RAISE FUND TO SEND DELEGATE TO OTTAWA

Board of Trade Names A. E. White as Representative on Improvement Committee.

A. E. White, vice-president of the board of trade, Mayor Lee and Alderman J. J. Johnston will go to Ottawa to represent New Westminster on the delegation which will make a strenuous endeavor to have the government recognize the urgent need of improving the Fraser river.

At a meeting of the board of trade last night A. E. White was chosen, and at a meeting of the finance committee of the city council on Thursday afternoon Mayor Lee and Alderman Johnston were selected as the men the committee would recommend to the council as the proper delegates to make the trip to the capital.

The meeting last night was largely a discussion of what should be the attitude of the delegates when they reached Ottawa. Much of the discussion was of a technical nature relating to the soundings of the river and other things, but there is no doubt that A. E. White received some hints that will be useful to him when he makes the trip.

Mayor Lee suggested that previous to starting for Ottawa it would be well for all the delegates from New Westminster to go down the river on a boat and see for themselves the actual conditions. His suggestion was that they should take along with them someone, preferably Engineer Keefer, so that they could get some authentic information and know whereof they spoke when they appeared before the members of the cabinet.

When the delegation goes it will have at its disposal a mass of tabulated facts and figures relating to the depth of the water and they will be supplied by the different mills operating on the Fraser with data concerning the loss and inconvenience their industries suffer through the river not being put in proper shape.

Just what the delegation will press for is hard to conjecture at the present time, but it is probable that if it leaves from the government the definite assurance that the Le Baron scheme, or some modification of that scheme, is carried into effect they will be satisfied.

At last night's meeting it was decided to raise $500 to defray Mr. White's expenses. Of this $100 will be provided by the board of trade and the rest raised by private suscription. L. A. Lewis and W. R. Gilley were appointed to committee to endeavor to raise the funds.

A letter was read from J. D. Taylor, New Westminster's representative at Ottawa, that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his cabinet would be prepared to meet the delegation as soon as it arrived at Ottawa.

It is evident from the feeling displayed that the present delegation will go to the capital with a more determined idea of getting what it wants than any deputation which has ever invaded the east on the same mission.

D. S. Curtis favored the idea of sleeping on the job until that which was wanted was received. Mayor Lee followed up this suggestion, stating that the delegattion would not ask for what they wanted, but for what they must have.

The following is the personnel of the entire delegation as far as it has been chosen up to the present time: From Burnaby, Reeve Byrne and Councillor Rumble; South Vancouver, Reeve Pound, R. C. Hodgson; Point Grey, W. H. Higgins, J. G. Hutchinson; Westminster council, Mayor Lee and Alderman Johnston (subject to ratification by the council); Westminster board of trade, A. E. White.

STUDY TUBERCULOSIS.

Scholarships to Be Provided for University Students.

W. G. Gage has offered to provide five scholarships of $100 each, to be awarded to the students who make a special study of tuberculosis at the Muskota Cottage Sanitarium, Gravenhurst, Ont.

The object of these scholarships is for the purpose of extending the interest taken in the study of tuberculosis and of encouraging research work in this subject.

These scholarships have been offered to the students of the University of Toronto, and whilst it is not possible to take advantage of this scheme during the present session, it is hoped that next year arrangements will be made so that students may avail themselves of the provisions made and that they will take an active interest in competing for the prizes offered. The intention is that students should go to Gravenhurst and reside there for a specified time, in order that they may avail themselves of the clinical study of tuberculosis, but owing to the large number of final students in attendance at the university this year and because of difficulties in the time table, it was found impossible to make provision for the arrangement until next session.

RED CROSS STAMPS ARE SLOW IN COMING THIS YEAR

Little Stickers That Help Fight White Plague Are not Yet on Sale in Westminster.

This is about the time of the year that the Red Cross stamps are for sale in al stationery and drug stores. The proceeds from the sale of these stamps go to the Anti-Tuberculosis league, which has charge of distributing them in the different cities and towns. The movement is international and every year a large sum is realized in this manner.

Mrs. J. Stilwell Clute, president of the Anti-Tuberculosis league in New Westminster, when called up by the Daily News last night, stated that Dr. Fagen, of Victoria, had charge of the distribution of the stamps in British Columbia, but this year she had not heard from him in this connection. The stamps will be placed on sale as soon as they are received.

POSTELLO PROVES ALIBI IN HIGHWAY ROBBERY CASE

Hindus Swear Accused Is Guilty Party But Austrian Poles Give Contrary Evidence.

Conflicting evidence was the cause of the dismissal of a charge of robbery with violence brought against Adam Posetlo on the complaint of Sutjah Singh, which was finally closed yesterday in the police court before Magistrate Edmonds. Complainant and another Hindu swore that Postello was the man who assaulted and robbed Sutjah, but three compatriots of the accused, who is an Austrian Pole, testified that he was with them in the Cosmopolitan hotel at the time of the alleged robbery. Magistrate Edmonds held that accused had proved an alibi, and dismissed the case.

The remanded case of Thompson alias L. Campbell, on a charge of performing a bogus marriage ceremony, came up for trial yesterday. Accused pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and costs, with the alternative of three months' imprisonment. His friends paid the fine.

A vag was given two hours to leave town, and a drunk fined $2.50 and costs.

