JOHNSTON AND GRAY TAKE PLATFORM TOGETHER

Sapperton Voters Crowd to Hear Mayoralty Candidates.

Aspirants for Aldermanic Seats Also Express Their Views.

There were over 200 people present last night at Johnston's hall, Sapperton, to hear candidates for city council speak at a meeting held under the auspices of the labor candidates. There was interest taken in every speech and applause was frequent.

Before the firing started Trustee Stoney of the school board, and a leader of the labor party, called the candidates to the platform and said the meeting was called by the municipal candidates, Alderman Dodd, and Messrs. Hogg, Barnard and Cameron. These four were the labor candidates.

First Speaker.

T. A. Barnard, a labor man spoke first. He said he wanted it made plain that at the other night's meeting he had been reported as saying he favored no grants to Columbian college. What he said was: "Sectarian institutions of any and all denominations." The money could be better spent.

To get a square deal workingmen were coming to realize they must look after their own interests—therefore the four labor candidates. The regulations made a school trustee hold $500 worth of property, yet members of the greatest house of commons in the world did not need to own one cent's worth. He called it not quite fair.

Business men said they were needed to operate the business of the city and some said labor men were not business men. This also he discredited. He wanted water and light sold to citizens at cost, not as a revenue producer. Also he stood by the half holiday bylaw. He had been told four labor men on the council would drive industries away.

"I am under the impression," he said, "industries are like other things, they follow the lines of the least resistence, and inflated land values offer great resistance."

Defends Qualification Act.

Defence of the qualification act was made by T. Rutledge, who said it gave security in case a man were elected. He believed in a fair wage, "but be careful and don't raise the wage too high," he cautioned, amid some laughter. A municipal coal wharf was all right but a compulsory half holiday was not, he thought, until at least it was by a provincial measure.

All Workingmen.

Thanks to the labor men was given by Ed Goulet for an opportunity to speak. "We are all working men here in New Westminster," he said, producing his labor card as proof. He represented all the ratepayers. Because a man worked for a corporation he was not tied up to that corporation body and soul. Alderman Dodd worked for the B. C. E. R. and yet he had for three years represented the people in an unexcelled manner. So would he.

Half Holiday.

The half-holiday bylaw was D. S. Cameron's first shot. The men and women clerks worked very long hours.

"We believed it was in the best interests of those workers to have that bylaw brought forward," he declared, "and in opposition to this half holiday bylaw out of a total of 80 names there were about half merchants. The rest were professional men and others not affected."

While the opposition could not deny the holiday was merited, they said a provincial regulation was the only way. All stores in B. C. must be closed at the same time, it was said, yet in the old country, towns just a short distance apart closed on different days with no loss of trade. He wanted to see this matter go before the people. Then it would pass he knew.

The amendment to the liquor bylaw was railroaded through the council, Mr. Cameron went on. Then on top of that the license commissioners refused to submit the question to the people. It was time labor men, democratic men, got on the council to remedy this.

Municipal ownership of public utilities could be run better by labor men than by business men whose whole training was to make profit, he concluded.

J. J. Johnston.

"Reference has been made to realty men," commenced J. J. Johnston. "There are real estate men and real estate men and it is a shame that all should be classed as has been done."

"If I had been in the city council in 1913 I would have voiced my opinion as strongly against it as I do now," said Mr. Johnston referring to the proposal to purchase the gas plant.

The Harbor Question.

"I think that the whole proposition is that the cart has been put before the horse," he said referring to the harbor improvements. "First get the channel to bring your ships in and then build your docks. I am told we are losing money every day on the harbor work. I don't know what the proposition is, but we get a gentleman in Seattle to do our engineering and then we find men who can't go to the polls on Thursday and vote. There is something the matter, I tell you," he declared.

"Now that is all; come to my meeting on Wednesday next and I will tell you more about these things. This fight will be clean. Mayor Gray is just as worthy as I, and his record is just as good."

Another Labor Man.

Archie Hogg, the next speaker, pointed out he was a nominee of both union and non-union men. Municipal ownership should be operated rightly.

"There is no man or woman in this city who should not get light at cost," he said. "And there is another thing I want to tell you. That is that residents of this city should get employment on work here. We don't need to go to Seattle for help.

Sapperton's Needs.

"Sapperton should have better fire protection. The C. N. R. is coming through Sapperton into the city this year and we want a man in the city hall to look after interests out here.

"The labor men are responsible for the labor bureau and are proud of it," concluded Mr. Hogg.

Alderman Kellington.

"No one can stand up and say Sapperton did not get a white deal in 1913," said Alderman Kellington. "I have been chairman of the finance committee this year and I want to say here that Alderman Dodd, as chairman of the board of works, has acquitted himself excellently.

That Bottle License.

"I took the stand, and I take it tonight that it is better far to have bottled liquor sold in other places than bars if it must be sold," said Alderman Kellington. "If people must have liquor let them go to a place where liquor is not being consumed.

"Some Sapperton people have asked me for support for a license out here. I will not do this. This is, I consider, a residential district.

Finances.

"I realize this will not bring me any votes, but the word 'economy' will be written across the council's actions in 1913."

Alderman Dodd.

"I had not intended to take any part in this campaign but the committee has pushed me into it against my wishes," said Alderman Dodd.

"We are appealing to you as working men and we are not telling you what we are going to do without knowing what's what."

The labor men had had taxes abolished from improvements. He told how he and Mayor Gray had accomplished this, failing support the council had previously promised. In other ways taxes had been lopped off here and there to the ratepayers' benefit. The $2 irrigation tax was cut off.

Garbage disposal, uniform weight of bread loaves, the eight hour day and higher pay for city employees, wage schedule on city streets, employment of local workmen, with other advances were some of the things labor was so proud of effecting in this city.

