FRASER RIVER FISHING TO BE FURTHER RESTRICTED

McBride's Alien Pet Is Alarmed at Great Privileges Enjoyed by Westminster Fishermen—Hints at Stringent Regulations and More Persecutions

John P. Babcock, an imported alien and so-called fisheries expert and commissioner, who has long since had the ear of the McBride government with regard to the Fraser river fisheries, and whose instructions to that administration have been blindly followed to the great detriment of the Westminster fishermen, is out advocating the infliction of more stringent regulations.

Bearing in mind the advantage of the trap owners, Babcock is emphatic in his assertion that the Fraser river fishermen are enjoying too many privileges, and is anxious to "adopt additional measures to ensure the stocking of the spawning beds."

An expressed wish emanating from J. P. Babcock is a command to the McBride government. Babcock speaks as the mouthpiece of the trap owners, whose wishes must be respected.

While in this city last Friday, speaking on behalf of the Conservative candidate for Federal honors, Premier McBride, after indulging in some heroics, assured his good friends the fishermen that he was sorry for them and that he would be willing to discuss any question with them." Incidentally, he implored them not to turn the sins of his government upon the head of his fractious disciple, J. D. Taylor.

By the way, neither Premier McBride nor Minister of Fisheries Bowser have as yet condescended to reply to a number of resolutions passed at a meeting of fishermen several weeks ago when demands for better treatment by the Victoria authorities were made. A promise of further consideration will probably be made at some future political meeting, these cheap catch-vote schemes being especially popular with the Conservative government of this province and its unctuous supporters.

It is extremely unlikely that Babcock's suggestion that more stringent regulations be enforced on the Fraser river will be allowed to grow old before being acted upon by the Conservative government. The combine will not permit this.

Trap Babcock discovered the need of more persecution against the Fraser river fishermen after making a trip up river last week, and unbosomed himself to a Colonist reporter on his return to the Capital City. The full text of the interview is here given:

"John P. Babcock returned on Monday night from his annual trip to the headwaters of the Fraser, whither he goes each year to observe the salmon as they reach the spawning beds. He gives an interesting account of his observations from which it will be seen that while the catch of salmon this year has been greater than was expected or appears to be usual in an 'off' year, yet the number of fish which reached the spawning grounds was most disappointing, and the hatcheries secured but a meagre million of eggs for propagation purposes.

"From this Mr. Babcock draws the conclusion that the regulations at present in force are not sufficiently restricted if the supply of salmon is to be kept up. Discussing the question with a Colonist reporter yesterday, Mr. Babcock said:

"'I returned from the headwaters of the Fraser yesterday in order to clean up the files of the department, after which I shall go back to the river for a time. I went up the river, as I do every year, to ascertain as nearly as possible the number of sockeye which reached the spawning grounds. The number which successfully evaded the traps and nets and gained access to the extreme headwaters of the Fraser river this year was greater than in any "off" year since I have been familiar with the conditions. At Fort George, the Indians captured more in one night this last August than they caught all the season last year. The run to Chilliwack lake was most promising. The Chicotin Indians were very successful. They took over 20,000 with their dip nets in August. They have not taken so many in any year, except 1905, in the last seven years. Last year and in 1906 they caught but few hundred. They had good fishing this year for fully two weeks.

"'Considering that the catch in both the Sound and the gulf and lower Fraser was much greater this year than last, and even better than four years ago, and that the regulations on the Fraser were more restrictive this year than last, the run to the spawning beds is most disappointing. It would appear that the new regulations were not as drastic as has been charged, that they are not yet sufficiently restrictive to insure the perpetuation of the industry, that we are still catching too many fish and must adopt additional measures to insure the stocking of the spawning beds.'"

EMPLOYER OFFERS TO SELL PLANT TO MEN

Weary of Constant Friction, Englishman Is Willing to Step Aside.

London, Oct. 8.—Labor delegates representing the employees of the great engineering firm of Furness, Whitley & Co. Ltd., are considering the proposals of the employers to permit the workmen to buy the plant or enter a profit sharing agreement with the firm. Friction between the firm and employees is stopped. The offer was made to Sir Christopher Furness, head of the firm, during a meeting with the labor representatives at West Hartlepool.

Furness told the delegates that strikes must be stopped or the works would be compelled to shut down. He suggested that if trades unions thought they could carry on the business themselves, the firm would sell to them at a price set by impartial assessors. His proposition was that if the unions would not buy the plant, the firm would admit them to a profit sharing basis, providing a council be formed to settle disputes by referring them to arbitration.

Mirage Shows Approaching Fleet.

Hamburg, Oct. 8.—A marvelous mirage of the Baltic fleet was seen upon the southern skies this morning.

JUNGLE EXPOSURE ARE FORGOTEEN IN EUROPE

London, Oct. 8.—A report has been current in this city that the London representatives of a Chicago firm has been commissioned by certain continental countries to secure 20,000,000 pounds of canned meats for army purposes.

The manger of the firm in question was spoken to, and said that negotiations were pending to supply a limited amount of rations to a continental country, but that the amount reported was ridiculous.

SUFFRAGETTES FAIL IN ATTEMPT TO REGISTER

New York, Oct. 8—The first attempt by the New York suffragettes to have their names placed on the voters' list of this city suffered defeat today when fourteen women visited the registration booths and tried vainly to induce the registry clerks to record their names. No disorder accompanied the attempt.

MRS. JOAN DUNSMUIR LEFT TWO MILLION

Victoria, Oct. 7.—The will of the late Mrs. Dunsmuir was read yesterday. It disposes of an estate valued at about $2,000,000. Legacies to more distant relatives to the amount of $85,000 are made, after which the residue is divided equally between the five daughters, who are named as executrices.

BOY ABANDONED.

At the monthly meeting of the Westminster Benevolent society held in the board of trade room yesterday afternoon, Secretary W. A. Duncan was instructed to write C. J. South, superintendent of the Vancouver Children's home, with reference to an eight-year-old boy who was abandoned in this city three months ago by his father, John Baker. Mrs. Hakkela, a woman who has been looking after the lad during the past twelve weeks, informed one of the officers of the society that she had received no payment for the keep of the child, and that she had no knowledge of the present whereabouts of the father, who left for the South early in July. The passing of a number of accounts and the transaction of a certain amount of routine business occupied the attention of the members before the adjournment was taken.

BASEBALL SMOKER IS SURE TO BE POPULAR

Committee Named to Arrange Attractive Program for Nicotine Feast—Finances in Fair Shape.

