PROVINCIAL POLICE SEARCHING FOR BLAKES

Men Missing for Ten Weeks Feared to Have Been Drowned at Pitt Lake.

Having become thoroughly alarmed at the continued absence of the two Blakes, who have been missing for upwards of ten weeks, the provincial police yesterday sent out a search party to try and find out what has become of them. Constable Hutchinson is in charge of the party.

The boat which was found here about a week ago and which was thought to be the one which John Scott, of Pitt Meadows, had lent to the missing prospectors, has been identified as belonging to some one else and Mr. Scott is still without his boat.

The party will make a thorough search along the shores of Pitt lake. If the men have been drowned it is expected that their bodies will be recovered, and if they have been lost in the bush after they left the lake, the police will probably find the boat where they left it before entering the mountains.

The present expedition is equipped to go no farther than Pitt lake, but if nothing is found inquiries will probably be prosecuted further.

The two men started out about ten weeks ago and were only supplied for a short stay in the woods. Their friends fear that disaster has overtaken them.

PLOT AGAINST RULER

Chinese Revolutionists Seek Life of Prince Regent.

Victoria, Aug. 5.—News was brought by the steamer Kumeric, arriving yesterday from the Orient, that much alarm has been occasioned at Pekin by the discovery of revolutionary plots aimed at the assassination of the prince regent.

Bombs have been shipped as merchandise from Japan. The palace guards arrested a supposed revolutionist lurking in the palace, and the following day found a threatening letter wrapped about a dagger which had been thrown over the wall addressed to the prince regent, stating he would be killed unless a payment was granted.

Guards of soldiers have been sent to residences of each Chinese minister.

From Shantung, news of disturbances were brought. Following the failure of the crops there was a rising at Taiyang and 2,000 troops were sent to suppress the rioters, while Germany sent a cruiser to Hai Yang, the nearest accessible port, and the German railroad is conveying China's troops to the neutral zone. Other disturbances are also reported from Yunnan and Anhui and Kwangsi provinces.

FAVOR DECIMAL SYSTEM.

Australian House Will Ask Its Adoption in Empire.

Melbourne, Aug. 5.—The house of representatives by a vote of 35 to 2 adopted the resolution endorsing the idea of the adoption of the decimal system in Australia, and decided to endeavor to secure the approval of the Imperial conference for the adoption of the system in the Empire.

Grave allegations involving government officials are made in connection with the operation of a syndicate which assisted in the Victorian government's land purchases in the Cohuna irrigation district.

CARDINAL SAILS AUGUST 26.

Papal Legate Will Attend Eucharistic Congress at Montreal.

Rome, Aug. 5.—Cardinal Vannutelli sails August 26 on the Empress of Ireland to attend the Eucharistic congress which convenes in Montreal on September 5. The suite includes Prince Ferdinand de Croy, Monsignor Sante Tampieri, two papal private chamberlains of cape and sword, Thomas Kelly, of New York, and Lemoyne de Martguy, a Canadian generally residing in France, who was appointed as the pontiff desired to give Canada the honor of being represented in the suite of his legate.

PARENTS JAILED FOR TORTURING LITTLE SON

Chicago, Aug. 5.—Humane agents, acting on an anonymous communication from neighbors, forced their way into a dark room in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Lang and found their six-year-old son, trembling and emaciated, chained to the wall with a heavy dog chain. The parents were arrested. Neighbors assert the boy has been punished so much he crawls on all fours to his parents when they call him and has spent a large portion of his life chained to the wall of a dark room.

Freight Train Runs Away.

Scranton, Pa., Aug. 5.—Two trainmen were killed and two others are missing as the result of a freight wreck today on the Deleware, Lackawana & Western railway at Analimink, west of Stroudsburg. The train ran away while going down the Pocono mountain. Nearly all of the sixty cars are said to have been derailed and the wreckage took fire.

BUSH FIRE REPORTED CLOSE TO WHITE ROCK

District Affected Contains No Valuable Timber—Blaze Not Considered Dangerous by Timber Officials.

A bush fire was reported yesterday on the line of the Great Northern between White Rock and Crescent. The crown timber office received a phone message to that effect and notified the fireranger stationed at Elgin that the fire had been reported, but last night nothing further could be learned about the blaze.

There is very little valuable timber around Crescent and all of what there is does not come under the jurisdiction of the crown timber office, and the officials at the crown timber office do not regard the fire as serious.

Another fire has been reported from Silver creek on Harrison lake but particulars as to the extent and exact location of the blaze have not been forthcoming.

The fire at Port Moody is still smoldering, but unless there is a windstorm it will hardly prove dangerous as it is now burning in a comparatively barren tract of country.

NO COPPER COMBINATION.

Denial Made of Reported Guggenheim-Amalgamated Alliance.

New York, Aug. 5.—The persistent report of an alliance between the Amalgamated and Guggenheim copper interests, designed to bring about an adjustment in the copper market between production and consumption, was flatly denied today by John F. Ryan, president of the Amalgamated Copper company. "There is no ground for any such report," said Mr. Ryan, who had just returned from Europe. He spoke of the foreign copper situation, saying that the European stocks of copper were below normal and the consumption increasing at an amazing rate in France and Germany.

Campbellton People Again Afflicted.

Campbellton, N. B., Aug. 5.—A wind and rainstorm today wrecked tents and soaked beds and couches and the people are discouraged anew.

SCOTLAND YARD WATCHES OVER MONARCHS OF SPAIN

Alfonso and Victoria Will Be Shielded From Anarchists and Revolutionists While Visiting England.

Southampton, Aug. 5.—The local police, augmented by special detectives from Scotland Yard, are taking every precaution to protect King Alfonso and Queen Victoria of Spain from possible attack by agents of the Spanish revolutionists or anarchists. Scotland Yard men will accompany their majesties to Cowes, where the royal couple intend spending a few weeks.

The king and queen of Spain came ashore last night. A high tide and a strong wind caused a collision of tenders on which they were being taken ashore. For a time there was considerable excitement, but no one was injured.

COOK GETS SOUP BATH AS TUG HITS WHALE

Seattle, Aug. 5.—The tug Goliah, of the Puget Sound Towboat company, collided with a while yesterday afternoon. The contact with the leviathan made the vessel shiver, tumbled Captain "Buck" Bailey off the bridge and scalded the cook, who was drenched in a shower of hot soup which was sent flying all over the galley. News of the event, which was sent in by the United Wireless, stated that while passing Flattery rock at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, they ran down the whale, which was asleep. The mammal, so rudely awakened, disappeared in a swirl of water and his injuries could not be ascertained. There were a number of whales seen in the vicinity. The Goliah was undamaged.

