REVISED PLAN OF ROYAL VISIT

Duke May Decide to Officially Open Provincial Exhibition.

Colonel Lowther Wires Governor General from Vancouver—Program Finally Approved.

It is not entirely improbable now that their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia will spend one day in the city during exhibition week as well as the scheduled visit on September 21, according to a statement made last night by Mr. Stuart Wade, secretary of the royal reception committee.

The secretary was in Vancouver yesterday morning where he held an interview with Lieutenant Colonel F. C. Lowther, C.M.G., military secretary to the Governor General, regarding arrangements which are being made for the 21st, and the matter of securing another visit from the royal party was broached. Colonel Lowther was quite taken with the suggestion and sent a wire to His Royal Highness recommending that the visit be made.

Rests with His Royal Highness.

The matter now rests with the Governor General himself, and should he be disposed to come, it is hoped that he will officially open the Westminster exhibition. The date set for the proposed extra visit is Thursday, October 3.

The program for September 21 was submitted to Colonel Lowther in Vancouver by whom it was gone over in detail, and finally approved with a few alterations. In the arrangements which are outlined below it will be observed that the royal party will arrive in Westminster at 11:30 a.m., instead of at noon as stated in previous wires.

Royal Itinerary.

The program is as follows:

- 10:45 a.m.—Leave Vancouver.
- 11:30—Arrive at New Westminster, probably via B. C. E. R. Inspection of guard of honor, 104th regiment and band. Introduction of his worship the mayor. Autos to Albera Crescent where the city band will be in attendance. National Anthem.
- 12:00—Presentation of bouquets to Their Royal Highnesses the Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia by the Mayor. Presentation of civic address. His Royal Highness the Governor General's reply. Inspection of national reserve and service men, boys' brigade and boy scouts.
- 12:40—Autos to provincial farm and new asylum.
- 1:15—Lunch at provincial farm.
- 2:30—Autos to Fraser Mills, arrive at 2:45.
- 3:45—Leave by steamer for city.
- 4:00—Arrive at customs landing stage, New Westminster. Autos, Columbia to Sixth street and Tipperary park.
- 4:15—Laying foundation stone by the Duke of Connaught of the High school, 104th regiment and band. (Possibly a few minutes may be arranged for tea at the Y. M. C. A.) Presentation of Governor General's medals to scholars. Presentation of certificates of St. John's association.
- 4:45—Autos to Queens park via Queens avenue.
- Planting of Maple trees by Their Royal Highness the Governor General, Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia.
- 5:10—Lacrosse—world's championship game.
- 5:45—Autos to B. C. E. R. depot via Clinton place and Leopold and Columbia street.
- 6:00—Leave for return trip.
- Children from Valley.

Their Royal Highnesses are particularly desirous of an opportunity of seeing the school children of the valley and in compliance with this wish arrangements will be made to bring the children into Westminster if possible.

Mr. Edward Hoult, caretaker of the city hall, has prepared large pictures of Their Royal Highnesses, and of King George V., and the Royal Arms which will be used in the decoration of the city hall for the Governor General's visit.

MORE GAS LITIGATION

Company's Solicitor Makes Move to Quash By-law.

The gas case between the city and James Cunningham, of the Westminster Gas company, has taken a fresh turn, and within the next ten days Mr. Adams S. Johnston, solicitor for the company, will make application before the supreme court for the quashing of the by-law passed by the city council on August 31, which repealed the New Westminster Gas by-law, 1886.

Mr. Johnston claims that the recent action of the city council is a violation of the powers given it by the Municipal Clauses act, that it is ultra vires; that the credit of the city would be impaired if such actions are allowed to pass by the council, and finally, that a change from the New Westminster Gas by-law, 1886, can only be made by an act of the legislature.

BACK FROM TELLING OF FRASER HARBOR

Messrs. Myers and Darling Appear Satisfied with Results of Publicity Trip.

Mr. Kenneth Myers, secretary of the Progressive association, and Mr. W. L. Darling, who have been visiting the prairies on a mission of publicity regarding the merits of New Westminster as a location for grain elevators, arrived back at 12:30 o'clock yesterday morning. Both seem satisfied that good results will come of their visit.

On Wednesday last both gentlemen spoke before the Calgary grain exchange which held its annual meeting on that day. They were well received by all the parties they interviewed with the best of hospitality and interest was shown them, and, greater still, the newspapers of the middle west gave their visit prominence in special articles.

Mr. Myers visited Edmonton on Friday last, leaving Mr. Darling to continue the work in Calgary. The both found that New Westminster as a harbor point was increasing in interest among the wheat producers and buyers in Calgary and also in Edmonton.

Much data will be valuable for future use, was given them, and according to Mr. Myers the visit has shown the business men in Alberta that New Westminster is on the map to stay, and that there are chances of advancing the interests of the city, the Royal City will be there with its plans and backing.

MAY EXPEDITE WORK ON LOCAL EXCHANGE

With Completion of New Highland Exchange Number of Workmen May Come Here.

Now that the new Highland exchange at Vancouver has been finished and put over, it is very probable that the new system being installed in Westminster by the B. C. Telephone Company will be pushed rapidly ahead. Though no announcement has been made by the officials of the company, it is expected that a number of the men who have been working for the past few months on the Vancouver exchange will be transferred over here in order to help out in the work at present being done in the local office.

A good many men have been engaged installing the new system for several weeks past, but, owing to the complex nature of the undertaking, it is difficult to set a time limit for the completion of the improvements. It is confidently expected, however, that before two months are over the new system will be in use here.

New phone books have been issued by the company in Vancouver. These have not yet been issued to any of the subscribers in Westminster, but they are expected to arrive in the city any time now.

SURREY'S NEW HALL NEARLY COMPLETED

White Rock Petition Laid Over—Enviably Financial Condition of Municipality.

The Surrey municipal council met at Cloverdale on Saturday. The new municipal hall was reported nearly finished, and will probably be ready for occupation at the next meeting of the council. It was decided to proceed with the furnishing of the board room and clerk's offices immediately. The building when completed will cost about $20,000, and this will be defrayed out of the revenue of the municipality and sale of civic land, without recourse to any money by-law.

Surrey is in the enviable position of being entirely free from any municipal bonds, under money by-laws. The new hall is a fine commodious building of two storeys and presents an elegant and imposing appearance. Besides the handsome hall for public meetings, council room, it possesses on the upper storey the clerk's offices and accommodation for engineer and other officials, the coming of whom are anticipated in the near future. Its lighting and appointments are excellent and the edifice altogether is a credit to the municipality.

A petition from a number of residents of White Rock for the consent of the council to separation and incorporation was received and laid over for future consideration and investigation. It is understood that the property holders of the district are by no means unanimous in the matter and that fuller inquiry and discussion is required.

MORE HORRORS TO MEXICAN WARFARE

Yaqui Indians Uncoarse—Kill Men, Women and Children—Sacking and Raiding Posts.

Tucson, Ariz., Sept. 8.—Yaqui Indians have taken to the warpath, adding new terrors to the rebel-harassed residents of the state of Sonora along the Southern Pacific railroad.

A band of 100 Indians last night raided Realito, a hamlet on the Yaqui river, and carried away one of the village officials. Then they attacked Colonia, near the Southern Pacific headquarters at Em Palme, and killed two men, one woman and a child and wounded another woman.

A federal guard comprising an officer and twelve men were at the Em Palme railway station when the attack was made and they immediately made off on foot toward Colonia.

The soldiers met the inhabitants of Colonia fleeing before the Indians toward Em Palme and because the non-combatants were between their pursuers and rescuers, the latter were unable to direct an effective fire into the Yaquis. The Indians, however, fired briskly at the townspeople and soldiers.

Of the dozen federal soldiers who went out to meet the hostiles five were killed and six wounded. One Yaqui dead remained on the battlefield when the Indians withdrew to the hills. It is reported that 400 rebels are encamped almost within sight of Em Palme tonight.

So close were the Indians to Em Palme during the fighting that bullets struck the American Railway club and several residences.

AGAIN REMANDED

Case Against Walshes Will Be Up Again This Week.

Another remand was granted in the case against Walter Davis, alias Walsh, and his alleged wife, charged with entering and robbing the Westminster branch of the Bank of Montreal on September 15, 1912. They appeared before Magistrate Edmonds on Saturday afternoon and after the crown solicitor had applied for a further extension of time, they were again escorted to the provincial jail.

The date for another hearing was set for Friday morning at 10 a.m., but it is possible that Mr. E. P. Davis, prosecutor for the crown, and Mr. S. S. Taylor, K.C., who will defend the two prisoners, may come to an agreement so that the case will be tried earlier in the week.

No word has been heard from Detroit yet as to whether Martin Powell will take his case to a higher court in the hopes of evading extradition, but, as Powell still has a matter of twelve days to file an appeal, nothing is expected until the end of this week.