Preliminary arrangements for the holding of a smoker under the auspices of the Westminster Baseball club towards the end of this month were made at an executive meeting yesterday evening, a strong committee being named with instructions to draft a program and secure a suitable hall where the smokefest may be held. The decision to hold a post-season smoker was arrived at after an audit of the finances, when it was discovered that the club is in need of a few dollars to break even and pay off a few outstanding debts, the proceeds of the nicotine feast being devoted to this laudable purpose.

Promises of assistance from a number of local artistes have already been secured. It is proposed to have a boxing exhibition as one of the star attractions of the evening, there being several exponents of the noble art of self-defence in this city anxious to demonstrate their ability in the ring before an appreciative audience.

The smoker will not be held until after the Dominion elections.

FLAG QUESTION AGAIN DISCUSSED BY TRUSTEES

Minister of Education Will Be Asked for Definite Instructions—Canadian Flags Not Ordered.

The question of flag flying over the public schools of this city again came up for discussion at a meeting of the board of school trustees yesterday evening, when, in order to test the sentiment of the government on the matter, a resolution was passed authorizing the secretary to write the minister of education inquiring whether he objected to the flying of the Canadian flag over public school buildings. The reply of the minister will settle for all time the dispute as to whether the instructions from the government to fly the Union Jack are compulsory or merely optional, and, as this is the first time the question has been raised, considerable interest will be taken in the course defined by Dr. Young.

The discussion on flag flying started when Trustee Trapp, in the chair, reported that he had not yet ordered the four Canadian flags according to the request of the board at a recent meeting. Trustees Peck, Curtis and Thornbur took part in the debate, in the course of which a letter published in the local press on Sept. 12, and signed "Nova Scotian," was read and discussed.

The heating of the new West Side school came in for consideration, Trustee Peck being instructed to see that all tenders be obtained as early as possible.

A committee report to the effect that the Central school grounds had been prepared for seeding was received. Considerable other routine business was also transacted.

KILLED BY LOG.

New Westminster Man Meets Violent Death at Nanoose Bay.

News was received here yesterday of the accidental death of Isaac Hood, a young bridge carpenter, 23 years of age, who was crushed by a falling log at Nanoose Bay, Vancouver Island, on Tuesday afternoon, dying shortly after in Nanaimo. Deceased had been a resident of Westminster for the past eight years, but for some months past had been working at Nanoose. Two brothers, John A., of Ninth street, this city, and William, of Toronto, and two sisters, Mrs. Emma Bagley, of Ninth street, and Miss Annie Hood, of Newfoundland, are the only near relatives surviving. Deceased was a native of Bay Roberts, Newfoundland, and a member of L. O. L. No. 1156, New Westminster, the members of which probably will attend the funeral in a body, the body being brought here for interment by W. E. Pales.

DELTA HIGHWAY ACTION WRONGLY INSTITUTED

Justice Clement Decides that Action Should Have Been Brought Against V. V. & E. by Attorney-General.

Justice Clement has thrown out the case brought by the municipality of Delta versus the V. V. & E. railway to force the latter to provide a new highway before taking possession of a certain section of the old Ladner road to be used for right-of-way purposes. His honor's reason for so doing was on account of the action being brought by the wrong parties, instead of by the attorney-general.

It appears that the railroad company, after securing possession of the old road and laying out a new section, unsatisfactory to the settlers, showed very little regard for the interests of the landowners, and neglected to settle regarding the purchase price.

A short time ago the municipality brought suit for the owners to compel the railway company to vacate the old premises until such time as a new road, free from all encumbrances, might be provided. This action was also thrown out by the court.

George E. Martin, legal representative for the land owners, received notice yesterday morning that measures would be adopted to appoint a successor to the late Judge Cane for the arbitration board, while it is further understood that the railway company intends proceeding with the expropriation of the land, the owners to be paid in accordance with the ruling of the board.

Fur Companies in Political Fight.

Regina, Oct. 7.—Word comes from the north that the election in the provincial constituency of Athabasca has resolved itself into a struggle for supremacy between the two great rival fur companies. The Hudson's Bay company is backing Joe Nolan, a Battleford ferryman, and Revillon Bros. are behind Benoit, who is the Prince Albert candidate. On the result of the election of Oct. 15 the prestige of the companies will rest, and the one suffering defeat will be given a crushing blow so far as the northern fur trade is concerned.

Charges Graft in Panama Bids.

New York, Oct. 8.—William F. Brothers, one of the unsuccessful bidders on Panama canal construction work, declares that he will today present to the board of inquiry ordered by the secretary of war, evidence of graft in construction on the big ditch. Brothers is president of the Balanced Cable Crane company, and intimates that although the lowest bidder, his firm was ignored through the machinations of officials in Panama and Washington.

Has Lived Under Every President.

Redbank, Pa., Oct. 7.—Mrs. "Betsy" Freeman, who is believed to be the oldest woman in the United States, quietly observed her 115th birthday today at her little home in Madison township, this country. Mrs. Freeman was born in Fayette county in 1793 and has always lived here. So far as is known she is the only person now living who has lived under every president of the United States from Washington to Roosevelt.

LABOR POLICY RECORD OF THE LAURIER GOVERNMENT

Legislative Library 1908

Work Accomplished by Liberal Administration at Ottawa for Cause of Labor—Salient Features Reviewed—Creation of Separate Department of Labor Under Special Minister Proposed.

"We have done for the cause of labor what no other government has done. I shall take the first opportunity to submit to my colleagues that the time has come when we should have a department of labor under a separate minister."—Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Berlin.

The announcement by Sir Wilfrid Laurier of his determination to create a separate department of labor under its own minister makes it timely to recall the more salient features of the progressive labor policy of the Laurier government since 1896. Here they are:

The establishment of a Department of Labor.

The publication of a monthly journal known as the Labor Gazette.

The abolition of the sweating system in connection with Government contracts.

The abolition of prison labor contracts.

The adoption of a fair wages policy with regard to all government contracts.

The enactment of legislation to aid in the prevention and settlement of strikes and lockouts by:

(1) The Conciliation Act, 1900.

(2) The Railway Labor Disputes Act, 1903.

(3) The Industrial Disputes Investigation Act, 1907.

The enactment of legislation and the adoption of measures to protect Canadian workingmen from competition of alien labor, and the unfair competition of such classes of labor as might tend to lower the standard of living of the industrial classes of this country, as for example:

(1) The Alien Labor Act of 1897, and Amendments of 1898 and 1901.