PLANS OF JAPANESE FORTIFICATIONS FOUND

Victoria, Aug. 5.—Much excitement was occasioned at Osaka, shortly before the Kumeric left Kobe, owing to the discovery of 2,000 maps of fortification zones in Japan, documents relating to the manufacture of shimose power and other military secrets under the floor of the house of Captain Naguchi, a retired artillery officer, who was arrested on July 14 at Changchun, Manchuria. He is said to have been on his way to St. Petersburg to attempt to sell the papers.

URGES NEW OFFICIAL.

Wants Imperial and Foreign Postmaster for Great Britain.

London, Aug. 5.—Henniker Heaton is urging the appointment of an "imperial and foreign postmaster," whose first duty should be to convene a meeting of European postmasters-general with a view to abolishing the political frontiers for postal telegraph and wireless communications between the countries of the world.

STEAMER PRINCESS MAY IS WRECKED IN NORTHERN WATERS

Crew and Passengers Landed Safely—Pilot Richardson in Charge When Vessel Crashed Into Reef on Sentinel Island—Wireless Sent Out Distress Call.

Juneau, Alaska, Aug. 5.—The Canadian Pacific steamship Princess May, which left Skagway, Alaska, southbound for Vancouver at nine o'clock last night with eighty passengers and and a crew of sixty-eight, struck the north reef of Sentinel island at four o'clock this morning in dark and foggy weather and in a smooth sea, and sank two hours later.

Passengers Taken to Lighthouse.

All the passengers and their baggage were taken to the lighthouse on Sentinel island, whence they will be brought to Juneau tonight by a steamer which has gone to their relief.

The lightkeeper did everything in his power to make the castaways comfortable.

No One Injured.

None of the passengers or crew were injured.

A boat's crew of six was picked up by a fishing launch and brought to Juneau. Later a second boat's crew, with Pilot Richardson on board, arrived.

Will Be Total Loss.

The members of the crew who are here say that the steamship will be a total loss, the bottom being torn open so that it will be impossible to raise the vessel.

Captain Standing by Ship.

Captain Macleod and a number of the crew will stand by the ship.

At the time of the accident Captain Macleod was in his berth and Pilot Richardson was on the bridge.

Perilous Stretch of Water.

The approach to Sentinel rock, at the southern end of Lynn canal, is one of the most perilous stretches of water in Alaska.

A ship must clear Rocky island on both sides, the smallest variation from the course entailing disaster.

Canal Is Narrow.

The walls of the canal are precipitious and the waterway deep and in many places narrow.

Sentinel island, situated about four miles north and east of Shelter island, is the key to the narrow passageway by Shelter island.

This passage is strewn with reefs and at some points is less than half a mile in width.

Sentinel island is a jagged rock about 250 yards long and with long, toothlike reefs projecting at the north and south ends.

Pilot Richardson, who arrived here late today, said that the Princess May struck the reef at two o'clock this morning.

Haze Hung Over Water.

"We were going at a twelve-knot speed," he said, "and owing to the haze which hung over the water it was difficult to see far ahead and the rocks were not visible until were were almost upon them and it was too late to avoid disaster. Every effort was made to keep the ship off the reef, but it struck head-first and sank in two hours."

Officers on Wrecked Steamer.

The officers of the Princess May are Captain J. Macleod, Pilot J. Richardson, Chief Officer A. Slater, Second Officer A. Robson, Chief Engineer McGraw, Second Engineer J. Howell, Chief Steward W. H. Roland, Second Steward H. Finlayson, Purser C. Ironsides, Freight Clerk V. Sortwell.

Once Boarded by Pirates.

Victoria, Aug. 5.—Steamship Princess May is a single bottom vessel, a steel twin screw steamer of 1 394 tons, built in 1888 for the late Viceroy Chang Chih Tung, of China, as the Haiting, and used with a sister vessel between Kongkong and Formosa. While on the route she was boarded by pirates and a number of passengers killed on board. She changed hand a number of times, being known as the Ningchow, Cass, Arthur, when at Hongkong, where she was bought ten years ago by the Candian Pacific railway for the Skagway run.

Princess May Known Here.

The steamer Princess May is well known to New Westminster people, many of whom were also well acquainted with the officers and members of the crew. On Wednesday of last week the Princess May was under charter to the Citizens picnic committee, taking about seven hundred New Westminster residents for an excursion to Victoria.

No Local Men Aboard.

As far as could be ascertained, there were no New Westminster people on board yesterday morning when the vessel sank off Sentinel island. Alderman C. A. Welsh and Mrs. Welsh, Alderman J. B. Jardine, Sheriff Armstrong C. S. Richmond and other well known New Westminster people are at present holidaying in Alaska, but advices received a few days ago were to the effect that they would not leave on the return trip for about a week; therefore, it is unlikely any of them were on board the ill-fated steamer.

Scene of Other Wrecks.

The point at which the Princess May met her fate probably is better known and feared more than any others presenting dangerous barriers to a ship's passage through the northern inland passage. It was in this vicinity that two of the most terrible disasters in the history of Alaska shipping, the loss of the steamships Clara Nevada and Islander, occurred.

Description of Vessel.

The Princess May, 1800 tons, is a twin screw vessel, 250 feet long, 34 feet beam and 18 feet depth, and is constructed of steel. Her engines are of the triple expansion type, and develop 2500 horsepower.

The Princess May has seventy-eight cabins, with single upper and double lower berths, and can provide separate beds for 156 passengers. The cabins are all spacious, and are steam heated and electric lighted. A large number of them open on the promenade deck.

The large observation room, situated well forward on the promenade deck, gives the passenger the alternative of sitting inside and viewing the passing scenery or seeing it from the deck.

The smoking room, on the after promenade deck, is finished in oak, and on the saloon deck an extensive social hall has been reserved for the convenience of passengers, and the dining room, on the main deck, is most attractive and spacious.

Before entering the C. P. R. service the Princess May was running on the China coast under the name of the Ha-Ting. Shortly after she entered the British Columbia coast service she piled up in Bull passage, but on the whole she has been a lucky ship, and Captain Macleod, the skipper, is well known as a most careful navigator. The May is the best known vessel on the Skagway run and had a fine turn of speed.

