FIRE THREATENS B. C. E. R. SHOPS

Good Work Accomplished by Department at Saturday's Blaze Commended.

Access to Basement Was Only Gained After Demonstration of Axe Play.

Originating in the basement of the B. C. Electric Railway company's car shops on Twelfth street shortly after midday on Saturday, a fire which for a time threatened to destroy the entire plant, did damage to the extent of over $1000 and was only quelled by the combined efforts of the firefighters from halls 1, 3 and 5. The loss is amply covered by insurance.

At 1:15 one of the B. C. E. R. employees at the shops telephoned in the alarm, and in a very few moments Fire Chief Watson and the men from No. 1 hall arrived on the scene; trucks from fire halls 3 and 5 followed a moment later. It was a hard fire to fight, closed in as it was in the basement of the shop, with tons of scrap iron and debris piled about the walls outside impeding the movements of the firemen. Rapidly Chief Watson organized a corps of B. C. E. R. employees and put them to work removing the scrap iron so that his men might use their axes in hewing into the basement which by this time was an inferno of hissing flames. Finally an entrance was secured and water from 2500 feet of hose began to play upon the fire which rapidly lessened in volume and was finally extinguished about 3 o'clock.

In several places underneath the building the joists which supported the floor had been burned away allowing the floor itself to sag. Damage done to tools and implements either from fire or water was slight.

In company with Mr. Allan Purvis, the local manager of the company, Mr. Sterling, the general manager, inspected the car shops on Saturday afternoon, and issued orders for the necessary repairs. These were at once begun and will be finished today.

To a News representative last evening Mr. Purvis expressed in very high terms his opinion of the work done by the fire department stating that had it not been for prompt action on the part of the firemen a far greater loss would have resulted.

NOW'S THE TIME TO BEGIN WORK

Preliminaries Over—Free Run Opens Before Members of Progressive Association.

Everybody's doin' it, doin' it, doin' it. Doin' what? Why, signing up for the Progressive association. The secretary has already received a goodly number of names and subscriptions and members are continually coming in and saying that they are only waiting the word to bring in a whole bunch of new members. Well, they have got the word now.

The general meeting is over, the constitution is adopted and there is a free run before the new organization. Nobody need be afraid to bring in their members now. If the executive committee decides later to have any kind of a competition for the greatest number of names secured, any brought in since the general meeting will be counted.

The committee is anxious to have as many members on the roll by tomorrow night as possible so that they will be able to decide on some sort of membership campaign, with an idea of how many workers they can rely upon. They also want to get in ten life memberships as a starter. There are one or two in sight now and prospects are good. Ten of those $100 fellows would mean $1000 in the bank and would give the association some working capital.

Application for membership cards can be had from the secretary at his office, 648 Columbia street, or from any committee chairman. The office phone number is 736, and cards will be mailed to any one applying for them.

WILL CO-OPERATE WITH CITY PLANS

In a conference with Mayor Lee on Saturday with regard to the contemplated works which it is the intention of the C. P. R. corporation to establish in Westminster at an early date, Mr. Peters, general superintendent of the C. P. R., intimated that his company would also co-operate as far as possible with the civil authorities in their harbor improvement scheme.

NATIONAL RESERVE REVIEWED BY KING

Thirty Thousand of Old Brigade Muster in Hyde Park—Crimea and Mutiny Veterans.

London, June 9.—King George, accompanied by Queen Mary, inspected a division of the National Reserve, numbering 30,000, in Hyde Park last night.

His Majesty rode to the park accompanied by Prince Arthur of Connaught, and attended by General French. He was received by Sir Eveyln Wood, and a representative company of each battalion marched past. The whole division afterwards advanced in review order.

A detachment of Crimea and Indian Mutiny veterans formed up in the centre.

SAPPERTON CHURCH IS NOW REOPENED

Methodists Invite Former Pastor—Pays Tribute to Mrs. David Robinson.

The reopening of the Sapperton Methodist church, which for several weeks has been undergoing extensive repairs, took place yesterday, large congregations filling the edifice at both morning and evening services. To celebrate the event, Rev. G. T. Thompson, of Nanaimo, who was pastor of the church in 1892, came over to preach at the instance of the trustees.

At the morning service Mr. Thompson touched upon the rapid growth of this city, and the way in which the suburbs were being built. He thought it very gratifying that the people of the church could go ahead and undertake such extensions.

Taking for his text at the evening service, Proverbs. 8:4, "Unto you O man I call," Mr. Thompson discussed the call of the church to men. He first touched on the work of the Y. M. C. A. throughout the world, lauding Mr. F. B. Smith whom he thought was the real founder of the Men and Religion movement. This movement stands for Bible study, evangelism, work for boys, missions and social service.

"The church today has many problems to contend with. It must reach out and help the hundreds of people who are drifting away from the good things of this life. The man who says it is worth while to teach a class of young men is worthy of recognition. There is work for men in every branch of the church, in the Sunday school, in the choir and in every day life. Some of you," went on the preacher, "remember the times twenty years ago, when Mrs. David Robinson used to go down among the mill men and lumber workers and preach Christianity among the rough and ready of those times. That was real work and would it were that some of us would do it today.

"There are hundreds of things a man can do. Personal evangelism for instance. Pass the glad hand among your fellow beings, make them feel that life is worth living. Evangelistic meetings should be unnecessary in these days, but the church without these has a tendency to drift away. It is then that such work brings in results. Long sermons are not the things to bring results. God has given us the power to go out in this world, to visit the places of vice, the hell holes which abound, and to preach the gospel to those who know not."

Mr. Thompson is staying in the city until Tuesday, when he returns to Nanaimo. This evening he will take part in the entertainment and banquet held in the church parlors.

POINT GREY BY-LAWS.

Nearly a Million and a half to Spend on Improvements.

Tenders will shortly be called for the sale of bonds aggregating $1,365,573.28, being the amounts recently voted by the people of the municipality of Point Grey for expenditures this year. The amounts are as follows:

Authorized by the ratepayers on August 1, 1911, for roads, $249,908.50; for waterworks, $501,259.80; for school purposes, $50,125. Authorized in February of this year for roads, $164,980; for sewers, $257,923.33, and for sidewalks, $41,386.66, making a total of $1,365,573.29. The loans are for 4½ per cent. for 50 years with the exception of the sidewalk by-law for half that time.

A United Empire.

The Rt. Hon. Arthur J. Balfour, speaking in London at the annual meeting of the Victoria League of the Empire, said he believed that at no distant date a scheme for an Imperial Parliament would be matured, by which Great Britain and her self-governing colonies would be united into one. The whole trend of events, he said, was to bring closer the widely-scattered parts of the Empire. He was a profound believer in the truth that local patriotism, properly understood, was no obstacle to a larger patriotism.

AMERICANS HOLD CHIEF OF REBELS

Enrile, Once Orozco's Right Hand Man Is Arrested at Juarez.

Condemned to Die by Rebels Is Released—Captor Done to Death.

El Paso, Texas, June 9.—Gonzales C. Enrile, deposed financial executive of the Mexican revolution, was arrested early today by C. H. Webster, a Texas ranger, as he crossed the international bridge from Juarez.

Tonight Enrile, once the right hand man of General Orozco, author of a caustic anti-American proclamation and chief promoter of the present revolution, is a prisoner of the United States authorities. His provincial arrest was ordered by the Mexican federal government, which charges Enrile with embezzlement of funds while consul under President Diaz at Clifton, Arizona, 18 months ago. His extradition on this charge would place him at the mercy of the Mexican government for his political acts.

Enrile handled the funds of the revolution for three months and admittedly made many enemies, finally being repudiated by General Orozco.

Sought U. S. A. Doctors.

Weak from two knife wounds and a bullet hole in his shoulder, sustained in an encounter with two unknown assailants in the city of Chihuahua three weeks ago, Enrile doubted the intentions of his physicians and sought medical treatment in the United States. Preceded by a telegram announcing his death early yesterday, which was intended to foil his Juarez enemies, he was placed secretly aboard a train in Chihuahua and last night arrived in Juarez.

Condemned to Die.

