"HONEST JOHN" FLAYS GOVERNMENT

Member for Delta Still Agitates for Free Bridge—McBride Refuses to Take Matter Seriously—Oliver Shows Up Partiality in Grants to Tory Constituencies.

Victoria, April 9.—John Oliver, M.P. for Delta, yesterday made a strong appeal to the government for the free-ing of the New Westminster bridge from tolls, but without success. The member for Delta severely scored the government for maintaining the tolls, and in doing so received strong support from the Liberal members in the house.

In replying to Mr. Oliver's speech, Premier McBride said:

"Let the honorable member for Delta use his influence with the Government at Ottawa, as we have tried to do in vain, and let him secure a proportion of the grant the federal treasury makes to the St. Lawrence bridge, and we will not hesitate to abolish the tolls. Ottawa's reply to us has been 'We cannot subsidize provincial works.' But if that bridge were built to a company I venture to say that the company would get a grant."

Again referring to the bridge the premier made the statement:

"The Great Northern Railway has no monopoly over that bridge, and it is open to the Government tomorrow to negotiate with any other line."

Mr. Oliver later referred to the amount which it cost the government to maintain the tolls on the bridge.

"You see," he remarked, "that it has taken nearly $3,500 to collect the $7,921 vehicular and passenger tolls. If the Government's finances are in the prosperous condition the budget would have us believe I think the Government should abolish these tolls."

He charged the Government with making pre-election promises that had greatly influenced the electors of Delta, and made an exhaustive comparison of the good things showered upon Richmond and Dewdney with the beggarly and miserable treatment of Delta.

He enlarged upon this with a comparison from the estimates, of the White House.

"And here is what I find," said Mr. Oliver, "the three Socialists constituencies receive $14,000, or an average of $4,800 each, the twelve Liberal ridings receive $144,000, an average of $12,035, while the supporters of the government get no less than $586,000, or an average of $17,598 or nearly three times as much as the Liberals." (Cheers.)

"Now that," thundered the member for Delta, "is what I call petty, disreputable party tactics." (Cheers.)

"If it be justice the conscience of the Government is deplorably small. The Premier is going to the foot of the throne for better terms, but where will the constituencies we represent go for better terms?" (Opposition laughter.)

Replying to Mr. Oliver's statement with reference to pre-election promises, Premier McBride said that only the promises of the Ministry were binding upon the government.

"Surrey and Langley and the southern portion of the Fraser are thankful for this great bridge even at the old ferry rates," continued the Premier, "Yet the Government has been reducing these rates, and since the election we have revised the rates, with advantage to the farmer on market days. Yet the member for Delta would have the House believe that the people of his constituency are not satisfied. But we can't take him seriously."

The Premier concluded a lengthy and exhaustive address, answering every criticism of the member for Delta and advising him to use his influence in securing from the federal Government a substantial subsidy if he would have the tolls abolished."

John Oliver presented the following amendment, the first to be offered to the budget address:

"But this House regrets—

"That the Government has not seen fit to abolish the tolls collected upon other than railway traffic over the provincial bridge at New Westminster;

"That the Government has not introduced legislation reserving agricultural lands from sale except upon conditions of actual residence and settlement."

Y. M. C. A. MOVEMENT.

Two Prominent Workers Coming to Help on Good Cause.

W. M. Parsons, North Coast Field Secretary and Organizer of the Young Men's Christian Association, will arrive here today for the purpose of taking part in the movement instituted some time ago with a view to starting a Y. M. C. A. in this city. He will be accompanied by General Secretary Graham, of Vancouver, who has been here on previous occasions, and who has taken an active interest in the movement.

These two gentlemen have been taking part in the great Y. M. C. A. meetings held in Victoria on Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, and while they are in fighting trim, they intend to carry on their good work, and make another effort to get the Y. M. C. A. fairly started in New Westminster. The Victoria people have been taking a great interest in these meetings, and planse are now well under way for theb uilding of a $100,000 block which is to be the headquarters of the Y. M. C. A. in the capital city.

T. J. Trapp, who was in Victoria Sunday and Monday, attended several of the meetings, and it was upon his invitation that Messrs. Parsons and Graham decided to come over here. A strong committee was appointed some time ago for the purpose of starting the Y. M. C. A. in this city, but for some time past, nothing had been heard of the movement. Quite a sum of money has already been subscribed, and, with the revived enthusiasm which will follow the visit of the two above named workers, the work of building and equipping the Y. M. C. A. will be started with renewed vigor.

Punctuation Mistake.

Some time ago Captain Pittendrigh fined a Squamish hotel man, charged with selling liquor to Indians, the sum of three hundred dollars, with costs, amounting to fifty dollars. J. A. Russell, in the Supreme Court chambers, Vancouver, is now endeavoring to upset this judgment, the absence of a punctuation mark in the statutes being the technicality which has given a loophole for contention.

GRAND MASTER COMING.

Oddfellows Will Tender Reception to Chief on Friday Evening.

J. J. Johnston, District Deputy Grand Master, has received word from the Grand Master of British Columbia, F. F. Simpson, Cranbrook, that he will officially visit the Oddfellows of this city at the regular meeting of the Royal City Lodge No. 3 on Friday evening of this week. The Grand Master is at present visiting the several lodges on the Island. To-night he will be present at the meeting of Delta Lodge, Ladner, and to-morrow evening he will visit the members of the order in Vancouver.

A committee consisting of the following Past Grands have the arrangements for Friday's meeting in hand: A. H. Ferguson, Capt. J. Rogers and Herbert Gilley, representing Royal City Lodge No. 31, and Alex. Adams, George B. Thompson and David Adams of Amity Lodge, No. 27. All visiting members are cordially invited to join in receiving the grand master.

Kuroki Is Coming.

Victoria, April 9.—The Japanese colony in this city are highly elated over news recently received from home. It is to the effect that General Kuroki, who commanded the first Japanese army in Manchuria, and who directed the troops in the united battle of the war when his command crossed the Yalu river in the face of the Russian fire, will pass through Victoria en route to the Jamestown exhibition. An effort will be made to persuade him to spend at least a day here when a banquet will be tendered him.

