COLLEGE GIRLS MAKE GOOD ENTERTAINERS

Many Attend Social Soiree Given Under Auspices of College Y.W.C.A.

A splendid time was spent by a couple of hundred people at the entertainment of the Columbian college Y. W. C. A. in the college gymnasium last evening. The recital and social was given to raise funds for furnishing the reception room in the ladies' gallery, and the amount raised, which not figured exactly out last night yet was very satisfactory.

The program opened with a concert, the first number of which was rendered by the orchestra and entitled "The Goddess of Night." This was followed by a well rendered solo by E. E. Williscroft. The next item was a French horn solo, "The Holy City," played by Mr. Jackson. Miss Watson and Miss Watson gave a much appreciated reading, taken from a play in the "Merchant of Venice." The orchestra again was heard, in selection Unto Me."

The best number of all, a scarf drill by a dozen young ladies came next; the drill was given in fine form and was admired by everyone. A piano solo, "The Chase," by H. DeBeck and Arthur Smith, was then given, and succeeded by another reading by Miss Watson. A new feature in concerts, a whistling solo was given by Miss Wood. The orchestra closed the concert with a march. All of these numbers were finely rendered and were well received.

The social part of the evening followed and everybody was invited to investigate the different amusements provided. Ice cream and cake was served in an adjoining room. Two booths one in which college pennants were sold, and another used as a fish pond were well patronized. The banners were all sold, while the fish pond was more fun than usual, and did a much more business than its rivals.

The entertainment is the last of the season, and all the students tried to get joy enough to last them through the holidays.

DOWN WAGON BEARS FARMER TO LOCKUP

Constable Gill of the city police force had a busy quarter of an hour with his hands yesterday afternoon from which he emerged somewaat breathless and with sundry scratches and bruises as a memento of the occasion. The cause of it all, a husky farmer, spent the night in the city lockup where he boasted no man could put him sleeping off a jag. Gill was on patrol on Columbia street and was attracted by a man furiously driving a light rig down the road, finally pulling up at the Occidental hotel. Gill placed him under arrest on a charge of furious driving, then put the heavyweight into the rig with the aid of a bystander, where mixed up with a group of farm implements of all descriptions, the constable complacently took a seat on his wrathy companion, when the slope of the hill was reached the farmer managed to get on top. Gill was saved from his unpleasant predicament by the timely arrival of Constable Johnston, and after a further rough and tumble, the man was taken a prisoner and with two blue-coats seated astride his powerful form, was safely conveyed to the station.

PENSION SCHEME IS CRITICIZED BY LABOR

Premier Asquith's Budget Is Hotly Attacked by Unionist Organs in London.

London, May 8.—Premier Asquith's pension scheme is hotly attacked by the Unionist newspapers this morning on the ground that Mr. Asquith recklessly started plans representing millions, but left the onus of finding the money to his successor in the chancellorship.

The discussion in parliament last night, both in the House and in the lobbies, however, left the impression that the cleverly designed budget is likely to be fairly popular. It had been generally supposed that it would propose increases in taxation, instead of which while continuing to reduce the national debt, it reduced the sugar duty and proposed no new or increased taxes.

The criticism is devoted to the details of Mr. Asquith's pension system, especially by the members of the labor party, who regard it as inadequate, but there is little doubt that it will be adopted without serious opposition.

BALL GAME THIS AFTERNOON PROMISES TO BE EXCITING

City Seniors Meet Columbian College Students on Queen's Park Diamond at Three O'clock.

Queens Park will be the scene of awful carnage this afternoon, when the city senior baseball team meets for the first time this season the Columbia college nine, the two aggregations being about evenly matched. Gold lockets are hung up as trophies for the winners of this season's schedule of games, and as it is a foregone conclusion that the pendants will be worn either by the students or the city men, the games between these teams will be the most exciting of the whole series.

Today's game is due to start at 3 o'clock. No admission will be charged to the grounds, this having been decided upon in order to draw crowds to the matche saosdninOoiwla, the&-li to the matcehs and so increase the interest in baseball.

Malcolmson will don the cage in the interests of the city men, while O'Brien will deliver the offerings. For the college, Prouty will bar the progress of the leather beyond the plate, while C. Smith and E. McPhail, the latter a new man in local baseball circles, will alternate in tossing the shere. Both these lads use their right in pitching.

The complete teams will be:

City—Malcolmsom, c; O'Brien, p; Sinclair, 1b; Silver, 2b; Lewis, ss; Stein, 3b; Barbaree, lf; Welsh, cf; Canfield, rf.

Columbian—Prouty, c; McPhail and C. Smith, p; Ferguson, 1b; Dickie, 2b; Hanna, ss; Fitzgerald, 3b; Kilmer, rf; Watson, cf; Taylor, lf.

No Race Suicide in Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, May 8.—Owing to the large increase in the juvenile population, the school board after passing a $600,000 by-law yesterday by the ratepayers today decided to erect this year six new twelve-room schools.

"This Is My 80th Birthday"

Charles Henry Cramp.

Charles Henry Cramp, the oldest living living member of the famous family of shipbuilders of Philadelphia, was born in that city May 9, 1828. His father was the founder of the great ship and engine building firm of William Cramp & Sons, a firm that built ships for the Mexican war, the civil war and for the fleets that took Manila and defeated Cervera at Santiago. Charles H. Cramp, after leaving the public schools, entered his father's shipyards, learning the business thoroughly, and in 1857 he was admitted as a partner in the firm. He devoted much of his time to the study of improvements in all that applied to the shipbuilding industry. He designed the pioneer propeller, the Sampson, whose type is now seen in all American waters. He designed the surf boats used by the American troops during the Mexican war. From building wooden ships that were the best of their class, the firm advanced with and pioneered the progress of marine architecture, until in their productions of the last decade or so have been included many of the largest and finest battleships afloat, as well as ocean passenger steamships of the most improved construction.

