

SNAG BOAT BREAKS DOWN ON TRIAL TRIP

Broken Valve in Cylinder of Port Engine Causes Cyg- net to Drift Helplessly.

The new government snag boat Cygnet, which is to leave for the Skeena river next week, was yesterday given her first trial trip. The result was certainly not entirely satisfactory. She was moved down during the day to the Department of Public Works wharf where she received her cables and anchors and other equipment. At two o'clock with an officer from the Samson in charge, she cast off and pulled out into the stream, the intention being to manoeuvre the boat for a time and then make a trip down the river to the mouth and back. After reaching the middle of the river the first part of the program was commenced and the Cygnet proved everything that could be desired, answering the rudder perfectly, much to the admiration of a number of rivermen who watched her performance from the bank.

Then the unexpected happened. The big wheel ceased to revolve and all the rigging of the bell was futile, the port engine had broken down with a broken valve in the cylinder. The stevedores started to drift to the South Arm, and it became necessary to get out an anchor, until assistance arrived in the shape of the government tender Petrel, which took the snagboat in tow and piloted her to Skeena's wharf for repairs. Another trial will be made in a few days after the engines have been thoroughly overhauled for other possible defects. The Cygnet will be taken to the Skeena by the mate of the Samson, where she will be taken over by the skipper and crew who are already here.

OVERSEAS MAIL SUBSIDY NOT TO BE DISCONTINUED

Ottawa, April 16.—The Ottawa authorities were today advised that the representations made to the Imperial authorities by Canada to induce Great Britain to reconsider the decision not to continue the subsidy of £45,000 per year for the C. P. R. overseas mail service, have been successful.

The British government has agreed to continue the payment of a substantial subsidy, though possibly not as much as is now granted.

SETTLERS ARE RUSHING TO PEACE RIVER DISTRICT

Fort Saskatchewan, Sask., April 16.—Numerous settlers are passing through here daily bound for the Peace river country. Many of them possess nearly complete outfits, and are the right type of people for a new country. The majority of them are from the United States and eastern Canada. They all express satisfaction with the country. Seeding is general here.

Wind Does Damage.

A severe wind and rain storm which swept over the coast last night did considerable damage in outlying sections of the city, while in the business portion, several awnings and shades were somewhat damaged. At Kyle & Son's store on Front street, a large plate glass window was broken by an awning support, which had been wrenched from its fastening by the gale.

ENGINEER'S DECISION IS SUSTAINED BY JUDGE HOWAY

His Honor Judge Howay in the county court yesterday handed down his decision in the appeal of Joseph Parks against the award of W. N. Draper, an engineer, by whose ruling the appellant is required to construct and maintain a ditch through his property in Surrey municipality for the draining of the waters of Latimore creek. The judgment upholds the award of the engineer, and is as follows:

In the matter of an appeal by Joseph Parks against an award of W. N. Draper, engineer, dated January 23, 1908, made under the provisions of the "Ditches and water-courses act, 1907."

This is an appeal from the award made by W. N. Draper, an engineer duly appointed by the municipal council of Surrey municipality under the provisions of the above act. The appellant Joseph Parks is the owner of the southwest quarter of section 29, township 8, and the engineer has by his said award dated January 23, 1908, directed that the said appellant Joseph Parks shall widen 847 feet of the ditch in question otherwise called ditch No. 1 and maintain 1220 feet. Against this award this appeal has been taken. Subject to the second objection hereinafter mentioned no objection is made to the apportionment of the work between Mr. Parks and the other persons interested, but his contention is that the widening of the ditch in question is unnecessary and that the engineer instead of widening the existing ditch should have made a different plan and carried the water of Latimore creek to the Serpentine river by another route. The only other objection taken is that the municipality of Surrey should have been assessed for a portion of the work by reason of the fact that the ditch in question runs in part along the southern boundary of section 29 and that as there is a road allowance along that line the municipality should contribute.

It appears that prior to the construction of the New Westminster Southern railway, about nineteen years ago, Latimore creek flowed in a westerly direction across what is now a line of railway and found its way into a swale and thence by a more or less defined channel into the Serpentine river. On the construction of the railway the waters of Latimore creek were intersected by the ditch.

STRIKE BREAKERS WELL GUARDED IN CHESTER

Chester, Pa., April 16.—Fifty additional special policemen were sworn in today for strike duty as the result of the determination of the company to operate its street cars this afternoon.

Strikers and their sympathizers gathered near the car barn, which was guarded by 100 policemen. The surrounding streets were roped off and no unauthorized person was permitted within the lines.

NELSON POLICE CHIEF SUMMARILY DISMISSED

Nelson, April 16.—Peter O'Carroll, who was appointed chief of police last September, when the whole force resigned over their treatment by the then police commissioners, was yesterday dismissed from the force for conduct of a highly reprehensible nature, the board refusing to accept his resignation. C. W. Young has been appointed acting chief of police.