DESPITE WEATHER PLEASSED WITH TRIP

Burnaby Board of Trade Visits Chilliwack—Motored Through Surrounding District.

Edmonds, Sept. 8.—The second annual outing of the Burnaby board of trade, now a thing of the past, about twenty members of the association paid a visit to Chilliwack on Saturday morning, where they were feted by the members of the Chilliwack board of trade.

Weather conditions were entirely against such an outing, but the business men of the municipality were well pleased with their trip where they made the acquaintance of the pleasing community of the Fraser valley city, hemmed around as it is by the Vedder mountains.

The party left New Westminster on the 9:20 train and, upon arrival in Chilliwack, were shown around the town by the officials of that city. After luncheon the visitors boarded automobiles and were taken around the surrounding territory, being shown the prosperous looking farms and houses of the agricultural community.

MOTOR CYCLE RACE SMASH; FOUR KILLED

Newark, N. J., Sept. 8.—Four persons were killed at the Valleyburg Velodrome during a motor paced bicycle race today. The dead are: Riders Haba and Albright and two spectators.

The riders collided and crashed into a crowd in the bleachers.

THIRTY-FIVE INJURED IN TRAIN COLLISION

Cleveland, Sept. 8.—Thirty-five persons were injured, five of them fatally, when a special Lake Shore electric car, with a trailer attached, crashed into a brewery truck four miles west of Rocky River, near here today.

SHOW GERMANY OUR HAND IS TOO GOOD

Brándon M. P. Misquoted—Says Canada Should Share in Great War Game.

Ottawa, Sept. 8.—J. A. M. Aikens, M. P. for Brandon, arrived here today from a trip to Britain and the continent. Asked regarding the interview purported to have been given by him in which he was quoted as saying that England and Germany were now in an actual state of war, Mr. Aikens says that he was both misunderstood and misquoted.

What he wished to convey was that the two nations are playing a war game, both have drawn cards, and it is now a matter of the one outguessing the other, as to their respective hands.

Should Germany once believe that she held the winning hand war would begin. Mr. Aikens said that it is for Canada to take a hand and show Germany—that the empire holds an overwhelming hand. Then, he believes, the Germans would leave the table and quit the game.

WONDERFUL POWER FOR GOOD IN LAND

Newer Life of Nation Is Found in the Homes—Scope of Sunday Schools.

The work of the Sunday school in connection with every day life was the theme of Rev. R. A. Hiltz, of Toronto, last evening in Holy Trinity cathedral. Mr. Hiltz is general secretary for Canada of the Sunday School association, and is making a visit to all the important church centres of the coast and the prairies. The preacher first drew attention to the proclamation of Moses to the Israelites for the teaching of God, the young and old of the laws of God. This exhortation to the people shows that only personal, but national, life can be a true life. It is not a matter of the state, but of the individual, and the children, not only of Israel, but the strangers within thy gates.

"With the advancement of civilization, and the upbuilding of nations, the work of the Sunday school becomes more apparent," said Mr. Hiltz. "Very few people are fully aware of the movement. It gives a child a proper place in life, it means the red-emption of the child. Too often we frame out policy with the adult in view and not the child.

"The Sunday school has done much to reinter the home in religion. What we need is better men and women and we cannot get these without better homes. The cry has gone forth 'Christianize your churches, but a truer cry is 'Christianize your homes.' The newer life of a nation is found in the home. The Sunday school holds up family religion and places before the parent the family altar and the study of God's word in the home. It is really a great social and political feature in the land. It can gather at its call 28,000,000 people.

"The future welfare of a nation is inseparably connected with the work of the school. The glory of a nation is not of the census, its cities and its crops, but the right kind of manhood and true force. To begin Christian work among the heathen is to start with the children. To this great army of Sunday school workers and scholars 20,000 members are being added every week. In this North American continent it has two and a half to three million male members alone to say nothing of the church going to make of this great army? It is impossible for it to assist the church unless it receives the support and recognition which is its due. We should see a general financial policy on our part with the other societies comprising itself to the wonderful realization that is before it and awaken to the splendid forces which are waiting to work for the betterment of mankind."

AMERICAN RAILWAY AGENTS TO PAY VISIT TO CITY

Due to the courtesy of the officials of the C. P. R., and the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, arrangements have been completed by which the members of the National Association of Railway Agents of North America in convention at Vancouver on September 17 will pay a visit to Westminster on the 15th of this month.

In the neighborhood of from 80 to 100 agents from all parts of the continent will comprise the party which will travel over to the city on the 10 o'clock train, returning after having seen the sight about 4 or 5 in the evening.

It is believed that the visit will be very advantageous to Westminster from a publicity point of view, as the majority of the agents are ticket sellers and will be able to give information about the Royal City at their respective stations. Mr. Stuart Wade has made the arrangements.

FOUND LYING DEAD IN DISUSED SCHOOL

Circumstances Point to Suicide of John Lund—Had Worked in Langley.

South Vancouver, Sept. 8.—What is believed to be a clear case of suicide was discovered this afternoon when a man, whose name is said to be John Lund, was found lying dead in an old disused school house on Fraser street near the Eburne car tracks. The first intimation the local police received of the discovery was through the New Westminster police, who phoned over the information that a youth named John Lund had told them of a man lying dead in his bunk in the school house.

Police Constable Irving immediately went out to the scene and called a doctor, who found the man had been dead several hours. A razor covered with blood was found lying near the man, whose neck was severely gashed, probably with the weapon. Among his effects was found a pocketbook, a watch and a road tax receipt of Langley dated May, 1912, in the name of John Lund. This name also appeared in the pocketbook.

The man was poorly dressed as if he was a fisherman, wearing a cloth cap with a shiny peak, black shoes and overalls.

He appeared to be about 40 to 45 years old, of heavy build weighing 180 pounds. The body was removed to the undertaking establishment of Green and Merkley where an inquest will be held tomorrow morning.

SEES BIG CHANGES AFTER FOUR YEARS

Very Little Rain Has Fallen This Year in Prince Rupert District Says Visitor.

After an absence of four years, Mr. G. L. Peck is visiting in the city.

Mr. G. L. Peck, who has been in the city for the first time in four years, said that the changes that have been made in the last few years in a relation to me. When asked about conditions in the northern city, Mr. Peck stated that improvements are being made all around. Large gangs of men are at Prince Rupert clearing the terminals of the Grand Trunk Pacific, while a gang of four hundred men are at work on the new dry dock which is being built in the harbor. Very little rainy weather has been experienced in Rupert this summer, in fact the farmers have been crying out for rain, which gives a setback to the saying that Prince Rupert is a place where one can expect rain every day of the year.

BIG MAJORITIES FOR POINT GREY BYLAWS

Franchise Accepted by Sweeping Vote—Care Will Be Operated at Once.

Kerrisdale, Point Grey, Sept. 8.—By a vote of 817 against 80, the electorate of Point Grey municipality yesterday decided to accept the franchise of the B. C. E. R., and active preparations are being made by the company to commence operations on the existing lines which have remained inactive since early in the spring. The huge majority piled up for the by-law was a surprise even to those who were in favor of allowing the B. C. Electric to again operate their trams in the municipality.

The acting manager of the company, Mr. Conway, after learning the result of the vote, authorized last night the announcement that his company would start a service of street cars in Point Grey at the earliest possible moment. If it was found practicable to give a service on the lines already completed, a beginning would be made on Monday; but at any rate service would be started without a moment's delay. The company, added Mr. Conway, would also start work on the plans for the construction of the new lines that are covered by the agreement.

The three money by-laws aggregating a total of half a million dollars were also passed by a majority of ten to one. The following is the vote on these:

- Water by-law, $200,000—For, 781; against, 54.
- School by-law, $150,000—For, 781; against, 54.
- Road by-law, $120,000—For, 783; against, 64.

Work authorized by the latter by-law will not be started until the new council takes office, but tenders, etc., will be prepared by the present council in order to facilitate the work of their successors if they themselves are not re-elected.

BRITISH OPINION ON NAVAL POLICY

"Nation" Says Borden's and Churchill's Proposals Are Conservative.

Would Set English and Canadian Liberals Against Each Other—Spectator's Dictum.

London, Sept. 8.—Henry Killiam, Managing Editor in the weekly Nation, says:

"We do not know what the precise proposals are that Premier Borden has taken back to Canada, but we very strongly urged Mr. Winston Churchill that he cannot and must not put the Liberal government of Great Britain into antagonism with the Liberal party in Canada. It is not part of any Liberal government's duty to assist in the furthering of a policy which is essentially Conservative and this we believe the proposals of Premier Borden and Churchill to be. Premier Borden is elected to power, it is remembered, not on his naval proposals, but on the wholly distinct issue of reciprocity, which will, in our opinion, be an injury both to Canada's autonomy and our own."

