FERNIE STRIKE WILL TIE UP ALL FREIGHT

Situation at Coal Mines Could Scarcely Be Worse—Prairie Provinces Alive to Gravity of Situation—Winnipeg Board of Trade Advocates Removal of Head Tax on Chinamen to Relieve Matter.

Vancouver, April 19.—Although the coal strike situation has yet had no effect locally on the powers of the C. P. R. to haul freight, advices received from Nelson today show that matters are growing worse instead of better. From the point of view of the Kootenay and Boundary districts the outlook could scarcely be much worse than it is.

Today the C. P. R. is hauling only perishable freights in the Kootenay and Boundary districts and throughout the territory served by the Crow's Nest Pass branch railway. Included in the list of perishables is livestock. Whether the C. P. R. will not in a very short space of time have to cease hauling even perishables is a question which it is expected the next forty-eight hours will settle.

On the main line the C. P. R. is still handling all classes of freight though reports are current that the difficulty of obtaining cars for eastern shipment is greater than ever. Curtailment of main line freight traffic within the next few days to the hauling of perishables only is not unexpected in railway circles.

Winnipeg, Man., April 19.—The situation throughout Alberta is most critical this afternoon. From latest reports it appears as though every miner in the province will be out by night. The C. P. R. is confiscating many cars of coal along its system, and the coal famine will be serious in a week unless the men return to work.

President Lindsey, of the mine operators' association, who leaves Toronto tonight, wired H. N. Galer, manager of the International Coal and Coke company, Coleman, as follows:

"Have just received following message from John Mitchel and Thomas Lewis: 'We have wired Sherman to have men remain at work.'—Lindsey."

President Sherman, when asked today at Fernie, if he had received a message from President Mitchell or, dering the men back to work, flatly denied it. Evidently Sherman relies on the technical difference in language between "remaining" at work and "returning" to work.

The C. P. R. at Fernie has only 190 tons of coal on hand, and that was brought in from mines at Frank, which worked yesterday.

Winnipeg, April 19.—At a meeting of the Winnipeg board of trade yesterday, a strong sentiment was manifested in favor of memoralizing the Dominion Government to withdraw the restrictions on Asiatic labor entering the country and being utilized in the mines, if the coal mines of Alberta and British Columbia carry out their expressed intention of ignoring the provisions of the Lemieux Conciliation Act.

The suporters of this extreme action expressed themselves as opposed to Chinese labor on principle, but they considered anything would be preferable to the business disorganization and other calamities which would follow in the wake of a miners' strike at the present time.

COUNCIL DECIDES ON RULE FOR LETTERS

IN FUTURE COMMUNICATIONS MUST APPEAR IN OPEN COUNCIL FIRST—ROUTINE WORK.

The council transacted considerable routine business last night, the various committee reports were heard, and unanimously passed. Owing to the absence of the Mayor, Alderman Shiles occupied the chair.

The following other aldermen were present: Jardine, Henley, Johnston and Gray. The communication from the Royal City Transfer company, requesting a lease on two water lots was gone into and discussed. It was finally decided that the matter be left to the Mayor and Alderman Jardine to look into, before any lease was granted. The increase of salary requested by the police magistrate was laid over for another meeting as was also several other matters. A couple of new communications were on file, but the meeting decided that all communications should appear in open council, after which they would be received in committee meetings.

Alderman Johnston brought up the subject of the proposed addition to the park ranger's house, and produced three tenders for the necessary improvements, which were read in committee. The lowest, from Marshall and Bowell, offering to build the addition without plumbing or painting at total cost of $175, was accepted. Tenders for the plumbing and painting will be called for.

The plan for an addition to the market wharf was approved and the clerk instructed to call for tenders. The Albert Crescent will be attended to, a general clean-up of the grounds, and repainting of the band stand recommended. The ground opposite the Women's building, at Queen's Park, will also be cleaned up.

USES ROYAL DECREE.

Unusual Action Taken by King Leopold Arouses Great Indignation.