The fact that several of the city's general stores do not open for business until long after seven o'clock in the morning is causing some very unfavorable comment in certain quarters. One man who lives across the river, waited yesterday morning in front of a certain store on Columbia street until 7:45 a.m., before the door was opened, and counted thirty-five people trying to get into some of the stores during that time.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS ARE DEFINED

F. W. Howay Lectures to Appreciative Audience On Subject of Interest—History of Legal Standing of Wives Traced Back to Early Days.

A large audience greeted F. W. Howay in the city hall last night, when he rose to address the members of the local women's council on the rights and privileges of married women in the province of British Columbia. Mr. Howay's dissertation on this question of the day was attentively listened to by many of New Westminster's matrons, as well as a good number of the masculine supporters of women's rights.

The Rev. Mr. Henderson who acted as chairman, introduced Mr. Howay in a short and complimentary speech, expressing his satisfaction at the interest which was shown by the fact that so many of New Westminster's prominent men and women had turned out to listen to the lecture, and the pleasure it was to him to have the honor to preside at a meeting of this description. Mr. Howay then came to the front, and in a clear and concise manner, devoid of technical phrases or legal terms, briefly outlined the manner in which the subject would be treated. Considering law in its broadest sense, he outlined its general and salient points from the time when Britons were emerging into civilization up to its present state. Roughly speaking, law might be divided into two parts, the unwritten and the written law, which were again subdivided into other classifications, and having explained the various changes and improvements which took place as civilization kept advanc'ng, he brought his subject up to the present time. In dealing with the rights of married women, Mr. Howay made clear the object of common law. Common law, was logical, and founded on the scriptures, which said in referring to man and wife, that they should be one, and as in scripture the man was always set forth as being the superior, the logical conclusion was that the husband was the principal, with the result that the wife could in no way make contracts, or enter in his business. Her goods and chattels were the husbands', and at her death continued in sole possession, in which situation, Mr. Howay said, to quote from Tennyson, "She was a little better than his dog, and a little higher than his horse." The law of equity then came in and several important amendments were made, and having dealt in his masterly way with the details, he then set forth the extent to which a woman might pledge her husband's credit, and quoted several rather amusing cases which had come up in British courts, and the legal definition as to the necessary expenses which a wife could make her husband legally liable for, and he considered it a credit to the ladies of this country that no cases such as he had described had ever come to court. The necessity and duty of the man in protecting the home, was touched on.

When a man was in good financial standing then was the time to make provision; the law said that if a man registered his home as homestead in British Columbia, when he was perfectly solvent, should his affairs become involved later, the creditors could in no way attach the estate. Insurance was another mode of protecting the home. The subjects of alimony, desertion of the wife, or husband, and drunken husbands, were fully dealt with, and the legal remedies clearly and definitely set forth. At the close of his lecture a great many questions were asked the legal gentleman, by members of the audience, all of which Mr. Howay answered. The lecturer throughout had thorough control of his subject, and the plain and unassuming manner in which a difficult subject was handled merited the well-deserved praise of his auditors, and it iis probable that Mr. Howay will be again requested to address a gathering on the same topic before long. The subject of the lecture will be one of the principal matters discussed at the convention of women's councils, which meets in Vancouver in July. The collection last night amounted to eleven dollars, which will go into the general fund of the local Women's Council.

TRUSTEES REQUIRE MORE INFORMATION

IMPROVEMENTS AT QUEEN'S AVENUE CHURCH NOT DEFINITELY DECIDED UPON.

A meeting of the trustee board of the Queen's avenue Methodist church was held in the church parlors last evening, when the proposed extensions to the church were discussed at length. No decision was arrived at at the meeting, the plans of the needed renovations being referred back to the architect for more detailed information on certain important points. A special committee was also appointed to confer with the architect with reference to the change in the plans.

The proposed improvements in the church will cost about $10,000, half of which has already been subscribed or promised. The work will not be undertaken until the opinion of the congregation has been obtained on the matter, as it has always been the policy of the board to steer clear of debts or mortgages, all money must be available before the work is commenced. At the present time, it is merely in a tentative stage, and several modifications will doubtless be introduced before the plans are carried into effect.

The improvements include the building of an addition to the north side of the church, a radical change in the interior fixtures of the church, including the removing of the pulpit to a more suitable position behind the choir seats, which will also be moved.

Two ante rooms and the main entrance at present in use will be fitted up with seats, and the capacity of the church increased to about 650. A proposition to arrange the seats in circular form was also discussed last evening, but nothing was definitely decided upon.

The members of the trustee board present at the meeting were: Rev. W. H. Barraclough, in the chair; D. S. Curtis, secretary; T. R. Pearson, Dr. Drew, Dr. Holmes, H. M. Marshall, F. Howell, J. Carter Smith, C. S. Keith, and John Peck.

BIG CHIEF DEPARTS TO FAR-AWAY LAND

PREMIER REACH-HARD LEAVES CAPITAL CITY TODAY FOR LONDON TOWN.

Today marks the beginning of a new epoch for British Columbia. Already the Ukase has gone forth to encircle with red this date in all calendars published both now and in the future, throughout the Dominion.

Accompanied by a brass band, with all the officials in full dress, the Big chief leaves Victoria today to see the Great White Father. Chief Capilano will meet him on the arrival of the boat at Vancouver when a pow wow will be held, and the younger chief instructed as to procedure to obtain an audience with his majesty. Nothing has been left to chance, cables have been dispatched to London, with the result that a larger hat and court dress will be in readiness for Big Chief to don on his arrival.

The Editor of the "Financial Times" has cabled that the Imperial Government has placed at his disposal a man-of-war, and that directly the ship bearing "big chief" is signalled by Marconigram, he will sail from Portsmouth, and act as an escort, while the Drum and Fife band of the Duke of York's Naval School will play the "Maple Leaf Forever."