Bonds of Union.

The Spectator, referring to Canada's claim to some voice in the direction of foreign policy, says:

"It would be absurd to suppose that Canada and other great British nations overseas would consent indefinitely to follow in the train of Great Britain without a word as to the foreign policy of the empire. The great sisterhood of nations within the empire all acknowledging allegiance will make foreign policy a common concern. We do not shrink from that prospect, on the contrary we welcome it. The time is already past when Great Britain could impose an imperial policy on all parts of the empire. We welcome the prospect because it is a common responsibility, solemnly acknowledged and will be would introduce jealousy and rivalries and kill sentiment that now compels the dominions of their own notion to come to the aid of Great Britain."

YOUNG SEAL HAS DIED OF INJURIES

Thousands Visit Park to See Recent Addition to Zoo—Big Fellow Cheerful.

A pall of sorrow unobscured the Queens park zoo. Yesterday morning the handsome young seal provided a few days ago as a male to the seal, just recently donated to the zoo, succumbed to injuries it had received while being transported to the park. Besides this, stories are told of a deadly feud between the two seals, which started when the young one arrived and culminated with the death of the little fellow. Be this as it may it is certain that the treatment given the young animal by the older one greatly expedited its death. The remains of the unfortunate beast were found lying under some small bushes in the pond enclosure where it is supposed to have crawled to expire.

Hundreds of people visited the zoo yesterday to see the big seal, and the fence which surrounds the pool and grounds where it was kept was lined with people to see the animals were turned out to hear the young one had died, and thousands gazed morbidly on the dead animal.

The big seal seemed to be afflicted with a sort of stagefright and gazed nervously upon the thousands of eyes that watched its every movement. It does not seem to have become accustomed to its new home yet, but park ranger Robertson states it is looking and acting much better than it did on the day of its arrival. "At first" he says, "it refused to eat but when the other animal arrived its spirits and appetite seemed to revive, though it did not treat its companion in anything like a courteous manner. Though we are sorry to see the little one dead we think the big one will get along all right now and set used to its quarters in a short time."

The seal has a peculiar way of feeding. It is never seen to draw water any person is around but takes the food or fish that is provided for its nourishment and sticks it in the mud at the bottom of the pool and feeds at its leisure. Whenever one of its species does this it is taken as an indication that it has enough interest in life to keep itself alive.

DARKIE BURGLAR CAUGHT MAKING OFF WITH $5000

Seattle, Sept. 8.—The residence of Bank President James D. Hoge was ransacked from top to bottom today by Walter Taylor, a young negro burglar, who worked so quietly that the only person in the house, a maid, never heard him.

When he dragged a bundle of loot weighing 500 pounds through a door, however, the girl ran into the street screaming for aid, and two deputy sheriffs, who were passing in an automobile, promptly pounced upon the negro.

In his pockets were found the choicest articles of the Hoge family jewels. In the bundle was found the silver plate, silks and bric-a-brac, carefully secured.

It is supposed that Taylor had accomplices nearby with a wagon to haul away the plunder, but no wagon was to be seen when the deputy sheriffs sought it. The stuff gathered by the robber was valued at $5000.

MR. BORDEN RETURNS.

Quebec City Greets Premier—Cheers for French Address.

Quebec, Sept. 8.—Quebec gave a remarkable reception yesterday afternoon to the Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden Premier of Canada, on his arrival from the Old Country, where the Dominion Premier created such a great impression.

The demonstration in honor of Mr. Borden was devoid of politics. It was purely civic and many Liberals as well as Conservatives united in doing honor to the man who is now at the helm of Canadian politics. Accompanying Mr. Borden was Hon. L. P. Pelletier, Postmaster-General.

Disembarking from the steamer Victorian the Premier was landed by the government steamer Lady Grey on the King's wharf, where he was met by the mayor and aldermen and many leading citizens. Mayor Drouin read the address and Hon. Mr. Borden replied. When he started his remarks in French he was loudly cheered.

"MOVE ON" FIGHT.

Police and I. W. W. Clash Regarding Free Speech.

Minneapolis, Sept. 8.—Headed by Night Chief of Police Frank Fern, 31 police and detectives late last night charged an unruly crowd of nearly 2000 persons gathered in "Bridge Square" one of the principal thoroughfares of the city, and a number of the ringleaders were lodged in jail.

Many of those in the crowd, the police say, were Industrial Workers of the World. No Socialists are said to have been present last night.

To the police order to "move on," a number of speakers attempted to make protest, declaring the streets were free to the public.

The police immediately arrested the ringleaders and dispersed the crowd. Socialists Jailed.

St. Paul, Sept. 8.—Thirteen Socialists were lodged in jail here tonight after a hard-fought battle in which half a dozen men and one woman was severely beaten.

The trouble started when a policeman attempted to disperse a crowd which had gathered to listen to the Socialist speakers on a street corner, where, the police say, they had been forbidden to hold public meetings.

AMERICAN STORY OF CAPTURE OF THELMA

Resent Canadian Action—Think the Boundary Line Controversy Will Make Case Famous.

Port Townsend, Sept. 8.—Through the seizure of the purse-seine boat Thelma, July 24, an international question regarding the status of the legal fishing limit may be determined. For more than 150 years this question has been a source of annoyance and perplexity between Great Britain and the United States. Thus far the United States has never assented to the British contention that the three-mile limit extends from a line drawn between headlands on an ocean coast, although Great Britain, with her possessions, has confined the application to bays having a width of ten miles at the entrance.

When seized the Thelma had been fishing near Swifours Bank, a shoal midway between Cape Flattery on the American side and Bonilla Point and Pachine Point, both British possessions on Vancouver Island. Between these points the shore line trends inward and the distance separating them is seventeen miles. The indenture made by the curving of the shore line is approximately one and one-half miles inward, and it is around this bend of shore line the controversy has centered.

British Stand Firm. The British are firm in the contention that the three-mile limit is effective from a line drawn from point to point and does not apply to the shore line itself. A measurement thus taken would reduce the international area considerably and would take from American fishermen a stretch of water seventeen miles in length and about one and one-half miles in width. As these waters constitute the very best fishing grounds in the Strait of Juan de Fuca, the question is one materially affecting the fishermen of this side.

The Thelma is owned and operated by Peter Carlson, who has lived in Tacoma for the past twenty years. Of this time Carlson has spent several years in fishing, and during that time has owned four fishing boats, of which the Thelma is his latest venture.

On July 23 the Thelma was engaged in Salmon fishing off Neah Bay and on that day succeeded in taking 500 fish. On the morning following fishing was resumed at 5 a. m. and continued until 6:30, when work was suspended on account of a thick fog and heavy rain which enveloped the fishing boat. Until 9 o'clock on the morning of July 24 the Thelma cruised up and down off Swifours Bank lightship at an average distance of four miles. A little fishing was done and the number of salmon increased to 700.

At that time the boat encountered a strong tide rip and the nets were pursued up. During this operation a part of the net became entangled with the rudder and propeller and the Thelma was permitted to drift until the difficulty was being adjusted.

Charge of Illegal Fishing. While the Thelma was drifting and the man working at clearing away the tangled nets, the British fisheries protection steamer Newington appeared on the scene and her commander charged the captain with fishing in British waters. The charge was denied by the captain of the Thelma who felt so sure of his position he made no attempt to let a small part of the net drift and steam further in toward the American shore.

Despite the claim of the Thelma that she was at the time in international waters and her nets pursued up so that it was impossible for her to fish, the Newington insisted upon taking the boat into custody. At the time this took place, several other American fishing boats were working close by, and another British vessel overhauled them, and after questioning, made no attempt at taking them in charge. Carlson asserts that the captain of the Newington said to him the Thelma would be given a "square deal," but in speaking with the captain of the other British vessel, made the remark: "I will give them no hearing; I will jerk them right in."

This was the course taken eventually by the captain of the Newington. The Thelma was towed to San Juan Harbor, B. C., and from there taken to the Navy yard at Esquimalt, where the gross fish were sold and the spoiled ones thrown overboard. On the following day the Thelma was taken to Vancouver, where Captain Carlson went ashore and interviewed the American consuls. When he returned the Thelma had been removed from the bay and taken to Westminster.

Makes Important Point. According to Carlson the Newington has a speed of eleven knots and she towed the Thelma for twenty minutes before arriving at a point three-quarters of a mile off Nithal creek. This rate of speed would indicate the Thelma was well within boundaries of international waters and would clear her of any charges of illegal fishing when overhauled. However at the time the Thelma was captured she was not engaged in fishing, but was drifting while an accident to her gear was being made good.

Especially harsh treatment is charged by the owner of the Thelma, as he was not permitted to release his vessel under bond, and has only been caused trouble through seizure, but has as well been deprived of many weeks of fishing during the height of the salmon season.

