BULGARIANS RESUME ATTACK ON TCHATALJA

Turkey's Startling Rejection of Balkan Terms Surprises Europe—Allies Overtures Left Constantinople Only to Sultan—Powers Appear Agreed to Keep Hands Off but Russian and Austrian Troops Mobilize—Naval Battle.

Constantinople, Nov. 21.—The battle at the Tchatalja lines has been resumed. Cannonading was reopened with great violence this evening and is plainly audible here.

One Day's Grace.
London, Nov. 21.—The formal suspension of the eastern war proved only for a day. Turkey rejected the Balkan terms for an armistice apparently before the plenipotentiaries had time to come together at Hademkeul. Kiamil Pasha, the grand vizier, declared the allies' overtures were "impossible." He ordered the commander-in-chief to continue fighting "with the help of the Almighty," until reasonable and moderate conditions were proposed.

This declaration came as an utter surprise, and diplomats are not wholly convinced the Ottoman troops will take up arms again in the cholera stricken trenches of Tchatalja.

Bulgarian Overtures.
While the Bulgarian conditions for Bulgaria is acting as the mouth-piece of the allies—were extreme, stipulating the surrender of Adrianople and Soutari, both of which are making a historic defence, as well as the cession of all the territory except a narrow strip above Constantinople, these conditions were advanced as overtures; in other words, they were apparently put forward as a basis for negotiations.

The Porte treated them as an ultimatum, and this perhaps is the oriental method of beginning negotiations, designed to induce the enemy further to show his hand. A Balkan diplomat in London pointed out tonight that these terms were submitted merely as an answer to Turkey's pressing and repeated demands for an armistice, and said:

"It is practically certain that their rejection will result in a more active and determined resumption of hostilities. Probably the allied troops will now refuse to treat with Turkey, until they are in a position to dictate perhaps sterner terms in the capital of the sultan."

Startling Decision.
The negotiations thus far have been conducted through the Russian ambassador at Constantinople, but the Turkish ambassador at Berlin was on his way to join his colleagues appointed to meet the Bulgarian representatives when the Turkish government's startling decision was telegraphed abroad.

Even yet it would seem that the Turkish officials have not abandoned hope that the powers will come to their rescue and attempt to dictate a compromise, but Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, announced tonight that the powers had not gone so far as to arrange a general conference after the conclusion of the war. Their only agreement, so far as surface indications go, is to keep their hands off.

Austria and Russia.

The probability of the resumption of hostilities has started rumors abroad from Vienna of Austrian and Russian mobilizations on their borders, and a naval demonstration by the Triple Alliance on the Albanian coast, if Serbia pushes her onward march to the coveted seaport.

The continued successful defence of the Tchatalja lines would strengthen Turkey's diplomatic position, but her defeat after prolonged fighting of her own choosing would inflame the Bulgarians' desire to make a triumphal progress into Constantinople.

Popular clamor on Sofia is demanding more strongly each day that the advance stop only at the Bosphorus.

Asking Too Much.

European military officers consider the terms of the allies harsh in one respect, that is, that they compel an unconditional capitulation of Soutari and Adrianople, instead of allowing the garrisons to march out with the honors of war.

Two more chapters of the war are reported—a naval engagement off Varna between the Turkish cruiser Hamidieh and Bulgarian torpedo boats, and the occupation of Florina by the Greeks. The Bulgarians report that they did great damage to and probably sank the cruiser. The Turks report that they sank two torpedo boats, and that the cruiser was only slightly damaged.

By the occupation of Florina which lies south of Monastir, the Greeks, according to the Athens report, have cut off 30,000 men of the rear guard of the Turkish army retreating from Monastir.

What Turkey Wanted.
Paris, Nov. 21.—According to the Constantinople correspondent of Parisiens says Nasim Pasha told the plenipotentiaries that Turkey would agree to an armistice only on the following terms:

"That the Bulgarians should not advance beyond the present front; that Turkey surrendering Adrianople and Soutari would bind herself not to send reinforcements, ammunition or provisions to those garrisons, but that the civil population should be allowed to leave."

Fired on Populace.
Athens, Nov. 21.—The Athens newspapers print a report published in Saloniki that the Bulgarian officers at Serris, on the ground that they had been insulted by the Turkish populace, ordered the troops to fire, with the result that 500 persons were killed or wounded.

According to information from Janina, the consuls have advised the governor to surrender in order to avoid unnecessary bloodshed.

Greek steamers arrived at Piraeus today with 4000 Turkish prisoners from Saloniki.

Austrian Diplomat Hurries.
Belgrade, Nov. 21.—The newspapers Stampa and Pravda assert that the much sought for Austrian consular Prechaska passed through Belgrade on Saturday for Vienna.

ACTION INVOLVES VERY LARGE SUM

Writ Issued on Behalf of Westminster Lady—Mining Properties on Howe Sound Concerned.

A civil suit which involves certain mining properties on Howe Sound, shown as the South Valley properties, has been started with the issuance of a writ by Mr. W. F. Hansford, solicitor, acting on behalf of Mrs. F. J. Cleary, widow of the late Mr. Francis J. Cleary, of this city, against Mr. Robert Aitkin, of Vancouver.

The defendant is the trustee for the plaintiff and her son of monies received by him for the sale of the South Valley properties, which was put through a few weeks ago, the sum of $225,000 being mentioned as the purchase price.

The plaintiff alleges that Mr. Aitkin, the defendant, holds the interest of the money under instruments constituting a mortgage and is therefore sued for all monies in excess of $700, these being securities said to belong rightfully to him.

The defendant has retained eminent counsel for his defence, this being the law firm of Tupper, Kitto & Whitman, of Vancouver.

The case will probably be heard in supreme court early in December.

JUMPED FROM TRAIN AND IS UNCAPTURED

Westminster Man Is Charged with Forgery—Was Being Taken to Kamloops for Trial.

It developed yesterday morning that the man who made the successful jump from a moving C. P. R. train near Port Hammond while in the custody of Constable Blue, was William Kendrick, of this city.

Kendrick was arrested here on Saturday last by Officer Burrows on a warrant issued at Lytton, charging him with forging a cheque and cashing same with Mr. Hackney, of the Lytton hotel early in July.

Kendrick is alleged to have used the name of Tom Rennie, the well known lacrosse player, who, when seen yesterday, stated that he was never in Lytton during the present year. Mr. Hackney came into the city late last week and after seeing Mr. Rennie, happened to run across Kendrick, identifying him as the person who walked away with a ten dollar bill belonging to the hotel man.

Kendrick was being taken to Kamloops to stand his trial and his escape handcuffed at the time he made the jump. So far, the provincial police have found no trace of him, although they have scoured the woods in the vicinity of Haney.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCK IS REPORTED IN WESTMINSTER

Who felt the earthquake yesterday evening about 5 o'clock?

Several people in the city reported an occurrence of this nature, among them being the officials of the B. C. E. R. in the Columbia street depot, who stated that the exact time was 4:58 o'clock.

Whether the seismograph will denote any disturbance in the equilibrium of the Pacific coast remains to be seen, but those who reported the quake will have to be shown to the contrary.

WESTMINSTER WILL GET BETTER CARS

Six More Interurban Cars Arrive—Derrail Switches Being Installed on Sixth Street.

Six more cars arrived in Vancouver yesterday for the B. C. E. R. and will be placed in operation on the interurban lines as soon as the trucks and motors are adjusted.

This makes eighteen of the shipment of twenty-four received up to date and the remainder are expected to arrive within the next week. One of the new cars is now in operation on the Central Park line and according to the officials is giving every satisfaction.

Several of the old type of car are waiting to be sent to the shops for general overhauling and the installation of the mechanical apparatus necessary for the operation of the multiple-unit trains which the company is planning to run in the near future. The reason these have not been sent to the car shops before this is the fact that nearly every car is required for the increasing traffic and none could be spared from the run.

With the ordering of a hundred new cars, which the company announced early in the week, the people of New Westminster will be in a position to expect that several of the latest type of cars will be placed on the run on the local city lines. Heretofore the practice has been to send here cars from Vancouver which have been used to a large extent on the city lines in the Terminal City, but with the rapid extension of car lines in New Westminster it is understood that a certain percentage of the new order will be brought to this city when shipment begins.

Yesterday a gang of workmen started installing the derrail switches on the Sixth street line which will obviate any danger of the cars getting out of control and crashing down the steep incline between Carnarvon and Columbia streets. This work will be of a temporary nature, as the company is now perfecting plans for a modern type of switch.

NORTH BURNABY AND MOTOR BUS SERVICE

Move for Half Hour Service from Hastings Road Terminus—Support Councillor MacDonald.

North Burnaby, Nov. 21.—The residents of North Burnaby are determined to secure transportation whether it be by electric car or by motor bus.