LIVING ORGANISMS CAN NOW BE METALIZED

Work Commenced by Wolfram Fuchs, Martyr to Science, Perfected by Brother

Chicago, April 16.—The Inter-Ocean today says: Wolfram C. Fuchs, an X-ray expert of Chicago, who died a martyr to science, discovered a marvelous secret by which he was able to work certain changes in living organisms that transform them into metal. For two years before his death he conducted a series of experiments which reached their climax in the metalization of a rose.

Reinhard D. Fuchs, his brother, took up the work where he left off and brought the secret process to practical perfection. Mr. Fuchs is planning to metalize a human body, which he proposes to put on exhibition in a downtown window. It will be that of a pauper. By the secret process of metalization it will be changed into a statue, which to all appearance will be of solid gold. The cost of this strange conversion of a human corpse into metal, according to the inventor's estimate, will be $500.

MODERN METHUSELAH TO SHATTER OLD AGE RECORD

Clinton, Mich., April 16.—Frank McNally, living here, will be 111 years old tomorrow, according to his own statement and the evidence of records in his possession. Mr. McNally was born in Ireland in 1797 and came to America when sixteen years old. During the early years of the last century he lived in New York city and almost 100 years ago he was engaged in driving a stage coach from the Harlem bridge to the New York city hall. He spent a number of years as a sailor and visited many foreign countries.

Despite the hardships of his early life and his many varied experiences Mr. McNally feels confident he will reach the age of at least 125 years. His habits have always been temperate and he has taken plenty of exercise. But he attributes his longevity for the most part to the years he led a seafaring life. He declares he has never known a day's illness. The only circumstance which caused him any pain, he says, was when he had a tooth pulled twenty-five years ago.

MOUNT TEMPLE IS SUCCESSFULLY FLOATED

Halifax, N. S., April 16.—The C. P. R. steamer Mount Temple, which was stranded at Iron Bound island on Dec. 2 last, was floated today and proceeded under her own steam to the eastward, probably anchoring in Moses harbor. For four months and a half the Mount Temple has been on the rocks and to get her off, the Halifax Salvage association have, during most of this time, been at work upon her with a force of thirty men, and have expended on the venture between $25,000 and $30,000. The steamer was valued at over $400,000 before she struck and it is probable that $50,000 in repairs will put her in quite as good condition as before the wreck.

Japan Makes Amends.

Peking, April 16.—With regard to the assault committed recently by a Japanese postman and other Japanese upon other native servants of the American consul general at Mukden, Willard D. Straight, Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister to China, has given assurances that if any Japanese official has offended full reparation for his discourtesy will be made.

J. Burr Morgan Leaves Chilliwack.

J. Burr Morgan, for some time editor and temporary proprietor of the Fraser Advance, has left for Edmonton, Alta., where he has been appointed to the position of district agent for the Great West Life Assurance company. The family will remain in Chilliwack until the holiday season, when they will join Mr. Morgan in the Alberta capital.

RAILS WILL BE SHIPPED ON CHARTERED VESSEL

Eight Thousand Tons Coming From England via Cape Horn for B.C.E.R. Line.

Eight thousand tons of rails, to be used in the construction of the Westminister-Chilliwack B. C. E. R. line, will reach this city direct from England early in October, coming up the Fraser river from Liverpool via Cape Horn in a boat chartered by the company specially for this purpose. The cargo will be discharged at the B. C. E. R. wharf, on which the new buildings will have been completed by that date.

The rails which will be used on the Chilliwack line will be heavier than those in use on the inter-urban line, weighing seventy pounds to the yard as against sixty pounds on the present run.

Work on a large scale on the clearing and grading of the route between this city and Cloverdale will be commenced in earnest this month, a large force of men being required for the job. An effort will be made by the company to have the track laid so that cars may run into Cloverdale by the first day of 1909.

EXPERT ENGINEERS WILL SUPERVISE CONSTRUCTION

Ottawa, April 16.—No confirmation is obtainable here of a report that the Quebec Bridge company has given notice of dismissal to the members of its staff, but it is understood that the building of this structure will not be left to the bridge company or indeed to the contractors, either, but will be entrusted to a commission of expert engineers, so that the most careful expert supervision may be applied to every feature of the vast undertaking.

It is stated that, with the right men in charge, the work of reletting contracts for the new structure could be done within a year. Announcement of the government's policy in regard to these matters will be made in the very early future.

In the meantime the report of the Quebec bridge commission is being printed and the commissioners are meeting with the highest praise for the manner in which their work was done.

CHEAP RATES ASSURED FOR THE CALGARY FAIR

Calgary, April 16.—The C. P. R. has announced its annual homeseekers' excursion for 1908, and has a special feature fixed for the dates so that people from the provinces of Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick will be able to leave those provinces on either June 9 and 11 or on June 23 and 24. The former tickets being good until the 25th of that month, thus enabling them to reach Calgary in time for the Dominion fair. Round trip tickets from any point in these three provinces as far west as Port Arthur to Calgary will cost $40.50.

