CHIEF DOUBTS TALES OF BIG COAL FINDS

J. W. McIntosh Back From Queen Charlotte Islands —Progress is Being Made.

That most of the tall stories about discoveries of vast deposits of coal in the Queen Charlotte islands are merely guess work is the opinion of Chief of Police J. W. McIntosh, who has just returned from a visit to Graham island, the largest of the Queen Charlotte group. He says that there are undoubtedly good indications of coal, and he brings back several samples of the real stuff, but Mr. McIntosh, who is conducting boring operations there, and is the only man in a position to give out authentic information has, as yet, not made public the result of his investigation.

Chief McIntosh has property in the vicinity of Masset, on Masset Inlet, on the north coast of the island, and it was there that he spent most of his visit. He travelled from Vancouver to Prince Rupert on the steamer Camosun and from the G. T. P. city to Masset on the little steamer Henriette During all the time that he was there the weather was fine, with the exception of a couple of days' rain. The weather at Prince Rupert was not so favorable.

Timber Scarce on Limits.

Around Masset, for a distance of twenty or thirty miles, there is a stretch of flat land suitable for farming, and several settlers are there already. The timber of the island very rarely extends inland for more than two miles and for long stretches there is only a thin strip of woods along the water. One great drawback to the development of the country is the fact that the waterfront is all part of some timber limit or other, although in some of the limits, the chief says, there is scarcely enough timber to build a log house.

Masset is Flourishing.

The new townsite of Masset, which was recently been surveyed, is a flourishing place, with a planing and saw mill, store, school and hotel. The school teacher is a Miss Peck, from Nova Scotia, a relation of John Peck, of this city. The community also has a doctor and the chief says that the place is not lacking in social life, as there were several dances and parties patronised by eighteen or twenty young ladies and numerous men, while he was there.

The Indian town of Masset a few miles from the white settlement of the same name, is a most interesting place. It has a population of over four hundred, and many of the Indians are well-to-do, having pianos in their houses, having been educated, some of them at Victoria and some at a Catholic mission on the coast.

Lack of Roads.

One great drawback to the country at present is the absence of roads. There are over 100 settlers in the vicinity of Masset inlet, and as they all voted for the present government, they think that they are entitled to a little of the government surplus in the way of roads.

A few thousand spent in the construction of highways would work a marvellous change in the country. Some of the best of the land is low lying and it will take some money to drain it and the people there also expect government aid for this.

Many of the creeks are dammed up at the mouth by fallen trees and are flooding the inland country. The interior land is much the same as that on Lulu island. In some places it is covered with moss and this will have to be removed before the soil is any good for agriculture.

Wild Cattle In Interior.

While Chief McIntosh was at Masset, the farmers in the vicinity formed an organization somewhat after the style of a board of trade, and this body will present the views of the residents to the government. The chief reports that myriads of ducks and geese flourish on the coasts of the island. As an indication of the mild nature of the climate, there are many wild cattle roaming around the interior.

A new fishing company has recently started operations there, claiming that off the island can be found the best halibut banks in the world. Old-timers say that the herring in some of the harbors are as plentiful and of as fine a quality as those of Nanaimo.

The chief is well pleased with his trip and expects to see great development on the island in the next few years.

REFUGEES SAY THAT CENSORS SUPPRESS

London, Jan. 30.—That the full story of the devastation and suffering caused by the French floods is being carefully suppressed and censored out of telegrams by the French government is the statement made here tonight by refugees arriving from the capital.

"The half has not been told," these refugees declare. "The French government does not care to scare the hordes of tourists whose millions annually make Paris the city it is, and for that reason the true situation is being carefully kept from the outside world."

RANCHERS FORCED TO FLEE FOR THEIR LIVES

Western Jefferson County Suffers By Storm and Flood—Ten-Year-Old Girl Drowns.

Port Townsend, Jan. 30.—Reports from western Jefferson received here tonight by Sheriff McInnis state that the recent floods along the Hoh, Queets and Clearwater rivers left death and desolation in their wake.

A number of ranchers living along the banks of those rivers were forced to flee from their homes to the high lands to save their lives. The 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Streater is reported to have been drowned.

Roads and trails were washed out, and nearly all settlers suffered considerable loss of property and also stock.

The floods were the severest since the settlement of these sections.

ITALIAN CONSUL MISSING, $2000 ALSO DISAPPEARS

Chicago, Jan. 30.—Pistro Isnardi, Italian consular agent at Kansas City, Mo., has disappeared, according to a statement made here today by Guido Sabetta, Italian consul. Mr. Sabetta said that he feared Isnardi had become mentally unbalanced because of persecution by a certain element of the Kansas City Italians. About $2000 is involved in the disappearance, but Mr. Sabetta said Isnardi's accounts with his government and with the American Express company, of which he was agent, are square.

WATERS OF SEINE SLOWLY FALLING

Distress Continues in Stricken Town—Victims of Flood Fed by Thousands.

Paris, Jan. 30.—While the most imminent peril is over, the fall of the Seine since yesterday morning has only measured fifteen and one-half inches. At this rate it would require a fortnight for the river to reach its normal state. Fortunately, tidings from the flooded sections above Paris give hope of a more rapid subsidence after tomorrow.

Ravages Continue.

In the meantime the situation in Paris and in many places throughout the country shows little improvement. Indeed, the ravages of the flood in the city seemed actually to increase today. The water was higher in some of the streets, while the situation at the inundated towns between Paris and St. Germain was distinctly graver.

A stream of water twelve feet deep was rushing through Villieres and Colombes, making the work of rescue more difficult even than it was yesterday.