At a well attended meeting held this evening a special committee consisting of Messrs S. F. Munson, W. H. Holdum and H. D. Morrison was appointed to secure data with a view of forming a company which would operate a half hour motor bus service from Hastings Road to the Pole Line Road.

Mr. S. F. Munson remarked that property in North Burnaby would go up one million dollars if a reasonable service could be maintained between the terminus of the car line and the Pole Line Road.

Councillor MacDonald was endorsed by the ratepayers and will probably have little or no opposition in Ward Five. Mr. A. Wilkes was endorsed for school trustee.

DISOLUTION OF CAR FENDER COMPANY SOUGHT

A writ issued by Mr. W. F. Hansford, solicitor, on behalf of Mr. Robert Purdie, against Messrs. Frank B. Inglis, E. J. Boughen, James Brooks and E. J. Montgomery, has commenced a civil action for the dissolution of the partnership of those interested in the Pacific Car Fender company.

This company was formed several months ago following the invention by the plaintiff, Mr. Purdie, of a patent car fender which was tried with success on several of the B. C. E. R. city cars.

Plaintiff bases his claim on the grounds that articles of partnership are alleged to have been broken.

The case will come in supreme court early next month and according to the defendants will be contested as far as the law allows.

A Resounding "Aye."

London, Nov. 21.—The Pall Mall Gazette describes Hon. Louis Coderre's triumph as a resounding "aye" from Canada as to whether she will participate in the naval defence of the empire.

INDICT SUSPECT IN BANK ROBBERY

Chicago, Nov. 21.—James Stacey, accused of complicity in a bank robbery in New Westminster, B.C., a year ago last September, was indicted here today on the charge of attempting to murder former Lieutenant of Police Burns, when the latter placed him under arrest in this city recently.

JUDGE WARNS SIKHS TO TELL THE TRUTH

Ishar Singh, Now on Trial, was Formerly in Body Guard of the Viceroy of India.

Today will be the fifth of Ishar Singh's trial for perjury, and its conclusion devoutly to be wished by all concerned with the case.

Mr. Justice Murphy was moved to express himself in severe terms while one of the Sikhs was giving evidence yesterday. His words were to the effect that unless witnesses spoke the truth there would likely be more committed for perjury. Whilst, no doubt, the expression was the fruit of the testimony which he was listening to at the time, it was clearly understood that the warning was intended for every Hindu witness connected with these criminal trials.

Today the evidence of Mokun Singh and the other Ishar Singh, convicted of the assault committed upon Dharm Singh on August 14, 1911, will finish the evidence. Afterwards counsel will address the jury and Mr. Justice Murphy will sum up.

The evidence given today was generally flat contradictions of the crown witnesses and reiterated assertions of the defendant on that eventful evening of August 14, 1911, fraught with such dire consequences for Mokun Singh, Ishar Singh I, and Bugh Singh, and now with the second ordeal of a criminal trial for Ishar Singh II. Well might the last named in reply to Mr. Grant, crown counsel, as to how he fixed the date, ruefully remark that he had every reason to remember it.

That mendacity is rife, on some side wholesale, and of a type that the lost archangel might not be ashamed of is evident.

One witness stated that he saw and heard Dharm Singh dictate a letter to another Hindu which was rendered into English by the latter, who stated it was intended for the court next morning and wanted a 10 cent stamp. Counsel for the defence endeavored to make out this was the letter sent to Chief Justice Hunter which probably caused all these prosecutions for perjury.

Regarding the disappearance of a witness who had gone to India, another witness swore Dharm Singh had given him $40, while others might have given $1 and $2. Dharm Singh was well off.

The prisoner, Ishar Singh, a tall soldierly looking Sikh, stated that he had been five years in the viceroy of India's bodyguard and left with a good discharge which had been shown there before.

Mr. Hopkinson, the interpreter, explained to a News man subsequently, that the Viceroy's or Governor General's bodyguard is composed of the finest picked men for character and physique from the Indian cavalry regiments.

Ishar Singh had worked in Small & Bucklin's yard and in the Walsh Sash and Door factory; in the latter for four or five months, as his cheques could show, and his Hindu boss could tell. If Mr. Law, the timekeeper, said he had only been there one week he was mistaken. He repeated the testimony for which he is being tried as a perjurer.

Another witness had mysteriously disappeared and he could not find him.

POWER COMPANY IS FILLING CONTRACTS

Matchmaking Plant to Begin Operations—Busy Scenes at B. C. Transport Company's Works.

The first big power contracts obtained by the Western Canada Power company in the city are now under way and a large gang of men is at work stringing the wires connecting their lines with the plants of the Dominion Match company and the B. C. Transport company.

The buildings at the match making plant have all been treated to a coat of red paint, and with all the ground cleared, present quite an attractive appearance.

The machinery for the operation of the plant is arriving, but the superintendent, Mr. Archibald, when seen yesterday afternoon, complained of the slowness with which some of the steam roads haul freight. A contract for 200 horse power has been signed up and the wires will be run into the building about Saturday morning. Workmen are now installing the machinery and, according to Mr. Archibald, it is only a matter of a few weeks' time before the factory will be turning out supplies for the western and prairie provinces.

Work on the rock bunkers of the B. C. Transport company is proceeding apace and the electric juice is all ready for turning on when the machinery is in place. Motors using 155 horse power will be installed at the start, but as the work proceeds, this loss will be increased.

The Western Canada Power company is angling for some larger contracts and expects big developments in the very near future for New Westminster and vicinity.

RATEPAYERS NAME THEIR CANDIDATE

Mr. Alec Macpherson for Ward One, Burnaby—Delegates to Convention Concerning Reeve.

Edmonds, Nov. 21.—The opening gun in the Burnaby municipal election campaign was fired last evening when at a well attended meeting of the Edmonds Ratepayers Association Mr. Alec Macpherson was unanimously endorsed for councillor of Ward Two. One other name only was mentioned, that of Mr. W. S. Rose, the president of the organization, but business and other reasons would not permit Mr. Rose being in the field so the honor of leading forth against any other would-be councillor falls upon Mr. Macpherson.

The candidate was present and stated that he felt elated at being endorsed by such a responsible body of ratepayers. He felt that more than half the battle was already won.

The speaker however mentioned that his ideas of municipal work perhaps would not always agree with the views of the association but no matter whether he had gained the endorsement or not, he was in the field as his interests in Burnaby were such that he could not ignore the policy and the program of the future council. If elected he would see that the Edmonds district would get its share of the work of improvements but he would see that it would get no more than was due. He would not have any fingers pointed at him as working for Edmonds alone and not for Burnaby.

Some discussion followed the selection of a candidate, regarding the meeting, to be called within the next few days, of delegates from all the ratepayers associations in the municipality to nominate a candidate for the reeveship. This suggestion was thrown out by the McKay Association, Messrs C. R. Gordon, E. W. Seymour, W. S. Rose, E. B. Stride and W. McCurrach were elected as delegates from the Edmonds district, with instructions to report back to the association the result of the future meeting.

Messrs H. Sworder and C. R. Gordon and Trustee D. G. Patterson were nominated to meet other delegations from the other districts in order to select suitable candidates for the vacancies in the school board.

Chairman Mayne and Trustee Temple Clift retire from the board and have yet to state whether they will again make the run.

TWO MORE NAMES ON DEATH ROLL OF AIR

French Military Aviators Killed—Sapper Escapes—Squalls and Breaking of Wing.

Rheims, France, Nov. 21.—Two aviators were killed in France today, one, Andrew Frey, at Rheims, and the other, Sub-Lieutenant Laurent, at Etampes. Frey was well known on both sides of the water. He finished third in the international aviation race at Chicago in September.

He was undergoing military training today and had just finished a regular practice flight. He stopped his engine at a height of about 500 feet and planned down beautifully until within 150 feet of the ground. Then suddenly the right wing of the monoplane shot up and the machine dropped to earth. Frey was badly crushed.

Lieutenant Laurent and Sapper Chenu were making a flight near Etampes at a speed of 60 miles an hour when a squall caught the aeroplane as the pilot attempted to make a sharp turn, and it was dashed into the ground with terrific force. Laurent was killed, but Chenu escaped with slight injuries.

PORCUPINE STRIKE

Three Mines Yield to Union Demands—Big Ones Still Working.

South Porcupine, Ont., Nov. 21.—At the end of the first week of the strike, the Pearl Lake, Schumacher and Three Nations have yielded to the union demands and are being allowed to work. They employ not more than 50 men.

The Dome and Hollinger mills are running and both have a few men underground, the Dome being in the stronger position. At the Dome Lake, McManay and Hollinger, carpenters are working. Others are shut down tight.

The union has drawn up a scale of wages for mills and will do their best to get those at Hollinger and Dome out, but as the properties are well guarded, they have little chance of reaching the men.

Charge Spanish Socialists.