Brussels, April 19.—King Leopold's unprecedented action in withdrawing by Royal decree the government bill concerning the hours of work in the mills has aroused the greatest indignation in all parts. The situation is aggravated by the fact that the decree was countersigned by ministers who had officially resigned, and therefore possessed no authority before Parliament. The government under the law is entitled to withdraw a bill, presented in both houses until the Senate adopts it, but in not announcing the decree until after its resignation, and when it had been demonstrated it had only thirty-two supporters, it is considered as being guilty of political sharp practices.

The situation is very grave and dissolution of Parliament appears to be inevitable.

Baseball This Afternoon.

Schaake's baseball team having failed to come up to the scratch for a game this afternoon, the New Westminster baseball team got busy yesterday and finally induced the Columbian College team to make arrangements for a match at Queen's Park. The game is scheduled to start at three o'clock, and while the full city team will not be on the field, considerable interest is being taken in the match, as it will be the first game of the season. The college boys are said to have a fairly strong team, while the city lads have a couple of men that they wish to try out. Lewis will pitch the game, and Richards, a new man on the New Westminster diamond, will catch. No admission will be charged to the park grounds, and advice to the umpire will be as welcome as in past seasons.

Terrible Avalanche.

Vernon, April 19.—A despatch from Rogers Pass briefly tells of an accident there yesterday afternoon, when a terrible avalanche, of snow and ice carried a rotary snow plow and two men hundreds of feet below. A large section of the track is also reported swept away. The warm weather is causing the trouble.

Vernon Mills Burn.

Vernon, B. C., April 19.—The city planing mills, owned by Baillie & Manning, were totally destroyed by fire this morning, involving a loss of eleven thousand dollars. The insurance carried was three thousand dollars. The mill will be rebuilt.

WORK HAS COMMENCED ON BAPTIST COLLEGE

HANDSOME BUILDING IN SUMMERLAND WILL COST $25,000—CARPENTERS ARE SCARCE.

Vernon, April 19.—W. H. Ireland, the architect and builder is at present visiting Vernon. Mr. Ireland's new plans for the Summerland Baptist college have been accepted by the committee, and work has already been started on the excavations. The present plans provide for a building of handsome design to cost $25,000. Mr. Ireland expects to complete construction in September next. Besides the main college building, there will be a ladies' residence to cost $7,000.

S. C. Smith Lumber company Ltd., of this city and the Summerland saw mill will supply the building material. Mr. Ireland reports that owing to the scarcity of carpenters in the valley, he is obliged to get some from Manitoba who are anxious to make their homes there.

GENERAL MANAGER COMING.

Special Train Left St. Paul for the Coast Yesterday Morning.

A party of G. N. R. officials, including General Manager F. E. Ward and General Superintendent H. A. Kennedy left St. Paul yesterday morning on a special train, and are expected to arrive in New Westminster on or about Wednesday of next week. The general manager of the passenger traffic and the general manager of the freight department are also in the party, and the tour will be partly one of inspection, and partly for the purpose of looking after numerous improvements which are to be made in different parts of the country. The party will spend some time in Seattle, where the G. N. R. has several big undertakings on hand.

ANOTHER DEER DIES.

Foot and Mouth Disease Responsible—Remaining Deer Healthy.

Alderman Johnston, at the council meeting last night unofficially informed the gathering of the sad news of the passing away of another of the park deer. As this one made his demise in the same manner as the doe which died a few weeks ago, Chief Watson and the aldermen held a post-mortem examination. The result of their investigation showed that the under part of the jaw was in a state of putrefaction, and also one of the animal's hoofs.

It seems to be the opinion of Alderman Johnston and the Fire Chief that the deer succumbed to a contagious disease commonly known as the "foot and mouth disease." The others, however, show no sign of any indisposition and Mr. Johnston hopes that it is exterminated.

Children in Bad Shape.