The case is being taken up by Carlson, and as it directly affects the contour of the coast line when the league limit is in dispute, it promises to become a case of international interest. Many years ago, an attempt was made by the British Government to declare the Bay of Fundy a closed body of water, but this has never been recognized by other governments.

ROUND THE MESS TABLE

BY THE MARTIAN.

On Saturday next a meeting will be held in the United Service Club rooms over the Daily News office, for the purpose of discussing what part the ex-service men of the city and district will take in the welcome that is to be accorded to His Royal Highness the Governor-General. Every man who has served in either the navy or the army, regulars or irregulars, is cordially invited to be present.

Whatever form the parade of the "Old Brigade" may take, it is earnestly hoped that every man in the district will turn out, so that the Royal City may show that even if her military affairs are not in a very flourishing condition at present, many of her citizens have borne their share of the burden in the past. It is well known that the Duke delights in meeting old soldiers and that he never passes one by without a cheery word.

Nov. 5, the course being round Stanley Park.

The 72nd Seaforth Highlanders of Canada, held a very successful smoking concert at their quarters in the Hoffmeister building, on Pender street, on Thursday last. A very excellent program was arranged and the entertainment was voted by one and all to have been a great success.

The sergeants' mess of the Sixth D. C. O. K. have received a very interesting gift from the sergeants of the Third Battalion of the Rifle Brigade, at present stationed at Tipperary, with which regiment the Sixth are affiliated. It consists of a handsomely bound volume of some three hundred pages called the "Rifle Brigade Chronicle," and in which are set forth many of the doings and much historical and useful knowledge concerning that famous old corps.

Boning and burnishing is the order of the day in the Sixth Regiment (Duke of Connaught's Own Rifles) and no pains are being spared in order that a smart turn-out may be ensured during the visit of the Colonel-in-Chief. The brown leather equipment is all being blackened and should add considerably to the appearance of the review order uniform. The rifle busby has been adopted in lieu of the white helmets previously worn, and, with the two hundred and fifty new tunics which have been rushed through from the East we can expect the old Sixth to maintain its place and dignity as the premier corps of Vancouver. The visit of the Duke of Connaught, the colonel of the regiment will certainly be a red letter day in its history.

Another candidate for the married quarters is "Griff" who was received into the ranks of the benedicts last Thursday. I suppose the mess will be the loser, and his cheery mug will now illumine other spheres. May all good luck be yours, Griff, for you are a good comrade and as straight as the line of sight.

According to Mr. Bourassa, the leader of the French Canadian Nationalists, the British Empire has no other recourse than to climb down to the United States, over the Panama Canal question, or indeed, any other that may arise. That, on the face of it is absurd. Yankee bluff has been successful on many occasions in the past in diplomacy, but that does not say that it always will be. Mr. Bourassa charges that the statesman in Washington know that the British would be forced to face with financial ruin, starvation and social revolution in the event of a war with the States and that, therefore, our policy must be one of submission towards them. Mr. Bourassa is talking through the back of his neck; we have been face to face with many worse things than a war with our neighbors and are still alive. As far as financial ruin is concerned if they could stand it we could. Our annual purchases from them are just about double the amount of their purchases from us. As regards starvation, the price of bread would naturally rise, but wheat grows in India and Russia, Australia and South America, as well as in other places. Social revolution is absurd, it is a characteristic of the Anglo-Saxon race that society is never so firmly knit as in time of national peril, but not so of some of the races from which part of the ninety millions of U. S. citizens are descended. The possibility of war between the two countries is happily very remote, however, and there is no doubt that the better instincts of the Washington diplomats will eventually prevail and the matter will be laid before the Hague Tribunal for adjustment. Failing that, there are many methods of retaliation open to us without having to enforce our will by warlike means.

The annual sports of the Sixth Regiment will be held at Hastings Park on Saturday, Sept. 28, at 2 p. m. All the usual events are on the program and a large list of entries is anticipated.

The annual road race for the Hulme trophy will be run on Saturday.

HAZELTON NARROWLY ESCAPES HOLOCAUST

Hudson's Bay Post and Stores for Coming Winter Destroyed—Total Damage $40,000.

Prince Rupert, Sept. 8.—A $40,000 fire in Hazelton yesterday resulted in the total destruction of the Hudson's Bay Company warehouse, in which were stored practically all the supplies for the company's interior posts, and which were to have been shipped up country by pack train.

As these supplies are now reduced to ashes, the interior posts face a serious problem for the winter, unless something can be done to rush in new stocks before winter closes in. It is understood that an effort will be made to replace the supplies, but whether the new stock can be rushed to Hazelton in time to reach the posts before the trail becomes impassable remains to be seen.

The fire also destroyed the warehouse of Messrs. Broughton and McNeil, Messrs. McDonnell and McAfee lost $5,000 worth of beer. Had there been any breeze the entire town would have been wiped out.

FIVE HOBOES KILLED.

Pinned Under G. N. R. Freight Train in Montana Wreck.

Glascow, Mont., Sept. 8.—Five unknown men were killed and two others were injured today in the wreck of a Great Northern freight train near Macon, Mont. All of the men, who were beating their way, were riding in a car of lumber.

As the car left the rails, the heavy timbers in the car shifted, pinning the victims against the end of the car and grinding their bodies almost to pulp. A broken flange derailed the train. Traffic was delayed six hours. The names of the dead and injured could not be learned.

The Balkan Crisis.

London, Sept. 8.—The Daily Mail's Sofia correspondent represents the national and liberal parties as being opposed to a war with Turkey if it is avoidable on the contention that it will become Bulgaria's task to give freedom to Macedonia, as Turkey will never do so except under compulsion. The correspondent adds that the local powers either must enforce their will on Turkey or allow Bulgaria to execute them for her.

KLONDYKE GOLD RETURN SHOWS MILLION INCREASE

Dawson, Y. T., Sept. 8.—The yield of the Klondike gold placer mines for 1912 was $5,000,000, an increase of $1,000,000 over 1911. The increase was not due to richer ground, but to more dredgers being employed.

The Upper Yukon has yielded $169,000,000 of placer gold. The placer mines of the Lower Yukon, in Alaska, show a large decrease for the year.

"My GURNEY OXFORD jumped right in and helped with my housekeeping"

Dear Edith,

In a general way I have wished you all the good things I know of, so now I am going to descend to the practical and give you some sound advice from the store I have accumulated since I started housekeeping.

Housekeeping naturally suggests the kitchen first—its equipment and management, or in other words, THE RANGE

My range, as you know, is a Gurney-Oxford. I never enjoyed much of a reputation as a cook in my younger days, so when I thought of being responsible for three meals a day my heart sank. I imagined myself battling all day with a sulky range, trying to coax it into a good humour, and covered with mortification because of late or spoiled meals. But my dear, my Gurney-Oxford seemed to sympathize with my inexperience. From the day it came it jumped right in and helped. It has become my good right hand, and I go my way confident that my Gurney-Oxford will not disappoint me.

It has the cleverest arrangement for regulating the drafts, well named the Curney Economizer. One small lever put up or down does everything. The fire will stay in all day, hardly burning any coal at all—then, presto! It is burning brightly, ready to bake or roast. An arrangement of flues keeps the oven always properly heated, so that the biscuits or bread come out light and crisp and brown. Yes, Edith, as Bob says, I have developed into "some cook," and I often tell him he must give at least half the credit to our Gurney-Oxford.

You will understand my enthusiasm better after you have had your Gurney-Oxford a month or so.

Sincerely Yours,
MARY HOUSEWIFE.

SIR WILFRID CRITICIZES BORDEN AND HIS PARTY

Marieville, Que., Sept. 8.—"The people of Quebec are welcoming Premier Borden today on his return from Great Britain, not because they love him, but because he is Premier," these were the words of Sir Wilfrid Laurier here today.

"That is right," he continued. "If I had been a member of the city council I would have done the same. Respect must be shown for authority."

A crowd of between five and ten thousand gathered to hear the Liberal leader.

While containing no announcements of a startling nature, Sir Wilfrid's speech was a strong defence of the policy of the Liberal party, including the naval policy and a scathing criticism of the Conservative party since it came into power.

He declared that there had come a change over the country since September 21 last, arguing that it had not been wise after all to overthrow the Laurier government.

The Borden government had broken all the promises it had made, he said. The naval law had been effaced from the statute books, the separate schools had not been restored to Manitoba and they found the decision of the Liberal Minister of Justice on the marriage question had been right.

GAVE HIS BLOOD TO SAVE LIFE OF GIRL

Tacoma, Sept. 8.—It became known through friends today that Belmore Browne, the mountain climbing associate of Prof. Herschel Parker, underwent a dangerous operation Thursday night to save the life of a young woman who was practically a stranger to him.

