JACKSON DEMANDS $2,000 DAMAGES

Fisherman Who Was Detained In Police Cell for a Month Requests Heavy Indemnity From City---Council Repudiates Liability.

Chester Jackson, the fisherman who was arrested and detained in a police cell for nearly a month on a charge of having been implicated in the murder of W. George Gilley two years ago, and who was liberated because somebody blundered in extradition proceedings in connection with the arrest of Munn, who was alleged to have been an accomplice, is about to enter a suit against the city for $2,000 damages for false arrest and imprisonment. A communication was read at the city council last evening from G. T. Cane, of Vancouver, who has been retained by Jackson as solicitor, claiming the above amount of money as compensation.

The reading of the letter was followed by a short discussion among the aldermen, and after looking at the merits of the case, the clerk was instructed to write a letter to Jackson's solicitors, pointing out that the city did not see that they had incurred any responsibility by the arrest of Jackson, and declining to accept any liability in connection with it.

Apart from the reading of the communication, and the presentation of the account for payment by the chairman of the finance committee, there was absolutely no business doing at last night's sitting. Before the formal business commenced, his worship Mayor Keary expressed his regret that Ald. Shiles should have been defeated at the polls during the day, remarking that in losing his services, the council would be deprived of one who had for many years worked in the best interests of the city. After he had congratulated the other aldermen on their re-election, the reading of the many letters commenced.

A letter from Martin, Weart & McMarrie enclosing a memorandum from George E. Martin, solicitor for Mrs. John Follis, was also read. The matter of the council to give Mrs. Follis, compensation for the death of her husband, the sum of $100 cash and $50 in eighteen monthly payments had been accepted, and an agreement was drawn up which only required the signatures of the mayor and city clerk. The first of the monthly payments is to be made on Jan. 1, and on the first of each succeeding month.

Ald. Garret inquired whether it was the intention of the R. A. & I. society to pay a part of the indemnity, and was informed by the mayor that, while he could not answer for the other members of the board of control, he would make a recommendation to that effect at their next meeting. Upon Ald. Howay's suggestion the mayor and clerk were instructed to sign the document, providing the form of it was approved by the city solicitor.

A. Turner, of Park Row, wrote informing the council that he had a beautiful ornamental tree on his lawn which had outgrown the space which could be devoted to it there, and offering to give the tree to the city, providing it were placed in the library square. Park Ranger Robinson had said that this could be done, and the tree would be a great improvement to the square. The matter was referred to the parks committee with instructions to act.

G. J. Gibson, city comptroller for the city of Vancouver, wrote calling atention to a proposal to form a home for aged and infirm people, and informing the council that meeting has been called to take place in Vancouver on Friday, Dec. 14, when the matter will be fully discussed. The council were asked to send a representative. The matter was left in the hands of the mayor.

Peter Warren, of Fourth street, wrote asking permission to cross over the sidewalk on Fourth street near Oak street, with his team, as he wished to fill up his lot near by. Permission was granted under the usual conditions.

Two communications from H. T. Kirk, one thanking the council for having placed a sidewalk on Third street, and asking for a crossing near his stable on the same street, the other asking to have a crossing laid on the new sidewalk on Third street, this last request being on behalf of L. Dunbrack. Both communications were referred to the board of works with instructions to act.

A letter from Douglas D. Dove, of Ladner, asking the council to send delegates to a meeting held there to discuss the route of the railway along the Ladner and New Westminster road, was received and filed. Mayor Keary explaining that D. S. Curtis and T. J. Trapp had been over to Ladner during the day in connection with the meeting.

The report of the finance committee, showing accounts amounting to $1,67.50 was passed for payment. The council adjourned after one of the shortest sittings held for many months.

ELECTRIC CHAIR WAITS FOR CHESTER GILLETTE

Given Murderer Sentenced to Death for Killing the Girl Who Trusted Him.

Herkimer, N.Y., Dec. 10.—Chester E. Gillette was this forenoon sentenced to die in the electric chair at Auburn prison during the week beginning Jan. 20. He will be taken to Auburn tomorrow. The youth, who was convicted of the murder, on July 11 last, at Big Moose Lake, of his sweetheart, Grace Brown, gave no sign of emotion when Justice Devendorf pronounced sentence. His face was pale, but his step was steady and his voice was not shaken. "I am innocent of the crime charged in the indictment and therefore it should not be imposed," said Gillette, when asked the formal question as to whether he had anything to say before sentence was pronounced.

LORDS AND COMMONS ARE AT LOGGERHEADS

Religious Education Bill Makes More Trouble—Lords' Amendments All to Be Rejected.

London, Dec. 10.—Minister of Education Birrell announced in the house of commons to-day that the government had decided to reject all the amendments of lords' amendments to the educational bill.

DELTA WILL VETO GREAT NORTHERN PLANS

Are Unwilling to Give Up River Road to Ladner—Suggest Alternative.

D. S. Curtis and T. J. Trapp journeyed to Ladner yesterday afternoon in order to meet representatives of the Delta council in connection with the proposed V., W. & Y. railway branch from this city to Ladner. The Delta council had received a number of protests against the route to be taken by the proposed line. The plan of the railway company was to utilize the river road to Ladner, and thus compel the people who wished to travel by road to go around another way which would add some three-fourths of a mile to the distance, and would necessitate the travelling over a far less favorable road. The meeting of yesterday afternoon decided to request the Delta council to repeal the former by-law, and suggest to the railway company as an alternative that a bench be built in the bank above the river road for the proposed railway.

Heavy Advance in Shingles.

