COUNCIL CONDUCT BUSINESS MEETING

Claims For Compensation Are Presented, and the Weekly Sidewalk Complaints Brought Up Serenely Once More—Accounts Passed.

Members from two legal firms were present at the council meeting last evening at which the city was asked to consider the bill for compensation for injuries received by people here recently. The first was from Martin, Weart & Macquarrie, acting on behalf of James Pollis, and claiming the $500 compensation for the injury received by her late husband. He was in the employ of the city through which death resulted. The matter was not referred to the finance committee to be dealt with at a later date, but was referred to the finance committee to be dealt with at a later date. The second legal communication came from Messrs. Whiteside & Sons, acting for R. J. Sainsbury, claiming $50 compensation for injuries received while walking along the sidewalk outside the Vulcan works, and which he was unable to see owing to the darkness. This was referred to the finance committee to be dealt with at a later date.

In reference to the Sainsbury case, Ald. Howay said that he did not know how the city could be held responsible for the accident which had occurred to the claimant. The only person that appealed to him was that Sainsbury was in the company of the officer at the time, and that he had sufficient grounds for the city responsible. Ald. Howay said that his attention had been called to what was considered a dangerous part of Fifth avenue between Fourteenth and Sixteenth streets. The sidewalk is in a rather bad condition, and to make the worst, the place is very dark at night, as there are no lights for distance. He did not think that an accident would happen if the place were lighted up at night, and suggested that a light should be placed at the corner of Sixteenth and Fifth avenue. The fact that the place was so dark was owing to a large number of trees in the place.

Electrician Bowler, who happened to come in just as the alderman was speaking, was called upon by the alderman to say a few words on the subject. He stated that the matter of the place could be easily fixed, but it would be necessary to place a number of poles in position before this could be done. He promised that the work would receive his early attention.

Howay also spoke in favor of placing a light instead of placing a pole there, as lights were cheaper. The resolution moved by Ald. Jardine, seconded by Ald. Adams, that in the approaching elections, the places be fixed and deputy referees appointed, was carried. The polling places selected were council chamber, city hall, the light station, Tenth street, and the hall, Sapperton. The deputy referees will be Captain Hugh Barr, H. J. A. Burnett and G. H. Barr.

Shiles reported that Mr. McLeod had been selected as chimney sweep for the city. He (Mr. McLeod) wishes to have a license, and a hand rail fixed in position. The license would protect him from competition. Acting on the suggestion thrown out by the chair, it was suggested that Ald. Shiles should interview Mr. McLeod and ascertain whether he would be willing to do the work of the city hall and school boys for the privilege of being employed by a license.

Howay reported that his attention had been called to the condition of the slip at the east end of the city. People using that slip were liable to have cleats placed across it, a hand rail fixed in position, and a float placed so that a larger number of boats could discharge promptly at the same time. The matter was referred to the market committee for consideration.

Dawkins sent a letter complaining of the condition of the sidewalk between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets. Referred to the market committee for consideration. The application of the Gray & McLeod Lumber Co. for 100 inches of water came up before Water Commissioner C. C. Fisher yesterday, and after hearing the application, the applicants were granted one inch. The water applied for is in the Delta municipality, and is required for domestic and industrial purposes. The Hon. W. Norman Bole was granted 25 inches of water from Noon creek, which empties itself into Burrard inlet. The water is required for ordinary domestic and agricultural purposes.

THEORY VS. FACT.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 19.—Referring to a cablegram received by Lord Stratheona, the Canadian High Commissioner in London, from Hon. Frank Oliver, regarding discoveries of copper in New Ontario and investments in Yukon district, the Daily Post Mercury says there is a good deal of lead and some gold in Rossland and Nelson districts, British Columbia, but the mines there, from a financial point of view, can scarcely be described as prosperous.

ROSSLAND, B. C., Nov. 19.—A cablegram received to-day from London states that at a meeting of the Le Roi Mining Company, held there, a dividend of two shillings a share was declared. The report of A. J. McMillan, managing director, was read, and it gave a most favorable account of the condition of the mine. The present dividend is for $100,000. This added to what has already been paid, $1,377,000, gives a grand total of $1,477,000. The condition of the mine, with discoveries west of the Josie Dyke, which makes Le Roi practically a new mine, and with the important discoveries of ore in the old workings, is most favorable. There is more ore in sight in the mine than ever in its history. Already its gross yield has been $18,000,000, and the probabilities are that during the next ten years it will yield twice that amount.

G. N. R. Absorbs Burlington Road

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 19.—The Bee to-day says: "Within one week the equity which the Northern Pacific now holds in the Burlington will pass into the hands of the Great Northern, and within fifteen days the Burlington and Great Northern will be merged into one vast system, with James J. Hill in control. This statement was made to a reporter for the Bee to-day by a man closely connected with the official department of the Hill roads, who has just returned from Chicago, where the intricate operations of this gigantic transaction are now being perfected."

COLLEGE STUDENTS MIX FUN WITH WORK

Lecture on Mad Mechanical Idea Interests and Amuses Literary Society Members.

At the meeting of the Columbian College Literary society last Friday evening, an experimental lecture on "Perpetual Motion" was given by some of the students in the science department of the college. From the time the lecture was announced until the night of its delivery, incessant attempts were made by those outside the engineering laboratory to discover what was the programme. The initiated, however, kept everything secret, even to the name of the student who was to give the lecture. Nothing more was allowed to transpire than that Dr. Mathis and his assistant, Prof. Wm. Shaw, were to appear before the society, accompanied by Silas P. Brown, the representative of Messrs. Mover & Mover.