LIVED AND DIED TOGETHER

Two Inseparable Chums Died Within Two Hours' Time.

Port Arthur, Nov. 24.—Robert W. Parsons and Louis Hobbs, aged 31 and 27, natives of Kent, England, and constant chums since coming to Canada, took ill of typhoid fever on the same day at their boarding house, and died within a couple of hours of each other last night at the hospital.

BURGLARS REMOVE SAFE FROM SHOP AT LANGLEY

Yeggmen Use Explosive to Wreck Money Depository—About Three Hundred Dollars Secured.

One of the boldest burglaries that has ever been perpetrated in the district was pulled off at Langley on Thursday night when some men entered the butcher shop belonging to Mr. Guild, removed a heavy safe bodily from the building, took it across the street to a vacant space behind the city hall; blew the safe to pieces and decamped with a small amount of cash, some cheques and some valuable books, the whole loss amounting to about $300. The burglars also took a rifle from the shop.

At the time the safe was taken from the building there were people sleeping above, and the burglars must have done some neat work to get away in the manner they did.

A man who had been seen hanging around the locality for some days was arrested yesterday and will be brought to the city this morning. His name, or whether he had any of the stolen stuff in his possession when arrested, could not be learned.

The robbery is the second one that has occurred in Langley this week and the residents there are becoming alarmed. It is thought that the men responsible are strangers, but it seems a rather peculiar place for strangers to choose for carrying on such a precarious occupation.

Endless Fish Supply.

Melbourne, Nov. 25.—An investigation made by a federal fisheries' trawler has shown that the supply of fish in Australian waters is enormous. It is demonstrated that it is possible to place on the Melbourne market fish at the remarkably low price of two pence per pound.

PARDONED.

Victoria, Nov. 25.—Mail advices from Japan state that Lewes and Hill, two Englishmen imprisoned for life in Japan for having cast away the sailing ship Agenor on the Japanese coast in 1906, have been pardoned by the Emperor. Captain Hill is seriously ill.

SEATTLE'S INDEBTEDNESS.

Half Amount for Which City Can Be Bonded Is Now Reached.

Seattle, Nov. 25.—With the signing by Mayor H. C. Gill of a bill passed by the city council authorising the sale of municipal bonds to the amount of $1,567,400 for extending the city light system, park extension and various other improvements, the bonded indebtedness of Seattle is now $10,837,790.40.

By the terms of the charter and state statutes, this amount is about half the figure for which the city may be bonded. The new bonds will be offered for sale in December and it is believed that a high price will be obtained in view of the good offers made for bonds disposed of a few weeks ago.

NINETEENTH CHILD DIED FROM NEGLECT

Philadelphia, Nov. 25.—Coroner Ford is today investigating the allegation that Mrs. Anna Kelly, who is only thirty-five years old, but who is the mother of nineteen children, permitted her nineteenth to die through neglect and starvation. This Mrs. Kelly denies, although she admitted under examination, that she had been unable to properly care for the baby.

She protested against going to jail, saying that as she was the mother of nineteen she ought not to be prosecuted. "And Coroner Ford," she said, "as I am only thirty-five, I expect to have more children."

She was married at twenty and had a child every year since, and in four instances twins. Her husband is a driver for a local department store.

WILL MAKE ATTEMPT TO APPLY SCOTT ACT IN B. C.

Victoria, Nov. 25.—The official Gazette this week contains the proclamation of the vote to be taken on the Canada Temperance act, generally known as the Scott Act, in Prince Rupert and Chilliwack on December 14. J. Lorne McLaren is named as returning officer for Prince Rupert, and Henry Ashwell for Chilliwack. This is the first attempt that has been made to apply the Scott Act in this province.

The number of names appended to the petition asking that a vote be taken was twenty-four in Prince Rupert, and 149 in Chilliawck. The result of the vote will be proclaimed December 16.

In the event of the Scott Act being carried the law provides that license holders shall have at least three months to dispose of their stock. After the expiration of three months the law goes into force by proclamation and no repeal vote can be taken for three years.

BAT IS CONFIDENT.

Nelson Sure He Can Whip British Champion Owen Moran.

San Francisco, Nov. 25.—Even money choice with a man over whom he would have been a topheavy favorite one year ago, Battling Nelson, after many weeks of the "come back" cure, stopped training today and announced that after his fight with Owen Moran, the British lightweight, here tomorrow, he would be a candidate for a second engagement with Champion Ad Wolgast.

The former head of the lightweight list is confident of his ability to best Moran.

COLD BATHS MAKE ROSES STAND FROST

Andover, Mass., Nov. 25.—The next time Peary goes to the North pole he may take along a shoveful of dirt and make a bed of roses. The queen of the flower realm is not trellised there now, but there is a prospect.

M. F. D'Arcy, of this place, has a hundred bushes that are still blooming in his outdoor garden. One day last week a frost spread a lace work of ice crystals over the ponds of Andover, yet the hardy rose bushes put forth their frail buds of pink and white next day as if nothing had happened. Yet the place where they bloom is exposed to the sweep of the autumn winds.

There is no magic about it, Mr. D'Arcy explains. It is merely a new justification of the habit of daily cold bathing. These bushes get a shower bath of unwarmed water every morning before sunrise. This prevents the frost from harming them. Their owner says one can make roses bloom at any time of the year with proper care.