An advance of 15 cents per bunch has been made on all grades of shingles. At this rate the commonly used brand is selling at $2.20. There are several reasons for the advance, chiefly the increased cost of raw material and labor and the jump recently made by American shingles. Shingle-bolts are now selling as high as $5.50 per cord.

ELECTION RETURNS.

Library Legislative Assembly OCT 22 1906 VICTORIA, B. C.

The result of yesterday's election for aldermen for the year 1907 was given out by returning officer, W. A. Duncan, last evening as follows:

Candidate	West End	Sapperton	City Hall	Total
Jardine	50	22	286	358
Gray	58	12	287	357
Henley	43	34	279	356
Smith	59	18	276	353
Garrett	50	50	208	308
Johnston	33	22	246	301
Adams	30	28	223	281
Shiles	37	30	207	274
Halladay	40	18	153	211
Gamon	22	13	157	192
Cross	15	31	120	166
McNab	20	7	112	139
Hardman	17	10	108	135
Hudson	10	8	88	106
Miller	15	1	37	53

There were only four spoilt ballots.

Result of Ballot Is Still in Doubt

Less than an hour after the returning officer had announced the result of yesterday's ballot, it was learned from a reliable source that a recount would take place, owing to the possibility of a mistake having been made in the first count. It is generally supposed that after the recount has been made, it will be found that Ald. Shiles will retain possession of the seat which he has occupied for so long in the council chamber, while Ald. Geo. Adams will find that he was defeated by a few votes. By the first count only seven votes separate defeat from victory, and a mistake in the counting of a few ballots would mean all the difference to the candidates.

Although the weather was most inclement, a steady stream of voters filed into the city hall from 1 o'clock until 5 and recorded their votes. Most of the candidates were in the hall, extending the glad hand of welcome to all voters, and giving advice gratis as to the proper way of marking the ballot. Hacks had been placed at the disposal of voters living at a distance, and were also used to bring a large number of ladies to the polling booths.

Only one of the candidates who had the support of the citizens' committee managed to find a place among the winners, this being Ald. Garrett, who was returned fifth on the list. Apparently the well meant efforts of the moral crusaders were not taken seriously by a majority of the ratepayers. In the event of a recount displacing Ald. Adams in favor of Ald. Shiles, it will mean two citizens' ticket candidates elected. The two candidates who head the list are both connected with the Royal City mills, and it had been generally expected that the vote of the millmen would be pretty well split up between them, but this did not happen to be the case.

The referendum vote in connection with the Y.M.C.A. resulted in 420 electors voting in favor of exemption from taxes, while 126 were opposed to this concession. Seven ballots were spoiled. The Y.M.C.A. will therefore be free from taxes for a period of ten years, and will enjoy the privilege of free light and water during the same period.

BAPTISTS VISIT VANCOUVER CHURCH

Party Goes Over on Special Car and Have an Enjoyable Time.

Braving the inclement weather, quite a large number of young people assembled in the First Baptist church, Vancouver, last night, under the auspices of the District B.Y.P.U., embracing this city and Vancouver.

Mr. A. H. Marrion, the union president, occupied the chair. The chief business of the evening was the adoption of the constitution of the union and the election of officers for the ensuing year. The choice rested upon A. H. Marrion, Vancouver, as president; A. W. Dymock, New Westminster, vice-president; Richard Griffin, Vancouver, secretary.

The executive of the union embraces the above named officers with the treasurer, and one representative from each of the societies affiliated.

By special invitation, Rev. E. Leroy Dakin, B.A., of Victoria, addressed the meeting, basing his remarks upon John 11: 7, "Let us go into Judea again." "Loyalty to Christ" was the subject. In part, the speaker said that Jesus, in His decision to begin the journey into Judea, manifested for all time that an heroic spirit possessed him. His sympathetic heart urged Him onwards to the grave of His friend Lazarus. Danger awaited Him in Judea. Enemies, He well knew, were plotting against His life, but He saw a chance to comfort the bereaved sisters and friends. He knew that He would be needed at the place of mourning. Christ was loyal to His friends, and men should follow His example.

CARS WILL RUN AGAIN OVER THE OLD ROUTE

Petition From Burnaby Settlers Induces B.C.E.R. Co. to Improve Service.

Another improvement in the local B.C.E.R. service was announced yesterday afternoon by Local Manager McQuarrie, who stated to a Daily News reporter that, commencing on Friday next, a car would be put on the old line from the city limit on Sixth street to the junction with the interurban line, which will connect with all Vancouver and city cars. There will be no extra charge for this service; transfers will be given to passengers from one line to the other. This new departure is the result of a petition sent in by 69 settlers along Burnaby lake and the route of the old road, about a week ago. The council of the municipality of Burnaby also sent in a petition, and the B.C.E.R. management decided to put on a car for one month to test its public usefulness. The old road has been used only for trolley parties and during fair time, during the past thirteen years.

"ONE MAN ONE VOTE" DOES NOT SUIT LORDS

Bill Abolishing Plural Voting Does Not Appeal to Aristocratic Plural Voters.

London, Dec. 10.—The house of lords to-night rejected the plural voting bill, which was passed by the house of commons at the instance of the government. The principle of the bill was "One man, one vote."

"LIGHTS OUT" PIPED BY STORMY BREEZE

For Two Hours Last Night the Electric Current Failed, The Lights Went Out and Daily News Machines Were Idle.

There was another heavy blow last night, which did some damage along the waterfront, and got away with signs and wires in the business section of the city.