The explorer heard that Miss Ethel Madden, the companion of a neighbor, was dying of anemia and this led to his volunteering to undergo an operation for transfusion of blood from his veins to that of the patient.

The operation occupied twelve hours and has been pronounced successful.

A. B. C. "STAMPEDE."

Happily the visit of the Governor General to Calgary coincided with the holding of the "Stampede," which has grown to be a feature of the yearly round in the metropolis of Southern Alberta. Thus, without very much extra expense and trouble that city was able to provide the royal party with a sight of much of the old life of the prairies that is slipping so rapidly away before the march of barbed wire and the gasoline tractor.

But all lands have their romantic and picturesque side, and we venture to say that an annual gathering at which might be depicted the varied occupations of the men who, far from the hum of the coast cities, are playing no little part in the up building of those cities, would be an innovation productive of much good in the province of British Columbia.

Over the far away rim of civilization which we call the frontier it is that to the dweller in the city, the land of romance lies, and it is the presentation of those trades that are plied there on its fringe that go to make the success of events like the Stampede.

Within the rounds of our own province the cowboy, and perchance, even the cowgirl, is not dead, while an insight into the lives of the men of the great streams and woods of our country, to say nothing of the varied pursuits of those who live among the mountains, or even of the many Indian races within our borders, would make up a spectacle which few people could stay away from.

We have no Imre Kiraly, neither had Alberta, so that we may hope that someday a gathering of this nature will be arranged. When it is we do not think that a better place than Westminster could be found for its location. Already the greatest take home in the province finds its home here. Mixed together with the fruits of the earth there may some day be presented to us scenes from the life which the farmer has displaced and sent farther back to the mountains or to the as yet barely touched north.

AMERICA'S MEAT SUPPLY

The steady decrease in the number of domestic food animals on this continent in proportion to the number of people to be fed makes every contribution to the discussion of the meat supply problem interesting. Dr. Wilfred Grenfell has recently been talking reindeer in his letters from the Labrador coast. He points out that the introduction of reindeer into America is no longer a matter of experiment. The Eskimos and Indians of North Alaska, who have been under apprenticeship to the Alaskan Bureau of Education in caring for the reindeer introduced from Siberia have learned their business thoroughly. In a bleaker, darker, and colder region than the Labrador coast—largely treeless and barren—they have in a few years accumulated herds of reindeer aggregating 33,000 head, and this year, besides securing skins for clothing and meat for their own use, they have divided over $42,000 from sales of reindeer products. Reindeer venison is beginning to reach Pacific coast ports. A cold storage company bought 125 head shipped the reindeer south, and in Seattle it was sold at prices ranging from 25 to 75 cents a pound as a delicacy.

Dr. Grenfell's own experiment in the Labrador is equally encouraging. His herd now numbers about 1000 head, and is kept on a perfectly treeless headland called Cape Anthony. The small area of formerly barren and waste land enclosed is ample to feed a thousand meat and hide and milk producing animals.

What do these experiments indicate? Clearly they prove that in the vast areas of the far north, where cereals cannot be grown, Canada and the United States may raise millions of food animals at a very small cost. It is estimated by United States government officials that at the present rate of increase Alaska alone will have two million reindeer in twenty-five years, and that its 400,000 square miles can carry ten millions permanently. On the same basis Arctic and sub-Arctic Canada can provide grazing for fifty millions. It may seem fantastic at the moment, but a half century hence the reindeer of the north may be America's chief source of meat supply.—Toronto Globe.

BRITISH COLUMBIA EXHIBIT AT TORONTO'S BIG SHOW

"Wonderful fruit! This is wonderful fruit!" exclaims the visitor at the Exhibition grounds as he strikes the southeast wing of the new Government Building, where the display of the Province of British Columbia is located.

"The delightful smell from these apples and plums makes me hungry," declares the sightseer. Hundreds of other people happen to be crowding around this comprehensive exhibit of the Pacific Coast Province at the moment and they are all voicing their feelings in the same manner. And thus it is all day long, from morning to night.

The fruit is not the only portion of the exhibit which attracts and holds attention. It is very interesting to examine the display of children's handiwork from the schools of Victoria and Vancouver. The latter consists of drawings, specimens of penmanship, sewing and other articles. Compared with the work of the children of the Eastern Provinces, the British Columbia specimens rank with the best in the building. Here and there in the exhibit is mounted fish, which draws attention to the fact that British Columbia possesses an immense fishing industry, while prominently located in front of the entrance to the wing are sections of large trees measuring four, five and six feet in diameter. British Columbia not only has large trees, but the area of standing timber, in the province is the largest and most compact in America. The trees sections in the display are spruce, cedar and fir, the largest block being fir. Many visitors are to be seen daily measuring their own height against these huge sections, and it is only a very few who come up to the highest edge.

The British Columbia exhibit is often frequented by visitors from the Far West who have a personal knowledge of the natural richness of the land. These visitors, though familiar with perhaps every feature of the display, often spend a long time there, refreshing their senses with thoughts and sights of homeland.

A booklet, "British Columbia's Advantages," printed under authority by the Legislative Assembly of the province, is much in demand. It contains just a few, yet impressive, facts of the greatness and richness of the Western Province. It also tells just a little of what British Columbia offers to the capitalist, the manufacturer, the settler, the fruit grower and to everybody. The pamphlet contains a number of fine illustrations of typical orchards, canneries, smelters and public buildings, including the Parliament Buildings of Victoria.—Toronto News.

STRIKER IS KILLED.

Miner Harnessed by Miners Uses His Rifle.

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 8.—An officer George Long, of Company B West Virginia National Guard, shot and killed one of an attacking party of striking miners while on picket duty near Sharon, in the Kanawha coal field yesterday, according to reports received here.

It is the first fatal shooting since martial law was declared by Gov. Glasscock in the strike region.

Long was on sentry duty near a wood and had been fired on a number of times from ambush.

Fruit Expert on Coast.

Vancouver, Sept. 8.—Dr. Charles Brooks, a well-known plant pathologist who is engaged in research work on the orchards of the Pacific coast for the United States Government, is in Vancouver. Yesterday he visited Stanley Park and the local fruit inspection stations. He is endeavoring to find out the true nature of crown or root gall which afflicts plants and also to make a special study of the diseases which affect fruit grown on irrigated lands. He stated that the result of his researches would be thrown open for the benefit of the fruit growers of this province.

PORT of Westminster

The presence of a fast hydroplane speeding up and down the river yesterday afternoon caused the people standing on the waterfront to make up and take notice. Some very fast time was made going up stream, but coming down from Port Mann it looked as if she was making twenty miles an hour or better. It is understood that her owners are local men.

The tug Fearful, of the Circle F fleet passed up stream yesterday afternoon with a boom of logs.

The Clayburn, of the Hastings mills fleet, was up river yesterday.

The B. C. P. arrived from Toby inlet and Bute inlet yesterday with 4600 salmon for the Columbia Cold Storage company.

The steamer Trader arrived from Nanaimo yesterday with a cargo of coal for the C. P. R. She began unloading immediately and will leave port this morning.

The tug Burrard came up stream yesterday with a scow load of coal from Ladysmith for Gilley Bros.

FAMOUS JUDGE OF SEED LIKELY TO COME HERE

The farmer interested in the growing of pure seed—and every farmer who has occasion to plant seed is interested in having it pure—will be glad to know that L. H. Newman, treasurer of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association, will be one of the judges at the Provincial Exhibition in New Westminster in Oct. 1 to 5. If the plans of the management can be carried out, Mr. D. E. MacKenzie, secretary of the fair, has had some correspondence with Mr. Newman, and is anxious to have him come to the coast if it can be arranged.

The question of securing him to judge the agricultural building was taken up by the directors and they decided to bring him to New Westminster if it is possible. Mr. Newman is considered the greatest authority on seeds, grains, grasses and field produce in the Dominion of Canada if not on the North American Continent. While it is generally necessary to have several men to do the judging in the agricultural building, it is thought that Mr. Newman will cut this number down. He will also spread his propaganda of pure seeds to the exhibitors and visitors to the fair.

A Business Education Is The Surest Path To Success

FALL TERM OPENS SEPT 3rd WITH MANY ENTHUSIASTIC YOUNG PEOPLE

Why You Should Learn Bookkeeping.

Lack of a thorough knowledge of bookkeeping and accounting is the cause of many young people not being advanced to better positions. The bookkeeper in any business stands in the same position as the engineer on a locomotive—one controls the pen and keeps records—the other controls the throttle and makes records. Our aim is to give the students a clear understanding of the principles of bookkeeping and all business transactions. We lay the foundation so essential for a successful business career.

Why You Should Learn Shorthand.

A thorough and practical knowledge of shorthand offers unlimited opportunities, as the stenographer is in closest touch with the heads of business firms. The opportunities for advancement are unexcelled. Ours is a practical working system recognized by all leading business concerns.