Mr. D'Arcy's rose bushes had two sets of blooms last year, the first starting in June and the blossoms of the second crop lasting until after Christmas.

ENTOMBED.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 25.—It is reported that nine men and a boy are entombed in a mine at Providence, Ky., and that efforts to take them out have been futile. A mine rescue car is being rushed to Providence from Lipton, Ind.

BOOM CONTINUES.

Sixty Minute Option Offered Transient at Coquitlam Yesterday.

The extent to which the real estate men at Coquitlam are pushing their business is almost unbelievable. A traveller who came through Westminster Junction yesterday stated that there must have been fifty or sixty real estate men on the station platform trying to pick up business.

One of these men approached the traveller and offered him an option on a certain piece of land for $150. This does not sound very startling, but when it is considered that the length of the option was one hour, it shows that there is something doing.

In all the history of real estate in British Columbia—and it has had many phases in many sections—it is improbable there ever was such a feverish condition as there is at Coquitlam at the present time.

A NOISELESS HOSPITAL.

Up-to-Date Institution to Be Built in Detroit.

Detroit, Nov. 24.—Detroit is to have the first complete modern "noiseless hospital" in the world. This was decided upon by the officials, physicians and benefactors of Harper hospital at their regular meeting held this afternoon. The enlarged hospital, which is made possible by a magnificent gift of $600,000 by four Detroit citizens, each of whom is to give $25,000 per year for six years, will supplant the old Harper hospital on the present site.

All of the six new buildings will be orientated north and south, a little to the west, so that each patient's room may have a great deal of direct sunlight during the day. The solariums, or sunbath rooms, will be on the south end of the building. The main, or administrative building will face the west.

In the new hospital there will be no car bells, no ringing of telephones, no scurrying about of messengers hunting up internes or nurses. All calls will be made not by bells, but by light signals. This system will be connected throughout the six buildings, scattered over the several acres of hospital grounds. On each floor in every hospital building will be a nurses' station conveniently and centrally located. At this station will be at least one nurse on duty constantly. Near these stations will be phone booths; also at each station will be a glass door cabinet built in the wall to contain a series of lights, each light having a number representing an interne. The lights in all these cabinets will be operated from a central cabinet located in the physicians' room in the administrative building. In every one of the 800 rooms of the new hospital will also be a call system of lights for patients. When a patient wishes to summon a nurse he presses a conductor held in the hand on the bed, and immediately a light showing the number of the room lights up in the cabinet at the nurses' station; also a little light comes on in the room at the head of the patient's bed, and no one can turn this light off except the nurse who comes to answer the call. This prevents noise and confusion, and will often preclude patients being left in danger.

Airing balconies and a roof garden, to which patients are often taken in their beds by specially planned elevators, are also on the plan. Another feature of the new hospital will be a new "out" patient department. This department will be one especially devoted to patients who are not sick enough to stay in the hospital, but sick enough to have scientific treatment such as a hospital can give. Persons may be patients in this department and yet be regularly employed in any part of the city, reporting to the hospital at stated times for treatment. This feature has been brought to its highest perfections by Dr. McIntosh at the celebrated infirmary in Scotland, of which he is the head.

HINDU VS. GREEK.

Wrestling Match on Monday Should Be Interesting.

Considerable interest is being aroused in the wrestling match which is scheduled to take place in the Eagles' hall on Monday night between Peter Bazukos, lightweight champion of Canada, and Amant Ram, champion wrestler of India. Whether either of the men is entitled to the designation is hard to say, but it is certain that they are both wrestlers of some merit and ought to put on a good match.

The Hindu weighs 160 pounds while his opponent weighs only 135. At a recent match at Millside the Hindu succeeded in disposing of the plucky Greek, but the latter is confident of turning the tables on Monday night.

The program will start at 8:30 o'clock and some good preliminaries are promised before the main bout.

STEAMER ON WAY TO COAST FORCED TO BURN FITTINGS

Selma, Bound from Liverpool to Victoria, Runs Short of Fuel Off Uruguay—Will Run North.

Victoria, Nov. 25.—Two new coasting steamers are coming to be added to the many vessels now engaged in the coastwise trade between Victoria, Vancouver and Prince Rupert and Stewart, one for the Northwest Steamship company, which operates the steamers Cetriana and Petriana, and the other the steamer Selma, which is expected early in December from Plymouth.

The Selma, which was formerly a British yacht, was bought by a syndicate of Liverpool men for the British Columbia coasting trade, and was last reported from Coronel on October 27, en route here.

She had a rough voyage. The steamer put into Monte Video on October 7, and reported having encountered heavy weather in the Atlantic from September 27 to 30, and was short of fuel when she arrived at the Uruguayan port.

Some of the woodwork and fittings of the vessel were burned to reach Monte Video. A survey was held at that port and repairs were effected. She was next reported on October 27, from Coronel.

IMPORTANT WATER CASE COMING UP FOR HEARING

Dispute as to Priority of Rights on San Jose River to Be Argued on Monday.

Victoria, Nov. 25.—Before the provincial board of water commissioners an important hearing is listed for Monday next. This is a despute as to the priority of rights in the water of the San Jose river that has arisen between J. P. Murphy, of the 141-Mile House, and the Order of Oblate Fathers, established for years past at St. Joseph's mission, Cariboo. Evidence herein was taken before the board at 150-Mile House in September last, an adjournment being taken to Kamloops, where the case again came up on October 12 to be still further adjourned to this city at a date to be fixed.

