WELLMAN VOYAGE ENDS IN FAILURE

Men Who Tried to Cross Atlantic By Aerial Route Rescued by R.M.S. Trent.

New York, Oct. 18.—Man's first attempt to cross any ocean in an airship has failed, but Walter Wellman, his companions and a kitten, who essayed the voyage, are safe.

The airship, the giant America, is a battered aerial derelict, abandoned at sea, perhaps still in the air, perhaps sunk beneath the waves, with her costly equipment.

When deserted, she had been in the air seventy-two hours, a new record for dirigibles, and driven by the wind, had travelled probably 800 miles. Whether the distance record for dirigibles, 870 miles, also will be broken, remains to be computed.

Atlantic City, Oct. 18.—Another attempt will be made by Walter Wellman to cross the Atlantic next year, his announcement having been made today by the $35,000 syndicate which is financing the enterprise. The London Daily Telegraph, the New York Times and the Chicago Record Herald form the syndicate.

Wellman abandoned the attempt to reach Europe when one of the America's propellors broke. He was compelled to rip the airship and throw away the gasoline, reserving enough to reach land in the event the Trent got being able to rescue the party. The America travelled at the rate of eight knots an hour.

New York, Oct. 18.—The dirigible balloon America, headed for Europe, was abandoned in the Atlantic due east of Cape Hatteras, half way to Bermuda late this afternoon. Walter Wellman and his companions aboard the airship were rescued by the Royal steamer Trent.

News of the rescue came by wireless from Captain Downs of the Trent in a message which read:

"At five o'clock this morning we sighted Wellman's airship America in distress. They signalled by the Morse code that help was required.

"After three hours of maneuvering with fresh wind blowing we picked up Wellman and the entire crew and the gas. All are now safe aboard the Trent. All are well. The America was abandoned in latitude 35.43 north longitude 68.18 west."

The cat referred to was the American's mascot, placed aboard by Mrs. Wellman, wife of the chief engineer of the airship. Captain Downs gave no further particulars.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 18.—When informed of the rescue of Walter Wellman and his crew, Mrs. Wellman said: "Thank God for the good news. I am overjoyed to learn that my husband and the brave men with him are safe."

Mrs. Wellman was eager for particulars and expressed deep regret when informed that the America had been abandoned.

REDMOND DENIES REPORT.

Irish-Nationalist Leader Not in Favor of "Home Rule for All."

London, Oct. 18.—The Lloyd-George-Birrell scheme of "home rule all round—subordinate parliaments for the British island—"is reported to have gained another adherent, Mr. John Redmond, leader of the Irish-Nationalist party. Certain speeches made by Mr. Redmond in America are quoted in proof of the assertions.

Mr. Redmond, however, has just cabled to the headquarters of the United Irish League in Dublin declaring that he favors no scheme of general devolution of local power.

Mr. William O'Brien now comes forward to declare that Mr. Redmond's repudiation is refuted by the fact that T. P. O'Connor in Canada, on the very same day made the same declaration as that attributed to Mr. Redmond.

DIVORCED PAIR REWED.

Fifty-nine Days Enough Time to Bring About Reconciliation.

Dayton, Wash., Oct. 18.—Four small children of Andrew and Mary Bonham yesterday attended the ceremony which made their father and mother husband and wife. Bonham was divorced from his wife fifty-nine days ago. This period was time enough to heal the wounds of the estranged couple. Standing before their own children, father and mother acknowledged again the marriage vows. There was a joyous reception after the wedding, participated in by the happy family of six.

Appointed Juvenile Judge.

Victoria, Oct. 18.—At the meeting of the provincial executive today the act establishing a juvenile court for Victoria was declared to be in force on and after November 1, City Magistrate George Kay was appointed judge of the court.

On Trip to England.

Victoria, Oct. 18.—Hon. Price Ellison, minister of finance and agriculture, left this afternoon for a trip to England. He is accompanied by Mrs. Ellison, and expects to be away until the end of the year.

GLEICHEN MAN INVESTS HEAVILY IN CITY LOTS

Bought Land Here Years Ago, Got Tired of Waiting and Sold—Now Sorry, He Buys Again.

Buying property here seven or eight years ago, holding it about five years waiting for an advance that was slow in coming and then finally selling it in the belief that Westminster lots would not command any more ten years hence, only to return here this year and invest heavily again after noting the wonderful strides made since 1908, such is in brief the story of the transactions in which A. M. Telford, of Gleichen, Alberta, has been interested as buyer, seller and buyer.

When first Mr. Telford invested here things did not look any too bright for the future, but with the optimism which only long association with the wheat fields of sunny Alberta can breed, he decided that this was bound, in time, to become a place of consequence and accordingly traded some of his good dollars for forty lots, scattered all over the city. He paid only a small figure for the properties, judged by present day standards of values. Then he went back to Alberta and tickled the rich, black loam for more wheat and more dollars.

Mr. Telford had his lots listed in a real estate office here for years before he finally got an offer. By this time he had decided that he had better sell at any price he could obtain and a deal was closed. He made a fair profit on his investment and was satisfied.

A couple of weeks ago he came to the coast for a trip. During a drive around the city he visited the lots he had once owned and made inquiries concerning their present values. Then he sat down and figured out how much more money he might have made if he had held on until now.

Being essentially a businessman, Mr. Telford did not waste much time worying about what might have been. Instead he hied himself to a real estate office and purchased heavily, confident that property here will go much higher within the next few months.

Mr. Telford will in future live in this city, making his home on Agnes street. It is altogether likely he will dispose of all his Gleichen interests and invest the money here.

EUROPE'S WHEAT CROP NEAR RECORD POINT

Harvest on Continent Promises Second Largest Ever Produced.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Reviewing the condition of the foreign wheat crop, the United States department of agriculture in its monthly crop report announces the promise of good yields in the Southern hemisphere. Although a deficiency of about 95,000,000 bushels is reported for Europe in comparison with the highest record, still the crop promises to be the second largest the continent has produced. The report of the agricultural exports say:

"Australian wheat is growing on a probably increased area and the present outlook is for a full yield. In Argentine prolonged drought in the northern part of the grain belt has done as yet an undeterminable amount of damage. Excepting possibly Argentine, present appearances in the principal producing countries of the southern hemisphere inspire hope for a repetition of the excellent results of last season.

"Official returns are in from seven states, which in 1909 produced 81 per cent of the wheat crop of Europe; yields in bushels in these states in 1910 compared with 1909 follow:

Country—	1910.	1909.
Russia	600,000,000	711,000,000
France	268,000,000	356,000,000
Hungary	185,000,000	113,000,000
Italy	153,000,000	183,000,000
Spain	137,000,000	144,000,000
Roumania	106,000,000	57,000,000
Bulgaria	57,000,000	37,000,000
Total	1,506,000,000	1,601,000,000

Snatches Babe from Death.

Spokane, Oct. 18.—Snatching her two-year-old child in the nick of time from its go-cart, Mrs. E. Patrick saved the tot from death last evening. An automobile whirled past, striking the baby carriage, carrying it on the fender for more than half a block and finally broke it to splinters.

Tag Day Nets $65,000.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Tag Day netted $65,000 for the children's societies of Chicago yesterday. The day of giving was the greatest ever known in the history of charitable events in this city. "Tag Day" is three years old.

Escort for T. P. O'Connor.

Seattle, Oct. 18.—A crowd of patriotic Irishmen and Irish-Americans will go to Victoria Thursday to escort to Seattle Thomas P. ("Tay Pay") O'Connor, M. P., of Great Britain, who will deliver an address here Friday.

Marine Mystery Solved.

Victoria, Oct. 18.—Advices were brought by the steamer Makura that survivors of the British ship Carnarvon Bay, who landed on Kings Island, found wreckage which cleared up the mystery as to the fate of the Danish bark Princess Marie, missing since last March.

INVESTIGATION OF ENGINEER COMPLETED

Report to Dominion Government Will Urge Maintenance of Purity of Coquitlam Water Supply.

J. R. Freeman, Dominion government engineer, who has just finished making investigations at Coquitlam lake, has made known the substance of the report which he will present to the Dominion government in regard to the building of the Coquitlam dam and the preservation of the water from impurity.

It is understood that he will suggest to the government that it request the Vancouver Power company to make some slight alterations in the structure and site of the dam. In addition to this there will be some suggestions made as to how the purity of the water is to be maintained.