"Regarding Alderman Kellington I want to say he is a perfect gentleman and he is not a man to climb on the fence either," said Alderman Dodd. "He faces an issue! says 'yes' or 'no' right out."

Labor and Liquor.

"The stand that labor takes is this: These matters should be referred to the people," he went on. "All these things have been done on labor's iniative by a very small representation of labor on the council. Now, logicaly, it should be that with a larger representation we can get more for the people in 1914."

Mayor Gray.

"I took a square stand in the council and on the licensing board and I wanted that bottle license question submitted to the people just as I did the gas bylaw," said Mayor Gray. "I am always opposed to increases in licenses."

Mayor Gray was warm in his defence of his dealing with the red light district.

The labor bureau was endorsed and helped by the mayor and Thomas Turnbull was the best head it could have.

The mayor quoted what he had brought about during his term and was applauded warmly several times. He defended Capt. A. O. Powell.

A. Hardman told what warm support he had and asked for support on his record.

Mr. Rutledge because of the lateness of the hour declined to speak, reserving his address until Monday night.

Vessels Had Hard Time.

Seattle, Jan. 9.—The schooner Crescent which sailed from Everett for Newcastle, South Wales, December 22, returned leaking to Clallam bay today with part of her deckload gone and her cabin stove in, and reported the schooner William F. Garms in sore distress 100 miles south of Cape Flattery.

Follows Suit of Father.

Chicago, Jan. 9.—Miss Eleanor Leibenguth committed suicide today by handing herself from a rafter in a barn near her home. Her father ended his life in the same manner 15 years ago.

STRUCK BY TRAIN DIES IN HOSPITAL

Lillian Inkster, Nurse at the Royal Columbian Hospital, Killed.

Crossing Tracks at Brunette Street When G. N. R. Train Cuts Her Down.

A sad fatality took place last evening at the crossing over the Great Northern tracks near the Prince Rupert-Vancouver abattoirs when Miss Lillian Inkster, night maternity nurse at the Royal Columbian hospital, was struck by a Great Northern passenger train, dying 30 minutes later in the hospital where she was taken.

Miss Inkster left the hospital yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock to visit friends at Fraser Mills and was returning to her duties at the institution when the accident happened. According to the towerman at the crossing she failed to notice the impending danger and when the train was close to her the engineer gave three sharp "crows," which, with the glaring headlight appeared to glue her to the tracks.

She was picked up 20 yards away from the point where she was struck and the police ambulance with P. C. Anderson soon removed her to the hospital.

Miss Inkster had been a nurse at the hospital for the past two years and was a native of Aukland, Orkney islands, Scotland, where she leaves a widowed mother to mourn her loss. She was about 25 years of age.

Her uncle, Rev. John Inkster, is a Presbyterian minister in Victoria, and will arrive in the city this morning to make arrangements for the funeral. The inquest will probably be held in Murchie's undertaking parlors at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The train, No. 360, is due to arrive in New Westminster from Seattle at 2:58 p.m., but was several hours late yesterday, leaving the G. N. R. depot at 6:40 o'clock. The engineer was A. J. Kilbane.

KING OF ROUMANIA IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Vienna, Jan. 9.—King Charles of Roumania is seriously ill. He was born April 20, 1839, and ascended the throne in 1881.

In the event of the death of King Charles of Roumania, who is childless, the throne would revert to Prince Ferdinand of Roumania, son of Prince Leopold of Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen and nephew of King Charles. Prince Ferdinand was born August 24, 1865, and married Princess Marie, daughter of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotham.

LEGISLATION FOR HALF HOLIDAY

Business Men of Province to Wait on Government—Convention in Victoria in February.

At a recent meeting of the New Westminster Business Men's association, a report was received from one of the members who occupies a chair on the directorate of the Retail Merchants' association of B. C. and who a few days previously had attended the annual meeting of the provincial organization in Vancouver.

In this report he stated that the annual convention of the retail merchants of British Columbia is to be held in Victoria during the early part of February and at the time the provincial house is in session. This important convention is being held for the purpose of appointing a strong delegation representing the entire province and every section of the retail trade to secure from the provincial government important legislation whereby the trade and public generally will benefit.

Amongst the many proposed statutes is one concerning the weekly half holiday. This important matter is receiving the hearty support of all the various branches of the provincial organization and the request had already been received by the local association to appoint their delegates to the above named convention.

At the regular meeting of the association to be held on Tuesday, Jan. 13 at 8 p.m. in room 520, Westminster Trust building and at which all members are requested to be present, the matter of appointing delegates will be discussed together with other important questions in connection with the same.

SOUTH AFRICAN STRIKERS ARRESTED

Attempts to Dynamite Three Passenger Trains—No one Injured.

Wheels of Train Blown Off—Principal Labor Leaders Arrested—Martial Law in Pretoria.

Johannesburg, South Africa, Jan. 9.—Attempts to dynamite three passenger trains and the arrest of principal strike leaders put a serious aspect on the strike situation of the South African railway men today.

Sticks of dynamite were exploded under the Cape mail train between Denver and Jeroges Goch tonight, but no passengers were injured. The wheels of the engine were blown off and the track damaged. A second explosion occurred on the railway tonight between Johannesburg and Cleveland.

Attempt to Wreck Train.

Another attempt to wreck a train was made between Witportje and Liupaardsvlei, but the charge of dynamite was found by a track walker just before the arrival of a crowded passenger train from Zierust.

The government is credited with a desire to fight the trades federation to an end. The principal strike leaders were arrested today.

It is reported that martial law will be declared in Pretoria tomorrow.

COQUITLAM COUNCIL CANDIDATES CONFESS

Administration for 1913 Gives Account of Stewardship and Aspirants for Honors Speak.