HEATED DISCUSSIONS ON PROPOSED GAS BY-LAW

Representatives of New Heat and Light Company Wait Upon Council in Committee—James Cunningham Rises in His Wrath and Refers to These People as "Adventurers."

For a short time yesterday the air in the committee chamber of the city hall threatened to become too warm for comfort. Innuendos and explanations followed one another in quick succession, but finally all was quieted down and the meeting returned to the usual aldermanic decorum. The session of the council was a special one called to meet the representative of the proposed new gas company, the Royal City Gas Improvement Co., Ltd. On behalf of the applicants for the franchise there were present F. O. Robins, of San Francisco, and W. J. Whiteside. James Cunningham was there on behalf of the present company, and W. Norman Bole, K. C., addressed the aldermen on behalf of clients who objected to the granting of the franchise. Each alderman was supplied with a copy of the draft by-law, and each of the representatives of the various parties as well as the aldermen took part in the debate.

Mr. Whiteside opened the discussion with an outline of the intentions of the new company, stating that at the previous meeting he had endeavored to make it clear that the new company would not necessarily interfere with the city's lighting business. He dealt with other objections raised in turn, pointing out that in the case of opening up the streets, his clients had undertaken to protect the city from any damages arising from the work and had agreed to put the ground in as good condition as ever. It was also suggested that the company were merely gaining the franchise to sell; this was entirely in the hands of the council and the company would be willing to make arrangements that the council might desire.

In answers to a series of questions by Mayor Keary he stated so far as interference with the city lighting plant was concerned, he believed that it was not possible for gas to compete with electric light. The solicitor also expressed the willingness of the company to put up a bond for the fulfilment of their contract.

His worship asked whether the company would be willing to have the franchise confined to heating and power purposes, stating that he anticipated that the city light plant would be paying better in the next few years and that a reduction would be made in the rates. Mr. Whiteside did not wish to express an opinion on the matter.

Mr. Robins believed that the city would have no more competition in the future than they had now, adding that the company had no desire to reduce the income of the city, and that the best guarantee of their good intentions in this respect was to offer to give the city a bonus of ten per cent. of the amount of all bills collected for gas over and above the amount at present being supplied in the city. His firm desired to keep to the supplying of gas for other purposes, but they desired the permission to sell for lighting purposes to protect themselves, since their customers could not be prevented from using the gas for that purpose if they so desired. Mr. Robins laid emphasis on the opinion that the gas could not compete with the electric light, and made the statement that the firm would supply gas to any five applicants, laying the mains to the property line. With reference to the laying out of the streets, the company had a competent engineer in Los Angeles who would take charge of the work within two weeks after the franchise was granted, laying out the city in districts and blocks and preparing detailed plans and maps of the pipe lines.

Ald. Henley expressed himself in favor of the franchise being granted. He could not see that the opening of the streets would be much worse than at present.

Ald. Johnston could not see any reason that would justify the council standing in the way of the granting of the franchise, if there was a possibility of the citizens receiving cheaper light and power. He believed that competition was a good thing in this case as in others. The mayor interposed a remark that the citizens themselves were in the lighting business; if this were not so he would have no objection to raise to the granting of the franchise. The alderman answered by reminding his worship that the representative of the company had said that they would not compete with the city, but would give ten per cent. of all their lighting receipts to the city.

Mayor Keary spoke strongly in favor of selling the city electric lighting business, stating that he could within forty-eight hours after the endorsation of the ratepayers had been received, obtain $200,000 in cash for the franchise, which would relieve the bonded indebtedness of the city and save them about $6000 per year of interest. The mayor expressed his private opinion also that municipal ownership in this city was not a success, except in the case of waterworks.

In answer to a query by Ald. Gray as to whether the company would be agreeable to a proviso being placed in the by-law granting the city the power of purchase after a term of five years, Mr. Robins expressed his opinion that it would be satisfactory.

W. Norman Bole, K.C., addressed the council at considerable length. He took exception to the "skeleton" by-law placed before the council, and to the making of verbal promises not embodied in the draft. His clients, he stated, objected only to the lighting feature of the franchise and would withdraw their objections if the company confined itself to fuel and power. They were strongly in opposition to competition with the city lighting plant. He suggested that while the city might at the present time be able to sell the city plant for $200,000, if the gas by-law were passed they would be unable to get half that amount. Mr. Bole concluded by reminding the aldermen that their first duty was to the citizens and warning them that if they gave the franchise, they would be cutting the ground from under their own feet.

Ald. Johnston immediately was on his feet with a warm retort to the previous speaker, declaring that it was unnecessary for Mr. Bole to impress upon him his duty to the citizens; he needed no reminder to urge him to his duty.

Mr. Whiteside answered Mr. Bole's remarks regarding the lack of protection of the city in the by-law, quoting clauses that dealt with the matters in dispute. As to the possibility of the charter being sold, they had already undertaken to accept any clause to cover that objection which the city might desire to insert.

The fur began to fly when James Cunningham, of the Westminster Gas company, was given permission to speak. He was rather warmed up and spoke with some heat. His company had complied with all the provisions of the bylaw, had supplied gas of good quality to all who desired it. He did not see how any company could manufacture and supply gas at a profit at a less rate than he was doing. Mr. Cunningham referred to the newcomers in the heat of his words as adventurers, and asserted that even though they were given a franchise, the old company would live to compete with the new. It was all nonsense to believe that the company could extend their mains to any part of the city in order to supply five citizens. But if the two companies got into active competition, the city electric light would be down and out.

