32 PEOPLE KILLED AND MANY INJURED BY TERRORIST BOMB

Attempt On Life of Premier of Russia Is Attended By Awful Sacrifice of Life—Revolutionists Declare That Similar Tragedies Will Follow.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 26.—Thirty-two killed and eighty injured, is the appalling casualty list as the result of an attempt made yesterday by terrorist bomb throwers to kill Premier Stolypin in his own home. Of the injured fifty-five are seriously hurt and many of them are expected to die.

Among the dead are the governor of Penz, Gen. Zameatin, who was chief of communications during the Japanese war, and Col Stein, who commanded the police at the Tauride palace, where the Douma met during its brief session.

The daughter of Premier Stolypin had both legs broken, and his 3-year-old boy was struck by a piece of the flying bomb. Stolypin, however, escaped, for the reason that the terrorists had not been able to force their way into his presence when one of the bombs accidentally exploded.

Sudden and Awful.

At the time of the explosion the reception rooms were crowded. The villa is situated on Aptekarsky island, in the Neva river, and it is here that the premier holds his weekly public reception. Many guests had been invited today, and most of them had arrived when the bomb burst.

Stolypin had just come into the rooms from his private apartments, walked to a window in the rear, and was engaged in conversation with a friend. The window by which he stood was blown out entirely and the glass shattered into a million fragments, but neither the premier nor his companion were injured. They were both stunned and dazed, however, and it was several minutes before they recovered sufficient presence of mind to realize what had happened. The premier was knocked down and when he struggled to his feet a horrifying spectacle met his eyes.

Force of Cyclone.

The furniture had been ripped and torn as if by a cyclone and burning fragments of carpets and draperies were strewn about the room. The ceiling and floor had been wrenched from their places and scattered broadcast through the apartments. The chandeliers were wrenched and twisted as if by an earthquake shock. Everywhere there was death and black desolation. Richly dressed women, their features mutilated and their garments torn to tatters, were scattered here and there, dead or dying, while others ran shrieking about the villa calling for assistance.

One woman had been blown through the door into the hallway and lay near the front door, her features distorted and her life torn out by the fearful shock of the explosion.

As soon as he could recover his self-possession the premier gave orders to the police to send for aid and to do whatever possible for the injured.

Message to the Czar.

M. Stolypin is known to have received of late many threatening letters, but he paid no attention to them as such occurrences are common in the official life of St. Petersburg. He did not even turn them over to the police. The latter apparently had not the slightest notice that any attempt was to be made on the life of the premier and this accounts for their evident lavity.

M. Stolypin refused to make any statement for publication concerning the outrage but late in the evening he sent the following message to the Czar:

"I am intact."

Czar Indignant.

The telegram sent by Emperor Nicholas to M. Stolypin, after the explosion was as follows: "I cannot find words to express my indignation. I hope with all heart that the health of your son and daughter will soon be restored, and likewise that of the other persons injured."

Two more persons injured by the explosion, died during the night, bringing the total number of deaths up to 32.

Denounced in Paris.

Paris, Aug. 26.—Most of the newspapers today deplore and criticize in the severest terms the bomb outrage at the residence of the Russian premier, M. Stolypin, last Saturday and agree that it will act only as a set back to the cause of reform.

The Socialist organizations, however, seek to palliate the offence by contending that the government had exasperated the revolutionists by consistent bad faith, trickery and brutal acts.

One Who Was There.

M. Moukhanoff, a member of the late parliament, who at the time of the explosion, was waiting to see Premier Stolypin seeking permission to hold a congress of the Constitutional Democratic party says: "I was sitting with some other visitors, including several ladies, at a long table in the waiting room, M. Stolypin then being engaged with M. Polivanoff, a marshall of the nobility of the province of Simbirsk, and the president of the Simbrisk deputation. After waiting for some time, I changed my seat and joined M. Petisolkoff, a chamberlain of the court, in a bay window, overlooking the avenue leading up to the house.

"A few seconds after the arrival of the carriage bearing the assassins, which attracted my attention because visitors usually come in smaller carriages, I was suddenly hurled backward against the wall, which my head struck. I was so stunned that I did not even hear the explosion. When I recovered consciousness, I saw that the ceiling and one of the walls were gone and that the room was heaped with debris from above.

"The first words I heard came from the lips of a mother superior, who was standing among the ruins in a corner of the room, praying before an ikon, 'Save us, Save us,' and crossing herself. She was one of the six who escaped uninjured. The occupant of the chair I had vacated was killed.

Keeps His Nerve.

"I then went into the garden, where I came face to face with M. Stolypin. He had complete mastery over himself and was perfectly calm. I urged him not to go back into the house, saying that there might be another bomb there, but he insisted on returning, saying: 'There may be wounded persons in there.'

"The premier's face was bespattered with ink, thrown there by the explosion."

M. Stolypin is greatly grieved at the death of the old hall porter, who had served the ministry of the interior for forty years under sixteen ministers.

During the course of the evening, Madame Stolypin went to St. Petersburg aboard a small government boat.

Assassins Had Money.

It appears the assassins were well supplied with funds. They paid $125 in advance for the rooms they engaged. Before leaving these apartments, they disguised themselves and made the house porter drunk. The extraordinary power of the explosion may be judged by the fact that the houses on the opposite side of the Neva were shaken, and windows broken.

One of the most painful features of the tragedy was the delay in securing medical aid for the injured, as over an hour elapsed before the ambulances arrived. M. Stolypin kept exclaiming "For God's sake, fetch a doctor. Oh, my poor girl."

It was over half an hour before a start was made to systematically clear the wreckage. At dusk, torches were lighted, and by the fitful light of these, the work was continued and the walls were made firmer with strong beams.

Many trees in the avenue were blown down by the force of the explosion and the aspect of the grounds was one of complete desolation. Parts of human bodies were thrown a great distance.

An officer chanced to knock against a small tree, and a bloody dust-covered hand that lodged among the branches, fell at his feet.

Inquiry at the Calmeyer hospital today elicited the statement that Premier Stolypin's daughter was still alive, but that her condition was critical and it was feared that gangrene would set in. She is in care of Surgeon Pavloff. The premier has received touching telegrams of symtpathy from the grand dukes, grand duchesses, former Premier Witte and other persons.

Promise More Bloody Work.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 26.—The central committee of the Social Revolutionists has drawn up a proclamation declaring that unless the government forthwith alters its policy, such acts as the attempt on the life of Premier Stolypin will be pursued to the utmost, and government representatives will be killed by hundreds.

Private advices received here from Tiflis are to the effect that a plot on the life of Count Von Vorentsoff-Dashkoff, viceroy of the Caucasus, has been discovered, and that many arrests have been made, including several officers.

Encounter With Police.

Yudooka, Russia, Aug. 26.—After a meeting of workmen today which was addressed by ex-member of parliament Michael Chenko, shots were fired. This resulted in an encounter between the workmen and Cossacks and police, the latter firing nine volleys which killed eight persons and wounded 32.

