CRITICAL STAGE HAS BEEN REACHED IN RUSSIAN AFFAIRS

Conflict Between Government and Parliament Grows More Acute and Threatens to Stimulate Revolution—Money Market Shows Signs of Panic.

St. Petersburg, July 20.—A high placed personage in conversation with the correspondent of the Associated Press today made no attempt to conceal the gravity of the situation. He said:

"Everything may depend upon today's sitting of the lower house of parliament. If no step is taken to avoid a conflict with the government the sequel may be tragic."

Opinion of Leaders.

At the Tauride Palace today a pessimistic feeling was prevalent, but the leaders generally did not believe that the government would dare to attempt a dissolution of parliament. At the opening of the session of the lower house the question of the publication of parliament's address to the country was allowed to go over until Monday.

Resolution Accusing Government.

The house then adopted a resolution on the subject of the Bilaystok massacre, demanding the prosecution of the military and police officials involved, irrespective of rank. The resolution, which constitutes a strongly worded indictment of the general government, which is held responsible for the secret propoganda inciting class against class, says:

"Realizing its powerlessness to suppress the revolutionary movement, the government attempts to surpress it by inciting one portion of the population against the other especially selecting the Jews as victims."

The resolution concludes with another expression of distrust of the ministry and a demand for its resignation.

Council of Reactionaries.

The Bourse Gazette says that an extraordinary council is sitting this afternoon at Peterhoff with Gen. Count Ignatieff, the noted reactionary; M. Pobiedonostseff, former procurator-general of the holy synod; Gen. Trepoff, commandant of the palace; M. Stichnisky, minister of war, and others in attendance discussing the advisability of the immediate dissolution of parliament.

Affects Money Market.

The Bourse was on the verge of a panic today. In spite of some efforts to support the market Imperial fours fell half a point, to 72½, the lowest point touched since the October rising. Imperial fours closed at 84½.

St. Petersburg, July 20.—No further action regarding the proposed address to the people was taken by the lower house of parliament today.

The constitutional democrat members appeared to be anxious to drop the subject if the government is so minded, and there is a disposition to shelve the address by indefinite postponement as to the manner of its publication. Peterhof circles are reported to be jubilant over the discomforture of the constitutional democrats.

Trade Reports Are Optimistic.

New York, July 20.—Bradstreets tomorrow will say : Fall trade in Canada has not opened actively as yet but the crop outlook is good and collections generally are rather better than expected. Grain crops promise the largest yield in the country's history, and the exportable surplus of wheat and oats will be very large. A total wheat crop of 95,000,000 to 100,000,000 bushels is estimated. At Montreal the outlook is good. Farmers in Quebec are busy and the country trade is seasonably light. Cheese is in active export demand, butter is easier. Wool prices are easier. At Toronto fall trade is encouraging. The strawberry pick is light, but excepting prunes, other fruits promise a large yield. Building material and farm machinery are active. New Ontario wheat flour is already on the market. At Winnipeg trade is active on fall account, while retail business is quiet. The outlook is optimistic. Trade is good in British Columbia, industries are active and the salmon pack is beginning. Failures for the week number 18 as against 19 last week and 22 in this week a year ago. The following are the weekly bank clearing statements : Montreal $28,-527,958, increase 10.2 ; Toronto 21,643,790, increase 3.4 ; Winnipeg 9,480,103, increase 24.1 : Ottawa, 2-217,530, increase 35.8 ; Halifax 1,836,650, increase 6.3 ; Vancouver 2,078,422, increase 61.3 ; Quebec 1,921,966, increase 2.7 ; Hamilton 1,657,111, increase 34.5 ; St. John, N.B. 1,324,021, increase 7.9 ; London 1,204,846, increase 30.1; Victoria 901,840, increase 12.7 ; Calgary 930,511 ; Edmonton 1,030,-274.

BEIT MILLIONS TO BE WIDELY DISTRIBUTED

Will of South African Millionaire Includes Bequests to Many Institutions in Different Countries—Personal Legacies Not Yet Announced.

London, July 20.—Owing to premature statements regarding the will of the late Alfred Beit, the South African financier, the executors of Mr. Beit's estate tonight gave out the exact terms of the public bequests without, however, disclosing the amount of the fortune left, which is believed will take a considerable time to estimate, owing to the fluctuations in the price of shares owned by Mr. Beit.

The sums enumerated make the vast total of $9,675,000 not including the value of the estate bequeathed to his native city of Hamburg or the art treasures bestowed on the National Galleries and the museums of Berlin and Hamburg. It is believed that the aggregate will be not far short of $12,-500,000.

One provision of the will is that the trustees get control of $6,000,000 to be used in the development and construction of means of communication and transmission by railway telegraphs and wireless telegraps in Rhodesia and upon the cape to Cairo railway, which with other bequests for South Africa, demonstrate that Mr. Beit's interest in the welfare of the country in which his fortune was made, was equal to that of his old associate Cecil Rhodes.

The property known as Borstlers Jager, near Hamburg, is left to the city of Hamburg to be held for the people.

The picture by Sir Joshua Reynolds of Lady Cockburn and Her Children, is left to the British National Gallery, and his picture Mistress Boone and Her Daughter and other art treasures are left to Berlin and Hamburg and so the college of Technology, connected with the London university and the sum of $250,000 and one thousand $12.50 shares in the Debeers company are also bequeathed to them.

The sum of $1,000,000 is left to the University of Johannesburg, $1,000,-000 is bequeathed for educational and charitable purposes in Rhodesia and other territories within the field of the British South African company; $150,000 to the research fund of the London University; $125,000 to the Rhodes University of Grahamstown, Cape Colony; $50,000 to the Rhodes Memorial fund at Capetown; $50,000 to the Union Jack Club of London; $100,000 to the deceased's firm in South Africa for educational or charitable purposes in the Transvaal; $75,-000 for the same purposes to Kimberley; $125,000 to Dr. Jameson, now premier of Cape Colony, and Sir Lewis Mitch, chairman of the De Beers company and trustee of the Rhodes' Sunday school, for the same purpose in Cape Colony. $100,000 is left to the King's Hospital (London) fund and $100,000 to Guy's Hospital, London, and $200,000 is to be distributed equally in London and Hamburg by Mr. Beit's executors for educational or charitable purposes.

HOPPER-DUNSMUIR SUIT IS ENCED AT LAST

Privy Council Practically Throws Out Appeal of Miss Edna Wallace Hopper.

London, July 20.—At the judicial committee of the privy council today, the Dunsmuir case was unexpectedly concluded without the respondent being called upon. Judgment was reserved, but legal authorities regard the dismissal of the appeal as certain.

The trial in the first instance was before Mr. Justice Drake, and an appeal to the full court went in favor of the defendant, Lieut-Governor Jas. Dunsmuir. The grounds of appeal to the privy council were that the domicile of Alex. Dunsmuir at the time of the will was in California and the will was not made in conformity with the laws of California; that the intention to declare the document he was signing was a will, according to the laws of California, was not shown; that Alex. Dunsmuir was mentally incompetent to execute a will and further that undue influence was used over him.

