

FLORAL TRIBUTES KEEP MEMORY GREEN

Eagles Take Part in Touching and Solemn Ceremony For Departed Comrades.

Yesterday was the nearest suitable day to May 30, Decoration day in the States, so named in memory of Gettysburg, Penn., where Lincoln made his great famous speech in dedicating the battlefield there as a national cemetery during the American civil war, and which day has since been sacred to the decoration of the graves of the soldiers who fell in that memorable struggle. Therefore the local Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, was duly justified in observing the day with due ceremony, and carrying out the above principle with regard to deceased comrades at the cemeteries on a Sunday afternoon. There was a very large attendance at the Eagles hall where the memorial service was conducted, many visitors being present. At least 110 regular members took part in the subsequent parade. Those commemorated in the service were John Newman, James Cash, Thomas McCaffrey, Fred J. Bauer, John Esposito, John Collier, Emil Christensen, Philip Cota, Robert D. Parry, Harry B. Grant, Capt. Fred Hogan and Fred Eastman. Not the least solemn part of the proceedings was the muffled peal which sounded again and again as the secretary, H. Schofield, called the names of the departed.

The Service.

Rushion's band supplied the music, which was throughout of a quiet and reflective character. The president, Herbert J. Clarke; the chaplain, Benjamin Robb; the conductor, Alexander Rathbone; Fred J. Lynch, past president; and Rev. J. S. Henderson, who delivered the address, all took part in the service. Other officers present included James A. Aitchison, vice-president; Edward Finch, treasurer; John Camak, inside guard; Alexander Robb, outside guard; Joseph M. Wise, George Turnbull, Berger Wilberg, trustees. The memorial committee was Fred J. Lynch, James N. Aitchison, Alexander Matthew and Herbert Schofield.

Past officers present included A. Swanson, A. G. Peters, Wellesley S. Marchie and E. A. Dalziel. The hymns sung were "Rock of Ages" and "Nearer My God to Thee."

Principles of the Order.

Rev. J. S. Henderson delivered an eloquent and interesting address. He said it was of peculiar interest that he appeared before them, and he must express his sense of gratitude for the privilege, because he esteemed it a very great honor to address the worthy brethren. Till then his attention had not specially been drawn to the principles of that order until that occasion. It had been, in consequence, a distinct revelation to him to find how strong the order was, and how it was to be maintained. He was glad to find how eternal were the principles upon which the order rested, if there were failures in their ranks it would be because they did not put enough emphasis upon those principles, or lived them out in the life as they were designed to be lived. He pointed they had 10,000 aeries, with 300,000 members, that while they began in a cold apparently covered, last year 255 new aeries, with a membership of 25,602 were added. He ventured to express the opinion that next year their growth would be still greater. Mr. Henderson continuing, referred to the democratic character of the order, cosmopolitan also in its membership.

"Foe of Evil."

"If he wished a text, he would find it in the P. O. E. of the title of the order, Freedom as the foe of slavery, it stood to forest all bonds, it sought to strike off the chains and fetters, whether they bound body, or mind, or spirit. They recognized the inalienable right of every man to be free. The order stood for liberty, as the foe of error, superstition, mental thralldom, and of ignorance. The order was also based on opposition to everything which was harsh. He went on to speak of the other principles of the order, truth, justice and equality. They were the foes of all discrimination, narrow prejudice, and uncharitable thoughts of others. The man who is strong, remarked the speaker, for good, must necessarily be strong against evil. In their day those whom they were

FIVE YEARS IN PEN FOR NEGRO PUNCHER

Love, Lust and Liquor Play Part in attempted Murder In Northern B. C.

Don Smith, a husky negro cow puncher of the Chicoutic district, arrived in this city on Saturday, accompanied by Provincial Constable Joseph Barry of Ashcroft. For the next five years Smith will be a resident of the B. C. penitentiary, his incarceration being a fitting climax to a weird story of love, lust and liquor.

Negro Dan, after spending several months in following his occupation of cattle punching, elected to take up his residence at Riske creek, where he was employed by Mr. Beecher, proprietor of a saloon at the place. Here Dan found his affinity in the person of a Scotch named Margaret, a trial marriage being decided upon by the pair. No fault could be found with his near wife by the negro for several months, and then the awful truth dawned upon him. To satisfy her insatiable love of liquor, Margaret was starting from the path of rectitude, and had formed a partnership with Annie Swanson, a half breed woman who resided at the Beecher hotel.