SALES FORBIDDEN OF NEWLY-HATCHED CHICKENS

New York, April 16.—A campaign against the sale of newly-hatched chickens for Easter gifts is being waged by the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals here.

Threats have been made by the society's inspectors and one alleged offender was held yesterday in $100 bail for trial after an agent of the organization had lodged a complaint with the police, alleging purchase of two, motherless, fluffy-coated specimens, not many hours out of the shell.

HEBREWS OBSERVE FEAST OF THE PASSOVER TODAY

New York, April 17.—Jewish people throughout the world are today celebrating the Hebrew Feast of Pesach, or the Passover. This festival, which is also known as the feast of unleavened bread, was instituted to commemorate the departure of the children of Israel from Egypt, under the leadership of Moses, where they had been held in bondage for upward of 400 years.

The reformed Jews, as well as the Orthodox Jews, who adhere religiously to all the wonderful symbolism and ritual which make Jewish worship picturesque and beautiful, observe the passover feast, which means more to the Jew than any other of his religious celebrations. The reformed Jews do not adhere so closely to all the symbolism of the celebration, but their observances differ only in that they are not so elaborate.

The feature of the celebration is the substitution of unleavened cakes, or matzos, prepared for the purpose, for bread in the household of the orthodox Hebrews. Each year, as Passover approaches, thousands of pounds of matzos are baked for the occasion, and it is estimated that in the upper east side alone more than 10,000 matzos are required for the poor families. The annual sale from the bakeries throughout the city is so large that it requires large moving vans to take them to the various points of distribution. This is not surprising when the fact is borne in mind that New York city contains more Jewish inhabitants than any other half dozen cities of the world combined.

The night ushering in the Passover festival is known as "Seder" night, and is made the occasion of a family gathering devoted to a special service around the supper table, which is decked out in a peculiar manner with matzos and other accessories incidental to the feast. Gathered around the table, the "Hagadah" is read and recited.

"The Hagadah" contains a narrative of the deliverance of the Jews from their Egyptian bondage as set forth in the bible, and is read by the head of the household, either in the original Hebrew or as an English translation. The other members of the family join in the responses or in the singing of hymns of praise and thanksgiving to their Divine Liberator.

The Pesach feast continues for eight days, but only the first and last days are celebrated as holy days. In the large number of Hebrew synagogues in Greater New York, both reformed and orthodox, services will be held this morning and sermons appropriate to the occasion preached.

THREE MEN KILLED IN CANMORE MINE EXPLOSION

Calgary, April 16.—Three men were killed and four others seriously burned by an explosion at what is known as the Old Mine at Canmore yesterday. The dead are Gus Capelson and Matt Starr, Finlanders, and William Whitcomb, an Englishman, who was acting as fire boss. The latter leaves a wife and family of four little ones, who only arrived from England a few months ago. The injured are all Finlanders.

The cause of the explosion has not been determined yet and the mine has been closed pending an investigation.

UTAH TOWNS SHAKEN BY FIVE EARTHQUAKES

Salt Lake City, Utah, April 16.—Five distinct shocks of earthquake were felt early this morning at Millford, Utah, 200 miles south of here. Houses were shaken and people ran from their homes in alarm, but no serious damage is reported. The shocks were also felt at New House, Utah.

Branding the Logs.

The provincial government has now a gang of men travelling round the coast in small boats, branding all logs found in the water. A short time ago when the embargo against the export of logs was raised in order that the surplus on the market might be reduced, it provided that only logs that were in the water when the order became effective should be allowed to leave the country, and no logs on the land were to be allowed to leave. It is in order to provide against any fraud in connection with this that logs in the water are now being branded. Any logs exported without the brand will be regarded as contraband.

EVENTS SCHEDULED FOR THE HOLIDAY

Public Will Have Choice of Amusements—Special Mu- sic at Church Services.

Good Friday is here and will be observed in the city as throughout the province and country, as a public holiday. Last night the stores remained open until late to accommodate the crowds who left their Easter buying until late in the day, and Columbia street presented a busy scene, the shifting of the date of the market adding to the number who spent yesterday in the city.

By many of the citizens the day will be spent in fast as a fitting close to the Lenten season. Many others, however, will take the opportunity to enjoy the fresh air, and numerous parties have been formed to picnic at the beauty spots of nature that surround the city. Not a few will fill their creel with luncheon and rod in hand spend the day in pursuit of the wily trout in the streams. Sporting circles will find plenty to attract them during the day, dividing their attention between the gun club shoot at Moody square, the baseball game at Queen's park and the intermediate lacrosse match with the Fairview stewards at Recreation park, Vancouver. The latter will attract quite a large number of the citizens to assist the locals by their rooting. The gun shoot will commence at 9 o'clock in the morning and will continue for the greater part of the day, several valuable prizes being offered for the events on the program. The football match which it was hoped would have been arranged between the Rovers and the Westham Island team, has been called off, the island officials being unable to gather the team together. There is not likely to be any more soccer played this season.

