GREAT FUTURE FOR NEW WESTMINSTER

City Now Has Sixty-nine Industries and Many More on the Way.

There is no doubt now in the minds of observing business men, that New Westminster will in a very short time be the manufacturing city of the province.

This has often been prophesised by men who had the far seeing eye in past years, but very few believed in them and even now there are hundreds who live in the city who are quite ignorant of the marvellous growth in this direction that has taken place lately; nor are they aware of the causes that are assisting to make New Westminster the manufacturing centre.

The primary one is the cheapness of good factory sites, the others are railway facilities, water facilities and cheapness of living.

Vancouver should hold the premier position in this matter of manufacturing, but it has everything against it from the point of view of cheapness.

Waterfrontage is now almost out of the question, factory sites can only be purchased by speculators, who salve their consciences with visions of mighty works that ought to be erected on them, and the fabulous prices these same sites will fetch in the future; but the first buyer they can find, who will give them a margin on their bargain, is allowed to take the aerial factories and the sites. North Vancouver has been bidding hard for factories, but its great disadvantage is the inlet and even the promise of the second narrows bridge does not satisfy the new comers; so that New Westminster is the only place where the new industries can find a safe and reasonably cheap camping ground.

At present New Westminster has sixty-nine industries working and thirty-nine fish canneries, whilst over a dozen new industries are in course of construction. The number of factory sites sold during the past six months, most of which will soon be utilised, will bring this city away up to the top rank as a manufacturing and industrial centre.

Where some of the advantages of New Westminster advertised in the Old Country and abroad; were the prices of land, suitable for factory sites, put before the big firms who are anxious to open up works in the West, there is not a doubt that a round dozen of two more would locate here.

In an interview published sometime ago with the Hon. Edgar Dudley, who for many years was Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, he stated that whilst in England he had been told that the price of land in Vancouver was too high for business men to risk opening branches there; they preferred to go on exporting their goods, though they would have preferred the other course.

In every interview he had with business firms the same objections were put forth—land too high, living too high, risk not good enough.

As the geographical knowledge of the majority of the keen business men in the Old Country is limited, except in relation to their own particular golf course, they probably had not heard of New Westminster, or if they had, they would think it was part of Vancouver and that land values were about the same in both places, so that it would never enter their heads to inquire.

What is required is some millionaire philanthropist willing to spend a hundred dollars in circularising all the manufacturing firms who are doing business in the west of Canada. The result would send that same millionaire philanthropist's name down to prosperity as one of the makers of New Westminster.

MUCH VALUABLE MACHINERY REDUCED TO JUNK BY FIRE

Kittanning, Pa., April 14.—The power house of the Kittanning Electric Light company and the Kittanning Street railway company, a brick building covering an entire block, was destroyed by fire early today. Its contents, including much valuable machinery, was practically turned into junk. The loss is estimated at $200,000. There was no insurance.

BIG WATERFRONT SALE ON LULU ISLAND

Twelve thousand feet of waterfrontage on Lulu island was sold yesterday by the British Columbia Securities company to a local man for $26,400.

COSTA RICA IS SWEPT BY TREMORS

Earthquakes Do Immense Damage—More Vibrations Are Expected.

San Jose, Costa Rica, April 14.—A series of earthquakes, varying in intensity, has swept over Costa Rica during the past twenty-four hours, doing vast damage, the extent of which can only now be estimated at more than $1,000,000.

No Loss of Life.

So far there has been no reports of loss of life, but the people in the cities are panic stricken and are abandoning their homes for the hillsides.

Over Thirty Shocks.

In all there have been more than thirty shocks, ten of these occurring between twelve o'clock last night and three o'clock this morning.

Vibrations Continue.

Property in San Jose to the value of several thousand dollars has been destroyed, but it is feared that it will total far more than this, as the vibrations of the earth have not yet ceased.

All Business Suspended.

Today the government ordered a suspension of general business until such time as safety is assured. The banks and public institutions have been closed and trade and commerce are at a standstill.

The first shocks lasted only a few minutes and caused little alarm, but later they became more violent and even the staunchest buildings were shaken to their very foundations.

Many Slightly Injured.

In several instances weaker buildings were partially wrecked and many persons were slightly injured.

Communication between the various towns has been interrupted and details of the damage at these places are lacking.

MUST PROVIDE MORE ROOM FOR CITY SCHOOL CHILDREN

Overcrowding Problem Again Faces Board of Scohol Trustees—Extra Teacher Needed.

Overcrowding at the city schools is again troubling the board of school trustees, who find it imperative to secure additional quarters for the girls' department of the Central school, Miss Clark, the teacher in charge, having notified the board that an extra room and an additional teacher are absolutely necessary. Accommodation will be secured somewhere in the neighborhood of the school.

Before the end of the present year the youngsters receiving education at the Central school will require four more rooms, these being divided equally between the sexes. There are at the present time in the neighborhood of 800 pupils at that school, and an increase in this number is certain within the next few months.

The above condition of affairs was discussed at a meeting of the board of school trustees yesterday evening, when the need of immediate action was recognized.

The members of the board will hold a conference with the city council some time next week to discuss the extraordinary estimates.

ENTANGLED IN ROPE.

Aeronaut Is Dragged Up and Falls From Great Height.

Berlin, April 14.—Aeronaut Lorenz became entangled in the guide rope of the military balloon "M 4" as it was leaving the ground today and was carried high above the field, where he clung for a moment and then fell.

He was probably fatally injured.

The accident was witnessed by 300 members of the Prussian parliament, who had been invited to see the ascent.

Commission's Powers Limited.

Washington, D. C., April 14.—The senate today adopted an amendment to the railroad bill withholding from the Interstate Commerce Commission authority over transportation wholly by water.

STRETCHING UP NORTH.

Many Homestead Entries for Fort Churchill District.

Winnipeg, April 14.—Homesteads are now open for entry in the Fort Churchill district and the vicinity of Hudson's Bay. The Winnipeg land office has just been authorized to accept entries for lands that have been surveyed there, giving due regard to the claims of squatters and others whose right of entry has been recognized by the department. W. Beach, the first white settler to locate in that country, who has been living at Fort Churchill for some years, was the first to be granted an entry for a homestead there by the Dominion government. All mineral rights are reserved by the government for the present, no mineral locations being accepted.

HOUSE OF COMMONS STRIKES EXPECTED BLOW AT LORDS

Intense Excitement Prevails When Veto Resolutions Pass by Big Majority.—Irish Party is Allied With Liberals.—Cheers and Hisses and Cries of Traitor Add to Turbulence.

London, April 14.—Amid scenes of intense excitement hardly parallelled since the Gladstonian Home Rule debates, the house of commons tonight, by a majority of 103, recorded its approval of resolutions dealing with the veto powers of the house of lords and heard the premier's declaration of policy for carrying them into statutory effect.

Having formally introduced, amid loud cheers, his bill embodying the resolutions, Mr. Asquith said that they were confronted by an exceptionally, and perhanps an unique, situation.

The government's effective existence depended upon the passing of the resolutions into law. If the house of lords failed to accept or declined to consider their policy, the government would feel it their duty to advise the crown as to what steps were necessary to insure their policy receiving statutory effect.