He would have escaped the rebel officials there only for the watchful eyes of Captain Carlos Gonzales, chief immigration officer in Juarez. Gonzales immediately arrested Enrile, taking him before Colonel Jose Orozco, head of the garrison, who notwithstanding the safe conduct issued by his cousin, General Pascual Orozco, the rebel commander-in-chief, made preparation to execute Enrile. On bended knees, the fugitive then begged for his life, beseeching Colonel Pascual Orozco, sr., father of the military leader, to get into communication with his son in Chihuahua. The elder Orozco did so and finally released Enrile.

Gonzales Killed.

Early today Gonzales, the man who blocked Enrile's escape, was found dead in a resort with a bullet through his brain. He was a classmate at Bucknel, college of Christy Mathewson, the New York National league pitcher. His death is unexplained tonight, but the general impression is that the friends of Enrile caused Gonzales' death, fearing he might kill Enrile despite the instructions from rebel headquarters.

"You might as well get General Orozco now," said Enrile grimly as he was led to the county jail. "I came only for medical treatment, but if the Mexican federal government gets me, the revolution has lost its personal friend and supporter."

He will be held without bond for 40 days pending the arrival of extradition papers from Mexico when he will be given a hearing before a United States commissioner.

Though Enrile's flight by no means indicates the collapse of the rebel cause, it is admitted that it bears out the reports of disorganization and internal intrigues with which the rebels are said to be struggling.

Reported Battle.

General Huerta was reported to have moved today far north of Santa Rosalia, while from Nasas, 50 miles east of Torreon, the defeat of the rebel forces under General Campa and General Argumendo by General Blanquet and 1500 federal cavalry was reported to the Mexican consul here. If confirmed this means the end of the rebel movement toward the rear of Huerta's columns, a harassing expedition that has caused the government commander no little worry.

Milk and Merriment.

Serenely oblivious to the fact that a bottle of milk which he was carrying in a parcel of provisions to be eaten in the sylvan haunts of the suburbs, had become broken, and was distributing its snowy dampness upon his clothes and the station platform, a young man mounted the footboard of the Coquitlam interurban yesterday afternoon amid the smiles of the onlookers. He was a marked man, and his fellow holiday seekers tittered audibly after the manner of mankind at his predicament, with which he doubtless became acquainted before he took his seat.

Still Growing.

Building in New Westminster continues day by day to roll up a total indicative of prosperity and the city to be. The week just closed while in a sense comparatively quiet, has added several fine buildings to both the business and residential sections of the city totalling in all the very respectable sum of $17,000.

WARDERS SHOOT DOWN CONVICTS

One Killed, Two Wounded In Renewed Grub Strike at San Quentin.

Hose Spouting Live Steam Used to Quell Riot of Nineteen Hundred Prisoners.

San Quentin, Cal., June 9.—A continuation today of the "grub strike" demonstration begun yesterday in San Quentin prison developed into a riot in the general mess hall as a result of which one prisoner was shot and killed, and two others were wounded. This was the second demonstration made by the convicts within 48 hours.

The dead: H. L. Lynwood, a naval prisoner serving a term of six and a half years for desertion and impersonating an officer.

The wounded: Frank Taylor, a negro serving twenty years for robbery committed in San Francisco, shot through the hand.

H. A. George, struck in the leg by glancing bullet.

Threw Pots Around.

Nineteen hundred prisoners were sitting down to dinner shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon when 200 or 300 of the men began a concerted demonstration. Not content with voicing their protests with shrieks and cat calls, the demonstrants began throwing dishes and food about. Some made a rush for the adjoining kitchen and began hurling heavy pots and pans around the room. These were driven out with hose spouting live steam, several of the rioters being severely burned.

No sooner was the mutiny started than the prison bell was sounded, wardens rushed to the scene, and pandemonium reigned until the prisoners were at last locked in their cells.

NO TRACE FOUND OF MISSING LADY

Police and Distracted Husband Search in Vain for Missing Mrs. Player.

Notwithstanding the efforts put forth by the police in the endeavor to locate Mrs. Player, the Sapperton lady who has been mysteriously missing from her Struce street home since Wednesday evening last, no clue has been secured which might indicate even remotely the unhappy lady's whereabouts.

On Saturday afternoon two of the regular police force and three special duty constables were assigned by Chief Bradshaw to follow up the mystery, but in spite of their efforts in searching the surrounding country and in questioning residents who might have seen Mrs. Player, no information of value was secured, her disappearance seeming to be as complete as if the earth had opened and swallowed her.

Yesterday the mounted policeman patrolled the locality adjacent to the Struce street house in the hope that the missing lady might return.

One theory advanced by the searchers is that Mrs. Player, who has been unwell for some months past, has become temporarily demented, and having wandered away, may possibly be lost in the brush and have met an untimely death by exposure.

LONG RANGES TEST CIVILIAN MARKSMEN

The Civilian Rifle association practiced for the first time Saturday afternoon on the long ranges. As few of the marksmen had had little experience over the long distance ranges it was natural that the scores made were of low figure. H. Lindahl won the spoon with a total of 83. Next Saturday the shoot will be over the short distance course.

Saturday's scores are as follows:

	800	900	1000	Ttl.
H. Lindahl	29	32	32	83
F. J. Simpson	31	29	20	80
W. J. Sloan	29	20	29	78
V. H. C. Abbott	31	26	10	67
G. Burr	18	22	20	60
H. S. Walsh	18	17	17	52

Damages Awarded.

At the conclusion of the civil court on Saturday afternoon the jury empannelled in the Henderson Knox $1000 damage suit returned a verdict of $200 in favor of the plaintiff, Mr. Joseph Knox. It had been stated by Mr. Knox that the defendant, Mr. Henderson, had failed to give good and sufficient warning of the approach of his automobile, with the result that his horses became frightened and ran away. The accident occurred last Labor Day on the Chilliwack road. Mr. A. M. McNeil, K.C., appeared for the dependant, while Mr. J. B. Patulle, K.C., and Mr. J. H. Claughton conducted the case for Mr. Knox.

DISREGARD OF WORD FOR COMMERCIALISM

Eminent Divine Speaks of Work of Missionaries at Home and Abroad.

The infinite patience of God manifested through countless ages in dealing with perverse and sinning mankind, and the relative part played in the furthering of Christianity by the church, which of a truth was formed "of the sons of the Son of God" was the nucelus around which Rev. R. A. Bourne, secretary of the British and Foreign Bible society, last night built a wonderfully fascinating resume of the history of the Word itself and the work accomplished of recent years by the society which he represented.

The cathedral opened its doors to a congregation which comprised not only members of the church, but of other denominations as well, and although Sunday evening services are usually well attended it was apparent that the distinguished exponent of the catholic faith who, as a representative of the Bible society is known from coast to coast, was in no small way responsible for the presence of those who had come to worship and at the same time hear intelligence of Christianity's progress in other parts of the world.

Rev. Mr. Bourne, one of those delightful divines of the old school whose devotion to their life work is immeasurable, and whose very presence is of the atmosphere of godliness, took for his text the words, "Behold the day is come saith the Lord; not of famine of bread, nor first a famine of water, but of hearing the Word of the Lord."

Tracing back through the years until the time of the flood when the Word of God had been forgotten for the things of less consequence in life by all save a very few, Rev. Mr Bourne wove into the fabric of his text the history of Christianity up to the present day, averring that in the prosperous present men were too prone to forget God and his teaching in the pursuit of commercial success.

Reverting once more to his text the preacher called the attention of his hearers to the famine of religion—even civilization now prevalent in the dark continents of Asia and Africa. True there had been a great work accomplished by the British and Foreign Bible society in the circulation of translations of the Bible in many languages, but there was a need for men, for teachers, for disciples of the Word of God to further the religion which was all too little observed.

In the cities of the Pacific coast where people from many countries gathered together at the call of the West, there was an unlimited field for earnest work. Here in the heart of a Christian country these strangers in our midst might be taught the ways of grace and then, when they returned to the country of their birth they might spread the Word and foster the germ of religion to the betterment of mankind and the glorification of God.

Speaking of the work of the British and Foreign Bible society Rev. Mr. Bourne stated that for the 110 languages spoken in the Dominion of Canada by emigrants the Bible society had provided translations, until at the present time it was possible to study or to teach Christianity in the tongues of Babel.