Madrid, Nov. 21.—The Cortes was the scene of a stormy debate today. Accusations were made by the Conservatives that Republicans and Socialists had committed the assassination of Canalejas. This charge elicited indignant denials from Emilio Iglesias and other Socialist leaders, and expressions of abhorrence of such acts.

HOUSE ADJOURNS UNTIL MONDAY

No Reference to Tariff Commission Bill or Redistribution in Speech.

Did Borden Assure Monk that Plebiscite on Naval Question Would Be Taken?

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—Referring to naval defence in the speech from the throne, His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught said:

"During the past summer, four members of my government conferred in London with His Majesty's government on the question of naval defence. Important discussions took place and conditions have been disclosed which in the opinion of my advisers render it imperative that the effective naval forces of the Empire should be strengthened without delay.

"My advisers are convinced that it is the duty of Canada at this juncture to afford reasonable and necessary aid for that purpose. A bill will be introduced accordingly."

Borden Not There.
In the common chamber the attendance was a little above the average for an opening day, but there was not much in the way of hilarity, although the best of humor prevailed. Formal motions and the introduction of new members was the only business disposed of and no member of the opposition spoke or put a question.

This may have been due to the fact that Premier Borden was not in the House either before or after the members attended in the senate to hear His Royal Highness read the speech from the throne. In his absence all the formal motions were proposed by Hon. Robert Rogers, and seconded by Hon. Frank Cochrane and adopted without comment.

The House adjourned until Monday, when the debate on the address will be taken up.

Tariff Commission.
The omission from the speech from the throne of any reference to the tariff commission bill which was killed last year by the senate would appear to be a practical confirmation of the rumor that has been current for some time that the measure would be dropped for this session.

No official explanation is forthcoming, but it is thought likely that the government fears that the senate would not change its attitude towards the measure. The fact that the speech from the throne contains no reference to a commission that there will be no revision of a comprehensive character in this year's budget, although some minor changes will undoubtedly be made.

The fact that there is no reference in the speech to redistribution is also taken to mean that this measure will not be brought down this session. It is evidently not the intention of the government to bring down a bill, at any rate a definite decision may not be reached until its supporters have been consulted in caucus. An indication that the session will be a lively one is afforded by the preliminary batch of questions. Considerably over a hundred have already been placed on the order paper.

Lemieux Little Batch.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux is the busiest member of the opposition, no less than twenty-one questions standing in his name. He asks if Messrs. Morine, Lake and Duscharne, of the public service commission, have completed their labors and if their commissions have been cancelled. Mr. Lemieux also wants to know if the post office department is going to establish a parcels system. He also wants to find out the truth in regard to the Armand Laverne statement that he was offered a place in the Borden cabinet, and also the truth of the statement that (Continued on Page Four.)

GO AHEAD WITH ERECTION OF HANDSOME BUILDING

The contract for the superstructure of the new business block to be erected on the corner of Carnarvon and Lorne streets just south of the opera house for Messrs. E. B. Wettonhall, of Vancouver, and L. Claude Hill, of Burnaby, was let yesterday to the firm of Hoberg-Sturgess, of Vancouver.

The tender figure was in the neighborhood of $14,000, but the building will cost at least $25,000 when finished. The contractors must have their part of the work finished by February 1. The reinforced concrete foundation for the structure was built some time ago by Messrs. Smith & Whitaker, contractors, of this city.

The plans call for the construction of a fully modern six story building with a space at the rear for an alley way. The main floor will be laid out to form a storage and sales room for automobiles and has already been leased to a firm holding a motor agency here.

The architecture will be of the Renaissance style and the construction material will be fireproof. The front of the building on Carnarvon street will be faced with Clayburn brick. The frame will be made strong enough to support two additional floors which may be added later.

AWFUL SCENES IN TURK CHOLERA CAMPS

Thousands Die Daily at San Stefano, Where Soldiers Are Allowed to Lay Unheeded.

Constantinople, Nov. 21.—Heart-rending scenes of suffering and misery are enacted daily at the Turkish cholera camp at San Stefano. The correspondent of the Associated Press, accompanied by the secretary of a foreign embassy and by Major Clyde S. Ford, U. S. A., who is here on leave of absence, paid a visit there today.

Two Ottoman soldiers were standing on guard at the entrance to the camp, but they made no move. Their duty was to prevent those within the cordon from escaping and not to hinder other people from entering.

A nauseating picture was witnessed at the side of the railroads. The bodies which had been thrown from the trains lay as they had fallen. Some had struck on top of the embankments, others had rolled part of the way down and some had reached the bottom. Some of the corpses lay stiffly alone. Others were in groups of three and fours. Around a one-story stable at the foot of the embankment was a group of sixty dead and dying, lying close together on the slopes of a manure pile which the sick found softer than the hard ground. One man on top of the pile was digging with his fingers a sort of trough in which to lie. The trough soon became his grave.

A group of tents stood in the centre where four or five Turkish soldiers wearing the armpiece of the Red Crescent stood on guard. Inside the sick and dead lay in groups.

The doctor on duty counted twenty-two patients in one tent while double that number lay outside, sheltered from the wind by the canvas. Some of the stricken men found difficulty in getting into the Moslem position for prayer, looking toward the east. One praying victim was so weak that he could not replace his blanket around his head when the wind blew it off. The Red Crescent attendants made no attempt to assist any of these suffering soldiers, not even placing stones which were plentiful, under their heads to permit them to lie easier.

A number of attendants gathered around to watch what the visitors were inspecting in the camps. One of them became insolent and was ordered off by the doctor.

A water cart drawn by a donkey passed along the road. Those of the victims who were able to rise to their feet, went unassisted toward it and struggled feebly for a drink. Those unable to rise got none. In a similar way what appeared to be army bread was distributed to those able to reach the place of distribution.

Several of the sickmen raised themselves with difficulty and stumbled toward a well from which they tried to dip water with their long sashes wetting the ends and moistening their parched mouths with them.

There were hundreds of dead and thousands of sick in this camp, many of them lying on the open ground and great numbers supporting their backs against the bush bordering the open field. Most of them were deserters.

As an indication of how the cholera is raging in the Turkish ranks the following despatch from the Daily Mirror's correspondent, describing conditions at the Catalja lines near Constantinople tells an appalling story:

"The cholera horrors defy description. Huge piles of unburied victims lie beside the road between Halemkeul and San Stefano, where a great field has been set apart for cholera patients.

"I have seen scores writhing in agony near hundreds who had already died. Forty-five trucks full of cholera victims, many of them dead, reached Constantinople yesterday. The Mosque of St. Sophia is crammed with patients, some of them feebly holding out water bottles to passers-by from behind the railings, begging them to fill them, but the people are too terrified to handle the infected bottles. All the gates are kept locked. Scattered among the sufferers are uninfected deserters, who are placed there by way of punishment."

When one reflects on the statement which one reflects on the statements made by Captain Ellis Ashmead Bartlett, the correspondent of the Daily Telegraph with the Turkish forces and other unbiased press representatives, that the death from the cholera in the Turkish ranks are now exceeding one thousand daily, and that conditions in the camps and at Constantinople are simply awful, there is little doubt that the Turks, feeling that they are beaten by disease if not by the Bulgarians, will finally accept any reasonable conditions of peace proposed by the victorious Balkan allies.

Describes Tuesday's Battle.

London, Nov. 21.—Martin H. Donohue, in a long despatch to the Daily Chronicle, describing Tuesday's battle says:

"The Turks were fighting a life and death battle, and Nazim Pasha has realized the seriousness of his position. If the Bulgarians succeeded in breaking through the left and turning the Turkish flank, the enemy could possess the main road to San Stefano thus cutting the Turks off from the capital."

"Throughout Sunday, although exposed to severe punishment, the Turks fought with far more steadiness than at Lule Burgas. Their artillery was better served and the gunners carefully husbanded their ammunition."

"On Monday I could see that the Turkish line of defences had been abandoned and the Bulgarians shelling the second line on which the Turkish infantry had retired. It was soon clear that the Bulgarians had mounted guns in the captured positions."

"Then shrapnel began bursting over the hills. Closer and closer swept the storm of death, until it broke in a fury over the Turkish camp."

"The Turkish line of defence at Catalja was a semi-circle presenting a concave service to an attack. If the centre was broken the two wings would be isolated. This apparently was what was happening. The Bulgarians had captured the outer line of defenses and established themselves at the centre of the semi-circle and were like a triangular wedge being driven into the Turkish lines."

"I learned that the Bulgarians had rushed the outer line at 1 o'clock in the morning after a feeble resistance from the demoralized Turks and were now shelling the second line with the object of terrorizing the Turkish infantry."

"During the day no infantry attack was delivered, the redoubts being carried under cover of darkness at the point of the bayonet. The Bulgarians were still hammering away, weakening the Turkish defence and advancing relentlessly on their objective—the road to Constantinople."

"As night fell an ever-thickening stream of Turkish deserters was leaving the fighting line."