It would not be right, he continued, for him to disclose the terms of that advice, but unless the government found itself in a position to give its policy statutory effect, the government would either resign office or recommend the dissolution of parliament. But in no case would he advise dissolution except under such conditions as would insure in the new parliament that the judgment of the people, as expressed at the elections, would be carried into law

The premier's statement was interrupted by cheers and counter cheers. There was much laughter from the conservative benches when he said he could not disclose the terms of his intended advice to the king.

Mr. Balfour, leader of the opposition, rose amid a considerable uproar and said that the premier's important statement represented the culmination of long negotiations with the Irish party. The nationalists had agreed to swallow the budget, their aversion to which they had never concealed, in order to get home rule.

The negotiations seemed to him to have left both parties rather poorer than they were, and the government, he declared, was paying a monstrous price for the budget. The announcement was made to meet certain undefined conditions which the government would suggest. This was nothing short of destruction of the constitution and beyond the idea of duty as entertained by any predecessor of the premier who had bought the Irish vote at the price of the dignity of his office and its great traditions, of which he, of all men, ought to be the custodian.

The speaker having adjourned the house, an uproarious scene ensued.

There were hisses and cheers and cries of "Traitor" and similar names.

While Mr. Redmond, the Irish leader appeared to be trying to reach a conservative member who had used an offensive expression, nothing serious occurred, but the demonstrations were renewed in the lobbies, where the members, especially the nationalists, lingered in excited discussion until the lights were extinguished. The Irish members appeared to be highly pleased with Mr. Asquith's statement.

CALGARY ELEVATOR IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Grain Warehouse and Contents Burned Burned to the Ground—Loss Partly-Covered by Insurance.

Calgary, April 14.—The fire fiend got busy in Calgary early this morning and as a result Elevator "B," owned by the Calgary Milling company, is now a total loss. The elevator and contents were valued at $140,000, and carried insurance amounting to $130,000.

The fire started about 2:45 a. m. At ten o'clock this morning the fire was practically out.

In the elevator at the time of the fire were 90,000 bushels of wheat 10,000 bushels of oats and 7,000 bushels of barley, besides a considerable quantity of manufactured stock.

Building operations on a new elevator will be commenced just as soon as the insurance appraisers have concluded their work on the salvage grain saved from the fire.

Two men are in jail awaiting trial on charges of robbing the main post office of $80,000 a few weeks ago.

RECIPROCITY SOUGHT IN NATURAL PRODUCTS

Elihu Root Voices Sentiments of Section of Canada and United States on Tariff Question.

Washington, D. C., April 14.—On leaving the White House today Senator Root was asked about the progress in getting Canada and the United States togethor for reciprocity.

"There is a tremendous sentiment all along the border of the two countries for reciprocity in natural products," he said. "The time has passed for reciprocity in manufactured products. Canada has adopted a policy of protection for her manufactured products, but there is unquestionably deep interest among several million people of both countries in bringing about a mutually satisfactory understanding regarding reciprocity in natural products."

Craven Stakes Winners.

Newmarket, England, April 14.—The Craven stakes of 500 sovereigns, added to a sweepstake of ten sovereigns each for starters, for three-year-olds, was won today by Lord Rosebery's Neil Gow; Wiskbroom ran second, and Tressady came in third.

Kennedy, who voiced the sentiments of the members in a neat speech.

After Mr. White had suitably responded, those present sat down to a supper in the lecture room of the church, this being followed by a social hour.

KENNY'S RESTAURANT SOLD TO A. COOPMAN

Well Known Restauranteur Disposes of His Business to Vancouver Man At a Good Figure.

Kenny's restaurant, which has flourished on Columbia street opposite the B. C. E. R. depot under its present name for the last four years, was sold yesterday to A. Coopman, a Vancouver man. The price paid was in the neighborhood of $3,000. Mr. Coopman took possession at eight o'clock last night.

The new owner formerly was proprietor of the Poodle Dog restaurant in Victoria, but for the past two or three years he has been in the same line of business in Vancouver. It is understood that he will make some alterations to the building, and will install some new fixtures.

J. M. Kenny, who built up a fine trade during the last four years, has not yet decided what he will do. Before making any definite arrangements he will visit his parents, who live near Winnipeg. He also has some interests in Manitoba which require his attention.

Asked by a News reporter if he was going to leave the city for good, Mr. Kenny gave an emphatic denial. "New Westminster looks good to me," he said.

GALLANT PASTOR MAKES APPEAL FOR ASSISTANCE

Cleveland, April 14.—Paid $15 a month, Rev. Thomas L. Frazee, pastor of the Clark Avenue Freinds' church, has contributed his salary to pay off a mortgage on his church and earns a living for himself and family as a mechanic in a motor car works.

These facts became known here through issuance by Mr. Frazee of a public appeal to save his church from foreclosure of mortgage. When the clergymen took charge of his congregation it had dwindled to seventy-five persons and there was a debt on the church of $5,000. Through his efforts the debt has been reduced to $2,500, which must be paid before May 1. Mr. Frazee has raised $1,000 but finds himself at the end of his resources.

Wilson, general deputy of the National Union for the district of California, lies in a local hospital, suffering terrible agony from the burns on her face and neck. She may lose both eyes.

The police are making an effort to locate a student whose attentions have been objectionable to the girl. Miss Wilson was a student at the Lowell High school until recently and was noted for her beauty.

INVESTIGATION INTO A. & G.W. DEAL IS

Warrant May be Issued for Important Witness—Counsel Goes Into Details.

Edmonton, April 14.—It is possible that a warrant will be issued for the apprehension of Minty, who is the witness in the Alberta & Great Waterways railway case, and who did not show up when the investigation reopened yesterday. Minty is still under subpeona, and if found in the province may be compelled to attend.

Characterizing the action of Minty as gross contempt of court, and the action of Clarke, in refusing to attend after declaring he would be on hand, as a gross breach of faith, Walsh, who is chief counsel for the investigation, this morning gave a recital of the various matters which he was endeavoring to prove and in which the evidence of Clarke and Minty would be absolutely necessary.

He would attempt to prove that the Alberta & Great Waterways Railway company was a myth and that the Canada Western Construction company was a myth. He would attempt to prove that out of the seven millions authorized capital only $50,000 was paid nominally, but that it represented sleight of hand bookkeeping. That a similar amount was placed to the credit of Clarke, thus balancing off the account. The contract had been made with the Canadian Western company where that company was to construct the road. He intended to prove that the Alberta & Great Waterways railway had made an assignment to the Canadian Western company of the $7,400,000, now in the banks.

Counsel present were in accordance with the remarks of Walsh, who said he would proceed with the investigation as far as possible without the presence of Clarke and Minty.

J. K. Cornwall, one of the incorporators of the Athabasca Railway company, was the first witness in the main enquiry. He related incidents which led up to his efforts to organize the railway company, saying that he was anxious to get a railway into the north. The incorporators of the company were A. C. Dobell, of Quebec; Isaac Darling, of Exeter; Fred. Ross, and Senator Roy, of Edmonton, and Cornwall.

In October, 1906, Cornwall gave an option to Faulkner, of Toronto, on the charter for the sum of $2,500 cash, which Cornwall says he received, and for a further sum of $2,500 cash on that amount in stock.