(2) The appointment in 1903 of royal commissions to enquire into the alleged employment of aliens on the Pere Marquette railway and on the Grand Trunk Pacific railway.

(3) The Act to prevent false representations to induce immigrants to come to Canada, 1903.

(4) The enactment in 1905 by the Parliament of Great Britain of a measure in reference to false representations, similar to the last named, in the British Isles to induce emigration to Canada, passed at the request of the Canadian government, the Deputy Minister of Labor having been sent to England to urge the wishes of the Canadian government upon the British authorities.

(5) The appointment of a royal commission in 1900 to enquire into the effect of Chinese and Japanese immigration.

(6) The imposition, as the result of the recommendations of this commission, of a $500 head tax upon Chinese coming into Canada.

(7) The investigation, under royal commission of the methods by which Oriental laborers have been induced to come to Canada.

(8) The effective restriction, amounting to complete prohibition, so far as contract labor is concerned, of immigration from Japan, as the result of the investigations and the special mission of the Minister of Labor to Japan to confer with the Japanese authorities.

(9) The effective restriction, amounting to complete prohibition, so far as contract labor is concerned, of all immigration from India, as a result of the investigation and the special mission of the Deputy Minister of Labor to England to confer with the British authorities on the subject of immigration from the Orient, and immigration from India in particular.

(10) Regulation of the immigration branch of the Department of the Interior, requiring immigrants to come to Canada by direct passage on a through ticket, to have in their possession a specified sum of money, and other like requirements.

The enactment of legislation and the adoption of measures to protect the health and life of workingmen and women, so far as action along these lines was within the power of the Dominion, as for example:

(1) The investigation, under royal commission, in 1898, into the death from diphtheria of workmen employed upon the construction of the Crow's Nest Pass railway.

(2) The enactment in 1899, as a result of the investigations of the royal commission of 1898, of an Act for the protection of the health of employees engaged on public works followed by further regulations by Order-in-Council on January 31, 1900, and again by Order-in-Council on May 31, 1902, providing machinery for the proper carrying out of the measure.

(3) Legislation for the prevention of accidents on railways, and the appointment of an officer to investigate cases of all railway accidents.

(4) An investigation in 1907 into the methods by which the government clothing contracts were being carried out, which has been followed by regulations for the suppression of the sweating system and the adoption of a fair wages policy on all government contract work.

(5) An investigation in 1907 into conditions of employment of the operatives in the employ of the Bell Telephone company which resulted in a material improvement in the condition of labor of hundreds of women and young girls, and in the publication of a report which will have a far-reaching effect in influencing provincial legislation and practice in the matter of employment in this calling.

(6) An investigation during the past few months under royal commission into conditions of employment of operatives in the cotton factories in the province of Quebec, which has brought to light some startling facts in regard to the employment of child labor in that industry, and which is certain to result in regulations for the betterment of conditions of women and children, as well as for all classes of labor in that and kindred industries.

(7) The enactment of important measures of social and moral reform, such as the Lord's Day Act, which contains important provisions on the subject of Sunday labor, and the suppression of the opium traffic in Canada, which was a direct outcome of a report prepared by the Deputy Minister of Labor, and a bill introduced at the last session by the Minister of Labor.

Bert Henry Married.

Bert Henry, a popular young man of this city, where he is engaged in the cigar manufacturing business in partnership with Pat Feeney, was on Wednesday afternoon married in Victoria to Miss Beasom Marguerite Curtis, of that city, the ceremony taking place at the Catholic bishop's palace, in the presence of a few friends. Bert Galbraith, of Westminster, acted as best man, while Miss Margaret Ritchie, of Victoria, attended the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Henry will spend their honeymoon in Seattle and Portland before returning to take up their residence here.

This Is My 45th Birthday

Edward William Bok.

Edward William Bok, the well known Philadelphia editor and writer, was born in Helder, Holland on October 9, 1863. His great-grandfather was admiral-in-chief of the Dutch navy, his grandfather a chief justice of the supreme court and his father one of the ministers of the court of King William III. Business reverses led his father to emigrate to America with his family in 1869. He settled in Brooklyn, where young Bok received his education. At the age of thirteen years he became office boy in the employ of the Western Union Telegraph company. He devoted his spare time to study and soon became stenographer. At the age of nineteen he became editor of the Brooklyn Magazine, which he sold after a few years, to become connected with the publishing firm of Henry Holt & Co., and later with that of Charles Scribner's Sons. At the age of twenty-five he became the editor of a magazine for women published in Philadelphia. He has also won recognition on the lecture platform, principally by his talks about "The Keys to Success," addressed to young men.

From Other Points of View

Same Old Bowser.

From the way Mr. Bowser, of British Columbia, talked to a Toronto audience last evening, the suspicion arises that he must be a near relative of the Mr. Bowser, of newspaper fame, whose specialty is worrying his wife and making an ass of himself.—Hamilton Times.

An Honorable Tradition.

Liberal tradition is progress, and Conservative tradition is reaction. Parties may vary temporarily, but this is their tendency. Canada has had twelve years of progress, and the people like it too well to break in on it without cause.—Toronto Globe

The Great Difference.

The difference between the two political parties in Canada as shown by the respective records of their parliamentary representatives—is the difference between "doers" and "knockers." The Government and its supporters plan and do things while the Conservative Opposition knock and obstruct. If the latter had prevailed not one of the great enterprises of the country inaugurated during the past twelve years would have been undertaken.—Pacific Globe.

What Would Happen.

Should Hon. Robt. Rogers become Minister of the Interior, which he certainly will if the Conservatives attain power, what kind of an administration can we expect from him? Take all the charges made by the Conservatives against the administration of affairs of this Department by the Liberals, assume their truth for the purpose of calculation only and multiply them sold. Thus you will get an approximation of what would happen should King Bob come into what he regards as his own. Manitoba Free Press.

Working the Roorbach.

There has been no election since Confederation wherein our Conservative friends have failed to work the roorbach—a device that is said, like the gerrymander, to be of American origin. The present election is no exception to the rule. A few days ago every Tory paper in the land contained the statement that Mr. Brodeur said the doom of the Laurier government was sealed if the Conservatives should secure more than ten seats in Quebec. Of course Mr. Brodeur said no such thing. In plain Saxon the statement is a lie. But our friends, the enemy, are still repeating the story, finding comfort in it, working it overtime, and galvanizing the poor dead thing into semblance of life. Before the election is over we may expect to hear that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has thrown up the sponge and resigned from office, that Mr. Fielding has pronounced the tariff a failure, and that the Toronto News and Montreal Star have both declared that Forester Foster is whiter than snow. Next.—Victoria Times.