EARL GREY WILL COME.

A telegram received last evening by Mayor Keary from Col. Williams, private secretary of the Governor-general, announces that His Excellency will be pleased to open the Provincial exhibition on October 2nd, and will arrive here the day previous. The fact that the Governor-general will personally open the exhibition will naturally add much to the success of the fair, and there will be many military displays in his honor and martial music will be plentiful all the time that he remains in the city.

The British Columbia Indians will naturally rejoice over the information that His Excellency is coming, and his arrival here will be the occasion for a greater gathering of red men and their families from all over the province than this city has known for many a day. They were naturally disappointed last year, when, after expecting His Excellency to open the Dominion exhibition, they found out that it was impossible for him to come West. This year the news will be spread in good time among the red men, and by the time the Governor-general arrives, their teepes will be occupying many vacant lots in the city. The band contests among the Indians will naturally be interesting to His Excellency, and there is no doubt that the rivalry among the Indians will reach fever pitch when they are competing before the august presence of the representative of the Great White Father.

The different sports among the Indians will be so arranged that Earl Grey will be able to witness all the performances, and it is safe to say that his interest in the Indians will only be surpassed by the Indians interest in him. Special arrangements will be made for the transportation of the descendants of the noble savage, and it is expected that they will greet the august visitor in squalid thousands.

GIRL EXECUTES DEATH SENTENCE ON GENERAL MIN

Puts Five Bullets Into His Back and Kills Him Instantly —Victim Used Cruel Methods In Putting Down Disorders.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 26.—General Min, commander of the Seminovsky Guard regiment, who suppressed the riots at Moscow last December, was assassinated at Peterhof tonight.

General Min was at the railway station with his family when he was killed. The deed was committed by a young girl, who fired five shots from a revolver into his back, killing him instantly. Madame Min seized the assassin by the hand and held her until the police arrived.

The death sentence had long hung over the head of General Min owing to the disfavor into which he had fallen because of alleged harsh methods and cruelties.

It was General (then Col. Min) who commanded the Seminovsky regiment when the people were shot down near the Technological institute in St. Petersburg on October 31, and who, it was stated, wanted to set the buildings of the institute on fire and roast the students inside. Min was sent by the emperor to suppress the disorders at Saratov after the assassination of Lieut. General Sakharoff in December last, and when the trouble at that place was quelled he was despatched at the end to Moscow to assist in putting down the uprising there.

On April 24, a member of the fighting organization of the revolutionists, disguised as an officer, who had called at Min's residence several times and requested to see him, excited suspicion and was arrested. It developed that he was a revolutionist and was armed with a revolver and dagger.

Only July 18 last, it was reported that some of the soldiers of the Seminovsky guard at Krasnoye-Selo had served notice on General Min that they intended to kill him af the first opportunity for forcing them to murder their fellow citizens at Moscow, and that Min, in fear of his life, had fled the camp.

PRESIDENT PALMA HAS ALL HE WANTS OF INSURRECTION

Is Willing To Grant Free Pardon to All Who Will Lay Down Arms Within Thirty Days. But Can't Have Things As He Desires.

Havana, Aug. 26.—The Associated Press is informed that the government has decided to issue tomorrow, amnesty of 30 days under which those persons now bearing arms who return peacably to their homes will be pardoned.

The statement has not been confirmed officially.

Havana, Aug. 26.—The deep anxiety of President Palma to extend every possibility for peace without bloodshed and his desire to permit those who joined the insurrection under misguidance to repent and return to their homes unmolested, combined with the general wish to end a situation fraught with so much loss and suffering, has led to consideration by the president and his cabinet of a project decreeing a thirty day amnesty period during which the insurrectionists are invited to lay down their arms and return to their homes. It was proposed to issue the decree tomorrow, but persons close to the president strongly opposed the matter.

Gen. Montalvo, who is acting secretary of the interior, on leaving the president tonight said that there was no intention to issue amnesty.

So far as actual conflict, Sunday proved to be a day of inactivity. The situation is so increasingly serious that it is tacitly admitted in all government circles that enlargements of the army will not stop at any given number.

Insurgents Increase.

Many laborers are gathering in front of the bulletin boards, upon which are displayed the call for volunteers issued by President Palma. Sunday night it was learned that several new insurgents bands had taken the field.

Santa Clara is becoming a thorough insurrectionist province. Some villages have become wholly insurrectionist, and even larger towns have taken up arms against the governmenrt. The attitude of the people is entirely a question of the leaders. A former mayor of Trinidad has suddenly placed himself at the head of a band of 1,600 insurgents. The mayor of Las Cruces is leading a band from his town, consisting of 200 men.

Col. Aveles, who is in command of the government forces at San Juan de Martinez is still waiting for orders and reinforcements. The province of Havana is kept nervous by unimportant encounters.

A band of young women living in Havana have offered their services as nurses.

Wanted Immediately.

The government has cabled to General Rius Riverra, minister to Central and South American countries to return immediately to Cuba.

The reported arrest of Orestes Ferrere is denied, but it is admitted that he is under surveillance.

There is grave doubt that the force of troops now at San Juan de Martinez will be able to withstand one attack of the insurgents. The enlistment of rural guards is going on slowly in the province, but in the city of Havana enlistments are somewhat better.

Help Expected.

The governmenrt expects that the steamer Mexico which will sail from New York on Saturday will bring 18 rapid-fire guns and 21,000 Lee Enfield rifles and 12,000,000 rounds of cartridges.

Recruits Routed.

Colonel G. Estrampeis with 45 recruits from Havana was fired upon by 80 insurgents ambushed behind a wall near Guinea. The recruits were routed and three of them were killed and six wounded.

A force of government artillerymen under command of Capt. Pujol today occupied San Juan de Martinez without resistance. This town was taken August 23 by a hand of insurgents operating under Pino Guerrera. At San Antonio de Los Banos, Havana province, a detachment of Rural guards today encountered a band of insurgents. Of the latter, two were killed, their comrades dispersing.

Another Engagement.

Major Gomez of the government forces reports another engagement with insurgents at Cascabal today in which seven were killed or wounded. A band of 100 insurgents entered Lasjas and got away with the contents of the local treasury, $8,000 and all the horses in the town. The government has discovered that the movements of Pino Guerrera and other important revolutionary commanders are directed by a committee of revolutionary veterans in Havana. This practice will be broken up and several arrests are expected. The government tonight announced the capture of ex-congressman Carlos Menrdieta, the leader of the insurgents in Santa Clara province. He had $8,000 on his person when caught. This capture has been authenticated from other sources.

LOCOMOTIVE BOILER EXPLODES ON TRACK

Engineer and Fireman Are Hurled to Instant Death—Train Goes On.