At the appointed hour, J. B. Humphreys came in, dressed in full academic costume, accompanied by Roy G. Henderson as his assistant, and by Wm. Turner as his business manager. They paid their elaborate respects to the lady president, Miss Woodward, who opened the meeting and then surrendered the platform to them. Mr. Turner gave a neat opening address, emphasizing the importance of the new discovery, and promising on behalf of his firm that Westminster in general, and Columbian college in particular, would reap practically all the benefits to follow. Some of these benefits which he specified had a very left-handed reference to other departments of the college, and were received with ironical applause and counter-cheers. The lecturer then came forward with a fine imitation of old-fashioned German curtsy, and proceeded to explain the evolution of Prof. Blitzenbutzer's perpetual motion machine, beginning with his fall on his head from a fourth storey window in Berlin, and ending with his extrication of his horse and carriage from a mud hole by the use of a few leaves of his notebook bearing the figure six. The lecturer's story was both ingenious and plausible; and the changes from the air of tranquil self-confidence in his tougher statements to the dogmatic or rotundo in his commonplaces, was specially appreciated by the divinity students.

Mr. Henderson was the next in turn, and it may be mentioned that the models exhibited were chiefly the result of his neat and accurate work. He performed the experiments one after another without a hitch; and the deus ex machina of the whole remained undiscovered, in spite of the prying of one hundred and fifty pairs of curious eyes.

The lights were turned down after the experiments, and R. A. Kirkpatrick proceeded to show on the screen a number of lantern slides illustrating the lecture, which had been drawn by Mr. Humphreys. The explanations of the pictures which he gave included some pungent local applications, and a cordial reference to the projected college gymnasium. T. Maeda, who had been watching over the secret arrangements, was occupied with Mr. Henderson during this time in removing all tell-tale indications, and when the lights were again turned up the platform was ready for a general inspection, which was invited by Mr. Turner.

The students in the faculties of arts and theology are already planning a rival display of learning and ingenuity; and the question was officially discussed to-day whether it should take the form of a new religion or a new language. The heads are, however, keeping their secret in turn.

Anarchists Plan To Kill The Pope

Rome, Nov. 19.—The pope has received personal letters containing threats that he will be assassinated in the apostolic palace as a protest against the present organization of society. The anarchists, it is added, are ready to employ every means to destroy all institutions supported by religious or military forces.

GOVERNMENT KNOWS CHURCHES' WEALTH

Inventories of Contents of All Religious Edifices Taken Simultaneously in France—Very Little Resistance Offered by Clerical Party.

Paris, Nov. 19.—The taking of the inventories of the 3,500 churches, which were not entered last spring owing to resistance and disorders, was begun simultaneously throughout France to-day. Troops were everywhere held in readiness to support the prefects, it being the intention of the government not to hesitate before resistance, but no repetition of disorders upon the scale of those of last spring is anticipated, although considerable trouble is feared, especially in the departments of Aveyron, Vendee and Finisterre.

The first resistance reported was at Villelongue de Langue, in the Western Pyrenees. The clericals there, after carrying away the sacred emblems, barricaded and locked themselves in the church.

The inventory of the church of St. Augustin was taken to-day without a repetition of the violent demonstrations of last spring, when this church was occupied and held by a determined body of parishioners. Several priests and the church warden assisted the government commissioners in the operation to-day. The doors of the edifice were barred, and a party of twenty persons who were attending a baptism were turned out. The clergymen conducting the ceremony protested against the commissioner's action, and refused to hand over the books. The officials then burst open the safe, secured the registers and other documents, completed their inventory and retired. They met with no resistance. St. Augustin's is the last church in Paris in which an inventory will have to be made.

Reports from other parts of the country show that few inventories were taken to-day, and there was no serious trouble. Most of the day was taken up with military and civil preparations for the prevention of disturbances.

Which is the Mucker?
Editor Delta Times:
Sir,—The Columbian condemns the "Man With the Muck Rake," while it has nothing but praise for those who created the muck. I would recommend the Columbian to help get rid of the muck, and then the man with the muck rake will necessarily find himself out of a job.

POLICE SUPPRESS GAMBLING STORY

Reporter Who Knew the Facts Accepts Money and Speeds Away to San Francisco.

F. C. Clark, a young man about whom all Calgary is talking at the present time, is at present in Vancouver, on his way to San Francisco, where he expects to go to work on the Examiner. Mr. Clark was until quite recently a reporter on the Calgary Morning Albertan, but severed his connection with that paper in rather a dramatic manner, according to the story told yesterday to a reporter of the Daily News, which is that he was requested to leave the city by the police, given a railway ticket and a wad of money, and made to understand that if he returned to Calgary something decidedly interesting would happen to him. The story in connection with the case is one which should be appreciated locally.

While reporting for his paper, Clark received a tip that he could secure an interesting story by interviewing a woman who knew something in connection with the police department which would make spicy reading. It turned out that this woman professed to know of certain transactions between the police and a gang of card sharpers who have been victimizing the Calgary people for some time past. These transactions are said to have been in the nature of a bargain that the gamblers would not be interfered with on condition that the police did not lose anything by the deal. Clark set to work, and in a few days had secured evidence of the alleged combine, but before he could use the story, he was requested by the police to leave the city without delay, and as an inducement he was offered a large sum of money and a railroad ticket to any place he might choose. In exchange for this, he was to surrender all proofs he had of the understanding, and promise not to use the article in any way.

After thinking the matter over for some time, Clark decided to accept the money offered, and hand over all incriminating evidence. He decided to go to Frisco, and was seen safely out of the city by the police. But the story leaked out in some way, and an investigation is about to be held which promises to make reading matter every bit as interesting as Clark's suppressed article.

