly.

"It was a remarkable assembly," said the doctor, "with all the leaders of medicine from every country, headed by Professor Ehrlich, who is probably the most notable figure in modern medicine at the present day.

"A very striking figure, both of the British Medical Association congress at Brighton and the International congress in London, was the absolute consensus of opinion that the time hame come for the government to make certain sex irregularities notifiable diseases in order to stamp them out. The British government is already prepared to take action and has appointed a committee to discuss the best course to adopt.

"That will stand out, in years to come, as the most important thing that took place at the conference—the absolute unanimous opinion of the medical men of the world on this subject.

"I spoke to a great number of foreigners, and they all admit that no other city could have done as London did in entertaining the congress and making it such a success. This is about my thirtieth trip across; and in my opinion, London is always getting a finer and finer city. I had not been in Paris for twenty years, but it looked very much the same to me, whereas London has absolutely altered in the last few years.

Saw No Rioting.

Dr. Adami did not witness any of the suffragette riots, but he saw the women on several occasions.

"The suffragettes were very much in evidence at the congress," he said. "I think the Hon. John Burns, who gave an address on hygiene, was interrupted eleven times in the court of it. At the special services at St. Paul's cathedral and Westminster Abbey the suffragettes interrupted the Litany by chanting "O, Lord, save Mrs. Pankhurst" or something to that effect as the responses. Mrs. Pankhurst addressed a meeting one afternoon, and sent invitations to the members of the congress. A large number of foreigners went, out of curiosity, to see her."

The Hon. Martin Burrel, the minister of agriculture, Mr. Justice Dunlop and the Rev. Dr. Hanson, or Erskine church, also came back on the Virginian.

FIVE-YEAR-OLD BOY AS EXPERT BEGGAR

Regina, Sept. 10.—The hand of the law last night reached out and touched the youngest prisoner in the history of the police department, when Detective Toop brought a five-year-old boy to the station. As may be surmised the dreaded hand did not rest at all heavily on the youthful miscreant, the trip to the station being to some extent for the purpose of showing him what awful things would happen to him if he was again discovered swindling the public of this city.

Last night between eight and eight-thirty o'clock Detective Toop saw the ragged youngster sitting on the steps of the post office weeping, not bitterly but loudly. And every now and then a person coming out or going into the post office would stop and after questioning the boy as to the cause of his distress would dig down and with a sympathizing remark slip a coin into the dirty but outstretched paw.

Suspecting that the youngster was "slipping over" some kind of a con game, the officer himself approached and inquired the reason for the sobs.

"I've lost fifty cents and can't go home without it," was the plaintive response. That was enough to brand the story as a fake and Detective Toop took the boy to the station where with a few blue coats in sight he "confessed" without aid of the "third degree."

He admitted that he had not lost any money but was trying to get a little change by the ruse and judging by the handful of nickels and dimes which he produced he had succeeded pretty well. He also told the officers that his father had instructed him in the game.

He was given a good scare and let go.

The police department will keep a sharp lookout for the lad and if he is caught at his tricks again his father will be the one to suffer.

SON LOSES HIS FATHER WHO COMES FROM ENGLAND

Montreal, Sept. 10.—Edward Jones, of Darlaston, Wolverhampton, who arrived at Quebec on the S.S. Canada and is supposed to have come to Montreal on Monday morning to meet his son, an engineer living at 2001 Charlemagne street, Longue Pointe, has disappeared.

Transportation was arranged by Howe & Rivett, 9 St. Lawrence boulevard, who, communicating with J. P. Stafford, Dominion immigration agent at Quebec, arranged matters to facilitate reception on this side. Jones was properly passed through, but he seems to have lost sight of the interpreter handling the crowds of immigrants, and it is not definitely known whether he is still in Quebec or has reached Montreal. Jones' son went to the Grand Trunk station on Monday morning to meet the immigrant train, only to find that it reached Montreal some hours late.

Jones, Sr., is about 60 years of age, with gray hair. He is about 5 feet 4 inches in height. He is unable to read or write, and does not know his son's address. Howe & Rivett have communicated with all the city institutions likely to hear of stranded people and finally to the police, who suggest the newspapers as the most likely media for establishing communication between father and son.