The Overshadowing Issue.

The failure of the opposition to raise any dominating issue against the Liberal administration may be said to be its great weakness in the present campaign from a party point of view. With the voters fairly content with things as they are and dazzled by the magnitude of the things promised, the Conservatives are making a losing fight from the start. * * * Since 1900, when Sir Charles Tupper dropped out as an active factor in Canadian politics the opposition has been almost nominal.

The reasons for this are chiefly personal rather than partisan. While the Conservatives have labored under the disadvantage of having no commanding personality among their leaders, the Liberals in Sir Wilfrid Laurier have a statesman who has won first rank among Canadian statesmen and colonial premiers and is admittedly a figure in world politics. The first French-Canadian to achieve the premiership, he has succeeded in impressing his personality upon his administration to a degree scarcely equalled, certainly not surpassed, even by Sir John MacDonald in his prime. He has also certain admirable qualities which eminently fit him for Canadian leadership in the days of the unexampled development of the Dominion. His schemes, such as the new transcontinental railway, the Hudson Bay railway, the development of Canadian waterways, the All-Red line and British preferential trade, have touched the imagination of his countrymen and filled Canadians with optimism as to the splendid future Canada is entering upon. Erect, lithe and vigorous, despite his sixty-seven years, he is still buoyant and hopeful and with abundant confidence in the final realization of his dreams of Canada's future.

With such a leader the Liberals face the coming general election in confidence. Their campaign slogan, "Let Laurier finish his work," fitly indicates that the premier and his policies form the overshadowing issue of the present electoral campaign.—New York Sun.

Taxation Reduced.

In 1896, under the Conservative tariff, $18.28 was the average amount paid upon every $100 worth of goods imported into the country.

Under the Liberals, the average rates per annum have been as follows:

1897	$17.57
1898	$16.95
1899	$16.70
1900	$15.98
1901	$16.06
1902	$15.09
1903	$15.87
1904	$16.28
1905	$16.04
1906	$15.73
1907	$15.66

If, since the Liberals have been in power, the Conservative average rate of taxation in 1896 had been levied upon all the imports, nearly fifty million dollars more duties would have been collected. That is the fair measure of the reduction of taxation brought about by the Liberals.

The Great Principle.

"We have endeavored to bring our country to the rank and station it now occupies. In a thousand and one different ways we have endeavored to create an atmosphere for the Canadian people to live and move in. Our policy has been to have every possible and due consideration for our duties and obligations as British subjects, because we are both Canadian and British subjects. Our policy I summed up at the last Imperial conference. It has been Imperial unity based upon local autonomy. This is the principle for which we are fighting at the present time. This is the principle which I commend to you, my fellow-countrymen."—Sir Wilfrid Laurier

Synopsis of Canadian Homestead Regulations.

Any available Dominion land within the railway belt in British Columbia, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

COAL.—Coal mining rights may be leased for a period of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2560 acres shall be leased to one individual or company. A royalty at the rate of five cents per ton shall be collected on the merchantable coal mined.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

Synopsis of Canadian North-West Homestead Regulations.

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or sub-agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. But ownership in land will not meet the requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of the homestead, or if on a homestead entered for by himself in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father (or mother).

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line, exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

How to Save

Saving begins at home and the formation of a savings account is the determination to save regularly.

FIRST—Make a definite allowance for a savings deposit, as large as possible, before any expenditure is made from the regular income.

THEN—Keep a careful account of income and expenses, a way to avoid waste.

Do It Now

OUR depositors receive interest on their SAVINGS ACCOUNTS every three months—March 31st, June 30th, September 30th, December 31st. The red ink interest entries that you see put down in your savings bank-book will strike you very pleasantly indeed.

WHEN REST IS NEEDED.

Feeling at Incentive to Perform Sure of Familiar Work.

"When people fall into the habit of wondering whether they have done routine things it is high time for them to consider the advisability of a rest," said a physician. "There is no surer sign, to my mind, that the system is becoming overtaxed than this feeling of uncertainty.

"I was staying with a friend the other night—spending the night with him, in fact. He's a man whom I know pretty well, and I thought at dinner and through the evening, from a little nervousness in his conversation and manner, that things weren't all right with him, but I wasn't absolutely convinced till bedtime approached. We were sitting upstairs in the study, his family having retired, and he asked me to excuse him while he saw that the house was locked up. It was a still night, and I could follow his progress around the various rooms on the first floor. He seemed to me to be unnecessarily long, and, without being inquisitive, I really became interested to know whether he wasn't making the rounds twice. Finally I heard him go into the parlor, a room I was sure he had visited at least once before. When he came upstairs I asked laughingly how many times he had seen that each window was fastened. But he wasn't in a laughing mood at all.

"'It's a funny thing, old man,' he said, 'but I've been fool enough to look at each window two or three times. Do you know, it would strike me after I had left a room that perhaps I hadn't put the catch properly on one of the windows there, and back I'd have to go to make sure. Going in there, I'd examine the other windows again. It's been that way for half a dozen nights. Somehow doing these things doesn't seem to make the impression on me that one would expect. This lack of success isn't confined to locking windows either. I find myself at the office wondering whether I have given such and such instructions—instructions that are so much a part of my daily work that I suppose I give them mechanically and then forget them. Nine times out of ten I find everything is all right, but I'm not quite happy till I do. I guess I must be getting old maidish in my old age.'

"It was my turn to be serious then. I explained to him that his forgetfulness all came from being overtired. From habit he worked like an automaton, doing this, that, and the other thing in his business or home life, but a great number of his actions were without the cognizance of the brain. He needed rest and if he did not take it he would break down.

"I got him away from cares for a bit, and the next time I saw him he laughed as heartily over the incident of the much locked windows as I pretended to. He doesn't know it, but he had a narrow escape. I'm telling this story that it may serve as a warning in an overstrenuous age." New York Press.

LINCOLN'S GROCERY.

Result of One Partner's Hunger and the Other Partner's Thirst.

A giant in stature, he was as awkward as he was strong. His rustic appearance was enhanced by an ill fitting suit of homespun. Thus at the head of the ox team he made his debut in the outer world, without means, without education, without influence. This may seem a sorry beginning, but let it be remembered that if on that day he had graduated from Harvard in a fashionable coat the gates of history would probably have been closed against him.