LADIES PLAN FETE TO HELP HOSPITAL

Women's Auxiliary Decide to Raise Funds by Giving Novel St. Valentine's Party.

The ladies of the Women's auxiliary of the Royal Columbian hospital have decided to have a grand St. Valentine's party and fete combined during February, and a committee of the whole was appointed at yesterday afternoon's meeting for the purpose of going into the necessary details in connection with the scheme. It is the intention of the ladies to hold the party in one of the local halls on Feb. 13 and 14, and the feature of the entertainment is that it will be wholly a valentine affair, and entirely novel from every point of view. The proceeds of the two days' fete will be devoted either to the furnishing of the maternity ward or else added to the general building fund of the new hospital.

Mrs. Eagles and Mrs. Sipprell were admitted as new members, while W. E. Fales and J. R. Johnston were duly elected honorary members of the society. At yesterday's meeting Miss Armstrong acted as secretary pro tem, while Mrs. Welsh, president, occupied the chair.

Mrs. Tidy and Mrs. Eagles were appointed a visiting committee for the ensuing month. In spite of the threatening weather, the meeting was very well attended.

The ladies wish to extend a hearty invitation to everyone who might wish to become connected with their society to become honorary members by paying $2. The money will be expended to cover the many needs of a most deserving institution.

FATAL COLLISION OCCURS NEAR SEATTLE

Over Forty Passengers on Steamer
Are Carried Down to Death
by Sinking Vessel.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 19.—The steamer Dix, Captain P. Leermom, bound from Seattle to Port Blakely, with passengers, sank two miles north of Alki Point shortly after 7 p.m. Sunday, after having collided with the ore steamer Jeannie, Capt. P. H. Mason, of the Alaska Coast Co. Forty-three passengers and members of the crew of the Dix are missing and 36 were saved. The Dix is a total wreck. The Jeannie was not injured in the least. The master of the Dix was saved.

The Dix was making the last trip of the night and was well filled with passengers. When within two miles north of Alki point the two vessels were within a short distance of each other, steaming along converging lines. The captain of the Jeannie says he signalled for the Dix to pass him and that his whistle was answered. The Dix was then within speaking distance of the Jeannie and to the port side of her. Suddenly Mate Dennison, who was at the wheel of the Dix, put her hard over to starboard, as if to cross in front of the Jeannie. Capt. Mason, of the Jeannie, who was on the bridge, saw that an accident was inevitable, and, calling out a warning to the man at the wheel of the Dix, gave the signal to reverse his own engines, and his steamer was slowly backing away when the two came together with only a slight crash. For a moment all was still; then a panic followed.

When the Dix began to sink, stern first, some passengers and members of the crew leaped into the sea. Other passengers huddled in groups on the deck or knelt in prayer. The women, who had little chance for their lives, stayed with the sinking steamer and were drowned as in a trap.

Of the five female passengers on the Dix, the only one to escape was Alice Simpson, a fifteen year old girl. She is believed to be the only person who escaped from the main deck of the steamer where more than half of the Dix's passengers were shut in when the fatal crash came. She could not swim, but her clothing kept her afloat until she was pulled aboard one of the two life boats lowered by the steamer Jeannie.

It is believed that the thirty-seven passengers who were rescued included every person who was on the open deck of the Dix, when the little craft plunged down stern foremost into 100 fathoms of water. It is doubtful whether she can be raised.

Victoria's Officers Exonerated.

Victoria, B.C., Nov. 19.—Capt. J. P. Hickey and the officers on watch at the time of the accident to the steamer Princess Victoria, were today cleared of blame for the stranding of the vessel on Oct. 16 last, by the court of enquiry, consisting of Capt. James Gaudin and two assessors, namely, Captains J. G. Cox and J. Goss. In its finding the court says proper care appears to have been exercised in the navigation of the ship.

Will Return to Work.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 19.—President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, today said that whatever the difficulties existing between the operators and miners in the Crow's Nest Pass bituminous coal fields of British Columbia, they are all over now, and that the men will go back to work. President Mitchell declines to say what side won in the strike, but says the men will work under their old agreement with the operators.

MADE FUN OF PHARAOH.

The Ancients Evidently Had a Keen Sense of Humor.

The fables of Aesop prove that the ancients were not without a liking for fun, and the remains of ancient art tell the same story. Examples of artistic humor are more common than is supposed by most persons.

A drawing on a tile in the Metropolitan museum, in New York, represents a cat dressed as an Egyptian lady of fashion. She is seated languidly in a chair, sipping wine out of a small bowl and being fanned and offered dainties by an abject looking tomcat, his tail between his legs.

The cat figures largely in the ancient comic groups of animal life. In a papyrus in the British museum a flock of geese are being driven by a cat and a herd of goats by two wolves with crooks and wallets. One of the wolves is playing a double pipe.

There is in the museum of Turin a papyrus roll which displays a whole series of such comical scenes. In the first place a lion, a crocodile and an ape are giving a vocal and instrumental concert. Next comes an ass, dressed, armed and sceptered like a pharaoh. With majestic swagger he receives the gifts presented to him by a cat of high degree, to which a bull acts as proud conductor.

Another picture shows pharaoh in the shape of a rat, drawn in a carriage by prancing greyhounds. He is proceeding to storm a fort garrisoned by cats having no arms but teeth and claws, whereas the rats have battle axes and bows and arrows.

SLEEP AND DIET.

Without Slumber Digestion and Assimilation Are Imperfect.

One of the most important functions of that mysterious physical condition we term sleep is so little understood that persons who cheat themselves habitually out of two or three hours of their natural rest every night are heard wondering at the same time why they are affected with dyspepsia and malnutrition. Care, even rigor, in the matter of diet seems to avail nothing, the stomach continuing in a condition of chronic revolt.

