ARMISTICE IN CHINA

Will Prevail Till Middle of December.

REBELS SUSPECT SHI KAI

Think He Covets Position of Ruler of Reconstructed and Revolutionized Empire.

Peking, Dec. 8.—Rebel leaders declared today an extension of the armistice until December 21. Revolutionists are not expected to accept any terms save abdication of the emperor and recognition of the proclaimed republic. As premier Yuan Shi Kai is willing to make any concession, save acknowledgment of the republic, he is today suspected of coveting the throne. If this is true it means new difficulties in the path of peace. Rebels are beginning to distrust the motives of the premier, who is thought to have been really striving to bring an end to hostilities in the field.

Much interest has been manifested in the mediation activities of Sir John Jordan, the British minister, the extent of which are not known by the other legations. Chinese who are to be relied on, say representations have been made by the British legation with respect to a refuge for the emperor in case of emergency. It is also reported that the American, German and Japanese legations have been approached on the same subject. There is no doubt that a plan has been arranged for the court to take refuge in the legation quarters should occasion arise.

Amazons Are Ready.

Shanghai, Dec. 8.—Five hundred Chinese girls who have been drilling here for the past month were today formally recognized as part of the rebel army by the leaders of the revolution, and arms were issued to them.

The Amazons are commanded by female officers. The force is as enthusiastically patriotic as the men, and the girl soldiers are determined to participate in the next battle.

San Francisco, Dec. 8.—A despatch was received today by the Chung Sat Fu, stating that the "Red Rock" band, the most notorious of the Canton district, had been caught and executed by the revolutionists. Chang Sun, a Manchurian general, formerly in command at Nanking, and noted for his cruelty, is said to have escaped and taken refuge in a town in Southern Manchuria.

Consul General Li Wing Yon, of San Francisco, has received a notice of an imperial edict from Peking doing away with the old Chinese calendar and adopting the modern Roman calendar.

CARDIFF SIGNS FOR PIED PIPER

Welsh Port Overrun with Rats—Many Citizens Bitten—Rodents in Millions.

Cardiff, Wales, Dec. 8.—The waterfront district of this city is overrun with rats, which are thought to come from the holds of ships. The rodents appear in millions between night and morning. The authorities seem powerless to exterminate them. They swarm even the busiest thoroughfares at night, getting under foot. Scores of people have been bitten by them. They have raided stores, cleaning them out. One shopkeeper reported that in the night his place was flooded with water and a subsequent investigation showed that rats had gnawed through the lead water pipes.

POLICE WILL STAMP OUT SUNDAY TRADING

Determined efforts are being made by the police to stamp out Sunday trading in this city. Yesterday morning six cases were tried before Magistrate Whitehead, and today five more will appear.

It was a medley of races that came up yesterday morning to answer to the charge of breach of the Lord's Day act. There were two Japanese, one Chinaman and a Greek. In all six men were charged and four pleaded guilty. The latter were condemned to contribute $20 apiece to the civic treasury and to pay the costs of the court. The remaining two cases were adjourned.

Besides this little bunch of offenders a party of nine was put in an appearance. These men had invaded the Royal City mills and bedded down above the boilers there. They were given an opportunity to leave the city immediately and disappear for ever. Three drunks completed the tally of 18 cases. One of these was sent about his business, while the other two were fined, the Hindu, who rode to jail in the city ambulance yesterday having in addition to pay the cost of his transportation.

FROM VANCOUVER TO PEACE RIVER

Application for Powers to Incorporate Company that Projects Building to Lillooet and North.

Ottawa, Dec. 8.—Application has been made for legislation incorporating the Vancouver-Peace River Railway company, the project of the company being to build from Vancouver to the Fraser near Lillooet, and thence following the Fraser to Fort George. From Fort George the route will be through Pine Pass to Dunvegan and Vermilion chutes.

Application is also being made for a charter for the Northern Territorial railway from Fort Churchill to Port Essington.

DISQUIETING RUMOR.

Vancouver, Dec. 8.—There was a wild rumor afloat on the streets tonight that the King had been shot at Delhi. The report was also going the rounds in Seattle. Up to midnight no confirmation of the report could be obtained. The general opinion is that it was just an idle rumor. The eastern wires are down tonight.

The rumor reached New Westminster. Enquiries made by the Daily News brought out the fact that the Vancouver rumor arose from a New York despatch which stated that the King had been shot at. In such circumstances the interruption of telegraphic communication with the East was peculiarly inopportune.

At 3 a.m. comes an official despatch by way of the Associated Press affirming that the rumor was baseless.

LOS ANGELES INVESTIGATION

McNamara Brothers May Be Induced to Give Evidence Regarding Alleged Conspiracy.

Los Angeles, Dec. 8.—An effort is to be made by the state to show that labor leaders on the Pacific coast are implicated in a conspiracy to transport explosives unlawfully.

Both McNamaras continue to appear unwilling to testify, but it is thought that a term in prison and the efforts of labor leaders to have the matter cleared up, will lead them to divulge any information at their disposal.

When the federal probe into the alleged dynamiting conspiracy was continued today a score of witnesses who were to follow Orrie McManigal and carry out the threads of corroboration of his story of operations with dynamite and torch. McManigal was still on the stand, and it was stated that his story is almost a duplication of that which he told before the county grand jury which indicted the McNamara brothers, with the exception that names and details suppressed then are now coming out.

No word has yet been received by the federal marshal here whether the officers in San Francisco and elsewhere have succeeded in subpoenaing the labor chiefs who are to be examined here. Those men include J. E. Munsey, of the Iron Workers Union at Salt Lake; E. A. Clancy, John A. Kelley, Andrew J. Gallagher and Olaf A. Tveitmo, of the San Francisco labor council.

Washington, Dec. 8.—Branding James B. and John J. McNamara as "recrants to the good name and high ideals of labor," and expressing the satisfaction of organized labor that the "culprits have been commensurately punished for their crimes," the McNamara ways and means committee of the American Federation of Labor, after a two days' conference, issued a statement late yesterday, vigorously condemning the McNamaras for their "inhumanity" and declaring that organized labor should not be held "either legally or morally responsible for the crimes of individual members."