Mr. Lincoln's first business venture resulted in downright failure. He formed a partnership with one Berry, under the firm name of Berry & Lincoln, to carry on a grocery, for the purchase price of which the firm note was given. Berry was a jolly, irresponsible sort, who was born thirsty and who gave his undivided attention to that part of the stock known as "wet groceries." Mr. Lincoln, on the other hand, having a keen appetite, devoted himself to the crackers and cheese, smoked herrings and other edibles at the dry end of the shop. This happy adjustment rivaled the familiar case of Jack Sprat and his congenial spouse, but the meager stock could not long withstand the inroads of hunger at the one end and thirst at the other, and a crisis came which required the sale of the remnant of stock. The purchaser defaulted, and Mr. Lincoln was left to pay all the liabilities—a task which plagued him for several years. Thereby he had impressed upon him a legal proposition that a partner is liable in solido.

It is related that Mr. Lincoln bought a barrel of a customer, in the bottom of which, among other rubbish, was found a copy of "Blackstone's Commentaries." This was a great find for the law student, but as the book thereafter engrossed his attention the grocery business collapsed. Thus endeth the first lesson.—J. Y. Quarles Spunn's.

Irving's Unjust Fight.

When Irving first appeared in a certain midland town critics declared that his curious mannerisms of voice, gait and gesture destroyed his chances of becoming a great actor. How Irving confounded his critics by creating triumph after triumph and redeeming the English stage from the charge of mediocrity is now a matter of history. This great Shakespearean actor rose from the ranks to the head of his profession by sheer force of his histrionic power, ability and originality. And withal he was one of the most kindly of men, generous to a fault when the distress and troubles of others came under his notice.—London Mail.

SEATTLE STEAMER RUNS ASHORE IN FOG

Seattle, Oct. 5.—The steamer Rainier, owned from Coley across the Sound to this port with 100 passengers aboard, ran on the beach at Alki Point at 5 o'clock this morning in the dense fog. For a time the passengers believed they had run into another steamer and the panic was great. Boats were lowered and all were safely taken ashore and sent into town on the electric cars. One boat became lost in making shore, so dense was the fog, but by calls was finally picked up by a tug. The Rainier will probably float at high tide this afternoon.

Banquet Sir Thomas.

Victoria, B.C., Oct. 5.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the C. P. R., has accepted an invitation of the board of trade and citizens of Victoria, and will be banqueted on his next visit to this city. This will be in the course of his annual inspection of the line, and will probably take place in about a month.

A TREE OF ILL REPUTE.

The Fresh Juice of the Upas Acts as a Deadly Poison.

An evil reputation has long been borne by the upas tree. Antiaris toxicaria, which grows in Borneo and other East Indian islands. It is still a common belief that birds flying within the influence of its poisonous vapors instantly perish and that it is fatal for animals or men to rest beneath its shade. It resembles certain rhus plants like the poison ivy in emitting a volatile substance which affects the skins of certain susceptible persons, though others are unaffected. The sap is very poisonous and is the chief substance used by the Dyaks of Borneo for poisoning the tips of their darts.

In this process an incision is made in the bark of the tree and the milky exudation collected on a palm leaf and dried first in the sun and then over a fire until a thick brown mass is left. In this state it can be kept without deteriorating, and when required for use it is made into a thin paste with the juice of "tuba" root, which is used to stupefy fish, or with tobacco or lemon juice, and the ends of the darts dipped into the mixture and dried. These darts are made from the middle stem of the palm leaf and are about six or eight inches in length and of about the thickness of a knitting needle.

They are used with a wooden sumpitan, or blowpipe, which is about seven or eight feet in length and has an internal diameter of about one-quarter inch. A bird struck by one of these little darts is instantly killed, and a pig dies in about twenty minutes. The fresh juice of the upas tree, whether swallowed or injected into the blood, acts as a violent poison, causing convulsions and death.—Chicago News.

Lincoln's Rebuke.

The saying that there are few honest lawyers did not hold true in the case of Lincoln. A man once called to retain him on a suit.

"State your case," said honest Abe. The man did, and then Lincoln said: "I cannot represent you, for you are wrong, and the other party is right."

"That is none of your business if I employ you," said the client.

"Pardon me," said the man who afterward became president; "my business is never to defend wrong. I never take a case that is manifestly wrong."

"Well, but you can make trouble for the other fellow."

"Yes," said Lincoln, "I can set a whole community at loggerheads. I can make trouble for this widow and her fatherless children and by so doing get you $500 that rightfully belongs to her, but I won't do it."

"Not if I pay you well?"

"Not for all the money you are worth," was the reply.

A Warrior Too.

The wooden boards that had marked the graves in a certain rural cemetery rotted off and were raked up in the spring cleaning. Consequently on Memorial day when the delegation from the G. A. R. arrived with flags and appropriate floral decorations for their departed comrades the decorating committee found itself somewhat in doubt as to which grave belonged to Captain Blodgett and which to Hannah Ericson. The mistaken delegates heaped their offerings upon Hannah's last resting place and departed. That afternoon Ericson, the widower, drifted, with the rest of his world, to the cemetery. When he saw the flag and the flowers above Hannah the astonished Swede fell to chuckling joyously.

"Vell," he exclaimed delightedly, "Mose faller vas pooty smart too! Ay tank dat vor all right and som' gude robe on Hannah—he vor pooty gude feller herself."—Youth's Companion.

FRIDAY, OCT. 9, 1908.

DO NOT FORGET.

Do not forget that wise administration by the Laurier government strengthened our monetary condition so that we withstood the financial panic of the United States.

MR. JARDINE'S CANDIDATURE.

Mr. Jardine is in the unfortunate position of having to reach the remote as well as the central portions of this large constituency in a very short space of time, while his opponent has been actively canvassing for eighteen months.

Fortunately Mr. Jardine has no personal platform, other than the broad and beneficial principles of Liberalism, to enunciate. He needs none, because the mighty moving force of Liberalism has accomplished so much for the building of the nation, and the comfort and advancement of its people, in the twelve years Sir Wilfrid Laurier has held the reins, that Mr. Jardine can with pride say he stands or falls upon the glorious record made during that time.

When then he stands for the Liberal record as presaging what can be expected during another Parliament, toward the elevation and dignifying of labor, the reduction of taxation, increased opportunities of trade, the advancement and protection of Canadian interests as they affect the multitude, the use of public monies for the developement of the nation, and the cementing together of the great European races represented in our population, giving one solid front as a nation to the world, and answering loyalty to the great British Empire.