Concluding, the reverend gentleman referred to the missionary field afforded by the careless—in many cases godless state of young men who had left their homes and loved ones in the East many years ago to pursue the empty bubble of wealth.

"It is the danger of the commercial age, pray God that the famine of Christian sentiment and teaching shall not fail."

WARSHIPS ORDERED TO CUBAN WATERS

Admiral Osterhaus Sails Immediately —Race War Is Rife in Havana— Flagship.

Washington, June 9.—The navy department tonight ordered Admiral Osterhaus to proceed forthwith from Key West to Havana with one despatch ship and one other ship. These orders were issued by the state department after the receipt of a despatch from Minister Beaupre reporting that conditions in Havana had assumed the character of a race war.

It is probable that Admiral Osterhaus besides the despatch ship will take his flag ship, the Washington, into Cuban waters.

EDUCATING FARMERS.

London, June 9.—The government of New Zealand intends to educate young farmers in the future. The cabinet has allotted a large sum for the immediate erection of aprentices' quarters at the experimental farm outside of Wellington. The lads will be instructed by officers of the agricultural department and after three months training a slight remuneration will be paid, increasing in proportion to the degree of industry and ability.

HAIL OF ASHES DARKENED SUN

Believed Several Fishing Villages Destroyed by Alaskan Eruption.

Steamer Dora Brings Tidings—Terrific Scenes—Earthquake Precedes Volcanic Outburst.

Seward, Alaska, June 9—Passengers on the mail steamer Dora, which arrived from the westward today after passing through a hail of ashes from Katmai volcano, believe that several small fishing villages on the shores of Shelikof strait were destroyed by the eruption. The revenue cutter service at Unalaska has been asked to send assistance.

The Dora was in sight of Kotmai when the eruption began and those on the vessel witnessed a brilliant spectacle. The first evidence that the volcano was preparing to free itself of the rocks and lava that choked its throat after long years of inactivity came early Thursday night before the Dora was at Cold bay, only 15 miles southwest of the slumbering volcano, and across Shelikof strait to Kodiak when the eruption began.

Stream of Rocks.

It was 1 o'clock in the afternoon and the mountain was in plain view. Frequent earthquakes disturbed the water of the strait when suddenly a terrific explosion occurred in the distant mountain and a great mass of rocks was thrown into the air. The first explosion was followed by others in quick succession, each seemingly more terrific than the one before, and in a short time a steady stream of rocks and ashes was pouring out of the peak and spreading far over the surrounding country, obscuring the sun and shutting off from view the troubled mountain.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon when the Dora was 70 miles from the volcano, total darkness came and ashes began to fall in thick clouds upon the deck, covering it in a short time with a white layer that increased in thickness until it was three inches deep.

Dust and Quakes.

The stifling atmosphere gave the passengers violent headaches and the whole ship's company was in misery while all night long the Dora steamed through the dust-laden air, and was rocked by the earthquakes that lashed the water while the mountain thundered menacingly in the distance.

At 5 o'clock Friday morning, the Dora having gone nearly 50 miles out of her course, clear air was reached and the passengers were able to breath freely again. Looking back they could see the column of smoke and ashes still pouring out of the volcano.

The Dora was engulfed in darkness again Saturday as she neared Seldovia and felt her way carefully to Seward.

The volcanic disturbance is the most violent ever recorded in Alaska. It is estimated that an area of 300 square miles, most of it fertile territory, has been covered to a depth of several inches by the volcanic ash.

MEXICANS BURNED WIFE AND BABIES

English Planter Relates Horrible Story—Will Invoke Aid at Los Angeles.

Phoenix, Arizona, June 9.—With a story of how his wife and two babies were burned to death in their home near Tepic by roving bands of rebels, George Arnold Brown, an Englishman, passed through Phoenix today on his way to Los Angeles where he will lay his case before the British consul.

Brown said that the rebels set fire to his plantation near Tepic during his absence, and his entire family perished. The rebels then either killed or drove off all of Brown's live stock. He declared conditions in and around the city of Tepic and in the state of that same name, were horrible.

DR. DOHERTY RESIGNS.

Meeting to Consider Will Be Held This Week.

President Harry Cowan, of the B. C. L. A., received the resignation of Dr. C. E. Doherty from the membership of the lacrosse commission, prior to Saturday's game. Dr. Doherty gave as his reason the fact that his work in connection with the local hospital would occupy a great part of his time during the summer, and he did not feel that he could continue as a commissioner if he could not be on the ground for every game.

A meeting of the association will be held in Vancouver some evening this week in order to consider the resignation, and to fill the vacancy. Just who will represent the Royal City on the commission is as yet a matter of speculation.

Portland's far-famed roses were never more beautiful or abundant than they are today. They are blooming in riotous luxuriance in the residence sections and the air is literally scented with their perfume.

PRINCE RUPERT TO MONTREAL END 1913

Toronto, June 9.—Asked how soon he expected trains would be running from Montreal to Prince Rupert, President Chamberlin said he believed this would be done in 1913, but it would not be till late in the year. "Everything depends on the labor question," he said. "If, as we hope, we get an adequate supply of labor from now on, we shall get the line through to the coast next year all right. But I may tell you frankly, that labor, especially in British Columbia, is in a general state of unrest, and it is difficult to say what will happen.

"But at any rate we have strong hopes that by the time navigation closes this year we shall be able to ship grain from Western Canada through to Montreal via Cochrane on the Ontario government railway, and the old Canada Atlantic line, which latter belongs to us. The contractors on the Transcontinental railway are hoping to get the line finished from Winnipeg Junction to Cochrane, and if they succeed then trains will be able to run over our own route from Montreal as far as the Rockies."

Alaska's Wild Flowers.

One of the impressions left with the tourist in Alaska is of the luxuriance of the summer verdure, the rich green that suggests an English landscape. This verdure seems strange in a land associated usually with snow-capped mountains and glaciers. The profusion of vari-colored flowers and grasses, the result of from eighteen to twenty hours of sunshine a day, makes this country in summer a surprise and delight.

Everyone who goes to Alaska takes a promenade along the famous Sitka walk, laid out by the Russians years ago, on the shore of Sitka Bay and the beautiful Indian river. It is noteworthy, not alone because good roads are scarce in this country, but also because of its beauty. Those who penetrate this "Lover's Lane," as it is called, are charmed with its delights. Immense and aged fir trees border it, mosses and lichens and wild flowers grow in the shade, and the native berries fringe the pathway. The nature lover is enraptured with the mile and a half of sylvan beauty.

One can understand that such a walk may exist in Sitka, which enjoys warm breezes from the sea to such an extent that the air is always moist. The surprising revelation is to find wild flowers in the interior, in regions where snow and ice predominate for many months of the year. There are acres of forget-me-nots on mountains 6000 feet above sea level, so many of them that they make a carpet of blue. You come across deserted Indian villages where the houses, which are built of rough boards, are aproached through weeds and epilobium so high and so rank that it is necessary to part them overhead in order to penetrate them. Acres of the magneta-hued epilobium lend a bright note to the landscape, and it seems to grow everywhere.

Far up to the north, where the snow lies on the high mountains, are willows, dwarf alders and birches, while below are fir and spruces, some of them hundreds of years old. Under them is verdure clothing the mountain sides so rank and so green that in imagination one is transplanted to tropical climates. This is especially pleasing to the eye after the long, hard winter.

This luxuriance is the result of the long summer days and the fact that for ages the forests have been undisturbed. One log has fallen upon another and decayed, producing a rich vegetable muck, in which almost everything will grow. The richness and softness of the soil, makes Alaskan wood difficult to obtain, and when any large enterprise has been undertaken, as building railroads, the timber for the most part has been shipped from Puget Sound.

The wild flowers in this northern country, along the coast and back toward the Yukon, delight with their beauty and fragrance. Far up near the Seal Islands are immense fields of yellow poppies, and in other sections there are wild geraniums of a bluish tint, yellow moccasin plants, saxifrage and bluebells.

PORTUGAL'S FAILURE.