While not leaving the widow a dollar by the will, Alexander imposed on James a trust that he should pay her $1000 a month. Within three months, on January 31, 1900, Alexander died in New York city admittedly from excessive drinking.

Six months later, in June, 1900, James doubled the monthly allowance to the widow, making it $25,000 a year. By her will she left all to her daughter, the actress. This included an estate at San Leandro, Cal., for which Alexander paid $300,000. He had bought it in his wife's name two months before their marriage. There was never any dispute over this property. The contest is over the balance of the estate in San Francisco, where Alexander went in 1887 as the agent of his father's shipping railway and coal mining interests, and over the whole of Alexander's share in the British Columbia estate.

ELKS' GRAND LODGE ADJOURNS.

Provision Made for Maintenance of a National Home.

Denver, Colo., July 20.—The grand lodge, B. P. O. Elks, adjourned this evening. The day was devoted to work on laws and other maters of interest to the fraternity. Tuesday, July 15, was selected for the grand lodge meeting in 1907. The grand lodge today authorized an expenditure to enjoin negro lodges from using the Elk emblem.

Among the important matters taken up today was the changing of the sources of maintenance of the national home. The grand lodge decided to levy a per capita tax on all ledges in the country for the support of the home.

Philippines Are Pacified Till the Next Outbreak

Washington, Friday, July 20.—The bureau of insular affairs has received the following telegram from the governor-general of the Philippines:

"Macario Sakay and Francisco Carreon, self-styled president and vice-president of Filipino republic; Leon Villiafuerte, lieutenant-general, being ladrones heretofore infesting Rizal and La Gauna; Gen. Julian Montalon Lucia Devga and Benito Natividad and their important subordinates have surrendered and are in custody at Manila. Absolutely no promises authorized or made except fair trial.

"Greatest credit due Harry H. Bandholtz for his prudence and skill in conducting this very difficult matter. He utilized Dominator Gomez but no promises as to his litigation have been authorized or made.

"In Cebu, Gov. Osmena by the greatest effort and self-sacrifice, has secured the surrender of all remaining outlaw leaders and all guns.

"Expect complete peace now throughout Luzon except as to Filipe Salvador and his fanatical followers. Prospects of getting him encouraging."

FATAL ACCIDENT AT THE LE ROI MINE

Father of Nine Children Killed at Rossland.

Rossland, B. C., July 20.—Robert Inches, carpenter at the Leroi, was instantly killed this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. At the hour mentioned he was engaged in taking down the flag pole from the top of the shaft house. The flag pole had been loosened from its base and was being lowered by a gang of men lower down in the shaft house, while Inches stood on top and guided it. The rope which he had fastened to the pole slipped and the pole swung around the top portion striking him and sweeping him off the building. He fell to the ground, 90 feet below; in falling he turned twice in the air and struck on his forehead and face smashing the skull like an egg shell, so that the forehead and face were crushed beyond all recognition. He leaves a wife and nine children. Deceased was a native of Edinburgh, Scotland, and had resided in the camp for ten years.

Warned to Leave Mexico.

Laredo, Texas, July 20.—Circulars have been posted in Monterey, Saltillo, San Luis Potosi, and other large towns throughout the Republic of Mexico warning all foreigners to leave the country before September 16.

MANY NEWSPAPERS.

Growth of West Raises Crop of Journals.

Winnipeg, July 20.—The past nine weeks has witnessed the first editions of nineteen new papers in western provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. No more significant indication of the growth and flourishing condition of small western towns could be given than this inasmuch as local newspapers afford a distinctive standing to their respective communities. Of the nineteen mentioned it is to be noted that thirteen are in the province of Saskatchewan, three in Alberta and three in Manitoba.

Most of these are published only once a week with the exception of the Saskatoon Capital which is now a tri-weekly publication. Two prospering dailies have also been established in the same towns within the last two months, the Port Arthur News and Fort William Herald.

ATTACK ON JEROME FALLS TO PIECES

New York's Famous District Attorney Wins Out Again.

Albany, New York, July 20.—Governor Higins has returned to Wm. N. Amory, the charges he and others filed with the governor several weeks ago against District Attorney Wm. Travers Jerome, of New York county, in which the latter was charged with general misfeasance in office, and his removal demanded.

In making the announcement tonight, Governor Higgins said:

"It is our custom in this office to require that charges against public officials, which we receive frequently shall be of such a definite character, that the official in question in each case, may have something specific to answer, and so that, failing a reply from him, I may have definite grounds on which to act.

"The charges against Mr. Jerome were not specific, and were on information and belief. I have informed Mr. Amory and his associates in the matter that they must give me evidence, duly attested under oath. They have not yet done so."

Tokio, July 20.—The Japanese government has decieded to purchase six railways by December 1, paying for them $125,000,000, in 5 per cent bonds in five years.

HIBERNIANS IN SESSION.

Libel of Irish Race by Caricature is Condemned.

Saratoga, New York, July 20.—It is not improbable that the national convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians may hold a continuous all night session to elect officers and dispose of remaining business.

The national president today was empowered to prepare a plan of insurance for submission to the next convention.

The report of the ladies' auxiliary contained a complete plan for conduct by national officers.

The report of the ritual committee endorsed the resoltions of the advisory board that a new ritual be provided.

The report of the committee on Irish history recommended that the support of the Hibernians be withdrawn from those who publish caricatures that villify the Irish race.

AMERICAN SCRIBES VISIT THE WHEAT COUNTRY

Washington Correspondents Get Their Eyes Opened in Saskatchewan.

Prince Albert, Sask., July 20.—The Washington correspondents accompanied by Vanderhoos, of Western Canada imigration association, arrived at Prince Albert late last night. The visitors were met at the station by Mayor Bradshaw, board of trade secretary Wilson, Hon. T. H. McGuire, and other representative citizens, but it was too late for them to leave their car. This morning a river trip was arranged by the board of trade and some 50 residents including a number of ladies accompanied the newspaper men on a delightful outing to the mouth of the Shell river, a few miles up stream. Several of the visitors had their cameras with them and took away with them a large number of pictures of the magnificent scenery of the Saskatchewan and its island parks. Samples of wheat, fruits and vegetables produced in the district were on view on the boat, and their maturity and size were an astonishment to the visitors.

South American States Are Now at Peace

San Jose, Guatemala, July 20.—A treaty of peace between Guatemala, Salvador and Honduras was signed today on board the United States cruiser Marblehead, on the high seas.

Washington, D. C., July 20.—The American state department tonight was advised of the signing of the treaty of peace by the representatives of the belligerent republics aboard the Marblehead, in a cablegram received from Mr. Merry the American minister to Salvador, Costa Rica and Nicaragua. In his message Mr. Merry referred to a joint message sent by himself and Mr. Combs, the American minister to Guatemala and Honduras, which message had not reached the state department tonight.

San Jose, July 20.—The peace commissioners of Guatemala will be landed at Acajutla early tomorrow.

The member of the American legations will land at the respective points where they are accredited.

