OFFICIALS VISIT WATERWORKS INTAKE

Seymour Creek Portion of Vancouver System Viewed By Westminster Citizens.

A pleasant and profitable day on land and water sums up the result of the Westminster city council members visit yesterday to the intake of Vancouver at Seymour creek, North Vancouver, the supplementary supply for that city and suburbs. The local representatives went at the invitation of Hermon & Burwell, who acted as Vancouver's advisors during construction, the special interest to this city arising from the fact that these eminent engineers have been engaged by the city council to supervise the work of laying a 24-inch main from Coquitlam lake for the additional supply of this city, and Richmond municipality.

The Personnel of the Party.

The party visiting the lake were Mayor Keary, Alderman Adams (chairman of the water committee), Aldermen Jardine and Fader, and Superintendent of Waterworks Stott, and from the Vancouver city authorities Alderman Morton and Steve Maddison, superintendent of waterworks. Representing the engineers were in addition to the gentlemen already named J. E. Laverock and H. Montmmert. By their invitation George E. Webster and R. F. Drummond, better known as "Bob" Drummond, of rain wreck fame, hero of a twelfth escape last Saturday, also formed two of the party.

Going over by the nine o'clock car, Hermon and Burwell met the party at the tram office, where a tally-ho was in waiting, and all then crossed the inlet in the steamer St. George. A long drive of about two hours followed. The party went by way of the Keith road, crossing the Lynn and Seymour creeks to the junction of the Pipeline road. This route brought them over the fine new steel bridge opened by Premier McBride a few weeks ago.

A Scenic Charm.

The Pipeline road, which leaves the Keith road close to the Seymour bridge, is a marvel of engineering, and shows a great advance upon Westminster's road from the Junction to the Coquitlam lake intake. It has been arranged on a slight down grade with substantial bridges, each protected against fire by attachments to the main. At the bend of the Seymour canyon the road is carried over a trestle built across the ravine conducting watercourses to the river below. The view of the canyon, with the water swirling between precipices of solid rock a hundred feet down, is the most splendid view on the road, the mind wandering to the results of a misstep by the horses. The wealth of hemlock and other timber grows to the water's edge on the west side, but the vista on the opposite hand is bounded by a range of bare hills, covered only with stumps—mute witness to some past forest fire but useless as conserving the watershed. Owing to the road following the windings of the river, the view is more extensive than possible along the Coquitlam river, and, fine as the prospect is from the Capilano canyon, the new road gives immeasurably finer scenery. Along the upper stretches there were evidences of the slides of the winter, fortunately a factor of decreasing danger.

Waterworks Plant.

Arriving at the intake, the first attention given was to lunch, and a word of praise is due to the caretaker for his efforts in this direction. Mayor Keary presided, and Ald. Adams occupied the vice-chair. Upon conclusion of the repast Mr. Hermon led the way to the screen house. While the capacity of the plant is a duplicate of the older system at Capilano, nine million gallons of water a day, only a portion of the record of the creek has been yet made use of by the engineers. In contradistinction to the intake at the Westminster waterworks, the intake is on the side, adjoining a monster boulder where in 1907 the first party of visitors sat to be photographed when the scheme was still in embryo. The water passes on through the intake channel to the concrete sediment tanks, where impurities, if any settle, to a skimmer which catches any leaves or other floating matter on the surface, thence to screens, a double set, which can be cleaned alternately, and from thence to the pipe. There is a 30-inch pipe to the canyon, some few miles down, and a 24-inch pipe carries it to the Second Narrows, where an 18-inch submerged main, which will be duplicated, carries this water to the south side.

Return Invitation.

The visitors expressed their great interest in the information given by the engineers, and subsequently Mayor Keary voiced the feelings of the Westminster party by inviting the Vancouver council to visit Coquitlam lake on July 7 next, which Ald. Morton, on behalf of the Vancouver corporation, accepted.

The party altered its plans a little on returning. Instead of coming back into North Vancouver, Superintendent Maddison suggested that the waterworks wharf, Second Narrows should be visited, and here was found the city launch, which after sundry adventures in rowboats accommodated them all, and the party reached the city before nine o'clock, all pleased with the trip of inspection.

APPOINTMENTS WILL BE MADE BY BOARD SHORTLY

School Trustees Find Special Meetings Necessary to Cover Business—High School Changes.

At a meeting of the members of the school board last evening all being present except Trustee Loree, Trustee Peebles reported that the contract for the new small school at Sapperton had been let to H. M. Marshall for 977. Much of the time was occupied in investigating a complaint against a teacher at the Sapperton school, but the allegations made were proved groundless and the teacher was sustained in the action taken. Another meeting will be held on Tuesday to appoint a successor to Mr. Elliott at the High School, and fill four vacancies among the teaching staff of the public schools.

A successor has been approved to C. S. Brown, of the High School staff in the person of J. H. Keller, M. A., headmaster of the Grand Forks school, a man of ability who has held a number of important positions and at one time was head master of the young men's academy at Sherbrooke, Que.

STR. BEAVER STARTS OF ANNUAL TRIP

Leaves This Morning for Port Douglas With Passengers and Fifty Tons of Freight.

This morning the steamer Beaver will clear from this port on her annual trip to the head of Harrison lake.

The Beaver will carry with her a few passengers, among them being Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Cooksley. Mr. Cooksley hoping to secure some views of the scenery on the way up the lake. It is the freight that is stowed in the hold of the Beaver, however, which constitutes the important consideration.

When she leaves port tomorrow the Beaver will have on board some fifty tons of freight of all sorts. Groceries, hardware, ammunition, agricultural implements, all the necessities of life that the settlers cannot raise or manufacture for themselves will be gathered in the hold of the up-river boat.

The annual trip of the Beaver to the head of the lake is the only opportunity that the dwellers along Harrison lake have of replenishing their stores, and it is customary for them to order a whole year's supply to be sent up by her.

The Beaver also has on board provisions and supplies for the Pemberton hatchery.

The water is at present favorable, and no difficulty is anticipated in getting the Beaver up and down the Harrison river, which at ordinary seasons of the year is not navigable even for river boats.

OLD-TIMER DIES.

Alexander Fraser Passes Away at Age of Sixty-four.