Balkan Peace Terms.

Constantinople, via Gurgevo, Roumania, Nov. 21.—The terms of peace offered to Turkey by the Balkan allies are:

The cession of the whole of Turkey in Europe as far as and including the Catalja lines; the city of Constantinople to remain Turkish, but a friendly entry of a portion of the allied armies to occupy the city until a definite treaty has been arranged.

It is said that the Ottoman cabinet favors the acceptance of all the conditions except the cession of the coast line of the Sea of Marmora and the Dardanelles, and the entry of the allied forces into Constantinople. It asks guarantees regarding the future of Albania.

Diplomatists here are unanimous in thinking the future status of Albania is the more serious menace to European peace.

Wednesday's Fighting.

London, Nov. 21.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail telegraphs from Constantinople under date of Nov. 20, as follows:

"The balance in the fighting at the Catalja lines today was distinctly in favor of the Turks. The Bulgarians did not suffer a defeat but received a check. Their efforts to carry the lines not having succeeded, they have drawn back to Papas Burgas and further north. The Turks have advanced to their entrenchments."

There is, however, a great difference between a successful defence and a Turkish advance. The best the Turks can hope to do seems to be to bring the operations to where they can enter upon negotiations.

The Saloniki correspondent of the Post attributes the Turkish debacle above all things to inferior company and regimental officers. He says that the rank and file were fine fighting material but instead of their officers being old headmen of the villages in whom the men had implicit confidence, the present-day officer is town-bred, educated in military schools.

These officers, he declares, funk openly and shamelessly. They were soft and while working their men beyond human endurance, never attempted to share with them hardships and privations. They had no initiative and to their incompetence was due the failure of the commissariat service and the general lack of organization.

Servian Atrocities.

Vienna, Nov. 21.—The terms offered to Turkey by the Balkan nations are neither in form nor in substance uncompromising, according to information received from an authoritative source in Sofia. They even leave the door open to eventual modifications by negotiations so that it may be assumed that Turkey will accept them and a truce will be brought about.

The Reichspost sent instructions to Lieut. Wagner, its correspondent, to proceed to Pristina but the Servian Government kept him from going. While staying at Nish, Lieut. Wagner reports that he heard well nigh incredible stories of barbarities committed by the Servian troops on the Albanians. A Red Cross doctor with the Servian army told him: "The Servians gave no quarter. All Albanians, armed or unarmed, as well as the women and children, who fell into their hands, were mercilessly killed. General Stephanovitch, the Servian commander had the Albanians captured at Kratova formed into two rows and shot dead with machine guns, the general saying: 'We must extirpate these Austro-Hungarian favorites.'

CANADIAN PENNIES PASS AS $10 COINS

Seattle Bank Instructs Tellers to Watch for Triple Gold Plate One-Cent Pieces.

Seattle, Nov. 21.—Similarity in appearance of the new Canadian $10 gold pieces and the Canadian penny and the consequent danger of confusion of the two yesterday caused Vice-President J. W. Spangler, of the Seattle National Bank to issue specific direction to the men at the windows to look out for the penny.

Both coins are nearly alike in appearance excepting that the penny is a trifle the smaller. The obverse and reverse sides of both coins are similar, excepting that the lettering is respectively "Ten Dollars" and "One Cent." Both coins were minted this year and at the same time. The penny is of unusually light copper color, the bust of King George being shown in relief on both coins, and the gold coin is the first ever turned out by the Canadian mint, paper currency having been the circulating medium above the value of 50 cents.

Business men have been warned of an attempted fraud on the part of men in Canada who have triple-plated the new Canadian penny with gold and have floated the coins in the States as $10 gold pieces, relying on the hurry of business to successfully conceal the tell-tale lettering. It is stated that a number of such coins have been passed in the Pacific Northwest.

It was on account of the danger of fraud and the ease with which it might be committed that local banks have warned employees handling cash to keep a sharp lookout for the belligerent from over the boundary line.

GRAIN MARKET IN CONGESTED STATE

Terminal Facilities Inadequate for Million and Half Bushels Daily—Growers Will Suffer.

Winnipeg, Nov. 21.—Grain men generally admit that the grain situation in western Canada right now is, to say the least, not encouraging. The market is overloaded here, the export markets in the United States are congested and Liverpool is in the same condition.

"What is the matter with the market?" was a question put to Andrew Kelly, president of the Grain Exchange, this morning.

"Congestion," said Mr. Kelly. "This is an insane policy of trying to force 150,000,000 bushels of wheat on the market in three months and expecting us to take care of it. Going to the basis, the consumers can't take it. Liverpool is not inclined to tackle any such proposition. The British millers want wheat, but they don't want to buy their year's supply in a day. Our farmers must make provision to store their grain or take the consequences, that is low prices."

Mr. W. A. Matheson of the Lake of the Woods Milling Company, confirmed Mr. Kelly's views.

"It simply can't be done," he said. "There is no grain market in existence that can absorb 1,500,000 bushels of wheat a day. The greater the facilities provided for moving the crop to Europe, the worse will be the result, under present conditions. It is not a logical reason because our people are bound to sell that others must buy. It would be just as reasonable to expect a man to buy all his groceries for a year in a day or all his dry goods in a day to expect the millers of the world to buy their year's wheat in sixty days."

"Take today's receipts, 1600 cars or so, nearly two million bushels. The available storage at the lake head is only now between five and seven million bushels. There were last week 15,000,000 bushels in stock, though the total elevator capacity is some 27,000,000. Grades and bins greatly reduce the actual storage. Well, any one can see where we are."

"I expect receipts will drop very suddenly and soon but the present weather is eminently favorable to their immediate increase and if so the blockade is here."

Mr. G. R. Crowe, when interviewed, said:

"You ask my opinion regarding the movement of grain from this crop. In my judgment, this country has been obsessed with the idea that the crop should be marketed within two months, when the marketing should be spread over at least eight months. If the producer is to receive anything like a fair value for his grain. All the past season, newspapers have been full of prophecies that the transportation facilities of the country would be badly congested and the railroads have been called upon to make extraordinary efforts to expedite the moving of grain east wards, with the result that the shipments have been larger than the buying power and the inevitable result is, in my judgment, that the farmers have lost anywhere from five to ten cents per bushel."

"The situation has been aggravated on account of the short supply of ocean tonnage, which was further aggravated by the early movement of the crop of the United States. The eastern elevators have been congested and it has frequently been impossible to make any freight contracts from Buffalo to the seaboard and lake vessels have been very seriously delayed in unloading their cargoes. If there were more interior storage, both at railway stations and on the farms, providing means of caring for the crop, after it has been threshed and allowing it to be placed upon the consuming markets as it is required, the farmer would certainly profit by the process."

CAPTAIN UNWILLING TO LEAVE VESSEL

Crew Had to Force Commander From Sinking Ship When She Was Wrecked.

San Francisco, Nov. 21.—Five members of the crew of the barkentine Klickitat, which was wrecked near Hilo, H. T., Nov. 9, en route from Honolulu to Puget Sound, arrived here today from Honolulu on the steamer enterprise.

The Klickitat was overwhelmed by a heavy gale off the high bluffs of the Hilo shore. With the exception of Captain John Nelson, the nine members of the crew reached shore, pulling themselves hand over hand by a line which had been thrown to Colonel Sam Johnson, a wealthy planter, who was passing near the shore in his automobile.

Captain Nelson refused to leave the vessel and later was overpowered, bound with ropes and taken ashore by two men who returned to the ship after the storm had moderated. A few moments later the barkentine sank.

The Klickitat, which was valued at $30,000 was owned by Pope & Talbot, a lumber firm of this city.

ELOPERS COME TO CANADA TO MARRY

Seattle, Nov. 21.—Balked at every turn, Rigo Custodio, a Porto Rican theatrical man from San Francisco, and Taka Muraoka, his Japanese sweetheart, are in Canada today.

The couple, who arrived in Tacoma Tuesday and were arrested on information from the girl's father that she was only 17, were released when he wired that they should not be held in jail. They came direct to this city and make application for a license, but the clerk had read about their romance and declined to issue one without evidence that the girl was of legal age.

It is reported that Papa Muraoka is coming north in an effort to coax his daughter to return, and so the pair continued their flight northward to Vancouver, B. C., where they will make another attempt to wed.

H. H. STEVENS SPEAKER.

Tells Canadian Club of London, Ont., That This is an Ideal Continent.

London, Ont., Nov. 21.—Mr. H. H. Stevens, M.P. for Vancouver, was the speaker at the Canadian Club banquet here last night. His address was on the subject of fusing Eastern and Western Canada into one whole; the building up of a national spirit that would tend towards the best and the greatest country. He gave a brief resume of the possibilities of each separate province, and said that Ontario was outstandingly the ideal province in the Dominion. It held to what the other provinces held in part.