WHAT SCHOOL?

Many enthusiastic ex-students will say, by all means attend the COLUMBIAN COLLEGE—because they get better results and come in contact with many wide-awake-young-working-people.

ROVERS WIN FIRST MATCH OF SEASON

Westminster Team Makes Most Encouraging Showing Against the Celtics—Score 3-1.

Several persons in the city a few months ago were passing a little saying around "watch the Rovers." Some two hundred or more stalwart supporters of the soccer game braved the elements on Saturday afternoon and witnessed the first triumph of the Rovers over the Celtics of Vancouver.

Although they only won by two clear goals, their superiority over the Celtics was plainly noticeable, and, with a little more practice, the team should be capable of heading any side operating either on the mainland or Vancouver Island grounds.

It was all the Rovers in the first half and for long periods they kept the ball in the enemy's territory. Ferguson opened the scoring for the Rovers in the first half by connecting with a high dropping shot from the wings giving the Vancouver goal tender absolutely no chance to save.

The visitors pulled together better in the second half, and some class mid field play was shown until after twenty minutes of play, Cadyzien sent in a hot shot which the goalkeeper fumbled and Carinduff slipped it through, making the third for the Rovers.

Collier, for the Rovers, created a favorable impression and pulled himself out of several tight corners by clever headwork. The Celtic goalkeeper also played a fine game and to him can be attributed the low score of the Rovers.

The teams lined up as follows: Rovers—Goal, Collier; backs, Hotchkiss and Lyon; halves, McKeljohn, Bruce and McMillan; forwards, Hayes, Carinduff, McLeod, Ferguson and Cadyzien.

Celtics—Goal, Garrow; backs, Hogarth and Anderson; halves, Robinson, McFadden and McKay; forwards, McDougall, Jardine, Seymour, McIntosh and Nutrie.

MUDFIGHT RESULTS IN VANCOUVER'S WIN

Smallest Crowd on Record at Recreation Park—Only Two Penalties in Clean Game.

The winning streak of the world champion Salmon Bellies was broken on Saturday afternoon, when the Green Shirts, playing on their own grounds, just managed to squeeze through with the odd tally in a 4-3 game. It cannot be said, however, that the Westminster boys extended themselves to the limit, for playing as they did in a sea of mud, real lacrosse was a minus quantity, and with the cup games with the Eastern teams fast approaching, the champions took no chances of having any mishaps which might eliminate a player from the series.

Weather conditions were entirely against lacrosse, the heavy rains of the previous days of the week together with a heavy downpour during the morning and also the progress of the game left Recreation Park in one glorious mud hole. Some of the players appeared to take a delight in wallowing after the ball which was sometimes lost from sight.

The game was witnessed by the smallest crowd of the season, only about 500 paid admission. The rest which numbered several hundred was the small type of onlooker, who took advantage of the offer of free admission to see the big fellows work out. Rain did not deter their interest, and every time a player went down in the mud, a yell of delight went up from the bleachers.

Both teams made a change in their line-up, the Green Shirts placing all their best men on the field, while Bill Turnbull and Punk Wintemute were left off the list. Pat Feeney going to third home, McCarthy at centre and Fland in his usual position near the net.

But two penalties were handed out during the entire 80 minutes of play. Lalonde in the first quarter doing a little chopping display on Howard, which the big husky point player answered. All they got, however, was five minutes each by Referee Kavanaugh.

The game was won and lost in the first quarter. Four times was the ball sent past Clarke, who appeared nervous and way off form. In the second quarter, however, the little Ferguson player tightened up and gave such a display of goal-tending that kept the crowd on edge during the remaining 60 minutes of play. Time and time again the Vancouver home would buzz around his citadel but they were all alike to him, picking the ball off when it seemed certain of going through.

At the other end Hess gave a creditable display, but he was aided by his partners on the defence, who worked a better combination than they have shown in any previous game this summer. Harry Pickering was at his best, and came back in wonderful form since his injury.

The Green Shirts had decidedly the better of the argument in the first period, Lalonde getting by with two goals, together with one each from the sticks of Allen and McDougall. Hess was tested with several pot shots, but came through with a clean bill of health.

In the second quarter, neither team extended themselves and play was kept in mid-field most of the time.

In the third, however, the Royals took a decided brace and were playing their old style of game. McCarthy broke in the scoring table by wading through the bunch and registering the first tally for the Royals and also the first one for himself during the season.

Ten minutes afterwards Harry Hyland saw his chance and notched goal No. 2 for Westminster. The fourth and last quarter started with a rush, Hess being called upon to save several fast shots. Grump Spring eight minutes from the start, evaded his man and slammed in an angle shot which hit the inside of the net and bounced out again. That ended the scoring.

Acting on the instructions of Manager Con Jones, the Vancouver players commenced a disgusting ragging display in order to evade defeat. This lasted until the end, a matter of ten minutes in all.

JOE LALLY WILL BE HERE SHORTLY

Will Make Arrangements Concerning Minto Cup Games—Cornwall is Eager.

Joe Lally, whose name is known throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion as one of the staunchest supporters of the national game, will arrive in New Westminster either on Tuesday night or Wednesday morning. Lally left Cornwall on Friday night carrying with him full power to make all arrangements concerning the Minto cup series between the Factory City and the Salmon Bellies.

The Westminster executive has wired the Cornwall club that Saturday, September 21, and Wednesday, September 25, are suitable dates for the Minto cup games to be played. It is surmised that the action in Lally in coming west is to make final arrangements for his pet team. This is the first time in twenty-one years that the Cornwall have gained the championship of the old lacrosse union and excitement is running high in the little town on the banks of the St. Lawrence.

Although no word has been received from the Torontos with regard to dates with the champions of the west, it is thought that Manager Fleming is only waiting for the result of the Cornwall game to send a wire to the trustees.

The Toronto papers to hand indicate that the players are looking forward to the day when they meet the champions, and, if the Salmon Bellies are successful in their series with the Cornwalls, the Blue Shirts will immediately make the long trek to the Fraser city.

This is the first time in twenty years that the Torontos have annexed the championship, although this year they headed the Big Four league with Dave Gibbons playing his star game between the nets. Buck Margerall, the famous home player, in gross circles will be buzzing with excitement if the games should be pulled off this fall.

BOWLING.

The first week of the ten pin season at the Front street alleys produced some fine scores for so early in the season and it is quite evident that there will be plenty of material to select from for the various events of the winter.

A. B. Chamberlin signalled his return to the game on Friday evening with three very nice games, 206, 220 and 186. B. Sherman won the high score prize for the week with 255. On Saturday he put on an exhibition of marathon bowling which will be hard to duplicate, rolling 36 games without a stop of any kind, for an average of 186 pins.

This week will see at least one of the local inter-city five men teams down to real work in preparation for their initial games in the league. It is probable that they will roll a match game at the Pender alleys on Wednesday night.

Several bowlers have signified their intentions of entering teams in the house league for which are now being made. The league this year will have about six or eight teams competing.

Captain Peterson has organized a team of novices and is looking for a match game with any other team of like calibre. "Pete" intends to enter his bunch in the house league, and with hard practice hopes to be able to hold his own with the best of them.

The inter-city league season begins on September 18 and closes December 18. New Westminster will be represented by two teams, each team to consist of six regular members with four additional men as a reserve. The prizes will be awarded as follows: First, $50; second, $30; third, $20; fourth, $10, while good prizes will be given for individual high average and high game for series, also for individual high average and high game each week.

Tom Archer

A Man Who Was Too Proud to Accept a Favor

By ARNOLD DUTCHER

There are a great many inconsistencies in life, and one of the strangest of these is the acceptance of money favors between friends. A person will scold to accept $10, $100 or even $1,000 from a friend, or it may be a brother, yet in a matter of a legacy he will rob a dead man's children out yet out of the nursery.

I have sought for the cause of this human idiosyncrasy. The only conclusion I have been able to reach is that it is due almost entirely to pride, usually a mistaken pride, and as often to sensitiveness. Indeed, it is the result of both. The most abnormal case of it that has ever come to my knowledge was that of Tom Archer. Tom and I were chums as schoolboys and at that time he appeared to be my superior in everything. He was a better scholar, better at games, more popular with boys and girls and stood higher as an all-around fellow.

Tom and I went to college together, but I didn't stay there very long. My books didn't please me, and I was not strong enough to take part in athletics. I was caught in a prank that was only half successful. When I went to the money for him, my boy, because you'll have to take a back seat in the world on account of it. There's your friend, Tom Archer. I wish for your sake you had taken the stand he is occupying. When you both come to the prime of life you will find him honored and respected, while you will be pushed over for a very ordinary person. I'm not saying this to you as a punishment, but as a matter of regret for us both.