There was a strenuous discussion and some difficulty in reaching mutually acceptable conditions. The Mexican minister, Senor Gamboa, was active in assisting in bringing about an agreement.

The peace commissioners adopted resolutions thanking the presidents of the United States and Mexico for their intervention.

DONT' FORGET THE SALE STARTS FRIDAY MORNING AT 8:30

Westminster Clothing Comp'y

Dave Grossman, Prop. Next Royal Bank of Canada, Columbia St., New Westminster

FRIDAY'S MARKET REPORT

The farmers are being kept very busy getting in their hay at the present time, and are unable to come into the city as often as they would like. On this account, the weekly market at Lytton Square was not very well attended yesterday, the majority of sellers being women. Of course the ladies are good buyers and sellers, but when the farmers are absent, a great difference in the day's receipts is always noticeable. The market was over at an early hour, and by noon quietness reigned once more in the building.

All meats were fairly well represented, and there was a good business done, considering the attendance. Beef was in good demand, with a limited supply, while lamb and mutton were not so plentiful, although there was a fair demand. Only a small supply of pork was brought in, and it was very slow in selling. People do not want pork at this time of the year, and will not be buying it for some time to come. There was a very fair demand for veal, while the supply was rather light, and sold quickly.

Among the feathered stock, the demand was confined to fowl, and even then, only large sized hens were being looked for. A good supply of broilers, with only a limited demand for the same, caused the vendors some anxiety, before they were all sold, the demand being exclusively for well-grown birds. The demand for ducks was also very weak, while the supply was fair.

Eggs were as usual in good demand, and the supply was soon bought up, the wholesale price being 28 cents a dozen. Fruit was eagerly sought after, and there was no difficulty in disposing of the luscious berries offered. There was also a fair supply of apples offered, all being quickly sold at quotations. Raspberries, blackberries, red and black curants were also offered in small lots, and there was no difficulty in securing the quoted price for all the supply on the market.

Yesterday's Market Prices.

Beef, hind quarter, per lb, 7½c to 8½c. Beef, fore quarter, per lb, 4c to 5c. Lamb, per lb, 11c to 12c. Mutton, per lb, 10c. Veal, per lb, 9 to 9½c. Pork, per lb, 9c. Potatoes, per ton, $18 to $20. Hay, per ton, $10. Eggs, per dozen, 30c. Butter, per lb, 25c. Fowl, per dozen $6.50 to $7.50. Broilers, per dozen, $3.90 to $4.50. Ducks, per dozen, $5 to $6.50. Gooseberries, per lb, 6c. Raspberries, per crate, $1.75 to $2. Red currants, per lb, 5c. Black currants, per lb, 10c. Cherries, per lb, 6c to 8c. Apples, per crate, $1 to $1.50. Blackberries, per crate, $1.25 to $1.50.

T. J. Trapp's auction sale was lighter than usual on account of the scarcity of farmers, only a few sales being recorded. Fair prices were received for stock sold, which includes the following: Rig, $50; cart, $18; mare, $37; buckboard and harness, $7; mare, $33.50; pony and harness, $20. A few other sales were also put thruogh, but on the whole business was slack.

Inspection of Canneries.

The prejudice against canned meats which has been created by the revelation of the horible state of affairs in the Chicago packing houses, and by more recent asertions that English houses are just as bad (a statement by the way, which we believe to be altogether too sweeping) is operating to prevent the use of British Columbia canned salmon in the Old Country. Those of us who know the canneries, know that there is no foundation for this; but the prejudice is there, and Hon. Mr. Brodeur, minister of Marine and Fisheries, is taking prompt steps to correct it. To this end he has wired to the British Columbia fisheries commission asking that an inspection be made of the canneries and an interim report sent in, which will form the basis of a cable to the proper authorities in the old country. Professor Prince and Mr. Taylor are absent at present, conducting an examination of northern coast fisheries, and it is intended, on their return, that the whole commission shall examine into all points connected with the Fraser fisheries; but the members of the commission who are on the spot will make an interim examination and report to the minister. Mr. Brodeur's telegram is as follows:

"I am informed Chicago canned meat revelations have disastrous effect upon the consumption of British Columbia salmon in Great Britain. Canners and English agents consider the situation serious. As the chairman of the British Columbia commission cannot be reached by wire, I desire subdivision of commission now on the spot to thoroughly investigate and inspect canning operations and canneries, from hygienic and sanitary standpoint, and make me comprehensive interim report, to form basis, if satisfactory, of cable to England, to remove misapprehension.

"(Signed) L. G. BRODEUR.

Royalty at the rate of two and one-half per cent. on the value of the gold shipped from the ject to the rights of all persons who have, or who may receive entries for bar diggings or bench claims, except on the Saskatchewan River, where the lessee can dredge to high-water mark on each alternative leasehold.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles but where a person or company has obtained more than one lease one dredge for each fifteen miles or fraction thereof is sufficient. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of two and a half per cent. collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

Dredging in the Yukon Territory—Six leases of five miles each may be granted to a free miner for a term of 20 years; also renewable.

The lessee's right is confined to the submerged bar or bars in the river below low water mark, that boundary to be fixed by its position on the 1st day of August in the year of the date of the lease.

The lessee shall have one dredge in operation within two years from the date of the lease, and one dredge for each five miles within six years from such date. Rental $100 per mile Yukon Territory to be paid to the comptroller.

No free miner shall receive a grant of more than one mining claim on each separate river, creek or gulch, but the same miner may hold any number of claims by purchase, and free miners may work their claims in partnership by filing notice and paying fee of $2. A claim may be abandoned and another obtained on the same creek, gulch or river, by giving notice and paying a fee.

Work must be done on a claim each year to the value of at least $200.

A certificate that work has been abandoned, anad open to occupation and entry by a free miner.

Berths on their sleepers are longer, higher and wider than in similar cars on any other line. They protect their trains by the Block System.

The boundaries of a claim may be defined absolutely by having a survey made and publishing notices in the Yukon Official Gazette.

Petroleum—All unappropiated Dominion Lands in Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and within the Yukon Territory, are open to prospecting for petroleum, and the minister may reserve for an individual or company having machinery on the land to be prospected, an area of 1920 acres for such period as he may decide, the length of which shall not exceed three times the breadth. Should the prospector discover oil in paying quantities, and satisfactorily establish such discovery, an area not exceeding 640 acres, including the oil well, will be sold to the prospector at the rate of $1 an acre, and the remainder of the tract reserved, namely, 1280 acres, will be sold at the rate of $3 an acre, subject to royalty at such rate as may be specified by Order in Council.

WORK IS PROGRESSING ON CANAL PROJECT

Admiral Endicott Returns From the Isthmus and Reports Favorably on Conditions.

Washington, July 20.—Admiral Endicott, a member of the Isthmian canal commission, Panama, where he has attended a meeting of the canal commission, says that the canal work is progressing well, though at present it is largely preparatory work that is being done. He spoke in high terms of Col. Gorgas, saying that the work his office has accomplished in the way of sanitation is wonderful. He says there have only been a few cases of yellow fever there during the past year and none since last November.