BOY PLAYS DETECTIVE AND TRAILS SLAYERS

Youngster Sixteen Years Old Locates Accused Murderers Before Notifying Police.

San Francisco, Aug. 5.—Trailed through the Italian quarter by sixteen-year-old Salvatore Ballistero, a cousin of Mario Ballistero, who yesterday was killed in a revolver battle on Fisherman's wharf, Pietro Mirano and Virzanzo Padone were captured today by the police and charged with the murder.

The pair disappeared immediately after the shooting, in which fifteen shots were exchanged, and Salvatore and Pietro Ballistero, brothers of the dead man, were wounded. The youthful cousin took up the pursuit by himself, as the detectives failed to find the fugitives, and after trailing them all night, located them in a house in the quarter. He notified the police but the officers were refused admittance and the men were captured only after the house had been surrounded and as they were attempting to escape through a window.

WOMAN NURSES ARMY OF PET RATS IN STREET

Five Hundred Imported Rodents, With Owner, Evicted From Apartment, Under Care of Big Policeman.

St. Louis, Aug. 5.—While nearly 500 white rats, large and small, squeaked in their cages, Miss M. C. Metzger, owner of the animals, who had just been evicted from the second floor premises at No. 1704 Franklin avenue, patrolled the sidewalks late yesterday afternoon and with the assistance of two patrolmen, protected her pets and household goods. Some of the little animals had been killed and wounded during the removal to the station, and Miss Metzger, indignant at the usage they had received, busied herself nursing the injured ones and preparing bread and milk for their supper.

The rats, which attracted a large crowd of the curious, requiring continual moving on from the officers, are not of the common garden variety, but of imported strains, according to Miss Metzger. Most of them are Japanese and Persian animals, and there are some of the Chinese variety. All are pure white, except the Chinese, which have a broad black stripe running down the middle of their backs.

OLD MAN IS FOUND DEAD IN SHACK WHERE HE LIVE

John Moon Dies Alone on Thirteenth Street—Inquest Will Be Held Today.

The police were notified yesterday that an old man, John Moon, had been found dead in his shack on Thirteenth street. Moon is an old man and at the beginning of the week he had appeared in the police court a couple of times on a charge of being drunk. He was found dead in bed yesterday with a bottle of whisky at his side.

Moon's pipe, which he had been smoking just before he died, set fire to a blanket on the bed, a small patch being burned.

Little is known of Moon here. He lived alone, and so far as is known he had no wife or children in the province.

The remains have been taken to Murchie's parlors and an inquest will be held there today.

ODD DEFENSE MADE BY ROAD IN DAMAGE SUIT

Walla Walla, Aug. 5.—Alleging that obeying an order of the court would be a violation of the interstate commerce law, the Oregon Railroad & Navigation company will carry the case which yesterday was decided in favor of B. L. Kidwell, allowing him $150.50, to the United States supreme court. The amount is too small to be carried into the state supreme court and consequently must be taken to the highest tribunal in the land.

The case arises from the fact that Kidwell, when he ordered a forty-foot car in which to ship a load of mules from Iowa to this city, was given a forty-eight-foot car and charged the additional amount for the larger car. He refused to pay, claiming he ordered a small car and was not responsible for the company's action. Judge Brents holds he is in the right, but the railroad company says that to pay the money would be rebating and against the federal statutes. It will be carried through as a test case.

"PIERRE OF THE PLAINS" WAS DECIDED SUCCESS

Harold Nelson Proved Capable Actor in Last Night's Presentation at Opera House.

It is too bad that Manager Harry Tidy was not fortunate enough to secure the Harold Nelson company earlier in the season, for last night's house was entirely unworthy of the production of "Pierre of the Plains," which is one of the best, if not the best, of the shows that have been seen in the opera house for many months.

The acting of Harold Nelson, who portrayed the part of a French half-breed, who, although educated, and in every sense of the term a strong man, had been kept below his proper sphere in life by race prejudice and unfortunate parentage, was splendid. He did not overdo his dialect, but his costume was a little unusual for the Canadian prairie, where the scenes were supposed to take place.

How Pierre mastered seemingly insurmountable obstacles and killed several men to help the girl he loved was told in the play without the audience being aware that anything particularly melodramatic was being enacted which is intself a feat to be proud of.

The other star of the play, Miss Grace Johnson, who acted the part of the heroine who found that the loved the right man at the right time, acted well a difficult part and won rounds of applause by her artfully simple efforts. She forebore from hysterics, which should win her lasting fame in an age of dramatic shrieks and sobs.

The finer parts of the piece were somewhat spoiled by the use of the orchestra to accompany all the thrilling passages. The music was all right, but entirely unnecessary. Why anyone should think it essential to play a tune while one is speaking of one's mother, no matter how evil a life the latter has led, is a question for the initiated to solve, but to the interested listener the practice causes only a sensation of annoyance.

Altogether, the show was remarkably good and those who were unfortunate enough to be absent probably missed the best show of the season.

HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR SLAYING OF FRIEND

Seattle, Aug. 5.—Captain W. P. O'Brien, a sea captain for twenty-three years on the Pacific coast, was held responsible today by a coroner's jury for the death of his friend, Alexander Smith, aged fifty-nine, who was shot by O'Brien last Monday night while Smith was trying to meddle in a quarrel between O'Brien and his wife.

The evidence showed that Smith, who had lived as a boarder in the O'Brien home for years, tried to pacify O'Brien, who had been drinking, and O'Brien drove him from the house and fired a shot that struck Smith in the leg, resulting in his death later on the operating table.

DENIALS FOLLOW CHARGES OF BRIBERY

Jake Hamon Swears He Did Not Attempt to Influence Senator Gore With Gold.

Muskogee, Okla., Aug. 5.—With Senator Thomas O. Gore reasserting his charge that he had been offered a bribe of $25.000 or $50,000 to influence his action in congress, and with Jake L. Hamon, accused by the senator of having offered the bribe, denying he had ever done any such thing, the investigation of the Oklahoma Indian lands by a committee of the house of representatives today simmered down to a mass of denials.

For four hours Hamon, former chairman of the Oklahoma republican state committee, entered a denial as to his alleged relation with what are known as the McMurray contracts, by which, according to Senator Gore, $3,000,000 or ten per cent of $30,000,000 to be realized from the sale of Indian lands to a New York syndicate, was to be diverted from the Indians in the shape of "attorneys' fees."