How to bind the great parts of Canada in to one component whole was the idea he dealt with mostly. This would be consummated only through a national idea, a united citizenship, a sound commercial policy for the whole Dominion and a common social, educational and ethical standard. He declared against separate schools, and for the exclusion of Asiatics.

FOSTER SAILS FOR HOME.

is Much Pleased With Hochelaga Election—Returning for Session.

London, Nov. 21.—Hon G. E. Foster sailed for home on the steamer St. Louis yesterday in order to be present during the question of the Canadian naval policy. He expressed great satisfaction at the return of Hon. Louis Coderre in Hochelaga, saying that his election had been triumphant.

"This gives a striking indication of the sentiments of the province of Quebec," he said, "in reference to the government's new policy. The electors have evidently approved of the idea that something should be done for the naval defence of the Empire; although they are not in possession of the details they voted overwhelmingly in favor of the principle."

FRONTIER SETTLEMENTS SECURING PHYSICIANS

Victoria, Nov. 21.—Steady progress is being made by Hon. Dr. Young in supplying medical practitioners to frontier settlements under the partial subsidy system. Physicians are now required for Stewart, Queen Charlotte and Howe, and it is expected that these will shortly be found.

A supply has just been secured by Dr. Callan to take charge of his scattered Cariboo practice during his attendance at the session of Parliament, and yesterday the appointment was confirmed of Dr. Hugh Watt, as resident physician at Elk.

HEIR TO AUSTRIAN THRONE.

Archduke Charles Francis Joseph Has First Son.

Vienna, Nov. 21.—At Reichenau, near Vienna, a prospective heir to the imperial and royal thrones of Austria and Hungary has been born. The infant is the first child of Archduke Charles Francis Joseph and Archduchess Zita, who were married in Oct. 1911.

Owing to the fact that Archduke Francis Ferdinand, the next heir to the throne, resigned the right of succession of the children born to him from his morganatic marriage with the Duchess of Hohenberg, the next in line for the throne is Archduke Charles Francis Joseph, whose first born son came into the world early yesterday morning.

Emperor Francis Joseph was acquainted with the news on awakening before the dawn of the day. He promised to go to Reichenau to act as godfather to the child. Archduke Charles Francis Joseph and Archduchess Zita, who made a love match last summer, were able to carry through their project of marriage by the aid of the Emperor, who frequently says he wishes the younger generation to be happy.

LINKS THAT BIND.

Today the Vancouver cadets who, everywhere in the southern hemisphere, have been received as representatives of Canada, leave Auckland for home and today Westminster will greet the visiting Australian rugby footballers.

Of recent years tours by sportsmen or military cadets of one part of the empire to another have been on the increase, and a corresponding improvement in inter imperial understanding has been wrought, very largely by this method.

We have heard much of the ties of blood and even of those of trade, but there are no ties stronger to bind than are those to be found in that goodfellowship and understanding among those who follow the same sports.

Wherever the British races have made their homes across the seas they have carried with them their games and that love of fair play in manly sport which is in a large measure responsible for the uprightness of public life to be noted alike in the Homeland and in the great dominions.

LONDON THE UNCONQUERED.

In the past three hundred years of Europe's history almost every world capital has trembled as the footsteps of the army of some hereditary national enemy thundered along to her gates.

In the wars of the past, the conquering national cry, "On to Paris," "On to Berlin," "On to Moscow," "On to Madrid," "On to Rome," "On to Vienna," or "On to Constantinople," has resounded on the roads of almost all of Europe's capitals. Some great national cities, in fact, have been invaded many times. Since Rome began, the footsteps of perhaps a score of invading armies have swept along the Apennian way. Constantinople herself, now within a few weeks of being reconquered by Christian nations after four or five centuries of Mahommedanism, has seen more than one sieg and more than one conqueror.

Every world capital but one—our own London—has been captured and held by enemies of a different race and tongue, and that within modern times. When William the Conqueror marched into London at the end of the dark ages, with his continental barons and their followers, it marked the last time foreign enemy's troops should march down the streets of the imperial city. And hardly can William and his men be considered conquerors, in the after light of history, for we, ourselves, are now more than descendants of William and his men, than of the Saxons whom he superseded.

London is the only world capital that remains unconquered through the ages, and we are the only people whose imperial capital has not bowed to a foreign horde of invaders. The heritage of being the only unconquered nation of modern times is a valuable one.

On the British fleet of today, just as on the fleet in the time of Elizabeth, this prestige rests, and in the upkeep of that fleet Canada has a duty. Upon the fleet alone rests the safety of the only unconquered world capital the earth possesses.—Ottawa Free Press.

BOOM IN DRY DOCKS AT CANADIAN PORTS

Montreal, Nov. 21.—The advent of the floating dry dock Duke of Connaught at Montreal and the proposed construction of a government dock at Levis coincide with what seems to be a boom in dry docks at Canadian ports generally.

It is announced that Norton Griffiths & Co. has made arrangements to acquire the charter of the Imperial Dry Dock company, which was under consideration large extensions of its original program, which consisted only of the construction of the dry dock at St. John. Application is to be made to the Dominion government for a contract to build a dock 1150 feet in length, which, it is believed, will be the largest dock in the world. It is further contemplated to develop the present ship repairing plant into a ship building plant and to found iron and steel works on a site to be reclaimed adjoining the dry dock.

VESSEL WASHED UP STREET HALF MILE

Hundred Dead in Coast Towns of Jamaica Alone—Greatest Tidal Wave in Century.

Kingston, Jamaica, Nov. 21.—The official estimate of the dead in the hurricane and tidal wave that visited the western part of Jamaica places the number at more than 100 in the coast towns alone. Details gradually coming in indicate great devastation in the western section.

Practically all lighters, coasting sloops and small craft in the harbors of Green Island, Montego, Luca and Savannah La Mar foundered and large proportions of the crews were drowned. Many persons living in these towns lost their lives in the collapse of buildings.

The houses of the American colony at Montego were badly damaged, but no casualties are reported. The governor general of Jamaica, Sir Sydney Oliver, reached Montego bay today and found conditions so direful that he immediately ordered the dispatch of several hundred additional tents and large quantities of food supplies from Kingston. The railway lines are working within twenty miles of Montego bay, but the telegraph lines are disorganized.

The tidal wave at Savanna La Mar was the highest in a century. One coasting vessel was washed half a mile up the main street. It is said fully 95 per cent. of the houses were blown down during the hurricane. The principal hotels were unroofed as were all the churches and the railway depots.

The sea swept over the streets in the lower section of the town and rows of dwellings were piled up in a gigantic heap at the south of a gully where the largest number of bodies were recovered. An American tourist who happened to be in that town during the hurricane said forty bodies had been recovered up to the time of his departure.

At Green Island, 18 miles southeast of Luca, the American said, there was much wreckage ashore and afloat, but no sign of life could be discerned.

At Luca ten dead bodies were found directly after the storm had subsided.

CANADIAN FLOUR HAS DEMAND IN ENGLAND

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—Trade Commissioner J. E. Ray reports a demand for Canadian flour in England. Inquiries are being made for hard wheat flour, and one large importer asserts that there is certain to be a heavy demand for the Canadian product, as the quantity and quality of British and continental wheat are not up to the average this year.

It is believed that enhanced prices will be obtainable by the Canadian millers and that the midland counties would be relying more than usual on shipments from Canada. This year's production of England and Wales is estimated at 86 per cent. No estimates from Scotland and Ireland have been published.

TRAINS KILL THREE IN C. P. R. MOOSE JAW DIVISION

Moose Jaw, Sask., Nov. 21.—Three men were run over on the Moose Jaw division of the C. P. R. today. Two are dead while the other is dying. One, supposed to be William White, Regina, was run over near Grand Coulee and died in the hospital at Pense. A. R. Prossie, a brakeman of Moose Jaw, was run down while trying to jump on a moving engine at Herbert, and died at Pense.

The third is supposed to be D. Cook, of Grand Coulee, and he stepped in front of a westbound passenger train a mile west of Regina. Doctors attending him say that he cannot live. In each case the victim only was to blame for the fatality.

Race Suicide in Berlin.

Berlin, Nov. 21.—The Kaiser's capital is the champion race suicide city in the world, was, in effect, the declaration of Dr. Julius Wolf the noted German statistical authority in the statistical congress which has just closed a week's session here. Statistics show that while the falling birth rate of Paris from 1880 to 1910 was 7.6 per cent., that of Berlin was 8.4. Not only has the birth rate in Berlin fallen more than that of Paris, but it is greater than that of any other large city.

Mr. Monk received an assurance from Mr. Borden before retiring from the cabinet that a plebiscite would be taken before a contribution to the British navy would be decided upon.

F. B. Carvell will ask if Miss Nantel has been appointed to the Canadian agency in Paris, what salary she receives and by whom was she recommended.

Hon. Charles Murphy will ask how many citizens of the United States have been employed by the government since November 1, 1911.