The King, it is persistently rumored, will meet "Big Chief" in person, as he plants his feet on English soil. Arrangements have also been made with a young sculptor of great promise, to chisel his bust, while the poet laureate will also be honored with a commission. A special dispatch just received states that the faithful 'right' are feasting their eyes on him for fear that he will be shanghaied into an ambassadorship by the home government. Secretary McRae will, it is understood, keep strictly to the "Hieland costume" and lend the color necessary for such a great event.

With bated breath the people of this province will watch his progress, and the torches which were not entirely consumed, on the last festive occasion when Big Chief returned from Ottawa, will be resuscitated, and once more flare their lurid light, when Big Chief returns to his native soil.

PLATINUM SAND IS FOUND IN LILLOOET

TWO OUNCES OF VALUABLE DUST SELL FOR $50—MARKETED BY MINERALOGIST.

Victoria, April 9.—From time to time there has been discovered in the placer mines of the Cariboo and Lillooet sand containing platinum, which is more valuable than gold of the same weight. A. W. Smith, of Lillooet, brought to the city a small quantity of this crude platinum, which a prospector had recovered from the dirt in washing for gold. The sand was turned over to the provincial mineralogist, W. Fleet Robertson, with a request to put it on the market.

Mr. Robertson did so, and sent the ounces to where he felt the best sale would be obtained. He has received a cheque for $50 for the ounces or $25 an ounce. This has been turned over to Mr. Smith for the prospector. The platinum sand is very valuable. Hitherto the difficulty has been in the recovering of it from the dirt.

Ramona Men on Strike.

The deck hands of the steamer Ramona refused to go to work yesterday until an increase from forty to forty-five dollars per month was guaranteed. As Manager Cunningham was ill and the men were firm in their demands the Ramona stayed tied up at the wharf until the afternoon, when the purser, seeing that the boat would not get away unless something was done, acceded to the men's demands, and the vessel finally steamed up the river. It is not officially stated that the increase in wages will be premanent, but as soon as Mr. Cunnigham gets around the matter will be attended to.

INTERMEDIATE BASEBALL.

Interesting Schedule of Games for Coming Season Drawn up.

The younger baseball players of the city are early in the field, and have drawn up a schedule of games for the season. Three teams figure in the intermediate league, the Columbian College, the Royal City, and the High School. The first match of the series will be played on April 27, when the College and the Royal City teams will clash. A splendid cup has been offered for competition between the various teams, and with this incentive, the teams should produce some strong games.

The members of the various teams in the city met on April 8, when a constitution was drawn up, and the following schedule of matches prepared:

April 27.—Columbian College vs. Royal City.

May. 4—High School vs. Royal City.

May. 11—Columbian College vs. High School.

May 18.—High School vs. Royal City.

May 24—Royal City vs. Columbian College.

May 25—Columbian College vs. High School.

June 1—Royal City vs. Columbian College.

June 8—High School vs. Columbian College.

June 15—Royal City vs. High School.

The rules and regulations will be at W. E. Sinclair's store, where they can be seen by any member of the various teams.

The following official umpires were decided on: J. A. Cunningham, W. E. Sinclair, S. Mancolmson and F. O. Canfield.

E. J. Fader left yesterday afternoon for Nimpkish river, Vancouver Island, where he intends to supervise some extensive logging operations.

SEEKING FOR GAS.

Prospectors Bore for Natural Supply At Lethbridge and the Hat.

Lethbridge, Alta, April 9.—It is learned that after having found an abundant supply of natural gas at Coldridge, near Dunmore, it has been decided to bore for gas at stations between Medicine Hat and Lethbridge. These other points are Bow Island and Tabor. The object is to secure cheap power for steam pumps at those points.

The borings at Lethbridge by the Electric company are now in full swing a depth of thirty feet being reached in the first two days. The history of Medicine Hat in regard to gas may yet be duplicated at many points on the Crow's Nest.

Lisputo Over Dishes.

Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. Taylor figured prominently in a suit brought up at a special sitting of the police court yesterday afternoon, when the former accused Mrs. Taylor of stealing a number of dishes and crockeryware from her. It appears that some time ago an arrangement was entered into between the two women whereby Mrs. Taylor's house and effects were transferred to Mrs. McDonald for a stated sum, the buyer paying a deposit of $5, balance to be paid within a week. After the deposit had been paid, Mrs. Taylor called at the house and claimed certain dishes, which she said belonged to her daughter. Mrs. McDonald objected to the crockery being removed, and the argument which ensued led to the police court action. The case will again occupy the attention of the police magistrate this morning. The value of the disputed articles is about $10, and the whole affair is treated seriously only by the principals in the case.

The Rev. D. McGee, of Knox church, Sapperton, will deliver a lecture on Friday evening, taking for his subject: "Seven Weeks in Jerusalem." An admission fee of 25c will be charged. The lecture is said to be of a most instructive and entertaining character.

STEVESTON SHACKS GO UP IN SMOKE

ANOTHER SERIOUS OUTBREAK OF FIRE IN FISHING TOWN—TOTAL DAMAGE $18,000.

Yesterday morning another outbreak of fire occurred at Steveston which demolished nearly a whole block of buildings and did damage to the extent of about $4,000. The fire started at about three o'clock in the south end of the Federation messhouse opposite the bank. This, strangely enough, was about the time the Chinatown fire was discovered. Luckily there was not the strong breeze of Friday, and the blaze was more easily controlled, but before it was got under it cleaned out the Cleeve Italian store. There was a delay of nearly an hour before the engine was brought to the spot owing to the lack of volunteers.

About half a dozen men were in the shacks, but these managed to get out safely, although a man named Benson had a narrow escape and had to jump from a second-storey window. When the engine was at last brought into action the efforts of the brigade were directed to confining the outbreak and preventing it from spreading, and the fire gradualily burned itself out.

Steveston in four days has had two big fires which have consumed about a million feet of lumber, and with lumber at $18 a thousand, this represents damage to the extent of $18,000.