Among Hamon's denials, were the following:

Tthat he had ever been closeted with Senator Gore at Washington to urge the approval of the contracts.

That he had ever mentioned Vice President Sherman, Charles Curtis, of Kansas, or Congressman B. S. McGuire, of Oklahoma, as being "interested" in the contracts as charged by Senator Gore.

That he had ever spoken of a bribe to anybody in connection with any legislation, and particularly that interested in the McMurray contract.

SPOKANE BUILDING GUTTED BY FIRE

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 5.—The anniversary of Spokane's great fire, twenty-one years ago yesterday was the date for another big fire. During the night fire broke out in the wholesale and retail book and paper building of John W. Graham & Co., and when it was extinguished early this morning, $150,000 had gone up in smoke.

The flames drove half a hundred occupants of an adjoining hotel into the street in their night clothes. Explosion of oil on the third floor of the Graham building made the firemen's work hazardous, and they were driven back repeatedly.

AN ALL-ROUND ROAST.

Saturday Sunset Speaks Openly on Rowdyism on Lacrosse Field.

The incident following the lacrosse meet at Westminster last Saturday is to be regretted, for disgusting fights have not a healthy effect upon any game, says today's Saturday Sunset. They may cause a moment's merriment for the more hot-headed and irresponsible supporters of a team, but to the spectator who goes to the park with the expectation of seeing an exhibition of skill they are repugnant and repelling in the extreme. Hangers-on cannot keep any sport up to the standard demanded by common decency so that the sooner legislation is enacted to eliminate the prizefight element in the game the better.

The fact that Longfellow and Howard decided to wait until the conclusion of the game was probably to some extent commendable, but at the same time it did not relieve the police of Westminster from responsibility and both players should have been placed under arrest. Players who fight on the lacrosse field should be shown no more consideration than the commonest toughs who scrap on the streets and they are hustled off to the lock-up fast enough when they show enough indiscretion to vex the hand of the law. If more players were forced to face a police court judge there is reason to believe that many of the scenes which now disgrace the game would never be enacted. Lacrosse may not be the gentlest game on the calendar but the police have much in their power to make it at least a gentleman's game.

Responsibility also rests on the heads of the associations which govern the play in the different leagues. While it may be argued that they had no jurisdiction in the incident on Saturday last the fact must not be forgotten that the affair had a damaging effect on the game and as the association has the good of the game at heart it will take some acrobatic specialties before they can surmount this incident. Associations could do much to wipe out dirty work in lacrosse, but with representatives of different teams waiting for the other to make a move fans are no doubt billed for a long wait before anything is done. If associations were not biased and were really sincere in their desire to see clean play the ruffians who disgrace lacrosse could be legislated out of the game in a season.

NEW YORK IS SAVING VANISHING BUFFALO

Small Herd in American Metropolis Has Helped to Preserve the Species.

New York, Aug. 5.—That to New York is due in large measure the saving of the American buffalo from extinction seems almost absurd, but it is a fact nevertheless.

The herd of domesticated buffaloes that has had the greatest prosperity, that has remained the healthiest and that sent the finest bunch of recruits to the new reservation in the Wichita forest, is the New York zoological park herd. It was in this city that the work of saving the buffalo was mapped out by the zoological society. Now it appears that the devastation of the remaining animals has been stopped and that the creatures will be saved for future generations. The growth of private preserves throughout the country is a decided agent for the ultimate saving of the buffalo, since no one who has a great game preserve nowadays seems to think his collection of semi-wild animals is complete unless he has a few buffaloes.

J. P. Morgan, in establishing his new western ranch, has decided that he will have a large herd of buffaloes, and has made arrangements to care for them in the most scientific manner.

The herd in the New York zoological park continues to multiply from year to year and it becomes necessary every now and then to thin it out by exchanging a few for other animals. Even Central park has done this. It is believed that the utimate fate of the buffalo will be to become thoroughly domesticated, as the animal has a ready money value for food and for its hide and hair. But the chief reason why zoologoists hope it will ultimately be domesticated is that the buffalo is easy to rear if properly understood.

It has been proved that where there is plenty of grazing ground the buffalo will hustle for himself, growing fat where ordinary cattle would starve or freeze. He has a warm coat and a digestion that enables him to pick up a living where cattle could not. Briefly stated it costs $70 to rear a buffalo. At maturity he is worth $300.

Extermination of the English sparrow, desired by naturalists for the reason that these birds have in large measure driven out the native song birds, may soon be accomplished, it having been discovered that "sparrow potpie" equals some of the game food served at fashionable cafes.

Advance in the cost of living is responsible for the adoption of the English sparrow as a food. When the prices of fresh meats reached a point prohibitive to the poorer classes, the suggestion was made that the sparrow as an edible bird possessed merit worthy of consideration.

Experiments in serving the sparrow were made with the result that sparrow potpie became popular, and attracted attention of restaurants and cafe proprietors who discovered that the bird could be served not only in the potpie form, but on toast and in other ways, not under the name of sparrow on the menu, but with some high-sounding French title. The dish pleased patrons and at once established its popularity and success.

As a result of the popularity of the new dish, it is said that the great droves of English sparrows that have for years been a public nisance in all of the large cities are being killed in large numbers, the flesh of the birds having a market value which will contribute to their extermination.

Those who have partaken of the sparrow potpie and sparrow on toast, say it is equal to the reed bird, the difference in the flavor of the meat of the two birds being imperceptible even by epicurians.

The chefs of the local hotels and cafes, while not admitting that the sparrow is being served at their tables, say they can see no reason why an English sparrow should not be as good eating as many of the standard game birds popular with diners. It was said that while the birds are a little larger than the reed bird, they are tender, and possess a good flavor.

LARGEST NEWSPAPERS DEPLETE FORESTS

Glasgow, Aug. 5.—In his presidential address to the annual conference of the Society of Chemical Industry recently, Mr. Reman, principal of the Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, made a severe attack upon Sunday newspapers.

Speaking of the conservation of the forest in North America, he said they were being rapidly and ruthlessly destroyed, and that the manufacture of wood pulp paper made cruel inroads on them.

"This drain," he continued, "is perhaps, largely the result of a depraved state of mind on the part of the people who seem to delight in masses of trash served up in the form of daily newspapers, and especially Sunday newspapers.