Rescued From Roofs.

Several of the houses collapsed and many persons were taken off the roofs of their homes, where they had been clinging for days.

Hunger Victims Stay Home.

Hundreds are reported without food or shelter, and all day an army of troops and civilians worked in the flooded territory, distributing provisions by boats to the thousands of victims who refused to quit their homes.

Streets Are No Longer Navigable.

Late tonight the fall of the Seine has a very noticeale effect in several of the streets which are no longer navigable. On the other hand the rising of the water in the sewers continue.

Armenians Starving.

New York, Jan. 30.—Eighty thousand Armenian Christians are facing starvation in Cicilia, according to an appeal just issued by Bishop David H. Greer, in behalf of the Armenian Relief association.

CANADIAN IRISH-CATHOLICS RAISE FUNDS FOR REDMOND

St. John, Jan. 30.—At a meeting of Irish Catholics today a fund to aid the Irish parliamentary party was started and collectors appointed to call upon people in the city wards between now and March.

At today's meeting the sum of $281 was subscribed.

Hindus and Japs Fight.

Sicamous, Jan. 30.—Seevral little differences have occurred at the sawmill at Annis lately between Japs and Hindus employed there, and on more than one occasion emphasized their opinions with knife play. Two of the little brown men disagreed with Hindus and emphasized their opinions with a knife point. The wounded man was taken down to Kamloops, had his wounds dressed and laid an information against his tormentors.

DOUGLAS ISLAND SOLD TO LOCAL SYNDICATE

J. H. Vidal Disposes of Valuable Property at Enormous Profit of $29,600.

A real estate deal which shows in a remarkable degree the enormous rise in values in the vicinity of New Westminster was put through on Saturday, when J. H. Vidal sold Douglas island to a syndicate of local men. The price paid was $30,000. Mr. Vidal bought the island at a tax sale about seven years ago for $400.

Douglas island is at the junction of the Pitt and the Fraser, about ten miles above New Westminster. The purchasers' names have not been made public and nothing definite is known as to the purpose for which they bought the property, but it is understood that they will take immediate steps to have it dyked and drained.

The island contains 436 acres, 150 acres of which are prairie land and the rest is more or less heavily timbered. The price figures out slightly less than $70 per acre.

JAP CHEQUE ARTIST CAUGHT IN NANAIMO

Nanaimo, Jan. 30.—The Nanaimo city and provincial police made an important capture last night when they arrested a Japanese who gave his name at the police office as S. Selmo, who is wanted in Vancouver, Victoria and other coast cities for forgery and passing of worthless cheques. Selmo's system of doing business is to give an order for some merchandise, and in payment therefor to give a $50 cheque, securing $30 or $40 in change, leaving the goods he has purchased in the store to be called for. But he does not come back.

TACOMA TO HAVE SCHOOL FOR BACKWARD CHILDREN

Tacoma, Jan. 30.—A school for the education of deficient children will probably be established as an adjunct of the public school system here. Superintendent of Schools A. H. Yoder estimates that there are twenty-five of such children in Tacoma, and at present there is no place for them. He declares the children are so mentally deficient that they can not go into the classes with other children, and at the same time they are by no means candidates for the state school for defective youth.

FRENCH-CANADIANS WILL SWAY ELECTION

Big Interest Centres in Mayoralty Contest, Two Strong Men Being in the Running.

Montreal, Jan. 30.—One of the most exciting municipal election contests witnessed in Montreal for years draws to a close on Tuesday, when the electors will decide upon their choice.

The chief interest centers in the mayoralty, for which the contest is between Dr. Guerin, the candidate of the Citizens association, and Senator Casgrain, who is running as an independent candidate. Through the representatives of the Citizens association express themselves as confident of Dr. Guerin's election, the result is doubtful. It will all depend on how the French-Canadian vote will go.

COURT GIVES VANCOUVER DEAD MAN'S ISLAND RIGHT

Vancouver, Jan. 30.—The city of Vancouver was yesterday confirmed in its ownership of Dead Man's Island, which the supreme court decided was a part of Stanley park, given to the city by the Dominion government in 1887. The legal dispute, in which judgment was handed down yesterday, has been in the courts for five years. The island lies in the harbor opposite the Canadian Pacific wharf. Comparatively worthless when given by the government to the city ,it has increased in value until now, as a wharf and industrial site, it is worth several million dollars.

Major Macaulay is Dead.

Toronto, Jan. 30.—The late Major W. B. T. Macaulay, M. A., died today at 19 Classic avenue, Toronto, after an illness of some months from rheumatism. He was a son of Rev. R. S. Macaulay, of Edinburg university.

Mr. Macaulay was a well known figure in Montreal, having been a member of the Fusiliers of that city for a number of years. He was president of the M. A. A. A. at the time of the building of the present home of the association. He was also master of classics in Montreal High School for a number of years.

Police Find Many Documents.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 30.—The police today searched the St. Petesrburg apartment of Colonel Manuiloff, former chief of the Russian secret police in Paris. They confiscated a large number of documents.

RAILWAY IS SENDING INJURED JAPS HOME

Victims of G. N. R. Wreck at Kirby Creek Soon to Leave for Japan.

Four of the victims of the Great Northern wreck at Kirby creek on November 28 will leave shortly for their homes in Japan to complete their convalescence. Yonada, who had his back broken, may never recover, but the others are expected to come around all right, although T. Hornigoshi may lose the sight of his left eye.