Affects British Preference.

The first resolution on the order paper is by Mr. E. M. MacDonald, of Pictou, as follows:

"That in the opinion of the House the British preferential tariff should only apply to goods brought direct to Canada by ship to a Canadian seaport."

Bills which private members propose to introduce include acts respecting the pollution of navigable waters, use of flags, amendment of the bank act, amendment of the criminal code and the introduction of a bill "to encourage and assist the improvement of the highways."

Hon. R. H. Emerson has given notice of a resolution declaring that in view of the general feeling throughout Canada that express rates are intolerably high, the railway board should make a thorough investigation of the whole question of freight rates, covering dividends paid by the companies for the past five years, with a view to remedying conditions now complained of.

APPLE TREE FANCIES SPRING IS HERE AGAIN

Chilliwack, Nov. 21.—Apple trees in bloom in the month of November are a rarity in this section of the globe, but Messrs. Eddy and John on the Gibson road, East Chilliwack, have an apple tree in full bloom which is exciting the attention of the farming community hereabouts.

Nothing abnormal has ever been noticed about the tree in the past, it having borne its full quota of fruit of average size in the proper seasons.

WELCOME VISITORS FROM SUNNY SOUTH

Waratahs Visit City and Fraser Mills
Today—Mayor Lee Presides at Banquet.

Although but a short time was allowed the committee to make preparations, everything was fixed up last evening to receive the Waratahs, the Australian rugby team which will pay a visit to New Westminster and the Fraser Mills today.

The visitors will leave Vancouver on a special car of the B. C. E. R. at 10 o'clock and should arrive here about 11 o'clock. At 11:30 a luncheon will be tendered them at the Royal Cafe, the chair being taken by his worship Mayor Lee.

At 12:30 the team will again board the car for the Fraser Mills where they will be taken in hand by Mr. W. S. Rogers, manager of the Canadian Western Lumber company, and taken through the largest lumber mill in the world.

If time will permit the Waratahs will hold a practice on the Queens park oval but this has not been decided.

The luncheon this noon is open to all sportsmen and in fact anyone interested in athletics. Members of the city council and other progressive bodies have promised their support to the movement and if the fair name of the Royal City as the western base for all kinds of sport is to fostered a large turnout should be witnessed.

SALMON BELLY UNDERGOES SERIOUS OPERATION

James Gifford, the well known defence player of the Salmon Bellies lacrosse team, who underwent a serious operation early in July, was again operated upon yesterday morning at the Royal Columbian hospital.

Jimmy recovered from the first illness and was alive and kicking, but decided, on the advice of his physician, to again go under the knife in order that his appendix might be removed.

Reports from the institution late last evening elicited the news that the patient was in a satisfactory state and an early recovery was promised.

COLUMBIAN COLLEGE PLAYS
104TH AT BASKETBALL

Columbian college and the 104th regimental basketball teams will mix matters in the college gym this evening, this being the weekly league game of the city league. Both teams have yet to be really extended and if they wish to make a bid for leadership the fireworks had better be kept dry for early explosion.

The collegians have been putting in a good deal of practice during the past week, the scrubs turning out in full force in order that the seniors might be in the pink of condition, so that, counting on the milliamen putting up a good argument, the game should be one of the best on the schedule.

A fast preliminary between the second five of both aggregations will be staged at 8 o'clock, followed by the seniors at 8:45.

The college five will consist of the following: Smith and Marwood, forwards; Wheeler, centre; Cameron and Hault, guards.

"DRY BOSS" DISCUSS
WESTMINSTER CRICKET

This is scarcely the weather to speak of cricket, but a large and enthusiastic gathering at the Mecca tea rooms last night was not of that opinion. The Westminster Cricket club has had an extraordinarily successful season and narrowly missed the championship of the Vancouver and District leagues, in which it now holds second place.

Prospects for 1913 were said to be of the brightest, several old county men and at least one player who has figured in triangular matches being on the far off horizon of next season.

Votes of thanks for assistance were recorded the ladies and Messrs. R. J. Rickman, C. H. Judd and W. S. Northcote-Johnson.

Many of the members are taking part in the production at the opera house a week from tonight of the "Brixton Burglary," an amusing play which the St. George's Amateur Dramatic society is staging for the benefit of the club.

RUGBY NOTES.

(By J. G.)

That the Westminster fifteen should figure at the foot of the six teams in the Miller Cup series shows a condition of affairs that is disappointing to all Royal City lovers of rugby is undeniable. But the true condition of matters are worthy of consideration in explanation. When Westminster started out at the beginning of the season they had an aggregation that almost any team anywhere would have considered a joke. Since then many things have been done and the improvement that has been worked among their forwards is phenomenal. Last Saturday they overran the Highlanders for three-fourths of the game. They packed, screwed and used their feet in a way that gave one the impression that they are a great pack "in the making." They were very badly served by their back division. The three-quarters, for some reason or other, considered that it was their bounden duty to get rid of the ball somehow and a more pitiful exhibition of "lob" passes, fumbled passes, forward passes and lost opportunities has probably never been witnessed. Until the Westminster backs have some idea where to stand and how to pass, the forwards would be well advised to get the ball and stick to it, trusting to their weight and cleverness and foot-work to gain ground. The inestimable value of "feet" is beginning to be understood in Westminster rugby circles and the day may not be far distant when the spectre of five or six Westminster forwards coming down the field "hell for leather" may become as disconcerting to the Vancouver team as a Scots forward rush is to the greatest teams in the world. A tight screw, forcing the ball through among your own feet, and opening up when the other forwards are split up and brushed aside, followed by a steady dribble from man to man, each keeping on side and converging towards any attempt at interception will make more ground than the finest cross-field passing in the world. You, Westminster forwards, get the ball and stick to it; don't attempt to pick it up; keep it at your feet and sweep down on the opposing line. When you get close to the goal of your opponents always screw your scrums towards the centre of the field. When you do heel out, and never do so unless you get the word from your half-backs, do so at once, and like lightning. Don't give the opposing half-back a chance to get round and be on the top of your own man before he gets the ball. On Saturday last, as before indicated, the three-quarters so far as combination went were shocking. Each did plucky saving and there were several good tackles and kicks, but scores of certain tries were thrown away by rotten passes, worse muffs and senseless throw-ins. Further, fly kicking by good backs is unknown. Practice the short quick pass that has made the Welsh three-quarters and their imitators, the Springboks, the greatest three-quarters in the world. All a good three-quarter has to do is to bear his own man and draw another and pass on to his wing following on and keeping on side to receive the return pass if it is necessary. In one more particular Westminster were weak on Saturday. Their full-back would insist on getting close to his three-quarters. A big punt and a speedy forward would have been past him before he could have turned. Good backs such as Bancroft, of Wales, and McGregor, of Scotland, always stood well back, so that no fortuitous long kick would catch them napping. It is the firm belief of the writer that taking into account the improvement that has been made during the last two months the Westminster team need never again be beaten on their own ground. There is excellent material in the team and only two or three weak spots, and these can probably be strengthened. The Westminster pack are getting on to their game. They will yet discover that the greatest factor in Rugby is that desperate rush of forwards, which is heralded at Inverleith, at Richmond, at Dublin and at Cardiff by "Now, Scotland, feet, feet, feet."

Let us make it Westminster!

There are to be as many as fourteen international matches played this season. These are as follows:

1912.
Saturday, Nov. 23—Scotland vs. South Africans, at Edinburgh.
Saturday, Nov. 29—Ireland vs. South Africans, at Dublin.
Saturday, Dec. 14—Wales vs. South Africans, at Cardiff.

1913.
Wednesday, Jan. 1—France vs. Scotland, at Paris.
Saturday, Jan. 4—England vs. South Africans, at Twickenham.
Saturday, Jan. 18—England vs. Wales, at Cardiff.
Saturday, Jan. 25—England vs. France, at Twickenham.
Saturday, Feb. 1—Scotland vs. Wales, at Edinburgh.
Saturday, Feb. 8—England vs. Ireland, at Dublin.
Saturday, Feb. 22—Scotland vs. Ireland, at Edinburgh.
Thursday, Feb. 27—France vs. Wales, at Paris.

land, at Swansea.
Saturday, March 15—England vs. Scotland, at Twickenham.
Monday, March 24—Ireland vs. France, in Ireland.

In addition to these, there are English trial matches (designed, of course to help the selectors to choose England's fifteen) at Twickenham on Dec. 7, and in the North on Dec. 21. That means that from the middle of November until the end of the season there will only be five Saturdays on which international football will not engage attention.

STEVE BLOOMER, ENGLAND'S GREATEST SOCCER PLAYER

Here is Peter McWilliam's opinion of Steve Bloomer, the great old country football player:

"Stephen Bloomer, England's most honored player, with Grompton's exception is to England what Walker is to Scotland. For a decade no English team was considered complete unless Steve was included. No other English player served his country better in international matches, and it is really wonderful to think that he is still engaged in first-class football, although it is 20 years or so since he made his debut. Bloomer's great feature is his deadly shooting. I do not mean to infer that he is wanting in any other department—far from it—but I do think he excels in front of goal.