Chief Mcintosh is back at his old situation, and announced yesterday that he would keep on looking after the welfare of the city. The chief looks much thinner than when he went away, and complains of feeling slightly under the weather, but thinks that a week or two amid the comforts of civilization will restore him to his old health. The success of the prospecting trip was much interfered with owing to prolonged bad weather, it being impossible for the party to get to its destination.

Life, Not Death.

There is much difference in the psychological effect of the two ideas "life" and "death." This was illustrated, says the writer of "Letters From a Surgeon," in the case of General Frank Bartlett, who was wounded on the Fredericksburg pike in 1864. General Bartlett was brought to the surgeon bleeding profusely from a wound in his head. He was unconcious and white as death. The surgeon called his name, but could not rouse him. Passing his finger into the wound, he found the ball had not penetrated the bone, but had simply cut an artery in the scalp. This the surgeon bound with a ligature. He laid the general on the ground and completed dressing the wound.

"No harm done, old boy!" he shouted. "This is only a flesh wound. You will be all right when I take a stitch or two."

The good news seemed to bring General Bartlett to consciousness. He rallied completely.

"I thought I was done for," he said. "Well, if I'm all right, here goes."

Before the surgeon could stop him he was in the saddle and riding at the best gait of his horse back to the front again.

The Ways of the Moonshiner.

The ways of the moonshiner are pretty much the same everywhere. A suitable location consists of a secluded spot with water in abundance. It is important, should he ever be called upon to defend a case in court, for the question of the ownership of the land upon which the still is located, to be involved in doubt; hence the moonshiner gets as near the line of his own land or the land he controls as possible. The stills are primitive affairs and are often made complete in the neighborhood in which they are operated. With two or three square yards of sheet copper the still maker requires but a few hours to make the "b'iler." Home-made hogsheads are usually used as fermenters, and the only thing that the illicit distiller has to send "off yander arter" is the worm. Being difficult to secure, the moonshiner prizes his "worm" highly, and that part of the distillery is usually taken away when the operator leaves.—David A. Gates in Metropolitan Magazine.

Origin of "Bluestockings."

Burke, apropos of "Evelina," paid Fanny Burney this high compliment: "We have had an age for statesmen, an age for heroes, an age for poets, an age for artists, but this"—with a gallant bow to Fanny—"is the age for women." The name "bluestockings," given to these distinguished women, arose, according to Fanny Burney in her "Memoirs of Her Father," from an apology made by Mr. Stillingfleet in deciining an invitation of Mrs. Vesey's to a literary meeting at her house. "I am not properly dressed for such a party," he pleaded. "Pho, pho," she cried, taking him and his dress all in at a glance, "don't mind dress! Come in your blue stockings." This he did, and "those words ever after were fixed in playful stigma upon Mrs. Vesey's associations."—T. P.'s London Weekly.

What We Stand On.

The density of the earth as a whole has been estimated, with close agreement among the scientists who have made the determination by different methods, to be about 5.5, or five and a half times as heavy as an equivalent sphere of water. On the other hand, the average density of the materials forming the accessible parts of the earth's crust is between 2.5 and 3, so that the mean density of the whole globe is about twice that of its outer part. This indicates that the central part of the earth is composed of heavier materials and may even be metallic, which condition, says the Engineering and Mining Journal, would accord perfectly with the nebular hypothesis.

Nature and Broken Bones.

In the splicing of broken bones nature can give the best surgeon pointers. When a bone is broken the splintered ends are surrounded with cartilage until they are firmly held in position. Then gradually a layer of bone is placed between them and soldered together. All the physician has to do is to bring the two ends of the bones together so that the point will be smooth and even. Nature's little agents do the rest.—New York Tribune.

Taste Governs Spelling.

Shakespeare spelled his own name in sixteen different ways which have survived, and it is evident that Elizabethan spelling "depends upon the taste and fancy of the speller." It is the printing press which made spelling by stereotyping it, and it is, after all, on the printer's reader more than on the professor that the spelling of the future depends.—London Star.

Napoleon's Name.

The name Napoleon written in Greek characters will form seven different words by dropping the final letter of each in succession. When read, these words form a complete sentence, meaning, "Napoleon, the destroyer of whole cities, was the lion of his people."

Wrong.

"There is a word of one syllable in the English language that is always spelled wrong, even by the most educated people."

"What is that?"

"The word 'wrong.'"

Obviously.

"Let me see," mused the sporting editor. "What is an incubator?"

"An incubator," replied the agricultural editor, "is an egg plant."

Discouragement is but disenchanted egotism.—Mazzini.

GOOD WINE

needs no bush; neither does the grand offer of The Daily News need any eloquent statements to put before the public the excellence of its offer. Just think! For $3.00 you obtain a $1.50 book (over one hundred of the choicest and most carefully selected literary gems to select from) and THE DAILY NEWS delivered at your home for twelve months free.

THE DAILY NEWS has now been established one year, and is already a warm favorite in the majority of homes in the city. Winner of the popular contest at the Bazaar, on its own merits, shows that the efforts of the publishers to establish a local paper replete with local news is appreciated by the citizens of New Westminster. A clean paper—not filled with nauseous advertisements—it appeals to the many; and the offer now made is worthy of the soundest consideration. Moreover, by taking the News on this basis, it is a clear saving of $2.20 per annum, surely a consideration in this strenuous age. Still, as we stated above, good wine needs no bush, and the present scheme is purely for purposes of advertising. Advertising is the soul and life of trade. We request our merchants to advertise, knowing how well it pays; and we are also advertising, with splendid results.

We have several copies of each work, but already five titles have been sold out, so don't delay, but send in your selection and have prompt delivery of the book you have wanted to read so long, and also the paper.

ROOSEVELT NAMES TAFT AND CUMMINGS

PRESIDENT CHOOSES FAVORITES TO SUCCEED HIMSELF AND FAIRBANKS NEXT YEAR.