The arrangement for the hearing has latterly been awaiting agreement with counsel engaged, and it is believed that Monday will suit all concerned.

L. G. McPhillips, K. C., and Fred J. Fulton, K. C., are re-appearing for the Fathers, and S. S. Taylor, K. C., for Murphy.

The issue is as to priority of record—an issue both as to fact and law. The definition and extent of riparian rights under crown grants in the earlier days of the province is also presented for consideration and determination.

READY TO NAME STAFF OF CANADIAN NAVAL COLLEGE

Positions Will Be Ready by End of Year—Several Firms Prepare to Tender for Battleships.

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—Announcement is made at the naval branch that applications will be received up to the end of the year for positions on the instruction staff of the Naval college at Halifax.

The positions to be filled are as follows: One senior master, salary $2000 to $2700, three masters in physics and mathematics, $1800 to $2400, one master of French and German, $400, four hours per week, one naval instructor, $4 per day and quarters on the Niobe; three naval school masters $1.50 to $2.20 per day and quarters.

It is stated that before the end of the year various firms which have declared their intention of considering the construction of warships and have inspected the plans, will be asked to submit their formal tenders.

Plans for dry docks at Montreal, Prince Rupert and Esquimalt, are still before the naval branch and no further action as to the amount of the subsidy to be granted will be taken before they are again placed in the hands of the minister of public works.

An effort will be made to bring the debate on the address to a close in the commons on Monday. Sir Wilfrid Laurier will probably speak on that day, and the vote will in all probability be taken afterwards. However, it seems that a number of Quebec members who have already spoken want to do so again, in view of new matters that has been introduced by Nationalist orators. The debate, therefore, may go over until Tuesday.

HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS HOLD EXERCISES

J. S. Gordon Delivers Interesting Address on Education—Musical Program.

The annual commencement exercises of the Royal City High school were held in the opera house last evening, T. J. Trapp, chairman of the board of school trustees, presiding. The event of the evening was an address by J. S. Gordon, M.A., inspector of high schools for British Columbia, who pointed out to the audience the importance of education and culture, and more particularly of advanced education in the prosperity and progress of the nation.

This fact was too generally recognized to need emphasis, and nowhere in British Columbia had it been more readily recognized in the past than in the city of Westminster, which had one of the best educational systems in the world. He did not propose to waste time in eulogizing the schools of this city. When an institution rested content with the laurels won in the past, that institution was dead. And the time had come when Westminster should make another step in its progress. To do so the first essential was a new High school. The present quarters, in which the hundred and seventy odd High school students are housed, is not suitable. They have no proper accommodation, being allotted only five rooms; they intermingle with children much younger than they, which is not good for any of them, they have not the proper equipment, and they require more highly salaried teachers in order to raise the standard of efficiency to its highest pitch. More than all is required a band of public-minded citizens who will use all their moral influence and as much material assistance as possible to effect the purpose in view.

A musical program of some merit was rendered by the students' glee club, students' orchestra, and Miss Laura Lavery, piano soloist.

At intervals presentation was made of the governor-general's medals, senior and junior matriculation certificates and other prizes and certificates.

Prizes for special subjects were presented as follows: Cheque for $25, first matriculation examination, won by Miss Brice, donated by T. S. Annandale. Cheque for $10, junior matriculation, French, won by Miss Margaret McNiven, presented by L. A. Lewis. Prize of $5, Miss Lillian Pope, English essay, given by J. J. Jones.

ANOTHER GUSHER AT MEDICINE HAT

Medicine Hat, Nov. 25.—Another great gas gusher was successfully capped on the C. P. R. property today. The depth is 1042 feet deep and the yield three million feet per day. The C. P. R. will experiment in the transportation of natural gas from Medicine Hat to points further west and to this end has two special cars made in Germany, each equipped with thirty-six cylinders which are fifteen feet by eight inches in size. Trains now running west of Medicine Hat have been using the gas as an illuminant for some time and tanks will be built as renewal points along the line.

DR. SISSON TAKES A FLING AT NEWSPAPERS

Walla Walla, Nov. 25.—Dr. E. O. Sisson, of the University of Washington, was one of the principal speakers at the teachers' institute today. He spoke of Abraham Lincoln, saying he had been greatly misunderstood as most people thought of him as a teller of funny stories, while in reality he was a deep-thinking, serious man. Incidentally he took a fling at newspapers for playing up the ridiculous side of things, saying they should devote more attention to the serious matters.

THREE SHOT IN RIOT.

Clash of Strikers and Non-Union Workers Ends Seriously.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—Three persons were shot, one being wounded seriously, and many others were subjected to a rain of bullets here today in a riot caused by a clash of striking garment workers and the non-union workers on the northwest side of the city.

Vincent Belleno and his wife Anna, non-union workers, were accused by the police of firing the shots and were arrested.

JIU-JITSU FOR COPS.

Japanese Methods Introduced for the Benefit of Toronto Police.

Toronto, Nov. 25.—Japanese wrestling methods are being introduced in the Toronto police force. The first lesson was given in the armories yesterday afternoon, when a party of fifty recruits, under the instruction of Sergeant Reeves, gave a demonstration illustrating its advantages in making arrests. So far only four holds have been taught, however, if pated a regular course in jiu-jitsu will probably be established.