Nothing very serious was reported up to the hour when the Daily News went to press; but for over two hours the electric current was cut off, leaving the town in darkness, and reducing this office to a condition of inactivity. Shift can be made to supply the absence of electric light, but we are dependent on the "juice" for power to drive our machinery, so that, when the current failed, typesetting stopped. Our readers are thus deprived of a lot of more or less interesting telegraphic and local news. Such a breakdown is, of course, very annoying, but at the same time, the fact that the current was restored in a little over two hours, with such a wind blowing, on a black, moonless night, is very much to the credit of those in charge of the service.

Sad Ending.

A Chicago dispatch says: John Alexander Dowie has gone raving mad. His mind is now a wreck, and it is believed that his end is near. Two hundred of his followers in Zion gathered in Shiloh house, the Dowie home, to hear him deliver a sermon, and were confronted by a mad man. Dowie's delusion is that he is a famous soldier. Weak physicaly and almost helpless, he incoherently ha angued of a "battle" in which h commander, a famous general, w slain. Then he himself won the ba tle. "I have brought the general body here in my tent," said he, "and I am now making a funeral oration over it. The foreign powers are sending representatives to treat with me." Nurses carried him out of the room.

MINISTERS ARRANGE FOR WEEK OF PRAYER

List of Meetings and Speakers—Will Retain Present Prayer Meeting Night.

A meeting of the Ministerial association was held yesterday morning, at which a communication was received from the Royal Templare of Temperance, asking the churches to revert to the Thursday evening prayer meeting, instead of Wednesday evening. The association considered the matter carefully, and decided that in the interests of the churches it would be advisable to retain the Wednesday evening for the regular weekly service. Rev. W. H. Barraclough and Rev. Dr. Taylor were appointed to convey the intimation to the petitioners.

It was decided to hold the regular week of prayer during the first week of the new year, in St. Paul's Reformed Episcopal church.

The general subject for the week will be "The Church's Responsibility." On Monday evening, for missions; Tuesday evening, for education; Wednesday evening, for good government; Thursday evening, for temperance; Friday evening, for evangelism.

Thursday evening—Leader, Rev. Mr. Thomas; speaker, Rev. A. E. Vert.

Friday evening—Leader, Rev. M. L. Rugg, D.D.; speaker, Rev. D. McKenzie, B.A.

COUNCIL OF WOMEN PRAISES BRAVE ACT

Local Ladies Will Endeavor to Secure Medal for Plucky Mrs. Paterson.

The Local Council of Women is taking an active interest in the brave and commendable action of Mrs. Paterson, the wife of the keeper of the Beale lighthouse, who, on Friday morning last, was the means of saving ten men from almost certain death. The heavy seas raging around that part of Vancouver island had rendered the barque Colomba helpless, and the ten men who comprised the crew were in imminent danger of death when help arrived.

The Colomba was outward bound from Everett laden with lumber, and, after straining in the heavy seas and battling with a gale for many hours, her seams opened, her masts carried away, and she drifted, a water-logged, sinking wreck, toward the rocks of the west coast. Mrs. Paterson, wife of the lighthouse keeper at Cape Beale, observed the derelict, and at daybreak yesterday morning she tramped twelve miles over the rough ground between the lighthouse and the cable station to send the Quadra to the aid of the unfortunate crew. The government vessel had steam up, the crew had been standing by during the wild night ready in case the anchors should drag, and in a few minutes it was on its way to the distressed vessel.

The story of this woman's courageous tramp was related at the monthly meeting of the Local Council of Women yesterday afternoon, and after due consideration it was decided that a letter should be written to Mrs. Paterson, congratulating her on her bravery, and a committee was formed to bring her case to the notice of the Canadian branch of the Royal Humane society, with a view to securing for the lighthouse keeper's wife a medal or other suitable recognition for the part she played in the saving of ten lives. The action of the local council is all the more opportune, considering the fact that Mrs. Paterson has been instrumental in saving shipwrecked men on three or four previous occasions.

Despite the inclement weather, a large number of ladies were present when the president, Mrs. Levar, took the chair. Greetings were sent to the Victoria council, who were commencing a two days' convention yesterday afternoon. Arrangements were made for the holding of the annual meeting, which is to take place on the second Monday in January, when the election of officers will take place. An effort is to be made to secure the use of the Reformed Episcopalian lecture room for this occasion, this being deemed to be the most convenient meeting place in the city.

DEAD WATER.

Effect of This Queer Marine Phenomenon Upon a Ship's Speed.

One of the most curious marine phenomena known to seamen is that called by Norwegian sailors "dead water," which, without any visible cause, makes a vessel lose her speed and refuse to answer her helm. The sailor's only definite knowledge of its origin is that it exists solely where there is a surface layer of fresh water resting upon the salt waters of the sea. Several explanations have been advanced by the captains of ships of the effect of dead water, the commonest of which is that the two water layers move in different directions. The true explanation, however, recently offered by Swedish navigators and verified by mathematical calculation and direct experiment, is that in addition to the "resistance waves" at the surface the vessel creates a second line of subaqueous waves between the two strata of water.

The experiment carried out to demonstrate the truth of this theory was an exceedingly pretty one. A large plate glass tank was first mounted on a wooden frame. The tank was then filled to a certain depth with salt water, and a layer of fresh water was carefully poured on to the surface, so that two separate water layers were obtained.

The salt water was blackened with liquid Chinese ink before the water layers were prepared, and in this way the different layers were made clearly visible. A boat model was then towed along the tank and a silhouette of the waves produced was obtained by placing a white screen at a short distance behind the tank. The waves were also photographed by flashlight, and the results showed conclusively that waves actually were set up at the boundary line between the two liquids.