In order to impress upon the Swanson woman the magnitude of her offense in alienating the affections of his Margaret, Dan interviewed that party in the kitchen of the Beecher hotel, using a .30.30 Winchester as a stock argument. The negro's aim was poor, he missed the woman, two bullets going wide and smashing the stove. Dan refused to pay the damages, claiming that the breaking of the cooker was accidental.

Tried at the recent Clinton auries on a charge of attempted murder, Smith was found guilty and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. He will be manacled for his new mac-knaw suit today.

ATTENDANCE SLIM AT GAME WHEN ADMISSION IS ASKED

The city team easily defeated the fabled nine from the Columbian college and painters' baseball teams, Saturday by 8 to 2. The resulting score was somewhat more uneven than was expected, for the opinion was that the Sayce bunch of stars would give the city regulars a close run for the victory.

The playing was snappy and the individual work was on a par in both sides, but the veterans have played together so long that they always put up a steady game all through, and the other fellows had never practiced together and showed lack of knowledge of team work.

If Sayce could properly control his balls he would be a crack pitcher, as it is his wild throws are so swift that a catcher can not get them. Charging admission almost killed the attendance, for hardly anyone came in during the time the gatekeepers were on duty.

Fred Lynch applaud.

remembering that afternoon had maintained the principles of which he had been speaking. The three root ideas of the order lay in love of God, the brethren and sympathy for the needy. Perish everything which would narrow down, or sacrifice those essentials. That memorial service emphasized a beautiful thought. It showed they regarded those who had passed away from the ranks, though not in the flesh, as still living, and in union with them in their work. As they reached back into the past, and looked out into the future, yet in their charitable work they showed regard for the present.

At the Cemetery.

The procession then re-formed, and proceeding at a slow pace to the cemetery, by way of Columbia street. When the cemeteries were reached, the graves of the twelve departed were visited, and beautiful wreaths and bouquets of flowers placed on the woe-stricken graves. There was an immense gathering of onlookers at the cemetery, and as the slow procession moved along the walks on their solemn duty, the public showed sympathetic interest.

BANDITS COMPEL CONDUCTOR TO HELP IN ROBBING PASSENGERS

Great Northern Train Held Up by Seven Masked Men—Conductor Holds Hat Used as Receptacle for Valuables—Bloodhounds and Posses in Pursuit of Daring Robbers.

Butte, Mont., May 31.—A Miner special from Great Falls, Mont., says:

Northbound Great Northern passenger was held up this evening about one mile and a half from this city by seven masked men at 12:30 o'clock. The train was run onto a siding by the bandits, who fired a fusillade of shots up and down the train. William Dempsey, an Augusta rancher, was shot through the leg in attempting to jump from the train after it had stopped, and Conductor Hayes was compelled by the robbers to precede them in passing through the cars, he carrying a hat in which the passengers were invited to dump what cash they had about them. Most of them deposited from one to ten dollars and the booty of the desperadoes is not believed to be greater than several hundred dollars.

While the passengers were robbed, several of the highwaymen stood guard at the doors of the cars to prevent the passengers from leaving. The robbers finally jumped off the coaches and disappeared in the darkness. Rain is falling heavily and the night is so dark that no trace of the bandits could be found, although posses were in pursuit within twenty minutes after the outlaws had left the train.

Bloodhounds are being used to track the fugitives.

BETTER FACILITIES FOR ROYAL CITY SHOTS

Civilian Rifle Association Will Carry Through Ambitious Program Coming Season.

There was a very satisfactory attendance at the city hall on Saturday evening, at the meeting of the Civilian Rifle association. Capt. T. E. Annandale presided. Correspondence with regard to the Ross rifles was read, and the secretary was able to report that seventeen had now arrived from Victoria.

It was resolved to hold the competitions for the silver salver given by the Dominion government on the four Saturdays in August, and the two first Saturdays in September, and it was necessary on four of these occasions that 50 per cent. of the members shall be present.

Another decision the meeting came to was to hold the practices every Saturday, the range however will be more at their disposal after the militia practices are advanced.

The challenge of the Vancouver Rifle association was accepted, the date to be fixed by the executive.