The labor leaders assert that they "will welcome any investigation which either federal or state courts may undertake." The statement is signed by every member of the McNamara committee except F. M. Ryan, president of the International Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, of which J. J. McNamara was secretary-treasurer. Mr. Ryan returned to Indianapolis yesterday.

Commons Adjourns.

Ottawa, Dec. 8.—The House of Commons adjourned at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon for its five weeks' Christmas holidays, after a languid sitting marked only by the anemic end of the Christmas and debate.

REFORMS DEMANDED

Fraser Valley Homesteaders Petition Government.

LAND REGULATIONS SCORED

Settler Worked Nine Years But Was Refused Patent—Permanent Association Formed.

Profoundly dissatisfied with the way in which the Dominion land regulations are applied to the homesteaders in the railway belt of British Columbia, the homesteaders of the lower Fraser valley assembled in the city hall yesterday afternoon to urge certain changes on the government at Ottawa. Mr. Allister Thompson was voted into the chair, and Mr. C. H. Croke was appointed to act as secretary by the meeting, which was about 50 strong.

Many of those present rose to express the grievances of the legitimate settler located on timber lands, whose lot, they claimed, was being made unnecessarily hard by the application of land regulations, which were drawn up to suit the conditions of the Northwest, and not those of British Columbia. The whole matter was summed up in the remarks of Mr. C. Hilliout, of Abbotsford. He made it clear that as things are at present it is practically impossible for anyone homesteading on timber sections to carry out the developments required by the regulations in an ordinary lifetime.

"Until a few years ago," he said, "we had a homestead inspector in British Columbia, who had discretion and powers in reference to the improvements made by a settler, and patents were granted from Ottawa on his recommendation. As this inspector was a local man, understanding local conditions, it was possible for a settler to prove up his homestead in a reasonable time and after a reasonable amount of work. Today, however, all applications are sent to Ottawa, where little or nothing is known of conditions in this province. The consequence is, that no one with less than 50 acres broken can secure his title to the land. To break 30 acres on some homesteads," explained Mr. Hilliout, "I know of one case where a man has been on his land for nine years, and has made improvements far exceeding those on other homesteads, to which the patents had been granted in the past. Recently he applied for his title, and was turned down. Many other settlers are the victims of a similar injustice. This is a real and very serious grievance, and what we want is an alteration in the regulations applicable to British Columbia, and particularly the appointment of an inspector armed with the old discretionary powers, so that even the improved rules may be applied in a liberal and commonsense manner."

After some discussion, which showed that the whole representative gathering was at one on these points the following resolution was moved and passed without a dissenting voice:

"Whereas the present regulations relating to the Dominion lands in the Northwest, when applied as they are to the British Columbian settler, are an absolute injustice owing to the immense amount of labor involved in clearing and stumping in British Columbia, and whereas it is next to impossible for the average settler to fulfil the prescribed duties in an ordinary lifetime on this account, and therefore be it resolved, that a special set of regulations be specially issued by the department governing the coast district of British Columbia, and be it further resolved, that this convention recommend the following alterations and amendments viz.: Section A, clause 1, to insert the word "clearing" instead of "cultivation"; to amend clauses 2 and 3 by reading "20 acres" instead of "30 acres." Section B, clause 1, to read as follows: "A homesteader who resides on his homestead is required to slash and clear 5 per cent. of his homestead, half of which must be under cultivation before applying for patent."

Clause 2 to read: "When the duties are being performed under the regulations permitting residence in the vicinity, the total required to be slashed and cleared will be 6 per cent. of the whole, half of which must be under cultivation and sub-stantially fenced."

Clause 3 to read: "If the homesteader is able after a period of three years to satisfy the district inspector that his improvements in the nature of clearing, cultivating, building and fencing attain the value of $8 per acre for the total acreage he may at any time apply for his patent."

It was moreover moved by Mr. C. Hilliout, and passed unanimously, "that this convention would ask the government to form a commission to inquire into land and timber regulations as they apply to the settler in British Columbia." Copies of this and the previous resolution will be sent to Mr. J. D. Taylor, Hon. Robert Rogers, minister of the interior; Hon. Robert Burrell, minister of agriculture, and Hon. R. L. Borden.

Before the meeting adjourned it was decided to form a permanent homesteaders' association, of which Mr. Allister Thompson was appointed

SCORES MEET DEATH

Russian Workmen Whelmed in Bridge Collapse.

FLOATING ICE WEAKENS PIERS

Only Twelve Bodies Recovered from Turbid Waters of Swollen River Volga.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 8.—Between 150 and 200 persons perished today by the collapse of a bridge over the Volga river, near Kazan.

The bridge was under construction and was filled with workmen when its supports gave way and the men were precipitated into the water. Only a dozen bodies have been recovered.

The authorities hope that some of the men saved themselves by gaining cakes of floating ice and being carried down stream. Troops have been despatched down both sides of the river seeking the bodies of the victims.

Pressure of floating ice against the supports of the bridge is believed to have caused the disaster. The laborers who escaped declare that more than 200 men went into the river and that most of them perished.

HUGE SEWER WILL SERVE SAPPERTON

Engineering Staff at Work on Plans—City Will Have Forty-eight Miles of Pipe.

The city engineering staff is hard at work preparing plans for the huge Sapperton sewer, which it is intended to put in as soon as possible. This sewer will be the largest in the city: it will be 15 miles long, and will drain two and a half to three square miles, covering all the land that lies east of Sixth street as far as the eastern boundary with the exception of that portion which is already served by the west end without sewerage accommodation.

It is estimated in the city engineer's office, that another three months will be required before the plans are completed, there will only be a small piece are five or six men and two engineers employed in getting them out, and every means is being employed to hurry the work to completion.