Little Falls, N. Y., Aug. 26.—The boiler of freight locomotive No. 2243 of the New York and Hudson River railway, exploded just west of here, causing the death of Engineer Chris Wagner, of Albany, and Firemann Edward Hall, of Oneida. The engine was drawing a heavy eastbound freight, and had just passed tower No. 25 when the explosion occurred. The boiler was thrown from the trucks high in the air, and landed on its end 50 feet away, blocking all four tracks of the road.

A freak of the explosion was that neither driving wheels nor tender of the engine was thrown from the tracks, but ran on with the train for a quarter of a mile.

Engineer Warren was thrown from the cab and struck on the rails of the passenger track. Death was almost instantaneous as his skull was frightfully crushed Fireman Hall was thrown from the cab on the other side of the engine and his neck was broken. He died at Herkomer hospital. Eye witnesses of the accident had narrow escapes from being injured by flying pieces of iron. One piece of the locomotive was hurled a quarter of a mile and knocked down a telephone line.

New Records Established.

New York, Aug. 26.—Martin J. Sheridan, of the Irish American Athletic club today threw the discus 134 feet, 4 inches. This constitutes a new world's record.

Another world's record was set by John J. Flannigan of the Irish American Athletic club. He threw the 56 pound weight 43 feet, 5 inches.

Long Time in Air.

New York, Aug. 26.—John P. Thomas, who with his brother Jefferson Davis Thomas of Augusta, Ga., made a balloon ascension Saturday evening, returned to his residence here tonight after having been in the air for nearly 24 hours, and having passed through two states, reaching an altitude of 10,000 feet.

Wellman's Balloon Finished.

London, Aug. 26.—The Daily Mail's Christiana correspondent says that a steamer from Spitzbergen brings a report that the Wellman-Chicago-Record-Herald North Pole Expedition's balloon was finished last week and that Mr. Wellman intends shortly to make a trial trip.

LEAFS GO UP IN AIR IN THE LAST QUARTER

Lose Game to Vancouvers After Having Had Big Lead in Score.

Beaten again. The Maple Leafs certainly are having a hard time of it, but the hardest knock of all came Saturday afternoon, when from having a score of five to two at half time, they allowed the Vancouvers to romp home easy winners by a score of nine to seven in the last quarter. It was a heartrending finish for the supporters of the Leafs, and one that was altogether unexpected, because with the lead they had at the beginning of the third quarter, they should certainly have been able to keep the Vancouvers from snatching the victory from their grasp at the last moment.

Besides having an unexpected finish, the game was also enlivened by a sanguinary struggle between Ritchie and Tuck, who had a grievance against each other, and who came to blows on two occasions. During the third quarter both were retired for the remainder of the match, and the supporters of the Leafs are convinced that the removal of Ritchie had a lot to do with the final defeat of their team. After he had been ordered off the field, the Leaf's defence went all to pieces, allowing the Vancouvers to score three goals in quick succession.

For the Leafs, Arnold was the star player, and was responsible for two out of the seven goals scored, besides making the play for four of the others. He worked hard throughout the game, but had to retire just before the finish, owing to having got hurt in a scrimmage. By his play during the game, Arnold made his position on the team secure.

Only a limited number of New Westminster enthusiasts were on the grounds when the game was played. The care taker of Recreation park made a brave show of authority during the game, when he ordered Barlow Galbraith, manager of the Maple Leafs, off the field, at the same time electing to allow several supporters of the Vancouvers to remainr on the ground. Barlow refused to move, and continrued to shout for the Leafs. After taking a good look at him, the caretaker decided that he would not attempt to eject Barlow forcibly, and he remained on the ground until the game was over.

The Brackman-Ker company's wharf was alive on Saturday afternoon with Indians attired in all the colors of the rainbow. Over a hundred of the dusky ones embarked on board the Favourite for the Chilliwack hop fields. The moving too and fro of the passengers as they packed their goods aboard had a kaliedoscopic effect and was watched with interest by a large crowd of spectators.

JEFFRIES AND OTHERS THINK GANS WILL WIN

Predict That Colored Man Will Have Easy Time Disposing of Nelson.

Oakland, Cal., Aug. 25.—"Gans is a winner, unless something goes wrong with the fight." Such is his opinion of the Goldfield contest as James J. Jeffries, the champion heavyweight, discussed the fight today. Jeff arrived Thursday on his way to Eugene, Oregon, where he will hunt big game during a month's vacation.

"If Gans and Nelson fight on the square, the black man will walk away with the fight," said Jeff, "and you can set it down that George Siler is good enough at every stage of the game to get results that will mean straight fighting. So far as Nelson and Gans are concerned as fighters, it is like a superb racehorse running against a drayhorse. Now if each horse has a good jockey who is riding his best, no one will hesitate to lay everything he has on the thoroughbred.

"Nelson, plucky, gritty, willing and able to take lots of punishment, is a drayhorse in the ring alongside of Gans.

Will Slaughter Nelson.

"Now when all is said and done, Gans will slaughter Nelson as surely as they get in the ring, if the battle is on the level. In this connection it might be well to mention that if there is any crooked work, neither Gans nor Nelson will take much interest in earthly things after they get out of that Nevada country. The boys will put up a straight fight because the conditions demand it. Gans and Nelson know the situation at Goldfield as well as some of us who are not so closely interested.

"Nelson is strong and rugged. So was Joe Walcott. He was capable of licking any three of the best lightweights in the same ring the night he met Gans, and look what Gans did to him. Then again, see what Gans did to Mike Sullivan, a better man than the Dane. Mike, is Nelson's master any day if he could fight at the Battler's weight. You listen to me. Gans will come back a winner in a square fight with Nelson."

All Pick Gans.

New York, Aug. 26.—Battling Nelson's chances of defeating Joe Gans are very slim, if the opinions of many prominent pugilists count for anything. The prevailing sentiment is that the colored wonder will win in a gallop. Here is what they have to say:

Terry McGovern—Gans for mine. He is the marvel of the prize ring.

Young Corbett—Nelson is a great fighter, but Gans is the class. He is the daddy of us all.

Jimmy Britt—Fought them both and Gans is 5 per cent. the better man.

Willie Lewis—Nothing to it but the smoke. He has the sleep potion in both hands, and is the greatest general in the ring.

Willie Fitzgerald—It will be curtains for the Battler long before the fifteenth round.

Sailor Burke—The man with the punch is the best bet, and that's Gans.

Tom Sharkey—The Dane will think he ran against a man-o'-war when Joe hits him, and I don't think he can miss.

Abe Attell—I pick Gans to win on the bit. He is clever and has the punch.

Choir Picnic.

The St. Andrew's Presbyterian church choir held their annual picnic on Saturday to Pitt lake, some fourteen members taking part. The steamer Canco, which had been hired for the occasion, did not arrive from Steveston on time, and to avoid disappointing the party, T. Goldie kindly placed his steam launch, the Afton at their disposal, accompanying the party himself as chief engineer. At Pitt lake, the natural beauties of this favorite resort charmed everyone. The choir party enjoyed themselves until supper time, strolling about in twos and threes. The start for home was made about seven o'clock, and the time was beguiled by singing by different members of the choir. After an enjoyable trip, the Afton returned here about half past eight.