VAG MIGHT HAVE BEEN MILLIONAIRE

He Laughed at Opportunity Twenty Years Ago and Now He is a Common Tramp

Calgary, Sept. 10.—To come back to the city which he left twenty years ago when it was nothing but a patch on the prairie, realize the opportunities he has missed by leaving what is now the most flourishing centre of the middle west, and to suffer the further humiliation of being "vagged" by the police in a town where he might have made millions, had he the steadiness of purpose and seize the countless opportunities which presented themselves to him, was the experience of Hugh Corley, a wanderer from the coast, who was picked up by the city police on Thursday afternoon. He was taken to headquarters and after he had promised to leave the city as soon as he could possibly make the grade, he was allowed to go.

"It is twenty years since I left here," said the weary knight of the road whose appearance suggested that he had seen his sixtieth summer—or in his case winter would perhaps be better—some time since. "I had the same chance to be riding around in my automobile as these other fellows who havemade fortunes by staying with the town, but I could not see it and just blew."

And without a single dollar and without a single friend the old-timer confronted with the painful fact that he might have been a millionaire had he grown up with the place that developed from a collection of huts to a large city, passed out into the world to resume the weary march which leads to nowhere and which offered no inspiration or hope of reward to the weary plodder.

LONG WALK CURES HIS TUBERCULOSIS

Newark Youth Gets Health and $1000 by Odd San Francisco Trip.

New York, Sept. 10.—Herbert W. Hoover, a Newark youth, who told suffering from tuberculosis, was told by his physician a year ago that a walk to San Francisco and back again would either "cure or kill" him.

He put the proposition up to his doctor because the Grey Crest Athletic association had offered him $1,000 if he could cover the distance on foot in one year and seventeen days.

On October 14 last Hoover started on the jaunt, reached San Francisco March 27, rested ten days, and then faced back for the east, arriving home, No. 228 Mulbery street, Newark, yesterday.

When Hoover reached New York yesterday on his way home, a policeman, attracted by his strange appearance, directed him to police headquarters. His hair was long and hanging down his back. He was dressed in a khaki suit, which was well worn.

Hoover's method of raising money, he said, was to reach a town, put his hat on the sidewalk and then explain to the gathered crowd what he was doing. His appeal generally brought enough money to move on. During his trip he wore out 220 pairs of socks. He said storekeepers for the most part gave these to him.

He made the trip to San Francisco over the southern route and came back over the midland route. He was seven days in crossing the Salt Lake desert.

Hoover had a bundle of newspaper clippings and signatures of chiefs of police and mayors of various towns. He had a side bet of $500 which caused him to let his hair grow.

PRAYS FOUR DAYS THEN ARRESTED

Man Keeps His Family in a State of Terror Over His Many Sins

Passaic, N. Y., Sept. 10.—After praying for four days and four nights, Samuel Howard, thirty-two years old, of Halstead avenue, Wallington, was arrested today. He fought Policeman Joseph Hartfield for twenty minutes before submitting. Howard was placed in a cell in the county jail pending an examination into his sanity.

Howard had kept his wife and two small children in a state of terror since Tuesday. He slept only a few minutes at a time and continually raved about the Bible and religion. He made long speeches about his sins and the corrupt condition of the world. Mrs. Howard summoned up courage today to tell the police of conditions in her home.

When Recorder Beery finished reading the charge today Howard told him that an angel was waiting for him on the other side of the Passaic river. He then leaped from his chair to the recorder's desk and before any one could reach him began to preach. "I will die at 11.10 o'clock," he shouted. He then called attention to the clock on the wall. He counted off the minutes. Just as the time arrived he shut his eyes and said he was ready. He then jumped down, picked up a pen and wrote:

"I was shot once! I was shot twice. I have committed every crime but murder."

Many of Howard's friends were in court and they were stunned by his actions. Howard was a respected citizen of Wallington. He is well educated and held a responsible position.

LABOR GATHERING WILL BREAK RECORDS

Congress to Meet in Montreal This Month Expected to Be Largest Ever Held in Canada.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada will be held this year in Montreal, beginning on September 22. Mr. W. E. Trotter, Canadian organizer for it, was in the city recently, and supplied the following information.

Taking place as the convention does this year, in the largest city of the Dominion, there is every prospect that last year's record attendance of over 250 delegates at Guelph, will be exceeded.

Each succeeding year has witnessed the steady growth of the congress, numerically and financially. This has been accomplished in spite of obstacles, the peculiarities of which have been little understood and therefore not fully appreciated by the average trades unionist; although these might well be pardoned, seeing that it has taken a number of years to render the executive heads of the international movement sufficiently familiar with the old work status and objects of the congress—but particularly the status—to induce them to place their organizations in proper relationship to it.

This Period Past.