The agreement was produced on which the syndicate was organized to take over the option. The following names and amounts appear:

Cornwall, $2,500; Hawes, of Toronto, $1,200; Faulkner, $1,000; R. B. Davidson, $3,300; Sutherland, $1,200; Woodman, $500, and Ross, $100.

Another agreement wherein Hawes and Cornwall alone appeared was also produced, showing that Cornwall was relied upon to get the guarantee of bonds or subsidy from either the provincial government or the Dominion government, and in consideration of getting which he was to receive $544,000 in paidup stock in a syndicate made up of a capital of $2,000,000.

Cornwall made an effort to get local men interested that their names might have weight in getting the necessary guarantee. McDougall and Secord, Gariepy, Morris and Revillon, of Edmonton, were asked, but Cornwall said McDougall wanted the control and blocked the proceedings because he could not get it.

Cornwall said that he and Hawes and Falkner and McDougall waited on the provincial government to get the guarantee but were turned down.

H. G. WELLS, ARTIST, TAKES LIFE SERIOUSLY

London, April 14.—H. G. Wells, who has had his say about American civilization, takes life far more seriously than many of his fellow artists. A Socialist of an order particularly his own, Wells does not care a rap for notoriety, and resents distinctions between man and man based on differences of attainment and social position.

But there are limits to his imagination, as the following story shows: Not long ago, according to Miss Constance Smedley, an old friend of the family was playing "lions" with the two small boys. When the "lion" turned on the ardent hunters, they fled squealing to a place of refuge. "I can't feel any of that," said Wells, watching his children. "That sort of thing is something I have never been able to imagine." The fact is he can't envisage himself as any sort of "lion," and believes in being the brother man of Tom, Dick and Harry.

AGNES CAMERON SPREADS GOSPEL OF LAST WEST

Woman Lecturer Meeting With Good Reception in British Isles—Is Widely Quoted.

"Canada is a country with a meagre past, a solid present, and an illimitable future. She is the last unstaked empire under a white man's sun—where wilderness and man are meeting. * * * The mind reels and the imagination staggers in thinking of the future of this rich land. God has intended this to be the cradle of a new race, a race born of the diverse entities now fusing in its crucible. In point of population Canada begins the 20th century where the United States began the 19th. The race is ours to run."

Thus speaks Miss Agnes Cameron, a Canadian who has just completed what is, without doubt, the most remarkable journey ever accomplished by woman, says the South Wales Daily News of March 14. Starting from Chicago last May Miss Cameron, accompanied by her niece, Miss Jessie Cameron Brown, travelled for six months, reaching Canada's "farthest north" and covering in that time over 10,000 miles. The two travellers are just now in Cardiff, and on Saturday Miss Cameron told her story to one of our representatives. She spoke with the enthusiasm of one who knows, and believes in her native land. It has been said that, what Rudyard Kipling has done for India Agnes Deans Cameron is doing for Canada, and her book "The New North," is already in large demand.

Miss Cameron and her companion fraternised with Indians of many tribes, the Crees, Chipewyans, Dog-Ribs, Beavers, Yellow Knives, Souchieux, and Slavis, eating with them, talking round the camp fires, tramping with them on the trail, sleeping in their tepees. They were six weeks on the Peace River, tracking up that mighty stream in open boats and sleeping under the sky-line. They made thorough traverse of Lake Athabasca and of Great Slave lake, being the first white woman to set foot at two points on these great inland seas. Fond du Lac, the eastern extremity of Lake Athabasca, and Fort Rae, on the north shore of Great Slave lake.

Miss Cameron hunted and fished (her own rifle won her a fine pair of moose antlers) and learned the possibilities of the soil from the farmer who raises wheat under the Aurora Borealis. She came across a herd of 400 to 500 wood bison, probably the last unconfined herd of buffalo in the world.

"Their wandering northward from the north and limited prairies," says Miss Cameron, "has not only saved them from extinction, but has developed in them resistance and robust vitality."

"My great desire," she said, "is to call attention to the great unoccupied lands of Canada, to induce people from the crowded centres of the Old World to use the fresh air of the New. Why? Because Canada has 200,000,000 of arable acres south of the Saskatchewan. North of this river, in the pleasant valleys of the Peace are 100,000,000 acres more. The beauty of this Western Canada is that it holds out opportunities to every plucky lad who has initiative, and who is willing to work; nothing is stratified, the whole thing is formative. This land stands ready to produce bread for the nations. Nature has done her part, now man must do his. The two greatest needs of Western Canada today are transportation and immigration."

CHICAGO JUDGE PLANS TO UPLIFT INEBRIATES

Recommends That Quiet Drunkards Be Not Jailed, but Escorted Home by Police Officers.

Chicago, April 14.—It is right to class a drunken man as a criminal?

Municipal Judge McKenzie Cleland gives an emphatic "no" to the question and has set on foot a movement for the uplift of the drinking man.

Here are some of the recommendations he set forth yesterday in a letter to Mayor Busse:

"That every intoxicated man who is merely helpless and not noisy or disturbing the peace be accompanied to his residence by an officer instead of being locked up in a police station.

"The purpose of a police department should be to do the most good for the greatest number of persons.

"It will promote a spirit of kindness rather than revenge. To arrest a man for drunkenness only savors of revenge.

"For a man to be brought home by an officer will have as great a moral effect as to take him to a police station."

MOMENT'S FLIRTATION COSTS FRANTA $1,000

Chicago, April 14.—One thousand dollars was the price paid by Franta for a moment's flirtation with a number of pretty girls in front of a five- cent theatre at Blue Island avenue and Throop street last night, when in pulling out a handkerchief to wave at them, he accidentally drew out a roll of paper money amounting to $1,000, the savings of five years. Franta told the police at the Canalport avenue station that he had been afraid to place the money in a bank and carried it wrapped in a cloth and tied with a string.

In pulling out the handkerchief he must have pulled the money out with it but failed to notice his loss. He had walked two blocks from the scene. Then he returned to the spot where he had pulled out the handkerchief and found the cloth and the string but the money was gone.

ACCOSTED AS "BROTHER" WHITE FLOORS NEGRO

Alton, Ill., April 14.—Luke Valley, a giant negro, was a firm believer in the brotherhood of man until last night, when he addressed a white man as "brother" in a casual conversation. When he picked himself up from the recumbent position he assumed immediately afterward, he found himself leading a crowd of fifty white persons by about three feet while cries of "lynch him" spurred his flying feet to maintain his lead.

The crowd grew as the chase progressed and someone furnished a rope. Luke hunted in vain for a policeman, and in desperation dashed into a cafe. There he found two policemen at lunch and they held back the crowd until reinforcements arrived.

His injuries are not serious.

TRIFLES CULLED FROM THE ADVANCE SHEETS

"The Red Mill" which shows here tonight, is said to have the prettiest and most graceful chorus that has ever left New York, and, strange to relate, they can sing.

* * *

The smallest item of detail which enters into "The Red Mill" is provided by the management. All the scenery, costumes, properties, furniture and the dozens of odds and ends are carried intact.

* * *

One of the cleverest bits of stage impersonation is that of Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson by Bert O. Swor and Franker Woods. It is said that William Gillette complimented them highly for their clever interpretation of the two eccentric characters portrayed in "The Red Mill."