The annual report of the council of Coquitlam to the ratepayers was made last night at a meeting in Burquitlam. In addition to the members of the present council, a number of candidates for seats on the 1914 administration addressed the meeting, outlining their respective views. The meeting passed off quietly.

Reeve Barth, who was the first speaker, submitted the auditor's report which shows the municipality to be in a good position financially. He also reported for the police commission pointing out that Coquitlam had been the first place to act under the amended criminal code in reference to the abolition of segregated districts.

Succeeding speakers referred with regret to the retirement of Reeve Barth. He was spoken of as an able and efficient administrator.

Councillor Atkins followed the reeve and reported for the board of works committee, of which he is chairman. He referred to his attitude in reference to the extension of the B. C. Electric line along the North road which he had supported. He had tried to conscientiously administer the affairs of the board of works.

Later in the evening Mr. Atkins, who is a candidate for reeve, was called upon to further explain the activities of his department by L. E. Marmont, his opponent. He acceded, but was frequently interrupted by hecklers, one ratepayer advising him not to get excited.

Councillors Martin, Foster, Mounce and Walker reported for their respective committees.

L. E. Marmont, the reeveship candidate, received a good reception and his address all through was punctuated by applause. He criticized the 1913 board of works department at length and announced his platform as follows: He would keep the taxes down to the lowest level; spend the money available to the best advantage of the municipality as a whole, and give residents the preference on all work. Providing the financial cloud lifts and any big undertaking was ready to launch he would favor the borrowing of money and extending the payment over a period of years. He would not make the hall site an issue.

Those running for the 1913 council who delivered campaign speeches were: Councillors Foster and Mounce, Messrs. E. Percy, Ralph Oxtoby, W. Whiting, J. D. Robertson and Ned Atkins.

Job for Somebody.

Edmonton, Jan. 9.—It now seems probable that the school board will not appoint a superintendent of schools from the local staff, and much consideration is being given to such outside applications as have arrived. James McCaig was the former incumbent at a salary of $4000 a year.

Free Anti-Toxin.

Edmonton, Jan. 9.—From now on every child suffering from diphtheria, or any child exposed to this infection will be given sufficient units of antitoxin to combat the disease free of charge by the city.

MC AND MAC PART COMPANY

Spicy Remarks When Burnaby Candidates Have Wordy War.

Reeve McGregor Promises to Tell Things on His Opponent, But Latter Doesn't Care.

I am worth three times as much as Rose and Madill combined.—D. C. Patterson.

If I told or cared to tell what I know of Councillor Macpherson he would not dare to get on the platform and say anything about questionable tactics.—Reeve D. C. McGregor.

Fools step where angels dare to tread. That's him. . . . Wait until tomorrow night when there are more people present.—D. C. McGregor.

These and other spicy remarks delivered to the ratepayers in the district of Burquitlam, at the Hamilton road school house last night, featured the warmest meeting of the Burnaby election campaign so far held.

It bristled with personalties from start to finish and the speakers who were moderate in their tone were greeted with pleasure by the electorate if only to give them a breathing spell wedged in between the "loaded cigar" brand.

William Karrman, running in ward three, was one of the mild brand, stating that while seeking election, he had little fault to find with the present administration. Charles Allen, an opponent of Mr. Karrman, differed somewhat and panned the council for alleged extravagant methods.

Councillor Coldicutt, the third man in the race, lined up his artillery on behalf of the North road B. C. E. R. extension, exposing a plan of the proposed bridge over the Brunette river and stating that he had it on good authority that the B. C. E. R. would not stop at the one mile track, but would go further to the golf links.

Councillor Macpherson in the reeveship race, promised a warm time for every councillor seeking re-election and gave warning to Councillor Fauvel to be prepared for an interesting session when the campaign veers around to North Burnaby next Tuesday.

The Edmonds candidate was of the vitriolic kind in mentioning Reeve McGregor, the latter gentleman warming up later in the evening with a refutation of what his opponent had mentioned and that the Edmonds meeting of this evening would tell the tale in the expose of certain details connected with the past year's administrators.

At the close of the session Councillor Macpherson apologized from the platform to Reeve McGregor for certain remarks passed regarding municipal insurance, stating that being appointed as a member to insure municipal buildings, he had found, after visiting every firm in Vancouver, that D. C. McGregor & Co., Ltd., were below the rates offered by others.

H. J. McKee, former councillor, occupied the chair.

Edmonton, Jan. 9.—The new mayor, W. J. McNamara, has asked commissioner A. J. McLean to resign. Today a deputation of citizens asked that he be allowed to remain, but the request was refused.

ULSTERITES RAISE $5,000,000 FUND

Belfast, Ireland, Jan. 9.—A fund has been raised amounting to $5,000,000 to indemnify the relatives of those who may be killed or wounded among the Ulster Unionist volunteers in resisting home rule, according to an announcement made today by Captain James Craig, Unionist member for East Down, Ulster, at a gathering of the Unionists here, he said the sum required had been exceeded.

The utilization of the indemnity fund is contingent on hostilities occurring between the Unonists of Ulster and the Irish government after the introduction of the home rule.

The Unionists declare that their plans are complete to resist home rule by armed force. They have raised an army alleged to be composed of thousands of disciplined men under the leadership of retired officers of the British army and navy and assert they will defy any measures of the government sitting at Dublin.

The activity of the movement caused the government to issue a proclamation prohibiting the importation of arms and ammunition and several consignments have been seized on their arrival in Ulster.

JURY CONVICTS ANOTHER STRIKER

Ben Dominick, Converted Strike-breaker, Found Guilty.

Court Sums Up Against Prisoner, But Address Not as Strong as in Angelo Case.