Montreal, April 19.—The report of the medical inspection of schools just made public, indicates a deplorable condition of affairs throughout the island of Montreal. The inspection for six months ending March shows that out of a total of 62,000 pupils, no less than 20,000 are found to be either diseased or have vermin. For instance there were fourteen hundred cases of inflamation of the glands, one thousand cases of defective vision, fourteen hundred children were covered with vermin, two hundred and fifty with skin diseases.

Bar American Machines.

Berlin, April 19.—During the discussion by the Budget committee of the Reichstag of the appropriation to purchase typewriting machines for the military authorities, Dr. Sudetum, Socialist, introduced a motion providing for the exclusion of American machines because of the prohibitive effect of the American customs duties on German goods. Herr Paasche, National Liberal, first vice-president of the Reichstag supported the motion.

May not Lose Sight.

S. Gordon, a young man brought down from Blackie Spit yesterday suffering from an injured eye, and now under treatment at the St. Mary's hospital, was reported this morning to be progressing favorably. The doctors have hopes of saving the injured member.

DREAD DISEASE STRIKES TERROR AMONG INDIANS

Strange Malady Breaks Out Epidemically Affecting Whole Tribe of Neeneemas—White Men Exempt—Stricken Natives Die in Two or Three Days—Cases Cannot be Diagnosed.

Whitehorse, Y. T., April 19.—News brought up by men who had just come up the Tanana river is to the effect that the strange malady with which so many of the Neemana Indians have recently become affected is proving a deadly epidemic. The extermination of the whole tribe is threatened unless the epidemic is stamped out.

A hunter who stopped at Neemana on the way up states that the conditions are alarming. One of them will be stricken suddenly and will die the next day or sooner. In none of the many fatal cases reported to him had the invalid lived for more than two or three days.

None of the whites have been able to diagnose the cases or satisfactorily define the malady. They are somewhat anxious and are hoping the condition will soon be investigated by mission people or federal authorities. It is argued that if by chance some white traveller is affected, it would spread a great deal faster than is possible now where it is confined to one small colony of natives.

Death of James Blair.

After being under treatment in the Royal Columbian hospital for the past three weeks, James Blair, section foreman for the B. C. E. R. company died yesterday afternoon, cancer of the stomach being the cause of death. The deceased had been in the employ of the B. C. E. R. for a number of years, and was entrusted with the most important work to be done in the grading of roadbeds. He was well liked by his fellow employees, a large number of whom will attend his funeral in a body. The deceased was well connected, and in early life had held many important positions in other countries before finally coming to British Columbia. The funeral arrangements were not made yesterday.

LAUNCHING OF STEAMER OKANAGAN FITTINGLY CELEBRATED—WINE FLOWED AT BANQUET.

Vernon, April 19.—The new C. P. R. steamer Okanagan was launched this week at the Landing. She was over nine months in building, her keel having been laid on July 10 last. Her total cost is $90,000.

Mayor Megaw declared a half holiday, which was generally observed. At 1:30 a special C. P. R. train carried many hundreds to Okanagan Lake, besides a large crowd journeyed thither by carriage, horseback and on foot. At 2:20 p.m. over one thousand had gathered at Vernon's lake port to witness the launching of the big steamer. There was a brisk wind blowing, the waters were rolling and with flags and bunting on shore and on the steamers Aberdeen and York and the new boat flying a gay and lively appearance was lent to the scene. The Vernon band, which had accompanied the excursion down, was stationed on board the Okanagan, and during the hour—from 2:20 until 3:20—the workmen were engaged wedging the steamer off the blocks, discoursed lively airs.

After the formal ceremony was over, a luncheon was served in the stateroom of the steamer, where a large number of prominent citizens drank to the success of the Okanagan.

SCHOOL FOR PROPHETESSES.

Novel Educational Institution Established in Berlin.

Berlin, April 19.—Educational establishments here have been enriched by the inauguration of a school for prophetesses. The prospectus announces that the school is conducted by a lady of large experience. Only female pupils will be admitted. The course includes all forms of chiromancy, besides instruction how to read the future from coffee grounds, the flights of birds, the yolks of eggs, and the forms taken by molten lead when dropped in water. The proprietress is receiving numerous applications for instruction.