BRYAN'S CAMPAIGN FOR U. S. PRESIDENCY

There Will Be Things Doing When the Commoner Gets Home This Week.

New York, Aug. 26.—The home coming of W. J. Bryan, after a tour around the world, promises to inaugurate the real opening of the "Commoners" third campaign for the presidency. Mr. Bryan is a passenger on board the North German Lloyd steamer Prinzess Irene, which is expected to reach New York next Wednesday or Thursday. The great popular reception to the Nebraskan will be held at Madison Square Garden on Thursday evening under the auspices of the Commercial Traveller's Trust league, Mayor Tom L. Johnson, of Cleveland, will preside at the reception and representative Democrats from all sections of the United States will be present. Mr. Bryan is expected to make a two hours speech, and to address more open air meetings in Madison Square Garden, composed of those who are unable to gain admittance to the garden. The meeting will be the opening of a long series of similar affairs on a small scale, which will end with a big meeting when Mr. Bryan reaches his home in Nebraska.

Mr. McGill of Sapperton lost a valuable cow on the G. N. R. track on Friday last. The animal was turned loose in the pasture on the north side of the Port Moody road and adjacent to the track, which is unfenced. In order to reach the track the animal climbed up a steep bank. While there the train came along and knocked the cow off the track, rolling it down to the bottom of the bank where it was found dead by the owner. Unless the matter is satisfactorily adjusted by arbitration, Mr. McGill will in all probability place the matter in the courts.

Another bush fire started in some mysterious manner yesterday on the McClelland road. By evening it had gained considerable headway and unless prompt measures are taken the fire will soon become a menace to the ranchers in the neighborhood.

QUITE TOO FAMILIAR.

An up-country journal which is a great admirer of the present provincial government and all its works, flies into a furious rage because a Liberal contemporary referred to the Hon. the Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works as "Bob" Green. It takes it for granted that the offending paper meant to minimize the importance and flout the dignity of the honorable gentleman when it did so. But is it warranted in assuming that such a view of the matter is the true one? May not the paper, Liberal though it is, have been inspired by a sincere personal affection for the Chief Commissioner? Has not our indignant contemporary read or heard that one of the most flattering things one can say of any man is that he was always "Bob" or "Dick" or "Tom" to his friends? Only the other day, one of our indignant contemporary's colaborers in the Conservative field spoke of the German Emperor as "Bill." No doubt he unwittingly used the form which he is in the habit of employing when he and the kaiser have a little outing together. So it may have been with the paper on which the wrath of our protesting friend has fallen. These little slips will occur in the best regulated newspapers. Of course the assumption of the indignant organr may be right. The familiar diminutive may have been used deliberately "and the same with intent to offend." That is possible; and if it be true we have no excuses to offer. The newspaper which would do a thing of that kind in the circumstances, does not deserve to have any excuses made for it. The honorable gentleman was there personally present; the people had a chance to see and hear him, and the paper missed the opportunity to put him thus in contrast with his high-sounding title. Certainly it deserves the severest condemnation.

But, while there can be no excuse for a mistake of that kind, it must in fairness be remembered that men under irritation are apt to make mistakes which they would never dream of falling into in other circumstances. Now a newspaper which tries to be and is as a rule, reasonably fair to its opponents, may be excused for a little irritation (if not for the blunders to which it leads) when one considers the conduct of the Conservative press. On the one hand, we have a government at Ottawa which, whatever its faults, has certainly done a great deal for Canada; yet the Conservative papers speak of the members of that government as if they were men whose society would be shunned by a self-respecting convict. On the other hand, we have a government at Victoria which is pretty well everything that a government should not be. It has done less than nothing for the Province; the most charitable can say nothing truthfully about it but that it has proved incompetent, shiftless, and extravagant from its first day of power; yet these same Conservative papers laud the government and extol its members, not infrequently in a tone and in terms which could scarcely without extravagance have been applied to the personality or the statesmanship of a Gladstone, a Salisbury, a Lincoln, or a Cavour. Our indignant contemporary is itself rather distinguished for this sort of thing. Does it imagine that the people of British Columbia are like the idols of the heathen in the matter of the uselessness of their eyes and ears? Does it suppose they have forgotten the exceeding meanness of the general election trick of '93? or the babyish incompetence of that million-dollar loan? or Kaien? or Kitamaat? or a host of other things?

Reading one of the government papers Saturday afternoon, this head line caught our eye, "Hon R. F. Green returns from a Tour of Kootenay Points." A glance at the date showed that we had not, as we at first supposed, got hold of a paper a month old; so that the information was evidently of an event which had just happened. Yet the honorable gentleman did "return from a tour of Kootenay points" about a month ago, and the organs printed his impressions and so forth at some length. The people may well ask what happens to departmental business, and who is supposed to attend to that. Since the house rose, Messrs. McBride and Green have spent nearly all their time running about the country.

Referring to the annual close time for sockeyes, now on, as both dates and facts seem to have got themselves mixed a little in the public mind, it may be well to print the regulation. Here it is: "No nets having meshes less than seven inches extension measure shall be used for taking salmon in any of the waters of British Columbia from the 25th day of August to the 15th day of September, in each year, both days inclusive."

—o—

A Scotch "Bull."

General Wade constructed military roads in the highlands of Scotland. An obelisk was constructed to commemorate his achievements on which was inscribed the following "bull," intended to distinguish between natural tracks and made roads:

Had you seen these roads before they were made,
You would lift up your hands and bless General Wade.

Progressing.

"How is your daughter getting along in physical culture?" inquired the visitor of Mrs. Goldrox.

"Fine!" replied Mrs. Goldrox. "She's got so she can read an' write it now, und the professor says he's going to give her Latin an' chiropody next month. I think them foreign langwidges are fine, don't you?"—Milwaukee Sentinel.

A Long Evening.

"It's hard on the people of Greenland to have night six months long."

"Yes. Just think of the feelings of the poor man whose mother-in-law drops in to spend an evening!"

A Case of Must.

The Clergyman—My little man, do you go to church every Sunday? Bobbie—Yes, sir. I'm not old enough yet

HEADLESS, YET ALIVE.

Insects That Continue to Exist After Decapitation.

Most persons of an observing turn of mind are aware of the fact that there are several species of insects that will continue to live without seeming inconvenience for some time after decapitation, exact knowledge on the length of time which the various species of insects would survive such mutilation being somewhat vague.

Professor Conestrini once undertook a series of experiments with a view of determining that and other facts in relation to the wonderful vitality of such creatures. In each case the head was smoothly removed with a pair of thin bladed forceps, and when spontaneous movements of the wings and legs ceased he employed sundry irritating devices, such as pricking, squeezing and blowing tobacco smoke over the insect As a result of these experiments he ascertained that members of the beetle family at once showed signs of suffering, while such as ants, bees, wasps, etc., remained for hours unaffected.