At the same time as this is being done the laying of some eleven miles of sewers in the west end is being steadily proceeded with. The district to be served by this sewer is that lying between Eleventh and Fourteenth streets. As there are already about 22 miles of pipes laid in New Westminster the total length of sewers laid, when the new works are completed, will amount to 48 miles. In this respect it is interesting to note that six years ago the people of this city were absolutely without sewers, each man draining his own sewage at his own sweet (?) will into the Fraser river.

DEAD MAN'S BROTHER CANNOT BE FOUND

J. L. Gordon, undertaker, Kamloops, is searching for Fred Johnston, a Swede, brother to Alfred Johnston, whose dead body is being held by Mr. Gordon, until next Tuesday, when it will be buried. Alfred Johnston died in the Kamloops hospital of typhoid fever on November 28, having left the name of his brother at New Westminster with the authorities. A telegram addressed to the city having failed to secure any reply, Mr. Gordon has communicated with the city police asking them to discover Fred Johnston's whereabouts if possible. The dead man used to work on the C. N. R. construction.

THIEF LEFT NOTHING BUT SOLITARY COMB

With everything stolen but his comb, Mr. E. Myatt is in an unfortunate position. It was yesterday morning between the hours of 6 o'clock, when he went out to work, and 9 o'clock, when his landlady went into his rooms, that he believes some person entered and removed his overcoat, clothes and grip. Mr. Myatt notified the police yesterday, and they have the matter in charge, but so far no trace of the missing belongings has been found.

PHENOMENAL INCREASE IN POSTAL BUSINESS

Buying of Money Orders Breaks All Records—Immigrants Send Remittances Home.

"The increase in the sale of money orders this year-end is phenomenal," states Postmaster J. W. MacDonald in connection with the Christmas rush, which is now in progress. "Last Monday we sold 207 orders, as against 168 which was the high record for the whole of last year." The local business has not begun to come very thick and fast as yet, but old country immigrants have been sending home a goodly portion of the fat wage-checks which they earn in British Columbia, to their relatives left behind in more straitened circumstances at home.

It is not only the European, however, who makes remittances to those he has left behind him. "We sell many orders to Japanese," said the postmaster, "and a very large number go to India, sent by the Hindus. The Chinaman does not give us so much business. He sends most of his money home in bank wraps. But I might say that half the money orders issued recently have been for the old country."

The increase in the stamp sales has also been very large, proportionately much larger than that at this time last year. During December, $1000 worth more stamps were sold than during November, 1910. Roughly calculated the increase may be put at from 25 to 40 per cent., and the same figures would apply to the parcel and racket mail, which every year jumps up at Christmas time, when everyone is sending some token of remembrance home. To cope with this rush a stamp vendor and an extra clerk have been engaged, who have not been found necessary in any previous years.

WORDY WARFARE ON PERSIAN PROBLEM

Upper Chamber.

London, Dec. 8.—The Persian situation provoked a bitter debate in the House of Lords last night between Lord Curzon and Lord Morley.

Lord Curzon declared that W. Morgan Shuster, the American treasurer general of Persia, had shown a lack of diplomacy in his dealings with Russia, but that his actions did not warrant the czar's occupation of Persia. He insisted that England was responsible for Russia's second ultimatum because the foreign office had cabled Persia urging the acceptance of the first terms proposed. He believed any effort by England to acquire Persian territory would be resented by the English people and that a change of administration would be demanded.

Replying, Lord Morley declared Russia had no intention of violating the integrity of Persia. He praised Russia, insisting that the czar's government desired only to establish normal and stable relations with Persia and to remove discord and lack of tact. He said Britain had informed Russia that it was impossible to restore the former shah to power and that a solution of Persian difficulties was already in sight.

REPORTED TO HAVE SOLD OUT BUSINESS

It was reported in yesterday's Daily Province that Mr. T. S. Annandale had the day before sold out his business to Mr. A. P. MacDonald, only retaining an interest in the new concern, which will be known by the name of the Annandale Supply company. On being asked over the telephone on the night previous to this announcement, whether he was selling out, Mr. Annandale stated to a representative of the Daily News that he was not aware of any such thing, but was always ready to consider any sufficiently good offer that might come along.

ITALY'S RECKONING

War Costs Half Million Dollars Daily.

LARGE REINFORCEMENT SENT

Italian Losses Have Been Heavy, But Newspapermen Are Under Oath to Remain Silent.

Rome, Dec. 8.—When the new division ordered yesterday is landed there will be approximately 150,000 troops of all arms in Tripoli and Cyrenaica for the purpose of coping with some ten thousand Turks and their more or less unorganized and ill-equipped Arab allies. The stringent censorship on all news from the seat of war has made it difficult to understand why General Canova's picked army of 60,000 men, not counting the troops garrisoning other coast points, should remain so long practically at bay.

Only from personal statements made by returning journalists and military attaches it is impossible to arrive at an intelligent idea of the real situation. Newspapermen on the ground are all under oath not to send any information, even in the form of private letters, without first submitting it to the censor. Violation means their deportation; hence, even the correspondents of journals in other European countries and America, are unable to portray conditions adequately.

Moderate estimates, based upon the observation of returning newspapermen, place the losses of the Italian army to date in Tripoli city alone, in killed and wounded, at 5000.

London, Dec. 2.—The reports of horrible atrocities committed by Arabs on Italians in Tripoli have created a deep impression here. Regret is felt that the action of the Italian officers in causing the expulsion of all independent correspondents from Tripoli now prevents the outside world from getting first hand information.

Although it is stated that four English correspondents testify to these atrocities by the Arabs, the dis-throw doubt on the reports. Rumors of Peace.

Fortunately there are fresh rumors of peace efforts at Constantinople. Italy cannot much longer continue the campaign, her financial sacrifices are so enormous. The war itself is costing Italy $15,000,000 a month, and besides this vast unproductive outlay, Italy has lost her whole trade with Turkey, the Levant, North Africa and the Red Sea.

Signor Felice, the noted Socialist deputy, now protests: "It is ridiculous with 40,000 men to be imprisoned by 2000 Turkish soldiers. Why involve ourselves in a war which may become dangerous if prolonged?"