A burst of dissent from the aldermen greeted the latter statement, and Mr. Robins, whose ire had been rising while Mr. Cunningham was speaking, jumped to his feet declaring wrathfully that while he respected the age of the speaker, yet even were he an older man, he would not take from him the insinuations that had been made, and warned him to be careful of his words. He was no adventurer, but was well known in the cities where he had worked, and had a reputation to maintain. He denied that he was of the promoter class, pointing to his record of thirty years in business in San Francisco in corroboration.

Explanations followed on both sides, and the matter was again discussed, resulting in the solicitor for the company, W. J. Whiteside, undertaking to incorporate the verbal promises made in a new draft by-law, which will be revised by the city solicitor prior to being brought before the regular meeting of the council.

STRIKERS SUSPECTED OF SCUTTLING SHIP

Passengers and Crew of an Australian Vessel Have a Narrow Escape.

Victoria, May 8.—Steamer Aorangi, which arrived this morning from Australia, brought news of the sudden sinking of the steamer Bega, an Australian coasting vessel, under suspicious circumstances. Investigations are being held to determine whether the vessel was scuttled by striking sailors, as she was carrying a non-union crew during the recent strike of the coast wise shipping unions.

The Bega was steaming in a smooth sea at night when she suddenly began to fill, listed to port and foundered in twenty minutes, with the sea rushing into her open ports. There were forty-seven crew and passengers, including twenty-three women and children, on board, and excepting an old man who died from the shock, all were saved by the boats and rafts.

DUNCAN PROTESTS AGAINST TUBERCOLOSIS HOME SITE

Residents of Locality Up in Arms Against Suggestion that Farm be Used as Hospital.

Nanaimo, B. C., May 8.—A rumor to the effect that the Lloyd's farm and house at Westholme, near Duncan, are about to be sold to the Anti-Tuberculosis society to be made into a home for incurables, has caused great excitement throughout the whole district.

Three petitions at least are being circulated in Duncan against it. The objections raised against the plan are that it would deteriorate the value of the surrounding property, that the patients travelling on the trains would be a menace to the health of the other passengers, that it is not desirable to have the institution in so thickly populated a district, and that the site itself is unsuited, being on a rising ground almost surrounded by marshes.

STORM DOES LARGE DAMAGE AT TORONTO

Toronto, May 8.—Lake Ontario was yesterday lashed into fury by a strong east wind, and according to reports received exposed locations on Hanlan's island and on the lake shore, both east and west, and from captains on lake steamers, the storm equals if it does not exceed that of a few weeks ago. It looks as though the effect of the disturbance will be to completely destroy whatever work the city has done since the last storm. On the island sand pumps have been kept busy daily filling in the holes and washouts made two weeks ago.

A Strong [illegible] Dealing With Wicked Wa[illegible]ed by District Conference.

With Rev. W. H. Barraclough occupying the chair, the Westminster district Methodist conference opened yesterday afternoon in Sapperton Methodist church, over twenty delegates being in attendance from all parts of the district. During the afternoon the delegates were served with refreshments by the ladies of that church, this attention being greatly appreciated by the recipients.

A large number of reports were read and discussed at length. The report of work in connection with the different Sunday schools showed that the number of schools in the district was eighteen, officers and teachers numbering 151 and an average attendance of scholars for the past year 1482. The sum of $1,263.85 has been raised by the different schools.

Reports from the district showed a church membership of 1,231, while the amount of $2488 had been raised for missionary purposes. The total amount raised for all purposes was $21,230, an increase of $4,305 over the previous year.

It was decided to include Sunbury, Strawberry Hill and Brownsville into one district in the mission circuit, to be known as the South Westminster district.

Lay delegates to the conference to be held on May 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20, in Mount Pleasant church, Vancouver, were selected as follows: J. C. Loree, T. R. Pearson, D. S. Curtis, A. C. Wells, A. D. Wheeler, J. Orr, E. R. Ashwell, D. C. Cameron, C. Cliff, G. Adams, R. H. Cairns, H. Kirkland, Silas Boothroyd, J. H. Gollightly, and F. W. Hunt.

A motion, introduced by C. J. Robson and seconded by Dr. White, dealing with the cigarette evil, was passed. Following is the text of the motion: "That in view of the widespread and growing evil arising from the acquiring of the cigarette habit by many of our growing boys and young men, and the serious physical and moral injury resulting therefrom, we urge upon this conference the importance of using all possible influence in the direction of procuring legislation prohibiting the sale and manufacture of cigarettes."

Another motion was passed as follows: "The district league begs leave to recommend that the conference committee on temperance and moral reform formulates plans to educate public sentiment on local option throughout the province, and, further, in our opinion, a petition should be circulated praying for local option throughout B. C. at once."

The chairman was requested to write letters of sympathy to Rev. Dr. Sipprell and to Dr. Crosby, both of whom have recently suffered serious illness, and also to forward a resolution of condolence to Mrs. Robert Bowell, whose husband met an untimely and violent death at Sapperton a few days ago.

Following is the list of delegates in attendance at the sessions:

Clergymen—W. H. Barraclough, B. A., A. E. Hetherington, B.A., E. M. Burwash, B.A., J. H. White, D.D., J. P. Bowell, T. A. Magee, L. Thomas, New Westminster; W. E. Jones, Burnaby; J. F. MARKET REPORT

Owing to the seeding operations being now on and the farmers being too busy to leave thier work except on days when wet weather prevents their attending to the farm work, the attendance at the market yesterday was somewhat smaller than usual. There was, however, nothing slack about the demand and everything offered found a ready sale. There was also a good auction sale on the square. The prices, as is usual for several weeks at this time of the year, still remained practically unchanged.