SMALLPOX BREAKS OUT ON EMPRESS OF JAPAN

BIG LINER QUARANTINED AND FUMIGATED—SIX PATIENTS REMOVED TO ISOLATION

Victoria, April 19.—Carrying her passengers and the overseas mail which were placed in board at the outer wharf this afternoon, the R. M. S. Empress of Japan sailed for the Orient today. Throughout yesterday, all last night, and this morning, she lay at William Head Quarantine station undergoing a process of fumigation by means of formaldehyde. Six cases of what turned out to be smallpox were discovered on board. These were removed ashore and placed in the isolation hospital at William Head.

Among these cases was one passenger, F. H. Jordan, who had booked an intermediate passage and had gone on board the Empress at Vancouver early on Tuesday afternoon. A few hours after his arrival it was found that he was suffering from the disease. The Empress then received orders to proceed to quarantine, and subsequently five other cases were discovered amongst the Chinese crew.

EPWORTH LEAGUE DEBATE.

Queen's Avenue and Sapperton Representatives Will Settle Question.

"Resolved, that man aspires to fame rather than to wealth," is the subject of a debate that will be held next week by ladies and gentlemen representing the Epworth League of Queen's avenue and the Sapperton Methodist churches. The Queen's avenue debaters, after a careful study of the question have decided to handle the negative side of the argument, and are in great hopes of winning.

The Queen's avenue church league will be represented by Frank Cantell, Fred Haggman, and Mrs. Nicholson. Mr. Defenbaugh, of Sapperton, is in charge of the arrangements in connection with the Sapperton league. An interesting time is promised at the debate, and many a fine argument are being prepared for both sides.

ORANGEMAN BURIED IN CATHOLIC GROUND

BODY MAY BE EXHUMED—LIVED PROTESTANT BUT DIED IN THE ROMAN FAITH.

The body of James Harten, who died as the result of injuries received while walking along the C. P. R. track having been struck by a passing train, may be exhumed from its resting place in the Roman Catholic cemetery, and re-buried in Protestant ground. It is understood that a brother of the deceased, who arrived in the city after the funeral had taken place, strongly objects to the body resting in a Roman Catholic cemetery, the deceased had always been a Protestant, and belonged to the Orange order.

While lying in St. Mary's hospital, Mrs. Harten was visited several times by the Rev. J. S. Henderson, the last visit being paid on Thursday, the following day death claimed the injured man. Mr. Henderson was notified that the man was dying, consequently did not call to see Father O'Boyle, who administered the last sacraments according to rites of the Catholic church, did at the request of the dying man, who was quite conscious, and understood perfectly well that he was being attended by a Catholic priest. He also expressed the desire to be buried as a Catholic, which was accordingly done.

Accompanied by Detective Bullock, of the C. P. R. secret service, the recently arrived brother went out to Port Junction yesterday, in the hope that they might be able to find out exactly by what means his brother was injured. A missing valise, which the deceased had with him when last seen, is also being sought for. The case is still more or less complicated by a report that James Hartney was run over by a hand car on the evening previous to the day he was fatally injured by the train. The crew of the speeder are now being sought for, the dead man having told a friend that he had been given a dollar by a member of the crew in order to get his wounds attended to by a medical man.

SAPPERTON PARK.

New Recreation Ground Will Be Fenced This Year—Tenders Called.

Alderman Johnston, chairman of the parks committee, yesterday made a formal visit of inspection to the ground reserved for a park at Sapperton. He was accompanied by Messrs. Courthard, Digby, McDougal, and Colson, who had been appointed as a committee to look after the fixing up of the ground. After some discussion between these gentlemen, it was decided to call for tenders to put up a fence surrounding the ground, and the work will be commenced within the next few days. L. A. Lewis, of the Brunette Saw mills, has kindly offered to supply the posts required free of charge, while T. J. Trapp will supply the wire at cost price.