In reality the processes of digestion and assimilation are so closely interwoven with slumber that unless the required amount of sleep is taken it is impossible for the body to be nourished, if, indeed, the food undergoes the ordinary digestive changes.

It is only when the brain and the entire nervous system are practically off duty that the processes of ultimate nutrition take place. The food eaten is finally assimilated and transformed into new tissues, into blood, muscle, nerves and brain, only while the body is relaxed in slumber.

A curious illustration of this necessity of sleep is that furnished by the six day endurance races. One man engaged in these deadly tests eats five times as much as a man on ordinary labor could cram down. Want of sleep has rendered it impossible for even the enormous amount of food taken at this time into the body to form new tissue. —Philadelphia Press.

A Hundred Course Dinner.

At a dinner given by the late Prince Ratibor there were a hundred courses. The chefs of the prince were solemnly chosen after the greatest deliberation and cross examination. On one special occasion it was announced that he was in need of a cook, and ten of the best chefs duly presented themselves for the coveted post. They were informed by the prince that each must serve a dinner of his own choice and cooking, consisting of ten courses, to be served the same evening to a jury of the best gastronomes in Paris, who would eat of each different dish and then pass judgment. This programme was carried out and the palm awarded to a Frenchman who had been chef for many years to the Baron Haussmann. A trip to Marienbad by the whole of the jury was the sequel to this famous dinner of 100 courses.—London TR Bits.

COUNCIL MEETING

Burnaby Council.

All the councillors were present at last Saturday's fortnightly meeting. Reeve Byrne presided.

The following tenders were accepted: For making about three chains Trafalgar road, Central Park, F. E. Harmer, at $8.25 per chain; for widening Vancouver road for thirteen chains west of the Junction, A. R. Attoe, $6.50 per chain; for supplying punch-on for Tenth avenue, between Tenth and Twelfth streets, T. Muttitt, $6 per chain; the acceptance of the tender of Carl Helman for flood box, Walketa road, was confirmed. Tenders for rock, Hastings road, were laid over.

Councillors Stride and Anderson were authorized to expend a sum not exceeding $50 on Pole Line road, near Burnaby Lake post office.

The record of 250 inches of water for municipal purposes, to be taken from Seymour creek, has been received from the water commissioner.

Councillor Stride reported upon the negotiations with the city of New Westminster as to work on Tenth avenue, to be carried out jointly by the two authorities. It was resolved to bear half the cost of opening the avenue from Fourteenth street to Twentieth street, on the southwest side of Twelfth street, to bear half the cost of opening and making the avenue from Twelfth street, in a northeasterly direction to Eighth street; also to pay moiety of surveyor's charge for determining the boundary line from Twelfth street westwards.

The invitation of the B. C. Union of Municipalities to submit suggested amendments to the municipal clauses act was received and held for further consideration.

Councillor Griffin was requested to call for tenders for making ten chains of the north portion of Power House road. He reported upon steps taken to cut off the water from flowing down the roadbed.

Councillor Love was authorized to bring in specification for continuation of Gunn road from the centre line of lot 10 westward.

Specification of work required on Cliff road was approved, and Councillor Cliff authorized to call for tenders.

The Burnaby highway by-law, 1906, was further reconsidered, and the third reading laid over till next meeting.

Councillors Stride, Love and Cliff were appointed a committee to confer with the managers of the B. C. railway with regard to the rates charged from certain points on their interurban system.

W. J. Cunningham addressed the council in support of an application from a Central Park committee for endorsement of a proposal to secure, if possible, the selection of that locality as a site for the B.C. university. The question was laid over for fuller discussion.

The council adjourned till Saturday, Dec. 1, at 2.30, being pay day.

Simple Cure For Neuralgia.

Here is a simple method of curing facial neuralgia: If the neuralgia is on the right side of the face the left hand should be placed in a basin of water as hot as can be borne, or if neuralgia is in the left side of the face then the right hand should be placed in the hot water. It is asserted that in this way relief may be obtained in less than five minutes. The explanation is that the two nerves which have the greatest number of tactile nerve endings are the fifth and the median nerve. As the fibers of these two nerves cross any impulse conveyed to the left hand will affect the right side of the face or if applied to the right hand will affect the left side of the face. This is on account of the crossing of the cords. —Indian Review.

An Elastic Conscience.

"Here, my dear," said the husband, producing a roll of bills—"here is $50 I won playing poker over at Brown's last night. You may have it to buy that dress you wanted." Reluctantly the conscientious wife took the money, then said, with an expression of rigid rectitude: "I simply shudder at the thought of using money gained in such a way. Henry, promise me that after you have won enough for me to buy the hat to go with the dress you will never again touch those awful cards. I don't want my husband to be come a gambler."—Judge.

A MANUFACTURED CRIMINAL.

The managing director of the Daily News, being obliged in the discharge of his duties to turn night into day, and vice versa, does not, as a rule, reach his office until late in the evening. Last evening, shortly after his arrival on the scene of his nightly labors, he was honored by a visit from Detective Bradshaw, who handed him two copies of a typewritten document, headed "Summons to a Person Charged With an Indictable Offence." Enquiring what he was to do with them, he was informed by the detective that he could use them as he pleased. "They are out of my hands now," said the obliging officer, who then proceeded to hand out blue documents entitled, "Summons to a Witness" to four members of the Daily News staff, editorial and operative. The document reads:

SUMMONS TO A PERSON CHARGED WITH AN INDICTABLE OFFENCE.