The only noticeable difference in the buying is that a tendency towards passing up the older fowl is being felt, and as aconsequence, this class of bird sold down to $8.50 per dozen, with a promise of falling still lower. The younger birds, on the other hand, show more inclination to increase than decrease in price, although no change has yet taken place.

The amount of meat brought to the market was rather short, especially in veal, pork alone being plentiful, that meat, as the warm weather advance, failing to meet with as large a demand as in the cooler weather.

The stands of the market gardeners and florists were heavily stocked with young vegetable plants. These found a ready market. Flowers, cut and in pot, were plentiful and in good demand.

The following are the prices that ruled during the day:

Beef, hind quarters 8c to 9c, forequarters, 6½ to 7c; mutton 13c to 14c; veal, medium 11c large 8c to 9c; pork, 8½; eggs, retail 25c, wholesale 22c; butter, retail 40c; fowl, $8.50 per dozen; chickens, $6.50 to $8 per dozen; ducks, $11 to $12; apples, retail $1.25 to $2.00 per box, wholesale $1.25 to $1.50 per box; spuds, $18 to $20 per ton; turnips, 75c per sack.

EMBROIDERED TRUTH.

Mark Twain on His Own Reputation For Veracity.

I am used to having my statements discounted. My mother began it before I was seven years old. Yet all through my life my facts have had a substratum of truth, and therefore they were not without preciousness. Any person who is familiar with me knows how to strike my average and therefore knows how to get at the jewel of any fact of mine and dig it out of its blue clay matrix. My mother knew that art. When I was seven or eight or ten or twelve years old—along there—a neighbor said to her:

"Do you ever believe anything that that boy says?"

My mother said:

"He is the wellspring of truth, but you can't bring up the whole well with one bucket." And she added: "I know his average, therefore he never deceives me. I discount him 30 per cent for embroidery, and what is left is perfect and priceless truth without a flaw in it anywhere."—Mark Twain's Autobiography in North American Review.

The Fighting Lemming.

If the lemming's powers were proportioned to his pluck, the lemming would make things lively for the hunter. It attacks with reckless fury the harmless passerby. One of these creatures, smaller than a rat, will assail without a second thought a couple of human beings weighing 150 pounds apiece. It will spring to one's knees, barking and biting, and in purblind fury fall back "all ends up" to the earth, only to renew the attack again and again. One day while one lemming was flying at me another from beyond a small stream joined in the demonstration and presently swam across to get to close quarters. I was not quite sure that the first fall into the water was not accidental, but hardly think so, since once there it came straight to the charge.—"Wild Norway."

Most Nearly Perfect Vacuum.

It was Professor Dewar's achievement in liquefying hydrogen that led to the discovery of an easy method of obtaining an almost perfect vacuum, and that in a single minute. When a glass tube filled with air and closed at one end has its open end dipped into a cup of liquid hydrogen, the intense cold condenses the air into a kind of snow that settles to the bottom. If, then, the upper part of the tube, from which the solidified air has fallen, is removed by heating and cooling it off it becomes a vacuum chamber so free from air that it is difficult to force an electric current through it.—New York Herald.

His Old Letters.

A Wall street business man showed a visitor a bundle of old letters that he was taking home from his office to burn in his furnace. "I wasn't always so particular about these useless business letters," he said, "until I learned that the women cleaners were sorting them out of the wastebaskets and selling them to certain firms which make a business of furnishing lists of names for various purposes, mostly to speculative concerns. Then I concluded that I owed it to my clients to protect them from the nuisance that follows getting one's name on a mailing list."—New York Sun.

Stranded Ship Crew Is Safe

New York, May 8.—The crew of the stranded ship, Peter Rickmers, and the wreckers on board, seventy-two in all, were safely landed from the ship shortly after 6 o'clock this morning. The wind and the sea gradually went down during the night and soon after daybreak the wreckers on the ship put off in three surf boats which they had on the ship. The crew of the Rickmers, thirty-three in number, were brought ashore by the Oak Island, Short Beach and the Search Inlet lifeboats. One of the crew of the Peter Rickmers was knocked off by the heavy sea.

The Rickmers struck the sand bar ten miles from Oak Island while bound out from New York to Europe one week ago yesterday. At first it was believed that she would be floated without difficulty, but as the wind continued and she drove farther and farther on the bar, her position became serious.

TUPPER AND VANCOUVER TORIES

Sir Charles Tupper's remarkable letter to the President of the British Columbia Conservative Association is naturally exciting a good deal of notice throughout the Dominion. It was inspired by the reluctance of the Vancouver Conservatives to second the ambition of Sir Charles the younger to be the Conservative candidate in Vancouver. He has already been placed in nomination by the Conservatives of Pictou, N. S.; but is bent on capturing a second nomination. Doubtless Sir Charles Hibbert would like to consider himself a political Colossus, striding the continent with one foot on the Pacific and the other on the Atlantic. The unwillingness of the Vancouver Conservatives to fall in with a scheme so agreeable to Tupperian self-conceit, is highly displeasing to the head of the family. Sir Charles has therefore undertaken to instruct Mr. Barnard, the President of the British Columbia Conservatives in the career of Prince Charlie, doubtless in the expectation that the enormity of the offence of the Vancouver Tories will thereby be made plain.