An appropriation of $500 has been made by the city council for the Sapperton park, and this money will be expended upon the putting up of the fence and a few other improvements. Next year, an application will be made for another $500, and if this is granted, the park will be levelled and sodded early in the summer.

Typhoon Sweeps the Caroline Islands

Berlin, April 19.—A telegram from the Governor of the Island of Yap says a typhoon swept the Caroline islands March 29, killing 230 natives in the Yap group and destroying the crop of cocoanuts so that famine threatens as a result. The natives are panic-stricken, and grave disorders are feared unless food and supplies can be forwarded without delay.

The Jubilee Singers, who will apear at the Opera House on May 9, under the auspices of the Epworth League of the Queen's avenue Methodist church, promise to provide an entertainment that will be pleasing and interesting to all who attend.

Nanaimo Miners Quite Content to Remain at Work

Nanaimo, April 19.—The Crow's Nest Pass strike is not worrying Nanaimo or other Vancouver Island miners. The Island miners have recently received a ten per cent. rise of wages, and are working steadily and contentedly. Regarding local miners an agreement was made with the Western Fuel company for two years, which does not expire till next October, when it is confidently anticipated there will be no trouble in arranging another satisfactory agreement.

The Island miners on no occasion wish to resort to any drastic measures to settle their difficulties, except in cases of dire extremity.

HANDLING A TIGER.

How a Turkoman Subdued a Snarling, Angry Man Eater.

"In a cage near the room in which I lived while in Khiva," says Langdon Warner in the Century Magazine, "was a tiger from the Oxus swamps. He had taken a dislike to me, and every time I passed his cage he got up and paced angrily toward me, snarling.

"Into the cage of this beast, at the command of the prince, a Turkoman stepped, armed with a short stick as big round as his wrist. With this stick he struck the tiger's nose as he made for him, and then, with palms out and eyes fixed, he walked slowly up to the shrinking beast and stroked his face and flank.

"The tiger, snarled and took the man's hand in his own mouth. I held my breath and looked for the bleeding stump to fall away; but, keeping that hand perfectly still, with the other he tickled the tiger's jowl and scratched his ear till with a yawn and a pleased snarl the big cat rolled over on his back to have his belly scratched.

"The man then sank to his knees, always keeping his hands in motion over the glossy fur, and with his foot drew toward him a collar attached to a chain. This he snapped round the beast's neck and, rising to his feet, laid hold of the chain and dragged the tiger out.

"This was only the second time that the cage had been entered. As soon as the tiger was outside he espied the watching party and started for them, but came up short on the collar. If he had chosen to use his weight and strength no four of them could have held his tether, but as it was the Turkoman found little difficulty with him and held him, snarling, while a camera was snapped."

A FISHY BUSINESS.

The Columbian professes to have no use for Mr. Babcock, provincial commissioner of fisheries, but when Mr. Oliver attacked that gentleman by moving a vote of censure in the legislature, the Columbian rushed to Mr. Babcock's defence, and roundly abused Mr. Oliver. True, it makes its defence as indirect as possible, and it strikes some severe blows—merely by way of "feel nettling." For instance, it says:

"There is one further to be noted in connection with the Oliver resolution, that whatever power for evil Mr. Babcock has had in connection with the Fraser fisheries has been conferred upon him not by Victoria, but by Ottawa."

That statement of course is simply a bit of childish absurdity. Mr. Babcock is employed and paid by the McBride government, and their government publishes his reports in exactly the same way and with exactly the same emotion as the reports of any of the ministers. These facts give Mr. Babcock, whatever standing he may have in Canada as a fishery expert. Because he was the fishery expert of the McBride government, a demand was made that he should be a member of the fisheries commission, and for the same reason, the Minister of Marine and Fisheries could not well refuse to appoint him. All his "power for evil" (to use the Columbian's phrase) has therefore been conferred upon him by the McBride government, whose great champion, Mr. Brewer, lauded him to the skies the other day.