Washington, April 9.—Secretary of War Taft, and Governor Cummins, Iowa, are the administration's selections for president and vice-president respectively, to succeed Roosevelt and Fairbanks. Both favor tariff revision, and if the Roosevelt policy prevails tariff revision will be a leading issue in 1908. This makes next year's campaign of more vital importance to Canada than any since 1896.

COAL IN RESERVE.

Regina Lays in Stock of 20,000 Tons for Winter Use.

Regina, April 9.—The lesson of last winter's coal famine is being taken to heart by Saskatchewan coal dealers, as is evidenced by the big order just placed with the Banff mines for stock coal for immediate delivery, by Messrs. Whitmore Bros. This is the first of a series of orders, and amounts to ten thousand tons and on arrival will be kept in store throughout the summer as a reserve at the following points: Regina, Moosomin, Broadview, Greenfell, Sintaluta, Indian Head, Pense, Grand Coulee, Moose Jaw, Davidson, Lumsden, Saskatoon, Hanley, Rouleau, Milestone, Yellowgrass and Weyburn.

This order will be duplicated in the course of a few weeks for a winter stock for points within the province not on the above list. With this stock of twenty thousand tons on hand at convenient points, there will be no danger of the firm finding itself in the same position as at one period this winter when orders were many weeks behind. These big orders are for next winter, and do not interfere with the ordinary orders of the firm at this season.

Torpedo Kills Boy.

Revelstoke, April 9—A serious accident, attended with fatal results, occurred yesterday afternoon on the south track, at Fourth street, when two Italian boys received severe injuries from the explosion of a signalling torpedo; one succumbing almost immediately. The boys had been playing with the torpedoes, which had been left lying near the track, by throwing stones and pieces of rock at them to cause them to explode. The deceased had approached to near when a torpedo suddenly exploded, hurling the metal cup and several pieces of rock against the boys, killing one instantly and severely injuring the other.

Monster Spider Crabs.

"I have collected specimens of crabs in all parts of the world," said a naturalist, "but I shall never forget the pleasure I experienced in securing a monstrous specimen of the Japanese spider crab, the largest ever found. The combined length of the feeding arms of this monster was more than twelve feet, while the body portion was about twenty inches across. When alive, it weighed about seventy-five pounds. One of the oddest things about these creatures is their ability to assume a disguise. This feat they are able to perform owing to the flexibility of their pinchers and to the hooked hairs and spines with which their numerous arms are studded. By means of their pinchers they tear off small fragments of sponges and seaweeds. After first putting these to their months, which contain a glutinous saliva, they place them on the surface of their limbs and bodies by sticking them fast with a rubbing movement. By this method the crab succeeds in completely changing its appearance and rendering itself indistinguishable from the materials common to the bottom of the sea. While crawling along it seems as though a portion of the ocean bed was in motion, so close is the resemblance."

PROVINCIAL UNIVERSITY.

The Government has found it necessary to alter its bill providing a land endowment for a provincial university. This result was brought about by the criticisms of the Opposition, particularly the arguments of Mr. Macdonald. As the bill stood in the first place, the land might have been given to anything calling itself a university; but now the land will be administered by the Government for the benefit of the provincial university—which shall be a British Columbia institution, not connected with any extra provincial foundation.

In the debate on the subject, Mr. McBride let the cat out of the bag with respect to the Act of last year, which created the "Royal Institute of Learning." He said it was "an Act to assist the Vancouver High School and allow it to enter into certain affiliations with McGill university." That is not quite the whole truth; but it is part of it. The other part of it is that the design of the Act was to "anchor" the provincial university in Vancouver. The land endowment bill of the present session was doubtless intended to be read with the Royal Institute Act of last session, and we should have had the whole scheme complete and ready for use, had it not been for the vigilance of the Liberals who are, from conviction and principle, opposed to this sort of dark-lantern scheming.

IRRESPONSIBLE GOVERNMENT.

The other day we made note of the fact that the boasted "surplus" of the McBride Government had been reduced to a paltry $65,000. At the close of last fiscal year (June 30, 1906.), the surplus amounted to some $365,000. Therefore, $300,000 has been expended since the date above given, and it is now stated that this expenditure was made without a vote. The Victoria Times very properly denounces this as an outrage. The control of expenditure by parliament is a fundamental principle of the constitution, and if the executive is to be allowed to make large expenditures at its own will, one of the great safeguards of constitutional government is abandoned. This is more particularly true when the expenditure is made at a time when an election is pending, and manifestly for the purpose of influencing the electorate. Had the Ottawa Government been guilty of such an act, the very papers which support the McBride Government would have filled their columns with denunciations of such corruption.

HARD AT WORK.

The Liberals in the House seem to have their hands full. Not only have they to keep the Government right on points of procedure, and instruct it as to the constitutional methods of doing business, but they have to provide necessary legislation. A few days ago the Times had this:

"The municipal committee of the Houses met yesterday and took into consideration the bills dealing with water courses and ditches. It will be remembered that there were two bills introduced dealing with this subject, one by John Oliver and the other by the government.

The committee having both these before them this morning decided to recommend the bill introduced by Mr. Oliver, which showed better judgment in the framing and was better adapted to the needs of the province than the government measure. Both of the bills covered the same ground."

An Eastern paper printed the other day one of those protests against the annual or semi-annual examination as a test of scholarship, which one meets with from time to time. Except on the ground of expediency or convenience, few people, if any, defend the examination test; few people, that is, who have taken the trouble to study the matter. It should be quite possible to make very considerable improvements at a moderate cost—improvements which would make the examinations to some extent a test of the pupil's knowledge. At present they are little better than a test of his memory and quilldriving ability, with a strong dash of the lottery added.

One of our provincial contemporaries, plunged into the darksome depths of chill despair by the reflection that Canada was to be represented at the Colonial conference in London by such an un-British or anti-British and generally unsuitable and unqualified person as Sir Wilfrid Laurier, found sweet consolation in the announcement that the Hon. R. McBride had decided to hie him to "Lunnon Town" at this time, and so give those Britishers an opportunity of seeing what a really-truly, slap-bang, up-to-date Canadian statesman was like. Our gratitude flows out to the journal which brings us this glad reminder. We can sleep in peace now; the country is safe.