The funeral of the late Alexander M. Fraser will take place on Sunday afternoon under Masonic auspices. Mr. Fraser died at his residence, Eighth street, yesterday after a short illness, a clot of blood forming on the brain. He had reached the age of 64 years, and came to this city some twenty yeas ago to join the Royal City mills. He was employed as second engineer on the old Victorian, which plied between this city and Sidney, and as inspector of dredges superintended the construction of the King Edward and Ajax dredges, and also designed the snagboat Samson. He was a native of Pictou, Nova Scotia.

Mr. Fraser took a great interest in King Solomon Lodge, No. 17, A. F. and A. M., when it was organized in 1891, and Fraser Lodge No. 3 of the A. O. U. W. was named after him, Mr. Fraser being the first master workman. It had been hoped that Rev. J. S. Henderson would take the service, but he indicates that he has other engagements.

A. Johnson.

The death has taken place of Archie Johnson, of pneumonia, at his home at Port Moody, at the age of seventeen. He will be buried at the Odd Fellows' cemetery today.

NAVAL OFFICERS DREAD YEAR'S PHYSICAL TESTS

Washington, June 24.—With Washington in the grip of a hot season, naval officers are wondering if their superiors will order the physical tests to which they are subject during the summer days. The officers have the option of riding a bicycle 100 miles, riding a horse ninety miles or walking fifty miles. The penalty of retirement on three-quarters pay if they fail to stand the strain of the test chosen, makes the dawn of the fiscal year something to be dreaded.

It is estimated that almost 200 officers of various ranks from rear admiral down to midshipman will take the tests some time during the year in the vicinity of Washington.

SANGUINE ENGINE CAN YET BE RAISED

Divers Decide to Search River Without Fail Today—Authorities Impatient.

After five days' delay in connection with the diving operations at the Fraser river bridge, Divers Cook of North Vancouver, and Burbeck, of Seattle, promise a descent this morning to find what is actually attached to the end of the line which has held the hooks for the last 36 hours.

The divers who are working in harmony have each their special duty. Cook, who is engaged by the government, has to try to recover the bodies and the other man is working with the Great Northern Railway to get out the engine and tender, worth fully $12,000. Their intention has been to work with great caution, as the slightest hurry might disturb the body or bodies which the falling tender is believed to have caught. Till this is done the government apparently cannot facilitate an inquiry of legal standing, hence the delay of an official investigation.

May Raise Engine.

The divers inform Assistant Superintendent Devery of the G. N. R. that they will be able to bring the 72-ton engine to the surface with an inch and a half cable, and if this can be done it would be an easy matter to right it on to a scow. They are confident that neither the locomotive nor the tender will be found much the worse for the fall, improbable as that may seem, owing to resistance offered by the water. There is probably no parallel in the history of modern railroads of a group of men fishing for bodies and wreckage under similar conditions.

Both the provincial government and the railway company are becoming impatient of the delay, so that an effort is certain to be made today.

Ophir Brings Oriental Freight.

The steamer Ophir arrived in port from Vancouver yesterday morning. She brought with her a large quantity of freight for the Chinese merchants in this city, which had been shipped from the Orient on the Blue Funnel liner Antiochus, recently arrived in Vancouver.

MAY NOT PAY VISIT TO STATES IN UNIFORM

Militia Council Refuses Permission to Princess of Wales' Own Rifles.

Ottawa, June 24.—The militia council has refused permission to the Princess of Wales' Own Rifles, of Kingston, to take part in the Fourth of July celebration at Elmira, N. Y., and accordingly that regiment has had to cancel its trip.

"I don't know what sort of people these Kingston militia can be," said one of the officials of the department tonight, "but to go to a Fourth of July celebration in His Majesty's uniform is really too much."

The Governor-General's Foot Guards of Ottawa have arranged for an excursion to Burlington on July 4. However, they are not going as a regiment, but merely in a civilian capacity.

Ironworkers' Wages Advance.

Pottstown, Pa., June 24.—Notice announcing an advance of 10 per cent. in wages of employees of the Warwick Iron and Steel Company was posted today. The puddlers of the Glasgow Iron Company have had their wages advanced and also those at the Lessig Iron Works.

The Harrisburg Pipe and Pipe-pending Works, employing 600 men, today announced an increase of 10 per cent. in wages to take effect the 1st of July.

ENGLAND FAVORS THE NEW BUDGET

T. P. O'Connor Thinks the Government Will Be Sustained.

London, June 24.—Cabling the Chicago Tribune, T. P. O'Conner says: "Next week will decide the fate of the Liberal government and the budget. The land taxes have created the widest and wildest rage among the capitalists of all classes, and are put deliberately in the forefront of the fight by the government to draw the fire and break down further fighting by a victory in the most critical struggle. My own belief is that the budget will pass triumphant. The minority among the Liberals against the land taxs, though much advertised in the Tory papers, is small in number and smaller in authority. The members of it consist mainly of a small remnant of Roseberyites and already are affrighted. The noise they made in running to cover and their demonstration elicit stronger counter demonstrations, both parliamentary and out of doors.

Chancellor and Distillers.

"The land tax is the item in the budget which most appeals to the popular imagination and it accounts largely for the return of virility and popularity to the government. The attitude of the Irish party was much influenced by the interview between Lloyd-George and the Irish distillers and publicans. Lloyd-George succeeded in proving that the publicans were ready to make reasonable concessions and the majority went away almost satisfied. The distillers can get no concession at present but later on the tax may be pronounced an emergency and temporary tax, or a portion may be diverted specially to Irish purposes, such as draining those parts which yearly are inundated by the overflow of the rivers.

"One result of this improvement in the temper between Lloyd-George and the publicans is the temporary cessation of the campaign of calumy against the Irish party. Redmond, in addressing the distillers and publicans, referred to such attacks and elicited a reputation from a deputation who left the whole struggle over concessions to Ireland confidently in the hands of the party.

VICTIM OF DRUNKEN POLICE CAPTAIN DYING

San Francisco Officer Breaks Splendid Record of Thirty-one Years by Appaling Crime.