In this principle of equality there is perforce the fruition of the greatest good to the greatest number without which all government is unstable. With these broad lines as a foundation there comes the question of meeting the public needs. In this new country and in this large constituency there must necessarily be much to be done that it is the province of the Dominion government to do. There is much the Department of Public Works has done, which was really incumbent [illegible] the Provincial authorities to do. [illegible] Jardine should not be requiring [illegible] promise, neither should he promise to work, which legitimately devolves upon the province. The [illegible] of the channels in our navigable rivers, the building of protection [illegible], the construction of wharves, [illegible] development and protection of our [illegible], the expansion of the postal [illegible], the housing and equipment of our citizen soldiery, the conservation of our timber, and the oversight of our railway, telegraph and telephone systems are all in the province of the Dominion government. That which most affects us here is the deepening of our river channel to which scheme the government is committed, to which a grant of practically $400,000 has been made and on which work has already been commenced. Mr. Jardine can with full assurance pledge himself to see these works carried on without delay. The regulating of the river fisheries also vitally interests us, and no man more qualified to handle this question in the interests of the resident fishermen could represent us at Ottawa, and Mr. Jardine's idea of restricting the number of boats at the mouth of the river will give the white settler who is a bona-fide fisherman as good a chance as he enjoyed in the days when the mouth of the river was not blocked as it is today. The other matter of importance is the free city and rural delivery. It only needs a little unity amongst ourselves to aid the member in securing the one, while the other the Postmaster-General is pledged to establish.

Any other pledges or promises it should be unnecessary for Mr. Jardine to make, above all the place seeker or office hunter should be given to understand that where vacancies occur, or new positions are created by necessity, fitness will be the first consideration, embodying the principles of the new Civil Service Act until such time as its provisions are made applicable to the whole Dominion service of every class. In any case Mr. Jardine intends to make no promise to this class of elector, whether the elector gives or withholds his support, and all true citizens in the constituency should honor him for this firm resolve. In the case of public needs, Mr. Jardine will make no promise, but what he intends to perform, and whether to public bodies or private individuals he pledges his word to see works carried out, he is sufficiently known, that once his pledge is given, the work is practically assured. His business ability as a representative is bringing to his side men who have the true interests of this constituency at heart, and he should poll a very large majority over his opponent.

JUST CONSIDER.

That when the Conservatives went out in 1896 post offices existed only at a few centres, such as New Westminster, Vancouver, Central Park and Cloverdale, and people had to travel long distances to get their mail. The Liberal administration has established fourteen district post offices in the vicinity of the city, namely, at Sunbury, Woodward's, Burnaby Lake, East Burnaby, Fraser Mills (Millside), Timberland, Kensington Prairie, Burquitlam, Piper's Siding, Bon Accord, Strawberry Hill, Britcola, Duthue, and Fraser Arm. They have also erected spacious post office buildings at Vancouver and New Westminster, and instituted an administrative staff under an inspector at the former city.

The only conditions that exist today which did not exist under the Conservatives are those of legislation and administration.—Calgary Albertan.

LOCAL NOTES.

The steamer Trader arrived yesterday at the C. P. N. wharf from Victoria, loaded with fifteen tons of general merchandise for New Westminster, and sixty tons of cement for Nelson, B. C.

Chief of Police J. W. McIntosh will be absent from duty for the next few days, during which time he will pay a visit to his ranch at Pitt Lake. Detective Bradshaw will be acting chief until Mr. McIntosh's return.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Margaret Hall, who died on Wednesday at the advanced age of 96 years and six months, will take place from the residence of A. J. Hill, 190 Fourth street, at two o'clock this afternoon.

At the formal opening of Queen's Avenue Methodist church on Sunday, Rev. C. H. Heustis, B. A., B. D., late of MacDougall Methodist church, Edmonton, will occupy the pulpit in the morning, while Rev. Dr. Sutherland, of Toronto, will preach in the evening. Herbert McNess, late of London, England, and a musician of repute, will preside at the organ at both services, an augmented choir having been secured for this occasion. On Tuesday, a congregational tea will be given in the school room, to be preceded by a musical program in the church, when the brothers McNess will render a number of vocal and instrumental selections. A collection will be taken to defray expenses.

"The Flaming Arrow."

Lincoln J. Carter's sensational drama, "The Flaming Arrow," deals with events that occur on the western plains and the Rocky mountains. It is hot as bloodthirsty as the title would indicate, but is full of pathos, deep heart interest, adventure and side-splitting bursts of laughter which relieves the more serious plot of the story. The play is typically a border drama and exploits Indians, cowboys, but is withal said to be one of the most rational and interesting plays of the kind ever produced.

In the second act in which an Indian council is held, there is a remarkable realistic reproduction of a council fire, with flames leaping upward apparently in the most natural manner. The weird Indian music and chants; the uncarthly dances and war whoops; the fantastic movements of the ghost dancers and a total eclipse of the moon, all tend to make this act one of interest and novelty.

"The Rivals."

Richard Brinsley Sheridan's illustrious classic comedy, "The Rivals, will soon be presented locally by Joseph and William W. Jefferson. The capabilities of these stars, who served their apprenticeship under the tutelage of their father, the late Joseph Jefferson, means that they are the worthy successors of their distinguished sire. Joseph portrays "Sir Lucius O'Trigger," while William W. will play "Bob Acres." Being supported by a company of histrionic merit, an evening of rare enjoyment is assured when "The Rivals" comes to the Westminster Opera house, Tuesday, Oct. 13.

Interesting Store Items for This Week

Now that the rush and bustle of the Exhibition is over thrifty housewives will be looking for goods to replenish the house for the winter season. In our Blanket and House Furnishing Departments are to be found some interesting items which we commend to your careful attention.

Clean Sweep Out of Frilled Curtain Muslin

40c Frilled Muslin for 22 1-2c

We are determined to make a clean sweep of our Frilled Curtain Muslins. As we do not intend to keep this particular and any more, so this is a golden opportunity to secure really high grade Curtain Muslin at less than cost price. The material is plain, floral and coin spot muslin, 48 to 60 inches wide, some frilled on both edges. As we say, the regular price is 40c, but for this week we will sacrifice them at 22½c yard.

Great Activity in the Blanket Department

Have you inspected our Blanket stock this season? If not, don't fail to see our special exhibit this week. Remember we have the biggest Blanket stock in British Columbia. We sell more blankets in thirty days as most larger stores sell in six months. So great is our reputation for good blankets that we have customers send to us for blankets from all over B. C. and Alberta. We buy direct from the mills and sell at mill prices.