Of course the Columbian is in a fix in this matter, "between the devil and the deep sea." Mr. Babcock is the open and declared enemy of New Westminster interests in fishery matters. Therefore the Columbian does not like openly to defend him. He is also, however, a pet of the McBride government, and the Columbian is tagged for the party ass to continue its defending support of that government. The position is certainly an awkward one, but the Columbian need not make itself a laughing-stock by urging Mr. Oliver to "use the influence it seems to have at Ottawa" against Mr. Babcock, while it supports Mr. Clifford in retaining Mr. Babcock's services at Victoria.

WAS IT IGNORANCE?

In the legislature the other day the Provincial Secretary, speaking of the McGill college adjunct in Vancouver, said that British Columbia had been most fortunate in having so powerful an institution as McGill, willing to serve as an adjunct to a Provincial university. They had already started classes, which had served as the nucleus of this higher education in British Columbia, and had led to an interest in the subject which had resulted in this bill being brought down."

We presume the hon. gentleman spoke out of the abundance of his ignorance. Plainly he thought that British Columbia had been innocent not only of "higher education" but of all care for it until McGill was good enough to "butt in" and wake it up! Will he be surprised to learn that Columbian College, New Westminster, has been imparting this "higher education to its students for a number of years, and had, before this beneficent invasion by McGill was heard of, carried some of them to graduation in its own class rooms? A kindergarten course in the history of our own times in British Columbia might be recommended to the hon. gentleman.

Mr. Harriman predicts that ten years will see the "Standard" railway guage of 4 feet 8½ inches changed back to the old "broad" guage of 6 feet. Such a change may come, but the cost would be enormous.

An expert writing to an American paper about railway wrecks and their causes, says investigation will show "that a large percentage of wrecks and derailments can be attributed to the pounding of the flanges on guard rails and frogs where cracked and broken flanges are caused, and at the first curve the broken part comes in contact with the rail and the wheel rides off it, causing wreck and loss of life. What is needed is the elimination of the rigid frog and guard rail from the main line, giving a continuous rail under fast and heavy traffic and increasing the metal in wheel-flanges. With such improvements on any trunk line with heavy traffic wrecks will be a thing of the past as far as caused by track conditions."

FRIDAY'S MARKET REPORT

One of the best markets of the season was held yesterday. The weather was ideal and the long sheds were more numerous than for some time past, and many visitors from Vancouver and other outside points took advantage of the weather to make the many necessary purchases which can always be obtained at Lytton square of a Friday morning.

Beef is Short.

The supply of beef has been rather short for some time past, and notwithstanding the good demand for this class of foodstuff beef was not offered in any abundance. Good fat beef seems to be scarce at this season, which accounts for the small amount offered. The price ranged from 10 to 11 cents for sidequarters, and 8 to 9 cents for fronts.

The demand for mutton has been steadily increasing during the past few weeks, but the supply that is being brought in is far from being able to keep up to the demand. The popular price for good mutton was 11 cents per pound, though towards the last buyers who were anxious for this delicate meat were as high as 12 cents per pound.

Veal First Class.

The supply of veal was fair, and ten cents per pound was the regular price although in one or two instances went for 11 cents. The veal offered was all first class stock, and pretty well supplied the demand.

Eggs are becoming more plentiful at the time, but the price still holds good, and the supply yesterday was nearly all bought up at 27 cents per dozen wholesale.

Much fine butter was on view yesterday, and was eagerly sought after. The ruling price was 35 cents but in some cases customers were willing to pay as high as 40 cents.

Birds Plentiful.

Poultry, both live and dressed, was in great evidence yesterday, and many live birds changed hands at good prices for laying and breeding purposes. One lot consisting of 200 pure bred bulls were exposed for sale. A large assortment of barred Plymouth Rocks was also on view.

The dressed article was also in good demand, and all sold readily at prices ranging from $7.50 to $8.00 per dozen for young birds, and $9 to $10 for good heavy fowl. A few ducks were on sale and $12 per dozen was paid by lovers of this delicacy, and many would-be purchasers who arrived a little late, failed to secure the desired article.