It is expected that if the government adopts Mr. Freeman's report all the opposition to the plans of the B.C. E. R. at the lake will be withdrawn and the work will proceed with all haste.

EDMONTON IS BEATEN BY SHREWD CAPITALISTS

Finds Rapids for Power Development Already Staked—Americans First on the Ground.

Edmonton, Oct. 18.—It appears that the city of Edmonton will not be permitted to acquire the right to harness the Bailer rapids on the Athabasca river without a fight. The city's representative, John S. Fielding, who was sent north a short time ago to investigate the power possibilities, finds that he has been forestalled. According to letter sent to the city commissioners when he got to the rapids he found this notice nailed to a stake staring him in the face: "Post number one, being the first survey for the purpose of obtaining water rights in the Athabasca river at Grand rapids, taking in and including all necessary lands and all water passing thereover. Dated September 19, 1910," signed by "A. Violette, per H. W. Harris, witness F. Violette."

Inquiries made this morning revealed the fact that A. Violette is apparently representing a large amount of American capital. He, with three companions, outfitted in a hurry soon after the city had announced its intention of investigating the possibilities and rushed away into the north, beating the city to the site of the proposed power plant. It is understood they also have representatives at Ottawa looking after their interests. It is stated that one of the four men is a millionaire and that they have been thinking of the power possibilities of the Athabasca for some months. Although the city received a telegram from the department of the interior in August acknowledging the receipt of its preliminary application, Violette has received one recently stating that no application has yet been filed.

FOREST FIRE SUSPECT IS TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

San Francisco, Oct. 18.—Word was received here today that United States Deputy Marshal Kierman yesterday arrested William Longfellow, at Horse Flat, in Siskiyou county, on the charge of setting fire to the Klamath forest reserve. This is the first arrest in the systematic effort being made by the federal authorities to apprehend a number of men accused of setting fires during the recent forest conflagrations on this coast. Longfellow will be taken before United States Commissioner Webster, at Stockton, for his preliminary hearing.

Hospital Society Appointees.

Victoria, Oct. 18.—Robert Gordon, Frank Young and Charles Holten have been appointed to represent the government on the board of the Revelstoke Hospital society.

Dyamite Explosion.

Sarsted, Prusia, Oct. 18.—An explosion in the Siegefrid potash mines today caused a fire that imprisoned 15 miners, all of whom are thought to have perished. Fourteen bodies have been recovered. Fifty men escaped. A premature explosion of dyamite caused the disaster.

SIGNS ARE NEEDED ON ALDERGROVE ANIMALS

Hunters After Deer Are Careless in Use of Shooting Irons, Endangering Human Lives.

R. A. Anderson, of Aldergrove, was a visitor in the city yesterday. He states that around Aldergrove the farmers are contemplating putting signs on all their animals for the benefit of hunters in the district. Thus a large white sign, "This is a pig," would be of advantage to hunters after deer who cannot readily distinguish the difference between members of the swine and deer families.

During the past week or two the woods around Aldergrove have been full of men with high power rifles, who seem to be inclined to shoot at everything that moves, and for the safety of the public the signs might work out to advantage.

CLEVER ACTOR FORCED TO EXPRESS HIS THANKS

Joseph Howard Compelled to Make Curtain Speech During Presentation of "Goddess of Liberty."

"The Goddess of Liberty," a musical comedy replete with laughter and bright music at every moment, pleased the largest crowd that has gathered in the Opera house for some time, last night. The name of Joseph E. Howard, the famous composer as leading man of the cast, probably had much to do in bringing out the people, but even without him, and he was great, the show would have been well worthy of patronage.

The theme was one which as become popular with American composers in the last few years; the search for a fortune and a wife, but principally a fortune, in the fertile fields of America's ultra-rich set, by an English lord.

Howard was the lord and the vicissitudes he encountered in choosing an athletic family in which to marry, provided enough amusement to keep the audience in a continual good humor.

The lord was a good fellow and the audience was glad to see him get the right girl and the fortune, too, just before the curtain went down.

Howard's acting seemed to come almost too easily for him. The audience was not conscious that he was making an effort in carrying off the funny situations. At the end of the second act the applause was so continuous that he was compelled to make a speech, a thing that seldom happens in New Westminster. He said that he was a better composer than he was a speaker. However, he wished to thank the audience for his reception, and assured them that if the play caused them as much pleasure as the appreciation did to the players, that was all there was to it.

The singing was good, but what will probably linger longest in the memories of those who saw the show will be the scenery, which was the best that has been seen in New Westminster for years. In the second act, when a thunder storm broke over the heads of Lord Jack Wyngate and Phyliss Crane, real rain pelted down on the stage; the thunder rolled, the lighting flashed, and a couple of trees in the forest where the scene was laid, crashed to the ground in a most realistic manner.

For the ladies in the cast Miss Violet Seaton, as Phyliss Crane, was the center of attraction, and her charming acting brought many rounds of applause from the audience. The acting of Olive Attelle, as Doris Butterworth, and of Lord Algernon Banbury, is also worthy of mention.

Hope Butterworth, the American athletic millionaire, as portrayed by Marceline Montaigu, was also a good performance. He had the appearance and the ability, and his acting was certainly splendid.

POLITICAL REFUGEE WILL BE EXTRADITED

Russian Revolutionist, Federonka, Fails to Convince Judge He Is Innocent of Murder.

Winnipeg, Oct. 18.—Chief Justice Matheis this afternoon decided to order Federonka extradited. The Russian was a prominent revolutionist.

The Russian government spent many thousands to secure his conviction while the Freedom League of America spent thousands in his defence.

Federonka was accused of murder. The defence made a strong plea that the prisoner was only guilty of a political offence and that the charge against him was trumped up.

TWENTY-THREE HURT IN SUNSET LIMITED WRECK

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 18.—Twenty-three persons, injured when eight cars of the Sunset Limited on the Southern Pacific left the rail, near Collado, Texas, were brought here on a special train today for treatment. The majority of the injured are California bound homeseekers in the forward tourist coaches. None were fatally hurt.

A negro porter in one of the tourist cars undoubtedly saved dozens of lives by creeping through the overturned coaches and turning of the cocks of all gas tanks.

According to the Southern Pacific, a faulty rail caused the accident.

JAP FOUND GUILTY.

Sasaki Will Be Sentenced for Wounding This Morning.

Sasaki, the Jap, accused of wounding a fellow countryman at Aldergrove last June, was found guilty when he was tried before Judge Howay yesterday. Sentence will be pronounced today.

Sasaki cut one of his friends with an axe, and for a time it was thought that a charge of murder would be laid against him. However, his victim recovered. Sasaki left the vicinity for a month or two after the accident and it was not until August that the police succeeded in locating him.

OPEN SHOP WINNING IN FLORIDA FIGHT

Thirty-Five Cigar Factories Recommence Operations Under Police Patrol.

Tompa, Fla., Oct. 18.—The thirty-five cigar factories, closed since the inauguration of the tobacco workers' strike on July 25, were opened this morning. About 100 men returned to work and this entering wedge, the employers believe, will end the strike. More than 200 businessmen, sworn in as special officers, patrolled the streets, dispersing gatherings of strikers and prevnting meetings.

There was no rioting. The factories are opening under "open shop" rules.

WORTH OF NEWSPAPERS.

Chicago Judge Says They Aid in Suppressing Crime.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Judge Scanlan, in sentencing Thomas Jackson, colored, yesterday from an indeterminate imprisonment of from one year to life, emphasized the worth of newspapers to a community. "If our newspapers would publish sentences, crime would diminisa rapidly," said Judge Scanlan. "If robbers learned through the papers that they were going to get life imprisonment when they came here, the robbers or their pals would not be long in recognizing the thing to do."

The jury found Jackson guilty of thrusting a revolver in the faces of several waitresses in a restaurant and robbing the cash registers of $20.

ACROBAT COULDN'T STOP PERFORMING

Olympia, Oct. 18.—Among the personal damage suits argued in the supreme court today was one in which the Washington Veneer company of Puyallup was sued by Willie Talkington, an employee. During one noon hour Talkington was using the shafting as a turning bar for gymnastic feats. He was ordered away just before the machinery started up, but delayed, Willie did several unintentional stunts around the shafting, received a broken arm, and was awarded damages by the jury.

