HAZELTON'S BIG POLITICAL MEETING FOR WM. MANSON

Conservative Candidate Delivered a Most Excellent Address and Made a Powerful Reply to His Critics—All the Candidates Present or Represented

On Wednesday night Wm. Manson proved himself the man of the hour, and the fit and proper person to represent Skeena District in the Legislature. It was the greatest gathering in the history of the old town, and the Conservative candidate has received congratulations on all sides, and assurances of loyal support from all parties.

Upon his return from a trip to Telkwa and Aldermere, in company with Jas. Scott, of Prince Rupert, Wm. Manson held a meeting in the Assembly Hall here on Wednesday night. The hall was crowded to its utmost capacity, in spite of the fact that many additional benches had been put in. The Conservative candidate is always a big drawing card in Hazelton.

Besides Mr. Manson the other three candidates were either present or represented, and the program of speeches provided a splendid evenings entertainment. The speeches of the opposition were confined almost wholly to light criticisms, emphasized with dramatic and comic poses and motions. In short, it was nothing more or less than the Ins v. the Outs. Mr. Manson delivered a splendid address in defence of the Government and the work it had accomplished and the program that is now before the people and in reply to the other speakers he surpassed himself and put his critics in the shade.

The meeting was somewhat late in starting and Wm. Manson was the first speaker. An invitation was extended to all the candidates or their representatives to sit on the platform. They were also allowed time to air their views. The Conservative candidate occupied a little over an hour in an able address in support of the Government. He took up the railway policy which was first launched three years ago and is now being extended, and along the same lines.

Fire Bugs at Nelson

(Special to the Herald)

Nelson, March 21.—Firebugs are at work here again. There has been three fires here this week The one last night was undoubtedly an incendiary blaze and it gutted the Yale Company's Sawmills. The loss was $80,000, but it is covered by insurance. As a result a hundred men will loose a season's work. The company has many million feet of logs ready to cut if they rebuild the mill. Two hours before the sawmill fire a blaze was discovered in Brackman Ker's warehouse, but little damage was done, except to the oats which were damaged by water, and a C.P.R. box car on the track was burned.

Britain Supreme

(Special to the Herald)

London, March 21.—Winston Churchill almost caused a panic in the Commons on Monday during his speech on the naval program. He stated that Britain had determined to outstrip Germany in the construction of warships. This has also caused a sensation in Berlin and the German press is wild and the stock exchange was excited.

Minimum Wage Bill

(Special to the Herald)

London, March 21.—Asquith's minimum wage bill has been introduced into the commons and will receive its third reading today. It is expected that the Lords will pass it on Saturday and that it will receive the Royal assent at once. It provides a minimum wage for the miners and affords protection to the mine owners.

Westminster Champions

(Special to the Herald)

Vancouver, March 21.—New Westminster won the Pacific Coast Hockey League championship by defeating Vancouver last night by seven goals to five. The standing is as follows: Westminster nine; Vancouver seven; Victoria seven.

TWO DESPERADOES SHOT CONSTABLE

Held Up a Store and While Being Taken to Prison Overpowered Their Captor

(Special to the Herald)

Vancouver, Mar. 21.—Two desperadoes, after holding up a store in Bellevue, South Kelowna, on Saturday succeeded in getting away with seven dollars, but were soon captured by Provincial Constable Ashton who followed them to Penticton which place the robbers made on a raft and then on to Vernon where they were captured in the British Columbia Saloon.

After securing his prisoners the constable took them on board the steamer Okanagan, where he locked them in a stateroom. In the stateroom the constable was overpowered by the desperadoes who smothered him in blankets and shot him in the head. They then very cooly went out and into the dining saloon and had breakfast and when the boat pulled into Peachland they went ashore and have not since been heard of. Later on the purser of the Okanagan was attracted by groans from Ashton's room and upon investigation found the man in a dying condition. Ashton was taken back to Kelowna where he is in the hospital and not expected to recover.