Sir Charles informs Mr. Barnard that he "reluctantly consented, in the interests of the party," to his son entering Parliament in 1882, "although I felt he was making a great personal sacrifice." Then, after long service, Sir Charles Hibbert was obliged to retire, and "for the sake of his "family" to devote himself to his profession. Presently, however, while Sir Charles was absent from Canada, Sir Charles Hibbert was again "induced to yield to persuasion" of the people of Pictou, and did so, although he was again "making a great personal sacrifice," and was again backed up by Sir Charles out of regard for "the best interests of the country." And the proud old father adds that the announcement of his son's decision "to devote his energies to secure the return of the Conservative party to power, has given new life to its friends all over Canada." Vancouver Conservatives being, in face of all this, indisposed to "strengthen his hands in fighting their battle," Sir Charles wants to know "whether the future of the Conservative party is to be sacrificed by machine dictators?"

Sad to say Mr. Barnard failed to melt at this moving and novel recital of self-abnegation and self-sacrifice on the part of the Tuppers; and replied with a polite note, intimating that the matter was in the hands of the Conservatives of Vancouver—the "machine dictators" referred to in Sir Charles' letter—where it had better be left. Thus the matter stands; but it will doubtless have an interesting sequel.—Free Press, Winnipeg.

THE WHY OF IT.

Speaking in London a few days ago Lord Strathcona summed up the main reasons for the All-Red transportation system. As the opinion of a non-partizan official thoroughly familiar with Imperial affairs and particularly well informed on Canadian matters, the summary is worthy of attention.

1. The service would improve the communication between the United Kingdom and Canada, and enable mails and passengers to be conveyed between the two countries more rapidly than at present.

2. It would draw a certain portion of Canadian travel, which now passes by way of New York, back to its proper channel, and by its geographical advantages, and its quicker service to the United States secure many American passengers and some of the mail traffic to western points.

3. It would provide a faster service than at present to New Zealand and Australia, saving at least ten days to the former and two days to the latter.

4. It would utilize an alternative route to the East, possessing natural advantages which have not been properly utilized.

5. It would strengthen Great Britain's position in the Atlantic, and furnish additional armed cruisers to aid in keeping the route open in time of war.

6. It would assist in giving Great Britain the control of the Pacific trade, which may pass out of our hands if the route is not utilized.

7. It would provide armed cruisers on the Pacific.

8. It would be available for the conveyance of troops and supplies to the East, and less liable to interruption than any other route.

9. It would bring the different countries in closer touch with each other, and help the consolidation of the Empire.

10. It would be provided at the cost of the different parts of the Empire, and not fall entirely upon one or another.

11. It would supplement the Pacific cable to Australia, which is under joint government control.

12. It would supplement other steamship routes, and could not fail to assist the commercial expansion of the different parts of the Empire, as well as lead to extra travel.

13. Canada, New Zealand and Australia want the service; and the proposal has certainly been received with much sympathy in the mother country.

Is He a Leper?

Vancouver, May 8.—The police last night found a half-starved Chinaman lying under the wharf of the Great Northern railway at the foot of Columbia avenue. An examination showed that the man was covered with sores, which had the appearance of resulting from leprosy. He was immediately taken to the Chinese hospital and isolated, and this morning Medical Health Officer Underhill made an examination. The microscopical test failed to give certain proof that the man is a leper, but he will be detained for a few days when another examination will be made. The suspect has been in the city for several weeks, coming here from Kamloops.

This morning the delegates who are attending the sessions of the Norwegian Lutheran conference in the city, will be given a pleasure jaunt up the river in launches. Interest in the Asiatic exclusion movement is apparently reaching a low ebb, judging from the slim attendance at yesterday evening's meeting of the local exclusion league. Less than a dozen members of that body put in an appearance at the Eagles hall, these few including Thomas Turnbull, president; J. D. Taylor, secretary; Messrs. Phipps, Sloan, Johndro and other staunch opponents of Orientals. No business of importance was transacted at the meeting.

A meeting of the New Westminster Publicity association will be held on Thursday evening in the board of trade room, when a number of interesting matters are to be brought up for discussion. Members of the executive who have been looking into the feasibility of advertising and publicity schemes will report upon the result of their labors, while the chairman of the collecting committee will inform the members that success has attended his canvass for funds, an even thousand dollars having been secured. The final meeting of the May Day committee was held in the board of trade room yesterday evening, when considerable unfinished business was disposed of. All accounts in connection with the celebration were passed for payment. After the settling of all debts, a balance will remain in the hands of the treasurer. Great satisfaction was expressed at the success of this year's celebration, the only complaint being voiced by those members of the committee who had charge of the distributing of candies and ribbon to the children, who protested against the action of women who forced their way into the buildings and pushed children aside in an endeavor to secure bags of candies for themselves. A suggestion was made that this feature of the program be eliminated at future celebrations.

The trade finds it both satisfactory and profitable to sell "B. C." and "Old Sport" cigars. **

The final meeting of the Westminster Rovers Football club was held yesterday evening at Ryall's office, when business for the season was wound up. W. McMillan occupied the chair, while T. W. Haslam attended to the clerical duties. After the passing of all accounts for payment, it was seen that a small sum remains to the credit of the club, this amount having been collected by subscriptions, gate receipts and other means. Votes of thanks were extended to all who have in any way contributed to the success of the club during the season, the press being signalled for special mention. Frank Lock, captain of the team, handed in his resignation, he having joined the Caledonians, a club recently formed in Vancouver. Mr. Lock was tendered the thanks of the club for the interest he had taken in football during the past months, much of the success of the team since Christmas being due to his energy and enterprise.

Strange Taste In Eating.