He has found the net well over 200 times, and is easily top scorer for England in international matches. He is the most dangerous man in front of goal I ever played against. He takes the ball first time with deadly accuracy. He uses either foot with equal facility, and keeps the ball about a foot from the ground. He cannot be allowed the least latitude in front of goal, for he rarely misses any opportunity.

A very profitable move of Steve's is, when going at full speed up the right, and having drawn the opposition towards him, to double back suddenly and swing the ball to his outside left who is left uncovered and beautifully placed for attack.

In passing, Bloomer has no peer, his speciality in this line being the taking of the ball in the air and side-glancing it to his outside man with unerring skill, always with the outside of his right foot. He can get up to head a ball better than any forward I know, and his timing of its flight is always perfect."

BOWLING AT Y. M. C. A.

This evening the big bowling game between the dormitory boys and the school teachers will be the feature event at the Y. M. C. A. Hand ball will be introduced for the first time this year, and a good line of champion aspirants will be on hand to take part in the proceedings. As this is in the nature of an innovation to the local institution all those who are interested are cordially invited to attend.

EXTRA CONSTABLES FOR CUMBERLAND

Provincial Police Will Have Charge of Strike—Saloons May Be Closed for Time Being.

Victoria, Nov. 21.—The strike situation at Cumberland has during the past few days developed such serious phases that in order to effectually guard against breaches of the peace, Attorney-General Bowser today gave instructions for the immediate detail there of 100 picked constables, who will operate under the orders of Chief Constable Stevenson, at the same time taking from the hands of the Cumberland city authorities the policing of the town until such time as matters have resumed their normal course. It is expected that with the co-operation of the local Board of License Commissioners, the next move will be the closing of all places at which intoxicants may be obtained, until the necessity for such action no longer exists.

Although the company has been working a large number of men of late and the production of the mines has been reported as again approaching normal, conditions in certain respects have been growing worse and such tension is indicated that serious collisions appeared inevitable unless drastic preventive methods were quickly adopted.

In order to secure uniformity of administration during a critical period the attorney-general has thought it the part of wisdom to take over the entire authority in the matter of the preservation of law and order in the city, and has sent to the scene Mr. T. B. Shuebotham, who will at once assume charge of any prosecutions which Chief Constable Stevenson may regard necessary.

REPORTER PREVENTS ESCAPE.

Jailed on Fictitious Charge Newspaper Man Learns of Jail Plot.

Columbus, O., Nov. 21.—A reporter for a morning paper in this city who was arrested on a fictitious charge of being an expert pickpocket of Cincinnati, prevented the escape of five men from the city prison today. One of the men in the plot to escape is Harry Baskette, wanted in St. Louis for forgery. He will be returned tomorrow. The other four are local men arrested on minor charges.

The newspaper man acted for the warden of the prison, who had reason to believe that a plot to escape was being made. Sunday night two prisoners escaped after having tunneled through a 22-inch wall with a couple of spoons and a few small pieces of iron.

The reporter ingratiated himself into the good will of the men and they showed him where the two iron bars had been sawed through with a piece of steel taken from Baskette's shoe. The escape was to have been made tonight, but the reporter communicated with the warden and it was prevented just as the prisoners were ready to make the final dash for liberty.

BOARDING HOUSE REPARTEE.

How the Suffragette Got Back at the Newspaper Man.
THE personnel of the summer boarding house was complete, and the cast included all types of what Jonas, the hired man, most disrespectfully termed "the animals." There were the fat man who snored, the rich widow ever making eyes at the druggist, who sat next her at table and had been seen holding her hand a bit too long as they said good night; the cynical newspaper man who attended strictly to his own affairs and the typical suffragette who saw no good in the sterner sex. The last named sipped her tea and continued a tirade on the faults of men.
 "And, besides, they are always trying to pry into other people's affairs. No secret is safe if a man is around, for he will always try to find it out. There are no exceptions," she concluded, with a defiant look around the table.
 The challenge was too much for the C. N. M., who prided himself on attending strictly to his own affairs. Waving the ethics of the social code and thinking that a full week of passing the butter, salt, etc., would warrant him in addressing the young woman, to whom he had not been presented, he took up the gantlet thrown down by her and said:
 "I've been here a week, and I don't think you have noticed me trying to pry into the affairs of others, have you?"
 "The fact of the matter is"—the young woman's nose was elevated at an almost improper angle—"the fact is I hadn't noticed you were here."
 The butter complacently ran down and spread itself out over the plate, two flies drowned ignominiously in theiced tea, and the air having become oppressively warm, the newspaper man went out into the evening air, where he could be alone.—Kansas City Journal.

Incompetent.
 "I came, sir, in answer to your advertisement in last night's paper. You said you wanted to employ a man who was a total stranger to fear."
 "Are you a brave man?"
 "I am, sir. I have given proof of my courage in many parts of the world."
 "Yes?"
 "I have faced bullets in Mexico and machetes in Cuba."
 "Good!"
 "I helped to defend the missionaries against the Boxers, and I was present at the siege of Port Arthur."
 "Fine!"
 "I have fought the infuriated walrus of Baffin bay and the maddened bull elephants of central Africa, and I went through an Armenian massacre without losing my nerve."
 "You seem to be the man I want. Would you be willing to go out on a field in front of 20,000 fair minded, sport loving Americans and umpire a baseball game honestly, deciding against the home team when necessary?"
 "So that's the job, is it?" replied the man of courage. And he broke into a cold perspiration and a run for the door simultaneously.—Newark News.

A Sign.
 When a man repeats the point of his story three or four times it is a sign that you made a mistake by laughing just for the sake of being polite.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Rivalry.
 Husband—How often does a woman have to get a new hat?
 Wife—That's easy; every time somebody else gets one.—Philadelphia Telegraph

Works in the Garden Now.
 Grown old in the service of his master and mistress, James was a privileged retainer.
 He was waiting at table one day when a guest asked for a fish fork. Miraculously enough, the request was ignored.
 Then the hostess noticed the episode and remarked in a most peremptory manner:
 "James, Mrs. Jones hasn't a fish fork. Get her one at once."
 "Madam," came the emphatic reply, "last time Mrs. Jones dined here we lost a fish fork."
 James has now been relegated to the garden.—Answers.

Different.
 "What did our candidate say when you told him he would have to court that plank in the platform?"
 "What he said," replied the man who likes private stories, "was in effect that he didn't mind supporting the plank, but he hated to be obliged to walk it."—Washington Star.

WHITE WILL TRY TO FLY ATLANTIC

Noted English Aviator Says It Has Been Pet Scheme—Will Take 30 Hours.

London, Nov. 21.—At the close of a flight which Claude Grahame-White took with Otto Kahn as a passenger the aviator gave out particulars as to his plans to fly across the Atlantic.
 "It has been my pet scheme for a long time past," he said, "but now I have completed plans for the machine and commenced to build it. It will be of one thousand horsepower, with four engines and six propellers. Each engine will be of 250 horsepower and they will be so arranged as to be in dependent of each other; that is to say, if two engines break down, the other two will be quite sufficient to drive the machine.
 "We expect to do the journey from land to land in something between twenty to thirty hours, the machine being built so as to remain in the air thirty hours. All depends on the weather and the course we take. At present, we are undecided whether to go by way of the Azores or across to Newfoundland, but I expect the latter route will be chosen.
 "The trip is arranged to take place in the summer, although it is just on the cards that we may not make it until the autumn. The weather then will probably be more favorable; but, whenever we start, I am reasonably sure of success."
 Mr. Kahn is taking great interest in aviation. His flight by aeroplane was not his first venture into space for it will be remembered that some months ago he was a passenger on the Zeppelin airship during its trial voyage; but after testing the delights of the aeroplane, Mr. Kahn swears by the latter. On his return after his trip with Mr. Grahame-White, Mr. Kahn said:
 "It was a most delightful trip, thoroughly exhilarating. I had been up before in a Zeppelin and was anxious to compare the two methods of flight. There can be no doubt that the aeroplane is the machine of the future. There is a great future before this method of transportation, especially in the case of the hydroplane. Mr. Grahame-White tells me he wants to cross to America in one and feels that he can get there, and I believe he can."

TEN-DAY FIGHT FOR LIFE.