London, June 9.—That the Portuguese Republic is a dismal failure is tottering to its fall is evident from the present state of the country. Portugal is seething with political corruption, petty tyranny and monarchical conspiracy. Active preparations for a revolt are said to be under way. The Republican government has failed to keep the promises which justified a change from a monarchy.

Instead of reduced taxation the burdens on taxpayers have been practically doubled, with a consequent increase in the cost of living. The revenue thus raised is chiefly spent on establishing a form of military rule. Strong forces of troops are being garrisoned wherever the opposition is even suspected.

Political Corruption.

It is also said a goodly proportion of the money wrung from the people reaches the pockets of certain political leaders, especially members of the Carbonario, a secret society which tyranizes the country districts with an audacity equalling that of the Neapolitan Camorra. The reputed chief of the Carbonario, Alfonso Costa, is a lawyer who openly issues orders to the senators during the sittings. He gets bills passed and dictates the appointment of the cabinet ministers.

Trade Standstill.

Meanwhile trade is at a standstill, apparently awaiting the revolution and the restoration of settled conditions. Everybody in the business world believes the monarchists will win easily. It is reported the royalists are properly equipped with arms, ammunition and field guns, huge quantities of which lie hidden in northern Spain and southern Portugal. They are also reported to possess two monoplanes. Fully 70 per cent of the officers of the Republican troops are said to be prepared to transfer their allegiance to former King Manuel the moment he reappears on the scene.

The annual session meets in Victoria this week and will continue from Monday morning until Thursday night. The Funeral Aid Association meets this forenoon; the Patriarch Militant branch this afternoon, and both will be presided over by Mr. C. S. Keith of New Westminster.

On Tuesday the Grand Encampment meets, presided over by the Grand Patriarch, Mr. E. L. Webber of New Westminster. During Wednesday and Thursday the Grand Lodge meeting will be held and will take up the whole of the two days. Grand Master W. H. Cullin of Victoria, will preside.

Royal City Lodge No. 3 will be represented by Emerson Gilley and E. J. Boughen, and Amity Lodge No. 27 will be represented by Alec Adams and J. W. McDonald. There will also be present from this city T. H. Muir, W. S. Smith and others. D. E. MacKenzie Grand High Priest of the Grand Encampment, will also be in attendance. In the ordinary course of events he will become Grand Patriarch for the ensuing year. Altogether some 125 delegates from all parts of the province will be in attendance.

The Rebekah Assembly of B. C. meets in Victoria at the same time, and Mrs. Evans of Rossland, will preside.

Messrs. Jas. Turvey and E. A. Nelmes of Excelsior Lodge, have been appointed delegates from Chilliwack to attend the session, and Mrs. R. J. McIntosh will represent Ruth Lodge of Rebekahs at the Grand Lodge of that order. The encampment in that city has not been instituted long enough to be entitled to representation at the Grand Encampment, although it is expected that several of the members will attend unofficially.

FISHING REGULATIONS.

In Interest of All to Secure Permanency to "Run."

Seattle, June 9.—Fishing regulation as an international problem has received more than usual attention recently through the joint conference in this city of representatives of the State of Washington and the Province of British Columbia.

Some of the blunt statements made by prominent men from both sides of the border in attendance at the sessions leave no doubt that they feel an imperative need for modification of existing statutes, particularly in the State of Washington.

The attitude of the American committee indicated a feeling among its members that recommendations looking toward substantial reforms should be presented for the consideration of the state legislature at its next session.

There has been indication that the fishing interests will oppose any changes which will restrict the taking of fish.

Particular objection has been voiced to the suggestion that the weekly "close season" shall be forty-eight instead of thirty-six hours in length.

The question of merit in the stand assumed by these interests is all important, because such information will be essential in deciding on the good faith of their arguments and counter-proposals.

On broad principles, there can be no question that the interests of the state and the fishing firms are identical. What harms one inflicts a blow on the other.

It is emphatically to the interest of the state to assure a permanency to the "run" of salmon, even if it be necessary to impose conditions that may work a temporary hardship upon the individual or firm.

While there would be no excuse for saddling unnecessarily heavy burden upon these interests, most emphatically the great issue must be the continuance of one of Washington's most important resources, not only for today, but for many tomorrows as well.

RECRUITS FOR R. N. W. M. P.

Inspector Sails for England to Secure Right Stamp.

Montreal, June 9.—That there is a scarcity of recruits and great difficulty in getting men of the stamp wanted for the Northwest Mounted Police is the statement of Inspector H. C. West, who has been staying in Montreal for a few days, prior to leaving for England on three months' leave of absence.

During his stay in England, Inspector West will recruit actively for the force, more especially in the south, among the stalwart yeoman class. He is a very enthusiastic officer and considers that there is no better force in the world than the Northwest Mounted Police, and he says that when he returns, he will bring back with him many hardy sons of the soil. The inducements to enlist are now very good, he says; a man on enlistment gets 75c a day and on re-engagement, at the end of three years, has his pay raised to $1.00 a day. Together with board, clothing and lodging, he considers that a policeman's pay is worth over $65.00 a month. Another attraction is that the compulsory period of service has been changed from five to three years. The life of a Northwest Mounted man, he avers, is a grand one, and very attractive. When on police escort or police court work a policeman gets extra duty pay, and for serving summons' and executing warrants he gets certain court fees.

Of the Peace River district, in which he was the first officer of the police force stationed, Inspector West speaks very enthusiastically, and considers it a grand country and when the transportation facilities are better he sees a great future for the district. He says that it is a splendid mixed farming country, and the big lakes there are literally teeming with good marketable fish. The mineral wealth, too, is great, consisting principally of coal, copper, asphalt and gypsum, but as the country has hardly yet been prospected, it can hardly be said how great the wealth really is.

Inspector West is a native of Plymouth, England, and, although he does not practice medicine, is a qualified doctor, having passed through Guy's Hospital, London. He has 24 years' service in the force, seven of which he spent in the Peace River district, and is now stationed at Lethbridge, Alta.

FENIAN VETERAN SAYS CLAIMS NOT UNDUE

Ottawa, June 9.—A local Fenian Raid veteran objects to the statement that only 10,000 men saw actual service in the Fenian Raids. Quoting from a history of the trouble written by Capt. J. A. McDonald, of the 4th Ottawa and Carleton County Rifles, this veteran states that on March 7, 1866, some 14,000 men were enrolled but that nearly all were relieved from duty on March 31. On June 2, 1866, they were called out again, this time over 20,000 strong.

In 1870 some 6000 were called out and as very many new men responded each time it is estimated that the number who participated in the various turnouts totalled about 25,000.

The claim, therefore, that 19,000 seek pensions but that only about 6,500 are entitled thereto has no substantial basis. Giving the number of dead as one-third it is not improbable that 17,000 are entitled to the government grant.

WAKE UP, CANADA!

Other Dominions Outstrip Us in Butter Exports.

Ottawa, June 9.—That Canada during the past ten years has lagged far behind Australia and New Zealand in exporting butter to Great Britain, is shown by comparative figures prepared by the Department of Trade and Commerce. Since 1902, when Canada sent 285 765 cwt., the exports have steadily declined—except in 1905—until last year they amounted only to 61,936 cwt. Australian butter exports in the same period increased from 80,297 to 874,399 cwt., and New Zealand from 157,993 to 276,446 cwt.

Canadian cheese exports have also declined, while New Zealand exports have increased. Australia sent comparatively little in this period. There have been, says the departmental report, good causes for Canada's decrease in exports of butter to the United Kingdom.

Unlimited Possibilities of Parker's Process For Making Matches

A HOME INDUSTRY

Search the world of invention from A to Z and you will find that every labor-saving device has been instantly accepted by the business public, while the corporations owning and manufacturing commodities with these patented devices have always been a success, and the men who have been financed and the people who have invested their money in the shares of the company have made fortunes.

DO YOU GRASP WHAT WE MEAN?

Can you see the great enormous possibilities the Dominion Match Co., Ltd., of New Westminster, have, by using the "Parker Continuous Process" in the making of matches? Do you realize what a saving of over 50 per cent means in the cost of making matches? Do you realize that by "Parker's Continuous Process" it will make obsolete and supersede the machinery that is now used?