GARMENT WORKERS RIOT.

Chicago Is Disturbed by Noisy Labor Troubles.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Shots were fired, bricks thrown, twelve persons were injured and sixteen arrested in a riot here today, when squads of police attacked a mob of striking garment workers. Nearly every window in the Hart, Schaffner & Marx plant was broken.

CUBS AGAIN [illegible] BEFORE [illegible] THLETICS

Philadelphians Outslight Big Home Crowd by Walloping Chicago 9 to 3.

Philadelphia, Oct. 18.—In a game filled with thrills, the Philadelphia American league champions this afternoon administered a crushing defeat to the Chicago National league champions before more than 24,000 persons.

The score was 9 to 3.

Crowd Enthusiastic.

The game abounded in sensational fieldin gand terrinc batting, and the big, perspiring crowd was brought to its feet with enthusiasm as player after player made some brilliant stop or throw or lined out a smashing hit.

The spectators received a shock when Pitcher Coombs showed unsteadiness, but this was quickly forgotten a little later when the fighting Athletics forged to the front. In the seventh inning, when Captain Chance's splendid machine was crushed under a cannonading of hits, the crowd's enthusiasm knew no bounds.

Everything Went.

Almost everything that goes into a baseball game and makes it one of the most exciting out-of-door sports, was in evidence. There were errors on both sides, a generous contribution of bases on balls that frequently had pitchers in trouble; long hits, fast base running and lightning double plays.

Collins the Hero.

The hero of the afternoon, who shone as brilliantly in his department of the game as Bender did during yesterday's contest, was Eddie Collins, the star second baseman of the home team. This former captain of the Columbia university nine, electrified the crowd by his sensational work. The score books shows that in his five times at the plate he reached first base every time by making three hits, two of them doubles, receiving a base on balls, and making a force play. He scored two runs in two sensational plays that stopped Chicago from running on bases and last but not least, the champion base-runner of his league, he stole twice on the king of National league backstops, Kling.

Collin's Great Work.

Collins' work on the paths greatly delighted the crowd. Brown kept Collins as close as he could to the first base bag. In the sixth inning Collins out-guessed the Chicago battery three times. Brown pitching three wide balls for Kling to line the ball to second, but each time Collins appeared to divine the play and waited. Then he made his dash and went into the bag from first as a perfect throw arrived an instant too late.

Coombs Erratic.

Coombs pitched a most erratic game, giving nine bases on balls. He got into trouble in the first inning by giving two of the first three men up bases on balls. He got away with the inning with only one run against his team. In other stages of the contest he was in trobule, but the brilliant work of the men behind him pulled him out of difficulty. He seemed to show better form when the bases were occuped than when the bags were clear. This is shown by the fact that Chicago had fourteen men left on bases.

Cubs' Inside Is Weak.

Chicago's inside play did not seem to be in working order, for with the men on the bases and Coombs unsteady, some sharp piece of fielding would spoil their chances after there was every prospect of a score.

"Three-Finger" Brown Wild.

Mordicai Brown pitched fairly good ball in the early stages of the game and was quite steady. The Philadelphians began to touch him up in the third inning and in the seventh he was hit to all parts of the field. Nine men went to bat in this inning and scored six runs on three doubles, two singles, a base on balls, an error and a sacrifice.

After that inning he was taken out and was succeeded by Richie. In the seventh inning he pitched the "White Elephants" hit him thirteen times for a total of seventeen bases.

Chicago scored its first run at the beginning of the game, after Sheckard had received a base on balls.

Chicago made one run in the ninth on Hofman's single, an out and a two-base hit by Zimmerman.

Attendance, 24,957.

The crowd today was not so large as that of yesterday but it was more enthusiastic as it had more to cheer for.

The total paid attendance for the day, was 24,957, and the total receipts were $35,157.

The total attendance for the two days was 51,488 an dthe total receipts $72, 561.50.

The share of the players for the two days is $39,183.21.

Off to Chicago.

The two teams left here over the Pennsylvania road at 8:55 p. m. tonight for Chicago. They are travelling in two special trains.

The third game of the series will be played in that city on Thursday.

First Inning.

Chicago—Sheckard, first man up, was given his base on balls and was

The Corporation of the City of New Westminster has deposited with the Minister of Public Works at Ottawa and in the office of the Registrar of Deeds for the District of New Westminster, British Columbia, at New Westminster plan and description of the proposed site for laying steel pipe line or water main under the Brunette river in the Province of British Columbia, and after one month from the first publication hereof will apply to the Governor in Council for approval thereof.

Dated this Third day of October, 1910.

W. A. DUNCAN,
Clerk of the Municipal Council of The Corporation of the City of New Westminster.

BITTER LABOR WAR ENDS IN DYNAMITE

Interesting Story of Struggle Which Had Its Climax in Wrecking of Paper.

One of the most bitter labor wars in the history of unionism came to a climax with the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building on October 1, and the attempted dynamiting of the proprietor's home the day after. Denials that the unions had anything to do with either of these outrages were issued before the dust had settled on the ruined buildings, but prompt as they were, they were not as swift as the charges that leaped to the lips of a thousand people who heard the explosion. With a fortune offered as a reward for information that will discover the author of the deed, there is reason to hope that the motive of the dynamiter may yet be made plain. In the meantime, it must be said, if the murderer of the twenty people who perished in the disaster was not a labor union man, he planned the outrage with the most diabolical cunning so that the circumstantial evidence against the unions would be overwhelming.

The Citadel of the Open Shop.

For several years the unions of Los Angeles, of California, and, indeed, of the United States have been at war with General Harrison Grey Otis, the proprietor of the Los Angeles Times. The cause of the trouble was the general's determination to maintain an open shop and to accept no interference from the unions as to the hours or the wages of his printers. Being a vigorous fighter, he soon gathered round him a group of manufacturers who desired the open shop, and were ready to make war on the unions. Gradually the principle of non-unionism triumphed in Los Angeles. It became known in one camp as the "citadel of the open shop" and in the other as "the scabbiest city in America." The Times flourished exceedingly, and on account of its own merits and the great amount of advertising given in recognition of its stand on unionism by sympathetic manufacturers, became one of the finest newspaper properties in the Western States.

A Significant Denunciation.

The local unions spent $50,000 in attempts to boycott the Times out of its attitude, and then appealed to the American Federation of Labor for more funds to keep up the fight. This was in 1907, and when the federation held its annual meeting in Norfolk, Va., that year a resolution was passed strongly condemning the Times and agreeing to contribute to the campaign fund for its destruction. One paragraph is worth quoting: "Whereas the Los Angeles Times is concentrating all its energies to disrupt the unions of Los Angeles, and unless strenuously resisted and checked will destroy not only the organization of labor, but also crush the spirit of the workers for justice and right, and would befoul the good name and honor of Los Angeles," etc. Funds were voted and the fight renewed with vigor by the union men of Los Angeles.

A Notable Agreement.

About this time a new element came into the struggle. In San Francisco, where the unions have always been strong, they called for an eight-hour day instead of a nine-hour day. The manufacturers resisted, a strike ensued, and the manufacturers weakened. An agreement was entered into by which the manufacturers agreed to grant immediately a fifteen-minute reduction per day, and to arrive at an eight-hour day by quarter hour stages in their years. Thus, on August 1, 1910, the eight-hour day would be reached. The manufacturers pointed out, however, that they could not complete with trade rivals in neighborhing cities where the nine-hour day was in operation, and they told the union men that they would have to unionize the whole coast. If they failed to do so, the San Francisco manufacturers would be obliged to revert to the nine-hour day at the end of the three years.

A Price on Its Head.

Every union man on the coast was given thenceforth a personal motive to wipe out the open shop maintained by the Times. The fight went on more fiercely than ever, but Los Angeles remained staunchly non-union. Strikes took place, but were beaten. The Los Angeles city council made a by-law which is the most drastic local ordinance ever aimed at strikers. It makes the picketing of premises a penal offence, and a group of strikers loitering in the street liable to arrest. Following its example the city of Portland, Oregon, passed a similar regulation. Thus there were two citadels of the free shop where one had been before. August 1 came round and there was little prospect of the unions being able to carry out their contract with the manufacturers of San Francisco. The latter called attention to the fact and announced that they were about to go back to the nine-hour day. The unions asked for a sixty days' extension of the three-year period. The manufacturers agreed. The sixty days expired on October 1. On October 1 the Los Angeles Times building was dynamited. The case looks black for the unions; but the unions declare it looks black because it has been made black by those who have as strong a motive for destroying unionism as the unions have for closing the open shop. The possibility of a third explanation is entertained by nobody.