* * *

Swor and Woods in "The Red Mill," make eight complete changes of character nightly. They first appear as two American tourists, then as waiters, Italian troubadours, Sherlock Holmes, Dr. Watson, Fifth Avenue chappies, broken down tragedians, Bowery toughs, and, finally, in evening dress.

* * *

The escape from the mill by means of the revolving fans is the climax of the first act in "The Red Mill." No more inspiring picture has ever been shown than when Con Kilder, supporting the Burgomaster's daughter by the waist, his right hand grasping the blade, slowly descends with her to the stage, where both make their escape. It is so intensely melodramatic as to win curtain calls without number.

CANADIAN NORTHERN QUESTIONS DISCUSSED

London Times Interviews William Mackenzie on Matters Affecting Canada.

William Mackenzie, the president of the Canadian Northern railway, arrived in London on Tuesday morning, having crossed by the Lusitania from New York to Fishguard.

Steps are about to be taken towards the creation of a third railway across the Dominion from the Atlantic to the Pacific, which is the ultimate aim of the Canadian Northern. The president, in a statement made soon after his arrival said that in Ontario the line from Toronto eastward to Ottawa would be finished this autumn as far as Trenton, in the heart of the apple growing district north of Lake Ontario. The line from Toronto in the opposite direction is making good progress. The line is eventually to run round the north shores of Lake Huron and Lake Superior to the head of navigation at Port Arthur, whence the main line already runs to Winnipeg and straight across the prairie to Edmonton. On this lake section, the "head of steel" is now about 60 miles beyond Sudbury and there is already a large traffic in timber as well as iron. On the western prairies about 600 miles will be added this year to the company's numerous lines. The construction of the proposed main line from Edmonton to the Yellowhead Pass, a distance of about 240 miles, will be actively proceeded with. This year will also see the beginning of the new line of 500 miles across British Columbia, slanting down from the Yellowhead Pass to the city of Vancouver, through the valley of the Thompson river, the British Columbia legislature having voted a financial guarantee to the extent of $35,000 a mile. In connection with this scheme a train ferry will be established from the mouth of the Fraser river to Victoria, the provincial capital on Vancouver island.

Mr. Mackenzie confidently expects that the long hoped for railway from the prairie to a port on Hudson bay, opening up an entirely new ocean route between the Canadian northwest and the British isles, will be running within three years. The Canadian Northern company already have a line built in that direction as far as the Pas on the south bank of the Saskatchewan river. It is understood that the Dominion government will this year build the necessary bridge across the river. It remains to be seen whether the government or the country will build the railway on from the river to the bay.

Canada and the Empire.

As to the progress of the Canadian west in general Mr. Mackenzie predicts that within five years the wheat production of the country will reach 300,000,000 bushels. The wave of immigration from the United States is rapidly rising. Last year 90,000,000 immigrants arrived from the United States, bringing with them capital estimated at $90,000,000. This year as many as 200,000 are expected and large sales of prairie land are taking place. If the United States government decides to levy its higher customs duties on Canadian products, Mr. Mackenzie considers that Canada will not be seriously inconvenienced. As to the increase of American products coming into Canada, an increase considerably greater than that of Canada's imports from the mother country, he pointed out that the Americans are not only close at hand, but "come right after the business."

Mr. Mackenzie expressed very strong sympathy with the cause of tariff reform in the mother country. Our delay in setting about this business might have deplorable consequences. "Preference," he said, "is not so essential to the colonies as it is to the empire as a whole. The question is, in fact, whether we are to be an empire or not. The present imperial parliament is too much occupied with local affairs. I should like to see each part of this kingdom with its local legislature, as well as a central parliament—like our provincial legislatures and federal parliament—and to crown all, a truly imperial parliament, in which the whole empire would be fully represented. There will not be the slightest difficulty in deciding what matters belong to the imperial and what to the local authorities." Canada, he added, should help materially in the naval department of the empire. All the warships that Canada might contribute he would like to see built in the Dominion but that would take too long. Wherever they were built they should be a unit of the imperial navy; there must be only one navy for the empire.—London Times.

MONKEY GETS A SALARY.

Jocko, the monkey who plays a very important and conspicuous role in "The Red Mill," is perhaps the only monkey in the world who is playing in a musical comedy who actually gets a salary. Jocko's name is on the pay-roll. His money is put into an envelope and it is handed to him just as though he were a man. He knows when the "ghost walks" as well as any other member of the company, and he takes his pay envelope eagerly, and it is a difficult matter for his keeper to get it away from him in order to put the money in the bank.

Of course, Jocko has a keeper. This keeper travels with him all the time, looks after his wants and keeps him in line. He is also paid a salary, but his money is separate from that of his charge. Jocko even has a bank book made out in his own name, and all the money he earns is placed to his credit, and is subject to his signature, per his keeper.

INTEREST TAKEN IN THIS PROVINCE

Men in Touch With Big Capitalists See Big Future For British Columbia.

Victoria, April 14.—Frank E. Doesburg, of New York City, formerly private secretary to United States Senator Smith, of Michigan, and a representative of the younger school of public men, is today a guest at the Empress hotel, having just returned from an extensive exploratory trip up into Central British Columbia. Mr. Doesburg is closely in touch with the financiers who are behind the British Columbia and Alaska railroad project, and who will put two parties of surveyors in the field to run their reconnaisance lines at the end of the present month. The road, it is expected, will be completed during the next three years.

Chatting of his recent trip through a part of the province first visited by the white man, and which only now seems to be coming into its own, Mr. Doesburg said yesterday:

"There is probably no section of the North American continent today that holds so much of interest to the general investor from any part of the world, as British Columbia, and in my humble opinion British Columbia is about the last place in North America where there can be such opportunities to make money, not only out of the rapidly enhanced values of lands, but also in the great industries of mining, lumbering, stock-raising, and hundreds of other pursuits by which energetic men accumulate fortunes in new countries.

"Tons of freight, including mining machinery, farming implements and merchandise of all sorts are now being shipped into Central British Columbia. Thousands of settlers are on the move towards that country, especially to the locality of Fort George, and large areas of land are staked in the knowledge that there will be a great demand for this rich soil.

Capitalists Coming.

"The New York capitalists who have a charter from the Provincial legislature to build a railroad through Central British Columbia from Vancouver to the boundary line on the north—the British Columbia and Alaska railway— will, I am convinced, open up the richest agricultural, mineral, timber and coal lands on this old earth. I know some of the directors of this company personally, and they are men of high standing, amply qualified to construct, equip, and operate this line with the latest and best rolling stock that money can buy, as they have an unlimited amount of capital at their backs. Jean Wolkenstein, the general manager of the company, is a wealthy banker, and a man who has been very successful in all his undertakings."

Mr. Doesburg said further that British Columbia will have in a few years established its claim as the best field for investment in the world, holding out, as it does, great inducements to capital, while its climate and potentialities are unapproachable.

"I have been very much impressed with the cities of Vancouver and Victoria," said Mr. Doesburg. "I can see wonderful changes in your business district, as well as in the residential sections, even since I was here four months ago.