Canada, Province of British Columbia, County of Westminster, City of New Westminster.
To John Cunningham Brown, of the City of New Westminster, County of Westminster, Journalist:

Whereas you have this day been charged before the undersigned police magistrate and one of His Majesty's justices of the peace in and for the said city of New Westminster, for that you on the 15th day of November, A.D. 1906, at the city of New Westminster aforesaid, did publish in a certain newspaper called "The Daily News," a defamatory libel on, of and concerning one James Davis Taylor, you the said John Cunningham Brown well knowing the same to be false, and which libel was contained in the said newspaper in an article therein headed "Board of Trade," and was in the following words:

"The other resolution, introduced by J. D. Taylor, was a piece of political clap-net of the 'red herring' order. Professing to look towards the abolition of road tolls on the Fraser river bridge, it is really designed to head off the movement for their abolition. As every one present at the meeting (except the mover of the resolution) was in favor of doing away with the tolls, the resolution passed unanimously, but not until Mr. Taylor had made what, in the circumstances, was an absolutely false statement in order to lead the meeting into supposing that there was no serious obstacle in the way of the granting of a subsidy by the Dominion Government."

That Government simply dare not subsidize a Provincial public work, and Mr. Taylor must be quite well aware of that.

Some time ago, the Daily News started an agitation for the removal of the bridge tolls, not knowing that Mr. Oliver, M.P.P., was also working the matter up. The Columbian had orders to oppose the movement and did so, and now Mr. Taylor is at his usual game of drawing a red herring across the track and trying to shift the responsibility to Ottawa."

And which libel was written in the sense of imputing that the said James Davis Taylor had made a deliberately false statement to the Board of Trade, and did by dishonorable conduct attempt to deceive the said Board of Trade, and which libel was published without legal justification or cause, and was likely to injure and did injure the reputation of the said James Davis Taylor by exposing him to contempt, and with intent to provoke the said James Davis Taylor and excite him to commit a breach of the peace.

And then the document concludes by requiring the criminal aforesaid "in His Majesty's name" (for what curious things His Majesty is made responsible!) to appear in the police court next Friday at 10 a.m.

Comment touching the merits of the case is, we presume, out of order in the meantime. We may, however, say that this attempt to harass the management, and particularly the managing director, is an evident compliment to the power and influence of the Daily News. A suit for criminal libel is rather a novel way of answering political arguments, but it must be accepted as an acknowledgment that no other answer is available.

Autos Go Free.

Buffalo, N.Y., Nov. 19.—Collector Fred O. Murray has received from Washington an order that Canadian automobilists, who are known residents of that country, may bring their automobiles into the United States for a period not to exceed three days, without paying duty or filing bonds.

Amateurs Only.

Winnipeg, Nov. 19.—At a meeting to-night, Winnipeg senior hockey club unanimously decided to play strictly amateur teams only this season, and if the proposal to recognize professionalism is accepted by the league, they will secede.

Heresy Case Ended.

Buffalo, N.Y., Nov. 19.—Rev. Reginald Rapsey, D.D., of St. Andrew's Episcopal church, is condemned to suspension from the church as a result of the decision of the Protestant Episcopal court of review, just made public here. This decision apparently brings the Rapsey case to an end.

Lake Steamer Lost.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Nov. 19.—The steamer Theano, of the Algoma Central Steamship Co., ran on the Shaughnessy island, three miles east of Thunder Bay cape, Lake Superior, Friday night, and sank in 67 feet of water, early Saturday morning. The crew got off safely.

The Bavarian Floated.

Montreal, Nov. 19.—The Allan Mac steamship Bavarian, which went ashore on Wye rocks, below Quebec, in October, 1905, was successfully floated this evening by wreckers engaged by the underwriters, to whom the steamer had been abandoned. She will be taken to Quebec for temporary repairs.

New Industries.

Montreal, Nov. 19.—Montreal will likely in the near future have two large industries added to its industrial list—a million dollar cotton mill employing 700 hands, and a car wheel plant at Longue Pointe, in which several hundred thousand dollars will be invested and which will furnish employment to a large number of mechanics.

Saw a Bear.

On Friday evening last, as Harry Richardson, one of the employees of the Fraser River mills, at Millside, was walking into the city about 8 o'clock, he was startled by a young bear which came rushing out of the underbrush opposite the track. As the young man had no firearms of any description, he allowed the bear to proceed on its way without attempting to capture it. This is the third bear that has been seen inside of two weeks by those who have occasion to walk into the city from Millside in the evenings.

HOLIDAYS IN MEXICO.

They Are Numerous, but Are Not All Local Celebrations.

The visitor in Mexico is apt to be surprised at the number of holidays celebrated here and made the occasion of rejoicing, with accompanying music and decoration, and is likely to think that the Mexican does nothing but celebrate.

With his religious and national feast days, the Mexican does have many holidays of more or less general importance, and when he is not celebrating these he may be celebrating the day of his patron saint or of that of some member of his family, so that it seems to require little inducement for him to celebrate. If a member of the family goes out of town for a few days or weeks, his return is celebrated in some mild way and his welcome home made pleasant.

But not all of the celebrations which take place in the capital are Mexican as the foreign colonies contribute their share of feast days. The Americans celebrate their day of independence on the glorious Fourth of July, and ten days later the French celebrate the fall of the Bastille, and so it goes, the British celebrating the birthday of their king, the Italians the entry into Rome of the troops of united Italy, the Germans the birthday of the Kaiser, the Swiss the day of the formation of the confederation. The Spanish celebrate the birthday of their king, and in September their feast of Coronado.

ga is important enough to last five days. No doubt there are other celebrations not so public or prominent, such as the Chinese New Year and others, but the above goes to show that not all the feasting in the capital is done by natives. An interesting point, however, is that foreigners who come to Mexico are soon the keenest for the coming of the various holidays, and Mexican, religious or their own are jealously demanded as leisure days from all houses of business or commerce.—Modern Mexico.