"I wish I could avoid this subject. I am filled with shame when I think of it, but this depraved state of mind is so closely connected with the forest problem that honesty compels me to mention it.

"There are many newspapers, even Sunday newspapers, in the United States, which exerts a wholesome influence, but besides these there are others which tend only to lower the morals—and mental condition of their readers.

"The point is that these are the largest in size and circulation, and they, therefore, affect the forest problem most seriously."

SEDITION IN INDIA IS SUBJECT OF MANIFESTO

Outspoken Document Reviews conditions and Suggests Remedies.

Calcutta, Aug. 5.—What may be regarded as a manifesto on sedition has been issued by the government of India. It takes the form of a letter, couched in vigorous and outspoken terms, from the secretary of the home department to the chief secretary to the government at Bengal, and the last named official has followed the matter up by issuing an explanatory circular to all the gazetted officers in that province. The principal document sets out to review some of the causes of the prevalent sedition and to suggest certain remedies. In the first place, the opinion is expressed that this spirit of disaffection is confined, with few exceptions, to the literate middle class. In the main it is an "intelligent sentiment, founded on material grievances." Persons engaged in propagating Nationalist views are regarded broadly as falling into two divisions. The first class, in the government view, "consists of those who desire autonomy but seek to obtain it by such methods as passive resistance and the continual sapping of the foundations of loyalty by means of attacks in the press, on the platform, and on more private occasions. The members of this branch of the party of disaffection are not ordinarily prepared to advocate a resort to violence, though many of them secretly sympathize with outrage and assassination, and all alike are unwilling to assist in the suppression of political crime."

Terrorism.

The second class, it is set forth, comprises "those who advocate and practice the methods of terrorism, directed not only against public servants, European and Indian, but also against all persons who come forward and assist the cause of justice with information or evidence. These active revoltionaries are most prominent in Bengal, Eastern Bengal, and Bombay. Their movement has spread to the central provinces and Berar and to the Punjab, and is found even in some of the native states. It has made but little headway in the United Provinces and Madras, but there are danger spots in both of these provinces which require very careful watching. Between the two classes thus indicated there exists a close connection, and the persistent preaching of sedition creates favorable recruiting ground for the party of revolutionary violence, while there are "some reasons for suspecting that the real leaders of the party of violence conceal themselves under the cloak of moderate opinions.

Holding that the majority of the advocates of Nationalism have been misled by shallow arguments and prejudiced statements, the governor-general urges that the remedy is to be found in a much more thorough attention to the problem in all branches of the administration.

The circumstances of the time require that every officer of the government should do his best, each in his own sphere, to combat misrepresentation and to remove misapprehension regarding the character and results of British rule. The task of fighting sedition cannot be left to the district officer alone. The greatest responsibility must always lie upon him, but officers of other departments are equally under an obligation to suppress sedition within their own sphere of duty, and the governor-general in council is convinced that he can rely upon their ungrudging and hearty cooperation.

A MODERN CRUSOE.

Man Lived Over Two Years on an Uninhabited Island.

London, Aug. 5.—Incidents similar to the adventures of Robinson Crusoe were described in the probate court when the president (Sir Samuel Evans) was asked to presume the death of one John Willis Kirkaldy as having occurred in or since 1895. Mr. Powers said that Mr. Kirkaldy emigrated to the South Seas in 1885, and had no fixed abode. He traded in New Zealand and the Pacific Islands, and corresponded regularly with his mother and sister until 1892. In that year he was shipwrecked on an unnamed and uninhabited island of the Solomon group, where he remainded, much like Robinson Crusoe, for three years, when he was rescued by a chance vessel calling at the island for water. His lordship: Was there a man Friday?" (Laughter). Counsel: Yes, in the shape of a gentleman named Van Brun, of whom, however, nothing is known. After they were taken off the uninhabited island, continued counsel, the two went to New Zealand, when the correspondence between Mr. Kirkaldy and his family at home was resumed. He appeared to have suffered from ague contracted on the island, and from Auckland, New Zealand, where he was staying, he wrote saying: "I am a mere wreck of myself." From the Royal hotel, Sydney, New South Wales, Mr. Kirkaldy wrote saying that he was very ill, and that he had arranged to return to "Man Friday" (Mr. Van Brun), who was in New Zealand, and afterwards was going on "a big trading" in the Solomon Islands. Several letters were subsequently written to Mr. Kirkaldy, which came back through the dead letter office, and he had not since been heard of.

"HOLY GHOSTERS" AT SEA, HAVE NO PLACE ON EARTH

Fifteen Years Ago Leader Was College Baseball Player; Now he Dodges Man-Made Laws.

Boston, Aug. 4.—Somewhere out at sea the "Rev." Frank W. Sanford, worshiped as Elijah II., and self-styled Son of God, is drifting aimlessly about, wondering where on the dry earth he can land with his band of "sanctified" followers without being nabbed by the police.

He is wanted to answer civil suits to the tune of $150,000, and runs a good chance of going to jail the next time he sticks his head up.

And thus closes what may be the final chapter in the history of the "Holy Ghost and Us Society," a religious creed with a history that reads like a serio-comic drama.

Fifteen years ago Frank Sanford, a college ball player of some fame, had an "inspired" vision. Like most inspired visions, it disclosed an angel of the Lord in the foreground, with a background of fleecy clouds, gold-lined. The angel revealed to him the information that Sanford was Elijah, come to earth for a second time.

Sanford got a few followers, induced them to generously appropriate their funds for the "common good," and he built the Temple of Shiloh in Maine. Here the poorer of his followers were magnanimously allowed to do the work of tilling the ground, while Sanford and the more wealthy of his followers kept up appearances inside the temple.

Sanford likes to travel, and he got his followers to appropriate funds to fit out a private yacht, which he calls "The Kingdom," and in which he cruised about the world seeing the sights. He enjoyed it immensely.

In Jerusalem he deposited a few followers to guard the "Holy Ghost and Us" property there. They are still guarding and wondering how on earth they are ever going to get back to the good old U. S. A. Some more of the followers were on shipboard, and more of the faithful were back at Shiloh temple exercising themselves with prayers while their fields and gardens grew up to weeds.

But one nice dark night "The Kingdom" came as close to shore as she dared in the nature of things, landed a few boats, and took the faithful aboard.

Now they are all wondering where they can land to live unmolested by prosaic things like laws.