Special services will be held both today and on Easter Sunday at all the churches in the city. At Holy Trinity cathedral today there will be Holy Communion at 8 a.m., Matins and Litany at 11, a three hours service from noon till 3 p.m., and evening and sermon at 7:30 p.m. On Easter Day the services at the cathedral will be: Celebration of Holy Communion at 7 a.m., choral celebration at 8 a.m., Matins celebration at 11 a.m., and evening and sermon at 7 p.m.

At St. Andrew's Presbyterian church there will be no services held today, but on Easter Sunday special musical services will be held morning and evening by the pastor, Rev. J. S. Henderson. The sermons will be on special subjects, in the morning "The Feeding of the Five Thousand" and in the evening "The Radiant Face."

Rev. C. W. Houghton will hold services at St. Barnabas Anglican church, this morning at 11 a.m. with prayer and sermon, evening service at 8 p.m. On Sunday Holy Communion will be celebrated at 8 a.m., morning prayer and sermon at 11 a.m., evening prayer at 7 p.m. Children's service will be held at 3 p.m.

At the West End Methodist church Rev. L. Thomas preaches today in the morning and the pastor, Rev. F. A. Magee in the evening. Special musical services will be rendered. In the morning a mixed quartette, consisting of Rev. Prof. Hardy, Mrs. Magee, Miss Lena Crane and Mr. Robbins will sing, while Mrs. Hardy will render a solo, "Calvary." In the evening a male quartette, consisting of Messrs. Hardy, Grant, Hobbins and Willisroff, will render a selection. A duet "Love Divine" will be sung by Mr. and Mrs. Hardy. The choir will render Dudley-Buck's anthem "Rock of Ages."

The Salvation Army has for some time been making arrangements for the observing of Easter. Today Captain and Mrs. Johnson will conduct a meeting, assisted by Lieut. Wright. Both are good singers and musicians. Following the indoor meeting an open air meeting will be held at 7:30. On Easter Sunday special services will be conducted in the hall on Begbie street all day. On Easter Monday at 7:30 Major and Mrs. Morris will be in command and a sale of work will be a feature of the evening. A band of children have been working hard since New Year's and have collected a large quantity of fancy work, the proceeds from which will go towards the new hall.

"This Is My 59th Birthday"

William R. Day.
Justice William R. Day, of the supreme court of the United States, was born in Ravenna, Ohio, April 17, 1849, the son of Judge Luther Day, of the supreme court of Ohio. Justice Day received his education at the University of Michigan, from which institution he was graduated in 1870. Two years later he was admitted to the bar and began the practice of law at Canton. His public career dates from 1886, when he was elected judge of the court of common pleas. President McKinley, who was his intimate personal friend, appointed him assistant secretary of state in 1897 and a year later he was made secretary of state. He resigned his place in the cabinet to accept the chairmanship of the commission which negotiated the treaty of peace with Spain at the close of the war in 1898. From 1899 to 1903 Justice Day occupied a seat on the United States circuit bench. In 1903 President Roosevelt appointed him a justice of the supreme court of the United States.

known as ditch No. 1, and carried along the southeast side of the railway to the south line of section 29 and thence west by a ten foot ditch to the Serpentine river.

Dealing with the objection that the municipality should contribute, this is based upon the alleged fact of a road allowance being along the south line of section 29. I do not know that there is proper evidence of a road allowance or a highway having been established along this line as no by-law or Gazette was produced to me on the hearing; but assuming this to be proved the highway has not been opened and under these circumstances even if the fee in the land by virtue of the establishment of the highway is vested in the crown, the possession which is all a municipality is entitled to under section 242 of the municipal act is still in the owner of the land. This seems clear from the case of Black vs. White, 18 U. C. R. 262, where Burns J. says at p. 372: "Although the soil and freehold might be in Her Majesty yet the possession of it in the meantime until opened might be in the plaintiff, and he would have a right to say that his property is not to be destroyed until the council desire to have the possession for the public." See to Robinson, C. J., page 366, in same case to the same effect. I hold therefore that the municipality not being even in possession of the highway has no intention and should not be assessed for any part of what is called ditch No. 1, that is, the ditch which in part extends along the South line of Section 29.

In reference to the other points that the engineer should have carried the waters of Latimer creek across the railway by a channel somewhat in the line of its original course to connect with ditch No. 2 it may be, as contended by Mr. Reid, that under Section 2 he would have had power to do so, but it is also plain that under Section 32 his power also applied to the existing ditch along the railway known as ditch No. 1 and to its widening and deepening. In view of the case re Roberts and Holland 5 P. R. at 353 and the statement in "Henderson's Ditches and Water-courses Act," pages 29 and 33 that question of fact and matters of detail are largely, if not altogether, for the engineer whose discretion will not be reviewed if exercised reasonably, I cannot see that the award of the engineer in directing the widening and clearing out ditch No. 1 was wrong. It is possible that he might have been entitled to turn the stream to connect with ditch No. 2, but as a practical man acquainted with these matters looking over the ground and finding a condition of affairs which had existed for nineteen years, he in exercise of his professional skill preferred to utilize ditch No. 1 and no satisfactory evidence has been brought to show to me that his selection and decision was wrong.