Yoshinago, who had his jaw broken in five places and is still unable to speak, and Hornigoshi will leave in about a week, while Meirau, who has something wrong with his hip, and Yonada will probably remain at the Royal Columbian hospital for another month.

The expenses of the injured, all the way to their homes, will be borne by the Great Northern Railway company, which has paid the expenses of all the men in the hospital ever since the wreck. Of the ten victims who were sent to the hospital the day of the accident, none have so far left the institution.

One man, Kamada, who had his skull fractured, is giving the doctors some uneasiness on account of symptoms of a slight weakening of the brain, but all the others are progressing favorably. They have been well treated at the hospital, and seem to want to stay there until they can all leave together.

COST OF LIVING HUNDRED YEARS AGO

New York, Jan. 30.—An interesting comparison between current prices and those of nearly a hundred years ago was unearthed today from the old ledger of a general merchant for 1817. In those days eggs sold regularly for one cent each with but slight appreciation in price for the winter months. Chickens were eight cents a pound dressed, as against thirty now. Veal brought five cents a pound. New England rum was a frequently recurring item.

Here is one entry for Jonathan Harvey:

"April 8, one pint rum, eleven cents. April 10, three pints rum, thirty-three cents; April 11, one quart rum, 22 cents."

THREE BROTHERS CHARGED WITH MURDER OF BREED

Accused Held Under Close Guard at Mission City—Have Unsavory Reputations.

Three brothers—Harry, Emile and Edward Wilcox—are under arrest at Mission, charged with the murder of Harry Garner, a half breed, who was beaten to death with a boat oar near Nicomen Island late Thursday night.

A jury was empaneled on Saturady to inquire into the cause of death, but did not render a verdict. The inquest will be resumed today, and in the meantime Provincial Constables Lane, of Mission, and Campbell, of Vancouver, will have three Wilcox brothers under close guard.

It is rumerod here that the fight which ended in the death of Harry Garner was the result of a quarrel over some land which had once belonged to the Wilcox brothers, but on which Garner had been living. The Wilcox brothers have a bad reputation. All the three men now under arrest have appeared at different times in the local police court on charges of more or less seriousness. Another brother is at present serving a term in the penitentiary for robbery with violence.

LIBERAL IS RETURNED IN BY ELECTION AT OTTAWA

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—The by-election in Ottawa, necessitated by Sir Wilfrid Laurier's decision to sit for Quebec East, resulted yesterday in the return of Mr. Allard, the Liberal candidate, his majority over Dr. Chabot, Conservative, being 559. This is somewhat less than Sir Wilfrid Laurier's majority in the general election. The figures are: Allard, 5,297; Chabot, 4,738. The vote was very light, particularly in the English-speaking district known as Upper Town.

YOUNG MAN PLEADS GUILTY TO SERIOUS CRIME

Havelock, Ont., Jan. 30.—Robert Henderson, charged with attempting to murder Margaret and Susan MacPherson, two aged women, for their money, pleaded guilty on Saturday, and was remanded until next Wednesday for sentence. He is only twenty, a native of Australia, and spent three years in England before coming to Canada a couple of years ago.

OPERA HOUSE TO BE UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

Harry Tidy, Who Takes Charge Tomorrow, Has Been Connected With House Five Years.

The management of the Westminster Opera House will be taken over tomorrow by Harry Tidy, who has been associated with the house for the past five years. For several months he has been looking after the "front," as the box office is called in theatrical parlance. Mr. Tidy, who has just passed his twentieth birthday, succeeds W. N. Carty, who has been manager for the past two years.

The opera house is owned by the B. C. Permanent Loan company, but the bookings are controlled by the Northwest Theatrical association, of which John Cort, of Seattle, is manager.

Louis James, as Cardinal Wolseley in Henry the Eighth, will be the first big show here under Harry Tidy's management, but there will be a stock company playing in the house for a week, commencing February 7, producing a different play each evening.

BAGGAGEMAN PLEADS GUILTY TO ROBBING MAILS ON U. P.

Cheynne, Wyo., Jan. 30.—Carl L. Olson, baggageman on the Union Pacific, today pleaded guilty before Commissioner Gill to robbing the mails. Olson is one of four railroad employees arrested yesterday on charges of complicity in a long series of mail, baggage and express robberies near here.

VISIT ARCTIC FOR MOVING PICTURES

Explorer Braves Polar Perils With Camera Experts and Show Men.

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—Another Canadian expedition, apart from that to be led by Captain Bernier, is to invade the Arctic regions. In the coming spring B. Chesterfield, of Montreal, will lead a small band of moving picture men to the far north, the expedition being financed by an American concern. Mr. Chesterfield, who has spent thirteen years in the northernmost post of the Hudson Bay company, has completed arrangements for the trip with Otto Selig, head of the combined moving picture concerns of the United States.

That the former Hudson Bay factor will be able to provide exciting situations there can be no doubt, and moving pictures will be taken of Eskimo life and customs, and of wild northern animals in their native state. It is understood that the Arctic expedition is only one of several that have started out to the dark corners of the earth with the same general object in view.

SOUTH AMERICAN FAUNA TO BE STUDIED BY BOTANISTS

Geneva, Jan. 30.—An exhaustive study of the fauna and flora of South America will be made by the Swiss government. The expedition will be under the leadership of Dr. Fuhrmann, Neuchatel, and Dr. E. Mayor, an expert in medicine and botany of the same university. The explorers will leave Switzerland for South America on July 1, 1910. The expedition will last a year. It is stated that several English and American men of science intend to join the expedition at their own expense, and their offers have already been accepted.