Some which seemed stunned from the effects of the operation recovered after a time and continued to live and enjoy a headless existence for several days Butterflies and moths seemed but little affected by the guillotining process, and the common flies (diptera) appeared to regard the operation as a huge joke.

"The common house fly," said the experimenter, "appeared to be in full possession of his senses (rather paradoxical, when in all probability the canary had swallowed head, sense and all) thirty-six hours after being operated upon."

The bodies of some species of butterflies survived as long as eighteen days after the head had been removed, but the head itself seldom showed signs of life longer than six hours after decapitation. In the general summary of these huge experiments we are informed that the last signs of life were manifested either in the middle or last pair of legs and that the myriopods showed great tenacity of life "and appeared wholly indifferent to the loss of their heads."

Irving's Stagecraft.

It chanced to me once, and only once, in a life of some faring by land and sea to ride up a Kurdish gorge at early dawn, the sky still starry, as the charcoal burners had begun their work, and to see over all as the smoke rose a gray blue light as of the depths, some touch of deep chilled enveloping air on gorge and mountain side, as though a sapphire had aged and grown gray and wan. Once only I saw this and never again. When in "Faust" the curtain rose on the Brocken I saw before me the same miracle of gray blue. "How did you," I asked once at supper, "who ride abroad so little and are so rarely on the mountain side, hit on this the rarest of lights?" "Once," and he took up a small plate, "I saw in a gallery," and he named it, but I have forgotten, "a landscape by Durer the size of this plate, a mountain side in early morn in this same gray blue light. It gave me the light I wanted for the Brocken."—Talcott Williams in Atlantic.

The Diplomatic Druggist.

A certain druggist who does not like to answer night calls, especially as he has found by experience that he offends people who call him up at night by his displeased abrupt manner, has devised a scheme by which he does not have to get up and at the same time does not lose customers. In his own words he works it this way:

"I disconnect my bell so that it cannot ring. After waiting some time the person who wants to get in gives it up as a bad job and goes down the street to the next store. This man opens for him, but is naturally very much displeased, and, as I usually do, he shows that he is disgruntled and offends the customer. Early the next morning the customer calls at my store to inform me that my bell is out of order and tells me what a low opinion he has of the other druggist, whom he considers a very impolite man."—New York Times.

An Honest Thief.

On leaving a Paris theater a German gentleman felt for his watch. It was gone. Having a strong suspicion, he laid violent hands on a man in the crowd, who quietly gave up the ticker. When he got home, he found his own watch lying on the table.—Paris Journal.

She Recognized Him.

"This," remarked Mr. Sappyhead, "is my photograph with my two French poodles. You recognize me, eh?"

"I think so," said Miss Sulfuric. "You are the one with the hat on, are you not?"—Houston Chronicle.

A Disgusted Musician.

Conductor Gericke, known as the "human metronome," had been giving a Wagner programme. After the concert one of the trombone players was heard to say to a fellow musician: "Well, I am going to quit." "Are you daffy?" said his friend. "What's the matter?" "Well, it's just this: In the 'Tristan und Isolde' number I momentarily forgot the technics of my instrument, got enthusiastic, filled my lungs for that magnificent passage for the brass, when up goes that fatal left hand, so I had to swallow my embouchure—and wind too. If I don't quit I am either going to burst or die of tuberculosis."

THE CASH STORE

have been coming in so fast this week that we've had to work day and night to get them marked off. The Suits are really smart, natty styles—the very best procurable—we bought them from the best known and most reliable makers and by buying for cash (the great advantage of a cash store) secured the lowest prices—inside prices as they're called.

Within the week we put in stock seventy-five new suits, a great many coats—those long lose fitting ones you admire on tourists—"Kensington," "Paddington," and "Butterworth" styles—sixty pieces of dress goods, aggregating two thousand four hundred yards, including satin cloths, cheviots, tweeds, serges, Henriettas, mohairs, lustres, hopsackings, worsteis, wool taffetas and Bedford cords—five hundred and ninety—pieces of ribbon aggregating ten thousand six hundred yards, over six miles, besides Flannels, Silks, Flannelettes and Wrapperettes as well as Elastic, Braids, Hosiery and Underwear.

Most of this came direct from Glasgow, Scotland, from a firm said to be the largest exporting house in Great Britain.

Union Dress Goods—In red, green, blue and brown and navy, 42 inch at ..... 25c and 35c

Hopsackings—in good medium weight for separate skirts and tailored suits, maroon, navy, myrtle, brown and light gray, very special, ... 65c

Navy Blue Serges—They need no describing, except that we have different shades of blue in the hard and soft finishes, 38 to 44 inches at..... 35c, 50c 60c, 75c and 90c

Shrunk Vicuna—a nice fabric for fall suits and for Misses' Coats in Maroon, Royal, Brown, Fawn and Green, 42 inch 75c

Navy and Black Worsted Serge with heavy twill, heavy enough for tailored suits, 56 inches ..... $1.25 and $1.50

Heather Mixed Tweeds—Grays, blues, greens, etc., with over-check, 50 inches wide ..... 75c and 80c

Scotch Tweeds—In two tone and three tone effects, 54 inches wide $1.00

Costume Lengths of Fine Tweeds—with hair line stripes, Oxford and light grays with green and black stripes 54 inches wide, 7 yard lengths, per yard..... $1.00

Cravanettes—The popular material for raincoats, rainy day suits and skirts in dark colors, grays, fawns, greens and blues—this is a good quality, 60 inch $1.50

Black French Taffeta Cloth, French Poplin, Cashmere and Lustre, all medium weight fabrics, for dresses and separate skirts ..... 50c and 65c

Black "Pirite Finish," Satin Cloth and Broadcloth, Roxana Panama Cloth and Albatross ..... 65c, 75c, 85c and $1.25

More complete description of Suits and Coats will follow in a couple of days. In the meantime come and see them—they're going fast.

Local News Briefly Told

J. Armstrong returned on last night's delayed train from Aggassiz.

The B. C. Packer's tug, the Terra Nova was tied up at the company's wharf yesterday.

Miss M. Robertson of Vancouver spent Sunday in the city with relatives.

The Chinook, owned by Capt. Wilson, which has been operating for the Dawson-Buttimer cannery during the canning season came into port yesterday.

The steamer R. P. Rithet arrived here on Saturday night from Victoria with a mixed cargo of merchandise, and returned at the usual hour this morning.

The Brunette came in on Saturday with a scow load of coal from Comox for the Brunette mills. The Fearless came in from Nanaimo also with a scow load of coal, which was for W. J. Creighton.

Rev. Mr. Shearer, the representative of the Lord's Day Alliance will address a mass meeting of the citizens in the Queen's Avenue Methodist church at the close of the regular evening service next Sunday.