Speaking of the health conditions on the isthmus, Admiral Endicott says the laborers need a great deal of attention. They don't take care of themselves. This is the period of heavy rains and the men are frequenty wet and don,t change their clothing. The general health conditions, the admiral considers very satifactory.

INDIAN EMPIRE NEEDS FREE TRADE

Its Affairs Must be Kept Out of the Field of Party Politics.

London, July 20.—In introducing the Indian budget in the House of Commons today Indian Secretary Morley sounded a warning note on the necessity of excluding India from the field of party politics. Any false step in India would send Great Britain into a confusion infinitely more dire and more disastrous than the false step taken in South Africa.

"India,s case in the free trade controversy can be put in a nutshell," he declared, "her prosperity and comfort, the growth of her trade and commerce, the solvency of India hang upon her exports. The United Kingdom takes 25 per cent. of her exports, while Europe and the Far East takes 75 per cent. Thus when the people of Great Britain asked India for preferential duties they were asking her to discriminate against three-fourths of her cutomers."

NEW YORK HERALD BREAKS THE LAW

Post Office Department Takes Action Against Bennett's Paper.

New York, July 20.—T. H. Hamilton, editor-in-chief of the New York Herald, and several employes, charged with violating the postal laws in mailing their publication containing "personals" alleged to be obscene, surrendered yesterday.

They waived a preliminary examination and were paroled to answer October 10 any charges the grand jury may find against them.

The section under which the complaint was brought ist he same under which Joseph Dunlop, editor and proprietor of the Chicago Dispatch, was tried and sentenced in 1894 to serve two years in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $2,000. Dunlop appealed to the United States supreme court, which upheld the decision of the trial judge.

THE SITUATION IN RUSSIA.

Day by day the wires bring us accounts of the progress of affairs in Russia, if the word progress may be used in connection with such a state of matters as exists in that unhappy country. They have an emperor and a government and a parliament in name; but the actual state of the country is a state of anarchy. Nor could it well be otherwise. The old repressive powers have broken down; long smouldering discontent has burst into flame; no man has been found gifted by nature with the ability and force of character which could enable him to seize the place of leader, even of a considerable faction of that vast and heterogeneous population. Despite the constant turmoil, so little real change has taken place, that the following from a London paper, although written two weeks ago, is still applicable: "We have ourselves but little doubt of the ultimate outcome of the existing anarchy. The revolution will win; but there is a new danger approaching. Up to the present moment, though the powers of the dynasty have been threatened, the dynasty itself has retained so much of the loyalty of the masses that it might easily have effected a compromise which would leave it its grand position, its enormous wealth, and, possibly, should it throw up a strong man, or be wise enough to choose a capable Vizier, would preserve much of its predominence in the administration, as the Hohenzollern dynasty has done. We cannot but fear that there is now danger lest, like the Stuarts and the Bourbons, the Romanoffs should be required to sacrifice all. The people suspect them of incurable hostility to their great demand, the possessio of the cultivable land; and once convinced of that, they may either rank themselves behind some Pretender, or in utter despair of royalty set up a republic. Most observers in the West regard this latter solution as impossible, and we do not, we confess, believe that Russia is ready for any experiment of the kind. But we must not forget that many Russians are of a different opinion. The unity of Russia, which so impresses mankind, is far from perfect, and a federal constitution may, in all other plans fail, prove intelligible to the people, who have not, we are told, entirely forgotten that autocracy was built up by the gradual conquest of many comparatively small principalities. Russia, it is plain, suffers grievously and a hundred millions of people who suffer, when once in movement, are apt to march towards ends they do not foresee and have not seriously intended. Wise counsels may yet save all that is at stake—and within that 'all,' let it not be forgotten, is the safety of European international polity—but the worst symptom is the entire absence of clear intelligence at the centre."

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

The late session of the Dominion House, although not very fruitful in legislation which attracted public attention, did a good deal of work. Something over a hundred bills were passed, and the member who attended conscientiously to his committee work had plenty, therefore, to keep him busy, even without counting the committee work which grew out of the investigations promoted by the opposition. The Globe of July 14 has this to say about the session: "The session of the Dominion Parliament which closed yesterday will not be regarded as among the more distinguished of the steadily-lengthening series. It is somewhat notable as marking the close of the first decade of the Laurier administration, which has pased its tenth mile post without any perceptible loss of prestige. It is not invidious to allege that a very large share of the credit for the unprecedented position in which the premier finds himself is due to his personal qualities and his superb parliamentary leadership.

"The most difficult and delicate work of the session centered about the Sunday Observance measure. The judgment of the privy council on the subject had not by any means freed it from obscurity, and this made it all the more difficult to pass a law that would be at once effective and constitutional. In dealing with the matter the premier was fortunate in having the assistance of Mr. Aylesworth as minister of justice. Mr. Fitzpatrick's success in the office made it hard for any successor to follow him, but Mr. Aylesworth has already proved himself worthy of association with the most eminent of his able predecesors. His professional knowledge and skill have long been well and widely known, but the parliamentary aptitude he has displayed could not have been taken for granted.

A significant legislative measure of the session was the repeal of the act pased last year to establish pensions for retired cabinet ministers. There was no protracted discussion of the repeal bill, though there was some rather persistent opposition in each house of Parliament. It was definitely announced that the principle of the pension has not been condemned, and a measure dealing with it in some less objectionable way may be introduced next session.

"One of the more important acts passed this year is one creating a new corporation for the construction and operation of branch lines along the National Transcontinental Railway. It no doubt presages a period of intense and widespread activity in railway extension under Grand Trunk auspices. This great organization came late into the field in the west, but it is making up for lost time, and in a very few years its mileage between the Rocky Mountains and Lake Superior will probably equal that of either of the other great corporations. The amount spent on railway construction this year will, as the result of this activity be enormously large. Such a state of affairs involves danger as well as advantage; it will require both vigilance and caution to avoid the former while trying to secure the latter

WESTERN DEVELOPMENT.

Premier Scott of Saskatchewan has no use for the talk of the people who would secure the future of the west by putting a ring fence around it. Hear him:

"The people of the west must be allowed the advantage of all the railway conections they can get with the United States, and the multiplication of these connections will not to the slightest extent imperil the political future of the Dominion by creating a cleavage between west and east. Any attempt on the part of the people of the east to hinder the construction of railways would be the most likely cause of such a divergence. The laws and institutions of the prairie provinces are similar to those of the western states, but the laws on the Canadina side are better enforced, while the institutions are better administered. The people of Canada, both east and west, take for granted that the Dominion is now a well established and permanent unit among the nations of the world, and this idea will become more firmly rooted as the years pass into history.

Statement From Mr. Keefer.

Editor Daily News:

Sir—In your issue of the 18th instant I notice a short article stating that a paragraph had been going the rounds of the Provincial Press to the effect that a certain Mr. G. A. Keefer, Dominion Government engineer, with headquarters at Vancouver, had been doing some boosting for Nanaimo coal. I have not seen the paragraph in question but, as it evidently refers to me, I shall feel obliged if you will give it an unqualified denial. In calling for tenders for our coal supply, under recent instructions from Ottawa, I only stipulated that it should be a British Columbia product and of approved quality, and I have in no case expresed any opinion of any particular product to the detriment of or in comparison with the others.