SURE KINGSTON CONVICT DIDN'T WRITE FAMOUS HYMN

Investigators Satisfied That the Author of "Just for To-day" was of Roman Catholic Origin.

Toronto, Nov. 25.—J. Edward Jones of this city, after an exhaustive inquiry, has decided that the claim of W. G. Huckle, the Hamilton convict, now in Kingtson penitentiary, to the authorship of the hymn, "Just for To-day," is quite untenable.

Venerable Archdeacon Wilberforce, of Westminster Abbey, says that the hymn was first brought to his attention in 1873, when he had it printed on his pledge cards. The hymn, according to the archbishop, is of ancient Roman Catholic origin, as one of the original verses contained the invocation: "Teach me to live as Mary's Child."

The author was a nun and a sister of Bernard Partridge, the "Punch" artist. Her father, the late Professor Partridge, F. R. S., was at one time president of the College of Surgeons and professor of anatomy in the Royal Academy.

Archdeacon Wilberforce, in his letter to Mr. Jones, points out that when he was conducting a series of total abstinence meeting in Canada in 1877 several thousand pledge cards with the poem on the back were circulated throughout the Dominion. "Perhaps," suggests the Archdeacon, "our convict brother was one of those who signed the pledge with me, and so became possessed of the hymn."

Archdeacon Wilberforce refers to the fact that W. H. Howland was Mayor of Toronto at the time the meetings mentioned were held, but as the late W. H. Howland was mayor in 1887, Mr. Jones thinks his correspondent must be mistaken as to the dates, and that the hymn came into his possession in 1887, rather than in 1877.

Mrs. Meta Berger, wife of Victor L. Berger, of Milwaukee, the first Socialist to be elected to congress, is not a delegate to the convention of the American Federation of Labor at St. Louis, but is there because she is a Socialist and a suffragette, and attends all public meetings in which her husband has part.

"I never had an opportunity to be a member of a union," Mrs. Berger said the other day. "But there is one union that I am going to join as soon as it is organized. That is the Housewives' Union.

"Women have social equality with men now, and political equality is coming, but we must also have economic equality. The Housewives' union would be a good means to this end. It would do for a starter, anyhow.

"Why shouldn't there be a minimum scale of allowance from the husband to the wife. I think it should be at least half of all he earns. For if the woman did not take full charge of the home, the man could only spend half the time he does making money. So, you see, one half of his wages really belongs to the wife, as his partner.

"Women do not receive the same wages as men, simply because they are not fought to be recognized. We have to fight for everything we get. We had to fight for social equality. Now we are fighting for political and economic equality."

Mrs. Berger is the first woman ever elected to public office. In Milwaukee. She is a member of the school board, having been elected on the Socialist ticket.

ADVISES WOMEN TO TAKE UP GYPSY LIFE

English Girl Enjoys Nomadic Life---Now Touring America in Lazy Fashion.

St. Lousi, Nov. 25.—Miss Ida Gordon-Stables, daughter of a noted English physician and captain of the land yacht Wanderer, is in St. Louis for the purpose of inspiring Americans with a love for the gypsy life.

"Any woman can find health and happiness if she will be a gypsy," she told a reporter. "Carvanning is a species of restoration unknown in America, but I hope to introduce it into this country. I might say that I was reared in a varavan, a house on whee s in which my father and mother and I lived and travelled from May to October every year. I am quite sure that if Americans once take up the pastime of caravanning it will become extremely popular."

With the affection of a sailor for his ship, Miss Gordon-Stables always refers to the Wanderer as "she."

"You could not imagine any craft more shipshape," she said. "Her finish of mahogany throughout, and she has living accommodations for four persons. Besides the sleeping apartments there is a living room and kitchen. Our bathroom, I think, is quite ingenious. We stretch curtains around the driver's seat and the dashboard and bathe in a collapsible tub on the front platform as, I think, you would call it in America.

"Caravan life is a delightful existence. My father, Dr. William Gordon-Stables, who died less than a year ago, used to say that it was a specific for nervous diseases. It is the ideal rest cure. It is much better even than living in the most attractive country homes because of the daily change of surrounding scenery.

"Not all our wandering life is spent in the caravan. We have tents with us, and when we come upon a likely camping place we pitch them and live outdoors. On the average we do twenty to twenty-five miles a day. As a rule, we avoid the towns and keep to the open country.

"We carry a stock of provisions, and for variety we have fresh milk, butter, eggs and poultry obtained from farmers. I do not know how it is in America, but in England a farmer is offended if a caravanner offers to pay him for anything.

"I am interested in learning what sort of roads you have here in America. In England practically every country road and nearly all the lanes are asphalt roads. We have seen very rough traveling in the mountain regions of Scotland and in the bogs of Ireland. My mother and I will make the journey and we hope to cruise in the Wanderer from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast. I hope to pay the expenses of the journey by writing, as my father always did.

For our American tour we probably shall fit the Wanderer with motors. In England it is drawn by two horses. This method of propulsion might prove too slow to suit American ideas. For ourselves, we shall select the motors for power rather than for speed and shall not attempt to break any time records in crossing the country. Half the charm of caravanning is to move lazily across the country, enjoying the scenery and resting your nerves.