Further experiments were made to verify the sudden loss of speed due to dead water. The boat model was drawn across the tank and the towing string suddenly slackened when the boat was about halfway across. In cases where the tank contained salt water only the boat stopped gradually, moving some boat lengths after the towing string had been slackened. When the tank contained a layer of fresh water resting on salt water, on the other hand, the boat slackened speed quite suddenly and moved only a very short distance.

These experiments, carried out on a small scale, prove conclusively that the difficulties encountered within a dead water zone are really due to the resistance experienced by the vessel in generating invisible waves at the fresh water salt water boundary, although in some particular cases the influence of undercurrents must also doubtless be taken into account.—New York Herald.

THE BOOMERANG.

One of the Most Peculiar Weapons of War Ever Invented.

The boomerang is an instrument used both in war and in the chase by the aborigines of Australia. It is usually about two feet in length, made of hard wood bent into a curve resembling an obtuse angle, flat on one side and rounded on the other. The method of using this curious weapon is very peculiar. The thrower takes it in one hand, holding the bent side downward, and hurls it forward as if to hit some object twenty or twenty-five yards in advance. Instead of continuing to go directly forward in accordance with the Newtonian law it slowly ascends in the air, whirling round and round, describing a beautiful and geometrical curved line till it reaches a considerable height, when it begins to retrograde, finally sweeping over the head of the projector, striking the object for which it was intended, which is always in the rear.

An English officer has this to say of the singular weapon: "The boomerang is one of the most curious weapons of war ever invented, at least by a barbarous people, nor is it easy to comprehend by what law of projectiles it is made to take the singular directions that it frequently does. I have seen a native throw one so as to make it go forty or fifty yards horizontally and not more than four feet from the ground. It would then suddenly dart into the air to the height of fifty or sixty yards, describe a very considerable curve and finally fall at his feet. In all cases, no matter how thrown, the boomerang keeps turning with great rapidity, like as if on a pivot, making a loud, whizzing noise all the while."

HIGHLAND CROFTERS.

How They Lived In the Middle of the Last Century.

In the middle of the last century the crofters in the west highlands seldom saw money and never needed it. They erected for themselves huts mostly built of turf, floored with clay and roofed with heather. They kept a few cattle, goats and sheep, which grazed at will on the open hillside and provided them with milk and wool. They lived a truly simple life, and their needs were few. They grew oats for their own food and potatoes which formed their other chief article of diet. Tea was an unknown luxury. It was by no means uncommon to find persons who had never tasted it. Wheaten bread had never been seen in those parts. Their clothes were made from the fleeces of their own sheep, spun and woven by the good wives during the long winter nights and dyed from the simple dyes made from the lichens which grew on the stems of trees or on the bowlders of rock in the neighborhood. The whisky they drank came from secret stills on the hillside and had never paid excise. The nearest parish church was often many miles away. No school was there for the children. Very few of them, indeed, could read or write. Still fewer had ever heard a word of English spoken. Their spiritual needs, however, were not neglected, for they received constant visits from the "men," as they were called, who had constituted themselves the spiritual guides of their neighborhood. —Blackwood's Magazine.

Old Time Floggings.

An act of the time of Queen Elizabeth ordained that vagrants were to be "stripped from the middle upward and whipped till the body is bloody." Fourpence each was the recognized charge made by the "whipman" for every male and female vagrant who passed through his hands, but on special occasions this sum was exceeded. Says the constable's account of Great Staughton, Huntingdonshire: "May, 1691.—Paid in charges taking up a distracted woman, watching her and whipping her next day, 8 shillings 6 pence." After whipping people according to the statute the authorities sometimes gave them a letter recommending constables and others "to be as charitable as the law permits."

Mother Love.

Friend—I am afraid your husband has a bad cold; he's continually sneezing. It's quite painful to hear him. Why don't you ask a doctor to see him? Matron—Well, I'm waiting just a few days, because it amuses baby so to see his father sneeze.—Bon Vivant.

A Story of Ole Bull.

A curious tale of Ole Bull is told in a book on violins and violinists. It seems that in 1831, being then twenty-one years of age, the famous violinist wandered to Paris. The cholera was raging and Malibran singing. He went to hear her, and his landlord decamped with his possessions, including his violin. He was speedily reduced to extremity. During the last dinner that he was able to pay for he made the acquaintance of a remarkable man. To this stranger Ole Bull confided his miseries. At the conclusion the stranger said abruptly, "Well, I will do something for you if you have courage and 5 francs." "I have both," said Bull. "Then go to Frascati's tonight at 10 o'clock, pass through the first room, go into the second, where they play rouge et noir, and when a new taille begins put your 5 francs on rouge and leave it there." Bull did as directed, and when his 5 francs had become 400 he took them up after an episode with a woman who attempted to take them. Red continued to win, and had he left his money longer he would have won an independent sum. The stranger, who was present as his elbow, was Vidocq, the French detective, already a European celebrity.

Turkey's Way of Raising Revenue.

The land in all Turkey and her dependencies belongs to the reigning sultan and is only occupied at his will. It is divided among those who wish to cultivate it at a nominal rental of one-fifth of the produce, which goes directly to the crown. Three-fifths more are taken from the lessee on other pretexts, all for the maintenance of the government, the pasha in each district having the authority to lease the ground and collect the taxes, which may be in kind or money. If crops are short, they take four-fifths of all the man has in animals and even in household utensils, sometimes all his possessions, to make up the deficiency which Providence has withheld. Everything that can produce, be it a tree, beast, fowl, worm or the labor of a man and his family, is subject to the four-fifths tax. Those who toil at any labor or trade other than agriculture are taxed also pro rata according to their wages and must pay or go to prison.—Pearson's Weekly.