I have never forgotten a word of this prediction, which sank upon me like lead. My father secured a position for me as a clerk in a mercantile house, but I wrote a poor hand, could not spell correctly and made mistakes. The head of the firm discharged me, but I begged him to let me see what I could do outside—that is, in working up trade. He consented and I started in again.

Twenty years have passed since then. The concern in which I was employed has grown enormously, and I have grown with it. Indeed, I am now its principal owner and its manager. I don't exactly know why I was advanced above hundreds of others, but I suppose I must have possessed those instincts that make the business man. But this is another question. What I am going to illustrate is that sensitive pride, which will lead a man to decline a gift from a friend, and try to legally thwart the intentions of a man in the disposition of his property that he may enjoy it himself.

One day a seedy looking individual came into my office and, ignoring the boy who advanced to ask whom he wished to see, passed through the opening in the rail, and, walking straight up to my desk, put out his hand I looked at him, puzzled.

"You don't know me, do you?" he said.

"I confess that you have the advantage of me."

"I'm Tom Archer."

I had become trained in that dissimulation which the world requires and succeeded in concealing the shock I experienced at seeing my old chum in such a plight. But when I grasped his hand with a show of the old friendship I was enacting a lie. All had changed. He had gone down—very far down—and I had gone, in a practical point of view, very far up. Both of us tried to conceal a recognition of this reversal of our positions and both failed.

Long before Tom left me I realized that he was not only ragged, but hungry, and yet there stood between me and him, so far as my helping him was concerned, our youth, in which I had been his inferior. The price of a meal, a suit of clothes, indeed, a year's income for him, was to me a mere bagatelle, but how could I offer money to one who had led me in everything a score of years before? What I did was to take his address and trust to my ingenuity to find a way of getting over the obstacle.

The next day I inclosed a check for $100 in a note, mentioning some favor he had done me when we were boys together and further stating that after all luck was the only cause of success, and I had been lucky. I also claimed that it doubtless gave me more pleasure to give him aid and comfort than he experienced in receiving the same. I served the dish as delicately as possible, but the poor fellow could not swallow it. He sent back the check, stating that his ill success was his own fault, and he would not respect himself if he accepted charity even from an old friend. He had made his bed and he would lie in it.

I respected him for his refusal, and yet I could not but consider it stupid. I had once offered a man help when he had met with a misfortune in business who had accepted the offer, recovered himself and by a bit of sharp practice taken from me three times the amount I had loaned him.

One morning a woman came into my office and asked if I knew Mr. Thomas Archer. I acknowledged the acquaintance, and she told me that she had gone into a speculation with him in which she had furnished the capital—$500—and it had been sunk. She did not blame Mr. Archer; he had been honest in the matter, but a lawyer had told her that she might proceed criminally against him. She was uncertain what to do.

I asked her if she would take half of her claim against my old friend. She said she would, and on her assignment of it to me I gave her the money. I desired to spare my unfortunate friend pain, but I was mean enough to cut the poor woman down to half her loss. I suppose I should have been ashamed of myself, but I wasn't. I had the cutting down faculty that my successful business men usually possess.

Not long after this Archer dropped in to see me and incidentally mentioned that he had a scheme on hand by which he expected to make a fortune. I was very glad to hear it, but turned the subject, fearing he might smother his pride so far as to ask me to furnish the necessary capital. I would have loved to supply his wants, even give him luxuries, but I did not wish to invest in his schemes.

It was not difficult to head off so sensitive a man, but in a few days, having gathered his courage, he came back and asked me if I would consider 10 per cent of the profits of the scheme sufficient reimbursement for the capital necessary to develop it. I told him that I knew a man who did that sort of thing and gave him his address. He went off, much encouraged, to find the other man.

Whether poor Tom later came to see through my artifice I don't know, but he never again hinted at giving me the lion's share of the profits of any scheme.

One spring, being very much run down, I desired to go for a few days to the sea. The only reason for my not doing so was that I did not care to go alone and knew of no one who would go with me. I thought of Tom and wrote him a line saying that I was ill and perhaps my life depended upon my taking an outing. If he would go with me, I paying his expenses, he might save me. He replied that nothing would give him greater joy than to thus accommodate his dear old chum, but he was at the time much interested in a patent self-filling coal scuttle in which others had advanced the necessary capital, and he could not leave the enterprise without acting dis honorably toward them.

I was much disappointed. At the same time I knew that his patent scuttle was but another name for his sensitive pride which forbade him traveling with me at my expense. I could not but respect him for his independence, but I regretted that it deprived me of his assistance in recovering my health. It was quite awhile before I heard anything more of Archer, and then I received notice of his death. He had died in a boarding house in a distant city. His landlady had been very kind to him. On the day of his death she wrote me that he had often spoken to her of me and our mutual friendship. I immediately telegraphed her to draw on me for funds with which to pay doctors' bills, funeral expenses and any amount Archer might owe her for board. She drew on me, but only for $100. I felt sure that this would not set matters right and sent a check for a hundred more.

It was returned with a note saying that it was unnecessary.

About a year after this when walking along a street, I saw a man coming who looked very like my friend Archer and just as seedy. I thought he started on seeing me, and he turned down a side street. Curious about the matter I followed him and soon was convinced that he was trying to get away from me. I caught him; he turned to face me, and when our eyes met I saw the most agonized expression I have ever seen on any man's face. He was my old friend Tom.

I saw it all. He could not conquer his pride, but he could resort to the most ingenious expedients to enable me to keep him from starving. I put my arm through his and led him to a restaurant, where I called for a feast and a quart of champagne. After I had filled him up I said:

"This confounded nonsense has been going on long enough. I have decided to leave you the income on $25,000 as long as you live to begin from today. You will either accept it or I shall proceed against you criminally for obtaining money under false pretenses. Take your choice."

He chose the annuity. It lifted him out of his abnormal condition, and I take more pleasure today in his companionship than that of any other living man.

ONE DOSE WAS ENOUGH.

Too Much Prosperity, He Feared, Might Prove His Undoing.

A lawyer picked his way to the edge of the subway excavation and called down for Michael Finnerty. "Who's wantin' me?" inquired a large rawboned voice.

"I am," said the lawyer. "Mr. Finnerty, did you come from Castlebar, County Mayo?"

"I did."

"And was your mother named Mary and your father Owen?"

"They was."

"Then, Mr. Finnerty," said the lawyer, "it is my duty to inform you that your Aunt Kate has died in the old country, leaving you an estate of $20,000 in cash."

There was a pause and a commotion down below.

"Mr. Finnerty," called the lawyer, craning his neck over the trench, "are you coming?"

"In wan minute," said Mr. Finnerty. "I just stopped to lick the foreman."

For six months Mr. Finnerty, in a high hat and with hard shoes on his feet, lived a life of elegant ease, trying to cure himself of a great thirst. Then he went back to his old job at one seventy-five a day. It was there in the excavation that the lawyer found him the second time.

"Mr. Finnerty," he said, "I've more news for you. It is your Uncle Terence who's dead now in the old country, and he has left you another twenty thousand."

"I don't think I can take it," said Mr. Finnerty, leaning wearily on his pick. "I'm not as strong as I was once, and I'm doubtin' if I could go through all that ag'in and live!"

The Great Amazon River.

In South as in North America nature does her work on the grand scale, and one of her noblest achievements is the Amazon river. Rising in the Andes, it flows across the continent and discharges into the Atlantic ocean at the equator. The vastness of the area which it drains, amounting to 2,368,000 square miles, will be evident when it is borne in mind that this is more than the area of Russia in Europe and Austria-Hungary. It has a length of nearly 4,000 miles, is navigable for 2,300 miles from the sea and is fed by numerous streams, which in any other country would be ranked as great rivers.

In the wet season, which lasts for about eight months, its width varies from five miles to 400. No wonder the Amazon has been called a gigantic reservoir rather than a river.

Importance of Little Belgium.

Belgium is virtually the smallest independent country in the world in point of size and yet stands eighth in a list of the wealth of nations and sixth in the total of her exports and imports. Belgium is the commercial and industrial balance wheel of the trade of the world. With a slightly lower wage scale than prevails elsewhere, even in Germany, Belgium is able to shave prices just sufficiently to act as a check upon bids for international business. A Belgian twenty times as great as it is and preserving the same intensity of industrial life and purpose would dominate the trade of the world.—James Davenport Whelpley in The Century.

The Difficult Persian Tongue.

Of the difficulties in the language of Persia a traveler writes: "The words one uses in a letter are almost entirely different from those used in conversation. And these in an ordinary prose history are again different. Then it is almost impossible to distinguish the tenses and, lastly, the adjective is generally indistinguishable from the substantive, and the line between an adjective and the term which it qualifies is the same as the sign of the possessive. For instance, the text 'This is my beloved son' may be read in the Persian Bible 'This is the son of my beloved' without the slightest violence to the grammar."