Country members will be admitted, and it is anticipated that there will be a large number from the outside municipalities. A quantity of routine business was transacted. Applications for membership should be made to the secretary, W. Nelson.

The new rifles will be kept at G. R. Speck's store, 208 Columbia street. Ammunition will be available at that centre, and retailed to members only at 10 cents a packet of ten cartridges. About 6000 cartridges have so far arrived.

The number of rifles allotted to the Westminster association is small in comparison with the membership enrolled, but arrangements will be made for all to get practice.

JOURNALISTS THREATEN TO BOYCOTT KING OF DENMARK

Copenhagen, May 31.—King Frederik, of Denmark, and the whole Danish press have reached a deadlock on account of his majesty's refusal to continue King Christian's policy of giving full reports of the court affairs to the newspapers.

The Institute of Journalists has taken up the matter and when King Frederik returns from his trip to the south the president and secretary of the institute will visit him and demand that the old rights be restored. If Frederik refuses, every Copenhagen newspaper will boycott the court and will not publish a line of news about the forthcoming visit of the King of Sweden.

Railway Catastrophe in Egypt.

Cairo, Egypt, May 31.—An express train from Alexandria to Cairo collided with a freight train at Kuesna station yesterday evening. Two persons were killed and six were seriously and one slightly injured.

SEARCH FOR PLOTTERS AGAINST KING EDWARD

Detectives Hunt for Men Said to Have Designs Against British Ruler.

New York, May 31.—Details of a search through New York city by Scotland Yard and Pinkerton detectives for a band of plotters against the King of England, leaked out here tonight.

It is said the detectives are shadowing the movements of a number of East Indians, members of the revolutionary party.

According to report, the East Indians have the sympathy of various Irish societies, and detectives are paying attention to the Clan Na Gael and other Irish societies. The East Indians are said to be members of an Indian home rule society and a Swadeshi organization of that country.

ALLEGED HORSE THIEF CAUGHT AT REVELSTOKE

A young man calling himself J. J. Curry, but supposed to be the same party who under the name of W. Darnhard obtained possession of a horse and buggy from S. H. Thompson about two weeks ago, has been placed under arrest by Chief of Police Tom Bain, of Revelstoke, who yesterday afternoon notified the local police that he was holding Curry pending identification. Detective Bradshaw left on the 3:15 p.m. train for Revelstoke and will return with the prisoner tomorrow.

Curry appears to have fallen a victim to a neat plot laid for his capture by the Revelstoke police, who suspected his presence in that town. Some few days ago a man said to be Curry, wrote to a farmer at Rusk, where the horse and buggy had been left some days previous, offering to tell him the outfit at a reasonable figure. The farmer notified the police, who instructed him to reply to the writer, at the same time notifying the Revelstoke postmaster to detain any person applying for mail addressed to that party. Curry requested another man to inquire for letters addressed to his name. The obliging friend was immediately placed under arrest on inquiring at the post office wicket, a telegram being forwarded here to that effect. Detective Bradshaw left for Revelstoke on Friday, but a later message notified him that the wrong man had been arrested. However, through the assistance of the first man arrested, Curry was discovered and placed under lock and key pending his transfer to this city.

To Develop Japan's Water Power.

Tokyo, May 31.—The development of the water power of Japan has been undertaken by a Japanese-English-American syndicate. At a meeting yesterday, $8,000,000 was pledged for this purpose. Japanese contributing half of the amount.

MANY MUSTER FOR CHURCH PARADE

Rose of Columbia Lodge, Sons of England, Visit Holy Trinity Cathedral.

The members of the Rose of Columbia lodge of the Sons of England, No. 115, would have held their annual parade on a Sunday nearer to Victoria Day had it not fallen so close to the holiday as was the case this year. However, the service took place yesterday evening at Holy Trinity cathedral which was well filled. About ninety took part in the parade, some forty five local members, and over forty from Wilberforce lodge, No. 77, and Western Jubilee, No. 237, Vancouver, were present. The local lodge of the Daughters of England turned out to the number of some twenty-five and there were also representatives from the Vancouver women's lodge. The Vancouver delegation came over under the direction of the district deputy, W. W. Hawtin.

Parade Well Handled.