AVIATORS IN SUIT OVER FLYING MACHINE PATENT

New York, Jan. 30.—The Wright brothers are not inventors, but are pirates of flying machines invented and patented by others, according to counsel for Louis Paulhan.

Argument on the application of the Wrights for a temporary injunction restraining Paulhan from further exhibitions with a flying machine alleged to be an infringement on the patents of the plaintiffs was adjourned yesterday until Paulhan can reach this city from the west.

Governor-General Leaves In June.

Quebec, Jan. 30.—The governor-general, with Lady Grey and family, will take up their residence in Quebec during the month of June and will almost immediately thereafter leave for their home in the old country. His excellency was himself the authority for this statement when in Quebec yesterday.

No Change In China.

Pekin, Jan. 30.—An imperial edict issued today denies the petition recently submitted by the representatives of the provincial assemblies, who are now in Pekin, asking for the early establishment of a parliament. The throne adheres to the original plan of an imperial assembly now, and the establishment of a parliament at the end of nine years, according to the constitutional scheme.

UNIONISTS SUGGEST A JOINT CABINET

Ingenious, but Hardly Feasible, Scheme of Government Proposed.

London, Jan. 30.—With Premier Asquith on the continent and Chancellor Lloyd-George closely following him, the politicians are all resting on their arms, discussing what lines of battle will be taken up in the new parliament. The moral generally drawn from the election is that the country does not want radical changes in the house of lords or in the government policy. The spirit of conciliation, therefore, is abroad, and schemes for a compromise are being debated.

Joint Cabinet Suggested.

The Conservative papers propose the most interesting plan, that a joint cabinet be chosen from the most moderate men of both parties to carry on the government for about two years, and that a truce be declared on party questions in the meantime. A royal commission to investigate the country's fiscal policy and to make recommendations regarding tariff reform is also proposed.

The newspaper scheme of coalition government is not taken seriously by the Liberals, who, having won a victory—even if it is a very narrow one—object to having their opponents dictate the program. Lord Roseberry's name is put forward for the premiership in the compromise cabinet, but Roseberry has a long time refused office, and his popularity now is at a low mark because of his course on the budget issues.

Reform of Lords Assured.

The reform of the house of lords seems to be the one that is assured. Both parties support it now. The Conservatives and the lords themselves are willing to adopt moderate changes immediately, lest reforms which would knock the foundations from the upper house be carried. The result is likely to be the abolition of the hereditary principle and no longer shall the second and succeeding generations be given a vote except those who shall prove their fitness to legislate by service in the house of commons, in civil office or in the army or navy.

The Conservatives are willing that the lords shall be deprived of the power to hold up taxation bills, provided nothing which could be considered new legislation shall be included in those bills.

The Liberals want to deprive the house of lords of the power to veto any bill whatsoever. They would compel the lords to adopt any bill sent to them for the third time by the house of commons, which, while making the house of commons consider a rejected bill carefully, would give that body the power to pass in one session any legislation on which it had determined.

Whisky Taxes May Go.

It is taken for granted that the house of lords will pass the budget, but the cabinet may be obliged to erase the whisky taxes in order to get the votes of the Irish members.

Beyond the reform of the house of lords and the passage of the budget, parliament is not likely to get far with anything. The Irish members probably will obtain the introduction of a home rule measure, but the Conservatives will oppose that solidly, and a number of Liberals are pledged against home rule also.

Probable Cabinet Changes.

Several cabinet changes are probable when the new government is formed. Reginald McKenna, who has been unpopular as first lord of the admiralty, will be dropped. He may be given a peerage. Richard Burton-Haldane, secretary of state for war, may become head of the navy. John Burns, president of the local government board, will probably succeed Herbert J. Gladstone as home secretary. Winston Spencer Churchill takes the place vacated by John Burns, and they will each receive $25,000, instead of $12,500, as salaries, both places having been raised by the last parliament.

GRUESOME ORDEAL FOR LITTLE ILLINOIS TOWN

Cherry, Ill., Jan. 30.—This little town is preparing itself for the ordeal of exhumation that is expected this week, following the promised unsealing tomorrow or Tuesday of the St. Paul mine, in which the bodies of more than two hundred coal miners have been entombed since November 13, when fire caused the death of some 350 men.

WEEK'S WAGES IN 1859 IS $250,000 IN 1910

Portland, Ore., Jan. 30.—Fifty-one years ago, rather than lose a week's wages and a shotgun which he had loaned to his employer, Peter W. Severson took under protest a corner lot of land in this city, 50 by 100 feet in dimensions. Yesterday Severson sold the same lot at the rate of $5000 a front foot, or a quarter of a million dollars, cash.

RATEPAYERS' MEETING.

On Friday a public meeting of the ratepayers of West Coquitlam was held in the North Road school house, under the auspices of Councillors Cameron and Hawthorne.

Mr. Alderson was elected chairman and W. Smith, secretary.

Councillor Cameron in opening the meeting, stated that he and his colleague had called the ratepayers together, to get their views respecting the necessary road work to be done for the present year, the municipality making it a practice to do all road work as early in the year as possible, finding it too its advantage to make a temporary road for that purpose.

The councillor made a plea for unity, stating that there should be no east or west. No doubt mistakes had been made, but it was useless looking backward; all should unite and look forward and avoid repeating errors.

Councillor Hawthorne addressed the meeting and urged unity. It was a mistake to suppose that the west end of the municipality was not receiving its fair share of the funds,—in fact, speaking personally, he believed that the west end would receive more than its share this year.

A desultory discussion then ensued—subsequently a motion was moved and carried unanimously that the Rochester road be opened out to the Blue Mountain road.