Even Algeria and Tunis are feeling the effects in a falling off of winter visitors. These French colonies have issued an urgent appeal to English and American tourists to patronize them as usual.

KAMLOOPS DUCKS FEED ON GOLD

Discovery of Precious Metal on Tilton Ranch, a Few Miles from the Inland City.

Kamloops, Dec. 8.—The legend of the goose that laid the golden egg bids fair to be relegated to obscurity by the residents of this district, and its place to be assigned to the true story of the ducks which carried free gold about in their crop.

All Kamloops is agog with excitement following the discovery of placor gold in the Tilton ranch on Rosehill, a few miles from the city. Parties have been busy locating claims, and with the advent of spring, work will be actively undertaken to prospect the whole district.

The discovery of the presence of the treasure was made in a remarkable manner. In November of last year Mrs. R. E. Smith, of this city, purchased a domestic duck. In preparing it for the table she discovered a piece of coarse gold in the contents of the crop. Inquiries were instituted, and the duck was traced back to Mr. Robert Tilton's ranch at Rosehill. Mrs. Smith purchased a second instalment of ducks from Mr. Tilton, and gold was found in the crop of each.

A portion of Mr. Tilton's ranch lies in a valley with higher ground on each side. Two wells, which were dug by Mr. Tilton, are up a part of the valley, and the water in the land lies over the top of an old water course, and that is all in the sand and gravel of the valley. The ducks were seen to be feeding on the gold in the water.

LONDON SIDELIGHTS

Some Recent Novel Facts and Interesting Figures.

Some interesting sidelights are thrown on the life of London in the prosaic columns of volume 21 of "London Statistics." Sir John Benn, describing the chaotic conditions of London government at the L. C. C. meeting on Tuesday, referred to the 144 local governing authorities with which London is blessed. Assuredly, if there is safety in a multitude of councillors, then London should be easy in mind.

Some curious statistics are given of "marrying London." The marriage rate of men per 1000 was 16.7 in 1909, as against 16.9 the year before. In the case of women there was a drop in the period named from 15.1 to 14.9.

The number of illiterate males married fell from 510 in 1908 to 390 in 1909, and the number of illiterate women from 715 to 540. The decline in illiteracy is notable—as is also the fact that illiteracy exists to a greater extent among the women than among the men.

The number of persons under 21 years of age who marry appears to be stationary—5430 in 1908, and 5401 in 1909. But while the number of males under 21 who married in the year 1909 was only 1175, the number of women was 4226.

It is stated that in the year 1909 a girl, said to have been 14 years of age, married a man over 35; another girl of 15 married a man more than double her age. As many as 14 girls of 16 years of age married during the year referred to, three of them wedding young men of 18. The number of girls aged 17 who married was 118. Three of them married men between 30 and 35, and two men of between 45 and 50. Two girls aged 18 also married men between 45 and 50, while two aged 19 were wedded to men between 50 and 55 years old. Beyond the age of 20 the cases of May wedding December are more glaring. For instance, we find that three spinsters between 21 and 25 years of age married bachelors between 55 and 60; while one old Benedict between 60 and 65 led a maiden of between 21 and 25 years of age to the altar.

There are three cases of spinsters between 65 and 70 marrying; while one gave proof that it was never too late to mend, by marrying after she had passed the allotted span. She married a man over 75.

Judging by the fact that 1392 widows married bachelors, the old Wellerian maxim seems to have fallen on deaf ears. Four widows over 65, 11 over 60, and two over 70, married again. The most dangerous age of widows appears to be between 30 and 35—337 of that age having married bachelors.

There were 2147 widower and spinster marriages, and 1092 widower and widows married bachelors, the old that one woman married twice before reaching the age of 21.

Here are a number of facts and figures taken at random from the volume: Twenty-seven thousand and thirty dogs were seized by the police in the year 1909-10.

Mr. May's son very nearly had a nasty accident yesterday. The boy went into the stable, and was playing around behind the horse, when the animal kicked out, and just struck the child. Luckily the horse was not shod, and the wound inflicted was so slight that Dr. Manchester did not have to put in any stitches, a bandage alone proving sufficient.

The Ladies' Aid of St. Stephen's church will hold a sale of work at the residence of Mrs. A. Lamb, Third avenue, on Tuesday next, afternoon and evening. Afternoon tea will be served during the progress of the sale and high tea at 6 o'clock in the evening. On Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock a very pretty wedding took place at the Queens Avenue Methodist church, when Miss Ida M. Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Marshall, was married to Mr. Ernest Saunders. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a very pretty gown of white broadcloth and carried a Testament bound in white cloth instead of the usual flowers. Miss Jessie Marshall, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and wore a pink silk dress and carried a wreath of pink roses. Mr. A. Oxenbury, nephew of the groom, was best man. The church was very prettily decorated for the occasion with white flowers, smilax and white ribbon. The wedding march was played by the organist, Mr. H. D. Mackness.

POETRY, ROMANCE AND COPPER.

Many of Ireland's secrets have been long forgotten on this side of the water. But some of these same secrets are still carefully preserved in America.

And what is this secret? Some people have thought that if Americans wanted to buy Killarney's lakes they were looking to the possible gigantic revenue following the erection of a Coney Island at this prime picnic ground. There is an immense revenue from sightseers as it is.

The Great Western Railway, which has recently opened a new direct route to the Killarney district by way of Fishguard, estimates that more than a hundred thousand people yearly visit the lakes. And every few minutes these visitors are asked, in some cases commanded, to pay sums from a few cents to a quarter for entrance into grounds or cottages, for guides, boats, ponies, echoes by bugle blast or cannon fire, photographing, postcards, legendary tales, refreshments, alms and half a dozen more. For these "incidental" the excursion agencies charge tourists $2.50. Those people who are their own paymasters must, therefore, pay out very much more. This means a good bit more than a quarter of a million dollars, not counting hotels, refreshments and railways. A vast improvement has taken place quite lately in the giving of comfort and pleasure to visitors. Yet it can be seen that an enterprising company easily could make a very good thing out of the management.