Apples are still scarce, and only a few boxes were offered, which were eagerly snapped up at $1.50 per box.

Potatoes Increase in Price.

Potatoes still keep going up in price, and as high as $30 per ton was paid, though the average taber commanded only $25 per ton. This is a large increase on last week, and people who profess to know assert that the supply is nearly all in now, and that as high as $40 may be expected to be paid for potatoes before the new crop is fit for consumption.

Smooth Soap Seller.

Considerable amusement was furnished the crowds by a young man who, with much flowery speech and a great manner of conviction, endeavored to persuade his audience to invest in a certain kind of soap. The gentleman stood in the back of a rig, and the clouds of foamy lather which he made, and the arguments he put forth in favor of this special brand of dirt remover, were wonderful indeed.

Many Horses Sold.

T. J. Trapp was kept busy for two hours selling horses, cattle, harness and rigs. Some very good horses were put up, and in all cases realized a good figure, horses of almost any kind seeming to be in good demand.

Several good looking milkers were also offered, but the price in most cases was not up to expectations, some of the owners refusing to allow the animals to go under a certain figure.

Floral Corner.

The flowers commanded considerable attention at the market yesterday, and the profusion displayed caused their delicate perfume to be noticed all over the building. S. G. Tidy & Sons, particular, deserves mention, as well as J. Muirhead, the floral exhibits of both these parties combining some of the finest exotics yet shown in the market hall.

THE DETECTIVE STORY

Origin and Growth of the Clever Amateur Sleuth.

VOLTAIRE WAS HIS CREATOR.

The Great French Writer Introduced Him to the World of Fiction—The Genius of Poe and Gaboriau and Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes.

Most persons who read detective stories and most literary critics, too, believe that the very popular form of fiction was invented by Edgar Allan Poe. They point to the story of "The Purloined Letter" as being the first of its kind—the first in which is introduced the mark of keen mind, of close reasoning and of constructive imagination, who is able to piece together certain facts that are known and then by brilliant deduction to pass from them to other facts which are not known, but the truth of which he is able to establish beyond a doubt.

Poe himself had a mind peculiarly of this character—the mind of a mathematician subtle, logical and capable of marvelous analysis. He once gave a remarkable illustration of what he could do as an investigator of mysterious crimes. A young cigarette named Mary Rogers was found murdered under circumstances which excited great public interest in New York. The police were completely baffled though they advanced a theory which was plausible in part. Poe, taking the facts that were published, wove them into a story, the scene of which he laid in Paris and which he called "The Mystery of Marie Roget." Then from what was known he passed by deduction to what was unknown and worked out a solution to the puzzle which in professional detectives had been able to explain. Years afterward the confession of a dying man afforded proof that Poe was right and that he had reconstructed accurately the whole series of events which led to the death of Mary Rogers.

This remarkable achievement fixed in the public mind the notion that the use of logic blended with imagination was original with Poe. As a matter of fact, it is almost certain that Poe, who was deeply versed in French literature, got the suggestion of the method from reading certain passages in the crude tale called "Zadig," by Voltaire. In this book a young man is questioned as to whether he had seen a stray dog and horse that might have passed him on the journey. In reply he describes very accurately the peculiarities of both, though he had not seen them. He had deduced his knowledge from observing certain indications along the way—the nature of the footprints and many other signs which the ordinary person would either not have noticed or would have been too dull to understand. Here is really the germ of the conception which Poe so brilliantly elaborated in the story of "The Purloined Letter," where we find established the striking contrast between the working of a usual mind and the achievements of a mind of exceptional power and training.