How to Remove a Corn; Try It.

Expose the corn and pass the finger tips of your right hand over it slowly and caressingly, at the same time sending a vibration from the brain to the corn. If it is a soft corn 413 vibrations per second will suffice; if a hard corn, put on a forced draft. Repeat slowly, "I am now sending a current of thought force into my corn and so separating, deducing, disintegrating, rendering, splitting, sundering, splintering, snipping, dwellicating, whittling, dispersing, dislocating, eliding, divorcing, pulverizing, slashing, slicing and dissecting it that presently it will pass away. Repeat it three times, then, with rising inflection, "Avaunt, avaunt, avaunt!" Finish by repeating the password: "The universe is mine. I am it." The corn will at first look extremely surprised, then wilt and fade beautifully from sight.—New Thought.

A Nice Distinction.

A well known Atlantan has a wife with a sharp tongue. Jones had come home about 2 in the morning rather the worse off for a few highballs. As soon as he opened the door his wife, who was waiting for him in the accustomed place at the top of the stairs, where she could watch his uncertain ascent, started upbraiding him for his conduct. Jones went to bed and when he was almost asleep could hear her still scolding him unmercifully. He dropped off to sleep and awoke after a couple of hours, only to hear his wife remark, "I hope all the women don't have to put up with such conduct as this." "Annie," said Jones, "are you talking again or yet?"—Kansas City Star.

Many words of most august sound prove to be of quite commonplace ancestry when traced to their origins. "Finance" is really only "settling up." Literally, it is just "ending" and was formerly used in that very simple sense in the English language. Then it came to signify settling up with a creditor and acquired the special sense of ransom.

THE NEW COUNCIL.

Yesterday's election brought some surprises. In the first place it is rather unusual to find more than half of the seven elected with a difference of only five votes between the first and the fourth. In the second place, the defeat of Ald. Shiles will be a surprise to many people, as he has been one of the most faithful of our civic workers and has devoted a great deal deal of time and trouble to municipal affairs. It is no surprise to find that Aldermen Jardine and Henley, who presided over the most important commitees, and, next to the Mayor, occupied the most responsible positions in the civic government, have polled large votes. This is a proper recognition of their good work during the year. The new council will consist of four re-elected and three new men, and the new blood will doubtless make itself felt. On the whole, the result must be accepted as an endorsement of the policy which the council has pursued during the past year.

Mr. Galliher, M.P., has been telling the Toronto News that the new tariff will give general satisfaction in British Columbia. The canners will be pleased that there is no duty on tin plate; the miners would rejoice that certain machinery which they use was placed on the free list; and the lumbermen were doing so well that they would not care about the refusal to make lumber pay duty.

Voight, the German shoemaker, who was sentenced to a term of imprisonment, a week or two ago, for various impudent frauds, put in a plea of extenuating circumstances, the chief one being that he had given the world the heartiest laugh it had enjoyed for a generation. This, as a sample of impudence, is about equal to the suit brought by a celebrated highway man against his partner for breach of contract in that the latter had failed to "take and acquire certain purses on Hounslow Heath."

Land Clearing Case.

The case of Sabourin and Munday vs. Buchanan, which was commenced on Saturday last, concluded at 8 o'clock last evening, when the jury brought in a three-fourths verdict in favor of the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs in the case undertook a contract for clearing a large tract of land for the defendant, and when the time for settlement came, the defendant wished to pay at the rate of three dollars an acre, while the plaintiffs claimed five dollars an acre. Another difference was in the acreage. The plaintiffs sent in their bill for clearing 481 acres, while the defendant took the stand that there was only 406 acres. The defendant paid the contractors the sum of $1,300 for their work, their claim was for $2,405, and the balance of $1,105 was the amount at stake in the case. The case was closely watched by a large number of farmers, and the verdict is apparently a popular one. W. J. Whiteside, assisted by Sir Hibbert Tupper, appeared for the plaintiffs, while J. R. Grant, assisted by E. P. Davis, of the firm of Davis, Marshall & McNeill, of Vancouver, appeared for the defendant.

PUMICE STONE.

The Product of Monte Chirica, on the Island of Lipari.

Pumice, as is well known, is of volcanic origin, being a trachytic lava which has been rendered light by the escape of gases when in a molten state. It is found on most of the shores of the Tyrhenian sea and elsewhere, but is at present almost exclusively obtained from the little island of Lipari. Most of the volcanoes of Lipari have ejected pumaceous rocks, but the best stone is all the product of one mountain, Monte Chirica, nearly 2,000 feet in height, with its two accessory craters. The district in which the pumice is excavated covers an area of three square miles. It has been calculated that about 1,000 hands are engaged in this industry, 600 of whom are employed in extricating the mineral.

Pumice is brought to the surface in large blocks or in baskets and is carried thus either to the neighboring village or to the seashore to be taken there in boats. The supply is said to be practically inexhaustible. Pumice is used not merely for scouring and cleansing purposes, but also for polishing in numerous trades; hence the fact that the powdered pumice exported exceeds in weight the block pumice. Between twenty and thirty merchants are engaged in the pumice trade on the island.—London News.

Ragamuffins.

Mr. Birrell's story about the little ragamuffin in a church school stirred a clerical correspondent to write a letter wherein he spoke of ragamuffins as "boys who have more rags than muffins." No doubt that was not meant to be taken seriously from the etymological point of view. The muffin of the word has puzzled many. "Ragamuffin," says Dr. Johnson, "is from 'rag,' and I know not what else." According to Dr. Brewer the word means a ragged "muff" or "muffin" (a spiritless fellow). But the original Ragamoffyn seems to have been a demon in certain old mystery plays, whose name was probably just high sounding nonsense. It is curious, however, that "the ragman" is an old name for the devil.—London Chronicle.