The Wrong Color.

THE INHABITANTS OF NEW WESTMINSTER IN GENERAL, AND OUR FRIENDS IN PARTICULAR:

Recently we have been constantly asked if we are selling out, or moving our premises. These enquiries have no doubt been created by the shipments of furniture leaving our stores and warehouses daily.

We are not leaving our present site, but we certainly are selling out (in time). Not with any catchpenny reductions, but a genuine legitimate method of trading which we have made successful by always marking goods lower than the lowest of other furniture houses in British Columbia.

NOW, IT'S UP TO YOU whether you want old and out of date goods at old price, or the very latest and newest goods that money and expense can buy.

Just come in and pay us a friendly visit; no one will bother you to buy. Christmas goods constantly arriving. Look them over, and if you something good, select it, and we will deliver any time or anywhere. We will advise you in purchasing Morris Chairs, Morris Rockers, Chairs, Extension Tables, Pictures, Sideboards, Buffets, etc.

An intoxicated Sikh fell foul of the police yesterday afternoon, and is billed to appear in the police court this morning. For the first time since its erection, St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Victoria, is free of debt. A mortgage of $20,000 was incurred about ten years ago. A staff of carpenters were hard at work last evening placing a new counterday forenoon, the merchants came to two decisions which will be of general interest to the buying public. In the first place, they decided that, in view of the increased prices being charged by wholesalers, they would have to make an advance in the prices of their goods. In the second place, they decided that hereafter they would give no Christmas presents to their patrons. The custom had led to considerable dissatisfaction on the part of the buyers, and had led to dealers with different merchants comparing their presents and expressing their opinions somewhat freely in the matter.

BEST ON EARTH

THE MONARCH RANGE

It utilizes all the heating power of the hard coal, soft coal, wood or coke. Ordinary steel and cast iron ranges are fuel wasters. They may work well until the bolts become loose where steel is bolted to cast iron. The Monarch range is different. It is constructed with malleable iron frames, to which the steel is rivetted, not bolted. It is only in this way that absolutely air-tight joints can be made. There is no stove putty in Monarch air-tight seams—no danger of leaks. FOR SALE BY

"Now tell me what is the name of this animal?"
 "That is an hippopotamus."
 "All wrong, my son. First of all, it's not 'an', but 'a' hippopotamus; secondly, it's hippopotamus, and not 'hippo', and, thirdly, it's not hippopotamus at all; it's an elephant."

Little Bobby: "Mother, I'm tired of playing by myself. I wish you'd talk to me. Tell me something funny."

THE INDISPENSABLE MAN.

An Event That Moved Him to Take a Trip to Europe.

He was one of those men who believe that if they let up for a moment the whole world will go to smash. Especially was this so about his own business. When his wife wanted him to go to Europe for a rest he said:

"Impossible to get away from the office. Why, if I were to stay away six weeks there's no telling what would happen. No, I must be there all the time."

So they didn't go to Europe. Instead he got sick, good and sick, too, the kind of sick that kept him on his back for nearly a month and didn't let him get back to his desk for still another week.

The day came for his return to harness, and he plunged for the office. All the way downtown his mind danced with the visions of the wreck of business that would greet him. He expected to find the staff demoralized, the business gone to pieces, the cobwebs thick on the order books and an air of gloom hanging over all which could be dispelled only by his triumphant entrance. He fancied himself picking the business out of the mire and putting it on its feet again.

But did he? Not quite. He entered the office. The boy was there and looked up at him as though wondering if the boss were not a little bit late. The cat rubbed against him as she always did. His desk was opened as usual, and on it was no pile of mail, the accumulation of all these weeks. The clerks were at their places as usual. In fact, nothing was apparent of the awful disaster that he had expected; hardly any one seemed to know that he had been away.

He stopped for a moment, breathless, and then managed to call one of his men to him and ask about something. The man began to tell him what had been going on. They had been transacting business just as though he had been there—answering mail, filling orders, taking reports from traveling men and sending them out again—in short, the little particular world of his business had gone on just as though he had been there all the time.

He heaved a sigh—a sigh of humility. In fifteen minutes he had telephoned his wife to make plans for a European trip, and that he would accompany her. Thus do matters make us see how small we are.—New York World.

THE WINDOW CURTAIN.

Originally It Was For Use and Not For Ornament.

The real purpose of the window curtain is to regulate the amount of light admitted to the room and a curtain so arranged that it cannot be drawn backward and forward at will is but a meaningless accessory. It was not until the beginning of the century that curtains were used without regard to their practical purpose.

The window hangings of the middle ages and of the renaissance simply were straight pieces of cloth or tapestry hung across the window without any attempt at drapery and regarded not as part of the decorating of the room, but as a necessary protection against drafts.

It probably is for this reason that in old prints and pictures representing the rooms of wealthy people curtains are so seldom seen. The better the house the less need there was for curtains. In the engravings of Abraham Bosse, which so faithfully represent the interior decoration of every class of French house during the reign of Louis XIII, it will be noticed that in the richest apartments there are no window curtains. In all the finest rooms of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries the inside shutters and embrasures of the windows were decorated with a care which proves that they were not meant to be concealed by curtains. In fact, it would be more difficult to cite a room of any importance in which the windows were not so treated as to enumerate examples of what really was a universal custom until the beginning of the nineteenth century.