Secret Known to the Romans. Still it is believed that this was not the purpose of the syndicate in covering the domains of the Lord of Killarney. Its purpose rather lay in the information taken to America soon after the year 1808 and handed down by successive generations. It was a secret known to the Romans when they visited the Isles of Albion; known to the McCartie More, who, with his descendants, ruled so long as King of Munster, King of Sashel, Lord of Cork and Desmond, Lord Palatine of Killarney; known to Valentine Browne the first, when he came as a "carpet bagging" Englishman in the time of Elizabeth to turn the Irish out of their homes and take over the lands of the McCarties, the O'Donoghues and the O'Sullivan. That from the first this Valentine Browne knew the secret is proven not alone from the historic papers of the now noble Irish family, but from the wording of his patents from Queen Elizabeth and King James I. and grants from the crown. Look at Burkes' Peerage of today and you will find that the compiler, finding this wording so peculiar, has quoted it, which is an exception in this great book of noble genealogists.

The wording is as follows: "The Lakes of Killarney, with all the islands of or in the same, and the fisheries of the said lakes, and the soil and bottom thereof."

Harmless phaseology? Yes, indeed, unless you know that untold wealth lies beneath the lakes in the shape of copper and tin; that the wonderful mineral strata of Cornwall run under the sea and crop out again in the Killarney region.

That is the secret. That is believed to be the reason, American syndicates have in the last hundred years made four attempts to buy Killarney's Lakes from the last four Earls of Kenmare. The first Earl of Kenmare worked a copper mine in 1807 on Ross Island, under the shadow of the ruined castle. It was crude working, but in two years his mines took out $400,000 worth of copper. Then came a stirring year of strife, with increasing wars in many lands, and Lord Kenmare closed down the mine. He died four years later, and his sons were too busy with Napoleonic wars to bother with mines. And then there was no fuel to be had without much labor of transport. The mine was forgotten except by the exiles who went to America. It was the same mine that was worked partially by the Romans and by the McCartie More, whose artificer, "Lein of the White Teeth" gave his name to the Lower Lake (Loch Lein). The artificer's forge was at the lakeside.

The Brown Family.

Killarney, however, has even more riches to yield than copper. To tell about those riches one must go back to the history of the foundation of the Brown family. The founder was a Leicestershire man, knighted because he held offices of trust in the reigns of Edward VI, Mary and Elizabeth. He must, have been a courtier worthy of the name to have been, in those turbulent days, persona grata to all three monarchs. He was sent by Queen Elizabeth to Ireland to survey the escheated lands around Killarney. Here is where he gained knowledge of the great mineral wealth as yet practically untouched. Sir Valentine for a second wife married Thomazine Bacon, aunt of the great Francis Bacon. He decided to become an Irishman, was made auditor-general, a privy councillor and represented Sligo in parliament. In Kerry he set the different clans fighting each other as the quickest way of exterminating them. For the powerful leaders he secured honors—the earldom of Glencare for McCartie, knighthoods for O'Sullivan and O'Donoghue. When Sir Valentine died his son followed his footsteps.

The Brownes had secured grants of the escheated lands and lived at Castle Ross. The son did better than the father. He procured secretly from Queen Elizabeth a patent to the Earldom of Glencare and all the McCartie's lands, with consent to marry the Lady Elen McCartie. All this to take place on her father's death.

The Brownes, in their possession of the Lakes of Killarney, did not have everything their own way. They continued as courtiers, sticking loyally to the sovereign in every reign. James I. made the ruling Browne a baronet. James II. raised the honors to the Barony of Castlecrosse and Viscounty of Kenmare. The first viscount on the King's abdication, forfeited his estates, as did the second viscount, but the third regained them. The fifth had his titles all remade, as it was claimed they were illegal having been created by an abdicated king. To make up for this, and because of the loyalty of the family the honors were raised once more, and the Valentine Browne of that period became Viscount Castlerosse and first Earl of Kenmare. The third earl was made a baron of England, and so secured a seat in the House of Lords.

The town of Killarney owes its origin to the copper mine and iron smelting works. The miners and workmen had houses built for them, and quickly a flourishing little town sprang up at the gates of Lord Kenmare's mansion. But the mines and the smelting works were closed. Many of the workmen emigrated to America, and the town dwindled to a village, a hamlet, a mere name.

The fame of the lakes, the influx of tourists in the nineteenth century brought it to life again, and now it is more flourishing than ever.

The earl and countess have flagged and paved the streets. They have built Catholic schools for 400 boys and 300 girls, and partially clothed and apprenticed the children. The countess has almshouses for aged women. Kenmare House, a very plain barracks of a house, has given way to Killarney House, a noble Tudor pile, standing on an eminence a little north of the old mansion. Much landscape gardening has been done, and parks and rivers and flower beds abound, not alone near the big house, but on the lower lake shore and on the islands. Particularly is this the case on Ross Island, where the first of the copper mines is situated—its eighty acres are simply one immense garden. The countess has also built cottages and dining halls and shelters for the tourists. In the magnificent library at Kill-larny House are to be seen some of the family treasures, written and printed on vellum with musty hide covers. Here can be read that the mountains contain untold treasure in iron ore and iron pyrites studded with crystals; lead ore, some "steel" veined. At Ross and Muckcross can be found abundance of golden copper, purple copper, gray cobalt, cobalt bloom and marble.

On many of the islands there is beautiful marble of red and white, with yellow, green and purple spots. For the taking there are to be had huge quantities of pipeclay, potter's clay, fullers earth, brown ochre, rottenstone, tripoli, razor whetstone, very fine amethysts and magnificent crystals, which are very hard, taking a polish, cut and look like diamonds. There are also sulphur and saline springs. There are also slate rock, full of quartz, which is so hard it dresses like marble; slates for roofing and building material—greenstone, brownstone, sandstone and limestone. The present Lord Kenmare works quarries for this building stone and for slates.

Even in the old days a suggestion was made to market all this wealth of the earth and lakes. The scheme was to make the River Laune navigable, for the river empties into Castlemaine Harbor.