Yours faithfully,
G. A. KEEFER,
Resident Engineer.

The Trap Shot.

Trap shooting has made America a land of straight shooters, and no country in the world can compare with the United States in shooting. Gun clubs in America are directly responsible for that reputation which Uncle Sam so proudly bears. By constant practice at inanimate targets the American unconsciously prepares himself for his country's call to arms. Gun clubs are really the outcome of the abundance of live game in America. The average business man loves to tread the woods in search of live game, but usually his time to go on these hunting trips is limited to perhaps once a year, and during the interval he has lost his "shooting eye." He needed practice to keep his eye keyed up properly, and in order to get practice at home during spare moments he organized the gun club, where between hours he could get all the practice he needed—Recreation.

Why They Left.

A comedian appeared in a four act comedy in a western mining town, according to the Buffalo Commercial. At the end of the third act the miners rose in a body, gathered up their belongings and started to depart. The comedian, in dismay, rushed before the curtain. "Gentlemen," he said, "there is another act yet." "Yes; that's why we are going," said the miners.

Won by Failing.

"What books have benefited you most?" the young reporter inquired of the fabulously rich man.

"Law books," the Croesus promptly replied. "My father intended me for a lawyer, but I failed to pass my examination, and now I'm worth fifty millions."—Cleveland Leader.

There will be a practice match among the cricket enthusiasts this afternoon at Moody Square. All members who are able to attend are requested to be present.

C. C. Fisher, government agent and water commissioner, has received a new appointment according to yesterday's official Gazette. He has been appointed gold commissioner for the New Westminster division, in place of Neil Franklin Mackay, resigned.

A record of ten inches of water was granted yesterday morning to Izaiah Mawhinney, of Burnaby Municipality, by Water Commissioner Fisher. The water will be used for agricultural purposes.

The intermediate lacrosse match this afternoon at Queen's Park hould draw a good crowd, as an interesting game will be put up by the teams. The Victorians are feeling fit, and promise to make things interesting for the home team before the game is over.

Captain McCaskill, of the car ferry Sydney will be a happy man when he returns home this trip and finds out that a little daughter has made her appearance during his absence. The stork visited the captain's residence yesterday.

The Daily News had, yesterday, the pleasure of a chat with Mr. MacAdams, of the Sarina Canadian. Mr. and Mrs. MacAdams have been spending the past month in becoming better acquainted with our wide Dominion. Mr. and Mrs. MacAdams are the guests of Alderman and Mrs. Henley.

The committee which so successfully managed the citizens' picnic has an additional cause of congratulation in the fact that the balance is on the right side of the ledger. A nest egg of $50 for the next occasion, makes a handsome wind up to the all round success of the affair.

The Depot bar was yesterday moved back to its former quarters, all improvements having been completed. In addition to having the counter extended several feet, and a beer cellar dug under the floor, a new door has been put in at the far end of the room, and the general appearance of the place has bene much improved.

The absence of positive proof that he took $20 from the Italian Cigonea, who had been spending the evening with him in riotous living resulted in Harry Muir being liberated yesterday morning at the police court. Magistrate Corbould gave the young man a severe lecture on his habits, as brought out in the evidence, and advised him to steer a straighter course in the future.

A dynamite factory is about to be erected on the North Arm of Burrard inlet, and work will commence on the necessary buildings in a short time. Robert P. McLennan, the promoter of the concern, was yesterday granted 100 inches of water by Government Agent C. C. Fisher, and this is to be used for industrial purposes in connection with the manufacturing of the explosive. The water is to be taken from Caldwell creek, and the record is for twentyfive years.

Sockeye Run Is Increasing.

The sockeye have been running in little spurts for a month past, and some had made their way as far up as Lillooet two weeks ago, but the regular run had not started, up to last night. The indications are, however, that it is close at hand and it is quite probable that Monday will see the canneries regularly at work. Mr. Anderson, of the St. Mungo, tells us that his latest advices lead to that conclusion.

It has been in recent years always well on towards the first of August before the sockeye began to run in large numbers, and generally after that date before the main body of fish were in the river.

EARLY FIRE IMPLEMENTS.

Appliances Used In This Country In the Seventeenth Century.

Undoubtedly the first fire company organized in this country was formed in New York in 1658. It was called the Prowlers and was composed of eight men, with 250 buckets, hooks and small ladders. Where the buckets were obtained and whether or not they were in addition to those owned by the town the records fail to state. In 1679 Salem purchased two or three dozen cedar buckets, besides hooks and other implements; also the selectmen and two others were authorized to take command at fires and to blow up and pull down buildings when such action was necessary. This practice appears to have been much more common before the use of engines than afterward. Boston on Sept. 9, 1679, ordered that every quarter of the town should be provided with twenty swobes, two scoopes and six axes. The swobes, or swabs, as they are now called, were long handled mops that could be used to put out roof fires. The general use of swabs has long since disappeared, but when a slight blaze is beyond the reach of a pail of water and more improved apparatus is not at hand a long handled mop is today the most efficient article to be used. In Japan these swabs may be seen on many roof tops.

In 1690 New York ordered that five ladders and also hooks be made. In Philadelphia no mention is made of public precaution against fire until 1696, when a law was passed forbidding the firing of chimneys or allowing the same to become foul. Each house was to have a swab, bucket or pail. Another act was passed in 1700 ordering every household to have two leather buckets. In the following year six or eight hooks for the purpose of tearing down houses were ordered to be made.

The Queer Chameleon.

There is nothing in the world will induce a chameleon to take even the slightest apparent interest in its surroundings unless it be the sight of what it considers a toothsome insect. The chameleon's method of taking its prey is very curious, being effected by shooting out an enormously long, wormlike tongue, the end of which is clubbed and covered with a viscid secretion, to which the insects stick and are thus drawn into its mouth. The actual projection of the tongue is made with marvelous rapidity. The eyes of the chameleon are very curious. They are very large, but, with the exception of a small opening in the center, are covered with skin. They are also entirely independent of each other, with the result that occasionally the creature is looking forward over its nose with one eye, while with the other it is intently watching something directly behind it.

A Bit of English Humor.

An English humorist many years ago hit upon a neat way of scoring against certain politicians of the times. A comic journal, not being a newspaper within the meaning of the act, was prohibited from giving news, and so in place of a parliamentary report the humorist is question reported a few "first lines" from speeches by prominent members: "Sir Charles Wetherell said he was not sensible"— "Mr. Hunt was entirely ignorant"— "Lord Ashley said he should take the earliest opportunity of moving"— "Mr. Perceval presented a petition praying"— "Colonel Sibthorpe never could understand"— "Lord Lyndhurst said he must entreat of every one to give him credit"— "Sir Edward Sugden was not one of those who thought"— "Mr. Croker said he had the fullest assurance"—

OLD ROMAN NAMES.