ST. CHARLES
EVAPORATED CREAM
There is nothing so good for the baby as St. Charles Cream. The result of analysis by prominent expert chemists shows that St. Charles Cream, when properly reduced with pure boiled water, is almost identical in every respect with human milk. It differs from other milk products in that it is sterilized by heat alone.
St. Charles Cream does not curdle when used on acidulous fruits and imparts a rich, delicate flavor. It is humanized milk. It is not only best for mother and infant—it is better than the best ordinary milk for all purposes.

UNREST IN OLD WORLD IS LESSON TO CANADA

Dominion Should Heed and Profit by Europe's Mistakes, Says King.

Toronto, Oct. 18.—The Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, minister of labor, reached the city a few days ago after an absence of eight weeks in Britain and Europe, fulfilling various missions for the government. He proceeded later to Berlin to take part in the "power" celebration there, and today will go to Ottawa.

Unrest in the Old World.

In the course of an interview at the residence of his father, John King, Grange road, prior to his departure, the minister of labor said "that his stay across the water was too short to admit of careful study of conditions. Speaking generally," he went on, "one cannot but observe a condition of unrest among the laboring classes in Great Britain and Europe. It has come about in large part through the increased cost of living, which is being felt generally, and is especially noticeable in the large industrial centres. This unrest is in part economic and in part political, exhibiting itself in strikes and retaliatory lockouts on the one side, and in an effort to secure governmental action or intervention in one form or another on the other. The workers seem anxious to test the power of organization on a large scale.

Industrial Problems.

"I attended in all four important international conferences on industrial problems. At all of these gatherings some sixteen or seventeen different nations were represented. The first was at The Hague and had to do with the problem of social insurance, such questions as old-age pensions, accident, sickness and invalidity insurance against unemployment, etc.; a conference at Brussels on technical education; in Paris on unemployment; and a meeting of the International Association of Labor Legislation at Lugano, Switzerland. The discussions at these conferences were carried on in French, German and English. In the main they consisted in obtaining from the representatives of the different countries and societies their views on papers previously prepared and distributed for consideration. In a general way one could not but feel that the old world is grappling with a class of problems which have grown out of the pressure of population upon subsistence, and which, with planning and foresight, this country should be spared for years to come. In one form or another the loss of all contact with the soil on the part of the mass of the workers, and their consequent overcrowding under artificial conditions in the large centres, seems, in the main, responsible for the class of problems, social and political, which have arisen.

A Lesson to Canada.

"There is no duty more incumbent upon those holding positions of trust in our municipalities and governments, both provincial and federal, than that of observing the unhappy and unfavorable condition in which, through apathy or neglect, large numbers of people of those older lands have been brought, and to guard, by regulation and legislation, against the possibility of similar conditions arising here. With our unpeopled areas, the variety and extent of our resources, and our ever-improving transportation facilities, it will be little short of a national crime if the condition of our workers approaches for generations to come what seems today the inevitable lot of hundreds of thousands in the old countries. Just as one observes in Europe a condition for the mass of the people far superior to that prevailing in the Far East, so, in Canada, the most casual observer must be impressed with how infinitely better than in Europe are the chances in life for every man, woman and child who has not been specially favored by birth, fortune or privilege.

To Copy Dominion Act.

"The conferences were especially valuable in the opportunity they afforded of meeting with those in other lands who have made and are making a special study of social problems. I found among the public men with whom I conversed an exceptional interest in the working of our industrial disputes investigation act, which seems to have been followed with very general interest in all the countries visited. In anticipation of what the parliaments of those countries may do, it is as well, perhaps, to omit the mention of names, but it may be of interest to Canadians to know that the ministers of not less than three European countries mentioned to me their intention of introducing measures similar to our industrial disputes investigation act, and have asked to be supplied with all available information as to the working of the measure since the time of its enactment. This information will be forwarded immediately by the department."

Technical Education.

To several questions by the reporter Mr. King answered:

"I was greatly impressed by the important part that industrial training and technical education are playing in all trades and industries, and by the important place assigned to this branch of instruction by the state in the several countries visited. The conference at Brussels was composed chiefly of a body of experts, who were concerned mainly with a consideration of the curricula of institutions having to do with the higher branches of technical training. Their discussions have been recorded, and the printed reports will be available for the consideration of our royal commission. By meeting with members of this conference I was enabled to enlist the sympathy of many present, and of the governments represented, in the work of the commission, and I think Canadians may feel that, when the members of the royal commission on industrial training and technical education visit Great Britain and Europe they will be afforded every facility for observation and information by the governments of the several countries and those directing their technical schools and colleges.

The Brussels Exposition.

"In Canada nature has been so generous in her gifts that we have come to feel that our wealth lies in her prodigality; in the older lands, where population has begun to press on subsistence, necessity has become the mother of invention, and inventive genius and efficiency in workmanship and organization and the direction of industrial processes are being looked to as the promoters and mainstay of industrial progress. In one respect this was the great lesson to be learned from the Brussels exposition. Canada's exhibit, generally and deservedly regarded as the most attractive feature of the entire exhibition, was the story of Nature's bounty to a people. There were depicted our boundless natural resources, our wheat fields, our fisheries, our great forest and mineral wealth. Germany's exhibit, on the other hand, one of the most splendid and impressive, was an object lesson of what technical skill and efficient workmanship can accomplish in developing the power and industry of a nation. With this combination—natural wealth in abundance and variety, and an industrial population highly efficient and intelligently organized—it is only a matter of time before the Dominion should be pre-eminent industrially among the nations of the world.

The Visit of the Q. O. R.

"The visit of the Queen's Own Rifles to England has had a significance in the old world which Canadians may not fully appreciate. The space devoted by the European press to the doings of the regiment, and the reception accorded the officers and men in England, was truly remarkable. It has helped to demonstrate to the world the solidarity in matters of defence of the British Empire, and the efficiency of a system which, whilst maintaining the independence of the component parts, is so organized as to admit of immediate common and concerted action. During the few days spent in England I devoted some time looking into the workings of the Labor Exchanges."

POLICE ARE CALLED TO EJECT CAT FAMILY

St. Louis, Oct. 18.—The telephone bell jangled in the chief's office at police headquarters. Barney Verheyen, assistant secretary, answered the call.

"This is Mrs. Miller, of 5656 Fairmount avenue," said a voice. "Please send a policeman immediately."

"What's the trouble?" asked Verheyen.

"I want you to eject a family from the basement of my house," said Mrs. Miller.

"How many are in the family?" she was asked.

"Seven, including the mother," was the reply.

"Do they refuse to pay rent?"

"It is not a question of rent," said Mrs. Miller. "I am speaking of a cat family which has taken possession of my basement and I wish the police would remove them."

A policeman was sent to the Miller home with a sack.

Mrs. Milton Miller lives at the Fairmount avenue address.

ELEGANCE AND FASHION.

Novel Exhibition Is Being Organized in France.

Paris, Oct. 18.—A novel exhibition is being organized by a committee at the head of which are two well known society leaders, the Marquise de Ganay and the Duchesse de Broglie. It is to be an exhibition of feminine elegance and fashion, and will be held at the Pavilion de Marsan, a part of the Louvre buildings.

In most of the international exhibitions there have been sections devoted to women's fashions, but they have been mixed up with the latest things in steam plows or cattle food. This "Salon de la Femme" will contain nothing that is not connected with the adornment of the fair sex. The first designers who have gained for Paris her position as dictator of the world's fashions will contribute to the exhibition, which bids fair to be one of the events of next year.

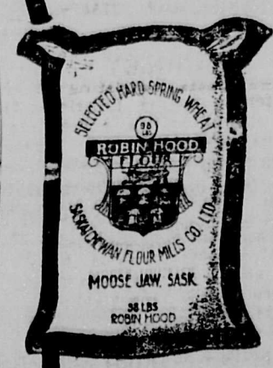
ROBIN HOOD FLOUR

WE CALL
Robin Hood Flour
"The Flour that is Different"



We must stand ready to prove it and also prove that the difference is so marked, so worth while, that you will feel this is the flour you ought to use.