The police are on the lookout for the escaped prisoners.

Help for British Columbia

Special to the Herald

Vancouver, March 21.—An Ottawa dispatch today states that a subsidy of $12,000 per mile has been granted the Canadian Northern Railway for the line through the Yellowhead pass from Vancouver, a distance of 525 miles. This subsidy was brought down last night in the new governments first railway buget. There are also $350,000 for the second narrows bridge across Burrard Inlet, and a long string of other grants for new bridges and for renewal of bridges.

Wm. Manson the Choice

In spite of the fact that there are three candidates opposing him and that a bitter campaign is being waged against him, the election of Wm. Manson, the present representative for the Skeena district is safe. At the same time it behoves every citizen of this district to do his utmost to get out the vote and to poll a big majority for him. Mr. Manson has been through this part of the riding the past week and he has met with splendid encouragement on every side.

Wm. Manson has represented Skeena district in a manner that has been beneficial to the whole district. He has secured large appropriations every year for the opening up and development of the district, and every year the appropriations have been increased, The present year a great army of men will be working on the roads building wagon roads where trails existed before and building trails through new districts. Nearly a hundred thousand dollars will be spent on new bridges and rebuilding old ones, and everything that will be done in future will be of a permanent nature. All bridges will be first class and the new roads will be built with the idea of making them fit for travel at all seasons of the year and for all classes of vehicles. The day for the temporary road and bridge is now passed. The north has been opened up to such an extent that its vast resources, hitherto only slightly known, have been proven and the north will be an important part of the province.

It is due in no small measure to the efforts of Wm. Manson that this country has been brought to the attention of the provincial government and it was also due to his efforts that so much money had already been provided for Skeena district. He is without doubt the best posted man in the district and the best qualified man to represent the district. He is strong with the government and can thus do more for the riding than can any other man. In fact he is the only man that can get for Skeena the necessary assistance from the province during the next four years at least.

It is the duty of every man who has the interest of the district at heart to vote for and to work for Wm. Manson on Thursday next.

How to Train Boys

Away back in Ontario where they boast of being thoroughly modern in everything, including the treatment of prisoners, and the mentally weak, a great scandal has been unearthed by some of the boys confined in the Mimico Industrial School. Young boys on their downward path, mostly for want of better training at home, are sent to the Industrial school for varying periods to be taught trades and to receive an education under modern methods and where the environments are supposed to be the best. It appears that for slight offences the boys have been treated in a manner that would hardly be countenanced in Siberia. They have been cruelly beaten on the bare hide, handcuffed, chained, kicked and fed on bread and water for a month at a time and at the same time confined in solitude and shackled. Capital punishment is a capital thing, but the half savage Siwash of the half civilized north would not treat his mangy dog as the cowardly officials of Ontario's modern institutions are reported to have treated the young boys.

The Liberal party is against the present method of controlling the liquor licenses which results in compelling all hotel men to do the bidding of the controlling party's machine.

HAZELTON'S BIG MEETING

Then he took up the appropriations for roads, trails and bridges and showed how they had been nearly doubled every year since Hon. Wm. McBride assumed the premiership. In 1904 the total appropriation for the province for roads, trails and bridges was very little more than what has been appropriated to the Skeena district this year, viz.: $351,000 for roads and trails and $88,000 for bridges. While the district is a very large one and an immense amount of work is required, Skeena district has been getting a big slice every year and it will continue to grow yearly.

Mr. Manson touched upon the the timber and land policies, the two big sources of revenue to the province and he said that the land policy is being improved and still further improvements will be made. The educational department is one of the main expenditures and the government was increasing the grants to educational works yearly. The liquor act has also been amended so that the police will find it very much easier to carry out their duties than in the past.

In closing Mr. Manson stated that he left the issues of the day entirely in the hands of the people. If they thought that he had been a good representative and if the province had been managed in a business way he was satisfied with what the result would be.