Three offenders were gathered in out of the damp Tuesday morning by Officer McDonald, all being very wet, both inside and outside. Two were allowed out on five dollars bail each, while the third was discharged in the morning by the police magistrate it being the first offense.

A water application was received by C. C. Fisher yesterday, from A. Philips of North Vancouver, asking for fifty inches to be used within the limits of North Vancouver for domestic purposes.

Poundkeeper Batt has announced his intention of strictly enforcing the pound bylaw, from now on, and dog owners are warned to secure their license and tags. Mr. Batt will not keeep a dog in pound for over forty-eight hours at the expiration of which time the canine will come to a sudden end unless claimed and the fees paid. The fees are ten cents per day, and is one dollar in the case of female dogs the fee is $2.00. ... ...

To Cut the Night In Two.

Professor Victor Hallopeau, member of the Paris Academy of Medicine, says:

The true secret of long continued, valuable brain work is to cut the night in two. The scholar, the inventor, the financier, the literary creator, should be asleep every night by 10 o'clock, to wake again at, say, 2 in the morning. Three hours' work, from 2 to 5, in the absolute tranquillity of the silent hours should mean the revealing of new powers, new possibilities, a wealth of ideas undreamed of under the prevailing system.

From 5 to 8 or 8:30 sleep again. Taking up then the day's work, the brain will be still saturated with the mental fruits of the midnight vigil; there will be no effort in putting into practice or carrying further what was planned or begun those few hours before.

The habit may be hard to acquire, but mechanical means of waking at first will induce the predisposition.—New York World.

The Military Death Sentence.

"You know how a soldier traitor is put to death," said the colonel. "The traitor stands blindfolded, and half a dozen privates shoot at him simultaneously. But perhaps you don't know that each of those privates, though he take the most careful aim, may afterward say without fear of contradiction that the traitor's blood does not stain his hands. This is the reason: Two of the rifles for this ghastly shooting are always loaded with blank cartridges. Then they are shuffled, and no one knows which the harmless ones are. The executioners draw, and each is as like as not to draw a harmless gun. So when they shoot they can solace themselves with the thought that maybe they are only shooting a blank cartridge at the poor blindfolded wretch before them."

Hans Breitmann's Philosophy.

I have found that if we resolve to be vigorous of body and mind, calm, collected, cheerful, etc., we can effect marvels, for it is certainly true that after awhile the spirit or will does haunt us unconsciously and marvelously. I have, I believe, half changed my nature under this discipline. I will continually to be free from folly, envy, irritability and vanity, to forgive and forget, and I have found, by willing and often recurring to it, that, while far from being exempt from fault, I have eliminated a vast mass of it from my mind. It is certainly true, as Kant wrote to Hufeland, many diseases can be cured by resolving them away. He thought the gout could be.—Letters of Charles Godfrey Leland.

Time to Change.

It was at a table d'hote dinner at a hill station in India that a very young officer just up from the plains found himself seated next to a lady whom he took for one of the grass widows common in those parts. He made himself agreeable, but his neighbor seemed a good deal out of spirits, so he said sympathetically:

"I suppose you can't help thinking of your poor husband grilling down below?"

But the lady was a real widow, and when he learned that he changed his seat.—London Answers.

The stork visited the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Philpot, 191 Cornwall street, yesterday morning, and left a little daughter. Mr. Philpot is the operator on the dredge King Edward, and has been receiving the congratulations of his friends on the happy event.

The Clive coming from Pitt Lake yesterday with a boom of shingle bolts had the misfortune, owing to the rough weather, to upset a large quantity of her tow in the river. Having safely landed the remainder here, the boat went back to endeavour to rescue part of the floatsam.

The steamer Celestial Empire, was tied up at the Columbian Cold Storage company's wharf yesterday morning. The vessel was in for halibut bait, and left for Vancouver, from whence it will proceed to the halibut banks. The vessel is expected back about April 20 with a cargo of fish.

The Sunday school management board of the Queen's avenue Methodist church will meet this evening for the purpose of electing officers for the current year. The average number of children attending Sunday school is now over three hundred, and the financial standing is exceptionally good.

The recently renovated store at the corner of Columbia and Begbie streets is now all but completed, and the previous lessee, W. Cumming, moved back into the premises yesterday. The adjoining store has been taken by R. Stevenson, the shoemaker, who had for many years been located on Front street.

Professor Burwash, of the Columbian College, lectured in the museum of the Carnegie library, Vancouver, at 8 o'clock yesterday evening, on "Egyptology," illustrating his remarks with lantern slides. The lecture was given under the auspices of the Art, Historical and Scientific association, and was much appreciated.

The funeral of the late H. Halladay took place yesterday morning, the Rev. J. S. Henderson conducting the service. The body was interred in the Oddfellows' cemetery, a large number of friends of the deceased following the body to its last resting place. The pallbearers were J. W. McDonald, John McNiven, A. Hardman, D. Adams, J. S. Bryson and Mr. McKay.

A few days ago Albert Knight, of Sardis, in pulling parsnips in his garden got hold of one whose deep attachment to mother earth at least breaks all local records. Mr. Knight, however, was determined to get to the bottom of the matter and kept on pulling until he had unearthed over six feet of root, which this ambitious vegetable had sent Chinaward last season.

In an action for judgment for $275, against E. B. Ramsey of Burnaby, by the Frost & Wood company, in the county court yesterday morning, the defendant stated that his occupation consisted of staying at home, minding six children and cutting firewood, which gave him no time for anything else. Hon. Norman W. Bole considered he was a good specimen of a dry nurse, but advised him to go to work an earn some money and make a payment on his liabilities, before July, until which time the case was adjourned.