Contradictions.

"The more the merrier." Not so. One hand is enough in a purse. "Nothing hurts the stomach more than surfeiting." Yes, lack of meat. "Nothing but what has an end." Not so. A ring has none, for it is round. "Money is a great comfort." Not when it brings a thief to the gallows. "The world is a long journey." Not so. The sun goes over it every day. "It is a great way to the bottom of the sea." Not so. It is but a stone's cast. "A friend is best found in adversity." Not so. For ther there is none to be found. "The pride of the rich makes the labor of the poor." Not so. The labor of the poor makes the pride of the rich.

Cold Blooded Opinion.

"When a man loses his money," remarked the cynic, "he finds out who his friends are."

"Yes," answered Mr. Dustin Stax, "it is a wise compensation. When a man loses his fortune he saves the time he used to spend shaking hands and listening to hard luck stories and gets a chance to make another."—Washington Star.

Little Pitchers.

Willie—Uncle Jack, did you choke on that cake batter ma made yesterday? Rich Old Uncle—Good heavens, no, child! What put such an extraordinary idea into your head? Willie—Why, I heard pa tell ma he made you cough up the dough.—Baltimore American.

This Was Where They Grow.

Mrs. Newly Rich (shopping in Paris)—Show us some wraps—imported, of course. French Saleswoman—Imported, madame? From where, s'il vous plait?

The most insignificant people are the most apt to sneer at others.—Hazlitt.

Ten Square Feet.

Some of the schools have a simple so called "catch question" that is much in vogue among the pupil at times. It is, "What is the difference between ten square feet and ten feet square?" Now and then an unwary boy or girl trips over it and answers, "There is no difference," but a little thinking shows them that there is a good deal of difference. Ten square feet means an area equal to a parallelogram measuring ten feet on one side and one foot on the other; the parallelogram contains, therefore, only ten square feet. Ten feet square, however, means a square measuring ten feet on each of its sides, which, therefore, contains 100 square feet.

Tommy's Doubtful Compliment.

A teacher was instructing a class of boys, and had spent half an hour trying to drive into their heads the difference between man and the lower animals, but apparently with little success.

"Tommy," he said, coaxingly, to a little chap, "do you know the difference between, say, me and a pig or any other brute?"

"No," replied Tommy, innocently, but another teacher standing by laughed.

The Mind's Eye.

It will probably be news to most people to hear that rudimentary traces of a third eye exist among all vertebrates, including man. In the human race the third eye forms part of the pineal gland, a small mass about the size of a pea in almost the very center of the brain. Possibly, therefore there was more actual truth in the well known expression "the mind's eye" than its originator dreamed of.

A Disperser.

A street preacher in a west of Scotland town complained to a passing policeman about being annoyed by a part of the audience and asked him to remove the obnoxious ones. "Weel, ye see," replied the cautious officer, "it would be a hard job for me tae spot them, but I'll tell ye what I'd dae if I were you." "What would you do?" eagerly inquired the preacher. "Just ga round wi' the hat!"

The pile driving contract undertaken by W. A. Gilley in connection with the Millside spur which is being constructed by the V. W. & Y. Railway company is now almost completed, and it is expected that the last pile will be driven by Saturday next. Yesterday they were busy crossing the creek. The balance of the distance to Millside will be an easy matter as there will be no pile driving to do.

On another page Messrs. McQuarrie & Co. are offering five valuable lots on Queen's avenue, just off Third street. These lots are high and dry, and sewer pipes are laid on the avenue, so that perfect sanitation can be secure immediately by those purchasing and desiring to build at once. 235-3

The funeral of the late Newton Gillis, who died from heart failure on board the Stranger on Sunday, will take place to-morrow from the residence of his brother-in-law, A. Lusier, of Second and Regina streets. Capt. Fenton, of the Stranger, who found the dead body in the engine room of his boat, states emphatically that Gillis was not struck by the bar or any other part of the machinery. The only abrasion was caused by the fall. No inquest was held, as it was not considered to be necessary. The funeral service will be conducted by Rev. T. Wardlaw Taylor.

Important Rumor.

It is reported that a contract has been entered into between Mr. John Hendry and a city corporation for the furnishing of power for running the Moodyville mills for a term of years. This announcement is of great importance, inasmuch as it indicates another step in the plans which have for years been noted as probable in connection with the extensions of the Great Northern railway in Vancouver and its vicinity. The recent plans filed by the railway company on Burrard inlet show a contemplated frontage extending from the sugar refinery to the city wharf at Heatley avenue. Nothing but this latter street separates the proposed railway terminus and the Hastings millsite. The contract for power above noted would indicate that the rumors to the effect that the Hastings mill is to be removed to Moodyville, making that place a hive of industry, as in days of yore, have a firm basis.

COLLEGE GYMNASIUM WILL OPEN AT EASTER

Students Make Merry Over the Announcement by Feasting on Oysters and Singing.

There was a meeting in connection with the Columbian college gymnasium which it is proposed to build on the college grounds, in T. R. Pearson's office yesterday afternoon. The matter was carefully discussed, and it was decided to proceed with the erection of a gymnasium building and to have it equipped, and in readiness for the commencement of the Easter term.

The building is to be erected in the rear of the ladies' dormintory building, and not on Second street as was at one time proposed.

The plans for the building will be proceeded with at once. It is to be large and roomy, and will be suitable for basketball and other kindred amusements.