Councillor McRay, of Burnaby stated that he paid his taxes to Burnaby but looked to Coquitlam for road repairs, and inasmuch that little or nothing had been expended on the north end of the North road for years past, it was espedienty that a sum of money be appropriated, that this year for necessary repairs.

Mr. Coles and others addressed the meeting on their road wants.

Finally the secretary moved a motion which was seconed by Mr. Percy and carried unanimously, to the effect that the councillors forming the committee for the west end, submit the following sums as a basis for the Board of Works to be guided by in framing the forthcoming estimates for road work, viz: Austin road, $200; Belton road, $500; Blue mountain road, $200; Brunette road, $200; Clarke road, $300; Coles road (Schoolhouse road), $400; North road, $400; Rochester road (approximately) $800; and Smith road $200.

A vote of thanks was tendered Councillor Cameron for his services to the municipality. Both Councillor Cameron and Hawthorne made suitablev replies, the meeting adjourned after passing a vote of thanks to the chairman.

MEMBER OF MAFIA SHOOTS BLACK HANDER

Italian Society of Blackmailers Believed to Have Quarters in Vancouver.

Vancouver, Jan. 30.—With a bullet high in his neck, just a quarter of an inch from ploughing its way into a vital spot, and another in his right arm, T. Bruno, an Italian suspected of being one of the most noted members of the Black Hand society, now lies in the St. Paul's hospital, while another man of the same race, and alleged to be also a member of the Mafia, is lodged in the police station charged with the crime which may ultimately be one of murder.

If the strong suspicions which are held at present are verified, this shooting case, which occurred on Carrall street late last night, has ramifications extending far beyond that of an ordinary row.

It is almost positively known that earlier in the day there was a secret meting among several of the local Italians in a rooming house, the location of which neither of the men will divulge. It is also known that Bruno made a demand on his assailant, whose name is given as Moribello Gugliermo, also as Dominick Martsen, for money "for the cause," and was refused, whereupon he struck Gugliermo. This is conjectured to have led to the serious affray of the evening.

The shooting happened in front of the Klondyke hotel, on Carrall street, just a few doors below Cordova street at 11:35 o'clock. Here, the two men met, coming from opposite directions. Instantly there was a spurt of flame, and at the crack of the revolver Bruno dodged through a doorway leading upstairs in the hotel. The shot was immediately followed by another, and another, and then a fourth and a fifth. The first bullet caught Bruno in the right arm, just as he was almost through the doorway; and the second went through the panel high up, striking him just below the left ear. The other bullet lodged in the door.

At the sound of the firing, Constables Lowry and Champion, who were standing across the street, darted to the scene. Moribello made a rush down the sidewalk, but before he had gone forty feet the policemen had him grasped firmly by the collar and arms. He surrendered his gun at once, handing it muzzle foremost over to Constable Lowry.

The policemen attempted to take him up the stair over the hotel whence the wounded man had fled, leaving a tell-tale trail of blood on the doorway and stair steps. He struggled desperately and implored them not to drag him up the staircase, crying, "No, no, no, I get shot," But they forced him up the first flight, and here they met Bruno walking to meet them along the hallway, with his shirt dripping with blood and more of it staining the carpet at every step. At the head of the stairs, just within a few feet of the man who had wounded him, and who was now praying him not to shoot, he collapsed, dropping into a dead faint on the floor.

The strong suspicion of there being something more in this attempted murder than a private quarrel arises from the fact that other local Italians recognise both men as members of the Mafia. Bruno, the man who is now in the hospital, came over from Everett three days ago and previously to that he was in Seattle for a time. In both cities, he came into contact with the police and was suspected of being a "Black Hander." In Everett, it took four constables to place him under arrest. Moribello has been in the city for about two months, and is regarded as a dump sent here by an Italian society to raise funds and report on the faithfulness of the members of the order located here. He has never been known to do any work while in the city and has spent most of his time lurking around places frequented by lower class Italians.

BIRD SUPERSTITIONS.

Queer Beliefs That Were Held by the Ancient Mariners.

Birds as inhabitants of the air were naturally chosen by the ancients as oracles and augurs of future happenings. The sensitiveness to atmospheric changes shown by many birds aided in establishing these notions. The real indications often furnished by sea birds of a coming storm or calm were doubtless magnified by the anxious, superstitious sailor.

The custom of hanging the sea swallow so that the bill may point to the wind arose from the old time custom of suspending the bird by the feet, expecting it would renew its feathers as if alive.

Divination by the flight of birds was a favorite method in the olden times. Sailors watched their flight for indications of prosperous voyages and favoring winds. As they were thought to fly through the air to heaven, they easily became messengers of the will of the gods.

The albatross is believed by Jack tar to sleep on the winds. It was at one time thought that the petrel hatched its eggs under its wings.

The kingfisher was at one time kept in chests to keep away moths.

The fishhawk was esteemed a bringer of good luck; it boded good or evil as its cry was to the right or left.

There was an old superstition that gulls were never seen bleeding. Shooting stars were then supposed to be the half digested food of winter gulls.

CLEOPATRA.

The Story of Her Death From the Bite of an Asp.

It is admitted that Cleopatra killed herself to avoid being exhibited at Rome in the triumph of Octavius, who had made war upon her and Antony because the latter had divorced his (Octavius') sister on the queen's account. But did she die from a snake's bite? It is better to think not. "If her death had been caused by any serpent, the small viper would rather have been chosen than the large asp, but the story is disproved by her having decked herself in the royal ornaments and being found dead without any marks or suspicion of poison on her body."