Sailors of Schooner E. K. Wood Reach Victoria.
 Victoria, B. C., Nov. 21.—Eight sailors are recovering here today from the effects of a ten-day fight for life on a derelict in the "Roaring Forties." After surviving two 90 miles an hour gales, a mass of splintered wood that was once the trim schooner E. K. Wood, lines the shore of Cape Cook.
 The Wood sailed from Port Townsend for San Francisco on November 6 during a heavy storm, which grew steadily worse. When four days out she began to take water, and the pups were kept going from that time until the vessel was abandoned. A gallant effort was made to work the vessel back to port, but Sunday the second 90-mile gale hit her, stripping her clean and breaking her back. Fearing she would capsize, the deck-load was out away, and with it went main and mizzen masts.
 Drifting straight onto the rocks off Cape Cook, the men gave up all hope but at the last minute the Canadian fishery cruiser William Joliffe came in sight and put a line aboard and took off the men. A third storm came up before she could reach port Wednesday, the line carried away, and the Wood broke up on the West Barrier reef.

NO SENTIMENT HERE FOR ANNEXATION, SAYS GRAHAM

Boston, Nov. 21.—"There is absolutely no sentiment on our side of the line for annexation to the United States," said Hon. George P. Graham, of Ottawa, ex-Minister of Railways, to the members of the Canadian Club of Boston at the club's annual dinner to-night. Mr. Graham discussed the relations between his country and the United States at some length.
 Among other speakers was Captain Cartwright, military aide to the Governor-General of Canada; Mr. George M. Hall, Industrial Commissioner for Edmonton; Mr. T. Kennard Thompson, president of the Canadian Club of New York, and Mr. Thomas H. Bullock, president of the Canadian Club of St. John, N. B.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.
 Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.
 In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.
 Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.
 The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.
 The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee will be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.
 For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.
 W. W. CORY,
 Deputy Minister of the Interior.
 N. B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

BE SUSPICIOUS

BE suspicious of that of which nobody is proud. Be suspicious of the mere low-price argument offered in favor of an article with no reputation, no backer, no guarantor.

Better buy the thing you know and can trust, than an article unbranded and unvouched for.

The branded shoe, made by a maker with a reputation, is a safer shoe to buy than the one made in an unknown factory by an unknown maker.	That in which much money has been invested to make or keep it good is worth more than that on which nothing or but little has been spent.
The underwear made by a firm whose name is as familiar to you as your own, is worth more to you than underwear nameless or labelled by a maker of whom you have never heard.	Peace of mind is worth something, just as quality is. Buy peace of mind.
Tea sealed in a packet bearing the name of a reputable firm is to be preferred to tea of which the packer is not sufficiently proud to advertise its quality.	When you buy anything worth while buying, buy that of which you know—from advertisements, or from other dependable acquaintance. Buy the article with the "money back" guarantee—with the pledge of a known name behind it.

Put your faith in the advertisements appearing in good newspapers. Beware of the article that cannot stand the spotlight of publicity. The commodity an advertiser backs with his own money is something worth your buying.

Advertisers in The News have faith in the goods they are offering you.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Lumadon Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.

LOCAL NOTES

Weather Today.
 Victoria, Nov. 21.—The weather forecast for the lower mainland for the next twenty four hours is as follows: Westerly and southerly winds, clearer towards night.

The members of the Olivet Baptist church have sent a unanimous call to Rev. A. S. Lewis, of Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, to the pastorate of the church.

Hear the sacred cantata "Daniel" at Olivet Baptist church Monday evening at 8 o'clock. (125)

Mr. and Mrs. Pummell, of Wise road, left yesterday for Los Angeles, California, where they will remain for some time.

The Norwegian steamer "Christian Brothers," from Mexico, is loading lumber at the Fraser Mills for Australia. Her cargo, when shipped, will consist of 2,100,000 feet of lumber and 1,300,000 feet of lath.

We are too busy to write ads. Come and see the goods, and, as we said before, "Our Prices Talk." Denny & Ross. (123)

A. Hardman, the cake man, Get good bread, Eighth Street Bakery, Telephone 281. (9)

Mr. F. D. Picken, superintendent of the B. C. E. R. line between Victoria and Saanich, is in the city, where he will remain for a few days on business connected with the duties of his office.

The tremendous downpour of rain on Wednesday night was made painfully manifest to Mr. Coulson, 27 Columbia street, yesterday morning. Fully ten yards of the cement brick wall supporting his banked veranda gave way before the water and its component parts scattered over the pavement.

Doors, windows and frames made while you wait, at Walsh Sash and Door Factory. Phone 413. (122)

We have a limited stock of Comox coal which we can recommend for steam and furnace use and which we will sell for cash only. Gilley Bros (116)

A thoroughly enjoyable social evening was held by the young ladies of the Onward Bible class of the Sixth Avenue Methodist church last night. An excellent musical program was gone through and Mrs. George Adams delivered an interesting talk on her travels in Europe.

A chorus of 45 voices and full orchestra at Olivet Baptist church next Monday evening in the sacred cantata "Daniel." Everybody welcome. Collection. (125)

For a square deal in Furniture and Carpets go to W. E. Pales, corner of McKenzie and Agnes streets (113)

Messrs. W. J. Kerr and Mr. Kenneth Myers, of the Progressive association, President John R. Duncan, of the board of trade, Mr. Stuart Wade and Mr. Olway Wilkie, secretary, comprise the deputation from this city that will attend the meeting of the Fraser Valley Publicity bureau at Coquitlam today.

Why does John Rindal, the tailor, sell a first class $40.00 suit for $30.00? Because the location of his business is out of the high rent district. John Rindal, 612 Carnarvon. (65)

Mr. W. Jewhurst, the well known local shot and a member of the contracting firm of Miller & Jewhurst, leaves for his old home, Bexhill on Sea, Sussex, England, tonight. He sails by the Empress of Ireland and expects to be away a couple of months. This is Mr. Jewhurst's first return to the old country in nine years.

Mr. J. A. Hamm will take the part of Daniel in the sacred cantata of that name in Olivet Baptist church next Monday evening, November 25, at 8 o'clock. (125)

Cars on the Sixth street line of the B. C. E. R. are now running under a new sign. Heretofore those of the Sixth street and the Columbia street lines have been one and the same. Yesterday morning a new plate bearing "Edmonds via Sixth street" was placed on the three cars running to Edmonds and East Burnaby. This will obviate any confusion in future.

The Walsh Sash and Door Co. have been obliged to run nights to keep up to their orders. (122)

The Ladies Aid of St. Paul's Reformed Episcopal church intend holding a sale of work and supper on Tuesday, Nov. 26. Also refreshments served in the afternoon. All are welcome. (127)

A social "at home" will be given by the Epworth League of Queen's Avenue Methodist Church to all the young people's societies in New Westminster, on Friday evening. Professor A. E. Etherington will preside, and is expected to deliver a short address on the work of the Christian Endeavor leagues. A musical program has been arranged.

With the definite end in view of eliminating all frame structures from the down town district the building committee of the city council at a meeting held yesterday placed the life of the Merchants and Cosmopolitan hotels at five years. This means that five years from now these buildings must be torn down and new and fireproof structures erected. This policy was adopted by the council some time ago and there are at present a number of frame buildings in the down town district affected in a similar manner.

LADIES BEGIN CAMPAIGN FOR VICTORIAN ORDER

The ladies committee of the Victorian Order of Nurses met for the first time since organization in the Y. M. C. A. building yesterday afternoon and decided to inaugurate a membership campaign at once.

Each of the ladies will endeavor to get ten members a piece within a limited time. A strenuous effort will also be made to create more interest in the order. It was decided to hold the next meeting during the first week of December when it is hoped all the members will be present.

A vote of thanks was accorded the Y. M. C. A. for generously giving the organization the use of the reception room for all meetings.

Mr. Archibald Campbell Black and Miss Lois St. John Banfield were the contracting parties in a quiet marriage which took place in St. Andrews Presbyterian church on Tuesday. Rev. J. S. Henderson officiated.

Mr. Stanley G. Purvis, who is in the employ of the B. C. Electric, was united in marriage to Miss Una Robinson, of Aberdeen, Wash., at Aberdeen on Wednesday.

ST. CECILIA'S DAY

Students of St. Ann's Take Part in Delightful Recital.

Words can hardly describe the excellence of the St. Cecilia Day recital given by the students of St. Ann's academy last evening to a rather small, but none the less appreciative audience. The music was such that would delight the heart of anyone and there was scarcely a number on the program that could be selected as being better than another.

The choruses, in which practically the whole school took part, were exceedingly beautiful, the stage setting and arrangement of the pupils, all of whom were dressed in white, adding effect to the rendition. The enunciation was of a nature that spoke of long and careful training and as a whole the execution of the students reflected great credit on the school.

A delightful vocal solo, "The Angel's Serenade," was rendered by Miss Cave-Browne-Cave, while the others who contributed to the program were: Miss L. Dupont, E. Orr, Miss G. Fromay, recitation; Misses A. Lamothe, W. Bennett, M. Keary, G. Gaynor, L. Sullivan, E. L. Abbe, D. Swensky. At the close a striking tableau, "St. Cecilia," whose name will always be associated with music, was presented and brought forth considerable applause.