Sanford has been charged with serious crimes, and the whole "Holy Ghost and Us" movement has left behind it wasted wealth, abandoned land, stunted minds and broken hearts.

UNION LABEL 4

SATURDAY, AUGUST 6, 1910

MATTERS OF MOMENT.

The Trades and Labor council is evidently very much in earnest in regard to the Asiastic immigration question. This body is exceedingly desirous of placing its views before Sir Wilfrid Laurier upon his forthcoming visit to Vancouver, and has decided that in the event of the Liberal association not arranging an audience for it with the premier, to organize a demonstration in order to bring the matter to his notice. So far as the desire to stay the influx of Asiatics is concerned the general public will be in sympathy with the union, but the alternative method proposed for bringing the matter to the attention of Sir Wilfrid is altogether reprehensible. It may be that the demonstration is primarily intended to act as a means of compelling the Liberal association to give ear to the demands of the labor council, and secure an audience for them, but even so it is a highly improper way of attempting to gain such an end.

We are sure the Liberal association will be both axious and willing to assist the labor council in securing an interview and of aiding it, as far as may lay in its power, to obtain the desired attention to the question. But the Liberal association is not all powerful, and in the event of its failing to obtain the facility demanded serious complications and disastrous results might follow upon the union carrying its threat into execution. The regrettable circumstances connected with the last demonstration against Asiatics are still fresh in mind, and it would indeed be a sorry compliment to the first citizen of the state and a great statesman to incite the mob to disorder and create disturbances upon the occasion of his visit to the Terminal City. We hope, therefore, wiser counsels will prevail and that the labor council will, in any event, refrain from carrying the menacing part of its resolutions into effect.

Mr. Joseph Martin is most amusing when he is most serious. He seems just now to be supremely happy in his attainment of the position of representative for a metropolitan constituency in the Britsh house of commons. He never tires of talking about this seemingly wonderful circumstance, nor misses an opportunity of telling the people of British Columbia wha tan important factor he considers his position to be for Canada. Well, perhaps, to a certain extent, it is, if Mr. Martin will only use his position wisely and discreetly. But of course there are other Canadians sitting in the British parliament, who are no less well qualified to enlighten the members of that august body upon matters which may concern this dominion. Mr. Martin's presence at Westminster may, however, be useful if he will not get quite so excited when the political tide does not flow quite as he wishes, or consides it ought to do. If he can manage to restrain his aptitude to kick and jib whenever his views fail to recive the expected attention, then Canadians may, perhaps, feel a little "proud of the fact that he, as a Canadian, has been elected to the British parliament," as he said the other night—even though he is but one among the noble six hundred.

Apropos of the visit of Vice President Mann to this city, in connection with the arrangements for the new transcontinental line of the Canadian Northern railway, it is to be hoped the authorities will see to it that the station to be provided for New Westminster will be one of such a character as to be worthy the city. We have suffered a good deal from the bad impression created in the minds of visitors by the very poor and inadequate arrangements provided by the Great Northern in this particular, and steps should be taken in good time to ensure better treatment at the hands of the Mackenzie-Mann corporation.

COLUMBIA STREET

MARKET REPORT

There was a better attendance at last week's market than there was at the previous two or three, and on account of the large quantity of produce offered for sale, the prices especially of meats, showed a slight tendency to decline. Lamb lost a cent a pound, and mutton and veal also showed a slight effect of the competition among the venders.

As an offset to the falling off in prices of the meats, eggs advanced two cents a dozen in the wholesale price, under stress of heavy buying by Vancouver and local firms.

Many of the purchasers went to the market yesterday with the intention of securing some of the first fruit of the season, but most of them were disappointed. There were several boxes of apples brought in from Chilliwack, but most of them had been picked too soon and did not find favor with the purchasers. The poor stock found scarcely any sale, but the few good ones were snapped up almost as soon as they were placed on sale.

There were no plums or other fresh fruits to speak of. Yesterday probably saw the last of the raspberries. There was a large quatity offered for sale, but they were nearly all overripe and did not sell as well as they have been doing at the last couple of markets.

There was a fair supply and a good demand for beef, while the supply of mutton, which was fair, all sold out early in the day. Pork was not so plentiful and all sold at the old price of fifteen cents per pound. Veal also was brought in fair quantities, but the price declined slightly. Fowl, broilers, chickens and ducks, all attracted considerable attention from the buyers, and most of the stock was readily disposed of.

The supply of new potatoes was the best of the year, and the purchases were greater. The wholesalers and large consumers have now almost entirely disposed of their old stock and yesterday the new supply of tubers was strongly in demand. There was a good supply of cut and pot flowers offered for sale. The two bears which were brought from Port Haney the other day by Arthur Sears were sold for fifteen dollars each, but the demand was not great even at that price.

Your Opportunity

We have now placed on the market a limited amount of 50 per cent. paying stock of a conservative firm doing business in the City of New Westminster and Vancouver. The firm, wishing to extend their business to Prince Rupert, require more capital, and consequently this opportunity is given to the public to share in the profits of a safe and going concern, guaranteeing large profits to those who are fortunate enough to invest some of their surplus money. We feel that we are well within the mark in stating that the profits in the next three months will be 20 per cent. of the investment. It will pay you to call at our offices, at the corner of Columbia and Begbie streets, and investigate this proposition, as an opportunity of this kind has seldom, if ever, been offered to the citizens of New Westminster.

ALERTS WILL MAKE TRY FOR TOP OF LEAGUE TODAY

Baseball Game This Afternoon Will Decide Whether Maple Leafs Remain Leaders or Drop to Second.

Considerable interest centers on the baseball game today between the Maple Leafs and the Alerts. The Alerts seem to be the variable factor in the league. They lost consistently at first and then for a month no one could beat them. For the last few games they have been alternately good and bad, and in the last game with the Balmorals they displayed the best class of any team of the season.

The Leafs can always be relied on for good steady ball. Occasionally they disappear in the clouds and then again they do something brilliant, but as a general rule they play a steady game which wins if their opponents are at all erratic.

The game will start at three o'clock at Queens park. The umpire had not been decided on last night.

A win today will put the Alerts at the head of the league and the Maple Leafs will lose their position at the top rung of the ladder for the first time this season.

The Alerts will choose their team from the following players: Peele, Starr, Sinclair, Poupore, Reilly, Fitzgerald, Jamieson, Wickwire, Glass, Brown and McPhail.