Death from a serpent's bite could not have been mistaken, and her vanity would not have allowed her to choose one which would have disfigured her in so frightful a manner.

Other poisons were well understood and easy of access, and no boy would have ventured to carry an asp in a basket of figs, some of which he even offered to the guards as he passed, and even Plutarch shows that the story of the asp was doubtful. Nor is the statue carried in Augustus' triumph, which had an asp upon it, any proof of his belief in it, since the snake was the emblem of Egyptian royalty. The statue (or the crown) of Cleopatra could not have been without one, this was probably the origin whole story.

AN EXECUTION IN INDIA.

The Way a Man Guilty of Murder Underwent Decapitation.

A letter from India to a German paper gives this account of the execution near Bombay of a man who had been found guilty of the murder of his brother-in-law: "The question as to whether the culprit should be executed or sent to prison for life was, as is the custom, submitted to the family of the murdered man for decision. All, including the wife of the murdered, voted for death. When the place of execution was reached the condemned man knelt, and the ropes which were fastened to him were handed over to the executioner's assistants. The one who held the neck rope took a few steps before the kneeling man and the other two stood at either side. Then the executioner, armed with a razor edged, heavy knife, advanced and asked in a loud voice, 'Who authorizes the execution?' and the chief of police answered, 'The law.' The question was asked and answered three times, while the armed man advanced, slowly swinging the mighty blade. As the last answer was heard an assistant executioner thrust a needle point into the kneeling man's back and he made an involuntary motion forward with his head. The three ropes were pulled taut, leaving the neck extended to the utmost. At the same instant the knife whirred through the air and the head of the murderer rolled in the sand."

The Average Man.

"The average man when he is a boy," a trifle involvedly ruminated the old codger, "decides that when he grows up he will be a drum major or a bandit, triumphantly survive battles, shipwrecks and holocausts and gallantly protect innocence and beauty in distress. But the average boy when he becomes a man finds himself so busy satisfying the appetite of the always hungry mortgage, endeavoring to achieve but never attaining the eminence of being the head of his own household, chasing at the earnest solicitation of his many friends the political prominence which forever eludes him, selecting the particular brand of health fodder that will injure him the least, running after or away from something or other, getting off a few well chosen words, trying to collect or evade that which is justly coming to him, placating his wife's relatives, accumulating baldness, pointing with pride or viewing with alarm, and so on and so forth, that before he has time to be anything more protuberant than one of the ciphers of the millions that inhabit this land of the free his men friends are walking slow behind him and saying that Bill was a pretty good feller, but—and his women friends are chastenedly wondering how soon the widow will marry again. That's all there is to the average man."—Puck.

BREAD AND MILK.

The request put forward by Messrs. Turnbull and Dodd, on behalf of the Trades and Labor Council, that a standard of weight should be established for bread, is in every way reasonable, and it is to be hoped the Council will lose no time in preparing a bylaw for the purpose. The suggestion by one or two of the aldermen that there are other articles of domestic use for which standard weights should be fixed may or may not be worthy of consideration. But it scarcely germane to the point raised by the request of the deputation. No other food stands in the same category as bread, which being the staple of life is of far greater importance to the community than any other article of ordinary consumption. It is right and just that the consumer should receive a loaf of such quality and quantity as represents fair value for the price paid for it, according to the ruling price of flour. This principle is recognized and acted upon in all the leading countries of the world, and the weight of a loaf fixed by statute. In Canada, however, matters of this kind are left to local authorities for adjustment. In all the principal cities of the Dominion, we believe, bylaws are in force fixing a bread standard. There is every reason, therefore, why New Westminster should come into line in regard to this matter.

Reference was also made by the Labor deputation to the question of milk inspection in this city, it being urged that this should be pursued with greater strictness. So far as we are aware, however, the quality of milk supplied to this city by various purveyors is generally good. We believe, too, the interests of the consumer are well looked after by the city's sanitary inspector. It is, however, possible, that impure milk does find its way into the city to some small extent. No harm, therefore, can be done by a more frequent and rigid inspection than now prevails.

The whole subject of food adulteration is now under consideration by a Board of Commissioners appointed by the Federal government, which is engaged in preparing a schedule of standard qualities for the leading articles of diet. It is expected that this schedule will be ready for publication in the Gazette in July next, and will come into force a month later.

To fix the standard of milk will probably be one of the most difficult of the Commissioners' tasks. The standard of quality is of course fixed by the percentage of butter fat which milk contains, but this varies considerably, according to conditions of feed, climate and season, and breed of cattle. The strain or breed of a cow plays the most important part in determining this particular quality of milk. Whilst some strains give a large yield of the lacteal fluid which is comparatively poor in quality, others give a smaller measure which is richer in quality. This difficulty, however, is possible of removal by the judicious blending of strains. By this means an ample yield of milk rich in butter fat may be secured. It is along these lines that dairymen will have to work in order to provide milk of the required standard.

The standard to be fixed by the Commission will form the minimum of quality, and there will be nothing to prevent municipalities from establishing higher standards if they desire it. As to penalties, the law places the onus primarily upon the retailer, but if he has obtained a guarantee of quality from the wholesaler the latter may be joined as defendant upon prosecution.

ALL READY.

Native Sons Dance Tonight Will Be Swell Function.