The parade arrangements were made by R. Oddy, president; H. Disney, P. P. secretary, and a committee consisting of T. S. Oddy, E. Saunders and G. Simpson, and the procession assembled at the Knights of Pythias hall and marched, headed by the Union Jack, to the cathedral. The hymns used were "All people that on earth do dwell," "The day Thou gavest, Lord, is ended," and "Onward, Christian Soldiers." The choir capital rendered the anthem "O Clap Your hands Together." At a meeting held subsequently a vote of thanks was passed to the organist and choir, as well as the rector, Rev. A. Shildrick.

Benevolent Societies.

The rector, in the course of his sermon, said he understood the order had been in existence for some thirty-five years, and during that time how many good deeds had been cheered by the society's work. An important feature was the fact that those societies enabled men to receive aid without it coming as a charity, but something for which they had paid, and which was their dues. The society encouraged thrift without destroying the independence which ought to be important, and was highly valued.

"Inasmuch."

It was a great pleasure to welcome them to the service. The very fact that they desired to come showed that they recognized the fact of which he had been speaking, i.e. the influence of Jesus' own example, was behind their work. They remembered that Christ had said that whosoever would give a cup of cold water, in His name, would not lose his reward. In conclusion he urged them to do all things in love, so that in the end they would receive their reward as God's faithful servants.

OPEN AIR BAND CONCERTS ASKED FOR BY PUBLIC

With the advent of June, the continued warm weather of the past few weeks and the long summer evenings, musically inclined people are daily making inquiries concerning the probability of evening band concerts this year, the general impression being that the success attending last year's experiment along this line proved so conclusive that the plan should be followed during the remainder of the summer, or until about the middle of September. No active steps have been taken as yet, either by the city band or any other musical aggregation, with regard to furnishing music during the present and forthcoming months.

The concerts given weekly on Albert Crescent last year were largely attended, the slope being dotted with hundreds of people on every occasion. That open air concerts would be equally well received this season is a foregone conclusion, judging by the number of inquiries heard daily concerning the probability of those treats being again forthcoming this year.

It is probable that a communication from the city band will be forwarded to the council shortly asking for an appropriation to defray the expenses of giving concerts on Thursday evenings at Albert Crescent. The question of Saturday evening concerts on Columbia street will most likely be taken up at the same time.

JAPANESE WANT FOREIGN CAPITAL

Doctor Miller, of Kobe, Says Influx Here Is Due to Irresponsible Agents.

Among the visitors to the Russell hotel is Dr. Miller, of Kobe, Japan, a prominent medical man of that city, who after a short visit to California, will return to his practice in the far east, accompanied by his partner, who has been wintering in the Pacific Riviera. A News man sought his views last night on the immigration problem, and Dr. Miller, while naturally reticent on a subject which, according to political predictions, takes different colors, agreed with Mr. MacKenzie King's finding that irresponsible employment agencies, regarding only the dollars, were responsible for the bulk of the Japanese coolie labor entering British Columbia recently. The attitude of Canada generally, and more especially this province, can be understood by Japanese when the very same problem arose not many months since in the introduction of cheap Chinese and Korean labor to build a railway in one of the islands of the Chrysanthemum land, and the local people would not stand for it.

Japs Well Treated Here.

From an ethical standpoint, Dr. Miller was strongly against marriages between white and brown races, although he says there are quite a number of persons of mixed parentage in the country, regarded unfavorably by both races alike. The Japanese, he pointed out, enjoy far greater privileges in Canada than are permitted to the white man in Japan, especially in the matter of holding land.

Financial Conditions.

The proposed extension by Russia of the Amur railway came under discussion, and the doctor pointed out that it was generally recognized that Manchuria would be the wheat field of Japan in the future. It would true that there was a growing trade with western Canada in flour and lumber, but Japan with forty years of western civilization, is still a rice eating nation. The best grades of rice were exported, and a poorer quality introduced from southern China for consumption.

How to Increase Trade.

Trade with Japan would be fostered by a better service from the Vancouver, declared Dr. Miller, and he did not doubt that expansion would follow the projected improvements in the trans-Pacific service of the C. P. R.

Finances in Bad Shape.