The Peculiar System That Was In Use by the Nobility.

The noble Romans were peculiar in their system of nomenclature. They had the praenomen, the nomen and the cognomen. The first of these distinguished the individual and was equivalent to our Christian or baptismal name. It was usually indicated by a single letter, as A. for Aulus, or by two letters, as Ap. for Appius, or three, as Ser. for Servius. The nomen was distinctive of the gens or clan and has no corresponding appellative among us. The cognomen was placed last and designated the familiae, precisely answering to our surname. Sometimes a fourth name was added, the agnomen, in consequence of a renowned action, some conspicuous event of life or feature of character. Scipio, in addition to his regular names, was styled Africanus after his conquest of Carthage. The name Germanicus was assumed by those who distinguished themselves in the wars with the Germans.

In female names the Romans indulged but small variety of appellation, and fancy had little or nothing to do with their invention and bestowal. When there was but one daughter in a family she received the feminine termination of her gentile name, as Tullia, the daughter of Marcus Tullius Cicero, and Octaviae, the sister of Octavius Caesar, etc., which names were retained even after marriage. When there were two daughters one was called Major and the other Minor, as Cornelia Major and Cornelia Minor. If there were more than two they were distinguished by their number, thus: Prima, Secunda, Tertia, Quarta, etc.

GREEK COINS.

How the Ancients Tested the Purity of the Metal.

The first coins of gold and silver that have come down to us are now dated as a rule in the time of Croesus, who lived about the middle of the sixth century B. C.

It may readily be imagined that a mere lump of gold, supposed to be of a certain weight, would be subject to skepticism unless it were guaranteed by some recognized authority. So, in order to save reweighing and testing at each transaction, these ingots or coins were stamped with the authoritative mark of a prince or state. So stamped they become the true coins in spite of the fact that, contrary to modern custom, they were not at all regular.

But, in spite of the guarantee that might be afforded by the mark of a state or a prince, we find the Greeks applying certain tests to determine the genuineness of the currency offered to them. Plating was easily detected by jabbing the suspected coin with some sharp instrument. At other times the touchstone was used. One which was known as the "Lydian stone" was supposed to reveal a proportion of foreign metal as small as a barley corn in a stater. Another test, in the case of silver, was to polish the coin and then breathe on it. If the moisture quickly disappeared the metal was pure. Yet another way to detect alloy was to heat the coin or coins on redhot iron. If the metal was unalloyed it remained bright, if mixed with other substances it turned black or red according as it was more or less impure.—Oliver S. Tonks in Chautauquan.

Daffodil and Asphodel.

Daffodil and asphodel—the latter, according to Homer, covered the meadow haunted by the shades of departed heroes—are etymologically the same. Old time Englishmen confused the two plants, which are quite different, and it was reserved for later generations to restore its true spelling to the true asphodel and restrict daffodil, with its mysterious "d," to the flower now known by that name. Formerly it was "affodille," and the "d" is variously explained as being a childish insertion, like the "T" in Ted, from Edward, or as representing the French "fleur d'affrodille" or the English "th' affrodile" (the definite article) or as the final "d" of "and" in such a combination as "fennell and affodil."

Brothers and Sisters.

It has been proved again and again that a boy without a sister is much to be pitied; that a girl without a brother is to be condoled with. And why? Because the mutual society improves both. The boy teaches the girl to be wider minded, less petty and narrow, more manly physically, and, above all, to understand something of the opposite sex. Again, the boy is a hundredfold nicer for having a sister. He confides his little scrapes to her, and she, with her gentle inborn goodness, helps him and advises him to avoid the pitfall again.—London Queen.

Solitude.

Solitude is a matter of taste. It has been the subject of much discussion. Volumes have been written in praise or condemnation of it. But perhaps the real value of solitude has never been so subtly and so accurately expressed as by the girl who was asked if she liked being alone. "That depends," she answered sweetly, "on whom I am alone with."

An Easy Creditor.

The stomach listens to no precepts. It begs and clamors. And yet it is not an obdurate creditor. It is dismissed with a small payment, if only you give it what you owe, and not as much as you can.—Seneca.

Looking Ahead.

Gerald—Will you marry me? Geraldine—Wait awhile. I don't want to get tired of you just yet.—New York Press.

Necessity may render a doubtful act innocent, but it cannot make it praiseworthy.—Joubert.

The Story of an Invention.

The power loom was the invention of a farmer's boy, who had never seen or heard of such a thing. He fashioned one with his penknife, and when he got it all done he showed it with great enthusiasm to his father, who at once kicked it all to pieces, saying he would have no boy about him who would spend his time on such foolish things. The boy was sent to a blacksmith to learn a trade, and his master took a lively interest in him. He made a loom of what was left of the one his father had broken up and showed it to his master. The blacksmith saw he had no common boy as an apprentice, and that the invention was a valuable one. He had a loom constructed under the supervision of the boy. It worked to their perfect satisfaction, and the blacksmith furnished the means to manufacture the looms, and the boy received half the profits. In about a year the blacksmith wrote to the boy's father that he should bring with him a wealthy gentleman, who was the inventor of the celebrated power loom. You may be able to judge of the astonishment at the old home when his son was presented to him as the inventor, who told him that the loom was the same as the model that he had kicked to pieces the previous year.

The Pointer.

There is as much fallacy in attempting to prove the origin of pointing as in a like attempt to prove the origin of eating. As a matter of fact, the pointing act commonly exhibited by the pointer and setter is an incident of the capture or attempted capture of food by dogs, and also by wolves and foxes. Coyotes have been seen to draw and point on prairie dogs and grouse in precisely the same manner that the pointer and setter draw on game birds. There were the same rigidity and stealth, the pause to judge of distance and opportunity and the final rigid pause when all the energies are concentrated for the final spring to capture. All the phenomena displayed by the dog family indicate that the drawing and pointing in the pursuit of prey were ever natural traits. It may be reasonably believed that man could not breed the pointing instinct out of the dog if he attempted to do so.—Forest and Stream.

A Gentle Wish.

It was their honeymoon. They had moved into a pretty suburban house and were getting settled cozily at last.

"I have something for you," she said when he came home from the office.

"A present?"

"Yes. You have no night key, so I had one made for you. Here it is."

"That was very thoughtful of you. But how did you come to take so much trouble?"

"I wanted it as a kind of barometer. You'll let me look at it now and then, won't you?"

"Certainly."

"I'm not going to say you mustn't go out evenings, and I'm not going to sit up until you come home when you are out late. I only hope," she said coaxingly, "that every time I look at it the key will be a little bit rustier, and then I will know that home pleases you more than any other place."

The Fountain Pen.

The fountain pen is not an invention of recent years. In Samuel Taylor's "Universal System of Shorthand Writing," published in 1786, we find proof of the fountain pen's great age.

"I have nothing more to add," wrote Samuel Taylor, "for the use or instruction of the practitioner, except a few words concerning the kind of pen proper to be used for writing shorthand. For expeditious writing some use what are called fountain pens, into which your ink is put, which gradually flows when writing, from thence into a smaller pen cut short to fit the smaller end of this instrument, but it is a hard matter to meet with a good one of this kind."