Arrangements are all complete for the Native Sons dance tonight, and indications point to it being the most successful society function ever held in New Westminster. The decorations of the hall are all arranged, the two large war canoes being placed in position Saturday. The plan of Indian decoration will be carried out consistently, and a tepee, presided over by Coquitlam George and his klooch, Coquitlam Mary, in one corner of the ballroom, will make a novel cosy corner. Coquitlam George, who is a brother of Chief Johnnie, will come down the river this afternoon in his canoe, and will be looked after by one of the committee until the dance starts.

During the past few days Secretary Keary has been deluged with replies to the invitations sent out. Many of the members of the Victoria and Vancouver posts of the Native Sons have signified their intention of being present. The dancing will start promptly at 9:15 with the grand march.

Death of William Collier.

William Collier, proprietor of the Central hotel, and one of the best known residents of the Royal City, died on Saturday morning after an illness of several weeks. The late Mr. Collier was 67 years old and had been a resident of New Westminster for 26 years. He had no relatives in this part of the country. The late William Collier was born in Preston, England, but came to America with his parents while still a boy and lived in New York State for a number of years.

When about twenty years of age the gold discoveries in California attracted him, and he made the transcontinental journey to San Francisco by prairie schooner. California was his home for several years, but in 1882 he came to Victoria, and a few years later to New Westminster, where he lived till the time of his death.

The funeral will take place today at 2:30 from the Central hotel to the Anglican cemetery.

EXPECT TO MAKE MONEY AT BOWLING TOURNAMENT

Men Who Won Prizes at Seattle Tourney to Be Paid Out of This Year's Profit.

Arrangements are fast approaching completion for the big bowling tournament which is to be held in San Francisco in March, and to which, in all probability, a Westminster team will be sent. The expense which will be incurred in connection with this event will be much less than was the case in Seattle last year, where the receipts were so far below the expenditures that it was impossible for the promoters to pay the prize money won by the successful pin-levellers. This year hall rent and expenses for alleys will not exceed $200, whereas previous affairs of the same kind have always entailed an expense of from $3500 to $4500.

This curtailing of the expense is expected to result in a good profit being made by the Western Bowling Congress, which will handle the tourney. An agreement has been reached whereby the surplus from this year's bowlfest will be applied to the paying of the prize money outstanding from last year.

Following are the names of the prizewinners of last year's tournament; the amounts starred have not yet been paid.

MURDER OF GIRL BABIES FROWNED UPON BY MINTO

Calcutta, Jan. 30.—There are some sorely disappointed people in India, native and European alike—the people who expected to figure in the Indian honor list, and who didn't. Among them is a Rajputana prince who was very civil to Lord Minto on his recent tour. His highness would have figured in the list of G. C. I. E.'s had not the resident, in giving the viceroy an account of the country, innocently informed his excellency that the murder of girl babies, though done in secret, was still common. Lord Minto, who has never been in Rajputana before, was shocked, and the rajah is probably still wondering why he was forgotten in the distribution of the customary New Year's gewgaws.

Mr. Kipling is enjoying himself for the most part, but there is apparently a fly in the ointment. He enjoys all but the attentions of the snapshotters who beset him.

To a man who, meeting him on the rink, asked him whether he would mind standing still while a lady snapshotted him, Mr. Kipling protested that he "did not come here to be snapshotted," and hastened out of range.

EXTRAORDINARY ORGY ON SHIP RESULTS IN SERIOUS WRECK

It was shown that the captain was drunk when the ship struck. He and a seaman named Hassard died on November 29 from the effect of drinking rum and whisky, with Florida water, a perfumery, to finish off with.

Sheriff Shoots Incendiary.

The Statue of Liberty.

The Colossus of Rhodes probably never brought any returns in cash to the city, but its tradition will last when everything else Rhodesian is entirely lost from history. So with this Statue of Liberty. It gives a welcome to every stranger who comes to America to seek his fortune in a country which has been the friend of the oppressed for centuries. It is hailed with joy by every American who catches a glimpse of it as he returns from a sojourn in Europe. Its meaning is more apparent after a short absence from America than perhaps it was before such an experience. It is one of the few things which we have which is not commercialized.—Chicago Tribune.

The Wrong Line.

A society which disseminates moral literature once sent a railway manager a large number of free tracts to place in the waiting rooms. One was entitled, "A Route to the New Jerusalem." The letter which the moral literature society received in reply declined the tracts. "We cannot place the tracts," wrote the manager, "as the N. J. is not on our system."

Quite a Variety.

The fashionable girl had accepted him and the young man was wondering how far his $80 a week would go.

"You must remember that life is not all golf and tennis," murmured he.

"Why, of course it isn't," she responded brightly. "There's boating and coaching and bridge and ever so many things."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

At the Doctors' Club.

"Carvus, was that operation you performed on old Hunks successful?"

"Successful? Yes; singularly so."

"Singularly? Then he's recovering, is he?"—Chicago Tribune.

A Russian does not become of age until he is twenty-six.

The Right Age.

Among the litigants before the English courts some years ago was a Mrs Weldon, who, indeed, was so constantly at law that Baron Pollock once remarked: "This lady has now such a very large business at the bar that we must give her every indulgence." Mrs Weldon was not abashed by the judge and said many clever things in court. The reminiscences of the late John George Witt, K. C., include an anecdote of one of her appearances in the court of appeal. She was endeavoring to upset a judgment of Vice Chancellor Bacon, and one ground of complaint was that the judge was too old to understand the case. Thereupon Lord Esher said: "The last time you were here you complained that your case had been tried by my brother Bowen and you said he was only a bit of a boy and could not do you justice. Now you come here and say that my brother Bacon was too old. What age do you want the judge to be?" "Your age," promptly replied Mrs. Weldon, fixing her bright eyes on the handsome countenance of the master of the rolls.

