GHT RAINS HELP TO EXTINGUISH FIRES

ports From Interior Show Good Progress Made in Extinguishing Outbreaks

elson, B. C., July 22.—Light rains last night and this morning, ma-ially assisting the various forces aged in fighting the bush fires. od progress has been made in ex-guishing the fires.

he forest fires situation generally the southeastern portion of the vince is distinctly better today. e sky is overcast and all indica-ns point to much cooler weather d local showers.

he fire at Slocan Junction was quered yesterday and the men sent from Nelson to assist the ranch-s in fighting it returned last night. No late report was received from e fire at Arrow Park, on the Arrow kes, but it is now known that the e did not get into the valuable tim-r on Mosquito creek. It is probable t this fire is well under control and the way to extinction.

he only serious fire in this dis-ct now is that at Halls Siding, ove Nelson, on the Great Northern, d it is under control.

t is understood that the town of ndon is now quite safe and all the es in the Kaslo district are well hand.

ERE'S HARD KNOCK ON WOMEN WRITERS

London, July 22.—Leading book pub-hers were invited to give testimony fore a conference on public morals d means of bettering them, which being held here. The publishers reed that women write most of the oks objectionable from a moral int of view and that women are far ore eager to buy such books than en are.

NE HORSE IS HURT IN SPECTACULAR RUNAWAY

eam Bolts Down Sixth Street, Narrowly Escaping Galloping Into River—Wagon Is Damaged.

One of the most spectacular runa-ays to be seen in the city for some me occurred about two o'clock yes-erday afternoon, when a team of orses belonging to the Brackman-Ker illing company became frightened n Sixth street and bolted down the ill. The team was drawing a load f hay, but the wagon came apart be-ore they had run far and the run as finished by the two horses and he front wheels of the cart. On Sixth treet one of the horses ran into a umber pile and sustained a bad gash n its side, but that did not stop the eam, which continued down to Front treet. How they made the turn at he foot of Sixth street is a miracle, ut they got around without accident. n front of the Great Northern sta-ion they ran into a boxcar and came o a halt, the wheels they were drag-ing catching on the corner of the ar. It was found that one of the horses was badly injured and a vet-erinary surgeon was summoned by the olice to dress a long cut in its side. The accident attracted a large crowd of people who thought the team was going to run into the river.

PULQUE-LOVING MEXICANS CONSPIRE AGAINST BOSS

Redding Cal., July 22.—News has reached this city that Marion Beck-with, who was formerly well known in Shasta county as a mining man, is now in jail in Mexico. Beckwith had held responsible positions in the cop-per mines of this county and was sent to Mexico by the United States Smelting & Refining company to take charge of large copper mines in that country.

All his employees were Mexicans. A short time ago he warned them to drink less pulque and attend to their work with more diligence. He show-ed a disposition to enforce his order in regard to drinking and soon be-came unpopular at the mine.

It is said that he is the victim of a conspiracy of the men in his employ and was arrested in an effort to get rid of him.

Will Arbitrate.

Montreal, July 22. — The Grand Trunk trainmen have accepted arbitration.

The railroad has also agreed to accept arbitration.

The announcement of the men was made through Vice President Murdock, of the trainmen. The offer was made by Hon. Mackenzie King, the minister of labor.

The government will appoint an arbitration committee to settle the dispute.

JAPANESE MURDERER IS HANGED ON HIS BIRTHDAY

Stolidity Displayed on Scaffold by Ishimaru Kengo, Slayer of Nishizawa—Delayed twelve Minutes.

"Thirty-four—thirty-five year ago I come into world today. Today I go out. Strange, yes."

In his own peculiar style Ishimaru Kengo expressed as above the irony of fate which decreed that he was to be done to death by law on the anni-versary of the day of his birth.

Kengo, who was expiating the mur-der of a fellow countryman, Nishi-zawa, at White Rock last December, walked firmly to the scaffold a few minutes after eight o'clock yesterday morning. A crowd of about fifty mor-bid men were gathered in the prison yard to witness the execution, which was quicker than previous hangings in this city. The doomed man took his position on the trap, replied in a monosyllabic to a question by his spiritual adviser, Methodist Mission-ary I. Nyshimura, then calmly stood while Hangman Radcliffe manacled and strapped him and adjusted the black cap.

Instead of the usual prayer, the Japanese minister merely uttered two or three words, a Japanese farewell. Radcliffe sprang the lever and the body dropped out of sight behind the pallisade erected around the gallows. That death was not instantaneous was evident by the twitching of the rope, this being noticeable for over two minutes.

After the body had been suspended for some time Dr. R. Eden Walker examined it for signs of life and de-tected a faint heart action. It was not until nearly twelve minutes after the condemned man dropped that life was finally pronounced extinct, although Kengo must have been un-concious from the first, as the spinal column was broken.

A jury, composed of W. C. R. Baker, foreman; C. J. Donohue, Walter Oli-ver, William Johnson, Aleck McDon-ald and Elijah Earl, viewed the body and returned a verdict of death ac-cording to law, Coroner Pittendrigh presiding. The corpse was later buried in the pauper's field.

SPEAKERS IN AUSTRALIA FAVOR CHANGE IN OATH

Melbourne, Australia, July 22.—Af-ter a long and powerful debate, the house of representatives yesterday unanimously adopted Mr. Mahon's ad-dress to the king, seeking modifica-tions of the king's declaration, with an additional sentence, suggested by Sir John Quick, approving Premier Asquith's proposed substitute for the existing declaration. Premier Fisher made a strong speech appealing to the house of lords to pass the bill. Mr. Deakin, former premier, made favor-able interjections.

Speeches of many of the Roman Catholic members, especially Mr. Ma-hon, were marked by a lofty spirit of moderation and tolerance.

Earl Grey's Secretary Named.

London, July 22.—D. G. Malcolm, former secretary to Lord Selborne, former high commissioner for South Africa sails shortly for Canada as pri-vate secretary to His Excellency Earl Grey.

BURNABY MAY SECURE FINE HARVEST TODAY

Hundreds of Speeding Automobilists Will Try to Elude Municipal Stop-Watch Brigade This Afternoon.

The municipality of Burnaby should almost pull itself out of debt today, provided a sufficient number of men can be engaged to hold stop watches on the hundreds of automobilists who will be scorching along the roads be-tween Vancouver and this city, bound for or from Queens park.

A short time ago Burnaby instituted a campaign against the speed fiend. Today will be the one glorious oppor-tunity for the making of a big haul, for the Vancouver people who come here to see the humiliation of the challengers are far from being a slow crowd, and if the special police can only spot the number of the speedists, the treasury of Reeve Byrne's terri-tory should be overflowing within the next few days.

According to unofficial and prob-ably exaggerated advices, every auto-mobile in Vancouver that plies for hire has been reserved by some party or parties intending to watch the Minto cup game here today.

Privy Council Reserves Judgment.

London, July 22.—The privy coun-cil today, in two cases of the Domin-ion of Canada vs. Ontario and Bur-rard Power company and the Attor-ney General of British Columbia vs. King & Cross (appeal), at the close of arguments for the appellants, an-nounced that the arguments for the other side would not be heard. Judg-ment was reserved.

NAVAL POLICY IS TO BE CARRIED OUT

Dominion's Navy Will Be Built, Even Though U. S. Settlers Object To It.

Melville, Sask., July 22.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier and party had a largely at-tended meeting here this afternoon. Prior to the meeting Sir Wilfrid re-ceived a deputation of grain growers, who urged the early completion of the Hudson Bay railroad, and also said the American settlers objected to the navy policy of the government but the premier assured them the naval policy would be carried out, notwith-standing any objections to it.

Other speakers were Hon. G. P. Gra-ham, F. F. Pardee and Hon. Walter Scott, premier of Saskatchewan.