It is known, of course, that curtains were used in former times—prints, pictures and inventories alike prove the fact—but the care expended in the decorative treatment of windows makes it plain that the curtain, like the portiere, was regarded as a necessary evil rather than as part of the general scheme of decoration. The meagerness and simplicity of the curtain in old pictures prove that they were used merely as window shades or sun blinds.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Consols by the Pennyworth.

It may not be generally known that a pennyworth of British consols can be purchased. Consols are not like shares, which are invariably of a certain denomination—£1, £5, £10, and so on—but can be divided up to any extent. It consequently happens that very small amounts of this lordly stock are bought to make up round sums, but no one can be registered at the Bank of England as a holder unless he has acquired enough to bring him in fourpence a year in dividends, and less than £1 will purchase a sufficient amount for that purpose.—London Saturday Review.

A Species.

"Mrs. Kwiverry is one of those anticipatory people, and I simply can't carry on a conversation with her without getting so nervous I feel as though I should fly to pieces," says the lady with the jade brooch. "Anticipatory?" asks the lady with-out any long gloves. "How is that?" "She listens faster than you talk to her."—Life.

Life, it is thanks to death that I hold thee so dear.—Seneca.

THE YELLOW PERIL.

How Supremacy of the Chinese May Come to Pass.

Will the Chinese some day become the ruling nation of the earth? George Borrow, the English philologist, traveler and author, used to say that they would. Nearly fifty years ago, when he was studying their language, he maintained that there was among them the finest natural fighting material on the face of the earth.

He instanced in proof of his assertion their prowess in stone throwing, the most primitive form of marksmanship. An ordinary Chinaman, he said, could throw a stone weighing half a pound or more a distance of 120 yards with sure aim and deadly effect. He described a stone fight between some English bluejackets and an equal number of Chinamen in which the former were most ignominiously routed, many of them very badly hurt.

But it was not through their martial prowess that he predicted the supremacy of the Chinese. He said it would come about in another way. As western civilization became more luxurious and enervated and manual labor fell into contempt the Chinese would gradually supply all the workers in civilized countries—miners, farm laborers, factory hands, laundrymen, cooks, domestic servants would all eventually be Celestials. Then some day they would rise suddenly, cut the throats of their masters and become absolute rulers of the destinies of the world.—Chicago News.

THE FRENCH MEAL.

Its Greatest Charm Is the Cheerful Table Talk.

After all, excellent as are the dishes and the order and manner of their service, the table talk is perhaps the chief glory of the French meal.

It is no unusual thing to hear our countrymen and countrywomen, especially our countrywomen, refer to eating as a necessary evil, like the prescribed dose of noisome medicine; as an altogether bothersome business to be disposed of as quickly as possible, with an air that is sour, aggressive, disgusted, languid, patronizing, dreamy, whining or discouraged, according as it springs from dyspepsia, puritanism, interrupted hustling anaemia, affectation, esoteric philosophy, disappointment in love, or honest weariness with a hard and monotonous daily round.

Such a sentiment would scarcely be uttered in France, where the attitude toward the table is universally cordial and respectful, and it could not be taken seriously if it were.

The French writer who said, "The table is the sole place where one is never bored during the first hour," voiced perfectly a national feeling.—Smart Set.

When the Earth Was Top Shaped.

After people dropped the old fashioned idea that the earth was as flat as a pancake they did not immediately grasp the globe or spherical idea as it is applied to worlds. The people of the time of Columbus believed that the earth was a body shaped like a top or cone, the surface rising from the north to the south. There are several letters written by Columbus and still in existence which go to prove that such was his conception of the shape of the earth. The top shaped idea of the earth seems to have originated with one John Blauvis about 1479 and to have immediately become very popular.

The Press Gangs.

Desperate means were sometimes resorted to in order to get men for British warships. A chronicler writes that in the year 1758, "a fleet of ships being required immediately to be manned, the press gangs placed a live turkey on the top of the monument, which, drawing together a great number of idle people, they had the opportunity of selecting as many men as answered the purpose of their intended scheme." The scene so enraged a citizen that he fired a shot at the bird, "which occasioned it to fly away." But the mischief had been done.

An Odd Argument.

Here is a knotty problem suggested by Sir Henry Roscoe in his autobiography. Two men argued as to whether oil or water were the lighter. The first man contended that the oil must be lighter, as it floats upon water. And then the unsentimental man triumphed with the argument that oil must be the heavier because it keeps the water down.

Libeled London.

When the most has been said against London smoke and London fog, against the dirt laden atmosphere and the noise and worry of the metropolis, it is still true that there are healthy people in the capital. London has not perhaps deserved all the hard things that have been said of it.—London Country Gentleman.

Qualified.

Baron—You have called to secure the position of porter? Applicant—Yes, sir. Baron—Was there not some one in the anteroom as you came in? Applicant—There was, sir. There was a man with a bill against you, Herr Baron, but I threw him out.—Fliegende Blätter.

Its Purport.

"What does that expert witness' evidence go to show?" inquired the man who was trying to understand the trial. "It goes to show which side has paid him a retainer," answered the lawyer.—Washington Star.

A Satisfied Settler

Glen Valley, B.C.,
Nov. 13, 1906.

Dear Sirs—Mr. A. called to-day and received from me one of the copies of land agreements, signed and witnessed as requested, and expressed himself well satisfied with same. I also beg to acknowledge receipt of your cheque, which in the meantime closes all business between us. I am obliged to you for the satisfactory way in which the business has been carried through, and hope to be able to recommend other land seekers to visit you during the coming summer.

Yours faithfully,

(Signed) ERNEST J. WARNE.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Matter intended for this column should be addressed to Social Editor, Daily News, P. O. Box 402, New Westminster.