Dr. W. B. Clayton

Dr. Clayton succeeded Mr. Manson and he opened up with fire works and the boys began to think that there would be something doing. But the doctors remarks were punctuated with sarcasm and wit, and although he claimed to be a fighter, it is doubtful if he made any other impression than that of an entertainer. The doctor keeps the boys in good humor but he also looses sight of the fact that he is supposed to be talking business.

John Denny

John Denny, representing William Henry Montgomery, alderman of Prince Rupert, and the socialist candidate, was next. He, too, got off some witticisms, and provided his share of the comic side of the evenings program. He thought that the Liberals and Conservatives were the root of all evil and that socialism was the pick that would dig out that root and for ever end strife, poverty, misery and competition. Mr. Denny was given a good hearing.

Rev. Mr. Lee

Rev. Mr. Lee, representing Alex Manson, the Liberal candidate, made a strong address in favor of Wm. Manson. He said he was a Liberal of the Old School and the only thing he had against Wm. Manson was that he was a Conservative. He did not think there was any fight on except between the two Manson's

J. F. Macdonald

J. F. Macdonald replied to Dr. Clayton and he explained to the meeting his version of why Dr. Clayton was a candidate, viz: that his ambition carried him away. He was a trouble maker wherever he went and he broke up the Conservative Club and the Progressive Association.

Mr. Manson's Reply

For half an hour after the other speakers the Conservative candidate maintained the attention of the entire audience while he made a powerful reply to his critics and the critics of the government. Mr. Manson was never heard in Hazelton to better advantage. He was not loaded up with figures and details but spoke straight from the shoulder and knocked the props from under the other speakers.

Dr. Clayton attempted to get a couple of extra minutes and although many were in favor of granting it there was such a hubbub that the meeting adjourned.

To the Electors of Skeena District

I had intended at first to retire in the event of a Liberal being nominated, but the dissatisfaction against the ring rule within the Conservative party is so widespread that I think it only right that those Conservatives who cannot conscientiously endorse the candidature of William Manson should still have the privilege of voting conservative, and I will therefore remain in the field.

I have no quarrel with the McBride government and will loyally support it, but I have a strong objection to the great conservative party being made the tool of a petty clique who use it merely for their own selfish ends.

Do not allow the ring to persuade you that Mr. Manson is the only man whom the government will recognize. We saw how Mr. Manson stood with the government when a deputation was sent to Victoria to press his claims for a cabinet portfolio. They would have none of him and they had tried him before. If elected I have no fear of receiving full recognition from the premier, especially as I will have no personal axe to grind, but will work solely in the interests of my constituents.

I ask every local Conservative who has the real interest of his party at heart to stamp out utterly on the 28th the ring rule which has cursed the party for the last few years. Remember, if Mr. Manson is elected the ring will claim a victory and it is useless to attempt to dislodge it. Yours faithfully,

WILLIAM BARRATT CLAYTON.

NEW HAZELTON DOINGS

Every one of the visitors to New Hazelton so far this year have expressed their surprise at the rapid progress that has already been made towards building up a town. Those who know the difficulties the people have been up against for the want of transportation and supplies, consider the growth of the town as remarkable. When it is remembered that last fall there was scarcely a tree cut down, and that at the present time there is something like $50,000 invested in buildings the visitors have reason to be surprised. It was last fall that the Northern Interior Land Co. had several blocks cleared in the neighborhood of the pay office of Foley, Welch & Stewart. Immediately buildings started going up and every week since then has seen one or more new structures started or completed, until to-day there is the neucleus of a good little town right on those few blocks that were cleared in Sec. One. The land there is high and dry and easily drained and it is also on the main line of travel from the Bulkley Valley, to old Hazelton and down the river. This section is still growing and just as rapidly as ever.

Doc Sheehan closed a deal on Tuesday morning whereby he disposed of his restaurant business here to two Japanese. Doc made well out of the deal and he is now going to Burn's Lake to start a road house. He was here a couple of weeks ago and ordered the lumber, etc., and in a short time he will be ready for business.