The condition of the country financially, as the last budget disclosed, was unsatisfactory. Years of boom following the war had been succeeded by a depression which was showing its effect in the difficulty of the poorer inhabitants to meet their taxes, still at a heavy figure. The financial crisis last fall in the United States had its important influence on the situation in the land of the Mikado, and there was little money for disbursements. The pressure of military and naval expenditure to keep Japan in the front rank of the powers was telling with far-reaching effect on the economical conditions of the country.

PANIC STRICKEN REFUGEES REPORT TURKISH MASSACRE

Athens, May 31.—A body of panic-stricken refugees from the Green island of Samos who have arrived here report that eighty women and children were slain by Turkish troops during the day's fighting at Vathy, the capital of the island. They declare also that the troops fired persistently on the foreign consulates. The refugees are not Greeks, and as they have an intense hatred of the Turk their statements are accepted here with considerable reserve.

Japanese Feel Chinese Boycott.

Hongkong, May 31.—The anti-Japanese boycott continues. The effect upon Japanese firms in Hongkong is becoming serious and some of them are seeking cheaper premises. The Japanese steamship Ten Yu has called from this port empty. Australian foods are being imported and movement to foster shipping is becoming almost.

"This Is My 45th Birthday"

Hugo Munsterberg.

Professor Hugo Munsterberg, of Harvard university, who has long been more or less of an international influence, both through his position as an educator and through his published writings, was born at Danzig, Germany, June 1, 1863. He was graduated from the gymnasium in that city in 1882, attended the University of Geneva, was graduated from the University of Leipzig in 1885, and from the University of Heidelberg in 1887. He was an instructor in philosophy at the University of Freiburg from 1887 to 1891, and since 1892 he has been professor of psychology at Harvard university. Dr. Munsterberg has written a score of volumes and about three hundred essays and articles. He is a friend of the German Emperor and has done much to increase the good feeling between Germany and the United States.

STOPPED THE OVATION.

Richard Wagner's Peculiar Experience in Vienna.

When Wagner was at the height of his popularity he visited Vienna. Baron von Benst, then chancellor of the empire, was informed that the Prussian party intended to give him an immense, serene—a serene which would have the air of German protest against the tendency of the ministry to make the union of Hungary and Austria more intimate. The demonstration promised to arouse strong feeling.

"Your excellency is warned," said the chancellor's advisers. "It is impossible to stop this manifestation unless Wagner goes away, and he loves ovations too well. Nothing will induce him to depart."

"You think so," said Benst, with a smile.

An hour later Wagner was invited to dine with the chancellor. He was flattered by the invitation and accepted it. After dinner, at which Benst was delightfully affable and entertaining, the chancellor remarked: "Herr Wagner, are you interested in autographs? I have some very curious ones to show you." And he opened a portfolio where were letters of Palmerston, Bismarck, Napoleon III, Helme and others.

Suddenly turning to a paper, dated 1848, he said: "Ah, look at this. It is very curious. What would your friend his highness the king of Bavaria say if this paper, which would be significant in connection with the political scene which the Germans are going to give you, should be published tomorrow in the Vienna papers?"

The composer examined the paper and recognized, with surprise, an old proclamation of one Richard Wagner, who, an ardent revolutionist in 1848, had proposed to the youth of that time to set fire to the palace of the king of Saxony. He saw his autograph and that it might be the means of getting him into serious trouble.

"Very curious, is it not, Herr Wagner?" said the minister.

"Very curious, your excellency," replied his guest.

The next morning Richard Wagner left Vienna, recalled to Balthus by urgent business—Strand Magazine.

A TREE OF ILL REPUTE.

The Fresh Juice of the Upas Acts as a Deadly Poison.

An evil reputation has long been borne by the upas tree, Antiaris toxicaria, which grows in Borneo and other East Indian islands. It is still a common belief that birds dying within the influence of its poisonous vapors instantly perish and that it is fatal for animals or men to rest beneath its shade. It resembles certain thus plants (like the poison ivy) in emitting a volatile substance which affects the skins of certain susceptible persons, though others are unaffected. The sap is very poisonous and is the chief substance used by the Dyaks of Borneo for poisoning the tips of their darts.

In this process an incision is made in the bark of the tree and the milky exudation collected on a palm leaf and dried first in the sun and then over a fire until a thick brown mass is left. In this state it can be kept without deteriorating, and when required for use it is made into a thin paste with the juice of "tuba" root, which is used to stupefy fish, or with tobacco or lemon juice, and the ends of the darts dipped into the mixture and dried. These darts are made from the middle stem of the palm leaf and are about six or eight inches in length and of about the thickness of a knitting needle.