San Francisco, June 24.—Bernard Lagan, the young business man of this city who was shot and seriously wounded by Captain of Police Michael Conboy early yesterday, is lingering between life and death at the St. Francis hospital, and his physicians entertain little hope of his recovery.

Stripped of his uniform and star, and facing a serious charge after a splendid record of thirty-one years in the police department, Conboy occupies a cell in the city prison.

Chief of Police Jesse B. Cook suspended him from duty on a charge of having been under the influence of liquor at the time of the shooting.

Chief Cook stated last night that Conboy would not talk of the affair and apparently had no recollection of it.

Disguise Was Appropriate.

Seattle, —June 24.—Lured into the woods near Bitter lake yesterday by two men who posed as real estate agents, Anton Walters was beaten into insensibility and robbed of $300 and a cheque for $2000, while his partner, Albert Stosken, was also assaulted and probably killed by the thugs.

Women Desire to See Peace Throughout the Whole World

Toronto, June 24.—The report of the committee on peace and arbitration, as handed down this morning to the Women's Congress by Mrs. May Wright Sewell, pointed out the difficulties which have been encountered in its preparation. All the ladies are in favor of peace, yet wish to "maintain the honor and integrity" of their own nation.

"Women as holders of the motherly office, are specially charged with those personal and social duties which relate to the preservation and protection of the individual life. We make an appeal to all women to aid in realizing the ideal of peace in such forms of effort as their local conditions make practicable.

To Abolish Armies.

"It is recommended that all national peace committees and peace organizations engage in earnest and continuous effort to bring about a proportionate limitation of armaments, leading toward the abolition of standing armies and navies beyond the necessary policing of land and sea, and that all such organization within our National Councils be urged actively and intelligently to strengthen all efforts, which are put forth in any country to aid its government in the substitution of legal for military methods of international action; and also to seek to secure the protection to weak nations and all undeveloped people against exploitation bystrange governments by guaranteeing an 'area of neutrality.'"

TECUMSEHS WILL NOT PLAY IN VANCOUVER

Improbable That Game Will Be Arranged in Terminial City With Indians.

At present it looks as if the games in this city will be the only ones that the Tecumsehs will play in the west Vancouver is anxious to secure a match but it seems that the officials of the invading club refuse to come to an agreement with the Terminal city organization.

"I don't very well see how we can arrange a game for Vancouver," said Charlie Querrie, the manager of the Indians, to the News yesterday afternoon. "They want us to play there on Saturday, July 3. We are, however, due to meet the Torontos, in Toronto, on July 10, and if we played in Vancouver I don't see how we could get into proper shape for the Toronto game. We could not be in Toronto before July 8, and that would practically give us only one day to get into trim for the match."

Mr. Querrie states that the Indians are due to beat the Torontos if they possibly can, and it will take a pretty large consideration to induce them to jeopardize their chances of the match.

It is possible that they may play an exhibition game at Seattle some time in the course of next week. This, however, is doubtful. The Indians will probably return east by way of the Fair city, and if the A. Y. P. management is willing to come through in a satisfactory manner a game may be pulled off.

$7500 AWAITS CAPTOR OF C.P.R. TRAIN ROBBERS

Bandits Who Held up No. 97 Are Still at Large—Indians on the Trail.

The bandits who held up the C. P. R. train No. 97 at Ducks, on Monday, are according to the latest advices still at large.

A goodly sum is awaiting the man who can catch them, as announcement was made yesterday to the effect that the government would pay a reward of $2500 to their captor. This added to the $5000 offered by the C. P. R., brings the price on the heads of the fugitives up to $7500.

From Kamloops comes word that two armed posses are now scouring the country in the vicinity of the holdup, and they are composed largely by Indians whose ability in tracking down criminals is well appreciated by the police in this district.

Four men, answering the description of the holdup men, are now in the vicinity of Cherry creek, a few miles west of Kamloops. Late last night they endeavored to sell a boat to one of the sectionmen at that point. The railroad man recognized the boat as one belonging to a party up the river a short distance. He bargained with them for a short time and then told them that he would have to go to Tranquille, a short distance away, to get the necessary money. While there he telephoned to Kamloops and Sheriff Woods, Constable Batchelor and an armed posse left for Cherry creek. They are now searching for the bandits and it is thought that they will locate them before noon today.

ST. JOHN GETS DOMINION FAIR

Ottawa, June 24.—The federal grant for the Dominion exhibition for next year has gone to St. John, N. B., with the result that the Dominion fair of 1910 will be held in the winter port city. The cities of Fredericton, Chatham and Moncton each wanted the grant, but St. John was considered the best place in which to hold a national exhibition. The grant for 1911 will probably go to Regina, Sask. The amount voted each session is $50,000.

New Scientific League Formed.

New York, June 24.—The National Free Speech league is the name of a new socialistic society launched in this city. Clarence Darrow, who figured in the trial of Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone, the western labor case, started for Chicago yesterday to open a branch to be known as the Western headquarters of the league. Austin J. Lewis, a lawyer of the Pacific coast, has been delegated to fit up branches in San Francisco and Los Angeles. The meeting was attended by Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman.

Eminent Divine Here.

Rev. T. Walker of Appleton, Wis., is at present visiting in this city the guest of his son-in-law, W. T. Reid, the well known clothier. In the middle west, the name of the Rev. Mr. Walker is well known and he is universally respected both as a clergyman and citizen. One of Mr. Walker's sons is a judge in his home state, while another of his family is at present the prosecuting attorney for the U. S. Railway Commission.

RESTIVE HORSES CAUSE FATALITY

Frank Bowell is Crushed Beneath the Wheels of His Wagon.

His body crushed by the wheels of his wagon under circumstances almost exactly similar to those which resulted in the death of his father scarcely a year ago, Frank Bowell, of this city, died at the Royal Columbian hospital yesterday afternoon.

At the time when the accident which resulted in his death occurred Frank Bowell was engaged along with George Eberts of this city, in unloading a number of logs from a wagon and throwing them into the Brunette river in order that they might be floated down to the Brunette sawmill.

The wagon was standing on a little bridge on one of the plank roads between the Dewdney Trunk road and the Fraser. The two men were about to pull the last one of the logs off the wagon and roll it into the river, when one of the horses suddenly became restless and started forward.