TOO SOON TO HOLLER VICTORY FOR NATIONALS

Already certain people are beginning to estimate Nationals' chances on the coast. It would be well for these people to remember that the lacrosse season is just exactly half over. There is nothing more uncertain than this game, and the Frenchmen are not by any means out of the woods yet. Remember in 1907 how Tecumsehs had the championship tucked away by winning the first six games played?

Remember, too, how Shamrocks came along and destroyed those chances in that great 4 to 3 game at the Island? And how, in 1906, the four teams, Ottawa, Cornwall, Tecumsehs and Torontos, were tied up and playing until October 20, after it was thought that several other teams had it on ice? Well, that is liable to happen at any time.—Ottawa Journal.

JOHNSON TO HAVE BROOKLYN CASTLE

Blighter of Caucasian Hopes Buying Home on Gotham's Exclusive Heights.

New York, Aug. 5.—Residents of Brooklyn Heights, an exclusive section, where many wealthy New Yorkers have their homes, are in a turmoil over the announcement that Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, is negotiating for the purchase of a house in their midst. According to the real estate men, the deal was to have been closed yesterday, but Johnson was unexpectedly summoned to Chicago on account of an accident which befel his brother.

The price agreed upon is given as $62,500. The house, a three-story structure, is of pressed brick and stone, beautifully decorated and covered with ivy. Johnson announces that he intends to maintain the house "in a style corresponding to the prevailing fashion in Brooklyn's exclusive social community."

One of his nearest neighbors will be the Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis, successor to Henry Ward Beecher in the pastorate of the Plymouth Congregational church. Two justices of the state supreme court also live within a stone's throw, together with a score or more millionaire bankers, lawyers and business men.

JAPANESE HISTORIAN PREDICTS ANOTHER WAR

Victoria, Aug. 5.—Japanese newspapers received by the Kumeric publishes speeches by Takenokoshi Yosaburi, a noted Japanese historian, who predicts a collision between Japan and America as inevitable and urges immediate expansions of Japanese armaments. He holds that the collision will be precipitated when the lease of the South Manchurian railroad expires, when, he says, China will insist on the return of the railroad zone and America will support China.

HORSE SHOW HELD ON ATLANTIC LINER

New York, Aug 4.—The trip of the Atlantic line steamship Minnewaska, from London, just ended at this port, was enlivened by a horse show, the first of its kind ever held at high sea. The vessel was carrying a consignment of valuable horses, including some which will be exhibited at the international horse show in Chicago.

There were 226 horses on the Minnewaska. The owners of nearly all the animals were passengers, and the idea of holding a horse show came about when these men got together to talk horse. The idea took hold at once and the affair was held between decks on Friday. A ring was made with a short run to exhibit the gait of the entries. The judge was Edwin Hobson, an Illinois horse man.

The horse owners on board included Samuel Bell and William Bell, of Wooster, Ohio; Worth Dunham, of Wayne, Ill.; J. Hamilton and Mr. Hawthorn, Canada; E. Hobson, Clifton, Ill.; W. V. Lewis, Wayne, Ill., W. E. Pritchard, Ottawa, Canada, and J. G. Truman, of Bushnell, Ill.

Most noted of the horses aboard the Minnewaska was Shelford Pride, the winner of many prizes, owned by J. G. Truman. Truman brought over forty Shires, among them the noted Shire gelding Victor, which also is to be exhibited at the Chicago show.

Insure Your Livestock

For a small cost you can insure your horse, cow, or other livestock, against death from any cause in The British Empire Insurance Co., Ltd.

If you own a small house worth but a few hundred dollars, you would want it insured at once; yet that house can only be destroyed by fire, while your horse or cow may be lost to you by fire or from a hundred other causes.

Judging by the business already done by this company tends fair to make the insurance on each individual owner so small that anyone owning a horse or a cow can't afford to take the risk individually.

STRIKEBREAKERS' TROUBLE.

Thirteen Accused of Giving False Information.

Sarnia, Ont., Aug. 5.—Thirteen strikebreakers entered Canada and were arrested and put in jail. They appeared before Magistrate Gorman this afternoon and all pleaded guilty to the charge of giving false information and were remanded for sentence. It appears that they had been gathered in all the way from Minneapolis and Kansas City to Port Huron. It would appear that someone represented to them that the strike was over and they claim that they were deceived. They were supplied with the necessary money qualifications but had to pay it back after coming into Canada.

FULMINATES CHARGES AGAINST THE ARMY

W. R. Trotter Calls Salvation Army Commercial Organization Out for Profit

Edmonton, Alta., Aug. 5. — W. R. Trotter, organizer for the Trades and Labor congress, in an address delivered to a mass meeting Mechanics' hall on Thursday, made a vigorous appeal to the local trade organizations to identify themselves with the work of the congress and to secure the representation of the province at the forthcoming convention to be held in Fort William on September 10.

The audience was small, numbering less than forty persons, but close attention and a hearty reception was accorded to Mr. Trotter, who set before his hearers in a well-delivered address an account of the work and aims of the congress, which is an affiliation of all the trade organizations of the continent, endeavoring thus by united effort to realize such objects as are common to all.

The Canadian Manufacturers' association and the Salvation army were in temporary association as the objects together of a vigorous attack on the part of Mr. Trotter.

"The twofold purpose of the Canadian Manufacturers' association," said Mr. Trotter, "is, on the one hand, to raise the tariff walls, and on the other, to flood the country with labor, the one qualification of which shall be that it is cheap."

The Salvation Army was described by Mr. Trotter as "a commercial corporation, adopting the worst features of commercialism in order to get money."

"Col. Lamb admitted," said Mr. Trotter, "at a meeting of the congress in Halifax, at which he was present for the purpose of answering these charges against the organization which he represents, that the army was out for margins and were making money by this work."

Mr. Trotter claimed for the Trades and Labor Congress that it was instrumental in securing the recent legislation imposing restrictions upon immigration.

"At the present time we are on top in regard to immigration regulations," said Mr. Trotter. "The East End Emigration society, which is only one of forty-four societies existing in London at the present time, sent to Canada in 1906 four thousand people, and six thousand one hundred in 1907. In 1908 they were only able to send one hundred in consequence of the restrictions on the statute book."

The Central Emigration society of London came in for strong condemnation from Mr. Trotter. He read an appeal from the board of the society for funds to carry out the work of the organization in sending assisted emigrants to Canada.