The college students are in great glee over the success of their agitation, and last night a bunch of them paraded along Columbia street, making noises which they called a college yell, and whistling ragtime music. They proceeded to Kenny's restaurant, where they treated themselves to oysters done up in various styles.

Broken Loose Again.

Yuma, Ariz., Dec. 11.—Once more the entire Colorado river is flowing into the Salton Sink, again menacing the Imperial and Coachella valleys. The main line of the Southern Pacific must move back to higher ground, unless the flow can be once more controlled. Twenty-five million in property values is at stake. A distinct channel, carrying the whole river, developed Sunday morning.

Presentation.

J. Digby, who recently resigned from the position of foreman of the electric light staff, was presented on Saturday evening with a handsome pipe and case by Superintendent Bowler and the other members of the light department. Mr. Digby suitably acknowledged the token of good will.

Heavy Snowfall.

A heavy snow storm took place today in Lynn valley and on the higher altitudes of the mountains on the north side of Burrard inlet. Apparently the storm extended to the Capilano and Seymour valleys, and to the North Arm of the inlet. The snow is now well down on the mountains, especially in the Lynn valley, where the heaviest falls are reported up to date this winter. On Saturday several inches of snow fell at Harrison lake, and the ranges there are now well covered.

The End of Books.

What brings about the end of books? Is it fire, water, worms? As every ship launched is bound to be wrecked, every theater to be burned, the finis of the book is its reduction to ashes. What became of the Alexandrian library? Did the Saracens burn it in 640? There is this question asked: Was there any library at Alexandria containing 700,000 books? Gibbon inclines to the opinion that there was no such library. Canon Taylor insists that if there had been a library it was burned in the time of Julius Caesar. Tradition seems to indicate, however, that there was a library in the serapeum, by no means a large collection, but whether destroyed by Theophilus or Theodosius is not known. It looks as if the charge brought against the Arabs rested on no foundation. Explorations of Alexandria in 1895-96 show no traces of the serapeum. The seaport of Egypt was built on a damp foundation, and granting that there was a library, if not destroped by fire, then the papyri might have suffered from decay due to water. Books of today taken to India, to the southern states and to the West Indies perish through mildew.

Robinson Crusoe.

The second volume of "Robinson Crusoe," by Daniel De Foe, published on Aug. 20, 1719, was the first story published in England with illustrations. The illustrations consisted of a map of the world, in which the different voyages of the hero of the tale were delineated. The first volume of "Robinson Crusoe" was published in April, 1719, and became popular at once. A second edition was printed seventeen days after the first, twenty-five days later another followed, and a fourth was published on Aug. 8 of the same year. On Aug. 20 the second volume was issued under the title of "The Further Adventures of Robinson Crusoe; being the second and last part of his life and of the strange, surprising account of his travels round three parts of the globe. Written by himself. To which is added a map of the world, in which is delineated the voyage of Robinson Crusoe."

A Curiosity In Figures.

The following remarkable contribution to the curiosities of figures consists of two series of numbers, of which no description is necessary, as they speak for themselves. Perhaps there is no special profit in them, but they are worth preserving nevertheless:

1 times 9 plus 2 equals 11.
12 times 9 plus 3 equals 111.
123 times 9 plus 4 equals 1111.
1234 times 9 plus 5 equals 11111.
12345 times 9 plus 6 equals 111111.
123456 times 9 plus 7 equals 1111111.
1234567 times 9 plus 8 equals 11111111.
12345678 times 9 plus 9 equals 111111111.
1 times 8 plus 1 equals 9.
12 times 8 plus 2 equals 98.
123 times 8 plus 3 equals 987.
1234 times 8 plus 4 equals 9876.
12345 times 8 plus 5 equals 98765.
123456 times 8 plus 6 equals 987654.
1234567 times 8 plus 7 equals 9876543.
12345678 times 8 plus 8 equals 98765432.
123456789 times 8 plus 9 equals 987654321.

White Animals Can't Smell.

"Pure white animals," said a pet stock dealer, "have no sense of smell Hence they are continually eating things that disagree with them, and in eight cases out of ten poison themselves and die. Pure white pigs should never be allowed to run loose in the fields and woods. For, without the protection of a sense of smell, such pigs, when they get out, eat all sorts of poisonous roots and berries and die off rapidly. "In Africa the white rhinoceros poisons itself by eating the euphorbia, and pure white sheep are difficult to rear because they are continually munching shrubs and grasses that don't agree with them."

Butler's Flag.

Feb. 21, 1866, General Benjamin F. Butler presented to congress the first genuine American flag, made of American materials by American labor, ever constructed in this country. Prior to that time all American government flags had been made of English bunting. Since then all our official flags have been the product exclusively of American material and labor. There were twenty-six stars in the flag at that time.

His Last Name.

A gentleman once asked a lad what was his last name.

"Johnny," replied the boy.

"Well, what is your full name?"

"Johnny Brown, sir."

"Well, how can Johnny be your last name?"

"Because, sir, when I was born my name was Brown, and Johnny wasn't given to me till I was a month old."

A Narrow Escape.

The company had assembled in the church, but the bridegroom was nowhere to be found. Finally a messenger announced that the young man had been run over and killed while on his way to the church.

"And just think," she said a month afterward to a friend, "what a narrow escape I had from becoming a widow!"

A Prank of Memory.

Why have we memory sufficient to retain the minutest circumstances that have happened to us and yet not enough to remember how often we have related them to the same person? —La Rochefoucauld.

A Wonder.

"Crime worked a miracle with that dumb convict."

"How so?"