Do you know that it only takes about 60 people to make a carload of matches with "Parker's Continuous Process," and that it takes about 300 people to make a carload of matches with the method and machinery now used by other match manufacturers?

Don't you see plainly what it means to the stockholders of the Dominion Match Co., Ltd.? Cannot you understand that the more you save in the making of a commodity the larger the dividends? Do you know that the Dominion Match Co., Ltd., owns the patents for making matches by "Parker's Continuous Process?

Just as water seeks its level, so does every labor-saving invention replace a slower, more costly and less effectual system. "Parker's Continuous Process" will revolutionize the match industry of the world.

"Parker's Continuous Process" for making matches will gradually supercede the other methods of making matches, and if you have the foresight to see into the future, you will invest in the shares of the Dominion Match Co., Ltd., of New Westminster, B. C. You will then be one of those who will share in the great reward by the increased valuation of the stock and the dividends that are bound to come.

KING AND RESERVE.

On Saturday evening thirty thousand men of the National Reserve were reviewed in London by His Majesty, while all over the British Isles those who have takes up this movement gathered in similar style to celebrate the fact that the National Reserve has now become firmly established in the life of the nation.

Thirty thousand men in three years is an enviable record, and the editor of the Spectator, who initiated the move, must have been a proud man indeed as he saw the result of his dreams sweep past the saluting base. Rank on rank they came, sailors, soldiers and volunteers, an "old brigade" indeed. Hyde Park has been the scene of many notable military gatherings, and at many of these there have been present old service men in their civilian dress, to whom special prominence has been accorded in order to meet the wishes of the nation that they have served, and which in turn thus delights to honor them.

Those old service men now have an organization of their own. They compose the National Reserve, not an "army reserve" or a "national guard" as the movement has been miscalled.

In Westminster today the first branch of what may well become the Canadian National Reserve is steadily approaching the hundred mark. Just as the county of Surrey holds the premier place in the home movement, so Westminster city and district occupies a similar position on this side of the water. The men are here in Canada, their spirit is the same, and the time may not be far distant when thirty thousand service men who call Canada their home shall remind the world that we too are of the blood.

BYLAWS AND HAY.

There are not many poets in Westminster, even if the annual crop of the spring variety be included, and by the same token there are but few who care to brush through the dewy grass on Albert Crescent as the sun paints his daily but ever new picture on the background of the far-off mountains. No, this is the age of utility, the era of the builder. Later on we shall have time for the frills.

Meanwhile many people think that the builders should get busy with the frills of Albert Crescent, those frills of clover, of cocksfoot, of dandelions, that now wave in luxurious growth of hay around the statue of the great explorer. If the attitude of the devotees of amateur sport in the city be considered also, there can be no doubt that a very large section of the citizens desire to see our parks and open spaces utilized to the very best advantage.

Building takes time, but in the course of this present month a bylaw will be laid before the people to enable this very work to be carried into effect. With the feeling now abroad in the city, this move will certainly meet with hearty approval, and we have no hesitation in saying that the master builders will then do their part, and our parks will be improved.

Mayor Lee has told us of the admiration which Sir William Mackenzie voiced for the beautiful homes which he saw on his short excursion around the city. Parks and open spaces stand in exactly the same relation to the city as a whole as do lawns and flower beds to our private houses. We individually take pride in keeping trim the latter; it is a point of honor with the city to take due care of the former.

At present there is no spot in Westminster where visitors or citizens may find comfortable seats in an open space where they may take their leisure and at the same time gaze on the animated spectacle of the great river, its matchless setting, and the humming lines of traffic near at hand. Such a location as is Albert Crescent could without tremendous outlay be transformed into a place of this nature.

Nothing can be done without expenditure. The city council recognizes the need of improving the parks, but it must have the money to turn its aims into actualities. The bylaw is coming, it now rests with the people to do their share.

New Westminster is to hold her annual outing and a committee of citizens will choose between the rival charms of Nanaimo, Chilliwack, Bellingham and Victoria. Modesty forbids our anticipating their ultimate selection. The Progress Club can be trusted to make them welcome.—Nanaimo Free Press.

CAPTAIN VANCOUVER.

Some misunderstanding seems to have occurred through the general impression that Captain Vancouver landed at Clover Point to fill the water barrels during his celebrated voyage, says a Victoria writer. This suggestion is upset on reference to his journals. In connection with the preservation of this site when the Dominion government abandons the range, it has been urged that the spot is one of the most historical in Victoria, a place where landed the great navigator when he sailed around the island which bears his name.

The plan which accompanies "A Voyage of Discovery Round the World" bears out the journals that the explorers approached but did not enter the inlet of San Juan, and keeping to the southern shore near Port Townsend, there anchored. They came along the Washington coast to the entrance to Puget Sound, and from there gradually worked along the shore line between Vancouver Island and the Mainland. The plan shows a dotted line along the southern fringe of Vancouver Island, and no point marked between San Juan Inlet and the Point of St. Gonzalo, now Gonzales Point, so that there is no evidence that any party from the "Chatham" or "Discovery" ever landed on the Victoria side of the Straits of Juan de Fuca.

The legend, as picturesque as the story of the Siwash Rock in Stanley Park, or the White Rock in Boundary Bay, which gives its name to the poplar summer resort near Blaine, cannot have any support in fact, although it detracts nothing from the beauty of the spot which the city council is to try to secure from the department of militia, when Col. Hughes next visits the coast on his inspection trip.

A movement is on foot in Vancouver at the present time to erect a statue at the entrance of Burrard Inlet to the memory of the great navigator whose name has been given to the leading city in the province, and even if his feet never trod the terraced beach of Clover Point his association with the island is such that the principal city should have some other permanent and public memorial here than the portraits in the board of trade rooms and in the parliament buildings. The Simon Fraser monument at New Westminster supplies a model in connection with the commemoration of the work which might well be imitated.

PORTUGUESE PLOTS.

Paris, June 9.—An almost superhuman effort is being made here by Prince Miguel, Duke de Braganza and father-in-law of the Duchess de Vizeu, who was Anita Stewart, to raise a large amount of money for the royalist cause in Portugal.

The story that in what is known as the Dover contract, Prince Miguel had resigned his claim to the throne in favor of the former King Manuel, is not true. The Dover agreement was in effect that the republic should be abolished at any cost, and whoever of the two pretenders succeeded first should let the other alone. If Manuel got back to the throne before Miguel, the latter would accept the situation and forego active "pretending," but if Miguel succeeded in restoring the monarchy and establishing himself as ruler, then Manuel would rest content with private life.

Where Money Came From.

Another fact which this quest for money brings out is that the Duchess Anita Stewart Vizeu's money was liberally spent in the royalist cause until her trustees in America refused to put up any more funds. The sudden stoppage threatened to wreck the cause of the Braganza royalists and undo all that had been done, and hence the supreme effort now being made to carry the plot to a successful conclusion as long as American money has put it well under way.

Various securities are offered which include shares of Parr's Bank in London. As there are not enough solid shares to guarantee the big loan asked, several royalist ladies are pledging their precious jewels, and others again in such high standing as to have their personal notes accepted, are signing for liberal donations.

Titles Bartered for Money.

One of these is the Princess Marie Josephine, Princess de Braganza, Infanta of Portugal widow of the late Prince Charles Theodore of Bavaria and mother of Queen Elizabeth of Belgium.

Titles varying from duke to baron are also being promised to wealthy commoners as an inducement to support Prince Miguel's cause. It is certain that Mrs. James Henry Smith would have been made a duchess if the supplies from that source had not stopped, and even under existing circumstances she has well founded claims to preference should the De Braganza cause succeed.

It is learned from the most trustworthy authority that the Morgan-Harjes banking firm has accepted a proposition to make a loan on principle and has cabled to New York for further instructions.

While these eventful happenings are being fostered in Paris by Don Miguel, King Manuel has just smashed the Portuguese Republican club at Lausanne-Ovhy. Traveling incognito as the Count Dourenne, he visited the club, with the result that all the members seceded and went over to the royalist party.

Anthony Drexel has been very close to the dethroned king lately, and it is said that he will be made a duke of the kingdom of Portugal should Manuel succeed in regaining his throne.