The Presbyterians have circulated a subscription list among the church members and adherents here and in a couple of days they had secured $550. It is not thought that there will be any difficulty in securing all the funds necessary to construct the church which will be located on Eleventh Avenue.

Dr. Wrinch has been in town a couple of times looking for a site on which to locate an office building and he intends to shortly start carpenters to work on the building. The location will be in the present business section, although not definately decided upon yet.

The people here are looking forward to the green grass and the time for sowing garden seeds. The time is not far distant either and there is every indication that New Hazelton will be decorated with many flower beds and garden patches.

The Coffee House Bakery was opened on Sunday for the first time and a big business was done. The Coffee House is an attractive place and the food is the very best obtainable.

HAZELTON'S UNTOLD WEALTH

Indications Better Than Slocan and Kootenay Countries

Vancouver Sun says:—

"The silver mines and other mineral deposits in the vicinity of Hazelton, as young prospects, look better than anything in the Kootenay and Slocan countries," declared Mr. Grant Thorburn, a well known hotel man of Hazelton, who returned north on the steamer Prince George last night, after having spent five weeks in this city and Seattle. He is bound for the Skeena river district, where he has been connected with the Hazelton Hotel for a couple of years, and is brimming over with enthusiasm for the future of the district.

Mr. Thorburn has been in the British Columbia and Yukon mining district for the past thirty-three years, and is well able to judge of the future prospects of any mineral district. He was with Major Rodgers when the latter discovered what is now known as Rodgers' Pass, through which the route of the C. P. R. winds its way through the mountains. He spent a number of years in Dawson and operated a number of hotels in the Yukon country. He was in the hotel business in the Slocan country, and when asked what he thought of Hazelton as compared to the latter he announced the above opinion.

"There is as fine a climate in Hazelton as anywhere in the world," he continued. "The vegetables grown there compare with any grown in California or more southern districts. There is an immense back country to be filled up and the prospects in most any line appear to be fine. The biggest thing in sight, however, is the mineral of the Hazelton district. The silver lead mines are showing assays which are almost unbelievable and little is known to the outside world of what an extensive deposit of minerals lie in the hills a short distance from the river."

Contractors McHugh and Dan Stewart were in town on Monday.

Lumber arrived on Monday for another building to go up on Sec. One, on the corner of Pugsley and Thirteenth. This building will be 20 by 50 feet and face on Pugsley street.

Dr. W. B. Clayton, of Prince Rupert, Independent Conservative candidate, was in town on Sunday looking up old friends. On Monday night he passed through town on his way to Aldermere.

Wm. Manson, the Conservative candidate, and Jos. Scott, of Prince Rupert, were in town on Monday shaking hands with their many friends here. They went on to the Bulkley Valley where they held a big meeting on Tuesday night.

The Profitable Laying Hens

In figuring out the profit from a flock of chickens one should keep in mind the time when the eggs were laid. If a great many eggs were received during a period when eggs were scarce and high in price, it would not take as many eggs to make a good showing in dollars and cents for each hen. The best market poultrymen of today figure on getting their hens to lay at a time when eggs are high in price and the demand is brisk. This can only be accomplished by one who has had experience. It means years of work in planning to do things just at the right time.

The alive-to-the-fact poultryman realizes that the early hatched pullets will start laying at a time when the hens are beginning to let up and are starting the molting process. Then the heavy summer supply of eggs begins to fall off and the price begins to soar. The man who has a few hundred hatched pullets will reap a harvest of high prices right through the late fall and early winter. It is not necessary to get the pullets hatched so early that they will molt in the fall, but get them out so that they will mature and begin to lay in October. Then through November, December and January they will produce heavily, catching the top-notch price.