The heavy log, already half of the wagon, swung round, one end of it catching in the woodwork of the bridge. As the wagon jerked forward the other end raised and swinging swiftly round, hit Frank Bowell, throwing him to the ground and under the wheels of the moving wagon. As he lay, the wheel passed across the lower part of his body, causing fatal internal injuries.

The injured man was at once taken to the Royal Columbian hospital and Dr. Dean was called. From the first examination it was evident that the case was hopeless and all that could be done was to make the last moments of the injured youth as free from pain as possible.

He expired about an hour and a half after the accident took place.

S. R. Bowell, the father of the deceased youth, met death under almost identical circumstances on May 6 of last year. He was employed at the time in unloading furniture, when he too was knocked under the wheels of the wagon. It is ghastly coincidence that it is the same horse whose restiveness has caused the death of both father and son.

The late Frank Bowell was eighteen years of age. His mother is at present at Penticton together with her son Stephen. They have been notified of the accident and are expected to arrive in town in time for the funeral.

The deceased youth had two other brothers, George and Walter, and a sister, now at the High School in this city.

UNIFORMS HERE SOON.

Sun Helmets and Caps Arrive For Mail Carriers.

New Westminster's new postmen will soon be in uniform. Up to the present the men who deliver the mail throughout the city have been going their rounds clad as ordinary citizens. In the near future, however, they will bud out in all the glory of their postmen's uniforms.

The first consignment of the uniforms arrived from Ottawa yesterday. It comprised sun helmets, caps for wet weather and waterproof capes. The remainder of the consignment is expected to arrive within the next few days.

The complete outfit allowed by the postoffice department to the carriers comprises besides the articles mentioned above, two uniforms one of serge and one of cloth, an overcoat and fur cap, for cold weather, leggings, belts, bags and many other articles.

Now that the mail delivery system has been inaugurated in this city, it is giving the greatest satisfaction, and the men are going their rounds as though they had been used to them for years.

ANOTHER JUNE WEDDING.

Vancouver Man Marries Daughter of Royal City.

A pretty wedding took place in St. Stephen's Presbyterian church yesterday when Jean, the youngest daughter of John Anderson of this city, was united in the bonds of matrimony to John Richmond Hyslop of Vancouver.

Miss Mary Anderson, the sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, while the groom was supported by Vincent Palmer of Vancouver. Rev. J. S. Henderson officiated.

After the wedding ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's father, 617 Fourth avenue. Later in the day the young couple left for Victoria where they will spend their honeymoon. On their return they will live in Vancouver.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT ORDERS AMERICAN BEEF

The War Department Will Purchase One Million Pounds—Rigid Inspection.

Chicago, June 21.—Chicago beef again won against the world and over calumny. By a cable from the London War Office the British government today ordered from Armour & Co. one million pounds of canned corned beef, destined for the haversacks of His Majesty's troops. This order is the second to be received since the memorable eruption of four years ago when Upton Sinclair set a match to public opinion, and as a result an explosion was heard the world around. It follows a secret inspection of the Chicago packing plants by experts of the British government. These men, many of them army officials, surgeons and chemists, literally stole into the meat canning factories. They obtained employment as common workers and labored many months in the most unpleasant sections of the plants. Early this year they reported back to their governent, and in February came an order for three million pound of beef. That it received the approval of Mr. Tommy Atkins is evidenced by the cablegram of today.

ARMED MEN CAPTURE CITY'S WATER SUPPLY

Colorado Springs, Colo., June 24.—Six armed men, supposedly from Victor, Colo., early this morning held up Caretaker Arthur, of the Colorado Springs water system, opened the flood gates on Pike's Peak and turned on 74,000,000 gallons of water into the Victor reservoir. Caretaker Arthur was held a prisoner for some time, but finally escaped and telephoned to this city for help. Sheriff Burdsall, with a posse of ten armed men left immediately for the scene.

The water supply for Colorado Springs and the Cripple Creek district is located on the slopes of Pike's Peak and disputes over them are frequent cause for friction between the two cities. It seems that Victor is short of water this year, although Colorado Springs has had an ample supply.

HOBOES PREVENT SERIOUS ACCIDENT

Ellensburg, June 24.—Prompt action on the part of two hoboes saved No. 1, the west-bound Northern Pacific passenger train, from going into the ditch at Indiao, a siding about twenty-five miles south of this city, yesterday afternoon. The two men were walking toward Seattle, when they discovered a broken rail on a sharp curve. The men immediately walked up the track in opposite directions. One of them signaled No. 1 to halt.

Both the tramps were taken on board the train and brought to Ellensburg, where Station Agent Edwards, at the order of railway officials issued Pullman transportation for the two men into Seattle.

LECTURES FOR FARMERS AT SEATTLE EXPOSITION

Officials Travelling in Special Cars Give Some Instruction on Agriculture.

Seattle, June 23.—Daily lectures on all subjects pertaining to agriculture and horticulture will be one of the features at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition with the arrival of the special demonstrating train from the Pullman Agricultural college.

The cars containing the exhibits of special interest to farmers and fruit growers will reach the Exposition grounds the night of July 2 to remain a week. Lectures illustrated with moving pictures and lantern slides will be given daily. Col. Henry E. Dosch, director of exhibits, will deliver a lecture on nut culture in the Pacific Northwest.

F. W. Thatcher will be in charge of the train and arrangements are now being made to park the cars near the grounds. There will be daily lectures on every topic relating to agriculture and horticulture and it is expected that the exhibit in general will appeal directly to the farmers of the Northwest.

The fruit and grain exhibits at the Exposition are a source of interest to visitors and the arrival of the special train from the state college at Pullman will serve to increase interest in the agricultural possibilities of the state.

WIFE OF HOMESTEADER MAKES TERRIBLE JOURNEY

Edmonton, June 24.—A little woman with features pinched from lack of nourishment and clothes ragged from long wear, with two children, one in arms, the other of scarcely six summers, the family of a half starved homesteader on Paddle river, who had sent them on foot to the city in search of some means to maintain bare existence, were found in an exhausted condtion in a little shack on the river bank by R. B. Chadwick, principal of the industrial school, late last evening.