CANADIAN TRIALS FOR OLYMPIAD

Gallon, British Columbia, Wins 400 Metres—Pick of Six Provinces Present.

Montreal, June 9.—British Columbia, Alberta, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Ontario and Quebec were represented by the pick of their athletes at the Canadian Olympic trials which were held on the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association's grounds yesterday afternoon. The only member of the track and field team to go to Sweden who was not seen in action was George Goulding, the sensational walker, with a string of world's records to his name. Goulding apparently is suffering a bit from over-training, and it has been thought advisable to let him rest up until the evening of the big games in the Stockholm stadium.

Of the men competing several took part in the British Olympic games in 1908, while others represented the Dominion at the Festival of the Empire sports. The events resulted as follows:

Million for Sarnia.

Port Huron, Mich., June 9.—The Standard Oil Company is spending $1,000,00 in improvements and the erection of new buildings for its imperial oil refinery in Sarnia, Ont., directly opposite Port Huron. New offices are being built and a large acreage has been purchased for future building.

The statement is made that the Standard Oil company may centralize its American and Canadian interests in Sarnia, in order to escape the laws of the United States, which, under the recent supreme court decision, order the company to be divided into 23 subsidiary companies.

There are now 800 men at work in Sarnia at the plant of the Imperial oil refinery. The vessels owned by the company are carrying vast quantities of oil to the northwest.

Wireless for Petawawa.

Ottawa, June 9.—The Department of Militia and Defence will establish a wireless telegraph station at Petawawa, with a range of 30 miles. A corps of operators is being organized. The station will be in operation this summer, and other stations will in time be established at other military camps.

PAPERS AND PEOPLE.

Eastern Editor Gives Views on Modern Press Work.

Mr. Macomber, editor of the Hartford Globe, in a recent causerie on modern press work, has many things to tell which probably are fresh to the outsiders.

Amongst other hard nuts for some folks to crack is the statement that reporting, far from being inaccurate is, as he points out, far too accurate for the comfort of many public men.

Naked Truth.

Reporters have an uncomfortable habit of stating what a man actually said, not what he thought or wanted to say. Someone has truthfully said that a public speech has three phases, (a) what the speaker thinks he will say (b) what he actually says, (c) and what he wishes he had said. Once a public man sees an interview of speech in cold type he immediately discovers things he intended to say or ought to have said, and presto, the reporter is a "liar," a "bungler" and a "knifer of reputation." He is nothing but a plain reporter, not known to anysave his editor and a few public men, so it is safe to kick him.

Suppression of News.

Mr. Macomber, the editor in question has kept a notebook for one year of the news he has suppressed. Out of five requests received during the year for suppression of news two were from advertisers and were refused, and in one case the advertiser left the paper as a result. The third was a request by a prominent business man, a non-advertiser, that the arrest of his son for drunkenness be suppressed. The request was granted, as well as the request from a sixteen-year-old girl that the arrest of her father be suppressed and from another girl who had been the innocent victim of a mock marriage. This latter request was also granted.

Inaccurate Public.

"The newspapers are made by the people," said Mr. Macomber, "because the great body of news is obtained from the people. The reporter turns in what he learns from many sources. It is not what he thinks, and very seldom what he sees. If news papers are inaccurate, the source is inaccurate. Newspapers, as a rule, are of higher intelligence and more accurate than the average public."

SALMON BELLIES ARE TRIUMPHANT

Superior Play Entirely Responsible for Victory--Con Jones' Aggregation Soundly Trounced--Turnbull Brothers Make Record Scoring---Cleanest Game Seen In Years.

Stinging from their defeat in Vancouver, when the Green Shirts beat them in a demoralizing game, the famous Salmon Bellies soundly trounced Con Jones' aggregation of imported stars by 7 goals to 2, on the Queen's Park oval Saturday afternoon. The local boys were out to win, they wanted to show the crowd that lacrosse as played in the coast league a year ago has not waned, and the way they bored into the Vancouver bunch in the last quarter was a sight to behold.

The victory on Saturday was even more emphatic than the one gained by the Vancouver team a week previous, as on that occasion, the whole of the local team went to pieces in the first quarter, and never regained their equilibrium. On Saturday, however, their attacks were met with a sturdy defence, the green shirts had their wits about them, and it was entirely owing to superior playing that the game was won for the ex-champions. Never was a finish more exciting from a spectator's viewpoint, and not since the defeat of reciprocity has anything been pulled off to equal the achievement of our peerless athletes in Saturday's game. To bow the proud head of the burg adjoining Stanley Park to the moist dust, is as pleasing to our fellow citizens in the Royal City, as a suspended sentence to a regular offender in the halls of justice.

The size of the crowd that dotted the grandstand and bleachers around the oval was not of the best early in the afternoon, but during the preliminary scrap between Sapperton and the East End Juniors, another string of B. C. E. R. cars here to and made a fairly respectable showing. Even that certain raiser was some game. Both teams were out for blood, and at one stage of the proceedings, players, officials et al., were mixed in one glorious free-for-all in the centre of the arena. It is said to have ended in favor of the Sappertons by 4 to 2 goals.

The Game Begins.

The Green Shirts came on the field with a reorganized line-up. George Matheson gave way to Sibby Nichol, "Dot" Phelan went in place of McDougal, while Bones Allen deputised for Lalonde. The latter watched the game from the training bench. Manager Gray was evidently satisfied with the line-up of last week's game and made no changes whatever. At exactly fifteen minutes after 3 o'clock Referee Reynolds faced off the ball and the battle was on. After a few end to end plays, Nichols got tagged for swiping Tom Rennie, and in a mix-up in front of goal, McGregor got one past Clarke for the first blood, after three minutes of play. This little setback did not effect the local team one bit, and after a little skirmishing in front of the Vancouver goal, big Bill Turnbull smashed the rubber into the net, thus equalizing the score. Another rush by the Salmon Bellies a few minutes later found an opening for Len Turnbull and he was there with the goods. Toward the end of the quarter, Ernie Murray eluded his check in time to make the score two all. This ended the scoring for a time at least.

Second Quarter.

This was probably the slowest period that one might wish to see in a lacrosse game. The previous quarter had apparently told on the speed of both teams and except for a few dashes on the part of both sides, play was of a listless character. Bill Turnbull got five minutes for rough work on Ion, and a minute later George Rennie created a laugh by tripping McGregor in sight of everyone. George partnered Turnbull on the bench. With the two odd men, Vancouver made deperate efforts to bore in, but found the local defence solid. Nick Carter, the star of the two previous games, found his master in Jimmy Gifford and was bottled up completely. The second quarter ended with the teams still tied.

Third Quarter.

Hughie Gifford made a brilliant attempt to go in, and failing this, swung round the net and attempted to put the rubber through from the top of the net. It was a dangerous move and well earned the plaudits of the crowd, even though it was fruitless. Mickey Ion was playing a dirty game at this stage, and had no sooner taken the field from one enforced rest than he got tagged for a second offence. Harry West joined him for holding Len Turnbull when the latter appeared certain to score.

Fourth Quarter.

No scores having been made in the two previous quarters, the crowd naturally expected something to happen. They were right in their conjecture for 25 seconds from the face off Grumpy Spring put his team ahead with a low shot that jumped the strings. Encouraged by the crowd, the Salmon Bellies began to hold the ball at their will, bombarding their opponents' goal at all angles. This could not keep up very long without results, and on a quick pass from Grump Spring, Len Turnbull ended the agony with one of the low underhand shots with which he specialises. The Vancouver defence were losing their heads about this time, Griffiths being sent off for slashing Grumpy Spring, while Mickey Ion followed him with a ten-minute check, when he tried to chop down Punk Wintemute. Bill Turnbull was playing a whale of a game and slammed in a fifth at short range.

Griffiths again took the field but his seat on the bench had hardly cooled off before he was sent off for the rest of the game for trying to put Grumpy Spring out of commission.