Miss Rogers will not be able to attend to her duties at the public school today on account of the severe illness of her mother. The room will be under the temporary supervision of Miss Grey.

The money received by the city for water last month was $400 in excess of the sum received last year. Mayor Keary attributes the increase to the growing demands of manufacturing concerns.

The loading of the Beacon Rock with lumber at the Fraser River mills is nearing completion. The vessel will be ready to sail about the first week in September and will carry in the neighborhood of 1,500,000 feet of lumber.

Miss Peebles, Miss C. Peebles and their brother R. G. Peebles returned yesterday on the Romona from Chilliwack where they had been visiting their father Mr. P. Peebles for a few days. Mr. Peebles is engaged in superintending the construction of the new Chilliwack school.

About twelve families of Indians who have been encamped on the flats west of the C. P. R. freight sheds moved up to the C. P. N. wharf at a late hour last night with their goods and chattels in order to be in readiness to leave on the boat for Chilliwack this morning.

The Ramona reached port yesterday at the usual time with a full cargo of Chilliwack fruit. A car load of choice prunes for Winnipeg was loaded from the boat onto a refrigerator car. Two tons of plums arrived for the New Westminster Fruit cannery and a large consignment was sent to Vancouver and Victoria.

A large number of fishermen were out last night with their nets in search of spring salmon. Dog salmon are starting to run and a large number of tugs are being chartered by the Japanese curers who have leased the old Windsor cannery for the purpose of carrying on their curing operations.

J. B. Kennedy, M. P., reached home from Ottawa on Saturday accompanied by Mrs. Kennedy. He spent the afternoon in calling on a number of his friends and supporters around the business section of the city. He is looking well and since the house closed, has been enjoying a trip through Eastern Canada with Mrs. Kennedy.

The following were among the Ramona's down river passengers yesterday: W. Peacock, J. Allen, M. S. Wilson, E. Evans, T. J. Griffin, Chilliwack; J. Johns, Mount Lehman; Miss Aitwin, Armour's Landing; F. Howay, Miss Howay, E. A. Eckard, Mrs. Wilde, Miss M. Wilkie J. Skyling, Langley.

A party of the directors of the Royal Columbian hospital propose visiting the Vancouver hospital today with the object of getting pointers towards fitting up the new hospital which is soon to be erected in this city. The architect who is preparing the plans for the new building will accompany the delegation.

The work of clearing off the land for the new rifle range on the Surrey side of the river is being pushed along as rapidly as possible, and a large pile of brush which was set on fire on Saturday, was still making a lot of smoke yesterday. The work of brushing is now almost finished and the carpenter work will be well advanced by the end of the week.

R. J. Esplen, of Nanton, Alta., arrived in the city yesterday morning, on a visit to his brother, Captain Dave Esplen, of No. 1 fire hall, and will remain as his guest for some time before returning to the middle west. Mr. Esplen had not been here since 1891, and noticed that several changes have happened since that time. Before leaving New Westminster, he had worked for Gilley Bros., and was much surprised when told of the recent death of his old employer a couple of weeks ago.

F. C. Griffin, who was recently transferred from the agency of the G. N. R. in this city to a more responsible position at Skyhomish, was in the city yesterday on a week-end visit. Mr. Griffin expects to be able to make a weekly visit to New Westminster, where his wife will reside until after the winter. During the past week, Mr. Griffin has been constantly travelling over the western division of the G. N. R., inspecting different points on the line.

The Origin of Sugar.

Sugar has been known since the dawn of history, but not in all countries. The Chinese appear to have delighted their palates with sugar for more than 3,000 years, and it was known in India earlier than in Europe, being made from a juicy reed or cane. One of Alexander the Great's generals carried sugar to Greece in the year 325 B. C., as Sir Walter Raleigh some 2,000 years later carried tobacco from Virginia to England. But even so late as 150 A. D. sugar was still a rarity in Greece. The famous physician Galen used it as a remedy for certain maladies. Recent experiments show that sugar has remarkable sustaining power when eaten by those undergoing great fatigue. The invention of the first process for refining sugar is ascribed to the Arabs, and a Venetian merchant is said to have purchased the secret from them and introduced the process in Sicily. The refining of sugar was first practiced in England about 1659.

The Word "Row."

"Row" is one of the many words which are rising to respectability with advancing age. Todd's edition of Johnson's dictionary (1827) denounced it as "a very low expression." Since it appears to have been occasionally written "roue" about a century ago some have wished to find its origin in the French "roue." Todd identifies it with the older "rouse," a drunken bout, big drinking glass or big drink, in which sense that word several times occurs in Shakespeare. Hamlet observes that "the king doth wake tonight and takes his rouse." "Row" is supposed to be a false singular formed from "rouse," mistaken for a plural, as "pea" for "pease," "sherry" from "sherris," "cherry" from "cheris." But it seems simpler to explain "row" as short for "row-de-dow," an excellent word for noise.

The Late Stranger.

An attorney in Philadelphia who makes a specialty of prosecuting suits against railway companies growing out of injuries due to accidents on the line tells of the trouble experienced in the cross examination of an Irish witness. This witness had evidently been carefully coached by counsel for the company, for when the question was put to him, "Was the man found on the track a total stranger?" the wary Celt replied:

"I should say not, sir. Seein' that his left leg was gone, I should say, sir, that he were a partial stranger."—Woman's Home Companion.

Suspicious Fervor.

"Well, brother," said the deacon, "that was a fine prayer you made last night."

"Thank you, deacon. I am very glad to hear you say so."

"Yes, it was a splendid prayer, long and fervent. And, say, what have you been doing anyway? You can confide in me with the utmost confidence. I wouldn't betray you for anything in the world."—Chicago Record-Herald.

He Called the Turn.

"I came," announced the intimate friend of the family, "to make my dinner call."

"But," they protested, "you haven't been here to dinner lately."

"I know that," he replied, "and I thought if I called that defect might be remedied."

An invitation was promptly forthcoming.—New York Press

Where Gannets Swarm.

One of the most remarkable sights in the world is Bird Island, in South Africa, for the reason that during some months of the year it is literally covered with gannets. Not a foot of ground is to be seen anywhere. Day after day thousands of gannets strut around, and they are so close to each other that the whole island seems actually alive. Those who have seen this sight say that it is one which can never be forgotten.

Synopsis of Canadian Homestead Regulations

Any available Dominion Lands within the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

Synopsis of Regulations for Disposal of Minerals on Dominion Lands in Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and the Yukon Territory.

COAL—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

QUARTZ—Persons of eighteen years and over and joint stock companies holding free miners' certificates may obtain entry for a mining location.

A free miner's certificate is granted for one or more years, not exceeding five, upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company, according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1500x1500 feet by marking out the same with two legal posts, bearing location notices, one at each end of the line of the lode, or vein.