Muckross Abbey, the ancient domain of the McCartie Mores, is as much a part of the Lakes of Killarney as Lord Kenmare's property. Herbert of Muckross some years ago sold the estates to Lord Ardilaun. Lord Ardilaun sold it recently to William Bowers Borun of San Francisco. Part of Killarney's treasures are, of course, under this big estate. Ostensibly Mr. Bourn bought it to give his daughter a country seat. She recently married Mr. Arthur Vincent, an Irish gentleman. Mr. Bourn is not communicative, but it would be highly interesting to know whether, he has been in the secret of Killarney and whether he is a member of the syndicate. At any rate, the opportunity of reaching a hand into the practically untouched treasure store of Killarney is in the possession of an American at last.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1911.

THE POLICE DEPARTMENT.

It was Punch who gave currency to the trite remark, "A policeman's life is not a happy one." Each age has its impulses; what we call progress really ebbs and flows. There are times when in the breasts of even the youngest of us, there is developed a wholesome regard for that projection into the body politic of the ripe sapience of maturity that we call law and order, and that we visualize in the embodiment of the police force. It is the fashion, the mode, to poke fun at the police; but, after all, to poke fun at the police is a very cheap and vulgar exhibition of wit. It has been said that nobody is a hero to his valet, to the person who performs for him familiar offices which betray him clay, human. Similarly with the police. Popular imagination kindles at the recital of brave deeds done at a distance—in the tented field, in the line of battle, in the panoply of war. The ordinary citizen seldom pauses to think long enough to see that the policeman who enters a store in the wake of a burglar takes his life in his hands.

Everybody loves Tommy Atkins. Who that saw the Canadian contingent march to the depot to board the ship that would bear those gallant lads to the land where an Empire fought for its continuance, did not wish that for a few fleeting, furtive moments he might be a woman and enjoy the privilege of giving vent to one heavy, heart-laden sigh, and remaining unashamed? The boys were willing to lay down their lives when country and kindred called. Many of them did so. The policeman testifies his willingness to lay down his life for the common weal, if need be, when he joins the police force.

The Daily News is not the panegyrist of police. Frequently the newspaperman and policeman are at wide variance. The news man wants news. The policeman does not want to give news, when the giving of news may interfere with the prosecution of police work. The newspaperman and the police may differ sharply and widely in view regarding the precise moment when, in the interests of the public, information in the possession of the police should be given to the press, and, though the press, to the people. In matters such as this the courtesy by which one man extends to another the right of private judgment may be utterly forgotten. In the interests of the public, says the newspaperman, this and that information should be given; in the interests of the public, says the policeman, facts which mark the progress of our enquiry should be withheld from the criminal, and, therefore from publication.

It is apparent that in a growing city like New Westminster, the efficiency of the police, the adequacy of the force to the protection of law-abiding citizens and the maintenance of the standard of equipment which this involves, should be placed beyond question or cavil. New Westminster, in the matter of crime and its punishment, occupies a position which is almost unique in British Columbia. The penitentiary is here; the criminal who merits capital punishment yields up to the society he has outraged the life that even the most desperate criminal holds dear. In New Westminster the arm of the law is not cruel; in point of humaneness and of consideration for the feelings of citizens, old or young, who lapse from the path of rectitude, the New Westminster police force may challenge comparison with the police force of any city in the province. But only the strong can be humane, if humaneness is not to be mistaken for weakness. On account of the importance of New Westminster as a penal centre, and on account of the claim for protection which belong to its growing population, the police force, the arm of the law, in New Westminster should be strong.

The suggestions and recommendations made by the Chief of Police to the Police Commissioners at the last meeting of the body should be carried out. The increase of police business within recent years is sufficient proof of the reasonableness of the requests and suggestions then and there made. Public opinion is alive to the necessity of far-reaching improvements in the police department. Chief of Police Bradshaw, in the recommendations and suggestions he made at the last meeting, has the business sense and the commonsense—if, indeed, that is not distinction without a difference—behind him.

Immortal.

Mr. Fred Terry, who went from a sick bed and, propped up amongst a heap of cushions in one of the boxes, watched the triumph of his daughter, Miss Neilson Terry at the New Theatre, London, in "Romeo and Juliet," recently, tells a story which, while amusing, illustrates the popular actor's thoroughness. "One day," he says, "we were rehearsing the death scene in 'The Heel of Achilles,' and a member of my company came in from the street and asked the call-boy how far the rehearsal had gone. 'Mr. Terry's just dying,' replied the boy. 'Good, I've time to smoke a cigarette before my entrance.' Presently the actor returned, and repeated the question. 'Still dying,' answered the boy. 'Oh, I'll go and have another cigarette then.' Back he came, but only got the same reply from the call-boy. 'Finally, after smoking five cigarettes, he asked, a little wearily, how far the rehearsal had gone. 'Still dying,' answered the call-boy. 'Great! He's just passed the actor, he must be immortal!'" Musician and Scientist.

There is no more brilliant scientist in the world to-day than Sir William Ramsay, who has been warning Britain that, at the present rate of consumption, her coal supply will only last another 175 years. His most wonderful discoveries have been in connection with new gases in the atmosphere, upon which such names as argon, neon, and xenon have been bestowed, and the experimental work which led to these discoveries ranks as the most refined ever carried out. Of xenon, for example, there is only about one part in 70,000,000 parts of air. Sir William devotes his leisure to music. He plays both the piano and violin and has written the words of not a few songs. The collecting of curios is another of Sir William's hobbies, and at his house at Regent's Park may be seen many queer treasures thousands of years old.

BOY SCOUT IDEA.

Head Master of Harrow Favors Its Adoption in School Curriculum. London, Dec. 8.—If an experiment which General Baden Powell has approved, is successful, "scouting" will be incorporated in the curriculum of the public schools of Great Britain. The originator of the idea is Ernest Young, head master at Harrow, who says: "A great many subjects in the curriculum such as geography, surveying and mathematics are associated with the work done by the Boy Scouts. I believe that the movement promotes a corporate spirit among the boys and does great good from the physical and moral points of view. Therefore, next spring and summer my boys will do their studying in camp instead of class-room. Instead of classes we will have patrols. The boys will prepare and cook their own meals. "By fall we should be able, by mental tests, physical examinations and so forth to determine whether it will be advisable to make "scouting" a permanent fixture in the schools."