FOR SIX MONTHS.

Woman Gets Separation From Husband for a Short Time.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 22.—Sug-gesting that "absence makes the heart grow fonder," Supreme Court Justice Morschauser today signed an order granting Mrs. Elizabeth Burger a six-months' separation from her husband, Mortimer Burger, of Staatsburg. The court filed an order cancelling the separation in six months' time. It was shown by the testimony that they got along fine together except when they started "mutual nagging parties," and Justice Morschauser said the 180 days' separation plan would likely effect a cure.

CANADIAN-MEXICAN LINE SOLD TO PRIVATE COMPANY

T. H. Worsnop Sells Steamers to Concern Capitalized at $500,000. Change May Affest New Westminster.

The Canadian-Mexican Pacific Steamship company, which has been conducted as a private company by Thomas H. Worsnop, has been formed into a limited liability company with a capital of $500,000. The notice of the incorporation is contained in the current issue of the British Columbia Gazette.

This is the line that owns the Lons-dale and Georgia, which frequently call at New Westminster with freight from the Pacific terminus of the Te-huantepec railway. The recent change in the company may have some important bearing on the deep water trade of the port of New West-minster. Efforts have been made for a long time to get the company to put New Westminster on its list as a regular port of call, but so far not a great deal of success has been met with. The board of trade is now in communication with Captain Worsnop and with the additional capital at his disposal he may be able to promise something definite in the way of a steamship service.

BRIDGE FALSE WORK FALLS AT SPOKANE

Spokane, July 22. — Swayed by a high west wind, the huge framework prepared to receive the big concrete arch of Monroe street bridge over the Spokane river, crashed into the stream at 1:45 p. m. yesterday. Two workmen are known to have been car-ried down in the wreck. J. F. Wal-ters is fatally injured. The other work-man will survive. Part of the arch fell on the power house of the Wash-ington Water Power company, put-ting out electric lights and stopping street cars and machinery all over the town.

The arch was eighty feet high. Three months had been required for its construction. A driving rain fol-lowed the wind, checking brush fires in the outskirts of the city.

BABY SHARK IS CAUGHT.

Fishermen Think It Took Refuge in Its Mother's Mouth.

Aberdeen, July 22.—Henry Crane, a fisherman, upon drawing in his nets found a blue nose shark, the first captured on Grays harbor. It was nine feet long and weighed 150 pounds. After subduing the big fish, Crane found a baby shark in the net. Fishermen say young sharks, when in danger, swim into the moth-er's mouth, and it is supposed the little one took this refuge.

KING MANUEL HAS CENSURED ARCHBISHOP

Lisbon, July 22.—The Roman Catho-lics of North Portugal are protesting against King Manuel's censure of Archbishop Braga. The archbishop, under orders from the vatican, sup-pressed the Franciscan Review on the ground that it was not necessary to the support of the National Catholic party. A royal decree of July 12 nul-lified the action of the archibshop, who was declared to have no right to execute religious instructions without the previous consent of the govern-ment.

KING'S CIVIL LIST DISCUSSED IN HOUSE

Labor Leader Would Cut Down Ruler's Allowance, But House Disagrees.

London, July 12.—In the commons this afternoon Chancellor Lloyd George moved resolutions for the pay-ment to King George of a civil list of £470,000 sterling annually for the maintenance of the royal family and the upkeep of the royal palaces.

Mr. Barnes, labor leader, represent-ing Blackfriars division of Glasgow, moved an amendment, reducing the amount to £385,000 sterling. Mr. Barnes said he believed the proposals of the chancellor would be regarded by any outside body of intelligent men as outrageous. He expressed the opin-ion that the Duchies of Cornwall and Lancaster should be regarded as pub-lic property.

Mr. Balfour supported the proposals of the chancellor of the exchequer. He said it would be folly to try to run a monarchy on the principle which would be appropriate to a re-public. In his opinion, the money spent for the court was not wasted. If they refused to support the crown in a decent and dignified way, they had better alter the whole system. The cost of the crown, he said, bore an incomparably small percentage of the wealth of the community. He ex-pressed hope that the house would approve the government's proposals. Mr. Barnes' amendment was voted down by 206 to 26.

PLANS TO BUILD LINE FROM VANCOUVER TO ALASKA

Construction of Eight Hundred Miles of Railway Is Undertaking Proposed by Jean Wolkenstein.

Victoria, July 22.—Jean Wolken stein, of New York, president and principal director of the British Co-lumbia & Alaska Railway company, arrived in Victoria yesterday from London to discuss with Premier Mc-Bride various features of the com-pany's undertaking.

The company's project may be brief-ly stated as the construction and sub-sequent operation of eight hundred miles of railway traversing the valley-land between the eastern and west-ern mountain ranges of this province and extending from Vancouver to the northern boundaries of the province via Lytton and Fort George. The company is also to build a line of railway from Telegraph Creek to Skagway. In an interview Mr. Wolk-enstein said he estimated that the road would cost $25,000 a mile and he had financed it in England.

Harold G. Villard, a son of Henry Villard, who built the Northern Pa-cific, will be associated with Mr. Wolk-enstein.

Manitoba Teachers Visit Windsor.

London, July 22.—The Manitoba school teachers yesterday visited Windsor and inspected the castle. They were afterwards entertained by the lord mayor and subsequently vis-ited Eton.

A Desirable Move.

London, July 22.—At a meeting of the Associated Chambers of Com-merce in Leeds in September the Hull chamber will propose the removal of restrictions upon Canadian cattle.

Bobs to Visit Berlin.

Berlin, July 22. — The kaiser has fixed September 4 as the date on which he will receive Lord Roberts, who will bear with him the official notification of the accession of King George.

Free Traders to Visit Canada.

London, July 22.—A body of Free Trade members of parliament will spend their holidays in Canada, under the leadership of J. A. Simon, liberal member for Walthamstow.

Hibernians Elect President.

Portland, July 22.—Honorary Vice President James J. Regan, of Minne-apolis, was elected national president of the Ancient Order of Hibernians over Matthew Cummings, incumbent, at today's session of the convention.

Strike at Prince Rupert.

Prince Rupert, July 22.—Thirty men unloading rails from a steamer here today walked out. They demanded an increase from forty to fifty cents an hour.

Five Believed Dead.

Hoquiam, Wash., July 22.—It is now believed that five per-sons perished in the fire which destroyed the Hotel Hoquiam early today. The body of C. E. Junnett, a lineman, was taken from the ruins. There are two other known dead and missing.

FISHING FLEET TO BE SEEN ON SUNDAY EXCURSIONS

Steamer Transfer Will Make Afternoon Trip to Steveston and Return During Fishing Season.

Pleasant Sunday afternoon trips on the Fraser river have been made pos-sible by a decision on the part of the owners of the steam Transfer to run excursions to Steveston and return during the fishing season, the round trip being made in something less than five hours.

While the trip down river to Sal-monopolis is always pleasant, it is doubly so at this time of the year, when the activity of the fishermen transforms the bosom of the Fraser into a scene of activity that can be duplicated in but few places in the world. The most interesting scene is at Steveston, when the six o'clock gun announces that the close period is over for the week. Boat after boat shoots out into the water, loaded with nets and men, and within a few min-utes the stream is a barricade of twine, fatal to the salmon and profit-able to the fisherfolk.

The river from Steveston to this city is studded with fishing boats on Sundays.

CANADIAN PLANS TO PROSPECT IN AIRSHIP

Windsor, July 22.—The monoplane as a means of exploring and develop-ing inaccessible gold mines high up in the mountains of Mexico is the pro-ject Dr. Armstrong, former resident of Mooretown, near Sarnia, is undertak-ing. Magistrate Leggatt, of this city a cousin of Dr. Armstrong, is in re-ceipt of a communication from the lat-ter in which he outlines his plans.