That is exactly where we do stand.

We ask you to take no risk. Buy a bag of ROBIN HOOD and give it two fair trials. If it does not prove perfectly satisfactory, so satisfactory that you, too, say, "It is really the flour that is different," you may take it to your grocer and he will give you back your money.

Will you make the trial on your next flour order?

HUNDRED YEARS OF PEACE.

A committee (says The Times of London), entitled "The National Committee for the celebration of the One Hundredth Anniversary of Peace Among English-speaking Peoples," has been formed to celebrate the one hundred years of peace now nearly completed between Great Braitain and the Unitel States, Mr. Carnegie is chairman, and Mr. Taft is to be invited to become honorary president, but a brilliant young Canadian—Mr. Mackenzie King, the Minister of Labor—has the honor of making the suggestion.

It was on Christmas Eve, after long and sometimes acrimonious discussion, with much risk of the negotiations proving futile, that the Treaty of Ghent was signed, and that John Quincy Adams could write next day, as he saw the end of his labors, 'the day of all others in the year most congenial to preaching peace and goodwill to men." It will be a hundred years in 1914 since at the banquet given by the municipality to the diplomatists he was able to propose the toast of the City of Ghent, as "The City of Peace," and to express the hope that it would be the last occasion in which it would be necessary to conclude a treaty of peace between the two nations. One cannot say that the settlement was hailed with enthusiasm or even much satisfaction in either country. Few foresaw its beneficient consequences.

Since that treaty there has been peace between the two great divisions of English-speaking people, with every prospect of its permanency. The Jay Treaty of 1794 first revealed the aptitude of the two countries, angry feelings notwithstanding, to settle differences in a business-like fashion. The Ghent Treaty was a fresh proof of the instinct common to both for terminating disputes by legal methods.

The process of settling all the questions in dispute between England and the United States has been attended by some circumstances which redound to the credit of both countries. "They shown the world for the first time on a large scale how difficulties as to frontiers and the like, dependent on physical facts and legal considerations, can be determined amicably, and, on the whole, satisfactorily. If arbitration is now almost universally resorted to for the settlement of such questions; if war about purely geographical problems, the actual position of a watershed, the true continuation of a particular chain of mountains, the head waters of a river, seems nowadays absurd and wicked; if, in fact, there be a clear and reasonable hope behind that movement of the human conscience which, as Count Taube said in his speech of welcome, has brought about the meeting of another Peace Congress at Stockholm—this is due in large degree to the example set by Great Britain and the United States, first by the Jay Treaty and afterwards by the many arbitrations which followed the Treaty of Ghent.

THE HUDSON BAY ROUTE.

Engineer W. J. Clifford, who has returned from the north, having completed a year's survey of the country between The Pas and Landing Lake, a distance of some 200 miles, or nearly half that of the whole distance to be traversed by the Hudson Bay Railway, states that but little of the country surveyed by his party presents obstacles to steel-laying. He also reports optimistically with regard to the presence. Two other railway survey parties are still in the field, heading respectively for York and Churchill. With the information acquired by those three land survey parties, added to that gained by the hydrographic survey parties which are still working at the mouths of the Nelson an dthe Churchill, the Dominion government will doubtless have sufficient knowledge on hand to warrant vigorous activity next year in the whole work of opening up the Hudson Bay route.

Almost simultaneously with Engineer Clifford there returns to civilization from the north Hon. William Ogilvie, who has spent several weeks on behalf of the Dominion government in examining the falls and rapids of the Nelson and the Saskatchewan. Mr. Ogilvie reports that within a reasonable distance of the proposed location of the railway hydro-electric power is available to the extent of at least a million horsepower. He makes it quite clear that there is ample power of this kind in the Nelson and the Saskatchewan, not to speak of that in triutary streams, to operate a railway to Hudson Bay. Whatever is ultimately decided upon, it is, at any rate, very satisfactory to know that if electricity is not used for the railway, it will not be from any lack of opportunity to generate current.—Winnipeg Free Press.

The case of Sum Kum Wo vs. the city of New Westminster, an action seeking to recover damages alleged to have been caused by imperfect municipal sewerage last year, was dismissed in the county court yesterday afternoon by Judge Howay.

The cases of Draper vs. Marshall, and Draper vs. Cunningham, two actions for payment of moneys for survey work, will be heard in the county court this morning.

Mrs. J. L. Duncan and baby daughter returned to Vancouver yesterday after spending some time here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Thornber.

C. D. Sheldon, Who Ran an Investment Bureau, Did Big Business While It Lasted.

Montreal, Oct. 18.—The talk of the town today is the temporary absence of C. D. Sheldon, who for the past two years has been carrying on a private investment bureau, having accumulated no less than three thousand clients from all over Canada, paying as high as twenty per cent. in some cases to his investors.

Some days ago the local evening papers began warning the public against Sheldon's methods, asserting that there could be but one end, and that would be general disaster. A part of the public became scared, and it is said that a million dollars has been withdrawn during the past three weeks, but hundreds remain on his books.

Last evening Sheldon went to New York, and today his office hands report that he will be back on Thursday. In the meantime payments have been suspended till the promoter returns, and the local banking firm of Gerand company, upon whom the broker used to draw his cheques, also announced that Sheldon's account is closed, and will not be reopened.

His business, so it was stated on the street, reached a volume of a million a month, but that is probably exaggerated.

A day or two since Sheldon said he would allow the crown officers to examine his books, but Prosecuting Attorney Walsh intimated that it was none of his funeral, and declined to have anything to do with the matter. In the meantime the customers will be somewhat uneasy for the next two days.

Britain Warns Persia.

London, Oct. 18.—Great Britain has sent a warning note to Persia, owing to disturbances in the northern part of that kingdom.

WOMAN GIVEN SIX CENTS, HEART BALM

Detroit, Oct. 18.—Just because Alexander McIsaac, a Scotch-Irishman, asked Margaret McPhee if she would like to change her name he is obliged to pay six cents for breach of promise That was what the jury decided after a day of vaudeville in Judge Hosmer's court.

Mary is a cook and McIsaac a teamster.

Long ago they used to run barefoot together in Parkhill, Ont. They became separated, many years elapsed and at last they met at a card party. From that time on Alexander made many visits to the kitchen where Maggie worked. One night he told her he owned a house.

When next he called, January 3, 1908, there was much joking on the part of Alexander, but much seriousness on the part of Margaret. He asked her if she would like to change her name. She said she would, resigned her position and prepared a trousseau, but when the wedding day came McIsaac could not be found. Over a year later, Margaret took up a newspaper, glanced at it, fainted. There it was in black and white, the marriage license notice of Alexander McIsaac and Kate Mahoney. She would be avenged and she started suit for $20,000 damages for breach of promise.

She was awarded six cents by the jury.

WATCH REPAIRS

Probably that watch of yours is not giving you proper satisfaction. You have had it in the repair shop, but, while it is running, will not run accurately. The reason for dissatisfaction is that the man who did the repairs is either incapable or doing good work or is not conscientious in his work, or, in all probability, he is gifted with both of the faults mentioned.

We have been fortunate in securing the services of a first class watchman who has taken charge of our watch repair work. A man who will tell you the truth in regard to the condition of your watch, and will repair it properly, and, as a consequence, it will not only run, but keep accurate time.

SHAMROCKS EASY IN INDOOR LACROSSE

Westminsters Shove Ball Behind Gibbons Twenty-five Times and Let Nine By.

The great indoor lacrosse game in Vancouver last night, the first to be seen on the coast, resulted in an overwhelming defeat of the Shamrock team at the hands of the New Westminster players. The score at the finish was twenty-five to nine which is a pretty fair indication of the play.

The game was fast and interesting to watch. On account of the limited space it is a much easier proposition to score, as the result indicates. The game was played with a cheap baseball which had been hammered into softness. It was very light and this fact handicapped the players who went into the game with the usual heavy sticks.

Sandy Gray did not go to Vancouver and Buck Marshall made his initial appearance as goal keeper. He did some good work. Gibbons, at one time considered the star goal keeper of the coast, was at the other end of the building and so the magnitude of Buck's performance may be realized.

Gibbons, however, had to contend against the fastest home in existence —Pat Feeney, Len Turnbull and Grumpy Spring, all boring in on him, while Marshall was protected by Galbraith and Jimmy Gifford.