"Now look at the composition of this board, which is supposed to be running a charitable emigration society," said Mr. Trotter, and proceeded to read a list of the members, which included the Duke of Sutherland, Lord Brassey and others having large property and commercial interests in this country. Having quoted from one of the local papers the statement that the Duke of Sutherland had large interests in coal lands in the west, Mr. Trotter remarked significantly: "There is a close connection between cheap labor and big profits."

"Land and loan companies are interested in running these emigration societies and appeal for funds in England to aid their work. It is one of the greatest hoaxes that was ever got up in the name of religion or anything else. They are little better than hyenas, feeding upon the poverty of the workers."

Mr. Trotter then read from the report of the central Emigration board the statement that the new regulations governing emigration were hampering their good work.

As an illustration of the effect of the new regulations Mr. Trotter stated that the Salvation army had collected in the past for one year alone no less than $5.304 in bonuses from the dominion government. "Under the new regulations," he said, "no bonus is given for assisted passages, and there were 300 assisted passages this year for which the army will receive no bonus."

Mr. Trotter condemned in the strongest terms statements concerning Canada published in England and misrepresenting labor conditions here.

"Pamphlets are issued by jerkwater towns upon the prairie," he said, "that would lead the reader to suspect that they are prospectuses for the development of the plains of heaven. Every year parties of journalists come to the country, being careful to leave before the snow arrives, and writing afterwards with partial knowledge of conditions, are responsible for misunderstanding which has its fruit in disappointed settlers, who return home and by their abuse of the country deter good settlers from coming.

"It is not necessary to tell lies about the Dominion of Canada. It is one of the finest countries on the face of the earth and it is sufficient to tell the truth about it."

Mr. Trotter closed with a strong appeal to the Edmonton labor organizations to interest themselves in the Trades and Labor Congress.

A NEW KING.

enna, Aug. 5.—The announcement Prince Nicholas, of Montenegro, he has decided that after August will assume the title of king in- d of Prince of Montenegro, will it is believed, further complicate Balkan situation and be ac- sced in not only by Austria, but he other powers as well.

fact, it is regarded as not at all improbable that the suggestion was made by Austria—unofficially, of course. It is firmly believed in high circles here that the ambitions of Ferdinand of Bulgaria look to a confederation of the Balkan states with himself as the head of the new empire. Austria does not regard such a confederation with favor and by strengthening states like Montenegro, she feels she is making the task of Ferdinand more difficult.

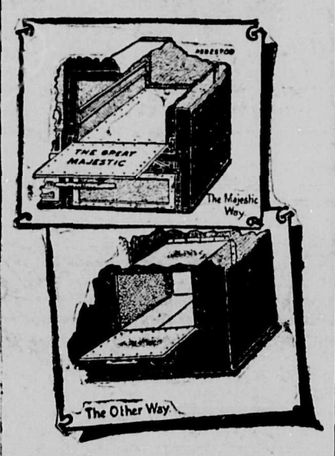
ADVERTISE IN THE NEWS

The Oven Of a Range



THAT a perfectly constructed, air-tight oven will bake better with half the fuel than a loosely constructed oven, is a fact beyond question. The Majestic oven is made of heavier material than any other, and is riveted (not bolted) to a malleable L or angle iron frame, making it absolutely air-tight. The oven in an ordinary stove or range is bolted or riveted to the range body, without bracing and without frames, allowing a knife blade to pass through corners and sides. It is natural that with an oven constructed in this manner, it requires twice the fuel, and not near as good results as can be obtained in any oven of a Majestic Range. The Majestic oven stays that way, too.

MINISTER WOULD ACT AS WATCHMAN

New York, Aug. 5.—After thirty years of work as a missionary in foreign lands, the Rev. A. H. Lambert, of the Methodist Episcopal church, is today awaiting replies to the following advertisement, which he placed in New York papers:

"Minister—Good standing, married, wants work; watchman or timekeeper preferred."

Two years ago Rev. Lambert came to the United States from South America, lured by the hope that he would be able to do "wonderful things in this wonderful country, but I found that missionaries are not sought here," he said, "and that the churches are over-supplied with pastors. I have three children and a wife to care for, and I must do something."

Lambert is a linguist of unusual ability, and he said that several of his temporary employers sought to take advantage of this by having him sell questionable stocks among foreign residents.

INTO THE UNKNOWN.

British Officer Unearths New Tribe in Sierra Leone.

London, Aug. 5.—Details are forthcoming of an interesting journey of nearly 4,000 miles from Sierra Leone to Algeria lately included by Captain A. H. Haywood, an officer serving in Sierra Leone. The journey, which was made by Captain Haywood for sporting purposes, and during his leave, was full of interest, and, so far as is known, has never been made before in its entirety, certainly not by an Englishman. Throughout his journey Captain Haywood traveled alone except for a servant, whom he sent home after reaching Algeria, and fourteen carriers, who were afterwards reduced to eight, and dispensed with during the desert journey, when camels were employed. From railhead Captain Haywood marched for a distance of 700 miles to Bamako, obtaining en route some excellent big game shooting. He also visited Kankan, a great rubber market with about ,000 people. Speaking of the source of the Niger, Captain Haywood says: "The country round is very mountainous, and very difficult going. At the time I was suffering from blood poisoning, and had to be carried in a hammock, which it was not possible to convey up the steep slopes. I did not, therefore, actually see the source itself, but remained at the little village of Manson, near by. The source of the Niger is at Tembikunde, about two miles further to the eastward. This is not a village, but simply a great rock from which issue five rivers, among them being the Niger. This rock is itself a distinguished feature of the Anglo-French frontier. On the western side the smooth face of the rock, 3,700 feet high, has inscribed on it the words, 'British Boundary,' while on the eastern side is written 'Frontiere Francaise.' The place is regarded with the greatest suspicion and fear by natives, the belief being that anyone seeing source of the Niger will be killed the devil who inhabits the rock. true that natives will reluctantly to the neighborhood as guides, but reaching the actual rock they backwards, covering their eyes their hands." Capt. Haywood, who not see a single Englishman between Sierra Leone and Algiers, spent six weeks elephant hunting in a lake trict, very sparsely inhabited by id pastoral nomads; and while suing a wounded elephant he got a mountain range inhabited by a of cave-dwellers, known as Ab These people, who are exclusive, dislike strangers, very rarely emerge from their mountain homes. were found to be much more prim than the surrounding tribes, and live in holes excavated in the hillsides.