This period, however, is now past movement of the North American continent recognizes for industrial purposes their respective international North of the boundary line, the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, and to the South the American Federation of Labor. These two bodies issuing in their respective jurisdictions charters to provincial and state federations of labor to carry on local legislative work in the workers' interests.

The growth of the congress is shown in figures from the last report of the secretary.

Summary of the receipts and expenditures for the past twelve years:

Year	Membership.	Receipts Dollars	Expenditures Dollars	Balance Dollars
1912	66,128	15,699.79	10,219.82	5,479.97
1901	8,381	1,009.88	908.00	101.88
1902	13,465	2,342.41	1,795.57	546.84
1903	16,108	3,858.34	3,363.38	494.96
1904	22,010	3,747.96	3,346.29	401.67
1905	22,004	4,700.29	4,001.36	698.93
1906	27,676	5,747.40	3,970.08	1,774.62
1907	32,295	7,747.79	6,570.26	904.53
1908	40,728	8,906.44	7,442.08	1,464.35
1909	36,071	7,899.47	6,667.74	1,231.73
1910	51,000	9,482.34	7,103.56	2,378.78
1911	57,259	12,496.60	9,139.64	3,356.96
1912	66,128	15,699.79	10,219.82	5,479.97

The affiliation of international unions is also a growing roll, particularly is this noticeable when it is remembered that in 1905 only nine of these unions were paying tax on their Canadian membership direct from headquarters, and now almost every international union is in line.

"Spade Work" Required.

The "spade work" and constant application necessary to build up the congress when the individual unions had to be appealed to for affiliations and the immense territory to be covered in doing it, is a piece of history and hard work, the success of which is a testimony to the earnestness and untiring efforts of the officers of the period.

Today there are 44 trades and labor councils in as many cities, reaching from Victoria, British Columbia, to Sydney, Cape Breton, all holding charters from, and maintaining financial relations with the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, while the unions in the provinces of Alberta and British Columbia have organized and established provincial federations of labor under charter from the same body.

Every delegate on the floor at the convention is a member of some Canadian trade or labor union.

Charges Ridiculous.

When this latter fact is fully understood it will be seen that those charges are ridiculous which have from time to time been made that the Canadian congress is under the domination of the American section of the movement. That there is agreement on fundamental principles is perfectly true, and it could not well be otherwise, seeing that the same industrial organizations from the component parts of both the Canadian congress and the American Federation of Labor. The existence of the famous European Triple Alliance does not imply the subjection of any one of the nations to the others, nor would the British consider they were in any way dominated by their Japanese ally. Signatories to these alliances are recognized as on terms of equality.

The "Nationale" Opposition.

As opposed to the international character of the affiliations of the Trades Congress of Canada, there has existed for some time a "purely" Canadian aggregation, now known as the Canadian Federation of Labor, which undertakes to issue charters to trades councils and local unions. Notwithstanding that this organization has had the blessing of the associated employers (who are swift to recognize the value, to them, of a possible disintegrating element) this organization has made no headway.

In contrast to the trades congress, with its 1,056 unions and a direct dues-paying membership of 66,128, the Canadian Federation of Labor can only boast of 48 unions and 5,940 membership; and seeing that the Nova Scotia Provincial Workmen's association claims 23 of the 48 unions, and a membership of 5,000, and that it is the latest recruit of the "Nationales," the latter body can scarcely be said to have an effective separate existence. This is further emphasized when we note that of the 48 locals 23 are those of the Nova Scotia P. W. A., and of the remainder 17 are in Quebec and eight in Ontario.

International Connections.

The trades congress provides for a regular exchange of fraternal delegates with the American Federation of Labor, and at the 1911 convention at Calgary, decided to invite an exchange with the British congress. The succeeding convention of the British Trades Congress heartily endorsed the proposition, and elected as their first delegate, Mr. Will Thorne, M. P., who will be present at the Montreal convention in September of this year. The Guelph convention last year confirmed the Calgary decision and elected Secretary P. M. Draper as the first Canadian fraternal delegate to the British Trades Congress.

These exchanges will be of advantage to the general movement in the better understanding of each other's problems. In fact, the attention which is being paid to Canada by the moneyed class of Britain and their close connection with every emigration scheme on the market, together with their constant attempts to control and direct the departments responsible for emigration expenditures is of itself a sufficient reason for a much closer connection between the workers of the old land and those of the new.

British Relationship.