The following are the teams:

New Westminster—Goal, Buck Marshall; defence, Galbraith and Jim Gifford; center, Pat Feeney; attack, Len Trunbull and Grumpy Spring.

Vancouver—Goal, Gibbons; defence, Matheson and Clarkson; center, Green; attack, B. Murray and E. Murray.

Tom Rennie was goal umpire for New Westminster; Mose Howard kept the time and Bones Sharpe had charge of the scoring sheet.

Before the lacrosse match a couple of boxing bouts of rather an inferior order of merit were pulled off.

Building Hockey Team.

Edmonton, Oct. 18.—Manager Whitecroft, of the Stanley Cup team, has made tempting offers to Newsy Lalonde, who is at present in Vancouver, and Lester and Frank Patrick, of Nelson. Whitecroft intends having a winning hockey team this season, expense being considered no obstacle.

POLICE ATHLETES ARE BEING FROWNED UPON

New York, Oct. 18.—Mayor Gaynor yesterday declined to interfere with the order of Police Commissioner Baker refusing permission to a number of athletic policemen who wanted a leave of absence in order to take part in the Amateur Athletic union championships, which are scheduled for New Orleans this month. When Commissioner Baker refused to allow the men to take the trip, James E. Sullivan, secretary of the A. A. U., sent a letter to Mayor Gaynor asking him to grant the men a special leave of absence. The mayor sent the letter on to Commissioner Baker without comment of any kind. This means that Martin J. Sheridan, John J. Eller, Mat. McGrath, P. McDonald, J. Maguire and Simon Gillies will not compete at New Orleans.

Mr. Sullivan's letter to the mayor was an earnest plea in behalf of the athletes. He stated that the presence of these men in the championship games meant much to the city athletic interests.

"As a matter of fact," he said, "these are the type of policemen that I know you want to encourage. If all our policemen were athletes the force would be of high standard."

Mr. Sullivan also called the mayor's attention to the fact that these athletes did much in promoting games at the city's parks July 4 last, when they went from park to park giving exhibitions.

Mr. Sullivan left for New Orleans before he learned of the fate of the athletic policemen. Commissioner Baker has declared that under no circumstance will he grant the men leave of absence

Rovers to Meet Shamrocks.

The Rovers will play the Shamrocks a league game of soccer in Vancouver on Saturday. The Rovers have a first-class team, but there has been some trouble in getting players off on Saturday afternoon. The committee in charge request that employers of men on the team permit the men to get off on Saturday afternoon, as without one or two necessary men there is not much chance of them making a good showing against the strong Vancouver team

MANY IMMIGRANTS COMING NEXT YEAR

Toronto, Oct. 18.—Commissioner Coombs, head of the Salvation Army in Canada, will leave at the end of the week for the Pacific coast to look into conditions relating to next year's supply of immigrants sent to Canada from Great Britain by the Salvation Army. The Commissioner, who is still in very poor health, will be accompanied by Colonel Lamb of the headquarters staff in London, England.

Col. Lamb says that General Booth is so enthusiastic over Canadian possibilities that he is willing to send out 1000 domestics and 15,000 farm laborers during next year.

WALLOP ON THE JAW SENDS KELLEY TO SLUMBERLAND

Jack Thompson's Fist Ends Fifteen-Round Bout at Fraser Mills in Second Spasm.

In the second round of the boxing contest at Fraser Mills last night, Jack Thompson landed a chance blow on Tom Kelley and Tom could not get up again. Fred Lynch, who was the referee, was forced to give the decision to Thompson.

The bout was to have gone for fifteen rounds, but it was not to be. In the first round the boxers were rather even, Thompson having slightly the better of it. They both feinted a lot and there was a little heavy fighting.

In the second Thompson forced the fighting and towards the end of the round he managed to land on Kelley's jaw, which put him out of the running.

A fair crowd watched the fight.

Thompson will now endeavor to get a match on with some of the Vancouver exponents of the manly art. He has lots of speed and skill, nad it is doubtful if there is another fighter of his weight and class on the Canadian coast at the present time.

Cubs Again Fall Before Athletics

forced at second, Collins to Barry, on Schutle's grounder. Hofman was sent to first on balls and Captain Chance came to the plate. Both Schulte and Hofman advanced on Chance's grounder, which was too hot for Baker to handle. With the bases full Zimmerman came to the plate. On his sacrifice fly to Strunk, Schulte scored; Steinfeldt struck out. One run.

Philadelphia—Strunk, the head of the Athletics' batting list, struck out. Kling missed the third strike but got the runner at first. Lord was tossed out, Steinfeldt to Chance. Collins singled to right centre and Baker, who did such good hitting yesterday, came to the plate. Collins stole second. Baker was thrown out, Brown to Chance. No runs.

Second Inning.

Chicago—Tinker was safe at first on Davis' error, Baker making a perfect throw. Tinker was doubled up with Kling on the latter's line drive to Collins. Brown was tossed out, Collins to Davis. No runs.

Philadelphia—Davis lifted a long fly to Holman. Murphy took first on four balls. Barry forced Murphy at second, Tinker and Chance completing a double play. No runs.

Third Inning.

Chicago—Sheckard was given a base on balls. Schulte was safe at first, Davis dropping Coombs' pretty throw. Hofman was out on a pop fly to Davis on an attempted sacrifice. Schulte was given a sacrifice hit on Davis' error. Chance struck out. Zimmerman went out on a line drive to Lord. No runs.

Philadelphia—Thomas reached first on Steinfeldt's error. Coombs struck out. Strunk made an infield hit and was safe. On Lord's hit to Zimmerman Strunk was forced at second. Thomas and Lord botn scored on Collins' double to left. Lord kept going as Steinfeldt fumbled Sheckard's pretty throw to third. Steinfeldt was given an error and Sheckard an assist. Baker was out at first on Zimmerman's assist. Two runs.

Fourth Inning.

Chicago—Steinfeldt lifted a fly to Strunk. Tinker singled to centre. Tinker was an easy out by Thomas to Collins on an attempted steal. Kling struck out. No runs.

Philadelphia—Davis was thrown out at first by Tinker. Murphy lifted a high foul to Chance. Barry singled over second. On Thomas' single to right Barry took third. Coombs struck out for the second time.

Fifth Inning.

Chicago—Brown reached first on Coombs' fumble. Coombs made a second fumble and Sheckard was safe at first. Sheckard was credited with a sacrifice. Both runners advanced a base on Schulte's sacrifice to Davis, unassisted. Holman was given his base on balls. Captain Chance came to the plate with the bases full. Chance flied out to Murphy and on a beautiful throw to the home plate Brown was doubled up, Thomas getting the putout. No runs.

Philadelphia—Strunk struck out on three pitched balls. Lord singled to right, and Collins was given a glad hand when he came to the plate. Lord was forced at second, Tinker to Zimmerman, on Collins' grounder. Collins stole second. Baker was walked. Collins scored on Davis' single to left, the latter going to second on the throw-in. Murphy was thrown out at first by Tinker. One run.

Sixth Inning.

Chicago—Zimmerman was given his base on balls. On Steinfeldt's fly to Collins, Zimmerman was doubled up at first. Tinker sent the ball into the left field for two bases. Kling flied out to Strunk. No runs.

Philadelphia—Barry struck out. Thomas went to first on balls. Thomas went to third on Coombs' single to centre. Strunk struck out for the third time. Lord's high foul was taken by Chance. No runs.

Seventh Inning.

Chicago—Brown struck out. Sheckard doubled into the right field crowd. Schulte lifted a high fly to Strunk. Holman was given his base for the third time and Captain Chance faced Coombs. Sheckard scored on Chance's single to centre, Hofman being held on second. Zimmerman's grounder forced Chance, Collins to Barry. One run.

Philadelphia—Collins was given his base on balls. Baker singled to left and Collins reached third. Davis drove the ball into the left field crowd for two bases, scoring Collins and putting Baker on third. Murphy doubled in the same direction, scoring Baker and Davis. Barry sacrificed, Brown to Chance, placing Murphy on third. Thomas singled to left, scoring Murphy. Coombs out at first by Chance, unassisted. Strunk doubled to right, scoring Thomas. Sheckard muffed Lord's fly and Strunk scored. Lord was out stealing, Kling to Tinker. Six runs. During the inning the Athletics had made five hits, including three two-baggers.