They are used with a wooden sump-tan, or blowpipe, which is about seven or eight feet in length and has an internal diameter of about one-quarter inch. A bird struck by one of these little darts is instantly killed, and a pig dies in about twenty minutes. The fresh juice of the upas tree, whether swallowed or injected into the blood, acts as a violent poison, causing convulsions and death.—Chicago News.

A Hungarian burglar, who was once a painter of considerable repute, was canvassing a house when he came across the portrait of a very beautiful young woman which had been left unfinished by the artist. He began to add the finishing touches to the picture and was discovered hard at work by the owner of the house, who promptly sent for the police.

PRESENTED AT COURT

Experience of an American at an English Royal Levee.

A RAPID TRANSIT FUNCTION.

He Was In and Through and Out before He Really Realized What Had Happened—The Way His Difficulty About a Costume Was Overcome.

A six foot American who had secured a "command" to one of the English royal levees recently found himself in a pretty predicament.

On his notification paper was the hint that levee dress was indispensable. In the guileless innocence of his democratic soul the American took this to mean that frock coat and shiny shoes would be called for.

He was in the act of looking over his best outfit of that nature when a more experienced friend called and caught him in the act. The friend made haste to inform the misguided Yankee that levee dress involved silk stockings, ruffled sleeves, black sword and other items.

Consternation ensued. It continued to ensue when owing to his height and girth no borrowable suit was discovered and no tailor could be found who would make one before the next afternoon. At last a stage levee dress was rented from His Majesty's theater, where it had done duty in "The Last of the Dandies."

After the levee was over the American confessed that he hardly knew what had happened. When he reached the palace he was first surrounded by the yeomen of the guard, who started him upstairs with great dispatch. In the course of his progress upstairs the yeomen disappeared, and he found himself in a lane of tin plated life guardsmen.

Again the scene changed, says Town and Country, and there was a lane of royal footmen and next a large room filled to overflowing with admirals, generals, diplomats, peers, chamberlains, soldiers and sailors of all degrees of commissioned rank and a great host of men attired like himself in levee dress. One by one they were singled out and ushered into the royal presence in the adjoining room, where stood the king surrounded by his suit.

The work of presentation was so rapid that the American found himself out and in another room before he knew what had happened. His overcoat was on his back in the same rapid, mysterious fashion, and the next thing he knew he was outside in the courtyard. But he was actually "presented" and is now forever Hof fahlg, or eligible for presentation at any court in the world, provided he behaves himself.

All this was preliminary to the presentation of the man's wife and daughter at the drawing room. Men are presented at the king's levees, and the women undergo the same ordeal at the courts or drawing rooms, which are by far the more imposing functions. It is probably no exaggeration to say that every time a drawing room is held $100,000 is spent by the people who go to court.

None but a very old habitue of the court—and then she is never below the rank of a countess—would dream of appearing at court in a costume that she had worn there before. The items of flowers alone is one of vast importance. If it were not for the drawing rooms the large florists could not exist.

Every woman who is presented goes armed with a bouquet, whose value is at least a pound, and some of them are worth ten times that sum. Then there are the bookmakers and the bookers and the milliners to consider, to say nothing of the people who lend carriages.

Suppose there are at a low estimate 500 people on the presentation list. Of these every mother's daughter has herself photographed in her court costume, and London court photographers are notorious for their stiff prices.

St. James' park on the night of a drawing room is filled with Londoners who wander up and down the double line of carriages stalled in the mail, peering into the windows and criticizing the costumes of the matrons and their debutante daughters. It is a legitimate privilege of the populace to consider those waiting for presentation as objects of interest, and there the latter have to sit, some of them over an hour, subjected to the gaze of London's citizens. You see half a dozen shopgirls flattening their noses against the window of a motor brougham and carrying on a rapid fire conversation about the dress of milady and her daughter inside.

"Ain't she beautiful, Mary Ann?" "Wot do you think of this one? Oi don't like 'er gown at all."

All this has to be borne with Spartan fortitude so long as there is no rowdiness; but, strange to say, there never is.

A good many people starve themselves for months so that they and their offspring may have the money to enable them to go to court. There are many half pay colonels who live in the country whose one object is to come up for a drawing room.