Platinum.

Platinum, one of the most useful of the metals in many ways, was named by the Spaniards in account of its silvery color, plata signifying silver. It was found in the auriferous sands of the river Pinto, in South America, and was unknown in Europe prior to 1741, when Don Antonio Ulloa announced its existence in his narrative of a voyage to Peru. It was not until 1800 that platinum was rendered malleable and ductile by a Dr. William Hyde of Wallaston. Platinum is largely employed in the manufacture of chemical utensils, owing to its immunity to the effects of heat, acid, etc.

Adding Insult to Injury.

"Why am I gloomy?" demanded the undesirable author whom she had heartlessly ignored. "Isn't it enough to make a man gloomy to be cut by the one he loves best?"

"The idea!" exclaimed the heartless girl. "I didn't even know that you shaved yourself."

Handing Out a Hint.

School Director (to teacher) — We were thinking of having a nice motto framed and put over your desk to encourage the children. How would "Knowledge Is Wealth" do?

Teacher—That wouldn't do at all. The children know how small my salary is, and they might draw conclusions of their own.

Easy to Answer.

"Why is a burglar's tool called a 'jimmy'?"

"For the same reason that a policeman's tool is called a 'billy.' What else would you like to know about?"

As Others Knew Her.

"She seems to be a natural flirt," he said.

"Natural?" the woman impatiently replied. "There's n-thing natural about her but the framework."

THE PRINCE AT OXFORD.

What His Life Will Be Like as an Undergrad at Magdalen.

The Prince of Wales will shortly be going "up" to Magdalen. In the case of the ordinary youth of the upper classes, this marks the transition from the schoolboy to the "young man" stage of his existence. At the "Varsity" he finds a sudden new liberty unknown at school. But at the same time there are many restrictions which are rigidly enforced by the authorities.

The first rule that will be impressed on the youthful prince will be that of "keeping chapel," for which he will have to be fully dressed at eight o'clock in the morning—if not every day, at least four days a week.

The number of lectures he will attend will depend on the course laid down by his tutors, which will be of a special nature, as he will not be at Oxford for the full period.

But he will have to attend each lecture in "academic dress"—which consists of a gown no longer than an ordinary lounge coat, but with two streamers, and a mortar-board.

This dress must also be worn when calling on his official tutor (who, by the way, does not as a rule teach, but acts as a sort of moral adviser and special pleader when the undergraduate falls foul of the authorities). It must be worn to every "Hall"—that is, dinner—and outside the college after dusk and on every formal occasion.

"Hall" is the great social event of the day. The dons sit on a dais at the bottom of the hall, and are in evening-dress. In the body of the hall are arranged tables, at which the men sit by their "years." That is to say, there will be one long table for "freshers," or first-year men, another for men in their second year, and so on. It is in "Hall," too, that the undergraduate who has had the temerity to break one of the minor college rules is "scounced."

"Scouncing" is inflicted for different offences in different colleges. The most usual is "talking shop," or laughing in a loud voice during dinner, or for some eccentricity in dress. The head of the table motions to the butler to pass the offender the "scounce cup." This is a loving cup of varying size, and is filled with college beer. And the man who is "scounced" has to drink the contents "no-leer"—that is, at a single draught. If he fails in this he has to stand drinks for his table.

It has not yet been decided what sports the young prince will take up, but the "Varsity" abounds with sporting clubs of all kinds, from dominoes to foxhunting. Whatever he will do, it is highly probable that he will be a member of the Bullingdon, which is one of the smartest and most exclusive clubs in the world, and whose principal pursuits are hunting and card-playing.

At nine o'clock at night "Tom Tower"—the tower of Christ Church, so called after Thomas a Becket—tolls for about ten minutes, at the end of which time the prince will have to be inside his own college. If he "knocks in" between nine and eleven he will have to pay a fine of 6 cents, between eleven and twelve the fine will be increased to 24 cents, and after midnight the minimum fine will be $4.80. But this is a very serious offence, and in the case of an ordinary undergraduate, might very probably mean rustication—that is, being suspended—for one term.

Bishop in Aeroplane.

The Lord Bishop of Saskatchewan, Dr. Newnham, paid a visit a short time ago to Europe, and during the trip sent his "Episcopal Notes" to the Saskatchewan Diocesan Magazine, which is a publication for all the parishes in the diocese. In the notes for May he describes a trip in an aeroplane at Monaco:

"I wish I could send you a copy of our photograph—five of us—taken up in an aeroplane, with Mentone down under us in the distance. They insisted on me taking the wheel and lever for guiding and controlling the machine. I suppose because they thought I was accustomed to guide and control amid clouds and hot air, or in deference to my office as 'sky-pilot'—and in the picture I look as if I was quite at home at it."

An Anthem to Order.

Lord Kitchener on one occasion invented a national anthem. It was upon the occasion of a visit to India of the Ameer of Afghanistan, and the order went around that all military bands were to greet him with the national anthem of Afghanistan. But no one knew what it was, and Lord Kitchener was appealed to.

"What does it matter two straws?" he said. "Play a bar or two of something slow and pompous and let it go at that."

So the first band that greeted the Ameer played a march from one of the German operas very slowly and solemnly, and this was generally taken up by the whole of the bands in India.

A Gilbert Mot.

The following is said to be about the choicest mot in the long W. S. Gilbert list of mots:

After several days' absence from London Gilbert walked into the Savage Club one day, and somebody shouted a greeting.

"Hello, Gilbert! Where have you been?"

"I've been up to Birmingham to see Wilson Barrett as Hamlet," Gilbert cried.

"The deuce you say! How was it?" asked his friend.

"Oh, very funny—and not at all vulgar," was the answer.

Smoking and Eyesight.

Giving evidence in a High Court case, Mr. William Long, an ophthalmic surgeon of Cavendish square, London, told the court, that if he smoked half an ounce of tobacco daily for forty years—which meant that he would have to smoke about four hundredweight—his sight would probably be affected.

No material damage was done, but it occasioned no little fright among the passengers. The B. C. E. R. officials state the incident was caused by the motorman having to throw on the brakes suddenly on account of two drunks lying in the middle of the tracks.

EDUCATIONAL SERMONS AT SIXTH AVENUE METHODIST

Yesterday was college day at the Sixth Avenue Methodist church, and with Mr. Stapleford, who preached, came Rev. Dr. Chown, general superintendent of the Methodist church of Canada. He addressed the congregation on the outlook for education in British Columbia, and the problems it presents. He recalled a visit to the Sixth Avenue church eight years ago, and then congratulated the congregation on their beautiful new modern edifice.

Mr. Stapleford chose his text from the first of the Sermon on the Mount. "Christ and the College" was the subject he expounded very lucidly. Christ trained men and then sent them forth into the world to bring about the kingdom of God. There has always been a great need for trained men. In the past Moses was trained in all the learning of the Egyptians, Paul in Jewish scholarship and love. Luther in the University of Leyden and John Wesley in Oxford. The church has been and is definitely on the side of education, and the needs of B. C. call for action so that the spiritual as well as the mental may have its scope.

Rev. Professor Hetherington spoke in the evening on the same theme, his text being Job 28:28, the fear of the Lord that is wisdom. He traced the educational work in B. C. from the older colleges of Europe.

The council, also, agreed to accept the invitation of the society to be present at the opening ceremony on the 18th inst.

The construction of a road to the new school site at White Rock so far as funds permitted was agreed to and left in the hands of Mr. Keary. Other road matters were discussed and dealt with, but the expenditure limited to the unexpended appropriations.

Rickaby, was united in marriage to Mr. Charles Gerrard Clute; youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Clute, of Westminster. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Clute left to spend their honeymoon in California. On their return they will take up their residence in Victoria.

LARGE CROWDS APPRECIATE BAND IN QUEENS PARK

An excellent program was rendered by the Westminster city band at Queens park yesterday to one of the largest and most appreciative crowds that has turned out to witness a similar affair this summer. The fence surrounding the oval of the playfield was lined with people, while the grand stand, bleachers and the grass inside the oval were dotted with attentive listeners. Besides this many were walking to and fro around the park, at the same time enjoying the music.

It is to be regretted, however, that as on previous Sundays the crowd began to disperse before the program was ended, though it was most enjoyable one. The trek for home and supper commenced about 5 o'clock, and continued until the concert was over at 6. The apparent reason of the people leaving was that they had to get home to supper which generally is partaken of about 6 o'clock on Sunday.

The outstanding feature of the program was the rendering of "Reminiscences of Scotland," in two parts, "Moonlight Bay" and "Spring Song," for which many comments of praise were heard from the listeners. "Popular Songs" was very good, as also was the "War March," and the other selections were well up to the usual standard.

New Pitt River Bridge. Active operations are to be started on the double track bridge of the C. P. R. over the Pitt river. The contract was let on Friday last.