Then there is another class of birds which keep on laying through the fall. They are the late hatched ones of the previous year. They have not laid during the winter to any extent, but begin along in March. They will not molt till late in the fall but will lay right through the fall months with the regularity of clock-work. When the other hens have stopped laying and gone to molting the late hatched birds will just be in their laying prime. To be sure it is better to send them to market as soon as they show signs of molting, for it is hardly advisable to carry them through the second winter. It takes them a long time to get their new coat of feathers and very often they die during the process on account of the cold weather and a debilitated condition. The molt is a drain on any bird, and when it comes in the winter time it is doubly hard, for they cannot keep up up the necessary bodily heat. Keep them through the laying period and then market them as soon after as possible.

The profitable laying hen is the one that makes but short intervals between the laying periods. Some hens will lay a dozen eggs or so and then stop for a couple of weeks before beginning again. Others will lay right along for several weeks and then stop but for a brief rest and begin again. The trap nest will tell you the birds which lay the most eggs at a time and take the shortest periods of rest. These are the hens to breed from and the birds to keep for heavy egg production. The writer has known of hens that would lay a few eggs and then wait a week or more before laying again. The persistent layer is the one that is wanted, so make a selection and breed from these.

There are some hens that will lay a small egg day after day and seem to make a business of it. The small eggs are not wanted by the merchants and are hardly worth putting in a crate of good ones. The few small eggs in the crate spoil the appearance of the whole lot. These birds are not profitable and should be weeded out as soon as you find out that they are laying these right along. The hen that lays the large, or abnormally large egg is not a heavy producer of such eggs. She will lay a few of them and then stop for some time. The hen laying a medium sized egg for her breed is the one that is the most practicable, taking everything into consideration.

All profitable egg producers are good feeders. They need a lot of good food for this egg making business, so you cannot expect even good hens from heavy egg producing stock to lay eggs on a scant ration. Plenty of good sound grains should be given. Green food and meat in some form will be needed. Sharp grit to grind the food, and oyster shells for the lime in the shell should be kept before them. Charcoal to sweeten and cleanse, and an abundance of clean fresh water should be ever before them. Keep these things in mind and act upon them and you will get the most from your birds at the time when the prices are the highest. This will mean a better showing for the hens, and more profit for you as a poultryman.

Good Epuipment Pays

Increased facilities and good management will make any small plant a paying one. Many times one tries to do work without the necessary equipment. A carpenter might just as well try to get along with but a saw and a hammer, as for a poultryman to endeavor to work with but little or no equipment. Keep the small plant as fully equipped as the large one in proportion to the work. You will find that by having these various things to make the work complete, you will gain in results, and the returns will be greater than where you try to get along with but few things to work with.

Remedy for Gapes

(We insert the following clipping as it gives a very unusual remedy for gapes, which is easily applied, and is worth trying.)

The following is a simple and infallible cure, a thing I have known and used from boyhood, and have never known it to fail. It is tobacco smoke. I take the chicken in my hand and take a cigar (a pipe is just as good) and when I get it well to going I hold the chick's mouth open and as it tries to inhale I blow the smoke down its windpipe until it makes it very wobbly on its feet, then let it go. Two treatments will cure the worst case I ever saw. The smoke kills the worms which may not be expelled for a few days. A pipe and real strong plug tobacco is the most effective.

HAZELTON MINING DOPE

Mr. Lewis Duncan has just bonded to M. G. Dickenson of Victoria, the Great Western claim near Two Mile creek on Nine Mile mountain, for $10,000. A substantial payment was made and Mr. Dickenson immediately gave a contract to drive a 100 ft. cross-cut tunnel to Frank Martin. They figure that this tunnel will tap the vein at about 100 foot depth. The surface showing is principally galena lead-silver with some copper. Martin will start work inside two weeks.

Thos. Stevens came into town on Monday and brought with him a sack of the ore he has been working on all winter. Thomas has the Iron Mass group on the Babine trail and he is working on a fine three foot vein of high grade silver ore. He is running a drift and the further he goes in the more promising is the prospect. He is now confident that he has something good. As yet no assays have been made but it is likely that some will be made in the near future.