White all-wool Blankets, 9-4 size, from $3.25
White all-wool Blankets, 10-4 size, from $4.25
Grey Blankets, 10-4 size, from $2.65

For sale—Seven roomed house, bath room, pantries, closets, woodshed; horse stall, carriage house; fruit trees; on full lot. For further particulars apply to owner, 192 Eighth street. **

Among the most distinguished guests in the city this week was the Hon. Dr. Dewdney, former lieutenant-governor of British Columbia, and recently from Victoria. Mr. Dewdney, accompanied by W. R. Gordon, of Toronto, J. M. Love, Eureka, Kan.; R. A. Hastings, Minneapolis, and Lester W. David, of Seattle, left yesterday afternoon on the Robert Dunsmuir to connect with the steamer Newington, which had been detained by a heavy fog, and which will carry them north, where they will inspect timber limits. Lester David is heading the expedition.

The application of the North Pacific Lumber company for three water records of ten inches each, to be diverted from unnamed streams flowing into Burrard inlet, through lots 215 and ... and to be used for domestic and industrial purposes, were heard yesterday and grants given for the same. A record was also granted to David Saunders, of Cloverdale, for thirteen inches of water to be taken from Campbell river at the southeast quarter of section 22, township 7, Langley municipality, the water to be conveyed by means of a dam, ditch, flume or pipe, and used for agricultural, domestic and industrial purposes.

H. A. Mellon yesterday received a grant for 1000 inches of water to be used in connection with the operation of a pulp mill and other manufacturing industries and for domestic purposes on Howe sound. Mr. Mellon states that the mill will employ anywhere from 80 to 100 men. The company has about 300 acres of land and a record of 1000 inches already, which, although not all used at present, will be utilized as soon as the mill resumes operations the first of next year. The water for which the record was just granted is to be taken from the Rainy or Cates river flowing into Thornbury channel, Howe sound, at a point one and a half miles from the mouth and at the top of the falls. A dam and flume will be the means of diverting the water.

Reports received from Abbotsford, the railway junction town near Huntingdon, are to the effect that the place is still booming and that there is considerable speculation in real estate. The town is on the Canadian Pacific and Great Northern railways, while the Chilliwack tram will pass through and in consequence there has been a strong movement in the opening of stores, hotels and industries, the Royal Bank being now busily engaged in fitting up premises. The Great Northern station is nearly completed, and it is expected that trains will be running over the new line in a short time.

IMPORTANT

When You Are Sick

That you should have the very best attention. Now, we are not doctors, neither do we profess to be. It's not our business to prescribe, we prefer letting your doctor do that. Where we come in is when you want the prescription filled, through this channel we co-operate to bring about a cure. Our duty is plainly to give you exactly what the doctor orders, and of the best quality, this is where the honor of the druggist is tested. To put it mildly, the druggist who is not honest with the sick is a disgrace to the profession. We want to fill your next prescription no matter what doctor writes it, and we pledge our honor that you will get a square deal as to correctness, quality and price. We have been twenty-five years in business here and are willing to be judged by our record. If you cannot afford to pay for your medicine we will supply same free of charge.

Why Not Style in Boys' Clothing?

We're making a special feature this season of a different kind of clothing for boys. The rule has been to consider anything good enough if it didn't wear out too quickly, and the average boy has looked the part. We're ready now with distinctive style as well as quality in boys' suits and overcoats, and the novelty of it all is bringing us plenty of business.

Give the boys a chance! Appeal all you can to their self-respect. Well dressed boys are made so nowadays at very little expense, and values such as these won't interfere with your buying:

Boys' two-piece suits $3.00, $3.50, $4.00, $4.50, $5.00
Boys three-piece suits .....$3.50, $4.00, $5.50 to $10.00

It costs no more to get boys' clothing really stylish as well as good if you come to the right store. If we weren't very sure of the unusual quality as well as style of our boys' suits, we should say less about them.

PUBLIC WORKS EFFECTED IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Some Facts and Figures Showing What the Laurier Government Has Done for This Province During Its Twelve Years of Administration

Previous to 1896 the government of the day virtually forgot that the province of British Columbia was on the map, and did nothing, but the Liberal government has established a large number of necessary works and institutions, such as an experimental farm, wharves, public buildings, telegraphs, dredges, hatcheries, lighthouses and buoys innumerable. The appended facts show what were the expenditures of the respective governments upon public works works:

	Conservative, 1893-1896	Liberal, 1905-1908
Public works expenditures in B.C.	$580,648	$1,796,190

The Liberal government, therefore, in the last three yaers has expended in public works in British Columbia more than three times as much as the Conservative government in the same length of time.

Details of the above aggregates are:

	Conservative, 1893-1896	Liberals, 1905-1908
Public buildings	$271,558	$523,562
Harbors, rivers, dredging, etc	268,067	872,645
Telegraph construction	41,022	400,179

In public buildings the Liberal government in the last three years accomplished twice as much as Conservatives in the same time; in the improvement of harbors and rivers and in the construction of dredges the Liberal administration expended more than three times as much as their opponents did, while in telegraph construction the balance is still more overwhelmingly in favor of the government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier—Liberals, $400,179; Conservatives, $41,022.

Taking the expenditure of the two parties in public works in the province year by year for three years each, the following result is shown:

Conservatives—		Liberals—
1893-94..	$274,188	1907-08..	$732,056
1894-95..	159,420	1906-07..	510,507
1895-96..	147,045	1905-06..	$553,827

Note the decline in the Conservative expenditure in British Columbia from 1893 to 1896, and even at its best it was low enough. The Liberal expenditure on the other hand has been increasing year by year. It should be borne in mind that the changing of the fiscal period making the year end March 31 instead of June 30 cut three months out of 1907, so that while the expenditure in 1907 seems less than that of 1906, it was really greater in due proportion. Note the marked contrast in the expenditure of 1896 and 1908—Conservative, $147,045; Liberal, $732,056.

This means that all along the line the department of public works as now administered does its duty by British Columbia, while in the days of Conservative regime the province was shamefully neglected.

Keep Wide Awake

A Bladensburg merchant was dozing in his store one day when a little girl with a pitcher appeared in the doorway and asked for a quart of molasses. The storekeeper yawned, stretched himself, half opened his eyes, and then in an injured tone said, "Ain't there nobody in Bladensburg that sells molasses but me?"

FAIRIES IN IRELAND.

A Boatman's Story of the Antics of the Little People.