Dr. Armstrong for the last few years has been prospecting along the New Mexico and Mexican border. He will fly into the mountain regions around Chihuahua, Mexico, carrying with him sections of a rock-crushing machine, with which it will be possi-ble to conduct his prospecting.

Dr. Armstrong learned that the In-dians up in the mountains were fre-quent visitors to the village of Duange and that they often brought back with them large gold nuggets which they had found in the mountains and streams which flowed from inaccessi-ble pinnacles of the mountains. Re-peated efforts to reach the gold field have been of no avail.

NILE OYSTERS.

Interesting Discovery by Engineers in Egypt.

London, July 22.—Real Nile oysters on the half shell soon will be a novel gastronomical treat to those visiting Egypt. While boring for piers of a projected bridge from Boulac to Ghezireh the engineers came across the remains of an old building on which had grown a large number of giant oysters unknown to gourmets.

According to Dr. Hume, the head of the Egyptian geological survey, they belong to the species of Aetheria nilo-tica, and traces of this species are found elsewhere in Egypt, but above the present level of the Nile. Their existence in such places has helped scientists in determining previous courses of the river. This Aetheria has also been found in the Soudan, but this is the first time it has been located so far north.

ALL TICKETS ARE SOLD FOR CITIZENS EXCURSION

No More Pasteboards for Trip to Victoria Available—Many Tallyhos Secured for Use of Visitors.

During the past few days efforts have been made by the members of the Citizens Picnic committee to se-cure the services of a larger boat than the Princess May for the trip to Vic-toria on Wednesday, but no success has resulted. Had a boat with a carrying capacity of a thousand been secured, tickets for that number of people could easily have been sold. The five hundred tickets issued were all bought several days ago and now it is impossible to secure transporta-tion on the Princess May at any price.

Although the tickets bear the legend, "Boat leaves C.P.R. wharf at 7 a.m.," the vessel will start from the C.P.N. and not from the C.P.R. wharf. The railway company does not officially recognize the existence of the C.P.N. as a company, and in pursuance with that policy they make all their tickets read "C.P.R. wharf."

Arrangements have been made with the B.C.E.R. company for double-head-er cars to run on the city and Sap-perton cars early Wednesday morn-ing, bringing the excursionists down town a few minutes before seven o'clock.

George Adams who a few days ago went to Victoria to make arrange-ments with the owners of tallyhos and other vehicles, reports meeting with success. The trippers will be taken for a two or three hour ride around the Capital city for the reasonable fare of one dollar each.

The committee in charge has only one admonition to the purchasers of tickets—"Be on time."

FEAR LITTLE [illegible]LS ARE BURNED TO DEATH

Forest Fires in Rainy River District May Have Taken Toll of Human Life.

Beaudette, Minn., July 22.—Forest fires around the village of Beaudette have been checked today. The fires around Rainy River, Ontario, swept directly against the town, and fear was widespread as to its safety.

All available men have been fight-ing the flames.

This afternoon it is thought that the town will be saved, as it looks as though it has been checked at the railway right-of-way.

Thousands of cords of pulpwood have been destroyed and the cabins of twenty settlers have been de-stroyed.

It is reported that two little girls in the Rainy River district wandered wandered into the forest and were burned to death. Conditions are prac-tically the same on both sides of the boundary line.

Winnipeg, July 22.—Mayor Evans received an urgent call for assistance from the mayor of Rainy River, On-tario, on the Canadian Northern rail-way, which read as follows:

"Town surrounded by fire. In great danger. Send all hose you can spare by express tonight."

In response to this call for aid the Merriweather steam fire engine and 20,000 feet of hose left Winnipeg this afternoon to assist in combating the flames. In addition, Assistant Chief Code, one of the best fire fighters in Canada, and a detachment from the fire brigade went down to give every assistance possible.

The wind is reported to have fresh-ened considerably but no immediate danger is apprehended.

The Canadian Northern has a large force of men on the scene ready for any emergency.

MAKES LONG JOURNEY TO SEE BISHOP CONSECRATED

Representative of Burrit's Rapids, Ontario, Due Today to Attend Consecreation of Westminster Bishop.

There will arrive in Vancouver to-day from Burrit's Rapids, Ontario, Harold Kidd, one of the prominent members of the Episcopal church at that point. The reason for his jour-ney of almost three thousand miles is somewhat out of the ordinary. He is coming to be present at the con-secration of the Bishop of New West-minster, Rev. A. U. de Pencier, who was born in the little Ontario village and who lived there until he went to college.

As soon as word was received at his old home that he had been eleva-ed to the highest office of the church in British Columbia, the congregation at once decided to send a represen-tative to the consecration service, and Mr. Kidd will be in Vancouver today.

The consecration takes place in St. Pauls church, Vancouver, on Monday and there will be a notable gathering of the dignitaries of the western church present. Cards have been is-sued for the service and the total available accommodation of the church has already been reserved. It is expected that the new bishop will take up his residence here in the near future.

PETTY OFFENDERS HELP TO HARVEST WHEAT CROP

Spokane, July 22.—Drunks, vagrants, and all others released from the Spo-kane County jail are being sent to the wheat fields in the Inland Empire. Men, whose offenses are not of a se-rious nature, in many cases receive freedom on the strength of their prom-ises that they will start at once for the wheat fields of the Palouse and the Big Bend.

In both wheat belts of eastern Washington there is a scarcity of men for the harvest fields, and calls for assistance have been sent repeatedly to the Spokane chamber of commerce. All the men that could be sent out seem inadequate for the demand, and now the chief of police has been ap-pealed to.

Incompetent Strikebreakers.

Lansing, Mich., July 22.— Two hundred business men of Charlotte sent a telegram to the state railroad commission today asking that the body take steps to prevent the Grand Trunk operating its lines with alleged incompetent trainmen, asserting that the strikebreakers do not know the signals or wear uniforms, and that the general traveling public is in danger.

CHICAGO'S MILK.

Chicago, July 22.—The milk of Chicago is the dirtiest in the world. This startling fact vital to the health of 2,500,000 people was made public last night by the milk commission recently appointed by Mayor Busse, in its preliminary report to the city council.

The commission after going over the situation carefully has arrived at the conclusion that nothing is to be gained by concealing the facts and the only way conditions can be remedied is to face the truth and begin reform all along the line. It was careful to impute no blame to the city health department, which its report says has done wonders with a staff undermanned and underpaid.

The milk supply of Chicago amounts to 240,000 gallons daily. The commission will continue its investigation of the milk supply.

USED DOLLAR BILLS AS CALLING CARDS

Washington, July 22.—A few days ago a citizen of Texas inclosed a one-dollar bill to the Postoffice Department. No explanation accompanied the remittance. About a month before that a one-dollar bill was received by the department, apparently from the same man. As in the latter instance no explanation was forthcoming.

The two one-dollar bills were laid aside to await developments. Yesterday a letter came from a man in San Antonio, which cleared up the mystery to some extent. The letter read:

"By sending you this money I want to introduce myself to the postmaster-general and his secretary. I expect to do the same thing in every department of the United States government at the capital. I hope this will be satisfactory."

That was all there was to it.

MONTREAL POLICE BAFFLED IN CHASE AFTER PHANTOMS

Montreal, July 22.—There was a general round-up of the prisoners in the Montreal jail Thursday night after an alarm had been given that two of the temporary residents had escaped. Three census failed to show that any of the inmates were missing, but the mystery of the two who were seen running from the prison by two special policemen remains unsolved.

The police were traveling along in a street car and when near the jail they saw two men rushing from the exit. The police officers leaped from the car and gave chase to the fleeing pair. Threats of shooting failed to stop the couple and as the police did not wish to take too serious measures, the shots were not fired. The two fugitives escaped after a long chase, running in the direction of the water front.