I would refer also on this point to the case of the township of Dover vs. the township of Chatham 2, Clarke and Boulby drainage cases 213.

In view of these authorities I dismiss the appeal with such costs as are allowed by the statute. See Henderson's "Ditches and water-courses act," page 33.

"I reckon mebbe I do," replied the old farmer.

DUNSMUIR PURCHASES ANOTHER BIG PARK

Victoria, April 16.—Hon. James Dunsmuir has purchased Belmont park, a great tract of beautiful park land adjoining Hatley park, where he is now erecting a palatial home. Belmont park consists of 235 acres, watered by a fine stream and stocked, like Hatley park, with deer, pheasant, grouse, etc. The two estates will give very heavy for the road has been a natural park and game preserve of built up with slabs and edgings, which necessitates the use of the axe rather than the spade.

BUSINESS PROVERBS.

Not the big earner, but the wise investor, is the future capitalist.
The wise man knows that wealth is not worth getting save for the purpose of using and so gets after it early.
Investment is putting money into chicken farming; speculation is counting the chickens before they are hatched.
The chap who does his work indifferently because he thinks he is above his job thereby proves his unfitness for the job that is above him.
The man who yields to honest persuasion slowly and imperceptibly, as rock to water, may make a loyal investor when won. But he who is quick to lay hold of a good investment makes the most money.
Multitudes of people sleep soundly nights, believing their savings to be protected in the bank, not dreaming that the banks have invested them in business enterprises that the depositors themselves declined to buy shares in because they thought their earnings were too large to be safe.—Cent Per Cent.

Willing to Chance It.

It is reported the Earl of Mansfield that he once dismissed a servant, but wrote for him a "character," as follows: "The bearer, John —, has served me for three years in the capacity of coachman. He is an able driver and a very sober man. I discharged him because he cheated me. A day or two later the man returned to thank his old master for the help he had afforded him in getting him a new birth. How had the testimonial helped him? The man explained that his new master had observed that ability to drive and sobriety were the qualities he required in a coachman. As for the cheating, his employer had said, "I'm a Yorkshireman, and I'll be hanged if you cheat me."

The English of It.

An English actor of some prominence was dining with some friends in this country. One of them asked him if he had found any American plays that he thought he could use in England. "Oh, yes," he replied, "I have seen one or two that I fancy will be on the other side. In fact, I have entered into negotiations for several. One that appeals to me strongly is a play called 'Ten Evenings in a Public House,' where I shall play John Morgan, and another is named 'Uncle Thomas' Residence,' which has a fine part for me in Marks, the barrister."—Kansas City

A TREE OF ILL REPUTE.

The Fresh Juice of the Upas Acts as a Deadly Poison.
An evil reputation has long been borne by the upas tree, Antiaris toxicaria, which grows in Borneo and other East Indian islands. It is still a common belief that birds flying within the influence of its poisonous vapors instantly perish and that it is fatal for animals or men to rest beneath its shade. It resembles certain rhus plants (like the poison ivy) in emitting a volatile substance which affects the skins of certain susceptible persons, though others are unaffected. The sap is very poisonous and is the chief substance used by the Dyaks of Borneo for poisoning the tips of their darts.

In this process an incision is made in the bark of the tree and the milky exudation collected on a palm leaf and dried first in the sun and then over a fire until a thick brown mass is left. In this state it can be kept without deteriorating, and when required for use it is made into a thin paste with the juice of "tuba" root, which is used to stupefy fish, or with tobacco or lemon juice, and the ends of the darts dipped into the mixture and dried. These darts are made from the middle stem of the palm leaf and are about six or eight inches in length and of about the thickness of a knitting needle.

They are used with a wooden sumpitan, or blowpipe, which is about seven or eight feet in length and has an internal diameter of about one-quarter inch. A bird struck by one of these little darts is instantly killed, and a pig dies in about twenty minutes. The fresh juice of the upas tree, whether swallowed or injected into the blood, acts as a violent poison, causing convulsions and death.—Chicago News.

GOOD FRIDAY.

All Christendom today marks, rather than celebrates, the anniversary of the passion and death of Jesus of Nazareth. In the early church it was known as the "Festival of the Crucifixion," the "Day of Salvation," etc., and fixtures were marked from it rather than from His birth. The early church kept it as a rigorous fast and as the climax, so to speak, of the period of mourning, for, although the Crucifixion was the last atoning act of Christ's life, yet it brought to Him anguish, and removed their cherished hope from the disciples for a time. The public services were conducted in ancient times as they are in some churches today, with deep solemnity and the outward signs of sorrow. Constantine the Great forbade the holding of judicial trials, markets, etc., on the day. In Spain they went so far as to close the churches, a procedure which the Council of Toledo, A.D. 529, condemned.