It took the jury at the special court of assize yesterday barely an hour to decide that Ben Dominick, once a strike-breaker in the Vancouver island coal fields, now a union miner, was guilty on six counts of rioting and riotous destruction of property during the tempestuous times at Extension in August last.

While the charge made to the jury by the presiding judge, the Hon. Justice Morrison, was strongly in favor of conviction, it was not characterized by the same force with which his lordship delivered his views in the case of Joe Angelo, a couple of days before.

The judge carefully cautioned the jury against in any way connecting the accused and the charges against him with the union of which he was a member. "You must not hold any organization responsible for illegal acts committed by its adherents. The charge against this accused is not in any way against the union and the jury would do well to remember that."

The judge then went on to point out that the whole case turned on the identification of the prisoner and his lordship felt that this had been satisfactorily established by the evidence of Mrs. Cowan, who had seen him in her home with a crowd of men who were breaking and smashing her household goods. Furthermore, she had then talked with the accused, who had carried a rifle.

"That evidence of Mrs. Cowan's," said his lordship, "you cannot get over having due regard for your oath as members of this jury. It has not been contradicted in any way and on that you can honorably and reasonably draw the inference that the accused is guilty."

Nothing to Fear.

His lordship continued, instructing the jury that it was perfectly legal to convict the accused on the evidence, or to discard the testimony for the crown and acquit him, but in any case they had nothing to fear from anybody in consequence of any decision which they might reach.

By the time the court opened yesterday counsel for the defence had decided not to put the accused, Ben Dominick, in the witness box, but in an effort to prove that he could not talk English well enough to say what he was alleged to have said the court interpreter was placed on the stand. The judge, however, ruled the interpreter's evidence out, as also that of Robert Foster, president of district 28, U. M. W. of A., who was called to prove that the organization was not paying its members for the work of securing deserters from the ranks of the non-union miners.

Arthur Leighton, of counsel for the defence, addressed the jury in behalf of the accused, while W. H. Bullock-Webster presented the views of the crown, after which the presiding judge summed up. The jury retired shortly before 1 o'clock and returned back with the verdict of guilty on all counts shortly before 2.

The prisoner then was remanded for sentence and the special assize court was adjourned till Monday next at 11 a.m. when young Morris will come up for his second trial on the charge of attempted murder in connection with the strike troubles at Extension.

Wanted Them Present.

Rome, Jan. 9.—The judicial authorities have requested Cardinal Pompili and Cardinal Vannutelli to be present when the seals are removed from the door of the late Cardinal Rampolla's partment. The taking of an inventory of the late cardinal's estate will begin next Monday. It is asserted the property will amount only to about $140,000.

Would Make Alliance.

Constantinople, Jan. 9.—Negotiations are proceeding here and at Sofia for an offensive and defensive alliance between Turkey and Bulgaria.

PAY HIGHEST PRICE ON RECORD

London, Ont., Jan. 9.—In their anxiety to secure beef for their respective packing houses, American and Canadian buyers made a new record today when eight cents per pound was offered on the hoof, waste not to be deducted.

Only a short time ago farmers thought six cents was a top notch price and the oldest stockmen can not remember anything like the price at which contracts for spring delivery are now being signed. There is the greatest scarcity of calves ever known in this district.

THE DAYS OF YORE.

An eastern lecturer the other evening said the real way to get at the high cost of living was to simplify the modern diet and, to illustrate, he asked his hearers to remember the plains meals of mush and milk that mother used to serve, notably at supper time, as it was called then.

That may sound all right from the lecture platform, but it might be well to remember that mother didn't have to pay present day prices for either mush or milk, that she served other meals of eggs which she did not have to buy at from fifty to seventy-five cents per dozen, and of beef, which wasn't retailed to her at thirty cents per lb. Also she was able to get liver, soup bones and similar chunks at reasonable rates without being held up. The mother of thirty or forty years ago made a good job of her work, but if she was set down in the middle of the market quotations of the present it is a safe bet she would pretty nearly cave in or change her ideas.

It's all very well to talk of the mush and milk of the days of yore, but is there anyone in the audience praying for the return of that mush and milk system? Things are not as they used to be. The man, who, when he was a youngster used to get up for breakfast and put away a bowl of porridge that looked like a feed for a cow, four or five slices of toast, a stack of hot cakes and some bacon and eggs, couldn't do that now without putting his stomach and the rest of him in the hands of the undertaker; nor could his son accomplish the feat. Why? Simply because the times have changed. The tastes of today are not the tastes of yesterday and till some means is found to adjust the modern taste to the modern market the cost of living is likely to continue its present pleasant journey skywards.

Judging from the results of the civic elections in Vancouver the ratepayers there are not strong for the tailoring business.

The investigation of the British army canteen scandals is likely to result in the affixing of the can to the caudal appendages of some persons hitherto considered eminently respectable.

A woman lawyer down in Kansas wants to be a judge. If she gets there we'll probably hear of her objecting to the gown as being out of date and to much like the old split skirt to be worn by a lady of fashion.

GERMAN CROWN PRINCE APOLOGIZES

Says He Was Misunderstood and Misquoted—Post Office Revealed Telegram.

Berlin, Jan. 9.—Press criticism of the telegram of congratulation sent by Crown Prince Freiderich William to the military authorities at Zabern, applauding their aggressive attitude toward the people of that Alsatian town, has provoked his royal highness to make a public protest against what he terms misquotation, misunderstanding and twisting of his private utterances to make him appear to have interfered in matters which can only be determined by a court.

As quoted by various papers, he now declares "nothing is further from my thoughts than that there should be irresponsible military tyranny in Alsace, or in any other part of Germany. I never intended to suggest that anybody has a right to disregard the laws of the country. All I desired to say was that I considered that any colonel owes it to himself, to the army and to the whole nation to protect his officers and men from open insult, by every legal means at his disposal. The coat of the officer is honorable and ought not to be insulted with impunity."