"He was sent here for uttering forged notes."—Baltimore American.

Common sense is the average sensibility and intelligence of men undisturbed by individual peculiarities.—W. R. Alger.

Some Interesting Games to Be Played With Jackstones.

Of course you boys and girls all know how to play jackstones, but you may not know all the games that can be played with them.

Do you know "Cats in the Well," for instance? It is played in the following fashion:

Roll the jacks from the hand to the ground; these are the cats.

Then place your left hand near them, with the fist lightly closed, the thumb and first finger forming the opening to one well.

Jack may now be thrown up, and, while he is in the air, one of the four cats on the ground must be picked up and put in the well.

Repeat the operation with the second, third and fourth cats until all have been drowned in the well. The left hand may now be taken away, leaving the dead cats in a bunch.

Now jack may be tossed up, and this time all four cats must be picked up before jack comes down.

Shakespeare or Shakspere?

It is not to be wondered at that boys and girls are sometimes puzzled over the spelling of the great poet's name. It is written in three different ways—Shakespeare, Shakspeare and Shakspere. Which of these is right? The first is generally preferred, though many of our best scholars write it Shakspere, contending that it is right because his autograph signature appears in that form. At the same time it should be remembered that the name appeared as Shakespeare on the title page of books that he superintended, and this warrants the belief that he accepted it as the correct spelling, in spite of the autograph signature. There is very little authority for the form Shakspeare.

His Promotion.

A somewhat turbulent private wrote to his mother: "I am sorry you had no letter last week, but I am a defaulter and it gives me a heap of extra work." The good woman in reply begged him not to be too hard on the others, but to remember he had been a private himself. I regret to say that he roared with laughter and read the letter aloud for the benefit of all who shared his room.—Miss M. Loane, a Queen's Nurse, in Contemporary Review.

Milkman Shoots Trespassing Pig.

Two milkmen and a pig were the three actors in a hurorous adventure which happened across the river at the latter end of last week, and which is likely to have its sequel in the courts, unless some mutual arrangement can be arrived at. One of the dispensers of the lacteal fluid owned a fine Berkshire, of which he was inordinately proud, and which was allowed to roam about at large. In the course of his perambulations, piggy happened to stroll over the property of Mr. Cowjuice Seller No. 2, and this worthy, being in a bad humor at the time, seized a gun and peppered piggy so full of shot that that quadruped dropped dead from a combination of fright and pain. To hide all evidence of his crime, the assassin took the porker home, quartered it, salted it, and placed the pork in the larder. But before many succulent steaks had been digested the owner of the late lamented piggy appeared on the scene and raised a big row. The other fellowed explained that it was all an accident, but all explanations appear to have been of no avail, and the case will most likely be brought to he notice of the courts in an official manner within a few days.

Another Electric Marvel.

Montreal, Dec. 10.—The Canadian Pacific railway has decided to adopt the telegraphone, a new invention by which telegraph wires can be used for telephone purposes without disturbing telegraphic work. Instruments will be installed on the north shore first and if successful will probably be extended over the whole system.

WHITE MEN CHALLENGE HINDUS TO PULL

Millside Sports Offer to Put Up Heavy Stakes on Tug-of-War Contest.

A couple of Millside men visited the office of the Daily News about the witching hour of midnight, and were very anxious to find out whence the story of the tug-of-war, in that paper one day last week emanated. The story purported to come from Uday Ram, who criticized the sporting status of the Millside white men. The midnight visitors didn't want to say in plain English just what Uday Ram was, but he was one any way.

They said that on the day on which the scrap took place over the tug-of-war, they had succeeded in pulling their opponents over twenty feet, when the old doctor, as they call him, encroached too much on the game and gave a white man a push, as the man in question objected to being pushed, he returned the compliment, thereon followed a free-for-all fight, in which some blood was shed and some things were said. The Hindus claimed the victory in spite of the fact that they had been pulled twenty feet by their opponents, their rule being that the last man must be pulled past the dividing line. The white men considered that as they had pulled their opponents so far and had held them there for twenty minutes, they were the victors.

The white contestants were very angry at being considered poor sports and have challenged the Hindus to a contest in the mill building, on cleats. They have offered to put up anything from $100 to $500 provided the Hindus will cover it with a similar amount.

On Saturday Uday Ram visited the News office and stated that he had been misunderstood, as he had no intention of criticizing the sporting status of his white friends at Millside.

THE SUPPLY OF LABOR.

To the Editor of the Daily News.

Sir,—The scarcity of labor in this province seems to be a burning question with some people, and the statements they make in regard to local labor conditions are very alarming. As I lately required to have some laborers and mechanics, I thought, if their statements were true, I was up against a hard proposition; but when I was ready to start work I got over fifty personal applications for employment, whereas I required only ten.

I would like to know what these people want. Is it slaves? I don't. I will leave my address with you, Mr. Editor, to give to any of these gentlemen who are really anxious to solve this problem of theirs, and I will undertake to enlighten them free of cost.

I enclose my card.

CITIZEN.

New Westminster, Dec. 10, 1906.

To Die To-morrow.

Victoria, Dec. 10.—Efforts made today to secure commutation to life imprisonment of the death sentence passed on Robt. S. Featherstone, for the murder of Mary Dalton, at South Wellington, in July, were unsuccessful. Telegrams were sent stating that Featherstone's mind was unbalanced. Hon. Mr. Aylesworth, minister of justice, telegraphed that the evidence in the case disclosed no insanity, and he refused to interfere. Featherstone will be hanged Wednesday morning. Ratcliffe, the official hangman, has arrived to prepare the scaffold.