Griff was boiling with rage when he came back, and it was only by forcible measures on the part of Con Jones and Harry Cowan that he was prevented from starting a rough house with some of the spectators in the stands. Vancouver made one sporadic attempt at the last stage of the game, Nick Carter hitting Tom Gifford on the cranium with a fast shot. Bill Turnbull and Grumpy Spring put through two more goals, making their opponents' humiliation complete.

In the last spasm Hughie Gifford and Tom Rennie both incurred penalties, but their absence was unnoticed as their team was holding the ball at will.

BETWEEN THE FLAGS.

It was the cleanest game seen in some years. Not a second was lost during the entire 80 minutes on account of injuries.

The fans are now guessing what measure Mickey Ion will get in the matter of fines. His work on the field was dserving of heavier penalties than those he got.

This talk of Vancouver players receiving injuries pales into insignificance at the stuff that was handed Doey and Spring. It looked as if the Green Shirts were cut to get these two players, and they came near to being successful.

Fred Lynch acted the part of a volunteer fireman during one of the intervals. Fire broke out under the press stand, but Fred was there with a water pail before much damage was done. Who knows but what it was a Beaver?

The coon band added interest to the great event. Manager Gillis hired a buzz wagon to cart the musicians to and from the park.

"Alexander's Rag Time Band" caught the crowd.

The home players were instructed to "crowd 'em." They did it with a vengeance.

The play of the local boys was just great. Every man checked his man at the right moment. Keep up the good work.

And Grumpy Spring is no slouch when it comes to boring in.

Five goals out of seven for the Turnbull brothers is sure some record. Both were in the middle of every rush and thoroughly deserve credit.

At one stage of the game it looked as if the referees were inflicted with the hook worm. They might have moved faster.

The smiling faces of the old-timers who wouldn't miss a game on a bet, reminded one of the cartoonist depicting "Them was the happy days."

Hess was there with the horse shoes, but he has to take second place to Clark. It's a treat to see Bun pick off the hot stuff.

Matt Barr with the big megaphone was an unheard of quantity. It must have been galling for Con and Matt to be seated the rope bars, and the best thing about it, they had to stay there, too.

Before the mortality returns are recorded, a vote of thanks should be passed unanimously to the weather artist, whose work was class A. A. III at Lloyds. Who said Captain Peele?

In addition to the classic features of Mr. Con Jones, the hostile forces included Mr. E. Lalonde. Known throughout the Dominion as the $5500 beauty. Mr. Jones wore an expensive straw hat, with a green band, an entire suit of light flannels, and had every appearance of coming from the tropics. After the game his condition denoted the fact that he was perspiring greatly.

HEARD ON THE GRANDSTAND.

Why did those minstrels wear Vancouver colors?

If you can't get through, climb over. Netting's cheap.

Under-drawers are not good form; neither is dirty play.

Nothing like the hat trick to wind up with. Did you say two more?

Play the game, and don't waste time for your men to come back.

Well done, referee!

DON'T PULL OUT THE GRAY HAIRS

A Few Applications of a Simple Remedy Will Bring Back the Natural Color.

"Pull out one gray hair and a dozen will take its place" is an old saying, which is, to a great extent, true, if no steps are taken to stop the cause. When gray hairs appear it is a sign that Nature needs assistance. It is Nature's call for help. Gray hair, dull, lifeless hair, or hair that is falling out, is not necessarily a sign of advancing age, for there are thousands of elderly people with perfect heads of hair without a single streak of gray.

When gray hairs come, or when the hair seems to be lifeless or dead, some good, reliable hair-restoring treatment should be resorted to at once. Specialists say that one of the best preparations to use is the old-fashioned "sage tea" which our grandparents used. The best preparation of this kind is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of domestic sage and sulphur, scientifically compounded with later discovered hair tonics and stimulants, the whole mixture being carefully balanced and tested by experts.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is clean and wholesome and perfectly harmless. It refreshes dry, parched hair, removes dandruff and gradually restores faded or gray hair to its natural color.

Don't delay another minute. Start using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur at once and see what a difference a few days' treatment will make in your hair.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

How to Sow Your Flower Seed.

After the soil is made ready and smoothed over and made firm the sowing is done. This operation varies according to the size of the seed. The finest seed may be sown broadcast, tearing off a corner of the envelope which holds it and letting the tiny grains fall gently and evenly through the opening.

Another way is to pour the contents of the envelope into the palm of the left hand and with the thumb and two fingers of the right take a pinch of seed and scatter it. The hands, of course, must be quite dry, otherwise the seed will stick to them.

After sowing sift a little fine soil on top and press it down. Another way is to make shallow rows and sprinkle the seeds in either one of the two ways mentioned, then sift the soil on top and press down.

Very large seeds, such as the nasturtium and morning glory, it is easier to place in the trench one by one about two inches apart.

After the seed is sown an excellent idea is to lay a cotton cloth on the bed and wet it well with a watering can. The cloth keeps the ground moist and the soil is not washed out at all by the sprinkling. Until the seeds begin to come through all the watering is done through the cloth.

An ingenious woman, with the imperative need for remodeling her picture hat in mind, paused before a display of imported headgear and, with wistful eyes, took in the detail of one fascinating black and white "creation" which was trimmed with heavy white silk ribbon, woven with very narrow black velvet stripes. Anything even approaching the quality of that ribbon or giving the handsome effect of it would be quite beyond the small amount which she would be able to spend on the renovating, but an idea came to her as she stood there, and when she returned home she put it into swift execution. In her box of wide ribbon for girdles and sashes was some of heavy white silk, and among her stores she had laid aside several bunches of the narrowest black velvet ribbon, once used for little collar "dangles," but still in perfectly good condition, needing only to be passed—pile upward—across a fairly warm flatiron.

This velvet ribbon she stitched in exact, even rows along the heavy white silk sash ribbon selected for the purpose, and the desired trimming for a very up to date and most becoming chapeau was hers without any expenditure whatever.

Cotton For Seasickness.

"Apropos of the approaching season of ocean voyages," remarked a suburban physician who goes abroad every summer, "I am reminded of a pretty girl I met one evening on the deck of a liner. I noted that she had cotton in her ears and took the liberty of asking if her hearing was affected.

"'No,' said she, with a smile; 'I have cotton in my ears because I don't want to get seasick.'

"That was new to me, so I asked her where she obtained the idea.

"'Last season,' she explained, 'on our way across there were a number of deaf mutes on board. Not one of them was seasick on the entire trip. That gave me a thought. I stuffed my ears with cotton, and I did not have a qualm all the way over. Before I tried that experiment I was seasick every day. I was told that the stomach nerves and the nerves of the hearing are in sympathy.'

"And they are," said the doctor. "That cotton batting remedy for mal de mer is efficacious, I know, for I tried it."

Don'ts for Daughters.

Don't fail to take an interest in mother's affairs.

Don't let her feel that she is growing old and of less importance than she used to be.

Don't hurt her by scoffing at her religious principles if they happen to be different from your own.

Don't forget that no matter how much you may do for her you will never be able to repay her for all that she has done for you.

Don't neglect to talk to her about your work, your studies, your friends your amusements, the books you read; remember everything that concerns you is of interest to her.

Don't fail to bring her flowers or a small present once in a while; the thought even more than the gift will please her.

Remember that her life is, perhaps, monotonous compared to yours; take her for outings or to places of amusement as frequently as possible.

The News Expanding.

The Westminster Daily News is now owned by the National Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., of New Westminster, B.C. This is a company composed entirely of New Westminster men whose desire is to improve the paper and make it a publication worthy of the Royal City. A considerable increase to the publishing plant is necessary to attain the improvements aimed at, and which will entail an increased expenditure of capital. The company proposes to raise the sum of $20,000; and already much of this has been subscribed in shares of $100 each. The business men of the city are showing a keen interest in the movement to improve New Westminster's one morning paper. Those who have not already subscribed are recommended to take an interest in the new organization. Terms of payment on stock will be arranged to suit you. The Westminster Daily News will be a non-political organ and will be run on independent lines. Mr. James R. Duncan, the secretary of the company, will be glad to give fuller details as to what is to be done. Ring him up on Phone 999 or 669, and he will call on you. **

Try the Taste Test On Mooney's Sugar Wafers

Forget for a moment that Mooney's Sugar Wafers are made in the finest sunlit sanitary factory in the country. The Dessert Shipped In Private Cars

That's the way the delicious flavor of Mooney's Sugar Wafers is preserved from the ovens to your table. It's expensive for us—but better for the Sugar Wafers.