Sorrow in Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—One hundred thousand supporters of the Chicago National baseball team whose spirits had been only temporarily checked by the defeat in Philadelphia on Monday, gathered at newspaper offices, around the tickers and at telephones here today, and tried to account for the second defeat of their favorities by the Philadelphia Americans.

The defeat today is agreed by all to have a much more serious effect than the Monday contest.

Gloom Succeeds Confidence.

Gloom which hovered over baseball circles settled tonight and had taken the place of confidence.

The defeat also proved more expensive to those who had bet on the result. Odds went down after the first defeat and Monday's losers wagered heavily today in an effort to get even. Here tonight even money is offered with takers that the Chicago team will win the Thursday game. Three to five that Chicago will win the series finds takers.

CHALLENGES FAT MEN TO A CONTEST OF HARD WORK

Abe Sodekson, a Boston Boy of 325 Pounds, Claims to Be Real Wizzard of Industry.

Boston, Oct. 18.—The harder he works the fatter he gets, according to Abe Eudekson, manager of his father's large furnishing house in the north end.

As Abe weighs about 325 pounds, how hard he works may be imagined when he declares that toil makes him heavier. Lots of people have laughed at Manager Abe when he said: "The harder I work the fatter I seem to get." Now just to put these jeerers on the blink Abe today issued a challenge to any fat man to meet him in a hard work contest.

Both must weigh in at 325 pounds. Then they are to go it and the man who does the most work wins. Abe issues the challenge to any man in Boston (any fat man who weighs anything like as much as he does).

Can you beat it? A fat man's working match for the champion of Greater Boston!

Abe's been a worker and a laugher all his life, and that he's only twenty-one years of age. He went to school in the north end, and he worked hard there. Then he went into his father's store, laughed, made friends, made the business grow and grew himself until now he makes the scales groan under 325 pounds of beef and brawn, for Abe is brawny.

Laugh? Why, Abe is the champion laugher of Boston. Summer and winter, rain or shine, look just alike to him and he keeps on laughing and working. He's a model manager and the way he hustles around the big store he bosses would make many a thin man pant for breath.

"I haven't missed a day's work in eight years," said Abe today, as he bared an arm that looked like the trunk of a middle aged tree. "One thing puzzles me and my friends for the harder I work the fatter I seem to get. That doesn't really matter to me, and if any man in Boston doesn't believe a fat man can work like all mischief let him call around here on a Saturday and watch me go through on the job from eight in the morning until eleven at night. I'll give the fat fellow who beats me in the race on a day's work something nice.

"I've got hobbies like anyone else. I like to have good times in general, but driving is my favorite pastime. About eating. I? I don't diet. Why should I? I like anything, and lots of it, fruit in particular.

ALASKAN ARMY HEALTHY.

Statistics Show That North Is Great Region for Health.

Washington, Oct. 18.—The 1064 soldiers stationed in Alaska were the healthiest in the army during the past year, according to the report of Surgeon Gen. Torney, submitted today.

"Alaska," says he, "still maintains its position as by far the healthiest region where the army is stationed." There were but two deaths, both from drowning, and not a case of typhoid, smallpox, measles, scarlet fever or diptheria.

CANADIAN SOCIETY TO HOUSE PIONEER RELICS

Toronto, Oct. 18.—A provincial museum for the housing of relics of pioneer days is aimed at by the York Pioneer and Historical society.

Those who are behind the project feel that now is the proper time for something to be done towards the erection of such a building in which could be gathered a creditable collection illustrating pioneer days in Canada. From time to time the society has had to decline gifts of articles because there was no place in which the relics could be kept.

The Pioneers already have the nucleus of the proposed museum in the log cabin and its contents as well as other things are now kept at the exhibition grounds. While the building will be a provincial one, collections will by no means be confined to the early days of York county, and the whole province will be scoured, and in fact the Pioneers hope to receive donations from distant parts of Canada.

The management committee of the York Pioneer and Historical society have the project in hand.

MARIE CORELLI WAS BORN MISS CODY

Hitherto Unpublished Letter Repeats Old Charges of Her English Birth.

New York, Oct. 18.—Another attack was made yesterday on the claim of Marie Corelli, the famous novelist, that she is Italian born and the daughter of Count Corelli, James Brier, formerly a prosperous business man and now living at the Mills hotel, made public a letter which he received in 1906 from Sidney Cody, a schoolmaster of Southsea, England, in which Cody claims that Miss Corelli is his sister; that he real name is Caroline Cody, and that up to the time of her first great success she did not deny her relationship with the family or that she was an English woman born and bred.

This matter of her nativity is a very sore one with Miss Corelli. She has been accused of being English before. Every time the charge has been made, however, she has flown into a great rage and insisted that it is false.

In 1906, Henry N. Cody, a brother of the Sidney Cody who has written to Mr. Brier, was found dead in a small laundry he conducted at No. 216 West Thirty-sixth street. He was supposed to have committed suicide by taking morphine. Letters found in his room indicated that he claimed to be a brother of Marie Corelli, and friends who appeared said that he had always made that claim and had been very bitter because the novelist had repudiated her family.

Among these friends was Mr. Brier, who in more prosperous days had been associated with Cody in the tobacco business. The report of Cody's claims got to Miss Corelli, and she cabled an indignant denial.

FRENCH WASHERWOMEN WENT OUT ON STRIKE

Paris, Oct. 18.—The washerwomen of the small village of Saint Pierre d'Oleron in France decided to strike and sent the town crier through the streets to proclaim that henceforth their rate was 30 cents a day with meals. The women who employed them retorted by means of the same crier that the new rate would only be paid on condition:

1. A day was to be from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m.

2. No linen was to be brought to the houses where the women were employed, to be washed.

A tumultuous meeting of the washerwomen followed and the town crier was sent forth once more to proclaim that the washerwomen had now raised their price to 35 cents a days. "Those who wish to keep clean will employ us at that price; those who do not wish to are begged to do their own washing," they added.

The matrons of Saint Pierre d'Oleron met, discussed the situation and decided to do their own washing rather than submit to such extortion.

Result: In a few days the town crier was again on the march throughout the streets giving out the following notice:

"Ladies, the washerwomen of Saint Pierre have decided after reflection to continue day work on the old terms, 20 cents a day, with meals and coffee."

DE WOLF HOPPER HELD UP BY HIGHWAYMAN

St. Paul, Oct. 18.—De Wolf Hopper, for once in his life, was unable to raise a laugh when, on his way to his hotel from the Shubert theatre, in company with his manager, A. S. Roth, the pair were confronted by a trio of masked highwaymen, who wanted money, and wanted it quick. The order "hands up" was quickly obeyed by both comedian and manager, but the thugs nearly wilted when they attempted to measure the altitude attained by the comedian with his hands pointing heavenward.

Forutnately for the pair, the thieves were satisfied with small loot, and did not seem to be angered because they got such a small amount. Neither of the men had much money in their pockets at the time.

EDMONTON WILL SPEAK TO SPOKANE BY PHONE

Alberta Government System Will Shortly Be Connected Up with B. C. and Washington.

Edmonton, Oct. 18.—People in Edmonton will soon be able to talk to the people of Spokane by telephone. It is interesting to study the map of Alberta, following the ramifications of the Alberta government telephone lines from Lloydminster and Edmonton in the north to Calgary, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat and Cardston in the south, and from Macleod westward up the Crow's Nest Pass to the boundary of British Columbia. Here connection is made on the Kootenay telephone lines with the towns of Michael, Hosmer, Fernie, Cranbrook and Moyie on the B. C. side of the Rockies.

Telephone talk will naturally be brief when it costs $3 for three minutes' talk between Edmonton and Moyie, B. C., a distance of 497 miles, while from Lloydminster via Edmonton to Moyie now costs $3.90 for three minutes' talk. No doubt the rates through to Spokane and the coast will be in the same proportion But it is worth much to be able to talk so long a distance and is much cheaper than a personal visit.

Now telephone connection is possible from Edmonton to Moyie, a distance of 487 miles. In about a month it is expected that the Kootenay telephone lines will be extended south to Kingsgate on the international boundary, where connection will be made with the Rocky Mountain Bell telephone lines through to Spokane, a distance of 659 miles from Edmonton. Then the mayors of Edmonton and Spokane can say "Hello" to each other. The opening message would surely be worth celebrating.