The Greek and Latin churches celebrate the day, even now, with a strict observance, the bells in the towers are muffled, the light on the altars goes out, the altars themselves are covered in colors of mourning, the usual mass or communion is omitted entirely, while in some cases the priest alone partakes of the elements. The Lord's Supper, retaining its service, or mass, dates from the apostolic times in the Upper room at Jerusalem where Christ and His disciples partook of the Passover. Today Christendom is divided as to its observance, some take on the seriousness of the season of mourning, others observe it with a light and glad feeling, while others, observe it as a day of recreation or sport. Some will do penance in church, others will suffer penance with a lawn mower or spade, but no matter how we pass the day, we should carry its lesson "sacrifice for others" with us, it will help to soften the hard places in life and breed in us a sympathy that we are thankful in some measure will exist in the world, and will help us to cheer those who are bereaved in our midst, to look forward to the glad and final Easter Morn.

COST OF G. T. P. IS $38.00 PER MILE

Victoria, April 15.—According to a statement made in the House yesterday by Hon. F. A. Cook, the estimated cost of the Grand Trunk Pacific from Montreal, N. B., to the Rockies, is now eighty-five million dollars, or up as follows:

Montreal division, under contract, $14,855,250; 100,000,000, 100,000,000; 100,000,000, 100,000,000; 100,000,000, 100,000,000.

The estimated cost of the western division under contract is a little over $20,000,000.

First of Japanese Stock
Victoria, April 15.—The morning session of the stock market was quiet, with a few transactions in Japanese stock. The market was generally steady, with a few fluctuations. The closing prices were as follows:

Japanese Stock, 100,000,000; 100,000,000, 100,000,000; 100,000,000, 100,000,000.

THE RAILWAY PENSION SCHEME IS A SUCCESS

Montreal, April 15.—The new pension system put in force on January 1 by the Grand Trunk railway has had three months' trial, and the officials are convinced already that the move was a wise one, and that the money will be well spent. They believe the company will save in damages from accidents alone enough to cover the cost of providing for this fund, but they say it is no objection upon the older employees of the company who have been replaced by younger men to say that the latter are capable of rendering better service to the company in many cases than could be expected from men who are well on in years.

GRAND TRUNK PLANS FOUR BRANCHES TO STATES

Winnipeg, April 16.—The Grand Trunk Pacific railroad announces that four branch lines are to be built to the United States boundary, from Winnipeg to a point twenty-five miles west of the Red river, from Brandon to the Turtle mountains, from Regina to North Portal and from Calgary to Coult, Alberta.

Army Ban on Cigarettes.

London, April 16.—With the object of discouraging cigarette smoking, General Lord Grenfell, commander-in-chief of the forces in Ireland, has issued an order to permit pipes only to be smoked on such occasions as when the men are resting after field operations and manoeuvres. His order contains the following remarkable comment:

"The commander of the forces has, during recent visits to military hospitals, been again struck with the harm that the increasing prevalence of cigarette smoking is doing to the health of the army. It is not confined to the army, and parliament is likely soon to deal with it as affecting the national health."

Nelson Spring Cleaning.

Nelson, April 15.—Nelson's first Arbor and cleaning-up day was well celebrated yesterday. A civic half-holiday was proclaimed, practically all the stores closed and everybody turned out for tree-planting and cleaning up of grounds, lanes, etc. Innumerable columns of grey smoke ascending from different parts of the city testifying to the destruction of garbage and the thorough cleaning up of the city.

WEARABILITY An Important Feature

When you pay good money for clothes, "Wearability" should play an important part in your selection as well as style and fit. "Wearability" depends on fabric and workmanship. These are the essential points which we guarantee you when getting your clothes made by us. Then, too, we give you a suit of clothes for one-half of what the ordinary custom tailor can do. The fabrics are without equal for intrinsic worth or variety, and the workmanship put into our tailoring is the best to be had at any price. Let us prove it to your profit. Agents wanted.

The first sockeye of the season found its way into one of the many nets spread in the river yesterday and later made its appearance at Monk's fish shop. The fishermen say that the first run of the sockeyes will soon be in the river. Spring salmon are still running well and heavy catches are the order of the day, six, seven and eight hundred pounds to the boat. Oolichans are as numerous as ever, running in patches, some nets being overloaded and others obtaining only slight catches on the drift.

Tomorrow the children of the May Queen's society will make an effort to add a substantial sum to the fund for the furnishing of a children's ward in the hospital. During the afternoon the girls will hold a bazaar in the K. of P. hall, and from 5 to 8 o'clock they will serve dinner to all who have the requisite two-bits to contribute to the fund. The amount required is nearly three hundred dollars and but a few days remain before May Day, so that the children urgently request that they be assisted by the citizens in every way possible, and point out that this can be pleasantly done without loss in any way by patronizing the supper tomorrow evening.

FELINE FISHERS.

All Cats Apparently Are Not Afraid of the Water.