CITY NEWS

Mr. Turner, assistant engineer of the department of public works here, went down stream on Friday. He will take charge of a topographical survey party at the harbor mouth.

See the typewriter display at Lee's Ltd. You are sure to find what will suit you. Prices are reasonable. **

A former Columbian College student, Mr. G. Dean Maxwell, has received notification that he has passed in the first year science course in Toronto University at which he is studying.

You would do well to call and see the new styles of Mission furniture at the Walsh Sash & Door Co. **

Mr. William Anderson, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., who has been absent some time in Winnipeg attending the Canadian convention held by the association at that place, returned to the city on Saturday.

The ever threatening and seemingly omniprescent fire demon is keeping the blue coated human fire extinguishers busy these days. Saturday's fire at the B. C. Electric car shops was the fifteenth call within a month.

Reward of $100 will be given to any one who can make better doors than the Walsh Sash & Door Co. **

The rush is on. Mail orders now received for "The Spring Maid," playing at the Westminster opera house Monday, June 17. Address your letters Harry Tidy, 739 Columbia street. Patronize home industries. **

The D and I's and the D and D's being conspicuous by their absence, and no other offenders against the law having been captured by the watchful guardians of the peace, there was no sitting of the police court on Saturday morning.

If you do not buy your sash and doors at the Walsh Sash & Door Co. we both lose money. **

The Spring Maid, which has had a phenomenal success all over the continent, will be shown here a week from tonight. Stacks of mail orders have already arrived at Mr. Tidy's, and the regular seat sale will open at his store on Wednesday morning.

Gossip along the waterfront has it that the government dredge Fruhling which is shortly to undergo her annual repair process, will also have a complete set of oil burning furnaces installed similar to those now in use in some of the C. P. R. lines.

Found at the Walsh Sash & Door Co., on Fourteenth street, everything in the line of sash and doors. **

Dr. Hatherly received painful injuries yesterday noon while riding a horse on Columbia street. In some manner the animal fell, coming down on the doctor's ankle. It is not known whether the bone is smashed or not.

Five citizens whose inebriated condition betokened bibulations innumerable in celebration of Westminster's great lacrosse victory were gathered in by the net of the police on Saturday afternoon and evening. They will appear before the court this morning to answer to the charge of D. and I.

Mr. A. Kothel was elected by the cigarmakers at their regular union meeting last week to be a delegate to the international convention of cigarmakers to be held at Baltimore, Md., on September 17. Pat Feeney, the well known lacrosse player, was elected as the alternate delegate.

How about your garden? Ring up phone L184 and get Tidy, the florist, to quote you prices on the best stock that is grown in the country. They make a specialty of hanging baskets and window boxes. **

Some sign writer in the old country has a poor conception of what part the Royal City plays on the lower peninsula of this province. A recent arrival of switches to the local electric company bears tag written thus: "British Columbia Electric company, Columbia and Begbie streets, near Westminster, Vancouver, B.C." There is still room for empire geography in the schools.

Over in Coquitlam plans are being made for a reception to be extended to Mr. F. D. Monk, minister of public works for the Dominion, who expects to make a tour of British Columbia in the near future. At this reception it is intended to put the plans for Coquitlam's harbor improvements before the minister and his distinguished fellow travelers whom it is understood will also be members of the cabinet.

Have you seen the new front door just out at the Walsh Sash & Door Co.? **

The remains of the late Mr. Lawrence Reid were laid to rest on Saturday morning in the Catholic cemetery, the Rev. Father O'Boyle officiating at the service which was held in the church. The many floral tokens sent by friends and relatives betokened respect and love for the memory of the deceased. Messrs. J. B. Humphreys, T. Sweeny, T. Turner, G. Ettinger, A. L. Lavery and R. Dines were the pall bearers.

With the arrival of several shipments of large salmon at the wharves or brought into cold storage during the week, local piscatoral experts are once more beginning to dig up their time worn yarns of former exploits. On Friday two steelhead salmon weighing 47 pounds were brought in, while on Saturday another couple which tipped the scales at 65 pounds were landed. Rumor has it that a Japanese fisherman caught one yesterday which weighed well over the three score mark.

The pulpit of the Sixth Avenue Methodist church was occupied yesterday by Rev. Norman Wolfendale. The new pastor, Rev. W. A. C. Crux, is understood to be on his way here from the East.

Dr. J. A. J. McKenna, of the Dominion Indian department, paid a short visit to Westminster on Saturday for the purpose of devising some method of adjustment for the matters now in dispute between the two governments concerning the Indian reserves at Westminster, Kitsilano and North Vancouver. The conference in this regard will take place at Victoria during the coming week.

At the home of Mrs. T. J. Trapp on Friday evening a privileged few had the pleasure of listening to a private recital given by the embryo pianistes of Miss Villa Hall's class, and the talented young violinists who have been under the tuition of Miss Florence Bond for the past few months. The work of the young musicians gave ample evidence of the careful training showing a certain individuality of expression underlying a sound basis of technique which to say the least was flattering to their instructresses. The accompanist, Miss Eleanor Postill, played with remarkable versatility.

Miss A. M. Fraser and Mr. A. M. Insley, both members of the staff of H. Morey & Co., South Westminster, were united in marriage at St. Helen's church on Tuesday last by the Rev. C. J. Leonard. Quite happily for all it was the first wedding ever held beneath the roof of St. Helen's, and in honor of the occasion the church bells both welcomed the bridal party, and sped the united couple on their way. Mr. A. L. Ballard, and Miss Margaret Turnbull acted as groomsman and bridesmaid respectively. Mr. H. Morey, uncle of the groom, officiated at the organ.

The funeral of the late Mr. Russell Simpson of this city took place from St. Paul's church, Nanaimo, on Saturday, the Rev. Cannon White officiating. The deceased was a native of Belleville, Ontario, and had been a resident of New Westminster for the past 17 years. He was the only son of Mr. J. H. Simpson, of Nanaimo, and was well known. Mr. Simpson's death is regretted by a host of friends in Nanaimo and Ladysmith, being prominently connected with rugby and soccer football teams, and being for several years a member of the "Hornets."

Using Dynamite.

Bush fires which have been raging for several weeks in the vicinity of Coquitlam lake, causing considerable damage to standing timber, are now practically under control by the several gangs of volunteer fire fighters who have been enlisted to block their devastating path. At the present time only one fire is causing the watchers any uneasiness and it is burning at the head of the lake where the thick underbrush makes effective work practically impossible. Gangs of men enlisted from the employees of the Vancouver Power company and the No. 1 lake clearing gang are confident of extinguishing this fire within the next few days, having resorted to dynamite in clearing a space in the forest where the flames may proceed no further.

Visitors Pleased.

Having come to Westminster in connection with vested interests which they have in Port Mann, Mr. T. B. Hooper and Mr. C. F. Miller, both of Regina, are staying at the Hotel Russell. These magnates of the middle west are very optimistic concerning the future of Westminster, and while they consider their own home city one of the soundest in Canada, it is their belief that with the opening of the Panama canal and the harbor improvements along the coast to meet the increased commerce which must necessarily follow, Westminster will come to its own.

American Athletes Do Well in Harvard Stadium.

Cambridge, Mass., June 9.—The American team to the sixth Olympiad of modern times at Stockholm, will be materially strengthened by the eighteen eastern athletes, who were winners today in the Harvard Stadium, where three world's records were established in the 1500 and 10,000 metre runs and the pole vault, the 100 metre dash was equalled and the winners of the 800 metre and several of the field events seemed capable of more extended efforts.

The first record to fall was in the 1500-metre run, which A. R. Kiviat of the Irish Athletic Club won in three minutes, 55 4-5 seconds, missing the world's record by only one-fifth of a second.

One hour later Berns, Cornell's two-miler, came within two seconds of the record in the five thousand metre run.

J. Kramer of the Long Island Athletic Club, in the 10,000-metre run, cut the world's record to 31 minutes, 43 3-5 seconds.