The policemen went to the jail and reported that they had chased two escaped prisoners. The guards had not been informed of any breaks from the jail and a search through the wards was at once made.

As the officers were still sure all the prisoners were mustered up, and as this was after nine o'clock many were brought out of bed, the numbers of the men were called off, a careful watch being still kept for "dummies" but nothing irregular was found. The prisoners were sent back to their cells, the guards returned to their dominoes and the police left for more agreeable duties in the city.

"ARE YOU CRAZY?"

Don't fail to see the Clamans in "Are You Crazy?" at the Opera house on Monday. Each year they bring a brand new show; and each year the show is better than the last. The band and orchestra is still a decided feature. The show this season is sure to please all, for it is one continuous laugh. To the brain-fagged business man, the over-worked clerk, the drudging housewife, nothing is better than a good laugh before going to sleep. You can have it when you see "Are You Crazy?" They appear here on Monday.

KING OF PORTUGAL HAS HIS TROUBLES

Boy Monarch Finds Great Difficulty in Meeting Bills Left By His Father.

Lisbon, July 22.—King Manuel, of Portugal, and his mother, Queen Amelie, made such heavy pecuniary sacrifices during the few months following his accession to the throne a couple of years ago, in order to clear off liabilities of the murdered king to the national treasury and to his other creditors, that it seems very hard that they should be once more confronted by court scandals of a monetary character, of which the Republican and anti-dynastic press and party are making the utmost capital.

It seems that the sugar monopoly of the Island of Maderia was acquired by an Englishman by the name of Hinton who after having received the grant made most indiscreet boasts of the fact that if he had otbained the concession it was through the influence of certain high officials of the king's household, whom he had, in his own words, "bought cheap." These boasts are now being made the subject of a legislative investigation, which is inflicting no end of injury upon the reigning house.

To make matters worse, one of the leading drygoods firms of Lisbon has just become bankrupt, and its managers ascribe their ruin to their inability to collect a bill from Queen Pia for goods furnished, the bill amounting to some $80,000. It has been running for years, and now the receiver in the bankrutcy has instituted proceedings against the royal lady for the sum, which she herself can not pay, and which her relatives declare it to be impossible for them to settle. Unfortunately this is not the only instance of Lisbon tradespeople having become involved in difficulties through having accorded too expensive credit to Queen Pia. But this is a particularly flagrant case.

Extravagance Inherited.

Queen Pia is the grandmother of the present King of Portugal, a sister of King Humbert, of Italy, and the only one of the late King Victor Emmanuel's children who inherited his inconceivable recklessness and extravagance in money matters. In fact, the gerater part of Humbert's reign was spent in paying off his father's debts, a particularly big creditor, though a generous one, being Knedive Ismail, of Egypt. Humbert also repeatedly came to the assistance of his sister Pia, paying her debts. But her nephew, the present King of Italy, is of a more economical character, and declines to continue to furish large sums of money over and above her Italian allowance, to be spent, not in his domain, but either in Portugal or in Paris.

Not long before her son's tragic murder it was claimed in the national legislature at Lisbon, that money had been obtained without proper warrant from the national treasury by the Queen Mother, in order to settle some of her more pressing debts, and these charges were confirmed in the legislative investigation following the accession of the present king. He succeeded in effecting a settlement of the amount which she owed to the state, but now finds it beyond his power to attend to her private debts; the more so as she seems to have no conception whatsoever of the value of money.

It has been frequently urged that she should leave the kingdom and make her home in Italy, since her presence at Lisbon constituted a sort of weakness to her grandson, whose position on the throne is by no means secure. But she has turned a deaf ear to all remonstrances, and was so broken by the murder of her son and eldest grandson that during the year following the tragedy the matter was allowed to drop. Now, however, the demand for her virtual banishment is being revived, and she may be compelled to leave, in order to safeguard Dom Manuel's crown.

Leopold's Estate Sued.

Among the several suits which have cropped up in connection with the settlement of the estate of the late King Leopold is one relating to the property of his only sister, ex-Empress Charlotte of Mexico. Leopold had assumed, according to some had indeed usurped, the office of trustee of her fortune, after she became insane in 1867. A considerable portion of this was in real estate in the Ardenne district, which the late king either sold or otherwise alienated. Steps are now being insituted to recover this property which at her death will be shared by the present king and his two sisters, and by the three daughters of the late king.

HEARD OF KING'S DEATH LONG AFTER IT HAPPENED

London, July 22.—Not until Thursday, June 23, did the inhabitants of St. Kilda, the most remote isle of the Western Hebrides, hear the sad news of King Edward's death. A royal messenger bearing the sad tidings and a copy for each islander of Queen Alexandra's pathetic letter to the nation, was despatched by special steamer.

On the steamer's arrival the inhabitants gathered and proceedings opened with the 100th Psalm in English and Gaelic. The details of the king's illness and death were then explained to the now saddened assembly. The ceremony ended with singing of the national anthem and cheers for the new king and Queen Alexandra.

There being no British flag on the island, a little table decoration flag from the official steamer had to be nailed half-way up the mast. Before leaving, the visitors from the mainland distributed half a ton of sweets, tobacco, clothing and shoes among the simple fisher folk of St. Kilda.

COUPLE WED AT 1 A.M. TO WIN DIAMOND RING

Traveling Salesman and Fiancee Make Up Minds at Supper Party in New Orleans.

New Orleans, July 22.—The making of a wager that a midnight wedding cannot be performed in New Orleans resulted in Edwin Perry Perkins, thirty-two years old, of Louisville, Ky., and Miss Katherine Dempsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Demsey, of 326 Apple street, Peoria, Ill., who had been sweethearts for eleven years, being married this morning shortly before one o'clock. Incidentally they won a valuable diamond ring.

Miss Dempsey, who has been a guest at the Monteleon hotel here since last January, was a member of a merry supper party at The Rathskeller last night. Her old friends, A. S. Richard, mayor of Lake Charles, La., and A. P. Powell, an oil magnate, of Lake Charles, were the hosts. Miss Mary Matthews and Mr. Perkins were the other members.

As midnight approached and the conversation lagged, Mayor Richards, after proposing a toast all around, removed a big diamond ring from his finger and offered to wager it against $100 in cash that a marriage ceremony could not be performed in New Orleans at such a late hour.

Mr. Perkins, who is a traveling salesman, decided to win the ring and a bride at the same time. He had been engaged to Miss Demsey for eighteen months. He accepted the wager after Miss Dempsey had agreed. A taxicab was called and the entire party was hurried across the Mississippi river by ferry to Algiers. Judge Thomas F. Maher, of the Jefferson parish court, was at his summer home at Mayeland, Miss., 100 miles away. However, that was no handicap to Cupid. A long-distance telephone call to Waveland aroused the judge and he sleepily consented to his clerk, John Schroeder, issuing the necessary license.

The ceremony was performed at five minutes before one o'clock in the Algiers courthouse by Rev. John F. Foster, the "marrying parson" of Algiers. Mayor Richard paid his bet and himself placed the diamond ring on the bride's finger.

RUSSIA'S RULER IS UNDER SWAY OF MONK

St. Petersburg, July 22.—"Czar Nicholas rules the Russias—and a monk rules Czar Nicholas."

This remark may be heard all over Russia today. It is an open secret that somebody—usually an orthodox priest—always rules his imperial majesty, even to the extent of dictating the color of a new uniform, or the appointment of a new minister. It is notorious that the Czar inclines to superstition and mysticism and is also very impressionable.

He will not set out on a journey on Monday, or decide any important matter except on a saint's day. He is a staunch upholder of the Greek church—of which he is the supreme head—and, rumor says, thinks more of the choice of a new ikon than a new minister.

It is therefore, not surprising to hear that the latest favorite is a monk named Theophilus. Everybody expects him to be made a bishop before long. The czar refuses to attend any church ceremonial unless Theophilus accompanies him, and yet, a few months ago, the monk was unknown.