SPORTS

This is what the Winnipeg Tribune thinks about the New Westminster ice hockey team and the prospects before the coast league:

"There is a migration of eastern hockey players to the west this week. Jimmy Gardner, of the Wanderer Hockey club, and Harry Hyland, are now in the city and it is expected that Pud Glass will follow in a few days. These men are billed to play on the New Westminster team for the year and they are confident that that organization can win out in the series it is to play in. They expect that before this time next year New Westminster will have a rink of its own. Newey Lalonde was in the city over Sunday, but left in the evening for the west.

"All hands feel that the new coast league will prove a great success. There is a great deal of dissatisfaction expressed over the way things are run in the east this season. The officials of the big league hold meetings behind closed doors and then proceed to change the constitution without letting the players know what those changes are."

The Rovers will play at Queens park today, and not as was announced in these columns yesterday at Vancouver. The match will be against the Hibernians, of Vancouver, and should prove a very tough struggle. Both the Rovers and the Hibernians have been beaten by the Celtics and the Shamrocks, but the local boys are the only team that so far has had the honor of lowering the colors of the league leaders, the Thistles, whom they defeated recently by one goal to nothing. The Hibernians, however, have, by all accounts, been greatly strengthened since the last encounter of the teams, having brought back one or two of their old representatives into the team and also secured Wynn, of Ladysmith, who is a distinct gain to any side.

On the other hand, if the Rovers can reproduce the form they showed against Nanaimo, who are probably the best team on the coast today, they should be able to make a hole in their opponents' defence, which should let through enough shots to leave the local team in front when time is called at Queens park this afternoon.

Up to date the Rovers have only won one game out of the four they have played in the league, but Manager Grant is making strenuous efforts to have a really strong aggregation lined up by the New Year, when the cup competitions begin. Up to date a certain amount of bad luck has dogged his efforts, but prospects are brightening, and if only the supporters of the team will turn out and give some active encouragement things will look very different in future.

Today's game starts at 2:45, but the players are requested to be on the ground half an hour before the kick-off. These will be selected from the following: "Jack" (goal), Lyon, McMillan, Lewis, Bruce, Metkelejohn, Borland, Walker, Davis, Fraser, Donald, Hayes, Cairnduff and Smiley.

In the schedule of the Pacific Coast Hockey association games published yesterday morning, it was stated that the Victoria-Westminster match on March 12 would be played in Victoria. This paragraph should have read that the Vancouver-Westminster game on February 2 would be played in Victoria. All Victoria home matches will be played in the Capital City, but the Westminster home games must take place in Vancouver.

It is not yet certain whether all the players picked to represent the senior amateurs against the V. A. C. today will be able to play. If everybody comes up to the scratch though, the line-up will be as follows: Sampher, goal; McAllister and Paterson, backs; Craig, Ferguson and Smith, half backs; Cheal, Petrie, Seggie, Speedies and Kilson, forwards. This is pretty nearly the best team the club can put on, and it should do more than go very near to winning this afternoon.

BOWLING.

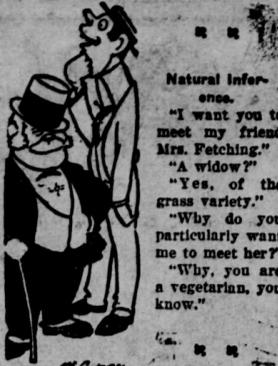

Two out of three and the match was what the Angels handed out to the Wanderers in last night's house league fixtures. The last game was a close one, the Angels being only three pins short of making it three straight. Frank Dill once more distinguished himself, being the star pin getter with an average of 166. J. C. Chamberlin had high score, 180. The score:

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

If we had to take the advice we give probably there would be a great revision in the matter handed out.

Be suspicious of the man who sees everything as you see it. It may be that he is getting close enough to make a touch.

The milk of human kindness should yield a rich cream of godfellowship.

People who have castles in the air may soon be called upon to pay an air tax.

Many a gown fits the wife a great deal more satisfactorily than the bill for it fits her husband.

There may be quite a difference to a man between having a draft in his pocket and a draft on his pocket.

A tall man is often short after marriage.

The man who doesn't invest money in his own enterprises may have more charity for himself than faith in his business.

One reason why some people change their minds readily is undoubtedly because it is so little trouble.

Trouble is a tiresome thing, but some people seem greatly to enjoy taking it.

HELP FOR AGED SEAMEN.

The following poetic appeal for help is being circulated by the Royal Alfred Aged Merchant Seamen's institution, of 58 Fenchurch street, London, E. C., England. The association claims to have granted a pension or a home at the National Home at Belvedere to nearly 3000 British mariners, the object of the society being stated as being to give, irrespective of rank, ports of service, or place of abode, a home or pension to the British sailor when old and destitute. Such an object entitles the association to support in every quarter of the globe to which British ships sail, and it is with pleasure that we print the poem that follows:

To the people of the Nation
 Which hath called the sea its own,
 We are sending forth this message—
 Will you make it widely known?
 It appeals to every Briton
 Wherever he may be,
 To assist the worn-out sailor
 When too old to go to sea.

He has watched through nights of peril,
 Toiled and sweated at the winch,
 He has gladly done his duty
 Where a landsman well might flinch;

He has suffered thirst and hunger,
 Braved disaster round the Horn,
 And been stricken down with fever
 In the heats of Capricorn.

In the chain that binds the Empire
 He has forged a mighty link;
 What she would have done without him
 Britain scarcely dares to think;

Yet when toll-worn home returning
 From his labors for mankind,
 There is often want before him
 When he leaves the sea behind.