"Vancouver has one of the best harbors in the world, and few seaports enjoy such congregated natural advantages as it possesses. Not only will Vancouver be the greatest port of entry on the Pacific coast, but it will become one of the world's great railway centres as well. One of the best moves that Vancouver has ever made was the other day when the city ceded to the Great Northern railway forty-seven acres of the tideflats, in order to furnish the road with adequate terminals, it being made a condition that the company erect on the acquired property a suitable union passenger station at a cost of $1,500,000, which is to be for the use of all the railroads that are to reach Vancouver at any future time. Vancouver is the gateway of the whole world—greater and richer in promise than New York, because it has behind it the untold wealth of farm and mine and forest, with all the world for its market.

"Victoria, too, is bound to be a large city. Much building activity is apparent here, and it will continue to increase daily. This is a beautiful city and your climate cannot be excelled anywhere. You have excellent roads for motoring and the scenery here on the island is indescribably charming. In no other city on the coast does one see so many splendid horses or such fine equipages."

CHILDREN ARE PARROTS.

New York, April 14.—"Every bit of so-called knowledge imparted to a child under ten years of age in mathematics and history, or in any theoretical subject, is a waste of time and is completely lost. Children are parrots; they have no reasoning power up to that age and the educational system which tries to impart such knowledge to the child mind is worse than foolish."

Dr. George H. Wynkoop of this city, who has made a special study of the child mind, has arrived at the foregoing conclusion. "Let children have more manual training," he said. Let the boys carpenter and the girls sew, or use the typewriter. By the way the typewriter is an excellent thing for children to learn their letters and words on. Where ordinarily it would take a child a long time to learn his letters and to write them down, he is so interested in the mechanical process of the typewriter that he is no time in learning the letters and in copying anything that may be given to him.

"How many grown-up boys and girls can tell you anything at all that they have learned in school before the age of ten? How much history do they know; what have they remembered of arithmetic? Absoluately nothing. It has all been waste of time. A good trade of any sort—no matter how humble—is of more value that a college education. As it is, most young men's and young women's educations are nothing but a hodge-podge that is worse than no education at all."

FRIDAY, APRIL 15, 1910.

THE CITY'S CELEBRATION.

We are not at all surprised that the carnival scheme put forward by Mayor Lee did not find favor with the people of New Westminster. A carnival qua carnival is all very well in its way. As an institution of beauty and joy in some of the historic cities of southern Europe and at such places on this continent as Portland, the carnival is to be respected, enjoyed and admired. But to hold a gala in this city, with a whole crowd of noisy shows as an attraction, in celebration of the completion of the city improvements, would be a sorry, debasing way of marking so happy an occasion.

New Westminster citizens are content to tolerate the annual invasion of the occupants of "Sockeye Row," at Queens park, with their blatant cries, their raucous ravings and various ear splitting contrivances, as part and parcel of the fun of the fair at the exhibition of the R. A. & I. society. But they very properly decline to have this kind of pandemonium inflicted upon them, with all its attendant evils, in the shape of crooks, thugs and such like folk, as a means of celebrating so pleasing an occasion as the transformation of our city into a place of beauty.

But Mayor Lee may yet retrieve his error of judgment, if he will, and accomplish the object he has at heart, which, after all is, in itself, certainly commendable. Let him project a scheme imbued with some sense of feeling and artistic fitness for the celebration of our city's assumption of her new and brighter robe of beauty. This might fitly take the form of a pageant representing the chief events in the fifty-one years history of New Westminster. Such a festival would serve to mark the attainment of her quinquagintal period and her present day improvements at one and the same time. The beauty of her position and natural surroundings, and the character of her physical formation would contribute effectively to the successful carrying out of this pageant in the Royal City. We have men, women and youth in plenty to play the parts in the various scenes, as well as the talent to plan and provide all the necessary appurtenences thereto. We are quite as well circumstanced in all respects for the carrying out of a festival of this kind as the city of Quebec, where so successful a celebration was held last year, and the story of New Westminster, if not so momentous in the history of the Empire, has nevertheless an importance and an interest of its own. There need be no undue haste about the presentation of the pageant. That it does not exactly correspond with the opening of the new Columbia street in its completed state would matter little. July would perhaps be the best month for the celebration and that would give nice time for the necessary preparations to be made.

FEMALE JEKYLL-HYDE TAKES POISON ROUTE

St. Louis, April 14.—Mrs. Catherine Farmer, known in Crystal City, Mo., as the demure wife of a railroad clerk and in St. Louis, Denver and other cities as a dashing beauty, whose gowns and jewels created a sensation wherever she went, ended a checkered career Friday, it became known today, by taking strychnine, at her home in Crystal City.

She was buried Saturday in Edwardsville, Ill., her friends supposing death to have been caused by heart disease. The death certificate, recorded today, showed she committed suicide.

Her first husband was a farmer. After separating from him she married Edward C. Arkins, of Denver, son of a millionaire. She divorced him and a year ago married Farmer.

SALESGIRLS QUIT JOBS WHEN ONE IS DISCHARGED

Walla Walla, April 14.—When Manager Hayhurst, of the Walla Walla Cloak and Suit House, discharged pretty and popular Miss Edith Stevens, yesterday he precipitated a strike, for all the young women in her department put on their wraps and walked out with her. Seven of the salesgirls took the part of their fellow clerk, and the manager today is endeavoring to fill their places, but so far without success.

Miss Stevens had a dispute with Mr. Hayhurst which ended in her discharge. The other girls warmly seconded the young woman's side of the question and most willingly went on strike.

A further consignment of the world's best typewriters has just arrived. Call and see them at 746 Columbia street, three doors from the B. C. E. Ry car station. **

LABOR PARTY SCORES A DECIDED VICTORY

Australians Send 45 Laborites to Parliament, and Only 27 Fusionists.

Platform of Parties.

Sydney, New South Wales, April 14.—The elections to the federal parliament have proved a complete surprise even to the closest political observers. Alfred Deakin, head of the coalition party, has been defeated by the labor opposition, which has gained an overwhelming majority. The following are the complete returns as announced.

Labor, 45; fusionists, 27; independents, 1; independent liberals, 2.

At the dissolution of parliament the parties stood:

Fusionists, 44; labor and independent liberals, 31.

The labor party captured nine seats in Victoria, five in New South Wales, and one each in Queensland and Southern and Western Australia. The fusionists captured one seat in West Australia. In the senatorial elections the labor candidates are leading in all states except Victoria.

The program on which the laborites fought was:

Protection and state-regulated wages; compulsory military service; Australian navy built out of revenue; nationalization of monopolies; graduated land tax; restriction of public borrowing, and insurance against unemployment.

The fusionists, on the other hand, placed before the electors:

Upholding of the federal union; maintenance of the policy of protection; amendment of the electoral roll; establishment of a white Australia; development of naval and military forces; assumption by Commonwealth of state debts; economy in public expenditure, and direct responsibility of members to the people for their votes and actions.

The great outstanding question between the two parties was the proposal of the now defeated government (bitterly condemned by the labor party) to embody in the constitution a provision for the annual payment by the Commonwealth to the individual states of 25 shillings per head on the latter's population. This proposal has reference to the regulation of finance between the federal and provincial governments.

TRAINS ANNOY WOMAN; ERIE RIPS UP TRACKS

New York, April 14.—To check the noise, which interferes with the peace and quiet of the Harriman estate at Arden, the Erie railroad is building new tracks and altering the routing of many of its les simportant trains.