There being a more or less constant business relationship through the international unions between the two recognized legislative heads on this continent, the establishment and maintenance of British fraternal relationships would appear to be the most important of the two. Especially so since the British congress has invited an exchange between themselves and the recognized trades union combinations of several European countries, which are at present favorite recruiting grounds for cheap labor. The chance is thus afforded of meeting responsible representatives of those nations by whom necessary facts may be converted to their respective constituencies with a much better understanding and appreciation of any subject dealt with than when correspondence has to be relied upon with a lapse of month between query and reply.

Although there has been no formal exchange of delegates between the British labor party and the congress, Britain's labor representatives have shown considerable interest in the Canadian movement. M. J. Keir Hardie, M. P., attended the 1908 convention in Halifax, N. S., and again last year at Guelph, Ont., as fraternal delegate from the British Labor party, and at Quebec in 1909, Mr. Will Crooks, M. P., was a welcome visitor from the same party. While acting as agent of the Canadian Trades Congress in Britain, W. R. Trotter was seated at the Hull (1908) and the Portsmouth (1909) conventions of the British Labor Party as Canadian fraternal delegate.

Organization.

The congress elects at each vention a strong committee to keep a watchful eye, in the workers' interests, on all federal legislation, and press for the adoption of whatever measures each convention has decided upon. The organization and maintenance of the congress rests upon them. Committees are also elected who have charge of provincial measures in those provinces where no provincial federation has as yet been chartered.

Future Conventions.

While it is true that each convention decides where the next has to be held it is also true that there is a fairly general idea as to the geographical disposition of the next meeting place. Last year at Guelph the city of Montreal defeated St. John N. B., by the narrow margin of two votes. There were no other contestants and it is almost certain that the 1914 convention will be held in the far east. Vancouver delegates last year made it known that they would place this city in nomination for the 1915 convention—the year of the Panama exposition at San Francisco, when eastern delegates would probably be able to avail themselves of excursion rates and so provide for a larger gathering on the Pacific coast than would be otherwise possible. Saskatoon delegates distributed literature last year announcing their city would be out for the 1916 convention. All of which in a measure illustrates the interest which is being taken in congress deliberations from one end of the Dominion to the other. If there is any truth in the doctrine of the survival of the fittest, there is some pleasure in recording that as the mouthpiece of Canadian organized labor, the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada is something more than a survival today.

POLICE RUNNING DOWN WHITE SLAVE DEALERS

Montreal Officers Rescue Girls, But Miss Higher-ups

Montreal, Sept. 9.—A tour of the down town section of one part of the city by James Lambkin, special Dominion officer investigating the white slave traffic, and Detectives Tierney and Forget, last Saturday night, led to some interesting discoveries. A young woman, named Marie Louise Rochais, was taken away from a house on St. Lawrence street, and sent to a detention home of immigration offices on St. Antoine street. She had arrived from France on the Empress of Britain only recently. She informed the officers that a young man she met on the street had directed to the place where she had been found. She had been looking for work in a millinery store, she said.

Inspector O'Keefe and his men are looking for an elusive young man who they think knows quite a lot about Pearlie Gilbert, a fourteen year old girl who they discovered at a house of unsavory reputation after the girl's father had complained to the police that his daughter was missing. The girl was quietly sent home, this being the usual procedure in this case, but four women were taken before Judge Lanctot last Saturday morning charged with harboring her. They were allowed out on bail and will appear in court next Friday.

In cases of this kind when young girls gone astray are being sought for by the police, it often happens that they will be passed from one house to another, and often out of the city so that they may not be located. In the present case the Gilbert girl is believed to have been guided by a young man who is known to the police, but who has so far succeeded in keeping out of sight.

Want to Know.

Prince Albert, Sept. 9.—Great mineral wealth is generally supposed to be embedded in the earth throughout the northwest provinces and with the view of getting reliable data on this matter the board of trade at a meeting this afternoon decided to ask the government to institute a thorough geological survey of the northern half of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

I Am A Man of ACTION!

I landed here 2 weeks ago and took charge of the entire stock of Mrs. A. J. Birtch and conducted one of the most sensational sales this part of the country has ever seen.

The Royal Bank of Canada, owners of the premises has ordered Mrs. A. J. Birtch to vacate on October 1st. without Delay---

Now you know what that means--it means that every dollars' worth of this high grade stock of women's and children's wear must be sold by that time.