Carrying the baby in her arms and dragging the six year old boy after her, the brave young mother tramped the entire seventy-five miles into the city, occupying four days on the trip, sleeping wherever she could find a sheltered spot, eating whatever she could beg or obtain in other ways from the farms she passed. The woman reached the city yesterday morning ready to drop with exhaustion.

WIRE FENCE CONDUCTS DEATH TO BOY

Arnaud, Man., June 24.—During a violent thunderstorm here Sunday afternoon Albert McLeod was killed by lightning. McLeod, who was a young man of 24 years of age, only came here three days previously, having been hired in Winnipeg by H. Alston to work on his farm. He (McLeod) apparently came from Painesdale, Mich. The authorities there have been wired to locate McLeod's relatives. The lad was standing with three others by a wire fence on Mr. Barnabee's farm. When the lightning began to play young Barnabee said to the others in French, "Keep away from the wire." The newcomer did not understand and young Barnabee began to tell him in English when he dropped dead at his feet.

ALL AUSTRALIANS MUST UNDERGO TRAINING

Melbourne, June 24.—Premier Deakin told parliament yesterday that if an active policy of immigration was to be undertaken, the appointment of a high commissioner was necessary. An endeavor would be made to cheapen cable charges and to extend mail services. Mr. Foxton would consult the admiralty on marine defences, to be manned and officered by Australian citizens, and on the construction of necessary docks and shipyards.

Coaling facilities would be proposed for land defence. The policy of the government would be founded on universal training, and the counsel of one of the most experienced commanders in the British army would be sought.

London, June 24.—It is announced from Vienna that Dr. Ott, who always attends King Edward when the British monarch visits Marienbad, is coming to London. It is not known whether his visit is connected with the king.

VAUDEVILLE OPENS HERE ON MONDAY

Manager Anderson Announces First-class Bill for Night of Commencement.

That the Rosyland Amusement Co. will open Monday, June 28 with a high-class vaudeville show is evident from the strong acts billed on their yellow poster, which can be seen on every side while passing down the streets of New Westminster.

The head liners, Beard and Herty, are the most wonderful contortionists ever seen on the Pacific coast and come direct from Chicago.

Carroll and Phillips in Taming a Husband are old favorites in vaudeville and will give many good laughs.

An act that has never been seen in British Columbia is Madame Novelli, who does a serpentine dance while suspended in the air.

Ed. Marlowe, the minstrel man, will be seen in his laughable monologue consisting of many funny stories. His method of rendering them is most pleasing. His songs are catchy and will give all an opportunity to have a hearty laugh. Although nearly six feet tall, he is called the little man with the big voice.

Last but not least, Madame Kaiser, the famous contralto, who is well known along the Pacific coast as a "Wining Coon Shouter."

With a bill of this strength it is an assured fact from Manager Anderson's standpoint that vaudeville is here to stay.

FLEETS WILL MEET IN MIMIC WARFARE

London, June 24.—The mobilization of the British fleet for the annual manoeuvres was practically completed this morning and something like 350 warships are now making their way to their respective stations.

The manoeuvres will be secret, but the general scheme is understood to be a repetition of the plan of last year, which, however, resulted in a fiasco, as owing to the fog the opposing fleets never came into contact.

Vice-Admiral Sir William Henry May is in supreme command.

Gold Exhibit at A.-Y.-P. Exposition Attracts Immense Crowds—More Wealth Arrives.

Seattle, June 24.—With the receipt of $500,000 in gold at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition today, the value of the precious metal on display is more than $1,100,000.

Hundreds of persons stood about the workshop of the suboffice of the Seattle assay office today watching the workmen in the process of melting and assaying the 7,200 ounces of bricks and the dust and nuggets, part of the gold that has been pouring into the main office in Seventh Avenue.

A statement, signed by Assayer R. E. Vilas, was hung up in front of the office today by Chief Clerk L. S. Kerfoot, who is in charge of the exposition office during the absence of Vilas calling attention to the effect that the government assay office in Seattle, established July 15,1898, is the second largest of Uncle Sam's assay offices, exceeded in its receipts only by the New York office.

Since the opening of the office eleven years ago, the receipts have amounted to 354 tons of gold bullion the value of which is approximately $176,000,000. Most of this metal has come from Alaska and the Yukon territory.

Has "ROBIN HOOD"—the Flour that is Different—been used in your home yet? You should start now.

Don't put off trying this wonderful new flour.

Every woman is proud of her cooking successes. The day your husband tells you that the bread or the pastry "is simply fine" is a happier day than usual for you. Haven't yo found it so?

Now, to get the best success in your baking you must use the best flour. There is a great variety in flour, far greater than most women think. There is difference in wheat, difference in machinery, difference in methods and in knowledge of milling. This all results in difference in the flour, the final product.

"ROBIN HOOD" Flour shows most surely how great a difference there can be between the best flour and poorer flours. It is made of the best Saskatchewan wheat. Our equipment is the newest and most modern in Canada. Our experience in flour making is such that we know how to avoid the mistakes and take advantage of the best improvements in the milling industry.

"ROBIN HOOD" Flour has delighted all who have used it in Canada. For one thing it absorbs more moisture than other flours. Don't forget this when preparing your dough. The loaf made from "ROBIN HOOD" Flour is light, flakey, beautifully sweet, and most nutritious. It is the finest loaf your husband, your children or you yourself can eat.

More than that "ROBIN HOOD" Flour is sold under a positive guarantee. If by any chance you are dissatisfied after you have baked twice with it, your grocer is authorized to refund your money. Could we show greated confidence in "ROBIN HOOD" Flour?

Give "ROBIN HOOD" Flour a fair trial and dont forget to note the effect of adding more water than you use with other flours.

"ROBIN HOOD" flour is the flour that is making a sensation in western Canada. All over the west it is being talked about. The question neighbors are asking today is: "Are you using that new ROBIN HOOD FLOUR?"

CHARGES AGAINST JAP ARE NOT SUSTAINED

Vancouver, June 24.—Sensational charges of having been connected with illicit traffic in Japanese women preferred against K. Hirade, vice-president of the American-Oriental Bank of Seattle, by means of his countrymen have not been sustained. Hirade is free to return to the United States.