Mrs. Edward H. Harriman, widow of the financier, requested that the shortest route of the Erie, just under the mountain estate at Arden, be abandoned because of the noise the trains made. The railroad company could not see its way clear to take this step, but agreed to ameliorate conditions by stopping the switching in the vicinity and sending as many trains as possibie over the other route.

NO MORE "RATS."

Nurses in Ottawa Hospital Forbidden to Wear Them.

Ottawa, April 14.—There is quite a stir among the nurses at one of the local hospitals. There are to be no more "rats" worn by nurses in the Ottawa General Hospital, Water street. An edict has gone forth recently which forbids the wearing of these articles of apparel by any nurse in training within the walls of that institution, and as a result they have all been discarded. A "rat," in case any male reader should not know, is the technical designation of a sort of pad made of hair, and which is used to support the generous coiffures affected by the women of today.

Recently, it will be remembered, it was announced in despatches that a girl had contracted leprosy from the wearing of one, and this probably helped to make up the minds of the hospital authorities. The rule is one which is in force in many hospitals on the other side of the border, and will probably be adopted in the rest of the local institutions.

HIGH GRADE CLOTHING OFFERED AT COST

For seven years the late Thomas Foster conducted in Vancouver a retail clothing business second to none in Canada for size and completeness of detail.

The Fit-Reform stores have a provincial reputation, the Semi-Ready stores a national reputation for quality.

In order that the estate of the late Mr. Foster may be closed up, the extensive stock contained in the stores at 333 Hastings street and 335 Hastings street, Vancouver, amounting in all to $50,000 or over, has been thrown on the market at a great sacrifice. The prices which are to predominate during the sale makes it possible for you to purchase a suit of clothes, overcoat, raincoat, pair of pants, or a fancy vest, at practically the cost of material and workmanship, which price is a great deal below the usual retail price.

As an advertising feature of this gigantic sale, which opens on Saturday morning, April 16th, at 8 o'clock, the management have decided to give away, absolutely free, one suit of clothes to the first purchaser, one pair of pants to the second purchaser and a fancy vest to the third purchaser. Come to the store at 8 o'clock, you may be one of the lucky ones.

Arrangements have been made whereby the store will be open from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m. every day. This will give every person an opportunity to take advantage of this sale of clothing at slaughtered prices. **

12,000 PERSONS FACE DEATH BY STARVATION

New York, April 14.—That 12,000 persons are starving in Armenia and will die unless outside help reaches them before the next harvest season, two months hence, is the information conveyed in a cablegram received here by the American Relief association.

In the appeal sent out by the association, it is said that $500 has been forwarded and that $10,000 more is needed.

Banker Is Not Sanguine.

London, April 16.—Presiding today at the general meeting of the Colonial bank, Edward Brodie Hoare, director of Lloyds' bank, said he was not sanguine of anything resulting from the investigation of the West Indian trade commission. He could not see how it could be possible for Canada to make separate arrangements with the islands.

MODERN JEW CLAIMS JESUS AS HIS OWN

Chicago, April 14.—"The modern Jew claims Jesus for his own and is proud to acknowledge him as a member of his race."

This was one of the statements made by Dr. Emil G. Hirsch, of Sinai Temple, in a sermon in the First Congregational church at Maywood last night.

"Contrary to popular opinion, the Jew is not commercial by instinct," said Dr. Hirsch. "It has only been through hundreds of years of persecution, during which the Jew was forced to congested districts of cities, that he was compelled to take up commercial pursuits.

"It is just as ridiculous to say 'as rich as a Jew' as it would be to say as rich as a Baptist,' simply because John D. Rockefeller is of that denomination.

"By nature the Jew is poetic."

It is said that this gang has disposed f hundreds of tickets at prices rang- g all the way from $10 to $100, and so has sold transportation between ew York and San Francisco.

These tickets are worthless, and the ang is believed to have cleaned up large sum during the few days it as been at work.

"LA BELLE OTERO" FOND OF GAMING

Paris, April 14.—"La Belle Otero," clad in a superb Indian foulard costume of the spring fashion and flashing with a selection of her choicest diamonds, appeared in the witness box of a Paris police court the other day, when a police commissary described how he raided a gambling den in the Rue Taitbout, called the "Sport Aviation Club," and found the pool under an inverted basin and "La Belle Otero" in a cupboard.

The celebrated dancer gave her Christian name as Caroline and her age as 32. She candidly admitted that she went to the Aviation club three or four times during its brief existence of a week, "because she liked gambling." To the magistrate's question whether she won or lost Mlle. Otero pensively replied: "When one gambles one always loses."

"And is it true that when the club was raided you were found in a cupboard?" the magistrate asked. "Such is the case," she answered with dignity.

"Mr. McCann" Wins Steeplechase.

AEROPLANES MAY BECOME GOVERNMENT'S PROPERTY

New York, April 14.—An outfit of French aeroplanes may become government property by seizure if litigation over them is not settled soon. Attorneys for Louis Paulham, the French aviator, said today that they had been notified that the four aeroplanes which Paulham used in his flights on the Pacific coast and in the West would be seized by the United States if they were not taken back to France by April 25.

After Paulham left New York the machines were attached by Edwin Cleary in a suit for breach of contract and have since been in the custody of the sheriff. Recently Madame Paulham, wife of the aviator, made application to the courts for the release of the machines, asserting they were her property.

CHAMBERLIN CUP GAME.

Editor Daily News.

Sir: In your report of the billiard match played Tuesday night at this club between teams from New Westminster and the National Sports club, Vancouver, some misstatements occur with reference to the game between Grant, of New Westminster, and Robinson, of Vancouver.

I was referee of the game in question and watched its progress very attentively, particularly the shot in dispute. The cannon was not made, and the majority of the spectators agreed with my decision.

Grant did not refuse to go on with the game, which stood 149 to 106 in favor of Robinson. Grant visited the table twice afterwards and added three points to his score. Robinson then make a break of 30 points, the scores standing, Robinson 179 and Grant 109. It was at this stage of the game that Grant refused to finish the game.

PHILADELPHIA STRIKE DISTURBANCES RENEWED

Sympathizers Attack Cars in Northern Section of Quaker City—Police Forced to Use Clubs.

Philadelphia, April 14.—Crowds of sympathizers of striking employees of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company attacked cars in various parts of the northern section of the city today and the police had considerable trouble in dispersing disturbers. Clubs were freely used and in some cases policemen were compelled to threaten the crowds with revolvers.

At numerous points in Kensington, where the train stopped which had Mayor Reynolds on board, who was on a visit to that part of the city, he was recognized and jeered. The inspection trip was cut short.

CHORUS GIRLS HURT WHEN AUTO UPSETS

Los Angeles, April 14.—Eleven persons, chorus girls and attaches of a local theatre, were injured when an automobile was ditched early this morning in Pasadena. Bessie Zeliner and Grace Taylor, of a local theatre, were the most severely injured, although not seriously.

The accident was the result of another, P. W. Turnbull, of Pasadena, had alighted from a street car and the automobile struck him a glacing blow. The driver turned around to see what had happened and lost control of his car, which swerved into a ditch and overturned.