There's a worthy Institution—
 "Royal Alfred" is its name,
 And our Sailor King, its Patron,
 Hath in public urged its claim;

It distributes wide its bounty,
 But the "waiting list" is long—
 Funds are needed—will you help us?
 Is the burden of our song.

Langley Poultry Show.

The annual Langley poultry show will take place on Tuesday next at Murrayville, when the judges will be called upon to pass upon the merits of several hundred entries. Two cups have been offered for competition, one, given by the association, for the best bird in the show, and the other, given by W. J. Kerr, for the best pen on exhibition. John Rankin, a well known poultry fancier of Langley, is one of the judges.

GRANDMOTHERS' BEAUTIFUL HAIR

Color and Beauty of the Hair Preserved with a Harmless Remedy Made from Sage.

Druggists everywhere comment on the fact that they are selling large quantities of sage for making old-fashioned "sage tea," such as was used by our grandmothers for promoting the growth of their hair, making it fluffy and beautiful and restoring its natural color.

The demand for this well-known herb for this purpose has been so great that one manufacturer has taken advantage of the fact and has placed on the market an ideal "sage tea," containing sulphur, a valuable remedy for dandruff and scalp rashes and irritations, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agents, D. S. Curtis and H. Ryall.

AUCTION SALE

of valuable waterfront lots on the Vancouver side of the North Arm of the Fraser, on December 19th, Dominion Hall, at 10 a. m., containing 383 acres under cultivation, being D. L. 167 and part of 166, Burnaby. Only five minutes' walk from B. C. E. Railway. Will be sold in lots 66 by nearly 500 feet; also five and ten-acre blocks.

On the property are two dwelling houses and two barns and large shipping shed; also large orchard. Terms only 20 per cent down, balance eight years, divided into yearly payments at 6 per cent interest.

Indefeasible title, with taxes paid to date.

I am instructed by the owner, Dr. H. E. Langis, to sell on above date. This property has never been on the market before, and is the most valuable property on the North Arm. It is nearly all cleared, and is the richest soil on the Burnaby B. C. E. Railway line.

Real estate firms will be allowed 5 per cent on any purchase at the sale for clients, but in order to recognize as such will require a letter signed by the auctioneer not later than December 18th.

This waterfront property will be worth $500 to $1000 per front foot before final payment will be required. Any further particulars, with maps, will be furnished by the auctioneer.

Auction Sale of the Valuable Farm, being block 167 and part of 166 in Burnaby, being the property of Dr. Langis, which contains 383 acres, nearly all under cultivation and perfectly level

On Tuesday, December 19th at 10 a.m.
DOMINION HALL, OVER WORLD OFFICE, PENDER STREET, VANCOUVER, B.C.

Valuable Waterfront Property

There is 7294 feet of waterfront, which will be sold in 66-ft. lots, which are from 400 to 500 ft. deep; the balance of the ranch will be sold in five and ten-acre blocks. Upon the property are two farm dwelling houses, large barn, shipping shed and large orchard.

Panama Canal

There is no doubt that on the completion of the Panama Canal there will probably be twenty times as much shipping from Vancouver. It is a fact the Dominion Government intends to spend $1,000,000 on the Fraser River by dredging; also it is under contemplation to dredge the North Arm.

Can you conceive what this waterfront then will be worth? Make no mistake; get in and buy some waterfront without fail.

Shipping

For shipping at the present time large steamers ply the North Arm of the Fraser—the S.S. Strathcona having one of the boats that was used in shipping the product of the ranch.

Don't fail to look well into this property. Nothing as good was ever offered by auction in five and ten-acre blocks—and under cultivation.

Trackage

The B. C. E. Railway line is now within five minutes' walk from the property, which also makes it available for trackage purposes, as well as waterfront.

Now, what does this mean? Simply this, that the waterfront and trackage will be worth, within four or five years, $500 to $1000 for front foot, as it is right at the door of Vancouver—only thirty minutes from the centre of the town.

Under Cultivation

This property has been under cultivation for over thirty years. Nearly all under crop and timothy. In buying here you do not have to pay $300 or $400 per acre to clear it; therefore, it is a producer at once. Do not fail to inspect and pick out your block.

TERMS EASY

The terms are very easy—20 per cent cash, the balance eight yearly payments at six per cent, which means only ten per cent on the principal. Long before you will be called upon for the final payment the great impetus from the Panama Canal will make you rich if you get hold of some waterfront on acre blocks.

MARKET REPORT

Those who expected the market yesterday morning to be spoiled by the weather were disappointed. Conditions generally were good, and anyone who had ducks to sell must have felt happy when he saw the way these birds were snapped up by the buyers. There were some nice specimens of this tasty fowl to be had too, and the price held firm between $12 and $15 for the dozen. Hens in good condition sold well, but the small birds that are more feathers than flesh dropped as low as $6 a dozen. For the fatter ones, however, the price was steady, but barely rose above $9 a dozen.

Dressed hogs were present in considerable quantity, but buyers apparently could have done with a few more, as the whole lot sold off easily without the price dropping at all. From 12½ to 13 cents a pound was the prevailing price, which was paid without hesitation. The supply of beef carcasses was small with prices unchanged.

In the vegetable market there was a copious supply of roots. Potatoes declined about $1 a ton, and could be bought for $25. Many of those for sale, however, were rather of the seed variety, and may take a little time to dispose of. Carrots and turnips were there galore, but the price did not weaken from the 75 and 60 cent level, which prevailed for these vegetables respectively last week.

The housewife will be glad to hear that eggs came down a little. Although not plentiful they were wholesaled at 60 cents a dozen, and retailed at from 70 to 75 cents, although a few were disposed of at a slightly lower figure. Some nice King apples changed hands at $1.75 the box, while other varieties sold all the way down from this price to $1.25. At mid-day there was not an apple left on the market, but inquiries were still being made for the fruit.

In the sale ring business was not quite so brisk as last Friday, but there was but little to complain of. One auctioneer sold nine head of horses and three cows, the horses fetching from $30 to $150. There were no heavy horses for sale anywhere. About 25 horses were sold altogether.