Through the telephone lines in the United States it will soon be possible to talk even farther than to Spokane and right through past Spokane to Seattle, Portland, Vancouver and Victoria on the Pacific coast.

It is Saskatchewan's turn next to couple up the gap between the Manitoba telephone system and that of Alberta. Then the Great West will become linked together with the magic power of the telephone and the professional and commercial men of the Great West will become better acquainted as they become more accustomed to hearing each other speak over the phone.

TWO DROWN IN BIG GAME HUNT.

Unable to Swim, They Perish in Cold Waves of Lake Kenai.

Seward, Alaska, Oct. 18.—H. B. Smith, a wealthy druggist of Norwick, Conn., who came to Alaska to hunt big game, and Alfred Lowell, eldest son of one of the founders of Seward, were drowned in Lake Kenai, Kenai peninsula, October 11, while returning from a moose hunt in the mountains. With William Walker, a guide, they were crossing the lake in a small dory and encountered a storm.

The waves swamped the boat and threw its occupants into the water. They were only 150 feet from shore, but Smith and Lowell could not swim and were helpless.

The guide, Walker, managed to reach shore. The bodies of the drowned men were recovered. That of Smith was embalmed and will be sent to Norwich for interment.

TIMES ENQUIRY BEGUN.

Coroner Begins Taking Testimony in Dynamite Outrage.

Los Angeles, Oct. 18.—The investigation into the death of those who met their fate in the dynamiting and burning of the Los Angeles Times building and plant was begun today by Coroner Hartwell. It is expected that several days will be consumed in hearing the evidence of witnesses. The first testimony to be taken was that of relatives of the dead who testified regarding incidents which would establish facts of death. In all twenty-one are known to have died in the Times holocaust. Twenty bodies were taken from the ruins. H. Churchill Elder, who was fatally hurt in escaping from the building to the street, died in a hospital.

TO BUY NEGROES' "WOOL."

Greenville, Mass., Oct. 18.—Shaved heads will be common among the colored population of the South in the future, according to plans announced by J. W. Falls, a Falls River, Miss., manufacturer, who, assisted by agents throughout the Southern states, has just launched a plan to buy up all the kinky hair available, so common to the negro race. Fancy prices are offered for the "wool," which, Falls says, is stronger and more satisfactory for certain purposes than sheep's wool, which is growing so scarce.

ACTIVITY IN RAILWAY DEVELOPMENT IN WEST

C. P. R. Wants Authority for Five New Branch Lines—Other Big Undertakings.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—Increasing activity in railway development is evidenced by the large number of applications to parliament for legislation which will appear in today's Gazette. The C. P. R. wants authority to construct five branch lines in the northwest:

From Conquest, Sask., to Asquith or Dunfermline on Pheasant Hills' branch.

From Wilkie, Sask., southerly to the Moose Jaw branch.

From Wilkie southwesterly and southerly to the Moose Jaw branch.

From Boissevain, Man., to Lauder.

From Crows Nest branch along Old Man river, about fifty-five miles.

An extension of time is asked by the C. P. R. for the construction of the following railways:

7. From Lanigan to Prince Albert.
2. From Wilkie northerly and westerly to the Lacombe branch.
3. From Outlook to Lacombe branch.
4. From Estevan to Forkward on Weyburn branch.
5. From a point in townships 6, 7, 8 or 9 westerly to Lethbridge.
6. From Teulon to Marsh Point, Authority is also asked by the C. P. R. to make a terminus of its Lauder branch at Weyburn and to increase its bonding power in respect to its Toronto-Sudbury branch.

The Manitoba and Northwestern railway desires an extension of time for the construction of the following lines:

1. From Yorkton to Prince Albert.
2. From Russell to northern or western boundary of Manitoba.
4. From between Westbourne and Beautiful Plains to Lake Dauphin or Duck mountains.
5. From between Theodore and Isinger to township 32, range 13 or 19, from Bredenbury to Kamsack.

Extension of time is asked by the Kootenay and Arrowhead railway for the line from Gerrard and Arrow Head and by way of Vancouver and Lulu Island railway for branch lines.

RALPH SMITH FETED AT NANAIMO SMOKER

Nanaimo, Oct. 18.—On the eve of his departure from the city to enter upon his sessional duties at Ottawa, Ralph Smith, M. P., was tendered a royal reception Saturday night which took the form of a smoker in the Odd Fellows hall, the attendance taxing the seating capacity of the large hall to the limit.

During the course of the evening the local member delivered an able and interesting address that was enthusiastically received, the meeting unanimously passing a resolution of confidence in Mr. Smith and appreciation of his services to the city and district in the past.

During the evening, speeches were delivered by Richard Booth, Dr. L. J. O'Brien, Captain Yates and D. Thomas and a splendid program of vocal and instrumental selections rendered.

Among those taking part in the program were Barris orchestra, Ralph Johnson, Mr. Barris, William Hart, Joseph Dobeson, Mr. Dunsmore, P. W. Spencer.

LAST BIG BUFFALO HUNT OF ALL TIME NEXT MONTH

Thirty-five Outlaw Bulls of the Pablo Herd Will Not Surrender Alive—Roundup in November.

Calgary, Oct. 18.—Who wants to go for a buffalo hunt, positively the last in all the world, and it is open to all, and there is a great chance to make some good money out of it?

Howard Douglas came in from the south last night from spending a few weeks on the Flathead reservation. He will be followed tomorrow morning by a couple of carloads of buffalo, which were loaded in the south and are bound for Buffalo park to the far north.

But those are not the buffalo that are to be hunted.

There are yet about 75 to 85 buffalo of the Pablo herd. Of that number there are 30 or 35 tough, old, lawless bandits of outlaw buffalo bulls. They have been the cause of all the trouble that the government has had in getting over the buffalo, and have led in practically all the stampedes. These old, grizzled warriors will never be taken alive, and are leading the more tractable animals astray.

Pablo has decided to shoot these fellows, and for that purpose has announced a big buffalo hunt beginning November 1. He offers a fine proposition. He is willing to take any person who desires to join in the hunt up to the buffalo. He will furnish a guide or hunter, saddle horses and everything complete, and asks for nothing but $250 when the animal is slain. These animals are from fifteen to twenty-five years of age. The head alone is worth twice that money, and the robe is worth $100. The hunter is almost absolutely sure of getting an animal because they know just where they are.

This will probably be the last buffalo hunt in the world. Already some men have signified their intention of joining in it, but there is room for very many more. Any person who wants to take this thing in had better correspond with Mr. Douglas at once.

The buffalo have turned out wonderfully well. The Dominion government thought that they were going to get 250 animals. They have already got 704 and there are a few more yet.

The Western buffalo herd is pretty close to 1000 head now, for 140 calves were born last spring.

INDIANS IMPROVING.

Condition of Redmen Becoming More Satisfactory.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—The annual report of the department of Indian affairs, issued today, shows that the general condition of the government's wards during the past fiscal year has seldom been more uniformly satisfactory. Improvement in vital statistics, morality, education, industrial conditions, agriculture, sanitation, and in a higher state of civilization generally is noted.

The excess of deaths over births, which until the past few years was steadily tending towards the gradual extermination of the redmen, is now replaced by an excess of births over deaths. Last year the births totalled 2499, and the deaths 2102, a net gain of 397. This natural increase substantiates the department's contention that no justification exists for regarding the Indian race as moribund in the Dominion. The betterment in health conditions is attributed to better sanitation, better dwellings, and the spread of education through Indian schools and through missionary effort.

The 86,769 Indians in Canada last year cultivated 54,336 acres of land, and the value of their crops totalled $1,374,815. In fishing the Indians earned $602,460; in hunting and trapping, $828,221; in wages in various interests they received $1,274,815.

Frank Pedley, superintendent of Indian affairs, notes on the report that Indian agents in all parts of the country report marked improvement among the various bands with regard to refraining from the use of strong drink.

Duncan C. Scott, superintendent of Indian education, who has just returned from his annual tour of inspection of Indian schools in Western Canada, said today: "Indians everywhere in the west are coming to be more and more producers of grain and breeders of cattle, and are doing wonderfully well as all round farmers. This is a direct result of the great benefit to them from their excellent training in the supervised boarding schools maintained by the government in connection with the various denominations."