The claim shall be recorded within fifteen days if located within ten miles of a mining recorder's office, one additional day allowed for every additional ten miles or fraction. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1.00 an acre.

Permission may be granted by the Minister of the Interior to locate claims containing iron and mica, also copper, in the Yukon Territory, of an area not exceeding 160 acres.

The patent for a mining location shall provide for the payment of a Royalty of 2½ per cent. of the sales of the products of the location.

PLACER MINING—Manitoba and the N. W. T., excepting the Yukon Territory: Placer mining claims generally are 100 feet square, entry fee $5, renewable yearly. On the North Saskatchewan River claims are either bar or bench, the former being 100 feet long and extending between high and low water mark. The latter includes bar diggings, but extends back to the base of the hill or bank, not exceeding 1000 feet. Where steam power is used claims 200 feet wide may be obtained.

Dredging in the Rivers of Manitoba and the N. W. T., excepting the Yukon Territory—A free miner may obtain only two leases of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable in the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee's right is confined to the submerged beds or bars of the river below any low water mark, and subject to the rights of all persons who have, or who may receive entries for bar diggings or bench claims, except on the Saskatchewan River, where the lessee can dredge to high water mark on each alternative leasehold.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles but where a person or company has obtained more than one lease one dredge for each fifteen miles or fraction thereof is sufficient. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of two and a half per cent. collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

Dredging in the Yukon Territory—Six leases of five miles each may be granted to a free miner for a term of 20 years; also renewable.

The lessee's right is confined to the submerged bar or bars in the river below low water mark, that boundary to be fixed by its position on the 1st day of August in the year of the date of the lease.

The lessee shall have one dredge in operation within two years from the date of the lease, and one dredge for each five miles within six years from such date. Rental $100 per mile Yukon Territory to be paid to the comptroller.

No free miner shall receive a grant of more than one mining claim on each separate river, creek or gulch, but the same miner may hold any number of claims by purchase, and free miners may work their claims in partnership by filing notice and paying fee of $2. A claim may be abandoned and another obtained on the same creek, gulch or river, by giving notice and paying a fee.

Work must be done on a claim each year to the value of at least $200.

A certificate that work has been abandoned, anad open to occupation and entry by a free miner.

Berths on their sleepers are longer, higher and wider than in similar cars on any other line. They protect their trains by the Block System.

The boundaries of a claim may be defined absolutely by having a survey made and publishing notices in the Yukon Official Gazette.

Petroleum—All unappropiated Dominion Lands in Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and within the Yukon Territory, are open to prospecting for petroleum, and the minister may reserve for an individual or company having machinery on the land to be prospected, an area of 1920 acres for such period as he may decide, the length of which shall not exceed three times the breadth. Should the prospector discover oil in paying quantities, and satisfactorily establish such discovery, an area not exceeding 640 acres, including the oil well, will be sold to the prospector at the rate of $1 an acre, and the remainder of the tract reserved, namely, 1280 acres, will be sold at the rate of $3 an acre, subject to royalty at such rate as may be specified by Order in Council.

W. W. CORY.

Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

Dept. Interior.

WHISKEY AND ITALIANS KEEP POLICE MOVING

Saturday's Round Up Will Give the Magistrate a Fair Sized Docket.

Saturday night was certainly a busy time for the city police, and the full house sign has been on view at the police station since that time as a result of their exertions in the cause of peace and quietness. The long list of those who will face the police magistrate this morning is both varied and interesting, the crimes charged against the transgressors varying from a plain drunk and incapable to charges of supplying the red men with fire water.

The first on the list happens to be a well known periodical visitor to the police station, who registers by the name of Mat Granholme. Mat was up on Saturday morning on a charge of supplying liquor to Indians, but the evidence was not strong enough to convict him, and he walked out a free man. By Saturday afternoon, he was back again in the same cell. The Indian to whom he elected to supply liquor, Edward Williams, was arrested at the same time, and is also waiting his trial for having liquor in his possession.

A charge of supplying Indian Dan with liquor hangs over the head of W. B. Sloan, and as Dan was caught with the goods on him, it will be a hard matter for the prisoner to dispute the charge.

Sam Henderson, a self-styled strong man, got busy in the lower quarter of the city on Saturday evening, and after kicking in several doors, was escorted to the police station, the charge against him being drunk and disorderly.

Jack Knusten was discovered in a doorway, where he had fallen asleep overcome by the effect of the alcohol he had consumed. Drunk and incapable is the charge laid against Jack.

John Peterson, alias Louis Hamburg, is suspected of having supplied two Indians, Harry Mountain and Jimmy Morris with whisky, and as both Indians and the booze are held at the station as exhibits in the case, it will require a clever lawyer to clear the man of aliases of the charge. The Indians will also be treated to a remedy for having liquor in their possession.

MATELESS PIGEONS.

Curious Provision of Nature to End Their Solitude.

"Pigeons are monogamous," said a raiser of those birds for market, "and the female lays but two eggs. One of these is always the egg from which a male is hatched, and the other incloses the future female. If by any accident a cock pigeon loses its mate or a hen pigeon becomes widowed the sympathies of the entire cot go out to the afflicted brother or sister. If it should so happen that a cock should lose his mate and a hen hers, so that they are both mateless at the same time, the afflicted pair soon forget their grief in a new life partnership, and all is serene.

"But if there is a widower in the cot and no convenient widow for him to take to mate, or if there is a widow for whom no widower pigeon is on hand, something must be done to fill the vacancy. Upon the first hen pigeon to nest after the vacancy occurs falls the important duty. If she hasn't hatched her eggs yet she promptly dumps one of the two out of the nest. She never makes a mistake in evicting the right one. If a widow is to be provided for the hen throws out the egg containing her future daughter; if a widower is pining for a mate she disposes of the son egg. If she has hatched her egg when a demand is made for her sacrifice she ceases feeding the youngster who will be superfluous and starves it to death. Pigeons grow fast, and, squabhood over, the lone product of that nest becomes mate to the bereaved member of the flock."

ARTIFICIAL FLOWERS.

The Hardest to Make Are Orchids and American Beauty Roses.

The orchid and American Beauty rose are the two most difficult flowers to make. A skilled worker can construct only about six American Beauty roses in one day, and this number only when the leaves and petals are all ready to put together. The small flowers, like the jasmine, are also difficult to make, and only skilled hands can be intrusted with this work. The majority of the small and delicately made flowers imported for millinery uses are made in the prisons of France. The work of making flowers is pleasant and for skilled hands lucrative, the girls receiving all the way from $3 a week for beginners to $25 for the best workers. Much of the finer grades is given out for home work, women and girls taking huge boxes of flower petals and leaves to put together. One market for artificial flowers is that of the harnessmakers, who order bunches of violets and other small flowers and resell them to grooms for the decoration of their horses on tallyho trips and other gala occasions. Many of the handsome corsage bouquets of orchids and violets so much admired at the theater and opera are artificial.—Leslie's Weekly.