"In England we have a caravan club, of which my father was vice-president. There is an annual meet, where all the members who can do so attend with the caravans. I shall remain in St. Louis about two weeks and may visit many other cities in an effort to make caravanning popular in America."

WIFE AND SON PLEADED FOR LIMIT SENTENCE

College-Bred Man Sent Down for Five Years—Beyond Redemption, Says Woman.

New York, Nov. 25.—Lee P. Woodward, forty-nine years old, a college graduate, and a member of an old and honored Pennsylvania family, was sentenced today to five years at Sing Sing, and adjudged an habitual criminal by Judge Malone of general sessions. It was an affidavit from Woodward's divorced wife that caused the judge to give the prisoner the limit for his offence. He has served several prison terms.

Last February, Woodward, who was then living at Columbus, N. J., passed a bad cheque for $59.

Mrs. Carrie Woodward, the man's former wife, said: "In my belief, he is beyond redemption. Nothing can induce him to lead an honest life. Our son, now twenty-one years old, joins me in appealing to you to inflict upon him such punishment as will, in your wisdom, relieve us and society from a menace of his presence. Our only daughter, who died at sixteen, told me on her deathbed that her father's conduct had broken her heart, and filled her life with shame, and that she did not care whether she lived or died.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1910.

THE SUDDEN AWAKENING.

People are asking, and not without reason, why the sudden outburst of anxiety for the moral welfare of the city on the part of Mayor Lee? What in the way of the unexpected has happened to cause the issue of the sudden order to close down the houses of ill fame in the west end of the city? These places have flourished openly, and have been thoroughly well known to the police and to Mayor Lee, at least since January last. Yet only now, just a few weeks before the civic election takes place, is action taken. This action too was evidently intended to be drastic in character. But whether or not it will have the effect of freeing New Westminster from the presence of the unfortunates who congregate in such places is open to doubt.

This sudden display of virtuous rectitude on the part of the mayor is certainly puzzling. A citizen subbested yesterday that his worship had been shocked and alarmed by the turn affairs have taken recently in Winnipeg, and was anxious to be in a position to assure his fellow citizens, when he invites their support for his candidature as mayor, that at least his worshipful hands are clean. That this sudden attempt to wipe out the restricted district has something to do with the forthcoming election seems pretty evident. But Mayor Lee's position in this respect would surely have been stronger if he had not so long delayed the action upon which he suddenly resolved on Thursday.

MR. BORDEN'S AMENDMENT.

The amendment to the address moved by Mr. Borden, the Conservative leader, in the House of Commons, on Thursday, may be an expression of the opinion of the Conservative party, though even that is doubtful, but it certainly cannot pretend to be a reflex of the feelings and opinions of the people. The establishment of a naval force under the powers of the act of last session has, we venture to assert, met with quite a general approval throughout the country.

Except under such misleading circumstances and mischievous misstatements as formed a leading factor in the recent Drummond-Arthabaska election, there has not been the slightest indication on the part of the people of any opposition to the naval policy of the government. What passible reason there can be for submitting this matter to the people we are quite at a loss to understand.

STREET IMPROVEMENT.

Editor Daily News:

Sir,—In reply to Citizen's letter of the 25th inst., re Third street, I would say that I took a petition to the ratepayers asking them to sign their names against the paving of Third street. I made no erroneous statements, but told them the truth; just what it would cost them in taxes per front foot, 45.5 cents; that is to say it would cost the taxpayer $30.05 a year for a lot sixty-six feet wide for thirty years, which I think is too much to pay for it.

Citizen says it is very light and the taxes insignificant in comparison with other cities. He must have lots of money, but I say that the tax is more than it is in other cities. Then Citizen says that he hopes those who signed the petition without knowing the facts will have their names removed, but he does not give them any facts, neither does he sign his name so that we might know to whom he belongs.

The facts are, "nine hundred and one dollars and fifty cents to taxpayer for road tax on a sixty-six foot frontage."

LOVE LETTER LOST 23 YEARS.

Written by Girl, It Went Astray, and She Married Another Man.

Grand Junction, Col., Nov. 25.—Romance, turned to tragedy, marked the delivery to C. A. Roselle of a letter from Miss Ellen Gustafson, after it had been in transit more than twenty-three years. In the meantime, Miss Gustafson became Mrs. Oscar Peterson, of Chicago, and Roselle tried to forget the love of his youth. He never married.

Twenty-three years ago Ellen Gustafson, of Forserum, Sweden, fiancee of Roselle, started for America. She was to write him as soon as she arrived. Roselle grew into middle age waiting for the letter. A few months ago he encountered Mrs. Peterson in Chicago, but neither inquired nor explained about the letter which never came.

BRAZILIAN MUTINY ENDS, SAILORS GRANTED AMNESTY

Guns, Trained for Two Days on Rio Janeiro, Now Returned to Old Positions.

Rio Janeiro, Nov. 25.—Under assurances that they were not to be punished as mutineers, the sailors on board the four Brazilian warships in Rio Janeiro harbor surrendered today to the government authorities, and the guns, which for four days had been trained on Rio Janeiro, were returned to their positions.