One of the grand dukes, Constantin, found him in a monastery in Moscow, and the monk's conversation pleased the grand duke so much that he took him to Tsarskoe, the Czar's summer residence. Since John of Cronstadt's death, the Czar has had no educated favorite among the clergy, and as soon as he heard of Theophilus his majesty sent for him and promptly fell under the priest's spell.

NEW LAID EGGS.

The announcement that Alexander R. Peacock, the Pittsburg financier, has decided to establish his own farm for the purpose of producing eggs of a reliable and undoubted freshness for the use of his own household, because he cannot procure these, is a serious indictment against the egg trade as it is carried on in the United States. But the practice of selling eggs as new laid when they are in a condition that does not in any way warrant this assumption of their freshness is not confined to the other side of the international boundary. It is all too prevalent in British Columbia, and the city of New Westminster suffers in no slight degree from a similar commercial defect.

We have known a good many instances of so-called new laid or fresh eggs being purchased by citizens which have been found to be in no sense entitled to such a designation. It is no uncommon experience for a customer to find his "new laid" eggs decidedely stale, whilst sometimes they are so ancient as to be addled, and at other times they are found to contain the embryo of a chicken. People are naturally disgusted at such treatment and repair to the grocer in a state of great indignation. But in very many cases it is not wholly the fault of the unfortunate grocer that the eggs he supplies are not fresh, but of the producer, from whom the eggs have been purchased upon the understanding that they are new laid.

Unfortunately many ranchers are in the habit of regarding the poultry yard as a negligeable part of their business. Their hens are allowed to roost in filthy and ramshackle structures, and beyond receiving a variable measure of grain or other food at odd times are expected to look after themselves; eggs are collected at haphazard, then are laid by in any place that may be handy until a cratefull is accumulated and finally taken into town. In this way eggs are first spoiled by laying for days in filthy nest—and few things absorb the flavor of their surroundings more readily than eggs—are often sat upon by broody fowls, and are stale into the bargain. But we know some ranchers who treat their poutry yard in the same business-like way that they do their dairy or fruit farm and find it pays them well to do it. They keep their hens in clean, well-built houses, feed them regularly on scientific principles, collect the eggs at least one a day, keep them in a cool clean place, and market them regularly each week. These men also watch their hens, or use trap nests and eliminate all that are not healthy or profitable, feed up cockerells for killing and sale as table poultry, and utilize the manurial product of the houses and runs for their land. Such as these make their poultry pay well because they look after them properly. They get top prices for their eggs and table poultry, and obtain value from the by-products.

As to the general question of new laid eggs, the classification of the Poultry Producers' association, of Canada, should be a guide to producers, vendors and consumers alike. Under this schedule No. 1, new laid eggs are required to be not over five days old, weigh not less than twenty-four ounces to the dozen, to be clean and uniform in size and color, and carefully packed. No. 2 quality are the smaller eggs, or of uneven grade, but of the same degree of freshness. It would be a very good thing if something could be done to educate the ranchers of the Fraser valley up to this standard. Whether the proposed B. C. Poultrymen's association will succeed in accomplishing good work along these lines remains to eb seen. There is certainly a fine opportunity for such a body to effect reform in the ways and methods of our poultry keepers.

EARL GREY ARRIVES.

Says That He Will Hold Office for Another Year.

Quebec, July 22.—Lord Grey and his consort arrived yesterday on the C. P. R. Empress of Britain. They were met at the landing by the Earl of Lansborough, military secretary to His excellency; members of the provincial cabinet and officers of the garrison.

A large number of citizens were also present to greet the vice-regal party. Earl Grey said he would hold office for another year.

P. BURNS' MARKET
COLUMBIA STREET

MARKET REPORT

A scarcely noticeable drop in the price of beef and a one cent decline in the lamb and mutton quotations were the features of the market yesterday. The other meat prices remained stationary, although there was much business done during the course of the morning.

Taken as a whole the market was a fair one with a good average attendance of both buyers and sellers. Many of the city customers of the market are away at camp at this season of the year and some of the farmers are too busy with their haying operations to pay any attention to business in the city. The attendance for those reasons was not as large as it has been for the last few weeks, but there was considerable business done and the prices were fairly high.

For the first time this season some 1910 apples were brought in, but they were of a poor quality and were not really ready to place on sale. They came from near Langley.

Pork was not so plentiful and was short of demand. There was a good supply of eggs, but the demand was equal to it. There was a fair demand for butter, and the supply was sufficient. All kinds of fowl, with the exception of ducks, were strongly in demand and all sold out early in the day. There is but little demand for ducks at this time of the year.

There was a good suppy of cut and pot flowers and during the progress of the market a fine auction sale of horses and cows was held on the market square.

Farmer's Wife Commits Suicide.

Carman, Man., July 22.—Mrs. Willie, wife of William Wilkie, a farmer living six miles west of Carman, committed suicide last night by drinking carbolic acid. The deceased wife was a young woman, about thirty years of age. She is survived by a husband and two children.

IMPRACTICAL REGULATIONS.

United States Makes Easier Shipment of Lumber From Canada.

Washington, July 22.—Following conferences with Canadian officials the removal is announced of the impractical restrictions on lumber imported into the United States in railway cars from Canada.

Beginning July 30, next, the customs officers will discontinue requiring tally sheets of specifications of the number of pieces of each size and length of lumber laden on each railway car to be filed on the railway. It was found virtually impossible to furnish such tally sheet, and hereafter the customs officers will insist upon only the commercial description and kind of lumber, number of pieces, and aggregate number of feet in each car.

TEN YEARS' TEST OF ECZEMA CURE

During its ten years' test, oil of wintergreen as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription has thoroughly, absolutely proven its merits for skin diseases.

Though on sale only a short time in Canada, it is rapidly duplicating here its remarkable success in the United States. Cure after cure, and the testimony of the world's leading skin specialists, show plainly that the way to cure the skin is through the skin; not, however, by means of a salve reaching only the outer skin, but with a penetrating liquid that gets in to the inner skin, killing the germs and soothing the healthy tissue.

D. D. D. does just this. It cures—and it relieves instantly. If you have never tried it write the D. D. D. Laboratories, Department N.N., 23 Jordan street, Toronto, for a free trial bottle. We know you will be more than pleased with the result, Frank McKenzie, Druggist.

FRENCHMEN TO MEET SALMON BELLIES NEXT

Leaders in N.L.U. Will Probably Make Trip to Coast This Fall.

Montreal, July 22.—Should they win the championship of the N. L. U. and the Montreals fail to bring the cup to this city, it appears the Nationals will travel west in September in quest of the silverware as winners of the league they have the right to challenge, and they could play on a reasonable date, it is thought New Westminster, holders, would have no reason for postponing the issue until next summer.

Last year it was different. Not until late was the championship decided this season the result will be known by September. On the fifth of the month the Nationals are scheduled to play the Shamrocks, but one of the management of the Frenchmen said yesterday that this game would be postponed if the Nationals are the winners, and that they would go to the coast to play on this trip.

The Frenchmen are watching the Minto series closely and while they would like to see Montreal make a betting in the next game they believe New Westminster will retain the cup. However, should Montreal win the coveted trophy, the Nationals, champions in the N. L. U., would naturally remain in possession.

The Nationals are confident that they will finish in the lead. This they say they will meet Torontos here and that will probably be their hardest game. However, critics here are inclined to the belief that there will be a shuffle before the championship is decided.

Next matches are scheduled for Saturday, Torontos at National and Capitols at Cornwall.

SECOND BATTLE TO SETTLE SUPREMACY

Eastern Challengers for the Minto Cup Will Attempt the Impossible Today.