LOSES HIS TWO SONS, FINDS STRANGE BOY

S. Picco, Attendant at Orphanage, Finds Himself in a Queer Muddle.

Left with a strange boy on his hands while his tow sons were lost somewhere on the G. N. R., was the unusal experience of S. Picco, an attendant at the Orphanage, last evening. Mr. Picco was expecting his two boys to return from Bellingham by last night's train, and was on hand to meet them. When the train arrived he inquired of the conductor whether the boys were on board, and on being told that such was not the case, Mr. Picco pointed out a small boy, apparently about eight years of age, whom he took to be one of his sons, who was curled up asleep on a seat. The conductor awoke the lad and asking him whether he was to be put off at New Westminster, received an answer in the affirmative. He then handed out the child to the waiting father, the train being already on the move. One look at the lad convinced Mr. Picco that someone had blundered, and that he was left in charge of somebody else's child. When the boy discovered where he was stranded he was naturally upset, but bore up bravely. He gave his name as Al Christian, and said that his parents lived on Fifth avenue, Fairview, Vancouver. He was returning from a holiday at Bellingham, and the conductor had been instructed to put him off at Vancouver. There was nothing for it but to take the boy home with him, and this Mr. Picco did. The lad will be sent home early this morning.

OFFICER JOHNSTON ARRESTS BAD ACTOR

Lands on Head of Desperate Thief With a Pair of Handcuffs.

A man named Johnston, with a hard reputation among the police of the coast cities is at present a prisoner at the police station, under a charge of stealing a quantity of clothing and other articles from the Telegraph hotel on Saturday morning. Johnston left the provincial jail on Friday morning, after he had completed an eighteen month's sentence for theft. During his incarceration, the authorities were compelled to put him in irons many times, and he is considered to be one of the most violent prisoners that has ever graced the precincts of the jail with his presence.

Johnston was arrested by his namesake, Officer Johnston, but he was not the kind of a man to submit to arrest without a struggle, and when he saw the officer advance towards him, he at once prepared for battle. The officer had left his baton at the police station that morning. After a little preliminary sparring between the two Johnstons, the man of law and order managed to strike his antagonist a heavy blow on the head with his handcuffs. That settled the fight. Johnston, the ex-convict, could not stand such a blow, and he dropped to the ground. By the time he recovered his scattered senses, he was safe under lock and key, with his head bandaged until only a small portion of the face was visible. It will be some time before the imprints of the handcuffs have entirely disappeared from his pate.

At the police station, a large quantity of the stolen clothing is stacked, and will be produced in court this morning as evidence against Johnston. The prisoner is reported to have broken a police officer's arm in Vancouver some years ago, and his reputation is such that no police officer will take chances while dealing with him. He admitted yesterday that he had been exiled from his native country, Denmark, for a term of years, but that he did not care to go back there at any time.

INSANE MAN SPRINGS THROUGH CAR WINDOW

Diving through the closed window of a C. P. R. coach yesterday morning while the train was travelling at full speed east of Mission, and being rescued from certain death by the prompt action of two members of the R. N. W. M. P., who were in charge of him, was the experience of a lunatic, who was being brought here from Nelson, where he had recently exhibited symptoms of a mania so dangerous that it had been necessary to keep him under restraint.

The unfortunate man is a well known miner of Nelson, and is reported to be heavily interested in the Fairview townsite. He has been mentally deranged for some time, and was to be sent back to his home in Nova Scotia, when on account of a sudden change for the worst in his disposition, it was decided that he would be confined in the New Westminster asylum for the future.

Two members of the R. N. W. M. P. were despatched to accompany the maniac on his journey to the asylum, and they kept close watch on him during the journey, as they suspected that he would attempt to escape from their custody. Not being able to elude his keepers, the diseased brain of the unfortunate man conceived a plan, as daring as it was dangerous, and seizing upon a moment when the attention of the police was temporarily distracted, he made a dash through the closed window, crashing through the glass and inflicting fearful cuts on his face and hands. Before he could get clear of the frame, the police had seized him by the legs, the only portion of his anatomy which remained visible from the coach, and commenced to pull him back. The struggle was short but sharp, the maniac frantically holding on to the bottom of the coach in a vain endeavor to escape from the train. Before the lunatic could be dragged back into the coach, both his keepers had their hands severely cut, and were bleeding freely. Had the mad miner managed to get clear of the window, nothing could have saved him from an awful death, as the train was travelling at top speed at the time. Strange to say, the cuts inflicted upon his face and arms in his sudden leap through the glass are not serious, although exceedingly painful. The two officers had their wounds dressed yesterday afternoon by a medical man, and will be little the worse for the experience.

32 PEOPLE KILLED AND MANY INJURED BY TERRORIST BOMB

Later Details.

London, Aug. 26.—Dispatches from St. Petersburg this morning supply further details concerning the attempt on the life of the Russian premier. It is stated that the man who threw or dropped the bomb was named Morrosoff, and that he was a native of Ryassean province. Among the killed were nearly all the agents of the police in the house. Several persons were warned before that an attempt on the life of the premier was to be made.

Mlle. Stolypin is one of several daughters of the premier, while the boy is an only son.

M. Stolypin removed last night to his town residence in Morskala street, which is almost next door to the house where the assassins lodged. The premier frequently visits the latter house which is the property of Princess Mestcher, and is devoted to furnished rooms of the highest class.

Firemen today were tearing away the shattered walls. Police kept all comers, even high officials, at a distance.

Disgraceful Scramble.

At the hospital of St. Peter and St. Paul there was a disgraceful scramble of thousands of curiosity seekers around the mangled corpses which had laid exposed on the grass in the hospital yard the whole of Sunday, and were still there at 6 o'clock this evening. Dainty women fought and jostled street peddlers for a chance to view the remains.

Death Sentence Found.

Dozens of suspected revolutionists were gathered in today. The text of the death sentence found upon the body of one of the assassins stated that he belonged to the Maximists, better known as the "Flying Group." This group is thus designated because it operates on an unfixed base. It has been responsible for most of the recent attacks of the Social Revolutionists.

Dictatorship.

Talk of a military dictatorship is again in the air. According to a report current, a meeting of the Camarilla discussed the question tonight at Peterhof, and a majority was in favor of such a step. Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholavitch who has just returned from calling on Premier Stolypin, was especially in favor of the plan. It is said that after the meeting, Grand Duke Nicholas and others of the grand dukes went to the emperor to demand his authorization.

Girl Drops Bomb.

Odessa, Aug. 26.—Late Saturday evening a girl dropped a bomb in the Nicholas boulevard fifty paces from the palace of Governor General Kulbars. There was a deafening detonation and a wild stampede of the promenaders. No one was injured except the girl who dropped the bomb, and her hand was shattered.

It is supposed that the bomb accidentally fell from her hand before she had reached the entrance to the palace. She and another girl, a university student, who accompanied her, were arrested.