Judging from my experience, cats, when living near water, are generally fond of fishing. I have personally known three feline fishers. One was a mere acquaintance and used to fish in a trout stream. The other two lived with us and during the summer months used to fish in the lake nearly every evening. They would crouch on the shore and suddenly jump into an advancing wavelet, very frequently bringing out a small fish. When they had kittens, I have sometimes seen them bring up to the house three fish in the space of an hour.

I know of a cat, whose home was in Westmorland, close to a stream, that was a regular and accomplished fisher. She was a half Persian. Her daughter belongs to friends of mine, and I have myself seen this latter watching the goldfish in the children's aquarium, which at that time was open at the top and on a broad window seat. Puss put in one paw and stirred the water violently, then sat down to watch with apparent satisfaction the terror of the fish, which she could not on that occasion reach. Once the family found she had caught one and killed a second, so the aquarium was afterward always covered by wire or net. One of this cat's kittens belonged to me and was for her short life of under a year very dependent on human companionship. She came up to my bedroom frequently the first thing in the morning and always took great interest in the wash-hand basin, from which she would fish out the sponge or soap, and liked to have her paw in the water. She had to be kept out of the bathroom, as more than once she deliberately jumped into the bath when it had in it a depth of two or three inches of water. If this daughter and granddaughter of the original fisher had lived near water, I think the fishing instinct would have developed, as the three generations all showed a fondness for this element, which cats, as a rule, are supposed to avoid.—London Spectator.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Carelessness is the great sin of most people.

If a man doesn't acquire a little sense with age he cheats himself.

If a man owns a pocketknife it is hard for him to pass a grindstone.

Say what you please about moral courage, the man who has a lot of it is mighty unpopular.

Make the stories you tell on a rainy day as short as possible, especially if you tell them under an umbrella.

There is very little use trying to convince a man who needs your statement with this argument: "I'll bet you," etc.

No matter how highly you may value your own opinion, remember it does not go with other people unless they think exactly as you do, which, by the way, they seldom do.—Atkinson Globe.

A SISTER'S COURAGE.

Presence of Mind of an Eighteenth-Century Irish Woman.

In looking over some family papers and bundles of old letters I discovered by Mrs. Jeffereys of Blarney castle, County Cork, an account of a circumstance interesting in itself as an instance of heroism on the part of the narrator toward her brother, the Earl of Clare, and so valuable as bringing to light a remarkable event connected with the history of those troubled times that I feel I am only discharging a duty in submitting it to the notice of the editor.

The letter is dated 9 Molesworth street, July, 1807, and, among other matters, Mrs. Jeffereys writes as follows:

"On the day Lord Fitzwilliam was recalled, when my brother (as chancellor) was returning from the castle after having assisted at the swearing in of the newly arrived lord lieutenant, a ferocious mob of no less than 5,000 men and several hundred women assembled together in College green and all along the avenue leading to my brother's house. The male part of the insurgents were armed with pistols, cutlasses, sledges, saws, crowbars and every other weapon necessary to break open my brother's house, and the women were all of them armed with their aprons full of paving stones. This ferocious and furious mob began to throw showers of stones into my brother's coach, at his coachman's head and his horses. They wounded my brother in the temple in College green, and if he had not sheltered himself by holding his great square official purse before him he would have been stoned to death before he arrived (through the back yard) at his own house, where with several smithy sledges they were working hard to break into his hall door, while others of them had ropes ready to fix up to his lamp iron to hang him the moment they could find him. When I arrived, disguised in my kitchen maid's dress, my blue apron full of stones, I mingled with this numerous mob and addressed a pale, sickly man, saying: 'My dear Jay, what'll become of huz! I am after running from the castle to tell yeas all that a regiment of huz is galloping down here to thrumple huz, etc. Oh, yea, yea, where will we go?' Then they cried: 'Hurry, hurry, the huz is coming to charge and thrumple huz! Hurry for the custom house.' And in less than a moment the crowd dispersed.

"I then procured a surgeon for my brother and a guard to prevent another attack, and thus I saved Lord Clare's life at the risk of being torn limb from limb if I had been recognized by any of the mob."—London Notes and Queries.

STEAMBOAT DRAMA.

Floating Palaces That Furnish Entertainment For River Towns.

Anybody who lives in a town on the banks of the Mississippi river and hears a callope play at 5 o'clock in the morning knows that it is not a circus that is coming to town. It is the floating palace, which is the name given to a unique form of theatrical transportation entertainment that is used only on the river and its tributaries, the Ohio and the Missouri.

There are at the present time more than a dozen floating palaces. Each of them carries a well equipped stage, a company of from sixteen to thirty-five actors and actresses, and has seating capacity for from 200 to 700 persons. Each of the boats has a steam piano with which the people from the countryside are called to the landings, where the shows are given on the boats, and most of the boats carry pretty fair bands.