Arthur Griswold and Robert Hadden started out on Saturday for the Great West group just above the saw mill on Two Mile creek where they have a contract to drive a cross cut tunnel to tap the vein and then drift on it for about a hundred feet. This property is a very promising one and if the boys are successful with this work the Great West will soon be one of the working properties of the camp.

George Beirnes will return tomorrow from his trip into the Ground Hog coal fields.

Several of the boys got back from the Babine country this week where they had been doing a little preliminary work preparatory to the opening of the season

At the Silver Standard mine Supt. Haskins has been doing some good work since he got the machinery up. Everything is about ready to start operations and on Monday or Tuesday they will start pumping out the shaft.

It is reported that Geo. McBean is bringing a 60 horse power auto up with him so that he can do the country with ease and comfort and also a little faster than by cayause. George has made good in the Hazelton camp and he deserves all the modern pleasures that are going.

Mr. Sylvester, of the Granby Smelter Co., of Grand Forks, who was in the city yesterday, stated that the establishment of smelter works by his company at Obvervatory Inlet had been decided on and that the work would commence there shortly. These works when completed, as it is hoped within the next 12 months, will find employment for 2500 men. Mr. Sylvester left Victoria yesterday on the afternoon boat for Seattle.—Victoria Colonist.

Wm. Gore and Roy Ridsdale returned on Tuesday afternoon from the Bear river country where they spent the past month in the coal fields.

DR. W. B. CLAYTON OPENED CAMPAIGN

Had Good Audience and Delivered Splendid Address—Why He is a Candidate

The first gun in the provincial campaign was fired on Saturday night when Dr. W. B. Clayton of Prince Rupert, the Independent Conservative candidate held forth in the Assembly Hall. Although only a few hours notice was given there was a good sized audience and the doctor was given an attentive hearing.

L. L. De Voin was appointed chairman by the gathering and he introduced the speaker.

In opening the doctor spoke in high praise of the district in which we live. It was his first trip up the Skeena and he is coming back, win or loose. He explained his reasons for entering the field as an independent, and also went fully into the trouble in the party in Prince Rupert. His strong point was his declaration that he was for Northern British Columbia and Prince Rupert all the time. He thought that the present election should have been deferred until after redistribution when the district of Skeena would have at least two members and should have three.

Dr. Clayton is a good platform speaker and he made quite an impression upon his audience. On Sunday he visited New Hazelton

The Ideal Climate

When it comes to weather, climate and a real all round health resort the Hazelton district is in a class all by itself. It is the one place on the map where the weather is consistent and where all things work together for the good of the populace.

Hazelton is in the north, it is true, and ninety-nine out of every hundred people in seeking information first ask how people live in the cold. The impression that cold is the worst possible feature is indeed a false one. Hazelton has cold weather it is true, but it is a cold that is beautiful. The air is perfectly dry; there is no biting, penetrating winds that chill the very marrow in your bones in spite of furnaces, heaters, etc. When it is cold it is cold and nothing more. The sun shines and the air is dry and still and it is much easier to keep warm here than to keep cool in the south.

The past winter has been an ideal one in every respect. In December there were two snow storms and over two feet of snow fell making ideal sleighing. The first two weeks of January were cold and the thermometer acted the some as it does on the prairies. At the end of two weeks the weather moderated and since then there has been nothing but sunshine, warm days and frosty nights. For two solid months there was scarcely a cloud in the sky, and it was very seldom that even a gentle breeze was felt. There has been no more snow and what fell in December has maintained the best of sleighing until the past week when the strong rays from the sun have had its effect. Wheels are now in general use and there will be no more snow or cold weather.

The best evidence for the climate obtainable is the fact that a great many of the people here have lived all winter in canvas tents and they never suffered from cold, storm or wind. It is real Hazelton weather that will surpass all others.

NEW HAZELTON

Section 2

Since the decision of the Board of Railway Commissioners making the future town at New Hazelton, the sale of lots, both here and in Vancouver, have been away beyond expectations.