The surrender followed a visit of a government representative to the different vessels, who under cover of a flag of truce, advised the sailors of the amnesty granted by the chamber of deputies and the senate. The amnesty was granted at an extraordinary session. During the session the guns of the belligerent battleships were trained on the government buildings.

The vessels seized by the mutineers were the battleships Minas Geraes, Sao Paulo, the protected cruisers De Odora and the scout ship Bahai.

London, Nov. 25.—The correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph at Rio Janeiro cabled to day that the mutineers on board the Brazilian battleship at Rio Janerio had surrendered unconditionally.

Given Amnesty.

London, Nov. 25.—Private despatches from Rio Janeiro, received by London merchants with interests in Brazil, advise that the chamber of of deputies today followed the example of the Brazilian senate and extended amnesty to the mutinous sailors on board the Brazilian warships in the harbor at Rio Janeiro.

In return for the battleships in their possession, the sailors are to be permitted to go free from punishment, despite the fact that they killed three of their officers and turned the guns of the warships upon the city of Rio Janeiro, inflicting slight damage to property.

Warning From Britain.

Rio Janerio, Nov. 25.—The British minister today notified the Brazilian government that any attempt to destroy the mutinous war vessels by torpedoes would involve the safety of British subjects on board.

NOISE AT A FOOTBALL GAME.

The Players Themselves Consider the Uproar Something of a Nuisance.

(Ralph D. Paine in Munsey's.)

In the eyes of a foreigner a great deal of this American football uproar is strange and absurd. There are the leaders of the "cheering sections," for instance—undergraduates picked for lung power and unflagging energy, who caper like dancing Dervishes and exhort throngs of their comrades to yell in cadenced, mechanical fashion those singular cries which are supposed to encourage and stimulate the contestants. The fact is that the football teams consider the cheering a nuisance, because it prevents them from hearing the signals distinctly, but the "rah, rah rah" spirit cannot be tamed. It is a safety valve for pent up steam, and therefore the "cheer leaders" wave their arms, perform the most astonishing antics, and dutifully, almost tearfully, appeal for more noise until they can only croak in anguish whispers. Nor, if one has a sympathetic heart, can he fail to perceive how desperately in earnest these hard working youths are, and how certain they feel that without them the game must be lost.

A good deal of solemn preaching has been done to prove that these great crowds are ethically wrong. The players are demoralized by all the fuss made over them, their hearts are enlarged, and they sink to the level of gladiators or pugilists.

This theory sounds plausible, but it happens to be all wrong. This football teams of Yale and Harvard would play as pluckily and earnestly if not a soul except the officials were allowed inside the fence around the field, just as the university eight would pull their hearts out over the four-mile course at New London if there were no observation trains and no brilliant fleet of yachts. The crowd is an incident, the contest is the real thing, and these deep-chested toughly seasoned young men are fighting for something far more significant than applause.

It makes no difference to them whether a seat in the grandstand cost fifty cents or fifty dollars. They are thinking only of what the other fellow is likely to do next, and what the coaches have been hammering into them through the autumn weeks of hard and patient endeavor.

A catch-as-catch-can wrestling match between a fisherman and a member of the city police force took place on the Eighth street wharf yesterday afternoon. As strangle holds were not barred, the game contained many spectacular plays and attracted a lot of attention. Finally the man in blue won out apparently more by moral suasion than muscular force, the captive remarking as he was led away, "I could throw you in the river yet."

MARKET REPORT

The weekly market held yesterday was of an ordinary nature, no unusual occurrences of any kind falling to be reported. A very slight stiffening in the price of some articles of dairy produce was observed, but in the main prices are practically identical with those of last week. The good weather induced a somewhat larger attendance of buyers and near-buyers, while the number of sellers was up to the average.

The supply of potatoes still holds fair, although not quite up to the demand. Pears and apples were plentiful, and vegetables of all kinds were also shipped in good quantities. The demand for pears was not very strong, and for apples, only good so far as No. 1 quality is concerned.

Beef was a little more in evidence than last week, but as before all shipments found a ready sale. Fair quantities of lamb and mutton came forward, but they were short of the demand, while the same may be said of pork. Fowls were in the same category, although the supply was better than last week. Eggs as usual sold very readily, although the shipments were fairly heavy for the season. Chickens were all sold, and the demand for broilers was equal to the supply. The usual auction of horses, cows, etc., took place and prices obtained were much the same as usual. The following are details of prices recorded:

Beef, hindquarters, per lb.	8c to 8½c
Beef, forequarters, per lb.	6 to 7c
Lamb, per lb.	14c
Mutton, per lb.	13c
Veal, large, per lb.	8 to 9c
Veal, medium, per lb.	10½ to 11c
Pork, per lb.	12 to 12½c
Eggs, wholesale, per dozen	55 to 57c
Eggs, retail, per dozen	60c
Butter, wholesale, per lb.	30 to 35c
Butter, retail, per lb.	40c
Fowl, per dozen	$7.00 to $8.00
Chickens, per dozen	$5.50 to $6.50
Broilers, per dozen	$4.50 to $5.00
Ducks, per dozen	$15.00
Potatoes, per ton	$25.00
Apples, per box	75c to $1.25
Pears, per box	75 to 85c

EAGERLY TAKE UP HOMESTEAD LAND

Incoming Settlers Well Satisfied With Conditions on Vancouver Island.