Many strange dishes were eaten by Dean Buckland, the English clergyman and geologist. At his dinner parties, which were attended by leaders of science and literature, the menus were often of a most eccentric character. On one occasion pickled horse tongue was greatly relished by the guests until they were told what they had eaten.

Dieting For Rheumatism.

Diet in the treatment of rheumatism is three-fourths of the battle. Avoid red meats, beef especially; sweets and starchy foods. Eat acid fruits, spinach, tomatoes and salads freely. Drink a good natural spring sulphur water and do not touch spirituous liquors, ale or wine. Wear red flannel next to the skin the year around, a lighter weight in summer, of course, but do not lay it off at any season.

Synopsis of Canadian North-West Homestead Regulations.

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or subagency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is rejuired to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans·

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of the homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father (or mother).

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line, exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of intention to apply for patent.

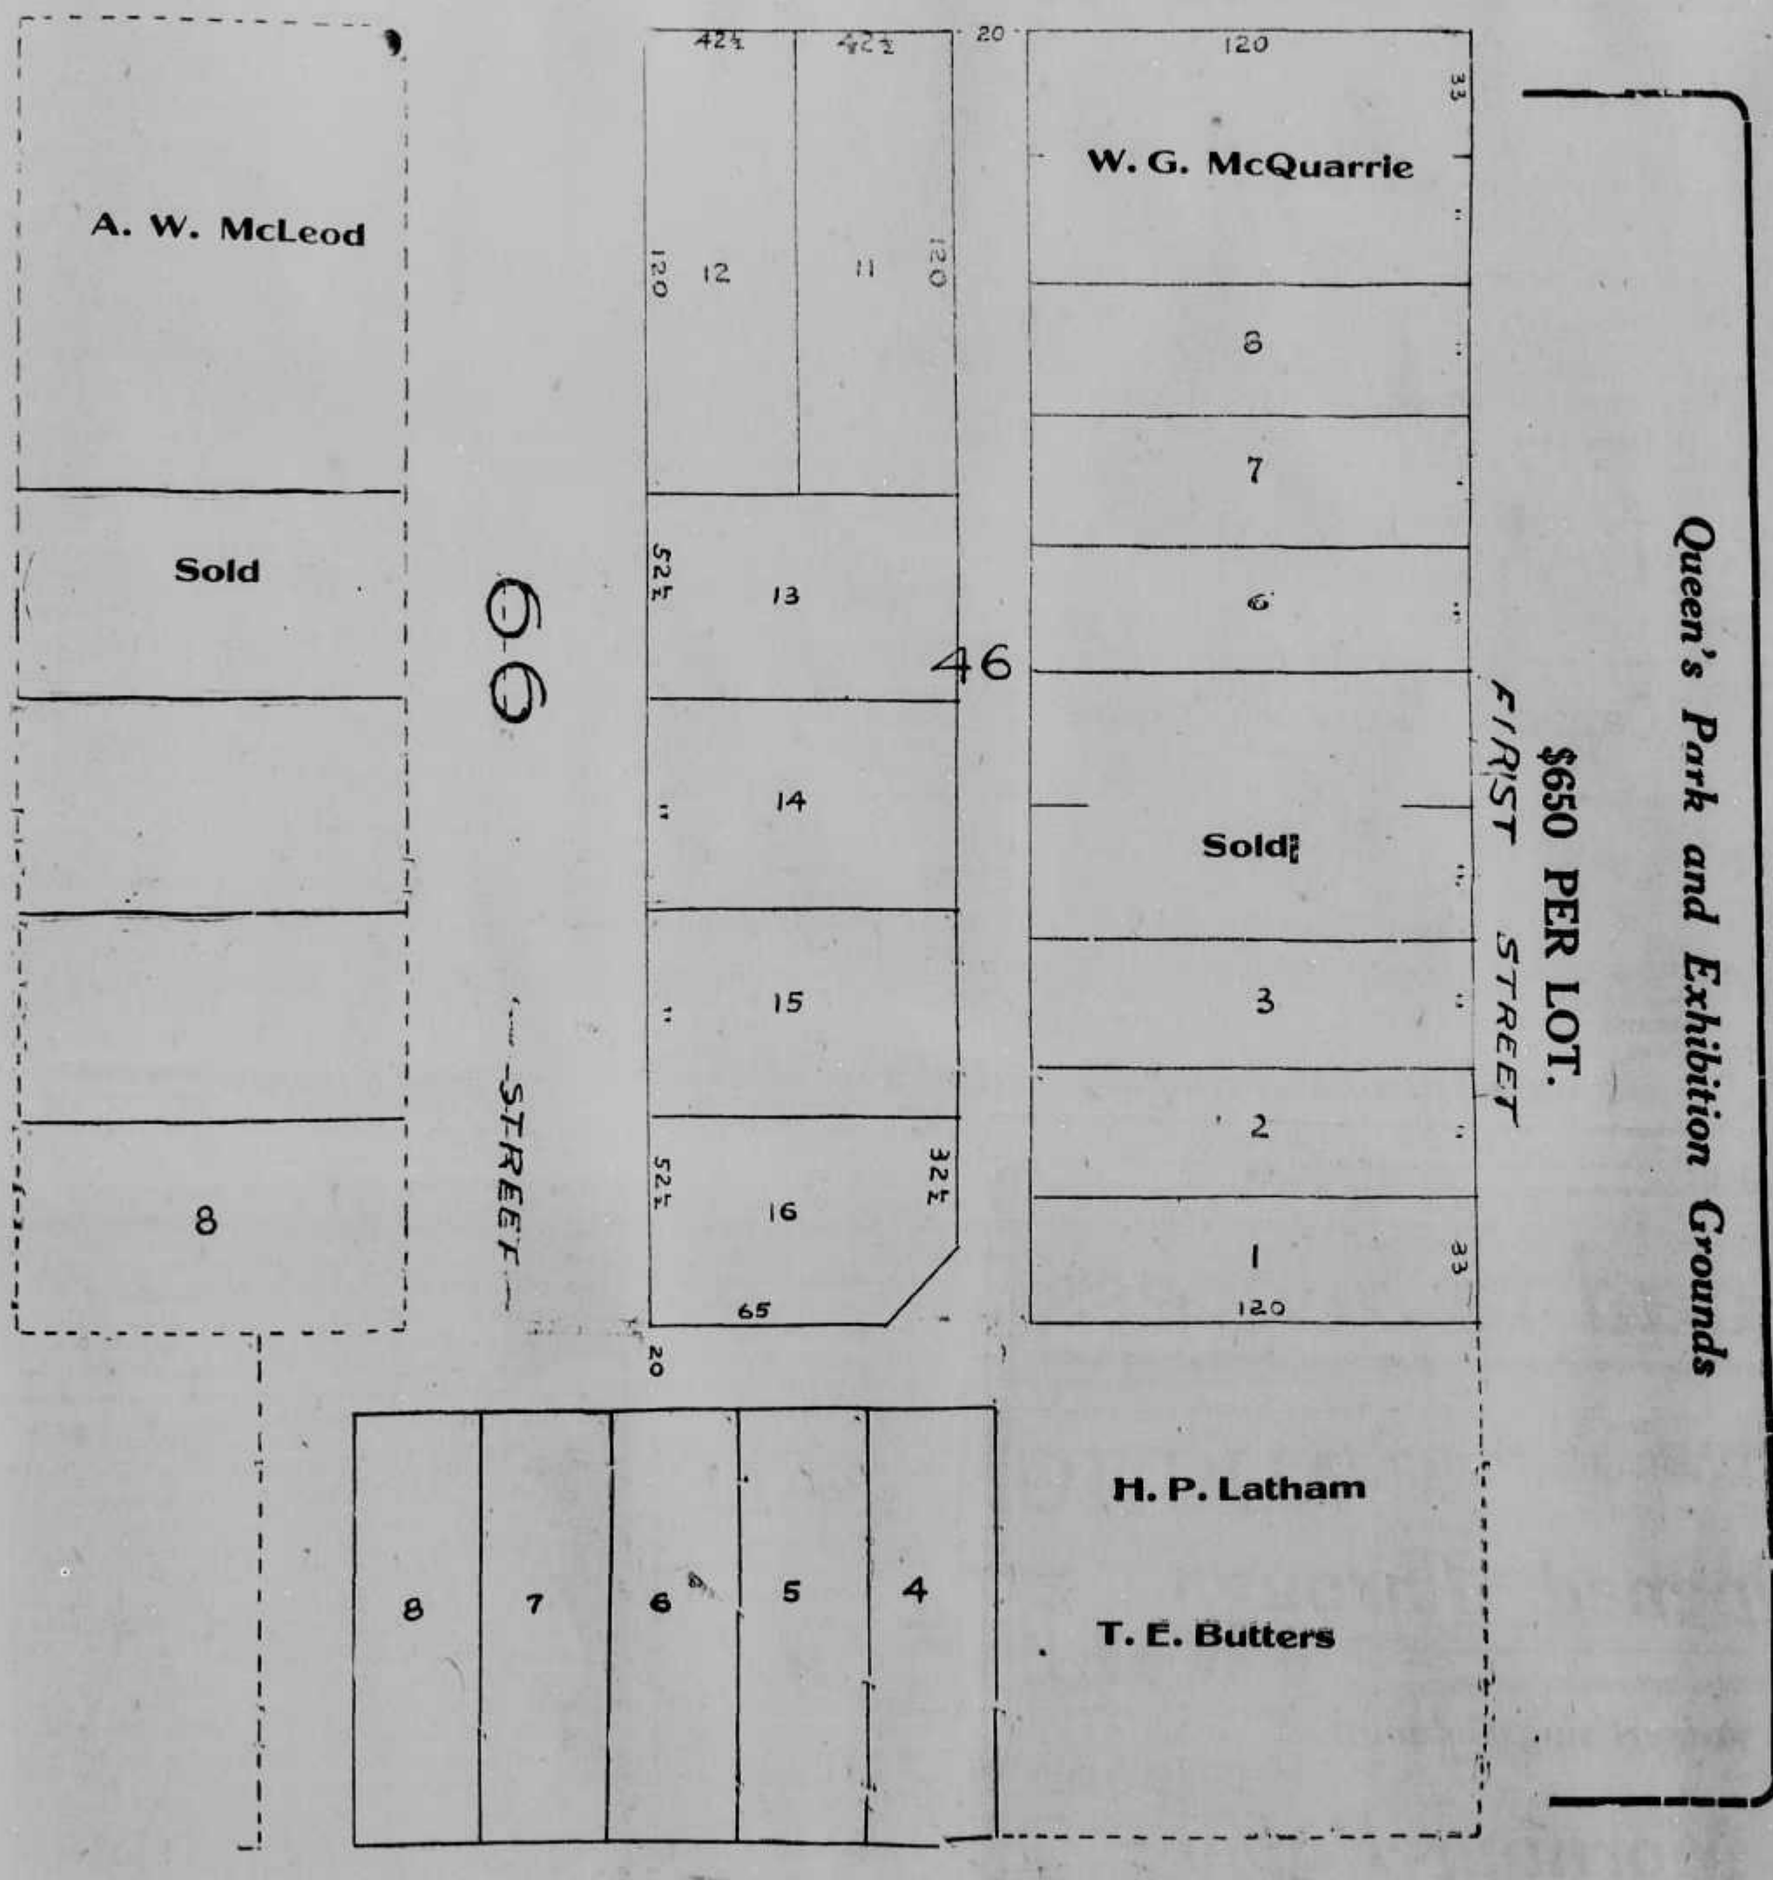
Do You Intend Building?