The Fork.

It is about 1,900 years ago since the fork made its appearance in Europe. In 99 A. D. a son of the doge Pietro Orsolo had wedded in Venice the Brizzantine Princess Argila, who produced at the wedding breakfast a silver fork and gold spoon. Then the high Venetion families followed suit, and these martyrs to fashion pricked their lips with the new instrument. The fork prospered, however, and spread over Italy. In 1379 it had traveled as far as France, and in 1608 a traveler brought it direct to England.

Both Hate Him.

"Funny thing," remarked Wilson musingly. "Tom Wilkins and Edith Brown used to be great friends of mine. I introduced them to each other. They got married, and now neither of them will speak to me. Wonder what the reason can be?"

Cross Purposes.

Mrs. Klubbs (severely)—I've been lying awake these three hours waiting for you to come home. Mr. Klubbs (ruefully)—Gee! And I've been staying away for three hours waiting for you to go to sleep.

A Lady Bountiful.

Tramp—Kin you give a poor feller a cold bite, mum? Housewife—Yes. On your way out you'll find some icicles on the gate.—Woman's Home Companion.

The Clever Ones.

Griggs—Some men are born great, others achieve greatness. Briggs—Yes; and others simply have the trick of making other people think they're great.

I have lived to know that the great secret of human happiness is this: Never suffer your energies to stagnate.—Adam Clark.

Changes From a Fish to a Bird.

The story of the early life, transformation and final death of the Chinese quail is the most remarkable that is found in the ornithological literature of the world. The narrative in all its unreasonableness is found in the story of om chung, which is the name the Chinese quail is known by when at home in the Flowery Kingdom. Celestial authorities on bird lore declare that no specimen of om chung was ever known to live a year; that they do not lay eggs, as all other known species of birds do, and, finally, that their progenitor is a slimy, four jointed worm, which has a red head and a sting on the end of its tail. This queer seacoast worm, according to the curious legend of om chung, lays 100 eggs annually. Fifty of these become fish and the other fifty are worms of the same species as the parent. The fish that has come into existence in this curious manner also lays 100 eggs a year. Fifty of these become water denizens after the image of their parent, and the others become birds of the famed om chung family. These om chungs, or Chinese quails, never breed, and are only brought into existence as above related. We give the above not as a literal fact, but as a specimen of the Chinese idea of evolution.

Biographies as a Stimulus.

We cannot help living in some degree the lives of heroes who are constantly in our minds. Our characters are constantly being modified, shaped and molded by the suggestions which are thus held. The most helpful life stories for the average youth are not the meteoric ones, the unaccountable ones, the astonishing ones, like those of Napoleon, Oliver Cromwell and Julius Caesar. The great stars of the race dazzle most boys. They admire, but they do not feel that they can imitate them. They like to read their lives, but they do not get the helpfulness and the encouragement from them that they do from reading the lives of those who have not startled the world so much. It is the triumph of the ordinary ability which is most helpful as an inspiration and encouragement. The life of Lincoln has been an infinitely greater inspiration to the world than the life of Napoleon or that of Julius Caesar.—O. S. Marden in Success Magazine.

Bulldogs a Menace to Health.

The bulldog is a menace to health. We have this on the authority of a noted French physician, who says that because of his large mouth the bulldog is a great purveyor of disease, especially of consumption, diphtheria and the like, as the dribbling from the heavy, loose jaws is incessant. Those who fondle bulldogs do so at a great risk. He traces many cases of infectious disease, especially among young children, to households in which bulldogs are kept as pets. When we add to this the invariable ferocity of the beast, the danger to which children and other innocent and defenseless people are exposed whenever he roams the streets or highways, we have an argument in favor of his disposal that cannot be gainsaid. Away with bulldogs!

If City Noises Jar You.

Get some spermaceti, roll a wad large enough to fill the ear orifices, put it in a piece of fine cotton cloth tied with thread and insert into ears on retiring, pressing it quite firmly therein so that the ball of spermaceti will closely fill up all the air space in the ears. You will find it quite effective for barring noises, and hence inducing "nature's sweet restorer, balmy sleep," to get in its good work. This ear plug is harmless and cheap. It helped me out greatly years ago amid the city's din, my sense of hearing being intensely keen and temperament neurotic. It is worth a trial, and I have no patent on it.—New York Herald.

The East Side.

"A city's slums," said a globe trotter, "are always in its eastern quarter. I wonder why? Take New York. Its east side is its slum side. So it is with London. The east end is the slum end. Of Philadelphia, Chicago, Canton and Madrid the same thing holds good, as I know from personal experience. The only possible ground I can give for a city's slums being invariably in its eastern quarter is that this quarter is the one that is exposed to the harsh and unpleasant rigors of the east wind."

Explicit.

"Tell me," requests the young person, entering the study of the gray bearded philosopher, "what is the difference between friendship and love?"

The gray bearded philosopher studies the table thoughtfully for a moment or two, then replies: "Friendship, my son, is a mutual understanding; love is a mutual misunderstanding."—Life.

Playmates.

Pastor—Do you ever play with bad little boys, Johnny? Johnny—Yes, sir. Pastor—I'm surprised, Johnny! Why don't you play with good little boys? Johnny—Their mammas won't let 'em. —London Tit-Bits.

"A week? Why, I'll give you a refusal that will last forever."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A WONDER OF JAPAN.

The Famous Castle of the Gold Dolphins at Nishma.

Is the novel castle at Nishma, Japan, the palace which Marco Polo described in his tale of the marvels of far Cathay as covered with gold slabs? At the ends of the ridge of the pyramidal structure are large solid gold dolphins. Beneath the pile is a well which is literally a salted gold mine. It is gold lined and will hold sufficient water to supply 5,000 persons. The dolphins, which were placed on the top several centuries ago, have excited the curiosity of foreign relic hunters, as any one might imagine they would. So many have climbed to the top of the high structure to discover by testing if they are real gold that the dolphins have become seriously disfigured. Strong steel wire bags have been put over them to prevent further vandalism.

Only by good fortune does one of these dolphins still grace the old castle. A number of years ago it was taken down and sent to Vienna for exhibition at the world's fair held there as a rare specimen of ancient Japanese art. The vessel on which it was being returned sank, and it lay at the bottom of the sea for several years in spite of every attempt to raise it. Persistence was rewarded at last, for it was finally recovered and placed again in its old position.

The castle is used by the emperor of Japan as his headquarters during the army and navy reviews. State balls are also held there.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

THE WHALE'S SENSES.

Ability of the Ponderous Animal to Hear Under Water.

It seems perfectly evident that whales must hear when in the water, says the London Field. This inference is confirmed by the comparatively small development of the other sense organs. The eye, for instance, is very small and can be of little use even at the comparatively small depths to which whales are now believed to descend.