FATE OF BOOKS HANGS ON ENGLISH POLITICS

London, April 14.—Disquieting rumors of another general election are in the air. The busier political spellbinders get the fewer are the books sold in Britain, where the public can only pay attention to one thing at a time. If this rumor proves correct it will mean bad business alike for authors and publishers, especially for the lighter class of goods. Experience shows that people weighted with the brief authority of a vote cannot easily unbend over a frivolous theme. Though more than one politician takes a refreshing nip of Mark Twain tonic, there is no English brand of humor, except that of W. W. Jacobs, that is then in demand.

When political crises are anticipated publishers with important books in the press are obliged to leave the date of publication an open question. If another general election does convulse England before summer is over there will be an unprecedented glut of books at the fall season. There will then be a struggle for survival, much to the benefit of publicity agents.

Under such circumstances new poetry, except of the very best sort will have no chance. The first-class article, even, is always a difficult proposition. Apropos of this, Meredith once, when writing to J. Comyns Carr, said: "As to publishing books of verse, I have paid heavily for that audacity in pounds sterling. I had for audience the bull, the donkey and the barking cur."

CRUSADE AGAINST CONSUMPTION

The year 1909 will be marked in the calendar as a red letter year in the history of the crusade against consumption. The movement received a great impulse from the congress of distinguished physicians which was held Washington, U. S., in the autumn of 1908 to consider the further measures to be taken to stamp out this dreadful enemy to the lite and happiness of mankind.

Canada in common with rest of North America, perhaps one should say the whole civilized world, has participated in the renewed and increased activity which resulted from the deliberations of the congress.

Never since the organization of the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis has there been such activity displayed in Canada in this fight for life. Older branch associations have been reinvigorated, new associations have been formed which are showing in many cases a vigorous activity. Several new institutions for the relief and treatment of consumptives have been opened and the demand for literature has been larger than ever. Take it all in all 1909 was a year of great progress in the work of the association.

The tenth annual meeting will be held in Montreal on June 7, and preparations are being made to make this one of the best, if not the best meeting in the history of the association.

EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY

Why You Should Insure Against Lawsuits

WORKMEN can sue you without cost to themselves, and they have EVERYTHING to gain and small chance to lose by so doing.

PERSONS other than employees accidentally injured about the premises invariably sue for damages.
REGARDLESS of their own responsibility for the accident, or the existence of negligence on the part of others.
ON the slightest pretext employees may sue you, even for accidents caused by the negligence of a fellow-workman, and
THE suit may be brought against you long after the occurrence of the accident by which he was injured.
EMPLOYERS and business men can ill afford to assume the risk of this ever-increasing and uncertain liability.
CREDIT of otherwise responsible manufacturers and business firms is sometimes seriously impaired by such damage suits.
TO go to law means lass of time, money, endless annoyance and worry.

PROTECT YOUR PROFITS may be seriously curtailed as a result of accident unless you are insured.
ONLY insurance against such risks will enable you to fix and reduce your expenses to a minimum.
UNDER the protection of a Liability Policy in the Railway Passengers' Assurance Company you will save money and time and be relieved from all such annoyances.

ENGLAND IS HARSHLY CRITICIZED ABROAD

London Times Voices Protest Against Absurd Statements in American Papers.

When the overseas delegates to the Imperial Press conference were travelling through the north of England last summer, after having witnessed something of the pageantry of London and the might of the fleet and the army, one Canadian editor turned to an English colleague and said: "I have been looking for the past three weeks for signs of the decadence of England. For years I have read of the decline of British business, British strength and British pluck," says the London Times.

"I have on the contrary found an England greater, more enterprising and stronger than ever. I am going back home with new ideas of the old country."

Why had this Canadian editor looked at England up to this time in such a false perspective? Why was it necessary for him to visit the mother land to obtain a correct view of her actual position?

In The Times for February 25, Major A. C. Morrison-Bell, M.P., gave some facts which help to answer this question—

"I have no hesitation in saying," Major Morrison-Bell declared, "and I speak with over six years experience of Canada, and merely from the man-in-the-street point of view, that most Britishers would fail to recognize the old country from the intelligence supplied, more or less daily, by the news agencies to the journals from one end of the Dominion to the other.

"Canada is being inoculated with totally false impressions and ideas of what England really is, and it is surely time this was changed."

This may seem harsh criticism by those unacquainted with the facts. One or two illustrations will show how it is justified.

The Saturday Evening Post is one of the leading weekly papers in the United States. It is sold and sold largely from east to west of Canada, a special service of street sales being organized in all the great cities. Here is a quotation from an article in the Post of March 5 last dealing with England:

"In his own house the Englishman is absolute king, in the very lowest classes this is shown by the wife's partially or wholly supporting her husband. Whether she supports him or not he has the privilege of beating her but in a country so overrun with women as England is perhaps the superfluous sex should be willing to pay extra for the privilege of marriage.

"The wealthy and aristocratic woman defers to her husband just as her poorer sisters does; he expresses his wishes and she carries them out. She usually has an income of her own, but she is not supposed to have views that differ from her husband's. He may take her children away from her if he does not like her religious beliefs or her associates."

Everybody's Magazine is a popular illustrated monthly that also circulates widely in Canada. Here is what Everybody's Magazine has to say about England:

"The rest of the island (i.e., the provinces outside London) does not count, for most of the people in it do not know whether the United States is a brand of tobacco or a new brew of bitter beer.

"London at best is a soggy kind of place. . . What Americans had to do—and they are still doing it—was to cheer up this gloomy city and endeavor to expand the gloomy minds. It was a long and difficult task.

"The Englishman of the working class, the clerk and all those who go to make up the bulk of the population is a thin, pale, anemic creature, undersize and hollow-chested and most unprepossessing. Some time ago a scientist said the heads of London people were getting smaller and there was an enormous howl. But it is easier to buy a seven-and-a-half hat in Emporia, Kansas, than in London, and any one who doubts it has only to try.

"Precedent is what the Englishmen revels in. . . What was good enough for father is good enough for me, and must be good enough for my son, too.

"Anything that does not make them think gets the English."

Multiply quotations such as these a thousand-fold. Let the young Canadian be brought up from childhood on a literature that teaches him to look on England as a land whose day is done. Is it any wonder that in the end he comes to think it is true?

What is the remedy for this?

ENGLISH JUDGE DIVIDES AUTHORS INTO CLASSES

London, April 14.—Judge Parry, of the English county court bench, donned the cap and bells the other day at Manchester, and gave writers a good-humored roasting. He divided authors into four classes—those who write from vanity, those who write from greed, those who write for the fun of the thing, and those who had a message to deliver.

Poison in print was submerged in a downpour of scorn. More playful was Judge Parry in forecasting the creation of a licensing bench to license libraries.

"On these," he said, "no magistrate would be able to sit who had ever read a book ,or was connected with the publishing trade, but magistrates who were total abstainers from reading and writing would properly form the majority."

Judge Parry is a well known and well liked personage in English literary circles, and has the rare faculty of keeping his heart green and his wit limber in spite of the musty atmosphere of his county court.

FURNITURE PRICES.

Proposal for a General Increase Discussed at Trade Meeting.

Guelph, April 14.—A largely-attended meeting of the Ontario Furniture Manufacturers' association was held at the Wellington hotel here, some thirty members being present from nearly all the furniture centres of the province. The two most important topics under consideration were the question of advanced prices on all manufactured goods and the appointment of a solicitor. The different members stated that their factories were all running full time, and the business generally was considered good. However, it was decided to leave the question of prices to be discussed at a subsequent meeting as the present time was considered inopportune for the desired increase.