The press accepts the prince's explanation and points out that his utterances on the subject of Zabern probably would have been left unmade if he had been correctly informed regarding the actual events. It is also charged that the prince's telegram was revealed by the post office, which is a grave breach of duty.

The Frankfort Gazette learns there is ground for fearing there may be some truth in the charge made by Colonel Von Reuter that the post office officials at Zabern forwarded to him insulting messages, but suppressed messages of condolence.

The crown prince had a long conference yesterday with the imperial chancellor. This circumstance, taken in connection with the crown prince's public explanation, which borders closely on an apology, indicates that he has had a heart-to-heart talk with his august sire, the emperor.

The kaiser is likely to become a grandfather in February, when his daughter, the Duchess of Brunswick, expects an heir. The kaiserin is busy purchasing clothing for the new arrival. The event, it is believed, will result in a reconciliation between the crown prince and his brother-in-law, who have been estranged since the quarrel over the Brunswick accession last autumn.

REPORTS FOR 1913 ARE SATISFACTORY

Burnaby Officials Give Accounts for Different Departments—Financial Deal Not Complete.

Satisfactory reports were made by the different officials of Burnaby at Thursday's council meeting, although the completion of the financial arrangements with Spitzer, Rorick and company of Toledo, Ohio, was left over until Monday morning when it is hoped that final word will have been received from the American firm.

The police department under Chief Parkinson, handled 1008 complaints made during the past year while the number of charges made were 384; number of hospital cases investigated 84; number of fires investigated, 4; number of miles patrolled, 62,087.

Wiring inspector Burns in his annual report on the electrical department stated that 27 miles of new telephone wires were installed during the past year and four miles reconstructed and repaired. The service now consisted of 22 patrol boxes and 15 residence 'phones, the total lines of circuit connected with police telephones being about 60 miles.

During the year 613 wiring permits were issued and $1090.56 collected in fees. The permits represented 480 new buildings.

SEATTLE MERCHANTS VICTIMS OF CHEQUE SWINDLERS

Seattle, Jan. 9.—Thirty Seattle merchants have been victimized by a gang of cheque swindlers during the past two weeks and, according to police reports more than $1000 has been stolen. One of the chief offenders was a woman.

The majority of the fraudulent cheques were cashed during the rush of business before Christmas, but that the gang is still operating is proved by the worthless paper that has been cashed at local stores during the past few days.

Comparison of the handwriting has convinced detectives that most of the worthless cheques issued by a gang of three persons. The amounts ranged from $25 to $85.

FEDERAL LEAGUE GRABS FOUR MORE PLAYERS

Hurls Second Bomb Into Ranks of Organized Baseball—Three Year Contracts.

Chicago, Jan. 9.—The Federal league hurled its second bomb in the ranks of organized baseball tonight. Four players who long have been prominent in major league play, were signed for the Chicago club of the Federal league. They are Gene Packard, a pitcher of the Cincinnati National league club; Al Brennan, pitcher, and William Killifer, catcher, of the Philadelphia Nationals, and Leonard (King) Cole, pitcher for the New York Americans. They signed for three years, it was announced.

The amount of salaries the men will receive was not made public, but according to Charles Weeghman, president of the local club, who made the announcements, surety bonds have been deposited guaranteeing the players their full pay regardless of the fate of the league. All four also received advance payments on the contracts.

Weeghman also said other contracts had been signed, but after a conference with James A. Gilmore, president of the new league, decided to withhold the announcements for a few days. He said, however, that within a week the name of the manager of each of the eight clubs would be made public.

Today's deal guarantees a promising pitching staff to the local club.

Joe Tinker is said to have declared that Packard, who was with him last year in Cincinnati, is the most promising young left handed pitcher in organized baseball.

The Philadelphia club was the hardest hit by the announcement. Otto Knabe, who deserted the Philadelphia club to sign as manager for the Baltimore club, was here today when the signing of his former teammates became public. He rejoiced when he heard they had entered the new league and said that he knew of several stars who had been offered Federal places, but were waiting to see what other players left organized baseball. He expressed the belief that the signing of the four players would result in swinging several others who have been wavering for several days.

Reports were persistent that Vic Saier, first baseman of the Chicago Nationals, had signed a contract with the St. Louis Federals. The reports were not confirmed and Knabe intimated tonight that he would visit Saier's home in Lansing, Mich., and try to sign him for the Baltimore club.

TODAY'S SOCCER

Rovers Meet City at Moody Park—B. C. E. R. vs. Burquitlam at Sapperton.

With prospects of a better playing patch at Moody park this afternoon the soccer fixture between the Rovers and City should uncork a brand of soccer worthy of support from fandom. The Rovers owing to their victory over the City three weeks ago will trot out favorites although the unexpected might happen, seeing that both aggregations are in the running for the league championship.

Different to the party spirit among other clubs, Manager McLaren is having considerable difficulty in fielding his regular team although there is no dearth of available men to select from. Whether the regulars will turn out this afternoon has yet to be seen but there is a prospect that the City will require to appoint a new manager and also a captain unless the players show a better espirit de corps. The kick-off will take place at 2:30.

At Sapperton Park.

Another interesting game is that scheduled for Sapperton park, where the Electrics clash with Burquitlam. Both teams are at the foot of the ladder with chances of either team pulling out after today.

Manager Hulme of the Electrics will field the following: Palmer, Leaf, Awlaid, Rennie, Donald, Bodley, Patterson, O'Malley, Claxton, Rankin, Furness and Thompson.

The kick-off is scheduled for 2:30.

Bankers Travel.