This was the finding today of a special board of inquiry of the local United States immigration officials. The investigation has been in progress for nearly a fortnight.

Mr. Hirade will return to Seattle this afternoon. He declares that he has been the victim of a conspiracy and will seek redress in the courts. It is possible that criminal prosecutions for perjury and suits for damages will be instituted against the parties who sought to prevent him returning to Seattle.

BRODEUR MAY NOT GO TO IMPERIAL CONFERENCE

Ottawa, June 24.—There is a possibility that Hon. L. P. Brodeur may not be able to go to England to attend the imperial naval conference, owing to the continued illness of Madame Brodeur. He and Sir Frederick Borden, the Canadian representatives, are due to sail on June 25.

It has been suggested that it would have been a gracious thing if the Canadian government had adopted the plan of Australia and asked the opposition to send a representative to the conference in order to show the unanimity of Canada on the question of imperial defence, and the government organ in Ottawa has suggested that R. L. Borden, leader of the opposition, who will be in Europe while the conference is in progress, should be asked to be present. However, Mr. Borden leaves tomorrow for England without the invitation.

PER CAPITA DEBT FALLACY.

The house not being in session it may be useful in the public interest to refer to some statements made in the House by the opponents of the government and eagerly seized upon by the party press and circulated for political purposes.

These should not be considered from a political standpoint so much as from a common sense one. Take for instance the subject of per capita debt.

The public debt of Canada amounts to $323,960,859—or $45.72 per capita Incidentally it may be observed that the per capita debt in 1896, when the present Government assumed office, was $50.82—but that is not the point under consideration. The Conservative party, following the lead of Mr. Foster, has made much of this per capita debt subject. Mr. Foster states it to be so much per head and Mr. Borden varies it by making it so much per family, about $200 he says.

The per capita debt of Canada has no practical meaning. The absurdity of the idea grows the more one considers it. Examine the subject, a debt presupposes a payment at some time in the future. It is indicative of an obligation that must be discharged at some period. This view leads to a consideration of assets. It it be admitted that every person in Canada is liable for a proportion of the public debt, it must be acknowledged that every person in Canada has a vested interest in the assets of Canada.

Apply the practical test of every day commercial life, and examine the Dominion balance sheet. The public debt of Canada is $323,000,000 or $45 per head of the population. So far so good. Now the question is, what assets do the people possess with which to discharge this liability?

This is the broad question. Inasmuch as the Conservative party advance the argument that the people are burdened with a debt of inordinate size, it would be satisfactory to arrive at certain results by scrutinizing the balance sheets of 1896, when the present government came into power and make a comparison with the balance sheet of March, 1909. This can only be done approximately, but it will serve to illustrate the contention advanced here.

The impression sought to be conveyed by the Conservative leaders is that the Liberal government have been imprudent and extravagant, with the result that a heavy per capita burden has been placed upon the shoulders of the people.

To make this per capital liability a real thing, and not a purely sentimental one, let us face the situation and assume that the time has come to discharge the debt. What is the first step? As the debt was contracted by the state on behalf of the people of the state, the first thing is to discover what assets the state possesses. If the state does not possess assets sufficient to discharge the liability, then would there be a personal liability? But assuming that the state has ample assets to meet all obligations then there could be no personal liability, and the idea of a per capita debt becomes meaningless.

If it be admitted that the people are individually liable for the debts of the state, then they are equally entitled to share in the equity after all obligations are discharged. Regarding it therefore, as a simple commercial question, what is the position of the people? The fact of the existence of a debt, does not imply insolvency. An individual, a corporation, a nation may have heavy obligations, but the solvency of each is determined by the value of the assets each possesses. The correct financial standing of each is found in the difference between the assets and the liabilities.

The questions to be considered are:

What was the per capita indebtedness in 1896, when Liberals assumed power?

What were the National assets in 1896?

What is the per capita indebtedness in 1909?

What are the national assets in 1909.

In discussing this subject no account is taken of individual assets or liabilities, but only such assets as belong to the state.

In 1896, the per capita indebtedness was $50.82. The public debt was $258,497,432.

To arrive at the national assets in 1896 is somewhat difficult in consequence of the fact that the great west was not opened up and land west of the great lakes was of little value, and unsaleable for more than would pay the taxes. In public buildings, in harbors and rivers there had been expended since Confederation approximately $42,000,000. Upon canals, approximately $75,000,000, and upon the Intercolonial Railway, approximately $75,000,000. This would total up under $200,000,000 or an amount less than the public debt of that date. What value one would place upon the known agricultural land of the west in 1896 is purely conjectural. The whole of the territories were purchased for $1,500,000 some years previously and land had no recognized value because the country was uninhabited.

The condition then in 1896 was that the debt of Canada about equaled the known and recognized assets.

In 1909 the per capita indebtedness is $45.72, and the public debt $323,960,859.

While it is somewhat easier to arrive at the visible assets in 1909 the figures must of course be approximate. Here are some of the main items:

Surveyed lands known to be agricultural and of good quality, 50,000,000 acres at $5	$250,000,000
Unsurveyed lands known to be of equal value with above, 50,000,000 acres at $5	250,000,000
Unsurveyed land to the north of the western provinces, 150,000,000 acres at $2	300,000,000
Canals am't invested	90,000,000
Intercolonial Ry., do	90,000,000
Public buildings, cost	33,000,000
Harbors and rivers, cost	40,000,000
Yukon gold gravels	150,000,000

The above will total over $700,000,000, or more than double the public debt. To this may be added many other sums if it came to a question of determining the financial condition of Canada. The undeveloped mineral resources of the north, the immense timber and coal areas, and in addition Canada is a concern with an income of $90,000,000 a year, which, capitalized at 10 per cent., would represent $900,000,000 to be added to the above.

When one considers these figures and then reflects upon the per capita public debt it will be seen that after paying the per capita debt there remains a per capita equity of $250 for every man, woman and child in the Dominion.

The Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior has recently issued the first sheets of a new "forest atlas," which will include plans of the Dominion Forest Reserves, of which the surveys are now being carried on. The "legend" is now being sent out; this designates the marks used to denote natural features, the different species of trees and the amounts of timber that can be obtained per acre from timbered areas, entries of various kinds (such as homesteads, mineral lands, etc.), burns or brules, cuttings and sales, roads, trails, railways, canals, flumes, telegraph and telephone lines, buildings, etc. One of the smaller forest reserves—that known as "The Pines," situated near Prince Albert, Sask.,—has already been mapped, and the map of the Riding Mountain Forest Reserve in northwestern Manitoba, is now in preparation. As surveys of the forest reserves and other forested districts are completed, maps of these will be prepared and added to the atlas. It is hoped that the general scheme of indicating information, such as the different colors for stands of timber of various densities, and the other special signs adopted by the Forest Service of the Dominion may be put into general use throughout Canada, so that forest maps may be uniform in plan and may be easily compared.

ALASKAN CLIMATE BREEDS BACKSLIDERS

Presbyterian Clergyman Says That Klondyke Causes Men to Forget Christian Teaching.

Cordova, Alaska, June 24.—Rev. S. Hall Young, in charge of Presbyterian missions for Alaska, and at present stationed in this city, on June 7 startled his congregation by declaring that Alaskans were the worst backsliders in the world.

Dr. Young announced his subject as "A Call to Backsliders," and prefaced his sermon by saying that probably in all the world there is no country that contains so large a proportion of persons who have fallen away from Christian duty, as Alaska.

In the course of his remarks he said: "I remember those trying days on the Dyea trail when men who were never known to utter an oath, learned to swear; men who never knew one card from another, learned to gamble; men who never knew the taste of liquor, learned to drink. Not long ago I was reading a statement made by a well-known and conservative minister in Dawson, who was there in the early days of the Klondyke rush in 1897 and 1898, who said that hardly one out of five men who were strong Christians when they started over the trail in that rush, remained so until they reached Dawson.

"The mad rush for gold and the allurements and vice on every hand, draw men and women away from their early teaching. In summer men say they are too busy to attend church; they they will go next winter when they can't work, and when winter comes their time is taken up with the club and the dance and their good intentions are overlooked, and they consequently backslide."

Czar Will Visit Pope.

London, June 24.—The Rome newspapers announce authoritatively that the Czar and Czarina will be in Rome for four days in Ooctober. They will visit the Pope. Then they will go to Naples and from thence to Messina.

The Paris Echo says that the meeting between the Czar and President Falleries will take place on board the Leon Gembetta. There will be on fetes or receptions at the Cherbourg arsenal such as were held on former visits of sovereigns. The entire meeting will takep lace in the harbor.

France Faces Deficit.

Paris, June 24.—The French budget announces a deficit of $21,000,000. Part of it is to be raised by a new tax on petroleum used for automobiles, a new inheritance tax, a stricter enforcement of taxes on colonial obligations and mines, and a tax on dogs.

MEN WILL BOYCOTT PROFESSIONAL LADIES

Parisians Bind Themselves Never to Propose to Women Engaged in Business.

Paris, June 24.—Lady lawyers, doctors, stenographers, secretaries, and all women who compete professionally with men, have been dealt a bad blow. A masculine league has been formed to boycott them, not in business, but in another sphere. The members apparently deem it hopeless to try and beat them in the struggle for life, and have decided to pay them out in another way.

They have solemnly bound themselves never to propose to a lady following a profession which men pursue also, and in the case of leap year to reject all advances which such females might make to them.

If the league succeeds, every feminine competitor of men in France now single will be doomed to remain so, unless, presumably, she gives up her masculine occupation at once and takes to needlework.

We are not informed who the members of the league against men's female competitors are. It remains to be seen whether a strict observance of the rules by the members will act strongly or not as an inducement to the ladies concerned to throw up their present jobs instantly and marry the leaguers.

SHELL EXPLODES AND WOUNDS SOLDIER

Victoria, June 24.—Sergt. Wilkinson of the Army Ordnance corps, stationed at Work Point barracks was badly wounded yesterday when the detonator of a 12-pound shell which he was examining exploded and burst the shell. With Captain Gillen, the recently appointed Army Ordnance officer, Wilkinson was examining the stores of ammunition in the ordnance shed at the fort on Signal hill. In some manner the detonator of a 12-pound shell went off, exploding the shell, shattering Wilkinson's wrist and leg and slightly wounding Captain Gillen. Wilkinson was conveyed by motor car to Work Point barracks hospital and his injuries attended to. He may recover.

SHUN, SHUN THE FATAL AUCTION SALE

London Doctor Warns Public Against Disease-laden Second-hand Furniture.

London, June 24.—"In some of London's auction rooms exists one of the greatest sources of disease in the country. Almost every disease lies in wait for them. It is the very gravest possible danger to the community. est possible danger to the community."

This statement was made by a well-known doctor.

"I have lately been visiting some of these places," he went on, "and I have been simply amazed at the disease laden furniture I found there.

"The danger to people who frequent auction rooms where such furniture is sold is obviously horrible. And the danger is not only to them, but to all who buy furniture, new or old, and especially, of course, to collectors and bargain hunters.

"People of refinement and culture who develop illnesses which arise principally from dirt are often indignant and puzzled as to how on earth they could have caught them. And the general public, who have not, so far as they know, been subject to infection, are often puzzled at the diseases they develop as are their doctors.

"Here lies the solution of the mystery, and I believe half of the untraceable illnesses are developed in this way. And it is not only in what may be called the lower grade auction rooms that the danger exists. It exists equally in some of the highest class.

"For furniture sold in a high-class room, if not germ impregnated in the first instance itself, has almost certainly been in contact with some that is; and furniture circulates from auction room to auction room. These places are simply branches of a gigantic disease exchange.

"The remedy is quite simple. Before an auction those responsible for it should be compelled to have the room shut up and thoroughly fumigated, say with sulphur and disinfected. It would not take long to do, and the cost would be infinitesimal."

WOMAN FINDS BODY NOT HER HUSBANY'S

Chicago, June 24.—Just as she was preparing to bury the disfigured body of a man she believed to be that of her husband, Emil Lundgren, yesterday, Mrs. Lundgren, living near Chesterton, Ind., received a message from Lundgren from Michigan City saying that he was alive and well.