The matter of selecting a solicitor brought out many startling facts. For some years back the association has not had a solicitor and its business has suffered as a consequence. Quite recently many of the business houses lost considerable through a failure in Medicine Hat. The employment of a solicitor would guarantee against such losses.

ENGLISH SCHOOLS NOT EQUAL TO GERMANY'S

Famous Teutonic Educator Says British Training Falls Far Short of Mark.

Berlin, April 14.—Prof. Rogozinski, Culm, a German educational expert ho was formerly lecturer at the Uniersity of Liverpool, is about to pubsh a long treatise dealing with the ifference between the British and erman educational systems. He ys his conclusions, based on an inmate knowledge, may be summarizn as follows:

English schools and educational ethods are in every respect inferior German schools and educational ethods.

The organization of English schools lacking in uniformity.

English teachers to whom is entrustd the education of the young, are anding in thorough scientific pedagic training.

The consequence of these defects is at English children cannot be edued with the necessary thoroughss.

Premature specialization and the exgerated system of value attached to amination, as well as the one-sided votion to sport, tend to diminish e value of the English educational stem.

DREW TWO YEARS.

Montenegrin Convicted of Raising a Cheque at Prince Rupert.

Prince Rupert, April 14.—E. Moscos, Montenegrin, was sentenced to two ars in the penitentiary yesterday by dge Young. The prisoner had been nvicted of raising a cheque from 30 to $80.80.

Moscos had been employed in railay labor, and among his countrymen s something of a leader. The forry case had been in the courts for me weeks, and there were many adurnments to admit of the fullest evince.

Judge Young, in imposing sentence, marked that it was in his power to ntence Moscos to a very long term. e would, however be as lenient as rcumstances would permit. W. E. lliams, who appeared for the prisonr had put up an able defence, and oduced all the evidence that it was ssible to procure. No stone had been t unturned, that the prisoner might given a fair trial. However, the lilt of the accused was manifest, and was impossible to ignore the grav of the offence, particularly so in a y like Prince Rupert, where so many en were paid in cheques. Sentence as then passed.

INDIANS ARE FAST BECOMING EXTINCT

Hudson's Bay Factor Sees Passing of Red Race as an Event of the Future.

Edmonton ,April 14.—Slowly, but surely, the Indians of the far north are dying off. At the present rate of extinction the historic red man will before many years pass from the North American continent as the far-famed buffalo, which shared with him the plains in time past, has done. This is the prediction of A. Brabant, Hudson's Bay company's factor for the Mackenzie district, who is now visiting in the city.

Mr. Brabant has his headquarters at Fort Rae, on the northern arm of Greater Slave lake, more than a thousand miles from Edmonton. He has just returned from Winnipeg, where he was attending the annual meeting of the factors of the company. In a few days he will leave again for his far northern post.

Twelve Years In North.

For the past twelve years the factor has been in charge of the company's posts in the north. He is a man of about 50 years of age and has spent the last 25 years at various places in the employ of the company and was stationed at Fort Smith in 1910, when the epidemic of measles swept the north country. The number of Indians that died from that cause in the years 1901-02 was appalling. Since then la grippe has been claiming a large number of victims each year, and at Fort Smith the hunters have decreased from fifty of five years ago to twenty at the present time.

Affecting the Company.

This decrease of Indians is having its effect upon the Hudson's Bay Co. and since the rabbits have left during the last two years great privations are being felt by the different tribes. The past winter, although milder than usual, has seen many tribes brought to sore straits to keep alive.

78 Deaths at Fort Rae.

At Fort Rae 78 deaths have taken place this winter. The tribe there consists of approximately 500 people and are among the best cared for Indians in the north, being in constant touch with the Hudson Bay company, the missions and the R. N. W. M. police.

Steps to improve conditions have been taken within the last five years by the government and a physician is now stationed at Fort Rae and free medicine is being distributed by the government, but for some reason the disease cannot be stamped out.

Missions Doing Good Work.

The Catholic and English church missions are giving the children an education and a training that is having a good effect as it makes the girls better fitted to look after their homes and the boys to become better able to attend to the wants of their families.

When asked if the Indians were careful as to their sanitary conditions Mr. Brabant said that this was not the cause of their sickness, as they were never very long in one place and as a result were not troubled with uncleanliness.

Smoking is also having its effect. The Indian has always smoked, but he pointed out that they are learning earlier than they formerly did. The boys now learn to smoke at a very early age and smoke incessantly.

Intermarriage Not Common.

When the subject of intermarriage in families was mentioned, he said that that was not as common as people thought, but in some cases it was the cause of disease, and he has seen cases of scrofula resulting from too close intermarriages.

The Indian is careless about himself and when he is sick does not take any precaution against exposing himself. When game is scarce, as it is now, he is forced to hunt even when unfit to leave his home.

The missions are turning out strong, healthy children, and are taking in as many as they can possibly get. The two missions can handle 200 children and they are constantly coming and going.

At Point of Starvation.

At Fort Simpson this winter the Indians were brought to the point of starvation and if the representatives of the government had not assisted hundreds would have perished. They had no food and fish was very scarce. The families are small in the north, only two or three children on an average. The cause of this low birth rate, Mr. Brabant stated, was the lack of food and sickness.

CAUSE AND CURE OF WHEAT SICKNESS REVEALED

Prof. Boley, of North Dakota, Rewarded After Prolonged Experiments—Remedy Is Simple.

Fargo, N.D., April 14.—After experimenting for the last thirteen years Prof. H. F. Boley, of the University of North Dakota, discoverer of flax sickness and cure which has rejuvenated the fields of Russia and the older part of the United States, announced that he has discovered the five distinct types of parasites which cause the various varieties of wheat sickness. This sickness has made lands seemingly barren throughout the world and is gradually choking the pro rata of crops in the present wheat growing countries. The experiments have been conducted on a plot of land reserved for years at the site of the Agricultural college, half a mile west of Fargo.

Prof. Boley says the fungi resmeble in shape and in reaction on plant life the tuberculosis germs which afflict human life, but that the cure is far easier, being nothing less than a correct rotation of crops, being chiefly clover, corn and potatoes, until tests of lands show the absence of the parasitical fungi.

Prof. Boley says the five fungi came to afflict the world's soils from the same unknown cause which gave birth to the human tuberculi, and that they were carried by water and wind, and especially blown straw in threshing time, farther and farther out over the world until they are now threatening to throttle the world's supply of wheat and bread.

PORTLAND BANK LOSES $7,000 ON BUNCO GAME

Portland, April 14.—Local detectives are trying to solve the mysterious disappearance of $7,000 which is missing from the security vaults of the German American bank.

The money was deposited by two local attorneys several weeks ago for an unnamed client and was to be left in escrow pending the settlement of certain litigation.

One day last week an unknown man called at the vault department of the bank and representing himself as one of the attorneys, stated that he had lost the key to the strong box.

He told such a straightforward story that he overcame any possible scruples of the man in charge and the box was opened and the $7,000 abstracted. The man then disappeared.

The real custodians called at the vault department later in the week to get the money and found the strong box empty.

Numerous detectives are trying to find the man who gained access to the vault and made away with the contents.