Members of the Bankers' soccer club will leave for Abbotsford on the afternoon Fraser valley train of the B. C. E. R. where they will clash with the eleven representing the valley town. Although the playing time naturally will be of short duration owing to the change of schedule of the B. C. E. R., the financial students expect to get away with the contest. The team will be entertained at dinner immediately following the game, returning home on the evening train.

Hamilton, Ont., is proving a happy hunting ground for soccer players by American clubs. Last week a prominent professional club of Philadelphia grabbed a couple of stars.

SPORT CHATTER

(By the Potter.)

"Seattle wants lacrosse," states a headline. Pretty soon we will be swapping our national games, the U. S. taking lacrosse while Canucks will be dyed-in-the-wool baseball fans.

A prominent official in the Philippines states that baseball is preventing vice in the islands and has drawn crowds from the cock-pits to such an extent that their managers are actually seeking legislation against the rival sport. That helps some.

The long jumps do not bother the Federals as much as the long green.

Jimmy Murphy of the Toronto Ontarios is hotfoot after Tommy Phillips, the former Vancouver star, who is now coaching O.H.A. teams in Hamilton. So far Tommy has refused to sign on as a coach with the former Tecumsehs.

The signing on of Joe Tinker, Mordecai Brown and Otto Knobe by the Feds is causing no little talk in baseball circles these days. When these players get started signing on players there will be something doing.

The Westminster field hockey team will play its final game in the Mainland hockey league on Brockton Point grounds this afternoon against Vancouver. North Vancouver, present leaders, will clash with the Vancouver "A" eleven on the Ambitious City grounds. The Royals will line-up as follows: Wedge, Broadbent, Watson, H. V. Kirby, J. Browne, Scott, Alloway, C. Kirby, Langford, J. Kirby, McCombie.

DID NOT HIT HIM FULL STRENGTH

Jess Willard in Court Tells of His Fight With John Young—

—Not Prize Fight.

Los Angeles, Jan. 9.—Jess Willard testified today in the supreior court that he did not strike John Young with his full strength at any time during their match at the Vernon arena on Aug. 22, 1913, which was followed by Young's death the next morning.

This was in the trial of Willard for alleged violation of the state law prohibiting prize fighting. When the case started there were 11 other defendants, but they were automatically dismissed as they became witnesses and testified.

"Prize fights are the most brutal exhibitions in the world," declared Charles Eyton, referee of the Willard-Young contest, but added that the affairs in the Vernon arena were not prize fights but boxing exhibitions. Willard's testimony was similar.

The heavyweight stated that Eyton and Tom Jones, his manager, gave him instructions before the fight regarding the law and as a result he, Willard, believed that it was lawful to do anything the Marquis of Queensbury rules permitted.

Both he and Eyton said there was a good deal of conversation during the match and H. M. Walker, a sporting writer, called to the stand, declared that it was about the poorest exhibition of boxing he had ever seen, "excepting the pork and bean events," referring to the preliminaries.

"But all the good fighters come from the pork and bean class," Walker added in justification of that class of boxing events.

It is expected the case will go to the jury tomorrow.

UNEMPLOYED START ON PILGRIMAGE

Portland, Ore., Jan. 9.—Approximately 100 of the unemployed of the city who had refused work on the municipal rock pile started yesterday on a pilgrimage of the state, ostensibly for the purpose of seeking work. They marched past the city hall, followed by a curious crowd, shouting and singing. Many of them hooted and shook their fists at the employees of the city hall, who were attracted to the windows by the noise.

The first stop of any length which the small army of marchers will make will be in Salem, where they announced they will appear before Governor West and demand work.

May Settle Strike.

Montreal, Jan. 9.—The long standing strike among the garment workers of the city is within view of a settlement. The strikers have come to an agreement with the employers to submit all their differences to a board of arbitration appointed, one member by the strikers, one member by the employers and Reuben Brainin, editor of the Jewish Eagle, as chairman. The board has now been appointed and the first sitting will be held this evening.

BONDS and MORTGAGES

Taxes are a superior lien upon all mortgaged property. Real estate may be sold for taxes, leaving the careless holder of a bond and mortgage with no security. Insurance may be allowed to lapse; then, should a fire occur the mortgage holder has only the bare ground security. Methodical attention absolutely averts these dangers. The maker of the mortgage may default in his interest payments. Here again experience, and skill are needed to properly conduct a foreclosure. Much money has been lost and many titles have been impaired through lack of skill and experience in such matters.

The process of sorting out the Chinese opium joint requenters was continued in the police court yesterday morning and, after considerable trouble, the sorting was accomplished to the satisfaction of Magistrate Edmonds. Efforts to Save Murderer.

Brantford, Jan. 9.—Steps are being taken in the city at present to save James Taylor, murderer of the boy, Charles Dawson, from the hangman's rope two weeks from today. He has been found to be mentally and morally deranged, with no education from appearance and no sense wherewith to realize the enormity of his offense. Accordingly petitions are now being circulated asking the minister of justice to have competent alienists examine the unfortunate man.

JUST FOR THE CHILDREN.

The opera house this afternoon will be full of happy laughing children when the Royal players put on "The Snookums Family," a big comedy in three acts. Everybody is welcome and parents who cannot afford to take their children to the performance this afternoon should go to the opera house this morning and reserve their seats as it will cost them nothing.

In the evening "The Black Flag," a sensational melodrama, will be staged in which Mr. Royal will portray "The Jew," a strong comedy feature. This will be the farewell performance of the Royal players, but they will return to the opera house in the course of a few weeks.

AT THE EDISON.

"The Runaway Freight," a pretty but sensational romance in two parts, will be the feature film at the Edison theatre today.