Nowhere else in this country or abroad is the drama carried up and down rivers on steamboats. Barring the railroad, the favorite means of transportation in England and in continental Europe is the wagon. There are many wagon shows in this country, but they would find it difficult to reach all the towns that are easily reached by the floating palaces. Many of the towns that get all their dramatic sustenance from these floating playhouses have no railroad connections whatever. If it were not for the shows that float down or up to them by boat they would have to go without theatrical fare.

Mark Twain, who knows the big river about as well as anybody, used to be well acquainted with the old time managers of a few of the floating palaces. He introduces one of them into "Huckleberry Finn." But times change, and men change with them, and the floating palace of today is much more elaborate and much finer than were the floating palaces of the older time.

They play to thousands of persons each season, and they give pretty good shows. Their managers, who live in Cincinnati and St. Louis, make good profits on the investment.—Chicago Tribune.

FRENCH RED TAPE.

A Professor, His Lobsters and Some Casks of Sea Water.

Last year a professor in one of the Paris universities resolved to study the habits of lobsters in his laboratory. As they live in salt water, the first care of the professor was, of course, to procure a supply of this medium. The common mortal will probably consider it a most simple task—to provide a few barrels of sea water. This, however, is not so in France. Sea water contains salt, and the production of salt is a source of revenue. This made it necessary for the professor to first obtain the permission of the minister of finance before he could travel and transport the water. When his application reached the ministry, a subordinate official was directed to inquire into the standing of the petitioner. This involved considerable correspondence, which passed through numerous channels and finally reached the chief of the department, who now initiated another investigation in order to ascertain why a Parisian professor should be so anxious to lower the level of the Atlantic ocean. After several weeks the inspector made favorable report. Some days later the petitioner was notified of the favorable consideration of his request in the usual elaborate official language, accompanied by circulars giving extracts from the penal code relative to infringements of the salt monopoly.

Finally, after months of waiting, the professor was enabled to have some casks filled with salt water at a designated point on the seashore, of course under the supervision of another official, who duly issued a permit for the transportation of the liquid into the interior.

The Way to Warham.

Some young women in England have begun to dress out and out like men. They wear a long coat cut like a hunting coat, a cap, riding breeches and top boots. It is a handsome costume, and it is not immodest, but undoubtedly it attracts a good deal of attention. They have been telling in London a story about a girl who adopted this riding rig. Pulling up her horse one afternoon, she said to an artisan who was passing, "Can you tell me if this is the way to Warham?" The man looked her over carefully, then he touched his cap in a respectful manner and replied, "Yes, miss, yes—you seem to 'ave got 'em on all right."

How Bismarck Kept Up Steam.

In the evening I went to Bismarck's house. I was placed upon the sofa in front of a table covered with teacups and bottles of beer and also with her rings and oysters. His new highness (Bismarck) speedily arrived and sat down by me. He began by consuming innumerable oysters, herrings and ham and drank beer with soda water.—Hohenlohe Memoirs.

His Great Failing.

"He's a good friend of yours, isn't he?"
"Oh, only medium."
"What do you mean by medium?"
"Oh, he listens while I tell him all of my troubles, but he also wants me to listen while he tells me all of his."
—London Telegraph.

A Good Deal Worse.

"I had to walk the floor all night with the baby. Can you think of anything worse than that?"
"Yes, you might have married one in Greenland, where the nights are six months long."

MARKET REPORT

The market held yesterday morning, today being Good Friday, differed considerably from the usual routine of the weekly market in that the demand of the marketers was not so much for meat and other produce as for flowers. Everybody wanted flowers and few persons left the building without at least a bunch of carnations and many purchased large quantities of blooms and flowering plants for Easter decorations. The floral stalls were a picture to be remembered by the visitors who were there in numbers. Easter lilies, of course were the favorites and early in the day had all been snatched up by eager buyers. Carnations and hyacinths found many admirers and the heavily blossomed hydrangeas and the feathery spruce found ready sale. By noon the benches that had been piled to overflowing were bare boards save for the plants that had been left for delivery. Messrs. Tidy and Davis certainly did the business of the year in this line.

Another line that felt the stimulating effect of Eastertide was the fish business and not only at the market, but at the city stores the demand was noticed and to such an extent that the stalls were completely cleared. Salmon was plentiful, fresh supplies from the boats of the fishermen continually coming in made it possible for the dealers to cover the demand. Oolichans, though plentiful, were not in sufficient number to meet the rush that ensued for these esteemed little fish. Herring, cod and halibut were all eagerly demanded.

In other lines there was no change in price or quantity, except that owing largely to the amount offered, the price of pork fell to 8 1/2c, and the demand fell off considerably. Much excellent veal was offered and was much sought after, the price ranging from 8c for large carcasses to as high as 12c for prime. Supplies in other lines were rather short of the usual quantity, but were sufficient for the demand which was rather slack in comparison with other weeks. The prices for the week were:

Beef, hind quarters 8 to 9c, fore-quarters, 6 1/2c to 7c; mutton 12c to 14c; veal, medium 11, large 8c to 9c;