"In the footprints of Burns and Scott," is the title of the lecture to be given in the K. of P. hall on Tuesday, April 16, under the auspices of the Sons of Scotland. The Rev. J. Simpson, pastor of the First Congregational church, Vancouver, will be the lecturer, and in addition to the literary treat, there will be music and singing contributed by well known local talent. A specialty will be made of Burns' songs, and the Gaelic burr will prevail throughout the evening. Over one hundred stereopticon views will be shown during the course of the lecture.

The breaking down of a wire near Earl's road yesterday afternoon somewhat disarranged the B. C. E. R. service to Vancouver, the cars being held up on either side of the break for a considerable time. The break occurred early in the afternoon, and linemen were immediately hurried to the scene, but it was after seven o'clock before the damage could be repaired. The passengers from the first delayed car were transferred at Earl's road and continued their journey on a special car sent to their rescue. The later cars managed to run through, but each was delayed for a considerable time.

B. G. Walker, clerk of the municipality of Burnaby, has tendered his resignation to the council, asking to be relieved by the end of the present month. It is understood that Mr. Walker intends to enter into a more lucrative business in this city, and that he has made arrangements to go into partnership with an established real estate firm. Some time since, Mr. Walker asked the councillors to secure clerical help to enable him to get through with his work, but this request was not complied with. One councillor is reported to have hinted that this was merely a veiled request for more money, as the remuneration received was not commensurate with the services rendered. Failing to obtain the assistance he needed, Mr. Walker tendered his resignation, much to the regret of the majority of the council. A strong effort has been made to induce him to reconsider his decision, but so far without success.

Birds and Kites.

No bird, so far as known records show, has ever alighted on a kite or attacked one. While a scientist was flying a train of five kites some years ago a large silver tipped eagle came suddenly out of the higher air and swooped round and round the first kite, looking against the sunset sky like a huge silver ball. As the train of kites was pulled in the eagle followed, visiting one kite and then another, seeming uncertain just what to do. In a few minutes, when he seemed to have decided that they were not good to eat and he knew nothing about them, anyway, he indignantly flew off and was lost to view. While the scientist's kites were high in the air one March flocks of geese flying in the wedge flew over. They invariably stopped, broke up, hovered above the queer object and at last slowly reformed and flew away. While the larger birds all come from heights above the kite, the small birds of the air will alight on the string holding the kite and sway to and fro.

Mysterious Glass Balls.

According to a foreign correspondent of the geological survey at Washington, among the most interesting features of the small island of Billiton, between Sumatra and Borneo, an island long famous for its rich tin mines, controlled by the Dutch government, are the "glass balls of Billiton," found among the tin ore deposits. These natural glass balls are round, with grooved surfaces. Similar phenomena are occasionally found in Borneo and Java as well as in Australia. The correspondent quoted thinks they cannot be artificial, and there are no volcanoes near enough to support the theory that they are volcanic bombs. Besides, it is claimed, the glassy rocks produced by the nearest volcanoes are quite different in their nature from the material of the balls. It is suspected that the mysterious objects were ejected ages ago from the volcanoes of the moon and afterward fell upon the earth.

"Caracul"—Its Etymology.

I have often been asked for the etymology of "caracul," which is a term now largely used by furriers to denote a variety of the fur called astrakhan. The new English dictionary does not contain caracul, but it has caracal, which is liable to be confused with it, though really quite a different word. The caracal is an animal, but caracul, like the nearly synonymous term, astrakhan, is the name of a place—Kara Kul—i. e., the Black lake, near Bokhara, which has long been celebrated for its output of furs. The earliest reference I can find to it in English is in Matthew Arnold's "Sohrab and Rustum:"

And on his head he set his sheepskin cap,
Black, glossy, curled, the fleece of Kara Kul.

Living in the Electric Light.

Writing to a friend in the country, a New York merchant says: "I live in the electric light. I leave my home at 7 o'clock, after dressing and taking my breakfast by electric light. Then I go to the subway, one block distant, and ride to within a block of my office. There I work all day by electric light and go home again by the subway and spend the evening in the glare of the incandescent lamp. The weather conditions make no difference, because my flat and my office belong to the semidark kind. Sometimes I wonder what I would do without electric light, and sometimes I ask myself when I yearn for a little sunlight, Is the new light really a blessing?"—New York Tribune.

The Caller.

"Mary, has any one called while I was out?"

"Yes, ma'am; Mr. Biggs was here."

"Mr. Biggs? I don't recall the name."

"No, ma'am; he called to see me, ma'am."—Strand Magazine.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any available Dominion Lands within the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

The homesteader is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

REAL ESTATE

in the City of New Westminster and throughout the New Westminster District is advancing in price very rapidly. Property is changing hands so quickly that prices ruling the market today are oftentimes non-existent on the morrow.

Lots throughout the city are doubling in value, owing to the many large and new industries starting up, bringing in their train a greater population of homeseekers.

Forbidden Games.

Almost every one of England's popular games has at one time or another been made illegal. Scotland is the home of golf, yet in 1457 the Scottish parliament passed an act entailing severe penalties on any one caught playing the game.

Edward III., Henry IV. and Henry VIII. all strongly objected to football, and Queen Elizabeth made it an offense punishable by imprisonment to play football. There is a record of sixteen people being imprisoned at once for breaking this law.

Football is still under a ban in some parts of the world. Two of the Swiss cantons refuse to allow it, and in Turkey it is absolutely illegal, and those who dare to play it are punished.

Among oddities of laws about games must be mentioned a French decree of the thirteenth century. By the king's command the gallants of the court were forbidden to play tennis "in their shirts." Whether his majesty of France insisted upon coats only or whether the unfortunate players were doomed to practice in complete suits of armor does not appear.—London Graphic.

Agriculture In Africa.