Generally they have influential and wealthy friends who make it easy for them in the matter of lodging in town and lend them their horses, carriages and footmen; otherwise it would be impossible for them to go. There seems to be a tradition that if a man's daughter has not been presented at court her way to a successful marriage will not be so smooth. That of course is a fallacy, but the tradition never dies, and so people stifle themselves and endure endless agonies that they may put the hall mark on themselves and their offspring.

MINISTERIAL PERIGRINATIONS.

The tour of Premier McBride and Hon. Dr. Young through the southern interior of the Province, taken with so much trepidation, is now claimed to be an immense success, politically. In advance it was declared that this tour was taken in the interests of the country and its one essential was to be, that it was to be non-partisan in its character, and Liberals as well as Conservatives were asked, because of this plea, to join in giving these public men a public reception, and counsel with them as to the needs demanded by the rapid development of this section of the Province. This turns out to be a ruse to get a crowd. Doubtless the fear of meeting the Conservatives alone, and explanations being demanded by the party, for the non-fulfillment of the Premier's pre-election promises, caused this strategic move. In any case the people of the interior are generous to a fault, and they have entertained the Premier's party without stint and prevented any demonstration by the dissatisfied Tories.

Judge then at the surprise in the country, when the Tory press is declaring it to be a triumphal tour politically, and their leading journals are giving reasons, so called, for this great party advantage, and not only does the press unjustly claim that the enthusiasm was one of party, but the Premier himself has abused the confidence of the people that his perigrinations was to be non-partisan, that he has actually delivered addresses wholly political in their complexion, and has taken to his party credit that in no sense belongs to it.

Some of these have reached outside the Province and our neighbors in Alberta are seeing the humorous side of some of the utterances of Hon. Richard McBride. The "Morning Alberta" of Calgary sums up what he said with respect to his party and its interests in labor and so as not to spoil a good thing we give it "in extenso."

"In an address in Nelson a couple of days ago, Premier McBride of British Columbia boasted that there was no difference between the Conservative party and the Liberal party in Dominion politics except upon the question of labor. The Conservative party, he added, had always been the friend of labor."

"The statement of Mr. McBride is a bit of very high class humor. The Conservative party in the Dominion has never been the friend of labor, has done nothing to advance the interests of the labor party, and has never shown even a friendly attitude except for a few weeks at election time."

The Conservative party had a long time to perfect some kind of labor legislation, which it never succeeded in doing or even attempting. The policy was to refer every labor difficulty to a commission and take no action when the commission reported, if it ever did report.

The first legislation worthy of the name began with the coming of the present Government. It was then that a Canadian Government for the first time gave any desire to look with interest upon matters connected with the labor interests.

A Department of Labor was formed, devoted to the interests of the labor people. One of the first subjects taken up was that of the fair wage clause for all laborers upon Government contracts. That means that as far as the Government is concerned, the work is done upon public buildings which is not done by competent labor paid the union rate of wages. That was a decided advance in matters of this kind. That was one of the first moves made by the Government.

This was followed by the Government's action in the matter of strikes. That is the first time that any Canadian Government considered that it was in any way interested in the labor troubles of the country. The Lemieux Bill, which is the climax to this form of legislation, is not perfect, but it has been the instrument through which many labor troubles have been settled. What is perhaps more is the vigorous administration of this department. When ever labor trouble threatens the labor representation is on hand, and with few exceptions has made peace where no peace seemed possible. That has meant millions of dollars both to the country and to the employees.

"The Government has passed much other legislation. It has dealt with the sweating system. It has published the labor gazette which in considerable detail deals with labor conditions and matters of interest to labor men in the country.

"It has increased the head tax on the Chinese and has managed so wisely that it has settled the grievous question of Oriental immigration so as to protect the west and not lose the friendship of Japan or give the annoyance of Great Britain."

"This is but a small portion of the labor legislation passed by the present administration. The government has always studied the interests of the labor people. It has not been afraid to act when action was necessary. It is allied to no association hostile to labor interests such as the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. It is the party friendly to the labor interests."

If the McBride Ministry is so wrapped up in the labor interest, why did it evade the opportunity to do, of its own volition, something in their interests, during the last session of the Legislature in ways that were absolutely under its control? Echo answers, Why?