Now For The Final Clean-Up

I am known as the world's greatest price-cutter, and when I took charge of this stock it was with the understanding that I make the prices. Every city in the world knows me as the friend of the people and the man that holds the high price of living down. I have gone through this stock like a cyclone through a Kansas corn-field--cutting slashing and ripping prices to the merest nothing, and when I say you can't beat these prices, I don't ask you to take my word for it. LOOK OVER THE PRICES AND JUDGE FOR YOURSELF.

Like Bad Egg Police Can't Sink Him and Again This Morning He Explains All.

Deyam is his name. A Hindu by birth and appearances, and hailing from Colebrook where he goes under the name of a rancher.

After spending the summer months in lonely dwelling in his shack up the Fraser valley, the sights of the city appealed to Deyam with the result that he fell foul of the city police Tuesday evening through being too full of various liquors. Deyam was armed with a roll fit to choke any good sized bovine and parted with a V-spot which called for his appearance in court yesterday morning. Said V-spot was ordered forfeited by Magistrate Edmonds when the Hindu failed to appear. But that is not all. The liquor of the previous evening so appealed to Deyam that it was only natural for him to again load up and to call under the glances of J. C. Lundi.

The wanderings of the dusky skinned individual compelled the day patrolman to call the assistance of Bill Guttridge with the result that he was again placed in the city bastile.

Deyam will have the opportunity of explaining his capers before the beak this morning together with disturbing the tranquility of the city police office with his manicial remarks and partiality to disrupt the furniture.

HALF HOLIDAY FIGHT ONLY JUST STARTED

waymen's union $45 in taking a referendum vote on industrial unionism and another such sum on Socialism.

The amendment to have a vote taken on the matter was buried and that for having it placed away in the archives of the secretary, carried.

Made Money.

The report of the Labor day committee appeared as a surprise to the delegates, when it was mentioned that the sum of $417 had been left over after the tables were cleared. Such a sum was voted to pay off the indebtedness of the trades council.

No Orientals.

Unanimous endorsation of the protest against any further influx of orientals in British Columbia, as passed at a recent meeting of the Westminster Presbytery, was passed while at the same time a vote of thanks was passed to Rev. J. S. Henderson for bringing up at a recent meeting of the Moral, Social and Reform council of B. C. the half holiday movement, that organization having gone on record in favor of the scheme.

One Surprise.

The report of President Cameron, representing the Teamsters' union, that that organization had passed the stage whereby it would continue to be affiliated with the council came as a surprise to certain members who during h past few days were known to have hatched a plot whereby they could unseat the present head, and elect one favorable to Socialism. Delegate Cameron mentioned that his organization, while not in the most prosperous condition as regards members, was fully able to meet its obligations. That ended the plot.

It was decided that the labor hall should be decorated in a "hall of fame" manner. Delegate Wardrope securing the passage of a motion to have portraits of all past presidents framed and adorning the falls of the hall. Delegates Malden, Dodd and Wardrope were apointed a special committee, described by a wag the "framing and hanging" committee.

Real Big Time.

The musicians promised the delegates a real celebration on Sept. 30 when by that time the organization would be duly installed, thanks to the withdrawal of opposition from Vancouver artists.

Thanks The News.

Votes of thanks were passed to Aldermen Dodd and Lynch for their support of the half holiday bylaw; Mayor Gray and the city council, to the different organizations, merchants and others who assisted in the Labor day celebration and one to The News for its impartial stand and equitable reports of the happenings during the past few weeks in connection with the half holiday bylaw.

A special committee was named to take up the question of issuing a weekly paper in the city favorable to the interests of labor.

TO SETTLE STRIKE.

End of Calumet Copper Miners' Difficulty in Sight.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 10.—There was a prospect tonight for a settlement of the copper miners' strike, now entering upon its eighth week.

Claude D. Taylor, of Grand Rapids, president of the Michigan Federation of Labor, who has been in the copper strike district for several days conferring with officials of the Western Federation of Miners, will seek an interview tomorrow with General Manager James McNaughton, of the Calumet £ Hecla Mining company.

HE IDENTIFIED THE NAUGHTY WORDS

B. C. Boss Knew When Chinese Swore at Him and Later Paid for Privilege in Court.

Pool at $22.50 a game is expensive sport, fit only for such persons as John Gates, Jr., to indulge in. Kie Yamaguchi, proprietor of a pool emporium at Sapperton was led to this impression in court yesterday when ordered by Magistrate Edmonds to come across with the above amount. The offense was keeping open during prohibited hours.