"There is no time like the present" is an old saying but more especially does this apply to building operations at this moment. LUMBER HAS GONE DOWN to a very astonishing extent. It is, however, very questionable if it will remain so much longer. Labor is also much lower and more available than it was this time last year. Make inquiries and convince yourself. DON'T PROCRASTINATE until prices go up again.

Of course you will have to procure a lot and this is where WE CAN BE OF ASSISTANCE TO YOU. We have been given the EXCLUSIVE SALE of what is beyond the least shadow of doubt the most desirable property in the City of New Westminster. WE DO NOT MEAN AWAY OUT IN THE SUBURBS where it is necessary to use fancy names in order to attract prospective purchasers BUT IN THE VERY HEART OF THE BEST RESIDENTIAL SECTION OF THE CITY.

It is situated on FIRST STREET between SECOND and THIRD AVENUES. FACING ON THE BEAUTIFIED PORTION OF QUEEN'S PARK, it commands a magnificient view of the Fraser River and the Pitt Mountains. You can also see all the LACROSSE MATCHES and other sports without going out of the house. Be sure to look at these lots before buying elsewhere. Nearly every lot faces on a 66-foot street and has a lane at the rear. Below is a plan of the property which you might cut out and take with you when you go to pick out your lot. If one lot is too small for your purposes you can take two or three and have just as large a frontage as you want. If you cannot aford to buy lots facing on the Park look at the back lots, the prices of which are absurdedly low. Remember: WE ARE THE ONLY FIRM IN THE CITY WHO CAN SELL THIS PROPERTY.

PLAN OF PROPERTY



INDEFEASIBLE TITLE given with every lot. EASY TERMS CAN BE ARRANGED.

ALSO

Six lots and a house facing Fourth Avenue between Pine and Third Sts. House is seven roomed with modern improvements. One lot corner of Sixth street and Fourth Avenue. Price.....$1200.

Time to Change.

"Ladies and gentlemen," said the lecturer after bowing to the first round of applause that followed his introduction, "I propose this evening to address you on the all important subject of 'the training and rearing of boys.' It is a broad subject that is demanding more and more attention every day. In the beginning, and in order to lay a broad foundation for the proper treatment of this great subject, I will"—

"Excuse me, professor," interrupted the harassed little man who was almost hidden away in the corner, "but how many boys have you?"

"Well, er, um—well, the fact is, sir, I have no children at all," stammered the lecturer.

"That's all right, then," said the little man, sinking back into his seat. "I was afeered you had a few of 'em, an' if you had I knowed it was a cinch you didn't know nothin' about raisin' 'em. You kin go ahead and I'll listen 'cause I'm lookin' for expert advice on the subject."

But somehow or other the lecturer thought best to change the subject.

Venison Once Cheaper Than Pork.

Time was, along in the early forties and the early fifties of the last century, that from the wilds of Morgan and Brown counties hunters would bring venison to market and sell it much lower than pork was sold for that day, pork being preferred by the Hoosier then to the red deer of the woods. It was in that time that an entire wild turkey, full grown, would sell at a price far below the present appraisement of a scrawny spring chicken, and a dozen quail could be bought for less money than it now takes to buy a dozen links of sausage—neither was the quail required to masquerade as "short billed snipe."—Indianapolis News.

Loving Kindness.

My dog tried to bite me. I liked the dog, so I kicked him lovingly in the jaw. He understood that argument.

My grocer tried to cheat me. I liked the grocer. I did not kick him in the jaw, but I told him lovingly that I would not deal with him again. He understood that argument.

My baby tried to slap me. I liked the baby, but I did not kick her in the jaw or even cease to play with her. I kissed her lovingly on her cheek. She understood that argument.—Independent.

The Aye-aye.

A very strange animal, related to the lemurs and peculiar to Madagascar, is the aye-aye. It feeds on wood boring grubs that tunnel into the bark of trees. The beast cuts away the outer bark with its chisel-like teeth, and as the worm retreats to the end of its hole pokes after it with a finger. This finger is a remarkable organ, evidently provided by nature for this purpose, being abnormally long and armed with a hook shaped claw for dragging out the grub.

The Inspector's Life.

Caller—I'd think that your father's duties as building inspector would be awfully dangerous going round unsafe buildings. Small Son of the House—Oh, no; he doesn't go near 'em till after they fall down.—Life.

GAS RIVALS FIGHT FOR BREMERTON FRANCHISE

Two Seattle Promoters Appear Before Council With Offers of Cheap Light.

Bremerton, May 8.—A fight for a gas franchise in Bremerton is being waged by two promoters of Seattle. The city council has both propositions under consideration and an interesting meeting is expected when the two franchises come up for final action.

Oscar Foote, of Seattle, asked for a franchise a week or two ago, offering to furnish illuminating gas at $1.25 a 1000 feet and $1.25 for industrial purposes. Before final action was taken on his offer Ezra Norman, of Seattle, asked for a franchise, offering to supply gas at $1.35.

At last night's meeting of the council final consideration of the two franchises was postponed and the applicants were ordered to show that they have capital sufficient to carry out their obligations in the franchises.