The great question which puzzled the lacrosse fans yesterday was whether Captain Tommie Gifford would be in shape to play in the match this afternoon, and this morning the doubts are not yet settled. Tommie's limb was considerably improved yesterday and it is thought that he may be able to play, but that all depends on the amount of sleep he had last night and the way he feels this morning. It will probably not be known until about noon whether he will be on the field or not.

If Captain Gifford is well enough to take his place on the lineup today, the team will be exactly the same as the one which last week humbled the eastern Cup Hunters. They will all be there. Punk Wintemute was the man most badly injured besides Tommy Gifford and he has been under the doctor's care all week, but will be able to play all right this afternoon. Grumpy Spring was also hurt but he will be in as good shape this afternoon as he ever was. The other men are feeling in first class shape.

Change in Montreals.

The Montreal team may also be the same as that which played the last half of the game last Saturday. Andy Hamilton, who had his shoulder put out at the last game, will not be in uniform again and his place will be taken by O'Kane, who substituted at the last game. It is reported from Vancouver that neither George Robers nor Fred Scott are in very good shape and may not play, but very little credence is placed in the rumor here.

The following is the lineup, as near as it can be figured out at present:

(Westminster Goal.)
Sandy Gray
Galbraith — Hogan
T. Gifford — Roberts
J. Gifford — H. Scott
G. Rennie — Dade
T. Rennie — F. Scott
C. Spring — Kane
W. Turnbull — Kenna
Wintemute — Hamilton
Feeney — R. Finlayson
L. Turnbull — McKerrow
G. Spring — G. Findayson
Tierney
(Montreal Goal.)

Strict Refereeing Today.

D. M. Eberts, speaker of the house of commons at Victoria, will face-off the ball promptly at 3:30 p.m. and then W. E. Ditchburn will take charge of the game. Lionel Yorke, of Vancouver, will act as judge of play. After the criticism the referees received from some quarters after the last game, it is probable that they will be much more strict today and the men will go to the fence for the slightest infraction of the rules.

The Montreal men still seem to have some confidence, according to reports appearing in the Vancouver papers, but if they have, they must have brought an inexhaustible supply of hope with them. They were beaten by the same score here as they defeated Winnipeg by the Saturday previous, and the players all agreed that Winnipeg did not have much of a team. Taking that as a basis—but what's the use—the game this afternoon will show.

No one as yet has attempted to make an estimate of the crowd that will be there. Up to last night the tickets had sold in almost similar numbers to the game the Saturday previous. Secretary Ryall stated that the grandstand tickets were just about the same. He was practically sold out of tickets for the main stand last night and those who want to get a good seat will have to find their way to the corner of Lorne and Columbia streets early today. The tickets in Vancouver also sold as well as they did for the last game. The pasteboards will remain on sale at Ryall's until eleven o'clock this morning, the seats available including all remaining unsold in Vancouver yesterday. There is still considerable accommodation in the temporary grandstand.

Weather Will Count.

The attendance will depend a great deal on the weather. Last Saturday the conditions, from a spectator's point of view, were ideal, and if the same conditions prevail this afternoon there is no doubt that there will be an enormous crowd, as great or greater than that which witnessed the first game.

Lots of Police.

Chief Bradshaw, of the city police force, will be on the job again with as many of his men as he can muster and will make a strenuous endeavor to have both the Minto cup contests pass off without any disturbance.

FINAL LACROSSE MATCH FOR WATCHES TODAY

Sappertonians and Greenhorns Will Decide Ownership of Timepieces on Oval This Afternoon.

The final match between teams fourteen years old and younger for the possession of the Dick Burde watches will be played this afternoon at Queens park while the crowd is gathering for the big Minto cup game. The Sappertonians and the Greenhorns are the only ones left in the running now and they will battle it out under the supervision of Referee W. Gifford.

Last week there was a great deal of interest taken in the junior game by the crowd which came early to the Minto cup fixture and the management thought they could not do better than have the final game played off today. There are twelve watches and the winners of this afternoon's contest will be declared the winners. The game starts at 1:30 p. m., so that there will be lots of time to finish it before the Montreal game starts.

Montreal's Big Task.

The fate of the Minto cup, given by the Governor General of Canada for competition for the lacrosse championship of Canada, hangs in the balance today, when a picked team of professionals from Montreal will battle with the New Westminster team for its possession. The Montreal team will have to beat New Westminster by more than six goals to take the cup back with them, as the local team won last Saturday by a score of ten to four, and the total number of goals in the two games decides the holders of the cup. New Westminster has held the trophy for three years and the motto, "What we have, we'll hold," which the champions have affixed to it, looks like a sure enough prophecy.

SEARCH IS RENEWED FOR ARMADA'S SUNKEN GOLD

Location of Wreck in Tobermory Bay Has Been Narrowed Down to a Small Area.

London, July 22.—The search for the Spanish Armada galleon Florencia, which sank with treasure of fabulous amount in Tobermory Bay in 1588, has been resumed.

This fresh venture is being undertaken by a London syndicate, which secured a lease from the Duke of Argyll in September last. Lieut.-Col. K. Mackenzie Foss, who has had extensive experience of submarine work in Ceylon, is superintending the actual operations.

The slit under which the galleon lies will be bored by a mining expert, and when anything resembling a hull has been located, native pearl divers from Ceylon, will take up the investigations.

For at least two years inquiries of a historical character have been prosecuted in Spain and Italy as well as in this country, with the view of establishing the actual facts. As a result the situation of the wreck has been located to within four hundred square yards, and the problem correspondingly narrowed down.

Colonel Foss has discovered that the Florencia was 120 feet in length, with forty feet beam, and carried fifty-two guns, in addition to a very large sum in coin and bullion.

PEASANTS THOUGHT DEVIL TRAVELLED IN AIRSHIP

Italians Captured a Balloon and Took It to Church to Have It Exorcised.

Rome, July 22.—A military balloon broke from its anchorage the other day and went sailing along until it reached the little village of Palombaro, the several hundred inhabitants of which had never seen a balloon, and never even heard of Zeppelin. When the peasants saw the monster, they first concluded that it was a gift from heaven and agreed among themselves to divide up the silk bag among the women and girls. But then some one suggested that may be the devil had a hand in the game and had sent this present to tempt them.

"That's easily ascertained," said the village oracle. "Let us carry the thing into church. If it's devils' work it will quickly manifest itself."

The balloon was squeezed through the church door with much difficulty, and parts of it were badly torn. Then the peasants waited to see what would happen. They waited several hours, but the balloon, or its devilish contents, refused to budge. When darkness came on, the villagers half decided that there was no harm in the silken bag, and to make sure one man lit a candle and walked around it. He stumbled, fell, and ignited the escaping gas.

Immediately there were cries, "The devil is loose," and all fled from the church. As a matter of fact there was an explosion, a bluish flame shot up amid much bad odor, all of which tallied with the villagers' idea of his satanic majesty.

JOHN BULL DOES AWAY WITH ANCIENT POSTS

Historic and Novel Crown Offices Are Being Dropped One by One.

London, July 22.—Many of the queer old crown offices of Great Britain have been abolished, but some of them remain to this day, evidencing the conservatism of old John Bull. Of these may be mentioned the pleasant post in Scotland of Marshal of Gentle Archers, a picturesque office that has come down from the middle ages. The present holder is commander of the ancient Body Guard of Archers, and still appears from time to time in Lincoln Green, and armed like his men, with the old-time bow and arrow.

A couple of interesting posts were abolished when Edward VII. succeeded to the throne. One of these, that of royal rat catcher, had been in existence without intermission since the days of Charles II.

The royal rat chatcher had a nice, easy time, and his job was much envied, seeing that he drew the comfortable stipend of $1,250 a year, together with an allowance of $50 for terriers and $200 for ferrets. This office furnished occasion for many witty sallies in Parliament up to the time of the accession of Albert Edward.