For a Chinaman to use abusive language to a constable on duty was practically unheard of in the city until Tuesday evening when Lum Ting essayed to fling a mixture of Anglo-Chinese language, same unprintable, in the face of P. C. Bass. Mr. Bass has travelled some for his age. His knowledge of Mexican and Spanish enabled him to converse with a subject of Huerta two weeks ago, accused of pinching sundry clothing apparel from a lodging house. Mr. Bass has also seen service in Hong Kong which accounts for him laying hold of the esperanto stuff handed out by Lum Ting. It cost the latter just $10 and costs yesterday morning for his conversational indescritions.

GRANTED CANCELLATION OF SUBDIVISION PLAN.

The Coquitlam City Lands, Limited, was granted a cancellation of a subdivision plan yesterday by the council there. Mr. Small complained that the B. C. E. R. had "put one over on them." The B. C. E. R. people, with iniquitous smartness had filed plans in the land registry office a week in front of Mr. Small's company. There were other complications, but the upshot of it was the right of way procured by the B. C. E. R. from Coquitlam lake was not to be a passenger service or a scenic tourist railway, but a log towing concern. Therefore the project of Mr. Small's company meant financial ruin.

The matter was referred to Solicitor P. J. McIntyre, although evidences of sympathy with Mr. Small's company was by no means concealed.

The Burquitlam Agricultural society was granted the use of the Coquitlam municipal grounds for their exhibition on September 27 by the council yesterday.

One of the most useful orders of the Coquitlam council yesterday was the adoption of the suggestion of Reeve Barth to entrust the taking of a census of the population of rural Coquitlam to Chief Constable Pare at once.

The services of J. H. Kilmer, C. E., Port Coquitlam, to see after the water service of Rochester road residents was requisitioned by the Coquitlam council yesterday.

Burquitlam poultry fanciers are extremely gratified with the success of the district exhibitors. Councillor Walker and Messrs Chesterfield and Wilson.

The Burquitlam Agricultural society grounds on Austin road are looking well and promise to provide the verdure desired for the exhibition on Sept. 27. George Alderson is making the approaches to the hall as creditable as possible. Everything points to a most successful show.

The appointments of a police magistrate and a police constable of similar names seemed yesterday to concern the councillors of Coquitlam. It was officially declared that John Smith, J.P., would preside over the police courts of Coquitlam, despite that gentleman's wriggles to resign. The more humble John Smith, special constable, was appointed chiefly in connection with a colony of naughty ladies who hover on the borders of Port and rural Coquitlam.

FOR CRUSADE AGAINST SLAVERY

World-wide Movement Being Undertaken to Stamp Out the Curse.

London, Sept. 10.—In the coming autumn there will be a great crusade waged in this country against the existence of slavery in various parts of the world, not, of course, in the British empire, but very possibly in several lands where British capital is directly interested. To be perfectly candid there have been very many disquieting disclosures recently, not merely in respect of the Putumayo, though this was bad enough, but also in the Portuguese colonies where cocoa is grown, as well as in the New Hebrides, where there is a Franco-British condominium. Nor will this exhaust the list, because the labor conditons in ohter countries are also under consideration, and though, for instance, things are now much better on the Congo, it is not so certain that they are as satisfactory in the Katanga district as they ought to be.

Should Take Action.

Mere newspaper campaigns, though of great value, are not thought to be enough to deal with the situation, so it would not be surprising to find other action taken. Under the British constitution it is, of course, penal for any British subject on British soil to aid or abet the slave trade, or practise slavery. There is, however, no penalty if a British subject trading personally or under company law practises what is slavery or something very like it on foreign soil. The Putumayo inquiry showed this, and the committee of investigation recommended that action of a remedial nature should be taken. The opponents of slavery will therefore in the autumn endeavor to persuade the government to bring this result about by legislation—a course which there is reason to anticipate very few people except guinea-pig company directors, will object to. Such a policy will, of course, make the company promoter very careful of the conditions of labor on which he bases his prospectus anticipations, but this will be an advantage to the investor as well as a distinct joy to the humanitarian.

Some Revelations.

Meantime there is to a further revelation with respect to the Putumayo affair, and there is talk of some light being thrown on the exact measure of participation of a member of the royal family who was apparently interested financialy in the venture.

As to the new Hebrides, there are to be some disclosures, and there would have been some long since had not the colonial secretary, Louis Harcourt, begged the critics to keep quiet, as he is trying to arrange a new deal with France so as to modify the existing joint government under which the most terrible scandals prevail in the islands owing to the lax administration of the law by French officials on the spot.

Altogether matters seem likely to hum a bit this autumn in the world of the anti-slaveryites.