Excepting perhaps some Malayan tribes the African negroes are said to be the finest agriculturists of all the natural races. The Bongos are said to have a greater variety of garden plants around their huts than are found in the fields and gardens of a German village. Irrigation is practiced. The Angolas, in the Kongo district, have practical irrigation. The Wachangu show wonderful skill in irrigating their terraced hillsides by tunnels of water diverted from the main stream. "They have a clear mode of irrigating equally a given surface. As the little canals of water are always elevated above the cultivated plants, they will tap them at a convenient spot above the beds to be watered and then turn the stream into a rough conduit made of the hollow stems of bananas cut in half, the end of each stem overlapping the next. Then as the water enters the last joint it is freely turned right and left, distributing the vivifying stream in all directions."—Southern Workman.

Too Cold For Overcoats.

"You do not find any one wearing overcoats in Alaska, even in the winter," said a man from that territory. "The principal thing to be careful about is keeping the head, hands and feet warm. In that part of Alaska where I have been the only land transportation is by dog sleds, and to follow them one has to drop into a dog-trot beside the sled. An ordinary suit is plenty thick enough to keep you warm, and an overcoat is dangerous in that temperature. Trotting alongside a sled wearing an overcoat would make you perspire, and the bitter cold would freeze the perspiration. The men there wear a fur cap that covers every part of the head and face except the eyes, and there is only a little peephole for them. Wool lined mitts are worn on the hands and moccasins with woolen stockings on the feet."—Baltimore Sun.

Tragedy of a Wooden Leg.

A man who travels on a wooden leg says: "About the worst accident we ever heard of befalling a wooden legged man is the time one such unfortunate was going home after being to a late supper, along about 3 o'clock in the morning, when his peg leg went through an auger hole in the grub plank sidewalk, and he kept circling about that hole all night thinking he was going home. The editor of this paper wants it distinctly understood that we cannot vouch for the truthfulness of this story."—Kansas City Journal.

All the Same.

At one of the large north country churches recently a fashionably dressed lady happened to go into one of the private pews. The verger, who is known to be a very stern old chap, immediately bustled up to her and said:

"I'm afraid, miss, you'll ha'e to cum out o' that. This is a paid pew."

"Sir," said the young lady, turning sharply round, "do you know who I am? I'm one of the Fifes."

"I dinna care," said the old man, "if you are the big drum. You'll ha'e to cum out."—Edinburgh Scotsman.

Dainty if Not Substantial.

The wife of a farmer had a sister come from Chicago to make a visit. One day the thrashers came, and the guest insisted on doing the work alone and sent her sister away to rest. When twenty-seven thrashers filed in to supper that night they found a sandwich tied with ribbon, one chicken croquette, one cheese ball the size of a marble and a buttonhole bouquet at each plate.—Emporia (Kan.) Gazette.

Long Sight.

The longest distance ever compassed by human vision is 183 miles, being the distance between the Uncompahgre park, in Colorado, and Mount Ellen, in Utah. This feat was accomplished by the surveyors of the United States coast and geodetic survey, who were engaged, in conjunction with representatives of other nations, in making a new measurement of the earth.

Cheerfulness.

The cheerful man's thought sculptures his face into one of kindliness, touches his manner with grace and his business life with friendliness toward humanity.—Jacksboro (Tex.) Gazette.

McBRIDE DEPARTS.

Journey to Foot of the Throne Commences This Evening.

Victoria, April 9.—Premier McBride accompanied by his private secretary, Lawrence MacRae, will leave tomorrow evening for London where he will lay before the Imperial authorities the claims of the province for special treatment regarding subsidies from the federal government. He expects to sail on the Empress of Ireland on the 17th inst., and has made his departure thus early in order that there might be no doubt of his reaching London in time to obtain a hearing on behalf of the province. He will be the only representative of provincial government.

A Hint For Young Playwrights.

The young man wrapped up his rejected play with a rather sad smile.

"Thank you for reading it," he said. "It is the sixth unsuccessful drama I have written."

The manager of 117 theaters gave him an encouraging pat on the shoulder.

"Look here," he said. "I'll tell you what you want to do. You want to begin less ambitious. Begin with a one act curtain raiser. And after you've wrote this here curtain raiser send it around with the sentence printed on the cover, 'You can play this for nothing.' I guarantee you'll get a hearing then. Ten to one, by gosh, you'll get played."

"A good idea," murmured the young man.

"That's what it is," said the great manager. "I got it from Sidney Grundy. It's how he began. His first play was a curtain raiser, 'A Little Change.' He said on it, 'Play it for nothing.' And the Haymarket theater took him up."

Spectacles Demoralizing.

A certain Somerset vicar made himself notorious by the vigor with which in the seventeenth century he inveighed against the use of the newly invented optic glasses, since they perverted vision and made all things appear in an unnatural and therefore a false light. Microscopes and telescopes, with their array of lenses, he declared to be impostors, since a man could not see so well with two pairs of spectacles as with one. Some asserted it to be sinful to assist the eyes, which were adapted by Providence to the capacity of the individual, whether good, bad or indifferent. "It was argued that society at large would become demoralized by the use of spectacles. They would give one man an unfair advantage over his fellow and every man an unfair advantage over every woman, who could not be expected on aesthetic and intellectual grounds to adopt the practice." --London Spectator.

Sparing the Smasher.

"I told you," said the merchant, "to mark this box 'Handle With Care.' What's this nonsense you've painted here?"

"That," said the college graduate, "is the Latin for 'Handle With Care.'"

"How do you expect a baggageman to understand that?"

"He won't and therefore he won't get mad and smash the box."—Philadelphia Press.

For Feminine Jurors.

In breach of promise cases the presence of female jurors among the male jurors would certainly benefit the men, as they would at once see through the wiles of their own sex, disconnect the picture hat and the pretty gown and disclose the hussy at heart in the pleading, innocent betrayed one.—Lady Violet Greville in London Opinion.

Dates Ahead.

April 10—Board of Trade.
April 12—Oddfellows' reception to Grand Master.
April 13—Knox Church Lecture.
April 13—Lacrosse meeting.
April 15—Women's Hospital Auxiliary Meeting.
April 15—Epworth League, Queen's Avenue Church, annual meeting.