Nearly all of the Business Houses in the Old Town of Hazelton have Secured Lots

And as the choice locations are being rapidly picked up by outside people, those who had the foresight to obtain the best locations can consider themselves fortunate as we predict that in a very few months some of these will be worth three times what has been paid for them.

To you who have not yet secured your lot let us say:---This is the opportunity we have all been waiting for---

--- A UNITED TOWN ---

Don't delay in securing your lots as they are being sold so rapidly that in a week from now it will be difficult to obtain a really good location without paying someone else a profit.

You Must Have a Lot if you intend to continue in Business in this district.

DON'T PAY SOMEONE ELSE A PROFIT. BUY NOW FOR YOURSELF AND SAVE MONEY

PERSONAL AND LOCAL

Edgar Harris returned on Saturday.

Duke Harris was laid up a day or two the past week with a bad attack of the grip.

J. F. Macdonald and Mr. Joyce of Prince Rupert, arrived on Sunday night and are doing campaign work for Wm. Manson.

Hugh Harris, Jas. Latham, Geo. McBean and F. C. McKinnon have sent word that they would leave Vancouver on Monday last sure for Hazelton.

Grant Thorburn returned from his holiday in the south on Monday and he will be here all summer. He states that everything is extremely quiet on the American side and that everyone is complaining. The Canadian cities are all good.

The people of the south who are arriving here by every stage and the papers of the south are unanimous in their statements that this year will be the greatest in the history of the Hazelton district. The continued fine weather and the early opening up of spring has had a tendency to hurry the boys home and they are now coming in bunches. Capt. Bonser, who will run the steamer Inlander from the end of steel to Hazelton is now in Prince Rupert and preparing his boat for the first trip.

Duncan Ross was in town on Tuesday after his trip to Bulkley Valley where he is pushing the work on his new contract. He says that the sleighing in the valley is very good yet but the first few miles out of town are poor and the freighters are unable to take as heavy loads. He is rushing supplies out for his camps but fears that he will not be able to get as much out as he would like until after the roads break up. He returned to the valley on Wednesday.

Mr. Vipert, supervisor of the branches of the Union Bank returned from the valley on Tuesday and left this week for the south. He was very favorably impressed with the country through which he passed and looks for an immense business being done in this district in the not distant future. He was also much interested in Telkwa and immediate surroundings and there is every reason to believe that a branch of the bank will be opened there before the summer is over.

BURNS' LAKE

(Special Correspondence)

Mr. T. Higgins, of Telkwa and F. Sweeney, of South Bulkley, spent Monday here looking over the prospects for the coming season in the interests of F. L. Charleson.

Mr. Kergan, of Stewart was here several days inquiring as to the navigation facilities and it is his intention to put on power boats and large scows to handle the contractors freight and camp supplies along Burns and Decker Lakes. These lakes offer a run of thirty miles along right-of-way. He looks forward to a very busy season.

Bob Gerows boat will be here in the course of a few days and will be ready when the lakes are open. All boats will do an enormous business owing to the fact that the wagon road will not be completed to Burns' Lake until mid-summer and all supplies must come down the Lake.

The new bridge is now finished and is 766 feet in length with 60 ft. spans in addition to 968 feet of cribbing. The well finished work and short length of time taken to complete the bridge speaks well for Mr. McKinnon and his able staff of assistants.

Mr. Sheehan, restaurant proprietor from New Hazelton who sold out his business there arrived here this week with a dog team, has rented some property from Wm. Gow and is building a two storey first-class road house, located at the east end of Long Siding. For the present he has erected a large tent and will furnish the freighters and traveling public from now on with meals and beds at reasonable rates. He has let a contract for several thousand feet of lumber to be whipped sawed and only costs ten dollars more per thousand than Hazelton prices. Fresh vegetables can be purchased here in abundance at prices cheaper than in the valley.