Poe's central figure, the amateur detective, was afterward coupled up and contrasted with great effect by several French writers, of whom the chief was Emile Gaboriau. Gaboriau gave the world the character of M. Lecoq in the remarkable novel of that name. Lecoq is a professional detective, but appears in that book as a mature, experienced, but full of intelligence and enthusiasm and skilled to work out his clews against the secret opposition of the official chief, Gevrol, who is jealous of the young detective. In the Lecoq novels is the interesting figure of the real amateur detective, old Père Tabaret (Père Absolument), a retired tradesman who studies crime from sheer love of the intellectual prize which it affords him and which he solves by purely scientific deduction.

Sir Conan Doyle in creating Sherlock Holmes openly acknowledged his great indebtedness to Poe. Like Poe's hero, Holmes works apart from the official police and is consulted by them when they are wholly at a loss. Many of the incidents in the Holmes cycle of stories were suggested by the investigations of Poe. Yet it is only fair to say that Doyle has gone one step further than his master. Poe's characters are abstractions. They are like chessmen on the board and excite interest only because of the complexity of the problem which they are made to solve. Doyle's characters, on the other hand, are drawn with sympathy and a shrewd insight into human nature. They entertain us by their whims and individual traits no less than by the adventures through which they pass. Thus Holmes' addiction to the cocaine habit, his trick of smoking great quantities of shag tobacco when thinking out a problem, his dislike of women, his skill as a boxer—in fact, a score of traits all give him individuality and make us think of him as a fascinating character quite apart from his powers as a deductive reasoner. And it is so with the minor personages as well—Watson, the somewhat obtuse chronicler of the adventures; Lestrade and Gregson of the official police and Moriarty, the arch criminal.

But, however brilliant Poe may have been, or however ingeniously Gaboriau may have spun tangled plots, or however ably Conan Doyle may have given life and reality to the central figure of his stories, they all derive their inspiration, whether consciously or not, from the clever tale told by the famous Frenchman before Poe saw the light.—Scrap Book.

THE STAR MIRA.

A Sun of Great Size That Is Struggling For Existence.

For the greater part of the time the variable Mira, which has been known to astronomers for 300 years, is altogether unnoticeable and indeed invisible, except with telescopes. It once disappeared entirely for a period of four years, but afterward attained extraordinary splendor, only to fade again to invisibility. It is a sun of great size, brighter than our sun when it shines at its brightest, but some trouble, some solar disease, seems to be sapping its vitality, and it resembles a patient almost at the last gasp. Once in about 331 days—but the period is irregular—it has a sudden accession of energy and flares up for a little while with several hundredfold brilliancy only to sink back into a dull red point that nearly escapes the ken of the telescope. One interesting explanation that has been suggested is that the surface of Mira periodically bursts into a vast flame of burning hydrogen, so great and powerful that it is visible across millions of millions of miles of space. It is a star for the imagination of a Dante, yet there is reason to believe that the time is coming when every star in the sky, not excepting the sun, will have to confront a similar struggle for existence, just as every mortal being must some time see death.—Garrett P. Serviss in New York American.

ENGLISH ETCHINGS.

There are still in existence some British bank notes dated 1798 and printed on satin.

There are 2,500,000 cycles in use in the United Kingdom, or one for every twenty of the population.

There are three Jewish peers in England and eleven baronets, while sixteen Jews have seats in the house of commons.

The sale of patent medicines for a year in Great Britain averages more than one package for each inhabitant of the country, with a face value of over £2,750,000.

The London Christian World, the most widely circulated religious paper in England, reports the consecration of a chapel by the archbishop of Canterbury and gives token of its ecclesiastical and geographical knowledge by adding, "The sermon was preached by the bishop of Rhode Island, N. Y."

There was little that was romantic in the first meeting of Kean, the great tragedian, and the woman who was to bear his name. It was on the stage of the Cheltenham theater that Charles Kean and Miss Chambers, a pretty young actress, first saw each other. "Who is that shabby little man with the brilliant eyes?" Miss Chambers asked in the hearing of the king of the stage. "And who," Kean retorted by asking aloud, "is that odd little woman?" From this singularly inauspicious opening Kean's love drama proceeded so swiftly that before a month had gone the curtain was rung down at the altar.