The story is entwined around Billy, a brakeman, and Ruth, a telegraph operator, who are sweethearts. The two plan to be married when Billy is promoted.

The boy is assigned to Rand's freight train. Rand is also in love with Ruth. He orders Billy to cease his attentions to the girl. A fight ensues and Rand is badly beaten.

Later, the conductor hires two tramps who are stealing a ride, to attack Billy. The brakeman is struck down from behind. The tramps pick the dazed boy up and throw him into a river which is being crossed. The water revives Billy and he swims to shore. Billy flags a train and is taken home. A slight concussion keeps him abed for several days.

Billy's mother succeeds in persuading the boy to give up his position and seek less perilous work. Rand brands him as a quitter, and Ruth, believing such to be the case, breaks the engagement.

Several days later Rand is ordered to side track his freight train until the Fast Mail passes. Farther up the hill, a freight car breaks loose. An attempt is made to warn the Fast Mail, but without avail. Ruth pleads with Rand to halt the runaway, but the danger causes the man to decline. Billy overhears the plea. He dashes over to the side-tracked cars and climbs to the top of one of them. When the runaway flashes by, Billy leaps aboard, narrowly escaping death. He turns on the hand brakes and brings the car to a halt just in time to avoid a terrible wreck.

The president of the road learns of Billy's heroism. Ruth also receives the news. When Billy returns to the station he finds promotion and his sweetheart awaiting him.

VANCOUVER UPSET DOPE AND DEFEAT ROYALS

Exciting Game Only Won in the Last Minute of Play—Score Was 3 Goals to 2.

Losing out on the home stretch after perhaps one of the most thrilling games of the coast season, the Royals were forced to take the count before Vancouver on the local rink last night and thus descend to the cellar position with the Terminals perched at the top of the ladder. The final score was 3 goals to 2, the odd counter being sent in by Sibby Nichols with only one minute and ten seconds to play.

Horseshoes strung around the neck of Allan Parr, the Vancouver custodian, and bad eyesight on the part of Skinner Poulin when Fred Harris accepted a palpable forward pass in the second period which tied up the score, accounted for the defeat of Westminster.

Perhaps a few offside goals have been scored in the league since it started, but a more glaring one was harder to decipher last night than that which Harris secured and scored on.

Hugh Lehman's protests availed nothing at the hands of the Victoria officials and the continued coaching of Walter Smaill by Frank Patrick as to what constitutes a penalty, has led the Westminster fans to believe that either Vancouver or Victoria must make the trip to the east in search of the Stanley cup. In the last game here the magnates sent along Gorman, of Victoria, to officiate. One night's work finished him, but Gorman's work was little worse than that exhibited last night.

Figuring out any more reasons why Vancouver won the game one might say that superior backchecking with a three man defence together with a hoggish spirit exhibited by McDonald when in possession of the puck turned the clock around the mark.

McDonald did tie up the score in the third period and sent the crowd into a frenzy, but a player has to be a Ty Cobb in Canadian hockey to imagine he can go through a bunch of three first class defence men at a time when his teammates were waiting for the pass.

Was Some Game.

Even though Westminster lost it was a hard battle from start to finish. Not a score was made in the first period, nearly a record in coast hockey. In the second Harris went through alone after seven minutes of play followed by one from the stick of Mallen, who took the pass from Johnson. Then Harris scored the fluke offside counter.

With perfect ice and the players on edge the third period started off with a rush, each goal being tested from time to time with no apparent result. This lasted for fully 15 minutes during which time McDonald took the count when Griffis pulled off a dirty trick of kneeing the player. Nichols and Taylor made a feeble attempt to pull off a Newsy Lalonde stunt of laying down when any danger occurred at their own end. Then McDonald placed the teams on even footing by scoring from a pass close to the board. The tie was only temporary, however, for with the Royals sending five men to the attack Sibby Nichols intercepted a long pass and evading the lone defence man, beat Lehman for the winning goal.

Johnson and Oatman shone for Westminster, with Parr and Pitre dragging down the honors for Vancouver. Charlie Tobin was on the ice ten minutes in the last period, but again gave way to Mallen after the pace quickened.

Cyclone Taylor failed to shine to any extent and well deserved the boohs of the crowd when he attempted to pull off a gallery display by making circles with the puck. Poulin pulled up the ragging exhibition amid protests from Frank Patrick.

EXPECT GENERAL IMPROVEMENT LOAN

Trade Quiet at Leading Centres in Canada—Merchants Confident, However.

New York, Jan. 9.—Dispatches to Dun's Review from branch offices of R. G. Dun & Co. in leading centres in the Dominion of Canada reflected generally quiet conditions though there is considerable confidence that improvement will appear in the near future.

Montreal reports that a holiday interferred with business this week and as yet there is no great amount of activity. Dry goods travellers are beginning to start out with new samples of spring goods but it will be some time before results would be seen. Teas are active and raising are firm but groceries as a rule are quiet. Tanners are doing a good export business with the United States, but there is little doing in hides. There is now plenty of snow and good roads benefit country trade and lumbering operations.

Wholesale and retail trade is quiet at Quebec but conditions are expected to shortly improve.

There is only a fair business at Toronto, the effect of the holidays not having worked off but travellers are starting out on the road and claim that the prospects are encouraging. Colder weather has stimulated the demand of commodities that were formerly selling slowly and it is thought that these stocks will be well reduced before the end of the season.

Business is still slow at Hamilton but prospects are regarded as good for a liberal demand for spring merchandise.

Colder weather has resulted in more activity in the far west and the northwest and the general feeling seems to be more confident regarding the future.

Winnipeg reports that the demand for winter merchandise has been stimulated by more seasonable weather and that the movement of the clothing, footwear and dry goods shows a slight expansion.