She Got a Seat.

A woman entered a well filled Broadway surface car. She was reasonably young, fairly well dressed and good looking, but she walked with a deep, painful limp. As she clutched for a strap half a dozen men arose hastily and offered her seats. She took the nearest one and sank into it with a look of relief. The other men resumed their seats, and the car sped merrily on. Half a mile farther uptown the woman signaled the conductor to stop and as the car slowed down she arose walked jauntily out and stepped off the car with the nimbleness of a schoolgirl.

The man whose seat she had been occupying looked first amazed, then sheepish, as the other passengers began to grin at him, then joined in, as becomes an American when placed in trying circumstances.

"She's an actress at one of the Broadway theaters," chuckled a man sitting near him. "I know her by sight, and when she came in I thought she must have been hurt in an accident."—New York Sun.

Appealing Unconscience.

"In my morning walks," remarked a Brooklyn clergyman in referring to his vacation, "I had as a companion an elderly gentleman, whose acquaintance I prized highly. After a cross country ramble of five miles one hot afternoon we stopped at a farmhouse for a drink of milk. I drained my glass, and how refreshing it was! But the old gentleman drank lightly and set his glass down with a goodly portion of the rich milk untouched.

"'Very fine drink,' he said as we resumed our jaunt.

"'Then why didn't you drink all of it?' I asked.

"'That's the way I make my contribution to the conscience fund,' he explained seriously. 'When I was a boy I worked on a farm and was taught always, after rinsing, to leave a little water in the milk cans.'"—New York Times.

Men With Women's Voices.

Generally speaking, races living at high altitudes have weaker and more highly pitched voices than those living in regions where the supply of oxygen is more plentiful. Thus among the Indians living on the plateaus between the ranges of the Andes, at an elevation of from ten to fourteen thousand feet, the men have voices like women and the women like children, and their singing is a shrill monotone. The Australian native has a weak voice, but a knack of sending it a long distance, and the lowest tribes of African bushmen also possess weak voices. Of all human beings it would seem that the dwarf race discovered by Stanley in central Africa have, in point of volume and compass, the weakest of human voices, and this is only what one would expect from the feebleness of their physique generally.

EIGHT KILLED IN RAILWAY WRECK

Serious Accident in England —Cars Smashed—Thirty are Seriously Injured.

London, Jan. 30.—One of the most serious railway accidents in England since the disaster to the steamer train at Salisbury in July, 1906, occurred at Stoats Nest station, near London, on the London and Brighton railway, yesterday afternoon. Eight dead and about thirty injured were taken from the wreck.

The third-class cars were completely wrecked, and a part of the building was demolished. The Pullman was thrown violently into the air, but was comparatively little damaged. Its passengers escaped with minor injuries.

Accounts of the cause of the accident differ. One says that it was due to the derailment of a portion of the train, which jumped the points where the branch joins the line just outside the station. Another account attributes the cause to the breaking of the coupling beween the first and second cars. The two third-class cars reared almost on their ends, and toppled over on the platform, bringing down a mass of iron girders and timbers from the station.

The critically injured were taken to a local hosptial, while the others were brought to London.

Appointment Gazetted.

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—The appointment of John Donald Swanson, of Kamloops, to be judge of the county court of Yale, and to be a local judge of the supreme court of British Columbia, vice Judge Spinks, superannuated, is gazetted.

WHEN MACAULAY SPOKE.

Then Flowed a Torrent of Oratory and Euphony.

What can be the matter? Doors open, members rush out; members are tearing past you from all points in one direction—toward the house. Then wigs and gowns appear. They tell you with happy faces their committees have adjourned, and then come a third class, the gentlemen of the press, hilarious. Why, what's the matter? Matter! Macaulay is up. You join the runners in a moment. It was an announcement one hadn't heard for years, and the passing of the word "Macaulay's up" emptied committee rooms now as before it emptied clubs; the old voice, the old manners and the old style—glorious speaking; well prepared, carefully elaborated, confessedly essayish, but spoken with perfect art and consummate management, the grand conversation of a man of the world confiding his learning and his recollections and his logic to a party of gentlemen and just raising his voice enough to be heard through the room.

As the house filled he got prouder and more oratorical, and then he poured out his speech with rapidity, increasing after every sentence, till it became a torrent of the richest words carrying his hearers with him into enthusiasm and yet not leaving them time to cheer. The great orator was trembling when he sat down. The excitement of a triumph overcame him, and he had scarcely the self possession to acknowledge the eager praises which were offered by the ministers and others in his neighborhood.—From White's "Parliamentary Retrospect."

MALTING BUSINESS TO START IN CALGARY

Calgary, Jan. 30.—Colonel Walker yesterday concluded the sale of three miles of land along the main line of the C. P. R. between P. Burns & Co.'s abattoir and the Bow river bridge, to the Toronto Malting company. The property will have a track frontage of 650 feet and will accommodate fifteen cars.

It is the intention of the company to start immediately the erection of an extensive plant for the manufacture of malt from Alberta-grown barley. The buildings will be of cement and stone, and operations will be commenced early in the summer. The company will not engage in the brewing business, but will simply manufacture malt for the smaller breweries of the province and of British Columbia.

The price paid for the property was $3000 per acre.

Mr. McNab's Condition.

Winnipeg, Jan. 30.—Hon. A. P. McNab, municipal commissioner for the Saskatchewan government, who was stricken down suddenly at the Royal Alexandra hotel Friday morning, had a good night's rest and shows signs of improvement this morning. His physicians are watching closely for developments of the affliction.