The other office that the late king abolished was that of the king's ale taster. This post carried with it a nice salary and the pleasant duty of sampling the ales that were supplied to the royal table.

Bryond Borough.

Among the old offices yet retained may be mentioned the stewardship of the Chiltern hundreds. The original duty of this officer was to drive out brigands from the Chiltern hills, but it is now a purely nominal office that every member of Parliament must accept before he is permitted to resign his post. It does not carry much of a salary, however—only $5 per annum—and the member of Parliament having stepped out of his position by accepting this, forthwith resigns it.

Another old office yet in existence is the king's verderer for the Forest of Dean. This is filled by election at a court presided over by the high sheriff of Gloucestershire, and is one of the most ancient of all posts in the United Kingdom.

A curious post, now abolished, was that of the uncorker of ocean bottles, created during the reign of Elizabeth. It owed its existence to an odd incident, in that extraordinary as it may seem, the first news to reach England of the Dutch taking Nova Zembla came by "bottle post."

The story runs that one day a fisherman, on the sands near Deal, picked up a bottle, which in due time was laid before the lord high admiral of England. When opened, a parchment, setting forth the news just mentioned was found. When this was shown to the queen, Elizabeth was so struck by the circumstance, that she at once decreed that for the future all sealed bottles cast up by the sea were to be dispatched to the lord high admiral, whose property they should become under the designation of "sea prizes."

Queen Bess' Decree.

To impress this decree upon the minds of all, especially fishermen and those dwelling on the sea coasts, Queen Bess characteristically enough intimated that neglect to comply with the royal command would mean the gallows.

In this fashion came about the office of the uncorker of ocean bottles, who alone had the right to open any bottle cast on the coasts of the kingdom. Thomas Tonfield was the first Englishman to fill this post, and the records show that during one year he opened fifty-two bottles, flasks, flagons, and other ocean messengers, containing all sorts of news touching on matters of the sea. This office endured till the time of George III., by whom it was abolished.

At one time there existed at the English court one of the queerest offices imaginable, i.e., that of whipping boy. It is extremely probable that this post was not, like many of the others, much sought after, inasmuch as the duty of the youth who held it embraced some unpleasant features. He was, in fact, a sort of understudy to a prince in the matter of whippings, receiving the chastisement that of right should have gone to the king's son.

CLOG DANCED FOR TWENTY HOURS

Wallace, Idaho, July 22.—Laced up in a straitjacket, wearing heavy hob-nailed boots, hurling threats and defiance at fellow prisoners and jailers, John Carlson, of Taft, a few nights ago, did a Marathon dance that is believed to have beaten all records in or out of jail.

He made so much noise that the firemen in the station adjoining could not sleep, and the prisoner was taken to the county jail. Tired of confinement and inactivity, the big miner began to clog dance, from which he refused to desist until he had put in twenty straight hours without a break.

How much longer he might have kept going will never be known, as his fellow prisoners, being unable to stand the racket of his hob nails on the steel floor, finally took the dancer down and sat on him until the jailer put a straitjacket on him. He was sent home to Montana.

BRITISH CAPITAL A STEADY STREAM

Unprecedented Amount of New Capital Found During First Half of Year.

London, July 22.—For partisan political purposes it has been the habit of many English editors to write about the alleged financial decadence of England. The Chancellor of the Exchequer, on the other hand, in introducing his budget for next year, stated that the country never was so prosperous and that there was a big boom in trade everywhere.

To judge by the unprecedented amount of new capital that London found during the first six months of this year England is far from being broke. The Economist shows that in the first three months of this year £99,355,000 was invested in new undertakings and in the next three months £88,721,000.

These figures are indications of a great boom in business, and, of course, of speculative activity. Rubber companies account for £16,500,000 of the half year's total and oil companies for £8,500,000. The tabulated statement in the Economist shows that a fair proportion of the new capital is for the home market, but the larger proportion was invested in enterprises abroad.

There is no reason for disquietude in this fact, it is asserted. What the figures of new capital indicate is the enormous wealth of the United Kingdom. The stream of British capital still flows over the earth like a fertilizing stream. Of the increase in the amount of capital sent abroad, the bulk will be employed in the construction of railways and the development of agriculture or industry.

SWARM OF BEES MAKES 200-MILE OCEAN TRIP

New York, July 22.—How a swarm of bees took a two hundred-mile trip on board the Alleghany, of the Hamburg-American line's Atlas service was told by passengers of that steamship when it reached its North River pier.

Soon after the Alleghany left Port de Paix, Hayti, on June 23 last, a swarm of several thousand bees settled in a cluster upon a boat davit on the upper deck. Sailors made an effort to dislodge the insects, but after the bees had shown their determination to remain by stinging their assailants they were allowed to have their own way.

The ship reached St. Marc the next day, but the bees still remained on board. On June 25 the Alleghany set out for St. Marc. By this time the insects had found there was not the proper kind of food within easy reach and suddenly rose into the air and flew back toward land.

HUMAN ASHES FOR FLOWER BEDS

London, July 22.—Some peculiar instructions as to the disposal of his body are given in the codicil attached to the will of the late Mr. Hermann Vezin, the veteran actor, who left an estate of the gross value of £137.

He wished to be cremated at Golder's Green in the least expensive manner and in the afternoon if, as he was told, a lower charge was made than in the morning. He also asked that there should be no ceremony or religious service, and that none of his relatives or friends should wear mounrning or send wreaths. He wished his ashes to be spread as manure on the ground by one of the gardeners at the cemetery at Golder's Green.

Mr. Vezin's cremation took place on June 15, and his wishes were duly observed. The ashes, after being pulverized, were placed in a wooden receptacle and gently strewn over the flower beds of the cemetery.

UMPIRING IS TO BE YOUTH'S FINAL TEST

Young Man Will Try It Before Deciding To Join The Roman Catholic Order.

Hutchinson, Kan., July 22.—Having serious doubts as to whether he really was fit to enter the priesthood of the Roman Catholic church, even after he had completed his studies at the Kenilworth Seminary, J. J. O'Reilly evolved a most unusual test.

Realizing that the life he was about to enter upon was one of continual sacrifice and repression, from which there could be no alternative, he determined to find out whether he was master of himself to the extent he believed he should be, but the question troubled him for weeks he was unable to meet it with an answer.

At college O'Reilly took great interest in baseball. This was at St. Benedict's college at Atchison, Kan. While attending this school he met Blaine Burban, formerly pitcher for the Chicago Nationals, and the two became friends. O'Reilly umpired many games and he got away good. No one ever kicked on his decisions. At Kenilworth college, St. Louis, he again became umpire. He had a steady eye, knew the game thoroughly, and he was a student of human nature.

O'Reilly finally decided he would get into professional baseball. If he could withstand the wrath of a professional baseball player without anger rankling in his heart surely he would be fit for the priesthood, for no person in the world has so thankless a job as the umpire.

So under the name of Phillips, he applied to President Hostutler, of the Kansas State league. Western Kansas crowds do not hesitate to tell an umpire what they think of him when his decisions are not up to the standard. If he hears no kick it is a sign that he is making good. Phillips as an umpire has been a success. The players like him and seldom object to his decisions.

GHOSTS CAUSE OF A RAILROAD STRIKE

Mercerville, N. J., July 22.—Fifty Italian railroad laborers have gone on strike because, they assert, they saw four ghosts—the spirits of fellow laborers who were recently killed by being struck by a train—operating a hand car. Folk hereabout believe the story of the laborers, as they all agree as to the particulars. The villagers are excited, and even the men of the village, would not go out at night if they were paid for it.