Here is a modern fairy story from Ireland: "One day about twenty years ago," writes a correspondent, "I was fishing from a boat on Lough Derg. I inquired of my boatmen if they had ever seen fairies. At first, fearing to be laughed at, they scouted the idea, but one of them told the following:

"On a Sunday he was returning after mass and stood with a friend named Sullivan on the bridge of Killaloe. Looking toward a potato field on the slope of the rising ground to the east of the town, a field which he was able to point out from the boat, he saw issuing from the lios a troop of 'little people,' one being distinctly taller than the rest. At first they seemed rather blurred, then took distinct shapes and began to play the national game of hurley among the bare potato rigs. He called Sullivan's attention to them, but for some time his friend could not see them, then said he could, and they watched the game together for a time. Then the sun went in, and the fairies, moving toward the lios, as if returning to it, vanished. Lisses are rough places, sometimes hillocks, sometimes depressions, often bushy, but never cultivated. I have been told they are left as doorways for the fairies when visiting the earth's surface."—Chicago News.

A Modern Runabout.

An automobile has been constructed for the czar that is armored like a war vessel. Now when he rides abroad and his loving subjects throw things at him all he will have to do will be to give the chauffeur the busy sign and be on his way.

With this handy chariot it will be plenty safe for the czar to go out into the field where the soldiers are showing what they would do to the Japanese if they had a chance, and review his troops. Then when a volley of hard, searching bullets is fired at him by mistake, he can look up through the opening after the balls have ceased to make music on the armor plate and laugh merrily and tell the soldiers that the joke is on them.

It is because of the ingenuity of modern inventions that it is much easier and pleasanter to be czar than would appear to one who views the job only from a safe distance.

Fishes as Barometers.

"In their way," said the old fisherman, "fishes are not such bad weather prophets. If a storm is approaching the fish stop biting, and they won't bite again until the storm is well over. They appear to know when a storm is coming and when it has really passed. And to fishermen and farmers living along the shore fish foretell the near approach of cold weather. Hours before it comes fishes leave the shallow waters inshore and seek deeper water, which in its depths will stay warm and keep an equable temperature after the shallower and surface waters have turned cold. Oh, yes, fishes know a thing or two about the weather."—Washington Post.

Sighs For the Old Days.

What stopped the old housewife habit of taking the tablecloth out after each meal and shaking it on the ground to the edification of the dog, cat, chickens and birds? As a boy we used to delight in that shake, especially if a comely matron or a pretty girl had hold of the cloth her body swayed so gracefully as she handled it. No other motion, not even the rhythmic dance, set off her figure to better advantage, and the minxes knew it and always managed to give those flirts when admirers were handy by. But some one invented a brush and a pretty receiver, and a new fashion was set.—Washington (La.) Post.

CHICAGO TO INVESTIGATE CONDITION OF ITS POOR

Chicago, Oct. 7.—An investigation of the reports that thousands of school children in Chicago are underfed was ordered last night by the city council, which resumed its work after the summer vacation. The committee on schools was instructed to inquire into the situation and recommend measures of relief. The heads of the city government and of the school board made arrangements yesterday for a gathering of municipal officials and officers of charitable organizations to fix upon a definite, immediate plan of relief. The executive committee of the civic federation also took action looking toward an elaborate investigation of conditions in poorer homes of the city.

REBELLION SPREADS IN DEPENDENCIES

Maddened Mob Clashes with Armed Police in Streets of Belgrade --- Blood Flows Freely.

Belgrade, Servia, Oct. 8.—Several scores of persons were injured today in a clash between the police and a mob in an attack upon the foreign ministry.

The people are incensed at the weak character of the note of protest sent by the ministry to Austria in regard to the recent actions of that nation. The mob formed in the streets, and fired by the speeches of the agitators, who demanded vengeance for the "betrayal of the nation by cowards," made a furious attack on the police. Members of the mob used stones and clubs, while the police used their sabers freely, cutting down all who came within range.

In some instances the mob overpowered the police and took their sabers from them. The crowd was driven back from the ministry, however, after a hard fight. A second call for reserves was sent and they are on their way here to assist the 120,000 troops who answered the first call issued in the royal ukase of Tuesday.

Albania Independent.

Vienna, Oct. 8.—Albania today declared its independence of Turkey, according to despatches received here. This, following the similar action of Crete last evening, leads to the belief that there will be a general rebellion throughout the Turkish dependencies unless some stringent action is taken at once.

Albania is a mountainous country in the western part of Turkey in Europe and borders on the Adriatic sea. It is north of Greece and has a population of about 2,000,000. The Young Turk movement started in the northern part of Albania and an uprising there against the Sultan probably will prove serious.

Sultan Will Fight.

London, Oct. 8.—A member of the Turkish embassy, whose name is not made public, declared today that unless Austria retreats from its present position, Turkey undoubtedly will declare war, and asserted that the Sultan will not wait long. He intimated that the Turkish government had displayed every desire to bring the difficulties to a peaceful settlement and had earned the support of the powers.

It is said here on good authority that Russia will issue a circular note to the powers this evening, protesting against the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina by Austria along the lines of its known position to the positions of France and England. If this note is issued, the situation will be more critical than ever before.

Justifies Grab.

Buda Pest, Hungary, Oct. 8.—Denying that the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina was brought about through a desire for territorial expansion and expressing the best wishes for Turkey, Emperor Franz Josef today addressed the Austro-Hungarian delegations here today. Franz Josef assumed credit for developing the two provinces to a point where they are ready for constitutional government, and he added: "Constitutional government was possible only through annexation."

MUSICAL PRODUCTION PLEASED BIG AUDIENCE LAST NIGHT

One of the most delightful and fascinating musical comedies seen at the Opera house this season was last night's performance of "A Knight for a Day," with Miss Gertrude Hutchinson and Bobby Barry playing the leading roles. The play contained numerous hits which were admirably sung by the pretty choruses. The duet, "Life is a See-Saw," particularly pleased the large audience, the introduction of several see-saws illuminated by colored lights and ridden by members of the chorus, with Cupid occupying the centre, bringing repeated applause.

Another novel feature of the play was the finale, in which each girl wore a sparkling wreath of fairy lights, while electric streamers dangled in the background. Mr. Barry kept the house in an uproar during the entire performance by his clever singing, dancing and ready wit, and was ably supported by Miss Elsie Herbert, who played the part of a servant lady. "My Little Girl in Blue," and "I'd Like Another Situation Just Like That," were among the hits of the production.