The first performance of the Royal City vaudeville theatre took place on Saturday evening, but owing to the date of opening not having been announced, the attendance was not as large as the managers of the house had a right to expect. The different artists billed to appear showed up to advantage, while the moving pictures were more than usually amusing.
From now on there will be two performances daily, afternoon and evening.

The Maple Leafs put out a much better showing of lacrosse in their game on Saturday with Victoria at Erickson Point, Vancouver, and won by six goals to two. At three-quarter time the home team had only three goals to two. Victoria, however, played a fast game. Bob Cheyne, of Westminster, was one of the referees. On Saturday the local team goes to Victo-

A SPIDER FIGHT.

It Was a Fast and Furious Battle to the Death.

I once had a spider pet of a kind the books enabled me to identify. He was a fine big fellow. I caught him in the garden, carried him home, and for nearly two months he and I took a close interest in each other, he for the flies I introduced to him and I for the amusement he introduced to me. I kept him in a milliner's box, letting him out when I visited him, especially delighting myself with allowing him to drop from one hand by his fine spun thread and then either catching him in the other or gently compelling him to climb back again by apparently eating his own ladder.

One day I captured another spider of the same species. I kept him for a few days in a separate box, and then, with the kindly idea of companionship, I introduced him to Tiger. I have seen dogs fight; I have seen chicken fight and slay his man; I have seen rams fight till, with his skull crushed in, one lay dead at the foot of the other; I have seen men fight; but the fullest sense I ever realized of mad, murderous passion let ungovernably loose, centered in one destroying aim and summoning every physical energy to its devilish service, I realized when those two spiders rushed to mortal combat. I stood in boyish terror as their tangled legs dropped off, torn by mutual rage; and as with vicious dexterity they struck each other with their poisoned fangs, using for their own destruction the weapons and appliances with which nature has provided them for the capture and slaughter of their prey, I visibly turned pale.

Tiger was the victor, but even while with brutal wrath, all unaided as he was, he bit and spurned his dead and limbless foe he was seized with symptoms I took to be paralytic, and in a minute or two I helped him to his death. And this fearless gladiator was afraid of, I remember, and never would tackle a big bluebottle fly. What is courage?—Dundee Advertiser

Synopsis of Canadian North-West Homestead Regulations.

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or sub-agency for the district in which the land is situated. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of the homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father (or mother).

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line, exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

PUPILS SING AND PLAY AT MONTHLY RECITAL

The fifth monthly recital given by the piano pupils of the Misses Thompson was held at the studio, Third avenue, Saturday afternoon. A goodly number of pupils was present, and the following program given:

Part I.—Solo, "Cradle Song," (Rubenstein), Miss Mitchell; solo, "Shepherd's Evening Song," Mary Dean; solo, "Flower Song" (Lange), Miss Jean Gilchrist; solo, "Sunshine Waltz," Edith Furness; duet, Miss Hassard and Miss Thompson; solo, "In Rank and File" (Lange), Edna Nelson; reading, Miss Edith Furness; fancy marching.

Part II.—Solo, "Angel Voices Ever Near" (Sweet), Miss Mitchell; solo, Johnnie Garrett; solo, Willie Hassard; solo, Ethel Teskey; duet, Edith and Willie Burdette; solo, Marion Hubbard; reading, "Ma Leetle Cabane," by Dr. Drummond, Miss Thompson; solo, "Hunting Song," Edith Burdette; solo, (a) "Vesper Hymn," "Children's Carnival," by Streabhog, Amy Gilchrist; solo, "Swing Song," Willie Burdette.

Miss Mitchell, after her second number, responded to an encore with Mendelssohn's "Goodellied," No. 6, which she played with feeling and a true interpretation of the composer's thought. The club members decided to send to the Etude, Philadelphia, for club buttons. It was also announced that during the summer months there would be a series of club picnics, the first to be held in two weeks.

The members decided to take the name of the Schumann club instead of the Mendelssohn club, as most of those able to attend were juniors and would appreciate the study of Schumann better than that of Mendelssohn.

The closing recital of the season will be held the last Friday evening in June, when the parents and friends of the pupils will be invited to attend.

Don't be persuaded to use imported salt on the grounds of economy. WINDSOR SALT at present prices, is the cheapest in the end.