The laborers were working after dark when they saw a hand car approaching. Fire seemed to be shooting from under the tracks, and the workmen, amazed, laid down their picks and shovels to watch the approaching car. Those working it were dressed in white, and as it neared the group of laborers they recognized the occupants as members of the group of workmen who were killed near the spot a month ago. According to the stories told by workmen, the hand car mysteriously disappeared just as it reached a point about five feet from them. They rushed widly in all directions after they had recovered sufficiently from their fright to move.

The laborers went on strike immediately and even an inducement of increased wages would not tempt them to again work near the same spot. A search for the phantom-like car failed to reveal any trace of it. Three of the men killed were section bosses, who believed that, after death, a person's spirit roamed the earth.

PASTOR GAVE SERMON IN HIS SHIRT SLEEVES

Waterbury, Conn., July 22.—By vote of his congregation Rev. H. C. Merserve, pastor of the First Congregational church of Danbury, has established a new fashion in vestments. He is preaching in his shirt sleeves.

"My brethren," he said Sunday morning, "it is hot." The congregation looked eloquent but preserved silence.

"Are there any here," continued Mr. Merserve, "who would see grave indecorum in the removal of the clergyman's coat during the service?"

There was no answer.

"As many as are willing that I should preach to them in something approximating comfort raise their hands," said the pastor.

Hands were raised all over the auditorium. The women seemed to lead the movement. Mr. Merserve is young, popular and trim of figure. The pastor counted the raised hands.

"In conformtity with your wishes, I will praise God in my shirt sleeves," he said, removing his frock coat and appearing in a soft white shirt.

Mr. Merserve says he will continue to preach coatless sermons while the hot weather lasts.

RUPTURE

Mr. A. Claverie

the celebrated European Specialist who created such an enthusiasm in Vancouver last week, will be in

NEW WESTMINSTER
(Windsor Hotel)

on Monday from 1 to 9 p.m. and Tuesday from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m.

Don't Fail to Go and See Him.

As we have already announced, Mr. A. Claverie, the European Specialist, whose name is known all over the world, is coming to our city.

This is a chance everybody will grasp.

Rupture is a disease NOT TO BE TRIFLED WITH.

It is frequently considered as a disease without any danger, when REALLY IT IS ONE OF THE MOST TERRIBLE.

It frequently occurs that in a few months it weakens the strongest of men, and renders them incapable of working and even of walking.

And there is still a more fearful danger: THE STRANGULATION OF THE RUPTURE.

When a rupture is strangled—a frequent and unexpected occurrence—the digestion is suddenly blocked, and IT IS INSTANTANEOUS DEATH WITHIN 24 HOURS.

It may thus be seen how urgent it is to follow a serious treatment when suffering from Rupture.

All the ruptured will take advantage of the presence in New Westminster of such a well-known Specialist as Mr. A. Claverie when he comes to our city.

His Method and unexcelled Apparatus have brought STRENGTH, RELIEF, SAFETY AND HEALTH TO ONE MILLION SUFFERERS in the world, and specially, in VANCOUVER, last week, HUNDREDS OF PATIENTS HAVE RECOVERED BY HIM, SECURITY, COMFORT AND HAPPINESS.

I strongly advise all the ruptured to go and see Mr. A. Claverie: that will mean for them THE BEGINNING OF A NEW LIFE.

ROASTED PEANUTS COST $36,000,000 EVERY YEAR

Big Sum Changes Hands Annually to Provide American Nation With Seductive Goobers.

New York, July 22.—The person who buys a nickel's worth of peanuts to munch at the ball game, to feed to the squirrels in the park, or to gladden the hearts of the kiddies at home, scarcely realizes that he has contributed to an industry that last year farmed a $1,000,000 crop, and which placed on the market in various forms reached the enormous sum of $36,000,000. But it is a fact!

This little seductive nut—a resolution to "eat just one" is soon forgotten—whose birthplace is America, was, until comparatively recently, unappreciated either as to the "money in them" or as a really nutritious product. Today the peanut plays an import part in pleasure, from the swell dinner party to the ever-present democracy of the circus, ball game, or picnic. After all, what is a ball game, a picnic, or a circus, without the peanut accompaniment?

By far the largest part of the crop is consumed from the peanut stand, the little whitle sign of the roaster being the signal for the average youngster to suggest to dad or ma that some of them would be very acceptable, and the paternal or maternal parent's willingness—nine time out of ten—to invest. Yet there are millions of bushels that go to the fattening of hogs throughout the south, the feeding of poultry, while the vines, often cured as hay, feed thousands of head of cattle, and even old Mother Earth is nourished by the roots of the plant, which furnishes nitrogen to it from the air.

The result of all this is that scientists claim that the peanut, which in the past was not very highly regarded, is the only food staple that will at once nourish man, beast, bird, and fields. It is the most nutritious of the entire family, rich in tissue building properties, containing glucose and carbohydrates—and is the cheapest. Beyond the shadow of a doubt it is first from both a dietary and economic standpoint.

The fact of the matter is the peanut in about every way is in a class by itself as regards price, average number in a pound, edible part, waste, and fat. They average about 350 to a pound at a cost of ten cents, the edible portion is 73.6, waste 26.4, and the amount of fat is placed at eighty per cent. These are remarkable figures when one stops to consider them, and brought out more clearly when compared with the small Texas pecan, its nearest competitor, which sells for over a third more, averages but 216 to a pound, has a waste of 61.8 per cent, edible part but 38.2, and contains sixty-eight per cent of fat.

MAY HAVE ORANG-OUTANG OR GORILLA FOR ANCESTOR

Instead of Searching for Single Ancestral Ape Type, It Is Necessary to Find Four.

London, July 22.—A man may have a gorilla, a chimpanzee, an orang-outang or a gibbon for an ancestor, according to Dr. F. Melchers, a German biologist. In an article on the descent of man, published in the Zeitgeist, Dr. Melchers presents a new theory, the essence of which is that mankind is divided into four great race groups, each of which is descended from one of four race groups of anthropoid apes.

Dr. Melchers ascribes the difficulty hitherto met in solving the missing link problem and filling the gap in the later descent of man to the attempt to trace the human races to one parent stock. This, he says, is due to the Old Testament story of a single race surviving, and impressing itself on modern evolution theories.

Instead of sarching for a single ancestral ape type it is necessary to find four, of which the above named are representatives. Basing his argument on a large number of physical peculiarities both of men and apes, Dr. Melchers classifies men and apes in the following relations:

From a gorilla type are descended the race which he calls West Congo-Guinea-Sudan-negro, the Bantus and the Zulus, the last two being mixed races, and also the fair-haired and red-haired northern races, including the Finns.

From the chimpanzee descend bushmen, Lapps, Berbers, some Turanian races, Iberians and southern Europeans.

The orang-outang is the ancestor of Tasmanians, Australians, Papuans, short-headed south Germans, all the races known as Mongolian as well as Malays, Polynesians and Iberians, descend from the gibbon.

Dr. Mechers contends that each of these groups has differentiating physical peculiarities which correspond exactly to the physical peculiarities of the ape with which he classes it.

CHINA ADOPTS FRENCH SYSTEM OF EXECUTION

Death by Torture Abolished—Degrees of Death Penalty Reduced to Four.

Peking, July 22.—The first guillotine to be employed in China has arrived here from France. It will be set up inside the new prison. According to recent regulations execution will no longer be public.

Penalty of death, as laid down in the old code, had six degrees—death by torture, immediate decapitation and exhibition of the head, immediate decapitation without exhibition of head, decapitation after some months' immediate hanging, and hanging after some months.

According to the new code the death penalty is in four degrees—immediate decapitation, deferred decapitation, immediate hanging, and deferred hanging.

The advantage to the condemned person of a deferred execution consists in the fact that every year a list of names of those under sentence of death is submitted to the emperor and under the names of such as are to be executed he draws a red circle. The others escape for that year, but must take their chances the next year, and every successive year, when the same formality is gone through with as part of the sovereign.