Again, the sense of smell, judging by the rudimentary conditions of the olfactory organs, must be in abeyance, and whales have no sense organs comparable to the lateral line system of fishes. Consequently it would seem that when below the surface of the water they must depend chiefly upon the sense of hearing. Probably this sense is so highly developed as to enable the animals in the midst of the vibrations made by the screwlike movements of the tail or flukes to distinguish the sound (or vibrations) made by the impact of the water against the rocks even in a dead calm, and, in the case of piscivorous species, to recognize by the pulse in the water the presence of shoal fish.

Failing in this explanation, it is difficult to imagine how whales can find their way about in the semidarkness and avoid collisions with rocks and rockbound coasts.

LAUGHTER.

Even if It Be Emotional Insanity, Let Us Have Plenty of It.

Some English scientist has reached the conclusion that laughter is insanity. He regards a fit of laughter as an emotional insanity of short duration. All right, then, give us a little more insanity. There is not laughter enough in the world—at least the right kind of laughter. We will let the Englishmen keep their faces straight if they want to, but it befits the American civilization better to break out into laughter once in awhile. Laughter is good for the facial muscles. It develops the muscles of the neck as well as the face. It makes the corners of the mouth turn upward instead of downward. It gives the wrinkles of the face a pleasing outline, quickens the action of the heart and gives new life to the nerve centers. Yes, we can afford to let the Englishman look wise and idiotic if he wants to. He can stare with fish eyed bigotry whenever a joke is perpetrated, never allowing a ripple of merriment to disturb the placidity of his countenance. He can do all these things that he wishes to, but let us go on laughing. This kind of insanity mixes very well with sanity and prosaic life. A little burst of emotional insanity breaks nicely the monotony of facts and figures.—Medical Talk.

A writer who once saw Lord Tennyson on the platform of a railway station says of him: "He would have been tall, but his shoulders seemed somewhat bent. His hair was long; so was his beard. He wore an ugly Inverness cape and a large slouch hat. He looked like a bandit in a melodrama, and I thought him some poor actor who had come out in some of the stage properties. He seemed so sad I felt quite sorry for him as I watched him walk up and down the platform."

Fiction.

Legitimately produced and truly inspirited, fiction interprets humanity, informs the understanding and quickens the affections. It reflects ourselves, warns us against social follies, adds rich specimens to our cabinet of characters, dramatizes life for the unimaginative, daguerreotypes it for the unobservant, multiplies experience for the isolated or inactive and cheers age, retirement and invalidism with an available and harmless solace.—Tuckerman.

Little Willie's Surprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Blank recently moved from the city to the suburbs. The first night in their new home their five-year-old son climbed into bed as soon as he was undressed.

"Willie," said his mother, "haven't you forgotten to say your prayers?"

"Why, mamma," he replied, "is God way out here too?"—Judge.

Rockefeller, based on criminal information charging Mr. Rockefeller as the alleged head of the Standard Oil company, with violation of the Valentine anti-trust law, says an attempt will be made to serve the warrant upon the landing of Mr. Rockefeller in New York. It is stated further that if papers are served Governor Harris will at once be asked to make requisition on Governor Higgins of New York for extradition papers.

MILLSIDE TEAM EASY FOR LOCAL PLAYERS

Many Runs Scored During Six Innings After Which Game was Called Off.

The Millside basebal nine arrived safely in the city last evening, and were on hand when the game was called at Queen's Park. One glance at the visiting team was enough to let the New Westminster baseball players know that their laurels would not be wrested from them during the game and it was with beaming countenances that they donned their uniforms and prepared to do battle with the Millside team. A good sized crowd watched the game.

To give an analysis of the game would be too much like poking fun at the visitors, who excused themselves on the ground that they had not had many practices this year, and they claimed to be handicapped because several of their regular players were haymaking in the country and could not come to the game. They did their best, however, and put up as good a game as they could under the circumstances. With a few good practices, and the addition of a few real players, they will have a good team before the season is over.

The Westminster nine were out in full force, and were playing as if they had money on the game. They scored run after run, until the official scorer tired of his duties, and forgot to count. The runs were coming altogether too fast, the third inning being especially fruitful for New Westminster. The Millside aggregation scored two runs during the second inning, one in the fourth, and one each in the fifth and sixth. The game was stopped after the sixth, as it was getting late. The Milside's score was five runs, but there is a division of opinion as to the number scored by Westminster. The official scorer says that they got ten runs, but it is just possible that some of the players may have got home once or twice while he was not looking. Fred Lynch stood in the center of the diamond, and handed out decisions.

The batting order of the teams was as follow:, A. Sinclair being pressed into service for Millside as they happened to be a man short:

New Westminster—Smith, second base; E. W. Sinclair, first base; Lewis, shortstop; Silver, third base; Price left field; T. Ryall, center field; Malcolmson, catcher; Peele, pitcher; Silvester, right field.

Millside—Sell, Emery, J. Ellison, Innes, Stewart, F. Ellison, McCormick, A. Sinclair, Fowler.

Stoessel Sentence Shocks Japan.

London, July 20.—The correspondent at Tokio of the Daily Telegraph says: "The report that Gen. Stoessel has been sentenced to death shocked the public sentiment of Japanese. Military opinion from the highest to the lowest conscientiously believes the verdict wrong. Facts ascertained by the besieging army at Por Arthur would not only have acquitted the general, but have gained for him the gratitude of his country."

C. P. R. Gets Busy.

With the wheat movement but a few weks away the C. P. R. is making every effort to be in shape to handle the increased crop which is expected this year.

During the month of April the freight traffic of the western lines showed an increase of about 40 per cent over the coresponding month last year, and the last two months have showed an increase of about 20 per cent. This means that a great many cars are required for the general freight traffic outside of the grain business which is also expected to show an increase. At several points the double tracking now being rushed with all possible speed will be in readiness. This will relieve congestion to a certain extent and will make more rapid handling possible, but unfortunately these sections will only cover about one quarter of the total distance to be double tracked. There is a considerable amount of freight now west bound from Toronto, Montreal, and other eastern points and all of these cars will be held for grain.

Why Is It?

Here is a question in naval science which is to the average sailor man a riddle unsolved. Take a vessel of, say, 2,500 tons; place on it a cargo of 3,500 tons. This gives you a total of 6,000 tons. Hitch a little tug to this vessel, and she will yank the big craft along at the rate of six or eight knots an hour. Now put the tug's machinery in the big vessel. It won't move her half a knot an hour. Why is this?

When You Take a Bath.

When drying off after a bath stand in the bathtub in water up to the ankles. When rubbed with coarse towels until the body is all aglow, step out and wipe the feet. This prevents that uncomfortable chilly feeling experienced if one steps immediately out of a bathtub full of water on to the bath mat.

Love.

We never can say why we love, but only that we love. The heart is ready enough at feigning excuses for all that it does or imagines of wrong, but ask it to give a reason for any of its beautiful and divine motives, and it can only look upward and be dumb.—Lowell.

A Kindly Provision of Nature.

"The codfish," said the professor, "lays considerably more than 1,000,000 eggs."

"It is mighty lucky for the codfish that she doesn't have to cackle over every egg," said the student who came from a farm.

Not Guilty.