Almost simultaneously with Mrs. Lundgren's startling discovery, the sons of the dead man, whose body she was making arrangements to bury, appeared at the farm and identified the body as that of their father, E. T. Moore, of Hillsdale, Mich., who had been killed last Saturday night in the collision between two cars of the South Shore Electric Railroad near Gary, Ind. The Moore brothers identified their father's body by a ring on one of the fingers.

The twelfth victim of the wreck died yesterday in a hospital in Gary. He was an unidentified Pole.

FAMILY RESCUED FROM CELLAR OF THEIR HOME

Galveston, Tex., June 24.—In removing a cyclone-wrecked house on the farm of Charles Dilson, in Brown County, the wreckers discovered a storm cellar, in which were Dilson and his wife and their 12-year-old daughter more dead than alive.

For two weeks they had been prisoners in the cellar with barely a morsel to eat for a week and nothing to drink for two days. Raw potatoes had been their subsistence for six days. They all will live.

After the storm which wrecked their home, the three Dilsons were missed and searchers believed they had deserted their place and moved away. The house had been blown over and covered the storm cellar, which was about twenty yards from the home, and searchers knew nothing of the storm cellar. The prisoners tried to dig their way to the surface with their hands and succeeded only in cutting a tunnel which afforded them air.

GOLDEN DREAM FADES AS MANIAC'S KEEPER ARRIVES

New York, June 23.—The Hotel St. Regis management anticipated a material increase in revenue late yesterday when a man of distinguished appearance engaged a suite of eight rooms and said that he and his wife would occupy them with two lady's maids and two valets. The man described himself as Baron Wurz. While the visitor was making the final arrangements for the suite an attendane from an insane asylum on Long Island arrived and took charge of the caller explaining to the hotel management that he was Joseph Wurz, of Pittsfield, Mass., who had escaped the day before.

POLICE HUNT JAPANESE THROUGH ARIZONA DESERT

Los Angeles, June 24.—Tracked by immigration officials for two weeks across the desolate sands of the Arizona desert, suffering intolerable tortures from heat, thirst, and hunger, being finally compelled to kill one of their pack burros and use the flesh for food, two Japanese charged with being illegally in the United States from Mexico, were driven to bay Monday in a box car a short distance east of Needles, captured and taken to jail.

The two men are supposed to have crossed the international line near Yuma with two well laden pack animals.

The immigration officials were notified when one of the burros of the Japanese wandered into Avalon, Ariz., with pieces of the flesh of the other burro tied to the saddle.

After a hunt of a fortnight in which several of the purseurs nearly lost their lives on the desert, the fugitives were finally run down and captured.

Gagged at Hooks and Eyes.

Massillion, Ohio, June 24.—Because his mother provided in her will that he should be disinherited if he refused to return to the Amish style of dress which calls for hooks and eyes instead of buttons on clothing, Levi Yodder killed himself in his home near here today. Several years ago Yodder was sent to the state hospital for the insane, and there his Amish clothing was replaced with garments fastening with buttons. After his return home he refused to resume the Amish fashion.

Grafted a Leg.

Chicago, June 24.—The grafting of a section of bone from the leg of a lamb into the right leg of a man was the rare surgical operation performed at the Frances Williard hospital yesterday. Decearl Townsend, an elevator operator, was taken to the hospital several days ago suffering from a compound fracture of the leg. The operation was decided upon rather than amputation. Chicago surgeons say this is the first time the opeartion has been attempted in America.

INDIANS CHANGE STYLE OF PLAY

Tecumsehs Have Adopted Tactics Developed By Local Team.

From observations made by a number of local lacrosse fans, including some members of the Westminster club, at the first practice held by the Tecumsehs yesterday morning, it looks as if the Indians had come out west with a few little stunts to be turned loose by way of surprise on the Salmon Bellies.

Local followers of the game had anticipated that the easterners might come along prepared with a few dodges to work off on the unsuspecting westerners, and consequently the work of the Indians yesterday morning was closely watched.

And now the officials of the local club believe that they are onto the challengers' game.

Those who saw the Tecumsehs play when last they were here will remember that their game was open, characterized by long passes and tactics on the part of the home calculated to draw out the opposing defence. The system developed by the local team and since perfected by them on the other hand consists of close combination work, short passes, and rushing, aggressive work on the part of the home.

Adopt Western Tactics.

It was remarked on the occasion of the last visit of the Indians that they would never defeat the Salmon Bellies until they changed their style of play for something resembling the western method. President Lynch, of the local team, believes that Charlie Querrie has done this.

"I watched the Tecumsehs at the park this morning," said Mr. Lynch last evening, "and I was struck by the fact that Querrie had Durkin doing centre work with the third and second home feeding in to him. This gives a close, swift combination resembling ours, and I believe that that is the intention of the Tecumsehs."

"As a matter of fact," added the president of the local club, "we had anticipated that the Indians would change their style of play to something resembling our own, and I may say that, with that in view, we have made due preparation and have developed a system of play which we think will have the Indians going."

Final Arrangements.

A meeting of the executive of the club was held yesterday afternoon and the final arrangements made for the game. The management intends that everything in connection with the coming cup games shall be run in a more methodical and systematic fashion than has ever before been the case.

Elaborate arrangements have been mare for handling the crowd and the regulations made will be adhered to to the letter. Pedestrians will be admitted at the lower and centre gates, and at each gate there will be a policeman to see that the crowd is orderly. In previous years there has been much pushing and shoving at the gates. This year every one will be required to line up and take their turn, and those who want to get good places are advised to be there before the gate opens and secure good positions at the head of the queue.

The upper gate will be reserved for carriages and automobiles. These will only be permitted in that stretch of road between the Agricultural building and the top of the oval. In previous years vehicles have been drawn up boardside on to the fence, but this year that will not be permitted and drivers of carriages and autos will be forced to back their vehicles into the fence.

Keep Outside the Fence.

The rules against outsiders making themselves free with the oval will also be strictly enforced.

"Absolutely no one but the officials will be allowed inside the fence," said Mr. Lynch, to the News last night.

The ringers who, because they know the first names of the players, have been in the habit of crowding inside the fence, and butting into the dressing room, will be treated just like the common populace, who are not honored with the intimate acquaintance of the gladiators.