Miss M. Robertson, who has been living in the west for the past three years, left for her home in Brandon, Man., yesterday afternoon. She has returned home on account of the serious illness of her father, James Robertson, of Brandon.

Dr. and Mrs. W. V. Davies and family have removed to Chilliwack, where they will make their home in future.

Mrs. Scott and family, of Ladner, who are well known in this city, have removed from Ladner to Esquimalt for the winter months.

Mrs. J. A. Patterson, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. T. J. Armstrong, of this city, for a short time, has returned home to Dunleith.

Miss Kirkland has returned home to the Delta, after spending a short season in the city.

Arthur Foulds, a Manitoba agriculturist, arrived in the city yesterday and is looking into the B. C. ranching problem. If he is satisfied that the move would be a profitable one, he is prepared to sell his Manitoba farm and cast in his lot with the west. He left to-day for Chilliwack.

A few evenings ago a large number of the friends of Mr. John Hopcott met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McClusky, of Crescent, to welcome him and his bride. The young couple were united in Vancouver by Rev. J. A. Banton, formerly of Ladner. The evening was pleasantly spent in various amusements.

C. M. Averil, of this city, will shortly assume the management of the Delta creamery, which recently went into liquidation.

Howard Welsh and Alex. Turnbull have returned home after a few days' shooting in the Delta district. They report a good bag.

The ladies of St. Paul's Reformed Episcopal church were kept pretty busy from 5 to 8 o'clock last evening in connection with their annual dinner. The Sunday school of the church was tastefully decorated for the occasion, and the tables were prettily arranged. The menu was all that could be desired, both from the standpoint of quantity and quality. A bevy of young ladies waited on the tables and were attentive to the wants of all. The event will long be remembered with pleasure by the members of the congregation and their guests.

Packers Pay Dividends.

Eighty-seven thousand five hundred dollars, being the amount of a 7 per cent. dividend on $1,250,000 preferred stock in the British Columbia Packers' association, was to-day forwarded to Toronto for distribution there by the Toronto Safe Deposit & Agency Co., which acts as transfer agent for the British Columbia Packers' association. The dividend will be paid out to holders of preferred stock in cheque form, and about $10,000 of the total will find its way back to shareholders in Vancouver. The major portion of the preferred stock is held in the east. This dividend was declared at a meeting of directors held on Sept. 13, and is payable to-day. It covers one year from Nov. 20, 1905, to Nov. 20, 1906.

Arrives Out.

Economy

SARGENT'S Gem Food Chopper is an economical addition to any kitchen. It saves time and lessens labor, and thus economizes the housekeeper's time and strength. With it many attractive and appetizing dishes can be made from what might be wasted if it were not for the Gem.

It chops food of all kinds—meats, vegetables, fruits, bread, crackers, etc. It does not mash, squeeze, tear or grind, but chops the food as you want it—fine, coarse or medium. Easy to operate, self-sharpening. No kitchen complete without it.

European Commercial Man Disagrees With Assertion that Protection Makes Prosperity.

Vienna, Nov. 19.—At the meeting to-day of the Central European Industrial league, Dr. Julius Wolf, its organizer, opposed the contention of the Republican party that the prosperity now prevailing in the United States was due to the high tariff, maintaining that the cause was rather to be found in the five years of good harvests, and increased industrial production. He urged further that the United States was the chief gainer by German, British and Canadian commercial conflicts. Speaking of the efforts of the United States to create an "economic pan-American," Mr. Wolf declared that Canada and South America now offered great possibilities for commercial developments, and said the interests of Great Britain to keep the markets of South America were identical with those of Germany, Austria and Hungary.

Death of Senator Vidal.

News has been received by J. H. Vidal, of this city, of the death of his father, Senator Vidal, at his home at Sarnia, Ont. The senator has been in very poor health for over a year, and had reached the advanced age of 87. He was one of the best known men in the east, and his father, Capt. R. E. Vidal, R.N., was the pioneer resident of Sarnia. The deceased senator followed his profession as a land surveyor for many years, and for ten years was engaged in laying out the townships and mineral claims surrounding Georgian Bay. He entered the political arena in the year 1861, and eventually was advanced to a seat in the senate in the year 1873. On Dec. 8, 1847, he married Catherine Louisa, daughter of Capt. W. E. Wright, R.N., by whom he had seven children. The two daughters, Mrs. T. W. Nesbit, of Sarnia, and Mrs. D. B. Gardner, of Ottawa, and the two younger sons, J. H. Vidal, of this city, and H. P. Vidal, of Philadelphia, Pa., survive. His cousins, Adjutant-General B. H. Vidal, of Ottawa, and Mrs. Polingdestre, of this city, and numerous grandchildren and great-grandchildren, are in Canada, but very few of his other relatives or contemporaries, either here or in the old land, have outlived him.

Religious Census.

A meeting of the Ministerial association was held yesterday forenoon, at which a complete report was received from the sub-committee which was recently appointed to conduct a thorough canvass of the city and secure a religious census of the residents. The various reports showed the following number of families to be connected with the various city churches:

Methodist	317
Presbyterians	306
Church of England	244
Baptist	32
Reformed Episcopal	60
Salvation Army	17
Lutheran	6
Plymouth Brethren	5
Latter Day Saints	2
Protestants	2
Christian Science	1

The Roman Catholics recently took a census on their own account, and report 429 Catholics in the city, of which 217 were adults. The number was embraced in 91 families.

The students in residence in Columbian college are divided as follows: Methodists, 39; Presbyterians, 15; Church of England, 11; Congregational, 1; Roman Catholic, 1.

In the matter of a distressed family which was brought to the attention of the association some time ago, a communication was received from the reeve of Coquitlam, promising that they should be cared for.