Wholesale trade is rather quiet at Calgary but there is more money in circulation and retail demand for staple merchandise is fair.

Quiet conditions prevail in most lines at Saskatoon but trade in the country appears good and collections are better.

Edmonton reports that sales have not been equal to those of this time last year, but colder weather has benefitted some lines.

Gross earnings of all Canadian railways reported to date for December show a falling off of 1.9 per cent as compared with the earnings of the same roads for the corresponding period of 1912.

Commercial failures in the Dominion of Canada this week numbered 51 as against 34 last week and 32 the same week last year.

NOTICE.

The partnership heretofore existing between Jacobson & Isaacman, carrying on business as junk dealers in the City of New Westminster, has been dissolved by mutual consent, and all persons holding cheques, notes or accounts against the said firm are notified to present the same for payment within thirty days from this date at 740 Jackson avenue, Vancouver.

To Visit His Sons.

Ottawa, Jan. 9.—Mr. Justice Landry of New Brunswick, lately made chief justice of the king's bench division of the supreme court of his native province, is now in Ottawa. On Saturday, accompanied by his son, Alfred, of Victoria, he will leave for Edmonton on a visit to three of his sons living there.

Who Can Blame Him?

London, Jan. 9.—A Londoner named Archibald Cappin, rode 90 miles on the buffer of a fast London-to-Nottingham express and when found at Nottingham early this morning, he was half frozen. When charged at the local police court with riding on a train without a ticket he explained that he made the journey to escape from his mother-in-law.

REGIMENTS DISCARD BRIGHT UNIFORMS

Another Regiment Adopts the Khaki Uniform in Place of Old Time Splendor.

That the practice of clothing the Canadian soldiers in bright uniforms is fast drawing to a close, and that, in place of the barbarous splendor of other days, the nation defenders are now to be clad in deadly Khaki, is indicated now by the order from Ottawa, placing the Tenth Royal Grenadiers on the list of the Khaki-clad. Except when on church parade, or on other ceremonial occasions, the Grenadiers will wear the plain colors of the inconspicuous refle-man. Within the next few weeks the new uniforms will arrive.

Since the Queen's Own Rifles made its memorable trip to England, it has worn the Khaki. The honorable, the minister of militia is said to have been convinced by recent visits to England, that Khaki, especially in view of the development of aeroplanes, is essentially the proper color. The aeroplane scout has too easy an opportunity to spy out the scarlet-clad regiments or other brilliant colors. Khaki helps in hiding the forces from the enemy's aeronauts.

The 48th Highlanders will retain their uniforms for the present, using the scarlet for dress parade and white "shells" for field work. The 91st Highlanders of Hamilton are now wearing Khaki jackets, and this may lead the 48th to adopt the same, sooner or later.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE IN ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Coquitlam Farmers' institute was held in the Burquitlam agricultural hall on Wednesday, January 7. The meeting was called to order by President Geo. Alderson. The secretary-treasurer presented his annual report and financial statement and mentioned the good work that was being done, in the way of buying cheap grain, also stumping powder, and the money that the members were saving in buying through the institute.

The election of officers then took place. George Alderson was re-elected president; first vice-president, F. W. Collin; second vice-president, Wm. Walker; third vice-president, Mayor Mars; secretary-treasurer F. Cockerill; directors, J. D. Robertson, H. B. Baker, C. Halvorson, C. E. Walls, T. Wilson, Robert Morrison, D. McLean.

After correspondence was disposed of it came to the election of a delegate, and F. Cockerill was elected to represent the institute at the fifteenth annual convention of the Central Farmers' institute held at the government buildings, Victoria, on January 26, 27 and 28.

MOONSHINER CAUGHT NAPPING AFTER TWENTY YEARS SEARCH

Waldron, Ark., Jan. 9.—John Dale, who for twenty years has defied revenue officers in the western counties of Arkansas, was found asleep in the woods near here today and arrested by a United States marshal's posse on charges of operating an illicit still. Dale lay asleep on his rift above the foot of a tree. Awakened to find six guns pointed at him, he showed fight, but was soon overpowered.

Dale's crude still and 260 gallons of liquor were confiscated and the operator put in jail. His whisky-making device was of the portable kind generally known as "a wildcat still." As early as 1894 attempts were made to corner Dale and scores of government officers, after trailing him for months in isolated regions of Scott and Polk counties, abandoned the chase.

A Tammany "Bagman."

New York, Jan. 9.—Everett P. Fowler of Kingston, N.Y., alluded to by John A. Hennessey, a state investigator, during the Sulzer administration as a Tammany "bagman" was made the defendant today in a grand jury indictment superseding the one filed against him last November charging him with extorting a $250 Democratic campaign contribution from Seneca P. Hull, a Republican, who had a state highway contract. Fowler was formerly a member of the Democratic state committee.

SCOUTS IDEA OF JAPANESE MENACE

Talk of Little Brown Men Over-running America Should Not Be Taken Seriously.

New York, Jan. 9.—Japanese immigrants will never become a serious factor in the political or economical life of this country, Mexico, or of any other country in the western hemisphere, according to Dr. Shouske Sato, the director of the college of agriculture of the Tokuku Imperial university, Sapporho, Japan, who is in this country to deliver a series of lectures at universities under the auspices of the Carnegie foundation.

Dr. Sato made this statement while in this city yesterday. He said the great bulk of Japanese emigration was to Manchuria, Korea and the more sparsely settled islands of the Japanese archipelago.

"Talk about the Japanese overrunning Mexico or the United States or any country of this continent, in fact, should not be taken seriously," said Dr. Sato.

Dr. Sato is a graduate of Johns Hopkins university, having received his doctor's degree there in 1886 in the same group with President Wilson. He will be in this country until the end of May lecturing at universities and colleges.