Victoria, Nov. 25.—"In less than two years' time it will be impossible for incoming settlers to pre-empt an acre of homestead land on the island. So fast are settlers now taking up land in the San Josef valley that within six months all the pre-emptions will be gone in that district. Similar conditions prevail in the Banfield territory, and I believe I am safe in asserting that never before in the history of Vancouver Island have so many homestead settlers come in as during the recent summer and autumn."

Ernest McGaffey thus summarises the progress of settlement in the isolated districts of Vancouver Island, and he goes further by stating that on the eastern coast, in the neighborhood of Hardy and Shushartie bays, there has been considerable settlement during the past few months. Mr. McGaffey is in a position to judge of what is going on in these districts, for nearly every day he has callers from different points of Canada and the United States who come to him to obtain maps and information about the best points for settlement. He emphasises the fact that all pre-emption land will soon be gone in order that natives of Victoria or other inhabitants of Vancouver Island who wish to take up homesteads on the island will do so before it is too late. In every instance he states that the newcomers are satisfied with conditions, look forward to the future with the brightest of hopes, and are especially loud in their praises of the work which the provincial government is doing in connecting isolated portions of the island by building wagon roads and trails and thus providing transportation for the necessities of life. He has also reports from settlers who are happily located to the effect that splendid agricultural soil obtains around Quatsino sound. Instances are quoted where black soil of superlatively good quality has been found to exist to a depth of four feet.

PLEA FOR CLEAN AND LIBERAL DIET

Dr. Lee, of New York, Attributes Many Forms of Vice to Wrong Food.

Dr. Elmer Lee, of New York, an advocate of vegetarianism, writing in The Medical Times, makes a plea for better table foods.

"A true and full realization of the importance of natural, clean and suitable table foods is lacking the world over," he says, "even among the educated. The notion about diet, what is appropriate, how to select, sort, clean, and prepare, are mostly wrong. Very few have any just appreciation of the importance of this question. The basis for health is good, sound, clean, abundant, appropriate food. The lack of good food and sustaining nutrition are reasons sufficient and ample to explain ailment, weakness and disease. If bad foods are responsible for disease, then good and natural foods are what is needed.

"The life, health, and happiness of man hinges on the quality and abundance of the food he eats. Too many students fail to give this question the serious attention that is due it. There is too much looking, searching, hoping, carried on in the wrong direction, too much speculating, too much fanciful, unprofitable vivisection, ungoverned curiosity and a wholesale neglect of the practical and the obvious.

Secrets of Health.

"The secret of the health and charm of human life are more likely of solution in the kitchen than in the experimental medical institutes. Food is the never-ceasing demand of the living organism, a food that sustains and does not poison, pleasant, satisfying, available. A physician, one of the multitude who feels the bad effect of a lack of appropriate food, expressed the sentiment, "The World is in need of better food.'

"The exquisite delicacy, the abundant nutrition, the energizing, inspiring qualities of fresh fruit, vegetables and cereal food has not been understood The selection, preparation and use of food for an organism as delicate, as intricate, as potent as the human body is a responsibility too important to turn over to a coarse, thoughtless, heedless, hair-brained man or girl cook, the most of whom are not in sympathy with their work. The wonder is that anybody is healthy, and it is not strange that sickness, crime and poverty prevail.

"The fundamental values in life, health, strength, development, elegance, refinement, civility, honor, truth, admiration, and respect one for another, steadiness and efficiency, happiness, satisfaction, depend for their realization upon normal living under natural law, and the factor of largest importance is a normal diet of fruit, vegetables, grains.

New Methods Help.

"The new idea demands clean, abundant diet, improved and refined cooking, in fine, a new hygienic system for selecting, preparing, cooking and serving food-plant products. They contain every ingredient, quality, element of nutrition, for the fulfilment of all life activities—hard work, protracted mental or physical effort, maintenance of the body tissues, everything, nothing is wanting.

"The explanation for the unfriendly criticism against vegetarism puzzled me for a long time, but I think I understand it at last. The plant foods are most delicate in organiation and require precise, even great, skill, as well as understanding, to prepare and serve them, acceptable and pleasing in appearance, agreeable and refreshing in taste, and to retain the nutritive value. It is comparatively much easier to get up a satisfying meal using, meat, eggs, milk and cream, a difficulty which has been hard to get around by the would-be vegetarian. New methods in cooking, ripening, tempering, seasoning, combining and serving meet the old objections against an all-vegetable table food diet, and leave no ground for resort to animal fish or product as a human food."

Here is a summary of Dr. Lee's conclusions:

The health is preserved in the fullest degree and that disease is curable by the scientific use of live, organic plant-food.

That betterment of food leads to improved development in the physical and mental realm, lessens drudgery and promotes ease.

That an improved method in the use of plant-foods is the new basis for social and economic progress, clean lives, and better conditions.

That insanity, drunkenness, immorality, envy, anger, cruelty, poverty, rage, and war mainly result from or bear directly on the food question.

That man and animal are not inclined to be savage and quarrelsome if well and properly fed and nourished.

That plant-foods wisely used are competent to sustain human life, advance civilization, and furnish the mental and physical power equal to its needs.

That dwelling houses can be more favorably adapted to shelter, rear, and develop the family.

Better dwellings, better foods, better health, he concludes, will lead to a "pleasant, useful, satisfied, longer life."
